ANNEX TO ENGLISH AVENUE SCHOOL IS FAVORED BY MAYOR

Thinks $10,000 Building Is the Best Solution to the Present Crowded Condition in That District.

MAY URGE THIS ACTION WHEN BOARD MEETS

Mayor and Alderman Van Dyke Take Exception to Recent Statements Attributed to Them.

A new building costing approximately $10,000, to be erected on the same site of the English avenue school, in the fifth ward, will relieve the crowded conditions in that district, according to Mayor James G. Woodward.

Following his inspection of that building, Mayor Woodward declared that an annex to accommodate at least four grades will be a solution. He did not state whether or not he would urge the new building when the school board meets next, but his discussion of the condition of the school indicated plainly that he was in favor of such an improvement.

"I found that the lower grades of the school are and have been crowded for some time," he said. "This is due to a peculiar condition of the district. Out there the children who attend the school come largely from the mill districts. They attend school until they reach the fourth grade, and then quit to go to work for their parents. I don't figure it will be difficult to take care of the children for the next four or five years."

Deny Published Statements.

Mayor Woodward took exception to some of the published statements attributed to him bearing on the subject of conditions at the English avenue school. He said that the old annex was turned over to the city by the county when the district was taken in by the city. He criticised only the location of the open closets near the front of the building.

Alderman Arhie Van Dyke, chairman of the school committee of council, denied Thursday that it is his intention to offer a resolution in council asking for the appointment of a committee to make a probe of school conditions.

"My term of office expires on the first of January, and I will not be able to give much attention after that to the school subject," he said. "I think the only solution of the problem now is for the city to authorize a bond issue. There is no need for a long investigation. The condition of the schools is deplorable, and the sooner the city takes up the question the better it will be."

Other members of council who are reported to have resolutions asking for a probe, say that they will not take the initiative.

Club Women Active.

Regardless of what council does, the Federation of Women's Clubs is taking an active interest in The Constitution's expose of school conditions.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the federation, stated Thursday that she is organizing the lookout committee which will represent the federation in the campaign for better school facilities. Mrs. Haden said that the ladies of the committee will work in harmony with the board of education. This board is the only body recognized by the city as official.

Speaking of the part the committee will play in the work, Mrs. Haden said:

"They are a small part, maybe, in the municipal government, but they have already done a wonderful work for the schools of Atlanta. Through them literature and reports relative to nearly every public school system in the country, have been acquired, and with other valuable documents on the same subjects, are on file in the office of the Boys' High principal.

"The fact of this amount of information being on hand will lessen the burden of the lookout committee, who in order to make their report on conditions in our schools will be added in the comparisons which they can make with conditions in other schools.

Commends Work.

"I may say further in reference to this one municipal committee which the Atlanta woman's club has had its own representation in the city government, that the women recompising it have for many years made the condition of the congestion in many of the school districts; the reports they have made to the board of education and embodied in the general reports which have been made each year by the superintendent of schools and the board of education relative to the schools.

"I have had many assurances from Atlanta women in every ward of the city of their willingness to help in the work of making for school betterment," said Mrs. Haden in conclusion. "As you remember, the meeting called last Monday, though called by the city federation, invited to be present every woman in the city, whether a member of this particular organization or not."

WHAT IS THE TANGO? QUESTION AT CHICAGO

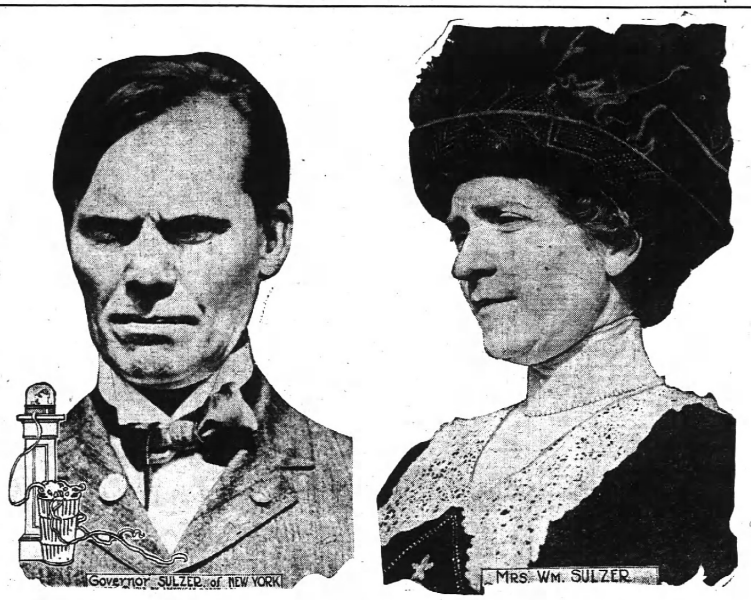
Chicago, October 16.—Every movement of the dancers in cafes and theaters of Chicago where the tango is danced will be closely watched by a committee of the city council, appointed last night by Mayor Harrison to procure suggestions for the framing of a "tango ordinance."

"What is the 'tango' and 'when is it immoral?'" are the two questions to be decided by the committee, Mayor Harrison made the appointments upon the order of the council.

Burlington, Vt., October 16.—The tango and all other ragtime dances were put under a ban at the University of Vermont by vote of the student council last night. The council is a representative body to which various matters of college discipline are referred by the faculty.

DAY OF DOOM HAS DAWNED FOR GOVERNOR WILLIAM SULZER HE WILL BE REMOVED FROM OFFICE BUT NOT DISQUALIFIED

Gov. Sulzer and His Wife Who Tried to Save Him



The high court of impeachment began voting yesterday after noon on the charges against Governor Sulzer. Four articles were voted upon, Sulzer being convicted on three articles and acquitted on one. The court adjourned late in the afternoon until today, when the voting will be resumed.

The Court Has Voted on the First Four Articles of Impeachment, Gov. Sulzer Being Found Guilty on Three Counts and Declared Not Guilty on One.

CONVICTED OF BRIBING WITNESSES TO REFUSE TO TESTIFY AGAINST HIM

Also Guilty of Falsifying His Statement in Regard to Campaign Funds and of Suppressing Evidence—The Voting Was Slow and Many Members of Court Explained Their Votes—Final Verdict Coming Today.

Albany, N. Y., October 16.—Governor William Sulzer was today found guilty by the high court of impeachment on three of the articles preferred against him. They were articles Nos. 1, 2 and 4. He was declared innocent of the charges contained in article 3.

Tomorrow he will be removed from office, but not disqualified from holding office in this state in the future unless there is a substantial change in the testimony as reported to have been taken by the court on these questions in secret session today.

For the same reason it was expected that he will be found not guilty on the other four articles still remaining to be voted on when the court adjourned tonight.

Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn, who has been acting governor since the impeachment of Sulzer, will become chief executive of the state. He is an Albany newspaper owner. Robert F. Wagner, a New York attorney, will become lieutenant governor. He is the majority leader in the senate.

Bare Two-thirds Majority.

The vote on articles 1 and 2 was 39 to 15, a bare two-thirds majority. The former article charges that the governor falsified his statement of campaign contributions; the latter charges that he committed perjury in so doing.

The vote on article 3, which charges the governor bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the Frawley investigating committee, was unanimous in favor of the governor.

The vote on article 4 was 42 to 14, six members changing their votes on article 1 and 2 from "not guilty" to "guilty" and three from "guilty" to "not guilty." This article charges that the governor suppressed evidence by means of threats to keep witnesses from testifying before the Frawley committee. Among these was Duncan W. Peck, state superintendent of public works, who testified at the trial that the governor had asked him to commit perjury.

The Vote to Remove Sulzer.

The secret informal vote to remove the governor was said to be 43 to 14, the same as on article 4, and the vote not to disqualify him was said to be unanimous.

Article 6, which charges that the governor committed larceny in speculating with his campaign contributions, was said not to have been sustained in the secret session by a vote of 50 declaring the governor "not guilty" to against him.

Article 5, which charges that he prevented a particular witness, Frederick L. Colwell, from attending the sessions of the Frawley committee, article 7 that he threatened to use his office and influence to affect the vote or political action of certain assemblymen, and article 8, that he corruptly used his influence to affect the prices of securities on the stock exchange, were reported also to have been decided in favor of the governor in the secret session by a practically unanimous vote.

How the Judges Divided.

Presiding Judge Edgar M. Cullen, who will shortly retire from the bench, voted "not guilty" on every article, and rendered a long opinion in explaining his votes. The other eight judges of the court of appeals were divided. On articles 1 and 2, Judges Willard Bartlett, Emory A. Chase and William E. Werner voted for the governor and against him. Judges Frederick Collin, William H. Cuddebback, John W. Hogan, Frank H. Hiscock and Nathan L. Miller, making a divided court, found them of five to four against the governor.

On article 4, Judges Bartlett, Chase and Werner changed their votes from "not guilty" to "guilty," and Judges Hiscock and Miller changed from "guilty" to "not guilty," making against him a division of six to three.

Presiding Judge Cullen held that the offenses charged in articles 1 and 2 were not impeachable, and that the governor neither falsified his statement under the provisions of the election law, nor committed "legal perjury."

The rule here contended for," said he, "amounts, in reality, to an ex-post facto disqualification from office for an offense which had no such penalty when committed, without affording an opportunity to show either repentance or atonement. Men have committed serious crimes, even felonies, and subsequently attained high public positions."

Every Member Explained Vote.

Practically every member of the court explained his vote on article 1, although those who voted in favor of the governor did not enter at length into a discussion of the merits of the case or of the matters of law and precedent involved, as did the others, including all the judges. The latter filed with the court lengthy opinions in support of their votes.

One of the judges, Nathan L. Miller, who was designated to the court of

T. Cuyler Asks Half Million for Wife's Affections

Atlanta Man Sues Mrs. Isabella T. Barton in Chicago Courts—Divorce Suit Filed by Wife.

Chicago, October 16.—(Special.)—A mysterious suit for $500,000 was filed late this afternoon in the superior court, in which the name of Telamon Cuyler appears as plaintiff against Isabella T. Barton. Only the praecipe of the suit is on file and Attorneys John M. Rankin and Frank D. Fulton, who are counsel for the plaintiff, refused to discuss the suit until service is obtained upon the defendant.

At the office of Sheriff Michael Zimmer it was reported that the suit was for alienation of affections and that an attempt would be made to obtain service on the defendant at one of the railroad stations as she was in Chicago on her way from New York to San Francisco.

The summons in the suit was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff John A. Olin and he started out in the evening in the hope of serving the defendant at some railroad station.

Cuyler Out of Town.

Efforts to locate Mr. Cuyler at his apartments in the Aragon hotel last night proved unsuccessful. It was stated from the rooms of his mother, Mrs. M. H. Smith, that Cuyler was out of the city.

Mrs. Smith was operated upon recently at St. Joseph's infirmary and is now convalescent. Owing to her illness she refused to discuss her son's affairs in any way.

According to information from California, published recently in Atlanta papers, Mrs. Telamon Cuyler had brought suit for divorce against her husband. Cuyler admitted this when questioned by newspaper men in regard to the affair. Later it was published that the decree had been granted, but in this matter the Atlantan was noncommunicative.

MORE AND MORE DEADLY BECOME AUTOMOBILES

Chicago, October 16.—Deaths in this city from automobile accidents increased 553 per cent from 1907 to 1912, according to statistics supplied today to the Chicago safety commission, which was organized recently to combat such accidents. In 1907 there were 15 deaths from motor car accidents; last year there were 92, the increase being the largest in the country. In other large cities the increases for this period were:

New York 210 per cent; Philadelphia 230; Boston 277; Cleveland 540; Baltimore 200; Pittsburgh 150; Detroit 325; Buffalo 200; San Francisco 92; Milwaukee 123; Cincinnati 260; Newark 49; Los Angeles 280; Kansas City 500; Seattle 180; Indianapolis 450; Providence 400; St. Paul 400; Denver 57; and Memphis 400.

TRAIN HITS WAGON CARRYING PARTY HOME FROM FAIR

Two Persons Killed, Two Fatally Injured and Others Severely Hurt in Accident Near Dalton.

Dalton, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—While returning from the county fair being held in Dalton, the wagon containing W. E. Benjamin, his wife, Reba Benjamin; their children, Lula, Willie, Guy, Oscar, Garner and Paul, and Hayes Farris, Ed Williams and W. F. Jones was struck by the southbound Western and Atlantic railroad train at the town of Tunnel Hill this afternoon, completely demolishing the wagon and killing Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin and severely injuring the others, two fatally.

The accident occurred at the public road crossing in Tunnel Hill just north of the depot and was witnessed by a number of people.

The dead are being prepared for burial at Tunnel Hill and the injured were rushed to Dalton, being brought here in the train that had just wrought death and injury to the occupants of the wagon. They are receiving every attention and are being cared for in different homes here.

This occurrence revives the memory of the Calhoun wreck which occurred about one year ago north of here when the hospitable homes of this place were thrown open to the injured.

The offices of the physicians were today besieged by persons tendering their services and the use of their homes for the care of the injured, all of which emphasizes the great need of a public hospital here.

It is said that the train was traveling at an excessive rate of speed and some of the injured state that they were wholly unaware of the approach of the train until too late to avoid the fatal accident.

The ages of the dead and injured vary from three years to adults.

SUMMERVILLE MAN SLAIN IN QUARREL OVER POKER GAME

Summerville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—As the result of a quarrel over a card game John Smith, of Menlo, is in jail here charged with murder and Marion Odum is dead. It is alleged that Smith shot Odum with a double-barreled shotgun, the entire load lodging in Odum's side. He was hurried to the Erlanger hospital at Chattanooga, but died after reaching there.

According to reports the two men were participants in a poker game and Smith lost a considerable sum of money. He demanded its return from Odum, and when the latter refused to grant his demand it is said that Smith went home, secured his shotgun and fired the fatal shots. It is said that both men had been drinking. They were well-known citizens of Menlo, in this county. Odum is survived by a widow and five children.

Fulton County Cops Meet Their Waterloo In Town of Roswell

Blacksmith Mayor Brings the Court to Order by Pounding His Anvil—Officers Are Fined.

Lieutenant W. H. Cheshire and R. B. Haynie, members of Fulton county's motorcycle squad, who have brought many a man to the bar of justice, had the tables turned on them yesterday in the bustling little city of Roswell, which is in Cobb county.

The officers were in the far end of Fulton county when something went wrong with one of the machines. Roswell was nearer than Atlanta or even Buckhead, and unsuspectingly they motored into that city. They will never do so again.

There's lots of cotton in Cobb county, and the officers, finding their way blocked by cotton wagons, rolled into a path and approached a blacksmith shop to make inquiries. The blacksmith halted them in the name of Cobb county and carried them aghast into his shop.

A minute later Mayor C. C. Autwell brought his mighty sledge hammer down upon his anvil and announced: "Court will come to order!"

Blacksmith Was Lord Mayor.

The officers had hardly realized that the smithy who seized them was deputy marshal of the upper ward, as that section of the progressive city is known in local parlance, and that the other man in the shop was the lord mayor.

Explanations were of no avail. The two men had been seen riding on Roswell sidewalks and so, perforce, they must be fined. According to the officers, the particular spot looked more like a garden of weeds than a sidewalk, but that did not aid them any.

"One dollar and costs each," announced the mayor, and again the mighty anvil resounded to the hammer as "Court is adjourned!" was announced.

"Costs" More Than Fine.

In Roswell "costs" amount to $1.30, so the costs were more than the fine. Lieutenant Cheshire took a receipt for the fines. Then Lieutenant Cheshire and Mounted Policeman Haynie took something else. It was the shortest road to the county line. It is said they broke a few speed records on their way to Fulton, but there were no Cobb county marshal or blacksmiths near, and that ought not to be told on them, for both have done a lot to break up speeding in Fulton.

NEW YORK WOMAN ROCKS PARIS CHURCH WINDOWS

Paris, October 16.—Bricks recently were thrown through a beautiful stained glass window of the American Protestant Episcopal church here and stones were thrown through a dining room window of the rectory of Rev. Dr. Watson. Miss Minnie Vail, aged 45, formerly of New York, was arrested and admitted today before the examining magistrate that she had broken the windows. She said she was a suffragette, but added that she had private motives for her conduct.

Miss Vail declined to accept passage to America, and an examination of her mental state was ordered.

FRIENDS OF MOYER REPUDIATE CHARGES OF BAD TREATMENT

Atlanta Men Declare Warden Will Come Out of Investigation With Flying Colors. Bram Praises Conditions.

The sensational charges of inhumane treatment of prisoners at the Atlanta federal penitentiary, made by Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton, who were released from the prison Wednesday, have not only interested the government, but have stirred up a storm of indignation among people who are not inclined to believe the charges made by the two released prisoners.

The friends of Warden Moyer have flocked to his support with statements of praise for the manner in which he has conducted the institution and revelations of excelent conditions there as they have observed them.

Warden Moyer, who is in Indianapolis, when he heard of the charges, wired the federal authorities and asked a thorough investigation.

As a result, Warden Moyer has been asked to make a report of conditions, and in a short time it is expected that a disinterested investigator will be appointed to conduct an examination into the local penitentiary affairs.

Moyer Courts Investigation.

Warden Moyer displays no uneasiness as to the outcome of such an investigation, but, on the contrary, courts the investigation.

"My answer to the charges," he says, "is 'come and see.'"

Not only is the warden receiving support among his friends in Atlanta, but from news dispatches it appears that he is receiving similar support in Washington.

One dispatch said:

"The attorney general has been advised that there is no such thing as a hole under the main building of the penitentiary described by Hawthorne and Morton in their attack upon the institution, that physical tortures of the character described were absolutely barred, and that unlury men in the institution at Atlanta are put in an isolation ward that is ample in space, light and sanitary in every way."

Warden Moyer's Policy.

Although Warden Moyer is out of the city and could not be seen personally in regard to the charges brought against his management of the federal prison, the following extract from an address on "Prison Reform," recently made by him, will serve, perhaps, to show what his views are on the food question at the prison:

"I am a firm believer in the wisdom of an economical administration of prisons," runs a paragraph from Warden Moyer's address, "but I am not willing to admit that it is wise to deprive the prisoners of a sufficient amount of food and clothing. It is

WOODROW WILSON WASHES HIS HANDS OF HUERTA REGIME

President Indicates That He Is Irrevocably Determined to Deal No Longer With the Mexican Dictator.

STEPS TOWARD PEACE ARE BEING CONSIDERED

Believed Belligerency of Huerta's Enemies Will Be Recognized—Show of Force Likely if the Situation Gets Worse.

Washington, October 16.—President Wilson indicated today to those who discussed the Mexican situation with him that he was irrevocably determined to deal no longer with the Huerta regime, but that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico were being considered. No move is expected, however, until after October 26, the date set for the Mexican election.

Just what the Washington government will do is yet a matter of speculation among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is unmistakably toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists.

The policy of the United States has been to make complete the record of having attempted to handle the problem by peaceful means. Up to the present parleys have been carried on with the Huerta authorities, who have rejected the good offices of the United States. Strong pressure now is being brought to bear upon the president and Secretary Bryan to give the constitutionalists an opportunity to compose the situation through the support of this country.

May Recognize Foes of Huerta.

Reports that the president was preparing to recognize the belligerency of the constitutionalists are based chiefly upon the friendly disposition toward them that has arisen among administration officials since Huerta's proclamation of dictatorship. The suggestion has been carried to President Wilson by those for whose judgment he and Secretary Bryan have in the past been guided to some extent, and while the attitude is one of waiting until October 26 arrives, it appeared today that some move indicating support for the constitutionalists was not at all improbable.

Such action might not be formal recognition, which would present a curious tangle in technicalities of international law, but it is pointed out by those who are urging informal dealings with the constitutionalists that in reality Governor Carranza is the legally elected chief executive of the state of Coahuila, and that he and Governor Maytorena, of Sonora, justify their armed resistance of Huerta as a measure of defense against those who took possession of the federal government machinery in the Mexican capital by arbitrarily overthrowing Madero.

Drastic Policy Likely.

That President Wilson believes the Mexico City administration is incapable of restoring constitutional authority is evident, and there is a well-founded understanding that the Washington government would adopt a very drastic policy immediately but for the fear that it would interfere with the domestic program of currency and other important legislative reforms.

Those who know President Wilson's attitude best say he realizes the value of a show of force in the situation, but is unwilling to consent to any demonstration except with the intention of backing it up with actual use of arms if events call for it. Means for dealing with the tangle through peaceful measures, however, have by no means been exhausted, and the likelihood is that before any military or naval demonstrations are seriously considered, support may be thrown toward the constitutionalists with the view of sweeping the Huerta regime from power.

The Washington government would welcome the elimination of Huerta, and if this can be accomplished by lifting the embargo on arms or giving the constitutionalists the moral support of this country, many officials here favor such a policy.

Senator Sheppard, of Texas, today filed formal protest with the state department against the federal general, Maas, journey across Texas from Eagle Pass to Laredo. He charged that the privileges of neutrality were denied to generals of the constitutionalists.

French Warship to Mexico.

Paris, October 16.—The French foreign office here today received a telegram from the French minister at Mexico City suggesting that a warship be sent to Mexico.

Government officials are considering the matter and, following the usual practice of sending a warship when a French colony requests one, it is probable that one of the French vessels already in American waters will be detailed to Mexico.

The French foreign office has not been advised whether the diplomatic corps at Mexico City counseled the Mexican government to use caution in replying to the representations of the American government.

Huerta Gets $2,600,000.

Paris, October 16.—Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, has obtained a loan of $2,600,000 in Paris, chiefly, according to circumstantial reports, through the influence of the chiefs of the Catholic party.

Most Rev. Jose Mora, archbishop of the state of Mexico, it is understood, came to Europe recently partly on this account. The loan was presumably on short-term bills to be repaid out of the proceeds of the unissued portion of the loan arranged last spring.

DORSEY TO BE READY BY NEXT WEDNESDAY

The proposed conference between Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey and Attorney Leonard Haas, representing the defense of Leo M. Frank, whose motion for a new hearing is expected to be taken up next Wednesday, did not take place yesterday, due to the late arrival from Valdosta of the record in the case.

The two attorneys are expected to meet today. There are a number of points to be gone over, and it is expected that certain points claimed by the state to be errors in the trial will be agreed upon one way or the other out of court.

It is understood that the defense has practically agreed not to protest to the postponement Saturday morning. Solicitor Dorsey stated when he arrived from Valdosta, where he spent the time studying the case in quiet, that he believed he would be ready by Tuesday or Wednesday. It is believed that the case will come up on the latter day.

The solicitor is yet busy gathering affidavits from the Frank jurors to the effect that they did not hear the cheering, and also that they were not influenced in any way by the crowd. The question as to whether or not the latter affidavits will be allowed as part of the rebuttal is one upon which all attorneys are not agreed.

All of the jurors who have made statements following the sensational charges of the defense have declared that they were not influenced by the cheering, and most of them declared that they did not hear it or know what the noise was about.

ROBBERY OF HOUSES CONFESSED BY YOUTH

Stating that "gambling was the cause of it all," John Harvey, a 19-year-old white boy living at 197 Queen street, gave a full and free confession of the robbery of the home of Taylor street and 117½ Whitehall street, when taken to police headquarters last night by Plain Clothes Officers Cochran and Fortson charged with suspicion.

The robberies were committed three days ago and the prompt confession of the guilty man is a credit to the shrewdness of the arresting officers. Finding that Harvey had at one time boarded at 117½ South Pryor street, where the first robbery was committed, and seeing the young man about town with plenty of money and apparently no occupation, the officers trailed him about town for two days.

Nothing suspicious was noted until Thursday night, when Harvey walked into a downtown billiard hall and engaged in a pool game for high stakes. He lost, and upon exhibiting a considerable sum of money, was promptly placed under arrest.

"I'll make a clean breast of it," he said to the officers. "I took the money to gamble, and I have been trying ever since getting it to win enough money to place me on my feet and replace the money stolen. When I saw you come in the pool room I recognized you as officers and I lost my nerve. I am guilty and I am willing to take my medicine."

DR. VAN DYKE RECEIVED BY QUEEN WILHELMINA

The Hague, Netherlands, October 16. Henry Van Dyke, United States minister to the Netherlands, today presented his credentials to Queen Wilhelmina at the palace of Hetloo. After expressing to the queen the complimentary wishes of President Wilson, Professor Van Dyke spoke of his own peculiar pleasure in taking up his mission.

"Holland was the home of my forefathers," he said, "and among America the fundamental ideas of religious liberty, public education and self-government. It is the center of the most thoughtful efforts to promote the peace of the world on the basis of international justice and reason."

COCHRAN'S LIFE SAVED BY BRIDE'S HEROISM

Drags Her Unconscious Husband From Burning House Just as Roof Falls In.

Mrs. H. W. Cochran, a bride of two months, proved herself a heroine Thursday night when, at the risk of her life, she saved her husband from the flames which completely destroyed their new bungalow at 250 Wes Tenth street, shortly before midnight.

Mrs. Cochran was roused from sleep when a large section of the roof fell in, striking the ceiling over the room in which she slept. She arose to find the room filled with smoke and flames rapidly licking their way under the door.

Calling to her husband across the hall and getting no response, Mrs. Cochran wrapped a heavy dressing gown about her and dashed over to her husband's room. He was lying on the bed overcome with smoke, and a large burning rafter had fallen on him pinning him down and inflicting painful burns on his chest and arms.

The young wife pushed aside the timber, badly blistering her hands, and dragged her husband through the front door into the arms of neighbors who by this time were aroused. It was not a moment too soon, as the entire roof and one of the walls gave way immediately after had gained the outside.

Mr. Cochran sustained painful though not serious wounds from the fire, while Mrs. Cochran's hands are solid blisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochran were married only two months ago, and the bungalow had been built according to their own ideas. They moved into the house the day after their marriage. The place was totally destroyed, with a loss of $6,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DOOMSDAY HAS DAWNED FOR GOVERNOR SULZER

appeals bench by Sulzer, denounced him as "totally unfit for office."

Several of the senators also expressed hearty opinions of Governor Sulzer. Senator Sage declared that the $10,000 of Thomas F. Ryan was given to the governor because he was "useful in carrying out the latter's plans" for services to be rendered in his new position."

Senator Wagner, democratic leader of the senate, rendered a long legal opinion, in which he sought to refute the contention that the offenses charged in articles 1 and 2 were not impeachable because they are acts committed before the governor took office.

Republican Leader Explains.

Senator Elon R. Brown, republican leader, read a similar lengthy opinion, in which he defended his vote in conformity with the fact that he had been politically opposed to the governor.

"It has been my duty since the present administration," he said, "to lead the opposition in the senate, and at times there have been sharp conflicts. On more than one occasion I was indignant at the governor's language and acts, but the constitution imposes the duty upon the members of this court to always regard us partisan bias. What man is so petty, be he a member of this court or not, that he can stand singly in this presence, and, after taking a solemn oath to do justice, and hearing the evidence, vote out of revenge or prejudice or hate?

Senator Thomas Duhamel, staunch supporters of the governor every step of the impeachment proceedings, spoke briefly. Senator Duhamel announced that he might file a statement of his position at some future day.

Senator Frawley, chairman of the legislative investigating committee which first brought the charges against the governor, announced that he would attempt to "pass no opinion as to the rights of the court to impeach or not."

High Court of Appeals Split.

"I find that the high court of appeals are divided on the question or impeachment themselves," he said. "Therefore, upon the facts, I cast my vote guilty."

On Article 2 the vote was rapid. Most of the members in recording their verdicts announced that they did so on the same grounds that they had expressed on Article 1.

There also was comparatively little expression of opinion on Article 4, under Cullen, however, delivered a lengthy opinion in support of his vote of "not guilty."

The procedure of the court was conducted with much solemnity and formality. To each member of the court, Presiding Judge Cullen put this question:

"Senator (or judge) how say you, is the respondent guilty or not guilty as charged in the first article of impeachment?"

In answer each member of the court rose to deliver his remarks in support of his vote and there would be scarcely another sound than that of his voice in the courtroom until he had finished.

NAME OF CHURCH CAUSES CONTEST

Some Episcopalians Don't Like Present Title—Question of Changing Name to Be Up During Convention.

New York, October 16.—An amendment to the constitution making it impossible to change the title page of the prayer book or otherwise revise it without a two-thirds vote of both the house of deputies and the house of bishops was overwhelmingly adopted late today by the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church in triennial convention here. Both houses must ratify the amendment at the next convention before it becomes effective.

Important action by the house of bishops taken this afternoon and announced tonight negatives the proposal indorsed by the house of deputies to allow the presiding bishop of the church elective authority of consecration now decides the choice. Candidates to fill five vacancies in the episcopate caused by the resignation of four bishops and the death of another were to have been considered by the bishops in today's executive session this afternoon, but discussion over the elective proposal has naturally caused consideration of nominations for the vacancies to go over to tomorrow.

The debate in the house of deputies over the constitutional amendment affecting prayer book revision was extended and spirited. The amendment was offered by Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, who was the high church party candidate for presiding bishop of the deputies. While efforts were made to keep out of the debate any direct reference to the proposal to change the name of the church from Protestant Episcopal to American Catholic, Dr. Manning, who spoke at length on the amendment, plunged directly into that phase of the matter and afterwards President Mann, of the house of deputies, declined to rule that the deputies who undertook to answer Dr. Manning be out of order.

The amendment was voted upon by dioceses and was adopted by the following Clerical vote for, 48; against 19¾; divided, 2.

Lay vote for, 58; against, 8 3-4; divided, 2.

CLAD IN NIGHT GOWN, MRS. ELLIS WAS KILLED

Chicago, October 16.—Mrs. William J. Ellis was found dead early today in her room in a hotel here this afternoon. Her throat had been cut and she had been shot. Ellis, a wealthy leather merchant of Cincinnati, Ohio, was staggering about the room, his throat and wrists gashed by a knife and suffering from three bullet wounds when detectives entered the room.

Ellis was taken to a hospital, where he refused his wife's bullet. He killed herself and that she had attempted to end his life as the result of a suicide pact. Investigation by the police, however, caused them to doubt the story, and Ellis was removed to the Bridwell hospital, where he will be kept under police guard while full investigation is made. His wounds are not serious.

Letters Kept Secret.

A number of letters and telegrams found in the hotel room were taken by Detective Captain Halpin, and the contents of most of them kept secret. One telegram caused Captain Halpin to address a message to the chief of constables of Brantford, Canada, asking about a merchant there. The Canadian police replied that the merchant had not been out of Brantford for some time.

Mrs. Ellis left Cincinnati last Saturday, coming to the home of Morris Ebersole, a friend and business associate of her husband. Ellis came here Monday, finding his wife at the Ebersole home. Later they moved to the hotel. Today was the tenth anniversary of their marriage, and the couple had planned to celebrate here.

The tragedy was discovered when Ellis telephoned about noon to Ebersole that he was incoherent, and after disconnecting Ebersole called the hotel and asked them to investigate. Mrs. Ellis, clad in her night gown, was in bed. There was no indications of a struggle. Ellis was still conscious, but weak from loss of blood. A small pearl-handled pocket knife and a small revolver were on the floor.

They Had Agreed to Die.

On the way to the hospital Ellis said he and his wife had agreed to die because of business reverses.

"She killed herself and I shot myself," he said. "While Ellis was there myself she took the knife away from me and cut her throat. We wanted to end it together.

"We went to a theater last night," he said, "and then to a cafe, and reached the hotel about 2 o'clock and shot myself first. Then she shot herself. I grabbed the knife and began to cut my throat. She took it out of my hands and drew it across her throat."

Among the papers found on the floor of the room was a torn sheet in a woman's handwriting, evidently part of a telegram. It read:

"What shall I do? Can stay a week, when will you come? Address Auditorium hotel Monday."

A letter was found from their 8-year-old daughter, Eleanor, at Cincinnati, wishing her mother a happy time for her visit in Chicago, and describing the activities of their 6-year-old daughter, Violet.

Wife Admitted Infidelity.

Ellis tonight told the police his wife and he had agreed to die together after she had admitted infidelity.

"I discovered my wife had been unfaithful to me," he said, "and followed her here. When I told her what I had discovered, she admitted her guilt, and we agreed to die together."

If Ellis gave the police the name of the man he suspected, Captain Halpin would not disclose it.

SMITH WILL ATTACK HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

C. L. Smith, indicted September 5 on a charge of bigamy, determined to begin his legal battle for freedom at midnight last night, after a conference with his counsel, Attorney Leonard J. Grossman.

After wiring relatives in Birmingham, Ala., to come at once to Atlanta, Smith made the charge that his arrest was the result of a frame-up on the part of W. Wilson, the father of Smith's wife, Mrs. Gertrude Wilson Smith.

"We know that I have no other wife," said Smith, who promises to make startling disclosures in the near future as to the events which prompted Wilson to prosecute him.

"I am convinced that my wife is loyal to me, but prevented from coming to see me by someone with an ulterior motive."

For days Smith has secluded himself from his cellmates in the Tower, preparing for his case by drawing a diagram sketch of the motives which he alleges are responsible for the present charges against him.

Mrs. Lula Vaughn.

Mrs. Lula Vaughn, aged 35 years, of Commerce, Ga., died at a private sanitarium Thursday night at 12 o'clock. She is survived by her husband and four children. Her body was removed to Patterson's chapel and will be taken this morning to Commerce, for the funeral services and interment.

DAUGHTER USED AGAINST MOTHER

Dorothy Ainsworth Says Mrs Eaton Was Unreasonably Jealous—Mother Had Hallucinations About Poison.

Plymouth, Mass., October 16.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, on trial for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, today heard her 16-year-old daughter, Dorothy Virginia Ainsworth, support the contention of the prosecution that she was unreasonably jealous toward her husband. Under questioning of District Attorney Barker, Dorothy testified that her mother was easily angered and had certain hallucinations that the admiral was trying to poison the family.

Dorothy had not finished her testimony when court adjourned.

Early in today's session Assistant District Attorney Fred C. Katzmann outlined the case for the prosecution, claiming jealousy as a motive for the alleged crime.

Probable Line of Defense.

An indication of the probable line of defense was given in the cross-examination of Medical Examiner Gilman T. Osgood by Attorney Charles A. Morse. His questions were aimed to bring out the possibility that Admiral Eaton might have taken of the poison in connection with a drug habit. The government claims that the poison was administered by Mrs. Eaton in tea, coffee and other beverages at meals. The district attorney was unable to obtain from the daughter any declaration that Mrs. Eaton had excluded opportunity to place poison in the admiral's cup.

While her daughter was testifying Mrs. Eaton sat quietly in her chair, but occasionally leaned forward and caught Dorothy's glance. Dorothy always smiled back at her mother, but these incidents appeared to upset her.

The Evidence of Daughter.

In beginning his examination of Dorothy Ainsworth, the district attorney placed emphasis on the relations between her older sister, Mrs. June Keyes, and the rest of the household. Dorothy said that both June and her mother often had expressed the belief that the baby adopted by the Eatons in 1909 was poisoned by the admiral, although medical experts had reported their inability to find any trace of poison. Dorothy said Mrs. Eaton insisted frequently that the admiral was insane, and that this belief was shared by June.

Mrs. Eaton declared that she herself and June had been given poison by the admiral, Dorothy testified. To bear out these statements, Mrs. Eaton had shown the girl marks on her body which she said had been made by the admiral's hypodermic needle.

Mrs. Eaton also told Dorothy, according to the testimony, that the admiral had tried to poison her when he was sick, and that she was afraid of him. Witness said her mother often wiped off the plates before eating, explaining that she was afraid the admiral had sprinkled them with poison.

Dorothy said Mrs. Eaton had discharged more than half a dozen maids with whom she accused the admiral of flirting. Names of other women of whom Mrs. Eaton apparently had jealous were mentioned by the witness.

Root Goes to Sea.

Portress Monroe, Va., October 16.—United States Senator Elihu Root, of New York, went to sea this morning on the battleship Arkansas to witness target firing by the Atlantic fleet now off the coast in the southern drill grounds. The senator arrived this morning from Washington and went immediately to the Arkansas, which was lying at anchor in Hampton Roads waiting for him.

Members of Vice Squad Shocked By the Awful "Vampire Dance," But It Will Go On All the Same

The "Vampire Dance," as depicted on the screen of a local moving picture show, ran afoul of the police department Thursday night—and came out victorious. For, notwithstanding the best efforts of four plain clothes members of the vice squad and the Atlanta board of moving picture censorship, the dance danced on.

Here is the story of the dance that "got by" by defying the police to do their worst:

The "Vampire Dance" is the title of a moving picture story which, the police allege, is inspired by a hundred or more flimsi feet of immoral dancing. It has been shown for two days at a Whitehall street house. Late on Thursday afternoon some arbiter of civic morals telephoned Willis M. Everett, of the local board of censorship, that an immoral picture was being presented at this place.

Mr. Everett went to investigate. He saw three films of a photo-play, the plot of which centered around a country youth who went to town to make his fortune, made it in the neighborhood of $500, wrote back to his sweetheart in the rural regions that he would soon marry her, and then fell in love with an adventuress, as is often the case in moving pictures—all leading up to the "Vampire Dance."

Mr. Everett liked all that part of the picture that had to do with love, and the adventuress, and the hero losing his job, and all that, but when it came to the "Vampire Dance," which it featured, he, being one of the censors of Atlanta's morals, naturally couldn't say that it fitted in the scheme of Atlanta's morality.

Jett Orders Film Stopped.

So he notified Chief E. L. Jett at police headquarters. Chief Jett sent Motorcycle Policeman "Puss" Gorman to tell Policeman J. B. Freeman to tell the manager to stop the picture. Policeman Freeman went to the theater, viewed the dance, then notified the manager, who instantly put a stop to the Vampire's caperings. His house was crowded, and when the Vampire dance refused to dance, folks began to ask for their money back. Such attitude of the audience prompted him to renew the dance in defiance of the police.

Chief Jett was again notified. This time he sent Plain Clothes Policemen Bethel, Carter, Pittman and a supernumerary. They got seats close up front and waited the appearance of the Vampire.

Picture Put Back On.

Upon their departure, however, the picture was put on again, and the Vampire danced as gleefully as before.

Chief Jett stated to a Constitution reporter last night that no case would be made against the theater, but that the manager would be brought before the board of censors and the city council. Mr. Everett told the reporter that he probably would not prefer charges against the theater.

The manager says:

"The picture has been censored both by the local board of censorship and the national board. There is nothing harmful to it, or it would never have left New York. I was willing to act in accord with Mr. Everett, but I cannot appreciate the popularity of my theater. When people began asking for their money to be refunded, I had to replace the picture in self-defense."

Anti-Tuberculosis Association Joins Club Women in a Plea For Better Schools

At a meeting of the Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' association, held on Tuesday, October 14, resolutions were adopted indorsing the active movement now making for better school facilities.

The resolutions were:

"That, inasmuch as the crowded condition of the public schools of Atlanta is conducive to the spread of infectious diseases, especially that of tuberculosis, and that growing children require light and sunshine as well as fresh air.

"That the Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' association urges that arrangements be made for special taxation in order to provide more adequate room for the accommodation of the pupils, and that more efficient teachers may be employed; and "That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the board of education, a copy to the general council and a copy to the Atlanta papers.

(Signed) Mr. Hugh M. Willett, president; Mrs. Howard S. Cole, first vice president; Mrs. H. N. Salmon, second vice president; Miss Belle Peters Black, third vice president; Miss Rosa Lowe, secretary."

SUICIDE VERDICT IN THE HAUG CASE

Detective's Statement Convinces Coroner's Jury That Knoxville Girl Came to Her Death by Own Hand.

Thomasville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—What appeared at first to be a mystifying, diabolical murder without any apparent motive has dwindled into a suicide, according to the verdict this afternoon from a coroner's jury. The jury investigating the death of Miss Dorothy Haug came to that conclusion at 4:30 o'clock, after hearing a short statement from Detective Peace, who has had charge of the case since yesterday morning.

Mr. Peace established the fact this morning in Bainbridge that Miss Haug had purchased the gun from a dealer in that city and had threatened then to commit suicide, causing her roommate to leave the house where she was living because of her repeated references to this sort of death, and her determination to end it all that way. He found that the bullet found in the head was a thirty-two special, the same as that which was missing from the girl's gun. She brought the gun to Thomasville with her the day before the tragic morning.

This report and the statement that the opinion of the detective, after investigating various phases of the case, was suicide brought an immediate verdict from the jury to that effect. The result was not unexpected in view of the developments of yesterday.

The case was handled by the police from the start on a theory of murder, and nothing else, induced by the positive testimony of Dr. McIntosh that nothing but a blunt instrument could have inflicted that sort of a wound. Dr. McIntosh, at the instance of the jury on the first day, made an examination, and when he found the front part of the head badly shattered, did not take out the brain, but naturally concluded, without a complete examination, that it was done with something other than a pistol and by some one with an unusually strong arm.

The murder theory has proven embarrassing in the light of later events, when a total examination of the skull revealed the bullet. The theory advanced under the evidence by the local authorities was perfectly natural, according to the opinion of the detective, but he states that the jury should have established beyond all possible question that it was not done with a pistol before taking up the clues they did.

COMPLAINING NEGROES TO CALL ON WILSON

Washington, October 16.—(Special.)—President Wilson has agreed to receive a delegation of negroes on November 6, who will protest against the race segregation scheme being put into effect in the various executive departments.

Beginning with the treasury department and the bureau of engraving and printing, where John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, issued an order for the segregation of the two races, the work has been carried through other departments.

It has progressed much more vigorously in those bureaus where southern democrats are in control. This has brought forth protests from some quarters. It has not been without white political support, for the sake of the negro vote in doubtful states is emphasized by those who favor the step in the process of segregation, negroes are being demoted.

Representative John J. Rogers, a republican of Massachusetts, introduced a resolution in the house today, asking for official information as to the segregation scheme. He said he had been unable to get specific information by personal requests.

CHICAGO BUSINESS MEN COMING TO TOUR STATE

Brunswick, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Fifty members of the Chicago association of commerce visiting Georgia are to be in Brunswick on November 18. These Chicago business men are coming on a tour of this state under the auspices of the state chamber of commerce and will visit all the larger cities of the state.

Incidentally the Chicago visitors are to be in Brunswick on the date of the annual dollar dinner of the Brunswick board of trade, and they will all be invited to attend the dinner. Hon. Franklin Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, will be the guest of honor at the banquet, and will deliver an address. The fact that the Chicago business men are also to be present will serve to make the occasion an unusually large one.

TIGERS IN TENNESSEE LOSE IN LEGISLATURE

Drastic Measures to Enforce the Prohibition Law Are Passed. Hooper to Sign.

Nashville, Tenn., October 16.—The second extraordinary session of the Tennessee general assembly will adjourn sine die tomorrow, according to the prediction of a number of the leaders tonight. This afternoon the house passed three of the so-called law enforcement bills which had previously passed the senate. By agreement the fourth bill, empowering the governor to remove derelict officials, will be passed, it already having failed to pass the senate.

Liquor Shipment Barred.

The bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into the state passed the house by a vote of 92 to 4; the bill prohibiting interstate shipments of liquor passed by 86 to 8, while the bill to declare saloons a nuisance, passed by 79 to 15. In the senate the vote cast against the three measures was from 2 to 5. All of the bills had been indorsed at democratic conferences, while practically the republicans and independent democrats had worked for their passage at the first extra session.

In the passage of the bills a compromise was reached, by which opposition secured the defeat of the measure providing for the removal of derelict officials and a provision in the nuisance bill making it effective March 1, 1914.

Two Anti-Jug Bills.

The two anti-jug bills become effective at once unless vetoed by the governor, which is impossible. Governor Hooper stated tonight that the bills had not yet reached him, and that so far he had not affixed his signature to either of the three measures.

The anti-jug bills passed today are intended to strengthen the federal law prohibiting the shipment of liquors into dry territory. Although Tennessee had a state-wide prohibition law, it merely prohibits the sale of liquor within 4 miles of a school house, and it is claimed that this law would not affect the shipment of liquor into the state under the federal statute.

The senate tabled the bill providing for the removal of city and county officers not enforcing prohibition. The bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into the state passed the house 92 to 1.

ENEMIES OF TAMMANY REACH AN AGREEMENT

New York, October 16.—After many conferences, leaders of the progressive and republican parties in this city have agreed to unite in an effort to prevent Tammany Hall from securing control of the next board of aldermen. In all districts where progressive candidates are running against republican nominees for aldermen, with the exception of two or three, all progressive aldermanic candidates will be withdrawn. In consideration of this, the republican organization will withdraw its assembly candidates in the district affected and support the progressive nominees.

Yesterday was the last day in which declinations could be filed with the board of elections by candidates who had been named for offices to be filled at next month's elections, and several eleventh hour declinations were filed. The most notable was that of Oscar S. Straus, former minister to Turkey, who had been nominated for congress on the progressive ticket in the twenty-fourth district. Mr. Straus was nominated while he was in Europe and he returned to this country early yesterday.

COMPUTING THE EFFECT OF NEW TARIFF LAW

Washington, October 16.—The actual effect of the new tariff law upon the government's revenue will be disclosed by detailed comparisons and computations now being made for Secretary McAdoo.

Estimates of expenses for all branches of the government are almost finished. President Wilson has passed word along that economy and treasury officials interpret it as to neither raise the estimates beyond what is necessary to provide a margin for the consensual appropriation committees to cut down—a practice charged by officials against past regimes, nor to stint any government service so much as to cripple it.

While the customs revenues have fluctuated too much to warrant any satisfactory estimate as to what may be expected, the internal revenue receipts are running up a normal increase all along the line, so far showing $1,000,000 ahead of the same period of the last fiscal year.

ANONYMOUS CHARGES COST SNIDER HIS JOB

Washington, October 16.—Secretary Wilson today ordered the summary dismissal from the government service of George L. Snider, a bookkeeper in the life-saving service, because of anonymous charges alleged to have been inspired by Snider and others reflecting on Captain Sumner I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life-saving service, and the administration of his office. The secretary also reprimanded T. H. Maxwell, formerly of the life-saving service but now a clerk in another office of the treasury department, for co-operating with Snider and a man now out of the service, in circulating the allegations.

The charges against Captain Kimball were circulated among members of congress, and Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, brought the matter to the attention of the department.

Many friends gathered at the Hayston Baptist church to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased.

A special train will be run over the Georgia railroad Sunday morning, leaving Atlanta immediately after the regular 7 o'clock train, to carry the Old Guard, the modern company of the Gate City Guard, and a party of distinguish Atlantans to Crawfordville to dedicate the granite tablet that will mark the grave of the late Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy. A number of Atlanta ladies will be in the party. A drum and bugle corps will accompany the military.

Colonel J. F. Burke, in command of the Old Guard, has completed the details for the program of exercises. The party will arrive in Crawfordville at 11 o'clock, and will parade through the streets escorted by the ladies of the Daughters of the Confederacy in automobiles.

An elaborate luncheon will be served to the Atlanta party, and at about 2 o'clock the exercises will begin at the grave. They will be of a distinctly military nature. IN making Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits each garment is made separately, fashioned to exact shape and size while being knit. This is so unusual in knit underwear that it deserves special notice.

The rule is to knit the material by the yard; a dozen thicknesses cut at a time; the seams lapped and sewed like any other garment; it makes a bulky, rough, hard seam.

In Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits there are few seams; all selvage edges; you'll hardly know there are seams at all. The Swiss rib knitting makes perfect fitting.

A FREE HAND WITH MEXICO

Queerer international complications than those involved in the Mexican situation have rarely developed in this hemisphere. The spectacle is presented of nearly all the countries of Europe, after first having virtually slapped the United States in the face by their recognition of Huerta, squarely backing down and in substance telling Washington that it might go as far as it liked.

Such is the significance of the recent conference of ambassadors in Mexico City and of the hurried assembling of foreign warships in Mexican waters. Heretofore the United States had been distinctly embarrassed by the course of Europe in recognizing Huerta and permitting its moneylenders to finance his undertakings. Under such conditions Huerta was encouraged to defy the representations of Washington, and there was the ever-present threat that some European nation might feel emboldened to invade the Monroe doctrine in fact as it had already in spirit.

The current about-face, which puts the Mexican regime under the ban of the old world, arrays practically every power of consequence against the established Mexican order and tacitly turns over to the United States authority and responsibility to proceed as it may deem best in the interests of stable government.

It is fortunate that all elements of doubt have been eliminated and that whatever may develop the United States need fear no meddling on the part of Europe. In the meantime, there is reason to suspect that the alleged anti-American solidarity on part of Mexico is not as great as had been claimed. Many warnings have been sounded to the effect that once the United States initiated an aggressive policy all factions now warring would get together against the "hated gringo." Of late months it has appeared that dissensions in the northern part of Mexico and quasi-overtures to Washington dispelled this theory. Information to this effect must be, to an extent at least, controlling the stiff attitude of Washington in cutting the ground from Huerta's feet.

Many times a crisis has been heralded, only to blow over at the last moment. The situation has, however, reached so tense a nature that it is difficult to see how a decisive turn can much longer be delayed.

GEORGIA'S APPLE ASSETS

The potential fortune that awaits Georgia in the form of apple culture is convincingly indicated in an article by L. A. Niven, editor of Southern Farming, and published elsewhere on this page. Southern Farming is one of the chain of farm publications established by the Orange Judd company, and covering the entire country.

Recently Mr. Niven made a personal tour of the Georgia Blue Ridge, to investigate the apple orchards and the apple possibilities of that section. He comes back full of enthusiasm and with facts to back it.

Mr. Niven shows that apples grown in Rabun and other mountainous counties in north Georgia far excel in the famed apples of Oregon. He described the superior advantages offered by the Blue Ridge, and declares that it should become one of the great apple-producing districts of the United States. Mr. Niven conservatively sounds warning against the expectation that the man who embarks in apple culture is entering upon a bonanza which will make "get-rich-quick" returns. As much patience and as much care and capital must, he says, be expended in this as in any other industry. But the dividends thoroughly justify all effort.

Editor Niven simply corroborates the reiterated contentions of The Constitution with regard to the possibilities of north Georgia in apple culture. In a relatively short time there is no reason why that industry should not become one of the best cash assets of the state.

THE RAILROADS' PLAN.

The eastern railroads have virtually completed the preliminaries in their prayer to the interstate commerce commission to be allowed to increase their freight tariffs an average of 5 per cent. The new tariffs are on file, and will stand automatically suspended for a period of ten months, or as much of that time as may be necessary for a thorough investigation.

The response of the commission is conjectural. At a comparatively recent date it refused emphatically to permit the carriers to make operative changes of a nature very similar to those now proposed. At that time, however, the case was left open and the carriers were told that they might renew their petition when underlying circumstances gave it greater plausibility.

Whatever steps the commission may take there is no gainsaying the sore need of funds by the railroads. Admittedly, the transportation equipment of the country is antiquated and in need of replacements. Even now traffic is embarrassed. The burden will become heavier as business increases and the demands upon all the railroads grow more clamorous.

Hardly a trunk-line of importance in the country but has in the past offended in the matter of high finance, skyrocket juggling and operation in the interests of Wall street rather than in the interests of the consumers and the stockholders. It is the repetition of these sins, over a long period, that has brought the roads to their present plight and handicapped them in their borrowing operations.

That is, however, in the past. It is incumbent upon the commission to work scrupulously to the end that the old era of legalized looting and piracy be not duplicated. For failure to do so will render void any new and more constructive policies. After this is assured it is equally the duty of the commission to authorize such changes on part of the roads as will readjust conditions in this country.

For the last analysis railroads and prosperity are inseparably connected. That fact cannot be overlooked when the public is forming its opinions and when the commission shall come to act upon the prayer of the railroads.

ILL-PAID PREACHERS.

According to a report made to the Methodist Woman's Home Missionary society, 9,000 Methodist preachers preach and work in the United States for less than $500 a year. In other words, for about the wages of a day laborer this army of consecrated and educated men are supporting large families and ministering to the spiritual needs of an important body of citizenry.

This statement sent out from Washington, and it is confirmed in many quarters, goes far to explain the difficulty in securing recruits for the ministry. Not only in the Methodist church, but in practically all the denominations, the complaint is the same. The theological seminaries and the colleges with theological adjuncts experience increasing difficulty in enlisting students.

The sentiment of present-day society seems greatly in danger of placing two of its most vital servants—the teacher and the preacher—in the same category. We have lately seen illustrations of the manner in which the Atlanta school teacher is held down to the lowest financial pinch. It is not, therefore, strange to see that the preacher also is viewed in several quarters as an individual who can subsist largely upon divine unction, being dispensed a minimum of those comforts and advantages which have come to be identified with twentieth century standards.

It is probable also that the preacher most suffering from this condition is the one doing signal good—and that is the preacher in the country districts. His city brother is apt to fare better. Some localities can be excused, on account of poverty, for underpaying their spiritual advisers. But in the main this nation is too rich, and its farming districts too prosperous, to excuse a policy of parsimony.

The fault, we believe, lies, after all, in the viewpoint. Once that is adjusted the man who is preaching the gospel in the rural districts will be given income sufficient to afford his family those advantages to which he is entitled.

FILIPINOS IN CONTROL.

Cables from Manila reflect the most important step yet taken toward independence for the Philippine islands in placing a majority of natives on the Philippine commission. This policy was some weeks ago forecast by Governor General Harrison in his opening address. Already the natives dominate the lower assembly. Now that they control also the commission it is seen that the archipelago is already in possession of practical autonomy.

The policy now inaugurated must of necessity be of a tentative nature. The ability of the Filipinos to govern themselves is on trial. If they are shown capable of sound and stable government under their own legislature it is logical to expect that in time American influences will be wholly withdrawn and the pledges of the democratic party fulfilled.

The United States cannot, on the other hand, relinquish sovereignty should old cliques and factions put in an appearance and the progress of the past ten years be jeopardized. The experiment of the next few months will be freighted with importance not only to the archipelago itself, but to America as well.

Perhaps the reason United States senators "do not look important" now is due to the worry of work—real work—for once in a decade.

Time is money, and the currency question demands all they can spare—and a little more.

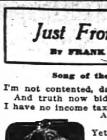
Song of the Income Tax.

I'm not contented, day by day,
And truth now bids me say it:
I have no income tax to pay,
And yet I'd like to pay it!
Yet, if I were a millionaire
I'd growl like They growl, everywhere!



As the custodian of the "rocks"
The income men reject me;
The sudden rise and fall of stocks
Are things that don't affect me.
(How differently I would speak
Were I a trust for just one week!)

But, as I say, I'm not content—
And this true song betrays it:
There is no income tax on rent
(Whenever I can raise it.)
My treasure in the clouds must wait
As untaxed heavenly real estate!

The What-is-it Dance.

A Galesburg, Kans., correspondent says, "the fashionable dances" have reached that town, and gives this description:

"The man leads his partner onto the floor, seizes her around the waist, lifts her from the floor and swings her thirteen times with her feet in the air. They then separate and salute, after which the lady advances and kicks her partner thirteen times on the shins while he flaps his ears and prays at every kick. The lady then throws her arms around his neck and kisses him on the end of the nose thirteen times, once for every kick, then they do the same thing over again. It is danced without music, and Lawrence Ross has agreed to introduce it here providing he can secure a partner and hall large enough to accommodate the spectators."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet.

GAINING KNOWLEDGE.

"It's pleasant," said the retired merchant, "to see the kids trooping down the street on their way to school. At least, it would be pleasant if they showed some signs of being happy, of appreciating their opportunities. But I'm afraid that not more than one in a dozen appreciates the glorious privilege of acquiring useful information for nothing."

"It would be interesting to know how much of the information they acquire is useful," replied the hotelkeeper. "All these kids we see going past the door are putting in several hours a day learning things that will never do them any good, and when they quit going to school they'll sit up late at night trying to forget three-quarters of the information with which they are now stuffed."

"I had a little grandson named Alexander staying here with me last year, and I sent him to school hoping he'd learn to read and write and catch flies with his hands. Alexander's father is a butcher, and when he grows up it is a dead certainty that he will be conducting a meat market. All his forbears for a thousand years back have been in the business of handling fresh and salt meats and oysters in their season, and if any doggone scion of that house embarked in any other business he would be considered a traitor.

"But when you send a kid to school it doesn't make any difference what business he is destined for. He has to store his mind with a lot of junk, whether he wants to or not. Little Alexander hadn't been to school a week before the teacher sent him to me with a note asking I'd have to furnish him with drawing materials. I called on the superintendent of the school and explained to him that there was no sense in trying to make a Raphael out of Little Alexander, for he was doomed to be a butcher, but there's no arguing with a school superintendent. He's always hidebound, and education has to be conducted along his lines or it isn't education. This particular superintendent got warm under the collar when I tried to show him where he was wrong, and intimated that if I didn't keep my advice to myself I'd very certainly, he'd summon the janitor to assist me.

"So little Alexander spent his valuable time making sketches of trees and elephants, and I never could distinguish the trees from the elephants, which humiliated him greatly, for he's a sensitive boy, and at that time he was wedded to his art.

"That boy went to school here for several months, and learned to make pictures, and to recite 'Twinkle, twinkle, little star,' and a lot of other things, but not one thing that would be useful to a butcher.

"When I was young the studies were much simpler than they now are, but for all that I learned a lot of stuff that proved a liability when I went forth into the world to carve out a fortune. My teacher was a great geography fan. He'd spend half of each night studying some blamed map or globe that read a dime novel. As a consequence he'd given me the impression that the world sloped from Europe

BAPTISTS LIBERAL TO INSTITUTIONS

Appropriations to Hospital and Orphans' Home Mark Close of the Convention. Commend Fight on Saloons.

At the fifth annual convention of the Atlanta Association of Baptist Churches, which brought its close yesterday at College Park, $25,000 was appropriated to the Baptist hospital and $10,000 was set aside for the Rayeville Orphans' Home.

The convention was held in the auditorium of Cox college and results from it were pronounced highly gratifying by the speakers who held the floor on the last day.

The annual report, showing the progress made during the past year, was read Thursday by Rev. A. F. O'Kelley, pastor of the College Park Baptist church and chairman of the board of missions.

A number of addresses were delivered before the delegates of the fifty-four Baptist churches which comprise the association. J. J. Hall, in discussing the American Peace association, declared that the maintenance of fleets of battleships and a standing army was more characteristic of a primitive nation than of a country like the United States.

"Ministerial Education" was discussed by Rev. W. T. Swift, of Decatur, and Rev. Russell Owen, pastor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church. Dr. G. A. Nunnally, of Rome, secretary of the Baptist educational board of Georgia, and J. W. Van Hoose, president of Shorter college, at Rome, delivered convincing addresses on the subject of "Christian Education." Both speakers asserted that this kind of education was by far more important than missions. They declared that an investigation into the Atlanta riot had developed the fact that no church members were participants in the affair.

"Sunday School Above Church."

Declaring that he considered the Sunday school more important than the church itself, Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, made a strong plea for the devoting of more time and effort to that department.

Dr. R. R. Nash, pastor of the Gordon Street Baptist church, took as his subject "Layman's Work." He stressed the fact that each layman should assist as much in the church work as would be expected of the minister.

B. T. Robertson, superintendent of work in the association, read a lengthy report which contained for the most part facts and figures concerning the progress of the association during the past year. In the year there were 1,100 baptisms recorded and the Sunday school showed a gain of 25 per cent in attendance. There are now 13,000 children attending the Sunday schools of the association.

Mr. Robertson stated that the average donations per capita for the year amounted to $12. There are 17,000 members in the Atlanta Association of Baptist Churches.

Rev. W. L. Hambrick, pastor of the Cooper Street Baptist church, in his address on "Woman's Work," warmly commended the women for their efforts during the year and paid the different organizations many compliments. He stated that it were not for the women at times the churches would become terribly involved in debt.

Macon and Rome Commended.

W. D. Upshaw, editor of The Golden Age, and Rev. J. W. Binns, pastor of the West End Baptist church, took "Temperance" as their subject. Both made impassioned pleas that all beer saloons be closed in Atlanta. At the conclusion of their speeches a vote of congratulations was extended to the citizens of Macon and Rome, which have recently fought saloons.

J. E. Bailey, superintendent of the Jackson Hill Sunday school, and John S. Spaulding, superintendent of the Second Baptist church, discussed improved systems and methods for instruction in the Sunday school.

Among the many delegates of prominence in attendance were Robert H. Coleman, business manager of The Texas Baptist Standard, and W. H. McGill, editor of The Western Recorder, of Louisville, Ky.

W. W. Gaines, a well-known lawyer of Atlanta, was elected moderator on the opening day of the convention. Mr. Gaines was tendered a vote of thanks by the assembly.

W. H. JACKSON TO BE LAID TO REST TODAY

William Henry Jackson, brother of Father Jackson, of St. Anthony's church, died at the family residence, 103 Ogiethorpe avenue, Wednesday, after an illness of two years' duration. He was a son of the late Dale Dexter and Matilda Jackson, of Atlanta.

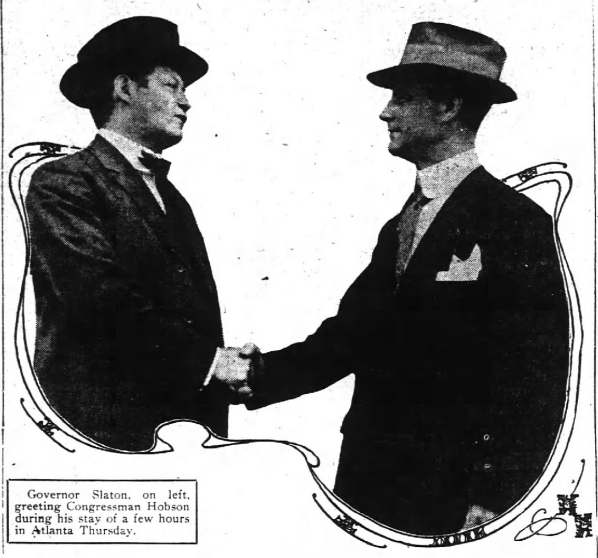
Mr. Jackson had for many years been associated in business with Alonzo J. Johnson in the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, and his death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Mr. Jackson is survived by four brothers, Father Jackson, of Atlanta; Joseph E. Jackson, of Canada; Louis F. Jackson, of Nashua, N. H., and Augustus E. Jackson, of Saginaw, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. E. Cote and Mrs. A. T. Gelinas, of Nashua, N. H.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Anthony's church at 10 o'clock today, when solemn high mass will be held. Interment will be at West View. Members of the family request that flowers be omitted.

The following will act as pallbearers: Joe Line, Edmond Falvey, T. O. Johnson, Lucien Harris, Walter Corley and Alonzo J. Johnson.

Hobson, In Atlanta For a Few Hours, Renews Attack on Democratic Leaders



Governor Slaton, on left, greeting Congressman Hobson during his stay of a few hours in Atlanta Thursday.

Seated between huge piles of Alabama newspapers, one seat of his Pullman berth being entirely occupied with his two valises and an overcoat, Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, recently announced candidate for the senate from his native state in opposition to Oscar W. Underwood, late Thursday read another chapter into his narrative of "boss control" in the house of representatives.

As he waited for his train to leave for Cartersville, where he lectured last night, Congressman Hobson looked ruminatively out of the window at the passing crowd in the old Union station shed and then said:

"This man Underwood! Here's a man of great force and of high character. However, his present position and his present great force only make him the more dangerous to the people. He is undoubtedly a tool in the hands of the forces who are against the public welfare.

"He sat idle while the men of Wall street financed his campaign. He well knew the vast amount of money expended right here in Georgia by the 'powers that be' to further his own stock in trade and to block the nomination of President Wilson at Baltimore.

"Now he sits idly by in the fight going on between the liquor interests of Alabama and the decent folk of that beautiful state, saying he doesn't want to mix in the 'dirty mud-slinging row.' The fact of the matter is that he is sitting supinely quiet and letting the forces of liquors guide him where they will.

"It is high time he entered the lists in the battle being waged in his and my own state and cease his attempts to defeat me by proxy."

Congressman Hobson passed through Atlanta yesterday on his way from Washington to his home state to take up the cudgels in his fight against liquor, and also to win a senatorial toga. He will fill a few lecture dates before he again enters Alabama, hence his stay in this city of a few hours, while he arranged an itinerary with his lecture manager, Russell Bridges.

POLICEMEN CHARGED WITH FALSE ARREST

Mrs. Southard Swears Out Warrants Against John D. Wood and J. P. Born.

Accusations charging that John D. Wood and J. P. Born "beat and assaulted her under color of their offices as policemen of the city of Atlanta," and also charging false arrest, were sworn out in the criminal division of the city court by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Southard. Complaint was made to the police board Monday against Policeman Wood by Mrs. Southard and her sister, Miss Adief M. Benton, a concert singer of Macon, and Wood's discharge was asked of Chief James L. Beavers. Policeman Born was recently discharged from the force on other complaints.

The trouble is said to have happened at 461 South Moreland avenue and various neighbors have been named as witnesses to back up her claims. Policeman Wood lived in that neighborhood. Mrs. Southard charged police persecution in her complaint to Chief Beavers.

The witnesses named against the officers are: Mrs. Southard, the prosecutor; Mrs. W. H. K. Southard, of 398 Cooper street; Mrs. Charles Hardman and Miss Mabel Hardman, of 46 South Moreland avenue; Mrs. Lela Lee, of 481 South Moreland; Mrs. Elbert Parker, of 465 South Moreland, and Mrs. Fannie Heron, of 60 Ponders avenue.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

DR. BARRON IS JOINED BY HIS SECOND WIFE

He Appears Suddenly at Conyers and Takes Her Away to Parts Unknown.

Conyers, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Dr. Carey Barron, recently freed of the charge of murdering his first wife, appeared here last night, went to the home of his second wife, formerly Miss Cora Wheeler, and shortly after left with her for parts unknown.

Inman Hamilton, the bride's brother-in-law, states that he does not know the destination of the pair and no further information on this subject can be gained here.

Mrs. Barron No. 2 gave out an interview in which it appeared that her ardor towards her husband had cooled somewhat, but this recent development would seem to indicate that the two have made up whatever differences may have existed.

AGED LADY BREAKS LEG BY FALL ON SIDEWALK

Brunswick, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. M. E. Roberts, one of Brunswick's residents, being 75 years of age, was the victim of a painful and serious accident last night, when while walking to her son's home she tripped and fell on the sidewalk. In the fall her right leg was broken just above the knee, and she suffered considerable pain. On account of her advanced age it is expected that the accident will prove a very serious one.

MAIL DISTRIBUTING INVENTION MAY MAKE LOTSPEICH WEALTHY

If a demonstration of a new type mail distributing machine recently invented by Wylie W. Lotspeich, a former employee of the local postoffice, now engineer at the Bova Night school building, provas satisfactory, and wins the admiration of postoffice inspectors stationed on the Atlanta division, Lotspeich may become one of the wealthiest men in the United States in a comparatively short space of time.

At the present time clerks assorting mail in all the large postoffices of the country are compelled to work over a case of pigeon holes sometimes the case is 20 feet long and 6 feet high. The new contrivance invented by Mr. Lotspeich is less than 3 feet square, and can be operated by one man sitting on a stool. This one man, with the new machine, it is estimated will be able to accomplish more work in six hours than four men under the present system can do in 12 hours.

Superintendent of Mail I. G. Hart is enthusiastic concerning the advantages of the new distributor. The government has granted permission to hold the demonstration in the Atlanta postoffice. Postoffice officials and inspectors from various parts of the country will witness the first trial of the machine.

SONG CYCLE FEATURES PROGRAM OF GIRLS

The song cycle, "A Day in Venice," will be the feature of the program of the Alumnae association of the Girls' High school, which will hold its annual reunion this afternoon in Browning Hall.

The members of the association who will participate in the singing are as follows: Mrs. Peyton Todd, Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin, Miss Mildred Parks, Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. W. T. Perkerson, Miss Harriet Milledge. An informal address will be made by Miss Jessie Mase, principal of the school.

The election of officers for the coming year will take place this afternoon, and plans will be laid for a number of events during this term. Among the most important events scheduled is a series of lectures by Scott Nearing, of the University of Pennsylvania. No cards have been issued to the members of the association, but all are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held at 4 o'clock.

TRAINED NURSE AIDS CAPTURE OF BURGLAR

The presence of mind of a pretty trained nurse early Thursday morning culminated in the capture of a desperate negro burglar who had robbed three homes and had shot at R. C. Bruce, a resident of 22 Simpson street.

The robber was caught uptown in the vicinity of the Aragon hotel after a thrilling chase by two policemen. After plundering the Bruce home and two others on Simpson street, he invaded the dormitory for nurses of the Baptist Tabernacle. He was heard by Miss Nellie Abshire, a nurse, who tipped to a telephone, notifying police headquarters.

Call Officer George Watson and his motorcycle partner responded. The negro fled from the building and was chased to the Aragon hotel, where he was captured. At police station he gave the name of John Henry, 162 1-2 Central avenue. Many valuables were found upon him. A charge of burglary was docketed.

STONE MOUNTAIN GETS NEW PASSENGER DEPOT

The state railroad commission, in executive session yesterday, ordered the Georgia railroad to build a new passenger depot at Stone Mountain. The new depot will be in the nature of an annex to the present station, which will, after the addition is built, be used solely for a freight depot.

Many complaints had come to the attention of the railroad commission from time to time from residents of Stone Mountain as to the poor facilities for handling passengers at that place and the need of a new depot.

SAVANNAH IS PLANNING TO SEE WOMAN FLYER

Savannah, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) Negotiations for staging a big aviation meet in Savannah are pending between President Leopold Adler, of the chamber of commerce, and Henry B. Marks, who represents some of the best known fliers. If the terms of Mr. Marks are met by the chamber of commerce it is planned to make the aviation meet the biggest event held in the south.

Marks says he can bring six famous airmen and one woman flier to Savannah for a five-day meet. If the deal goes through the meet will be held some time during November. The directors of the chamber of commerce will consider the matter Tuesday.

Negro Murderer Given Respite.

In order to give the prison commission an opportunity to hear an application for clemency in the case of Willie Jones, a negro sentenced to be hanged in Morgan county on Friday of next week, Governor Slaton yesterday granted a respite until Friday, November 14. The respite was granted on the recommendation of the prison board.

Appetite Ho! Ho! 'Tis a Great Joy

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Best Appetite Makers Dyspeptics and Stomach Sufferers Can Use.

Appetite is very largely a series of signals from the stomach. When one has a rousing appetite at the sight or smell of food the stomach through its connection with the mind of man is asked whether the food seen or smelled would be welcome.

The stomach if healthy says yes and at once our mouth waters and we are hungry from desire—keenly, ravenously hungry. If the stomach be sick then we have no appetite and are actually nauseated.

Waiter—"How's your appetite today, sir?"

Guest—"Bully good. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make me eat like a horse."

Appetite makes the glands of the mouth open and saliva flows very freely—hence the term "Mouth Water." This is the first digestive juice. It has an important office to perform, as all starchy foods are partially digested by it because one of its ingredients, ptyalin, is almost an instant digestive of starch. This process reduces the starch in foods to sugar.

The appetite causing a free flow of saliva aids the stomach by its ability to mix the food easier with mouth juices which enables it to more readily do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into the mouth like food, are eaten, then dissolved and fluidized by the saliva. This mass then goes into the stomach and there quickly readjusts the stomach juices so that in a short time food is not offensive and man's appetite comes speedily back to him and he is hungry in a healthy, normal way.

By all means use a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet the very moment you feel a loss of hunger. The quick return of appetite to you will convince you quickly that your stomach has been out of order and that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were the means of restoring its normally healthy condition.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and he matter where you may be you can always obtain a box anywhere for 50 cents.

Law-Cheshire Wedding
Beautiful Home Ceremony

A beautiful wedding last night, centering a cordial social interest, was that of Miss Willie Russell Law and Mr. Thaddeus J. Cheshire, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Law, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

A picturesque elaboration appropriate to the home ceremonial distinguished the occasion, and several hundred guests were entertained after the ceremony at a handsome reception.

Mrs. Byron H. King was her sister's maid of honor; Mr. Bryan Grant was best man, and small attendants were Fred Law and Byron King, jr., William Goldsmith King and Frances Law. Rev. A. H. Gordon was the minister officiating.

The bride entered the drawing room with her father, and she was a fair and lovely picture in her wedding gown of imported brocade crepe. The corsage was draped with rose point lace embroidered with pearls, and the long sleeves were of chiffon. The drapery of the skirt and train was caught with orange blossoms. The tulle veil fell from a point lace cap, and the bridal bouquet was of orchids and valley lilies.

The matron of honor wore white crepe meteor and princess lace, and her flowers were a shower of pink roses.

Mrs. Law wore white crepe de chine, trimmed with lace and rhinestones, and a corsage bouquet of Parma violets.

Miss Daisy Cheshire, a sister of the groom, wore yellow chiffon, and Miss Elizabeth Cheshire wore white brocade.

The little flower children wore white, the boys carrying French bouquets and the little girls a basket of pink roses.

Mrs. Sarah Law, the bride's grandmother, wore black chiffon. Mrs. Frank Dillard, of Birmingham, was gowned in black crepe meteor. Mrs. James Gardner, of Anniston, wore blue crepe meteor. Miss Cheney, of Athens, wore pink chiffon.

The Decorations.

The floral setting for the ceremony was an effective massing of palms with smilax as a mural decoration, and the immediate background for the bridal group was an altar arrangement of palms, with a central plateau of Easter lilies. White candles at each side burned in seven-branch brass candlesticks.

Palms and smilax were used with effect in all the rooms, and pink roses and pink chrysanthemums added their beauty to the living room and dining room.

The porch, enclosed in canvas, was made into a bower of green, and the punch bowl was placed there. Misses Lelia Ponder, Mary Burr Lake and Venice Mayson presiding. An orchestra provided music.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheshire went east on their wedding trip, and, returning, they will take possession of an attractive new home in Druid Hills.

Mr. Cheshire, successfully known in the business world, is a member of the B. M. Grant real estate firm and a popular in the clubs of which he is a member. His bride, pretty and lovable, is held in the affection and admiration of a large acquaintance.

Crystal Palace Dance.

There will be a subscription dance in the Crystal Palace, after the Mercer-Tech game. A large contingent of the college set will be there.

For Miss Booth.

Mrs. K. T. Booth will entertain Saturday afternoon at her home in West End in honor of Miss Claire Booth, a bride-elect.

Mrs. McConnell's Luncheon.

Mrs. Evan McConnell entertained at a pretty luncheon yesterday at her home in compliment to Miss Claire Booth, a bride-elect of the month. The house was attractive with ferns and flowers, and the centerpiece of the luncheon table was a basket of pink carnations. The candle shades were pink, and all other details were in pink and white. Mrs. McConnell wore a gown of black satin, and Miss Booth's gown was of blue cloth, with hat to match.

The guests included members of the wedding party.

Andrews-Johnson.

An interesting event of last evening was the wedding of Miss Sadye Andrews and Mr. Harry H. Johnson, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt Andrews, on Peachtree street, at 8:30 o'clock.

The house was elaborately decorated with smilax, tropical plants and white chrysanthemums, a color scheme of green and white being carried out in all of the appointments, excepting the dining room, where the dets 's were in pink.

The wedding party was grouped for the ceremony in the drawing room before an altar of palms and ferns. Misses Mary Bowden and Theodosia Beckham were ribbon bearers, and Miss Marjory Nelson was ring bearer.

The matron of honor wore white chameuse satin combined with lace and trimmed with crystal. The maid of honor wore white crepe de chine and lace. Both the matron of honor and maid of honor wore La Tosca caps of lace, with butterflies of brilliants, and they carried pink roses.

The ribbon bearers were white accordion-pleated chiffon dresses, with pink ribbons, and the little ring bearer wore a white chiffon accordion-pleated dress with white ribbons. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of white charmeuse with lace draperies. A reception followed the ceremony.

The centerpiece of the bride's table in the dining room was a wreath of pink dahlias surrounding a mirror, on which was arranged a wedding party of miniature figures. The candle shades, mints, cakes and ices were pink.

The porch was enclosed and decorated with a profusion of plants and flowers. Punch was served here by Misses Mary Lucy Turner and Eugenia Ivey.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for a wedding trip and, on their return, will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Andrews for the winter. The bride's going-away gown was of blue cloth with hat to match, trimmed in fur.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Mrs. R. L. Brooks and Mrs. T. T. Fletcher, of Forsyth; Miss Mary Edmondson, of Eastman; Miss Alline Hollingsworth, of Lithonia, and Misses Grace and Ethel Johnson, of Athens.

The Alumnae association, Girls' High school, will enjoy their annual reunion this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Browning hall, and they invite all graduates of the school to be their guests, regardless of membership in the association. No invitations have been extended except through the press.

While the informality of old acquaintance will be the spirit of the occasion, some delightful entertainment has been prepared; notably a first germination in Atlanta of Nevin's cycle of four love songs, "A Day in Venice."

The orchestra arrangement is familiar, but there will be novelty in the three-part arrangement by Charles Gilbert Sprose for women's voices and the quality and beauty of the music will be well exploited by a group of prominent singers—Mrs. Peyton Todd, Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, Miss Mildred Parks, Mrs. John M. Cooper, Mrs. W. T. Peterson and Miss Harriet Milledge.

Wurm's orchestra will contribute some bright selections and Miss Jessie Music, principal of the high school, will speak briefly of the influence of the alumnae to the schools.

The election of officers will be a feature and the program will be followed by a social hour.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WERE TOO SHARP FOR ALDERMAN HARWELL

Although the new $275,000 crematory was running on "one leg," and although he finished up all council papers without having to write a single veto message, and although everything around the hall was breaking loose for him, Mayor James G. Woodward carried a grouch when he entered the executive offices at city hall yesterday.

The mayor growled "Howdy" to the usual morning felicitations of Secretary Frank Hammond and the newspaper reporters. Finally he admitted that he was suffering from neuralgia while Alderman John H. Harwell and Councilman Claude Ashley called to accompany him on his school inspection.

"Look here!" the mayor exclaimed to Alderman Harwell. "You'll have to do all the talking today."

Alderman Harwell agreed.

Plays Part of Mayor.

When the three reached the school Alderman Harwell assumed the role of mayor.

Still playing the role of mayor, Alderman Harwell met the little curly-haired tots and freckled-face urchins that he was pleased to see them all so studious.

"Now, I want to test your memory," he continued. "I want to see if you remember what I told you about those ice gentlemen."

They Knew Better.

"Now, point out for me Mayor Woodward."

Alderman Harwell evidently believed that he had deceived the kids, for he held out his arms expectantly, ready to gather the embrace of many little arms. Instead, the children, with eyes where Mayor Woodward stood smiling.

"That's Uncle Jim over there with the gold teeth," the kids yelled in a chorus and made a bee line for the mayor.

"Taint no use," commented Alderman Harwell, "you can't fool the kids. They know Jim Woodward just like they know a stick of red candy."

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Upset Stomachs Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is sour; if gas, sourness and upset, and what you just ate ferments and forms into sickening lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women regularly know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Pape's Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and gives it no trouble to digest without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at any drug store. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so quickly and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Fire Destroys Gin.

Lawrenceville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the gin of Tom W. Brownlee, near Gloster, on the Decatur road, Wednesday afternoon, supposed to have originated from the sparks from a passing train. The seed from fifteen bales of cotton and one bale of cotton were destroyed, along with the gin, which was worth about $1,200, with no insurance on it.

AT THE THEATERS.

James K. Hackett.

(At the Atlanta.)

Tonight James K. Hackett, the noted romantic star, will come to the Atlanta theater with his newest success, "The Grain of Dust," in which he and a company of excellence has been playing for two seasons. The play is a dramatization of the David Graham Phillips' novel and one of the strongest ever given on the stage. The play made a tremendous impression when produced and remained in Chicago four months though originally booked for only two weeks. Mr. Hackett is surrounded by a carefully-selected list of players, several of whom have starred. David Higgins is especially well known in the south. The engagement includes a matinee Saturday and a night performance that night as the last of the star.

"Mutt and Jeff in Panama."

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the engagement of "Mutt and Jeff in Panama," which comes to the theater Monday and Tuesday with a Tuesday matinee. This play is a musical melange which is funny and original, and which is full of laughs, gingery dancing and pleasing singing. A company of fifty players will be seen here in these being up to the pleasing standard set last season by the company. The play is all new this year and shows the funny fellows in the most laughable situations possible. A matinee will be played Tuesday afternoon.

"Madam X."

(At the Lyric.)

Many people claim "there is nothing new under the sun," but this statement has been proven untrue in the last year. The French people, as a race, are, and have been the leaders in many of the world's lines of industry and literature; only in the past year has one of their noted writers developed a drama upon new and startling lines; caused the managers in whose theaters it has played to place the "Standing Room Only" sign on the front of their places of amusement nightly. This wonderful drama of motherlove, written by Alexandre Bisson and entitled "Madame X," with Eugenie Blair in the title role, will be seen in the city next week at the Lyric theater, when it will demonstrate to the auditors the fallacy of that old adage.

"The Lights of Gotham."

(At the Bijou.)

Another splendid week for the Bijou stock company is being brought to a close and the remarkable patronage is the best evidence that "The Lights of Gotham" is proving one of the most entertaining plays that the company has offered during the season. There is no denying the popularity of melodrama presented in such splendid style, with every care as to stage details, and there is good reason to believe that next week, when Manager Keiley announces for the coming week a real surprise in Hal Reid's sensational melodrama "Knobs o' Tennessee."

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

If the bill at the Forsyth this week was not up to the real standard the S. R. O. sign would not be exhibited at all performances. But there have been several hundred people turned away from every performance because all seats had been sold hours in advance of a scheduled performance, and the police stopped the issue of standing room admissions.

For next week there is a bill that ought to be the equal of this week's. The Florentine Singers will headline, and if there is a superior singing act in vaudeville it is not known.

"Last Days of Pompeii."

(At the Grand.)

"The Last Days of Pompeii," the great spectacular play which is the Grand this week, has drawn a multitude to the big theater. The picture is one of the best that has ever been produced, only eclipsed by the magnificent "Quo Vadis," that comes next week.

12 NURSES GRADUATE AT STATE SANITARIUM

Milledgeville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—The Georgia state sanitarium training school for nurses held their annual commencement exercises on Wednesday evening in the amusement hall at the sanitarium in the presence of a large audience.

The board of trustees are in session at the sanitarium and were present at this exercise. Hon. John T. Brantley, president of the board, of Blackshear, Ga., presided. Dr. Thomas M. Wright, of Augusta, also made an address to the graduating class. The state sanitarium band, under the direction of Bandmaster Nash, rendered a beautiful program of music on this occasion.

The graduating class of 1913 is the largest ever turned out from this school since its establishment some four years ago. The following have the degree of graduate nurse conferred upon them: Miss Minnie Champion, Miss Eula Columbia Cheek, Miss Myrtle Lee Rose, Mrs. Littleton Dukehtry, Miss Nannie Elizabeth Finney, Miss Mamie Emma Griffin, Miss Kate Louise Jackson, Miss Susie Bell Kemp, Miss Lora Lee Moran, Miss Alma Cleo Smith, Miss Pearl Josephone Summerford and Mrs. Amanda Florence Oxford.

ANOTHER HUSBAND FREED OF CHARGE BY CHEMIST'S PROBE

Cecilia, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—On October 3 Asa Cribb, of this place, died suddenly and her physician suspected poison. He told the immediate cause and reported it to the coroner. The coroner summoned a jury to make a investigation, and on the jury's recommendation held the husband for further investigation.

The state chemist made an analysis of the stomach and were prepared to report to the sheriff today that he found no trace of poison, and the husband was released from prison today, in there is nothing more to throw suspicion on the man for the murder of his wife.

Mrs. Cribb was a daughter of E. J. Hogan, of Fitzgerald, Ga., and is survived to one of the most prominent families of this county, and had been married but a few months.

POLITICIANS FLEEING FROM VENEZUELA

Willemstad, Curacao, October 16.—The departure of prominent politicians from Venezuela continues. General Trino Baptista, former minister of public instruction, has arrived at Buenos Ayres. He was the strongest opponent in the government council of the agreement between Venezuela and France, re-establishing diplomatic relations.

General Baptista was accompanied by Marco Antonio Freytes. Both are friends of General Ramon Delgado Chalbaud, former commander general of the navy, who was imprisoned in August at La Guaira on suspicion that he was plotting against the president.

It is reported that a gasoline craft flying the Venezuelan flag pursued the fugitives.

DEATH OF SILAS BROOKS WAS DUE TO APOPLEXY

Raymond, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—A coroner's inquest over the body of Silas Brooks, aged 60, a well-known and respected farmer who was found dead in a cotton patch near the Pines Knob school house determined that his death had occurred from apoplexy.

Mr. Brooks, who was an old bachelor, had been to Sharpsburg Wednesday and had made a number of purchases. The articles were found near his body. He had not been seen since he was in Sharpsburg on Wednesday. It is supposed that he was overcome as he made his way alone toward his home. He is survived by two unmarried sisters.

COMMISSIONER PRICE OPENS DOUGLAS FAIR

Douglasville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—The Douglas county fair was opened here yesterday morning by an address by Hon. J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture.

Hon. William Schley Howard will make the principal address on Thursday, and a large crowd is expected from the surrounding counties.

The agricultural exhibits are better than any ever shown in the county, and the display in ladies' department is attracting a good deal of attention.

The fair will continue through Friday.

DEMONSTRATION AGENTS MEETING IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Farm demonstration agents of the federal state departments of agriculture, representing eight Georgia counties, met in Savannah today for a two days' session, during which they will discuss school extension work of the State College of Agriculture. H. E. Ansely, field agent of the federal department of agriculture, is presiding, and Professor J. Walter Hendricks is secretary. Professor J. Phil Campbell is in attendance.

DUCKWORTH TO SPEAK TO BALDWIN FARMERS

Milledgeville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Hon. R. F. Duckworth, former president of the state farmers' union, will spend several days of next week in Baldwin county and will deliver a series of addresses. He is an interesting talker, with a thorough knowledge of the results to be accomplished by the farmers, and his talks will be made with the view of arousing renewal of interest among the farmers.

VETERAN DROPS DEAD AFTER PLAYING DRAFTS

Washington, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Daniel W. Hart, 76 years old, a veteran of the civil war, dropped dead in his home at Rayle, near Washington, this afternoon, after having spent the day in a game of drafts with friends just a few minutes before. Surviving him are his wife and seven children. Tas L. Short and Miss Effie Short, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Norton arrived tonight to attend the funeral Friday. He was one of Wilkes county's prominent citizens.

Hart Court Adjourned.

Hartwell, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) At the urgent request of the farmers of Hart County, Judge David W. Meadow, of the northern circuit adjourned the present term of Hart court to a later date. This county has never witnessed such a bountiful harvest, and the act of Judge Meadow is commended, as it will doubtless save much to the county.

GRAND JURY ATTACKS HOUSTON COMMISSION

Alleged That County Has Been Plunged in Debt Since January by Extravagance.

Perry, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Houston county, in its presentments, severely criticised the board of county commissioners for their way of conducting the county's business. The grand jury finds that the county is about $50,000 in debt, with no funds with which to pay; that when the present board went into office they found the indebtedness of the county to be $22,000, and that it has increased since January 1 to the amount above named.

The jury finds that the money drawn for services for the five commissioners from January 1 to October 1 amounts to $943, notwithstanding two of the commissioners have not rendered their accounts for August and September and one not since March 1. Also that the chairman, while in company with the other four commissioners, the clerk of the board and the superintendent of the chaingang on a free pleasure trip to Indiana in June last, as the guests of the Greenberg Iron company, of Terra Haute, Ind., charged and collected for five days at $3 per day while on the trip; that Miller Mathews, in the purchase of a bill of disinfectants amounting to $373.75, received as a premium for his family a standard silk chest of silver, and J. Chapman, superintendent of the chaingang, sold the clothes. The amount of disinfectants purchased is sufficient to last the county for two years.

The jury recommended that representatives introduce a bill in the next legislature creating a board of three to be appointed by the judge of the superior court, and that their salary shall be $100 per year each, instead of electing five commissioners by a vote of the people to charge and collect what they desire.

JUDGE FOSTER'S JURIES DRAWN IN OPEN COURT

Augusta, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) When last Monday morning the federal grand and traverse juries were drawn for the term of United States district court, which convenes Monday of next week, there was a decided departure in the methods of Judge Pufus E. Foster, of the southern district of Louisiana, who will preside, from those of Judge Emory Speer. In his order calling for the drawing of the juries Judge Foster stipulated that the jury should be drawn in open court, and that newspaper men and the public should be invited to be present. The names of the jurors, both grand and traverse, were given out.

It has been a long time since there has been anything of this kind here before. It has always been a sort of unwritten law with Judge Speer that the names of the jurors be kept secret.

COTTOLENE
CONTAINS NO HOG FAT
USE 1/3 LESS

Here is what Marion Harland said in 1906 about

Cottolene

"Many years ago, I discontinued the use of lard in my kitchen and substituted for it, as an experiment, Cottolene, then comparatively a new product. Since my first trial of it I can truly say that it has given complete satisfaction. I honestly believe it to be the very best thing of its kind ever offered to the American housekeeper."

MARION HARLAND.

Cottolene makes biscuits that are tender when they are cold—that is a sure test of a good shortening. Try it yourself. Make the biscuits like this:

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons Cottolene, 3-4 cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; rub in Cottolene; mix lightly and quickly; mixture should not be dry; roll out on board, cut into small biscuits, bake ten to fifteen minutes in hot oven. To make biscuits richer, mix with cream. Whole wheat, graham or rye biscuit may be made in the same way.—Edith L. Clift.

Won't you follow the example of famous cooks and make Cottolene THE fat for all your cooking?

There are several games in the south tomorrow that will interest football fans, not only in the games themselves, but for the purpose of comparative scores for future games in which some of the contestants meet.

On Eve Of Some Good Football Games

WHIFFS

Get Real Line.

THERE are several games in the south tomorrow that will give the football fans of this section plenty of opportunity to dope out themselves just how strong the various colleges are in comparison with the rivalers. The teams are far enough advanced now to be considered about at their top stride, and the showing they make tomorrow should give one a good line.

Of Much Interest.

THE SEWANEE-Tennessee game at Chattanooga, is probably the game that will attract the greatest interest in the south. First, because Sewanee is always in the running for the southern football title is being considered. Second, because records from Tennessee thus far have been so glowing that the Volunteers are rapidly being considered the dark horses of the southern college circles.

Show Strength.

SEWANEE'S showing against Tennessee will be of much interest to Atlanta, and the Tennessee team is said to be about the same size as the Sewanees in every department, just as speedy but more experienced. If Sewanee comes out with the large end of the score in this game, it can be considered strong, and the Jackets had better look to their laurels.

At Birmingham.

INTEREST throughout the state of Georgia, however, will probably be more generally focused on Birmingham, where the University of Georgia team goes up against its first real proposition of the season, when they do battle with the University of Alabama, and the "thin red line" has been showing up all comers thus far. Georgia's true strength will be judged by this battle. But so will Alabama's.

Another Duel.

A BACKFIELD duel will be staged at Birmingham. A comparison of the relative merits of McWhorter, of Georgia, and Vandegraaf, of Alabama, will be worth watching. They are the stars of their teams. They do the most of the ground-gaining, and the teams build their play around their stars. An interesting comparison will be the result. Both have been doing most of the effectual ground-gaining to date. But they will be in a real test Saturday.

Local Prospects.

LOCALLY the Tech-Mercer game will attract considerable attention, and it should. Some seem to have gained the impression that the game is going to be a practice romp for the Jackets. Some is sure to get a surprise. That Mercer bunch may be light, but it is fast and it can scrap. Who remembers how the Tech freshmen, light as it was, outfought practically every team they played against last season. Well, Mercer has that kind of a team, so watch out for surprises.

Furnish Comparison.

THE AUBURN-Clemson game, at Clemson, will be another that tlanta and Georgia fans will be interested in. It will give a line on the strength of the Auburn eleven. Alabama, also, already defeated Clemson. Clemson is to play Tech, Georgia and Mercer. Alabama is playing Georgia and Tech is playing Mercer. Auburn has deefated Mercer and is to play Tech and Georgia, so the score in the thurn-Clemson game will be of interest to many schools and their supporting fans.

A Wise Move.

HUGH MAUCK'S decision not to try for the football team until he has secured himself advanced enough both in the game itself and in physical condition is a commendable one, and does the fellow credit. Mauck never attempted anything in his life that he did not give the best he had in him. He does not believe that under the present conditions he could do so. Therefore he is abiding his time. He'll prove a star when he does play. He's got the right idea.

Sees the Light.

JOHN McGRAW, wise old owl that he is, has seen the light. He realizes that he cannot continue to win National league pennants with a mediocre team that he has at his command. He is promising many changes in the fall, sooner by next spring, and you can count on the Giants being in the running again if McGraw makes the changes that he is contemplating. There will be two infield and two outfield changes certain. The Batteries look pretty good as they stand.

A Wise Move.

THE RETENTION of the world's series game will be a wise move. Herman Ramaley suggested the retention several years ago, but the club owners failed to see the point. Baseball is now a game to not clearly establish the championship of the "greatest series ever played." Breaks figure in the world's series, it is true, but it would figure more in the round-robin series. Usually in the world's series the best team wins.

PHILADELPHIA CIVIC AUTHORITIES WILL BANQUET MACKMEN

Philadelphia, October 16.—In compliance with a suggestion made by Jack Blankenburg, the members of the world's champion Athletics will be tendered a dinner here on October 28 as guests of the city.

The mayor, who takes great interest in baseball and Director of Public Safety Porter take the matter of the dinner up yesterday with the club officials, and stated him that the players would be communicated with.

They told the directors there was little doubt that every one of the twenty-five players who took part in, or was eligible to join in the world's series baseball games would be present at the dinner.

Want Games.

The Stone Mountain Athletic club would like to arrange games with any good football team for Saturdays during the season, being willing to play either at home or abroad.

Long Signal Drill Order For Tech and Mercer On Eve of Gridiron Battle

Coaches Heisman and Hardage, of the Tech and Mercer teams, put their boys through the toughest scrimmages of their career yesterday afternoon in the last scrimmage that will be held before their game Saturday afternoon at Grant Field.

Today the coaches will put the elevens that they intend to line up against their opponents through a rigorous signal drill, trying out the set plays that they will use working in absolutely secrecy.

Reports from Mercer are to the effect that the team that will be met against Tech Saturday will be the strongest line-up that the Bears have been able to put on the field this season.

Although the special rate of $1.95 from Macon to Atlanta and return will not be put on, a $2.50 round-trip ticket for the week-end has been put on, and quite a crowd of Mercer students and Macon football fans are coming to Atlanta to witness the game.

The exact line-up of the two teams is not known, as there may be some eleventh-hour changes on both sides, but approximately the teams will face each other as follows:

MERCER.	Position.	TECH
Lanford	L. E.	Price
Forrester	L. T.	Bailey
Jernigan	L. G.	Trawick
Mills	C.	Mann
Bernardo	R. G.	Vance
Huguley	R. T.	Cushman or Hagen
Hall	R. E.	Thomas
Cochran	Q. B.	Cook
Sammons	L. H.	McDonald
Wills or Peyton	R. H.	Johnson

It will be noted that the names of Mauck, Loeb and Patten do not appear in the Tech line-up. Mauck will not be used in the game at present, Patten's leg may prevent his participation, and Loeb's ankle, which is giving him quite a bother, will ride his playing at all.

FRIENDS OF MOYER REPUDIATE CHARGES

to be regretted that many authorities believe in the wisdom of providing a system by which convicts receive a term of work for a minimum of food—of furnishing a sufficient amount to make them strong enough to do the work required. If convicts are to grow stronger, they must be fed more than they are now, and the present advanced prices of subsistence supplies."

Upon the question of the alleged cruel treatment of prisoners at the federal prison, the following from Warden Moyer's address throws considerable light:

"I do not believe that it is either wise or advantageous to administer an anesthetic to men in the penitentiary under any circumstances. Acting in opposite directions, corporal punishment and confinement in the dungeon produces the same effect—it brutalizes the man who administers it and it brutalizes the prisoner who receives it.

"In no instance, however great the provocation may have been, has corporal punishment been inflicted upon any prisoner at the Atlanta penitentiary since I assumed charge of it."

Freeman Defends Moyer.

Among the first in Atlanta to uphold the policies of Warden Moyer was George F. Freeman, of Freeman & Perry. Mr. Freeman, who was instrumental in securing the position of Thomas M. C. Bram, and who has done much work among the prisoners, having ample opportunity to observe conditions at the prison. He said to a Constitution representative Thursday night:

"I believe that the charges brought against the federal prison and Warden Moyer are absolutely without foundation. As for Hawthorne and Morton, I believe that they are the thieves for which they were convicted, and that they are no better in anything they might say. It is an outrage that such men as these should, merely for the handing of some 900 men. He gives a direct statement that there is no truth in the claim that men in the solitary cell are chained to the walls. He also declares that the prisoners have plenty to eat.

"There are bound to be just causes for complaint at times in a big prison like that, and for that reason Warden Moyer could run the place differently, or more humanely than he does.

"I guess that I was about as friendly with the men out there as anybody ever was and I never heard a real complaint that amounted to anything the whole time I was there. I gave up the place of musical director about a month ago and while I was there I was with Mr. Morton. He appeared to have a slight grudge against the red on the prison hospital, but I don't think there was any real cause for it.

Impossible to Please All.

"When you put about 900 men in the hands of a few it is impossible to please them all, you'll be pleased," he added. "You can't take ten men on a camping trip and please them all with the food, and it's the same way out there.

"Bram a man don't think he has enough to eat he holds up his hand and is then asked what he wants. If it's meat or vegetables he asks for, he gets another helping, if there is any more left.

"You see, congress appropriates a certain amount to pay for the provisions, and that amount has to be used. If there's one thing, every man there gets all the bread he wants. That's a fact. There's always enough bread for every man to eat, no matter how many he may want.

"Now, it's natural that when men who go out there are used to eating certain dainty food, served in the manner that is carried out in wealthy homes and in high priced hotels, the everyday eating at the prison and the plain and ungarnished way in which is served, is going to get on their nerves.

Food Above Ordinary.

"The food, however, is much better than the ordinary working man gets and it's always warm when it's served to the men. I've seen Warden Hawke send back cold meat or vegetables more than once and raise a kick when they were not served hot.

"Then, when a man who's been making some thousands of dollars a month goes out there and has to take orders from a $75-a-month warden and be made to realize that he's only one of the convicts, it's bound to get on that man's nerves.

"There's absolutely no truth in the statement that men are chained to the walls in the 'solitary.' I know one man who've been put in there and I've seen the cell scores of times. There are no chains in it, and it's not a hot and ill smelling place, either."

Mr. Mathewson was positive in his statements about affairs at the prison and, while he did not come out and recommend it as a winter resort, he declared in no unmistakable terms that it was run on as humane a plan as was possible.

Bram Had Enough to Eat.

Thomas M. C. Bram, who recently was released from the Atlanta federal prison after having served more than seven years, and who, during the service of Hawthorne and Morton was the former's cellmate and was constantly thrown in touch with the latter, has also come to the support of his former warden.

Bram declared that while he was unable to state what the fare at the federal prison cost per man, he had never seen the men in the prison sit down to a meal when there was not all each one could wish.

"More than that," says Bram, "if a man did not have all he wanted he was always at liberty to call for more of whatever was on the bill of fare for that meal. The bills of fare were greatly diversified and there was a sufficient variety for the prisoner to grow tiresome."

Many of Bram's statements was that only a few days after Dr. Morton arrived at the federal prison he came to him and said that he did not like the food.

"I asked what diet he had been used to," says Bram, "and he told me that he lived mostly on eggs and milk. I then suggested that he call the warden and tell him that he wanted eggs and milk.

"This conversation occurred in the evening and the next morning he had his breakfast served to him. Before telling me to give him anything he desired from the prison stock, he sent them on Dr. Morton made out his own bill of fare three times a day. He open have a dozen eggs if he wanted them and all the milk he could drink."

Bram, while in prison, was in charge of the commissary.

Mr. Bram denied in detail all the charges of inhuman treatment made by Mr. Hawthorne and Dr. Morton.

Former Prisoner Defends Warden.

Of Warden Moyer Mr. Bram said:

"I want you to tell the people of Atlanta that Mr. Moyer is the best gentleman, just, kind and lovable person I have ever met. He is a man who has no shadow of a doubt but that he is the best warden in the penitentiary in this country. You cannot say too much for me in praise of him.

"I wintered and summered, if you please, with Mr. Moyer for seven years, and in no case have I ever seen any indication of the mistreatment of any men on his part or on the part of any of his subordinates. Warden Moyer would not tolerate any such treatment and every man in that prison knows that any case of such treatment that came to would be the first man to defend the victim, and that at all times it is impossible to receive any sort of a complaint from any prisoner.

"Should any investigation be made, Warden Moyer will not shield anybody, so revealed as the kind and competent official that he is. As a matter of fact, I know that for years it has been the wish of Warden Moyer that his methods should be thoroughly investigated annually. Therefore he will welcome any time he will welcome any investigation that the federal authorities see fit to make."

Prefers Prison to Freedom.

As for how much the prison at least, who is now in the federal prison regards the treatment there, the following concrete example is noteworthy:

It was learned Thursday night by The Constitution on good authority that a prisoner who is now in the Atlanta federal prison under the register number 7,427 has served seven years at the prison purely because he finds living there preferable to the conditions under which he has had to live outside.

Upon the expiration of his last term in the federal prison this prisoner was given $25 and went to Fort Worth, Texas, Y. After having had his liberty for a few days, he went to Dallas, a mail box, reported to the federal authorities what he had done and asked that he be sent back to the Atlanta prison, as he is now serving a term for that offense.

HAWTHORNE REPEATS CHARGES IN WASHINGTON

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, October 16.—(Special.)—Julian Hawthorne, who has just been released from the Atlanta penitentiary after serving six months for using the mails to defraud, appeared before a special house committee today and charged that Dr. W. J. Morton, who was also released from the penitentiary, is now employed by Dr. W. J. Morton, who appeared to be in good health and had gained considerable flesh.

"I am going to do what I can for the poor devils who are still there," Hawthorne said. "For them that prison is hell. I do not claim that I was ill-treated while I was not, I cannot say as much for some of the others, however.

"The authorities there have the power to do almost anything they please, and they do not hesitate to use the power. While I was at the prison myself, I saw many others not well used.

"The warden at the Atlanta prison, Dr. Moyer, makes a pretense of supporting all kinds of reforms. Whenever any prisoner in authority over him proposes a reform he immediately claims credit for it. The entire system is bad and should be abolished. At present the man is sent to the pen and return here later, because this is all the place he wants. The authorities are changing the system.

Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, of McReynolds conferred with R. V. Ladow, superintendent of mines, regarding the charges of cruelty and insufficient fare at the Atlanta penitentiary. While the weight is attached to the criticism, the investigation will be made. Some one not connected with the department will be sent down.

In the meantime W. H. Moyer, the warden, is directed to make a statement of the facts on his return from Indianapolis.

MAIDEN AND MANN GOLF IN FORM AT MEMPHIS

Atlanta Professionals Show Up Well—The Lead Is Taken by J. J. McDermott.

Memphis, Tenn., October 16.—J. J. McDermott, of Atlantic City, with a score of 146, took the lead this afternoon at the end of half the journey in the 72-hole tournament for the open golf championship of the west. He turned in a card of 72 for the afternoon play against a 74 for the morning round. McDonald Smith, of New Rochelle, the present title-holder, stands second with 148 for the day's play; M. J. Brady, of Boston, third, with 149 and J. B. Simpson, of Milwaukee, fourth, one stroke behind Brady.

Dave Kober, of Evanston, whose 72 this morning brought him to the top of the list at the end of the first 18 holes, fell back in the afternoon, taking 82 for the second round. Seventy-two is better than par for the Memphis Country club course, over which the tournament is being played.

McDermott played consistent golf throughout, improved during the afternoon as he became better acquainted with the course. A misty rain, which fell at intervals, only served to improve the course, in the opinion of many of the golfers. They found the fog, which hung like a curtain over the bay, very little of an obstacle in making their putts.

Brady and Tom McNamara, the Boston pair, who won the best ball match yesterday with a score of 141 for the 36 holes, failed to keep up their stroke today. Brady, barking, 11 in all and McNamara in 162, which put him in fifth position.

Stewart Maiden and Willie Mann, of Atlanta, professionals, appeared in good form today. Maiden made the morning round in 77, but taking 78 for the afternoon, a total for the day of 155.

Mann's card showed 74 and 85 for a total of 159.

F. D. Gardner, of Memphis, led the amateurs participating in the event. He made the morning and afternoon rounds in 78 each. E. W. Dailey, the Nashville crack, showed considerable improvement in his afternoon play. He made the morning round in 87, but cut off six strokes in his afternoon play, turning in a card of 81.

BALL PLAYERS PAY PRESIDENT A VISIT

Washington, October 16.—"Pop" Anson, Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington Americans, and Brownie Burke, mascot of the Cincinnati Reds, called at the White House today and engaged him in a conversation on baseball.

It used to tell folks during the campaign," said Anson to the president, "that Taft was content to run things from the bench. Now Teddy wants to be pitcher, first baseman and everything, and do his own rooting besides. I think Mr. Taft's way was the better."

Brownie Burke had been sizing up the president during the conversation.

"I'm the mascot of the Cincinnati Reds," he piped.

The president observed with a smile that Cincinnati "wasn't in it with the Washington team this season."

"He'd make some baseball manager," observed Brownie as the party walked out.

Yale Hospital Squad Grows.

New Haven, Conn., October 16.—Joining the football squad on Yale Field this afternoon Marting, center on the varsity, and Thompson, a halfback, received injuries which will probably keep them out of the game with Army Saturday. Marting received a cut on the head, and Thompson a sprained ankle. Caldwell, center of last year's scrub eleven, probably will play center Saturday. These injuries bring the squad up to thirteen. The varsity scored four touchdowns on the Frenchman today.

TWENTY-TWO GEORGIA PLAYERS ON A TRIP

Red and Black Eleven Leaves Today for Game With Alabama in Birmingham.

Athens, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Georgia will take twenty-two men to Birmingham to meet the University of Alabama in the game Saturday afternoon, leaving Athens by way of Atlanta on Friday afternoon.

Carey, the big freshman class president, who had a shoulder hurt and his collarbone bruised in the game with A. N. G. A. player last Saturday, is on the string, but will be unable to appear in a game this season.

Crumb, of Macon, is not unable to resume practice, and little Ed Dorsey has not been out since Saturday. Among those who will go to Birmingham as a part of the Georgia eleven are Captain Bob McWhorter, right half back; Big Billie de Laffere, left center; Cochran, left tackle; Hamlin, Smith, Brown, Purcell, Henderson, McCutchen, Brooks, Owens, Johnson, Flournoy, Powell, Sidberry, Malone, Turner and some others.

The work on the field has been hampered by the rain Wednesday and the fear of therefore overtraining, but Coach Dunlap and his assistants, Ketron and "Emp" Peacock, with Physical Director Powell" have been busy and promising to have the Red and Black in fair shape by Friday afternoon.

The victory of Alabama over the Clemson team Saturday—the Carolinians are playing Georgia Tech—is taken as an indication that Georgia will have plenty to do in the game of Saturday afternoon in the Magic City.

FAST GAME SATURDAY AT FORT M'PHERSON

Seventeenth Infantry Team Plays Dahlonega Eleven—No Admission Charged.

Local football fans will have a treat in store for them Saturday afternoon, when promptly at 3 o'clock the referee's whistle sounds for the start McPherson and the elevens of the Seventeenth Infantry will engage in a contest for the second round. Seventy-two is better than par for the Memphis Country club course, over which the tournament is being played.

McDermott played consistent golf throughout, improved during the afternoon as he became better acquainted with the course. A misty rain, which fell at intervals, only served to improve the course, in the opinion of many of the golfers. They found the fog, which hung like a curtain over the bay, very little of an obstacle in making their putts.

Brady and Tom McNamara, the Boston pair, who won the best ball match yesterday with a score of 141 for the 36 holes, failed to keep up their stroke today. Brady barking, 11 in all and McNamara in 162, which put him in fifth position.

Stewart Maiden and Willie Mann, of Atlanta, professionals, appeared in good form today. Maiden made the morning round in 77, but taking 78 for the afternoon, a total for the day of 155.

Mann's card showed 74 and 85 for a total of 159.

F. D. Gardner, of Memphis, led the amateurs participating in the event. He made the morning and afternoon rounds in 78 each. E. W. Dailey, the Nashville crack, showed considerable improvement in his afternoon play. He made the morning round in 87, but cut off six strokes in his afternoon play, turning in a card of 81.

ROME ABSOLUTELY DRY AS RESULT OF CRUSADE

Law Enforcement League Succeeds in Forcing All Locker Clubs to Close Up.

Rome, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—With a stringent ordinance requiring all liquor shipments of more than one gallon to be reported to the chief of police and with the Law Enforcement league behind the fight, Rome today is dryer than it has been in years. This condition is the result of a strenuous crusade of the Law Enforcement league, headed by Senator Wm. Schley Howard, a prohibition orator.

There is considerable discussion as to the city ordinance which requires railroads and express companies to report liquor shipments to the police six hours before delivery to the consignee. Railroad and express men take the stand that if a consignee appears, pays charges and demands his shipment they have no right to withhold it six hours.

Alderman Forrestood that a motion to repeal the ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting of the board of aldermen claiming that they voted under misrepresentations that the locker clubs operated by the Rome Club of Atlanta were not liquor clubs, but that hear beer saloons in several years, and the city is therefore entirely out of operation. Rome today is dryer except for the ever-present blind tiger.

COMPULSORY VOTING URGED BY DANIELS

New Haven, Conn., October 16.—In advocating compulsory voting, Secretary of the Navy Daniels spoke at the Yale News today, says:

"We have come at a time in our national life when the compulsory ballot before delivery to the consignee. voters of this republic are abdicating the most important duty of citizenship. Every man who has a vote and fails to exert, any more than a man should be absent from the battle line in time of war?

"If we require our citizens, as we properly do, to serve on the jury, to bear arms, to testify in court, to obey any process of the court, however much he may object to giving testimony, to work on the roads in many districts, and to pay taxes, by which he supervises them or not, may we not also require him to exercise the vote?

"The chief and most far-reaching attribute of citizenship is the use of the ballot. If he can be compelled by the state must compel him to recall it."

THAT "COW" CARTOON DISCUSSED BY SENATE

Washington, October 16.—The "revered" Bartholdi statue, of Lafayette, liberty, and Washington, at the entrance to the senate today. Senator Smoot, of Utah, objected to the cartoon being made a part of the permanent record, and declared that it was a matter up in the joint committee on printing.

"If this sort of matter is to encumber the Record," he said, "it will soon become a grotesque publication."

BATTLE OF NATIONS FOUGHT 100 YEARS AGO

Vienna, October 16.—A splendid military review took place here today in celebration of the centenary of the "battle of the nations" fought at Leipsic, October 16-19, 1813, when 200,000 Austrians, Prussians, Russians, Swedes and Saxons, commanded by the Austrian field marshal, Prince Karl Philip Von Schwarzenberg, defeated Napoleon with an army of about 180,000 French troops. The combined casualties of both armies were 94,000 killed and wounded.

Emperor Francis Joseph placed a huge floral wreath at the foot of the Schwarzenberg monument.

AMERICA AND ENGLAND IN FINAL GOLF MATCH

Miss Muriel Dodd Does Some Wonderful Playing on the Links at Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., October 16.—America and England will meet in the final match for the National Women's Golf championship here today, the prize of the Wilmington Country club Saturday.

In the semi-final matches tomorrow, Miss Muriel Dodd, British and Canadian champion, will play Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, who held the British title last year, while the other survivor of the third round, which was played today, are Miss Marion Hollins, of New York, Metropolitan champion, and Miss Harriet Curtis, of Boston, a former national champion.

Miss Dodd defeated Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck in the third round, 5 up and 4 to play, after the Philadelphian had held her own for the first nine holes. Miss Ravenscroft was successful in her match with Miss Fanny C. Osgood, of Boston, 3 up and 2 to play.

Miss Hollins won from Mrs. E. N. Piller, of Philadelphia, 2 up in the most closely contested match of the day.

Miss Curtis won the first two holes in her match with the Irish champion, Miss Mabel Harrison, and detained the lead throughout the match, winning 4 up and 3 to play.

Mrs. Vanderbeck outplayed Miss Dodd for the first few holes, and but for poor shots and weak putting on the second and seventh holes would have taken three holes straight.

Poor putting prevented Mrs. Vanderbeck from winning the fifth hole, which she halved and the sixth, which Miss Dodd won. Mrs. Vanderbeck's play fell off after the seventh hole. At the ninth Miss Dodd played par golf at the eleventh hole and was 2 up.

Going to the twelfth Miss Dood made a marvelous approach shot, taking the ball dead to the hole with her second stroke and getting down in three, one stroke under par. Their cards:

Miss Dodd—
Out—736 546 464-48.
In —434 464 —
Mrs Vanderbeck—
Out—546 565 385-46.
In —546 675 —

Miss Dodd played wonderful golf on the homeward way, taking only one stroke more than par, 34.

In the driving competition Miss Dodd won with drives of 199, 144 and 201. Miss L. Hyde was second with drives of 212 and 218 yards, or a total of 417 yards. Her third was out of bounds, otherwise she would have won.

In the putting and approaching competition, Miss Margaret Curtis won with 3 strokes after a play off with six other competitors.

MERCER SCRUBS MEET G. M. A. TEAM TODAY

The Mercer scrubs and the local cadets are up to about the same strength, and a lovely battle, worth going miles to see, should be the result. Assistant Coach Everett, of Mercer, will be in charge of the scrub team.

The Mercer scrubs will remain in Atlanta tonight and tomorrow and form part of the Mercer crowd at the Baptists at the game with Tech at Grant Field Saturday.

BOLLING JONES WILL BANQUET MEMBERS OF HIS BIBLE CLASS

W. L. Pearcy and George A. Bland, of St. Philip's Cathedral, of the city, will challenge the Bible class for a joint debate which will be held some time later on.

No Trace of Birdman.

New York, October 16.—Lovers by land and sea for Albert J. Jewell, the aviator who vanished in the sky last Monday, abandoned hope today of ever finding his body or his aeroplane. They were convinced that he had been hurried out to sea by the wind, had fallen into the water and drowned.

MAUCK WILL NOT PLAY FOOTBALL

But Will Try for the Basketball and Track Teams—He May Play Football Next Season.

Hugh Mauck, the big Fifth regiment athlete, will not play football for the Jackets this year, at least that is the present indication.

The big athlete very sensibly passed the game by, and will center his efforts to basketball and the track team, though it is possible, if he feels that he can get in shape, that he may be given a chance on the squad a little later in the season.

Mauck should make the center on the basketball team without any opposition at all, while on the track team he should be a point-winner for the Jackets in the throwing the hammer and putting the shot.

Mauck needs very little training to get himself in fine shape, and if Coach Heisman feels that he needs him toward the close of the season the big fellow is likely to be in the shape necessary to jump into the game.

The main drawback is the fact that of the team has a six weeks' start on him, and Mauck must learn the Heisman system from the beginning. If he can learn it fast he may be able to get in on the team, but he has his personal doubts of the matter. Mauck likes to do everything he does well, and he does not feel like tackling something that he may fall down on.

RALPH ROSE DEAD.

Champion Shot-Putter Passes Away From Typhoid.

San Francisco, October 16.—Ralph Rose, member of the Olympic team and world's records for shot putting, died here today of typhoid fever after a brief illness.

Rose, big, florid, full-blooded, was of the type typhoid finds rich soil. From the first his physicians were doubtful.

Ralph Rose, born in Healdsburg, Cal., for a time attended the University of Michigan. He was admitted to the bar in California.

For eight years Rose was a champion weight man in amateur athletics. He had a place on the first American Olympic team in 1906, and since has successively a member of the Americans at London in 1908 and at Stockholm in 1912, never bringing home first place until last year, when he was beaten by Donald Calder, with a put eight inches short of Rose's own world's record of 50 feet. For the 16-pound shot, made at Travers Island, N. Y., in 1909.

Rose also held all American records with the 6-pound, 12-pound, 16-pound, 21-pound and 28-pound weight, and the world's record with the 12-pound shot for right and left hand combined. He was 28 years old.

THREATEN BOYCOTT OF ELECTRIC LINE

DeKalb County Citizens Demand 15-Cent Rate—Arkwright Denies He Made False Promises.

Unless the railroad commission gives the people living along the line of the Stone Mountain branch of the Georgia Railway and Power company a lower rate than that which the company is seeking to charge, a concerted effort may be made to boycott the new line. While the speeches made on behalf of the community affected were generally conservative, a number of those who attended the hearing before the railroad commission yesterday declared that they would not patronize the road unless a lower rate was allowed, and they said that was the general sentiment of citizens living all along the line.

Much indignation was expressed at the alleged bad faith of the railroad company, which, it was asserted, had promised, through its agents who secured the right-of-way, a 15-cent one-way rate to Stone Mountain. This is the rate which they are now seeking to have the railroad commission prescribe, and a petition with two-thirds of the names of the property owners along the line signed to it, it is said, was presented to the railroad commission praying for a 15-cent rate.

Made No Such Promise.

On the other hand, President Preston Arkwright, on behalf of the company, denied that he had ever promised any such rate. On the contrary, he said that he told the citizens of Stone Mountain three years ago it would be impossible to operate the road on any such basis. If he had thought that he would be compelled to give a 15-cent fare to Stone Mountain, he would never have built the line.

The hearing Thursday lasted from 10 o'clock in the morning until after 4:30 in the afternoon. During the morning session Mr. Arkwright presented the argument in favor of the 35-cent rate, without transfer, from the end of his new line in Stone Mountain to Atlanta.

"I suppose," said he, "that if I petitioned any clothing house in Atlanta to sell me a hat for 50 cents that cost $4, I could get all that store's customers to sign it and then bring the matter up before the Atlanta Merchants' association for adjudication."

A Business Proposition.

"It is not our purpose to antagonize anyone in the matter of rates. It is a simple business proposition. We have expended $488,000 in the construction of this line. We must make the investment a paying one. We have figured this proposition out on scientific lines and we have found that the seven zones we have established—each zone paying 5 cents fare—will just keep the road on a paying basis.

"We have put this road through a sparsely settled territory. We are confident that in years to come it will pay. However, at this time we are not in position to make the rates we have established any lower. If we do, we face failure.

"Already the rates we have asked are lower per mile than any other road in the state of Georgia, be it electric or steam. We are asking for 35 cents each trip for 17.49 miles of travel. The residents along the car line are not fully aware that we have made our rate lower than the Georgia railroad, which charges 40 cents from Stone Mountain to Atlanta."

The presentation of the traction company's argument was continued by Bennett J. Conyers, of the law firm of Colquitt & Conyers, whose statement to the state commission was largely technical and dealt with the cost of construction of the road.

Citizens Are Heard.

The afternoon session was devoted almost exclusively to the presentation of arguments by the citizens of the affected community, appearing to protest against the granting of the 35-cent rate.

Mayor E. L. Waggoner, of Clarkston, one of the speakers, declared that he had been selling real estate in the vicinity of the car line, just completed, for the past three years on the basis of promises made to him, which he claimed, had contained the information that Clarkston residents would get a 15-cent rate to Atlanta on the new traction road.

Say Investors Misled.

"My town or myself have no fight with the corporation that controls this road," said Mayor Waggoner, "but in simple justice to the investors in my community this rate of 15 cents should be established."

E. Askue, of Jolly's Station, also declared that before the road was built he had been given to understand that a 15-cent rate would apply.

"If we had known that this 35-cent rate was to be requested, I do not believe it would be when I say that I am sure the right-of-way donations, of which there were over nineteen, would never have been made."

Robert J. Freeman, county commissioner of DeKalb county, also made protest against the 35-cent rate, declaring that on the basis of former information which it was intended that a 15-cent rate would apply, the citizens of the affected territory had the right to claim advantage of the doubt, and that the commissioners should see if the street car line could not be operated without loss at that tariff.

The last address of the afternoon was made by Robert W. C. Ramspeck, secretary of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce, who set forth at great length the reasons of the Decatur residents for protesting against the 35-cent rate.

The railroad commission declared that they would at once take the whole matter under advisement and announce their decision later. It is likely that the commission will in the near future make an auto trip along the completed car line and personally investigate the zone charge features advanced by the car company officials.

GEORGIA PROSPERITY DRAWS FRENCH SETTLER

Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture Hughes Receiving Many Inquiries.

That wide publicity has been given to the prosperity now prevailing in Georgia was indicated by a visitor to Dan Hughes, assistant commissioner of agriculture, yesterday. The visitor was a Frenchman named Paul Giraudet, who has for the past five years been a resident of Canada, and who now, attracted by the great things which he has heard of this state, is seeking a settlement in Georgia.

Mr. Giraudet was unable to speak English, and his conversation with the assistant commissioner had to be carried on through the medium of an interpreter. He expressed himself as greatly impressed with what he has seen of Georgia, declaring that the appearance of the country and the climate reminding him somewhat of the south of France, where he was reared. The visitor is a civil engineer by profession, but he is now seeking to go into the poultry business and he wants to secure a location somewhere near a city. He appears to be a man of more than ordinary intelligence, and conversed pleasingly of poultry raising and of farming conditions in France.

Farming in France.

"The farms in France," he said, "have been divided and subdivided until there are now many very small tracts of land. Most of the farmers, instead of owning a single tract with a house somewhere near the center of it, as they do here, will have a number of small parcels of land separated from each other by several miles.

"Farming in France is much more intensive in character than in Georgia, there being hardly available piece of ground a hundred feet square in all southern France which is not in a high state of cultivation."

Mr. Giraudet found the winters in Canada too severe for him, and he believes that the climate of north Georgia will suit him much better. His conversation indicated that he is no novice at poultry raising, but is well informed on the requirements of that business.

Mr. Hughes declares that he is in receipt of almost daily communications from parties in Canada and in the western states who are seeking information as to conditions in Georgia with a view to locating here.

BRANTLEY NAMED HEAD OF CAR SERVICE MEN

Representatives of thirty southern railroads last night attended the annual meeting of the Southern Car Service association at the Piedmont hotel. D. W. Brantley, of the Central of Georgia, of Savannah, was elected to succeed Fred L. Tucker, of the M. D. & S. of Macon. T. A. Russell, of the N. O. & N. E. railway, of New Orleans, was elected vice president; E. W. Sandwich, of the Western Railway of Alabama, secretary, and R. S. Barnes, of the Tennessee railway, treasurer. The next meeting of the association will be held in Chattanooga.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE FIGHTING HIS FATHER

The Throne of the Duchy of Brunswick Splitting the Imperial Family.

Berlin, October 16.—The German crown prince recently sent a letter to Imperial Chancellor Von Bothmann-Hollweg protesting against permission being given to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, husband of the crown prince's only sister, to occupy the throne of duchy of Brunswick without his express renunciation of his pretentions to the throne of Hanover.

This protest was unsuccessful. The imperial chancellor today sent a long reply to the crown prince in which he justified the position taken by the Prussian government. At the same time the Prussian government today formulated a resolution for submission to the federal council of the German empire revoking its decision of 1907 against any member of the house of Cumberland occupying the dukedom of Brunswick.

By his action the crown prince has adopted an attitude of flat opposition to his father, the emperor, who has accepted Prince Ernest August of Cumberland's oath of allegiance and letters pledging himself not to support any measures to detach Hanover from Prussia as ample guarantees for the future.

The spectacle of an heir to the throne protesting in writing to the head of the government against a policy adopted by the sovereign has rarely occurred, and the incident probably accounts for the absence on October 5 of the crown prince from the review of Emperor William of the Hussar regiments, of which the crown prince commands one, and from the luncheon at which every other officer of the brigade was present.

The situation possesses all the elements of a sensational dynastic family quarrel, particularly as, since her marriage to Prince Ernest August, Princess Victoria Louise has adopted a more extreme position than her father.

Leavall Is Confirmed.

SOLDIER'S DEAD BODY FOUND BY COMRADES

Flemmie Flowers, Missing for Five Days, Adjudged a Suicide.

Flemmie Flowers, aged 25, a member of company L, Seventeenth regiment, was found dead late yesterday afternoon at Fort McPherson. A bullet hole in his head and a tightly clenched fist, holding a heavy revolver, pointed to suicide. In the soldier's coat was a note addressed to the post authorities. The contents of this communication have not been made public.

According to information at Fort McPherson, Flowers was found by several of his friends after a search of hours. Flowers was overdue five days at the post, and had been drinking heavily when last seen, it is said.

Late yesterday as several soldiers were crossing the space between the mounted detachment's quarters and the corrals, they found Flowers' body on his face, near a barn angle. He had evidently been dead over twenty-four hours.

Flowers enlisted from Jacksonville, Fla., two years ago.

The relatives of the dead man, who live at DeLeon Springs, Fla., have been notified.

COTTON ADVANCED 30 TO 40 POINTS

Settlement of Lancashire Labor Troubles and Rains in Southwest Caused Advance. Market Excited and Active.

New York, October 16.—After a comparatively quiet but generally firm morning, the cotton market became active and excited late today and closed firm at a net advance of 30 to 40 points. December contracts sold at 12.40, or 42 points above the closing figures of last night.

There was enough covering to suggest that recent sellers were more or less nervous grows out of the difficulties were better than due and private advices stated that the Lancashire strike had been settled, thus averting the lockout which had been threatened for October 25. The market opened firm at an advance of 14 to 17 points, in response to higher Liverpool market, and while the demand was not particularly active or aggressive, prices gradually worked higher. The western belt forecasts for unsettled weather and lower temperatures seemed to make an important impression on sentiment, and during the early afternoon there were reports of sales of heavy rains in Texas and Oklahoma. This seemed to inspire rather a more general demand, and as prices worked above 12.35 for December the market became excited.

Reports of higher southern spot markets and the big exports probably added to the uneasiness of recent sellers, while there was also some support from the larger grade interests and stop orders were caught on the way advance.

Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. Numerous private reports were received from the south during the day claiming that both the grade and quality of the crop had been seriously damaged by excessive rainfall, and these advices made a much more impression on sentiment, owing to the renewed rains.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, October 16.—Threats of more strike talk caused a weak cotton market and steady tone throughout today. Reports of a settlement of the Lancashire strike in the morning and a further business in the afternoon considerable activity was developed, sales were active buyers and short bought covers on a considerable scale.

The opening was steady at a rise of 7 to 8 points on good cables and the unsettled weather map. Private advices from Liverpool were that the strike among English cotton mills had practically been settled. This led to rather active buying and the advance was widened.

At noon the market was about a dollar a bale up. Reports from Texas that picking was about over in the northern belt were made much of by the bulls in estimating confirmation of previous reports.

In the afternoon rain was falling in both Texas and Oklahoma. The market closed steady at over 31 to 33 points over the last to-day of yesterday. The close was very steady at a net gain of 27 to 32 points.

The advance in the spot market was helped along by an improvement in the tone of its spot quotations. Somewhat heavier trading was reported, with the basis advancing nearly every day during the week. Locally spots were marked up 1-16.

Spot cotton steady; 1-16 off; middling 13 5-16; sales on the spot 1,215; to arrive 2,450; low ordinary 9 13-16; strict low ordinary 10¾; nominal; good ordinary 12¾; strict good ordinary 12 15-16; low middling 13 13-16; strict low middling 13 15-16; middling 14 1-16; strict middling 14 3-16; good middling 13 13-16; strict good middling 14 1-16; middling fair to fair 14 15-16 to 15 3-16; nominal; receipts 10,466; stock 75,616.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, October 16.—Further buying by spot interests and wet weather in Texas and Oklahoma, combined with a lighter volume of hedge selling, induced short covering here today, under which the market advanced about thirty points. Liquidation has been thorough and the hands of the 12¾ cents so persistent on the bulls of the 13¾ cents for January that new speculative support is coming to the market. Advices from Liverpool today indicated that the threatened cotton trouble would be averted, and the labor trouble would, in all probability, be avoided, which stimulated demand there.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, October 16.—The effect of the quiet buying by spinners in Europe and America during the past few days was shown today in the advance in Liverpool before our opening. We advanced them some 12 points and moved upward under a covering demand, together with the reports of further rain over Texas and Oklahoma, until the close was about 40 points higher than yesterday. So quick a response to these influences came as a great surprise to the local trade and to the Atlantic states, who have been looking for further decline, and had sold in anticipation of it here and to Europe.

Our advices state the condition of affairs in Texas and Oklahoma could hardly be worse, and that there are several hundred thousand bales of cotton in these states which, as a result of these recent weather conditions, will not be deliverable on contract. After so paid in advance the traders look for a lower opening tomorrow.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, October 16.—There was an old-fashion bull market in cotton today, an advantage of from 30 to 40 points. The big interests who did not go on the decline, rallied and bought heavily and there was a great deal of short covering. The market was flooded with crop killers from the western belt, and sentiment suddenly became sympathy bullish. The longs are predicting new high records before there is any material decline. At no time this season has there been a great manifestation of bullish sentiment than right at the present.

Liverpool is due to come 11 to 12½ points up.

Cotton Seed Oil.

Rice.

New Orleans, October 16.—Rice: Good demand for rough Honduras and Japan; clean demand for both local and export. Rough Honduras 2.70@4.30. Japan 5.60@5.75; clean Japan 6¼@6¾; Japan 25¼@6 for new crop; 5¼@5¾ for old. Receipts, Rough 7,192; mill-ed 1,577. Sales 2,647 sacks rough Honduras at 2.75@4.20; 547 sacks Japan at 5.50; 1,822 sacks clean Honduras at 5.62½. Japan, 1,453 packets at 2.11½@.

New York, October 16.—Dan Talmage's Sons Group Company says that a fairly good demand has prevailed for the week from all sections, both local and export. Rough prices are sustained in sympathy with the primary markets. Clean prices are firm and still experiencing difficulty in securing supplies. Reports of crop damage suffered by rains in the cotton belt are freely circulated, although in all styles and the opinion is becoming general that the present conditions must rule for several weeks to come. The export demand is fair, considering that it is impossible to arrive at an adequate quotation owing to the difficulty of getting by the recent heavy rains. They surely have dealt disastrously with what must result in lighter yield and general deterioration in quality. Even in many of the fields where the grain is standing in the shock there is said to be fully 12 to 15 inches of water, and there is some evidence of sprouting. On account of these sorry conditions it is hard to secure any decent assortment, and in fact only at full prices. Should the gloom, now clearing skies are in evidence, continue for any length of time, it is feared that it will appear that the damage was exaggerated after all.

Along the Atlantic coast, report continued activity, and the movement is reported in good shape. New Orleans the same active conditions in the market, in spite of the rumors of a slowly demand, all the output of cleaned being taken up as fast as offered, highclass stuff being absorbed promptly at advanced figures.

In the interior southwest—Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas—mills are paying writing their special attention to saving their crop and what they make is all being bought by the mills at full figures. Mills generally have correspondence from abroad for tons of rough cotton, and are looking to increased eastern demand for clean-ed, "spot cleaned" steady; "forward burma" firmer.

ANOTHER SHARP BREAK IN WHEAT

Prices Closed 11-4 to 13-8 Cents Lower — Corn 1-4 Cent Down to a Shade Up. Oats Lower.

Chicago, October 16.—Stop loss selling on a large scale broke the wheat market today, notwithstanding that the season's low price record already had been smashed twice in the past seven weeks hours. Bearishness in Wall Street had much influence. There was a heavy feeling at the close, which ranged 1¾c to 1¼@1⅜c under last night. Corn finished ¼c off to a shade up, after a big decline and provisions varying from 5c loss to a rise of 10c. Forward rumors and the first downward impulse to wheat. Crop conditions abroad were reported as generally favorable and the general outlook coming scare in European countries, especially in Great Britain. The effect of the cables was supplemented by rains in the winter crop region southwest of Chicago, where moisture would be most helpful to growth. Quick profit-taking by shorts led to several fair-sized breaks, selling driven continued, the hardest of all coming in the last hour and emphasizing fears in regard to the Mexican situation and the general financial outlook, including the fate of the currency bill. Unlikely as it was, the last day of the was of a semi-demoralized character. The final change for the week was a early setback, and ruled higher most of the time, but weakened with the rest at the close. The buying side received help chiefly from prospects of unsettled weather throughout the entire shipping belt. There were advices that supplies at Buenos Ayres had become almost exhausted.

The local crowd covering on the part of big shorts checked weakness. The first cargo of Australian oats ever brought to Chicago arrived today, 300,000 bushels, coming from Port William, Ontario.

Provisions averaged firmer. The buying was mainly traceable to houses identified with the trade in coarse grains.

ANNUAL CORN SHOW OPENS DECEMBER 5

Over 1,300 Boys and Girls Are Expected to Participate in the Show.

The annual Georgia corn show will be held in the state capitol building December 5 to 9, according to announcement made at the Atlanta chamber of commerce quarters on Thursday.

As thousand boys and three hundred girls are expected to come to Atlanta to attend the show and give exhibits.

The list of prizes for members of the Boys' Corn club, and the Girls' Canning clubs is now being prepared and will be ready for announcement soon.

It is expected that this year's show will be the largest and best show which has ever been held in the state.

Elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of the boys and girls are being made. The moving picture man will be on hand to make pictures of the parade and the judging and these films will be exhibited in all the principal cities in the country.

The girl winning the grand prize in this show will be given a trip to Washington under the auspices of the United States department of agriculture. This inducement has injected great rivalry in the girls' contest.

DISTRIBUTING FORCE PRAISED BY POSTMASTER

Continuing his efforts to make a confident of every employe of the Atlanta postoffice and to assure each of his personal interest in his welfare, Postmaster Jones congregated the distributing force yesterday morning and greeting each with a warm hand shake.

"I've called you together," said the postmaster, "not to make a long complaint but to compliment each of you on the good work you have done in your department. Correct distribution of mail matter is the motto and office records, pouches means a quicker delivery to the people and it's the people we are here to serve."

Concluding his short talk Postmaster Jones informed the force he had decided to offer a gold medal to the member of the distributing force whose examination papers indicated the best average work between now and Christmas.

RECEIVERS ARE NAMED FOR ALPHARETTA MAN

The Bank of Cumming, located in Cumming, Forsyth county, Georgia, by Smith & Sons, of Barnesville, and James Webb, of Norcross, has signed with the clerk of the federal court a petition asking that Dr. Cummins, of Alpharetta, Milton county, be declared a bankrupt and that a receiver be named to take charge of the estate of the alleged bankrupt.

The Bank of Cumming claims promissory notes amounting to $3,300, while Jackson G. Smith & Sons present an open account for $991, and James Webb the same kind of obligation in the sum of $600. Judge Newman, after directing the motion and petition, made an indemnifying bond in the sum of $1,000, named S. H. Allen and Joseph D. Rucker receivers under $5,000 each.

The papers of file assert that Cummins, the alleged bankrupt, has assets, made up of live stock and debts due him, worth $20,000.

MORE IDEAL WEATHER ON PROGRAM TODAY

The ideal days of Indian summer which have prevailed for the past week, with a single dash of cooler weather on Sunday, are due to continue today, according to the local office of the United States weather bureau.

"Fair today" is the official forecast. No precipitation of any kind has been noted, and the temperature, which rose to 78 degrees on Thursday, is due to be about the same on Friday.

While the weather folks make no long-distance forecasts, and never predict what Sunday will be until they take up the Saturday map to report from over the country, the chances are favorable for an ideal day, barring a storm blowing over Texas, or a storm from the northwest, however, might change things at a few hours' notice.

DR. OGDEN TO OCCUPY PULPIT AGAIN SUNDAY

Dr. Dunbar Ogden, who was suddenly called to New Orleans last Saturday upon the death of his brother-in-law, returned to Atlanta Wednesday, and will again occupy his pulpit in the Central Presbyterian church next Sunday. He will speak Sunday morning on "The Headwaters of Wickedness," setting forth the sentiment trait of human character which he believes is responsible for practically all the wickedness in the world today. In the evening he will deliver a sermon on "Dynamite." Mr. George E. Sears, Dr. Ogden's brother-in-law, was known to quite a number of Atlantans, and his death has caused wide sorrow among his friends.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN AGAINST J. D. WOOD

Thus far no action has been taken by Chief Beavers in the case of Patrolman John D. Wood, who is charged with police persecution lodged against him by Mrs. Annie Beavers.

Beavers, in talking with reporters yesterday afternoon, stated that he had not suspended Wood and that he had not as yet decided upon definite action until the time Wood would be arraigned before the police court.

"I am making a thorough investigation of the case," he said, "and until it is completed I will take no action."

Judging from the chief's remarks, he inclines to believe the accused in the case will be called before the next regular meeting of the commission.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the Latest Real Estate and Building News.

Owing to the fact that Atlanta has been extremely busy during the present year building and loaning and other buildings for which permits were issued for the several months to boast of higher figures for new buildings for the year of 1912. But from the present indications, the city that gets ahead of Atlanta next year will be a very busy little town.

To the three prospective office buildings in sight—one on the Brown & Allen corner, one on the Bijou theatre site and a third on Edgewood avenue and Pryor street—came the announcement on Thursday that the Ansley hotel, since its opening but a few months ago, has found business so good that the erection of an annex on the James street frontage in the rear is highly probable.

E. Pound, of Chattanooga, lessee of the Ansley, will be in town next week to consider the proposition.

Board Has Session Today.

The October meeting of the Atlanta Real Estate board will be held in the banquet hall of the Ansley hotel today at 12:30 o'clock.

This meeting will be in the form of an informal luncheon, at which J. R. Smith, of Smith, Gardner & Wright, will preside. Mayor James G. Woodward, Alderman Frank Thomson and others will speak.

Street Car Line Extension.

The county has begun the construction of a 60-foot street through the Ansley park property, from Piedmont, it is proposed to run an extension of the car line from the present city limits to Howell Mill road at Collier road.

Tax Equalization or Bond Issue Absolutely Necessary, Declares Chairman of Finance Committee

Declaring himself in favor of Mayor Woodward's plan of tax equalization as the solution of the school problem, and stating that the paramount issue at present is the question of how to get the school children from basement rooms, where their health and lives are threatened by the lack of proper ventilation, and further stating that the work of the board of education is hampered by the fact that they are directly under the city council, Daniel W. Green, chairman of the finance committee of the board, yesterday outlined the situation, and offered suggestions for remedying the congested condition.

"This year we asked for more than $800,000 for the schools, as we anticipated a large increase in attendance. We got something over $500,000, and the amount allotted us was entirely inadequate to our needs.

"The school board should be entirely apart from the city council. It should have its own money, and sufficient money, to spend as the board deems best.

"Under the present system we have to apportion in our budget amounts needed for each item, and if we do not use all of the amount allotted for one item we must first go to council and beg before they will permit us to spend a dollar of the money on another item, even for such a small thing as a desk.

Tax Equalization Necessary.

"The only solution of the school problem, in my opinion, is the one favored by Mayor Woodward, of tax equalization," Mr. Green continued. "When the proper valuation is put upon property and taxes thus equalized, then, and then only, will the city be allowed adequate school facilities without undue strain on the pockets of the taxpayers.

"I would further recommend that a certain percentage of the city's income be turned over direct to the board in order that we might not be hampered by having to beg council for every dollar invested in school improvements.

"I note that Superintendent Slaton stated in his communication to The Constitution some days ago that the board of education is responsible for the districting of the schools.

"In reply to that statement, I wish to state that while this is, in a measure, true, the members of the board have always accepted at the time without changing the recommendations made by Mr. Slaton and his assistant, Mr. Landrum, who constitute the committee on districting and redistricting.

"It is true, of course, that we have the power to change or to reject entirely the recommendations this made, but we have seldom done so, as it has been our opinion that the superintendent is in a position to know better than the board just where the district lines should be drawn. Shortly after the schools open each year we have, at the request of certain citizens, made some slight changes in order to help out some of the more crowded schools.

Four Schools Needed.

"Up until the last two years the board has been allowed enough money to build one school each year. For two years we have been denied this money by the council, and, therefore, are at least two schools behind.

"We need four schools badly. One of these is on Spring street, where we already have the lot. If we had the money to build a school here, it would greatly relieve the situation existing in the Ansley park and the Fifth street districts.

"In West Atlanta, near Howell's Station, the city bought a small lot for school purposes for which $800 was paid. The lot is entirely unsuitable for such purposes, and is now absolutely unavailable until a large amount of grading is done, and this would be a heavy expense.

"The other two schools for white children needed more than others are one in East Atlanta to relieve the congested condition in the Faith and Grant park schools, and a six-room school in South Atlanta for the relief of that crowded district.

Bad Condition of Negro Schools.

"As to the negro schools, I wish to state that they are in a terrible condition. In the Yonge street district we have $5,000 left over from the school bond issue, and, with the addition of $50,000 or a school building, we should be enabled to handle the situation for the present in south Atlanta, near Clarks' university.

"The only solution is more schools, and more schools we must have. Tax equalization is the answer, but if this cannot be brought about, then as a last resort, let us have a large bond issue, and at once."

TOURING CAR CLIMBS BIG BEAM ON BRIDGE

Woman Said to Have Been Hurt in Accident on Howell Mill Road Thursday Night.

County policemen who responded to the report that an automobile had been wrecked on the Howell Mill road bridge, over the Seaboard Air Line railway, at 9 o'clock last night, found a 5-passenger car astride the center beam of the bridge. The only person present was a negro chauffeur, who gave his name as Alex Mims, driver for the Day and Night Service company.

Four people, two men and two women, were said by the negro to have been in the machine at the time of the accident. It was stated that one of the women was hurt. The four were brought to town by a passing autoist. Harry Latham, a bailiff attached to the office of Henry Arnold, solicitor of the criminal division of the city court, was named as one of the occupants. The names of the others were not obtained, according to the county police.

The negro chauffeur explained that he had just come from Brooklyn and was not familiar with the roads around Atlanta, and did not know of the beam in the center of the bridge. He declared that no one in the machine had been injured. It was stated, however, by residents near by that one of the young women had been injured.

The automobile was damaged by the collision, but apparently had not been going at high speed when the accident occurred.

Lieutenant W. H. Cheshire and Motorcycle Policemen Haynie, McCrary and Casy, who made the investigation, did not arrest the negro chauffeur, but ordered him to appear at the county police office Friday morning for a further explanation of the case.

Latham could not be located Thursday night for a statement in regard to the accident.

WOUNDS RECEIVED WHEN HIT BY CAR CAUSE BOY'S DEATH

Run down by a Decatur interurban trolley car in front of the residence of October 11, John Bleckley, a boy aged about 9, died from internal injuries last night in the Atlanta hospital.

The body was removed to the Greenberg & Bond undertaking establishment. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

The accident occurred shortly before eight-thirty, when the injured boy was riding a bicycle along Edgewood avenue. At the intersection of Randolph street, he attempted to drive through a jam of traffic.

His wheel was struck by an incoming car and he was knocked beneath the trolley.

He is said to have been a grandson of Judge Logan E. Bleckley, and is a relative to Policeman R. A. Rakestraw of the Atlanta department.

HIT BY ROCK, BOY GOES TO THE HOSPITAL

Henry Leonard, Jr., eight years of age, grandson of Henry C. Leonard, deceased, for many years one of Atlanta's most prominent and widely known citizens, is a patient at the Atlanta hospital, suffering from a wound on the head, inflicted by a stone thrown by a young negro boy, ten days ago.

Young Leonard was playing in his grandmother's yard when hit by the rock. At first the wound was not considered serious, but within a short time the lad's condition became alarming and he was removed to the hospital for treatment. His condition was said to be critical late yesterday afternoon.

Bankruptcy Petitions.

Two voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed with Deputy Clerk Henley, of the United States court, yesterday. Charles H. Allison, of Atlanta, a traveling operator, in his papers of file, shows liabilities amounting to $600 without any assets. Charles Mensinger, of Decatur, declaring himself a blacksmith, asserts that he owes $1,246.03, and that his possessions aggregate $620.
