17TH WILL LEAVE ATLANTA MONDAY FOR PATROL DUTY

Orders Received for Soldiers to Take Steamer at Savannah for Galveston to Reach Mexican Border.

REGIMENT IS BOOKED FOR FOREIGN SERVICE

Officers and Men Do Not Believe They Will Ever Return to Atlanta—Preparing for Trip to Hawaii.

The Seventeenth infantry, now stationed at Fort McPherson, leaves Monday for Laredo, Texas, where it will act as border patrol on the Mexican-American international line until further orders. The regiment, 928 strong, will go from Atlanta to Savannah in sixteen cars, embark on a transport at Savannah for Galveston, Texas, and there travel by rail to destination.

According to well founded authority, the Seventeenth regiment is leaving Fort McPherson forever. It is the fourth regiment taken from the army orders for foreign duty. Two regiments will shortly be sent to Panama and two will soon be dispatched to Hawaii. According to Fort McPherson reckoning, the Seventeenth regiment, after temporary duty on the Mexican border, will then proceed to Hawaii.

Bearing out such information, the regiment officers on Thursday began preparations to pack up all of their household belongings in anticipation of a permanent removal from the post. The enlisted men, whose terms also expire within the next year, were instructed to take with them to Laredo only such property belonging to them, as it was likely that none of the officers or men would return to Atlanta or Fort McPherson again.

Official Orders Received.

Officers' quarters, bounded by 11th Thursday afternoon, brought together the officers of the Seventeenth regiment, who were informed that official orders had been received from Adjutant General Simmons, of the department of the east, at Governors Island, N. Y., to the effect that the Seventeenth regiment would "shortly" be moved to Laredo, Texas, and that the regimental officers should prepare their commands for permanent camp at that point.

The officers were told that the stay at Laredo probably preceded foreign service and "that the same also applies to probably never come back to Fort McPherson."

The Seventeenth regiment will go forward with 928 men in the service. This is exclusive of officers, who will probably number about 35.

Most of the members of the Seventeenth, which came here in 1906, have seen service on the Mexican border and are familiar with the territory which they will probably occupy for the next six months or longer. Among the officers there is also a feeling that the regiment will be called upon to do more than guard the international border line.

Do Not Expect Invasion.

"We expect no invasion of Mexico," said one prominent officer of the regiment on Thursday. "In fact, we expect that we will stay on the border some six months and then be put on foreign service. This sort of thing disrights domestic conditions, hurtfully, but we have been expecting such a move for so many months now that we are now hardly excited when the real order arrives."

All of Thursday there was an air of expectancy about the barracks and officers' quarters at Fort McPherson. The enlisted men early in the day began packing camp kits and overhauling tentage. By noon K, M, G and C Companies had all of their permanent camp baggage ready to load.

No official orders were received at the post headquarters until late in the afternoon Thursday. Then a message from the department of the east, sent to Major Wright, in temporary command of the regiment, which contained the information that the regiment would proceed "shortly" to Laredo.

Quickly following the telegram came officers' call. The officers gathered at the commandant's quarters and heard the formal order read. After a few questions, the officers were informed that the regiment would probably proceed to Savannah on Monday at the latest and from there to Galveston, 48 hours to Laredo, Texas.

Just what troops will follow the Seventeenth into Fort McPherson has not yet been established. This garrison, pending the filling of the ranks, will be manned by a quartermaster's command of 150 men. Prisoners now in the confinement cells will be transferred to the stockade.

Ready in Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) The regiment from Fort McPherson, Ga., that has been ordered to become part of the military force in Texas, will arrive in Savannah Tuesday morning to go aboard a government transport for Galveston.

The fact that a transport would come to Savannah from Norfolk to receive the regiment was unofficially made known today. Supplies will be taken on here for the long voyage.

BRYAN TAKING CARE OF JAPS IN MEXICO

Washington, March 12.—Secretary Bryan has promised the Japanese ambassador, Mr. Chinda, to obtain permission for the passage of such Japanese through American territory from El Paso, Texas, to Galveston, the extreme southeast corner of the Mexican state of Sonora. The Japanese, reduced to an extremity by lack of work owing to military operations in northern Mexico, will seek employment as cotton pickers on the west coast. The ambassador made plain no colonization schemes was involved.

Consular advices of the warning of a threatened general engagement near Torreon, where small preliminary skirmishes already have taken place. On the gulf coast the threatened battle near Tampico has not materialized. Admiral Howard reported today that all was quiet at Magallan, as well as Guaymas and Topolobampo.

The Benton commission still remained in status quo at El Paso, apparently awaiting results from the commission named by General Carranza.

CALLED BY DEATH

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE.

LAST CALL HEARD BY WESTINGHOUSE

Foremost Figure in Engineering World and Inventor of Air Brake Dead—Began Inventing at Age of 15

New York, March 12.—George Westinghouse, a foremost figure in the engineering world and inventor of the air brake that bears his name, died late today at his residence in this city. Heart disease manifested itself about fifteen months ago and the end came a few hours after it became publicly known that Mr. Westinghouse was seriously ill. He was in his 68th year. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Westinghouse became an inventor at the age of 15, when he produced a rotary engine. Four years later he patented a device for replacing derailed steam cars. Then, when 21 years old, he sought the financial backing of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, for his new famous air brake, parleying after three years of effort.

"Do you mean to tell me you can stop a railroad train by wind?" demanded the commodore.

"Well, yes, inasmuch as air is wind, I suppose you are right," spoke the youth.

"I have no time to waste on fools," the commodore, thus abruptly terminating the interview. Westinghouse sought and found capital elsewhere, manufactured his invention and made high speed possible on railroads, revolutionizing traffic systems and inaugurating a notable era of railway development.

His Many Inventions.

Mr. Westinghouse did not confine his genius to railroading. For half a century he continued to make other contributions to electrical as well as engineering advancement. His inventions and improvements had to do with railway signalling and power devices for safety and for economically conveying power over long distances and using it for industrial and domestic ends, air springs for motor vehicles of all kinds, and a geared turbine system for the propulsion of ships, developed in collaboration with the late Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., and John H. MacAlpine.

In return for his many achievements, the highest honors in the gift of technical societies and institutions of Europe and America were bestowed upon Mr. Westinghouse. European governments conferring distinguished orders. As many men to leave the service received from the principal engineering society of Germany the celebrated Graeheof gold medal.

Mr. Westinghouse founded many manufacturing companies in this country and abroad, including great plants at East Pittsburg, Wilmerding, Swissdale and Trafford City, Penn., and others in Hamilton, Canada; Manchester and London, England; Havre, France; Pittsburg, Germany; St. Petersburg, Russia; Vienna, Austria, and Milan, Italy. In these industries some 50,000 persons are employed, and the many companies have a capitalization aggregating $200,000,000.

Mentally Alert to Last.

Mr. Westinghouse's mental alertness and activity remained unimpaired to the last. The final years of his were among the most productive. For several months, however, he had limited his activities. It was stated tonight on behalf of his many interests that there will be no change of policy in connection with any of the industries, which will be operated on a plan long agreed upon by the inventor himself.

Mr. Westinghouse and his various ventures suffered severely in the panic of 1907. In October of that year the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company went into bankruptcy, from which it was released a year later, after creditors had accepted a plan of reorganization. Following that the control of the Westinghouse company, with some of its subsidiaries, passed with a group of New York, Boston and Pittsburg banking interests. Westinghouse common, which had paid 10 per cent yearly from 1904 to 1907, suspended dividends altogether from the latter part of 1907 until 1912, when they were resumed on a 2 per cent basis; and last year 4 per cent was paid. In 1911 Mr. Westinghouse had severed associates. Mr. Westinghouse never recovered from the shock he received when control of his numerous enterprises were taken out of his hands.

The reorganization plan was concurred by Mr. Westinghouse, who urged its adoption in preference to plans submitted by embittered financiers. The inventor insisted his idea was the best and according to his associates, it proved to be an achievement in constructive finance.

Tenderfoot Kindly, Helpful.

Mr. Westinghouse was unostentatious, kindly, helpful and a charming man. In connection with his kindly spirit it was recalled of him today that thirty or forty years ago, he introduced in this country the Saturday half holiday.

Of the inventor and his work, Lord Kelvin said not long before his own death:

BURNS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE TODAY

Story of Alleged "Frame-Up" by Detective Black Told Defense by Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

A further attempt to show a "frame-up" on the part of Detective John Black, of the city detective force, and at least one other officer in obtaining evidence against Leo M. Frank, condemned to die April 17 for the murder of Mary Phagan, was made by the attorneys for the defense on Thursday when they made public the statement of W. S. Jenaina, a bricklayer, of 90 Fourteenth street, and his wife, to the effect that Black and another detective had tried to intimidate and to bribe Mrs. Lola Belle Brown, their daughter, into swearing that she is the "girl in the red dress," who was said to have accompanied Mary Phagan on the National pencil factory on the day of the murder.

In the face of the stinging charges of the trio Detective Black remained an absolute silence.

"I have nothing at all to say. The defense has tried to pull this sort of stuff before. Wait till 'wash day,' and you will see it all come out," was Black's only comment.

New Affidavits Expected.

It is expected that from now until the day of the filing of the motion extraordinary for a new trial before Judge Ben Hill, of the criminal division of superior court, the attorneys for the defense will keep up a fusillade of revelations of new affidavits, repudiation of old ones and new evidence upon which they will base their motion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins appeared in the office of Reuben R. Arnold, attorney for the defense of Frank, Thursday afternoon and told their story of Black's alleged attempts to coerce their daughter to confess to being the mysterious "girl in the red dress."

The Girl in Red.

Black, they allege, asked the girl whether she were not the "girl in the red dress" who went with Mary Phagan to the pencil factory on the day that she was murdered, to which the girl replied that she was not.

It is further alleged that Black visited her upon the next Monday and on other occasions, telling the girl that he "had something on her" and would lock her up if she did not testify as he said. He finally, it is said, offered the girl "a part of his salary" if she would give the desired testimony.

Her parents alleged that she refused flatly to give the testimony Black is said to have attempted to force upon her, and, further, that she knew neither Mary Phagan nor Frank, nor had she ever visited the pencil factory.

Conley states that he is willing to be questioned by Detective Burns, and will answer all questions propounded by the detectives, alone in the presence of a white man disinterested in the case.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford is confident that Conley's veracity, sincerity and shrewdness as a detective, he will be unable to shake Conley's story in any detail.

TO GRASS WIDOWS SHE WOULD ALLOW NO PENSION MONEY

New York, March 12.—"Grass widows should not be pensioned," declared Miss Grace Strachan, president of the International Federation of Women Teachers, speaking today before the commission appointed at Albany last year to report a plan for pensioning widowed mothers with dependent children.

"They should not be pensioned," she continued, "for the simple reason that such a plan would encourage a good many men to leave the bonds of matrimony as it is. Many husbands haven't the heart to leave their wives because they don't know how they will live without them. With the state stepping in things would be different."

Miss Alice Robbins, president of the Neighborhood guild, differed with Miss Strachan.

"Grass widows should be supported," she declared. "They should be helped by the state, because many women who are known as grass widows have run away from drunken, dissolute and worthless husbands."

Miss Sadie American, head of the Jewish council, declared that the experiment had been wasted on the widow.

"Why should we think of the widows at all?" asked Miss American. "They should think of the children. There is an emotional wave of charity sweeping across the country and in this wave the children are forgotten while the so-called 'deserving' widow is always spoken of."

The hearings will be continued.

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION SOUGHT FOR KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., March 13.—The Kentucky house of representatives, by a vote of 70 to 24, today passed a bill providing for the submission to the voters at the general election in 1915 a constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition. The bill also makes provision for a state dispensary system for the purpose of dispensing liquor for medical purposes.

The prohibition bill now will go to the senate, where it is expected opponents of the legislation will make a determined fight to prevent its passage.

All but nineteen counties in the state at present are "dry" and the anti law, enacted earlier in this session of the legislature, will cause local option elections in most of these counties. The "wet" counties contain the larger cities and the big distilleries.

MILLIONS ARE ASKED FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

London, March 12.—The British naval estimates for 1914-15, amount to $257,150,000, an increase of $12,700,000 over last year. The new construction program provides for four battleships, four light cruisers and twelve destroyers.

FOR HIS DAUGHTER FATHER KILLS YOUTH

Tidwell Claims That His Girl Was Led Astray by Emmett Walker.

Greenville, S. C., March 12.—R. Emmett Walker, aged 20, of good family and social standing, was shot and almost instantly killed at the Carolina mills this morning by G. W. Tidwell, aged 52, a travelling man of Clinton, S. C. Tidwell went to Walker's office, called him out and grasping his right hand, pulled a pistol with his left and shot Walker twice.

Tidwell claims that the young man contributed to the delinquency of his 17-year-old daughter, and then refused to marry her. The killing occurred six days after Tidwell learned of the alleged relations between his daughter and Walker.

"God knows I tried to avoid this," said Tidwell tonight, "but there was nothing else to be done."

The trouble started when Walker and another young man are alleged to have taken Tidwell's daughter on a stopmother to a house of ill fame in this city last Friday night.

U. S. EXPRESS COMPANY GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Stockholders Will Name a Committee to Liquidate Company's Affairs.

New York, March 12.—Stockholders of the United States Express company at a meeting tomorrow, it is understood, will appoint a liquidation committee to wind up the company's affairs. This committee, it is said, will be empowered to abrogate or transfer such contracts as now exist between the company and the railroads.

HIS NERVES BROKEN BY WIFE'S TRIALS TO KILL HERSELF

New York, March 12.—Herman B. Atkins, a Brooklyn photo engraver, today began suit for separation against his wife on the ground that his nerves were shattered by her repeated attempts to commit suicide. Twenty-three times, alleged Atkins, Mrs. Atkins vainly attempted to take her life.

After she had exhausted all the recognized means, he said, she devised a few of her own, which included sitting at an open window in her night clothes to bring on pneumonia.

"600 VOTERS BOUGHT" AT HOME OF ALDRICH

Providence, R. I., March 12.—The Rev. Rich H. Wolfenden, progressive representative from Warwick, who made the charge on the floor of the house yesterday that 600 voters in his town were "bought" every year, said today he was not yet ready to take any action toward substantiating his assertion.

"I am waiting to get more affidavits," he said. "Then I expect to place them in the hands of the attorney general. There are 5,700 voters in the town and 600 of them sell their votes to the republican organization year after year."

Warwick is the home of former United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich and General Charles A. Wilson, head of the republican organization in the states.

MAN AND SWEETHEART ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

Williamson, W. Va., March 12.—While attempting to save the life of Miss Dixie Blackburn, his sweetheart, whose foot was caught in a railway trestle near here today, William McCoy was struck by a train and tossed into a ravine fifty feet away. Miss Blackburn was instantly killed and McCoy was dying when picked up by the train crew.

SPEAKING OF TWINS, THESE TWO PARSONS ARE TITLE HOLDERS

Lancaster, Pa., March 12.—The birth today of twins, in both cases a boy and a girl, in the home of Rev. Nathan B. Yerger, of Rohrerstown, and Rev. Hibert E. Landis, of Lancaster, has called attention to a series of extraordinary life parallels.

Both ministers are Lutherans, and although born in different parts of the state, have been friends from boyhood. They were college roommates for four years, were graduated in the same class and were stationed in Lutheran churches in the same county. They were married on the same day and the wedding trips were taken together.

Their wives were girlhood friends and entered a normal school together. Like their husbands, both were graduated in the same class and both took up the profession of teaching, which they abandoned at the same time to become brides.

MISSING FOR YEARS, CORPSE OF LAWYER FOUND IN MORGUE

Chicago, March 12.—Dramatic sequel to the mysterious disappearance of Horace Greely Clarke, prosperous Chicago lawyer and head of trade opposition, from a lake boat twelve years ago, took place in a morgue at Cudahy, Wis., today when the body of a railroad section laborer was identified as that of Clarke's.

The lawyer disappeared from the boat on June 13, 1902. He was traveling with his young bride. A country-wide search for him was unsuccessful and finally it was decided he had fallen from the steamer and drowned. Clarke's sister, a Mrs. Carson, of Iowa City, made the identification. An accidental overdose of a drug had caused the man's death, physicians said.

Mrs. Carson could learn but little about her brother's strange disappearance. Seemingly he had lost his memory. He had been in various parts of Wisconsin for years and was known at Cudahy as "Harry Harris." For years he had been a drug user.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—Mrs. Edgar A. Ireland, former wife of Horace Greely Clarke, of Chicago, is living in South Bend. She married Ireland seven years after her husband's disappearance.

At the time Clarke was supposed to have been drowned the bride of six months refused to believe he was dead. Later, however, she accepted the theory. Life insurance for $5,000 was made payable to Clarke's sister.

Los Angeles, March 12.—Mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Horace Greely Clarke in Chicago in 1902 today was solved by his brother, Earl D. Clarke, who explained that the man known as Harry Harris had planned the "disappearance" because of incurable cancer of the face.

Much that has been written about the case was entirely untrue, said Mr. Clarke today. "My brother could not bear to have his friends and relatives see the ravages of disease which reputable physicians frankly told him would end in death.

"After a year he informed relatives of his whereabouts and the cause for his having dropped from sight. Since then I have been in communication with him. I frequently sent him money. We knew he would die of the disease, but were not expecting his death so soon."

SOLON'S ARREST CAUSED BY AN UNPAID CHECK.

Columbia, S. C., March 12.—Magistrate J. H. Fowles today issued a warrant for the arrest of Norman C. Creech, member of the general assembly from Barnwell county, upon the allegation by the Carolina National bank, here, that a check for $19 drawn by Creech upon the Home Bank of Barnwell had been returned unpaid, bearing the notation, "This party has no account with this bank."

Service on the warrant was deferred by the court pending the expiration of ten days from the adjournment of the general assembly to conform to legal exemptions for that period.

HORNETS STIRRED BY ALLEGED WORDS OF WALTER H. PAGE

Senate Calls on Ambassador to Great Britain to Explain Speech on Canal and Monroe Doctrine.

Washington, March 12.—Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, was made the target of inquiry today in a resolution adopted by the senate calling on the secretary of state to investigate alleged public assertions by the ambassador relative to the Monroe doctrine and the Panama canal.

Senator Chamberlain, aroused over reports of a speech by Ambassador Page last night in London before the Associated Chambers of Commerce, introduced the resolution and his request for immediate consideration resulted in its adoption without debate.

What Resolution Requests.

The resolution requests the secretary of state to procure a copy, for the use of the senate, of Ambassador Page's address, and to call on the ambassador for evidence on which he based the alleged statement that "It added greatly to the pleasure of the people of the United States in the building of the Panama canal to know that the British would profit most by its use."

Particular request is made in the resolution for a verbatim report of that portion of the ambassador's address in which he is reported to have defined the Monroe doctrine as meaning merely that the United States would prefer that no European governments would gain more land in the new world."

After the resolution had been adopted, senators heard of dispatches from London saying the ambassador's speech was delivered extemporaneously late in the evening after a protracted recitation, and quoting Mr. Page as explaining that his reference to British use of the Panama canal was in a light vein. It was taken for granted at the capitol, however, that in response to the state department's request, the ambassador would furnish his recollection of just what he had said with the desired explanation.

No attempt to oppose the resolution was made when Senator Chamberlain offered it, the usual custom being to pass such measures as a matter of course. Later in the day a similar resolution was introduced in the house by Representative Murray, of Oklahoma, a democrat, but it did not get before the body for discussion or action.

Wilson and Senate Reception.

There was no official comment on the speech or action of the senate. In an informal discussion at the white house, however, President Wilson indicated that the Monroe doctrine was as much a part of the American foreign policy today as a hundred years ago. He did not express an opinion concerning the ambassador's speech.

The senate resolution had not reached Secretary Bryan tonight. According to custom, if Ambassador Page does not forestall the action by voluntarily forwarding an explanation of the incident, the resolution will be cabled to him tomorrow, as soon as it is sent to the state department.

Representative Murray's resolution would ask the state department whether "a new American policy of subsidizing American woal to the selfish interests of the nations of Europe" is the fundamental reason for the demand to repeal the law now in force, exempting American vessels conducting a coastwise trade from canal tolls."

It was recalled at the capitol that Senator Chamberlain, last November, introduced in the senate a petition of protest against reported remarks by Ambassador Page from members of the Confederated German Societies and the Robert Emmett society of Portland, Ore. These protests, which were also forwarded to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, characterized as "un-American" remarks attributed to Ambassador Page to the effect that the

LOBBYISTS CHARGED WITH FIGHT TO KILL FREE PANAMA TOLLS

Rear Admiral Bowles Involved by Testimony of De Knight Before Senate Probing Committee.

DE KNIGHT SAYS MONEY WAS PAID FOR LOBBYING

Witness Alleges Admiral Bowles Welched on Paying the $4,000 He Had Promised.

Washington, March 12.—Renewal of the senate lobby investigating committee's inquiry today turned toward reports that there is organized opposition in Washington, backed by influential forces, against the proposed repeal of the Panama toll exemption. Today the committee examined Clarence W. De Knight, a Washington lawyer, who admitted activity on behalf of concerns in favor of toll exemption. When the bill was passed, but flatly denied knowledge of any lobbying efforts to prevent the repeal.

Carnegie Man Is Called.

Tonight the committee, at the direction of Chairman Overman, issued a subpoena for Dr. James Brown Scott, secretary for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, whose name entered into the spirited debate in executive session of the senate several weeks ago between Senators Root and O'Gorman, of New York. When extension of the general arbitration treaty with Great Britain was under consideration, involving the tolls issue, Senator O'Gorman charged that the Carnegie endowment had for its prime motive not the promotion of international peace, but the formation of a British-American alliance. Senator Root hotly protested against his colleague's statement. The lobby committee proposes to inquire through Dr. Scott into the actual aims and operations of the foundation, and whether it has entered into the tolls controversy.

Before the committee today De Knight, charged in a newspaper report which precipitated the investigation with being the chief agent of an alleged lobby, admitted having devoted his efforts for fifteen years to urging legislation in behalf of various interests.

Agreed to Lobby for Bowles' Money.

The lawyer admitted having entered into a contract with the Fore River Shipbuilding company, through former Admiral P. T. Bowles, its president, to work for free tolls for coastwise shipping. For this service he received $1,000, he said, but a contingent fee of $4,000 additional, depending on the passage of the tolls bill in that form, had not been paid. De Knight agreed to produce this contract tomorrow.

De Knight told also of urging through congress various bills providing for increases in pay and higher rank for men of the army and navy. He estimated that contracts he made for this work with individuals and associations of enlisted men had brought him $40,000. He promised to lay before the committee about 100 of these contracts, together with all the correspondence with various shipbuilding companies, and with the Pneumatic Tube Service company, of Boston, which operates the tube services of the postoffices in various cities.

The witness declared he did not know that a law existed against making contracts with soldiers and sailors whereby they were to pay a percentage of increased salaries for his services. He insisted that his firm and he in Washington devoted much time to this business.

The Exploits of De Knight.

Telling of his present occupation, De Knight said he had seen service about congress first as a page, stenographer and committee clerk in the house, and later as clerk of the naval affairs committee of the senate. He served as stenographer on the armor board of the navy department, and also in the postoffice department in a clerical capacity. He had become convinced, he said, that there was an opportunity for profit in contracting with enlisted men and others to "follow" legislation in which they were interested. His contracts read, he said, that only right and proper means should be employed.

De Knight admitted having used franks obtained at the office of Senator McCumber in sending documents to friends and clients. He had obtained them, he said, from the senator's clerk, with whom he was acquainted.

Questioned to bring out relations he might have with present employees of the government, De Knight declared he made payments to none of his friends in various departments, and that they were not interested with him in any business venture.

It was said tonight the committee probably would issue subpoenas for Admiral Bowles and others mentioned by De Knight before its hearing is concluded.

Bowles Refused to Pay.

For his services in behalf of the Fore River Ship Building company before the senate canals committee, when the Panama canal law was under consideration, De Knight testified that he was paid only $1,000, despite the fact that the tolls exemption was included in the bill.

He demanded the $4,000 contingent fee from President Bowles after the bill was passed, but did not receive it.

"Did your contract read for a contingency whereby the bill was, to include a provision whereby the government was to contract for ships in case the tolls exemption was granted," asked Senator Reed.

"No, I don't think so," said De Knight. "I don't exactly remember the contingency. I was to get the $4,000 if the bill went through a certain way. Anyhow, I know that Admiral Bowles' company didn't build the ships. I never interested to see and the matter was dropped there, and I am still retained by the company in connection with some cases."

Call for the Contract.

The committee demanded that De Knight produce his contract with Bowles, which the witness said he would do later.

De Knight had been subpoenaed to produce files of his correspondence in relation to many legislative matters, but he urged that he wanted to consult counsel as to whether their production would impugn confidential relations between attorney and client. The committee will insist upon production of the correspondence.

De Knight said he knew of no organized effort now to fight repeal of the toll exemption clause and denied that he had written any letters of warning to ship building companies relating to it. Asked if he knew of any funds being raised to fight the repeal, De Knight answered that he did not.

De Knight charged that there was animus behind an effort to discredit him. He added that the animus arose from his discharge of a woman stenographer whose name he coupled with a newspaper man in the Schreiber charge.

Senator Overman produced a copy of a memorial in which retired volunteer officers and enlisted men of civil war service agreed to pay De Knight 50 per cent of any increases in pay they might receive should a bill for such increases now before congress be passed.

De Knight testified that he had drawn such a contract and promised to inform the committee how many of such contracts had been signed by officers now in the government service.

Represented Warrant Officers.

De Knight testified he had represented chief warrant officers of the navy in a bill to give them a commissioned grade and in fifteen years had collected $40,000 while representing men of the army and navy who desired increases in pay. On cross-examination he admitted he had threatened to expose any officers for making such contracts with him when they refused to pay commissions. De Knight said he only had sent them "ordinary collection letters."

It was developed that the list of civil war veterans he would be benefited by a pending bill had been held secret by the war department. Senator Reed asked where De Knight got it.

"I got it from Congressman Barchfield, of Pennsylvania," said De Knight. "He wrote to Secretary Stimson stating that they might be valuable for campaign purposes. Then I got the list from him."

"And when you got the list," continued Senator Reed, "you conceived the idea that this bill had Barchfield introduce it, and then started to work writing letters to these old men to interest them in your contracts?"

"Yes, Mr. Barchfield introduced the bill and I wrote to the men."

The bill was favorably reported by the house, but did pass the senate.

Service Makes Denial.

Boston, March. 13.—Rear Admiral Bowles, president of the Fore River Ship Building company, declared today he had employed Clarence W. De Knight to work for toll exemption for American coastwise ships in the Panama canal act, as testified by Mr. Knight before the senate lobby committee at Washington.

"I employed Mr. De Knight in connection with section 11 of the Panama canal act, which has to do with the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission over canal shipping," the admiral said. "That section concerning tolls is section 5 of the act and with this I had nothing to do."

LOOTING DEAL CHARGED TO GIFFORD PINCHOT

Washington, March 12.—Gifford Pinchot, former head of the federal forestry service, was charged in the house today by Representative Humphrey, of Washington, republican, with favoring, as chief forester, a government land exchange transaction with the Santa Fe railroad that was "the greatest and most outrageous looting of the public domain in our history."

"I challenge any man to show," declared the Washington member, "that Mr. Pinchot ever protested against the land deal, under which the Santa Fe railroad received 1,200,000 acres of the best public land in exchange for a like number of acres of untimbered and utterly worthless land, which was estimated by the railroad to be worth from 15 to 18 cents an acre. Is Gifford Pinchot could see a man in Alaska if there was a fishing pole, but could not see the Santa Fe railroad getting 1,200,000 acres at one time."

Representative Humphrey also charged that when Mr. Pinchot was forester an extension of a forest reserve in Montana included 240,000 acres of "practically treeless land" belonging to the Northern Pacific railroad.

"For this land of little value," he added, "the Northern Pacific obtained 240,000 acres of heavily timbered land in exchange and Pinchot favored the transaction at that time."

Mr. Humphrey's speech was part of a running fire of attack upon the forest service that held up progress on the agriculture appropriation bill.

with keen interest the outcome of the efforts of Mexican military prisoners near Fort Bliss to get their liberty through habeas corpus writs and General Scott is fully sustained in his determination to resist these efforts as far as he legally can.

FEARS FOR THE FATE OF A MEXICAN OFFICER

Laredo, Texas, March 12.—The fate of Juan Garcia, age 17, a young federal Mexican officer, caused uneasiness among his acquaintances here today.

He came here last night in an automobile with two other Mexican officers from San Ignacio, Mexico. All three were reported to be deserters.

Mexicans said to be federal emissaries, negotiated Garcia from his friends, entertaining him until he was in a helpless condition and then carrying him to Mexico, where he was handed over to the federal authorities. He is said to face a capital court-martial.

ON BENTON'S SLAYER CARRANZA IS CLOSING

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—Information that evidence gathered by the Carranza commission indicates Major Rodolfo Fierro as the slayer of William S. Benton, assumed importance tonight with the arrival of American passengers from Chihuahua with reports, not confirmed, that Fierro had been arrested, charged with the murder of two Mexican railroad men.

That the railroad men were murdered is known, and it is said the slaying was done in cold blood.

Whether Fierro really has been arrested in connection with the case is only report, but the information is regarded as probably correct, but those conversant with the facts say that the Carranza commission started work with the information that Fierro killed the Englishman.

It is said also that the commission has gathered convincing evidence that Colonel Fidel Avila, commanding the garrison at Juarez, ordered the execution of Gustav Bauch, a German-American, who was tried as a spy, but in whose case no verdict was rendered. Rebel officers at Juarez and at Chihuahua repeatedly have denied that he was killed.

UNITED STATES NEGRO KILLED BY MEXICANS

Douglas, Ariz., March 13.—Charles Howard, an American negro, was killed recently by Yaqui Indians on the ranch of Charles Anthony, in the Yaqui river valley, while constitutionalist soldiers, encamped a few hundred yards away, refused to put to his assistance, according to a special to The Dispatch from Nogales tonight.

Howard is said to be a deserter from the Ninth United States cavalry at Douglas. He was caretaker at the ranch and killed three of his assailants before he himself was riddled with bullets, according to the report.

OAKLEY TELLS STORY OF BIG EMBEZZLEMENT

Montgomery, Ala., March 12.—James G. Oakley, former president of the state convict department, on trial here for the alleged embezzlement of $3,207 of state funds, today completed his testimony in his own defense. He was on the stand eight hours, seven of which were devoted to grueling cross-examination by state attorneys.

Oakley told, in his own way, his story of the big shortage uncovered in his department, for the embezzlement of $50,000, of which Theodore Lacy, former chief clerk, has been convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

Oakley admitted that he made personal use of three checks that had been made payable to the state, and stated that all of his property was mortgaged at the time that Theodore Lacy left Montgomery. It is alleged, with $22,000 of state funds.

Dr. Grattan B. Crowe, of Birmingham, close personal friend of Oakley's, was the only other witness on the stand during the day. Dr. Crowe is alleged to have given Oakley $20,000, which Oakley says he gave Lacy to keep for him. Dr. Crowe and the attorney engaged in numerous skirmishes during the cross-examination, the court finding it necessary to rebuke the witness once because of some of his utterances.

men of our time." Of himself Mr. Westinghouse once remarked: "I have always known what I wanted to do, and for doing it, I owe a great deal to persistence, to a natural fondness for mathematics, and to the fact that throughout my youth I learned to work with my hands as well as my head and always have kept in practice."

George Westinghouse was born in the village of Central Bridge, near Schenectady, N. Y., October 6, 1846, and as a lad attended the public school in Schenectady. He entered Union college, but left in 1863 to serve in the Union army. After the war, the urge for engineering led to his transfer from the army to the navy, where he became attached to the Potomac flotilla, acting as third assistant engineer.

In August, 1867, Mr. Westinghouse married Miss Marguerite Erminie Walker, who survives him, together with their one child, George, Jr., who lives near Lenox, Mass. The son married Miss Violet Brocklebank, daughter of Sir Thomas and Lady Brocklebank, of Irton Hall, Cumberland, England.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, hair dull, eyes heavy, breath is bad, sleep not naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeit fruit syrups sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Judge Alec Boarman, to whom a jury returned a sealed verdict last night, fined the company the minimum amount provided by law, $1,000 on each count.

C. B. PARKER ON TRIAL IN SEDUCTION CASE

Decatur, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—The case against C. B. Parker, charged with seduction, which is now on trial in DeKalb county, is exciting a great deal of interest. The courtroom was crowded with eager spectators when the case was called this morning, Judge George L. Bell, of Atlanta, presiding in the place of Judge Charles B. Reid, who is disqualified on account of having been solicitor general.

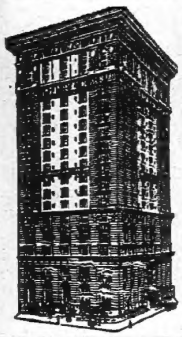

Parker was indicted in 1910, charged with the seduction of a beautiful young woman, the daughter of a prominent and highly respected citizen of DeKalb county.

Before announcing ready the defense wanted the state to agree to the use of a certain affidavit made by Drew Tuggle, a witness who has since died, which affidavit attacked the character of the young lady, and which was used by agreement on the former trial. The state refused to agree for this affidavit to be used at this trial.

The defendant then tendered a petition to withdraw his plea of not guilty and his waiver of formal arraignment on the former trials and offered to marry the young lady in question and tendered a marriage license, but alleged that he was unable, by reason of his poverty, to give the bond required by law for the support of the mother and child for a period of five years. This offer was promptly refused by the prosecution. The defendant then declined to plead guilty or not guilty, but stood mute. Judge Bell then ordered a plea of not guilty to be entered for the defendant by the clerk of the court on the minutes and the case proceeded to trial.

Ziegfeld's Follies Scored Big Hit at the Atlanta Theater

By Sidney Ormond.

Miss Atlanta, discreet and virtuous lady that she is, gave herself up gladly to a night of folly last evening. For some hours she did not seem to care whether school kept or not. She enjoyed herself to the utmost, alternately laughing until her stays were near to bursting or gazing in open-eyed wonder at an array of beauty unadorned, the like of which has not been seen in these parts since the bathing season closed at Piedmont park.

And, strange to relate, Miss Atlanta's morals were not appreciably hurt by her night off. She will be up and about her business as usual this morning, just as if nothing out of the ordinary had tempted her from her sedate and stately path of rectitude.

The occasion for the dissipation was the much-heralded "Ziegfeld's Follies" at the Atlanta theater last night. Everybody was there—everybody you know or ever knew as a theater party. Everybody seemed to be having a perfectly dandy good time. Everybody was keyed up to expect something rather naughty, and when nothing very naughty turned up—well, they laughed just the same and pretended they were shocked.

One joke caught the crowd amidships and caused the wildest laughter.

"How is your tender loin?" asked the young woman of the waiter.

"Oh, it'll do very well if you know where to find it," was the reply.

Great Array of Beauty.

It was a wonderful array of female loveliness—that chorus, which was stripped of all unnecessary trappings and trimmings. I am certain of this fact, for seated next to me was that youthful but eminent authority on good looks, H. Britt Craig, some time police reporter, wonder-worker in murder mysteries and all-around enthusiast.

From time to time he hunched me violently, as if he were trying to break through the line.

"It's a bear! Ain't she a bear!" he would exclaim.

To my more mature but possibly blase eyes the "she" looked more like a perfectly proportioned young woman, but I was too interested to enter into an argument.

Yes, it was some chorus. Sans all the clothing that could possibly be spared, the wonder is it didn't freeze.

There were squabs and chickens and oysters and frying sizes—everything that comes under the general heading of poultry, and it was all fair to look upon.

As for the show outside of that, it was just the kind of show one expected. A lot of singing of a moderately good quality, some dancing and a capital lot of humor of the horseplay variety.

Joe Collins and Elizabeth Brice sang several songs that provoked immense applause. In the telephone song Miss Brice scored a big hit.

Leon Errol, as the drunk, in the subway scene, was a scream. For over half an hour he kept the audience in a perfect uproar.

Frank Tinney also supplied a pack of fun as a negro waiter.

The company is one of the largest ever brought south. There will be a matinee this afternoon, and tonight the concluding performance.

FORTUNE OF VANDERBILT TO WIDOW AND DAUGHTER

Biltmore Goes to the 12-Year-Old Girl—No Public Bequests.

New York, March 12.—The will of George W. Vanderbilt, as filed for probate here today, leaves his entire estate, estimated at $20,000,000, to his widow and only daughter, Cornelia.

Minor bequests providing annuities aggregating $6,500 a year are made in favor of certain relatives. There are no public bequests.

Biltmore, Mr. Vanderbilt's world-famous estate in North Carolina, is left to his daughter, Cornelia, who is 12 years old. She also receives $5,000,000 in cash and is made residuary legatee.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, the widow, receives the estate at Bar Harbor, Maine, the Vanderbilt home in Washington, $250,000 in cash, a life interest in a trust fund of $1,000,000, which she may dispose of at her death as she sees fit, and part of the real estate in North Carolina known as Pisgah forest, containing about 80,000 acres, together with the contracts for the sale of timber therefrom estimated to produce about $50,000 a year. These bequests to Mrs. Vanderbilt are made in lieu of dower.

Mr. Vanderbilt's valuable collection of paintings and books in his residence in Biltmore, Washington and Bar Harbor go to his wife and daughter, who receive these estates. The famous Vanderbilt mansion at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fifty-first street, New York, was the property of George Vanderbilt only during his lifetime.

The house, which is valued at a million and a half dollars, was built by William H. Vanderbilt and by the terms of his will reverts to Cornelius Vanderbilt, George W. Vanderbilt's nephew. For the last nine years the house has been leased to Henry C. Frick. It contains paintings and art objects valued at more than $1,500,000, which go with the house.

Mr. Vanderbilt's will was a business-like, typewritten document, which stated his wishes in the briefest possible form, without explanatory comment.

FREE LABOR BUREAU FOR NEW YORK STATE

New York, March 12.—Hundreds of men and a few women crowded today into a free labor bureau to take advantage of Governor Glynn's new plan to help the city's unemployed by finding them work in the country. "I have every reason to believe that this plan will succeed," said C. W. Larmon, deputy state commissioner of agriculture. "Eighty men will be sent to Fonda, N. Y. Others will follow soon. When the laborers arrive in these places they will be met by an agent of the department of agriculture, and they will be at work a few hours later.

"What we are doing in the majority of cases is simply correcting the fault the men made when they drifted to the city."

FRIDAY, THIRTEENTH, WILL BE MARKED BY PLEASANT WEATHER

The following is the weather forecast for Atlanta on Friday:

Friday and the 13th are often considered a rather unlucky combination, but as regards the weather on that day considerable improvement is indicated. The day will be generally fair; that is, without rain or snow. Few clouds will appear in the sky and the bright sunshine will be pleasant after a gloomy day. The temperature in the early morning will be about 30 degrees with very probably a heavy frost, but will rise to a more agreeable figure during the middle of the day, reaching over 50 degrees. The winds will be light from the west, shifting to southerly. A rapid rise in temperature is indicated for the next few days.

Koehler Court-Martial Ends.

New London, Conn., March 12.—The court-martial trial of Major Benjamin M. Koehler on charges of immoral conduct ended at Fort Terry today. No intimation, was obtainable of the result of the trial and it is said that it will be three or four weeks before the court's verdict is known. Meanwhile Major Koehler will remain at the fort.

HAND OF BROTHERHOOD STRETCHED TO ALASKA

That's What Wilson Says His Signing of $35,000,000 Rail Measure Means.

Washington, March 12.—President Wilson today extended what he termed "the hand of real helpfulness and brotherhood to Alaska," when he signed the bill authorizing the expenditure of $35,000,000 for the first government owned railroad constructed by the United States.

Secretary Lane, a group of senators and representatives and members of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce stood beside the president as he affixed his signature to the act.

Wilson in Happy Mood.

The president was in a happy mood, and in laying one pen aside to take up another, smilingly remarked:

"I'll change engines."

Word of the bill had been signed, the president made a brief speech.

"I want to say," said the president, "how sincere my gratification is in the completion of this measure and its successful passage. I feel that we have at last reached out the hand of real helpfulness and brotherhood to Alaska which will bind it to us by many bonds that will be valuable to both sides. This is a consummation that I have been hoping might arrive in my administration, and that it has come so soon is to me very delightful."

Selection of Engineers.

Secretary Lane immediately afterwards had a long talk with the president about the selection of engineers for the task. Though Colonel Goethals had been mentioned for the work, it is unlikely that he will be through with the Panama canal in time for the present undertaking, which Mr. Lane intends to get into operation at once.

The secretary said the enactment of the railroad bill would be followed by the passage of the Alaska leasing bill, which would mean the carrying out of the administration program for the development of Alaska in an incredibly short time. He added that an attempt would be made to gather the working force this year.

The beginning of the project will signalize a new method of government stimulus for the opening of virgin territory, in contrast to the government bounties and guarantees of bonds which in pioneer days of the west were used by the federal government to encourage railroad building.

Law Had Short History.

Today's law had a comparatively short history, though the subject has been agitated for many years. Early last year Secretary Lane indorsed the bill and obtained the support of the president to make it an administration measure. Administration leaders in congress during the debate that followed made it clear that the bill was not to be construed as an indorsement of the principle of government ownership of railroads, but was intended to fit a special case and bring to Alaska private capital and people to develop its resources.

GIVE THE PATIENT A CHANCE!

The Constitution hopes that the estimate of our Washington correspondent, published elsewhere, as to the president's attitude toward further extreme legislation at this time is accurate. The president, it is reported, has been conferring with prominent house and senate leaders, many of whom agree with him in the position that it is dangerous to go too far. He is represented as having decided to clap on the brakes with emphatic pressure so that business may have an opportunity to recover from the capital operations of a new tariff and currency law before other capital operations are undertaken.

Mr. Wilson's position is unequivocally sound, from a business and patriotic no less than a political standpoint. There is no complaint against the legislation already recorded. On the other hand, its approval is practically nation-wide and non-partisan.

But there is serious fear as to what further legislation may be in the bag at Washington. As long as this uninviting persists business must work under part-steam. And just so surely as the situation is further complicated by radical or half-baked legislation the party faces danger at the polls in the fall elections. The opposition will pounce on the chance to attack the party by turning approval of its achievements thus far wrought into discredit both as to those achievements and the ill-considered program the president bids fair to smash.

Two major operations have already been performed.

We have amputated the high protection leg of the patient.

We have taken off his withered currency system arm.

We have substituted new and universally approved members.

So far, so good.

The patient is doing nicely, thank you!

But now it is time to give the patient a chance to recover before proceeding at any more whacking.

More treatment may be needed in time—but the duty of the hour is to give the patient a chance to get his grip.

Give business a chance!

Let it know where it stands.

Let it recuperate.

The fundamental bases of prosperity are sound.

Don't presume too much on their soundness and on the victory of a year and a half ago to rush matters to an extreme.

For the time being—down brakes!

WHAT MILITARISM COSTS.

Just what the military mania and the burden of armed preparedness cost the average citizen is disclosed by a protest against the new German war tax, made by American residents in the land of the kaiser. It was necessary, with the passage of a bill radically increasing the German army, to find the funds to take care of the expenses. It was, therefore, decreed that each foreign resident must pay a tax on all incomes over $750 and up to $2,500, of one-half of one per cent. That impost would, of course, have let in just about every foreigner in Germany. For hardly one American, or resident of any other nation who lives abroad, but has an income in excess of $750.

All the nations are, of course, joining in America's protest and their case seems impregnable. How the German, whose mind works logically as a rule, can get his nerve to the point of "holding up" other countries to help defray expenses for a war which may, hypothetically, be directed against themselves, is not short of amazing. The tax, as it applies to foreigners, is not likely to stand, even in the native courts.

But the incident is illuminating as illustrating what the military mania costs the world, and to what extent the man of small means is penalized in order that legalized and wholesale murder may flourish. For if Germany's military ambitions cost her friendly visitors good money, what do they not cost her natives, who have no recourse, save the slender one of their courts!

Some bright day the man who pays the freight will wake up and discover the madness of the whole thing, fighting, strutting and all. Then the specter of national bankruptcies will vanish, and the sums now eaten up by huge armaments doomed to the scrap-heap be diverted to useful purposes.

MRS. W. A. MOORE.

The death of Mrs. W. A. Moore, of Atlanta, mother of Wilmer L. Moore, of Mrs. Hugh L. McKee and Mrs. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, removes an Atlanta pioneer whose contributions to the religious and charitable activities of the community cover a period of half a century.

At the time of her death Mrs. Moore was in her eighty-third year. Until her last illness her mind was clear and her sweetness and fragrance of spirit the same busy with thought of what she might do for others.

This notable "mother in Israel" had for years been associated with the First Presbyterian church of Atlanta, and in addition to its many calls upon her energies, she found time to labor in behalf of the mountain boys, and girls and their educational problems, and also to lend a helping hand to many other charities.

Her life was a benediction to all with whom she came in contact. Her death will be a deep sorrow to a wide circle of friends.

MEDIEVALISM IN MEDICINE.

Dr. John A. Wyeth, one of the most distinguished members of the medical profession, former president of the New York Academy of Medicine, and president of the Polyclinic hospital of New York city, may shortly be placed on trial for his professional life because of the sheer and indefensible medievalism that still impedes the progress of the medical profession here as in Europe. The "crime against ethics," of which Dr. Wyeth is assumed to be guilty, and which, indeed, he frankly admits, is inviting a reputable reporter of a reputable paper, The New York Times, to a clinic where was to be demonstrated Koch's tuberculin. Dr. Wyeth explains that the reporter was invited on the understood condition that his story be edited by Dr. Wyeth. This condition he complied with. But members of the county society, with part of their minds in the middle centuries, now rear up on their hind legs and swear this notable man must be drummed out of the profession or muzzled.

The thing is so farcical as to exhaust the patience of the public.

It is refreshing, on the other hand, to note that the council on health and public instruction of the American Medical association, the most powerful and representative medical body in the United States, at a recent meeting at Chicago, decided to recommend that the ethical embargo regarding publicity be lightened. The practice of confining publicity for physicians and their achievements to medical journals never read by the layman, afforded insufficient means to reach the public. The council very properly declared that this condition worked to the detriment of the public health and the legitimate practitioner by driving the layman back upon the quack and nostrum-vendor for information.

In other fundamental aspects the medical profession in America has made wonderful strides. It has shown breadth, tolerance, perception. In the matter of publicity, duly safeguarded, it has either gone backward or remained standing pat. The old "witch doctor" passion for shrouding his potions and his treatments in mystery lingers. Beneath the speech, ethical and diplomatic surface of the profession there blazes often an inferno of jealousy, of fear the "other fellow" may get a little more advertising than his competitors.

The absurdity and contradiction of this situation must appeal to the common sense physician himself, once he analyzes conditions with the eyes of the average man and not the man obsessed by an effete code of ethics. Publicity of the right sort means a great deal for the profession and for humanity at large. Suppression of publicity and a reversion to medievalism cannot be otherwise than harmful both to the doctor and the public.

THE KIND GEORGIA NEEDS.

A colony of German farmers with their families have just settled in Crisp county.

The German makes a splendid citizen.

He is equally a fine artisan or an intelligent farmer.

Along with other races in the northern part of Europe, he practices thrift and industry, and he adapts himself readily to the customs of whatever land fate may find for him.

This nation is indebted to the German-American for some of its finest and most achieving types.

Georgia ought to encourage this class of immigrant with every inducement and the warmest welcome.

It is denied that British politicians, beset by suffragettes, believe in forcible running.

The low, crooning noise you hear is the premonitory echo of the home-run.

That loud noise you hear comes from the orchardmen celebrating the salvation of the peach crop.

Say what they will about Felix Diaz, he seems to have no fear at all of the gunmen of New York.

N. O. NELSON WRITES OF RURAL CREDIT ADVANTAGES

Who N. O. Nelson Is.

Editor Constitution: I ask space in your paper to reach the people of Georgia with a message of rural credits from a man who, I fully believe, has done more to benefit the laboring farmer and wage-earner than any other citizen of the United States. A man who, starting life poor and years agone amassed more property than he thinks right to use in the indulgences allowed to themselves by the average American millionaire has given away more than spent thousands of dollars of his own earnings in many states, Georgia included, for the benefit of humanity, and also to lend a helping hand to many other charities.

Her life was a benediction to all with whom she came in contact. Her death will be a deep sorrow to a wide circle of friends.

Under his altruistic, co-operative and profit-sharing principles he has assisted many of being degraded to a social caste below the more prosperous, enjoy and profit by the best and most uplifting influences at work in society.

That the world reader may realise the contributor toward the evolution of better business ways is one whose every word is worthy of consideration, is why I have added this sketch of the acts of N. O. Nelson without his knowledge or consent.

N. O. Nelson on Rural Credits.

Editor Constitution: What Georgia and the south needs is not more money, but more money that not government will, but more work and self-reliance. To get cheaper money they want to raise better crops and pay better, repeal or amend some bad laws and stop making new ones. When the farm and the mortgage are both taxed, the farmer must pay both taxes, the lender must and does add it in the interest. When the crop loan or other paper is made tax exempt it must be included in the note. When the farmer buys living and feed and mule on credit, instead of raising them, he is out the cash amount, including the high credit prices. Now we have the same tenants of bankers and merchants? Because they borrowed and bought on credit, lived beyond their means, and not government will, but more work and self-reliance. PLAN EARLY START ON STREET WORK

Tentative Program Outlined at Meeting of Council's Street Committee and County Commissioners.

Handicapped by appropriations which are meager, but which Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of the construction department, declares will enable the city to do considerable work, council's new street committee and the improvement committee of the county commissioners started work yesterday outlining a program for the relief of bad conditions of Atlanta's most important thoroughfares.

With a tentative program which includes a list of the streets which the commissioners believe to be in most urgent need of repairs and improvements, Commissioners Tull Waters and Tom Winn urged the city to prepare a list of streets to be first among the improvements.

Cherokee Avenue Work.

Cherokee avenue was selected to be the first important project the city and county will start. In the county budget the finance committee provided $8,000 to continue the paving, but Councilman Orville Hall protested, and the meager appropriation was one of the causes for holding up the sheet. In the compromise agreement Cherokee avenue was not fully provided for, but the finance committee has agreed to put the entire amount necessary to complete the work in the June sheet.

On the assurance that the work will be financed in June, the street committee recommended that the county commissioners start work immediately. The county plant is now established on Cherokee avenue, where work was started some months ago. To remove the plant from its present location to some other point in the city would mean an expense of between $1,500 and $2,000.

Councilman Hall in urging the work before the joint conference Thursday was strongly supported by Councilman Claude Ashley and Alderman McDonald, who presided as chairman in the absence of Alderman Keller.

The season for beginning paving operations will open in about two weeks, according to the county commissioners, and work will be started on Cherokee.

Big Projects for City.

Other important projects submitted by the city are as follows:

First ward paving, by Councilman Wardlaw: Mayson and Turner avenue, West Mitchell street, Chestnut street and Griffin street.

Second ward representatives absent.

Third ward, through Alderman McDonald: Cherokee Avenue, East Fair, South Boulevard. Grading, Sidney street, Connally and Milledge avenue.

Fourth ward, through Councilman Ashley and Alderman Thomson: Sewer work, Butler and Highland avenue trunk sewers; paving, Randolph street, Forrest avenue, Bedford place.

Fifth ward, through Councilman Lee and Alderman Maddox: Paving, Chattahoochee avenue, Hemphill, Hampton, Duran, Chestnut; grading, two lots, Pine street and Oliver avenue. Also cover Proctor creek sewer.

Sixth ward, through Councilman Boynton: West Peachtree, West North avenue and widen Peachtree at the bottle neck.

Seventh ward, through Councilman Dallas: Pave Lucile avenue, Joe Johnston avenue, East and West Ontario avenues, Stokes and Inman streets, grade Peoples, Battle Hill and West Fair.

Eighth ward, through Councilman Reynolds and Alderman Owens: Pave Fourteenth street and Eighteenth and Nineteenth and grade Spring street.

Ninth ward, no representatives present.

Tenth Ward Work.

Tenth ward, through Councilman Mason: Extend McDaniels street sewer, resurface East Point road from McCall's crossing to Fort McPherson, pave Campbellton road from Lee to limits; Dill street, Stewart avenue from Dill to limits and Murphy avenue; grade Avon avenue and Decatur avenue, Seattle, Athens, De Soto, Erin, Aillne, Arden and McDaniel to Lee's crossroads.

Ninth ward representatives are said to have agreed on the following projects: Pave Williams Mill road, resurface Ponce de Leon avenue, pave Flat Shoals road.

Estimate of the construction department show that if the county carries out all the work asked, the various convict camps will be busy until long after November.

Councilman Ashley and Alderman Thomson made urgent appeals to the commissioners to complete the Butler and Highland avenue sewers. They took the position that the sewers were more necessary than the paving.

Early Start Insured.

The list of projects submitted by the city insures early starts on West Peachtree, Spring street, widening the Peachtree bottle neck, Whitehall and Forsyth, West Mitchell, Glenn street and Lucile avenue, which are considered among the most important projects.

The Whitehall and Forsyth grading improvements are under way and will be pushed to completion.

In making up the January sheet the finance committee provided separate appropriations for each of the most important projects, and set aside a fund of $10,000 for streets ordinary.

From the fund the committee shaved $10,000 to make the amendments demanded by the opponents of the finance sheet, and at the last meeting of the street committee was decided to take a further $10,000 from the fund to be used for emergencies for filling washouts and other contingencies.

This leaves the city with only $56,000. Construction Chief Clayton and Street Engineer Hurt declare that the city should have at least $100,000 for street repairs. Last year the city bought a second street repairing plant at a cost of $8,000 and an additional motor truck which has almost doubled the emergency of the street repair, the department.

Another thing to be taken into consideration is the fact that the street committee has virtually unanimously agreed not to put down any more chert streets unless a substantial binder is used. This action was made necessary because of the extreme cases caused by heavy rains and washouts.

Diamond Engagement Gifts

Now is the time for you to select your diamond engagement gift.

Solitaire diamond rings are, of course, the most popular, but quite a number of Princess rings, Bar pins, Pendants and other kinds of gem set pieces are used for gifts of this kind.

We are especially strong on Platinum set diamond jewelry, and we want you to come to the store and let us show you the new designs.

In buying diamonds and jewelry, it is necessary to depend upon the integrity of the dealer to a marked extent. It is, therefore, just as important to exercise good judgment in choosing your jeweler as it is in the selection of the article itself.

We are proud of the reputation we have made in the quarter of a century we have been in business, and enjoy the pleasant knowledge that we can conscientiously refer you to any business concern or bank in Atlanta.

A handsome catalogue and diamond booklet will be sent you upon request. Both books are well illustrated and lowest prices are quoted on all lines.

WILSON CONTEMPLATES STOPPING MORE RADICAL LEGISLATIVE OPERATIONS

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 13.—(Special.)—President Wilson, after conference with Senator Newlands, of Nevada, and Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairmen of the committees now considering anti-trust bills, has agreed that the pending measures need radical revision. They will be returned to the attorney general to be redrafted.

The mystic maze of amendments to the anti-trust and other laws that have grown up month if not week by week in the business situation worse than ever. The little, no less than the big fellow, would be at a loss to know if he were a crook or an honest man.

The demand that congress should not attempt to put through drastic legislation to curb trusts is growing in congress and out of it. Until this moment the domestic policy of the new administration has been unassailable. Even President Wilson's foreign policy, although bitterly attacked in some quarters, has much to commend it. But what the country most earnestly desired is peace and tranquility; domestic peace and freedom for normal growth.

Therefore, many earnest advisers of the president are striving to sidetrack extreme anti-trust bills, the effect of which can only be concurred.

Up in the Air.

Since the "rule of reason" decision of the supreme court, radical progressives have urged congress to amend the Sherman law by prohibiting all combinations. This is done in the face of the court's assertion that unless the law is construed to prohibit only "unreasonable" restraint it must fail.

Those who advocate a more specific statement as to what combinations shall be illegal began by overlooking the fact that the things not directly prohibited would be constructively allowed. In the guise of strengthening the law their course would weaken the law.

The trade commission bill proposes the creation of a body outside the courts which would investigate the affairs of corporations, their plan of business, relations with other businesses and amount of capitalization. This also has elements of danger. The business man who is obeying the law wants to disclose his trade processes to his rivals. Any disgruntled citizen or stockholder under this bill could call for an investigation and secure it. Corporations which are earnestly striving to conform to law would be hampered and harrassed. Even though an inquiry should disclose nothing wrong, harm would be done.

It is proposed that a member of this board of inquiry might go into a plant at any time, require the production of books and accounts and learn any facts desired. The constitution of the United States guarantees a citizen against unreasonable "search and seizure" and this provision is said to encroach on that pledge.

Interlocking Directorates.

The cry against the great financial power centered in a few hands in Wall street, exercised through membership on a large number of boards of directors, has led to a demand for laws to prohibit such service. Since a law must be applied equally, the difficulty faced is that this would hamper and restrict active operations of thousands of men in small towns throughout the country who are applying their superior talents to build up many industries in their towns and sections.

Fuller H. Callaway, under this law, might have to select between a place on the directorate of a bank, one of several cotton mills, a wholesale grocery company, a railroad and other enterprises.

The same thing would be true of Ganay Jordan, of Columbus, and other shrewd and successful business men of Georgia, who are a pillar of strength to their state and section. The fact that their counsel and advice would be a guarantee of continued success for these various enterprises which give employment to many men and furnish the backbone of a town's prosperity, would, under a drastic measure aimed at interlocking directorates, confine them to a single line of activity.

There is a good reason for preventing gigantic corporations to be welded together into a form that may restrict business and hamper individual enterprise, but it is difficult to see how law could be framed that would not cripple industry in many towns and cities.

In their zeal to serve the country, the democrats in congress are in danger of overstepping the border of prudence and misdirected legislation.

There is no public demand for any but the simplest laws. The New York Times in an editorial on Tuesday said: "Congress itself has lacked the hardihood up to this time to persist in the face of such opposition as the business world is making. Is there such antagonism between business and popular opinion as exists between business and legislators? The legislators are working overtime and faster and faster on the full assurance that the will of the and the prosperity of the country rests in their care alone. Such assurance can be justified or explained only by either entire incompetence or wilful malimpudence. Without undertaking to say which is the correct explanation, it may be observed that not one-quarter of our legislators are successful men of business. The only thing that most congressmen can be said to be successful at is politics. They show persistent ignorance of the practice of business and opposition to the wants of business."

SHARP DENUNCIATION FOR THE MINE OWNERS

Their Conduct "Un-American" According to the Congress Probers.

Washington, March 12.—Refusal of the Michigan Copper Mine companies to recognize the miners' union was denounced as "un-American" by Chairman Taylor and members of the house investigating committee upon their return today from their trip to the copper region. Representative Taylor described James MacNaughton, vice president and general manager of the Calumet and Hecla Copper company, as "the boss of that great region."

Both the Michigan and Colorado investigating subcommittees expect to report to the house in May if not earlier.

"About six thousand miners still are on strike in Michigan and living miserably," said Representative Taylor today. "Their condition is critical. Labor unions are spending $50,000 a week for the strikers, who still are living in the companies' houses, though not paying rent. The mine owners are proposing to eject them. The owners insist that the miners must not only tear up their union cards and renounce their union affiliations, but enter into a solemn pledge that they never again will join the Western Federation of Miners, an attitude which makes the strikers the constitutional right to belong to a union just as the companies have right to organize among themselves. The mine operators substantially have agreed to all demands except the federation recognition. The men offer to go back under an open shop, but the operators will not agree to this."

FRED WEDEMEYER HEADS ATLANTA TURN VEREIN

The annual election of officers of the Atlanta Turn Verein held in the association parlors resulted in the reelection of Fred Wedemeyer, president; Herman Stein, vice president; Louis Kuebler, secretary. Herman Steinhman was elected treasurer, succeeding the late Louis Hunerkopf. Resolutions touching the death of Mr. Hunerkopf, expressing the sympathy of his associates with the members of the family, were adopted.

TRADING IN FUTURES WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Congress Prepares to Probe the Cotton and the Grain Exchanges.

Washington, March 12.—Plans for a proposed searching congressional investigation of the grain exchanges of the northwest and the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges will be worked out by a subcommittee created today by the house committee on rules. The full committee decided to broaden the scope of the resolution introduced by Representative Manahan, of Minnesota, to authorize an inquiry into the operations of the Chicago, Duluth and Minneapolis wheat pits and to extend the proposed investigations to cotton exchanges.

Members of Committee.

Representative Henry, chairman of the committee, heads the subcommittee. Its other members being Representatives Hardwick, Cantrill, Lenroot and Kelly. Their instructions are to make a thorough investigation of facts and the legal questions involved and to report to the full committee a resolution providing for the creation of a joint committee of the senate and house for full investigation of all the matters mentioned. The joint committee would be clothed with full power to subpoena witnesses, and call for records and papers to determine whether the practices of the exchanges enhance or depress prices, and whether future trading in farm products is detrimental or otherwise.

Mr. Henry tonight said the subcommittee would take action promptly and that the investigation would develop the information necessary as a basis for legislation to carry out the Baltimore democratic platform plank demanding legislation abolishing gambling in farm products.

Probe to Be Thorough.

"We will make a thorough study of the legal situation and facts regarding gambling or speculation, if you want to call it that, on the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges, and the grain exchanges," said Chairman Henry. He added that the resolution was not aimed at the stock exchanges, but only to the grain and cotton trade bodies.

"The gambling in food products is one of the largest questions before congress," he said, "and the committee believes the Baltimore platform, promising a curb upon such speculation, should be carried out."

LEDUC GIVEN TWO YEARS.

Will Also Be Dishonorably Discharged.

W. H. Leduc, formerly post commissary at Fort McPherson, has been sentenced to spend two years in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth and to be dishonorably discharged from the army, following the return of the sentence in his case, which has been approved by the department of the east.

Leduc, who it is alleged appropriated $2,808 from the funds of the Seventeenth regiment at Fort McPherson and spent the money in riotous living, is still awaiting transfer to the federal penitentiary.

Bank Examiner Hull Quits.

Washington, March 12.—Fred A. Hull has resigned as national bank examiner of North Carolina and northern South Carolina, according to an announcement made today, and J. N. Doughton, of Raleigh, appointed an examiner several weeks ago, has been assigned to that territory.

Americus, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—In today's primary for the nomination of county officers not a change was made from court clerk to coroner. Clerk H. E. Allen was re-elected unopposed, as was Tax Collector Brown. Tax receiver unopposed. For the other offices, G. W. Fuller, for sheriff; John W. Howell, for tax receiver; F. S. OLD OFFICIALS PROBABLY DEFEATED IN DECATUR

The commissioners nominated are I. Hall, J. W. Drake and W. E. Griffin, none of whom was opposed. C. W. Wimberly goes back as clerk of court, unopposed.

Merchants Are Busy Preparing Their Data On Ft. McPherson Bids

Many Atlanta merchants who have formerly had opportunity to bid upon the supplies purchased by the commissary department at Fort McPherson, but claim that they are now being discriminated against in favor of New York merchants, were busy on Thursday preparing the data and other evidence which they will present next Tuesday afternoon to the chamber of commerce committee on wholesale trade in support of their contention, which The Constitution is also supporting.

The chamber of commerce has entered actively into the fight to bring the local army post trade back to Atlanta and is determined to accomplish this object or know the reason why.

Norfolk, Va., March 12.—The new dreadnaught battleship Texas was placed in commission at the Norfolk navy yard today. Captain A. W. Grant read his orders and addressing the officers and men asked for that spirit of co-operation which would enable the ship to be a success.

As the Texas was docking at the navy yard today upon her arrival from the yards of her builders at Newport News, the tug Dauntless, Captain Martin F. Bradley, was caught in a heavy wash from the Texas, and being thrown against the Dolphin, of the United States receiving ship Richmond, the tug of St. Helena, on the opposite side of the river, the tug turned over. Fortune Kind to Mrs. Long; Her Lost Bonnet Is Returned Fortune was kind to Mrs. Malcolm J. Long, of No. 21 Baltimore place, yesterday in returning her hat which was blown off her head in the terrific wind storm that swept Atlanta last Sunday one week ago. On that Sunday Mrs. Long had been down town attending a church meeting, and after the meeting she was walking up Peachtree street in order to catch a car to her home. Suddenly, the terrific wind caught her hat and swept it out on Peachtree street and in front of the Winecoff hotel she saw her hat blown under the rear end of an outgoing West Peachtree street car, landing on the car's fender, and resting there.

Mrs. Long dismissed the matter from her mind, thinking never again to see her precious bonnet. Her son, Dr. Malcolm J. Long, is manager of the James Drug company branch store at the corner of West Peachtree street and North avenue. As the West Peachtree street car passed by in front of his store that Sunday afternoon, one of his clerks noticed a lady's hat fall from the rear fender, and ran out into the street to get it.

The hat had rested on a counter in the store until Thursday, when Mrs. Long chanced to drop by the store to see her son. With surprise she recognized her hat.

VALUE OF PUBLICITY STRESSED BY LETTON

Good Hotel One of Biggest Advertising Assets for City, Says Ansley Host.

Jack Letton, genial host at the Ansley hotel, spoke hotel publicity at the weekly luncheon of the Ad Club yesterday. His subject was not entirely devoted to publicity, but with sledge hammer emphasis he drove home the point that the right sort of publicity is necessary to the successful promotion of a hotel, also that the hotel is a natural promoter of publicity.

"A hotel is a natural promoter of publicity," Mr. Letton said. "It is claimed that there is no publicity more general, more widespread, more effective than that which is the result of hotel corridor conversation. The great centers of commerce and finance recognize the central importance of our hotels, for in our hotels are often completed transactions of great importance.

"Give a town or a city a good hotel and it will give that town or city a good name. And as a publicity promoter of a city or town a first-class hotel is a success. A wide-awake hotel man can do more for the advancement of his town or city than half a dozen merchants.

Hubert P. Miller, managing director of the Chicago association of commerce, who is in Atlanta for the purpose of making arrangements with the Southern railway for a southern tour of the organization, was a guest of the club, and he delivered a brief address. He told of the coming of the Windy City organization, and said that the brief time he has been in Atlanta has convinced him that his organization will get a cordial welcome.

Police Board "Deadlock" Very Likely to Continue For Number of Months

That the "deadlock" in the police board over the election of a chairman to succeed Carlos Mason, whose term expired last week, will remain unchanged for some months, was clearly indicated yesterday when statements were made by supporters of each of the two remaining candidates, Hugh Vernoy and Robert T. Pace—that they will not yield to the demand for one to withdraw and leave the field to the other candidates.

Mayor Woodward is working silently in the interest of Commissioner Pace. It is understood, but the candidates say they are in the race to stay.

NEW CREMATORY TEST WILL BEGIN THURSDAY

At the request of W. E. Dowd, Jr., sales manager for the New York Dental supply company, Mayor Woodward yesterday requested that the crematory test start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, instead of 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Under the contract between the city and the company the plant must burn 200 tons of refuse in 100 consecutive hours at a cost not to exceed 25 cents per ton, and the boilers must evaporate sufficient steam to generate 1,000 kilowatts of electric current.

Manager Dowd stated Thursday that he believed that the plant will stand the test.

Mayor Woodward stated that Frank Leedie as expert to represent the city, Councilman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, will also be present, but throughout the twenty-four hours of the test as the city's representative Mayor Woodward has placed Fontaine, will represent the board of health which Messrs. Leedie and Primrose will make the tests for the Destructor company.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HURT BY MILITANT WOMEN

New York, March 12.—Militant methods, and especially the latest act of the English militants in smashing the "Hokey Venus," were declared today by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw to be working a great injury to the cause of votes for women in this country.

"In one day the militants can seriously hurt the work of many patient years for us," Dr. Shaw said. "People don't stop to realize how unfair they are. We are no more to blame for the things they do than our men are responsible for the murders in Mexico.

"I wonder why the English militants are ever going to have their eyes opened to the futility of following their present methods. Every place where women have succeeded in getting the vote it has been won by lawful methods."

GREAT FIRE SWEEPS PORTLAND WATER FRONT

Portland, Ore., March 12.—Fire today swept all that section of the Portland water front from the Burnside bridge upper to the lower Albina ferries, destroying the factory of the Portland Manufacturing company, the Montgomery dock No. 1, the steamships Columbia and Glenroy, and much other property, entailing a loss estimated at $1,000,000. POLICE CHIEF SLAYER RUSHED TO ATLANTA

Trial of Forest Adams Postponed Because of Threats of a Lynching.

Forest Adams, who shot and killed Chief of Police W. C. Chivers, of Buckhead, last Saturday night, and afterwards surrendered to the sheriff of Morgan county, when brought into the superior court for trial before Judge J. B. Park, Wednesday afternoon, frightened by angry faces of the spectators, and fearing lynching, had his lawyers request a postponement of trial, and asked that he be sent to the Fulton county jail until reports of a lynching had quieted down.

The sheriff of Morgan county, C. M. Arnold, and Deputy sheriff A. G. Wilson, arrived in Atlanta last night at 7:30 on the Georgia train, with the prisoner in custody. When seen at the depot the sheriff denied that any actual demonstration of violence against the prisoner was made, but admitted that threats of a lynching were heard on the streets and whispered in the courtroom.

Adams is a young man and of a prominent family in Morgan county, his father being a wealthy planter. He is being represented by Attorneys A. G. Foster and B. H. Georgia. The defense claims that Adams shot Chivers in self-defense, and that Chivers was not trying to arrest Adams at the time of the shooting. They claim that the shooting was the result of a long-standing fight between Chivers and the young man.

GEORGIA FARMER DRAGGED TO DEATH BY RUNAWAY MULE

Lyons, Ga., March 12.—Charley Gay, while on his brother's plantation here, died today as a result of being dragged head downward, over a field by a runaway mule.

Gay's feet became entangled in the harness of the mule that he had attempted to ride when the animal threw him from its back. The mule ran for almost a mile, Gay's head hitting the ground at every jump.

LITERACY TEST STAYS IN IMMIGRATION BILL

Washington, March 12.—The much discussed literacy test will remain in the Burnett immigration bill when it is presented to the senate for action. This was decided today by the senate immigration committee, which will report the bill favorably.

It was suggested that the literary test be omitted for fear of a veto, but the majority of the committee men did not believe the president would carry his opposition to that feature so far as to veto the entire bill, which contains much that he is known to favor.

Senators Kern and Gronna, of the committee, reserved the right to offer amendments on the floor. Senator Gronna favored the test.

The provision for American health inspectors on immigrant vessels leaving foreign ports, to which Italy and some other governments objected, was changed to provide that immigrant vessels leaving foreign ports, to which the United States consul objected, was changed to provide that immigrants carrying persons suspected of being deportable on account of illness may be detained after reaching port and the suspected persons confined on board until their cases are determined.

The provision for a head tax of $5 was changed to $5 for each unmarried and $4 for each married alien.

WANT FARE REDUCED ON BUCKHEAD CAR LINE

Mrs. John J. Woodside filed a petition with the railroad commission Wednesday seeking to have the commission reduce the fare charged by the Georgia Railway and Power company beyond Buckhead to the city. At present the company charges 5 cents from the city limits to Buckhead. Beyond Buckhead an additional 5 cents is charged.

The contention is made that at the time the commission authorized this additional charge the section beyond Buckhead was sparsely settled, but that now it is thickly settled; that the residents beyond Buckhead subscribed $25,000 toward the building of the extension.

The petition is signed by 186 residents beyond Buckhead.

SPECIAL RULE FIXED FOR THE TOLLS FIGHT

Washington, March 12.—A special rule for the expeditious consideration of the bill to repeal the Panama tolls exemption was arranged today by the house rules committee. The rule provides for fifteen hours' debate when further discussion will be cut off without intervening motion or amendments.

Speaker Clark indicated he didn't believe that the repeal bill could be called up before Friday or saturday of next week.

RATHER DEAD THAN ALIVE

Deplorable Condition of Lumpkin Lady Whose Troubles Multiplied Until Life Became Almost Unbearable.

Lumpkin, Ga.—Mrs. G. W. Booth, of this place, says: "I suffered with dumb chills and fever and was very irregular. Was also nervous and weak, short of breath, couldn't do my housework without it being a burden and then I began suffering untold misery in my left side and back. I got to where I would rather have been dead than alive.

I tried many remedies, but they failed to help me.

Finally, I purchased two bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and began taking it according to directions. Cardui helped me right away. I believe it saved my life.

I cannot praise Cardui enough to my lady friends. It is certainly the medicine for suffering women and girls."

If you have any of the ailments so common to women, or if you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, we urge you to give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women in its past 50 years of success, as is proven by the numerous enthusiastic letters of gratitude, similar to the above, which come to us every day.

Don't delay. This letter from Mrs. Booth should convince you that Cardui is worth a trial. Get a bottle from your druggist today. You'll never regret it.

Battle Against Tuberculosis Hampered by Lack of Funds; Good Progress Made Last Year

That the work of the Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' association has grown to such proportions that it is greatly handicapped and cramped for lack of funds was brought out in the annual report of President Hugh M. Willet, at the fifth annual meeting of the association Thursday afternoon at the Carnegie library. That in the near future a strong and systematic appeal will be made to the city council for aid was apparent in the discussion which ensued.

All the old officers and directors were re-elected at Thursday's meeting with the exception of Howard S. Cole, first vice president who became, at his own request, a director, and Director Kendall Weisiger, who went from the board of directors to the first vice presidency.

President Willet's Report.

President Willet's report was in part as follows:

"A study of the report will reveal two facts very clearly: First, that there is a tremendous amount of work to be done if Atlanta is to make an adequate fight against tuberculosis; second, that as much encouraging beginning of this work has been made and great good already accomplished in education, in prevention and in relief.

"We are in need of the personal cooperation of citizens who want to do useful service in the community. We are in need of funds with which to do more efficient service. We are in need most of all, of an intelligent interest on the part of all our citizens in local conditions relating to tuberculosis among both whites and negroes. This disease can never be stamped out until, as citizens and employers and servants, we realise its actual menace to our homes and our lives.

Summary.

"Finance—During 1913, pledges to the amount of $3,000 were secured from citizens, to be paid annually until an appropriation can be secured from the city. The county has increased its appropriation from $500 to $600. Arrangements were made with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company by which the company agreed to pay into our hands 25 cents for every visit made by our nurses or physicians to Negro, policy industrial policyholders. The sale of Red Cross seals during the holidays netted the association $2,686.68. We have exceedingly encouraged plans to employ an experienced organizer to conduct the selling campaign, and feel that even better results will be secured by this than next season. Membership of 326 pays into the treasury a total of $245. This amount should be largely increased, and we need a membership of several thousand. It is our purpose to request the churches of the city to contribute 10 cents per capita to our work. We are endeavoring to secure an appropriation from the city of Atlanta.

"Co-operation—The association is gratified to report that it has the active and helpful co-operation of other benevolent and philanthropic organizations in the city. A weekly conference of representatives of the Battle Hill sanitarium, the Associated Charities and this association is held, with excellent results to the work of each of these institutions. We are also co-operating with the Wesley house, Grady hospital, Morris Hirsch clinic, juvenile court, the Orthopaedic clinics and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

"Plans—We are planning to secure a thorough study of the causes and conditions that produce tuberculosis and to do more and better work in the improvement of conditions, especially among the negroes of the city. We are going to stress the matter of getting the negroes to help themselves and to educate their race in sanitation and in disease prevention. We are planning to secure the co-operation of each of the city's anti-spitting ordinance. We plan to do more in the line of educational work among all classes of our citizens, because we are firmly convinced that only through education can we hope to make an effectual fight against the plague of tuberculosis.

"In conclusion, I will say that we are looking forward to a successful year of work. If we can secure the help and the interest of our fellow citizens, we can accomplish great good for the community in the prevention and elimination of a menace that is a tremendous drain upon vital resources.

Reports Are Made.

Other reports were as follows:

Report from educational department, H. S. Cole.

Report from medical department, Theo Toepel, chairman.

Report from relief department, Mrs. H. H. Hale, chairman.

Relation of Battle Hill sanitarium to Anti-Tuberculosis association and functions of each, Dr. Hollis Holmes, M. D., superintendent.

Organization of the retreat in Georgia, by the Raoul foundation, Mrs. F. G. Hodgson, president.

Summing up of all the work and outlook for 1914, Kendall Weisiger.

Officers of Association.

The board of directors and officers were elected as follows:

Directors, Hugh M. Willet, chairman; W. E. Quillian, A. F. Sommerfield, M. M. Memminger, Father Bapler, M. R. Dufee, E. H. Hale, Wade Hardin, R. S. Daley, Miss Rhoda Kauffman, S. W. Foster, Ivan Allen, Jr., Howard S. Cole, Bernard Suttler, Howard S. Cole.

Officers, Hugh M. Willet, president; Kendall Weisiger, first vice president; Mrs. H. W. Salmon, second vice president; Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, third vice president; Miss Rose Lowe, secretary; Henry Davis, treasurer.

SAYS WIFE THREATENED TO TAKE CHILD'S LIFE

Dewitt Knight Declares He Came to Atlanta to Warn Judge Tindall.

DeWitt Knight, of Macon, Ga., now under arrest on the charge made by his wife, Rosa Knight, of throwing carbolic acid in her face, declared Thursday that his wife had come to Atlanta to regain possession of her 10-year-old daughter, Thelma, who is at the Home for the Friendless, and that he has witness to prove that she stated her intentions to kill her child unless she was able to steal it from the home.

Fearing for the safety of his little one, he states that primarily the purpose of his visit to Atlanta, following his wife, was to warn Judge Tindall, of the children's court, of the threats of his wife.

He still ridicules the story told by his wife that he threw the carbolic acid in her face to spoil her beauty. Knight explains the carbolic acid as an attempt on the part of the woman to commit suicide when disappointed in securing her child.

COTTON EXCHANGES ASKED TO CONFERENCE

Augusta, Ga., March 12.—The board of directors of the Augusta cotton exchange met today and passed a resolution inviting all of the southern exchanges to send delegates to a meeting to be held in Augusta the first week in May to discuss the cotton trading proposition.

The following is a copy of the telegram which will be sent to all of the southern exchanges:

"The present agitation concerning the conduct of the cotton trade being a matter of serious consideration, and we of the south being vitally interested in a businesslike solution of the question, it is the purpose of our exchange to call a meeting of the southern exchanges in our city during the first week in May next to carefully consider, and make every reasonable effort to solve or improve existing conditions, consistent with sound business principles. We, therefore, urge your co-operation and acceptance of our invitation by agreeing to have three delegates from your exchange meet with us at the appointed time. We feel that much can be accomplished by an intelligent exchange of opinion. We will appreciate a prompt response and earnestly hope we will have your co-operation."

MISS ELEANOR WILSON ENGAGED TO M'ADOO?

Reported That Treasury Secretary Will Wed President's Youngest Daughter.

Washington, March 12.—Prospects of another white house wedding became more definite today with the persistent renewal of the report that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of the president and Mrs. Wilson, were engaged, the marriage to take place in June.

There was no announcement from the white house and when the attention of officials was called to the report, they refrained from making any comment or denial.

Secretary McAdoo himself said it would be indelicate for him to comment on the subject one way or the other. Nevertheless, official Washington is taking it as a definite fact that another wedding at the white house will be solemnized in June after the adjournment of congress.

Many persons who know Secretary McAdoo well were not surprised at the report because he has been a frequent social visitor at the white house during the last year.

Mr. McAdoo is 50 years old while Miss Wilson is 24. He is a widower and has two children, a son and one daughter being married.

Mr. McAdoo is the builder of the Hudson tunnels, knew the Wilson family before his entry into the cabinet and has been a intimate friend of the president since early in the preconvention campaign.

MAY COTTON LED IN THE ADVANCE

March Lost Part of Its Premium Over May—Market Closed Four to Thirteen Points Up.

New York, March 12.—The feature in the cotton market today was an active demand for May contracts, which led the afternoon advance and closed about 23 points over July. March lost part of its premium over May and, after having sold 60 points over that position in the early trading, closed with a premium of 50 points. Leading spot houses were credited with buying for May, actively on the advance and there was a good scattering of buying for the general list closing steady at a net gain of from 4 to 13 points.

The market showed a somewhat easier tendency during the early trading. Cables were about as due, but after opening steady with an advance of 2 points to a decline of 1 point, prices worked 3 to 6 points lower on the rise of approximately 20 points from the low level of last night, money seemed to attract considerable realizing, while there was also quite a good deal of local selling, based on the talk of an easier technical position, and an idea that buying power had temporarily exhausted. Prices soon steadied, however, on renewed covering and trading the later became more active, owing, apparently, to reports of continued steadiness in southern spots and rumors that there was still a large straddle short interest outstanding in May and July contracts. Closing prices were 2 or 3 points off from the best under realizing. Frosts were reported over Texas temperatures with rain or snow in the eastern belt also attracted attention.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 12.—General buying put the prices of cotton up considerably today, and the early trading to great activity was in evidence, and the market was steady and the demand increased decidedly, much of the buying being done on account of reports coming from the west, count of the low temperatures over the belt, particularly south Texas. As a result the trading months were 4 to 14 points over yesterday's last quotations. The close was steady at a net gain of 4 to 11 points.

Large acreage talk had the effect of holding the market down in the morning, but bears were not very successful in their efforts to depress prices. Improvement to the spot demand was reported by opening quarters and it was claimed that foreign spinners were taking more interest in the remnants of the crop left in the United States.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 12.—(Special:)—While the foreign markets are not showing much to the improvement here yesterday, our market ruled strong, as a result of opening advantages buying. The strength of the March position, together with the small amount of cotton coming here for delivery, has caused considerable uneasiness among those who had anticipated that a weakness in spot cotton would develop in the early month. This failed to materialize and they find little for sale when they attempt to cover. The weather in the south continues unfavorable, with cold weather in the western belt and rain in the eastern belt. This is causing inquiry for the late months, and we look for good support. At the moment, it looks as though the market is in a position to go higher, while quiet in the south, rather than that spots will weaken the market, as it usually has, as has been constantly felt by the trade for some little time would eventually be the case.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, March 12.—(Special.)—The May shorts are getting very nervous and the buying power is increasing with the feature of today. May closed 14 up, while July was up 10 points on the day. May position has been overbought on the short side, and Liverpool is a heavy seller except at very heavy concessions, and the May shorts in the near future are very uncomfortable. Liverpool is due to come 5½ up on the May-June and 3 up on October-November.

The Brazilian coffee market continues bearish, and the market opened weak today, March and May contracting on the break and the Brazilian interests with coffee to sell then bought back and closed the market 2 to 3 points up, much support only makes the technical position of the market all the weaker.

BEARS IN CONTROL OF WHEAT MARKET

Crop Damage Reports Are Denied and Prices Closed Lower—Corn and Oats Also Lower.

Chicago, March 12.—Although wheat at times today made a show of strength, the market ultimately fell under bearish control. Crop damage reports were denied, and there was no scarcity of cash wheat. The close was steady, but ¾ to ⅞@⅞ net lower. Corn suffered a setback of ¾@⅞ to ⅞, and oats of ⅛ to ⅛@⅜ decline. Provisions from the same cause last night to a loss of 3½.

Estimates of the total yield in Kansas alone would run up to the 200,000,000 bushel mark if the winter oats made damage advices seem relatively inconsequential, as of late. The reports of harm were more specific than heretofore, but new instances appeared to be confined almost wholly to Marshall and Nemaha counties in Kansas and to Randolph county, Illinois. As for the winter crop, as a whole, the trade leaned more decidedly than before to the notion that it would improve an important detriment except in spots. Cash wheat sold at full bids for wheat were further out of line today than for some time. It was established that foreign markets were turning out to be of better quality, and that offerings from Russia were becoming more free.

In corn a good deal of selling pressure developed near the end of the session. Reports that receipts of hogs at Kansas City could not be verified, and that the theory that corn would feed chasing here must have been under several cloaks. Receipts, though, in Chicago dropped off, and Illinois country roads were said to be virtually impassable.

Oats lagged from the start. Seeding for the new crop was reported as about complete in Oklahoma and well under way in Kansas.

Trading in provisions was featureless. The temporary bulge done about as a result of higher prices for hogs.

BOYS' HIGH DOWNS MARIST COLLEGE

Final Score 26 to 19—Both Teams Played Sensational Ball—Play Donald Fraser for Championship.

By the score of 26 to 19 Boys' high was returned victor yesterday afternoon over Marist college in the game of basketball. The game was played on the Atlanta Athletic club's court and was sensational throughout, both teams making some great shots from the field.

The first half ended with Boys' high holding the long end of a 10 to 6 score.

Boys' high started off the second half in the second half and ran the score up to 19 before Marist had registered a point.

Johnston Stars.

The individual star of the game was "Sid" Johnston. Johnston started the game in very bad shape, but put up one of the best games that he has played this year. He was all over the court at once and made several sensational shots. Twelve of the twenty-six points made by Boys' high were made by Johnston. Floyd, at guard, also played well for Boys' high.

For Marist, Cocke, at center, and McCall, at guard, put up the best game. McCall broke up numerous passes by Boys' high and did some excellent guarding. Cocke, at center, also played well, guarding Scott well.

Boys' high is now in line to play Donald Fraser for the championship of the local league and the game will, in all probability, be played off some time during this week.

The line-up:

BOYS' HIGH (26)	Pos.	MARIST (19).
Johnston (12)	...Forward...	Dodge (5)
Starr (4)	...Forward...	Harrison (4)
Scott (8)	...Center...	Cocke (2)
Floyd	...Guard...	McCall
Loftin	...Guard...	Hubert (4)

Two points awarded Boys' high by the referee.

Referee Hoyt (A. A. C.). Time of halves, fifteen and twenty minutes. Foul goals, Dodge (3), Scott (2).

A schedule as passed upon by a committee appointed by the league will be presented to the meeting and will be adopted by the members.

All schools that are interested in this organization are urged to have representatives present.

WOULD-BE PURCHASERS OF CUBS TO COMBINE

Chicago, March 12.—Acting on a hint from Charles P. Taft that it would be well if the two groups of capitalists got together, Frank Mayer, representing the Spiegel syndicate, and Phil Conners, head of another group, met today and forsaw a "mutually agreeable combination." Early next week a meeting of the two syndicates will be held here and a definite agreement reached, it was announced.

The suggestion that the Connery interests confer with the Spiegel bidders was made by Mr. Taft yesterday in a telephone conversation with John P. Connery. Mayer was in the Taft office at the time, and rushed back to Chicago in time for a meeting today.

In the announcement given out by Mayer he and Connery said:

"We think we can assure the public that the Cubs will be a Chicago institution."

QUERIES ANSWERED

Under this head, the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.)

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Who pitched the opening game of the season between New York and Boston last season in the National league, and what was the score? T. G. P.

Pugdoe pitched for Boston and Ed Wolter went in for New York, shutting them out 5 to 0. Torreyea and Crandall pitched for New York.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: 1. Who do you consider the best catcher in the Southern league? 2. What was Gabby Street's batting average last season? H. M. B.

1. The question cannot be answered just yet. Last season Harry Chapman, of Atlanta, was the best catcher in the league, but this season cannot be decided just now. 2. Street hit .261 that season.

Gardner Wins.

New York, March 12.—In today's continued play in the national amateur championship billiard tournament, Edward W. Gardner, of the Arlon society, this city, defeated Charles Hendon, of Downsing, Mich., by 400 to 203. Gardner, a former national champion, played a steady game in the first inning for a total of 172, to which Hendon added a run of 94 on his fourth turn, while Hedden gathered only 27. Gardner increased his lead with several runs of double figures later on, and won in the thirty-fifth inning.

No Workouts on Thursday; Visit to the Federal Prison; Three Arrivals, Three Due

By Dick Jemison.

Old man J. P. took a hand in the proceedings Thursday, and as the result neither morning or afternoon workouts were possible at the Crackers' training camp.

Being carefree, some one suggested a trip to the federal prison. It was arranged, and during the afternoon the entire squad of players hiked to see Warden Moyer's men.

Three Arrivals.

Pitcher Hamilton, recently signed by Manager Smith for a trial, arrived during the morning. Hamilton was a free agent, being turned loose by Seattle for failure to report. Two years ago he had a great record in the Texas league.

Pitcher Efird, the big right-hander from the Virginia league, arrived as per schedule. He is touted by every one who has seen him work as a sure candidate for a regular berth.

Infielder Broadwater, the young semi-pro, third baseman from Kingston, Ga., was the third arrival.

First Baseman Hank Ebbie, long overdue, did not arrive yesterday as expected, but he could get in on a late train last night, and it is expected that he will show up at the ball park this morning.

Babe Kissinger, the veteran twirler, with Memphis last season, is also probably en route to the city, and it would not be surprising to see him in uniform this afternoon.

This leaves Pitcher Sindller, the young semi-pro, as the only man to be accounted for. It is understood that he will report at all.

If Sindler does report the Cracker squad will then number twenty-seven men. Ten pitchers, four catchers, eight infielders and five outfielders.

Games Saturday.

Weather permitting, the Crackers will have a stiff workout this morning and this afternoon, the Regulars will line up against the Pepperites in a six-inning battle.

Saturday the first nine-inning game will be played when Manager Smith sends his team against the Tabernacle Baptists.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock, and an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

RED SMITH WILL BE IN CLEAN-UP PLACE

Manager Robinson Likes Atlantan's Manner of Hitting. Batting Order Picked.

Augusta, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Manager Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn Nationals, is so impressed with the hitting ability of Red Smith, the Atlanta boy playing third base, that he has decided to place him in the clean-up position on the batting order.

The Brooklyn manager has also decided on his batting order, as follows: Cutshaw, second base; Daubert, first base; Wheat, left field; Smith, third base; Stengel, right field; Riggert, right field, then the shortstop and the batter(?).

Robbie is confident that this batting order will be more productive of runs than any batting order that the Dodgers have had in several seasons.

EXHIBITION GAMES

Cubs 3, Athletics 2.

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—In a game featured by plays of mid-season brilliancy, the Chicago National league club this afternoon defeated the Philadelphia American league club, world's champions, by a score of 3 to 2. Good's single in the tenth scored Johnson with the winning run.

Both teams showed the effect of some rough stars in the line-up. Baker and Barry were missing from the Athletic line-up, but the playing of Orr and Kopf was brilliant. Otherwise, the Athletic team was weak.

Zimmerman was missing from the Cubs line-up and with the vacancy at second temporarily filled by Phelon until Kenney arrives, the infield play was erratic at times.

Manager Mack was seriously disappointed when Connie Mack failed to come to Tampa with the Athletics. He and Gonzie composed a very famous battery twenty-five years ago.

Score by innings:

Houston 8, Yankees 6.

Houston, Texas, March 12.—The Houston Texas league club today defeated the New York American "regulars" 8 to 6 in a slugging match in which both teams fielded in mid-season form at critical moments.

Score: R. H. E.

Houston	..	8	11	1
New York	..	6	18	1

RAY CHAPMAN OUT FOR MONTH AT LEAST

Athens, Ga., March 12.—Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, who sustained a fractured leg here yesterday while sliding into a base, will be out of the game for at least four weeks. The exact nature of the fracture has not been determined tonight. Only a small bone is broken, but the only interfere with the movement of his leg for some weeks to come. The Cleveland management is thinking of sending him to a bone specialist at Youngstown, Ohio.

CONGRATULATIONS

Today is the birthday of three well-known athletes.

Frank Baker, of home run fame, was born 28 years ago today.

Wallie Smith, the Crackers' hard-hitting infielder, was born 25 years ago today.

Mal Eason, the National league umpire, was born 36 years ago today.

KID YOUNG EASY FOR K. O. EGGERS

New Yorker Too Speedy. Pries and York Also the Winners—Good Card Presented.

Kid Young, the newsboy champion of Atlanta, ran down to defeat behind the skill of Knockout Eggers, of New York, last night at the Georgia Athletic club.

Young was stopped in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout. He was outclassed from the start and it was only a question of time as to how long he would last.

Eggers, in fact, nearly quit. On this point we are not prepared to say, but if this same plane and being handled the beating that he was getting, we believe that we would have nursed a soft spot in the canvas at that.

Myer Price won by a mile over Spider Britt in the semi-windup. Price and All Britt did was cover up and occasionally make out with a right or left hook that did little, if any, damage. It is said that Britt has gone back.

The six-round go between Kid Henry and Kid York proved to be a bear. It was while it lasted. Henry broke his right hand in the first round and was helpless until Referee Castro stopped the bout in the fourth—considerable move.

Young Singles amused in the opener. As a whole, the card was very entertaining and a good crowd apparently got their money's worth. It looks like the Georgia Athletic club is here to stay. A little better seating arrangement would help at the next show.

BO WILLIAMS NAMED COACH AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, March 12.—Henry Hudson Williams today was appointed athletic coach at the St. Louis university to succeed Fred Dennis.

Williams was star fullback of the Vanderbilt eleven from 1907 to 1910 and formerly sporting editor of The Nashville Banner.

"Bo," as he is known in this section, coached the Georgia football team for several seasons.

SOCCER FOOTBALL.

Out-of-Town Teams Want Games With Locals.

With the league drawing to a very successful close, and only a couple of games to be played and the Lithonia team already the champions, there will not be very much more by way of sport this year, and another fortnight will see the league schedule complete and inter-city games being played.

Coming several challenges issued to the local boys is one from Nelson, Ga., where a fine team has been developed all this winter. The boys there are after the scalps of the locals and a game with them in the near future will be a treat. Birmingham, Pensacola, Auburn and other teams are after games and some of them will be played either here or in the other cities. Anything good team can be sent from the local league and one that will give the best of them a favorable battle.

Following early departure of Eddie Worrell to Albany, N. Y., the local soccer colony will lose one of its most valued members. Mr. Worrell has decided to give up his spare time to the interests of the game, not alone in his own club, but in the school league, which he organized and brought to a most successful conclusion, and in the work of the Georgia State league, of which he was secretary.

Eddie will leave with the heartiest wishes of all the scorpsiths and a host of other friends who will be sorry to see him leave, but as there is every indication that he will be back here in the spring on a visit of rather short duration, but of great importance, his many friends will have an opportunity to see him. He takes a position with and (in all confidence) congratulations will be strictly in order.

NATIONAL LIFE BARRED FROM IOWA BUSINESS

Des Moines, Iowa, March 12.—John L. Bleakley, auditor of state, today revoked the license of the National Life Insurance company, thereby preventing the company from writing further business in Iowa. The revocation was recently instituted by Attorney General Cosson to compel the registration of Henry Pyle, president of the company.

It was stated at the auditor's office that the act of cancelling the National's license will not affect policies now on the books to the extent of $30,000,000. It was said the company recently declared valid policies aggregating $5,850,000. Since May, 1913, on the ground that they did not comply with the state laws.

WAITS FOR HIGH COURT TO DEFINE MANN ACT

Meridian, Miss., March 12.—Federal Judge Niles today refused to sentence Wiley W. Jackson, who had pleaded guilty of violating the Mann white slave act, but showed to the satisfaction of the court that he had not been guilty of commercialized vice. Sentence was deferred until the next term of court, and Jackson was freed on bail of $1,000.

In commenting on the case from the bench, Judge Niles is quoted as saying:

"A case is now pending before the United States supreme court which will determine whether the Mann act is to be construed to only prevent commercialized vice or whether it applies to any other immoral purpose. I will be guided by that decision at the next term of court."

Jackson, 50 years old, and married, pleaded guilty to bringing Alma Davis from Selma, Ala., to Meridian for immoral purposes.

RITCHIE IS WINNER IN WOLGAST FIGHT

Lightweight Champion of the World Earns a Shade Over Former Champion in a Ten-Round Bout.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 12.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, earned a shade over Ad Wolgast, former champion, in their ten-round bout here tonight.

The champion outboxed the Michigan boy in five rounds, and in the seventh had Wolgast backing away from his punches. Wolgast took one knee when Ritchie landed a shower of blows on his stomach and took the count of four. He later rushed at the champion, but Ritchie danced away.

Twice during the bout Wolgast was warned by Referee Grant for his rough work in clinches. In the eighth and ninth and tenth Ritchie clearly outboxed the former champion.

Fierce Fighting in Tenth.

Wolgast rushed at Ritchie at the opening of the tenth and sent his right and left to Ritchie's face and body, but Ritchie did not give ground and met Wolgast with right and left jabs to the jaw. Both boys were fighting fiercely when the bell rang.

Wolgast was fouled in the seventh, when the champion delivered a hard blow to the Michigan's body, according to a statement by Dr. C. A. Mosher, a member of the boxing commission, after Wolgast went to his dressing room and underwent an examination. It was the opinion of the physician that Wolgast fell on one knee, taking the count.

As it is against the Wisconsin law to render a decision, the result only can be announced. Ritchie received the decision of four newspaper writers. Two Milwaukee morning papers call the contest a draw, while all the Chicago papers, except one, the Cleveland Leader, give Ritchie a shade. The single Chicago paper called it a draw.

Little Time in Sparring.

When the champion and the ex-champion came to the center of the ring for the first round they wasted little time in sparring for openings. Wolgast bored into close quarters immediately and followed the champion willing to meet him at that game. Wolgast got a shade the better of the first round, playing largely for Ritchie's body.

The champion's left jab was much in evidence, but Ad covered well. Ritchie increased the pace in the second, which was his round, and had the Michigan boy's mouth bleeding at the close when he landed a right swing to the jaw and followed with right and left to the face. Wolgast rushed in the third and was even, with Ritchie sending swift short jabs to Ad's face and the former champion playing for the body.

Wolgast, crowding to close quarters had the better of the fourth and fifth rounds. Ritchie's jabs and hooks to the head did not stop him, and he landed several hard rights and lefts to the Californian's body, one of the latter's occasional jab to the face. Ritchie, however, had the fifth decided by a good margin. Wolgast missed several hard swings, and the Californian smothered his rival with a fusillade of snappy punches in the head during the round with a stinging right to Ad's nose.

Checks Wolgast's Rush.

Ritchie continued to hold the lead in the ninth. His blows were the cleaner, and he landed oftener than Wolgast, who was warned for rough work in the clinches.

Wol... it made a desperate effort in the tenth, and held the champion even on points, but his blows seemed to lack steam. Ritchie staggered him with a right uppercut.

RICH MAN IS RESTORED TO LEGAL COMPETENCY

San Francisco, Cal., March 12.—Walter A. McCreery, millionaire polotist, was restored to his legal competency today by Superior Court Judge Frank Dunne, when McCreery's attorney informed the court that E. R. McNab, McCreery's guardian, and all of the relatives were willing to withdraw their objections to such procedure.

McCreery was declared incompetent in the superior court here April 21, 1913, and the control of his large inherited estate was taken from him. This was after he had spent some time in an English sanitarium, had sued his wife for divorce and had threatened to write a novel of real life, telling all he knew about Burlingame, Cal., society folk.

After unsuccessful attempts to make a legal escape from confinement, McCreery last October fled from his ranch near Hollister, Cal., where he had been held in custody. He went to London, was pronounced competent by the English courts and returned here February 5 last to regain his legal right for a restoration of his rights.

ALL SORTS OF FRAUD CHARGED TO SIEGEL

There Is Said to Be Material for at Least Fifty More Indictments.

New York, March 12.—Orders closing the two big New York department stores operated by Henry Siegel and his partners were issued today by the federal court. Judge Hough directed that the receivers appointed December 30, when the Siegel enterprises went into bankruptcy, receive bids for the stock and assets of these stores. The Fourteenth street store and the Simpson Crawford store, among the largest in the United States, are affected by the court order.

What the district attorney's office described as "material for at least fifty indictments" charging fraud against Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel, president and vice president respectively of the Siegel Stores corporation, three indictments and are now at liberty under $5,000 bail each, was said to be in the hands of the grand jury today.

More Indictments to Come.

Assistant District Attorney Arthur C. Train said that as many indictments as the ends of justice seemed to require would be found against the merchant-bankers. Those already found charge violation of the banking laws and grand larceny in making false statements to obtain credit. The grand larceny indictment is based only on the sale of the Fourteenth street store of this city and the Henry Siegel & Co. store in Boston, Mass., in connection with it. The affairs of the Fourteenth street store are the indictment "are typical of the affairs of other deep enterprises."

Conviction on the indictment charging violation of the banking laws is what Siegel and Vogel accepted deposits when they knew the bank to be insolvent is punishable by fine and imprisonment for five years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000. For the grand larceny charge the men may be sentenced to ten years in prison and fined $10,000.

Basis of Indictments.

District Attorney Whitman said the grand larceny indictment was based on the statements of two secretaries employed by Siegel, who testified that false statements were prepared for merchants and bankers that liabilities were turned into assets and that approximately $1,500,000 of money deposited in the Siegel private bank was placed into the retail business while it was losing money.

Additional indictments alleging that the two men accepted deposits when they knew the bank to be insolvent may be based upon testimony of individual depositors. Every deposit accepted by the bank for a period of over a year, it is claimed, can be made the basis of a separate indictment. It will take several days for the grand jury to go over the material at hand.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA IN SOUTH AMERICA

Berlin, March 13.—Systematic effort to spread German propaganda throughout South America will be made today when it was announced that a party of German agricultural experts will leave for that continent in the autumn on a study trip. The travelers are members of the German Agricultural society.

They will pay particular attention to conditions in Argentina, but will also visit Chile, Brazil, Uruguay and Paraguay.

The scheme is a sequel to the very successful cruise of Prince Henry of Prussia, now on their way to South America, to the cruise of the German super-dreadnaughts Kaiser and Koenig Albert.

"JOY RIDING" FOUGHT BY SENATOR WILLIAMS

But the Mississippi Statesman Got Little Aid From His Colleagues.

Washington, March 12.—Senator John Sharp Williams made an unsuccessful fight in the senate today to check what he called government extravagance in the purchase of automobiles for "joy riding purposes." The question came up in the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill to provide automobiles for the district commissioners.

Senator Williams suggested this was a good place to start a much needed reform. It was a public scandal, he said, the extent to which the government had gone into the purchase of automobiles for cabinet officers and department heads, who, as far as government business was concerned, had no use for them except to come to their work and go home again. He used the street cars himself, he added, and found them quite good enough.

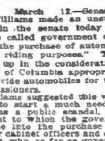

For public servants whose business could be expedited by the use of automobiles the senator advocated increases in salary sufficient to enable them to buy machines.

Senator Gallinger remarked that he had often been mud-spattered by a government machine driven by a department clerk and Senator Lodge admitted that the government had gone "pretty far" in the automobile buying industry, but both thought the district commissioners ought to have what they required.

Senator Williams' amendment to eliminate provision for the commissioners' machines was voted down.

De Oro Keeps Title.

New York, March 12.—Alfredo De Oro, holder of the world's championship three-cushion billiard title, successfully defended his right to that honor tonight by defeating Fred Damos, of Denver, by a score of 50 to 43 in 96 innings. The total score for the three nights of play was De Oro, 150; Eames, 107.

Get the Personal Touch

The man who buys an automobile without riding in it first—without taking the wheel himself—without getting the personal touch and the definite knowledge of power that it brings—is buying with his eyes shut and taking a long chance.

Why don't you follow the Mitchell plan—get your experience before you buy and risk nothing, rather than pay for your experience afterwards and have absolutely no redress?

We don't want anybody to buy a Mitchell without the preliminary personal experience. We are tremendously in earnest about this, yet we are entirely safe because the 1914 models will answer every demand you make upon them. They will prove themselves. They are better than a ton of advertising and big words.

After you get the personal touch and demonstration, ask about the details. But ride and drive first.

Here is the Equipment for all the Mitchell Models Which is Included in the List Prices:

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Encouraging to realty men were the indications of a spirit of getting down to business evident at the meeting of the street committee of council yesterday afternoon.

The gangs of the county for street work were taken up by the committee, and the Cherokee avenue work was decided upon first for the reason that the asphalt plant is already located there and to move it to other work and take it back again would involve the expenditure of several thousand dollars.

It is understood, however, that the proposition of widening Peachtree at "the neck of the bottle" and the finishing of improvements on Whitehall and Forsyth streets will be taken up as early as possible and other work will follow right along.

Real Estate Sales.

W. R. Brown, of Fort Valley, has purchased the Dunlap house, at 405 Peachtree street, for a consideration of $90,000, giving in as part payment a vacant lot, 75x80, on Poplar street, opposite the postoffice, valued at $35,000. The Dunlap property is 67x70. This is the third time this property has changed hands recently.

Miss Eva Miller, of the Edgein P. Ansley agency, and Sam Swift, of Porter & Swift, have sold for an investor to Mrs. Ida Hill, a lot 50x132, on the south side of Edgewood avenue, east of Piedmont street, for $4,000, or $100 a front foot.

T. J. L. Pring has sold for a customer to A. J. Slaton a house and lot at No. 37 Stokes avenue, in West End park, for $8,000. The house is a two-story and a half bungalow on a lot 50x200.

VANDALISM OF WOMEN ALARMS GREAT BRITAIN

Many Public Buildings Closed. Slasher of the Venus Gets Six Months.

London, March 12.—The vandalism of the militant suffragettes caused the closing today of a great many public buildings in addition to those which locked their doors yesterday. The Victoria and Albert museum, the crypt and galleries of St. Paul's cathedral, the royal stables at Buckingham palace and the charterhouse were among those affected.

Popular resentment in connection with suffragette outrages were reflected again today in parliament. A number of members urged Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, not to release such a dangerous character as May Richardson, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for damaging the "Rokeby Venus." Premier Asquith announced that he was making an inquiry into the question of the best way of protecting the nation's art treasures.

Miss Richardson has been on a "hunger strike" since her arrest.

Addressing Judge Albert Wallace, who presided over the court, Miss Richardson, after her conviction, said:

"I am an art student, but I care more for justice than for art. I firmly believe that when the nation has shut its eyes to justice and has allowed women who are fighting for justice to be maltreated and tortured, such an action as mine should be understandable.

"The slow and premeditated murder of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is the ultimatum which has made necessary the recent acts of her followers. The nation seems to be dead or asleep, for we women have knocked vainly at the doors of ministers, bishops and archbishops and even of the king himself.

"I know that you will sentence me, I can stand only a few months' torture, but my fate makes little difference. I am really a grateful and happy woman because I have been able to live in a century in which Mrs. Pankhurst lived and because in a slight measure I have tried to carry out what I believe in."

The charge against the prisoner was "malicious damage to a picture."

Sea thou, Master, how the yellow
Garments of the fig-tree fall
Softly o'er the garden wall—
Each light leaflet like its fellow

Gleaming, dreaming in the moat,
Like feluccas of the Nile.

DROPPING OF MURPHY SCORED BY LITTLETON

New York, March 12.—The action of the board of governors of the National Democratic club in dropping Charles F. Murphy and other Tammany men from membership was severely criticised today by ex-Congressman Martin W. Littleton, in a letter to the president of the club. Mr. Littleton is himself a democrat.

In answer to his letter and others from the sixty-five who were dropped from membership, Judge Edward P. O'Dwyer, president of the club, replied that any member who is delinquent in his dues is dropped automatically from membership, and that reinstatement is at the discretion of the board of governors.

"So far," said Judge O'Dwyer, "fifteen of the sixty-five have applied and will be reinstated. But Mr. Murphy and Foley, Plunkitt, Darlington, Gaffney and Siegel will not be accepted."

The Siegel referred to is Henry Siegel, the indicted banker. Foley, Plunkitt, Darlington and Gaffney are members of Tammany hall.

HE GOES TO GALLOWS AT HIGH NOON TODAY

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—Deserted by his attorneys, Dennis Henson, convicted of the murder of his wife in the street here last August, has given up hope of escaping the gallows between 9 o'clock and noon. During the trial a dagger was discovered on Henson's person, following an alleged threat he had made that he proposed to "kill Prosecuting Attorney George F. Rainey. His attorneys refused to take anything more to do with his case following his conviction.

The chief evidence against Henson was that his wife, Ethel Henson, was shielding, begging for mercy, shot to death. Henson claimed it was not he who fired the shot, alleging mistaken identity. His last request was that he be allowed to take a long automobile ride with no other passenger but he and the sheriff.

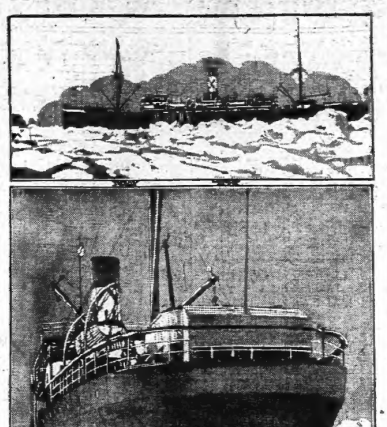

HE'S HELD PRISONER ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—Joseph S. Umberger, ticket-taker at a local theater, who was married Wednesday, March 4, to Miss Carlotta Wickenberg, of Savannah, was arrested tonight and is being held at police station on the charge of bigamy.

His first wife and child are living with her mother at the 238 North Fourth street, Newark, N. J.

Umberger, it is alleged, was married to his first wife in Jacksonville. They lived in Savannah for some time several years ago. He deserted her, it is claimed, and she returned to the home of her parents in Newark, with their child, where she has been since the separation.

Steamers Caught in Ice Packs

TWO VIEWS OF STEAMER FROZEN IN ICE.

So severe has the winter been this year at sea that not only has there been an unusual number of wrecks from storms, but steamers which ply in northern waters are reported to have been caught in the ice and frozen fast. Such a fate befall the big naval tug Potomac. Another case was that of the steamship C. D. Pashington, long overdue at Louisburg, N. S., which was frozen in an ice pack off the southern coast of Cape Breton. Four of the crew were picked up off the ice near Gaulx Island, according to the report, suffering from cold and exposure.

HORNETS STIRRED BY ALLEGED WORDS

United States was "English-led and English-ruled, and that the obligation of government and civilization rest with the people who speak the language of Shakespeare."

Ambassador Page Surprised.

London, March 12.—Walter Hines Page, United States ambassador, was much surprised when told today of the senate resolution in connection with his speech last night. He declined to discuss the matter until he had received an official demand for an explanation. He put the question to the interviewer:

"The speech was innocent enough, wasn't it?"

Asked whether objection might be taken to the sentence of his speech, referring to the Panama canal, Mr. Page replied that that was a pleasantry.

The ambassador's remarks were extemporaneous, and no verbatim reports were made. The London newspapers differ slightly in the wording of the ambassador's remarks regarding Panama and Central American investments.

Ambassador Page said the most accurate report of his speech was contained in The Daily Telegraph, from which the essential parts are quoted verbatim as follows:

"The people of the United States regarded the British empire as the guardian of freedom in all parts of the world and as a promoter of trade.

"He would not say that the United States had constructed the Panama canal for the British people, but it added greatly to the pleasure of building it that the British people would make the most profit out of it.

"He could say a similar thing about the recent lowering of the American tariff. It was not lowered in order to please the British people, but because it was considered economically sound. Nevertheless, it added to the pleasure of doing it when he reflected that America would thereby receive more trade from this country.

Anglo-American Trade.

"Mr. Page here made a lengthy reference to the trading between England and America, especially in cotton, about which he said:

"I hope in future it will be sent here in better grading and better shape."

The ambassador proceeded that he wished to correct an impression about the attitude of the United States government concerning British investments in states in Central America, with volcanic tendencies. His sometimes read that the United States was entering upon a policy to discourage foreign investments. There was a policy forming in the mind of the American government, which was not new, that would discourage investments or such concessions as would carry with them control of the government of any of those states and only that.

"It was not the business of the United States to put any let or hindrance upon any investments anywhere in the world, provided only that the investments were not made on that they took the country with them.

"The Monroe doctrine meant only that no European governments should gain any more land in the new world.

"Mr. Page then made numerous reference to Englishmen taking big prizes from Americans for their virtues, marrying American heiresses, benefiting by the expenditures of American tourists, etc. He said:

"You complain of our rapacity, but you take our money."

"You show your covetous shrewd traders, for we get only a little English history in broken pieces for all our expenditure."

British Commerce and Peace.

"In concluding, the ambassador said that next to free government, which fell to his birth in the United Kingdom, the greatest fact in the whole world was the colossal structure of British commerce that bound all parts of the earth together and made men know one another and, therefore, become more reasonable and more peaceful."

The Times quotes Ambassador Page, after his references to Panama and the tariff, as following:

"Concerning the recent message of President Wilson he could say the same. He delivered it not merely to inform the people of the United States, to express the true sentiment and self-respect of the American nation for every true American."

The Pall Mall Gazette, in an editorial note on Ambassador Page's speech, says:

"The American ambassador made two statements about American policy, which were pleasing to the British ear—first, that the president spoke the mind of the American people in the Panama message, and, second, that the United States views with no unfriendly eye any commercial investments in the Central American republics by foreigners, unless they are likely to involve political control. The United States is perfectly right to set its face against the latter."

FIRE DOES BIG DAMAGE TO GRAIN WAREHOUSE

The T. H. Brooks & Co. grain warehouse, on Marietta street, suffered a fire last night about 10 o'clock that brought damage estimated by a member of the firm at between $15,000 and $20,000. The loss, however, was entirely covered by insurance. The building is supposed to have caught from sparks coming from a switch engine. The damaged goods consisted of flour, hay and seed oats.

The Brooks company, however, will be able to carry on their regular business through their warehouse at East Point, which will temporarily fill the orders of the Atlanta house.

Community Concern.

Housing reform applies not only to tenements but to the single-family dwelling also, according to John Ihlder, field secretary of the National Housing association. Writing in The Survey, he says:

"We have learned that bad housing may be found not only in the single-family shacks, but even in what is styled a single-family residence. Just as it was found impossible to draw a valid distinction between an 'apartment house,' so is it impossible to draw one between shack and residence.

"The new conception of what a city dwelling should be required to provide for its inhabitants runs counter to some established customs.

"When public health authorities, anti-tuberculosis associations, memorial efficiency commissions, fire departments, life and casualty insurance companies, and a score of other agencies, public, semi-public and private, find that their efforts to secure any substantial improvement lead inevitably to the dwellings of the people, then the providing of those dwellings ceases to be a purely private affair and becomes in large degree a community affair.

"So our cities are coming to understand that upon them rests the responsibility of seeing that every dwelling provides at least a minimum of sanitation, light, air, privacy and safety from fire.

"In New York city, in New Jersey, in Columbus, in Duluth—wherever an advance in housing legislation has been made, there has been this opposition based on the fear that it would check building. And in every case experience has shown that instead it stimulated building.

"And the new buildings of higher type reduced those other and expensive social problems which have their root in unwholesome dwellings."

Von Coboly to Write Book of Impressions Of Criminals in U. S.

Andon von Coboly, the Hungarian nobleman and talented pianist, sleeping in Atlanta at the Georgian Terrace, declares his intention of writing a book soon on "American Impressions," gained by him while studying the faces of the criminals of this country. The Baron early visited the Fulton criminal court and frequently talks with the criminals there.

He states that he is deeply interested in American criminal laws and in our penal system. The baron and a party of friends motored out to the federal prison at dinner time yesterday and the baron requested the warden to be allowed to play the piano for the prisoners during lunch hour. While the prison has no piano, he interested in the effect his music made upon the inmates of the prison.

MELLEN IS FIGHTING MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Bridgeport, Conn., March 12.—Proceedings against Charles Mellen, formerly president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, charged with manslaughter as a result of the Westport wreck in 1912, took an unexpected turn in the superior court today when counsel for Mr. Mellen entered a motion for the "discharge of the prisoner at the bar." State's Attorney Hull and principal counsel for procedure. He was prepared to ask Judge Tuttle for permission to file new information against Mr. Mellen, this being made necessary because the court previously had sustained a demurrer that there was insufficient information in the original complaint.

Judge Tuttle, after hearing oral arguments on motion for Mr. Mellen's discharge and for the filing of an amended complaint, ordered briefs filed and announced he would render his decision next Tuesday.

Homer S. Cummings, chief counsel for Mr. Mellen, based his motion for Mr. Mellen's discharge by asking for a formal judgment on the demurrer sustained by the court this week. If this motion is granted it means that Mr. Mellen will not face trial. If it is denied, the state's attorney probably will be granted permission to file a new information. Then counsel for Mr. Mellen will have an opportunity to attack the complaint by again demurring or moving to quash.
