WILLING TO HELP DETECTIVE BURNS, ASSERTS LANFORD

"Members of My Force Perfectly Willing to Submit to Quiz on Phagan Case," He Tells Constitution.

BURNS HAS LONG TALK WITH FRANK IN TOWER

The Well-Known Detective Hopes to Have Interview in a Few Days With Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey.

Within a few hours after it had been learned that Detective William J. Burns would seek to quiz every detective at police headquarters who worked on the Mary Phagan murder, Chief of Detectives Newport A. Lanford declared to a reporter for The Constitution that he would co-operate with Burns, if necessary.

Lanford stated that there would be no objection to Burns' proposed interrogation of men of the detective bureau who worked on the Phagan mystery. Instead, he averred, every resource of the police headquarters department will be tendered the noted sleuth.

"I will throw open to Burns all information available to my department," stated the chief. "If there is anything the Atlanta detective department has overlooked, we will gladly assist. We want to find it out. If there is any mystery remaining, it is our ambition to fathom it. If Burns needs us to help him do it, we are at his service."

Will Interview Detectives.

Burns will likely quiz a number of Chief Lanford's men, either today or tomorrow. He has made no definite plans, it is said, along this line. He is busy at present mapping out his plan of campaign.

Albert McKnight, the state witness whose sensational repudiation was recently contained in an affidavit now possessed by the defense, made his first statement Monday afternoon, when he talked for the first time since his injuries, with Dr. Thomas Hancock, his attending physician. McKnight declares he was not trying to swing from a rain wheel, but that he had been struck while walking along the track.

Furthermore, Dr. Hancock states, the negro declared he was not hurt at Roseland, near which place his body was found, but was struck near the McDaniel street viaduct crossing, which is in the city. Dr. Hancock says the negro told him that he had not been away from Atlanta, as was suspected, but had remained in the city in the employ of a patent medicine salesman.

Dr. Hancock says that it is probable that the negro does not recollect the exact cause of the accident, as many persons who have been rendered unconscious by a blow, frequently forget events preceding the injury.

Will Interview Lanford.

Burns will likely seek a conference with Chief Newport A. Lanford some time today—or, perhaps, tomorrow. Among those he intends to interview will be John Black, headquarters' principal figure in "the white" plumbe, Detectives Pat Campbell and John Starnes.

Campbell and Starnes were named as prosecuting the bill of indictment returned by the grand jury against Frank.

Among others whom Burns expects to talk with at police headquarters are Detectives J. A. Chewning and W. H. Norris, the two sleuths accused by Nina Formby of having coerced her into swearing in an affidavit to an untrue story against the convicted superintendent.

Will Interview Dorsey.

He is likewise going to interview Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey and private investigators attached to the solicitor's staff. He is planning to confer with every man in Atlanta who was connected in any manner with the Phagan investigation.

He held a lengthy talk with the prisoner in the Tower last night. During Monday afternoon he was closeted with Leonard Haas, counsel for the defense, in the Haas offices, where he went thoroughly over the brief of evidence submitted by Frank's counsel at the application for a new trial before the supreme court.

Burns' plan to quiz the police headquarters' detectives creates interesting speculation. Police officials have stated in the past, however, that the great detective, in event he convinced them that he was seeking nothing but the truth, would receive their full co-operation.

It has been said by a member of the detective bureau that Chief Lanford has recently unearthed certain evidence that will be valuable to the prosecution in event of possible future complications. Some of this evidence, it is said, is in refutation of an amount of newly discovered evidence possessed by Frank's defense.

It is stated that evidence bearing on the story of Mrs. J. S. Simmons, of Birmingham, whose sensational affidavit was disclosed some few days ago, is in the hands of the headquarters' detectives. Chief Lanford will neither deny nor affirm the statement that he has additional evidence of such nature.

Confident of Success.

"I have no doubt but that my associates and I will be able to name the murderer of Mary Phagan," Burns told newspaper reporters Monday. "I am bringing my most expert assistants to work on the case, and I have no hesitation in saying that they are the most capable in America.

"There is no mystery so mysterious that it cannot be solved. I am confident that we can clear up this case.

PUBLISHERS' MEET WILL CLOSE TODAY

Delegates Entertained at a Brilliant Banquet Last Night—Jason Rogers Urges Honesty in Advertising.

One of the most distinguished organizations that had ever visited Atlanta, will close its sessions in Atlanta today when the Southern Publishers' association adjourns its two-day gathering at the Hotel Ansley this afternoon, after electing officers and selecting a city for the meeting of the publishers next year.

Two meetings, climaxed by a brilliant banquet last night at the Piedmont Driving club, brought to a close the first day's business.

Today two sessions will be held, one at 10 o'clock this morning in the parlors adjacent to the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Ansley, and the other this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the same place.

The publishers of Dixie gathered last night at 7 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving club for their annual banquet. Major John Cohen, of The Atlanta Journal, presided at toastmaster.

Addresses of Evening.

The following made speeches: Clark Howell, Jason Rogers, of New York; Victor Hanson, of Birmingham; John Temple Graves, F. W. R. Hannah, of Jacksonville; William J. Burns, the detective, of New York city; Joseph Mitchell Chappelle, of Boston, the well-known magazine editor; W. T. Anderson, of Macon; Marshall Ballard, of New Orleans, and L. N. Foster, of Nashville.

The keynote of the dinner at the Driving club was informality. The speeches of the evening were for the most part bantering in tone, and during one or two moments, savored of jollification and a throwing aside of business worries and publication problems.

Today's sessions will embrace the election of officers for the new year and the selection of the city where the next gathering of the publishers will be held. A close canvass last night disclosed the fact that Jacksonville led the race for securing the next convention of the newspaper men of the south by several votes.

One of the interesting events of the dinner at the Driving club was the interpolated remarks of Detective William J. Burns, here to probe the Frank mystery.

Detective Burns for the most part reviewed his recent lecture here in his speech, but deviated from his set speech when he declared that his work had called him here to investigate "a conspiracy in which the community was vitally interested."

"And," said the wily sleuth, "these mysteries I find, usually prove to be no mysteries at all—simply unrolled clews which lead to the real solution of the problem."

Clever Repartee.

The set speeches of last evening, soon after the dinner had been served, soon resolved themselves into clever retorts following shafts of wit buried at the speakers by the toastmaster. The program was carried out, however, with the exception of the speech of Frank P. Glass, who was unable to attend the dinner. Mr. Glass was ably represented by Victor Hanson, of The Birmingham News.

Major K. D. Stahlman was also absent, but Joseph Chappelle, of Boston, more than acceptably filled the niche left vacant.

One of the surprise events of the evening was the souvenir program presented to the diners by the committee in charge of the dinner. The program, a four-page affair, was bound in a matrix form and gave a list of the evening's speakers, as well as the menu.

Those present at the dinner were: R. S. Carver, Robert W. Swift, B. C. Broyles, Dudley Glass, John B. Gallagher, J. T. Milligan, W. R. Schwartz, Robert S. Jones, W. J. Pattison, W. C. Dowd, F. C. Withers, Walter C. Johnson, Elmer E. Clarke, Victor H. Hanson, Hon C. Seitz, S. E. Murray, Edgar M. Foster, George A. McClellan, Robert T. Small, Keats Speed, W. T. Anderson, James R. Holliday, P. A. Anderson, C. W. Wescott, Marshall Ballard, Charles M. Atkinson, Earnest Birmingham, G. J. Aner, John A. Brice, W. W. McCulloch, R. L. Hood, Jr., John A. Park, R. L. Bouis, G. P. Brown, A. E. Clarkson, James J. Smith, William E. Mansfield, J. A. Davis, Evelyn Harris, W. W. Hollender, Joe Mitchell Chappelle, St. Elmo Massengale, J. E. McKitchen, J. W. Brown, P. T. Barbour, G. M. Kohn, J. R. Gray, A. T. Graves, H. H. Cabiniss, F. W. R. Hinman, T. W. Loyless, Clark Howell, William J. Burns, W. L. Halsey, John S. Cohen.

Monday's speeches embraced addresses from the following: Don C. Seitz, manager of The New York World; Jason Rogers, publisher of The New York Globe; J. M. Thompson, of The New Orleans Item; W. L. Halstead, of The Atlanta Constitution, and several others.

The sessions of the convention today will be held morning and afternoon in the parlors adjacent to mezzanine floor, Hotel Ansley. About fifty delegates from sixteen southern states registered for the convention on Monday.

The program of Monday was somewhat interfered with on account of the

CLUB ORGANIZED BY AUTO OWNERS

Frank C. Battey Will Head New Organization, Which Plans Big Work for Machines and Good Roads.

The Automobile Club of Georgia was launched with plans for the future that will benefit every owner of a motor-driven vehicle, at an enthusiastic gathering yesterday at the Ansley hotel of automobile owners from various points in Georgia. Frank C. Battey, an enthusiastic automobile owner and good roads worker of Savannah, Ga., was nominated for president of the state-wide club. George D. McCutcheon, Atlanta, was chosen first vice president, and William Mauldin, treasurer. The selection of a secretary will be left to the officials.

The next meeting will be held in Atlanta on April 7, when vice presidents and a board of governors will be selected from the different cities in Georgia.

A number of out-of-town people were present, including J. E. Finney, Savannah, Ga.; D. M. Lyons, Augusta, Ga.; G. W. Owens, Albany, Ga.; Charles L. Davis, Warm Springs, Ga., and others.

The first lady member to enroll was Mrs. J. E. Finney, of Savannah, Ga., and it is expected that every lady owning an automobile will join.

Among the prominent local automobile owners who took an active work in the organization were John K. Ottley, Harvey Hill, William Mauldin, R. K. Rambo, St. Elmo Massengale and Wallace W. Daniel.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE WILL MEET ON APRIL 4

Tentative Date for Meeting Here Selected by Chairman Harris.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 16.—(Special.)—Chairman William J. Harris, of the state executive committee, has practically decided upon Saturday, April 4, as the date for the meeting of the committee in Atlanta. He has heard from two-thirds of the membership in reply to his recent letter of inquiry as to what date would be most satisfactory to them. Nearly all say that any date between April 1 and April 15 would be acceptable.

Quite a number of the members of the committee are lawyers, however, and some have cases in court on Monday, April 6, which would make it inconvenient for them to be in Atlanta early that week.

By fixing Saturday, April 4, as the date, the members could leave their homes on Friday, attend the meeting and be back for business the following Monday morning.

Unless the members of the committee not yet heard from have arguments to advance which appear convincing, the chairman will issue a call some time later in the week for April 4.

Snake on Rampage Throws Big Shock Into "Black Way"

Now, in the beginning, let this much be said:

It honestly was a real, legitimate snake.

You should be apprised of this, for the sole fact that it was seen on Decatur street in the vicinity of a saloon might create doubt.

This 11-year-old Texas rattler, with Mexican relatives by marriage, was as large in circumference as the forearm of a plump chorus girl, and about three times as long, although the saloonist across the street said it was longer.

It had been reposing peacefully in the window of a drug store at Piedmont avenue and Decatur street, assisting other snakes in advertising a patent medicine being put on sale by Dr. B. W. Nedman. Suddenly and without warning the rattler began to buzz.

Dr. Nedman sprang from the window, barely escaping the fangs of the snake as it struck. The reptile followed the direction of the impact of its heavy body breaking a pane of glass in the show window in which he had been performing.

The snake crawled swiftly from the window and into the street, striking out in the vicinity of a nearby saloon. Pedestrians were scattered in all directions. Police headquarters was notified and Policemen Evans and Palmer went to the scene.

Dr. Nedman attempted to catch the rattler. As his fingers wrapped around the snake's tail, it coiled in a flash and struck, burying its fangs in his left hand. Before attending to the wound, however, the physician, with the aid of pedestrians, recaptured the snake, imprisoning it for the night. Dr. Nedman's wound was cured by a solution of ammonia, which, he says, has cured him of many previous snake bites.

SEPARATED 15 YEARS, SHE MEETS BROTHER AT FORT M'PHERSON

Robert E. Booher, sergeant of the seventeenth, was given the surprise of his life yesterday when a woman he did not recognize ran up and began to embrace him before a bunch of his comrades at the barracks. It was not until it was explained that she was his sister, whom he had not seen for fifteen years, that he understood.

Mrs. Fanny Hobbs, the sister, had been trying for fifteen years, since her brother left home after a disagreement with another brother, to locate him. Recently she heard that Robert was in the United States army and inquired of such a person at Washington of the war department, and was informed that he was a sergeant stationed here with the Seventeenth infantry.

Sunday night she left her old home and her husband at Bristol, Va., and came to Atlanta in search of the long lost brother. Visiting the fort, she inquired of the soldiers of him, not being able to recognize him until Robert was pointed out to her. Then, with a cry of joy, she threw herself upon the brother and began to shower him with kisses.

Booher has been in the army for twenty-five years and had not seen any of his home folks for fifteen years. Soon he will be sent to the Mexican border, where the regiment of which he is a member, will most likely be on border patrol duty for a year and then be sent to the Hawaiian islands for duty.

JAMES SEAWRIGHT SUCCEEDS HARWELL

J. N. Renfroe Offers No Opposition, Being Disqualified by His Membership on the Smoke Board.

James R. Seawright, of No. 182 South Forsyth street, was elected by council yesterday to a place on the aldermanic board as representative of the First ward. Seawright went into office without opposition from J. N. Renfroe, who announced himself a candidate without the indorsement of the First ward organization.

At the eleventh hour Renfroe found that he disqualified himself because he failed to resign as a member of the smoke and gas board. His friends assert that he had been pledged the votes of fifteen members of the general council and would have been elected.

Made Vigorous Fight.

He carried on one of the most vigorous campaigns made before Atlanta's general council, and the members who pledged him their support were chagrined when they learned that Seawright's friends had consulted with City Attorney James L. Mayson and were prepared to raise the point of ineligibility on the floor of council.

That Renfroe was determined to make a fight on the floor of council was indicated by the announcement that Councilman Jesse Wood, of the Sixth ward, would offer his name and make a plea for election.

There were only twenty-five members present when Mayor Woodward assumed control of council and proceeded with the election. Two of the absentees, Councilman Knight, of the Second ward, and Councilman Shepard, of the Third ward, were claimed as being favorable to Renfroe's candidacy.

Immediately following the announcement of the election, Mayor Woodward administered the oath of office, and Alderman Seawright took his seat and entered into the deliberations of council and the aldermanic board.

Succeeds Harwell.

Alderman Seawright takes the seat of the late lamented Alderman J. H. Harwell, who died as the result of a fall in the council chamber while attending a meeting.

Mayor Woodward gave Councilman Wardlaw, senior member of the First ward delegation, Alderman Harwell's place on the street committee. He gave Councilman Lee his place on the fire committee; Alderman Armistead the board of fire masters, and Councilman Ashley the police committee.

Councilman Lee resigned as a member of the committee on electric lights and Councilman Bloom was appointed by the mayor to the place.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT ILL ABOARD HIS YACHT

London, March 16.—James Gordon Bennett, owner of The New York Herald, is seriously ill aboard his yacht Lysistrata, at Suez, according to a dispatch received here tonight. Mr. Bennett is reported to be suffering from a severe fever. He has been on a three weeks' cruise.

WIFE OF FRENCH MINISTER KILLS EDITOR OF FIGARO TO AVENGE HER HUSBAND

Gaston Calmette, Author of Newspaper Attacks on the Minister of Finance, Shot Down in Office by Mme. Caillaux.

"I HAVE DONE MY DUTY," CRIES STRICKEN WRITER ON WAY TO DEATH BED

Drawing Revolver From Muff, Woman Empties the Weapon at Journalist, Who Vainly Tries to Dodge Behind Desk.

Paris, March 16.—Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro, died today by Mme. Henriette Caillaux, wife of Joseph Caillaux, the French minister of finance, died tonight.

Mme. Caillaux went to the office of The Figaro to carry out an act of vengeance against M. Calmette, who had been waging a campaign characterized by great bitterness against the minister of finance. She fired at least three times. M. Calmette being wounded in the chest, in the side and the abdomen.

While the editor was being transported to the hospital he said repeatedly:

"I have done my duty. I have done my duty."

Having committed the deed, Mme. Caillaux submitted to arrest, and while employees in The Figaro offices were taking the pistol from her hands, she said:

"Since there is no justice in this country, I take upon myself an act of justice. Take me where you will."

Mme. Caillaux immediately was removed to a police station, where she underwent a preliminary examination, the substance of which was communicated to the press at her desire.

"Sorry for What I Did."

"I am sorry," she said, "for what I was obliged to do. I had no intention to kill M. Calmette, and I am happy to know that he will recover. I desired only to teach him a lesson."

At the moment of the attack Mme. Calmette was preparing to leave the office in the company of Paul Bourget, the author. He excused himself to receive Mme. Caillaux.

In her statement to the police, Mme. Caillaux explained that the campaign against her husband had become intolerable and she determined to stop it. She consulted an eminent lawyer, who advised her that legal proceedings would be futile—that they were often worse in the case of an innocent than in the case of the guilty. She decided then to take the law into her hands. She bought a revolver, drove to The Figaro office and sent in her card.

M. Calmette was most polite and asked what he could do for her.

Drawn Revolver From Muff.

"It is needless for me to pretend that I am making a friendly call," I answered," said Mme. Caillaux. "Then losing all control of myself at the thought of the humiliations inflicted on my husband by this man, I drew my revolver from my muff and fired all the cartridges. M. Calmette was surprised at the first report and tried to take shelter behind a desk."

Mme. Caillaux was charged formally with attempted homicide and removed to St. Lazare prison. Later the charge was changed to homicide.

It was officially announced tonight that M. Caillaux had tendered his resignation from the ministry of finance, but that Premier Doumergue withheld his decision until tomorrow.

Mme Caillaux is the minister's third

BORDER GUARDED BY MARTIAL LAW; CLASH IS FEARED

Feeling Is Aroused to Fever Heat Following Killing of United States Postmaster Near Tecate, California.

DETACHMENT OF REBELS DEFEATED BY FEDERALS

Column of Constitutionalists Is Routed While En Route to Monterey and 500 Killed or Captured.

San Diego, Cal., March 16.—Although no proclamation was issued, martial law existed, in effect, today along the border for miles each side of Tecate, Cal., following the destruction by fire of the general store containing the United States postoffice and customs office and the murder of Postmaster Frank Johnston Saturday night by three men, declared to be Mexicans.

All last night the border was patrolled by American troops from Fort Rosecrans. Across the line not many hundred feet Mexican rurales performed guard duty.

Every man within a radius of ten miles of Tecate is fully armed, and rifles and ammunitions have been ordered from this city.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson was asked today to make formal demand on Governor Francisco Vasques of Lower California for the delivery of the Mexicans suspected of having killed Johnston.

Major W. C. Davis, commander at Fort Rosecrans, received instructions from Washington to send any assistance to the immigration and customs officials and keep the department informed of conditions. He already had taken initiative to the full scope of his authority.

Feeling is aroused to fever heat in the vicinity of Tecate.

FEDERALS ROUT COLUMN OF CONSTITUTIONALISTS

Laredo, Texas, March 16.—Decisive defeat of a column of constitutionalist troops, en route it is believed, to take part in the proposed attack on Monterey, Mex., at Rancho Canyon, is reported in official advices received today at federal headquarters at Nuevo Laredo. The rebels were utterly routed, according to the dispatch, with the loss of about 500 men killed, captured or wounded. The federal losses were not stated.

Rastamonte Canyon is about midway between Laredo and Monterey.

In their flight the constitutionalists were said to have left behind large quantities of arms and ammunition and the federals claimed the capture of many wagons, carrying arms and supplies, and 100 loaded pack animals.

The rebels reported as part of the movement against Monterey, were moving toward Morales, Nuevo Leon. Who commanded the forces engaged was not stated.

MEXIC RAILROAD GANG KILLED U. S. POSTMASTER

Washington, March 16.—Members of a Mexican railroad construction gang killed Postmaster Frank Y. Johnston and burned the postoffice at Tecate, Cal., Saturday night, according to a report to the war department late today from army headquarters at San Francisco. None of the men has been apprehended.

Satisfied by this report that no Mexican federal soldiers or officials were involved, and that the crime was not political, state department officials

AUTOISTS OF AUGUSTA ARE INJURED IN WRECK

W. H. Shelton, M. J. Abney and Prof. P. B. Slack Are Taken to Hospital.

Augusta, Ga., March 16.—(Special.) A party consisting of W. H. Shelton, president of the Citizens' Bank and Trust company; Martin J. Abney, vice president of the chamber of commerce; Professor Percy H. Slack and a chauffeur in the employ of Thomas Barwell, were wrecked in a rented automobile near Belair, 7 miles from Augusta, this afternoon. Shelton and Abney are in the Margaret Wright hospital and Professor Slack is at the Albion hotel, less injured than the former.

The chauffeur was but slightly injured.

Request made at the hospital that no information be given concerning the men or the accident gave the affair an air of mystery, which was further added to by reluctance on the part of Professor Slack to talk.

It is understood, however, that they were making a good roads inspection trip from Athens to Augusta in connection with the work being done by that department of the university. Unless internal injuries develop in the case of one of the gentlemen in the hospital, though it is impossible to ascertain which one, it is said they will be out within a week.

wife. She is 29 years old and her maiden name was Henriette Rainouard. She was the wife of Leo Claretie, brother of the late Jules Claretie, from whom she was divorced.

Attacks a Daily Feature.

The personal campaign of Gaston Calmette against Joseph Caillaux began on January 12, and since then the attacks against the finance minister have been a daily feature of the paper. The fact that the campaign was inaugurated on the eve of the opening of the last session of the present chamber of deputies created intense interest in the charges. Among these M. Calmette asserted that M. Caillaux offered to pay $1,200,000 to M. Schneider, the legal representative of Marcel Prien, who had entered claim against the government, on condition that 25 per cent of that amount should be turned over to the radical party's campaign fund for the coming elections.

Marcel Prien was a French merchant of Brazil. Thirteen of his ships were seized by the Brazilian government in 1860, on the charge that the customs regulations had been evaded. Eventually Brazil paid to the French government an indemnity of $3,000,000. Prien's claim to this was repeatedly rejected, but his heirs in 1899 formed a syndicate to prosecute the claim.

Charged He Tapped Banks.

M. Calmette also charged that M. Caillaux had "tapped" the Comptoir national d'escompte and other banks to the amount of $40,000.

Among other accusations it was charged that the minister had exerted pressure on the judges to postpone the trial of Henri Rochefort, who was arrested in Paris in 1908 on the charge of swindling on an enormous scale, thus enabling him to flee to Mexico. M. Caillaux was also charged with authorizing the quotation on the Bourse of questionable foreign loans, whereby vast sums were lost by French investors.

M. Caillaux contented himself with issuing categorical denials. But on March 13, The Figaro printed a fac simile of a letter from M. Caillaux to an intimate friend, dated "The Senate, July 16, 1901," at the time M. Caillaux was minister of finance in the Waldeck-Rousseau cabinet—in which he said he had been successful in crushing the income tax, although seemingly he was defending the tax.

This brought matters to a climax and it was understood that the finance minister intended to take proceedings against M. Calmette for publishing a private letter without authority, either from the sender or the receiver.

Much mystery is attached to the letter, a fac simile of which The Figaro printed on March 12. Mme. Caillaux affirms that the letter was aggraged to her and that she learned that M. Calmette intended to publish several other letters of an even more intimate character. This The Figaro denies.

Mme. Caillaux was married to M. Caillaux on October 21, 1911, when he was premier, President Poincare, then a senator, being one of her witnesses.

PUBLISHERS' MEET WILL CLOSE TODAY

late arrival of some of the delegates and also on account of the fact that the delegates were late in assembling.

The first address of the morning session was delivered by Jason Rogers, of The New York Globe, whose address, "Advertising and Newspaper Development," caused a ripple of excitement to pass among the delegates.

The address was a strong appeal to the southern publishers to follow the lead set by some of the northern newspapers in the matter of cleaning up the advertising sections of the newspapers of today.

Truth and Honesty.

"Truth and honesty in advertising is a subject that is now sweeping the newspaper world of this country," said Mr. Rogers.

"Newspaper men everywhere are fast realizing it is bad business to lend the use of their columns to crooks and fakers to humbug and swindle their readers with ads proclaiming 'cure-alls' and fraudulent bargain sales," said Mr. Rogers. "It is of no use for a newspaper to build up a supposititency by fair dealing, public service and reliability regarding news and policy, if it permits offensive and fraudulent advertisers to operate like pirates among its readers.

"In the absence of any definite or fixed code of ethics, publishers are adopting office rules that are perhaps unfair to many concerns marketing a perfectly reputable article on account of some apparent infringement of the copy, and permitting many outrageous things to be published, because they are dressed up in party clothes so to speak.

"Any newspaper publisher can hardly keep himself posted upon the merits of the various proprietary articles advertised in the newspapers, and also get an accurate line on the legitimacy of various bargain sales advertised by local dealers, and by applying the same rule of reason that he uses in the consideration of other details of his paper. He can thus protect his readers, and increase the value of the advertising he does print.

"Let the publisher ask himself whether he would permit the use of the article in his own family, or allow his neighbors to patronize the bargain sale. Of course, a reasonable flexibility to provide for the differences in the various stations of life must be applied to make the test fair for all concerned.

"On The New York Globe we will not accept any 'cure' ad. The advertiser may claim to relieve certain common ailments not of too personal or objectionable a nature, but we will not publish any medical copy or medicinal ad which we consider would be objectionable to the class of people for whom we make the paper.

"We carry a standing card at the head of the editorial column as follows:

"The Globe does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every advertisement in its columns is printed with full confidence in the character and reliability of the advertiser and the truth of the representations made. Readers of The Globe will confer a favor if they will promptly report any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in a Globe advertisement."

Accept Statement.

"The response we have had from readers shows how seriously they accept The Globe's statement, and in the case of every complaint where the advertiser fails to give satisfaction, or to willingly refund the money as the case may be, we have thrown out the account and stood ready to assist the reader in getting full reparation.

"We will not accept financial advertising from any concern not well known to be reliable and, usually, only after careful investigation, not only for the purpose of protecting our readers, but because by publishing fake financial and promotion matter, we know we would lose much of the large volume of such business that we annually carry from reputable bankers and important financial concerns.

"We do not claim that we, of The Globe, practice a superior grade of honesty in advertising, but plainly say whenever questioned on the subject that we have found it to be good business policy to keep out the crooks, as nearly every one I know of, every time a newspaper has cut off a few hundred or thousand dollars worth of questionable business it has soon got in its place several times as much of new unobjectionable advertising.

"As I have already stated newspapers are rapidly catching on to the profitable side of the proposition and finding out that as they create a greater confidence on the part of readers in the advertising they publish their publications becomes more profitable to advertisers and the volume of the business carried gradually increases."

Dan Seitz Speaks.

Don C. Seitz, of The New York World, made a telling address, in which he discussed at length the "Editorial Idea and Good Business; Do They Conflict?"

Mr. Seitz took a stand that without co-operation of the editorial and business end of the newspaper business the newspaper could possibly hope to succeed. He particularly stressed cooperation between the editorial and business office in the matter of securing news, on the basis that news items invariably led to business relations.

The important session of today will fall late in the afternoon, when the annual election of officers will take place and the place of meeting of the next convention will be settled.

The officers retiring this year follow: Alfred F. Sanford, president, Knoxville Journal and Tribune; F. W. R. Hinman, vice president, Jacksonville Times-Union; W. M. Clemens, secretary-treasurer, The Birmingham News.

The members of the retiring executive committee follow: A. R. Holderby, Richmond Journal; R. S. Jones, Asheville Citizen; G. J. Palmer, Houston Post; Elmer Clark, Little Rock Democrat; Walter Johnson, Chattanooga News; James M. Thomson, New Orleans Item; C. E. Johnson, Knoxville Sentinel; E. M. Foster, Nashville Banner; R. W. Brown, Louisville Times; V. H. Hanson, The Birmingham News; George W. Branson, Greenville News; E. D. Moore, New Orleans Times-Democrat.

VENEZUELAN FRONTIER SCENE OF REVOLUTION

Georgetown, British Guinea, March 16.—A serious revolution has broken out on the Venezuelan frontier near Morawhanna, capital of the northwest district of British Guinea. Four hundred and fifty rebels, according to the reports, have raided El Terror camp and are preparing to attack the village of San Jose. The Venezuelan government official General Oyrez, who commands the frontier stations, and his sixty man are in a perilous position.

NEGRO SPIRITED AWAY TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Edgefield, S. C., March 16.—Mack Mima, a negro charged with seriously wounding J. W. K. Smith, a farmer, was spirited away from the Edgefield jail during last night to escape threatened violence. Sheriff Swearingen, who left with the negro, would not reveal his destination.

Mima, serving a sentence in a chain gang for stealing a horse from Smith, escaped Saturday, and is alleged to have gone directly to the farmer's home and shot him. The negro was recaptured yesterday.

D. A. R. GETTING READY FOR ANNUAL CONGRESS

Washington, March 16.—With the arrival here today of Mrs. William Cumming Story, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, active preparations were begun for the twenty-third annual continental congress of the society. The indications point to an unusually large attendance. Interest in the forthcoming meeting centers in the election of ten vice presidents general, although this is an "off" election year, and the proposed amendment of the constitution.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND TABERNACLE SERVICES

Evangelistic services are being conducted at the old Baptist Tabernacle by Mrs. M. B. W. Etter. Services are being held at 10, 3 and 7 o'clock. Large crowds are attending.

To Settle Boundary.

Washington, March 16.—Carrathers Ewing, of Memphis, on behalf of the attorney general of Arkansas, today asked the supreme court to determine the principles upon which the boundary dispute between Arkansas and Tennessee are to be settled. The dispute arose over a change in the bed of the Mississippi river. The attorney also asked for a commission to apply the principles to the subject in dispute.

BERLIN FAITH HEALERS PROSECUTED BY CROWN

Berlin, March 16.—According to The National Zeitung, the crown prosecutor has begun the prosecution of several faith healers in connection with the death recently of two prominent actresses, Frau Nuscha Butze and Frau Von Arnauld Ferriere, of the Royal theater.

The two women suffered from chronic diseases, and it is alleged, were induced to dismiss their attending physicians and submit to the faith cure, with fatal results. Their death attracted general attention, owing to the prominence of the actresses.

MERCHANTS ASK DELAY IN TRUST LEGISLATION

New York, March 16.—Postponement by congress until its next regular session of all anti-trust legislation is asked in resolutions adopted today by the Merchants' Association of New York, representing 2,400 leading business establishments in the city.

The resolutions "deprecate haste in the enactment of legislation of such importance before the judgment of the country has been fully consulted and has come, in President Wilson's words, to a clear and all but universal agreement."

FOUR KINDS OF MONEY CIRCULATED IN MEXICO

Douglas, Ariz., March 16.—Four kinds of money are circulating in the Mexican territory now controlled by the constitutionalists. These are United States currency, the fiat issues of the constitutionalist government, Sonora state and "Villa money," or that issued by Chas. Ishams at the instance of the rebel military commander. United States money takes precedence in value, silver and at the same time observe the laws requiring acceptance of the rebel currency issues, have established sliding scales of prices. This was discovered when five storekeepers were arrested at Cananea by constitutionalists secret service men, who found that for American money they could buy goods for less than half the amount exacted when payment was offered in Mexican currency.

The uncertainty with which the rebel campaign against Torreon is regarded is reflected in the money market. Today constitutionalists sold for 19 to 28 cents American on the peso. Mexican federal currency commanded from 30 to 32 cents.

SUFFRAGETTE WIELDS WHIP; KNOCKED DOWN

Glasgow, Scotland, March 16.—Dr. James Devon, prison commissioner for Scotland, when attacked today by an irate militant suffragette armed with a dog whip, took the lash in his own hands and knocked his assailant down.

Freight Rates Upheld.

Washington, March 16.—The interstate commerce commission today declined to reduce freight rates via St. Louis, Mo., on shipments originating east of the Indiana-Illinois state line in Central Freight association, Southeastern and Carolina territories to destinations west of St. Louis, of which Springfield, Mo., is typical. The commission held that existing rates were neither unreasonable nor discriminatory.

APPEAL BY SCHMIDT WILL BE FILED SOON

New York, March 16.—Notice of appeal from the sentence of death imposed upon Hans Schmidt, the former priest, for the murder of Anna Aumuller, will be filed this week by Alphonse C. Koehle, or Schmidt's counsel. The appeal will act as a stay of sentence.

Schmidt was sentenced to die in the week beginning next Monday. Several months are likely to elapse before arguments in the case are heard by the court of appeals.

Schmidt is in the death house at Sing Sing.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER LOOTED BY PIRATES

Hongkong, March 16.—Pirates today boarded and looted the Norwegian steamer Childar off this port, carrying off booty to the value of $10,000 after overpowering, binding and gagging the six Europeans on board.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder Is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and logey. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

We can look you squarely in the eye.

In beauty of design, in perfection of workmanship, in honesty of construction, the steel office equipment that bears the Library Bureau name plate is in a class by itself.

We start right, because we use only the best materials. We end right, because we use our heads as well as our hands all the way through.

We could use cheap material and no one would know it but ourselves. But we can look you squarely in the eye and say:

"Our steel office equipment is unrivalled. Material is best. Construction is best. As for finish, design and workmanship, they speak for themselves."

We can say that of everything we make of steel—card index cabinets, vertical units, horizontal units, counter-height units, transfer sections and storage shelving.

COTHRAN'S CLAIM GOES BACK TO THE COMMITTEE

Back to the claims committee went the claim of J. R. Cothran, a contractor, who demands that the city pay him $166 for extra work performed in building retaining walls in Ivy street. The claims committee was divided in its report to the general council, Aldermen Owens and Bladder voted to pay the claim, taking the position that the work compelled the contractor to spend money to do the work in a certain way not provided for in the contract. Chairman Wood and Councilmen Ashley and Mason signed an adverse report. The committee will meet again to take up the claim.

ALABAMA FRANCHISE GIVEN CAR COMPANY

Also Allowed to Extend Its Track Into Butler Street for Suburban Station.

Franchises were granted the Georgia Railway and Power company to make a loop for its College Park line in Alabama street, and also to extend tracks into Butler street for its suburban express station, yesterday afternoon by Atlanta's council. The franchise for the Alabama extension was granted for an indeterminate period, but the Butler street franchise was made a part of the Gilmer street franchise, which is for a period of only thirty-nine years.

Councilman Ashley raised the point that the city could not give the company a franchise to run a freight line through any of the streets of the city, but City Attorney Mayson ruled that the general council had the right.

Lee's Move to Abolish Beaver's "Vice Squad" Beaten in City Council

Alleging that the police department has been blamed for many of the robberies and other crimes which have been committed in Atlanta recently, Councilman Jesse R. Lee, of the fifth ward, offered a resolution in council yesterday urging the police commission to abolish the "vice squad." The resolution was tabled, which means defeat.

Councilman Lee says that if the members of the squad are put in uniform and sent to various sections of the city to protect lives and property a majority of the property owners will be much better satisfied than they are at present.

CHAMBER OPPOSES BILL IN CONGRESS

Protest Against Bill Preventing So-Called Interlocking Directorates Sent Georgia Representatives.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, in a set of resolutions which have been forwarded to the Georgia senators and representatives in Washington, and to the chairman of the judiciary committee, protests against the bill now pending in congress intended to prevent so-called interlocking directorates.

The resolutions were indorsed by the legislative committee of the chamber of commerce, of which Albert Howell, Jr., is chairman, by Mell R. Wilkinson, president of the chamber, and by the board of directors.

The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, legislation now pending in congress is designed and intended to prevent so-called interlocking directorates of banks, trust companies, railroads, and other corporations, and

Whereas, the bills proposed to enact such so-called reforms contain provisions which, if enacted into law, will seriously hamper trade, and impair commerce, and retard financial and industrial progress, and prohibit individuals from serving as directors of more than one corporation of the same class, whether such individual as a director in such corporations, represents his own interest or the interests of legal, equitable interest as trustee, executor, or otherwise occupying capacity, thereby depriving the stockholders of personally supervising his own interest or the interests of others committed to his care, as well as depriving the community of his experience and capacity, for the general welfare, and

Whereas, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce represents a thriving and progressive section, which depends largely upon the capital as well as the individual efforts of its citizens for the development of its great resources; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce does hereby protest against federal legislation along the lines embodied in said bills, believing that such legislation is untimely and hurtful to this section and to the country at large. Further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each senator and member of congress representing the state of Georgia, with a request for their hearty and practical co-operation in support of the purpose and spirit of this resolution and in opposition to said pending legislation."

TUESDAY PLEASANT, IS WEATHER MAN'S ATLANTA FORECAST

Following is the weather forecast for Tuesday:

A pleasant day is indicated for Tuesday. The temperature will be slightly lower in the morning, about 42 degrees, as compared with 52 degrees on Monday morning, and will not rise as high as 72 degrees. The wind will be brisk from the west or northwest, the sky will remain nearly entirely clear. Owing, however, to the appearance of a slight disturbance in western Texas, it is probable that a change in the weather is due within a short time.

GIVES LAST CONCERT.

Alexander Von Skibinsky Pleases Large Audience.

Alexander von Skibinsky, the violinist, who has been in Atlanta for some time, gave his farewell violin recital last night in the assembly hall of the Ansley hotel. In a few months the noted artist will return to Russia, but before doing so he will tour the principal cities of the United States and Canada. Over 200 of his friends attended his recital last night. Miss M. Harrison played his accompaniment on the piano.

HENRY R. MARDIS DIES.

Was a Deputy Sheriff in the Nineties.

Henry R. Mardis, for a number of years a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Barnes back in the "nineties," died last night at the residence of George Bass, a relative, on McDonough road. Mardis was well known in Fulton county, and has a number of friends here to regret the news of his death.

"Ye Olde Folkes' concert" will be given tonight at the Inman Park Methodist church for the benefit of Wesley Memorial hospital. The entertainment will start at 8 o'clock.

The program announcement reads in old English of the day of Chaucer, as follows:

"Ye entrance mites will be two bits and one thrip for ye 'grown ups,' and each small child can enter for one thrip and one bit, if it will be quiet and not disturb the 'Olde Folkes.' Divers hymns and likewise worldie songs, certain of which were sunge in ye yere of our Lord 1774, will be played and sung once more at 'Ye Olde Folkes' concert."

JUDGE DELAYS SENTENCE FOR MRS. ANNIE STOE

Sentence was not pronounced yesterday by Judge Newman upon Mrs. Annie Stoe, convicted in the United States court last week on an indictment charging white salavery. The impression obtains about the federal building that Judge Newman will not bring the prisoner before him for sentence until after he has heard the motion, now pending for a new trial for Mrs. Stoe, convicted of white slavery and under sentence to serve five years in the federal penitentiary near Atlanta. The Stoe new trial hearing has been set for Saturday next before Judge Newman.

LUCKIE "WHITE WAY" DELAYED BY COUNCIL

Action on the proposition of property owners on Luckie street between Forsyth and Spring streets to extend the white way lighting system between those points was delayed by the refusal of council to pass on the recommendation of the electric committee, yesterday afternoon.

The property owners agreed to pay for the white way posts and equipment provided the city agreed to their installation, and the only return asked was the maintenance. Councilman Reynolds, chairman, presented the favorable report of the committee, but members of council waited to be more fully informed and the matter was referred back.

ALIMONY FOR MRS. ROSE DENIED

Judge Hutcheson Refuses Wife Separate Maintenance.

Judge Hutcheson, in superior court, yesterday refused to grant Mrs. Rose Hutcheson alimony in her suit for separate maintenance against Dr. Hutcheson. The court held that the evidence was not sufficient to show that the husband had failed to provide for his wife.

Mrs. Hutcheson alleged that her husband had failed to provide for her and that he had struck her on several occasions. She asked for $50 a month alimony.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

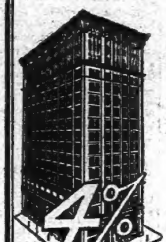

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute, evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen, die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

THE COUNTRY'S HONOR SAFE.

The Associated Press reports that the Sims bill to repeal the tolls exemption to coastwise vessels engaged in Panama trade will come to a vote in the house next Saturday. The prophecy of this non-partisan news agency is that the movement to repeal will triumph, the only question in doubt being the size of the repealing majority. That statement applies to the house as well as to the senate, and it is expected the latter body will quickly dispose of the issue.

Congress cannot very well take any course other than that of repeal in view of the full but fair light Mr. Wilson and others have turned on the subject.

Mr. Wilson has told the people, and congress, that the only issue involved in the controversy is that of national honor.

Our honor, as regards our pledged word to effect no discrimination in canal tolls, will be redeemed if we repeal the exemption clause.

Our honor will be stultified, our solemn promise violated, if congress declines to repeal the exemption clause.

In connection with approaching action in the house, it is well to remember the money cost, to put it on a sordid basis, of exempting coastwise shipping.

Professor Emory R. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania, recently told an audience in New York city that to admit coastwise vessels to the canal tolls free would cost $20,000,000 for the first ten years of the canal's operation.

That $20,000,000 would have to come, in upkeep expenses, from other sources. These sources bearing the brunt would be divided between the traffic of other nations, our own foreign commerce, the United States treasury and the pockets of the American consumer. At the last analysis, it would be a gift or subsidy to coastwise shipping, already enjoying a complete monopoly against foreign competition.

President Wilson has solemnly told the people and their law-makers that future great chapters of history depend upon our course with regard to this matter.

If we stand by our solemn obligation, our honor is secure, we pave the way to world peace and to an era of international trade expansion and prosperity; otherwise, our honor is smeared, and there is no guarantee that commercial and diplomatic reprisals may not hamper our development.

No American congress has ever faced a graver issue.

We have confidence that the congress now sitting will rise to the dignity and demands of the crisis.

ON KNOWING SOUTH AMERICA.

The addresses of the Right Rev. L. L. Kinsolving, Bishop of Brazil, delivered in Atlanta Sunday, furnished a basis of serious thought for American business men.

The main theme of the straightaway and lucid discourses of Bishop Kinsolving was a justified plea for aid in establishing a mission school in Brazil. While he was in Atlanta, he gave thinking people sufficient reasons to believe as he does on this single point and tender him their financial support. But the broader scope of his sermons was pitched to a legitimate criticism of the ignorance of North America regarding South America. And if we lay aside religion and education entirely, it still holds that if we are ever to do business with the countries to the south of us we must know and understand them better.

The bishop's descriptions touching Brazil alone were enlightening. When he said that that country was as large as the continental United States, plus two Texases, and that it had a varied population of 20,000,000 people, the information was startling enough in itself. But in the course of his keen analysis of the politics, education, commerce and industry of South America, he gave to the abhorbed hearer a vivid panorama of a land of which we know little, a land of stupendous possibilities, and a land whose folk we inevitably must cultivate, if we do not expect to be at a disadvantage in pursuing our destiny abroad.

All we know of these nations to the south of us has come through consular reports, travel books and lectures, and the graphic utterances of such men as Senator Root and former President Roosevelt. It takes knowledge a long time to penetrate the mind of a great nation like our own, particularly, when, as Bishop Kinsolving emphasized, we profess to be so preoccupied with our home affairs.

The point to remember is that "home affairs" can no longer limit the horizons of the United States. Our angle must be cosmopolitan, not provincial. If it be true in a religious sense, according to John Wesley, that "the world is my parish," it is today no less true in a material sense that "the world is my market-place." And the United States cannot meet competition if it is ignorant of its market-place, and the rules of the game as it is played there.

THE SOUTHERN PUBLISHERS.

The twelfth annual convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, now meeting in a two-day session in Atlanta, brings to this city many of the men most prominent and influential in the southern daily newspaper world. Among the notable guests of the association are Jason Rogers, publisher of The New York Globe, and Don C. Seitz, manager of The New York World.

While the personnel of the members present ranges from business office to editorial sanctum, including, of course, circulation and advertising departments, the major part of program addresses itself to the business features of newspaper operation, and how they may effectually be co-ordinated with what is professionally known as the "news end."

The average layman has little knowledge of the intricate details involved in the publication of the modern daily newspaper, nor of the manner in which the newspaper has itself evolved during the past fifteen years. After the civil war newspaper progress in the southern states was slower than in other parts of the country, journalism sharing with other southern institutions the impoverishing and paralyzing effect of that war and its aftermath. But for the past fifteen to twenty years, it is a safe assertion that the southern daily has made strides commensurate with its northern contemporaries, making allowanes for difference in population and wealth per capita. Indeed, it is a certainty, that from point of view of modernity of equipment the southern daily is fully abreast of the northern daily.

The men behind this big southern news machine, stretching from Richmond to the Rio Grande, are a keen-minded, alert set. Each circulation field has, necessarily, its own peculiar problems, but the great issues underlying daily publication are practically the same everywhere. That is why the discussions and interchanges of the experts now assembled in Atlanta are enlightened with significance to the general public. The Constitution cordially greets these men in charge of the south's news and publicity.

A NON-PARTISAN BILL.

The most significant features about the interstate trade commission bill, made public yesterday, are its non-partisan sponsorship and the elimination or softening of several drastic principles which laid the measure, as originally drawn, justly open to criticism. The bill was framed by a subcommittee of the house interstate commerce committee and is really a joint democratic-republican product. That fact ought to reassure the country, and facilitate the passage of the bill through house and senate.

The public has recognized for several years that some sort of federal supervision over interstate business outside of the railroads was inevitable. The powers now lodged in the bureau and commissioner of corporations are arbitrary and indefinite, liable to cause as much injurious uncertainty as to secure constructive good. These powers now will be absorbed in the new commission, to be appointed by the president and no one political party to have more than two of them.

The chief causes for uneasiness over the bill, as first drawn, were its opportunities for undue inquisition, the possibility that it might make public legitimate business secrets and the fear that it might cause disturbance by the desire to re-make the whole scheme of things over-night.

These contingencies have been fairly well covered in the measure now made public. They do not, in fact, appear, as we read baiting of business. Legitimate trade secrets will be kept inviolate. If eggs are to be "unscrambled" the work will be done decently and in order.

Best of all, whatever legislation is accomplished will bear a non-partisan brand. That fact is an effectual safeguard against destructive and partisan criticism in the future. The main thing now is for congress to push matters to a speedy conclusion, tone down the note of radicalism and go home. Give business a chance. Give the nation generally the opportunity to recover from two capital legislative operations, those involved in the currency and tariff laws.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON, The Peasant Prose Poet.

The Halcyon Days.

"I see the city water, that we're all drinking," remarked the retired merchant, "has been analyzed, and the chemist says it's enough to kill a six-legged giraffe. It contains all the germs you ever read about. I think it is the horrifying fact for the public to hand, if every taxpayer had his own well, as our fathers used to. When I think of the pure, sweet, cold water we used to get from our well, I feel as though I could drink eight flirkins of it."

"I'd rather drink city water, and swallow a million splay-footed germs with every dipperful than monkey around a pump," replied the hotel proprietor. "We're all inclined to think, when we grow old, that the institutions of our childhood were away ahead of anything existing now, but you can't fool me on this well water proposition. My father had a well in the back lot. It was about nine miles deep, and I'll admit that the water was cold and tasted good, but I have no doubt that if it were analyzed the chemist would find everything in it that you can find in our city water. In those days nobody ever analyzed water, and we didn't have a scare thrown into us whenever we took a drink. If the chemists would leave our city water alone we'd get along a lot better, and we used to enjoy the well water. But they won't do it, doggone them. They go to the hydrant and they don't get half a mug, and take it to their laboratories, and run it through a sausage grinder, and then put their heads out of the window and watch a germ that is full of anacondas and bald-faced crocodiles.

"When I want a drink of water I can turn a tap and get all I want without straining a tendon. In the old days, when we had our own well, getting water for family use was a serious business. As I told you, the well was seven miles deep, and the water would not run out of the pump. Then the bad-blistered pipe had to be primed. I guess you know what priming a pump is like. You have to pour down more water than you expect to get back, and then wiggle the blamed old handle up and down for three hours to get the water started. Sometimes the first priming wouldn't do the trick, and then you had to go around among the neighbors and borrow enough water to do it over again. I have seen my father travel all over the block, and then get enough water to prime his wapperjawed pump, and when he did get it he was in such a frame of mind that he was afraid to say anything to him.

"Then the pump was always getting out of order. In those days the pumpmaker had a bigger graft than the lightning rod agent. He used to come to our place about twice a week to give our pump an overhauling, and his charges kept father poor, and we all had to go to church barefooted because of him. And when the pump was in good shape, the well itself was out of order. Every now and then the water would begin to taste as though a dead horse had fallen into the well, and then father would have to tie himself to the end of a rope, while some nice kind man put me in there with a windlass, and when he came up he was covered with green slime and he would stand at the edge of the well and cuss me for him as a stretch.

"Oh, the old-fashioned well was a great institution. When our pump gave out entirely father got a couple of oaken buckets, the kind you had to tote in the yoke, and eighteen or twenty miles of rope, and a pulley, and after that the water had to be hauled up, hand over hand, by means of the rope. I wish you could have heard my father apostrophizing things when he stood out there on a cold day, with the rope had a coating of ice on it, hauling a bucket of water up from some polar land in Asia Minor. I have heard some silver-tongued orators in my day, but father could talk rings around the best of them.

"I often wonder what the grand old man would think if he could return to earth and see people getting water from faucets, and hear them wishing they had an old-fashioned well."

St. Patrick Was a Gentleman.

Oh, St. Patrick was a gentleman,
Who came of decent people;
He built a church in Dublin town,
And on it put a steeple.
His father was a Gallagher;
His mother was a Brady;
His aunt was an O'Shaugnessy,
His uncle an O'Grady.

So, success attend St. Patrick's fist,
For he's a saint so clever;
O, he gave the snakes and toads a twist,
And bothered them forever!

The Wicklow hills are very high,
And so's the hill of Howth, sir;
But there's a hill, much bigger still,
Much higher nor them both, sir.
'Twas on the top of that same hill
St. Patrick preached his sarmint,
That drove the frogs into the bogs,
And banished all the vermint.

So, success attend St. Patrick's fist, etc.

There's not a mile in Ireland's isle
Where dirty varmin musters,
But there he put his dear fore-foot,
And murdered them in clusters.
The toads went pop, the frogs went hop,
And in it put a steeple,
The snakes committed suicide
To save themselves from slaughter.

So, success attend St. Patrick's fist, etc.

Nine hundred thousand reptiles blue
He charmed with sweet discourses,
And dined on them at Kilaloe
In soups and second courses.
Wid bitin' noises crawling in the grass
Disgusted all the nation,
He gave them a rise, which opened their eyes
To a sense of their situation.

So, success attend St. Patrick's fist, etc.

No wonder that those Irish lads
Should be so gay and frisky,
For sure St. Pat he taught them that,
As well as making whiskey.
No wonder that the Saint himself
Should understand distilling,
Since his mother kept a Shebeen shop
In the town of Enniskillen.

So, success attend St. Patrick's fist, etc.

O was I but so fortunate
As to be took in hunster,
T'ld be bound that from that ground
I never more would once stir,
For there St. Patrick planted turf,
And plenty of bog galore,
With pigs galore, ma gra, ma 'store,
And lots of purty colleens.

Then my blessing on St. Patrick's fist,
For he's the darling Saint, O!
O, he gave the snakes and toads a twist;
He's a beauty when raising Cain!

How Small! How Great!

His own soul is each man's universe;
What is to what he knows and feels
All else to him is nothingness.
Some souls contract about earth's paltry things.
Like chigoe-skins 'round molecules of dust,
But some expand in ever-broadening waves
Through constellations bright with God's eternal truths.
And reach to heaven's boundary line.

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF THE MURDERERS OF THYNNE.

The curiosity of visitors to Westminster Abbey is often excited by a certain tomb, which, as the tablet above it records, contains the body of Thomas Thynne, of Longleat, who was barbarously murdered on the 13th of February, 1682.

Thomas Thynne—"Tom of ten thousand," as he was nicknamed in reference to what, in that time, was considered an immense income, was at the time of his death about thirty-four years old. In spite of his own wealth he seems to have desired to make an advantageous marriage and, through the aid of a "marriage broker," he sued for the hand of a well-known beauty. Another suitor for the girl, or rather for the estates she would inherit, was a soldier of fortune, Count Carl John Königsmark. This dashing young man was regarded not unkindly by the girl, who at the unusual age of sixteen was thrice married and thrice widowed, but Lady Northumberland peremptorily refused the pretensions and arranged and carried through the match with Thynne, despite the fact that he was distasteful to her granddaughter.

Attached to Königsmark's person was a certain Captain Vratz, a bold, daring and absolutely unscrupulous soldier of fortune, who had accompanied him in the wars and obeyed him with dogilke fidelity. This swashbuckler was all too willing to take the count's quarrel with Thynne on his shoulders, and later explained the latter by saying that after sending Thynne a challenge by post from Holland, and failing to get satisfaction that way, he determined to make a "rencounter" of it in the street.

It must be remembered that in those times a thoroughfare as near the court as Pall Mall was filthy in appearance as well as dark and dangerous. In the afternoon of February 12 Thynne went to call upon lady Northumberland, the grandmother and guardian of his wife. Word that he had gone to pay the visit was brought at once to Vratz, who met his counterparts at the Black Bull inn in Holborn. The three of them, Vratz, Stern and Boraski, set off to the foot of St. Alban's street, where they met the coach of Thynne returning, a footman with a flintlock blunderbuss preceding it to show the way. What followed seems to have been but the work of a minute. Vratz held up the driver with a pistol, and fired at him; then Boraski pushed his musketoon in at the carriage window and discharged its contents full into Thynne's breast, and the three scoundrels decamped at once, clattering away up the Haymarket.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of the assassins and Vratz was captured in a Swedish doctor's house in Leicester Fields. Boraski and Stern were later arrested. Count Königsmark's person was at once searched, but as he was landing from his boat at Gravesend. After his arrest he lost his self-possession and blurted out: "'Tis a stain upon my blood, but one good action in the world or a longing upon a counterscarp will wash away all that."

Sir Francis Pemberton, chief justice of the king's bench, presided at the trial of the four prisoners, which began at 9 in the morning. The nationality of the prisoners made necessary a jury "de medietate linguae" (half English and half foreign). Two of them were Swedes, one a German and the other a Pole. Even the interpreters could not understand all the linguaces, and the judge would not pause for every answer to be translated.

Königsmarck, being charged as an accessory, asked a few days' trial postponed until the principals should have been convicted. Pemberton refused this on the ground that he had no power to separate the trials, though he had discretion. The real reason was to shield the count, though the court was not aware of it at the time.

The case against the three principals was proved without any difficulty. In fact, they acknowledged the crime, but the trial against the count failed, much to the popular displeasure, and the shame of this bad acquittal rests on Pemberton, who in summing up skillfully endeavored over the most damaging points of the case and put in here and there a plausible explanation.

Ultimately, at about 5 o'clock, the jury retired, and after half an hour's absence returned with a verdict of "guilty" against the three wretched tools of the count and "not guilty" against the chief conspirator himself.

"God bless the king and that honorable bench!" exclaimed the shameless and brazen count.

The judges did not confessend to remain to pronounce the sentence of death against the convicted prisoners, a ceremony which is never undertaken at the precise spot where the dastardly crime was committed on the 10th of March. Carl John continued his adventurous life abroad following his acquittal.

TALK IT OVER.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

When Doctors disagree, they Talk It Over. The more closely Civilization gets to a body of people, the more they become enthusiasts over Co-operation—or, in everyday words—Talking It Over.

If things get to "running off the Track" with you, get all the disturbing elements together. Then Talk It Over.

The first Talk It Over is like "counting ten" before getting Mad. Meditation kills anger—cools Passion. It is a pretty good plan to remember to Talk It Over, before grabbing things by the nape of the Neck and flattening everything in General and oneself in particular.

Inasmuch as there is quite a considerable of Everyone in each of us, the best person on earth to Talk It Over with should be our own Self.

New viewpoints come about through contact with other Viewpoints. And when you realize how important your Viewpoint is, you will understand, in turn, what a bearing upon big results the simple method of Talking It Over has.

Talk It Over. Every time you fail to do so, you add Weight to that which you must carry. And in this connection, remember that he who carries the lightest equipment travels farthest.

There was only a thin partition between the bar parlor and the taproom of the suburban hostelry, so that I could not help hearing what was perhaps a confidence about a certain Bill's terrible condition the previous afternoon. "Well, to cut a long story short," and the voice, which was hoarse, probably with emotion, "I had to set 'im on a decrotes and leave 'im there. 'E must 'a' fell asleep, and 'e 'at dropped on to 'f' footpath, an'—would you believe it?—when 'e woke up there was elevenpence in it!"

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

SCHOOL BOOK BILL WILL FIGURE IN POLITICS

That the McCrory school book bill will figure largely in the coming session of the legislature, but also in county politics about the state and maybe in state politics, is becoming apparent from day to day.

Already several candidates about the state have announced for the school commissioners of their respective counties upon a platform of "school books printed by the state at cost."

However all this may be, State Superintendent M. L. Brittain does not seem to be greatly worried over any opposition that may appear against him upon this score. Superintendent Brittain's stand upon this question is already well known.

On Monday he would make no comment, though, upon the situation or upon his standing for re-election.

He simply stated that he couldn't "discuss politics today."

COCHRAN RETURNS HOME AFTER SPEECH IN BAINBRIDGE

Ralph O. Cochran, of Atlanta, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Hoke Smith, returned to Atlanta Sunday after making a political speech in Bainbridge. He was asked about his outlook in southwest Georgia.

"Great!" he said. "I couldn't hope for more encouragement."

THREE-CORNERED RACE PROBABLE FOR CONGRESS IN THIRD DISTRICT

Dublin, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Following close upon the heels of the county primary which will be held in Laurens on Tuesday, March 17 next, interest will center in the congressional race in the twelfth district, and there are prospects at this time for three candidates. Congressman D. M. Hughes, who represents the district at this time, is to be a candidate for re-election, and will make his formal announcement at the proper time. Judge Walter M. Clements, of Eastman, has been mentioned candidate for several months and is already making an active campaign for the office. It is understood that Hon. Peyton H. Davis, solicitor of the city court of Dublin, is strongly considering the matter of getting into the race. One of the interesting developments of the race so far is the action of Judge K. J. Hawkins, judge of the superior court of the Dublin circuit, who has been considering the matter of getting in the race, and was assured some very strong support over the district. He has announced definitely that he will not be a candidate to oppose Mr. Hughes, but will be a candidate, at the proper time, to succeed himself as judge of the Dublin circuit.

JUDGE REVILL BEING URGED TO RUN FOR COURT OF APPEALS

Newnan, Ga., March 14.—(Special.)—The presence of Judge Henry H. Revill, of Greenville, in attendance on superior court here this week, revived a rumor that he would oppose Hon. N. E. Broyles for the seat on the appeals court bench now occupied by Judge L. S. Roan.

Judge Revill stated today he had been strongly urged from various sections of the state to enter the race for one of the appellate court judgeships, and that if he should decide to yield to these solicitations he would single out Judge Broyles as his opponent in the contest.

Judge Revill is one of the best lawyers in the Coweta circuit, and as popular personally as he is prominent professionally. For the past seven years he has presided as judge of the city court of Greenville.

In connection with his law practice and judicial duties, Judge Revill has, for a number of years past, edited The Meriwether Vindicator.

LID LIABLE TO BLOW OFF AT ANY TIME IN TENTH DISTRICT

Milledgeville, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The half hasn't been written of how warm, how hot—nothing but—the political pot is likely to grow down in the "bloody tenth" district in the fight for the seat in congress to be relinquished by Congressman Hardwick. The old tenth is no man's quiet political heath—never has been and there are no hovering symptoms at the present writing that it ever will be.

On the contrary, there appears to be brewing a stormy contest—that will furnish food for discussion for the whole state.

Judge Carl Vinson, of Baldwin, was the first full-fledged candidate. He already has his campaign mapped but and will make his opening speech in Sparta on March 28. Judge Vinson will visit every part of the district in an automobile that he has provided for this purpose.

It now seems as if Colonel Bob Hardeman, of Jefferson county, will be in the race for the judgeship to succeed Judge Rawlings, who will retire. Colonel Hardeman was first booked in the race for congress.

Augusta will likely furnish two candidates—Hon. Joseph Reynolds and Judge Orwell Eve. That one of these are figuring on announcing is strongly indicated by the inquiries they are making over the district.

Word comes from Thomaston that Dr. W. W. Pilcher is in the race. This well-known physician is a strong, popular speaker and is well posted on all public questions and has many friends.

The big country comes from Washington county—Colonel Willis Evans—who already has a large following in the district, for he was once a candidate.

WITH ENTRY LISTS CLOSED CANDIDATES ARE BUSY

Jonesboro, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The time for entering the Clayton county races closed today with the following entries:

For clerk superior court, John M. Munday, L. J. Brown, B. C. Dickson, Jr., Davis, solicitor, for sheriff, C. D. Dickson, the present chief; E. L. Dorsey and H. E. Pearson; for treasurer, C. H. Adair, the present incumbent; S. P. Crane, O. A. Mayo, H. F. Strickland and L. E. Sparks; for tax receiver, J. W. Davis, J. H. Gilbert, W. C. Kilgore and J. E. Smith; and John T. Ward; for tax collector, T. M. Brown, the present collector; J. J. Hartsfield, O. L. Bugg, Sam Bailey and C. J. Roberts. E. Camp, J. D. Moore and R. L. Lassiter, present members of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues, stand for re-election without opposition. W. J. Lee, the surveyor, has no opposition, and H. Camp, the coroner, also has no opposition.

FULL LIST OF CANDIDATES FOR TERRELL COUNTY PRIMARY

Dawson, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The registration lists for the approaching county primary have been closed. The total number of registered voters exceed 1,500. The election takes place next Wednesday.

The full list of aspirants for offices is shown on the official ballot and is as follows:

Terrell County Primary.—For clerk, W. B. Dozier, Thomas W. Martin; for coroner, M. H. Marshall, Sr.; for county commissioners, W. M. Dunn, J. A. Hiller, J. C. Hollingsworth, J. C. Joiner, M. D. Laing, J. L. McLeod; for sheriff, M. G. Hill, J. T. Turner; for surveyor, S. B. Denton; for tax collector, J. O. Fussell, Cleve Gammage, T. J. Slade; for tax receiver, Ernest Baldree, J. D. Cannon, J. L. Jernigan, A. E. Johnston; for county treasurer, R. S. Perry; for senator eleventh district, R. E. Marlin, D. C. Pickett.

CANES.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The cane is a necessity of old age and a luxury of youth.

Old men and a great many young men find it impossible to walk without a cane. But it is not for the same reason.

It is the duty of the cane to support an old man. But it is the duty of a stylish young man to support a cane.

If a feeble old man were to go forth without a cane he would fall down and injure himself grievously. On the other hand, if a proper young man were to leave his home and abandon his cane, he would feel as guilty as if he had left a helpless child to its fate.

Old men grasp the cane firmly by the handle and rest the other end upon the walk. But if a young man were to do this he would make himself the subject of a great deal of comment. Except when propping himself up while standing in conversation, the young man does not abuse his cane by jamming it into the hard concrete walk. He handles it tenderly and guards the ferrule from injury. Mud on the end of a young man's cane is as disgraceful as mud on his collar.

The grace and awkward young man is greatly afflicted by his cane. He sticks it into cracks in the walk, forgets it in public places and has to hold it between his legs when he puts on his gloves. It takes several years to learn to wear a youth's size cane correctly. And the worst of it is the fact that when a man really needs a cane he has to unlearn all that he has learned about it in his gay and carefree youth.

"The green and awkward young man has to hold it between his legs while he puts on his gloves."

The cane is very useful to the old man. But it also serves a purpose for the young man. While a young man is managing a cane he has no chance to carry his hands out of his pockets. If the cane could only be improved so that it would keep its wearer's hands out of other pockets, too, it would be a compulsory decoration by a grateful nation.

LUCK!

Efficient Housekeeping

By HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL, Domestic Science Lecturer.

Ten Dollars a Week.

How can a family of five—two children, a baby, a man and his wife—live on ten dollars a week? The first answer that comes to mind is, "They can't." But the ten dollars a week is exactly the sum that eighty per cent of city dwellers have.

Out of this income ten dollars a month must be saved for rent; the remaining seventy must clothe the family, supply the provisions, and provide for the educational needs of the baby. There was a time in this country when ten dollars a week was considered with which to care for a family. A book bearing the title, "Ten Dollars a Week Enough," was written to prove it and to show how one really a great deal eager could apportion such an income to the best advantage, but that time is in the past. It is only by constant denial, most careful planning and constant studying as to what can be done without, that the families of laboring men can barely exist on this sum.

"How is it done?" one repeats and the answer is by economy—of little. Nothing is wasted, nothing is purchased that is not necessary and all is used to best advantage.

The poor man's wife does much actual pricing at grocery and meat stores; if she could buy in quantities she could effect a considerable saving, but this is impossible without going in debt. Only food that really nourishes is purchased, but it is in the strictest reading that the greatest economy is necessary. It is here, too, that the results must show.

For instance, all vegetables are scraped, not pealed, the thick parings take away a fourth of the food value. Potatoes are delishing and richest part of the vegetable is close to the skin. All potatoes, carrots, turnips and squash can be scraped if one will take the time and the valuable phosphates are just the skim.

Then there is the matter of soups. Day when there is meat for dinner the liquid in which it is cooked, and the bones, are carefully saved. Out of these a delicious soup, but a broth, rich enough to take the place of the meat which must be bought for soup and meat are not for the same meal when five cents a pound for meat is needed on an appropriation of sixty cents.

Beans and peas, dried lentils, beans are excellent, but no longer chains. Rice is delicate, but not so nourishing as lentils. Besides the soup there are stews with a good carrot, and any other vegetable at hand. When one thinks of the words of the Bible injunction, "Gather up the fragments that nothing be lost," is religiously followed. A bowl of this soup is so satisfying that nothing else is needed in it is health and variety.

America must learn that economy is a daily saving of little things, and not a spasmodic effort to be practiced the last of the week or just before the month's payday.

One of our city's teachers has put the question of living on ten dollars a week accurately before her eighth grade pupils and is demanding that they solve it by a series of house hunting and marketing expeditions. They are expected to apportion their imaginary incomes to cover the needs of a family of five and to put their results in writing. Because four-fifths of our people are doing this very thing and doing it cheerfully and well these school girls know the task is not impossible and are studying the question earnestly. A glance at their note books a few weeks later will be interesting to us and, perhaps, beneficial.

OPINION IS DIVIDED ON MONROE HORROR

One Inspector Holds Nantucket's Captain to Blame for Disaster, While Second Blames Monroe's Captain.

Philadelphia, March 16.—The two United States local inspectors of steam vessels who investigated the disaster off the Virginia coast on January 30, in which the steamship Nantucket rammed the steamer Monroe, causing the loss of 41 lives, rendered a divided opinion today, one holding the captain of the Nantucket guilty of negligence and the other charging the commander of the Monroe with responsibility for the disaster.

The report of the investigation along with the two decisions was forwarded to Henry M. Seeley, supervising inspector at New York. It is not known here what the next step in the case will be, but it is believed the supervising inspector will consult the department of commerce at Washington before making any further move.

The local inspectors who investigated the collision are Captain R. A. Sargent, inspector of hulls, and H. F. Howard, inspector of boilers. The department of commerce designated them to investigate the charges against Oswyn Berry, captain of the Nantucket, brought by the local inspectors at Norfolk, after a preliminary examination.

Charges Against Berry.

The charges against Captain Berry included negligence in not reducing the speed of his vessel in a fog and with neglecting to ascertain through the wireless operator the proximity of other vessels. No charges were brought against Captain Edward E. Johnson, of the Monroe.

Twelve days were devoted to hearing witnesses and after counsel for Captain Berry had argued his case today, the board rendered its decisions.

The opinion filled 10 typewritten pages voluminous, going into the construction of the ships, the collision and the conduct of the crews, after the fact. The report exonerates Captain Berry and all other licensed officers of the Nantucket are acquitted from all blame.

Captain Sargent's report then charges Captain Johnson with "incompetency, negligence and inattention to duty." He is charged in the report with violation of the international rules for preventing collisions in giving a wrong whistle signal in the fog with negligence and inattention to duty because he took no action to prevent the collision or to lessen its force when the vessels came in sight of each other, and with incompetency and unskillfulness because proper discipline for organization was not maintained among the crew in an effort to protect the lives of all persons on board, and because no proper effort was promptly made to obtain assistance from the Nantucket.

Blames Captain Johnson.

On the last specification Captain Sargent says:

"While we believe that Captain Johnson as an individual did everything that was humanly possible to save the lives of all, it is to be regretted that he did not delegate certain duties which he attended to himself to some of the other members of his crew and thus give himself more time to devote to matters of greater importance."

Inspector Howard refused to sign this report and rendered one of his own, in which he found Captain Berry guilty of failing to reduce speed in a fog, as charged, but not guilty of the alleged failure to use the wireless apparatus and recommended that the master's license be revoked.

In reading his report Captain Sargent stated that he had been a licensed master and was experienced in navigation, and that Inspector Howard was not a licensed master, and had no practical experience as a navigator.

Surprise at Capital.

Washington, March 16.—Surprise was expressed by officials of the department of commerce when they were informed tonight that the board of steamboat inspectors at Philadelphia had rendered a divided opinion in the Berry trial, and that one of the members had held Captain Johnson blameless. It was pointed out that the latter had appeared only as a witness in the case and had not been represented by counsel.

Under the law there would have been no appeal if the board had acquitted Captain Berry. As it is, the case will go to Captain Seeley, at New York, supervising inspector of the district. If Captain Seeley finds either or both of the skippers guilty, an appeal may be made to the steamboat inspector general here, George C. Uhler, whose decision would be final.

AMEND GAS ORDINANCE.

May Eliminate College Education Requirement.

Amendments to the smoke and gas ordinance were proposed by Alderman Armistead, of the seventh ward, at the meeting of council yesterday, to make the ordinance the chief inspector must be a college graduate. Alderman Armistead does not believe it is necessary for the inspector to be a college graduate.

Alderman Armistead is a leader in Atlanta's labor movement, and his amendment is intended to give Atlanta men a chance at the job in the event there is a vacancy.

Alderman Maddox is going to offer an amendment to the ordinance which will prohibit the board from going out of Atlanta to secure a man for chief inspector.

Correctly Graded Diamonds

Even among merchants dealing in jewelry there are but few who have had sufficient experience in grading to make them experts.

Therefore, in order to buy correctly graded diamonds, it is highly important to buy from a dealer whose guarantee of weights and grades can be accepted with the knowledge that his classifications are correct and standard.

Our experience in buying and selling diamonds dates back for over thirty years.

Quantity buying enables us to buy direct from the cutters, thus saving from 15% to 25 per cent from wholesale prices. We give you every advantage we enjoy, and besides furnishing correctly graded stones, we save you money on your diamond purchase.

Attractive monthly payment plans are allowed.

REWARDS OFFERED FOR FIVE SLAYERS ACCUSED OF MURDER

Rewards to the amount of $600 were offered on Monday by Governor John M. Slaton for the capture of five men wanted for murders in Georgia.

For the capture of Jasper Touman, charged with the murder of James Thomas, in Appling county, February, 1913, was offered $250.

A similar reward was offered for the capture of Mitch Williams, charged with killing Foster Deal with a shotgun one night in the year of 1906, in Macon county.

For the capture of Cliff Beecher, charged with killing his wife, July, 1907, Macon county, a reward of $100 was offered.

A similar reward was offered for the capture of Burr Bryant, charged with the murder of Leroy Edwards, in Macon county, in February, 1909.

Also $100 was offered for the captures of Henry Hudson, charged with the killing of Clifford Zachiee, September, 1913, in Macon county.

All the parties involved are colored, with the exception of Foster Deal, who is said to have been killed by the Williams negro.

MACON SALOONS SCARCE BUT DRINKS PLENTIFUL

18 Cases Before the Recorder Make a New Record Since War on Tigers Began.

Macon, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Eighteen drunks, the largest number since the Macon Law Enforcement league began its campaign to close up the blind tigers, were before Recorder Cochran this morning, though the recorder mounted the bench and glanced over his docket he gave a low whistle of surprise, for it has been a long time since he had seen so many of those who are a failing for a nip from the bottle.

Each of the eighteen offenders was required to donate the usual fines because of the fact that they had chosen Sunday as the time for their celebration.

Most of the whisky now being sold in Macon is by the locker clubs, the Law Enforcement league having failed by well cleaned out those near beer dealers who used to sell whisky on the side.

Barnes Residence Burned.

Macon, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The home of W. D. Barnes, 570 Duncan avenue, was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning, the members of the family barely escaping in their night clothes. Just after members of the family ran from their beds the roof of the house fell in.

For some unaccountable reason no one in the house awakened until the fire had gained much headway and the house was enveloped in flames. But for the fact that a neighbor happened to see the fire and give the alarm it might have resulted in fatalities.

Revivals Being Conducted.

Macon, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Many revivals are in the midst of revival meetings which are the outgrowth of the Bible conference held at the city auditorium recently, at which a number of the speakers from the Atlanta conference were on the program.

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Frank Wright, the Indian evangelist, opened a meeting last night. It will continue for the remainder of the present month.

The revival at the Tabernacle church, which began in progress for a week, will continue through the month, with Rev. W. W. Pilot, of Augusta, is doing the preaching.

Rev. E. C. Dargan, pastor of the First Baptist church, has announced that a revival will open at his church on April 5, and will run for two weeks, was not a licensed master, and had no practical experience as a navigator.

Surprise at Capital.

Washington, March 16.—Surprise was expressed by officials of the department of commerce when they were informed tonight that the board of steamboat inspectors at Philadelphia had rendered a divided opinion in the Berry trial, and that one of the members had held Captain Johnson blameless. It was pointed out that the latter had appeared only as a witness in the case and had not been represented by counsel.

Under the law there would have been no appeal if the board had acquitted Captain Berry. As it is, the case will go to Captain Seeley, at New York, supervising inspector of the district. If Captain Seeley finds either or both of the skippers guilty, an appeal may be made to the steamboat inspector general here, George C. Uhler, whose decision would be final.

BALLARD WOMAN OUT ON HABEAS CORPUS

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Lula Ballard, who has been confined in the county jail charged with the killing of Donald Haire, has been released from custody on a habeas corpus proceeding. The woman was committed upon the recommendation of a coroner's jury to have her held for action by the grand jury.

The judge did not pass upon the question as to the right of the coroner to have her held, but released her on sufficient to hold her longer.

In his dying statement Haire asserted that the woman shot him, but said that the affair was accidental, and he did not hold her responsible.

ALUMNAE BUILDING FOR SHORTER COLLEGE

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The alumnae association of Shorter college, at its mid-winter meeting here, pledged itself to raise funds for the erection of an alumnae building on the campus of the college. The two literary societies of the college have already raised funds for a similar structure, and the buildings will probably be erected during the coming summer. The organization of alumnae auxiliaries in the different centers of the south where students of Shorter reside was indorsed. A committee of three was appointed to prepare an alumnae directory, and to have charge of the organization of the branch bodies.

Bahnsen to Visit Rome.

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—State Veterinarian Peter F. Bahnsen will be in Floyd county March 20 and will make a demonstration of hog cholera inoculation. A number of local stock breeders are planning to attend.

COUNCIL PAYS $87,500 FOR NEW FIRE ALARM

Finance Committee Authorized to Take $2,500 From Anticipated Water Receipts.

Council yesterday approved Mayor Woodward's compromise agreement with the Okenite company for the purchase by the city of the fire alarm system for $87,500 and authorized the finance committee to anticipate $2,500 from the water receipts to be added to the finance sheet to make up the difference between $84,000 provided by the budget and the purchase price.

The terms of the agreement were communicated by the mayor in a special message to council together with a bill of sale drawn up and approved by Assistant City Attorney Hill, under the new agreement between the city and the Okenite company, and the guarantees made in the original contract remain intact.

As was stated in The Constitution's exclusive story of the signing of the deal, the city saves $22,107.72 over the purchase price stipulated in the original contract.

Immediately after council approved the mayor's agreement with the committee, Chairman Humphries, of the finance committee, offered a resolution providing for taking of $2,500 of the unclothed water receipts and placing that amount in the sinking fund to the credit of the police and fire departments to be used as part payment of the compromise price of $87,500.

MACON'S DOGCATCHER GETS TIRED OF HIS JOB

Macon, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Colonel W. W. Crawford, Macon's corraller of dogs for the last six years, has resigned and today has been a happy man indeed, for it is the first time since the first day of February that the dogs have felt free to roam the streets at will, meaning, of course, those who are not equipped with the badges required by the city ordinance.

Henceforth there is no need to fearful their tails, hang their heads and sidestep, for they can come within the range of the colonel's eagle eye or unlimbered lasso who knows but what into the middle of next week and decided Sunday as the time for their celebration.

Most of the whisky now being sold in Macon is by the locker clubs, the Law Enforcement league having failed by well cleaned out those near beer dealers who used to sell whisky on the side.

SENDS GREEN NECKTIE TO ALL HIS FRIENDS

Macon, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Judge Hugh McKerrey, known as the wit of East Macon, today, as is his annual custom, sent out the usual friends throughout the city a necktie of green and a sprig of shamrock. Those same friends have been receiving these remembrances of St. Patrick's day for a good many years and if they did not get them they would really feel hurt about it, so that the judge, who is free from the side of his feet to the crown of his head, sees that no one is overlooked.

Not to show appreciation by wearing the green tie and the shamrock on March 17 would be a breach of

4 OHIO DEMOCRATS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Columbus, Ohio, March 16.—Pleas of not guilty were entered today by the four democratic leaders in state politics when they were arraigned on common pleas court on indictments returned last week charging them with alleged violations of the state civil service laws.

Those arraigned were William L. Finley, chairman of the democratic state committee; Emery W. Lattanner, state auditor; Thomas J. Duffy, W. W. Abercrombie, cashier of the state treasury, security of the state tax commissioner, and Charles Hall, clerk of the superintendent of banks.

It was announced that attorneys for the defense will move to quash the indictments on the ground that the special grand jury convening in June and the solicitation of contributions to a democratic campaign fund does not constitute a violation of the civil service statute.

7 PER CENT DIVIDEND FOR EAST ATLANTA BANK

John D. Walker, financial agent of the East Atlanta bank, situated at the intersection of Flat Shoals and Glenwood avenues, gives out the information that at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the bank yesterday, it was decided to pay a 7 per cent dividend on a capital stock of $25,000, which will leave a surplus on hand of $2,500.

New officers for the year were elected as follows: E. A. Milne, president; W. McClain, vice president; W. M. Green, second vice president, and F. M. Ellington, cashier.

About fifty of the sixty stockholders attended the meeting.

Oglethorpe Superior Court.

Lexington, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The superior court of Oglethorpe county convened today, Judge R. W. Meadows presiding, with Solicitor General Tom Brown present. Civil cases will engage the court with the usual number of Criminal cases to be disposed of. Judge John Hart will speak here Tuesday on tax equalization.

FAIR AND CONTESTS ON APRIL 16 AND 17 BY DEKALB SCHOOLS

Decatur, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The public schools of DeKalb county will hold a fair and contests at the courthouse in Decatur, April 16 and 17. An elaborate program has been arranged by a committee of teachers and adopted by the educational association of the country.

There will be oratorical contests, spelling match, domestic science and culture, domestic arts or sewing, manual art and agriculture.

Prizes will be awarded the schools making the best showing in the following contests:

1—Display of articles; general exhibit.

2—Display of wild flowers (pressed).

3—School winning highest number of prizes.

4—School having highest per cent of children of district at fair.

5—School having highest per cent of patrons at the fair.

Athletic Contests.

Prizes will also be awarded the winners in the following athletic contests:

1—Relay race. Each school will send three runners. Each boy will run one-sixth of a mile, making a half mile race for each school.

2—100-yard dash.

3—220-yard dash.

4—Running broad jump.

5—Running high jump.

6—Foot putt.

7—Baseball throw.

The committee of arrangements for the contests consists of Professor W. O. Rainey, J. W. Green, E. S. Treadwell, William Hopkins and Miss Willie Kate Carswell.

$26,600 SUBSCRIBED FOR WESLEY HOSPITAL

With the $25,000 for which they were working raised, the ladies of the Wesley Memorial hospital campaign have not stopped, but on Monday reported additional sums gathered amounting to $1,100, making a total of $26,600.

They will merely continue their efforts and raise more money toward the hospital fund, which Mrs. G. Calvier has promised to augment with treble the sum the ladies raise.

"CASCARETS" CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

Feel Bully! No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Constipation.

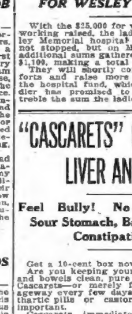

Get a 10-cent box now.

Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

You go to bed sick, headachy, bilious and constipated you feel, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.

Refined Homes Demand Perfection

Refined homes should be equipped with the Peerless toilet combination—durable, perfect in sanitation and certain of performances under all conditions.

Bowls made of vitreous porcelain, absolutely impervious, make discolorations and gathering of germ cultures impossible. Tanks of solid oak (not veneer), lined with copper, insure durability and prevent repair bills.

Your plumber will be glad to install Peerless Combinations. Be sure your architect and builder specify them. But convince yourself by a first-hand study of toilet equipment at our show rooms. Five completely equipped bathrooms on display.

SEN. WEST IS FORMALLY PRESENTED TO WILSON

During the Afternoon He Presides for a While Over the Senate.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 16.—(Special.)—Senator William S. West was formally presented to President Wilson this morning for the first time since he became a senator. He was accompanied to the white house by Senator Hoke Smith.

"I told the president I was in favor of his peace policy in regard to Mexico and hoped there would be no war," said Senator West afterwards.

No patronage matters were discussed, but he will call later and indorse the nomination of A. Pratt Adams as district attorney for the southern district and Thomas Eason for assistant.

Senator West was called to the chair this afternoon by Vice President Marshall and presided over the senate during the speech of Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, for government standardization of grain.

Bankruptcy Petitions.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with Deputy Clerk Fred Beers, of the United States court, yesterday by Hines Frank Donovan, of Atlanta, a city salesman. The petitioner gives his liabilities at $812, without any assets. Henry Griffin Kitchens, a railroad fireman, also a resident of Atlanta, filed with Deputy Clerk Hansford Crenshaw, also a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Kitchens places his liabilities at $1,167.83 and declares he has no assets.

ITCHED SO, HE TORE HIS FLESH RESINOL CURED

Tortured For Three Weeks, But Two Applications Did the Work.

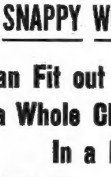

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3, 1913.—"All over my body were small pimples which itched me so that I could just grab my flesh and tear it apart. For three weeks I could not sleep at night until I was simply exhausted. I tried most everything that was supposed to give relief, and I can truthfully say that not until I used Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment did I begin to feel like the man I was. After only two applications there were no more symptoms of my ailment." (Signed) A. Jackson, care of Water Registrar's Office, District Building.

Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c), stop itching instantly and speedily heal eczema, and other skin humors, pimples, dandruff, sores, burns and piles. Sold by every druggist. Don't be fooled by "substitutes" for Resinol offered by a few unscrupulous dealers. For free trial, write to Dept. 4-R, Resinol, Baltimore.

CITY HALL WILL BE ALL SPIC AND SPAN FOR THE SHRINERS

City hall will be spic and span when the Shriners hit Atlanta for their annual conclave in May or Councilman S. L. Dallas, of the seventh ward, is going to know the reason why.

Councilman Dallas is chairman of the building and grounds committee and is the "big boss" in all matters which pertain to the beautification of the city hall. Recently he caused council to "dig" into the city treasury and buy a fine new American flag and also a flag of the city of Atlanta. Councilman Dallas also had $900 passed up to paint the interior of the city hall.

Ward Representatives Ask Committee Hearing Before Voting Lights

Certain members of council were not pleased with the recommendation of the electric light committee that $4,000 be spent immediately to install eighty lights—eight in each of the ten wards.

The objection was based chiefly on the contention of Alderman L. N. Ragsdale that the representatives of the different wards were not invited by the committee to attend the meeting and discuss the matter. Councilman Frank Reynolds, chairman, informed council that some of the wards needed the lights immediately. Council voted to send the recommendations back to the committee to be discussed at the next meeting with the ward representatives.

Consumption Takes 350 People Daily

in the United States and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine.

Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any drain which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and upbuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it. 19-16 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

"The Old Maids' Convention," which is a laugh from beginning to end, will be given tonight at the Capitol View Baptist church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Missionary society. A host of Irish costumes will be worn by some of the characters. Much interest has been manifested in the rehearsals, and a large crowd is expected out to the performance.

Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. The proceeds will be used for the purpose of wiring the church for electric lights.

Big Apple Convention Planned by Cornelia

A delegation from the chamber of commerce of Cornelia, Ga., visited President C. J. Haden, of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, in Atlanta yesterday and enlisted the co-operation of the state body in a big convention to demonstrate the possibilities of north Georgia apples and to be held in Cornelia March 26.

William Eberhardt headed the delegation from Cornelia, and was accompanied by W. Perkins, J. L. Roper, secretary of the local chamber, and Senator L. T. Peyton, of the thirty-first state senatorial district.

Each member of the delegation, who is personally interested in the apple industry, emphasized that the approaching convention was to be of tremendous importance, not only to state-wide scope of the apple industry.

Georgia Apples Win.

They pointed out that three years ago apples from Rabun county in north Georgia won a first prize at the National Apple show in Spokane, Wash., and that since then Georgia apples won a first prize at New York city, shows of national importance.

"While we believe Cornelia to be the natural apple capital of the Appalachians," said the chairman, "we know that our Pine Ridge Georgia will produce this fruit in profitable quantities from the commercial point of view. There is no question but the mountainous Georgia but is adapted by peculiar climatological conditions to excel in apple culture. Habersham and Rabun, with its record of rainfall, is destined to be one of the banner apple counties of the United States.

Big Men Present.

"We are going to have men of national as well as state importance at our convention on March 26 for the purpose of focussing attention on this now neglected source of profit. When one considers that an acre of apples will return a net profit twice as large as an acre of cotton, with less expenditure of labor, the possibilities of the industry are seen at a glance."

Some of the big men who will be present and make speeches at the Cornelia convention are: President C. J. Haden, of the state chamber of commerce; Henry C. Hubbard, president of the National Apple association; R. C. Berckmans, of Augusta, former president of the State Horticultural society; Dr. L. G. Hardeman, orchardist and legislator; R. H. Black, manager of the Yonah Fruit company; Louis B. Magid, of the Appalachian orchards; H. H. Blalock, Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture; E. V. Wilcox, state entomologist, and J. D. Price, state commissioner of agriculture.

Many other guests from the country and the state are expected. They will be given an automobile trip demonstrating the possibilities of the apple industry in the immediate vicinity of Cornelia, and within easy touch of that point.

"Incidentally they will be entitled by men who know, with the fervent hope that fine before all north Georgia in this line should be organized, for which even knowing Georgians send their good money out of the state.

INCREASE EXPECTED IN FERTILIZER PRICE

Severe Ocean Storms Have Interfered With Arrival of Number of Vessels.

At first blush it would be a difficult matter to find any connection between a storm at sea and the price of fertilizers here, but the two facts happen to be very intimately connected just now; so much so that severe ocean storms have caused the price of fertilizers to increase 50 cents per ton in Alabama already.

There has been no increase in price as yet in Georgia, but the indications are that commercial fertilizers are likely to go up here any time from the same cause.

The way it comes about is that severe ocean storms have interfered with the arrival in port of a number of vessels which were on their way to this country bringing large quantities of potash, which is a material ingredient of commercial fertilizers. Two of these cargoes, one carried by the steamship Charles Signa and consisting of 4,000 tons, due in Charleston on Monday March 16, and the other by the steamship Lockley, carrying 4,000 tons, and due in Savannah on March 12, have been held up at the Azores. This potash was needed to meet the demands of manufacturers and others who have been buying their stocks from hand-to-mouth.

As a result of the failure of these cargoes to reach port muriate of potash has gone up from $1 to $5 a ton, while kainit has advanced about $3.50 a ton. As these products figure so prominently in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers it is easy to see how conditions of this kind can materially affect the price.

Georgia manufacturers and mixers, however, had some stocks on hand and for that reason no advance has yet occurred in this state, but it is liable to do so as soon as the short stocks are exhausted.

33 GRADUATE THURSDAY AT SOUTHERN COLLEGE

The Southern College of Pharmacy will issue diplomas to thirty-three graduates on Thursday night at the Atlanta theater. This is one of the largest graduating classes in the history of the pharmaceutical college.

Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will deliver the commencement address. Thomas H. Jeffries, president of the board of trustees, will confer the degrees. An attractive musical program has been arranged.

The following graduates will receive diplomas: W. E. Andrews, North Carolina; T. H. Banks, South Carolina; O. C. Barnes, Georgia; Mrs. A. R. Bozeman, South Carolina; Miss Lucile Carter, Georgia; Miss Jessie Jo. Carter, Georgia; Walter Smith Carothers, R. G. Gaither, North Carolina; J. C. Godar, Cuba; W. G. Hall, Alabama; A. G. Whitehurst, Georgia; Byron Williams, Georgia.

EDGAR CARTER HEADS PHI DELTA THETAS

Edgar V. Carter, Jr., a popular young attorney of this city, at the Founder's Day banquet of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, at the Ansley hotel, Saturday night, was chosen to lead the local alumni chapter during the ensuing year. Mr. Carter is well known among the younger contingent of the city, and his election as president of the alumni chapter is in recognition of the high esteem in which his "frat" brothers hold him, which is also shared by his friends in general.

Fully seventy-five members of the fraternity attended the dinner, including some of the most prominent citizens of the city. The other officers elected were F. M. Gillespie, vice president; F. S. Montgomery, reporter; F. M. Peteet, treasurer, and Fred Houser, chairman of the executive committee.

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE GOES TO BIRMINGHAM

The Stone Mountain granite highway committee left last night in a body to be the guests of the Barrett Manufacturing company, of Birmingham. The committee has been invited to Birmingham to look over the offer of the Barrett Manufacturing company to build the Stone Mountain highway, which is to be 20 feet wide, a highway connecting Atlanta with the big rock, passing through all the cities on route to Stone Mountain.

The members of the committee who will make the trip are G. R. Scott, chairman, of Scottdale, Ga.; J. K. Davidson, J. F. McCurdy, D. W. Webb, J. W. Corley and R. J. Freeman. Fred Houser, of the Atlanta Convention bureau, who is interested in the completion of this highway before the American Good Roads congress holds its annual convention here next summer, will accompany the committee to Birmingham.

BYRON LICK LECTURES ON THE PANAMA CANAL

Byron L. Lick, representative of the exposition bureau of lectures of the Panama-Pacific exposition, gave a talk at the Tabernacle auditorium last night on the Panama canal and the Panama exposition. His lecture was illustrated with motion pictures of the Panama canal. He stated that it was his belief that Georgia and the south would be benefited more than any other section of the country by the opening of the canal.

MONTGOMERY PLANS CONVENTION BUREAU HOUSER WILL SPEAK

The Montgomery Business Men's league, a similar civic organization to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, wishes to establish a convention bureau, and has invited Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta convention bureau of the chamber of commerce, to address a mass meeting of the league in Montgomery Wednesday night.

J. F. Letton, president of the board of directors of the Atlanta bureau, will accompany Fred Houser to Montgomery, and also deliver an address before the Business Men's league on the benefits of a convention bureau.

C. C. Taylor, chairman of the Montgomery Business men's league, stated in a letter to Fred Houser that the league had been attracted by the large number of conventions being secured for Atlanta through the efforts of the convention bureau, highly complimenting its work, and stating that Montgomery must have a similar bureau to bring some of the conventions to that city.

PROSPEROUS YEAR FOR CORPORATIONS

The Public Service Companies Make Good Reports to the Railroad Commission.

The gross earnings of the public service corporations of Atlanta, just filed with the state railroad commission, indicates that they have had a very prosperous year.

The gross earnings of the Georgia Railway and Power company for 1913 were $4,766,690.55. The company's gross earnings for 1913 were $4,567,256.40. The gain was $199,434.17.

The gross earnings of the Atlanta Gas Light company for 1913 were $453,162.16. The gross earnings for 1912 were $426,849.22. The gain was $27,282.88.

The gross earnings of the Southern Bell Telephone company for 1913 were $3,788,806.16, which was a gain in gross earnings over 1912 of $229,904.44.

The gain in the telephone company's net earnings for 1913 over 1912 was $48,881.06.

"FIDDLING JOHN" PLAYS FOR RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

"Fiddling John," the champion fiddler of the old convention days, will play tonight at the St. Fadrick's day celebration, which will be held in the parlors of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. Irish songs and Irish recitations, abounding with Irish wit, will be in vogue.

Federal Grand Jury Meets.

The United States grand jury, Frank Hawkins, foreman, organized Monday, March 9, and adjourned after four days' industrious work, will reconvene Monday morning, March 23, at 10 o'clock. During the short recess of the body the district attorney's office has been busy preparing new accusations for consideration by the grand jury. The additional papers have to do almost entirely with violations of the internal revenue laws. It is probable, though, Foreman Hawkins and his associates will be called upon to investigate and consider a peonage case having rather unusual features.

Swift & Company's sales of fresh beef in Atlanta for the week ending Saturday, March 14, averaged 10.99 cents per pound.—(Adv.)

BYRD'S BYRD BUILDING ATLANTA

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

A New La Vida Corset Fitted By Mrs. Marvin and a Woman Is Ready!

Ready for the fitting of the new suits, the new dresses, the new evening gowns she will have for the spring functions.

Mrs. Marvin has years of experience in corset fitting back of her. She knows. She knows anatomy; she knows corsets; she knows styles.

And she has here at her finger's end the splendid new models of La Vida Corsets. So there is nothing wanting.

Below is listed a number of the La Vidas that are particularly fine for wear with the dresses and suits of spring styles.

At $3.50 Of coutil, with medium low top, free, long, smoothly fitting back—an excellent model for the large figure.

At $5.00 A corset with elastic lacing over the abdomen; low bust, long back; it imparts that "naturalness" to the figure so desired right now.

At $5.00 Of broche, extremely long back with low bust. The elastic side gores insure comfort and ease when one is sitting. For the average figure. The same model may be had in a neatly patterned batiste.

At $6.50 A light and supple corset for dancing, of suedine, a boneless model, one-inch top. For the slender figure.

At $8.50 A heavier and stronger corset of imported coutil, for the average or stout figure. Low bust, very long back that fits snugly over the hips because it has elastic gores at the side.

At $15.00 An elegant model of imported broche, few bones, long back that conforms to the shape; elastic gores; low bust; beautifully trimmed. For the medium or stout figure.

FORCED TO EAT CRUSHED ICE

And Was Not Even Allowed Privilege of Sitting Up, But Finally Wins Out.

Kaplan, La.—Mrs. Cazamar Burkhart, of this town, gives out following for publication: "I feel that I owe my life to Cardui, the woman's tonic. I was married last April, and was in fairly good health. Shortly after marriage my health began to fail, and for three long months I was threatened with serious sickness.

I passed most of my time in bed, with a nurse at my bedside. At last, I was told an operation was necessary. I was so weak I could retain nothing on my stomach but crushed ice, and was not even allowed to sit up in bed.

A friend of mine advised me to use Cardui, the woman's tonic, and they got a bottle for me, as a last resort.

After taking Cardui for one week, I was able to be up in my room. After continual use for two months, I was in perfect health, and could do all of my work without itching.

I take an occasional dose of Cardui and Black-Draught now, to keep my system in good condition.

Several of my friends are using Cardui with good results. I am never without it in the house."

There's a bottle of Cardui waiting for you at your nearest druggists'. Get it and begin taking today. You will never regret it.

MINISTERS INDORSE DR. DANIEL'S STAND

Favor Resolutions Against Church Members Belonging to Clubs Violating Law.

Following the indorsements of the locker club resolutions, drawn up by a committee of members of the First Baptist church, by several pulpits of Baptist churches in this city, the Baptist Ministers' association Monday morning passed an informal resolution unanimously expressing their approval of the position taken in the resolutions and members of the church holding memberships in locker clubs selling liquor.

Several speeches were heard in favor of the stand that Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, has taken in this question. There was not a dissenting voice in the entire body of ministers. "From appearances," said one minister, "it seems that it will behoove each of us to take similar action in our own church. I myself am in favor of so doing, and will try it out at an early date."

A committee of three was appointed by the association to draw up formal resolutions of appreciation, expressing the indorsement of the ministers' association of the locker club resolutions offered by Dr. Daniel. This committee will return the formal resolutions at the next meeting of the association, on next Monday morning, and then the formal resolutions will be given out to the press for publication.

On Wednesday night the members of the First Baptist church will hold a mass meeting, and decide whether the resolutions against the locker clubs will be made a part of the church's policy. The importance of the resolutions expressed their faith Monday that the resolutions would be adopted.

WARRANT IS DRAWN FOR PENSION MONEY

A warrant for $304,530 for pensions of confederate veterans and widows of veterans was drawn upon the state treasury department on Monday. This amount will be distributed to the veterans in the next few weeks.

This is the second payment of the year, the first being on February 14, to the amount of $304,254. The balance yet to be paid is $7,046.32.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVER SUSTAINS A BROKEN LEG

J. E. Wilson, driver of a wagon for the Salvation Army, was found with a broken leg and turned under his wagon in the woods near Peachtree creek, early Sunday morning by Deputy County Game Warden A. E. Binyard, who reached him on the road, hailed a passing auto and sent him into Atlanta for medical treatment.

Wilson was driving along Peachtree road when his horse bolted and took to the woods. After running for about a quarter of a mile the wagon hit a tree, throwing Wilson out and breaking his leg. Binyard, on the alert for an infractor of the game laws, heard the crash and hastened to the injured man's assistance.

HONOR ST. PATRICK AT MARIST COLLEGE

An elaborate program has been arranged in celebration of St. Patrick's day at Marist college today, there being two performances, one in the afternoon and one during the evening. Many favorite Irish songs are listed in the program.

The two programs are as follows:

Afternoon.

Chorus—By the boys' choir of the Sacred Heart church: "Wearing of the Green," "Kathleen Mavourneen," solo by Kenneth Parry, "Come Back to Erin," solo by Albert Madden.

"The Little Irish Girl"—Miss Genevieve Ward.

"The Harp That Once Thro' Tara's Hall," piano solo—Marianna Gillespie.

Irish airs, violin solos—Master William McAlpin.

Chorus by the girls' choir of the Sacred Heart Parochial school: "Killarney," "My Irish Country."

"Irish Coquetry," recitation—Miss Ia Chevis.

A trip through Ireland, illustrated.

Evening.

"Green Anthem," vocal solo—Mrs. May McAlpin.

Irish folk songs—Emmett R. Reynolds.

"Macushla," vocal solo—Miss Genevieve Ward.

Irish songs, Wilfred Waters. "Wearing of the Green," "Off to Philadelphia in the Mornin'."

"Where the River Shannon Flows," violin solo—David Love.

"Bad Luck," an Irish comedy—Box, Sam Dull; Cox, Frank Pearson; the Housekeeper, G. R. Adams.

Closing remarks—Father Guinan

There will be good Irish music by the Marist college orchestra both afternoon and night.

COUNCIL TO GIVE RELIEF TO POLICEMAN M'CARLEY

After council had passed favorably on the application of T. J. McCarley, a policeman, to be retired on a pension, Councilman Claude Mason asked the aldermanic board to hold the petition in abeyance until the next meeting of council in order that he might offer an amendment so as to give McCarley retired during the time he has been ill.

Under the civil service rules, McCarley is eligible to retirement on pension as a patrolman. After council passed favorably on the application, Councilman Mason learned that McCarley has been ill for several weeks, and he secured the consent of the aldermanic board to prepare an amendment to be introduced at the next meeting providing McCarley be paid full time for the period of his illness.

RAILROAD Y. M. C. A. TO OBSERVE ST. PATRICK'S

The Railroad Young Men's Christian association has arranged for an old-time social and entertainment at the rooms, 214½ West Alabama street, Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock. It being Saint Patrick's day everything will smack of Shamrock mirth and a good time is assured. A feature that will be thoroughly enjoyable will be the music furnished by "Fiddlin' John" Carson, the champion of the old fiddlers' convention. Refreshments will be served and the whole affair is complimentary to the members and their ladies.

LOCAL MOTORCYCLISTS MAKE TRIP TO ROME

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—A party of forty Atlanta motorcyclists passed through Rome Sunday on a 240-mile jaunt. The party came from Atlanta to Rome via Marietta and Cartersville, and after spending an hour here they returned, making the trip by way of Cedartown, Rockmart and Austell. They report the roads in fair shape.

FORMER ROME MAN TO TRY OVERSEA FLIGHT

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Lieutenant John H. Towers, a Rome boy who is in charge of the aviation corps of the United States navy, will be one of the aviators who will seek the title of "the Columbus of the heavens" this summer. Lieutenant Towers is planning to make the flight across the ocean in a hydroplane.

He holds the world's record of 393 miles in six hours and ten minutes for a non-stop hydroplane flight.

CARTER CONVICTED ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Savannah, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Mannie Carter was convicted in the superior court today of manslaughter and sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary. Carter was charged with attempting to kill Isiah Hancock and his sister, Mrs. Ella Burnside. He is a brother-in-law of the couple.

The shooting occurred last December in the Black Ankle district, near Savannah.

Relatives had circulated the report that Mrs. Carter was in a precarious condition as the result of an overdose of chloroform. Angered by the report, Carter is alleged to have gone on a rampage.

Rome Templars Inspected.

Rome, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Rome Commandery, No. —, Knights Templars, underwent an official inspection tonight from John W. Murrell, of Atlanta, grand senior warden of the Grand Commandery of Georgia. Following the drill and inspection, Mr. Murrell was the guest of honor at a banquet in the Masonic temple.

Blow Struck in Anger by Brother Causes Death of Eastman Boy

Eastman, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—During a difficulty that arose over a trivial matter between Frank and Ellis Harrell, sons of L. C. Harrell, of Mitchell's district, on Saturday afternoon, March 7, Frank was struck on his head by his younger brother, Ellis, which resulted in Frank's death Saturday morning, a week later. The weapon used was a piece of hickory that had been split for the purpose of making an ax handle.

An operation was performed by Dr. Willis Jones, of Atlanta, and Dr. A. L. Wilkins, of this city, on last Tuesday, in an effort to save the young man's life. Ellis, who struck the blow, is prostrated with grief, and all efforts to console him have proved futile.

The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon. Frank was about 20 years old, and Ellis is about 17.

CHANGE COMPANY NAME AND INCREASE CAPITAL

Southern Finance Corporation Becomes the Southern Trust Company.

The officers and directors of the Southern Finance corporation yesterday reorganized the company, increasing the capital stock from $176,000 to $250,000, and changing the name to the Southern Trust company. J. E. Towle, president of the American Trust and Banking corporation, of Albany, Ga., was elected president of the new firm.

Due to the increase in the size of the trust company they will be compelled to give up their offices in the Empire Life building, and are now looking for ground floor in one of the larger office buildings of the city.

President Towle, although he will remain president of the trust company, at Albany, will later in the year move, with his family, to Atlanta. J. C. Shropshire was elected secretary of the new organization; Thomas M. Callaway, treasurer, and S. C. Callaway, vice president.

King Honors Carnegie.

Copenhagen, Denmark, March 16.—King Christian has conferred the grand cross of the Dannebrog order on Andrew Carnegie.

AUTO STRIKES BUILDING TO SAVE LIFE OF BOY

E. V. Kennedy Swerves His Machine to Keep From Hitting Boy on Bicycle.

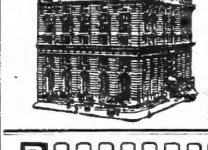

The bravery of an automobilist in risking his own life to save an imperiled youth on a bicycle yesterday resulted in the headlong crash of an automobile into a brick building at the corner of Boulevard and Old Wheat street.

Turning into Boulevard from Old Wheat street, E. V. Kennedy, driving his touring car, saw Ed Knox, a young white boy, directly in his path on a bicycle. Failure of the automobile to swerve from its path would have meant the death of the boy.

Mr. Kennedy vested the wheels of his machine quickly to the left, mounting his car into the empty storehouse building. The machine was wrecked almost beyond repair, but the bicycle of the boy was hardly damaged.

Hear Moonshine Cases.

Seven moonshine cases were disposed of in the United States district court yesterday, Judge Newman presiding. There were three convictions and in each case a sentence of one month imprisonment in the Fulton county jail and the payment of $100 fine was imposed by the presiding judge. The other four defendants were acquitted.

MRS. WINN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

Kansas City, Mo.—"The doctors told me I would never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on me. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and after I took it until I made me sound and well, and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine to other women who suffer when I have an opportunity."—Mrs. E. T. Winn, 1225 Fremont Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Read What Another Woman says:

Cumming, Ga.—"I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicine and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter."—Mrs. Charlie Bagley, R. 3, Cumming, Ga.

RUBE KISSINGER ARRIVES TODAY

Hamilton, Ed and James Walsh Released—Cracker Squad Now Numbers 23 Men.

Manager Smith received a wire from Rube Kissinger, the veteran pitcher with Memphis last season, that he left Goshen, Ind., where he has been working this winter, Sunday night at 9:30 o'clock.

If his train is on time Rube will arrive here this morning shortly before noon and will be at the ball park in uniform in the afternoon.

Kissinger's arrival will make the Crackers' squad number twenty-three, consisting of eight pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

Three Men Leave.

The Walsh brothers, catcher and infielder, left Monday morning to join the Augusta South Atlantic league team, to whom they have been sold.

Pitcher Hamilton also left to join the Macon club, of the same league. Hamilton had accepted the terms of the Pensacola before agreeing to play with Atlanta, and the former had first claim to his services.

All of the players remaining with the club will receive a thorough tryout before any of them are turned loose. This will be for some time, as until the players have looked at curve pitching for some time no real line on their merits can be gained.

Bisland Is Not Going Very Well With Browns, He Writes to Friends

Letters received by friends of Rivington Bisland, the Crackers' brilliant shortstop last season, are to the effect that Bizzy is not going very well with the Browns.

"I'm in a slump of all kinds," Bizzy writes, "and I do not know what is the matter."

Cooper Jumps.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 16.—Outfielder Claude Cooper, of the New York National League baseball team, announced today he had signed a three-year contract with the Brooklyn Federals. His salary was said to be $6,000 per year, of which he received one year's pay in advance today.

Crackers Down Colonels In First Exhibition Game; Free Transportation Helps

LOUISVILLE PITCHER KIN TO AN' ATLANTA WOMAN

Jake Northrop, the Louisville twirler, who twirled the last four innings of the game against the Crackers Monday afternoon, is related to an Atlanta woman.

He is first cousin of Mrs. Billy Wall, wife of the superintendent of the dining car service of the Southern railway, in Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Wall are entertaining Mr. Northrop while he is in Atlanta.

By Dick Jemison.

Although they were outhit two to one, the Crackers defeated the Louisville Colonels in the first exhibition game of the season here yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 3.

The Crackers scored their four runs in the first two innings, mainly through the wildness of Pitcher Lordermilk, some timely boots and one pinch hit.

The Colonels got nine bingles, but the nails they were scattered through the nine rounds and did only occasional damage, failing in the main when there were men ready to count. The showing of the Crackers is considered mighty good by all, when it is taken into consideration that they looked at their first curve ball pitching of the year and plenty of speed.

Osborn Hit Hard.

Osborn, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Colonels, had a perfect day with the bat, clouting four vicious singles and two fines to the plate. Hal Heidmiller, former Cracker, got a couple of blows, two-thirds of the colonels' wallops being distributed between these two.

On the Cracker side there was very little hitting done. They got four hits and three of the four were of the scratchiest variety. The only clean blow came in the second inning, and they counted two runs.

Hank Elbin's work around the initial cushion was the one bright feature of the Crackers' play, as the fans directed their attention to him more than any other man on the squad, comparing his work with Joe Agler, whom he succeeds. Hank looks mighty good and will look better a little later.

The Crackers counted twice in the opening inning. McConnell drew a free ticket. Schwind laid down a neat sacrifice and when the lanky twirler of the visitors got his hook-shop up with his props both hands were safe.

Welchonce sent them up a fly with a sacrifice. Tommy Long slammed one at McLarry, who fumbled, and two runs sifted across the platter.

Clough's Timely Hit.

In the second, McConnell got ticketed on the funny zone with one of Lordermilk's fast ones, Schwind got free transportation, Welchonce fanned at a wild pitch and the bases were filled. Long pickled one to center for a cushion, scoring two runs.

The first Colonel runs came in the fourth inning, when Gill Price took up the hurling duties. Dent having held the visitors three innings and no runs in the three innings that he toiled.

Osborn opened with a single. Sevrold popped to Lynch, who dropped the pill. Price recovering and tossing Osborn out at second. Weinberg forced Sevrold at second. Beaumiller doubled, sending Weinberg to third. Weinberg scored when one of Price's fast ones bounced off Murray's glove. Dodge scored Beaumiller with a timely single.

O'Rourke, batting for Lordermilk, opened the fifth inning by doubling to right. Burch sacrificed and after Lynch had made a nice play on Stansbury's grounder, holding O'Rourke on third, Osborn singled, scoring O'Rourke.

Browning Pitched Well.

Browning finished the game for the Crackers, pitching the last three innings and allowing but one bingle, this by Osborn. Northrop, who pitched the last four innings for the Colonels, had a peck of stuff and the Crackers did not have a chance.

Manager Smith will use Doscher, Lawrence and Perryman against the Colonels in the first exhibition game of the season here this afternoon. Manager Hayden will probably send Toney and Woodburn, his best pitchers, in against the Crackers in a endeavor to make it even.

George Kircher will take left field for the Crackers in Long's place and Al Nixon will go to center in Welchonce's place. These will be the only changes in the line-up.

JAY GOULD LEADS COVEY AT RACQUETS

American Amateur Wins Four Straight Sets From English Professional Champ.

Philadelphia, March 16.—Jay Gould, American amateur champion, today won all four sets in the first section of his match with George F. Covey, the English professional and title-holder for the world's open championship at court tennis. Gould won twenty-four games to his opponent's eight and scored a total of 132 points to Covey's 81.

The English champion failed to win a single game in any set, although he scored the first point made, and four of the six games went to deuce. He made his best showing in the third and fourth sets, in both of which he got within striking distance, only to lose out in the final rallies.

Summary:
First set:
Gould—445 455—27—6.
Covey—385 133—20—2.
Second set:
Gould—444 4441 5—26—6.

JACK STRUPPA HEADS YELLOW JACKET FIVE

Jack Struppa, of Columbus, Ga., has been named captain of the Georgia Tech basketball team for 1914-1915. Spence, of Thomasville, Ga., was elected alternate.

With the exception of Captain Bradley, every member of the team will be back for next season's play.

NEWNAN MANAGER LIKES HIS PROSPECTS

Newnan, Ga., March 14.—(Special.)—Manager "Wat" Sanders, of the Newnan team of the Georgia-Alabama league, announced today that he has almost completed plans for play on the opening of the league's championship season, and that he was confident of not only winning the opening game, but of winning the pennant the season with ease, as he has never before had so much good material together in one team in his history of baseball. Out of about sixty players he has signed he has a team of winners.

Manager Sanders had planned to pitch the opening game against LaGrange here, but at the request of Lovet, he has consented to let Lovet pitch, and Clark catches. Clark caught Lovet three years before his (Lovet) coming to the league, and was through Lovet that Clark was signed this season. This battery is conceded as being the best possible for the club.

Pitcher Hawkins, the youngster who pitched such winning ball last season, has signed for this season and is in better shape than ever before. With Lovet and Hawkins to twirl, Newnan seems to have the better advantage of copping the pennant.

EXHIBITION GAMES

Games Today.

Louisville in Atlantic waters.
Cubs v. Athletics in Columbia.
St. Paul vs. Memphis.
Boston v. Cleveland A. L. at American G. M. C.'s athletic field.

Baltimore 7, Phillies 2.

Wilmington, N. C., March 15.—The Baltimore International league team today defeated the Philadelphia National League club here 7 to 2. The Baltimore players played an errorless game and batted hard against their opponents. It was the first exhibition game of the International team.

Score—
Baltimore . . . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 7 0—7 9 1
Philadelphia . . . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—2 7 3
Batteries—Caporal, Morrisette, Jarman and Egan and Lodgard, Marshall, Jacobs and Killifer and Burns.

Athletics 6, Cubs 4.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 16.—The Philadelphia Athletics today won from the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 4. The two teams played a fast game, and were tied up at the eighth inning on a pass to Barry, two-base hit by Collins and a single by McInnis. The two teams now have played seven games with each other in Florida, each winning two.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Chicago . . . . . 003 000 100—4 7 2
Philadelphia . . . . . 001 100 04x—6 10 1
Batteries—Lavender, Zabel and Bresnahan, Hargrave; Wickoff, Pennock and Lapp.

Cleveland A. A. 5, Braves 6.

Americus, Ga., March 16.—(Special.) The Cleveland Scouts trounced the Boston Braves here today in a ten-inning game, 6 to 5. Both teams played jam-up ball, and it was a toss up to select the winner. The Cleveland team had their batting clothes on, and hammered the ball for a total of twenty-four bases. They bunched their hits when they needed them, and drove in runs.

Boston scored first, but Cleveland took the lead in the third, when they rang up five. Things packed along with Boston collecting a few stray runs now and then, and the end of the ninth found the two teams tied up with Cleveland took second place at the ball, and pushed two more across the plate. Boston made a rally, but was unable to score.

Casey Jones started two double plays from center field that were peaches, and Maranville was the bright one for Boston, while Jay Kirke, ex-Southern leaguer, Bates and Casey Jones starred at the bat. Lefty Georges and Ecu buried for the Scouts, and Bradley and Strand pitched for the Braves. The teams will play again tomorrow, and a record crowd turned out to root for the Cleveland team.

Washington Regulars Win.

Charlottesville, Va., March 16.—The Washington American league veterans today defeated a team made up of Washington recruits, together with a few veterans, by a score of 5 to 3. It was Washington's first game of the spring training season.

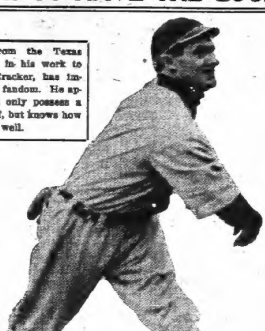

Reidy Signs Two.

Rome, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Manager Jack Reidy of the Rome baseball corporation, has signed two new recruits. One of them is Roy Krantz of Clarksville, Ark., an outfielder who has not before played professional ball. He is twenty years of age, is six feet tall and tips the scale at 180. He is said to be a good hitter and will arrive a trial in the position made vacant by the drafting of John Coohan, who is now with New Orleans. Reidy has also signed Bernard Mahoney, a right-hand pitcher who has played semi-professional baseball in Nashville for several years.

FORMER CRACKERS ARE MAKING GOOD

Jacinto Calvo and "Slim" Love are making good with the Los Angeles club, of the Pacific Coast league. Calvo held down left field the other day against the White Sox Yannigans, collecting a single and a triple and grabbing two flies. Love twirled four innings, giving one hit, fanning one, and walking one. Pretty good going for the Kids at, wot?

BANTAM ELIMINATION BOUTS AT ORPHEUM

Grant Meets Eggers—Winner to Battle Kid Williams at a Later Date.

Promoter Lou Castro has leased the Orpheum theater for a series of boxing bouts and he will bring to Atlanta the best boys in all divisions for the improvement of local fight fans.

His first card will be on March 21, when he will stage as the main bout a ten-round go between Knockout Eggers, who recently made Kid Young quit cold, and Jimmy Grant, the little Chicago bantam, whose work here has been of the best.

These boys have agreed to weigh 116 pounds at 5 o'clock the night of the battle and have posted forfeits of $100 guaranteeing that they make this weight, the money to be forfeited in the event they do not.

This ought to be a wonderful scrap, inside more or less by reason of the fact that Promoter Castro has already signed Kid Williams, the Baltimore sensation, to meet the winner. He has accepted Kid Williams' terms and all that remains to be done to assure the appearance of the boys here is the signing of articles of agreement.

Kid Herman, the New Orleans bantam may also appear here with one of these boys.

LEACH WILL BE BACK AT THIRD BASE AGAIN

Chicago, March 16.—Captain Tommy Leach will get back his old place at third base and Heine Zimmerman will play shortstop when the Chicago Nationals take the field next month, according to an announcement of the team's make-up, telegraphed by Manager Orth, today from Jacksonville, Fla. Good, Schulte and Johnston will compose the outfield.

Bowden Loses.

Bowden, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—The Fourth district A. and M. nine won from Bowden today, Friday, the score being 12 to 0. Craven, of the A. and M. held his opponents at his mercy throughout the game, yielding only six hits. Otherwise, the game was featureless. Batteries: A. & M., Craven and Warren; Bowden, Johnson, Chapple and Chapple.

TAFT TURNS DOWN SYNDICATE'S OFFER

Cincinnati, March 16.—After a meeting here today with Charles P. Taft, principal stockholder in the Chicago National league baseball club, John T. Connery and F. D. Mayer, representing a syndicate of Chicago capitalists, left tonight for Chicago, after Mr. Taft had definitely refused an offer they had made him for the purchase of his stock. What the offer was some of the conferees would say. It is known, however, that the price offered was far above what Mr. Taft considers his stock is worth. Although at the meeting the report that Manager Tinker, Taft's figures, Connery and Mayer said that the deal in all its details was as they intend soon to have a meeting of the syndicate with four Aggressent to see what can be done in the matter.

Mr. Mayer, in speaking of the offer after leaving the conference, said:

"We have reached our limit and any further overtures must come from Mr. Taft. The outlay to purchasing the club would be approximately $1,250,000, inasmuch as the new grand stand is a necessity. I doubt whether the club would be a paying investment on half that sum if the grand stand were not erected. I do not mean by this, however, that we have given up hope of obtaining the Cubs."

CHANGE IN DATES.

University of Georgia Baseball Schedule Changed.

Athens, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—Some changes are effective in the baseball schedule at Georgia as follows:

Dahlonega, N. G. A., college, not contracted with till now, will probably be here for the first game next Saturday, March 21.

Mississippi A. and M. have been just contracted with for two games in Atlanta, March 23 and 24.

The Clemson games have been shifted to the 27th and 28th instead of the 26th and 28th.

The games with the West Virginia Wesleyan will be on March 31 and April 1, instead of the dates first announced.

The other games announced some time ago in The Constitution are correct.

G. M. C. OPENS SEASON WITH MACON PEACHES

Milledgeville, Ga., March 16.—(Special.)—George Stinson and his bunch of Macon peaches opened the baseball season here Tuesday afternoon, when they met the Georgia Military college cadets.

The game will be called at 2:30, when the local fans will get their first look at G. M. C.'s team in real action—and their first taste of the good old baseball game for this season.

There is a good punch behind the college boys' team already. Many are saying they are as good as the best this coming baseball season as was their famous football team last fall.

Coach Maddox believes in getting off to a flying start, as does Coach Mayer. He believes he can counteract it easier. He can't stop a boug-up a drooping spirit in a team.

G. M. C. hopes to make a good showing in the game with the Macon Peaches today.

The next game will be with George Stallings' "Boston Braves" on G. M. C. athletic field Monday, March 23.

COLUMBIA BILL.

Three Good Bouts for Wednesday Night.

There is going to be some mighty good milling at the Columbia theater Wednesday night when Eddie Kane and Eddie Collins, two promising lightweights, book up for ten rounds on a "winner-take-all" agreement.

Leonard and Collins will be the headliner of the Columbia bill.

Manager Jones has selected a sterling preliminary in "Young" Nelson and "Battling" Shoppard. Both boys are well known to Atlanta fight fans and are expected to put on a rattling good exhibition.

Jim Thomas and Kid York is a sort of added attraction that will travel over the four-round route.

Manager Jones' action Saturday night when he threw out Meyer Fries and Kid Rose for stalling, has put a stop to the appearance of fight fans, who now look to the Columbia to give them clean sport.

FEDS WILL MAKE TEST WITH KILLIFER CASE

Chicago, March 16.—A bill asking for a permanent injunction to prevent William Killifer from playing with any baseball club except the Chicago Federal League club, will be filed in the United States court at Grand Rapids, Mich., next Thursday, it was announced today by Secretary Gilmore, president of the Federal league.

The Killifer case, Gilmore said, will be the first of a series of test suits to be started by the Federal league.

Gilmore said he would bring Pitchers Standing and Kahler, of the Cleveland American league club, into court to show cause why they should not report to the Federal league, but this will not be done until the Killifer case is settled.

Killifer, according to Gilmore, signed a Federal league contract, accepted $500 as advance money, then repudiated the contract and joined the Philadelphia National League club, which is now training in the south.

BOYS' HIGH WINS PREP BASKETBALL

Scored Win Over Donald Fraser for the City Title. The Final Score Was 38 to 21.

Playing jam-up ball all the way, Boys' High not only won out over Donald Fraser yesterday afternoon, but also won the city basketball championship for the season of 1914. The game, which was played on the Tech court in the Crystal Palace, was featured by the extreme roughness with which the two teams played. Some very sensational shots were made by members of both teams.

Donald Fraser made the first point of the game, which was a foul, but Boys' High then started in to shoot and ran the score up to such huge proportions that Donald Fraser never took the lead again. The score at the end of the first period was Boys' High 16, Donald Fraser 3.

In the second half, Donald Fraser played a good deal better brand of ball, but the lead that Boys' High had obtained in the first half was too much for them, and Boys' High was never in danger of losing the game. The final score when the whistle blew for the ending of the game was Boys' High 38, Donald Fraser 21. Donal Fraser making nearly three times as much in the second period as they did in the first. In this half, too, there was not so much rough stuff and were repeatedly called down by the referee.

Loftis Stars.

Loftis, a guard on the Boys' High team, who has only been playing since the first Marist game, played the best game of any man on the court. Time after time he would intercept Donald Fraser's passes and pass the ball back into his own territory. Dave Wadsworth Burgess in fine style, holding him to three baskets. Captain Johnson and Floyd also played a good game for Boys' High, Johnson getting 12 points, while Scott donated 14 to Boys' High's score.

For Donald Fraser, the playing of Phillips was the best. Joseph Wadsworth, at guard, also played good ball for Donald Fraser and succeeded in locating the basket twice for 4 points.

The line-up:

BOYS HI (38)	Pos.	D. FRASER (21)
Johnston (12)	..Forward..	Phillips (11)
Starr (4)	..Forward..	Burgess (6)
Scott (14)	..Center..	Brown
Floyd (2)	..Guard	Van Valkenburg (4)
Loftis	..Guard	Thompson

Boys' referee, Time of halves, 15 and 20 minutes. Foul goals, Phillips (3), Scott (4).

BILL MILLER LEADS ALL THE BOWLERS

Buffalo, N. Y., March 16.—William Miller, of Detroit, Mich., shattered all high marks in the American Bowling congress tournament today, taking first place in the singles with a score of 675. Bowling with H. Ralstrom, of Detroit, he also took the lead in the two-man event with a score of 1,257, and now leads "all events" with a total score of 1,857 for nine games.

Miller bowled 248 in his first game, 204 in the second and 223 in the last game, striking out from the fifth frame.

Taking the lead in the doubles, he and H. Ralstrom put up totals of 623, 605 and 319. Miller scoring a total of 657, with 241 as high score. This with his good bowling with the Ryan Plumbers, of Detroit, in the five-man event last night gives him an average of 211 for nine games and the lead in "all events."

Buffalo, Louisville, Wheeling and Toledo teams made up the five-man squads tonight. Following are the leaders:

Two-man event: Miller, Detroit, 1,257; Schmidt-Williams, Chicago, 1,236; Clarke, Peoria, 1,221.

Individual event: Miller, Detroit, 675; Hess, Chicago, 642.

Finn Signs Kimball.

Memphis, Tenn., March 16.—Announcement was made here today by M. J. Finn, manager of the local Southern league team, that he had signed Pitcher Kimball. Kimball was formerly with the Indianapolis and Columbia clubs of the American association.

Welterweights Meet at Georgia Athletic Club in First of Series of Bouts.

The Georgia Athletic club will stage one week from tonight, the first of a series of welterweight battles that may have a lot to do with ultimately determining the title holder.

Eddie Hanlon, the local lad, who has been coming rapidly to the front of late, has been matched to battle Jimmy Ferry, of Pittsburg, another local favorite.

It will be a case of a young, inexperienced, hard-hitter against a veteran, a boxer of merit with plenty of science. Both boys are in town and working out daily getting ready for this mill.

Manager Castro promises some lively preliminaries to round out a good card.

Atlanta Medicos Win.

The Atlanta Medical college defeated the Strong Southern Dental college team Saturday by the score of 11 to 8. When the game seemed lost, the Atlanta Medical college boys found their batting eyes and scored 10 runs in the last three innings.

The Medical college tried out all of their men and got a good line on them.

They play the U. of S. at Stone Mountain Thursday, and are confident of adding another victim.

COACHES ARE BARRED FROM HARVARD BENCH

Cambridge, Mass., March 16.—Coaches and graduates will be barred from the players' bench of the Harvard baseball team during games this season, Dean Le Baron R. Briggs, chairman of the committee on athletics, announced tonight in his annual report.

He said it was desired that the team should be thrown on its own responsibility and that the exigencies of the games should be met by the captain instead of by coaches. The baseball squad had its first outdoor practice today.

KING GEORGE ATTENDS BOXING EXHIBITION

London, March 16.—King George attained the distinction tonight of being the first reigning British monarch to witness a public exhibition of "the noble art of self-defense." As the guest of the Second Life Guards, of which he is colonel, he was entertained at a boxing and fencing tournament at the Regent's Park barracks.

Bombardier Wells, the former British heavyweight champion, and Pat O'Keefe, of Ireland, gave the last exhibition of sparring, and several clever amateurs also took part in bouts.

In sporting circles a new boxing law is expected as a result of the king's patronage.

Polo at Camden.

Camden, S. C., March 16.—The polo team of the Eleventh cavalry, U. S. A., today defeated the Long Island Fish Catchers, 10½ to 6, in the first of the matches in the annual polo tournament here for possession of the Cleveland cup. Lieutenant Eben Swift, of the soldiers' team, was injured in the first period and forced to retire, Lieutenant George E. Timmins taking his place.

Play for the Southern Circuit cup will commence Wednesday, when the Camden team will meet the cavalry team. The tournament will continue two weeks.

BILLIARDS.

Uffenheimer Loses to Morris Brown 400 to 350.

New York, March 16.—Although beaten today in the twelfth game of the national amateur billiard tournament by the former champion, Morris D. Brown, of Brooklyn, Dr. Walter Uffenheimer, of Philadelphia, made a fine comeback and won in his twenty-sixth inning gave a beautiful exhibition of high-class billiards with a run of 195. A two-cushion attempt was the object balls widely separated near the top of the table proved to be the Philadelphian's undoing in his effort to exceed 195, the high run so far tournament made this week by Brown's score.

The winner, who represents the Hamilton club, Brooklyn, was inconsistent from today, and reached double figures in thirteen of the thirty-seven innings through which the game ran. The scores:

Brown, 400; average, 10 30-37; high runs, 62, 44, 41.

Uffenheimer, 350; average, 9 17-37; high runs, 102, 87, 81.

Pinehurst Golf.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 16.—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, of England, today broke the record for women on the No. 2 golf course of the Pinehurst Country club, making the eighteen holes in seventy-five. The previous record was eighty-five, made last year by Mrs. J. V. Hurd, of Pittsburg. Miss Ravenscroft also holds the American woman's national golf championship, will sail in a short time for her home.

QUIMET STARTS WORK

FOR HIS FOREIGN TOUR

Boston, March 16.—Francis Quimet, the national open golf champion, took advantage today of the disappearance of the snow from the grounds of the Woodland Golf club to begin practice for his tour of the English links. Many of his drives carried nearly 300 yards and were straight for the pin. Those who watched him said that he was driving farther and straighter than when he defeated Vardon and Ray, the English professionals, in the open championship last fall. Quimet will sail for England March 31.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED RAPIDLY SCATTERING

Sacramento, Cal., March 16.—Camped on the banks of the Sacramento river from this city with no protection from the wind-driven rain, General Kelley's army of unemployed disintegrated rapidly during the night and it was estimated today that not more than 200 remained out of the 1,500 that came to Sacramento a week ago.

The march on Washington probably will be abandoned, and the remnants of the army scatter.

"MOTHER" JONES SAYS THAT SHE WILL RETURN

General Chase Says He'll Rearrest Woman if She Comes Back.

Denver, March 16.—That she was deported from Trinidad; that she never asked to see the governor; that she was accompanied by militia officers, taken to a hotel and was not told whether she had been released; that she expects to return to the strike zone soon, were emphasized points in a statement made today by "Mother" Mary Jones, noted strike leader, who had been a military prisoner at San Rafael hospital, in Trinidad, since January 12.

Her statement was given to newspaper men at the conclusion of a conference with her counsel, Horace W. Nawkins, attorney for the United Mine Workers of America. Immediately thereafter she left for the statehouse to call on Governor E. M. Ammons.

General Chase said that "Mother" Jones would be rearrested should she return to Trinidad.

"Mother" Jones was put on an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train last night, arriving in Denver early today. She was accompanied by Colonel John A. Davis, of the Colorado national guard.

The appeal in her habeas corpus case had not been filed with the state supreme court up to noon.

"Mother" Jones said the state bought the ticket on which she came to Denver. She added that she intended returning to Trinidad to demand her mail, explaining that no mail had been delivered to her since her arrest. She said she had been considerate treatment at the hospital, but she had been kept away from visitors.

It was explained by Mr. Hawkins that he had prepared the appeal in the habeas corpus case to the supreme court, but no action would be taken pending in view of "Mother" Jones' presence in Denver.

KENTUCKY INSURANCE LAW CAUSES PROTEST

Lexington, Ky., March 16.—Several hundred business men from this city and vicinity left today for Frankfort with the intention of petitioning Governor McCreary to call a special session of the legislature to repeal the recently enacted Glenn insurance rating law.

One of the leading life insurance companies doing business in this state, which, it is claimed, has a million dollars invested in Kentucky business on real estate, notified its general agent here today to cease making loans. It was further intimated in a letter to the agent that it may be necessary to call the loans. The company attributed this condition to the fact that its withdrawal of the fire insurance companies from the state has lessened its security to such extent that it can no longer continue business in Kentucky.

RUNAWAY FREIGHT HIT BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Lexington, Ky., March 16.—Ten persons were more or less seriously injured when a southbound Louisville & Nashville passenger train from Cincinnati to Jacksonville, Fla., ran into the sixteen-car runaway freight at Bolder, Ky., 9 miles from here, early today. Among the injured are six passengers, but it is not believed they are seriously hurt. Engineer John Sark and Conductor Cleland Bryant, both of Corbin, Ky., are reported to have been badly hurt, while Express Messenger Ed Spring, of Covington, and Easton, of Knoxville, Tenn., were seriously injured.

SPONSORS NAMED FOR TENN. DIVISION BY GEN. HARRISON

Opelika, Ala., March 16.—Lieutenant General T. Harrison, commander of the Army of Tennessee, United Confederate Veterans, has appointed the following sponsors and staff to act for his division at the 1914 reunion at Jacksonville, Fla.:

Miss Ellen Harden Clay, Savannah, Ga., sponsor; Mrs. C. S. Rogers, Jacksonville, chaperon; Miss Carolyn Hamilton, Columbus, Ala., maid of honor; Miss Mary Jones, noted strike leader, who had been a military prisoner at San Rafael hospital, in Trinidad, since January 12.

STATES BEHIND RUSSIA IN CHILD LABOR LAWS

So Declares Special Agent of National Committee at Conference.

New Orleans, March 16.—Differences of opinion as to best methods of bene-fiting child work in work were expressed at the third annual national child labor conference here today by delegates from sections of the country having to deal with problems less of an immigrant population apparently did not coincide with opinions of those from other parts of the country, particularly the south.

The discussion arose when Dr. W. H. Oates, chief factory inspector of Alabama, said that in his opinion the only way to stop child labor abuses and end a gradual raising of the age limit governing child work was to concentrate that in many instances both parents and children were willing to dodge educational requirements demanded by the Alabama law and that in many cases parents were willing for their children to work while they themselves were not employed.

Delegates from eastern states said that their experience had been that children were quit to work because low wages made it necessary for the support of the family, and apparently did not support the general theory that many children worked in the south or elsewhere with the ungrudging consent of their parents.

Many speakers told of different phases of child labor betterment endeavors in different parts of the country and Alexander Johnson, in charge of the bureau of child relations for recently enacted Glenn insurance rating law.

One of the leading life insurance companies doing business in this state, which, it is claimed, has a million dollars invested in Kentucky business on real estate, notified its general agent here today to cease making loans. It was further intimated in a letter to the agent that it may be necessary to call the loans. The company attributed this condition to the fact that its withdrawal of the fire insurance companies from the state has lessened its security to such extent that it can no longer continue business in Kentucky.

FAKE DOROTHY ARNOLD UNDER HYPNOTIC SPELL

Los Angeles, Cal., March 16.—Detained on a general charge of suspicion, Mrs. Julia Bolaweg-Miller-O'Dell was held in the city jail today. She had created a sensation by claiming she was Dorothy Arnold, the New York society girl who vanished in 1910. Detectives are seeking a physician and another man said by Mrs. O'Dell's husband, Charles O'Dell, to be responsible for his wife's condition.

Physicians who examined the young woman said she was suffering from acute hysteria, apparently induced by hypnotic influence. Mrs. O'Dell she had also been under the influence of a powerful drug, the police assert.

Mrs. O'Dell repudiated her husband, her sister and even her mother yesterday.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS GIVEN VALUABLE BOOKS

Washington, March 16.—The library of congress today received a notable addition to its collection, the second gift of Jacob H. Schiff, of New York. The first was made by Mr. Schiff to him in 1912 of a collection of Hebrew books. Comprising 5,000 volumes, Abraham Deinard, the well-known collector, spent nine years in the first collection, went to Europe and then to Palestine for the purpose of forming a second collection. It comprises more than 3,000 volumes and manuscripts, field of Jewish thought and learning, religious and secular, extending over a century. Many of the books are first editions and rare.

MORGAN AND SOUPER SPEAK AT PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, March 16.—Speakers of international note addressed many meetings today of Bible students gathered here for the Christian Workers' midwinter Bible conference. The Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of Westminster chapel, London, and the Rev. Dr. William Evans, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, London, made the principal addresses.

Dr. Morgan, speaking on the "Harmony of the Bible," said that the Bible is a library, not a book, and that parents are to blame for the modern child's lack of knowledge of the Bible.

CELEBRATED SCIENTIST KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

London, March 16.—Sir John Murray, the celebrated naturalist and oceanographer of Edinburg, was killed today in a motor car accident. His daughter was seriously injured. Sir John Murray was born in 1841, at Cobourg, Ontario, Canada. He served as a naturalist on the historic voyage of the Challenger during her scientific cruise lasting from 1872 to 1876. He lectured in the United States in 1911.

EVERYBODY IN COURT SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

Even Judge Examined at the Trial of the Mayor of Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 16.—Motions to quash two of three counts in the indictment charging Mayor Donn M. Roberts with conspiracy to corrupt elections were overruled here today by Judge Charles M. Fortune in the circuit court. The second count in the indictment was stricken out.

Mayor Roberts now must face charges of conspiring to hire persons to unlawfully vote and to impersonate and to make false statements to the registration board. He is charged with hiring persons to vote more than once in each and all of the precincts at the last city election. The second count was stricken out of the indictment on the grounds that it duplicated the other two charges.

Immediately after announcing his decision Judge Fortune ordered that the sheriff to summon a special venire of fifty men to appear in court Friday, when the work of selecting the jury to hear the case will be started.

When court convened today every person who entered the court room was stopped at the door by the sheriff and his deputies and searched for weapons.

Even the prosecuting officers, Judge Fortune, the counsel for the defense and newspaper men were forced to submit. Judge Fortune ordered that when the seats were filled the door be locked and no one admitted to the court room during the noon recess. The same procedure was followed at the afternoon session and will be repeated each day.

PREPARING FOR HEARING WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL

Washington, March 16.—Woman suffrage leaders began preparations here today for the hearing which is announced by Representative William W. Rucker, of Missouri, chairman of the committee on the election of presidents and vice presidents, will be held on Tuesday, March 24. The subject of the hearing will be woman suffrage bill introduced by Representative French, of Idaho. Only persons, it is said, who are citizens of the United States and possess such qualifications of age, residence and other regulations as may be required of men to make them legal voters in several states, shall be eligible to register and vote in all the states of the union, and entitled for senators and members of the house.

The Federal Equality league, which will begin its annual session here March 24, requested the hearing. Rev. Olympia Brown, president of the league, will preside at the meeting which, it is expected, will be attended by many prominent suffragists.

JOBLESS SALES GIRLS WILL BE CARED FOR

New York, March 16.—The sales girls and salesmen who had not secured positions when the Fourth street and Simpson-Crawford company store closed their doors last night will be looked after by east side settlement workers, according to Dr. Robbins Gilman, head worker of the University settlement. The stores were closed by court order on application of receivers of the enterprises of Henry Siegel and associate which failed recently.

The present scarcity of the 2,500 persons thrown out of employment by the closing have secured work elsewhere, but to insure that all are taken care of, Gilman today with men and women active in settlement work and a plan was devised whereby those out of work will receive sums sufficient to tide them over until they can secure positions. Dr. Gilman said several wealthy men of the city had pledged their aid.

Investigation of the enterprises of Henry Siegel and Frank R. Vogel was continued today by the district attorney's office and other indictments are expected to be returned before the end of the week.

EXPECT 300,000 WOMEN TO REGISTER IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 16.—The number of Chicago women qualified under the recent Illinois equal suffrage act to cast their first vote at the aldermanic election in April will be doubled at tomorrow's registration, according to the predictions today of woman suffrage leaders.

More than 158,090 women took advantage of their first opportunity last month to become registered voters. Suffrage leaders expect that this number will be increased tomorrow to at least three hundred thousand. More than 400,000 Chicago men are eligible voters.

Hundreds of women yesterday attended meetings which were held in several downtown theaters under the auspices of women's organizations. Several women candidates for aldermen addressed the meetings which were attended by many of the 700 women who will act as registration officials tomorrow.

MANY JOBS ARE OPEN IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Wednesday and Thursday, April 22-23, Secretary Hare, of the civil service commission for the Fifth district, will hold on the top floor of the federal building, an open competitive examination to secure a surveyor and a transit man for assignment to the general land office service. There are now ten vacancies in positions of United States surveyors and transitmen in the general land office department. The entrance pay for a transitman ranges from $100 to $116 a month and a graduated pay for them in lieu of subsistence while the salary paid a surveyor at first runs from $125 to $150 the month with a graduated per diem rather than subsistence.

NINE RUSSIANS TRIED AS SPIES BY AUSTRIA

Vienna, March 16.—The second stage of the attempt to unravel the alleged extensive Russian espionage campaign in Austria was opened today by the Austrian government. Nine Russian subjects were placed on trial, accused of being employed by the Russian general staff to ferret out Austrian military secrets. The accused are all civilians and include two women.

Dr. E. S. Holden Dies.

West Point, N. Y., March 16.—Dr. Edward S. Holden, famous as an astronomer, scientist and educator and librarian of the United States Military Academy since 1902, died here today at the age of 68. He was graduated from West Point in 1876. From 1885 to 1888 he was president of the University of California and for ten years after that time, director of the Lick observatory.

ARNOLD AND ALEX SMITH BEFORE SUPREME COURT

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 16.—(Special.)—Reuben R. Arnold and Alex W. Smith, of Atlanta, appeared in the supreme court today to argue a personal injury case appealed by the Tennessee Coal and Iron company from the decision of the Georgia court of appeals.

Wiley George, the defendant in the supreme court for injuries sustained in Birmingham, but at one of the plaintiff's plants, was awarded a verdict for $11,500. The Georgia court of appeals sustained the judgement.

The plaintiff attacks the employers' liability act of Alabama, and quotes the supreme court of that state as saying that the act is in derogation of the common law that its purpose is not to protect the employee against the special defense growing out of an incidental to the relation of employer and employee." Under this act the employer cannot plead contributory negligence. Another question was whether the Georgia appellate court had given full faith and credit to the statutes of Alabama.

Underwood Admitted to Bar.

E. Marvin Underwood, of Atlanta, appeared for the first time today in the supreme court of the United States to be admitted to the bar of that court. He was presented by Attorney General John W. Davis. Mr. Underwood began his duties Monday as first assistant attorney general.

NEW HAVEN AGREES TO M'REYNOLDS' DEMANDS

Crisis in Affairs of Railroad Will Be Reached This Week.

Washington, March 16.—After several months of negotiating, the crisis in the affairs of the New Haven railroad system, so far as it may be affected by the department of justice, probably will be reached during the present week. The New Haven virtually has agreed to every demand for the dispossession of its subsidiary properties made by the department, and the success or failure of the whole transaction will depend largely on the report of T. W. Gregory and Jesse Adkins, assistants to Attorney General McReynolds in the handling of the New Haven case, who are in New England seeking first hand information about men proposed by New Haven officials to take over the system's trolley holdings in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

It became more than ever apparent today that only an agreement between the railroad and the department can keep the case out of the courts. Senator Weeks called at the white house and, speaking in plain language about the financial effect of delay, urged President Wilson to interfere to bring about a quick settlement. Later it was made known that the president would not interfere.

The New Haven has consented to give up its steamship lines and has consented to dismantle the Boston and Maine railroad and its trolley holdings in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. It became known tonight that the railroad officials at the last conference at the department agreed that if the department would allow trustees to take over the Rhode Island and Connecticut trolley properties, a list of names submitted by the New Haven, that would give to these lines and make no demands as to the length of their trustees' service.

Messrs. Gregory and Adkins then left for New England and are expected to return to Washington with their report in time to participate in the next conference here Friday. If they advise acceptance of trustees from the list submitted, it is probable that all other difficulties will be swept aside and that the attorney general will be able to announce a complete agreement as soon as a few other details are disposed of.

STATE DROPS CASE AGAINST MRS. DIETZ

Chicago, March 16.—Lack of evidence moved State's Attorney Hoyne today to move that the case against Mrs. Dietz be dropped. Mrs. Dietz was charged with murder in connection with the death of her husband, a tailor. The state's attorney added, however, that it seemed impossible in this jurisdiction to convict Mrs. Dietz. Thirteen jurors have been acquitted in Chicago of capital crimes within three years.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT SOON OF RESERVE BANK CITIES

Choices Will Not Be Made Public Formally Before April 1.

Washington, March 16.—There is said to be no prospect of announcement of reserve cities under the new federal banking act before April 1, at the earliest. The same statement applies to the personnel of the federal reserve board. President Wilson has been informed by the treasury officials that there is little likelihood of the organization necessary as a preliminary to the operations of the board being effected for at least another two weeks.

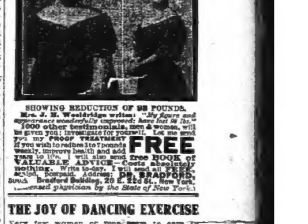

The organization committee met today for the first time in several weeks. The members took a long look into the mass of data collected from all over the country, but reached no decision as to the limits of reserve districts or the location of reserve cities. The illness of Secretary Houston, a member of the committee, has delayed consideration of districts and cities, but with his recovery the work will be pressed with vigor. No announcement will be announced for several days.

BELL PHONE SYSTEM SHOWS RAPID GROWTH

New York, March 16.—The rapid growth of the Bell telephone system and its attitude toward government ownership are set forth in detail in the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, made public today. President Theodore N. Vail says the company is opposed to government ownership because it is interested in the upbuilding of a great public utility and doesn't believe a government-owned telephone system would give as cheap and efficient service.

During the year the number of telephones in use increased 678,343, making a total of 8,133,017. The total wire mileage at the end of the year was 16,111,011 miles. The gross revenue in 1913, not including connected independent companies, was $215,800,-000, an increase in a year of over $16,-000,000.

Get the Personal Touch

If there is no known responsibility back of the car you buy, where are you apt to land? In justice to yourself; what right have you got to buy any car unless you know the character of its makers? And if you don't know them how do you know that they will live up to the moral responsibility that ought to be behind everything that is manufactured for sale, especically something that costs as much as an automobile.

This lack of knowledge on the public's part is responsible for millions of wasted dollars. People buy blindly. They spend thousands without looking. They wouldn't buy a watch or a beefsteak without knowing their jeweler or butcher but they would buy—and do buy—automobiles without knowing what is behind the men that make them.

The answer of the Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company to these questions is "Eighty years of faithful service to the American Public—eighty years of integrity backed by the evidence of countless thousands of American people—eighty years of telling the truth and giving a dollar of value for every dollar invested with them." You can't sneer at a record like that. It is unusual in any country.

This is our fundamental reason for asking you—and expecting you—to go at once to the nearest Mitchell dealer and ask him to let you personally drive his demonstrator for a mile or so. We want you to "get the feel of the car" and see how it responds to, and acts with, you.

With the knowledge of known and long established responsibility, financial integrity and trade honor added to the knowledge you gain by a personal drive you will acquire information that no amount of talk can possibly give you. That's the way to buy an automobile. And that's the Mitchell way.

Here is the Equipment for all the Mitchell Models Which is Included in the List Prices:

Electric self-starter and generator—electric lights—electric horn—electric magnetic exploring lamp—mohair top and dust cover—Tungsten valves—Jiffy quick-action side curtains—quick-action two-piece rain vision wind-shield—demountable rims with one extra—speedometer—double extra tire carrier—Bair bow holders—license plate bracket—pump, jack and complete set of first class tools.

COTTON STARTED OFF AT ADVANCE

But Realizing Set In and Most of the Advance Was Lost—The Market Closed Steady.

New York, March 16.—An early advance carried cotton into new ground for the movement today, but a good deal of realizing was encountered and moderate reactions followed, with the close steady, net unchanged to 6 points higher on near months, while later deliveries were 2 to 5 points lower.

There was renewal of old crop covering movement at start. Cables were about as New York closed on Saturday, while over Sunday advices from the south indicated a continued good demand for spot cotton and there was buying here by foreign houses. First prices were 5 points higher on April, but generally 7 to 8 points higher and active old crop positions sold 9 to 10 points higher during the early trading. May contracts touched 13.10, or 10 points above the low records of last week, and there was a good deal of profit taking around this level, while there also seemed to be some hedge selling for a reaction. Most of the early demand was supposed to be for the purpose of covering sales here against the liquidation of long accounts in Liverpool and as soon as the English market closed demand became active, and prices showed a sharp change in the general character of the news, but prices at the top touched for May and July contracts selling back to about Saturday's closing figures, while the new crop sold about 7 to 9 points net lower. The decline followed favorable weather in the south. March, however, held well above the final prices of last week, and local traders said it was little short of crazy selling here against pending shipments from the south. This apparent absence of spot pressure, combined with reports that stocks at the principal interior towns were losing rapidly as compared with last year, gave the market a comparatively steady undertone, and closing prices showed a decline of 1 or 2 points on covering.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 16.—Cotton had a fairly good undertone to start the morning session stood there for the afternoon. In the disposition was the result of increasing weather conditions over the cotton belt, and no other influence in the market under pronounced selling pressure. The close was easy, 2 points net lower to down, compared with the final figures of last week. Closing prices were within a couple of points of the lowest.

Shorts bought covers rather freely in the morning session and appeared to be nervous over bullish crop reports, which were on an American consumption increase by the end of March. Bulls were not large buyers and the market was supported principally by short covering. The high prices of the day were 8 to 7 points over Saturday's close.

Spot cotton steady, ¼ up; middling 12; sales on the spot 2,104 bales; to arrive 1,612; good ordinary 10 11-16; strict good ordinary 11 1-16; low middling 11 13-16; strict low middling 12; good middling 12 5-16; strict middling 12 7-16; good middling tinged 12; receipts 4,914; stock 212,645.

REVIEW OF PAST WEEK BY HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, March 16.—As the better grades disappear under the demand from the spinner the immediate and low grades come into demand. Thus the basis is forced to a level where the advances until at the present time it is impossible to buy them for export in New York. Whatever may happen in the future is another question, but it is this feature wherein the market differs from 1906, and we believe it is due to the gradual education of planter, merchant and spinner, that these low grades are worth relatively more money than was believed the fabulous low crop year. Then again the basis of cotton against the actual chester for the first two months of the year was such that it was offered much than the trade had been led to think. Now in time we see the actual situation in the market, so that the recovery has not been so increased the change in the technical conditions, which in time has increased the demand from spinners.

Of course, until there is a change from the business depression the market will be controlled by the actual hand-to-mouth demand; should that increase we will see higher prices, but not we will fall back again under the influences of spring and summer conditions should they promise better conditions.

We are gratified at the interest shown in the experimental work the government in ascertaining the value of the lower grades, and we hope that every spinner will find it to his advantage to go to Washington and be certain for himself what has so far been accomplished by the department of agriculture, and will sustain the department in its work. It is a most wholesome work which will benefit them and the cotton producers.

Cotton Seed Oil.

The future delivery cotton seed oil market continues to rule within a narrow range. The usual selling of August and September by a leading interest in this month—held prices down somewhat in the absence of any aggressive demand. Commission houses did the buying. The March delivery has been practically the firmest position on the list, as it seems confine to be stopped by a prominent refiner and are being taken out of the market.

Actually the export demand is not large volume of business has been put through. Crude oil remains strong, 40¾ cents bid in the southeast.

Coffee.

Coffee prices sagged steadily the past week, and all options again touched new low levels. May sold at $.35 and September at 8.65, more than 20¢ below the prices that actually prevailed last fall, when all estimates for next year's crop were greatly reduced on account of unfavorable weather conditions. But since then there has been very beneficial, and the fact that this year's crop will be nearly large exceeds most early estimates for the entire year. Evidence is practically that next year's crop may also have been greatly underestimated.

The demand for spot coffee has been quiet, as no one cares to buy the spot supplies from the interior of Brazil to arrive, but prices seemed to display little bullish confidence that remained unchanged. Dealers there were much considerable liquidation by those who had recently transferred their holdings from March to the later positions.

A private cable from Rio says that prominent French interests had become heavy buyers, and that the heavy selling there was supposed to result from apprehension regarding financial and political conditions in Brazil.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 16.—Arbitrage buying continued in our market today, although without the same effect as on Saturday, because the price had advanced to a level which brought about profit-taking. Liverpool was closed by the selling by the foreign houses abroad. Those influences made the market easier all day without changing the tendency of trade that the arbitrage buying would continue to operate in favor of cotton. It would meet with opposition from the interior, where there is refusal to go into the movement of the winter crop. Except for the west crop, we our latest advices from the south indicate that they are looking for a 16,000,000-bale crop next season.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, March 16.—The market was held today at the strength of the bears. May touched 13.10, while October was 4 and December 5 down. The later positions were being sold short by Wall street interests, but there will be a rush to cover on the first bullish news concerning new crop prospects. Liverpool is due to come 3 up to 2 down on the active months.

Cotton started down again today, declining about 16 points. The market shows no strength anywhere, when shorts are taking profits. Conditions favor a further decline.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 16.—Cotton goods markets were steadier today with moderate trading reported. Raw silk was quiet. Dress goods were in fair demand. Yarns were steady.

WEATHER REPORTS ADVANCED WHEAT

Kansas Complains of the Lack of Moisture—Corn and Oats Closed Unchanged.

Chicago, March 16.—Enough complaints of dry weather and of winter killing came in today to give wheat a sharp bulge. Closing prices were nervous, varying from a shade off to 1 9/8@1½ cents higher. Corn, oats and provisions wound up substantially unchanged to fractionally higher.

Prospect of a week more without rain in the southwest brought about uneasiness on the part of wheat shorts, but the fact that the western half of Kansas had not received much more than a trace of moisture since January 1 and that the reserve supply seemingly was about gone. A considerable portion of the crop was said to be winter killed. Corroborative from semi-arid sections there and from the dry belt of Nebraska and Oklahoma. Advices of winter killing were mostly from flat lands in Nebraska near Sioux and Plymouth. Buyers of wheat futures paid little attention to the July delivery. May was comparatively inactive owing to deficiency in the receipts, standing premium and the fact that the visible supply was virtually nil. Interest was a year ago led to a reaction.

Weakness in the oats market hinged almost entirely on corn. Seeding was reported as having begun in central Illinois.

Unobserved demand for provisions manifested itself whenever the market broke. Good buying power from the more plentiful supply of hogs. Buyers, however, were not inclined to follow up any advance.

17TH WILL LEAVE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Lieutenant Colonel Griffith, Late of the Nineteenth Infantry, Will Be in Charge of the Regiment.

The Seventeenth infantry, ordered from Fort McPherson here to Eagle Pass, Texas, for patrol duty on the border in connection with the Mexican situation, will leave here in two detailed Wednesday night and Thursday, it was announced last night.

Two trains will convey the troops, one going by way of New Orleans and the other by way of Memphis. Lieutenant Colonel Griffith, late of the Nineteenth infantry, will be in command.

It is likely that the Seventeenth regiment will be cut into detachments of one company each, and distributed along some 350 miles of boundary line. For this purpose the regiment is carrying with it its company mess tents and mess equipment rather than make use of the regimental outfit.

Colonel Griffith, on being seen Monday, declared that he had not as yet looked over his command officially, but from what he had seen of the enlisted men he believed that his assignment would undoubtedly prove a likeable one. Colonel Griffith recently has been in command of the St. Louis recruiting depot.

The last dress parade of the Seventeenth will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The enlisted men, having packed all dress uniform, will march in their field equipment. The troop train which will carry the regiment to the scene of the late Mexican rebel disturbances will leave Atlanta early Thursday morning, the men loading before daylight.

CLIFFORD WALKER HERE.

Walton Man in Race for Attorney Generalship.

Clifford Walker, prominent Walton county attorney, and candidate for the attorney generalship of the state to succeed present Attorney General Felder, who will enter the senatorial race for the unexpired term of the late Senator Bacon, spent Monday in Atlanta. While here he was continuously the center of groups of his friends who are greatly hopeful over the outlook of Mr Walker's election.

Mr. Walker, besides being well known about the state in legal circles, has been solicitor general of the superior court of Walton county.

ENEMIES MOVE TO BLOCK RETIREMENT OF SPEER

Plan to Evade Long Impeachment Trial Spoiled by Premature Publication.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 16.—(Special.)—Members of the Georgia delegation were distinctly notified today at the exposure of the attempt to provide an easy way for Judge Emory Speer to retire, by special act of congress, rather than go through the tedious process of an impeachment trial.

For several months efforts have been in progress. A precedent was found in the measure enabling Justice William R. Moody, who was absent from the bench for months on account of ill health, to retire in advance of the legal age.

The difficulties in the way of carrying out the program are almost insurmountable. Judge Speer would not listen to the proposal unless it was accompanied with a report of the subcommittee of the house judiciary, which investigated his case, completely exonerating him.

Members of the Georgia delegation were willing to work on the committee of which Representative Edwin W. Webb is chairman, to induce them to give Judge Speer the benefit of the doubt on the idea that he would soon be retired under a special act.

The premature publication of the program has served to expose the conception to Judge Speer, and the Georgia delegation began hearing from home today. Judge Speer's enemies want the impeachment proceedings carried through. The committee feels that having undertaken an investigation they must carry it through and report their findings.

WANT MINIMUM WAGE PLACED AT $2.50 A DAY

Sacramento, Cal., March 16.—That no adult working person shall receive less than $2.50 a day for his work is the essence of an initiative measure which is being circulated in southern California for a place on the November ballot. A copy of the proposed law has been received at the secretary of state's office.

The law would make it a criminal offense for any employer to pay any person over 18 years of age less than $2.50 a day, while for children under 18 years, $1.50 a day is made the minimum.

It is provided that the employer may pay part of the wages in board and lodging but that not more than 70 cents a day shall be deducted on this account.

Violation of the law is defined as a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 or imprisonment between one and six months, or both.

WILSON APPROVES ANTI-TRUST BILLS

Substance of Four Measures Framed by House Judiciary Subcommittee Finds Favor With President.

Washington, March 16.—President Wilson, at a conference tonight with the house judiciary subcommittee on trusts, put the stamp of administration approval on the substance of the four bills to amend the anti-trust laws which the committee submitted in a practically final form. There will be another conference at the white house within a week, and members of the committee asserted tonight that unless unexpected difficulties should be raised in the full committee when the measures are presented to it four in the strengthen the Sherman law, covering interlocking directorates, holding companies, trade relations and definitions of restraints of trade, would be reported to the house within a fortnight.

President Wilson left tonight in the belief that it would be better to consolidate all the bills into one and thus expedite legislation. The senate interstate commerce committee is understood to favor consolidation and that it will be affected by the house judiciary committee materially is certain.

The president made a number of suggestions to the subcommittee, which comprised Representatives Clayton of Alabama, Carlin of Virginia and Floyd of Arkansas. He insisted that personal guilt of individuals in control of corporations should be prescribed in every bill in order to break up the evils that have grown up under the present anti-trust laws. The committee will revise the bills with this in view and talk with the president again before submitting the measures to the full committee on March 24.

Draft of Bill Completed.

The draft of the holding corporation bill had been completed before the arrival of the conference. The measure would make unlawful those holding companies that combine the stock of competitions so as to lessen competition, but would not affect companies that hold the stock of corporations that form subsidiaries or parts of their business. Holding companies that are formed for investment and not for business directly are not prohibited. This would permit companies like the big insurance companies to hold the stock of corporations which are not competitive.

The committee believes that in this bill it has solved the problem of discriminating between the holding company operating by combining a number of competitions and the company and the corporations that have been compelled to combine a number of concerns that, alone and unaided, are not whose combination is necessary in order to make a unit, for which, in the case of an oil company, which combined a pipe line company, a producing company and a refining company, all making one legitimate oil business.

Includes Cotton Mills.

The committeemen pointed out to the president that the big mills of the land to industrial business the investor who buys the stocks and bonds of various corporations, but is not engaged in the business of operating any of them. The same applies to railroad holding corporations, but not to subsidiaries, in drawing the line at substantial control. It included in the

GOING TO BUILD?

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING is the EATING. Mr. BUNGALOWS sell as fast as I can build them—what more ARGUMENT do you want? They are DIFFERENT. I have developed my medium priced Bungalows to a state of PERFECTION, unequaled anywhere; it is hard to distinguish them from the higher-priced kind. ASK ANYBODY who has built them; ask any one who OCCUPIES one (they are ALL sold). They are developed along ARTISTIC lines and are appreciated as much by the small householder, that demands are greater than the supply. I give you the advantage of months of travel all over the country, especially Southern CALIFORNIA, also SIXTEEN years of PROFITABLE experience in real estate and building in Atlanta. I have made money for MYSELF; I can make some for YOU. See my five-room bungalows from $2,300 to $3,650. P. E. Hopkins, Building Contractor.

Gets Skin Nice And Clear

Puts Life into Muscles Given Just the Slight Exhilaration Needed for Health

"Nature has supplied us with wonderful materials for the restoration of health. It is from our own forests that Georgia people have the best medicine in the world. S. S. S., the famous vegetable blood purifier, has been a marvel for more than forty years. And its action in overcoming all skin troubles and blood risings or eruptions is easily explained.

The skin is but a network of fine blood vessels. Add it is perfectly natural that any unhealthful influence in the blood makes its first appearance in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or slumber activity to select from the blood or from this fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Then pimples, boils, eczema, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. And in ridding the blood of impurities, S. S. S. imparts a fine exhilaration to the entire system and you feel fine. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co. G-3, Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions. Beware of imitations or substitutes.

DEAF EAR TURNED TO WILSON'S PLEA

Independent Democrats of Tennessee Decline to Listen to Suggestion and Indorse Hooper's Candidacy.

Nashville, Tenn., March 16.—Declining in letter to the suggestions of President Woodrow Wilson for harmony in the democratic party in Tennessee and indorsing the administration of Governor Ben W. Hooper, republican, the independent democratic state executive committee adjourned this afternoon after calling two state conventions, both to meet on April 22.

The first convention is to meet at noon April 22 to nominate a candidate for judge of the supreme court. The second will meet at 2 p. m. the same day to "take such action as they may deem advisable in regard to nominating candidates for governor and railroad commissioner." It was stated by speakers that the idea in holding two conventions was to have the nomination for supreme judge made apart from a "turbulent political convention."

Wilson Is Criticised.

In touching on the harmony suggestions of President Wilson, the majority of the speakers characterised the action of the president as "ill advised," and declared that he did not know the conditions existing in Tennessee.

The resolutions adopted said in part, relative to the plea of President Wilson for harmony:

"We indorse the administration of President Wilson, but we regret that he listened to the importunities of certain representatives of the national government with reference to purely local and state affairs. The independent democrats of Tennessee have steadfastly refused to sacrifice state issues for national politics or national issues for state politics. The staunchest original supporters of President Wilson in this state, both for the nomination and for election, were independent democrats. They supported him when the Hooper gang in the cities were boosting his competitors for the nomination. They have stood loyally by him throughout his administration. These facts thoroughly demonstrate the incorrectness of the president's information to the effect that the national democratic party or administration is endangered by the independent democratic movement in Tennessee."

Hooper Is Indorsed.

Other matters carried in the resolutions were:

"We indorse the administration of Governor Hooper. He has given independent democrats no cause to regret that they twice wielded the balance of power which made him governor. He has never proven untrue to any plank in the platform of the independent democracy. He has demonstrated the wisdom and skill of his leadership, but, above all, he has won the faith and confidence of people.

The committee warned the people against what the resolutions say is an effort on the part of the liquor people to make it appear that the fight against "the lowest saloons" has ended, "while the liquor people are busy trying to slip into the legislature the same old gang, with a few recruits of a similar character. It would be the height of recklessness for the friends of good government to abandon the fight on the lawless liquor interests now and put the friends of the saloon in control of the situation."

WILLING TO HELP DETECTIVE BURNS

Within a short time I am assured we can name Mary Phagan's murderer. I am working to assist no one who does not deserve justice. My operations will mean fair play, and there will be no "framing-up."

"I am going to work quietly and sanely, and there will be no sensationalism attached to my efforts. I will be in Atlanta for ten days, or more—perhaps two weeks. Within that time, I believe my assistants and I will have achieved satisfactory results."

Burns' assistants had not arrived in Atlanta Monday. They are said to be en route from New York. Burns expects them some time today. During Monday morning he went with members of the detail and with Detective Burke to the pencil factory, where he followed the trail of Jim Conley in the negro's exaction of his story of his participation in the tragedy.

Looking Over Evidence.

Burns is familiarizing himself with the evidence, and has digested all of the huge documents containing the contention of both the state and the prosecution.

Monday he interviewed a large number of witnesses at the pencil factory, including C. V. Darley, Frank's assistant, and E. L. Holloway, an attache to the police force, who was important witness during the trial.

Frank extended an invitation Monday afternoon to the Georgia members of the Southern Newspaper association who might care to visit him in his Tower cell. Burns was invited by the association to speak last night at its session in the Ansley hotel, and accepted.

GREAT WARSHIP'S KEEL IS LAID IN BROOKLYN

New York, March 16.—The keel of battleship No. 39, laid today at the navy yard in Brooklyn, marks the beginning of the greatest fighting machine in the United States navy and the peer of any ever built.

With a displacement of 31,500 tons she will be slightly larger than her older sister, the Pennsylvania, and will be the tenth vessel of the super-dreadnaught class to be put into the fleet. Like the Pennsylvania, she will carry three 14-inch rifles in each turret, mounting twelve of these guns altogether and will be the second vessel to be so equipped.

Although the keel-laying occurs only today, work on the gigantic ribs and plates has been going on for several months and the new vessel is to be ready in places. No. 39 is already about 10 per cent complete.

The super-dreadnaught New York, which was built at the Brooklyn navy yard, is almost ready for her trials. In two weeks, it was announced today, she will steam out for her maiden trip.

Beautiful Opening Held By J. M. High Co. Monday

In throwing open the doors of J. M. High company yesterday, the ladies of Atlanta and vicinity were welcomed to "The Festival of Spring Fashions," is a store "dressed" appropriately for the occasion, as a setting for the full blossoming of the new fashions and set an event on the calendar that stirred the interest of every woman. The mailed invitations to come see the millinery had been sent out, the pages of the newspapers of Sunday had been spread with news of this important spring event and had carried far out into the state and adjoining ones; so that in a measure more than ever before the call to visit this great Atlanta store was returned.

And to find out the interest manifested, a reporter for this paper wended his way to Whitehall and Mitchell. Before entering, however, into the windows told a story in itself; not only were they beautiful, but the interest shown by the many onlookers and the exclamations of admiration and praise betokened a practical interest.

The suits, the dresses and the millinery, surrounded by settings of palms and smilax, certainly offered a picture of beauty that could be high style fiction received its prominence. Small chic little shapes, turbans and tricornes were specially shown, for these two are in the vogue for the days of the flaring modistes of New York and Paris. The new mirrored notions, for trying on hats, filled to overflowing. A glance about showed high brims and low, high trims and this would be only a right way of indicating one of Madame Lelong's millinery ideas of spring. The peacock, with its high side flare,
