FEDERALS RAVAGE TOWN OF NUEVO LAREDO AND ARE ROUTED BY AMERICAN TROOPERS

U. S. Captives Are in Peril of Execution

19 Americans Captured By Soldiers of Huerta Threatened With Death

Monterey in Hands of Constitutionalists After Five Days' Battle, According to Report Given Out at the Rebel Headquarters at Matamoras Amid Outburst of Enthusiasm.

Chicago, April 24.—Twenty refugees, nineteen Americans and one British subject, have been taken prisoners by Huerta's forces and are believed to have been executed by a firing squad, according to a telegram received from Secretary Bryan tonight by Dr. Herbert A. Parkyn, president of a Mexican plantation company.

Mr. Bryan's telegram follows:

"The following, dated April 24, at 10 a. m., and received from the American consul at Vera Cruz, is sent for your information:

"'Am just reliably informed soldiers stopped train in vicinity of Tierra Blanca, on Vera Cruz-Isthmus railroad, taking following prisoners:

"'W. Mangum, railroad superintendent; Elliott, engineer; Riley and Hart, conductors. All are Americans. These persons are taken to Cordoba or Orizaba and believed ordered shot.

"'Some eighteen or more Americans left for Tierra Blanca. C. B. Herron, secretary Isthmus railroad, wife and four children; J. O. Cook, chief engineer; John Flighter, conductor; J. F. Langston and wife; Kerwin, engineer, and Mr. and Mrs. George Macomber.'

"Same soldiers stopped at Hacienda Motzorongo on same railroad taking prisoners Edward Wunsch and son, Sidney; A. M. Turner, secretary of the Hacienda Motzorongo, all Americans; also a man named Boyd, British subject. All taken to Cordoba or Orizaba. It is reliably stated that these prisoners may be executed. Admirals Fletcher and Badger have this information before them.

(Signed) "BRYAN."

MONTEREY REPORTED CAPTURED.

Brownsville, Texas, April 24.—"Monterey is in the hands of the constitutionalists, after a five days' battle," was an official announcement late today from constitutionalist headquarters in Matamoras, accompanied by the ringing of bells and an outburst of rebel enthusiasm throughout the city.

Reno, Nev., April 24.—A sharp earthquake shock early today sent persons running to the streets. No damage was reported.

LIFE IN MEXICO CITY DESCRIBED AS NORMAL

London, April 24.—A Mexico City dispatch to The Daily Mail, dated Thursday, says:

"The life of the city is almost normal, many Americans remain and may be seen in the streets.

"There have been some processions with flags but no disorder worth mentioning."

War's Lure Stronger Than Fiancee's Love To Marine Deserter

W. E. Buckalew Voluntarily Surrenders in Order to Be Sent Back to Ship and Then to Mexico.

W. E. Buckalew deserted the United States marine corps on March 3, leaving the gunboat Hancock at New Orleans, for the purpose of coming back to Georgia to see his sweetheart and his father and mother.

Last Monday young Buckalew decided that he wanted to take part in the engagements now going on in Mexico, voluntarily he came to Jackson, Ga., and there surrendered to Sheriff R. C. Bowen, of Henry county, telling him that he was a deserter of the United States marine corps, and that he wished to go to Mexico to fight for his country.

The sheriff brought Buckalew to Atlanta Tuesday night and Friday afternoon he was taken in charge by Sergeant H. O. Miller and a special guard of the local marine recruiting station. The young deserter will be sent to Fort Royal, and thence to Vera Cruz, where his ship, the Hancock, is now doing war service.

Buckalew told The Constitution reporter that he was lured home from the navy by the love of a sweetheart and a pair of big blue eyes. He stated that he could not resist deserting and coming back to his Georgia home, which is nine miles from Jackson, Ga.

HOUSTON LIGHT GUARDS AWAIT ORDERS TO FRONT

Houston, Texas, April 24.—The Houston Light Guard and a cavalry troop, Texas national guard, were assembled here today awaiting orders, which presumably would send them to border points.

The call at first ordered them to proceed at once to the border, but later was suspended by Governor Colquitt. It was believed the Houston soldiers are to be placed under the direction of the governor in the Brownsville section in case of trouble there.

Members of the U. S. Board of Strategy

1. REAR ADMIRAL SOUTHERLAND. 2. ADMIRAL DEWEY. 3. GENERAL CROZIER. 4. GENERAL LIGGETT. 5. REAR ADMIRAL FISKE.

The regular joint board on strategy, which embraces the general board of the navy and army, is meeting daily at Admiral Dewey's office in the new navy department annex. There are present at the meetings the general board of the navy, consisting of Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral T. H. Southerland, Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske and Captain Harvey S. Knapp, and the members of the army general board, consisting of Major General Leonard Wood, Major General W. W. Wotherspoon, Brigadier General Liggett, president of the war college, and Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance. The sessions are behind closed doors. This board will determine the general plan of the campaign in Mexico and in Mexican waters.

Consulate Blown Up; Orgy of Destruction Leaves Town in Ruins

Mexican Troops Fire Across Boundary Into Laredo, Texas, but Are Forced to Flee After Several Brisk Skirmishes With Border Patrol. International Bridges Escape an Attempt to Dynamite Them.

Laredo, Texas, April 24.—Nuevo Laredo, the thriving Mexican border town opposite this place, was in ruins tonight, devastated by dynamite and fire set by Mexican federal soldiers who late today began an orgy of destruction which did not end until they were forced to flee southward before the guns of the American border patrol.

Two Mexicans are known to have been killed by the United States troops and several were seen to fall when a machine gun platoon from Fort McIntosh got into action. Several brisk skirmishes between the Americans and Mexicans were fought in quick succession as the Mexicans, their troop trains ready to pull out of the burning city, began an indiscriminate fire across the international boundary, but tonight there was no evidence that their shooting had been effective.

Property damage in Nuevo Laredo will reach $500,000. Among the buildings destroyed were the United States consulate, municipal buildings, postoffice, theater, the flour mill, one of the largest in this section of the southwest; the railroad shops of the Mexican National railway, and other smaller structures.

At a late hour tonight the fire was still burning, with no chance that it would be controlled until everything inflammable had been wiped out. Kerosene and other combustibles, liberally used, added to the wreckage, which otherwise would not have been great, owing to the adobe construction largely used.

GIRL TAKES POISON AFTER SHE INVITES FRIENDS TO FUNERAL DIES IN AMBULANCE

Miss Helene Eberhardt, the Pretty 17-Year-Old Cashier in Winnie Davis Ice Cream Parlor, Swallows Contents of Bottle of Carbolic Acid.

After repeatedly asking her co-employees in the Winnie Davis ice cream parlor, at 217 Peachtree street, last night, if they would come to her funeral if she should die, Miss Helene Eberhardt, the pretty 17-year-old cashier, swallowed the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid about 10 o'clock, and died in the ambulance on the way to the Grady hospital.

Several prominent people, returning home yet Peachtree from the downtown amusements, gathered at the scene of the tragedy and witnessed the placing of the prostrate form of the girl in the ambulance.

Miss Eberhardt was employed as cashier at the ice cream parlors for the last two weeks. At 1 o'clock Friday she relieved the day cashier for dinner hour. During this time she asked DeWitt Johnston, the soda fountain clerk, if he would come to her funeral if she should die.

Johnston stated that Miss Eberhardt took three soft drinks in short order during the dinner hour between 1 and 2 o'clock, and that he became alarmed and told her that she would kill herself drinking so much.

Four Countries Offer Services as Mediators But Are Not Encouraged

Uneasiness Abroad Because of Measures Adopted by the United States Without Declaration of War.

Washington, April 24.—While the attention of the American government for the most part today was concentrated on restoring order at Vera Cruz and expediting the departure of Americans from Mexico, a watchful eye was trained on the transcontinental boundary between Mexico and the United States for any signs of hostility from Mexican constitutionalists.

President Wilson and his cabinet had a long meeting, after which optimism was conspicuously apparent, both in their demeanor and informal discussion of the situation. There was no particular development to which the feeling of hopefulness that real war would be averted could be traced, but General Villa's friendly pronouncement, it was admitted, had impressed many officials here with the possibility that the constitutionalists would remain neutral while the American government sought reparation from Huerta.

Other officials were not so sanguine and the army moved with precision and swiftness to protect the American boundary and reinforce the expeditionary forces of marines and blue jackets at Vera Cruz.

AMERICAN CHARGE AND FAMILY SAFE

Nelson O'Shaughnessy and Consul General Shanklin Arrive in Vera Cruz From Mexico City.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge at Mexico City, his family and staff, and Consul General Shanklin and his staff, arrived in Vera Cruz from the Mexican capital tonight.

Under date of 6:20 p. m. today Rear Admiral Fletcher, at Vera Cruz, reported to the navy department:

"Upon telegraphic request of Charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, the train left here at 3 o'clock conveying Captain Huse, Lieutenant Fletcher and Ensign P. Todd to meet him. It also carried the family of General Maas and about 250 Mexicans. At about five miles out, track was found torn up for about three-quarters of a mile. On the other side of the breach in the track was a train from Mexico City conveying the charge d'affaires and others as follows:

"Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, child and maid, Captain Sumaide, Lieutenant Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. McKenna, Consul General Shanklin and staff.

"The train was in charge of Chief of Staff General Corona, two aides and an escort of about fifty-odd troops.

"The rumor had reached Mexico City that no Mexicans were allowed to leave Vera Cruz, and it was reported that in consequence Huerta would not allow any more Americans to leave Mexico City. Mexicans in Vera Cruz have been allowed to leave at will, but none have been able to go out on trains. Captain Huse was directed to lay emphasis on this fact and to express a strong desire to send daily trains to convey Mexicans from Vera Cruz to meet trains bringing foreigners from Mexico City. General Corona promised to bring it to the attention of Huerta."

AMERICANS RULING CITY OF VERA CRUZ AND 5-MILE RADIUS

Five Divisions of Civil Administration Organized. Effort Made to Have Mexicans Head Departments.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 24.—Five divisions of the civil administration were organized today—police, sanitary, harbor, finance and customs. An effort was made to put Mexicans at the heads of all departments, but as this was impossible, at least in two departments, American officers were assigned to the posts. They are Lieutenant Commander McNeely, of the battleship Louisiana, who was appointed chief of police, and the fleet paymaster, who was made collector of customs.

An effort still is being made to get Mexicans to act as heads of the other departments, but if this is found to be impossible Americans will be placed in charge of all. An American will be made inspector over each department headed by a Mexican.

Police provisions call for a continuance of the patrol of Americans, although Mexicans have been invited to co-operate in the organization of a native force. The customs receipts, it is said, may be placed to the credit of the United States.

Close scrutiny will be maintained over all newspapers and other publications and no editorial comment concerning the American occupation or

ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE TWO BRIDGES FAILS.

There was no property loss in Laredo. Both international bridges are safe, though efforts to dynamite them resulted in the death of two men engaged in the undertaking. One Mexican was shot by a sharpshooter from the top of the water tower. The Mexican was trying to reach the end of the international foot and wagon bridge. Another was killed when he tried to blow up the Mexican end of the international railroad bridge. American soldiers are constantly stationed at the American end to prevent such an attempt.

When the Mexican soldiers finally departed order was quickly restored in Laredo, but strong guards remain throughout the city. A serious problem was furnished immigration and city authorities by the presence here of hundreds of refugees from the burning city who had to be furnished food and shelter.

The federal garrison evacuated Nuevo Laredo yesterday, supposedly going to Salillo or Monterey. With their departure the busy little city, ordinarily of about 7,000 population, was virtually deserted.

AMERICAN CONSULATE BREAKS INTO FLAMES.

There was little excitement occasioned by the presence of the federals until this afternoon. Smoke was seen issuing from some of the buildings around the plaza, the center of the town. The municipal building and the American consulate on opposite sides of the square broke into flame simultaneously. Next door to the consulate the postoffice, temporarily closed, also was seen to be burning and around the plaza smoke began to issue from the windows and roofs of other buildings.

A few minutes later a loud explosion wrecked several houses and the fire spread rapidly in all directions. Americans began to gather on the river bank, but hastily retreated when warned that other explosions nearer at hand might occur. Troops at Fort McIntosh were ordered out on the double-quick, and in a few minutes a rigid guard, amounting almost to martial law, was established in the danger zone. At the two bridges across the river the guards were reinforced and it was here that the only known loss of life occurred. The machine gun platoon from Fort McIntosh took position below the center of the city, where the federals who now were crowding into their trains, poured a fusillade of rifle shots across the border.

Battery A, of the Third Field artillery, was sent to the power house of the Laredo Electric and Light company, fearing an attack there, but it was soon seen that there was nothing for them to do.

Several Mexicans were seen to fall before the fire from the machine guns, but they were carried away by their comrades. The trains were started and the federals withdrew, firing as long as they could. For some distance the railroad follows the international line.

After silencing the Mexicans, part of the Ninth infantry was withdrawn from the river front, the others remaining on guard.

Rumors that some American soldiers were wounded proved to be without foundation and no shots struck in the central part of Laredo.

Colonel Crane, of the Ninth infantry, announced that a rigid patrol of the city, particularly of the business section and the American residence section, would be maintained.

SERGEANT TURNER DIES; ILL ONLY THREE HOURS

Sergeant William H. Turner, one of the oldest members of the Atlanta police force, died suddenly Friday morning at 11 o'clock at his home, 281 Lawton avenue.

He came home from the morning watch Friday apparently as well as ever and died about three hours later. He was 56 years old and had served on the force for twenty-one years. He was ever faithful to duty and had many friends who are grieved at his departure.

Surviving him are his father, C. B. Turner, of Nashville, Tenn.; one brother, C. B. Turner, Jr., of Nashville; two sisters, Mrs. Lula Mitchell and Mrs. Laura Elliott, of Atlanta, and six children, Paul, William, Candler, Joel, Velma and Frances Turner. The body was removed to Barclay & Brandon's chapel.

Funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence, Rev. Rogers officiating. Interment will be in West View.

VOLUNTEER ARMY BILL IS APPROVED

Measure Proposes to Put Volunteer Forces on War-time Footing Similar to the Regular Army.

Washington, April 24.—The senate today without debate passed the volunteer army bill as agreed to by the conferees of the house and senate. The house passed the bill this afternoon and it now goes to the president for signature.

The bill was designed to cure defects in existing law relating to volunteer forces, and it is relied upon to put these forces upon a war-time footing, almost similar to the regular army.

Except for the fact that the volunteer army would be disbanded immediately by presidential action at the close of hostilities, which led to its organization, there would be little difference between it and the regular standing army.

The volunteer army, under the terms of the bill, to be raised while war is existing, or "while war is imminent," but only after congress has given the president authority. The president would call for volunteers by proclamation and make the necessary regulations for receiving them into service. Enlistments would be apportioned among the states according to population.

The president appoints the officers instead of the governors of the states, and he has absolute authority to organize brigades and divisions without regard to state lines. The enlistment period is four years, as in the regular army.

STATE TROOPS WILL MOBILIZE AT MACON

Atlanta Is Named as Temporary Mobilization Point by the War Department.

According to a telegram received Friday by Adjutant General Nash, from the war department at Washington, Atlanta has been selected as the temporary mobilization camp for troops destined for service for Mexico, and Macon has been chosen as the permanent camp for this state.

Wednesday Adjutant General Nash received a wire from the war department asking him to recommend a site for mobilization purposes. He suggested Fort McPherson, at Atlanta, or Crump's park, in Macon. It was later discovered that Fort McPherson was not available as a permanent camp on account of the fact that the buildings there could not be utilized, the war department declining to permit it in the absence of the Seventeenth regiment.

Thereupon it was decided that Fort McPherson was out of the question as a permanent site, and Macon was designated instead.

Fort McPherson will be utilized for those men living near Atlanta. They will be kept here pending their transportation to the main camp at Macon.

Colonel Orville H. Hall, of the Fifth regiment, is taking steps to recruit the regiment to its full strength in the daily expectation of war orders from headquarters in Washington.

A telegram was received by the Fifth's commandant from Lieutenant Colonel Haan, in Washington, asking when the Fifth would mobilize, and requesting an immediate report. This message created considerable speculation in the regiment.

A rapid augmentation of the fifth's enrollment is expected, as queries from would-be applicants for enlistment have poured into Fifth headquarters ever since trouble began in Mexico.

WOMAN'S MASS MEETING PROTESTS AGAINST WAR

New York, April 24.—A resolution of protest against this nation going to war with Mexico was adopted at a woman's mass meeting in Cooper Union last night. Many men were in the audience. President Wilson was called on "to put the noble words he has uttered in the past into deeds."

"We ask President Wilson," the resolution read, "immediately to withdraw our troops from Mexico and thus with true courage and the finest sense of honor, repair the harm already done."

Mrs. Henry Villard presided.

See Grady for Yourself

Once you make a personal inspection of Grady Hospital you will be convinced of the need for Greater Grady.

You will be convinced of the imperative civic duty of aiding to carry the $750,000 bond election that Greater Grady may be created.

You will find that the hospital is inadequate to the demands hourly made upon it.

You will find that the disease and the death rates are fed by the insufficient facilities of Grady.

You will find that inefficiency in Atlanta, since efficiency is impossible without health, is stimulated by the present conditions at Grady.

See the lack of beds at Grady.

See the lack of equipment at Grady.

Realize that this is the only municipal hospital, the only hospital to which the poor man can go, in Atlanta.

Dr. Charles Goodell Joins Methodist Revival Forces

Dr. Charles L. Goodell, of New York, yesterday joined the evangelical forces which are carrying on the big revival at St. Paul's Methodist church.

Dr. Goodell is pastor of the largest Methodist church in the world. He has a reputation as an international reputation, both as a revivalist and church director. The directors of St. Paul's feel they have been unusually fortunate in securing him for the present revival.

At the service last night the church was full. The New York pastor preached a remarkable sermon. It was remarkable because it was so unlike the usual revival sermon. Dr. Goodell is not an orator. He thunders no tirades against sin. He invokes no thunderbolts out of the infinite. He simply tells the facts, and leaves every one to draw his own conclusion.

DR. CHARLES GOODELL.

Looks Like Business Man.

He looks rather like a successful business man. He is square-shinned and of stocky, aggressive build. As he talked to the congregation, he might have been a bank president talking to the board of directors.

He talked about the family. He said the family was the hope of this country.

"It seems to me," he said, "that this is the message the Lord gives to me." He didn't say positively that it was the message the Lord gave to him. Dr. Goodell is unusually modest and unassuming about his relations with the Deity.

"Now," he went on, "I don't know of any better family which better illustrates modern tendencies than the family of Lot. You will notice in the Bible a reiterated phrase about Lot. It is, 'And Lot went also.' You will notice that he was a leader rather in the direction of good nor evil. He went also. This seems very often to be the fate of the modern family."

Dr. Goodell went on talking about the family of Lot for some time. He pointed out how it had gone down and dwelt in the city of Sodom, rather than on the heights. He made no attempt to be dramatic about it. He seemed to assume that he had the perfect understanding of the congregation. He made simple side comments, such as, when speaking of Lot's acceptance of the better half of Abraham's land, "He oughtn't to have done that. He ought to have been ashamed of himself." He conjectured that Lot's wife had probably been a sister of Abraham, and had said of him, "Why, that old back number! He doesn't even dress well." He talked about everyone in the Bible story as though they were ordinary, everyday people. Occasionally, over some admirable trait of one of the characters, such as Abraham's refusal to accept a shoestring from the spoils the Sodomites had won in war, the preacher would give vent to an enthusiastic "I like that!"

In Simple Conviction.

It was soon evident that the great revivalist's power lay in a kind of simple conviction. When he spoke of God as communing with Abraham, he said, "I'd like to feet God comes down and talks to us now. And, thank God, I know He does." He announced his knowledge as a capable business man might announce his solution of some office problem. It was his business to know God was on earth, and he knew it. That ended the matter.

The dramatic climax of the sermon came when the evangelist, having made his Bible characters live before the audience, reached the point where Lot, wishing his children to leave Sodom with him, found them bound to the city. It was a human sermon, and this was its supreme human tragedy. The evangelist made it tell. Every man in the congregation was Lot; every city was Sodom; every day was the one the sky might rain fire. This was his point. He stopped.

When Dr. Goodell first took charge of his present pastorate in New York it was said that all except the Brooklyn section of that city was a graveyard of ministerial hopes. Dr. Goodell's church was not in the Brooklyn section. Its present proportions tell that it certainly did not prove the graveyard of Dr. Goodell's ministerial hopes. After listening to him, one knows why Dr. Goodell hasn't any ministerial hopes. He simply possesses—or is convinced he possesses, which is nine-tenths of the battle—ministerial facts. He sticks to them, and is successful.

Dr. Goodell will preach a special sermon for evangelical ministers at 11 o'clock this morning. The preceding song and prayer service will begin at 10:15 o'clock. Another service will be held at 7:45 o'clock this evening. Dr. Goodell will preach Sunday morning.

TEXAS TROOPERS SENT TO BORDER

Colquitt Orders Out One Regiment of State Militia and Prepares to Follow With Two More.

Austin, Texas, April 24.—An entire regiment of the Texas national guard was today ordered to mobilize at Brownsville for border patrol duty. Governor Colquitt, it also became known, will order the other two regiments to the border unless a request to Secretary of War Garrison for additional troop protection for Texas border points is granted.

The Dallas battery has also been ordered to prepare for active service and the cavalry squadron may be called out.

It was said Governor Colquitt telegraphed Secretary of War Garrison early today for an additional regiment on the border, but that no reply had been received this afternoon, and acting on the assumption that United States troops would not be available for border service at once, the governor prepared to protect the Texas frontier with state forces. Hundreds of appeals from border towns asking protection have been received.

Governor Colquitt said the calling out of the militia would not interfere with projected plans for the formation of a home guard in each border town under direction of the rangers.

Adjutant General Hutchings today began arrangements to move the militia to the border. They are expected to entrain probably tomorrow, as preparations extending over several months have been made for such an emergency.

Colquitt's Act Welcomed.

Washington, April 24.—Co-operation in Mexican border patrol operations, it was made known here today, will be welcomed by the war department, provided there can be arranged a division of territory to be assigned to state and federal troops in a manner that will avert any conflict of authority. If Governor Colquitt's state troops can be placed in exclusive charge of certain designated portions of the border, the war department, it is declared, would relieve federal troops at such points and gladly accept the aid of the state forces.

AT THE THEATERS.

Junior Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

Little Mary Pagan, the 3-year-old daughter of Theodore Pagan, the Hawaiian King, will hold a reception on the stage at the Grand after the matinee performance this afternoon and present every boy and girl present with a souvenir. Little Mary does a singing and dancing specialty with her father, appearing at reiterated performances. Another attraction on the present bill that appeals especially to the ladies and children is Montgomery and Pinard, orchestral pianists of these birds appear and the feats they perform must be seen to be properly appreciated.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Matinee and night performances today at the Forsyth will end another week of great success at Atlanta's home of vaude. The playhouse has been crowded to its capacity at all performances and with a dramatic sketch that is unusual and a lot of comedy features the Pioneer girls are not soon going to forget the bit that has been regularly featured will be offering for the coming week. Valerie Bergere and her company in a new act, "A Sawyer Simile," when the Kansas City lumber sawyer and his diving models: Fred Lindsay, Al Fitzgerald and Harry Hastings and stout, whip expert, and baseball's idol, Cap Anson, will be another of the features of the theater might be proud to offer, and in addition Al Fitzgerald and Marie Cahill, from George Edward's Gaiety theater, of London, and Mr. and Murray, a genuine vaudeville duo, will assist in the entertaining.

IRONICAL COMMENT IN LONDON PAPERS

London, April 24.—The London morning papers comment in an ironical vein on the dealings of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan with Mexico. The Standard compares them to philosophers from Mars.

The Post says:

"It is distressfully to have considered what sort and size of war they wanted before they allowed shots to be fired. President Wilson is now at war with both halves of the Mexican people. How by that war they can give the Mexicans the self-government that seems to him desirable, we cannot imagine."

The Daily News says: "If the Washington government really was surprised at Carranza's attitude its surprise is not very creditable to its statesmanship and intelligence."

BAD WATER WORST FOE OF TROOPS IN MEXICO

New York, April 24.—Bad water will be the army's worst foe in Mexico if war is declared, according to Colonel M. L. Maus, chief surgeon of the First army division, which had headquarters on Governor's island. The water supply and sanitation system of Mexico, he explained, were so far behind modern methods that if an army should be sent into Mexico City an entirely new system would have to be provided. He estimated that millions of dollars would be expended by the United States for sanitation and that from a health standpoint the American occupation of Mexico would be a good thing for that country.

To insure pure drinking water, Colonel Maus said that filters would be a part of every army division equipment, and if the water proved too impure for filtration it would have to be boiled. He did not express concern because of disease among the soldiers except from typhus in Mexico City. With the sanitation system that the army would provide in the capital city even typhus, he declared, could be conquered.

PLANNING TO EXTEND CANAL TOLLS HEARING

Washington, April 24.—Because the Mexican situation has interfered with the hearings on tolls by the senate interoceanic canal committee, that committee has decided tentatively to extend the hearings, if the presence of witnesses justifies such a course. The time originally agreed upon would expire today. Witnesses from the Pacific coast and Hawaii have been in attendance all week. The committee has assured them they will have an opportunity to testify even if the hearings hardt came on night duty, apparently in good spirits, according to the employees at the place. At 8:45 o'clock she sent little 19-year-old Frank Ship, who works at the place as a waiter, to Mr. Bixby's drug company in the Grand Opera house, to buy her a 10-cent bottle of diluted carbolic acid.

N. C. McDowell, who had relieved Johnston on night duty, stated that Miss Eberhardt asked him if he would come to her funeral if she should die. He stated that she drank several soft drinks, and spoke of a love letter she had received from her sweetheart. McDowell stated that she seemed much over the letter, stating that Miss Eberhardt was very much in love with her lover. He did not know his name.

At 10 o'clock Miss Eberhardt came across from the candy stand to the soda fountain and asked him for another soft drink. He gave it to her.

She crossed the store back to the candy stand, where she drank it, first emptying into the glass the contents of the carbolic acid bottle. She threw the bottle into the waste basket behind the candy counter, where it was found later.

Going to an ice cream table she took a seat. She complained that she was sick. McDowell told her that he was sorry, and hoped that she would feel better.

A moment later he saw her body jerk and squirm, and she uttered a cry of pain, calling for him to get a doctor. Dr. Rosser, who is the manager of the ice cream parlor.

Fails to the Floor.

The girl arose and again walked behind the candy stand, where she began to fall to the floor. McDowell caught her and supported her. Mr. Rosser ran across the street and secured a physician.

The Grady emergency ambulance was called for. A fruitless run was made by the ambulance. The young girl died on the way to the hospital.

The carbolic acid had not burned her tongue or her mouth.

Detectives rushed from police headquarters to the scene of the tragedy. The love letter and mysteriously disappeared, and no clew as to its whereabouts had been obtained up to a late hour last night. Mystery surrounds its disappearance.

Johnston, Roberson and McDowell all state that they had seen the love letter on the mistress's counter shortly after she took the cold, but a careful search failed to disclose where it had been placed. Finally it was abandoned.

The detectives believe that if they can locate the whereabouts of the love letter they will find a solution as to the cause of the young lady taking her life by drinking the acid.

Others have told of her statements to her co-employees, there is no obvious reasons for her taking her life.

The girl's mother, who had been living with her daughter at 91 East Cain street, was notified of the tragedy and rushed to the Grady hospital. When she discovered that her daughter was dead, she broke down in tears.

In Good Spirits.

Miss Eberhardt went to the matinee at the Forsyth theater Friday with a married friend. She related that she said that the girl was in good spirits during the whole time she was with her.

Miss Eberhardt had been working at the Winnie Davis Ice Cream Parlor for about two weeks, accepting a position to help defray her and her mother's expenses. The two lived in a boarding house at No. 91 East Cain street, having come there about two weeks ago. Up to that time she and her mother had been living with her first cousin, Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Jr.

The dead girl was the daughter of Dr. J. B. Eberhardt, who died several years ago. Dr. Eberhardt was one of Atlanta's leading physicians at the time of his death. She is prominently connected in Atlanta.

A few years ago she and her mother moved to Baltimore to live with a married sister. They also have lived in New York city with another sister. About six months ago they returned to Atlanta.

The body was removed to Fred Patterson's undertaking establishment, awaiting funeral arrangements.

Atlanta's Anthony Comstock Objects to "Damaged Goods"

Suggests Expurgated Production Today

Edwin Arthur, dramatic censor for the Atlanta police department, has locked horns with the Dramatic Club of America—which has a branch in Atlanta—and with Belcux, of the Academy of France.

It's all about the performance of "Damaged Goods," which was staged last night at the Atlanta theater. His appearance before the organization created wide interest. His entire address was devoted to the subject of "Damaged Goods." The play had been liberally discussed before its production at the Atlanta last night.

Policeman Arthur, who has been detailed by Chief Beavers to the duty of censoring the local drama, has devoted most of his time of late to the rigid scrutiny of the burlesque theaters in the city, in two of which he made recent arrests for allegedly objectionable dances and jokes.

The particular portion of "Damaged Goods" to which he objected was the introduction in the third act of a "creature of circumstances" who visited the doctor's office for treatment. She is titled a "street walker" in the show.

Arthur will ask that either this particular character be eliminated from the play or certain lines of her role be cut out. To a reporter for The Constitution he declared last night that, up to the point of her appearance, the show had already taught its moral, and that her connection was superfluous. He stated that he thought it had a bad effect and was too realistic for the rules and regulations of the Atlanta police department.

When Arthur was informed by the reporter that the play had been performed before members of President Wilson's cabinet, the senate and diplomatic officials, as well as medical experts from many nations, and had received the hearty indorsement of all, he had no reply.

"But the odds are they never rang in the 'street walker' on those folks!"

Anyway, he'll submit his grievance to Chief Beavers this morning.

Whatever the Drama league does will be entirely another matter.

THINKS AMERICA MUST ADMIT STATE OF WAR

Paris, April 24.—American operations at Vera Cruz are likely to raise international difficulties, according to a London dispatch to The Times, unless they are regularized by admitting the existing of a state of war. It is pointed out that France endeavored to blockade Chinese ports in 1884 without declaring war, and that Great Britain protested successfully.

Another case put forward is that when Great Britain, at the outbreak of the Boer war, asserted that the operations were of a police nature against rebels, she was obliged to change her position when German vessels carrying contraband were defined.

DID NOT CONFESS TO GIRL'S MURDER, SAYS JIM CONLEY

Three New Affidavits in Hearing on New Trial Petition by Leo Frank Necessitate Postponement.

JIM CONLEY CONFESSED GUILT, SAY WITNESSES

Preacher and Negress Swear to Admission—Another Witness Tells of Seeing Girl Leave Frank's Office.

Jim Conley, the negro accused yesterday of confessing to the murder of Mary Phagan, made a sweeping denial last night to The Constitution, and declared that his counsel would be able to present evidence which would prove that the accusations were absolutely false.

The negro's statement was made to a reporter for The Constitution through Attorney William M. Smith, Conley's attorney. Smith was requested to ask certain questions having direct bearing on the affidavits submitted before Judge Ben Hill by Frank's defense, in which two witnesses accuse Conley of having admitted the Phagan crime.

He declares that the negro in the Tower. He says they rarely spoke, and then only to exchange greetings.

Will Establish Alibi.

Conley also stated that he would be able to show an alibi to disprove the charge of Rev. C. B. Ragsdale, the minister who has made an affidavit to the effect that he overheard Conley tell another negro in an alley near the Terminal station on the Monday night following the murder, that he had killed a girl at the pencil factory.

Attorney Smith was asked by the reporter to make a statement regarding the new evidence which so startled those present at the hearing for a retrial, being held before Judge Ben Hill, which was adjourned Friday morning until next Friday morning, to give the prosecution time to form a counter showing to the new developments.

His answer was:

"In the words of Champ Clark, I can only say: 'Shoo fly! Don't bother me!'"

Confession Is Alleged.

The effect that the two strongest pieces of evidence introduced by attorneys for the defense will have on Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's fight to prevent a new trial for Leo Frank will, in all probability, cause a second delay in the re-trial hearing that is now in progress before Judge Ben Hill.

The solicitor requested adjournment of the hearing yesterday morning so that he would have ample time and opportunity to gather evidence with which to make a counter showing against three new affidavits that were presented by Frank's attorneys Friday morning.

These affidavits are from witnesses whose connection with the case was not made public until their testimony was revealed to Judge Hill. Two of them—a minister and a negro woman, swear they heard Jim Conley confess to the murder of Mary Phagan. The third witness states she was in the pencil factory at the time Mary Phagan entered, and that she saw the girl depart from Frank's office and go down the stairway to the first floor.

Work of Detective Burns.

These affidavits were introduced into the retrial motion as amendments. A strong fight was made against them by the solicitor, but was defeated. Both phases of the new evidence were unearthed by Detective William J. Burns.

Solicitor Dorsey would have nothing to say for publication. He would express himself in no manner regarding the Conley confession affidavits. He intimated that the prosecution would insist upon further postponement next Friday so that his men could make exhaustive investigations into the new affidavits.

Annie Maude Carter, a negress, who was once a prisoner in the Tower in which Conley is held, made the most startling of the three affidavits. She testifies that the negro prisoner had made love to her and had wanted to marry her, and that he had confessed to having slain Mary Phagan.

She swears that the negro went into thorough details of the murder, and that he exonerated Leo Frank completely. At first, however, she states in the affidavit, Conley sought to them that he would get into trouble at the pencil plant—had killed a girl.

Conley's companion, the minister says in his document, asked Conley if anyone was in the building at the time Conley committed the crime, and Conley answered that Frank might have been in the place, but he thought not.

The third sensation is an affidavit attested to by Mrs. Maud Bailey, who swears she saw Mary Phagan come to the second floor of the pencil factory about five minutes after 12, on the day of the tragedy, go into Frank's office, remain a moment or so, emerge and then go down the stairway to the first floor. She also swears that, as she came up the stairs upon entering the building, she saw Jim Coney sitting on a box near the foot of the steps.

Mrs. Bailey had gone to the factory, she swears, with her mother, Mrs. Mae Barrett, and that she waited on the second floor near Frank's office by the time clock, while her mother went upstairs to the next floor. While she was standing there, she says, a girl—whom she describes as being young, wearing short dresses and a lavender dress, but does not say was Mary Phagan—entered and went into Frank's office, afterwards emerging. She also swears she saw Lemmie Quinn come into the office directly after the girl had departed.

Evidence Corroborated.

The affidavit made by the Kirkwood preacher is supported in part by an affidavit sworn by R. L. Barbour, of Temple, Ga., who says he saw Rev. Ragsdale enter the alley, followed by the two negroes, one of whom he identifies as Jim Conley.

The negress affiant, in telling of the alleged confession of Conley, says that Conley told her he had written the notes for the purpose of trying to direct suspicion to Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, and that he had first put them in her bosom. He admitted, she says, prying the staple from the rear door of the factory basement and going into the alley, from whence he went to a nearby saloon.

The woman also says she was at police headquarters Thursday, and that the affidavit was taken from her by Chief Lanford and Detectives Chewning and Sturdivant. But, she says, she did not tell them anything of the alleged confession from Conley, as, in her own words: "She knew they were trying to protect Conley and didn't want to tell them all she knew."

The affidavit procured from her at police headquarters has not been made public.

Solicitor Fights Amendments.

The hearing before Judge Hill was adjourned shortly Friday morning. When the counsel for Frank proposed to amend their motion with the new evidence, a vigorous fight against the move was made by the solicitor. He was overruled, however, and the affidavits presented to Judge Hill. There were a few heated words from Attorney Dorsey, when, in reply to a remark from Dorsey, the senior counsel said: "Mr. Dorsey has no right to talk about detectives or investigators." Here he pointed an accusing finger in the direction of Dorsey. "Just look at the bunch that is surrounding him."

Eight of the picked men from police headquarters, including John Black, John Starnes and Pat Campbell, were gathered around the solicitor. Dorsey, however, merely smiled in reply.

A thorough probe of the three affidavits will be made by the investigators attached to Dorsey's office. None of the attaches to Dorsey's staff would talk.

AMERICANS RULING CITY OF VERA CRUZ

news regarding the movement of troops will be permitted.

No Attack Expected.

Rear-Admiral Badger, in a report to the navy department tonight, said that the forces were so strongly posted that no attack from the Mexicans was expected at present. He said there had been no further casualties and that the wounded were doing well.

The commandant of the San Juan de Ulua fortress, in the inner harbor, dressed in full uniform, called on Rear Admiral Fletcher today and was granted permission to take supplies to the women and children refugees in the fortress.

The battleship Louisiana sailed for Galveston today to convoy the army transports to Vera Cruz.

Constitutes Almost Normal.

American marines and bluejackets controlled today a radius of at least five miles around the city of Vera Cruz, in which normal conditions had been virtually restored.

Outposts were pushed farther out in a southerly direction early this morning to the water supply station at Tejar and marines and sailors were dispatched there on a train to obtain control of all pipe lines into the city. They took with them oil fuel to run the pumping plant.

To the west and northwest, Captain Smedley Butler, with his marines, are stationed. Their Rear Admiral Fletcher commands all the approaches to the city.

Within the city sniping had almost ceased this morning. A close watch for sharpshooters was kept up all night by patrols who marched through the streets. Orders had been issued that all civilians should keep within their residences after 7:30 o'clock in the evening and these were strictly obeyed. As a result the night was quiet.

American Refugees Leave.

Americans, numbering about 200, mostly women and children, left for Galveston on board the Esperanza and arrangements have been made for removing from the coast towns as soon as possible all Americans who can be induced to leave.

More than 1,000 Americans are reported to have left Tampico, where they were urgently advised to depart.

The Chester will be sent to Frontera, Coatzacoalcos and other coast towns to urge Americans there to be ready to embark on the Ward liner Monterey, which is due here today from Havana.

Only three of the American wounded are in a critical condition, according to the report received from the Solace. These are First-Class Fireman H. Pullan, Ordinary Seaman E. G. Wright and Private Jeremiah G. Peoples.

The dead have been embalmed and their bodies are lying on board the Solace ready to be sent north.

Naval surgeons say that the majority of the wounded men will be able to report for duty in a short time.

Total Force 4,500 Men.

By tomorrow the total force on shore will probably reach 4,500 men.

The outposts have been equipped with twelve machine guns and several 3-inch field pieces, which were taken to the front today.

Rear Admiral Fletcher's headquarters at the Terminal hotel are guarded by machine guns, while seven field pieces are held in reserve in the vicinity.

Over 250 Mexican sick and wounded were found in the San Sebastian hospital when it was inspected today by a navy surgeon. Forty dead were found in the mortuary. Conditions were so bad that navy surgeons were detailed to assist the hospital authorities.

The medical department today inspected the sanitary conditions of the city and opened negotiations with the Mexican health officials, in the hope of inducing them to return to their work.

With Commander Herman O. Stickney, of the Prairie, appointed commander of the port, the American authorities today undertook the administration of the customs.

Rear Admiral Fletcher has begun the general supervision of the city. Very few of the former heads of the city departments have returned and most of them seem to have left the city.

Sanitation Almost Normal.

The sanitation plant of the municipality was placed in operation again today under a new chief and the street car lines also have resumed partial service.

Numbers of shops and restaurants were opened yesterday and crowds walked about the streets and the open places. Except for the passing of an occasional patrol the city seems to have resumed almost normal conditions.

Bands from the American fleet played yesterday and attracted large crowds. The idea of providing music for the people was suggested by Captain Rush, but only a few hours before had been directing the artillery and machine gun fire against the same people.

Large numbers of Mexicans called on Rear Admiral Fletcher today pleading for the release of friends and relatives who had been made prisoners. The almost invariable reply was that all whose innocence could be established would be released.

The total number of prisoners taken was about 500, but many have already been released.

Refugees From Mexico City.

A refugee train of fourteen cars from Mexico City, carrying 150 Americans, 100 Germans, 300 Spaniards and Mexicans and 50 Englishmen, arrived here last evening.

The exodus from the capital was arranged through the joint action of the British and German diplomatic officials with the war office. The train left the Mexican outposts at Tejeria at noon, where it was detained for two hours while a search was made by the Mexicans for political exiles, four of whom were arrested and held until General Maas, at Soledad, was communicated with and their release ordered.

About three miles from Vera Cruz, a section of track nearly a mile long was found torn up. The refugees carried their baggage to a train on the Vera Cruz end of the break, which the British, co-operating with the Americans, had sent out to meet the train from Mexico City. A detachment of British marines, commanded by Major Elliott, escorted the refugees on this last stage of their journey to Vera Cruz.

From the refugees it was learned that on Wednesday there was a repetition of street demonstrations by mobs such as had also occurred earlier in the week. In Cinco de Mayo avenue, one of the principal streets, an American flag was thrown to the ground in front of a processional and trampled over by the demonstrators. It was then dragged out and the performance repeated. Later it was torn to shreds amid the yells of the crowd and handclappings from spectators in windows and balconies.

A small gathering of Mexicans at the American embassy corner, Tuesday night, listened to speeches from street orators. The crowd was quite orderly, probably because a heavy guard of police was on duty there.

Mob Tramples American Flag.

Mobs in the streets of Mexico City were trampling under foot the Stars and Stripes and were threatening American pedestrians when the refugee train, engaged under the auspices of the British and German legations, left for Vera Cruz carrying some 500 fugitives of various nationalities.

The position of those American citizens left in the federal capital was regarded as critical. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires; Lieutenant Scott, of the navy, and Captain William A. Burnside, of the army, were to have left Thursday night for Mansanillo, on the Pacific coast, under special arrangement with Provisional President Huerta.

Immediately after the news of the landing of American bluejackets and marines at Vera Cruz was made known in the federal capital by extra editions of the local newspapers, crowds of residents and government office employees began to gather.

By dusk a mob had been assembled in front of the American club, where they smashed windows and howled insults and threats at the American citizens inside, all of whom they threatened to assassinate.

An appeal to the governor of the federal district brought police protection, but not before the crowd had shattered many of the windows of the clubhouse and in adjoining properties belonging to Americans.

Until 2 o'clock in the morning bands of excited Mexicans marched through the streets singing the Mexican national anthem and shouting "death for the Americans."

An American jewelry store was looted by the mob at midnight. The police looked on but took no action.

The American club, the leading American hostelry and the offices of The Mexican Herald were closed, owing to the threats of the mobs to burn them and murder the occupants.

The British, German and French in the federal capital were prepared at a moment's notice to gather in the previously arranged concentration districts, which had been provisioned to withstand a siege.

Papers Tell of "Victories."

The newspapers, probably acting under the directions of General Huerta, issued many extra editions, in which they printed dispatches stating that El Paso, Laredo, Nogales and other places had been taken by the Mexicans.

Other dispatches announced that the federal troops had gained a great victory at Vera Cruz, where they expected to surround and drive the invaders into the sea.

The papers also declared that the battleship Louisiana had been sunk by Mexican torpedoes.

An alleged dispatch from the south said that Emiliano Zapata, the southern rebel, was coming to join forces with General Huerta.

All the American officials employed by the National railroads and the Mexican Railroad company were immediately discharged by the government in order that no trains could be operated except under the supervision of the government. At the American consulate orders were expected from the Mexican government that the arms and ammunition recently permitted to enter should be given up. This was in retaliation for the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American fleet. At 6 o'clock, on Wednesday evening, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, had not received his passports, but he was preparing to leave.

The refugee train was twenty hours in making the journey from Mexico City to Vera Cruz.

While delays were many, there were no mishaps.

PUBLISHERS PLEDGE LOYALTY TO WILSON

New York, April 24.—The American Newspaper Publishers' association, on the last day of its convention, adopted a resolution pledging loyalty to President Wilson in the Mexican situation.

A resolution was passed upholding the enforcement of the newspaper publicity law which provides for a full statement as to ownership and circulation.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

WHEN PATRIOTISM KINDLES.

One of the brighter lights of our broil with Mexico comes from the action of the C. A. Evans camp of confederate veterans at Lumpkin, Ga. None of these survivors of the '60's is under 69 years of age. Yet they all join in a letter to President Wilson, in which they offer to "protect the dignity and honor of our beloved land."

Of course, the offer of these old men valiant cannot, in the nature of things, be accepted. More youthful bodies and keener eyes are needed for our distasteful task in Mexico, and these will be available in abundance.

But it is the spirit of the tender from Stewart county that counts.

To quote the scriptures, these confederate veterans may be numbered among "they who came out of great tribulation."

They have known the horrors of war, the humiliation and the heartbreak of reconstruction.

Yet with them these fateful events become as negligible memories, ghosts of past trials, when the flag of their reunited country is subjected to indignity.

The Spanish-American war, with its commingling of the grayheads of blue and gray in warrior counsels, marked a far milestone in the welding of the sections.

The spirit of patriotism that flames into action the moment this nation is even remotely assailed, promises to achieve yet greater results in the final renationalization.

The mood of the veterans of Lumpkin is typical of the mood of the vanishing men in gray, wherever their lots may be cast.

It is refreshing to know that if we must assume an onerous and uncurried responsibility, the burden will be lightened by distinct compensations.

KEEPING CATTLE AT HOME.

The Georgia State Chamber of Commerce is calling the attention of trade boards and newspapers throughout the state to an editorial which recently appeared in The Constitution under the caption, "The Wrong Cattle Policy." Taking as its text the high price of meats in Bulloch county, due to the long-continued sale of native beef and breeding cattle, The Constitution emphasized the eventual unwisdom of such a course.

Commenting upon the editorial, the chamber of commerce thus addresses its correspondents:

> The editorial in The Constitution this morning entitled "The Wrong Cattle Policy" is one of the most serious problems that confronts Georgia today. The sale of breeding cattle in the last year to people who carry the cattle beyond the state is alarming. Eventually, Georgia must pay the bill in high-priced meats. It is not improbable that these purchases are being made by a secret combination which is seeking, ultimately, to control the meat supply. Please give this your earnest attention and such publicity as it deserves.

The issue is one of such seriousness as to deserve all the publicity and organized activity the press and trade boards of the state can command.

For years The Constitution has been preaching that Georgia offers conditions ideal to the creation of a livestock industry upon a scale almost commensurate with the revenues from cotton.

We have stressed the economic folly involved in Georgia, which should lead the eastern south in beef-raising, sending millions annually out of the state for meat products.

And here are many counties in Georgia disposing of their breeding cattle at the first opportunity, unmindful of the ultimate consequences of such a policy. Of course, the county that thus surrenders its cattle on the hoof shortly afterward complains at paying a skyscraping price for the same cattle as a finished market product.

Some sacrifice will, of course, be required to insure that good Georgia stock shall stay on the farms, instead of being exported. The temptation for immediate profits is an enticing one, especially so to a farmer who may have difficulty in making both ends meet.

But the game is worth the candle. The bankers and the merchants and trade boards generally can help on the practical end of the proposition by co-operating to the end that the farmer's basis for collateral shall be broadened and he shall not be compelled to thrust cattle on the market upon terms that cannot constitute other than an ultimate loss to himself and to the community.

SMOKING AND WRITING.

Someone has been interviewing French academicians as to the effect of smoking upon literary compositions. The results of the census range widely from enthusiastic commendation of the inspiration of "Lady Nicotine" to frank avowals that her devotees know they injure themselves when they indulge.

Once upon a time a writer of some experience, who also was an inveterate smoker, asked a capable physician if smoking were not a distinct aid to concentration of mental effort.

"Rot!" said the physician with some energy. "Whatever aid you get to composition is that of a purely mechanical nature. Pull your nose, twist your moustache, roll your ear-lobe, and you will secure enough outside stimulus to aid inspiration."

This may be true, and it may likewise be true that the writer who depends upon smoking to set his thinking machinery in motion is only pampering a habit. But enough men of literary importance have found assistance from tobacco to at least give the habit the sanction of vogue and precedent. It is even recorded that clergymen, hammering away at their prospective sermons at the midnight hour, have found that thought flows more freely when the soothing pipe or cigar is in the hand. Of course, no one would have the temerity to associate a cigarette with a clergyman.

"At the last analysis, it all gets down to a matter of personal idiosyncrasy. With tobacco as with food, what is one man's meat is another's poison. While it is difficult to imagine Shakespeare polishing off a sonnet to the accompaniment of fragrant smoke clouds, it is easy to visualize lesser men coaxing stubborn Parnassus with a lusty, trusty pipe, or coming suddenly out of a tobacco revery to plunge at pencil and paper with a flash of inspiration.

THE GOOD ROADS SMOKER.

The "smoker" held last night by the Automobile Club of Georgia is prophetic of still further organized effort in behalf of good roads in Georgia.

Representative citizens from all over Georgia were in attendance.

The theme of the addresses was the commercial and economic value of good roads and how co-operation might best facilitate the movement.

A significant feature of the meeting was the tentative plan to interest farmers and their societies in organized good roads crusades.

For every automobilist who benefits from a smooth stretch of highway, twenty or thirty farmers reap dividends the year round.

The motive back of the growing demand for good roads is, after all, an economic one.

HURTFUL PARTISANSHIP.

The claims of Senator Borah to the effect that we are "in Mexico to stay," and that we are likely to "carry the flag as far south as Panama," are unjustified and full of mischief.

Borah uttered these sentiments in the debate over the resolution to appropriate $500,000 for the purpose of caring for refugees from Mexico.

His statements are calculated to give aid and conviction to those critics in Latin-America and Europe who have refused to accept the president's disclaimer of any designs on Latin-American territory. Such charges are particularly inappropriate at a time when the government is bending every effort to conciliate Latin-America, and when the countries comprising that political division are naturally suspicious of the United States.

Playing politics at a time like this is not a patriotic pastime.

The Way to the Woods.
Oh, to leave the city
For the country ranch—
To join the barefoot fellers
Wadin' in the branch!
To run to the river—
The cold swimmin' hole,
Or sit an' watch the noddin'
Of the hickory fishin'-pole!

The woodlands are callin';
"Come—come away!"
The river is singin':
"Live life today!
Why toil forever?
Leave all the strife;
Come where the birds sing—
Shake hands with Life!"

So I leave the city,
Faring far away
To my soul I'm givin'
One more holiday.
Breath of the flowers
Round the country ranch,
Joy of barefoot fellers
Wadin' in the branch!

Would Write War Songs.

The Sweet Singer of The Adams Enterprise writes:

"Do you reckon there'll be any chance to sell a few war songs? Endurin' of the Spanish-American war I sold two, and have at least ten right at my lady's eyes, which I didn't sell, which could be changed to suit the trouble with Mexico. Here is a sample of my style:

"A soldier went onto the war
Thout knowin' what they fit him for;
Said he: 'I hearn my country's call,
An' I will fight until I fall,
Bt I don't get no pay at all.'

"He fit an' fought, until one day
A bullet which was meant to slay,
Come whizzin' through the atmosphere
An' took a part of his left ear.
For war is cruel as kin be,
An' might have took a ear from me."

Of course there are patriots in our midst, but every time there is a call for volunteers to help till the soil there's an exodus to the tall timber. Hope the government will be more successful with them.

The Primrose Path.

The Village Deacon stopped on his way to the postoffice to say to Bert Walker:

"In our community, which is like all towns great or small, the primrose path is a broad, smooth, gayly colored thoroughfare that runs through the center of the village. It is familiar to every man, woman and child in town. Those who trip along that primrose path are always in plain sight. They may keep in the shadow of the trees that line the sides of the path for a short distance, but it is the idea that the throngs on the outside can't see them, but they are only fooling themselves."

All Along the Line With George Fitch

PONCE DE LEON.

Ponce de Leon was a Spaniard who hung around the court as a boy about 450 years ago, went to war now and then and gradually accumulated a substantial pot.

In those days this was regarded as a greater financial success than running a factory or organizing a trust and Ponce de Leon could probably have snatched off a dukedom before he died if he had been content to remain around Madrid. But he was adventurous and when Christopher Colombo, a man of not half his education and influence in court, came rolling home from somewhere west and got a disgusting amount of notice for having discovered a continent or two, Ponce de Leon determined to get into the discovering game himself. He, therefore, got busy and with the help of his friends who all recommended him, he got the appointment as governor of New Spain, and sailed for there in 1509. In 1510 he became governor of Porto Rico, and introduced the halberd, spear and rapier of progress into the Indians with great vigor. He civilized the entire island and thoroughly that it did not recover from the operation until 1898.

By the time Ponce de Leon became governor he was a very great man. But he was not satisfied. The gentle Indians could not fight the Spaniards successfully and even with them by telling stories about strange rich lands to the west, in which they were as adept as modern land agents. They blazed the trail for forthcoming governors. Ponce de Leon was a land which had a miraculous fountain that conferred eternal youth on all who bathed in it. This proved an exciting Ponce de Leon, who knew that when a Spanish courtier became bald-headed and toothless, he was given a pension and accordingly flitted out an expedition, while the Indians washed their whipped backs and smiled contentedly.

Ponce de Leon discovered Florida and wandered all over it. He fought mosquitos, water moccasins, alligators and Indians and bathed religiously in every pool of water which he found. But every morning he felt two years older and when he returned to Porto Rico his subjects took one look at his malaria ruined complexion and wept for joy. He soon became an old man and died from a poisoned arrow in Cuba at the age of sixty-one.

Ponce de Leon was unfortunate in discovering Florida before the Palm Beach hotels and the golf links were installed and also in hunting for perpetual youth in that region instead of in the complexion parlors of New York.

THE HIPPOPOTAMUS.

The hippopotamus is a large portable obstruction to navigation which flourishes in African rivers and is a cause of exciting chat when American streams even when the latter are complicated with racing motor boats.

The hippopotamus is a big cousin of the hog. He weighs a couple of tons and displaces about six feet of water. He lives in the muddy rivers of Africa and spends most of his time wandering blissfully through the rice fields and swamps, feeding as he goes. One native crop hardly makes a full meal for a hippopotamus, and he is very destructive. He is not mentioned with affection in African circles.

The hippopotamus was designed by nature in a frivolous and playful mood and certainly has much to complain about. He is less ornamental than a gargoyle and is very inconvenient to himself in many ways. He is fat and round with large short legs, a small tail, a Harvey-sized hide and an immense humorous face composed mostly of mouth. When the hippopotamus opens his huge mouth to its fullest extent he looks like a red plush sofa with a hinge in the back. Natives have carelessly paddled their canoes into the open mouth of a hippopotamus have found great difficulty in wriggling out from between his large and irregular teeth.

The hippo has small red eyes and a big, wrinkled neck. He is not good for much except to capture and bring to America to be exhibited in the greatest shows on earth. Nothing is more pathetic than to watch a hippopotamus who has been brought up in a mile-wide river, trying to swim himself into an 8 by 10 foot tank which is filled with water in the morning from a hose by a tired circus hand.

The hippopotamus is another example of a badly located blessing. In Africa he is useless, but how useful he would be in the Mississippi river! A few hippopotami and a steamboat could carry three or four hippos, the problem of navigation would be solved. Whenever the steamer encountered a sandbar the hippos would be driven into both. This would raise the water enough to float the steamer over the bar after which the noble beasts could be hauled off. Only a few hippos along the Mississippi would save hundreds of millions in rivers and harbor appropriations.

EUGENICS.

It takes a brave man to talk about Eugenics and a courageous one to listen.

Eugenics is the science of producing better babies. Two different methods are being followed in this country. One crowd brings up children scientifically and the other brings up parents. One crowd takes the babies after they are born and perfects them according to the best modern knowledge. The other crowd takes the prospective parents and puts them through a stock judging class. If they stand up well they are allowed to marry. If not, they are only allowed to live and this is regarded as somewhat of a concession.

The latest is the real Eugenics system, the former being only the old-fashioned job of bringing up children. The Eugenists have the greatest faith in heredity. They believe that the fittest will survive and that to meet the latter goes to the mat for the count in the first round. They believe that by allowing only perfect men and women to marry, only perfect babies will arrive thereafter and that we will in time become a race of physical gods and goddesses immune to whickenpox and appendicitis, and able to run thirty miles an hour while chasing a street car.

Some states have already begun the process of perfecting their citizens by demanding physical examinations before issuing marriage certificates. But the real third degree Eugenists go farther than that. If they have their way, the thin, puny poet, and statesman will be given the coarse guffaw when he asks for permission to wed the woman who catches cold easily in the winter and hasn't a single Venus de Milo measurement will be sent off to the Old Maids' home at the age of eighteen.

Eugenics, if made mandatory, would produce splendid Americans. Unfortunately if put into effect at the present time about the only men who would generally be eligible to marry would be prize fighters who are ravishingly beautiful to look at. Still, the statesmen, inventors and scholars of the country might work up to the measurements some day if they feel deeply enough in love with some specimen of perfect health.

Tobacco for Hiccoughs.

(From The London Globe.)

M. a Russian medical journal, Dr. G. Tatevosoff draws attention to the excellent service which may be obtained from the ordinary snuff tobacco as a means for curing short hiccough. He relates an instructive case of a patient with some chronic chest disease, accompanied by violent cough attacks, in whom the latter used to be followed by extremely obstinate hiccough.

The common remedies (including cocaine) failing to exercise any controlling influence on the most distressing symptom, Dr. Tatevosoff at last decided to give a trial to the said old-fashioned popular means, making the patient on each occasion thoroughly snuff into his nose a pinchful of the powder until the appearance of lively sneezing. From the first treatment the effect was truly brilliant, the hiccough subsiding as if by magic.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

JUDGE NAT E. HARRIS IN RACE; ALL EYES NOW ON THOMAS

With the definite announcement of Judge Nat E. Harris, all eyes are now turned on south Georgia in anticipation of the probable action of Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, who has been prominently mentioned as a gubernatorial candidate for the past two weeks.

The Macon Telegraph of Friday morning is authority for the statement that Judge Harris has definitely decided to make the race and it is generally understood that his formal announcement will be forthcoming in a day or two. He has written several friends in Atlanta, practically assuring them that he would run.

Little is known of Judge Thomas' intentions. When he was in Atlanta last week he stated that he had every desire to make the race, but that he would not jump into the contest without mature deliberation. He stated that he wanted to look over the situation carefully before announcing his plans, but that figure the announcement of Judge Harris will cut in the plans of Judge Thomas remains to be seen.

Still another interesting factor is W. H. Burwell, of Hascock, speaker of the house. Mr. Burwell has had the matter under consideration for some two weeks or more and he is also a likely gubernatorial timber. Should Judge Thomas decline to make the race, it seems assured that Mr. Burwell's announcement will be promptly forthcoming.

W. J. Harris, director of the census, will make the race, his friends say, and his formal announcement may come early next week.

With J. Randolph Anderson and Dr. L. G. Hardman openly running, and Nat E. Harris, W. H. Burwell, Judge W. E. Thomas and W. J. Harris practically assured, it looks like the field is going to be the largest in the history of Georgia politics.

FULLBRIGHT TO MAKE THE RACE FOR SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Henry J. Fullbright, of Burke, member of the house and candidate for re-election, was in Atlanta on Friday in attendance on the meeting of the Western and Atlantic commission. Mr. Fullbright announced that he would make the race for speaker of the house at the next session of the legislature, provided he was returned and things shaped up properly.

WANTS PARDON SO HE CAN FIGHT; OFFERS TO GO TO FRONT IN MEXICO

Governor Slaton receives many unique communications during the day's work, but here is one that stands out from the rest with a touch of pathos:

"Forsyth, Ga., April 22.

"Honorable Governor John M. Slaton—Dear Sir: I write you in regard about Bell, Holder and Charters. I will grant me a pardon or parole on the following conditions: that I enlist in the regular army for four years and go to Mexico and fight or any other country. I have been serving going on three years in the chaingang and my sentence was eighteen years for manslaughter. I was connected with the killing of a negro in Spalding county. My confinement has worked a great hardship on my wife and eight children. I know the pay in the army is small, but a little would help them. Hoping you will grant me a parole and give me a chance to help my family, I beg to remain.

"Respectfully yours,
"T. A. MCCULLOUGH."

FULLBRIGHT TO CHAMPION ANTI-PISTOL TOTING BILL

Hon. H. J. Fullbright, representative from Burke county, who was in the city yesterday, conferred with William J. Lorenstein, chairman of the public safety committee, in regard to the passage of the bill during the next session of the legislature, regulating the sale of pistols and pistol cartridges in which Mr. Fullbright has been considerably interested.

It was suggested that the public safety committee engage actively in co-operating with the different members of the general assembly by submitting a copy of the bill, which is considered to be both practicable as well as constitutional, and at the same time reasonable.

Mr. Fullbright is one of the strong men in the legislature, and Chairman Lorenstein feels as though the bill is entrusted in the proper hands.

COUNTY OFFICERS ARE NAMED IN CAMPBELL COUNTY PRIMARY

Fairburn, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Campbell county democratic primary today, with two districts yet to hear from, resulted as follows: J. H. McClure, clerk superior court; G. E. Jenkins, sheriff; Warren Watkins, tax receiver; C. J. Short, tax collector; J. W. Steed, surveyor; Emanuel Hataway, treasurer; J. A. Henderson, coroner.

CANDIDATES AS PLENTIFUL FOR COWETA COUNTY OFFICES

Senoia, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Coweta primary comes off May 2. There are 2,800 registered voters and candidates are plentiful.

The race for the late Senator Bacon's place in the state election will be considerably in favor of Governor Slaton. As yet very little interest is manifested in the other state offices, all considering it too early in the game to give it much thought.

DR. HARDMAN LAYING PLANS FOR A STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN

Commerce, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Dr. L. G. Hardman's campaign for governor is taking active and definite form. The tentative plans for an active campaign that will cover every nook and corner of the state are being formulated. A corps of stenographers is at work day and night answering letters and telegrams.

Mr. Hardman will speak speeches in several places in the state within the last ten days, but these dates were all made prior to his formal announcement. With the beginning of next week, he will get into the canvass in earnest. It can be safely stated that from now until the day of the primary he will neither eat nor sleep any that he can allow any grass to grow under his feet.

An enthusiastic Hardman club has been organized here, the committees covering the various phases of the work of the campaign. Hardman clubs are being organized in all the adjoining counties.

HOLDER AND BELL TO FIGHT IT OUT FOR CONGRESS IN NINTH DISTRICT

Commerce, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The probabilities are that there will be only two candidates for congress from the ninth congressional district. Hon. Thomas M. Bell, incumbent, will be opposed by Hon. John N. Holder, of Jefferson, ex-speaker of the house of representatives.

Two years ago there were three candidates—Bell, Holder and Charters. In that contest Mr. Bell received 11,400 votes, Holder 9,000 and Charters 5,000. Now that a three-cornered race seems to have been eliminated, the friends of the two gentlemen both claim that the man will win.

Mr. Holder is a good stump speaker, and the same can be said of Mr. Bell. Both are good politicians, but neither has yet made formal announcement. It is expected that Mr. Holder will announce formally within the next ten days. He is now in direct touch with the voters of all the counties comprising the district, and is much encouraged from his reports brought to him through the mails.

PARK MAKING QUIET CANVASS IN RACE FOR STATE TREASURER

Jonesboro, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Lem M. Park, candidate for state treasurer, was in Jonesboro for a few hours on Thursday meeting with old friends and making new ones.

Mr. Park, accompanied by Hon. Ben F. Parry, after leaving Jonesboro, made an automobile trip to Fayetteville, Union City, Fairburn and several other towns.

The Business Situation.

(From The Saturday Evening Post.)

Business in the United States, on the whole, is not so good as it was early last March. Few shrewd observers at that time expected it would be. Steel mills were then running at full capacity—on orders received some months before. They are now running at not much over half their capacity.

Railroads earnings of late have shown some falling off. Bank clearings the country over have been less than they were last year. Building operations show a decline. That there will be some further recession is quite probable.

It is important, however, to remember that this condition is practically world-wide in its scope. The chief cause of it. The cause that by far overshadows all others is the scarcity of fluid capital—the world is simply hard up for cash. This cause determines the condition with which domestic politics had absolutely nothing to do, and England, France and Germany are as hard up for ourselves. Brazil, Canada and India are even more affected by the world-wide money pinch than the United States.

The art of politics consists partly in telling plausible lies. There is always a wordy effort to attribute the business condition of the country—whether good or bad —to political causes, though nine times out of ten politics has nothing to do with it either way. This is one of the times when

LITTLE FELLOWS.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Even the Biggest of men is after all but a Little Fellow. And great and marvelous as is the wonderful Earth, it is but a small and unimportant speck in the worlds. Placed against the greatest, we are all but Little Fellows.

But this fact should all the more impress you with the importance of being Somebody, Somebwhere—in Something.

For the more you think of your littleness, the surer you will be to realize that the more you realise that the vast greatness of this world is but an agency to make you great, then will you surely become great.

Neither your Self-Pity nor your Self Conceit is able to do any good thing for you.

Daily, great heights you must climb, though realizing that you are consciously increasing power and sure and steady footing. Working as a Little Fellow. The World sees you only as a stalking figure, and the biggness of the big Fellow of the world breathes back of what it is—for you.

But forget that you are a Little Fellow. BE Big!

It has not. Nothing that the Wilson administration has yet done has had any marked effect on business either favorable or unfavorable. In all human probability the business situation would have been precisely what it is if Hart or Roosevelt had been elected in November, 1912.

REALTY MEN FAVOR GRADY BOND ISSUE

Committee From Pan-Hellenic of Atlanta Visits Hospital and Says Improvements Badly Needed.

At a special meeting of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association, held at the chamber of commerce building, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the Atlanta Hotel Men's association heartily indorse the movement looking to the issuance of $754,000 bonds for the Grady hospital, and the support of this association, and its members is hereby pledged to said movement."

There was enthusiasm at Grady bond headquarters yesterday when it was learned that the real estate board, after listening to a brief summary of the greater Grady situation by Bird James, had given its unqualified indorsement to the bond issue.

The real estate board is another of those civic organizations which, according to the pessimists, was not in favor of the bonds. A short time ago there were several such organizations. The Fulton County Medical society was against them. Labor was against them. Some members of the board of education, itself, were against them. The Catholics were against them. According to the pessimists—and there never was a much-needed city improvement that didn't breed pessimists faster than a Florida swamp breeds mosquitoes—the bonds for greater Grady didn't have a chance.

All Indorse Issue.

That was a week ago. Then the Fulton County Medical association gave the bonds its indorsement. The resolution to do so was unanimous. A few days passed and the Atlanta Federation of Trades upset the talk about labor being against the bonds by another unanimous indorsement. The members of the hospital board, to a man, registered their belief in the bond issue over their signatures. Thursday night, the Knights of Columbus indorsed it. Friday afternoon, the real estate board indorsed it.

Today the workers for the bonds can look at the records at headquarters with pride, and say there is scarcely a civic organization or faction of any importance whatever which has not put its official seal of approval upon the plans for a greater Grady. As for the supposed opposition, it can't be located.

The real estate board was supposed to object because it feared an increase of taxes. Whether it did nor not, Mr. Adams' talk calculated to dispel any such impression. Anyone acquainted with the greater Grady plans knows that they entail no increase of taxes whatever. The bond issue includes $500,000 for pay wards. The receipts from this ward will be sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and meet them as fast as they mature. Mr. Adams pointed this out to his audience yesterday afternoon, and when the resolution of indorsement came up for vote, there was not a dissenting ballot.

Another remarkable feature of the campaign is the interest which the various women's organizations are taking in it. A special meeting has been called for 10 o'clock Monday morning in the University club by the executive committee of the Pan-Hellenic of Atlanta, a young women's organization composed of 400 representatives of college sororities. It must not be supposed that the young women are going to college now. All of them have graduated. A good many are even married.

Women Examine Hospital.

A special committee of five looked over the hospital Friday afternoon. It consisted of Miss Elizabeth Kempton, Mrs. A. R. Elkins, Miss Elizabeth Hines, Miss Vee Strickland and Miss Hester Hill. The committee, after looking the ground over with Dr. Rumerall, superintendent of the hospital, came out highly indignant. It was particularly exercised over the nurses' quarters—which actually are one of the most wretched features of the hospital.

"It's awful," said Miss Kempton, "for women to have to live in such places. To look at their living quarters, you'd think the nurses at the hospital had committed some crime and were being punished for it, instead of being members of the noblest profession woman can enter."

NEW LOAN ASSOCIATION HAS SOME UNIQUE RULES

A new loan-association, to be known as the Co-operative Investment association, with a capital of $50,000, is being organized by J. A. Patterson and C. L. Boone.

A unique feature of this company's loaning plan is that personal indorsement will not be required of its patrons. In case of the death of a customer, if it should be found that his financial condition is such that payment of his obligation would leave those dependant upon him in destitute circumstances, the association agrees to cancel the obligation.

Another feature is the non assessment of a fine in case of a customer's sickness on the day a payment is due. A department of credit adjustments will be a prominent feature of the new organization.

CAMPBELL ON STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Camilla, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The case of state v. D. C. Campbell, charged with the murder of John Harrel, is still in session in Mitchell superior court. Almost the entire day was spent in examining witnesses for the defense, the feature of the day's session being the statement of the defendant, which was made late this afternoon.

The statement was clear and forceful and about one hour was consumed in its delivery. Immediately after the statement the state called more witnesses in rebuttal.

Court adjourned at 6:30 o'clock and convened again at 8 o'clock for a night session.

The case will probably consume most of tomorrow. The courthouse was packed with spectators today.

Great Opportunity Presented To Obtain Automobiles Free In the $25,000 Gift Contest

The Constitution believes that there are many people who are upon the lookout for an opportunity and who are alert enough to see and grasp it when it appears.

For this reason, a plan is presented in these columns, which affords just the chance these ambitious people want, and to which the benefit to those taking part is only limited by their own ability.

Appropriating over twenty-five thousand dollars to forward the enterprise, The Constitution purposes to distribute that amount in valuable prizes and cash through the medium of a great circulation campaign.

It costs nothing to try for any award.

No Restrictions.

There are no restrictions as to territory or age. Any woman or girl can enter; or any man or boy can enter through some lady relative or friend. This makes the field open to all. Just simply send in your name or that of a relative or friend to the contest department of The Constitution. Where it is possible, a representative of the contest department will immediately call and give full particulars and instructions as to how to proceed. Where this can not be done immediately, return mail will bring direct information from this department.

The management of The Constitution is responsible for this contest and every promise and obligation made by The Constitution will be strictly adhered to, and the management will see to it that every candidate has an equal chance and square deal.

In number and value, the awards offered to the public in this contest makes it well worth the while of any one.

All you have to do is get votes, and votes come free with other old or new subscriptions to The Constitution. You can do this—it is all gain, no loss. Write to the contest department of The Constitution and particulars will be gladly furnished.

Nomination blank can be found on editorial page of this issue. NOW IS THE TIME TO BEGIN. Do not put it off until it is too late.

Summary of Prizes.

	Each.
2 Seven-passenger Oakland Touring Cars	$2,625	$ 5,050
2 Five-passenger Velie Touring Cars	1,560	3,120

2 Ludden & Bates Self-Player Pianos	760	1,760
Total		$25,270

All f. o. b. Atlanta.

All those who do not win one of the above-named valuable prizes will be paid a cash prize at the rate of $10 for every $100 of new subscriptions turned in during the campaign. There will be no blanks or failures for those who turn in $100 or more in new subscriptions.

Need for Greater Hospital Is Urged by Mrs. McCarthy

"Go into the highways and byways' and preach the gospel of the Greater Hospital which we can get through the bond issue," urged Mrs. William McCarthy at the regular meeting of the Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, Thursday afternoon. "I know women are very busy with spring cleaning, with guests expected for opera and for the Shriners' convention to follow, but we must stop everything and look after the hospital which we own in common. It is the property of all citizens, men and women; it is our obligation, our responsibility, and women would be failing in their first calling—to look after the weak and dependent—if they fail to work for the Greater Hospital.

"But besides the appeal to humanity which this hospital movement means, it has its patriotic phases. Atlanta should have the best hospital in the section. She is the greatest city of her section. She has that reputation and she must live up to it.

Information Given.

"If any information is desired on the subject of the bonds it can be obtained from the central committee, of which Dr. W. S. Elkin is chairman, or from Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, who is directing the forces of Atlanta's federated women in their work for the bond issue."

The number of women who have made a survey of the hospital since the campaign for the bonds was initiated has done much to create public sentiment in favor of the movement. Seeing is believing, and the matronly spirit of women has been appealed to, as they inspect the hospital, see the crowded conditions and realize the inadequate facilities. They see the few nurses there are and the squalid place where they must get their only rest and the dark, airless, ventilated place in which they have to eat.

There are not enough nurses to look after the sick, because there is no place for these nurses to sleep. They must have comforts at least to give them the strength and rest that professional nursing requires.

Five Nurses Ill.

Last week five nurses at the Grady hospital were ill from overwork and uncomfortable surroundings.

The Wednesday Afternoon Sewing club at their last meeting indorsed the Greater Hospital movement and the bond issue. The officers are: Mrs. J. H. Waldon, president; Mrs. M. R. Simpson, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Weimer, secretary; members, Mrs. S. W. Dunham, Mrs. N. Cunningham, Mrs. W. H. Fenner, Mrs. H. H. Prescott, Mrs. Gilbert Jansen, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. Laura Ahlen, Miss Weimer.

STRIKERS RETREAT BEFORE TROOPERS

Warring Miners Believed to Be Massed in Black Hills. Imprisoned Company Men Released From Mine.

Trinidad, Colo., April 24.—State troops under command of Adjutant General John Chase tonight advanced toward Ludlow, after occupying Lynn and Aguilar without resistance by the warring strikers. At Aguilar the militiamen released the company men imprisoned in the Empire and Southwestern mines since Wednesday. All the prisoners, including J. W. Siple, president of the Southwestern Fuel company, were said to be unharmed.

The whereabouts of the strikers who suddenly abandoned their plan of resisting the troops at Lynn was not definitely known. It generally was believed, however, that they executed the manuever begun early in the day and massed their forces in the Black hills five miles north of Ludlow.

The bloodless capture of the strikers' capital at Aguilar was effected several hours after a brief skirmish near Bunker Hill, on the way from Walsenburg. This fight was between an advance force of about seventy-mounted militiamen and a party of strikers. After a brisk exchange of shots, with no casualties reported, the strikers retreated. The main body of state troops soon afterwards reached Lynn. No strikers were found there or at Aguilar.

The territory into which state troops penetrated today and which for two days has been controlled by the strikers, extends northwest and southeast for about fifteen miles. At its widest point it is perhaps four miles or more wide. The zone is bounded on the south by Ludlow. On the north is Rouse, where a strongly fortified mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company offered an effective barricade. To the southwest is the Hastings canyon, where Wednesday the strikers were beaten back in a sharp brush with guards and militiamen.

Throughout this district until the arrival of the state troops the martial rule of the strikers was supreme, except at the mines, where besieged defenders held out desperately after the above ground works had been burned. Strike leaders commanded a force estimated as high as 1,000, held absolute sway over that portion of the population which had not fled to the hills

GOVERNOR SLATON THE CHIEF SPEAKER AT DECATUR SMOKER

Governor John M. Slaton was the chief speaker at the second annual smoker of the Decatur Board of Trade Friday night, delivering an address on "Our State Finances." The governor stressed the necessity for a better plan of financing the state, declaring that it was getting farther and farther behind all the time. He also praised the new tax law.

Others on the program were W. J. Dabney, toastmaster; Mayor F. T. Hopkins, who delivered the address of welcome; Hon. George M. Napier, who introduced Governor Slaton; Ivan E. Allen, who spoke of "The Advertising Value of Stone Mountain to This Section;" L. J. Steele, whose subject was "DeKalb County's Educational Needs," and Charles J. McKinney, who told of "Decatur's Reputation in Georgia."

Over 150 were in attendance upon the smoker and much enthusiasm was evidenced during the evening.

COBB COUNTY PLANS FAIR FOR NEXT FALL

John P. Cheney Elected President of the Temporary Organization.

The Cobb County Fair association was organized at a meeting held last night in Marietta by the election of the following officers, who will serve until a charter is granted by the superior court:

President, John P. Cheney; secretary and treasurer, J. T. McNair; trustees, Loring Raoul, Smyrna; J. B. Wing, Roswell; George L. Lemon, Acworth; F. P. Lindley, Powder Springs; James Anderson, W. J. Frey, John R. Fowler and S. C. McEachern, of Marietta.

A splendid location has been secured, it is stated, on the Marietta electric street car route. A fine race track will be built and by next time fall arrives everything will be in readiness for one of the greatest fairs in Georgia's history.

NOMINATION OF NEGRO CONFIRMED BY SENATE

Vote Forced on Terrell as Municipal Judge for District of Columbia.

Washington, April 24.—The nomination of Robert H. Terrell, a negro, as municipal judge for the District of Columbia, was confirmed tonight by the senate.

The nomination had been held up for two months, being vigorously opposed by Senators Vardaman, Smith, of South Carolina, and other southerners. Tonight senators urging confirmation declined to pass Terrell's name on the list of nominations and a vote was forced.

"UNTO GOD"

"Render Unto Caesar the Things Which Are Caesar's; and Unto God the Things That Are God's"
—Matt. 22:21

"Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's."

Amen.

We have nothing of his.

Nineteen hundred years ago Caesar died: today, only a forgotten grave and a niche of infamy in history are his. Let him have them. Disturb him not. But unto God, our living Lord, render that which is His.

They tried to trap the Carpenter into treasonable talk. With fawning flattery slaves of Rome asked, "Shall we pay tribute to Caesar?"

He replied, "Show me the tribute money.—Whose is the image and superscription?"

"Caesar's," they answered.

Clear. Plain. Caesar's money. Marked with Caesar's face and name. Give it to him, but "Unto God the things that are God's."

What says your dollar? What read we? Not Caesar's name but God's. Our nation story is told in that inscription, "In God we trust."

Christ with His cross has led our fathers forth from the tyranny of kings and Caesars into the liberty of children of God. He has trusted us to rule ourselves. Render unto Him that which is His, our whole hearts, our whole lives.

Let us be faithful to our trust.

Beer barrels, whiskey kegs, wine bottles, brothel owners and money bags can never rule over us. We have no king, but God.

Consider our city, our home, Atlanta.

Georgia's capital.

There our representatives gathered. Led of God, moved by the suffering and sorrow of our brothers and sisters caused by the curse of drink, they enacted laws forbidding the sale of liquor within the state.

And yet, because we have failed to render wholly unto God that which is God's—because we have been faithless to our trust, day by day, in every paper we read of women, men and children sacrificed by those whose god is greed. But the end is near. We are waking.

Everywhere brothel owners are on the run.

And today in two-thirds of the area of the United States it is a crime to sell liquor. While even now in the Senate of the United States is pending legislation, urged by such bodies as the Pittsburg Board of Trade, designed to effectually drive this traffic, that fattens upon the ruin of people, from the rest of our country.

IN SUCH AN HOUR, RENDER UNTO GOD THE THINGS THAT ARE GOD'S.

Ask him who wants your vote, "Do you favor driving liquor from these United States? Will you support the bill now pending in Washington? Are you today united with others in mocking the prohibition law and making money by selling liquor through your club? It matters not that the money made is used in purchasing luxuries for you and your associates, are you thus conniving at breaking our law? And, if you so disregard the sacredness of law, should you be in public life?"

Yes, look about you.

ATLANTANS AND GEORGIANS ARE TIRED OF BEING BETRAYED.

We are a law abiding people.

These saloons and liquor selling clubs, maintained by a minority, misrepresent our City and State. Atlantans, Georgians respect law. They abhor falsehood which alone makes possible the existence of a blind tiger.

They hate greed. They despise hypocrisy.

They have intelligence. They see—Beneath brothels ruined girls—Supporting breweries wrecked lives—Paying for drinks the broken hearts of women, the blighted lives of children, murdered men—And blind tigers of the most loathsome kind taking shelter behind refined clubs.

More, people know—None of these evils could exist in city or state without the connivance of members of the Church of God; these will go; for you will obey, not men, but God.

You will heed, not the clamor of politicians and liquor sellers—You will hear the call of conscience.

And you will render unto God the things that are God's.

You will be faithful to your trust.

Dr. Bradley's Lecture.

Dr. Frances Bradley will continue her lecture on the "Adolescent Child" Sunday morning, April 26, at 10:15, at the mothers' class of the First Baptist Sunday school.

Dr. Bradley's lectures are always so helpful and especially so in this one to mothers. All interested are most cordially invited to be present.

For Mrs. Stearns.

Mrs. Dudley Cowles entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on North avenue in compliment to Mrs. Walter Stearns, the guest of Mrs. R. C. Congdon.

Snowballs and snap dragons were effectively used in the rooms. Mrs. Cowles wore yellow crepe with touches of black, and Mrs. Stearns wore a gown of changeable taffeta.

The guests included Mrs. Walter Stearns, Mrs. R. C. Congdon, Mrs. Robert A. Smythe, Mrs. F. Q. O'Neill of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. Thornton Marye, Mrs. Edward C. Peters, Mrs. Cesar Pappenheimer, Mrs. Nash Broyles, Mrs. Roy Harris, Mrs. Henry B. Scott and Mrs. H. V. Cowles.

For Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Bray entertained thirty guests at a dancing party and buffet supper last night at their home on Juniper street in compliment to Mrs. Samuel W. Hassell, of Great Neck, L. I., the guest of Mrs. R. L. Washington, and for Mrs. Alexander Conde Smith of Pittsburg, the guest of Mrs. Ransom Wright.

Mr. Kraft at University Club

The "Opera Talk" of Mr. Edwin Arthur Kraft, city organist of the Atlanta Music Festival association, at the University club Thursday night, illustrated by selections on the piano, was much enjoyed. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lee Crew, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wimbish, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Arthur Kraft, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Connally, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Fincher, Mrs. J. E. McRee, Mrs. Mamie McPhail, Miss Edith Gill of Chattanooga, Miss Jennie Pridgen of New Orleans, Miss Natalie Hammond, Miss Eloise Walker, Miss Sallie Brown, Miss Neal, Miss Frances Woodberry, Miss Rosa Woodberry, Mrs. Shallings, Miss Frances Clarke, Mr. L. Z. Rosser, Mr. E. W. Martin, Mr. G. C. Hillsworth, Mr. T. Camp of Carnesville, Dr. Hugh Lokey, Mr. Frederick Kloepfer, Mr. Hughes Roberts, Mr. Thomas W. Connally, Mr. Carl Collins, Mr. Charles Montgomery, Mr. C. T. Postlethwait, Mr. Young Smith, Mr. G. C. Hayes of Carnesville.

To Pioneer Women.

The members of the Atlanta Woman's Pioneer society are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Logan this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Boynton's Tea.

Mrs. Charles H. Boynton entertained at a pretty tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Piedmont avenue for Mrs. N. H. Grady, of Chattanooga, and Mrs. Harry Jones, of New York, the guests of Miss Martha Boynton; Mrs. Waring Carrington, of Charleston, who is visiting Mrs. Gilham Morrow's guest, and Mrs. R. W. Hunt's guest, Mrs. Lord, of Mississippi. Larkspur, tulips, iris and other spring flowers decorated the apartments.

A large silver loving cup filled with phlox, larkspur and pink and white azaleas was the centerpiece of the daintily appointed tea table. Miss Martha Boynton poured tea, and Miss Mamie Hass presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Boynton's guests included members of the 1908 History class and a few other friends.

Mrs. Porter's Luncheon.

Mrs. Henry Porter's luncheon was a beautiful occasion of yesterday given at her home in compliment to Mrs. Waring Carrington, of Charleston, who is the guest of Mrs. Gilham Morrow for the opera season.

Baskets filled with yellow roses, gardenias and purple stock formed an aristocratic centerpiece for the table. The candle shades were yellow silk and silver filigree, and the place cards were painted in yellow flowers.

Other details were in yellow.

The guests were Mrs. Carrington, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Porter Langston, Mrs. Bates Block, Mrs. Morris Brandon, Mrs. A. J. Bonner, Mrs. Charles Rice of Chattanooga, Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. L. Campbell, Mrs. Charles Boynton and Mrs. Robert Hunt.

Entertains Golfers.

Mr. W. T. Gentry entertained at supper Wednesday evening at the Capital City club in compliment to the newspaper men of Atlanta who had taken part in the golf tournament during the last few weeks.

A happy incident of the occasion was the presentation of the trophy, a silver cup, to the winner, Mr. Tillou Forbes, of the local staff of The Constitution. There were speeches by many, and all proclaimed Mr. Gentry the royal host.

"How It Happened," "The Mistake About Handicaps" and "Trouble About the Ground" were topics discussed, and the marvel is when one hears all about this newspaper golf contest how individuals, how it happened that there were not a dozen or more winners of the golf cup rather than one.

Piano Recital.

The pupils of Miss Eda Bartholomew will give a piano recital tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Washington seminary. The public is invited.

For Mr. Frank Rogers.

The Atlanta alumni of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity will entertain Mr. Frank Rogers, of New York city, at dinner at the Ansley hotel Saturday evening at 6 o'clock with a box party at the Forsyth following the dinner.

Mr. Rogers is editor of The Rainbow Magazine, which is the official organ of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and he is touring the United States, visiting both the active and alumni chapters of the fraternity mentioned. He will leave for Athens Sunday morning.

All Deltas are cordially invited to attend the dinner given in honor of Mr. Rogers.

Calendar Tea.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was a calendar tea, Wednesday, given by Mrs. George P. Moore and her committee of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church. The tea was given at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Cone, on the Boulevard.

Those who took part were Miss Marguerita Carter, Mrs. B. Blackburn, Miss Genevieve Voorhees, Miss Ruth McMillan, Mrs. W. H. Wallace, Miss Ruth Rodgers and Miss Varna Ruth Harris.

Crosses of Honor.

Crosses of honor are to be delivered by the Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, on Sunday afternoon, April 26, at 3:30 o'clock at the state capitol (entrance at the Hunter street doors only). Colonel Walter P. Andrews will address the veterans and the crosses will be presented by Mrs. Mrs. William McCarthy, president of the chapter. A musical program has been arranged and all veterans and their friends are invited to be present.

The following will receive crosses, and if they cannot be present, will please have some one there to receive the cross for them:

Dr. G. Castlen, Colonel James M. Fielder (deceased) for James W. Fielder, Jr.; W. D. Harris, S. M. Hendow, J. G. Hightower, J. J. Jones, M. L. Lammon, Charles L. Lewis, H. L. McConnell, Mr. Suddeth and Charles Wallace (deceased) for son, Charles A. Wallace.

Memorial Society.

The members of the Ladies' Memorial association will meet at Oakland cemetery on Saturday morning at 5 o'clock to make garlands and wreaths for Memorial day. The Daughters of the Confederacy, Children of the Confederacy and all interested in this patriotic work are invited to assist.

MRS. W. L. ELLIS, President.

Mrs. Ebney Entertains.

Mrs. Edward Ebney will entertain at a luncheon at her home on May 5 in honor of Mrs. Stanley Herbert Dent.

For Miss Adgate Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haskell Rhett will entertain at the dinner-dance next Thursday at the Capital City club in compliment to Miss Adgate Ellis and her guest, Miss Henriette Yerger, of Mississippi.

Dinner Party.

Mrs. M. P. Coolidge will entertain at dinner Sunday evening at the Georgian Terrace for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peeples.

Mrs. Crass to Entertain.

Mrs. J. T. Crass will entertain ten guests at dinner Sunday evening at the Georgian Terrace and she will entertain at tea Wednesday afternoon at the Driving club, the guests to include a number of out-of-town guests who are here for opera.

Turner-Allensworth.

Judge and Mrs. Paul Turner announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. Turner Allensworth, of Atlanta, Tuesday, April 21, at 6 o'clock. At home, McDonough, Ga.

Kamper Leaves on Trip To Make Arrangements For New Pure Food Store

C. J. Kamper, of the C. J. Kamper Grocery company, has gone to Cincinnati and other northern points on a several days' trip in connection with the fitting and furnishing of the new Kamper Pure Food Department store.

Mr. Kamper will be away several days selecting various fixtures and fittings that are needed for the new store. The machinery for the new 16-ton ice plant which will be put up in the new store, arrived yesterday and will be installed at once.

It is expected that the new store will be ready for opening some time the latter part of June or by the first of July, and when completed, it will be one of the finest grocery stores to be found anywhere in the country.

DR. YEISLEY PREACHES AT RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

The Railroad Young Men's Christian association invites all railroad men and their friends to hear Rev. C. J. Yeisley, pastor of Egleston Memorial Methodist church, in the rooms, 31½ West Alabama street, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Yeisley has only recently come to Atlanta, but in this short while has made a most favorable impression.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS WILL HOLD SERVICES SUNDAY

The members of Atlanta and Coeur de Lion commanderies, Knights Templars, will be guests at the regular church service at the First Universalist church, 18 East Harris street, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The occasion will be the annual Knights Templars' Easter service. The pastor of the church, Rev. Fred A. Line, will address the sir knights on the subject, "Marching With Christ." There will be special music. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

DR. DURHAM TO PREACH AT THE SECOND BAPTIST

A part of the great meeting at St. Paul's Methodist church will be transferred to the Second Baptist church next Sunday, when Dr. Plato Durham, who has been attracting and greatly moving the people of the south side, will occupy the pulpit of Dr. John E. White, the two preachers are North Carolinians, who were formerly identified in religious and educational work in that state. An invitation is extended by the Second Baptist church to its services Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

G. M. A. COMMENCEMENT CLASS ORATORS CHOSEN

In the preliminary contest held in the school chapel of the Georgia Military academy, the following cadets were selected to represent their various classes: Karl Bock, of Aiken, S. C., was selected to represent the freshman class; K. L. Scott, of Atlanta, with W. C. King, of Headland, Ala., to represent the sophomore class; W. S. Taylor, of St. Louis, and J. C. Blocker, of St. Petersburg, Fla., are chosen from the junior class; Donald McCall Davis, of Quitman, Ga.; Bartolo Rodrigues, of Tampico, Mexico, and C. C. McCall were the successful speakers from the senior class. From the post-graduates, Camden Craft Coburn was selected. The valedictorian is Bartolo Rodriguez, whose average for four years is 88 per cent.

The commencement exercises will be held Friday, May 29.

MARION JACKSON SPEAKS AT TABERNACLE SUNDAY

The members of the East Side Tabernacle congregation are anticipating an interesting occasion Sunday night when Marion Jackson, Men and Religion Forward Movement leader, is scheduled to make the principal address.

The East Side Tabernacle pastor, A. C. Shuler, will preside at the meeting, and besides Mr. Jackson's address, there will be special music and short addresses by other speakers.

LIVE STOCK DISEASES CAUSE $150,000,000 LOSS

Washington, April 24.—The enormous sum of $150,000,000 was the aggregate loss sustained by the United States in meat animals as the results of diseases and exposure in 1913, according to estimates announced by the department of agriculture today. Losses from disease of cattle, hogs and sheep was about. $122,000,000, losses from exposure of cattle and sheep about $28,000,000. The loss in meat, it is declared, would have been more than sufficient to furnish a normal year's supply of meat to the entire population of the New England states.

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

By One Who, From Her Past Experience, Is Capable of Giving Sound Advice.

Bud, Ky.—"I want to urge all weak women," says Mrs. Lizzie R. Parker, of this place, "to give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a fair trial, for I believe it will do for them what it has done for me.

I was a sufferer for 13 years, with such pains I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet. I had headache, dizziness and fainting spells.

After many treatments failed to help me, my husband persuaded me to give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial, and I did so. Now I feel like a new woman. I am well of all these troubles, and can do all my housework, with pleasure.

When I commenced taking Cardui, I was not able to sit up. Now I am enjoying good health and do all of my work.

I shall keep Cardui in my home all the time. There is not any medicine that equals it for women."

We, also, urge you to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It has helped so many thousands of women in the past half century that we feel sure it will help you, too.

Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the remedy for you to use. It can do you nothing but good.

Try it.

Just One Question: Do You Want an Auto?

Do you want an automobile?

Do you want a piano-player?

Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.

The only requirement is to show a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for The Constitution.

It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.

Especially with the Mexican war on, they are after a paper that gives an accurate twenty-four hour news summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.

Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash prize.

CONDITIONS POINT TO FAIR WEATHER AND MUCH WARMER

Following is the Atlanta weather forecast for Saturday:

The western storm has advanced so far to the east that the conditions are now not so favorable for rain at Atlanta. Although it will be more or less cloudy, sometimes threatening, there will probably be no rain. The winds will be light southerly and the weather will become much warmer, the midday temperature running up to 80 degrees or 85 degrees. Up to date the temperature for April at Atlanta, has averaged 4 degrees above the normal; and the rainfall shows a slight excess of 0.17 inch.

LAW SCHOOL SOCIETY HOLDS BANQUET TONIGHT

Franklin S. Chalmers, "The Literary Society;" J. Walter LeCraw, "Lawyers and the Press;" A. A. Dunnmark, "Socialism;" R. C. Therrell, "Wine, Woman and Song;" Allen G. Lesly, "At the Bar;" J. S. Highsmith, "Good Fellowship;" Samuel E. Johnstone, "The Senior and Junior Classes," and B. B. Patterson, "What the Literary Society Is to the Law School."

ROUSING RALLY HELD FOR CAPTAIN MAYO

An enthusiastic meeting of the supporters of Police Captain W. W. Mayo, candidate for sheriff, was held last night at 26 Stovall street, Faith's Crossing.

Speeches were delivered by Captain Mayo, Colonel G. H. Cornwell, J. W. Whittaker, Judge O. B. Langford and Roy Dorsey. Captain Mayo pointed out numerous reforms he pledged to institute in the office of sheriff, while on the other hand, the remaining speakers attacked candidates who are opposing the police official.

More than 250 persons were present. Round after round of cheers were raised Captain Mayo. Each of the speakers expressed great confidence in victory at the coming election.

PREMIER HEADQUARTERS MECCA FOR MOTOR MEN

Hundreds of Atlanta's automobile owners and lovers visited the Premier headquarters, at 550 Peachtree street, Friday to get the first glimpse of the new Premier-Weidely which was placed on exhibition in particular for the Premier dealers of the southern states, who are in convention, and in general for the public.

The principal feature of the new car is the Weidely motor, which does away with about 50 parts of the motor used in the past, and which is said to be capable of development of much more power than the old motor.

The exhibition is in charge of J. E. Lovi, southern district manager of the Premier company. The motor will be on exhibit today also.

There are about forty or fifty dealers from all parts of the south assembled in the city. R. G. Smith, president of the Premier Motor Manufacturing company, of Indianapolis, is also here for the meeting, and will speak at a banquet which will be given by District Manager Levi to the dealers at the Ansley hotel Saturday night.

EDUCATORS DISCUSS SCHOOL BOOK SYSTEM

Probable That Wardlaw Will Be New President of Association.

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The discussion of the schoolbook question occupied the greater portion of the time of the Georgia Educational association today. C. R. McCrory, father of the plan to have the state publish its own textbooks for the schools, arguing in favor of the plan, while two of the best known county school superintendents in the state, Lawton B. Evans, of Augusta, and Otis Ashmore, of Savannah, opposed it.

Mr. McCrory charged that a "trust" controls the schoolbook supply and he called on the people of Georgia to shake off the shackles of the "schoolbook crowd."

"Georgia," he said, "is a juicy lemon for the schoolbook publishers."

He said that the state of Georgia could publish its own books at a cost of 4 cents, where it now pays 16 cents. His plan is to have the state do the printing and select the books from those submitted by Georgia authorities.

Otis Ashmore, in taking issue with Mr. McCrory, said he considered the educational value of the books more important than the cost.

"To buy the plates would cost $125,000 and to set up a printing office would cost $200,000 more," said Mr. Ashmore. "Why not let the regular book publishers bear this expense and let us select our textbooks from the world-at-large, so that we will be sure to get the best."

Resolutions Submitted.

Mr. Ashmore submitted a resolution placing the association on record as opposed to the McCrory system and to branding it as an unwise policy and a dangerous experiment to the state. The resolution further requests the legislature not to adopt measures that may seriously involve the state in the doubtful enterprise of editing and publishing textbooks for the public schools.

Another resolution was introduced by J. T. Harris, of Rome, which allows the matter to rest just as at present, but urging the association to bear in mind the future, "when all textbooks will be furnished free by the state to every child attending the schools of Georgia."

Both resolutions will be reported on tomorrow morning.

The convention will close tomorrow at noon, following the consideration of the report of the resolutions committee and the election of officers. It is probable that Professor J. C. Ward, of the State Normal college at Athens, will be elected president, succeeding T. G. Duhill, of LaGrange, and the indications are that Macon will be made the permanent headquarters of the association.

A movement will be started tomorrow to have a state school for the deaf established in south Georgia. Tonight Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and Dr. J. L. Phillips, of Birmingham, were the speakers.

The afternoon the delegates witnessed a playground festival and were guests at a barbecue at the Cable, an "at home" at Mercer university and a picnic-supper at Wesleyan college.

BIBLE PLAY TO OPEN AT ATLANTA ON SUNDAY

The much-talked-of photo-drama of "Creation" is to be given to the Atlanta public at the Atlanta theater, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and continuing twice daily at 3 and 8 p. m. until May 24. The production is being financed by the international Bible Students' association. It is composed of more than 500 stereopticon slides and twelve reels of films, consuming nearly eight hours in the production. It is shown in four parts of about two hours each, and is said to be educational, historical and biblical. There is no admission charge.

SAVES HER BABY BY HURLING IT 25 FEET

Warren, Pa., April 24.—Mrs. W. O. Kney saved her infant from possible death or injury by a runaway team today, by tossing it from the sidewalk, where she stood, to a lawn twenty-five feet away. She recovered it after narrowly escaping being run over.

Mrs. Anna Wickstrom, aged 56, who was talking to Mrs. Kney, was caught by the flying wreckage and dragged some distance, receiving fatal injuries.

EXCITED BY A RUNAWAY SHE FORGOT HER $200

Wolford, N. D., April 24.—When Mrs. J. Knowlton was thrown from a carriage in a runaway she became so excited that she forgot all about her handbag, containing $200, and it was not till two days later, when A. J. Lowe, of this city, returned the bag to her, that she was aware of her loss.

MEASURES TO DETECT INCOME TAX DODGERS

Washington, April 24.—Measures to detect income tax dodgers have been initiated by Commissioner Osborn of the internal revenue office. He called on all corporations and joint stock companies for lists of their stockholders with the amount of dividend received by each during the period of 1913, covered by income tax law, and for the names of all officials or employees receiving salaries high enough to bring them within the operation of the law. These reports will be used in checking up returns.

W. & A. COMMISSION FAILS OF A QUORUM

Owing to the fact that no quorum was present the members of the W. & A. commission transacted no business at their meeting at the capitol Friday. Those present were Chairman Gunby Jordan, of Columbus; Secretary Barry Wright, of Rome; Henry J. Fulbright, of Buena; A. B Green, of Houston and Senator M. C. Tarver, of the forty-third district.

SUNDAY MOTOR RACING BARRED BY THE CHIEF

When Noon Hudson, a local motor racing promoter, requested permission of Chief Beavers Friday morning to hold motorcycle races at the local speedway on Sunday week, the chief of police replied that as far as he was concerned it would be "impossible."

Chief Beavers, however, suggested that he might take the matter up with the mayor and general council.

I. W. W. MOB ATTACKS SALVATION ARMY BAND

Seattle, Wash., April 24.—Several Industrial Workers of the World street speakers and their followers, objecting to the notes made by a Salvation Army band, which was playing in the street last night, attacked the Salvationists, who retreated to their barracks, where police reserves were summoned to protect the religious workers, many of whom were women.

Detectives near the scene, when the trouble started, held the attacking party at bay with drawn revolvers until the reserves arrived from police headquarters. During the retreat of the Salvation Army many stones and clubs were hurled, but no one was seriously hurt.

Damaged Goods Teaches Lesson In a Dramatic Fashion

By Sidney Ormond.

A rather small, but discriminating audience placed its enthusiastic stamp of approval on "Damaged Goods," the celebrated play by Brieux, at the Atlanta theater last night. It was an audience composed of persons who, for the most part, had either read the play or were acquainted with the theme through criticisms of it. They knew just what they were to expect and they did not attend last night's performance under any misconception of the meaning of the term "damaged goods."

At the outset, for the benefit of those who have not seen "Damaged Goods," but who intend to see it, let it be known that it is not an immoral play, not a play with a single suggestive line or salacious allusion. If you go to see "Damaged Goods" with any such idea in mind, you will be disappointed.

On the other hand, if you are sufficiently interested in the subject of communicable disease to listen to a free and frank exposition of its evils; if you are not one of the many who hide their heads ostrich-like in the effort to dodge disagreeable facts, you will find "Damaged Goods" a play of absorbing interest. It, perchance, you are ignorant of the horrors of the disease of which the play treats, you will receive a lesson more valuable than any amount of reading.

Just what proportion of last night's audience was ignorant of the nature of syphilis and the human misery it entails from generation to generation, it would be difficult to say. Certain it is, however, that the play carried the audience along with breathless interest—an interest which was not morbid or unhealthy.

In the lobbies between acts, where men about town gathered to smoke and talk, there was a noticeable lack of flippancy. Men, knowing the risks they had run in their own lives—and according to Brieux, there are only four men in a thousand who have not run this risk—talked soberly.

The lesson of the play had been driven home with sledge-hammer blows. Men and women had been brought face to face with the Awful Thing which all know about, but refuse to discuss.

The moral of the play is simply this—that no man who has run the risk has any right to refer to syphilis as a "shameful" disease; that he is no better than the man who has been so unfortunate as to contract it.

The story deals with a young man who has contracted the disease in spite of the fact that he had led a clean life, as the lives of men go. Despite the warning of his physician he marries six months afterward and his child is infected with the disease. His father-in-law at first thinks of killing him; then of securing a divorce for his daughter. But the physician points out to him the disgrace of such proceedings. He shows him by his own admission that he himself is really to blame for allowing his daughter to wed a man without inquiry into his health. He forces from the outraged father the fact that he is not guiltless of illicit love.

In the third act, by the introduction of a pitiful creature in the advanced stages of the disease, and a painted street walker, the physician further illustrates the beginning and the end of the disease—not the end, either, but one of its many horrible phases.

The play is admirably acted. Mr. Howard Hall, as the Doctor, was particularly virile and convincing. Raymond Bond, as the young husband, was exceptionally good.

There will be a matinee this afternoon and the concluding performance tonight.

Seeds, Plants Bulbs and Fertilizers

The one place in Atlanta to buy anything you may need in seeds, plants, bulbs and fertilizers is Hastings'—at present at 16 West Mitchell St.

The name of Hastings, as applied to seeds, etc., spells reliability, not only on paper in these columns, but in every garden and on every farm where they are planted.

You Can't Afford Not to Be Particular

when it comes to seed, plant and bulb buying. A wrong step now, a little carelessness as to the source of supply, often means a failure or partial failure in your gardening operations for the entire season. This is an absolute, indisputable fact that any gardener who has been "stung" in the past can testify to from experience. It will pay you to be particular.

Vegetable Plants

Tomatoes, grown from Hastings' Seeds. Redfield Beauty, Matchless, Acme, Dwarf Champion and Ponderosa—20 cents dozen.

Peppers, both sweet and hot varieties.

Eggplant, the large purple variety.

Both pepper and eggplant—25 cents dozen.

GRUELLING ELEVEN-INNING TIE

ALABAMA SWAMPS YELLOW JACKETS

Hammer Two Tech Twirlers to All Corners of the Lot—Play Double-Header Today.

By Michael Cody, Jr.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., April 24.—(Special.) Alabama overwhelmed Georgia Tech here today in an avalanche of runs and hits and stolen bases. The visitors used two pitchers in a vain attempt to stem the tide, but the Crimson lads were smarting under the defeat early handed them by Georgia, and fell on both without mercy.

This result may be said for the Tech pitchers, however, errors by their teammates aided very materially in piling up the score.

The visitors started off with a rush. In the first inning, after Wooten had filed out to left, T. Montague hit one to deep right center and scored on Johnson's single to left.

Alabama came back strong in her half. Wells walked, and Crawford hit one to right for three bases, scoring both runners.

Tech blew up in the third. Joplin hit to second and, on an error, was safe. Wells hit to third, who fumbled, and both men were safe. Cargyle flied to right, who muffed the fly and everybody was safe. Sewell laid out a clean single through the infield, scoring Joplin and Wells. Crawford hit a ball in front of the plate which bounded up and hit him and he was out. Hagan hit one to left for one base and Cargyle scored. Hamilton hit to left for two bases, scoring Hagan. Ladd hit to first, who tried to catch Hamilton at the plate, but both men were safe.

Alabama scored again in the fifth on a three-bagger by Stevenson, walk by Wells, an error by catcher and a clean hit by Sewell.

Tech scored in the ninth on a three-bagger by Johnson and a single by Pound. A double-header is scheduled for tomorrow. Smith and Hogue will probably work for Alabama.

Lookouts and Crackers In Gruelling Tie Game; Tommy Long Gets Spiked

By W. G. Foster.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 24.—(Special.)—Darkness ended another gruelling battle between the Crackers and Lookouts in the eleventh today with the score tied at 3 and 3.

Both teams left the field with a feeling that they should have won. Atlanta had the greater number of opportunities to score, having thirteen men left on bases, but Chattanooga's chances were the most promising, especially in the ninth, when the locals perched on second and third with none out.

The contest abounded with brilliant fielding, critical situations and excitement of every baseball variety. The Atlanta infield saved the game behind Rube Kissinger, while the Chattanooga infield persevered in every pinch for both of Atlanta's runs. On the other hand, two catches in the outfield by Jacobsen averted at least two if not three Atlanta tallies.

Long Badly Spiked.

The game may cost the Crackers the services of Tommy Long for several days. Long was spiked on the hand sliding to second in the third inning, and the wound became so painful that he left the game in the fifth. The spikes cut the ugly gash in the player's right hand and tore two nails completely off. Kircher succeeded Long and helped the cause with a pinch hit.

McConnell's brilliant playing at second base featured the play for the Crackers. He killed a hit for Graham, in the third with a great stop, a double by Johnson and Coyle's pinch single followed, showing that the stop saved the game. Most of the second-sacker's ten chances were difficult, tieing the coveted score of territory.

Manager Smith made a shift in his batting order, sending Holland to third in place of Lynch, and batting him second, moving Jennings to fifth and dropping Flanagan below the catcher. Reynolds' catching was good, all the steals off his delivery being on perfect throws, the tag and the umpire's eyes going wrong.

McConnell opened the game with a triple and scored on Flick's wild throw of Welchonce's grounder.

The locals threatened in the second when a pretty play by Holland led to a double. McCormick was passed. Balenti tore Kissinger's hand with a drive which forced Jacobsen to the corner of third. Holland scooped the ball in with a twinkling, passed it to first ahead of Balenti. McCormick tried to Ty Cobb to third and Elbel cut him down.

The first local run was made on Johnson's double and Coyle's single. Flanagan's throw to the plate was poor.

Jacobsen's Catches.

Jacobsen was the hero of the day for the locals. He put them ahead with a homer in the fourth over the fence. In the ninth, following Coyle's Graff's poor throw, Welchonce singled and Kircher scored Holland with a hit. Jennings forced Kircher and stole. Elbel hit a scorching drive to left center, apparently a sure three-base hit, but Jacobsen made a grand stand running catch, spoiling two runs at least.

The Crackers were continually on the bases, after the fifth, but could not squeeze any further than third. Kissinger made two manful efforts to win his game. In the ninth, he made a pretty single, fine line drive right over second for a double play. In the tenth, Holland, who had reached third on infield outs, his "Rubelets" uncorked a drive over the pitcher's domain, but Flick pulled a sensational stop.

The home guard had a big chance in the ninth. Coyle was passed and Elbel's muff on Jake's bunt put two on. With two out, Manager Smith guessed McCormick, who put on the hit and run signal. A low liner by McCormick whiffed at a bad one to protect Coyle and a double steal resulted. Balenti popped Jake and Elbel fanned Flick's next bit. This was the Lookouts' last chance.

The teams play the last game of the series Saturday. Dent and Dana will be the Crackers' battery, and Kissinger and Street for the locals.

The game will be called at 2 o'clock, a half an hour earlier, and will be sent in detail to Caller King's place in Atlanta.

RICHMOND ACADEMY PLAYS RIVERSIDE

Gainesville, Ga., April 24.—(Special.) The Richmond Academy, of Augusta, Ga., will arrive here this morning for a game this afternoon with the Riverside Military Academy.

The Richmond bunch have a good team this year and should play the Riverside boys hard for the game. So far they have played five games and have won three and lost two.

Riverside has been practicing hard since their games with G. M. C. Monday and Tuesday and are in good shape for the game.

KINGERY MAY NOT PLAY FOR GORDON IN CRUCIAL GAMES

Barnesville, Ga., April 24.—(Special.) The Gordon baseball team leaves here Sunday afternoon for Gainesville, where they play Riverside on Monday and Tuesday.

The cancellation by Wake-Forest has been pretty tough, as it seems impossible for us to get any games, the team having to go a week without playing, and that before a hard series like Riverside is a severe blow.

Kingery, the star second baseman, is ill, and the chances are will not be able to get in the games against Riverside. His absence will be keenly felt, as he was the life of the infield, and a dangerous man at the bat and on the bases.

COLLEGE GAMES

Old Miss 10, Sewanee 4.

Sewanee, Tenn., April 24.—(Special.) In a loosely played game 'Old Miss' walloped the Sewanee Tigers for the second time, winning the last game of the series by the score, 10 to 4.

Walker, for Sewanee, was not in good form and the Mississippi boys pounded his delivery hard throughout the game. He received poor support from his teammates, there being no less than nine errors to their credit.

COLUMBIA BOUTS.

Mike Saul Has Booked Three for Tonight.

Mike Saul, ex-prize fighter and referee, has turned promoter and will stage a good bout of fistics at the Columbia theater tonight, starting at 8:30.

Stump Goodwin, who has been fighting around Atlanta for the past two weeks, has been matched with Meyer Price, who is known for ten rounds in the main bout. The winner of this bout will be matched with K. O. Eggers later by Saul.

As an eye-opener, Saul has arranged a battle royal, which will be followed by a six-round encounter between Kid Wonder and Battling Shepard. This bout should prove to be a corker, as both boys are sluggers.

For his semi-windup Saul has secured Battling Kelly and Kid York. These two boys will fight eight rounds, provided one or the other does not slip over the K. O. before that time.

AUBURN WINNER IN FINAL ROUND

Stevens Sprains Ankle and Donahues Romp on Hunt, Who Went in Cold—Play Again Today.

By John L. Westmoreland.

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Auburn won the first game of the series between Mercer and the Alabama boys today. Up until the ninth inning the game was a fine pitchers' battle between Stevens and Davis. In running to cover first at the beginning of the ninth Stevens sprained his ankle and was relieved by Hunt, who had not had time to warm up.

Davis pitched a beautiful game and was well supported by his team mates. A running catch by Harris, in center field, was the feature of the game. McNeill was injured by a foul tip in the ninth and was relieved by Hairston, who received Davis' benders in the s

KING WILL DETAIL GAME AT 3 O'CLOCK

The Final Chattanooga-Atlanta Game Play by Play at 9 Viaduct Place.

The final Chattanooga-Atlanta game at Chattanooga today will be given play by play and ball by ball at the mammoth parlor of Caller King and Dick Jemison, 9 Viaduct place, at 3 o'clock.

The game will be called half an hour earlier to allow the Atlanta team to catch a train for home, which will get them here at 6 o'clock or shortly thereafter.

Good crowds have been attending the details and enjoying them as all fans do who have heard Mr. King in action. It is just like watching the game and just as interesting. The exciting moments are the same as at a regular ball game.

Comfortable chairs, plenty of room, an up-to-date scoreboard, plenty of light—in fact, everything that goes to making the day an enjoyable one will be offered.

The admission fee is 25 cents. Rain checks are issued with each ticket. If it rains before or after the regular innings are played, the tickets will be good at any game during the remainder of the season.

TECH HIGH SWAMPED BY G. M. C. PLAYERS

Taking advantage of the numerous times Tech High players bobbled the ball, and making opportune hits, Georgia Military college defeated Tech High yesterday afternoon at Ponce de Leon by the score of 15 to 8. Tech High made eleven errors during the game, besides pulling a number of bone-head plays.

The game commenced as if it was going to be a desperate pitching duel between Parks and Camp, as neither side sent a runner across the pan in the first three innings, and G. M. C. had only secured one hit off of Parks.

However in the fourth inning, Tech High players proceeded to take an aerial ascension and G. M. C. making five good hits, coupled with four costly errors by Tech High, succeeded in sending eight men across the rubber.

Both sides used two pitchers. Tech High pitched Parks through the fourth inning, when Smith relieved him. While Camp pitched seven innings for G. M. C., and Gheesling twirled the remaining two.

Tech High was away off in their playing and had they not made so many costly bobbles, the game would have undoubtedly been a good deal different.

This game was the first game of a three-game series. The other two games will be played in Milledgeville, on May 24, a double bill being scheduled.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

WILLARD AND RODEL ARE BOTH CONFIDENT

Jesse Willard, the 150-pound heavyweight, who meets George "Boer" Rodel at the Orpheum theater, Tuesday night, declares that he will stop the Australian and South African champion in about seven rounds.

"I know that the Boer will give me a heap of trouble in the early rounds. I have boxed him twice, and I realize that he can travel as fast a light-weight for four or five rounds. But I don't intend to box him like I did in our first affair, when he earned a ten-round decision.

"Instead, I will go in and slug with him, as I did in our second battle. I stopped him in nine rounds when I mixed it with him."

That's Willard's prediction.

Here's what Rodel says:

"They got stiff landed a haymaker, a most lucky one, in our second mill. I had Willard reeling all over the ring like a drunken man when he pulled a right from the floor. I made a mistake of stepping away to avoid it instead of stepping inside of it. As a result of not stepping back quite far enough he clipped me on the chin.

"My plan of battle next Tuesday night is to outpoint Willard for about seven rounds, prime him for the old sleep producer and then shoot over the hardest right on the jaw that was ever landed.

"Promoter Castro has promised to give the Winner Gunboat Smith during the Winners' week. Well, just go place all you've got that I will be the man who will mingle with the champion in May."

Castro has practically arranged his entire card and expects to be able to announce it within the next twenty-four hours.

Tickets go on sale this afternoon at the Tumlin Bros. stores and the Rex. Ringside seats will cost $5, the entire lower floor $3 and the balcony $1.

In New York city the prices for this same bout would range from $3 to $7.50.

CHI PHI MEDICAL FRAT BANQUETS AT WINECOFF

The eighty-six members of the Sigma chapter, Phi Chi medical fraternity of the Atlanta Medical college held their ninth banquet last night at the Winecoff hotel.

Toasts were responded to by J. G. Folmar, Dr. A. R. Main, Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, Dr. C. E. Thrash, Dr. C. W. Strickler, Dr. L. R. Clarke, Dr. J. E. Paulin, Dr. L. M. Gaines, Dr. C. E. Boynton, Dr. E. G. Jones.

Dr. Ferguson acted as toastmaster.

Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, president of the faculty, in speaking of the Atlanta Medical college, said that the school was founded on the requirements that however wealthy it became in profits the entirety of it must be used in teaching medicine.

"This is the only medical college in America," said he, "that without a big endowment has been able to equip its various departments without outside help. The powers that be have had it in for us in making requirements which they themselves did not understand. However, we have met every requirement within six months' time.

BLOOMER GIRLS PLAY ATLANTA FEDS TODAY

"La-d-e-e-s and gentlemen, the battries for today's game will be Misses Cunningham and Castro."

Can you imagine Lou Castro lifting his cap from that near-bald pate of his, raising his voice to a shrill pitch, and yelling to a horde of hilarious fans a song and dance, beginning along the above lines? Not that the count isn't strictly on the job as an umpire, for that he would not prove the real thing as a beau brummel umpire, for anything from a contest in fancy needle work to referee of a tango match, but it certainly will spread terror to hear the count edge in that "Misses" into his spiel.

Well, that's just what he will be expected to do this afternoon at Ponce de Leon park, when he steps out to announce the batteries for the game between the Star Bloomer girls of Indianapolis and the Atlanta Federals. Talk loose and aggregation of amateurs and semi-professionals. It has been practically agreed that Castro will umpire the game, and the warring forces are ready for the charge.

The women players will use Margaret Cunningham, their southpaw hurler, against the local crooks. Pitcher Cunningham has been saved up for this game, and she and her teammates are confident that she is going to bang crepe on Joe Smith's scribe of ball tossers. Furthermore, the visiting athletes firmly believe that they are going to play hob with Golden, the Federal pitcher, when he faces them. They point to the fact that they have played some of the fastest amateur and semi-professional teams in the country, and have won more than thirty of fifty-odd games.

This game will be something different from any baseball shown here this spring, and will doubtless draw a large crowd, curious to see just what the girl players can do. Neither the Crackers nor the Jackets appear here today, and they expect to play to a good crowd of spectators.

AMATEUR LEAGUES OPEN SEASON TODAY

Amateur baseball in Atlanta will get a good start this afternoon, when two of the strongest leagues in the city play their initial game. The two leagues that will play this afternoon are the Sunday School league and the City league.

The Sunday School league this season is operating a double section league, with six teams in each section. The sections of the league are the South and North Sides. The schedule as adopted by this league provides that fifteen games to be played by each team, that is, each of the six teams in each section will play the other five times.

At the end of the season, which will be August 1, post season series will be arranged between the two winners to determine the champion of the league.

The City league has secured six of the fastest teams in Atlanta to play with them this year, and the class of ball that they will put up should be very good. A schedule as adopted by them provides for three rounds of play also. Here are the games scheduled for play today:

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE.

South Side.

S. V. D. v. College Park at Kirkwood.

Holy Innocence v. Park Street at S. W. Piedmont.

Capitol View v. Kirkwood at Piedmont plaza.

North Side.

MRS. MARY R. LOGAN DIED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Mary Redding Logan, 83 years old, one of Atlanta's best beloved women and a pioneer of the city, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 423 Peachtree street.

The funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist church, the services being conducted by Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor, and by Dr. A. M. Hughlett, of St. Mark's church. Until 10 o'clock this morning the body will be at the undertaking establishment of Barclay & Braudon. At that hour it will be removed to the home of a son, Frank Logan, 196 Juniper street.

Mrs. Logan was the daughter of the late Colonel Anderson W. Redding, of Harris county, who was one of Georgia's best known men and a leader in the affairs of his section. She married James L. Logan, who after the war was a successful Atlanta business man.

For many years after her marriage Mrs. Logan was prominent socially in Atlanta. She was a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy and of the Pioneer society. For forty years she had been a member of the First Methodist church and for nearly forty-seven years she had been living in Atlanta.

She is survived by two sons, Frank R. and James L. Logan; one brother, Colonel R. J. Redding, of Griffin, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Shap, of Texas.

WOMEN FILE SUITS CHARGING COERCION

Sensational Allegations Involving State Mutual Officials and Judge Maddox Made in Suits.

Rome, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Sensational allegations are contained in suits filed in Floyd superior court tonight by Mrs. Lula Curry Porter against the State Mutual Life Insurance company and D. W. Curry, and also in suits against the State Mutual Life Insurance company and Walter S. Griffin, of Greenville, S. C., by Mrs. Belle Vernon Porter.

Mrs. Lula Curry Porter is the wife of Charles R. Porter, former president of the State Mutual, and D. W. Curry is her father. She alleges that on November 22, 1912, she deeded her handsome suburban home to her father, and that on the same day he transferred the property to the State Mutual, the two being parts of the same transaction. She states in her petition that the officers of the State Mutual charged that C. R. Porter, her husband, owed the company large sums of money, approximately $100,000, and through its president, John W. Maddox, was threatening criminal prosecution of Porter unless the money was paid.

She avers further that these threats of prosecution went so far that she became greatly worried over the matter, especially when Maddox, who was on the bench of this circuit, had procured the services of the judge of an adjoining circuit, and had grand and trial juries drawn and a special term of court called to institute such proceedings. She says this state of affairs was held over Porter to coerce and compel him to submit to the demands of the company, and that she consented to allow her home conveyed to the company to meet these demands.

Charges Law Was Evaded.

She charges that the insurance company agreed to this, but knowing that it could not secure a legal title from her, it being against the law for a married woman to sell her property for her husband's debts, they had her transfer her home to her father, and he to them, whereupon the company agreed to drop criminal prosecution.

She asks that the company be therefore enjoined from disposing of the property, and Judge Wright will hear reasons as to why the injunction should not be made permanent on May 7.

The same allegations in effect are made in the petition of Mrs. Belle Vernon Porter, wife of J. C. Porter, brother of C. R. Porter, and former vice president of the State Mutual, except that the value of her home is set at $10,000, and W. S. Griffin, a son-in-law of D. W. Curry, was the intermediary. This case is also set for preliminary hearing on May 7.

"False," Declares Maddox.

Judge Maddox denounces as "unqualifiedly false" the allegation that he was directly or indirectly concerned with the alleged agreement to compound any felony, but says on the other hand that he repeatedly refused to become party to such agreements. He says further that the company will have a complete answer at the hearing on May 7.

GEORGIA SOCIETY HOPES FOR PEACE IN MEXICO

Able Address Delivered Friday Afternoon by Professor Arthur D. Call.

After listening to an entertaining lecture by Professor Arthur D. Call at the Piedmont hotel on Friday afternoon, the Georgia Peace society considered and adopted two resolutions.

One expressed the hope that the United States would be able to solve the Mexican problem without resorting to war.

The second urged the schools, churches and other civic institutions to observe May 18 as Peace day and to observe it with appropriate celebrations.

Dr. J. J. Hall was chosen as delegate to represent the Georgia society at the national peace convention in Washington on that date. Dr. John E. White introduced the speaker of the afternoon.

Professor Call, executive director of the American Peace society, declared that if the present strife with Mexico had broken out ten years ago, Atlanta would have been aflame with excitement, whereas at the present time this city seems to be viewing the matter conservatively.

"Military institutions belong to a past civilization. They are unreasonable," he said. "The states of this country do not fight each other; they have a substitute—national legislation. So we must, sooner or later, have international legislation. War never yet proved a truth."

Shriners Have Ball To Help Raise Funds For Big Convention

Some three hundred guests were present last night at the ball given by the Shriners' patrol at Taft hall to assist in raising funds for the entertainment of the visiting Shriners in May. The Shriners were out in uniform with their lady friends and the entertainment did much to promote enthusiasm in the coming convention. Refreshments were served.

TROOPS TO MOBILIZE AT FORT IN FLORIDA

Pensacola, Fla., April 24.—Definite instructions were received by the commanding officer of Fort Barrancas today from the war department to prepare for 4,000 additional men at the post, who will be sent here immediately from the Atlantic seaboard for mobilization. These are all regulars and are coming from many states. Information was also asked if a suitable place could be secured for the mobilization of three or four brigades of national guard and volunteers.

HARDWICK RAPS SLATON IN OPENING ADDRESS

Has Little to Say About Felder, But Goes After the Governor.

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—In opening his campaign for the United States senate at the opera house here tonight at 8:20 o'clock, Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick made the declaration that the Slaton campaign for the senate has collapsed; that there is no Slaton band wagon now, and Slaton's friends are carrying the war cry, "All aboard to the convention and save us there." He says the governor's one hope is to "hitch onto the coat tails of some good candidate for governor" as his last salvation.

The public records of Felder and Slaton were both compared with his own, but specific attention was paid to Slaton, and especially to the statement of W. K. West, which, he said, has not helped Slaton.

"Certainly," he said, "the people of the state of Georgia are not going to elect two men from Atlanta to the United States senate on the same day."

Hardwick said Slaton has shown the people he has not as much nerve as Hoke Cochran, because Slaton would not risk going into a contest against Hoke Smith, while Cochran did.

Hardwick says his campaign will be based on four points: Fitness and qualification of the candidates; public record of each and his training and capacity; services rendered to the people and the party; the course each would follow in the senate, if elected.

More Money for Roads And Less for Repairs, New Auto Club's Slogan

"More money for roads and less for repairs," is to be the slogan of the Automobile Club of Georgia in a long and determined campaign for good roads throughout the state.

Plans for the campaign were made last night by the club at a "good roads" smoker held in the rooms of the M. & M. club, Candler building. Several hundred automobile owners, the majority from Atlanta, but a good many from other cities—for the automobile club covers the entire state—listened to addresses from George D. McCutcheon, president of the club; W. T. Winn, county commissioner, and Charles L. Davis.

Club a Necessity.

Mr. McCutcheon called attention to the necessity of a state automobile club both as a protection to the automobile owner and an instrument with which to secure needed improvements.

"The membership of this club," he said, "is growing rapidly. There are 34,000 owners of motor-driven vehicles in the state of Georgia, and while we can't expect to enroll them all, we ought to enroll every one who ever takes his car outside the town where he bought it. As a matter of fact, we ought to enroll them all. Every automobilist is interested in preventing the passage of unjust laws. The Automobile Club of Georgia stands for that. We believe in good roads, and we think Georgia ought to have them. To the automobilist, good roads mean the difference between getting over the ground cheaply and swiftly, and stopping at every village for repairs.

County Commissioner W. T. Winn reminded the club that the American Roads Congress—the most important good roads organization in America—would hold its annual convention in Atlanta the week of Nov. 9. The club passed resolutions to co-operate with the county commissioners in entertaining the three thousand members of the congress expected.

Want State Highway Commission.

Another resolution was passed indorsing the legislative efforts for a state highway commission, and pledging the support of the club. The organization also went on record as in favor of a higher automobile license, provided the property tax on automobiles were remitted and the proceeds from the increased license fee expended for better highways. It was here that there cropped up the slogan of more money spent on road improvement meant that much less for car damages.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a statewide committee on organization, composed of one member from each county in Georgia. The members appointed are Dan S. Walraven, W. C. Mahoney and W. T. Winn, all of Atlants; C. H. Caldwell, of Bainbridge, and J. H. Whiteley, of Warrenton. The work of broader organization will begin at once.

FIRST TO ARRIVE WILL BE CARUSO AND FARRAR

They Will Reach Here Saturday Afternoon—Scotti Is Due Sunday.

Geraldine Farrar and Caruso, both of whom sing Monday night, will be the advance guard this year of the Metropolitan song birds. They will arrive at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Terminal station, over the Southern railroad, on the regular train. On Sunday afternoon, at the same hour, Scotti and William J. Guard, the publicity representative of the Metropolitan, will arrive.

Two special trains, carrying the remainder of the singers and the conductors, will come in over the Southern railway Monday morning, April 27, at about 7 o'clock. Mme. Gadski and Messrs. Amato, Toscanini and Witherspoon probably will come on another train Monday.

Members of the company on the special train will be Messrs. Martin, Cristalli, Goritz, Gilly, DeSegurola, Ruysdael, Leonhardt, Rothier, Reiss, Rossi, Reschiglian and Bada, Mmes. Oberdachene, Sparkes, Case, Fornia, Matfield, Robeson, Braslau, VanDyck, and Conductors Hertz and Hagerman. Berger and Marie Rappold will follow, arriving early in the week.

The two big special trains which arrive Monday morning will also bring the orchestra, ballet, business force and a great part of the stage settings and scenery.

The sale of tickets at Phillips & Crew and Cable Piano company will continue at those two places up to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which hour the downtown sale will be permanently closed. On Monday morning the sale will reopen at the Auditorium box office at 9 o'clock, and tickets will be procurable only at the box office from then on through opera week. All persons who have made reservations and have not yet taken up their tickets will have to do so by noon this Saturday, and in the event of their failure to do so the tickets they reserved will be put back in the pot.

While the Music Festival association is not yet ready to give out definite figures, the sales are known to be ahead of this same time last year, and indications are that there are good prospects for breaking all the records of past years.

COLORED MINISTERS INDORSING CLEAN-UP

The African Methodist Episcopal Ministers' association, at a meeting held Tuesday, adopted resolutions commending the clean-up propaganda of the city and calling upon all the members of the parishes to assist.

Waycross Trainman Hurt.

Waycross, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Falling between two freight cars at Blackshear late today, Wrecking Crew Foreman Joe Nelson, of Waycross, was painfully injured and had a close call from serious if not fatal injury. He was knocked between the cars when the engine coupled to the car on which he was sitting. He was rushed to the Coast Line hospital here.

She Saves Her Two Children After Being Bitten Herself By Rabid Dog at Her Home

Bitten by a rabid dog, Mrs. H. H. McCowan, who lives on Marietta road, saved her two children yesterday morning by bundling them into her arms and carrying them away from the house in which the dog had run.

Both Mrs. McCowan and her husband were bitten. Mr. McCowan is an official of the Electric Construction company. The animal's head was cut off and carried to the Pasteur institute, where it was found to have been rabid.

The dog was a collie pup. Mrs. McCowan had discovered it wandering on the roadside, and, out of pity for it, had taken it into her home to feed it. Barely had she carried it into the house before the animal developed symptoms of madness. Mr. McCowan, who sought to throw it into the yard, was bitten on the wrist. The dog jumped at the wife, biting and scratching her on the hand.

The children were in the room. As the dog ran wildly in their direction, the mother grabbed both in her arms and rushed them into the yard. The dog was then killed by Mr. McCowan.

ROBERT J. PERRYMAN DIES IN HEFLIN, ALA.

Well-Known Business Man Had Been in Poor Health for Over a Year.

Robert J. Perryman, vice president of the Brown, Perryman & Green Hat company, of Atlanta, died Friday afternoon at Heflin, Ala., after a lingering illness of over a year's duration.

Mr. Perryman was one of the best-known men in the wholesale hat business in the south, having been engaged in it since he first came to Atlanta about thirty years ago. He was also noted for his interest in educating children who, without assistance, could not have continued in school.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kitchens Perryman, of Heflin; three brothers, Frank Perryman of Atlanta, and Dave and Gus Perryman, of Heflin, and four sisters, Mrs. James R. Little of Atlanta, Mrs. John Morgan of Heflin, Miss Hattie Perryman of Atlanta and Miss Ella Perryman of Heflin.

Mr. Perryman was a Shriner and the funeral services in Heflin on Sunday afternoon will be conducted by them.

Which mark does your foot leave?

If your wet foot makes an impression showing the heel and large toe connected, it is proof that you have either a weak or a fallen arch.

It may be that you've felt no severe pain—yet. But if neglected, may cause you no end of suffering.

Act now. Give your weak arches the support they need. You'll find this support plus solid comfort in the Crossett "Doctor" Shoe.

Every detail in this shoe has been planned to give you the greatest ease and comfort.

It is so scientifically built that it helps to correct arch trouble while you walk! If the bones of your arch have slipped out of place, the Crossett "Doctor" Shoe will gradually "coax" them back into place—not force them back. Your arch is supported as firmly and comfortably as though it were in a snug bandage.

Crossett "Doctor" Shoe

Supports every bone in the foot

If you can't get this shoe, write us. We'll see that you are supplied through your dealer.

COTTON MARKET WAS UNSETTLED

Opened Steady at Unchanged Prices, But Closed Barely Steady—May Easy. Loss Was Small.

New York, April 24.—The cotton market was more or less irregular and unsettled during the day's trading, with the close barely steady. Net unchanged to 13 points lower. May was relatively easy under scattering liquidation and showed the greatest loss, although maintaining a premium of about 9 points over July at the close.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 7 points in sympathy with Liverpool cables, and showed considerable strength during the early trading. Private reports from New Orleans were on the advance, while bullish sentiment was also encouraged by prospects for favorable weather and steady cables.

Active months sold about 10 to 15 points above the opening advance, but the relatively easy ruling of May checked from buying to some extent and the market showed less activity after the close of Liverpool.

Later on the tendency to realize profits on long cotton for over the week-end was more in evidence, and reports that crop prospects have been inspired by bearish crop advices from travelling experts in the southwest and rather more favorable detailed weather reports than usual tended to offset the effect of official forecasts.

This week-end figures indicated fully as sharp a falling off in the visible supply of American as expected, which failed to affect materially checks the decline, and closing prices were the lowest of the day. French cables were the ring reflected continued nervousness with reference to the near-by crop movement of Liverpool cotton, and trading both ways here today and it is believed that some of the recent heavy buyers of May and July were sellers on the afternoon decline.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 24.—Cotton moved perceptibly today, at the highest standing of the week's close and 2 to 11 points over the lowest. The close was 6 points under the highest and 5 points up to 7 points over yesterday. The with the last price of the week. The May option displayed the greatest firmness at all times and the reason for this was the rumor of a bull movement in that option.

While weather conditions were better than expected, they were not favorable enough to cause prospering. Cables were bullish and the week-end crop reports were favorable especially the late-night ones.

Profit-taking by scattered longs was in evidence as all hard spots and this served to keep from advancing. It was free in the afternoon.

Imports, 52,000, American 47,000.

Exports, 11,000.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, April 24.—(Special)—The market today was very irregular at times it seemed very strong, and then again it would become manifestly weak. The bulls had the best of the argument during the late trading and the close was barely steady at a net decline of 11 points on May and 10 on July. Late trading was very quiet in spots. It is a tight of big interests in the near position, and there is every promise of a very irregular market for the next week as far July is concerned. The weather is not what it should be to encourage the new crop positions.

Liverpool is due to come 3¼ to 4 down. Cotton continues dull at the same old level.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 24.—(Special.)—A somewhat irregular market, due to rain, cooler weather in the south, a feeling of discouragement over the lower prices Washington and the lack of demand from the short interest which had covered during the week. Many rumors were current as to the large quantities of May which had been taken up by outside interests, but otherwise there was nothing in the trade situation to indicate large buying of cotton.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 24.—(Special.)—The market today ruled within a narrow range, final prices showing very little change from last night's closing figures. The demand for May and July continued to good volume coming from both Liverpool and local short sellers, but general liquidation supplied the contracts without affecting values to any extent. The commission positions in Liverpool and New Orleans are very strong, new buying orders are in constant demand because of their reception of light shorts and seems that it can be purchased in the south. There is the exception of light showers in parts of Texas overnight the weather elsewhere was fair. A private wire this morning from Liverpool reported Manchester doing a large business, encouraging the situation.

Bad Day in Berlin.

Berlin, April 24.—The Berlin bourse today had one of the worst days it has had for years. Trading assumed at times a distinctly panicky character. The chief causes were the Mexican situation and reports as to the health of Emperor Francis Joseph.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, April 24.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Aside from an improvement noted in retail trade west, northwest and southwest, the return of warmer, more spring-like weather and flattering early crop prospects for trade and industry generally has not shown any particular change for the better.

Indeed the quiet or irregular conditions heretofore ruling here have rather accentuated and by uncertainty even as to the outlook for war or peace and aside from a slight, unexpected falling off in the cotton commodity prices and some bear drives against issues of securities, the situation, broadly speaking, shows few new developments.

"The leading industries note little change in their operating weeks, iron and steel are dull as regards new business, as dull in fact as for a long time past.

"For the week: Failures 218, against 272 a year ago; 238 in 1912 and 247 in 1911. Canadian failures, 34, against 41 last year. Bank clearings $2,584,151,000, an increase of 14.3 per cent."

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 24.—Cotton seed oil was steady, closing 1 to 9 points net lower. May sold 9 points down on prospective liberal offerings and selling refiners inclined by the heavy rains in the lower cotton belt yesterday. There was also considerable switching in May and July at 10 to 12 points decline, but generally speaking, trade was quiet. Prime crude, 6.60@6.67½; prime yellow, 7.05.

Futures ranged as follows:

WHEAT SELLING NOT AGGRESSIVE

Showers in the West a Benefit, However—Corn Went Lower on Eastern Cash Demands.

Chicago, April 24.—Wheat prices turned downward today on account of fairly general rains supplementing the much needed moisture received during the previous twenty-four hours. Selling, however, was not at all aggressive, and the market closed steady at 1-8 to 1-4 net decline. Other leading staples, too, all showed a setback—corn 2-8@2-3 to 3-4@1 cent; oats a shade 1-4 and provisions 5 to 30.

It was not overlooked by wheat speculators that the showers were of benefit not only to the growing winter crop in Kansas and Nebraska but were also of value in the Dakotas and Minnesota, where the spring seedings will thus be given a good start. The downpours in the west and southwest resulted immediately in extensive sales of cash wheat to come here from Kansas City. Besides, fresh buying orders were quoted as declaring that abandoned acreage would now be very small, and that the government July report must necessarily put the crop condition percentage at materially high figures.

Considerable interest was taken in a report that consignments of No. 2 red winter had been made from Toledo to Baltimore, now to Philadelphia, and more prices are nominally lower than Chicago basis. Cash trade, however, showed that Baltimore may be a greatly important point soon for army and navy supplies. Numerous inquiries for days here today to buy at a decline were based on the foregoing bullish possibilities growing out of the war.

Corn went lower in consequence of a falling off in cash demand from east and west. There were reports that Liverpool was selling May and that offerings from Iowa were becoming quite free. It was also said that Illinois had a liberal private willingness to contract corn for shipment to Chicago.

Plentiful moisture helped to growth, tended to ease down oats. Furthermore, shipping demand was slow, the provision pit, the offerings from which were liberal, being evidently heavy to be readily absorbed. Higher prices for hogs failed to set on an offset.

Coffee.

New York, April 24.—May notices, estimated at about 54,000 bags, were reported early today to be distributed in the coffee market. There was a good demand for Brazil futures from prominent interests, sales of later positions, but after opening steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 1 point prices eased off to a net loss of 6 or 7 points during the middle of the day, under scattering liquidation. The market rallied later, however, on continued bull support, closing with the tone steady, net 1 point lower to 1 points higher. Sales, including 54 lots, 75,000 bags.

Cattle receipts continue light; market steady and unchanged. While the short-haul meat coming has been running mostly to canners, the long haul meat coming the past week from the west and southwest has consisted of a good class of cattle, and resulted immediately in extensive sales of cash wheat to come here from Kansas City and Omaha. Good to choice steers were quoted as declaring that abandoned acreage would now be very small, and that the government July report must necessarily put the crop condition percentage at materially high figures.

Considerable interest was taken in a report that consignments of No. 2 red winter had been made from Toledo to Baltimore, now to Philadelphia, and more prices are nominally lower than Chicago basis. ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Much enthusiasm was worked up for a large Atlanta delegation to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges, which meet in Pittsburg in the early part of July, at the April meeting and luncheon of the Atlanta real estate board at the Ansley hotel yesterday at noon. At this meeting also the board took up tentatively the proposition of inviting the national organization to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta.

Charles P. Glover, president of the Charles P. Glover Realty company and ex-president of the Atlanta real estate board, was the host of the luncheon and strongly advocated the Atlanta board's sending a strong boosting delegation to the Pittsburg convention. Several men at the meeting signified their intention of attending the convention and President Harris G. White, of the board, was authorized to appoint a committee to organize a delegation and to ascertain what action the board might receive in event it extended an invitation to the convention to come to Atlanta.

May Invite 1916 Convention.

This convention would bring to Atlanta about 1,000 of the leading real estate men in the United States and Canada, and it is believed would be of great benefit as an advertisement to Atlanta.

President White suggested that the committee, which he will appoint, find out whether it is possible to get representatives from the Atlanta convention bureau, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and each of the Atlanta daily newspapers to join the Pittsburg delegation to the convention.

Albert Adams, who was recently in Pittsburg, stated that he was convinced that the Pittsburg real estate men will support Atlanta for the 1916 convention.

Mr. Adams also set forth the cause of the bond issue for the improvement of Grady hospital and asked the indorsement of the board, which upon motion of S. R. Lawton, was given. M. P. Ramsey, who has just returned from Miami, Fla., gave a glowing account of real estate and development activities in Florida, but added that upon all Florida activities he felt himself compelled to turn his back and return to Atlanta.

Grant Estate Lot Sold.

The Smith & Ewing agency has sold for Ewing, Benson & Killian & Co., Carroll a vacant lot in the sub-division of the Mrs. Grant property, for $7,500.

The lot is at the southwest corner of Hill and Sidney streets and has a frontage of 150 feet with a depth of 200 feet.

Royston Avenue Sale.

W. S. Dodd, of Dodd & Harling's agency, has sold for M. Smith and F. L. Guest to Mrs. K. T. Lupton and Miss Edith Thomas, No. 82 Royston avenue, for a consideration of $5,900. This is a six-room bungalow on a small lot.

Property Exchange.

M. C. Kiser's agency has sold for Nicholas Pittner to F. W. Lawson the Pittner apartments, a two-story brick building containing six apartments, at the northeast corner of Forrest avenue and Bedford Place, for $40,000, Mr. Lawson giving in part payment. No. 195-197 Edgewood avenue, a store and dwelling on a lot 25x145, valued at $32,500.

Forsyth Street Lease.

George P. Moore has leased a store room in the Patterson building on Forsyth street, just north of James T. J. P. Hunnicutt for a term of five years at an average rental of $300 per month. Mr. Hunnicutt has sold his North Broad street lease and will occupy the Forsyth street place on May 1.

Mr. Moore also leased the Studio building, at the northeast corner of Forsyth and James streets to the Falks restaurant, which lease was announced some weeks ago. The term of this lease is ten years at an average monthly rental of $235. Mr. Falks is now remodeling the interior of the building at an expense of some $4,000 or $5,000.

Just One Question: Do You Want an Auto?

Do you want an automobile?

Do you want a piano-player?

Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.

The only requirement is to show a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for The Constitution.

It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.

Especially with the Mexican war on, they are after a paper that gives an accurate twenty-four hour news summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.

Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash prize.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD AT LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ga., April 24.—(Special.) The local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held their annual memorial services today instead of next Monday. An interesting program was rendered. Songs by the school girls and the delivery of the five dollars in gold to the girl in the county writing the best essay on some civil war scene formed part of the exercises. This prize was won by Miss Lewis, of the Barlow school.

The orator of the occasion was W. L. Phillips. A dinner was served and hospitality lavishly dispensed.

In the afternoon the Louisville boys played the Bartow boys with a score of 6 to 1 in favor of the former.

SEED AND PET STOCK

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS, PLANTS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BELL PHONES: MAIN 4162, MAIN 4863.
ATLANTA, GA.
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

THIS is sure enough gardening weather. It is perfectly safe now to plant out even the most tender vegetables or plants. Every morning our wagons come in from the greenhouses loaded with fine, nice young pepper and egg plants; just the kind you want. Our plants have all been transplanted and are stocky and well rooted. Prices: Tomatoes, 75 cents per dozen; peppers and egg plants, 75 cents per dozen.

POLITE and courteous treatment in the store and prompt delivering has been a great help in building up the Hastings business. Our clerks are polite and courteous and have had experience enough to be able to give customers advice as to what are the best varieties of vegetables and flowers to plant. These things and the care we take that we handle its very best grade of seed that can be had, has enabled us to build up the largest seed business in the south in Atlanta, but the entire south. Few people in Atlanta realize how large a business we have and lots of Atlanta folks send their orders for seeds and plants to our out-of-town houses that are not as large as Hastings and certainly no more reliable. A great many things that are best adapted to this climate and are in a position to give you better values than a house in the north or east. Try us this spring and we feel sure that you will not regret to send your money east of Atlanta again for seeds.

SAVANNAH SOCIETY HOLDS STREET DANCING CARNIVAL AND FLORAL PARADE FOR DRAINAGE CONGRESS DELEGATES

FLORAL PARADE IN SAVANNAH.

Savannah, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—In connection with the fourth National Drainage Congress Thursday afternoon and evening was staged one of the largest and most spectacular floral parades, street dancing fetes and confetti carnivals ever witnessed in the south. The parade was viewed in the park extension by the officers of the drainage congress and the judges who awarded the prizes.

The parade was preceded by the coast artillery corps from Fort Screven, under the command of Colonel Willoughby Walke, who was grand marshal of the parade; the national guard of Georgia, stationed at Savannah, and was followed by Savannah's magnificent automobile fire department. Owing to the crisis in Mexico, the warships which had been expected were unable to come. There was a magnificent display of beautifully decorated automobiles.

The street dancing at night, however, proved to be the feature of the carnival. The night session of the drainage congress was abandoned on account of this feature. Hundreds of young couples took advantage of the unique privilege. A section of Bull street, abutting on one of the public squares, was reserved for the dancing, the street being closed to traffic and roped in. Spectators were confined to the sidewalks and squares. All dancers were required to unmask and city detectives were on hand to see that no improper characters were allowed to dance.

Simultaneously a great street masquerade was in progress on another thoroughfare. The street was given up to them from 8 o'clock until midnight. Everybody wore masks and everybody was in costume. Several organizations turned out in force and gave exhibition drills. There were boys' clubs and girls' clubs in the carnival parade. Confetti was used freely, and ticklers and horns and other noise producing instruments, but everything objectionable was strictly forbidden. The afternoon and evening was one of unalloyed fun, in which the older generation, as well as the younger folks and children, participated.

Brilliant Illumination.

The streets were brilliantly lighted. In addition to the regular lights, several headlights and arc lights and 300 Japanese lanterns were strung along the squares and in the trees in the square, with two rows between Broughton and State streets on Bull. The city forces had the street washed and scrubbed and freshly swept just before the dancing began.

The dancing and the masquerading fun were two entirely distinct features. While the dancing was in progress on Bull street the masqueraders were enjoying themselves to their hearts' content on Broughton street. The tribe of Red Men and the Eagles turned out in force, as did also the Dokeys, while a dozen boy clowns added much to the merriment with the antics. Five hundred red fezes gave the parade a brilliant color effect. In the whole history of Savannah there has never before been so much fun for the general public crowded into one evening. The city for once forgot its conservatism and entered whole-heartedly into the spirit of the carnival.

Owing to the fact that the afternoon and evening was given over to the big military parade, floral pageant and masquerade carnival, the drainage congress adjourned for the day after the morning session. Members of the congress were among the most delighted spectators of the evening's entertainment, and they entered with considerable zest into the fun of the moment.

FOUR COUNTRIES OFFER TO MEDIATE TROUBLE

sentatives of the Mexican constitutionalists resulted in the dispatch to General Carranza of a telegram by the latter strongly advising him to remain neutral and assuring him that the American government intended to withdraw its forces from Mexico just as soon as Huerta had made satisfactory reparation for offenses.

The advice given Carranza here was that by assuming a hostile attitude he would draw all Mexico into a war; Huerta would be perpetuated and the constitutionalist cause lost.

Four countries, among them France and Spain, came forward with inquiries to the United States about possible means of mediation between the Huerta government and the United States, but Secretary Bryan said these advances could not be described as "overtures" and he was inclined to attach little importance to them. The position of the American government is firm, that an offense against its dignity and national honor has been committed and that it must enforce reparation from Huerta.

Signs of uneasiness abroad because the United States, though not having declared a blockade or a state of war, is exercising jurisdiction at Vera Cruz between measures "short of war" and actual war became apparent today. Cabinet officials said no attempt would be made to interfere with the regular channels of commerce anywhere, cargoes being allowed to land at all points. Munitions of war alone will be held at the Vera Cruz customs house, if landed, provisions and other commercial supplies not being detained.

ARMY AND NAVY CONTINUE PLANS.

But outside of the diplomatic branch of the government the army and navy continued plans for holding Vera Cruz, for the care of refugees, for the provisioning of American forces and for the maintenance of a strict border patrol, not only to prevent raids and uprisings, but to keep all factions in Mexico from obtaining munitions, arms and ammunition. The war department continued its plan for mobilizing regulars and volunteers, should the president call for them. Army transports, bearing infantry and artillery, sailed from Galveston to reinforce the naval forces at Vera Cruz.

The sporadic outbreak at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, where the evacuating federals burned the town and fired across the American border, was not unexpected, but it was significantly pointed out by officials here that the American troops returned the fire merely in defense of the international line and did not become the aggressors.

Congress still talked about Mexico. Senator Hodges read a long telegram from many prominent persons, urging an inquiry into the Mexican situation before war was declared. Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, asked the president if he wanted any "war appropriation" and Mr. Wilson replied, "Not as yet."

Secretary Garrison is virtually without funds for the particular moves of the army now being made, but he is drawing on the future. It is a violation of law for the war department to incur any obligation without authorization by congress, but Mr. Garrison realizes and said he had "faced that several times in the last few days on this account. Leaders in congress have assured him they would back him up in the present emergency. The president has hesitated to approve any request for an emergency appropriation for the war department for fear it might be interpreted as a forerunner of war.

WILSON WILL SIGN ARMY BILL TODAY.

Mr. Wilson will affix his signature probably tomorrow to the volunteer army bill providing for raising a volunteer army force in any time of emergency. The possibility that the militia might be needed at this time led to an appeal to the supreme court of the United States for decision of a pending case to remove legal obstacles in the use of the militia for volunteer service.

Army officers' estimates as to the number of men the proposed bill will call for in case of war range from 50,000 to 150,000, but not a syllable has come from the white house as to this point.

While a spirit of optimism and hopefulness was apparent at the white house, the three big executive departments continued busy with their new burden of activity.

At the state department Secretary Bryan talked to a procession of callers. The Spanish ambassador had a brief conference, presenting, it is believed, an inquiry from his government about possible mediation. The German ambassador, it was understood, inquired about the status of commercial vessels and their cargoes and told Mr. Bryan about the uncertainty abroad and to whether a blockade had been declared or a state of war existed. The mexican government told that the seizure of the customs house is in accord with international precedent as an act of reprisal. No blockade has been declared and no interference with commerce will be attempted.

The German vessel that carried the shipment of arms, which it was feared might reach Huerta, has landed its commercial cargo, but the captain of the vessel, for reasons of his own, has not put the ammunition ashore. The United States forces at Vera Cruz have made no effort to prevent its landing. The accepted theory here is that the ammunition was not landed because of the certainty that it would not reach the consignee if deposited in the Vera Cruz customs house. American naval officers will not interfere with the interior shipment of cargoes, but will collect the customs and hold them until reparation has been made for its offenses.

TO TAKE POSSESSION OF RAILROAD TRACK.

At the war department Secretary Garrison spent most of his time arranging for the departure of the Fifth infantry brigade from Galveston, commanded by Brigadier General Funston. The order for the movement was received by the chief of the quartermaster's corps at 9 o'clock last night, the property and troops loaded throughout the night, steam ordered up and the fleet put under way with thirty days' supplies within a period of eighteen hours. No cavalry went today, but a regiment, probably the Sixth, will be embarked on the next transport. No accommodation for the cavalry was possible on the ships which departed today. The artillery taken was equipped with rapid fire guns and field pieces of the mountain type and pack mules. The disposition of the forces on arrival at Vera Cruz has not been determined, but it is virtually certain a movement will be begun on their arrival to take possession of twenty-seven miles of the railroad system between Vera Cruz and the capital. In all, about 4,000 troops will reinforce the five thousand and upwards of marines and bluejackets.

The navy department again was a center of interest, dispatches from the fleet being looked for expectantly there throughout the day.

Secretary Daniels gave most of his time to arranging for the departure of American refugees. Most of the Americans at Puerto Mexico are aboard a Hawaiian-American steamship anchored there, while the British cruiser Berwick was ready to take on more. The gunboat Nashville has gone to relieve the congestion there. No news of an official character of the interruption of the Tehuantepec railroad had been received, but American warships are at Salina Cruz, one of the terminii, ready to take on refugees.

Mr. Daniels said conditions at Tampico were unchanged.

The Esperanza, a Ward liner, which has left Vera Cruz with many American refugees, will stop at Tampico for more and then proceed to Galveston with passengers.

Mr. Daniels reiterated that no foreign vessels would be detained by the American ships. To do so, he said, would be an act of war.

During 1913 there were 2,947 free schools in session in Chile, with an enrollment of 287,116 and a daily attendance of 183,744.

As a general thing the kind of man who would vote for a yellow dog nominee would raise cain if a suffragette took her poodle to the polls.

Just One Question: Do You Want an Auto?

Do you want an automobile?

Do you want a piano-player?

Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.

The only requirement is to show a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for The Constitution.

It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.

Especially with the Mexican war on, they are after a paper that gives an accurate twenty-four hour war summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.

Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash price.

It Worked That Way.

(From The Houston Post.)

"How is Dick getting along with the woman that married him to reform him?"

"She has reformed him all right." "Sure enough?"

"You bet. Before he was married he used to be as good as a meal ticket for me, but when I met him yesterday and tried to borrow a five he made me pay back a tenner I owed him."
