TAMPICO REPORTED LOST BY T[illegible]UERTA GARRISON; FOREIGNERS ARE FLEEING

There Has Been Serious Fighting for Several Days Between Rebels and Federals Around the Mexican Port.

OIL TANKS ARE BLAZING AS RESULT OF SHELL FIRE

Americans and Other Foreigners Are Taking Refuge on United States Warships. Washington Is Greatly Concerned Over Situation.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 9.—The American consulate has received word from the consular agent at Tuxpan that grave rumors are current there that Tampico has fallen. While there is no confirmation of this it is known that there has been serious fighting between federals and rebels around that port.

The British steamer Lesadale from New York March 13, which is now at Tampico, has been unable to discharge her cargo and asked permission by wireless to come here.

Late reports from Tampico say the Mexican gunboats are successfully defending the town, but are doing much damage by bad marksmanship. The Waters-Pierce oil storage tank at Arbol-Grande was set on fire and many other tanks were hit, large quantities of oil flowing into the river.

Many shells from the Mexican warships Vera Cruz and Zaragosa have fallen near the American war vessels in the river. The federals are reported to be so hard pressed that all the jefe politicos throughout the country have been ordered to force enlistments to the utmost.

The gunboat Bravo is preparing to sail from here to Tampico with 300 troops and ammunition.

Oil Tanks Are Burning.

The warehouse of the Aguilo Oil company was destroyed in the fighting at Tampico, according to a wireless dispatch received here tonight. It caught fire from the shells of the Zaragosa. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Tampico is reported to be enveloped in smoke from the burning oil tanks. General Maas, commander at Vera Cruz, has received an urgent call for the Bravo and ammunition.

Rear Admiral Mayo, in a report filed at 10 o'clock this morning from Tampico, says the fighting continued, but that the forbearance of the rebels was checked by the strong fire from the Zaragosa and Vera Cruz. One of the oil tanks was burning at that time.

Sixty American women were on board the United States war warships and the German cruiser Dresden had gone further up river to rescue others.

The battleship Utah left here for Tampico tonight. Norman Lind, son of John Lind, was aboard.

WASHINGTON ANXIOUS REGARDING TAMPICO

Washington, April 9.—Officials here tonight were gravely anxious for the safety of foreign property in the Tampico district, where valuable oil plants already have been destroyed and other properties, valued at millions, are threatened by Mexican constitutionalists and federal shells.

Dispatches today told of the burning of wareh[illegible]ouses belonging to a German company, with a loss of half a million dollars, and of imminent danger to the immensely valuable plant of the Waters-Pierce Oil refinery. This plant, the navy department learned today, has been occupied by attaching forces the past few days, and as a consequence shell after shell has been poured into it from federal gunboats in the harbor.

Rear Admiral Mayo's suggestion that an army transport be sent to Tampico to harbor refugees probably will not cause official action here. The hospital ship Solace, with accommodations for several hundred, is about to leave New Orleans for Tampico tonight, and at the navy department it was said the marines on the transport Prairie, at Vera Cruz, easily could be distributed among the other ships in Mexican waters, leaving that vessel with accommodations for at least 800, available for service at Tampico.

The fate of the 700 and more Spanish exiles from Torreon, who made their entry into El Paso yesterday, has not been determined by state or war department officials, who believe the problem is one for the immigration authorities. For the time being, the exiles apparently are dependent on the bounty of the people of El Paso and the Red Cross. The state department, through Consul Garrett Carothers, at El Paso and Juarez, is endeavoring to obtain protection of their rights, and redress for their grievances against the constitutionalist government.

A meager report today from the border saying 1,500 men had renewed fighting east of Torreon, left war department officials more in doubt than ever as to the probable outcome of Villa's occupancy of that city. No details came as to the outcome of the renewed hostilities.

TOTS AND "GROWN-UPS" TO TELL OF MISSIONS

Sunday morning in the Bible school of Second Baptist church an interesting service will be given. Classes from all departments, from the small 3-year beginners to the grown-up adults will tell the work now being done by the Baptist home and foreign mission boards. School opens at 9:30 o'clock and all will receive a warm welcome.

VILLA MADE BRITON FACE FIRE OF RIFLES

Rebel General Used English Vice Consul as Messenger at Torreon—Vice Consul Protested.

El Paso, Texas, April 9.—H. S. Cunard-Cummins, acting British vice consul at Gomez Palacio, was used by General Villa during the Torreon battle to carry a demand to General Velasco on March 27 that the latter surrender. According to newspaper correspondents who reached here from the front tonight, Mr. Cunard-Cummins performed the mission under protest, and was subjected to rifle fire on his return toward the rebel lines.

George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department at the battle, in the report of the incident that he has made to Washington, however, does not indicate that Mr. Cunard-Cummins was coerced into becoming General Villa's messenger, but states that he did so with some reluctance after first refusing.

Report of Carothers.

Mr. Carothers' report follows:

"At 4 p. m. (March 27) General Villa sent a messenger to see Cummins, requesting him to go to headquarters. I and H. W. Potter accompanied him. When we arrived, after introducing Cummins to Villa, Villa said to him that he knew that he (Cummins) was an enemy to the constitutionalist cause, that he had information that Cummins was accustomed to negotiating with the federals, that he knew he was a friend of General Velasco, and that, in view of this friendship with Velasco, he wanted Cummins to take a communication to Velasco in which he demanded the surrender of the city to avoid further bloodshed.

"Villa said the message was couched in terms usual in warfare in such cases. Cummins refused to take the message, arguing that he was neutral, and should not mix in political affairs of the country.

"At this Villa became very angry and said we foreigners were demanding that he protect foreigners and be humanitarian in his acts, and that at the very first opportunity given us to do some good we refused. He commenced to talk about probably having to fight all of us, when I interposed and advised Cummins to go.

Most Serious Aspect.

"Villa said he first thought of sending the message by me, but on second thought had decided on Cummins on account of his friendship with Velasco, as he would be in no danger. Cummins agreed to go, so I wrote some instructions to Mr. Ulmer. Cummins left about 5 o'clock and was to return about noon next day. The interview with Villa had a most serious aspect for a few moments, but as it turned out, Villa and he shook hands, called each other "Amigos" and parted in the best of spirits."

The Mr. Ulmer mentioned in the report is L. M. Ulmer, United States consular agent at Torreon.

Mr. Carothers, questioned by a reporter here today, amplified his report to the state department as follows:

"Just before leaving Villa's headquarters, Villa called Cummins 'Amigo.' Cummins turned to Villa and said, 'You call me friend?'

"'Yes, I call you friend, because I want you for my friend,' responded Villa.

"Villa's last word to us was that he left all arrangements about getting away to us.

Carried British Flag.

"I then walked toward Mr. O'Hea's house with Cummins, but left him before reaching there, in order to get a handcar. I saw Cummins enter O'Hea's house. A half hour later I met Cummins coming from O'Hea's house with a British flag and a flag of truce. I had been unable to get a handcar, so Cummins said he would go on foot, as it was getting late, and he did not want to make the trip in the dark. Cummins did not make any complaint to me of coercion, then or later. On his return on the 26th he was cordially received by Villa, who embraced him and thanked him for what he had done."

Mr. O'Hea, mentioned by Mr. Carothers, is Patrick O'Hea, recently appointed to succeed Cunard-Cummins as British vice consul. Cummins had resigned, but was acting as vice consul.

It Pays the Women To Read the Ads

SOMEBODY missed some good bargains in silk petticoats the other day. Did you? A merchant advertised in The Constitution a sale of $4.50 and $5.50 silk petticoats at $2.98 and sold almost every one. Don't miss any more sales like that. The Constitution carries money-saving ads daily.

Another merchant offered two pounds of lard for 25 cents. Did you get your share? And one man sold four packages of Kellogg's Corn Flakes for a quarter. That's a saving worth while.

Read Constitution advertisements and cut the cost of living without cutting the quality.

Bandits Bind Messenger And Lock Him in Trunk; Then Loot Express Safe

Between $2,000 and $3,000 Secured—Muffled Cries of Messenger Brought Trainmen to His Rescue.

Little Rock, Ark., April 9.—Attracted by muffled cries emanating from the express car attached to a "local" Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train, railroad employees here tonight found the express messenger, William Ahring, locked in a trunk, bound and gagged and the safe in the car looted.

The discovery was made when the train reached Little Rock from Hot Springs at 10 o'clock. It is estimated that between $2,000 and $3,000 was secured by the two men who Ahring declares took possession of the car near Haskell, Ark., 36 miles from Little Rock, forced him into the trunk and escaped with all the valuables aboard.

No attempt was made to rob the passengers, and other members of the train crew knew nothing of the robbery until the messenger was discovered in the trunk.

Posses are in pursuit of the bandits.

Story of Messenger.

According to Ahring the window of his car was smashed shortly after the train left Haskell and two revolvers were thrust through the aperture with a gruff command to open the door. Taken unawares, he says, he complied and two masked men entered, covered him with their revolvers and, after relieving him of his weapon, keys and money, forced him into the trunk.

That was all he knew, Ahring asserts, until he was released here. The car had been thoroughly ransacked and the safe emptied of its contents.

Express company officials here declared tonight they were unable to definitely estimate the amount secured by the robbers.

ELEVEN WORDS MAY STAY EXECUTION OF 4 GUNMEN

Friends of Men Condemned to Die for Murder of Rosenthal Are Still Hoping.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—Eleven words written on a slip of white paper which was found today in a bundle of old correspondence by L. B. M. Brown, of New York, may prove the means of obtaining a stay of execution for the four gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

According to Mr. Brown, the note, which contains a warning against giving credence to statements of Morris Luban and Max Margolis, who were witnesses against the gunmen, was written by a former assistant to District Attorney Whitman. It was intended, says Brown, for the guidance of former Governor William Sulzer, in whose behalf, it was reported at the time the communication was indicated. Luban would appear as a witness at the former governor's impeachment trial.

No Date and No Signature.

The note bears no date, nor signature. Brown said it was written early last fall. This is what the note says:

"Be very careful as to anything given by Luban or Margolis."

Brown discovered the note and took it to Governor Glynn and begged that it be given consideration. The governor called in his legal adviser, John G. Saxe, and James L. Delehanty, an assistant district attorney. Whitman, and the latter agreed in behalf of the district attorney to go before a supreme court justice and permit Mr. Brown to tell his story if he desired to make an effort to obtain a respite or a new trial for the condemned men.

Mr. Brown said he would take this legal step probably tomorrow. Mr. Delehanty agreed to assume charge of the proceedings for the district attorney's office.

The governor declined to express an opinion on the merits of the new angle of the case. He said he desired that the gunmen should have every opportunity to prove their innocence and that he had suggested bringing the district attorney's office into the case.

Glynn Wouldn't See Women.

A futile attempt to appeal personally to the governor for the lives of the gunmen was made today by three relatives and a friend of the condemned men's families. They were the wives of Louis Rosenberg ("Lefty Louie") and Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") and the mother of Jacob Seidenshner ("Whitey Lewis") and a Mrs. Volk, of New York.

The quartette waited at the capitol for an hour and their learning there was no chance of seeing the governor, left for New York.

The governor explained that he had refused to see the women because he thought it was useless.

"I have rendered my final decision," he said. "To have seen these women would have meant only another dramatic scene and no good would have come of it."

BILL HENDERSON DIES AT HIS FATHER'S HOME

W. F. Henderson, for years one of the ablest cartoonists in the country, died last night at 9 o'clock at the home of his father, W. M. Henderson, in Dover, Georgia.

He is survived by his wife, who lives in Atlanta, and by his father, and a number of other relatives.

GIRL LOSES PURSE AFTER BRAVE FIGHT

Two Well-Dressed Young White Men Get Away With Jewelry Worth $600 After Choking Owner.

Two well-dressed young white men attacked Miss Annie Heath, of 115 West Harris street, last night about 9 o'clock at the corner of Orme and West Harris streets, and after a brave struggle on the part of the young woman, managed to make a get-away with her leather pocketbook containing $20 in bills and jewelry valued at about $600.

Miss Heath had been to see a friend at the Carnegie library, and was on her way home. At the No. 5 fire engine house she noticed a disturbance between some negroes, and also noticed that two white men began to follow her. At the corner of Orme and West Harris, they crossed the street, and under the arc light made the attack.

Pluck to Save Purse.

After Miss Heath had hit one of the men in the face several times with her fist, he began to choke her. The other then snatched the pocketbook from her arm, and the two then broke into a run out Orme street.

Miss Heath walked the half block to her home at 115 West Harris and telephoned for the police. She was so nervous from the effects of the attack that she could only give a vague description of the two white men.

She stated that one of them wore a gray overcoat and a black derby, and that the other was a fat man, wearing a dark suit of clothes.

"I gave them the best scrap I knew how to," said Miss Heath, at the same time showing her fist, where all the skin on her knuckles had been knocked off by the blows she rained on the highwayman's head.

"I never did scream. That never entered my head. I only thought of my jewelry, and fought my best to save it."

List of Stolen Jewelry.

A list of the stolen jewelry consisted of a $100 solitaire ring; a small diamond ring of three stones, valued at $95; a diamond studded bracelet, valued at $60, and one ruby ring, valued at $160. Miss Heath states that she always put them in her pocketbook while at work at the store, and that she had not taken them out Thursday afternoon when she left the store to return to her home.

Detectives are working on the robbery. The description of one of the highwaymen is the same as that of the young white man who attacked Miss Nannon Mott, of 323 Luckie street, on Monday night, and snatched her purse, containing a few dollars.

Child Chases Thief.

Annie Moore, the 7-year-old daughter of T. F. Moore, the well-known grocer, chased a negro snatch thief three blocks last night with hopes of regaining her pocketbook that had been snatched from her hand on Bedford street near the corner of Fourth street. The purse contained two linen handkerchiefs and 75 cents in change.

The little girl was near her home, 45 Vedado drive, when a negro girl about 16 years of age ran by her,

HE KILLED THE NEGRO FOR GRABBING HIS LEG

Shreveport, La., April 9.—Lake Sexton, a young white man and member of a prominent family, on trial here for the death of Zet Oliver, a negro, was today found guilty of manslaughter by the jury, with a recommendation of mercy to the court. He was remanded for sentence.

Witnesses testified that Sexton kicked Oliver when the latter failed to give way for him to pass on a sidewalk, and when the negro grabbed his leg, shot him to death. Sexton's defense was that he believed Oliver intended to shoot.

This is the first capital case to go to trial in Caddo parish since the recent law and order mass meeting of citizens, at which the acquittal of Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Little, charged with killing J. J. Van Cleve, was vigorously denounced.

BELIEVING FATHER MURDERED SONS OF DEAD MAN WILL ASK FOR THOROUGH INVESTIGATION

Rev. C. W. Rowe, of Rome, Denies Story That J. M. Rowe, Whose Body Was Found in Elevator Shaft of the Emery-Steiner Building on Thursday Morning, Had Two Wives.

BLOODY STICK IS FOUND NEAR BODY OF DECEASED; MAY AID SOLVE MYSTERY

Hat and Club Are Found by Police After Search Late Thursday Afternoon—The Body Will Be Taken to Monroe, Ga., for Funeral Services and Interment.

Believing their father, J. M. Rowe whose body was found in the bottom of the elevator shaft of the Emery-Steiner building on Thursday morning, was murdered, his two sons and son-in-law, who arrived in Atlanta last night, will ask the police today to make a thorough investigation.

"It looks like murder to me," said Rev. C. W. Rowe, of Rome, Ga., one of the sons. "I do not see how it was possible for my father to have fallen through the shaft and met his death through any accident.

"It is true that he drank some, but he was always able to take care of himself. Of course I don't know of any reason why he should have been killed, and I know of no enemies he had made, but I will certainly insist upon a complete probe of the case before accepting any accident theory.

Rowe Seen On Sunday.

"The last we heard of him was on last Sunday. Then I, as of our neighbors in Atlanta, saw him in Atlanta. Since then we have had no news of his whereabouts. We have made arrangements to have his body taken to Monroe, Ga., for funeral and interment. Tomorrow I will see the coroner and the city police and urge them to leave no stone unturned to get at the truth of this mystery.

"I do not know whether he had any more money with him than what was found by the police, but as a usual thing he carried considerable money on his person, and it is possible that robbery had something to do with the case.

"I see in the afternoon papers a story to the effect that letters found on my father's body indicated that he had two wives. I do not believe that there is a word of truth in that statement. Certainly the members of his family know nothing of it. He has never been divorced from my mother, who is still living with her family in Monroe."

Rev. C. W. Rowe is now pastor of a church six miles from Rome. He was at one time connected with the Jones Avenue Baptist church here as assistant to the Rev. Mr. McCutcheon. His brother, J. L. Rowe, of Monroe, and brother-in-law, P. L. Elmore, of Monroe, also arrived in Atlanta last night.

Death Puzzles Detectives.

The baffling death mystery surrounding the discovery Thursday morning of the decomposed body continued to puzzle the city detectives Thursday night, who are working on the case.

Lieut. Broadway afternoon Chief of Police James L. Beavers and Detective Butler visited the basement of the building and made a thorough search of the elevator shaft, finding the missing hat of the dead man partly hidden under debris in the bottom of the shaft. Close by the hat was found a bloody bludgeon, which was about three feet in length and the size in thickness of a 2x4 timber.

At one end of the bludgeon was a nail, and this end of the bludgeon and the nail were coated with blood. Close

PEACH CROP FATE HANGS IN BALANCE

No Damage Had Been Done Up to Late Thursday Night, According to Reports Received Here.

Unless the cold weather of last night produced considerable damage—and at this time it is too early to state—the fruit crop of Georgia has not been hurt.

Many thought that the sudden cold spell of Wednesday would prove fatal to the peach crop. This did not prove the case. Reports from various parts of the state are to the effect that the crop is unharmed as yet.

State Entomologist Lee Worsham said Thursday:

"I have received no information tending to indicate that the peach crop has been hurt. However, tonight will tell the tale. If there should be a hard freeze, as the weather reports indicate, the damage will be great."

Commissioner of Agriculture Price had received no news of damage up to late hour Thursday afternoon.

The dawn of Friday, it was predicted late Thursday night by C. F. von Herrmann, of the U. S. weather bureau, would see the end of Georgia's dangers from the frost, which, for two days, has been slowly advancing upon the south.

"The thermometer will probably stay above freezing until just before dawn—about 4:30 o'clock in the morning," said Mr. von Herrmann. "At that time, it can be expected to have reached thirty. As soon as the sun rises the temperature will begin to go up, and the danger will be over. The actual length of time during which frost temperature can be expected to reign will be no more than two hours."

For Friday, there is predicted fair weather, with a gradual and certain rise in the temperature. No frost is to be feared in the immediate future; in fact the outlook for days ahead—including Easter—is for excellent weather.

Dispatches were received which indicated that many Georgia peach growers were losing optimistic hopes on the wind which began to blow Thursday. This, however, it was predicted by the weather bureau, would die down before midnight.

ORCHARDISTS BELOW MACON BURN SMUDGES UNDER TREES

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Anticipating freezing temperature tonight throughout middle Georgia, peach growers below Macon are burning smudges in their orchards tonight in an effort to prevent serious injury to the crop. However, if the predicted freeze comes tonight, followed by rough weather for a day or two, the entire crop will probably be wiped out, entailing a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The temperature went as low as 40 degrees in this section and early this evening was dropping rapidly.

Truck growers are also apprehensive for the safety of their vegetables.

PEACH GROWERS AT CORNELIA ARE DEPENDING ON WIND

Cornelia, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The fruit crop is pronounced safe so far. However, there is a crisp breeze blowing, which indicates frost. In the event the breeze increases the force of the frost will be broken and no disastrous results will come.

Orchardists express themselves as confident that the crop will be fully 100 per cent if the Easter freeze is passed. The temperature registered 50 degrees this afternoon and will, no doubt, continue to drop.

GROWERS OF FORT VALLEY LOOKING FOR MEDIUM CROP

Fort Valley, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—At present the outlook is for about three-fourths of a crop in the Fort Valley section. A frost tonight would do material damage, the extent of which could not be estimated at this time. The growers are optimistic, however, and look for a medium crop this season.

PEACHES STILL UNHARMED IN THE VICINITY OF ROME

Rome, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Although low temperatures have prevailed here last night and today, the fruit crop in this section has probably not been harmed. A cloudy sky and high winds have kept the thermometer above 34 degrees.

FRUIT GROWERS IN COBB FEAR EARLY MORNING FROST

Marietta, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Fruit in Cobb was perfectly protected in Thursday morning's cold by clouds and high winds. Growers fear a still night may bring heavy frost Friday morning, but to this hour the fruit is in fine condition.

CROPS OF SOUTH GEORGIA IN DANGER FROM FREEZE

Thomasville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Winter played a return engagement here today and overcoats and furs have been in demand. Cotton, corn, watermelons and other crops are in a condition to be badly hurt should the predicted frost come tonight. The large crop of LeConts pears would also be damaged. It is hoped that the wind and clouds will prevent frost.

FRUIT CROP ABOUT DALTON IS SAVED BY HIGH WIND

Dalton, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The high wind which prevailed last night proved a salvation for the fruit crop, which is yet safe, although the temperature reached the freezing point. Inasmuch as the wind has calmed and the cold still prevails, much apprehension is felt for the safety of the fruit, and tonight is regarded as the crisis.

SUMTER COTTON GROWERS FEAR FOR YOUNG PLANTS

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

by the weapon was found an empty half-pint bottle of corn whisky.

Marks on the dead man's body advanced the theory that probably Rowe had been murdered on one of the floors above and thrown into the elevator shaft. There was a hole in the back of his neck, which was probably made either by a bullet or the nail in the end of the bludgeon.

The dead man's head was cut very deep on one side, and the left side of his face and his left shoulder horribly bruised. His neck was evidently broken.

From some papers on his person his identity was established. Several letters were also found in his pockets.

The detectives do not believe that he was robbed, as they found a $5 bill in his inside coat pocket, which was placed in a folding leather pocketbook. A half-dollar, a nickel and a one-cent piece were found in his side coat pocket. A plain gold watch was in his pocket.

The body was discovered about 10 o'clock by Sam Phillips, the negro janitor and freight elevator boy. Phillips had lowered the elevator to the basement and had stepped out of it to make some adjustment of the cables. He ran the elevator up a few feet in order to step underneath to examine the cables. As he stepped down into the bottom of the shaft, which is a few feet below the level of the basement, he saw the face of a white man directly underneath his foot. Horrified, he quickly drew his foot back and ran out and called up the police.

Detectives Summoned.

Detectives Moon, Patrick, Black and Rosser came to the scene and removed the dead man's body to A. O. Donehoo's undertaking establishment. The undertaker declared that the body had probably been in the pit from two and a half to three days.

The theory that the man had wandered into the elevator shaft in a drunken state and fallen to sleep was dropped when the negro elevator boy declared that the freight elevator never touched the bottom of the pit, which is about three feet below the level of the basement floor. He further declared that the entrance to the basement from underneath the Peachtree viaduct was always fastened by a lock, and that no one could enter the basement from the ground floor.

This left only two theories for the detectives to work upon. That the man had fallen either from the second or third floors of the building into the elevator shaft, or was murdered and thrown into the shaft.

The janitor states that recently carpenters were repairing the stairways on the second and third floors, and that the bludgeon could possibly have fallen through the shaft. There, it was smeared with blood when the man's head struck it.

An investigation of the building shows that on the second floor there is a toilet immediately to the left of the elevator door. The elevator door is of solid wood, and unlatches from the outside. Some of the detectives are of the belief Rowe had wandered into the building in a drunken state in search of the toilet and had opened the door to the elevator shaft and fallen through.

Love Tangle Revealed.

By the discovery of personal letters addressed to Rowe and a perusal of their contents, a thrilling love tangle was disclosed by the tragedy. Two of the love letters are signed "Your Loving Wife," and were written in March from Lanett, Ala.

A third was written from Gainesville, Ga., dated October 11, 1911, and is signed by "Minnie Knight." Each letter disclosed a story of undying devotion and love for Rowe.

A slip of paper found upon the body disclosed the fact that about two years ago he had worked for Prewitte Brothers Furniture company, at 142½ Edgewood avenue. D. R. Prewitte, of the furniture company, identified the body as Donehoo's as that of J. M. Rowe. He stated that the man formerly worked for him, and that about two years ago he left Atlanta for Lawrenceville, presumably to reside.

Mr. Prewitte stated further that the dead man had also worked for an evangelical minister at Rome, Ga., named Rev. C. W. Rowe. He further stated that he understood Rowe about two months ago held a position in Atlanta with the Home Art Supply company at 172 Whitehall street.

Love Letter From Wife.

One letter reads in part:

"I can't write for crying. To think that I have a sweet man in the world and can't be with him. It bursts my heart, and if you can find any way for us to live together, I will be so happy and will live for you. I don't want any other man but you. If I didn't love you, I would never have married you. You are all the world to me. Can you prove that you have got a divorce? If you can fix the papers up and send them to me I will live with you. You know it is against the law to have two living wives without a divorce. If you can find any way to get free from the law, I will live with you for you're the only man that I ever saw that I loved."

This letter was dated March, 1914, and signed "Your Loving Wife." The postmarked Lanett, Ala. The second letter, signed the same way, was along similar lines.

The third letter, which was signed "Minnie Knight," and writes from Gainesville, Ga., dated March 11, 1911, read, in part, as follows:

"I would like to see you, and if you'll send me the money I will see you soon. Oh, if I could only see you coming now. I thought before I met you that I had loved, but, alas, none until I saw the one that captured my heart and that was you, darling."

This letter was signed "Your friend until death." Below the letter was a bit of poetry:

"I once had a heart—a heart that was true;
It has flown from me and gone to you.
Care for it well, as I have done,
For you have two and I have none."

Tells of Divorce.

Another letter referring to the divorce of his wife, and written upon paper with the letter head of J. R. Watkins Medical company, Lawrenceville, Ga., read, in part, as follows:

"When I got a divorce from J. M. Rowe some twelve years ago we agreed that if he would not appear and fight the proceedings his disabilities would be removed also, and he would be at liberty to marry again."

This paper was unsigned, but dated March 24, 1913. It stated that the divorce case was tried by Judge R. B. Russell (Dick Russell), of the court of appeals.

A lawyer, whose name is unknown, came to Donehoo's Thursday afternoon and stated that he had talked to Rowe Monday morning in Lawrenceville, about his divorce case and that Rowe wanted him to take up the matter of getting his disabilities removed. He stated that Rowe had a sister in Lawrenceville, named Mrs. Thomas M. O'Kelley. She was communicated with, and stated that Rowe left there Tuesday morning for Birmingham, Ala.

Worked on Convict Guard.

A dispatch from Lawrenceville said J. M. Rowe was until recently a convict guard in Gwinnett county. This was borne out by the discovery in one of Rowe's pockets of a monthly report of the misdemeanor convicts of Gwinnett county, signed by C. L. Nash.

On a card in his pocket was written the name of Mrs. B. H. Rainey, Lanett, Ala. In an inside pocket the detectives found a health certificate relating to Rowe's physical condition, signed by Drs. J. F. C. Van Horn and G. P. Hurst, of Monroe, Ga. It stated that Rowe had lived in Monroe for twenty years, and that he was of delicate health, and subject to nervous paroxysms, and unable to do any hard physical labor.

It is probable that Coroner Donehoo will hold his inquest over the body of the dead man this morning.

The body is at the chapel of A. O. & Roy Donehoo and will be carried to his home at Monroe, Ga., for funeral and interment. Mr. Rowe was 44 years old. Surviving him are his wife and the following children: Rev. C. W. Rowe, of Rome; J. L., Tom, Willie, Travis and C. C. Rowe, of Monroe; Misses Florence and Georgia Rowe, Mrs. Lizzie Ellison and Mrs. W. C. Fortner, of Monroe.

WILSON IS INTERESTED IN CHILDREN'S BUREAU

Washington, April 9.—Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the federal children's bureau, gave President Wilson today a preliminary statement of the study being made by the bureau on the subject of health for the feebleminded. She said later the president personally was interested in the present situation and had called upon her frequently for information about the work. Miss Lathrop explained that the bureau of education and the children's bureau would soon draw up a joint plan for handling the problem. She spoke of the reduction of the appropriation for the children's bureau from $160,000, that had been asked, to $26,000 and the president expressed his regret that such action had been taken.

DIVORCE SYSTEM SCORED BY ELLIS

Judge Tells the Jury He Has Felt "Humiliated" at Having to Preside Over So Many Cases.

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the superior court, who has been hearing undefended divorce suits, yesterday scored the divorce system in an address to the jury, following the hearing of the last case on the list.

"Witness, step down," said Judge Ellis. Then he turned to the jury and let loose. He characterized the proceedings of the previous four days as disgusting. He spoke slightingly of the Georgia divorce laws. He described his own feelings at having to hear so many divorce cases in four days as "humiliating." Last of all, he scored the 146 men and women who had been given decrees.

"Did you notice these women?" he demanded. "Did you notice that nearly all of them wore startling and gaudy clothes, and addressed the jury in such bland and honeyed tones that you could hardly hear them? If they'd taken the trouble to talk that way at home we probably wouldn't have had any divorce proceedings.

"During the trial of all these cases," he went on, "not the wail of an infant was heard in this court. If a man is on trial for murder or some other crime, his wife and children will fairly overflow the courtroom, but you don't see them hanging around when one of these undefended divorce suits is going through.

"One woman, you will remember, made a sworn statement of most inhuman cruelty supposed to have been suffered at the hands of her husband—a sworn statement from this stand. Yet the husband, the next day, in the public print, branded every one of those statements as untrue. But he didn't try to stop the divorce. How many other husbands could also deny such statements if they wanted to do it?"

Judge Ellis stated that he had introduced a bill embodying his ideas for divorce reforms in the legislature, but that after a favorable hearing it had been killed in the judiciary committee.

"You gentlemen," the court concluded, "have seen what occurs under the present laws. How much they need to be amended, you can deduce for yourselves."

SPLENDID WEATHER FORECAST FRIDAY; SAME FOR SATURDAY

Following is the Atlanta weather forecast:

Friday will be a fine, clear day without much wind, which will be mostly from the west, shifting toward evening to south. The temperature in the early morning will be about 50 degrees, with a killing frost, but in the afternoon the temperature will rise rapidly, probably reaching 65 degrees in the afternoon and over 70 degrees on Saturday. Saturday is also likely to be fine.

GOOD FRIDAY HANGING SCHEDULED IN FLORIDA

TEN BLAZES LAID TO J. W. YARBROUGH

Man Accused of Giving Girl Poisoned Banana Said to Have Had Many Fires During Last Few Years.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—With a view to determining whether or not there are grounds for taking out a warrant charging John W. Yarbrough, the man who is alleged to have given Miss Irene Herndon a poisoned banana last Saturday, with arson, in connection with the burning a couple of weeks ago of the home in which he was living, State Fire Marshal W. R. Joyner, of Atlanta, will hold an inquiry here tomorrow morning and will go fully into the matter. More than forty affidavits will figure in the case, some having to do with previous fires it is alleged that Yarbrough was connected with.

Captain Joyner stated today that he was undecided what his course would be if the evidence at the hearing tomorrow indicated that Yarbrough was responsible for the fire. He said if the testimony warranted it he would either swear out a warrant himself or turn the matter over to Solicitor Ross with the request that it be brought before the grand jury, which convenes here next Monday.

Yarbrough today continued to protest his innocence of the charge of giving Miss Herndon the banana containing a large quantity of bichloride of mercury. He has employed Attorney W. D. McNeill, state senator from the twenty-second district, to represent him and the latter said today that Yarbrough has not only been done a great injustice, but is the victim of an awful plot. Attorney McNeill declared that if Yarbrough is vindicated, heavy damage suits will be brought against the ones who made the charges against him, for false arrest and defamation of character.

The charges in brief against Yarbrough are that he gave Miss Herndon a poisoned banana in order to put her out of the way so that she could not testify against him if a charge of arson was brought against him.

Miss Herndon claims to have discovered that when Yarbrough's house was burned he saved four trunks filled with household goods which were secreted in a barn at the rear of the house. Yarbrough had made affidavit that he had lost household goods to the value of $1,900, and sought to collect insurance to the amount of $1,700 and Miss Herndon learned of this, it is said, and had told several people of her alleged discovery of the trunks.

The insurance company which held the policy for $1,500 on Yarbrough's property claims that it has information in its possession that Yarbrough has had ten fires in Georgia during the last few years.

ALLEGED GAMBLERS ARRESTED AT GAME IN GRAND JURY ROOM

Baxley, Ga., April 9.—H. Cleland, constable of a justice court; David Tuten and Joseph Williams, were arrested here today charged with gambling in the grand jury room at the county courthouse. The city marshal, who made the arrests, reported that cards and other gambling paraphernalia were taken by him in his "raid" on the jury room. Cases were lodged against Cleland and Tuten, but Williams was released.

INTEREST CENTERED IN REPORT OF BURNS

Will Probably Be Early Next Week Before It Is Submitted by the Detective.

Interest in the Leo Frank case is now centered on the forthcoming report of Detective William J. Burns. He stated Thursday that no definite date had been set, but it is the general belief that it will not be submitted until the early part of next week.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey left the city last night and will not return until the day previous to the date set for Leo Frank's execution—April 17. The investigation being promoted into the case by the prosecution is being managed almost entirely by the detective department, fully six men of which are actively at work.

Women Want Full Suffrage.

Chicago, April 9.—Declaring that women demonstrated their desire to vote at Tuesday's township election, woman suffrage leaders today began a movement for full suffrage for the women of Illinois. Under the acual suffrage act passed by the last legislature women cannot vote for state officials, members of the legislature, members of congress or other constitutional offices.

OAKLEY IS ACQUITTED BY AN ALABAMA JURY

Columbiana, Ala., April 9.—The jury acquitted James G. Oakley, former president of the state convict department, at 6 o'clock this afternoon. Oakley was tried for the alleged embezzlement of $3,500 of state funds during his period of office. The jury was ready with verdict at 4 o'clock, but it was two hours later before the judge received it. Oakley's attorneys had started for Montgomery and reached Shelby when they were called back by telephone. They went into conference with the judge and spent two hours with him before he received the verdict.

SMUGGLERS OF OPIUM FOR ATLANTA PRISON

New York, April 9.—Hugo Grobe, until recently second officer of a big German liner, and John Eyckman, a hotel proprietor of Hoboken, N. J., pleaded guilty today to an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government by smuggling opium into the country. Each was sentenced to serve one year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

Yee Sang and Lee Joe, Chinese, who were indicted jointly with Grobe and Eyckman, have yet to plead.

Roses and Posies and Fruits and Foliage!

The Daintiest and Prettiest Hats of the Season Arrived from Estelle Mershon Yesterday

A number of them have the magic names of wonderful Paris milliners; the others are the creations and the adaptations of Estelle Mershon, of 20 E. 46 St., New York.

They are in every respect the daintiest and prettiest collection of hats we have offered this season. And here it is but two days until Easter.

What are the hats?

They are a reflection, or rather an embodiment of the lately successful styles of Paris and New York.

Tiny turbans, bewitching Watteau hats, smart sailors, piquant poke bonnets. Hats that seem to be nothing but a flat brim and a bandeau and a bit of fruit or floral trimming; others that flare up oddly in the back and have a band that fits under the back coiffure.

Nothing new is missing, the fruit and the flowers, the lacquered ribbons, the high colors are put to their smartest uses. The result is hats that will queen it over all at such times as Easter and the opera.

Early in the season we advised that this would be a season of the dainty hat. It is coming to pass. These, the latest and best efforts (or copies) of the world's celebrated artists in millinery, are proving it.

We invite you to this, the most satisfying display of spring millinery thus far this season.

CALLING A HALT.

The Anglophobists claim that the election of Oscar Underwood to the senate from Alabama was a repudiation of the president's position on Panama canal tolls, Underwood having taken issue with the president in this matter.

Mr. Underwood will not take oath as senator until March 4, 1915. The tolls controversy will then have been settled.

But Captain Frank S. White, elected to fill the short senatorial term from Alabama up to March 4, 1915, will vote on the tolls controversy. Here is his public statement:

> I am opposed to the exemption of canal tolls to American ships, on the ground that it is unfair and undemocratic. My position is independent of any question of national honor that might arise out of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Exemption of tolls to United States ships is in line with the levying of taxes on imports for the sake of protection. It's a favoritism shown American ships at the expense of the people.

Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, takes the same position. Both agree that, independent of the question of national honor, appealing enough in itself, the economic principle of subsidies involved in coastwise exemption is undemocratic and piratical.

So Alabama's two senate votes are with the president for repeal of the free toll subsidy.

The Anglophobists die hard.

Among the first of the telegrams of congratulation Underwood received after his victory was one from the president. Its warmth and spontaneity were evident. Its concluding sentence was: "Now for a triumphant conclusion of the democratic program."

The president feels, as does The Constitution, that honest divergence is no ground for tolerance, for party wreckage, for venom and bitterness that includes gutter abuse and that verges on staking personal vindictiveness against common patriotism and the country's welfare. No paper in the country has been more persistent in its antagonism to the tolls grab than The Constitution. No paper in the south has been more fast in its admiration and advocacy of Oscar Underwood. Instead of abusing, vilifying and berating him because we took different views on the canal tolls, The Constitution, recognizing the honesty and commending the courage of the man, supported him just as earnestly as it knew how, and with becoming modesty we believe that—with The Constitution having a larger circulation in Alabama than any Alabama newspaper—its assistance, to say the least of it, did Mr. Underwood no harm.

In this connection it is worthy of note that every leading newspaper in middle and northern Alabama which stood with the president on the question of canal tolls were equally as zealous in their support of Underwood, who made no issue with the president in his campaign for the senate, knowing the matter would be disposed of before he entered the senate.

How different the attitude of the Alabama toll repeal newspapers toward Underwood and that of some of the jingo newspapers which, by character assassination, charges of treachery and incendiary appeals to bestial and ignorant passion, seek to inflame the public mind against the president of the United States.

No wonder the press of the country is beginning to call a halt in this miserable campaign of personal abuse and vilification of the president—a campaign based upon the theory that the national mind is a blank and that the virtue of patriotism is a football for political harlotry.

SAFETY COSTS MONEY.

The interstate commerce commission reports a gratifying decrease in the number of people killed or injured on American railways for the quarter ending September 30, 1913.

Two causes actuated these effects:

More scrupulous attention to operating detail, in response to public sentiment, and a realization of the avoidability of accidents.

The installation of safety appliances.

Each of these factors must figure increasingly in railroad management, as people grow to demand more safety and at the same time not to remit in their demand for speed and efficiency.

And both of these factors demand money on part of the railroads. Efficiency on part of employees is high-priced. The cheap railroad man is incompetent and dangerous. The safety and efficiency you buy are reflected in the pay envelope of the man who handles the throttle, the telegraph key or the repair tool.

Safety mechanical appliances cost money. Foremost among them is the double-track system, which soon must be effected upon all trunk southern lines. Decent rolling stock and replacements are further items.

Some of the great systems have shown what can be accomplished in making transportation safe and at the same time efficient.

But it has cost much money to get to this point. More will be required, as development thrusts greater burdens on the carrier.

The railroads are asking for a nominal increase in tariffs that they may so stabilize their revenues as to be able to borrow money for these improvements that mean so much to traffic.

It is for the interstate commerce commission to decide if the roads have sufficiently recovered from their old-time financial and "watering" debauch to justify the authority.

The selling of the securities marketed to assure these improvements will turn loose a cool billion into every channel of trade and industry.

That means prosperity. It means also safety and efficiency.

WILSON ON LOCAL OPTION.

President Wilson has reaffirmed his advocacy of local option with regard to the liquor question, a position taken unequivocally when he was governor of New Jersey.

A dispatch from Washington, evidently inspired, states this fact and quotes, as follows, the letter in which the president, then governor, originally laid down his position:

> I am in favor of local option. I am a thorough believer in local self-government, and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a local unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses. But the questions involved are social and moral and are not susceptible of being made parts of a party program.

Local self-government and, specifically as regards the liquor traffic, local option, is a traditional democratic doctrine. In times past it never was challenged, either by prohibitionists or anti-prohibitionists. Whatever crusades the one or other element projected were restricted to their respective localities. Only within recent years have efforts been made to inject an issue essentially moral and ethical into the realm of national or state-wide politics.

The president is right. Unbiased observation strengthens the belief that efforts to inject prohibition into politics has done the cause of temperance more harm than good. We have a very concrete illustration of that fact in the recent senatorial campaign in Alabama. The political fortunes of the candidate who strove to subordinate logical issues to the moral issues of prohibition fell before the common sense of the protesting voters.

The more quickly the bona-fide or the demagogic advocates of prohibition learn that the principle of local self-government should be all prevailing, and that the attempt to enforce one community's definition of virtue upon another is abhorrent to reason and democracy, the better for all concerned.

THE CENTRAL'S PRESIDENT.

The selection of W. A. Winburn as president of the Central of Georgia railway is a tribute to loyalty and efficiency, and is significant of the rapid development of the big territory covered by the Central.

Mr. Winburn succeeds C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, which railroad also owns the Central. Mr. Markham found that the phenomenal development of the two properties placed too onerous a burden upon him as the president of both. Hence the promotion of Mr. Winburn. Mr. Markham retains the presidency of the Illinois Central and of the Ocean Steamship company.

Mr. Winburn has grown up in the service of the Central. Since 1893 he has been in its employ in various capacities, steadily advancing all the time. His last promotion is the logical climax to a career that has covered every practical phase of railroad administration, and that has equipped him admirably to fulfill his new functions.

No section of the south has expanded more rapidly in business and agriculture than the field traversed by this important system.

Mr. Winburn succeeds to the direction of a property that is gradually being molded into one of the most valuable and best-equipped in the southern states. Under his administration the Central will be well qualified to get its share of the prosperity now opening before the eastern half of the southern states.

The career of Mr. Winburn is a singular illustration of the efficiency of application, industry and ability in pursuing opportunity in this country. Still a young man, he has wrought so well and so faithfully that not only has he won the confidence of those who control the Central, but he enjoys as well the esteem of all its patrons and of the public. He employed no magic formula in his success. Just the old-fashioned virtues of ability, hard work and persistence, which have blazed the way to distinction ever since the world began.

TENNESSEE THREATENED WITH BITTER POLITICAL STRUGGLE

Nashville, Tenn., April 9.—(Special.)—The bitterest political struggle that Tennessee has yet had is promised in the attempt of the democrats to regain the state from Governor Hooper, for this republican leader, also choice of the fusionists in the past for governor, will undoubtedly secure without opposition the nomination for the third term when the G. O. P. assembles in state convention April 15.

Of all the democratic leaders who have served as chief executive of the state in the past, none in recent years has had the temerity to stand for the third consecutive term for governor, so great is the prejudice against the third-term idea in this state, and it has remained for the second republican governor since the civil war period to make an attempt to break up the well-observed custom of the past.

Governor Hooper has such a hold on his own party, however, and has been so strongly in favor with the fusion democrats in the past two contests, that no one else in the ranks of the G. O. P. would dare oppose him for the nomination. He will not only get the republican nomination for governor by acclamation, but the fusion democrats, at their so-called "snap convention" following one week after the republicans, will likewise endorse Governor Hooper for a third indorsement for the highest office in the state.

But it does not follow that the indorsement of the fusionists assembling on April 21 will be a guide for all of the fusion democrats to follow. Developments so far give fair promise of a reunited party this year. Not only is the call of President Wilson for harmony being heeded by many, but the two United States senators and seven of the eight democratic congressmen have put themselves on record as strongly favoring the harmony idea of the president.

Backed up by such support the nominee of the democrats at the convention to be held May 26 will have also a strong array of state papers that have supported the fusion plan in the past solely on account of the position of the fusionists on the liquor question and the election laws.

With the democratic state committee already on record as favoring the continuance of both the temperance and election laws the republicans and such former democrats who remain with Governor Hooper will be deprived of a great amount of political thunder when it comes to inciting the people on the election laws and the liquor question. A majority of the people of the state regard the liquor question as settled, and it may be that an effort to keep it alive will react against a leader of such continued disturbance.

SUFFRAGISTS BUSY IN TENNESSEE.

The national suffrage party, in deciding on Tennessee for the national party convention this autumn, when the meeting will be in Nashville, has made public proposition that the effort to gain votes for women in the south will be first attempted in a general way in this commonwealth.

Particularly significant is the fact that the national convention is scheduled here just prior to the session of the next legislature, when every effort will be made by the local suffragettes to gain recognition as ballot fillers.

The first step taken toward the recognition of woman was at the last session of the Tennessee general assembly when a law was passed that gave women the right to own and control property independent of their husband. With the agitation of the right to vote at the national convention to be held at the capital this autumn, the local leaders hope to be well prepared to make an onslaught on the next legislature in a petition for the right of ballot.

No Panacea for Tuberculosis; Nature Offers the Only Cure

(From The New York Post.)

In spite of the statements of a number of individuals who have recently claimed that they have found a "cure" for consumption, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the highest authority on this disease in America, in a bulletin published today, declares that there is no information at hand to justify the belief that any specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession and the people.

Backing up these statements, the United States public health service declares that outside of the three essentials in the treatment of consumption, namely, rest, fresh air and good food, "there is no drug known, however rare or expensive it may be, that has any curative action in this disease, and all remedies advertised as such are to be avoided. Cough medicines are harmful; radium, X-rays, or electricity in any of its forms have no special value in tuberculosis of the lungs. No serum has yet been found that will cure it, and there is no plaster or poultice which has an effect on the disease itself."

Campaign Against Nostrums.

The national association is planning in the near future to institute an extensive campaign for the suppression of the numerous fake consumption cures which are annually cheating the public of the United States out of no less than $15,000,000, and besides have been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession and the people.

FROM A PRISON CELL.

There is no hour so dark, so black,
As that which turns the memory back
To scenes and deeds that thought we had
Forever buried with the dead.
A thing once done can never die;
It boots not how soreas the sky
May spread and mile above our head;
A thing once done is never dead.
The best way to undo the deed
That stains our hearts and conscience bleed
Is just to look above and say:
I will pursue a better way.
A man, no matter how debased,
Or low or fallen or disgraced,
Can rise above his yesterdays,
By deeds today all men must praise.
One thing we never must forget:
We owe to all mankind the debt
Of service and of friendship true—
Who pays this debt shall live anew.
And this his high reward shall be—
A freeman of eternity.

President Haden Pleads For Safe Modification Of City Beef Inspection

Referring to the statements of Dr. Kennedy, city health officer, in The Constitution of yesterday regarding the slaughter house problem, Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, said:

"I hold in the highest esteem Dr. Kennedy personally, and as a public officer. The intentions of the ordinance are no doubt good, but the effects are extremely unjust. It is too sweeping. It makes it possible for a hog-raiser living five miles beyond the state line to market his dressed animals in Atlanta, while the Georgia farmer, who lives inside the state and contributes to the state's tax, is forbidden the privilege. Dr. Kennedy is in error in his theory that the ordinance 'permits' packing houses to ship here dressed meats. Any ordinance would be powerless to prevent it. The federal law prevents it.

"I have talked the matter over with the transportation authorities and they tell me it is a very easy and practicable thing to inspect dressed meats arriving in Atlanta from local Georgia points. Meats are now, and have been at all times, thus shipped into Savannah and Jacksonville by express or freight, one hog or many. Atlanta is the only city, so far as I can learn, that thus discriminates against the Georgia farmer. This hurtful and unjust ordinance will be, I am sure, repealed as soon as the people learn the truth.

"It is an easy matter to inspect meats at the express office as it is at the private warerooms of the packing house.

"Give the question publicity and let the people have the facts. The meat consumers of the city are concerned in being able to buy meat in the open market. Perpetuation of power no doubt is the principle for to buy from Georgia growers, all things being equal.

"No people in the world are broader-spirited than the people of Atlanta. They will not knowingly give preferentials to the meat trust. The present ordinance practically prohibits the Georgia farmers from shipping to this market, while they can ship without restraint to Savannah, Macon, Augusta and Jacksonville.

"Dr. Kennedy uses the phrase qualifiedly, 'honest farmers.' If he were in as close touch with the farmers as he would probably give them first place in point of honest dealing, as compared with Chicago packing house. Certain it is that the Georgia farmers have not yet been indicted by federal grand juries, as were the meat kings of the northwest in their effort to increase the price of hogs and raise the price of meat.

"The restriction fails with especial harshness on the small farmer. Unless he produces enough hogs to make up a carload that he may ship them alive and have them slaughtered here then the present ordinance practically bars him from this market."

Electric Road and Mail Service

(From The Electrical Railway Journal.)

The West Chester (Pa.) street railway has restored its early mail service between West Chester, Kennett Square, Downingtown and Coatesville. When the contract between the United States postoffice department and the railway expired the company refused to renew on account of the greatly increased amount of mail carried and the small compensation allowed by the government for the service. The company will continue the service for one month and negotiations for a new contract will be started.

DAILY GRIST from the STATES POLITICAL GRIND

BURWELL WILL MAKE THE RACE; W. C. VEREEN IS OUT OF IT

Practically the only political developments of Wednesday were the tentative announcement for governor of W. H. Burwell, speaker of the house, and the statement of W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, that he "was out of politics for the year," and would not be a candidate for governor.

Mr. Burwell, who is one of the leading politicians of the state, is a prominent lawyer of Sparta. He was a member of the state senate during the first administration of Hoke Smith, and was a leader in that body. Later he was elected to the house. As speaker of the house, he was conspicuously successful and his tact and diplomacy made him a splendid presiding officer.

In a conversation over the long distance telephone Wednesday he had the following to say:

"I am considering, very seriously, the matter of running for governor. I have been considering that very thing ever since Governor Slaton stated positively his candidacy for the United States senate.

"I have already conferred with a number of my friends throughout the state as to the matter and am expecting to confer with others during the present week. I may say, too, that the outlook now is that I shall enter the race.

"I do not deny an ambition to be governor, and if it should come to me finally that the present is a fit and proper time for me to try for that high and honorable position, I certainly shall make the race. I shall be in position to state positively what I will do, however, within a few days."

The statement that W. C. Vereen would not be a candidate for governor was contained in his home paper, The Moultrie Observer. Mr. Vereen was prominently spoken of as a possible appointee to succeed the late A. O. Bacon as United States senator. At the meeting of the state executive committee a large delegation of his friends were in attendance to look over the situation.

Thus far there has been only one announced candidate for governor—Dr. R. L. Hardman, of Commerce. Dr. Hardman has published his formal announcement. J. Randolph Anderson, of Chatham, president of the senate, is expected to make his announcement in almost any time. Murphy Candler, chairman of the state railroad commission, is daily receiving letters from friends urging him to enter the lists for governor, while Judge W. D. Thomas, of Valdosta, has a strong following in south Georgia who are anxious for him to make the race.

Altogether it looks as if candidates for governor would be as thick as blackberries in summer time within the next few weeks.

Following the above published statement of W. C. Vereen declining to enter the race:

"Hon. W. C. Vereen will not be a candidate for governor this year.

"He said as much to a representative of The Observer today when asked for an expression. He says that he is not out of politics, but that he is not willing to leave his business interests to engage in a long hot political fight, such as is promised in Georgia this year.

"Just at this time Mr. Vereen is giving much attention to the building of the large packing house here, and this is claiming more of his attention at this time than politics.

"While Mr. Vereen made it plain that he would not become a candidate for governor, at the same time he did not want to fall it, but it be known that he is deeply appreciative of the efforts of his friends who have, of their own accord, been so unduly pressing his claims for that high office."

FELDER DENIES ANY CONFERENCE IN REGARD TO SENATE RACE

Attorney General Thomas G. Felder candidate for the senate, returned to Atlanta Wednesday from Washington, where he had been on legal business for the state. Asked about the statement that he had had a conference with Congressman Tom Hardwick regarding the senatorial race, he smiled and said:

"It is true that I met Mr. Hardwick at the capital and had a few words of greeting with him, but that was all there was to it; I chanced to run up on him in the capitol and we stopped and shook hands. One can not be expected to run from his opponent, can he? As to the contemplated deal with Mr. Hardwick is concerned, nothing is or was further from my mind. I am in the race to stay.

"As soon as I got off the train the reporters wanted to know if I would see Mr. Hardwick. There was no significance to my meeting Hardwick.

Mr. Felder said that he was receiving many letters from various parts of the state, but that he would announce any campaign plans until after he left the office of attorney general. Up to that time he said he would be busy with routine matters to do more than answer letters.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEES ARE BEING ORGANIZED FOR SLATON

Governor Slaton's mail continues to increase. He is finding it a difficult matter to keep up with the many letters and telegrams that are daily pouring in.

"My mail is at large if not larger than it was for the corresponding time during my race for governor," said Governor Slaton Wednesday.

Ex-Silberton Star, a strong Hoke Smith paper, has come out for Slaton, as has also The Dahlonega Nugget and The Miller County Local. Practically the only daily papers in the state opposed to him are The Macon News, which has declared for Felder, and The Augusta Herald, which is supporting Hardwick.

News has reached the governor that campaign committees are being organized in various counties of the state and systematic work in his behalf has begun.

Among the calls Governor Slaton Wednesday was former Representative E. S. Ault, of Polk county, who is a strong supporter of the governor. He brought encouraging news from his section.

CLEMENTS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN FOR CONGRESS IN 12TH DISTRICT

Eastman, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The announcement of Hon. Walter M. Clements, of this city, for congress from the twelfth, appeared in all the papers of the district last week. As a result his friends are planning a very active and aggressive campaign in his behalf.

A large number of his Eastman and Dodge county friends met in the rooms of the Commercial club Monday afternoon and perfected plans for the organization of a Dodge County Clements club and a central campaign committee. O. A. Gentry was elected president of the campaign committee and Professor J. E. Matthews was elected secretary.

It is a certainty that there will be a warm battle in the twelfth district this year. Mr. Hughes has not yet made his formal announcement, but it is expected in a few days.

SMITH THE FIRST CANDIDATE FOR THE RAILROAD COMMISSION

Waycross, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Waycross friends of G. G. Smith, of Brunswick, a former superintendent of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, today stated that Mr. Smith will be a candidate for railroad commissioner, making his announcement at the proper time.

As far as is known the candidacy of Mr. Smith is the first developing for railroad commissioner in south Georgia. It is said that already friends in all sections of the state have promised to support Mr. Smith in his race.

HART COUNTY VOTERS GLAD GOV. SLATON WILL NOT RESIGN

Hartwell, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—The people of Hart county are looking with great favor on the candidacy of Governor John M. Slaton for the unexpired term of Senator A. O. Bacon.

The universal sentiment, as gathered from those expressing themselves, is that they are gratified that Governor Slaton is not to resign his present high office pending his candidacy for the United States senate.

That Governor Slaton and Senator Hoke Smith will carry Hart county almost unanimously is a foregone conclusion.

FRIENDS STILL URGING COBB TO ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNOR

Athens, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—Despite the fact that Judge Andrew J. Cobb has stated that he is not in a position to enter the gubernatorial campaign, his friends here and throughout the state are continuing to urge him to make the race.

During the past few days discussion of the matter has been very general here, and it is thought a strong movement is being brought to bear upon Judge Cobb to announce.

Reports from various sections of the state indicate that the suggestion of Judge Cobb's name has been very favorably received and his friends claim that he could win easily if he entered the race. Through his connection with the University Law school he has been thrown in personal contact with hundreds of men now prominent in every section of the state, the great majority of whom it is claimed would enthusiastically welcome his announcement for governor.

MILTON COUNTY OFFICERS NAMED IN PRIMARY HELD ON TUESDAY

Alpharetta, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The following county officers were nominated in the democratic primary held today:

Hundred Times Over Ocean And Return, This Seadog Has Thrilling Experiences

Captain Charles Polack, of the North German Lloyd, in command of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, completed one hundred round trips as a captain in the employ of the North German Lloyd, when he arrived in New York on Tuesday, March 17. This remarkable record is gained by but few sea captains, and when it is considered that Captain Polack is still in the prime, there is every likelihood that he will have broken all existing records before the time arrives for him to retire and settle down for a little farm," as they all announce, but few really do. Scores of friends of Captain Polack were waiting at the dock when he arrived in New York to extend their congratulations upon his splendid achievement.

Captain Polack, during his long career at sea, has had experiences that, if truthfully told, would prove as fascinatingly interesting as the tales of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Long at Sea.

Captain Polack has been in the service of the North German Lloyd since 1885, and has been at sea since he was 15 years old. He was appointed a captain on July 11, 1897, and has been successively in command of the steamers Aachen, Prinz Heinrich, Barbier, Princess Irene, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, George Washington and Kronprinzessin Cecilie. He commanded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse when that ship was the largest and finest steamer afloat, and when the Kronprinzessin Cecilie wrested the laurels from her Captain Polack was quite naturally transferred to the newer and larger ship.

On the 900 single trips he has been in command of North German Lloyd ships crossing and recrossing the Atlantic, Captain Polack has traveled approximately 636,000 miles. During sunshine and storm he has brought his ship safely to port, although there were times when his courage, bravery and seamanship were taxed to the utmost. His most memorable and hardest trip was when he started from New York on October 23, 1907, with the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for London, Paris and Bremen. As he contemplated deal with Mr. Hardwick is concerned, nothing is or was further from my mind. I am in the race to stay.

"As soon as I got off the train the reporters wanted to know if I would see Mr. Hardwick. There was no significance to my meeting Hardwick.

Long at Sea.

Captain Polack has been in the service of the North German Lloyd since 1885, and has been at sea since he was 15 years old. He was appointed a captain on July 11, 1897, and has been successively in command of the steamers Aachen, Prinz Heinrich, Barbier, Princess Irene, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, George Washington and Kronprinzessin Cecilie. He commanded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse when that ship was the largest and finest steamer afloat, and when the Kronprinzessin Cecilie wrested the laurels from her Captain Polack was quite naturally transferred to the newer and larger ship.

On the 900 single trips he has been in command of North German Lloyd ships crossing and recrossing the Atlantic, Captain Polack has traveled approximately 636,000 miles. During sunshine and storm he has brought his ship safely to port, although there were times when his courage, bravery and seamanship were taxed to the utmost. His most memorable and hardest trip was when he started from New York on October 23, 1907, with the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for London, Paris and Bremen. As he contemplated deal with Mr. Hardwick is concerned, nothing is or was further from my mind. I am in the race to stay.

"As soon as I got off the train the reporters wanted to know if I would see Mr. Hardwick. There was no significance to my meeting Hardwick.

Mr. Felder said that he was receiving many letters from various parts of the state, but that he would not announce any campaign plans until after he left the office of attorney general. Up to that time he said he would be busy with routine matters to do more than answer letters.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEES ARE BEING ORGANIZED FOR SLATON

Governor Slaton's mail continues to increase. He is finding it a difficult matter to keep up with the many letters and telegrams that are daily pouring in.

"My mail is at large if not larger than it was for the corresponding time during my race for governor," said Governor Slaton Wednesday.

Ex-Silberton Star, a strong Hoke Smith paper, has come out for Slaton, as has also The Dahlonega Nugget and The Miller County Local. Practically the only daily papers in the state opposed to him are The Macon News, which has declared for Felder, and The Augusta Herald, which is supporting Hardwick.

News has reached the governor that campaign committees are being organized in various counties of the state and systematic work in his behalf has begun.

Among the calls Governor Slaton Wednesday was former Representative E. S. Ault, of Polk county, who is a strong supporter of the governor. He brought encouraging news from his section.

CLEMENTS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN FOR CONGRESS IN 12TH DISTRICT

Eastman, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The announcement of Hon. Walter M. Clements, of this city, for congress from the twelfth, appeared in all the papers of the district last week. As a result his friends are planning a very active and aggressive campaign in his behalf.

A large number of his Eastman and Dodge county friends met in the rooms of the Commercial club Monday afternoon and perfected plans for the organization of a Dodge County Clements club and a central campaign committee. O. A. Gentry was elected president of the campaign committee and Professor J. E. Matthews was elected secretary.

It is a certainty that there will be a warm battle in the twelfth district this year. Mr. Hughes has not yet made his formal announcement, but it is expected in a few days.

SMITH THE FIRST CANDIDATE FOR THE RAILROAD COMMISSION

Waycross, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Waycross friends of G. G. Smith, of Brunswick, a former superintendent of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, today stated that Mr. Smith will be a candidate for railroad commissioner, making his announcement at the proper time.

As far as is known the candidacy of Mr. Smith is the first developing for railroad commissioner in south Georgia. It is said that already friends in all sections of the state have promised to support Mr. Smith in his race.

HART COUNTY VOTERS GLAD GOV. SLATON WILL NOT RESIGN

Hartwell, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—The people of Hart county are looking with great favor on the candidacy of Governor John M. Slaton for the unexpired term of Senator A. O. Bacon.

The universal sentiment, as gathered from those expressing themselves, is that they are gratified that Governor Slaton is not to resign his present high office pending his candidacy for the United States senate.

That Governor Slaton and Senator Hoke Smith will carry Hart county almost unanimously is a foregone conclusion.

FRIENDS STILL URGING COBB TO ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNOR

Athens, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—Despite the fact that Judge Andrew J. Cobb has stated that he is not in a position to enter the gubernatorial campaign, his friends here and throughout the state are continuing to urge him to make the race.

During the past few days discussion of the matter has been very general here, and it is thought a strong movement is being brought to bear upon Judge Cobb to announce.

Reports from various sections of the state indicate that the suggestion of Judge Cobb's name has been very favorably received and his friends claim that he could win easily if he entered the race. Through his connection with the University Law school he has been thrown in personal contact with hundreds of men now prominent in every section of the state, the great majority of whom it is claimed would enthusiastically welcome his announcement for governor.

Hundred Times Over Ocean And Return, This Seadog Has Thrilling Experiences

Captain Charles Polack, of the North German Lloyd, in command of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, completed one hundred round trips as a captain in the employ of the North German Lloyd, when he arrived in New York on Tuesday, March 17. This remarkable record is gained by but few sea captains, and when it is considered that Captain Polack is still in the prime, there is every likelihood that he will have broken all existing records before the time arrives for him to retire and settle down for a little farm," as they all announce, but few really do. Scores of friends of Captain Polack were waiting at the dock when he arrived in New York to extend their congratulations upon his splendid achievement.

Captain Polack, during his long career at sea, has had experiences that, if truthfully told, would prove as fascinatingly interesting as the tales of Robert Louis Stevenson.

BROOKS FARMERS KNOCK ORDINANCE

Charge Atlanta Law, Requiring Meat to Be Shipped Alive, Discriminates Against Ga. Stock Raiser.

Quitman, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—At a meeting held in Quitman today the matter of the discrimination against the small Georgia meat raiser through an ordinance requiring all meat, except in carload lots, to be shipped alive and killed in Atlanta slaughter houses was most earnestly protested against and its repeal urged. The secretary of Brooks County Industrial club was instructed to send to Mayor Woodward, the following telegram:

"We notice agitation in Atlanta in regard to the Atlanta ordinance discriminating against the small Georgia meat raiser and as a broad-minded Georgia citizen, whom we believe is interested more in the small Georgia producer than in the big packing house interests of the west, we earnestly ask you to do everything in your power to eliminate this ban upon the small Georgia producer, who should be encouraged rather than legislated against.

Indorsed by Citizens.

"This telegram has been discussed and approved by the executive committee of this organization and is indorsed by the leading citizens of Brooks county. Your past record leads us to believe that you will do everything in your power to have repealed the ordinance referred to above. We are quite sure the substantial business concerns of Atlanta do not wish the impression created in south Georgia, or anywhere else, that they are desirous of having in force an ordinance discriminating unjustly against the middle class of citizenship of the state.

"The impression prevails in Brooks county that the ordinance was passed at the instance of big western shippers, who, of course, ship in carload lots and was intended to cut out competition with western meats by the small Georgia meat raisers. At the meeting the secretary of the organization was also instructed to write the president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce that Brooks county would join with other counties in the state in sending a committee to Atlanta to make an earnest protest against the ordinance and to seek its repeal."

Telegram to Kennedy.

The following telegram was also sent to J. P. Kennedy, the health officer of Atlanta, who, it is reported, favors the present law:

"As a broad-minded Georgian we appeal to you to remedy the condition now existing in Atlanta which discriminates against the small Georgia meat raiser. We are sure you do not want to be placed in the attitude before the people of Georgia as favoring discrimination against the small Georgia producer in favor of the big western packing houses. The county of Brooks is vitally concerned in this situation because its farmers shipped last year more hog meat than all the counties of the state combined."

ON 75TH BIRTHDAY HUNDRED RELATIVES GREET J. F. CURRIE

Bainbridge, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) It is seldom that a man lives to be able to gather around his table on his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary one hundred relatives, including children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, the ages ranging from 40 to 1 year. Yet that was the happiness that came Tuesday to J. F. Currie, of Glenwood, Wheeler county, a patriarch of southern Georgia, and cousin of, Messrs. J. M. and A. J. The Currie family came to Georgia from North Carolina in 1816 and already preparations are being made by the descendants to observe the centenary fittingly. All those at the reunion of the Currie family Tuesday were natives of Georgia, and came from all portions of the state except the north.

UMBERGER PLEADS GUILTY OF BIGAMY; IS GIVEN SIX YEARS

Savannah, Ga., April 9.—Joseph H. Umberger entered a plea of guilty to the charge of bigamy in the superior court this morning and was sentenced to serve six years in the Georgia penitentiary. Umberger married Miss Bessie A. May, of Newark, N. J., several years ago, and last month married Miss Carlotta Wickenberg, of this city.

Both his wives were here to appear against him if needed. Umberger's attorney stated that his client believed the New Jersey wife dead when he married Miss Wickenberg. The defendant made no statement. Umberger had been employed here by a moving picture house.

SOUTHERN SPIRIT URGED FOR SOUTHERN SCHOOLS

Louisville, Ky., April 9.—A proposition for fostering the southern spirit in the schools of the south was put forward today at the closing session here of the convention of the League of Southern Writers. Mrs. Annie F. Rankin, of Nashville, editor of The Southern Women's Magazine; Mrs. Rutledge Smith, of Cookeville, Tenn., and other women writers advocated that textbook commissions in the various southern be urged to select readers for the schools which contain the best thoughts in the literature of Dixie and histories which present historical events as affecting the south from an absolutely impartial viewpoint.

The peace movement and the effect of opening the Panama canal upon southern commerce were other subjects discussed today by Mrs. T. J. Latham, Memphis; Miss Louise Lindsley, Nashville, and Miss Maria Thompson Daviess, Nashville.

The following were elected officers of the league:

President, Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen, Montgomery, Ala.; secretary, Miss Nimmo Green, Montgomery; treasurer, Mrs. Cora Cox Lucas, Laurens, S. C.; executive committee, Mrs. Rutledge Smith, chairman; Miss Maria Thompson Daviess, Mrs. Kate Langley Bosha, and Miss Libbe Morrow. The place of the next convention is undecided, but Chattanooga has extended an invitation.

FOR DOWAGER EMPRESS . JAPAN IS MOURNING

Tokio, Japan, April 9.—The Dowager Empress Haruko died at the imperial villa at Namazu today.

Following the usual custom in the case of the death of a member of the imperial family, the official announcement of the event will not be made until the body has been transferred to the capital. This is expected to take place tomorrow.

Her majesty passed away suddenly in the presence of Emperor Yoshihito, the empress and the other members of the royal family, who had been summoned from the capital.

Her majesty had been suffering for a considerable period from angina pectoris, but the official diagnosis declared that Bright's disease was the direct cause of her death.

The Dowager Empress Haruko was the widow of Emperor Mutsuhito, who died on July 30, 1912. She was born May 28, 1850, and was the daughter of a nobleman, Ichijo Tadado. In 1869 she married the late emperor and was declared empress.

BRINSON TRAIN HELD UP BY MOB OF ARMED MEN

Burke Sheriff Restores Order at St. Clair and Brings Out Train.

Savannah, Ga., April 9.—The strike of the Savannah and Northwestern railroad, formerly the Brinson railway, became serious this morning when the regular passenger train scheduled to leave St. Clair is alleged to have been held up by a mob. General Manager R. R. Morgan said he believed the obstructionists to be employees of the Georgia and Florida railway, who are in sympathy with the striking conductors.

The passenger train from Savannah left at 7:10 o'clock in charge of C. E. Clark, the local agent. The freight train into Savannah arrived on time in charge of M. M. Brennan, the road master.

The Brinson railway officials succeeded, it is understood, in getting a man to bring the train out as conductor, but about the time he was to leave, the train of the Georgia and Florida railway came up and the crew induced the substitute conductor to refuse to his post and not start the train out.

The telephone messages from St. Clair say there is no trouble expected. Mr. Morgan insists that his crews are intimidated by armed men with guns and revolvers.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon General Manager Morgan stated that the sheriff of Burke county had reached St. Clair and started the train out from that place. The train is in charge of an auditor. All other trains are moving at this time.

OPERATION PERFORMED ON KING OF SWEDEN

Stockholm, Sweden, April 9.—King Gustave of Sweden was operated on today at the Sophia hospital here. The surgeons found he was suffering from extensive ulceration of the stomach.

The operation, in charge of Professor John Wilhelm Berg, a well-known Swedish surgeon, occupied two hours. Later it was announced the royal patient's condition was satisfactory, although his majesty was weak.

The queen occupied an apartment in the hospital during the operation and will stay there until the king is convalescent.

After the operation on the king a bulletin was issued which said the actual operation lasted 75 minutes and was well borne by the royal patient. It continued:

"A more or less superficial ulcer was discovered on the left lower side of the stomach, near the pylorus or opening between the stomach and small intestine. The ulcer showed no signs of being malignant."

GATES ESTATE PAYS $82,538 TO MINNESOTA

St. Paul, Minn., April 9.—The state of Minnesota, today received $82,538 as the inheritance tax of the estate of the late Charles G. Gates, of Minneapolis. The heirs agreed two months ago to pay the tax without contest. It was contended first that Gates' home was in Texas.

AUTO OWNERS REJOICE; GASOLINE TAKES DROP

Many automobile owners were given reason to rejoice, when they learned that there was about to be another gasoline war on among the oil dealers of Atlanta.

The price for several months has been about 17 cents per gallon, until the first sudden drop this week, when it went to 15½ cents. Then another cut came Tuesday when the price took another half-cent drop and remained at that price until late Thursday, when one of the larger dealers announced the price at 13 1-2 cents per gallon.

This is the lowest retail price for gasoline quoted in many days, and it looks like the gasoline war is on in earnest.

The sudden drop in price, however, probably is due to the heavy oil production in this country and the heavy import shipments from the South American fields.

Williams-Everett.

The wedding of Miss Agnes Williams and Mr. Thornton Everett was a pretty event taking place last night at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Williams, on Merritts avenue, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The decorations throughout the house were palms, ferns and smilax as a background for white roses and Easter lilies in the drawing room, where the ceremony took place, and pink roses in the dining room, white flowers being used in the other rooms. The bridal party came through an aisle of white ribbons extending from the stairway to an altar of palms, ferns and Easter lilies in the drawing room before which they were grouped.

Miss Alberta Williams was her sister's maid of honor and Mr. Clarence Everett, jr., was best man.

The bride was given away by her father, and Dr. Charles Daniel, of the First Baptist church, was the officiating minister. Mr. Paul Donehoo played the wedding march and before the ceremony Mrs. Watford Edwards sang several beautiful selections.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine trimmed in princess lace. Her tulle veil was held in place with a chaplet of orange blossoms and her only ornament was a brooch of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

The maid of honor wore pink crepe meteor trimmed in princess lace and her flowers were pink roses.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held. In the center of the bride's table in the dining room was the wedding cake, made by an intimate friend of the bride, Mrs. E. R. Pagett, Sr. It was in the shape of a large French basket, the handle tied with pink tulle and across the handle the names of the bride and groom and the date of the wedding. The basket was filled with pink roses and rested on a mirror wreathed with pink roses and smilax. Floating on the mirror were two bisque swans and from the edges of the mirror radiated many pink ribbons to which were attached a thimble, ring and dime. The candle shades were pink and the mints and other details were also pink.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reeves, of Palm Beach, Fla.; Miss Jeanette Reede, of Calhoun, and Miss Lula Cooper, of Anniston, Ala. After an automobile trip to north Georgia and Tennessee Mr. and Mrs. Everett will go to housekeeping in Ansley Park.

For Mr. and Mrs. Burnside.

Mrs. Virginius Hitz will entertain at a reception Wednesday afternoon, April 15, at her home on West Fifth street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Burnside, of Paris, France.

Irvine-Smith.

The wedding of Miss Clifford Irvine and Mr. Milton Graham Smith took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Harris Irvine, in Greenville, S. C. On account of a recent bereavement in the groom's family the wedding was a quiet one, only relatives and intimate friends being present.

Mr. Ormond Smith, of Atlanta, was his brother's best man, and there were no other attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for the Bahama islands and Cuba. The marriage is one of cordial interest not only in Greenville, but in Atlanta, the groom's former home, he being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Smith and a brother of Mrs. St. Elmo Massengale, of this city.

For Mrs. Carlton.

Miss Alma Downing will entertain at a matinee party Saturday afternoon at the Forsyth in compliment to Mrs. Ray Carlton, of Montgomery.

Mauney-Williams.

A marriage of interest to a large circle of friends was that of Miss Rachel Mauney and Mr. Robert Walton Williams, of Meridian, Miss., which took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on Ponce de Leon avenue. The ceremony was witnessed by only intimate friends and relatives.

The house was beautifully decorated with handsome palms, ferns and flowers.

The wedding party stood in the living room before an altar massed with palms and ferns and clusters of Easter lilies.

The bride, who entered the room with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Mauney, was charming in her going-away gown of wisteria crepe faille, the short coat opening over a lace blouse and her hat of wisteria straw was trimmed with a paradise bird. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

Miss Malsie Thompson was maid of honor and wore a gown of two-toned taffeta in old blue and brown. Her toque hat was trimmed in blue velvet and she wore a corsage bouquet of Lady Hillington roses.

The bride's mother wore black crepe de chine with corsage bouquet of Parma violets and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Horace Stringfellow, of Birmingham, was best man, and Dr. C. B. Wilmer, of St. Luke's church, performed the ceremony.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with pink roses and pink roses were banked with ferns on buffet and mantel. Mrs. Trammell Scott and Mrs. John Hatchett, of North Carolina, assisted in entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a wedding trip to Cuba and on their return will be at home in Meridian, Miss., where the groom is engaged in business.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are of distinguished ancestry. The bride, who has resided in Atlanta for only a few years, is a daughter of the late Senator Mauney, of South Carolina, and the groom is a descendant of Robert Walton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, for whom he is named. Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. H. G. Gallagher, of Cleveland, Ohio; Messrs. Felder Purlow and F. H. Clay, of Birmingham, and Samuel Hays Williams, of Meridian.

Musical Services.

Of special musical interest is the announcement of a musical service at St. Mark's church, corner Peachtree and Fifth streets, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Easter portion of the Messiah will be given by a chorus made up of sixteen prominent church singers, under the direction of Mr. J. W. Marshbank.

SING "STABAT MATER" AT ST. LUKE'S TONIGHT

Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be sung this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock by the vested choir of St. Luke's church. This oratorio is rarely given because of its difficulty, the style of its composition being more operative than the conventional oratorio with its heavy and numerous choruses.

There are numerous solos, duets and quartets of surpassing beauty, the unaccompanied quartet being of especial charm. This will be sung by Mrs. Louis Moeckle, Mrs. Cecil Poole, soprano; Miss Harriett Milledge, Miss Grace Mauk, altos; Mr. James Wardwell, Mr. Will Glower, tenors; Mr. Harry Bates, Mr. Charles Chalmers, baritones.

The chorus has been rehearsing for two months on the four choruses, the "finale" or "Amen Chorus" requiring great precision of attack and unusual sustaining power. An orchestra, consisting of four violins, piano and cornet, will assist in the accompaniments. Miss Ethel Beyer will assist the organist and director, Mr. Cecil Poole. The instrumental musicians are the Voorhees sisters, Mr. Poundstone, Dr. C. B. Wilmer, Mr. Clarence Blosser and Mr. Charles Chalmers at the piano. The processional will start promptly at 8 o'clock, and the congregation is requested to be seated by that hour. Everyone invited.

WEST END IMPROVEMENT CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY

The West End Improvement club will meet Friday night at the Peoples Street schoolhouse, and requests that every citizen of West End interested in improvements be present, as business of great importance will be up for consideration. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—Women watchers at the polls if the proposed woman suffrage constitutional amendment is voted on in 1915 were assured today when Governor Glynn signed the Foley bill granting this privilege to women. The measure provides that one watcher of universal suffrage persuasion and one believing in anti-suffrage shall be permitted to be at the election polls while the votes on the question are being cast and counted.

DRAWN UP IN A KNOT WALKING

Peculiar Way in Which Lady Had to Walk and How Easily She Was Straightened Out.

Laurel Hill, Fla.—The following advices from this town tell in detail of Mrs. Nellie Moore's peculiar condition. "About three months ago, I was taken down with terrible cramps. I didn't pay much attention to it at first, but slowly and surely I got worse until I could hardly walk, and I had to go drawn up in a knot, when I did walk.

My husband got me some medicine, but it did me no good. I suffered that way for a week. Finally, a motherly old lady told me to get a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I knew it was a good medicine from the start. I took it according to directions, and in a short while I felt like a new person.

Cardui is like a dear friend to come and take hold and do women's tiresome work. Now, when I have heavy work, such as washing, ironing, sweeping or sewing, I take a dose of Cardui and it seems to go to all my aching places and relieves me almost instantly.

I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a trial. It will do wonders for them."

Give Cardui a trial for your troubles. It has helped over a million women in the past 50 years. Why not you?

ASK LOAN OF CONVICTS FOR GRANITE HIGHWAY

The Granite Highway association has decided to build the granite highway from Decatur to Lithonia by means of convict labor instead of letting out a contract.

However, DeKalb has only fifty convicts and most of these are employed in work on the various roads of the county. In view of this fact, a delegation from the association came to Atlanta Thursday and interviewed Judge T. S. Patterson, of the state prison commission, in regard to having fifty of Fulton county's convicts transferred to DeKalb for the purpose of building the highway. Judge Patterson said that the prison commission would authorize the transfer if Fulton county would consent. The delegation interviewed the members of the Fulton county board individually. The board is expected to consider the matter at a special meeting.

Dawson, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The remains of A. J. Carver, whose death occurred Tuesday night in Atlanta, were brought here this morning and taken to his home on Lee street, where at 10 o'clock an impressive funeral service was conducted by Rev. T. The deceased was a prominent and esteemed citizen. He served a quarter of a century as president of the Dawson National bank, which greatly prospered under his administration. He was 58 years old. He is survived by his devoted wife, his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Weaver, and a son, Rogers Carver.

FIRED BY LIGHTNING, HOUSE IS DESTROYED

Ringgold, Ga., April 9.—(Special).—The residence of B. F. Harris was struck by lightning Tuesday night at about 11:30 o'clock, set afire and completely demolished.

During an electric storm and in the midst of a heavy rain the lightning hit what Mr. Harris thought was a telephone pole at the rear of the house and he had returned to bed and had gone to sleep. When he discovered that the house was on fire it was too far gone to do anything except to get out. Mr. Harris is the caretaker of the rifle range, and lives adjacent on his farm. At the present time there are several companies of the Eleventh cavalry at the range taking their annual target practice, but they were unable to render very much assistance.

LURE OF AUTO GAME MAKES YOUTH RUN AWAY

T. C. Sands, a 16-year-old West Point boy, ambitious to become a second Barney Oldfield in the automobile world, ran away from home last Saturday after stating his intentions, and Thursday his father, J. H. Sands, and three Atlanta detectives were searching the automobile garages in the city in an attempt to find the wandering boy.

"He left home Sunday, taking a train for Atlanta," said his father. "I believe that lure of automobiles and his desire to run one caused him to leave home. He always wanted me to buy him a machine, and when I refused, he kept begging me to let him come to Atlanta and learn how to be a chauffeur."

The agonizing cries of the poisoned woman were heard by one of her boarders, who rushed to her assistance. Mrs. Wilson said at the hospital that she had become weary of the struggle for existence and that after her husband kidnaped their little daughter she could stand it no longer.

She has not been living with her husband recently.

It Pays the Women To Read the Ads

SOMEBODY missed some good bargains in silk petticoats the other day. Did you? A merchant advertised in The Constitution a sale of $6.50 and $8.50 silk petticoats at $3.98 and sold almost every one. Don't miss any more sales like that. The Constitution carries money-saving ads daily.

Another merchant offered two pounds of lard for 25 cents. Did you get your share? And one man sold four packages of Kellogg's Corn Flakes for a quarter. That's a saving worth while.

Read Constitution advertisements and cut the cost of living without cutting the quality.

SALE OF OPERA SEATS BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Demand From Out-of-Town Patrons Particularly Large This Year.

Never before since grand opera became a yearly thing with Atlanta music lovers has there been such an interest displayed in the sale of individual seats for the various operas to be sung.

The sale of individual seats began the first of this week at the Cable Piano company and Phillips & Crew company, and at no time since the sale began has there been a let-up in the number of purchasers.

All indications point to the biggest attendance at all of the operas that has ever been recorded.

The out-of-town demand for seats is particularly gratifying this year, and every city in Georgia will be represented at Atlanta during opera season.

The sale of individual seats will continue up to the time the first opera is sung, when tickets will be placed on sale at the Auditorium.

WILSON AND FAMILY OFF TO HOT SPRINGS

Washington, April 9.—President Wilson left here at 11:10 o'clock tonight for White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., for a three-day trip, the object of which is to benefit the health of Mrs. Wilson, who has been ill for many weeks. In the party also were the Misses Margaret and Eleanor Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.

The party traveled in a private car over the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, and is due at White Sulphur Springs early tomorrow. The president will leave there Sunday night, returning to Washington early Monday, but Mrs. Wilson probably will make an extended visit there.

Secretary McAdoo had planned to accompany the party, but pressure of work made it impossible, though he may join them Saturday.

Bankruptcy Proceedings.

S. C. Kytle, of Carrollton, Ga., presenting a claim of $1,908, Mrs. A. Bass, of the same place, $750, and Phillips & Co., of Buchanan, Ga., yesterday filed with the clerk of the local federal court involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy against the American Investment and Loan company, with offices in Atlanta, engaged in real estate, loans and purchase money notes.

For Rough, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

As April winds, flying dust and dirt, are apt to injure any complexion, this information will be of special value right now. If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use plain powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, sallowness, red yellow blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed a little each day, until the clear, soft youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolised wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in the morning by washing in water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless, treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or furrows, a wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel will prove wonderfully effective. —(adv.)

LAGRANGE TO HAVE PRETTY CITY PARK

LaGrange, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—Negotiations are under way looking to the opening of an up-to-date city park on the property of M. F. McLendon, a little northwest of the city within a short time.

On the place which will be developed there are two large ponds, a beautiful rock-bottom spring, swings and various other attractions, which will form a basis for the present development scheme.

Several thousand dollars will be spent in permanent improvements, and among which will be added are a pavilion, several caged animals, box ball alleys, skating rink and soft drink accommodations.

S. M. GROGAN NAMED CHIEF STATISTICIAN

Starke M. Grogan, of Elberton, Ga., has been appointed chief statistician of cities by William J. Harris, director of the census.

Mr. Grogan has been employed in the government service a number of years.

In a letter to friends in Comptroller Goldsmith's office, Mr. Grogan compliments the system of accounting employed by Mr. Goldsmith. He also pays a deserved compliment to W. J. Harris for his excellent work as director of the census.

VIOLATION IS CHARGED OF MANY DEALERS

Some twenty ice cream dealers and dealers in oysters will appear before Commissioner of Agriculture James D. Price today to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for violating the pure food laws of the state. It is charged that the ice cream in question does not come up to requirements in butter fat and that the oyster dealers have watered their oysters.

MONUMENT AT PLACE OF LEE'S SURRENDER

Washington, April 8.—A peace monument in honor of both the blue and the gray to mark the place of Lee's surrender at Appomattox was proposed by Major General George H. Derby, U. S. A., retired, it was announced today at a meeting of Kit Carson post, G. A. R., last night. Today was the forty-ninth anniversary of the meeting between Grant and Lee at Appomattox Court House.

"There two of the greatest armies the world has ever seen," said General Davis, "laid down their arms, and there two of the greatest generals of all times united in a pact of peace that lives and will continue to live. It is fitting that this memorable place should be marked by a monument in honor of that event."

PARDON OF PRESIDENT AT LAST GIVEN WOMAN

Charleston, W. Va., April 9.—After a search which carried them over Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky and into Ohio, federal officers today delivered to Mrs. Frances Brown the pardon granted her three months ago by President Wilson.

With her two brother, J. H. and Alfred Mooney, Mrs. Brown was convicted of violation of the pension laws, but because of their age—each is over 70—they were not sentenced. Other efforts of their friends to have them pardoned were successful they could not be found at first. After the brothers were located Mrs. Brown was found in Cincinnati.

Search for Kaplowitz.

The police are still searching for George Kaplowitz, the young Russian who on Wednesday morning kidnaped his 7-year-old child from the home of his brother-in-law, A. Janke, and Mr. Janke himself says he will take special steps toward recovering the child. Kaplowitz has been making $25 a week as a tailor and was well furnished with money when he secured the child.

WOMEN WILL AID HOSPITAL BATTLE

Will Give Their Assistance in the Campaign to Secure Passage of $750,000 Bond Issue.

Campaign headquarters for the Grady hospital bond issue, to be voted for May 5, were formally opened yesterday in room 402 of the new Atlanta Chamber of Commerce building.

This room, a large and well lighted one, has been tendered the citizens' committee by the officials of the chamber, while Ivan E. Allen, of Fielder & Allen, and a member of the publicity committee, has furnished it free of charge.

At a meeting of the special campaign committee held in the new quarters in the afternoon and presided over by Bishop C. K. Nelson, it was decided to secure a secretary at once and place him in charge of headquarters, where regular committee meetings will be held every day and the business of the campaign will be transacted. A stenographer will also be employed.

Following the opening of headquarters a cordial invitation has been extended to all citizens of Atlanta who are interested in this movement to visit there, to offer suggestions and to lend whatever assistance they can.

Committee is Enlarged.

At Thursday's meeting the publicity committee, which will largely have charge of some of the most important work of the entire campaign, was enlarged from three to ten members, and this committee now consists of the following well-known citizens:

R. L. Foreman, chairman; Charles S. Northen, A. R. Colcord, Wilmer L. Moore, V. H. Kriegshaber, Jerome Jones, J. K. Orr, Ivan E. Allen, A. S. Adams and Isaac Schane.

Every man on this committee is a live wire. They are men who have done many things for Atlanta; they will do more.

In addition to the publicity committee plans were made for the appointment of campaign committees in each of the city wards. The chairmen of the ward committees will constitute the central campaign committee, and will direct the progress of the fight for Greater Grady.

The work of selecting these committees is now in progress and they will be announced within the next day or two.

Atlanta Women to Help.

Many letters have already been received from well-known Atlanta club women offering their services in the fight for better hospital facilities for Atlanta. In some instances these have been offers of individual services, while in other they are organizations.

These offers proved most gratifying to the committee which proposes to enlist the services of Atlanta women in this campaign to the full extent they are willing to go in aiding the work. Plans to this end are now under consideration, and will be announced shortly.

It has already been decided during the campaign to get out letters and postal cards to voters all over the city. The postal cards will be used for the purpose of taking a "straw ballot," to ascertain as far as possible the sentiment regarding the hospital bond issue.

Organization for a Greater Grady is now practically complete, and by Monday things will begin to hum around headquarters. Never has an Atlanta citizens' committee gone into a work with greater determination, and the members of this committee feel confident that these efforts will produce results.

MAYOR PREDICTS START FOR PLAZA NEXT YEAR

Woodward and Bleckley Address Ad Men on Great Civic Improvement.

"By this time next year," said Mayor Woodward before the Atlanta Ad Men yesterday, "work will be under way on the proposed plaza. Atlanta is not going to overlook this opportunity to beautify the uptown district. I feel that the plaza plan is going through with a vim."

Besides the enthusiastic talk of the mayor, the Ad Men, who held their weekly luncheon in the Ansley hotel at 1 o'clock, listened to an interesting speech on the plaza plans by Marsalcon Bleckley, the architect who has drawn plans for the structure. His talk was illustrated with stereopticon views of the plans and of plazas of other cities.

The ad men can materially assist in the realization of the plaza," said Mr. Bleckley, "if its members will exert their influence toward the legislature in securing that body's right of easement over the tracks.

"By gaining this action from the legislature, the plaza will then be assured, as all citizens of Atlanta are in favor of it, though, I doubt seriously, if they fully realize the great benefits that would be derived from it.

The plaza, once built, will put Atlanta on a par with any city in the country, and will be a project of which the entire south will be justly proud."

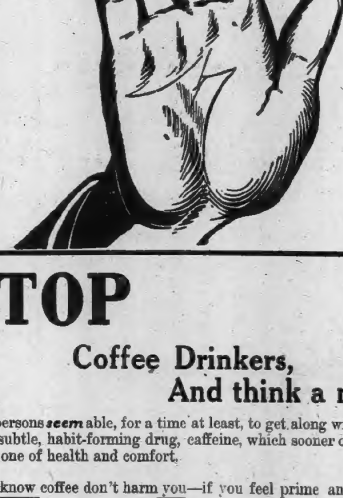

A resolution was adopted after Mr. Bleckley's speech to give the heartiest support of the Ad Men's organization to the plaza. The following committee was appointed to take charge of the Ad Men's connection with the project:

H. G. Hastings, chairman; J. D. Kearney, W. F. Parkhurst, W. G. Peebles and W. H. Smith.

Frank Calloway, president of the Atlanta Baseball association, appeared before the meeting and asked that the Ad Men co-operate with the ball club in turning out a record attendance to the opening game between Atlanta and Nashville at Ponce de Leon park next Tuesday.

His speech was greeted with lusty cheers. Various members of the audience arose to indorse the "record crowd" movement and to lend unqualified support to it. The following committee was appointed to assist in advertising the opening game:

Julian Boehm, chairman; J. C. Stanford, George H. Fauss, Coke Davis and Fred Hoyt.

STOP

Coffee Drinkers, And think a minute!

Some persons seem able, for a time at least, to get along with coffee, but it contains a subtle, habit-forming drug, caffeine, which sooner or later is pretty sure to rob one of health and comfort.

If you know coffee don't harm you—if you feel prime and fit under its continued use, well and good—stick to it.

But—if you are sometimes a bit "off color," and irritable nerves, disturbed heart action, biliousness, headache, or symptoms of liver or kidney trouble make you wonder what's the matter—

Better find out what coffee has to do with it.

Evidently some people are learning the truth about coffee—listen—

During 1913 the sales of coffee in this country decreased over one hundred million pounds.

A mighty army of former coffee drinkers now use and enjoy freedom from their old coffee aches and pains.

POSTUM

Postum, made of whole wheat and a bit of molasses, is a delicious table beverage absolutely free from the coffee drugs, caffeine and tannin.

If you are interested in bettering yourself—think it over!

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder, requires no boiling. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

LOCALS WALLOP ROCHESTER CLUB

Every One Freezes While Crackers Cop Game 11 to 4. Few Fans Brave the Chilly Winds.

By Dick Jemison.

Only a few fans, and those the most dyed in the wool kind, braved the cold breezes Thursday afternoon and journeyed out to Ponce de Leon to see the Crackers hand the Hustlers a good beating.

The final count was 11 to 4. At the end of the Hustlers' half of the eighth the game was called.

Despite the cold weather, a very neat article of ball was put up by the Crackers. They hammered the playful pellet to all corners of the lot, ran bases at will and profited by the wildness of the Rochester twirlers.

Eleven hits, of which Jennings, Eibel and Flanagan got two each and the rest of the team but the battery one each, eleven runs, seven stolen bases and three sacrifice hits was the Crackers' total for the day.

But for their busy afternoon in scoring runs, the locals would probably have come to death. How things fared with the Hustlers is not known.

To pick out any particular star is out of the question. It was too cold for starring. The entire team played good ball.

How Runs Scored.

Breen's single, a base on balls to Barrow, a stretched error of Priest's fly and Smith's single scored one for the Hustlers in the opener.

Barrow's single, a base on balls to Priest, Lawrence's error and Smith's single scored two in the third. Eibel's error of McCloskey's grounder, McMillan's single and an infield out tallied their last run in the seventh.

McConnell hit first to start the Crackers' first. Courtney threw wild and he went to second. He tallied on Jennings' double.

A base on balls to Welchonce, Kircher's scratch hit, Jennings' single, Eibel and Flanagan and Munch's sacrifice fly tallied two for the Crackers in the third.

In the fourth, a base on balls to McConnell, Jennings' single, Welchonce's sacrifice fly and Eibel's triple tallied two runs.

Welchonce's infield hit, Kircher's sacrifice, Eibel's single, Flanagan's double, three stolen bases and McMillan's error scored three in the sixth.

McConnell was hit, but forced by Jennings. The latter's steal of second, Welchonce's single, a fielder's choice, a base on balls, three stolen bases and a double by Flanagan counted three more in the seventh.

The teams play again today. Doscher or Efird will twirl for the Crackers, with Dunn catching.

Merchants are Interested In Opening Game Program; Will Close Their Stores

The business men of Atlanta are fast lining up behind the movement to get the opening day attendance trophy for this city again this season.

Following Mayor Woodward's expressed intention of issuing a proclamation declaring a half holiday on Tuesday, April 14, and the chamber of commerce move in issuing postal cards asking their members to do the same, the business men are taking cognizance of the day.

One by one, they are rapidly falling into line on the half day closing proposition and by Saturday most every place of business of any size in Atlanta will be on the list of those who are behind Atlanta in one of her moves to show the south that what it takes to lead she's got.

Schlesinger Starts It.

Harry Schlesinger, as usual, took the initiative and announced that he would go to the game with all his employees in a body and rook for the Crackers. Mr. Schlesinger and his "hello people" crowd were very much in evidence last season.

The Georgia Railway and Power company, the Lowry National bank, M. Kutz & Co., Nunnally-McCrea company, W. A. Chapin & Co., Otto Wells, Jr., Miller, Parks-Chambers-Hardwick company, George Muse company and Danziel Bros. joined in the movement yesterday.

J. C. Beam, assistant general passenger agent of the Southern in Atlanta, announced yesterday afternoon that he would close shop for the day and send his hundreds of employees out.

With the assurance of all these firms, the official proclamation of Mayor Woodward and the chamber of commerce mailed out, others are sure to swing into line to boost the opening day attendance.

Birmingham, Chattanooga and New Orleans have fallen down on the gauntlet. Atlanta's hat is in the ring, so let them have. What is taking to the opening day attendance trophy Atlanta has and will prove it by Tuesday night, April 14.

Fifteen thousand persons is the number wanted. Atlanta's superiority is threatened again. Rally around the flag, boys. It's up to you. Bill Smith and his brave lads won the pennant last season after a grand fight. Show your appreciation of their taking the opening day attendance trophy and "Shanty" Hogan's honour? New Orleans, Birmingham, Chattanooga et al. know that they are dealing with a regular city, not a cotton village.

Tickets Sold.

Tumlin Bros. have requested the baseball association to hand them no other supply of tickets, as the first allotment of 5,000 has been sold out. This gives an idea of what Atlanta intends to do. More than half of last year's record crowd has been bought tickets a week before the game.

And in the rush that is sure to be made the day of the game, President Callaway, of the local baseball association, announced Thursday that Ponce de Leon's box office would be erected on the opposite side of Ponce de Leon park, on the amusement shed. Here tickets can be purchased speedily.

Mayor Woodward will twirl the first ball. There will be a parade through the streets, with bands, automobiles, etc. All these minor details will be announced in subsequent stories.

Mr. Jemison's gross was the best gross medal score. He also had the best gross for nine holes, 41. Mr. Halstead had the second best gross score for 18 holes, with 87. Mr. Forbes pan had the second best gross for 9 holes, with 41.

Mr. Forbes will receive as a prize an ivory-faced club offered by Mr. McKenzie, professional of the Capital City Country club.

As cards were not turned in by all of the players, the complete list of the medal score results cannot be given.

MICHIGAN LOSES TO RED AND BLACK

With Captain Sissler Out of Rifle Pit, Wolverines Are Easy for the Georgia Nine.

Athens, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—With Captain George Sissler playing left field for Michigan, the Wolverines were easy for the Georgia nine, the locals winning 7 to 2.

Judging from the exhibitions played on Sanford field the westerners have a man team with both offense and defense centered on this man Sissler.

Michigan got one in the first on a base on balls, a sacrifice, an infield hit and a sacrifice fly and another in the third on a base on balls, a scratch and a single. The visiting team's fielding was featured by three double plays.

The Red and Black got two in the first when Ginn walked, Clements sacrificed and both were safe on the catcher's error; both advanced a peg on the second error of the catcher and scored when Henderson singled to right. Three more were added in the fourth on McWhorter's double, Harrison's triple and Shortstop Baker's error. Georgia's final tallies came in the sixth inning. If Saier is told to stay out of the game for a time, Fred Merkle's wits, a recruit, probably will play first base.

TECH SOPHOMORES WIN TRACK MEET

Defeat Freshmen by Half a Point—Mauck and Preas Break Weight Records. Track Slow.

By Hal Reynolds.

The Sophs came out winners by the narrow margin of a half point in the annual track meet held by the various classes out at Tech yesterday afternoon on Grant field.

The Freshmen ran the Sophs a close race throughout the meet, scoring 61 points to 61½ for the Sophs. The Juniors finished in third place with 42 points to their credit, while the Subs, with 35, and Seniors, with 25½, finished in fourth and fifth places, respectively.

The meet was one of the best that the students have ever had, but in the tightness of the contests and the splendid records that were hung up during the afternoon.

Three Records.

Three of the records that have been made in previous class meets went glimmering by the results of yesterday's meet. The record, 94 feet 6 inches for the discus, held by Fax Montague, was easily beaten by Jim Preas, who tossed it 105 feet and 4 inches.

The hammer throw record of 122 feet, made by "Pat" Patterson, also came down when Hugh Mauck threw it 126 feet and 7 inches to throw for the new record after he had won the event by a throw of 12½ feet and 3 inches.

Mauck's record also went tumbling down was in the shot-put. Jim Preas put the 16 pounds when he had a chance for the record after he had won the regular put with a throw of 34 feet, 9½ inches.

Track a'Wa Slow.

The running events were hindered by the slow condition of the track, which was not yet been put in first-class shape.

R. C. Jordon, of the Sophs, did some extra good work. He won three first places, which scored 15 points for his team.

Preas made some nice throws in the weight events and also ran well.

Churchill and H. H. Johnson, of the Sub team, showed up extra strong in a number of events. They will in all probability make regular places on the team.

Hayes also showed plenty of speed in the dashes. He came within a quarter of a second of equaling the record for the 100-yard dash.

JAMESTOWN RACE MEET STOPPED BY GOV. STUART

Norfolk, Va., April 9.—Warned by Governor Stuart that the state militia would be used if necessary to suppress violations of the Virginia anti-betting laws, the Jamestown Jockey club tonight abandoned the spring race meeting, which was to continue until April 11. Sensational raids and fines and prison terms imposed upon bookmakers had marked the few stormy days the meet had been in progress.

In a formal statement the officials of the jockey club announced that they had decided to discontinue the meet to avoid "any conflict of opinion." The statement added that if the higher courts later construed the laws as "that we can conduct racing without fostering a violation of the laws of Virginia, we will resume; otherwise the course will be permanently closed."

HAMILTON DESERTS; JOINS KAYSEE FEDS

His Jumping Feds' First Step in Getting Revenge—After Other Browns.

St. Louis, April 9.—Earl Hamilton, left-hand pitcher of the St. Louis Americans, deserted today and went to Kansas City with Manager Stovall, of the Kansas City Federals.

Hamilton had a three year contract with the local American team, and had played one season with the team. Before leaving for Kansas City, Hamilton said he laid his offer from the Kansas City team before President Hedges, of the St. Louis Americans, and gave him a chance to meet the Federal terms. This, he said, Hedges refused to do.

"If I think I am doing right," said Hamilton, "I didn't get all the money in the world playing with the St. Louis Americans. I'm with the Federals to stay."

Hedges said he knew nothing of the jumping of Hamilton. "All my players are signed, and anyone who has no respect for a contract is not good material to build a pennant winner with," he said.

A $10,000 bonus and three-year contract for a total of $21,000 was the bait that caused Hamilton to jump from the local American league team to the Kansas City Federals, according to Clarence Walker, Hamilton's roommate, who was present when the deal was culminated this morning.

Move Was Planned.

Chicago, April 9.—George Stovall's action in taking a player from the St. Louis Americans was done with the sanction of the Federal league, President Gilmore said.

"Organized baseball tried to wreck Stovall's Kansas City club, and took away Blanding and Baumgardner, who had signed legal contracts with him," said Gilmore. "Therefore, we gave the Kansas City club permission to deal with members of the St. Louis team whether they had signed contracts or not.

"If organized ball goes to court over Hamilton's jumping and the courts give him $50k to the Browns, then the same decision will return Blanding, Baumgardner and Horgue to us. 'Besides Hamilton, there are four or five members of the St. Louis Americans wanted by us and he has my full sanction to get them if he can."

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—A telegram received today from George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federals, at Hamilton declared a three year contract.

Johnson to Pitch.

Chicago, April 9.—The American league is ready to go to war with the Federal league, President Ban Johnson, of the St. Louis American pitcher, who jumped the Kansas City Federals today, according to Ban Johnson, American league president. The American league will keep Hamilton if it takes every dollar in the treasury," said Johnson tonight. "Nothing will be left undone."

SCATTERED SALES EASE OFF COTTON

With Prospect of Improved Weather There Is Little Fresh Buying on Eve of Adjournment.

New York, April 9.—Cotton eased off today under scattered selling supposed to be largely in the way of holiday realizing. With prospects pointing to improved weather conditions, there appeared to be little fresh buying on the eve of the three-day adjournment. Closing prices were steady, but 35 points net lower on April and from 6 to 13 points below yesterday's closing figures on the more active months.

There has been little business in April contracts, and such violent fluctuations in that position are considered of small significance.

There was a good deal of reactionary talking around the ring at the start. Cables were in sharply lower than due and local traders appeared to expect trailing liquidation after such a pronounced advance in the market has experienced in the past three or four weeks. First prices were 21 points lower on April and from 2 to 5 points lower on later deliveries, which showed a let-down of 7 to 9 points shortly after the call. Offerings, however, were pretty well taken up this decline and recent leading buyers again seemed to be supporting the market. This checked the selling movement and rallies of 4 or 5 points followed, but the market weakened again in the afternoon, when realizing became more general and closed at the lowest point of the day.

July contracts sold at 12.38 in the late trading, or 14 points under the high level of Wednesday. Ideas as to the effect of prevailing weather conditions on the coming crop seemed to vary quite widely around the ring, some claiming that replanting would be necessary in the southwest, and that delayed farm work would mean an unfavorable late start with the crop. Others, however, contend that there is still plenty of time for planting.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 9.—The price of cotton was held below the 13 cent level in today's close throughout the session today in the face of one of the most bullish weather or mage ever posted at this time of the year. Telegrams from many sections of the cotton belt reported that temperatures with low temperatures were being experienced and damage from such temperatures to the young cotton had been so damaged that much replanting would be necessary. In spite of this the market closed at a net loss of 5 to 11 points, the most pressing its lowest.

Selling started at the opening. Goods was to the effect that heavy short selling was going on, although it was evident that some of the offerings were caused from hope who wanted to take profits over the holidays.

The market displayed little or no recuperative power, and once or twice in the afternoon displayed weakness.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 9.—(Special.)—Scattered liquidation resulted in lower prices today, notwithstanding unfavorable weather conditions, which were general in the cotton planting region. It is thought that there has been an important change in the local situation, and that the unseasonably short interest has been fairly well adjusted. The market fears the advent of seasonable weather throughout the belt with the resulting probability that dependency for strength would rest entirely on the maintenance of spot values.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 9.—(Special.)—The market opened steady with prices 2 points off and the remaining deliveries to 5 lower, the latter on the nearby months, but rallied though at lower prices. The holidays till Monday, and the indications are for a narrow, but good buying of May and July is to be mentioned. Spot houses and the trade were interested in this activity. Of general business there was very little and activity in the spot markets was reported of greater activity in the near future.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 9.—Cotton seed oil was up a couple of points early on advancing crude markets and covering by refiners, but the trade turned easy late in the session under scattered selling for long account, and closed steady at 1 to 2 points net lower. Final prices were 2 to 3 points net lower.

New York, April 9.—Cotton seed oil market closed easier. Spot 7.50@8.00.

Sales, 140 pockets clean Honduras at 1⅞@2 5-16, 140 pockets Japan at 2¾@3¼.

Dan Talmage's Sons Company says:

"The demand for the past week continues to be disappointing and there seems to be a general complaint that the movement has not come up to the season's expectations. The notice covering newly actual and immediate needs. Prices, however, hold up to former level with indications pointing steadily towards a somewhat higher range. Primary markets are without change, the better qualities of Honduras, which are becoming more difficult in supply, though the demand for medium grades is quite sufficient to keep the market steady. Reports from Japan have stiffened an item on account of an increased export, which would seem to indicate that the trade seem to appear to be in a better position from a low price basis. Foreign continues in active inquiry for most of its favorable cost level and receipts are of a liberal character.

"Advices from the southwest along the Atlantic coast generally indicate favorable conditions. At New Orleans the situation appears to be somewhat unsettled, however, running about the same and at firm prices.

"Trade from Texas and Arkansas reports are to the same effect as have held for several weeks past, the planters still in control of the market situation, with every confidence by the planters that the remainder crop will be early disposed of long before the next crop arrives. The preparation of the lands and the planting are progressing in good shape.

"Cables and correspondences from abroad note 'rough rice' dull, 'spot cleaned' unchanged, 'forward Burmah' lower, 'Saigon' nominal."

EX-GOVERNOR DRAPER DIES AT GREENVILLE

Greenville, S. C., April 9.—Eben S. Draper, former governor of Massachusetts, died here late today. Mr. Draper was stricken with paralysis here Tuesday and has been unconscious since. He was a prominent manufacturer of textile machinery in New England.

The condition of Mr. Draper was serious from the time of the attack, and a large corps of physicians were in attendance. The patient's entire left side was affected by the paralytic stroke. In addition to physicians here and from Atlanta, who were called on the case, two doctors from Boston were summoned yesterday.

Mr. Draper was stricken at a local hotel a few hours after his arrival. He was on his way home from a trip to Florida. Mrs. Draper and a son and daughter was noted by the physician, telegrams were sent to members of his family in Massachusetts, summoning them to his bedside. They arrived here today.

The dead man was prominent in both the industrial and political life of Massachusetts. Previous to his election as governor of Massachusetts he served as lieutenant governor from 1906 to 1908. He was governor of the state from 1909 to 1911. Mr. Draper was elected as a republican to both positions.

For several years Mr. Draper had been prominently connected with the Draper company, manufacturers of textile machinery. His home throughout his life was at Hopedale, Mass., where he was born. His technical training was obtained at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Draper was not only connected with the textile industry, but was interested in the Milford National bank and had connections with various civic and charitable institutions.

GENERAL DECLINE IN GRAIN MARKET

Belief That Wheat Had Escaped From Freezing Weather Tended to Dislodge Bullish Control.

Chicago, April 9.—Increasing belief that wheat had escaped damage from the severe weather tended today to dislodge bullish control of the market. After a decided advance, prices closed weak at the end of the day, unchanged to 1¼ cents lower.

Selling pressure developed in the wheat pit as soon as the fact became evident that talk of crop damage by cold did not have any backing in the way of complaints from the regions thought to be affected. Besides, farmers evinced a disposition to liquidate. Below that to chance uncertainties during the holiday tomorrow.

Reports of killing frosts at many places, especially in Kansas and Oklahoma, were chiefly responsible for wheat prices bulging until late in the hour. Some temporary strength came also from higher prices at Liverpool and from the considerable decrease in shipments credited to Argentina, India and Australia.

Corn tumbled late in the day, influenced largely by disproof that Argentine shipments necessarily contained weevil. Samples of the South American grain which arrived here did not need fear of infection. Further-more, New York confirmed fresh cargoes from Argentina at still lower prices. Most of the session, however, speculative trade was a bullish mood and inclined to urge that not enough corn to meet the needs of domestic consumers could reach Chicago from South America before June.

Oats weakened ahead of the other cereals. Cheap carryover obtainable from Canada burdened the market.

More plentiful receipts of hogs at western points carried down, provisions. A sharp break ensued when it become by the effect of the decline in grain.

CANCER IS CHARGED TO COOKING METHODS

Dr. Mayo Thinks There Is Some Fundamental Fault in the Food.

New York, April 9.—A statement by Dr. William J. Mayo that the prevalence of cancer, perhaps is traceable to present methods of cooking was to the laymen one of the salient opinions in a mass of scientific discussion at the opening today of the American Surgery association's annual convention. Dr. Mayo is a resident from Rochester, Minn., and president of the association. He explained that cancer of the stomach formed a third of all cancer cases among civilized peoples.

"Is there some fundamental fault in the food or in the cooking of civilized man that gives such a preponderance to pro-cancerous conditions in the gastric region?" he asked. "Among the lower animals cancer of the stomach does not form nearly such a large proportion of the total number of cases."

Dr. Mayo said that the amount of meat consumed undoubtedly had something to do with the prevalence of cancer, for example, than other kinds of cancer, among them the peculiar form which attacks the mouths of the natives of India brought on by an irritation due to chewing betel nuts. Cancer is decidedly hereditary, Dr. Mayo is confined almost entirely to children of the same families. During a discussion about the advisability of operating for appendicitis, Dr. James E. Moore, of Minneapolis, said he felt that the removal of the appendix was "an interference with the designs of the Lord."

Dr. J. G. Gerster, a New York surgeon, replied that if this was the case all surgery would have to be regarded as an interference with the designs.

The discussion followed a paper on "The Two-Stage Operation" read by Dr. George W. Crile, of Cleveland, Ohio.

"We must put ourselves in the position of our patient," continued Dr. Gerster. "If I had to undergo an operation, I would rather take a little extra risk to get it over with one slip."

The present convention is preliminary to the international Congress of Surgeons which will meet in Berlin in August, with representatives from all parts of the United States and most of the European countries. Fifty foreign delegates arrived today.

WOMEN ARE TO BLAME FOR "DRIFT TO CITY"

Miss Williams So Declares at Education Meeting—Square Deal for Farmers' Wives.

Louisville, Ky., April 9.—Women are to blame chiefly for the "drift to the city" and the slogan of "back to the land" must be directed toward them to be effective, according to Miss Mabel C. Williams, superintendent of schools of Shelby county, Tennessee, principal speaker at the general session today of the Conference for Education in the South.

Farmers' wives have not been getting a "square deal" in the matter of amusements and other things that make life worth while; asserted Miss Williams, hence the city-ward movement in the feminine ranks. The country woman seeks to be out on a level with her city sister.

To Aid Farmer's Wife.

Crediting the poultry products of the country which annually exceed the wheat crop by $400,000,000 in value yearly, to the woman, the speaker asserted that American motherhood constitutes the country's largest class of economically useful women. To stop desertions from rural life, "one of the most vital national problems we have to deal with," she urged that the life of the farmers' wife be broadened by decrease of her labor with modern time-saving devices and by giving her and her children more outside amusements.

"The farmer's wife is history," Miss Williams asserted, "is the wife of the farmer of moderate means, who does the work of the house, cooking and sewing, brings up a family to be useful members of society and still finds time for intellectual development.

To Lessen Unrest.

As a means for lessening unrest in agricultural districts, Miss Williams urged the establishment of rural missionaries, women who broad understanding and training, to travel through country districts and teach mothers domestic efficiency and county school teachers to make their homes "demonstrations" of what can be accomplished by making farm life attractive.

Dr. B. Munford, of Richmond, Va., presided at the meeting, which was the climax of the Country Women's day of the conference, and was concerned with the discussion of rural credits at the business men's session.

OWNERS OF AUTOMOBILES FACE HIGHER GASOLINE

In Address to Chemists Prof. Brooks Says Gasoline Will Go to 40 Cents Gallon.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 9.—Automobile owners face a still higher rise in the price of gasoline, according to figures made public today at the convention of the American Chemical society here. In an address on "Some Economic Phases of the Use of Gasoline," Professor Benjamin T. Brooks of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D.C., declared gasoline rapidly is approaching the forty cents a gallon mark, at which point he declared alcohol would be an active competitor.

Professor Brooks estimated the present production of gasoline in America to be between five million and six and that it is behind the demand made on it by motor vehicles, dry cleaners and various industries. To replace this amount of gasoline by 95 per cent alcohol from corn would require 450,000,000 bushels, he said.

Discussion was aroused over a paper read by Dr. Edward Gudeman, of Chicago, in which he said the inhalation of sulphurous acid fumes by patients in the incipient phases of tuberculosis had aided in their cure. Dr. Godeman said this treatment had been known for some time, but never had been publicly announced until today.

The convention closed tonight.

After the wedding the couple will make their home in Monroe, La. Miss Tracy is a graduate of Leland-Stanford university, of California.

IRISH GIRL ACCLAIMED AS DIVINE BY FOLLOWERS

Her Numerous Devotees Are Causing Religious Upheaval at Mount Airy.

Mount Airy, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) Followers of a flaxen haired Irish girl, who claims to be divine, have flocked here from various points in north Georgia and the result is causing a religious upheaval in this section.

The cult is holding three services a day in a large tent pitched here and Baptist church. So zealous are some of the devotees that they are trying to divorce their wives on other faiths, give their children away and devote their lives to the new belief.

Members of the band, organized three years ago, believe that their girl leader is superhuman and immune from all ills of the flesh; they say that her feet shine like an angel's.

Considerable excitement prevails time is now at hand, that all prophecy among them, as they think the end of time is now at hand, that all prophecy mentioned in the Old and New Testaments of Christ must be fulfilled. They spend most of the time singing, reading the Bible and holding meetings. The use of tobacco is forbidden as well as any attempt to adorn the body. The high order of their troubles them not, as fasting rather than feasting is the order of the sect.

BUNTING AND FLAGS DECORATE CITY HALL FOR SHRINERS' WEEK

When the Shriners come Atlanta's city hall will be gaily decorated with bunting and flags. A more elaborate plan of decorations was at first proposed, but at a meeting of the city commanic board yesterday afternoon Councilman W. G. Humphrey stated that the finance committee was unable to furnish the $1,300 wanted, and so a change was decided upon and $700 appropriated.

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Next week's bill at the Forsyth is promised by the management to be another great big entertainment. "A Persian Garden" Louis Simon heading the cast of fourteen people in this musical comedy also includes Lillian Beaumont and Fred Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry will offer a rare comedy and Stuart Barnes one of the best monologists in the business, is on the bill. The week has registered a tremendous success and the four remaining performances have almost been sold out for the big standing room will be a strong feature in the Verigraph showing entirely unusual in the picture line, when the audiences view the pictures through spectacles which apparently create an illusion.

"Driven From Home."

(At the Bijou.)

The cordial reception that was given "Driven From Home" Monday at the Bijou has been in no sense at expecting performance during the week, and the delighted audiences that patronize the popular Marietta street theater have enthusiastically applauded the performances. The play itself affords the company unusual opportunities for clever work, and each member of the cast is exhibiting himself in splendid style. Eddie Black, Edwin Vail, Walter Van Dyke, M. H. Turner and Marie Chase, Alice Fay Lane and Annie Brandt have all made many friends during the week and the play itself may well be classed among the big successes of the Eddie Black engagement in Atlanta.

BOOST CAPTAIN MAYO FOR SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Long Record of Police Captain Highly Praised by Speakers.

Captain W. M. Mayo, candidate for sheriff, was warmly praised by a number of speakers at an enthusiastic meeting of his supporters who filled the meeting place, 197 Bellwood avenue, to overflowing last night.

Captain Mayo, who has been connected with the police department for seventeen years, made the opening speech, outlining his platform and policies briefly and clearly. His words received much applause.

This was the third meeting held in Mayo's campaign. It was presided over by George Garner, a member of the board of police commissioners, and a close personal supporter of the police captain-candidate. Mr. Garner also made a short address in Mayo's behalf.

A speech that was enthusiastically applauded was delivered by Dr. Dickey, who, if Mayo is elected, will be his legal representative. Other addresses were made by J. W. Wingfield, Irvin McGhee and Colonel G. H. Corriwell.

Captain Mayo offered as proof of his qualification for office his seventeen years' service with the police department, in which time, he stated, he had never been called on a charge before the board of commissioners, and had never clubbed a man, white or black. Other speakers praised the candidate's record.

Mr. Dorsey attacked conditions which he alleged to exist in the Fulton county jail under the present administration, and accused officials of the sheriff's office of having become part of a ring of politicians who have established themselves in politics.

He accused the two opposing candidates of conspiring to defeat the police captain by combining their support in opposition.

A sensation was created when J. W. Whittaker, on Mayor's ticket as chief deputy, declared that he had supported Sheriff Mangum in his previous campaign, but had transferred his support to the police captain when Mangum, after having promised not to run for office again, announced for the present campaign.

PEACH CROP FATE HANGS IN BALANCE

apprehensive tonight regarding the probable effect of the cold upon orchards here. Three hundred thousand peach trees within a radius of five miles of Americus are in prime condition and well laden with young fruit.

Growers have taken no precautions against the unusually protecting trees as the cold wave came with such suddenness as to preclude necessary preparations. The temperature this morning stood at 40 degrees or below, a temperature that would kill fruit. It is much feared that the cold and fire consequences to orchards and cotton fields may follow tomorrow morning. Thousands of acres of young cotton may be killed outright or seriously injured.

STEAMER SINKS BARK; THREE LIVES ARE LOST

Newport News, Va., April 9.—Bringing the dead body of the captain and eleven survivors of the crew of the Norwegian bark Orellan, which she rammed and sank off Barnegat, N. J., last night at 10 o'clock, the American steamer Iowa put into this port early tonight from Boston. The eleven survivors, which include one woman, wife of the first mate, was picked from the water by the Crowell's boats after their own boats, two in number, had been swamped. The captain was dead when picked up. Two men went down with the ship.

Captain Vail reported to Consul Richardson that the Orellan ran into a fog-ging misty weather and was due to the Crowell's lights displayed by the Orellan. The Crowell was cruising at the time steaming almost full speed. The woodwork of the Orellan, after fifty minutes after being struck sank in seventeen fathoms of water.

In his report Captain Vail said that great confusion prevailed aboard the bark following the crash. Captain Johannsen losing control of his men. Captain Johannsen, the mate, Johannsen and the mate had succeeded in getting the latter's wife into one of the boats, piled into them, there were but two launched, so wildly that both were swamped. In the meantime the Crowell was standing by and Captain Vail immediately ordered his lifeboats lowered and Captain Johannsen, the women and ten were picked up.

Captain Johannsen, of the bark, was dead when taken from one of the rescuing boats. It is believed he had to have been due to heart failure, aggravated by the excitement of the wreck.

The auction sale, however, prompted the announcement last night by the management of the Foster & Robson firm that another auction sale would be held at an early date.

At this forthcoming auction the remaining thirty lots, which are said to be the most valuable of the subdivisions—a majority of them fronting on Hill street—will be auctioned off.

FELLOW MEMBERS OF THE CAPITAL CITY CLUB

The property offered the Club for its permanent club site, and to perfect its new golf links, will be worth $60,000.00 "on or before" five years.

EDWIN P. ANSLEY.

OGLETHORPE PARK
Will Have the Most Beautiful Driving System in the South

OGLETHORPE DRIVE, a big boulevard extending through the S. C. Stovall property, past the Capital City Club and through the Hart estate, lying just north of the Brookhaven estate and the Country Club, thence into DeKalb County and through one land lot to Oglethorpe University grounds and Silver Lake properties; thence on a direct route to Chamblee, and extending north by way of Peachtree Road, with a network of lateral drives leading in every direction, complete the system.

These properties will make only a few tracts, as it is to be cut into lots of two to five acres each. Each tract will be developed upon its own merits, and a carefully selected building site will be provided in each instance.

The route selected follows a ridge higher than any part of Peachtree Road, overlooking the entire country. With the beautiful club property and lake in the foreground, it has the effect of a mountain plateau, with a great formal garden extending in all directions.

Some of the finest landscape engineers of this and other sections have inspected this property and express wonder that this plan has not been discovered sooner.

Below are the indorsements of some of the officials of the Capital City Country Club:

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK OF ATLANTA
Atlanta, Ga., March 14, 1914.

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—

I have seen the preliminary plans for connecting from Peachtree Road the Capital City Country Club properties and the Oglethorpe University and Silver Lake properties by the development of land lots 16, 11 and 12. This will mold these valuable properties closely together and, when carried out, will be of much benefit to all the properties involved and one of the most important improvements made in the northern end of Fulton and western part of DeKalb County for many years.

I should think the merits of this proposition would fully warrant the County Commissioners of Fulton and DeKalb in co-operating liberally with you and your associates in opening up this property, which is sure to mean a large increase in the taxable returns from this section and its rapid development.

As you know, I have no personal interest whatever in any of this property, except my interest, as President, in the future welfare of the Capital City Country Club. Knowing your ability and success in developing property in this and other sections of the country, I have confidence in your judgment, and believe that if your present plans are carried out, your expectations in the success of the enterprise will be fully realized, and a second Ansley Park is destined to be developed in this beautiful section of Fulton and rapidly-growing part of DeKalb County.

Yours truly,
ROBT. F. MADDOX.

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Candler Building.
Atlanta, Ga., March 13, 1914.

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—

The plan you have outlined for connecting the property adjoining the Capital City Country Club with that adjoining the site set aside for Oglethorpe University with the splendid driveway, in which you make provision for a private right-of-way for the car line, is one of the broadest developments undertaken around Atlanta.

I did not know until I saw your plat that only one Land Lot separates the properties of Brookhaven Estates from that of the Silver Lake Estates, nor that a drive could be built on the north side of the Capital City Club property to connect with the University site, that would be only a few hundred feet longer than by Peachtree Road.

The fact that you are willing to change your plans, so that your proposed driveways around the Club property form an attractive Boulevard system around the Golf Links, and are willing to locate your drive on the north of the Links, fifty or more feet from the Club property, and allow the Club the use of this space that is very necessary to make this part of the Links as wide as they should be, is another evidence of your sincerity in dealing with your neighbors. It occurs to me that your neighbors, and the public, have profited more than you have in all of your developments; but it is that broadness of vision that has made your developments successful.

I believe the Club and the University will certainly co-operate with you to the fullest extent in carrying out your development plans, and I hope that all adjoining property owners will do the same.

Wishing you success in all your plans, I am

Very truly,
T. JULIAN McGILL,
Chairman Golf Committee,
Capital City Country Club.

If the club had a beautiful site on which to erect its permanent club, I believe its members would quickly subscribe to a bond issue to pay for such a club, and to induce the street car company to extend its car line to said site.

Mr. Stovall has agreed to donate the lot or tract marked "B" adjoining the club property, and I am willing to donate the tract marked "C" for a club site, and I am also willing to co-operate with Mr. Stovall in grading the driveway marked "Club Drive" across the club's property and that agreed to be deeded to it, provided the club will secure an extension of the Peachtree and Brookhaven car line from its present terminus to the north line of the property agreed to be donated to the club by me.

For the consideration named, and in order for the club to secure additional land for its new Golf Course, at a point where the new links are very much congested, I am willing to deed to the club the tract of land marked "D" on the plat, provided the club agrees to maintain said tract for club purposes, such as Golf Link and Park.

The Driveway marked "Club Drive" could connect the present and proposed new Club Building, both with an electric and an automobile drive. The driveways shown on the plat will furnish the most attractive driving system in the South.

As Oglethorpe Park will soon have nine or ten driveways into it, a few weeks' work will convert from sage fields, laps and limbs, into a beautiful suburban residence section.

When the Piedmont Driving Club burned, a few years ago, I offered my present home site (then in the rough) and forty acres adjoining, for a Golf Course, in exchange for its present five-acre site. Some of its members hooted at the proposition. Since that time, dozens of these same members have come to me and expressed their regrets. Therefore, I say, let's look to the future growth of Atlanta and its suburbs before the club reject an offer to acquire additional property that is will never have again, except at a large cost.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN P. ANSLEY.

NEW CLUBHOUSE FOR BROOKHAVEN

When Option to Buy Is Exercised Capital City Country Club Will Build Handsome Home.

"The establishment of a country club at Brookhaven by the Capital City club has proven a wise and popular step. I think the club will unquestionably exercise its option to buy the property in June, 1916, and when we do we will erect one of the handsomest club buildings in the South."

This was the statement of Robert F. Maddox, president of the Capital City club, to whose efforts is due much of the credit, both for the leasing of Brookhaven and for the successful maintenance of the attractive country club.

"The tract," continued Mr. Maddox, "consists of 150 acres, ideally adapted as a country club. The lake, clear as crystal, and ideal for boating, is one of the prettiest in the state.

"The golf links, now nine holes, is being enlarged to an 18-hole course, which gives promise of being not only the sportiest in the South, but without question the most picturesque.

"The clubhouse, while attractive, both as to interior and exterior, and while answering its purposes at the present time, will probably give way to a larger one when we exercise our option to buy, and it is safe to assume that the Capital City will build a clubhouse of which all Atlanta may justly feel proud.

"The members of the club, without exception, as far as I have been able to ascertain, are tremendously pleased with the success of Brookhaven so far, and nothing will be overlooked in continuing its usefulness as an ideal country club."

IMPORTERS

THE way to get goods at lowest cost is to get them at first hands.

That's one reason why M. Rich & Bros. Co. import so many goods direct—we consider it poor store-keeping to make our customers pay an importer's added profit for what we can do ourselves.

The other reason is that we have served Atlanta and Georgia people for almost 50 years—we know their tastes much better than any New York importer.

The Atlanta Custom House receipts show that M. Rich & Bros. Co. import more and varied lines than any other retail store.

So it comes about that Rich's is the best and cheapest place to buy good linens, exclusive silks and dress goods, fine laces, jewelry novelties, toys, fine blankets, handkerchiefs, etc. Are you dealing with M. Rich & Bros. Co., Importers?

LODGE IS OPPOSED TO FREE CANAL TOLLS

Veteran G. O. P. Senator Defends Position of President—Lodge Says United States Is Under Suspicion.

Washington, April 9.—Hearings on the Panama tolls exemption repeal bill opened today before the senate canals committee, but interest in the repeal fight was focused on the senate itself, where Senator Lodge, veteran republican member of the foreign relations committee, held the attention of virtually the entire membership and of crowded galleries for more than two hours, defending the position of President Wilson in insisting upon the passage of the repeal bill.

The senator spoke without a single interruption. He declared that in his opinion the right of the United States to exempt any of its shipping from tolls was unquestioned under strict interpretation of the treaty; but because of the delicate position in which the country finds itself in its foreign relations, urged non-partisan support of the president. At the conclusion of Senator Lodge's address the galleries broke into applause and the vice president's gavel pounded several minutes before order was restored and the warning given that senate rules prohibited any display of approval or disapproval from the gallery.

Lodge's View on Repeal.

Senator Lodge was given the strictest attention by his colleagues on both sides of the chamber, and without respect to their announced views on the repeal struggle.

"To thwart the purposes or to discredit the policies of the head of a political party," he declared, "is legitimate political warfare. To discredit or break down the president of the United States upon a question of foreign policy is quite another thing, not to be undertaken except for the very gravest reason. In one case we overthrow a party leader within that arena where the American people alone sit in judgment; in the other we break down and discredit the representative of the whole country in the great forum of the nations of the earth and paralyse his future power and usefulness in that field where he alone can declare and represent the policy, the honor and the dignity of the United States."

While Senator Lodge maintained vigorously the legal right of the United States to exempt its shipping, foreign as well as coastwise, from tolls, he declared that "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind" and the "distrust, and in some cases dislike," with which the United States is regarded abroad demanded prompt repeal of the exemption clause of the canal act.

Larger Issues Involved.

"Whether we shall insist upon giving to our ships two or three millions of dollars in a disputed way is, in my conception, a very small question compared to the larger issues which are here involved," said the senator.

"When the year 1909 opened, the United States occupied a higher and stronger position among the nations of the earth than at any period in our history. Never before had we possessed such an influence in international affairs, and that influence had been used beneficially and for the world's peace in two conspicuous instances—at Portsmouth and at Algeciras. Never before had our relations with the various states of Central and South America been so good.

"It seemed as if the shadow of suspicion which, owing to our constant and at times domineering power, had darkened and chilled our relations with the people of Latin America had at last been lifted. This great position and this commanding influence have been largely lost.

United States Under Suspicion.

"I am not in the councils of the president of the United States, but I believe that during the past year the present position of the United States in its foreign relations has become very apparent to him, as it is to other responsible and reflecting men, and with this appreciation of our present position has come the caution with which he trace some of our steps, at least, and to regain, so far as possible, the high place which we formerly occupied. It would be an obvious impropriety to point out the specific conditions of our present relations with the various nations both in the old world and the new, but it is enough to note the fact that we are regarded by other nations with distrust and in some cases with dislike.

"Rightly or wrongly, they have come to believe that we are not to be trusted; that we make our international relations the sport of politics and treat them as if they were in no wise different from questions of domestic legislation. This has not been in accord with our history or our position. Only once have we abrogated a treaty, and then actual, if not declared, war existed. We have scrupulously observed our international agreements, and where differences have arisen we have settled them not with the high hand of power, but by negotiation and arbitration.

"The outcry about exhibiting subservience to Great Britain or any other country because we see fit to repeal the tolls seems to me hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to anyone, and the mere fact of suggesting it seems to me to indicate an uneasy suspicion on the part of those from whom it emanates not only of the validity of their position, but of the power and greatness of their own country, as to which I, for one, am troubled by no doubts."

Favors Roosevelt's Proposal.

Senator Kenyon announced during the day that he approved the suggestion of former President Roosevelt that the tolls question be arbitrated.

Senator Williams, of Mississippi, agreed that the question might well be arbitrated, and that arbitration would satisfy the "nearer consequences" spoken of by President Wilson in his repeal message. He said, however, that a canvass of the senate a year ago showed that two-thirds of the senate were not in favor of arbitration and so far as he had heard, only two senators opposed to repeal supported arbitration.

Senator Newlands, democrat, of Nevada, issued a statement late today announcing that he would oppose the repeal bill. He said he did not believe exemption of American coastwise shipping from canal tolls violated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and declared it would be unconscionable upon the part of England, the chief beneficiary, to insist that we should abandon a settled democratic policy in order to meet a strained construction of the treaty."

Carnegie Applauds Repeal Speech.

Andrew Carnegie was an interested spectator in the house gallery today and applauded vigorously a speech supporting the Panama tolls exemption repeal by Representative Vollmer, of Iowa, the newest member. Later Mr. Carnegie visited the white house.

Mr. Carnegie visited the capital and had a long talk with Chairman Adamson, of the house committee on interstate commerce. He predicted that the repeal bill would pass the senate and jokingly suggested that "only prayer will help some of those democrats in the senate, the way they are behaving now."

Mr. Carnegie chatted a few minutes with President Wilson. He said his visit was merely to jay his respects and that he had not discussed politics or pending questions. When asked about the canal tolls controversy he said:

"Our country will be dishonored if we do not uphold the treaty."
