DOUBLE-TRACKING WILL BE REQUIRED OF W. & A. LESSEE

The Legislative Commission Agreed to Make This Demand at Meeting Held at the Capitol Wednesday.

LONG LEASE PROBABLE TO GET IMPROVEMENT

Legislators in Chattanooga to Inspect State Property in Tennessee—Social Invitations Declined.

There are two things and practically two things only which were decided by the Western and Atlantic commission when they met here yesterday, preparatory to their trip to Chattanooga to inspect the property of the state there.

These were that the lessee would be required to double-track the road and that, in order to obtain a satisfactory lease, a long term would probably have to be offered.

The commission met Wednesday morning in the senate chamber of the capitol. They were supposed to meet at 9 o'clock, but they were not able to get a quorum together until nearly 11. Then there were six members present.

Cost of Double-Tracking.

The chairman of the commission presented a letter from the vice president of the Southern railroad, H. B. Spencer, in answer to an inquiry that the cost of double-tracking that line from Atlanta to Gainesville was from $20,000 to $50,000 per mile, according to the grade. The cost of the last double-tracking which the road had done, namely from Chattanooga to Meridian, Miss., on the Alabama Great Southern, averaged $20,000 per mile. Mr. Spencer said that it would be impossible to determine the cost of double-tracking any particular line without a survey by a competent engineer and a report from him.

Chairman Jordan declared that he thought that certain questions ought to be put to the railroads, who are liable to lease the line. Among these questions, it should be asked how much they were willing to pay for the present right of way, how much they would pay for the road with the properties which may be eliminated from railroad service taken out, and also how much they will pay for the Atlanta terminal of the branch on the plaza system as indicated by the blue prints furnished by the chamber of commerce.

Decline 24 Banquets.

While there were only six members of the commission present the consensus seemed to be practically unanimous that no contract for the re-lease of the road would be considered unless it included a proposition to double-track the road.

Members of the commission left Wednesday on the N., C. & L. for Chattanooga at 4:30 o'clock. It is their intention there to inspect the state's property in Tennessee. Several social invitations from the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce were declined on the ground that the commission would not have time to accept them.

There were at this meeting Chairman Gunby Jordan, of Columbus; Senator Tarver and Representatives L. R. Akin, Alvin D. Greene, E. D. Cole and Henry J. Fullbright.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO SLAY OFFICER

Unknown Marksman Fires Two Shots at Patrolman McWilliams About Midnight Wednesday.

An attempt was made about midnight last night to assassinate J. W. McWilliams, of the local police force, at his home in East Atlanta.

Patrolman McWilliams got up about 12 o'clock to report at headquarters, and before leaving home stepped out on his back porch. While standing in the doorway some one fired two shots at him, both narrowly missing him.

Running into the house, McWilliams secured a revolver and went out in the back yard in search of his assailant, but could find no trace of him.

He states that he has no idea as to the identity of the miscreant. The police are hard at work on the case and are determined to find the unknown marksman.

WILL MAKE ATLANTA ITS SHIPPING POINT

The Harley-Davidson Motor company, of Milwaukee, Wis., has made Atlanta its southern headquarters and will distribute its motorcycles from Atlanta to seven southern states, including Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida, North and South Carolina.

This decision on the part of the Harley-Davidson people was reached after negotiations, through its southern manager, Gus Castle, with the industrial and statistical bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The motorcycles will be shipped here in carload lots and reshipped to all destinations in the southeast.

The first carload is en route and will arrive the first of next week. The fact that this as well as other companies are selecting Atlanta as the logical distributing point for the southeastern territory demonstrates the fitness of Atlanta because of her geographical location and other advantages as the ideal point of distribution for all manufactured articles for practically the entire southern country.

The industrial bureau of the chamber is in correspondence with a number of other concerns which are showing interest in Atlanta as a point at which to locate their southern houses.

Pictures Showing Damage Done by Texas Floods

WRECKED HOUSES

GETTING SUPPLIES ACROSS RIVER

The death roll of the floods which have swept south central Texas has run to nearly 200, and additional losses of life and property are being reported daily. Henry Martin, vice president and general manager of the International and Great Northern railway, was drowned near Bryan, Texas, and during the storm 13 cadets marooned persons. The latter heard cries for help and put out to the rescue of the scores of greatest loss of life and damage to property is reported at Austin, accompanying illustrations show dismantled houses at Bryan, Texas, and rescuers at work there hauling them across the river on a wire cable for suffering refugees. Fifty persons, mostly negroes, are reported to have been drowned at Sunnyside, a small town near Houston. Mayor Holcombe of Houston has informed the governor that many lives were lost and that 2,000 persons are homeless in that city. Bridges, railroads and telegraph lines are down. Rescuers are among those reported missing. Governor Colquitt of Texas has appealed to the governors of other states for aid, and a train of supplies was dispatched from Houston to rescue them. J. E. Garrett, a planter, who telephoned to Houston for assistance, reported that the entire Brazos bottom from Waller county was flooded, that several houses had floated away, and that crops were ruined. Governor Colquitt has issued a proclamation declaring that the appalling floods, but that many lives were lost in the storm were dug, guns were mounted on the hills and provisions were carried across the river. General Mercado, Orozco and Salazar were particularly active in directing the fortifications after Sonora had been opened with Mexico City.

For some reason the civilian refugees who accompanied the army from Chihuahua were allowed to cross to the American side only a few at a time. Those who crossed, representing wealthy families whose lives were thought to be in danger from the hands of rebels, went immediately to the nearest railway station at Marfa, Texas. It was said civilian families were being held in Ojinaga in the belief that the rebels would not attack non-combatants.

That the rank and file of the federals looked upon the prospect of any more fighting with disfavor was manifest by observers on the opposite side of the river. A shore of soldiers in ragged uniforms saluted the American cavalrymen on the border patrol and wistfully inquired whether they might cross the river. Answered in the negative, they said they certainly would desert if they were attacked by the rebels. The fact that the federal troops have long been without pay was thought to have determined their attitude, though what are known as the federal volunteers commanded or General Orozco are in greatest fear of the rebels. The rebels have held that many men in the regular army were forced into service, while the volunteers were not.

DEADLY PROHI ORDER ISSUED BY THE REBELS

Juarez, Mexico, December 10.—The rebel military commander at Juarez today issued an order imposing a penalty of death before a firing squad on anyone who violated or attempted to violate the prohibition law. The same penalty applies to those who attempt to purchase liquor as well as those who sell it.

The order, issued through the chief of police, says:

"It has come to the attention of the military authorities that merchants and saloonKeepers have been selling liquor in violation of the prohibition law. Notice is hereby given that any attempt to violate the law through purchase or sale will be punishable by execution before a firing squad."

Reports to rebel headquarters from the vicinity of Chihuahua said that section of the country was quiet.

HUERTA TROOP TRAIN DYNAMITED BY REBELS

Mexico City, December 10.—A federal troop train is reported to have been dynamited north of Monterey, and the loss of life is said to be heavy. The train was on its way to Nuevo Laredo to reinforce the garrison there. Fourteen cars loaded with troops are understood, succeeded in reaching Laredo in advance of the train which was blown up.

An attack by rebels on a passenger train on the International railway at Zertuche, near Monclova, in the state of Coahuila, on December 6, resulted in the killing of six passengers and the wounding of others, according to delayed advices.

A work train, northbound from Monterey on the Laredo branch, was forced to abandon repair work on account of the presence of rebels in force along the National railway.

GEN. HUERTA URGED TO ASK FOR TRUCE

Mexico City, December 10.—Tentative efforts were made today by the conservative element in the Mexican government to induce Provisional President Huerta to ascertain if General Venustiano Carranza would be willing to cease fighting for the purpose of holding an election, at which constitutionalist leader would be a candidate for the presidency and the people, or would name his choice for that office.

It is assumed in political circles that General Carranza would have as opposition in the presidential race candidates from the capital named by the Catholics and other political parties.

AMERICANS ARE HELD BY MEXICAN REBELS

Pasadena, Cal., December 10.—Seeking to obtain the release of W. S. Windham and J. M. Dunn, former Pasadena citizens, held by constitutionalists in Sinaloa, Mexico, the Pasadena board of trade today telegraphed to Secretary of State Bryan as follows:

"Nine days having elapsed and no word as yet received from W. S. Windham, former cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, who is held in Mexico for ransom, we again earnestly request that further action be taken immediately to insure his release."

Windham was manager of the Quichis ranch in Tepic, owned by wealthy Californians. Dunn was his associate. Two weeks ago Windham got a message through stating that he and Dunn were being held for a ransom of $5,000 gold. Carranza ordered their release ten days ago, according to messages from Hermosillo, but nothing has been heard here to indicate that the men have been set free.

YAQUI INDIANS JOIN FORCES OF CARRANZA

Hermosillo, December 10.—Between 1,500 and 2,000 Yaqui Indians were recruited today into the constitutionalist army at Motorrete, insurgent base above Guaymas. The warriors, passive until three of their chiefs decided to assist in the revolution, are expected to be of great value in the projected campaigns against Guaymas and Mazatlan, the only two points on the northwest coast retained by the federal government.

It was reported here today that Mexican laborers are being forced into the service by the federals at Guaymas. The regular federal force is between two and three thousand.

General Carranza issued a proclamation today warning bankers of Sonora to open their institutions which have been closed since the issue of new paper currency was issued. They were allowed six months in which to comply with the order. In case they do not, it was proclaimed they will lose their charters. Since there is not a bank open in the entire state, banking business has been conducted through mercantile houses.

SITUATION IN MEXICO CAUSES MADRID PANIC

Madrid, December 10.—Rumors that the Hispano-Americano bank was overloaded with Mexican securities caused a sharp panic on the bourse today, and the bank's stock fell 11 points in a few minutes. At the same time a run on the bank began and more than $2,000,000 was drawn out by depositors. The bank was obliged temporarily to suspend payments. The Bank of Spain, however, made a large advance, and the Hispano-Americano bank will resume tomorrow.

STANLEY HOUGHTON PASSES IN ENGLAND

London, December 10.—Stanley Houghton, one of the prominent young dramatists of the day, author of "Hindle-wakes," died today in Manchester.

Turkish Grand Vizier Quits.

Constantinople, December 10.—The grand vizier, Prince Said Halim, has resigned because of differences arising between him and his colleagues on the government's military policy. Prince Said Halim became minister of war in June and retained the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs, to which he had been appointed in January.

POWERS OF CZAR ASKED BY HUERTA

He Calls on His Congress to Make Him Absolute. Property of Foreigners in Danger of Confiscation.

Mexico City, December 10.—President Huerta has asked congress again to vest him with full executive powers to conduct the affairs of the departments of war, finance and the interior. A bill to this effect was introduced in the chamber today. The deputies had just approved a measure authorizing the flotation of an interior loan of 100,000 pesos at 5 per cent to be issued immediately. This was to be the first of a series of five loans, and if congress approves the bill will make request for power over the finance department it will enable him to put out the remaining four without further formality.

While the country was without a congress other than that imprisoned in jail, President Huerta took to himself the absolute control of the various departments and the new congress recently approved his conduct of affairs, it is understood. This was to be the first of a series of five loans, and if congress approves the bill will make request for power over the finance department it will enable him to put out the remaining four without further formality.

While the country was without a congress other than that imprisoned in jail, President Huerta took to himself the absolute control of the various departments and the new congress recently approved his conduct of affairs, it is understood. This was to be the first of a series of five loans, and would now permit these departments to be conducted by their own chiefs along constitutional lines.

That the reactionary Catholic party element in congress has been induced to see things from the president's point of view was indicated by a speech made in congress today by Francisco Pasquel Garcia, leader of the party, in which he declared that he was convinced of the necessity of the country being ruled by a dictator, but he believed the acts of the dictator should be subject to congressional approval.

Foreigners May Lose Property.

The American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, recently notified Washington that the property of foreign residents in the state of Sinaloa was in imminent danger of confiscation by the federal authorities as a war measure. The charge has received instructions to investigate the constitutionality of the act, and if he finds it is not sanctioned by law, to register a protest with the Mexican government.

The confiscation of property has been threatened in default of payment of a 5 per cent tax arbitrarily imposed by the governor of Sinaloa, whose headquarters is now at Mazatlan, the only large city in the state still under government control. Foreigners generally have appealed through their consuls to the diplomatic representatives in the Mexican capital. The French minister has reported to his government, asking for instructions, but the English and German ministers have advised their nationals at Mazatlan to pay the tax under protest. The American charge has prepared a memorandum for presentation to Senor Moheno, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

Young Women is Want.

A parade of 200 young women into the capital today is reported to have impoverished condition to which many of them is smallest evidence of poverty. They were seamstresses thrown out of employment by the closing of factories, where the exclusive output consisted of soldiers' uniforms. The same women appealed to President Huerta a few days ago, but were sent to the palace again today and again the president refused to see them. Afterwards they marched through the principal streets, displaying banners on whichwas inscribed "We all want work." The majority of these women are in the army service and the women are dependent upon their own resources.

GOOD ROADS CONGRESS CAPTURED BY ATLANTA

1914 Convention Will Be Held in This City From October 19 to 26.

New York, December 10.—(Special.) As a result of the contest among ten of the leading cities of the United States for the 1914 session of the American Road congress, under which title the American Highway association and the American Automobile association hold their annual convention, Atlanta has been selected as the next convention city.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the American Highway association, which has just been held in this city, the announcement was made that Atlanta had been selected by the executive committee of the congress and that the convention would be held there from October 19 to October 26.

Fairfax Harrison, who succeeded the late W. W. Finley as president of the Southern Railway company, was elected at the meeting to succeed Mr. Finley as vice president of the American Highway association and as a member of the executive committee. Mr. Harrison accepted the position, and stated that he intended to carry on the work for improvement of highways in the south through the association, as his predecessor had done.

It is likely that the executive committee will elect Mr. Harrison chairman of that body.

TO WILLIAM DEERING DEATH HAS CALLED

Miami, Fla., December 10.—The body of William Deering, pioneer harvester machinery manufacturer, who died here last night, was taken to Evanston, Ill., today. Funeral services will be held there Saturday or Sunday.

Mr. Deering was brought to Miami six weeks ago in a helpless condition and was taken to his country home. He never rallied. With him were his wife and two sons. Death was caused by paralysis.

Mr. Deering's name stands at the forefront in the development of harvesting machinery. He stacked his fortune, thirty years ago on the automatic binder device for wheat harvesters. Its success revolutionized the method of harvesting the crop.

A William Deering was born at South Paris, Maine, in 1826, and was educated at Bradfield college. He studied the study of medicine, which later he abandoned to engage in manufacturing and commercial enterprises until he became interested extensively in wheat farm lands.

In 1865, in company with Seth Milliken, he formed the firm of Deering, Milliken & Co., at Portland, Maine. Later this business was removed to New York and is now one of the largest dry goods commission houses in the country.

Retiring from this business because of ill-health, Mr. Deering later entered a firm in Chicago, at first engaged in selling and later in manufacturing the Marsh harvester. To this machine later was added an attachment which automatically bound the grain in bundles. From this grew the vast business which Mr. Deering built up. He retired from business in 1901, and 1902 the Deering Harvester company was merged with the International Harvester company.

Channing Ellery Will Come To Atlanta With His Band

Channing Ellery, the noted head of the Ellery Royal Italian band, will be in Atlanta in person this week in connection with the appearance of his famous band for a series of concerts at the Auditorium. Information to this effect was received in a telegram Wednesday morning by Colonel W. H. Peet, of the Music Festival association.

All Atlanta music lovers will be given an opportunity to meet Mr. Ellery Friday evening at 5 o'clock, at an informal reception that has been arranged in his honor at the Ansley hotel. All who are interested in music and especially in the appearance of this band here, are cordially invited to attend the reception and meet Mr. Ellery at this time.

As has been announced, all school children of the city will be admitted free to the matinee concerts on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. These school children will be ticket only which will be distributed at each of the public schools. One-third of the white children will go to the matinee Monday, one-third on Tuesday and one-third on Wednesday. The children of the negro schools will be admitted to the Thursday matinee. The opening concert will take place on Friday night at the Auditorium-Armory. Tickets will be on sale at the door. The Music Festival association realized the importance of this as being one of the notable events of the year.

Music lovers of Nashville became infatuated with the Ellery music at the first hearing that they attended the entire week of six performances. Special permission was given by the city authorities for two concerts on Sunday, and they were attended by the most cultured people of Nashville. The final one was given at 9 p. m. to permit of its being attended by church people, and large numbers of them went directly from the services to the concert. The unanimous verdict of the Nashville public and press was that no band music that could in any degree approach that of the Ellery band had ever been heard in the south.

KHORASSANS ELECT WINN ROYAL VIZIER

Only Witty Speeches and New Jokes Allowed at the Annual Banquet.

Headed by the famous "Dokie" drum corps, nearly two hundred members of Kibla temple, Knights of Khorassan, marched from their hall in the Kiser building to the Hotel Ansley at 6 o'clock Wednesday night, the occasion being the annual banquet of the order.

At 7:30 o'clock a business session was held at the hall, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Royal vizier, W. T. Winn; grand envoy, Young H. Fraser; secretary, Joseph H. Terrell; treasurer, John R. Kennedy; mahidi, Dr. R. M. Eubanks; shiek, R. L. Owens; satrap, S. C. Wills and sahib, J. M. Wilson. These officers will be installed at the first meeting in 1914.

The dinner, which was planned by the newly-elected grand vizier, W. T. Winn, was a masterpiece of culinary art, and well carried out one of the witchwords of the order, being "Pill the inner man, if it empties the treasury." With the lighting of the cigars, the oratorical contest began, with the retiring Royal Vizier Russell K. Smith as toastmaster. All-aged jokes were barred, the members of the drum corps drumming the offender down.

The speakers were: George L. Eubanks, "Current Gossip, by One Who Knows;" Lee P. Terrell, "The Man Without Humor;" Young H. Fraser, "The Trials of Matrimony;" Dr. R. M. Stanley, "The Darwinian Theory;" E. V. Carter, "From the Ballot to the Ballot, Evolution or Revolution;" "Greater Atlanta," Mayor James Woodward and Thomas D. Samford, "A Voice From Opelika."

The winner will be announced later.

Judge Samford, who was the principal speaker of the evening, is past grand chancellor of the state of Alabama, and a well-known speaker.

Dr. Russell K. Smith, the retiring royal vizier, was presented with a handsome gold watch by the temple. Colonel James W. Austin making the presentation speech.

J. R. Joyner.

J. R. Joyner, of Valdosta, Ga., 61 years old, died at 8 o'clock last night at a local hospital. He is survived by one daughter, Miss R. T. Joyner, of Valdosta. The body was removed to Hemperly's chapel at East Point and will be held there until relatives are heard from.

TECH NIGHT SCHOOL ENROLLMENT TWICE THAT OF LAST YEAR

With an enrollment nearly double that of last year, the winter term of the Georgia Tech night school opened last night. Over one hundred and sixty students have matriculated to date.

The night course includes architecture, electrical engineering, mechanical drawing, woodwork, mathematics, chemistry, English, machine shop, mechanical engineering, foundry practice, carpentry and joinery, and the only expense to the student is a contingent fee of $5 per term. This goes to help defray the expense of heating and lighting, the use of the Tech plant, laboratories, shops and equipment being donated by the state.

Classes are held on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, beginning at 7:30 p. m. and lasting until 9:30 p. m. The classrooms open at 7:15 p. m.

The funeral of Mayfield Argo, who died Wednesday, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, and later sent to Newnan, Ga., for interment.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Yeas ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

GARRISON URGES STRONG MILITIA

War Secretary Favors Reserve System—Proper Organization Necessary for United States Recognition.

Washington, December 10.—Secretary Garrison's first annual report to the president, as head of the war department, makes no recommendations for the generally expected rearrangement of army posts to distribute troops in mobile units. The secretary says that other things of immediate importance, "particularly an adequate supply of field artillery," will postpone his recommendations to congress, but in the meantime the troops will be garrisoned in as practical a manner for mobilization as is possible.

Mr. Garrison discusses the militia at some length. He says in part:

"The national importance of a reserve system for the organized militia cannot be questioned. The minimum strength at which militia organizations are maintained in time of peace will render necessary a great and immediate increase in a national emergency, and this fact demands the presence of a system of reserves upon which the time has not yet come when a nation can safely rely. Without some such efforts for preparedness in case of war, recognize the fact that when accomplished the efficiency or the organizations will have been reduced to a minimum by the introduction of an untrained element double in number ter- the trained personnel.

"Proper organization, as required by the law, is necessary to the end that the organized militia is to be considered as a dependable military federal asset in time of national need, and the organizations existing as such, as they only will be required to complete their component elements or lose federal recognition of their character as such organizations.

"While there has been a small decrease in officers and enlisted men in the organized militia during the past year, this decrease was covered, in great part, as the result of the elimination of organizations found hopelessly deficient and incompleted for, by an increase in general efficiency. It is regretted that in target practice the reports show but slight improvement over last year. This fact is the more serious as rifle practice is recognized as one of the most vital elements in the training of the infantry soldier. The present tendency to develop rifle teams, composed mostly of commissioned officers, at the expense of target practice for the enlisted man, is opposed to the federal policy in this matter and should be discontinued."

Commending the work of the general staff, the army war college and officers generally for their assistance, part of a definite national military policy and proper encouragement of military training, the secretary says:

"As a result of unusually favorable conditions engrossed in the settlement and upbuilding of our vast territory and the development of the wonderful resources with which it abounds, but dimly impressed with the fact that as an agriculture and commerce are the foundations of our great national prosperity, so with equal truth, does military and naval forces its bulwark and defense. While I believe there is a world-wide and growing sentiment for peace and for settling without bloodshed all disputes between nations, just as mediate increase in a national emergency, and this fact demands the presence of a system of reserves upon which trained men may be secured for this purpose. Without some such system, not only will such increase be rendered exceedingly difficult, but even when accomplished the efficiency or the organizations will have been reduced to a minimum by the introduction of an untrained element double in number ter-

CONVICTS HELP ROADS; ROADS HELP CONVICTS

Dr. Pratt Stresses Advantages Gained in Working Unfortunates on Highways.

Philadelphia, December 10.—The practicability of using convicts in the construction of public roads was discussed at today's session of the American Road Builders' association, and several speakers agreed that inmates of prisons should be so employed, both from a moral standpoint and as a saving for the state.

Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist of North Carolina, introduced the subject of convict labor in a paper in which he advocated that prisoners in penitentiaries be divided into three classes and that, they be given an opportunity, by good conduct, to reach the first class. He favored the employment of prisoners in the construction of public roads. "Let the convicts build the roads," he said, "and the roads will rebuild the convicts.

West Leads East.

He said they would not only pay their own keep, but earn a little for the use of their families or themselves.

P. St. J. Wilson, state highway commissioner of Virginia, indorsed the remarks of Dr. Pratt. Both speakers agreed that the west is far ahead of the east in the humane and useful employment of the convict labor. Samuel Hill, of Seattle, Wash., president of the Road Builders' association, also commended Dr. Pratt's address.

"Starting on the principle that a convict is merely paying a debt to the state and that if you treat him well he will respond," Dr. Pratt said, "my idea is that all convicts should be divided into three classes. The first group should not have to wear a distinctive uniform and should be put on honor to do its stated share of work and not escape. There should be military, but not prison discipline in their lives, whether in the penitentiary or in some construction camp. The second group should wear a distinctive uniform, but no stripes. The third group should wear stripes and have their heads shaved, if necessary.

"By putting the first group men more than the second, and the second more than the third, you set up a natural rivalry, which would cause all to try to work their way into the first group. Only when a man has shown that he cannot be trusted should he be dropped into the third class and given a chance to again work his way up to the honor men."

Preacher Opposes.

Rev. Frank Moore, superintendent of the state reformatory at Rahway, N. J., opposed the project.

"I do not believe it is fair to compel the prisoners to work outside," he said. "Some men would regard employment of prisoners in the public view as so humiliating that the harmful effect might never be overcome.

"I also am opposed to any state exploiting convicts or making money out of their labor. When a state exploits the convict, it makes a permanent criminal out of him."

ROLLER SKATES USED BY THE POSTAL CLERKS

Chicago, December 10.—Roller skates were brought into use in the postoffice here today to accelerate movements of clerks in the checking room. The skaters have a stretch of concrete in the basement a block long to cover.

Romantic Force of Business Wins Success for This Play

To the average theatergoer Wilton Lackaye is the grown only as a fine actor. To the newspaper man he is known as "good copy," because he knows what to say and how to say it. Even among newspaper writers there is a difference. By those who know only the surface of him, Lackaye is called a wit—and as though that were a form of reproach. By those who cannot understand his impulsions to speak the truth as he feels it even when his outspokenness is seriously to his own disadvantage, Mr. Lackaye is set down as a bear. His sense of irony and ridicule is beyond control. Once reproached for it by a brother Lamb who never had offended anybody in this world, he replied: Mr. Lackaye remarked: "George, there is little difference between you and me. To your friends you say, 'God bless you,' while to mine I say, 'God damn you,' and neither of us in on the level."

Wilton Lackaye is a curious compost-

GEORGIA PROHIS SHOWED IN FRONT

Mrs. Armor, W. D. Upshaw and Others Are Prominent in Washington Demonstration.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, December 10.—(Special.)—Georgia was well represented among the leaders in today's demonstration for nation-wide prohibition.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, the "Georgia Cyclone," told the crowds that assembled on the east front of the capitol that the dry states were tired of liquor being shipped into them under protection of interstate commerce.

"I want to tell you just one thing," she declared. "If you people of the north don't stop making whisky and shipping it down into our part of the country, we're going to secede again and lick you out of your boots."

William D. Upshaw, of Atlanta, a vice president of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and editor of The Golden Age, at the close of today's meeting, advanced to the front of the platform and waved his crutch shouting:

"Hurrah for a saloonless nation—the Stars and Stripes without a liquor stain."

Sam W. Small, of Atlanta, and Columbus, Ohio, was also among the leaders.

Upshaw Describes Demonstration.

Mr. Upshaw, in describing the demonstration, said:

"The sanest reform movement in America made deathless history today. It is my deliberate conviction that the committee of one thousand which gathered from all points of the nation to memorialize congress in behalf of the national prohibition of the liquor traffic was the most arresting committee of patriots that ever climbed the steps of the national capitol and then, on the east portico of the capitol, where presidents have been inaugurated, through all the varying forms of our nation's progress, was inaugurated a movement which holds within its compass the mightiest issues of citizen-building as well as the most elemental problems in our civic and economic life.

"This memorial simply means that it is high time for a nation that looks after cow licks and boll weevil in behalf of calf and crops, that guards the fish of the streams, and the trees of the forest—the government that wisely counts it its duty to enact and enforce pure food laws to protect its citizens for that government to stop the most gigantic poison factory that has ever debauched citizenship, made cowards of politicians, and degraded our national ideals, and the fact that the ablest statesmen in both branches of congress are back of this movement argues a vigorous legislative campaign, and, I believe, a speedy submission of this constitutional amendment to the states of the union.

Proud of South's Part.

"I was especially proud of the south's part in that wonderful demonstration at the capitol. I was proud of Mrs. Armor's tribute to Georgia and Georgia's increasing prosperity since she became the pioneer prohibition state of the south. She paid eloquent tribute to Governor John M. Slaton's clear headed loyalty during his recent business trip to New York, when he showed by facts and figures that Georgia is the most all around prosperous state today in the union.

"She showed by incontestable statistics that Georgia has prospered more during the five years since she banished legalized bar rooms than she ever prospered during any other five years of her history, and then Mrs. Armor declared, with ringing eloquence, that if all the ladies and gentlemen, that anything that is good for Georgia, the Empire State of the South, will produce universal prosperity and moral uplift in the greatest nation in the world."

In Two Phalanxes.

In two phalanxes, 2,000 strong, men and women, marched from downtown section of the city to the east front of the capitol. Each bore petitions demanding national prohibition by constitutional amendment.

On the steps of the capitol the petitions were received by representative Richard Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, author of such a proposed amendment, and by Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas.

The legislators also received from a special committee of the anti-liquor forces a copy of another resolution suggested to forever prohibit the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, except for sacramental and medicinal purposes.

In their march to the capitol the anti-saloon leaders were led by Brigadier General A. S. Daggett. Mrs. Lillie M. N. Stevens, of Maine, president general of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, marshaled the women, who waved banners as they paraded down Pennsylvania avenue.

Following the presentation of petitions, which were filed in the senate and house, prohibition speeches were made. On the speakers' platform were Ernest H. Cherrington, of Westville, Ind., former Governor M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee; Mrs. Ella A. Boole, of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the New York State W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Harris Armor, of Georgia.

MANDOT HAD A SHADE OVER PAT DROUILLARD

Windsor, Ont., December 10.—Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, and Pat Drouillard, the Windsor lightweight, stood toe to toe and battled eight vicious rounds here tonight. The popular verdict was in shade in Mandot's favor. Neither fighter appeared to have an advantage when they threw science and caution to the winds and slugged, but Mandot's superior cleverness and generalship gave him the margin.

B. Y. P. U. TO CONDUCT OFFICERS' INSTITUTE

The Atlanta Baptist Young People's union will hold an officers' institute in the Second Baptist church on Thursday and Friday evenings. This institute is intended for the training of officers who begin their terms January 1.

They are very fortunate in securing the services of P. Lewis, author of the B. Y. P. U. Manual; Rev. William Russell Owen, president of the Georgia Baptist Young People's union, and Frank H. Lewis, state field secretary. The presence of these men will insure a treat for all the officers who attend. The first service begins promptly at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, December 11.

MRS. YOUNG DEFEATED FOR HEAD OF SCHOOLS

Chicago, December 10.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, for the last four years superintendent of schools, failed to be re-elected by the board of education today. John D. Shoop, assistant superintendent, was chosen in her place. When the first ballot showed that the members of the board were not unanimous in her favor, Mrs. Young withdrew.

Peter Reinberg immediately announced his resignation as president of the board, and Walter Sumner, dean of St. Peter and Paul cathedral, resigned as chairman of the school management committee.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE INITIATES 25 ATLANTANS

In an initiation at the present quarters, at 4½ James street, last night, a class of twenty-five prominent Atlantans was initiatiated into the Loyal Order of Moose by Horace Alford, state organizer. Among the number were John Y. Smith, Sam Boorstein, Pink Cherry and others.

The order has set aside a certain proportion of the initiation fee of each applicant between now and next Wednesday for the poor, the sum to be distributed by the directors two days before Christmas.

The Moose expect to be installed in the new hall in the Silvey building, at Five Points, by the first of 1914.

Mangled in the Shafting.

Raleigh, N. C., December 10.—Ned Turner, for twenty-one years an employee of the Tarboro, N. C., plant of the Southern Oil Mills company, was killed there today. His clothing caught in the revolving shafting and the body made several revolutions with the machinery before the man could be rescued. He died within an hour.

CLEANSES YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL

It Becomes Thick, Wavy, Lustrous, and All Dandruff Disappears.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Just danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

SANTA CLAUS LETTERS

Writes Poem to Santy.
DEAR SANTA CLAUS:

As Christmas is here we look for fun.
First of all bring shell for my gun.
Then, as I can't hunt without a permit,
Bring me one sure and don't forget it.

The Remington shell you'll get at the King Hardware Co.
Bring one for me, if you more
Rich has fine electrical toys;
Just the kind for us boys.

One of them I'd like to have, too;
Bring one of the kind that suits you.
An electric shocking machine I'll like to own.
I don't think they will break any bone.

Now don't forget any orphan, dear.
As they look for Santa every year.
If your purse isn't large enough for them and me, too.
Bring to them and let me without do.

The poor little ones have no ma or pa,
Give some of them a donkey to he-ha.
Every one of their stockings fill
So every heart will have a thrill.

Before you leave your shop for me
Take you a cup of hot "Tango tea."
Wrap up yourself good and warm.
So the cold won't do you any harm.

Remember everybody, especially the poor.
And don't pass by a single door.
Don't forget my dog, Nell.
A turkey bone she loves as well.

Remember my teacher and principal, too.
As they are so good the whole year through.
With love and kisses, I put on a seal—
From your dear little friend, Cyrus Trouble-field.

Raincoat and Hat.
Dear Old Santa: I am a boy 10 years old. I want a raincoat, but I want a hat with it. I want a pair of suspenders and a tie. Will you bring me a repeating pistol? Bring me some fireworks and some fruit. Remember the poor little children that have no papa and mother.
MERCER MONCRIEF.

Wants a Leviallere.
Dear Santa: Please bring me a leviallere with a pearl setting, a ring with a blood-stone in it, as it's my birthstone. You can get them at Davison-Paxon-Stokes, or High's; a gulephone from the Cable Piano company, I would like a police little desk from the southern Desk company, some nice ribbons and brown kid gloves.
MARIEN BEALL.

Remember Little Brother.
My Dear Santa Claus: Today is my eighth birthday. I had a birthday party Saturday and received several nice presents. Will you please bring your little girl a baby doll from Keely's, a nice set of ermine furs from Davison-Paxon-Stokes, a turquoise ring, as it's by birthstone, and a bracelet from Eugene Haynes, a red sweater and some hair ribbon from High's. Now, Dear Santa Claus, please bring my baby brother a set of tin soldiers, a Jack-in-the-box and rocky horse from Hightower's.
LOUISE BEALL.

Kodak and Air Gun.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy 9 years old and am in the second grade, and I want a kodak and air gun and that is all. Santa Claus, please bring your little sister.
HOMER JOHNSON.
Marietta, Ga.

Doll and Bracelet.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a girl 6 years old. I want you to bring me a doll, bracelet, locket, carriage and some nuts. Don't forget mother and father, for he wants most anything you can bring, also ours truly.
MISS FRANCES PEACOCK.

Wants Colored Crayons.
Dear Santa: I hope you are well. Please bring me some colored crayons, a water color tablet and a book; also bring me some confectioneries.
LIZZIE LEE.

Brother Wants Kitten.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy ten years old, in the sixth grade. I want you to remember the poor first of all. If you can spare time I wish you would bring me a pair of skates, some fireworks and confectionery. I have a little baby brother and he wants a pair of mittens.
RAYMOND ITCHELL.

Don't Forget the Way.
Dear Santa Claus: I want you to bring me a big doll and a doll go-cart and a box of candy and some fruit, and a few fireworks and some peanuts and some candy canes. Don't forget the way and don't forget to bring my little brother some. Now let your reindeer run away with you.
ETHEL BUTTS.

Lots of Fruit.
Dear Santa: I saw your letter in The Constitution today, and I thought I would tell you what I would like to have Christmas. I would like a bracelet and a locket and a pair of rubbers and candy, oranges and apples.
EDNA JACKS.
Oxford, Ga.

Dancing Top and Rifle.
Dear Santa Claus: Please bring me a rifle which you will find at King Hardware Co., and a watch, which you will find at the Durham Jewelry Co. and a dancing top and Dixie dancing top and also candies, nuts and fruits.
JOHN ROBERSON.
Oxford, Ga.

Fireworks and a Ball.
Dear Santa: You can find some good fireworks, baseball bicycle at the King Hardware company, or some nice books and confections at Jacobs' Pharmacy; will be very glad for you to bring us any of these things, as it is almost time and I have some studying to do, I must close by saying goodby.
HENRY COOK.

Work Basket and Doll.
Dear Santa: I want a doll and a work basket and Jacobs' keeps nice candies. I would like to have some fresh fruit. High's selects fruit. I am a little girl two years old, and I want to ask you to bring me a few things, as I don't want to be selfish. I will leave those for you to select yourself.
MARY BOWMAN.

Train With Cow-hooker.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a very good boy, and I go to church and to Sunday school; also go to day school. Please bring me a little train that has three cars, and a cowhookers. It has a track that is crossed; and don't forget my brother and sister and me and brother some nuts, some candy and some apples. Your friend to Milton Bradley Co.
JOHN THOMPSON.

Asks in Rhyme.
Dear Santa Claus: You good old man, please bring me these, if you can: From Rich's, a billy goat; from Bradley's, a big boat; from Chamberlin's, a boat and a cart; from High's a dog that will bark. If you are able, a bunch of flowers for our table; a bicycle, you might find. I would like it also, if you don't mind, from McClure's, a lot of little toys to send Christmas to poor little girls and boys. Don't forget my aunt I wish for, but, for that I can't afford. My age is six.
FRANK ALLAN NORRIS.

Don't Forget Mama.
Dear Old Santa Claus: I want you to bring me an airgun that shoots five hundred times, and plenty of candy and fireworks, and anything else you want to bring me, and one pair of negligs, I am a little boy about eight years. Don't forget mamma. Your truly,
HESLEP BARBER.

BUELL McGINNIS.
Rockmart, Ga.

Anything Nice.
Dear Santa Claus: I have never written you before, but you have always remembered me, and brought me lots of nice things. I have the big doll you brought me. Now I want a small one that I can play with all of the time. I also want a doll pram and anything else nice you will leave. I also have three little brothers; you must not forget them. They want wagons so they can haul stovewood for mamma. Bring the baby a rattler, for he isn't large enough for anything else. Bring little girl seven years old. I am in the first grade at school and can read and write.
MILDRED MAXWELL.

Glad to Get Anything.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 9 years old. Just in the third grade at Grant Park School. I will be glad to get anything you bring me, but I would like a large doll, a big doll and bracelet. I have a brother older than myself and he wants a rifle. Do not forget him and myself. Good-by.
MARTHA COPER.
Macon, Ga.

A Kewpie Doll and Books.
Dear Old Santa: I thought I would write and tell you what I want. I want a Kewpie doll some good books to read. The doll you will find at Jacobs'. I am 13 years old, and in the fifth grade. I want candies, fruits and nuts, and a big sack to put them in.
NELLIE PALMER.
Thomson, Ga.

Out in the Woods.
Dear Santa Claus: For fear the other children will not bring you with their requests, I am going to enter my appeal for your services. Dear Santa, while you are busy in your shop around the Pearl Chandlery Co. and get me a bicycle and some firearms and nothing will be appreciated that is useful, as I am out in the woods where Christmas comes but once a year. I will look for you about the 25th inst.
SAM JAMES LINN.

I want a large baby doll, the prettiest dolls I think are at Jacob's; a raincoat from the Davison-Paxon-Stokes company, some nice hair ribbons and gloves at M. Rich's. My big brother wants a bicycle and don't forget my little brother's name, Reginold. He wants a little express wagon. You'll find it at High's, and any other toys that you think are suitable for a little boy 7 years old. Wishing you a successful trip, I am your loving friend,
SYBIL ALMAND.
89 Kalb Ave.

Don't Forget Orphans.
Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy nine years old. I will not ask for anything. First I'll just ask for a bicycle and then I'll tell you afterwards. But think of all of the little children who have to go without a father and please don't forget them. I will tell you about the things that I want. Now I want a doll bed, doll trunk, some nuts and some candy. Merry Christmas. I close now.
LILLIE TRIBBLE.
Your little friend.
VIRGINIA BLANTON.
20 Columbia Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

Bicycle and Saloon.
Dear Santa Claus: I will begin my letter in time so that you will have time to get it. I have been a little brother, and a little sister, 5 years old, whom I hope you will not forget. I am also a reindeer from High's, and above all, a 5-pound box of candy from Nunnally's. Please bring me a bicycle from the Hightower Hardware company, 81 Whitehall street; also a raincoat

CRAWFORD HEARING MAY LAST A WEEK

Many Rebuttal Witnesses and Medical Experts Still to Be Called, Announces Attorney for Heirs.

The statement was made to a representative of The Constitution late Wednesday afternoon that the Crawford will case, now in progress under the direction of Auditor James Anderson, and which has produced a number of sensations in the hearing, would probably consume the rest of this week and part of the next.

"There are a number of rebuttal witnesses," declared Attorney James, chief counsel for the 18 contending heirs-at-law in the litigation. "And, besides, we have a number of medical experts whom we will put on the stand before we close our side of the case.

"So soon as we close this civil angle we will at once have the witnesses who are to appear before the grand jury summoned and we hope that we can present our evidence to the county prosecutor not later than Friday, December 19."

Mrs. Crawford on Stand.

The sensation of Wednesday in the will hearing was Attorney James' cross-examination of Mrs. Crawford on the witness stand.

The lawyer questioned Mrs. Crawford at length on delicate subjects at times bringing her responses into question.

To one of the questions of Colonel James, Mrs. Crawford heatedly parried.

"You are insulting me, sir!"

Attorney James also questioned Mrs. Crawford closely as to her relations with a man named Kessler whom she claimed that she did not even know.

"Well, didn't you get a divorce from him?" asked Attorney James.

"How could I when I never even knew such a man?" replied Mrs. Crawford, in caustic accents.

Attorney James persisted in questioning her along this line, Reuben Arnold, of counsel for Mrs. Crawford, said:

"My friend here, has gone over and over the same questions. If it please your honor, I should like to have a ruling on that point."

Auditor Anderson stated to Attorney James that a witness could not be asked the same question more than once.

"I'll ask these questions until I find out something," said Attorney James.

"Not in this court," the auditor, Anderson. "Please confine yourself to one question of each character hereafter, Mr. James."

Denies Breach of Promise Threat.

Mrs. Crawford denied emphatically that she had ever threatened Crawford with a $50,000 breach of promise suit unless he married her.

Attorney James questioned Mrs. Crawford until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and at the adjournment of the hearing Attorney Arnold stated that the case for the defense was closed.

Attorney James at once began preparations for the calling of many new witnesses for the prosecution. Some of these witnesses will go on the stand today.

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE FAKE WIRELESS CALL

False Message of Distress at Sea Aroused Revenue Cutter Service.

Brunswick, Ga., December 10.—Three hours overdue, the Mallory line steamer Rio Grande arrived here early today on her trip from New York, captain and crew eager to learn the origin of reports that the vessel had played a part in a deep-sea rescue off the North Carolina coast. Disjointed bits of wireless messages told Captain Davis, of the Rio Grande, that the United States revenue cutter service was scouring his ship, believing 197 passengers had been taken off by another steamer and returned when a fire aboard the ship was extinguished.

The Rio Grande carried freight only. The only incident of its trip was a storm off Hatteras, which caused the delay in arrival. Captain Davis believes that no rescue took place from any ship, and that the wireless messages were faked.

Washington, December 10.—Suspicion that fake wireless messages may have been sent out by some amateur, reporting disaster on the steamer Rio Grande, has led the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce to start an investigation. The penalty is fine or imprisonment, or both. The messages were received at New York and Norfolk Sunday night telling of fire aboard the Rio Grande, and saying 197 passengers had been taken off the vessel and later returned.

AT THE THEATERS

"Fine Feathers."

(At the Atlanta.)

At the Atlanta theater tonight playgoers of this city will have their first view of the play that long has been set to see and the cast for which they stood not hope—in short, the original all-star cast in "Fine Feathers." The engagement is for one night only and Saturday matinee. Never before has a cast been assembled for a drama that contained so many real stars as are to be found in "Fine Feathers." One of the few all-star productions on record the cast was kept intact for New York and then reduced for the road tour. But in "Fine Feathers" every member of the original cast will be seen here, including Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figmann, Rose Coghlan, Florence Rockwell and Lydia Dickson. As for the play, "Fine Feathers" has been generally pronounced the most tremendous drama of the century. It is a vital, human document, dealing with familiar problems and peopled with familiar characters.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

With Yvette heading the bill and six other unusually clever features, the Forsyth offers an entertainment for this week that is worth while. It is a show that refreshes, that does not require an audience to follow any one character, and that keeps moving from the first number to the last flash of the lights on the picture screen at the conclusion of the performance. The bill for the next week is one of real promise. The headliner will be Edwin Stevens and company in a dramatic burlesque, and Florence Tempest and company in a novelty singing feature, will be an exception in the way of extra added attractions.

Jewell Kelley Stock Company.

(At the Bijou.)

Another successful week is being scored by the Jewell Kelley company at the Bijou with the interesting production of the English melodrama "Over the Sea." The play is somewhat different from the former offerings of the company and the English costumes and scenes in the play lend added interest to the performance. For next week the management announces the Holden brothers' drama of frontier life, entitled "The Deserver Express." It contains the usual thrilling melodramatic details, and is composed of material that cannot fail to appeal to theatergoers. Many sensational incidents and stirring dramatic situations furnish the thrills that make a melodrama so popular.

Emma Bunting.

(At the Lyric.)

The friends and admirers of Emma Bunting are anticipating with much pleasure the return of this little star next week to the Lyric. For this clever young actress Miss Bunting will present her latest and greatest success, "The Girl from Out Yonder," the play in which Adelaide Thurston made her greatest starring success. Miss Bunting will appear as Flotsam, the lighthouse keeper's daughter, George Ade's latest will play the part of Fly-by-Night Jones, and the balance of the company is splendidly balanced. It is announced that Miss Bunting, who appeared with this play recently in New Orleans, has found such success that it will be the biggest success of her many Atlanta engagements. The sale of seats for next week is now going on at the Lyric box office, and judging from the strong demand for reservations the Carnegie Way theater will be crowded at every performance.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel."

(At the Lyric.)

One of the real dramatic hits of the season is being scored this week at the Lyric in the engagement of Miss Eleanor Mantell, in "A Butterfly on the Wheel." The play teaches a great moral lesson that appeals particularly to women and shows how small things and innocent actions may unjustly incriminate themselves when thoughtlessly done. The great scene of the play is the divorce trial. Never has a court scene been staged with such attention to realism. During the trial the wife is subjected to a grueling cross-examination. It would seem that the audience almost holds its breath, so tense is the action. "A Butterfly on the Wheel" will be remembered as one of the big hits of the season's offerings. This attraction will hold the boards of the Lyric the entire week with Thursday and Saturday afternoon matinees.

WITH THE MOVIES

The Alamo No. 2.

"The Chinese Death Thorn" is the name of a two-reel Kalem drama that will be seen at the Alamo No. 2 today. Martin Avery, victim of the underworld and member of Moi Ling's "gang," saves Mildred, daughter of a banker from the clutches of Chinamen. In gratitude, the banker gives Avery a new start, and he is made the cashier of a new bank. Learning of Avery's promotion, Moi Ling, through strategy, secures him and ties him to a post about to be put to death with the terrible Chinese death thorn. As the police enter the den, Moi Ling kills himself. Martin Avery returns to the banker with the stolen funds just in time to avert a crash.

Auremia and the Monarch quartet daily.

The Alamo No. 1.

"Smithy's Grandma Party" is the title of an Essenay comedy that will be seen at the Alamo No. 1 today. Professor Smithy, a physical culture expert, and his assistant, Smithy Sam, prepare to give a bouquet to some chorus girls of the Gaiety theater. The professor, with the Gaiety girls, sees an opportunity for having a grand old time, so Smithy Sam arranges to call them "grandmas" unless some female member of the family will dress up in costume. Smithy Sam induces the butler to wear his wife's clothes, and they make him up as a grandma. The party is in the height of its uproariousness when wifey returns unexpectedly, and that the butler secures her clothes from them and enters the gymnasium, where the party is indulging in a boxing contest. Smith recognizes his wife immediately and makes a break for the door, but she grabs him and gently but firmly thrusts him back into the ring filled with confusion. The whole affair being cold, the guests leave in an unexpected manner.

MIKE GIBBONS WINS OVER "WILDCAT" FERNS

New Orleans, December 10.—"Wildcat" Ferns, of Kansas City, was practically knocked out by Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, here tonight in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round fight. Floored three times during the count of nine early in the round, Ferns rose to meet Gibbons' charge and the referee stopped the fight with probably two minutes remaining before the gong.

Gibbons started the second with a left hook to the jaw that sent Ferns to the floor. Ferns came up before the last count, but a second later went down again under another hook to the jaw. He rose slowly at the count of "nine" and a Gibbons short arm hook ended the fight. They weighed in as welterweights.

MORTUARY

L. E. Grubbs, Huntsville.

Huntsville, Ala., December 10.—(Special.)—Louis E. Grubbs, for a long time cashier of the Southern Express office in this city, died at Columbus, Ga., according to information received by relatives here. He was 43 years old and was a member of the Huntsville lodge of Elks. Mr. Grubbs had been engaged in business with his brother in Georgia during the last few years.

Miss Anna Hehlemann.

The funeral of Miss Anna Hehlemann, who died Tuesday, will be held from Burkert & Simmons' chapel at 10 o'clock this morning, the Rev. Nussmann, of the German Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will follow at West View.

Mrs. I. F. McPherson.

The funeral of Mrs. I. F. McPherson, who died Monday, will be held at Bloomfield's chapel at 10 o'clock this morning, followed by interment at Hollywood.

Mrs. Winship Nunnally.

The body of Mrs. Mary Cooper Nunnally, wife of Winship Nunnally, who died Tuesday at Saranac Lake, N. Y., will arrive in Atlanta at 11 o'clock this morning. Funeral services will be held at the residence on Peachtree road at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the interment will be at West View.

Benj. S. Irvin, Washington.

Washington, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—The funeral of Hon. Benjamin S. Irvin, whose death occurred Tuesday, will occur Thursday, following the arrival of his son from New York. Arrangements could not be made until the arrival this morning of Mrs. Irvin from Montgomery, Ala., where she was visiting her mother, Mrs. Brewer. Mr. Irvin was one of the leading lawyers of northeast Georgia, was several times mayor of Washington and, at the time of his death, was chairman of the board of education of Washington, a position which he has held for nearly twenty years. The public schools of the city will close Thursday in order for teachers and pupils, by whom he was much beloved, may attend the funeral services in a body. He was 66 years old and is survived by his wife and two children, Miss Mildred Irvin, of Washington, and Paul H. Irvin, of New York.

J. W. Armstrong, Washington.

Washington, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—The funeral of James W. Armstrong, one of Wilkes county's most substantial citizens, occurred this morning at 11 o'clock at the family burying ground, five miles north of Washington. His death occurred Tuesday morning after an illness of three months, following a partial stroke of paralysis. Mr. Armstrong was 65 years old and was a representative from Wilkes county in the state legislature for three terms and trustee of the Eighth District Agricultural school. He is survived by his wife and six children, Mrs. Dudley Harmon, of Washington City; Mrs. Horace Bedford, of Roanoke, Va.; Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, of New York, and James, George and Frank Armstrong, of this county. He was 67 years old.

J. A. Spain.

J. A. Spain, aged 55, of Gainesville, Ga., died at a private sanitarium here on Wednesday. He is survived by a wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Spain. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Harry G. Poole. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Judge Kinnebrew, Athens.

Athens, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) The funeral occurred here this afternoon at 4 o'clock of Judge Hugh Kinnebrew at the First Baptist church, the entire bar of the city and county attending in a body. The remains were carried this afternoon to Bairdstown, in Greene county, for interment there near his native home.

N. C. BAPTISTS RALLY TO THEIR COLLEGES

Shelby, N. C., December 10.—North Carolina Baptists, in their annual state convention here tonight took a decided stand for better support of Christian education. The claims of Wake Forest and Meredith colleges were presented before the body and strongly advocated by leaders of the denomination, with the result that a committee was appointed to formulate a general plan for placing the schools on the convention budget, which plan, if feasible, it is proposed to adopt at the next meeting of the convention.

MAN IS CRITICALLY WOUNDED IN FIGHT ABOUT PHONE LINE

Gibson, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) Tom Marsh and Charley Pool became involved in a quarrel about a telephone line that connects the people of their settlement, with the result that Marsh drew a pistol and shot Pool. The shot took effect near the heart, and Pool's condition is serious.

The two men live in the southern part of Glascock county, about four miles south of Gibson. It seemed that several of the neighbors in the settlement had some disturbance about their phone line for some time. Several had cut loose and built new lines. The trouble continued to grow worse, until Tuesday morning, when the two men met near Mr. Marsh's home.

ON "DEVIL DOCTORS" GOVERNMENT WARS

Washington, December 10.—To overcome the evil influence of "devil doctors" in Samoa the commandant of the naval station at Tutuilla has established clinics for natives. Surgeon General Stokes, of the navy, in his annual report has pointed out that many deaths have occurred from "devil doctoring."

The natives have responded to the efforts made to enlighten them in matters of medicine, hygiene and sanitation. Almost 2,000 were treated last year in the clinics at the Samoan hospital. Epidemics of typhoid and diseases peculiar to Samoa have occurred during the year. As an aid in controlling them, articles have been printed in the native newspapers for educational purposes. A school for the training of Samoan women in nursing also has been established and a systematic campaign will be waged to drive out the "devil doctors."

Similar medical missionary work has been done among the natives of Guam, where an earnest effort has been made to segregate lepers and accord them proper treatment.

HUSBAND IS CONVICTED OF MURDERING WIFE

Tampa, Fla., December 10.—Bennie Henson, a young white man, was found guilty this afternoon in circuit court of the murder of his wife, Ethel Henson, two months ago. The verdict was without recommendation, and carries the death penalty.

Henson is alleged to have pursued his wife through the street after she had left her place of employment in a restaurant, and, as she pleaded for him on her knees, he shot her to death. The jury was out forty minutes.

THORNTON RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF HARTWELL

Hartwell, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Hon. McAlpin Thornton has been elected mayor of Hartwell. D. C. Alford and E. H. Benson were named aldermen, and Clayton Hereford and Robert C. Thornton on the board of education. All elections were unanimous.

Aviator Letort Killed.

Barbezieux, Department of Charente, France, December 10.—Leon Letort, a well-known French aviator, was killed here today. He was about to land, after a short flight, when his biplane turned over and crushed him. Letort had been an aviator since 1910. On July 14 last he made a record non-stop flight of 599 miles from Paris to Berlin in eight hours.

PUNISHED FOR "SUCKERS."

We commend to the attention of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the state chamber of commerce and every Georgian interested in the development of his section the following extract from a recent editorial in The Natchez (Miss.) News:

> Last evening there was a picture exhibited at the moving picture show which is calculated to do untold harm in those sections where the true value of the south's lands is unknown. Under the title of "The Toll of the Marshes," there is thrown upon the curtain a picture which describes a certain Chicago real estate dealer selling swamp lands in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia to the unsuspecting people of that section as fine farm lands and presenting an opportunity for them to come south and grow rich. That picture, presented in the middle west from which section the south is securing some good farmers to help build up her agricultural resources, would do hundreds of thousands of dollars of harm. Flashed on a screen before men, who were contemplating coming south, could see it, and it would be impossible to get them here even if their railway fare was paid both ways.

The righteous wrath of The News gives us an opportunity to say what has long been in our mind, and that is resentment of the yellow and slanderous stories printed in certain eastern publications regarding the nature of farm and city lands in the south.

It is likely that Florida has suffered worse from this species of libel, but Georgia and the other southern states have not been exempt. Taking the crooked practices of a few land sharks as a pretext, a more or less systematic campaign has been waged against land prospects in this section. We are told it is a prevalent custom to sell lots and farms under water to credulous people, and let them whistle to get their money back.

As a matter of demonstrable fact, there is no more of this rank swindling in the south than in other parts of the country. People have been fooled as grossly about the middle and far west as about the south, probably more. And we are not so certain that they do not deserve to be fooled. The man who would examine every tooth in a horse's head before accepting him as a gift deserves to be "stung" if he pays a fancy price for land certified by irresponsible parties. Each locality in the south has a reputable organization or a bank that will gladly tell correspondents the truth.

It is true that suckers are still born one to the minute. But that is no reason why the south, or any other part of the country, should be libelled by the yellow magazines and the professional "thrillers" generally.

FOUNDERS OF OGLETHORPE.

Every Atlantan who contributes to the fund for Oglethorpe, even though it be a sum of small denomination, will know that he is a co-operator in the founding of a great and distinctively southern university.

That is the significance of the movement that takes the campaign straight to the people.

Southern cities and towns and hamlets have looked at the matter in this broad light and responded accordingly.

Throughout Georgia enthusiasm has been particularly marked. Donations have not stopped at the boundary line of creed or denomination. Persons of every complexion of faith have gladly seen and seized the opportunity to do their part toward establishing in the south an institution that should be toward this section, relatively, what Harvard, Yale and Princeton are to their portions of America.

Within the past ten days response to the efforts of the canvassing committee has been especially gratifying.

With spontaneity typical of Atlanta the fund has been brought to the stage where less than $100,000 is needed to complete the pro rata allotted to this city.

A few days more vigorous work should witness the consummation of the task.

Remember that when you contribute to the Oglethorpe movement you write your name on the honor roll of the men and women who are striving for higher educational ideals in the southern states.

THE FEEDERS OF ATLANTA.

At various times and in various causes, the people of Atlanta have manifested considerable sympathy for the so-called "eight-hour" day for labor. At least, there are few Atlantans, however exacting their greed and miserly their generosity, who will not agree that ten hours is fully enough time for the man of average energy to invest in exchange for a living.

The grocers and butchers of Atlanta are agitating not for an eight or a ten but a twelve-hour day! At a recent meeting the members of the Atlanta Retail Grocers and Butchers' association denounced as "inhuman, unreasonable and uncalled for" the hours now demanded of clerks and workers in these establishments. They will call a mass meeting of employers and of citizens generally early in January to see if a plan cannot be worked out whereby a uniform twelve-hour day can be effected.

At present numbers of clerks and members of the delivery force average from fourteen to fifteen hours a day. Some stores open as early as 4:30 a. m. Many of them close at 7 in the evening, others later. A considerable percentage close at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Others run to the midnight hour.

This ragged and irrational practice has two disastrous effects:

It makes the cost of living higher for the consumer; it exhausts the men who serve him, very frequently depriving them of a normal Sunday.

The grocers and butchers complain, with some reason, that existing conditions are due to the method of buying in Atlanta. Many people buy supplies, not from one day to another, which would be bad enough, but from meal to meal. This habit of buying in small lots increases the cost of living. It takes, inevitably, more equipment in the grocery and the butcher shop to handle a mass of small and frequently-repeated orders than large orders extending over longer intervals. The toll necessarily comes out of the pocket of the consumer.

If the people of Atlanta will co-operate with butchers and bakers they cannot only save money on their bills, but lift a burden that now rests unjustly upon the men who serve them in so important a capacity.

In the last analysis, the housekeepers of Atlanta will have to be responsible for the reform. Atlanta's women, as a custom, are thoughtful and considerate. When they fully understand the situation there is no doubt they will at once lend their heartiest aid to its amendment.

AN OPERA BOUFFE CONGRESS.

There is something of sardonic humor in the "deliberations" of the newly "elected" Mexican congress.

In solemn form the congress assembled the other day, duly nullified the results of the recent presidential elections, declared Huerta president ad interim, and provided for a fresh presidential election to be held next July.

Reports run to the effect that enthusiasm over Huerta was "riotous." Certainly. Who wouldn't be riotous with a sword suspended over his head? Evidently, the members of the present body have in mind the fate of their predecessors. One hundred of these latter now languish in the prison of defying Huerta, and the life insurance companies consider them as extra hazardous risks.

It seems Huerta's farce must be played out. While he bullwhips congress on one hand he prepares for flight with the other. History will likely give him credit for being one of its foremost bloody mountebanks.

THE PULLET TO THE BAR.

The Great American Consumer is justly in arms against the pullet. According to the barnyard experts and the specialists of the department of agriculture, eggs have been almost prohibitive in price because of the lethargy of the pullet. The early spring and summer months were either wet and chilly or hot and dry, and the young egg-laying machines of the country got a bad start. That is why the nation has this past fall and present winter been paying the penalty.

Later news is more encouraging." It is said that the pullets have become less recalcitrant, that they show signs of getting "on the job," and that from henceforward we are likely to appreciate a gratifying slump in the price of fresh eggs.

Let us hope so. The egg is one article of diet the average American, unless he be extremely poor, insists upon having. He will take the cold storage article at a pinch, but his soul ever hankers after the yard-laid product.

We rather believe, however, that if this perennial issue of a shortage of eggs and high prices is to be solved, the matter must be approached from another angle. Smashing the egg and cold storage trust may help some. But where is the scientist who will go out after the pullet and devise some way to "speed up" her production? He is the man for whom the American people are anxiously awaiting. They will reward his labors with laurels and a fortune that should enable him to buy many six-cylinder cars and loll forever in the softest lap of luxury.

If John Lind is still on the job he may not have a merry Christmas, but it will be a lively one.

If the suffragettes make that promised raid congress may have to adjourn in self-defense.

Holiday News From Billville.

"This bein' a prohibition settlement (so to speak) some o' the brothers are hard put to it to know what to do with the holiday jugs that are comin' in. The expressman used to stand up with them in the old days, but he got converted to the women suffragettes, an' joined the prohibition crowd, an' now he won't hide the plate for 'em till dark comes, an' they've got to take 'em out in broad day an' make way with 'em in the best they know how. An' that's where the trouble comes in. The preacher caught one of 'em lowerin' a gallon jug into the well, an' he stumbled over another one tryin' to hide his jug behind the tombstone of his great-grandfather, besides locatin' three jugs in a dark corner under the meetin' house steps. Seems like all their schemes come to nothin'. One old feller says he buried three jugs under an old cypress in the swamp, but he forgot to blaze the tree over 'em, an' to save his life he can't locate 'em—not any more. What a pity it is they have to use such underhand methods! As for us, we take ours open an' above board, as we were turned out o' mornin' long ago, an' the preacher says we're goin' to the devil anyhow, so fast that the Washington Limited couldn't ketch us!"

Philosopher Vance, of The Dalton Citizen, selects this as Christmas picture:

"The prettiest picture of all is to see the face of a good old mother who has raised a crowd of boys and girls—a good, patient mother who has stood the ravages of time, and is now in the afternoon of life—to see her surrounded with her children and to know that her daughters are good, sensible women and her boys good, sober, manly men."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet.

INFORMATION WANTED.

"I'd like to know where you got hold of all the cows you kill in order to furnish your customers with beef," said Quigway, in grouchy tones.

"What difference does it make where I get them?" inquired the butcher, coldly. "You're always kicking and snorting about something, which, of course, the delicate beauties of the original are lost, in a number of Latin plays by Plautus and Terence.

We are told that Menander's plays were well known in Byzantine days, and that they were certainly used by Eustathius when composing his commentary on Homer in 1146, A. D. Leone Allaci even speaks of twenty-four comedies being extant at Constantinople in the seventeenth century. And this is not inconsistent with the account of another eminent commentator, who says that the manuscript of Menander and Philemon, together with the erotic poems of the old lyric poets were destroyed by Byzantine emperors at the instigation of zealot monks, who desired to replace them with the effusions of Gregory of Nazianzen. A stray copy might easily survive such a persecution. But as yet all search for the plays of Menander in Greek convents has been unavailing.

It seems very odd that we have no remnant of Menander's dramatic art, though we know so much about his style and about his philosophy. Till the end of the nineteenth century all that was known of Menander were the fragments collected by A. Meineke in 1855 and T. Kock in 1888. They consist of some 1,650 verses or parts of verses, in addition to a considerable number of words and phrases quoted by old lexicographers.

From 1897 to 1907 papyri were discovered in different parts of Egypt, containing fragments of considerable length, amounting to some 1,400 lines. It is doubtful whether these fragments, which are of sufficient length to afford a basis for the consideration of the merits of Menander as a writer of dialogue, justify the great reputation enjoyed by him in ancient times.

Menander was the greatest of all writers of Greek comedy, was born in 342, B. C., at Athens, of a distinguished and wealthy family, received a careful education, and led a comfortable and luxurious life, partly at Athens and partly at his estate in the Piraeus, the harbor of Athens, enjoying the intimate friendship of his contemporary and the friend of his youth, Epicurus, or Theophrastus and of Demetrius Phalereus.

He declined an invitation from King Ptolomy I, of Egypt, so as not to have his comfort disturbed. At the height of his poetic productiveness he was drowned while bathing in the Piraeus, at the age of fifty-two. His uncle, Alexis, had given him some preparatory training in dramatic composition. As early as 321 he made his first appearance as an author. He wrote above a hundred pieces, and worked with the greatest facility; but he only obtained the first prize for eight comedies, in the competition with his popular rival Philemon.

The principal works of Menander were remarkable inventiveness, skilful arrangement of plots, lifelike painting of character, a clever and refined wit, elegant and graceful language and a copious supply of maxims based on a profound knowledge of the world. These last were collected in regular anthologies and form the bulk of the extant fragments.

Menander was most enthusiastically praised by Plutarch, who accepted the tradition that he was the author of the speeches published under the name of the Attic orator Charidas, as a model of style and imitation of Euripides, he resembles him in his keen observation of practical life, in the delicacy of the emotions, and his fondness for moral maxims, many of which have become proverbial; for instance, "Whom the gods love die young." "Evil communications corrupt good manners," and "The property of friends is common."

With Menander's death the classical age of Greek poetry was closed. Shortly afterwards the next literary center of gravity, as regards learning, shifted to Alexandria, and from the latest poets of the New Comedy brought out their plays. The poetry of the Alexandrian age was not without flashes of genius, but on the whole, it had not maintained the standard of Attic culture. The students of classical literature have made every effort to secure at least one of the Menander comedies in its entirety, but it is hardly likely that they will, at this late day, discover the whereabouts of the great works.

How to Use the Pastry Tube.

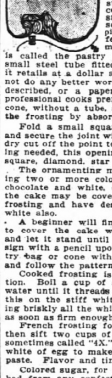
Though a plain cake may be delicious it becomes much more attractive when decorated, and the pastry tube will be of use to handle the pastry tube. Not only do large and small cakes lend themselves beautiful garnishings, but all desserts that are finished with meringue, frosting or jellies are made handsomer with the tube.



The big tube that holds the frosting, or whatever the trimming is to be, should be made of a 7-inch square of heavy duck cut diagonally so as to form a cone. Cut the pointed end off so the opening is half an inch in diameter and in this slip the tube. These tubes in tin plate may be purchased in any housefurnishing store at two for five cents. One can have a star shaped opening, a square or a plain round pipe in any size you prefer. Sometimes the salesman will show you what is called the pastry cook's tube, this is a small steel tube fitted with a plunger and it retails at a dollar and a quarter. It does not do away with the bag I have described, or a paper cone. Indeed many professional cooks prefer to use a stiff paper cone, without a tube, as this does not waste the frosting by absorption.

Fold a small square of paper crosswise and ensure the joint to keep the egg. When dry cut off the point to leave any sized opening needed, this paper may also be shaped square, diamond, star or round.

The ornamenting may consist of combining two or more colors on one surface, as chocolate and white, or pink and white, or the cake may be covered with a firm white frosting and have designs piped onto it in white also.

A beginner will find it most satisfactory to cover the cake with frosting as usual and let it stand until firm, then draw a design on it with pencil upon it. Now fill the pastry bag or cone with the ornamental icing and follow the pattern.

Cooked frosting is best for the foundation. Boil a cup of sugar in a very little water until it threads from the spoon. Pour this on the stiff whites of two eggs, beating briskly all the while. Spread on the cake as soon as firm enough.

French frosting for tube use: Roll and then sift two cups confectioner's sugar—sometimes called "4X." Mix this with enough white of egg to make a smooth, white, thin paste. Flavor and tint and use at once.

Colored sugar, for crystallization, may be had from any confectioner and so may jaconda ornaments for the cake, like pistachio nuts, silver balls and candied cherries.

Meringue icing for fancy tarts and pastries is made from very stiff egg whites. Use one pound of powdered sugar to every six whites. Put on a thin coating of the icing all over the article to be dressed, then work out the design with a tube. When finished place in a cool oven to take on a light brown color. About fifteen minutes will be required for the meringue to puff up, become firm and then turn to a golden hue. The process must not be hurried.

Francis Joseph's Fate.

On December 2, 1848, Francis Joseph, then 18 years old, became the ruler of Austria, a hotch-potch of races. His long reign of sixty-five years has been marked by great popularity, by great sorrows and many private sorrows. He has saved himself by timely moderation and prudence, when opposition would have been fatal. Upon taking the throne he did, or authorized to be done, a great deal of shooting and flogging. In a sketch of Francis Joseph, The London Everyman, says:

"Because he ordered the execution of one of the Karolyis, his victim's mother cursed him in scathing words, which seem to sum up all the possibilities of a mother's hate:

"May heaven and hell (she cried) blast his happiness! May his family be exterminated! May he be made to see the persons of those he loves! May his life be wrecked, and may his children be brought to ruin!"

"As memorable event truly, and one which one might, if one chose, take for the text of this article, showing how time has brought the fulfillment of the curse, the punishment out slowly, relentlessly, unceasingly. The tragedy of the square of Queretaro, where his brother, the vain and ill-fated Emperor Maximilian, faced a Mexican firing party; the wanderings of the vatican, where his sister-in-law, the Empress Charlotte, lost her reason, never to recover it; the tragedy of Sarajevo, where his only son died in his shame with his mistress; the tragedy of Paris, where his sister-in-law, the Duchess d'Alencon, perished in the flames at the bazar de la charite; the tragedy of the Pacific ocean, where his relative, John Orth, vanished, leaving no trace or record; the tragedy of Geneva, where his wife was struck down without warning by the assassin's dagger—all these things could be represented as so many stages in the untiring and undeviating march of Nemesis."

"The government had to keep several thousand politicians busy."

mate, establish a revolutionless Central American republic and keep several thousand politicians at bay. All this was successfully accomplished under Col. Goethals, the world's greatest locksmith and geographical surgeon—which leads us to hope that the government will now have the courage to tackle the Mississippi river and make it behave.

The World's Mysteries

WHAT BECAME OF MENANDER'S COMEDIES?

It has always been a mystery as to what became of the comedies of Menander, the Greek dramatist. Unfortunately not one of his plays has survived, although they were much read down to a late date. However, apart from about seventy-three titles, and numerous fragments of considerable length—we have transcriptions of his comedies, in which, of course, the delicate beauties of the original are lost, in a number of Latin plays by Plautus and Terence.

We are told that Menander's plays were well known in Byzantine days, and that they were certainly used by Eustathius when composing his commentary on Homer in 1146, A. D. ## FAVORITE RECIPES OF DISTINGUISHED WOMEN

By MRS. JACK BEALL,
Wife of Representative Beall of Texas.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

Pineapple aspic is an extremely attractive salad, which not only looks good, but tastes even better than it looks. It is one of my never-failing standbys, and to make it for an average family I use the following formula:

Pineapple Aspic.

Juice of 1 lemon.
1 scant cup of sugar,
1 grapefruit,
Juice of 1 can of pineapple,
3-4 pack of gelatine,
Grapes or cherries to taste,
Nuts in any desired quantity.

Boil the pineapple and the lemon juice and sugar together for ten minutes. In the meantime soak 2-4 of a package of plain gelatine in one cup of cold water. When all become thick, add to it the syrup, the grapes or cherries in any quantity desired. If grapes are used, they are nicer if they are skinned and cut in half, as well as seeded. The quantity and choice of nuts is a matter of entire furnishing.

Cut the pineapple and also the grapefruit into cubes and add them to the gelatine and nuts. Turn the whole mixture into a mold and put on ice until perfectly cold. Then turn into a platter on white lettuce leaves and surround with cheese balls rolled in ground nuts, and serve with a good mayonnaise with whipped cream.

These cheese balls are very good made with chopped nuts and served with a ring of tart jelly on a lettuce leaf. They also make a dainty garnish fixed in this manner.

BENTS.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Your Bents are your Advisers. Bents are just Tendencies. Everyone has them. They are born with you. Wise people are those who listen to their Advisers—who consider their Bents. Each one of your Bents should be carefully considered in Silent Conference. And that Conference should be Personal and Serious. For—

Every Bent, sooner or later, may BECOME what his Bents ARE.

Neglect not a single Bent that is within you, but ask Master Time to cultivate and educate it to do your bidding. Become what you are FITTED to become. Exert every faculty and use every ounce of energy to this end. It is good sense to believe that you know your own Bents better than anyone else. And you have the assurance ever with you that—

Every man, sooner or later, may BECOME what his Bents ARE.

Franklin followed his own Bents and became a World figure, instead of following the Bents that his Father seemed to see in him in desiring him to become a Clergyman. You will need no advisers if you will but stop long enough to search out and look your Bents squarely in the face. And if you follow your Bents Courageously and without discouragement, you will then be able to feel to the full, the truth of how blessedly Happy is the man who has FOUND his work.

New Form of Damage Suit.

(From The Indianapolis Star.)

A breach of promise suit was not unfavorably justified by the plaintiff and her friends on the ground that it is only by this means that she can prove that she really had been engaged to the defendant, and that her previous statements to that effect had not been preferences. It is understood that she has a right to free herself from such humiliating suggestion. The money damages claimed are often spoken of as merely incidental to a clearing of the plaintiff's name.

It has remained, however, for a Massachusetts girl to introduce a new element into such affairs. Her fiance did really kill her; he killed himself, but no intimation is given that he would not have carried out his promise to marry her had he lived. The suit has been brought since his death against the administrators of his estate, and the plaintiff frankly says that she wants the money, $4,000, for which she sues. Because of her engagement to marry the defendant, she gave up the school that she had been teaching; she spent money on her wedding clothes, and on the presents of the bridegroom. In behalf of a means of livelihood and subjected herself to considerable expense.

Costly "Fun."

(From The Philadelphia Ledger.)

The chicken coop of George Ocelus, at Cumberland, was looted of twenty-six chickens and six ducks. While investigating, Ocelus found a pocketbook in the chicken coop containing $250 and a check. It is one of my never-failing standbys, and to make it for an average family I use the following formula:

The owner of the tax receipt was notified of the find and he at once claimed the money and returned the chickens, declaring he took them only as a joke.

Ocelus refuses to give the name of his neighbor, whose identity he discovered in this odd manner, but he declined to return the money, declaring he will hold the amount also for fun.

It is said that both men will bring lawsuits, Ocelus charging his neighbor with theft, and the neighbor suing for his money.

CHARITIES IS GIVEN CLEAN HEALTH BILL

Investigating Committee Finds Association Is Accomplishing Great Work in Lessening Suffering.

The chamber of commerce committee recently appointed to investigate the affairs and methods of the Atlanta Associated Charities on Wednesday rendered to the president and board of directors of the chamber its report, giving the organization a clean bill of health, and highly commending the institution for the work it is doing.

A few recommendations looking to a revision of the charities' somewhat cumbersome method of keeping records, will be made by the committee to the board of directors of the association.

The committee is as follows:

Frank M. Inman, chairman; Frank Hawkins, Joseph Jacobs, W. W. Orr and W. S. Elkin.

Report of Committee.

The report is in part as follows:

"The committee has examined into every department of the association, and, in order to make a thorough investigation, has asked in each of the three daily papers that any one with complaints against it be known. In reply, we have received only one complaint, and on investigating, same was found to be in error and withdrawn.

"The greatest fault found by the uninformed was to the effect that the association figures in salaries and expenses about 12 to dispense $1, but when investigated this is easily explained. The value of the work it set in the amount paid for it, and not the pauperize the receiver, but in the trained social worker and in the proper method of relieving the temporary suffering and putting the sufferer on a permanently better basis. A concrete example of this has come before your committee in the last few days, viz.:

"A drunken father, unable to work, his wife and six children without little comforts and without food or fuel. The case was handled by a trained worker, and instead the father was taken before the proper authorities, put under probation, and when cured for him, the wife was put in the steady hospital and given proper treatment, and the three children were taken care of in a children's home. At the end of ten days the father had saved a few dollars; the wife was well; and all the family reunited and the family reunited instead of being separated in different institutions, thus the home was conserved. In this case the amount paid out was only, except the time of one social service worker, amounting to $4.50.

Money Not the Only Time.

"Does anyone doubt that more good was accomplished by this agent's time and brain than could have been accomplished by ten times the amount of money?

"The association has the city districted, each district being in charge of agents who keep in touch with all of the needy sufferers in the community. We are satisfied that the association can render individual and intelligent relief than can individuals or churches, and we recommend that individuals desiring to help the poor pass their subscriptions through this association to avoid duplication on the same case, specifying if they desire, to what particular case their subscription shall be applied.

"The committee has examined carefully into the books, records and vouchers, and finds that the records and books have undergone a thorough, searching audit concerning the current year. It is our belief that the records are complete, accurate and correctly kept. The forms of records used are adopted from the experience of over one hundred cities engaged in the same work. We think the system of the case records are too voluminous and that the same could be improved by making these records more concise. We further find that the only receipts given for funds or supplies is signed by the field agent, and approved by the secretary. A receipt should always be taken from the applicant and indorsed by the field agent and approved by the secretary, as we think important strongly that this be done in the future, as in no other way can a proper record be shown.

"In garding salaries and expenses, these are fixed by a competent board of directors, and seem to us to be reasonable and in no case extravagant, but rather the voluminous cases and detail of the reports make the door of great detail of unimportant work can be avoided.

"It is our opinion that the best work being done is along the lines of treatment and prevention of diseases among the poor. This association divides this work into two phases. First, the treatment of diseases in the individual family; second, undertaking to increase and improve the general facilities for treating and preventing diseases and sickness in a community, especially in relation to the poor.

Given Medical Attention.

"In regard to the first phase, the association endeavors always to see that every needy family concerning whom there is any indication of disease receives medical attention. In securing such treatment for these people, they use the Grady hospital, college clinics and the services of private practitioners. For the month of October, 1913, almost one hundred cases were referred for treatment to private practitioners who gave their services free.

"The poorer class of people are prejudiced against hospitals, and in their poverty they neglect their health and further impair it by the use of cheap patent drugs. The association has secured the services of a graduate trained nurse for conducting clinics for the purpose of introducing modern inspection in the public schools. It was also instrumental in absorbing the old ward physician system. They are now interested in working out some method which will prevent overcrowding and insanitary housing among the poor.

"They have recently organized a medical students committee, among the fourth-year men of the Atlanta Medical college, whereby each of the clinics is manned by one of the two city physicians. These students volunteer for work in the hospitals and clinics of the city, where it is not always necessary to have a more experienced doctor. From this committee they hope to develop among the students such appreciation of the needs of hospital social service that, in time, a department of medical social service may be established in the Grady hospital.

"We find that the association since its organization in 1905 up to the first of November, 1913, has handled in all nine thousand cases of disease and suffering, with removals from the streets of Atlanta 280 beggars and fakers."

ATHENS POLICEMAN CONFESSES TO THEFT FROM CITY LOCKER

Athens, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) An interesting point of law came up today when Officer McClure, of the police force, confessed to stealing $151 from a locker at the city hall police headquarters, with which to pay a debt which were pressing him, and gave the names of the parties who had receipted him for various amounts. The attorneys are generally of the opinion that while ordinarily stolen property could be recovered from a purchaser or some other article—that in the case of money the city would have to prove that no cash was the actual bills or coin stolen was that paid to the defaulting police officer.

The city made good the amount before McClure, the policeman who was drunk. The locker was broken open by McClure, brother of the man in trusted men on the force, with a dozen other policemen, the detectives, the chief and the two captains and a sergeant all in the room at the time each of them within 12 feet of him.

The confession this case has relieved about the tensest situation that has existed in the police force in years, as every man felt in measure responsible. McClure was turned over to the state courts.

NAVAL MILITIA BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Washington, December 10.—The house today passed the Padgett bill to promote the efficiency of the naval militia in the states and to provide for its use as called into the service of the United States in time of war under navy regulations.

The bill proposes that after three years the naval militia shall be organized into units of convenient size, to be established by the secretary of the navy, who also shall establish the number of officers and petty officers required for such units. It would provide for the loan by the secretary of the navy to the state governors of vessels, arms and equipment, and for a detail of naval officers to naval militia organizations.

In the event of war the bill would provide that the president might call upon such portion of the naval militia as he deemed necessary and in such time of service would be entitled to pay and allowances of the regular navy.

SUMMERLIKE WEATHER RETURNING TO ATLANTA

Summerlike weather is returning slowly to Atlanta and vicinity, according to weather forecasters today and there is already just enough "tang" in the air to make one's blood circulate.

For today the weather makers also promise a rise in the thermometer. There will not be much of a change of temperature, but what will be that sufficient of a climb upwards to make an overcoat a bug-bear in the late afternoon hours today.

The whole state is under a "better weather" spell just now and, in fact, the whole of the Mississippi valley is basking under the warm brightness rays and the clearest of skies.

The weather men still insist that Christmas will be a springlike affair, so far as they can now point out, sometimes their weather glasses are foggy and to certain extent. However, that will not prevent anyone hoping for magnificent weather on the day St. Nicholas passes by.

General and Mrs. R. K. Evans Give a Beautiful Reception

General and Mrs. Evans entertained a hundred guests at an afternoon reception yesterday in compliment to the officers and ladies of Fort McPherson, inviting to meet them a number of their Atlanta friends.

The occasion was a most happy one, assembling the guests in groups in the various apartments on the first floor of their home. Dainty refreshments were served, Captain Henry Blankhead doing the honors at the punch bowl, while Mrs. Van Orsdale and Mrs. George Martin presided at the exquisitely appointed tea table, where enchantress carnations formed the centerpiece.

Lieutenant Evans and Lieutenant Tucker assisted in the entertainment of the guests, and an orchestra presented a bright musical program.

On every side the interest of the guests was challenged by the collection of pictures, hangings and furnishings which General and Mrs. Evans have collected in their travels in all parts of the world. In few homes in the country are there more interesting ancestral portraits and souvenirs. Among these is the portrait of Mrs. Evans' grandmother, painted by a famous French painter, who presents the profile as well as full face of the distinguished beauty of her time.

In General Evans' den are many trophies of his activities in peace and war, especially interesting are his pictures of the nation's military representatives who met in Berlin and were entertained by the kaiser, General Evans at the time the representative of the United States army in Germany.

In Mrs. Evans' sitting room she indicates her taste for the old English prints, and has a rare collection of them, most artistically arranged.

She was a most graceful hostess yesterday, wearing an afternoon toilet of violet charmeuse with corsage of cream thread lisse.

Mrs. Van Orsdale's becoming gown was black figured lisse over white. Mrs. Martin was charming in mid-night blue satin, the corsage combining the satin and lace. Mrs. Heck, who is a recent acquisition to the social life of the post, was handsomely gowned in black satin. Mrs. Burnette's pretty toilet was sapphire blue velvet, with hat to match. Mrs. Snyder wore a smart toilet in black velvet trimmed in fur. Mrs. Borchers wore with a black gown the corsage of lace, beautiful furs in white fox, and a black hat trimmed in white paradise.

Among the admired visitors was Mrs. Walter Lamar, of Macon, her toilet of biscuit colored cloth trimmed in uncut velvet the same color, and her hat of black trimmed in rose color. Mrs. S. M. Inman wore a white chiffon frock brocaded in silver, the entire gown veiled in black chiffon. Mrs. T. K. Ferrell wore marine moire silk with hat to match. Mrs. William Lawson Peel wore black velvet. Mrs. T. B. Felder wore taupe colored velvet. Mrs. Robert A. Smith wore dark green charmeuse satin, her picture hat in black.

The new facial treatment

Try it tonight

To keep your skin so that you can always be proud of it, the following treatment is the most effective you could use—better even than massage.

Just before retiring, wash your face with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and hot water. Rub it lather in. After this, rinse in warm, then in cold water. Then rub for five minutes until a lump of ice.

Woodbury's Facial Soap cleanses the pores and acts as a tonic to the skin. This treatment with it causes the skin to become more active, so that it clears, colors and nourishes itself. Continue it every night for a week or two and you can see the difference. Start tonight.

Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after the first cake.

Woodbury's Facial Soap

For sale by dealers everywhere

For 4c we will send a sample cake. For 25c, trial size of Woodbury's Facial Soap, Cream and Powder. Address, Andrew Jergens Co., Dept. 509 Spring Grove Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Dexter's Luncheon.

Mrs. George Dexter gave a beautiful luncheon yesterday at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Miss Katherine Ellis, a debutante, and Miss Eula Jackson, a bride-elect.

The table was placed in the rose-room of the club, where there was an effective decoration of palms massed with ferns, and the window recesses vases of pink roses.

A Marie Antoinette basket filled with pink roses, and the handle of the basket tied with pink and blue tulle, was in the center of the table. The candle shades were pink, and pink and blue was the color motif carried out in detail.

The places were marked with French nosegays, to which were attached the guests' names. For Miss Ellis there were pink rosebuds, and for Miss Jackson lillies of the valley. At the other places there were pink roses and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Dexter wore a handsome gown of black broadcloth, the corsage of chiffon and lace. Her black velvet hat was trimmed with a Paradise aigrette.

The guests were Miss Ellis, Miss Jackson, Miss Ella Patterson of Montgomery, Miss Dorothy Aleshire of Washington, Miss Callie Hoke Smith, Miss Jessie McKee, Miss Adair Ellis, Miss Margaret Grant, Miss Dorothy Judkins, Miss Mamie Ansley.

Cole-Houchin.

The wedding of Miss Edda Annye Cole and Mr. Joshua Dudley Houchin took place yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock at Trinity church, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The church was artistically decorated with palms and ferns, and before the entrance of the bridal party, Mr. Charles Sheldon gave a beautiful program on the organ.

Mrs. George W. Price was her sister's matron of honor, and Mr. Ed Foster was best man.

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. George W. Price, and by Luke Johnson officiated.

The bride was charming in her traveling gown of blue crepe meteor with coat of blue velvet, and she wore a blue velvet hat to match. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Price wore a gown of brown chiffon cloth, trimmed in fur, and her brown velvet hat was trimmed in Paradise aigrette. She carried yellow roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Houchin left immediately on a wedding trip south, and on their return will be at their home, 163 Peeples street, West End.

Third Ward Civic Club.

Although the December meeting was the last of the year, the Third Ward civic club was not lacking in enthusiasm.

Plans were made for more thorough work along the line of civic improvement. A petition is being circulated for new sidewalks around Grant park, with a privet hedge encircling the same. A more systematic plan for clean yards will be carried out hereafter, it being proposed to offer attractive prizes for such work.

The club has given $5 to Tallulah Falls school, $5 to the Home for the Blind and $5 to the school at Mineral Bluff. This latter contribution was the gift of the secretary, Mrs. A. S. Wilson, who refunded the money given her by the club toward her expenses to Chilhowee.

After the business session the newly adopted program on domestic science was carried out, the discussion for the afternoon being "The Model Hall."

Plans are being laid for a bright and interesting program during 1914. The next meeting will be of a social nature, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Burns, 213 Grant street.

Sasnett-Rowe.

The engagement is announced of Miss Dorothy H. Sasnett and Mr. Alonzo Rowe, the wedding to take place December 31, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. W. R. Sasnett, 288 Peeples street.

Stag Luncheon.

Mr. Albert L. Dunn has issued invitations for an old-fashioned oyster roast at his home, "Green Gables," in Druid Hills, on Tuesday, December 16, at 1:30 o'clock.

Miss Ellis Entertains.

Miss Katherine Ellis was hostess last night at a delightful dinner at her home, the occasion a compliment to Miss Eula Jackson, of Washington, who is a toast of the season's gayeties.

The party numbered twenty-two, and they were seated around an Italian garden table. In the center was a marble fountain, and two smaller fountains were at each end. Pink roses clambered over diminutive pergolas, and the little bay trees which bordered the garden were the shades for electric lights. The place cards were held in the beaks of tiny birds perched on the glasses.

Pink was the prevailing color in elaborate detail, and the occasion was a complete and enjoyable.

Miss Ellis wore a charming gown of green chiffon, the corsage of green rhinestones and tulle. Miss Jackson was gowned in white brocade satin with rhinestone embroidery. Miss Ellis wore white charmeuse, its trimming of chiffon and rhinestones.

Martin-Collier.

The marriage is announced of Miss Frances Loretta Martin and Mr. Tarleton Collier, which took place at noon at the Sacred Heart church.

The wedding was one of quiet solemnity, and there were present only a few friends. Father Guinan performed the ceremony and the attendants were Miss Louise Campbell and Mr. R. K. Ryan.

The bride was charming in black velvet. Her corsage bouquet was of bride roses and valley lilies.

Her corsage bouquet was of bride roses and valley lilies.

The maid of honor wore a black cloth suit with a velvet hat and a corsage bouquet of roses.

After the wedding there was a pretty luncheon at the Georgian Terrace for the immediate bridal party, and Mr. and Mrs. Collier left for a visit with his parents in Montgomery.

On their return they will be at home at 670 North Boulevard.

The bride is a talented and attractive young woman, and Mr. Collier, who is associated with the Georgian, is a clever and popular figure in newspaper activities.

To Mrs. Butler.

Mrs. James D. Robinson will entertain at luncheon today at Piedmont in compliment to Mrs. E. H. Butler, of Buffalo.

Mrs. Murphy Gives Reception To Atlanta Pioneer Women

The history of the Pioneer Women's society has been happily punctuated by social functions, and one of the most delightful of these was the afternoon reception given yesterday by Mrs. Anthony Murphy at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Sciple.

They were assisted in receiving by the officers, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mrs. Joseph Westhoff, Mrs. Frank Slice, Mrs. W. F. Nicolson, Mrs. Sid Holland and Mrs. Harry Smith, and Mrs. C. J. Simmons poured tea.

Mrs. Murphy was becomingly gowned in black crepe meteor trimmed with dull jet and she wore a corsage bouquet of valley lilies. Mrs. Sciple wore white lisse and ermine and the laces and brocades, the silks and the satins of the guests, many of whom were also the quaint jewelry of their younger days, lent their luxurious air to a beautiful occasion.

Included among the guests were the "Battered Relics," anomalous term and pioneers.

Artistic decoration obtained throughout the house, Killarney roses being used in the blue and gold reception room, tall clusters of American Beauties in the library and a holiday combination of red and white and green in the dining room. The table centerpiece was a silver vase of the red bloom of the thistle and the white of narcissus, the vase wreathed at the base with asparagus fern and silver dishes held red and white candies.

Punch and tea were served in the palm room, which was made into a Japanese garden, its decoration in bamboo, wistaria and gay colored lanterns.

MRS. ELSAS TO SING IN PHILHARMONIC CONCERT

Mrs. Benjamin Elsas will sing the brilliant "Lucia" part in the sextet from "Lucia di Lammermoor" which is to be a popular feature of the concert by the Philharmonic orchestra on Tuesday night at the Atlanta.

Mrs. Elsas' voice is regarded by those who know it as an artistic treasure, its quality musical and its culture of highest standard. Her participation in the concert will be another element in its artistic significance.

The Atlanta Musical association, forming the orchestra, is in receipt of frequent communications from other musical organizations making or plans, these letters making flattering inquiry as to the Atlanta association's methods, programs and means to success with the orchestra, and congratulating her on the high-class publicity the city is receiving through the fact that she appreciates the value of a symphony orchestra and supports one.

BARFIELD A PATROLMAN.

Former Head of Vice Squad Is in Uniform.

Policeman J. W. Barfield, Chief Beavers' right-hand-aide in the department's crusade against vice, who was deposed by the action of the board of commissioners last Tuesday night, was demoted yesterday to the ranks of patrolman and has begun work as a bicycle man.

In his place as head of the plain-clothes "vice squad," Chief Beavers has placed J. A. Norris, who was elected to membership by the commission. Norris comes from the rank of patrolman. He is president of the Relief association of the department, and has been on the force for a number of years.

Barfield's demotion went into effect Wednesday. He was ordered to appear at headquarters in the uniform and stripe of patrolman. He was assigned to reserve duty in headquarters, and takes the place of Patrolman John W. West, who has been promoted to the mounted squad.

The chief's assignment for Barfield came as a surprise in police realms. It was generally supposed that the deposed lieutenant would be put on the plainclothes squad, at the head of which organization he had been Beavers' most effective aide in controlling the vice situation, and in which squad, as even a patrolman, his work would still be of avail.

SANFORD COLLIER ASKS COURT FOR NEW TRIAL

Attorneys for Sanford Collier on Wednesday filed a motion for a new trial, following the action of the jury last week, which found against him in his suit against his two brothers, Hezekiah and John W., which asked a redivision of the estate of his father, the late Washington Collier. Judge Pendleton set the hearing of the motion for March 7.

NATIONAL GUARD HOLDS ANNUAL DRILL TONIGHT

The annual prize drill of the Fifth regiment, Georgia national guard, will be held at the Auditorium-Armory tonight at 8 o'clock. To the winner of this drill will be awarded a gold medal bearing the inscription "Best Drilled Man, Fifth Regiment, Georgia National Guard." The winner will be entitled to wear this medal for one year, at the expiration of which time he must again fight for his laurels in the prize drill.

Four men from each of the twelve companies in the regiment will compete in Thursday night's drill. Contestants will be eliminated upon three errors in a single manual, the man who will be the winner of the medal. The ownership of the medal is a coveted honor among militia men and the contest will be warm, Captain Kinbrough and Lieutenant Snider, of the regular army, will judge the drills.

There will be dancing after the drills.

CALHOUN ARCH MASONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Calhoun, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Kellog chapter, No. 61, Royal Arch Masons, held their annual banquet here last night, at which sixty guests participated. Many visitors were present from Dalton and other neighboring points. Dr. L. B. Bowden, of Adairsville, was one of the speakers, and after six candidates had been given the Royal Arch degree, Stated Lecturer McHan gave a lecture which was greatly enjoyed by all. In the election of officers for another year, T. W. Hopper was selected as high priest; F. L. Dyar, secretary, and C. E. David, treasurer.

Grand Jury Ends Work.

The United States grand jury, Thomas B. Paine, foreman, in session since Monday, yesterday made its report to Judge Newman in open court, and was adjourned to January 17. The grand jury returned a "no bill" on ten of the accusations placed before it by United States District Attorney Hooper Alexander when it convened Monday. Twenty-two indictments for illicit distilling were returned, while there was one charge of peonage, one asserting conspiracy against federal officers in discharge of duty and four charging the removal and concealing distilled liquors.

Give the Man a Diamond Studded Watch With Platinum and Gold Chain

For a man the best gift is a watch, diamond studded, and a platinum and gold chain.

For such a gift as this you need only come to the Eugene V. Haynes store, 49 Whitehall street. You would find watches, chains or stones and no lower prices for equal quality in New York.

For the setting you should buy such a diamond that would be for the recipient a gratifying and excellent investment. Time has proven that money is safe and fruitful in diamonds. But you must be sure to buy right.

A diamond's value does not lie in size alone. Seek quality in a diamond. Aim to procure, not the largest, but the finest diamond your money can buy, because as diamonds advance in price, it is invariably the higher grades that advance first. Thus if your husband's or brother's Christmas diamond is a fine specimen it will become more valuable with each advance.

This store was built for the Southland's Christmas—built on a foundation of many years' successful buying of high-grade jewels for Atlanta's gentlefolk. We have gathered a collection that will make unnecessary a trip to New York. Come and see our jewel caskets set in the handsomest store in Dixie.

MISS HELEN KELLER COMING FOR LECTURE

An opportunity will present itself to Atlantans on December 20 which none can afford to ignore—the opportunity of hearing one of the most remarkable personalities in the world today, Miss Helen Keller, deaf, dumb and blind from infancy, yet who has overcome apparently insurmountable obstacles and is esteemed one of the most gifted women in public life today.

Through the efforts of Mrs. C. Helen Plaine, founder of the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Miss Keller has been secured for a lecture here on December 20 under the auspices of the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The lecture will be delivered in the main hall of the Auditorium-Armory in the evening, which will afford everyone an opportunity to attend.

No other opportunity perhaps will ever present itself to people here to hear Miss Keller, as she expects to retire from the lecture platform shortly to devote her time and talents entirely to literary work. This will be her first appearance in Georgia, and for this reason she is expected to attract many visitors from out of town for the occasion.

SUCCESS WON BY BOY IN RAISING LANGHHANGS

An Atlanta boy who demonstrated at the Southern International Poultry show showing the success that may be attained even in a cramped city lot was Larkin N. Hill, Jr., aged 14, of Lakewood. The lad, who has been raising Black Langshans for the past four years, took prizes in both the children's show and in the contests for adult raisers.

In the childrens' show sweepstakes young Hill won second prize with a cockerel and third prize with a pullet. In the adult class he won second prize with a cockerel, first and second prizes with pullets, fifth prize with another cockerel and his pen of chickens was awarded third prize. His efforts were given much praise by experienced chicken raisers who attended the exhibit.

OVERALL COMPANY WILL OPEN ATLANTA BRANCH

Hamilton Carhartt People, a Million-Dollar Concern, Secure Quarters Here.

The Hamilton Carhartt company, a million-dollar concern of Detroit, manufacturers of "Carhartt" overalls, will open a branch factory in Atlanta January 1, according to announcement made on Wednesday by W. H. Leahy, secretary of the industrial and statistical bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Through J. R. Smith, of the Smith, Rankin & Ewing Real Estate agency, the Carhartt company has leased the entire top floors of the three-story brick building at Pryor and Mitchell streets, which it will use as its plant. This lease is for a term of five years at a total consideration of approximately $25,000. The property was leased from the Adler estate.

The Atlanta plant of the Carhart company will utilize a floor space of 20,000 square feet and will employ about 200 people. It will be in operation about February 1.

The factory is being opened to consume the output of the Carhartt factory at Rock Hill, S. C., which is a manufacturer of the cloth from which the overalls are made. The output of the Rock Hill factory is about 100,000 per week.

The total annual output of the Carhartt factories is valued at $2,500,000. The Atlanta factory was brought here through the negotiations of the industrial and statistical bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter to the bureau from E. R. Partridge, southern representative of the Carhartt people, he gives the following interesting reasons for locating the southern factory in Atlanta:

"The feeling of co-operation which seems to permeate the atmosphere in this city; the appeal to patronize Georgia-made goods; the live chamber of commerce, and its industrial secretary, W. H. Leahy; the railroad facilities; the labor situation—al lcombined —caused us to locate in Atlanta."

DECATUR ODD FELLOWS HEAR GOOD SPEECHES

Much interest has been aroused among the Odd Fellows in Decatur and DeKalb county, following the oyster supper there Monday night, when they were addressed by a number of interesting speakers, who were guests of Decatur lodge, No. 195. R. Frank Smith, DeKalb county's representative in the legislature, made the address of welcome. Secretary Robert C. W. Hanaweck, of the Decatur Board of Trade, spoke on behalf of the Decatur citizens.

Work that is being done by the Odd Fellows in Georgia in the interest of good churches, good roads and better schools and also for halls for Odd Fellow lodges was told of by Hon. Beull Stark, of Dalton. Mr. Stark, who is grand herald of the Georgia lodge, also is a prominent banker and business man.

Hon. Claude Smith, of Fairburn, noble grand of Fairburn lodge, also made an interesting address on the work being done by members of the order. More than 100 Odd Fellows were in the hall when the meeting was called to order by J. E. Bodenhammer, grand conductor.

WATKINS WILL SPEAK BEFORE AD MEN TODAY

Members of the Ad Men's club of Atlanta are expecting a record crowd at the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Hotel Ansley, when Colonel Edgar Watkins, newly elected president of the Atlanta Bar association, will deliver a twenty-minute address on "Ethics in Advertising."

"A Timely Topic and a Talented Talker" is the way in which the ad men describe the coming address, and they have sent out flaming red circulars to all their members. This will be the final meeting before the Christmas holidays, and the members promise big eatings and some new "stunts" after the first of the year.

Report on Estate Made.

Grovenstein-Bishop company, of Haralson, Coweta county, against whom an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with Deputy Clerk Beers, of the federal court, November 6, yesterday filed with the court a schedule of its liabilities and assets. Two days after the creditors had filed their petition, H. A. Ferris was named ... ver for the estate. The liabilities of the Grovenstein-Bishop company, as shown by the papers filed Wednesday, aggregate $16,715.72. The assets are recorded at $40,128.72.

Assets show stock in trade valued at $7,221.71, while $20,000 are listed as promissory notes, held by the alleged bankrupts, upon which no cash value is fixed.

Red Cross Seal Workers Set Furious Pace on First Day

MRS. HUGH WILLET.
General chairman in charge of work of selling Red Cross seals for benefit of

Mrs. C. H. Booth, of Ponce de Leon, office buildings and streets will be filled apartments, and her enthusiastic corps of workers set a pace yesterday on opening day of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals that other chairmen and their assistants will have hard work keeping up with.

From reports made last night, which were not complete, the first day's sales will total between $250 and $400. Mrs. Booth was quite confident last night that when she had received reports from all of the ladies at work for the day the figures would not be under $400, which means 40,000 seals.

"We are certainly going to sell one million Red Cross Christmas seals by the close of the canvassing on December 24," said Mrs. Hugh M. Willet, general chairman. "There isn't a doubt of it now, with the wonderful showing made by Mrs. Booth and her workers for the first day."

Mrs. Luther Rosser, Jr., will be chairman for Thursday, and she has secured a large number of the most attractive debutantes in the city to sell the seals, and downtown stores, hotels, with the workers.

On Friday Mrs. J. Wade Conkling and her committee will distribute Red Cross Christmas seals to the principals of all the public schools in Atlanta.

In automobiles, the committees will go to each school, turning over supplies of the stamps to the principal. In turn, the principals will distribute the seals to the teachers, who will allot a certain number to each pupil in the grade. The little folk will continue to sell right up to Christmas.

If each child disposes of 10 cents worth, that will mean approximately $2,500, which, with the $1,000 in bank from last year's sales, would mean the establishment of the open-air school.

PROMISE TO BUILD ANSLEY PARK FIRE STATION NEXT YEAR

Mayor James G. Woodward declared yesterday that he will insist that $11,000 be put in the finance sheet of 1914 for an engine house and equipment in the Eighth ward.

Councilman W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee and representative from the Eighth ward, has put himself squarely behind the project and with the assistance of Mayor Woodward and members of the finance committee the sheet will be arranged in order to get the money.

The destruction of the Winecoff home caused Mayor Woodward and members of the committee to take immediate steps towards getting fire protection in the Ansley Park residential section. Last year the city had only sufficient money to buy a lot for the the engine house. Councilman Humphrey made a strong fight for the building and equipment, but because of other obligations which were pressing at the time the city council could not carry out its plans.

Finance Chairman Humphrey stated Wednesday that he was certain the money would be provided and the station installed next year.

FAST AUTO SERVICE PROMISED PATRONS FOR XMAS PARCELS

In order to keep abreast of the rush of Christmas orders, J. M. High & Co. have established a new automobile delivery system. The firm has secured one of the latest Ford models, which they will use especially for making quick deliveries for Christmas parcels, and they announce that any special order telephoned to the store will be rushed out in the automobile.

"Quick action" is the slogan of the new system of delivery, and the members of the concern believe that they can accommodate their patrons up to the point of perfect satisfaction regarding Christmas deliveries.

NEW YORK BANKER DIES IN GOVERNMENT PRISON

Serving a five-year sentence in the federal penitentiary near Atlanta, where he was received in July, 1912, Frank P. Arnold, registered on the penitentiary rogers as a resident of New Berlin, N. Y., where he had long been a banker, is dead, death coming to him in the federal penitentiary hospital Tuesday after an operation by the penitentiary physician and other surgeons who had been called to assist.

Arnold was 65 years old, according to records, when he died.

The body was placed with Harry G. Poole, undertaker, on Pryor street, and made ready for shipment to the old family home in New Berlin. Following the usual custom, the penitentiary officials decline to give out any information further than admit the death of the convict. Likewise the undertaker declines to talk further than to say he knows nothing about the case other than the body had been entrusted to him for transportation to the old home.

METHODISTS GATHER FOR MEETING TODAY

Members of the Methodist Episcopal church in the vicinity of Atlanta will gather today at Egleston Memorial church for a conference and to listen to a number of interesting addresses from prominent preachers and laymen. This church, which is distinct from the Methodist Episcopal church, South, has 120,000 members in the southern states and is particularly strong in Alabama and Florida. It is also widely represented in the northern and western states.

At the business sessions which will be held Thursday and Friday, addresses will be made by C. W. Olson, of Atlanta; Burr Stokes, of Fitzgerald, and by three school principals, L. A. Willsey, of Epworth, Ga.; W. A. Parsons, of Union Hill, Ga., and J. L. Robb, of Mt. Zion, Ga. D. D. Martin, traveling secretary, will deliver a valedictory address.

A recention will be held Friday night and on Sunday the meeting will culminate with special services. Bishop L. D. Leete, of Atlanta, will preach in the morning, and Dr. W. L. Bowell, of Birmingham, in the evening.

SOCCER FOOTBALL FOR EMORY BOYS

League Has Been Organized and Games Will Begin After the Holidays—Four Strong Teams Certain.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—The game of soccer football has been introduced at Emory college, and after the Christmas holidays a league will be played, ed which has been arranged between the classes. This new sport was suggested by Professor J. Gordon Stipe, director of the gymnasium, and very prominently connected with the students athletics.

It is very probable that Emory will be the first southern college to take up this sport, and already the interest displayed by the student body, which has given its assent, is very earnest.

An intermission of several weeks comes in between the close of the interclass football season and the beginning of the basketball schedule. It is for this period that the student body is endeavoring to introduce soccer.

Only interclass games can be indulged in, which is similar to all of Emory's other athletics.

Harold Saxon, chairman of the students' athletic committee, assisted Professor Stipe in making arrangements for the opening of the soccer season.

FEDERALS BICKER FOR MINOR STARS

Chattanooga, Tenn., December 10.—(Special.)—Federal league magnates will not confine their efforts toward getting star players from organized baseball to the major leagues alone. The inroads will extend to the minor leagues as well.

Bob Higgins, former lookout catcher, last year with Newark and slated to go to New Orleans next year, has been offered a job with the Pittsburg Federals. The offer, a tentative affair without salary being named, was received by Higgins here this week. The Pittsburg management very adroitly weaves into its letter that the contracts of the Federal league will be in accord with those asked by members of the players' fraternity, and intimates that the Feds will conduct their organization in other respects very much as the players' frat wants it conducted.

Higgins stated in discussing the matter that he wouldn't "throw" Dobbs and will stick to him. "However, if the Feds would put three years' salary in the bank for me," he says, "I might consider a proposition from them under other conditions than would exist if I went with Johnny."

The Chattanooga club is somewhat apprehensive of losing Charley Street and Mike Balenti through the manipulations of the outlaws, but doesn't expect any other of its players to be approached. Street is known to be somewhat dissatisfied with Southern league company and, in fact, announced at one time that he would not play south next year. At the same time, he intimated that the reason for the same was a failure to harmonize with Kid Elberfeld. The two had trouble frequently last summer and the Kid was openly jealous of his old-time sidekick. With Elberfeld gone, it was hoped that Manager McCormick would have no trouble bringing Street to time.

BASKETBALL QUINTS ARE BUSY AT EMORY

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Although the basketball season will not open at Emory college until after the Christmas holidays, the fives of the classes are busy at work in preparation for the season.

All the teams have not been picked, and very probably the managers and coaches will wait until the return of the students after the holidays.

The managers of the four teams are Cater Rogers, senior; John Nelson, junior; Miles Dillard, sophomore; Gus Williamson, freshman.

The subfreshmen class will very likely not get out a team, as they have not yet made any preparations.

SIX-DAY RACE.

Eight Teams Ahead of Record at 3 O'Clock.

New York, December 10.—The eight leading teams were still bunched at 3 p. m., the 6d hour, with 1,235 miles, 2 laps. This was 18 miles ahead of the previous record. Five teams trailed them a lap behind. Behind them came the Corry-Walker combination with 1,235 miles flat and far in the rear the Kopsky-Keefe team pedalling hard at 1,242 miles, 2 laps.

Through Scribes' Ignorance Birmingham Is Placed Ahead Of Atlanta in Attendance

Auburn-Vanderbilt and Auburn-Georgia Games Compared—Atlanta's Attendance Was 6,493, Birmingham's 6,481—Birmingham Charged More. Hence Their Receipts Were Larger.

"Atlanta Down Again: Birmingham is on Top. More people saw Auburn-Vanderbilt game in Birmingham than Auburn-Georgia game in Atlanta. Difference in gate receipts nearly $1,000."

The above heading appeared in a recent issue of The Birmingham Ledger. The sport scribe of that paper, through ignorance alone, it cannot be anything else, has done the people of Birmingham into a quiet contentment of their superiority over the Gate City of the South.

Such a condition do not exist and the figures obtained by The Constitution from J. B. Lovelace, manager of the Auburn football team, proves the following statements:

Birmingham has not and never will defeat Atlanta in attendance at anything and for The Ledger's scribe, good scout that he is, to intimate such a statement, without getting called, is out of the question.

Ledger's Story.

The article in full in The Ledger is as follows:

"As football towns, how do Birmingham and Atlanta compare?

"The answer is found in the comparative attendance at the Auburn-Vanderbilt game in Birmingham and the Auburn-Georgia game in Atlanta.

"At the Auburn-Vanderbilt game in Birmingham the gate receipts were $7,020.

"At the Auburn-Georgia game in Atlanta the gate receipts were $7,650, in Atlanta.

"The Auburn-Georgia game in Atlanta was a championship game. It was the first game and the winner won the title.

"The Auburn-Vanderbilt game in Birmingham was an elimination game, the winning team of which of the teams won another battle was necessary before the title was won.

"Following the Auburn-Georgia game the attendance at Atlanta was 6,493, which only goes to prove the contention of many that the usual 6,000 Birmingham crowd is what Atlanta refers to as a 9,000 crowd.

"Birmingham has progressed rapidly as a football town and has overtaken Atlanta, which city has been witnessing football games for many more years than the Magic City.

"Birmingham has scored another victory over Atlanta, and the figures produced are official.

"Our records show that 6,481 people paid to see the Auburn-Vandy game and that 6,493 parted with their good cash to see the Auburn-Georgia game."

This is not our statement, but the statement as sworn to by Manager J. B. Lovelace, of the Auburn football team, in answer to a telegram sent him by The Constitution.

Thus it will be seen that Atlanta had 14 paid admissions more to the Auburn-Georgia game than Birmingham had to the Auburn-Vanderbilt game.

True the margin is mighty slight, but The Ledger's scribe raised the issue of superiority and we are just showing him up as he should be shown.

Comparative Receipts.

Continuing with Mr. Lovelace's statement, the higher receipts at Birmingham were the result of a higher admission charged, and nothing else. Here is what he says:

"Six hundred and forty-four students paid $1 each to see Vanderbilt defeated and 453 Auburn students and 402 Georgia students paid 50 cents each to see Auburn win the championship. Hence space was sold in Birmingham for $5 per car and in Atlanta at $1 per car, also the difference, $881, in gate receipts."

Get the point?

Birmingham charged $1 per head for students, whereas Atlanta charged but 50 cents, and Birmingham charged $5 for parking automobiles, where the Atlanta charged but $1.

Had the Ledger scribe stated that the receipts of the Vanderbilt-Auburn game exceeded those of the Auburn-Georgia game, he would not have received any reply from us, but when he says that "More people saw, etc., we have to call him down.

In the future, Mr. Mullin, be more careful with your statistics. Investigate and be sure where you stand before making any such claims.

As a parting shot, we might point you to the attendance at the Georgia-Vanderbilt and the Georgia-Tech games. These were played on the same date and were of the same importance. They were eliminating contests, as you call them. The winners played for the title.

On that date, Birmingham showed 6,481 paid admissions. Atlanta showed 25,853.

Now which is the better football town?

ARTHUR RIGGS LED THE APPALACHIAN

Rome, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) The annual averages for the past season of the Appalachian baseball league, as filed by President B. B. Fisher, of Morristown, have been received here. The averages show Arthur Riggs, who during the early part of the season was manager of the Morristown team, heads the batting list with an average of .476. He took part in only nineteen games, however, and the real leader is Holmes, of Morristown, who registered an average of .412 in seventy-five games. John Cochran, the big left fielder of the Rome team, was second, with an average of .380. Cochran holds the league record for home runs, with twenty of the circuit clouts and hit for a total of 237 bases in 105 games.

The leading fielders in the different positions were: Graham, Morristown, average .990, first base; Hetzel, Bristol, .944, second base; McElveen, Knoxville, .968, shortstop; Ilales, Rome, .959, third base; Burke, Knoxville, .888; Wicker, Bristol, .988; Sanders, Middlesboro, .985, all outfielders; Stafford, Middlesboro, .974, pitcher; Taylor, Johnson City, .991, catcher. The leading pitcher of the league was Townsend, of Morristown, who won six and lost one, a percentage of .857. Of the pitchers who played the season through, Lee, of Knoxville, was the leader, with 24 won and 7 lost. Morristown, with an average of .276, led the league in club batting, and Johnson City, with a percentage of .964, led the league in club fielding.

SANTA MONICA GETS VANDY CUP RACE

Los Angeles, Cal., December 10.—It has announced here today that the Vanderbilt cup race would be decided on the Santa Monica course on Feb. 22. The race will be conducted by the Western Automobile association. The Vanderbilt cup event will be restricted to cars of 600 cubic inches piston displacement.

CHICAGO HAS DECIDED NOT TO MEET HARVARD

Chicago, December 10.—The University of Chicago, through its board of physical culture and athletics today declined to meet Harvard in a football game next fall. The board in a statement issued after meeting, expressed appreciation at the invitation for a game at Cambridge, but decided that it was not advisable to schedule games with teams outside the "Big Nine."

The decision is in line with the spirit of the conference as informally expressed here at the faculty meeting last week, when scheduling of intersectional games was declared not desirable.

CHATTANOOGA TIGERS CONFIDENT OF RESULT

Lookout Five Planning to Take Scalp of Atlanta Athletic Club Saturday Night.

Chattanooga, Tenn., December 10.—(Special.)—The splendid work of the Chattanooga Tigers during the present season and the fine improvement in team work in the past ten days, makes local basketball followers feel confident of the outcome of the game with the Atlanta Athletic club team in Atlanta Saturday night.

The Chattanooga boys have been a consistent, brilliant passing game, with spectacular goal shooting, and the Atlanta cracks are in for the battle of their lives Saturday night.

The personnel of the local five is not exactly certain. Several players are showing up equally as well at the positions, and it is doubtful if the line-up to start the game will be known definitely until just before the whistle blows.

ALL BUT FOUR DOGS FINISH FIRST SERIES

Montgomery, Ala., December 10.—All but four dogs completed the first series in the all-age stakes of the Southern Field Trials club over the Letohatchie course today. These four dogs will make the course tomorrow, after which the second series and trials will be completed before the sportsmen return to the city tomorrow night.

Not counting out the four dogs mentioned, or any of them, as participants in the second series of the stake tomorrow, the following twelve dogs remain to compete for the money:

Melrose, Mohawk, Master Charley, Summit Rex, Pittsford Boy, Theodore Whitestone, John Proctor, Babbie Brook, Jr., La Besita, George Clay, Riverview Rudifor, De Soto Frank and Security. When the other four dogs complet the course tomorrow, the drawings for pairs will be made at the course.

The purses to the winners in the derby have been paid, and the winners in the all-age stakes will be paid tomorrow night, when the trials are completed, which brings the sixth annual contest to a close.

The National Field Trials club will open its first annual field trials over the same course next Monday morning. It is announced tonight that practically all of the dogs competing in the southern club's trials will be held over for next week, in addition to a number of new dogs that are entered on the course. Drawings for pairs for the first series of the national running will be made Sunday night in this city. The derby will be run Monday and Tuesday, the all-age stake following the rest of the week.

Bread is the staff of life and flattery is the butter.

FLOYD KROH JUMPS ABOARD WATER WAGON

Chattanooga, December 10.—(Special.) Floyd Kroh is on the water wagon, he says, for good. The Lookout sidewheeler drove into town the other day and sought a job at President Andrews' own factory. The same was given him and the foreman under whom he saws wood states that the pitcher is showing up for work promptly every morning and is always in perfect condition. Kroh seems in better health than for many seasons and anticipates the best season of his career in 1914.

Kid Elberfeld gained an enviable reputation as a handler of rye juice devotees last year. Kroh and Pat Graham both toiled for the former lookout manager for several months, serenely riding to dear old wagon and the while.

When Kroh fell, it was like a ton of brick. Slated to pitch the final game in Atlanta, on which the pennant depended, Covleskie was in bad condition and was getting punctured with regularity. Chattanooga hopes and a bundle of Chattanooga money were pinned on Kroh that Saturday but soon-killer.

Well, it happened is history. Kroh fell into the company of some local sports-men and were betting the other way on Thursday night previous and when found by the writer on the next morning at daybreak he had enough of a spree to last him for a month.

Local fans are looking to Kroh to be the Coveleskie of the 1914 team and his every step here this winter will be closely observed.

HOW THE NATION PAYS ITS BIGGEST BILL

The estimates for the appropriations for the next fiscal year, recently submitted to congress, called for more than a billion dollars of money. Only twenty years ago some economists were outraged because of the extravagance of a "billion-dollar congress."

Tom Reed was speaker and to the maledictions lacadaisically replied: "This is a billion-dollar country." Now less than twenty years after, we are not astonished when congress appropriates a billion dollars a year, and there are none to revile a "two billion-dollar congress."

But these appropriations are spread out over many items, and it remains a fact that the one greatest expenditure of our wealthy republic was the $375,000,000 devoted to the construction of the interoceanic canal.

How this money was spent and how not a dollar of it was wasted in graft or dissipated by inefficiency is told in "The Building of the Panama Canal," by Frederic J. Haskin. This is the book that every citizen of our billion-dollar country ought to have in his library. The Constitution offers you an opportunity to get it at cost. Save the coupon printed in today's issue.

CHRISLER IS ELECTED MAYOR OF DEMOREST

Demorest, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—A rather quiet election for city officers for the year 1914 was held here yesterday. W. F. Chrisler was elected mayor, defeating J. L. Maxwell by a majority of 24. Each stood for law and order, and are men of high character.

J. P. Brown, G. S. Hunt, Pink Carpenter and E. E. Keener were elected councilmen. J. H. Ford, Jr., and P. C. Shirley were elected clerk and treasurer, respectively.

PACE IS VERY SWIFT IN THE BICYCLE RACE

Eight Teams Tied for Lead. Australian Rider Starts a Sprint.

New York, December 10.—Efforts of teams behind the leaders to make up lost ground furnished excitement at the six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden and quickened the pace of the field to such an extent that at 11 o'clock tonight the foremost riders were 14 miles and 6 laps ahead of the record. They had then ridden 1,441 miles and 2 laps.

Grenda, the speedy Australian, started one of the fastest sprints of the night and had gained a quarter of the lap his team needed to catch the leaders before the field woke up, but Jackie Clarke, his partner, who had been doing some hard riding previously, seemed a bit slow in coming to Grenda's aid and, after three laps had been ridden, the speed limit, Grenda gave up the effort.

The leaders at 3 p. m. were the Root-McNamara, Drobach-Halstead, Ferri-Brocco, Hill-Ryan, Goullet-Fogler, Perchi-Breton, Collins-Walthour and Magin-Lawrence teams. A lap behind were the Appelhans-Packebusch, Anderson-Hansen, Carman-Cameron, Mitten-Thomas and Clark-Grenda combinations. Corry and Walker had made 1,441 miles and Kopsny and Keefe 1,436 miles, 2 laps.

RITCHIE-MURPHY BOUT STOPPED BY PROMOTER

Operation on Ritchie for Nasal Abscess Caused Postponement of the Fight.

San Francisco, December 10.—A nasal abscess, which necessitated an operation today on Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, resulted in calling off the scheduled 20-round fight tonight between Ritchie and Harlem Tommy Murphy.

The two fighters met tonight with their managers and went through the formalities of weighing in to conform with the forfeit agreements. Both tipped the scales at 135 pounds.

When the requirements had been met Ritchie announced that he had been operated on, but, in spite of this fact and a drizzling rain, he was willing that the fight should proceed. The promoter, however, declared the fight off altogether.

Found Wounded on Tracks.

Lyerly, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) With his head almost severed from his body and with other serious cuts upon his hands and body, Reed Knox, a young negro, was found upon the tracks of the Lyerly and Dewey branch of the Central of Georgia railroad last night by another negro. Knox refuses to tell his assailants, saying that he does not know who they were. Medical aid was summoned and the negro's wounds were dressed and he has a chance for recovery.

FIFTH REGIMENT TO PLAY COLUMBUS FIVE

Local Cracks Take a Trip to Home of Champions on Friday Night.

The Fifth regiment basketball team, one of the most formidable fives in Atlanta, and champions of the city league, will take a trip to Columbus, Ga., Friday, where they will play the Young Men's Christian association team of that city.

That the local boys will give the Columbus champions a good fight is certain. The local quintet boasts of some of the best basketball material in the south, and have always given a good account of themselves wherever they have played.

The following men will make the trip:

Manager Fred Coolidge, Captain Hugh Mauck, Frank Pechman, Ed Davis, Johnny Graves, Joe Griffin, Ed Hubert and John Magee.

BILBO AND HOBBS ASK FOR CHANGE OF VENUE

Vicksburg, Miss., December 10.—The motion and demurrer thereto to have the indictment against Lieutenant Governor Bilbo and Senator G. G. Hobbs quashed having been overruled, Judge Mounger was polled this afternoon that the defense would tomorrow morning present a motion asking for a change of venue.

In the motion for a change of venue, defense sets forth the claim that "the inflamed state of the public mind" and "Lieutenant Governor Bilbo's integrity having been made an issue in the state campaign," and other things presented that the said defendants could not be given a fair and impartial trial in Warren county.

At the morning session Judge Mounger heard arguments by E. Sullivan for the defense, District Attorney Thomas for the state, and W. J. Green for the defense. The defendants are charged with soliciting a bribe.

TENER TO BE LIBERAL WITH THE BALLPLAYERS

New National Head Connected With Old Brotherhood. Problems Deferred.

New York, December 10.—The National league baseball club owners, in annual session here, deferred settlement of any of the problems facing them today until they could learn the views of their newly-elected president, Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, whose address on the occasion of his installation early this afternoon contained an assurance that he would work to put the national game on a higher plane than ever during the four years of his term.

Chief among the issues the league faces is that involving the seventeen demands of the Baseball Players' fraternity. This matter, it is expected, will come up in executive session tomorrow.

Demands of Players.

After the formal ceremony of inducting Governor Tener into the presidency, the magnates adjourned until tomorrow morning. This afternoon and tonight they conferred with the league's new head regarding the players' demands, the attitude to be taken toward the Federal league and other questions.

None of the club owners would allow the use of his name tonight in being quoted as to the new president's view of the fraternity's demands. It was pointed out, however, that as a figure in professional baseball years ago, Mr. Tener was secretary of the old brotherhood, which revolted and set up for itself. Some of his friends declared his policy toward the players would be one of giving them more freedom than they enjoy now and that most of the owners would follow him in this and other respects.

It was believed tonight that the National league would take no official notice of the Federal league.

Club owners favor ignoring the outlaw organization and will make every effort to legal means to prevent players from jumping contracts.

Tinker Trade Hangs Fire.

The Tinker trade still hung fire tonight. President Charles H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, repeated today his $25,000 offer for the Cincinnati shortstop. The Philadelphia club, it was said, was willing to give Dooland and a pitcher—Chalmers, Mayer, or Brennan—for Tinker. Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinanti club, wanted Dooland and a pitcher, but insisted on Ritzy and another Twiller.

The possibility that Roger Bresnahan, the Chicago catcher, would be in Cincinnati team's next manager, apparently was disposed of in a long distance telephone conversation between Harry Ackerland, representing the Chicago club here, and Manager Johnny Evers. It was said Evers refused to give Bresnahan and Corriden for Tinker.

Secretary John S. Foster, of the New York club, and President Schuyler Britton and Manager Miller Huggins, of the St. Louis club, conferred this afternoon. It was reported subject of their talk was a deal which would bring Konetchy and Magee here in exchange for Merkle, Snodgrass and Herzog.

N. A. P. S. Defeats Seminary.

The North Avenue Presbyterian school defeated Washington seminary at basketball, on the floor of the former, Wednesday afternoon, by the score of 12 to 7.

Those playing for the victors were Crane, Stearns, Egan, Davis, Ryan and Jacobs.

Those playing for the losers were Kiser, Belk, Horine, McPherson, Green and Mather.

Misses Converse and Hoffman refereed.

Football Star Injured.

Ithaca, N. Y., December 10.—William Howard Fritz, the Cornell football star who won honors in the Pennsylvania game Thanksgiving day, broke his arm during the contest when in the second period he collided with Minds of Pennsylvania. He was conscious of a slight bruise in the right forearm, but paid no attention to it until today, when a swelling was noticed and he consulted Cornell's athletic physician who found by X-ray examination that Fritz had fractured his arm.

GUARANTEE

Every purchaser of Herreshoff cars in Atlanta and vicinity is given a Herreshoff Service Guarantee. This guarantee is not the kind ordinarily given by Motor Car Manufacturers, but one that is a positive assurance to the purchaser that for one year his car will be kept in perfect repair, absolutely free of charge, except in case of tire repair and replacements and damage resulting through accident.

It includes work for which heretofore the purchaser, under the usual form of guarantee, had to stand the expense—new spark plugs, grinding valves, removing carbon and work of similar nature.

All necessary replacements of parts and the making of repairs will be made without argument.

Our Service Guarantee is based on our knowledge that the 1914 Herreshoff is a thoroughbred, and we will back it to the limit.

NEW OGLETHORPE NOW A CERTAINTY

Gifts of $27,293 to University Plan on Wednesday Bring Atlanta's Total Subscription Up to $176,719.

OGLETHORPE FUND TAKES A BIG JUMP

One day's subscriptions—$27,293—for Oglethorpe university, is "going some."

This brings the total subscriptions to date up to $176,719, leaving only $73,281 to be raised.

Hon. John Temple Graves announced a $5,000 subscription from William Randolph Hearst at Wednesday's luncheon, and James R. Gray announced donations of building material worth $17,500.

Two far-away subscriptions came in, $100 each, from the states of Massachusetts and Washington.

The committeeg fred Oglethorpe is here and that a few days more will complete the fund.

Oglethorpe university is no longer a hope; it is a fact.

A glance at the committee gathering at yesterday's noonday luncheon at the Piedmont would have assured the visitor that every man there means business, and there is a determination to get the rest of the money, and get it quick.

The rest is only $73,281, for already there has been raised $176,719 of Atlanta's $250,000.

Wednesday brought subscriptions of $5,000 from William Randolph Hearst, and building material worth $17,500, in addition to $4,793 raised by the canvassing committees for the day.

John Temple Graves, representing Mr. Hearst, reached the city on the morning train from New York and, after going to the office, when immediately to the Oglethorpe luncheon, where, in a brief speech, he announced Mr. Hearst's interest in the project and his subscription.

Graves Reads Telegram.

Mr. Graves said he felt a deep personal interest in the Oglethorpe movement and, in his opinion, Atlanta could be engaged in no better work. It was things like this, he said, that make Atlanta great. He concluded by reading the following telegram from Mr. Hearst, which he found upon his arrival:

"New York, December 9, 1913. John Temple Graves, care Atlanta Georgian, Atlanta, Ga: I am exceedingly interested in the rebuilding of Oglethorpe university in Atlanta, and wish you would kindly subscribe $5,000 from me toward that fund, and through The Atlanta Georgian and any other publication of mine that could be of service, enter heartily into the negotiation of this project. For a long time the south led all America in the fame and excellence of its universities. There is now no reason why it should not do so again, and there is every reason why Atlanta should be in the front rank of the advancing columns of education and human progress. Please make sure that our papers do their full share in this great work.

"WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST."

This announcement was greeted with applause.

Building Material Given.

The cheering was renewed when James R. Gray arose to announce a donation of building material valued conservatively at $17,500. This valuation was placed upon it by well-known Atlanta architects. The name of the donor is withheld for the present at his request. It was announced that special credit for securing this donation was due to Chairman Ivan E. Allen, of the general campaign committee; Dr. J. M. Gaertner and Mr. Thornwell Jacobs.

Two subscriptions were secured for Oglethorpe from far distant states, though both the donors were in the city. Through Dr. J. Chesten King subscriptions of $100 each were secured from J. A. Brierley, of Boston, Mass., and R. G. Eans, of Seattle, Wash.

In a letter to Dr. King, Judge Joseph Henry Lumpkin, of the state supreme court, said it gave him great pleasure to renew his subscription to the former university project for Oglethorpe.

List of Subscriptions.

Closing Days of Welfare Show Attendance Record Smashers

Children of Home for Friendless who have given interesting demonstrations in basketry and sewing at the Child Welfare exhibit.

The closing days of the Child Welfare exhibit in the Leyden house have been record-breakers in the crowd attending, and the interest manifested, and as Rabbi Marx said in the able address he made last night "The Child Welfare exhibit marks a new era in Atlanta's civic and constructive life."

He referred to the facts that the exhibit showed clearly three things, "What Atlanta needed; what was being done to meet the needs; what still must be done to further improve conditions!"

The hopelessness of the exhibit lies in the remedy offered for every bad condition stressed. The pictorial phases of it have taught lessons better than any other medium could have done, nothing striking the individual more than the pictures within the first room after entering, where "Father Georgia" is interviewed on the subject of vital statistics.

Letters are photographed which show that through Georgia's lack of vital statistics, men enlisting in the army and navy are retarded in their progress in failing to produce certificates of birth. The story was told yesterday by a group of people visiting the exhibit, that through their inability to produce birth certificates they could not get an inheritance which was rightfully theirs in England, the English laws requiring the certificates of birth of all heirs to estates.

The Fly Exhibit.

There is no feature of the entire exhibit more important in the lessons it teaches, than that which is commonly called the "fly" exhibit. It gives the history of the fly in its daily campaign, and its relation to sanitation and health, and a view of the charts and pictures telling the fly story, inspires students to have very little more respect for the fly than for the hook worm, an exhibit of which is shown in the room adjoining.

Chamber Members Pay Visit.

Members of the chamber of commerce visited the exhibit during the day, yesterday also the students of the Englishcommercial high school.

The children of the seventh and eighth grades of Davis street schools walked from the school to the exhibit yesterday and the two hours took notes on the exhibit, with a view to the competition for the prize offered for the best essay to be written on the subject. Both boys and girls showed the keenest interest in what they saw, the their comments were most edifying.

Exhibit for Negroes.

The exhibit will be turned over to the negro citizens tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and arrangements are being made for most interesting program each day. The children of the Free Kindergarten will give demonstrations. The orphans from Miss Chadwick's orphanage will visit the exhibition, and there will be a program of old songs rendered Saturday afternoon. Friday night will be the special occasion when the housekeepers of Atlanta are urged to send their domestic servants, as there will be explainers present to direct their attention to the exhibits especially bearing upon the sanitation and health of the home of the employer and employee.

There will be medical inspection each day for negro children, at 11 o'clock in the morning, and from 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on, until evening.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR HOTEL MEN'S MEET

Mayor Woodward Will Make Welcome Address and S. J. Newcomb Will Respond.

All preparations are complete for the opening of the seventh annual convention of the Georgia Hotel Men's association, which meets in Atlanta Friday and Saturday. This, the hotel men say, will be the largest and best convention of hotel men ever held in the southeast.

The guests will register and receive their badges and banquet tickets on the second floor of the New Kimball Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The first meeting of the convention will be called to order by President T. W. Hooks at 10 o'clock, at which time Mayor Woodward will welcome the hotel men of Atlanta. The mayor's welcome will be responded to by Vice President S. J. Newcomb. The program of the meeting will consist of routine business and an address by John Willys, of Chicago, publisher of The Hotel Monthly.

Luncheon will be served for the men at the New Kimball at 1:30 o'clock.

The afternoon session, which meets at 2:30 o'clock, will be given over to the discussion of hotel legislation.

Friday evening will be given over to a theater party for the men and a smoker for the men at the Piedmont.

Saturday's program will be as follows:

10 a. m.—Morning session, New Kimball.

1:30 p. m.—Luncheon, Georgian Terrace.

8 p. m.—Banquet for ladies and men at Hotel Ansley.

Wylie West's Hudson Automobile Disappears.

An automobile belonging to Wylie West, of the Firestone Rubber company, disappeared Tuesday night from in front of the White Motor company's place on Marietta street. The car is a four-passenger Hudson, with green body and black hood, and equipped with non-skid tires all around. The number of the car is Ga. 17829.

White Slavery Charge Will Be Investigated By Federal Officers

Whether S. A. Stoe and Annie Stoe, man and wife, claiming Atlanta as their home, have been white slaving will be fully investigated by United States Commissioner Carter in his office in the federal building tomorrow morning.

Mamie Bond, saying she is 18 years of age and that her home has been in Atlanta for years, appeared before Federal Clerk Cornett, also a federal commissioner in Atlanta, asking for aid to return to her home in Atlanta. Commissioner Cornett gathered from the girl her story. She had been enticed from her parents' home in Atlanta, she said, by Stoe and his wife, and had been compelled to go with them to a number of southern cities. Commissioner Cornett got in communication with Atlanta, and Wednesday Stoe and Annie Stoe were placed under $1,000 bond to appear before United States Commissioner Carter tomorrow to answer charges indicating white slavery.

Negro Burglar Caught.

Alvaton, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) A negro, giving his name as Paul Harris, was arrested here last night for burglarizing the store of the Alvaton Mercantile company. He entered by forcing a large plate glass front. He had a lot of stolen goods on his person when caught last night and has implicated two other negroes as agents for him in disposing of stolen goods.

MRS. LEE IS GRANTED TEMPORARY ALIMONY

Judge Pendleton Restrains Husband and Wife From Disposing of Property.

Judge John T. Pendleton on Wednesday wrote a restraining order preventing the disposal of property by the plaintiff and defendant in the suit of Mrs. Cora L. Lee against her husband, J. T. Lee, a railroad man, following the hearing of the temporary alimony tangle of the case.

In answer to Mrs. Lee's temporary alimony petition Judge Pendleton made it obligatory on the husband that he pay the wife the sum of $15 per month until the main divorce action is disposed of.

The hearing produced sensational testimony in that Lee, in his cross bill, charged that his wife had pointed a pistol at him and threatened his life, and that finally he fled home, fearing that his wife would poison him.

Mrs. Lee on the stand declared that she had married Lee twice. The first time the couple were divorced after a number of domestic disturbances, but were remarried, so the wife averred, on account of a son, whose rearing needed both the father and the mother.

The second marriage, so Mrs. Lee said, was more tumultuous than the first. Mrs. Lee declared that her health had been shattered by Lee, and that he had constantly nagged and abused her.

Lee denied all of this when his turn came, and said that an operation on his wife had turned her mind.

When both sides of the story had been aired, Judge Pendleton then wrote the restraining order against both parties, and fled up their household goods in such a manner that neither could dispose of their property. The couple lived at 388 Peachtree street for some time.

TWO ACTORS SHOT WITH REAL BULLETS INSTEAD OF BLANKS

West Point, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Miss Nell Woods, leading lady, was shot in the left leg and Lyonel Monerief, an actor, also was wounded, when a pistol supposed to contain only blank cartridges was fired during the performance of "Northern Lights," presented by the C. W. Park Dramatic company at the local theater last night.

The fact that the pistol was loaded has not been explained. The management of the company is investigating.

COLUMBIAN CHAPTER WILL GIVE DEGREES

On next Monday afternoon Columbian chapter, No. 138, Royal Arch Masons, will meet at 5 o'clock to put on the Master Masons degree and when this is done will adjourn for a "feast" and reconvene at 7 o'clock to put on the royal arch degree. All royal arch Masons have been cordially invited.

At the regular convocation of Columbian chapter, held in the Masonic temple Monday night, the following officers were elected and installed to serve for the ensuing Masonic year:

H. W. Quin, high priest; W. G. Bradley, king; W. S. Dorsey, scribe; C. Howard Orr, C. of H.; E. K. A. Wilson, P. S.; D. G. Harwell, R. A. C.; W. L. Henderson, master of 1st veil; R. G. Bailey, master second veil; M. T. Gresham, master third veil; F. M. Gilbert, secretary; R. O. Barksdale, treasurer; A. H. Moore, sentinel.

J. E. MELTON CHARGED WITH MURDER OF TEAL

Columbus, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Sheriff J. A. Beard this morning swore out a warrant against J. E. Melton, age 30, charging him with the murder of Mans Teal, aged 26 and a married man of Harris county. Melton is in the Muscogee county jail. He will be taken to Hamilton this afternoon by the sheriff of Harris county.

The tragedy occurred yesterday afternoon late near Goat Rock, just north of the Muscogee county line, in Harris, when Melton shot Teal in the left breast with a shotgun, killing him instantly.

Melton claims to have come to Columbus for protection, fearing he would be lynched by the friends of the dead man, whom he claims to have slain in self-defense. The trouble is said to have grown out of an old feud.

Hog-Killing Days.

Lyerly, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) The cold weather of yesterday and today has meant the death of many a fine porker in this country. People have been waiting very impatiently for cold weather so they could kill their meat, but up to this snap, there has not been enough cold weather to save the meat and many fine porkers have been killed. Monday and Tuesday were regular "hog-killing days," so to speak, and fresh pork is no rarity on Lyerly tables today.

COTTON MARKET LOSES ITS GAIN

Net Decline of From 4 to 9 Points Noted at the Close. No Active Demand Was Created.

New York, December 10.—The cotton market lost about four yesterday in improvement during today's trading. Business continued quiet and there was nothing in the talk around the ring to indicate any change of sentiment with reference to the probable showing of the government's crop estimate on Friday, but recent buyers who had predicted an advance before the publication of the official figures appeared to be disappointed in the failure of any active demand to make its appearance, and prices sagged off under scattering liquidation. There were also rumors of moderate selling by one of the large trade interests, and offerings became a little heavier late in the day, with the close within a point at a net decline of 4 to 9 points.

While Liverpool futures did not fully meet yesterday's local advance, the large spot business at higher prices made the showing of the English market a fairly steady one, although private cables reported some increase in the amount of hedge selling. The local market opened steady at a decline of 3 to 4 points, but after a little talk about the closing figures of last night on covering of shorts and a little weakness in the Liverpool market, the early offerings met with the approach of the government figures.

No important support developed, however, and prices soon turned easier under realizing, or commission, pressure, which may have been encouraged by the apparent lack of definite information or reports of more unsettled conditions in China.

Reports that the Helena Board of Trade estimated the commercial crop at 14,365,000 bales on the average, seemed to make little or no impression on sentiment as the figures were closely in line with the average estimates of other exchanges previously published.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, December 10.—The cotton market had a generally quiet tone to-day, trading was very light and fluctuations were very narrow. Interest was chiefly relation to the pending crop estimate by the department of agriculture, but there was much interest in the approaching holiday period and circulated a petition to close the exchange rooms on December 25, 26 and 27 next week.

Texas and Liverpool cables were said to be points on poor cables and favorable weather. In spite of the bearish factors there were enough buying orders around the call to put the price up a little over and above yesterday's close. This was the highest level of the day, prices thereafter sagged under the dullness until in the early afternoon prices were 7 to 8 points under yesterday's last quotations. The close was steady at 4 to 7 net decline, 11 to 5 points.

The market held a fairly good undertone and had resistance to selling pressure. This was due to the prevalence of the low estimates of the crop and the belief that the ginning of 14,000,000 bales or more on these figures from over 300 members of the cotton exchange were obtained, the accuracy of which will be taken tomorrow. It is generally expected today that the average would be well under 14,000,000 bales.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, December 10.—(Special.)—The cotton market showed no strength today. The bears were not active, but there was a very poor demand and the undertone was weak. The talk was that the crop was a decided surprise on the bullish side, but the market certainly did not show any excitement or anything except a poor demand and held the market, and a bearish crop estimate would probably cause much liquidation than bullish buying. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 5 to 8 points. Liverpool is due to come 2 to 4 points down on the active months.

Masonic Ceremonies Over, Grand Officers Leave.

Masonic ceremonies that have interested Masons in Atlanta, and especially through the presence of a number of grand lodge officers, have been warmly ed by Masons over the state, came to a close last night with the concluding exercises in the constitution of three lodges and with a banquet in honor of Grand Master Robert Lee Colding, of Savannah.

Capital City, Capitol View and Malta lodges, which have been hitherto operating under a special dispensation, were given their charters with due ceremony.

Only the grand master was able to remain in Atlanta Wednesday night. The other officers were compelled to leave for their homes. The grand master expects to leave for Savannah Thursday night.

SPIRITED BUYING GIVES WHEAT LIFT

Market Closed Firm—Sales to Exporters Responsible for the Bullish Sentiment. Corn Sold Heavily All Day.

Chicago, December 10.—Spirited buying for prompt specials in corn gave a lift today to wheat. The market closed firm ¾ to ⅞ net higher. Corn finished irregular ⅛@¾ lower to ⅛ higher, and oats the same to ⅛ net last night to a shade decline. Provisions wound up at a rise of 7 1-2@10 to 30 cents.

Sales to exporters were responsible for much of the bullish sentiment regarding wheat. One house here disposed of 250,000 bushels for London. It was said also that Kansas was selling wheat back to interior Kansas for milling, and that Nebraska farmers estimated 40 per cent of the crop in that state would be fed to livestock.

Reports that the crop in Argentine harvest was offset by continued advices that the yield there was short-poor in quality and of light weight. Furthermore the chances of winter killing by the recent freeze in the fall-sown fields south and west of Chicago were not likely kept in mind by traders. On the other hand, there were reports current that eastern runds in the United States would also be the care required this winter to move grain to Atlantic ports. Realizing sales on a scale down paved an additional check against a more substantial upturn.

Corn was under heavy selling pressure from the first day, but in the last half hour the market rallied, with reports that pit offerings were going into strong hands. Reports varied as to whether supplies from farmers showed any decided increase because of the improved weather.

Commission house buying steadied oats, but shipments from Canada were said to be again a factor in the market and there were continued liberal receipts in the Canadian northwest.

Packers took an active hand at buying provisions on the market, and in this way early in sympathy with a decline in the price of hogs. Shorts were forced to cover in a lively manner.

HOTEL MEN TO ARRIVE IN ATLANTA TODAY

Members of the Georgia Hotel Men's association, which is to hold a convention here Friday and Saturday, are expected to arrive in Atlanta tonight. The first meeting of the delegates will be at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning, when the delegates will receive their badges and banners from Secretary-Treasurer Fred Houser on the second floor of the Kimball house.

The Kimball house will be convention headquarters during the two-day session, and the visitors will be welcomed to Atlanta at 9 o'clock by Mayor James L. Woodward. W. Stokes, of Dublin, president of the association, will preside. A response by Governor of Augusta, will reply to Mayor Woodward's address of welcome.

There will be a number of interesting addresses by hotel men from Georgia, and by other leading men from different parts of the state, who will meet with the Georgians. The hotel men will be received at the home of the Georgian Terrace, will be taken to Peachtree Creek to the Kimball farm, and will banquet at the Hotel Ansley. A theater party for the ladies will be an event of Friday night.

FEDERAL OWNERSHIP OF ALL THE WIRE LINES

President May Urge Government to Take Telegraph and Telephone Systems.

Washington, December 10.—Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines throughout the country is being seriously considered by President Wilson.

Conferences between the president and Postmaster General Burleson have led to a gathering of information about practical working of government ownership in those nations where such a system is in operation. The subject will be discussed in the postmaster general's annual report, though it is not assured that he will make any positive recommendations. The postmaster general saw the president for a few minutes today, and while they did not discuss the subject, Mr. Burleson said as he left the white house that on previous occasions when he had discussed the question with the president he had found his mind open and receptive to information.

Though bills have been drafted looking to government ownership, postmaster general Burleson will make any recommendations to congress until he am absolutely sure of my ground.

Although Mr. Burleson seems to favor the plan for government ownership, it is said that it will not meet the enthusiastic approval of President Wilson's cabinet. It is believed in official circles Attorney General McReynolds, for one, would show his teeth to such a plan if the matter is seriously taken up around the cabinet in the white house.

Within the next few weeks the department of justice will announce its own plan for relief in conditions accompanying the interstate telephone business throughout the country.

While department officials have kept their plans a secret, it has been reported that suggestions have been made and agreed to by the telephone officials that there be no further extension of territory by them and some of the interstate rates shall be severed.

Callers who have discussed questions of government control of trusts with Mr. McReynolds are of the opinion that he believes the Sherman act a sufficiently powerful weapon with which to better conditions. They understand his position to be that it is better to break up a combine so there shall be competition; that if that cannot be done, it is better to regulate it, fix its prices, and if that is not possible, then, reluctantly, as the only thing left, acquire the offending trust and run it under the government's protecting wing.

BIG FOUR TRAIN SAVED BY TWO LITTLE BOYS

Anderson, Ind., December 10.—Two boys, one 8 and the other 10 years old, will receive gold medals for the second Big Four passenger train wreck just from a probably disaster. The boys were north of here today. They ran to school and found a rail sixteen inches out of place. They knew the passenger train was about due and rushed down the track to meet it, took off their coats and from the middle of the track signaled them until the engineer brought his train to a stop. Passengers from the coaches made up a large purse for the boys.

WATER WILL BE BARRED TO SEXTUPLE MURDERER

Officers Will Make Last Effort to Get the Mexican Desperado.

Bingham, Utah, December 10.—Losing faith in their ability to starve him out quickly, and having failed to smoke him out, the sheriffs trying to capture Ralph Lopez, slayer of six men, tonight decided to cut off his water supply in the Utah-Apex mine.

With this plan in view, a posse will be sent into the mine within the next few hours. Unless Lopez is dead or has escaped, another underground fight, such as took place on November 29, when two deputies were killed, is thought probable. The sheriffs are convinced that there are only two places in the mine where the desperado can obtain water. They intend to bring wires through the tunnels and illuminate those places with searchlights, thus leaving Lopez in the darkness to prevent him approaching any drinks.

Although the search of miles of underground workings was discontinued on Monday, for fear of sacrificing more lives, the council of war decided that to cut off his water supply would be worth risking another battle with the deadly marksman.

Lopez took refuge in the mine on November 27, after killing a miner and three peace officers on November 21.

ON ACETPHENETIDIN HIGH COURT MUST PASS

Washington, December 10.—The derivation and pronunciation of acetphenaldin have sprung up to bother the supreme court. The government contends that the law passed congress will be enforced in the pure food law may require manufacturers of that substance to state on labels that acetphenetidin is a derivative of acetanilid.

"What does the chair in the street know about acetanilid or this other unpronounceably named article?" inquired Justice Day.

Solicitor General Davis contended that congress believed the average druggist knew acetphenetidin was acetanilid because it mentioned that name. Acetanilid, morphine, cocaine and other habit forming drugs that must be described on labels, are in patented medicines. He contended that congress intended that not only the pure substances should be named, but derivatives from those drugs must be described as derivatives, because only in this way could congress achieve its object of protecting the public from habit-forming drugs.

SENATOR ELIHU ROOT WINS NOBEL PRIZE

Christiania, Norway, December 10.—The Nobel peace prize for 1912 was conferred today on Senator Elihu Root of New York, and that for 1913 on Senator La Fontaine, of Brussels, Belgium, who was formerly president of the permanent international peace bureau of Berne, Switzerland.

As no Nobel peace prize was awarded last year, there are two for this proposal this year, each of them worth $40,000.

The report of the committee refers to Senator Root's work for the pacification of the Philippines and Cuba, and in the handling of the American with Japanese dispute. It praises his high ideals, his prominence as a statesman and his constant efforts to promote international peace.

The Hague, Netherlands, December 10.—Senator Elihu Root has been elected a member of the court of arbitration, which has been appointed claims of British, French and Spanish subjects in regard to the seizures made by the Portuguese government after the proclamation of a republic in that country.

AUSTRIAN DEPUTIES RIOT IN PARLIAMENT

Vienna, Austria, December 10.—Such a din was created by the Ruthenian deputies in the Austrian imperial parliament today that the sitting was suspended. For over an hour the Ruthenians, as a protest against the alleged passive attitude of the government in the matter of electoral reform, blew horns, wrenched the lids from their desks and beat the pieces fiercely together. The uproar became deafening that the speaker quit the chair, suspending the session.

Strike Probe Is Urged.

Washington, December 10.—Congressional inquiry into the Colorado and Michigan mine strikes was urged today before the house rules committee by Representatives Keating, of Colorado, and Maddox, of Michigan. Representative Keating said the strike in the Colorado coal fields had become involved with political and industrial problems that it was found impossible to separate them. Representative McDonald asserted that conditions in Michigan were acute.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The location of a new manufacturing concern in Atlanta was announced on Wednesday.

This is a southern manufacturing branch of the Hamilton-Carhartt company, of Maysville, manufacturers of overalls, which has leased, through J. R. Smith, the top two floors of the three-story brick building at Forsyth and Mitchell streets for a term of five years. The aggregate consideration approximates $20,000. The concern will occupy 20,000 square feet of floor space, and will employ 200 people. The lease takes effect January 1, and the plant will be in operation by February 1.

This factory will utilize the cloth output of the Carhartt factory at Rock Hill, S. C.

The factory was brought to Atlanta through the negotiations of the industrial and statistical bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Full details will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution.

Dill Avenue Work Starts.

The county road force will start work on the grading and paving of Dill avenue on Thursday morning. This is considered a very important piece of work, since the construction of a good street here will connect Stewart avenue and Ralph McGill boulevard, a distance of about three or four miles. At present it is necessary to go from one to Hapeville or come back to Whitehall street to get from one of these thoroughfares to the other.

The paving of Georgia avenue from South Boulevard to Grant's park will be completed by next Saturday, at which time it is expected that the McDaniel street sewer work will also be done.

Atlanta Gets Road Congress.

Of much interest to realty men is the announcement that the Atlanta Constitution that the 1914 convention of Good Roads congress will be held in Atlanta.

This will mean new life and impetus to the development of good roads in Georgia, and especially in Fulton county, which in turn means increased realty activity and an enhancement of values of real estate, to say nothing of much advertisement for Atlanta.

Real Estate Sales.

A. J. & H. F. West announce that they have sold for W. B. Richards, administrator, to Mrs. Romie C. Abbott, a 50-foot lot on the south side of Tenth and Fourteenth streets, for a considerable consideration.

The Martin-Osburn Realty company has sold for J. J. Garland to Mrs. Cecil Sinclair Sewell, an eight-room house on a lot 46x160, for $6,000 cash.

BANK PRESIDENT SHOT BECAUSE BANK FAILED

New Orleans, December 10.—Slowly recovering from effects of a bullet fired by an assassin, Houston Bickham, former president of the defunct State bank of Angelina, in prison here in default of a large bond, began a fight for a change of venue of his case and reduction of his bond. Bickham was shot from ambush near his home in Cumkor, La., in October, soon after the bank failed. He says he believes that failure of the bank led to the assassination by some of the personal enemies.

After the shooting the bank president lay between life and death for many days, and finally was brought to a hospital here. He was charged with five charges in connection with the bank, and his bond was set at $41,666, security for which had been arranged.

Mr. Bickham is slowly returned, Bickham expected to be released from the hospital soon, and that he will then be expected to go home and try to straighten out his affairs. He bondsmen told him that they had received many threatened letters, urging his appearance. They refuse to go longer on the bond, and the wounded man was put into jail, as he could not get bond in the amount.

Although still weak from his wound, Bickham says he will make a hard his fight, and with his attorneys today began negotiations to have his bond reduced to $10,000 and his case transferred to another court.

The Bank of Bogalusa had $146,000 in deposits and was capitalized at $50,000. Bickham says that he can prove he was guilty of no wrongdoing.

DRUNKEN SPREE SENDS SHARP TO DEATH CHAIR

Auburn, N. Y., December 10.—Before he took his place in the death chair here today to expiate the murder of Frank Ford, a Rochester patrolman, last year, Nelson Sharp gave out a statement in which he declared he had "no use for the army and navy and would meet his death like a soldier; that it was time for me to end his foolish life, and that if by giving up his own life he could restore that of Ford he willingly would do it. He said no one was to blame for the tragedy except drink.

Sharp started trouble in his boarding house while he was in a raving condition, and when Ford went to restore order he was shot.

CHILD LABOR MEASURE RIGOROUSLY ENFORCED

Pittsburg, Pa., December 10.—Vigorous enforcement of the child labor law enacted by the late legislature was continued throughout the city today.

Proprietors of restaurants, hotels, theaters and stores were warned to be notified by representatives of the bureau of child factory inspection that all women under 24 years must cease work at 9 o'clock at night and the provisions relating to boys must be followed closely.

Two merchants were arrested and fined last night. All girls within the age limit were sent home from the theaters where they were employed. Factories are already observing the law for several months.

POLITICAL BOSS SENT TO THE STATE PRISON

Trenton, N. J., December 10.—Louis Kuehnle, for years the powerful political chief of Atlantic City, entered the New Jersey state prison at 10 o'clock this morning to serve a one year sentence imposed on him in Atlantic county by Judge Samford, of Alabama. He was convicted of being financially interested in a large contract awarded by the Atlantic City board of water commissioners, of which he was a member when the contract was let.

Kuehnle left Atlantic City this morning in his own automobile, accompanied by the sheriff and a close personal friend.

ALABAMA ATTORNEYS ARE NAMED BY WILSON

Washington, December 10.—President Wilson today sent these nominations to the senate:

United States attorneys:
Robert N. Neil, Alabama, northern district of Alabama.
Thomas Samford, of Alabama, middle district of Alabama.
Alexander O. Pitts, of Alabama, southern district of Alabama.

PARKER AGAIN NAMED AS MAYOR OF BAXLEY

Baxley, Ga., December 10.—(Special.) At the municipal primary held here yesterday the administration ticket won by a safe majority. Mayor Dave H. Parker was the candidate for re-election, and won by an even hundred majority over his opponent, J. L. Pittard. D. M. Minchew and H. J. Jenkins won for councilmen over several other candidates.

FAKE WINES BANNED BY CATHOLIC CLERGY

Berlin, December 10.—The Catholic clergy and the German government joined today in condemning imitation wines. The Catholic bishop of Wuerzburg warned the clergy of his diocese against the use of "cheap and deceptive substitutes for wine" in communion. The government has announced that it was about to assist wine growers by framing restrictive regulations concerning so-called temperance beverages. These, it says, are making heavy inroads on sales of wines, consequently reducing government revenues.

We will sell this for $4,500; $500 cash, $30 per month for the balance. This is a $5,500 place. Our price and terms are for a quick sale.

NORTH MORELAND AVENUE RESIDENCE—On North Moreland avenue, in the Druid Hills section, we have a modern 8-room, 2-story residence that cost the present owner $8,500. If you want this place for $6,000 on your own terms, see us at once. If you are more apt to own a north side residence on a first-class street for less than its value, this is the best opportunity you will ever have.

INMAN PARK RESIDENCE—On Elizabeth street, we offer an 8-room, 2-story residence, furnace heat, extra large lot, side drive, servant's quarters, large chicken yard, for $9,000. We are in a position to give you more than your money's worth on this place. We will take as part payment your vacant lot or small piece of property.

COOPER STREET VACANCY—On upper Cooper street, right near Georgia avenue, we have a modern 7-room cottage, electric lights and the very best of everything, for $2,250—$100 cash, $25 per month for the balance.

HUMAN BEINGS SLICED BY VIVISECTIONISTS

So Speakers at Washington Congress Allege—Children Furnished for Experiments.

Washington, December 10.—"The world is going to demand an accounting from vivisectors that against the cost of agency and death there be made known whatever gains in the way of discoveries of clearly demonstrated value to human suffering be proved to exist," declared Dr. Albert Leffingwell of Philadelphia at today's session of the International Anti-Vivisection and Animal Protection congress.

"If the vivisectors can secure from the charity hospital," he asserted, "that absolute power and secrecy which has been gained in animal experimentation, then within the lifetime of men now living, human beings will take their place as material for investigation of human ailments."

Human Vivisection a Fact.

Human vivisection is a fact, and is so widespread as to be called general," declared Frank Stephens, of Philadelphia. He said there was no no longer any question of that charge.

After attacking what he called "Friedmann's barrister," Mr. Stephens charged that Dr. Karl Von Ruck, of Asheville, N. C., had acknowledged having used 329 children, 262 of them from the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville, N. C., furnished "by courtesy" of the home physician there, to experiment upon. The obituary of Von Ruck's experiments, said Mr. Stephens, also would be the "obituary" of any children upon whom he and his associates experimented.

He attacked the work of Dr. Noguchi, a Japanese, working at the Rockefeller institute, experimenting on a loathsome disease, and who, "through the courtesy of a number of hospitals, private and public, experimented upon 400 cases, only 177 of which were believed to have the disease."

Animals Unclearly Tortured.

Vivisection of animals as a method of research was denounced as wrong and misleading today by Dr. Richard Cowen, of the Royal College of Surgeons, London.

"This mutilation and torture," Dr. Cowen said, "has led many earnest men along the wrong road of research. For more than a quarter of a century I have practiced surgery. During that time I have performed some thousands of operations, yet cannot recall a single instance in which I owed anything to public reports of vivisection experiments."

Dr. Cowen declared that in an effort to find the cause of cancer 145,000 animals have been captured by a cancer research society in the past two years, with no resulting discovery. If the same time which was used along the "blood-stained paths of animal vivisection," he added, had been spent in studying the disease from a clinical point and its natural history in man, it would not be necessary now to announce the disease incurable, save by the knife.

Daniel C. Beard, president of the Campfire Club of America, said he was a great lover of animals and was in hearty sympathy with the anti-vivisection movement, although he had no use for the "wishy-washy sentimentality which led to the purchase of satin-lined mahogany coffins for dogs and funeral services over their bodies."

Dr. Charles W. Dulles, of Philadelphia, attacked a popular treatment for hydrophobia as "injurious and responsible for many deaths."

IN MEMORY OF WOMEN OF THE CIVIL CONFLICT

Washington, December 10.—A fund of $300,000, in addition to the $400,000 conditional appropriation of congress, has been pledged for a building in Washington in memory of the women of the civil war, the guarantors being Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. E. H. Harriman, John D. Rockefeller and James A. Berrymer. This announcement was made at the yearly meeting of the American National Red Cross society here today. The building, when completed, is to be used as headquarters for the American Red Cross.

Another announcement was that Jacob H. Schiff has contributed a special $100,000 endowment for the town and country nursing work of the society, and that Mrs. Whitelaw Reid has agreed to give $2,500 annually for the same purpose.

President Wilson presided at the afternoon session, before which reviews of work done in the Ohio floods, the Omaha tornado, the Volturno and other disasters were presented. Medals for unremunerative service during a number of catastrophes also were awarded.

President Wilson later was re-elected president of the society. Other officers were chosen as follows: Robert W. DeForest, New York, vice president; John Skelton Williams, treasurer; John W. Davis, of the department of justice, counselor; Ernest P. Bicknell, national director, and Charles L. McGee, secretary. Tonight a reception to the delegates was held at the home of Miss Mabel T. Boardman.

NORTHWESTERN SUES FOR OVER A MILLION

Madison, Wis., December 10.—The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Wisconsin began suit today in the supreme court against the state of Wisconsin to recover a sum exceeding $1,000,000, being the amount paid, with interest, under protest as taxes for the years 1911 and 1912.

The company's business is widespread, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, Florida and Alaska being the only states and territory in which it does not operate. The complaint alleges that of the policies in force more than 90 per cent is on the lives of non-residents of Wisconsin.

Mrs. D. A. Mayo.

Mrs. D. A. Mayo, 68 years old, died at her residence at Riverdale at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, after a long illness. She is survived by eight children, three sons, A. O. R. E. and J. I. Mayo, of Riverdale, and five daughters, Mrs. J. V. Church, of McDonough, Ga.; Mrs. E. W. McConnell, of Atlanta, and Misses Lily, Mary and Pearl Mayo, of Riverdale; also by one brother and two sisters. Funeral services will be held this morning at the Riverdale Baptist church, followed by interment in the church yard.

Three Postal Bills Passed.

Washington, December 10.—Three administration postoffice bills were passed today by the house. One would eliminate the distinctive stamp now used on official postal savings correspondence, another would make money orders payable at any money order postoffice instead of at a specified office, as at present, and the third measure would authorize the postmaster general to reimburse postmasters for losses sustained through no fault of their own, as by robbery.
