Wilson Turns Down Huerta's Plea for Arbitration; Pacific Battleships Also Are Ordered to Mexico

LEO FRANK'S FIGHT TO GET NEW TRIAL WILL BEGIN TODAY

Counsel for Prisoner Will This Morning File Extraordinary Motion in Judge Ben Hill's Court.

AUTOMATICALLY DELAYS SCHEDULED EXECUTION

Attorneys for Defense Say That No Amendments Will Be Made to Paper Furnished to Mr. Dorsey.

Some time this morning, counsel for Leo Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, will appear before Judge Ben Hill in the Thrower building and present the extraordinary motion for a new trial, on the grounds of newly-discovered evidence.

The scheduled execution of the convicted superintendent will then be automatically delayed until Judge Hill's decision is handed down upon the retrial application. Leo Frank will not hang tomorrow morning between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock.

Frank's attorneys stated Wednesday afternoon that no amendments would be made to the motion, and that nothing beyond that of which Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey has already been notified will be contained in the document. Further grounds, however, will be added at the time of the application's hearing.

Burns Has Not Returned.

Detective William J. Burns had not returned to Atlanta Wednesday, although his arrival was expected at any time. His journey, on which he departed at 5:10 o'clock Saturday afternoon, has been kept a secret. Attorney Reuben Arnold said to a Constitution reporter that Burns had not told even him of his destination, nor of the nature of his trip.

The proposed amendments to be made in the defense motion when it is brought before Judge Hill for argument—in case Judge Hill grants it—will more than likely be based entirely on the final report of Detective Burns, which, officials of his organization say, will be made immediately upon his return to the city.

It became known Wednesday that a subpoena has been served upon Dr. Roy Harris to appear before the retrial hearing to give testimony of his microscopic examination of the hair found upon the pencil factory lathe, which he says does not resemble specimens taken from Mary Phagan's head.

Refuses to Sign Affidavit.

Dr. Harris, it was stated, had refused to sign an affidavit presented him which bore on this phase of the case. He was a star witness for the prosecution in the Frank trial, and it was through his testimony that the state sought to establish the time of the victim's death.

According to legal authorities, Judge Ben Hill can either refuse to grant a hearing when the motion is presented him today, or take up the motion for consideration. In this latter case, he will set a date for a hearing, at which arguments from both the defense and prosecution will be heard in a manner similar to all new trial plea proceedings.

The grounds contained in the proposed re-trial motion, of which Solicitor Dorsey has been notified, are largely those pertaining to the testimony of C. Brutus Dalton, the character witness; the statement of Mary Rich, the woman who says she saw Conley emerge from the alley in rear of the pencil factory at 2:15 o'clock on the afternoon of the Phagan murder, and the affidavits of other state witnesses who repudiate their testimony.

Dewey Hewell's Story.

One of these witnesses is Dewey Hewell, the girl who is said to have been prepared to deliver testimony attacking Leo Frank's character, had she been cross-examined by the defense. She now says that she was coached in her story. Dalton repudiates his story. The Dr. Harris proof of the hair found on the lathe will also be contained in the motion.

The stories of a number of girls who say they were approached meaningfully by Jim Conley will be presented together with affidavits from witnesses who allege frame-ups on the part of the police and detectives who investigated the murder mystery.

WOMAN PULLS BRIDGE DOWN UPON HERSELF

In Tearing Away Plank She Loosens a Plank Which Crushes Her Skull.

Buchanan, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Mrs. J. E. Baldwin was almost instantly killed at Monroe's bridge, six miles northwest of Buchanan, this morning. Her home was near the bridge and she went underneath it for the purpose of getting a piece of plank. As she pulled the plank off a large girder of the bridge became unloosened and came crashing down upon her, striking her upon the head and rendering her unconscious. She lived only about thirty minutes after the accident.

The bridge was abandoned some two years ago, a new bridge taking its place a few yards down the river. Her head was mashed into a pulp by the large girder.

Her husband was in town at the time of the accident.

ELECTRICAL BOARD PUT UNDER ATTACK

City Electrician Is Busy Drafting Ordinance to Put Electrical Committee in Charge.

City Electrician R. C Turner is today drafting an ordinance which proposes wiping out the board of electrical control and putting the electric light committee in authority over all matters pertaining to the electrical department.

In a statement given out Wednesday, Turner explained that his department is the only one in the city government which is practically controlled by the heads of two other departments—Chief W. B. Cummings, of the fire department, and Chief R. M. Clayton, of the construction department.

Unfair, Says Turner.

"It is unfair to me and I imagine it is embarrassing to the heads of the two other departments to pass on my official conduct," Turner said. "My office is controlled by council, and it is no more than fair and just that a committee of council have absolute control. I am not prompted by any personal feeling against Chief Cummings or Chief Clayton, but merely in the interest of the department.

"Twice within the past six months my official conduct has been made the subject of complaint before the board, and on each occasion the heads of the fire and the construction departments have sat in meetings while the complaints were being threshed out. I am elected by the people, and not by the board of control, and my actions should be made accountable to the city council as representatives of the people."

Turner served notice on Monday during the investigation of the complaint of R. M. Carter, a contractor, that he will seek a repeal of the ordinances, and it is understood that there will be little

McClure Co. Pays $460,000 For Fifty-Foot Corner Lot At Whitehall and Hunter

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Corner Purchased for Record Price in South. Sale Does Not and Cannot Affect Big Department Store, Which Has a Long Lease.

ONE OF THE LARGEST REALTY TRANSACTIONS IN HISTORY OF CITY

Property, Which Brings $9,200 Per Front Foot, Is Sold by Boynton-Cole Co. to Realty Company Headed by Famous Ten-Cent Store Man.

One of the largest realty transactions in Atlanta's history was closed Wednesday when the C. W. McClure Realty company, of which C. W. McClure, the famous ten-cent store man, is president, and by far the largest stockholder, paid $460,000 for the property at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets now occupied by the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company.

The property faces 50 feet on Whitehall street and runs back 204 feet on Hunter street. The price paid is $9,200 per front foot, which is said to be the highest price ever paid for property in a southern city.

History of Corner.

The property was purchased by the McClure company from the Boynton-Cole Realty company, and is the original old Chamberlin-Johnson and Boynton corner, on which the dry goods business of that firm was established soon after the war. The Boynton-Cole Realty company is made up of the descendants of Mr. Boynton, of the old Chamberlin-Boynton partnership.

The ownership of the corner itself has nothing to do with the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose department store on the property, nor can the sale in anyway affect the business, as the company has a five-year lease on the property, which, incidentally, is but a small part of the establishment of the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company. What disposition of the property will be made at the end of the five years is not given out. Mr. McClure is now in Chattanooga.

Sale Made by Otis.

The deal was negotiated through R. Otis, of the firm of Otis & Holliday, and is one of the largest realty transactions in Atlanta in years.

C. W. McClure, president of the McClure Realty company, is one of Atlanta's strongest business men and most public-spirited citizens. Through tireless energy, enterprise, and wonderful foresight, he has accumulated a fortune here, and has established himself as one of the city's most effective workers in all public activities.

FINDS HIS WIFE AND THEN DISAPPEARS

Baltimore, Md., April 15.—(Special.) Judge W. W. Stark, of Commerce, Ga., who reported the disappearance of his wife from the Caswell hotel to Deputy Marshal Manning yesterday, located her later in union station. Judge Stark left the hotel last night without leaving word as to where he was going.

Mrs. Stark was brought here on Monday by her husband. She was suffering, according to a statement made by her husband to the police, from a slight mental trouble. Two physicians were called to examine her. She objected to the examination and threatened to end her life. While her husband left the room Mrs. Stark disappeared.

TROOPERS' VOLLEY STOPS TULSA RACE

Militia, Under Governor's Orders, Fires Over Heads of Riders as They Come Down Home Stretch.

Tulsa, Okla., April 15.—Disregarding a restraining order issued by Judge M. A. Breckenridge, of the supreme court, state troops today took possession of the Tulsa fair grounds, proclaimed under martial law by Governor Lee Cruce, and when an attempt was made to run the races carded for the afternoon a squad of militiamen fired a volley over the heads of the jockeys.

With this show of force and the declaration of Frank M. Canton, adjutant general, who was in personal command of the troops, that if another race was started the militiamen would fire to kill the horses, officials of the Tulsa Jockey club ordered the spring race meeting, which began Monday, abandoned, temporarily at least.

Today's action brought to culmination a contest as to the right of "bookmakers" to operate at the track. Monday open betting was permitted and Monday night application was filed by county officials before District Judge L. M. Poe asking that an injunction be issued prohibiting the placing of wagers. Tuesday, despite a restraining order issued by Judge Poe, report was made to the governor that violations of the state anti-gambling laws continued and last night the proclamation declaring the track under martial law was issued.

The next move will be the hearing of habeas corpus proceedings instituted in behalf of several men arrested by the state troops today. Application for the writs was filed before the court of criminal appeals in Oklahoma City late this afternoon. The date of hearing has not as yet been set.

Two companies of militia were employed in stopping the races today. First the stands were cleared of spectators and orders given formally for the discontinuance of the races. This order was disregarded and ten horses entered in the first race were sent to the post. The starter lost time in dropping the barrier and as the horses entered the stretch the militiamen fired over the heads of the jockeys.

J. M. Stewart, a private detective, who had refused to leave the grounds; a stable boy, who attempted to lead a horse from the track, and a spectator, who tried to force his way through the guard lines, were arrested.

TUG DRAGGED UNDER BY BARGE; TWO DROWN

New York, April 15.—The submersion of the vessel tug Boat, Aries, by being dragged under by the barge she was towing, caused the death, by drowning, of two of her crew today. There were nine persons on the tug. Seven were rescued by an oyster dredge. The barge, which was on a short hawser, was struck by a sharp wind and veered to one side, dragging the tug under water. The tug sank immediately.

President, in Emphatic Statement, Tells Mexican Ruler Time for Evasion Has Passed and That American Government Will Temporize No Longer.

HUERTA SUBMITS TO MEXICAN SENATE DEMAND FOR SALUTE TO "OLD GLORY"

Wilson Determined to Seize Tampico and Vera Cruz and Declare Pacific Blockade Unless Reparation Is Made for Insult to the United States.

Washington, April 15.—With a majority of the ships of the American navy under orders today to proceed immediately to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Mexico, the United States government gave Provisional President Huerta final warning that unless a salute were fired to the stars and stripes within a reasonable time to atone "for repeated offenses against the rights and dignity of the United States" serious eventualities would result.

It was learned tonight that General Huerta, when apprised by Charge O'Shaughnessy of the proposed demonstration of the Atlantic fleet, argued that the episode growing out of the arrest of American bluejackets at Tampico was a fit subject for arbitration at The Hague and that he would appoint a commission to investigate the incident.

President Wilson, in an emphatic reply, through Charge O'Shaughnessy, is understood to have told General Huerta that the time for delay and evasion had passed, and that the American government would temporize no longer. Administration officials hold that insults to the flag and questions of national honor are not subjects for arbitration.

HUERTA CALLS MEETING OF SENATE.

Huerta submitted to an executive session of the Mexican senate today the demands of the American government for a salute to the flag. No answer has been received by the Washington government late tonight of the result of the deliberations.

Some anti-American demonstrations at Vera Cruz and other points were reported.

Developments here today showed clearly that a determined and forceful policy had been adopted by the president, which would be backed up by congress and enforced if necessary by the army and navy.

CONGRESS READY TO BACK WILSON EVEN TO WARFARE

Republicans as Well as Democrats Are Indorsing His Aggressive Policy in Demanding Reparation.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS EXPECTED FROM WILSON

Nine-Tenths of Members of the Senate Will Stand Behind the Administration, Declares Hoke Smith.

Washington, April 15.—Congress stands behind the administration almost to a man in the aggressive policy to demand reparation for indignities the Huerta government has offered. In senate and house today the opinion was general that the president would be backed even to actual warfare.

Both administration and republican leaders expressed emphatic views that the United States is not sending the fleet to Tampico in a "bluff;" that it is sending it there to signalize the fact that at last American patience has been exhausted and reparation must be made, or the already war-scarred southern republic must suffer grave consequences.

Many hold that it is not necessary for the president to ask congress for authority to land armed forces in Mexico to seize the ports, but even these anticipate that, whatever the president and cabinet determine upon, congress will be informed in a message from the president and agree that the purpose set forth in such a message would be ungrudgingly indorsed.

Fantastic Fervor Aroused.

Though both houses proceeded in the regular course of legislative business today, it was apparent everywhere that the departure of the fleet had aroused patriotic fervor, and the Mexican situation was the absorbing topic in the cloak rooms and corridors.

Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, made a canvass of the senate relating to the dispatch of the fleet and the unyielding determination of the administration to command Mexico's respect of the American nation.

"I find," said Senator Smith late today, "that nine-tenths of the members of the senate will stand behind the administration. If the government is compelled by Huerta's defiance to land armed forces, I do not believe it would be necessary to have authorization from congress for such a move."

Members of the senate foreign relations committee considered the situation and concluded that the United States must enforce Admiral Mayo's demand that Mexico's federal forces salute the flag, no matter what the consequences may be.

It was pointed out by members of the committee that authority of congress to land armed forces in Mexico would constitute a virtual declaration

HOPING FOR PEACE, BUT READY FOR WAR.

While expressing earnest hope for peace, the president unequivocally told members of the senate and house committees on foreign affairs, that the offenses of the de facto government at Mexico City could no longer be tolerated, and that unless Huerta complied with the American demands, seizure of the customs houses at Tampico and Vera Cruz, and even the declaration of a Pacific blockade, shutting off commercial intercourse with the United States, would be fully justified by precedents in international law.

It was established that no aggressive act such as the landing of marines or the shelling of any towns or the seizure of any ports would be undertaken without authorization from congress after President Wilson had personally delivered a message on the subject.

STEP APPROVED BY BOTH PARTIES.

The nearly unanimous approval that republicans and democrats alike gave the administration's initial steps made it apparent, however, that should Rear Admiral Badger find it necessary, congress would back up the American navy without hesitation.

After orders had been issued today for a naval demonstration on the Pacific coast of Mexico as well as on the Atlantic, General Huerta was advised that the most powerful fighting force the American government ever has assembled on sea, carrying thousands of marines and bluejackets, is headed for the seaport towns of the southern republic ready to enforce to the extreme the American policy.

Upon General Huerta depends the next developments; he has about a week to decide the question, for the warships will not reach Mexican waters for several days. Meanwhile the United States notified all foreign governments of its attitude toward the Tampico incident and of the dispatch of the fleets to Mexican waters. This notification is in line with the previously announced policy of keeping foreign nations advised of all steps taken by the American government in the Mexican situation.

Official Statement.

A position of the administration as the president explained it to members of the senate and house committees on foreign affairs, and as it was substantially reviewed in the notes sent to all foreign governments, is described in a statement given out during the day, which was prepared by high administration officials. The statement follows:

"In discussions in official circles in Washington of the present Mexican situation the following points have been very much dwelt upon:

"It has been pointed out that in considering the present somewhat delicate situation in Mexico, the unpleasant incident at Tampico must not be thought of alone. For some time past the de facto government of Mexico has seemed to think mere apologies sufficient when the rights of American citizens or the dignity of the government of the United States were involved, and has apparently made no attempt at either reparation or the effective correction of the serious reflections of its civil and military officers.

"Immediately after the incident at Tampico an orderly from one of the ships of the United States in the harbor of Vera Cruz, who had been sent ashore to the postoffice for the ship's mail and who was in uniform and who had the official mail bag on his back, was arrested and put into jail by the local authorities. He was subsequently released and a nominal punishment inflicted upon the officer who had arrested him, but it was significant that an orderly from the fleet of the United States was picked out from the many persons constantly going ashore on various errands from the various ships in the harbor representing several nations.

Most Serious of All.

"Most serious of all, the officials in charge of the telegraph office at Mexico City presumed to withhold an official dispatch of the government of United States to its embassy at Mexico City until it should have been sent to the censor and his permission received to deliver it, and gave the dispatch into the hands of the charge d'affaires of the United States only upon his personal and emphatic demand, he having, in the meantime, learned through other channels that a dispatch had been sent him which he had not received.

"It cannot but strike any one who has watched the course of events in Mexico as significant that untoward incidents such as these have not occurred in any case where representatives of other governments were concerned, but only in dealings with representatives of the United States, and that there has been no occasion for other governments to call attention to such matters, or to ask for apologies.

"These repeated offenses against the rights and dignity of the United States, offenses not duplicated with regard to the representatives of other governments, have necessarily made the impression that the government of the United States was singled out for such manifestations of ill-will and contempt.

"The authorities of the state department feel confident that when the seriousness and the cumulative effect of these incidents is made evident to the government of Mexico, that government will see the propriety and the necessity of giving such evidence of its desire to repudiate and correct these things as will be not only satisfactory to the government of the United States, but also an evidence to the rest of the world as an entire change of attitude. There can be no loss to the dignity of the de facto government in Mexico in recognizing in the fullest the claims of a great sovereign government to the respect."

Arrested Under Flag.

More information describing the arrest of the American bluejackets at Tampico was revealed in the day's conferences at the white house and other government departments. It was learned authoritatively that some of the bluejackets from the Dolphin went ashore with Assistant Paymaster Copp to get gasoline supplies. All but two of the party were gone a Mexican officer approached and claimed the party should not have landed where it did, and ordered the two bluejackets from the whale boat which flew the Stars and Stripes, consul technically American soil, was regarded by Rear Admiral Mayo as requiring an apology, the punishment of the American officer and a salute of twenty-one guns to the colors.

The first two demands were complied with, but the local authorities protested against the extension of time, during which they consulted the Huerta government at Mexico City. Meanwhile Rear Admiral Mayo notified Washington of his course, and received the government's approval. General Huerta himself never agreed to any salute, but one of his under-secretaries did make inquiry of the American embassy whether a small salute to the Dolphin would be acceptable. This was rejected as insufficient under naval practice. The time limit for the firing of the salute was extended indefinitely by Rear Admiral Mayo after consultation with Washington, during which sharp representations were made to the Huerta government by the Atlantic and Pacific fleets dispatched to Mexican waters.

Studied Attempt to Offend.

The president told those who conferred with him that there had been no notification to the fleet of any prohibition against landing where the bluejackets docked, and while placing most emphasis on the Tampico incident, he reviewed other offenses, such as the arrest of an American orderly carrying mail at Vera Cruz, the attempt to exercise censorship and delay official messages and other episodes designed to show a studied attempt on the part of the Huerta government to offend the United States. But for the fact that no government had been recognized in Mexico, and that a state of anarchy existed, the president said he would have declared to members of congress he would have recalled Charge O'Shaughnessy promptly. No meaning was made by the president in his conferences of the movement of the army, and this was interpreted generally as the result of a desire to maintain a status quo on the Texas border, relations with the constitutionalists just across the line at present being very satisfactory.

Secretary Bryan during the day announced that an amicable understanding had been reached with General Carranza concerning representations about the safety of all foreigners. This point had caused a strain following the refusal of Carranza to furnish information to the United States about the execution of William O. Benton, a British subject.

Understanding With Carranza.

The American government now has been informed that inquiries about foreigners, if made at the specific request of foreign governments, will be received by General Carranza, from the United States, and Secretary Bryan said he expected no further question to be raised on this point. He added that no formal recognition was involved in this arrangement.

Efforts will be continued, the secretary remarked, to obtain a modification of the proceedings urged by the constitutionalists toward the Spaniards, but relations with the constitutionalists generally were pronounced satisfactory. News of Villa's victory at San Pedro caused much interest at the state department, but official confirmation had not been received.

Incidents of the day—the busy activity at the state, war and navy departments and the white house, the conferences between the president and members of congress, and Secretary Bryan, who is ill and had planned to go to Florida, is staying here against his physician's orders. Everywhere a spirit of serious tension was manifest.

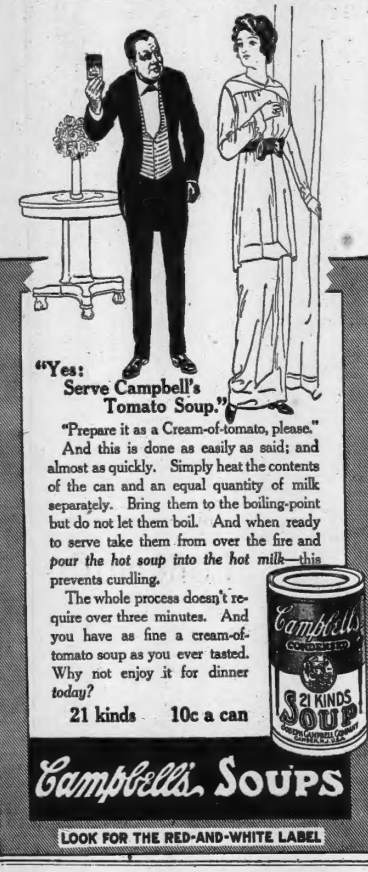

Transport is Chartered.

"The army is prepared," said Secretary Garrison, "but has not been ordered to cross the Mexican border or to go to any Mexican port."

Incidentally the chartering of the Ward line Esperanza at Vera Cruz with orders to proceed to Galveston, where four army transports and thousands of troops are located, is understood to be only one of the measures of preparation being taken for the transportation of troops if necessary.

As evidencing the serious purposes of the Washington government, Representative Cooper, ranking republican member of the house foreign affairs committee, said after his conference with the president:

"The president was firm in expressing his views and seemed convinced that the situation had become so aggravated that delay might become dangerous. He pointed out that now was the time to let the world know the United States had endured the conditions and repeated insults in Mexico as long as it could in justification to itself. The president explained that the demands on Mexico were strictly in accord with precedents in case of unlawful arrest and that he hoped the customary reparation would be promptly forthcoming as it ought to be."

"Prepare it as a Cream-of-tomato, please."

And this is done as easily as said; and almost as quickly. Simply heat the contents of the can and an equal quantity of milk separately. Bring them to the boiling-point but do not let them boil. And when ready to serve take them from over the fire and pour the hot soup into the hot milk—this prevents curdling.

The whole process doesn't require over three minutes. And you have as fine a cream-of-tomato soup as you ever tasted. Why not enjoy it for dinner today?

Nine American Warships Start From Hampton Roads

Norfolk, Va., April 15.—Bound to Mexico to force Huerta to salute the Stars and Stripes, nine American warships steamed out of Hampton Roads at noon today. Tonight they are sixty-four miles below Cape Henry in a dense fog, and with a northeast storm approaching. The ships are battleships Arkansas, New Hampshire and Vermont, New Jersey, the dispatch boat Yankton, the collier Lebanon and the naval tugs Patuxent, Sonoma and Patapsco. Every one of them has their full supply of ammunition and provisions enough to last three months. The tugs are equipped with three-inch rapid-firing guns, and carry a number of rifles, pistols and small arms ammunition.

Prior to the departure of the ships from Hampton Roads, the officers and many of the men went ashore at Old Point to bid goodbye to friends. There were many touching scenes enacted on the government pier. It reminded some of the departure of the Spanish-American war and the famous round-the-world trip the fleet took during the Roosevelt administration.

The auxiliary, Vestal, which was to have gone with the fleet, was at the last moment ordered to remain behind with the torpedo boats Cummings, Parker, Benham, Cassin and Truxtun. These craft were also ready to sail, but it was announced tonight at the office of the commandant of the Norfolk navy yard that they will engage in important maneuvers and may not go to Mexico.

Rear Admiral Badger declined to discuss the Mexican situation. He said the Atlantic fleet was in good condition and that it would be ready to carry out any service required of it. "We do not know what we will be called upon to do," he said, "but we are ready."

Rear Admiral Fiske, who left the Arkansas a few minutes before she got under way, also declined to talk. He returned to Old Point and it was said that he would proceed to Washington tonight.

Until the weather clears the fleet will obtain a speed of ten knots an hour. After that they are expected to average fifteen knots.

They expect to reach Mexico in six and a half days.

FEDERALS ARE POUNDED BETWEEN TWO FORCES

Gen. Villa Receives Mysterious Aid From Totally Unexpected Quarter.

Chihuahua, Mexico, April 15.—Federals defeated at San Pedro de las Colonias are being pounded to pieces between two forces of rebels, according to a telegram received today by General Carranza from General Villa.

Villa received aid from a totally unexpected quarter, supposed at the time the telegram was filed to be the forces of General Pablo Gonzales, commander of the department of the east, who has been operating in the state of Tamaulipas, of which Tampico is the principal seaport, and Nuevo Leon, of which Monterey is the largest city.

The defeated federals, loaded on trains and said to number 8,000, found the track torn up twenty miles east of San Pedro, according to federal prisoners who brought word also that they had been attacked by a force that came from the east.

As Villa himself had not molested the track, he attributed this piece of work to the mysterious reinforcements.

Learning that this new ally was in position to retard if not cut off further retreat to the east, General Villa took personal command of his own troops, intending to administer the final blow which would eliminate the enemy in the north.

SAY HUERTA WOULD START WAR WITH U. S. TO SAVE HIMSELF

El Paso, Texas, April 15.—General Villa and his latest victory at San Pedro were virtually lost sight of among the fugitives and refugees here in Juaes today in the intense interest felt over developments of the Tampico incident. General Carranza, at Chihuahua, was kept fully informed of the orders to the fleet and the attitude of Washington, but no statement of the position he would assume should the Americans take Tampico and Vera Cruz was forthcoming.

Among officials the word went round not to comment on the situation, but it was learned from the lips of one of Carranza's closest advisers that Carranza views the whole situation as one of the greatest gravity to Mexico as a whole.

Robert V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of the constitutionalists in El Paso, said for publication that all rebel factions are convinced that Huerta would not hesitate to plunge the whole country into a foreign war when he feels his power crumbling, thinking to save himself by uniting the country against an alien enemy.

GERMAN SAILORS HIT BY MEXICAN BULLETS

Tampa, Fla., April 15.—With two wounded sailors on board, the German tank steamer Osage, from Tampico, put in quarters here today. Stray bullets fired in the fighting between the Mexican federals and rebels at Tampico struck the sailors on the ship.

The Osage had a number of bullet holes in its superstructure. Captain De-Reese reported that the fighting had been heavy ten days ago in the oil district where his ship was docked. One of the sailors was wounded in the hand and one side while the other was struck by bullets in one shoulder and in one leg.

The British steamship Trinidadian, with several bullet marks on its hull, also arrived today from Tampico.

Wireless From Tampico.

Key West, Fla., April 15.—Several messages from the United States battleships now off Tampico, were received at the government wireless station here today and forwarded to Washington. Their contents are unknown.

FEDERAL ARMIES BEATEN BY VILLA

Rebel Leader Defeats Four Generals in Taking Town East of Torreon Against Great Odds.

Juarez, Mexico, April 15.—Villa's rebels have defeated the united federal armies of General Velasco, General Maas, General Hidalgo and General de Moure at San Pedras de Los Colonias, 40 miles east of Torreon, according to advices last night to General Carranza at Chihuahua from General Villa at the front.

In the face of vicious fire from the federals General Villa repeatedly hurled his numerically inferior forces at the government front for six days of terrific fighting. That Villa's tenacious fighting finally succeeded in driving the defeated federals from the city to which they had applied the torch before evacuating was paid for dearly, was gathered from reports received here. General Villa, in his official report to his chief, ended with the remark:

Many Rebels Wounded.

"My only regret is that 500 of my troops were wounded in today's (Monday) assault. I hope that the great sacrifice of human blood will be for the welfare of our country."

It was argued that if 500 of General Villa's soldiers were incapacitated in this one charge the previous fighting must have been heavy and the loss of life greater even than that at Torreon. Reports stated the federals lost 5,500 killed, wounded and prisoners. Villa reported 700 prisoners, and the casualty of battle in the federals, therefore, is estimated at above 2,500.

The success of General Villa and his men in driving back the forces which had reinforced the retreating Torreon garrison under command of the federal General Velasco was regarded here as the final struggle for the complete possession of Torreon and the hewing of a way through the canon country toward Mexico City.

Rebels Are Exultant.

Rebel officials and sympathisers were exultant today when news of the capture of San Pedro was apparently confirmed.

Federal sympathisers in El Paso, however, were silent in their hope that Villa would be seriously checked at Bustillo or some other stronghold between Torreon and Mexico City.

Villa's army of not more than 12,000 men was pitted against approximately 15,000 in the forts at San Pedro.

Again we wish to state that "tankage" is a by-product of the packing houses. Portions of the animal matters that cannot be used for better purposes are put into a tank, heated to a temperature that kills all germs, then the fat or grease is removed, the remainder of the material dried and ground and sold as tankage. This is a valuable ingredient in many mixed feeds, but in its complete form it should be fed only with feeds rich in carbohydrates, like corn, molasses, sweet potatoes, etc., and in small quantities. One part of tankage by weight to four to ten parts of corn is the proper proportion.—The Progressive Farmer.

HILLYER IS INDORSED AS REGIONAL DIRECTOR

Frominent Southern Bankers in Attendance Upon the Macon Meeting.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Fifty-five bankers attended the meeting of group 5, of the Georgia Bankers' association, here today in addition to a party of visiting bankers from various portions of the country, including three of the regional bank cities, Atlanta, Richmond and New York.

The group gave its indorsement to L. P. Hillyer, vice president of the American National bank, of Macon, as one of the directors of the new regional bank at Atlanta. Mr. Hillyer has already been indorsed by group 1, in session at Brunswick last Tuesday.

Just before adjournment today the group elected T. R. Turner, of Haddocks, chairman, and Flynn R. Nisbet, of Macon, secretary.

Probably the feature of the meeting today was the address of R. T. Parsons, president of the Farmers' bank, of Forsyth, on "Necessity of New Banking Laws in Georgia." He advocated a number of amendments to the code of laws of the state and appealed to the bankers to stand by him and assist in getting the proposed amendments through the legislature.

Require $25,000 Capital.

One of his proposed amendments is a law requiring that a bank have a paid in capital of $25,000 before a charter can be issued by the state. He declared many banks are chartered on a small sum in cash and the balance notes.

Another requirement Mr. Persons would have is to make banking corporations tell the truth. "What right has a man to advertise on big stationery and in the newspapers that he has an 'authorized capital of $200,000,' when they have only $50,000 paid in. Such a custom is a method of practicing deception."

Still another suggestion he makes is that the Georgia bankers take steps to have the laws so amended that instead of having a 25 per cent reserve on deposit, as required in the Georgia law, they be permitted to have a 12 per cent reserve on deposit as provided in the new currency bill.

He also asked the bankers to indorse the proposed amendment allowing minors to deposit money in their own names and check it out as they desire. Under the present law the parents may follow the children to the bank and check the money out.

Other addresses made before the group were by L. P. Hillyer, of Macon; John N. King, of Rochelle; Joseph A. McCord, of Atlanta; F. S. Etheridge, of Jackson, and A. F. Hilton, of Dublin.

"TAINT allus outward signs thet marks th' gentleman. I used t' know a feller thet took his hat off ever' time he got in a elevator whar ther wuz ladies. But he never 'lowed his wife shu'd hev more'n fifty cents at once.

Over Thousand Workers in Attendance at Milledgeville Convention — Atlantans on Program.

Milledgeville, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—With between 800 and 1,000 delegates present from every county in the state the Georgia Sunday School association today, in annual convention assembled here, made great progress in the development of the Sunday school work in Georgia.

Atlanta people who were prominent in the program today were Dr. Marion McH. Hall, superintendent of the North Avenue Presbyterian school, who conducted the sunrise prayer service and made other addresses during the run of the day; Dr. Joseph Broughton, president of the state association; J. V. Wellborn, treasurer of the state association; Miss Daisy MacGee, superintendent of the state association elementary department; Mrs. James D. Allen, superintendent of the secondary department of the state association; D. W. Sims, general secretary of the state association; Miss Flora DaVis, assistant secretary of the state association; Rev. Henry B. Mays, pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church; Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian church, and Mrs. Hugh M. Lokey.

More delegates to the convention have come to Milledgeville than were expected, and the city is taxed to care for all who have come. The committee on arrangements, under the chairmanship of Colonel John A. Sibley, had secured homes for 750 visitors, but during today at least a hundred more than that number have come in, necessitating the use of the armory for lodging them. This afternoon a special train load of Atlanta Sunday school teachers is expected, which will make Fulton county's delegation the largest of any one county in the entire convention. Hancock county is represented by a large delegation, in which is a body of boy scouts, led by Colonel John D. Walker.

Big Fund Pledged.

The most enthusing feature of today's deliberations occurred tonight, when the executive committee made their report, and asked for voluntary pledges from the various counties for financial support of the state association work during the next twelve months. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed during the hour, when counties vied with each other in their eagerness to support the great work being done by the interdenominational body of Sunday school workers. Within an hour's time the sum of $50,000 was pledged, Fulton county taking the leading part, as it did last year. Other counties that took heavy pledges were Baldwin, Richmond, Bibb, Floyd, Hall and Chatham.

A new executive committee was elected, in which every evangelical denomination in the state has representation. The state association is a co-operative effort on the part of all the evangelical denominations for holding every white Sunday school in the entire state. For this reason 34 of the leading Christian business men of Georgia were chosen for membership on this committee. In the committee are 15 Baptists, 14 Methodists, 10 Presbyterians, with the remainder of the body made up of men from the smaller denominations.

Morning Session.

Hon. Frank L. Mallary, of Macon, presided over the morning session of the convention today. Besides the reports of the various state officers at the forenoon session, Dr. Joseph Broughton, state president, made an address on the state-wide work of the Sunday School association. Colonel John D. Walker, of Sparta, addressed the convention on the subject of "The Sunday School and the Boy Scout Movement." Rev. Henry B. Mays spoke of "The Object of the Sunday School," and Dr. L. O. Bricker discussed "Half an Hour With the Bible."

At noon all the superintendents of Sunday schools in attendance gathered for a superintendents' luncheon and conference, where an hour was spent in studying and discussing the many problems of the work that confront superintendents. D. McHull spoke of "The Superintendent's Work Between Sundays," while W. M. Wilcox, of Elberton, spoke of "The Superintendent's Work on Sunday." C. Evans, of Warrenton, told of "How the Attendance in His School Was Increased From 80 to 400 in a Year's Time."

The Sunday school teachers also gathered for a luncheon and conference at noon. During the teachers' conference, Mrs. Aubry Mote, of Roswell, spoke of "The Efficient Teacher Between Sundays," while Erwin Sibley, of Milledgeville, discussed "The Efficient Teacher on Sundays," and E. E. French, of Nashville, spoke of "The Efficient Teacher's Equipment."

In the afternoon hours the entire convention body divided into three separate conferences for the study of adult, secondary and elementary work. Hon. Sam Tate, of Tate, presided over the adult conference. Miss Flora Davis, of Atlanta, discussed the subject "How to Organize an Adult Class." Mrs. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, spoke of "How to Increase the Membership of a Class," while Rev. W. L. Cutts, of Canton, spoke of "How to Direct the Activities of the Class." Dr. L. O. Bricker, of Atlanta, discussed "How to Teach an Adult Bible Class."

Secondary Division.

Rev. Henry B. Mays, of Atlanta, presided over the secondary division conference and Mrs. James D. Allen, of Gibb, made an address on the subject "Teen Age Characteristics." Rev. D. T. Smith, of Decatur, spoke of the "Teen Age Characteristics of the Boy." A. Brown, of Chicago, spoke of "Teen Age Organizations" and H. H. Harris discussed "Teen Age Activities."

Mrs. Len C. Baldwin, of Marietta, presided over the elementary division conference. Miss Irene Glenn, of Macon, gave a demonstration of how beginners and primaries are handled in the Macon schools. Miss Ruby Sutles, of Red Oak, gave a demonstration of how a small country Sunday school teaches a class of juniors. Mrs. Hugh M. Lokey, of Atlanta, spoke of "What Graded Lessons Mean to the Elementary Grades."

Late in the afternoon a special thirty minutes' men's meeting was held, in which D. W. Sims, V. Wellborn, Joseph Broughton, W. A. Brown and F. L. Mallary made addresses.

On the program for the night service were Asa G. Candler and W. S. Witham, of Atlanta. Mr. Candler conducted the devotional exercises at the beginning of the session and made a short talk. Mr. Witham made an address on the subject "The Sunday School Up-to-Date and Dated Ahead."

Specially attractive features of the convention this year is the music, as managed by E. O. Excell, of Chicago, assisted by his pianist, Alvin W. Roper, of Winona Lake, Ind. Mr. Excell is recognized as one of the world's best leaders of convention music.

Today's Session.

The sessions of Thursday will be devoted exclusively to the work of the county associations. The various county presidents will be introduced and many of them will make talks relating the successes of their county organizations. A. S. Caldwell, of Atlanta, president of the Fulton County association, is the leading speaker among the county presidents who will make talks tomorrow. Others who are scheduled for addresses are Colonel Hammond Johnson, of Gainesville, and W. L. Abbott, of Acworth.

Banners have been prepared for the counties reaching the banner standard, and these will be presented to the representatives of such counties tomorrow. Counties that have reached the banner standard of perfection and to be presented with banners tomorrow are Fulton, Baldwin, Campbell, Carroll, Catoosa, Clarke, Cobb, Dodge, Elbert, Floyd, Habersham, Hancock, Murray, Jeff Davis, Newton, Spalding and Ware.

IF BLADDER OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Try the Favorite Recipe of Old Folks—Buchu and Juniper.

Everyone knows that Buchu and Juniper properly compounded is the best medicine for weak kidneys or bladder. When the urine becomes cloudy, the bladder irritated; when you have an unusual flow of urine, scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage from the bladder—your head and back aches—your ankles or eyelids are swollen, spots before the eyes, leg cramps, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and despondency, every spell, or if weather is bad you have rheumatism, try the following: Get from any reliable druggist a 14-ox. bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Take a spoonful after meals. Drink plenty of water. Drop the use of sugar and sweets. In a day or two your kidneys will act fine and natural. Stuart's Buchu mixed with Juniper has been used for years to clean out impurities from the kidneys and bladder, also to neutralize the uric acid in the blood and urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending all kidney and bladder weakness and curing Diabetes. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper is a fine kidney and bladder tonic after which has helped thousands of sufferers when most every other medicine failed to help or cure.

Tag Day in Atlanta This Year Will Be Held May 7

The management of the Sheltering Arms society have announced that "Tag Day" in Atlanta this year will be May 7, and they urge that Atlanta citizens-at-large be generous in their contribution. The philanthropy represented in the Sheltering Arms society has broadened to that extent when more facilities are necessary to meet the needs, and the appeal for this is made through Tag Day.

The institution known as the Sheltering Arms is dear to all public-spirited Atlantans. It was one of the first organized movements here to aid a large industrious element, which is incident to Atlanta's 500 or more industries, employing large numbers of people.

In nearly every center of these industrial communities there has been established what is called the "day nursery," with the kindergarten annex. This enables the mothers who work all day out of the home, to send their younger children under school age where they will be properly cared for, nourished at the right time, given medical aid and kept off the streets. When they are old enough they are given kindergarten training.

In connection with the central day nursery there has been maintained classes for girls in domestic science, these arranged after school hours, and similar instruction for the boys.

The different day nurseries take care of from 200 to 250 children each day, and there are employed women specialists in the care and instruction of them.

The work of the Sheltering Arms frequently extends to the home of the child, especially in case of illness, and recently in the case of an epidemic of measles the Sheltering Arms, the Order of Old-Fashioned Women, and the Associated Charities had to combine their energies to look after the children, this incident giving rise to the general demand for a contagious ward at the Grady hospital.

The only mode of securing the general fund necessary, adopted by the Sheltering Arms society, is through "Tag Day." It has been for a number of years understood that the privilege of Tag Day was accorded to this commendable work, and there has been no infringement on the unwritten right.

Plans will be formulated at a general meeting today for the making of Tag Day this year, the most successful in the city's history.

Mrs. W. S. Elkin is president of the Sheltering Arms society.

Stock and Display Cabinet Interests Local Merchants

Atlanta merchants have become interested in a stock and display cabinet invented by Sigmund Weil and G. G. Waters, which was recently patented, and which will soon be put on the market.

The device is said by experts to be one of the most needed inventions in the modern sales room. It is a cabinet, which stands three feet in height and two or more feet in width and revolves upon a roller caster base.

Each of the four sides of the cabinet contain display cases with glass fronts, and a fifth display case is upon the top similar to the present type of show case. The device is convertible, and is constructed with a view to saving space, time and labor.

It contains both display goods and stock material. The four doors—which contain the display cases—open by friction locks and reveal the inner stock compartments. The cabinet is so constructed that any kind of wares may be displayed and stored.

Mr. Weil, one of the co-inventors, is a prominent merchant of Atlanta, and is an ex-associate of the firm of Eiseman & Weil, with which he was connected for twenty years. The patent is issued jointly to him and Mr. Waters, who is also well known. An operating model of the invention is on display in the offices of Mr. Weil in the Atlanta National Bank building.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF UNIVERSITY CADETS

Athens, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—On Saturday the cadet corps of the University of Georgia will have its annual inspection, beginning at 8:45 in the morning and lasting through the afternoon's dress parade.

The inspection is to be of more than usual import, for on the result will depend the rank which the University of Georgia will take among the military institutes of the United States. The entire grading of military colleges has been rearranged and the inspection this year will fix the positions of the 200 such institutions for a long period in future.

MAYOR HAS VETOED RESOLUTION TO SELL OLD LIGHTING PLANT

Mayor Woodward yesterday vetoed the resolution providing for the sale of the old Edgewood lighting plant to J. Farmer for $4,500, because an offer of $5,000 has been made by the Georgia Cotton Oil company for the property. Mayor Woodward claims that the offer is nearer the value of the plant than the price council was asked to dispose of the property for.

The machinery was dismantled some time ago, and because the property cannot be used by the city, Councilman C. W. Smith set about to get a good price for the land. At the last meeting of council he reported that the city could sell the land for $4,500, and the proper resolutions were drawn up.

FAR-FAMED CARUSO WILL SING IN THREE OPERAS

Gadski Will Also Sing Three Nights and Geraldine Farrar Twice.

The final confirmation of the personnel of the various casts for the Metropolitan grand opera in Atlanta received Wednesday by Ben Lee Crew, of the Music Festival association program committee, shows that Atlanta will get, in every instance, the exact cast outlined in this year's prospectus, and that the combination of stars this year will be the heaviest and most brilliant of any opera season Atlanta has had.

Monday night, Thursday matinee and Saturday night; and Mme. Gadski is also going to sing three times, Tuesday matinee, Thursday matinee and Saturday night. Farrar will sing twice, on Monday night and Friday night, Frieda Hempel, Margarete Ober, Anna Case, Amato, Gilly, Scotti and other stars announced in the prospectus will actually be here. There hasn't been a single illness or any other providential hindrance to stand in the way, and with opera now less than two weeks off, the prospects are bright for a season that will eclipse all past years in brilliancy.

The sale of tickets for single performances is being increased by several thousand dollars every day.

MRS. GODBEE DENIED CHANCE FOR FREEDOM

Woman Convicted of Double Murder at Millen Must Serve Life Sentence.

The supreme court on Wednesday handed down a decision denying a new trial to Mrs. Edna Godbee, who, on August 18, shot down and killed her divorced husband and his son on the streets of Millen. This means that Mrs. Godbee must serve a life term in the penitentiary.

The bill of exceptions was a lengthy one. It was averred that Judge Hammond erred when he declined to grant a continuance of the trial. Defense had shown that the attorneys for Mrs. Godbee could not reach Millen in time to secure certain additional evidence. It was further alleged that A. L. Franklin, solicitor of the Augusta circuit, should have tried the case instead of R. Lee Moore, solicitor general of the middle Georgia circuit. Solicitor Moore served under an act of 1913 which transferred Jenkins county from the middle Georgia to the Augusta circuit. The defense claimed that this act violated the state constitution which stipulates that there shall be a solicitor general in each judicial circuit.

The supreme court upholds the ruling of Judge Hammond and states that the duties of solicitor were legally discharged by Mr. Moore.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

As the flower of the American navy sails down to the Mexican coast and as the constitutionalists on the north press southward toward Mexico City, these contingencies stand out as presenting the Mexican situation:

Huerta knows the end is inevitable and fast approaching—that the coils are tightening; that he is threatened with revolt from the diminishing territory he now holds, and with the steady encroachments of the Carranzists from the north.

Knowing the finish to be near, he should prefer that it come through the United States rather than through a revolt in his own citadel or through the triumph of his hated antagonists to the north, the victorious Carranza and the successful Villa, both bitter personal foes.

If the United States should be driven to intervention the scope of our military operations will no doubt be restricted to the territory dominated by Huerta, so long as the constitutionalist attitude on the north permitted us to observe this restriction.

These premises being true, and they are reasonable, the constitutionalists, being freed of menace from Huerta and federal Mexico on the south, will stand aside to watch Huerta's finish, proceeding to concentrate their energies toward putting their house in order, demonstrating to the world their capacity or their incapacity for sane government.

Conceding the success of that demonstration, the United States and the rest of the world would unite in recognizing a de facto government, at least in the constitutionalist section of Mexico. Then the constitutionalists, nourished by outside supplies and taught by experience, would gradually broaden their jurisdiction and functions to the southward, until the whole of Mexico should pass into their hands.

If these hypotheses should prove sound, intervention may develop into a real boon to the constitutionalists, thus clarifying the whole situation and justifying the president's policy to date.

ATLANTA AND COLUMBIA.

The chamber of commerce and business men generally of Columbia, S. C., are actively and commendably engaged in an effort to get through sleeping car facilities between Columbia and Atlanta via the Southern and the Georgia railroads. In modern travel the test is less mere distance than it is facilities and comfort. In this sense it is easier to reach Washington from Columbia or, for that matter, Washington from Atlanta, counting through cars and convenience in travel, than it is to reach Atlanta from Columbia and vice versa. Such contradictions should not exist, when it is remembered that only approximately 300 miles separate the two cities.

Under changed schedules recently argued before the Georgia railroad commission, with every chance of their being authorised, through sleeping car connections between Atlanta and Columbia ought to be easily assured. A train will, under the new schedule, leave Atlanta over the Georgia at 8:30 p. m., allowing the business man to take supper in Atlanta and get breakfast in Charleston, and vice versa. There is no good reason why another through sleeper should not be placed on this same train making connection at Augusta with the Southern for Columbia, arriving in the South Carolina capital about the same time as in Charleston, with the same schedule coming west. As it is now, and with no alternative arrangement provided, the only accommodations consist in changing cars at Augusta or Spartanburg in the trip either to or from Atlanta. Such a service is not, of course, a through service at all in the business man's acceptation of the term.

The Atlanta and West Point railroad has signified willingness to handle such a through sleeper from Atlanta to Columbia and return, if the Southern, as part of the route, agrees. The officials of that road believe the New Orleans and southwestern business will justify the schedule.

It is to be hoped the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will actively interest itself in the matter. It will be of direct benefit to Atlanta to be connected by through sleeping car service with the South Carolina capital and vice versa. Already Atlanta has through sleeping car connection with the capitals of other nearby states, Montgomery, Nashville, and Raleigh, and a direct service to Tallahassee is contemplated. The exception of Columbia is hurtful both to Atlanta and Columbia and to the railroads involved. Fortunately, the pending schedule changes afford an opportunity for including Columbia in the between-capitals service with a minimum of rearrangement.

A PIONEER WITH A "PUNCH."

J. O. Booton, of Marshallville, Ga., is a pioneer with ideas and the "punch" to capitalize them. The other day The Constitution showed the significance of Mr. Booton's achievement in being the "pioneer mail order farmer of Georgia." He ran a series of advertisements in The Constitution offering fresh asparagus by parcel post or express. So far as our knowledge goes, he is the first producer in the state to avail himself of the combination of these quick transportation agencies and the advertising columns to broaden a market for his wares. That his venture is proving practical and abundantly successful is indicated in a letter from him, published elsewhere. He says he finds he has tapped an almost magical stream of revenue, and that he expects forthwith to broaden the bill of fare he will offer city people through city newspapers.

It will not be long, as Mr. Booton says, before other small and large truck growers and farmers follow the trail he has blazed. There is hardly a farm within quick shipping radius of Atlanta that cannot raise a surplus of vegetables and poultry products for city sale. The city consumer is anxious to make connection with fresh goods from the country, the ever-present desire in the mind of the enterprising housewife. The advertising columns of the daily newspaper of large rural and city circulation is the connecting link.

Mr. Booton has made distinct history as the pioneer in an industry destined to attain large proportions in this and every other state.

HARD PRESSED.

Referring to recent congressional elections, The Cincinnati Enquirer says:

> The repeal proposition of President Wilson has been shot full of holes by the democrats of Alabama, Massachusetts and New Jersey.
> If our contemporary is no more correct in its statements as to Massachusetts and New Jersey than with regard to Alabama, its argument perishes of sheer collapse.
> Alabama nominated two senators last week. One of them, Mr. Underwood, will not take his seat until next March. He will not, therefore, have a vote on the question of free tolls. The other senator-designate, Captain Frank White, nominated to fill the seat vacated by the death of Senator Johnston, takes his seat as soon as he can constitutionally qualify. He will have a vote on the tolls issue and he declares himself unequivocally behind the president's program to repeal the free tolls graft.
> The state of Alabama, in view of these facts, voted overwhelmingly to sustain the president's tolls policy, for even most of the free toll repeal newspapers were for Underwood, just as The Constitution was.
> The coastwise subsidists are hard pressed for arguments.
> The attempted "gerrymandering" of public sentiment is about as transparent as the attempt to mask an outright subsidy with the name of "patriotism."

MEN WHO KEEP GEORGIA WELL.

By a fitting coincidence, the annual convention of the Medical Association of Georgia meets in Atlanta while the public memory is still fresh from the annual gathering of state, county and municipal health officials.

In the tasks of fighting disease and lowering the death rate the physician and the health officer are logically partners.

One supplements the functions of the other and either one is indispensable in the equation of community health.

The health expert is a comparatively recent evolution.

Forty or fifty years ago our knowledge of the science of sanitation was tentative and empirical.

Today we realize that the trained sanitarian holds life or death in his hands equally with the physician; his conquests, in cooperation with the doctor, in the tuberculosis, typhoid, malaria, book-worm and other fields have been among the most brilliant achievements of the interlocking nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

The science of medicine has also undergone a radical transformation within the past two generations.

The doctor of today is vastly better equipped than the ante-bellum doctor. His work is specialized. His sense of individual and social obligation becomes keener. His ethics grow broader and more sensible, despite the lingering medievalists.

The sanitarians and the physicians of Georgia are a singularly conscientious and active set of men, whether their activities be of a public or a quasi-public nature. Under their guidance, city, county and state daily give more intelligent attention to the science of human conservation. It is appropriate that they should meet this year in Atlanta, a city whose energies are now being concentrated upon improving her health facilities, in the enlarging of Grady hospital and the enactment and application of adequate sanitary laws for every class of city life.

M'CORD OUTLINES PLAN AND OPERATION OF THE REGIONAL BANK SYSTEM

The Constitution is indebted to Joseph A. McCord, vice president of the Third National bank of Atlanta, for the following compact and comprehensible summary of the regional bank idea and operation. Hotels before and after Atlanta's designation as the location for a regional bank. The Constitution has been deluged with inquiries for an explanation of the operations of the bank and the system in plain language. We asked Mr. McCord, as an expert, to answer these requests in one article. Mr. McCord was a member of the currency committee of the American Bankers' association, which has for years been striving for currency reform. He represented that committee in hearings before house and senate committees on the currency issue. While the new law does not exactly trail the bill as formulated by Mr. McCord's committee, its essentials comprise an evolution of that bill.

McCord's Statement.

Editor Constitution: At your request and in answer to numerous questions asked me, I take this method of giving answers as to the federal reserve bank which is to be located in Atlanta.

First. What is a regional bank?

A regional bank is one of twelve designated under the federal reserve act located in a region or part of the United States; hence the term, regional bank. Each bank will be issued capital in the bill and which was afterwards termed a federal reserve bank, the bank taking the name of the city designated in the location of the bank in title, the sixth, district will be known as the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Second. What is the purpose in creating such banks?

The purpose of these banks is to mobilize the legal reserves of the banks in each district in order to prevent panics and to create a staple money market for the protection of the people, so that the products of the farmers, the merchants and investors will not be subject to violent changes in credits and hoarding of actual money as has been in the past, and which often come by withdrawal of the reserve money from the financial centers which, in turn, forces a reduction of credits and calling in of loans at a time when they are serving the purpose of trade and commerce.

Reserve money is gold, or its equivalent, such as gold certificates, silver certificates and government notes, commonly known as "greenbacks."

The capital of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta at the start will be $4,700,000, and is furnished by all the national banks in this district, and such state banks as join the system which will be designated member banks; each bank will subscribe 6 per cent of its own capital and surplus, and will pay in one-half or 3 per cent when the bank starts. In addition to this it will deposit in the reserve bank part of the legal reserve, say 5 per cent of its deposits. From these two sources the federal reserve bank will get its capital and deposits on which to transact business. The United States government does not furnish any capital to these banks.

How Managed.

The secretary of the treasury will deposit in the reserve banks the government deposits. The federal reserve act gives him the right to deposit such funds and to one or more of the federal reserve banks, and to change them when and where he thinks such deposits are most needed to serve the movement of crops and business in general.

Third. How and by whom will the reserve bank be managed?

The member banks in the district or region will name one of their directors as an elector, the banks will be divided into three parts or sections; all of the electors in each given section will elect one Class A and one Class B director for the reserve bank; thus there will be three directors of Class A and three directors of Class B.

A Class A director must be a director or stockholder in any member bank.

A Class B director must be engaged in either commercial, industrial or agricultural pursuit, may hold stock in any bank, but cannot be an officer, director or otherwise employed by a bank.

In addition to these, three directors known as Class C will be named by the federal reserve board at Washington; this class cannot be an officer or otherwise employed by any bank and cannot hold stock in any bank, and one of these must be an experienced banker, and all of these Class C directors shall be enrolled in the district for two years next preceding their appointment. One of Class C or government director shall be chairman of the board of directors and financial agent for the government.

These nine (9) directors will manage the bank, employ the clerks, arrange for suitable banking rooms, etc.—the government will not build or furnish the banking house.

Fourth. How many people will be employed in the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta?

This question cannot be answered in advance, because we have no precedent and do not know to what extent the bank will be used by the member banks. If the clearing of checks is not attempted at first the force will be small, say fifteen to twenty-five people. If the clearing house is run it will probably take 150 to 200 people, and maybe more.

Fifth. How will the bank make its money to cover expenses and dividend of 6 per cent on its capital?

The bank can discount for and on the indorsement of its member banks such notes as its customers may offer that are eligible for discount. These notes must not have longer than 90 days to run from the date discounted, except a certain proportion may have six months to run.

A note given for real estate is not acceptable.

A note given for or secured by stocks or bonds is not acceptable, but a note given for merchandise, manufactured goods or farm products or to be used for either of these purposes is eligible for discount. The discount rate is named at Washington and fluctuates from day to day or week to week, and this rate is given to each member bank, large or small. We will say, for illustration, that it is 4 per cent per annum.

The Reserve Bank of Atlanta will have paid in capital for about $3,000,000, and the reserve deposit say $12,000,000; at the start $15,000,000.

It can loan all of its capital and 65 per cent of its deposits, being required to hold 35 per cent gold against its deposits; this would give it loaning funds to say $11,000,000.

Direction of Income.

Now, if they keep this employed all the year, either in loans or in handling foreign bills of exchange or buying notes in the open market, their gross profits would be say $400,000. This profit would be used:

First, to pay the assessment of the proportion of the expense of the board at Washington.

Second, to pay the operating expenses.

Third, to pay 6 per cent annualized dividend on its stock, say of $180,000 on $3,000,000, and the remainder of the profits shall be divided, one-half going to the United States as franchise tax and one-half going to surplus fund of the reserve bank until 40 per cent on the paid in capital is created as a surplus fund; then all the remaining profits go to the United States government, which shall be used by the secretary of the treasury, either in buying gold to protect outstanding notes or to pay off outstanding government bonds.

This bank does not pay interest on its deposits.

This bank does not deal with any bank not a member, and cannot receive deposits from any one except member banks, and the United States government. It will, however, pay to anyone checks presented drawn on it by a member bank or the disbursing officer of the government. Member banks can draw exchange on this bank and make deposits to protect these checks, and these checks must be taken at par in all of the reserve banks throughout the union. This makes Atlanta exchange as good as New York exchange, and makes Atlanta a financial center.

Sixth. How does this bank affect other banks now in existence?

It does not interfere with them at all. The same reserve is now carried, but in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Philadelphia, the amount required is reduced by this bill. This will leave the present banks to do business at the same old stand, and in the same way as before, and keep their money as they do now if they prefer it; really only takes 3 per cent of their capital and surplus and pays a small tax on it. Frees from taxes and stands ready to discount for them. In addition the United States government stands ready to furnish government notes to the extent of $500,000,000 to help move the crops per most pressing needs in times of stress, etc.

Thus the whole plan is to aid the people through the banks and to unify into one system by placing reserves of the country where they can be used for legitimate commercial and industrial purposes, and to prevent their employment in one or two large centers, where there is danger of its being employed for speculative purposes.

JOSEPH A. McCORD,
Vice President Third National Bank.

The Song of Life and Love.

Life and Love are saying sweetest things to you;
Lessons in a lily, tilted by the dew;
Evermore a litany in all the winds that pass,
And the daisy's preachin'
sermons out yonder in the grass!

"Life time is love time,"
That's the word they say;
"And Love is Life forever—
Forever and a day!"

Nevermore from love time let us dwell apart;
Lesson of the ages is—life is love, sweetheart!
Love in the sowing—love in blooms we reap;
Waking, Love is ours, and on his breast we sleep!

"Love through the ages,
The fadeless not away,
And Love is Life forever—
Forever and a day!"

Heard on the Highway.

We walk in the light, but sometimes the darkness that brings rest is sweeter to a weary world.

Perhaps, if they took hell out of the Good Book, some folks would think they'd never be able to get even with their enemies.

The devil doesn't go abroad in sheep's clothing these days. The devil is, he devours the sheep—clothing and all.

It's the lightning that attends strictly to business, while thunder does the growling because it has to stay at home and keep house.

Of yer life there's this to tell:
If you ain't got time to worry
You are doin' mighty well.

Oh, the fields'll give you plenty—
You'll alive yer honeycomb
And when Happiness comes callin'
Our hearts'll be at home!

A Sermon of the Game.

This time Elder Villager Denson takes his text from an amateur ball game, and preaches this little sermon in The Kansas City Star:

"I watched some boys playing ball on the school ground the other day. One wanted to pitch and another had to play first base. So they had that settled to pitch owned the ball and had a cinch on his job. The little fellow that wanted to play first base owned nothing, but he said, 'if I can't play first base I will go home.' So they let him play. Then I wandered down town and looked around and thought of a few fellows who had to play first base or they would go home. In the church, in the lodge, in the political party are always a few who imagine they must be the whole works. If they can't pitch or play first base they quit and go home and sulk."

Pioneer Mail Order Farmer Tells The Constitution He Will Broaden Work's Scope

Editor Constitution: Please accept my thanks for your editorial commendation of my work which you are kind enough to classify as "the pioneer mail order farmer in Georgia." If I am the pioneer in the field I will soon have any of company. I had convinced city people are actually hungry for fresh country products. As soon as the first shipments of fresh asparagus by mail or express began to appear in your paper I was deluged with orders from Atlanta and other towns in your big territory. I see now the possibilities of the game, and you bet your bottom dollar I am going to get in on the ground floor by putting other country produce on the mail order basis.

Likes to "Start Things."

I embarked on this business largely because I have a natural love given to "starting something" and with the idea in view also that some of these days I will strike a gold mine that we are all looking for. I lived in Atlanta for fourteen years and worked with Jacobs' pharmacy for the entire time, and to the very worthy gentleman who owns and operates that splendid business, Joseph Jacobs, I owe a very great deal of the training that I received in the appreciation of the value and necessity of advertising and of business in general.

The identity of The Constitution with the general affairs of the state and the fact that I have read same from the earliest days of childhood sort of makes me feel that "a good and true friend has patted me on the back" and I assure you that I like the applause, and while the accomplishment up to the present time is limited, I see ahead a great field for endeavor in this feeding of "the multitude," either by parcel post or any other way, and I am deeply a believer that one who makes "two blades of grass to grow where one grew before" has done a service to mankind and while he is entitled to "touch his brethren up for a fair profit," he has none the less served his God as well as man.

Further Plans.

I have plans for the sale of peaches, fresh and canned (extra grades), tomatoes (from June 15 to October 1), fresh and canned, and asparagus, fresh and canned (canning now going on in the two sizes), so you see that the mail order proposition is rather seriously regarded by me.

I have tried out all the preliminary processes and steps and can deliver the goods in approved style in all the above lines. The investigation and experimenting in canning and growing has been on for three years and it has gradually been worked out to what I regard as "good enough to deliver the goods on."

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

EX-GOVERNOR BROWN DECLARES FOR GOVERNOR SLATON FOR SENATE

Colonel F. J. Paxon, back from a trip to Marietta on Monday last, makes an announcement of considerable interest to some of the state newspapers which have been emphasizing day by day the report that a rupture of large proportions exists between ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown and present Governor John M. Slaton, growing out of the latter's announcement for the senate for the unexpired term of Senator Bacon.

Some of the newspapers which, to say the least of it, are not over zealous for Governor Slaton are painting all sorts of pictures of the widening canyon between Slaton and Brown, declaring that the break is irrevocable and going so far as to intimate that Brown may even run against Slaton for the senate.

"It is, of course, all pipserfect poppycock," declared Colonel Paxon yesterday. "I went up to see Governor Brown just to make a social call and he had a hearty laugh when he read some of the newspaper reports about a so-called rupture between him and Governor Slaton. I am authorised by Governor Brown to say that there is not the slightest scintilla of basis for these absurd reports.

"He authorizes me to say further that he says he will later say for himself: that he is for Governor Slaton for the senate and will very cheerfully support him to the extent of his ability. He never at any time advised Governor Slaton not to make the race for the senate, nor, indeed, did he ever discuss the matter with Governor Slaton.

"Since these absurd reports have been so generally circulated, evidently for the purpose of creating trouble where none existed, Governor Brown authorized me to tell Governor Slaton for the basis for such reports and to also inform him that he will have his very earnest support for the United States senate.

"It seems to me," concluded Colonel Paxon, "that this should put at rest the entirely unwarranted reports which have been circulated for political effect."

HARRIS ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL MAKE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Hon. William J. Harris, director of the census, announced today that he would enter the race for governor of Georgia. He made no formal statement, but simply told friends, following in the wake of William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce and his immediate ranking officer, that he would be a candidate.

"Secretary Redfield said it would not be necessary for me to resign as director of the census before entering the field," said Mr. Harris. "That was the point about which I wished to consult him. If he had insisted that I should continue until the end of the administration, I would have done so."

Mr. Harris has said he had not yet seen President Wilson, but expected to do so within the next few days, as soon as the president can spare the time from the press of duties incident to the Mexican situation.

Mr. Harris states that he has been receiving hundreds of letters from prominent citizens in all parts of the state urging him to get into the race. His mail today, he said, was heavier than at any time since the first suggestion of his candidacy appeared in the Georgia papers. He will run on his record as a business man and his service in the state legislature.

Mr. Harris has a wide acquaintance all over Georgia and considerable personal following. He was for many years private secretary to Senator A. S. Clay and actively campaigned in behalf of the senator, who he recognized in him an indispensable assistant. Since then he has made and attached to himself influential men in all parts of the state. His number was increased during his tours of the state in the interest of the local insurance company which he has built up into a successful organization.

Although a citizen of Cedartown, Polk county, Mr. Harris has lived for the last two or three years in Atlanta, where the headquarters of his company are located. He served one term in the state senate, where he put through a bill increasing the appropriation for the state agricultural colleges.

Mr. Harris was one of the leading Wilson men in the state and was very active at Baltimore in behalf of Mr. Wilson in the last national campaign. He was named director of the census at a salary of $6,000 a year, and since taking office has effected many changes in the bureau looking to improving the force and eliminating waste.

EVE MAY ENTER CONGRESSIONAL RACE IN TENTH DISTRICT AT ANY TIME

Oswell E. Eve, of Augusta, while in Atlanta in attendance upon the court of appeals, in discussing the congressional situation in the tenth district, leaves the inference that he may at any time announce his candidacy. Of the situation in his district he says:

"The contest in the tenth district has not opened as yet, though several of the candidates have made a number of speeches. The candidates cannot open a campaign if their voters are not willing. This is the case in the tenth.

"If I enter the race my attitude toward the other candidates will be the same as it was toward my two opponents during the campaign of 1910; that of desiring to indulge in personalities—that, however, does not mean that a fair and vigorous criticism of their views upon public questions is not permissible.

"One of the candidates, so I am informed, has raised the burning issue that the Philippine islands must be sold, and that a military company, to be trained by an officer from the United States army, should be established among the youth of each county in the state, the members of each of these gymnastic standing drill-time to be paid so much per month; of course, after the crops have been laid by. Another candidate counters by stating that he is entitled to all of the votes, as he is the only candidate who has been bold enough to publish his own platform, saying nothing, however, in said platform about the regularly adopted democratic platform.

"The third candidate comes back at the bold publisher of platforms and ornithologically squelches him by stating that the aforesaid gentleman is a 'Tom Tit.' Thus the merry but harmless and bloodless skirmish continues in the 'Bloody Tenth,' as those who reside outside of it are wont to call it.

"Having thoroughly canvassed the district in 1910, I feel that I know the people and their needs, and would not, if I decided, and could not if I would, go before such an enlightened and intelligent people as that of the tenth district with any catch-penny platform or issue and expect them to support me in such an effort. The development of the public roads of the country, the improvement of the Savannah river and river protection at Augusta, the building of post-offices in the smaller towns of the state, the improvement of our agricultural resources, the improvement of the parcel post and other matters of equal moment will be presented by me to the people should I enter the contest."

OGLETHORPE POLITICS WARMING UP

AS DATE OF PRIMARY APPROACHES

Lexington, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Politics are warming up in Oglethorpe county with the primary to come April 29. Clerk Walter Frank is opposed by Ed Stokely, of Crawford. Both have a strong following. Representative J. Lee Knox is opposed by George W. Brooks, of Crawford.

E. Cabiness, an ex-representative, has announced for the legislature, he being the only candidate so far announced. Hon. N. D. Arnold, present representative, will doubtless announce very soon.

Governor John M. Slaton and J. Randolph Anderson have many loyal supporters in this county.

POLITICAL DOPE IN WARE COUNTY BEING GIVEN SEVERE JOLTS

Waycross, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Ware county's political situation has been severely jolted and the "dope" artists are now wondering what other development will make itself manifest. Representative J. Lee Crawley, in a card to the public today, stated most emphatically that he will not seek re-election. Representative L. J. Cooper, while not issuing a statement, has made it known that he will be a candidate for re-election. Calvin W. Parker, a former city alderman; Allen L. Brown, now a member of council, and L. W. Herrin, a newspaper man of Millwood, are mentioned as probable candidates.

It had been expected that Mr. Crawley would be a candidate for re-election.

AND STILL CANDIDATES COME!

The formal announcement of W. J. Harris, manager of the convention and chairman of the state democratic committee, that he will be a candidate for governor, makes the total seven. Dr. S. G. Hoffman, of Commerce, is already making a vigorous campaign in various parts of the state, and J. Randolph Anderson, whose announcement was printed Wednesday morning, established headquarters in Savannah several days ago.

Never before in the history of Georgia politics has there been such a formidable array of candidates and such candidates. Seasoned politicians who have been watching the signs and portents of the political horizon freely predict that fully ten entries will attick to the bitter (or the sweet) end. Should this prediction prove true, it will be the merriest old race ever seen in Dixie. Factional lines will be drawn more or less severely trod upon that you cannot find them, the contest will be thrown into the convention and made a whole lot nicer to pay in general.

But this all-mighty diverting and the stir of the average man just now is, the more the merrier.

For one thing, it seems that interest in the governor's race will be greater than that in the senatorial contest. Such a condition has never before been heard of in Georgia politics.

J. T. BOIFEUILLET GOES TO MACON TO LOOK OVER THE SITUATION

Hon. John T. Boifeuillet, who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Atlanta, left last night for Macon, where he will spend the day looking over the political situation and taking a squint at the political situation.

While Mr. Boifeuillet was loath to discuss the congressional race, it is said that he was generally discussed around the Kimball house while in the city and his entering the contest was good. All seems to depend on whether Congressman Bartlett will or will not make the race. If he does, the cards are pretty certain that Mr. Boifeuillet will be a candidate. The latter, who has been in the contest for some time, has been waging an aggressive campaign.

CRACKER CLUB THE MECCA OF MANY STATE POLITICIANS

The Cracker club banquet at Savannah last night must have been some banquet—from the political pot proving the purveyor of the most appetising dish on the program. Congressman Hardwick, candidate for the senate, was there and unconfined by lack of eloquence. Cliff Walker, candidate for attorney general, was another aspirant, and Commissioner of Agriculture Hudson was still another who had a few words to say. With all of these a good word was given to Mr. Price. He never is.

Down in Macon Hon. Thomas S. Felder, candidate for senator, celebrated his first day out of office by making a speech before the State Federation of Labor.

Governor Slaton was on the job at the capitol and had a hard time seeing all the friends who called. He received over 100 letters from various parts of the state giving him encouraging news of his campaign.

CHEAPER GAS FIGHT NOW ON IN EARNEST

First Blow Will Be Struck on Monday, When Council Will Be Asked to Take Action.

"The fight for 80-cent gas is on in Atlanta. We are not going to cease our campaign against the Atlanta Gas Light company until consumers get a fair reduction. The first blow in the fight will be struck in council on Monday when gas users will ask the city to give the Georgia Railroad commission $6,000 to make an investigation."

City Electrician R. C. Turner made the above statement late Wednesday afternoon, declaring at the same time that the initiative and referendum petitions started by the Gas Consumers' league will be filed with council at the next regular meeting.

According to Turner there are more than 9,000 names of registered voters of Atlanta signed to the petition which asks council to appropriate $6,000 for the use of the commission to make an investigation of Atlanta's gas rate.

Council Must Take Action.

Under the recently enacted charter amendments one-tenth of the registered voters can invoke the initiative and referendum. Under the law, council can either provide the money asked for, or can refer the proposition to a vote of the people.

That the Atlanta Gas Light company is preparing to combat any effort on the part of consumers to have the price of gas reduced from 90 to 80 cents per 1,000 feet is evident from statements of officials to the effect that Atlanta is enjoying a comparatively low rate. They take the position that it is not fair to the company to compare the rate in Atlanta with rates in some of the other cities located close to the coal mines and oil fields.

Figures which City Electrician Turner says he will present to the railroad commission will show, he asserts, that the Atlanta Gas Light company can manufacture and store gas for less than 60 cents per 1,000 feet.

It was reported Wednesday that the Gas Consumers' league, the organization said to be behind the fight for cheaper gas, will file its charter with Secretary of State Cook just as soon as council passes on the referendum petitions. The organization has been holding secret meetings, and only such information as has been given out by City Electrician Turner has appeared in the newspapers.

Organization Really Exists.

"I understand there is an effort to discredit the association by reports that there is no such an organization as the Gas Consumers' league, but I can vouch for the fact that there is an organization and I can give the further assurance that the members will be heard from when the proper time comes," said Mr. Turner. "The reason the organization has been working without the spotlight is because we did not want our plans to become known too soon. Publicity might have had the effect of injuring the cause.

"For more than twenty years the consumers of gas in Atlanta have suffered. Nothing was ever done to make the Atlanta Gas Light company reduce the rate, for the reason that it has almost been impossible to organize a movement to bring about concerted action on the part of all users of gas. We have organized. Some of the very best business men in Atlanta are in the organization, and they will be heard from at the proper time."

Unanimous Indorsement.

City Electrician Turner has several of the petitions which were circulated among the voters, also reports from members of the organization who formed the committee for the express purpose of getting the signatures of voters.

"It has been reported to the association that in no case have consumers declined to sign the petition. This indicates clearly that the cause will have the almost unanimous indorsement of every person who receives a gas bill on the first of every month."

Recent reports from the office of the Atlanta Gas Light company also indicate that the corporation is busy preparing information to be given to the public. The information is expected to come out in the shape of a statement showing the cost of manufacture and delivery of gas to consumers in Atlanta in comparison with some other cities which are enjoying rates varying from 60 cents to 80 cents.

Prominent Atlanta Women Pledge Help to Movement For Greater Grady Hospital

"There are so many ways woman can help in the passage of the bond issue I scarcely know how to enumerate the ways," said Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin yesterday. As president of the City Federation she is directing the work of the federated organizations.

"I have conferred with the president of the women's civic ward clubs and they have appointed subcommittees to be called neighborhood committees, their duty to go among the women of their neighborhood and discuss the plan with them; give information where it is needed, and urge that the women see that the men of the family vote.

"Opposition is easier to cope with than indifference," said Mrs. Lumpkin, "for in nearly every case where we have discussed the matter with persons opposed, it is because they have not been properly informed of what the movement means and what the business status of it is.

"I hope that within the next few days every one of the eighty federated organizations will have met and formally endorsed the 'movement, but in the meantime I wish to urge upon all the organizations to see that each individual woman feel her personal obligation and feel it her duty to confer with her neighbors about it. If any information is needed to cope with any apparent opposition, this information may be secured by conference with the officers of the city federation or any with any members of the central committee of which Doctor Elkin is president.

Formal Action Asked.

"As organizations pass their resolutions of indorsement they are urged by the women leaders of the Atlanta papers to send those resolutions to all three papers.

"I have arranged with Dr. Summerall to visit the hospital this week, and I hope it will be possible for the presidents of the civic ward clubs to accompany me, that they may see the noble work that is being done with struggles in the hospital as it now is, and the work that still must be done before Atlanta has done what is her duty toward public health."

Mrs. Lowry Will Aid.

"I have called no meeting of the Grady Hospital Aid society," said Mrs. Lowry, "for the faithful assistance I have already had from my co-workers in the association convinces me that they always have the good of the hospital at heart and are working for it as they did in the days when we built the children's ward of the hospital and gave toward nurses' home. "I concur with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin in her belief that the most direct way the women can work now is through spreading the gospel of the greater hospital wherever they go; and urging upon the men of their families, and with whom they come in contact, to vote for the bonds. The indifferent voter is the one who must be pushed out, for I can not believe there are many who will oppose the upbuilding of our hospital which bears the name of the great Henry Grady, and which stands for the health and protection of our great city."

Mrs. Candler Indorses.

Mrs. Emily McDougald, president of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage party, was the first of the three suffrage organizations to receive the message of the greater hospital movement carrying the request that her organization work for it. She expressed her deep appreciation of the significance of the movement and pledged the practical assistance of her organization. Subsequently the organization passed resolutions to the same effect.

"Can't you see how women are needed in all vital movements?" said Mrs. McDougald.

"I believe that woman's suffrage will prove the greatest boon to just such movements as this, for don't you know if women were voting today, Atlanta would have the most beautiful and well equipped hospital in the south? It is especially our obligation to look after the helpless and afflicted, and we know more surely the needs of the community in this direction. Personally, as well as through my organization, I do heartily indorse the greater hospital movement, and will do all I can to help it on."

Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. George Haugh, president of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Atlanta, has called the next meeting to discuss the movement to her organizations, and ask their co-operation. Probably none more than the mothers and the teacher know better the need of every facility in a hospital for the proper care of the child, and in that interest their aid has been solicited. The daughters of the Confederacy and the Daughters of the American Revolution are to aid in the general movement of the women for the greater hospital.

College Park Will Aid.

At a meeting of the College Park Woman's club, held yesterday afternoon, hearty indorsement was given the greater hospital movement and the proposed bond issue.

"Though there are not a great many citizens of Atlanta residing in College Park," said Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the club, "the members of College Park belong to the City Federation of clubs, and we work always with our Atlanta sisters. The greater hospital will be a benefit, not only to Atlanta, but to this entire section."

Mrs. Frank Healy of the Atlanta Woman's club, took the message for Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, president of the city federation, to the women of College Park.

Want Women on Board.

At a meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association on Wednesday afternoon, at the Ansley hotel, the resolutions indorsing the $750,000 bond issue for greater Grady hospital were offered by Mrs. Mary L. McLendon and unanimously adopted. The resolutions suggest that women be given representation on the board that governs the expenditure of the bond issue.

The association was enthusiastic in its support of the movement for the bond issue for a greater Grady hospital.

In a speech to the suffragists Mrs. Amelia Woodall, the president, said: "The greater Grady hospital is not simply a want, but a real need in our city. We must build not only for today, but for tomorrow as well. To do effective work along any line one must be well equipped and how can we expect, to stay the ruthless hand of disease in a grand and growing city without the proper facilities for fighting it?"

Miss Helen Gray, the founder of Mineral Bluffs school, made an address on "Economy and Efficiency."

In order to become familiar with and understand something of the work to be undertaken the coming session of the legislature the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, at a previous meeting decided to conduct a class in citizenship. From now until the legislature adjourns the suffragists will have a prominent men and women lecture on proposed legislation to be enacted. In this connection Dr. James C. Oakshette made a splendid address, in the course of which he explained the Ellis bill, a measure providing for state-wide sanitation.

Mrs. A. H. Campbell, chairman of social service work, made a fine report.

Send in Your Nomination For Constitution's Great $25,000 Prize Campaign

Now is the opportune time to register for your share of valuable awards The Constitution proposes to distribute shortly. Simply send in your name to the Contest Department of The Constitution. Thus you will be registered as a nominee for honors in this campaign. Detailed information will be furnished you immediately as to how to proceed further.

It is a very simple matter to become a successful candidate. The awards are to be made to contestants according to the number of votes they procure during the few weeks the contest lasts. Votes are given free with subscriptions to The Constitution, and the costly prize will be awarded to those of the candidates who get the largest number of votes. No matter where a prospective candidate lives in the state of Georgia or contiguous territory, she has an opportunity to get one of these valuable awards. The territory has been divided and awards allotted by such an equitable arrangement that the efforts of any candidate in any part of the territory should net the candidate desired results. No cost whatever is attached to the nomination of any candidate. The awards are all free. Nothing beyond the ability of any wide-awake ambitious person is required.

Spirit of Fairness.

In the spirit of fairness this contest was conceived and will be carried out. A fair field and no favor is offered to all candidates—all are treated exactly alike. The Constitution will see to it that every candidate is placed on an equal footing. In providing the list of expensive prizes and in so surrounding the candidates with every safeguard that their efforts will meet with absolute correct credit. The Constitution has done all it can to give success and profit to all who are willing to do their part.

Write the contest department of The Constitution and it will enlighten you upon any matter not clear to you. The rules and regulations contain nothing that will obstruct your path. Nomination blank and ballot will be found on the editorial page of each issue of The Daily and Sunday Constitution. If you have not already done so, fill out the nomination blank and send it in today.

About the Prizes.

Thirteen automobiles head the list of magnificent prizes. Four as grand division prizes and nine as district prizes.

These cars were selected with special regard to the greatest value of the money invested.

As the first grand prize to be awarded in each division to the candidate for the largest number of votes in each division, regardless of district, The Constitution offers an automobile conceded to be equal to any car in the world of its class. It is known as the "Oakland" 6-99 seven-passenger touring car, fully equipped, beautiful to the artistic eye. Beautiful to the eye that sees beyond the outward forms and notes the perfection of mechanical arrangement and adjustment, beautiful to those who desire luxury personified in style and comfort, and beautiful indeed to those who see in the car real luxury, style and comfortable arrangements. A dependable motor car, and one that approaches the ideal in mechanical perfection.

The second prize in each of the grand divisions is the Velie 6-35 five-passenger touring car. The car is beautiful in design, and the body lines are developed along the most advanced ideas, and has long since been known as a car that will go day in and day out over all kinds of roads anywhere and free from mechanical difficulties. These cars, in addition to having the usual equipment are also equipped with Gray & Davis electric starter and head lights of the most advanced type.

District Prizes.

In each of the nine districts an award was selected, thought to be commensurate with the efforts of those who obtain the highest score in votes after the first of the second grand division prizes have been given out. After carefully considering the desirability of many awards of various things, the conclusion was reached that an automobile would be best the district prize list. Then the question arose as to which of the numerous motor cars upon the market would be chosen. Many good cars could be had, but after considerable negotiation The Constitution was able to make satisfactory terms with the Overland Southern Automobile company for nine five-passenger Overland touring cars. Many of the one-horse equipages, as cars embodying all of the qualifications demanded by The Constitution.

The Overland five-passenger touring car is one of the very best automobiles on the market today at the price. The Overland cars are no greater beauty or contour are giving no greater service. It is a roomy five-passenger model, richly upholstered, insuring perfection comfort. In addition to being fully equipped as all up-to-date cars are, it is also equipped with Gray & Davis electric engine and generator. Has been built the most perfect player mechanism. The player is therefore two instruments in one: a piano for the musician and a self-player for those who have never learned music. A handsome bench and scarf and fifteen rolls of music are included with each player.

PHYSICIANS GATHER FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Banquet Will Be Given Delegates at the Hotel Ansley This Evening.

The sixty-fifth annual session of the Medical Association of Georgia opened yesterday morning at the Wesley Memorial building. There was a meeting of the house of delegates at 9 o'clock and three general sessions, the first beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The invocation was delivered by Dr. W. R. Hendrix, of Atlanta. Mayor Woodward made an address of welcome for Atlanta and Dr. Dunbar Roy for the Fulton County Medical society. The response on behalf of the association was made by Dr. J. Lawton Hiers, of Savannah.

Wright, Fayetteville; Dr. Robert Adair, Atlanta; Dr. C. A. Rhodes, Atlanta, and Dr. J. G. Foy, Atlanta.

The reading of papers will be resumed this morning. A banquet is to be given this evening at the Hotel Ansley by the Fulton County Medical society.

Reports Criticising Dan Carey Are Found To Be Without Basis

Criticisms of the manner in which Dan Carey, park manager, was handling the improvement work on Adair Park recently, presented to the city by Forrest & George Adair, have been declared by the Tenth Ward Civic Improvement league, after investigation, to be without basis. A letter on the subject from A. M. Turner, secretary of the league, follows:

Editor Constitution: In Sunday's Constitution appeared an article, furnished by me as secretary of the Tenth Ward Civic league, in which reference to the park improvements in a park, given by Messrs. Forrest and George Adair to the city of Atlanta. From this article it would appear that the work intended to criticise park manager, Mr. Dan Carey, in the expenditure of the money set aside for this work. However, such was not the case. The statements made in the article were reports current in the tenth ward as to the condition of affairs in that ward. Mr. Carey in order to furnish the league an itemized statement of the expenditures in Adair park, the total of which amounts to $1,494.75, which proved that the unfavorable reports in regard to this matter were erroneous.

As stated in Sunday's paper, it is the purpose of this league to clear up all such reports and endeavor to remedy so far as possible the present conditions.

The many residents in the vicinity of Adair park have been misled regarding the improvements there because of the fact that a number of the work has been in the nature of drainage and map-making, which is as necessary in park building as are the foundations of a house necessary before the structure can be erected. The park department worked on the improvements in Adair park last year until the $1,500 appropriated for the purpose had been expended and then discontinued work until this year. The work of 1914 has already been provided for and Mr. Carey states will be commenced within a week.

Harris, generalissimo; Fred Harden, C. G.; C. Williams, S. W.; W. C. Hamilton, J. W.; J. W. Bishop, recorder; J. M. Hunt, treasurer; J. S. Gordy, sentinel; Rev. W. S. Harden, prelate; E. M. Pope, standard bearer; T. M. Coker, sword bearer; R. B. Harris, warder, and W. A. Morris, J. T. McGlamary and J. S. Dixon, guards.

Good Cheer Aids Digestion of Food

Dyspeptics Can Make the Best of the Family Happy by Using a Laxative-Tonic.

MAJ. S. MARTIN

The temper of the family and the good cheer around the table depend so much on the good digestion of each individual present that the experiences of some former dyspeptics who overcame their troubles should be of interest to those now suffering in this way.

The best advice one can give—but it is advice that is seldom heeded—is to eat slowly and masticate each mouthful carefully. However, if slow eating and careful mastication fail the next best thing is to assist nature. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This remedy is an excellent digestant, and in addition to helping the digestion of the food, acts gently on the liver and bowels, relieving them of the accumulation of waste that should long ago have been passed off. It is safe, reliable, pleasant-tasting, and results are guaranteed.

Maj. S. Martin, of Joplin, Mo., now 77, thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has helped him to a longer and happier life. He has not felt so good in years as he has since taking this excellent remedy, and in spite of his 77 years he says he feels like a boy.

It is the ideal remedy for indigestion, no matter how severe; constipation, no matter how chronic, biliousness, headaches, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances.

You can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by heads of families already familiar with its merits. Remember you are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

When you use Syrup Pepsin you will see the fallacy of chewing mints and tablets or of taking cathartics, salts, pills and similar drastic medicines. Unlike these, Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect, but by systematically training the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work, soon restores these organs to normal.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF AT TERMINAL STATION

Before Horrified Crowd, H. H. Fudge Plunges Knife Into His Breast.

A horrified crowd of spectators shuddered Wednesday morning at the terminal station as they watched a nicely dressed man, H. H. Fudge, of No. 19 Simpson street, attempt to end his life with a pen knife.

Fudge had just arrived in the city from Jacksonville, and as he reached the rotunda of the terminal station he opened a small pen knife and plunged himself over the heart.

He was rushed to the Grady hospital in a private automobile. Physicians at the hospital state that he is not seriously injured, and that he will recover.

Mrs. Fudge, his pretty little wife, was notified over telephone, and she rushed to the Grady in an auto, arriving there a few minutes after her husband.

When questioned by the reporter as to the probable cause of her husband's attempt to end his life, she stated that she was at a loss to explain.

"He told me that he tried to kill himself because he was broke, and despondent," she said. "But I don't see how he could be in need of money, because he has a splendid position and has always had all the money he needed."

She stated that her husband had held the position of traveling salesman for the A. Mendelson Potash company, of Albany, N. Y., for eighteen years.

"I fear, however," she stated, "that he is despondent because he has been drinking a little too much lately. He is not a heavy drinker, but that seems to be the only explanation of his act."

Fudge will be removed to his home as soon as his injury will allow.

Weavers on Strike.

Union, S. C., April 15.—Eight hundred persons were thrown out of employment here today by a strike of the weavers at the Buffalo cotton mills, near here. The weavers allege a cut in wages. Officials of the mills deny that there has been any reduction.

The annual address of the president of the convention will then be delivered by President A. J. Sproles. Joel Hunter, of Atlanta, will speak upon "Accounting Systems for Water and Light Departments." L. W. Carnagy, of Atlanta, will discuss the meeting on "Watt-Hour Meters."

The convention will then adjourn until 2 o'clock, when H. S. Graves, chief forester of the department of agriculture, of Washington, D. C., will talk upon "Forestry and Water Resources." "Water and Its Purification for Industrial Purposes" will be the subject of a speech by M. F. Coun, of Philadelphia.

The delegates will be taken at 6 o'clock to the Forsyth for a theater party, after which they will adjourn until the next day.

A large display of modern apparatus, equipment and supplies used by water and lighting companies will be exhibited and demonstrated in the convention room.

MUST GUARD SECRET OF U. S. NAVY TORPEDO

Washington, April 15.—A temporary injunction granted by Judge Veeder in the United States district court of New York, restraining the E. W. Bliss company from revealing to other nations the construction of the Bliss-Leavitt torpedo used by the United States navy has been rendered permanent.

The Bliss company about to demonstrate the operation and construction of this torpedo, which officials say the navy has developed into the finest weapon of the kind in the world, to the Whitehead Torpedo company, of Fiume, Austria, when checked by temporary injunctions sought by the navy department.

How To Darken Gray Hair

By a Specialist.

A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water and then adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results, both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a trial. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations and much less expensive.—Adv.

The lessons will continue on Thursday and Friday and for five days next week, beginning Monday. The proceeds will be devoted to the business women's loan fund.

Bench Show.

Great interest is being shown in the exhibit of the Atlanta kennel club to be held Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Mr. Nunnally at Brookwood.

The club has an extensive membership and about 100 entries have already been made. There will be five ribbons for each class.

The exhibit, which opens at 2:30 and continues through the afternoon, is only for members and invited guests.

The judges will be Mr. T. H. Craig, Mr. S. B. Kneipp and Mr. William Goodman, of Boston.

For Wedding Party.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lopes entertained at a dinner party last evening at their home on Piedmont avenue, preceding the wedding rehearsal of their daughter, Miss Irene Lopes, and Mr. Morris Osgood McMillan, of Minneapolis. In the center of the handsomely appointed table was a French basket filled with pink roses and the handle of the basket was tied with a big butterfly bow of bluebird ribbon. On the place cards were painted bluebirds, and the souvenirs were miniature bride's slippers filled with rice. The candle shades and all other decorations for the table were blue and white.

Mrs. Lopes wore black charmeuse satin trimmed in lace, and Miss Lopes wore American beauty chiffon.

The guests, who included the wedding party and a few out-of-town guests, were Miss Lopes and Mr. McMillan, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Moise Lopes, Mrs. Howard Merrill, of Salt Lake City; Mr. Henry Harby, of Sumpter, S. C.; Mrs. Robert Campbell and Mr. Robert Campbell, of Minneapolis; Miss Madge Horne, Dr. C. C. Calhoun, Mr. Grantville; Mr. William Lochran, of Minneapolis; Mr. John Lopes and Mr. H. Alexander.

Child Life Instruction.

The sixth meeting of the American Institute of Child Life was even more crowded than usual. Mrs. Charles Boynton, the president, reminded the chapter that it stood for more intelligent motherhood in the deepest and broadest sense of the word. Mrs. Speck reported the latest news from Babyland, and said that babies were like musical instruments: it required practice and skill to get the best from them.

Mrs. Gardiner's talk on "Sex Instruction" was concluded. All authorities agree that the best way to teach that subject is through biology and hygiene. A brief explanation was given of the way in which the institute fills its methods to the needs of the busy mother.

This chapter has now more than two hundred members and so many requests are being made for membership that the secretaries find it almost impossible to answer the demands and, unfortunately, they can only remain a short time longer.

Minstrel Show.

On next Friday night, the Pilgrims will present a pretentious minstrel show at the Central Congregational church. They will be assisted by both the Tech orchestra and the Tech Mandolin club.

There are thirty singers in the chorus and their voices blend wonderfully in the harmonies. The soloists of the occasion are unusually good. Messrs. Clark and Cripp in end songs will long be remembered by those who hear them. The rival quartettes, known as the "Snowball" and the "Cornfield," are working hard to outshine each other.

K. H. Chapman, of Tech, the boss of many a Glee club performance, will play his mandolin for the delectation of the audience.

Howel-Simmons.

Rome, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—This evening at 7 o'clock the marriage of Miss Annie Booth Howel and Dr. Robert O. Simmons was impressively solemnized in the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Graves, on Eighth avenue, Dr. G. G. Sydnor, officiating.

Attendant upon the bride were the two young sisters of herself and the groom, Misses Hattie Howel and Annie Mary Simmons, while Dr. I. D. Lee, of Newnan, acted as best man to the groom.

No cards were issued, but the prominent connections of both families filled the spacious home with interested guests.

Following the ceremony and informal reception Dr. and Mrs. Simmons left on a brief trip, after which they will return to reside in Rome.

MEETINGS

The Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular session this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. The failure to call a meeting of the Fulton County unions will be explained. Thursday, Mary L. McLendon, president; Jane A. Adkins, recording secretary.

MOTHER-IN-LAW CAUSE OF THIS DIVORCE SUIT

H. Y. Doke wouldn't live without his mother, and Mrs. Daisy Doke wouldn't live with her. That, according to a divorce petition filed yesterday with Clarke Lewis, deputy clerk of the superior court, explains why Mr. and Mrs. Doke are no longer living together. In the petition, Mrs. Doke says she gave her husband the choice of leaving his mother's home or saying good-bye to his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Doke said good-bye. They were married in 1911, and separated only recently. Mrs. Doke asks for a complete divorce.

TWO ROME FAMILIES HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Rome, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The families of S. O. Harris and C. E. Abernathy had a narrow escape from death when lightning struck the house occupied by them in West Rome yesterday.

The bolt struck the chimney of the kitchen, and knocked the stove several feet, stunning the children of the household who were gathered about the stove.

James Harris, the 4-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, was sitting directly in the path of the bolt and one of his shoes was burned from his foot his leg severely burned.

Wedding of Miss Richardson And Captain James Reeves

The marriage of Miss Katherine Richardson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson, to Captain James Hayne Reeves, of the United States army, took place last night at Alanahurst, the beautiful country home of the Richardsons at East Lake, and was an occasion notably interesting socially and one most artistic in every detail. Rev. W. W. Memminger performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the relatives and a company of close friends. In the decoration and in the music the national note was sounded in the flags used in the decoration and the music, while all the symbolism of the orange blossom and lilies the bridal flowers were expressed.

The ceremony took place in the music rooms, Mr. Charles Sheldon playing the wedding march, his own composition. The ushers, "ensign" first were Messrs. Francis Manos and Corson Rose, who drew the ribbons forming the aisle for the bridal party and extending to the end of the room, where an improvised altar was. The groomsmen, Captain Graham Fitch, Captain Castleman, Captain James F. McKinley, Lieutenant Robert Richardson, Lieutenant Creed F. Cox and Lieutenant J. M. Watson, preceded the officiating clergyman, and the bride, who was escorted by the best man, Captain Robert Foy.

Alan Richardson and Elizabeth Phillips, wearing white and bearing white satin cushions, approached and awaited the bride on the altar steps. Miss Frances Yates and Mrs. James McKinley entered together, followed by Misses Gertrude Gordon and Louise Richardson, Misses Madge Cochran and Mackey Hopkins.

Miss Gertrude Richardson, maid of honor, preceded the bride, who was accompanied to the altar by her father.

During the ceremony Mr. Sheldon played "The Evening Star." At the end of the long service the bride and groom knelt and Miss Louise Richardson sang the 420th hymn. After the benediction was pronounced Mr. Sheldon played "The Star Spangled Banner," the reception following.

The Bride's Gown.

The bride's gown was of white charmeuse satin embroidery in a design of gardenias. The sleeves and corsage were trimmed in tulle and rose point lace. Her veil was of tulle caught with orange blossoms. Her flowers were of white orchids and her only ornament, a necklace of diamonds, presented by her father's associates in business. The matrons of honor were their wedding gowns and the bridesmaids wore white chiffon gowns with sashes of yellow tulle. The bride's mother was handsomely gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed in Duchesse lace.

After the informal reception an elegant supper was served, the guests served buffet fashion. The sweets were served from a center table which was elaborately decorated in yellow and white flowers, this the color note of the cavalry. In the center of the table was a plateau of yellow snapdragons and Empress jonquils. The candlesticks had yellow shades and the mints and bonbons and cakes were embossed in yellow.

The Decorative Scheme.

The combination of the national colors and the yellow of the cavalry with a background everywhere of living green, produced a most refined color scheme. Flags were draped over the arched windows and doorways, and across the wall back of the altar in the music room was a silken flag held in place by a sword which had been in the possession of the bride's grandfather, Commodore Richardson, while on a pedestal nearby was a bronze bust of the same distinguished patriot.

Dogwood, blossoms on four branches, made a canopy decoration in the corners of the room, and through the luxury of the palm leaves showed bursts of Easter lillies. White lilacs were used in vases on the mantels and cabinets, and throughout the house the flowers used everywhere were in white and yellow. The east and south porches were canvased in and converted into tropical bowers of plants and blooming flowers. Punch was served by Miss Esther Smith and Miss Lillian Logan.

While this beauty of nature and art expressed itself within the house, there was similar expression without. The distance from the trolley car to the entrance of the house was defined by a line of electric lights in red, white and blue. Within the grounds, these lights defined flower beds of blooming tulips, borders of hyacinths, jonquils and violets. Lights in the trees showed the cherry blossoms and the whole scheme was one of picturesque beauty.

The bride, whose dainty and patrician beauty has distinguished her wherever she has been, is a most gifted and attractive woman. She combines with musical talents of no mean degree, a love of out-of-door sports and is recognized as one of the best horsewomen in the social life of the south, where she has been most popular.

Captain Reeves is one of the most popular of the younger cavalry officers in the army, and at present is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, where he will take his charming bride. They left last night for Texas.

New Hats and New Bonnets Are Seen at "The Dansante"

At the first after-Easter tea-dance at the Piedmont Driving club yesterday there was a dazzling array of beautiful new gowns and new hats, and all the raiment which makes the "young man's fancy run to love," and hail Terpsichore are the greatest goddess of them all.

Many who had kept Lent and refrained from dancing came to make up for lost time, and there were in the assembly as many as two-hundred people who joined in the dance and enjoyed the refreshment of tea between 5 and 7 o'clock.

The dinner-dance Saturday night will be largely attended at the Driving club, and reservations have been made which indicate the party will number one hundred and fifty.

GROSSMAN TO ADDRESS FEDERATION OF LABOR

Attorney Leonard J. Grossman, general counsel of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, left last night for Macon to deliver an address before the Georgia Federation of Labor, in response to an invitation from S. B. Marks, president of the State Federation of Labor. Resolutions requesting Mr. Grossman to accept the invitation were passed by the Georgia Women's Suffrage association, the Women Suffrage Party, Inc., of which Mrs. Mary L. McLendon is president, and the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association.

Chief Beavers Will Speak At Conference of Mayors On Crusade Against Vice

Atlanta's chief of police, James L. Beavers, has been honored by the conference of mayors and other city officials of New York state, which is to be held next June at Ashburn, N. Y., to discuss municipal problems.

The executive committee of the conference has invited Chief Beavers to address the mayors on Thursday evening, June 4, on the subject, "The Results of Atlanta's Crusade Against the Segregated Districts." Chief Beavers will be the orator of the evening.

He has been invited to deliver addresses on other municipal problems upon which subjects Governor Martin Glynn, Mayor John Purroy Mitchel, Dr. Hermann M. Biggs and Professor Fray, of Harvard university, will speak.

At the meeting of the board of police commissioners Tuesday night, Chief Beavers was given leave of absence to attend the conference.

The chief wired his acceptance to the executive committee immediately.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

FINEST OF WEATHER PROMISED ATLANTA BY THE FORECASTER

The weather forecast for Atlanta today follows:

Fair weather is indicated for Atlanta and vicinity on Thursday. Owing to the slow movement of the storm which is passing northeastward over the middle states, the weather remained cloudy somewhat longer than anticipated, and the rise in temperature on Thursday will not be very marked, although it will be warmer. The day will open probably without clouds, with light westerly winds, which will shift to southerly in the afternoon.

WARREN GRICE NOW ATTORNEY GENERAL

Thomas S. Felder Leaves for Macon to Open His Senatorial Campaign.

Thomas S. Felder has served his last day as attorney general, and Warren Grice, of Hawkinsville, now occupies that position.

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning Governor Slaton administered the oath of office to Mr. Grice and he immediately assumed his new duties.

WARREN GRICE.

Mr. Felder left on the afternoon train for Macon, where he will immediately launch his campaign for United States senator.

Mr. Grice is a candidate for the unexpired term of attorney general.

Before leaving the office of attorney general, Mr. Felder submitted a report to Governor Slaton showing in detail the cases he handled for the state. Of the sixty-one cases he was involved in, fifty-five were affirmed by the higher courts, four were reversed and two remain to be decided.

$200,000 HARDWOOD CONCERN FOR MACON

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Macon is gaining a reputation for her hardwood timber plants, the organization of a new concern, The J. S. Morton Lumber and Timber company, with a capital stock of $200,000 having just been announced and within a short time the company will erect a large and modern plant similar to that of the Massee & Felton Lumber company, already in operation here.

The output of the new plant will be hardwood and pine, rough and finished.

The Jamestown Mantel company has recently started operations here, and already the Massee & Felton Lumber company and the Case-Fowler Lumber company are operating plants with a large output each month in the year.

The incorporators of the newest concern are J. S. Morton, Macon, and George Thomas, D. J. Vail, F. B. Morton, Jr., and J. E. Harrop, of Ohio.

MRS. MITCHELL DIES FROM KICK OF HORSE

Thomasville, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—As result of injuries received from the kick of a horse here Monday, Mrs. Jane Mitchell, one of Thomas county's most prominent citizens, died here last night. She never regained consciousness from the time of the accident.

Mrs. Mitchell would have been 82 years old next month. She was born near Gainesville, Fla., and married Mr. George Mitchell, of this county, when 18 years old. Since his death, nearly fifty years ago, she had personally managed the affairs of her large plantation, and was authority on all agricultural matters throughout the county.

She was considered a most remarkable woman, combining the refinement and gentleness of old-time southern gentlewoman with unusual strength of character.

The funeral services this afternoon were largely attended.

UNIVERSITY JUNIOR ORATORS ANNOUNCED

Athens, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The junior orators for the coming commencement have been announced: Mendel Boorstein, of Covington, Ga.; Raiford Wood, of Savannah, Ga.; W. W. Franklin, of Athens, Ga.; Clark Howell, of Atlanta, Ga.; Henry West, of Athens, Ga., and Walter Jenkins, of Valdosta, Ga. The alternates are Julian Walker, of Screven, Ga., and Charles W. Jacobson, of Tennille, Ga.

There were more contestants for these places this year than for many years and the judges found great difficulty in selecting the top-notchers. The subjects to be handled in the speeches are in the order of the speakers listed above: "Compulsory Education," "The Purpose of An Education," "Our Moral Welfare," "Commission Government," "International Peace," and "The Feminist Movement."

SOUL MATES BOUND OVER BY JUDGE NASH BROYLES

Ester Leskin and Sam Scherman, two soul mates who skipped from Philadelphia, Pa., coming to Atlanta, where they have been living as man and wife, were bound over Wednesday morning by Judge Nash Broyles under bond of $500 each under a statutory charge.

Scherman and his soul mate were arrested Tuesday morning by Special Officer J. E. Chandler, on information which came from Scherman's wife, who had just come over from Copenhagen, Denmark, in search of her husband.

It is probable that she will come to Atlanta to prosecute her husband on grounds of desertion.

KRAFT WILL EXPLAIN TWO OPERAS TONIGHT

City Organist Edwin A. Kraft, who has been giving a series of lectures on the different operas that will be given this season by the Metropolitan company, will speak tonight on Verdi's opera, "Il Trovatore" and "The Masked Ball." Dr. Kraft illustrates these lectures with selections from the operas on the organ.

They take place at the Auditorium and begin at 8 o'clock. All music lovers are invited to attend, and admission is free to all.

Revival at Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Under an immense tent erected for that purpose Evangelist C. M. Dunnaway is conducting a series of meetings for the Central Methodist church. The services are well attended and will continue two weeks, practically all the other churches in the city joining.

WALLACE DRAPER MADE FUSILIERS' LIEUTENANT

An election was held at the armory of the Fulton Fusiliers on Monday evening to fill the vacancy of first lieutenant caused by the promotion of Captain Hal T. Morrison to the quartermaster corps. Sergeant Wallace W. Draper, nephew of Wilmer L. Modre, was unanimously elected. Mr. Draper is a University of Georgia graduate and a member of the Piedmont Driving club and the Georgian Terrace club. His promotion is the result of enthusiastic work in the national guard for the past two years.

The company will be entertained at a smoker on Saturday evening, April 18, at the University club by Captain John W. Quillian as a compliment to Lieutenant-elect Draper. Plans for a trip to the Panama exposition at San Francisco will be discussed at this smoker. Invitations have been issued to present and former members of the company.

Named by Wilson.

Washington, April 15.—The president nominated Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, collector of customs for the district of North Carolina.

REV. A. A. SWANLUND WILL PREACH TONIGHT

Rev. A. A. Swanlund, pastor of the Concordia Lutheran church, of Thomasby, Ala., and said to be the only Swedish Lutheran minister in this section of the south, will conduct services tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson, at 96 Cherokee avenue. All Scandinavians and especially members of the Swedish Lutheran church are invited to attend.

Sports — Win Game and Trophy---Two Games Today — Edited By DICK JEMISON

Crackers Win the Opener, Hitting Forest More Hard; Double-Header Thursday

By Dick Jemison.

Nine thousand six hundred and eighty-seven persons saw the Crackers win the opening game of the 1914 season at Ponce de Leon park yesterday afternoon, the Nashville Volunteers being the victims.

The count was 6 to 5.

The Vols died hard, and in doing so furnished the huge crowd with the most exciting exhibition of the national pastime that could possibly have been arranged for the opener.

Getting off to a one-run lead in the opening session, which is to be passed by the Crackers in the third, and then tying up a four-run lead in the sixth and losing the game in the seventh, the Vols furnished more thrills than the average Atlanta fan bargained for.

It was a little chilly for a ball game, but the crowd was warmed up to its work and this, with a warm ball game, made the day very enjoyable, even for those who had to sit out in center field and elsewhere.

Dent v. More.

Elliott Dent and Forest More were the opposing twirlers. The former got along swimmingly in all but one inning, the sixth, when, with the apparent warning, he lost his "stuff" and the Vols romped on him for five singles and four runs, tying up the game.

Dent had command on the situation in every other inning. He allowed eight hits and five runs.

More was pounded fiercely by the Crackers, fifteen bingles being netted and only some of the breaks in the game—breaks that come in any ball game—keeping the Crackers from making many more runs. Incidentally he tightened at times with men on bases, the number left on being eight.

It was not a day for the pitchers, apparently, but for the batsmen, and they fattened their batting averages accordingly.

Dent wound up the game in excellent style, fanning the final batsman to face him. The local hurler did not give out a free ticket while More issued one.

Hard Hitting.

Every Cracker got a hit with the exception of Joe Dunn. He hit some hard balls, but they went right straight at some member of the opposition.

Jennings and Welchonce led the Cracker attack with three hits apiece. Long, Cruck and Dent got two each, and on the two that the pitcher made bangs a tale. Dent bat Bill Smith before the game that he would get two hits. They wagered a $5 sky piece. Watch Ed shimmy on that for a new Keely.

Hack Eisel was robbed of a home run by a misinterpretation of the ground rules. It was agreed before the game that any hit into the crowd or inside the park to right field would be called a two-base hit. Eisel faced one over the right field bank fence for as clean a home run as was ever hit, but owing to the misunderstanding about the ground rules he received only two bases on the wallop.

With the exception of the above mentioned fifth inning, the Vols did not show any real batting strength against Dent's masterful hurling. Hemingway led their hitters with two blows.

Dave Callahan pursued the usual way of Cracker castoffs by figuring very prominently in the Vols' rally in the sixth.

Star Plays.

Red Lynch played a grand game at the hot corner for the Crackers, handling a foul tip against the grand stand and handling two hard hit balls in approved style. He got one put-out, six hard chances in splendid fashion.

Dunn's catching and especially his throwing to bases was good. The veteran receiver seems to be in better shape this spring than ever before in his career.

The entire Cracker team played great ball in the field, handling all their chances cleanly and some of them very difficult ones.

Williams played a fine game at the keystone for the Vols. His work was probably the best of any of the Nashville infielders.

Ed Dent's first hit was in reality a triple, but the big twirler in rounding first base, failed to touch it, and in going back to retouch it, could not advance. The blow was given the scoreboard in center. He reached third when Hemingway let Callahan's throw get away.

Kircher's Coaching.

One of the most peculiar incidents of the game and the answer to why the Crackers did not score any more runs than they did on 15 hits is in the men left on bases. The Crackers had eleven stranded for lack of with a pinch wallops, while the Vols utilized every one that they got on the runaways.

The coaching of George Kircher was one of the features of the game. George pulled a Germany Schafer-Nick Altrock tight rope walking act that was immense and got the huge crowd.

George rolled and lossed over the box, until he was chased by the umpire. It is so novel and new for the umpires to see as much pep on the coaching lines as Kircher showed that they just chased him on general principles, probably through surprise and not peculiar.

The fans are for a noisy coacher like Kircher and if George can only play a lick this season he's going to be an idol with these antics.

How They Scored.

The Vols were the first to count. Williams beat out a slow hit to McConnell in the opening session, scored on Callahan's out and tallied when Sloan singled to center.

The Crackers grabbed the lead in the third, when Jennings opened with his second hit, and scored into the right field crowd. Welchonce counted him with a line single to left.

Long put on the hit and run with his captain and smashed a fast one right over the pitcher's head for three cushions. Eibel's double over the right field fence, which was his daddy's homer, tallied Long. Flanagan sacrificed Eibel to third and Hemingway planted Flanagan when Texas leaguer back of second.

The Vols tied it in the sixth. Smith opened with a two-bagger into the right field crowd. More singled, scoring Smith. King advanced to third on a sacrificed, advancing both men, and Callahan sent More home with a single past short. Sloan hit one in front of the plate and while Dunn was throwing him out, King scored. Williams faced

AMATEURS

Called Meeting.

Thursday night, at 630 o'clock, a meeting of the proposed Railroad league will be held, and the following teams are expected to attend: Company C, Atlanta Paper company, Swift & Co., McDonald Baptist church, Third National bank and the Coca-Cola company. Any other teams that desire to be teams in this league should have representatives present.

Elects Officers.

At a meeting of the Junior Sunday School league, held Monday night, H. H. Sutton was elected president of the league, R. R. Allen, of Jackson Hill, vice-president, and J. A. Jackson, of Central Baptist, secretary. The teams in the league are as follows: Jackson Hill Baptist, Central Baptist, Jones Avenue Baptist, Ormewood Park Presbyterian, Gordon Street Baptist and the Agora Federals.

A schedule for the 1914 season was also adopted at this meeting and provides for three rounds to be played, opening on May 2 and closing August 8. This league holds another meeting Monday night at 6:30 o'clock.

Morning Commercial Meets.

On Monday night, at 6 o'clock, the recently organized Morning Commercial league will hold a meeting. This league has organized with five teams, and will play games from May to the middle of July, playing every morning of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Saturday Afternoon to Organize.

The following teams are requested to be present Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, at 119 Peachtree street, for the purpose of organizing into the Saturday afternoon league: Fulton Bag, Exposition Mills, Scottdale, Red Seal, Whittier and Decatur. Also any other teams that desire to enter this league are requested to be present at the above time.

Gate City Meets Tonight.

Tonight, at 8 o'clock, a meeting of the Gate City Amateur League will be held at 119 Peachtree street. This league plays games on Wednesday afternoon from the 20th of May until the first of September. Two more fast teams are needed in this league, and anyone desiring to enter it should have representative present tonight.

Grammar League Calls Meeting.

A called meeting of the local Grammar league will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at 119 Peachtree street. This league has been playing games since the latter part of March and several protests have come up since then. It is very necessary that all managers and captains of teams on both sides of the league be present.

Pitcher Fans 23.

Union Point Ga., April 15.—(Special.) The Union Point baseball team defeated the baseball nine of Greenville here, 7 to 2, in a pretty game of ball. The feature of the game was the pitching of Finch for the locals, who fanned twenty-three men during the game.

Tech High Wins.

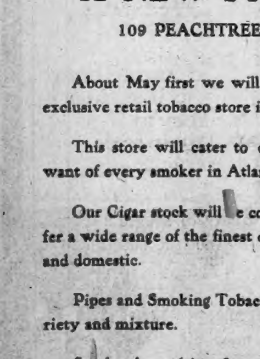

Decatur, Ga., April 15.—Donald Fraser went down in defeat Tuesday afternoon before the fast Tech High baseball team by the score of 5 to 2. The game was played on the Marist college diamond on a wet and soggy field, but was very fast. Both teams played good ball, but luck favored Tech High. Time after time Donald Fraser got men on bases when some Tech man would make a brilliant catch.

Bailey for Donald Fraser and Meyers for Tech, were the leaders in the slugging. Pollock also pitched well for Donald Fraser.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

HAMILTON STICKS WITH ST. LOUIS BROWNS

Parsons, Kan., April 15.—Earl Hamilton, pitcher, who jumped from the St. Louis American league baseball club, to the Kansas City Federals Thursday, today agreed to rejoin the St. Louis team.

Hamilton reached this decision after an all-day conference with President Hedges, of the St. Louis club, at Hamilton's home in Oswego, Kan.

Stovall Surprised.

Kansas City Mo., April 15.—George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federals, who induced Hamilton to leave the St. Louis team last week, granted Hamilton permission to go to his home in Oswego Sunday night.

Stovall said the pitcher was to return tonight and pitch the opening game tomorrow between the Chicago and Kansas City Federals. Stovall said he would not believe Hamilton had jumped until he had definite information from the pitcher himself.

To get Hamilton, Stovall offered a five-thousand-dollar bonus and a three-year contract for a total of $11,000. The pitcher came here after he worked out at the Federal league park.

NEW HAVEN WITNESSES THREATENED BY FOLK

Criminal Proceedings Will Be Instituted Today Unless They Change Attitude.

Washington, April 15.—Unless there is an overnight change in the attitude of the witnesses from the New Haven railroad investigation who refused to tell the interstate commerce commission about operations of the Billard company, to which millions of dollars' worth of New Haven securities are alleged to have been illegally diverted, criminal proceedings will be instituted here tomorrow by the government to compel them to testify. This was announced tonight by Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel of the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Folk tonight wired Homer S. Cummings, of Stamford, Conn., counsel for the recalcitrant witnesses, that arrangements had been made to begin proceedings before the grand jury tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Under federal statutes cited by Mr. Folk, any person who refuses to testify or answer lawful inquiry shall be guilty of an offense and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 or more than $5,000, by imprisonment of not less than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

If proceedings are begun tomorrow, it is said the Billard company, the several recalcitrant witnesses supposed to be connected with the Billard company, the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company and the latter's subsidiary, the New England Navigation company, will be made defendants.

Witnesses who appeared before the commission last week and from whom virtually no information was obtained, were Harry V. Whipple, president of the Merchants' National Bank of New Haven, Conn.; Samuel Hemingway, president of the Second National Bank of New Haven; A. D. May, treasurer of the New Haven; Walker D. Hines, formerly counsel for the road; E. S. Clark, secretary of the New Haven; Arthur W. Brown, assistant treasurer of the New Haven; Edward L. Field, of New Haven, Conn., and Samuel Morehouse, of New Haven, counsel for the Billard company.

RECOVERY IS PREDICTED FOR VINCENT ASTOR

New York, April 15.—The condition of Vincent Astor, who became suddenly ill Monday at Stanisburg, N. Y., the home of his fiancee, Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, was reported improved today. Until early yesterday morning Mr. Astor's condition was considered dangerous. Later the patient showed encouraging signs of improvement.

Mr. Astor's illness was diagnosed as acute congestion of the right lung, resulting from a severe cold which he contracted last week aboard his yacht the Noma.

Whether plans for the wedding of Mr. Astor and Miss Huntington on April 30 will have to be changed depended, it was announced today, upon the rapidity of the patient's recovery.

On the death of his father, John Jacob Astor, in the Titanic disaster two years ago, young Astor came into possession of the greater part of the Astor fortune valued at $87,000,000. He is 23 years old.

Four Injured in Auto.

Guthrie, Okla., April 15.—Dr. L. Mathis, of Fairview, Okla., was probably fatally injured and F. R. Parks, of Cherokee, and P. H. Wimpy and John Cowherd, of Kingfisher, were seriously hurt when the automobile in which they were riding rolled down a thirty-foot embankment near Guthrie today. The men were en route from Kingfisher to Oklahoma City to attend the republican state convention which late today nominated Mathis for state superintendent of public instruction.

FOR A "DRY" MEASURE AS WIDE AS THE NATION

Judiciary Committee of House Urged to Favorably Report Such a Measure.

Washington, April 15.—Nation-wide prohibition was urged before the house judiciary committee today at a hearing on the resolution of Representative Hobson for submission to the states of a constitutional amendment.

The committee room was crowded with representatives of the organizations interested. Most of the spectators were there a large part of them representing the Women's Christian Temperance union.

Representative Hobson opened the argument for his resolution, urging a favorable report that would place the proposal before the house. "We do not propose," he said, "to argue the merits of this question. Our position is that the question before this committee is merely whether the committee and congress will give the people of the states the right to pass upon the matter. It matters not how the individual members of this committee may think of the merits of the case, we think they should be willing to give the people an opportunity to decide the question."

Representative Hobson said he did not believe the resolution is directed against the "sale" of liquor for "beverage purposes," would not interfere with states' rights. He said that under the proposed amendment it would be possible not to manufacture liquor "for use" but not for "sale." The amendment, he said, would not interfere with the "old drinker drinking," but would prevent the "debauching of youth."

To Kill Liquor Traffic.

"This proposal will simply kill the organized liquor business," he said, "and our boys will have an opportunity to grow up sober."

Under cross-examination, Representative Hobson said the present revenue laws covering the manufacture of liquor would be repealed by the passing of his amendment. He said the measure would allow anyone to make whisky for his own use.

"I'm inclined to believe," he said, "that the present iniquitous revenue system would be killed. I believe that the system under which a poor moonshiner is met with a warrant and a gun, and a rich millionaire distiller gives the government a fat check is allowed to go out and debauch thousands—that will be repealed."

Representative Hobson said about 55 per cent of the people of the United States now are living in prohibition territory.

Among women who appeared for the Women's Christian Temperance Union were Mrs. Mary Dye Ellis, of Washington, national superintendent of legislation; Miss Anna A. Gordon, of Illinois, national president, and Mrs. Ford M. Hoge, of Virginia, assistant recording secretary. Mrs. Percy Hickman, president of the Kentucky Women's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. S. M. Dickinson, president Tennessee Women's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. L. O. York, president Virginia Women's Christian Temperance Union; and Miss Clara Neal, president Texas Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Edwin C. Dinwiddie, representing the Anti-Saloon league, was questioned as to the rights of states which might be taken away by the proposed amendment. He said the states would have no trouble in enforcing any laws in accord with the constitution. Rev. Dr. James Cannon, of Virginia, representing the Southern Methodist church, argued along the same lines.

She Showed a Map.

Mrs. Mary Dye Ellis displayed a map showing 41,000,000 people now are living under prohibition laws.

"Don't you think," asked Chairman Clayton, "that you have made such progress without this constitutional amendment that you can go ahead and complete the work without the aid of the government?"

"We have done well," replied Mrs. Ellis, "but we need the aid of the national government to do better."

William H. Anderson, president of the New York Anti-Saloon league, placed in the record a letter addressed to an intercepted "cure" concern at Dwight, Ill., from a distillers' distributing company, at Kansas City, Mo. The letter read:

"Our customers are your prospective patients.

"We can put on your desk a mailing list of over 50,000 individual purchasers of liquor. Each individual on the list is a regular user of liquor. The list of names is new, live and active. We know because we have circulated it regularly. We will furnish the list in quantities at the price listed below."

A scale of prices followed.

Wade H. Wheeler, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Ohio, declared the fight against the liquor traffic had been successful today, upon the rapidity of the patient's recovery.

On the death of his father, John Jacob Astor, in the Titanic disaster two years ago, young Astor came into possession of the greater part of the Astor fortune valued at $87,000,000. He is 23 years old.

BEAVERS' SUPREME DAM MEETS HERE MAY 8-9

These Dates Selected Because Many Members Also Belong to the Shrine.

The supreme dam of the Independent Order of Beavers will hold its national convention in Atlanta on May 8 and 9, this being the tenth annual meeting of the Beavers.

These dates were selected on account of a large number of supreme representatives who are also Shriners and who by coming a week earlier than the Shriners' convention will be enabled to attend both celebrations.

The supreme dam will be entertained by the Atlanta dam. The following eminent men will be delegates: Judge J. N. Pizzo, of Vicksburg, supreme president; R. B. Howard, of Vicksburg, supreme secretary; H. W. English, of Birmingham, supreme organizer and general, and R. S. Hudson, attorney general of Mississippi, past supreme president.

Are the Poor Shiftless?

It hurts mete bear the tone in which the poor are condemned, as "shiftless," or "having a pauper spirit," just as it would if a crowd mocked at a child for its weakness, or laughed at a lame man because he could not run, or a blind man because he stumbled.—"Lavy."

Some of them are "born tired," and enter into life with but one share of vigor or vitality. Some of their mothers were overworked and under-nourished, perhaps scrofulous. Some of them, themselves, are overworked and under-fed, or have lost their efficiency through illness or exposure. And they breathe poisonous air, sleeping in unventilated quarters six or twelve in a room. They drink sewage-poisoned water that makes people lethargic and dull.

Distance lends enchantment to the view, especially when we view the people we don't like.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Smashing the Vice Trust."

(At the Atlanta.)

The sensational white slave picture, "Smashing the Vice Trust," now at the Atlanta, are attracting wide attention. Nothing like them has ever been shown in Atlanta before, and the authentic views of District Attorney Whitman and others have particular interest. Hundreds of women are taking the advice of Dr. Parkhurst and seeing the ten reels for innocent girls and the manner in which Mr. Whitman broke up the vice ring. The attendance has increased at each performance. Matinees are given daily at 3 o'clock.

Otis Skinner in "Kismet."

(At the Atlanta.)

This morning at 9 o'clock seats will be placed on sale for the engagement of Otis Skinner in "Kismet" at the Atlanta. Mr. Skinner comes to the playhouse Monday for four nights and a Wednesday matinee, in "Kismet" he has the greatest role of his career and the critics have come to attach great credit. Already much interest has been shown in the engagement, many mail orders coming from all parts of the surrounding territory. The show is one of the most important of the year. It is massive in its scenic belief and requires an army of stage hands to handle it back of the footlights. The company is perfect in every respect and the performance has metropolitan merit.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There is a tremendously clever bill of vaudeville at the Forsyth this week. Louis Simon, a character comedian of great ability, is the star of the headline act. "The New Persian Garden," the cleverest and the most miniature musical comedy ever produced at the Forsyth, Stuart Barnes in "Impressions." This comedian, a singer and talker, wins attention at once and finishes with certainty. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry, Austin Webb and company, and the scenic novelty presented by Charles Frolic's dogs and the bill. For next week the headline will be Joseph Santley wonderfully interesting playlet, "The Green Beetle." There are eight people in the company. The Hopkins sisters, in a musical oddity, and May West, the accented comedienne, will assist in the magnetic power of the bill.

"Dope."

(At the Grand.)

"Dope" has stood the test. In the face of direct opposition this wonderful photo-drama has drawn great crowds to the Grand at the daily matinee and evening performances. This picture play is an exact photograph of one of the greatest vaudeville sketches the world has ever seen. There is more to the picture than to the sketch, because of the changes to spread the scene. This will be offered at matinee and night daily the rest of the week.

NEW PASSENGER RATES EFFECTIVE ON MAY 1

New Tariffs Filed by All Interstate Roads Indicate Material Reduction.

Washington, April 15.—Readjustment of passenger rates on all interstate railroads in the United States, in conformity with the long and short-haul provision of the law, under orders of the interstate commerce commission, will become effective May 1.

The new tariffs filed by the roads with the commission indicate a material fare reduction, particularly from important terminals and rate-basing points to intermediate points.

Officials of the commission, after an analysis of the tariffs, estimate that "95 per cent of the changes in fares will be reductions" and 5 per cent increases. In such advances as are made the increases are where traffic to intermediate points is so great as to affect seriously the revenues of the roads.

Soon after the enactment of the long and short-haul provision the commission ordered the carriers to readjust their passenger fares, but postponed the effective date of its order pending a supreme court decision in the Minnesota rate case and other cases involving the right of states to fix rates. Later the supreme court upheld the authority of states to make rates, and the commission directed the roads to readjust their passenger fares by May 1.

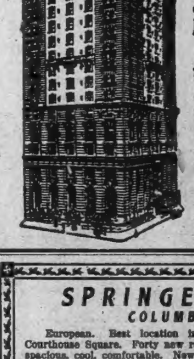

The commission has no means of determining accurately to what extent compliance with the orders will affect revenues because that will depend largely on the volume of traffic, which is variable. While some rates on long hauls will be increased, fares on the shorter hauls to intermediate points will be reduced materially in a great majority of instances. It is provided also that no fare may exceed the sum of the local rates and in the making up of interstate fares the rate fixed by authorities of states must be observed.

SHE FOUND A MAN WITH BLOODY AX AT HER BEDSIDE

Huntington, N. Y., April 15.—Miss Mary Sammis, who lives with her brother Malcolm and their Long Island farm, awoke early today to find a man with a bloody ax in his hands standing by her bed. In the dim light she recognized Frank Fowler, a young farm hand, who slept in the house. "I've just killed you, brother upstairs," said Fowler, "and I'm going to kill you, too."

"I've always been kind to you Frank," pleaded the woman, "and you have no reason for harming us."

"That's right," answered Fowler. "I guess I won't kill you, but I'll go away," and he walked out of the house, leaving the ax behind him.

Miss Sammis stumbled upstairs and found her brother's body on the bed. The police believe Fowler is insane.

WITNESS FOR GUNMEN CONFESSES TO PERJURY

Dresner Confesses He Was Not Near the Scene of Murder.

New York, April 15.—Karl Dresner, one of the eleventh-hour witnesses before Supreme Court Justice Goff last Saturday in the final effort of the four gunmen, slayers of Herman Rosenthal, to obtain a new trial, was arrested today after confessing himself a perjurer in a statement to District Attorney Whitman.

Justice Goff last Saturday denounced the testimony of Dresner and three others as worthless and unreliable. The prosecutor announced he would investigate the source of the testimony. Hearing this, Dresner today appeared voluntarily at Mr. Whitman's office at four hours after the prosecutor had succeeded in having May 6 tentatively fixed as the day for the beginning of the second trial of Charles Becker.

Dresner was examined sharply by Mr. Whitman and after signing a statement in which he admitted that he told many lies on the stand in the final effort to save the gunmen, he then was arraigned before a committing magistrate and locked up in the Tombs for a hearing before the grand jury. In court he pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury.

In his affidavit Dresner told of having seen Becker on the morning of the murder. He said he saw Sam Schepps on the running board. Several days before a committing magistrate had testified he had seen Jack Rose, "Bridgie" Webber and others near another restaurant and had heard Rose urge Webber to "put it over" on Rosenthal as the gambler was leaving the restaurant. Dresner's apparent purpose was to show that others than the gunmen were Rosenthal's slayers.

In his statement today Dresner said he was not near the scene of the murder, did not see Schepps, or Rose, or Webber, did not overhear Rose urge Webber to kill Rosenthal and that his testimony before Justice Goff was untrue.

District Attorney Whitman is said to regard Dresner's confession as significant in connection with Becker's coming trial. It had been reported to him that both Dresner and another of the witnesses who testified before Justice Goff Saturday were prospective witnesses for the state.

The last of the four funerals of the executed gunmen was held today, when the body of "Dago Frank" Cirofici was borne to a cemetery in Westchester county.

CAPTAIN JOHN STOCKS, PIONEER CITIZEN, DIES

Captain John T. Stocks, a native of Georgia, a confederate veteran and one of Atlanta's pioneer and successful business men, died last night at the family home, 409 Courtland street.

In 1850 Captain Stocks came to Atlanta from Alabama. When the war broke out Captain Stocks returned to Cartersville, where he was living when he enlisted in the confederate army and from there he went to Cherokee county in Alabama, engaging in milling, farming and mercantile business. In Atlanta he entered the wholesale and retail grocery business, and it was he was the pioneer dealer in that line.

Shortly after the war, while Cartersville was his home, Captain Stocks married Miss Annie Jones, a sister of the late Sam T. Jones, the evangelist. Two sons came to the union, Porter Stocks and Edward Stocks, both of whom are dead.

When Captain Stocks went into the confederate army it was as commissary of company B, of the Seventh Georgia regiment, General Gartrell's regiment.

Captain Stocks was one of the charter members of Camp Walker, No. 159, U. C. V., the oldest confederate veteran camp.

MORTUARY

Herbert Feldman.

The funeral of Herbert Feldman, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Feldman, who died Tuesday as the result of being kicked by a mule, was held Wednesday morning from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond. Interment took place in Oakland. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon in front of the Feldman residence, 289 South Fryer street, while the child was at play.

J. M. Schubert.

Mount Airy, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) John M. Schubert, Confederate veteran, died at his home here Tuesday afternoon. He was 85 years of age and is survived by his wife and a son and a daughter. Interment was at Level Grove this afternoon.

Franklin Martin.

Franklin Martin, aged 66 years, died Tuesday afternoon at his residence, 919 Marietta street. He is survived by his wife and six daughters. Funeral was held Wednesday at 4 o'clock from Patterson's chapel, and interment was in the potters' field.

Alfred S. Gentry, Sr.

Alfred S. Gentry, Sr., aged 44 years, died last night at 11 o'clock at the residence of his son, Alfred S. Gentry, Jr., in South Kirkwood. The body was taken to the chapel of Bartress-Simmons company, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Nothing is ever settled until it is settled right.

Any issue may be clouded and distorted, but "truth is mighty and will prevail."

The only way to settle any question right is by calm consideration, the application of facts, a strict adherence to law, the exercise of sound discretion and the use of judgment and reason in all things.

All of which justify the assertion that:

Fulton county never had a better sheriff than Wheeler Mangum, and

No sheriff ever had a better and more capable corps of deputies!

The records show that these statements are—

Facts!

Why? Because Sheriff Mangum has done his duty under the law. No sheriff on earth could do more.

This article is intended to combat the principal objections made against Sheriff Mangum as sheriff of Fulton county.

The control of prisoners—their safe-keeping, their food, their comforts and privileges, as well as their protection—all this is, by law, one of the duties of a sheriff, and here is the proof made so plain that the argument is simply unanswerable:

The law holds the sheriff responsible for those things, but leaves the manner of his performance of this duty to his own discretion;

Therefore, if prisoners are safely kept, the law has been obeyed and the sheriff has exercised a wise discretion.

Humane officers of the law have no desire to march prisoners through the streets in chains and irons when there is no reason to believe that they will try to escape, and if, in the discretion of the officer, it is not necessary to handcuff a prisoner and the prisoner does not escape by reason of that fact, the officer has shown a wise discretion and the law has been obeyed.

It is true that Sheriff Mangum did not handcuff a certain prisoner (and he has handled more than two dozen other white men under the charge of murder without handcuffs, not one of whom escaped) and it is also true that that prisoner neither escaped nor tried to escape. Does this not demonstrate beyond doubt that Sheriff Mangum showed a wise discretion and that the law was upheld and not violated?

The people make the law;

The law has to be obeyed.

The results show that Sheriff Mangum has not violated the law, but upheld it in the exercise of a wise discretion.

Again: The law requires a sheriff to protect prisoners at the risk or loss of his own life, if necessary.

If, in his discretion, it is necessary to personally escort a prisoner to and from trial, and by so doing the prisoner is safely conveyed, the sheriff has shown a wise discretion.

By showing such wise discretion, which to him seemed the safe course, Sheriff Mangum obeyed the law and therefore did his duty.

No one could do more—none should do less.

And if, as has been clearly, fairly and conclusively shown, Sheriff Mangum has done his duty, why should he be defeated at this time?

Is it fair, is it just, is it right, to defeat Sheriff Mangum for doing his duty under the law, in the exercise of a wise discretion, the wisdom of which is amply justified and proven by the result, to wit: the safe keeping and protection of prisoners?

What good reason can be given now why he should not be re-elected?

The law did not call him to account. Why should the people condemn him?

As to rumors put in circulation criticising the management of prisoners in jail, Sheriff Mangum scouts them as having no foundation in fact. He stands ready to prove it by the unprejudiced. Such rumors will fail of their purpose and win him votes.

And so "with malice toward none, with charity for all," Wheeler Mangum and his deputies submit their claims of duty properly performed and ask for re-election.

They recognize the sovereign power of the people of the grand old county of Fulton, and, appealing to the great body of the people, are confident that in their fairness, their broad views, their appreciation of services faithfully rendered, they will triumphantly return them to office in the May primary.—(adv.)

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HERE FOR ORGANIZATION

Value of Good Roads Stressed in Address Made by Gov. Slaton.

One hundred and thirty-five county commissioners from every part of the state assembled Wednesday at noon at the Kimball house for their first annual convention. "This large and unexpected number," said Fred Houser, president of the Atlanta Convention Bureau, "comes as a pleasant surprise to the promoters of the movement to organize the county commissioners into a permanent association."

The convention was called to order in the Kimball assembly hall and an enthusiastic meeting was held. Mayor Woodward delivered the address of welcome with response by Judge John W. Maddox of Rome.

Organization Committee.

W. T. Winn was elected temporary chairman and Fred Houser chosen as secretary. A committee was chosen to direct the organization of the association, which takes place tomorrow, and is as follows: J. N. Lane, of Muscogee county; R. J. Freeman, of DeKalb county; W. H. Gardner, of Macon county; B. J. Davis, of Bartow county, and R. L. Bramblett, of Clarke county.

A committee on resolutions was named as follows: H. V. Kell, of Spalding county; W. M. Herndon of Laurens county, and W. W. Hancock, of Jackson county.

Following is the list of commissioners elected on the committee on nominations, and the congressional district each represents: W. J. Tribble, first; A. T. Jones, second; J. M. Lewis, third; A. M. Hill, fourth; Shelby Smith, fifth; W. J. Barrett, sixth; T. H. Adams, seventh; E. M. Williams, eighth; John A. Smith, ninth; G. W. Lokey, tenth; A. T. Miller, eleventh, and J. . Newley, twelfth.

Joseph H. Pratt, state geologist of North Carolina, then spoke upon the employment of convict labor in road construction. An illustrated lecture on "The Public Highways of Georgia" was given by Hon. W. S. McCallie, state geologist of Georgia.

The main purpose of the convention, outside of the organization work, is to discuss the need of a state highway department in Georgia, and the meeting Wednesday afternoon was strictly in sympathy with the establishing of such a department. W. S. Keller, state highway engineer of Alabama, spoke entirely along this line in his address, "The Organization of a Highway Department."

Governor Slaton Speaks.

The delegates adjourned from 5:30 o'clock until 8:30, when they were given a banquet at the Hotel Ansley. There were 200 guests present. W. Tom Winn acted as toastmaster.

Governor John M. Slaton addressed the delegates upon "Good Roads as a State Asset." In stressing the value of the good roads movement, Governor Slaton said:

"The good roads movement is uppermost in the minds of the people of the south today. The coming together of the county commissioners of Georgia exemplifies this, for these are the people who control the finances of the state. They adjourn tomorrow night only to meet again on the big Georgia day of the American Road Congress. Georgia is host of that congress, and this commissioners' convention is a preliminary preparation for Georgia day."

The next speaker was J. E. Pennybacker, former secretary of the American Road congress, who spoke on the road development of the south. Mr. Pennybacker said that the people of Georgia spent all their money building a road, whereas the maintenance of the road was the most important feature.

Charles P. Light, business manager of the American Road congress, delivered an address on the Fourth American Road Congress." This was followed by an illustrated lecture on the construction and maintenance of concrete roads by Lewis R. Ferguson, of Philadelphia.

Elect Officers Today.

The convention will open again this morning at 9 o'clock in the assembly room of the Kimball house, and the election of permanent officers of the association will be held. Road-building and maintenance will be discussed by prominent speakers, and followed by an informal discussion by the commissioners.

Moving picture views of bituminous macadam roads in construction will be shown by Frank B. Earle of New York city.

At 1:30 o'clock a buffet luncheon will be served the delegates, and at 2:30 they will be taken on an automobile tour of inspection of Fulton county roads, convict camps and machinery equipment.

DR. OWEN GETS CALL FROM BROOKLYN CHURCH

Believed That Atlanta Pastor Will Accept Hanson Place Church Offer.

On his return from New York, the Rev. William Russell Owen, pastor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church, received formal notification Wednesday of his unanimous call to the Hanson Place church in Brooklyn. It is generally thought the Atlanta pastor will leave Atlanta. Although he refused, last night, to express himself positively, his attitude was plainly favorable toward acceptance.

The Hanson Place church is one of the oldest and most celebrated churches in America. It was this same congregation which called the Rev. S. C. Dixon, now pastor of the Metropolitan Tabernacle in London. Another of its famous pastors was Dr. F. S. Henson, who was called from it recently to Boston.

Dr. Owen has been pastor of the Capitol Avenue church for five years. He came to Atlanta from Greenville. He is just 34 years old, and only last Sunday celebrated the tenth anniversary of his pastorate in Atlanta.

Dr. Owen's work has mainly been of the kind known as metropolitan. He has done much to organize the young people, and at the present time is president of Baptist Young People's Union of Georgia. He is also a well-known contributor to religious papers.

"I do not expect to announce my decision for at least a week," Dr. Owen said last night. "I am very fond of Atlanta and my present congregation, but it would be unfair to deny that the call from the Hanson Place church is deserving of the deepest consideration."

GRAND COUNCIL MEETS WITH GAINESVILLE LODGE

Warm Welcome Given Members of Royal Arcanum by North Georgia City.

Gainesville, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—The grand council of the Royal Arcanum of Georgia met here at the Masonic hall this morning at 10 o'clock with Gainesville Council No. 517.

The meeting was called to order by C. A. Dozier, of this city, with opening prayer by Rev. J. B. Hampton, pastor of the First Baptist church. A large crowd of citizens visited the opening exercises of the council.

The welcome address on behalf of the Gainesville council was made by Hon. H. E. Parry, which was responded to by Judge Henry S. West, grand regent, of Athens, Ga.

The welcome address on behalf of the city was to have been made by Dr. John R. Rudolph, mayor, but Dr. Rudolph being called away, the address was made by the president of the chamber of commerce. Respons was made by Judge Henry Al McAlpin, of Savannah.

Hon. William G. Mealor made the welcome address on behalf of the chamber of commerce, responded to by P. G. R. A. G. Blalock, of Fayetteville, Ga.

The opening session was held in the Masonic hall at 11 a. m., when matters pertaining to the order were taken up, after which adjournment, and the grand council retired to the Princeton hotel, where they are being entertained by the local council.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock a trolley ride over the city was tendered the delegates.

The council was given a concert at Brenau auditorium tonight. From 9:00 to 10:00 o'clock a reception was tendered by the board of trustees and faculty of Brenau college in the parlors of Yonah hall.

if any opposition. Turner has consulted with nearly every member of council, and says that he has been assured of a sufficient number of votes in council to pass his new ordinance.

Will Appeal to Courts.

Commenting on the action of the board of council authorizing Chairman Frank Reynolds to approve certificates presented by Carter, City Electrician Turner declared that he will take the matter to court to get a judicial interpretation of the ordinance. Carter was denied a permit by the city electrician on the ground that he left the city and that his absence rendered the original permit void. Carter contends that Turner, C. Dixon, now wants to undergo another examination. He is opposing Turner because he was absent from Atlanta only a few months, and that his permit still holds good.

The city electrician is refusing Carter a permit on the strength of his interpretation of section 5 of the ordinance regulating contractors, which is as follows:

"Section 5—On the dissolving of an electrical firm or partnership, the technical license held by a party to said firm or partnership shall become void, and if said person doubles the technical license wishes to engage in the electrical contracting business at a future time, a new technical license must be secured."

BURKE DRAINAGE SURVEY IS STARTED BY PHILLIPS

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Representative Edwards was today advised that the drainage survey of Burke county, Ga., has been started by J. V. Phillips and would be pushed to a speedy conclusion. The result will be published in booklet form and will likely be ready for distribution this fall.

DE GRAFFENREID JAILED FOLLOWING JURY PROBE

Shooting Affray on Streets of Pelham Sunday Being Investigated.

Pelham, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Mitchell superior court has been investigating the killing of John Harris on the streets of Pelham Sunday afternon by Marshal D. C. Campbell, but adjourned tonight with the investigation unfinished.

J. C. DeGraffenreid, a well-known citizen of Pelham, was arrested last night in connection with the killing on a warrant charging murder. The wounds of Campbell and Hare, who were both shot Sunday afternoon, are said to be giving them trouble.

The grand jury will probably complete this investigation tomorrow.

SOON TO SUBMIT DRAFT OF ANTI-TRUST MEASURE

Washington, April 15.—Senator Newlands, chairman, and Senator Robinson, of the interstate commerce committee conferred with President Wilson today relative to the anti-trust legislative program. It was announced after the conference that they, as members of a subcommittee, would submit to the full committee soon their draft of an anti-trust bill. When the committee would report it to the senate was not announced definitely. Senator Newlands said he thought the bill would be ready within a week or ten days, but Senator Robinson thought it could not be agreed upon for three weeks or a month.

That the senate committee will not take the omnibus bill prepared by the house as a basis for its measure was apparent, however, and there is still much doubt whether an agreement between the houses can be reached as to a definite course to be pursued with respect to the proposed trust legislation.

SON OF L. J. DANIEL IN CRITICAL CONDITION

L. C. Daniel, the young son of L. J. Daniel, prominent Atlantan, who is attending college at Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga., is reported critically ill with pneumonia there. His father left Atlanta yesterday for Gainesville to be at the bedside.

Young Daniel is well known and popular in the younger set in Atlanta. Until entering the Riverside Military academy he had been attending school at Stone Mountain high seminary.

He is a member of the Riverside senior class. He has been ill for several days and his condition has caused sad news among his schoolmates.

New Pythian Lodge.

Acworth, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Acworth is making elaborate preparations for the institution of a Knights of Pythias lodge here, next Tuesday evening. The lodge will be instituted with forty charter members. A number of distinguished knights from over the district will be present, including several grand lodge officers. Colonel Jed. L. Hamphries, commanding the second regiment uniform rank, with a company from this command, will be among the specially invited guests. Colonel J. C. Milam, of Marietta, has been appointed installing officer. The Cartersville team will confer the degree work. A preliminary meeting will be held Saturday evening, at which time permanent officers for the local lodge will be selected. The officers of the temporary organization are: Wilbur Colvin, president; Eugene W. Ray, secretary; George L. Lemon, treasurer.

STATE LABOR HOSTS CONVENE IN MACON

Mayor Bridges Smith Welcomes the 400 Delegates to the Central City.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—With 163 delegates in attendance and as many others not delegates, attracted by the meeting, the State Federation of Labor convened in Macon today for a three days' session.

The day was marked by a public meeting in the morning at the city auditorium, a business session in the afternoon and a ball at the Volunteers' armory tonight.

Little business was transacted today, the afternoon session being taken up with the submission of reports, including those of President S. E. Marks, of Atlanta; F. W. Bohl, delegate to the American Federation of Labor meeting held in Seattle, Wash., and William Van Houten, chairman of the legislative committee.

President Marks reported thirty-six new unions affiliated with the state federation during the past year and a total of eighty-six new unions for the past two years. His report spoke in glowing terms of the progress organized labor is making in Georgia.

The report of the committee on resolutions will be made tomorrow, and this is being looked forward to with interest.

There is also considerable interest in the forthcoming report of a special committee headed by Jerome Jones with reference to the attitude of the labor organizations toward former Governor Brown in the Georgia railroad strike.

Tomorrow night Thomas S. Felder will formally open his race for the United States senate in an address before the federation. Jerome Jones will also speak at that time.

JURY READY TO TRY ALLEGED KIDNAPER

Opelousas, La., April 15.—The jury that is to determine the guilt or innocence of W. C. Walters, charged with abducting Robert Dunbar, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar, of this city, was completed in district court here today. Eight jurors had been selected when court adjourned yesterday, and the following jurors were accepted today from the special venire that had been summoned:

Hypolite Miller, merchant; Walter Melille, farmer; Antoine Lamaury, manager Farmers' warehouse; J. B. Sibille, farmer.

H. L. Linder and Alex Edwards, who travel through the country in a wagon selling and mending stoves, arrived here today, having been summoned as witnesses for the state. It is stated by the defense that Linder resembles Walters and that it was this circumstance at the time Robert Dunbar disappeared from a Sunday school picnic that caused Walters and his tinker's outfit with Linder and his outfit. The motion for a continuance was overruled when Linder and Edwards were located near Richland, and subpoenaed to appear here.

Twenty-Five Strikers Jailed.

Portsmouth, Ohio, April 15.—Refusing to sign a blanket bond for their deportation before the grand jury, 16 which they had been held on charges of violating the mayor's proclamation against congregating in the local shoe factory district, thirty-five young men and women striking shoe workers late today were sent to jail. A big crowd cheered them as the cell doors closed behind them.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

ENVOY MAKES READY FOR BULGAR QUEEN

Washington, April 15.—William Caspar, special envoy of Queen Eleanore of Bulgaria, was here today to arrange for the proposed visit of her majesty to the United States. The object of her coming is to investigate methods of hospital administration and relief work of the poor and sick.

Mr. Caspar planned to visit Secretary Bryan today to consult him relative to the attitude of the state department toward the contemplated visit of the queen, how she will be received and entertained. He hoped to complete arrangements so that she can sail for this country May 13 or May 27.

The queen will spend four or five weeks in this country and will go as far west at least as Rochester, Minn., to visit a private sanitarium in which she is interested. During her stay in Washington she may be a guest at the white house.

It's Great to Find Just What You Need

Blood-sick People Everywhere Welcome the Greatest Blood Purifier Known.

Come Out of the Clouds of Doubt and Let S. S. S. Fill your Blood with Health.

If you are down with any blood trouble, call it rheumatism, malaria, eczema, or what you will, or any eruptive condition, put your faith in S. S. S.

It is really the most searching, the most effective, the most cleansing blood remedy known.

It has the peculiar action of soaking through the stomach and intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work in the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, cause acid soreness to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such agonizing pain, and often baffling rheumatic pains.

The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transformers of rich, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, poisons and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cause to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have dragged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

You can get it at any drug store, but be careful not to accept a substitute. If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to the Swift Specific Co., 201 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WHAT DO I GET WITH A BROOKHAVEN LOT?

YOU GET a highly refined finished product.

YOU GET a home site at the hub of the south's most splendid suburban community. The Capital City Country Club insures, around its borders, a community of people, to whom the highest standards of living strongly appeal.

YOU GET a lot planned, in conjunction with the magnificent club grounds which it faces, by the country's most eminent landscape artists.

YOU GET below you an unsurpassed scenic view of a crystal lake and 18 holes of beautiful rolling golf greens.

YOU GET a front yard of 150 acres for golf, tennis, bathing, boating and dancing.

YOU GET an investment that cannot be duplicated elsewhere; it is the history of every large city that property surrounding high-class country clubs is almost unbuyable. You get an investment that is in the recognized center of the city's most active section.

YOU GET the first opportunity to purchase lots fronting Brookhaven Drive East, which is now being opened up and paved.

YOU WILL NOT GET the opportunity to secure a Brookhaven Lot in the near future at the present price---at best it is physically possible for only a limited number of lots to face the Club grounds. When these are gone, they are gone.

WHERE CAN YOU GET MORE AT $14.00 TO $30.00 PER FOOT?

DECLINE IN COTTON FOLLOWED BY RALLY

In Spite of Good Weather Reports, New Crop Positions Were Relatively Steady—Spot Quiet.

New York, April 15.—An early decline in today's cotton market carried prices into new low ground for the season, and May contracts sold off to 12.31, or $2.50 a bale below the high level of last week. Bullish followed, however, on covering, and in spite of favorable weather reports, new crop positions were relatively steady, with the close steady not 1 point lower to 6 points higher.

There was a renewal of old crop liquidation at the opening, and after starting steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points, the near months sold 7 to 11 points under yesterday's closing figures. A few stop orders were uncovered on the break, which carried May contracts to 12.31, or two under the lowest level reached on the early month reaction and the old confidence of the trade was apparently shaken by the absence of bull support, and the unfavorable view of crop conditions.

With May selling about 124 points under May-June in Liverpool, however, houses with English connections were buyers of that position, presumably to undo scattering straddle accounts, and as soon as the stop orders had been executed the market turned steadier on covering. Operators who were selling near months seemed to be buying the later positions in some cases, while there was also a considerable demand from Wall street sources around the 12.31 level.

Closing prices were practically the best of the day, showing rallies of some 9 or 10 points from the early low level. Reports that arrangements were being made to start the movement from the local stock to southern mills were accompanied by rumors that these shipments would be of cotton, rather than from the certificated stock. Local spot people say that much of the cotton here, which has failed to pass the inspection bureau represents good staining value, and that there has been good inquiry for such supplies. These rumors combined with the increased spot business in Liverpool, probably helped to check the early decline, but the market was comparatively quiet on the afternoon rally.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 15.—The cotton market today was under pressure in the early part of the session, but a steadier tone set in and went to a small advance, closing at the highest of the day, a net rise of 2 to 4 points. Trading was not large in volume at any time.

Better weather conditions were reported and telegrams from planters were that recent showers were bringing young cotton up fast. Selling on the new crop months supplied the offerings around the first call, but the interior was supposed to be well supplied trading in Liverpool. Also it was apparent that liquidation in the near months had about spent itself.

The report that cotton was being shipped from Liverpool to this side to fill new contracts called forth some selling.

Spot cotton quiet, 1-16 off; middling 12¾; sales on the spot 650; to arrive 125; good ordinary 12.46; strict good ordinary 11 9-16; low middling 12 7-16; strict low middling 12¾; strict middling 13 7-16; good middling 13 13-16; strict good middling 14; receipts 7,687; stock 167,444.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, April 15.—Cotton spot steady; good inquiry; 7.31; middling 7.27; low middling 6.87. Sales 14,000; for speculation and export 1,000. Receipts 22,000. Futures steady, ranged as follows:

John F. Black & Co.

New York, April 15.—(Special)—Bad weather in the belt held new crop months steady today and they closed 2 to 4 off. Old crop months closed at the same level as yesterday. The spot demand is poor and there seems to be no scarcity of cotton, so that it seems too much to expect any strength in old crop months in the near future.

New Crops are a weather proposition. The markets closed steady at practically the high of the day.

Liverpool is due to come 1¾ to 2¼ points up.

Coffee was dull today and fluctuations were within a very narrow range, but longs are swinging to September, but this will not help them any in the end.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 15.—(Special.)—Continued liquidation in May and July caused lower price in today's early trading, after which the market was quiet with a tendency towards recovery. Reports of large shipments to the south from the local interested stock were without effect on prices, some southern spot markets were lower, and reports from the yarn trade unsatisfactory. Weather conditions throughout the belt are improved, but new crop months held steady at about unchanged prices.

DAY WAS ERRATIC IN GRAIN MARKET

Increased Tightness With Which May Wheat Was Held Had Its Effect on the Entire Market.

Chicago, April 15.—Increasing tightness with which the May delivery of wheat was held tended today to make the market, as a whole, seem rather erratic. Closing prices were unsettled at a shade off to ⅝ to ⅞ cent, compared with last night. Corn also had an irregular finish, varying from ¼c decline to ¼c advance. Oats closed the same as last night to ⅛c higher, and provisions down 12½@15 to 42½.

It took only a limited amount of buying to force May wheat ¼c to a bushel above the topmost figure of the previous session. The effect was that of uneasiness over the outlook for the later months, notwithstanding that crop news was mostly favorable. The disquiet became more pronounced after word was received that the big mills northwest were buying buyers of May, influenced more or less by sharply-diminishing receipts.

Complaints of dry weather in the western part of the winter wheat belt were also in the spring crop states attracted some attention at times and also did continued talk of damage from green bugs and hessian fly. Dispatches about menace from insects, however, were offset by mention of actual damage.

Shorts in corn received quite a scare from unconfirmed reports that vessel room had been chartered here for the shipment of 1,000,000 bushels of corn to the east. There was heavy covering between the 15th and 16th and the more deferred futures especially. September wheat was finally sold against purchases of May. Oklahoma and northern Texas sent reports of damage, in accordance with recent cold weather.

Trade in wheat consisted mainly of changing from nearby to distant options.

Provisions suffered severely from liquidating sales by miscellaneous sorts. The only demand was that of shorts who were taking profits.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 15.—(Special.)—The Liverpool market was steadier this morning, although meeting our decline of yesterday. There continues to be a steady demand for cotton in the foreign markets, sales today being 14,000 bales. There was further scattered southern liquidation which led to an early decline in prices, but at the lower level a better demand appeared, and the market showed some recovery on actual and sight prices.

Weather conditions south were more favorable with cleared and warmer weather, except in the northeastern section of the Atlantic, where there were quite general rains.

The political situation appeared to exercise less influence today than was the case yesterday, and at the lower level the market had a steadier tone.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 15.—Cotton seed oil was a shade lower under scattering liquidation on the break in lard. There were supporting orders in evidence, however, which served to check aggressiveness on the bear side. Final prices were 1 to 5 points net lower.

The cotton seed oil market closed steady. Sales, 7,400@3.00.

Crop Conditions.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 15.—Crop conditions in the northwest are regarded as favorable. Rains reported Wednesday received today from all sections by the northwestern railroads. While snow storms, particularly freezing at night, has delayed seeding to some extent, feeling is general with warm weather now, the crop will be planted moderately early.

Reports from the interior indicate that wheat is going into the ground, both south and north, as fast as the farmers' implements and facilities will permit. An elevator manager estimates that with a continuance of present weather three-quarters of the spring wheat in North and South Dakota and Minnesota would be needed by Saturday. Reports that a subnormal amount of plowing was done last fall facilitates the work this spring.

While snow and rain during the last week have furnished considerable additional moisture, there is not an over-abundance in central and western South Dakota, the same is true in the western part of North Dakota.

Heavy and rough hogs, 200 to 250, $7.70@8.50.

Above quotations apply to corn-fed hogs. Mast and peanut fattened 1¼c to 2c under. Hogs coming more fresh than usual at this season of the year. Market slightly lower.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET IS UNUSUALLY QUIET

Business in the produce line has been unusually quiet for the week before Easter, caused mainly by light receipts both in fruits and vegetables.

The crop of Florida oranges and grapefruit is about exhausted, very few oranges being received in this market, selling at $2.50@3.00 per box. California oranges are coming freely, several cars sold here this week at very satisfactory prices. Apples very few coming and selling at an advance over last week.

No pineapples in the market this week. Tomatoes very plentiful and movement is good at fair prices.

Strawberries have gone all the gates this week. The northern buyers were on the ground in Florida all the week, buying every one offered at extremely high prices as long as they could get them through. This naturally made receipts very light here and prices high.

But the northern buyer quit Thursday, not being able to get his berries to market for Easter after that time. Then all shipment turned to southern or nearer markets, causing heavy receipts for Atlanta Saturday, forcing the market down from 6c to 8c per quart.

The same deal applies to snap beans, causing them to drop almost $1 per drum the last two days.

Green peppers and new potatoes are more plentiful the last two days and market lower.

Celery in limited supply and moving freely at very satisfactory prices. Very few squash and cucumbers coming. Lettuce market good, fancy stock scarce, selling on arrival at fancy prices. Plenty poor small head lettuce here and going cheap.

Cabbage very plentiful,

Rich's Good Morning!

Curtain Prices Drop Down! Down!

Every curtain in stock is included, and the stock is at its best for Spring.

Any kind of curtain any housekeeper will want for almost any purpose is here.

Savings are 1-5 to 1-3 & More

EXTRAORDINARY curtain selling the last three days. Customers came in, saw the fresh, attractive patterns, noted the "SPECIAL SALE PRICES," and ordered the quantities needed for their different rooms. "Just like that!" When a store gives people what they want at a price lower than they had expected to pay, neither salesmanship nor "hurrah advertising methods" are needed. However, our salesman will gladly show you the different styles—the curtains and prices alone will tell their story of VALUE. Here is part of the detail:

$1.15; values to $1.50.
$1.25; values to $1.75.
$1.50; values to $2.25.
$1.95; values to $3.00.
$2.65; values to $3.50.
$3.00; values to $4.50.
$3.50; values to $5.00.
$4.00; values to $6.50.

Prices climb gradually to $20 for curtains worth to $30. In between are many odd lots at greater reductions.

(Curtains—Third Floor.)

is in, and those customers who have been asking for it will please hurry. For this ratine sells as soon as it hits the counter—and justly. Though seemingly all silk, it has enough cotton woven into it to give body, and to insure washing and wear. It tailors beautifully, drapes delightfully, and is altogether charming for new spring suits and frocks. Blue, gray, wistaria, lavender, rose, pink, light blue and tan. 40 inches. $1.

The Last French Steamer Brought Three New Blouses From Paul Poiret

POIRET has brought out a new blouse symbolizing the art of Bakst, the Russian artist now lionized in Paris. The blouse is a strange style—quite indescribable. It is made of silk in strange "Futurist" colorings combined with white. It has short sleeves and it is very full. The price is $9.00.

—A corded white crepe blouse has deep suede belt of orange with orange colored buttons down front, and orange chenille on cuffs and collars. A picture blouse at $9.

—A matinee blouse to wear to afternoon dances charmingly combines a tan and white crepe with entredeaux work. Green satin belt and Tango tie beaded tassels. Full sleeves, $9.

Monsieur Paul Poiret authorized the Larrymade Waist Co. to reproduce the above waists in this country. Manufacturing in quantities brings the price down to $5. Paul Poiret designed waists are to be had in Atlanta only at Rich's.

Prices on Sheets, Cases and Spreads are down to bedrock. Prices have touched bottom. In four days they go back to normal.

$12.50 Mattress $8.75

The equal of any $12.50 mattress we have seen in the city. 50-pound weight; filled with extra good quality sanitary felted cotton. Finished with French roll edge; imperial stitched sides. Covered with genuine A. C. A. ticking. French covered sateens or highest grade art ticking.

$6.50 Mattress $5.00

Compare this high-grade, sanitary cotton mattress with any you find in the city at $6.50. It is a full 40-pound mattress, covered with sateen or art cretonne ticking and finished with a firm roll edge.

$8.50 Mattress $6.50

Felt cotton mattress, soft and sanitary, sateen or art ticking cover, finished with roll edge.

TRIBUTES ARE PAID TO BUTT'S MEMORY

Beautiful Memorial Bridge Is Dedicated at Augusta. Handsome Bronze Statue Unveiled.

Augusta, Ga., April 15.—Simple but impressive exercises attended the dedication here today of the Butt memorial bridge erected as a tribute to the memory of the late Major Archibald Willingham Butt, aide to former Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, who perished in the Titanic disaster on April 14, 1912.

Former President Taft, a delegation of Masons from the Temple Noyes Lodge of Washington, of which Major Butt was a member; local Masons and members of the Butt Memorial association, participated in the services, which were held on the handsome new bridge spanning the canal at Fifteenth and Greene streets.

Arrangements had been completed for the dedication to be held yesterday afternoon, but on account of rain it was necessary to postpone the ceremonies until today.

The formal dedication of the bridge was preceded by the laying of a cornerstone with ritualistic ceremonies by the Masons.

Former President Taft, the first speaker, spoke feelingly of his former aide as a "southerner through and through."

"I like to think of him," said Mr. Taft, "as the best type of the new south, with its full flavor of the chivalrous and patriotic sentiment of the old south, strengthened by the trials of war and its consequences, mellowed by success in its struggles against obstacles after the war, and turned into the deepest loyalty to the flag by the Spanish-American war, and a sense of a full share in the power and responsibility of the government of the country.

"He was a southerner through and through. He had the tradition of the south deep-seated in his nature. But he had the self-control that enabled him with entire self-respect to pass unnoticed expressions of prejudice or criticism toward what he held dear, made thoughtlessly, or upon the assumption that he was not a southern man.

"The bridge proper is constructed of concrete. At each of the two approaches are two massive lions, carved from limestone, one bearing a bronze shield engraved with the coat of arms of the United States, another with the Georgia coat of arms of the Butt family and the fourth the Temple-Noyes lodge coat of arms. Four tall columns surmounted by bronze eagles rise from the four corners of the central arch of the structure. In the center is a bronze bas-relief of Major Butt. A bronze tablet bears the following inscription, which was written by former President Taft:

"In honor of Archibald Willingham Butt.

"Born in Augusta, Ga., September 26, 1865.

"Graduated University of the South, 1888.

"Major in United States army, trusted aide-de-camp to two presidents.

"Major Butt went to his death on the steamer Titanic after the rescue of the women and children from that ill-fated vessel, April 14, 1912.

"His courage and his noble and lovable qualities as a man.

"His courage and high sense of duty as a soldier.

"His loyalty and efficiency as a public servant.

"His fellow citizens of Augusta dedicate this bridge."

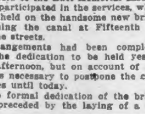

An Unexpected Feature.

A beautiful and unexpected feature of the day's exercises was the presentation to the citizens of Augusta of another handsome memorial of the late Major Butt, through Mr. LeRoy Herring, wealthy master of the Washington Masonic lodge, in the form of a life-size copper reproduction of Major Butt.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, immediately after its delivery, the handsome statue was set up in the lobby of the Bon Air hotel, where the entire party and many other visitors for the memorial exercises are stopping, and was admired by thousands of people. This morning it was removed to a location near the tablets on the bridge, and was conspicuously a part of today's exercises.

As a general thing, when a man gets wealthy enough to patronize poetry as a luxury he prefers broiled lobsters.

Your Grandmother's Remedy for Purifying the Blood

And Renovating the System in the Springtime

Ask for Sulphurb Tablets

What was grandmother's unexcelled remedy? Haven't you heard of it? Yes, you have! It was sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. The main trouble with it was its nauseous taste.

A modern method puts the cream of tartar and sulphur into sugar-coated tablets and mixes them with herbs, roots, etc., making a wonderful tonic blood purifier and system cleanser.

Just try Sulphurb Tablets (not sulphur tablets), but Sulphurb—remember the name—and get the tablets in sealed tubes at 50c per tube.

Grown-up people and children who don't feel well, who are constipated or sluggish, or who have pimples, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and the like, can soon rid the system of these impurities by taking this good old-fashioned remedy in modern form. Their action satisfies or money is refunded by the Prescription Products Company, Dayton, Ohio. A free trial sent to any address. Buy of any well-stocked druggist.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Announcement was made yesterday of the proposed erection on Peachtree street of the south's most elaborate moving picture theater by Pete Mion at a cost of $25,000.

It will be located near Poplar street on the property now occupied by the building formerly tenanted by the old Sanitary Barber Shop concern. Plans have been completed and work will begin May 1.

The new theater will have a seating capacity of 750, and will run from Peachtree to Broad streets. A ten-year lease has been taken on the property by Mr. Mion from the Hunnicutt estate.

A feature of the entrance will be a deep rotunda, 20 feet in space and 30 feet high, designed along the Corinthian style.

Five thousand dollars, Mr. Mion announced, will be spent on the rotunda and entrance. A huge electrical effect—one of the biggest in operation in the south—will be installed on the exterior. The lighting effect of the entrance will also be another marked feature.

The entire exterior and rotunda will be done in Rookwood tile. The interior will be designed in Byzantine. The balconies will extend along the wall, and will be accessible from both Broad and Peachtree street entrances.

Atlanta is sprucing up as each day brings nearer the opening of the 40,000 to the Shrine convention.

The clean up and paint up campaign is manifest in every section of the city, especially the residential neighborhoods—and the downtown business houses are making daily toilettes with hose and sandstone and paint.

Huge electric signs erected especially for the event are being hoisted over the streets and upon skyscrapers, and appropriate Shrine decorations and adorning the interior of downtown conversation places. Electric lighting fatalities that will make Atlanta a sightless area for a solid week are being rapidly installed.

The terminal station plaza will be one of the best lighted spaces during the convention. Plans have been made and work will soon begin upon installing lighting fixtures that will make the spacious plaza a place without a speck of darkness, and as dazzling as the concentrated effect of a hundred high-powered search-lamps.

Another Broad street realty sale was completed Wednesday, when E. M. Grant & Co. sold 77 Broad street for Mrs. Mary S. Brevard to John H. Boylston for a consideration of $26,600. The property fronts 25 feet on Broad street and has a depth of 66 feet. It holds a two-story brick building.

CHOLERA IS FEARED FROM PANAMA CANAL

Boston, April 15.—Fear that the opening of the Panama canal may be followed by a world-wide redistribution of tropical fevers and cholera which will cause great commercial loss, was expressed today by Dr. Richard P. Strong, head of the Harvard school of tropical medicine.

Dr. Strong was formerly at the head of the government biological laboratory in the Philippines and later became prominent through his work in combating the pneumonic plague in Manchuria.

"The troubles to be feared from the spread of tropical diseases by traffic through the Panama canal," he said today, "are rather heavy financial losses through disturbance of trade than any great loss of life. Modern medicine has so far mastered the ways of checking infectious diseases that in many civilized countries no great mortality is to be feared from the introduction even of plague, yellow fever and cholera. For the United States and the Western Europe the greater peril is to trade because medical control of the spread of tropical diseases rests first of all on the stoppage of traffic.

"One of the most interesting and not improbable changes in the distribution of tropical diseases is that the west coast of South America, particularly Quayaquil, may send yellow fever to India and receive Asiatic cholera by way of exchange."

TO KEEP AKERMAN FOR "TRUST" TRIAL

McReynolds Insists on Retaining District Attorney for a Time When West Presents Name of Hitch.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Attorney General McReynolds told Senator West today he would insist that Alexander Akerman be retained as assistant district attorney for the southern district of Georgia until after the trial of the case against the American Naval Stores company, sometimes called the naval stores trust. This case is set for May 18, and there will be much trying work for him to consume.

Senator West presented the name of R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, for appointment. Mr. McReynolds made the same point against Hitch that he had against A. Pratt Adams. He will retain Akerman. Hitch is a member of the law firm of Hitch & Denmark, because of the firm's connection with small railroads and other corporations.

"There is no reason to fear that Mr. Denmark will attempt to influence Hitch with his present law partner should the latter enter the government service as district attorney," said Senator West.

In view of the objections urged, Senator West also presented the names of A. D. Wright, Cordele, and T. M. Sausay, of Savannah, as alternates, for appointment.

"Did you present them in that order?" he was asked.

"No, I didn't mention any particular order," he replied, "but presented the three names for the consideration of the department."

Senator Hoke Smith was asked today if he would attempt to block the nomination of Mr. Hitch.

"I do not consider that the arrangement I had with Senator Bacon in regard to south Georgia appointments will prevent me from a hold in the present situation," said Senator Smith. "However, I have no objection to Captain Hitch."

CONGRESS READY TO BACK WILSON

of war, and that a formal declaration of war probably would not be made in any event because this nation recognizes no formal government in Mexico.

There are those in Mexico who believe the latest move of the United States toward Mexico will mean actual intervention; that this government will blockade ports on both coasts; that the Rio Grande border forces will be augmented by powerful reinforcements and a vigorous campaign begun to force an end to Huerta and to establish a Mexican government which would command recognition by the United States.

Move Is No Bluff.

"It is ridiculous for any one to think," said Senator Shively, after conferring with the president, "that the United States in this move toward Mexico is 'bluffing.' The time for temporizing has ended. The patience of this government is exhausted. We are for peace, but not for peace at a sacrifice of the dignity of this nation."

Tomorrow the house committee on foreign affairs will meet to consider developments.

Representative Flood, chairman, and Representative Cooper, ranking republican member, who saw the president today, will apprise the committee formally of conditions as outlined by the president.

A few discordant notes were sounded in congress today. Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, charged that the president sought to use the Atlantic fleet "to enforce the mandates of his personal prejudice" against Huerta. Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, declared refusal of Huerta to salute the flag with twenty-one guns should not precipitate the sacrifice of an American life. Senator Works, of California, criticised the administration's attitudes.

Slum Heredity.

(Albion Fellows Bacon in The Survey.)

Several generations of slum environment will produce a slum heredity, and the children will have that to contend with, as well as the slum environment. Most of the slums are girls who never saw a room properly cleaned, or ate a meal properly cooked, and either did their mothers or their grandmothers. There was "nothing to with," of course. They had no or utensils or materials. There have been wealth, even nobility, was back in that family, but it "butlered no parsnips," and provided no soap. The use of the right fork comes only by using forks. No matter how many Greek professors grace one's ancestry, or how many clergymen bless it, the descendant will lisp in billingsgate, if he hears nothing else.

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE HOOPER FOR GOVERNOR

First to Have Three Successive Terms Since the War, if Elected.

Nashville, Tenn., April 15.—The republican state convention today renominated Ben W. Hooper for a third term as governor. If elected he will be the first governor who has had three successive terms since the civil war. The convention indorsed Judge Sam C. Williams, independent democrat, appointee of Governor Hooper, to succeed himself.

The national committee's plan for changing the representation was referred. The national prohibition amendment was indorsed.

FRAUDS CHARGED TO WANAMAKER'S STORE

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—An investigation by a federal grand jury of custom frauds was completed here today, when the jury made a report to the United States district court recommending that the government proceed to recover the duty losses suffered because of alleged irregularities in the importation of personal goods.

The report of the jury stated that "the investigation has concerned importations made by 'Wanamaker's' during a period of upwards of thirteen years, both in general merchandise cases and in so-called sample cases." The jury finds that, "with few exceptions, the importations made in general merchandise cases have been regular. As to the importations made in 'sample' cases, the jury finds irregularities both as concerns importations of merchandise for the use of the business and the collector's importations of goods for the personal use of the heads of the business."

The report further states that "in March, 1913, 'Wanamaker's' paid the government $100,000 in settlement of the civil claim for unpaid duties arising from the irregularities concerning importations of merchandise," but that alleged irregularities concerning certain importations of personal goods were unknown to the government at the time of settlement, and therefore the jury recommends that the government proceed to recover.

The Virtues of the Poor.

It is so easy to account for the faults of the poor. It is their virtues that are unaccountable. We find many cases of heroism, in their struggle against desperate odds. The generosity of the poor is proverbial, and seems to be in inverse proportion to their possessions. It is a common thing to find a family giving up one of their rooms to another. When a new of a family in two rooms giving one to a woman who was dying with tuberculosis. It is not unusual for one or more waifs to be taken into a family, even though the meager supply of food and clothing is already insufficient.

As I write these things there comes over me again that feeling that always overwhelms me when I look out upon an audience of well-dressed, well-fed, well-housed people, and note the sheen of silk and the glisten of jewels. How can we put the story of Poverty's Children into the vocabulary of these Children of the Sunshine?
