MEXICAN "SNIPERS" AT LAST SILENCED BY BLUEJACKETS

Admiral Badger Reports Desultory Fighting Over at Vera Cruz — Americans Search Houses for Arms.

THREE MORE AMERICANS KILLED BY THE "SNIPERS"

And 25 Are Wounded. Badger Reports Food Supply Short — Change for Better Appearing.

Washington, April 23.—Fighting in the city of Vera Cruz finally has stopped. Rear Admiral Fletcher by wireless under date of 9 o'clock tonight reported that desultory firing that had continued since the American forces landed Tuesday had been attended by a house-to-house search and disarming of all inhabitants.

NAVY DEPARTMENT MAKES STATEMENT.

At midnight the navy department issued the following statement:

"Writing from Vera Cruz at 9 p. m. Thursday, General Fletcher reports that the desultory firing which was [illegible] a house-to-house search and the disarmament of the inhabitants. Approximately 400 prisoners [illegible] during the [illegible] of the city. Among the [illegible] are [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] of the [illegible] and equal warfare with dignity, but which until today, we desired to avoid" did not mean that Carranza at last did desire war.

SAYS CARRANZA DESIRES PEACE.

"Not at all," he replied. "It couldn't mean that because I know that my chief wants peace."

For a time it was thought the translation might be at fault and that Carranza's Spanish really meant, "but to this very day we desire to avoid," but careful examination of the original showed that the translation was correct. It was made by Samuel Belden, newspaper and Carothers for consultation. They carefully weighed the meaning of every word and phrase.

Requiem said, in giving evidence of the peaceful intentions of the rebel government, that Carranza had refused a number of offers from federal garrisons to join him if he would take the field against the United States.

"To all of these offers, we have returned negative replies," said Pasquiera.

"We cannot join forces with Huerta for any purposes."

General Villa received reporters tonight and made guarded replies to a number of questions.

Asked if foreigners would be protected should the rebels be brought into a war against the United States, he replied:

"Our forces, in an event which I hope will not come about, would take the opportunity of proving to the world that we are a civilized people and capable of following all rules of civilized warfare. I would give perfect guarantees to all neutral foreigners and am willing to vouch for this personally."

READY TO OBEY GENERAL CARRANZA.

When asked whether he would join forces with Huerta in war against the United States, he said:

"As I have already stated, such an event is improbable, but to answer your question, I must state that I am a soldier, and am ready to follow all orders of my chief, General Carranza."

General Villa, when asked to express an opinion on General Carranza's note to President Wilson, replied: "It was written with the brain of a Saxon and the soul of a Latin."

He would not make any statement as to his opinion regarding President Wilson's message of yesterday, to General Carranza, beyond the following:

"I am a soldier, have never considered in that capacity it would be improper for me even to comment on that matter."

Pasquiera made the following formal comment on President Wilson's statement of today:

"The wishes and intentions which he manifests to respect by all means the sovereignty of my country is another evidence of the great mental and moral standard of President Wilson, and I expect future developments to further prove it."

There were no official communications between General Carranza and President Wilson today, although a statement was expected from Washington.

REBELS CEASE TO FIGHT FEDERALS.

Brownsville, Texas, April 23.—Hostilities between Mexican federals and constitutionalists, fighting for the possession of Monterey, largest city of northern Mexico, have ceased, according to reports here today, and leaders of the two armies conferred under a flag of truce in the situation existing between the United States and Mexico.

Nothing official concerning the report could be learned here or at constitutionalist headquarters in Matamoras. It was generally believed that Federals who evacuated Piedras Negras and Nuevo Laredo would concentrate in the south with the intention of joining the contending forces at Monterey and Saltillo.

Much anxiety is felt among citizens here and many precautions are being taken. The guard at the international bridge has been doubled and the local militia company recruited to war strength.

General Jesus Carranza, commander at Matamoras, said today he had been instructed by his brother, the "first chief" of the rebels, to avoid all trouble. He would make no further statement concerning long dispatch from Governor Carranza.

The Matamoros garrison is comparatively weak, owing to reinforcements sent to Monterey.

REBELS TO ATTACK TAMPICO FEDERALS.

Brownsville, Texas, April 23.—General Zaragosa, federal commander at Tampico, Mexico, has been given twenty-four hours to surrender by General Luis Caballero, commanding the constitutional forces who have been besieging the city, according to a message given out at constitutional headquarters at Matamoras, opposite here.

This was considered here as disposing of the report that Tampico and constitutionalists at Tampico had united to oppose the American fleet.

It is also said that constitutionalists officials that the American consul at Tampico and the commanders of American warships in the harbor had been notified by General Caballero of his ultimatum to the federals.

The date of the ultimatum was not given, but at Matamoras it was intimated that they expected news of a battle late tomorrow or the next day.

REBELS REPORTED JOINING FEDERALS.

Eagle Pass, Texas, April 23.—It was reported late today that the former constitutionalist soldiers have joined the Mexican federals encamped ten miles south of Piedras Negras.

The situation here is tense and among many unconfirmed rumors is one that four American citizens were killed at Morelova today.

Two companies of the Seventh United States infantry and Battery C, Third Field artillery, which have been on border patrol here, were ordered today to proceed to El Paso.

The Fourteenth cavalry, also on border duty, was ordered to concentrate here to watch Mexico, and the force ordered to El Paso.

50 MERCER STUDENTS PREPARE TO ENLIST

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Fifty students of Mercer university have expressed a desire to enlist in case of war with Mexico, and this morning sent a committee to call on the local recruiting officer of the army to find out the method of procedure. It is understood to be the desire of the Mercer boys to organize a military company of their own and be among the first to offer their services if a call for volunteers is made.

MARINES WANTED FOR U. S. SERVICE

Sergeant Miller Receives Orders to Recruit Every Possible Man Without Lowering the Standard.

Sergeant H. O. Miller, in charge of the Atlanta recruiting station of the United States marine service, on South Broad street, has received orders to recruit every man possible without lowering the present standard of qualification.

The army or navy recruiting stations in Atlanta on Thursday had not received any orders.

Sergeant Miller states that since the arising of the Mexican crisis he has had several times as many applicants for enlistment as during the months preceding, and also has enlisted several times as many men.

"In the last two days," he says, "I have enlisted five men, which is more than I enlisted in the entire last month. I have signed down scores of men in the last several days who wanted to enlist. The reason for this is that the qualifications for the marine service is so much higher than in either the army or the navy.

Besides at the marine recruiting station, there have been many applicants at the army and navy stations.

And, too, the glamor of adventure and the thirst for glory aroused by the recent Mexican developments is having its effect upon the ranks of the national guard.

There has been a noticeable increase in applications for enlistment in the Fifth regiment. Captain W. H. Lamb stated on Thursday that in the last several days he has enlisted ten new men in his company, the Grady Cadets of the Fifth regiment.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, who on Wednesday received orders to ascertain where available sites for mobilization camps might be had and to make tentative contracts, has received no further orders. He has notified the headquarters of the first division what may be expected in these particulars in Georgia, and is now awaiting further communication.

WILSON ATTACKED BY G. O. P. SENATORS

Lodge, Borah and Others Declare We Are at War With Mexico—Policy of Administration Criticised.

Washington, April 23.—The senate late today, after considerable debate, passed the emergency measure giving President Wilson $500,000 to be used in his discretion for the removal of American citizens from Mexico. The resolution, which passed the house yesterday, went at once to the president for his signature.

That the United States and Mexico actually are at war today and that another forty-eight hours will be passed, in my judgment, we shall be at war with united Mexico," was the declaration of Senator Borah today during the debate.

Wants United States to Get Out.

Senator Borah declared that the United States should immediately get out of Mexico, Haiti, Santo Domingo and Nicaragua. Senators Smoot and Borah criticised the way in which the administration has saddled the Mexican situation.

"We are enforcing upon the people of Nicaragua a government they do not want. It is just plain and unadulterated intervention into the affairs of our neighbors that has led the whole world to suspect all of the nations to whom we have given sovereignty over these countries," said Senator Borah.

"I'm not in fact saying I want it understood that I am not challenging anything that the president has said. I believe he should have every possible power in regard to the United States not entering more territory, but that is what we did when we bought Louisiana. Jefferson annexed Louisiana. I believe that the American flag never goes up in Mexico it will never come down."

Senator Borah further declared that "the policy we are pursuing will inevitably lead to our taking military foot of territory to the Panama canal, though I would regard that as a crime and a national calamity."

Lodge Attacks Majority.

Senator Lodge, who followed Senator Borah, criticised the majority for refusing to accept an amendment to the justification resolution broadening its scope so as to refer to the indignities suffered in Mexico in addition to the incidents at Tampico and Vera Cruz.

Senator Hitchcock said that to have accepted the amendment would have shown discourtesy and disrespect to the president.

"I refuse to consider that a reason," said Senator Lodge, pounding his fist on a desk. "Are we sent here to be courteous to the president, or because we criticise the policy of a resolution which was offered by a democrat and comes from the white house? We will not be run down like that. We cannot be charged with lack of manhood. Presidents and policies have always failed to be criticised here and always will be."

Senator Lodge charged that administration leaders had refused to restrict the scope of the resolution, for the reason that they hoped to bring Carranza and Villa from any alliance with Huerta.

Senator Smith of Michigan, said action by congress in placing an embargo on shipment of arms into Mexico was at the white house request. He asserted that the joint army and navy board yesterday had agreed that the embargo against arms going across the border should be restored.

Villa Getting Arms.

"My advices from the border," said Senator Fall, "is that Villa was at Juarez night before last with 6,000 men and arms were constantly being received across, and that the United States army stood by while ammunition was being carried by train to the state department."

Senator Lewis defended the president's course in Mexico.

Senator Lewis said that if Carranza spoke a word of peace to Huerta he would be laid at the door of senators who voted for the resolution which the resolution which would have been tantamount to a declaration of war when the president of the United States had made it clear that he wanted peace.

"Is the time to call the president of the United States a hypocrite? Shall we wait," he said, "until 6,000 men and arms were constantly being received across, and that the United States army stood by while ammunition was being carried by train to the state department."

Senator Lewis defended the president's course in Mexico.

Senator Lewis said that if Carranza spoke a word of peace to Huerta he would be laid at the door of senators who voted for

REVILERS OF THE FLAG ARE TO BE ARRESTED

New Orleans, April 23.—Superintendent of Police Reynolds has issued an order for the arrest of any person making "disparaging remarks about the army and navy and the American flag on the streets of this city."

The order was issued when the superintendent was advised that four soldiers in uniform had forcibly dispersed a quintet of street orators who were haranguing a crowd and charging that the army and navy were subsidized.

VERA CRUZ RAILWAY SEIZED BY FORCES OF UNITED STATES

Major Smedley D. Butler Leads Detachment of Marines to Capture Strategic Point Held by Huerta's Men.

MEXICANS ARE MASSING TO ATTACK AMERICANS

Reported Huerta's General Is Gathering Troops to Attempt to Retake Vera Cruz. Americans Say Mexicans Cannot Retake City.

Washington, April 23.—American marines and bluejackets today gained possession of breastworks three miles inland from Vera Cruz. This position is on the railroad to Mexico City, and had been in possession of Huerta soldiers since the United States forces took possession of the city.

General Gustave Maas, former Mexican commander at Vera Cruz, was reported today to be intending to move against the city with strong reinforcements brought up from Puebla.

Major Smedley D. Butler, of the marine corps, was dispatched on outpost duty with a detachment of marines to a position a few miles beyond the western limits of the city on the railroad. They took light field pieces with them. Many of the men were drawn from the Panama battalion formerly commanded by Major Butler.

The city was prepared throughout the night for an attack by the Mexicans. Captain Rush, acting under the orders of Rear Admiral Fletcher, continued in immediate command of the garrison.

With the exception of the trampings of detachments of sailors and marines, there was scarcely a sound in the city, but occasionally a sniping shot was heard from the suburbs.

5,000 AMERICANS HOLD VERA CRUZ.

The strength of the American forces on shore at Vera Cruz was estimated this morning at 5,000 by Commander Charles F. Hughes, chief of staff to Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger. They are accompanied by a full equipment of field guns and machine guns.

Although General Gustave Maas was reported to be assembling inland several thousand Mexican troops for an assault on the city, Commander Hughes said that the American force in Vera Cruz was capable of repelling such an attack without using the ship's big guns, which might cause damage to the city.

Rear Admiral Badger's latest figures this morning gave the total of the American casualties as 19 dead and 45 wounded.

Several of the latter are probably fatally hurt.

Flag officers from the American fleet boarded every liner today and looked over the manifests for arms and ammunition. They warned the commanders not to land war supplies.

Several small coasting vessels were taken in charge by American officers, who sent them out of the inner harbor because it was thought they might harbor Mexican sharp-shooters.

The flag officers were instructed to impress upon all the Mexican ship commanders and others the fact that the United States was not making war on Mexico, but was merely holding Vera Cruz in order to obtain reparation for indignities.

No alarming reports were received from Tampico today, but an American squadron outside the breakwater is concealed and ready to proceed there at an hour's notice.

HOW AMERICANS TOOK VERA CRUZ.

Early yesterday afternoon the city of Vera Cruz was in undisputed possession of the American invading forces. Although there was no organized force against them and the snipers were less in evidence than at any time during the fighting, eight Americans were killed and about thirty wounded. While the Mexicans suffered more severely, the number of their casualties had not been ascertained, but the best estimates indicated that in the engagements of Tuesday and Wednesday their dead amounted to about 150. No person knows how many Mexicans were wounded, as a large part of them were taken away and hidden by friends.

In the streets about the plaza Wednesday afternoon lay fifteen or twenty bodies, a majority of them attired in citizen's clothing. Some of these men evidently had been dead since the engagement of Tuesday and the tropical heat made their disposal imperative. One of the first orders given after the town had been captured was to bury the Mexican dead.

When the city was taken, the order was given to advance carefully and search every building for men bearing arms.

Scores of prisoners were taken, most of them protesting volubly, many hysterically, that they were not guilty of any unfriendliness toward the Americans. Accustomed as the Mexicans are to their own contending forces immediately shooting all prisoners taken, the captured men could not but believe that they would be executed. The guns found in houses were thrown by the marines and bluejackets to the pavement below.

The most spirited action of Wednesday was the taking of the naval academy. Aside from that fight there was no definite organized opposition. A hot fire was poured into the advancing Americans from the naval college, which for a time held them back, but a few well-directed shots from the cruisers off the Mexican Pacific coast Prairie tore gaping holes in the stone walls and silenced the rifle fire of the Mexicans inside. The bluejackets then were enabled to proceed with the task that had been theirs.

MADE PRISONERS BY THE SHELLS.

The bombardment, despite the shelling it had received Tuesday, continued to give considerable trouble to the Mexicans from the battery on the San Juarez tower. After they had been silenced at the naval academy the shells from the warships Tuesday had driven away the sharpshooters in the tower and the men had been unable to leave it and had no alternative except to fight. At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Americans were in undisputed possession of all the city except the southwest quarter, in which the barracks are situated, and a few outlying districts. At noon they had taken the barracks. When the city prison, which faces the main plaza of the city, was captured Lieutenant Commander Buchanan, of the Florida, inspected it. There was great surprise among the Mexicans who had suffered there that the doors had been released. They had been accustomed to seeing the victor always release prisoners and then impress them all into his army.

Chief of Police Antonio Villa Vicencio was taken prisoner by the Americans shortly after they had occupied the main plaza of the city. It was suggested that he continue to direct the city's protective police. He took the matter under advisement. Had the Mexicans succeeded in accepting Admiral Fletcher's suggestion, which was made through Consul Canada, the Mexicans might have been spared the humiliation of being forced from their positions and undoubtedly a number of lives would not have been sacrificed.

AGED MEXICAN WAS TOO LATE.

Coincident with the orders for the general advance of the Americans an aged white-haired Mexican carrying the white flag of truce, came down a street from the center of the city. He carried a letter to the chief of police, the only authority he hoped to reach, and desired Consul Canada to read it. It was an urgent appeal to the chief of police to call off the snipers and prevent the bombardment he believed would follow if they continued their fire. Even before the messenger had climbed the stairs into the consul's office Captain Rush was informed of the contents of the note he bore and immediately sounded "cease firing" and "halt." But it was too late. The action had been begun all along the line and it was not considered wise to attempt further measures to stop it.

The commanders ordered their men forward at double quick, which they carried out to the letter and afterwards gave them the city.

Blood-bespattered sidewalks, broken windows and bullet-scarred walls gave the plaza a gruesome aspect. Within the municipal palace there were forty Americans, most of them women, who had been there since the commencement of hostilities. When word of this was taken they were notified that they might go to their homes, for that they probably would incur no further danger by remaining in the hotel.

It was not until late Tuesday that the last of General Maas' men on top of the hotel received orders from outside the city to vacate their position. The order was obeyed by a portion of the hundred men who were occupying the roof and vantage points in the interior, but a small portion of the band disobeyed orders and continued to the last. These men, however, surrendered Wednesday morning. A lieutenant, who was in command of the Mexicans, was led out a prisoner, and, although he had surrendered unreservedly, he trembled and turned pale in the belief that he would be shot.

AMERICAN WOMEN NOT MISTREATED.

None of the American women were mistreated by the Mexicans during the occupation of the building. A few of the women assisted the Mexicans in caring for their wounded.

In the fighting in the center of the inner harbor, San Juan de Ulua, an ancient stone fortress, flew the Mexican flag throughout the attack. The commandant and 80 armed men and 300 workmen in the navy yard posed from the embrasures at the Prairie, lying 800 yards away, and the other ships shelling the naval academy. In the dangerous the echoes of the guns of the ships reached 100 prisoners through the 16-foot stone wall.

Captain Stickney, of the Prairie, went through the fortress several days ago and found a number of heavy guns, five torpedoes and a torpedo tube in a shed outside the wall of the fortress. When the Americans were ordered to land, Captain Stickney sent word to the commandant of San Juan de Ulua that he would blow him to pieces with the Prairie's guns if he opened fire against the Americans, but that otherwise he would not be disturbed. The commandant replied that he would answer with his cannons if fired on, but that he would not commence hostilities. When the engagement ashore began the commandant hoisted a brilliant new Mexican flag, which flew all day long.

Rear Admiral Fletcher instructed the Spanish cruiser Carlos V to go outside the breakwaters in order to give the Prairie opportunity to fire her guns. The Spanish commander said he could not maneuver his boat in so small a space at night. He also declared it needed to take on a supply of fresh water. Admiral Fletcher yesterday directed that his order be carried out, and the Carlos V moved outside just before the attack on the center of the city began.

CITY WAS WARNED BY FIFTEEN SHELLS.

When Admiral Fletcher directed that battalions of bluejackets and marines be landed from Rear Admiral Badger's ships before dawn and drawn up in the plaza before the railroad station and then proceed to take the entire town, he acted only after warning, and after fifteen shells from the Prairie's three-inch guns had been thrown into the steel framework of the new market, which faces Market place. A persistent but scattered fire came from rifles in the market in all the early hours of the morning, and Admiral Badger's men landed to the whining accompaniment of rifle bullets over their heads.

When the rush was started Admiral Badger's bluejackets, clad in orange-colored clothing, made for them in the trip down by dyeing white uniforms with iron rust, moved in close columns formation up the water front, past the market and across the front of the naval college, a long three-story structure built of adobe stone. The column moved steadily forward until the first company had passed beyond the college and the remainder were covering the whole front close against the wall.

Suddenly a spatter of rifle firing broke out along the roof. The bluejackets threw their ground. Some hugged close to the wall to avoid the rain of steel-jacketed bullets from above, while some dashed across a small open space in front of the building. These bluejackets dropped on their stomachs and in that position kept up a fire on the foe above them. Finally the American officers hustled the men in shelter of nearby buildings without, however, losing any ground.

THE TASK AHEAD.

Unless Carranza changes his mind within the next few hours the probabilities are the United States will have to deal with a united Mexico.

Undoubtedly, the hotheads in Carranza's counsels have forced him to take an attitude which cannot be construed otherwise than as intention to show armed resentment to the policy of our own country.

The self-interest both of Carranza and Villa would have dictated a hands-off policy while the United States eliminated Huerta.

Carranza and Villa could then, as circumstances developed, demonstrate their fitness to take over the task botched by Huerta, backed up by the powerful support of this government.

But it seems the Mexican national pride, so mysterious and baffling entity, has been stirred by the incidents at Vera Cruz.

What Huerta hoped and schemed for may come to pass.

However much the constitutionalists may despise him, they will be compelled to listen to anti-American prejudices within their own ranks.

That means our task will be much more formidable than the mere blockading of a few ports.

We will meet with organized opposition in the north of Mexico, and hostilities will transpire on land as well as sea, with the possibility of the entire national guard being called upon for actual service.

The prospect is not a pleasant one. The best hope in the foreground is that the constitutionalists may yet conquer their prejudices and accept in good faith the declaration of President Wilson that he has no sinister designs on the territorial integrity of Mexico.

Should we be coerced by force of circumstances to occupy all of Mexico, the task will be costly in men, money and complications.

It is useless to blink facts.

Carranza and Villa have well-trained hordes. The army of Huerta showed spirit and dash at Torreon.

In no direction will it be a "walk-over" for the troops of the United States.

We can cut off the supplies of both factions, of course, and gradually starve them into submission.

But the undertaking will be a tedious and bloody one, and even after we have shut all recognized ports of entry into Mexico, arms and ammunition will continue to drift in by underground routes.

All this is written not in a spirit of pessimism, but of candor.

In the long run, we will pacify Mexico. The achievement will not be a "picnic."

It will involve huge expenditures, and it may saddle us with tremendous additions to an already swollen pension list.

The only consolation is that when peace eventually is restored, a war indemnity will be a measure protect us.

But not even a war indemnity will restore lost lives and invalided men.

In the meantime, there is the disturbing possibility that violence toward Americans and foreigners generally in Mexico may inspire complications of a far-reaching nature.

The position we occupy on this hemisphere has driven us into a disagreeable and onerous task. We could not have ignored it.

But the rabid "war party" at home may now see the wisdom which led Mr. Wilson to exhaust every resource before courting the situation that now confronts us.

ATLANTA AND CHICAGO.

The recent visit to Atlanta of a delegation from the Chicago chamber of commerce marks a significant epoch not only in the commercial history of Atlanta, but in the trade tendencies of the entire country.

The Chicago chamber of commerce is among the livest, and certainly it is the best organized trade body in the country.

Its work is subdivided between a large number of committees, each of which is headed by an expert in his particular field.

What Chicago does not receive in the way of custom legitimately due it is not the fault of this aggressive and many-sided machine for business-reaping.

Chicago picks Atlanta as one of the strategic southern cities with whom it will be profitable to intensify business relations.

The business-getters of Chicago see a parallel between the briskness of the big city on the lakes and the briskness of the big city that overshadows the southern states.

They intend to form, if possible, a coalition looking to the promotion of their mutual business interests.

That is the significance, so far as Atlanta and Chicago and other southern cities are concerned, of the missionary trip of these live wires.

The larger national significance lies in recognition by business men of first caliber that the opening of the Panama canal, world trade and national trade will undergo a radical evolution.

The lanes and lines of traffic, of buying and selling, will be readjusted.

Competition will "speed up."

The community that gets the most out of these new conditions will be the community that has formed working relations with its neighbors, since knowledge and amicability are tremendous factors in the promotion of business.

The Atlanta and the Georgia chambers of commerce and the industrial bureau of the local organization have shown active appreciation of these cardinal facts.

What Chicago is doing to get acquainted with its territory, Atlanta is doing to get acquainted with its territory. The Southern Merchants' conventions, and similar gatherings, are testimony in that direction.

UNHAPPY COLORADO.

Within the past few days the labor disturbances in southern Colorado have occasioned about as many deaths and disabilities as our taking of Vera Cruz, reckoning with American losses only.

The entire national guard of Colorado is to be called into action. A virtual state of anarchy prevails. The mandate of the state appears to go for nothing, either as between the striking miners or the operators.

It ought to be impossible for such a situation to exist in a civilized country. There might be slight palliation if the disturbances had merely begun, and the disorder could be attributed to the natural friction engendered by the early bitterness of parties.

But for several months violence and upheaval have been the program in the mining districts in Colorado. Time and again state troops and disaffected miners have clashed, blood has been shed and bad feeling created. There was the unfortunate incident of "Mother" Jones, which at one time threatened farspread and disastrous circumstances.

In some respects, the situation in Colorado, West Virginia and Michigan shows parallel lines.

In each instance there is organized obstinacy from both disputants and their parties.

Efforts to bring about compromises are met with indifference or with a spirit of unreasonableness.

Neither side seems disposed to admit that concessions should be made mutually, and both sides exhibit a continuous contempt of the rights of that great third party, the public.

The question as to whether the strikers or the operators in these three states have merit on their side is not the cardinal issue.

The point that matters is that lawlessness has supplanted law, and that business interests near to and remote from the immediate industries are badly affected. And the longer strife continues, the deeper and more costly will be the scars left upon the entire industrial fabric.

The more one contemplates conditions of this nature the greater becomes the conviction of the necessity for compulsory arbitration, compulsory mediation or compulsory publicity.

WHEN NEGROES "CLEAN UP."

C. M. Tanner, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church, gave excellent counsel to his congregation recently upon the subject of sanitation and hygiene.

The following keynote to his sermon might with profit be read by every man and woman of the negro race in Atlanta, the south for that matter:

> It is not enough that we keep the places where we work clean. We must carry this cleaning process into our homes and to the yards and streets around our homes. We owe it not merely to the city, but to ourselves. Too often we see our people employed in keeping the homes of others in order, but these same people cannot be persuaded to spend one hour of their spare time to keep their own yards and homes clean.

A particularly apt portion of this advice is that which applies to the negro learning lessons in sanitation and disease-prevention from the homes in which he works.

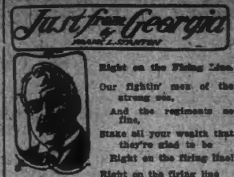

Today the gospel of modern cleanliness is so widespread that hardly one white person out of fifty does not understand its cardinal principles.

This means that in all white homes, and white business houses able to employ negroes in the capacity of servants or workers, twentieth century rules of sanitation are likely to be observed.

If the negro will casually study these rules and then apply them in his own environment, a far step will have been taken toward the solution of the problem of the disease and death rate.

Better still, would be ordinances that enforced rigid sanitation upon negro as well as white.

Just from Georgia

Our fightin' men of the strenuous sou,
And the regiments so fine,
Stake all your wealth that they're glad to be
Right on the firing line!
Right on the firing line!
Their guns and sabers shine;
To a thunder-song
They march along,
Right on the firing line.

They cleave a pathway through the deep,
"Old Glory" is the sign
By which their foes from the field they'll sweep
Far from the firing line.

Right on the firing line
With courage high and fine,
They march away
To the crimson fray
Right on the firing line.

Attributed to a traveling man: "A firm doing business in Mexico found that the cashier was stealing. The man was arrested and sent to the penitentiary. In a couple of weeks he came back and applied for his old job. 'I thought we sent you to the penitentiary,' said the manager. 'You did,' was the reply, 'but they transferred me to the army and I did not like it and came home.'"

All Along the Line With George Fitch

MELBOURNE.

Melbourne, the metropolis of all Australia, and about 5,000 miles off of nowhere on all sides of it, has about 730,000 people, which is double what they were in 1890. In 1890 it had only 18 turf bets, being smaller than Chicago at that time.

Melbourne, however, had 11,000 people in 1841, which was about three times as much as Chicago could show. Then the high steamer rates stepped in and handicapped the Australian city, and while in 1890 it had 100,000 people, it could not keep up the pace. Today Chicago is over three times as large as Chicago visitors exclaim to the natives "What a beautiful little village you have here!" barely escaping with their lives shortly afterward. The above was location will do. If Melbourne had chosen its location about 11,000 miles nearer the center of population it would now have 16,000,000 people and a large tourist trade.

Melbourne is situated on the east coast of Victoria, about 18,000 miles from London, which is related to it financially and politically. To reach Melbourne the American visitor takes a truck full of gold and six months off and sails across the Pacific Ocean until the steamer runs out of coal. The city is the capital of Australia and will be until the new American designed capital is built in the up-country bush.

Melbourne is a very handsome city, situated on a large bay and a little river. In spite of the fact that it has about 2,000 miles of back yard, mostly unoccupied, it is a small city and has not followed Chicago's plan of annexing the territory as far as the climate and constitution will permit. Melbourne has wide streets, great public buildings, plenty of colleges and universities and some great parks. It also has race courses, moving pictures houses, and a number of saloons. For this reason American visitors feel perfectly at home in Melbourne, and if it were not for the absence of Indians, Bad Swedish and vacant lots with billboards on them, they would hardly imagine themselves in a foreign land.

Melbourne is a great manufacturing city and also produces great numbers of tennis players, oarsmen, cricket champions and football teams. It has the kind of climate that has made Los Angeles famous and snowfalls are unknown except at election time.

COMFORT.

Comfort is an era of good feeling on the part of the human body. When a man has comfort no part of his body has any complaint. His neck feels as good as his back and his legs feel as well satisfied as his digestive plant. He is at peace with the world and the man who tries to pry him out of his arm chair to make a speech before a political meeting is as likely as not to be sued for damages.

Comfort is entirely a matter of education. The poor, ignorant savage is so benighted as to think that he is comfortable when he is squatting under a banana leaf in a rainstorm. The early settlers in this country thought they were comfortable when they had one side done to a crisp before a log fire in the winter. Nowadays, however, such startling advances in comfort have been made that when a man rides in an automobile whose upholstery has been laid by unskilful hands his wife refers to the car with scorn as a back breaker and orders him to sell it at any price.

Comfort has been so perfected in these scientific days that it takes many thousands of dollars to secure even a passable specimen. Once the American citizen could go out in the forest with an axe and fashion a chair which was tolerably hard on his bones. Nowadays, a good, comfortable chair, deeply cushioned in imported leather, costs $100. And even then the average man is not comfortable in it until he has draped his feet over a $300 mahogany reading table.

Comfort is one of the great goals of humanity. They are people, however, so pathetically deceived as to think that they will sacrifice comfort in its interests. Whenever we wander through a perfect home filled with beautiful models of ancient furniture, which made the tortures of the inquisition much less horrible to the people of those times than we imagine, we burn with joy to think that we do not have to live up to the expectations of art.

American homes are the most comfortable in the world. If a man's railroads competed more with American homes, passenger traffic would rise by leaps and bounds.

BOLIVIA.

Bolivia is a nation but has never impressed the general American with this fact very thoroughly. It is situated in the interior of South America and can be reached by landing in a surf boat in Chile and climbing on an indifferent railroad until blood flows from the ears.

Bolivia is one of the finest roof gardens in the world. The upper floor of the country is about as large as the state of New York and is 13,500 feet above sea level. Certain cities, which has 1,000 square miles and is perpetually improved 2½ miles above the sea, having no outlet. Thunder clouds are often drowned in this lake because they are unable to rise above it.

The plateau which contains Chrooleque, Chachscomani, Pama, Aullugunas and Desaguadero but the prospective visitor need not be alarmed. These are not diseases nor disagreeable insects. They are the names of famous Bolivian rivers, lakes and mountains.

Bolivia is so large that its government has never been able to keep track of its boundaries. For many years it has been the custom of those South American nations which needed territory to go and slice it off to Bolivia. In this way it has thus been reduced from about 750,000 to 500,000 square miles. However, there is still room in the country for a 300-acre farm for cotton, corn and wine. Bolivia had 1,626,000 people in 1910, of whom about 50,000 could read and write. Most of these people are Indians and can trace their families back to very early times. The Incas ran that part of the country and Europe was a howling wilderness. However, the Indians do not do this because it is too much trouble.

Bolivia is a cold, hot, damp, dry, misty and dreary country in which keeping alive has always been considered a difficult feat. Most of its land is impenetrable forest and jungle. It exports rubber, cocoa, chinchilla wool, tin and silver, imports about everything needed, including livestock, though it has room for millions of cattle. It is a republic with its flingers crossed. Only rich and educated can vote. However, it has four capitals, which take turn about in running the country which is some comfort.

Bolivia has been in the country since 1825 but doesn't know it yet.

Brief Yarns.

(From The Chicago News.)

Two old fishermen had imbibed overmuch and, overcome with a great desire to sleep, they stretched themselves on the warm beach sands and were soon sleeping heavily. The tide crept in, awakening the one nearest the water to a realization that a quantity of salty liquid into his mouth. Half asleep, he started to arise, saying, "It's time we win awa' out o' dat," and then, changing the drink on us."

She was very literary and he was not. He had spent a harrowing evening discussing authors, of whom he knew nothing, and their books, of which he knew less. Presently the maiden asked, archly: "Of course, you've read 'Romeo and Juliet?'" He floundered helplessly for a moment, and then, having a brilliant thought, blurted out, happily: "I've read 'Romeo!'"

An old country woman stepped into a suburban drug store and laid on the counter a prescription for a mixture containing two decigrams of morphia. The druggist exercised the utmost care in weighing the dangerous drug. "Wot a shame!" she cried. "Don't be so stingy; it's for a poor herphan girl."

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

JUDGE HARRIS WILL MAKE RACE; MAY ANNOUNCE AT ANY TIME NOW

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Judge N. E. Harris' announcement for governor may be expected at any time. He left little doubt about the matter in an interview he has given out. He declared:

"Yes, I think I will enter the race. I have been hearing from all over the state, and unless something should occur not now anticipated, I will make an announcement at an early day.

"Of course, I would like to be governor of Georgia. It's an honor that no man should underestimate. Besides, it brings the occupant of the position in close contact with the people, shows him their wants more clearly, and familiarizes him with all the details of self-government. The state is no large, however, that no man can make the race alone. He needs the help of his friends to get his name before the people."

HUNDREDS OF TENDERS OF SUPPORT BRING RESPONSE BY JUDGE HOLDEN

Athens, Ga., April 22.—(Special.)—The friends of Judge Horace Holden throughout the state have eagerly responded to the suggestion of his name in connection with the race for governor, and his mail for the past few days has contained hundreds of letters tendering him enthusiastic support.

Many papers over the state have come out strong for Judge Holden, claiming that he is in many respects the strongest candidate that this section could present.

Judge Holden, himself, continues to maintain the silence which has characterized his attitude from the beginning of his boom. He is giving the matter deep consideration, but has reached no definite conclusion as regards his own action. Until he does so he will make no statement. Judge Holden's boom began with his friends and admirers a short time ago, and in spite of his silence, has already grown to such proportions that his name is mentioned throughout the state as one of the strongest probable candidates.

It is claimed here in Athens that should Judge Holden decide to enter the race, he will be certain of 37 or 38 counties in this section upon which to start. The people of his old judicial circuit and of neighboring counties have of their own accord asked him to run. South and middle Georgia people are also joining in the movement.

From his old home, Augusta and Crawfordville, come most spontaneous and enthusiastic indorsements.

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES GALORE EXPECTED BY AUGUSTA CHRONICLE

A recent editorial in The Augusta Chronicle under the heading, "Embarrassment of Candidates," is interesting as an indication of the mixed condition politically the state may find itself in within a short while. Among other things, The Chronicle says:

"This threatened Georgia gubernatorial race almost overwhelms us. If we have had one, we've had a half-dozen letters and personal inquiries from prospective gubernatorial candidates, asking what we think of their chances.

"Since we decided to obliterate the old factional lines for ourselves, we can view with some degree of complacency the past political affiliations of any one of them, or all of them; hence we can pick our gubernatorial candidate this time—if we have to pick one—more for what he is doing today than what he did two, four or six years ago.

"But we do confess that the number of them is confusing to us. Whether it was six or eight, or maybe ten, at the least count, we can't quite remember; but we do know that only one of them can win."

SOUTH GEORGIA'S TIME HAS COME, DECLARES THE ALBANY HERALD

Under the heading, "South Georgia's Attitude," The Albany Herald in editorially commenting upon claims being put forward by its section of political recognition in the campaigns to be run this summer, says:

"We note that some of our brethren of the fourth estate who live in the upper part of Georgia are having difficulty in assimilating the true significance of South Georgia's insistence that this part of the state should have a voice in the selection of governors, senators, et cetera, and that this section might even be allowed to furnish a governor or a senator, now and then.

"The reason why South Georgia yearns for a whole pie instead of a small section off of a slice is that it has never been allowed to have a pie in the past. It is human nature to want the things we cannot get, and there is a whole lot of human nature in that phase of the present political situation in Georgia which is causing the lower half of the state to insist that its time for furnishing an occasional senator and governor has arrived. It is like the case of the small boy grown to where he can at least lick the bully who has been making life miserable for him.

"Politically speaking, South Georgia is just simply itching to lick the bully. And she is going to do it.

"When?

"Oh, soon!"

ANNOUNCEMENT FROM QUINCEY EXPECTED EARLY NEXT WEEK

Waycross, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Reports received in Waycross indicate that Judge J. W. Quincey will issue a statement regarding his decision in the eleventh district congressional matter early next week.

Judge Quincey was in Waycross yesterday on route home from Pierce county, where he presided at the regular term of superior court.

The general opinion seems to be that Judge Quincey will announce for congress. He has, however, visited and conferred in various parts of the eleventh, and his actions are taken by his friends and by those who are keeping up with the situation in the eleventh to mean but one thing—an announcement for congress.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS WILL AID SPEER IN MILEAGE MATTER

State Treasurer W. J. Speer is in receipt of the following letter regarding the apportionment of the automobile tax:

"Having read in an afternoon paper that you were in a quandary as to the apportionment of the automobile tax among the various counties of the state, it being necessary to ascertain the rural route mileage in order to make the apportionment according to the new law, I am writing to the postmasters at every office from which a rural route emanates will gladly supply you with the information covering the mileage traveled by each rural carrier in the respective counties they serve.

"For instance, were you to apply to the postmaster at this office for the desired information, he would instruct each carrier to supply this information, which is easily done, as each carrier is familiar with the location of the county lines. On route No. 1, that I serve, I pass through three counties, viz: Morgan, Greene and Putnam. There is sixteen miles in Morgan, seven miles in Putnam and two miles in Greene county; a total mileage of twenty-five. Route No. 2 has twenty-five miles in Morgan county and the star route has four miles in Morgan county and three miles in Greene county.

"The postmaster general has frequently issued orders requesting postmasters to assist in every manner he can to encourage the good roads movement and especially on mail routes; therefore, I feel assured that the desired information can easily be obtained.

"The rural carriers, individually and through their association, will gladly assist you in obtaining the desired information.

"Assuring you of my personal cooperation in this effort to secure statistics desired.

Yours truly,
FRED L. WHITE,
President Good Roads Club of Georgia.
Buckhead, Ga.

APPLICATIONS FOR COMMISSIONS RECEIVED BY GOVERNOR SLATON

Governor Slaton arrived in the city Thursday, after a two days' absence in Brunswick, and was met by a big pile of letters awaiting him, among them being three applications for commissions in the militia of the state of Georgia. With the war only three days old and the part that Georgia troops are to play in it by no means determined, this is not a bad beginning and indicates that patriotism is not on the decline in the grand old commonwealth of Georgia.

Before very long we may expect to have a brand-new crop of military officers who will vie in valor with Colonel Bob Berner, Colonel John S. Candler, Major John S. Cohen, Major Marion Smith and others who went to the front when their country called them at the outbreak of war with Spain.

LULL IN GUBERNATORIAL CROP; NO NEW CANDIDATES APPEAR

There seems to be a temporary lull in the crop of gubernatorial candidates. For two days no new one has bobbed up. It is generally understood, however, that by the first of next week things will take definite shape. At that time it is thought the decision of Judge W. E. Thomas will be definitely known. Should he decide not to run, at least two well-known statesmen will jump into the contest upon claims being put forward by its section of political recognition in the campaigns to be run this summer, says:

"We note that some of our brethren of the fourth estate who live in the upper part of Georgia are having difficulty in assimilating the true significance of South Georgia's insistence that this part of the state should have a voice in the selection of governors, senators, et cetera, and that this section might even be allowed to furnish a governor or a senator, now and then.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CONSULTED REGARDING WAR AND INSURANCE

Attorney General Warren Grice has been indirectly drawn into the war situation. No, he is not going to war! He is going to stay right here and run for attorney general; but he has been officially called in the state to be called on to decide an interesting question. Wednesday night, Ogle Grice, his first cousin, who is sergeant major of the Fifth regiment, called on the attorney general to learn if, in the case of his death in far-off Mexico his life insurance would be paid. The attorney general reserved his decision until he had seen the policy. Sergeant Grice is determined to go—pay or no pay.

CHASTAIN ASKS HERRICK TO OFFER HIS HAND TO LOUISIANA LEGISLATURE

Nashville, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Colonel E. S. Chastain, of Nashville, has entered the race for representative of Berrien county. # COMMITTEE NAMED ON HOSPITAL BONDS

Mayor Woodward Appoints Citizens Who Will Help Expend Money—Atlantans Urged to Visit Hospital.

The trustees of Grady hospital extend a cordial invitation to the citizens of Atlanta, men and women, to visit that institution and make a critical inspection of it.

Those who have visited and inspected Grady the last few days, have everyone come away convinced of Atlanta's necessity for a new and modern hospital; they have come away heartily in favor of the bond issue.

So confident are the trustees that this will be the general verdict of everyone who goes there and sees the conditions with which the hospital force has to contend, and the conditions amidst which the sick and injured are attended, that they urge Atlantans to make a visit to Grady at once and see for themselves.

Ladies Are Invited.

Ladies especially have been invited to inspect Grady. Members of the board express the view that every lady who sees conditions in the hospital will immediately become an ardent, active and enthusiastic worker for the bond issue.

The Grady hospital bond issue prospectus is out today and ready for distribution. A copy will be mailed to each of the 13,000 voters in Atlanta. A careful perusal of this little folder, which may be read in fifteen or twenty minutes, will convince any thinking voter of the absolute necessity of building a modern hospital to take care of conditions in Atlanta.

The prospectus deals with almost every phase of the hospital problem. Comparisons are made between the present and the new hospital and the municipal hospital recently completed in Louisville, Ky., at a cost of $1,000,000, while Atlanta, with nearly as much population, is only asking $750,000.

The prospectus shows just how the bond money is to be expended, and that it is to be expended under the supervision of a committee of leading Atlanta citizens, representing many callings.

Committee Is Named.

This committee of citizens, authorized by a resolution adopted by the city council to act with the council and the hospital trustees in the expenditure of the bond money, if the bonds are authorized, was appointed Thursday by Mayor Woodward, and is composed of the following well known Atlantans:

Wilmer L. Moore, W. A. Foster, John E. Murphy, Jacob Schoen, Edward H. Inman and N. H. Kirkpatrick.

Mayor Woodward notified council by letter of the appointment of this committee in pursuance of the resolution passed at council's last meeting.

The executive, finance and publicity committees of the leading Grady hospital bond movement met at headquarters in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce building yesterday afternoon and steps were taken looking to the perfection of the ward campaign committees. Chairmen were tentatively selected and agreed to organize in their respective wards for hard work prior to and on election day.

ITALIANS GATHER TO FORCE HUSBAND TO CARE FOR FAMILY

A large part of the city's Italian colony appeared in police court Thursday afternoon to testify that Samuel Dadorrio, of 833 Cooper street, had been neglecting to furnish his wife and three little children sufficient food and clothing.

Judge Broyles after hearing the testimony of little Mary, 9 years old, whose large, brown eyes, filled with tears as she related the causes of the trouble between "papa and mama," was satisfied that Dadorrio was not taking the proper care of his family.

When Judge Broyles decided to force Dadorrio to buy food and clothing for his family, and in addition give his wife $1.25 a week to spend for whatever purposes she wished, Mrs. Dadorrio, who could not well understand his English, when she caught the words, "$1.25," began to remonstrate with Judge Broyles with a volley of "Nos," to show that she would not stand for such a small sum of money, which she thought was to buy everything.

Finally, through the means of an interpreter, she was made to realise that she could do whatever she wanted to with the $1.25.

"Buy ice cream and soda water," she ejaculated in her broken English, seemingly delighted at the prospect of having such an enormous sum of money to spend every week.

GIFTS OF $30,000 TO SHORTER ANNOUNCED

Swimming Pool, Society Hall and Other Buildings to Be Erected.

Rome, Ga., April 23.—An educational rally which attracted leading ministers, educators and members of the Baptist denomination throughout the state took place at Shorter college today. The attendance was large, the weather perfect, and the program rendered was interesting and inspiring.

The exercises opened at 10 o'clock with an outdoor exhibition of the class in physical culture. Immediately after this exercise visitors made an extensive inspection of the work of the domestic science and art departments. At 11 o'clock the speaking took place in the auditorium. A. W. Van Hoose, president of the college, presided as master of ceremonies. The speakers were Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta; Dr. L. R. Christie, of Columbus, and Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce. Following these exercises a barbecue was served on the college campus to the visitors, the members of the alumnae association and the boarding students and faculty of the college.

During the afternoon recent gifts to the building and endowment funds of the college, aggregating $30,000, were announced. Included in these were the contributions of the two history societies and the alumnae association, amounting to $8,000, to be expended for a society hall on the campus. The remaining money will be used for a swimming pool and for other new buildings.

PLANNING FOR MONEY TO CONDUCT THE WAR

First Measure Will Be Stamp Tax on Checks and Legal Documents.

Washington, April 23.—Administration leaders today laid plans for raising war revenue in case the army has to go into Mexico. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo discussed plans for raising revenue with Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne, and admitted his intention of taking it up later with Chairman Underwood, of the house ways and means committee, and Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee.

The first measure planned would impose a stamp tax on checks and legal documents similar to that invoked during the Spanish war. Another measure would tax sweet wine and fortified brandies and probably beer. According to the estimate this measure would net the treasury about $116,000,000 a year, and if the situation demanded a tax would be imposed on cigarettes, cigars and tobacco.

It is not the intention to alter the present tariff law, although such legislation might be found necessary in the future.

The treasury department, under existing laws, has authority to issue without further action by congress $100,000,000 worth of Panama canal bonds, and it is probable that this means would be taken at once to raise money in case of eventualities. Adoption of this plan would give congress a better opportunity to discuss a war revenue measure carefully before passage.

TILLMAN'S COAL PROBE BACKED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, April 23.—The senate naval committee ordered a favorable report on Senator Tillman's resolution for an investigation of freight rates on coal shipped to southern ports for use of the navy.

This action followed charges that the Southern railway directorate was being used by the so-called coal trust in discriminating against South Atlantic states in coal freight rates.

Rates on coal shipments to consumers other than the navy probably will be touched on in an investigation.

VOLUNTEER MEASURE ADOPTED BY CONFEREES

Washington, April 23.—The so-called volunteer bill, designed to put the volunteer forces of the United States in war time on a systematic basis, was agreed to today by senate and house conferees. The measure contains a provision giving priority to militia organizations which express through three-fourths of the minimum enlisted strength a desire for voluntary service.

The bill would make the enlistment term four years and give the president control of the governors of the states the right to appoint officers.

Austrian Emperor Ill.

Vienna, April 23.—The condition of Emperor Francis Joseph was not so satisfactory today.

The doctor's report this morning said:

"His majesty's rest last night was disturbed by fits of coughing. The catarrhal symptoms showed no signs of abatement, but the patient's strength and appetite were satisfactory."

"Elsa's Dream" Delights Women While They Buy Opera Clothes

Phophetic of the brilliancy of the week to come was the operatic program presented yesterday in the piano department of Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose, the event marking the formal opening of that department. Three hundred guests filled the wing of the store on the second floor where the musical department has been established.

The dozens of carnations filling vases on all sides, the smart toilets of the women and their pleasure in the music marked an occasion both artistic and social. Even those who could not get seats, could hear the music from a distance, and a group of pretty debutantes tried on evening wraps in a department adjoining, as they heard the exquisite solo, "One Fine Day," sung from "Madame Butterfly," sung by Madame Sybil Owen Hartley. She sang with power and sweetness "Elsa's Dream," from Lohengrin, and thrilled her audience with her interpretation of the "Ballatella," from "Pagliacci."

Miss Margaret Stillwell, a gifted young artist, played beautifully the "Baccarolle," "Nachsturcke," No. 4, Schumann, and a Chopin fantasie.

"Can't you have a concert next week and give us an idea of the Strauss music—the 'Rosenkavalier?'" was asked Mr. J. R. Cleveland, the manager of the department, as an enthusiastic lady passed out.

He promised he would, and others suggested that he put on the same program selections from "Ballo Masqeo," another opera to be sung in Atlanta for the first time.

EDUCATORS OF GEORGIA HOLD MEETING IN MACON

Free Text-Books More Important Than Home-Made Ones, Says Brittain.

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—With close to 500 teachers from various portions of Georgia in the city tonight, the opening exercises of the annual convention of the Georgia Educational association was held at the city auditorium, with State School Superintendent M. L. Brittain as the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Brittain outlined the importance of the Georgia Educational association to educational matters in Georgia, and stressed the importance of compulsory education and free text-books in the schools. He declared that the Georgia Educational association is behind both of these movements and the importance of them impresses more keenly now than ever.

The plan for the state to print its own school text-book he referred to as the "most sensational movement of the present time." He declared that Georgia should have the right to see what can be done in the way of state publication, though he did not think that all text-books should be printed by the state at once, feeling it would be better to pick out two or three books and use them as a test.

"Free text-books are of more importance than forcing home-made textbooks on the children," said Mr. Brittain.

The state school superintendent also called for a revision of the school code in Georgia. He said the educational laws should be codified by the state school superintendent and the attorney general.

Resentenced to Hang.

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Nick Wilburn, who three years ago condemned to death for the murder of Jamie King, a negro convict, who died in thefall of 1912,was taken to Gray, in Jones county, this morning, and resentenced to hang during the last week in May, by Judge J. B. Park.

Wilburn's conviction was recently affirmed by the supreme court of Georgia and the only thing that now stands between him and the gallows is Governor Slaton. Petitions are now in circulation in Jones county asking the governor to commute Wilburn's sentence to life imprisonment. Many of those who were strongest for Wilburn's conviction have now changed their minds to a certain extent since Mrs. Kate King, widow of the dead man, confessed that she plotted the death of her husband, but who was subsequentlly acquitted by a jury of Jones county men. Among these are some of the jurors who found Wilburn guilty. They do not think Wilburn should pay the penalty with his life, when the woman, by her own confession, was almost equally as guilty, though it was Wilburn who actually fired the shot that took King's life.

Wilburn has made many friends among religious workers since he has been confined in the Bibb county jail, and these are going to exert themselves in his behalf in an effort to save him from death on the gallows.

EMERY WINSHIP POISONED BY EATING MUSHROOMS

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Following a meal in which tainted mushrooms were served, Emory Winship, Macon's well-known citizen and chairman of the good roads committee of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, is confined to his home in Georgia avenue suffering with an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

The mushrooms were eaten Tuesday night, and a few hours later Mr. Winship's condition became critical. He continued to suffer through Wednesday, but is now showing considerable improvement, and it is now believed that the crisis has been passed.

Nothing was said at the time until today, and the news was a surprise even to his closest friends.

Memorial at Decatur.

Decatur, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Memorial day will be observed in Decatur Saturday under the auspices of Agnes Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. The exercises will be held at the courthouse, beginning at 11 o'clock. Scott Candler will be master of ceremonies, and Robert Ramspeck will deliver the memorial address. Miss Millege will sing the bugle song, and the children of the Decatur public schools will take part in these and amusing patriotic songs. At the conclusion of the exercises the decoration of the graves will take place.

DIXIE VETERANS OFFER TO WAR AGAINST MEXICO

Gray Warriors of Lumpkin Would Take Up Arms Under Stars and Stripes.

Lumpkin, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Their shoulders bowed with the weight of seventy years, but their courage burning as brightly as when they took up arms for the southland in the sixties, the confederate veterans of Camp C. A. Evans, of this city, today wrote to President Wilson offering their services in defense of the Stars and Stripes.

Though but one of the gray warriors is under 69 years old, the resolution pledging the members of the camp to do battle against the Huertistas was passed without a dissenting vote.

"We indorse your course," they write to the president, "to protect the dignity and honor of our beloved land."

Following is the resolution mailed Thursday to Mr. Wilson:

"Camp C. A. Evans, No. 983, U. C. V., Lumpkin, Stewart County, Georgia.—To His Excellency, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, Washington, D. C.: We hereby tender to you our services in defense of the honor of our country. While not a member is under 69 years of age, we are old soldiers and we indorse your course to protect the dignity and honor of our beloved land.

"By full vote of camp, April 23, 1914. "(Signed) E. F. Pearson, Commander; W. S. Bayatt, Adjutant; A. T. Fort, Secretary."

CANTRELL IS RESPITED BY GOVERNOR SLATON

Hall County Murderer Who Was to Have Hanged Today Gets New Lease on Life.

At a late hour Thursday afternoon, Governor Slaton granted a respite to Jim Cantrell, convicted of murder in Hall county, to May 29. Cantrell was to have been executed at Gainesville today.

Both Cantrell brothers—Bert and Jim—were under sentence to hang, the former charged with murder and the latter as accessory. It is charged that the two brothers conspired and killed Arthur Hawkins. They were tried and convicted and sentenced. The case of Bert was appealed to the supreme court and the decision of the lower court was affirmed. The remittitur in the case has not come down, however, and Bert has not been resentenced.

Governor Slaton only acted on the case after hearing from the trial judge and the solicitor general, both of whom asked that he grant a respite until the case could be heard by the prison commission.

Americus, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—A remarkable case of smitten conscience and desire to make restitution developed here today, when Mrs. Samuel H. H. Hawkins, was then president.

The writer stated that he had been conscience-stricken during this long period, and desired to make restitution. The price of the stolen ride was only forty cents. Mrs. Hawkins returned the remittance to the repentant Carolinian, as the railway he defrauded has long since passed to other ownership.

Ray-Felker.

A beautiful wedding of the past week was that of Miss Julia Ray and Mr. George Walton Felker, Jr., which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Robertson, on Wednesday afternoon, April 22, at 4 o'clock.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. Oscar Gower sang "O Fair, O Sweet and Holy."

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Hester Tichenor. Two tiny couples, Master Felker Lewis and Miss Frances Ray, Master Arthur Mobley and Miss Harriet Ray, came through the hallway and opened the folding doors leading from the reception hall and dining room into the drawing room, thus revealing a beautiful tableau. Beneath a canopy of valley lilies and tulle, studded with tiny electric lights, before an improvised altar which had for its background a lovely arrangement of palms, ferns and Easter lilies, the bridal party stood. Rev. W. P. King performed the ceremony.

During the ceremony Miss Tichenor softly played "O Thou Sublime, Sweet Evening Star."

Mrs. Whiteside Makes Stirring Appeal for Greater Hospital

After a stirring appeal in behalf of "a greater hospital" by Mrs. Francis Smith Whiteside, president, the Atlanta Equal Suffrage league yesterday passed a resolution indorsing the bond issue, through which the greater hospital can be accomplished. Accompanying this resolution was another which will be presented to proper authorities, asking that women have their representation on the city hospital board and on the city finance committee. This action of the suffrage league is in accord with the general disposition of Atlanta's leading men and women, to give women representation on city boards, and an amendment to the city charter will be presented at the next meeting of the legislature to make women eligible to hold office on these boards.

Mrs. Whiteside had visited the Grady hospital Saturday evening, and was accompanied by Mrs. Elisabeth McCarthy, secretary of the league. They happened at the hospital when the out-of-door clinic was in activity, and there they saw conditions of a most deplorable nature which are repeated each day.

White and colored cases were waiting their turn, and in one case where a young white girl had been taken violently ill and brought to the hospital, there was no bed for her. The case was one of immediate emergency, but she had to be kept in the passageway, where the out-of-door clinic was going on, until another patient, scarcely able to be sent home, was taken from her bed and sent home and room made for the emergency case.

The condition of the various wards, the size and bad condition of the kitchen and laundry, were surveyed by the ladies, who brought the message to the suffrage meeting. The resolution indorsing the bond issue was unanimously passed.

No More Black Smoke And No More Hot Steam To Ruin Summer "Togs"

Elegant summer gowns worn by ladies and Palm Beach suits worn by men will no longer be endangered by the locomotive engines at the Pryor street railroad crossing shooting forth a volley of hot steam upon pedestrians who are blocked at the crossing waiting for trains to pull out.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers, following the receipt of letters from Edward R. Austin and R. E. Hastings, who said that while they were standing at the crossing late Wednesday afternoon waiting for a Louisville and Nashville train to leave the station, they were deluged with a steam shower that ruined their clothing, placing them for a while in a very embarrassing position, issued a general order to his policemen Thursday afternoon to warn all engineers of the matter.

Chief Beavers' order further warned the locomotives when they cross underneath the Peachtree viaduct from belching forth volumes of black smoke, which causes much discomfort to those people who chance to be crossing the viaduct overhead.

HARDWICK WILL OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN TONIGHT

Sandersville, Ga., April 22.—(Special.)—Congressman Hardwick and a large party of friends will leave Friday morning in an automobile for Augusta, where he opens his senatorial campaign that night.

Ewing Gives Bond.

J. H. Ewing, named by Percy H. Adams as trustee for the estate of Carl Wolfsheimer company, against whom involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy were filed in the federal court March 9 last, has filed the $1,000 bond required by the referee in his appointin order. When proceedings were first filed with the clerk of the federal court J. H. Ewing was named receiver under $1,000 bond, and was directed by order of the court to continue the business, which he did satisfactorily until the first meeting of the creditors, when he was named by Referee Adams as trustee.

TWO PAINTERS FALL WHEN ROPE BREAKS

John R. Bowers and Will D. Clay Have Narrow Escape From Death.

As the result of a rope, which was supporting a scaffold, breaking, two painters had a close call Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock, when Will D. Clay, residing at 374 State street, fell two floors to the street pavement from the roof of the Central club at No. 9 1-2 North Forsyth street. John R. Bowers, living at 53 Sylvan avenue, saved himself from injury by clasping hold of the cornice on the second floor, and then dropping to his feet.

Clay fell on his face, with his left leg bent underneath him. He received a fractured skull and a broken hip. He was rushed to the Grady hospital in a semi-conscious condition. Doctors fear that he probably received internal injuries, and that complications of a serious nature might develop.

TORONTO MAYOR TELLS AD MEN OF CONVENTION

Great Time Is in Store for Members of Club Who Attend Annual Meet.

The Ad Men's Club of Atlanta, at its weekly luncheon at the Ansley hotel yesterday, had the unexpected pleasure of hearing from Mayor H. C. Hocken, of Toronto, just what is in store for the ad men at the annual convention, which will be held in Toronto this summer.

Mayor Hocken, who, incidentally, is honorary president of the Ad Men's Club of Toronto, and R. C. Harris, public works commissioner of Toronto, arrived in Atlanta Thursday night to make an inspection of Atlanta's sewers disposal plant by which they are building a similar one in the Canadian city.

Mayor Woodward introduced Mayor Hocken, who set forth in glowing terms the plans being made in Toronto for the ad men and was warm in his praise of Atlanta.

Mayor Woodward sat at the right of Mayor Hocken as he spoke, and they condoled with one another upon the trials and tribulations accompanying the office of mayor.

"It's worse than fighting Mexicans some times," said Mayor Woodward, to which the Toronto mayor assented, eulogizing upon the Emerwonian resolve necessary to making a success of the office.

Dr. John S. Derr, X-ray expert, lectured upon the science of X-ray radiography and its surgical uses. His lecture was illustrated with stereopticon slides of X-ray photographs, and proved one of the most interesting talks the ad men have had for some time.

Commissioner Harris, of Toronto, became so interested in the address that he postponed an important engagement to hear it all.

BAINBRIDGE COPS LOCKED UP IN JAIL AT SHRINERS' MEET

Bainbridge, Ga., April 23.—(Special.) All southwest Georgia Shrinerdom was gathered in Bainbridge yesterday, and from early morning until after midnight took charge of everything and everybody that came to town. Not content to do so by the best of authority. At breakfast, in the two Pullman cars of Savannah nobles, Mayor D. W. Callahan presented a great silver and gold key to the city and told the nobles to go to it. And they did, in several varieties and methods, among the first being the wondering of the entire police force in the local jail. The fresh lot of "guys" put through diverting antics all day long.

The enabled officers of Aleo were in numerical control, but many from Yaarab and Al Sihah, and even from temples far away, were their assistresses through the entire day. The public parks and buildings and stores were all gaily decorated.

Early in the morning an excellent band concert was held in Cannon park. At 6 o'clock in the afternoon there was a parade of many novel features, and was followed by the ceremonial session, at which the following crossed the sands toward Mecca: C. V. Adams, V. E. Rawlins, H. W. South, G. S. Tucker, W. W. Johnson, R. H. Colbert, W. B. Rawlins, H. W. South, S. A. Ward, T. J. Morris of Bainbridge, D. D. and W. E. Smith of Attapulgus, J. W. Smith of Binger, A. A. Riley of Thomasville, P. H. Trulock of Climax, F. T. Hay and P. D. Phillips of Thomasville, J. B. Tanner of Benevolence, H. P. Hughes of Babcock, L. E. Calhoun of Colquitt, J. M. Pidcock of Moultrie, J. R. Mize of Climax, C. D. Hood of Colquitt, L. H. Arger, Thomasville, J. H. Baxter of Ashburn, G. W. McCully, of Valdosta, and L. E. Williams of Cordele.

R. LEE WARTHEN DIES; OWNED PROPERTY HERE

Sandersville, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—R. Lee Warthen, aged 87, said to be Washington county's oldest and wealthiest citizen, died here last night and was buried at Warthen, Ga., this afternoon. He owned Harmon's property several years ago, and refused $150,000 for it two years ago, and was a director of the Sandersville-Tennille railroad and many other enterprises. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. A. Freeman, of Fort Gaines, and Mrs. Ada Warthen, of Fayetteville; two brothers, George D. Warthen, of this city, and Elisha Warthen, of Warthen, Ga.—(Special Telegram.)

The funeral was attended by hundreds of citizens from all parts of the state. His will has not been made public, but it is thought that George D. Warthen will receive little interest in the Atlanta property, he himself owning considerable property there.

SCHOOL BOARD FAVORS FREE SCHOOL LIBRARY

Impetus Given Movement by Suggestion Made by Commissioner Terrell.

Great impetus was given the movement to provide Atlanta school children with free school books yesterday afternoon when Commissioner J. H. Terrell agitated a "free school library," at the meeting of the city board of education.

Approval of Commissioner Terrell's suggestion was voiced by every member of the board, and while no definite move was made in the direction of actually putting the movement on foot, it is understood that the board will have its plans well started when the finance committee of the board starts making the 1915 budget in January.

$11,500 Spent Each Year.

According to an estimate given the board by Commissioner Terrell, approximately $11,500 is spent by school children and their parents for school books every year. Mayor James G. Woodward called the attention of the board to the fact that he started a similar fight for free school books twenty-five years ago, but he said he was heartily in favor of starting the ball rolling again. Mayor Woodward suggested that the board could get a good start accumulating a library by requesting the parents of graduating pupils to donate their left-over books to the school library.

The agitation was started when a delegation of local book dealers asked the board to go on record as being opposed to contracting with any publisher for school books who will not agree to give the distributor 20 per cent for his services. Charges that publishers discriminate in Atlanta were lodged with the board, it being stated that book dealers in Birmingham are allowed a discount of 25 per cent.

Board's Position.

Sentiment of members was that the school board has no authority to seek a lower price on books for the benefit of the dealers. Commissioner Morgan took the position that the board's duty is to secure the best books at the cheapest prices for the children.

The board declined to make a demand on the publishers for a lower discount on behalf of the dealers, but went on record as being opposed to any discrimination, and informed Superintendent Slaton to notify the publishers to give Atlanta the same discount allowed elsewhere.

HARRIS TO ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Washington, April 23.—(Special.)—William J. Harris will undoubtedly make his formal announcement for governor within a few days. He expects to see President Wilson before he does so, for it is believed the president will object to his resigning his post in June, 1915, to accept, if elected, governor. The appearance of Mr. Harris' office today was very much like that of a campaign headquarters. His desk was covered with letters and telegrams from all parts of Georgia pledging him support. Mr. Harris said he had received 1,000 such letters, and that every single county in the state was represented. He believes he will have an organization of several thousand friends and acquaintances back of him when he will be formally, but no definite word has yet been received from Representative Gordon Lee as to his political plans.

Admitted to Federal Practice.

George R. Brown, jr., of Carrollton, Ga., was yesterday presented to Judge Newman, of the United States court, by W. Adamson, also a member of the Carrollton bar, seeking admittance to the federal courts. The presentation of applications was opposed by Judge Newman and he was registered by Deputy Clerk John Dean Steward.

Miss Kempton and Co-workers To Make Speeches for Bonds

Miss Elizabeth Kempton, the lovely young president of the Pan-Hellenic of Atlanta, with ten co-workers, will speak in the various wards of the city in favor of the bond issue and the greater hospital movement. The group of young women will speak in the public schools of the city, explaining to the children about the hospital, and how they can begin at the earliest age to learn the lesson of citizenship.

They will distribute greater Grady hospital buttons among the children, asking each child to ask his or her father to vote for the bond issue, May 5.

"And our work will continue after that," said Miss Kempton, "for when the bond issue passes, and the new hospital is built, and there is a place for the nurses to be, it is the purpose of our organization to support one or more nurses during the period of training.

"We passed resolutions at our meeting last week to indorse the work for the bonds, and have been talking about it among our own friends, but after hearing Mr. Ivan Allen's address this afternoon, our inspiration was renewed and we pledged ourselves to do our best in the various schools in the schools or anywhere we may be called in the wards where the schools center."

The young women to co-operate with Miss Kempton are: Miss Elisabeth Hines, Mrs. A. R. Elkin, Mrs. Allie Parker, Miss Allie Parrott, Miss Miss Sarah Lee Evans, Miss Nell Waldo, Mrs. Dowdall Brown, Miss Fannie Hinman, Miss Mary Lucy Turner. The Pan-Hellenic, which held its regular meeting at the University club, yesterday afternoon, is composed of the different college sororities in Atlanta and represents a membership of 400.

ODD FELLOWS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

All Lodges in City Are Making Elaborate Preparations for Event.

What is expected to be the largest assemblage of the members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows ever held in Atlanta will be at the celebration next Sunday of the ninety-fifth anniversary of the order.

A military formation of the different lodges, clothed in the regalia of the order, will assemble at the corner of Broad and Alabama streets at 2 o'clock sharp, Captain H. C. Hall will act as grand marshal of the day.

The procession of Odd Fellows will march down Alabama to Whitehall street, and out Whitehall to Hunter. At Hunter and Whitehall streets the formation will turn eastward, marching to the First Presbyterian church on Washington street, which is just opposite the state capitol.

The anniversary ceremonies will be held in the First Presbyterian church, beginning promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

Rev. Dunbar Ogden, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon of the occasion. Special music will be rendered by the church choir, under the direction of Professor Joseph McLean.

The several lodges of the city are making preparations for the event.

DR. CALL WILL SPEAK TO CHAMBER MEMBERS

The members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce have been invited to attend the lecture of Dr. Arthur D. Call, of Washington, D. C., director of the American Peace society, in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Georgia Peace society will meet today.

ED MURRY IS RELEASED FROM POLICE STATION

Ed Murray, a cripple, who was arrested recently by Plain Clothes Sergeants George Bullard and Patrolman T. D. Shaw, under suspicion of having been implicated in the recent safe robbery at Fairburn, Ga., was released from police headquarters yesterday afternoon, after the failure of Fairburn officials to identify him, and after conclusively establishing his innocence.

GRAND OPERA SEATS MUST BE CALLED FOR

Sale Will Be Taken Off at Noon Saturday and Reservations Must Be Taken Up.

There is very little time left to secure grand opera tickets. On Saturday the sale of single seats, which has been on at Phillips & Crew and the Cable Piano company, will be taken off and the sale transferred to the Auditorium. It is invariably the case that people delay purchasing tickets until the very last hour, and the rush for tickets at the Auditorium is expected to be very large.

Many persons have made reservations for seats and have failed to call for them. Unless they do so by Saturday at noon, these seats will be sold. It is therefore important that they be called for today. Otherwise one may lose out entirely and not get an opportunity of hearing grand opera at all.

SMASH WITH AUTO RESULTS FATALLY FOR MOTORCYCLIST

Moultrie, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—H. L. Johnson, head bookkeeper in a Moultrie banking company, died at 7 o'clock this morning from injuries sustained in a collision with an automobile last night.

He was riding a motorcycle at a rapid speed through the residence section, following an automobile. The automobile ran to the right of him, and before Johnson could stop his wheel he struck the machine with terrific force. He was rendered unconscious by the blow and it was not thought he was seriously injured until a few minutes before he died.

His father is Dr. A. S. Johnson, of Bowman, and besides his father and mother he had a number of brothers and sisters. He was a very popular young man and his death has caused universal sorrow.

EDITOR IS ACCUSED OF LIBELING BLEASE

Columbia, S. C., April 23.—James H Moore, editor of The Columbia Record, was arrested this morning on two warrants, sworn out before a local magistrate by Frank W. Blackburn, charging him with "wilfully and maliciously composing, uttering, circulating and publishing certain false statements concerning one Cole L. Blease." Mr. Moore was released under a $5,000 bond to await trial.

There are two specific instances of alleged libelous statements appearing in The Record, the dates being April 16 and April 21, 1914. Each of the articles referred to was published in the editorial columns of The Record and was in regard to the proposed encampment of the national guard at Charleston. In each of the affidavits it is charged that the alleged editorial utterances had the effect to injure the said Cole L. Blease in his reputation, both personal and political. The state of South Carolina appears in both instances as prosecutor.

AMERICUS VISITED BY FIRE INSPECTORS

Americus, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Thirty prominent citizens of the Good Fire Prevention society are in Americus today inspecting dwellings, stores, factories, theater, schools and buildings of every class to the end of reducing fire risks. Property owners were given instructions along lines of safety suggested.

The inspectors pointed out to occupants and owners of buildings inflammable conditions found and urged their correction. They especially paid attention to rubbish, flues and chimneys, heating and lighting arrangements and the handling of gasoline. The inspectors believe they will be able to make a favorable report on conditions in Americus. At Furlow school, containing 600 pupils, the fire drill was given for the benefit of the inspectors and the building emptied through five exits within 56 seconds.

Yesterday 10 men in the knitting shop went on strike, probably because of the refusal of Governor Glynn to sign the one year parole bill, allowing a prisoner to apply for parole after he had been confined one year.

Root Out the Core Painlessly With TANGO; End Your Suffering.

No wonder everybody is enthusiastic about TANGO. It is the one safe remedy GUARANTEED to root out the CORE of the corn, without pain or making the toe sore.

TANGO for Corns is safe and positive. Applied in an instant, dries in a minute, and it's done. No bump in the shoe to press on the tender corn, no bandage to pull away with excruciating agony, no picking and gouging.

The first touch of TANGO ends your suffering, and it roots out the CORE of the corn painlessly and without swelling or soreness. If it does not your druggist will return your money. The one GUARANTEED remedy, 25 cents at ALL Druggists. Made and guaranteed by Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta.

Home Face Peeling Becomes Popular

No complexion treatment yet discovered seems to have become so generally and so immediately popular as the mercolised wax process. Evidently the reason is that this method actually gets rid of a bad complexion, which can hardly be said of any other. To temporarily hide or bleach the defective skin with cosmetics, cannot compare with the effect of literally removing the skin itself. Mercolised wax takes off the offending surface skin in flour-like particles, a little at a time, until there's none of it left. The new complexion thus produced exhibits a healthy glow and girlish beauty obtainable in no other way. This wax, which you can get at your druggist's, is applied at night in the same way you use cold cream, and washed off next morning.

Here is one thing that actually does remove wrinkles, removes them quickly, and at trifling cost: Powdered Saxolite, 1½ ozs., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Use as a face bath.—(Adv.)

HER EXPERIENCE GAINED ON TRIP

Found That Ladies in [illegible] Agreed With Her on One Important Question.

Mangham, La.—Mrs. Lisa Barber, this town, who has returned from trip in West and Middle Tennessee, h the following to say: "I have been o a trip in Middle and West Tennesse where I found many ladies using Cardui, the woman's tonic. While traveling I took great pleasure in telling what it had done for me—I not only praised Cardui—but advised poor suffering women to take it. I knew that Cardui cured me, and I believe it will do the same for other women.

Some time ago I could hardly stand on my feet, and I had given up ever having good health. After using two bottles of Cardui I could tell it was helping me, and I continued taking it for awhile. I soon felt as well as I ever did, and could do all of my work.

I shall always praise this great medicine to every suffering woman. I think there is no other half so good."

Mrs. Barber would have found weak, ailing women taking Cardui almost anywhere she could have gone, because Cardui is recognized as the standard woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women back to health and strength in the past 50 years.

Why shouldn't it help you?

Cottolene

wherever the directions say butter or lard, always remembering to use one-third less Cottolene, for Cottolene goes much farther than either butter or lard.

You really have to save money if you cook with Cottolene, for according to chemical laws, a certain amount of flour can only contain a certain amount of shortening. If you were to use as much Cottolene as the recipe called for of butter, you would have too much Cottolene. This might do no harm, except in cakes, which might fall because of being too light and delicate. Yes, this applies to every department of the cook book, even to candies.

For example, just try this:

CODFISH BALLS.

Take a pint bowl of codfish picked very fine, two pint bowls of raw peeled potatoes, sliced thickly, and boil in cold water until the potatoes are thoroughly done. Drain off the water, mash, add butter the size of an egg, one well-beaten egg and three tablespoonfuls of milk. Flour the hands and make into balls. Put two ounces of Cottolene into a frying pan, and when hot, fry the balls to a nice brown. Or the codfish balls may be fried in hot Cottolene after the manner of fritters.

Our FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, will be found a valuable supplement to any books you may now be using. Write for a copy—also order a pail of Cottolene of your grocer.

BATTLE FOR LIFE OF LEO M. FRANK BEGINS IN COURT

Rumored That Defense Will Present Today the Full Report of Detective William J. Burns on Case.

C. W. Burke, a private investigator in the employ of counsel for Leo M. Frank, it is reported, will be the object of a scalding attack today by Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, when the prosecution opens fire with its counter showing in the retrial hearing before Judge Hill.

Mr. Dorsey will not talk, but he intimates strongly that a mass of evidence has been accumulated by detectives against Burke.

Burke has been one of the most active figures in the investigation that has been promoted by Frank's counsel into the Mary Phagan murder mystery since the fight was opened for a new trial. He obtained the majority of the affidavits representing newly-discovered evidence which was contained in the new trial motion which Frank's defense filed Thursday.

The first day's hearing of the extraordinary motion for a new trial before Judge Hill was quiet enough yesterday, but it only served to set the stage for fireworks that are expected today when Solicitor Hugh Dorsey fires his opening guns to combat the newly-discovered evidence of Frank's attorneys.

Rapid progress was made in the hearing, which began at 10 o'clock in a committee room of the state library in the capitol. The defense submitted each of its nineteen grounds for a retrial by 4:40 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time Frank's counsel asked for an adjournment in order for time to consider the injection of other matters which they have hitherto withheld.

May Present Burns Report.

It was rumored persistently that the defense will present the report of Detective William J. Burns at this morning's session. The convicted man's lawyers stated, however, that there was hardly a probability of this, as they intended concealing the report from the police, whom they accused of crooked tactics.

Hugh Dorsey is expected to lay upon the table the sensational cards he admits holding up his sleeve. He is fortified with numerous affidavits from witnesses, it is stated, who have made affidavits for the defense. Dorsey will also submit the report of a private investigation, it is also said, into the process by which a number of affidavits submitted by the defense were obtained.

Mr. Dorsey will not talk on the subject. He intimates, however, sensational disclosures that will be down upon the program for today's proceedings. The defense likewise predicts startling revelations from their side of the fight. A large number of affidavits attacking the character of witnesses, it is said, will be presented by the prosecution.

Detectives Aid Dorsey.

Mr. Dorsey was surrounded during the hearing by eight of the picked men from the staff of headquarters detectives. These men have been promoting the bulk of the solicitor's investigation, and are John Black, Bass Rosser, Jim Doyal, Pat Campbell, John Starnes, Bob Waggoner, Ben Gillespie and M. McGill.

He strongly prophesied vigorous attacks upon various phases of the newly-discovered evidence contained in the motion of the defense, when he took names and addresses from affidavits which Frank's lawyers submitted to Judge Hill. At one time he insisted upon the address of J. O. Knight, a notary who had attested an affidavit sworn by Ruth Robinson, a witness for the prosecution, who repudiates her testimony.

It is rumored that the Robinson girl has made an affidavit which has been put in the solicitor's hands, and which document will be the basis of a counter showing by the solicitor.

The notary's address, however, was not furnished, as Frank's counsel informed the solicitor that they were not acquainted with it. A detective was detailed by Dorsey to look it up.

"I want to get this notary public to face Ruth Robinson," Dorsey explained, although he would go no further into details.

Met Jim Conley.

A surprise was created when the defense introduced an affidavit signed by J. W. Booser, a collector for a tailoring firm located in Peters street, who testifies that he met Jim Conley on Peters street between 4 and 4:30 o'clock on the day Mary Phagan was murdered, and that he held a brief conversation with him.

Booser states in the affidavit that he had known Conley for considerable while, and that he had made repeated collections of weekly installments on a watch which the negro prisoner had bought from the concern with which Booser worked at the time. He says that on this particular Saturday he asked Conley to pay his regular installments.

Conley, Booser swears, told him that he could get the money from Leo Frank, as he had previously done. Booser states that Frank had frequently paid the negro's weekly dues—$1. This is the first time that this piece of evidence has been made public.

Mr. Dorsey's counter motion was not put on file Thursday. A demand that it be announced was made by the defense to Judge Hill at the opening of the hearing. Frank's counsel was informed by the judge that the solicitor had not filed any counter showing.

Motion Extraordinary.

The contents of the retrial motion extraordinary have been made public from time to time. They were read individually before Judge Ben Hill. There were nineteen grounds, each of which represents newly-discovered evidence. They were chiefly the Mary Rich document, in which the woman says she saw Conley emerge from the alley in the rear of the pencil factory about 2:15 o'clock on the day of the tragedy, then return.

Also the Booser affidavit; the affidavits from Dewey Hewell, Ruth Robinson and C. Brutus Dalton, the character witnesses, who repudiated the testimony they gave on the witness stand; those of Mrs. Ethel Harris Miller and Mrs. M. Jaffe, who swear they saw Frank at Whitehall and Alabama streets at 1:10 o'clock on the 26th of April.

Other affidavits were from Dr. H. F. Harris, who figures in the hair phase of the mystery, and Professor G. Bachman, professor of histology and anatomy in the Atlanta Medical college. Dr. Bachman gives an expert analysis of the composition of human hair and an important angle of his affidavit is the statement that tar soap does not alter or change the texture of hair. He is corroborated by Dr. J. W. Papes, professor of histology and anatomy, who makes a similar affidavit.

Duffy's Repudiation.

The affidavit of J. E. Duffy, the state witness who renounces his testimony, was also submitted, along with a similar document from Ivy Jones, the negro witness, who stated he saw Jim Conley on the day of the murder, but who now denies his story. An affidavit from H. F. Becker, dealing with the new development in the mystery of the murder notes, was also introduced.

Affidavits were presented by F. J. Faxon and Miss Mae Edwards, who testify to the character of Mrs. Ethel Harris Miller. Perhaps the most sensational of the documents submitted were the affidavits pertaining to the story of Mrs. J. B. Simmons, of Birmingham, who told the solicitor previous to the Frank trial of having heard screams from the basement of the pencil factory about 2:30 or 4 o'clock on the day Mary Phagan was slain.

Her affidavit is substantiated by numerous witnesses, who tell of having heard her talk of the screams she heard. She is also upheld by character witnesses.

Prejudice Charged.

Much stress was laid throughout the session upon prejudice and demonstrations during the Frank trial. It was alleged by Mrs. Simmons that fear hushed her voice and deterred her from submitting her story to Frank's attorneys in the interest of truth. Others tell in their affidavits of similar experiences.

Only officials directly concerned in the hearing are permitted within the little room in which the motion is being threshed out. Stalwart doorkeepers remained on duty throughout the day, keeping scores of curious persons from entering the place. Just how long the hearing will last is speculative. It will run into Saturday, however, is the general prediction.

JUDGE HARRIS OUT FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Macon Jurist Declares He Is in Race--Formal Announcement and Platform to Be Published Soon.

Macon, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—Judge N. E. Harris, of Macon, is squarely in the race for the governorship. Tonight he authorized The Macon Telegraph to announce his candidacy, saying:

"I have decided to enter the race, and feel that now is the propitious time to do it. My formal announcement with a statement of my platform will be ready for publication within a few days."

Judge Harris' announcement did not create any surprise here, for it had been pretty generally known among his friends that he would be in the race to succeed Governor Slaton.

Near Riot at Old Tabernacle Breaks Up "Healing" Meetings And Brings a Call for Police

The old Tabernacle was the scene of a near riot last night when a young man, who apparently had more curiosity than he did faith in the "divine healing power" of Mrs. M. B. Woodworth Etter, was commanded by the "healer" to stop standing in a chair, from which point of vantage he was enjoying himself while gazing upon the mysterious proceedings of the "divine healer."

So doubtful became the outlook for the continuance of peaceful relations that the police were called in to restore order.

Call Officers Evans and Gant rushed from police headquarters to the "meeting" and restored order. Shortly afterwards the large crowd which had been attracted to the scene dispersed, and the followers of the "divine healer" filed slowly out of the house.

Upon investigation the officers found that after Mrs. Etter had ordered the young man to get out of his chair, he had withdrawn to the rear of the hall, where he stood up on a bench against the wall. An usher had rushed up to him and pulled him down to the floor, catching him by the tail of his coat.

The young man and several of his friends who had dropped in to the meeting with him had resented the affair, showing in a forcible way, it is said, their displeasure at the kind of treatment accorded their friend. No case was made against the young man.

Atlanta Greeks Wire To Secretary Bryan Offering to Enlist

Three of Atlanta's young Greeks who returned April 4 from service in the Balkan war, will leave this afternoon to offer their services to Uncle Sam.

These youths were officers in the late war between their country and Turkey. They are Captain Gusp Hondros, Lieutenant Jim Lewes, of third degree, and Chief Jimmie Heatys, of fifteth class. They wired Secretary Bryan of their intentions, and received a telegram in reply commending them upon their volunteering to fight, as they expressed it, "under our American flag."

The Greeks declare that in the Balkan war there were many Americans who fought in the Greek army and they consider it their duty to reciprocate. They first go to Washington, D. C., and from there to Mexico.

PRICE PITCHES ERRATIC GAME

Edited By DICK JEMISON

GOOD BOXING CARD ON FOR TUESDAY

Both Rodel and Willard Will Arrive Today to Complete Training.

Jesse Willard left Chicago yesterday and George "Boer" Rodel left the shores of Gay Gotham on Wednesday. Both men, who are to bot a ten-round contest at the Orpheum theater next Tuesday night, will be on the ground before sunset today.

The following wire was received by Promoter Lou Castro, last night, from Jimmy Johnson, manager of Rodel:

"I see you are advertising that Rodel wants to meet Gunboat Smith; that he has been in this vicinity seeking a match with the champion. That is true —he is after a title match. But Rodel already holds a newspaper decision over Smith. He outboxed and outfought him in New York and if he couldn't quit the gunner into the ring with the Australian champion again."

This is true. Rodel does hold a newspaper award over our white heavyweight champion, which isn't the only good big man that Rodel has walloped, either. Among his recent victims are Jim Daley, Tim Logan, Soldier Kearns, Jim Coffey and Jack Geyer.

Also Rodel holds a newspaper award over Willard. This, however, was wiped out later when Willard dropped the Boer for the count in nine rounds a few weeks later. So next Tuesday's scrap will decide which is really the better man. Willard has also beaten the same man that Rodel has.

Jim Buckley, manager of Smith, has wired Promoter Castro that he will let his champion meet the winner of the Willard-Rodel scrap here during Shriners' week over a ten-round journey.

The demand for tickets for this bout has been exceedingly large, and Castro has decided to put the pasteboards on sale Friday. Also, the count wishes to announce that the seating arrangement for Tuesday night's mill will be the top. Every seat will be banked so that the fan in front won't have an advantage over the fan behind him.

TRACK MEET.

Prep Schools Will Hold Annual Affair Saturday.

Tomorrow afternoon, on the Georgia Military academy campus, the annual track meet of the local prep league will be held. This meet is held every year by the schools in the league, and some new records are nearly always hung up at every meet.

The teams that will be represented in the meet are Tech High, Marist college, Donald Fraser and Georgia Military academy. The three teams that dropped from the league recently will not be allowed to participate in the meet.

The meet will start promptly at o'clock, and a small admission price will be charged.

Promoter Mike Saul Has Arranged Good Card For Saturday Night

Stump Goodwin, the young fighter from Nashville, Tenn., who has been fighting around Atlanta for the last several weeks has been matched to meet Meyer Price, Saturday night, at the Columbia theater by Promoter Mike Saul.

Besides the main bout, which is sure to be a hummer, Saul has arranged a good card for the fans. The evening will open with a battle royal. This will be followed by a six-round encounter between Scot Wonder and Young Shepard.

For his semi-windup Saul has matched Kid York and Battling Kelly. These boys will go eight rounds, provided one of the other does not get over the k. o.

The winner of the main bout will be matched with K. O. Eggers, the sensational fighter. Saul has arranged to have this latter bout in about two weeks.

RICHMOND ACADEMY TO PLAY RIVERSIDE

Gainesville, Ga., April 23.—(Special.)—The Richmond academy baseball team, which has been on a short junket playing teams through the state this week, will arrive in Gainesville Saturday morning for a game with Riverside Military academy.

To date the Richmond academy team has played two games, and they have won one of these and lost two, the strong G. M. C. team taking two games from them. The Clemson sub varsity nine was defeated easily, 14 to 8; the University of South Carolina sub varsity also lost 7 to 4, and last Saturday the team was victor over the Savanna High school, score 7 to 5.

The features of this team's work so far has been the pitching of Philpot. He has pitched four games, has won three and lost one. In the four games only eighteen hits have been secured off of his delivery. The strong Georgia Military college only secured three singles in the game he twirled.

Riverside has been practicing hard since their games with G. M. C. last Monday, and the team is now in good shape.

Philpot will probably twirl the opener for Richmond, while Morris will work for Riverside.

Moosemen Beat Smithies Another Brilliant Game; Morley Jennings Stars

By W. G. Foster.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 23.—(Special.)—The Chattanooga and Atlanta teams battled grimly again today for every inch of ground and once more the locals were returned victorious.

Bill Sline, the local right-hander, and Gil Price, Atlanta's crack southpaw, were pitted against each other on the mound and for many innings it looked as if Price would win the verdict.

He had his curve ball going strong and in the pinches was complete master. Only a single in the fifth to the extent of one run and in the seventh the locals got exciting over, Schlei, Robeson, McCormick and Balenti, got to him for two more, making the final for the day's work.

Jennings' Great Play.

One of the most marvelous plays ever made on a Chattanooga diamond was made by Jennings in the third inning and saved at least one run, if not more for Price. Sline was passed and Lynch's hesitation between a three to second and first put Lynch safe beat his bunt. Dunn made a good play on Coyle's bunt, forcing Sline at third.

Jacobson hit what looked like a sure safety over second. The ball went through Price's glove, but Jennings, almost tearing Price's hand off, and spending several seconds with undisturbed ease, Jennings threw himself full length across the keystone bag for the drive, which pulled him down hard on the mat.

Still prone on the ground he slid for second and forced Jacobson in a close slash. Had the hit gone by it would have sent one man over and another to third, with only one out. Jennings immediately grounded out, ending the inning.

The Crackers made their one run in the third. Dunn pried with a ball. Price sacrificed. McConnell singled cleanly to center, Dunn stopping at third on the throw. Sline stood on first. Street chased a wild pitch, McConnell taking second. Sline fanned Jennings, but when Street threw poorly to second in trying to get McConnell off, Dunn scored. This was the only time the Crackers threatened seriously until the ninth.

Flanagan's long triple in the fourth, coming with two down and being followed by Lynch's long drive to center, which McCormick captured after a chase.

Price's Fine Work.

Price did some great pitching in the fifth. Street opened the inning with a hit which barked the third baseman's shins. Sline's bunt took an unlucky bound and was fielded by him and Johnson's followed the same course.

Undismayed by the hard luck which filled the bases with none out, Price caused Coyle to pop out, and fanned Jacobson, while McCormick was easy.

In the next inning Balenti, who had been fanned twice previously, surprised Gil by crashing a single over first third for two bases. Flick advanced the Indian, and he scored on Graff's long fly.

Price's star support did not waver until the seventh, in which inning the locals won. With one out, Coyle and Jacobson hit clean and safe in succession. It was Manager McCormick's mighty stick that really broke up the game. The manager poled a hot single just out of Jennings' reach. Long, batting for a three to one, failed to catch Coyle, came dashing in, but booted the ball.

Coyle scored and Jacobson, quick to see the opening, ran to third, whence he scored on Balenti's long fly to Welchonce. The latter made several rousing catches during the matinee.

The Crackers started a rally in the ninth, but had some ill luck. Tommy Long, first up, broke his toe with a single. Reynolds was sent into hit for Elbel, who had been faltering at the bat all day. The pinch-hitter landed square on the nose, but the ball went directly to Graff for a ready-made out in short, after which Lynch whiffed, ending the game.

The game was detailed to Caller King as usual.

TECH HIGH PLAYS G. M. C. THIS AFTERNOON

One of the most important prep games to be played locally will be the game played this afternoon at Fence de Leon between Tech High and Georgia Military academy.

Tech High has a wonderful team this year, that combines all the requisites of a high-class ball club, and should have little difficulty in winning the pennant in the Prep league. So far they have not lost a single game, and they are right now in the height of condition.

Georgia Military college, on the other hand, has one of the best teams in the state, and have not yet lost a series to any of the other strong prep teams.

Later on Tech High will go to Milledgeville to play the game with G. M. C. on their home lot.

The game will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock, and 25 cents will be charged those who desire to come out. Ladies will be admitted free.

MAJORS NEED NOT CUT DOWN MAY 15

National Commission Rescinds Order—Federal League the Cause.

Chicago, April 23.—The rules requiring major league teams within the pale of organized ball to cut down their playing squads to twenty-five men by the 15th of May, was rescinded by the National commission at a meeting held here today.

The commission, sitting as a board of strategy in a special meeting here, discussed every phase of the baseball war, but instructed Chairman Herrmann to take no further action. Rescinding of the rule was openly proclaimed a measure against the Federal league and by its organized baseball hopes to prevent the "new laws" from winning over players released from minor league clubs, the commission wound up its work in a brief session.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The regular monthly meeting and luncheon of the Atlanta real estate board will be held today at 12:30 o'clock at the Ansley hotel.

The host and principal speaker of the meeting will be Charles P. Glover, president of the Charles P. Glover Realty company, and ex-president of the Atlanta real estate board. President Harris G. White, of the board, has given Mr. Glover free rein and he may select any subject that suits his fancy. Mr. Glover, through his personal interest and knowledge in the interest of the board, has become to be recognized as a sort of "daddy" of the board, and anything he says is certain to be interesting to the realty fraternity.

A large audience is expected, and promptness is requested.

Building Notes.

Two new apartment houses on the north side of the city are now under course of construction and will shortly be complete.

One is the handsome building of George W. Parrott at Peachtree street and Peachtree circle, which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 or $60,000, and the other is the building of John D. Babbage, Jr., on Lafayette drive in Ansley Park, costing approximately a similar amount. Both are of brick construction and will be three stories high.

The apartment house which will be built by Francis E. Mackie and others on Third street will be a handsome one.

James L. Wright is building stores on West Peachtree street.

Colonel Willis Ragsdale is having the old Plaza hotel, at Peachtree and West Peachtree streets, remodeled into stores in the point of the junction.

In addition to these activities there are a number of beautiful and expensive residences which have already been mentioned under way.

The architects of the city are busy. All of them report plans for one or more buildings.

This is sure enough gardening weather. It is perfectly safe now to plant out even the most tender vegetables or plants. Every morning our wagons come in from the greenhouses loaded with fresh, tender tomato pepper and egg plants; just the kind you want. Our plants have all been transplanted and are stocky and well rooted. Prices: Tomato, 30 cents per dozen; peppers and egg plants, 25 cents per dozen.

POLITE and courteous treatment in the store and prompt delivering has been a great help in building up the Hastings business. Our clerks are trained to courteous ways and have had experience enough to be able to give customers advice as to what are the best varieties of vegetables and flowers to plant. These things, coupled to the fact that we handle the very best grade of seeds that can be had, has enabled us to build up the largest seed business not only in Atlanta, but the entire south. People in Atlanta realize how big a business we have and lots of Atlanta folks send their orders for seeds and plants to out-of-town houses that are not as large as Hastings and certainly not as well equipped to handle the things that are best adapted to this climate and are in a position to give you better values than a house in the north or east. Try us this spring and we feel sure that you won't want to send your money out of Atlanta again for seeds.

PLEA FOR HOME ENDS POLICE BOARD MEET

Seventeen Ballots Cast, But No Chairman Has Yet Been Elected.

After seventeen futile ballots had been cast by the members of the police board in the hope of electing a chairman for the honorable body, the commission yielded to the seductive word painting by Commissioner George F. Dickson, of the manifold beauties and delights of home, and adjourned.

The commissioner, it is stated, lives in the suburbs, and infinitely prefers home life to the turmoil of politics. So when seventeen ballots had ended about the same way that six others had gone, he decided it was about time to "break up" the meeting.

Forthwith he secured the floor and, branching off from police and politics, and chairmen, devoted his words to the attractiveness of home and of wife, and of kiddies, in such a way as to win the unanimous indorsement of all the commissioners present.

"If you want to elect a commissioner," he advised, "go to see the outside. We can't do it here. Four hundred and eighty-six ballots have told us that, and I can't conceive anything more truthful than these 17 votes we've thrown to the winds."

Here he was interrupted.

"Winds and what else?" called Commissioner Johnson.

"Well," retorted Commissioner Dickson, "to Candidates Face and Pain."

"I had a lot rather be at home with my wife and children than here pecking away at something which we all know is hopeless. I move we adjourn."

There were ten seconds to his motion. The whole board chorused, "Aye."

The vote throughout the seventeen ballots stood five for Bill Pain; three for R. T. Pace and two for W. A. Varnow, with the Varnow votes ready and willing to go over to Pace at a moment's notice. Colcord and Lee Smith were absent.

PREMIER MOTORMEN CONVENE HERE TODAY

H. O. Smith, President of Company, Will Arrive in Atlanta This Morning.

H. O. Smith, president of the Premier Motor Manufacturing company of Indianapolis, Ind., will arrive in Atlanta today to be present at the Premier dealers' convention to be held in the Ansley today and tomorrow. Walter Weidely arrived here yesterday, and will demonstrate the exceptional qualities of the new Premiers.

Also a display of the Premier's new car, the Premier-Weidely, will be held at 150 Peachtree street, in connection with their latest model Premier Special.

All their dealers from ten southern states will be here to look over the new models announced by this firm.

The cars were shipped from Indianapolis to Atlanta by express in order to get them here in time for this convention. The factory has been swamped with orders since they announced their new models.

A banquet to the dealers will be given Saturday night at the Ansley hotel by J. D. Levi, southern district manager of the Premier Motor Manufacturing company.

"Snow" Arch Supporting Insole.

Most Snow shoes at $4.50 and $5.00, and some at $4.00, are equipped with the Snow Arch Supporting Insole.

¶This insole is unlike any of the usual tangle-wood or copper devices which raise the arch but weight down the foot.

¶It isn't supposed to be a cure for the man with a fallen arch; it is a prevention for all of us, who, forced to stand on our feet a deal, are developing a tendency toward flat-footedness.

¶Light as a feather, it buoys the foot; it doesn't sink it. You won't know it's there, but it's doing its work.

¶See how much firmer your foot will feel. Waiting for you!

ATLANTA SCHOOLS ON UNIT SYSTEM

Seven Years Sufficient.

The only doubt in the minds of some members of the board and others who have given study to the "unit system" is whether or not the average child can finish in seven years a course of studies it now requires children eight years to master. Commissioner Guinn made a study of the system in the cities of Richmond, Baltimore, Houston, Dallas and other Texas cities, and learned that no difficulty was encountered. Wherever the system has been tried out, according to Commissioner Guinn, the school authorities devoted considerable time and thought to the subjects of study and attendance, and found that with a very simple course of study and by limiting the number of pupils to forty for each teacher, both student and teacher were benefited—the former by being trained according to his or her wishes, and the latter by gaining in efficiency.

When the school board reaches that stage of the subject dealing with the age limit of children applying for admission to the schools, it is very probable that the board will ask a change in the school limit, raising the limit of children to seven years.

Unanimously Approved.

It is doubtful if any reform in the school system has ever met with more enthusiastic response of educators than Commissioner Guinn's resolutions. The measures were introduced at a recent meeting of the board, and at that time they were given careful and earnest consideration. But, in order that the subject be thoroughly investigated, the board referred the measures to the teachers' and school committee, and Thursday afternoon the committee returned a unanimously approved report.

Mayor James G. Woodward was present at the meeting and took a deep interest in the subject, and in his favorable comment he declared that he will ask the finance committee of council to support the scheme financially to the extent of appropriating money next year for one or two new schools, if they are needed. Alderman Jesse Armistead, of the seventh ward, also gave assurances of his support before council and the finance committee when the time is ripe.

The board also adopted the resolution severing the normal school from the Girls' High school and connecting it with the grammar schools. This resolution was also proposed by Commissioner Guinn.

MEXICANS RIOTING AGAINST AMERICANS

Mexicans rioted yesterday against foreigners, indicated that probably there has been no loss of life.

L. P. Boone, superintendent of the National Tehuantepec terminal at Puerto Mexico, asked that his mother at Fort Sam Houston be notified that he was safe aboard the steamship Texan, in the harbor.

Dr. George R. Tabor, of the United States marine hospital service, reported he was safe aboard the steamer Dakota, in Puerto Mexico harbor.

The wireless messages did not give details of the rioting, which, however, was reported last night to have been directed against all foreigners.

NAVY PAYMASTER TAKEN AT TAMPICO.

Baltimore, Md., April 23.—Paymaster Copp, of the United States navy, was arrested on the pretext that he was a relative of Madero, according to a message from a war correspondent given for transmission by wireless to Captain Haraldson, of the steamer Borgestad, which reached here today from Tampico. The wireless on the Borgestad broke down and the message was not known until the vessel docked here.

Copp afterward was released from a Tampico jail with scant apology, the message said, and Admiral Mayo sent word to Saragosa that he must make ample apology and fire a salute before 4 p. m., or he would take drastic action. The message was dated April 10.

Ogden Trebor McClung, president of a Chicago publishing company, a passenger on the Borgestad, said feeling against Americans in Tampico was bitter.

ANTI-AMERICAN RIOTING REPORTED.

San Diego, Cal., April 23.—Telegraphic advices received here at 8:30 p. m. from American Consul Guyant tell of anti-American rioting at Ensenada. Mexican federals and the populace, according to the report, were attacking the Americans.

The monitor Cheyenne, now in San Diego harbor, will leave immediately under rush orders for the Mexican city.

Work For The Constitution:
You Haven't a Chance to Lose

The Constitution is offering a battery of high-class automobiles, a collection of player-pianos and cash prizes in its subscription contest. The details are carried elsewhere.

The keynote to this contest is that if you invest even reasonable effort you can't lose.

You may win an automobile.

What that means with the open season getting under way is obvious.

You may win a player-piano.

The source of pleasure and education from one of these instruments is almost past estimate.

You may win a cash prize.

In any event, well-directed effort will land you a compensation for your outlay.

Here is one competition where there are no blanks.

It is easy to work for The Constitution.

The one morning newspaper in its territory is a friend-maker.

If you make friends for it, you win an auto, a player-piano or a cash prize.

Where can you get a better return for time and gray matter invested?
