Huerta Accepts the Tender of Mediation

AMERICANS ARRESTED AND PROPERTY LOOTED

Mexican Mobs Still Harrying Americans

WASHINGTON HOPES FOR AN ADJUSTMENT BUT DOES NOT STOP WAR PREPARATIONS

Dictator's Formal Acceptance of "Good Offices" Will Be Placed Before the South American Diplomats Today.

AMERICANS CONTINUE TO FLEE FROM MEXICO

Efforts Being Made to Arrange for Departure of All Americans From Mexico City—Border Reports Encouraging.

Washington, April 26.—Spanish Ambassador Riano announced late tonight that he had received private advices from Mexico City stating that General Huerta had accepted the offer of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to use their good offices to bring about an amicable settlement of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico.

This information, though unofficial, was accepted as authentic by the ambassador, who expects to be prepared to place General Huerta's formal acceptance before the representatives of the three South American countries TOMORROW.

FORMAL ACCEPTANCE NOT YET AT HAND.

The interests of the Huerta government in the United States were taken over by the Spanish embassy when Charge Algara left Washington. Ambassador Riano received the offer of good offices from the three peace envoys last night, after the offer had been accepted by President Wilson. It was cabled immediately to the Spanish minister at Mexico City and by him presented to President Huerta.

When the formal acceptance from Mexico City is in hand the South American diplomats will be ready to proceed with their plan, no intimation of the nature of which as yet has been given. It generally has been understood here, however, that the peace envoys expect to deal directly with the situation created by the Tampico incident and other offenses against the honor and dignity of the United States, hoping to bring about a peaceful settlement.

Administration officials appeared to be much gratified at the prospect of having the proposals of the great South American republics listened to by General Huerta. Until the nature of the plan is known no officer of the administration will make any comment.

HOPE FOR PEACE, READY FOR WAR.

Hope for peace—yet no slackening in preparations for war—was the spirit of today's developments in the Mexican crisis.

President Wilson, hopeful, though not confident, that war may be averted through the efforts of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, conferred with Secretary Garrison, approving orders for the joint jurisdiction of the army and navy over Vera Cruz and vicinity, when Brigadier General Funston, who will be in command there, arrives tomorrow to reinforce Admiral Fletcher's forces.

Tension over the one phase of the situation, which may at any moment upset peace plans—the safety of Americans in Mexico City and other interior points—was partially relieved by the announcement of Secretary Bryan that, through the British embassy here, the Huerta officials and Admiral Fletcher had arranged for the safe departure of Americans from the Mexican capital and the free exodus of Mexicans from Vera Cruz. Thomas B. Mohler, first secretary of the British legation in Mexico City, taking a trainload of Mexicans from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, informed General Huerta that the American forces were not restraining Mexicans from leaving there and was assured that Americans consequently would be allowed to leave the capital as they pleased.

"Death to the Gringoes" Shouted by the Mexicans

Over a Thousand Refugees Reach Galveston, and Tell Stories of Privation and Insult to Flag.

Galveston, Texas, April 26.—The battleship Connecticut and torpedo boat convoy Dixie came into port today, bringing the last of the American refugees from Tampico and nearby districts.

"There may be five or six Americans still in Tampico, but they would not leave," said Captain John J. Knapp, of the Connecticut, just after the battleship dropped anchor. There are 400 refugees on the Connecticut and 670 refugees on the Dixie. On board the steamer Esperanza, that came in from Tampico last night, there were 270 Americans who had fled from Mexico. There are about 2,100 American refugees held here in quarantine on the ships, but their release is expected either tomorrow or Tuesday.

Anti-American Riot.

The story of the anti-American riot in Tampico last Tuesday night, when German officers and sailors went to the rescue of the American refugees and escorted over twenty women and children aboard the German cruiser Dresden, was told by refugees on their arrival today. Officers of the battleship Connecticut said that only for the assistance of the German sailors there would have been undoubtedly bloodshed. Tuesday morning the United

VERA CRUZ PLACED UNDER MARTIAL LAW BY THE AMERICANS

Disorder and Unruliness in Any Form by the Mexicans to Receive Swift and Severe Punishment.

Vera Cruz, April 26.—Definite instructions from Rear Admiral Badger, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, to all American noncombatants to leave Vera Cruz by the steamer Mexico were posted at the consulate and other conspicuous places today.

The order stated, in terms that could not be misunderstood, that all must be aboard the ship by 4 o'clock this afternoon. Many objected to the order and especially rebellious were the women whose husbands are still in the interior. Knots of these held indignation meetings, and several expressed their intention of not complying, short of actual compulsion.

The explanation was offered that food supplies and housing accommodations rapidly were becoming serious problems and there was danger of disease through over-crowded condi-

Americans Are Arrested And Their Property Looted In the Mexican Capital

Officers of American Club Seized for Refusing to Contribute Money to Huerta—Many Americans Are Taken From Trains and Confined. Huerta Encourages Mobbing of Americans.

Vera Cruz, April 26.—According to word received here from Mexico City, K. M. Van Zandt, the president, and all the trustees and officers of the American club there are under arrest as are all officials of the Mercantile Banking company and the Mexico City Banking company. The officers of the banking institution were arrested because of their refusal to contribute money to the Mexican government.

Among those detained are M. C. H. Agramonte, a civil war general; W. L. Vail, J. B. Buchanan, William A. Parker, C. G. Ray, E. Marr and Charles Yaeger, the club manager, who also is a veteran of the American civil war.

The American grocery was burned and an attempt made to fire the American club. Three other American stores were looted. Hand-bills urging the populace to burn American business houses are being circulated in the capital.

A number of American women in the capital, who otherwise might have come to Vera Cruz on the refugee train, refused to leave their husbands. The order against leaving Mexico City appears not to have applied to them.

The government appears to be encouraging the demonstrations against Americans, although the burning and looting is held in check by the police.

AMERICAN CONSUL THROWN INTO JAIL BY HUERTA FORCES

Consul General Hanna Wires Washington That He Was Held Prisoner for Two Days at Monterey.

Washington, April 26.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were greatly incensed tonight at receiving a dispatch for Consul General Philip C. Hanna, at Monterey, Mexico, announcing that he had been subjected to insults and indignities by Mexican federal officers and kept a prisoner in the government palace from April 22 until the constitutionalist forces captured the town two days later. The consul reported that mobs led by federal officials tore down all the American flags in the city, trampled them and then burned them up in the streets.

On the arrival of the constitutionalists Mr. Hanna was released and treated with marked consideration. He said the rebel officers made speeches in front of the state house giving assurances of full protection to all foreigners and non-combatants.

Secretary Bryan went to the white house and conferred with the president when the consul general's report reached the state department.

CONSUL'S STORY OF HIS ARREST.

Consul Hanna's telegram follows:

"Monterey, Mexico, April 26, 1914.—Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.: April 24, 1 p. m.—On the 21st of April a federal military officer, Captain Alvarez del Castillo, evidently instructed by the federal military commander to tear down all American flags, arrived at this consulate general with a street mob which he had gathered, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and pounded in the door and demanded that the American flag over this consulate general be immediately lowered or he would shoot it down. The other federals proceeded to tear down all American flags, standing on them, making speeches throughout the city of Monterey, burning some of them and tearing them up and leaving them piled in the middle of the streets.

MOST INSULTING ACT EVER WITNESSED.

AMERICANS SEIZED AND IMPRISONED.

More than thirty Americans—men, women and children—trying to leave the country were taken from a train at Aguas Callentes and imprisoned in the smelter there, according to advices received here today. Among them was Gaston Schmutz, United States consul at Aguas Callentes.

Some of the others are Miss Kay, matron at Aguas Callentes hotel; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Peyton and their two children, Mrs. H. Richlmann and four children, Mrs. Schmutz, wife of the American consul; C. L. Baker, general manager of the American Smelting and Refining company; E. E. Hearn, H. D. Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hagroun and their daughter, F. H. McAuley, Mr. Patridge, C. F. Lucas, J. I. Henderson, Mrs. A. B. Emery, Walter Rikel, A. W. Koch, H. Hendricksen, of the La Fe Mining company; Mr. Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lee, H. H. Hollingsworth and wife, P. W. Jones, Mr. Borrell.

A drunken mob at Ensarnacion entered the train and ordered all Americans out of the cars, declaring they were to be killed. While parleying with drunken men a small party of Mexican soldiers appeared. Their officer protested against the summary execution of the Americans and had them taken to Aguas Callentes, where American Consul Schmutz, Railway Superintendent Thomas and a number of railway employees were added to the number of captives, all of whom were locked in the smelter.

Another party of American refugees fleeing from a town in the state of Aguas Callentes were driven from the train and marooned at the station of Trinidad.

handbills call on the populace to destroy the concerns listed.

Some of the American stores whose names appeared in the circular already have been looted.

Another list being distributed is that of Mexicans managing some of the American stores. It is declared these men must be killed because of their identification with foreign interests.

The newspapers of the capital are publishing stories to the effect that the American forces at Vera Cruz are slaughtering women and children, and the papers call on Mexicans in Mexico City to retaliate in a similar manner.

WHOPPING STORIES TOLD BY HUERTA.

Other stories printed by the newspapers say that France, Germany, Great Britain and Spain have declared war against the United States and that American battleships have sunk several ships flying the flags of those nations. Mexicans also are told that the Mexican army has invaded the United States and that the negroes in the southern states have risen and are assisting the Mexicans.

Efforts to repair the cable line between Vera Cruz and the capital, which is cut a short distance from Vera Cruz, developed the fact that the federals have an outpost only eight miles away. Incidentally the attempt almost cost the life of the lineman, Mendoza.

The federals captured the lineman and stood him up for execution, but on assuring his captors of his loyalty to the Mexicans he induced them to release him. Returning here Mendoza revealed the presence of the Mexican force to the American officials. Mendoza is an employee of the Mexican Cable company.

HUERTA CONSIDERS HIS COUNTRY AT WAR.

Proof that General Huerta regards his country at war with the United States is contained in the note sent by Foreign Minister Rojas, to Nelson O'Shaughnessy ordering the American charge d'affaires from the country. The note says:

"According to international law, acts of the armed forces of the United States, which I do not care to qualify in this note, out of deference to the fact that your honor personally has distinguished himself as a gentleman, have placed the Mexican people and government in a most strictly correct conduct so far as has been possible to you in your character as the representative of a government with which such serious difficulties as those existing have arisen, must be considered as an initiation of war against Mexico."

VERA CRUZ PLACED UNDER MARTIAL LAW

tions. It was intimated that this might be the last opportunity for some time for refugees to reach the United States.

Consul Canada, replying to anxious questions of those caught short of funds, gave assurances that the United States had been caring for such persons at the ports where they were landed and was providing for them.

Vera Cruz, April 26.—Vera Cruz tonight is under martial law. Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commanding the American naval forces on shore, today issued a proclamation to this effect and the last opportunity Mexicans had for handling their own affairs in Vera Cruz under their own laws disappeared.

Admiral Fletcher and his staff determined there should be no more quibbling with the Mexican officials regarding the form of government, and until further notice residents of this port will live and be judged by military law. The word has gone forth that disorder and unruliness in any form shall receive quick, sure and severe punishment.

This proclamation makes Rear Admiral Fletcher absolute ruler ashore.

It is believed the martial law proclamation will open the way for more of the city and federal employees to return and co-operate in restoring the local government functions. Mexicans point out that these men now will be in a position to explain to their friends and the existing government at the capital that under martial law they feel obliged to return to their work.

All Arms Are Taken.

An order that all arms be turned in by residents by noon today brought to the headquarters of the provost marshal hundreds of small arms and stacks of rifles.

The city was quiet last night and if there was even a single sniper in action the fact was not reported to division headquarters.

Many Mexican officials have reported their willingness to resume their duties of office under the supervision of the Americans. The American officials named to handle the details of the supervision of the municipal governmen are:

Commander H. O. Stickney, of the Prairie, captain of the port; Fleet Surgeon P. W. Spratling, sanitary inspector; Commander D. F. Sellers, of the Arkansas, provost marshal; Commander John M. Lefty, of the South Carolina, director of the postoffice.

Ten years ago roll roofing was a high priced specialty. Today it is a staple at a reasonable price. And Certain-teed Roofing made it so.

Ten years ago manufacturers and roofing dealers both thought that they had to have an exaggerated profit on roll roofing—because so little of it was sold. Certain-teed Roofing, by modern manufacturing methods and by modern selling methods, rendered a tremendous service to roofing users and to roofing dealers by establishing a reasonable price basis for better roofing than had ever before been produced—and a reasonable profit for dealers on a bigger volume of business than had ever before come their way.

On Monday mornings we are telling 7,000,000 readers of daily newspapers the merits of Certain-teed Roofing—this is service to prospective roofing buyers in pointing the way to roofing that is backed by a fifteen-year guarantee.

Certain-teed Roofing is sold at a reasonable price everywhere by dealers who believe in giving unsurpassed quality at a fair profit. The cost of Certain-teed Roofing, laid complete on an average roof, say ten squares, will cost less than $5 over the cheap mail order grade. This small initial cost is saved many times in the fifteen years' wear which is covered by the manufacturer's guarantee.

We are also advertising in farm papers, and foreign language newspapers, reaching people who may not read the daily newspapers.

This is our idea of service. We have the three biggest mills—we are large buyers of raw materials—and we advertise everywhere, because that is the cheapest way to sell our roofing.

We share the savings of our enormous volume with you who use roofing. We encourage jobbers and dealers to follow our example and sell on a small margin and depend upon the large volume of business which is certain to result from the best service in sacrificing quality.

That building of yours which requires a roof—whether it's a factory, warehouse, business block, farm building, garage or any other building—whether it's new or old—your first thought would be roll roofing, because Certain-teed has put roll roofing quality within reach of your pocketbook from a price standpoint.

It has done more than that—it has put Certain-teed Roofing quality within reach of your pocketbook from the standpoint of quality, durability and real roofing service on the roof.

Wilson Will Send Troops To Colorado Strike Zone

Gov. Ammons Admits He Is Powerless, and Requests the Aid of the Federal Government.

Washington, April 26.—President Wilson probably will send federal troops into Colorado tomorrow to aid in composing the serious situation in the coal fields. Colorado representatives in congress, after conferences at the white house, said late tonight that they expected the troops to be ordered out in the morning.

Representative Foster doubted the advisability of sending federal troops to the scene of the bloody industrial conflict. The congressmen placed before the president many details from the strike zone which showed that the conditions there, as one of the members expressed it, "are horrible."

Unanimous agreement among the conference, announced that the house committee, which recently returned from the scene of disorders there, would return there as soon as possible.

SEVEN MEN KILLED IN STRIKE BATTLE.

Denver, Colo., April 26.—It was reported here tonight by former Governor J. H. Peabody, of Gilpin county, that a fourth county strike zone, that strikers dynamited, would be proposed to the Chancler mine, Colorado fuel and iron company, near Canon City, tonight, occupying the mine camp.

According to the governor's advices, seven men were killed in the Ludlow fight. The fighting opened at 8 o'clock, said reports, and shortly before 9 o'clock, troops had taken possession of the town.

Four mine guards, William King, Robert Ferrins, Charles Finch and John Thomas, are known to be dead and one at least twelve other guards are said to be missing.

Union officials claim they captured twenty mine guards and one machine gun, but officers of the mine claim there were not more than twenty-five or thirty guards about the property.

Ludlow, until today, was occupied with inmates by the strikers, who, it was reported, had fled to join the Arkansas Valley fight and Forbes plant, the city hall and other buildings.

Thoroughly alarmed, a mass meeting of citizens was held, and two men volunteered to notify Governor.

The city council called on Governor Ammons for relief, and it was said he would order Adjutant General Chase, now with the state militia at Trinidad, to garrison Ludlow City with state troops. They are expected to reach there by dawn on a special train from Ludlow.

State officials conferred with Governor Ammons, declared the truce between striking miners and mine operators had ended the state militia had been broken by the strikers, and that the militia now is powerless to compel a refrain from aggressive acts to restore peace.

Governor Ammons spent a busy day holding conferences. A telegram from Washington telling of the announcement there between members of the delegation in congress from Colorado, Chairman M. D. Foster of the house mines committee; Secretary of Labor Wilson and President Wilson was given earnest consideration. Among other things, the telegram asked additional information, and stated that if and when action would be taken on the question of sending troops into the district none until requests had been received from all parties concerned. Thus far such appeals have been made only by the operators and by Governor Ammons. It was said that a similar appeal would be made tonight by officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

"DEATH FOR GRINGOES" CRIED BY MEXICANS

States warships Dolphin, Des Moines and Chester dropped down the river at Tampico and steamed to the outer harbor. It was feared that the presence of the American ships would inflame the Mexicans into an attack upon the refugees who were gathering in the town.

It was a little after 2 o'clock that afternoon that a Mexican soldier tacked up an official notice from the municipal police, stating that the American officers had landed at Vera Cruz, and appealing to the Mexicans to take up arms and defend their country. The news spread quickly. Armed Mexicans were seen running here and there, and word was sent by Americans to the refugees to assemble in central places.

"Death to Gringoes."

After dark crowds gathered on the plaza, where fiery speeches were delivered and parades were formed. "Viva Huerta!" "Death to the Gringoes!" cried the crowd, while the refugees barricaded themselves in the Southern hotel. Stones were thrown and windows smashed. Then it was that Captain Von Kohler, of the German cruiser Dresden, sent a terse note to General Zaragoza, in command of the port at Tampico, that if he could not stop the rioting, "I will see to it personally that it is stopped."

Within fifteen minutes, officers of the Connecticut said today, the Mexican rurales appeared on the streets and the crowd dispersed. Two hours later another mob appeared, filling the streets in front of the Southern hotel. An attempt was made to batter down the doors of the hotel, in which there were assembled more than 150 men, women and children. Only their revolvers gave them arms to meet any attack. A detachment of police broke up the crowd, and sacked on Tuesday morning. While it was yet dark, a German officer from the Dresden, went to the relief of the beleaguered refugees and escorted eighteen women and children to the Dresden. In that little band was a woman refugee who had walked 3 miles from the Southern hotel with a 2-days-old baby in her arms.

On Wednesday morning the general transfer of American refugees from Tampico was commenced, and the American warship Wakiva and Wilmington took aboard the refugees. After a short run through foreign waters, the refugees were put ashore at Vera Cruz, and again on the American warships. The Wakiva took down the American flag and hoisted the English colors, while the yacht Wild Duck flew the German flag. Refugees said privately the ruse would have surely been fired upon. An English officer was put aboard the Wakiva from the British warship Berwick to assist in the transfer of refugees.

S. P. Seabrook, who left the S. C. a Dixie passenger, said he brought twenty-one women and children down the Panuco river to Tampico Tuesday from Topila, an oil camp, until the Mexican government boat Vera Cruz stopped him and sent him back under threats of shelling his boat and passengers. He retired and returned flying a German flag, whereupon he was allowed to pass.

She Raised Confederate Flag.

When the excitement of Mexicans at Tampico over the fighting at Vera Cruz was at its height the raising of an American flag imperiled its owner, Mrs. Dr. Samuel Pott Hodgson, formerly of Asheboro, Ala., who raised a Confederate flag. She is the daughter-in-law of the late Colonel Joseph Hodgson, who founded the Tampico Daily Register. Mrs. Hodgson said that she not only was unwilling to leave Tampico, but that she was courteously treated by her Mexican friends even during the clothing which she declared was confined to irresponsible persons. She said she, as many other Americans, agreed to leave Tampico only because they believed American troops were about to fire on the city. She had cold her Mexican servants, she said, to abandon the house because the Americans were going to open fire within an hour. During the fighting on the streets Mrs. Hodgson said a Mexican friend had come to her and offered to die for her marching to save her from possible emergence on the street.

have witnessed. They then placed a police guard in front of this consulate general and all the inmates in this building were considered prisoners.

The next morning about 10 o'clock a police lieutenant arrived with a force of men and advised me that he had been instructed to search the building. The insulting search was completed about noon, when your consul general was taken prisoner through the streets with the mob and carried first to the penitentiary and afterwards to the state government palace, which building has been for some time military quarters and fortified and was the object of special attack by the then attacking forces.

"While I was placed under heavy guard in the grand reception of the state palace, I fully realized that I was constantly being considerably insulted and greatly humiliated, not on account of my personality, but on account of my official position as representative of the United States government in north Mexico.

"At about 8 o'clock in the evening of April 22 I was taken before the military court and notified that I was charged with being in sympathy with the constitutionalist chiefs and of being friendly to certain constitutionalist generals and especially General Pablo Gonzales and General Antonio Villareal. I was kept a prisoner and communicated with until the evacuation of the city by the federal troops and until the arrival of the constitutionalist forces early the next morning.

HANNA FEARED HE WOULD BE SHOT.

"There were times during the period when it was believed by many that I would be shot or carried in the mountains as a prisoner in case the federals evacuated. However, the evacuation of the city took place last night and I was left entirely alone in the state capitol building as its sole guardian for about six hours without being molested by any individual or officer of their departure.

"The constitutionalist forces, under command of General Pablo Gonzales, General Antonio Villareal and General Castro, carried on a successful attack since five days, which resulted in the defeat of the federal army, with heavy losses on the part of the federals and their complete route. The constitutionalist officers informed me that they heard that I was taken prisoner and that the American flag ordered taken from over this consulate general. A constitutionalist officer, Major Fierros, with a company of men broke down the front door early this morning, furnishing me with a saddled horse, and accompanied me to the suburbs of the city, where I met General Antonio Villareal, who will be governor of the state of Nuevo Laredo. In company with General Villareal and some of the foreign consular representatives in Monterey we proceeded to the state palace, where speeches were made to the people who assembled in great masses in front of the state house, giving assurances of full protection to foreigners and non-combatants and the fullest degree of freedom and protection to all well disposed, law-abiding people.

"Shortly after our arrival at the state house, General Pablo Gonsales arrived, accompanied by his staff and a large force of constitutionalist troops. He was enthusiastically received, as was also General Villareal and other officers.

LAUDS HUMANITY OF THE REBELS.

"The city is quiet and the feeling of safety and confidence has returned to the people. The humane manner in which the battle of Monterey was conducted by the constitutionalists is high credit to ideas of humanity. There has been no persecution or looting of property reported to this consulate general up to now.

"The opinion generally prevails that it is the constitutionalists' purpose to bring about a high type of free government, personal liberty and protection of property. So far the actions of the constitutionalist army at Monterey are creditable to the civilized age in which we live.

"There appears to have been some misunderstanding probably caused in Mexico City intended misrepresentation relative to the action on the part of our government following the insult to the American flag and people at Tampico, but I believe the constitutionalists now understand that the American nation has nothing but the kindest feelings toward Mexico and its people and that the action of the United States was not intended to interfere with the rights of Mexico or its Mexican people in settling their disputes, but that it was simply an act to bring a proper apology from those parties who were to blame for the insult and offense committed against the American nation, its people and flag.

"While many Americans have been imprisoned for the past few days by the federals, no Americans have been killed nor injured, excepting Mr. Guy Sawyer, head of the American colony here, who was seriously wounded at his country home during the first days of the battle. Mr. Sawyer reported better this morning.

CONSUL GENERAL HANNA."

CONSUL SHANKLIN FEARED FOR HIS LIFE.

Washington, April 26.—Consul General Shanklin today reported to the state department that he was in actual danger of his life before he finally got out of the Mexican capital to Vera Cruz. The consul general was one of the first victims of the anti-American sore and was not permitted to communicate to the state department.

In his report today the consul general said he said there were exciting moments in Mexico City the day preceding his departure. Following the overturning of the statue of Columbus, mobs marched through the streets crying "Death to the Gringoes!" Even school children took part in the demonstration, Mr. Shanklin said, boys and girls outside of his office chanting "Death to the American consul general!"

Thursday morning an order was issued that no telegram should be delivered or received from Americans.

The consul general expresses the fear that harm might come yet to the 700 or 800 Americans left in Mexico City.

TWO AMBULANCES STOPPED BY MEXICANS.

Eagle Pass, Texas, April 26.—Two ambulances sent from Eagle Pass today to bring American refugees from Musquis, Mexico, were stopped in Piedras Negras by a street mob, white flags torn from the cars and trampled on the ground and the drivers ordered back across the river. Two women and several children are in the small Musquis colony, which is completely cut off from aid, and it is feared that all have been killed or imprisoned.

General Guajardo, the federal commander, had assisted in every way to help remove Americans from the country, it was said. American citizens of Eagle Pass formed a committee to raise funds to help bring the Americans from Mexico. Another attempt will be made to send ambulances for the refugees.

Information was brought by persons arriving on horseback during the day that American property had been confiscated and many ranches looted around Musquis.

A report emanating from constitutionalists told of a rebel victory at Peyotes. It was said that General Guajardo, who commanded the federal garrison that evacuated Piedras Negras, met defeat when attacked by the forces of General Murgia. The federal troops are reported to be scattered among the hills. General Murgia is expected to enter Piedras Negras tomorrow.

CHASE FOR ELOPERS PREVENTS MARRIAGE

Police Seek Boy and Girl on Complaint From Cartersville.

The truth of the old adage, that the course of true love never runs smooth, was proven last night by the sad predicament of a couple from Cartersville.

According to the story told the Atlanta police by a deputy sheriff from Cartersville, J. E. Allen, of Atlanta, paid a visit to the Barlow county city, and while there persuaded Miss Lucy Walton, 15 years old, the daughter of a prominent citizen, to elope.

They left for Atlanta last night and within a short time after they reached the city the girl's father arrived and swore them on the complaint of the girl's father.

The police followed them so closely that they were unable to secure a license and find a preacher. Once they were almost caught, but managed to jump into an auto and escape before the policeman could get his motorcycle in good running order.

At 2 o'clock this morning they were still at liberty and seeking a preacher.

MONTEREY IS CAPTURED BY THE REBEL FORCES

Dictator Huerta Has Lost His Last Stronghold in Northern Mexico.

Washington, April 26.—The federal stronghold of Monterey has at last been captured by the constitutionalists, according to a report today from the American consul at Nuevo Laredo. He says information has reached him that Monterey was captured yesterday.

All was quiet, he reported, in Nuevo Laredo, the fires having died out, leaving the business section of the town in ruins.

Rebels Are Jubilant.

Chihuahua, April 26.—Via El Paso, April 26.)—The taking of Monterey was celebrated here today with band concerts and the ringing of bells. General Antonio Villareal was appointed governor of Nuevo Leon state, the state of which Monterey is the capital, and Nicetaro Amerano was made mayor of the city.

The federal garrison retreated in the direction of Saltillo, where they will join federal troops driven from Torreon and Piedra, and which constitute the main body of federals now in the north. General Villa is outfitting his forces for a campaign against this stronghold, but is hampered by the new embargo on American ammunition. Before leaving Monterey the defenders destroyed ammunition and artillery as they could not take with them. Armored automobiles were left behind.

Monterey is the most important city of northern Mexico, and before revolutions drove them out had a comparatively large American population. It is only 167 miles from Laredo, Texas, a population of 86,000 and has often been called the bi-lingual city, because much English as well as Spanish is spoken. Its capture goes far to complete rebel control of the northern army for a campaign against the capital.

Information of losses incurred in the fighting is available.

STRIKERS ACCUSED OF WRECKING TRAIN

Augusta, Ga., April 26.—The Savannah and Northwestern passenger train en route to Savannah was wrecked tonight shortly after 11 o'clock between St. Clair and Wayneboro, it is said. The conductor, the engineer, the fireman and one passenger injured.

Information by telephone is that strikers have cut a joint in one of the rails over a culvert, and the engine being derailed in passing over the broken joint, the entire train, consisting of a combination baggage and mail car and two coaches, was turned over in the ditch, the trestle work of the culvert giving away. The wreck is about five miles from Waynesboro.

proved by officials here who realize the difficulties with horseback sharpshooters and concealed enemies. While extreme measures will be taken to enforce order in Vera Cruz, no further steps of aggression will be taken while peace plans are being considered.

Secretary Daniels and ambassador to the ministers from Chile and Argentine, who have undertaken to solve the Mexican problem by diplomacy, were in conference most of the day.

Acceptance of good offices is in no way binding on either party to agree to any conditions, but it opens a way for discussion of proposals of mediation.

Members of the latin-American diplomatic corps were called in during the day by Mr. Daniels to express hopes and informed of the envoys' hopes.

Well posted members of the diplomatic corps were of the opinion last night that Huerta would accept the proposal in good faith, and that the acceptance, in principle at least, would not be long deferred. They pointed out that it would be difficult and almost ungracious for him not to consider such a friendly tender, coming from countries largely of his own race and language. Also they felt that he would be glad to avoid bloodshed if the offer would probably lead to such a definite agreement as would inevitably bring on a conflict in which there could be but one end.

GIRL BADLY HURT; MACHINE RUINED

Disastrous Results Follow Crash of Automobile and Motorcycle on the Roswell Road.

A motorcycle on a return trip from Roswell, driven by Holt Walker, of 580 Capitol avenue, and with Miss Cyrene Etheridge, 15 years old, of 576 Capitol avenue, riding on the rear, crashed into the seven-passenger touring car of H. A. Wason, of No. 70 St. Charles avenue, driven by Mrs. Wason, at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, 4 miles this side of Roswell. The young man and girl on the motorcycle were thrown 10 feet into a ditch.

Miss Etheridge received a broken leg and arm, and was slightly cut behind the left ear. Walker escaped with a slight injury, spraining his left ankle. The motorcycle was demolished by the terrific impact, when it struck the left fender of the touring car.

Greenberg & Bond's ambulance rushed to the scene, and hurried the young lady and young man back to the city for medical attention. They were at first taken to their home on Capitol avenue, but so serious became Miss Etheridge's condition that she was later removed to the Georgian hospital, where she was placed upon the operating table for several hours. Her physicians report her condition as serious, and state that she received a terrific shock to her nerves.

Young Walker declared that the blame of the accident lies upon Mrs. Wason. He states that a person riding in a machine behind the Wason's told him that Mrs. Wason was learning to run the car, and had zig-zagged the car from side to side of the road for some distance.

Mr. Wason stated that his car was practically at a standstill, when the motorcycle dashed into them.

Mr. Wason declared that he had put the matter in the hands of a lawyer, and would insist upon a base being made against Mrs. Wason for reckless driving.

NO PEACE STATEMENT BY GENERAL CARRANZA

El Paso, Texas, April 26.—Roberto V. Pesqueira, Carranza's confidential agent here, today said that his chief would make no public statement on the Argentina-Brazil-Chilean proffer of mediation.

"You may state," he said, "that the offer is a hopeful sign and that any proposition that looks to peace is acceptable to the constitutionalists."

DORSEY AND JUROR HOLD CONFERENCE

Marcellus Johenning and the Solicitor Refuse to Discuss What Passed at Their Meeting.

The news which leaked from the office of Solicitor Dorsey yesterday that Dorsey had held a secret conference with Marcellus Johenning, a juror in the Frank case, has created wide speculation in camps of both the prosecution and defense.

Dorsey, when asked about the secret conference, had nothing to say. He seemed surprised that it had become known. Johenning would not talk, saying that he had merely had a few words with the solicitor. He would not divulge the nature of their conversation and asked the reporter to please not press questions.

Solicitor's Force Busy.

The solicitor's forces were busy Sunday considering the amazing developments from the defense during the past few days. The letters that were published Sunday morning, as well as the affidavits in which Conley is alleged to have confessed to Mary Phagan's murder, will be investigated this week.

Numerous witnesses were brought to the solicitor's office Friday and Saturday for the purpose of making affidavits, and he has accumulated a mass of evidence which will be used in a vigorous opposition to the new trial movement which the defense is making before Judge Hill.

Mr. Dorsey plans to hold secret all evidence until the time of its presentation to Judge Hill. The evidence which he is believed to have obtained from Juror Johenning is being guarded closely. He is also carefully guarding numerous affidavits said to have been made by witnesses who have also made affidavits for the defense.

Will Convince Solicitor.

Detective Burns said Sunday that there was no doubt that Conley was guilty, and that, in due time, he would place before Solicitor Dorsey facts that would convince the prosecution that Frank was innocent. One of the strongest foundations for Burns' statement is the series of letters, which, as the detective stated in his interview

Your Turn Next

As a citizen, a taxpayer and voter you have the right to expect, and should demand, the very best hospital service which modern science has devised.

Today your public hospital gives the poorest service and is the least adequately equipped of any city hospital in the United States. Strong language, but it is true.

It may be your turn next to suffer from this deficiency.

The fault is not with the hospital management. It lies with you, because your vote could effect a remedy.

There has been no increase of income for support of the hospital in five years. Yet in this time the daily average of inside patients has increased from 60 to 231.

The hospital authorities are doing wonders with the hopelessly inadequate resources at their disposal. Yet life is daily being jeopardized or sacrificed as the result of the neglect of yourself and other citizens.

It may be your turn next.

Your life or that of your loved one may be the next to pay the forfeit for this neglect.

GRAND OPERA FEAST WILL BEGIN TONIGHT

the Georgian Terrace, where they will stop during opera week.

Late Sunday afternoon they were joined by Scotti.

With Mr. Scotti came Mr. Guard, the publicity manager of the Metropolitan Opera company.

Company Arrives Today.

Two trains of eight coaches each, bearing practically all of the remainder of the opera company, will arrive in the city this morning at 7 o'clock. One of these trains will bring all of the rest of the stars of the Metropolitan company, except Arturo Toscanini, the great conductor of the orchestra; Pasquale Amato, the famous baritone, and the soprano, Frieda Hempel.

Toscanini and Amato will arrive at noon. Miss Hempel sang in New York last night.

The company which the Metropolitan singers brings to Atlanta this year will consist of about 250 people. These include the members of the chorus, the ballet, the orchestra and the stage hands.

Caruso, one of the most faithful friends Atlanta has in the opera troupe, declared that he felt quite at home Sunday.

"It does me good to get back to Dixie once more and receive the cordial southern welcome for which you are famous," he said.

How About Those Names.

Caruso has with him his accompanist, Scognamillicco, and a friend, whose name is so strikingly similar to that of the accompanist as to hold promise of laughable cases of mistaken identity in Atlanta before opera week is over. Caruso's friend is Enrico Scognamillo, who is himself a musician, being a 'cellist of international reputation.

Scotti, although he arrived in the city too late in the afternoon to meet many of his friends of former seasons, was not only glad to be back, but justifiably proud. For Atlanta's grand opera season is somewhat of the pet of Scotti and it is with scarcely less delight to him than to Atlanta that he has seen the opera seasons grow each year in popularity and success.

And the reason for this is that the idea of an annual opera season in Atlanta is the child of none other than Mr. Scotti. Half a dozen years ago, when Scotti sang in a concert in Atlanta he was asked more in jest than seriously:

"Why didn't you bring your whole company along?"

Grand Opera Beginning.

Scotti was at once struck with the idea of putting on an opera week in Atlanta, and the movement began then and there. Scotti was pledged the support of Atlanta, and he promised to do his best toward bringing the entire company the following year. The result is history.

Caruso and his party took advantage of the typical southern weather of Sunday and spent a good part of the morning out of doors.

Caruso sauntered forth upon the hotel plaza about 10 o'clock and proceeded to caricature with pencil and pad everybody in sight in most unmerciful style. He was shortly joined by his party, and went for a spin which lasted well into the afternoon. At all times he was the center of all eyes.

Miss Farrar spent most of the day in her room resting from her tiresome trip from New York.

Caruso held a short consultation with his physician last night and retired early.

Mr. Guard is greatly pleased with the variety and the excellence of the operas which will be presented in Atlanta this week. The program includes operas which will certainly suit the taste of all. "Der Rosenkavalier," for instance, is the operatic novelty of the year. "Il Trovatore" is a household word and its arias are whistled by the urchins of Atlanta's streets in quite as familiar fashion as on the streets of Naples. "Madame Butterfly" presents as elaborately staged and as musical an opera as one would care to attend.

Stars Have Many Friends.

During their past visits to Atlanta the members of the Metropolitan opera company have made hosts of lasting friends who will give them the warmest of welcomes upon their fifth engagement here.

All Atlanta is buzzing with opera and its accompanying social features. Although this is the fifth year that Atlanta has had grand opera, the city seems never to become satiate of this wonderful music, but each year likes it more. This is amply demonstrated in increased sales of tickets each year, the sales for this season eclipsing those of each past season.

Visitors from all parts of the south began arriving in the city Sunday morning to attend the operas. It is estimated that this year's season will bring a greater number of visitors to Atlanta than any season in the past.

The first opera of the season will be heard tonight at 8 o'clock.

This opera, "Manon," is a new opera to Atlanta in so far as its presentation by the Metropolitan company here is concerned.

It is, however, an opera which one can ill afford to miss, for this opera the well known story of Manon Lescaut, founded on the story by the Abbe Prevost, is presented with the wonderfully appealing music of Massenet.

Story of Manon.

The story of "Manon" is one of love and passion and is not without its dramatic qualities.

It is upon the unfortunate love affairs of Manon, a young country girl, that the interest of the opera centers.

In the opening act Manon, in company with a dissolute brother, is on her way to a convent. They have stopped at a roadside inn, where they meet the gay young Chevalier des Grieux, and Manon falls in love with him. They elope and flee to Paris, leaving behind an old rone who adores Manon.

But in Paris Manon learns that love in a cottage, for des Grieux is without money, is not all that she dreamed it would be, wherefore she accepts the love of De Bretigny, a nobleman of wealth. Des Grieux, furious to her, and res Grieux is carried away by his father.

No Happiness for Her.

But, alas, Manon is not to find happiness in the possession of wealth and the tires of her new lover. In the meantime des Grieux has entered a monastery, but when Manon learns his whereabouts she goes to him and seeks to win his love back. He refuses to have anything to do with Manon at first, but she at length succeeds in fanning back to life the earlier fires of love, and they leave together.

Manon has developed extravagant tastes now, though, and des Grieux resorts to gambling in effort to win money to please Manon's extravagant whims. In the magnificent gambling house scene des Grieux is caught cheating and Manon is arrested for a dissolute woman.

Manon is to be sent to colonial America and is just being shoved aboard the ship, when des Grieux and her brother arrive to rescue her. But now Manon is ill, broken-hearted and tired of life now, and she dies in the arms of her lover just as she is about to be rescued.

The cast of "Manon" is as follows:
Manon Lescaut (coloratura), Geraldine Farrar.
Des Grieux (tenor), Enrico Caruso.
Lescaut (baritone), Dinh Gilly.
Comte des Grieux (basso), Leon Rothier.

VOLUNTEER ARMY OF 1,000,000 MEN

May Be Raised Under Provisions of Measure Signed by President—Text of Bill Relating to National Guard

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 26.—(Special.)—President Wilson has signed a bill under which a volunteer army of 1,000,000 troops may be raised. He acted within five minutes after the measure received the approval of Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war.

This step is of the greatest importance to every national guard organization in the country. If three-fourths of any military organization volunteers for service in the field, that organization, regiment, troop, company or brigade is to be considered as a unit and will be accepted with the officers in command. The troops are placed on practically the same footing as the regular army, excepting that the president has the right to disband the forces at the close of hostilities.

The authority of congress is needed before the volunteers may be called. This step may be taken when war is in progress or is imminent.

Heretofore the selection of officers to command volunteer forces has rested with the governors of the various states. Now, however, the power rests wholly with the president, and he may effect the organization into brigades without regard to state lines.

This measure is to overcome the confusion that existed at the time of the war with Spain. The desire is to keep the number of officers to proper proportions, which was difficult because of political preferment, and to keep the officers in command as far as possible in charge of the troops from their home localities.

To Call Out Militia.

If it becomes necessary to send American troops across the border into northern Mexico it is not the present intention of President Wilson and the war department to utilize volunteers or the militia for that purpose in the first instance. A careful scheme has been worked out by which the regulars would have been seasoned in a climate much like that in Mexico for the last two or three years will form the first invading column.

Meantime the organized militia of the states will be called into service by the president and mobilized along the border to take the place of the border patrol now maintained by the regular troops.

The militia, numbering, according to the latest tabulations, 111,673 men and 3,130 officers, can be utilized within the United States for national defense without authorization from congress. It is likely that if it becomes necessary later to send more troops across the border congress will be asked for authority under the volunteer army bill just passed to raise a volunteer army. The militia would then be sworn in for foreign service and its place would be taken by the raw recruits, who would be drilled and got into shape for service to follow the militia later in the camps near Mexico, at easy distance from the line, to repel invasion of any sort.

In case it becomes necessary to call for volunteers the bill will be of the greatest assistance to the president.

Provisions of Bill.

The text of the measure follows:

An act to provide for raising the volunteer forces of the United States in time of actual or threatened war:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the land forces of the United States shall consist of the regular army, the organized land militia and such volunteer forces as congress may authorize.

Sec. 2. That the volunteer forces shall be raised, organized and maintained, as in this act provided, only during the existence of war or while war is imminent, and in any after case congress shall have authorized the president to raise such a force; provided, that all enlistments in the volunteer forces shall be for a period terminating with the war, or, if war shall not occur, with the passing of the imminence of war. That the term of enlistment in the volunteer forces shall be the same as that of the regular army, subject to the limitations of congress. The officers and enlisted men composing such volunteer forces shall be discharged out of the service of the United States as soon as practicable after the president shall have issued a proclamation announcing the termination of the war or the passing of the imminence thereof.

Sec. 3. That when volunteer forces are to be raised the president shall issue his proclamation, stating the number of men desired, the arm or arms, corps and department, within such limits as may be fixed by law, and he shall prescribe such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the terms of this act, as may be necessary for the purpose of examining, organizing and receiving into the service the men called for; provided, that the power to organize volunteer forces shall include the power to provide, within the limits fixed as are or may be prescribed by law, the officers and enlisted men in all grades and classes, and the trained nurses, male and female, that may be necessary for the various arms, corps and departments.

President to Name Officers.

Provided, further, that when three-fourths or the prescribed number of the limited strength of any company, troop or battalion from three-fourths of the prescribed minimum enlisted strength of each company, troop or battalion in any brigade, regiment or regiment of the organized land militia of any state, territory or the District of Columbia, organized as prescribed by law and war department regulations, shall have tendered their services for service in the volunteer army as such company, troop, battery, battalion, regiment, such organization may be received into the volunteer forces in advance of other organizations of the same arm or class from the same state, territory or district, and the officers in the organized land militia service with such organization may then, within the limits prescribed by law, be appointed by the president, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, as officers of the corresponding grades in the volunteer forces and be assigned to the same grades in the same organizations or elsewhere as the president may direct.

Provided, further, that all enlisted men received into the service in the volunteer forces shall, as far as practicable, be taken from the several states and territories and the District of Columbia in proportion to the respective populations thereof; provided, further, that when the raising of a volunteer force shall have been authorized by congress, and after the organized land militia of any arm or class shall have been called into the military service as a part of the United States, volunteers of that particular arm or class may be raised and accepted into said service in accordance with the terms of this act regardless of the extent to which other arms or classes of said militia shall have been called into said service.

Like the Regular Army.

Sec. 4. That the volunteer forces shall be subject to the laws, orders and regulations governing the regular army in so far as such laws, orders and regulations are applicable to officers or enlisted men whose permanent retention in the military service, either on the active list or on the retired list, is not contemplated by existing law; and no distinction shall be made between the regular army, the organized militia while in the military service of the United States and the volunteer forces in respect to promotion or the conferring upon officers or enlisted men of brevet rank, medals of honor, certificates of merit or other rewards for distinguished service, nor in respect to the eligibility of any officer of said army, militia, or volunteer forces for service upon any courtmartial, court of inquiry or military commission. Provided, that the organization of all units of the line and of the signal troops of the volunteer forces shall be the same as that prescribed by law and regulations for the corresponding units of the regular army. Provided, further, that, when military conditions so require the president may organize the land forces of the United States into brigades and divisions and such higher units as he may deem necessary, and the composition of units higher than the regiment shall be as he may prescribe. Provided further, that to each regiment of infantry, cavalry and artillery and to such battalion of engineers and signal corps troops organized under this act, there shall be attached the same personnel of the medical department as are attached to like organizations of the regular army. Provided, further, that the organization of the coast defenses, the machine-gun and searchlight establishments of the medical department, remount depots, military trains, secret service agents, military prisons, lines of communication, including their supply depots, and such other adjuncts that may be necessary in the prosecution of war, and the organization of which is not otherwise provided for by law, shall be as the president may, from time to time, direct.

Number and Grade of Officers.

Sec. 5. That except as otherwise provided herein the president is authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to appoint all volunteer officers required by this act: Provided, that the number and grade of such officers shall not exceed the number and grade of like officers provided for a like force of the regular army: Provided, that all appointments in the line of brigadier general in the line of the volunteer forces shall be by commission in an arm of the service and not by commission in any particular regiment; and officers in each arm of the service shall be assigned to organizations of that arm and transferred from one organization to another in that arm, as the interests of the service may require, by orders from the secretary of war: Provided further, That no officer above the grade of colonel shall be appointed under the provisions of this act.

To Provide Staff Officers.

Sec. 6. That to provide the staff officers that will be necessary in the various staff corps and departments in time of war or while war is imminent, and that are not otherwise provided for in this act, the president is authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, such number of volunteer staff officers of grades authorized by law for the regular army as he may find necessary for such corps and departments: Provided, That the total number of such staff officers so appointed, including all such officers of the organized militia called into the military service of the United States, shall not exceed the ratio of one officer to two hundred enlisted men for all militia and volunteers called into the military service of the United States: Provided further, That the number of volunteer staff officers appointed in any grade in the various staff corps and departments shall not exceed in any staff corps or department the proportionate strength of regular officers of the corresponding grade as established by law for the corresponding staff corps or department of the regular army: Provided further, That the president may appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, volunteer chaplains at the rate of one for each regiment of volunteer infantry, cavalry, and field artillery, and one for every twelve companies of volunteer coast artillery raised, with rank corresponding to that established by law for chaplains in the regular army.

Vacancies in Officers.

Sec. 7. That in appointing the volunteer officers authorized by this act the president may select persons from the regular army, from those duly qualified and registered pursuant to section two of the act of congress approved January 21, 1903, from the country-at-large, from the organized land militia of the District of Columbia, and, upon the recommendation of the governors thereof, from the organized land militia of the several states and territories in proportion, as far as practicable, to their respective populations, and for an organization with the interests of the military service, from the localities from which the troops with which the officers appointed are to serve shall have been recruited: Provided, that in appointments from the country-at-large preference shall be given those who shall have had honorable service in the regular army, the national guard or the volunteer service, or who shall have been graduated from educational institutions in which military instruction is compulsory. Provided further, that at the beginning of each original organization of volunteers no officer shall hold a volunteer commission in any higher grade than that of major, except in the case of regimental officers of engineer troops, or in any one battalion of volunteer field artillery and not to exceed four regular army officers shall, at the same time, hold volunteer commissions in any one regiment of volunteer cavalry, field artillery or infantry, or in any twelve companies of coast artillery including their field and staff. And provided further, that no officer appointed as officers of volunteers under this act shall thereby vacate his rank in the army or commission, nor shall they be prejudice in their relative or lineal standing thereby by reason of their service under their volunteer commissions.

Temporary Vacancies.

Sec. 8. That the temporary vacancies created in any grade not above that of colonel among the commissioned personnel of any arm, staff corps, or department of the regular army, through appointments of officers thereof to higher volunteer rank, shall be filled by temporary promotions, according to seniority in rank from officers holding commissions in the next lower grade in said arm, staff corps or department; and all temporary vacancies created in any grade, by temporary promotions shall in like manner be filled from, and thus create temporary vacancies in the next lower grades, and the vacancies that remain thereafter in said arm, staff corps or department, that cannot be filled by temporary promotions, as prescribed in this section, may be filled by the temporary appointment of officers of such number and grade or grades as shall maintain said arm, corps or department at the full commissioned strength authorized by law.

Provided, that in the staff corps and departments subject to the provisions of section 26 and 27, of the act of congress, approved February 2, 1901, and acts amendatory thereof, temporary vacancies that cannot be filled by temporary promotions, as hereinbefore prescribed, shall be filled by temporary details made in the manner prescribed in said sections 26 and 27 and acts amendatory thereof and the resulting temporary vacancies in the branches of the army from which the details are so made shall be filled as hereinbefore in this section prescribed.

Provided, that officers temporarily promoted or appointed under the terms are so made shall be filled as hereinappointed by the president, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, for terms that shall not extend beyond the termination of the war, or, if war does not occur, the passing of the imminence thereof as defined by the president's proclamation, and upon the expiration of said terms said officers shall be discharged from the positions held by them under their temporary promotions or appointments. Provided further, that officers temporarily promoted under the provisions of this section shall not vacate their permanent commissions, nor shall they be prejudiced in their lineal or relative standing in the regular army under permanent commissions, by reason of their services under temporary commissions authorized by this section.

Returns and Muster Rolls.

Sec. 9. That all returns and muster rolls of organizations of the volunteer forces and of militia organizations while in the service of the United States shall be rendered to the adjutant general of the army, and upon the muster out of such organizations the records pertaining to them shall be transferred to and filed in the adjutant general's office. When the Shriners Come to Town

IN making plans in advance to provide adequate and efficient telephone service during Shrine week we find that many business concerns do not appreciate the magnitude of this gathering. Neither do they seem to realize how severely every public and private utility service will be taxed.

We are urging business institutions, such as hotels, cafes, newspapers, taxicab companies, baggage companies and railroad offices to arrange NOW for additional trunk lines or stations.

We are endeavoring to increase the number of public pay stations and to place pay stations at all central and convenient points. In order to do this we must have the co-operation of the business community. If our representative calls upon you for pay station space, we hope you will give him a hearing and favorable consideration.

Most business concerns will need additional service during Shrine week. Consider your needs now and communicate with the manager so that the equipment may be installed in ample time.

We shall largely increase our operating force and shall spare no pains or expense to render a service of which you will be proud and which will please the visitors.

May we have your co-operation?

ATLANTA TO HONOR VETERANS OF GRAY

Addresses Will Be Delivered This Afternoon by Governor Slaton and Others at Oakland.

Throughout Dixieland today—Memorial day—the people will unite in paying tribute to the gallant soldiers who lost their lives in the civil war, and will do honor to the survivors.

In Atlanta and in Georgia, in fact, every city in the south, will observe the day with appropriate exercises. Because of the intense situation between the United States and Mexico, Memorial day this year will be celebrated with more display of pomp and with more fervor than heretofore.

Addresses at Cemetery.

The feature of the Memorial day exercises in Atlanta will be a parade followed by the usual exercises of decorating the graves of the dead by the Daughters of the Confederacy and other confederate organizations. At the Oakland cemetery Governor John M. Slaton and prominent Georgians will deliver addresses. Throughout the day there will be exercises by the Ladies' Memorial association, Children of the Confederacy, Daughters of the American Revolution and other organizations.

Mayor James G. Woodward issued a proclamation Saturday declaring a holiday.

There will be a monster parade during the afternoon. It will be one of the longest and most impressive ever held in Atlanta. Colonel E. E. Pomeroy will be grand marshal. The parade will form on Peachtree at the junction of West Peachtree at 1:30 o'clock, and orders for marching will be issued promptly at 2 o'clock. The parade will proceed down Peachtree street to Whitehall street, thence out Hunter street to the cemetery, where the parade will break rank.

At the head of the parade will ride the grand marshal, Colonel Pomeroy, followed by a platoon of mounted police under Chief James L. Beavers, governor John M. Slaton and his staff will follow next in line riding in automobiles.

Major George M. Napier, commanding the Old Guard battalion, will be next in order of march, followed by the first division of the parade under Captain James M. Kimbrough, U. S. A. The division will consist of the Fifth regiment, commanded by Colonel Orville H. Hall; the Marist college cadets, under Captain Eugene R. Schmidt; the Georgia Military academy, under Captain J. P. Castleman, U. C. V. A., ten troops of Boy Scouts, Scout Commissioner Bayne Gibson, commanding, and the Jackson Hill brigade, W. L. Thibadeau, commanding.

Slaton in Charge.

The second division will be under the command of William M. Slaton. The division will consist of the following organizations: Red Men's drum corps, Knights of Pythias, Boys' High school battalion and the grammar school battalion. The ambulance of H. M. Patterson & Son will follow.

The third division will be formed by all the confederate associations. Colonel J. S. Prather, U. C. V., will head the fourth division. His staff will consist of a detachment of Wheeler's cavalry. The fifth division will be under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Thomas J. Ripley and will consist of carriages and automobiles containing ladies of a number of organizations.

Taps will be sounded at the cemetery and then the placing of flowers on the graves of the dead and a salute will be fired by the artillery.

Marshal at Desk Again.

Federal Marshal Howard Thompson, of the northern district of Georgia, who has been ill for nearly three months at his home in Jasonville, was at his offices in the United States building Saturday morning for two or three hours, and said that he expected to return to his desk and regular routine work the first of the week. "Never felt better to my life than now," said Marshal Thompson to friends he met, "but I might as well tell you that I'm not as strong as I'd like to be. Yet I'm sure that strength will come back to me gradually, and I hope it won't be too long coming."

DIED SUNDAY

JUDGE T. P. WESTMORELAND.

CHURCH NOT OPPOSED TO HIM, SAYS PASTOR

Will Continue Attack Upon All Evil, Dr. Holderby's Answer.

The Men and Religion Forward Movement committee having requested every pastor in the city to preach on some phase of that movement, Dr. A. R. Holderby, pastor of Moore Memorial church, complied with the request Sunday morning.

He selected as his subject and text that of bulletin No. 110: "For not against Me is against Me."

"Those are the words of Jesus, addressed to the Pharisees who held a council against Him to destroy Him," he said. "They were members of the church. Jesus here draws the lines when He said to the church, 'He that is not for Me is against Me,' and He is drawing the lines today. The great fight now on is not between the church and the world, but it is the church against the church.

"Those who are fighting the preachers for attacking evil in the city are not fighting the preachers but they are arrayed against Jesus Christ. Every man in any church who is opposing the fight now on is lined up with the forces of evil.

"I must set my church right before the world. The report that my church is opposing the attitude of the pastor is false. I will not allow any man or set of men to drag my church down after my long service of twenty-five years. I have heard from the church—the rank and file have always been loyal to Jesus Christ and to their pastor, and they are today. I am not asking any man in the church to indorse me or my preaching. I am urging every man to stand for Christ and not crucify Him afresh.

"And my final answer to every demand is this: that I shall continue my attacks upon all evil whenever occasion requires and that I shall deal more terrific blows than ever.

"The starvation game will not work. Neither will 'black hand' letters work. None of these things will deter the preachers of Atlanta from doing their duty or will subdue them into submission. The preachers of Atlanta are not made of that sort of stuff.

"It should be remembered that official boards do not represent the church. Church boards are not the church—they are merely servants of the church."

NO VERDICT REACHED IN CAMPBELL CASE

Pelham, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—The jury trying the case of the state against D. C. Campbell, charged with the murder of John Harrell, had not reached a verdict at 11 o'clock Saturday night and they were carried to a hotel and put up until Monday morning. The jury started over to the jury about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night following the charge of Judge Cox.

The entire day Saturday was spent in arguing the case and the speeches are said to have been some of the finest ever delivered in the Mitchell county courthouse. The case has attracted a large crowd at each day's session and a large number of people waited around the courthouse in Camilla and on the streets at Pelham until a late hour Saturday night in the hope of learning the verdict.

The jury has been on the case for four days and it was thought that they would make a quick verdict that they might not have to remain tied up Sunday.

NEW FRAT INSTITUTED AT MEDICAL COLLEGE

The Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternities was instituted Friday evening at the Atlanta Medical college with a charter membership of fourteen. The following distinguished guests were present: Dr. George Cook, of Concord, N. H., grand primate of the fraternity; W. W. Fapes, E. B. Block and L. E. Hastings, of the faculty; W. D. Bagley, C. C. Fishburne and N. L. Kirkland.

The initial annual banquet of the new chapter was held Saturday night at the Capital City club.

Miss Margaret Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hood, of 18 Culberson street, West End, who was subjected to an operation at the Tabernacle hospital last week, and was later removed to her parents' home, continues to improve slowly.

T. P. WESTMORELAND DIED SUNDAY NIGHT

Prominent Atlantan Had Been Ill for About Two Weeks—Funeral Arrangements Made Later.

Judge Thomas P. Westmoreland, for many years one of Atlanta's most prominent citizens, died at 6 o'clock last night at his residence, 1217 Peachtree street, after an illness of about two weeks.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed yet, but it is probable that the services will be held at Trinity church. Dr. J. W. Lee, of St. Louis, will come to Atlanta to officiate.

Judge Westmoreland was born in Greenville county, South Carolina, about 68 years ago. He came of one of the most distinguished families in that state, and his forbears were prominent in the political and social life of South Carolina.

Together with three brothers he served through the four years of the civil war. He was a member of Hampton's Legion. In 1867, when Atlanta was just recovering from the effects of war, he came to this city to cast his lot with the hardy handful who had faith in Atlanta's future. He immediately began the practice of law and soon became actively identified with the city's interests. In the early seventies he married Miss Carrie Rawson, daughter of the late R. H. Rawson, one of Atlanta's pioneer and most prominent citizens. There were no children born of this union, and Mrs. Westmoreland survives him.

For over thirty years Judge Westmoreland had been a steward of Trinity church. He was a man of great piety and was a loyal son of the church and its members.

When the superior court of Atlanta was divided into two branches, civil and criminal, he was elected to the criminal branch and made an excellent presiding officer.

He is survived by one brother, George Westmoreland, with whom he was affiliated in law at the time of his death, and a sister, Mrs. George Bell, of Greenville, S. C.

Trainmen of Atlanta Ask Georgia Support For Immigration Bill

Resolutions strongly favoring the Burnett immigration bill were adopted at a meeting of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen yesterday afternoon, and a communication was ordered sent to Senators Smith and West, of Georgia, asking that they give their support to the measure. The resolutions were indorsed unanimously. More than 100 members of the order were present.

President Wilson has threatened to veto the Burnett bill because of the literacy clause which requires aliens to read and write before entering the United States. The bill has passed the house, despite the strenuous opposition of foreign societies organized throughout this country. Aside from the literacy clause, the bill has another clause which imposes a tax on aliens.

DR. C. A. RIDLEY SPEAKS ON "MUSIC OF HEAVEN"

Dr. Caleb A. Ridley, of the Central Baptist church, spoke Sunday morning on "The Music of Heaven." In speaking of music generally he used the following eloquent words:

"Off the Faralone islands, in the Pacific ocean, stands a lone rock. When the sea is quiet and unruffled calm sits anthronog on the lasy waters no sound is heard, but when the storm god walks the waves and he raises the sea into foam there comes across the turbulous tide a sound like the cry of a lost spirit. It is the ocean's plea for rest and peace. Mariners have declared it the finding voice of all the sighs and sobs and moans and laughter and ripples of the surging sea, that they might be compressed into one minor note of music for ears deafened by the hundreds of the storm. And so it is, amid the multitudious shouts of earth's varied voices, the clear ringing note from heaven's triumphant song of mercy bursts on the ear, comforts the heart and heals our bruised and bleeding life."

Mr. Rodgers, the newly-elected associate pastor and musical director, made a great hit with the congregation. He had fifty in his chorus and the greatest music ever heard in Central church.

CONFEDERATE DEAD HONORED IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—For the forty-ninth time the memory of the confederate dead was honored in Columbus on the anniversary of the original memorial services in this city. Remarkable to state, these exercises have never been prevented by rain in the half century the custom has prevailed and ideal weather prevailed today. Open air exercises were held in the afternoon at Linwood cemetery, where perhaps 10,000 people assembled.

An oration was delivered by Hon. T. Hicks Fort, introduced by Hon. H. H. Goetchius, and both the tribute to the confederate dead, and the declaration that every section of the union would respond promptly and loyally to the call of patriotism in the present crisis were received with applause.

As impressive ceremony was laying the cornerstone of the foundation for an old confederate cannon which will be mounted in Linwood cemetery, commanding the graves of the confederate dead.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD AT TALBOTTON

Talbotton, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Memorial day was celebrated in Talbotton with appropriate services. W. Pittman Lee, of Atlanta, was the orator of the day. The vast audience which filled the spacious church listened with deep interest, and the frequent applause expressed their appreciation of the eloquence which moved with patriotic inspiration. Mr. Lee was gracefully introduced by Hon. A. P. Persons in a brief and beautiful tribute.

Mrs. Grady Lumsden Carter directed the music, which was well selected and beautifully rendered. The church, the confederate monument and the cemetery were artistically arranged and decorated with flowers. An elaborate luncheon was served for the veterans by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

How often have you heard it that "The Encyclopaedia Britannica says"—

For what the Britannica says is so. It will enlighten you on current events or ancient history. It will help you understand the operation of complex mechanical devices and great inventions. It will give you a broader knowledge of your own particular interests—whether you are a lawyer, school teacher, merchant, manufacturer, engineer, editor, salesman or clerk. It will teach you a fuller appreciation of the arts. It will equip you to discuss knowingly the important questions of interest, or enable you to master the rules of golf or tennis or baseball. It will answer the children's questions and give them a fresh interest in their educational work.

Within the 30,000 pages of the Britannica is to be found the correct answer to

HOW? WHY? WHEN? WHERE? WHAT? AND WHO?

It will supplement the education of any college man or woman. It will give the most liberal education in any line to men and women who lack the advantages of college education. It is delightful, profitable reading.

The Britannica is printed upon genuine India paper—each of its 29 volumes is only an inch thick, easy to handle. It is printed in easily-read type and is substantially bound. You can purchase the Britannica upon very easy terms. But to get it immediately at the exceptionally low introductory price—$39 to $50 less than the prices will be after May 28—you must act at once.

BRINGING FARM TO CITY.

Atlanta is one of the few important cities in the United States selected by the postoffice department for an experiment, the object of which is to utilize the parcel post to bring the producer in the country into closer relations with the consumer in the city. Postmaster Jones has received instructions from Postmaster General Burleson to encourage farmers living within easy parcel post radius of Atlanta to submit each week lists of the products, and in what quantities they are willing to furnish them.

The postoffice department plans to keep the public informed as to this list of selling farmers through the daily and tri-weekly and weekly press. The belief is that as farmers cultivate relations with patrons in the cities the need for pushing the advantages of the parcel post in a publicity sense will vanish and that feature of the service will maintain itself automatically.

There is every reason why city and country should be brought closer together in business relations. Since the department has broadened the parcel post to include butter, eggs and general produce, it is logical to assume that within a reasonable length of time direct relations between consumer and producer will be established and maintained. The Constitution has already carried "ads" bringing country producer in touch with consumer. The city man who longs for fresh country produce and who wants to be assured of the genuineness of the goods he buys, will have the guarantee of dealing with the producer at first hand. The truck farmer who has a surplus of produce can, eventually, find a ready cash market. Incidentally, it is probable that if the scheme works out it will encourage the maintenance of truck farms within parcel post radius of the cities. What this means in reduction of the cost of living is at once apparent.

It is noteworthy that the express companies also are entering into this particular field. Between their efforts and those of the government, the next two or three years ought to witness a revolution in the economic and industrial relations between the farm and the city.

A FARM SUNDAY.

Dr. T. D. Ellis, presiding elder of the Americus district of the South Georgia Methodist conference, has invented a constructive plan for bringing the church to the farm. On Sundays, at regular intervals, he has the churches in his jurisdiction devote a part of their time to talks from farm experts on subjects that make for rural uplift and practical farm betterment.

Recently, the program was given a thorough tryout in the Americus district, being well advertised in advance. The result was a huge attendance of farmers, their wives and their children to hear men from the state college of agriculture, the university and other sources speak on issues near the rural interest of Georgia.

Dr. Ellis' idea is an excellent one. He has scriptural warrant for it in the sentiment, "not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." Whatever makes a man a better farmer, or a better workman of any sort, is apt to make him a better Christian.

If all denominations adopted the Ellis idea, it would be difficult to estimate the possible results. There would be loosened in every militia district in Georgia a militant influence for better farming, and, at that, for better religion. The subjects discussed cover a wide range, from the most approved methods for ensilage to the duty of the farmer to educate his child and see to its Christian training.

Dr. Ellis has enlisted in his work the co-operation of the state chamber of commerce, with its machinery for propaganda. He hopes to see the idea of the "Farm Sunday" spread to all parts of Georgia and to all denominations, holding that the part of true religion is the betterment of the lives and lots of its votaries.

A REAL FOREIGN MISSION.

One of the most practical foreign missions ever projected by organized religion or philanthropy is the scheme fostered by the American Red Cross to eliminate or ameliorate the recurrent and disastrous floods in the Huai and Yellow river districts of China. The Chinese government is co-operating and our own government is being asked to do its share.

In the huge territory thus affected, it has been impossible by reason of floods to average more than two crops in five years. The result is chronic beggary visited upon millions of people. The direst sort of destitution drives hundreds of thousands of them to crime.

The simple remedy for these conditions is to complete reclamation projects such as will control the unruly waters that scourge the districts alternately with flood and drought.

As it is now, the sympathies of the entire world are perennially laid under tribute to ease the sufferings of the victims. Viewed from the economic standpoint alone, it would be money saved to contribute to a plan to prevent beggary rather than to one to relieve it after it has needlessly developed.

"BETTER BABIES."

Samuel H. Rinck, public librarian of Detroit, Mich., has originated a simple and practical plan for race conservation. He watches each day the names of the women in his town who appear on the roster of newly-made mothers. He then mails to these lists of the magazines and books in the library dealing with infant and child life and its improvement. His report is that the movement has become one of the distinct features of the Detroit public library. So favorably does the American Library association regard the plan that its general application will be made one of the subjects of discussion at the association's annual convention in Washington, May 25-30.

Mr. Rinck's experience suggests that librarians throughout the United States can find a fruitful field of endeavor in popularizing literature looking toward the conservation of child life.

The mothers of the race are today awake as never before to the possibilities of strengthening the vitality of the child and guarding it against contagious and preventable diseases by following the elemental rules of science. Their intelligent alertness is seen in their constant attendance on women's clubs and their attention to civic issues the substance of which is of a health or sanitary nature.

As illustrating the scope of this tendency, it is said that even in the east side of New York, and in most of the foreign colonies of the metropolis, mothers develop a keen interest in literature that has to do with the welfare of the child. The big national endowments and institutions, striving to promote conservation of babies and children, report that from every section of the country come inquiries for exact information and expert guidance.

The age in which we live is one that essentially devotes much energy to building up the race at its fountainhead. We are learning the folly of the worst form of race suicide, which is the slaughter of the innocents by neglecting ordinary sanitary and hygienic precautions and permitting the infant mortality rate to gain formidable proportions. There is no doubt that the universal adoption of the plan of Mr. Rinck would make it possible to reduce infant deaths by at least one-fifth. The economic gain from such an improvement is difficult of estimate.

CAN COXEY.

The New York World believes "General" Jacob S. Coxey ought to be "canned."

The World is right.

He not only is an unmitigated nuisance, but he is today a small peril that may tomorrow evolve into a large menace.

Coxey's only excuse for leading another "army of the unemployed" on to Washington is that he wants the money and the notoriety.

Already he is well-to-do.

His previous enterprises in professional idleness have given him a comfortable fortune.

He lives and travels in luxury, while the poor deluded devils he rallies to his banner of discontent must tramp and beg for a living.

It is even said that one or two towns on his itinerary have kindly cleared their jails of vagrants, in order that his ranks may be swelled.

The fraud about Coxey is that he gathers vagrants to him and parades them as "unemployed." The danger is that he will sow a spirit of discontent for which there is no valid reason. His mannerisms and his silly, half-baked orations are insults to every decent workingman in the land. He is humorous enough as long as he stays at home and spouts to the newspapers. He is a meddlesome and threatening pest when he "takes the field" as the evangel of "unemployed labor." Heaven save the mark!

Without abridging the right of free speech and action in this country, there ought to be law enough in this land to curb the vagrancy-for-revenue-only of the Coxey type.

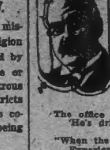

Uncle Sam has only given one reason for hitting Huerta, but if pressed for more he has ninety and nine up his sleeve.

The Mexican situation saves a lot of talk by explaining itself.

FRANK L. STANTON

He's Drillin' for the War.

Here is the way The Billville Banner man eludes troublesome visitors:

"When the man who'd run the country
Is in his peculiar style—
Who says more in a minute
Than he'll stick to in a mile—
Would interview the editor—
Long only knows what for!—
He's drillin' for the war.'

The office boy informs him:
'He's drillin' for the war.'

"When the portals of the sanctum
Experience a shock,
And the office force is trembling
At the bill collector's knock:
When there comes an intimation
That the bailiff's at the door,
The editor—
He's drillin' for the war.'

"That is his sure salvation—
There isn't any doubt,
And thus it is one trouble
Can drive another out.
To foes with guns with sticks and bricks,
To bailiffs—half a score,
There's just one answer for them all:
'He's drillin' for the war!'"

"A Great, Serene Soul."

This fine tribute to President Wilson by William Allen White:

"How well he seems to have managed it—this whole sordid business of going to war; how fair he has been; how patient, how dignified, how infinitely gentle and kind. No bluster, no threats, no slinker of anticipation; no licking of the nation's chops—just a simple-sounded, brave, soft-hearted, hard-headed man, big enough to go into war of any kind at any time; but it is less sad to go knowing that every honorable means has been taken to keep away from war. And in the consolation President Wilson has given us by his wise, forbearing, Christian attitude before the provocation of a foe mad and desperate and foolish.

"The good God, who knows all and watches over us all, and directs all, was in our hearts deeper than we know when as a nation we chose this great, serene soul to lead us."

The Meeting.

I.

Glad to meet the morning
'Neath a sky of blue,
The daisies in the meadow
Drippin' with the dew,
And all the lovely critters—
A-sayin' things to you.

II.

Birds singing in the blossoms,
Murmur of hidden rills,
And high and clear as heaven
The music of the hills,
Till the angels lean and listen
From the azure window-sills!

A Puzzling Situation.

The following letter is from a patriotic Billville citizen:

"There are six Mexicans doin' business in this here town, and we learn that they are sellin' out cheap for cash, to get money to return to Mexico and fight the country where they've been a-makin' of their livin' for ever so long. What must we do with 'em? They won't break the law, so's we could jail 'em, and we ain't got no excuse to. Something ought to be done, but we don't know how to git at it."

Fine April Lyric.

The best of April songs this year was written by Folger McKinsey. It ripples like a rill:

"The blue sky for her bonnet,
The green hill for her gown,
She weeps along the valley,
She smiles upon the town.
No telling what will happen,
Except that what you will,
She goes forth wild with beauty
The rainbow round her still!

"Miss April, April, April.
Ah, blame her not, she knows
The heartache of the violet,
The romance of the rose!"

A Busy Patriot.

"Jed Doolittle is the busiest man in town on wash day," says a western exchange. "He rushes home to dinner and informs his wife that he must hurry back to an appointment with a man at half past 12. And then he stands around the postoffice and licks the Mexicans till 5 o'clock."

The Victory of the Fields.

I.

The fields for harvest makin'—
A victory to be won.
Oh, the corn'll soon be shakin'
Its tassels in the sun.

II.

For joy the country's singin',
A land of health unsold,
When harvest-bells are ringin'
We'll glimpse a rain of gold.

III.

Joy to the hills and valleys,
For many a toiling band;
The world, applauding, rallies
To greet the harvest-land.

A New Remedy.

"You may beat your dyspepsia by joking at it," says a London author: "I sat down at the club lunch opposite an artist suffering from indigestion, myself being a fellow sufferer. I prescribed. 'Let's take the absolute worst things we've ordered—roast pork, roly-poly pudding and Scotch ale,' laughed all the time at the solemn men who were giving other advice, and—when we met again confessed that our dyspepsia had disappeared in laughter!"

Confederate Dead—April 26.

Within memorial lands they take
Their long and silent sleep;
In battle rank no more to stand,
Or in the fields of valor reap.
'Tis well that history shall claim
These heroes of a world renown;
Rich guerdon of a land that lost
All, save her honor's fadeless crown.

These keep the truce where'er they be,
Secure in all the world's applause;
All heedless they of praise or blame,
Their lives their country's, and her cause.
They learned of duty her one call,
When freedom bade her sons arise;
Nor doubt, nor fear, nor battle lines,
Could damp their thrill of high emprise.

Each hero grave shall be a shrine,
Where spring with all her fairy train
Shall dower each head with fadeless crown,
Till she renew her gift again.
Perchance some vagrant wind shall blow
Sweet echoes from each summer's breath;
Or, whisper to their dreaming ears
The glories of a soldier's death.

Shall man his bronze and marble rear
To signal forth a nation's love?
Not these alone shall tell the world,
Nor these a people's heart shall prove.
They only speak in feeble tongue,
Yet through the world they challenge place
For struggle grand as e'er adorned
The annals of a knightly race.

No more the bugle's stirring call,
No more the drum-beat's vibrant sound,
Shall wake their souls to battle's din,
Or thrill above their lowly mound.
No more the reassuring heights they climb,
Or march through heat, or winter cold;
No more the battle cross shall claim
The newer south from out the old.

How sweet the sleep of patriots dead,
Of them who fought, and thus had won
Their right to martial sepulcher.
A nation's love and trust their own!
No matter where or when begun,
Or where they fought, or where they fell,
'Tis good to know they died to win
Success for cause they loved so well.

What is the urgent call that speaks
To woman's heart and woman's hand?
Though tragic Appomattox lives,
Not less a Gettysburg shall stand.
These must their part with all, and direct all,
Shall prompt the epic of a cause
That measured arm with brawny arm
Of men who won a world's applause.

This patriot trust she loveth well.
Her hero grave in hill and plain—
We leave them to her jealous care,
Their record safe, without a stain—
Yes, woman's hand shall care for them,
And woman's heart shall guard their name,
While storied columns speak their deeds.
And patriot tongue declare their fame.

(From The Houston, Texas, Post.)

That clean-up picture in yesterday's Post, borrowed from The Atlanta Constitution, showing how indifference to living conditions among the negroes menaces the health of the entire community, presents a question that The Post has stressed on many occasions. It was not overdrawn.

If you do not know how and under what conditions your servants live, you are not merely indifferent to them, but to the welfare of your own family.

How often is there contagious disease in the home of the colored laundress that you are ignorant of?

How often is there contagious disease in the home of your cook, of your maid, of your coachman that you know nothing about?

How do you know but that the colored girl who is employed as nurse for your children does not come from an infected house?

Contagious diseases frequently exist in negro homes for weeks before discovered by the health authorities. It is a common thing for them to depend upon patent medicines when there is urgent need for a physician. And their friends and neighbors visit victims of contagious diseases without knowing the nature of the maladies.

Those who employ negro servants ought to take an interest in improving living conditions among them. They ought to know the surroundings amid which they live. That much interest ought to be manifested merely out of ordinary human sympathy, because it is the duty of white people to aid and encourage the negroes to better standards of living.

But whether done in this spirit or not, it certainly ought to be done as a matter of self-interest.

A Veiled Portrait.

(Gazeta de Noticias, Rio de Janeiro.)

This concerns a portrait in Portugal: There was in the salon of honor of the Congregation of the Faculty of Medicine, at Lisbon, a portrait of the former king, Don Carlos I. The permanent exhibition of this portrait troubled the slumber of the minister of instruction of the republic of Portugal, who, however, had no power to demand that it be removed. So he expressed to some members of the faculty the desire that this reminder of sovereignty should be covered with a veil. And this has been done. So Don Carlos I is found concealed in darkness like the cross and the tabernacle in holy week.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

ORDINARIES OF THE STATE

STRONG FOR GOVERNOR SLATON

What Governor Slaton's friends regard as one of the most favorable signs is the fact that the ordinaries of the state who have been heard from thus far are for him almost to a man. The ordinaries do not have to stand for election this year, and they are, therefore, more or less free to express their opinions.

In many letters from counties all over the state ordinaries have told Governor Slaton they were for him and that the sentiment of their communities was strongly behind him.

Another thing that Governor Slaton's friends point to as significant is the fact that his opponents have concentrated their fire on him. In his speech at Augusta Friday night Hardwick aimed all his guns at Governor Slaton and let Tom Felder severely alone. John E. Cooper, in several speeches, has done the same thing.

MANY CANDIDATES WILL COME TO ATLANTA FOR CONFERENCES

It looks very much as if Atlanta would be a sort of clearing house for gubernatorial candidates this week and that the matter of who will make the race will largely be determined by the incidental conferences which will be held.

W. H. Burwell, of Sparta, speaker of the house, is expected to arrive today for grand opera; Nat E. Harris, of Macon, is also expected in the city, and it is probable that J. Randolph Anderson and Judge W. E. Thomas will put in an appearance early in the week.

The candidacy of several prospectives seems to hinge on the attitude of Judge Thomas. In all probability he will come to a decision this week.

HOT TIMES POLITICALLY AHEAD OF MACON VOTERS THIS SUMMER

Macon, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—If Macon doesn't get heated up over politics this summer it will not be on account of a lack of the things which usually go to make local interest, namely candidates, but solely to the fact that most all of the voters have shouldered their muskets and gone to fight the greasers down Mexico way.

With the announcement by Judge Nat E. Harris that he will be a candidate for the governorship and that his official announcement will be forthcoming shortly, Macon now has two candidates for the seat in the United States senate made vacant by the death of the late Senator Bacon, and one for governor. Those who know say that if that is not enough to make a burg warm up politically then it is past redemption and the politicians might just well move on to other camps.

Judge Harris has not yet made public any of his plans for his forthcoming race and it is not probable that he will do so until after he has made his official announcement. His close friends say that he will maintain headquarters for his campaign in Macon and that he will do considerable speaking at different points over the state. Since it became known definitely that he will be in the race assurances of support have been coming in rapidly.

W. H. Burwell, of Sparta, speaker of the house, was in Macon a couple of days this week, but all efforts to get from him a statement as to his intentions regarding the governorship were unsuccessful. When told that Judge Harris had decided to run Mr. Burwell declared, "He will make a formidable candidate."

Felder Quiet So Far.

As for the senatorial race, Thomas S. Felder, who resigned the attorney generalship to get into the race, has so far not indulged in any great noise-making tactics. It was announced some time ago that he would fire the first gun of his campaign at his home town of Perry, in Houston county, during the present week, but later it was decided to wait a while longer. It is not known now just when Mr. Felder will speak at Perry.

Some say they are more firmly convinced to-day than ever that Felder will be in finally run it will yet see Felder switch and run for governor. Others say that while this might have been possible a short time ago, it is now out of the question with Judge Harris already an avowed candidate for the latter place. Of course, all admit that it wouldn't do to have two Macon men running for governor at the same time. It is argued that Felder would have to remain in the senatorial race now whether he wanted to or not. His friends will tell you that he has never had any intention of quitting the race for senator and that he is in it to the end.

Cooper After Joint Debate.

John E. Cooper, candidate for the late Senator Bacon's seat, has done more campaigning up to date than all of the other three candidates put together, as far as public speaking is concerned, and it is probable that before the campaign is over he will have more speeches to his credit than any two of the others. He is still hoping that some of the other candidates will accept his challenge for a "joint dispute."

Mr. Cooper spoke this week at Gray, in Jones county, and, according to The Jones County News, a crowd of 200 Jones county farmers, practically every one of them with a vote, heard the address. In other speeches Mr. Cooper confined most of his remarks on Governor Slaton, declaring he realized Slaton was the man he would have to beat if he went to the senate, insinuating Felder and Hardwick with the remark that "they are not in it, as both are running on the coattail of Hoke Smith."

Mr. Cooper will have to let up in his campaign for a time, now that Nick Wilburn, the Jones county youth, has been resentenced to hang on May 29. He is going to make a determined effort to save the young man and expects to devote his entire attention to the task.

Bolteellist May Announce.

So far John T. Boifeuillet has made no announcement as to his intentions relative to the congressional race in the Sixth district. It is said that he came back to Georgia from Washington to look over the situation and that having taken a look, he said, by Congressman Bartlett that if he (Boifeuillet) wanted to run he would keep out of the race. Since the arrival in Georgia Colonel Boifeuillet has been offered the management of the Felder campaign and he is understood to have said that if he does not run for congress he will accept the Felder management.

It is pretty certain, however, that J. W. Wise, of Fayetteville, will not be permitted to "walk over" with the race for office without opposition, for if neither Boifeuillet nor Bartlett care to run, some other Macon man, probably W. D. McNeil, will stand for it. In the race, though there seems to be a pretty well defined sentiment hereabout that this is to be a Wise year and that the Fayette county man will win if he goes out to get in the race. In the last race against Bartlett he was beaten by only 200 votes. He has been making a year and a half and has been making new friends and supporters every day.

SOUTH GEORGIA AWAITING DECISION OF JUDGE THOMAS

Valdosta, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—In the gubernatorial race south Georgia seems to be awaiting with much interest Judge Thomas' decision as to whether he will run. There is no question in the minds of those who have kept track of events during the last few weeks that Judge Thomas, if he decides to make the race, will go into it with a stronger backing than any man in south Georgia yet mentioned. The amount of support which have come to him in a steady stream since he first gave consideration to the matter are anything but sectional, however.

Some of the strongest friends Georgia the Lowndes jurist is seemingly as popular and almost as well-known as he is at home. He has presided with credit over the courts of Fulton and other counties with marked ability at various times during his four years on the bench, and wherever he has been the people have been favorably impressed with his unusually able administration of the laws.

Judge Thomas will probably not make a decision in the matter under two or three weeks. He is deeply sensible of the demand his friends are making and of their support, but he expects to take time enough to go thoroughly over the situation before making a definite statement.

BRAND POSITIVELY DECLINES TO ENTER RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Athens, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Judge Brand, of the western circuit, spoken of for gubernatorial candidacy by a large number of friends, has written a letter to Editor W. Troy Bankston, of The West Point News, a statement, appreciative of the suggestion of numerous friends, that he will not enter the race at this time to enter the race. He says that he believes that the people of the circuit and most of the lawyers wish him to remain on the bench for another term. He has announced for re-election.

Till today it did not appear that Judge Brand would have opposition for re-election as judge. But there is now considerable talk of Judge John J. Strickland offering for the place, although he has not made any statement that he will or will not offer.

HARDWICK DELIVERS SPEECH AT HALL COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

Gainesville, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Hon. Thomas W. Hardwick, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Augustus Octavius Bacon, delivered an address at the closing exercises of the Oakwood, Ga., school, a few miles out from town today.

Before returning to Atlanta, Mr. Hardwick stopped over in Gainesville two hours this afternoon, conferring with friends regarding his race, and meeting many new friends.

He returned to Atlanta, on Southern train No. 35 this afternoon.

HARALSON COUNTY PRIMARY OCCURES NEXT SATURDAY

Tallapoosa, April 26.—(Special.)—The county primary for Haralson will be held on May 2, and interest in the event is becoming very strong. The following candidates have been announced: For state senator, J. J. Mangham, P. E. Baxley and R. F. Williams; for representative, John S. Edwards, A. R. Dodson, Walt Whitman; for sheriff, W. H. Parker, George B. Richards, J. W. Legrand and J. E. Chapman; for tax collector, J. W. Stripling, J. H. Hudson and C. B. Hayes; for tax receiver, W. C. McBrayer, D. C. Chambers, C. C. Stewart and J. M. Huey; for treasurer, H. W. Gill, H. T. Hamrick and A. Murdock, W. C. Walker and C. E. Beauchamp.

The interest centers around the race for sheriff and for state senator. All the men in these races are strong, and are contesting every inch of ground.

Dr. L. G. Hardman, candidate for governor, was here today.

Eating Eels and Snails.

(From The London Chronicle.)

Larmen may hesitate to say how far Leviticus has been adopted into the law of Scotland. But there are some peculiarities which suggest that it has probably been adopted into Scottish practice. Take the prejudice of the Scot against eating eels, and also snails. There is no more obvious reason why an eel should look more like that abhorred snake to a Scotsman than to anybody else, and, taking the objection to shellfish into account, one cannot help thinking of the verse in Leviticus that "whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat." While all that are not in the waters without fins and scales shall be an abomination.

Colonel Newnham Davis has described the (dis) conditions of snail-eating. "At Poitiers," he writes, "the horrid thing is eaten with proper ceremony. In a silver bowl, with a silver three-pronged fork as a mark of conveying the alleged dainty to the mouth, the long, black gelatinous things are brought to the table, very hot, and swimming in a sauce in which lard and onions and garlic seem to be the principal components. Speared on the fork, the snail goes into one's mouth—and then comes one of the critical moments of life!"

"Marseillaise" for the Kaiser.

(From The London Opinion.)

The long-expected visit of the kaiser to the French president was evidently marred by an accident and a slight piece of inattentiveness on the part of the president's valet. On the first evening of the visit it was found that the kaiser's brushes had fallen through some misunderstanding to arrive in time. Brushes which had been presented to the president himself by the Service League of France were sent to his majesty. To the horror of every one within forty yards of the room, no sooner had the kaiser lifted them out of the box than the epic notes of the "Marseillaise" thundered forth from the backs of the brushes. The valet who had forgotten them had forgotten to turn on the silencer! The kaiser, it is said, immediately dropped the brushes and went pale blue, his waistcoat wagging furiously. It was only after a long explanation in several languages that he was induced to believe that the incident was not a specially designed and unanswered personal affront. He consented to remain on the president's guest, but even now the entente is felt to have been sensibly weakened.

1 KILLED, 3 INJURED AS AUTO OVERTURNS

Harry Jacobs Is Dead and A. J. Little, E. E. Purcell and J. A. Smith Hurt—Accident at Dunbar.

Macon, Ga., April 26.—Harry Jacobs, an automobile dealer of Cordele, was killed outright and three other well-known Cordele men were injured early this morning when the automobile in which they were traveling from Cordele to Atlanta overturned at Dunbar, fourteen miles south of Macon.

The injured men are A. J. Little, cashier for the Seaboard; E. E. Purcell, employed by an implement house, and J. A. Smith, a wholesale hide dealer. Charles Greer, a prominent farmer, the other man in the car, escaped unhurt.

Blow-out Caused Accident.

The accident was due to a tire blow-out, which caused the speeding car to turn turtle. Jacobs was caught under the tool box of the machine, which crushed his skull. The other three injured men were pinioned beneath the car.

Greer was thrown free of the wreckage. A. J. Little had his right shoulder dislocated; E. E. Purcell had his right leg hurt and was badly cut and bruised, while J. A. Smith was cut and bruised about the face and shoulders. The car in which the men were traveling was owned by W. L. Peacock, manager of the Cordele Sash and Door company, and Jacobs was to deliver it to the Mitchell southern headquarters in Atlanta and bring another car back to Cordele with him.

The body of Jacobs was brought to a Macon undertaking establishment, and the injured men to the Macon hospital. Smith and Greer were able to return to Cordele this afternoon.

Ill fate has followed Jacobs for a year or more. He received a broken leg in an automobile accident several months ago, but after the break had healed it was found one leg was shorter than the other. He then went to Atlanta, had the leg broken again and reset. He only regained complete use of his leg three months ago.

Jacobs was 34 years of age and for several years was employed by the Seaboard Air Line railroad at Americus, where he married Miss Lizzie Heyn. Besides his widow he leaves four children. The body will be taken to Americus for interment.

Lucille Looks Like the Devil And Will Give Prizes to Those Who Draw Her More Devilish

Lucille LaVerne looks like the devil. Honest, she does!

Furthermore, her husband admits it. Which isn't peculiar in a husband, except for the fact that he admits it publicly—even through the columns of The Constitution. They generally admit such things only to themselves, husbands do.

Her husband answers to the name of Scott. Lyric patrons know but little of him, because he keeps in the shadows of the limelight, which is pretty generally usurped by his charming wife. Then, too, he is press agent for the Lucille LaVerne Stock company, which is holding the boards at the Lyric theater.

And, to add still further into the tragedy, this husband of Miss LaVerne—they use their maiden names on the stage, y' know—has gone to actually go to lengths to utilize the pronounced resemblance of his wife to his satanic majesty.

Through The Constitution his company has offered a series of prizes to the readers who can find the greatest resemblance in Miss LaVerne's picture to the horror the devil. The picture accompanies this story. Take a good, long look at it. If you don't see plenty of devil in it—

The idea occurred to the press agent of the LaVerne company in Charleston, when a reader of a Charleston newspaper observed Miss LaVerne's picture upside down. She saw the devil plainly, and really she was frightened at the marked resemblance.

Trace in ink whatever devilistic features you find in the accompanying picture and send it with your name and address to the Lucille LaVerne Editor, The Constitution. The Constitution will award the following prizes for the neatest and most perfect solutions:

First prize will be a box of six seats for the Monday night week performance to "The Hell to the Heaven." Second prize will be four box seats. Third prize, twenty-one orchestra seats, and fourth prize, fifty single balcony seats. Answers must reach The Constitution by midnight Wednesday of this week.

The correct solution will be published in next Sunday's Constitution with a list of winners.

BLOW TO BE STRUCK AT UNEMPLOYMENT

Commission on Industrial Relations to Seek Legislation in Effort to Correct Labor Market Evils.

Washington, April 26.—Proposals for national legislation to wipe out chronically chaotic conditions in the country's labor market and thus strike a blow at the annually-recurring evils of unemployment were made public today by the United States commission on industrial relations.

In a letter transmitting copies of the proposals to respective witnesses before the commission, Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission, says that the proposals are tentative and invites criticism and suggestions.

The proposed legislation would establish a national bureau of labor exchange in connection with the department of labor, with the central office in Washington and branch offices in other cities, and with a clearing house for each of several districts into which the country would be divided. Each bureau would have power to establish and conduct free public employment offices.

The national bureau would have jurisdiction over all private employment offices doing an interstate business or accepting workmen for shipment to other states. State, municipal and private employment offices would be urged to co-operate with the national bureau and to adopt uniform methods and regulations.

To Distribute Information.

The bureau's most important service would be to gather and distribute accurate information regarding the labor market in various localities. This information would be published in the form of bulletins, to be issued at frequent intervals and be circulated in such a way that it would be available to every person in search of work and every employer seeking workmen.

One interesting feature of the plan is the proposal for the appointment of an advisory council for the national bureau and for each of the district clearing houses. It would be composed of an equal number of representatives of employers and of employees, and would assist the director in all matters pertaining to the management, would aid in determining policies, and would see that the bureau was impartial in disputes between labor and capital, thereby gaining for it the confidence of the whole public. The district advisory councils would be appointed by the secretary of labor.

The duties, powers and authority of the bureau would be to collect and furnish information regarding employers seeking employees and working people seeking employment; to license, supervise, regulate and inspect private employment offices operating among the states; to establish and conduct free public employment offices and also clearing houses for both public and private offices; to improve the efficiency of public employment offices—municipal, state and federal; to make investigations of the work of local and state employment offices; and to make rules and regulations for the management of public employment offices and urge their adoption by local and state authorities.

Daily Reports to Be Made.

Every employment office conducted by the bureau would be required to send a daily report of business to the clearing house of the district in which it is situated. Every private employment agent would be required to make a weekly report to the district office. Every state and municipal employment office would be requested or induced to make daily reports. These clearing houses should be distinguished from the employment offices which the bureau would establish wherever such offices were necessary.

Each district clearing house would compile and publish the information relating to that district. The central office in Washington would compile the information from the clearing house and publish it in a labor market bulletin, covering the whole country, in the English language and other languages. The bulletin would contain besides the information regarding labor market conditions, other information regarding the cost of living as compared with wages, tendencies of trades to expand or to decay, abnormalities in the supply of labor or demand for labor, and so forth.

The proposals include rules and regulations to be enacted into law prohibiting false representations, requiring notice of strikes, prohibiting guards before service is rendered, and otherwise safeguarding the patron of the employment office against exploitation.

Hearings to Be Held.

Copies of the proposals have been sent to persons who will be summoned to testify before the commission at the series of public hearings that begin May 4 in New York, and that will include hearings at a large number of industrial centers. This part of the commission's work is being directed by W. J. Lauck, son, state superintendent of employment offices in Wisconsin, the author of the bills to establish similar offices recently enacted by the New York legislature.

The first preliminary hearing on the proposals for a national bureau will be heard in New York during the week beginning May 4.

While the proposals have not been put in the form of a bill, the plan has been worked out in great detail so that a measure for presentation to congress could be easily drafted with the proposals as a basis. Before this is done the commission will hear criticisms and suggestions from many witnesses and correspondents.

UPWARD TENDENCY IN COTTON MARKET

New Orleans, April 26.—The cotton market had an upward tendency this last week, partly as the result of unfavorable weather conditions over the belt and partly because of the Mexican situation. The close was at a net gain of 12 to 20 points. Prices at the highest of the week prices were 23 to 25 points over last week's closing. Spot sales here were 5 to 5 points under.

Too much rain fell in many sections of the belt and in some sections temperatures were not high enough for the good of the crop. The Mexican trouble was considered bullish because it was believed that it would tend to reduce the acreage under cotton this spring, especially in Texas.

During the week to come the main influence will be the weather conditions over the belt, the Mexican situation and also the spot situation. Warm and dry weather is needed to complete planting and bring up seed already planted. Actual war with Mexico would probably cause a higher market. The constantly decreasing into-sight movement is causing nervousness among spot shorts because they fear that it means exhaustion of supplies. Trade will be restricted trading in the May option during the coming week.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES ARE HELD IN DAWSON

Dawson, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Memorial day was fittingly observed in this section, an excellent program previously arranged being effectively and successfully executed to the delight of a great concourse of people assembled in the courtroom, many coming from adjoining counties.

The exercises were under the auspices of the local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, who, with confederate veterans, occupied front seats. Hon. M. Yeomans, master of ceremonies, in patriotic and well-chosen words, introduced Hon. Lucius Q. C. Lamar, the occasion Hon. Dupont Guerry, of Macon.

He discussed forcefully numerous features of the constitution adopted by the southern confederacy, and the formative period of our country, and its leadership in establishing and upholding the nation. The spirit of the old south, he declared, were the highest and truest ever known on earth, especially regarding womanhood. The southern fraternal spirit is not in keeping with the ideals and traditions of the old south, he said.

LURE OF WAR CAUSES DESERTER'S SURRENDER

Another deserter has given himself up to the Atlanta police, stating that the lure of actual warfare is too strong to resist.

E. J. White, 23 years old, deserted Company One Hundred and Sixty-six, United States coast artillery, stationed at Fort Monroe, Va., three years ago.

Since the date of his desertion he has been living in Atlanta at 41 Cone street with his young wife. He is an electrician.

"When war broke out with Mexico," said White, "I decided that I would give myself up, and plead to be sent to the front. I want to fight the Mexicans and hope that Uncle Sam will be kind enough to do ship me to Vera Cruz."

DR. FRANK RIDLEY SPEAKS AT AMERICUS MEMORIAL

Americus, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Impressive exercises marked the confederate memorial celebration in Americus this afternoon, several thousand citizens joining in observance of the day. The principal address was at the First Methodist church, where the memorial address was delivered by Dr. Frank M. Ridley, of LaGrange. Appropriate musical selections were rendered, after which the long cortege of confederate veterans and school children proceeded to Oak Grove cemetery, where the six hundred graves of the confederate dead were profusely decorated with garlands.

MOUNTAIN BATTERIES ARE SENT TO VERA CRUZ

Galveston, Texas, April 26.—Three batteries of mountain guns of the Fourth field artillery sailed from here for Vera Cruz today on the chartered steamer Satillo. Accompanying the guns were 325 men, 11 officers and 32 animals. This artillery command was the second section of Brigadier General Frederick Funston's force to get under way for Vera Cruz. The first section, comprising about 3,400 infantrymen, is due there some time tomorrow. The artillery will arrive about the middle of the week. The cavalry will follow in a few days. The Satillo was convoyed today by two torpedo boat destroyers.

ATLANTA ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Dunbar Ogden Delivers Sermon to Members of the Order on "Shadows."

The Atlanta Odd Fellows celebrated the ninety-fifth anniversary of their lodge Sunday afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church. About 750 members of the various Odd Fellow lodges in the city were present.

A military formation of the lodges was held at 2 o'clock at the Odd Fellow temple, at the corner of Broad and Alabama streets, and the procession marched from there to the church. There they were joined in the same form of exercises that were held Sunday in every part of the world that Odd Fellowship exists.

The proclamation of the grand sire setting aside April 26 for observance as founder's day, and a paper outlining the advance in the order from a few members to 2,000,000, were read. The officials who directed the exercises were Dr. L. S. Clarke, noble grand; Gordon Mitchell, vice grand; F. Funk, secretary; M. M. Strickland, chaplain; H. C. Hall, marshal; Wade H. Harding, right reporter, and S. T. Brown, left reporter.

Rev. Dunbar Ogden delivered a sermon on "Shadows," in which he said that every individual threw a shadow for good or otherwise on those with whom he came in contact, and stressed the importance of a good "shadow."

CAMP WALKER HONORS MEMBERS WHO HAVE DIED

Camp Walker, No. 923, United Confederate Veterans, conducted special services Sunday morning at Oakland View Baptist church in memory of the departed members.

The exercises began at 10 o'clock, with the singing of old-time songs. The roll was called by Adjutant J. H. Shumate and about seventy-five members were present to answer. Adjutant General A. J. West, orator of the occasion, spoke on the important battles of the war.

Rev. A. C. Henley delivered the memorial sermon, taking as his text: "Greater love has no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend." Mr. Henley mentioned the fact that Mary Phagan had been dead a year and her slayer had not been brought to justice yet.

BIG METHODIST REVIVAL COMES TO CLOSE SUNDAY

The revival at St. Paul's Methodist church came to an end last night. Dr. Plato T. Durham preached the closing sermon.

Dr. B. F. Fraser, pastor of St. Paul's, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the attendance throughout the revival, and with the results in the shape of added church members.

Detectives From Many Cities Will Guard Visiting Shriners

Councilman W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee, and former member of the police committee announced yesterday that twenty detectives will be recruited from the police departments of the five cities to come to Atlanta during Shriners' week. In addition, Atlanta will invite five of the most expert detectives in the country to come here to watch the trains and prevent pickpockets from entering the city.

"It is a well-known fact that thieves, particularly pickpockets, travel with the crowds and reap a harvest among visitors to a city," Councilman Humphrey said. "However, Atlanta is going to be protected by a force of men as many members of the police force

HARRY HOLLAND LOST TO CRACKERS

Edited By DICK JEMISON

WHIFFS

Welcome Home.

BILL SMITH and his Crackers are back home, after eight strenuous games on the road. These games tested the team to the utmost and their showing can be considered encouraging. Of course they did not win as many games as the home guard always wants the home team to win, but the games gave Manager Smith an insight into the strength and weaknesses of his 1914 pennant entry. As the result, there may be some changes in personnel very shortly.

What Are Needs?

MANAGER SMITH must decide what he needs to strengthen the team. It seems to lack the final kick that the 1913 bunch possessed, but where the changes must be made, only the manager alone can tell, as we have not seen the bunch in action in the early games during the campaign. One thing is certain, you can depend upon that if Bill Smith believes that his bunch is not strong enough to cope with the other Southern league pennant entrants, he will make the changes and very quickly.

Weather Will Help.

WHIFFS is of the opinion that with a steady siege of warmer weather, the team will come stronger as it now stands. Practically the entire Atlanta club caught a severe cold in Memphis, and they handicapped them in their work in Chattanooga. Imagine yourself playing a game of baseball in the hot sun, with your head throbbing with cold and buzzing like a spinning top. You'd quit your seat at the office if you felt like most of the boys did in Chattanooga. But give them that they played the game McCormick's men four of the fiercest battles that they will encounter all season.

Will Hit Better.

FLANAGAN and Eibel, who were counted on to add plenty of hitting strength to the club, have been in a semi-slump since the season started. But these boys stand up to the plate too good not to connect with the ball regularly. When they come around to their natural stride, and come around they will, the Cracker batting will be formidable, as Jennings, Welchonce, McCpand and Long are now swinging the ball as well as anyone could hope them to.

Battery Problem.

THE BATTERIES are going to cause Manager Smith the most trouble. The pitchers show flashes of great form, form that they will show if they do nothing regularly in warmer weather. The catching department is a problem. It is strictly up to Bill Smith to make selections; we refrain from making any comment whatsoever.

Useful Cliffers.

GEORGE KIRCHER is the most useful ball player on the club. He has ever since decorated with their uniform and with George on the pay roll every position on the team will be taken care of, with a capable substitute ready to step into harness. There are many fans that would like to see George given a regular job, but owing to his utility roles and as coacher, he is of more value to the team than as a regular player. In the games that he has played, George has demonstrated his usefulness both in the field and at the bat.

Will Hurt Us.

THE RULE just issued by the National Commission suspending the rule that makes it mandatory on the big league teams to cut down to twenty-five men in May will hurt the minor league clubs, the Crackers as well as the rest. The locals might want a man or two of the big league timber. The new rule will make the majors more timid about letting men go.

Is Making Good.

MILTON STOCK, who played short for the Mobile club last season, is making good on the third corner for the New York Giants. The fast infielder has cleansed into Shafer's shoes and filled them most acceptably to date.

Rust Head Him.

THE FANS had better turn their attention to another young man in the American league this season, instead of watching Ty Cobb and Joe Jackson in their battle for the batting leadership of the Johnson organization. Whoso Stan Crawford is a stinging ball harder than at any time in his career and those who have associated with him before they can count on the batting laurels for 1914.

Deserved Compliment.

BILL ROWAN, of the Atlanta, Athletic club, is rated four times by the United States Golf association, and the only Atlantan to receive this signal honor. Bill finished every bit of it honor. If he could play as regularly as some of the golfers he would win the southern championship in a walk. Is Wolfe's opinion that playing two days a week at golf is as good as any golfer in the south, and the United States Golf association apparently thinks the same, as no other southerner is given a higher rating.

In the Big Show.

THE RACES under the big tent this season promises to not only the best that the two big leagues have ever enjoyed, but from present prospects, filled with many surprises. The diverties are having hard sledding, and every indication points to hard fought pennant winners being given a great battle if they repeat. The chronic tail-enders in the two major circuits considerably stronger than in 1913.

Pirates Due.

FRED CLARK and his Pittsburg Pirates are the team that the other National league clubs must watch this season. Fred has plugged the holes in his team, and if his new pitchers continue to come through as well as they have today, the pennant will fly on Forbes field, and not at the Polo grounds this year. Despite the raids of the Federals, the Phillies are going to be hard to head.

In the Sally.

BABY WILDER and his Jacksonville crew are burning up the South Atlantic league. Maintaining their present pace the other teams will be glad when the second half of the season starts. The Scouts are as comfortable as Bill Smith's two Macon formers did the first years of the league.

Has Skipped.

CHATTANOOGA boxing fans are looking for Billy Jacobs, of New York, manager of Knockout Eggers; Eddie Smith and other boxers. It is reported that Jacobs skipped from Chattanooga with the gate receipts of the Smith-Abel bout, and his whereabouts is unknown.

CLARKE GETS OVATION ON VISIT TO LAGRANGE

LaGrange, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Edward Young Clarke, former general secretary of the LaGrange Chamber of Commerce, was tendered a reception that night last February, returned to LaGrange today for a short visit, and would given an ovation by his many friends in the community. He expressed himself as being still greatly attached to the people of the community, and declared that he believed that LaGrange would soon be a city of 25,000 people.

Mike Finn's Turtles Here Today for Series of Four Games With the Crackers

Mike Finn and his Memphis Turtles will be the opponents of the Crackers this afternoon, at Ponce de Leon, in the first of a four-game series. The game today will be called promptly at 4 o'clock, the rest of the games in the series at 3:30.

This is the second meeting between the two teams, the Crackers going to Memphis last week and licking them in three out of four games.

Naturally, the old friend "By T'under" is anxious to secure revenge is this series, and will fight hard to make the Crackers take to the dust.

Many New Faces.

Finn will present new faces in all but five positions. Dolly Stark at third, Love is center, Shanley at short and G. Merritt and Liebhardt in the box have been seen here before.

He has several changes he will make, beginning with Liebhardt, who today, and the rest of the roster is therefore uncertain.

The batteries for today's opener are uncertain. Schiel and Dunn will do the catching today, but further selections will hardly be made until this afternoon.

Smith or Liebhardt, for Memphis, and Browning or Doscher, for Atlanta, will be the probable battery, with the choice favoring the first named in each instance.

Tuesday will be the ladies' day of the series. Wednesday will be "Pop" Anson day, in honor of the famous first baseman who is appearing at the Forsyth theatre in a vaudeville skit.

Adrian Constantine Anson, to give you his full cognomen, will hurl the first pill and back in New Orleans a local fan favor for a few brief seconds before the actual combat comes off.

The probable batting orders cannot be announced, owing to many changes due to many causes.

Galls 7, Barons 6.

Mobile, Ala., April 26.—Mobile won the opening game of the series today from Birmingham in a slugging match, score 7 to 6. Scoring six runs, four of their runs in a ninth-inning rally, which fell short of a tie by one run. Six hits were made in this inning after two men were out. The game was slowly played and lackadaisical.

Holland to Providence; Welchonce in Hospital; Bill Burning Up Wires

By Dick Jemison.

Dame Fortune has surely turned her back on the Crackers. It was bad enough to have the team's two regular outfielders out of the game Saturday, but Sunday's developments make matters even worse.

The Crackers will be deprived of the services of Captain Harry Welchonce until after the team returns home from its trip to Memphis, and the latter part of this week, and maybe for longer.

Welchonce has a very aggravated case of lagrippe, with pneumonia symptoms. The attending physician, Dr. Hancock, ordered him to the hospital upon the team's return from Chattanooga Saturday night.

Welchonce Has Fever.

The Southern league batting leader had a severe cold when he left Atlanta on its road trip. This got worse with the cold weather in Memphis, and Saturday Harry had to take to his bed with a high fever.

Only perfect rest and quiet for at least a week can cure the local captain, this being the prescription that Dr. Hancock has issued.

Tommy Long's spiked finger is mending very rapidly, and the rest Saturday and Sunday has so improved the digit that the speed merchant will probably be in left field this afternoon.

In fact, it is almost compulsory that he play, as Manager Smith has no one that he can send to the outergardens, with the exception of Welchonce and Lynch playing third.

Holland Is Gained.

Unless Manager Donovan, of the Providence team, can be persuaded to cancel his claim, Harry Holland, Atlanta boy, and crack star, is considered by many as the regular third baseman of the team, is lost to the Crackers.

The former Detroit star, now moguling in the International league, has let Holland from Washington, to whom he belonged when Clark Griffith purchased him from the Crackers last fall.

Donovan claims that Griffith had no right to send Holland to the Senators without first offering him to the Class AA team.

Griffith and Smith both wired Donovan Sunday asking that he relinquish his claim in favor of Atlanta, but they are confident of his doing so.

However, Manager Smith had not heard anything from Donovan up until midnight last night and unless he does today, he will have to send Holland to Providence. At any rate, he will not be able to put Harry in the game against the Turtles this afternoon.

Refuses to Report.

Later last night Manager Smith received a wire from Bill Donovan, in which the Providence manager stated that Owner Navin, who also owns the Detroit team, refused to waive his claim, and Holland must go to the Providence today.

On receipt of this wire, Manager Smith wired Navin direct, reminding him of the many favors that he (Smith) had rendered him (Navin) in the past and asking him to let Holland remain with the Crackers.

Manager Smith then informed Holland of the news, and the local boy refused absolutely to report to Providence, saying that he will not play anywhere but in the south. Unless Navin agrees to allow Holland to remain here, this news will be sent him this morning.

Burning Up Wires.

In the meantime, Manager Smith has been burning up the wires trying to get an infielder. Late last night he had not met with any success.

First he wired his friend Clark Griffith. Griff had no one that he thought he could spare.

Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps, was then tackled by the local chieftain, asking for Bisland, whom the Naps claimed from the St. Louis Browns via the waiver route. Birmingham's reply was, "You stand no chance to get Bisland back, and neither does anyone else."

Clyde Wares, who vaultined at second base for the Montgomery Billikens last season and was purchased by the St. Louis Browns, was then tried for, but St. Louis informs the local chief that the AA league refuses to pass him up.

Silly Is Discouraged.

Manager Smith was very much discouraged Sunday night. "I don't know where to try now," he said, after discussing the several managers in the big tent that he had asked for players.

"We need a man and need him quickly, too. But it might be worse. If you can look at it that cheerfully, and believe me, it is pretty hard. That run of accidents might have come right in the middle of our fight for the pennant later in the season.

"We have not been playing the kind of baseball of which we are capable, and in addition we have been getting the bad breaks; looking for what we do. But I believe that the boys will find themselves again and make it hot for the rest of the field as soon as the full fighting strength is back on the field once more.

"The pitchers are doing fine work. I have no fault to find with them. I only hope that the rest of the team will show equally as good form in the near future."

May Get Courtney.

Late last night Manager John Gansel, of the Rochester Internationals, wired Manager Smith that he could let him have Infielder Courtney.

Courtney is the man who played first base during the games between the Crackers and the Hustlers this spring, and he is a hard hitter and, naturally, and at first base looked like the worst kind of a novice.

He is said to be good at third base, and in the games here he demonstrated that he could fill the bill, and hit hard. His hits won the only game the Hustlers won from the Crackers.

Manager Smith will take Courtney if he is not able to get any other infielder. He is hoping to get some news this morning.

AMASON RELEASED BY ALBANY BABIES

First Baseman Amason has been released by the Albany club of the South Atlantic league, being turned back to the Crackers by Manager Frank Manush. What disposition will be made of Amason by the local manager is not announced.

ONLY ONE TURTLE OF 1913 BUNCH

Manager Mike Finn Makes Sweeping Changes — Jack Love Latest to Go—McDermott's Arm Still Sore.

By Herbert Caldwell.

Memphis, Tenn., April 26.—(Special.) With one exception, Turtles new to Atlanta fans will line up against the Crackers in the opening game at Atlanta tomorrow. Shanley at shortstop is the only remnant of the 1913 shelled tribe. The predicted shift in the Turtle line-up for the opener at Atlanta did not mature on account of McDermott still being on the sailing list and Stark left at home.

Jack Love, outfielder, a member of last season's club, was today sold to Beaumont, Texas on the condition that other Southern clubs waive on him. Senaff will take Love's place in center field.

Allison, recently secured from the Cubs, will be seen at first base in place of Daly Stark, regular first baseman who is on the injured list. Captain Mullen will be second baseman, Shanley short and Stark at third. Duggan will be in left and Coyle in right.

The new line-up decided on by Manager Finn to start McDermott at third base, which would have shifted Stark to short and Shanley to centerfield at Atlanta tomorrow, McDermott's arm is still weak and he remained at home. The change will probably be made when McDermott feels in the fray.

Schiel and Bemis, catchers, Steele, Smith, Johnson, George Merritt, Howard Merritt and Gozalez, Amerigan scout accompanied Finn to Crackertown.

Johnson and Smith will in all probability be the Turtles' battery tomorrow.

The batting order will be: Allison, Coyle, Stark, Mullen, Shanley, Senaff, Duggan, Schiel and Johnson.

GREAT PREP GAMES AT GAINESVILLE

Gordon and Riverside Meet on the Diamond There Today—Should Be Pitchers' Battle.

Gainesville, Ga., April 26.—(Special.) Monday morning the Gordon institute baseball nine will arrive in Gainesville for the first two games of a four-game series with Riverside on Monday and Tuesday.

This series, the two games here and the other two in Barnesville, will be one of the most important series that the teams will have to play, and it is a foregone conclusion that the two nines will be in every minute of the time for the games.

Riverside and Gordon both have an excellent chance of copping the G. I. A. A. honors this season, and the winner of this series will probably be one of the foremost contenders for this honor.

Two Old Men.

Only two old men are on both teams, Kingery and Hughes, for Gordon, and Holleman and Carraway, for Riverside. The rest of the two teams have been formed from the new material which will turned out of the schools when the call for baseball men was first sounded.

Coach Van Tassell, of Gordon, has been working hard, however, with the material that he has at his disposal, and has formed a good team from the wealth of material that reported at the start.

Coaches Anderson and Graham have had a hard row to hoe this season in forming a baseball nine, but here lately have had unusually good luck and their team is right now in the prime of condition.

Play Mutual Rivals.

Riverside and Gordon have both played G. M. C. two games, and Gordon got an even break, while Riverside won one and tied one. This will make the two teams have yet lost a series to a team.

The two games that will be played here Monday and Tuesday promises to be the most interesting of the season to start, and they should both be fast affairs from the start until the finish.

Morris, Miller, Driggers and Page are the four men that Riverside will depend upon to bring home the bacon, while Gordon will pin their hope to Kingery, Hughes, Hall of the above named hurlers are pitchers of considerable skill, and on them the greater part of the games will hang.

On Friday and Saturday of this week the third and fourth of the four-game series will be played, Riverside journeying down to Barnesville.

COW'S MILK SMELLS "AWFUL."

A. D., Lenoxville, Pulton, S. C.—I have a cow that is apparently in good health. I feed her peavine hay, potato vines and chicks, and she eats hearty. One week ago today her milk began to smell awful bad and has not got any better. That is, when the milk begins sour. When I first milk I cannot detect it, but the odor is so offensive I cannot exactly describe it. She is nearly five years old, and has been giving milk nearly three years. This is her first calf, and I expect her to come fresh again in August. I keep my milk vessels scalded and sunned and have changed to other vessels that have not been used for milk, but it does not get any better.

Answer—Of course it is all right and wise to keep thoroughly sterilized all vessels used about the milk, but there are other sources of contamination that should be considered, to-wit, the pasture, the character of the water the cow drinks and the condition of stable and stall in which she stands each night. It should be understood that the cow's system, or her udder, may be affected by some germ which gets into the milk. If that is the case, give her 2 drams of bisulphite of soda daily and see that she gets no bad water to drink. If this does not correct the trouble in four or five days, you may then reasonably conclude that the milk becomes infected after it is drawn from the udder by spores of fungi that float in the very air of the barn or emanations from manure or decaying substances. A most thorough cleaning up, whitewashing with limewash made up with water containing 2 per cent carbolic acid. Then have ready some buttermilk or clabber just ready for the churn and put a pint to each gallon of the fresh milk as soon as possible after it is drawn from the udder. Get the buttermilk or soured milk from a neighbor who has no such trouble. Of course you will then place the milk in a suitable vessel in which it is to be kept, and be sure that no one supply the freshly drawn milk with an abundance of the spores or bacteria germs (which are in the milk you bought) so that all these germs may die and cast—as it speak—the bad germs.

If the above suggested remedies should prove ineffectu, then I would be at the end of my row and you should apply to a regular veterinary surgeon.

PARIS GREEN AND WATER.

J. E. R., Norwood, Ga.—I have three acres planted in Irish potatoes? (1) I want to know how much paris green to use in 50 gallons of water. (2) How much land ought the 50 gallons of water to go over? The rows are 3 feet wide; the potatoes dropped about 14 inches in drill. Will use a peach orchard sprayer. I put 1,400 pounds of fertilizer per acre—4—8—10. I planted the Spalding Rose No. 4. Do you know anything about the variety. Please answer by mail, as I do not take The Constitution, and oblige.

Answer—(1) The proper preparations for a spray of potatoes is one pound of paris green to 150 gallons of water for Irish potatoes (and most other crops requiring a paris) and 5 to 8 ounces of the green to 50 gallons of water, in which about 5 pounds of quick lime has been slaked. If the paris green is of good quality and shall be well mixed and the mixture frequently stirred, 7 ounces would be sufficient.

(2) I have some time read how much a barrel of the poisoned water would go over, but do not now recall the facts, and it is not essential to know as the ingredients are cheap and you will quickly find out. Of course, it would depend largely on how the spraying is done. I do not know about the Spalding Rose No. 4.

SWEENY OF MULE.

Howard Richardson, Jellico, Texas.—Will you please tell me what to do for my fine, 8-year-old mule? I think she has sweeny. I had her shoulder punctured and blowed with lard, but it has done no good. She has been this way for two weeks. And do you would like to plow her, do you think it would hurt to use her in a plow? She is very lame.

Answer—As you do not give any description of the symptoms you merely state that the mule is very lame, and you think it is sweeny. I am not able to do more than give the treatment for that trouble, viz: If there is swelling of the shoulder apply a solution of ½-ounce of sugar of lead, 2 ounces of laudanum and 1 quart of water, to be well shaken before using. This should be rubbed in a little three times a day, and should run on the swelling. If no swelling and no fever then resort at once to blistering by rubbing iodine on the shoulder an ointment of 1 part cantharide and 6 parts lard once every two weeks until the shrunken place fills up, which will require two or three months. Do not use the ointment too liberally the object being to keep the place sore (the skin until it fills up.) If the mule is lame it ought not to be worked, but should have walking exercise, such as it will get in pasture.

Development in Mexico Affecteds Business Little

Aside From Improvement in the West, Trade Is Still Quiet.

Backward Spring Is Still Holding Trade Progress in Check.

Bradstreet's report says:

Aside from an improvement noted in retail trade west, north-west and southwest, the result of warmer, more springlike weather and flattering early crop prospects, trade and industry generally has not shown any substantial change this week. Indeed, the quiet or irregular conditions heretofore ruling have the rather accentuated by the uncertainty evident as to the outlook for war or peace, and, aside from a slight, apparently temporary, falling given commodity prices and somewhat adverse speculation in securities, the situation, broadly speaking, shows few new developments.

Reports From Northwest.

Best reports as to retail trade come from the northwest, the south and the west and the lower Mississippi valley. Indifferent trade or only moderate activity is noted in the eastern sections, which have, as heretofore noted, the lingering effects of backward weather upon trade. Jobbing business has responded slightly to the rather more active dealings in the west, but hardware, implement and seed men note rather more irregularity of activity than do dealers in dry goods, shoes and men's and women's wear.

In the larger lines of trade—wholesale and manufacturing—the influence of past and present conservatism in entering is found in complaints of backward business. In wearing apparel at wholesale, best reports come from the silk and woolen branches, though cotton wash fabrics show good activity, while staple cottons and yarns are quiet. Even in silk goods, irregularity is noted, with ribbons more active than broad goods for next season. Woolen dress and men's wear mill report operations active, but less certainty is expressed as to new business. Reorders for the heavyweight season are met with demands for higher prices, owing to the higher range of raw wool in all markets.

Iron and Steel Dull.

The leading industries note little change from preceding weeks. Iron and steel are dull as regards new business, as dull, in fact, as to long time past. Pig iron is depressed and output is placed at only half capacity. Not more than three-fifths capacity is finished mills. Finished steel prices are rather nominally. The coal trade is dull, and while anthracite capacity is at a good rate, bituminous operations are curtailed by uncertainty as to future wage scales. In many parts of Colorado mine-strike violence suspends mining. Railway operations show the effect of lessened traffic in an increase in the number of idle cars to about the highest total reported in two years past.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, April 26.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today, April 25, was:

Net balance in general fund, $83,324,762.

Total receipts yesterday, $1,711,645.

Total payments yesterday, $2,[illegible].

The deficit this fiscal year is $[illegible] against a surplus of $7,506,521 last year, exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions.

"MAIDA ATHENS" DIES FROM DOSE OF POISON

New York, April 26.—Edith L. Trifant, a musical comedy actress, known on the stage as Maida Athens, died here today from the effects of poison taken a week ago. Two weeks ago a breach of promise suit Miss. Trifant had brought against Henry O. Williams for $50,000 was dismissed on appeal.

"The Thinking Machine," adapted from "The Chase of the Golden Plate," by the late Jacques Futrelle was produced in Reading, Pa., last week but scored a hit. Mrs. May Futrelle, widow of the writer, attended the performance.

REVIEW OF PAST WEEK IN THE STOCK MARKET

New York, April 26.—The stock market's views on all other subjects were materially modified this week, where they were not totally obscured by the events in Mexico. Speculative confidence was unable to measure the possible effects on the duration and expense of the trouble, but the day following the capture of Vera Cruz the market advanced, swing largely to the normal impulse of professional speculators to take quick profits by covering shorts.

Renewed weakness followed maturer consideration. The principal effect on the New York market was by indirection by Paris and London selling here, prompted by the hasty involvement of the foreign markets in Mexico's finances.

The main view was held of the more direct consequences. Disruption of public and legislative attention from efforts at business regulation was regarded as a possible factor of benefit to the market. Stimulation of demand by military consumption was canvassed for its likely effect on prices. The jump in wheat was an example.

The prospect of government bond or note issues aroused fresh reserve in making capital commitments. This was an influence on the price of money in general and on plans for financing in making reinvestments.

No help against the depression from the Mexican situation came from other directions. The usual halting and closing up of new business continued. Suspension of coal trade with the west by freight cars. Commercial centers reported little initiation to business, in spite of prevailing low rates for call and easy money markets. Russia's gold hunger lifted foreign exchange to the gold export level. The rate decision as a reviving influence almost dropped out of consideration.

COTTON EXCHANGE CRIES FOR REFORM

New York Organization Sees the Inevitable and Is Willing to Be Regulated by the Federal Congress.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 26.—(Special.)—The New York exchange was represented Saturday as in no attitude of pleading with congress to be regulated. Instead of absolute annihilation unless their method of doing business realized their ideals, members of the exchange appeared before the house committee on agriculture and practically informed the bill of Representative Lever.

E. H. Marsh, of New York, formerly president of the New York Cotton exchange, and one of the shrewdest witnesses the committee has yet examined, told the committee the exchange realized that reform was inevitable. The senate bill proposes to close mail and telegraph communication to exchanges which do not conform to the reform contract. The indications now are that the house committee will favor the substitute of Representative Harry C. Lever, chairman of the committee, which proposes to use the taxing power of the government to destroy unfair contracts.

Sentiment in the senate inclines to the adoption of this substitute of the house in certain points. The object sought by both bills is the same—the adoption of the cotton of the government standard grades and the settlement of contracts on the basis of actual commercial differences.

Mr. Marsh told the committee that members of the exchange were willing to have the measure passed. He said their main concern now was that the bill should be air-tight and prevent any member escaping its provisions on a technicality. He suggested certain minor amendments which seemed to improve the committee favorably.

Other witnesses discussed the method of obtaining samples on which the grade of cotton should be established. The suggestion was made that samples should be taken at the compress and made sample representing the cotton in all future transactions until it was opened by the spinner. This is designed to save loss through frequent sampling.

200 MEN ANNOUNCE READY FOR MEXICO

"All the Boys Are Dead Anxious to Go," Says Col. Hall—Artillery to Enlist Every Man.

Although there were no actual enlistments among the men of the Fifth regiment yesterday, it is understood that more than 200 have declared that they will go to the front the moment orders are received from the war department at Washington. Colonel Orville H. Hall, commanding the Fifth, stated last night that the reason there were no enlistments at the armory was because of it being Sunday and the likelihood of a question being raised.

However, there was an air of activity around the armory, and judging from the expressions and comment among the men and officers Atlanta's crack regiment will respond with a will to its full complement in the event Uncle Sam needs the services of the local fighters.

Equipment Inspected.

Captain Don Wynne, staff officer, spoke to the men Sunday, and inspected the equipment. Captain Wynne is a native seventeen men qualified.

Discussing the war situation, Colonel Hall said:

"Georgia will be one of the first states to be represented among the volunteer regiments on the field if I can get things shaped up. And the boys are all dead anxious to go. In every case where officers have been vouched men for enlistment purposes they have expressed a willingness.

"I have put the proposition squarely up to the officers and men, and I am gratified to be able to state that we won't have any trouble enlisting the men provided their regimental officers are commissioned."

According to Colonel Hall, the Fifth will carry about eighty head of mules and forty-five horses.

Full Ambulance Corps.

The full ambulance corps will be mustered under Surgeon Major H. E. Lindorme and the regimental band under Drum Major Major Wynn.

In the event the Fifth is ordered to mobilize, the commissioned officers will be paid as follows: Colonel, $4,000 per annum; lieutenant colonel, $3,000; major, $2,400; captains, $2,000; first lieutenants, $2,000, and second lieutenants, $1,800.

The commissioned officers will be required to furnish their own mounts, and each subsistence allowance.

At a meeting of officers and men of the Atlanta Artillery, Army Field Gun, which more than 150 men and officers were present, it was agreed that in the event the call to arms is sounded the company will enlist every man. The meeting was enthusiastic and highly patriotic speeches were made.

Will Go to Mexico.

News reached Atlanta Saturday to the effect that First Lieutenant John R. Henley, of Atlanta, attached to the United States Marine corps, stationed at Port Royal, S. C., is expecting orders to report to Mexico. The message was received in Atlanta by United States District Attorney Henley, father of the young lieutenant.

R. E. Barry, local postoffice inspector in Atlanta, has been notified to expected to receive orders to report at Vera Cruz to take up his duties as postmaster.

NAVY BIRDMEN REPORT BRIDGES BEING BURNED

Washington, April 26.—Naval aviators flying over Vera Cruz today reported bridges at Boca Del Rio, south of the port, burning and reported treaties at Ricomoreno ablaze. These places are not on the line to Mexico City.

The guests, arriving at 8 o'clock, were received in the drawing room and living room, where the decorations in spring flowers were most effective. There were roses and white iris in the hallway, and apple blossoms in the loggia, of the dining room.

Spirea, in graceful branches, filled jardinieres in the various apartments, and there was an atmosphere of summer everywhere.

Dinner was served in the sun parlor, the guests at two long tables the length of the room. The tables were decorated in baskets graduating in size, and filled with yellow snap dragons and purple iris. On the handles of the baskets were bows of yellow tulle. The silver candlesticks had shades of yellow, and candles were used throughout the house, their light through yellow shades proving a most effective and charming one.

Mrs. Richardson wore a dinner gown of watermelon pink over white satin, the corsage softened by trimmings of black tulle.
