American Is Doomed to Death As a Spy By Huerta

Must Hear Grand Opera In Atlanta or New York, Says Metropolitan Head

"We Have Spurned All Temptation Offered by Other Cities for Engagements," Otto Kahn Tells 400 Atlantans Gathered at Capital City Club.

EXPECTS TIME TO COME, WHEN ATLANTA COMPANY WILL VISIT NEW YORK

"I Fell Greatly in Love With Atlanta Two Years Ago," He States, "And I Find Her Now Even More Lovely, Fascinating and Irresistible."

Last night at the Capital City club dinner to Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera company, of New York, and to the other directors accompanying him to Atlanta, Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association, proposed the health of Mr. Kahn.

He was given an enthusiastic ovation by the 400 guests gathered at the dinner and responded in the following striking address:

Mr. Kahn's Address.

Truth need not necessarily be disagreeable in order to be true, and if I measure my words when I say that there is no city in this country, or in Europe, where the feeling for operatic art is more sincere, where the understanding for its mission is greater and truer than in Atlanta, and where this feeling is more splendidly translated into action. And in honoring art, you honor yourself, you are proving your qualifications and your title to leadership amongst the other cities of the South. It is a luxury, it is a serious and important cultural factor in the life of a community. It has an important and weighty purpose to fulfill.

Never Grander.

I have gone past the Metropolitan opera house at 8 o'clock of an afternoon and have seen the people standing in line in the snow and the cold wind, waiting their chance to fill the galleries and the standing room. I have observed over in the crowded East Side and elsewhere in the great city of New York, how hungry the people are for food for their souls—how eager for nothing but their emotion. I have become convinced how great and how beneficent a part art can be made to play in their lives, how powerful an agency the stage—dramatic as well as operatic—is or can be made to be in the life of a community.

WHAT ART CAN DO.

The craving for sensations—the characteristic of our times, and particularly of our country—some of the restlessness, of the turmoil, of the lawlessness, even of the crime of modern days, springs in many instances simply from a desire to get away from the unrelieved dullness and drudgery of every-day existence. Much can be done by art, and especially by the art of the stage, to give proper satisfaction to this natural and legitimate desire, to lead the strong instinct underlying it into fruitful, instead of into harmful, or even destructive expression. Governments and municipalities have long since recognized this aspect of public utility in regard to art and have given expression to this recognition by subsidizing theaters and operas. Here, in accordance with the spirit and traditions of the country, this task is very properly left to private initiative. It is left, with many others, tending to promote the public weal, to you and to us, and it is a duty and a privilege and ought to be a pleasure to fulfill it.

We who have been favored by fortune, we who all in our offices more or less satisfied with the general scheme of existence and with our place in it, must, and must increasingly, do all we can to see that we are conscious of the obligations which are imposed upon us by the possession of the advantages we enjoy.

ATLANTA'S PUBLIC SPIRIT.

You, the leading men and women of Atlanta, have done this in many ways. The growth of your city, the beauty of your city, are eloquent witnesses to your public spirit. And not the least important service which you are rendering is in making possible—for it is you who in the last analysis pay the sufficient festival of art each year.

In enabling it to take place, in giving it your time and your funds, your efforts and your personal practical help, in lending the eyes and beauties and impressions derivable from the greatest interpretative work of operatic art to be brought to your people, you are acting in the best spirit of democracy, you are adding to the assets of high value to the civic possessions of this great city.

One of the most critical experiences in life is to see again, after a couple of years of absence, the girl that one was more or less desperately in love with on the day of parting. Perhaps the intervening two years have brushed off some little of the bloom of her loveliness, perhaps the present-day fashion is not as becoming to her, perhaps man's proverbial and deplorable fickleness has engraven upon his heart for the time being the image of another, perhaps he has become soured and hardened in the stress and strife of life. I knew when I came here that I would be face to face with this test. I felt greatly in love with Atlanta two years ago. I am but too conscious that I am as fickle as the rest of them, and I have passed through two strenuous and laborious years.

ONLY NEW YORK AND ATLANTA.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, here

HORRIBLE MISTAKE IN CASE OF FRANK, STATES W. J. BURNS

"Evidence on Which He Was Convicted Was Utterly Insufficient," Says Detective in Card.

MY WORK IN THIS CASE NEARLY DONE, HE SAYS

Burns Makes Absolute Denial of Any Connection With Bribe Offer—Retrial Hearing Resumed Today.

William J. Burns returned to Atlanta last night from Chattanooga, and upon his arrival here he gave out a written statement to The Constitution in which he made absolute denial of any connection with the alleged bribe offer of $200 to Rev. C. B. Ragsdale in return for an affidavit from the preacher to the effect that he heard Jim Conley confess to the murder of Mary Phagan.

The detective also takes occasion in this card to assert positively and emphatically the innocence of Frank, and declares that "in driving Leo Frank to his death without giving him a fair trial, you (the people of Atlanta) are making the most horrible, the most awful, mistake I ever heard of."

Burns' Statement.

The card of Mr. Burns, followed in full the statement in the afternoon papers in regard to the Ragsdale affidavit was made in response to an incomplete account of the affair received by long distance phone.

I have since read the account in The Constitution of his being driven out of his church and his mental affliction, which puts the matter in a new and pitiful light. I wish to say that I am sorry for this unfortunate man, but I must also say that his statement that I, or anyone in the employ of the Burns agency, bribed, or attempted to bribe, him is utterly untrue.

In mentioning my name as one of those present when the affidavit was "drawn" from him, he is stating a downright falsehood. I never laid eyes on the man in my life, do not know him and was never in his presence. If he made this statement, and if there is any manhood left in him, he will come out and disavow it. I am satisfied it was forced out of him by threats and intimidation.

Please let me say in connection with this Ragsdale affair that it illustrates what I have so often observed in the commission of one great wrong invariably leads to the commission of other wrongs.

I would like to say one thing to the people of Atlanta. In all my experience I have never been so moved in all my life as I have been by the Frank case. Putting back of this statement all my experience of thirty years in the study and detection of crime, I say to you more earnestly than I ever spoke before in my life, that in driving Leo M. Frank to his death without giving him a fair trial, you are making the most horrible, the most awful, mistake I ever heard of.

Says Frank Is Innocent.

I believe that you will grant that I am entitled to speak as an expert in matters relating to crime and criminal evidence, and speaking as such I tell you that Leo M. Frank is an innocent man, that the evidence on which he was convicted was utterly insufficient, and that bringing on his execution under such conditions you are doing him a frightful injustice and inflicting on your city an irreparable injury.

Notwithstanding that twelve honest men found Leo M. Frank guilty, I say to you that the conditions that existed in Atlanta at that time made it absolutely impossible to give him a fair trial. If the members of that jury were to discuss the events leading up to the rendering of their verdict, they would tell you the most interesting story ever heard. Every one of them was charged with the story of perversion, perversion, perversion, and that, rather than let so atrocious crime of the murder of this innocent little girl, aroused the community to a frenzy that made a fair consideration of the case impossible.

I consider that my work in the Frank case, which was to ascertain the truth, is practically completed. I have absolutely proved that Frank of the charge of perversion, which was wholly responsible for the conviction, and I have also demonstrated, beyond the shadow of a doubt, by incontrovertible facts that Jim Conley is a pervert and was the murderer of little Mary Phagan.

WILLIAM J. BURNS.

Hearing Resumed.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey will appear before Judge Ben Hill this morning at 10 o'clock, when the hearing for a retrial for Leo M. Frank is resumed and will begin his fight to have the move of the convicted man's

CURSES HURLED AT ROCKEFELLER

For His Policy Regarding Colorado Strike—Rockefeller Says It's No "Rockefeller War."

New York, April 30.—Threats of violence were made against John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today by demonstrators against what was declared to be his policy in the Colorado mine war. One woman attempted to invade his office and when she was prevented she withdrew with imprecations on her lips, repeating in a speech outside threats she had made within the building of personal harm that would come to him if he persisted in declining to consent to arbitration in the Colorado crisis.

While Upton Sinclair, Miss Elizabeth Freeman, an English militant suffragette, and Mrs. Dorie Listner, pioneer in the Free Silence league movement, were being sent today to the Tombs prison for picketing yesterday, other pickets, wearing crepe on their sleeves, began pacing the sidewalk in front of Mr. Rockefeller's office at 26 Broadway. The march was kept up all day and meetings were held in Bowling Green at which speakers reiterated charges that Mr. Rockefeller was responsible for conditions in the Ludlow district.

Rockefeller Is Angered.

Mr. Rockefeller tonight issued a statement characterizing as "ridiculous" any allusion to conditions in Colorado as "Rockefeller's war." The conflicts in Colorado were not between mine owners and strikers, he declared, but between strikers and the militia troops. The statement contained no reference to the "Free Silence" protest in this city.

Sinclair, Miss Freeman and Mrs. Listner went to jail rather than pay a $10 fine each, imposed after they were convicted of disorderly conduct. They said they would go on a hunger strike.

While Sinclair and others were having a two-hour hearing in court, Mardo Gean of the I. W. W. made several fruitless efforts to see Mr. Rockefeller. When attendants barred him from the office she directed threats against Mr. Rockefeller. Later in Bowling Green park she mounted a pile of bricks and made a verbal attack on him. A crowd of several thousand surged in close, shouted and threatened. Miss Gean hurled a paving block in the direction of Alexander Berkman, anarchist, who also was making a speech. The speakers, escorted by police, finally rode to a subway entrance and escaped. One man was arrested and fined on complaint of Rose Edelson, an I. W. W. member.

Mr. Rockefeller's statement, issued tonight, quoted the lieutenant governor of Colorado, in an effort to show that the strikers themselves started the trouble by killing a non-union man, and not as Lease or Life.

Alluding to the deplorable loss of life in Colorado," Mr. Rockefeller said:

"To describe this condition as 'Rockefeller's war' as has been done by certain of the sensational newspapers and speakers is infamous. Our interest is solely in the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, which is simply one of a large number of coal operating companies in the state of Colorado."

A demonstration was held in front of 26 West Fifty-fourth street, residence of John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., tonight by men who claimed to represent the anti-military league of New York. They walked back and forth carrying placards bearing an inscription:

"Thou shalt not kill, either in Mexico or Colorado. If you want to fight, join the cause of labor against capitalism and help us and the Colorado mine workers who are being ruthlessly slaughtered."

It was said that Mr. Rockefeller and his son were not at home during the demonstration. A citizen called on the police to disperse the men and two who refused to move were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were discharged later in night court. They disclaimed any connection with Sunday or the Industrial Workers of the World.

Meyer and Edward Meisenberg Ready to Take Place of Boy Killed at Vera Cruz.

Chicago, April 30.—Meyer and Edward Meisenberg, brothers of Samuel Meisenberg, the Chicago marine killed in the opening activities at Vera Cruz, sent this letter to President Wilson yesterday:

"Dear Mr. President: We are broken-hearted over the death of our brother Sammy at Vera Cruz. But we are satisfied your policy is the right one. We stand ready, if necessary, to step into the shoes of our dead brother and fight for our flag in his place."

Samuel Meisenberg joined the marine corps under the name "Samuel Marten."

JUDGE NAT HARRIS FORMALLY IN RACE

His Campaign for Governor Launched at Macon—His Platform, "You Help Me, and I'll Help You."

Macon, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The campaign of Judge Nat E. Harris for governor of Georgia was formally launched here today at a mass meeting held in the city courtroom attended by several hundred of his friends and supporters.

A resolution introduced by Hon. Rowland Ellis called on Judge Harris to make the race and pledged the support of the people of Bibb county.

After the resolution was adopted Judge Harris was introduced by Judge Robert Hodges and made a talk in which he declared it was time Bibb county was given recognition as far as the governor's office is concerned, stating that it has been thirty-one years since a Bibb county man held the office. He said his platform would be "You do all you can for me and I'll do all I can for you."

Judge Harris reviewed his record as a soldier, as a legislator, and defended himself from the attack that has been made on him on the ground that he is a "salaried lawyer." "Yes, I've been up and down railroads in this state and I'll carry every county where I ever tried a case," he said.

At the conclusion of his talk he read his official announcement for the governorship following all doubt as to his entry into the race.

MAHONEY HAD MARKED FOUR MEN FOR DEATH

New York, April 30.—Three men besides Citizen John Purroy Mitchel, whom Michael P. Mahoney attempted to kill on April 27, but instead wounded Corporation Counsel Polk, were on the list of Mahoney, the "Prince of Death," was found to be unpossessed by the Rivers Organization party followed this clew from the card in the telegraph line to its junction with Mahoney's address at Bellevue hospital, only a distance of about 600 miles.

The results of the expedition are considered now to be of splendid service to Brazil and to science.

Memorial From the Colonel.

New York, April 30.—A memorial, said Colonel Roosevelt, president of the American Museum of Natural History, today received the following cablegram from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who, with his son Kermit, have arrived safely in Manaos, Brazil:

"Exact, but very successful trip. Have collected 1,500 bird skins, all told, and 200 mammals. We have also put one map river running from north of thirteenth degree to south of fifth degree, the largest affluent of the Madeira, the upper part hitherto utterly unknown to anyone, and the lower part utterly unknown to cartographers.

ROOSEVELT."

The message was dated Manaos, April 29.

Anthony Fiala, the explorer who accompanied the Roosevelt party, will arrive in New York tomorrow from Rio Janeiro.

Washington Hears That Dr. Ryan, Employed by United States to Look After Refugees, Is to Be Executed in Mexico City This Morning. Secretary Bryan Takes Measures to Stop the Execution and to Secure the Release of Ryan.

Washington, April 30.—Unofficial reports reaching Washington late tonight that Dr. Edward Ryan, an American in the service of the United States government looking after refugees, was to be executed as a spy at Mexico City tomorrow morning caused Secretary Bryan to make urgent representations in behalf of Dr. Ryan to the Spanish ambassador, General Huerta's representative here.

Secretary Bryan said that no news of Dr. Ryan's reported plight had reached him through official circles and that he was not inclined to credit the story.

No chances were taken, however. Ambassador Riano was requested to inquire into the matter immediately and if he found that Dr. Ryan actually was under arrest, to insist on his immediate release. The matter also was brought to the attention of Senor Dagama, Brazilian minister, who communicated with the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, in charge of American interests there.

Dr. Ryan is a physician and has been active in relief work in Mexico for some time. When the battle of Torreon was on he organized an automobile expedition which went from Mexico City and did general relief work among wounded federals and constitutionalists.

Officials here said any accusation of spying or improper conduct against the physician would be absurd; that his activities had been confined solely to efforts to relieve suffering humanity.

Edward G. Ryan, said to be of the American Red Cross, has been in Mexico for a considerable time. In March, 1913, he was reported to have received a gold medal from the then American ambassador, Henry L. Wilson, in recognition of his bravery during the ten days' battle in the streets of Mexico City. He undertook several relief missions to Americans at Torreon and Saltillo, according to reports, and attended Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires, when he was slightly ill in March this year.

HUERTA FAVORS ARMISTICE WHILE THE ENVOYS WORK; NO WORD FROM CARRANZA

United States Also Willing for Armistice Pending Efforts of Mediators to Prevent War—It Is Believed Negotiations Will Move Rapidly.

Washington, April 30.—General Huerta tonight accepted the proposal that there be no further hostilities between the United States and Mexico pending the efforts of the envoys of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to bring about an amicable settlement of difficulties between the countries.

This was announced late tonight by Secretary Bryan after he had been in conference for two hours with the three South American diplomats at the Argentine legation. At the same time Mr. Bryan said he already formally had notified the mediators that the American government "took it for

MEXICANS FIRE ON WARD LINER; HELMSMAN SHOT

As Steamer Antilla, Flying Cuban Flag, Enters Tampico Harbor She Sustains Heavy Fire—Strong Protest Made.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 30.—The Ward line steamer Antilla was fired upon by both the federals and the rebels at Tampico yesterday, according to a dispatch received today by wireless telegraphy from that seaport. The steamship of the vessel was struck by one of the shots and killed.

The Antilla left New York April 18, flying the Cuban flag.

The liner first was raked by the federal guns and then, as she was running the gantlet of the rebels from their position near the mouth of the Panuco river opened fire on her.

The commander of one of the British boats lying off Tampico filed a protest with the federal and rebel commanders.

MAYO REPORTS REBELS DID FIRING.

Washington, April 30.—Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico reported to the navy department tonight that the Ward line steamer, Antilla, flying the Cuban flag, was fired upon both by rebels and federals there yesterday by constitutionalists, but later steamed into port under cover of fire upon the rebels from the Mexican cruiser, Vera Cruz.

The helmsman of the Antilla was killed, one of the rebel fire and the steamer anchored, sending out wireless "S. O. S." signals. Admiral Mayo then sent a launch to the side of the ship, a medical officer from the flagship Des Moines. Then officers of the foreign vessels—war of the port, visited by Captain Doughty of the British cruiser Hermione, called on the constitutionalist commander for an explanation of the incident.

The constitutionalist officers declared they regretted the firing to prevent any merchant vessels entering Tampico, to keep supplies and stores from the federals.

Soon after this conference, Admiral Mayo's report said, the gunboat Vera Cruz opened fire on the constitutionalists and the Antilla under cover of the shelling proceeded up the river to the wharves. Shells from the Vera Cruz set fire to two big oil lighters at the Waters-Pierce refinery pier and they were still blazing at last report.

Naval officers have said no official notice would be taken by Admiral Mayo of the Antilla incident. They expressed the opinion, however, if it the British and other foreign warships at the port would demand that constitutionalists refrain from interfering with commerce.

MAHONEY FIGHTING TO WIN RESERVE BANK

Baltimore, April 30.—Counsel for the regional reserve bank committee of the Baltimore clearing house, a unit of the reserve bank organization committee of the federal reserve board, representing that it do nothing further toward officially assisting in the organization of the bank at Richmond until the Baltimore committee application for review is heard and decided.

Attention is called to "the fact that the proposed bank at Richmond is using every effort to perfect an organization so that it will be most difficult for the federal reserve board to effectively review your decision."

greated that there would be no hostilities during the mediation proceedings, and had intended no further acts of aggression while the conferences were being held."

NO WORD COMES FROM CARRANZA.

With these replies before them, the envoys were prepared to go ahead with their peace plans, so far as the United States and the Huerta government are concerned. No word has come from General Carranza, however, concerning a proposed armistice between the constitutionalists and federals in Mexico. On the rebel chief's answer depends largely the plans of the mediators for undertaking a peaceful settlement of the whole Mexican problem, internal strife as well as differences between the United States and the Huerta regime.

News from Mexico that General Carranza and General Villa were pushing ahead their southward movement and preparing for a general attack on Tampico threw a damper upon hopes for peace between the warring Mexican factions.

Restrained, but none the less steady, preparation for any military eventualities that may become necessary, and the quiet but definite progress of the mediation program being worked out behind closed doors—these were the two outstanding features of the Mexican situation here today.

While there has been no period set within which the negotiations must be concluded, Secretary Bryan said today he believed they would move forward, "as rapidly as possible." A report that they might be prolonged by the mediators going to Mexico was met by the statement by one of the mediators that in these days of the telegraph and cable such a journey was unnecessary.

WILL HUERTA ADMIT CARRANZA?

While the envoys were not ready to make an announcement, several interesting phases of what has come up during the discussion were learned from authoritative sources. It appears that while the attitude of General Huerta was definite in accepting intermediation as between the United States and the Huerta authorities, it has not yet been made clear that his acceptance will apply also to intermediation that includes Carranza. It is expected that this question will be cleared up by inquiries now under way, so that it may be definitely established that Huerta not only accepts intermediation with the United States but also with Carranza.

Another outgrowth of the discussion was an intimation that both the Huerta and Carranza elements would send representatives to deal directly with the mediators; that Francisco De La Barra, former Spanish ambassador for Huerta, probably would be designated to act for Huerta. It was known that the mediators themselves had made no move for a personal representative from either party. But there was reason to believe De La Barra's coming was being considered at Mexico City and that a representative of Carranza, who is on his way here, may be authorized to act in that direct capacity.

During the day the intermediaries received word of the encouraging attitude of some of the foremost European powers, notably Great Britain. While the mediators have not appealed directly for the friendly influence of European powers, their home governments have enlisted their ambassadors and ministers at European capitals to secure friendly co-operation. The response has been general encouraging, yet the difficulties still in the way of a settlement are recognized. One continental diplomat pointed out that the difficulties increased as the scope of intermediation was broadened. He likened the situation here to a so-called concert of Europe, which seldom could be brought to agreement because of the number of parties and diversity of interests.

CARRANZA'S NOTE IS ANALYZED.

Local constitutionalists drew attention to the language of the note from General Carranza, as not accepting any offer to solve the differences between himself and General Huerta, but merely to listen to proposals which would solve differences between the United States and Mexico. In the note from the envoys to Carranza they extended the offices of our good offices to all parties at interest in the problem of the pacification of Mexico and the adjustment of the differences between Mexico and the United States."

The Carranza reply thanked the mediators for their effort to solve "the differences between Mexico and the United States."

Asked what differences existed between the United States and Mexico in which General Carranza could have a part, local constitutionalists recalled Carranza's recent note to the American government in which he pointed out that demands for reparation as a result of the arrest of American blue jackets at Tampico and other offenses should properly be addressed to him as the constitutional president of Mexico.

Upon whether or not General Carranza accepts any proposal looking to armistice as between himself and General Huerta depends the limitation, for the present, of the field of the diplomats at work on the whole Mexican problem. Should Carranza refuse to accept any armistice with Huerta, the work of the diplomats, it is realized, would be confined solely to settling differences between the United States and Mexico, though they by no means have given up the idea of solving the whole Mexican problem.

In the communication from the three South American diplomats to Carranza, mention is made of failure to receive the proposal by local representatives of the constitutionalists. The letter explained today that their declination to receive the proposition arose out of no desire to pass it on to Carranza but merely because they had not been authorized to receive propositions of such importance. They said they had advised the three South American diplomats, however, to telegraph Carranza direct, which resulted in last night's answer.

TO BRUSH ASIDE TECHNICALITIES.

Administration officials who read the Carranza note noted its ambiguous language, but were optimistic over the hope that technicalities soon would be brushed aside and a clearer understanding obtained of just what the constitutionalist chief intended.

Various unofficial reports continued to circulate as to the work of the mediators. One of these was as to a neutral zone around Tampico, later denied, but there was a report considered by the mediators. Another referred to the temporary transfer of the admission in Mexico in case Huerta retired. There was nothing definite as to this, but it was believed in some quarters that the question of the authority has waned until it cannot last much longer.

Further conferences were held today at the state department on the suggested establishment of a neutral zone about Tampico oil fields. The valuable foreign-owned oil properties there, it was pointed out, if once set afire, could not be extinguished, and hundreds of millions of barrels of oil would be lost.

A joint resolution to make immediately available the emergency $500,000 army appropriation bill, just passed by both houses of congress, was introduced today by Senator Wilson, at request, by Chairman Hay, of the house military affairs committee. The measure is designed to meet the present emergency in Mexico.

It has been suggested that the same course may be followed by the naval affairs committee, though Chairman Roger Padgett does not favor such action unless the president requests it.

ICE MACHINE INVENTOR HONORED BY FLORIDA

Washington, April 30.—A marble statue of John Gorrie, M. D., inventor of the ice machine and mechanical refrigerator, erected by the state of Florida, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies today in Statuary hall in the capitol. The statue of the inventor of the Florida congressional delegation were present. Governor Trammell made the presentation was made by George W. Dayton, chairman of the Florida commission, and the statue delivered by George H. Whiteside, secretary of the commission. Speaker Clark was accepted by Representative Emmet Wilson. The statue was then unveiled by Mary Louise Stewart, great granddaughter of Dr. Gorrie. It now stands on the north side of the hall between Pennsylvania and Virginia, Willard, of Illinois, and John Hanson, of Maryland.

MAJOR FITZGERALD TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

London, April 30.—A man about 60 years old, said to have given himself as Major Henry C. Fitzgerald, an American and believed to have been formerly paymaster on the staff of General Merritt in the Philippines, was found shot today in the Charing Cross hotel. He died later in a hospital.

The police authorities believe the man committed suicide.

PORFIRIO DIAZ TOUCHED BY MESSAGE OF REYES

Paris, April 30.—Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, has sent an answer to General Rafael Reyes concerning the latter's recent effort to compose the Mexican difficulty. General Diaz says he is "profoundly touched by the generous inspiration of his letter and is in love for the cause of Mexico and I am grateful for your flattering, although unmerited, appreciation of me personally. I hope to see you in a few days."

General Reyes, former president of the republic of Colombia, four days ago addressed a dispatch to President Wilson and Provisional President Carranza and Villa, suggesting that recourse be had to Porfirio Diaz for a solution of the present crisis. General Diaz is at Monte Carlo.

FEDERALS AND REBELS FIGHT ON WEST COAST

Washington, April 30.—Federals and constitutionalists are fighting at Mazatlan and Guaymas, according to a dispatch received here from Admiral Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet.

Admiral Howard reported further that the news of mediation "through Argentina, Brazil and Chile" had been received by the better class of citizens at Mazatlan. The message was sent through the lines to the constitutionalists."

AMERICAN CASUALTIES AT TAKING OF VERA CRUZ

Washington, April 30.—Latest reports received by the navy department today of the number of American casualties at the occupation of Vera Cruz on April 21 follows:

Killed: Eleven sailors, four marines. One service, unidentified. Total 16.

Wounded: Two naval officers, forty-one sailors, four marines, three service, unidentified. Total 70.

REGULARS IN PLACE OF TEXAS GUARDSMEN

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Garrison is preparing to substitute federal regulars for the Texas state troops now stationed at Brownsville, Texas officials report, on the mobilization of the army by the border patrol and the Vera Cruz expedition probably will make it necessary to draw the force from the coast artillery.

The secretary suggested to Governor Colquitt the impossibility of federal and state forces seeking to operate in the same territory under different commands, and the governor has agreed to withdraw the militia when regulars arrive.

Foulest Prison on Continent Abolished by American Forces

Vera Cruz, April 30.—Rear Admiral Fletcher's decision announced yesterday to remove immediately all prisoners from the fortress of San Juan de Ulua, which for centuries as perhaps the foulest prison on the American continent, came after an inspection had been made by Commander H. O. Stickney, inspector of the port and the customs, who occupied the place, and by officers especially detailed for the work. This prison, constructed in the form of an island in the harbor, held more than 900 prisoners, 200 of whom already have been released or transferred to other prisons.

The inspection by the American authorities verified tales that had been written and told for generations of the terrible conditions prevailing there. Many dungeons were below the water line when the tide was running in, at which time the inmates, many of whom were half blind on account of their long incarceration in semi-darkness, were drenched. Other dungeons were so constructed that it was impossible for the victims to lie down. Ancient devices of torture were discovered and there was evidence that these recently had been in use.

Among those held in confinement were men once of prominence, but whose names now almost have been forgotten; men who had been there so long that their minds were blank, and men so enfeebled by treatment they had received as to insure their transfer to hospitals instead of to prisons.

The appearance of the prisoners was pitiable. Emaciated creatures stumbled forward to thank the inspecting officers for their delivery. Long beards in many cases were matted over dirty emaciated faces, while a few of the fashionable element of the federal capital had looked, for many of those imprisoned were once prominent in society, in politics and in the army.

Each succeeding administration perpetuated the use of this ancient fortress as a prison—a use to which it was put by the Spaniards. The late President I. Madero inspected the prison just prior to his taking charge of the government of Mexico, but he was not gratified by what he saw and declared with much solemnity that his first official act would be the removal of the prisoners and the conversion of the fortress into an arsenal. He did go so far as partially to prepare military prisons near Vera Cruz, to which he talked of removing the prisoners, but his promise to clean out the prison was one which he neglected or found impossible to keep.

Commander Stickney yesterday was ordered to take over the prison with its shops and everything else pertaining to it. Such ship work as required by Mexico's navy had been done there.

NO ARMISTICE FOR CARRANZA

Rebel Chief Intends to Keep Pushing Huerta—Mobilizing a Great Army to Capture Port of Tampico.

El Paso, Texas, April 30.—While General Carranza has not replied officially to the proposition of the South American mediators for a federal-rebel armistice, reports from Mexico City say it is plainly forecast in orders promulgated today for a concentrated attack on Tampico.

The federal gunboats and the land defenses of Tampico have proved such a big task for the troops of Generals Caballero and Gonzales, and orders were issued today for the mobilization of 12,000 troops from the states of Coahuila, Tamaulipas and Nuevo Leon. It is reported also that Gen. General Francisco Villa will lead the attack.

Rafael E. Muspuit, a son-in-law of General Carranza, and a leader of the junta here, is one of the authorities for the declaration that an armistice in northern Mexico is impossible.

It was rumored in connection with the proposal that acceptance of the proposition would have to carry with it some form of recognition of the belligerency of the rebels, but General Carranza is said to have commented that he did not care to attach it in that way, as it was bound to come in the time to the complete victory of his forces.

General Villa was at Parral today. It is learned that his recent trip to Juarez and his present negotiations are on business matters connected with raising revenue. The United States is said to have become rigid in its enforcement of the protection of foreign interests in Mexico, thereby embarrassing the process of raising funds by way of the confiscation.

George C. Carothers, special agent here of the state department, is working night and day. Telegrams are said to be flying between Washington and Chihuahua, and Carothers and Governor Pascual Orozco, Carranza's confidential agent here, are in frequent conference.

A letter to General Felipe Angeles, chief of the rebel artillery, from General Maas, federal commander at Naco, Sonora, and signed by a number of other generals and lesser officials, asking Angeles to join the federals against the United States, was received here today. Angeles' reply also was given out to the effect that he would not compound Huerta's crimes by joining him.

In a letter addressed to the Associated Press and signed by General Villa, the latter asserts that the spirit of feeling exists between himself and Carranza.

YAQUIS WANT TO FIGHT FOR THE UNITED STATES

Nogales, Ariz., April 30.—Influenced by generous treatment they had received from Americans in Mexico, 1,400 Yaqui Indians, who recently deserted the rebels near Guaymas and took to the hills, yesterday sent a courier to the United States troops here with a message, saying the Yaqui tribe was ready to join the American soldiers."

A careful hearing of the message brought by the courier and an inquiry as to the condition of the Yaquis followed the arrival of the courier.

"All Yaqui tribe ready join pale face," was the laconic statement of the Indian who had shunned the railroad and reached the border after days of walking over the desert hills. The messenger said the Indians had deserted the rebels as soon as news reached them of the taking of Vera Cruz by the American marines. He said many more than 1,400 were waiting for the Americans to come."

With bows and long arrows the Yaquis always have been an important factor in Mexican revolutions. They are reputed to be expert scouts and usually spread terror among those against whom they are arrayed. Their being armed recently with modern arms robbed them of some of their picturesque aspects.

STORY OF BOMBARDMENT JUST A HUERTA YARN

Washington, April 30.—The report from Mexico City that the fort of Mazanillo on the Pacific coast had been bombarded by an American warship was denied at the white house today. Investigation disclosed that a conflagration said to have been of incendiary origin had occurred there, but American forces had nothing to do with it.

The white house communicated with Secretary of the Navy Daniels early in the day with relation to the Manzanillo report and also the dispatches that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz. Admiral Howard, commander of the American naval forces on the Pacific coast, replying to inquiries from the secretary of the navy, told of the conflagration at Manzanillo and also denied that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz.

Referring to the Manzanillo report Admiral Howard's message said:

"Unfounded. There was an incendiary fire at Manzanillo. We were not even there."

ALL NORTHERN BORDER HELD BY THE REBELS

Brownsville, Texas, April 30.—For the first time since the present revolution began, the Mexican constitutionalists today were in control of the entire northern frontier of Mexico divided by the Rio Grande from Texas. Four strategic garrison towns are included in the territory.

The rebels completed their control of the section this week when Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras were occupied without the firing of a shot. Previously Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and Juarez, where revolutions are made, were the important northern points under the sway of Venustiano Carranza. The federal garrison of Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras evacuated the towns suddenly and the United States forces landed at Vera Cruz.

In departing the federals did what damage they could by fire and dynamite. Nuevo Laredo almost being destroyed. Then the constitutionalists marched in and took possession without resistance of towns around which many a stubborn battle had raged. At both places, it was announced, business will be rapidly restored and normal conditions restored.

Beside the four large towns, the rebels also hold on the border Las Vacas, opposite Del Rio, San Ygnacio, in the cattle country below Nuevo Laredo; Guerrero and Mier. Small garrisons hold each town except Piedras Negras, where Colonel Murgia has 1,200 men. There is no large federal force north of Saltillo, now that Monterey has fallen and General Guajardo defeated at Allende.

SOUTHEAST ALASKA OFFERED TO CANADA

Washington, April 30.—Negotiations with Great Britain and Canada for transfer of southeast Alaska to Canada, by sale or exchange or both, with "repeal of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as one of the conditions of the transfer," was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Smith, of Maryland.

WHITE HOUSE WEDDING TO OCCUR ON MAY 7

Washington, April 30.—Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president and Mrs. Wilson, and William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, will be married May 7, in the blueroom of the white house. As the guest list has been limited, the white house family decided not to use the large eastroom, scene of the wedding last November of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre.

COL. PERKINS RESTORED TO THE MARINE CORPS

Senate Passes House Bill to Reinstate Georgian Unjustly Forced to Resign.

Washington, April 30.—On the strength of reports that Lieutenant Colonel C. M. Perkins had been forced out of the United States marine corps in 1907 by fraud and duress, the senate today passed the house bill restoring the officer to the rank of colonel in the corps. Senator Tillman, chairman of the naval affairs committee, promised the senate to do all he could to have the naval affairs committee investigate the action of officers responsible for the officer's retirement.

The bill for Colonel Perkins' restoration brought forth a demand from Senator Clark, of Arkansas, for an explanation of the unusual course.

"This officer was unjustly forced to resign to avoid being retired under charges of being mentally unsound," replied Senator Hoke Smith.

The house report holding that the officer retired as the result of fraud and duress led to Senator Clark, of Wyoming, demanding that the naval committee investigate whether such an outrageous intrigue had existed in the navy department.

Senator Weeks told the senate he and Colonel Perkins had been classmates at Annapolis, and, while the latter was highly nervous in 1907, when he resigned, he was not insane.

Colonel Perkins was appointed to the naval academy from Georgia.

Senator Clark, of Arkansas, criticised Perkins for resigning instead of remaining and fighting his tradducers.

"Then the senator defend this injustice?" asked Senator Lodge. "He met the charge as quickly as he could."

"By resigning," insisted Senator Clark.

"For the reason that he had no other escape from going out under the stigma of insanity," said Senator Lodge.

Colonel Perkins, who was appointed to the naval academy from Georgia, was in the senate gallery today.

If Lieutenant Colonel Perkins had wanted revenge, the scoring given by senators today to naval officers who had unjustly forced him, from the service to which he had devoted thirty-five years of his life, was sweet music in his ears.

Representative William Schley Howard, of Georgia, deserves the major credit for having brought about today's vindication at the hands of the senate. Mr. Howard took up the Perkins case shortly after coming to congress. He has fought continuously for justice for this brave Georgia officer, who has given a good account of himself in every quarter of the globe. He appeared before the house naval affairs committee on behalf of Lieutenant Colonel Perkins, and also before the secretary of the navy, Mr. Josephus Daniels, and he won a favorable verdict in both instances.

Today Is Opportune Time To Enter The Constitution's Contest and Win an Auto

The campaign for subscriptions just being launched by The Constitution in which over twenty-five thousand dollars in prizes and cash is to be distributed, offers contestants a great opportunity to win valuable prizes.

The time to enter this contest is now. Many who are hesitating to enter will hesitate until it is too late. These automobiles and other valuable prizes are to be given away to successful contestants, and the way to be a successful contestant is to enter now with the determination to win. The opportunity is here, the opportunity is yours if you will only take advantage of it.

The Constitution is presenting to the people of Georgia and contiguous territory a generous plan whereby the distribution is affected of over twenty-five thousand dollars in prizes, as well as cash gifts.

Nominations for this voting contest are now in order. Anyone in the state of Georgia or contiguous territory desiring to register for a share of the costly awards may do so by simply sending in her name to the contest department of The Constitution. Immediate response will come to the prospective candidate by mail. Or, where possible, a representative of the contest department will call and personally give first-hand information on all matters pertaining to the contest.

To send in your nomination is the first step. Then, with the information which is gladly furnished, you have matters directly within your own hands. Think of receiving a 6-60 seven-passenger Oakland touring car as a reward for your diligence and attention to the simple matter of gathering votes for yourself among your friends during a very short campaign.

You Have Your Choice.

You may choose a 6-60 seven-passenger touring car, fully equipped with every convenience of mechanical arrangement that the Oakland Motor Car company with its millions of capital has been able to invent and apply.

Nothing has been left undone to make this model a standard of excellence, both as to usefulness and beauty. If you are first in number of votes in your division, an Oakland 6-60 seven-passenger touring car is yours.

If you should fail to secure the largest number of votes in your division, but should find that you had the second largest number, then a 4-33 five-passenger Velie touring car valued at $1,860 f. o. b. Atlanta will be yours.

If, perhaps, so large a car as either of the above named is a little more than you care to possess, then there are nine 32-horsepower, five-passenger Overland touring cars, model 79-T, fully equipped, to choose from. These are conceded to be the standard of cars in this class. While not quite so costly as the larger machines, for service and comfort the Overland model 79-T is up to the minute.

One of these sturdy automobiles is yours if you but gain the first place in number of votes in your own district, and you only have to compete with those in your own district for it.

The second prize in each of the nine districts is a $750 Ludden & Bates self-player piano, which is the regular Ludden & Bates cabinet grand upright piano, into which has been built the most perfect player mechanism. The player is, therefore, two instruments in one—a piano for the musician and a self-player for those who have never studied music. A handsome bench and fifteen rolls of music are included with each player.

Cash Prizes.

Any energetic contestant who enters this contest and sends The Constitution $100, or more, of new subscriptions and fails to win one of the listed prizes will be paid a cash prize at the rate of $10 for each $100 of new subscriptions turned in, to be sent to the contestant after the announcement of the results of the contest.

Cut out the nomination coupon which can always be found on the editorial page of The Daily and Sunday Constitution, write your name upon it and send it to The Constitution. This will entitle you to five thousand votes, and you will find that the votes will come in rapidly thereafter by little effort on your part.

Today is the day to send in your nomination. You cannot lose if you will put forth only a little effort, for every energetic contestant who enters this contest will receive an award as outlined above.

Funeral of Judge Jones.

Montgomery, Ala., April 30.—One of the most notable funerals ever held in this state was that of the late Judge Thomas G. Jones, who died here last Tuesday afternoon. The funeral occurred from St. John's Episcopal church, the procession being headed by Governor O'Neal and his entire staff, mounted, and participated in by detachments of state troops, city, county, state and federal officials and prominent men throughout Alabama. A soldier's salute was fired at the grave, after which "taps" were sounded.

The funeral of Jacob Schane will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence, 412 Capitol avenue. Interment will take place in Oakland.

HORRIBLE MISTAKE IN CASE OF FRANK

attorneys to gain for him a second trial.

A strong fight will be made to have Judge Hill revoke the order he gave Frank's defense cancelling the amendment which was presented last Friday, and in which Rev. C. B. Ragsdale made an affidavit to the effect that he had overheard Jim Conley confess to Mary Phagan's murder. Ragsdale has repudiated this affidavit in a confession to the solicitor.

It is also reported that Mrs. Dorsey has obtained an affidavit from Anna Maud Carter, the negro woman who has made an affidavit for the defense, swearing that Conley—while she was in prison with him—confessed Mary Phagan's murder to her. This report could not be verified, as Dorsey refused to commit himself when approached by a Constitution reporter.

State Has Affidavit.

It is known, however, that the negress has made an affidavit to the detectives at police headquarters who have been investigating the Frank case. This document, it is said, was attested by the Carter woman on the day before she made the startling "Conley confession" affidavit for Frank's lawyers.

Mr. Dorsey has announced that he is well equipped for this morning's fight, and that he has a large amount of evidence that will create much surprise. A brilliant legal battle is expected when both sides clash before Judge Hill. The hearing will be held in the committee room of the state library in the capitol.

Story is Denied.

Arthur Thurman, the lawyer who was accused by Ragsdale with having been present when the bribe offer of $200 was made, denies the charge and denounces the minister as a liar.

So does C. C. Tedder, the investigator attached to the office of William M. Smith, counsel for Conley, whom Ragsdale also says was present when the offer was made. Tedder likewise says Ragsdale is a liar.

Each, however, admits connection with Ragsdale. Both Tedder and Thurman say they heard of Ragsdale's alleged stories that were being circulated that the minister knew something of the Mary Phagan mystery which had never been made public. Tedder was present, it is said, when Ragsdale's first story was told. He states, though, that Burns was not among the men gathered around the minister when his story was told.

HEAR GRAND OPERA ATLANTA OR NEW YORK

I stand, more ardent, if possible, in my affection for Atlanta than before, though even than before under the spell of that wonderful Atlanta spirit, which for seven years more lovely, fascinating and irresistible. And let me make a confession: I am jealous! What chance have I having at my disposal but ordinary language as against those kings and queens of song who sing their way into your hearts and affection. All I can base my claim upon is faithfulness. Many temptations have been held out to us. More than one city has come to us and has said: "We want the Metropolitan Opera company. Name your own terms. They will be met." And we have spurned all temptations and our answer has been what I said to you when I last had the privilege of being with you: "Anyone who wants to hear the Metropolitan Opera company—except for an occasional single performance in Philadelphia—must either go to New York or Atlanta."

Long may this article union of the north and south continue, may it continue until the time comes—as come it will—when the great, warm, deep soul of the south will find artistic expression in its own composers, interpretation in its own singers and opera. And when that times comes and the Dixie Opera company goes on a visit to New York, may we, or our successors, and the New York public give it as cordial a reception as you have given to us, may it find an enlightened an understanding and sincere and enthusiastic an art spirit in the north, as it has been our privilege to find in the south.

The Story of Puccini's Opera MADAME BUTTERFLY

The scene is Nagasaki, Japan.

When the curtain rises Lieutenant Pinkerton (Martin), U. S. Navy, is about to contract a "Japanese marriage" with Cho-Cho-San (Farrar), known among her friends as Butterfly. He is being shown over the house he has just leased for his new home when his friend Sharpless (Scotti) arrives and pleads with him to reflect deeply before he signs the marriage contract, urging that what was a passing whim with him might be a very serious matter with Butterfly. But Pinkerton goes ahead despite the fact that Sharpless a moment later learns that Butterfly has renounced her faith in her old associations to trust her future entirely with her husband.

Three years have elapsed. Pinkerton has long since been recalled to America when, in the second act, Butterfly's faithful maid, Suzuki (Fornia), is interrupted while praying (against her own conviction) that Pinkerton might return to the never-doubting Butterfly. He has come with the intention of telling of Pinkerton's return to Nagasaki—but with an American wife!

He does not tell her.

At the very sight of the letter Sharpless has had from Pinkerton Butterfly is thrown into such a transport of joy that she is unable to listen—he has remembered her, he has written, surely he is returning.

Sharpless again tries to acquaint her with the true conditions, but she silences him by bringing in her baby boy and declaring that surely Pinkerton will return when he learns he has a son in Japan.

The guns of a man-of-war are heard. They discover it is Pinkerton's ship. He is returning; her happiness knows no bounds.

Butterfly and Suzuki set to decorating the little home and then with the baby await Pinkerton's arrival. Suzuki and the boy fall asleep. Butterfly waits and waits through the long night for the husband who has forsaken her.

The second scene of act two—dawn of the next day—finds Suzuki and the boy still asleep. Soon Suzuki awakes and persuades Butterfly to go and rest. Pinkerton and Sharpless enter, but Pinkerton, when he realizes the wrong he has done, in deep remorse and shame, flees. Sharpless remains to beg Suzuki to tell Butterfly all and to urge her to give the baby to Pinkerton and his "American wife." Butterfly enters and learns the bitter truth. She courageously offers the child to Pinkerton on condition that he himself come and claim him.

When Pinkerton returns Butterfly has killed herself.

DETECTIVES MAKE RAID ON THE CHILDS HOTEL

Proprietor, Porter, Man and Woman Will Be Tried This Afternoon.

The vice squad renewed activities against Atlanta's hotels Thursday afternoon by making a raid on the Childs hotel, on South Broad street.

Officers Green and McKibben went to the hotel about 4:00 o'clock and rushed upstairs to the third floor. A man had just registered under the name of Hance Brown, and they went straight to his room. They had seen him giving instructions to the negro porter in a subdued conversation. They discovered a woman in Brown's room.

The officers proceeded to make a wholesale arrest, pinching the woman and Brown, the negro porter and the hotel proprietor.

They were all taken down to police station. Brown was released under a $100 bond. The woman, who gave her name as Lillian Wright, was held under a $300 bond, and the negro porter detained at police headquarters under bond of $200.

Cases against Miss Wright and Brown will be tried this afternoon before Judge Broyles. The hotel proprietor, also, will be tried on the charge of running a lewd house in the city limits.

Depot at Lawrenceville.

Lawrenceville, Ga., April 30.—Work has actually started on the new Seaboard depot at Lawrenceville. Thursday morning a gang of workmen were set to work demolishing the old passenger station, and it will not be long before the structure is removed to make room for the imposing building which is to be erected on the present site.

A. M. Walkup, of Richmond, Va., was the successful bidder and he secured the contract for $10,000 in round numbers.

The new building will be completed within ninety days and when it is finished Lawrenceville will have an up-to-date passenger station and one fully in keeping with the growing tendencies of the progressive city.

DEATH IS HOVERING OVER LILLIAN NORDICA

Great Prima Donna Very Ill at Batavia, Java—Doctors Give Up Hope.

Batavia, Java, April 30.—Madame Lillian Nordica, who arrived here quite ill nearly a month ago, has had a relapse and is sinking. The doctors give up all hope of her recovery. She was engaged passage for Genoa, where her husband, George W. Young, of New York, had expected to meet her.

Madame Lillian Nordica and her company left New York on a tour of the world last April. They were on board the Dutch steamer Tasman December 26 when this vessel went ashore in the Gulf of Papua near Thursday Island.

Several days later the Tasman was pulled off and made the way to Thursday Island. Madame Nordica was suffering from nervous prostration as a result of her experience. Subsequently she developed pneumonia and remained under a physician's care at Thursday Island until April 1 when she left for Batavia on the steamer Houtman.

She took passage for Batavia against the advice of her physician.

BERNER IN THE CONTEST FOR AKERMAN'S PLACE

Fight Over Federal Attorneyship for Southern District of Georgia Has Become Acute.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 30.—(Special.)—The fight over the United States district attorneyship for the southern district of Georgia has reached an acute stage. Colonel Robert L. Berner, of Macon, reached Washington today and is making an active contest to land the position.

Senator West, who feels that he rightfully claims the privilege of filling the position since it is in his part of the state, and Senator Hoke Smith had the naming of the district attorney for the northern district, has put three names before the department of justice, R. M. Hitch, of Savannah; T. N. Saussy, of Savannah, and D. A. R. Crum, of Cordele, have each been indorsed by him, and anyone of them will be acceptable to him.

Senator West had a call from Mr. Berner today and frankly told him he would not name him, although they are personally very friendly.

Colonel Berner has been indorsed by Representative L. S. Hardwick, of the tenth district, and Charles L. Bartlett, of the sixth. Senator Smith has not indorsed him and has not indicated any preference. He said in conversation with Georgia newspaper men that he would offer no objection to Mr. Hitch, who has long been his friend and supporter. Attorney General McReynolds has drawn the same line against Mr. Hitch that he did against A. Pratt Adams, of Savannah, Hardwick, of the corporation clients represented by their law partnership. Unless Mr. Hitch would agree to withdraw from the firm of Hitch & Denmark, he was told he could not be named district attorney. He declined to do this, as Mr. Adams had declined to withdraw from his father's law firm.

Judge W. A. Covington, of Moultrie, who is an aspirant, has apparently made no headway. Meanwhile, Alexander Akerman, the republican incumbent, continues to hold on.

Cooper Wires About Smith.

Senator Hoke Smith received a message today from Walter G. Cooper, secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, asking if the C. H. Smith reported captured and held as a hostage at Aguas Calientes, Mex., was Carl Holt Smith, formerly of Cartersville. After inquiry at the state department, Senator Smith wired:

"Telegram received. State department advises that no Americans are being held at Aguas Calientes for ransom. Consul there reported Tuesday from Mexico City he was en route to coast with 126 Mexicans, leaving only twenty in the district, and that none had been molested."

Cooper Working for Wilburn.

John R. Cooper, of Macon, was in Washington today to present an application for a writ of certiorari to have the supreme court review the case of Nick Wilburn, of Jones county, who is under sentence of death for murder and to hang on May 29, unless reprieved. Mr. Cooper said he had already made five speeches in his campaign for Senator Bacon's unexpired term, and would take the stump again upon returning home.

Banks Taking Stock.

Out of the 275 eligible banks in the Atlanta federal bank district, 206 had subscribed for stock up to the close of business tonight. Their subscriptions totaled $2,580,000.

DECATUR HIGH SCHOOLS HOLD MEETING TODAY

Decatur, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The high schools of the fifth congressional district convene in Decatur Friday morning for their annual meet. The exercises will be held at the courthouse.

The session will last two days and will consist of declamations, ready reading, music and recitation contests. The athletic contests will be in the following events: One-hundred yard dash, shot-put, 220-yard dash, running broad jump, 440-yard dash, 120-yard hurdle race, half-mile race and pole vaulting.

One hundred delegates and twenty-five teachers are expected to attend the meet. The schools in this district are Douglasville, Fairburn, Palmetto, Union City, Stone Mountain, Lithonia, Fifth District A. & M. school and Stockbridge school, of Monroe; Conyers and Decatur.

Saturday at noon a picnic dinner will be rendered the visitors on the courthouse lawn by the ladies of Decatur.

Saturday afternoon a baseball game is scheduled between Fairburn and the Fifth District A. & M. school.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meetings, and especially the awarding of the prizes, which will follow the dinner Saturday.

ATHENS BANK SHORTAGE NOT YET EXPLAINED

Athens, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—State Bank Examiner J. O. Anderson has charge of the books and records of the Citizens' Bank and Trust company, which posted announcement that it would be turned over to the state treasurer. He is diligently searching for the cause of the shortage of $37,000 which officials admit, but which the officers of the bank have not explained.

The president, W. H. Shelton, disclaims knowledge that the shortage existed. The cashier, R. W. Woods, states that the shortage, if it existed, existed when he succeeded R. H. McCreary as cashier. McCreary was afterward cashier of the Athens Trust and Banking company—in the state penitentiary now for embezzlement.

HARDAWAY IS ELECTED M'DUFFIE COURT CLERK

Thomson, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Returns from the McDuffie county primary, held yesterday, show the following were elected:

For clerk superior court, W. W. Hardaway; for sheriff, R. T. Clary; for tax collector, William A. Watson; for tax receiver, R. W. Crawford; for treasurer, B. W. Bailey; for surveyor, A. G. Porter; for coroner, H. S. Davis; democratic executive committee, P. R. Johnson, W. E. Gresham, S. M. Harwood, Robinson Whitaker, T. Rol Jones, J. M. Ivey, W. D. Hunt, Jr., J. V. Reese, J. L. Dunn, R. S. Neal.

B. W. Bailey was elected treasurer over the incumbent, A. J. McGahee. R. W. Crawford was re-elected tax receiver by a large majority. No other candidates had opposition.

INCREASE OIL CONTENT BY BREEDING COTTON

Athens, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The Georgia State College of Agriculture recently installed an oil testing plant in its cotton industries laboratories, and Professor L. E. Hart, who is in charge, has been conducting tests with a view of breeding the type of cotton that will produce heaviest, furnish the best lint and carry the most oil. The belief is that a maximum of all products of the cotton may be attained with right selection and breeding. Heretofore the main object in cotton breeding has been for lint only.

It has been demonstrated at the college that there is a wide variation in the oil content of different varieties. By growing the best oil producing kind and by breeding them up to the highest state of efficiency, it is believed that such seed will command a premium from the oil mills.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON

April 8, 1914.

The Trust Company of Georgia,
Atlanta, Ga

Gentlemen:

All the funds allotted to the several banks in your city, under the provisions of Department Circular No. 18, during the Autumn of 1913, for the purpose of assisting in the moving and marketing of crops, have been returned.

I therefore desire to express to you the appreciation of this Department for the prompt and efficient service rendered by your company in acting as custodian of the securities furnished by the banks of your city.

Respectfully,

Secretary.

THE Secretary of the Treasury of the United States deposited nearly a million dollars with the National Banks of Atlanta for the purpose of assisting in the harvesting and marketing of the crops of 1913. The banks pledged a million and a quarter dollars of bonds and notes as security to the government.

The government selected the

as custodian of the securities. This trust was handled by our Trust Department in the regular course of business, with no more care or attention than are given to the smallest trusts committed to us.

As expressions of appreciation are always gratifying, peculiarly so when coming from so high a source, with pardonable pride we show the degree of confidence reposed in us by the government of the United States.

We have a perfect organization for "promptly and efficiently" managing every trust, great or small, whether from the United States Government or from the humblest citizen of Georgia; and the same care and attention are given to each, without favor or distinction.

We act as Executor, Administrator, Guardian, Trustee under the Will, Trustee of Personal Estates of Living Men and Women, Manager of Estates for Widows, Aged Persons, Etc.

SOLDIER KILLS SELF TO ESCAPE ARREST

Norfolk, Va., April 30.—Sergeant William Zepper, of Company 146, stationed at Fortress Monroe, ended his life with a bullet in Phoebus, Va., today rather than submit to arrest by a squad of his former comrades.

Zepper had been absent from the fort for several days, and a sergeant was sent out to find him. When placed under arrest Zepper, resisted so strenuously that the sergeant returned to the fort for assistance. A squad of enlisted men were detailed to bring Zepper back to the fort. When he saw them coming he pulled a 44-caliber revolver from his pocket and fired a bullet into his brain.

To Amend Reserve Act.

Washington, April 30.—An amendment to the federal reserve banking act to enable national banks or trust companies to deposit reserve funds in companies to deposit reserve funds in other state banks or trust companies in states where such action is permitted by state laws was favorably reported to the senate today by Senator Owen. Objection carried the amendment over a day.

GEN. VILLA PREPARING TO ATTACK FEDERALS

Rebel Leader Will Not Agree to a Cessation of Hostilities.

Chihuahua, April 30.—Representatives of the rebels here declared today that the preparations being made by General Francisco Villa to take the field against the federal garrison at Saltillo was the best answer to any possible request by the Latin-American countries for a cessation of hostilities between the federals and rebels. General Villa is expected to reach the front Monday.

The movement expects to put fifteen brigades, totaling approximately 18,000 men, in front of Saltillo. The movement is considered here as not expected to divert rebel troops from Tampico, capture of which rebels regard as a counter check against the re-establishment of the embargo on arms. The investment of Saltillo will mark the attack on the federals' "second line of defense," Torreon, San Pedro and Monterey already having fallen.

Many of the troops counted on to take part in the movement against Saltillo already are in the field. General Fernando has 4,000 men operating south of the city. It is said Villa will have but a handful of troops to garrison Chihuahua, Torreon and Monterey.

Villa, it is reported, expects to put fifteen brigades into the field. Distribution of cartridges at Chihuahua among certain commands has been lavish. This is said to indicate that Villa's army is ready to undergo a protracted campaign even before the capture of Tampico, which is counted on to give the rebels a port of entry.

The federal garrison at Saltillo originally contained 2,000 men. The fugitives from the remnants of Velasco's Torreon army and the fleeing garrison of Monterey have increased that force to 10,000. The present federal line of defense runs through Zacatecas. Saltillo and Tampico. Zacatecas already is invested by General Natera, who is said to have the federal garrison effectively bottled. Rebel officers are confident that Tampico soon will fall.

General Velasco is in Mexico City, and the identity of the commander of the federal forces at Saltillo is unknown here. San Pedro is expected to be the rebel base for the operations against Saltillo. The railroad line from that point has been opened to Hipolito.

It is estimated that the rebel forces have thirty field guns, but a limited supply of artillery ammunition. The supply of rifle ammunition at the disposition of the rebels is estimated by foreign army officers at 400 rounds per man.

CHAIRMAN HARRIS TO THE COMMITTEE

Text of Letter Urging Second Meeting and Change in Primary Rules — Change Urged in Interest of Party.

By JOHN CORRIGAN, JR.

Washington, April 30.—(Special)—William J. Harris, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, mailed out today a letter to each member of the committee in reference to another meeting to change the rules of the state primary.

Mr. Harris believes that it is of great importance to amend the rules to insure the election of the voters choosing the two United States senators and a governor rather than that they should be chosen by the state convention.

Since the publication of his original interview in The Constitution, Mr. Harris has received several letters indorsing his stand.

His letter follows:

Letter of Chairman Harris.

"Washington, D. C., April 29.—We have never before had such an important primary in Georgia. We are to nominate a governor and two United States senators. There are already several candidates for governor and several candidates for the unexpired term of Senator Bacon and it is probable that no candidate will receive a majority of the votes of the delegates on the first ballot at the state convention.

"The state convention which elected the present executive committee declared in favor of the county unit rule, and I do not believe the committee has the authority to change this, even if they so desire.

"The rules adopted at the recent meeting of the state democratic executive committee would probably have been satisfactory in the past few years, as heretofore there have been only two or three candidates for governor and United States senator, and one candidate has always received a majority of the total votes cast, or a majority of the delegates selected under the county unit system. Under the present rule the convention could nominate the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes for governor

Might Lead to Combinations.

"It might lead to combinations which would nominate candidates who could not carry a dozen counties in the state if left to a vote of the people. Another serious objection to the present rule is that it would give the successful candidate for governor too much authority in naming the senators in the event of a deadlock, as the delegates would be chosen from among his friends.

"It has been suggested that if a candidate lacked only a few votes of being nominated over all the candidates in the convention and received a majority of the total votes of the state, he be declared the nominee.

"The fact that he received a majority of votes over all the candidates in the primary would indicate that he would be nominated over any one candidate in the second primary.

"This rule, if adopted, would save the expense of a second primary. This is merely a suggestion. The lease of Western and Atlantic railroad to be made during next four years will be the most important work coming before any governor in Georgia in the next half century. As the money received from the lease of the road goes to the common school fund, this makes it a matter of interest to every school child in the state.

"If the convention should make an unfortunate nomination, it would give the enemies of the democratic party the opportunity for which they are waiting.

Majority of Delegates.

"It seems to me that the committee should be called together and the rules changed so as to require a candidate to have a majority of delegates in order to be nominated.

"In Alabama, South Carolina, Florida and many other states if no candidate receives a majority of the votes in the first primary, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes must enter the second primary, and the one then receiving a majority of votes is the nominee.

"The state convention is held just after the second primary. I have discussed this matter with some members of the committee, and they have similar views.

"Please let me know your views. If you think the committee should be called together to consider this matter, please write me what date you think would be satisfactory for the meeting.

"Of course in the event I decide to be a candidate for governor, I shall have no part in the meeting, and shall resign from the committee.

"With assurance of high regards, I am, Yours very sincerely,

"WM. J. HARRIS, Chairman."

SINGLE TAX THEORY ON TRIAL FOR ITS LIFE

Mobile, Ala., April 30.—The single tax theory of Henry George is on trial for its life in the courts of Alabama with the opening of a suit for dissolution against the Fair Hope colony in Baldwin county, the first experiment of the single tax theory in the United States.

Alexander J. Melville, a member and leader of the corporation, today filed a bill in chancery seeking its dissolution.

The bill alleges that the corporation has failed entirely because the single tax theory can never be tried out in any jurisdiction whose laws deny the essentials of that theory.

It is charged that the monies of the company are being expended for the benefit of only a portion of the tenants and members.

The bill especially attacks the effort made to apply the single tax theory.

The single tax colony was established eighteen years ago, and was then populated largely by single tax pioneers from Iowa. A large tract of land on the eastern shore of Mobile bay was purchased, the corporation paying all taxes to the state and levying on its members and lessees only a single tax—for land. One of the leading stockholders interested in the colony was the late Joseph Fels, millionaire soap manufacturer of Philadelphia, who, with Upton Sinclair and others, wrote of the colony.

LORD MURRAY'S DEALS IN MARCONI SHARES

London, April 30.—The committee of the house of lords appointed to investigate Lord Murray's dealings in American Marconi shares today issued its report, which finds that he committed "errors of judgment." There was, however, nothing in his conduct which reflects upon his personal honor.

The committee recommends "there should henceforth be an inflexible rule to preclude those who hold any public office from entering upon any speculative transactions in stocks or shares under any circumstances whatever."

Lord Murray, when he was chief liberal whip in the house of commons, was said to have invested some of the funds of the liberal party in Marconi shares.

For Woman Suffrage.

Washington, April 30.—The senate woman suffrage committee today voted to recommend favorably to the senate the Shafroth constitutional amendment requiring a state to vote on womap suffrage when 5 per cent of the voters petitioned for such a vote.

ONLY CORPSES FOUND IN THE WRECKED MINE

All Hope Is Abandoned for the 178 Men Entombed by Explosion.

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Hope that any of the 178 men trapped in Mine No. 5 of the New River Colliers company, by an explosion Tuesday, are alive, was abandoned tonight by government and state experts. At 9 o'clock fifty bodies had been located in the mine and it was expected all of these would be brought to the surface before daylight. A blacksmith shop near the mine tipple has been turned into a temporary morgue.

Most of the bodies are said to be badly burned. It is believed no additional bodies will be found near the mouth of the mine and that many of the other victims are buried under heavy debris.

A thorough search of the mine is being retarded by falls of rock and mine timbers, while water from broken lines, covers the mine at points to a depth of three feet.

When the word spread that rescue parties had succeeded in entering the mine and that many bodies were being found the entire population of Eccles and hundreds of persons from surrounding communities rushed to the scene.

Two crews from the government rescue cars equipped with oxygen tanks went into the mine tonight to make a complete search of the operation. Water in the mine was lowered early today and a party of inspectors entered. The glimmering light of their safety lamps revealed the presence of half a dozen bodies, frightfully burned, near the bottom and, further exploration showed that other miners had died nearby. Many more bodies were located as the explorers made their way through the mine, but it was decided not to remove them until a temporary morgue had been arranged.

PROGRESSIVE TICKET FOR EVERY COUNTY

Chicago, April 30.—George W. Perkins, of New York, voicing the opinion of his colleagues on the national executive committee of the progressive party, in session here today, said:

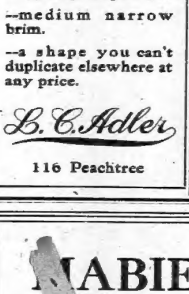

"We intend to field progressive party tickets up in each county throughout the country in the fall elections."

Mr. Perkins said that the committee, which had decided to hold its regular monthly meeting here today, received reports of conditions in the middle west, was satisfied that the situation was encouraging.

While the meeting was in progress a cablegram was received by Mr. Perkins from Colonel Roosevelt saying that he was at Manaos, Brazil, and that in a few days he would make known what his further plans would be.

Killed by Train.

Richmond, Va., April 30.—W. H. Clayton, 27, of Roxboro, N. C., was killed, and James H. Cobb, of Smithfield, N. C., was fatally injured this afternoon when they were struck by a shifting engine on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, in this city. Clayton was a lawyer and Cobb an accountant for a tobacco company.

TO RAISE $5,000,000 FOR AGED PREACHERS

Philadelphia, April 30.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, which is holding its semi-annual conference here, today approved the plan of the church throughout the world to raise $5,000,000 for the support of superannuated clergymen and their widows.

The movement, which the church leaders think will be successful, will mean that 5,000 ministers on the superannuated list will receive increases of 50 per cent and upward. The maximum amount now paid them is $625 a year and the minimum $105.

WOMEN PLAN FIGHT ON EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—Pennsylvania women opposed to woman suffrage held their first state convention here today and planned a vigorous campaign against the adoption of the suffrage amendment by the next legislature.

The convention was the first of its kind to be held in the country. It was arranged that the campaign should be conducted in every county of Pennsylvania and that legislative candidates should be asked as to their stand.

Ecuador Rebels Jailed.

New York, April 30.—Cable dispatches received at the Ecuador consulate here yesterday told of the failure of the revolution started last September in an effort to overthrow the government of President G. L. Plaza. The two leaders of the revolt, Andrade and Pasquel, the dispatch said, were captured by Plaza's troops and they will be tried by courtmartial in Quito next week. The penalty for offenses of this kind is 16 years in prison.

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

Since my formal announcement, some weeks ago, as a candidate for County Commissioner, my platform has become so popular with all the candidates that they are trying to crowd me off.

I don't blame them, because it's a good platform, but I want to remind the voters that my platform belongs to me.

I stand for improved machinery—such as steam shovels, portable concrete mixers, steam drills, paving mixers that DON'T HAVE TO PAY ROYALTIES AGGREGATING TWO-THIRDS OF THE cost of the material, etc., IN PLACE OF THE ANTIQUATED METHODS NOW USED IN THE COUNTY PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

If private contractors utilized their forces no better than Fulton County, they'd all go broke.

I stand for working the County forces on PUBLIC improvements. The people are tired of PRIVATE property being improved at the County's expense, and, if elected, I won't stand any more of it.

I stand for ECONOMY. If the waste is stopped and the County's machinery geared up to its highest EFFICIENCY, the tax rate can be REDUCED, without cutting off PUBLIC improvements.

I stand for HUMANE TREATMENT of the convicts. If there is any brutality while I am on the Board, it won't take a grand jury investigation to let me know it, and I won't have to be DIRECTED by the grand jury to stop it.

I stand for PUBLICITY in County affairs. One reason the County's forces have been so flagrantly misused in the past is that the people DIDN'T know what the County Board was doing—until too late.

I am opposed to caucuses by members of the Board. The more the newspapers find out and tell the people, the BETTER IT WILL SUIT ME.

I AM AN ABSOLUTELY INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE, politically and every other way. I want the voters who haven't got a line on me—as the saying is—to ask anybody that knows me. The men with whom I have had business dealings will tell you I am competent to fill the position of County Commissioner. The men I have OPPOSED politically will tell you it will be no mistake to elect me.

Respectfully,

J. W. MADDOX.

TURN YOUR SHIRT-TAILS into OLUS DRAWERS

IN OLUS the outside shirt and underdrawers are one garment. This means that the shirt can't work out of the trousers, that there are no shirt tails to bunch in seat, that the drawers "stay put," to say nothing of the comfort and economy of saving a garment. OLUS is coat cut—opens all the way down—closed crotch, closed back. See illustration.

For golf, tennis and field wear, we recommend the separate attached collar OLUS with regular or short sleeves. Extra sizes for very tall or stout men. All shirt fabrics, in smart designs, including silk—$1.50 to $10.00.

OLUS one-piece PAJAMAS for lounging, resting and comfortable sleep. Made on the same principle as OLUS shirt — coat cut, closed front, closed crotch. No strings to tighten or come loose. $1.50 to $8.50.

Ask your dealer for OLUS. Booklet on request.

A MASTER STROKE.

If there is no hitch in the program of mediation for the Mexican situation, as proposed by the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Argentina and Chile, the result should prove one of the masterpieces of diplomatic initiative in the history of this hemisphere.

The latest dispatch is that Carranza as well as Huerta has accepted the "principle" of mediation.

This acceptance is, of course, tentative, and both Carranza and Huerta have heretofore shown that they are not incapable of changing their minds at a moment's notice.

But the arrangement is so ideal from every standpoint, that the optimist will continue to hope on until concrete reason is given to abandon hope.

The activity of these three Latin-American countries in the promotion of peace is particularly happy for its effect in allaying suspicion south of the Rio Grande to the Straits of Magellan, already working harm toward the interests and prestige of the United States.

Many of the people in those southern latitudes have never been able to believe that the United States does not covet actual as well as moral sovereignty over Latin-America.

A few have affected to see in the Vera Cruz incident the opening wedge to an alarming program of American expansion.

Now, if the three leading powers of South America shall conduct the negotiations for peace between this country and Mexico, the grounds on which suspicion rests will be largely dissipated.

It will be fortunate, also, if Carranza agrees to abide by the decision of a Latin-American tribunal. That will mean that our tangles with the constitutionalists will be resolved at the same time our differences with Huerta are adjusted. And the people of Mexico are much more apt to accept the findings and recommendations of people of their own blood than of people farther north.

It is yet premature to begin celebrating. But the arrangement thus far proposed is by far the most rational one.

GEORGIA'S WOMEN

The nobility of the womanhood of Georgia has never shown to better advantage than in resolutions in which the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and the United Daughters of the Confederacy indorse the Mexican policy of President Wilson.

These two organizations represent the best civic and patriotic elements among the women of the state.

The club women range in personnel of membership all the walks of life, every shade of thought and ideal.

The Daughters of the Confederacy embody, as they themselves state in their resolutions, reverence for the men and the valor displayed in this country half a century ago.

The resolutions distinctly state that the women of Georgia are not for peace at any price.

But they state also that the president is to be commended for exhausting every resource to insure peace, if peace is "compatible with honor and duty."

The Constitution is sure these sentiments express the minds of the men as well as those of the women of Georgia.

There is in this state no cheap or mercenary "patriotism" that lusts for blood on the slightest provocation and that overlooks the weight of the consequences of a definite breach with Mexico.

The Constitution hopes that anybody who harbors the lingering doubt that Georgia approves jingoism or insults to the administration will take note of the expressions of these patriotic Georgia women.

JAPAN DISARMS DOUBT.

Among the most encouraging features of the complicated Mexican crisis is the reply of Japan to Huerta's request that the Japanese ambassador and consuls in this country act for him in treating with the United States. The reply was a courteous but immediate refusal.

Unofficial but reliable opinion in Washington is that the mikado's government took this attitude to put a stop to the vicious rumors allying Japan with Huerta, and to indicate with emphasis the friendship of Japan for this country.

The motive of Huerta is, of course, obvious, and his action is wholly characteristic. With serpentine shrewdness he was minded to take advantage of what he conceived to be prejudice in Japan against America. He knew that if he could get Japan's diplomatic representatives to act for Mexico, it would at once create the impression that there was a tacit understanding of some sort between Mexico and Japan. That would engender feeling in the United States, and add to the troubles of this country.

The chief obstacle in Huerta's program is that the Japanese began studying diplomacy where Huerta left off. It took the Japanese foreign office, figuratively speaking, about twenty minutes to penetrate his crude plot and put a polite bomb under it.

It is to be hoped the lesson of the incident will not be lost upon those individuals in this country who raise the skull and cross-bones every time Japan is mentioned. If that country were looking for an opportunity to insult this country, it would have grasped at Huerta's bait. The fact that it did not do so carries its own significance.

The moral of the episode is commended especially to our fervent friends, the Californians. Now that their temper has somewhat cooled, they may recast their suspicion that every breeze that blows from the Orient bears the threat of a Japanese invasion.

PREACHERS AND GRADY.

Vigilant always where the higher civic interests of Atlanta are involved, the preachers of all denominations will next Sunday deliver from their pulpits strong appeals in behalf of Greater Grady hospital.

Already the different ministerial associations of the city had gone on record as in favor of making the city's only municipal hospital 100 per cent efficient.

On Sunday they will give a reason for the faith that is in them as a part of their religious routine.

The doctors are united on Greater Grady.

The preachers are united.

The real estate men and property-owners are united.

The labor elements are united.

The club women are united.

All civic and philanthropic agencies are united.

The negroes are united.

Every element that contributes to the "Atlanta spirit," every agency that has made and is advancing Atlanta's destiny has combined in a fighting coalition to see that Atlanta has a municipal hospital with a bed and scientific attention for each one of its citizens that may be entitled to such a right.

When the makers of Atlanta unite, when all elements unite, no single citizen can afford to line up in opposition.

Are you for the conservation of life and health in Atlanta?

Then you are for Greater Grady!

PROGRESS TOWARD REPEAL.

The senate committee on interoceanic canals has made distinct progress toward the repeal of the discriminating Panama canal tolls clause. After several days of wrangling, the committee has agreed to report the house bill back to the senate, without recommendation. The only amendment is one that specifies that in passing the bill, congress waives none of the treaty or other rights of the United States.

The effect of reporting the bill without recommendation to the senate is to expedite its consideration and passage. The measure will now be threshed out on the floor of the senate and there is no reason why a vote should not be reached within two or three weeks.

A fortunate feature of the amendment attached to the bill is that it furnishes senators opposed to repeal, but seeing its inevitability, a chance to save their faces. The amendment simply notifies the world that the United States does not surrender any right to which it may be entitled. Of course it does not.

In view of international complications rising out of the Mexican situation, we have much to gain by hastening action on this matter.

The house has exemplified a high interpretation of the national honor.

The senate will follow suit.

Also, Huerta should be condemned to read all the efforts of the Mexican warpoets.

If it be war the baseball fans will be in it, but be sure that they'll get up a game between battles.

If Huerta would take a course of Doc Bryan's grape-juice medicine he wouldn't see double when it comes to figuring his army strength.

How can anything "stand to reason" with Huerta, who has lost his reasoning power?

Probably it is fortunate that there isn't enough fire in the new war poems to make a fatal blaze.

A Song of the Rivers
(At "Camp Catfish.")

Yonder, by the river—
Don't you mind the day
With Cap'n Smith an' Doc-con Bell we fished the time away?
The bloom was on the clover, the daisy felt the dew
An' voices of the river were a-sayin' this to you:

"Life is fishin' right—
Ketchin' all in sight;
For every worm that wiggles there's still a fish to bite!"

We left our cares behind us an' fared away
as free
As winds that whistled to the birds in every friendly tree;
The wild life, the wild life of flower and of berry,
An' the river's voice still reachin' the lesson
all must learn:

"Life is fishin' right,
Ketchin' all in sight;
An' for every worm that wiggles there's still a fish to bite!"

Oh, but it was the joy-time! An' Brother
To join the fish philosophers an' learn the riverly song;
Pathway through the wild flowers that brushed
us, soft as silk;
We drowned the memory of sad dreams in draughts of—buttermilk!

And—"Life is fishin' right,—
Ketchin' all in sight;
An' for every worm that wiggles there's still a fish to bite!"

DISTRACTING NOISES

For Fishermen Only.

Says The Adams Eagle: "When the parson announced his text, all the fishermen have their portion in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone, every brethren, and he returned from a fish-frolic the day before, arose and left the building. Why will preachers be so personal?" The editor of this paper was in that fishing party himself, and he said as much to the parson after meeting. He congratulated upon our fortitude in remaining, but made matters worse by this comment: "There are some followers of Ananias who actually believe what they are saying!"

Truants.

"Hi, li'l fellers!
Bless yo' li'l' soul,
Strippin' off for swimmin'
In de ole swimmin'-hole.

"Splash!" go de water—
Make de river foam;
W'en yo' mammy call you
You better run on home!

The Drowsy Fishermen.

This one fits the fishing season admirably: "Two who had imbibed overmuch and, overcome with a great desire to sleep, they stretched themselves on the warm beach and soon were sleeping heavily. The tide crept in, awakening the one nearest the water as a wavelet dashed a quantity of salty liquid into his mouth. Half asleep, he started to arise, saying: 'It's time we was away out of this house. They're changin' the drink on us.'"

For Love of "Old Glory."

The poet's hope let none despise:
It takes the highest flight
He sings "Old Glory" to the skies
And then she's lightning bright!

Keep the Stork Busy.

Miss Anna Carlson, of The Lindsborg News, says Saturday last was "Stork day" at a home in that community. "On that day a beautiful daughter was born to the home. The stork also left a colt, a calf and a litter of ten pigs. Never rains but what it pours."

Firing Line Fixtures.

The Kansas City Star says that in the company which a citizen proposes to recruit for military service in Mexico will be several men with inflammatory rheumatism and two with locomotor ataxia. His idea is to get men for the firing line who can't run if they want to.

Exchange.

Here is an offer from one of the home-tollers:

"The old war-thunder rattles
Above the hill and glen;
If you will fight the battles
We folks will feed the men."

Six Nights His Limit.

On learning that Caruso received $2,000 a night for singing a Georgia warbler exclaimed:

"The grewhillikins! If I could get that price I'd sing six nights and then announce my permanent retirement; I'd pose as a retired capitalist forever after!"

Home Job.

This note, said to have been received by a Kansas butcher from one of his customers: "Dear sur, please don't send me any more meets yet; I have butchered miself."

Take Her Light.

The Adams Enterprise prints the following from an unenlightened citizen of that section:

"I ain't a-gwine ter go ter war
'Thout knowin' what the fightin's for:
They're talkin' 'bout it high an' low;
Send me one paper—so I'll know."

A Dish of Tea in London.

(From The Pall Mall Gazette.)

The Tavistock—the bachelors' hotel in Covent Garden—is probably the only place in London where a man must drink his "dish" of tea after the fashion of a century and more ago. These dishes are cups without handles. They are larger than those used by our great-great-grandmothers, which would hardly suit the masculine demand. The Tavistock dishes are of uniform pattern—white china with a broad blue band.

All Along the Line With George Fitch

GRADE CROSSINGS.

Grade crossings form one reason why the population of America does not increase more rapidly.

A grade crossing is one on which a railroad, a wagon road and usually an automobile dispute for the right of way. America has about half of a million grade crossings and most of them are watched over and protected exclusively by Providence. Providence is very busy attending to other necessary matters and as a result several times a day in various parts of the country a hurry call is made for undertakers to get on a railroad track and tries to hold a train for no gain. The result is summed up by the coroner in a few well-chosen words and the census report suffers another setback.

In smaller and more populous countries railroads are required to burrow over or under the streets and roads. But most of the railroads in this country were built first and the roads followed afterwards. It would take about half a billion dollars to eradicate the Grade Crossings of this country and as no one has been able to lay hands on this sum of money up to date, the Grade Crossings have continued to flourish like the unloaded revolver, the typhoid microbe and other enemies of the race.

In the last fifty years Grade Crossings have killed many more American citizens than the Civil War. On one street in New York city alone where a railroad promenades down the center, enough people have been killed to make a line as long as the Iroquois fire. The trouble is they have been killed in installments and not all at once. Usually a Grade Crossing is considered well protected as soon as it has killed about four people. It almost ceases to be a crime. But if two narrow escapes ought to count as much as one death. But they don't.

CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS

Canal street isn't so remarkable for its height as for its breadth. It is one of the few wide thoroughfares in the language of a city changes from its north to its south side.

In fact Canal street is at once a street and a frontier. It is the boundary line between American New Orleans and the old French quarter where the beautiful ladies are in a foreign language and the people still mourn over the tragedies of the French revolution. It took the English language two hundred years to get across Canal street and it hasn't entirely succeeded yet.

Canal street is the main business thoroughfare at New Orleans. Once it was lined with fine, imposing public buildings and stores and looked like a forest of green verandas. Now the skyscraper has taken root on it and is spreading like the dandelion in June. It is now a greater street than ever, but the oldest resident weeps when he sees it required the automobiles have driven away the magnificent carriage parade and the nice homey smell of the open sewers has departed.

Canal street begins at the Mississippi river and ends at a cemetery, three miles east. It has four street car tracks downtown, and all the street cars of New Orleans pass up and down its length. A New Orleans resident who has practiced crossing Canal street all his life declines to be impressed when he comes north and tackles State street, Chicago.

Canal street is so named because it is as dry as a canal. But in the old days it had a large gutter on either side for the disposal of sewage and a scow's rate it was navigable half way to the center by small boats.

The flags of five nations have floated over Canal street. Slaves have been sold on its corners and French nobility has sunned itself in its clubs waiting for another revolution in Paris. It has had more history than any other American street and the oldest inhabitant declines to tell what he does many things which make him think he has an ocean between himself and them. On the whole, its skyscrapers are not as impressive to the stranger as the three-story cisterns which soar aloft on every hand in its residence section.

WALTER JOHNSON

Walter Johnson is the second great man of that name to win fame in Washington—the capital of all countries. The first one was a president of that name who was very prominent at that time. But nowadays, when you speak of Johnson in Washington your auditor brightens up and says, "Wonderful boy, isn't he? Have you ever seen him pitch?"

If Walter Johnson had gone to college and meddled with politics, he might have become president, and would have been forgotten by Washington after four brief years. But instead, he pitched baseball. He said or printed a pair of wrists like automobile axles, and then began pitching base balls. Long after he has retired from Washington, and has gone back to the bosom of his people, citizens of the capital will yawn in the midst of an inauguration or an administration ball and say, "By the way, did you ever see Johnson pitch?"

Johnson is a very young man, and if he were in business, would only be considered old enough to take a message from the head of the firm to the bookkeeper occasionally. But as a pitcher he is Czar, Sultan, Imperator and High card. He pitched Washington from the cellar of the league to second place in three years, which is like pitching a freight locomotive into the fourteenth story of a skyscraper. So now he draws a large salary and when he walks around the streets moving pictures men set up behind him and preserve his front and rear elevations in action for future generations.

Johnson is hatless and slightly haired. He did not learn baseball, but arrived completely equipped like a new model automobile. No doubt he could use brains in his work as Matheweson does, but at present he is employing the well-known biceps and eyesight which have given such good satisfaction in the past. He has a way of throwing a ball which reminds one of a quick-firing rifle shooting at a mark. After he has streaked a few score curves across the plate the atmosphere in that locality is badly scarred up and overheated, and there are burned-out hollow places in it which have not yet been filled up with new air.

Johnson lives out in Kansas and got his curves by studying the action of the common, or ring-tailed Kansas tornado.

THIS CITY

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

You are where your affections are. This City is in part an expression of you and your ideals. It can be lower in moral and commercial standing than you let it, but it can be greater than your dreams for it. Then—

Keep it Growing.

The moral power of This City is partly centered within you. Each person is responsible for every fault and vice it has—to some degree. It is a picture of a portion of your Thinking while you are one of its citizens. Then—

Keep it Clean.

The Street, the Lights, the Cars, the Police, the Officials—these belong to you, as to every citizen, whose plans and efforts concentrate for the good of all who make up This City.

Its Justice and Honor plays about you. Then—

Keep it Honest.

Expecting as every man and woman who enjoys the benefit of This City, feeling that they are an important unit to its success, enters its life and protects its interests, never can This City be what you and every earnest citizen wants it to be. Then—

Keep it Patriotic.

And remember that only in Happy, Thoughtful, Hopeful, Independent Service—gladly rendered and daily striven for—can This City be what it can be strong, is This City and its useful Future secure in real grandeur.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

TEMPORARY LULL IN RUSH OF GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES

During the present week there has been a temporary lull in the gubernatorial situation. Just what has caused this it would be difficult to say, perhaps the law of suggestion is responsible.

Politicians are very human, and human beings are very much like sheep. Let a sheep jump over a fence and the entire flock will follow, no matter whether the meat of them have anything in particular to gain by getting on the other side. Let a man announce for office and soon the political baculum will bite some other fellow and he will follow suit. First thing you know there is a regular epidemic of the disease—for politics in some instances can be likened to a disease. Men who never had political ambitions of any sort whatever become strongly affected at such times and all that is needed is a little—a very little—encouragement to prompt the belief that they are the hope and salvation of the nation and the country would go to the bow-wows unless they offered to sacrifice themselves in the cause of national or state-wide need.

You have, no doubt, seen such epidemics more than once.

On the other hand, let there be a dearth of candidates, and the first fellow who has announced and it seems increasingly difficult for any amount of interest to be stirred up.

For a time it was almost a daily occurrence that the name of some new man to be mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial race now on in Georgia. Fourteen days ago, or even a week before the public and it seemed probable that at least six or eight would actually announce and stick to the end.

With the present lull, which is rather difficult to account for, it is a hard matter to prognosticate those who will actually make the race.

Anderson, of Chatham, and Hardman, of Commerce, are the only avowed candidates. W. J. Harris and N. E. Harris have virtually announced, but their formal announcements have not yet been printed—they are not definitely committed. Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, who has maintained a discreet silence. The entire state is looking in his direction and it is improbable that there will be any activity until he makes up his mind.

As stated in these columns Thursday, Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey is being urged to make the race for governor. His mail is growing larger each day and several papers throughout the state have urged him to announce. Mr. Dorsey has given little encouragement to his friends, but there is plenty of time. August 25 is some ways off and he may look at the matter in a favorable light before that time. Many believe he could make a formidable candidate.

HABERSHAM PRIMARY TODAY; FOUR SHERIFFS IN FOUR MONTHS

Clarkesville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Habersham's primary will take place tomorrow. G. P. Jones, for clerk, and James Jamea, for coroner, are the only candidates having an opposition. Following are the candidates for the various offices: For clerk, G. P. Jones; for sheriff, J. N. Gabreis, W. P. Rudisill; for treasurer, H. M. Black, J. C. Jenkins, J. W. Purdy; for tax collector, J. C. Jarrard, W. C. Mize; for tax receiver, C. R. Brewer, L. G. Cash, C. L. Ferguson, R. L. Ramesy, H. D. Williams; for surveyor, F. L. Prater, J. W. Wike; for coroner, James Jamea.

Since Sheriff Paul F. Gantt's death January 5, Habersham has had three other sheriffs, as follows: C. Barron, appointed to hold office until election could be held for the unexpired term; Jesse Dorsey, resigned to make race for office at election; C. B. Sorrels, appointed to succeed E. Barron, resigned; J. N. Gabreis, elected at the special election to fill Mr. Grant's unexpired term of office. The race for the regular election has narrowed down to W. P. Rudisill, of Cornelia, and J. N. Gabreis, of Clarkesville, and a warm race is on.

One innovation of this year's election will be that the returns from country precincts which close at 4 o'clock will not be given out until after the polls at the county seat close, thus doing away with the evil of last-minute landsliding, or quick combinations, upon the part of losing candidates.

TENTH DISTRICT COMMITTEE TO MEET AT MILLEDGEVILLE

Milledgeville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—J. F. Bell, chairman of the tenth district congressional committee, has called a meeting of the committee to be held in this city on May 8.

At the meeting of this committee rules for the nomination of a candidate for congress will be made and all the details for the congressional convention arranged.

The committee will assess candidates who enter the primary and the meeting will be an unusually busy one.

CITY COURT ISSUE DRAWN IN SENATORIAL RACE IN BUTTS

Jackson, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The senatorial race in Butts county is waxing warm. The two candidates offering are Representative J. R. Anderson, of Hillsburg, and ex-Judge H. M. Fletcher, of Jackson. Representative Mills has represented Butts county in the general assembly for two terms.

Hon. Clem Towler, of Cork Cork, is running without opposition for representative. Colonel Fletcher is an attorney of this city, and former judge of the city court of Jackson, which was abolished by a bill introduced by Representative Mills last summer.

The issues of the race are whether there shall be a city court or not, the former being much opposed to it, while the latter is an ardent supporter of the establishment of the court.

WARM CONTESTS BEING WAGED FOR HART COUNTY OFFICES

Hartwell, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—It is understood that Luther M. Cunningham, Esq., a well-known farmer of Smithville district, will announce this week for the legislature from Hart county. Hon. A. McCrary, who is the present representative, will be a candidate for re-election.

Colonel Thomas S. Harper, president of the chamber of commerce, is being urged by his host of friends to make the race and it is not unlikely that he will cast his hat into the ring. It is reported that now, as the law, politically, has been broken, the number of candidates will be unlimited.

John S. Wilson, county commissioner, has a fight on his hands for re-election, being opposed by ex-Sheriff Monroe Kidd.

Treasurer Samuel Martin is being opposed by William J. Gaines, and the fight is a hot one. It could make a formidable candidate.

THOMAS COUNTY CANDIDATES PUT IN BACKGROUND BY WAR NEWS

Thomasville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The trouble with Mexico has pushed politics in the background in Thomasville and it has been hard to get up much discussion of candidates or probable candidates. One prominent citizen who is regarded as almost a certainty as a candidate for a special office next fall is waiting for developments before announces, as nobody would pay any attention to him if he should. Hence things are very quiet.

While there are said to be a number who are willing to represent the county in the legislative halls, Judge H. W. Hopkins is the only one who has so stated positively, the others seeming to be listening for "Vox Populi" to call them. Little doubt seems to be the only ones who are making any active race so far in county politics.

Government Ownership.

(From The Philadelphia Ledger.)

Six years ago France took charge of the Western railroad. Then it had added 5,200 names to the pay roll. Of these extra employees only 1,200 were required to operate trains and work upon the tracks.

The other 4,000 went into offices.

There is an example for us, and probably are now—but on the state road there have multiplied by two and sometimes three—all sinecures.

The menace for political jobs is just as great in the United States as it is in France. Thus, if the Pennsylvania were put under political management at Washington, we should expect, by the French rule, to see an addition of at least 40,000 men to the pay rolls.

Are you ready to pay that price?

Low-Necked Dresses.

(Kate Upson Clark, in Leslie's.)

"How do you dare to wear a low-necked gown at your age and in all these drafts" a woman asked one of her old friends at the opera one evening. "How do all the rest dare?" returned the old friend. "Just look along this row. There are several women as old as you and some older—and probably are well from year's end to year's end as you high-necked ones are.

"How do they do it? They simply wear a low-necked gown every night. I have my regular gowns in which I dress, and I wear a regular dinner-gown. I have two beautiful low-necked kimonos, which I use when I dine alone. If you wear a low-necked gown every night, always bathing your neck in cold water, and rubbing well with alcohol, you won't catch cold."

That is what she said. You can believe it or not, as you like.

AMERICAN ARMY HOLDS VERA CRUZ

Navy Turns the Mexic Port Over to Funston's Brigade. Natives Gaze in Wonder at the Brown-Clad Soldiers.

Vera Cruz, April 30.—The task of guarding the city of Vera Cruz and its environs was taken over from the navy today by Brigadier General Frederick Funston and the Fifth infantry brigade of the United States army.

While martial law still continues in force the actual municipal government is being conducted by Robert J. Kerr, the American civil governor, who has enlisted the aid of Mexican officials to act under his superintendency and in accordance with Mexican laws.

After a morning enlivened by the marching to and fro of large bodies of American soldiers, sailors and marines, the city resumed its normal and somewhat sleepy daily life. The evening, however, was made gay by the dinner parties at the cafes and restaurants, accompanied by music and sometimes by dancing.

The Troops Disembark.

The American troops began their disembarkation from the transports at an early hour in the morning. Once on shore, they were lined up along the docks and in the railroad yards and before noon all had marched to the posts assigned to them in various parts of the city and outlying suburbs.

As the various detachments swung into the streets, their flags flying and with bands playing martial airs leading them, the natives appeared on their balconies or came out into the sidewalks and gazed with undisguised wonder at the solid ranks of brown-clothed men. The people seemed to marvel at the precision of the American soldiers' movements and their sturdy appearance.

Many American civilians who had been taking their breakfast outdoors left their tables and watched with pride the passing of the newly arrived troops, shouting volleys of "hurrahs" and waving hats or handkerchiefs at them.

Shortly after the last of the troops had passed through the central streets of the city, Brigadier General Funston, with several aids, drove by in a carriage and was greeted with an outburst of applause.

When the men had taken up their stations and the reports had been received by Brigadier General Funston, official calls were exchanged between Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, Governor Robert J. Kerr and Brigadier General Funston.

Order by Admiral Fletcher.

Later in the day an order was issued by Rear Admiral Fletcher, who had been in command of operations ashore since the landing of the American naval forces. The order covered the whole of the events since the taking of the city and read as follows:

"Headquarters of the United States Naval Forces, on Shore, Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 30, 1914.

"Division order.

"The naval forces occupying the city of Vera Cruz will at 2 p. m., April 30, 1914, be relieved and turn the command of the city over to the United States army.

"The navy landed at 11 o'clock a. m., April 21, 1914. From shortly after the landing our men were under an almost continuous fire until 8:30 o'clock on the morning of the 22d.

"At that time, when all organized authority in the city of Vera Cruz had ceased to exist, the order was given to advance through the city.

"The brigade, under the command of Captain William R. Rush, of the United States navy, had to fight its way from street to street against a stubborn resistance from housetops, windows, steeples and from places of concealment in all parts of the city. At 11 o'clock a. m. the city was in possession of the bridge. The splendid conduct of our men in the morning after being under fire all night, is deserving of the highest praise, and the accurate and timely gun fire of the Chester, the Prairie and the San Francisco in the harbor showed effective co-operation ashore and afloat.

"The orderly conduct of our men in establishing and maintaining good order and restoring confidence among the inhabitants of the city after the fighting reflects the greatest credit upon the discipline and resourcefulness of the men of the navy and the marine corps.

Work of Nine Days.

"In nine days' work the city of Vera Cruz was occupied by the navy, lawlessness and disorder were suppressed, 15,000 firearms were taken possession of and a line of defences established beyond the city against an army threatening to recapture it.

"Business has been resumed and normal conditions restored. The municipal government of the city has been re-established under the control of its people and a civil government formed to carry out the laws of the state and of the federal government.

"All such failures were made during this time for the landing of the army and for the relief and withdrawal of our forces. The officers and men of the naval forces deserve the highest commendation for having done this work completely and having done it well.

"The highest honor is due to those who gave their lives in the service of their country.

"In withdrawing my command from Vera Cruz I wish to extend to the officers and men who took part in its occupation my deepest appreciation of their gallant conduct and support.

"In turning over the city to the army, the navy extends its best wishes and good will.

"FRANK F. FLETCHER,
"Rear Admiral, United States Navy, Commanding United States Naval Forces on Shore."

Thief and Blackmailer Caught.

The first serious case to come before the provost marshal, Commander D. P. Sellers, of the Arkansas, indicated the efficiency of the naval service. The case was brought about by the prompt action of Commander Sellers himself.

During the night of April 27 a man giving the name of J. R. Mulcahy, who asserted that he was an American reporter, told the provost marshal that he had information of the whereabouts of a quantity of arms and ammunition in the hands of Mexicans.

Mulcahy was given a squad of three armed men and instructed to seize the arms and ammunition. Led by Mulcahy, the men went to a gambling house, where Mulcahy, in Spanish, demanded money instead of arms and represented himself as a second captain of police.

The marines, not understanding the transaction, watched Mulcahy compel the operator of the safe which proved to be empty, the cashier explaining that the funds had been turned over to his employer, Pedro Nau.

The cashier thereupon was forced to conduct the party to the residence of Nau, from whom money was demanded. Nau handed over 5,000 pesos which Mulcahy carried to his hotel, disarming the marines.

On the following day Nau complained to the provost marshal after which detectives traced Mulcahy, who later was arrested and placed in jail. The money was recovered and returned to Nau. Mulcahy was sentenced to five years at hard labor. This was the last act performed by Commander Sellers as provost marshal.

Vera Cruz Gets Back to Normal.

Vera Cruz, roused from a tropical drowse by the terrific battle and landing of foreign forces, has gone back to its customary, lax dancing and its promenading through the plaza.

There are no evidences here that Mexico is in a throe of a crisis. The shops, scarred by rifle balls, are busy again. Women and children did not know what they believed would be the consequences of the landing of foreign troops, again walk safely abroad. Men who held closely to walls in fear of snipers, now go boldly about their business. The inhabitants have taken new and enlightened view of the Americans. They have learned that the Americans have come neither to loot, ravish, but to govern, not harshly, but well.

The release of the prisoners from the water-soaked dungeons of Fort San Juan de Ulos, where many came forth blinded from the years spent in darkness, was a revelation of the character of the attitude of the United States.

Mexicans of the better class openly express gratification at the restoration of order and the resumption of trade. But aside from the fact that the troops are here, Vera Cruz knows little, and only wonders when the invaders will leave or will go to Mexico City.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Junior Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

There was plenty of comedy, a proportionate display of novelty and much music at the midweekly change of program at the Grand last night. Likewise, a large crowd.

What is considered the prettiest act staged on three-a-day circuits, "Schneider's Dancing Girls," was considered the big attraction of the show. It is, indeed, a beautiful act, well staged, well arranged and well performed.

"Just Kids" finds the title of "The Airship Boys," a ventriloquial act that went big. Charles and Anna Glocker are notably in evidence before the water and juggling stunt that drew applause.

Shepard and Ashston offer a neat singing and musical act. The show is opened with Murray's Pets, an animal act that is somewhat in a state of flux. Bill is as good as—if not better than—the biggest part of the week, which is saying considerable in behalf of this week's program.

"Not Guilty," a three-reel feature picture, closes the show. Performances thrice daily at 2, 7 and 9 p. m.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

A bill of vaudeville that has tickled fancy is a most generous one for the Forsyth this week. Every act counts; every act is entertaining and in the main that has contributed to the wonderful success of this style of entertainment in every city. John Conroy and his Diving Girls score a success that has made quite a stir a season ago, and Valerie Bergere and her company make a big hit. Miss Helen Ware, who has already won favoritism by virtue of her splendid work during last week's engagement, registers particular success in a dramatic sketch, "The Last Performance," that deserves especial commendation from the women in the audience.

"The Woman Who Dared."

(At the Bijou.)

"The Woman Who Dared," this week's offering at the Eddie Black Stock company at the Bijou, is proving one of the most popular plays of the season at this house. The story is one of great human interest and the company has splendid scenic entertainment. The advance sale for the balance of the week indicates large audiences at all performances. The management announces that next week the biggest production in melodrama, a four-act play entitled "Jesse James," living in stage form the exciting incidents and stirring episodes in the life of Missouri's famous bandit-outlaw, Jesse James. This play has not been produced in Atlanta in a great many years.

La Verne Stock.

(At the Lyric.)

In spite of operatic opposition the Lucille LaVerne company at the Lyric theater is having a rousing big time in Shakespeare this week. The current offering, Miss LaVerne's own dramatization of Victor Hugo's romantic novel, "Les Miserables," is one of the capable company in thoroughly pleasing style. Miss LaVerne's work is up to the standard that is fully lived up to by the entire cast. Miss Mae Helen Hazzard, who has already won favoritism by virtue of her splendid work during last week's engagement, registers particular success in a dramatic sketch, "The Last Performance," that deserves especial commendation from the women in the audience.

"Hazel Kirke."

(At the Atlanta.)

"Hazel Kirke," the famous old play that has been a favorite with theatergoers for a generation, is the offering at the Atlanta this week. The play is being presented by a company of players that is well suited to the requirements of the piece. The production is a splendid one, and the play is being given a most pleasing presentation. The advance sale indicates that the week will be a big one for the Atlanta.

JOHN JASPER NOT GUILTY OF KILLING EDWIN DROOD

Philadelphia, April 30.—John Jasper, the opium eater, lay precursor of Clisterham cathedral, England, was found not guilty of the murder of Edwin Drood here last night by a jury selected from the most distinguished citizens of this city. Isaac Hazlehurst Elkin, of the Pennsylvania, supreme court, presided at the trial at which the testimony was restricted to the facts contained in Charles Dickens' unfinished work, "The Mystery of Edwin Drood."

John C. Bell, attorney general of Pennsylvania and Judge John M. Patterson, of the common pleas court, appeared for the prosecution. John R. Scott, a member of the state legislature and Percival S. Woodin, were the attorneys for the defense and argued that a conviction could not be found where there was no proof that Drood was dead.

Judges and attorneys on both sides donned wigs and gowns while the witnesses wore costumes peculiar to the time in which the story was set.

The jurors were John B. McMaster, foreman; George W. Elkins, James W. Ring, A. G. Rothstein, William Findley Brown, Mayor Blankenburg, Edgar F. Smith, provost of the University of Pennsylvania; George Wharton Pepper, ex-Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, J. Parker Norris, Charlemagne Tower, former ambassador to Germany, and Dr. J. William White.

DUNCAN CHOSEN HEAD OF COTTON MILL MEN

Boston, April 30.—Albert Greene Duncan, of Boston, treasurer of the Arkwright Mills, was elected president of the National Cotton Manufacturers' association at the closing session of its annual convention. Two vice presidents were chosen, William M. Butler, of New Bedford, and Grosvenor Edy, of Jewett City, Conn.

Resolutions were adopted favoring efforts of the department of commerce and labor to study future cotton conditions through field agents and asking for the creation of mill archives in making the statistics of the industrial reports of this year full and accurate. Papers on technical subjects occupied much of today.

BUREAU IS ADVOCATED FOR PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Washington, April 30.—As part of a comparative scheme for practical standardization of federal work in the country over, the public buildings commission in a report to the next congress today recommended creation of a bureau in the treasury department to absorb the supervising architect's office of the treasury department. The proposed bureau would include a board of estimates and property.

Congress appointed the commission to investigate and report on the systematizing of the present haphazard methods of providing public buildings. It was composed of Secretary McAdoo, Attorney General McReynolds, Postmaster General Burleson, Senators Swanson and Sutherland, Representatives Clark and Austin and Sherman Allen, former assistant secretary of the treasury. The report is designed as a basis of legislation to correct public building abuses.

MEDIATION GREAT STEP FOR PAN-AMERICANS

Buenos Aires, Argentina, April 30.—Commenting on the mediation now proceeding between the United States and Mexico, La Razon today says:

"The acceptance by the United States of the mediation offered by Argentina, Brazil and Chile signifies a great step taken by President Wilson and the democratic party towards Pan-Americanism."

The newspaper adds:

"We believe the partisans of Theodore Roosevelt desired war and that President Wilson saw the importance of the historic moment and thus ratified Pan-Americanism."

HAVEN FOR REFUGEES FOUND IN GUATEMALA

Guatemala City, April 30.—Many refugees of all nationalities from Salina Cruz and the isthmus of Tehuantepec arrived in this city on board the English steamer Acajutla at San Jose, a small Guatemalan port on the Pacific.

Fugitives who crossed the Mexican frontier into Guatemala from the Mexican town of Tapachula report riots there in which the American flag was insulted.

Some refugees declare that attempts to massacre foreigners were averted only by the prompt action of the Mexican military commander of Tapachula, who placed the foreigners in prison to guard them from the mob. Several big coffee growers and foreign capitalists were abandoned by their managers, who fled into Guatemala.

CARTRIDGES FOR REBELS STOPPED AT GALVESTON

Galveston, Texas, April 30.—One million rounds of small arm ammunition consigned to the constitutionalist forces along the northern border of Mexico has been stopped here and will be returned to the manufacturers. Because of the recent embargo of arms into Mexico the authorities have been keenly watchful for shipments of arms and ammunition en route to the Carranza forces.

Company D, signal corps a part of the reinforcements brigade that is now encamped in Vera Cruz, sailed for that port late today on the steamship Esperanza. Signal apparatus and telephone equipment in quantity was taken along. The Esperanza had not clearance for the horses of the signal company, and they will be transported in two vessels.

Non-American refugees who claim they were brought here by the United States government in their flight from organization tonight to secure their return to Mexico. They stated that the United States will not do anything for them, as an appropriation by congress was for the aid of American refugees. The non-American refugees who include Danes, Norwegians and one Englishman, asserted to the Galveston Commercial association, which has undertaken to help them, that the United States could do no less for them.

There was a mass meeting of refugees tonight to discuss the situation.

JACKSONVILLE MAN REACHES VERA CRUZ

Washington, April 30.—Consul Canada at Vera Cruz further reported that a number of Americans are making safe progress out of the country. The body of Ralph Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla., he said, has arrived at Vera Cruz and he is about to set out for the United States.

Consul General Bucklin, at Guatemala, was today instructed by the state department to furnish food, transportation across the country and ship passage to New Orleans for 2,000 American refugees now on their way to San Jose, Guatemala, from Salina Cruz on the Mexican Pacific coast.

Consul Canada advises that Buster Wilson, who was taken off Charge O'Shaughnessy's train at Laredo and sent back, is reported safe in Mexico City.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS ARRIVE AT GALVESTON

Galveston, Texas, April 30.—Among the refugees arriving today on the steamer City of Tampico, which docked at Galveston City, were the Rev. L. B. Newberry, Methodist Episcopal church, South, who was in charge of the Guadalajara district; Miss Case principal of the Mary Keener Institute, Mexico City, and Misses Mansey, Booth and Varner, missionaries in the Institute Coicon, of Guadalajara.

Dr. Newberry said that he and his party left Guadalajara on the last train that had run out of that city since the occupation of Vera Cruz. The federals, he said, had confiscated all the fuel oil and prohibited the running of trains, except for military purposes, and Americans found it difficult to secure transportation facilities. Dr. Newberry said that on the trip from Guadalajara his party had to walk a distance of 16 miles. Dr. Newberry will go to his home in Alice, Texas.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE BY MEXICAN PILGRIMS

Eight Thousand Kneel at the Shrine of Virgin of Guadalupe.

Mexico City, April 30.—A plan for organizing a civil guard for the defense of the federal capital was submitted to the minister of the interior today by the city council and approved by him as well as by Provisional President Huerta.

Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister, said tonight he had received a report stating that the refugee train carrying more than 500 Americans to Puerto Mexico had arrived at Santa Lucrecia this morning at 4:30 o'clock without incident and was due to reach its destination at 10 o'clock.

A crowd of 8,000 pilgrims this morning knelt before the shrine of the patron saint of Mexico, the Virgin of Guadalupe, and prayed for peace. Many of the pilgrims walked barefooted to the top of the hill where the shrine is situated, while others accomplished the journey on their knees. This was the first ceremony of the kind celebrated here since the rupture of Mexican and American relations.

The government today issued a list of rebel leaders in the north whom it was alleged, had announced their adhesion to the government in the event of an invasion of Mexico. It was said they would bring with them 10,000 men.

Dispatches from Jalapa assert that Mexican soldiers have fired on American army aviators reconnoitering in the vicinity of Tuxpan. The dispatch adds that numerous American aerial scouting expeditions have been observed at several inland points.

Another dispatch which bears the date Carrizal, Vera Cruz, gives the alleged details of a skirmish near Santa Fe, in which it is declared a party of American scouts encountered an outpost of Mexicans and after half an hour's fighting the Americans retreated, carrying two wounded with them.

WIDE POWERS GIVEN CHINESE PRESIDENT

Peking, April 30.—The amended constitution for the republic of China, which will be formally promulgated tomorrow, is notable for the widespread powers it gives the president. The document, as it now stands, is the work of a constitutional convention which has been laboring here since the middle of March. The president is empowered to convoke, open, suspend, close and dissolve the legislature; submit to it the budget as well as other bills and refer back to the legislature for reconsideration bills already passed by it. If such measures are repassed by a three-fourths majority the president may, with the consent of the administrative council, still withhold their promulgation.

The president has sole power to appoint and dismiss civil and military officials, to declare war and conclude peace and he will be in complete control of the army and navy, as well as of all expenditures for these branches.

are two things that must enter into the optical business. Combining these two with high-grade workmanship, careful attention, honest dealings, and the grinding of the greater portion of prescriptions written for glasses by our better oculists, has fully demonstrated the fact that there is something indescribable about the way in which we conduct our business that few opticians have been able to understand. We know when glasses are suited to your eyes, and if you need the service of an oculist we will so advise, but positively will not accept your money without satisfaction from us. Mr. and Mrs. Gray Entertain At Breakfast at Graystone

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gray entertained at breakfast at Graystone yesterday in honor of Mr. Otto Kahn and his party, whose fifty guests were assembled to enjoy their hospitality.

Mrs. Gray was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Mrs. Brumby, Mrs. Gallogly, Mrs. Richard Gray and Mrs. Inman Gray, also by her charming guest, Mrs. Richard Wilson, of Nashville. Breakfast was served at small tables on the front porch shaded now by the foliage of the rose vines in bloom with pink roses. Each table had as centerpiece a bowl of the vivid hued corn flowers blooming in luxury in Mrs. Gray's garden.

The menu included the dishes of a "home breakfast." In fried chicken, the country sausages, eggs and bacon, potato croquettes, hot rolls, beaten biscuits and coffee. There was the atmosphere of an ideal spring day, as well as the long ride to Graystone, to pique the appetite, and the guests paid their hostess the tribute of calling more than once in the words of opera —"encore!" "encore!"

After breakfast there was music in the drawing room, Miss Richard Wilson singing, also Messrs. Henry and Emmett Meeks, accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Inman Gray. The spirit of music possessed the party and there was ensemble singing. Mr. Scott and Mr. Martin contributing the beauty of their voices to the informal program of the amateur stars. The ladies wore corsage bouquets of corn flowers in departing for the matinee, and the occasion was one of the most delightful of opera week.

Mrs. Gray's toilet was in sapphire blue chiffon cloth with corsage draperies of chiffon. Mrs. Richard Gray, Jr., wore blue silk with an embroidery in the Persian colors giving finish. Mrs. Inman Gray wore rose-colored silk; Mrs. Brumby a becoming toilet in wistaria color. Mrs. Gallogly's smart toilet was in dark blue silk with trimmings in violet color.

Mrs. Slaton's effective toilet was in white taffeta silk with quaint overskirt draperies in flowered silk showing corn flowers in the design. Her hat was trimmed in corn flower blue plumes. Mrs. John Murphy wore white embroidered net with sash of orange-colored tulle; her hat of white trimmed in flowers in orange color. Mrs. Julian Murphy's dainty gown was in jonquil yellow silk. Mrs. Elkin wore a becoming gown in plum-colored silk, the corsage softened by trimmings of shadow lace. Mrs. Clark Howell wore a gown of ecrue blue moire silk gown, her hat trimmed in blue and rose-tinted flowers.

Mrs. Dent, of Washington, D. C., was among the attractive visitors present, she coming with her sister, Mrs. Coleman. Mrs. John S. Cohen wore a white brocade charmeuse coat suit with quaint hat in white to match. Miss Louise Ladson wore a smart suit in wood brown with black hat to match.

For Visitors.

DEATH OF PAUL GODBEY IS VEILED IN MYSTERY.

Coroner's Inquest Over Body of Greensboro Man Postponed to Friday.

The coroner's inquest over the death of Paul Godbey, of Greensboro, N. C., whose body was found in Piedmont park late Tuesday afternoon, was postponed Thursday afternoon until 12 o'clock Friday.

A great deal of mystery surrounds the death of Godbey, who was found with a pistol bullet in his head, evidently fired at close range, judging by the large size of the bullet found behind his right ear.

No pistol could be found at the scene of the death mystery after a thorough search of the woods. The missing pistol causes the coroner and chief of police to believe that the man was murdered, though many hold the theory that he committed suicide, and the pistol was stolen.

There is satisfaction in cooking when you use

Cottolene

It removes dozens of worries from the mind of the cook. This is the way an excellent cook prepares—

CORN FRITTERS

Take a pint of grated corn (or a can of sweet corn when corn is out of season), three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of milk, one tablespoonful of melted Cottolene, and one and a quarter teaspoonfuls (level) of salt. First beat the eggs well, adding the corn by degrees, also the milk and Cottolene; thicken with enough flour to hold them together, first adding a teaspoonful of baking powder to the flour. Have ready a kettle of hot Cottolene and drop the corn from a spoon into it and fry to a light brown. These fritters are also good fried in Cottolene the same as one would fry oysters.

Any practical housewife will at once appreciate the wholesomeness and economy of this pure cooking fat.

Remember always to use one-third less Cottolene than you would of butter or lard.

Order Cottolene today from your grocer. Also send to us for our FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, written by Mrs. Helen Armstrong, Mrs. Lincoln and other cooking authorities.

"I AM NOW A HAPPY WOMAN"

Says Franklin Lady, Who Says She Has But One Regret After Many Years of Trouble.

Franklin, Va.—"I am now a happy woman," says Mrs. Elizabeth Boone, of this town, "although for eight (8) long years, I suffered dreadfully with womanly troubles, and I had to lie in bed for three or four days, every month.

I was in such condition, I could not do my housework, nor could I eat heavy or greasy food of any kind. I was a perfect wreck.

Some of my lady friends advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, which I did. I have now taken seven bottles, and am sound and well, can do all of my housework, as well as my laundry work. I am sure that 7 bottles of Cardui did me $100.00 worth of good.

I have but one regret and that is that I did not commence taking Cardui 5 years ago. I would have avoided all that suffering, besides saving all the money I paid out for other medicines that did me no good.

Several of my lady friends are now taking Cardui on my recommendation and it is helping them."

If you suffer from any of the numerous ills so common to women, begin taking Cardui, today. It relieved Mrs. Boone after her condition became chronic. It will surely help you.

Try Cardui.

GA. STUDENTS SURVEYING RAILROAD IN LINCOLN CO.

Washington, Ga., April 30.—(Special) A surveying corps composed of thirty engineering students of the University of Georgia, under the personal direction of Professor C. M. Strahan, arrived yesterday in Washington and are now engaged in running a survey between Washington and Lincolnton which will be used as a preliminary for a new railroad between these two cities.

Application has already been made for a charter for the Washington and Lincolnton railroad, which will be issued this week. The road will be twenty miles in length and will represent one of the most important developments in the history of Wilkes and Lincoln counties.

Lincoln is one of the few counties in Georgia not served by a railroad, but now two rail lines are headed in direction of Lincoln county and both seem to be assured a record as the result of a doubt. At the same time that surveyors (or the Washington and Lincolnton road commenced their work, a preliminary survey was started from Tignall, this county, for an extension of the Elberton and Eastern road to Lincoln county. The Seaboard Air line railroad is understood to be back of the Elberton and Eastern extension and have as their ultimate object, the projection of the road through from Elberton to Augusta.

GOULD FAMILY TO LOSE MISSOURI PACIFIC LINE

It Is Reported Control of Road Will Pass to Kuhn, Loeb and Company.

New York, April 30.—Circumstantial rumors that control of the Missouri Pacific railway, the backbone of the Gould railroad system, is in process of transfer to important banking interests, were revived today in the financial district. They were received with some credence from the fact that expert engineers and accountants are believed to be making an extensive examination of the property.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are the bankers mentioned in connection with the reported change of control. Members of that firm declined to affirm or deny rumors connecting their names with the project, but it is known that they long have been willing to take over the financial management or responsibility of the road, should the Gould's express their willingness to relinquish their stock interest.

Representatives of the Gould family were noncommittal on the subject, except to say that their interests in Missouri Pacific lies chiefly in the bonds of that road and allied lines. It was denied for the Goulds that the recent heavy selling of Missouri Pacific was for account of any member of that family.

Shares of Missouri Pacific recently have been selling on what Wall street calls a "reorganization basis," and new low records for the stock and outstanding notes were established today. There are $25,000,000 of three-year 5 per cent notes maturing in June, and by a few weeks ago it was thought that payment of at least half the notes would be on maturity which has come in the final stage of the negotiations. Since that time the value of the various Gould securities have fallen to lower levels. Missouri Pacific made some recovery as a result of today's reports.

WITNESS WAS STIRRED BY FOLK'S CHARGE

Washington, April 30.—The interstate commerce commission's investigation into the affairs of the New Haven railroad system was continued late today by a sharp verbal tilt between Chief Counsel Folk and Stevenson Taylor, a New York marine engineer.

Mr. Folk read into the record a letter from Mr. Taylor to former President Mellen, of the New Haven, telling of the formation of the United States Transportation company at Mr. Mellen's request, to operate a line of steamers from New York to Fall River. Mr. Folk declared that a paragraph in the letter indicated false entry bookkeeping, and called attention to the fact that it was written by Mr. Taylor's own hand. His questions brought heated answers from the witness.

L. S. Miller told the commission of the present condition of the affairs of the New York, Westchester and Boston road, of which he is president. He said the line would have to earn about four and one-half times as much as at present before it would be a paying proposition.

BANKS ARE SUBSCRIBING TO THE RESERVE SYSTEM

Washington, April 30.—Nine of the twelve federal reserve banks today had more of their capital subscribed than the minimum of $6,000,000 fixed by law. The total national bank subscribers in the twelve districts, according to a statement of the treasury department, was 4,650 of a membership of 7,497 and the total amount of stock subscribed was $77,646,500.

Caruso and Gadski Star In "Un Ballo in Maschera"

By Isaac Dooly.

Strauss loves his orchestra best, Verdi loves the voices. That does not mean that the Verdi orchestra is not a wonderful instrument, worthy the best inspiration of Toscanini, who conducted the opera "Ballo in Maschera" yesterday. The score, like all the Verdi music, is rich in lyric beauty and so it was that each star—and the cast was made up of stars—had opportunity for scenes of sensational effectiveness, and the action of the opera was interrupted time after time by applause that would not be stilled.

Like all of the Caruso appearances this one was greeted by a tremendous audience, and the great tenor at least equaled the impression he made Monday night. Even Caruso himself could scarcely have surpassed the work he did in the "Dream Song" and the mock-astery scene in "Manon."

In the duet with Gadski in the third act yesterday his voice reached its height of thrilling beauty, and in the last act the pathos in his voice and his acting, which has grown so marvellously it is hard to believe he is the Caruso of three years ago, brought inevitable tears.

Madame Gadski may always be counted upon to make her role, whatever it may be, a masterpiece, the perfection of that part. In voice and interpretation she is the artist both of mind and heart.

Amato's soliloquy scene was presented with that finish which is as characteristic of everything he does as is the rare quality of his beautiful baritone. The fire which infuses his art never fails to ignite his audience, and shouts and bravos interrupted the progress of the opera in a tremendous fashion.

Marie Duchene was the star of the second act. Her role is brief, but she made it stand out in a brilliant performance.

Scottini, Segurola, Reschiglian, Bada, Audisio, completed the cast, the background for the soloists a series of tableaux of unusually vivid manner, and they were sung with the usual finish and spirit of the Metropolitan performances.

Great Audience Is Present At "Un Ballo en Maschera"

The presentation of "Un Ballo in Maschera," which was the second opera matinee of the week and marked the second appearance of Caruso, brought out an enormous crowd, which will probably be the largest matinee crowd of the week.

The old Verdi opera, which was revived this year by the Metropolitan Opera company, proved to be most delightful, and its rendition was an artistic triumph. Atlanta's love for the lyrics of Verdi—and this is particularly characteristic of a matinee audience—was satisfied to a quantity last.

The cast was as brilliant as any that will be seen this week. It included were Caruso, Gadski, Amato, Hempel, De Segurola, Rothier and others.

The stars were applauded round after round in appreciation of their splendid work.

This was the final appearance of Madam Hempel and judging from the ovation she received, Atlanta would fain have heard more of her singing.

Madam Hempel's magnificent soprano voice was displayed to great advantage in the difficult coloratura work required in the aria, " Td Fain Gli Triumphi," in the final act. She was given many curtain calls.

Toscanini, the most famous director in the Metropolitan company's orchestra, directed the orchestra and made himself again a favorite with Atlanta in the masterful manner in which he directed the music.

VINCENT ASTOR WEDS MISS HELEN HUNTINGTON

Less Than Fifty Persons Witnessed Ceremony Owing to Astor's Recent Illness.

Stamford, N. Y., April 30.—William Vincent Astor, son of the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, and Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, whom he has known since childhood, were married here shortly after noon today in the big oak-paneled library of Ropeland House, home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington.

Less than fifty persons witnessed the ceremony and of these three were the superintendents from the Astor, the Huntington and the Dinsmore estates, respectively. The other guests were relatives and close friends of the families. Plans had been made for an elaborate church wedding, but Mr. Astor's recent illness, which threatened pneumonia, made necessary the abandonment of these plans. Eighteen hundred wedding announcements were sent out after today's ceremony, but the small company that witnessed it had been invited by informal notes, penned by Mrs. Huntington's secretary.

A fine rain was falling when the few guests from New York city arrived at the four-hundred-acre Huntington estate. Guards had been posted at the entrances and only those whose credentials were unquestionable were admitted.

Mr. Astor himself is a deputy sheriff of Dutchess county and some of his fellow deputies acted as sentinels at the gates.

Green Foliage and Spring Flowers.

Green foliage and spring flowers from the Huntington conservatories and from New York hung everywhere throughout the rooms of the famous House. Buried in blossoms with here and there a touch of green was the marble mantelpiece in the library before which the couple stood. Miss Huntington entered the room on the arm of her father. At her throat gleamed a magnificent necklace of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bridal gown was of white tulle, with a train of white satin. Her lace veil had been worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Dinsmore, and by her mother before her.

Herman Oelrichs, of New York, an old friend of Vincent Astor, was best man. Miss Alice Huntington, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the little Misses Muriel Astor and Margaret Dows were flower girls. The two children were prettily garbed in corn-colored chiffon and dotted net with blue sashes. Small flowers wreathed their hats and each carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Mrs. Robert Huntington, the bride's mother, wore blue taffeta and chiffon. The wedding orchestra of twenty pieces played the Lohengrin wedding march and the Rev. Charles H. Duncan, rector of St. Margaret's church, Staatsburg, read the Episcopal marriage service.

When the pair had risen man and wife, the wedding party assembled in the "long room" adjoining the library, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, mother of the bridegroom, was among the wedding guests. The young widow of Colonel Astor, although invited, was not present. She is in the south.

Astor Worth $100,000,000.

Vincent Astor is 23 years old; the bride is 20.

Until a week ago the young heir to the vast Astor estate—estimated at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000—was ill in the Huntington residence. While visiting his fiancee a month ago he became seriously ill with an abscess on the lungs. Although his physicians permitted him outdoors for the first time only four days ago, young Astor insisted that there should be no delay in the wedding.

It is understood Mr. and Mrs. Astor will remain at their country home, not far from the Huntington place, for a month. They hope that Mr. Astor's health then will permit a yachting cruise and a visit in England at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor.

The Huntington family declined to give out any list or description of the many and handsome presents received by the bride. Most of these were taken immediately to safe deposit vaults in a Poughkeepsie bank.

LITTLE GIRL BURNED WHILE ALONE IN HOUSE

Quitman, Ga., April 30.—The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Salas, in the southern part of Brooks county, was burned to death today while alone in the house. Her mother was in the garden near the house, when the child's clothing, in some unknown way, became ignited. When the mother reached the child, the clothing was entirely consumed and the little one terribly burned. A physician reached her shortly after the accident, but the child died within four hours.

F. O. MILLER ELECTED GRAND HIGH PRIEST

Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Brings Sessions in Macon to Close.

Macon, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The grand chapter, Royal Arch Masons, brought its two-day business session to a close today with the annual election of officers, Frank O. Miller, of Fort Valley, being elected grand high priest. The attendance at the grand chapter meeting this year was the largest in the history of the organization, over 400 members being present. All of the sessions were executive and the business transacted was not of special interest to the public. The following were the newly elected officers:

Grand high priest, Frank O. Miller, Fort Valley; deputy grand high priest, W. Warner Hill, Atlanta; grand king, J. F. Bell, Milledgeville; grand scribe, Thomas H. Jeffries, Atlanta; grand treasurer, S. H. Griswold, Macon; grand secretary, W. A. Wellbin, Macon; grand chaplain, W. A. Simmons, Royston; grand captain of the host, W. W. Williams, Columbus; grand principal sojourner, E. W. Parks, Savannah; grand master of the third veil, Joseph C. Greenfield, Atlanta; grand master of the second veil, W. C. Jordan, Athens; grand master of the first veil, J. S. Shell, Senoia; grand sentinel, H. B. Hall, Macon.

Just prior to the adjournment the retiring grand high priest, J. P. Bowden, of Adairsville, was presented with a past grand high priest's Masonic jewel, by A. S. Shell, of Senoia, who has attended grand chapter meetings for the past forty years, expressing his satisfaction with the office of grand master of the first veil, and declined a higher office, which was tendered him.

Debate Stopped by Mumps.

Macon, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—After traveling 1,100 miles to meet the debating team from Wake Forest college, of Wake Forest, N. C., in Macon, the three representatives from Baylor university at Waco, Texas, found upon their arrival here today that their trip had been in vain, announcement coming from Wake Forest that the members of the debating team of that institution are laid up with the mumps.

ATLANTA CHOIRS WILL HAVE ALL-DAY SINGING

Grand opera is all right for those who have the price and time to attend, but unfortunately not all are so blessed. So, for the pleasure and inspiration of lovers of vocal music, especially of the old-time variety, the East Side Tabernacle choir has invited the various choirs of the city which make up the Atlanta Singing convention, to hold an all-day session at the East Side church Sunday.

The majority of these choirs have already responded to the invitation. Dinner will be served all who attend in a grove near the church. Special cars will be provided for to carry the large crowds expected to be in attendance.

Among the choirs to be present are Cooper Street, Western Heights, Pondere Avenue, Lakewood Heights and other noted choirs. Several orchestras and eminent soloists will be features of the program. The last year's convention was held at Buckhead and was attended by several thousand people.

RAILWAYS NEED MONEY, SAYS LOUIS BRANDEIS

Efficiency Apostle Says More Revenue Must Come, But Opposes Rate Advance.

Washington, April 30.—That the net income and operating expenses of the eastern railroads are "smaller than is consistent with the prosperity and the welfare of the community" was announced as a conclusion late today by Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, counsel for the interstate commerce commission, in the 5 per cent advance rate case. He maintained, however, that to make a horizontal advance in all freight rates as proposed by the railroads was illegal, and beyond the powers of the commission.

Mr. Brandeis said steps should be taken as soon as possible to increase the carriers' revenues, and suggested that testimony given at the commission's hearings had shown how that might be done without advancing rates. He referred to the elimination of special allowances to shippers, free car spotting and other free services now performed by the roads.

Just before Mr. Brandeis submitted his conclusions, Clifford Thorne, of Iowa, representing eight middle western states in opposition to the proposed advance, had completed an elaborate argument in which he maintained that the carriers have been making more gross and more net income during the last four years than in any previous four years in their history.

He maintained not only that the railroads were receiving adequate revenues and making a fair return on their stock, but that their credit was as good or better than that of other industries, as proved by their ability to dispose of hundreds of millions of securities during the last four years.

William A. Glasgow, Jr., of Philadelphia, counsel for cement and coke producers, declared that such an advance of freight rate as proposed was a matter of public policy, and could be dealt with only by the congress, and that the commission had no power to authorize or sanction a horizontal advance, its authority being limited to the determination of the reasonableness of particular rates, after hearing all the facts. He urged that the reasonableness of particular rates could not be determined merely by a showing that the roads needed more revenues.

Judge Henderson, of the Iowa railway commission, argued against the proposed increase from the standpoint of the independent producers in Iowa of starch, glucose, dextrine, corn oil, etc. He insisted there had been no evidence offered by the carriers that the present rates are unreasonable.

HINDUS ARE WILLING TO SETTLE ARID LANDS

Washington, April 30.—An Indian brahmin, Tabi Shutta Kyawn Hla, now a New York broker, testified before the house immigration committee today that if congress would permit, the laborers of India would be glad to settle on all the arid lands west of the Mississippi river, and, if they had the right to possession after a period of years, would make those lands blossom like a rose.

He opposed the Church bill for Hindu exclusion, except as to students, and he said that the India laborers ought to be allowed to come in, assimilate American ideas and go back home to help their motherland progress.

CRACKERS PLAYING IN SULPHUR DELL

Open Up Four-Game Series With Schwartz's Vols Today—Holland on Third Permanently.

left Atlanta last night on an 2:40 o'clock car. The Crackers left Nashville this morning to open up a four-game series with Bill Schwartz's Nashville Volunteers.

This is the Crackers' first trip to Nashville this season, but their second meeting with the Vols. Schwartz's men opened the local season, the locals winning three of the four games played.

Gil Price will probably twirl the opener. The game will be taken in detail at Caller King's place on the Viaduct plaza. Forest More will probably oppose Price.

The locals return home Tuesday and open up a four-game series with the Chattanooga Lookouts. Then come Birmingham, Memphis and Montgomery for four, before the locals hit the road again.

Tommy Long, Harry Welchonce and Rube Kissinger did not take the trip to Nashville.

Manager Smith announced that he was going to play Harry Holland on third base permanently now, and that Ted Lynch would be played in centerfield until Welchonce gets back in the game.

Here is the probable batting order today:

GEORGIA-TECH SCRUBS MEET IN ATHENS TODAY

Athens, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The University of Georgia nine and the scrubs from the baseball team of Tech will play a game of ball tomorrow on Sanford field.

The game should be a good one from every angle. Especially interesting will be observing the pitching of Howard McWhorter and the southpaw, Matthews, for the Georgia scrubs. On their two coach Bean is depending next year, and the next after that, possibly.

The preliminary brush with the ancient enemy will be interesting. Manager is handling the bunch of Tech. It is not known whether they will use Pries and other irregular players.

Our Typewriter Refuses to Tell the Horrible Details Of the Turtle Avalanche

By Dick Jemison.

We tackled an account of the game between the Turtles and the Crackers Thursday afternoon, but our typewriter balked and, like the good little boat it is, absolutely broke down right in the middle.

The idea that this spiel is being written on heatless, foo, for fear that we will inflict the horrible nightmare on you. But far be it from such.

The Turtles swamped, smothered, slaughtered, or whatever else you may choose to use, the Crackers on Thursday. The final count when the curtain was rung down on six innings of horrible baseball stood:

Memphis 16, Atlanta 2.

Near Free Silver.

No, we are not referring to Bryan's race for the presidency. It came close enough to the Crackers' goal to be just about as many innings as Bryan received straight votes. They came up the free silver count in the final inning.

It took one hour and fifty minutes to stagger through six innings. It hasn't been decided upon before starting to call the game at 5 o'clock or thereabouts, but ten minutes to ten when Umpire Pfenninger decided that the fans had been tortured enough.

The Turtles connected for twenty hits, every man on the team getting a hit. Two of them registered one each, while the remainder got two or more. The Crackers were each given but five.

Maybe the two releases that Manager Finn handed out on Wednesday had some effect. Be that as it may, the Turtles hammered that pill more savagely than it has ever been the privilege to witness. We have writer's cramps from scoring the base hits, runs and stolen bases of the Turtles.

Turtle Help Averages.

The Turtles tallied more runs in this game than they have been able to do in all other games with the Crackers this season, seven in number. It was their second victory in eight games with the local nine, the grudge them not, only we hate to score such a game. They're going to break loose that way again, we will send a substitute to the Mercy.

Elmer Steele twirled for the Turtles, and had the control of a dizzy ball had the Crackers buffaloed all the way. Ruba Kissinger started for the Crackers and lasted a little over two innings. Browning, who succeeded him, was hammered to all corners of the lot.

In addition to getting twenty hits, the Turtles swiped eight bases, causing many wild throws and turning the game into a farce, which everyone but the scorers enjoyed.

We go into the painful details of how the runs were scored is impossible, though the good old reason that has risen by us absolutely reneges. So here's the box score, figure it out for yours' self:

Final Cutting-Down Time Is Extended to May 14

Manager Billy Smith will not have to cut down his squad of players until May 14, President Kavanaugh announced the Southern league, having extended the time from May 7.

This will give the local mogul a chance to look over his men good.

It is said that Lynch is slated to go to the Memphis Turtles. This will leave only a pitcher and a catcher to be returned adrift. Who will be the men?

This rule was made, so it is said, as a counter move to the Federal league action, in the hope that all members of the Southern league discards the first week in May.

The chief of catcher to go lies between Munch and Reynolds. Perryman, Dent, Price and Dessau can be counted as regular twirlers. This will leave 1 between Kissinger, Crawford and Browning for the one man to go.

What Kavanaugh Says.

Little Rock, Ark., April 30.—President Kavanaugh, of the Southern association, tonight emphatically denied that the extension until May 14 of the time for the clubs to reduce the number of their players is a "war measure" directed against the Federal league.

President Kavanaugh said that the association had always allowed thirty days from the start of the season for the clubs to cut down their squads. An agreement entered into by the National association, Federal league and Organized baseball provided that this time should be extended to forty days in all the leagues.

The major league clubs recently decided to extend the time for cutting down their squads, he said President Kavanaugh. "I considered that this justified me in allowing the Southern association clubs to go back to the old thirty-day limit. This expires May 14, and the clubs must be down to that limit by that time. There will be no further extension."

Vanderbilt 5, Sewanee 4.

Nashville, Tenn., April 30.—(Special.) Vanderbilt took the opening game of the series with Sewanee this afternoon by a score of 5 to 4. Lasater pitched for Vanderbilt, was touched up for a total of nine hits, but managed to keep them scattered for the most part.

Hammond, on the hill for Sewanee, allowed the same number, but a home run by Turner and a triple by Young resulted in a majority of the runs.

Poor support was accorded both pitchers. The second game of the series will be played tomorrow afternoon.

COTTON UNSETTLED BY OLD CROP SALES

New Crop Positions Also Ease Off—Close Steady at Four to Thirteen Points Decline.

New York, April 30.—The cotton market was unsettled by liquidation in the old crop months and after rallying steadily during the greater part of the day, new crop positions also passed off under scattered selling, with the close steady at a net decline of 4 to 13 points. Beyond the continued reports of an unsatisfactory situation in cotton yarns the talk around the street advanced no special reason for the selling of old crop positions, some of the people who were selling July appeared to be buying new crop deliveries. There were conflicting rumors as to the actual position of the cotton which is expected to go into contract on May 6, some as a result of the first May notices, but there was no change in the character of southern spot news, and nothing was heard or any increased spinning interest toward New York. Summer month longs, however, appeared to be disposed to reduce their holdings, and in addition to weak street selling there were offerings from houses with Liverpool and New Orleans connections.

The cotton market was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 3 points, with active months selling 4 points not higher right after the call in spite of unfavorable weather in the southwest, the comparatively steady showing of the spot market and increased English spot sales. It very soon became apparent, however, that there was a good deal of July for sale and the increased offerings of that position on the first day of the recent May notice developments, and the talk of shipments out of the local stock, appeared to undermine the confidence of weather bulls for a time. Later on, the weakened and some stop orders were uncovered as prices declined, but the crop positions failed to follow the decline to any extent, and before that much explaining was necessary in the southwest, but offerings became rather heavier in early trading and the new crop sold about 9 to 9 points net lower, while the old crop months declined from 7 to 12 points. The close was 8 points to two from that to the lowest on near months as a result of covering. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 13.90; gulf 13.35. No sales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 30.—At the opening of the cotton market today prices bore up well, but after the market followed Liverpool and New York and closed 4 to 7 points down.

At the opening conditions showed a distinct improvement in prices. With New York's stock market closed, Wednesday's May notices by southern mills and continued favorable weather reports from the cotton belt, the long element displayed a markedly bullish attitude and prices were bid up to a moderately higher level. The ease on a sharp rebound in sterling July at New York had the effect of discouraging operations for the long account and in consequence the figures moved off largely but steadily to the end of the day.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 30.—(Special.)—The local market today was easier in tone, due to scattered liquidation and a lack of interest to favor the new crop when the old crop months were being pressed for sale. Demand was fairly good. However, investment is becoming more fastidious in its wide buying and is waiting for a decided bearish feeling that a spell of good weather will make for material improvement in the yield, which would in turn check bullish speculation. Private reports of a very favorable crop situation and unsettled weather over the belt, with official reports of local showers except in the coast districts.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, April 30.—(Special.)—The bears made a fight to break the market today and succeeded in forcing it down 9 points, in spite of rather bad weather reports and new crop months were also soft and closed 4 to 9 down. The market has developed little overbought technique, but unless there is some material improvement in the weather there can be no permanent decline in new crop months. Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3 points down.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 30.—Cotton seed oil advanced 1 point on a fair demand from local consumers and a small demand from May shorts, support from refiners and a firm market for soap stocks in the west. Tendency at the close was extremely firm.

EXPORT DEMAND STEADIES WHEAT

Prices Were Firm at the Close With Small Gain. Other Articles Show Gain All Around.

Chicago, April 30.—Development of a good export demand for new crop wheat grades had a rallying influence today on the whole list, and while, on the whole, prices were firm at the same as last night's close. Such was the case, however, as there was a slight loss in May.

Other speculative articles showed a net gain all around, corn 1 7-8 to 2 3-4c over, 1-4 to 1-3c, and provisions 5 to 25c.

Reported sales of export wheat here aggregated 500,000 bushels. A million bushels was reported as having been sold in Baltimore for ocean shipment, with 50,000 more virtually accepted. Minneapolis was over from New Philadelphia and Duluth that export sales in those cities were within 50,000 of 3,000,000 bushels. Such was coupled with the wide discount of American markets under Liverpool and with the fact that the greater part of the No. 2 red winter in public elevators had been registered for transfer to shippers. Central buying shorts included to take profits, and caused some fresh buying as well.

Improved feeling on the bull side of the wheat market was preceded by a temporarily successful determination on the part of bears to depress prices, a result that prevailed for a while was due largely to further rains in western Kansas and Oklahoma and to favorable field conditions in the spring crop belt, including shorts in Illinois and rising in northern Minnesota and North Dakota.

Important covering by conspicuous exporters during certain periods, and an early period of weakness. Efforts of bulls to depress prices by bear rumors were for the most part a failure, although declines of one cent or more had to be large. Demand that appeared to be springing up in the Pacific coast region a stimulating effect on the market here.

Oats had a rally with corn and wheat. It was said most of the delivery of oats this morning was taken up by shippers.

Provisions felt the effect of the revived strength in grain. During a considerable part of the day, however, prices suffered from the weakness of the hog market. Packers were obliged by packers to sell on the hard spots.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 30.—(Special.)—From the opening there was an absence of the demand which has advanced prices during the past six weeks, so that the market slowly eased on the start to the close under what appeared to be selling in the south on the report of better weather reports. Transactions are on a moderate scale, as few are inclined to anticipate the future course of prices. Everything looks so unsettled, the necessity of a large crop is so evident and yet the large movement from India and the consequent large visible supply with depressed trade in the country checks investment demand.

FEDERAL TROOPS QUIET COLORADO

As Soon as Regulars Reach Strike Zone the Warfare Ceases—Strikers Are Returning to Their Homes.

Denver, Colo., April 30.—With federal troops on the ground, conditions were quiet today in the Colorado strike zone.

State troops are being relieved by the regulars and the strikers are said to be dispersing. The federal soldiers now patrolling the Fremont county district and regular troops inspected the militiamen at Walsenburg tonight. Regulars will occupy the Ludlow district tomorrow and the national guardsmen from both Walsenburg and Ludlow are expected to reach Denver by tomorrow night.

The strikers have surrendered no arms either to the militia or the federal troops. Leaders tonight were going among the hills of southern Colorado, urging the men to disperse and return to their homes, but, according to John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, they have not been told to give up their weapons.

"Men in all walks of life fought with the miners," said Mr. Lawson tonight, "but they will not oppose the federal troops. They would not have opposed the militia but for the gunmen affiliated with them. Now they are returning to their homes. The tent colonies at Ludlow and Forbes will be rebuilt."

"The guns are the property of our men," added the union leader, "and so far as I know they will keep them."

The immediate withdrawal of state troops from the strike zone and the speedy disarmament of mine guards are among the conditions named by the union leaders.

At the governor's office it was said an appeal for help had been received from Sheriff McAfee, of Weld county, who feared an attack by strikers on the mines in the vicinity of Frederick. A detail of 150 militiamen still is at Louisville.

Three miners from Routt county reported to Governor Ammons today that every man employed at the Oakdale mine near Steamboat Springs had received a threatening letter. No troops are stationed there.

REGULARS ARRIVE AND WAR CEASES.

Trinidad, Colo., April 30.—As the strike zone tonight strikers and troops who had battled intermittently in southern Colorado for ten days laid aside their rifles and slumbered. This was because Major W. W. Holbrook, commanding the Second squadron, Fifth United States cavalry, had brought some 300 regulars to Trinidad early today and announced that he was here to restore peace.

"We are not here to take sides between the strikers and their former employers," explained the major. "We are here to restore order. We have assured of co-operation from the warring factions, and I am confident of our ultimate success."

Major Holbrook admitted that negotiations had been opened in connection with the disarmament of the strikers. He declined, however, to reveal the exact nature of the negotiations or the success with which they had been attended.

Asked if the mine guards would be disarmed he said:

"The guards, of course, cannot be disarmed just at present, with the property of the companies under their protection. The strikers, however, will be assured that the use of arms by the guards will be restricted. The guards must confine their activities strictly to protecting the property of their employers. They will not be permitted to molest the miners or their families."

The major said he would visit the site of the burned Ludlow tent colony in company with leaders of the miners to determine whether or not the strikers should be allowed to rebuild its. United States troops will establish headquarters at Ludlow, with a field hospital on the edge of Trinidad, will not be disturbed.

Major Holbrook explained that martial law had not been proclaimed, but that the civil authorities and the civil courts were exercising their functions.

ACTION IS URGED BY THE SENATE.

Washington, April 30.—Urging it was high time for the senate to take steps to stop the "monstrous proposition of Colorado mine owners arming thugs to shoot men, women and children," Senator Martine of New Jersey, today addressed the senate in favor of immediate action on his bill to make it a criminal offense to employ armed guards.

Senator Martine introduced the bill after the investigation into the recent West Virginia coal strike at Paint and Cabin creeks. He said today in the senate that "armed brutes employed as mine guards are responsible for the setting aside of constitutional government in West Virginia, and even worse consequences in Colorado.

Senator Chilton took exceptions to Senator Martine's statements, saying West Virginia never had been in a state of lawlessness nor in such deplorable conditions as recently existed at Paterson, N. J.

Senator Martine's remarks were drawn out by a telegram on behalf of the Colorado strikers, presented by Senator Kenyon.

Senator Martine was reminded that federal troops have been ordered to Colorado by President Wilson.

"I understand that is true," said he, "but it was true that it was lately to the point of slaughtering."

GENERAL STRIKE PROPOSED AS PROTEST.

Chicago, Ill., April 30.—The Illinois district convention of the United Mine Workers of America today adopted a resolution asking the international organization to request the American Federation of Labor to call a general strike throughout the United States in protest against the Colorado labor troubles.

$200,000 OFFERED TO AID STRIKERS.

Pittsburg, Kan., April 30.—The entire defense fund of $200,000 belonging to district No. 14, United Mine Workers of America, was placed in the hands of John P. White, international president of the mine workers, today for use in behalf of the Colorado strikers.

OPERATORS REFUSE TO SETTLE STRIKE.

Denver, Col., April 30.—Nineteen coal mine operating companies in Colorado—virtually all within the state—today refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster, of the house mines committee, that negotiations for settlement of the Colorado mine strike be entered into to determine whether or not the strike unions had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America. This refusal was announced after a telegram from Foster had been sent to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in New York, calling him to settle the strike by recognizing the union, had been received by the operating companies of this state. The telegram from Dr. Foster to Mr. Rockefeller read:

"William Green, secretary-treasurer of the International Mine Workers' union, makes public statement that mine workers will waive any recognition of union unless existing camps. Are you willing to enter into negotiations for settlement of strike on that basis, and stop killing of men, women and children? I strongly urge you to do so, and believe the strike can be ended by negotiations of the union, and all the other differences can be amicably settled. In my judgment, it is your duty to do so."

Mr. Rockefeller replied:

"Your telegram last night received. I am forwarding it to the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company in Denver, who, with officials of other mining companies in Colorado, are the only ones competent to deal with the question therein referred to."

The Colorado Fuel and Iron company and eighteen other coal operating companies replied to Dr. Foster, in part, as follows:

"We cannot enter into negotiations of any character with the officers and agents of the United Mine Workers of America, who alone are responsible for the terrible reign of disorder and bloodshed which has disgraced this state. Instead of it being our duty to do so, we conceive it rather the duty of the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, who called the strike, now to call it off. They can do so if they see fit and by so doing they will within an hour, in a great measure, restore industrial peace and prosperity to this state.

"In no event will the American people, when fully informed, permit twelve or fifteen hundred armed strikers to continue their unlawful efforts to prevent 10,000 law-abiding and industrious men from working for whom, when and upon such terms as they see fit."

MR. TULL C. WATERS FAILS TO EXPLAIN

To the Voters of Fulton County:

Mr. Waters fails to explain his withdrawal of convicts from important PUBLIC work and assigning them to the construction of a boulevard through the 200-acre farm of General Clifford L. Anderson (his chum on the county board) where they are now at work. They have to travel four miles from their camp to get to the boulevard and four miles back to camp, making a daily round trip which consumes one-fourth of their time.

Hasn't General Anderson about gotten his share of boulevards and avenues at the county's expense without Mr. Waters throwing in this one for good measure during the general's farewell year on the county board?

Instead of paving Whitehall street where it was recently regraded, this street being the main artery on the south side; instead of paving Cherokee avenue, which borders Grant Park; instead of resurfacing Ponce de Leon avenue, which is in a dreadful condition; instead of going ahead with the Butler street and Highland avenue sewer, and with the Ormond street sewer, which are menacing the health of large and populous sections of the city—

Instead of attending to these vitally important public improvements, Mr. Waters has scattered the convicts hither and yon in small groups, accomplishing no real results for the general public benefit, in an obvious wholesale attempt to catch votes.

What is his explanation?

Mr. Waters this year voted to pay Warren Bros. $47 per ton for asphalt, when last year asphalt was bought by the county for $25 per ton and less.

Mr. Waters as a county commissioner and chairman of the board is now advocating the employment of an employee of Warren Bros. as the county's asphalt paving expert, at $250 per month, when last year he bitterly opposed the employment of an INDEPENDENT asphalt expert.

Why is Mr. Waters so partial to Warren Bros.?

Mr. Waters contemptuously refers to the real estate men of Atlanta as "land gamblers."

This being his opinion of them, why does Mr. Waters at the same time put on the 1914 program the laying of 12,000 feet of water pipe at the county's expense to a subdivision owned by a private syndicate, the head of which is actively supporting him?

Respectfully,
OSCAR MILLS.

Electric Vehicles for Street Cleaning.

(From The Electrical World.)

Electrically propelled street cleaners and sweepers are being employed in several towns in Germany and other European countries with considerable satisfaction and economy. The sweepers are slightly more economical than the washers, operating at about 6.5 cents per 1,000 square yards swept, while the flushing washers require about 6.45 cents per 1,000 square yards washed. These figures include interest on initial investment, maintenance, etc. The machines employed are capable of flushing and sweeping a square yard of street per day.
