SWEEPING REFORMS ARE BEING PLANNED FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Complete Redistricting of Atlanta Proposed in Resolutions Introduced by Commissioner R. J. Guinn.

SEVEN-GRADE SYSTEM IN PLACE OF EIGHT

Plan to Limit Number of Children to Forty for Each Teacher—Will Place High Schools on Unit System.

Sweeping reforms which will change Atlanta's entire public school system were proposed by Commissioner R. J. Guinn, ninth ward member, at the meeting of the city school board, yesterday afternoon.

Commissioner Guinn's plans were presented to the board in three separate sets of resolutions. The sentiment of the board appeared unanimous that they be carried out. Most conspicuous among the reforms suggested is contained in a resolution which urges a complete and thorough redistricting of Atlanta's schools, particularly those which were built with part of the $2,000,000 bond issue.

Another reform urged on the board provides for making the maximum number of children in each grade room 40 instead of as now 70. The minimum urged is 30. Seven years instead of 8 is urged to cover the grammar course of the schools.

Constitution Opened Fight.

Both reforms harmonize with The Constitution's demands when this paper took up the fight against overcrowding of the classrooms and urged the school board and the finance committee to provide the means of improving conditions.

Detaching the normal school from the Girls' High school and making it a part of the grammar school is under that the normal school students may be in constant touch with the active work of the grammar schools for which they are trained is the substance of Commissioner Guinn's third resolution.

The three proposed reforms were referred to the school committee to make a thorough study as to the advisability of the changes and report back at the next meeting.

The reforms, if adopted, will be put into effect at the beginning of the next school session.

Other Reforms Proposed.

Other reforms urged by Commissioner Guinn are as follows:

That the superintendent, principals of the high schools and the committee on courses of study and teachers be asked to make out and submit a practical course of study and schedule for same, for placing the high schools on the unit system, retaining in such course sufficient units to meet college entrance requirements, but relieving those students who do not plan entering college from taking the entire course, at the same time providing a plan whereby they may fully complete such of the high school units as they may desire.

That the course of study in the grammar grades be reconstructed on a basis of seven years instead of eight.

These matters will have to be considered and reported on.

For more than an hour the board was engaged in a discussion of the question of having a survey made of Atlanta's school system. The matter was before the members at the last meeting. The discussion went around the table and the board finally voted to instruct Secretary Landrum to inform Chief Superintendent R. L. Britain that it is the desire of the city board that one of the state supervisors make the survey immediately.

Commissioner Dan Green raised an interesting point in the discussion by declaring that if a survey is made it should be directed by the board. He declared that it is the duty of each member of the board to make an individual survey, and he suggested that Mayor Woodward should appoint a person to make the survey, and that he should go outside the city or state, if necessary, to get an expert.

Wants Survey Made.

"I am in favor of asking the mayor to have the survey made," Commissioner Guinn said in reply to Commissioner Green. "But I think we should not anticipate that the state board will be antagonistic. The board should get someone to make a survey and get the facts, not to make recommendations about this school or that school. What we want now is information."

Mayor Woodward stated that by whatever name it might be called a survey or investigation—any criticism should be made before the board. He declared that a report cannot possibly do as much harm as the comment and criticism of last year.

"There should be a stop to officials parading their departments before the public through the newspapers in order to get more money from the city," the mayor said. "You all know that it did not get this board anything, and it hurt the school system."

The mayor declared that he is going to deal vigorously with such officials in the future.

Asked what particular department he had reference to, Mayor Woodward said that he directed his remarks at the school department. He said he did not approve Superintendent Slaton's comments made in the newspapers recently.

Commissioner Terrell again informed the board that a corps of experts from the Russell Sage Foundation and the Bureau of Municipal Research were in the possession of the chamber of commerce.

"They have been pigeon-holed," he said. "The suppression of these reports will have a bad effect. If the reports are favorable to this board they should be given to us, and if they are unfavorable is all the stronger

HUSBAND ARRESTED BY A WOMAN MAYOR FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Portland, Ore., March 17.—Mrs. John Larsen, mayor of Troutdale, Ore., caused the arrest of her husband today on a charge of selling liquor to minors.

Recently the woman mayor asked the district attorney to investigate alleged law violations. When she found that evidence had been discovered against her husband, himself a liquor dealer, she promptly swore out a warrant.

"I did not think I'd catch Mr. Larsen," she said today, "but if he's guilty he'll have to take his medicine like the rest."

HEAVY FIGHTING BETWEEN REBELS AND HUERTA FORCES

Long Expected Battle for the Possession of the Important City of Torreon Reported Under Way.

FEDERALS ADVANCED TO MEET VILLA'S FORCES

Rebels Are Said to Be Very Hard Pressed—Gen. Villa Is Reported to Have Gone to the Front.

Juarez, Mexico, March 17.—Heavy fighting, with the rebels hard pressed, was reported here tonight. A force of federals is said to have met Villa's army at Escalon, an important railroad town, 100 miles north of Torreon, and both sides have been reinforced. The battle is said to have raged fiercely all day today.

The railroad from Torreon runs north through Escalon to Jimines, Chihuahua, and beyond. On each side of the road are mountains. These for ten miles are marked with rifle pits, dug in previous revolutions. It is reported that the federals moved out of Torreon in two detachments, pursuant to orders from Provisional President Huerta.

One detachment is said to have moved west of the railroad with mountains between it and the railroad, while the main body went directly by rail to Escalon. The eastern detachment evidently was trying to get in Villa's rear, as it was moving in the direction of Jiminez, 55 miles north of Escalon.

Men Advance Speed.

General Urbana, of the constitutionalists, however, had been posted at Escalon with a force of men. Just such strategy, and last Saturday is said to have encountered the federal advance guard, or near that point, which is about 130 miles west of Jimisez. He is said to have sent out scouting parties to have telegraphed for reinforcements. The main battle at Escalon, apparently, was timed by General Velasco, the federal commander, to occur after reinforcements had been detached to assist Urbana, is believe to have begun last night or early today. No details are available. Is there each of an engagement were contained in a fifteen word telegram.

The Zaragoza brigade of 2,500 veterans, under General Aguirre Benavides, encountered the federals at Escalon, according to reports that have been pressed back yesterday. This is believed to account for the sudden departure from Chihuhua of General Francisco Villa, the rebel commander-in-chief. He gave his staff on hour's notice and has departed on a special train. It is assumed then Villa brought up reinforcements today and that the battle is renewed with increased vigor.

Rebels Jeering South.

The rebel troops have been moving south from Juarez and Chihuahua and closing in from other directions for a month. Rebel leaders have laid claim to 30,000 men, but 15,000 is regarded as a loser estimate. Reinforcements from Torreon have placed the federal force under General Refugio Velasco at 7,000 to 9,000, adding that he possibly was 5,000 reinforced.

A fortnight ago rebel generals under Villa were disposed as follows: Jiminez, General Herrera, with 2,000 men; at Escalon, between Jiminez and Torreon, General Garcia, with 1,200; near Maplmi, General Urbana, with 2,500 in the hills of Durango, and southwest of Torreon, General Contreras, with 4,000, and south of Torreon, the magistrian General Pastors with 1,000. General Aguilar had been recruiting at of Torreon and recently General Aguilar had been recruiting at of Torreon and recently General Aguilar, Benavides with the celebrate Zaragoza brigade, entrained at Chihuhua for Escalon.

The rebels have claimed for some time the Torreon was absolutely cut off from the rest of the ground, but no official communication in railroad circles yesterday reported the railroad line open between Eagle Pass, Texas, and that city.

The last hint received here of the imminence of a battle came on Saturday, then it was stated that as all cars had been needed by the transportation of troops the regular tri-weekly service between Chihuahua and Juarez would be abandoned temporarily.

Strict Censorship.

This is taken to indicate an early move afoward and the impression was deepened Sunday when the censorship, at Chihuahua, which had been somewhat suddenly demanded on press dispatches and allowed only the briefest paragraphs to go through. Last night and today, with Villa's actual departure, the censor apparently stopped all messages, except those on official business.

The only north of Torreon is a desert and one of Villa's greatest problems, who he solved by the use of tank cars to reservoirs, to assure a water supply for horses and men.

The desert is one of the worst in Mexico. The cactus alone thrives, and under the glaring sands the traveler frequently dies on the bones of an-

NOLAN MEMBER OF GANG ONE SUSPECT DECLARES

Torn Money, Nitroglycerin and Pistols and Exploding Caps Found in Basement of Home of Prisoner.

In the discovery of a complete safe-cracking outfit, buried in the basement of the home of a suspected member of Atlanta's "box squad" believe they have sufficient evidence to convict three prisoners held at the police station of having robbed the safe of Walker Bros., at Griffin, Ga., of $305 last Saturday.

This is the second gang of alleged yeggmen who have been rounded up by the plain clothes man within the last ten days, the other gang consisting of four men now being under arrest at Milledgeville for the $20000 robbery there on February 14.

Sergeant George Bullard head of the vice squad, and his partner, Plain-clothesman Shaw, assisted by Night Chief Jett, are responsible for the arrest of the two gangs of yeggs.

C. R. Walker, of Griffin, Ga., having a tip that the gang that robbed his safe Saturday night had skipped for Atlanta, boarded a train for this city Sunday afternoon, reported the matter to Chief Jett, and by 1 o'clock Sunday night two of the three suspects, now under arrest at police barracks, had been arrested. They gave their names as W. R. Gray, of Cincinnati, and A. G. Terry, of 89 Brookline st., Atlanta. Both men claimed to be painters. Gray's right name, according to the detectives, is William Grant, and he goes under another alias, "Billy Desmoines."

Another Suspect Held.

Rexford Fields, whom the two suspects live with at 89 Brookline street, came to police station Monday morning to see the two men and the officers became suspicious of him and arrested him.

Sergeant Bullard and Shaw secured a search warrant and went out to his home, where they found buried under the floor of the basement, which was noticed, causing them to make a thorough search of the basement. Here they found buried under the floor three bags of yeggmen's outfits, containing two bottles of nitroglycerin, exploding caps, fuses, oil of mustard, three pistols, overalls, steel saws, auger bits, comprising the most complete yeggman's outfit ever seen by the officers. A roll of money was found in one bag, consisting of torn greenbacks partially destroyed by explosions. It amounted to about $125.

Fields, when being grilled by the officers, admitted that John Nolan, who was sentenced at Marietta Tuesday afternoon to serve twenty years for robbing the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis train at Vinings, Ga., last January, was a member of their gang, and stated that they had tried to get Nolan out of trouble for some time.

Detective Black arrived from Marietta about this time, where he had been attending the trial of Nolan, and hearing the conversation, produced a slip of paper he had taken off the person of Nolan, on which was the name and address of Fields.

First Arrest Made.

Sergeant Bullard first became suspicious of the gang of yeggmen recently when he arrested Jack Saunders, said to be head of the gang that is charged with robbing the Milledgeville grocery store of $25,000, lourfoed tipping him off to the gang. Due, in large part, to the efforts of Georgia's 5,000 men, the alleged yeggmen are now behind the bars, being held for trial, and during the course of a day or so two more arrests will follow.

Mrs. Rex Fields, a pretty little wife of one of the suspects, went to police station Tuesday morning, and was allowed to see her husband, while an officer guarded him. On returning to his cell, Fields, while passing his cell of Gray, threw him an Atlanta Constitution, rolled up, asking him if he wanted to read it. The officer grabbed the paper to investigate it and found pinned to an inside sheet a clipping of either paper which gave an account of the Griffin safe blowing of last Saturday night.

WALKER MISTAKEN FOR LEO. M. FRANK AND NEARLY NABBED

Gainesville, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Mr. and Mrs. J. Heindell, hikers from Atlanta to New York, passed through Gainesville this morning, and from the pleasant smile with which they greeted newspaper men, they have been faring well and having a jolly good time since they left the Gate City.

Mr. and Mrs. Heindell left Atlanta last Tuesday morning on the hike and have stopped over in several small towns on their route, saying, however, that they stayed in Buford longer than they intended to.

Mr. Heindell said that he had been taken many times for Leo M. Frank on his hike, and came near being arrested several times on suspicion, but having proper documents on his person giving conclusive evidence of his identity, he was always able to evade the bars.

NOLAN CONVICTED, IS GIVEN 20 YEARS

Marietta, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) John Nolan, accused of the daring single-handed robbery of a Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis passenger train on the outskirts of Atlanta on January 17 and of afterwards engaging in a pistol battle with the porter and a county policeman, was found guilty in the Cobb county superior court here this afternoon and sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary.

F. W. Hinton, of Atlanta, positively identified Nolan as the bandit who relieved Mr. Hinton of $77 the train. Two negro porters also identified Mr. Nolan as the bandit. Herbert Clay, assisted by Charles H. Griffin, of Marietta, and the accused man's attorneys, Don K. Johnson, of Atlanta, and J. E. Mosely, of Marietta, finished their arguments shortly before 3 o'clock.

On the night of January 16, 1914, a lone bandit, unmasked, boarded the Pullman of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis train between the little station of Vinings and Bolton, Ga., and at the point of a revolver, made the passengers turn over to him their possessions.

Just before the train reached Bolton the robber started to leave the car, when the negro porter opened fire on him. A deputy who was a passenger in another coach had come in, and he, too, joined in the fusillade. The bandit, retreating, returned the fire in true western style, and, jumping from the moving train, made his escape. The passengers, many of whom were ladies, were terror-stricken, but no one was struck by the rain of bullets going in two directions.

A few minutes after the train had left Bolton for Atlanta Nolan was arrested by officers as he was turned into the road at the rear of the depot there. He failed to give a satisfactory account of his presence in the neighborhood and was arrested on suspicion. Later he was indicted by the grand jury, and his conviction Tuesday marks the final chapter in the most daring holdup Georgia has ever known.

MRS. GOELET GRANTED DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND

Extreme Cruelty Was Alleged Both to Share Custody of Children.

Newport, R. I., March 17.—Mrs. Elsie Whalen Goelet, prominent in New York and Newport society circles, was granted a divorce today from Robert Goelet on the ground of extreme cruelty. Both are to have custody of their older son, Ogden, aged 6. The mother is to keep Peter, aged 2 years, their only other child, until he is 6 years old, when she is to share the custody of the child with the father.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Goelet was in court and the suit was uncontested. The testimony was by depositions.

Justice Barrow, in announcing his decision said:

"Extreme cruelty may consist of insulting and abusive language, as well as physical violence. The testimony shows the continuous use of insulting, vulgar and abusive language by Goelet toward his wife, accompanied by numerous petty acts to annoy and embarrass her. The effect has been, according to the testimony, a serious impairment of her health, and the conditions fully warrant granting this decree."

Elsie Whalen, the second daughter of Henry Whalen, of a well-known Philadelphia family, became socially notable in the Newport season of 1906 as a debutante. She was married to Robert Goelet, the only son of Mrs. Ogden Goelet, at Wayne, Pa., June 14, 1911. Miss Alice Roosevelt was a bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Goelet passed nearly every summer at Newport. Rumors of an estrangement were current during the latter part of the 1913 season and, on January 21, this year, Mrs. Goelet filed suit for divorce.

Robert Goelet was born in 1876. He was graduated from Harvard in 1900 and has been active since in Newport society. His sister, Miss May Goelet, wedded the Duke of Roxburgh.

New Nose and Lips Have Been Provided For Young Canadian

Baltimore, March 17.—With a new nose, made from one of his ribs, strapped to his face, which was denuded of features in a sawmill accident three years ago, Ross Allen, a young Canadian, is recovering from a remarkable operation at a hospital here.

It was the most important of a series of skin grafts which have given back to him new lips and now a new nose covered with skin taken from the man's forehead. The last operation was completed a week ago and is considered a success.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE UP TO THE STATES

Senator Borah Tells Women They Will Not Get the Vote From Nation—States' Right Problems Involved.

Washington, March 17.—After a vigorous defense of woman suffrage in the senate today, Senator Borah, of Idaho, shocked suffrage advocates on the floor and in the galleries by declaring it was impractical and impossible for women to obtain the vote by constitutional amendment. He predicted that after fifteen years of vain endeavor, women would renew their abandoned request before the people of the states, because in seeking an amendment to the federal constitution they had loaded themselves down with the negro question, the labor question, and a dozen other states right problems.

"You will never carry the required thirty-six states for a constitutional woman suffrage amendment," said the senator, "until you repeal the fifteen amendment."

Fifteenth Amendment Dead.

Asserting that the fifteenth amendment, giving the negro the right to vote, was a blunder in the constitution and now a dead letter, not being enforced in a single state, Senator Borah asked whether advocates of the women suffrage amendment now pending for a moment supposed southern states would add 2,000,000 to the list of those whom they must disfranchise.

"Violation of law is a bad thing," he added. "It it demoralizing to the negro race to place in the constitution the form of rights that we do not mean to see they shall enjoy."

The fifteenth amendment, the senator declared, was a blunder, engendered in a spirit of retaliation, with the result that after the first blush of satisfaction the north had connived at the south's violations of it. The amendment infringed upon state rights, and might furnish a precedent for an amendment declaring the right to hold real estate or attend school should not be denied because of race or color.

Pacific Slope and Japanese.

"I have no desire," explained the senator, "to take the franchise on the 10,000 Japanese on the Pacific slope, or yield up to the federal government the control of the social questions of the Pacific coast. I would prevent federal interference in these great Pacific states and to the framers work of our government if I were to here set legislation so to limit their own property in the states."

Senator Borah defended the wisdom of the framers of the republic in writing into the fabric of federal government the Hamiltonian ideas of a strong central government with the Jeffersonian ideas of local government. The perpetuity of the government, he said, numerous petty acts to annoy and embarrass her. The effect has been, according to the testimony, a serious impairment of her health, and the conditions fully warrant granting this decree."

COTTON EXCHANGE BEGINS TO REFORM

New York Organization Adopts the Nine-Grade System So Long in Force in New Orleans.

New York, March 17.—Submission to the nine-type system of cotton grading favored by the United States government was acknowledged today by the board of managers of the New York cotton exchange in the adoption of a resolution making the government standard types of cotton the basis for trading on and after April 1, 1915.

The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That the government standard types of the following grades of cotton, i. e., middling fair, strict good middling, good middling, strict middling, middling, strict low middling, low middling, strict good ordinary and good ordinary shall be the basis for determining the grade of all cotton for delivery upon contracts made on and after April 1, 1915."

The twenty-three cotton grades heretofore maintained by the New York cotton exchange have been criticised severely in the news and it was said by some of those in touch with the situation that today's action was taken to forestall possible antagonistic legislation by congress.

The nine-grade system has been applied by the New Orleans exchange for years, and is said to simplify the marketing of the product. Conciliatory action was taken last fall by the New York exchange, but the concession did not completely appease dissatisfaction in the south, which has insisted on a complete surrender, it is said.

Federal Regulation Favored.

Little Rock, Ark., March 17.—Directors of the Arkansas Cotton association, an organization of cotton buyers and compress owners, in session here today adopted resolutions favoring government supervision of cotton exchanges so far as is necessary to compel the issuance of contracts in future transactions as properly to represent business conditions.

The resolutions suggest that cotton exchanges in sending out quotations, either spots or futures, should be required to adopt government classification and urge that the New York and New Orleans exchanges be compelled to base their contracts on the commercial differences between grades.

CENSURE FOR M'DERMOTT URGED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, March 17.—Censure for Representative McDermott, of Chicago, who figured in the house lobby investigation, was recommended today by a subcommittee of the judiciary committee. Resolutions of censure for the National association of Manufacturers, Martin J. Mulhall, the star witness of the lobby investigation; James A. Emery, W. Bird and John Kirby, of the manufacturers' association, also were recommended. The entire committee took the recommendation under consideration.

TILLMAN DECLARES HE'LL BURY COLLEAGUES

Washington, March 17.—"I'll bury you fellows yet," commented Senator Tillman today after he had said he noticed some of the senators laughed when the senate clerk read an article on health contributed to a magazine by the South Carolinian.

Senator Tillman introduced an amendment to the naval appropriation bill providing that no officer or enlisted man in the navy who became incapacitated through his own intemperate use of alcoholic drinks should receive pay during the period of his incapacity.

Steamer Wrecked; All Saved.

Halifax, N. S. W., March 17.—With her eleven passengers, four of them women and one a 6-year-old girl, and crew of thirty-six saved, the steamer City of Sydney, which early today ran on the Sambro rocks, 16 miles east of here, in a fog, tonight was abandoned and likely will become a total loss. It was possible during the day to save a little of the steamer's cargo.

BECKER WILL COME TO LEO FRANK'S AID IF DEFENSE CALLS

Former Master Mechanic, Who Figures in Murder Note Mystery, Talks to New York Reporters of Phagan Case.

CLAMOR FOR A VICTIM CONVICTED LEO FRANK SAYS DETECTIVE BURNS

Under Similar Conditions, Believes Any Other Man Would Have Had to Contend With Same Public Sentiment.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—Henry Frederick Becker, of 61 Maple avenue, Covington, promises to be an important witness in the defense of Leo M. Frank, the young pencil factory superintendent of Atlanta, who has been convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, a 16-year-old factory employee, on April 26, 1913.

Becker was the master mechanic at the National Pencil factory of Atlanta, in the basement of which the Phagan girl's body was found, from September, 1908, to December, 1912. Becker's connection with the case centers about the blank paper pads, one of which was used to write the "death notes" found beside the body of the murdered girl.

Mr. Becker was seen at his Irvington home today, and said he was prepared to explain what he knows about the toll-tale paper pads.

Becker Shows Signature.

Becker said that when he worked in Atlanta he signed all of the factory orders. He readily acquiesced when asked to sign his name hurriedly in the fashion in which he said he always signed the factory orders, and using the last letter of his name with a flourish, he wrote the signature, "H."

"It was I who hired Mary Phagan," he said. "That was about a year before I left, or about the last of 1912. While I was there she worked in two different departments, first at a machine on the fourth floor and later directly under my supervision in the metal department on the second floor.

"During the entire time I was there I never knew Mr. Frank to make any advances toward any girl."

Asked if he would identify the signature of the blank, Becker said that he would be glad to have the authority to call on him for this or any testimony he could give regarding Frank's character.

Believe Note Carbon Copy.

Frank's defense contends that the original order, of which sheet the strip on which Conley wrote the murder notes, said to be a carbon copy, was made out to the Cotton States Belting and Supply company, between September 15 and 18, 1908, by Becker, who at that time was master mechanic at the pencil plant.

Becker subsequently resigned. All the pads which had been accumulated during his administration were thrown in the rubbish pile down in the basement, where friends of Frank believe Conley obtained the sheet of paper on which the murder note was written.

Frank's friends argue that this second sheet of the order No. 1614—which are the figures contained on the murder note—was carried into the basement where Mary Phagan's body was found, with other papers sent there

SAYS CALL FOR VICTIM CONVICTED LEO FRANK

Declaring that he is absolutely after the truth and that when he finishes his investigation Atlanta will know beyond a shadow of a doubt who is the guilty party, William J. Burns, the great detective who has taken up an active investigation of the Phagan murder, talked freely to a Constitution reporter last night on the subject of the part that popular prejudice has played in the conviction of Leo M. Frank.

Mr. Burns was asked:

"Do you think that prejudice against a Jew has played any considerable part in the Frank case?"

He answered:

"Undoubtedly there has been and is in Atlanta prejudice against Frank because of the fact that he is a Jew."

"Do you think that this prejudice exists among the class of level-headed, thinking people?" the reporter asked.

"Most certainly not," was Mr. Burns' reply. "Such a qualification as that absolutely eliminates all possibility of such prejudice."

"At the time of the trial," continued the reporter, "do you think that the prejudice against Frank, if there was such, was due to the fact that he was a Jew, or to the fact that the public wanted some man to answer for the murder of Mary Phagan, and for the first two weeks, which was long enough for public sentiment to crystallize, the circumstantial evidence centered on Frank alone?"

Why Frank Was Convicted.

"I think the conviction of Frank's guilt which formed is the public mind before his trial was due entirely to the fact or condition which existed before his trial, which was, namely: There had been a number of murders and homicides in Atlanta for which no one had been made to answer. When the murder of this innocent little girl occurred it was more than a just and many public outcries for. They immediately demanded the discovery of the murderer of this victim. For the first several weeks before his trial the entire evidence, even though circumstantial, pointed to Leo Frank, and public sentiment naturally crystallized upon him. If any other man had been the victim of these circumstances, I do not think but that he would have been in the same fix as Frank himself. At that time I do not believe that prejudice against a Jew figured to any great extent in the case."

Mr. Burns stated positively that he had discovered new clews and evidence in the Frank case, but declined at this time to disclose them.

He was asked whether they would be made public before the motion for extraordinary of the defense for a new trial, and to stated at this stage of the investigation he could not state positively, whether they would be revealed or not, but that he was of the opinion that in all probability they would be made public.

"I am in this case to the finish," he said. "I am going to find out the truth of this matter. The Frank case has not only reached a status of national importance, but a state of international importance. For this reason I cannot afford to overlook anything in it. I am going to the bottom of the matter, and when I am done, depend upon it, Atlanta and the world will know who is the murderer of little Mary Phagan."

Mr. Burns stated that he will be in Atlanta until the end of the Frank case, except for one or two important business engagements which might take him out of the city for a day or so at the time.

Detectives May Clash.

Indications were Tuesday afternoon that there is likely to be a clash between Detective Chief N. A. Lanford and Detective William J. Burns, in their proposed conference.

In talking with a reporter for The Constitution Lanford was asked if he would reveal to Burns the new evidence which he is said to have accumulated during recent developments of the Leo Frank case.

"I will show Burns everything that has gone before the courts," answered the chief.

"But will you disclose this new evidence you are said to possess?" he was questioned.

"I will rather not say. Mr. Burns and I will compare notes if he meets us on neutral ground."

Lanford Non-Committal.

"Then, do you mean to say that you will withhold this new evidence?"

"I will not say whether or not we have any new evidence, whether or not it would be shown Burns. I won't commit myself one way or the other."

A member of Chief Lanford's staff—whose name is withheld—recently stated that Lanford had in his hands an amount of evidence having a direct bearing on the Frank case. Some of it, he declared, was in refutation of newly-discovered evidence recently given to the public by the convicted man's defense.

It is rumored that Detective Burns will seek to view whatever evidence Chief Lanford holds. That such evidence is in existence is evinced by the numerous secret conferences that have taken place of late between Solicitor Hugh Dorsey and Chief Lanford, including a number of the star detectives of police headquarters.

"All that I want from Mr. Burns," said Lanford Tuesday afternoon, "is assurance of mutual co-operation. If he is in need of my assistance, he surely shall have it. However, I can not say anything regarding the new evidence, as I have never yet corroborated the fact that it is in existence."

Defends Frank Jury.

As a consequence of the sermons delivered in three Atlanta pulpits Sunday night, saving a new trial for Frank, J. T. Osburn, one of the twelve jurors who returned the verdict of guilty, has written the following communication to The Constitution:

"Editor Constitution: Three men, speaking from as many pulpits in Atlanta on last Sunday, are quoted as charging that the trial of Leo Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan, was unfair (one of them, if correctly quoted, claiming that in Atlanta it must, of necessity, be so) and demanding that the verdict be set aside.

"As a member of the jury which convicted Frank, I wish to say a few words whether or not these men who so bitterly arraign the city of Atlanta, the judge and the jury, heard the testimony. I do not know, and I do know:

"That jury heard all the testimony and claim to have sufficient intelligence and honesty to weigh the evidence without prejudice and render the verdict according to the law and the testimony, notwithstanding the opinion of the Hollis-than-thou gentleman to the contrary.

"I have never styled 'yellow dogs,' 'sheep-killing dogs,' nor dogs of any other color or character, but a white man charged with a capital crime, and, speaking for myself, and, as I believe, for every member of the jury, realized the solemnity of the responsibility resting upon us.

"In those charges from the pulpits, reference was made to the 'inflamed condition of the public mind.' The history of the case, in my opinion, according to their understanding of the law and the testimony, were not listening to the influences of the 'inflamed public mind.' The testimony was strongly corroborated by every witnesses as well as by circumstantial evidence in every point which influenced the minds of the jury.

"After listening to all the testimony and all the arguments on both sides, the jury, actuated entirely and exclusively by conscientious convictions of every point, the jury believed, and still believes, that the verdict was righteous and the sentence just.

Two Conferences Held.

Detective Burns spent most of his efforts Tuesday in two lengthy interviews with Leo Frank in the prisoner's cell. At one time during the afternoon, by special consultation W. W. (Boots) Rogers Tuesday afternoon in the office of Burns Agency in the Empire building. Rogers was, at one time, actively engaged in the Phagan mystery in connection with the office of Burns Agency, when he drove the car in which the squad of policemen and Coroner Donehoo went to the scene of the discovery on the morning Mary Phagan's body was found by Newt Lee.

Burns announced that he will seek an interview with every man connected with the Frank case, including Detectives, witnesses, newspaper men, lawyers and all will be made objects of his probe.

The national interest in the Frank case has gained is attracting wide attention among the newspaper readers of Atlanta.

AT THE THEATERS.

Neil O'Brien Minstrels.

(At the Atlanta.)

The Atlanta theatre will have for its attraction Monday night the Neil O'Brien Minstrels, with Neil O'Brien and his "Great Big Show" at the head of the list. This organization has been heralded with the most favorable impression last season on its first visit to Atlanta, and the opinion is now only in its second year, the star and his attractions have already been received with the most cordial and their appearance here will be looked for eagerly by theatre goers of unusual fun in the town. Neil O'Brien, minstrel entertainer in America more entitled to stellar honors than Neil O'Brien, who is the recognized leader in this particular field of endeavor. Seats now on sale.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There are two features on the bill at the Forsyth this week, and not one of them is commonplace. The first opens with a dancing number of exceptional cleverness, by Miss Mary Ann Lee and Mr. Jack Gardner, who are being heralded as the two most graceful dancers in vaudeville. They tickle the fancy of every gathering. Their dancing is not of the "rough" kind, but that delivers a punch that is appreciated by the most critical audience this act, calling attention and applause to be marked during the entire entrance of the Lee-Gardner company. Their offering is called a dramatic playlet, "Beauty is Only Skin Deep," following the number comes a duo with songs and dances of Broadway, and the show closes with an exhibition of natural training that is of extraordinary interest. Taken as a whole, is of that sort that the ticket buyer realizes at the conclusion of the performance purchased price has been well invested.

"Two Old Sports."

(At the Columbia.)

Packed houses will be the order at the Columbia theatre this afternoon and night, and at every performance the audience showed its appreciation of the work of Jack De Delmar and George Mitton by frequent and spontaneous applause numbers, which feature Frank Beamont. Dennerus sisters, Del Delmar and others, also shared the honors. "The Two Old Sports" will be the bill for the entire week.

$257,250,000 REQUESTED FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

London, March 17.—A variant on "the naval holiday" suggestion was proposed by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in the house of commons today. In introducing the naval estimates for 1914-15, he requested $257,750,000, he said.

"Every delay, accidental or deliberate, by the great European power to England will be matched by us."

Admitting that the naval estimates were the largest that had ever been presented to the house, Mr. Churchill gilded the pill by making the prediction that in the absence of any new departure the estimates for 1915-16 would be substantially lower than the present ones, which show an increase of $17,750,000 over those of last year.

Mr. Churchill reiterated that it was the policy of Great Britain to complete eight battle squadrons by the time Germany had established five, without calculating ships on foreign stations. He explained that the development of the German fleet had not been so rapid as had been anticipated owing to difficulties in manning the vessels. Great Britain, therefore, had been enabled to postpone the completion of her Gibraltar squadron, which now consists of only four battleships. The increased expenditure, he said, was largely attributed to the change to oil fuel, to the establishment of a naval flying corps and to the increased pay of the bluejackets.

COALITION IS OPPOSED BY N. Y. PROGRESSIVES

New York, March 17.—The position of the New York state progressives in opposition to any coalition with the republicans was expressed in a letter signed by George W. Perkins and made public today by the progressive state committee.

"The primary day it seems to me makes it more plain," says the letter, "that we are to fight a three-cornered contest this fall all along the line. Republicans leaders fail entirely to recognize the tremendous changes that have come about in the minds of the voting people as a result of the mighty evolution that has been under way in recent years, and there is no more chance of their old leaders or old principles ever again being acceptable to our people than there is for a snowball to survive in Hades.

"However, since any inclination to trade or deal or sympathize with the republicans, I hope you will weed it, and let us know down here so that we can hit it again where you hit it before."

SHE CARRIED DOG WHIP TO THRASH ASQUITH

London, March 17.—A sentence of six weeks' hard labor was pronounced today by the police magistrate on Catherine Wilson, a militant suffragette, who was arrested last night in the lobby of the house of commons while dressed in man's clothing and carrying a dog whip in her hand. She was charged as a suspected person.

She said to the magistrate:

"Of course, I shall not serve the sentence," and added:

"I went to the house of commons to give Premier Asquith or Home Secretary McKenna a good thrashing."

ARRESTED FOR MURDER WHILE AT A FUNERAL

Montreal, March 17.—A constable flung himself upon Joseph Beauchamp as he, Beauchamp knelt among mourners at a little girl's funeral in the church of the Visitation de Del and arrested him for murder.

Beauchamp, it is alleged, is one of three bandits who killed a constable at St. Laurent. The latter's murder is the province in vain until Beauchamp was seen entering the church here today. A constable followed and waited until the man had knelt among the mourners before he tried to make the capture. The fight that followed broke up the funeral.

ACCUSED OF GRAFTING, HE TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Tokio, March 17.—Yoshida, said to have been the intermediary between officials of a German electrical firm and Japanese naval officials, committed suicide today in prison.

Yoshida recently was arrested in connection with the alleged receipt of illicit commissions by Japanese naval officers for influencing the allotment of contracts in favor of the German firm.

Atlanta Women Most Beautiful, Discovers Detective W. J. Burns

"Irish policeman are the best in the world."

That was the opinion on St. Patrick's day of no less an authority than William J. Burns, who is in Atlanta investigating the Frank case.

Mr. Burns was at the Atlanta club ceremonies of St. Patrick's day last night when he made the statement.

"An Irish policeman, and most of them are Irish, are the most reliable officers in the world, according to my observation. Especially are they reliable in the line of a crowd, and, forsooth, does a man want a cop to stand by him more than when he is beset by thugs and footpads in the dark? Of course, if the Irish cop happens to be after you, it is your misfortune, and at that you are mighty apt to be in the wrong.

"I have heard it said that policemen are grafters. It may be that an Irish policeman will pick up a handful of peanuts as he passes along the street on a lonesome night, but even then he is honest. Would he bestir himself for the very company and fellow feeling that it gives him. Did I have you, in all my broad experience, to see an Irish policeman take an orange. No, police are strictly ethical."

Atlanta Women Beautiful.

"And what have you detected since you have been detailed in Atlanta?" the great sleuth was asked.

"Why, I have detected," he replied, "that the women of Atlanta are the most beautiful in the world."

The great detective had just completed a turkey trot when he answered the question. It is needless to say unfair to give the name of the lady he was dancing with.

"And," he continued, "I have also observed that in Atlanta you have the most progressive and business-like men in the south. I observed south of the Mason and Dixon line. It is the New York of the south. What else I have said is enough to take one time than I have to tell."

Did he drink? Like a fish.

Just a moment, please, though, before you form any adverse opinion. He could take nothing but ginger ale and lithia water.

Among the attractive souvenirs given away at the Atlanta club St. Patrick's day dance last night were anklets with tiny tinkling bells upon them for the ladies.

Take it from one who observed the performance, Detective Burns was on the job when it came to attaching these dainty souvenirs which added to the jollity of the ballroom floor.

Although Mr. Burns said no such thing, he might easily have said that he had also detected in Atlanta some of the handsomest men and ever laid eyes on.

Dance a Pretty Affair.

He it said for the Atlanta club that its St. Patrick's day dance was one of the prettiest and most pleasing affairs that has ever held in Atlanta.

There were a large number of ladies and gentlemen present. In the ballroom they danced as sedately as the modern steps allow to the tango, the last two-step to the Hesitation. And they had a good time.

The dinner guests arrived at the club each was presented with green Irish pipes, shillalahs and other incidentals characteristic of Erin.

The decorations, of course, were those of Indian corn, a hundred dollary worth of satisfaction or your drugs at hands you your money back. GIVE CHILDREN'S JOBS TO UNEMPLOYED MEN

Proposition Meets With Favor at National Child Labor Conference.

New Orleans, March 17.—Delegates to the tenth annual National Child Labor conference here today gave emphatic tonight over the statement that a partial solution of two problems would be found in the closing of industrial plants and mill their places with the unemployed men now in the country. The organized game from Pauline W. Newman, of New York, general organizer of the International Shirtwaist Makers' union, and was made during the course of an address on child labor at the Tulane theatre, to aid in the child labor welfare work.

Child Labor Expensive.

Miss Newman contended that the chief factor in the employment of children was that employers believed they are saving money by having them in factories, but said that in the end it was the most expensive sort of labor. The statement immediately followed that of Lewis W. Hine, staff photographer of the National child labor committee, who spoke on "Night Messenger Service by Men, Not Boys."

"Cotton manufacturers are now the only ones, as a class, who oppose child labor legislation," declared Wyatt E. Swift, of Greenville, N. C., secretary of the North and South Carolina child labor committee, at the session tonight. "They want to employ children and they fight all laws restricting the employment of children. But no longer say they are educating children, for it is plain to the most ignorants and the state has no right to interfere in the affairs of child. They base their sole opposition on the contention that the workers must see that the children must work to live."

What Is Child Worth.

"What is the Child Worth" was the subject of an address tonight by Miss Josephine L. Rachenheimer, of New York, membership secretary of the national child labor committee.

Miss Ella Haas, state factory inspector of Ohio, said she believed Ohio had the best laws in the country governing child labor and was one of the few states that they were better enforced. This is due, she said, principally to the fact that the work had been practically entrusted in the hands of women for most twenty years. Careful scrutiny of the applicants for factory workers had great effect in enforcing the law, she said.

Washington, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis and Grand Rapids, Mich., have asked for the next conference. The selection will be made by the executive committee at some later date.

New President of Brazil.

Washington, March 17.—Dispatches received here today announced the election of Epitacian Braz Pessoa Gomez, formerly vice president, as president of Brazil, vice Wenceslau Braz Pereira Gomez, who under the constitution could not succeed himself. Senor Pessoa, a federal senator for Maranhao, was elected vice president.

PLOT TO SEIZE ARSENAL CHARGED TO GEN. KELLEY

Alleged That He Plans to Lead Unemployed Against Rock Island.

Sacramento, Cal., March 17.—In a report to the war department in Washington Adjutant General Forbes, of the national guard of California, has given the official confirmation of the alleged plan of "General" Kelley's unemployed army to seize the federal arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., in order to equip 500,000 men for a revolution against the government.

General Forbes' report is based on letters sent by Lieutenant Frank Irwin Grimes, of a Sacramento company of the state guard, who joined Kelley's army and acted as a spy.

Lieutenant Grimes, with a wealth of detail, related how he gained the confidence of the leaders of the unemployed who divulged their plan for capturing the United States government. There was to be a gathering of many "armies" at Chicago, according to Grimes, the men reaching that city as they "beat their way." The leaders, according to the militia spy, believed they could assemble 250,000 men there. Next moving in force, they would attack and capture Rock Island arsenal.

Railroads out of Chicago would be commandeered, said the lieutenant, and the unemployed forces well armed. Would not invade Washington, where it would have the federal government at its mercy.

The plan was then to spread a nation-wide campaign of terror and riot against employers of labor which would bring civil and military authorities and install the army's leaders as rulers.

Grimes declared his informants asserted the movement was being conducted from the east and that Kelley's forces were in touch with it in the whole. Grimes other statements was to the effect that the leaders were looking for support from a large Canadian contingent.

NO DANGER OF FLOODS FROM MELTING SNOW

Washington, March 17.—General absence of rain and high temperatures the past week have eliminated danger of high waters and floods from melting snow, according to the weather bureau today. A special bulletin tonight said snow had disappeared except in the mountainous districts of the country, and that ice had gone out of the principal rivers with a few exceptions without causing marked rises.

The bureau announced the outlook for fair weather is good. "The fall in temperature following the passing of the storm will check the "run off," but the report says further that as the temperature will be favorable to a gradual thawing of the little remaining snow and ice.

PROMINENT REAL ESTATE OWNER PRAISES QUAKER

Was Chronic Sufferer From Rheumatism, But as Usual "Quaker" Is Again Victor.

Henry Earwicki lives at 115 Kirkwood avenue, this city. He is a heavy real estate owner and well known in the city. About 15 years ago he first noticed that the pangs of rheumatism were beginning to creep into his joints and muscles. He had severe pains in the shoulders, lower limbs and back. At times he was unable to leave his home on account of the misery he endured. He would also feel sick and dizzy and was weakened by the tortures of his trouble. He had to rise frequently at night and was in a almost constant distress. He had two good specialists, also used dozens of the latest medicines, especially two very heavily advertised kidney medicines, but says they were like so much water. He kept getting worse and worse, he was attracted to the work of the Health Teacher and Quaker Extract. He was told to take Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm. Mr. Earwicki began that use, and now after only three bottles of the Extract have been taken he says: "I have never seen the equal of the wonderful Quaker remedies in my life. I suffered for many years, whereas I could have been well if I had only known about these medicines. I find that I am like a new made man; I have no such distresses as formerly and can get about with ease. I am 71 years old, so you see it is all the more remarkable. My daughter-in-law, who had kidney and stomach trouble, has also taken two bottles of the Extract and is greatly pleased at results. She can enjoy life now, after being in misery along time. I will always have a good word for Quaker."

The Health Teacher said you are surely blessing a golden opportunity if you persist in allowing yourself to suffer with any branch of kidney, stomach or blood troubles; also catarrh or rheumatism, when the cures that are being numbered by your own city are being numbered by Quaker. Call at the Courney & Munn Drug Store, 32 Marietta street.

Quaker Extract, $1.00 for six-bottle treatment, which is always required in any chronic case; $2.50 for short treatment of three bottles, which is the shortest length of time a permanent disposition can be made in the system; $1.00 single bottle, which is sometimes sufficient for minor complaints and worms in children. Oil of Balm for pains or aches, 25c. We prepay express charges on all orders of $2.00 or over.—(Adv.)

WILSON PRAISED BY PUBLISHERS

Message Indorsing President's Administration Is Wired to Washington. New Officers Are Elected.

The thirteenth annual gathering of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association came to a close late Tuesday afternoon, and by nightfall the majority of the fifty delegates who came to Atlanta Monday for the two-day session of the convention had left for their various homes, in all parts of the sixteen southern states.

The last official act of the organization was to elect officers for the ensuing year and to name a place for the fourteenth convention of the body.

The election of officers of the publishing association proved one of the delightful events of the gathering, as action on the names offered in nomination was unanimous. The officers chosen for 1914 were:

F. W. R. Hinman, of Jacksonville, Fla., president; W. L. Halstead, Atlanta, vice president; William Clemens, Birmingham, Ala., secretary. Mr. Clemens was re-elected to the office of secretary.

Asheville Gets Meeting.

In a last minute rally it was decided to hold next year's convention at Asheville, N. C. Jacksonville had made a strenuous bid for the convention, as well as Nashville, Tenn., but the selection of Asheville came as a happy solution of the much-contested problem.

The most important piece of work transacted by the publishers in the final session was the passing of an accredited list of advertising agencies in the south, from whom in the future the publishers will accept advertising copy. This action will tend to weed out the "wild cat" advertising schemes that have been prevalent in the past throughout the southern publishing field.

The afternoon session of the convention was brief but full of action. There were no reports read. The business hour was taken up with new discussion, which followed a buffet lunch served at 1 o'clock in the pine room at the Ansley hotel, where the convention has been in session.

That the Atlanta session will mark the high tide in the affairs of the Southern Publishers' association was the expression of the newly elected president of the organization, F. W. R. Hinman, as he expressed it just after the convention closed Tuesday afternoon.

"We have been royally entertained," said Mr. Hinman, "and we have, I believe, received a great benefit from our talks and the papers read before the delegates. This is by far the best gathering of the southern publishers that I have ever attended, and I look forward to a great year's activity on the part of our organization."

Message to Wilson.

At the morning session of the convention a telegram was sent to President Wilson after unanimous favorable action on the part of the delegates, which read as follows:

"Hon. Woodrow Wilson, Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.—At a meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, representing sixty daily newspapers of the south, now in session here, a resolution unqualifiedly indorsing your administration was enthusiastically and unanimously adopted.

"F. W. RI HINMAN,
"Vice President."

M. W. Connelley, of The Memphis News-Scimitar, addressed the organization during the morning, stressing the reform wave that has passed through the ranks of the southern newspapers in the last two or three years.

Major W. T. Anderson, general manager of The Macon Telegraph, who followed Mr. Connolley, brought the delegates to attention by declaring that "a good newspaper should publish good liquor and medical advertisements," citing numerous instances where such advertising had proved beneficial to readers of such a newspaper.

A. E. Clarkson, of The Houston Post; George Auer, of Atlanta; W. C. Johnson, of The Chattanooga News; James H. Holliday, of Atlanta; Charles D. Atkinson, of Atlanta, also spoke.

Several of the delegates to the convention remained over Tuesday night to attend the theaters. F. W. R. Hinman, the newly elected president of the organization, will not leave Atlanta until today.

Oliver at Nashville.

Nashville, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) A. D. Oliver, the famous Climax banker, lectured here last night. He thoroughly convinced his audience that he was innocent of the crime for which he served four years in the penitentiary.

STORE AT BOWDON BURNED TO COVER WORK OF ROBBERS

Bowdon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) The store of W. M. Price, two miles south of this place, was burglarised and burned last night. The culprits entered the store by opening one of the windows. After ransacking the store they poured kerosene oil on the walls and set fire to the building to cover up their work. Blood hounds were secured and put on the track of the thieves, ran them for some distance and found that they had waded in a branch for some distance after which the dogs were unable to track them further. It is believed that they put something on their feet to throw the dogs off the scent.

The store and its contents are a total loss of about three thousand dollars.

BAINBRIDGE TO HOLD MEETING OF SHRINERS

Bainbridge, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Shriners throughout southwest Georgia are preparing eagerly for the pilgrimage to be held here April 22. This is one of the largest commanderies in the state and annually furnishes many candidates to the shrine, a pilgrimage having been held here for the last five years uninterruptedly.

On this occasion, which concerns practically every city and town in southwest Georgia that has a Masonic lodge in it, candidates will be had from Camilla, Pelham, Meigs, Thomasville, Boston, Cairo, Whigham, Colquitt, Blakely and other neighboring towns. Fully seventy-five candidates are expected owing to the approaching meeting of the imperial council, in Atlanta, in May, as this is one of the last initiations in the state before the great event of shrinedom.

HOUNDS USED TO HUNT FOR STOLEN LIQUOR

Cordele, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Getting booze seemed to be the sole object of unknown parties who broke into the depot of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway at Wenona, last night. Several gallons of the spirits triument were carried away, while nothing else about the depot was molested. The parties owning the liquor, as strongly bent on recovering their packages as the thieves were in getting them, put bloodhounds on their trial, but failed to capture them.

3 MUTINOUS SAILORS JAILED IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—Three seamen of the New York schooner Three Marys are lodged in the Savannah jail on charges of mutiny preferred by Captain Gantt, of the vessel. According to the captain, the men refused to obey orders to clear port last night because Gantt would not pay a fine of $60 assessed against a fourth member of the crew on a disorderly charge. The fourth seaman is held by city authorities.

PLAYGROUND SECRETARY WILL COME TO ATLANTA

The Playground and Recreation Association of America, at the invitation of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, will send to Atlanta shortly a field secretary for the purpose of developing this work in the city and the south. This invitation was sent by President Wilkinson, at the instance of the parks and playground committee of the chamber, of which V. H. Kriegshaber is chairman.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE HANDICAPPED

Must Send Samples All the Way to New York to Compete for Orders for Supplies for Fort McPherson.

That it is necessary for Atlanta merchants bidding on the commissary supplies of Fort McPherson to send their samples all the way to New York in order to compete with New York merchants for the trade of the local army post was brought out at a meeting of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce committee on wholesale trade, of which Lynn Foot is chairman, at the chamber of commerce quarters, in the Empire building, Tuesday afternoon.

This comes about, it is believed, by the abolishment of the department of the gulf, thus placing the Atlanta post, as a part of the Second brigade, directly under the command of the First division, the headquarters of which are at Governor's island, New York. Since this change was made in the divisions of the army, it is said, the division quartermaster of the First division, whose office is at the division headquarters, has done all the purchasing of commissary supplies for the post at Forst McPherson, and the commissary department here has had nothing to do with the purchases except such as include perishable goods.

Thus it is that Atlanta merchants have had opportunity to bid locally only on perishable goods and a few of the supplies for the officers.

A number of Atlanta merchants were present at the committee meeting and a thorough discussion of the situation was held.

At the adjournment it was decided that Chairman Foot should appoint a subcommittee of three, who should go to Fort McPherson and make investigations and hold conferences and appeal to any other sources where they may be able to get information which will aid in solving the question of bringing the post trade back to Atlanta.

Chairman Foot will appoint this committee within the next two or three days. When the subcommittee has completed its investigations a meeting of the wholesale trade committee will be called and the subcommittee will make its report. This report will probably be forthcoming next week.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 17.—(Special.)—Representative William Schley Howard received today another letter from Major General J. B. Aleshire, chief quartermaster United States army, confirming his promise of yesterday to call to the attention of the adjutant general's department the discrimination against Atlanta merchants in the matter of furnishing supplies at Fort McPherson.

The letter calls attention to a previous letter, dated March 3, 1913, and another of December, 1913, referring to the purchase of supplies and the orders issued by the quartermaster's department that Atlanta merchants be afforded an opportunity to bid on these supplies.

Major General Aleshire quotes part of his letter of yesterday to the adjutant general, upon receipt of Representative Howard's latest protest, backed by one from Mr. Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and adds:

"It is requested that this matter be again referred to the department authorities of the eastern department for their investigation and report. It is requested that action in this instance be explicit."

The letter quotes the complaints that since last October Atlanta merchants have not been given an opportunity to bid on subsistence stores, and again specifically directs that hereafter bids be received from them for supplies needed at Fort McPherson.

DIAMONDS DISAPPEAR, PUZZLING DETECTIVES

The detective force of Atlanta is puzzled over the strange disappearance of $1,000 of jewels from the home of Mrs. Fleming G. duBignon, at No. 12 Peachtree place, the jewels being missed for the first time on Sunday.

Miss Nan duBignon is the owner of the jewels, and she states that she has not worn them since Christmas, and that they have been in her dresser drawer since that time. Sunday she wanted to wear some of them, and unlocking the drawer, she discovered that they had disappeared.

The detectives are puzzled as to how to find the time the jewels were taken from the drawer.

The following gems are missing: A two-stoned diamond pin, crescent pin of thirteen pearls, ring set with six pearls, gold stickpin set with two diamonds and one ruby.

A Word About Hatters, Otters, March Hares, and L. C. ADLER'S Spring Haberdashery

THE English used to think Otters were crazy, because the Otters slashed around in the trout-streams, killing the fish at all seasons.

When a Man had wild ways, they used to say he was "Mad as an Otter."

But the English have a queer way of mixing their H's, and the phrase has gradually changed to "Mad as a Hatter," to the great scandal and amusement of all who deal in headgear.

In reality, however, Hatters and March Hares have little in common, and a good Hatter must invariably be a sensible man.

I am a Hatter and Haberdasher.

I sell hats, shirts, ties, collars, cuff buttons or links, studs, pins, waistcoats, socks, underwear, garters, belts, and all the accessories of men's dress.

I handle the finest and most exclusive lines in Atlanta.

It is money in your pocket to buy my haberdashery. It looks better—wears longer—it is economical—it is business efficiency.

One of my customers wears $5 and $10 shirts. They appeal to his taste. Some of his shirts are three years old and every time he puts one on it looks like a brand-new shirt. He has spent less money in shirts in one year than some men who buy only $1.50 and $2 shirts.

The lower priced shirts that I sell are the best made for the money.

But my high priced shirts are also worth every cent I ask for them.

It's the same way with ties. A shrewd business man can often judge a man's line of thought and scope of activities by his neckwear. I have ties at fifty cents that are beauties, remarkable values for the money. I have others up to five dollars that will hold their form, color, style and character as long as a man stands up to don one, and then the fabric will still be a piece of rare beauty that one hates to discard. A well dressed man buys fifty cent ties from me. His neighbor buys $5 ones. I sell them both. They are satisfied. They know they get full value here in any grade.

I can advise you as to style. My customers have learned that L. C. Adler's taste can be trusted. But you can decide for yourself and find here exactly what you want.

And remember this: You don't have to be a lavish spender to become a valued customer of L. C. Adler.

We take pride in the exclusiveness of the styles we show, but we take an equal pride in offering SUBSTANTIAL VALUES.

On this basis we invite your patronage.

THE POLITICAL HORIZON.

The address of Gifford Pinchot, delivered yesterday at Huron, S. D., and published elsewhere today, is thus far the most important political pronouncement of the year. Next to Roosevelt himself, now in the jungles of Brazil, Pinchot speaks with authority for the bull moose element.

The olive branch held out by the ineffectual stand-pat element of the G. O. P. is rudely brushed aside and war to the finish is declared. Such shining lights as Hadley, Borah, Cummins and La Follette, Pinchot reads out of the progressive camp without benefit of clergy. There is a ring of contempt, a note of finality to his every sentence. The republican party is dead. He knows it and believes everybody else knows it. You will not compromise with a corpse. And there you are.

Mr. Pinchot states the case with prophetic accuracy. The republican schism is irreconcilable.

What bearing have these developments on the fortunes of the democratic party? This: That the party will go into the fall elections with a two-to-one advantage as it did in the latest presidential election, and that, in turn, means increased majorities in house and senate.

The fragment of the wreck of the one-time invincible republican party will disappear altogether with the next presidential election, if, indeed, it survives the congressional elections next fall.

The bull moose contingent has the zeal of the crusader. It is destined to dominate the opposition to democracy.

So far the democracy, guided skillfully by the president and his advisers in house and senate, has fought a battle marvelously successful from points of view of national popularity and political advantage. It has only to pursue the lines thus far laid down to become impregnable before the country.

Then, when the break-up comes, as it soon is scheduled, in the ranks of the opposition, the democratic party will bid on winning terms for those who find the G. O. P. too old-fashioned and the bull moose too erratic. No party ever was confronted by greater opportunity than that which now confronts the democracy. With the opposition hopelessly divided, victory is in its hand. Every portent in the political sodiac blazes victory. If the party avoids extremism and cleaves to non-partisan service, as it has done so signally with the tariff and the currency, it is assured of an indefinite tenure of power.

THE BORDER STATES.

When the final history of the Mexican endless-chain revolution is written, an important, not to say lurid, chapter will be devoted to the American states that border on the frontier. The latest contretemps is reported from Tecate, Cal., where it is claimed that the postmaster has been murdered and the town "shot up" by three Mexicans.

All the border states have had their troubles, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. From time to time it has looked very much as though the United States troopers stationed there had more than they could do in "shooing" refugees over the line, or in preventing flagrant violation of the neutrality laws.

The strange feature about the situation has been the comparative calm of the people of the states themselves. Whatever excitement or hysteria was visible seems to have originated with and been confined to governors, United States senators and politicians in office and out of office. There can be no manner of doubt that if the people of any or all of these states had at any time been as excited as they have been represented to be, Washington either could not have resisted the demand for intervention or would have found itself in an exceedingly delicate position.

We have, then, the illuminating spectacle of people a good deal wiser and better poised than their leaders. In this day, when the newspaper and the schoolhouse are wellnigh universal, this actual evidence of their ability to make people do their own thinking bears its own significance and gratification.

WHO WAS THE BOSS?

Whether his divergence with the Wilson Mexican policy or John Bassett Moore's natural reluctance to continue diplomatic drudgery furnishes the real motive of his resignation as counselor of the state department may be aside the mark. The real question is, who was the genuine secretary of state, Bryan or Moore?

Though the Constitution has differed with the Nebraskan in the past, and may so again in the future, we have never denied his ability. But that does not invalidate, as a matter of metaphysical speculation, the question asked in the foregoing paragraph. Indeed, Mr. Bryan went into the state department confessedly ignorant of matters diplomatic, save such knowledge as he might have picked up in his foreign travels, his campaigns and his congressional career.

But experience of this nature does not invariably qualify a man to hold the helm of a great nation on its problems of state. There are intricacies and special requirements needed which come only with specialized study and a naturally judicial and deliberative habit of mind. This equipment, Moore had. It is said that he is today the foremost authority on international law in America.

The story comes from Washington on excellent authority that no important crisis was ever allowed to come to a point unless the advice of Moore had been prayerfully sought by Mr. Bryan no less than his chief. For Moore has a knowledge of precedents that is bewildering and a memory of the strength and weakness of foreign diplomats not short of uncanny.

Moore's hand was seen in our encounter with Japan over California, and his cunning also has been visible in the delicate Panama tolls situation. Whenever Bryan was absent from Washington, which was not infrequently, Moore was "on the hill," and there never was a complaint of one diplomatic wrinkle going unironed.

Whether he or Mr. Bryan held the stronger hand in the policy department furnishes interesting food for conjecture, but will never be definitely ascertained. In the last analysis, Wilson always decided. But preceding that decision—was it Moore or Bryan?

ONE HOSPITAL FOR BOTH.

Council has passed a resolution the effect of which is to invite Fulton county to co-operate with the city of Atlanta in the maintenance, enlargement and use of Grady hospital.

The plan is both practical and meritorious.

Fulton county, almost synonymous with Atlanta, has no public hospital facilities. The county needs them badly.

Grady is so cramped that facilities offered Atlanta are and long have been inadequate.

Combining, the city and county can maintain an institution equipped to care adequately for all their public hospital needs.

In the process Grady will be improved, modernized and enlarged, and it can be made the greatest and most up-to-date hospital south of Baltimore.

What that means to Atlanta in medical prestige, in hospital facilities and more substantial advantages need not be emphasized.

By all means let city and county get together.

The plan is constructive in its every aspect.

A CIVIC DISGRACE.

Council has made provision for the cleaning, up and refurbishing of city hall in advance of the visit of the Shriners.

That is well.

But why wait for the spur of distinguished guests in order to clean up? Why wait to clean Atlanta's buildings or monuments until outsiders are likely to come with critical eye?

Right across from the city hall is Grady monument, testimonial to an Atlantan who served the whole nation. Today, that statue is grimy with the accumulations of months, and a few hours' work would put it in good order. Who is responsible for the neglect?

What encouragement does this policy offer public-spirited citizens who would give monuments or ornaments to beautify the city and crystallize historical events?

None.

Atlanta's practice in this respect does not stop short of civic disgrace.

Those invading Texans are heartily in favor of charging guests at Uncle Sam's border resort full fare.

Villa loudly protests that he is a patriot, but he doesn't even know how to spell it.

Cheer up! The Ananias fishing banks will soon be crowded to their capacity.

George Bailey notes that "every time a Texas postmaster is announced, some Texas congressman groans."

One diet that never becomes monotonous in Georgia is the diet of prosperity.

"Red noses are caused by too heavy underwear," says a Philadelphia physician and George Bailey comments: "Thank you, Doc, for them kind words!"

The Economic and Industrial Value of Boys' Corn Clubs

Editor Constitution: It is entirely too narrow a view of the boys' corn club work to consider it as merely a plan for teaching our boys how to raise more corn per acre, as that would, of course, be of minor consequence when more than justify all that is being done in that direction. But there are other useful and far-reaching lessons that go hand in hand with the increasing corn yield. The boy who is conducting one of these acre demonstrations is encouraged to be thorough, to be systematic, to be economical and to be thrifty. He is taught some of the elementary facts of agriculture, such as the value of a thoroughly and deeply pulverized soil well supplied with humus, or frequent and shallow cultivation, of care in seed selection, of system and exactness in keeping records of his work and the cost thereof, of profiting by the experience of others in the selection and application of fertilizers, and numbers of other related lessons, all of which have a useful influence upon his future life, no matter what calling he may choose.

That work of such useful educational value should be made a part of our ordinary educational system goes without saying. That it will be done as rapidly as the necessary organization can be made is now assured.

Chancellor Barrow, of our state university, than whom there is no more sympathetic and earnest friend of rural education, commends this work most highly. Speaking of the increase of the Georgia corn crop by more than 20,000,000 bushels through this and other means, he says:

"The corn clubs and the canning clubs and the good results which they have accomplished are the wonderful work of school, home and industry. And surely industry gains by the co-operation when success crowns the work. The club work is a genuine educative work. It relates and unites three things most essential—home, industry and school. Neither yields its functions; all three enlarge them.

"These clubs give opportunity at home for aspiring youth. The boy finds that there is for him opportunity for advancement. The call to him is to a higher power so potent. There are other avenues through which he can accomplish success. There is room for growth at home.

Dr. A. M. Soule, president of our State College of Agriculture, is giving unstinted support and praise to this club work method of teaching agriculture and other industries of the farm and home. He loses no opportunity to speak in its favor and encourage its extension.

"Food and clothing are essential to all human beings. How to provide themselves with these in the easiest and least expensive manner should certainly be made a part of every child's education. And this is what school extension means. This is what our corn clubs are helping to do. But it does not propose to stop here. It will carry its improvements into all branches of domestic science, farm work, sanitation, etc.

"To the members of our state legislature, and to those who contemplate becoming such at the fall elections, this should be a very vital and interesting subject of thought. Public sentiment is growing so rapidly towards a better adjustment of the work in our primary schools to the needs of the people that it will very soon compel the attention it deserves at the hands of our lawmakers."

THE CATERPILLAR.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The caterpillar is a small, fuzzy object, which looks something like a young man's mustache in its first stages.

The caterpillar is, in fact, the sophomore of the insect family. He is as different as the caterpillar, from which it comes, as the husband and father is from the bouncing young sophomore of the open-face, ribbon-hatted type.

The caterpillar usually emerges from obscurity in the spring and eats himself into a comatose condition by early summer. He eats green things, as the sophomore eats pie, and he boldly crawls upon one also has to pay the bill. For this reason the caterpillar is unpopular and the man who pounds one with a rock until it departs this life in a messy manner down upon the passing pedestrians. It takes the caterpillar upwards of three weeks to crawl a mile and at the end of the journey he generally turns around and starts back.

"His only ambition is to crawl out on a twig and drop down on the passing pedestrian."

Still, those of us who spend whole days watching automobile races and golf ball cross a mile track should not laugh derisively at the caterpillar. He is entitled to some amusement.

STREET SIGNS NEEDED

Editor Constitution: It seems to me—a stranger in your town—that you have overlooked something else that is needed in the street markings at corners. I travel all over the country, and I think that Atlanta has the poorest showing of any city in the United States of America.

Of course, it is all right for old residents to find their way around, but a newcomer has to be continually asking someone where he is to go, which is distressing.

I have been in town one month this last trip, and my business takes me all over the city, and I find that the outskirts are better represented than the central.

If the city fathers won't look after a thing like that why don't the occupants of the corner property come forward and tack up a small card each side of the streets they occupy?

You have lots of strangers here every week, and I am afraid that some of the Shriners are never going to find their way home after coming.

The Great Trials of History

THE TRIAL OF COLONEL BAYARD.

The trial of Colonel Nicholas Bayard, of New York city, was one of the earliest trials held in this country for high treason against the crowned head of the mother country. For many years subsequent to the accession of William and Mary in England, the province of New York was agitated by a strife between the rival political parties, so bitter that the rights of the defeated were grossly violated and they were not always safe in their liberty and their lives.

In 1698 Lord Bellomont was sent to this country as governor of the province and he favored the party that had been opposed to James II. This aroused Bayard the two parties evenly drawn and thus both were protected, but when Bellomont died in 1701, the ancient animosity of the two factions was revived with the utmost zeal and fury. Information being received that Lord Cornbury was to at once take the field for Bellomont the aristocratic party, now in the minority, took measures to secure the new governor to their own interests. Nicholas Bayard, a prominent member of this party, made scandalous charges of bribery, of public plunder and oppression against the lieutenant governor, the chief justice and the assembly, and reflections were liberally cast upon the memory of Lord Bellomont himself.

When this came to the knowledge of Nanfan, the lieutenant governor, he committed Bayard to prison as a traitor. Thus was the leader of the aristocratic party in the power of his enemies. The party in power, as it conscious that their authority and influence would soon be impaired, determined to bring the prisoner to immediate trial, before the arrival of the governor, so that he should not be saved by that interference.

Although Broughton, the attorney general, gave a written opinion that no actual crime had been committed, a grand jury of over and terminer, consisting of three justices, was immediately erected for the trial of Bayard and one of his adherents. Five days was the utmost delay he could obtain, and on the 18th of February, 1702, the court assembled to decide his fate.

Broughton, the attorney general, refused to prosecute, and the prosecution was accordingly conducted by Weaver, the solicitor general. The prisoner was defended by Messrs. Emot and Nicholl. When the grand jury were called the prisoner's counsel objected to some of them as declaring that "if Bayard's neck was made of gold he should be hanged."

A part of the jury insisted that they had a right to deliberate alone, whereupon the solicitor general called them by name and threatened that he "would cause them to be trounced," and the jury broke up in confusion without acting.

The indictment set forth that the prisoner, on the 10th of December, 1701, "falsely, maliciously," etc., used diverse indirect practices and endeavors to procure mutiny and desertion among the soldiers in the fort, and drew numbers of them to his table and scandalous libels against his majesty's government."

The prisoner, upon his arraignment, pleaded not guilty, and desired that he might be allowed two clerks to take the minutes of the trial. The request was denied. The prisoner then sent a petition to the court in which he set forth the injustice and the irregularity of the proceedings against him. Of course the petition had no effect.

The solicitor general then made an introductory harangue in which he "bitterly declaimed against the English and French inhabitants of the colony, including the principal Dutch. He declared that while he disclaimed against the English and French inhabitants of the colony, including the principal Dutch. He declared that while he disclaimed against the English and French inhabitants of the colony, including the principal Dutch. He accused Bayard as being at the head of a party of pirates, betrayers of the prince and his laws, a parcel of banditti.

Testimony against Bayard was given by Samuel Clowes, Peter Odyke, W. Richardson, John Bashford and others, and at its conclusion the counsel for the prisoner addressed the court and jury in his behalf, followed by Emuot, his other counsel. Several witnesses were then called in behalf of the prisoner, among them Chief Justice Atwood, who testified to his exemplary character, and his attachment to the cause of the king.

The chief justice then charged the jury, and they retired and for several days they could not come to an agreement. The prisoner then sent a petition to the court in which he set forth the injustice and the irregularity of the proceedings against him. Of course the petition had no effect.

The solicitor general then made an introductory harangue in which he "bitterly decl

MANY ARE BURIED WHEN WALLS FALL

Tragedy in St. Louis Due to Collapse of a Wall of the Burned Club Building. Two Dead, Many Missing.

St. Louis, March 17.—At least two persons were killed, fifteen buried under debris and ten injured when the west wall of the Missouri Athletic club building, which was destroyed by fire in which thirty persons lost their lives a week ago, collapsed under a high wind here late today and crashed through a four-story building occupied by the St. Louis Seed company.

The wall of the Missouri Athletic club building, which stood seven stories high, crumbled when a 35-mile wind veered to the northwest. A few minutes before the collapse, Building Commissioner McKelvey, who was directing 170 men in the work of exploring the ruins of the Missouri Athletic club, feared the wall would fall and ordered his men out of the debris. This action probably prevented a heavy loss of life.

The Walls Gave Way.

The four-story building occupied by the St. Louis Seed company had suffered, apparently during the burning of the Missouri Athletic club building, which adjoined it on the east, and when the brick wall crashed on the roof of the four-story building, walls of the latter gave way and all above the second floor crumbled.

Hours after the accident it was impossible to determine how many had been buried in the ruins. Many doubtless escaped and went away without giving their names, but ten persons are unaccounted for, Six injured, three of them women, had been taken from the ruins, two were known to be dead and several still were in the debris.

James Cobb, cashier of the seed company, apparently was dangerously hurt, but he directed the work of the rescuers who tried to extricate him from the ruins. Electric lights were strung about the debris that pinioned him, and while the workmen tugged at the heavy timbers, Father Kennedy, a Catholic priest, administered to him the last rites of the church. Father Kennedy also administered the last rites to another man buried in the debris. Two other priests worked in the ruins, giving last rites to the injured.

His Body Trundled.

The body of a man lay across the body of Mr. Cobb when the rescuers reached him. This man had been decapitated by a piece of scantling.

An aged man was found pinioned in the basement of the seed company building. He was seriously injured and to take him out alive it seemed necessary to amputate his leg. Physicians had injected morphine into the pinioned leg and were about to apply the knife when workmen succeeded in moving the debris slightly, thereby releasing the injured man. The amputation was averted and the man was taken to the city dispensary.

In the seed company building at the time of the accident were ten or twelve customers, three women and five or six men office employees and a large number of workmen engaged in repair work.

The customers in the building are believed to have escaped with slight or no injuries. The injured were for the most part office employees of the seed company or workmen.

MRS. WALKER'S FUNERAL AT 2 THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of Mrs. S. J. Walker, who died early Monday morning, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1044 Piedmont avenue.

Mrs. Walker was the widow of the late R. F. Walker and a former pioneer citizen. She was born in 1834 and married at the age of 14. Her first home was on the site on which the Piedmont Driving club now stands and was destroyed by fire during the war. Mr. Walker died in April, 1893.

Mrs. Walker is survived by four sons, W. P. J. Walker, S. and R. L. Walker; two daughters, Mrs. Jerry F. Noves and Mrs. P. L. Clement; one brother, Robert Medlock, of Norcross, Ga., and a sister, Mrs. J. Yarbrough. She was a charter member of the Sixth Methodist church, now Park Mark's.

WILLARD MAKES PLEA FOR RATE ADVANCE

Chicago, March 17.—Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, today made a plea that eastern railroads be permitted to put into effect immediately the 5 per cent freight rate increase for which they have asked the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Willard outlined his plea in a statement to The Railway Gazette.

"The railroads have introduced testimony which we believe should convince the commission that our financial necessities are real, not 'pipe line pressing,'" he said. "This being the case, the longer any action is delayed these necessities will be deferred, the more serious must be the consequences to the railways in particular, and to the business of the country in general.

"It would seem that the only thing would be to grant the increase and then go on with the investigation of transportation practices. If the commission's decision should result in further increases in the carriers' net revenue it could make such reduction in rates as it considered justifiable."

Receiver for I. X. L. Company.

The New York Manufacturing company, of New York city, demanding the payment of $42; Frank Brothers & Co., of Philadelphia, $113, and E. F. & A. F. Miller, of Baltimore, $429.95, yesterday filed with Deputy Clerk Fred Beers, of the United States court, involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy against the I. X. L. Clothing company, located at 32 Decatur street. The alleged bankrupt concern has been conducted by Fred Heilbron and Mrs. Emma C. Heilbron as co-partners. Responding to a petition for a receiver Judge Newman named Walter C. 17TH TO START FOR TEXAS TODAY

One Detachment Will Leave Late This Afternoon, and Main Detachment Will Go Thursday.

One detachment of the Seventeenth regiment, which for the past eight years has been stationed at Fort McPherson, leaves late today for the Mexican-United States boundary line in advance of the main detachment of the regiment, which will not go forward until early Thursday morning.

The enlisted men and officers who start southward today will take with them the permanent camp equipment of the regiment which includes field bakeries, ambles, wagons, mules and hospital outfit.

The majority of the enlisted men and officers will follow today's consignment of men and officers to Laredo and from there he distributed along the international boundary line in small detachments for a distance of about 250 miles, both sides of Eagle Pass.

Colonel Thomas Griffith and his staff will not leave Fort McPherson until late Thursday, traveling in the last section of the three trains which will carry "Atlanta's own" regular troops to the boundary line of the Mexican civil strife.

The rumor was spread about the post on Tuesday that the barracks would soon be filled with a regiment to be sent here, at least temporarily, from one of the sea coast fortresses. Private advices from Washington, received at the post, indicated that within the month the post would be retenanted by new troops.

AMUSEMENT COMPANY ACCEPTED REBATES

Chicago, March 17.—The Columbia Amusement company today pleaded guilty to the charge of accepting rebates, and was fined $1,000. Rudolph K. Hynicka, of Cincinnati, was discharged.

Hynicka and the amusement company were indicted two years ago with officials of the New York Central lines. The roads were charged with giving rebates in the shape of exorbitant rates for advertising in the theater programs of the company. Fines totalling $30,000 were imposed a year ago against railroads in the New York Central system. The cases against the officials were dismissed.

JUSTIFIED BY VERDICT FOR KILLING HUSBAND

Mount Airy, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—At the coroner's inquest held over the dead body of Will Wells, who was killed by his wife at their home Friday afternoon, the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Attending physicians think that Mrs. Wells, who was badly beaten over the head by her husband with a hatchet, has a possible chance of recovery.

Medical Interne Wanted.

Secretary Hare, of the civil service commission for the fifth district, announces an open competitive examination to be held in his class rooms in the federal building on Wednesday, April 8, to secure a medical interne for assignment to the government hospital for the insane. Senior students of reputable medical colleges are invited, but they must file applications showing them to be otherwise eligible.

Comparisons Are Odious.

Athens, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The Clarke county tax receiver has been calling attention to the fact that this county has a great many more automobiles and more valuable machines than Fulton, with the capital city in it and a population of ten or twelve times the population of Athens and Clarke. He cites the fact that the automobiles as returned for taxation in Clarke and Fulton, by the owners themselves in both instances, are valued at: Clarke, $91,285.00; Fulton county, $52,160.00.

EYE STRAIN.

Properly fitted glasses relieve eye strain. We make the examination in a thorough and scientific manner and fit the correct lenses in the latest style mountings at a very moderate charge. A. K. Hawkes Co., Opticians, 24 Whitehall.—(Adv.)

Eighth Ward League Will Become State Organization

The Eighth Ward Equal Suffrage league held a meeting last evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Emily MacDougald, at 87 East Fifteenth street.

The Eighth Ward league is to become a state organization, under the name of the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia.

Permanent committees were named and permanent officers will be elected at the next meeting.

The executive board includes Mrs. William Green Raoul, chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Elsas, Mrs. James L. Anderson, Mrs. P. J. McGovern and Mrs. H. M. Blount.

This board will assist in organizing the forces of the Equal Suffrage Party. Mrs. MacDougald appointed the chairmen of standing committees as follows: Mrs. Thomas K. Glenn, finance; Mrs. Frank Neely, press; Miss Ida May Blount, publicity.

It was voted that the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia become a branch of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

Mrs. MacDougald explained that by joining the national association the Equal Suffrage Party makes itself a branch of a nation-wide and a world-wide organization. Through the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia suffragists will be represented in the councils of the national association; they can send delegates to all conventions, and so will have a voice in choosing the woman whom they wish to represent America at the meetings of the International Suffrage association, of which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, an American woman, is president.

The Eighth Ward league has held its meetings at the home of Mrs. Emily MacDougald, but the growth of membership necessitates a more central meeting place, which will be announced before the meeting March 24.

PUPILS STRIKE WHEN TEACHER IS SUSPENDED

Following Suspension of John Hudson Fifty Savannah Children Quit School.

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Because the board of education called to reinstate their teacher, John H. Hudson, who was suspended after an altercation with E. F. Pickett, principal, of the high school, several days ago, about fifty pupils of the high school went on a strike this morning.

The fight between Pickett and Hudson resulted in an investigation by the board of education, but no decision has been reached. It is practically certain that one of the teachers will be dismissed.

The school authorities denied today that the strike of the students was due to the failure of the board to reinstate Hudson.

SAVANNAH WAREHOUSE IS SWEPT BY FLAMES

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—The entire block of warehouses on the river front here was threatened with destruction by fire today, the flames being checked at nightfall by the local fire department with the assistance of several tugs, which rendered valuable assistance.

The fire originated in the Neal-Blun company's warehouse at the foot of Whitaker street, a three-story building containing approximately 12,000 bales of rice straw. This was a total loss, although the building itself was not seriously damaged. It is estimated that $8,500 will cover the entire loss; there was $2,500 insurance on the straw and $3,000 on the buildings.

The dense smoke caused by the burning straw made it extremely difficult to fight the fire and two firemen were overcome by the fumes. The fire was discovered shortly after 2 o'clock and will probably burn all night, although the fire department at 5 o'clock tonight had the situation well in hand. The cause is unknown.

EIGHT ARE INJURED IN COAST LINE WRECK

Waycross, Ga., March 17.—When a northbound mixed train running from High Springs, Fla., to Dupont, Ga., was derailed on the Atlantic Coast Line this afternoon, eight persons, six of them white, were injured, some seriously, and seven cars piled up in a heap on the track. The cause of the accident is unknown.

The injured include Mrs. E. L. Herring and 7-year-old daughter, of Herring, seriously hurt; Engineer F. C. Bedice, of Withers, face and neck hurt; C. H. Cashmore, of Alderman, Fla., head and shoulder slightly hurt; Conductor Musgrove, of Dupont, hurt about arms; Fireman O. C. Bryant, of Dupont, hurt about arms.

BRITTAIN WILL MAKE ADDRESS IN ASHBURN

M. L. Brittain, state superintendent of education, left the capitol Tuesday for Ashburn, where he will address the teachers of the town tonight. He will return Wednesday. He is expected back in Atlanta on Thursday.

Gone Forever Are Dyspeptic Days of Old

The Simple, Safe, Sure Use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Bring Joy to Any Stomach Sufferer in an Easy, Comfortable, Dietless Way.

How many quiet, afraid-to-make-a-noise, unhappy homes there are due to gas, irritable, miserable, constipated kitchen-door kind of dyspepsia sufferers. Such men and women cannot help their peevishness for they suffer terribly and should not be censured.

A stomach that is irritated, raw, rebellious and not fit to do its work is certainly the cause of constant dragging down and even excruciating agony.

It is a feeling surpassed by no other illness known to man.

No one should blame such a person for ill temper and silent moodiness. Ever and always is that dead, gone, sour tasting feeling at hand to cure every waking hour.

Dyspepsia, bad breath, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach, pains in bowels, nervousness, heartburn, sick headache, bloating, etc., come from wrongful conditions of digestive juices. There is nothing to correct these horrors until these juices are again made right.

When the system exhausts its juices, then the liver, when the pressure on the stomach become thereby unfit to furnish the digestive juices, then one cannot expect this same system, without aid, to do anything else than keep on making their improper digestive products.

Such a condition means all manner of suffering, and unquestionably grave danger lurks in such delay.

There is relief in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets that means a restoration to normal health, a building up of normal digestive juices and an absolute harmlessness in the use of its results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the elements that fight the poisons, build up the weakened gastric juice, when the tablet reaches the stomach it readjusts matters quickly, balances acids and alkalines and digestion, sweetening, etc.

Other ingredients have just as important effects upon the intestines as well as the stomach and thus in a remarkably short time stomach ills, indigestion, etc., disappear.

Go to your druggist today and obtain a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price 50 cents.

MRS. JOHN S. MOORE DIES AT OXFORD HOME

Mrs. John S. Moore, wife of Dr. John S. Moore, who for a number of years was professor of Latin at Oxford college, died at her home in Oxford last night at 9 o'clock. She was 77 years old. Surviving her are three sons, R. M., G. P. and G. W. Moore, all of Birmingham, and three daughters, Miss Alice Moore, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. E. P. Jones, of Decatur, and Mrs. C. J. Jarrell, of Athens. Funeral and interment will be held Thursday morning in Oxford.

PEEPLES MADE RECEIVER OF FURNITURE COMPANY

Asserting liabilities amounting to $38,622.50, with assets aggregating $42,-500, Goldsmith, Acton & Witherspoon, a corporation with W. H. Goldsmith president, engaged in the furniture business on the installment plan at 62 Peachtree street, yesterday filed with Deputy Clerk Henley, of the federal court, a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Of the liabilities, $21,740 are declared secured, while $15,882.50 are set down in the papers of file as unsecured. The remaining $873.40 are listed as "bills that ought to be paid by other parties thereto." The declared assets, $42,700, are made up of $21,000 stock in trade on hand and $16,000 debts due on open accounts. At the same time the petitioners asked for the appointment of a receiver with instructions to continue the business. Judge Newman named Thomas J. Peeples, of the American National bank, as receiver under $10,000 bond.

75 DRUGGISTS ARE HERE FOR REXALL CONVENTION

About seventy-five druggists from over the state were in Atlanta yesterday attending the Rexall Druggists' association of Georgia, which met at the Piedmont hotel in the afternoon. Dr. J. H. Ehrlich addressed the meeting along the lines of general drug and fount business.

An elaborate line of Rexall goods was placed on display in the convention hall. Thomas V. Woots, secretary of the national association of Rexall druggists, was present and made a short talk. W. S. Elkin, Jr., of Atlanta, is the president of the Georgia association.

Warning to Collectors.

Washington, March 17.—Warning was issued to all collectors of internal revenue tonight that income tax returns are "inviolably confidential," that disclosure of returns is in violation of the law, and the slightest infraction will be punished. The warning was in the form of a letter from Secretary MacAdoo to Commissioner Osborn.

TELEPHONE ACHIEVEMENTS

TELEPHONE SERVICE OF TODAY THE CREATION OF THE BELL CO.

In no line of human endeavor has the inventive brain of the scientist contributed more to the world's progress than by the creation of the art of telephony, of which the Bell System is the embodiment.

When the telephone was born, nothing analogous to telephone service as we now know it existed. There was no tradition to guide, no experience to follow.

The system, the apparatus, the methods—an entire new art had to be created. The art of electrical engineering did not exist. The Bell pioneers, recognizing that success depended upon the highest engineering and technical skill at once organized an experimental and research department, which is now directed by a staff of over 550 engineers and scientists, including former professors, post-graduate students, scientific investigators—the graduates of over 70 universities.

From its foundation the company has continuously developed the art. New improvements in telephones, switchboards, lines, cables, have followed one another with remarkable rapidity.

While each successive type of apparatus to the superficial observer suggested similarity, each step in the evolution marked a decided improvement. These changes, this evolution, have not only been continuous, but are continuing. Substantially all of the plant now in use, including telephones, switchboards, cables and wires, has been constructed, renewed or reconstructed in the past 10 years.

Particularly in switchboards have the changes been so radical that installations costing in the aggregate millions have frequently been discarded after only a few years of use.

Since 1877 there have been introduced 53 types and styles of receivers and 73 types and styles of transmitters. Of the 12,000,000 telephone receivers and transmitters owned by the Bell Company January 1, 1914, none were in use prior to 1912, while the average age is less than five years.

Within 10 years we have expended for construction and reconstruction an amount more than equal to the present book value of our entire plant.

Long-distance and underground transmission was the most formidable scientific problem confronting the telephone experts.

The retarding effect of the earth on the telephone current often impaired conversation through one mile underground as much as through 100 miles overhead. Overhead conversation had its distinct limitations.

No possible improvement in the telephone transmitter could of itself solve these difficulties.

The solution was only found in the cumulative effect of improvements, great and small, in telephone, transmitter, line, cable, switchboard, and every other piece of apparatus or plant required in the transmission of speech.

While the limit of commercial overhead talking had increased from strictly local to over 1,000 miles as early as 1893, it was not until 1905 that conversation could be had over long-distance circuits of which as much as 20 miles was in underground cables. By 1906 underground talking distance had increased to 90 miles. By 1912 it was possible to talk underground from New York to Washington.

It was then that the construction of underground conduits from Boston to Washington was determined upon,—not that it was expected to get a through underground talk between those places, but in case of storm or blizzard, to utilize intermediate sections in connection with the overhead.

Our persistent study and incessant experimentation have produced results more remarkable still.

We have perfected cables, apparatus and methods that have overcome obstacles heretofore regarded as insuperable both to long-distance overhead and underground conversation.

Underground conversation is now possible between Boston and Washington, four times the length of the longest European underground line. This enabled the Bell System in the recent great storm, so destructive on land and sea, to maintain communication for the public between all the principal points on the Atlantic seaboard.

Telephone communication is established between New York and Denver, is potentially possible between all points in the United States, and by 1915 will be an accomplished fact between New York and San Francisco.

In our use of methods or apparatus, we are committed to no one system. We own, control or have the right to use inventions necessary to operate any system recognized or accepted as the most efficient. The Bell System must always recognize, and in its selection must always be governed by the necessities of a national service, with its complex requirements, which is infinitely more exacting than local or limited service.

These achievements represent vast expenditures of money and immense concentration of effort which have been justified by results of immeasurable benefit to the public. No local company unaided could bear the financial or scientific burden of this work. Such results are possible only through a centralized general staff, avoiding wasteful duplication of effort, working out problems common to all, for the benefit of all.

The pioneers of the Bell System recognized that telephone service as they saw it, was in the broadest sense a public utility; that upon them rested a public obligation to give the best possible service at the most reasonable rates consistent with risk, investment and the continued improvement and maintenance of the property.

Without this expenditure of millions and concentration of effort, the telephone art as it exists could not have been developed.

What we have done in working out these great problems in the past should be accepted as a guarantee of what we will do in the future.

THEO. N. VAIL, President.

Linen Shower.

The friends of the Sisters of Mercy and St. Joseph infirmary are busily engaged in preparing a linen shower for the infirmary.

The day fixed is March 21, but contributions will be gratefully received at any time at St. Joseph Infirmary, 224 Courtland street.

Those who are charitably disposed will do well to help so worthy a cause. Contributions, no matter how small, will be gratefully appreciated. It is hoped there will be a generous response to this appeal, and that all who can will remember St. Joseph's.

Matinee Party.

Miss Evangeline McKinnon was the honor guest at a matinee party yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. George Hurt.

The party included Miss McKinnon and a number of out-of-town guests who are here to attend the marriage of Miss McKinnon and Mr. Robert Davis, of Chattanooga, which takes place Thursday.

For Mrs. Weaver.

Mrs. Chesley R. Howard entertained a few friends at an informal tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Piedmont avenue for Mrs. E. M. Weaver, of Washington, D. C., who is the guest of Mrs. Arthur Locke. Mrs. James R. Gray will give a luncheon today at Graystone and Mrs. Lyman Wall will entertain at a luncheon Friday for Mrs. Weaver.

Cabaret Tea.

Among those who will entertain parties at the cabaret tea to be given Thursday afternoon at the executive mansion under the auspices of the Atlanta chapter, daughters of the American Revolution, will be Mrs. James O. Wren, Mrs. John R. Roberts, Mrs. W. Woods White and Mrs. Charles A. Davis.

The price of admission will be 50 cents. Tickets may be had from Mrs. John B. Roberts, phone Ivy 831-J; Mrs. James O. Wynn, phone Ivy 4745. They will also be on sale at the Georgian Terrace, Coke Book store, in the Ponce de Leon and at the entrance door.

A Finished Program.

The program presented by M. Alexandre Skibinsky at the Ansley hotel Monday night was one brilliantly interpreted. The first number was "The Hungarian Concerto," by Joachim, one demanding an enormous accumulation of technical difficulties.

"The Rapsodia Piemontese," by Sinigaglia, a production of modern Italian style, of great brilliancy and remarkable harmonical effects, was the second number.

"The Meditation," from Thaïs by Massenet, was enthusiastically received and encored.

Two compositions by Skibinsky, "Traum" and "Humoresque," were accepted with much enthusiasm, and two encores were given.

"The Faust Fantasy," by Wieniawsky, the most clever and tasteful of numerous Faust paraphrases, was played.

This was the most successful of the recitals of Mr. Skibinsky, and he played with marked brilliance and finish.

For Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. George Traylor will entertain at a tea this afternoon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue for Mrs. Joseph Emerson Brown.

For Mrs. Cooley.

Mrs. George Dexter will entertain at a luncheon tomorrow for Mrs. Clayton Cooley, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. R. C. Congdon gives a luncheon on Friday. Mrs. Thornton Marye will entertain two tables of bride Saturday afternoon at the Driving club.

ATLANTA WEARS GREEN; REMEMBER IRISH SAINT

All Atlanta were "the green" on Tuesday in honor of the anniversary of that immemorable day in Erin when good St. Patrick took a stick and ran all the snakes, which infested the land, into the sea.

All the Irishmen of Atlanta were wearing shamrocks, green neckties, green hat bands—a sprig o' green somewhere about their persons in honor of the day. And those who were not able to claim Ireland as the home of their ancestors did the Irish the honor of wearing the green out of congratulation.

In hotels and cafes and theaters were harps of Erin and great green shamrocks by way of decoration. Many of the stores and business houses also followed out the St. Patricks day scheme of decoration.

A lively St. Patrick's day celebration was held at the Atlanta club Tuesday night.

GIRLS OF WELLESLEY FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

College Hall Is Destroyed by Fire—Loss About $900,000.

Wellesley, Mass., March 17.—Perfect discipline, coolness and bravery on the part of students and faculty members prevented loss of life or injury, when college hall, oldest of the Wellesley college buildings, was burned today.

Two hundred and fifty young women students, fifty instructors and fifty maids, were in bed when the fire was discovered. Every one was saved, and not one of the scores who marched in an orderly procession through smoke-filled hallways, suffered so much as a scratch.

The building was left a blackened shell. Within its crumbled walls was wreckage representing a loss of $900,000. Of this amount, $100,000 was the estimated value of personal property of the inmates, nearly all of whom escaped in scanty attire. Insurance will amount to about $600,000.

Miss Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of the institution, said another structure would be erected in the near future.

On account of the fire the entire college was ordered closed until April 7, the end of the Easter recess. Nearly 1,000 of the 1,300 young women had left for their homes tonight.

President Pendleton took occasion to praise the conduct of the students as "extraordinary."

"Never before," she said, "has there been such a fire, with similar conditions, without a loss of life or injury to someone. The obedience to the fire drill was a credit to the college. There were no screams or cries heard, and this in itself showed perfect and marvelous control.

NATIONAL PARK URGED BY ATLANTA CHAMBER

The following resolution was adopted by the executive committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, requesting the president of the United States to establish a national park in the most suitable part of the national forest reservations of the southern Appalachian mountains:

"Whereas, the Southern Appalachian mountains, with their healthful climate and their wealth of beauty of forest and stream, offer opportunities for the establishment of national parks in which the citizens of the south may have the benefit which the nation and the states have already conferred upon the citizens of the north and west through the establishment of similar parks in their vicinity. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce petition the president of the United States and the national forest reservation commission to designate the most suitable parts of the national forest reservations of the Southern Appalachian mountains as national parks and open them to the people for recreation, pleasure and healthbuilding. That a copy of this resolution be sent each senator from this state, the members of congress from this district, the national forest reservation commission, Washington, D. C., and to the Appalachian Park association, Asheville, N. C."

GEORGIA REXALL CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Georgia Rexall club is holding its annual gathering at the Hotel Piedmont. About 125 delegates to the convention are in the city. The sessions opened late Tuesday, with talks on modern merchandising by prominent druggists from all over the state.

The entertainment program for the gathering includes a luncheon today and a banquet tonight. W. W. Elkin, Jr., of Atlanta, is president of the state organization and A. H. Denmark, of Fitzgerald, is secretary.

Thomas Wootes, director of the club department of the Rexall company, is here and will speak to the delegates today.

NEW MEMBERS SECURED BY CHAMBER COMMERCE

The following new members were elected to the chamber of commerce at a meeting of the executive committee held yesterday:

Harry Gorov, representative of the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet company; Bird-Wilcox company, Inc.; Cox and Bonsignore company.

Harry T. Moore, secretary of the Atlanta freight bureau, and affiliated organizations, was elected to honorary membership.

CHICAGO PARTY WILL VISIT ATLANTA SOON

A party of some thirty to thirty-five leading business men, members of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will visit Atlanta on Wednesday, April 22, for the purpose of enabling representatives of that body to meet Atlanta merchants and other business men, and to strengthen the already pleasant and mutually profitable trade relations existing between the business men of Chicago and Atlanta. F. Ja Paxon has been named chairman of a special committee to arrange a suitable entertainment for these gentlemen.

GREENE COUNTY TO AID FIGHT ON CATTLE TICK

A Greene county delegation, headed by R. E. Davison, chairman of the state prison commission, called Monday upon Dr. F. P. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, asking his aid and offering their co-operation in fighting the invasion of the cattle tick in Georgia. So far the Greene county farmers and dairymen have been very successful in keeping the pest out of their territory.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM NOW CITY'S PROPERTY

All papers, agreements, contracts and vouchers in connection with the purchase by the city of the fire alarm system from the Okonite company for $87,500 were executed yesterday.

Mayor Woodward and Comptroller Goldsmith attached their signatures to the check for the full amount of the purchase price and Councilman Jesse Lee, chairman of the board of fire masters, signed the voucher authorizing the city to pay the $87,500 out of the city treasury.

The check will be turned over to President Cook of General Manager Underhill Wednesday morning and they will carry the money back with them to New York. Besides the actual charges for the money will amount to considerable, the officials will probably have the check cashed at one of the city depositories and carry the long green with them.

JOE SHEARER ELECTED CITY HALL CUSTODIAN

Joe Shearer, city hall custodian for a number of years, was re-elected to the place for another one-year term, at the meeting of the building and grounds committee of council yesterday afternoon.

The committee, after electing Shearer, instructed him to prepare bids and specifications for wiring the city hall for illuminating it during the Shriners' convention.

The committee again went into the matter of economizing on the steam that furnished the city hall and other buildings owned by the city. Chairman S. L. Dallas declared that the Atlanta Gas Light company is charging the city entirely too much for the heat and suggested to the committee that the city can save thousands of dollars annually by installing a steam heat plant of its own. If the plan works out, this plant may be connected with other city buildings, including the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beam entertained at a beautiful dinner party last night at the Georgian Terrace hotel. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sims Bray, Dr. and Mrs. Glider, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Pedder.

The table was decorated in white carnations and ferns. Mrs. Beam wore a dinner gown of yellow satin, and Mrs. Bray wore blue velvet and lace.

Tea and Dance at Club.

The tea and dance at the Capital City club will assemble a large gathering there this afternoon, when the orchestra will play in the ballroom from 5 until 7 o'clock. Many tables have already been reserved and a hundred guests will enjoy the occasion.

Marist Fathers' Home.

The formal opening of the new house of the Marist fathers, on Ivy street, will take place Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

It will be followed in the evening by a reception in honor of Bishop Kelly. All members of the Sacred Heart church and their friends are invited to come.

Mrs. J. R. Holliday is chairman of the committee of the Ladies' Altar Society, who have charge of arrangements.

This Will Soon Banish All Objectionable Hairs

(Modes of Today)

Beauty specialists have discovered a new and simple method for ridding the skin of obnoxious hair or fuzz and invariably but one application is required to obtain the desired results. A paste is made with powdered delatone and water and applied for 3 minutes to the hairy surface, then rubbed off and the skin washed and dried. This treatment removes every trace of hair and leaves the skin free and smooth. Disappointment will be averted if you buy the delatone in an original package.—(Adv.)

Have Your Refrigerator Iced From the Porch

This is the modern way of building refrigerators. They can readily be installed in any home, whether old or new, and are surprisingly low in price, considered with the unusual convenience they afford.

Come into our store and see the wonderful simplicity of

McCray Sanitary Refrigerators For All Purposes

(Built for Outside Icing)

If you are planning the purchase of a new refrigerator, decide on something of a new and up-to-date kind. Let us show you a McCray Refrigerator arranged with an outside icing door so that the ice man can put the ice in from the back porch. No more will one be bothered and annoyed by the ice man coming in with his muddy feet, leaving tracks on your clean kitchen floor. This is the most advanced idea ever brought out in a refrigerator and it has met with high favor in all parts of the country.

We will also be glad to explain to you in detail the scientific principle of McCray Refrigerator construction—how the McCray patented system keeps the current of pure, cold, dry air circulating in the food chambers all the time.

McCray Refrigerators are always made with clean white linings with a choice of opal glass, porcelain, white enamel or odorless white wood that are easily cleansed and strictly sanitary.

We urge you to come in and inspect the McCray. This store is the McCray headquarters.

MEETINGS

The Nineteenth Century History class will meet with Mrs. Vassar Woolley Wednesday afternoon, March 14, at 1:30 o'clock.

The Atlanta Equal Suffrage association will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in parlor E, of the Hotel Ansley. Mr. J. L. Redfer will speak on "The Value of Woman to the State as a Voter." "Men and Women and Their Capacity Relative to the Family and Government" will be the subject of an address by Dr. Evelyn Leasnoff. The chairmen of the ward committees will report on work done during the past month. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to every one interested.

The literary department of the Epworth league, of St. John's church, will hold an interesting program in the church next Friday night, March 20, at 8 o'clock. One of the main features will be a contest on the church discipline. The hymns of Fanny Crosby will be sung. Mr. H. A. Manning, a talented reader of St. John's, will render a number of select readings.

CORDELE INTERESTED IN JUDGE PARK'S BILL

Cordele, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Considerable local interest is attached to the outcome of a bill recently introduced in congress by Judge Frank Park, representative from the second district, providing for an appropriation to have a survey made of the Flint river from Albany to Montezuma, which is primarily for the purpose of establishing a steamboat line between these two points.

It is believed by local citizens that the extension of the steamboat line, which now runs to Albany, would mean a great advantage to Cordele and other points within a short distance of the river in the way of cheaper freight rates on the transportation of feed stuff, fertilizers and merchandise to this section and in the transportation of cotton and other farm products from these points to the gulf, where it would be transferred from the river boats to the ocean steamers going to all of the important ports of the world.

ALL HOPE IS ABANDONED FOR MISSING SCHOONER

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—All hope for the schooner Levi S. Andrews, Captain Slocum, from Norfolk, with coal for the Vulcan Fuel company, at Savannah, was practically abandoned this morning when no word came from her with the marine reports. No ship reported having sighted the unlucky craft and there was no report that she had put into any port disabled.

The schooner has not been heard from since March 5, after getting out of Norfolk following a severe blow. The Levi S. Andrews was manned by a captain and six seamen.

HISTORIC COURTHOUSE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Warrensburg, Mo., March 17.—The historic courthouse of Johnson county, where Thomas H. Benton, George G. Vest and Francis M. Cockrell, three noted United States Senators from Missouri, first gained forensic fame, was sold at public auction yesterday. It was knocked down to William O. Davis, a merchant, for $650. The structure was erected in 1836.

In 1854 Senator Benton, speaking from the front portico of the courthouse, made his famous address forecasting the greatness of the west. Senator Vest here delivered the oration on a dog's faithfulness to its master, which since has been widely circulated. In 1861 Senator Cockrell, who afterwards served thirty years in the United States senate, made a notable speech on the north and south.

MRS. LITTLETON WORKS TO SECURE MONTICELLO

Washington, March 17.—Mrs. Martin W. Littleton urged a senate committee today to favorably report the Reed bill, which would create a joint congressional committee to assume by purchase or condemnation Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson in Virginia. Mrs. Littleton declared the property should be made a national shrine.

Representative Jefferson M. Levy, of New York, owner of Monticello, protested against the bill.

The committee took the bill under advisement.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS DEFEATED BY BRIGANDS

Peking, China, March 17.—The government troops at King Tse-Kwan, in the province of Ho-Nan, were defeated today by a force of brigands under the famous "White Wolf."

These same brigands recently looted and burned Iao Ho-Kow in the province of Mu-Pek, killing Dr. T. Froyland, a Norwegian missionary, and wounding the Rev. O. M. Sams, another Norwegian. Fifteen hundred of the Chinese inhabitants of Lao Ho-Kow were killed and 400 others were tortured in an effort to force them to disclose hidden treasure.

The brigands are now threatening Shan-Si, capital of the state of Shen-Si.

TAXES IN MACON SHOW INCREASE OF $5,654,041

This Will Give City Increase in Revenue of $70,675.84.

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The report of City Tax Assessor B. L. Hendricks, made to the mayor and council tonight, shows an increase for this year over last year, of $5,654,041, which, if permitted to stand, will give the city an increase in revenue of $70,675.84 over last year.

The total assessment reported by B. L. Hendricks, city tax assessor, is $48,496,641. This includes $9,689,317 for personal property, $21,738,112 for real estate and $4,077,603 for public utilities as fixed by the state comptroller, the latter figures being for 1913, as the comptroller will not send out his valuations on public utilities for this year until November.

Of the $5,654,041 increase in the assessed valuation of property, $2,106,036 is for personal property and $3,547,945 is for real estate. Assessor Hendricks states that the big increase is due to three causes—natural increase in value, improvements made during the year and property that has been uncovered which has heretofore not been given in for taxation.

The city's total revenue, if the figures of the assessor are permitted to stand, will be $1,447,467, an increase of $70,675.84 over last year. The appropriations for the year 1914 as made by the finance committee of council total $534,899, almost $100,000 greater than the revenue from taxes, but the income of the city from other sources will more than take care of the excess appropriations. It is figured that the city will have an income of $136,000 from other sources this year and but for the fact that the number of near-beer saloons have been reduced by half and the license fee lowered from $500 to $150, the revenue would be much greater. Included in the appropriations for the year is $40,000 for interest on waterworks bonds, which the law requires the city to make, but which the board of water commissioners are paying from their revenue, so the city will have this $40,000 to spend in other ways.

In his report to council tonight the assessor recommended a complete new survey of the city and new property maps be made therefrom at a cost of about $8,000; the re-naming of several streets now bearing the same name as other streets; numbering all houses, placing of signs on each street corner designating the name of the street; amending the building ordinance to require each person taking out a building permit to give the actual cost of the structure, and a change in the time for paying taxes, making the total tax for the year fall due on June 1, and payable during that month.

Receiver for Empire Realty.

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—In the superior court here today Judge H. A. Mathews appointed a permanent receiver for the Empire Realty company, a concern having assets of $275,000 and liabilities estimated at $150,000.

The action for a receivership was brought by the officials of the company, who were opposed by certain of the creditors. The proceeding was instituted in the name of E. H. Holloway of Macon and Byron, president of the company, the defendants being the company itself, the bank of Soperton, the Marietta Trust and Banking company and George M. McKenzie, of Atlanta.

The Central Trust company, of Macon, was made receiver.

The Empire Realty company has a large amount of assets it is unable to realize on at the present time and the receivership step was taken to avert bankruptcy.

Cattle Tick Work Downed.

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The county commissioners today decided that the finances of the county did not warrant an appropriation of $1,800 for the employment of two cattle tick inspectors and the building of a dipping vat with which to fight the tick. Such an appropriation has been asked for by the Bibb County Dairy, Agricultural and Live Stock Institute.

W. R. Sparks, who appealed before the board in opposition to the plan, declared that little benefit would accrue to the county.

At the same time Mr. Sparks asked the county to build a road seven miles along the river through property which he owns or controls, stating that a country club and golf links are to be constructed at a point on the river and that the Macon railway and light company intends to extend its tracks to the club. The board refused Sparks it had no authority to build the road and he would have to call on the road board.

Parson Protests at Tax.

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, pastor of the Mulberry Street Methodist church and one of the organizers of the Macon Law Enforcement league, has sent City Marshal W. H. Gates a check for his street tax, across the face of which he has written, "I protest this tax before and I do it now under protest."

The incident caused considerable comment about the city hall, in view of the fact that the city ordinance requires the payment of the tax by all male citizens between the ages of 21 and 45 years, and if, as Dr. Ainsworth says, he has never paid the tax before, then he has violated the law.

DOG DISCOVERS BODY OF MURDERED NEGRO

Columbus, Ga., March 17.—A dog led to the discovery of the dead body of R. A. Gude, a negro, was accordingly to the coroner's jury, was murdered by an unknown person. The dog carried in his mouth the arm of the dead negro to a group of children, and following it before them began to bark. The animal then led the children several hundred yards through a swamp to where the body lay.

Investigation showed that the man had been shot through the back of the head. He had been dead several days. No arrests have been made.

SUFFRAGETTES SHOUT AT THE KING AND QUEEN

London, March 17.—Militant suffragettes contributed an extra and unrehearsed "turn" to the program given before King George and Queen Mary at a music hall performance today in aid of a hospital.

During the singing of the national anthem a shower of militant suffragette pamphlets fluttered from the gallery above the royal box. Some of the papers floated into the box and found a lodging on the shoulders of the king and queen.

Simultaneously a woman occupying a place in the stalls of the theater stood up and pointing a finger at the royal party shouted:

"Your majesties! Mrs. Pankhurst is in prison. I therefore—"

The woman was unable to proceed further as a detective clapped his hand over her mouth and she was escorted out of the theater.

LEA TO SEE WILSON ON TENNESSEE MUDDLE

Washington, March 17.—Senator Lea, of Tennessee, called at the white house today with Lee Douglas, federal attorney for the middle district of Tennessee, and arranged to see President Wilson tomorrow concerning latest developments in the political situation in their state. Refusal of the independent democratic convention yesterday to accept the president's plea for harmony among the democratic factions had not been communicated in detail to Senator Lea, but he expected to discuss the various phases with the president tomorrow.

HADEN GIVEN WARM PRAISE FOR WORK FOR STATE CHAMBER

The work of Charles J. Haden, of Atlanta, in the organization of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, of which he is president, is the subject of an editorial in the last issue of The Quitman Free Press, of which Royal Daniel, formerly city editor of The Atlanta Journal, is editor.

Among other things, The Free Press says:

"The field of especial usefulness to which Mr. Charles J. Haden has bended his efforts and attention as private citizen and president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce is surely of more than passing mention. For we know of few men in the state who are quite as willing to dedicate and consecrate his life to the commonwealth. By nature culture and refinement he is aptly fitted for responsibilities which he has voluntarily assumed. His attitude differs widely from the viewpoint and the motive of the politician and the preacher. A fundamental and primary difference lies in the fact that his services are without cost to those whom he serves. It is entirely a labor of love.

"Whether it be true or simply incidental makes no difference, but it is a fact that, as a rule, the volunteer is most efficient in practically all fields of action. The desire to work in the vineyard must first be born in the heart before the labor be of highest value. With such sentiment as his motive, Mr. Haden is unceasing, unswerving and entirely unselfish in serving his people and his state and we are made glad, happy, in arresting public attention long enough to emphatically point to him with great pride."

Harlan for Chairman.

Washington, March 17.—The interstate commerce commission today elected Commissioner James S. Harlan as chairman in succession to Commissioner Edgar E. Clark. Commissioner Harlan assumed the duties of chairman today.

CHARLES P. EVERITT BEGINS NEW DUTIES

Charles P. Everitt, who left the Bankers' Trust company, of New York, to become secretary and treasurer of the new Continental Trust company, of Atlanta, of which Joel Hurt is president, is in the city and has entered actively in the discharge of the duties of his new position.

Mr. Everitt comes to Atlanta with excellent testimonials from leading bankers and business men. He is young, active and vigorous, and the fact that he left a high position in the Bankers' Trust company, of New York, to come to Atlanta, indicates his high standing in this line of work.

"We are getting things ready to open up the new trust company as soon as possible," said Mr. Everitt yesterday. "Our fixtures have been ordered, the stock has been subscribed and is being rapidly paid in and we should have everything ready for business before long," he said.

The new trust company will occupy the main floor of the new Hurt building.

Members of Sororities Meet at University Club

Miss Bessie Kempton, president of the Pan-Hellenic, of Atlanta, which includes the federated forces of eighteen different college sororities in this city, held an interesting meeting at the University club yesterday. This federation of young college women has joined the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Kempton is chairman of the state committee of sororities in that organization, and the object is to use the sorority forces all through the state.

At the meeting yesterday Miss Kempton explained to the members the values of federation, and told an interesting story of her visit to Rome last week, where the sorority girls organized there at a meeting at Shorter college. Explaining the purposes of the state work, Miss Kempton stated that it was the hope of the sororities to give a scholarship each year to the Talulah Falls industrial school for Mountain Boys and Girls, besides this work each organization may wish to do in the local centers.

Miss Kempton is a graduate of Shorter college and a member of the Alpha Kappa Psi sorority. All fraternal organizations are invited to send delegates to the meetings of the Atlanta Pan-Hellenic, although only those federated have the right to vote in the city federation of sororities.

MEN ORGANIZE CLUB FOR PLAYING MARBLES

Cordele, Ga., March 17.—(Special)—Quite a novel organization recently formed among a number of business men of Cordele is the Agate club. This club is formed simply for the purpose of carrying the men back to their boyhood days in shooting marbles, throwing horse shoes and doing other things of the kind for the sake of pastime and amusement.

Crowd of Admirers Attracted By Smith & Higgins' Opening

Smith & Higgins' spring opening of millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear garments has attracted crowds of admirers during Tuesday, and, continuing today and Thursday, it is predicted that the exposition of style and fashion will be voted one of the most successful ever shown the women of Atlanta.

The showing of millinery is particularly attractive. One of the prettiest models, and, judging by the sales, one of the most popular, is a Watteau in cerise with a bandeau of pearl beads, showing coquettishly under the brim. A lavender in the same style is one of the most admired.

Pretty pleated, frilled and flat straw hats are numerous. They are trimmed in delicate shades of blue ribbon and silk rosebuds. Among this display is found the bewitching Shepherdess hat, a straw bonnet effect, with flowers in profusion, gay streamers—just made to shade a pair of laughing eyes.

Leghorns continue in extreme popularity. They are shown with long black streamers and roses, in pink roses and big ones. These hats are generally used as party hats with dainty afternoon summer dresses.

A very dressy hat, a distinguished model of aristocratic appearance, which attracted much favorable comment, is one of jet and net displaying a bandeau paradise in feathers.

Then, of course, the tango holds forth with much eclat. Smith & Higgins show an extremely beautiful tango model of individuality—a tango that is somewhat distinct from the common variety of 1914. It is of a Japanese style, a sort of turban, trimmed in brilliant ribbons and flowers.

Gowns and suits of great variety of style and fabric divided with the millinery display the attention of Smith & Higgins' visitors. Most of the suits show the flaare skirt and coat of a beautiful and modish drape effect around the shoulders. Ruffles and pucbing abound and meet with much favor.

The Dolly Varden model of one-piece dresses proves of great favor and the silk gowns, simple creations for afternoon wear, met with approval. Many of them in one piece, designed for house wear and summery loungine on verandas, proves very popular.

The suits shown are mostly in blues, browns, greens and some rarely exquisite designs in lavender.

TO ADD TO POPULARITY OF THE PARCEL POST

Washington, March 17.—To further add to the popularity of the parcel post, Postmaster General Burleson today signed an order which will permit the attaching of a letter to packages when both bear their respective rates of postage and are addressed to the same individual. The sending of a communication with a parcel or package heretofore has not been permissible.

Postal officials pointed out today that it often is quite desirable that a parcel and communication relating to it be delivered at the same time. It was with this in mind that an order was issued. This letter or communication, however, is not to be inclosed in the package, but is to be tied or otherwise securely fastened to the outside in such a manner as to prevent its separation from the package.

The new order is expected to enlarge considerably the parcel post service.

GEORGIA PROSPEROUS, ASSERTS LYMAN WOOD

Lyman P. Wood, publicity specialist of the Collins Bank Service, of Philadelphia, and who makes his southern headquarters at the Piedmont hotel, has just returned from a six weeks' trip in south Georgia, where he has been conferring with leading bankers in that section.

He was very much impressed with the prosperous conditions that seem to prevail everywhere.

"Not only are the bankers confident of good times ahead," he says, "but the farmers amply support this theory in the way they are plowing and getting ready for next season's crops. Already 50 per cent more land is ready to plant than last year at this time, and everyone seems to be working with an added enthusiasm not noticeable before in years."

D. A. POLING TO ADDRESS CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS

Dan A. Poling, president's associate and citizenship superintendent of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, will be in Atlanta on the evening of March 27, and will deliver an address at the First Christian church, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Union of America.

Mr. Poling, who is only 28 years of age, comes to Atlanta as the citizenship representative of four million young people throughout the world, having already delivered 2,350 addresses and traveled 256,000 miles in United States and Canada. Mr. Poling will stop in Atlanta en route to Macon, where he will address the Georgia Christian Endeavor convention, which convenes on March 27, 28 and 29.

MOONSHINERS TRIED AT MOONLIGHT SESSION

Rome, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—A midnight, moonlight session on the moonshine cases was held here by United States Commissioner John Printup. He bound over James Belmar, colored, of Floyd county; Jesse Garrett, of Chatooga county; Tilney Benton, colored, and George Montgomery, colored. Sam Rosebud and Jim Garrett were dismissed on a like charge. Moonshiners are reported very busy in this section, and revenue officers are kept on the alert locating stills and making arrests. The United States commissioner holds court at any hour of the day or night for the convenience of the officers, giving the accused men trial whenever they are brought to town.

GEORGIA SAVINGS BANK TO DECLARE DIVIDEND

The Georgia Savings Bank and Trust company, located in the Grant building, will today declare a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, this being its twenty-first semi-annual dividend.

This bank is the oldest savings bank in Atlanta, being founded on March 1, 1893. The semi-annual periods for taking stock of the bank are March 1 and September 1, and the annual period is September 1.

The officers are George M. Brown, president; John W. Grant, vice president, and Joseph E. Boston, secretary and treasurer.

ATLANTANS GIVE UP NEWSPAPER IN ROME

Rome, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—After an existence of several weeks in Rome, The Daily News, an afternoon paper founded here by H. E. Dunn, of Atlanta, has suspended publication. Dunn left Rome last week, and the employees of the plant state that he did not meet the payroll and left a number of debts behind him. After his departure the paper was continued for a few days under the management of James A. Bellflower, formerly Atlanta newspaper man, but today its suspension was announced, and lack of advertising given as the cause.

The Panama Exposition.

Washington, March 17.—An appropriation of $100,000 for participation by the United States in the Panama exposition, to be held in Panama next November, was urged upon congress today in a special message from the president. Resolutions authorizing the participation already are pending.

FORCED TO LIVE ON DRIED PEACHES

But After Being Rescued, Maryland Citizen Says He Feels No Ill Effects From Experience

Cecilton, Md.—In telling of his experience, Mr. Geo. R. Richards, of this town, says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for 12 or 14 years, and have spent lots of money for medicine. For three years, I had to live on dried peaches and buttermilk.

Last year, I was a physical wreck. I could not eat or sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could be.

At last, I took Thedford's Black-Draught, the old, reliable, vegetable liver medicine, and I want to say right here that two packages of Thedford's Black-Draught did me more good than hundreds of dollars that I spent for other medicines.

I am now working on the farm, 13 hours a day, my muscle is as hard as iron and I think that is going some for a man who was in my condition.

I now weigh 170 pounds and am feeling pretty good for an old man."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, and acts gently, yet surely. Successfully used for over 70 years. Should be in every family medicine chest. Get a package today. One cent a dose.

Devices That Will Make Spring House Cleaning Easy

House cleaning would never be such a burden if the right preparations were made beforehand.

We want to show you how easily and satisfactorily floors can be cleaned and polished and how rugs and carpets may be cleaned with very little labor.

For instance:

The Domestic Vacuum Cleaner

The Domestic Vacuum Cleaner is the greatest cleaning device ever perfected. It requires no electricity, no hand-pumping; you simply run it over the floor like a carpet sweeper. Turning the wheels creates a vacuum which draws air through the nozzle at the rate of more than 25,000 cubic inches per minute. With this air comes all the dust, dirt, germs, moths, etc., from carpets and rugs and even the dust from the floor beneath the rugs or carpets.

All dust or dirt is deposited in a cloth bag inside the sweeper, which may be turned out and emptied in the fire or otherwise destroyed.

Thus you actually get rid of the dust in your home, instead of stirring it up to breathe, and to settle again.

There are several different models, at different prices.

Many of them in use now at the Hotel Ansley and other hotels, besides private homes in Atlanta.

Let us show them to you any day this week.

Domestic de Luxe (Special)

A Perfect Combination Cleaning Outfit

THE finest all-round cleaning device on the market. Has the largest vacuum slot made.

Ball-bearing throughout; patented roller adjustment in front; carpet sweeper brush attachment to throw in or out, which works perfectly on any carpet or rug; complete hose attachments for cleaning everything in the home; special brush front for linoleum and hardwood floors. The ideal machine for cleaning efficiently and getting every bit of dust on every article from cellar to roof. Packed singly in strong wooden boxes.

Price, Outfit Complete, $18.00

Regular price of BB Model $14.50
Regular price of Hose with Nozzle Attachment 4.00
Regular price of Hardwood Floor Cleaner . . 1.50
Regular price of Wall Brush 50

Total $20.50

When you purchase the de Luxe outfit, you get all the above for our special combination price of $18.00

Domestic Model "F. B." Smaller Size, at $10

Has the "Domestic" quality finish throughout. This is a smaller and lighter machine than the "B" Models; carpet sweeper attachment underneath same as in Model "BB," only smaller; gets all the dirt and litter, whether on the carpet or in it; packed in fiber cases. Price, each, $10.00.

Have You Seen These L-V Polishers?

If not see them now while you may take advantage of this special offer.

The L-V Floor Polisher

AND A QUART BOTTLE OF

This is a temporary introductory offer—the quart bottle of Liquid Veneer is a regular standard package selling everywhere today for $1.00 and the regular price of the L-V Floor Polisher will also eventually be $1.00—so profit by your opportunity and get one of the new L-V Floor Polishers now while we are giving the quart bottle of Liquid Veneer with it.

Both Cleans and Polishes

The L-V Floor Polisher serves a twofold purpose. It not only cleans the floor thoroughly, removing the dust, dirt, stains and blemishes, but at the same time imparts a beautiful, lasting lustre. It makes your floors just as bright and clean as when they were newly finished, and, mark you, it leaves them perfectly dry.

Once you've tried these wonderful L-V Floor Polishers you will feel a lasting gratitude for the makers.

Liquid Veneer Polish without the mop may be had at 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle—according to size.

Shades Made to Order

Our Shades are distinguished for their goodness. Only the best materials and workmanship go into the making. John King's Scotch Holland and the best oil opaque are the only shade cloths we use—and all shades are mounted on Hartshorn rollers.

Not a Bit Too Early to Order Awnings!

Indeed, it is far better to get your order in early. Then, when you need the awnings, they will be ready.

Telephone and we will send a man to take measures and make estimates.

COTTON SELLING AND LIQUIDATION

These Were Causes for the Decline—Better Weather in South Also a Factor. Spot Quiet.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today, with prices easing off, under liquidation and, somewhat, on foreign and local selling, which appeared to be inspired by less favorable trade advices from Manchester, better weather for farm work in the South and the idea that the weaker old crop short interest had been pretty well eliminated on the recent advance. The market on the whole closed steady, but prices showed a net decline of from 5 to 15 points.

There was considerable confusion at the opening, owing to the new method followed by the census bureau in compiling the supply and distribution of last ginnings. Washington advices had warned the trade that the final ginning figures would give a total production of lint cotton and linters separately, but few traders seemed to understand that the domestic mill consumption for the year to be put out would be reported separately also and many compared the total of lint and linters for the same month last year. This produced confusion at part of the early selling and after opening barely steady at 1 point up to 1 point lower, the market sold off to 7 points under yesterday's closing figures.

When the correct comparison for the census report became generally understood and it was seen that the February consumption was the largest of that year, prices rallied 5 or 6 points from the lowest, on covering. There seem to be very little demand from straddlers, however, and the local buying was less aggressive than recently and the market was steady again in the afternoon at 2 points over May during the day.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 17.—The cotton market today was depressed on the opening and remained at a net loss during the entire session, closing with declines of 14 to 16 points under the final figures of the previous day. The principal factor in the decline in the early part was the publication of wrong comparisons in the use by the census bureau of linters for the census report on consumption during February. The item in last month's report was the figures for the last month's amount of linters consumed; whereas, today's report omitted the month and left the trade to look for the month themselves to look herein. It was further misunderstood that the consumption figures were larger than last year's total, very little buying resulted. In the afternoon, the selling appeared to be less pressed and, based on the bearish showing returns from the census report Friday.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 14 points lower; low middling, 12¾; strict low middling, 13; middling, 13 15-16; strict middling, 13 31-32; good middling, 13¾; strict good middling, 13 15-16; receipts, 7,481; stock, 231,240.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—The cotton tackle extends pretty much over the whole story. The switch and straddle interests could instead of taking profits as a result was a break in old crop position of 14 to 15 points, and a decline of 7 to 8 points. It is now ready to deliver or to take the orders are ready to execute. The cotton and outsiders are paying more and more attention to new crop months. The mill interest marked up cotton prices about 20 points today. There is no change in the situation in this market and the buying is by people who are trying to make a better basis for the sale of spots.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 17.—Again the European markets manifested about taking of the arbitrage account, and the New Orleans people transferred a large amount of their hedges transferred because of the feeling that the lower prices were more valuable to spinners than had been thought probable earlier in the year. Now the stock is some extent, transferred to Liverpool and the course of prices will depend upon the demand abroad, which will affect the price of the raw material. Should the European demand warrant, this morning's market slowly declined with freeing that some further decline might occur. The consumption figures while not so large as last month, were large in excess of the same (including linters).

WHEAT WAS FIRM AT SESSION'S END

Reports of Rain in Kansas Had But Little Effect on the Market—Corn Higher at Close.

Chicago, March 17.—Sprinkles of rain over northern and eastern Kansas failed today to relieve, except in a transient manner, the fear of a dry weather scare regarding wheat. The market closed firm, a range varying from ⅛@⅜ off to a shade advance. Corn finished with a gain of 1⅛@⅜ to ⅝; oats the same as last night, and provisions unchanged to 2½@5 up.

Reports of continued heavy winds and dust storms in southern Kansas were what renewed apprehension on the part of the wheat bears. Also the official forecast gave no promise of any additional moisture, speculators who early in the day had taken to the bear side were more and more inclined to a reversal of judgment later in the session. Corn crop prospects received a noticeable tendency to be independent of the day's delivery in wheat. The nearby month was under much greater selling pressure. Undoing of a big line of shorts by the two options was going on, and was said to be largely responsible for the carrying of the count 1½ cents in the last few minutes. Clearances of 400,000 bushels of wheat from Atlantic ports, because of a falling off in the amount of foreign primary receipts and owing to a heavy movement from Winnipeg, had no cash influence.

Improved support from commission houses and fresh buckshee into provisions. Trade, as a whole, however, was light.

PARDON BEING SOUGHT FOR THE LABOR LEADERS

Improper Conduct Is Charged to the Presiding Judge.

Washington, March 17.—Application for pardons by eighteen labor leaders convicted in the "dynamiting cases" at Indianapolis, was filed today with the department of justice by the prisoners' attorney, Elliah N. Zoline, of Chicago. The petition alleged that the men were innocent, and that Judge Albert B. Anderson, who presided over the federal court at Indianapolis when they were convicted, did not give them a fair and impartial trial.

Mr. Zoline announced that at least twenty members of the house and several senators would appear before the department or the president in behalf of the convicted men.

Those applying for the pardons are Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Michael J. Young, Edward Smythe, Paul J. Morin, Frank J. Higgins, T. E. Munsey, Frank Mooney, John H. Barry, Peter J. Smith, George Anderson, William E. Reddin, Frank E. Feiel, Henry W. Legleitner, Ernest W. Basey, Eugene A. Clancy, Michael J. Mannin, William Shupe and Michael J. Channane.

The supreme court on March 9 refused to review the convictions of these and six other members of the Iron Workers' union.

Charges Against Judge.

Most of the papers filed were in support of charges against Judge Anderson's conduct of the case. The application alleged that Judge Anderson allowed only exceptions to his rulings as suited his fancy; that he repeatedly seised opportunities to make long speeches to the jury, commenting upon the facts in a way calculated to show that the defendants were guilty, and that he ridiculed and intimidated counsel and witnesses for the defense.

In a supplemental letter to President Wilson, Attorney Zoline said a special train to convey the defendants to the Leavenworth penitentiary was ordered forty days before the verdict of the jury, and that the men were on their way to the penitentiary one hour after sentences were pronounced upon them. He added that without good reason Judge Anderson during the trial walked from his residence to courtroom accompanied by police, many times in view of the jury. Thus, he urged, the jury gained the impression that a state of lawlessness existed in Indianapolis, which Judge Anderson knew was not the case.

It was also alleged that Judge Anderson during the trial frequently consulted with the attorneys of the Erectors' association, and heard suggestions from him privately in the absence of the defendants and their counsel.

Ridicule Charged to Judge.

In support of his charge that Judge Anderson ridiculed counsel for the defendants, Mr. Zoline quoted from the transcript of the trial record where Judge Anderson, in reply to Senator Kern, of counsel for the defense, said he could not "control a lot of school boys." Judge Anderson's statement to Chester H. Krum, formerly United States district attorney, that he must exhibit strange ignorance as to the practice of attorneys in court in asking me to note an exception, was also referred to.

To another attorney for the defendants, Mr. Hoovey, Judge Anderson was quoted as saying:

"Mr. Marshal, you put that man down in his seat. You will not say another thing, I am not going to have any more trouble with you in this case. This is the third time I have had to make you sit down. The next time you attempt to do this I will put you where you will have to give loud yourself. Do you hear me?"

Judge Anderson conditions can be asked by the department of justice to make such statements as they may care to do in regard to the application.

SWEEPING REFORMS ARE BEING PLANNED

argument that they should be made public."

Slaton Favors Survey.

Superintendent Slaton declared that he has been in favor of a survey of the schools always, and that he advocated it in his addresses before clubs and in many other utterances on the subject of school facilities.

After the board had accepted Alderman Jesse Armistead's motion that the state superintendent be asked immediately to make a survey before he consults with the state board, Commissioner Terrell offered a resolution urging the chamber of commerce to furnish the board with a copy of the reports on hand, also the data upon which the reports were based. The resolution was adopted. He also urged the board that before the board refuse to sanction a survey unless it is agreed that the board is to receive the report and the data.

The resolution was adopted.

The board granted permission to the West End church to hold an overflow meeting in the Peoples' high school next Sunday. Alderman Armistead made a motion for the use of the school, and stated that the board should place the schools at the disposal of the churches or make them civic neighborhood centers.

Two weeks pay was allowed Miss A. C. Evans, teacher in the Gate City Colants school, who resigned her position last Saturday to be married, under the rules of the board a teacher forfeits two weeks of her salary for failure to give the board two weeks notice of her intention to resign.

Both Superintendent Slaton and Secretary Landrum appealed to the board for the teachers, but Commissioner Dan Green opposed the recommendations.

"MOTHER" MARY JONES RELEASED BY TROOPS

Denver, Colo., March 17.—The question of whether or not the famous "Mother" Mary Jones, who has been held incommunicado for 10 days as a prisoner in San Rafael hospital in Trinidad since January 12, constitutes a violation of constitutional rights was further debated today when late Sunday night of the military authorities released her, thereby automatically suspending habeas corpus proceedings which had been granted in the state supreme court yesterday.

Circumstances surrounding the departure of Mary Jones from Trinidad and her appearance in Denver were given by Gov. Ammons in discussions from strike leaders and state officials. Within an aged strike leader said she was entrusted by the militia guards at Trinidad Sunday night with what her counsel, Adjutant General John Chase asserted she was released after her people had left the strike district never to return and that the presence of guards on the train on which she arrived in Denver was a mere coincidence.

Further developments of the situation today did not appear likely until the end of the week when "Mother" Jones said she would return to Trinidad in defiance of General Chase's alleged threat of immediate rearrest.

For National University.

Washington, March 17.—In urging the house education committee to report a bill aimed to create a national university in Washington, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley today opposed the proposition that the institution be opened only to students holding a master of arts degree. He said Edison, Faraday and many others would be barred by such a requirement. "We want a national university for all who are capable of pursuing its courses," he said.

HEAVY FIGHTING BETWEEN REBELS

mals which perished from thirst, and even those of men, for General Orozco fought over parts of this country two years ago. His men suffered terribly from thirst. So precious is the supply of water regarded by Villa that he has ordered that those shall be executed on such superfluities as bathing and the cleansing of linen.

Villa is supplied with a wireless outfit, by which he can communicate with Chihuahua and Juarez. The British ambassador. It was said that hereafter when the British government has occasion to make representations to the Mexican constitutional authorities in Chihuahua, it will do so through its vice consul at the capital of that state, or, where the incident occurs at Juarez, through the Juarez consulate at El Paso, Texas.

The line generally lags behind the moral rules, but not so much now as in the past. Mr. Taft says of it, secretly is that modern law is much nearer moral standards than it ever was before.

Mr. Taft advocated the federal plan for city government in an address before the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association earlier in the afternoon.

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—Discussion of proposed reforms in court procedure in England was the subject presented at the annual dinner of the Ramsey County Bar association last night, at which former President William H. Taft was principal speaker.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED HAS BEEN DISPERSED

Sacramento, Cal., March 17.—"General" Charles Kelley's unemployed army, which began its march on Washington, D. C., more than 3,000 on Friday, since ten days ago, has been dispersed. Only a handful of irreconcilables remained tonight in the camp on the Yolo levee, to which the army was driven last week by Sacramento deputies.

Sheriff Monroe, of Yolo county, served notice on the anti-Kelley faction of the army that its leader, who is in command, would be released from jail if the faction supported by the sheriff. The offer was accepted, and throughout the day the men broke camp in small groups. The fragment of the army remaining today is to be held together and will be disbanded.

When the report of the commission appointed by Governor Carey to investigate the killing of Benton has been completed, it will be submitted to the governor, who will then decide whether the matter should be presented to the grand jury of Los Angeles county for action.

CONVICT GUARDS' TRIAL POSTPONED A FEW DAYS

The trials of the two convict guards recently indicted for murder in connection with prisoners have been postponed for several days, pending the outcome of the illness of one of the principal witnesses, Philip Walker, who is said to be sick.

The trials were to have been called on Tuesday morning, but were checked by the solicitor general.

$7,500 for Mrs. Bacon.

Washington, March 17. (Special.)—Mrs. Virginia Lamar Bacon, widow of the late Senator Bacon, of Georgia, will get $7,500 from the government, equal to one year's salary of a congressman. The item was included in the senate civil appropriation bill reported to the senate today.

Riot in Para's Capital.

HABEAS CORPUS GRANTED FOR THE 5,000 MEXICANS

Fort Worth, Texas, March 17.—Judge Edward Mack, in the federal district court here today granted a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of the five thousand Mexicans held as prisoners by the United States government at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

The writ is returnable at Pecos, Texas, March 25, before Judge Maxey, who will sit in the place of Judge Maxey, of the western district, now in New Orleans.

H. L. Gamble, of El Paso, attorney for the Mexicans, applied to Judge Mack for the writ after failing to obtain it in the western district, from Judge Burns, of the southern district.

The Mexican prisoners include men, women and children. They were driven across the Rio Grande by the rebels of northern Mexico, following the recent battles between the two armies.

Gamble said instructions were received at Fort Bliss from Washington to hold the refugees as prisoners until further notice. This notice has not been, he said, and the Mexicans are suffering of their imprisonment. According to Gamble, when he left Fort Worth late Monday, the support of the prisoners is costing the American government $15,000 a month.

No arguments were presented today, Judge Mack's action amounting merely to the fixing of a date for a hearing. Whether the refugees' attorneys will argue for the Mexicans' right to be set free, or what plans the United States authorities have made for defending their right to intern the Mexicans are not known here.

PRIMARY LAW FAVORED BY WILSON AND BRYAN

Washington, March 17.—Letters from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan indorsing the movement for a state-wide primary in Indiana, which were made public today by Senator Kern, of Indiana, chairman of the Indiana democratic convention, of which Senator Kern is to be permanent chairman. Both letters referred to a published interview to the senator lately on that subject.

President Wilson wrote:

"I have noticed with unusual interest your interview the other day about the absence of a law for state-wide primaries in Indiana. I was very much surprised to learn that so great and widespread a need for it existed, and the procession is a matter of such capital importance, and I want to express my deep interest in your efforts to bring about the necessary legislation. It would hearten democrats everywhere to see this done in Indiana."

I earnestly hope your state-wide primary election law for state officers may become a settled practice in the near future, and that it may come to be the settled, practice of all the states.

"And the same may be said in regard to the initiative and referendum—the two reforms generally going together, because the same principle underlies both. I do not see how any objection can be raised to the initiative and referendum; if the people have not only the right to make laws for themselves, but the capacity to do so, they should be in position to force their representatives into obedience to their will."

TAFT HITS ROOSEVELT FOR ATTACKING COURTS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 17.—Casual reference to "ill disguised vituperation" by Theodore Roosevelt, in criticism of the present judicial system, statement of the necessity of keeping the judiciary independent and a detailed exposition of the usefulness of the United States supreme court marked William H. Taft's lecture before the law school of the University of Minnesota late today.

"The line generally lags behind the moral rules, but not so much now as in the past. Mr. Taft says of it, secretly is that modern law is much nearer moral standards than it ever was before.

Mr. Taft advocated the federal plan for city government in an address before the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association earlier in the afternoon.

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—Discussion of proposed reforms in court procedure in England was the subject presented at the annual dinner of the Ramsey County Bar association last night, at which former President William H. Taft was principal speaker.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED HAS BEEN DISPERSED

Sacramento, Cal., March 17.—"General" Charles Kelley's unemployed army, which began its march on Washington, D. C., more than 3,000 on Friday, since ten days ago, has been dispersed. Only a handful of irreconcilables remained tonight in the camp on the Yolo levee, to which the army was driven last week by Sacramento deputies.

Sheriff Monroe, of Yolo county, served notice on the anti-Kelley faction of the army that its leader, who is in command, would be released from jail if the faction supported by the sheriff. The offer was accepted, and throughout the day the men broke camp in small groups. The fragment of the army remaining today is to be held together and will be disbanded.

When the report of the commission appointed by Governor Carey to investigate the killing of Benton has been completed, it will be submitted to the governor, who will then decide whether the matter should be presented to the grand jury of Los Angeles county for action.

Blizzard and Flood Scenes in East and West

The elements have dealt unkindly with both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, as these pictures show. The blizzard in the Atlantic states was the worst since the record-making blizzard of March 15, 1888. It stalled trains for days, tied up shipping and crowded New York, Philadelphia and other big eastern cities and caused the death of scores or more persons, mainly those struck by the wind, a sudden and unusual fall of snow rain caused a damaging flood, particularly in the San Joaquin valley and around Los Angeles. Residents in some sections were forced to flee for their lives. Several deaths resulted.

BAN IS TO BE PLACED ON HOLDING COMPANIES

Measure Is Approved at a Conference Held at the White House.

Washington, March 17.—The "holding company" bill as approved at a white house conference last night for incorporation in the administration trust legislation program, was made public today by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

The measure prohibit unlawful restraint of trade or monopolies in interstate or foreign commerce by corporations through the device of intercorporate stockholding. The bill was drafted by Representatives Clayton, Martin and Floyd. It probably will be consolidated with other proposed measures that trust legislation may be taken up for passage as one bill. The senate interstate commerce committee, which is working to report a general anti-trust bill, has been supplied with a draft of this measure.

The "holding company" bill would provide:

That it shall be unlawful for one corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce to acquire, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the stock or other share capital of another corporation engaged also in interstate or foreign commerce, where the effect of such acquisition is to eliminate or lessen competition.

It would further provide, however, "that this act shall not apply to corporations purchasing such stock solely for investment, and not using the same by voting or otherwise to bring about, or in attempting to bring about, the lessening of competition."

Violations of the act would constitute misdemeanors, punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

The measure sets forth that "any individual, who, as officer or director of any corporation, or otherwise orders, takes action, or participates in carrying out any resolution to that effect, shall be held and deemed guilty of a misdemeanor within the meaning of this section."

"Nothing contained in this act," the bill continues, "shall prevent a corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce from causing the formation of subsidiary corporations for the actual carrying on of their immediate lawful business, or the natural and legitimate branches thereof, or from owning and holding all or a part of the stock of such subsidiary corporations, when the effect of such formation is not to eliminate or lessen competition."

The measure provides that nothing in this act shall be held to affect or impair any right heretofore legally acquired.

He Thinks Rent Is Too High for Warwick Castle—He Wants to Buy Estate.

London, March 17.—Harry Marshall, the prominent and very wealthy American, and the Countess of Warwick have not yet consummated their long correspondence regarding the tenancy of Warwick castle, which Marshall has leased for a term of years. In the ordinary course of circumstances it should be Lord Warwick's agents who would make these arrangements, but it seems that Lord Warwick has thrown all of the business of the estate into her own hands. Mr. Marshall is anxious to effect a lot of what are, from his point of view, necessary improvements to the historic pile, and the countess says he must not go much as remove a picture or a stone throughout the whole house.

Mr. Marshall and Kinsman for a while, and had the whole place arranged to suit their own taste, though the Earl of Lytton and the countess would have very much preferred things left as they were, and did not hesitate to say so.

Mr. Marsh's great ambition is to buy a really historic English castle, and it appears he would be willing to offer $2,500,000 for Warwick castle were it possible to purchase it. So far as the countess is concerned she would be pleased enough to part with it, but of course, it is entailed. She is in some things a true socialist, though she does love money for the good things it brings. Lady Warwick rather prides herself as a fine business woman, and she is determined, if Marsh takes the place, he will have to pay handsomely for it. The price demanded is $25,000 a year, and though the Americans could just as easily pay twice as much, he thinks even the smaller sum is a fancy price. The late Duke of Sutherland prevented Warwick castle from being let many times, but the present holder of the title doesn't care two straws.

Sunt the Ant.

(From The Lancet.)

No suspicion until lately has arisen that the industrious ant might upon occasion act as the transmitting agent of infection to man. It was recently stated, however, that the white ants, and had very destructive tendencies in the tropics, where they not only attack the bites of some large tropical ants are known to be similarly destructive, being attended with faintness and sometimes with symptoms of temporary paralysis. It was also suggested that some savage races eat the dried bodies of ants beaten into a paste, as a kind of "sweetmeat." It is only of late that suggestion has been made that ants might be the means of pathogenic bacteria to man. The ant is commonly found in and around the tropics. It is indoor, and it is quick to find the insect away from foodstuffs in such houses, and is in especially fond of sugar, but avoids human dejecta when these are in the open air. So that it is not likely it cannot be doubted that the ant has the opportunity of coming in contact occasionally with the specific organisms of enteric fever and bacillary dysentery. His investigations have been made with regard to the ant which has been very successfully made use of in a number of the leading hospitals and similar institutions of Europe. It consists of nothing more or less than sawdust. The material preferred for the purpose is the dust of hard wood, which is placed in an oven and subjected to an intense heat, which has the effect of thoroughly drying it out and at the same time purifying it. $5 Girl Most Costly.

(From The New York Sun.)

"Don't let the public patronize you because you only pay $5 a week to the girl who does your work," laments the public which gives you the five-dollar girl, when she is the most expensive employee you have.

This was the advice which H. E. Miles, vice president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, gave to the 700 members of the National Retail Dry Goods association at their annual convention at the Hotel Astor.

Mr. Miles' theme had been vocational training for employees, but he swerved somewhat from his theme in order to answer Norman Hapgood, an editor, who had just told the retailers that a minimum wage is by this thing, and that all legislation is useless which protects workers from long hours, dirty work, and then, by allowing employers to pay them inadequately, subjects them to the temptation of worse evils, such as subsidies from parents or lovers.

Mr. Miles' view on the minimum wage were set forth in a way that retailers, especially when he said that if he were a retailer he wouldn't allow the public to dictate to him what the minimum wage should be unless the public developed labor worth more than it is at present.

He put the blame for the present situation on the public and on the shoulders of the educational system of the United States.

"You have a five-dollar-a-week girl in the cheapest labor you can hire," he said. "Consequently the five-dollar girl is the dearest. This country's educational system with $1,000,000,000 and each year we spend $500,000,000 for maintenance. We allow 40 per cent of the children, all those who leave school by a minimum wage scale, to leave school at the end of the fourth, fifth or sixth grade.

"Don't let the public blame you for the girl who is subsidized by the parent or lover, and don't let the public make you subsidize them. Use the argument of the minimum wage in proving to the public that the schools will have to turn out girls worth more than $5 a week. You would be glad to pay them more if they were worth more. Demand that the people of the United States teach these children efficiently, and demand that the public pay the bill. If you run your stores well you are doing all one man can do.

"When the average child will now be affected by a minimum wage problem a year or a month it has not been educated; she has learned something of reading, writing and arithmetic, which is not delightful, but which are the tools by which education is acquired, and yet thousands of children are turned loose without even those tools."

Improper Conduct Is Charged to the Presiding Judge.

Washington, March 17.—Application for pardons by eighteen labor leaders convicted in the "dynamiting cases" at Indianapolis, was filed today with the department of justice by the prisoners' attorney, Elijah N. Zoline, of Chicago. The petition alleged that the men were innocent, and that Judge Albert B. Anderson, who presided over the federal court at Indianapolis when they were convicted, did not give them as fair and impartial trial.

Mr Zoline announced that at least twenty members of the house and several senators would appear before the department or the president in behalf of the convicted men.

Those applying for the pardons are Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Michael J. Young, Edward Smythe, Paul J. Morrin, Frank J. Higgins, T. E. Munsey, Frank Mooney, John H. Barry, Peter J. Smith, George Anderson, William E. Reddin, Frank E. Feiel, Henry W. Legatteaux, Ernest W. Basey, Eugene A. Clancy, Michael J. Hannan, William Shupe and Michael J. Channahan.

The supreme court on March 9 refused to review the convictions of these and six other members of the Iron Workers' union.

Charges Against Judge.

Most of the papers filed were in support of charges against Judge Anderson's conduct of the case. The application alleged that Judge Anderson allowed only exceptions to his rulings as suited his fancy; that he frequently seized opportunities to make long speeches to the jury, commenting upon the facts in a way calculated to show that the defendants were guilty, and that he ridiculed counsel and intimidated counsel and witnesses for the defense.

In a supplemental letter to President Wilson, Attorney Zoline said a special train to convey the defendants to the Leavenworth penitentiary was ordered forty days before the verdict of the jury, and that the men were on their way to the penitentiary one hour after sentences were pronounced upon them. He added that without good reason Judge Anderson during the trial walked from his residence to courtroom accompanied by police, many times in view of the jury. Thus, he urged, the jury gained the impression that a state of lawlessness existed in Indianapolis, which Judge Anderson knew was not the case.

It was also alleged that Judge Anderson during the trial frequently consulted with the attorneys of the Erectors' association, and heard suggestions from him privately in the absence of the defendants and their counsel.

Ridicule Charged to Judge.

In support of his charge that Judge Anderson ridiculed counsel for the defendants, Mr. Zoline quoted from the transcript of the trial record where Judge Anderson, in reply to Senator Kern, of counsel for the defendants, said he could not "control a lot of school boys." Judge Anderson's statement to Chester H. Krum, formerly United States district attorney, that he would exhibit strange ignorance as to the practice of attorneys in court in asking me to note an exception, was also referred to.

To another attorney for the defendants, Mr. Hoover, Judge Anderson was quoted as saying:

"Mr. Marshal, you put that man down in his seat. Don't let me hear any another thing, I am not going to have any more trouble with you in this case. This is the third time I have had to make you sit down, and the next time you attempt to do this I will put you where you will have to give bond yourself. Do you hear me?"

Judge Anderson's conduct was also asked by the department of justice to make such statement as he may care to do in regard to the application

Sixteen Persons Survey.

Superintendent Slaton declared that he has been in favor of a survey of the schools always, and that he advocated it in his annual recommendations and in many other utterances on the subject of school facilities.

After the board adopted Alderman Jesse Armistead's motion that the state superintendent be asked immediately to make a survey before he consults with the state board, Commissioner Terrell offered a resolution urging the chamber of commerce to furnish the board with a copy of the reports on hand, also the data upon which the reports were based. The resolution was adopted. His idea is that the board must hereafter the board refuse to sanction a survey unless it is agreed that the board is to receive the report and the data.

The resolution was adopted.

The board granted permission to the West End church to hold an overflow meeting in the Peabody high school next Sunday. Alderman Armistead made a plea for the use of the school, and stated that the board should place the schools at the disposal of the churches or make them civic neighborhood centers.

Two weeks pay was allowed Miss A. C. Evans, teacher in the Grant park school, who resigned her position last Saturday to be married, under the rules of the board a teacher forfeits two weeks of her salary for failure to give the board two weeks notice of her intention to resign. Both Superintendent Slaton and Secretary Landrum appealed to the board to let teachers, but Commissioner Dan Gress opposed the recommendations.

"MOTHER" MARY JONES RELEASED BY TROOPS

Denver, Colo., March 17.—The question whether or not Mrs. Mary Jones, "Mother" Mary Jones, who has been held incommunicado for a week as a prisoner in San Rafael hospital in Trinidad since January 12, should be a violation of constitutional rights was further debated by the governor this Sunday night of the military authorities subsequently released her, automatically suspending habeas corpus proceedings, which had been ordered filed in the state supreme court yesterday.

Circumstances surrounding the departure of "Mother" Jones from Trinidad and her appearance in Denver were given a widely differing versions from strike leaders and state officials. While the aged strike leader said she was entrusted to the militia guards at Trinidad Sunday night, without her consent, Adjutant General John Chase asserted she was released after her physician had learned that she would never to return and that the presence of guards on the train on which she arrived in Denver was a mere coincidence.

Further developments of the situation today did not appear likely until the end of the week, when "Mother" Jones said she would return to Trinidad in defiance of General Chase's alleged threat of immediate rearrest.

For National University.

Washington, March 17.—In urging the house education committee to report a bill aimed to create a national university in Washington, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley today opposed the proposition that the institution be opened only to students holding a master of arts degree. He said Edison, Faraday and many others would be barred by such a requirement. "We want a national university for all who are capable of pursuing its courses," he said.

CONFERENCE SOUGHT OF MEXICAN FACTIONS

Washington, March 17.—A conference of representatives of the warring Mexican factions in Washington, under the auspices of the United States, was proposed in a resolution today by representative Bartholdt, republican, of Missouri, one of the international peace leaders in congress.

Representative Bartholdt's resolution requests the president to invite representatives of the Huerta government, the constitutionalists and other revolutionary leaders to meet here at as early a date as is practicable.

Although there was no authority for the statement, other members of the house who have been in touch with the situation, were of the opinion that Representative Bartholdt's plan would be regarded with favor by Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz, the former dictator, and who has been here lately, waiting to get a hearing before the senate foreign relations committee to propose his peace plan. The Bartholdt resolution would provide that the meetings of the Mexican conferees be held in the Pan-American Union building and would appropriate $25,000 for expenses.

No one can tell whether my plan will be acceptable to the warring factions in Mexico or not, but I believe it to be worth the effort," said Representative Bartholdt. "Even if the president in the event of the passage of my resolution, should fail in his efforts to carry out its objects, such failure would never be to our discredits on the contrary, merit and attempt would, in my judgment, challenge the approbation of the civilized world."

TALK OF OLNEY AND GRAY PROBING MEXIC MUDDLE

Mexico City, March 17.—The Mexican foreign office announced today that there was a likelihood that Judge George Gray, of Wilmington, Del., and Richard Olney, formerly secretary of state, of Boston, would visit Mexico to investigate conditions.

Jose Lopez Portillo y Rojas, the foreign minister, said that those two men named would be acting only in an unofficial manner, the Mexican government would be glad to receive them.

Washington, March 17.—While high officials and others here declared they had no knowledge of a trip to Mexico by Judge Gray and Mr. Olney to Mexico.

Boston, March 17.—Richard Olney was told today of the report from Mexico City that he might go to Mexico to investigate conditions there. He laughed heartily and said:

"That is about the most ridiculous thing that I have heard for a long time. This is the first I have heard of it. I have never contemplated going to Mexico. You may make an unqualified and absolute denial."

Wilmington, Del., March 17.—Judge Gray was surprised at the report sent out in the dispatch from Mexico City today. It was the first he had heard of a move to send him to Mexico to investigate conditions there, he said, and in the absence of information on the matter the judge declined to discuss the matter

REQUISITION IS SENT FOR MEXICAN BANDIT

San Diego, Cal., March 17.—A requisition for the extradition of Mexico can hand Carranza, charged with the murder of Postmaster Frank D. Johnston, at Tecate on the lower California border, was sent today by governor Johnson, of the governor of the northern district of lower California. District attorney H. D. Utley, of San Diego county, expressed the opinion that it would be expected that the request would be complied with. All was quiet at Tecate today.

BRITISH VICE CONSUL TO DEAL WITH CARRANZA

Washington, March 17.—After a conference today between Secretary Bryan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, it was said that hereafter the British government has occasion to make representations to the Mexican constitutionalist authorities in Chihuahua, it will do so through its vice consul at El Paso, instead of through consuls in Mexico occupy a similar status as consuls in Mexico City.

In other parts of Mexico where the British government has no consular officers Secretary Bryan has undertaken to arrange that British officer in that part of Mexico shall, if the constitutionalists so desire, act in their behalf. The chief appears in the city of Chihuahua, but it is expected that hereafter there will not hesitate to establish consulates in other cities.

This is not regarded as constituting in any degree political recognition of the constitutionalist government. It was pointed out that the American consuls in Mexico occupy a similar status as consuls of other countries.

CONVICT GUARDS' TRIAL POSTPONED A FEW DAYS

The trials of the two convict guards recently indicted for cruelty to the prisoners have been postponed for several days, pending the outcome of the illness of one of the principal witnesses, Philip Fisher, who is said to be dying.

The trials were to have been called on Tuesday morning, but were checked by the solicitor general.

$7,500 for Mrs. Bacon.

Washington, March 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Virginia Lamar Bacon, widow of the late Senator Bacon, of Georgia, will get $7,500 from the government, equal to one year's salary of a congressman. The item was included in the senate civil appropriation bill reported to the senate today.

Riot in Para's Capital.

HABEAS CORPUS GRANTED FOR THE 5,000 MEXICANS

Fort Worth, Texas, March 17.—Judge Edward Mack, in the federal district court here today granted a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of the five thousand Mexicans held as prisoners by the United States government at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

The writ is returnable at Pecos, Texas, March 24, before Judge Mack, who will sit in the place of Judge Maxey, of the western district, now in New Orleans.

E. L. Gamble, of El Paso, attorney for the Mexicans, applied to Judge Mack for the writ after he failed to obtain it in the western district, from Judge Burns, of the southern district.

The Mexican prisoners include men, women and children, who fled from Ojinaga across the Rio Grande by the rebels of northern Mexico, when the federal refugees from Ojinaga.

Gamble said that instructions were received at Fort Bliss from Washington to hold the refugees as prisoners until further notice. This notice has not been, he said, and the Mexicans are suffering of their imprisonment. According to Gamble, when he left Fort Worth late Monday, the support of the prisoners is costing the American government $25,000 a day.

No arguments were presented today, Judge Mack's action amounting merely to the fixing of a date for a hearing. The refugees' attorneys will argue for the Mexicans' right to be set free. What plans the federal authorities have made for defending their right to intern the Mexicans are not known here

GEORGIAN IS NOMINATED FOR ALASKAN POSITION

Washington, March 17.—William N Spence, of Camilla, Ga., was nominated by the president today for United States attorney, district of Alaska, division number three.

PRIMARY LAW FAVORED BY WILSON AND BRYAN

Washington, March 17.—Letters from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan indorsing the movement for a state-wide primary law in Indiana were made public today by Senator Kern. The senator read the letters to the Indiana democratic convention, of which Senator Kern is to be permanent chairman. Both letters referred to a published interview with the senator lately on that subject.

President Wilson wrote:

"I have noticed with unusual interest your interview in the Courier and that the absence of a law for state-wide primaries in Indiana. I was very much surprised to learn that so great and hideous a scandal as that of bribery in the procession is a matter of such capital importance, and I write to express my deep interest in your efforts to bring about the necessary legislation. It would hearten democrats everywhere to see this disgrace wiped out.

"I earnestly hope your state will be the first to lead the way to wide primary election law. The primary has become a settled practice in almost all the states and has ceased to be the settled, practice of all the states.

"And the same may be said in regard to the initiative and referendum—the two reforms generally going together, because the one supplements and derives both. I do not see how any objection can be raised to the initiative and referendum; if the people have not ought they to be allowed to deliberate for themselves, but the capacity to do so, they should be in a position to convey their representatives into obedience to their will."

TAFT HITS ROOSEVELT FOR ATTACKING COURTS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 17.—Casual reference to "ill disguised vituperation" by Theodore Roosevelt of criticism of the present judicial system, statement of the necessity of keeping the judiciary independent and a detailed exposition of the usefulness of the United States supreme court marked William H. Taft's lecture before the law school of the University of Minnesota late today.

"The law generally lags behind the moral rules, but not so much now as in the past," Mr. Taft said. "What is true is that modern law is much nearer moral standards than it ever was before.

Mr. Taft advocated the federal plan for city government in an address before the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association earlier in the afternoon.

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—Discussion of proposed reforms in court procedure, which Theodore Roosevelt will present at the annual dinner of the Lawyers' Club here tomorrow night, at which former President William H. Taft will preside, today began

Sacramento, Cal., March 17.—"General" Charles Kelley's army of unemployed which began its march on Washington, D. C., on Jan. 1, 1914, from Oakland to San Francisco ten days ago, has been dispersed. Only a handful of irreconcilables remain with Kelley tonight on the road to Yolo levee, to which the army was driven last week by Sacramento authorities.

Sheriff Monroe, of Yolo county, served notice on the anti-Kelley faction of the army that its leader, Kelley, in number, would be released from jail if the faction supported by Municipal Judge Frank Finch, who is also head of the army, would leave the county. The offer was accepted, and throughout the day the army broke into small groups. The fragment of the army remaining loyal to "General" Kelley was not treated with by Sheriff Monroe, because it is believed Kelley refused to consider any offer not predicated on the release of Kelley and his lieutenants, which the sheriff declared a ransom county said today Kelley and his principal aides would be prosecuted.

WOMEN BRAVE SNOW IN ORDER TO REGISTER

Chicago, March 17.—For the second time in two days snow is keeping voters in Chicago and other parts of the city and state from registering. Only a few hundred women voted at the polling precincts in Chicago and scattered their qualifications so far listed as legal voters of the city and state. Showers and intermittent snow fall apparently had little effect on the number of women who visited the registration places.

Activity among women was decidedly noticeable in the first ward, where Alderman John (Bath House) Coughlin will be opposed for election in April by Miss Marion Drake.

Fewer complaints than usual reached the headquarters of the police and detained at nearly every polling place.

Bishop Randolph Can't Act.

Norfolk, Va., March 17.—Owing to pressing diocesan duties, Bishop Alfred Magill Randolph, of the diocese of southern Virginia, has been compelled to decline an invitation from Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, at the court of Madrid, to visit the embassy, in Madrid, in April, and officiate at the marriage of their daughter to Kermit Roosevelt, son of former President Theodore Roosevelt.

BAN IS TO BE PLACED ON HOLDING COMPANIES

Measure Is Approved at a Conference Held at the White House.

Washington, March 17.—The "holding company" bill as approved at a white house conference last night for incorporation in the administration trust legislation program, was made public today by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

Section 1 prohibits unlawful restraint of trade or monopolies in interstate or foreign commerce by corporations through the device of intercorporate stockholding. The bill was drafted by Representatives Clayton, Carlin and Floyd. It probably will be consolidated with other proposed measures that trust legislation may be taken up for passage as one bill. The senate interstate commerce committee, which is working to report a general anti-trust bill, has been supplied with a draft of this measure.

The "holding company" bill would provide:

That it shall be unlawful for one corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce to acquire, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the stock or other share capital of another corporation engaged also in interstate or foreign commerce, where the effect of such acquisition is to eliminate or lessen competition.

It would further provide, however, "that this act shall not apply to corporations purchasing such stock solely for investment, and not using the same by voting or otherwise to bring about, or in attempting to bring about, the lessening of competition."

Violations of the act would constitute misdemeanors, punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, both, in the discretion of the court.

The measure sets forth that "any and the necessary or usual dealings of any individual, who, as officer or director of a corporation or otherwise orders, takes action, or participates in carrying out any transaction herein prohibited, shall be held and deemed guilty of a misdemeanor under this section."

"Nothing contained in this act," the bill continues, "shall prevent a corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce from causing the creation of subsidiary corporations for the actual carrying out of their immediate lawful business, or the natural and legitimate branches thereof, or from owning and holding all or a part of the stock of such subsidiary corporations, when the effect of such formation is not to eliminate or lessen competition substantially."

"The measure provides that nothing contained in the act shall be held to affect or impair any right heretofore legally acquired."

ASWELL AND FELDER TO DISCRIMINATE

Savannah, March 17.—At the Hibernian society's one hundred and second annual banquet here tonight Representative James E. Aswell, of Louisiana, spoke on "The Right to Be Free," making a plea for religious as well as political liberty. Attorney General John M. Felder, of Georgia, responded to the toast "Georgia." He was followed by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, as a native Georgian, who had brought credit on his birthplace, and praised President Wilson, who became a resident of Georgia, as "the greatest president in the history of the republic."

Sawdust in Surgery.

(From The Chicago Journal.)

A new dressing for wounds and sores has been recently invented by a physician in Vancouver, B. C., the basis of which has been very successfully made use of in a number of the leading hospitals and similar institutions of Europe. It consists of putting more or less than sawdust. The material preferred for the purpose is the dust of hard wood, which is placed in an oven and subjected to an intense heat, which has the effect of thoroughly drying it out and at the same time purifying it. After this it is passed through a sieve, and the fine dust which is taken from the mass is made use of as a dressing. Powdered charcoal, rice ashes and powdered sugar have been made use of by the Japanese for the same purpose.

He Thinks Rent Is Too High for Warwick Castle—He Wants to Buy Estate.

London, March 17.—Harry Marshall, prominent and very wealthy American, and the Countess of Warwick have not yet entered into terms of correspondence regarding the tenancy of Warwick castle, which Mr. Marshall is said to have in mind, it became known today. In the ordinary course of circumstances it should be Lord Warwick's agents who would make these arrangements, but it seems that Mr. Marshall has his mind made up to buy the castle and grounds, though the countess is concerned she would be pleased enough to part with it, but, of course, it is entailed. She is in some things a true socialist, though she does love money for the good things it brings. Lady Warwick rather prides herself as a fine business woman, and she is determined, if Marshall takes the castle, he will have to pay handsomely for it. The price demanded is $25,000 a year, and, though the American could just as easily pay twice as much, he thinks even the smaller sum is a fancy price. The late Duke of Sutherland prevented Warwick castle from being let many times, but the present holder of the title doesn't care two straws.

Sweat the Ant.

No suspicion until lately has arisen that the industrious ant might upon occasion be the transmitting agent of infection to man. It was known that many species, such as the white ant, had very destructive tendencies in the tropics, as in the case of the boring of the sides of some large tropical ants by a species of termite, or leaser evil, being attended with faintness and sickness, and sometimes even with temporary paralysis. It was also known that some ants ate large doses of the dried bodies of ants beaten into a paste, as in the Malabar Islands, but only of late that suggestion has been made that they might transmit pathogenic bacteria to man. The ant is commonly found in and around the tropics. It is a constant visitor to the kitchen to help the insect away from foodstuffs to such houses, and it is equally fond of the sick bed, but away from human dejecta when these are not properly disposed of. So that it cannot be doubted that the ant has the opportunity of carrying from infected excreta the specific organisms of disease, such as those of typhoid, to human dwellings.

Little or no experimental work, however, had been done to obtain proof that ants were capable of transmitting diseases to man, but, in 1912 Dr. L. B. Blue, bacteriologist to Ancon hospital in the Panama Canal Zone, undertook a series of experiments with the view of putting to the test whether or not the ant acted as a transmitting agent of such infections as enteric fever and bacillary dysentery. His investigations were carried out with large yellow ants which are found in and around the houses in the Canal Zone. He fed a number of these insects on bread soaked with cultures of bacillus typhosus for five days, killing and examining some of them at certain intervals, but in no instance was he able to recover the typhoid bacillus from the intestines of the ants. The experiment was carefully repeated with like negative results. He then tried to determine if the ant could carry the specific organisms on its legs or body in a purely mechanical way to human food.

To this end a number of the insects were dropped into a broth culture of the typhoid bacillus and allowed afterwards to crawl out and walk over dishes in such a way [illegible] their feet-prints could be "cultivated" for bacteria. The typhoid bacillus was easily found in every instance. This experiment was repeated several times, and in this majority of cases positive results were obtained.

MOB LYNCHES NEGRO IN COURTHOUSE YARD

Lynching Occured Two Hours After Victim Killed A Constable.

Fayette, Mo., March 17.—Two hours after Yakie Shields, a negro barber, had shot to death Constable Joseph Haines here tonight and terrified the town, he was lynched by 250 citizens in the courthouse yard. Haines was shot while trying to arrest the negro on a misdemeanor charge. The mob moved quietly and quickly. The leaders seized Shields, took the jail keys and, dragging the negro to the rear of the courthouse, hanged him to the West Side. Satisfied Shields was dead the crowd dispersed.

Tank Bill Killed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 17.—The Kentucky state senate, which adjourned tonight, killed the Tank bill today. The bill killed a bill to submit to a vote of the people a proposition to issue $5,000,000 in bonds to replace saloons for the sale of [illegible] similar bill had been passed by the house.

$5 Girl Most Costly.

(From The New York Sun.)

"Don't tell me public stenographers pay! Because you only pay $5 a week to the girl who is your private secretary and who has to be paid for [illegible] Why, I've got a girl who gets $15 a week and she's the most expensive employee you have.

Mr Miles' theme had been vocational training for employees, but he swerved somewhat from his theme in order to answer Norman Hapgood, an editor, who had just told the retailers that a minimum wage is the only thing, and that all legislation is useless which protects women and children in their work, and then, by allowing employers to pay them inadequately, subjects them to the children's worse evils, such as subsidies from parents or lovers.

Mr Miles' view on the minimum wage was that it was ideal in theory, especially when he said that if he were a retailer he wouldn't allow the public to dictate to him what the minimum wage should be unless the public developed labor worth more than it is at present.

He put the blame for the present vast army of unskilled labor upon the shoulders of the educational system of the United States.

"Now, the average dollar-a-week girl is the cheapest labor you can hire," he said, "and the reason the five-dollar girl is the dearest. This country's educational system spends $1,500,000,000 each year we spend $500,000,000 for the maintenance. We allow 40 per cent of the children, all those who don't go beyond a minimum work scale, to leave school at the end of the fourth, fifth or sixth grade.

"Don't let the public blame you for the girl who is subsidized by the parents or lover, and don't let the public make you subsidize them. Use the argument that you are doing a service by saying to the public that the schools will have to turn out girls worth more than $5 a week. You would be glad to pay them more if they were worth more. Demand that the people of the United States teach these children efficiently. [illegible] demand that the public pay the bill. If you run your stores well you [illegible] going all one man can do.

"When the average child who would be affected by a minimum wage scale has been taught and she has not been educated; she has learned something of reading, writing and arithmetic, which is not education, but which are the tools by which education is acquired. And yet thousands of children are turned loose [illegible] even these tools."

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

It may now be said of Peachtree street that this thoroughfare is hitting the old-time stride in the way of real estate speculation and investment buying. A large number of deals on this street have been consummated in the last several weeks, and it is expected and predicted by leading realty agents that within a short while this activity will extend to other parts of the city on the extensive scale that it has always prevailed in the spring of years past.

Another sale reported to have been closed by R. C. Chatham, of Chatham Bros. Agency, is the following:

Peachtree Deal.

Mr. Chatham has sold for Arthur T. and Mrs. Harry E. Hopkins the Hopkins House, of Rome, No. 320 Peachtree street, known as the finest building for a consideration of $47,000, or at the rate of $2,000 per front foot.

Dr. VanHoose gave as part payment two parcels, one being located at No. 778 South Pryor street and valued at $8,000, and the other being located at Nos. 125-7 Forrest avenue and valued at $11,000.

The Peachtree property is located on the east side of the street at the point of the block between Baker street and the junction of Ivy, with a depth of 125 feet. It there is a two-story and basement store building on the lot.

PARDON BEING SOUGHT FOR THE LABOR LEADERS

Improper Conduct Is Charged to the Presiding Judge.

Washington, March 17.—Application for pardons by eighteen labor leaders convicted in the "dynamiting cases" at Indianapolis, was filed today with the department of justice by the prisoners' attorney, Elliah N. Zoline, of Chicago. The petition alleged that the men were innocent, and that Judge Albert B. Anderson, who presided over the federal court at Indianapolis when they were convicted, did not give them a fair and impartial trial.

Mr. Zoline announced that at least twenty members of the house and several senators would appear before the department or the president in behalf of the convicted men.

Those applying for the pardons are Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Michael J. Young, Edward Smythe, Paul J. Morin, Frank J. Higgins, T. E. Munsey, Frank Mooney, John H. Barry, Peter J. Smith, George Anderson, William E. Reddin, Frank E. Feiel, Henry W. Legleitner, Ernest W. Basey, Eugene A. Clancy, Michael J. Mannin, William Shupe and Michael J. Channane.

The supreme court on March 9 refused to review the convictions of these and six other members of the Iron Workers' union.

Charges Against Judge.

Most of the papers filed were in support of charges against Judge Anderson's conduct of the case. The application alleged that Judge Anderson allowed only exceptions to his rulings as suited his fancy; that he repeatedly seised opportunities to make long speeches to the jury, commenting upon the facts in a way calculated to show that the defendants were guilty, and that he ridiculed and intimidated counsel and witnesses for the defense.

In a supplemental letter to President Wilson, Attorney Zoline said a special train to convey the defendants to the Leavenworth penitentiary was ordered forty days before the verdict of the jury, and that the men were on their way to the penitentiary one hour after sentences were pronounced upon them. He added that without good reason Judge Anderson during the trial walked from his residence to courtroom accompanied by police, many times in view of the jury. Thus, he urged, the jury gained the impression that a state of lawlessness existed in Indianapolis, which Judge Anderson knew was not the case.

It was also alleged that Judge Anderson during the trial frequently consulted with the attorneys of the Erectors' association, and heard suggestions from him privately in the absence of the defendants and their counsel.

Ridicule Charged to Judge.

In support of his charge that Judge Anderson ridiculed counsel for the defendants, Mr. Zoline quoted from the transcript of the trial record where Judge Anderson, in reply to Senator Kern, of counsel for the defense, said he could not "control a lot of school boys." Judge Anderson's statement to Chester H. Krum, formerly United States district attorney, that he must exhibit strange ignorance as to the practice of attorneys in court in asking me to note an exception, was also referred to.

To another attorney for the defendants, Mr. Hoovey, Judge Anderson was quoted as saying:

"Mr. Marshal, you put that man down in his seat. You will not say another thing, I am not going to have any more trouble with you in this case. This is the third time I have had to make you sit down. The next time you attempt to do this I will put you where you will have to give loud yourself. Do you hear me?"

Judge Anderson conditions can be asked by the department of justice to make such statements as they may care to do in regard to the application.

argument that they should be made public."

Slaton Favors Survey.

Superintendent Slaton declared that he has been in favor of a survey of the schools always, and that he advocated it in his addresses before clubs and in many other utterances on the subject of school facilities.

After the board had accepted Alderman Jesse Armistead's motion that the state superintendent be asked immediately to make a survey before he consults with the state board, Commissioner Terrell offered a resolution urging the chamber of commerce to furnish the board with a copy of the reports on hand, also the data upon which the reports were based. The resolution was adopted. He also urged the board that before the board refuse to sanction a survey unless it is agreed that the board is to receive the report and the data.

The resolution was adopted.

The board granted permission to the West End church to hold an overflow meeting in the Peoples' high school next Sunday. Alderman Armistead made a motion for the use of the school, and stated that the board should place the schools at the disposal of the churches or make them civic neighborhood centers.

Two weeks pay was allowed Miss A. C. Evans, teacher in the Gate City Colants school, who resigned her position last Saturday to be married, under the rules of the board a teacher forfeits two weeks of her salary for failure to give the board two weeks notice of her intention to resign.

Both Superintendent Slaton and Secretary Landrum appealed to the board for the teachers, but Commissioner Dan Green opposed the recommendations.

"MOTHER" MARY JONES RELEASED BY TROOPS

Denver, Colo., March 17.—The question of whether or not the famous "Mother" Mary Jones, who has been held incommunicado for 10 days as a prisoner in San Rafael hospital in Trinidad since January 12, constitutes a violation of constitutional rights was further debated today when late Sunday night of the military authorities released her, thereby automatically suspending habeas corpus proceedings which had been granted in the state supreme court yesterday.

Circumstances surrounding the departure of Mary Jones from Trinidad and her appearance in Denver were given by Gov. Ammons in discussions from strike leaders and state officials. Within an aged strike leader said she was entrusted by the militia guards at Trinidad Sunday night with what her counsel, Adjutant General John Chase asserted she was released after her people had left the strike district never to return and that the presence of guards on the train on which she arrived in Denver was a mere coincidence.

Further developments of the situation today did not appear likely until the end of the week when "Mother" Jones said she would return to Trinidad in defiance of General Chase's alleged threat of immediate rearrest.

For National University.

Washington, March 17.—In urging the house education committee to report a bill aimed to create a national university in Washington, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley today opposed the proposition that the institution be opened only to students holding a master of arts degree. He said Edison, Faraday and many others would be barred by such a requirement. "We want a national university for all who are capable of pursuing its courses," he said.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED HAS BEEN DISPERSED

Sacramento, Cal., March 17.—"General" Charles Kelley's unemployed army, which began its march on Washington, D. C., more than 3,000 on Friday, since ten days ago, has been dispersed. Only a handful of irreconcilables remained tonight in the camp on the Yolo levee, to which the army was driven last week by Sacramento deputies.

Sheriff Monroe, of Yolo county, served notice on the anti-Kelley faction of the army that its leader, who is in command, would be released from jail if the faction supported by the sheriff. The offer was accepted, and throughout the day the men broke camp in small groups. The fragment of the army remaining today is to be held together and will be disbanded.

When the report of the commission appointed by Governor Carey to investigate the killing of Benton has been completed, it will be submitted to the governor, who will then decide whether the matter should be presented to the grand jury of Los Angeles county for action.

CONVICT GUARDS' TRIAL POSTPONED A FEW DAYS

The trials of the two convict guards recently indicted for murder in connection with prisoners have been postponed for several days, pending the outcome of the illness of one of the principal witnesses, Philip Walker, who is said to be sick.

The trials were to have been called on Tuesday morning, but were checked by the solicitor general.

$7,500 for Mrs. Bacon.

Washington, March 17. (Special.)—Mrs. Virginia Lamar Bacon, widow of the late Senator Bacon, of Georgia, will get $7,500 from the government, equal to one year's salary of a congressman. The item was included in the senate civil appropriation bill reported to the senate today.

HABEAS CORPUS GRANTED FOR THE 5,000 MEXICANS

Fort Worth, Texas, March 17.—Judge Edward Mack, in the federal district court here today granted a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of the five thousand Mexicans held as prisoners by the United States government at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

The writ is returnable at Pecos, Texas, March 25, before Judge Maxey, who will sit in the place of Judge Maxey, of the western district, now in New Orleans.

H. L. Gamble, of El Paso, attorney for the Mexicans, applied to Judge Mack for the writ after failing to obtain it in the western district, from Judge Burns, of the southern district.

The Mexican prisoners include men, women and children. They were driven across the Rio Grande by the rebels of northern Mexico, following the recent battles between the two armies.

Gamble said instructions were received at Fort Bliss from Washington to hold the refugees as prisoners until further notice. This notice has not been, he said, and the Mexicans are suffering of their imprisonment. According to Gamble, when he left Fort Worth late Monday, the support of the prisoners is costing the American government $15,000 a month.

No arguments were presented today, Judge Mack's action amounting merely to the fixing of a date for a hearing. Whether the refugees' attorneys will argue for the Mexicans' right to be set free, or what plans the United States authorities have made for defending their right to intern the Mexicans are not known here.

Washington, March 17.—Letters from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan indorsing the movement for a state-wide primary in Indiana, which were made public today by Senator Kern, of Indiana, chairman of the Indiana democratic convention, of which Senator Kern is to be permanent chairman. Both letters referred to a published interview to the senator lately on that subject.

President Wilson wrote:

"I have noticed with unusual interest your interview the other day about the absence of a law for state-wide primaries in Indiana. I was very much surprised to learn that so great and widespread a need for it existed, and the procession is a matter of such capital importance, and I want to express my deep interest in your efforts to bring about the necessary legislation. It would hearten democrats everywhere to see this done in Indiana."

I earnestly hope your state-wide primary election law for state officers may become a settled practice in the near future, and that it may come to be the settled, practice of all the states.

"And the same may be said in regard to the initiative and referendum—the two reforms generally going together, because the same principle underlies both. I do not see how any objection can be raised to the initiative and referendum; if the people have not only the right to make laws for themselves, but the capacity to do so, they should be in position to force their representatives into obedience to their will."

TAFT HITS ROOSEVELT FOR ATTACKING COURTS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 17.—Casual reference to "ill disguised vituperation" by Theodore Roosevelt, in criticism of the present judicial system, statement of the necessity of keeping the judiciary independent and a detailed exposition of the usefulness of the United States supreme court marked William H. Taft's lecture before the law school of the University of Minnesota late today.

The elements have dealt unkindly with both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, as these pictures show. The blizzard in the Atlantic states was the worst since the record-making blizzard of March 15, 1888. It stalled trains for days, tied up shipping and crowded New York, Philadelphia and other big eastern cities and caused the death of scores or more persons, mainly those struck by the wind, a sudden and unusual fall of snow rain caused a damaging flood, particularly in the San Joaquin valley and around Los Angeles. Residents in some sections were forced to flee for their lives. Several deaths resulted.

BAN IS TO BE PLACED ON HOLDING COMPANIES

Measure Is Approved at a Conference Held at the White House.

Washington, March 17.—The "holding company" bill as approved at a white house conference last night for incorporation in the administration trust legislation program, was made public today by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

The measure prohibit unlawful restraint of trade or monopolies in interstate or foreign commerce by corporations through the device of intercorporate stockholding. The bill was drafted by Representatives Clayton, Martin and Floyd. It probably will be consolidated with other proposed measures that trust legislation may be taken up for passage as one bill. The senate interstate commerce committee, which is working to report a general anti-trust bill, has been supplied with a draft of this measure.

The "holding company" bill would provide:

That it shall be unlawful for one corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce to acquire, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the stock or other share capital of another corporation engaged also in interstate or foreign commerce, where the effect of such acquisition is to eliminate or lessen competition.

It would further provide, however, "that this act shall not apply to corporations purchasing such stock solely for investment, and not using the same by voting or otherwise to bring about, or in attempting to bring about, the lessening of competition."

Violations of the act would constitute misdemeanors, punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

The measure sets forth that "any individual, who, as officer or director of any corporation, or otherwise orders, takes action, or participates in carrying out any resolution to that effect, shall be held and deemed guilty of a misdemeanor within the meaning of this section."

"Nothing contained in this act," the bill continues, "shall prevent a corporation engaged in interstate or foreign commerce from causing the formation of subsidiary corporations for the actual carrying on of their immediate lawful business, or the natural and legitimate branches thereof, or from owning and holding all or a part of the stock of such subsidiary corporations, when the effect of such formation is not to eliminate or lessen competition."

The measure provides that nothing in this act shall be held to affect or impair any right heretofore legally acquired.

ASWELL AND FELDER TO HIBERNIANS

Savannah, March 17.—At the Hibernian society's one hundred and second annual banquet here tonight Representative James S. Aswell, of Louisiana, spoke on "The Right to Be Governed." He made a plea for religious as well as political liberty. Attorney General John M. Felder, of Georgia, responded to the toast "Georgia." His subject was "The Empire State." Hon. William G. 20,000 YANKEE DOLLARS CAUSE MARSH TO BALK

He Thinks Rent Is Too High for Warwick Castle—He Wants to Buy Estate.

London, March 17.—Harry Marshall, the prominent and very wealthy American, and the Countess of Warwick have not yet consummated their long correspondence regarding the tenancy of Warwick castle, which Marshall has leased for a term of years. In the ordinary course of circumstances it should be Lord Warwick's agents who would make these arrangements, but it seems that Lord Warwick has thrown all of the business of the estate into her own hands. Mr. Marshall is anxious to effect a lot of what are, from his point of view, necessary improvements to the historic pile, and the countess says he must not go much as remove a picture or a stone throughout the whole house.

Mr. Marshall and Kinsman for a while, and had the whole place arranged to suit their own taste, though the Earl of Lytton and the countess would have very much preferred things left as they were, and did not hesitate to say so.

Mr. Marsh's great ambition is to buy a really historic English castle, and it appears he would be willing to offer $2,500,000 for Warwick castle were it possible to purchase it. So far as the countess is concerned she would be pleased enough to part with it, but of course, it is entailed. She is in some things a true socialist, though she does love money for the good things it brings. Lady Warwick rather prides herself as a fine business woman, and she is determined, if Marsh takes the place, he will have to pay handsomely for it. The price demanded is $25,000 a year, and though the Americans could just as easily pay twice as much, he thinks even the smaller sum is a fancy price. The late Duke of Sutherland prevented Warwick castle from being let many times, but the present holder of the title doesn't care two straws.

Sunt the Ant.

No suspicion until lately has arisen that the industrious ant might upon occasion act as the transmitting agent of infection to man. It was recently stated, however, that the white ants, and had very destructive tendencies in the tropics, where they not only attack the bites of some large tropical ants are known to be similarly destructive, being attended with faintness and sometimes with symptoms of temporary paralysis. It was also suggested that some savage races eat the dried bodies of ants beaten into a paste, as a kind of "sweetmeat." It is only of late that suggestion has been made that ants might be the means of pathogenic bacteria to man. The ant is commonly found in and around the tropics. It is indoor, and it is quick to find the insect away from foodstuffs in such houses, and is in especially fond of sugar, but avoids human dejecta when these are in the open air. So that it is not likely it cannot be doubted that the ant has the opportunity of conveying infected excreta the specific organisms of disease, and of thus spreading them in dwellings.

In this or no experimental work, however, had been done to obtain proof that ants were capable of transmitting diseases to man, but, in 1912 Dr. L. B. Lloyd, bacteriologist to Ancon hospital in the Panama Canal Zone, undertook a series of experiments with the view of putting to the test whether or not the ant was a transmitting agent of such infectious as enteric fever and bacillary dysentery. His investigations were carried out in the large yellow ants which are found in and around the houses in the Canal Zone. He fed a number of these insects on bread soaked with cultures of bacillus typhosus for five days, killing and examining some of them at certain intervals, but in no instance was he able to recover the typhoid bacilli from the intestines of the ants. The experiment was carefully repeated with like negative results. He then tried to determine if the ant could carry the specific organisms on its legs or body in a purely mechanical way to human food.

To this end a number of the insects were dropped into a broth culture of the typhoid bacillus and allowed afterwards to crawl out and walk over dishes in such a way that their footprints could be "cultivated" for bacteria. The typhoid bacillus was easily found in every instance. This experiment was repeated several times, and in the majority of cases positive results were obtained.

$5 Girl Most Costly.

(From The New York Sun.)

"Don't let the public pamphleteer you because you only pay $5 a week to the girl who does your work," laments the public which gives you the five-dollar girl, when she is the most expensive employee you have.

Mr. Miles' theme had been vocational training for employees, but he swerved somewhat from his theme in order to answer Norman Hapgood, an editor, who had just told the retailers that a minimum wage is by this thing, and that all legislation is useless which protects workers from long hours, dirty work, and then, by allowing employers to pay them inadequately, subjects them to the temptation to worse evils, such as subsidies from parents or lovers.

Mr. Miles' view on the minimum wage were set forth in a recent address, especially when he said that if he were a retailer he wouldn't allow the public to dictate to him what the minimum wage should be unless the public developed labor worth more than it is at present.

He put the blame for the present value of labor squarely on the shoulders of the educational system of the United States.

"You have a five-dollar-a-week girl in the cheapest labor you can hire," he said. "Your system of public education is the dearest. This country's educational system costs $1,000,000,000 a year, and each year we spend $500,000,000 for maintenance. We allow 40 per cent of the children, all those who leave school by the minimum wage scale, to leave school at the end of the fourth, fifth or sixth grade.

"Don't let the public blame you for the girl who is subsidized by the parent or lover, and don't let the public make you subsidize them. Use the argument of the minimum wage in proving to the public that the schools will have to turn out girls worth more than $5 a week. You would be glad to pay them more if they were worth more. Demand that the people of the United States teach these children efficiently, and demand that the public pay the bill. If you run your stores well you are doing all one man can do.

"When the average child of 14 would be affected by a minimum wage problem we would have a state that has not been educated; she has learned something of reading, writing and arithmetic, which is not delightful, but which are the tools by which education is acquired, and yet thousands of children are turned loose without even those tools."

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

It may now be said of Peachtree street that this thoroughfare is hitting the old-time stride in the way of real estate speculation and investment buying. A large number of deals on this street have been consummated in the last several weeks, and it is expected and predicted by leading realty agents that within a short while this activity will extend to other parts of the city on the extensive scale that it was last prevailed in the spring of years past.

Another and significant deal was closed by R. C. Cheatham, of Cheatham Bros. Agency, on Tuesday, to-wit:

Peachtree Deal.

Mr. Cheatham has sold for Arthur T. and Mrs. Harry E. Inman the middle House, of Rome, No. 825 Peachtree street, known as the Forest building, for a consideration of $47,000, or at the rate of $2,000 per front foot.

Dr. VanHoose gave as part payment two parcels, one being located at No. 778 South Pryor street and valued at $8,000, and the other being located at Nos. 125-7 Forrest avenue and valued at $11,000.

The Peachtree property is located on the west side of the street in the middle of the block between Baker street and the junction of Ivy and Peachtree at the junction of Ivy with a depth of 135 feet. There is a two-story and basement store building on the lot.

FREE TOLLS FIGHT BEGINS IN HOUSE

Kahn and Moore Attack Proposition to Repeal Exemption Clause—Discussion to Open in Senate.

Washington, March 17.—Two publicans, Representatives Kahn, California, and Moore, Pennsylvania, took the floor in the house tonight to attack the proposed repeal of the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal act, although general debate on this question is not expected to begin until Saturday. Both attacked the administration's foreign policy and declared that exemption of American coastwise shipping from canal tolls was not in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Discussion of the tolls controversy will be precipitated in the senate, today in advance of formal consideration of a report from the senate committee on Washington, today announced his intention to call up the Kern-Ransdell resolution asking President Wilson for information as to the attitude of foreign governments toward toll exemption. He will urge that before the senate undertakes to pass on the president's plea for repeal the exemption clause it should have all information available as to the views of foreign nations in the matter. The resolution would ask for information not incompatible with the public interests, to advise the senate what nations have protested against the passage of coastwise tolls through the Panama canal free of tolls, what representations have been made regarding the same and copies of all communications received from other countries relating thereto, together with copies of all papers submitted by the United States."

Some Southern Opposed.

Some senators oppose the resolution on grounds that this action will be a violation of the canal act and the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that the exemption provision of the canal act."

Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-oceanic canals committee, and leader of the majority forces in the fight against the repeal, will return to Washington tomorrow and Senator Owen, who will lead the fight for repeal in the canals committee, plans to confer with Mr. O'Gorman to get immediate consideration of the bill by the canals committee.

Representative Adamson, chairman of the house interstate commerce committee, today said the Sims repeal bill would be called up in the house Saturday.

In his speech in the house, Representative Moore took the position that the government in the treaties with Great Britain governing the building of the canal did not give up the "exclusive right" to regulate its own commerce, and declared that the president's position called on congress to vote the American people out of their right to regulate and manage their internal affairs.

Kahn Attacks Repeal.

Attacking the administration's foreign policy, the fruit of which he said had been misunderstanding, turmoil, vacillation and humiliation, Representative Kahn warned the house against the pending Sims bill to repeal the tolls exemption provision of the Panama canal act. He cited several instances, which he declared were positively proved, in which England would not yield if she were in a position similar to that of the United States and said "her history is replete with instances in which she has said 'No' and vigorously refused to yield her inalienable rights."

"This greatest of all the world's republics has grown to be in one brief year of democratic administration the 'pariah of the nations,'" Mr. Kahn declared. "Under the blight of its foreign policy we stand today isolated, deserted, alone. It is a humiliating confession, but it is the truth and I gainsaid.

"We are calmly told not to consider whether we be right or wrong in our interpretation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. As a matter of expediency and in order to save the face of the administration, we ought to forego our rights—as the gentleman who made the pending Sims bill to repeal the tolls exemption provision of the Panama canal act. He cited several instances, which he declared were positively proved, in which England would not yield if she were in a position similar to that of the United States and said 'her history is replete with instances in which she has said 'No' and vigorously refused to yield her inalienable rights.'
