ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 301. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1906, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE.

FLORIDA EXTRA

DEFENSE ASKS RULING ON DELAYING FRANK TRIAL

VOTING GROWS BRISK IN SLOGAN EMBLEM 'PRETTIEST GIRL' RACE

Miss Estell McDonald, latest entrant in the slogan button beauty contest.

Nominations and Photos of All Types of Beauty Are Pouring In.

With the "Beauty Button" contest, to determine whose picture among the hundreds of Atlanta girls shall adorn the Greater Atlanta button, in full swing, nominations with photographs of all types of beauty are coming in.

Hundreds of votes are being cast, everyone in Atlanta having the privilege of nominating and voting for whomever they wish. The honor of leading the city in its quest for the 500,000 population mark by 1920 is being sought on all sides.

Every contestant is busy securing votes, and with the end of the race, the picture of the candidate securing the largest number of votes will be placed upon the button.

One of the latest entrants is Miss Estell McDonald, an extremely attractive young woman, whose friends are confident that no mistake will be made if she is chosen to represent fair Atlanta.

Atlanta Charter Is Opposed by Senator

The new charter for Atlanta will be opposed by Senator G. M. Huie, of the Thirty-fifth District, which includes Atlanta. His objection will be based on the ground that the charter curtails the powers of the City Recorder.

"While I don't live in Fulton County, still as Senator from the Thirty-fifth I consider myself as much of a resident of Atlanta as the Fulton County delegation," he said. "I see where they want to cut the Recorder's authority from a limit of $500 and 60 days to $200 and 30 days. I don't think they ought to do this; therefore, I am going to hold the bill up in the Senate."

Urges Congressional Record Cartoonist

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A suggestion that the Congressional Record be made an illustrated daily and that a regular cartoonist be employed by Congress was made by Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, speaking jocularly during a debate as to whether illustrations should be inserted in the Record.

"Why could we not have a regular cartoonist," said Williams, "and a daily illustrated Record, with proper headlines and loving and lovable caricatures of our friends across the chamber?"

MOVE PENSACOLA POSTOFFICE.

PENSACOLA, July 22.—According to Postmaster A. G. Fell, the postoffice here this week will be moved to other quarters until the remodeling now in progress in the Federal Building is completed.

Glass Tries to Quiet Money Board Strife

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Representative Ragsdale, of South Carolina, the member of the House Banking and Currency Committee who suddenly quit the committee because Chairman Glass could not furnish copies of certain amendments to the currency bill that Ragsdale demanded, returned to the conference on the bill with his Democratic colleagues to-day.

Glass made strenuous effort to preserve harmony in the committee.

Said the Bulldog in Tree—Never Again!

CHICAGO, July 22.—"Whitey," a bullpup, loved to sink his teeth into auto tires.

Yesterday he made one lunge at a revolving tire, caught it firmly in his teeth and sailed away into the air. Emil Klank, manager of Frank Gotch, wrestler, climbed into a tree, 20 feet high, and rescued "Whitey"—unhurt, but greatly puzzled.

More than 100 automobiles passed "Whitey's" home to-day. "Whitey" sat on the porch and watched them.

Wrestler Killed as He Falls on Dynamite

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 22.—Falling while wrestling with his brother near Germantown, Martin Funk, 18, was blown to pieces to-day. A stick of dynamite in his hip pocket exploded.

His brother's left hand was blown off.

4 Jailed for Tampa Arson Plot

DEMANDS INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

BILL GRANTS WAR POWER TO WILSON

Murray of Oklahoma Would Hasten Relief to Americans and Europeans in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A sensational resolution demanding intervention in Mexico within 30 days unless peace be restored, and denouncing the Heutra regime as one of "brute force, incendiarism, rapine and murder," was introduced in the House to-day by Representative William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, a Democrat.

The resolution provides that the President shall notify Mexico that peace must be restored and that the lives and property of American citizens and all foreigners sojourning in Mexico shall be respected.

If disorder in the Mexican republic continues for another 30 days the resolution provides the President shall intervene, "establish peace and order and civil government, and take possession of all public property of the former republic of Mexico and hold the same until every item of expense and all damages for the deprivation of liberty or the destruction of property of any American citizen or citizens of any other nation has been fully compensated out of the Mexican revenues."

Gives President War Power.

It is also demanded that in the event of intervention the President is empowered to rehabilitate the Mexican Government, prepare the Mexicans for self-government and restore law and order, "and the President is authorized to use the land and naval forces of the United States for the accomplishment of all such purposes."

The preamble of the resolution defends the Monroe Doctrine and asserts that the United States is in duty bound to protect its own citizens in Mexico as wel as the citizens of other nations. The refusal of this country to carry out the Monroe Doctrine, the resolution says, might justify foreign intervention.

Mr. Murrays resolution refers to President Huerta as "the usurping marauder." Huerta, the resolution recites, "has nullified the Constitution, destroyed all lawful authority and government and has committed upon the persons of the President (Madero) and his family, a blackhanded murder, paralleled in all history only by the cruelty of the dark ages, with all its superstitiitions and dastardly deeds of rapine and murder."

"There remains in Mexico neither rights of government nor of belligerent powers such as could be recognized," continues the Oklahoman's resolution.

Punishment for Guerrillas.

After warning the Mexican Government to restore order and protect the lives of Americans, it is stipulated that this Government "shall pursue to the ends of the earth" any military leader or band who disregards the warning.

With the arrival of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson only two days distant, Washington is on the qui vive for every shift in the Mexican situation.

Predictions are made that, by the time Ambassador Wilson arrives, the Huerta administration will be in such an unstable conditon that the envoy will not recommend that it be recognized, no matter how favorably disposed he may be toward it.

Dispatches of the past two days have caused deep alarm to the State Department because of the insistent appeals for help coming from Americans in the demoralized country.

Tuxpam, on the southeastern coast of Mexico, is now the center of all official eyes. The town was captured by the Constitutionalists, and the battleship Louisiana, with Rear Admiral Fletcher aboard, is speeding toward the port from Vera Cruz to

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Deadly Bomb Sent To Carnegie Will Be Dropped Into Ocean

NEW YORK, July 22.—So deadly was the bomb sent to the offices of the Carnegie Corporation addressed personally to Andrew Carnegie, in the opinion of the police, that the Bureau of Combustibles will to-day take the missile on board a launch and drop it in the sea as the only safe way of getting it out of New York.

So dangerous is believed to be the contents of the watermelon-shaped container of zinc that the bureau's chief bomb expert refused to open it, declaring that the destruction of two city blocks might result.

So far the police are without a clew to the sender of the bomb.

Bryan Naps in Depot; Buys 45-Cent Lunch For 5; All on $12,000!

CHICAGO, July 22.—For two hours early to-day Secretary of State Bryan sat nearly upright in a railroad station seat and slept. When his train was called he entered a drawing room and prepared to awake in Oelwein, Iowa, where he was scheduled to give a chautauqua lecture this afternoon.

Before his nap Secretary Bryan entertained four newspaper men at a midnight lunch which cost him 45 cents. He ate cantaloupe off a dairy lunch chair. Three others of the party ate canteloupe and one reporter drank buttermilk.

Two New Militia Companies Forming

JACKSONVILLE, July 22.—Next Tuesday evening there will be a mass meeting at the Duval County armory when militia affairs will be discussed. The object of the meeting is the organization of a new company of militia for the First Infantry, National Guard of Florida.

Lewis Landes has been working up the new company. He believes the mass meeting will be the finishing touch.

Two other companies are being formed in Jacksonville at present and the meeting will be of such assistance to the organizers that this will give Jacksonville seven companies of infantry.

16 Considered for Mercer President

MACON, July 22.—Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist Church; the Rev. P. H. Mell, former president of Clemson College, and Professor M. L. Brittain, State Superintendent of Schools, all of Atlanta, are among the sixteen ministers and educators considered for the presidency of Mercer University.

Others considered are Rev. W. W. Landrum, of Louisville; Rev. John Roach Straton, of Baltimore; Rev. W. L. Pickard, of Savannah, and E. T. Holmes, president of Gordon Institute, Barnesville.

Hot Siege Broken, Says Weather Man

Hot weather is over in Atlanta for the next few days, and the weather man says there is no immediate prospect of another spell like that of last week. An east wind, bearing considerable moisture, is causing showers all over Georgia and the South Atlantic coast region.

The forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday is showers, with a maximum temperature of 82 or 83 degrees.

DO YOU KNOW ?

the Longest Tunnel in the World?

See Page 16

4 JAILED FOR ARSON PLOT AT TAMPA

Fifth, Wealthy Citizen, May Be Arrested as Result of Suspicious Blaze.

TAMPA, July 22.—Four men are in jail and a fifth, one of the city's wealthy citizens, may be jailed soon, as the result of a fire in the Hillsobrough Dry Goods Company's store at 1 o'clock this morning, which Fire Chief Matthews declares one of the "rawest" attempts at arson he ever saw.

The men held are Frank and Max Richards, Frank Field and C. P. Hill. Richards and Field, who are both interested in the company, were arrested at the fire, after Chief Matthews had observed conditions surrounding the blaze.

Investigations to-day developed that the stock, alleged to have been worth not more than $15,000, was insured for $88,000. On Saturday several agents, suspicious of the heavy valuation, called for cancellations. They were told that the policies had been mislaid. One or two of the agents then mailed cancellation notices, under registered mail, which should have reached the company Monday morning. Under the law the insurance would have held for five days, so that there is significance in the date of the fire.

C. J. Hutchinson Involved.

Evidence of insurance agents is to the effect that C. J. Hutchinson, owner of the two buildings in which the fire took place, was to secure most, if not all, of the insurance and that it was all taken out within the last few weeks. Hutchinson explained his activity in the company by saying he was a silent partner, having an interest of $17,500, which is more than the insurance men claim the entire stock was worth.

Yesterday Hutchinson, who owns an all-night drug store next to the dry goods company, is alleged to have ordered chauffeurs who had maintained a night and day stand in the street near his place to leave.

Suspicion of Arson.

When the fire was discovered, Chief Matthews found the stairways clogged with mattresses, roped together; windows barred up; inflammable material stored in many places; evidence of two fires having ben started, and a hole cut in the brick fire wall where the building inspectors had given permission only to cut an air shaft.

County Solicitor Jackson has taken charge of the case and will hear a number of witnesses.

Miami Police Chief Blames Politics for Charge Against Him

MIAMI, July 22.—As a sequel to the arrest yesterday by Chief of Police C. R. Ferguson of M. P. Merritt, a suspended policeman, on a charge of disorderly conduct, the chief was to-day arrested on a warrant sworn out by Merritt, charging him with making undue advances to Merritt's wife. The warrant was issued after a lengthy hearing before County Judge Redmond B. Gautier, in which Mrs. Merritt testified to the truthfulness of the charge. The chief's trial is set for tomorrow.

In the meantime Merritt is making every effort to get Mayor Watson to remove Chief Ferguson, pending final decision in the case. Chief Ferguson, a candidate for renomination in to-day's primary, declares the action is political chicanery in an effort to defeat him, and that he is innocent of all charges and will be so proven in court.

In to-day's primary there were seven candidates for chief of police, three for Mayor, ten for five Councilmanic positions and four for Municipal Judge. Mayor Watson, candidate for renomination, was opposed by Captain G. Duncan Brossier and Mitchell D. Price, an attorney.

House Has 'Spank' Day; Olive Warms Breeches of Pages

Tuesday was official spanking day in the House, with genial Sam Olive, Representative from Richmond County, as "spanker" and the pages as "spankees."

During the recess the pages became unusually playful. In fact, they are the liveliest pages the House ever has known. One of them developed the idea of initiating the new members of their ranks, but ran a-foul of Representative Olive, who decided to initiate the entire lot.

Ten slaps upon the western side of each of the pages' trousers were applied to each youngster. There was no escape, for as each boy's turn came the other pages seized him and held him firmly across genial Sam's lap, while the ten slaps were counted in unison.

'Bomb' for Wilson Was Cake of Soap; Doctor Brought It

WASHINGTON, July 22.—When Dr. Bernard Rachauer, who gave his address at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., called at the White House to-day and demanded to see President Wilson, the secret service men took him into custody long enough to examine a black bag the doctor carried.

The secret service operatives feared a bomb. They found a cake of soap and a roll of bandages.

Dr. Rachauer would not state his business with the President. He was told that the Chief Executive was "not at home."

Roumania Ready to Treat With Bulgars

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

VIENNA, July 22.—The Bulgarian Legation here this afternoon received the following dispatch from the home government at Sofia:

"The Government has decided to surrender Adrianople to the Turks."

BUCHAREST, July 22.—Roumania is willing to end the war with Bulgaria. In an official note issued today it accepts the Sofia Government's offer to cede territory above Turtukai and Dobrideh.

Roumania suggests, however, that the peace negotiations proceed within the borders of its own country.

Militants Are Fined; Burn Another House

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, July 22.—Following the severe battle between the militant suffragettes and the police, when the later arrested Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and six of her followers, the rioters were arraigned in police court to-day. Two were fined and two others were ordered to furnish bond to keep the peace.

BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND, July 22.—The suffragettes' "arson squad" resumed operations here to-day. A house valued at $2,000 was destroyed by fire.

When Aladdin Rubbed His Wonderful Lamp

Georgian "Want Ads" were unknown. Telephone The Georgian Want Ad Man, and get your wish by modern methods.

HEARING OF CRAWFORD CASE MAY CONFLICT

Conference Planned to Decide Which Shall Take Precedence. Ready to Draw Venire.

Reuben R. Arnold, of counsel for Leo M. Frank, announced Tuesday that he proposed to seek a conference of the attorneys in the Frank case and in the Crawford will hearing to determine which case should be postponed next Monday, the date set for the beginning of the trial of Frank on the charge of slaying Mary Phagan.

Mr. Arnold, Luther Z. Rosser, chief of counsel for Frank, both also are attorneys in the Crawford will case, and it would be impossible on this account to conduct the two cases simultaneously. The Crawford hearing will resume Wednesday before a special auditor in a branch of the Superior Court, and undoubtedly will be in progress next week if it is not stopped by a postponement.

The will hearing, because of the fact that it already is under way, would have a natural precedence over the Frank trial. This may be waived, however, in order to take up the Phagan mystery.

None of the attorneys for the defense will say that they intend to ask for a postponement of the Frank trial, but the hot weather and the fact that the Crawford case is in progress at this time apepar to be combining to bring about such a consummation.

Judge Roan has stated that the case would be called Monday, but he probably will accede to the request for a conference some day this week to discuss the matter.

Court Likely to Accede.

Attorney Arnold will ask that the jurymen be not summoned until a definite decision is reached as to which of the cases is to take precedence.

When Deputy Sheriff Plennie Miner arranged to install twelve large electric fans in the courtroom for the Frank trial Tuesday morning, he said there would be no excuse for a postponement on the grounds of the room being too warm.

"Spectators will not be allowed to crowd into the court," he said. "The fans will keep it much cooler than the average office building in the city. There are plenty of windows, and the place is always well shaded."

Despite the reported repudiation of her sensational affidavit that eLo M. Frank had tried repeatedly on the night of the Mary Phagan murder to secure a room in which to bring a girl, Mrs. Nina Formby declared in Chattanooga Tuesday that she would be in Atlanta on July 28 to testify to her statements when the trial of the pencil factory superintendent opens.

Denies She Retracted.

According to a dispatch from Chattanooga, where the woman has been for several weeks, Mrs. Formby denies having ever retracted from her original declarations which she made to the police, and further stated that she would repeat them on the witness stand.

The police have asserted that Mrs. Formby has been eliminated from the case.

Superior Judge John T. Pendleton prepared Tuesday to draw the 150 veniremen for the trial. This venire will be called next Monday morning unless the weather is unusually warm.

The jury, in all probability will be selected and served before Wednesday night, according to Judge Pendleton.

COURT DIRECTS FRANK VENIRE BE DRAWN

Preparations Are Made to Begin Trial Monday Despite Talk of Delay.

Continued From Page 1.

Attorney Reuben R. Arnold stated Tuesday morning that he probably would ask Judge Pendleton to draw the venire from the Grand Jury box, and that he felt confident he could cite enough law on the subject to sustain his point.

Solicitor to Fight Move.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey stated that the procedure was altogether irregular, if not illegal, and that he would oppose such a move as strongly as he fought the attempt on the part of the Grand Jury to indict Jim Conley over his protest.

The attorneys on both sides will be notified by telephone when Judge Pendleton begins to draw the venire, and he will allow them to be heard.

Judge L. S. Roan, who will preside at the Frank trial, will not return to Atlanta from Covington until Friday. He announced to a correspondent of The Georgian in Covington that the Frank trial would be called next Monday sure, but he would not commit himself as to whether he would consider any move for postponement after the case was called.

Before leaving for Covington he remarked that if the weather was as hot next Monday as it was last week he would welcome some sufficient ground for postponement.

Both Sides Are Ready.

Attorneys Arnold and Rosser admit they would like to se the trial postponed to escape the ordeal of a hard fight in torrid weather, but state they will be reluctant to ask for delay unless there is some very excellent reason why the case should not go to trial.

Both sides are ready. All the witnesses who will be used are within the jurisdiction of the court and able to attend. The inability of any one of the more than 100 to be in court on the day the case is called would sustain a request for postponement, but the attorneys for the defense made it clear that if any move for postponement for any other reason than the absence of a witness was made, it would come from the other side, or the judge.

Attorney Arnold stated that the failure of the Grand Jury to indict Conley had made little difference to their case, because it had been built before any known move was made to bring about the indictment.

"It made absolutely no difference to us," he said. "It was purely a technical point in the trial that would have been in our favor. As to the negro's character and standing, it would make little difference to a fair-minded jury whether he were indicted."

Bacon, Unopposed, Gets 29,529 Votes In Senate Election

A total of 29,529 votes were cast for Augustus O. Bacon for United States Senator in the special election held July 15. No one opposed Senator Bacon, but more than one-eighth of the State's electorate turned out to give him a complimentary vote.

The election was unique in that it was the first to be held under the new law requiring United States Senators to be elected by direct vote of the people.

The returns were canvassed before the House and Senate in a joint meeting Tuesday by a committee of five Senators and five Representatives. The senatorial committee was composed of Senators Jones, Tarver, Tyler, Turner and Bush. The House committee consisted of Representatives Miller, McCrory, Smith, Edmondson and Culpepper.

DELLA FOX LEFT $10,000.

NEW YORK, July 22.—In her will filed to-day Mrs. Della Fox Levy, known on the stage as Della Fox, left her entire estate, said to amount to between $10,000 and $15,000, to her father, Andrew J. Fox, of St. Louis.

FOR INDIGESTION

Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Half a teaspoonful in water before meals will be found a grateful relief from distress after eating. Adv.

CASH PRICES
—FOR—
Wednesday and Thursday

Full Cream Cheese	19c
Swift's Premium Hams	22c
Large Jar of Honey	30c
Fox River Butter	33c
24 lbs. Almixt Flour	93c

Almixt Self-Rising Flour insures light biscuit, bread, pastry and cake, even in the hands of an inexperienced cook.

A full line of fresh fruits and vegetables received daily.

D. S. Woodall Grocery Co.
1 Peachtree Street
Face to face, or phone Ivy 7629 or 7631.
We Deliver.

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON

For any regularly nominated Candidate in the

BEAUTY CONTEST

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian's Popular Ball Player Contest

1 VOTE

My Favorite Player in the Empire League is:

.....

of the ..... Team.

35 CONVICTS IN CAGE BURNED TO DEATH

Fire Starts in Hay Under Sleeping Quarters on Mississippi Penal Farm.

JACKSON, MISS., July 22.—Thirty-five convicts, sleping on the second floor of a wooden cage at the Oakley convict farm 20 miles southwest of Jackson, were burned to death early this morning.

All of the victims were negroes and their bodies were burned beyond recognition. This afternoon their charred bodies were buried in the prison grave yard.

The fire started on the first floor at the stairway landing, cutting off the only avenue of escape. The structure was built ten years ago with lumber taken from the old penitentiary building in Jackson. It burned with astonishing rapidity.

The convict farm is not equipped with any form of fire protection. Two night watchmen are employed at the place, but neither saw the fire until the flames burst through the windows of the lower floor.

The screams of the dying prisoners could be heard for nearly two miles. Farmers in the vicinity hurried to the scene, but were unable to give any assistance. The lower floor of the cage was used as a store building, quantities of hay, corn and molasses being in storage. The hay doubtless caused the fire to spread with added rapidity.

The Oakley farm is in charge of Sergeant S. T. Byrd. The prison hospital also is located at that place, but the convicts who lost their lives were not members of the hospital squad, all of them being employed in the cotton fields. Several notorious negro criminals were among those who lost their lives.

Coroner J. W. Beal, accompanied by a jury, went to Oakley this morning to hold an inquest, and endeavor to ascertain the cause of the fire.

Origin of Fire Mystery.

"I can't explain it," said Sergeant Byrd over the long distance telephone this morning. "As to the origin of the fire I haven't the slightest idea. It may have been a match carelessly dropped at the stairway. I can not believe it was of incendiary origin.

"There was never a chance to save any of the prisoners. The blaze was under good headway before anybody discovered it. When we reached the building it was to find that the fire centered around the only stairway leading to the upper floor of the cage. All of the upper windows were covered with heavy iron bars and it was impossible for the convicts to fight their way out.

Fight Was Useless.

"We did everything in our power, but the fight was useless. The building was doomed from the first and the piteous cries of the poor prisoners who were being roasted alive added to the demoralization of our forces. We have no sort of fire protection or fire fighting equipment here, and the buckets of water thrown by other prisoners on the building had no effect whatever."

The first news of the holocaust was received by Mrs. O. M. Spickard, secretary of the State Prison Board, in a telephone message from Mrs. Byrd wife of the sergeant. Mrs. Byrd was almost hysterical and could give but few of the details. An hour later communication was secured with Sergeant Byrd and a list of the victims obtained. A number of the prisoners were life termers.

Under prison rules, all convicts must be in their cages and lights out by 9 o'clock. The prisoners had been sleeping several hours when they were awakened by the intense heat and clouds of smoke that poured up from below.

According to Assistant Secretary S. E. Birdsong, of the Prison Board, nearly all convict cages at the prison farms, except those at Parchman, are similarly constructed, having only one means of exit.

AMERICAN PLEAS FROM MEXICO ALARM U. S.

Washington, Watching Every Phase of Situation, Awaits Arrival of Ambassador Wilson.

Continued From Page 1.

prevent possible depredations on foreign property.

Senator Demands Protection of U. S. Citizens.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Senator Fall, of New Mexico, to-day called up in the Senate his resolution providing that the constitutional rights of American citizens shall go with them throughout the world and that American life and property shall be protected abroad. This resolution was framed from a plank in the Democratic platform.

"I ask that the resolution be placed before the Senate for immediate consideration," said Fall. "Its importance demands immediate attention."

Senator Bacon, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, moved the resolution be referred to his committee.

Bacon Urges Caution.

"We are in a position of grave responsibility," said Senator Bacon, "and no man who loves his country can afford to shut his eyes to the effect of an enunciation on this matter by the Senate, therefore care should be taken in voicing an opinion on this resolution."

Bacon argued the resolution was open to criticism inasmuch as an American citizen in Mexico or the Balkans had no constitutional rights.

Senator Lodge, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, called attention to the fact that the resolution was copied from a plank in the Democratic platform which had been framed by Senator O'Gorman, of New York.

Lodge Takes Issue.

"Can not we act upon two abstract principles, contained in this resolution, because these principles are being violated in a neighboring country at this time?" demanded Senator Lodge.

Senator Bacon asked if Lodge wished to send an army to Mexico because American citizens have been imprisoned there.

"No," said Senator Lodge. "There are diplomatic steps to be taken to rescue American citizens and a resort to arms should be had only when all other steps have been taken. This resolution can not be lightly dismissed."

"As I see it, the resolution means about this: If some person goes to a foreign country and gets in trouble there, he can embroil all the people in the United States. I am not in favor of the resolution," said Senator Jones, of Washington.

Japan Not to Aid Huerta Administration.

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—Japan will not aid the Huerta administration in its fight for recognition by the United States.

While greatly appreciating the friendship shown the Japanese Government, the latter's charge d'affaires to-day notified President Huerta and his Cabinet that his country will not sanction any demonstration, when the new Japanese Minister arrives, which would tend to be of an anti-American character.

Rebels Routed in Laredo Section.

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—With the flight of the rebels in the neighborhood of San Luis, the Mexican authorities to-day re-established wire communication between the capital and the rebel-ridden country at Laredo.

PORCELAIN—NO GOLD
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK OUR SPECIALTY.

Whalebone Best Set,
$3.00
No More, No Less.

GOLD CROWN (22-K) $5.00
BRIDGE WORK, PER TOOTH 3.00
SILVER FILLINGS ..... .25
GOLD FILINGS ..... .50
CLEANING TEETH ..... .50
TWENTY-YEAR GUARANTEE.

Eastern Painless Dentists
38½ Peachtree Street

4 PEACHTREE
CITY TICKET OFFICE
EITHER PHONE
L&N
THE ATTRACTIVE WAY NORTH & WEST

KODAKER KING OF ATLANTA FAME DIES IN CELL

Technicality Delays Pardon Until Too Late—Career Here Sensational—Jailed in Boston.

Cardenio F. King, Boston newspaper publisher and financier, who died a convict on the State farm at Bridgewater, Mass., Monday just before Governor Foss was ready to sign his pardon, had an Atlanta career almost as interesting as his pathetic death, according to Atlantans who knew him during his residence here more than ten years ago.

He came to Atlanta from North Carolina and was known as "Kodaker" Kink because of a column he ran in various Atlanta newspapers which was headed by a photograph of himself with a camera. His personal appearance marked him an unusual man, for he weighed about 300 pounds, had bright red hair and mustache and a rosy complexion.

His column was indicative of his character. It always began with a few breezy paragraphs of choice gossip, but a reader would not peruse far before he discovered himself buried in alluring advertisements.

Hoaxed by Walter Taylor.

Occasionally when advertisers refused to be convinced of the value of this column he would be sent out on regular assignments. It so happened that one day he was sent to the police station, the "beat" of Walter Taylor, the present City Clerk, but then a bright young reporter. "Kodaker" King was unfamiliar with the assignment, so he decided the best policy was to follow close on the heels of Walter Taylor. And thereby hangs a tale.

Walter Taylor "framed" with Detective Billy Crim, the famous policeman who passed away several years ago, to call him suddenly as though something startling had happened. Crim sprang the trick one hot August day while Taylor and King were walking down the street, and Taylor, lithe and young, darted up the steps.

He did not stop until he had gained the roof of the cupola of the police station. He did not even stop to look around, for he knew that King, 300 pounds net, was following him with all his might and main.

King Reached Top—Purple.

Several minutes later King, puffing and blowing, stuck his head through the manhole on the roof. His red face had turned purple and the perspiration streamed down his cheeks.

Soon afterward "Kodaker" King left Atlanta. He was flat broke and his friends did not know what would become of him. But a few years later he returned with his name changed to "Oil" King; and it was remarked that if his oil flowed as much as his money, he would be a second John D. Rockefeller.

As "Kodaker" he had gone to Boston. But he dropped that title with the discovery of oil at Beaumont, Texas. He went out there as an advertising man and soon owned a number of acres of rocky land.

Train Attached for Debt.

Back East he hurried and organized an oil company. When he struck Atlanta he was traveling in a special train. He advertised his stock in two-page spreads in each of the Atlanta papers. Sam W. Small, evangelist and newspaper man, was engaged as his press agent.

The only reminder of his former days of poverty and gloom was when all his possessions in the train were attached by a justice of the peace bailiff for an old debt of $40. But he paid that and was on his way.

The next Atlantans heard of King was that he was in the penitentiary in Massachusetts. He had been the owner of a daily paper, The Boston Daily Tribune. His financial career was ended when he was convicted of obtaining $22,000 under false pretenses.

Died in Sight of Liberty.

Only a technicality prevented his last words being those of a free man. His wife and four sons were at his bedside. Governor Foss had been wired that his condition was hopeless. The Governor had canvassed his council and decided to grant a pardon. But the council could not be called together to take formal action until Tuesday.

When Dr. Emerson, medical head of the State Farm, went to announce that a pardon would be granted Tuesday he found King dead. Chronic intestinal trouble was the cause.

TARVER BILL IS PASSED AFTER HOT FIGHT

Provides for Damage Suits in Homicide Cases—Was Issue in Senate Several Years.

Following a two-hour debate, in which charges of being in league with the railroads and counter charges of seeking to increase the earnings of damage suit lawyers were made, the Georgia Senate Tuesday morning, by a vote of 27 to 10, passed Senator Tarver's bill, as amended, providing for recovery by certain parties in cases of homicide. The bill has been before the Senate several years.

Snator Miller, of the Twenty-fourth District, who opened the fight on the bill in an hour's speech, declared the authors of the bill could not have drawn a better thing for the damage suit lawyers. He offered a substitute bill omitting the alleged drastic features, which was voted down. Judge Allen, of the Twentieth, also opposed the bill.

In rebuttal Senator Tarver declared the opposition had the interests of the railroads at heart. Following the vote Senator Miller gave notice of requesting reconsideration of the bill.

One Other Bill Passed.

In addition to Senator Tarver's bill, the Senate passed one other, a local measureo ffered by Senator Smith, of the Ninth, amending the charter incorporating the town of Edison.

The Senate passed a resolution, offered by Judge Allen, extending sympathy to Speaker Burwell upon the death of his sister, Miss Rosa Burwell.

The General Judiciary Committee of the Senate reported adversely the bill for an amendment to the Code providing that the only grounds for total divorce shall be adultery. It is understood a minority report on this measure will be filed with the President of the Senate.

The committee also reported in the negative on the bill providing for the rotation of judges of Superior courts. A favorable report was made on the bill providing for the appointment of a Notary Public for the State at large, as well as a bill providing for an amendment to the penal code making husband and wife competent as witnesses in criminal proceedings, but not compelled to testify one against the other.

Other Committees Report.

The Senate Finance Committee, headed by Senator Miller, recommended the bill forcing foreign fire insurance companies that have reinsured all policies to show cause for withdrawal from the State.

The Penitentiary Committee reported favorably the measure making it unlawful for any person with authority to deliver a prisoner to another.

Thomas Protested As Crawford Case Solicitor Pro Tem

Reuben R. Arnold, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, under heavy bail on the charge of poisoning her husband, Joshua Crawford, filed a protest Tuesday against the appointment of Attorney Lewis Thomas, former City Solicitor, as Solicitor Pro Tem in the prosecution of Mrs. Crawford.

The appointment was made by Judge W. D. Ellis because of the disqualification of Solicitor Dorsey. Attorney Arnolds based his objection on the ground that Thomas already had been one of the attorneys in the case and therefore also was disqualified.

Attorney James said Tuesday he would go before Thomas and seek to have him indict Fred Lumb so that extradition papers might be obtained. He said he also would urge the immediate indictment of Mrs. Crawford.

Joseph E. Johnson Dies in Sanitarium

Joseph E. Johnson, 86 years old, father of George E. Johnson, the Police Commissioner, of No. 302 Luckie street, died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock at a private sanitarium. He is survived by three sons, George E., Orie and W. L. Johnson.

For several years Mr. oJhnson was active in various lines and well known by business men of Atlanta.

The funeral will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment will be in Oakland Cemetery.

OBITUARY

The double funeral of Casey Daniels and Jerry Moles, who were drowned in the Chattahoochee River Saturday while on a fishing trip, was held from the Congregational Church on McDaniel and Hightower streets Tuesday morning. The body of Casey Daniels was interred at Sardis churchyard, that of Jerry Moles at Westview.

Mrs. Rachel Harland, twenty-eight years old, wife of John H. Harland, cashier at the Putt & Davies Company, died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock at their home, No. 196 Juniper street. The funeral will be held from the residence at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Interment in Westview.

Mary M. Mapes, two-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, No. 210 Winthrop street, died Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock. Funeral services will be held from Poole's chapel at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Interment in Westview.

Melvin Nesbitt, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, died Tuesday morning at the home, No. 25 Dill avenue. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Clara Holt, who died Sunday, will take place at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residence, No. 720 East Fair street. Interment at Hollywood.

NOVEL QUESTION FOR SUFFRAGE DEBATE

Speakers to Determine Difference in Meaning of "Suffragette" and "Suffragist."

Woman suffrage in all its phases will be discussed Tuesday night in Taft Hall. One of the important questions to be settled will be the distinction between a suffragist and a suffragette. Speakers who will take up this angle of the argument declare there is a wider gap in the meaning of the words than there is between sanitarium and sanatorium.

The debate will be under the auspices of the Habersham Chapter, D. A. R., and is the last of a series of entertainments arranged by the chapter to aid in raising funds for the new building which will be erected in Peachtree street.

"This will be an open discussion on the suffrage question, as one of the leading thoughts of the day," said Mrs. William Lawson Peel, outlining the plans. "It must not be thought for a moment, however, that the Daughters of the American Revolution are taking part in this discussion as an organization or even as individuals.

"For instance, our last entertainment was a Mother Goose affair, but it was not intended that the public suppose we were all geese.

"Our next venture will be the presentation of beautiful Indian legends, but it can not be inferred that we are Indians."

Mrs. Peel, who is vice president general, N. S. D. A. R., and prominently connected with Habersham Chapter, will preside.

The meeting will be called at 7:45 o'clock. Among the speakers will oe Miss Rosa Woodberry, Mrs. M. C. Hardin, Mrs. M. T. McWhorter, Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, Mrs. W. H. Felton, Mrs. M. L. McLendon, Mrs. Frances Whiteside, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, J. R. Smith, R. H. Hardeman, Dr. A. M. Hughlett, H. H. Swift, J. L. Hope, W. L. Converse, Louis Wisdom and R. A. Broyles.

Council Serenaded After Aiding Police

Council Monday had just increased the salaries of six roundsmen $5 by changing their names to sergeants and the leaders in the fight were leaning back in satisfaction when the air suddenly was filled with lively dance music.

Custodian Joe Shearer had a phonograph in the adjoining committee room and someone had started it. The councilmen heard all the records before they stopped the machine.

PICTURES THEY FELL IN LOVE WITH.—The surprising romances that followed three paintings, for which Cupid mixed the colors, will be revealed in next Sunday's American.

Cash Grocery Co. 118 & 120 Whitehall

Combination Sale

To introduce our Red Ribbon Tea, splendid for Ice Tea, lb. 60c

With every Pound of Tea we will sell—

25-lb. Bag Granulated Sugar for 99c

20 lbs. Sugar, with Tea 69c

10 lbs. Sugar, with Tea 25c

No. 10 Snowdrift With Tea 59c

1 lb. Barrington Hall or Luzianne Coffee, with Tea 10c

LOW RATES EAST VIA SEABOARD.

$20.85 Baltimore and return on sale August 1-2-3. Through Steel Trains, new Dining Cars. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS,
Atlanta Floral Company,
455 EAST FAIR STREET.

CLEVELAND
THE SCENIC WAY
WITH DINING CARS
L&N

Our Time Is Limited

Compelled to Vacate Soon

ALL OUR STOCK MUST BE SOLD

BIG REDUCTION IN CLOTHING

$20 and $22.50 Priestley's Mohair Suits
Reduced to $11.90

All $2 and $3 Straw Hats
Reduced to $1.25

Neckwear Reduced from 50c, 75c and $1.00
Your Choice 35c or 3 for $1

Wash Ties Reduced from 50c to 30c

White Flannel Trousers, Were $5 and $6,
Reduced to $3.45

A. E. MARCUS CLOTHING CO.
57 PEACHTREE STREET

STORY OF PHAGAN CASE BY CHAPTERS

Slaying of Factory Girl, South's Most Baffling Crime Mystery, Reviewed in Detail.

CHAPTER I.

Will the veil of mystery be lifted when the curtain rises next Monday on another scene in Atlanta's darkest tragedy?

A vast audience, shocked by the horror of Mary Phagan's fate on a Saturday of last April and held through the succeeding weeks in the thrall of the baffling crime drama, in keen suspense awaits this question's answer.

Will Fulton County's Solicitor General be able to point his finger at Leo M. Frank and exclaim, "That is the man who strangled Mary Phagan!" backing his damning accusation with such an abundance of evidence that there can remain no shadow of doubt?

Or will Luther Rosser, certain to be a towering and masterful factor in the titanic struggle that is to be staged, unmask his strength, bring to bear the secret evidence that has been in his possession for weeks, beat down every bulwark of suspicion that the State has erected about its prisoner and, as a dramatic finale, assail the negro, Jim Conley, cowering in the witness stand, with a raking volley of questions that will leave the negro man shaken and terrified, a confession of the crime upon his lips?

Whole State Stirred.

All of Atlanta—most of the State—is hanging with the most intense interest on the outcome.

No other crime ever stirred Georgia to its depths as has the slaying of the little factory girl.

No murder ever has so gripped the hearts and aroused the sympathies of the people throughout the State.

Georgia's criminal history reveals no other case in which the public's interest has remained at fever heat through three months filled with other exciting events. From the time the extras first flamed the details of the brutal killing in the National Pencil Factory until the present there has appeared to be no diminution in the desire to learn each day's developments.

There was in the early days of the tragedy a cry for summary vengeance upon the murderer, but time has tempered this into a universal demand for justice, which is none the less determined in that it is not so demonstrative as the first hot wave of indignation.

The Phagan case has remained in the public mind partly, of course, because it has remained as baffling a mystery as the local detectives ever have encountered. With the mystery solved its appealing interest gradually would have died out, but a review of the tragic features of the drama so far as it has progressed and a consideration of those who have parts in it supplies an explanation of why the fate of Mary Phagan is still uppermost in the people's hearts.

The revolting circumstances of the crime—the attack, the pitiful struggle of the helpless child in the hands of her assailant, the blow and, finally, the garrote—all refuse to be erased from the memory.

Two Principal Figures.

But standing out in stronger prominence than the remembrance of these abhorrent details are two of the principal figures in the tragedy.

They are Mary Phagan, victim, and Leo M. Frank charged by the State with her death. These two have made the appeal to the public imagination. The contrast in their positions in life intensified it.

Mary Phagan was only a little factory girl whose happy and innocent laughter was stilled by one of the blackest crimes in Atlanta's history.

Leo Frank, a brilliant young man of position and family, was accused of this deed of a beast in human guise.

Mary Phagan was not rich. She was glad to get the $3 or $4 a week that her work at the pencil factory won for her.

Leo Frank's family had wealth. An uncle was a reputed millionaire.

Mary Phagan had hardly the education to which her years entitled her. Times were not always easy in her family and she was driven to neglect her schoolbooks and work in the factory.

Frank was a Cornell graduate. He had a high technical education. He had been sent abroad to select the machinery for the Atlanta plant. His business associates placed every confidence in him. His friends knew him for an upright and moral young man, with a most promising career ahead of him.

That he would descend to the level of a criminal of the worst type was inconceivable to them. The possibility furnished to thousands of others a subject for daily conjecture.

Life of Slain Girl.

Mary Phagan's life began 14 years ago in Marietta. She was the petted "baby" of the family. She had three older brothers and a sister, now 18. Even in the early years of childhood she is remembered as having the pretty features and attractive ways that made her greatly liked by her girl friends later when she came to work in Atlanta.

For a playmate in the days at Marietta she had one who was to play a brief but sensational part in April's tragedy. It was J. M. Gantt. Within a few hours after her cold body was found in the gloomy basement of the National Pencil Factory her childhood playmate was arrested as he left a car in Marietta, to which place there seemed at the time every indication that he was fleeing.

Her childish prattle had changed to the happy conversation of young girlhood when the family moved to East Point. There bereavement visited the family in the death of Mary's father. Hardship followed sorrow and it became necessary for little Mary to follow the example of her brothers and sisters and assist in providing a livelihood for the family. She could not do much, but she did her mite willingly and cheerfully.

A year ago Mrs. Phagan married W. J. Coleman and the family moved to No. 146 Lindsay street, Atlanta. Mary obtained work in the National Pencil Factory and soon made friends with all the children about her home and with the girls she met at the factory. Although she never had many of the luxuries of life, Mary was reared carefully by her mother and enjoyed the wise counsel that is sometimes denied the children of families in more pretentious circumstances.

All Loved Little Mary.

To the loving and painstaking home training, the attractive half-shy little maiden brought a naturally sweet disposition. In the few leisure hours she had she often played about her home with the children of the neighbors. The little people of Bellwood, on the outskirts of Atlanta, all grew to love the sweet-tempered, pretty little girl. When they returned to their homes after a frolic their conversation was of what Mary had said and what Mary had done.

The fathers and mothers began to take notice of her as she laughed and chattered among the other children. They came to watch for the time each morning when she boarded a car to go to work at the pencil factory. They took a sort of parental interest in the bright-eyed, light-hearted little girl.

The small community is a bit of a city in itself. Everyone knows everyone else and the neighborly spirit is exemplified in the manner in which the residents, most of them working people, struggle for each other and sympathize in each other's afflictions. They joined in their near-worship of the little factory girl. She embodied in their minds pure and attractive young girlhood. They guarded her reputation almost as jealously as did her own mother. If anything should happen to her it would be a shock to every family in the little community.

On a Thursday, the last in April, Mary was playing with two of her dearest girl chums, Vera Epps and Lillian Waignel. The back yards of the Phagan and Epps homes adjoined. The Waignel girl lived just across the street from Vera Epps at No. 249 Fox street. An expected shipment of metal at the pencil factory had not arrived and a section of the plant was shut down temporarily, throwing Mary out of work until the metal should arrive.

A Strange Foreboding.

The three little girls ran and played about the whole afternoon, laughing and talking in their childish happiness. Toward evening, tired from the frolic, they rested on the embankment near their homes. In the hard red clay they dug out their initials as they rested.

"M. P." were the letters scratched out of the dirt by Mary.

"Let's keep them here always," cried Vera, clapping her hands.

"But if one of us should die?" suggested Mary.

"Then the other two of us would come back here and dig the initials out again when it rained," Vera replied, but a shadow had fallen over the gayety of the little group.

Two days later several of the housewives of Bellwood, looking from their windows, saw Mary Phagan get aboard a car for Atlanta, and they never saw her return. Vera Epps waved her a good-bye as Mary hurried down the street without a thought that it was a last farewell.

When Vera looked upon her playmate the next time, there was no answering smile. The pink cheeks that flushed with happiness and health were ghastly white except where they were begrimed and pitifully bruised and swollen. The beautiful young body, once full of life, was cold and inanimate and mutilated.

Goes to the Factory.

The Confederate veterans were preparing to honor their dead when Mary came into town that day. It was a holiday and she had planned to go to the pencil factory to get the $1.20 due her for the short time she had worked that week and then to witness the parade of the boys in gray.

She got a word of greeting from Conductor W. T. Hollis when she boarded the car on its run into town. Motorman W. M. Matthews, who many times before had brought the little girl from her home in Bellwood to work in Atlanta, also noticed her as he slowed down to take her — at the crossing.

Conductor Hollis says that the car arrived at Broad and Marietta streets at 12:07 o'clock. He was relieved there by another conductor and knows only that Mary stayed on the car. Motorman Matthews says that she left at Broad and Hunter and started toward the factory. Some time between 12:10 and 12:15 Mary Phagan entered the doors of the National Pencil Factory and went to the office of Leo Frank, where she drew her pay. She never was seen alive after that moment except by the brute that attacked her, beat her cruelly and completed his demoniac crime by looping a cord about the tender flesh of her neck and strangling her to death.

No One Saw Her Alive Again.

From the moment that the little factory girl entered the office of Frank the mystery dated.

Whether she never left the presence of the young superintendent alive, the public does not know.

Whether she started down the stairs and there was attacked by a negro fiend lurking in the darkness, later paying out the toll of her young life to the fury of his bestiality, also is shrouded in a mystery as yet undispelled by the searching investigation of three months.

Many pieces of evidence point to the latter surmise, but no one, so far as is known, is able to say with certainty that this is so, save possibly Jim Conley himself.

Conley and Frank, by their own admissions, were in the factory when Mary Phagan entered. Frank told freely of his presence there. Conley's confession was wrung from him after three weeks in a cell at the police station.

Upstairs on the fourth floor were Harry Denham and Arthur White. Mrs. White visited the factory to see her husband. She left shortly before 1 o'clock, when Frank came to the fourth floor to tell the men that if they wished to remain they would have to stay until about 3 o'clock, as he was going home for lunch and would lock them in.

Frank Alone in Factory.

They stayed in the factory and Frank departed within a few minutes. Shortly before 3 o'clock he returned and the men came downstairs and left, after White had gone into Frank's office to borrow $2.

Frank was alone in the factory from this time until 4 o'clock. No one has any information as to when Conley left or how he left, except by his own statements. He says that he left shortly after 1 o'clock by the front door. If Frank's story of the time he quit the building is true, it is fairer to presume that the negro left some time after 1 o'clock and through the basement's rear door, which he forced open by pulling the staple.

Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, came to the factory at 4 o'clock. He unlocked the outside door and the door leading up to the second floor.

"All right, Mr. Frank," he shouted as he approached the superintendent's office.

Sent Negro Lee Away.

Frank appeared rubbing his hands and remarking that it was too bad Lee had come down at this time as he might as well have stayed at home and got more sleep. He told Lee he might go and return at 6 o'clock, the regular hour for reporting.

A few minutes after Lee came back to the factory, J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee, walked across the street and said he would like to go into the factory and get a pair of shoes he had left there three weeks before. Frank gave him permission, but seemed a little doubtful of Gantt's real purpose. After the factory superintendent had gone to his home, he called Lee up on the telephone and asked if Gantt were gone and everything was all right at the factory. Lee replied that Gantt had left as soon as he had obtained the shoes and called up a girl friend from the office.

Lee made his regular rounds for several hours that night, shutting down all the windows and making his trip over the different floors, as was his custom.

He climbed down the ladder into the basement to see if everything was all right down there. He went no farther, however, than the flickering gas light at the bottom of the ladder. Peering through the darkness, he saw nothing out of the way.

Second Trip to Basement.

That night was no different than any other night up until shortly before 3 o'clock in the morning, if the negro's story is to be credited. At this time he made another trip into the basement.

Did he hear some sound that led him to go down the ladder and venture beyond the dim circle of light from the gas jet?

Was some other living being in the cellar when he clambered down the ladder?

He says not. With his dirty, smoky lantern he descended through the scuttle hole. This time he did not stop at the little area of light made by the gas jet. Swinging his lantern slowly back and forth in front of him, he made his way toward the rear of the basement. Near the boiler he stopped. After a few moments he looked about him.

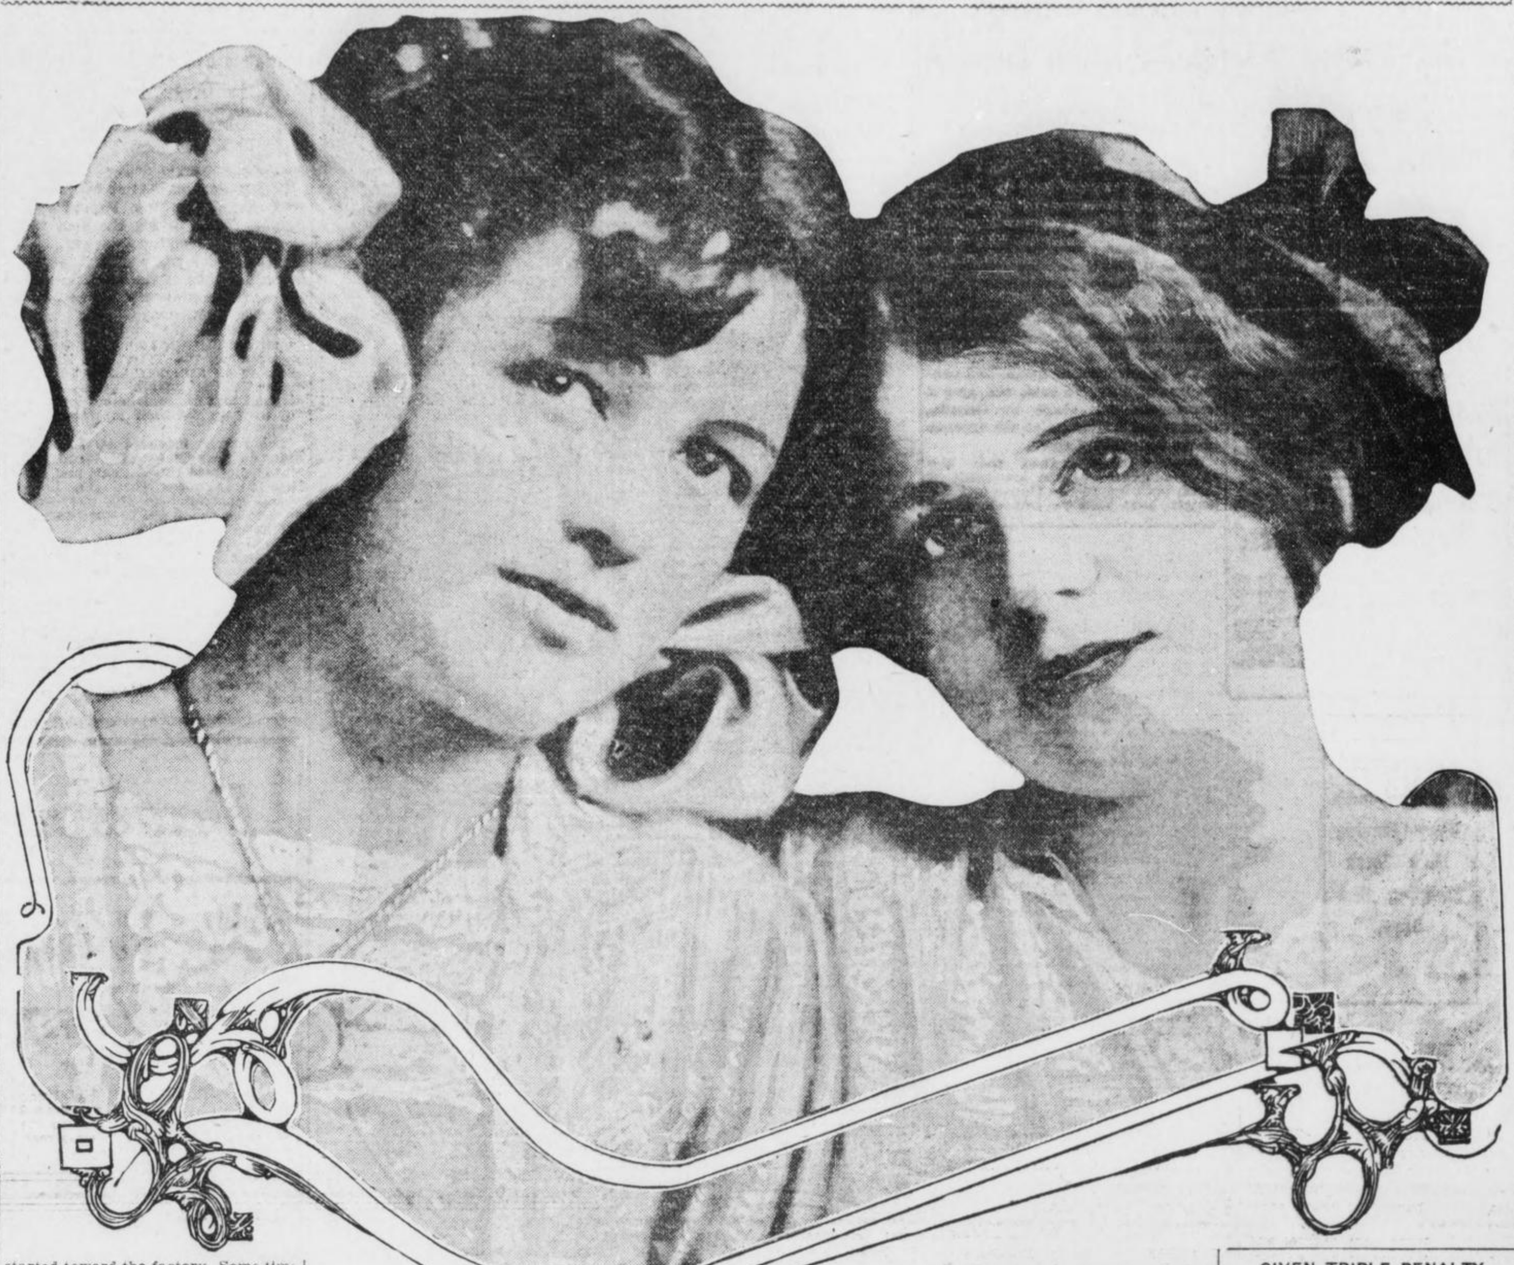
What was that lying over there to his left on a pile of sawdust and other trash and dirt? Could it be that some of the rascally fellows in the plant were playing this ghoulish joke on him?

Tremblingly he held the lantern in front of him. The black man's eyes dilated with horror. There could be no mistake about it. His impulse was to flee, but he pulled himself together.

He started toward the dark, inert object lying there on the trash heap

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

LITTLE MARY PHAGAN AND HER CHUM



Motorcyclist Hurt In Auto Collision

Dave Rudisall, of College Park, is in Grady Hospital with a broken leg as a result of a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile near Fort McPherson Monday afternoon.

The automobile was driven by Harry Manning, of East Point. His machine was uninjured and he carried Rudisall to the hospital.

6,500-Pound Cheese Made in New York

UTICA, N. Y., July 22.—The finishing touches on a cheese weighing 6,500 pounds, the largest cheese ever made in New York State, if not in the world, were put on to-day at the Gowdy factory in Martinsburg.

Two days' milk from two factories was required. The cheese will be exhibited at the State fair in Syracuse.

DEATH'S SHADOW CAST OVER HOUSE

Recess Taken Out of Respect to Speaker Burwell, Whose Sister Died Suddenly.

A shadow was thrown over the House Tuesday morning by the death of Speaker W. H. Burwell's sister, Miss Ruth Burwell. Out of respect to the Speaker the House recessed for two hours after adopting resolutions expressing sympathy for the bereaved member.

Miss Burwell died Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Brooks, in Griffin, where she was visiting. While she had not been well for some time, her death was unexpected. Mr. Burwell spent Sunday with her and she appeared to be much improved.

Miss Burwell was well known throughout the State, being a woman of unusual brilliance. Her home was in Albany, where she was dearly beloved. She was 35 years of age.

Second Among Members' Family.

Her death is the second to occur among the families of House members during this session. Chairman L. R. Akin, of the Ways and Means Committee, suffered the loss of a daughter two weeks ago.

Adjournment for the entire day would have been taken Tuesday but for the fact that a joint meeting of the Senate and House had been arranged for the canvassing of the vote for United States Senator July 15, in which Senator Bacon was the only candidate.

In future the House will get down to work early, adopting a resolution Tuesday morning setting the hour of convening at 9 o'clock for the remaining 23 days of the session. The regular hour of adjournment, 1 o'clock, will continue.

House Faces Three Busy Weeks.

With virtually every committee meeting daily, the members of the House are facing three strenuous weeks. The local bills have been disposed of in wholesale quantities and but a small number remain before the House. The calendar is rapidly getting down to a general bill basis and scant attention will be paid to local ones in the future.

The recess prevented the taking up of the general appropriations bill which Chairman Wheatley, of the Appropriations Committee, had announced he would call for to-day, and it probably will be taken up Wednesday. The appropriation bill takes precedent over all other bills.

PICTURES THEY FELL IN LOVE WITH.—The surprising romances that followed three paintings, for which Cupid mixed the colors, will be revealed in next Sunday's American.

TRUE LOVE JOLTED IN ARSON HEARING

Boarder Adores Landlady, but She Has Him Bound Over as a Firebug.

Confessions of love requited were made and repudiated in Judge Broyles' court Tuesday when the trial of G. A. Vaughn on the charge of arson made by Mrs. A. C. Klapper following the burning of her home at No. 256 East Hunter street last Friday was heard.

Vaughn was bound over to a higher court under bond of $3,000, but not before he had emptied his heart of all its feeling for his accuser and declared that his love had not been spurned by her.

"Why she placed her arms about me and kissed me tenderly the morning of the fire," Vaughn, who was a boarder at Mrs. Klapper' home, declared. "And now she charges me with arson. It can not be true."

By this statement, Mrs. Klapper, who is past middle age, was considerably ruffled.

"I never did kiss him," she exclaimed. "One time he gave me $80 when I was sick to pay doctors' bills, and when I bought a coat with the money he got mad and said he would burn it up. And he did, and my house, too."

The fire was discovered in a closet in Vaughn's room on the top floor shortly after he had departed for downtown. Miss Bonnie Burns, another boarder, testified at the trial that Vaughn, in leaving the house had looked up at the roof. Miss Burns' testimony proved the strongest against Vaughn.

SNAKE BITE FATAL.

BAXLEY.—Will Morris, 15 years old, living near the Altamaha River, Appling County, who was bitten by a rattlesnake, died after twelve hours of agony.

WHY CRIME DOES NOT PAY.—Sophie Lyons, most famous criminal of modern times, tells of thrilling events which crowded one short week of her life, in next Sunday's American.

GIVEN TRIPLE PENALTY.

COLUMBUS.—Moss Goss, a negro, who tried to enter the home of W. A. McCrany, a white man, and when prevented by McCrany's wife, cursed in her presence, was fined $25, sentenced to 30 days on the rock pile and placed under bond to appear in the City Court.

?

There is a piece of Real Estate advertised in the "Want Ad" columns of The Georgian today which will make the buyer rich.

WILL IT BE YOU?

SPECIAL NOTICE!
Wilton Jellico COAL
$4.25
July Delivery Only
Place Your Order at Once
JELLICO COAL CO.
82 PEACHTREE ST.
Ivy 1585 Atlanta 3668

CHICAGO
CHOICE OF ROUTES AND GOOD SERVICE
L&N

PRESERVE BABY'S SKIN

With CUTICURA SOAP

Assisted when necessary by Cuticura Ointment. They keep the skin and scalp clean and clear, sweet and healthy, besides soothing irritations which often prevent sleep and if neglected become chronic disfigurements.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address post-card "Cuticura," Dept. 14G, Boston.
Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Honk-Honk Drowns Kansas Church Bells

MANHATTAN, KANS., July 22.—Pastors and teachers at the State conference here declare that automobiles are responsible for the lack of interest in church work.

One thousand churches have been abandoned in Kansas.

SEABOARD NAMES LOW BALTIMORE RATE.

$20.85 round trip, on sale August 1-2-3. Through electric lighted steel trains, excellent Dining Car service. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

TO THE MECHANIC BANKER MERCHANT CLERK

To you who love music & can not play piano.

You need not deprive yourself of music, the greatest of all home enjoyment, another day.

You can entertain your wife, play accompaniment for your children's singing, with the $25 worth of music rolls which we furnish FREE with our latest new

EUPHONA
PLAYER-PIANO

We know of no better way to tell you of the superior quality of our leader (this new Euphonia Player-Piano) than to say to you it is

A $600 Value for $475

Easy confidential monthly payments if you wish.

Piano Bargains

Pianos exchanged for Player-Pianos.

15th Midsummer Sale
Now in Full Swing

There is no excuse for your children being without a piano. This is your chance. Terms—
$10 CASH, $5 PER MONTH.

SCHUBERT — Burl walnut, large size, nearly new, taken in exchange for Euphona Player-Piano. Cost new $375; sale price $190

KINGSBURY — Mahogany, large size, good tone and order. Cost new $375; sale price $195

CLOUGH & WARREN — Mahogany case, large size, nearly new. Cost new $300; sale price $180

ESTEY — Mahogany, upright, in good, fine tone. Cost new $400; sale price $160

KINGSBURY — Oak case, large size, like new. Cost new $350; sale price $225

Finest stock.
New Victor Records and latest Victrolas.
Call and hear new records.

Cable Piano Company
84 N. Broad St. Atlanta.

Please send me your complete bargain list & details of easy payment plan.

Name .....
Address .....

LOBBY LETTERS A BONANZA FOR FOES OF T. R.

Mulhall Quiz Takes on New Political Importance, as Colonel Is Involved Deeper.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—With the statement of Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, that he drafted a drastic report in 1909 against an amendment of the Sherman anti-trust act for the secret purpose of upsetting President Roosevelt's whispered plan to so amend the law that railroads would be immune, the Overman Lobby Inquiry Committee took on new political importance to-day.

There are frequent references to Roosevelt in the Mulhall letters. In practically every instance these references are unfavorable. As long as Roosevelt is a political figure the Mulhall letters will be a mine from which the opponents may dig up sinister information.

The committee to-day continued reading letters in which Mulhall related to Secretary Schwedtman's canvass of members with respect to a tariff commission convention to be held in 1909 in Indianapolis. Mulhall saw practically every member of Congress. From many of them he could obtain no expression of their attitude toward a tariff commission, and very few of them had time or inclination to attend the Indianapolis convention, which was being engineered by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Suggesting that the lobby investigation is drifting away from its original purpose and has assumed a political cast, Colonel Mulhall asked permission to employ counsel. The committee acceded, although later Senator Reed protested.

One of the Mulhall letters to-day threw light on the fight made in the winter of 1909 to make Senator Philander C. Knox eligible to be Secretary of State. James E. Watson was to have gone to Indianapolis to attend the tariff commission sitting, but he was unable to go because Speaker Cannon and Vice President Sherman demanded that he remain here until the Knox bill was passed.

Knox's ineligibility grew out of the fact that he voted while a member of the Senate to increase the salary of the Secretary of State.

Goes for Five Beers; Quarter Gets Barrel

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—William Tipton, a laborer employed in the excavation work for a new city jail, found a quarter while digging in the rear of the Municipal Courts Building yesterday.

He immediately invited his nearest fellow worker to step across the street and help consume the five "big beers" the coin would buy. It bore the date 1805.

"Will you take enough to buy a barrel of beer for that quarter?" the bystander asked.

"Sure thing," was Tipton's reply. The stranger handed him $6.50 and pocketed the quarter.

Church Is Freed of 'Blind Tiger' Charge

MILWAUKEE, July 22.—Attorneys for the 800 members of St. Joseph's Polish Catholic Church, charged with selling liquor at a picnic, pleaded nolle contendere in police court.

The court dismissed the charges against the congregation and officers of the church upon payment of the costs by the defendants.

Guesswork Brings Liner Across Ocean

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PLYMOUTH, ENGLAND, July 22. The captain of the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, which arrived here from New York, reports that the vessel steamed the 3,000 miles by dead reckoning.

Clouds and mist throughout the voyage prevented observations being taken.

WHY CRIME DOES NOT PAY.—Sophie Lyons, most famous criminal of modern times, tells of thrilling events which crowded one short week of her life, in next Sunday's American.

Are You Sick, Diseased, Nervous, Run Down?

Have You Blood Poison, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Troubles?

IF SO, CONSULT (FREE)

Dr. Hughes, Atlanta's Long Established, Most Reliable Specialist.

I cure to stay cured NERVE, BLOOD and Skin Diseases, STRICTURE, Prostatic Troubles, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases, Piles and all Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

I give 606, the celebrated German preparation, for Blood Poison, and Guarantee results. Everything absolutely confidential.

If you can't call, write. Free Consultation and Advice to All.

HOURS—9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sundays, 9 to 1.

DR. J. D. HUGHES

Opposite Third National Bank. 16½ North Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

'Make-Up' Stone Is Editor's Monument; Bears Epitaph Poem

JEFFERSON, OHIO, July 22.—One of the most remarkable gravestones on record was placed in the cemetery here to-day.

It stands at the head of the grave of J. A. Howells, veteran editor of The Ashtabula Sentinel, who died here recently. It consists of the "make-up" stone used by Mr. Howells for fifty years, during his successive evolutions as printer's devil, printer and editor. It is inscribed with these lines, written by William Dean Howells, a brother of the editor:

Stone, upon which with hands of boy and man,
He framed the history of his time until,
Week after week, the varying record ran,
To its half-centuried tale of well and ill.

Remember now how true through all those days
He was—friend, brother, husband, son—
Fill the whole limit of your space with praise,
There needs no room for blame—blame there was none.

The boyhood of William Dean Howells was spent in the office of The Sentinel. The father of William Dean Howells and J. A. Howells was editor of the paper.

Anniston Not Shocked By 'September Morn'

ANNISTON, July 22.—There is no prudery on the part of the powers that be in Anniston. They believe in real art, even without draperies, and Miss "September Morn" is being allowed to take her dip undisturbed.

Mayor Wikle says he will not order the picture removed.

TARIFF BILL AIDS 'BEEF BARONS,' SAYS SMOOT

Declares Free Importation of Meats and Cattle Will Throttle Competition.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—When the Senate met to-day the tariff debate was resumed, and Senator Smoot, of Utah, completed the address he began yesterday. He attacked first the action of the Democrats in placing meats, cattle, hides, wool, etc., on the free list, declaring that such action is only playing into the hands of the "beef barons" and throttling competition.

The importation of meats and cattle free of duty, he said, will give a tremendous advantage to Canada, Mexico and Argentina at the expense of the American farmer.

Senator Smoot argued that the chief advocates of the low rates of tariff, both before the House and the Senate, have been the importers. Of reduced duties upon automobiles, Senator Smoot said:

"Just why the European manufacturers should have any consideration in fixing this or any other duty is beyond the comprehension of any fair-minded American citizen. But they figure very extensively in this fixing of the rates on automobiles, occupying many pages of the hearings, and filing threats which, if made elsewhere by Americans, would be considered insolent."

Gave More Than Asked.

He added that the Italian Chamber of Commerce in New York had asked merely for a reduction of 5 per cent on automobiles, but that the Democrats had conceded 15 per cent.

In the cotton schedule, Senator Smoot insisted that the Northern manufacturers had been discriminated against and the Southern producers had been favored. The Northern manufacturers make the finer grades of goods, he said. He declared that American mill workers must compete with the cheap Asiatic labor of Japan in manufacturing cotton goods.

Says Trusts Won't Suffer.

American clock and watch manufacturers, manufacturers of window glass, of pottery and of gloves, all are treated harshly by the proposed law, said Senator Smoot. The action of the Democrats, he said, meant the loss of work to thousands employed at present in these industries.

"The first industries to suffer from this bill will not be the great trusts, but the independent manufacturers having small capital and making goods requiring the highest type of workmanship," he said.

EXCURSION

Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH JULY 25.

$6.00 ROUND TRIP.

Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.

Ask the Ticket Agent.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

BRIDE TELLS HOW TO MANAGE A HUSBAND

Mrs. Frank Winecoff, who Gives Atlanta Wives Some Interesting Advice.

If a Husband's Worth Having He's Worth Keeping, She Says.

"Always Keep Him Guessing Just a Little," Advises Mrs. Frank Wyncoff.

"I believe a woman should make a study of her husband—always—if she expects to realize a happy and ideal marriage."

That is Mrs. Frank Winecoff's idea of how to be happy though married. Mrs. Winecoff, who was Miss Bess Wall before her recent marriage, is the wife of Frank Wyncoff, the well-known real estate operator.

"A wife is supposed to be a helpmate," continued Mrs. Winecoff, with a bewitching smile, "and what is a helpmate but a person to help solve and cope with difficulties? And how can a wife help her husband if she does not understand and feel in perfect sympathy with him? If husband and wife start out by being frank and confidential with each other, there is little chance of their matrimonial craft being wrecked on the shoals of divorce.

"I believe a wife should be a companion and a chum to her husband. And she should always try to be different, and not fall into a rut. Flirt with him—don't let him think he knows you absolutely, and always keep him guessing a little. But be a chum to him, and make him know that he is the only man in the world.

"At meal time I think a wife should be bright and attractive, telling her husband cheerful, pleasant things.

Avoid petty neighborhood gossip—no woman can be a good wife and a neighborhood gossip at the same time. And a man don't want to hear gossip on coming home from his office.

"It requires art to manage a husband, but if one is worth having, he is worth keeping. So study him, and what will charm and attract him, and one's married life will be harmonious, and not a series of wrangles."

DROWNS WHILE SWIMMING.

SAVANNAH.—While swimming in the Savannah River, M. DeCosta, an engineer on the Ocean Steamship Company's steamer City of Augusta, was drowned a short distance from the company's wharves. Two other seamen, swimming near DeCosta, were unable to save him.

T. R. Escapes Asking Hunting Permit by Killing Outlaw Game

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Officials of the forestry division of the Department of Agriculture to-day declared that Theodore Roosevelt has not been granted a permit to hunt for protected game in the Grand Canyon forest reserve, nor has he requested one, but that he is aiding Jim Owens to kill off predatory animals, such as mountain lions, coyotes and wildcats.

Jim Owens is a civil service employee of the Government, and is paid $1,400 a year to kill predatory animals. He has his own pack of hounds, a string of horses and a pack outfit.

Forestry officials have not been formally notified that Roosevelt is hunting in the Grand Canyon preserves.

BLUE LAWS TOO DRASTIC.

GADSDEN, July 22.—People of Attalla have petitioned the Mayor and Council of that city to be more lenient in the enforcement of the blue laws. Recently all soft drink stands were closed on Sunday and people claim they suffered intensely, because of inability to get cold drinks.

EVERY HOME NEEDS A HEALING SALVE

None Is More Reliable Than Resinol.

The same soothing, healing, antiseptic medication which makes Resinol Ointment so successful for eczema and other skin eruptions also makes it the ideal household remedy for a score of troubles that constantly arise in every home. It quickly heals burns, scalds and wounds; is an excellent dressing for ulcers, felons, boils and stubborn sores; stops itching at once; gives prompt and permanent relief from piles, and is invaluable for many minor skin troubles such as cold-sores, sunburn, prickly heat, pimples and chafings.

Resinol Ointment positively contains nothing of a harsh or injurious nature. It is absolutely pure and so gentle, yet effective, that it can be used freely on the most inflamed surface or the tenderest skin, even of a tiny baby. Doctors have prescribed it for eighteen years. Trial free; Dept. 10-P, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment.

Store Closes Wednesdays at 1 P. M.

All Low Shoes Must Go!

Stewart

GOOD SHOES FOR EVERYBODY

Fred S. Stewart Co.
25 Whitehall St.

Store Open Saturdays Till 10 P. M

VATICAN GUARDS RIOT; MENACE POPE PIUS

Mutinous Swiss Soldiers Threaten to Break Into Private Chamber of Pontiff.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 22.—After 24 hours of wild rioting by the Pope's Swiss guards, during which the men were shorn of their military powers at the Vatican, order was restored to-day.

The demands of the soldiers, which caused the mutiny, will not be granted. The soldiers had asked concessions raising the embargo against them visiting wine shops and other stores along the Tiber; the right to choose their own commander; the increase of the guards' quota, and a demand that no punishment be meted out to them for their mutinous conduct.

The guards, incensed at the official order depriving them of their military status, stormed the Vatican, and for a time it was feared that the Italian troops quartered in the city would have to be called out to quell the disturbance.

Great alarm was felt among the Vatican officials for fear that the soldiers would force their way into the Pope's private chambers.

Drastic measures were taken to guard His Holiness from the angry soldiers, as grave fears were entertained that the Pontiff, still weakened from the effects of his recent illness, would suffer a relapse should the soldiers force their way into his presence.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments, and endanger the health of Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Use For Results

Georgian Want Ads

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

A Whole, Great Stock of Women's Shoes With Lowered Prices

$3.50 Shoes at $2.65

$4.00 Shoes at $3.15

Every Pair in Stock Is Included---None Reserved

Women realizing this unusual opportunity will not be slow to take advantage of it.

It means a good deal to practical people, who appreciate the value of things, to go to a stock like this and select unreservedly, just the Shoes most wanted at present, and pay the prices we have put on these for Wednesday.

There are absolutely no restrictions as to leathers, fabrics, styles, sizes or widths—it is a full stock, replete with the season's best and most correct Shoe styles, to which we invite you, and a saving is offered that cannot be ignored.

You may choose from the latest and most popular styles in Pumps, Ties, Button Oxfords and English Walking Shoes. All leathers and satins, black and tans.

$4.00 Tan (low) Walking Shoes, with rubber heels, at $3.15.

$4.00 White Canvas and Buckskin Low Shoes at $3.15.

Remember that on Wednesday every pair of Women's Shoes here marked regularly—

$3.50 will be $2.65
$4.00 will be $3.15

In the Lower-Priced Shoe Store---Second Floor

Will also be a very unusual sale of Shoes for women, boys and children.

New and desirable shoes have been added to depleted stocks there and the lots for this sale include all sizes, and such values as will be highly welcome at the Clearance price for Wednesday.

Women's Low Shoes at
75c, $1.25, $1.95
Boys' Oxfords, $1.65
Children's Shoes, 75c

SALE STARTS WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, AT 8:30 A. M.; ENDS SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1 P. M.

RICH'S Economy Basement is a pleasant and profitable place in which to trade. Every minute two big electric fans take out 8,000 cubic feet of air; every minute 8,000 cubic feet of fresh air is coming in. It is always cool and pleasant in Rich's Economy Basement.

RICH'S ECONOMY BASEMENT

RICH'S Economy Basement deals in short lots, broken lines, jobbers' and manufacturers' odds and ends—any merchandise that it can acquire underprice. But no trash. Everything in the Economy Basement is sold with a guarantee of Perfect Satisfaction or Your Money Back.

The Pre-Inventory Sale Pulls Down the Prices

A Sale of Wanted Wash Fabrics at 5c YD.

8c white dimity stripes—soft and sheer, 27-inch, at 5c.
8c dress ginghams—soft finish stripes, plaids and checks.
7c apron ginghams—in the popular blue or brown checks.
7c challies—neat Persian and kimono designs. All colors.
10c white goods—Swiss with lacey checks. Cool and inviting.
10c art ticking—neat patterns, mill lengths. 2 to 5 yards.
12½c percales—mill lengths of 1 to 5 yards. Yard wide.
12½c curtain Swiss—lace stripes with wide ruffling.
7c domestic—unbleached, good quality, free from specks.
7c toweling—brown linen crash, firm and absorbent.

12½c Chambray 8c

A wonderfully soft, smooth chambray with highly mercerized finish. Washable and sun-proof; a chambray that always sells at 12½c a yard from the bolt. These are in mill lengths of 3 to 10 yards each. But being solid colors you can easily match up any quantity of yards if needed. All the leading colors. 12 1-2c chambrays for 8c. Come.

18c Gingham 12½c

Barnaby dress ginghams, mind you, soft, sturdy qualities in rich plaids and checks. Fast colors, every inch. Very wide, 32 inches—delightful for house and street dresses and children's frocks. Three yards for the usual price of two.

Men's and Women's Sun and Garden Hats 25c

Hand woven, double weave, genuine Mexican Sun and Garden Hats with wide brim. Our own importation direct from Mexico. Worth 75c.

10 Big Bars Laundry Soap 25c

Under another name this identical soap is one of the best 5c sellers. The same manufacturer makes it for us under our own name. Same formula, same soap, same full 9-ounce bars. 10 big bars Monday for 25c.

6 bars Ivory 25c.
6 Fels-Naptha 25c.
6 Octagon Laundry 25c.
Spotless Cleanser 5c.
7 Kirk's Cabinet 25c.
6 bars Fairy 25c.
3 cakes Bon Ami 25c.
3 cakes Sapolio 25c.
2 cans Dutch Cleanser 15c.
6 Gold Dust Twins 25c.

40c Full Weight Brooms 25c

Made of selected broom corn, full weight, uniform length, 5 string tied, wire-wrapped handle.

10 Big Rolls Toilet Paper 25c

Rich's Economy Basement toilet paper; the quality is a fair five-cent grade. 10 rolls for 25c.

25c for 3 rolls silk tissue toilet paper. Superior quality, warranted 1,000 sheets to a roll.

30c for 3 rolls 15c finest silk tissue toilet paper, 1,500 sheets to roll. Monday only. No phone orders.

To Save Counting Stocks We Discount All Prices

Bang! Prices have been hammered down.
In just eight short shopping days comes August 1st and inventory.
Before that time we must get rid of much merchandise.
We must clear away all summer stocks, all broken lines, all the short lots we don't want to invoice.
These Pre-Inventory prices will do the work. Profits have been shaved to the vanishing point. The Power of Price-Pressure produces bountiful Bargains. Read:

Wonderful Wash Goods Selling 19c

Actual 25c, 35c & 50c Newest Wash Goods at

Just the fresh, choice, cool wash goods for which you would gladly pay full prices are in this sale at savings of a fourth to a half. Full pieces, crisp patterns, charming for gracious summer dresses. All grouped at 19c. Choose from

New 50c Organdies 19c

A filmy fabric of airy elegance bestrewn with fairy flowers. Dainty buds peep out from their bed of white; beautiful roses bow graciously; a tropical flower bed riots in rainbow colorings.

New 50c Crepes at 19c

Soft, crinkly crepes—you know how popular they are. They have white ground with corded and plain silk stripes in black and colors. Very new and beautiful.

35c voiles—futurist spaced flowers on white and colored grounds.
25c Plisse crepe—a soft, crinkly crepe in white and solid colors. Also neat stripes and dainty flowers.
35c white linen—pure Irish linen for suits, etc. 35 inches.
25c colored linens—right weight and texture for suits, etc.
35c Shantung silk—solid colors in plain or striped.
25c Bulgarian taffeta—a cotton foulard with dark flowers.
25c ratines—pretty shades of pink, grey, lavender.
35c white Swisses—daintily embroidered in self dots.

19c

25c, 35c to 50c Laces at 10c

Can it really be so? Come and see. You know the value of shadow, macrame, Nottingham and ratine laces, don't you? You have priced these pretty patterns elsewhere; you know what they are worth. We have a big lot of them here to-morrow in cream and white, in widths from 5 to 10 inches. Not a yard worth less than 25c; many of them worth 35c; some worth to 50c and even more. Choice just 10c.

Girls' 25c Sox 10c

A big lot of children's socks, and some girls' stockings, secured from an importer.

Solid colors and fancies; some with the popular shepherd plaid check tops. It's a mistake to miss these at 10c.

25c Stockings 5c

Fine 1x1 ribbed imported stockings in all sizes for children. Reinforced heels and toes. Double knee. Red, pink, blue, white.

25c for two (2) pairs infants' 25c white socks. Sizes to 9.

Women's Pure Silk Stockings 35c

Women's 50c all silk stockings with lavender lisle tops. Not boot silk, but all silk. Reinforced heels and toes. Black only.

19c for women's full fashioned lisle stockings in white and black boot silk stockings with lisle feet and tops. Black and tan.

75c Petticoats 49c

Highly mercerized, firm black sateen petticoats with accordion pleated ruffle.

Petticoats 25c

Clean, clear looking seersucker gingham petticoats, fast colors.

$1.98 for $2.50 silk messaline petticoats; solid colors, black and changeables.

$1 Long Kimonos 78c

Soft challie kimonos for summer. Long styles, generously cut. Pretty styles, neatly trimmed. All sizes.

Night Gowns 49c

Two styles. One high neck and long sleeves of cambric; the other of nainsook with round neck and wing sleeves in simple slip-over styles.

Women's 39c to 50c Union Suits 25c

Women's gauze ribbed knit union suits, in regular and out sizes. Neckless and sleeveless; lace and tape trimmed. Sizes 4 to 9.

17c for women's 25c pants—knit pants, open mesh weave. Knee length, open style. Sizes 4, 5 and 6.

25c for four (4) vests—Women's fine Jersey ribbed knit vests. Neckless and sleeveless. A fair 10c grade; 4 for 25c.

A 95c Clean-Up

112 pairs ladies' black and tan slippers. Small sizes. Values up to $5, now 95c.

125 pairs colored evening slippers, broken sizes, $3.50 to $5 values, 95c.

115 pairs children's black and white strap slippers. Sizes 8 to 13. $1.75 and $2 values, now 95c.

195 pairs white canvas Pumps, with flat bow, medium weight soles and leather heels, $3 values $1.95

262 pairs of this season's patent leather ties and strap pumps. Any size in the lot. $3.50 to $5 values $1.95

25c Table Oilcloth 15c

Table oilcloth is made of a firm, heavy muslin, covered with oil, turpentine and umber. This is one of the best qualities, firm and flexible, with a sound, heavy body. All colors in fancy designs. 45 inches wide.

Millinery Sale

49c for choice of any untrimmed shape in stock; priced earlier in the season at $1, $1.50, $2, up to $2.95. Large and medium shapes, in black and colors.

19c for 50c sailors—approved shapes in the smart rough straws. Round or square crowns with straight brims. Black, white and colors.

Fine 15c Longcloth 10c

Mill lengths, but perfect goods. Moreover these lengths of 5 to 10 yards are put in sanitary dust-proof packages. There is no marking of any kind on the Longcloth—not an inch of waste. The Longcloth is of fine soft spun cotton with a delightful chamois finish. Yard wide. Worth 15c a yard; any length you wish from 5 to 10 yards, at 10c a yard.

Notion Specials

5c Button Molds, 1c doz.
5c Belt Pin Books, 100 count, 3c.
10c Ladies' Sew On Elastics, 5c.
5c Featherstitched Braid, white or colors, 3c; 6 yards to bolt.
5c Bias Seam Tape, 3c; 6 yards to bolt.
100 yards Spool Sewing Silk, 3c.
3 yards Darning Cotton, 1c.
Paper of Steel Pins, 1c.
5c best machine Cotton Thread, 3c.

Clearing $4 and $5 Corsets at $1.49

Having given up the Mme. Irene Corsets, the upstairs corset department sends what remains of the $4 and $5 line to the basement for disposal. Included, also, are a few Bon Ton Corsets. All goods models, made of imported coutils and batistes. Formerly $4 and $5, now at $1.49.

98c for $1.50 and $2 Corsets—good styles in batiste and coutil. Broken lines, but all sizes.

79c for $1 Corsets—all the late summer models. Long hips, low and medium busts. Complete line of sizes.

49c for $1 Corsets—short styles from former seasons. Splendid for swimming, and comfortable house wear.

Men's $1 Shirts 69c

Made of good quality soft English percale—fast colors and tub-proof. Coat styles, attached cuffs. White and colored grounds, neat designs.

25c for men's underwear—Balbriggan, soft, smooth quality. Ankle length drawers; quarter sleeve shirts.

50c for 75c nainsook underwear—knee length drawers; sleeveless shirts. Fine quality plain nainsook

39c for men's 50c union suits—Open mesh; white or ecru; quarter sleeves; knee length drawers.

39c for men's 50c shirts—soft percale, coat style, attached cuffs. Neat light patterns.

75c for $1 union suits—athletic style, nainsook checks. Elastic seam at back. Pearl buttons. All sizes.

95c for $1.25 night shirts—fine quality nainsook, plain or frog trimmed. Great value. All sizes.

Olus Union Suits $1—button down the leg. No opening in back. Most convenient and comfortable. Doubtless you have seen them advertised.

Boys' 25c Waists 19c

Unusually good value even at 25c; mothers will be glad to get them at 19c.

Solid colors and fancies in percales, chambrays and ginghams. Well made, pearl button trimmed, 4 to 14.

25c for boys' union suits—open mesh style, knee length drawers, quarter sleeve shirt, 4 to 12.

39c for 50c night shirts—made of good quality cambric, neckless style. Sizes 5 to 14 years.

17c for boys' 25c Underwear—Mesh shirts and pants. Knee length pants; ¼ sleeve shirts. Sizes 5 to 14 years.

69c for boys' pajamas—soft percale, light colors, sizes 5 to 16.

Women's Silk Shirts $1

A very smart mannish shirt that fits perfectly. Made of high grade Japonica silk. Coat style, three-quarter sleeves, turn-back soft cuffs. Flat sailor collar. Trimmed with red buttons. Pongee only.

New 75c Shirt Waists 39c

Made of fine quality white lawn. All-over embroidery front. High neck, long sleeves. Smart styles. Only 39c.

49c for 75c mannish skirts—made of soft soisettes. White grounds with neat colored stripes. Coat style, attached cuffs, round, flat collar, pearl button trimmings.

$1 House Dresses 49c

No, this is not a misprint—49c is to-morrow's price for $1 house dresses.

The dresses are excellently made of a fast black percale relieved at neck, front and cuffs with shepherd plaid check bands. A very neat style for summer wear. Round neck, three-quarter sleeves.

$1.25 and $1.50 House Dresses 98c

Stray as far from the porch as you like in these—they are such neat styles. All new, a special purchase just made. Soft percales, pretty ginghams, sturdy chambrays. Solid colors and fancies, charmingly trimmed in bands, pearl buttons, scalloping. Light and medium colors.

25c Curtain Madras 12½c

Though this 18-inch curtain madras takes well abroad, it didn't take here. The importer's loss.

Made of a very fine soft quality madras in fresh, attractive patterns. Arabian, white and cream. Charming for sash curtains and odd windows. Positively worth 25c, for 12 1-2c.

19c for 25c curtain scrims; firm, uniform mesh. Mercerized, 40 inches wide. White or cream.

59c a pair for 75c scrim curtains. Tucked corners, finished with lace edge. 2 1-2 yards long.

6-ft. Window Shades Only 19c

Made of firm opaque shade cloth in the desired shades. Mounted on good spring roller, 6 feet wide, 6 feet 3 inches long. A specially good value at 19c.

Old English Enamel Ware

Made on iron body—99 5-10 per cent pure. Will not chip or peel. Every piece perfect, hand picked. All guaranteed—a new piece for any that goes wrong. Sold on the basis of QUALITY. Complete lines at 10c, 19c, 25c, 39c and 49c. Some examples:

Deep pudding pans, 10 1-4x3 3-4 in. 10c.

5-inch soap dish drain, 10c

Straight cups, 1-2 quart, 10c.

Deep blue pans, size 8 5-8x2 7-8 in. 19c.

Capitol kettles, seamless. 6-quart size, has no cover 49c.

5-quart Berlin kettle with cover, 39c.

Dutch bowl nest, all three sizes, nested as shown, 49c.

Garden or Lawn Rakes, 10c.
19c Grass or Hedge Clippers, 10c.
Large size Steel Ice Picks, 10c.
19c Kitchen Saw, 10c.
39c Butcher and Bread Knives, 25c.
Large Paint Brushes, 10c.
Large or small Garden Trowels, 10c.
Paring and Fruit Knives, 10c.
Large size Screw Drivers, 10c.
Large Size Grass Cycles, 10c.
Patent Chain Door Fastener, 10c.
Large size Scrub Brushes, 10c.
Large size Hammers, 10c.
Large size Hatchets, 10c.
25c Combination Weed and Hoe Diggers, 10c.

LEADERS AGREE TO PUSH BIG FUNDS BILL

Decks Cleared in House and Appriation Measure Will Go to Senate This Week.

When Chairman Wheatley, of the House Appropriations Committee, calls up the general appropriations bill Wednehday he will ask that it be made a continuing order until it is disposed of in the House and sent to the Senate.

The chairman of the Appropriations Committee has the extraordinary right under the rules of the House of calling up his bill whenever he pleases, and it must have the right of way.

Chairman Wheatley has determined to exercise his right to the limit, and to that end has invited and obtained the promise of Speaker Burwell's earnest and sincere support in putting the bill through.

Trying to Push It Along.

It is the purpose of Chairman Wheatley and the Speaker to have the general appropriations bill in the hands of the Senate at least by the end of this week, and if they succeed they will have the bill in the Senate earlier than it has been since the war, and at least ten days earlier than it has been in thirty years.

When the big bill comes up the House will immediately be resolved in a committee of the whole House, with some member other than the Speaker presiding as the rules require.

The chairman of the Committee of the Whole House has not yet been announced, but it is likely it will be Mr. McMichael, of Marion, or Mr. Miller, of Bibb.

Both are experienced parliamentarians and either would make a fit and proper person for the work. Both are behind the effort to get the appropriation bill into the hands of the Governor well in advance of adjournment, as the Governor has requested.

General Tax Act Next.

The bill carries the constitutional appropriations, statehouse salaries and the like, which can not be changed by the House, in full, and these items will be quickly disposed of.

The other items will go in in blank, to be filled in by the committee of the whole.

Immediately after the general appropriations bill is disposed of the tax revision bill and the general tax act will come into the House from the Ways and Means Committee, when, at the request of Chairman Aiken, those bills also will be given the right of way. Both should be in the hands of the Senate before the end of next week.

Speed Assured in Senate.

If this is accomplished, another House record will be smashed.

The chairmen of the two big committees and the Speaker of the House have been assured by a large majority of the House that they will be co-operated with in their efforts to expedite legislation.

In the Senate President Anderson is but waiting for the House measures in order that he may duplicate there the program of orderly haste to be enacted in the House. He has assurance of co-operation from a practically solid Senate.

Big Damages Asked In Macon Depot Case

MACON, July 22.—The special committees appointed to ascertain the amounts of damages claimed by property owners on Cherry street on account of the closing of the thoroughfare for the building of a union station have submitted their report to the Railroad Commission.

The report shows that the property owners want exceedingly large damages, and that it will take either arbitration or court suits to settle most of the claims.

Chamberlain Decides Not to Oppose Tariff

WASHINGTON, July 22.—That Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, a Democrat, does not intend to vote against the tariff bill because it carries free raw wool and other items objectionable to the West became apparent to-day.

An examination of the Congressional Record shows that the remark he made in the Senate yesterday that he would not support the bill has been revised out of the official record.

$500,000 Fine Paid Texas by Oil Trust

GREENEVILLE, TEXAS, July 22.—A penalty of $500,00 was paid to-day to the State of Texas by the Magnolia Petroleum Company of Texas under a verdict by which H. C. Folger, Jr., and John D. Archbold submitted to a ruling that they release 21,596 shares of stock in the company to a trustee.

Instructions to pay the penalty were received by officers of the Magnolia Company from the offices of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

WHY CRIME DOES NOT PAY.—Sophie Lyons, most famous criminal of modern times, tells of thrilling events which crowded one short week of her life, in next Sunday's American.

Vanderbilt University
1046 STUDENTS 125 TEACHERS
CAMPUS OF 70 ACRES, also special campus for dep'ts of Medicine and Dentistry. Expenses low. Literary courses for graduates and undergraduates. Professional courses in Engineering, Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Dentistry, Theology. Send for catalog naming department. J. E. HART, Secy, Nashville, Tenn.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

Orators within and without the General Assembly, particularly those given to loquacity and frequency of effect, sometimes being more or less hard up for something to say upon the spur of the moment—whatever that is—now and then jump a-straddle of the Grand Old Legislature's grand old neck and dance a hornpipe thereupon!

Always the liviest tune to dance by concerns the Legislature's "do-nothing" inclination, and its proneness to move at a snail's pace. Particularly is this the case when the orator immediately on the job is "a-gin the government, anyway."

An attack upon the present Legislature that it is too slow may be justified. Maybe it is slow—slower than it ought to be. Maybe legislatures ought to do everything right off the reel, and debate the matter afterward, if time holds out. Maybe a lot of things—but the only way to judge one legislature as to its efficiency is by past legislatures; and in the matter of slowness, laziness, pokeasyness, or generel cussedness, the present Legislature is entitled to be judged, perhaps.

The following things are true, as the records will show: Never before within the service of any member of the present General Assembly has a general appropriations bill been reported to the House for action so early as on the twenty-sixth day of its sitting.

And yet, this Legislature, under the direction of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, will take up that very bill in the whole House to-day—the twenty-sixth day of its sitting!

The general tax act will be ready for the House before Saturday night—at least ten days earlier than any general tax act has been reported within a decade or more.

The various committees have reported more than 100 bills adversely, and easily as many more favorably. This was made possible by reason of the fact that the committees of both the House and the Senate were appointed this year two days earlier than ever before in thirty years.

In one recent Legislature, the Senate had the general tax act exactly FOUR days—this year it will have some fifteen days before adjournment. It is a well-known parliamentary fact, too, that both these bills have the right of way over all other bills at all times.

It undoubtedly is true that any Legislature would be able to travel much faster than it does were it not for the fact that local bills require almost as elaborate handling as general bills, and a reform in this matter has been urged for years. But since that reform never has been effected, it hardly seems fair to charge the present Legislature with giving to these bills more than the time absolutely necessary to their passage.

And so, while it may be true that the present Legislature is no faster than it should be, it is just as well to remember that the Legislature machine is of an old model, and therefore much out of date, and can not run any faster than it can!

When the State takes the speed limit off its Legislature, it naturally will have to provide a machine capable of making at least a little bit better time than the speed limit, or nothing will happen by way of reform.

The present Legislature may not be a wonder of wonders, but it really is moving along FASTER than usual—and that is the honest truth of it!

Mr. Payton, of Worth, the handsomest man in the last House, and one of the handsomest men in any House, looked in on the General Assembly to-day to see if it was moving along to suit him.

Mr. Payton gave it as his opinion that the present House is all right, so far as he could see, albeit he neglected to bring his eyeglasses along, and wasn't committing himself finally.

"I enjoyed my brief Legislative career," said Mr. Payton, "and made many lasting friendships while it continued. I take great interest in the work of the present House, and believe it will enact some wholesome legislation. I believe it wants to do the right thing, at least. I have met many new members, and the average seems to run rather high. In many ways, however, being a member of the Legislature is more or less a thankless job, and it often happens that the best and most sincere workers fail to get the credit they really are entitled to."

"Uncle Billy" Wilson, of Gwinette, another veteran of the last House, and the prize humorist therein, was talking it over with his former colleagues to-day.

"Uncle Billy" declines and refuses to get excited about anything, and always takes life as easy as he knows how. He does not look upon a Legislator's job as one removing him very far from the ranks of just ordinary folks, and therefore he never takes himself too seriously.

"I love all the boys, and in the main they are good boys," said "Uncle Billy." "If they make mistakes, they generally are mistakes of the head and not of the heart!"

Louis E. Wisdom, of Forsyth, who is altogether 22 years of age but not much more, notwithstanding the fact that he looks every day of 17, had trouble with a new doorkeeper in the House of Representatives the other day.

Wisdom didn't know there was a new doorkeeper on the job until, accompanied by two friends of the female persuasion, he approached the door during a session for admittance.

"Hey, you, kiddo!" stage-whispered the doorkeeper, "you can't get in here!"

"The h—um—deuce, I can't!" said Wisdom, in a loud and commanding tone of voice. "I'm a member of the House!"

"Run along, buddy, and let your pipe go out—you can't put that over me! If you had claimed to be a page, all right, I might have fallen for it, but a person must be at least twenty-one to get in here as a member!" replied the doorkeeper, as he pushed Wisdom gently back.

Then Wisdom quit arguing, and went around to another door with his lady friends, where he stood in with the doorkeeper, and everything was all right.

When the new doorkeeper found out what he had done, he was much chagrined and attempted to apologize to Wisdom, but Wisdom is a good little fellow and wouldn't stand for any apologies. He admitted that he hardly looked the part of a mature and experienced statesman, anyway, and said he could and did understand the situation.

If it just hadn't been for the ladies—!

General West Gets Gettysburg Medal

A silver medal bearing the inscription "1863-1913, Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg," the gift of Governor Tener of Pennsylvania, has been received by General A. J. West, the Georgia Gettysburg Commissioner.

Accompanying the beautiful gift was a letter from Governor Tener in which he expresses his sincere appreciation for the active interest of General West in the celebration.

The medal has the kneeling figures of two veterans, blue and gray, on one side and on the reverse side two hands tightly clasped.

PICTURES THEY FELL IN LOVE WITH.—The surprising romances that followed three paintings, for which Cupid mixed the colors, will be revealed in next Sunday's American.

LAGRANGE GREETS WEEKLY EDITORS

Largest Attendance in 27 Years at Annual Georgia Press Convention.

LAGRANGE, July 22.—With 75 more delegates attending than at any previous convention, the twenty-seventh annual session of the Georgia Weekly Press Association opened here this morning. The delegates number 250 and represent 150 papers.

The convention assembled in the Troup County courthouse. After a solo by Miss Ruth Oppenheim, of Atlanta, and the invocation by the Rev. E. B. Vaughn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, LaGrange, Mayor John M. Edmondson and President W. A. Reeves, of the LaGrange Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visitors. W. S. Coleman, of The Cedartown Standard, responded. Mrs. John N. Holder read a paper prepared by her husband, editor of The Jackson Herald, who was unable to attend. The theme was "The Influence of the Georgia Press on the Government of the State."

At 11:50 o'clock the convention delegates left for West Point, where a big barbecue was tendered this afternoon, followed by a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point News. They return to LaGrange this afternoon.

300 Pellagra Cases In Flooded Counties

JACKSON, MISS., July 22.—The State Board of Health to-day issued a report declaring that more than 300 cases of pellagra have been discovered in Mississippi counties that were overflowed during the spring floods.

In Washington County 125 cases were reported.

HEADACHES

Pains in temples and back of head, nervousness, blurring of vision while sewing or reading, or distance, floating specks before eyes and other like troubles that result from defective eyesight can easily be corrected with properly fitted glasses. If others have failed, give us a trial. We invite most difficult cases.

GLASSES FITTED $1.00 Up

YOURS FOR LOW PRICES
COLUMBIAN OPTICAL STORE
81-83 WHITEHALL ST.
With Columbian Book Company

MAYOR BALKS AT DICTOGRAPH CHECK

Refuses to Sign $19 Voucher for Use of Very Machine That Trapped Him.

Mayor Woodward again is refusing to sign checks.

From the Police Department has come a voucher for $19 to pay the expense of the very dictograph that entrapped Mayor Woodward, Colonel T. B. Felder and others in the Williams House No. 2. Chairman A. R. Colcord, of the Council Police Committee, hesitated at approving this voucher and Mayor Woodward scoffs at the idea of him signing the check.

Also, he explained, he is not inclined to throw away $5 on an option on an electric feature to the new crematory. He sent the resolution providing this back to Council without acting on it. The lower branch of Council passed it up again by a vote of 15 to 2.

Although Council easily overrode Mayor Woodward the thirty-third time on the tax office merger issue the bill must be passed by the Legislature to become effective. It will have to be attached as a rider to the other charter amendments and then submitted to a vote of the people along with the other amendments.

3 GOOD REASONS

Accurate
Rapid Courteous

SERVICE

ATLANTA TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

LOUISVILLE
THROUGH SLEEPERS
Lv. 7:12 AM., 5:10 PM.
L&N

Prompt Delivery Service

Pura Water
TRADE MARK REG'D PERFECTLY PURE

Greatly Enlarged Plant

Distilled water is the only germless and absolutely pure water.

Filtered or boiled water is not freed from germs; and all raw water is dangerous to drink.

Pura Water is distilled by best modern scientific processes and is the true health water.

With one of our perfect water coolers in your office, store or other place of business, you can always have a supply of absolutely pure, germless water to drink.

We install these coolers, keep them constantly supplied with Pura Distilled Water and iced daily, for a moderate charge.

Telephones { Bell, Ivy / Atlanta } 3226

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 65

CHAINGANGS IN GEORGIA

Breaking Rocks, Breaking Men, and a Death in Camp

Last Thursday night a man slept chained to others.

Doubtless the drag of the shackle on his leg disturbed his rest.

In the cool of Friday morning he shuffled out of the convict camp.

Linked with clinking steel to others, he came through the woods to the rock quarry.

The guard unlocked the gang chain.

The man scrambled down into the pit.

Work started.

The sun mounted higher.

Its beams sought and found the laborers.

Men began to feel it as they toiled.

Twelve pounds is the weight of the ordinary quarry hammer.

Theirs weigh forty-nine pounds in this quarry.

One, buying them for the county, said:

"Strength is not required to crush stone with these. They come down of their own weight. THE ROCK BREAKS."

YES, AND SO DO MEN!

Forty-nine pounds to the hammer!

You could scarcely raise one.

Consider, then, what you do when you force the man to do that which you could not endure—

Lifting this hammer—crushing stone with it when the thermometer registers nearly one hundred degrees!

And doing this at the bottom of a funnel-shaped pit of stone into which the sun's rays pour and beat, enveloping in wave on wave of agonizing heat the suffering striped and shackled working men!

Friday each minute the heat grew worse.

The atmosphere quivered with it.

The quarry became a pit of torment.

From its depths, to his keeper, the man cried:

"I am sick."

The guard replied:

"You didn't say so this morning."

Later the man fell fainting at his work.

Stripe-clad, shackled men lifted him tenderly.

They carried him out.

Through the woods a jolting springless wagon bore the dying man to the convict camp, where he died.

The man had not been condemned to death.

He was only a misdemeanor convict.

The utmost punishment provided by your law for him was twelve months in the chaingang, six months in jail and a fine of one thousand dollars.

And you had no wish to kill him.

BUT THE MAN IS DEAD.

Across the ages rings the question of God:

"What mean you that you break my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor?"

Down the centuries comes the voice of Jesus, saying:

"Woe unto you, for you load men with burdens grievous to be borne and you yourself touch not the burden with one of your fingers."

Do not deny responsibility for the man's death.

Your laws—our laws—placed him in the convict camp.

Your servant, a public official, made him work the day he died.

He feared your lash—our lash.

God will require of you and of us his blood and the blood of others.

The Executive Committee of The Men and Religion Forward Movement

VANT AD RACE TO BEGIN ON THURSDAY

ontestants and Those Who Expect to Enter Must See Want Ad Man on Wednesday.

Well, we're ready to start. Are you? The Want Ad Contest will begin hursday morning. Long before noon ie doorbells will begin to tinkle and ousewives will be saying to constants:

"Why, yes; I do want something. I ed a better washerwoman. You can int an advertisement for one, and ere's the money. Oh, there's someing else. Perhaps a want ad will elp me sell my old piano. You can ut that in, too."

There's no limit to the number of ings a want ad will do to make ousekeeping easier, to fill a need. ere are just a few of them:

Find a cook or housegirl.
Sell an automobile, furniture, eggs, owers.
Rent a room, furnished or unfurished.
Find an apartment just like you ant.
Get you boarders or find you a oarding house.
Sell your house or vacant lot, or nd the kind of home you wish to nt or purchase.
Sell that fancy poultry to eager rchasers.
Find a lost handbag, a strayed fam- pet.
Locate missing persons.
Find a position if you're out of a b.

Get an Early Start.

But if you don't get an early start ou'll be handicapped. No use in letng other folks get ahead of you. here are many contestants entered id ready to work, but not so many at your chances will be hurt. Atnta is a big city, and there is room r everybody to have a chance to in.

If you already have entered, come see the Want Ad Man to-morrow Wednesday) sure. If you haven't ntered yet, clip out the nomination ank in the big advertisement in toy's issue of this paper, have it lled out, and bring it to the Want d Man early Wednesday. He will ll you everything you wish to know, t you under the direction of a illed and experienced district manger, and start you in the race for at automobile.

Prizes Worth While.

Look over the prizes in the advertsement to-day. An automobile, a ano, a trip to California, motorcyes, bicycles, watches, diamonds—mething worth trying for. And the ntest will not cost you a cent. here's no gamble in it, no guessork—nothing but the use of brains id energy.

You'll find the Want Ad Man at 403 oote & Davies Building, Edgewood venue and North Pryor street. You'll mighty glad you met him!

Mother Fights for Custody of Children

AUGUSTA, July 22.—Mrs. Mary . Zachry, wife of Julian J. Zachry, well-known attorney and business an of this city and Harlem, Ga., has ppealed from the decision of the Orhary, who awarded the custody of e Zachry children to the father. The se will be heard before Judge Hamond, of the Superior Court.

Zachry and his wife were married re about four years ago, a few eeks after his first wife died. The cond Mrs. Zachry was his stenogpher. Several months ago the cou- e separated after a rather stormy arried life. The wife took the two ildren. Zachry sued out writs of abeas corpus and obtained possesion of them.

Woman in Charge Of 1,000 Convicts

JACKSON, MISS., July 22.—Mrs. M. Spickard, a frail middle-aged oman, to-day is in charge of the ississippi State penitentiary. She tercises control over more than 1,000 risoners, including more than 100 urderers and burglars. Governor rewer to-day said he would appoint rs. Spickard to a position on the rison Board.

Mrs. Spickard became secretary of e board when Lawrence Yerger was nvicted in the wholesale prison raft trials recently, and became head the prison system when President C. Smith was convicted and reoved.

Anyone Seen Nogi? His Pal Is Grieving

"Nogi" is gone and now, after a ittle search throughout the city, his ittle master gives up his quest heartroken. Nogi is a fox terrier and pal a little boy over on the South Side ast Wednesday he disappeared down Whitehall street and has not been und since.

A reward of $10 has been offered Jack Roberts, of the Guthman team Laundry, and L. P. Hoppe, of e Southern Flour and Grain Comany, for his recovery.

PICTURES THEY FELL IN LOVE WITH.—The surprising romances hat followed three paintings, for hich Cupid mixed the colors, will e revealed in next Sunday's Americn.

$20.85 BALTIMORE AND RETURN VIA SEABOARD.

Sold August 1-2-3. Correspondingly low rates from other points. New Steel Dining Cars, through trains.

ATLANTA BALKS AT NOSE VEIL; MUST SEE ALL OF PRETTY FACE

Miss Nancy Reed, first girl to wear the nose veil here.

She says it will not do for Atlanta beauties at all.

Fair Sponsor of Arabian Style Admits New Fad Is Doomed Here.

At last Dame Fashion seems to have overstepped the line in freakish wearing apparel for women, so far as Atlanta is concerned.

The Arabian nose veil, an importation now much in vogue in Newport and other Eastern centers of all that is fashionable, has met a sharp rebuff here.

The veil in use is drawn taut over the tip of the nose and covers the mouth and chin. One sees but the eyes of the wearer. Mrs. French Vanderbilt, Mrs. William Goadby and others are its sponsors in the East.

Miss Nancy Reed, a former Atlanta girl, now visiting Mrs. George Spier in Twelfth street, is among the first here to attempt the nose veil.

"It won't do for Atlanta girls," she declared, and her decision seems to have been sustained, especially by the men of the city, who enjoy seeing all of a pretty face.

CENTRAL TRACK REBUILT.

COLUMBUS.—The work of rebuilding the Central of Georgia Railway track between this city and Americus with 90-pound rails has been completed.

Alabama Coal Yield Shows Big Increase

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The coal production of Alabama during 1912 amounted to 16,100,600 short tons, valued at $20,829,252, according to a report of the Geological Survey issued to-day.

This is an increase of 1,079,179 tons, valued at $1,794,303, over the 1911 production.

KODAK SUPPLIES BY C. O. D. PARCEL POST.

When you're in a hurry order your supplies by C. O. D. Parcel Post. Convenient and quick. Send for our revised price list on finishing and enlarging. Genuine Eastman films and all amateur supplies. A. K. Hawkes Co., Kodak Department, 14 Whitehall.

MATHEWS & HILL INSURANCE
EMPIRE BUILDING

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT

For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

Milwaukee Mechanics' Fire Insurance Company

OF MILWAUKEE,

Organized under the laws of the State of Wisconsin, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance of the laws of said State.
Principal Office—Nos. 442 and 444 East Water street, Milwaukee.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Whole amount of capital stock $1,000,000.00
Amount paid up in cash $1,000,000.00

II. ASSETS.

Total assets of the company, actual cash market value $4,286,954.16

III. LIABILITIES.

Total liabilities $4,286,954.16

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total income actually received during the first six months in cash $1,094,199.38

V. EXPENDITURES DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total expenditures during the first six months of the year in cash $1,169,248.78
Greatest amount insured in any one risk ... $ 50,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding 429,732,446.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—County of Milwaukee.

Personally appeared before the undersigned Charles H. Yunker, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the vice president of the Milwaukee Mechanics' Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true. CHARLES YUNKER, Vice President.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 16th day of July, 1913. ERNEST G. EBERT, Notary Public, Milwaukee County, Wisconsin.

Name of State Agent—C. G. REDD.
Name of Agents at Atlanta—MATHEWS & HILL.

FATHER SHIELDS GIRL ARRESTED WITH DOCTOR

Grief of Forgiveness Displayed When Effie McCalmon Meets Parent and Brother.

The grief of forgiveness was pathetically displayed in Chief of Police Beavers' office Tuesday morning when Effie McCalmon, the country girl from near Carrollton, arrested Monday with Dr. M. W. Lewis, a prominent physician of that town, in a raid on the Scoville Hotel, met her father and brother, and begged to be taken home.

The girl's pathetic plight was more than the irate father and brother could endure. Simultaneously they clasped her in their arms. Then she was taken by them in an automobile to the station. The trio departed at 11 o'clock for home.

J. M. McCalmon, father of the girl, a prominent planter, and his son Emory, ticket agent at Bowden Junction, both told Chief Beavers they would return when the physician's case comes up to prosecute Lewis to the full extent of the law. They also declared they would bring the girl back to Atlanta and let her tell her story to the court.

"This man has cast shame on my home which can never be forgotten," declared the father. "He has blighted my daughter's future. Restitution by punishment of the law is a poor substitute, but I will have it."

Lewis was released Monday night, after he had secured the $1,000 bond under which he was bound over by Judge Broyles during the afternoon. Immediately afterward he disappeared.

Lewis and the girl were registered at the hotel as man and wife.

AGED ATHENS WOMAN DEAD.

ATHENS.—Mrs. Sarah Brandt, widow of Rudolph Brandt, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Koch. She was 74 years old and is survived by three sons, Rudolph and Charles Brandt, of Athens, and J. E. Brandt, of Ilion, N. Y., and her daughter, Mrs. Koch.

YOUR EYES MUST NOT BE NEGLECTED

Correctly fitted glasses are a permanent pleasure.
We strive for the best—in skill, in material and in workmanship.
Oculists' services at opticians' prices.
L. N. HUFF OPTICAL CO.
Two Stores:
70 Whitehall. 52 W. Mitchell.

Photographers of U. S. May Come to Atlanta Next Year

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 22.—With a dozen boosters putting forth the brand of effort that captured the big Shriners' convention, Atlanta's chances of getting the next gathering of the Photographers' Association of America, now in session here, are growing better every hour.

The Atlantans have opened an office in the convention hall and a display in the lobby of the Hotel Baltimore, where the delegates are entertained and provided with literature descriptive of the Gate City. There are about 800 delegates here now, with several hundred more coming.

Harry Goodhart, L. D. Hicks and Fred Houser, who head the Atlanta delegation, are confident that the Georgia city will secure the next convention.

Mr. Goodhart declared this morning that "there is nothing to it but Atlanta. I have talked to several hundred delegates and they all want to come to the 'New York of the South.'"

Mississippi Tries to Break Rail Merger

CLARKSDALE, MISS., July 22.—Suits are prepared for filing to-day against the Illinois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroads, demanding penalties of nearly $50,000,000 and a dissolution of an alleged unlawful merger.

Infractions of the State anti-trust laws, charged by Attorney General Ross A. Collins, were given as reasons for ousting the Illinois Central from the State, and taking the charter from the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley.

Electric Vote Device Planned for House

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The House Rules Committee to-day began an investigation of the feasibility of installing an electrical voting system in the House to avoid the long delays consequent upon the calling of the roll by the reading clerk.

Representative Walsh, of New Jersey, appeared before the committee to explain an electric system of voting he has proposed.

DIXIE IS DELUGED BY PROSPERITY, SAYS HARDY

Retailers' President Declares Business Is Better and Georgia Is Forging Into Lead.

"Dixie is bubbling over with prosperity."

That is the characteristic way in which J. W. S. Hardy, of Waycross, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, defined commercial conditions in the South when seen by The Georgian at the association's convention headquarters in the Hotel Ansley.

"But we can better the present condition and our merchants in all parts of Georgia have come to the realization that by individual effort and plugging in the right direction we can make Georgia the foremost State in the Union," declared Mr. Hardy.

"To this end the convention was called," said Mr. Hardy, "to meet in Atlanta while the Legislature is in session, so that merchants can be in close touch with their Representatives and exercise every influence in their power to get them to support and vote for the garnishment and fraudulent check bills.

"This is a business meeting of business men, and in no sense is it for the purpose of boosting Atlanta interests. Its only purpose is to work for the best interests of the merchants of Georgia.

"We are in an era of good business that is unrivaled. Competition is keen, but it is also true that competition is the life of trade and progress.

"From all parts of the State come encouraging assertions that this year has been a little better than last. Even a little is better than no increase at all. But I am inclined to believe that business this year is infinitely more than a little better than last in all lines."

WHY CRIME DOES NOT PAY.—Sophie Lyons, most famous criminal of modern times, tells of thrilling events which crowded one short week of her life, in next Sunday's American.

General Harris to Inspect Second at St. Simons Friday

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, July 22.—The Second Georgia Regiment is making extensive preparations for the visit to camp of Brigadier General Walter A. Harris and staff on Friday, when a special dress parade will be held in his honor.

The big battle of the maneuvers was fought this morning, the men having to cut their way with bayonets through the matted underbrush of a swamp to get to the firing lines, but, according to the instructors, they did it like veterans. More "casualties" were caused by the barbed points of sandspurs than by the enemy.

Rain fell yesterday for the first time and the men were compelled to drill in ponchos. Forsyth defeated Columbus in a ball game, 14 to 4. To-day's officer of the day was Captain John T. Aycock, and the officer of the guard Lieutenant H. A. Dickens, both of Monroe.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A TRADE?

David Harum Was a Good Trader

If so, look for it in the greatest trade center in the South, THE GEORGIAN WANT AD COLUMNS.

The exchange columns satisfy almost every human want.

They save you time, money and patience.

M. Rich & Bros. Co.

Unique and Successful

The initial day of our Pre-Inventory Sale of Low Shoes was a splendid success. To-morrow's opportunities for saving are as the sands of the seashore for multitude.

Every Pair of Low Shoes For Women, Misses, Boys and Children Is Reduced in Price From One-Half to One-Fourth

These reductions are in force during the next eight selling days. Below you will find the schedule of prices. Space forbids a more extended description.

Low Shoes for Women

All $3.50 shoes, $2.95. All $4 and $4.50 shoes, $3.45. All $5 shoes, $3.95. All of our $6 Garside and Brooklyn-made low shoes now $4.95.

All $7 Spanish heel Brooklyn-made Colonial Pumps in patent, mat and bronze kid, with cut-steel slides, now $5.45.

For Misses and Children

$1 and $1.25 low shoes, 90c. $1.50 and $1.75 slippers, $1.35. All $2 slippers $1.65. All $2.50 slippers $1.95. All $3 slippers $2.45. Tan rubber sole play shoes, $1.50 values, $1.15; $1.75 values, $1.35. Boys' shoes reduced accordingly.

Evening and House Slippers

All $5 evening slippers, $3.95. All $4 evening slippers, $2.95. All $3 and $3.50 low heel evening slippers, $2.45.

House slippers, $2.50 values, $1.95; $2 values, $1.65; $1.50 values, $1.15. Boudoir slippers, $1 and $1.25 values, now 90c.

M. Rich & Bros. Co.

"A Department of Famous Shoes."

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.
ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

The Clearaway of Kayser Gloves

There is no doubting the quality of Kayser Gloves.

Women have come, through experience, to know that Kayser Gloves are best, and therefore cheapest at regular prices.

And now comes the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company clearaway of Kayser Gloves, in which, as in all clearaways here, real worth is subservient to immediate disposal.

So the new prices and the opportunity for women to supply themselves with Kayser Gloves for times to come.

69c For Kayser's $1.00 Gloves, chamoisette, natural shade, sixteen-button length.

98c For Kayser's $1.75 Gloves, sixteen-button length, embroidered silk, in pink, light blue, rose, tan, pongee, brown and gray.

98c For Kayser's $2.00 Gloves, sixteen-button length, black silk, heavy quality, all sizes.

$1.19 For Kayser's $1.75 to $3.00 Gloves, sixteen-button length, embroidered silk, black and white, all sizes in black, 5½, 7, 7½ in white.

A fluttering and falling of handkerchief prices to-morrow---Women's 25c all-linen handkerchiefs with hand-embroidered initials drop to 15c; the linen is sheer, the embroidery is neatly done. Also women's 25c autographed handkerchiefs are 10c. They are all linen and the name---"given" name---is handworked.

Lately Arrived Neckwear

Charming because of their newness, a happy relief from the picked over stocks that you too often have to select from at this season.

Venise collar and cuff sets, white and cream, at $1.00 to $3.00.

Net collar and cuff sets, white and cream, at $1.50 to $2.00.

Novel lawn and linen collar and cuff sets, at $1.00 to $3.00.

Lace and net Fichus, very smart right now, in white, cream and black, at 50c to $3.00.

And with these we have put

At 19c Net and Lace Rufflings in white, cream, ecru and black that were 25c to 35c a yard.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

CONTEST BEGINS THURSDAY!

Every contestant in the Georgian's Want-Ad Competition is urged to see The Want-Ad Man to-morrow (Wednesday) and get ready for a flying start. The first day should bring big results.

Bring in Your Nomination Coupon and Start in at Once

Many of Atlanta's brightest young men and women have entered and received their instructions. You can still get an even start if you don't delay.

Every prize shown here and many others are to be awarded the winners. No guessing, no buying anything, no expense to you. Experienced District Managers will aid you, show you how to get results, help you to win.

Contestants will secure want ads for The American and Georgian. They will work among friends, neighbors, acquaintances, business people, or where they please. Every family in Atlanta has a want, and a suggestion gets the ad. It's easy.

The Coupon on This Page Starts You With 1,000 Votes. FILL IT OUT NOW

Nomination Coupon — 1,000 VOTES

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

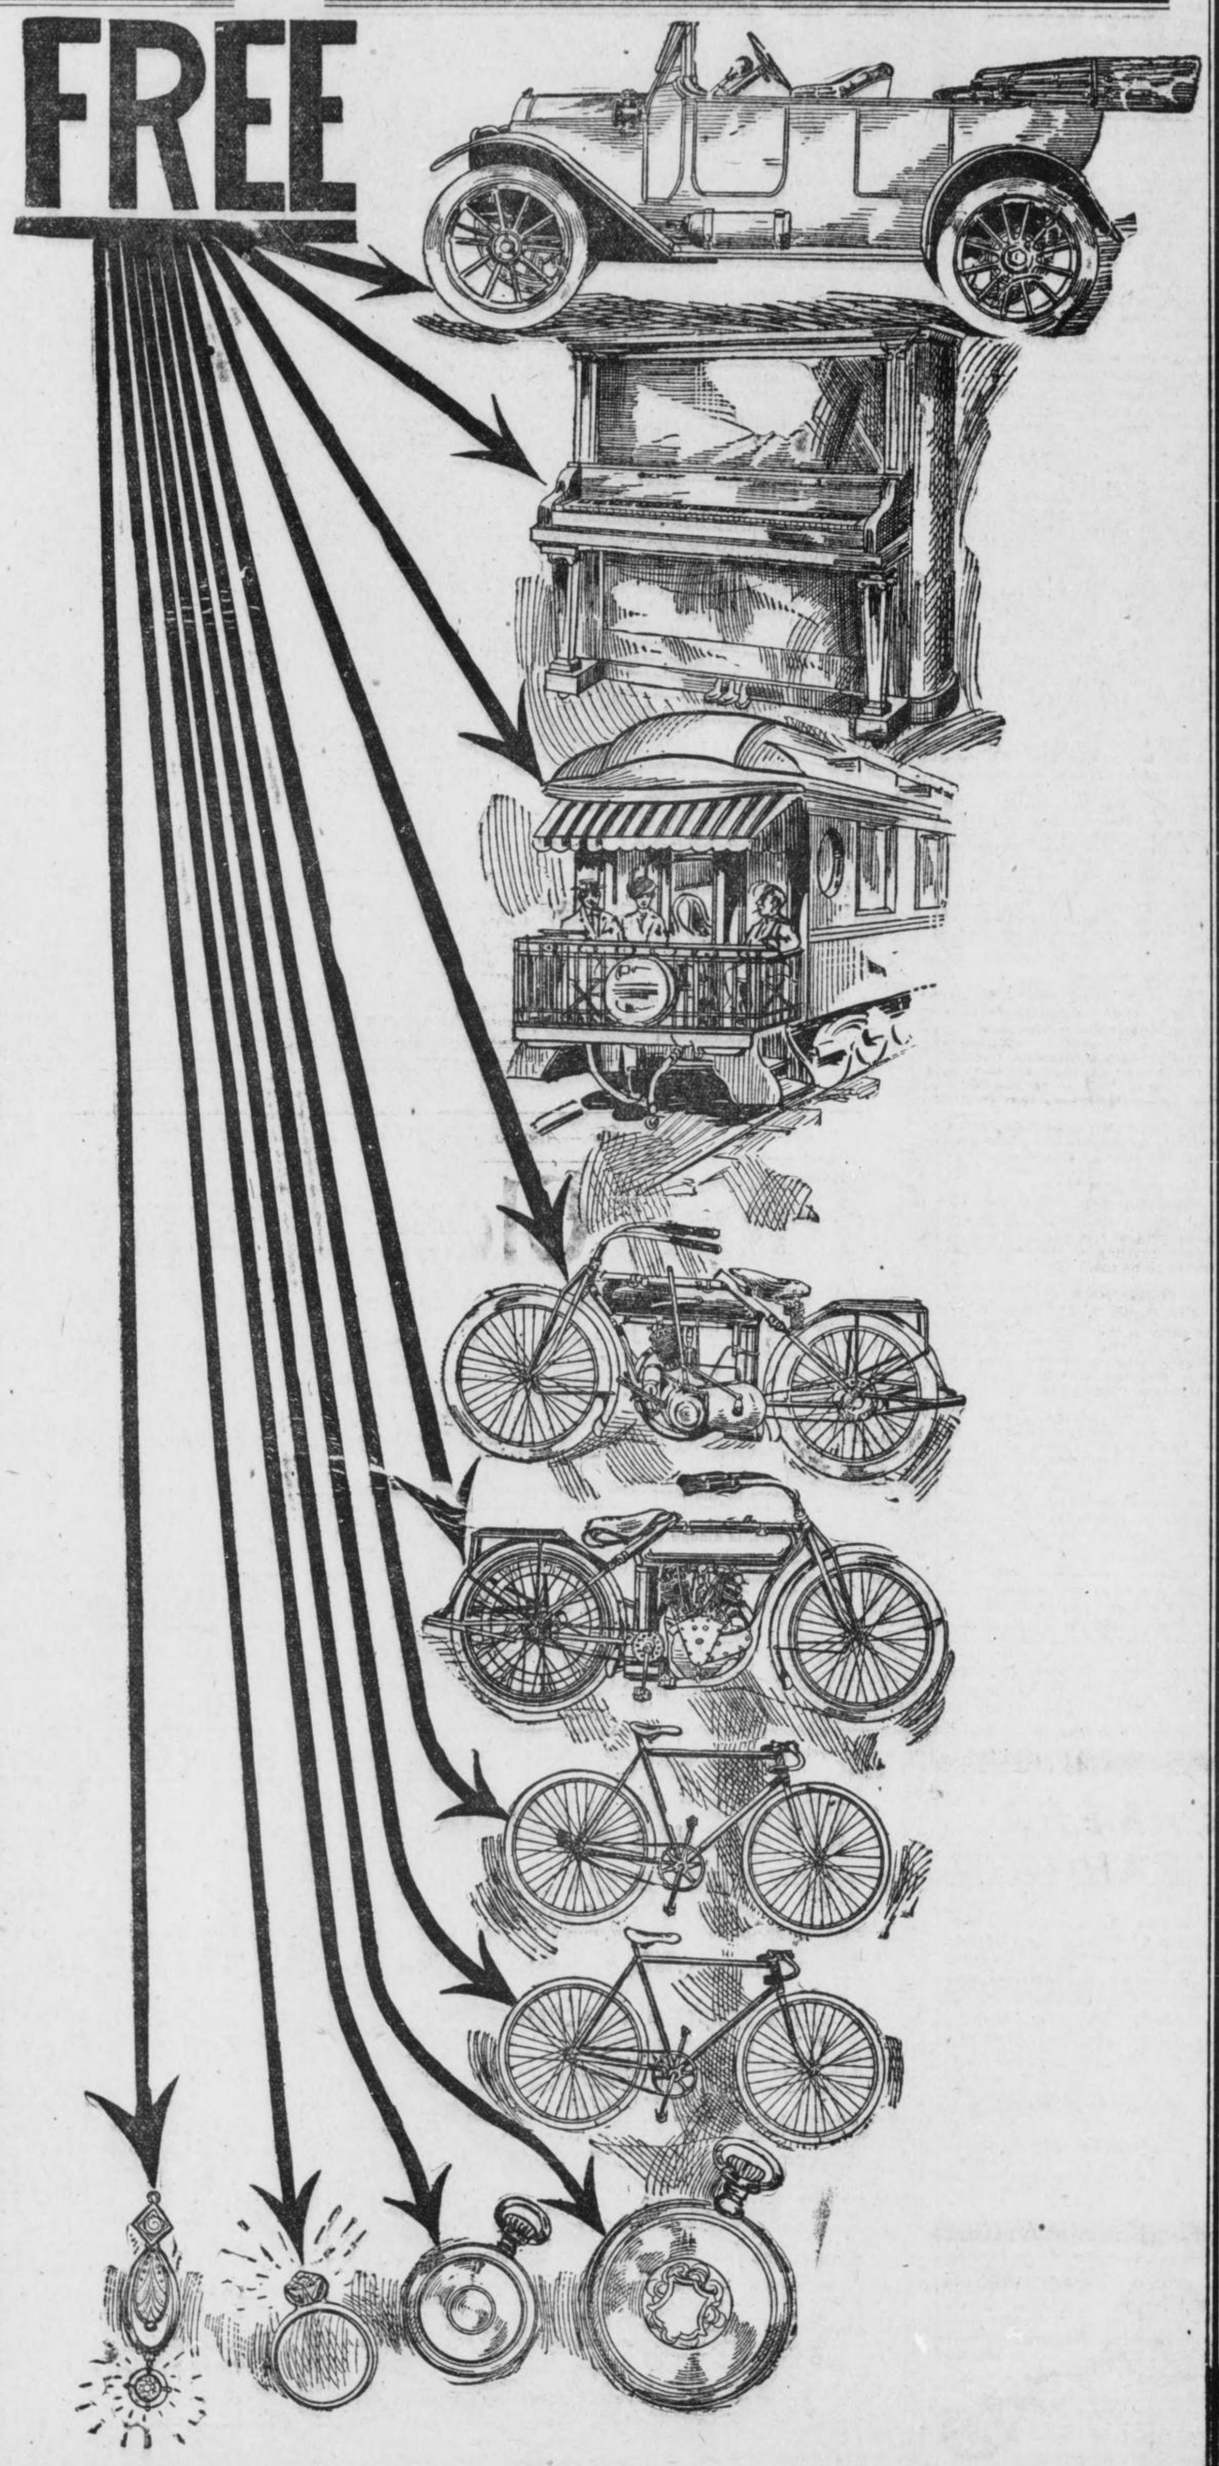
I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)
as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.



HEARST'S

SUNDAY AMERICAN

AND

ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Business Office, No. 7 Edgewood Avenue

The Social World

Mrs. Rufus J. Woodstock, of Asheville, N. C., who has been tendered a series of parties as the guest of Miss Lillian Logan, was the honor guest at an informal bridge party Tuesday morning, given by Mrs. Robert K. Rambo.

Old-fashioned garden flowers, zinnias, crepe myrtle, and althea formed the decorations throughout Mrs. Rambo's home, and pretty fans were given for top score, for consolation and for the honor guest. A dainty luncheon was served on the card tables at the close of the game.

Mrs. Rambo wore a morning gown of pink linen. Invited to meet Mrs. Woodstock were Mrs. Charles Shelton, Mrs. Linton Baker, of Augusta; Mrs. Julian Prade, Mrs. Robert McCord, Mrs. Albert Herring, of Mississippi; Mrs. Robert Burgess, Mrs. John Charles Wheatley, Mrs. H. B. Odell, Mrs. George K. Selden, Mrs. Blair Armstrong and Miss Lillian Logan.

Mrs. Cutter Hostess.

Mrs. Harry Stotesbury Cutter gave an informal bridge party Tuesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Dorothy Robbins, of Birmingham, the guest of Mrs. J. P. B. Allan, and for Miss Fannie Neal Anderson, of Athens, who is with her cousin, Miss Margaret Ashford.

The house was tastefully decorated with nasturtiums and potted flowers. The prizes were a pearl bar pin for high score. To the honor guests were given books.

Mrs. Cutter wore pink charmeuse draped with crepe.

The party included Misses Willie Loyless, Grace Thorn, Elizabeth Parker, Helen Thorn, Ethel Tutwiler, Mrs. Victor R. Smith, Mrs. Edward Malone, Mrs. Berrien Moore, Mrs. Carter Colquitt Cole, Mrs. Wilson Runette, Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. Clarence Angier, Mrs. Howard Parker and Mrs. J. P. B. Allan.

Children's Party.

Mrs. Robert Foreman was hostess at a children's party Tuesday afternoon, when 24 little guests were entertained. Miss Betty Pou, of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Dozier Pou, and Miss Louise Martin, of Augusta, the guest of Mrs. Albert Howell, were the guests of honor. The feature of the afternoon was the reading of a number of stories of adventure and of Indian legends by Mrs. Charles Goodman. Later refreshments were served. The decorations were of garden flowers.

Mrs. Ayer Hostess.

Mrs. C. K. Ayer entertained at an informal bridge party Saturday evening in compliment to her guest, Miss Ethel Tye Wright, of McDonough, and Mrs. Robert Barnwell, a bride.

The house was decorated with garden flowers. The prizes were won by Mrs. Laura Cawthorne and Mr. J. W. White.

Mrs. J. W. White entertained at tea Monday afternoon at the Piedmont Club for Mrs. Ayer's guests.

Dance at Crystal Palace.

The young men of the Tech Summer School will give a subscription dance Friday evening at the Crystal Palace, inviting a number of young women to be their guests.

Miss Walker Hostess.

Miss Eloise Walker gave a matinee party at the Forsyth Tuesday afternoon for Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, who is visiting Miss Margaret Rushton at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clyde King, in Ponce DeLeon avenue.

The party included Misses Clio Carmichael, Margaret Rushton, Evelyn Ragland and Cullen Battle.

After the matinee the party had tea at Hotel Ansley.

For Miss Carmichael.

Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, is being entertained as the guest of Miss Margaret Rushton.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Eloise Walker gave a box party in her honor. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Clyde King will entertain at an afternoon tea for Miss Rushton and her guest.

Mrs. Graham Williams will give a bridge party Thursday morning at her home on Tenth street.

Miss Marian Fielder has invited a number of her friends to meet Miss Carmichael at a bridge party Friday morning, and in the afternoon Mrs. John Ray Pattillo will give a bridge party.

For Miss Julia Black.

Mrs. Eugene Black entertained 30 children Tuesday afternoon at her home on Peachtree road, in honor of her little daughter, Julia.

PERSONAL

Miss Eula Roberts left Atlanta Monday for Murphy, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schoen are visiting friends in Johnson City, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W Parrent are at the Battery Park Hotel, Asheville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashley Jones are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKee.

Miss Mary Algood Jones is ill of tonsilitis at the Davis-Fischer Sanitarium.

Mrs. F. C. Barker, of Baltimore, Md., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Pound, in West End.

Mrs. Albert Herring, of Mississippi, is being entertained as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ashford have returned from Athens, where they spent last week-end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Chamberlin, of Cuthbert, are guests of their mother, Mrs. L. J. Chamberlin, on Whitehall street.

Mrs. Henry Peeples and Miss Lillie Peeples will return home Thursday from Mount Airy, where they have spent a month.

Mrs. Thomas Cauthorne and Miss Marie Sciple are at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel in Atlantic City for several weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Braswell and daughters, Stella and Vivien, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooper at 701 Peachtree street.

Miss Louise Sisson will leave Atlanta soon to visit Mrs. Alfred Gordon Lloyd, formerly Miss Aline Ruse, of Atlanta, in Detroit.

Mrs. George H. Gilreath, of Cartersville, is spending several days at the Piedmont as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Emried Cole.

Miss Margaret Traylor will be among the Atlanta girls who will attend school at The Castle, on the Hudson, next winter.

Mrs. George C. Croft and Miss Lolla Belle Fuller left Atlanta this week for several weeks' stay in the mountains of North Carolina.

Miss Wyckliffe Wurm is visiting friends in Greenville, S. C. She will go to the mountains of North Carolina before returning to Atlanta.

Miss Lilloise Reid will leave Atlanta Wednesday for Varnville, S. C., to visit friends. She will join a house party at the Isle of Palms later.

Mrs. T. R. Arthur and Misses Elizabeth and Annette Arthur, of Shellman, Ga., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pound on Oglethorpe avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnwell, Ralph and Harold Barnwell left Atlanta Saturday evening for Wrightsville Beach to spend several weeks.

Mrs. Willis Westmoreland and Mrs. Lewis Beck will go to Atlantic City the first of August for an extended stay at the Marlborough-Blenheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thiessen, who have been in Baltimore for a month, will go to Atlantic City for a stay of several weeks before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Murphy left Atlanta for St. Simons Friday, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shinholser at their cottage.

Misses Eileen McCulloch, Verna Potter and Louise Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arnold left Atlanta Saturday for a ten-day visit at Tallulah Falls.

Mrs. Robert Hunt and her sister, Miss Nina Goodlett, of Dyersburg, Tenn., have returned from St. Simons, where they sojourned several weeks.

Mrs. S. E. Jeannerette and her daughter, Miss Cecilia Jeannerette, left Atlanta Saturday for Columbia, S. C., to be the guest of Mrs. E. B. Wilson.

Miss Kathryn Gordon has returned home, after spending several weeks at Tate Spring, where she was chaperoned by her aunt, Mrs. Crawford, of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geigerman, of Cincinnati, announce the birth of a son, who has been named David. Mrs. Geigerman was Miss Camille Sommer, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elliott Miller, who are making their home in New York, recently enjoyed a motor trip through New Jersey, and will tour the Berkshire Hills in August.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert McCord returned from their wedding trip Monday, and will be with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCord for several weeks until they go to housekeeping.

Miss Miriam Cohen and Miss Ray Gotlut left Monday for Denver, Colo., to spend the summer with the latter's parents. They will stop in Kansas City, Mo., for ten days, visiting relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis C. Rouglin left Atlanta Saturday for Ocean View, Va. They will go to New York and Atlantic City before returning to Atlanta, three weeks hence.

Mrs. G. O. Raeburn, of New York, arrives this week to visit Mrs. Agnes Turner at the Georgian Terrace before leaving for San Francisco to join her husband. Mrs. Raeburn was formerly Miss Bertha Braumuter, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Ethel Tye Wright, of McDonough, is the guest of Mrs. C. K. Ayer at her home on Myrtle street. Miss Gertrude Jones, of Selma, Ala., will arrive Friday to be Mrs. Ayer's guest. At present she is visiting friends in Anniston.

Mrs. J. Cheston King is the guest of Colonel and Mrs. W. H. H. Moody at their summer home in Claremont, N. H. Before returning to Atlanta she will visit friends in New York and Washington, where Dr. King will join her for a ten days' visit.

Miss Lulu Ross, who has spent the past several years abroad, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edward Durant, on Ponce DeLeon avenue. Miss Ross, who is a talented artist, will soon begin the erection of a studio and residence combined near her sister's home.

Miss Mary Kenny Jerome is in Atlanta speding the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Jerome. She has been in Westfield, Mass., studying voice and piano with Mrs. Viola Hampton. She expects to return in September for another year of study.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Witham and Miss Jessie McKee landed in New York Tuesday morning after a trip to Europe. Mr. Hugh McKee went to New York to meet his daughter, and together they will spend a week in Canada before returning home. Mr. and Mrs. Witham will reach Atlanta Thursday.

THE PLAY THIS WEEK

Forsyth Bill High Class.

First nighters at the Forsyth Monday evening were given a real thrill by the aquatic feats of John F. Conroy and his two diving girls. The act is exceptionally good and the scenery is striking.

The remainder of the bill is excellent. In Diero is the masterhand of the piano-accordion. From the classic music to ragtime the musician is a wonder. He was repeatedly recalled for encores. A trio of comedians that handed over some very funny stuff included Smith Cook and Marie Brandon. Lester is an entertaining ventriloquist. Another big drawing card, especially for the children, was Jack Auger, "Jack the Giant Killer." The BeAnos, a novelty gymnastic act, opened the bill. Shriner and Richards, in songs and dances, were good.

"Les Miserables" a Hit.

In the pictured dramatization of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," playing this week at the Grand Theater, Atlanta is offered another of the mammoth film productions like "Quo Vadis."

"Les Miserables" had its Atlanta premiere Monday night. In coloring the picture is perfect; however, its action in a few spots lags a bit, as though the producer leaned too much to detail to bring forth realism. However, the play does not lack tenseness and thrills. Prospective auditors are advised to arrive before the first flash on the screen, as the presentation of the escape from the prison, in the first film, is, without doubt, the cream of all that is exciting in the play.

In the cast of characters are seen some of France's most noted actors. The stage setting is minute and lavish to the last detail. Manager Cordoza is to be congratulated upon his battle with the heat. The Grand in hot weather is like an oasis in the desert.

'OLD HOSS' JUDGE SAYS PONIES ARE GREAT

Pick of Mountain Herd Ordered to Make Out Prizes for Georgian Contestants.

Telegrams Monday ordered John G. Mobley, of Winnsboro, S. C., to ship the thirteen ponies necessary to complete the herd of 22 which The Georgian and American will give away after the close of its contest, July 31.

Within a few days, the special car bringing the Shetlands should arrive. According to the expert who went to Winnsboro and picked them out, they are a feast for the eyes.

Mr. Mobley has a plantation of 1,400 acres. Of this area, 450 acres of wood lot are used as a pony farm. Just now, he has 100 head of ponies, which have been roaming the woods and the rich pasture, and, these hot days, seeking the shady tangles.

The Georgian and American were offered their pick of the entire five-score ponies. Twenty negroes, mounted on mules, started at 8 o'clock in the morning to round them up. By 1 o'clock they had the 100 little fellows on the summit of a hill where Mr. Mobley is accustomed to give them salt. From this knoll they were driven to the pens, and the best fifteen were selected. All are sound, gentle, affectionate and well trained. They vary sufficiently in markings, colors and size to please all tastes. Perhaps the pick of the bunch is "Flash," who looks like a race horse, and is as fast as his name.

Every one of the ponies is worth well above $100, and with each goes a guarantee of good health and freedom from blemish.

If the boys and girls are enthusiastic about the ponies already in Atlanta, they will be wildly excited over the newcomers, it is predicted, for they are believed to be, if anything, a little better than those first purchased.

Pastors to Speak at Hearing on Bible Bill

The hearing on the bill requiring the reading of the Bible in the public schools will be resumed before the Senate Education Committee Tuesday afternoon. Following the hearing the committee probably will agree whether to report favorably or unfavorably to the Senate Wednesday.

Among the speakers will be leading ministers of Atlanta in addition to members of the committee.

HEALTH BOARD PLACE OPEN.

The Fifth Ward delegation of Council is considering a number of applications for the Board of Health's representation from the Fifth. W. H. Hildebrand has resigned because of removal from the ward.

PICTURES THEY FELL IN LOVE WITH.—The surprising romances that followed three paintings, for which Cupid mixed the colors, will be revealed in next Sunday's American.

DETROIT
2 TRAINS DAILY
Lv. 7:12 AM., 5:10 PM.
L&N

½ Boys' Suits ½
PRICE 1/2 PRICE
Closing out entire stock Boys' Wool Suits at ½ price

$5.00 Suits ....$2.50 | $ 7.50 Suits $3.75
$6.00 Suits ....$3.00 | $ 8.50 Suits $4.25
$6.50 Suits ....$3.25 | $10.00 Suits $5.00
$12.00 Suits $6.00

Parents' you should take this opportunity to save money
J. M. High Co. Boys' Dep't.

6 Spools J. & P. Coats' Spool Cotton for - 25c

J. M. High Co.
Atlanta's Best Store—the Store for the Masses

Geatest Dress Sale of the Entire Season
Begins at 8:30 To-morrow---Third Floor

Choice of over 800 white and colored voile, ratine, linen and novelty eponge dresses; $7.50, $10 and $12.50 values, $3.95

Every Dress a Perfect Beauty
They Far Surpass any Descriptions We Could Give See Some of the Styles in Our Windows

Most of these wonderful dresses have just been shipped in by our Ready-to-Wear Buyer and we don't see how he could have gotten dresses so beautiful to sell at such a price. However, the manufacturers' season is over for summer goods and they are rushing ahead to fill fall orders. In the lot are 400 sheer white voile dresses, some of them with contrasting color combinations that are very new. Does not your soul long for plenty of these cool, dainty garments this sort of weather? Then, come early and take your choice at $3.95.

Values up to $12.50 at $3.95

Extra Special Bargains All Over the House

100 HASSOCKS. Velvet or Axminster covered; 50c values..... 39c

CURTAIN NETS and Scrims; values 15c and 20c yard 11c

DUTCH WICKER BASKETS. Work Baskets with nickel rims; also some beaded, with porcelain bottoms. Beautiful Tea Trays lined with cretonne and glass. All just imported novelties that make lovely gifts. Priced 39c up.

BEAUTIES. "Blue Bird" sterling silver Rings; sold everywhere at 50c. Our Price 25c

"Blue Bird" Brooches, Hat Pins, Shirt Waist Pins. At 50c and 25c

"Panama Hat Pins," in pairs; just the right length. Two for 50c

White Kid Belts, in all widths and sizes; special At 50c and 25c

Ear Screws, baroque pearl and jet; newest styles. Special at 50c

50c Gold Initial Correspondence Cards; 25 of each in a neat box. Also 50c Gold Initial Paper and Envelopes; reduced to box 25c

BAGS 1-4 OFF. Every leather or beaded Bag in stock, including our newest and latest styles; values $1.50 up—Reduced 1-4

HIGH'S EXTRA HEAVY LONG SILK GLOVES. $1.00 Values, 69c

Acknowledged by every woman who has worn them to be the best Silk Gloves they've ever seen at a cut price on Whitehall Street. White, black and all colors; 16-button gloves. While they last, 69c

Sale of $7.50 Voile Dress Patterns continued in the Embroidery Department. At $3.95

Serpentine Crepe

New fall line has arrived of the celebrated Serpentine Crepes. The loveliest patterns and colors ever before created; many of them are exclusive with us. Come and make selections before they are picked over. Price 18c yard

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.---Atlanta, New York---Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

Final Clearaway
Ratine and Linen Suits
Ideal For Summer Wear---Values up to $22.50

A typical Southern Suit & Skirt Co. Clearance---
This announcement, alone, is enough to crowd the store---
We've made a price, ONE PRICE, that will clear out these Elegant Suits at one stroke to-morrow---
Just 132 suits left---and every suit a little gem of beauty and modish style. Suits that sold to $22.50 on sale to-morrow---
Choice $6.95

Silk Dress Clearance
All Foulards and Messalines---Values to $12.50

A remarkable opportunity to get lovely Messaline or Foulard Silk Dresses, very latest styles, beautifully trimmed, that sold up to $12.50, in an extraordinary final clearance to-morrow---
Choice $3.95

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.
"Atlanta's Exclusive Women's Apparel Store"---43-45 Whitehall Street

CAMERA BARGAINS

Here's your chance. We have about twenty-five slightly shop-worn and second-hand cameras and kodaks at greatly reduced prices. Some rare bargains. All in splendid condition. Don't wait a minute. See them in our window to-day.

A. K. HAWKES CO.
KODAK DEP'T.
14 WHITEHALL

Every Woman is interested and should know about the wonderful Marvel Whirling Spray Douche
Ask your druggist for it. If he cannot supply the MARVEL, accept no other, but send stamp for book.
Marvel Co., 44 E. 23d St., N.Y.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours,

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly; Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers

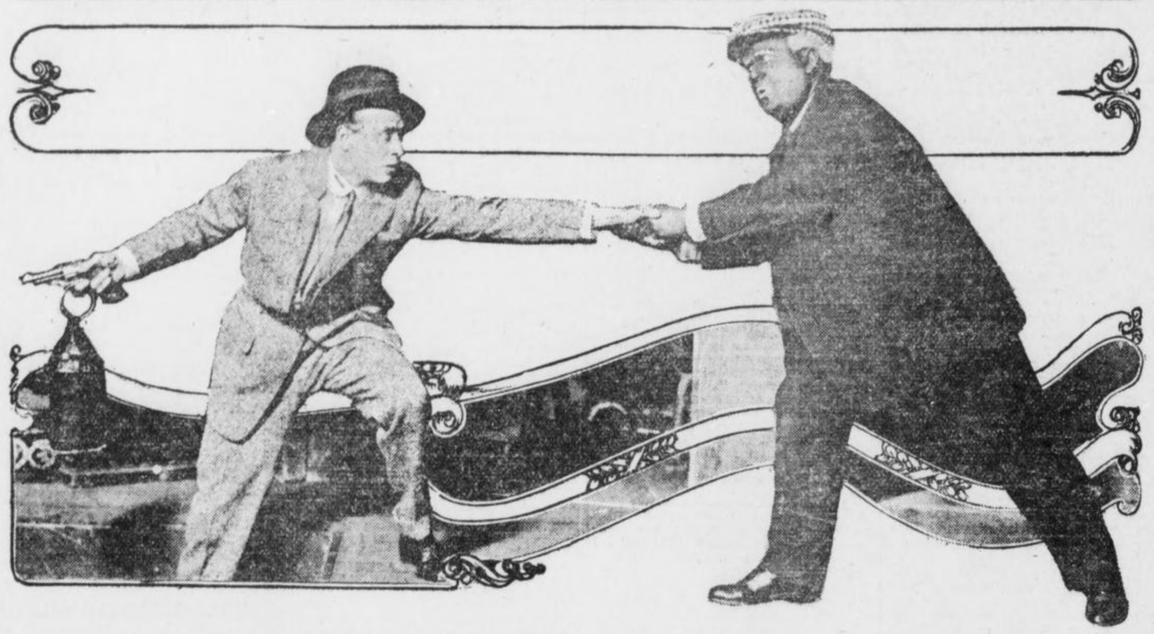
SHELTON, S. C.

E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

The GHOST BREAKER

By C. W. GODDARD and PAUL DICKEY

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.

Write for illustrated catalogue.—B. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, hats, gloves, little necessities and more follies, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life, for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible and best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters, always a help, pearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

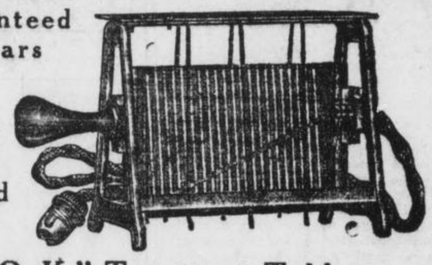
S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years

$1.95 Postpaid



"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

$1.95 Postpaid 3-Year Guarantee

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.

Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.

326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa ,I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed thit I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

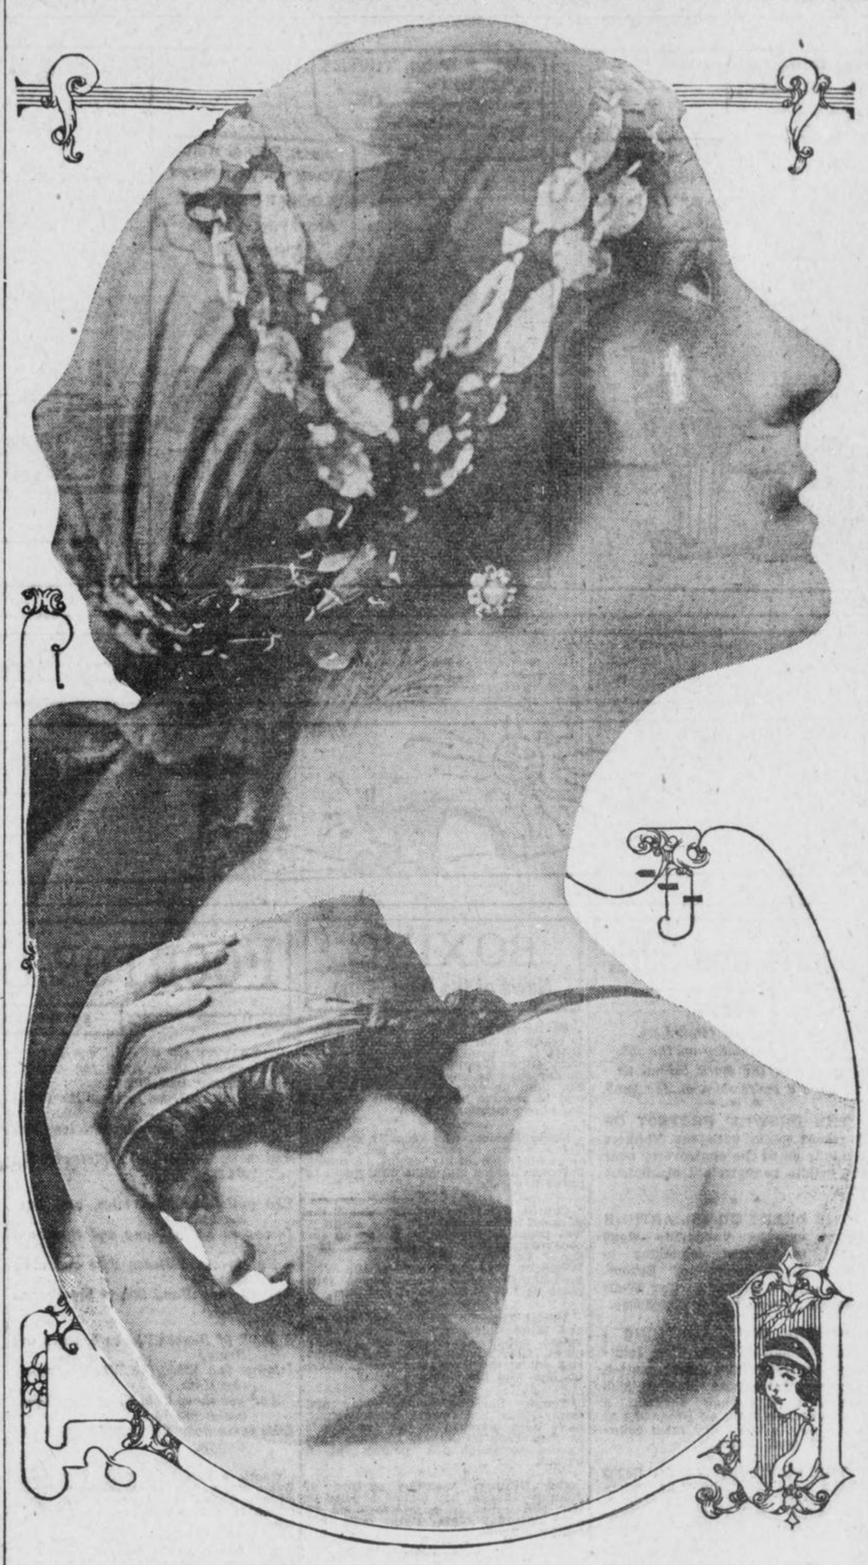
Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.



Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work.

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert, "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.
Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science, Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.
MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.
References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.
Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.
The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.
JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented Girls

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 36,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it: and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.

The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2042

PITCHER PRICE SENT HOME BY MANAGER SMITH

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN, July 22.—Two things happened to Gilbert Price yesterday in this town. The Turtles got to him in the second inning of the ball game and hammered him fiercely to the bench. Then after the game, Manager Smith told the pitcher to pack his duds and get aboard a train for Atlanta.

The reason for the move is not known, but it must be a pretty sound one, or Billy Smith never would have dispensed with the services of one of his regular slabmen with two tough series left to play after the Crackers are done with the Turtles.

* * *

JOE CONZELMAN went in after the game was hopelesly lost, as it turned out, and showed his usual class against the Turtles, stopping the scoring handily. He held them so close that had it not been for the air-tight work of Rube Kissinger, who was having one of his good days, the Smithies might have overcome the handicap and won out even at that stage.

But Kissinger was mighty good. At that, the boys were hitting the ball right on the nose, only luck would direct it straight at some Memphis fielder. That is all in the breaks, however, and some time, when the breaks are our way, the other pitcher is going to pay for all of it.

The Turtles are going fine just now and are playing the kind of scrappy baseball that earns a fair share of the breaks.

* * *

WALLY SMITH still is in the grasp of one of the worst hitting slumps he ever has had, and we are missing his long wallops greatly. When he starts hitting again—and he is bound to do that—he is going to help the club out a lot.

Dent and Dunn are scheduled to work in the game to-day.

BAN WILL NOT RECOGNIZE COMPLAINT OF F. CHANCE

CHICAGO, July 22.—No official action will be taken by the American League in connection with Frank Chance's complaint charging the Chicago Americans with misrepresenting the physical condition of Zeider and the playing ability of Borton, for whom Chance traded Hal Chase. Ban Johnson so announced yesterday.

"It will be impossible to take action compensating New York for alleged loss," said Johnson, "for the reason that Chance wanted Zeider more than any other man. He had his choice of at least six Chicago players and picked Zeider and Borton."

CRACKED THUMB WILL KEEP WOOD OUT SEVERAL WEEKS

BOSTON, July 22.—Joe Wood, star pitcher of the Boston Americans, will be out of the game for several weeks. Examination of his injured right thumb under the X-ray to-day showed that there was a crack in the end of the big bone, and the indications are now that a piece of the bone has been chipped off.

Unusual care is being taken in the treatment of the injury to guard against stiffness in the joint, which would put an end to Wood's career.

MADE 103 CONSECUTIVE BULL'S-EYES AT 300 YARDS

WAKEFIELD, MASS., July 22.—All records for consecutive bull's-eyes at 800 yards were broken here in the ninth annual meeting of the New England Military Riflemen's Association when Captain Stuart W. Wise, of the Bay State team, made 103 perfect shots.

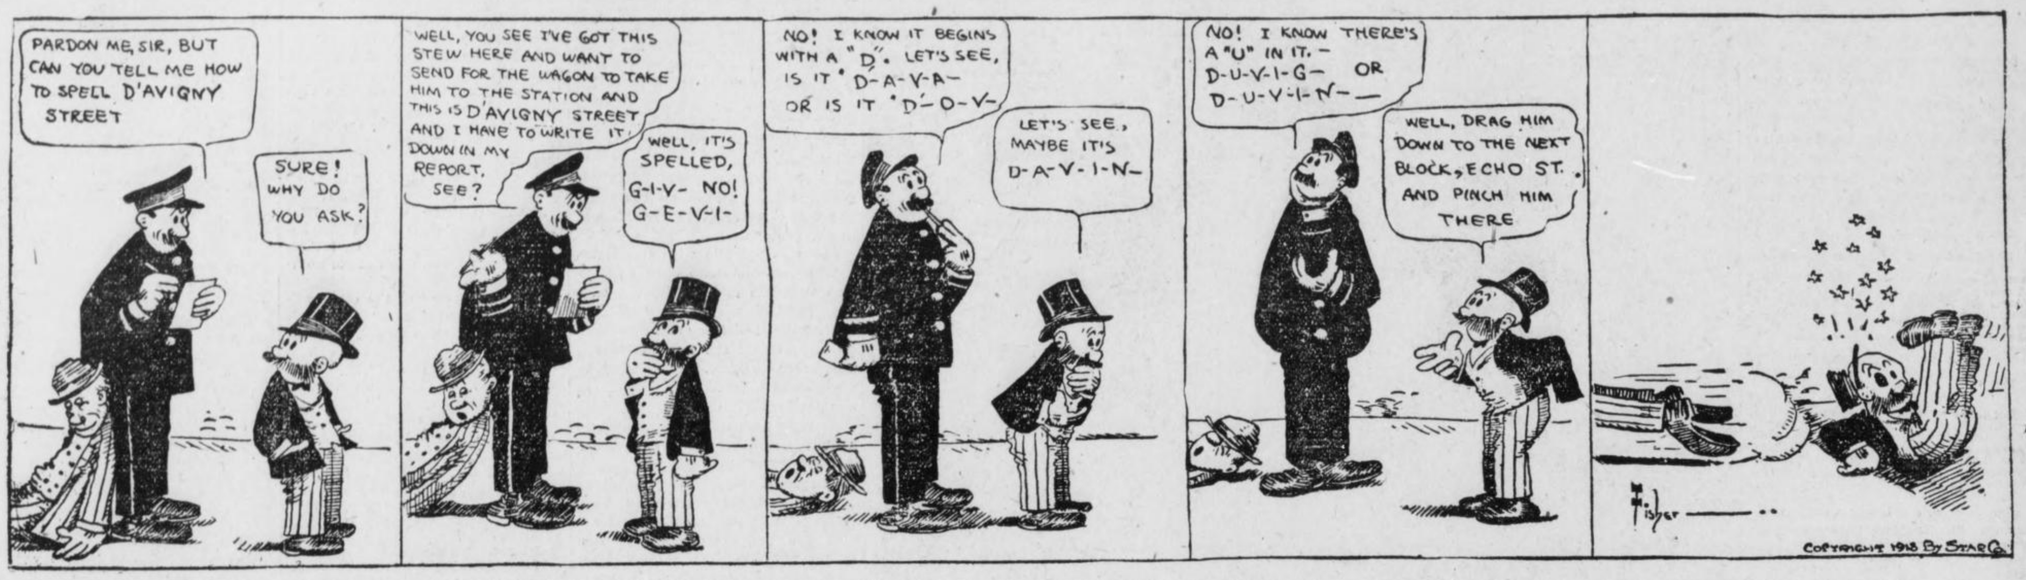
The previous record for consecutive bull's-eyes at 800 yards was made by J. W. Hessian, of New York, at Seagirt last year.

FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great
LES MISERABLES
Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Jeff May Be Short on Spelling, but He's Long on Strategy :: :: By "Bud" Fisher



KRAZY KAT :: :: :: :: :: :: :: Krazy Steals Ignatz's Stuff

Atlanta Wins Leifield Argument

Herrmann and Murphy Disagree

By O. B. Keeler.

COMES now the august Augustus Herrmann, of the Supreme Court of baseball, and hands down an opinion in the Leifield controversy decidedly favorable to our Major Frank E. Callaway. By the same token, the same opinion may be construed as somewhat of a reproof to our amiable little friend C. Webb Murphy, of the Cubs.

The idea is dual. It is granted (1) that if Mr. Lefty Leifield doesn't choose to play ball for Atlanta, Atlanta doesn't have to argue the question with Mr. Leifield, and (2) that if Mr. Leifield isn't going to play ball for Atlanta, Atlanta doesn't have to pay Mr. Murphy for Mr. Leifield.

Which does look fair enough.

And, anyway, that's the view the Hon. Herrmann takes of the case in a letter to Mr. Murphy, a copy of which was received by Major Callaway yesterday.

Incidentally, the Hon. Herrmann's opinion is of considerable weight in balancing the little problems of baseball.

* * *

HERE is a chronological sketch of the incidents:

Rather less than two weeks ago, Mr. Murphy and Major Callaway were dickering about Leifield, who (Mr. Murphy fancied) would be just the cog to round out a pennant racing machine in this town.

Mr. Murphy also fancied Mr. Leifield's value as a cog would be about $3,500.

Major Callaway revised that estimate downward somewhat and made the Cub owner an offer, conditional upon Leifield's willingness to play with Atlanta at a stipulated salary.

There was the rub.

Mr. Murphy accepted the offer, "with all conditions," and wired that he had ordered Leifield to report. Then he added a message that an explanatory letter was on the way.

The explanatory letter explained that Mr. Leifield was balking; had balked, in fact, all the way to St. Louis, where he lived and where he proposed to remain.

In fine, it appeared that if Mr. Leifield was to play in the Southern League, that institution would have to be moved over to St. Louis.

Mr. Murphy suggested that Major Callaway write to the Missouri Balkan and try to reason with him.

Major Callaway suggested that he had other things to do.

Further, he suggested that the deal was entirely off.

That suggestion extracted from Mr. Murphy a flat-footed declaration that the deal couldn't be called off in that manner. He countered with a promise to tell the National Commission on Major Callaway.

The Major promptly replied that the deal already was off, and therefore not subject to further calling. If Mr. Murphy cared to consult the commission, he had Major Callaway's full permission—even his earnest request—to do so.

It seems Mr. Murphy did.

And it also seems (from the Hon. Herrmann's letter) that he did not get very far with it.

* * *

THAT "optional agreement" thing is all very fine, in its way. But it does have a certain effect on the lucrative sales Southern League clubs have been accustomed to count on for star players developed during the season.

There is the crack battery of Prough and Mayer, of the Barons. The pitcher is slated for sale, and should yield a good price. But the receiving end was placed on an optional agreement by the White Sox, and it is pretty well assured that Callahan will yank him in when the yanking season opens.

Of the Crackers, Conzelman and Long are the property of big league clubs.

In the matter of outright sales, the Lookouts probably will get the big slice of the circuit in disposing of Coveleskie and Street.

* * *

DON'T blame Cholly Frank for gravitating swiftly toward cynicism, pessimism, fatalism, and any other isms that convey the idea of bursting bubbles and lost illusions.

Here's just a sample of the wretched Dutchman's luck this year.

Cholly swapped Snedecor to Montgomery for Kutina and Bagby, and when he made the Billiken management go through with the deal, it was generally regarded as a regular David Harum coup.

But Kutina refused to report, and now Bagby is out of the game with a broken wrist, while Snedecor is playing great ball for the Billies.

Don't blame Cholly, then.

ENTRIES AT TERRE HAUTE.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 22.—Harness racing began here to-day with a field of good horses. The number of entries is unexpectedly large. In a number of events the purses are $1,000. Many of the 3-year-olds entered in this year's entries will make their first start at this meeting.

WOOD, HUNTER AND PHELPS LOW IN WESTERN TOURNEY

FLOSSMOOR CLUB, CHICAGO, July 22.—Three local players tied at 18 holes in the eliminating round of the fourteenth annual championship of the Western Golf Association this morning.

Warren K. Wood, of Homewood; Paul Hunter, of Midlothian, and Mason Phelps, another Midlothian player, were the players who led the 134 starters this morning. Warren Wood, as well as Paul Hunter, made the first nine in 37 and the last nine in 40, while Phelps negotiated the first nine holes in 39 strokes and the last nine in 38.

Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater, the present title holder, had the next best score, with a 78. He took 40 strokes for the first nine holes and 38 for the last half.

OMAHA RELEASES ARBOGAST.

OMAHA, NEBR., July 22.—President W. R. Rourke, of the Omaha Western League club, has announced the release of Charles Arbogast, who has been manager of the Omaha team for the last two seasons. Rourke will manage the team himself. Arbogast goes to the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast League.

JORDAN AGAIN TAKES LEAD IN VOTE CONTEST

Valdosta Manager Passes Manchester In Hot Popularity Race; Murphy Is Third.

OTTO JORDAN, the Valdosta manager, is again leading the Hearst Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian's contest to decide the most popular player in the Empire State League. After holding either second or third place for about a week, Jordan received a large bunch of votes yesterday and is now topping Dick Manchester, of Brunswick, by a few votes.

The spurt made by Jordan has brought glee to his many admirers. For a time it seemed as if Otto was doomed to drop in the contest, as both Murphy and Manchester were setting a terrific pace for the leadership.

Jordan Fans Hit Stride.

Apparently the Jordan fans have hit their stride once more and his opponents will have to hustle to catch him. The race between Jordan, Manchester, Murphy and Holliday is a dandy and without a doubt the closest ever staged in any league.

Holliday has taken a slump lately and unless he takes a spurt he may be left at the post by his three rivals.

H. Champlin, of Thomasville, is now coming to the front rapidly and the Baseball Popularity Editor is looking for him to oust one of the "Big Four" before the week is over. He is right now on the heels of Holliday.

Others In Race.

Baby Wilder, Mutts Gray, W. Walker, Dudley, H. Griffin and Franks are other Empire State League favorites who should be heard of before the contest is over.

If you are a real fan and want to help The Hearst Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian discover who is the most popular player in the Empire State League, the chance is yours.

Get Busy.

Every day a coupon appears in this paper. Just clip them out, fill them in, and mail them to the Baseball Popularity Editor, Atlanta Georgian, Atlanta, Ga.

INTERSTATE BALL LEAGUE GOES TO SMASH AGAIN

ERIE, PA., July 22.—The reorganized Interstate League season came to an unexpected ending here, with the Erie team a second pennant-winner, finishing the abbreviated schedule with a percentage of 1.000. The four-club circuit, composed of Youngstown, Akron, Wheeling and Erie, proved a losing proposition.

TORONTO GETS ALMEIDA; NASHVILLE WANTED HIM

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—Almeida, the Cuban player who has been with the Cincinnati National League club for some time, has been released to the Toronto team of the International League.

Nashville, of the Southern League, was also after the Cuban.

Sports and Such

J. STAHL.

Lives of managers remind us
That we must stay on the job.
Counting on the work behind us
Means a swift slam on the knob.

* * *

THE BROWNS' PROTEST OF a recent game with the Yankees reminds us of the controversy over the "white heavyweight championship."

* * *

THE DEBUT OR MR. ARTHUR Pelky on the vaudeville stage ought to suggest something to young Mr. Mahoney, of Europe. "The Only Man Bombardier Wells Can Lick" would pack the house.

* * *

"THERE ISN'T ANYTHING I can do about it," says Ban Johnson, regarding the Stahl matter, as he speeds across Ohio. Which shows the difference between a man's conversation on Broadway at night and in the dairy farm country the next morning.

* * *

THE FURTHER WE GO INTO it the more the "ethics" of organized baseball resemble the code of the police graft ring. Mr. Comiskey says of the recent goldbricking of the New York club in the Chase deal that "they ought to take their medicine gracefully." In other words, no matter what is handed to you, don't squeal, for the good of the game.

* * *

THIS GIVES RISE TO THE question as to whether Horace Fogel was kicked out of big league baseball for saying the umpiring was crooked when it wasn't or for making public the fact that it was.

* * *

SIR THOMAS LIPTON CA- bles that "negotiations" anent his challenge for the America's Cup are still proceeding. As negotiators, the New York Yacht Club numbers the best yachtsmen in the world.

* * *

"I EXPECT THE ATHLETICS to win barely half of their remaining games," says Clark Griffith, of the Senators. A modest little expectation and one certain of complete realization.

* * *

JOE RIVERS SAYS THAT HE is going to post $5,000 as a forfeit and offer a side bet for a return match with Champion Ritchie, but will stipulate that the weight must be 133 pounds at the ringside. This is an excellent way of showing that he is not afraid of Ritchie and at the same time cutting off any possibility of a fight with him.

* * *

"I INSIST THAT I DID NOT resign. I was fired," declares Jake Stahl. All right—but why boast about it?

* * *

MR. EBBETS WAS NOT TALK- ing loosely when he said that the high cost of baseball was increasing. If he has many more "openings" and "dedications" we should think it would be well-nigh prohibitive.

* * *

BILLY GIBSON THINKS THAT Cross-Ritchie would draw $35,000 in New York, and he says that he is certain Richie will box for him because they are old friends. It only shows what sacrifices even a champion is compelled to make in the name of friendship.

BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion.
WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF?
At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request.
THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

BOXING
News of the Ring Game

Spider Britt, the local bantamweight, is ready to don the padded mitts again. Britt is particularly anxious to get on with either Charlie Lee or Kid Young. Spider says he never felt better in his life than he does at the present time and is positive he can defeat either of the above mentioned boys.

* * *

Eddie Hanlon, who recently defeated Terry Nelson, is anxious to get on with some other boy of his weight. A match between Hanlon and Mike Saul ought to prove a corker.

* * *

Charlie White, pound for pound the greatest little battler in this country, will probably be seen in action on the coast some time this fall. Tom McCarey has been thinking of putting White on with the winner of the Welgast-Dundee bout, scheduled to take place at Los Angeles next month.

* * *

Mariel Thomas, French welterweight, and Mike Glover will clash in a ten-round set-to at Boston on Tuesday night. Glover has made a good impression among the "Beantown" fans, where he has won his last five fights.

* * *

Tommy Buck, of Philadelphia, and Patsy Kline, the Newark featherweight, have been matched to box ten rounds at New York on August 1. They have agreed to weigh 122 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Cal Delaney, sparring partner of Johnny Kilbane, has signed articles to box Kid Julien in a twelve-round go next Saturday night. Both boys are featherweights.

* * *

Bob McAllister has finally decided to take a crack at the twenty-round game. The Western middleweight has agreed to take on Ed Petroskey before Jim Coffroth's club at Frisco some time next month.

* * *

Jake Abel has departed for his home in Chattanooga. Before he left Jake stated that Charlie White was without a doubt the heaviest puncher he has ever met. Yes, several other boys hold the same opinion as Abel. For reference apply to Joe Thomas.

* * *

Although Charlie Lee was given the verdict over Kid Young on a foul last week, there are many of the opinion that Young can take the measure of the tall featherweight if he would only get into condition. Young has promised to train as he never has before if given another chance at his conqueror.

* * *

Danny Morgan, the talkative manager, is still keeping his press agent busy trying to force Willie Ritchie into a match. Britton is one boxer who is entitled to a chance at the title.

* * *

Carl Morris, the Sapulpa heavyweight, is to battle Al Benedict, of Hoboken, N. J., in a 15-round encounter at Joplin, Mo., Friday night.

* * *

Lest we forget, Meyer Pries wishes us to announce that he is still alive. Meyer is yearning for a return engagement with Spider Britt. Pries is certainly one game youngster.

"ZEIDER SICK, IS BETTER THAN CHASE."—CHANCE

CLEVELAND, July 22.—Frank Chance, manager of the Yankees, in speaking of the Zeider-Chase deal, slips the following knock to Chase.

"We're perfectly satisfied with this deal. I wouldn't give Zeider when right for three Chases. I think he's a better man than Chase at his best. And Zeider in a hospital is of more value to the New York club than Hal Chase would be to-day.

"There's no chance in the world for us to ask that the trade by which we gave Chase for Zeider and Borton be canceled. We don't want the deal canceled, but we are asking that the Chicago club be required to pay the salary of Zeider and to pay his doctor's bills until such time as he is able to play."

"THE OLD RELIABLE"
PLANTEN'S C & C OR BLACK CAPSULES
REMEDY FOR MEN
AT DRUGGISTS OR TRIAL BOX BY MAIL 50c FROM PLANTEN 93 HENRY ST. BROOKLYN, N.Y.
—BEWARE OF IMITATIONS—

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

RUBAIYAT OF FRANK CHANCE.

Some spend their Kale for Golden Bricks, and Some
Buy Goods of Green to show the Folks back Hum,
While others purchase Athletes from the Sox
And wake to find said Athletes on the Bum.

The guileless Yokel bites, and having bit,
Discovers he is Stung and throws a Fit.
He throws a Dozen Fits and even more,
But all they Hand him is the Frozen Mitt.

A Book of Baseball lurks beneath my Brow;
I know the Why, the Wherefore and the How,
And yet those Gold Brick Merchants make me feel Like some poor Yokel underneath the Bough.

Quoth a tale from Boston: "Johnny Evers was in bad humor to-day." When Johnny Evers is discovered in good humor it will be time to get out an extra.

One lesson to be learned from the Stahl case is that solid ivory is not confined entirely to the playing end of the game.

The double play is one of the most thrilling features of baseball, but there is nothing particularly thrilling about the double cross.

It is true that there is no gambling at Mineral Springs. Neither is he a gambler who plies his trade with three shells and an elusive little pea.

THE SILHOUETTE.

Little Miss Muffet
Sat on a tuffet;
She was afraid to arise.
"The skirt that I wear
Is as flimsy as air,
And the men have such curious eyes!"

J. STAHL.

Lives of managers remind us
We are heroes while we shine,
But departing, feel behind us
Footprints planted on our spine.

IDOLS.

In days of old,
When foes grew bold
And slammed the ball about,
The crowd would rise
And rend the skies
Till Walsh came strolling out.

No more they rise
To rend the skies
When Edward makes his bow.
They pass him by
With frigid eye
And yell for Russell now.

The idols rear,
The lowbrows cheer,
And then the downfall comes.
The gents who play
Like stars to-day
To-morrow may be bums.

SPEAKING OF CHASE.

Who stung Frank Chance?
"I," said J. Cal.
"I copped his Hal—
I stung Frank Chance."

Who saw him stung?
"I," said Frank Farrell.
"I lost a barrel—
I saw him stung."

Who'll fix it up?
"I," said Big Ban;
"If any one can,
I'll fix it up."

There was no deception used in the Chase trade. Each was trying to trim the other and naturally one of them lost.

Carl Morris announces that he is heavyweight champion of the South, but we have not heard the South boasting about it.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

If there were no Fords, automobiling would be like yachting---the sport of rich men. But by centering his effort upon the production of one good car, Henry Ford has brought the price down within reason---and the easy reach of the many.

Here's the test: 300,000 Fords now in service. Runabout $525; Touring Car $600; Town Car $800—f. o. b. Detroit, with all equipment. Get catalogue and all particulars from Ford Motor Company, 311 Peachtree St., Atlanta.

Motor Races
To-night 8:15
MOTORDROME

CRACKERS WIN SECOND GAME; SCORE, 4 TO 0

THE BOX SCORE.

Score by innings:

			R.	H.	E.
ATLANTA	301	000 000—	4	7	0
MEMPHIS	000	000 000—	0	3	0

CRACKERS—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Agler, 1b.	1	0	12	0	0
Bisland, ss.	0	1	2	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	0	0	1	2	0
Smith, 3b.	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	0	1	4	0	0
Dent, p.	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	4	7	27	10	0

TURTLES—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Love, 2b.	0	2	2	3	0
Butler, ss.	0	0	3	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	0	0	11	0	0
Shanley, cf.	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	0	0	7	2	0
Leibhardt, p.	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	0	3	27	13	0

SUMMARY.

Two-base hit—Smith. Three-base hit—Welchonce. Struck out—by Leibhardt 6; by Dent 2. Bases on balls—off Leibhardt 4; off Dent 0. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Love. Hit by pitched ball—Welchonce. Umpires, Rudderham and Hart.

RED ELM PARK, MEMPHIS, TENN., July 22.—The Crackers came back this afternoon and triumphed over the Turtles 4 to 0 in the second game of the series.

Dent, on the mound for the visitors, was master of the situation at all times. On the other hand Billy Smith's men landed on Leibhardt for three runs in the opening inning.

FIRST INNING.

Agler was walked. Bisland bunted in front of the plate and was out, Seabough to Abstein, Agler going to second. Welchonce singled past short and Agler went to third. Long singled past third, scoring Agler and Welchonce took second. Alperman flied to Baerwald. Smith doubled to right, scoring Welchonce and Long. Smith went to third on the throw-in. Bailey went out to Abstein unassisted. THRE HITS, THREE RUNS.

Love lined to Agler. Butler went out to Agler unassisted. Baerwald grounded out, Alperman to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Dunn flied to Shanley. Dent fanned. Agler walked and was out stealing, Seabough to Love. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward popped to Dunn. Schweitzer out, Bisland to Agler. Abstein grounded to third and was out, Smith to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Bisland grounded out, Butler to Abstein. Welchonce tripled to right. Long flied to Schweitzer, Welchonce scored after the catch. Alperman out, Butler to Abstein. ONE HIT, ONE RUN.

Shanley grounded out, Bisland to Agler. Seabough went out the same way. Leibhardt out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

Smith fanned. Bailey grounded out, Love to Abstein. Dunn lined to Butler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love singled to center. Butler flied out to Welchonce. Baerwald also lifted a high fly to Welchonce. Ward singled to left. Love went to second. Schweitzer fanned. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Dent flied to Shanley. Agler walked. Agler started for second, and when Abstein threw wild, took third. Bisland grounded to Butler who threw Agler out at the plate. Bisland took second on the play. Welchonce hit by pitched ball. Long grounded to Love and Welchonce was out at second, Love to Butler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Abstein fanned. Shanley flied to Bailey. Seabough flied to Bailey. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Alperman grounded out, Butler to Abstein. Smith singled to center. Bailey lined to Butler. Dunn singled to center, Smith went to third. Dent out, Ward to Abstein. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Leibhardt flied to Long. Love flied to Welchonce. Butler grounded out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

Agler grounded out, Love to Abstein. Bisland singled to left. Welchonce fanned. Long walked. Alperman grounded to Butler, forcing Long at second to Love. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

Baerwald popped to Dunn. Ward grounded out, Smith to Agler. Schweitzer grounded out, Alperman to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.

Smith fanned. Bailey grounded out, Love to Abstein. Dunn fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Abstein out, Smith to Agler. Shanley popped to Bisland. Seabough popped to Bisland. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

NINTH INNING.

Dent out, Liebhardt to Abstein. Agler fanned. Bisland out, Love to Abstein. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Mirritt batting for Liebhardt, flied to Welchonce. Love singled to left and stole second. Butler flied to Bailey. Baerwald lined to Bisland. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

Look Out For Poison Ivy

Strolling through the woods or clearing brush, picnickers, hunters, fishermen—look out for poison ivy. And in the meantime keep your blood pure by using S. S. S. If your skin is rough with eczema, pimples or any other eruption, S. S. S. stimulates the fine network of blood vessels in the skin to dry up and heal all sore spots.

S. S. S. will do this positively. It dominates the principle of osmosis, stimulates the cells of the skin to select their own nutriment from the blood, made pure and healing by the wonderful medicinal ingredients of this famous blood purifier. It is a safe remedy, as it contains no minerals, and yet its action is a marvel.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting any one to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 186 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Those Announcing Megraphones Are Great---at Times

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

Us Boys

Registered United States Patent Office

Van Ought to Get Better After This Visit

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT NEW ORLEANS—

NEW ORLEANS	000	000	000	-	0	1 1
CHATTANOOGA	100	200	100	-	4	7 1

Brenner and Adams; Summers and S treet. Umpires, Kerin and Fifield.

AT MONTGOMERY—

MONTGOMERY	200	100	02X	-	5	7 2
BIRMINGHAM	000	020	020	-	4	6 2

Case and Donahue; Foxen and Mayer. Umpires, Wright and Breitenstein.

AT MOBILE—

MOBILE	100	000	100	-	2	8 3
NASHVILLE	110	000	400	-	6	14 2

Hogg and Schmidt; Williams and Gibson. Umpires, Pfenninger and Stockdale.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CHICAGO	201	002	000	-	5	7 2
PHILADELPHIA	010	100	31X	-	6	8 1

Lavender and Needham; Alexander, Brennan and Killifer and Howley. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

SECOND GAME.

CHICAGO	005	000	100	-	6	10 5
PHILADELPHIA	401	300	00X	-	8	12 2

Humphreys, Richie and Bresnahan and Needham; Rixey, Chalmers and Killifer,. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

AT BROOKLYN—

ST. LOUIS	001	101	000	-	3	6 1
BROOKLYN	000	000	001	-	1	11 3

Sallee and Wingo; Curtis and Mille r. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

FIRST GAME.

AT NEW YORK—

PITTSBURG	000	000	001	-	3	7 3
NEW YORK	000	040	40X	-	8	8 1

Camnitz, Robinson and Simon and Gibson; Demaree and Myers. Umpires, O'Day and Emslie.

SECOND GAME.

PITTSBURG	000	000	010	00 -	1	6 0
NEW YORK	000	000	010	01 -	2	9 1

Adams and Gibson; Mathewson, Fromme and Myers. Umpires, Emslie and O'Day.

FIRST GAME.

AT BOSTON—

CINCINNATI	000	003	001	-	4	9 1
BOSTON	000	300	000	-	3	13 8

Johnson, Ames and Kling; Hess and Rariden. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

SECOND GAME.

CINCINNATI	000	120	000	-	3	5 1
BOSTON	001	000	001	-	2	10 3

Benton and Clark; James and Whal ing. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

DELLA FOX LEFT $10,000.

NEW YORK, July 22.—In her will filed to-day Mrs. Della Fox Levy, known on the stage as Della Fox, left her entire estate, said to amount to between $10,000 and $15,000, to her father, Andrew J. Fox, of St. Louis.

NEW SALVATION OFFICER.

MACON.—Captain William Brown, of Winston-Salem, N. C., has been designated to take charge of the local Salvation Army post, succeeding Ensign Louis Coleman. He and his assistants will arrive the latter part of this week.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CLEVELAND—

BOSTON	012	010	010	-	5	9 1
CLEVELAND	030	120	20X	-	8	13 1

Leonard and Carrigan; Gregg and Carisch. Umpires, Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

AT ST. LOUIS—

PHILADELPHIA	000	000	000	-	0	7 0
ST. LOUIS	110	110	00X	-	4	9 0

Brown and Lapp; Mitchell and Agnew. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

AT CHICAGO—

WASHINGTON	210	101	000	-	5	12 0
CHICAGO	010	010	103	-	6	11 0

Groom and Henry; Russell, Cicotte and Schalk. Umpires, Egan and Dineen.

AT DETROIT—

NEW YORK	000	000	000	-	0	3 3
DETROIT	000	001	10X	-	2	5 1

Ford, Fisher, Gossett and Smith; Dauss and McKee. Umpires, Connelly and Ferguson.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Durham	000	101	000—2	7	3
Charlotte	030	000	10x—4	8	2

Meadows and Lowe; High and Neidercorn. Umpire, Segnan.

AMERICAN ASSN ...

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Raleigh	010	000	000—1	5	1
Winston-Slem.	000	002	00x—2	10	0

Yon and Lidgate; Harding and Smith. Umpire, Miller.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Asheville	021	001	001—5	10	1
Grensboro	100	000	000—1	8	1

Betsill and Milliman; McKeith and Lafitte. Umpire, McBride.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Roanoke	005	000	000—5	11	4
Norfolk	102	300	00x—6	11	2

Gardin, Efird and Leibs; Weeder and Stewart. Umpires, Kelley and Cross.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Portsmouth	000	000	000—0	3	0
Newport News	010	000	00x—1	4	0

Howell and Holloman; Barton and Matthews. Umpire, Norcum.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Richmond	030	000	000—3	4	2
Petersburg	013	000	00x—4	3	1

Strain, Ayers and Rogers; Hadgpeth nd Brennegan. Umpire, Clark.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Columbus	000	000	002—2	7	2
St. Paul	200	400	01x—7	9	0

Davis and Smith; Gardner and James. Umpires, Murray and Connolly.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	000	000	000—0	4	7
Kansas City	100	050	00x—6	12	0

Kaiserling, Harrington and Covington; Moore, Handloe and Johnstone. Umpire, Harrington.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Toledo	000	000	000—	0	7 3
Milwaukee	140	002	05x—12	12	3

Baskett, Schlitzer and Land; Dougherty and Hughes. Umpires, Chill and Irwin.

Louisville-Minneapolis, rain.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Jersey City	000	000	000—0	6	1
Montreal	000	100	0dx—4	10	0

Thompson, Oakley and Bla'; McGrayner and Madden. Umpires, Wallin and Okens.

SECOND GAME.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Jersey City	010	000	032—6	11	1
Montreal	050	110	02x—9	11	2

Brandon and Wilies; Smith and Burns. Umpires, Nallin and Owens.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Providence	101	000	011—4	11	1
Rochester	000	000	010—1	10	3

Lafitte and Onslow; Keefe and aJcklitch. Umpires, Mullen and Kelly.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	000	010	000—1	7	1
Toronto	000	003	02x—5	10	1

Taff and Egan; Maxwell and Bemis. Umpires, Hart and Finneran.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Newark	000	300	110—5	10	2
Buffalo	001	000	000—1	8	1

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Gadsden	010	000	01x—2	8	1
Talladego	000	000	100—1	2	0

King and Jorda; Holliday and Richards. Umpire, White.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Opelika	000	010	000—1	3	3
Newnan	000	112	00x—4	10	0

Lovett and Rice; Ery, Williams and Bine.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
LaGrange	200	110	610—11	16	0
Anniston	300	000	001— 4	9	4

Head, Bannister and Billingsley; Glazener, Young, Proctor and Shepperd.

DODGERS PURCHASE SCHMUTZ.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Officers of the Brooklyn baseball club to-day announced the purchase of Pitcher Schmutz from the Vancouver club of the Northwestern League. He will report in September.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

These standings do not include games played Tuesday.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont	54	40	.574	Chat.	47	44	.516
Mobile	56	42	.571	M'mphis	46	52	.469
Atlanta	49	40	.551	Nash	40	52	.435
B'ham	47	42	.528	N. Or.	31	58	.348

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Col'bus	14	7	.667	Albany	10	12	.455
S'v'nah	13	9	.571	Ch'ston	10	13	.435
J'ville	11	10	.524	Macon	8	14	.364

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N. Y.	58	26	.690	Br'klyn	38	42	.475
Phila	48	32	.600	Boston	36	47	.434
P'burg	44	40	.524	St. L.	34	53	.391
Ch'go	45	41	.523	C'nati	33	55	.375

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	26	.708	Boston	42	44	.488
C'land.	53	37	.588	Detroit	38	57	.400
W'ton.	51	38	.573	St Louis	37	58	.389
Ch'go.	50	44	.532	N. Y.	28	58	.329

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
G'dele	11	8	.579	Am'cus.	10	10	.500
B'wick	10	8	.556	T'ville.	9	10	.474
V'dosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	11	.387

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
G'den.	37	30	.552	L'Gr'ge.	33	33	.500
Newnan	35	31	.530	T'dega.	31	37	.456
Opelika	34	33	.507	An'iston	31	37	.456

COTTON STATES.

FIRST GAME.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Jackson	100	000	000—1	4	1
Selma	010	000	001—2	5	0

Williams and Robertson; Clapp and Guiterez. Umpire, Williams.

LANGFORD-MILLER GO OFF; NEGRO MAY BE BARRED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Sam Langford has been stamped an undesirable in this city, so far as ring engagements are concerned. The board of supervisors have notified Promoter J. T. Mitchell, of the National A. C., who planned to stage a four-round bout between Charlie Miller and Langford here Friday, that the colored heavyweight would not be permitted to enter the ring.

This action was taken under a ruling of the Police Commission, in charge of boxing contests, that fighters whose names appear on the professional "list" can not take part in the "amateur" four-round bouts. Langford's name appears on the Police Commission's "professional list." It was not made clear whether Sam might box in longer contests, though it is taken he has been barred from all bouts.

DROPSY TREATED. Quick relief. soon removed, often entire relief in 10 to 20 days. Trial treatment sent FREE. Write Dr. H. H. Greens Sons, Box O, Atlanta, Ga.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

AT ALBANY—

ALBANY	003	010	01X	-	5	11 0
JACKSONVILLE	000	000	000	-	0	9 0

Morrow and Wells; Lindsay and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

FIRST GAME.

AT CHARLESTON—

CHARLESTON	000	000	001	-	1	4 1
COLUMBUS	000	000	004	-	4	7 1

Eldridge and Bitting; Weidell and Thompson. Umpire, Barr.

SECOND GAME.

CHARLESTON	000	000	0..	-	0	3 3
COLUMBUS	010	053	0..	-	9	12 0

Weidell and Thompson; Stackhouse and Bittina. Umpire, Barr.

Savannah-Macon, wet grounds.

FEDERAL.

FIRST GAME.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	000	000	020—2	5	4
Cleveland	023	400	00x—9	12	2

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	210	120	000—6	10	3
Indianapolis	111	120	01x—7	12	2

Phillipe and Murray; Cates and Massing. Umpires, Conklin and Flaherty.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	060	003	013—13	19	2
Chicago	000	020	030— 5	10	4

Fiske and McDonaid; King and O'Neil. Umpire, Wilson.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

AT CORDELE—

CORDELE	000	000	011	-	2	6 1
WAYCROSS	001	000	000	-	1	6 3

Hall and Eubanks; Clark and Coveney. Umpire, Fillilgen.

AT THOMASVILLE—

THOMASVILLE	000	000	010	000	1 -	2 9 2
AMERICUS	001	000	000	000	0 -	1 3 5

Cheney and Dudley; Werner and Manchester. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Valdosta-Brunswick—Rain.

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE

of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

ECZEMA

And all ailments of the skin, such as tetter, ringworm, ground itch and erysipelas are instantly relieved and permanently cured to stay cured by

TETTERINE

Don't suffer when you can relieve yourself so easily. Read what Mrs. A. B. King, St. Louis, says:

Have been treated by specialist for eczema without success. After using Tetterine a few weeks I am at last cured.

50c at druggists, or by mail.

SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

"THE VICTOR"

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM

Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years' experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. B. WOOLLEY & SON., No. 2-A Victor Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

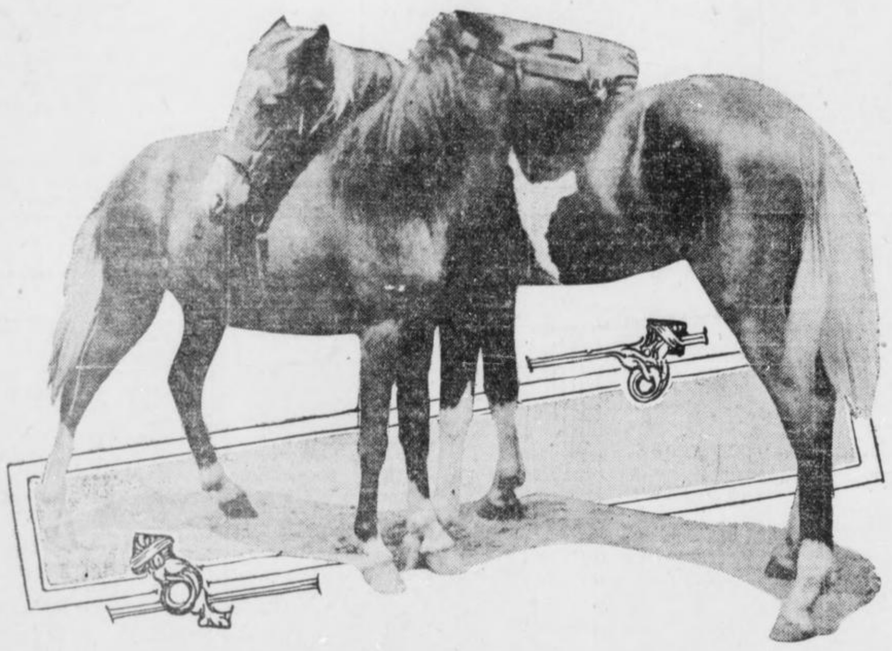
EXCURSIONS

Two great tours East and West; special trains, exclusive ships; all expense paid; best hotels. On August 9 Southern Merchants' Tour (free to merchants) visiting Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee and Lake Michigan. An eight-day expense-paid trip for only $46.75 (ticket good for thirty days), with stop-overs). Special trains on both tours leave Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga and Knoxville. Limited and select party. Special cars for ladies alone. Write to-day for reservation and full particulars. J. F. McFarland, Agt., Box 1624, Atlanta, Ga.

Montreal, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Washington, Baltimore and Savannah, with steamer trips on lakes, river and ocean. An eighteen-day expense-paid trip for only $88.85 (tickets good for thirty days, with stop-overs). Special trains on both tours leave Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga and Knoxville. Limited and select party. Special cars for ladies alone. Write to-day for reservation and full particulars. J. F. McFarland, Agt., Box 1624, Atlanta, Ga.

YOUR LAST CHANCE FOR FREE VOTES

Utilize Every Effort for Subscriptions to Hearst's Sunday American.
Boosters Awake---Subscribe With Red Letter Ballots



Pair of Beauties.

..... CUT HERE .....

RED LETTER BALLOT

GOOD FOR 4,500 VOTES

When accompanied with 2-year prepaid subscription to Hearst's Sunday American.

Votes to be credited to ....
Contestant's Name. Dist. No.

Subscriber's Name .....

Address .....

This ballot will be good until Tuesday night, 10 p. m., July 29. Void after that time, and must be accompanied with cash. No schedule votes allowed on Red Letter Ballots.

Send in to Contest Department

..... CUT HERE .....

Free votes given only on Red Letter Ballot Subscriptions to The Hearst's Sunday American. Regular schedule votes allowed on all other subscriptions until close of contest.

..... CUT HERE .....

RED LETTER BALLOT

GOOD FOR 2,000 VOTES

When accompanied with a one-year prepaid subscription or good for 800 votes when accompanied with a six-months prepaid subscription to The Hearst's Sunday American.

Votes to be credited to ....
Contestant's Name. Dist. No.

Subscriber's Name .....

Address .....

This ballot will be good until Tuesday night, 10 p. m., July 29. Void after that time, and must be accompanied with cash. No schedule votes allowed on Red Letter Ballots.

Send in to Contest Department

..... CUT HERE .....

Off to Play.

Only Nine More Days

until awarding of Ponies to winning candidates. The more extra votes you secure before 12 p. m., Thursday, July 31, the greater your chances of success.

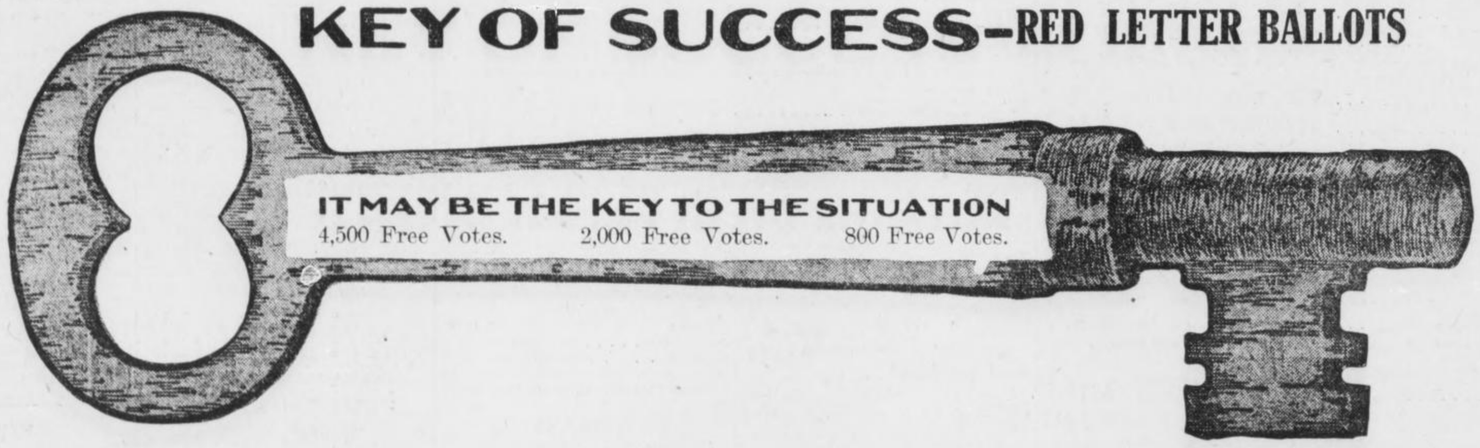
Out-of-Town Candidates

Work hard for Red Letter Ballots, the only means now to secure Extra Votes, and mail them so they reach the Contract Dept. Wednesday, July 30.

No More Free Coupons

The way to secure votes now is by securing prepaid subscriptions from your friends. No more free coupons will be published, but subscriptions may be extended from a short period of time up to two years. Votes will be given on all subscriptions as per vote schedule.

KEY OF SUCCESS—RED LETTER BALLOTS



Will you be among the winners? No one is certain of victory. The lowest candidate to-day may be a leader to-morrow. Only nine more days to claim prize.

Some Contest Pointers

The Hearst's Sunday American and Georgian Pony Contest will close promptly at midnight Thursday, July 31st. It will not be postponed or extended and will close promptly at the advertised time. There will be no more vote offers of any kind—except these Red Letter Ballots. Only nine more days to secure subscriptions.

Don't Let This Opportunity Go By---Turn in Red Letter Ballots Now and Take Your Choice of the 22 Pony Outfits

All the Ponies Will Be On Exhibition at Grant Park Sunday Afternoon, July 27

COTTON DROPS AS LONGS LIQUIDATE

New Crops Heavily Sold on Propitious Weather and Absence of Support.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The cotton market opened fairly active to 4 points higher than the closing quotations of Monday. The steadiness was attributed mainly to firm cables. The fact that dry weather still prevailed over the Central and Western belt also led to supporting orders in the new crop positions. After the call the ring was inclined to sell on reports of further rains in Texas, which relieved the intense heat of the past several days. In many localities the rainfall was heavy. As sentiment is against the market, the selling became rather general, resulting in a rapid decline of 2 to 6 points from the initial level. New crops were the heaviest pressed options. October lost 6 points, while December declined 5 points.

During the late forenoon active buying by the larger spot interests gave the market a steady tone, resulting in prices recovering. Trading was light and the market ruled dull but steady.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: July, 12.20; August, 12.06; October, 11.54; January, 11.41.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: July, 12.34; August, 11.97; October, 11.58; January, 11.57.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Wednesday.	1912.
New Orleans.....	900 to 1,200	601

RANGE IN NEW YORK FUTURES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Jly	12.20	12.22	12.15	12.15	12.15-16	12.16-17
Ag	12.07	12.07	12.00	12.01	12.01-02	12.05-06
Spt	11.79	11.79	11.69	11.69	11.67-69	11.72-74
Oc	11.56	11.57	11.44	11.46	11.45-46	11.52-53
Nv	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.38-40	11.51-53
Dc	11.49	11.50	11.38	11.39	11.39-40	11.46-47
Jn	11.43	11.44	11.32	11.34	11.33-34	11.40-41
Fb	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.34-36	11.41-43
Mh	11.50	11.50	11.41	11.41	11.41-42	11.47-49
My	11.52	11.54	11.42	11.53	11.43-45	11.51-53

Closed steady.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.—This market was due to open unchanged on old crop positions, ½ point lower on October and 1½ points higher on January, but opened quiet but steady, generally 1 point higher. At 12:15 p. m. the market was steady, at a net advance of 2½ to 3 points. Later the market declined ½ point from 12:15 p. m.

Spot cotton in good demand at unchanged prices; middling, 6.72d; sales, 10,000 bales, including 8,700 American bales; imports 15,000, of which 1,000 were American bales.

At the close the market was steady with prices at a net gain of 2½ to 3½ points from the closing quotations of Monday.

Futures opened steady.

	Opening. Range.	2 P.M. Close.	Prev. Close.
July	6.45	6.46½ 6.47	6.43½
July-Aug.	6.44	6.46	6.45½ 6.43
Aug.-Sept	.....	.....	6.39½ 6.36
Sept.-Oct.	6.22½	6.24½ 6.25	6.22
Oct.-Nov.	6.19	.....	6.20½ 6.18
Nov.-Dec.	6.14½	.....	6.16 6.13½
Dec.-Jan.	6.10½	6.15½ 6.15½	6.13
Jan.-Feb.	6.14	6.15½	6.15½ 6.13
Feb.-Mch.	.....	.....	6.17 6.14½
Mch.-Apr.	6.15½	6.18	6.18 6.15½
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.19 6.16½
May-June	.....	.....	6.19½ 6.20 6.17½

Closed steady.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—The weather map presents very favorable conditions; cooler over the entire belt, with a splendid rainfall in the Eastern States, particularly in Georgia, South Carolina and parts of Alabama. Indications are for increasing cloudiness, with prospects of showers in the Central and Western States, while in the Atlantics after to-day the tendency will be for clearing weather.

Liverpool was due 5 points higher, but failed to advance; spots were unchanged; sales, 10,000 bales.

Private advices from Paris, Texas, report good rains in that section. Ballinger, Texas, also reported rain, and at Ardmore, Okla., over one inch July 30.

This market opened lower on the favorable weather map, but there was no pressure to sell, owing to anticipation of a bullish weekly weather report at 11 a. m., and a disposition to advance the market reflected by New York quotations.

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS FUTURES

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Jly	12.37	12.37	11.92	12.01	12.00-01	12.37-40
Ag	11.96	12.01	11.94	11.95	11.94-95	11.99-01
Spt	11.62	11.62	11.62	11.62	11.55-57	11.64-66
Oc	11.56	11.60	11.50	11.50	11.50-51	11.58-60
Nv	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.48-49	11.56-58
Dc	11.54	11.58	11.48	11.48	11.48-49	11.56-57
Jn	11.55	11.60	11.50	11.51	11.50-51	11.56-57
Fb	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.46-49	11.55-58
Mh	11.63	11.68	11.60	11.60	11.59-61	11.67-68
My	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.65-68	.....

Closed steady.

WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.

WASHINGTON, July 22. — Mean temperature ranged from one to six degrees above normal, except on the Texas coast, where there was a deficiency of from one to three degrees. The greatest excess in mean temperature occurred over extreme Southeastern Tennessee and Central Georgia.

Weekly mean temperatures ranged from 76 to 86 degrees over the Eastern, from 82 to 84 over Central and from 82 to 86 degrees over the Western portion of the cotton region. The lowest weekly mean temperature, 76 degrees occurred at Asheville, N. C., and the highest, 86 at Fort Smith, Ark., Fort Worth, Texas, Thomasville, Macon and Augusta, Ga.

Precipitation occurred generally over the Eastern portion of the cotton growing States, over Southern Louisiana, along the coast of Texas and in the Northern and Northeastern portions of Texas, Southern Oklahoma and in a few localities in Arkansas. Elsewhere, there was no rain during the week. The percipitation was unevenly distributed and generally light, the heaviest amounts being reported from the Carolinas. More than two inches occurred in parts of Louisiana, Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas.

The greatest weekly amount, 4.70 inches, occurred at Newbern, N. C.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Money on call, 2½. Time money unchanged; 60 days, 3¾@4; 90 days, 5@5½; six months, 6 per cent.

Posted rates: Sterling exchange, 4.84 @4.87, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8675@4.8680 for demand and 4.8510 for 60-day bills.

Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Petroleum firm; crude Pennsylvania, 2.50.

Turpentine easy, 38½.

Rosin steadier; common, 4.40.

Wool steady; domestic fleece, 23@27; pulled, scoured basis, 33@54;; Texas, scoured basis, 46@53.

Hides uiet; native sters, 17@19½; branded steers, 16 (asked).

Coffee steady; options opened 40; No. 7 Rio spot, 9½@9¾.

Rice steady; domestic, ordinary to prime, 4@5¾.

Molasses teady; New Orleans, open kettle, 35@50.

Sugar, raw, easier; centrifugal, 3.54 (bid); muscovado, 2.72.

COTTON GOSSIP

Trading was light and there was no feature to the opening, except some buying on firm cables. The ring sold early, and on the decline Mitchell and Gwathmey became buyers. Mitchell purchased January freely, while Riordan bought December. The market was steady, but sentiment was against the advance.

* * *

The market during the past several days has been almost featureless. There has been some selling on reported rains in Texas, but a few buying orders start the market on a upward scale. However, should rain come over the Western belt it is believed the market will be sold to a lower level. On the other hand, if the rains should not materialize, a higher market is looked for. Sentiment at the moment is very much mixed.

* * *

In reply to inquiries for opinions most traders are replying that values depend on the weather and legislative developments at Washington.

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas and Oklahoma—generally clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—Hayward & Clark: The map shows splendid weather, part cloudy to fair in the Central and Western States. Cloudy in Alabama and the Atlantics, raining now in Georgia, some showers in Texas. Indications are for increasing cloudiness, showers in Western and Central belt, tendency toward clearing in Atlantics.

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "In the face of lower temperatures, a spreading rain area and a more rapidly increasing early movement than last year, yesterday's cotton market reflected a character of steadiness that surprised both factions. In the adjustment of parities in the New Orlenas ring made a more bullish showing than did New York, but in any event, the contract markets reflected a will of their own, which did not harmonize with the talent's interpretation of the things, 'crop and trade wise.

Over in Texas active ginning operations are now beginning to be reported. Thus far nine new bales have been definitely acounted for. On July 29 last year only twelve new bales had been reported. Much talk has been heard of boll-weevil in Mississippi, but the fact that the farmers in the fertile and highly productive delta country have had very little to say on this subject is significant.

"The Central and Atlantic States have been enjoying just as favorable weather as could be expected, even though a short spell of very high temperature has been reported by some sections. Thus, all in all, the crop seems to be progressing forward a larger return than that of 1912-13 is likely to prove. On the other hand, steamship men estimate that freight room out of the cotton ports thus far engaged to January 1914 does not exceed half a million bales. Of course, this need not mean that only half a million bales have been sold for forward delivery to Europe, but it at least sugests the probability that foreign consumers are awaiting the outcome of the legislative situation at Washington, in hope that prohibitive legislation will shift market control from America to Europe.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Showers will continue to-night in the South Atlantic and East Gulf States and local thundershowers are probable in the upper lake and western lower lake region. Elsewhere east of the Mississippi river fair weather will prevail to-night and Wednesday.

Forecast.

Georgia—Local showers to-night or Wednesday.

Virginia—Fair to-night, slightly warmer in the southwest portion. Wednesday fair.

North and South Carolina, Florida and Alabama—Local showers to-night or Wednesday.

Mississippi—Fair in north, local showers in South portions to-night and Wednesday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Fair to-night and Wednesday; warmer to-night

Louisiana—Fair in north and west showers in southeast portion to-night or Wednesday.

Texas—Fair to-night and Wednesday.

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, nominal; middling 12⅝.
Athens, steady; middling 11⅞.
Macon, steady; middling 12½.
New Orleans, quiet; middling 12 7-16.
New York, quiet; middling 12.40.
Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.65.
Boston, quiet; middling 12.40.
Liverpool, quiet; middling 6.72d.
Savannah, firm; middling 12c.
Augusta, steady; middling 12⅜.
Norfolk, steady; middling 12½.
Charleston, nominal; middling 12 5-16.
Mobile, steady; middling 12c.
Wilmington, quiet; middling 12c.
Little Rock, steady; middling 12c.
Baltimore, nominal; middling 12¾.
Memphis, quiet; middling 12¾.
Memphis, steady; middling 12¾.
St. Louis, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Houston, quiet; middling 12 3-16.
Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.
Charlotte, steady; middling 12c.
Greenville, steady; middling 12c.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.—Wheat opened ⅛ to ¼d higher. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ⅛ to ¼d higher; closed ⅛ to ¼d higher.

Corn opened ⅛d higher. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ⅛d higher; closed ¼d lower.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The October delivery was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day. Demand from shorts and refiners, induced by the scarcity of crude offerings, served to force that month up 22 points. Old crop oil was in demand. There was very little doing in the late positions.

Cotton seed oil quotations:

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot	.....	9.20
July	9.20@9.25	9.27@9.30
August	9.28@9.29	9.32@9.35
September	9.28@9.30	9.35@9.36
October	8.20@8.22	8.73@8.24
November	6.88@6.90	6.89@6.90
December	6.69@6.75	6.68@6.69
January	6.68@6.75	6.68@6.69
February	6.68@6.80	6.65@6.67

Closed strong; sales 19,500 barrels.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	403	674
Galveston	3,468	609
Mobile	132	16
Savannah	558	284
Charleston	22	.....
Norfolk	297	307
Boston	.....	3
Total	4,902	1,873

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	533	127
Augusta	78	115
Memphis	418	408
St. Louis	132	366
Little Rock	.....	2
Total	1,161	1,016

NEW YORK COFFEE MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Underlying sentiment was still rather bullish and it was rumored that this morning's decline in the price of coffee was only natural after the recent rally of a cent a pound, while moreover developments in the spot position have been of a character to encourage holders.

Coffee quotations:

	Opening.	Closing.
January	9.57	9.42@9.44
February	9.64@9.70	9.49@9.51
March	9.70	9.56@9.57
April	9.72@9.76	9.61@9.62
May	9.79	9.61@6.68
July	.....	8.95@8.96
August	9.10@9.25	9.00@9.01
September	6.25@9.26	9.13@9.16
October	.....	9.28@9.30
December	9.46	9.36@9.37

Closed steady; sales 103,000 bags.

CROP PROSPECTS ADVANCE STOCKS

Large Interests Absorb Issues on All Recessions, Giving Market Brighter Appearance.

BY CHAS. W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The strong tone which characterized the opening of the stock market to-day was not well maintained, and before the end of the fifteen minutes, sharp recessions were in order. Union Pacific lost its advance of 5-8 and a reaction of a point was recorded in Canadian Pacific.

The traders were disapointed at the action of the market in failing to follow the strong tone in London.

There was no change in Amalgamated Copper, American Can and Reading Steel was off ⅛, while the other changes were about equally divided between gains and losses.

Although trading was slow in London, the tone was strong, with the American shares the leading feature. The curb market opened easier.

After the first few minutes, business was quieter than at any time for over a week past. New Haven was about the most important factor, gaining 2⅝ to 102⅛. Practically all of the early gains were lost and the tone remained dull. Southern Pacific and Steel dropped ⅜. Canadian Pacific declined ⅛ to 219 and Reading lost ¼. Call money loaning at 2½ per cent.

There was little feature in the afternoon markets, business being smaler and fluctuations confined within narrow limits. Republic Iron common continued strong, selling 3 points net higher for the day. Canadian Pacific held most of its early advance.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCK—	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Copper	68⅛	67⅛	68⅜	68¾
A. B. Sugra.	25	23⅜	24½	23
Am. Can.	33⅛	32½	32⅝	32⅝
do. pfd.	93½	93	92⅜	93¼
A. C. Foundry	43½	43½	43⅝	43⅝
A. C. Oil.	38½	38¼	37½	38
Am. Ice	22	21½	.....	21⅝
Am. Loco.	30¼	30⅛	30	30
Am. Smelting	63¼	62¾	62½	63¼
Am. Sugar.	111½	110½	111½	110½
A. T. and T.	128¼	128	127⅞	127⅛
Am. Woolen	.....	.....	16½	.....
Anaconda	34½	34¼	34¼	34¼
Atchison	98	97½	98	98⅛
A. C. L.	119	119	117	117½
B. and O.	92⅞	92½	97⅝	92⅛
Beth. Steel.	33¾	31	32¾	31⅝
B. R. T.	88⅝	88	87⅞	88⅜
C. Pacific	220	218½	219¼	219¼
Cen. Leather.	23⅝	23⅛	23¼	23½
C. and O.	54⅝	54	54	54½
C. F. and I.	30¾	30	30⅝	30½
C. Southern	.....	.....	30½	30½
Consol. Gas.	131	131	130½	130½
C. Products	10⅜	10⅜	10¼	10¾
D. and H.	.....	.....	153	.....
D. and R. G.	19½	19½	18½	17¾
Erie.	26½	26⅛	26⅜	23⅝
do. pfd.	40½	40¼	40¼	40
G. Electric.	140	139¾	140	140
G. N. pfd.	124⅝	124⅛	124⅛	124¼
G. N. O.	33⅜	33½	33½	33¼
G. Western	.....	.....	14¼	13⅝
Ill. Central.	114½	114⅛	113⅞	113½
Interboro.	16⅛	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜
do. pfd.	59⅝	59	59	58⅜
I. Har. (old)	.....	.....	106	107
I. Central.	.....	.....	7	6
K. C. S.	27¼	27	27¼	26⅜
M., K. and T.	21⅞	21½	21⅝	21⅝
do. pfd.	.....	.....	58	57
L. Valley	149½	148½	149¼	149⅛
L. and N.	132⅝	132½	132⅞	132⅜
Mo. Pacific.	32¼	31½	31½	31⅜
N. Y. Central	98⅜	98	98	98
Northwest.	128½	128½	128½	128
Nat. Lead	.....	.....	.....	47½
N. and W.	105	104¾	105	105
No. Pacific.	109	108½	108½	107½
O. and W.	29½	29½	29	29¼
Penna.	113⅜	113⅝	113⅝	113⅜
Pacific Mail.	21	21	19½	19½
P. Gas Co.	.....	.....	112½	113
P. Steel Car.	24¼	24	24½	23½
Reading.	161⅛	160¼	160⅝	160¼
R. I. and Steel	24¼	21¼	23⅞	20½
do. pfd.	86⅞	85½	88⅛	80
Rock Island	16⅞	16⅜	16⅝	16⅝
do. pfd.	27½	26½	27	27½
S.-Sheffield	.....	.....	25	25½
So. Pacific.	93⅛	92½	96⅝	92⅝
So. Railway.	22⅞	22¼	22⅜	22½
do. pfd.	.....	.....	77	76⅜
St. Paul.	105¼	104½	104⅜	104⅜
Tenn. Copper.	29⅝	28⅞	29⅜	28⅝
Texas Pacific.	14½	14½	14½	14⅛
Third Avenue	.....	.....	34⅞	33⅜
Union Pacific.	149	147⅞	148¼	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60⅝	60½	.....	60½
U. S. Steel.	57⅝	56½	56⅞	52½
do. pfd.	107	107	106½	106⅞
Utah Copper.	45½	44⅝	44⅝	45⅛
V.-C. Chem.	26	26	25½	25
Wabash.	6⅞	6⅞	6¾	6½
do. pfd.	6⅞	6⅞	6¾	6½
W. Union	.....	.....	63¼	.....
W. Maryland	.....	.....	40½	40½
W. Electric	61	61	62¼	60¾
W. Central.	.....	.....	43	44½

Total sales, 293,900 shares.

Republic Steel Co. Makes Good Report

NEW YORK, July 22.—The report of the Republic Iron and Steel Company for the six months ended June 30 last shows net earnings applicable to dividends of $1,972,421. Finished and semi-finished unfilled tonnage increased 49,967 tons.

Net assets June 30 were $85,470,663, an increase of $2,403,156 over the same date in 1912.

STOCK GOSSIP

The Financial Bureau says: "Information channels expect to see a continued improvement in the stock market. There is, however, sufficient uncertainty in the situation to warrant reasonable caution, except where investment purchases are made. Would not reach for stocks, but would buy on moderate setbacks. Cotton is bought conservatively on reactions. Wheat and corn are considered cheap, but are offered on advances for trading profits."

* * *

It looks as if this advance has only started. Would increase holdings on any recession in stocks like Union Pacific, Reading, Copper issues and Steel common.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The Bankers Trust Company certificates of deposit for the St. Louis and San Francisco general lien 5 per cent bonds have been listed on the Stock Exchange. It is understood the total amount deposited under the agreement with Speyer & Co. in New York and in Europe is more than $25,000,000. No call has yet been made for the deposit of the French bonds amounting to $23,000,000. Of the remaining balance, a clear majority has been deposited under the Speyer bondholders' agreement.

Grain Notes

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "The wheat market is regarded as largely a merchandising proposition. It was noticed that some of the leading bears who sold early were buying at the close. Traders who were short of corn and long of oats were closing their spreads yesterday. One line of 250,000 bushels of corn was bought in and the oats sold. There is a lot of this business opening. There are also a lot of shorts in September corn who are long in December corn who have not started to cover."

* * *

Aberdeen, S. Dak., wires: "Commencing in western Clark County running through Spink and southern Brown Counties, extending west to the river, covering over 500,000 acres, 90 per cent total failure. East and north from Aberdeen about 10 per cent abandoned."

* * *

Bradley, S. Dak., wires: "Every field of velvet and blue stem wheat in this section has the little brown specks on the main stem of the wheat, some spots in three fields, the leaves of the wheat entirely dead from it. There is no damage yet, but this is unmistakably the first symptom of black rust. Red rust is very bad over the three States, and it is no short step from red rust to black rust."

* * *

B. W. Snow wires from Omaha, July 21: "The corn crop in Nebraska, south of the Platte and west of Lincoln, already is hurt badly and in a critical position. Portion of the Republican Valley received some rain and the crop is holding out, but fully one-fourth of the State is over the danger line and losing ground fast. From Hastings to Holdredge and south to St. Cloud fields are largely fired. I have seen places to-day where hot winds last week killed the leaves on trees. From Hastings to Crete the corn is showing white, and now is coming to tassel at four feet. East of Lincoln there is small damage, but some white heads are showing. The hopeful possibility lies in the fact that the crop was not in tassel during last week's blistering weather, but many tassels now are coming white. The section of the State I covered is in no worse shape than Northern Kansas."

* * *

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. says: "Wheat—We look for a steady market to-day and are inclined to think prices will gradually harden.

"Corn—We can see nothing but higher prices.

"Oats—In our opinion the market is in a strong position, with a comparatively limited long interest and more new buying apparent.

"Provisions—The strength in corn is helping prices, and while there is more or less realizing, on the buying appears to be on the increase."

* * *

Rainfall and Temperature: Canadian Northwest part cloudy, 45 to 64 degrees; Edmonton, .02; Minnedosa, .24; Northwest cloudy, 58 to 70; Moorhead, .64; Duluth, .02; Huron raining, .14; West clear, 64 to 68; Southwest clear, 64 to 74; Ohio Valley part cloudy, 64 to 70.

* * *

Kansas City says: "The corn and wheat region bulletin shows no rain. Maximum temperatures yesterday 85 to 98 degrees. Minneapolis says rainfall at Campbell, Minn., .70; Crookston, .24; Grafton, N. Dak., .15; Grand Forks, .24; Jamestown, .20; Winnipeg cloudy, 55; Duluth cloudy, 58; Glenwood cloudy, 60; hard rain this morning; Bismarck clear, 61; Harvey cloudy, 60; light shower last night."

* * *

Advices from the largest corn counties in Kansas, which normally produce 55,000,000 bushels: Three reports from Atchison County show loss of 30 per cent; two from Hrabor show loss of 60 per cent; two from Red Cloud show loss of 75 per cent; two from Dickinson show loss of 100 per cent; Jewell County shows loss of 65 per cent; Lyon County shows loss of 50 per cent; Kingman loss of 95 per cent. Sedgwick county, 75 per cent; Marshall, 55 per cent; Butler, 95 per cent; Mitchell, 75 per cent; Washington, 80 per cent, and Reno, 80 per cent.

* * *

Lyle wires Chapin from Norton, Kans.: "The important corn counties of Kansas, along the Nebraska line, east of Bellville, crop in normal promise, with light exceptions. West of Belleville there is some damage that may be 25 per cent in some fields. Most of the fields are not yet hurt, not much in tassel. Five per cent generally applied will cover all apparent damage to date."

* * *

Iowa weather and crop bulletin says: "First four days of week excessively hot. Daily maximum temperatures 100 to 104 degrees over Southern counties on one or more days, and as rainfall was inappreciable over the larger prt of the State, crops beginning to feel the effect of the dry hot weather. Late oats are already damaged to some extent by heat and lack of moisture. In some localities corn is beginning to curl during the day. Corn on good soil holding up well and making rapid growth."

* * *

200 METAL WORKERS TO MEET IN ATLANTA

The annual convention of the International Alliance of Sheet Metal Workers will be held at the Piedmont Hotel during the week of August 4.

In a letter received Tuesday morning by the management of the hotel, John E. Gray, general secretary, states that there will be about 200 delegates in attendance. A meeting of the twelve members of the Executive Board will be held the week prior to the convention.

CHICAGO CASH QUOTATIONS.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Wheat, No. 2 red, new, 87⅛@87¾; No. 3 red, new, 86½@87; No. 2 hard winter, new, 88@88¼; old 89½@90; No. 3 hard winter, new, 81@81¼; old, 88½@89; No. - Northern spring, 92½@93½; No. 2 Northern spring, 91@92; No. 3 spring 89@91.

Corn, No. 2, 62¾@63¾; No. 2 white, 64¼@64½; No. 3 yellow, 62¼@62¾; No. 3 white, 62@64¼; No. 3 yellow, 63¼; No. 4, 61½@62; No. 4 white, 62¾@63; No. 4 yellow, 61¼@62¼.

Oats, No. 2 white, 43; No. 3, 38¾; No. white, 40@41; No. 4 white, 38½@39¾; standard, 41¼@42.

PRIMARY MOVEMENT.

WHEAT—	1913.	1912.
Receipts	1,792,000	1,095,000
Shipments	1,139,000	620,000
CORN—
Receipts	494,000	421,000
Shipments	538,000	454,000

BIG CASH BUSINESS IS DONE IN WHEAT

Chicago Sales Reach Half Million Bushels—Fifty Boat Loads for Export.

ST. LOUIS CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat—No 2 red.....84½@85¼
Corn—No. 2.....66 @66½
Oats—No. 2 39

CHICAGO, July 22.—There was an enormous business in cash wheat today, the total transactions here amounting to 50,000 bushels, all of which was for export. The seaboard reported fifty boat loads or 40,000 bushels taken by exporters, and in addition to this vessel room was engaged for twenty loads for August shipment, with the rate of freight favorable to the shipper.

Prices for wheat closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower for the day; corn was off ½ to ⅝, and oats were ⅜ to ½ cent lower. Cash sales of corn were 190,000 bushels and of oats 170,000 bushels.

Hog products were lower on selling by those wanting profits.

A message from one of the crop experts now in the Northwest, says that the black rust scare is at an end and that wheat is ripening rapidly and that the harvesting of the same will soon be on.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
WHEAT—
July	86⅜	86⅛	86⅛	86½
Sept.	87½	86⅞	87	87¼
Dec.	91	90⅝	90⅝	90⅞
CORN—
July	62⅜	61⅝	61⅝	62⅛
Sept.	63½	62½	62½	63¼
Dec.	60⅝	59½	59⅝	60¼
OATS—
July	39⅞	39¼	39⅜	39⅜
Sept.	41⅝	40⅜	40⅞	41¼
Dec.	41⅜	40⅝	40⅞	41¼
PORK—
July	.22.22½	22.00	22.10	22.22½
Sept.	.21.50	21.25	21.42	21.25
Jan.	.19.45	19.45	19.45	.....
LARD—
July	.11.87½	11.87½	11.82½	11.87½
Sept.	.11.95	11.87½	11.67½	11.95
Oct.	.12.00	11.95	11.96	12.00
RIBS—
July	.11.80	11.75	11.75	11.87½
Sept.	.11.92½	11.87½	11.87½	11.95
Oct.	.11.70	11.65	11.65	11.72½

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Hogs—Receipts, 13,000. Market steady to 5c lower; mixed and butchers, 8.70@9.55; good heavy, 8.95@9.35; rough heavy, 8.60@8.90; light, 9.10@9.55; pigs, 8.25@9.30; bulk, 9.10@9.35.

Cattle—Receipts, 3,000. Market steady; beeves, 7.35@9.15; cows and heifers, 3.25@8.40; stockers and feeders, 6.25@8.00; Texas steers, 6.75@8.10; calves, 9.25@11.00.

Sheep — Receipts, 24,000. Market steady; native and Western, 3.00@5.10; lambs, 5.00@7.50.

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 22.—Cattle receipts, 8,000, including 2,500 Southerns. Native market steady. Beef steers, 5.50@8.75; cows and heifers, 4.75@8.25; stockers and feeders, 5.25@7.50; calves 6.00@11.00; Texas steers, 6.25@8.00; cows and heifers, 4.25@6.50; calves, 5.00@6.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,500; mixed, 9.24@9.55; good 9.00@9.55; rough, 8.90@9.10; lights, 9.45@9.55; pigs, 7.25@9.10; bulk, 9.45@9.55.

METALS.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The tone was firmer in the metal market to-day. Copper, spot to September, 14@14¼. Tin, $41.00@41.50. Lead, $4.30 bid. Spelter, $5.30@5.40.

LOST AND FOUND.

STRAYED from 457 N. Jackson St., a brown muley head cow. Reward for her return to above address. Cal Ivy 116 or Ivy 1848. 7-22-1b

LOST—On Perry, Fair, King or Hill street one bundle of collector's cards. Return to J. K. Polk, 288 Decatur street. 7-22-21

LOST—Saturday, between National Paper Company and Marietta St., or on Cooper St. to Hendrix street car, between Simpson and Broad, gold chain with Knights of Columbus charm. Call Main 1163 or Ivy 3182-J. 7-20-93

LOST—A gold coil cuff button Friday. Finder call Main 4578-L. Reward.

W. M. COX cleans all kinds of carpets, rugs a specialty. Ivy 3135-J, Atlanta 1818. 145 Auburn Ave. 7-20-81

LOST—Thursday, between Atlanta and Marietta, Goodyear tire in case. Phone Ivy 2000. Reward. 7-20-7

LOST—About 8 o'clock Wednesday morning on Georgia avenue car, purse containing $8 and discharge from U. S. Navy. Return to Georgian office and get reward. 81-20-7

FOUND—Young female collie, tan and white. Atlanta phone 3531. 7-20-7

LOST—On Peachtree car or Piedmont Park gold chain and Masonic charm. Return to Georgian office, 7 Edgewood.

LOST—On Peachtree street car one gold vanity box with initials "M. G." Reward if returned to 850 Peachtree St. 7-18-1

LOST—Large white English bulldog. Answers to name of Jack. Strayed from 224 Whitehall Street. Reward for return. 7-19-13

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-23

LOST—One large fox terrier dog, black and white. Answers to name of Nogi. Return to Jack Roberts, Guthman Laundry Stables, Fair and Formwalt. $5 reward. 7-19-18

THE LADY who removed silverware from rest room Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405 Third National Bank Bldg. Phone Ivy 551. 7-19-28

LOST—In ladies' room Terminal Station, silver mesh purse, engraved "Ruth Roberts." Liberal reward for return or information leading to recovery. Phone Ivy 5710. 901 Empire Life Bldg. 31-19-7

LOST—Ladies' silver handbag on the 9 o'clock car going out South Pryor to Grant Park. Finder will please return same to Mrs. Margaret Lubbe, cashier at 119 Whitehall. Atlanta phone 887. Liberal reward offered. 31-17-7

CINCINNATI
TWO FAST TRAINS L&N
Lv. 7:12AM., 5:10 PM.
LOWRY NATIONAL BANK
Capital $1,000,000
Surplus $1,000,000
Savings Department Safe Deposit Boxes

"Want Ads" Are Good Reading

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH."

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed.

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingham .12:01 am	36	New York...12:15 am
35	New York.... 5:20 am	29	Columbus .. 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville . 5:30 am	13	Cincinnati .. 5:40 am
43	Washington .. 5:25 am	32	Fort Valley.. 5:30 am
12	Shreveport .. 6:30 am	35	Birmingh'm 6:50 am
16	Heflin ..... 8:20 am	7	Chatt'ga .... 6:40 am
29	New York....11:15 am	12	Richmond .... 6:55 am
8	Chatt'ga .....10:35 am	23	Kansas City. 7:00 am
7	Macon ..... 10:40 am	16	Brunswick .. 7:45 am
17	Fort Valley..10:45 am	39	Birmingh'm 11:30 --
21	Columbus ....10:50 am	28	New York...11:01 am
6	Cincinnati ....11:10 am	40	Charlotte ...12:00 n'n
29	Columbus .... 1:40 pm	6	Macon .....12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm .. 2:30 pm	30	Columbus ...12:30 pm
40	Birmingh'm .12:40 pm	38	New York... 7:45 pm
80	Charlotte ..... 3:55 pm	15	Chatt'ga .... 3:00 pm
5	Macon ..... 4:00 pm	39	Birmingh'm.. 4:10 pm
87	New York..... 5:00 pm	18

Why Wait For a Soothsayer, Charmer or Wizard,

FURNITURE FOR SALE. FURNITURE FOR SALE.

Walker-Cooley Furniture Company

87-89 S. FORSYTH STREET.
Bell Phone Main 2785.

WE ARE SELLING furniture cheaper for cash than any store in Atlanta, as we are out of the high-rent district. See us before buying.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

YOUNG MAN with thorough knowledge of city, able to handle labor, wants permanent position in any line. Address H., Box 133, care Georgian. 28-16-7

SUPERINTENDENT of building construction or inspector is open for an engagement on any class of building. Address A. C., Box 411, care Georgian. 41-18-7

EXPERIENCED colored man, 33 years old, wants work as janitor or porter. Give good references as to honesty, reliability and habits. No Sunday work. Address L. T. A., 131 Markham Street (rear). 35-18-7

WANTED—Situation as teacher for business department in some high school or college. Have five good typewriters and seven years experience. Address P. O. Box 136, Blue Ridge, Ga. 47-18-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housework in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

INEXPERIENCED stenographer desires position at once. Call Ivy 2782-L. 36-18-7

WANTED—Position by good, experienced nurse; special for sick babies. 396 Houston street. 40-18-7

WANTED—Position by young lady stenographer; have had three years' experience. Am at present employed, but desire to change. Call Main 3567-J. 28-18-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Drophead, new style, standard make sewing machine, in good condition. State lowest price. Address Sewing Machine, Box 726, care Georgian. 7-20-18

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE,"
166 Decatur Street.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Year-old fox terrier, view camera, Barred Rock cockerel; desire a tent, Perfection oil stove or bicycle. Tent, Box 63, care American. 7-20-7

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 2-26-81

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.
SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-301

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS
While You Wait.
Sanford Decarbonizer method. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP,
275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

BABCOCK Electric Victory; good batteries; new tires, new inner tubes, newly painted, brand-new charging outfit; all in first-class condition and all for $400 if taken next week. 452 Central Ave. M. 157-J. 56-20-7

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS,
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Stowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

STUDEBAKER
SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $650. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

COLUMBUS Electric Coupe. New chains and sprockets; battery just rebuilt and entire car refinished by John M. Smith. Will sell at a bargain, with one year guarantee. LOT 90x1,300 feet on Marietta car line, near Smyrna. Sold 18 months ago for $1,500. Will trade $750 equity for automobile.
FIRESTONE-COLUMBUS SO. CO.,
45 Auburn ave. Phone Ivy 4177. 7-16-26

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 35% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-3-1

CLEARANCE SALE
OF
GOOD USED CARS.
Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:
Maxwell A-A Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.
If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS
Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.
WE USE OXYGEN
No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.
A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.
It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.
Atlanta Welding Co.
Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

LONGEST TUNNEL

THE longest tunnel in the world is the Simplon, which is twelve and one-half miles long. It took over eight years to complete, at a cost of nearly $20,000,000. The tunnel gives France and Switzerland direct communication with Milan.

Many people are still under the impression that the St. Gothard tunnel is the longest, but, as a matter of fact, the Simplon tunnel is one-fourth more in length than the St. Gothard, and nearly twice the length of the Mont Cenis.

ANOTHER INTERESTING FACT TO-MORROW.

BUSINESS GUIDE

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell Street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK.
Corner Alabama and Broad Streets.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Baseball Score.

PLAY Baseball scores given by innings at 77 Peachtree Street. You will find the standing of all the leagues. BALL

Butter.

BIG "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches at all founts. 7-20-59

Bread.

EAT MILKMAID BREAD; the best. 7-20-69

Carpenter and Builder.

FLY—SCREENS—FLY
COME see our roll-away screen, our roller-bearing screen, our sliding screen; none better. It will pay you to see our goods and get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Company. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 6-12-12

ALL KINDS OF REPAIR WORK. D. M. WHEELER. 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 212-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Fly Screens.

SPECIAL SALE on fly screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-58

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.
METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
62 N. Pryor St. Bell Phone Ivy 4203. 7-10-10

Furniture.

SPECIAL SALE on screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn. Ivy 4467. 7-20-57

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta, Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-5-12

Furniture Upholstering.

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO.
Satisfaction guaranteed. Main 5111, Atlanta 5950-F. 6-16-2

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young & Carson, 479 Marietta Street. Atlanta 3567. 6-7-29

Gas Stoves and Cookers.

THE PORTABLE OIL GAS STOVE—The ideal steam cookers—assorted. Reduce fuel bill and labor 75 per cent. R. B. Henry, General Agent, 269 Washington St. Bell Main 307-J. Agents wanted. 7-18-16

Jewelry.

WATCHES, Diamonds, Jewelry, Eye Glasses, Spectacles sold on the "divided payment" plan to reliable persons.
BANTA-COLE CO.
5 SOUTH BROAD STREET 6-26-3

Keys.

KEYS MADE CHARLES L. REEVES, 13½ S Broad Street. Main 885. 7-1-44

Lace Curtains.

WORK called for and delivered; satisfaction guaranteed; prices, 25c to 50c per pair. Call Atlanta phone 2641. 6-2-13

Lighting Fixtures.

ELECTRIC and gas fixtures; all new styles; lowest prices. Queen Mantel and Tile Company, 56 West Mitchell Street. Phone Main 681. 1-16-16

Lime, Concrete, Roofing, Stone.

LADD LIME AND STONE COMPANY.
Lime, concrete and roofing stone. 915 3d Nat. Bank Bldg. 2-3-50

Mattress Renovating.

SANITARY MATTRESS RENOVATING—Factory new and up-to-date; moderate prices; give us a trial. Jackson & Orr Company, Means Street and W. & A. R. R. Both phones. 3-20-14

Machine Works.

SKIP—KNOCK—JUMP
CARBON.
CAMP cleans perfectly while you wait. A great thing for trucks. Try it.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP
275 Marietta Street. Main 2937. 7-8-29

New Rubber Tires.

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Ave. 2-13-9

Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON does all kinds of repair work. Painting and tinting a specialty. Bell phone West 1238-J. 397 W. Fair St. 6-22-127

Peanut Butter.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-46

Peanuts.

GET Big "4" Salted Peanuts at all founts. 7-20-50

Phenoline.

A DISINFECTANT, deodorant and germicide; destroys chicken mites and all kinds of insects. Phenoline Co., 106-A Edgewood Avenue. Main 2317, Atlanta 3032-A. 6-11-28

Picnic Lunches.

GET MILKMAID BREAD at all groceries. 7-20-68

Peanut Sandwiches.

EAT Big "4" Salted Peanuts, the Best. 7-20-48

Refrigerator.

SAVE MONEY on refrigerators at R. F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-11

Royal Typewriters For Fent.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 North Pryor Street. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

Sandwiches.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-51

Safe Cracksman.

FIRE and burglar-proof safes opened and repaired. C. C. Downes, 29½ Marietta Street. Phones M. 2146, Atlanta 4922. 6-5-11

Sewing Machines.

WE RENT new machines with complete set of attachments for $2 per month; also machines repaired; prompt delivery. Both phones 1893. Singer Sewing Machine Company, 79 Whitehall. 9-14-44

Signs.

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780 8-18-33

KENT ON SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

Stove and Range Repairing.

STOVE DOCTOR.
STOVE, range and furnace repairing. 61 South Pryor Street. Bell Phone Main 1460. Atlanta phone 1410. 4-10-10

DAN, THE FIXER.
STOVES AND REFRIGERATOR REPAIRING.
We sell second-hand gas stoves.
We sweep chimneys.
121 WHITEHALL STREET.
Atlanta phone 2235. Bell phone M. 2599.

Tailors.

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-24

Trunks, Bags and Suitcases.

RETAILED AND REPAIRED.
ROUNTREE'S, 77 WHITEHALL ST.
PHONES: Bell M. 1576. Atlanta 1654.

Umbrellas.

"Taylor-Made" UMBRELLAS
BUY from makers—All prices from $1.00 up, with detachable handles. Guaranteed and kept in repair free. Expert repairing.
TAYLOR UMBRELLA CO.,
116½ Whitehall St. 4-23-8

Window and Housecleaning.

NATIONAL Window Cleaning Co., 47 E. Hunter St. Main 1175, Atlanta 1051. 7-2-42

EVERY DAY is a good day to read the Want Ads in The Atlanta Georgian.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Ducks.

FOR SALE—Ten White Indian Runners, eight females; fine birds; price $12.50 for lot. See them quick. 51 Oglethorpe Avenue. 47-20-7

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Rhode Island Reds.

WANTED—One Rose Comb R. I. Red cockerel; utility, but pure-bred. Price? M. V. Calvin, 21 Howard Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 71-20-7

100 HEAD S. C. Rhode Island Red hens and pullets, all thoroughbred, at $1 each. B. R. Leggett, Broxton, Ga. 38-20-7

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

THE READING OF WANT ADS in Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian means money to you.

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW.
GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

FOR SALE—Magnificent registered Jersey heifer, 18 months old, due to calve December. Address H. P. L., No. 401 Peters Building, Atlanta. 29-18-7

FORTUNES have been made in Atlanta Real Estate. Your opportunity is probably to-day. Read Real Estate ads in "Want Ad" section of The Georgian.

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—A fine mare; will work anywhere. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-18-9

HORSES AND VEHICLES.
Splendid runabout for sale. Cheap for cash. Apply at Room 201 Equitable Building.
Thoroughbred buggy horse for sale; will work anywhere. Rides the five gaits. Apply Room 201 Equitable Building. 92-20-7

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BOTH PHONES 2568.
OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M. INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

AUNT PATSY MASH FEED $2.75 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

LAY-OR-BUST MASH FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RED COMB PIGEON FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RICE SPECIAL CHICK FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

ALFALFA MEAL $2.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

SWIFT'S MEAT SCRAPS $3.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

GUARANTEED CHARCOAL $2.50 per 100 pounds, 50 pounds $1.25.

-:- THE GEORGIAN'S RENT BULLETIN -:-

ROOMS AND BOARD.

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-19

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 2878-J. 7-21-8

NICE ROOMS with board or table board. 69½ East Alabama St. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

AT 513 PEACHTREE, a tea room and dining room open to public; patronage solicited. 80-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two batir rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.00; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-33

FOR SALE—Kindergarten table, five chairs and some material for work; very reasonable. Call Ivy 3534-J. 7-20-17

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.00; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-33

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES! Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

A VERY sweet toned Kranich & Bush piano; great bargain. Address J. R. S., Box 214, care Georgian. 100-20-7

DIAMOND FOR SALE.
Will sell a beauty in a solitaire diamond. Will trade this stone for Travelers Bank stock, Universal Ice Company, deposits of the City Savings Bank, time deposits of any good bank in Georgia; or, good commercial paper. "Diamond," Box 205, care Georgian. 91-20-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree. Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—One Premo camera, 5 by 7, and developing outfit; first $15 gets it. A. L. Quinn, 759 Whitehall Street. 73-20-7

FOR SALE—Diamond ring, about ⅝ carat, pure white and perfect, for only $37.50; worth $60. Bargain. Call at 413 Peters Building. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-65

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

PEARS FOR SALE (CHEAP)—Sand pears, better known as LeContes. Will sell in barrel lots only. Joseph Fleischman, Hawkinsville, Ga. 7-20-8

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, pots and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

FURNITURE and carpets for sale cheap; also piano for sale or rent, for use of it. Ivy 4809-J. 7-20-32

BROILERS
35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.
What will you give for three hundred shares of the Universal Ice Company stock? Make me very best offer. Will trade this stock for land or purchase money notes. Universal, Box 508, care Georgian. 85-20-7

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Nice new furniture cheap at 118 West Pine street. 31-18-7

WHOLE and one-half return tickets to Jacksonville, Fla., will sell cheap. Phone Main 4472. 44-18-7

FOR SALE—Floor showcase, cigar wall case and small soda fountain. 141 South Pryor street. 7-18-8

ONE seven-passenger Pope-Toledo, one Cadillac car, one mule, one horse for sale cheap. 295 Cooper Street. 35-7-7

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-48

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.
4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.
Rebuilt typewriters, $23 to $75.
American Writing Machine Co.
48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

ROOMS AND BOARD.

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-9

WANTED—Two or three young men boarders; large front room; private home, Inman Park. Phone Ivy 6867-L. 7-20-47

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

32 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-18-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family, 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

TWO beautifully furnished rooms for couple or young men; day boarders wanted. 43 W. Peachtree. Ivy 2160. 7-14-7

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 2666-J. 7-17-2

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-15-34

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

WANTED—Board and room; refined private home. Upper Peachtree. Woman and son, 15. Permanent. Address K. A. B., Box 848, care American. 66-20-7

SUMMER RESORTS.

WHY STAY IN THE CITY and burn up with? Oak Grove at your door, "the Cool Off Place," on Tallulah Falls Ry. Sleep under cover at night. T. M. Fosdrill, Turnerville, Ga. 35-22-7

WANTED—A few boarders for the rest of the summer at a nice, quiet country home, surrounded by large oaks; good country fare; all modern conveniences; less than quarter of mile from station. Rates $5 to $8 per week. Special rates for children. Address Mrs. W. S. Paris, Oak Mount, Clayton, Ga. 39-20-7

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-22

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room $2.75 weekly. 21 Hood street, near Mitchell. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

FURNISHED ROOMS.
Furnished room, overlooking Piedmont Park; private home; permanent; suitable for two young men; steam heated, electric light, bath. 139 East Tenth street. Ivy 6164. 95-20-7

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-73

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3041. 7-20-60

NICELY furnished rooms, with bath, cool, comfortable and cozy. Six minutes walk from Five Points. Phone Ivy 296. 83-20-7

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street, West 209. 7-20-30

ROOMS, with conveniences, at 56 Williams Street. Phone Ivy 3365-J. 7-20-44

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7735-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 22 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-84

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-9

WANTED—Two or three young men boarders; large front room; private home, Inman Park. Phone Ivy 6867-L. 7-20-47

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

32 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-18-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family, 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

TWO beautifully furnished rooms for couple or young men; day boarders wanted. 43 W. Peachtree. Ivy 2160. 7-14-7

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 2666-J. 7-17-2

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-15-34

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

WANTED—Board and room; refined private home. Upper Peachtree. Woman and son, 15. Permanent. Address K. A. B., Box 848, care American. 66-20-7

SUMMER RESORTS.

WHY STAY IN THE CITY and burn up with? Oak Grove at your door, "the Cool Off Place," on Tallulah Falls Ry. Sleep under cover at night. T. M. Fosdrill, Turnerville, Ga. 35-22-7

WANTED—A few boarders for the rest of the summer at a nice, quiet country home, surrounded by large oaks; good country fare; all modern conveniences; less than quarter of mile from station. Rates $5 to $8 per week. Special rates for children. Address Mrs. W. S. Paris, Oak Mount, Clayton, Ga. 39-20-7

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking dist

When One of Our Want Ads Will Stir Up a Blizzard

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

$8,400 with which to buy purchase money notes, either first or second mortgages. Money in hand. No delay. Would lend on some good stocks. "Loan," Box 102, care Georgian. 93-20-7

STOCKS AND BONDS.

WILL BUY real estate direct from owners in exchange for 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of a large established corporation. Address P. C., Box 851, care American. 7-20-67

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

$1,250 WANTED on high-class property in West End section. Offer, P. O. Box 441, Atlanta. 7-18-18

ESTABLISHED 1888.
6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
E MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
3-11-50

HAVE six high-class loans, twelve ty, fifteen hundred and seventeen . Will pay 8 per cent. West End, . Box 441. 7-18-19

MEDICAL.

OPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of reath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces elling in fifteen to twenty days. Col- Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Aus- Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-28-11

EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal d Cotton Root Pills, a safe and re- treatment for painful and sup- ed menstruation, irregularities and ar obstructions. Trial box by mail, Frank Edmondson & Bro., manu- ring chemists, 11 North Broad St., nta.

U ARE looking for a position, aren't ou, or you would not be reading these ? Perhaps the position you are look- for is not to be found advertised to- . Then why not spend a few cents vertising for a position in the "Situa- n Wanted" columns of this paper to- rrow? There is no need of your walk- around in the hot sun or rain, let- g your brain go to rust as well as rrying yourself sick looking for a good sition when a "Situation Wanted" ad The Georgian will do the searching for u. An ad in this paper will cost you y a few cents to run several times and lieve your mind of a heavy load. Try and see.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

OR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

VANTED—A partner for es- tablished branch agency to handle inside end. This is a money maker and exceptional opportunity. Address Sales- man, Box 482, care Georgian. 7-20-89

YOUNG MAN of exceptional business ability will invest with services $2,000 to $4,000 in good going concern. Address J. M. B., Box 854, care American. 72-20-7

LIVE opportunity for a live man with moderate capital. Enterprise of exceptional merit; big future and fortune for the right man. Handle your own money. Strictest investigation invited. Address Quick Results, Box 852, care American. 70-20-7

IF YOU want to buy a business of any kind it will be to your interest to examine our listings. Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building. 7-20-64

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

FOR SALE—FURNITURE and FURNISHINGS of ten-room house, close in, on North Side. Lease on house at cheap rent; nice place to run boarding house or rent rooms. Price $500, terms of $100 cash and balance monthly. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

LARGE CORPORATION requires the services of man in each locality to manage branch office; make $5,000 yearly; investment of $100 necessary; send 10 cents stamps for contract and particulars. Guaranty Collection Company, Dept. 11, Potts Camp, Miss. 28-20-7

QUESTION—If you have read this, is it not reasonable to suppose others will read your ad in this paper if you want anything?

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-1

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-2

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—$600 cash, balance monthly (price $1,200), buys old-established and beautifully equipped SODA WATER, CIGAR, CONFECTIONERY and MILK DEPOT business, on prominent corner; thickly populated, high-class residence section; average daily sales about $25; rent only $40 for store room and eight-room house in connection; a good opportunity in this line. Some terms considered. YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

IF YOU WANT to sell your business, no matter where located, need partner or additional capital, see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building, Atlanta. "We can sell any business that has merit." 7-20-45

MOVED TO 120½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—SODA WATER, CIGAR and LUNCH business in heart of city, on terms of $150 cash, balance monthly, or will trade $400 equity for vacant lot, automobile or anything of value. Purchaser to assume $650 due on fount, payable monthly; big bargain; act quick. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.
Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
One year, mail, postage prepaid, $5.00
Six months, mail, postage prepaid, 2.50
Three mos., mail, postage prepaid, 1.25
One month, mail, postage prepaid, .45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
Delivered by carrier, one year.....$5.28
Delivered by carrier, six months.. 2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months.. 1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month .... .45
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week ..... .10

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN.

$5,000 to lend on Atlanta real estate. Will lend in $1,000 denominations or any multiple. No red tape or delay. "Money," Box 300, care Georgian. 90-20-7

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

EAT Milk Maid Bread, the Best. 7-20-70

LOANS $25.00 AND UP

On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.

AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.

GUARANTEE LOAN CO.

Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.

7-17-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA BUNGALOW for sale; best section Inman Park; beautiful porch, built-in bookshelves, large open fireplace. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

A first-class little piece of property, always rented, near Fair Street School and Hunter street, can be bought on good terms. Now rented for $15 per month. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 87-20-7

CENTER HILL HOME.

Will sell, on good terms, a home at Center Hill—only a short distance from the car line—large lot. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 89-20-7

FOR SALE—Cottage of five rooms and bath; near one of Atlanta's best schools. 259 East North Ave., or call Ivy 6648-L. 96-20-7

PEACHTREE ROAD HOME.

Near Seventeenth street, brand-new home; everything modern; large lot. Will sell this home on good terms, or will trade it for good income-paying property. Immediate possession. "Peachtree Road," Box 108, care Georgian.

FOR SALE—Five-room bungalow on Third avenue, Lakeview; lot 50 by 190, in six blocks of East Lake, $2,250; terms. W. M. Butler, Third Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 41-20-7

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Ell," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

TRUCK FARM.

SIX MILES of center of city; 14 acres in high state of cultivation; four acres good bottom land; one 5-room and one 3-room house; running water; all kinds of fruits; right at railroad stop and near car line. Bargain at $3,000, on good terms. See YOUNG & GOODROE, 413 Peters Bldg. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-66

FOR SALE—By owner, lot near East Lake, facing car line; 75 feet front; tile walks; within 400 feet of water main; sewerage touches back of lot; $500; easy terms. Address Perry, Box 847, care Georgian. 7-20-19

THIS is an age of suburban residences. Then why not buy you a lot out in beautiful Clairemont Park, North Decatur? Buy now while the price is low. Easy terms. L. P. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

FOR SALE—Ten-room house on North Moreland Avenue; $500 less than market value. Leaving city reason for selling. Address B. K., Box 222, care Georgian. 7-17-16

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

A REAL BARGAIN, North Side bungalow, seven rooms and sleeping porch, all screened, furnace heated, double floors and storm-sheathed. Large basement with servant's room. Front yard nicely sodded. Ivy 5974. 26-18-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.

THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.

ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.

36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHY NOT BUY you a lot out in beautiful Peachtree Highlands on the car line to Brookhaven? Property values in this section are sure to enhance rapidly and the environments are all that could be desired. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

TWENTY (20) acres land at Norcross, Ga., four blocks from depot; nineteen miles from Atlanta; all in cultivation and fruit trees. No houses. Offer for $1,250, one-fourth cash, balance three years, 8% interest. Public schools and churches. Address Box 56, Lavonia, Ga. 7-19-33

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

LIST your property with L. P. Bottenfield—the man that sells. 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. Lynch & Bell, Sale Managers. 7-20-12

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

BARTER AND EXCHANGE.

I have a big tract of acreage, only two miles from the city limits, as well as twenty thousand dollars worth of property in the city, that I will exchange for a big piece of central property, or semi-central. I want some land in the deal, or will take two or three pieces. "Realty," Box 402, care Georgian. 88-20-7

NEW six-room bungalow to exchange for vacant lots, negro property preferred. Bell phone 298 Decatur. 54-20-7

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,500. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 409 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—Six or seven-room bungalow in Inman Park, on North Side. Can pay about $4,000. Have some cash. Prefer to deal with owner or would like to rent bungalow in West End Park. Henry, Box 10, care American. 7-20-77

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell. 114 Candler Building. 6-26-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHITEHALL STREET
AT $200 FRONT FOOT

RIGHT near the corner of Whitehall and McDaniel Streets, where property is selling for $350 per foot, we have for a few days only, 60 feet frontage at the above ridiculously low price. No loan. Will trade for good renting property.

THE BEST BUY ON THE STREET.

ADAIR & HOLT, Real Estate and Loans
97½ PEACHTREE ST. PHONE Ivy 10.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy teams. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $600 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h., 138 Hill	$35.00
6-r. h., 196 Crumley	25.00
6-r. h., Washington street, East Point	20.00
6-r. h., 15 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood	22.50
6-r. h., 875 Edgewood avenue	37.50
6-r. h., 88 Lucile avenue, furnished	45.00
6-r. h., 58 Dunn	26.30
6-r. h., 369 Cherokee, apartment, furnished	35.00
6-r. h., 106 Mansfield	25.00
6-r. h., 20 Clifford	25.00
6-r. h., 309 Moreland avenue	40.00
6-r. h., Harwell and Malden lane	20.00
6-r. h., 189 Cameron	18.60
6-r. h., 140 Drexel	28.00
6-r. h., 12 Howard	22.50
6-r. h., 47 Drewry	30.60
6-r. h., 21 Park street, Oakhurst	22.50
6-r. h., Hardee street	15.00
6-r. h., 32 Olympic place, Decatur	27.50
6-r. h., 13 Haynes	12.60
6-r. h., 52 Druid circle	30.00
6-r. h., 12 Clifford	27.50
6-r. h., 1170 DeKalb avenue	30.00
6-r. h., 401 E. Fair street	30.00
5-r. h., 124 Hill	25.00
5-r. h., 29 Summit	17.50
5-r. h., 90 Glennwood	15.60

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

16-r. h., 45-47 E. Mitchell St.	$ 65.00	9-r. h., 18 Baltimore Block	$40.00
10-r. h., 20 Ponce DeLeon	125.00	8-r. h., 62 Alta Ave	40.00
9-r. h., 93 Capitol Sq., Aug. 15.	75.00	8-r. h., 417 Piedmont Ave	32.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

A. J. MAYFIELD
REAL ESTATE AND RENTING.
49 S. Pryor St.

WANTED—VACANT HOUSES.

I HAVE a constant demand for large and small houses, white and colored, which I am unable to fill. If you have anything vacant, list it with me. Call, write or phone.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS

THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.

IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.

FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Summer Prices Now Prevail

ON EAST ATLANTA REAL ESTATE—We offer ten nice cottages and forty beautiful vacant lots. Terms and prices to suit you. See us early and get the pick.
Also a few houses to rent.

MARBUT & MINOR

Bell Phone Main 9211. Atlanta Phone 3102-A.

WANTED---NORTH SIDE BUNGALOW

WE HAVE a customer for a North Side bungalow, six to seven rooms in size, and preferably on a large lot. Will pay $5,000 to $7,000, with substantial cash payment.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT

1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

Monarch Auto Oil

THE BEST at any price. Delivered to your address with faucet in barrels and half-barrels. We keep our customers supplied with Monarch Puncture Stopper FREE. Will preserve inner tube and tire.

Monarch Oil Co.

217-218 Temple Court. Phone Main 2974.

J. W. DOBBINS & CO.

312 PETERS BUILDING. BELL PHONE M. 2126

$6,000—MORELAND AVENUE bungalow, six rooms, furnace, oak floors, servant's room, attractive and up to date, east front lot 50x225.

$5,250—SEVEN-ROOM cottage with large hall and attic; all conveniences, east front lot 55x220, lots of fruit, grapes, etc. Garage with electric lights, everything for good home.

$4,500—JUST OFF Piedmont avenue, new 5-room house and 4 acres with creek in rear, good proposition.

$3,200—STORE and five rooms on Marietta street.

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1899.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.

JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 95 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.

LEE STREET COTTAGE.

SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME

NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

FOR SALE
JOHN J.
WOODSIDE

FOR SALE—SUNSET AVE. COTTAGE. (Near Simpson St.).
Good five-room home. Has gas, bath and city improvements. In good condition. Terms easy. Price only $2,350. Easy. Price only $2,350.
THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager.
12 "Real Estate Row."

Myrtle Street Bungalow---$6,000

6 LARGE ROOMS and hallway; all conveniences; well arranged; elevated lot; in a splendid neighborhood and convenient to Tenth Street School. Can make you reasonable terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.

ON a splendid elevated lot on Georgia avenue, right at Grant Park, 5 large rooms; all conveniences; well arranged; $500 cash and the balance easy. This is in the most desirable section of the South Side.

THOMSON & LYNES

18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

Home Bargains

$5,500—BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW, six rooms, hardwood floors, furnace, etc. It is a real bargain and a dandy home sure. We can arrange terms to suit your pocket. Remember, they are right near corner Ponce DeLeon Avenue and North Boulevard.

$5,000—ANOTHER SWELL, six-room bungalow; hardwood floors, and furnace, sleeping porch. You will look a long time before you find a single little home in a class with either of these. Now this is right at Atkins Park; 300 feet of Highland Avenue car line. You may name your terms. $500 cash.

MARTIN-OZBURN REALTY CO.

Third National Bank Bldg. Phones: Ivy 1276; Atlanta 208.

Central Property to Exchange

WE CAN EXCHANGE a small lot on Cone street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers, and at the price at which it can be bought should yield handsome profits.

J. R. SMITH & EWING J. H.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

BEN GRAHAM CO.

318-319 EMPIRE BUILDING. MAIN 4376.

PEACHTREE ROAD—Some of the prettiest lots on the road. We would like to exchange for some renting property or a nice North Side home.

TWO North Georgia farms on W. of A. Railway, to exchange for city renting property.

BEAUTIFUL LAKEVIEW, two-story, eight-room house; large corner lot, 100 by 190 to 20-foot alley. This has a lovely oak grove and is in fine neighborhood. Price $3,200, on very easy terms.

W. M. JEFFRIES AND R. W. PARRIS,
Salesmen.

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Viaduct Is Wanted For Spring Street

Old Agitation To Be Renewed. Brown Building Changes—Home for Druid Hills.

Things are shaping up in such a way, say well-informed real estate men, that remarkable developments may be expected shortly on the west side of the city. A good deal has been said of late about railroad operations, the proposed Bleckley plaza, which will extend to Forsyth street, and of proposed manufactories along railroad rights of way. Now comes the announcement that the Spring street viaduct project has been revived.

A well-known citizen is telling his friends that he will make the race for council with the Spring street viaduct as one of his platform planks.

A survey of the ground necessary for this improvement was made by Captain R. M. Clayton, Chief of Construction, and the idea is for the south end of the bride to strike Madison avenue.

There has been a growing tendency to bring the Terminal Station nearer the center of the city and nearer the Union Station and advocates of the Spring street viaduct anticipate that such an improvement will contribute largely to this effect. The Bleckley Plaza would also serve this end.

The Spring street bridge would be several hundred feet long and the idea would be to make it uniform in height with the other viaducts. The Forsyth street bridge is now highest, with the Broad and Whitehall structures about on a line.

Brown Building Alterations.

The block of buildings of the Joseph E. Brown Company, on the north side of Wall street, opposite the Union Depot, is undergoing repairs to cost about $500, the metal cornices having been condemned by Building Inspector Hays. The old cornices will be replaced with brick and cement.

To Build in Druid Hills.

Charles T. Hopkins, the well-known attorney, will soon sell his home at 403 North Boulevard, it was learned Tuesday, and will erect a handsome home in Druid Hills. The Hopkins home is one of the oldest in the neighborhood, and is located on a lot 150 by 160 feet. It is at the corner of Angier avenue.

Loan Money at 7 Per Cent.

There is no lack of loan money at 7 per cent on all kinds of Atlanta property, according to S. B. McKinney, of the loan department of the Edwin P. Ansley Real Estate Agency.

"Real estate is the best security for money," declared Mr. McKinney, "and I would loan on any kind of Atlanta property that was worth anything. We are getting money regularly from several States of the Union, and this looks like a good sign to me. Frequently the loan agents don't recommend loans on anything except central and semi-central property, but I consider the suburban property around Atlanta splendid security."

To Fix Price for Floors.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company are meeting Tuesday afternoon to fix a price on four floors of the chamber home at the southeast corner of North Pryor street and Auburn avenue, a request for such a price having come from the committee looking for a site for the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association exhibit building. Real estate men are watching the outcome with interest, inasmuch as the building will be a distinct addition to whatever district it adorns.

Application for Dormitory.

An application was filed Tuesday with Building Inspector Hays for a permit to build a three-story dormitory for the Marist College on the east side of Ivy street, near Peachtree, at a cost of $40,000. The Mackle-Crawford Construction Company have the contract.

Plans for Exhibit Building.

Among the propositions for a site for the permanent exhibit building of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association is one by L. O. Turner, the well-known real estate man, who would locate this structure on the west side of South Pryor street, 95 feet south of East Mitchell street. The lot is 105 by 185 feet, and a client of Mr. Turner's would sell it for $80,000, on terms acceptable to the Chamber of Commerce.

J. R. Smith's proposition was to erect a $100,000 building at the northwest corner of Bartow and Walton streets on a lot fronting 100 feet on Walton and 95 feet on Bartow. Mr. Smith and associates would lease this property ten years at $18,000 a year, payable $1,500 monthly, with an option to purchase at the end of a year for $185,000. A loan of about $75,000 would have to be assumed and five annual notes of $17,000 would be given at 6 per cent, $25,000 to be cash.

East Lake Sales.

J. W. Dobbins & Co. report the sale of three building lots in the subdivision of the East Lake Drive, Land and Improvement Company for an aggregate of about $2,100. These are in block 2 and just off Lakeview drive. Several new homes are going up in this subdivision.

Mims Parcel Brings $10,937.

W. N. Gary has bought from the estate of Sue Harper Mims, through the L. C. Green Realty Company, a 60 by 145 foot lot on Peachtree Circle, in Ansley Park, for $10,937. This is known as lot 2 of block 13.

Resume Healey Work.

Work was again taken up Tuesday on the Healey Building, following a ten-day strike, and prospects point to satisfactory progress from now on. The Healey lost 60 days at the start because her giant cranes failed to arrive, and thus fell far behind the Hurt Building and the Winecoff Hotel. The latter are due to be completed October 1, but the Healey Building will not be ready for tenants until after January 1, 1914.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$28,000—James T. Williams et al. to Williams-Hartsock Company, lot 55 by 195 feet, west side West Peachtree street, 218 feet south of West Third street. February 5.

$6,715—Charles B. Wallace to R. H. Caldwell, Jr., and Miss Emily E. Mills, lot 53 by 200 feet, southwest corner Gordon and Peeples streets. July 2.

$800—White Provision Company to Ware & Harper, lot 80 by 100 feet, west side Garibaldi street, 80 feet south of Eades street, seven-eighths interest. April 11.

$60—Atlanta Cemetery Association to William V. Sloan, lot 79, block 6, Atlanta Park Cemetery. July 17.

$60—Same to same, lot 78, block 6, same cemetery. April 16.

$2,350—Lula H. Callaway to Goldberg & Klein, lot 32 by 90 feet, south side Woodward avenue, 126 feet east of Fraser street. December 9, 1910.

$1 and Other Consideration—W. R. Doyle and Mary V. Jones to E. S. Kelley, No. 230 Greensferry avenue, 56 by 115 feet. January 6.

$1,350—E. S. Kelly to Dora Giles, same property. June 4.

$1,250—West End Park Company to M. G. Norris, lot 178 by 62 feet, west side Ontario avenue, south side Stokes avenue, 350 feet north of South Gordon street. July 18.

$150—J. J. West to Mrs. Frank Gallagher, lot 57 by 190 feet, on Virginia avenue, land lot 130. July 14.

Warranty Deeds.

$6,500—Mrs. Lucile C. Christian to I. H. Morehead, Jr., lot 50 by 150 feet, east side Pryor street, 190 feet north of Georgia avenue. July 16.

Love and Affection—A. D. Morrison to Mrs. A. B. Morrison, Nos. 55 and 57 Crew street, 44 by 100 feet, March 18.

$150—Elizabeth Pennington to C. L. DeFoor, lot 50 by 173 feet, north side Princeton avenue, 750 feet west of east line of land lot 192. July 19.

$875—J. F. Mayfield to H. G. White, lot 50 by 182 feet, east side Howell Mill road, 960 feet north of line of land lot 153. July 21.

$650—Fred Albright (by guardian) to Max and Ida Liberson, lot 27 by 85 feet, north side Woodward avenue, 139 feet west of Cameron street. July 21.

$700—Max and Ida Liberson to Peter A. Farrington, same property. July 21.

$2,500—J. A. Sewell to C. H. Thompson, lot 50 by 134 feet, north side Center street, 250 feet west of Cochran street. July 17.

$14,000—D. W. Morgan to Margaret Lawshe and Lula L. Kingsbery, No. 250 St. Charles avenue, 50 by 150 feet. July 1.

$2,200—J. H. Phillips to Edd Eidson, lot 50 by 200 feet, south side Peachtree avenue, 100 feet west of Grand View avenue. June 11.

$3,800—C. R. O'Quinn to Mrs. M. T. Langston, No. 109 Confederate avenue, 38 by 94 feet. June 30.

$2,850—Interstate Land Company to T. J. Ware, lots 7 and 8, block C of Peachtree Terrace, land lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 24.

$8,000—M. G. Norris to A. A. Almand, lot 62 by 178 feet, west side Ontario avenue, 350 feet north of South Gordon street. July 21.

Quitclaim Deeds.

$5 and to Correct Description—Mrs. Frankie W. Perkins et al. to Mrs. N. W. Perkins, four-fifths of an acre, on northwest side of Central of Georgia Railroad, 379 feet northwest of Perkins street. July 18.

$1 and Other Considerations—The Prest-o-Lite Company to the Prest-o-Lite Company, Inc., lot 223 by 70 feet, northwest side of Kuhrt street, 97 feet south of McDaniel street. Also all other property now owned or hereafter acquired by grantor. June 23.

$175—Mrs. Missouri E. Plaster to Interstate Land Company, lots 7 and 8, block C, of Peachtree Terrace, land lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 26.

$725—Charles L. Truitt to Isaiah Patrick, lot 209 by 150 feet, on northwest side of unnamed street in land lot 119, being part of lot 2 of William W. White estate. June 25.

$600—Charles J. Shelverton to Walter E. Shelverton, lot 95 by 150 feet, on Washington street, in land lot 161, Fourteenth District, one-third interest. November 21, 1910.

BUILDING PERMITS.

$30,000—McKenzie Building Company, 5-7 Decatur street; alterations. W. E. Mashburn.

$1,500—Mrs. S. D. Frazier, 252 Gordon street; remodel dwelling. W. H. Passmore.

$300—E. E. Steed, 132 Acton street; one-story frame dwelling. Day work.

$100—Carrie L. Chapman, 309 West Fair street; repairs. Day work.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

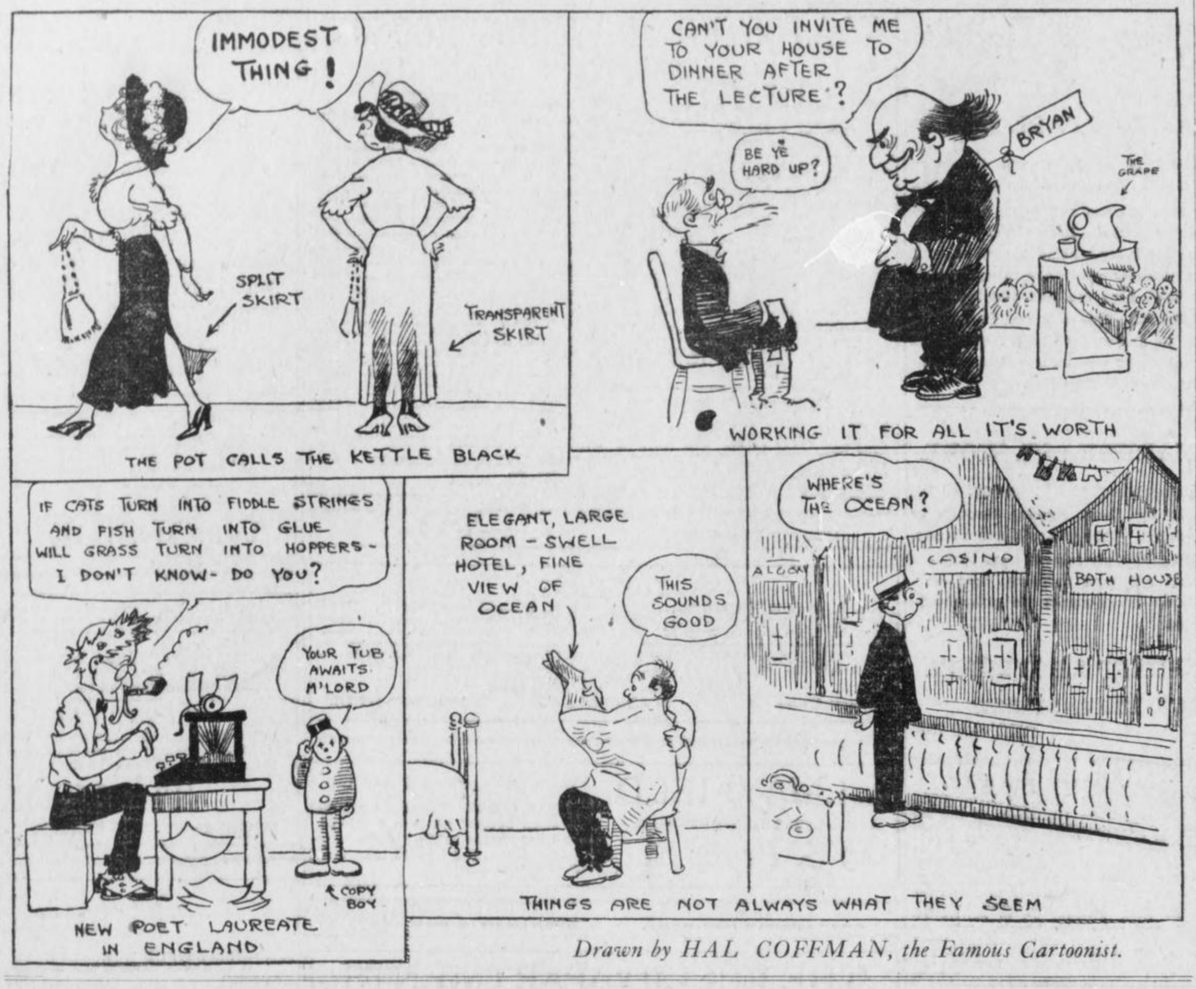
A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News



Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

* * *

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

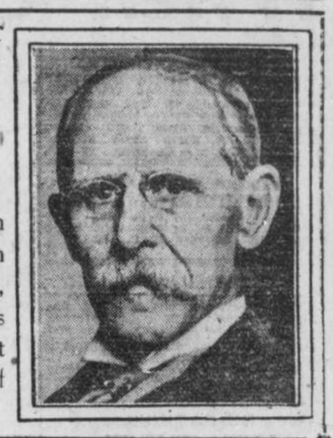
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal t the strength of a steel cable fiv hundred miles in diameter; bu there is no air, and no other tan gible thing in the open spac 240,000 miles across, that gap between the moon and the earth

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at an moment, gravitation will keep o adding speed as if he had ju started. Disregarding the slig retardation produced by the re sistance of the air, he will fa 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

LEE CONFRONTS JIM CONLEY

BASEBALL

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913.

Copyright, 1906, By The Georgian Co.
2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE

FINAL

THOMPSON LOSES HIS FIRST GAME 11-2

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Kolliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the girls saw the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

LATEST NEWS

Rain cut in again to-day and motorcycle races at Jack Prince's Motordrome had to be called off for to-night. The management decided it would give the weather a fair chance to get settled this time, and postponed the meet until Friday night.

E. C. Kilpatrick, a clerk for the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, arrested Tuesday afternoon on the charge of insulting several women in the Grant Building, forfeited the $200 bond under which he was released when he failed to put in an appearance for his trial in the Recorder's Court Wednesday afternoon. His arrest on sight was ordered.

BOSTON, July 23.—The Holland-American liner Sloterdyke reported by wireless this afternoon that she was nearing port with a huge hole battered through her steel plates, having been in collision with a four-masted schooner, name unknown.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23. Criminal prosecutions may result from investigation into the origin of the fire which destroyed the Binghamton Clothing Company's plant with a death list estimated at 58.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Colonel M. M. Mulhall assisted Otto L. Bannard, Republican candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909, using all his influence against Hall, according to letters read by the Overman Lobby Committee to-day. Ambition of D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., high in the councils of the manufacturers' organization, to be appointed Ambassador to China following the recall of Ambassador Crane, was revealed.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Just before entering into a conference with the Federal Board of Mediators who are seeking to adjust the differences between the Eastern railroads and their trainment, W. C. Lee, president of the B. of R. T., to-day denied that he had held a conference in 1910 with George W. Perkins, when a member of J. P. Morgan & Co., relatives to a wage controversy on the Erie Railroad.

COLUMBUS, July 23.—Dolly Clarke, a woman of the restricted district, was drowned in the Chattahoochee River this afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A great battle is raging in Shanghai, China, this afternoon. The fighting centered about the arsenal, where quantities of ammunition was stored.

ROME, July 23.—Pope Pius to-day ordered the dismissal of all the members of the Swiss guards. Earlier in the day the men had been instructed that they must submit to his discipline. This they refused to do.

BOSTON, July 23.—In the three singles matches in the Eastern singles championship played at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, to-day, W. M. Johnston, the young Californian, won a straight set victory over Gardener Beals. G. M. Church, of Tenafly, N. J., defeated M. C. Baggs in straight sets and A. S. Dabney, local crack, won from Dean Mathey, of this city.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—A reporter in a newspper dispatch boat, through field glasses this afternoon found the bodies of ex-Postmaster L. W. Dutro and Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, drowned Tuesday, floating near the Memphis harbor.

ATHENS, July 23.—Sixty Bulgarians were arrested to day after attempting to blow up the train on which the Greek Premier was traveling to Sofia.

PEKIN, CHINA, July 23.—Tong King Chong, one of the tw American Senators in the Chinese Parliament, and close personal friends of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, is in prison here to-day and may be beheaded on orders of President Yuan Shai Kai for his sympathy with the rebels in the south. Tong King Chong was accused of being in correspondence with Dr. Sen and was thrown into prison as a rebel.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day commuted the sentence of Isaac B. Walker, vice president of the Union Bank, of Dallas, Texas, who was sentenced to five years at Leavenworth, Kans., May 29, 1912, for misapplication of funds of his bank. Walker was found to have been an innocent victim of a loan transaction.

ASKS PROBE OF ATTACK ON SOULE

Assembly Likely to Investigate Report Misrepresentation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

FEDERAL LEAGUE.

St. Louis	023	001	000	6	12	3
Chicago	201	010	000	4	12	2

Raymer and O'Neill; Ashenfelder, McGuire and McDonough. Umpires, Wilson and Newhouse.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	040	000	000—4	3	0
Indianapolis	000	001	32x—6	9	4

Conroy and Murray; Billiard and Jester. Umpires, Conklin and Flaherty.

RACING RESULTS

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Plate Glass 113 (Knapp), 3-5, 1-5, out, won; Panzareta 98 (Kederis), 7-2, 7-10, 1-5, second; Sir Blaise 109 (Hopkins), 20, 5, 2, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Also ran: T. P. Conliff, Upright, Be, Mediator, General Ben Ledi.

SECOND—5½ furlongs: Black Tony 121 (Loftus), 9-20, 1-6, out, won; Rustling Brass 113 (Turner), 7- 6-5, 1-2, second; Tattler 106 (Martin), 8- 2- 7-10, third. Time 1:07 4-5. Also ran: Erin, Perpetual, Caronome.

THIRD—Five furlongs: Miss Declare 107 (J. Montour), 6, 5-2, 6-5, won; Emerald Gem 100 (Neylon), 3, 3-2, 7-10, second; Czr Michael 107 (Goose), 2, even, 1-2, third. Time 1:001-5. Also ran: Jane L., Behest, Superl, Patty Regan, Harbord, Woof, Tempest, Basante.

FOURTH—Mile: Prince Ahmed 100 (Deronde), 6, 2, even, won; Blackford 90 (Kederis), 3, even, 1-2, second; Benanet 94 (McDonald), 6, 2, even, third. Time 1:38 3-5. Also ran: Spring Maid, Fountain Fay, Edda, Cliff Edge, High Private.

FIFTH—Mile and furlong: First Sight 112 (Knapp), 18-5, even, out, won; Donerail 108 (Goose), 18-5, even, out, second; Barnegat 104 (Hoffman), 6, 8-5, out, third. Time, 1:52. Also ran: Buskin.

SIXTH—Five and one-half furlongs: Widow Wise 96 (Grey), 30, 10, 5, won; Gaskel 101 (Kederis), 10, 6, 3, second; Tankard 110 (Adams), 3, 6-5, 3-5, third. Time, 1:07 1-5. Also ran: Chad Buford, Brawney, Fred Levy, Satire, Cedarbrook, Coy, Chuckles, Pepgun.

SEVENTH—Mile and sixteenth: Mycenae 95 (Wilson), 12, 5, 2, won; Tecumseh 88 (Neylon), 6, 5-2, 6-5, second; Forehead 103 (Montour), 15, 6, 3, third. Time, 1:47 1-5. Also ran: Batouche, Volita, Patruche, Dynamite, L. C. Eckert, Mudsill, J. H. Houghton, Napier, Woodcraft, Effendi, Husky Lad.

ENTRIES.

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Two-year-olds, selling, 5½ furlongs: Anytime 105, Andes 108, Robert Oliver 110, The Spirit 105, Trap 105, Ovation 105, Lady Grant 110, xWater Lily 105.

SECOND—Three-year-olds and up, mares and geldings, selling, mile: Cadeau 109, Oakhurst 113, xEuterpe 84, Judge Walser 107, Klinka 102, Joe Diebold 109.

THIRD—Two-year-olds, conditions, 5½ furlongs: Stromboli 112, Flittergold 119, Undercover 108, Cliff Field 108, Orotund 109, Figinny 108, Spearhead 112, Hurakan 109, Surprising 112.

FOURTH—Three-year-olds, Southampton Hndicap, mile and one-sixteenth: Monmouth 96, Flying Fairy 112, Strenuous 100, Fifty Five 99.

FIFTH — Four - year - olds and up, steeplechase, selling, about 2¼ miles: Son of the Wind 141, Shnnon River 137, xTillie D. 138, Tom Cat 142, Pilot II 142, Octopus 142, xxEssex II 138, Adventuress 130.

SIXTH—Three-year-olds and up, selling, 6 furlongs: Deduction 109, Montrossor 101, Yanghee 107, Little Jupiter 104, Ivabel 97, Judge Walser 115, Aviator 109, Water Welles 109.

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.
xx—Apprentice allowance ten pounds claimed.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	000	001	000—1	6	1
St. Paul	100	100	00x—2	9	1

Ferry and Smith; Karger and James. Umpires, Connolly and Murray.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000	000	000—0	5	3
Minneapolis	300	000	00x—3	5	0

Northrup and Clemons; Comstock and Owens. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

SECOND GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000	000	000—0	5	3
Minneapolis	200	000	00x—2	4	1

Woodburn and Clemons; Gilligan and Smith. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

Toledo-Milwaukee, no game; wet grounds.

Indianapolis-Kansas City, no game, rain.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Baltimore	101	002	000—4	16	0
Toronto	001	000	010—2	4	2

Cottrell and Egan; Gearne, Gaward and Graham. Umpires, Finneran and Hart.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Jersey City	102	000	010—4	7	4
Montreal	020	202	00x—6	12	0

McHale, Manser and Wells; Dale and Burns. Umpires, Nattin and Owens.

Newark	401	101	010—8	12	4
Buffalo	030	000	000—3	7	3

Shack and Smith; Main, Mattern and Lalonge. Umpires, Hayes and Carpenter.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Providence	000	100	000—1	7	5
Rochester	321	002	10x—9	16	0

Ruaigle, Moran and Onslow; Quinn and Williams. Umpires, Kelly and Mullen.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Portsmouth	001	000	000—1	5	1
Newport News	103	000	00x—4	7	2

Verbout and Holloman; Austin and Pewell. Umpire, Norcum.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Roanoke	100	005	100—7	7	1
Norfolk	000	020	000	2	6	3

Tolson and Leibs; Dye and Stewart. Umpire, Kelly.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Gadsden	130	000	00x—4	3	1
Talladega	000	000	000—0	4	1

Lignan and Jordan; Robertson and Richards.

...qt (M shrdlu shrdlu shrdlu upu

GA-ALABAMA

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Opelika	000	100—1	5	0
Newnan	000	000—0	2	1

Catley and Bone; Luttrell and Rice. Called on account of wet grounds.

HARRELL IN FORM FOR MEMPHIS

Thompson Weakens in Closing Innings and Bernhard's Men Bat Out Easy Victory.

THE BOX SCORE.

Score by Innings:		R.	H.	E.
ATLANTA	001 000 001—	2	7	1
MEMPHIS	001 000 37x—	11	13	2

CRACKERS—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Agler, 1b	0	0	12	1	0
Bisland, ss	1	1	1	4	0
Welchonce, cf	0	0	4	0	0
Long, rf	0	3	0	0	0
Alperman, 2b	0	1	1	1	1
Smith, 3b	0	1	1	1	0
Bailey, lf	0	1	1	0	0
Dunn, c	0	0	4	1	0
Thompson, p	1	0	0	3	0
Totals	2	7	24	11	1

TURTLES—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Love, 2b	1	2	3	3	0
Merritt, cf	0	1	2	0	1
Baerwald, rf	1	1	1	0	0
Ward, 3b	0	0	1	0	1
Schweitzer, lf	2	2	2	0	0
Abstein, 1b	2	1	9	1	0
Shanler, ss	2	2	1	3	0
Snell, c	2	2	8	0	0
Harrell, p	1	2	0	4	0
Totals	11	13	27	11	2

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Bailey, Love, Abstein. Home run—Love. Double plays—Shanley to Love to Snell. Struck out—by Harrell 6; by Thompson 3. Bases on balls—off Harrell 2; off Thompson 1. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Snell, Ward, Bisland. stolen bases—Long, Shanley, Manush 2. Umpires, Rudderham and Hart.

RED ELM FALL PARK, MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—The Turtles pounded out a 11-to-2 victory over the Crackers here this afternoon. This gives Bernhard's men two of the three-game series.

Carl Thompson, on the mound for the visitors, suffered his first defeat in a Cracker uniform. He weakened in the final innings and was batted all over the field. Harrell was in great form and had no trouble in holding the losers.

The winners had a battingfest in the eighth inning and scored seven runs. Love managed to get a homer with two on bases.

FIRST INNING.

Agler was safe on Ward's error. Bisland sacrificed, Abstein to Love, Love covering first. Welchonce out, Love to Abstein. Agler took third. Long out, Harrell to Abstein. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love went out, Smith to Agler. Merritt singled to center and was out stealing. Dunn to Alperman. Baerwald popped to Long. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Alperman fanned. Smith singled to left. Bailey doubled to left, Smith went to third. Dunn popped to Abstein. Thompson fanned. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Welchonce. Abstein grounded out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland singled to right. Welchonce went out, Harrell to Abstein. Long singled to center, scoring Bisland and Long stole second. Alperman popped to Ward. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

Shenley out, Bisland to Agler. Snell singled to left. Harrell sacrificed. Love doubled to Center, scoring Snell. Merritt grounded to Bisland and was out to Agler. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

FOURTH INNING.

Smith went to second when Merritt dropped his long fly in deep center. Bailey walked. Dunn out, Harrell to Abstein and both runners advanced on the out. Thompson hit to Harrell and Smith was out in a chase. Thompson went to second. Agler fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald grounded out Alperman to Agler. Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Bailey. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Bisland grounded out, Love to Abstein. Welchonce walked. Long beat out a slow bunt to third for a hit and Welchonce took second. Alperman popped to Abstein. Smith flied to Schweitzer. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

Abstein out, Smith to Agler. Shanley out, Thompson to Agler. Snell walked. Harrell popped to Bisland. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Bailey flied to Love. Dunn flied to Baerwald. Thompson fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love out, Bisland to Agler. Merritt out, Alperman to Agler. Baerwald flied to Welchonce. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland out, Shanley to Abstein. Welchonce flied to Merritt. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer singled to left. Abstein doubled to center and Schweitzer was held at third. Shanley singled past short, scoring Schweitzer and Abstein. Shanley stole second. Snell grounded to Bisland who threw to third to catch Shanley. Shanley was safe on a close decision, Harrell singled to right, scoring Shanley. Love grounded to Agler, who threw Snell out at plate to Dunn. Merritt flied out to Welchonce. FOUR HITS, THREE RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.

Long singled to center. Alperman singled to left and Long took second. Smith grounded to Shanley, forcing Alperman at second to Love, and Long was out at the plate, Love to Snell. Bailey popped to Shanley. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald singles to left. Ward bunted to Thompson and was out to Agler. Schweitzer singled to left, scoring Baerwald. Abstein grounded to Smith, who threw to second to catch Schweitzer, and Alperman dropped the throw and all hands were safe. Shanley singled to center, scoring Schweitzer. Snell singled to right, scoring Abstein and Shanley. Harrell singled to right and Snell took second. Love hit a home run in the negro bleachers, scoring Snell and Harrell ahead of him. Merritt flied to Welchonce. Baerwald popped out to Sith. SIX HITS, SEVEN RUNS.

NINTH INNING.

Manning, batting for Thompson, was safe on Abstein's error and stole second. Agler flied to Schweitzer. Manush stole third. Bisland flied to Merritt and Manush scored after the catch. Welchonce went out, Shanley to Abstein. NO HITS, ONE RUN.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT MONTGOMERY—

MONTGOMERY	141	000	0X	-	6	6	4
BIRMINGHAM	000	000	00	-	0	5	2

Brown and Donahue; Gregory and Mayer. Umpires, Breitenstein and Wright.

AT MOBILE—

MOBILE	003	320	0	-	8	11	0
NASHVILLE	000	000	0	-	0	2	1

Cavet and Schmidt; Beck and Gibson. Umpires, Pfenninger and Stockdale. Game called on account of rain.

New Orleans-Chattanooga, no game; rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CHICAGO	243	111	010	-	13	20	2
PHILADELPHIA	032	200	010	-	8	14	1

Cheney, Humphrey, Marshall and Needham; Chalmers, Brennan, Mayer and Howley. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

AT BROOKLYN—

ST. LOUIS	100	000	010	-	2	10	1
BROOKLYN	000	111	40X	-	7	12	1

Harmon and Wingo; Yingling and Miller. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

AT NEW YORK—

PITTSBURG	000	000	000	-	0	2	0
NEW YORK	200	000	00X	-	2	5	0

McQuillen and Gibson; Maruard and Meyers. Umpires, O'Dy and Emslie.

AT BOSTON—

CINCINNATI	000	001	000	-	1	6	0
BOSTON	002	010	10X	-	4	8	2

Packard and Kling; Tyler and Rariden. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CLEVELAND—

BOSTON	300	000	000	-	3	6	1
CLEVELAND	000	203	00X	-	5	10	0

Foster, Leonard and Thomas and Carrigan; Falkenberg and Carisch. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

AT ST. LOUIS—

PHILADELPHIA	000	002	201	-	8	12	0
ST. LOUIS	000	010	000	-	1	9	4

Bender and Thomas; Hamilton and Agnew. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

AT CHICAGO—

WASHINGTON	030	003	001	-	7	8	3
CHICAGO	010	000	000	-	1	6	8

Boehling and Henry; Scott and Schalk. Umpires, Dineen and Egan.

New York-Detroit, no game; rain.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT CORDELE—

CORDELE—
000	120	01X	-	4	9	1
WAYCROSS—
000	000	000	-	0	0	0

SECOND GAME.

CORDELE—
200	0..	...	-	.	.	.
WAYCROSS—
000	0..	...	-	.	.	.

Wilder and Bowen; O'Brien and Covsney. Umpire, Gentle.

AT THOMASVILLE—

THOMASVILLE—
200	000	...	-	2	5	1
AMERICUS—
000	000	...	-	0	1	1

Roth and Dudley; Stewart and Manchester. Umpire, McLaughlin.

AT BRUNSWICK—

BRUNSWICK—
000	000	012	-	3	8	1
VALDOSTA—
000	300	010	-	4	10	1

Zellars and Pierre; Cates and Kite. Umpire, Derrick.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT ALBANY—

ALBANY—
000	200	00X	-	2	7	2
JACKSONVILLE—
000	000	000	-	0	5	1

Luhrson and Wells; Wilder and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

SECOND GAME.

ALBANY—
020	000	00.	-	.	.	.
JACKSONVILLE—
000	000	00.	-	.	.	.

Dugglesby and Wells; Burmeister and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

AT CHARLESTON—

CHARLESTON—
000	000	23X	-	5	9	1
COLUMBUS—
000	000	000	-	0	6	1

Wolfe and Menefee; McCormac and Thompson. Umpire, Barr.

FIRST GAME.

AT MACON—

MACON—
000	000	40X	-	4	11	2
SAVANNAH—
000	001	001	-	2	10	1

Martin and Humphries; Robertson and Geibel. Umpire, Moran.

SECOND GAME.

MACON—
000	000	0 .	-	0	2	2
SAVANNAH—
100	000	2 .	-	3	4	0

Voss and Humphreys; Adams and Geibel. Umpire, Moran.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Winston-Salem	030	000	020—5	11	1
Asheville	000	000	000—0	6	7

Boyle and Smith; Watson and Milliman. Umpire, Sigman.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Charlotte	000	010	000—1	4	0
Greensboro	100	040	00x—5	11	1

Fahrer and Neidercorn; Frye and Lafitte. Umpire, Miller.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Winston	010	000	0—1	5	0
Asheville	030	010	x—4	8	1

Boyle and Smith; Stafford and Milliman. Umpire, Degnan.

NEW WAYCROSS PAPER.

WAYCROSS.—This city has another publication. It is The Sentinel and it's managing editor is C. R. Hawk, until recently connected with The Morning Herald. The Sentinel will be issued weekly.

CONLEY AND LEE PUT ON GRILL BY DORSEY

More Trace Found of Negro Said To Have Witnessed the Phagan Slaying.

The two negro principals in the Phagan case—Newt Lee and Jim Conley—were put on the grill together in the cell of the former in the county jail by Solicitor Dorsey and his assistant, Frank G. Hooper, late Wednesday afternoon.

Present at the cross-examination were J. M. Gantt, former pencil factory emploee, and Detectives Campbell and Starnes, the officers who have had charge of Conley for the past several weeks. After half an hour's questioning Gantt left the jail. Solicitor Dorsey and the others remained, and the questioning of the two negroes continued until a late hour. Conley was then taken back to police headquarters.

Here are Wednesday's important developments in the Phagan murder mystery:

Bloodstained glove of Mary Phagan is said to have been found on the first floor near the place the discovery of her pay envelope was made.

New evidence is found tending to establish the identity of the negro Will Green, said to have seen attack upon Mary Phagan.

Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the pencil factory, undergoes a grilling examination at the hands of Solicitor General Dorsey and his associate counsel, Frank A. Hooper.

Frank Ready for Trial.

J. M. Gantt, expected to give sensational evidence for the prosecution at the trial, is in conference with the solicitor and present at the grilling of Lee.

Leo M. Frank tells Sheriff Mangum that he is eager for the trial to begin, and will be ready when it is called Monday morning.

Solicitor Dorsey announces that he will insist that there be no further delay.

It became known Wednesday that the defense in the Frank case had been informed that the negro Will Green, who is said to have been shooting craps with Jim Conley the day that Mary Phagan was murdered and to have seen her attacked, and the Will Green living at 105 Thurmond street, Atlanta, are the same person.

Private detectives in the employ of the defense have trailed the negro across a half-dozen States and have missed him by as small a margin as 30 minutes in some of the towns they have visited in the chase.

Trailed by a Ring.

Charles Fine, proprietor of the Radius Jewelry Company, No. 107 Peachtree street, when he read in The Georgian that the defense was searching for a Will Green, recalled that he

Continued to Page 2, Column 1.

COTTON STATES.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Meridian	003	001	000—4	11	2
Columbus	400	030	00x—7	11	3

Smith and Alexander; Lunsford and Taylor. Umpire, Law.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Jackson	100	000	01—2	10	1
Selma	000	000	00—0	4	0

Faircloth and Robertson; Baker and Guiterez. Umpire, Williams.

Do You Know

?

the Hottest City on Earth?

Read Page 14

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reprodnce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News

Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

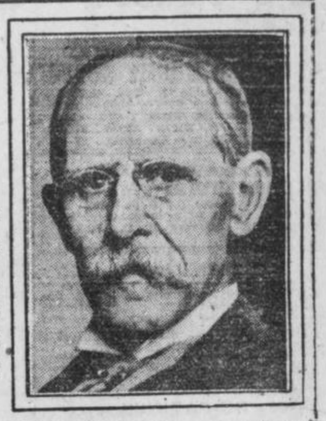
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal t the strength of a steel cable fiv hundred miles in diameter; bu there is no air, and no other tan gible thing in the open space 240,000 miles across, that gap between the moon and the earth

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. Ne matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at an moment, gravitation will keep o adding speed as if he had ju started. Disregarding the slig retardation produced by the re sistance of the air, he will fal 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

LEE CONFRONTS JIM CONLEY

BASEBALL

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1908, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE

FINAL

THOMPSON LOSES HIS FIRST GAME 11-2

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the grils saw the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

LATEST NEWS

Rain cut in again to-day and motorcycle races at Jack Prince's Motordrome had to be called off for to-night. The management decided it would give the weather a fair chance to get settled this time, and postponed the meet until Friday night.

E. C. Kilpatrick, a clerk for the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, arrested Tuesday afternoon on the charge of insulting several women in the Grant Building, forfeited the $200 bond under which he was released when he failed to put in an appearance for his trial in the Recorder's Court Wednesday afternoon. His arrest on sight was ordered.

BOSTON, July 23.—The Holland-American liner Sloterdyke reported by wireless this afternoon that she was nearing port with a huge hole battered through her steel plates, having been in collision with a four-masted schooner, name unknown.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23. Criminal prosecutions may result from investigation into the origin of the fire which destroyed the Binghamton Clothing Company's plant with a death list estimated at 58.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Colonel M. M. Mulhall assisted Otto L. Banhard, Republican candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909, using all his influence against Hall, according to letters read by the Overman Lobby Committee to-day. Ambition of D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., high in the councils of the manufacturers' organization, to be appointed Ambassador to China following the recall of Ambassador Crane, was revealed.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Just before entering into a conference with the Federal Board of Mediators who are seeking to adjust the differences between the Eastern railroads and their trainment, W. C. Lee, president of the B. of R. T., to-day denied that he had held a conference in 1910 with George W. Perkins, when a member of J. P. Morgan & Co., relatives to a wage controversy on the Erie Railroad.

COLUMBUS, July 23.—Dolly Clarke, a woman of the restricted district, was drowned in the Chattahoochee River this afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A great battle is raging in Shanghai, China, this afternoon. The fighting centered about the arsenal, where quantities of ammunition was stored.

ROME, July 23.—Pope Pius to-day ordered the dismissal of all the members of the Swiss guards. Earlier in the day the men had been instructed that they must submit to his discipline. This they refused to do.

BOSTON, July 23.—In the three singles matches in the Eastern singles championship played at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, to-day, W. M. Johnston, the young Californian, won a straight set victory over Gardener Beals. G. M. Church, of Tenafly, N. J., defeated M. C. Baggs in straight sets and A. S. Dabney, local crack, won from Dean Mathey, of this city.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—A reporter in a newspper dispatch boat, through field glasses this afternoon found the bodies of ex-Postmaster L. W. Dutro and Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, drowned Tuesday, floating near the Memphis harbor.

ATHENS, July 23.—Sixty Bulgarians were arrested to day after attempting to blow up the train on which the Greek Premier was traveling to Sofia.

PEKIN, CHINA, July 23.—Tong King Chong, one of the tw American Senators in the Chinese Parliament, and close personal friends of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, is in prison here to-day and may be beheaded on orders of President Yuan Shai Kai for his sympathy with the rebels in the south. Tong King Chong was accused of being in correspondence with Dr. Sen and was thrown into prison as a rebel.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day commuted the sentence of Isaac B. Walker, vice president of the Union Bank, of Dallas, Texas, who was sentenced to five years at Leavenworth, Kans., May 29, 1912, for misapplication of funds of his bank. Walker was found to have been an innocent victim of a loan transaction.

ASKS PROBE OF ATTACK ON SOULE

Assembly Likely to Investigate Report Misrepresentation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

FEDERAL LEAGUE.

St. Louis	023	001	000	—	6	12	3
Chicago	201	010	000	—	4	12	2

Raymer and O'Neill; Ashenfelder, McGuire and McDonough. Umpires, Wilson and Newhouse.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	040	000	000	—	4	3	0
Indianapolis	000	001	32x	—	6	9	4

Conroy and Murray; Billiard and Jester. Umpires, Conklin and Flaherty.

RACING RESULTS

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Plate Glass 113 (Knapp), 3-5, 1-5, out, won; Panzareta 98 (Kederis), 7-2, 7-10, 1-5, second; Sir Blaise 109 (Hopkins), 20, 5, 2, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Also ran: T. P. Conliff, Upright, Be, Mediator, General Ben Ledi.

SECOND—5½ furlongs: Black Tony 121 (Loftus), 9-20, 1-6, out, won; Rustling Brass 113 (Turner), 7- 6-5, 1-2, second; Tattler 106 (Martin), 8- 2- 7-10, third. Time 1:07 4-5. Also ran: Erin, Perpetual, Caronome.

THIRD—Five furlongs: Miss Declare 107 (J. Montour), 6, 5-2, 6-5, won; Emerald Gem 100 (Neylon), 3, 3-2, 7-10, second; Czr Michael 107 (Goose), 2, even, 1-2, third. Time 1:001-5. Also ran: Jane L., Behest, Superl, Patty Regan, Harbord, Woof, Tempest, Basante.

FOURTH—Mile: Prince Ahmed 100 (Deronde), 6, 2, even, won; Blackford 90 (Kederis), 3, even, 1-2, second; Benanet 94 (McDonald), 6, 2, even, third. Time 1:38 3-5. Also ran: Spring Maid, Fountain Fay, Edda, Cliff Edge, High Private.

FIFTH—Mile and furlong: First Sight 112 (Knapp), 18-5, even, out, won; Donerail 108 (Goose), 18-5, even, out, second; Barnegat 104 (Hoffman), 6, 8-5, out, third. Time, 1:52. Also ran: Buskin.

SIXTH—Five and one-half furlongs: Widow Wise 96 (Grey), 30, 10, 5, won; Gaskel 101 (Kederis), 10, 6, 3, second; Tankard 110 (Adams), 3, 6-5, 3-5, third. Time, 1:07 1-5. Also ran: Chad Buford, Brawney, Fred Levy, Satire, Cedarbrook, Coy, Chuckles, Popgun.

SEVENTH—Mile and sixteenth: Mycenae 95 (Wilson), 12, 5, 2, won; Tecumseh 88 (Neylon), 6, 5-2, 6-5, second; Forehead 103 (Montour), 15, 6, 3, third. Time, 1:47 1-5. Also ran: Batouche, Volita, Patruche, Dynamite, L. C. Eckert, Mudsill, J. H. Houghton, Napier, Woodcraft, Effendi, Husky Lad.

ENTRIES.

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Two-year-olds, selling, 5½ furlongs: Anytime 105, Andes 108, Robert Oliver 110, The Spirit 105, Trap 105, Ovation 105, Lady Grant 110, xWater Lily 105.

SECOND—Three-year-olds and up, mares and geldings, selling, mile: Cadeau 109, Oakhurst 113, xEuterpe 84, Judge Walser 107, Klinka 102, Joe Diebold 109.

THIRD—Two-year-olds, conditions, 5½ furlongs: Stromboli 112, Flittergold 119, Undercover 108, Cliff Field 108, Orotund 109, Figinny 108, Spearhead 112, Hurakan 109, Surprising 112.

FOURTH—Three-year-olds, Southampton Hndicap, mile and one-sixteenth: Monmouth 96, Flying Fairy 112, Strenuous 100, Fifty Five 99.

FIFTH — Four - year - olds and up, steeplechase, selling, about 2¼ miles: Son of the Wind 141, Shnnon River 137, xTillie D. 138, Tom Cat 142, Pilot II 142, Octopus 142, xxEssex II 138, Adventuress 130.

SIXTH—Three-year-olds and up, selling, 6 furlongs: Deduction 109, Montrossor 101, Yanghee 107, Little Jupiter 104, Ivabel 97, Judge Walser 115, Aviator 109, Water Welles 109.

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.

xx—Apprentice allowance ten pounds claimed.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Columbus	000	001	000	—	1
St. Paul	100	100	00x	—	2	9	1

Ferry and Smith; Karger and James. Umpires, Connolly and Murray.

FIRST GAME.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000	000	000	—	0	5	3
Minneapolis	300	000	00x	—	3	5	0

Northrup and Clemons; Comstock and Owens. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

SECOND GAME.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000	000	000	—	0	5	3
Minneapolis	200	000	00x	—	2	4	1

Woodburn and Clemons; Gilligan and Smith. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

Toledo-Milwaukee, no game; wet grounds.

Indianapolis-Kansas City, no game, rain.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Baltimore	101	002	000	—	4	16	0
Toronto	001	000	010	—	2	4	2

Cottrell and Egan; Gearne, Gaward and Graham. Umpires, Finneran and Hart.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Jersey City	102	000	010	—	4	8	1
Montreal	020	202	00x	—	6	12	0

McHale, Manser and Wells; Dale and Burns. Umpires, Nattin and Owens.

Newark	401	101	010	—	8	12	4
Buffalo	030	000	000	—	3	7	3

Shack and Smith; Main, Mattern and Lalonge. Umpires, Hayes and Carpenter.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Providence	000	100	000	—	1	7	5
Rochester	321	002	10x	—	9	16	0

Ruisigle, Moran and Onslow; Quinn and Williams. Umpires, Kelly and Mullen.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Portsmouth	001	000	000	—	1	5	1
Newport News	103	000	00x	—	4	7	2

Verbout and Holloman; Austin and Pewell. Umpire, Norcum.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Roanoke	100	005	100	—	7	7	1
Norfolk	000	020	000	—	2	6	3

Tolson and Leibs; Dye and Stewart. Umpire, Kelly.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Gadsden	130	000	00x	—	4	3	1
Talladega	000	000	000	—	0	4	1

Lignan and Jordan; Robertson and Richards.

...qv... (M shrdlu shrdlu shrdlu upu

GA-ALABAMA

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Opelika	000	100	—		1	5	0
Newnan	000	000	—		0	2	1

Catley and Bone; Luttrell and Rice. Called on account of wet grounds.

HARRELL IN FORM FOR MEMPHIS

Thompson Weakens in Closing Innings and Bernhard's Men Bat Out Easy Victory.

THE BOX SCORE.

Score by innings:				R.	H.	E.
ATLANTA	001	000	001	— 2	7	1
MEMPHIS	001	000	37x	—11	13	2

CRACKERS—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Agler, 1b	0	0	12	1	0
Bisland, ss	1	1	1	4	0
Welchonce, cf	0	0	4	0	0
Long, rf	0	3	0	0	0
Aiperman, 2b	0	1	1	1	1
Smith, 3b	0	1	1	1	0
Bailey, lf	0	0	1	0	0
Dunn, c	0	0	4	1	0
Thompson, p	1	0	0	3	0
Totals	2	7	24	11	1

TURTLES—	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Love, 2b	1	2	3	3	0
Merritt, cf	0	1	2	0	1
Baerwald, rf	1	1	1	0	0
Ward, 3b	0	0	1	0	1
Schweitzer, lf	2	2	2	0	0
Abstein, 1b	2	1	9	1	1
Shanler, ss	2	2	1	3	0
Snell, c	2	2	8	0	0
Harrell, p	1	2	0	4	0
Totals	11	13	27	11	2

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Bailey, Love, Abstein. Home run—Love. Double plays—Shanley to Love to Snell. Struck out—by Harrell 6; by Thompson 3. Bases on balls—off Harrell 2; off Thompson 1. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Snell, Ward, Bisland. stolen bases—Long, Shanley, Manush 2. Umpires, Rudderham and Hart.

RED ELM FALL PARK, MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—The Turtles pounded out a 11-to-2 victory over the Crackers here this afternoon. This gives Bernhard's men two of the three-game series.

Carl Thompson, on the mound for the visitors, suffered his first defeat in a Cracker uniform. He weakened in the final innings and was batted all over the field. Harrell was in great form and had no trouble in holding the losers.

The winners had a battingfest in the eighth inning and scored seven runs. Love managed to get a homer with two on bases.

FIRST INNING.

Agler was safe on Ward's error. Bisland sacrificed, Abstein to Love, Love covering first. Welchonce out, Love to Abstein. Agler took third. Long out, Harrell to Abstein. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love went out, Smith to Agler. Merritt singled to center and was out stealing, Dunn to Alperman. Baerwald popped to Long. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Alperman fanned. Smith singled to left. Bailey doubled to left, Smith went to third. Dunn popped to Abstein. Thompson fanned. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Welchonce. Abstein grounded out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland singled to right. Welchonce went out, Harrell to Abstein. Long singled to center, scoring Bisland and Long stole second. Alperman popped to Ward. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

Shenley out, Bisland to Agler. Snell singled to left. Harrell sacrificed, Love doubled to Center, scoring Snell. Merritt grounded to Bisland and was out to Agler. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

FOURTH INNING.

Smith went to second when Merritt dropped his long fly in deep center. Bailey walked. Dunn out, Harrell to Abstein and both runners advanced on the out. Thompson hit to Harrell and Smith was out in a chase. Thompson went to second. Agler fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald grounded out Alperman to Agler. Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Bailey. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Bisland grounded out, Love to Abstein. Welchonce walked. Long beat out a slow bunt to third for a hit and Welchonce took second. Alperman popped to Abstein. Smith flied to Schweitzer. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

Abstein out, Smith to Agler. Shanley out, Thompson to Agler. Snell walked. Harrell popped to Bisland. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Bailey flied to Love. Dunn flied to Baerwald. Thompson fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love out, Bisland to Agler. Merritt out, Alperman to Agler. Baerwald flied to Welchonce. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland out, Shanley to Abstein. Welchonce flied to Merritt. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer singled to left. Abstein doubled to center and Schweitzer was held at third. Shanley singled past short, scoring Schweitzer and Abstein. Shanley stole second. Snell grounded to Bisland who threw to third to catch Shanley. Shanley was safe on a close decision, Harrell singled to right, scoring Shanley. Love grounded to Agler, who threw Snell out at plate to Dunn. Merritt flied out to Welchonce. FOUR HITS, THREE RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.

Long singled to center. Alperman singled to left and Long took second. Smith grounded to Shanley, forcing Alperman at second to Love, and Long was out at the plate, Love to Snell. Bailey popped to Shanley. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald singles to left. Ward bunted to Thompson and was out to Agler. Schweitzer singled to left, scoring Baerwald. Abstein grounded to Smith, who threw to second to catch Schweitzer, and Alperman dropped the throw and all hands were safe. Shanley singled to center, scoring Schweitzer. Snell singled to right, scoring Abstein and Shanley. Harrell singled to right and Snell took second. Love hit a home run in the negro bleachers, scoring Snell and Harrell ahead of him. Merritt flied to Welchonce. Baerwald popped out to Sith. SIX HITS, SEVEN RUNS.

NINTH INNING.

Manning, batting for Thompson, was safe on Abstein's error and stole second. Agler flied to Schweitzer. Manush stole third. Bisland flied to Merritt and Manush scored after the catch. Welchonce went out, Shanley to Abstein. NO HITS, ONE RUN.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT MONTGOMERY—

MONTGOMERY	141	000	0X	-	6	6	4
BIRMINGHAM	000	000	00	-	0	5	2

Brown and Donahue; Gregory and Mayer. Umpires, Breitenstein and Wright.

AT MOBILE—

MOBILE	003	320	0	-	8	11	0
NASHVILLE	000	000	0	-	0	2	1

Cavet and Schmidt; Beck and Gibson. Umpires, Pfenninger and Stockdale. Game called on account of rain.

New Orleans-Chattanooga, no game; rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CHICAGO	243	111	010	-	13	20	2
PHILADELPHIA	032	200	010	-	8	14	1

Cheney, Humphrey, Marshall and Needham; Chalmers, Brennan, Mayer and Howley. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

AT BROOKLYN—

ST. LOUIS	100	000	010	-	2	10	1
BROOKLYN	000	111	40X	-	7	12	1

Harmon and Wingo; Yingling and Miller. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

AT NEW YORK—

PITTSBURG	000	000	000	-	0	2	0
NEW YORK	200	000	00X	-	2	5	0

McQuillen and Gibson; Maruard and Meyers. Umpires, O'Dy and Emslie.

AT BOSTON—

CINCINNATI	000	001	000	-	1	6	0
BOSTON	002	010	10X	-	4	8	2

Packard and Kling; Tyler and Rariden. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CLEVELAND—

BOSTON	300	000	000	-	3	6	1
CLEVELAND	000	203	00X	-	5	10	0

Foster, Leonard and Thomas and Carrigan; Falkenberg and Carisch. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

AT ST. LOUIS—

PHILADELPHIA	000	002	201	-	8	12	0
ST. LOUIS	000	010	000	-	1	9	4

Bender and Thomas; Hamliton and Agnew. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

AT CHICAGO—

WASHINGTON	030	003	001	-	7	8	3
CHICAGO	010	000	000	-	1	6	8

Boehling and Henry; Scott and Schalk. Umpires, Dineen and Egan.

New York-Detroit, no game; rain.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT CORDELE—

CORDELE
000	120	01X	-	4	9	1
WAYCROSS
000	000	000	-	0	0	0

SECOND GAME.

CORDELE
200	0..	...	-	.	.	.
WAYCROSS
000	0..	...	-	.	.	.

Wilder and Bowen; O'Brien and Coveney. Umpire, Gentle.

AT THOMASVILLE—

THOMASVILLE
200	000	...	-	2	5	1
AMERICUS
000	000	...	-	0	1	1

Roth and Dudley; Stewart and Manchester. Umpire, McLaughlin.

AT BRUNSWICK—

BRUNSWICK
000	000	012	-	3	8	1
VALDOSTA
000	300	010	-	4	10	1

Zellars and Pierre; Cates and Kite. Umpire, Derrick.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT ALBANY—

ALBANY
000	200	00X	-	2	7	2
JACKSONVILLE
000	000	000	-	0	5	1

Luhrson and Wells; Wilder and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

SECOND GAME.

ALBANY
020	000	00	-	.	.	.
JACKSONVILLE
000	000	00	-	.	.	.

Dugglesby and Wells; Burmeister and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

AT CHARLESTON—

CHARLESTON
000	000	23X	-	5	9	1
COLUMBUS
000	000	000	-	0	6	1

Wolfe and Menefee; McCormac and Thompson. Umpire, Barr.

FIRST GAME.

AT MACON—

MACON
000	000	40X	-	4	11	2
SAVANNAH
000	001	001	-	2	10	1

Martin and Humphries; Robertson and Gelbel. Umpire, Moran.

SECOND GAME.

MACON
000	000	0	.	-	0	2	2
SAVANNAH
100	000	2	..	-	3	4	0

Voss and Humphreys; Adams and Gelbel. Umpire, Moran.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Winston-Salem	030	000	020	—	5	11	1
Asheville	000	000	000	—	0	6	7

Boyle and Smith; Watson and Milliman. Umpire, Sigman.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Charlotte	000	010	000	—	1	4	0
Greensboro	100	040	00x	—	5	11	1

Fahrer and Neidercorn; Frye and Lafitte. Umpire, Miller.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Winston	010	000	0	—	1	5	0
Asheville	030	010	x	—	4	8	1

Boyle and Smith; Stafford and Milliman. Umpire, Degnan.

NEW WAYCROSS PAPER.

WAYCROSS.—This city has another publication. It is The Sentinel and it's managing editor is C. R. Hawk, until recently connected with The Morning Herald. The Sentinel will be issued weekly.

CONLEY AND LEE PUT ON GRILL BY DORSEY

More Trace Found of Negro Said To Have Witnessed the Phagan Slaying.

The two negro principals in the Phagan case—Newt Lee and Jim Conley—were put on the grill together in the cell of the former in the county jail by Solicitor Dorsey and his assistant, Frank G. Hooper, late Wednesday afternoon.

Present at the cross-examination were J. M. Gantt, former pencil factory employee, and Detectives Campbell and Starnes, the officers who have had charge of Conley for the past several weeks. After half an hour's questioning Gantt left the jail. Solicitor Dorsey and the others remained, and the questioning of the two negroes continued until a late hour. Conley was then taken back to police headquarters.

Here are Wednesday's important developments in the Phagan murder mystery:

Bloodstained glove of Mary Phagan is said to have been found on the first floor near the place the discovery of her pay envelope was made.

New evidence is found tending to establish the identity of the negro Will Green, said to have seen attack upon Mary Phagan.

Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the pencil factory, undergoes a grilling examination at the hands of Solicitor General Dorsey and his associate counsel, Frank A. Hooper.

Frank Ready for Trial.

J. M. Gantt, expected to give sensational evidence for the prosecution at the trial, is in conference with the solicitor and present at the grilling of Lee.

Leo M. Frank tells Sheriff Mangum that he is eager for the trial to begin, and will be ready when it is called Monday morning.

Solicitor Dorsey announces that he will insist that there be no further delay.

It became known Wednesday that the defense in the Frank case had been informed that the negro Will Green, who is said to have been shooting craps with Jim Conley the day that Mary Phagan was murdered and to have seen her attacked, and the Will Green living at 105 Thurmond street, Atlanta, are the same person.

Private detectives in the employ of the defense have trailed the negro across a half-dozen States and have missed him by as small a margin as 30 minutes in some of the towns they have visited in the chase.

Trailed by a Ring.

Charles Fine, proprietor of the Radius Jewelry Company, No. 107 Peachtree street, when he read in The Georgian that the defense was searching for a Will Green, recalled that he

Continued to Page 2, Column 1.

COTTON STATES.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Meridian	003	001	000	—	4	11	2
Columbus	400	030	00x	—	7	11	3

Smith and Alexander; Lunsford and Taylor. Umpire, Law.

Score:					R.	H.	E.
Jackson	100	000	01	—	2	10	1
Selma	000	000	00	—	0	4	0

Faircloth and Robertson; Baker and Guiterez. Umpire, Williams.

Do You Know

?

the Hottest City on Earth?

Read Page 14

FLASHLIGHT OF SOCIETY FOLK AT WATER FROLIC AT FORREST ADAIR'S POOL TUESDAY EVENING

LANFORD SCOUTS BLUDGEON TALE OF DEFENSE

Chief Declares Pinkertons Made No Report of Alleged Find to Him.

Continued From Page 1.

had a ring in his store which was to have been called for by a negro of the same name, but which unaccountably had been left there without a claimant. He regarded this as peculiar, and notified persons interested in the defense.

A negro calling himself J. Will Green visited the store May 16 and displayed a rather ornate gold ring, worth probably $12 or $15. He desired to have a Radius diamond set in it, and said that he would be around within a day or two after it. He never returned. It was about this time that the report spread around the city that the Phagan murder had had an eyewitness in the person of a negro who was shooting craps with Conley.

A sister of the Will Green who left the ring at the jewelry store was seen Wednesday. She said that her brother had left town about two months ago and that none of the family had heard from him since or had any idea where he was. She said he was working with some small circus or theatrical troupe when he left.

The Green that the detectives have been pursuing is known to be connected with a circus or show, additional strength thus being given to the theory that their identity is the same.

She thought the detectives were mistaken in believing that her brother knew anything about the crime. He slept practically all the day that Mary Phagan was murdered, she declared, and didn't even go downtown to see the Memorial Day parade, although he was urged by one of his friends. He was working nights for the Southern Railway at this time, according to the sister, joining the show people a few days later.

She failed to explain why he suddenly had left town without stopping to recover the gold ring of considerable value which he had left at the Fine jewelry store.

Gantt Sees Solicitor.

J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee of the National Pencil Factory, who Wednesday conferred with Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper, denied that he made the startling statement to them that he saw at 1 o'clock on the day that Mary Phagan was murdered Jim Conley and Leo Frank conversing together in Frank's office.

Intimation that Gantt contemplated making such a statement to the prosecution is said to have come to the defense in an anonymous letter some time ago. The writer said in effect:

"I was standing on the street the other day and heard Gantt talking to some other fellow. He told this fellow that he had stood across the street Saturday, April 26, and had looked through the window of the factory and seen Jim Conley talking to Frank in Frank's office.

"I don't think Gantt has told this to the Solicitor yet, and, as he is not in very good financial condition, I think that he might be persuaded to keep it quiet if he was sent a little money."

No attention was paid to the letter.

Lee Grilled Again.

Gantt, the Solicitor and attorney were in the jail together. They remained two and a quarter hours questioning Newt Lee closely. They went over practically the same ground that was covered in the inquest, quizzing him about his actions the day of the murder and his whereabouts every minute during the time before he reported at the factory and about Frank's manner when he met him at the factory.

Lee stuck to his previous story, and declared that he knew nothing about the crime until he came upon the body that night. They asked him how he happened to go into the basement at that time, and he made the same explanation that he gave before the Coroner's Jury.

Lee said that he did not see Conley there that night and did not even know Conley by sight. In the afternoon it was planned to take Conley from the police station to the jail to confront Lee and question the two together.

Lanford Scouts Bludgeon Evidence.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about it may be a Radius diamond set in it, and said that he would be around within a day or two after it. He never returned. It was about this time that the report spread around the city that the Phagan murder had had an eyewitness in the person of a negro who was shooting craps with Conley.

A sister of the Will Green who left the ring at the jewelry store was seen Wednesday. She said that her brother had left town about two months ago and that none of the family had heard from him since or had any idea where he was. She said he was working with some small circus or theatrical troupe when he left.

The Green that the detectives have been pursuing is known to be connected with a circus or show, additional strength thus being given to the theory that their identity is the same.

She thought the detectives were mistaken in believing that her brother knew anything about the crime. He slept practically all the day that Mary Phagan was murdered, she declared, and didn't even go downtown to see the Memorial Day parade, although he was urged by one of his friends. He was working nights for the Southern Railway at this time, according to the sister, joining the show people a few days later.

She failed to explain why he suddenly had left town without stopping to recover the gold ring of considerable value which he had left at the Fine jewelry store.

Gantt Sees Solicitor.

J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee of the National Pencil Factory, who Wednesday conferred with Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper, denied that he made the startling statement to them that he saw at 1 o'clock on the day that Mary Phagan was murdered Jim Conley and Leo Frank conversing together in Frank's office.

Intimation that Gantt contemplated making such a statement to the prosecution is said to have come to the defense in an anonymous letter some time ago. The writer said in effect:

"I was standing on the street the other day and heard Gantt talking to some other fellow. He told this fellow that he had stood across the street Saturday, April 26, and had looked through the window of the factory and seen Jim Conley talking to Frank in Frank's office.

"I don't think Gantt has told this to the Solicitor yet, and, as he is not in very good financial condition, I think that he might be persuaded to keep it quiet if he was sent a little money."

No attention was paid to the letter.

Lee Grilled Again.

Gantt, the Solicitor and attorney were in the jail together. They remained two and a quarter hours questioning Newt Lee closely. They went over practically the same ground that was covered in the inquest, quizzing him about his actions the day of the murder and his whereabouts every minute during the time before he reported at the factory and about Frank's manner when he met him at the factory.

Lee stuck to his previous story, and declared that he knew nothing about the crime until he came upon the body that night. They asked him how he happened to go into the basement at that time, and he made the same explanation that he gave before the Coroner's Jury.

Lee said that he did not see Conley there that night and did not even know Conley by sight. In the afternoon it was planned to take Conley from the police station to the jail to confront Lee and question the two together.

Lanford Scouts Bludgeon Evidence.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Judge Ellis Joins Beavers in Vice War

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the Superior Court, joined Chief Beavers in his vice crusade Wednesday when the injunction proceedings of Mrs. Lula Bell, keeper of a house at Peters and Fair street, which was raided last week, came up for disposal.

Mrs. Bell withdrew her petition for a permanent injunction and agreed to move from the neighborhood. Judge Ellis then announced he would grant no more temporary injunctions against the police on petition of women of Mrs. Bell's character until he had investigated the charges himself.

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. The Board of Directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

SENATE ACTS TO ENFORCE WEBB LIQUOR LAW

Passes Hixon-Searcy Bill—Fight Rages Over 3-Gallon Burden of Proof Clause.

By a vote of 36 to 3 the Senate Wednesday afternoon passed the Hixon-Searcy prohibition bill providing for the enforcement of the Webb bill in Georgia.

The bill makes it unlawful for any firm or corporation to transport liquor into the State for illegal purposes and places the burden of proof of such legality upon the shipper when quantities in excess of three gallons are shipped.

Three-Gallon Clause Attacked.

It was around the three-gallon provision as recommended in the Temperance Committee substitute that the fight centered Wednesday morning. Senator Hixon, chairman of the committee and author of the original bill, and Senator Searcy, vice chairman of the committee, opposed this provision on the ground that the whole burden of proof should be placed on the carrier.

This was vigorously opposed, however, by Senator McNeil, of the Twenty-second, a member of the committee, who declared that such a provision was an unjust burden upon the carrier.

Senator Harrell, of the Twelfth, also opposed the Hixon-Searcy measure, declaring that the measure was an effort to punish the innocent carrier rather than the illegal "blind tiger" within the State.

Increase in Crime Charged.

As the bill stands the burden of proof of illegal sale is placed on the State when quantities less than three gallons are shipped into the State. Several amendments, including those of Senator Hixon, striking out the three-gallon clause, were voted down before the final passage of the bill.

In the course of the debate sensational statements were made by Senator McNeil, "a prohibitionist in restriction," who declared that under the present prohibition law with its "nefarious results," felonies in the State had increased 66 per cent.

Slaton Makes More Court Nominations

The Senate Wednesday received the following nominations from the Governor:

Tom Eason to be Judge of the City Court of McRae for four years from August 3, 1913.

W. S. Mann to be Solicitor of the City Court of McRae for the unexpired term from January 1, 1914, to November 1, 1914, vice Hamilton Burch, Jr., resigned.

D. R. Pearce to be Judge of the City Court of Pulaski County for four years from March 1, 1914.

"TIGER" GETS NEW TRIAL.

COLUMBUS.—W. A. Waters, a former member of the Columbus police force, convicted of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to six months on the State farm, has been granted a new trial.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS.
Atlanta Floral Company,
455 EAST FAIR STREET.

Cash Gro. Co. 118 & 120 Whitehall
Combination Sale
Red Ribbon Tea, lb. 60c
Anyone buying 1 lb. Tea we will sell one of these Items
25 lbs. Granulated Sugar 99c
20 lbs. Granulated Sugar 69c
10 lbs. Granulated Sugar 25c
10 lbs. Snowdrift Lard . 59c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard $1.09
Gallon Wesson Oil . . . 59c
No. 10. Cottolene . . . 79c

Noted Lecturer to 'Talk' to Deaf Here

George William Veditz, of Colorado Springs, former president of the National Association of the Deaf, will deliver a lecture to the deaf people of Atlanta in the sign language at Taft Hall Saturday night, August 2.

Mr. Veditz's subject will be "Faust." He also will deliver a sermon to the deaf Sunday mornin, August 3, at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. John Wesley Michaels, Southern evangelist to the deaf, also will be in Atlanta at the same time and will assist Mr. Veditz.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Papal Guards Must Obey Orders or Quit

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 23.—The Swiss guards at the Vatican must obey orders or leave. Their demands, presented after the mutiny on Monday, were rejected by the Holy See to-day.

They were told they must either submit to the present military rule or return to their homes. The organizers of the agitation will be dismissed, it is reported.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentation within a few days.

APPEAL IN W. & A. CASE ORDERED BY SLATON

Governor Upsets Predecessor's Precedent by Carrying Suit to U. S. Supreme Court.

Governor Slaton Wednesday morning instructed Attorney General Thomas S. Felder and James K. Hines, special attorney for the Railroad Commission, to appeal to the United States Supreme Court in the State's suit against the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, seeking to restrain the company from charging higher rates than those fixed by the Georgia standard tariff and classification.

The appeal for injunction by the State was turned down by the Superior and Supreme Courts.

Governor Slaton's act is directly contrary to that of Governor Brown, who, when the State Supreme Court ruled against the State, instructed the Attorney General not to appeal, holding it would be of no avail.

The Governor acted upon the advice of the Attorney General and Mr. Hines, who, immediately after his inauguration, urged him to order an appeal.

AVOID IMPURE MILK
for Infants and Invalids
Get
HORLICK'S
It means the Original and Genuine
MALTED MILK
"Others are Imitations"
The Food-Drink for all Ages
Rich milk, malted grain, in powder form. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged. More healthful than tea or coffee.
Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S
HORLICK'S Contains Pure Milk

BANKRUPT SALE

WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES

Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Thread, etc., $288; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $378; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $98; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $150; Felt, $67; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $998; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Mull, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,629; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $845; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a five-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 513 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee
402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

SEASHORE EXCURSION
VIA
SOUTHERN RAILWAY
Premier Carrier of the South
Thursday, August 7th, 1913
$6.00 Jacksonville . . Limit 6 days.
$8.00 Tampa . . . . Limit 8 days.
$6.00 Brunswick . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 St. Simon . . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Cumberland . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Atlantic Beach . Limit 6 days.
Tickets good returning on any regular train within limit.
Two Special Trains From Atlanta
10:00 a. m. Solid Pullman Train, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:10 a. m.
10:15 p. m. Coaches Only, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:25 a. m.
No local stops will be made.
Passengers for Brunswick, St. Simon and Cumberland will be handled in extra coaches and sleeping cars attached to the regular train leaving Atlanta at 9:30 p. m., arriving Brunswick 7:55 a. m., where connection is made with the boats for the islands.
For Further Information, Ask Southern Railway Tickets Agents.

Will the Czar's Long Arm Get This Princess at Last?

How a noble Russian beauty has (for the present) tricked the imperial spies and may yet escape the "golden cage" prepared for her by a dissolute Grand Duke will be told in

Next Sunday's American

Get it from your dealer or order in advance by phoning Main 100.

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON
For any regularly nominated Candidate in the
BEAUTY CONTEST

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

FOR THE LIVER TAKE LIVER EASE

Calomel Has Been Completely Displaced by Dr. Verdier's Liver Ease.

Be sure you get the perfect substitute for Calomel when you need a medicine for the liver.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE is made of imported drugs, purely vegetable and acts on the liver as thoroughly as calomel with none of the bad after effects.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE contains no drug that can produce salivation; there is no irritation of the stomach and bowels and no sickening after effects.

Take DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE and go about your work as though you were not taking a medicine at all. A dose at bedtime will cleanse the system of all impurities and stimulate the liver to expel the bile promptly with no discomfort. You can get DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE at any drug store for 50c per large bottle fully guaranteed.

SECOND CHAPTER IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

The Discovery of the Body of the Slain Factory Girl and Start of Hunt for Slayer.

CHAPTER II.

His heart pounding in superstitious fright, Newt Lee, the night watchman, forced himself to approach the strange object on the pile of debris in the pencil factory basement. A step nearer and he could make out what appeared to be a human foot. He recoiled and was on the point of precipitate flight.

But he must look closer, he thought. Perhaps, after all, it was only the ghastly prank of some of the factory employees who had manufactured a rude effigy and placed it there to scare him.

Determinedly he walked closer and thrust his lantern out over the mysterious object. He shrieked. Before his horrified eyes the shaky and uncertain light of his lantern disclosed the body of a little girl.

Grimed, bloody and mutilated the body lay on the flat of its back, as the terrified negro remembered it afterward, although the police, coming a few minutes later, found the body on its face, one arm drawn slightly up under the body and the other stretched full length at the side.

Discrepancy Not Explained.

This strange discrepancy never has been explained to the public except by the possibility that Lee, in his terror, was mistaken in the position he believed the body was in when he discovered it. Conley, telling his remarkable story three weeks later, said that he dumped the girl's body face downward on the trash pile where it later was come upon by Lee.

Lee was to cappalled by his grewsome find to make a close investigation. He only saw that it was a little white girl and that she had been murdered. With frightened steps he hurried to the ladder at the other end of the basement. He was in a panic. He scuttled up the ladder and dropped the trap door over it. He felt a bit relieved away from the blackness of the basement and the awful thing that it contained.

In a moment he remembered that Mr. Frank had told him that when anything happened at the factory to call the police. The telephone at police headquarters rang at 3:30 o'clock. Policeman Anderson answered it perfunctorily. Suddenly he straightened in his chair, his indifference dropping from him in a flash.

"What's that? What's that?" he shouted, trying to make out the incoherent message of the negro at the other end of the wire. Finally he understood that a girl had been killed and that her body was lying in the basement of the National Pencil Factory on Forsyth street.

Police Rush to Scene.

"There's been a murder, fellows," he exclaimed, slamming the receiver on the hook. "Boots" Rogers was in the station. His automobile stood in front. The two men rushed out and jumped into the car. In the still morning hours, they dashed toward the scene of the tragedy. Sergeants Dobbs and Brown stood conversing at Pryor and Decatur streets. An instant's stop was made and the two officers leaped into the car.

The automobile sped on to Forsyth street, and then down to the bleak, gray building from which only one dim light flickered. The car had barely stopped before the men were out of it, and on the sidewalk. They tried the door and it was locked. They rattled it impatiently and in a moment the figure of the still frightened negro, swinging his smoky lantern, was seen coming down the stairs that lead from the second floor.

"Where's the body?" was the first question they shot at him.

Already the negro was under the shadow of suspicion.

"Come this way," Lee replied, and led the way to the opening into the dark basement.

Into the Dark Basement.

One by one the officers descended the narrow ladder into the inky darkness, unrelieved except by the single gas jet, which was turned so low that the negro Lee described it as a "lightning bug." Dobbs and Brown, with the negro, took the lead. Straight to the huddled, tragic form the black man guided the men. Sergeant Brown took one look.

"My God! it's only a child!" he exclaimed.

And the child was little Mary Phagan, who had gone forth from home the day before filled with the happiness of youth and untouched by any thought of harm or evil.

The change was terrible. In the tortured form that lay cold in the factory basement could hardly be recognized the fresh, pretty girl that came to Atlanta the day before to draw her pay and take childish delight in the Memorial Day parade.

The brute who slew her had worked a sickening transformation in her features. The smiling, innocent face was bruised, swollen and discolored. Cinders and black dirt were ground into the tender face so that at first it was almost impossible to tell whether she was black or white.

Dragged About the Floor.

She appeared to have been dragged across the basement floor by her murderer with as little feeling as is given a sheep in the shambles.

Blood from an ugly wound in the back of the head soaked and matted the pretty hair that, with girlish vanity, had been carefully brushed and tied with twin blue ribbons on each side of her head when she left home.

A length of heavy cord was looped about her neck, and the deep purple imprints in her flesh told that her assailant had used this either to drag her across the floor or to strangle her to death. If the story of the negro Conley is found to be true, the body was not dragged in the basement. A clumsy gag, torn from her dress, was bound around her head.

The pongee silk lavender dress which Mary proudly had donned for the holiday was torn and blood-stained. The twin bows of blue had been kept in place by the gag bound around her head. One little slipper was on her right foot and the other was found a few feet away. Her hat was found near the elevator shaft.

Basement Is Searched.

When the policemen had recovered from their first horror, they set out at once to investigate. They had hardly begun a search of the basement before their eyes lighted on two bits of paper by the side of the body. These contained the mysterious incoherent notes which were to play such a large part in the progress of the investigation.

This is the manner in which one of the almost illegible scrawls was deciphered:

"He said he wood love me laid down like the night witch did it, but that long tall black negro did it by hisself."

The other read:

"Mama that negro hired down here did this I went to get water and he pushed me down this hole a long tall negro black that has it woke long lean tall negro I write while play with me."

By daybreak the police and detective departments were in a turmoil of excitement.

Lee Put Under Arrest.

Newt Lee, the only person at the time known to have been in the factory while the murdered girl was there, was placed under immediate arrest, being taken directly from the factory to the police station. The dragnet was spread for other suspects. Leo Frank had been called from the factory by Policeman Anderson, but no answer came to the telephone. Early in the morning an automobile was sent to his house and he was brought to the police station to tell all he knew in order to assist the officers in their search for the criminal.

Soon after daybreak the news spread that a terrible murder had been committed; that a 14-year-old girl had been attacked and strangled in the National Pencil factory. Crowds of morbidly curious began to gather about the factory. They pressed their way into the front door and swarmed down into the cellar. Officers had difficulty in handling them.

Who the victim of the tragedy was the officers had not yet succeeded in establishing. Someone had said he thought it was a girl by the name of "Fagan," but no one was certain. Grace Hicks, of No. 100 McDonough road, one of the girl employees of the factory, was brought from her home by "Boots" Rogers to identify the body.

Girl Identifies Victim.

She looked at the swollen face and at the little gold bracelet imbedded in the flesh of the arm.

"It's Mary Phagan," she cried, and fainted.

She had been a warm friend of the murdered girl and at one time had worked by her side.

One of the most pathetic scenes was enacted when 12-year-old Vera Epps, who had been a chum and playmate of the Phagan girl since Mary had moved to Atlanta, visited the morgue and looked upon the distorted features of her little friend.

She burst into hysterical weeping and would not be comforted. She probably did not comprehend the full tragedy, but she knew that her playmate had been taken from her in a terrible manner and that some man fiendishly and ruthlessly had strangled her to death. Her father and mother were with her. They tried to get her to leave the room where the body lay, but she stayed on for more than an hour.

Cries Out for Vengeance.

Childish rage was added to her sorrow and she cried for vengeance.

"I'd help lynch the man that killed poor Mary," she cried, clenching her little hands in fury. "If they'd just let me I'd like to hold the rope that choked him to death. That's all he deserves. I was playing with Mary only a few days ago. She was my playmate nearly every day, but when I saw her dead body I hardly would have known her."

A grief-stricken home on Lindsay street received the news of Mary Phagan's fate that morning. Mrs. Coleman, her mother, had been frantic with anxiety when Mary had failed to return home the night before. Mary had said that she would return directly after the Memorial Day parade. She never had failed in any of her promises.

But the mother remembered that Mary had remarked about wanting to go to the Bijou. Possibly she had met some of her girl companions and they had gone to the entertainment in the evening. She sent Mr. Coleman to town to wait at the door of the theater. He waited until long after the crowd had filed out, but Mary did not come. Mrs. Phagan slept hardly at all that night.

Mother Had Premonition.

Mary probably had gone to the home of one of her friends, she tried to assure herself, but a deadly weight of fear oppressed her in spite of all her efforts to shake it off. She would doze into a troubled slumber only to awake with a premonition that harm had come to her child.

When a knock came at the door that morning she answered with a sinking heart.

Helen Ferguson, a girl living nearby, stood there with the tragic message on her lips.

"Mary is——" she started to say.

"Not dead?" shrieked Mrs. Coleman, knowing too well that it was so. Other members of the family rushed to the door and they were told the meager facts as they were known then, only that Mary's dead body had been found in the basement of the factory and that she plainly had been murdered.

Mrs. Coleman swooned and for days she was unable to do more than walk about the house and moan for her little girl.

Aroused by the shocking crime, practically the entire detective force was sent out to capture the murderer of the girl. It was only the matter of a few hours before the police station was filled with persons who declared that they had seen Mary Phagan some time on the day that she was slain or that they had seen a girl of about her age with one or more men at various times of the night.

Every Clew Run Down.

The detectives were hampered as much as they were aided by these well meaning persons. They were forced to investigate every story that had any semblance of furnishing a clew to the mystery. Hours that day were wasted in looking up tales of suspicious occurrences on the streets of Atlanta that Saturday night.

Newt Lee, already in custody, was kept under a running fire of questions, but maintained, even when he broke down and wept, that he knew absolutely nothing about the crime except that he found the body in the basement.

A traveling man told the detectives that he saw a girl he was certain was Mary Phagan standing in front of the factory Saturday afternoon talking to a man. Another person told a story of seeing three men, intoxicated and reeling, leading a little girl in short dress, near midnight Saturday. The girl, he said, appeared reluctant to go with them and was crying.

Another story that had to be investigated was that a girl of Mary Phagan's age had been seen talking to a man on the sidewalk near the pencil factory at a late hour Saturday night, and that she seemed to be trying to get away from him.

The police at this time were ready to credit the story that the girl had been lured to the factory at night and there attacked and killed. Nothing as yet had developed to substantiate the theory that she never had left the building after she entered it Saturday noon to obtain her pay envelope.

Startling Story Told.

After scores of persons had related suspicious incidents that they had observed came the most startling story of all. It was that Mary had been seen on the street at about 12:30 Saturday night by an acquaintance who actually had spoken to her and had received a reply.

E. L. Sentell, an employee of Kamper's grocery, was the informant. He had known Mary Phagan for years, he said. He was walking on Forsyth street that night when he was attracted by the sight of a man coming down the street walking with a little girl in short dresses. As a girl of this age was an uncommon sight on the street at this hour of night, he waited as they approached. He was startled to recognize Mary Phagan in the little girl. He knew that her parents were not accustomed to let her go out at this late hour.

He spoke to her as she and the man passed.

"Hello, Mary," he said.

"Hello, Ed," she replied.

This is the sensational story that he told. Unquestionably, the man she was with must be the man who knew about her death. A clew to his supposed identity was obtained. Sentell was positive he could recognize the man when he faced him. The news spread like wildfire that an arrest was to be made and that the man to be taken was without doubt the one who had lured Mary Phagan to the factory and killed her.

Within an hour the waiting crowds at the police station saw the officers arriving with their prisoner.

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

WOMEN WHO MOURN MARY PHAGAN

MRS. R. E. PHAGAN. RUTH PHAGAN. OLLIE PHAGAN. MATTIE PHAGAN.

ATTACK BURLESON FOR POST RATE CUT

Certain Members of Congress Also Oppose Increase in Maximum Size of Parcels.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Postmaster General Burleson has been requested by the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads to appear before the committee Thursday and explain his order reducing parcel post rates and increasing the maximum size packages to be carried by that service from 11 to 20 pounds. This order is to become effective August 15.

Certain members of Congress, including members of the Senate committee, are opposed to this new order of the Postmaster General.

Senator Bryan said to-day:

"I think that the order of the Postmaster General at this time was ill-advised. I intend to use every effort to get my bill repealing that section of the law which the Postmaster General claims gives him authority to change the rates passed by Congress before his order can go into effect."

Sues Money Lenders For Loss of Position

MACON, July 23.—W. R. Roberts, a railroad fireman, who lost his position because his salary was garnished, has brought suit for $2,000 damages in Superior Court against King Bros., money lenders, of Atlanta and Macon.

Roberts charges that he borrowed $20 and paid back $40, and that King Bros. then claimed he still owed $22. Refusing to pay this, his salary was attached, which entailed the loss of his position at a time when his wife was critically ill.

Fraud Suit Thrown Out of Macon Court

MACON, July 23.—The suit for $100,000 damages brought by A. C. Felton, vice president of a lumber company, against R. J. Taylor and N. M. Block, Macon bank presidents, in which they were charged with conspiracy to defraud him out of stock worth $100,000 and with cheating and swindling, has been thrown out of Superior Court by Judge H. A. Mathews.

The court sustained the general demurrer offered by Taylor and Block.

HE SAVED 89 LIVES.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 23.—Captain Patrick Grace, 76, who had a record of having saved 89 persons from drowning, is dead at his home in Montgomery.

Armistice Near in War in the Balkans

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

SOFIA, July 23.—It was stated officially to-day that Servia and Greece have agreed to Roumania's proposal to discuss an armistice with Bulgaria. The preliminary discussion will be held at Nish.

In an official note to Sofia to-day Roumania insists that she be allowed to retain strategetic position on the frontier; that specified privileges shall be extended to the Roumanian population in Macedonia and that the peace negotiations shall be opened in Roumanian territory after an armistice has been signed.

Bill Creates State Printing Supervisor

The creation of the office of Superintendent of Public Printing is provided in a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Representative Smith, of Atlanta. A salary of $2,400 is provided. The duties of the office would be to handle the awarding of all contracts for State printing.

The appointment of a practical printer by the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor, the appointment to be ratified by the Secretary of State, Comptroller General and Treasurer, also is provided.

Hatpin Stab May Cause Man's Death

SAVANNAH, July 23.—As a result of what may have been a hatpin wound in the arm, a Greek named Ricardos is in the Oglethorpe Hospital in a critical condition. Double pneumonia has set in, and it is not expected that he will recover.

The police are investigating a report that the Greek was jabbed in the arm by a woman with a hatpin.

BURGLAR ADMITS SUIT CASE THEFTS

Miller, Caught Robbing Store, Confesses When Accused by Detective Who Posed as Pal.

R. W. Miller, held by the police on a charge of breaking into Gober's store, at No. 30 Carroll street, confessed to numerous thefts of suit cases from passenger stations when confronted with a member of the detective force who had been masquerading with him as a pal, according to the police.

P. W. Reeves, captured with Miller, grew sullen during the grilling and would say nothing. Chief Lanford told of the new evidence Wednesday.

When Miller and Reeves were trapped Monday night a third man escaped through a window. At the police station the pair denied all guilt. Then the detective, whose name Chief Lanford refuses to disclose, confronted them. Reeves branded the detective a liar. For a moment violence was feared.

Miller's home, near Red Oak, was searched Tuesday afternoon. A suit case and a pair of white canvas shoes, stolen from the Terminal station on July 4, were found.

Miller and Reeves will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles Thursday.

Accused Chief of Feudists on Trial

WINCHESTER, KY., July 23.—Fletcher Deaton, alleged to be the arch conspirator in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, was placed on trial after Andrew Johnson had been found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of Callahan, shouted and wept for joy when the jury pronounced Johnson guilty. She worked up the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Ladies, Rheumatism, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the purest and best of drugs, are supplied from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE.—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank 16 1-2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF HEIRLOOMS

Georgian Want Ad Reveals Disappearance of Silver in Bank Rest Room.

Loss of a package of old and extremely valuable silverware has resulted in a search for two young women who are believed to have picked up the valuables.

The package disappeared several days ago while the owner was in the rest room of the Third National Bank Building, and it is believed that two young women who were in the room at the time and who are not employed in the building, walked away with it.

The loss has been attracting attention by the appearance of a unique advertisement in the loss column of The Georgian, reading, "The lady who removed silverware from rest room in the Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405, Third National Bank Building."

The silverware bears the monogram of "C," engraved on it a century ago. The package contained a number of spoons, sugar shells and other pieces. They were heirlooms and highly prized.

It is probable that arrests will follow unless the silverware is returned, as the owner is sure she can identify the young women who were in the rest room.

FELIX WAS IN PAIN.

JOLIET, ILL., July 23.—Because he shrieked so they could not sleep a gang of Mexicans tied Felix Manuelo to the top of a box car. He was rescued and taken to a hospital where an operation for appendicitis was performed to-day.

SEABOARD NAMES LOW BALTIMORE RATE.

$20.85 round trip, on sale August 1-2-3. Through electric lighted steel trains, excellent Dining Car service. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Some of the Season's Best Merchandise in a Clearaway Thursday in

The Down-Stairs Section

Wash Fabrics At Prices that Many Will Want to Share

10c yard — For 25c Voiles in solid colors.

15c yard — For 25c Dolly Madison Crepes—a pretty dress fabric.

11c yard — For 20c Plisse Crepe in small floral designs, very dainty; many shades to select from.

10c yard — For 15c Dress Swisses in dotted and striped effects; full range of desirable colors.

12½c yard — For 25c Shirting Madras, neat stripe effects—all fast colors.

19c yard — For 25c and 35c Silk stripe Poplins and Ottoman cloth.

19c yard — For 35c White Ratine in short lengths.

4c yard — For figured Lawns for dresses—white ground with neat black figures.

25c Brassieres That Are Worthy of Your Attention.

Well-made, perfect-fitting Brassieres, embroidery-trimmed; a value that every woman will appreciate at this price.

49c For Girls' White Lawn Dresses

Ordinarily they would be priced at 75c—for they are dresses of good value, made of good lawn, prettily trimmed with embroidery and small tucks.

10c Each For Children's separate Body Waists and Drawers; well made, of good quality muslin.

Women's Parasols At Half Price---50c Instead of $1.00

We thought they were remarkable values when we marked them at $1.00—women thought so too, for they bought nearly all of them at that price. The few remaining to be disposed of to-morrow at just half. An opportunity you will want to share.

Clearing Out Certain Groups of Gloves, Hose and Handkerchiefs

25c Pair for Long Lisle Gloves—16-button length.

35c Dozen for Men's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs.

Children's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs; plain white; six for 15c.

23c Pair for—

Women's black lace lisle Hose; regular 35c value.

Timely Things at Prices to Make One Think

50c Garden Hoe, at 25c.

39c Brooms, at 25c.

Patented Grass Shears, at 10c.

6 Dozen Agate Buttons, for 5c.

25c Patent Leather Belts (all colors), at 10c.

29c For Women's Blouses Up to 75c

Pretty Blouses in many styles, lace or embroidery trimmed. Choose from all-white or some with dainty color touches. High-neck or low-neck styles. Some are made shirt style, with either soft or laundered collar.

SAYS HIS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN HIS COFFEE

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

J. Ham Lewis Martyr To Senatorial Dignity

WASHINGTON, July 21.—J. Ham Lewis, Senator from Illinois, to-day answered a query anent semi-wintry raiment, consisting of buckskin gloves, felt hat, dark gray suit of heavy texture and parti-colored woolen vest, within which he braved the sweltering weather.

"Misconceived Senatorial dignity decrees that we shall wear a vest," explained Senator Lewis, fingering the garment in question, "when we would fain di-vest ourselves of the encumbrance."

House Bill Requires Seed Cotton Record

A bill requiring all purchasers of seed cotton to keep a complete record of the same has been introduced in the House by Representatives Hines and Moon, of Troup County.

In the last few weeks many complaints have been filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture by farmers who stated that seed cotton which they had purchased under the highest recommendations had proved to be either of inferior quality or absolutely worthless.

Moose and G. O. P. in Battle in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 23.—The elephant and the bull moose in Louisville are engaged in a fight which threatens to eliminate both.

Following attacks by Republicans on Progressive nominations for the August primary, the Progressives have attacked the Republican list, starting with George T. Wood, candidate for mayor. Invalid nominating papers are the chief grounds.

PROTECT YOUR EYES.

What will you take for your eyes? Are they not entitled to the best glasses?

We strive for the best in skill, in material, in workmanship.

Oculist service at optician prices.

L. N. Huff Optical Co., two stores, 70 Whitehall, 52 W. Mitchell. Adv.

Little Captains of Industry

The Georgian "Want Ad" is a little captain of industry working night and day, bringing together thousands for mutual benefit who otherwise might never meet.

Read for Profit

Georgian "Want Ads"

Use for Results

Yellowjackets Rout Soldiers of Second Regiment

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, July 23.—After having crowned themselves with glory by routing the "enemy," composed of another battalion of the regiment, a detachment of the Second Georgia infantry to-day was put to ignominious flight by a swarm of yellowjackets, encountered on the battlefield. Several of the soldiers were stung, but the majority escaped by a hasty and disorganized retreat.

While to-day's "battle" was in progress a squad of soldiers digging intrenchments unearthed a human skeleton.

The Macon Volunteers last night entertained Colonel Thomas and other officers at supper, followed by a "badger" fight. Lieutenant Whittaker, of the Floyd Rifles, held the "badger."

Captain J. A. Fort, of Americus, was to-day's officer of the day.

Republican Regime In Portugal Totters

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MADRID, July 23.—The Portuguese Republic is tottering. The country seethes with the revolutionary spirit to overthrow the Republican Government and re-establish a monarchy. Travelers from Portugal arriving here to-day say the movement is the best organized since King Manuel was dethroned.

Troops are being rushed to all points in an effort to check the rebellion, which Government officials consider the most serious since the new form of government was established.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here to-day.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

Strike Shuts World's Biggest Copper Mine

CALUMET, MICH., July 23.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 copper miners of the upper peninsula went on a strike this morning, completely tying up twenty mines in four counties. The men demand shorter hours and an increase in wages. The Calumet and Hecla, the biggest copper producer in the world, has been shut down.

The men were organized recently by the Western Federation of Miners. There has been no disorder.

N. P. Head Is Slated For Mellen's Place

NEW YORK, July 23.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, probably will succeed Charles S. Mellen as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This report came to-day from a reliable source.

It was said that Mr. Elliott has been in consultation with J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents for the New Haven, and the official announcement of his appointment may come at any time.

Government Agent Goes to LaFayette

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Milton E. Elliott, counsel for the Comptroller of the Currency, left Washington to-day for LaFayette, Ga., to examine the First National Bank, which was closed Saturday when a shortage of $30,000 was discovered.

The mystery surrounding the shortage has not been cleared.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 457 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Camelia Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral services for Joseph A. Johnson, a pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted from the residence, No. 302 Luckie street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers will be Captain Henry Jennings, Frank Whitley, A. Q. Adams, George H. Sims, James Hudson and Andrew Klassett. Interment in Oakland.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

VETERAN EDITORS GIVE UP OFFICES

Georgia Weekly Press Association Names New Recording Secretary and Treasurer.

LA GRANGE, July 23.—Two officers who have served the Georgia Weekly Press Association for twenty or more years retired to-day when the annual election was held. B. T. Mosely, of The Danielsville Monitor, for twenty years treasurer, is succeeded by J. J. Howell, of The Cuthbert Leader. W. A. Shackelford, of The Oglethorpe Echo, Lexington, recording secretary since the association was formed 27 years ago, is succeeded by C. E. Benns, of The Butler Herald.

H. M. Stanley, of The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, was re-elected corresponding secretary. P. T. McCutcheon, of The Franklin News-Banner, was elected president; J. C. McAuliffe, of The Milledgeville News, first vice president, and J. A. Perry, of The LaGrange Reporter, second vice president.

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton arrived this afternoon from Atlanta to attend the barbecue given the editors by Fuller E. Callaway and to be honor guests at the banquet to-night by the citizens of LaGrange.

Members of the association leave on a special train at 9 o'clock Thursday morning for Brunswick and St. Simons Island, where several days will be spent.

The members of the association returned to LaGrange from West Point late Tuesday afternoon, after a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point-Lanett News, and an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the banks of the Chattahoochee River by the citizens of that city.

A session of the convention was held in the courthouse Tuesday night. Besides routine matters there were interesting papers from a number of the leading members of the association on subjects of live interest to the weekly press of the State.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

Pass the Medals to These Heroes, Please!

TRENTON, N. J., July 23.—A test meal of eggs three years old was made by the State Board of Health here.

If the board survives, $4,000 worth of ancient eggs will be released from cold storage.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DEAD IN RUINS OF FACTORY NOW FIXED AT 58

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tons of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At noon on Wednesday twenty-one bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 58, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Thirty-seven are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

SEEKING SHERIFF'S PLACE.

SAVANNAH.—Robert Saussy has qualified as a candidate for Sheriff of Chatham County in the primary election of July 30. The time for qualifying has expired, leaving the race between Mr. Saussy and Colonel Merrett W. Dixon.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

Operation Threatened?

Postpone it until you have tried Nuxcara. Many serious conditions are caused by indigestion and consequent mal-nutrition.

TAKE

NUXCARA

3 Times a Day

One-half hour before each meal. Mr. J. F. Adams, of Atlanta, took Nuxcara and this is what he says:

"Nuxcara has been a boon to me. The first bottle that I bought I was hardly able to reach the drug store. I had suffered for twenty-five years with dyspepsia, part of the time in bed. Kept away from my business for days at a time. I regard Nuxcara as the only cure for indigestion and mal-nutrition and always recommend it to any one suffering that way. I can not say too much for this great medicine and am glad of an opportunity to bring it to the notice of some one suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia, knowing that it will cure them."

Ask Your Druggist--
$1.00 a Bottle

Lamar-Rankin Drug Co.
Distributors,
69 S. Forsyth Street
EDMONDSON DRUG CO.,
Special Atlanta Agents,
11 N. Broad St.
Manufactured by the Nuxcara Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS

During the hot summer days we are offering some splendid bargains in household necessities. Listen to these prices:

$2.00 White Enameled Chamber Pail
$1.20
(Just like cut, except pure white).

$1.50 White Enameled Chamber Pail
98c

Handsome Brass Cuspidors
50c to $3.50 Each

Enameled Cuspidors
20c to $1.00 Each

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Brass Jardinieres
$1.98

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Umbrella Stands
$1.98

Don't fail to see our beautiful window display.

We are still offering special prices on tennis and outdoor goods.

KING HARDWARE CO.

53 Peachtree 87 Whitehall

EISEMAN BROS., Inc.

Have You Seen Those New

ENGLISH LOUNGE SUITS

We Have Just Gotten In?

A belated shipment that now necessarily includes them in the clearance prices our

REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE

is offering. These Suits were made up especially to our order of high class flannels, tropical worsteds---domestic and Canadian Crashes---and are very exceptional values! They are the strictly authoritative English cut, splendidly tailored and exquisitely finished. The collection includes both two and three-piece models; coats quarter lined with either fine, soft finished silk or alpaca. Three-piece suits have skeleton vests. These suits were bought to sell and are brilliant values at $16.50 to $35.00.

Clearance Price

$12.50 to $26.50

They are fashionable, cool and serviceable. Real bargains you'll be glad to profit by.

The extensive improvements being made on our building are not interfering with the customary business and service of the store, and you'll find your best interests thoroughly well cared for as usual.

All Departments of the Big Store are brimful of bountiful bargains! Clearance prices on Clothing, Furnishings, Children's Wear, Hats, Shoes and Leather Goods.

Eiseman Bros. Inc.

Store closes each Wednesday at One o'Clock during July and August.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

PASSIVE MEXICO POLICY SCORED BY SENATORS

Fall's Resolution, Guaranteeing American Citizens' Rights Abroad, Is Tabled.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Fall resolution guaranteeing constitutional rights to American citizens abroad and protection to their property, went over without debate when the Senate met to-day. This leaves the resolution tabled and ready for consideration at any time the author may see fit to again call it up.

Fall agreed with members of the Senate that enough publicity has been given the Mexican situation for the present and on motion of Senator Simmons, the tariff bill was made the order of business.

Senator Fall made it plain that he was not averse to having his resolution referred to the Foreign Relations Committee in accordance with the suggestion of Chairman Bacon of that committee.

"I feel confident that sufficient publicity has been given the Mexican situation through debate on this resolution," said Senator Fall, "to make it plain that the United States either must revoke the order prohibiting the exportation of arms into Mexico, or take a determined attitude with regard to the protection of Americans in Mexico."

Senator Fall said in regard to the Mexican situation that no greater error could be made than a continuance of the dilatory tactics pursued by the United States in the past. Agreeing with Fall in this view were a large number of Senators in both sides of the chamber.

President and Bacon Confer on Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Wilson to-day summoned Representative Flood, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the White House to confer on conditions in Mexico.

The delicacy of the present situation enforced a policy of secrecy at the White House, but it was asserted that the purpose of to-day's conference was to discuss the advisability of removing the ban from shipments of arms and ammunition to the constitutionalists in Northern Mexico.

General Carranza and other revolutionists have been pleading for weeks for the removal of this prohibition, claiming that they are entitled to the same privileges accorded to the Maderists by President Taft.

It is doubtful if any decisive move will be made until after the removal of Ambassador Wilson, but it is practically certain that this Government will favor the removal of the prohibition relative to the shipment of arms to the rebels and then will await developments in the hope of establishing a stable government in Mexico.

U. S. Prepared to Act on Short Notice.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dispatch of a gunboat to Mexican waters, in addition to the four battleships already there, the presence of Secretary of War Garrison and General Leonard Wood on the Texas border and the summoning of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to Washington are taken to indicate the intention of official circles here that the Mexican situation will no longer be allowed by President Wilson to drift.

Reports from Chihuahua and Coahuila indicate the centralization of the Federalist forces in those provinces and the opening of railroad communication from the capital to the border within a week.

Mexico Is Stuffed With Ammunition for U. S.

LAREDO, TEXSA, July 23.—A bitter arraignment of the United States, accusing the Government of fostering the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz, and of aiming mortal blows at the liberty and sovereignty of the weaker Central American nations, in direct contrast to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, has been published in Spanish and distributed throughout Mexico.

A copy of the document to-day was forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

"With the pretext of diffusing civilization," says the document, "they (the United States) send to the limit of the continent all the castoffs, all the excess of population which congests their cities, and heralds of culture and progress, the majority of those who arrive are tramps, broken bankers, defaulters, pardoned prisoners, the bulls of their cosmopolitan criminals.

"These are they who come to us, who, supported by them in obtaining concessions, in founding banks without capital, to suck like vampires the blood and the riches of the ingenuous and credulous, noble and confiding people."

The Waters-Pierce Oil Company and the Harriman interests are flayed for their efforts to establish trusts in oil and railroad properties. The document then says:

"We have given them our riches and our confidence, but we will not give them an atom of our dignity nor another hand's breadth of our territory. The people must stand erect at the proper moment, and this now has arrived. They can not annihilate us. International complications will prevent them.

"They would require 100,000 men to invade Mexico, and their triumph, if they triumph, would be over burning fields and mountains of corpses. They would need their entire fleet to blockade our ports.

"This would be very dangerous for them, for there is someone lying in ambush. Mexico is bristling with rifles and stuffed with ammunition. It would be a horrible war."

$20.85 BALTIMORE AND RETURN VIA SEABOARD.

Sold August 1-2-3. Correspondingly low rates from other points. New Steel Dining Cars, through trains.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

Uncle Trusty Can't Keep You From Owning a Home

TRUSTS have no monopoly of the EARTH! There's a home in this world for EVERYBODY—there's a home for YOU, right here in Atlanta.

If you are making "living" wages, then no TRUST—no COMBINATION—no power on earth, except YOURSELF, can keep you from OWNING a home!

If you continue to pay RENT on somebody else's property, then you'll probably never own a home—but, if you BUY a handsome house and lot, on our DIVIDED PAYMENT PLAN, then you will be the proud owner of a splendid HOME!

For $100 down, and as little as $21 a month, we will sell you a house and lot, in CAPITOL VIEW, which is a picturesque residential section, inside of Atlanta's city limits—an 18-minute street car ride from the Postoffice! We have several brand-new houses ready for occupancy!

For full information, phone us—or call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE
207 Equitable Bldg.
Bell, Main 3520
Atlanta Phone, 3520

LAWMAKERS PUT IN TEACHERS' FIX BY MEASURE

McMichael Resolution Diverts Legislators' Salary Fund to Schoolma'ams.

To pay the members of the Georgia General Assembly in 1914 in script, payable within six months, and apply the fund set aside for legislators' salaries to the payment of country school teachers is the provision of a resolution introduced by Representative McMichael, of Marion County, Thursday morning. The resolution would have provided for this at the present session, but for the fact that many members already have drawn their pay.

Should the resolution be adopted it would mean that two-thirds of the annual deficit of $100,000 in school teachers' salaries would be made up at once. The daily payroll of the Legislature amounts to from $1,300 to $1,500 a day.

The teachers are awaiting the payment of more than $100,000 on their salaries, past due many months. Script usually is given, but as payment is deferred from six to twelve months they are forced to discount at from 10 to 50 per cent, if they are not in position to support themselves until payment of the script is made by the State.

McMichael's resolution is a bit sarcastic, referring to the fact that all other employees of the State from the Governor down to the janitors, including the members of the General Assembly, are paid promptly.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.

The resolution provides for the payment of cash to the legislators for actual mileage due the members.

Eckman's Alterative
FOR THE THROAT AND LUNGS.
Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For sale by all of Jacobs' Drug Stores.

PRISON REFORM PUSHED BY WELTNER

Secretary of Crusaders Urges Indeterminate Sentence as Best for Convicts.

Another gun in the campaign of the bill providing indeterminate prison sentences, which has been favorably reported by both House and Senate Committees, has been fired by Philip Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association, which is responsible for the bill.

"The enactment of the bill will not only improve convict conditions in Georgia," Mr. Weltner declares, "but it will increase the efficiency of the convicts in road building. The indeterminate sentence is based on justice and common sense rather than sentiment and mercy; and wherever it has been tried it has tended to embarrass the crook by keeping him in up to the limit, yet holding the door of opportunity open to the occasional offenders whom kind treatment and hope can reform.

"To give a convict a fixed term of imprisonment means that the law believes it can foretell the length of time it will take to discipline him. Wrong doing gets the perpetrator into prison; right doing ought to be his only means of getting out."

"BUSY --AS-- BEES"

Little bees make the honey; little "Want Ads" make the money

Read for Profit

GEORGIAN "WANT ADS"

Use for Results

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. According to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

TO PROBE SLAYING.

COLUMBUS. — When the Law and Equity Court of Lee County, Alabama, convenes on August 4 the Grand Jury will take up the case of Homer Carmack, charged with entering the store of J. J. Folk recently and hacking him to death with a butcher knife.

Great July Pre-Inventory Sales at

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

A "Let-Go" of Fine Linens

Prices Drop to Half and Less for This Most Extraordinary Clearaway

"Clean Stocks" is our slogan—our rigid Pre-Inventory Policy is not to carry over any soiled merchandise nor odds and ends.

That's the reason for the finest linens in the South being offered at a fraction of their value.

To our certain knowledge no Southern store ever offered linens of such qualities at these near-half and less-than-half prices.

The left aisle table and counters are heaped high with values. Though the sale is scheduled for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—it is plain that the best Bargains will be snapped up Thursday. Selling starts at 8:30 with these unprecedented values.

Finest Table Linens at Exactly Half Price

French table linens—acknowledged the finest in the world. Oddments—only one pattern of a kind. Two or more patterns, however, at the same price:
$20 cloth, 2x2 1-2 yards, at $10.00.
$25 cloth, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, at $12.50.
$30 cloth, 2 1-2x3 yards, at $15.00.
$25 dozen napkins, 27 in. size, $12.50.

Fine Lunch Sets

Beautiful qualities of high grade linens. Cloths are hemstitched or scalloped. Dozen napkins to complete each set. Just about a dozen sets in all, to clear them, we make these pre-inventory prices:
$12.50 Linen sets, $6.90.
$15.00 Linen sets, $8.50.

Napkins in the Sale

$2.98 doz., 22 1-2 in. size, values $4 and $4.50.
$5.98 doz., 27-inch size, values $7.50 to $9.
$7.98 doz. 27-inch size, values $10 to $15.

$5 German Damask Lunch Sets Only $1.98

All linen damask lunch sets in various colored designs. The cloths are 63x63 inches, neatly hemstitched. Half dozen 14-inch napkins complete the set.

Scalloped Table Cloths

A few odd scalloped cloths that are a little soiled. Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2 1-4 x 2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2 x 2 1-2 prices:
$8.50 Scalloped cloths, $4.90.
$10.00 Scalloped cloths, $5.90.
$12.50 Scalloped cloths, $6.90.
$15.00 Scalloped cloths, $8.90.

Soiled Table Cloths

Though these linens need a tubbing, they will emerge with their "bloom" and "finish" intact. High grade linens; full 100 per cent flax; honest to the last thread; the grades you would gladly buy at full price. Here's how they go to-morrow:

$6.50 to $8.50 Cloths at $3.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3 yards.

$8, $10 & $12.50 Cloths at $4.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1-2 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3, 2 1-2x3 1-2 yards.

$13.50 to $16.50 Cloths at $9.90
Extremely fine tablecloths in all sizes up to 2 1-2x4 yards.

Pre-Inventory Pencil Pushes Down Prices on Rich's Staple Black Silks

Standard $1 and $1.25 Black Silks at 59c

Rich's black silks in a sale. And at an average half price! It is almost as if a grocer sold sugar at half. For Rich's black silks are as staple and as standard.

You can choose from soft, lustrous black LOUISINE; the fashionable black FAILLE FRANCAIS; the gracious ever-wearing GROSGRAIN; a magnificent MOURNING SILK; the beautiful SATIN BENGALINE. Widths range from 20 to 27 inches. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 a yard; to-morrow at 59c.

Prices on $1.00 to $2.00 Silks Slashed to 49c

You will be astonished at the values; the quantities; the varieties; the lovely $1.00 to $2.00 silks that are offered at 49c.

You have choice of 42-inch all-silk chiffons; flowered silks, odd silks; 27-inch chiffon taffetas in changeables and solid colors; novelty silks, including many desirable weaves and patterns. Lengths from 3 to 30 yards. Not a yard worth less than $1.00; most of them formerly priced at $1.50 to $2.50. Choice 49c.

55c for 85c to $1.50 Silks—the 85c and $1.00 silks are spot-proof foulards, in choice patterns and favored colors. The $1.50 silks are Dolly Madison patterns, pretty floral designs, new this season.

79c for $1.00 Messalines—choice of our entire stock of $1 yard-wide Messalines, except black or white.

$1.19 for $1.50 silk and wool Poplins—the beauty of silk wedded to the strength of wool. Soft and sheer, with classic grace.
Leading shades of navy and Copenhagen, also black and brown. 42 inches wide.

33c for 59c Silk Foulards—navy grounds, with neat pin and polka dots. 23 in.

$1.39 for $1.75 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines—includes our entire stock of $1.75 Crepe de Chines in full pieces, except black or white, and all $2 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines in dress lengths.

25c for 50c to 85c silks—solid color messalines and wash silks and short lengths of staple and novelty silks. The yard, 25c.

(Silk Annex—Main Floor, Left)

To Sell These Stockings Quickly, We Have Slashed the Prices

Nothing wrong with the stockings, save that they are odd lots and broken lines that we won't invoice. So we empty the boxes and group the different lots on three tables at 29c, 49c and 59c.

Stockings are variously of lisle and silk lisle, lace and embroidered. Black, tan and a few white and colors. All sizes at each price.

29c; values to 50c.
49c; values to 75c.
59c; values to $1.25.

(Main Floor, Right)

A Parasol Sale at $1.98

Choose any summer parasol in stock, whether its former price was $2.50, $3, $3.50 or $4, at $1.98.

Something like four score in all, in solid colors; Roman stripes; solid colors with floral or Persian borders; plaids and other fancies. Novelty and regulation shapes. Leading colors and combinations. Select the parasol you like—there's a saving of about half at $1.98.

(Main Floor, Right)

Half Price Sale Toys, Games, Etc.

Final outclearing Friday and Saturday of all kinds of dolls, doll buggies, children's furniture, toys, vehicles and games. Most of the articles are at half price; some even less than half.

(Toy Annex—Main Floor, Right)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

300 Fine Summer Dresses at Half Price

Just the thing to wear at the present time, when the season is at its height, and certainly a timely opportunity, indeed, to buy them at Half Price.

Many very substantial effects make up the 300 imported ratine and heavy linens, fine French linens and voile, Bedford cord and very many novelty materials,

Smart French models, plain tailored models, including dark colors that may be worn all through the fall.

White and light colors and dozens of exquisite combinations of materials and colors.

These are the kind of dresses you'll find in this sale, and there're 300 to select from.

You'll not have any trouble finding what you want. All sizes from misses' 14 to women's 44—all at Half Price. And, remember, you have two months of summer to benefit by the purchase.

$10.00 Dresses $ 5.00
$12.50 Dresses $ 6.25
$15.00 Dresses $ 7.50
$18.50 Dresses $ 9.25
$20.00 Dresses $10.00
$25.00 Dresses $12.50
$30.00 Dresses $15.00
$35.00 Dresses $17.50
$40.00 Dresses $20.00

J. P. Allen & Co. 51 and 53 Whitehall

The Social World

Mrs. Lundy Harris, who is at the Georgian Terrace for several days while making her plans for a log cabin she will build on her estate in North Georgia, was the honor guest at an informal luncheon Wednesday morning when Mrs. Warren Candler invited a few of Mrs. Harris' friends to spend a quiet day reminiscing with her.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Harris will be one of the distinguished guests at the dinner Colonel and Mrs. Robert Lowry will give at the Piedmont Club. Mrs. Harris leaves Friday for North Georgia.

Adairs Give Swimming Party.

One of the largest parties of the week was the swimming party given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, when 150 guests were entertained. After a swim in the pool a buffet supper was served on the terrace and lawn.

Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., and Miss Augusta Pearce, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Adair.

For Miss Rosalie Howell.

An elaborate party was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. E. R. Gunby, of Tampa, Fla., at the residence of her father, Mr. Clarke Howell, in honor of her little daughter, Rosalie, whose fourth birthday was thus observed. Twenty-five guests were entertained at a "sunbonnet party."

Immediately after arriving each little girl was presented with a little pink sunbonnet and pink apron. Figures of little girls in pink sunbonnets, bearing garlands of pink roses, surrounded the birthday cake with its four pink tapers, and the Jack Horner pie was decorated with similar figures.

The little hostess wore white lingerie, with blue ribbons, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Gunby was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney and Miss Constance Knowles.

Miss Owens Entertains.

Miss Sarah Owens gave a hearts dice party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Henderson, of Marietta. Miss Fay Slaughter and Miss Floy Eskridge won the prizes, a fan and a bluebird pin. An ivory fan was given to the honor guest. Guests included Misses Beryl May of Knoxville, Margaret Woodrum of Nashville, Ruth Thrasher, Fay Slaughter, Ruth Harrison, Lucile Gann, Martha Boykin, Louise Cohen, Lilla Cheshire, Tommie Hornea, Eva Owens, Mrs. Edward Henderson and Mrs. Satterfield.

Miss Fay Slaughter will entertain informally for Miss Owens Thursday evening.

For Mrs. Pou.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGive will give a theater party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, who is visiting Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman.

For Miss Carmichael.

Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, is being tendered a series of parties during her visit to Miss Margaret Rushton, the largest affair being the informal tea given Wednesday afternoon by Miss Rushton's sister, Mrs. Clyde Lanier King.

Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. King's home adorned the apartments.

Mrs. King's guests included a number of young men as well as girls.

Thursday morning Mrs. Graham Williams will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Eloise Walker gave a box party at the Forsyth, followed by a tea at Hotel Ansley, in honor of Miss Carmichael, the other guests being Mrs. Stirling Turner, Miss Evelyn Ragland and Miss Cullen Battle.

Friday morning Miss Mirian Fielder will give an informal bridge party for Miss Carmichael, only one table of bridge to be entertained, the party to be followed by an informal afternoon party, given by Mrs. John Ray Pattillo.

Saturday morning Mrs. Stewart Roberts will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael, and other informal affairs are being planned.

PERSONALS

Miss Emmie Willingham is visiting friends in Chattanooga.

Miss May Etta Lowell, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. Will Smith, of Inman Park.

Miss Gladys Quinn, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. E. W. Henderson in West Peachtree street.

Miss Lollie Belle Fuller and Mrs. George Croft are spending several weeks in Asheville, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. George Elmer are visiting Judge and Mrs. John Candler at their home in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Claude Shewmake and children have returned from St. Simons, where they sojourned several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, with their two children, and Miss Corinne Bass are at St. Simons for two weeks.

Mrs. Ella Wright Wilcox and little daughter, Katherine, have returned to Atlanta, after a stay at Wrightsville Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Omar F. Elder, who have been at Wrightsville Beach for several days, will return to Atlanta this week.

Mrs. Charles Sisson is the guest of the Misses Joseph at Warm Springs, having made the trip in Mr. Sisson's touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Field returned to Atlanta Tuesday, after spending several weeks at their summer home in Rabun County.

Mr. and Mrs. Gadsden Russell and little son, Gadsden, Jr., are spending to weeks with Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Heisell, in Saluda, N. C.

Miss Margaret Murphy, of Newnan, is the guest of Miss Jessie Thompson. In a few days they will go to Cedartown to be guests at a house party.

Mrs. Dazier Pou, of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman, will leave Thursday for Warm Springs for a visit before going to the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. L. H. Ledsinger will spend the summer and early autumn in the mountains of Virginia and Western North Carolina. Her son, Mr. Robert Ledsinger, will accompany her.

Mr. A. D. Adair and Mr. A. D. Adair, Jr., have returned from New York, where they went to meet Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morgan McClung on their return from a trip around the world. Mr. and Mrs. McClung are expected Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Adair, who will leave with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin August 7 to spend the remainder of the summer in Scotland.

Mrs. H. E. Bussey is visiting friends in Birmingham. She will return Thursday, when she, Mr. Bussey and their young son will make their home with Mrs. McRae, No. 647 Peachtree street.

Miss Alma Atel, of Augusta, sister of Mr. J. W. Atel, of Atlanta, spent a few days here on her way to Chicago. Several informal affairs were given in her honor during her short visit.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

CRISIS IN WATER PROBLEM REACHED

Board to Debate Situation—Only Six Feet of Clear Liquid Left in Reservoirs.

The City Water Board will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider a water situation that constantly has grown more grave since the breaking of the 18,000,000-gallon pump at the river station two weeks ago.

The reserve supply in the reservoirs at the Hemphill station has dropped two feet since that date. It will take at least two weeks to put the big pump in working order again. While the reservoirs have over 20 feet of water in them there is only a 6-foot margin from muddy water. This is due to the fact that the location of the filtration plant will not permit water to flow through it lower than that point.

A conference was held Wednesday morning between J. O. Cochran, president of the Park Board; W. Z. Smith, general manager of waterworks, and W. E. Dunn, president of the Water Board, to consider cutting off the 500,000-gallon daily flow into Piedmont Park lake. That would mean that the bathing would have to be stopped. It was decided that no further action would be taken at present than to shorten the hours for bathing in the lake.

Although twenty men are working on the broken pump, as many as can be effectively used in both day and night shifts, it is feared that the water pressure may have to be reduced so as to make the daily consumption of the city equal the amount pumped from the river each day.

LOW RATES EAST VIA SEABOARD.

$20.85 Baltimore and return on sale August 1-2-3. Through Steel Trains, new Dining Cars. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

WATSON EAGER TO HIT MUGWUMPS

Lobby Inquiry Shows Indiana Legislator Couldn't Influence Tariff Board Selections.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Members of the Overman Lobby Inquiry Committee to-day said an effort would be made this week to finish reading into the record several thousand letters made public by M. M. Mulhall.

The correspondence showed that, on September 18, James E. Watson, of Indiana, wrote to Mulhall that President Taft had turned over to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh the entire question of the tariff board personnel.

Mugwump Peeved Watson.

"If MacVeagh were a Republican we might reach him," wrote Watson, "but he is a mugwump and I swear that I never know what to do with a mugwump, inasmuch as I have no right to kill him."

On September 28 Mulhall wrote to John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"I wish to do all I possibly can to beat in Maryland this fall the amendment to the Constitution disfranchising the negroes, which, if carried, will make Maryland a one-party State and wipe out of Congress three Republican members, one of whom is the best friend we ever had in Congress, Sydney E. Mudd."

Tried to Get Watson.

Mulhall called on several manufacturers interested in the Danbury hatters' strike, to have them employ Watson as counsel in the ensuing litigation.

Arkansas Freight Rates Cut 20 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK, July 23.—Effective to-day the trunk line railroads in Arkansas accepted the Arkansas Railroad Commission's standard freight tariff, which reduces railway rates approximately 20 per cent and will probably cut earnings of the railways $500,000 a year in the State.

Five years' litigation between State and railroads over these rates resulted in a victory in United States Supreme Court for the State.

Negro Church Union Holding Convention

The Baptist Young People's Union (negro) is holding its eighteenth annual convention in the Beulah Baptist Church, of which W. F. Paschal is pastor. The Rev. A. W. Bryant, of Savannah, presided, and the vice president of the union, W. A. Flagg, of Macon, conducted the devotionals.

An expression meeting was conducted by Professor J. H. James, A.B., of Central City College.

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Miners and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldgs., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

STODDARDIZE---

Then---"All Aboard"

WHEN your clothes have been STODDARDIZED, you are ready to leave for your vacation! STODDARDIZING makes Women's, Men's and Children's apparel look just like new!

A WAGON FOR A PHONE CALL.

We pay Charges (one way) on Out-of-Town Orders of $2 or more.

Stoddard 126 Peachtree Street, Bell Phone, Ivy 43, Atlanta Phone 43 — Dixie's Greatest Dry Cleaner and Dyer

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.---Atlanta, New York---Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

TO-MORROW---A Remarkable Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

Quick Clearance Every Ratine Dress Every Linen Dress

JUST 75 BEAUTIFUL RATINE DRESSES AND 91 CHARMING LINEN DRESSES REMAIN IN STOCK—

In both of these popular materials, the very latest and loveliest styles and shades of the season are featured—

They Go On Sale To-morrow At . . . . . CHOICE $6.95 The Regular Prices Are Up to $22.50

The crowds that have thronged this store will be even greater to-morrow, when this announcement is read—

Clearance Sale Ladies' Motor Coats

Every fair motorist in Atlanta can afford an elegant auto coat at SUCH a price. Fine linen, all styles, some trimmed in contrasting shades of leather, others with caps to match, etc., for quick clearance to-morrow

$10 Values; Choice . . . $5.45

Quick Clearance of 450 Waists

Lovely summer lingerie waists, in all the latest beautiful style ideas, exquisitely trimmed, immense variety to suit every feminine taste, for quick clearance to-morrow

$1.50 to $1.75 Values; Choice . $1.00

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

"Atlanta's Exclusive Women's Apparel Store"---43-45 Whitehall Street

Attention, Agents!

RELIABLE DISTRICT MANAGERS wanted in all unassigned territory in Georgia. Liberal contracts, giving exclusive control of territory to right men. Address

Louis Sherfesee, State Manager
or Charles S. Northen, General Agent
701-2-3-4 Third National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

PURELY MUTUAL---ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF HARTFORD,

Organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.
Principal office, 49 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Amount of capital stock—None.

II. ASSETS.

Total assets $35,297,578.44

III. LIABILITIES.

Total liabilities $35,297,578.44

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total income $3,404,963.79

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total disbursements $2,649,146.89
Greatest amount insured in any one risk $50,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding (estimated) 153,452,325.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT—County of Hartford.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, Harry E. Johnson, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true. HARRY E. JOHNSON, Assistant Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 11th day of July, 1913.
NELSON G. FORD, Notary Public.

Keely's Fine Footwear in a Twice-Yearly Sale

Every pair of low shoes offered in this sale is of the true, tried and trusty sort.

In point of style every pair is of the best type.

Hundreds of delighted women have found it profitable to attend these sales.

It will pay you as it has paid them.

Surer than the return from a gilt-edge bond is the PROFIT to you in the purchase of one or more pairs of these famous shoes.

They're good values at $3, $3½ and $4.

The sale price is $2.65 a pair.

There is in the lot every width of last and every style of toe and heel.

Your favorite WIDTH and STYLE are here.

Your SIZE IS ALSO HERE.

We have to apologize to the many ladies who could not be promptly served on Monday.

We knew we had the Pumps and Oxfords. We knew we had the values.

But really the crowd came so thick and fast that we were mightily taxed to wait upon it.

But we shall do better to-morrow.

More room is given to the display.

More salespeople in attendance.

Better and more commodious fitting facilities are furnished.

We're Proud of This Sale

It is the most successful shoe sale in our experience.

But there's a reason for the great Pump and Oxford business that we're doing.

Here it is--

$3, $3½ and $4 values Pumps and Oxfords, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values of low shoes and ties, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values in highest grade footwear, now $2.65

This is not a Skyrocket Sale.

Nor is it a clearance of doubtful values, or odd stocks, or passe styles.

But $2.65 of your money will purchase to-morrow stylish, up-to-date, desirable footwear of the $3, $3½ and $4 kinds.

The style, the quality, the value, the service are all in the sale.

The unusual thing is the price, $2.65 a pair.

Keely Company

WIFE NOW DENIES THAT SHE SHOT TOM WOOD

Gainesville Bride to Repudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 22.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss Pearl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."

The universal verdict of the patrons of the Bijou is that this week's attraction, "Good Morning, Judge," is one of the snappiest, liveliest and most pleasing musical comedies of the season, and judging from the cordial reception that has been given the attraction so far, standing room will be at a premium the entire week. Differing from most of the musical comedies that have been offered at the Bijou, "Good Morning, Judge," has a well-defined plot, which concerns the election of a German brewer to the mayoralty of his home town and the many ludicrous situations that arises when the good-natured brewer is forced to assume the position of municipal judge.

The musical numbers are new and up to date and the costumes in keeping with the splendid tone of the attraction.

Forsyth Packed.

"Sold out" has been the record at every performance at the Forsyth this week, and a wonderful advance sale for the remaining performances indicating that the busy theater is going to make a new attendance record, possibly eclipsing the figures set up by Miss Kellermann two years ago. The show is one of the strongest that has ever been offered in vaudeville in Atlanta. There is not a weak spot, every act counts and the applause is distributed evenly.

The big feature of the program is the appearance of John F. Conroy, the only person who possesses every kind of medal that has been awarded for heroism. Conroy has saved 137 lives. Assisted by two pretty girls, he gives a diving exhibition that is superior to any that has been seen in Atlanta.

Thrills at Big Movie at Grand.

A more wonderful photo-play than Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" has rarely been seen. There is interest in this 12,000 feet of film from the introduction of Jean Valjean until the last inch has been run off, and the Grand is being filled at the daily matinee and night performances. The characters of the Hugo novel are played by some of the most distinguished actors of France. The performances are given at 2:30 and at 8:30.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HERE BOOSTED BY BIG MEET

Mrs. M. C. Hardin, a prominent worker for suffrage in Georgia.

Enthusiasm Marks Taft Hall Gathering—Only "Anti" Partially Converted.

Spurred to enthusiasm by Mrs. William Peel, presiding officer, several hundred suffragists and a suffragette or two at Taft Hall Tuesday participated in a monster meeting, in many respects unequaled before in Atlanta. Round after round of applause marked the efforts of every speaker.

The meeting was an all-suffrage affair, for although a debate was advertised not a single out-and-out anti-suffragist speech was made. Ernest Neal, member of the House of Representatives, was the only speaker of the opposition, and even he declared he had little faith in many of the stock arguments of the antis and that he wished Mrs. Peel godspeed in the present movement.

Debate Is Opened.

Following an organ recital by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, Mrs. Peel called the meeting to order. "If it had not been for woman," she said in opening the discussion, "man would still be walking on four legs. But woman has performed her duty and as a result all of us are to-day walking on two legs."

Following Representative Neal's address, R. A. Broyles declared the men needed the women to help them out in things political.

Among the other speakers were Dr. A. M. Hughlett, who declared he was a suffragist first, last and all the time, for the reason that women are as intelligent as men; Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, who paid high tribute to the cause; Mrs. Frances Whitesides, a leader in the Civic League; Mrs. Mary McLendon, "the original suffragette," president of the Georgia League, Mrs. M. C. Hardin and Dr. John E. White.

Mrs. McLendon Speaks.

Mrs. McLendon spoke of the first efforts of Georgia women to organize, and asserted the present movement would result in a perfect organization throughout the State.

Dr. White made a vigorous address in favor of suffrage and sharply criticised the "idle rich" woman, who, he said, sought a good time for life by marrying a man with an automobile.

At the meeting's close Mrs. Peel invited all anti-suffragists in the house to stand up. No one stood up.

ACQUITTED OF GRAFT CHARGE.

COLUMBUS. — County Officer James Palmer has been exonerated by the Muscogee County Board of Commissioners of charges preferred by Langdon Bell, a frequent violator of the prohibition law, that he had paid the officer for protection.

PIANO SALESMEN WANTED.

Three wide-awake, energetic, retail piano salesmen, young men of ability and experience, to work city and country trade in State of Georgia. Good wages and permanent positions. Apply by letter only, giving experience, age, salary expected and amount of business that salary should produce. Address CABLE PIANO COMPANY, 84 N. Broad street, Atlanta, Ga.

Be Your Own Boss

A little money linked with good judgment will put you in the straight road to success. Familiarize yourself with the numerous opportunities to purchase a small business by reading carefully the Business Opportunities listed in the "Want Ad" columns of to-day's Georgian.

FRIEDMANN CURE FAILS TO SAVE THORNTON

Young Atlanta Banker Sinks Rapidly and Dies at Asheville Following New Treatment.

Bitter arraignment of Dr. Franz Friedrich Friedmann, the German scientist and discoverer of a serum hailed as a curative of tuberculosis, followed the death of Austell Thornton, one of the best-known young bankers in Atlanta, near Asheville, N. C., early Wednesday morning.

Thornton's death was the result of tuberculosis, which set in following an attack of pneumonia eighteen months ago. When Dr. Friedmann came to this country last winter with his serum, heralded as a cure for consumptives, Thornton went to New York and underwent the treatment.

While Dr. Friedmann used the Bellevue Hospital there in demonstrating his cures, he also did a great deal of work in hotels among patients who flocked to Manhattan from all over the United States.

Treated by Friedmann.

Thornton received his injections at the hotel where he was stopping, and it is said that Dr. Friedmann himself administered them. It is also declared that the German physician charged young Thornton a fabulous price for the treatment, one person Wednesday morning placing the sum at $3,500.

Thornton ended his treatments and left New York three months ago in the belief that the serum would prove a curative, as it had been claimed. The only improvement at all noticeable was a lessening of the fever.

"I am firmly convinced," said S. H. Venable, an uncle of Thornton's widow, that the Friedmann treatment hastened Thornton's end. When he went to New York to take the injections the young man was not in a dangerous condition, still almost immediately after he left New York after the serum had been injected into him he began to grow weaker. The plague's ravages were more noticeable."

Mr. Thornton was about 31 years old, and had resided in Atlanta since childhood. Six years ago he married Miss Bob Venable.

He was prominent in society and club circles, being a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, the Capital City Club and of practically every other prominent social organization of the city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family home, No. 611 Peachtree street. Interment private at Oakland.

Mr. Thornton was one of the best known citizens of Atlanta, and at the time of his death was a director in the Atlanta National Bank. He had large private interests and at one time was president of the Pine Mountain Granite Company. He was educated at the University of Georgia. His father, the late A. B. Thornton, was also a director in the Atlanta National.

He is survived by his widow and two children; also his mother, Mrs. Albert Thornton; his brother, Albert Thornton, and his sister, Miss Janie Thornton, all of Atlanta.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

CRAWFORD WILL CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Uncertainty Regarding Frank Trial Results in Delay Until Next Monday.

Because of the uncertainty regarding the trial of Leo M. Frank, Auditor James L. Anderson Wednesday postponed the hearing of the Crawford will case until next Monday, at the request of Reuben Arnold, counsel for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, who is also connected with the defense of Frank.

Mr. Anderson announced that should the Frank trial again be postponed the Crawford case will be called at that time, but should Judge Roan decide to call Frank's trial for Monday morning the hearing of the will case will be indefinitely postponed, its resumption to be governed entirely by the disposition of the Frank case.

Plan to Explode Poison Claim.

The postponing of the hearing on Wednesday morning prevented the introduction of what Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim is their most convincing evidence in Mrs. Crawford's denial that she had killed her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, by poisoning him. It is understood that they had planned to place Dr. J. W. Hurt, Crawford's family physician, on the stand.

Dr. Hurt, Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim, will testify that while attending Mr. Crawford during his last illness, he frequently gave him morphine and other drugs to allay the pain. These drugs given by Dr. Hurt, the defense will claim, are what Dr. Harris found in Crawford's stomach when the body was exhumed and a post-mortem made.

It is probable that Dr. Hurt will be one of the first witnesses when the hearing is resumed, which, unless the Frank trial is postponed, probably will not be until about the middle of August.

Search On For Barber.

Attorneys for the heirs-at-law stated Wednesday that they will continue the search for Fred Lumb, the barber who is charged with being Mrs. Crawford's accomplice in the alleged poison plot. Unable to locate Lumb in New York, where he was last heard of, it is planned to extend the search all over the United States.

Attorney J. S. James, chief of counsel for the heirs, said that Lumb has lived in different parts of the United States under various names, all of which are known. It is suspected that Lumb is living under one of the names he has formerly used, and efforts will be made to obtain trace of him.

Ex-Postmaster at Memphis Drowned

MEMPHIS, July 23.—L. W. Dutro, until recently postmaster, a prominent Republican and business man, was drowned late Tuesday afternoon in the Mississippi River while attempting to rescue Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, daughter of a Mrs. Bradford, of Brownsville, Tenn. Mrs. W. F. Brooks, wife of a Selma, Ala., railroad mechanic, a third member of the party, did not go in wading. A step-off in the river bed caused the death of Dutro and Mrs. Gwynne.

Mrs. Gwynne, a handsome brunette worked circulation contests on various Southern papers.

Worries Disappear When You Go to the Bonita Theater

Allen and Kenna, with the Aviation Girls and Fatima Trio, are real dispellers of glooms at the Bonita. With every performance this great combination packs the beautiful little theater, but the many electric fans keep you cool and comfortable. Give your tired body and threadbare nerves a rest by a visit to the Bonita.

BINGHAM SCHOOL'S central purpose for 120 years has been to make Men of Boys. Asheville climate world renowned. Organization Military. Two details from U. S. Army allowed to N. C. The A. & M. College has one. Bingham the other. Target and Gallery practice, with latest U. S. Army Rifles. Lake for Swimming. Summer Camp during July and August. Tuition and Board $150 per Half Term. $300 a year. Address Col. R. Bingham, Box 6, Asheville, N. C.

J. M. High Co.

Atlanta's Best Store—the Store for the Masses

Sale of

Men's Sorosis Low Shoes

$5.00 Values . . $3.85

We are cleaning up our stock of Men's Oxfords, so offer all Men's Sorosis $5.00 low shoes for sale at . . . $3.85

(All this week)

All Women's and Children's Sorosis Low Shoes on Sale at greatly reduced prices.

Shoe Department--Annex

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

Lobby War Success, House Doormen Say

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Doorkeepers of the House declare that President Wilson's war on the "insidious lobby" has made lobbyists scarcer than ever before.

They say that whereas lobbyists formerly made dozens of trips during the day to the House chamber with cards of visitors to members, they now make very few such trips.

Slayer of Feudist Gets Life Sentence

LEXINGTON, July 23.—Andrew Johnson, charged with being one of the men who assassinated Ed Callahan, former noted feudist of the Breathitt County mountains, has been found guilty at Winchester, Ky., and given a life sentence.

Court immediately began the trial of Fletcher Deaton, charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot. Eighteen more will be tried for the actual murder, and twelve others for perjury. These cases are expected to consume five weeks. The feature evidence in each case is that of the woman who traced the murder plots or who heard the conspirators plan the murder.

NEW COLUMBUS DEPOT BEGUN.

COLUMBUS.—A force of men has begun tearing down the old Southern Railway freight depot preparatory to building a new and larger one. A temporary depot is being erected on the site of the old Georgia Midland depot.

Senator's Daughter On Socialist Stump

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mrs. Nina Lane McBride, daughter of Senator Lane of Oregon, is in Washington visiting her father. Next month she will commence a tour of the Eastern States, speaking from street corners and in workingmen's halls on the Socialist propaganda.

Mrs. McBride met her husband, who also is a Socialist worker, at a rally of the party in Portland, Oreg. She met him the second time at a hoboes' convention in New Orleans. They were married by a Magistrate.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Remnant Day in the Wash Goods

The Selling Starts at Nine o'Clock

You who know the possibilities of our remnant sales will doubtless be pleased to hear that this one brings even greater savings than the average. You may plan accordingly and you will not be disappointed.

Remnants carry their own guarantee of worth and desirability here at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s—they would never have become short lengths had they not been fabrics that women liked and bought freely when they were full pieces and when prices were regular.

For this sale to-morrow we have rummaged out every semblance of a remnant in the Wash Goods Section and what is more, we have cut prices more vigorously than ever this summer!

What a fine opportunity it means for those seeking materials for dresses, waists, skirts and underwear.

Flaxons
Dimities
Nainsooks
Lawns
Swisses
Piques
Voiles
Lingerie Cloth
Mulls

Savings Are Never Less Than ONE-HALF Often More. Lengths Two to Six Yards

Linen Lawns
Irish Linens
Brown Linens
Linen Sheetings
Pillow Case Linens
Ginghams
Percales
Poplins
Crepes

Twenty-two Lingerie and Crepe de Chine Dresses for Juniors Are $10.75, Reduced from $17.50, $20.00 and $27.50. ---Junior Department

The occasion of this price is that we would clear away these finer dresses—so we invite your help. The lingerie dresses are all white, and all as beautiful as exquisite laces, embroideries and hand-embroidery and ribbons applied and arranged by artists could make them. The crepe de chine dresses are white, light blue and tan. You will find yokes and sleeves touched with little flower boquets and with rich heavy laces. All priced at $10.75, when their worth is measured by $17.50, $20 and $27.50.

Girls' Kimonos, sizes fourteen and eighteen years, in figured and flowered lawns, that were $1.75 and $2.00, are marked for to-morrow $1.00. The smaller sizes, two to twelve years, in crepes and lawns, that were $1.50, are 75c.

There Will Be No More News of Junior Suits Such as This---$10.00 for $20.00 to $30.00 Suits.

Four are white serges that were $27.50. Eight are novelty suits of one shade and style and another—not one of them was less than $20.00, the highest priced was $30.00.

And with these are four misses' three-piece suits, sizes twelve to fourteen years, in blue serge. Very attractively fashioned. These were $22.50. So, in all only sixteen may share these savings.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours.

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly: Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

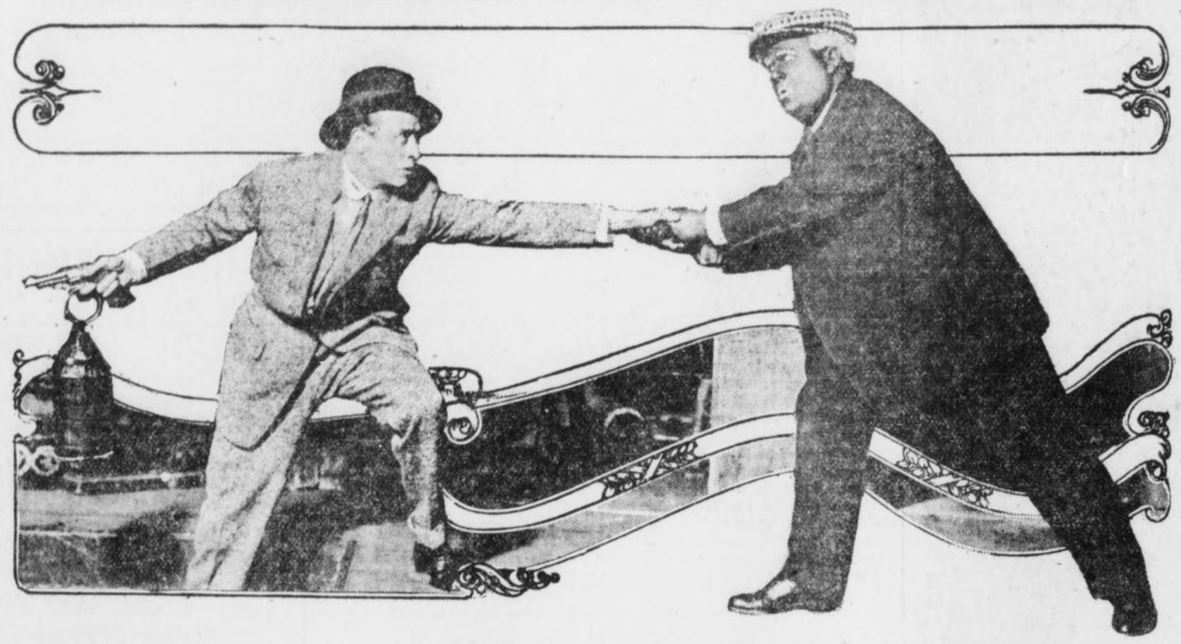
Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers
SHELTON, S. C.
E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

The GHOST BREAKER

By C. W. GODDARD and PAUL DICKEY

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It——"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible asd best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.
Write for illustrated catalogue.—B. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, hats, gloves, little necessities and more follies, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life, for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

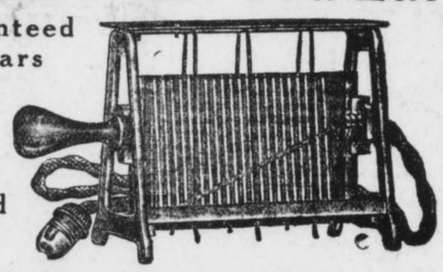
Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years



$1.95 Postpaid

"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

$1.95 Postpaid 3-Year Guarantee

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.
Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.
326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bulihed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa ,I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin
Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's
Skin Whitener

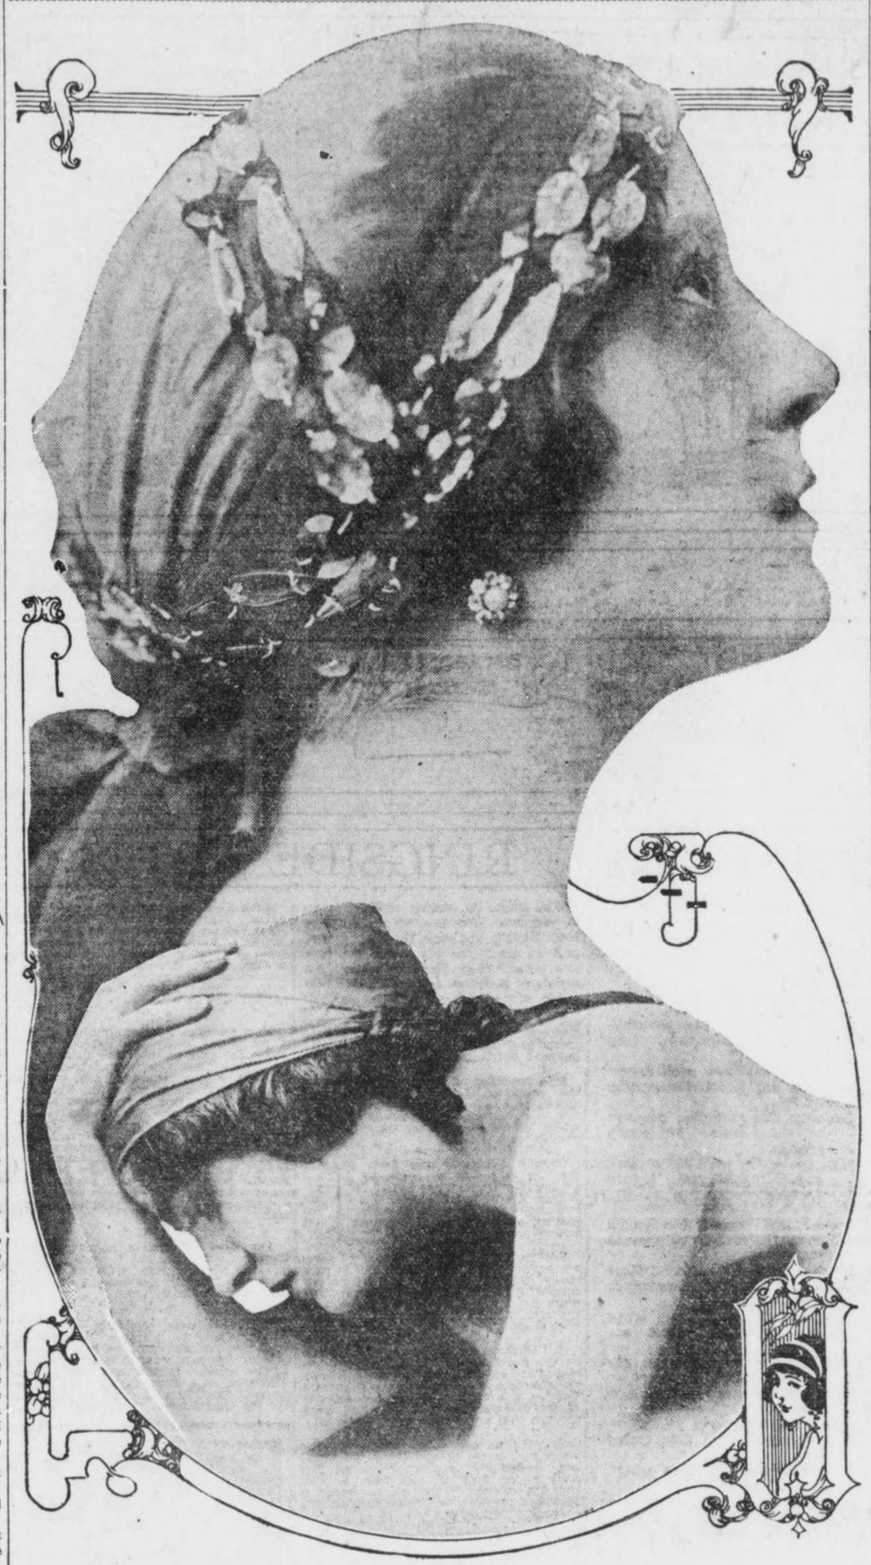
Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.



Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes,

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert. "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science, Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented Girls

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

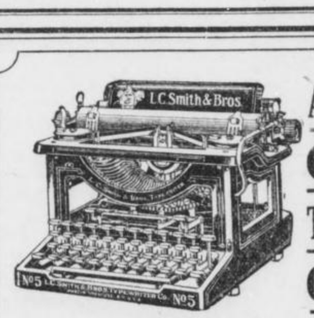
Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.



A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.

The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2042

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 22.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Alibi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermanns of the Reds, set a price of $1,800 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's paper owning about three-fourths of the Island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Havin' only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Jungleites can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a lusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1776 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. And about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship, or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan is sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with manager like Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing: Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth, a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb, his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred, and left the baseball yard.
"We can not play against that guy—he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he must hoof it back.
And as he labored down the road a motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats, a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air, he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.

Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.

Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 6, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct		W.	L.	Pct
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.469
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	45	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.

Philadelphia 6-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 8-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct		W.	L.	Pct
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
C'land.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St. Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.

St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.556	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.

Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	31	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.

LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 6, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.

Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.

St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.

Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS.

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks per chair;
The champion pug was walloping his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stallin'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest slam and knock the rummy out!"
And soft the champion answers as the mutt he gently pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies, and this fight goes twenty rounds!"
Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed message,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweight championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of out West as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the final.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 306 yards into the cup.

International League.

Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

Jake Abel is to retire from the boxing game. This information comes from Max Abelson, borther of the lightweight battler. Jake has been discouraged from his recent knockout at the hands of Charlie White. However, Abel should remember that many other boys have been handed the same dose by the hard-hitting Chicagoan.

* * *

New Orleans boxing fans are picking Yong Denny to defeat "Wildcat" Ferns when the pair clash at the Pelican City on Labor Day. Ferns and Denny met on July 4 in a ten-round mill with the former getting a slight shade. The coming scrap is billed to go twenty rounds.

Johnny Lore, the Eastern lightweight, is hot after a return go with Frankie Russell. The latter was given a knockout decision in twelve rounds over Lore about two weeks ago when Johnny fell out of the ring. The Eastern boy says he will give Russell a neat side bet if he will consent to meet him again and will cut the purse any way suitable to Russell.

* * *

Joe Levy is after a re-match with Champion Ritchie, but if such a proposition is not forthcoming he is willing to send the Mexican against the winner of the Baldwin-Cross fight.

* * *

Sammy Harris, manager of "Kid" Williams will be presented by McCarey with the diamond-studden belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship of the world. Harris says he will keep Williams on a farm until August, when he will start him on his training grind for the Campi bout.

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at Home or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. M. WOOLLEY, 24-N, Vinson Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies, ice for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER Relieved In 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name MIDY
Beware of counterfeits

Pacific Northwest

offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.

Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.

Excellent Daily Trains

from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.

The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.

Union Pacific

STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST

Heavy double tracks—dustless roadbed—Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.

Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.

A. J. DUTCHER, G. A.
908 Olive Street
St. Louis, Mo.

C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A.
620 Woodward Bldg.
Birmingham, Ala.

25db

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOSSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 36 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, lb.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	2	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

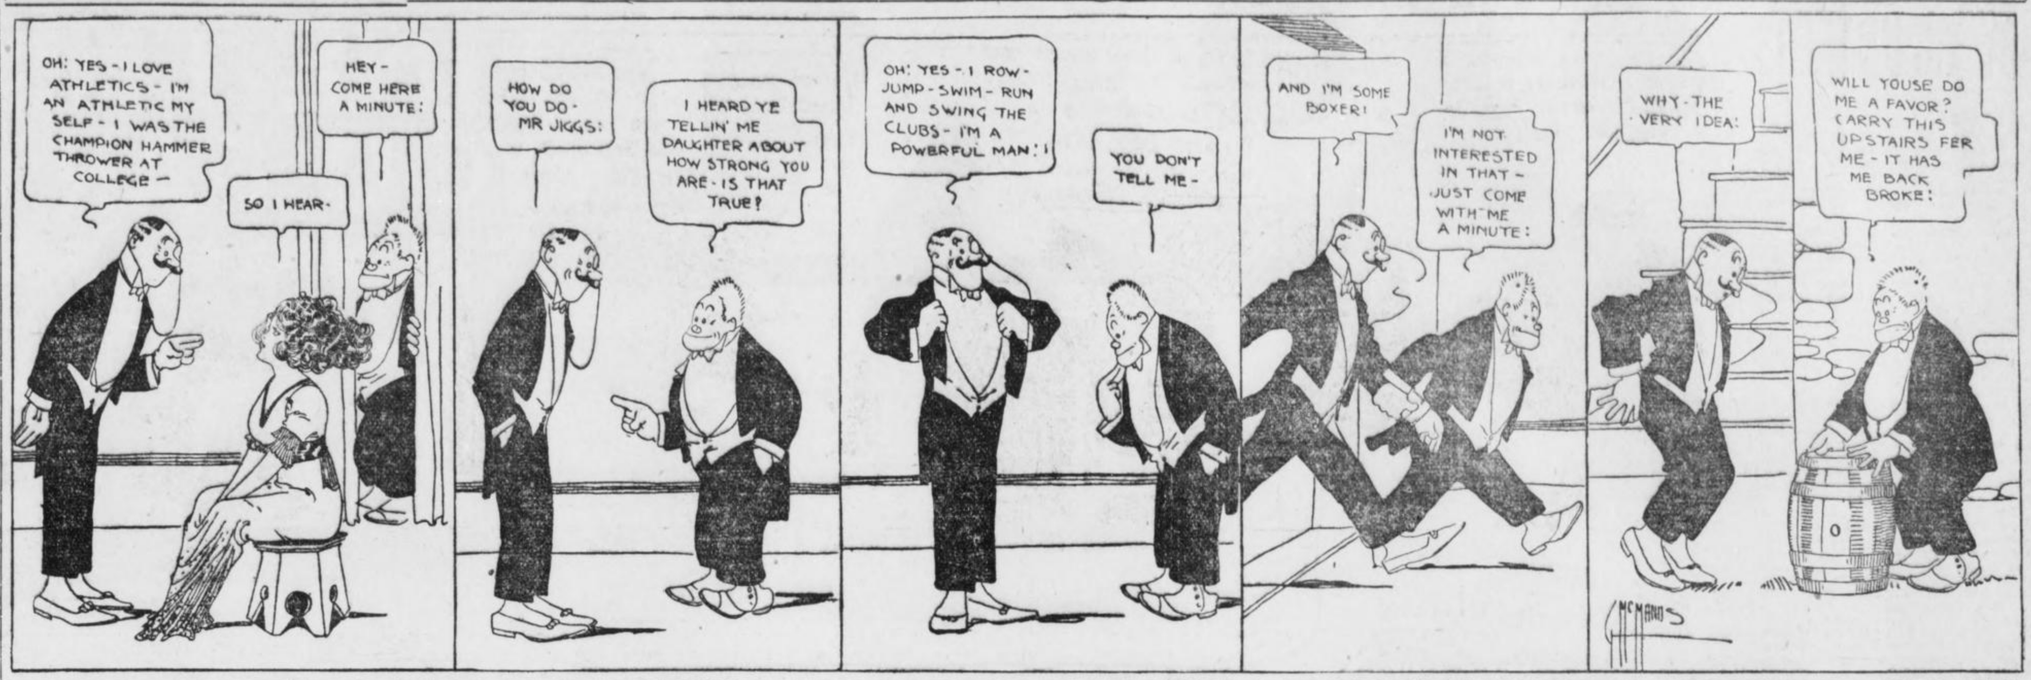
FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great
LES MISERABLES
Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus



Us Boys

Registered United States Patent Office

Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

FOOD FOR FANS

COOKED AND SERVED BY Skinny Shaner

THE GOSH DARN FOOLS, THEY THINKED I WAS GOING TO TRY AND BLOW UP THEIR JOINT WITH BREAD AND BUTTER AND SUGAR - HA, HA, HA. VAN IS GETTING MUCH BETTER - TO-DAY WE PLAY THE HINKIES - I GUESS I WILL PLAY, I DONNO THUGH.

SHANERS GOOGLY DEPT

SHANER'S HINTS TO YOUNG MEN — NO 11 — DON'T BITE YOUR FINGER NAILS -

Answer to yesterdays WHAT KEY IN MUSIC WOULD MAKE A GOOD ARMY OFFICER? A SHARP MAJOR - DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THAT?

Here's one for to-day FROM RUTH MILLAR - U. S. A. WHAT GOES MOST AGAINST A FARMER'S GRAIN?

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Pueb-loan.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—it musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs, Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet tonight at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Sperl and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover, of South Boston, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders traveling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jack McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 38 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-fought for honors untilnext year, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the rudest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

ITCHING PILES

Every sufferer from itching piles should read those words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was

Cured by Tetterine

For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure.

Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.

50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Big Reduction IN Dental Work

GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.

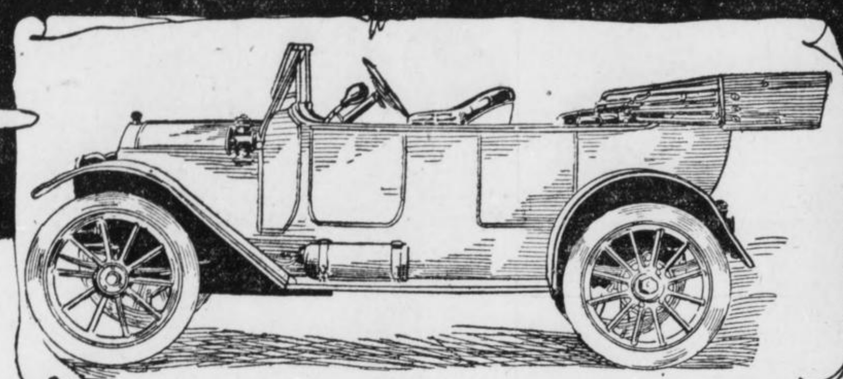
Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth Best That Money Can Buy $5.00

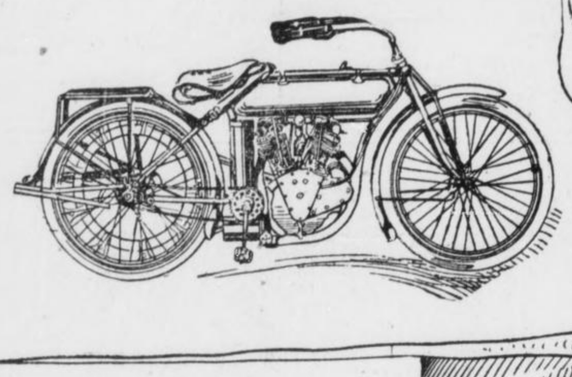
We Use the Best Methods of Painless Dentistry

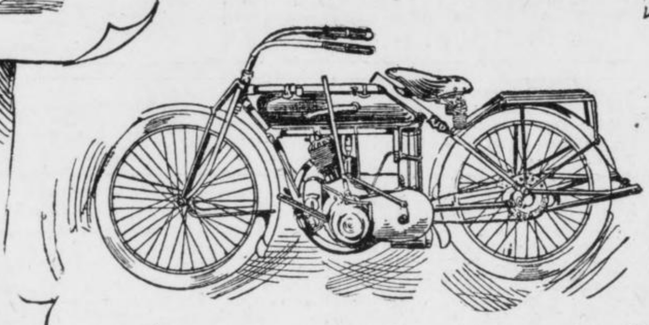
Atlanta Dental Parlors
Cor. Peachtree & Decatur Sts.
Entrance 19 1-2 Peachtree St.

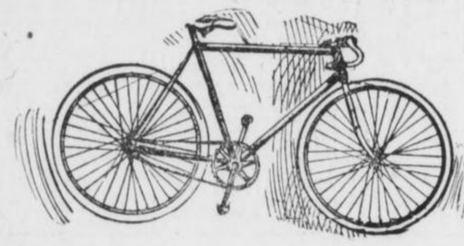
TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, get my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 745 M., New York, N. Y.

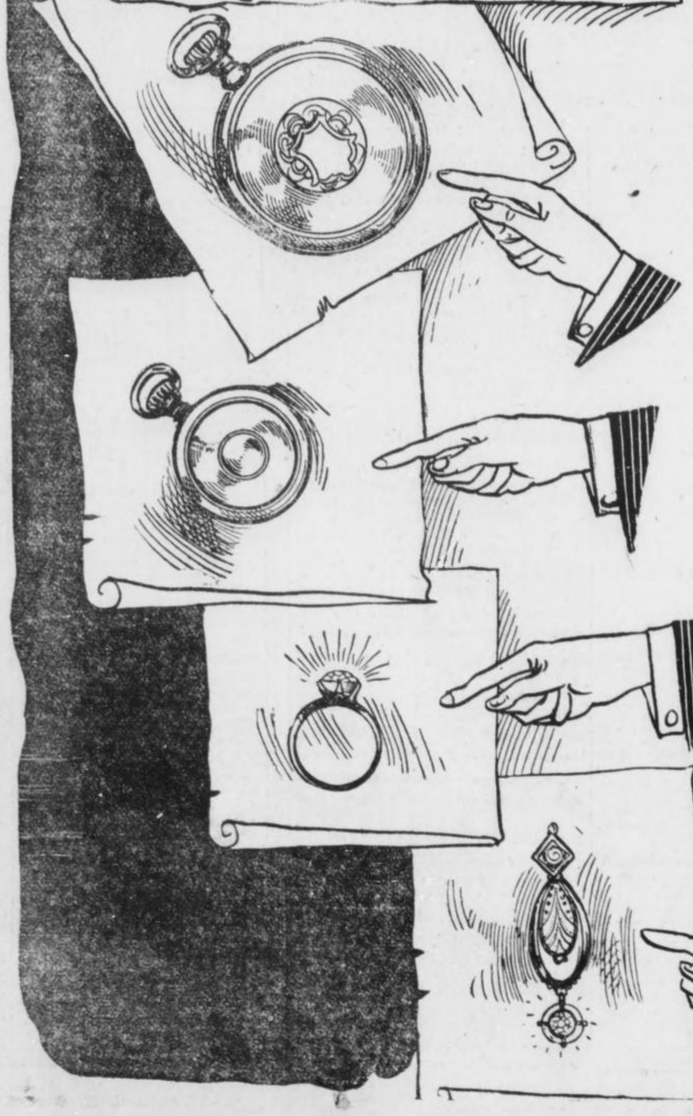
LOOK! AT THE FINE THINGS YOU CAN GET FREE!

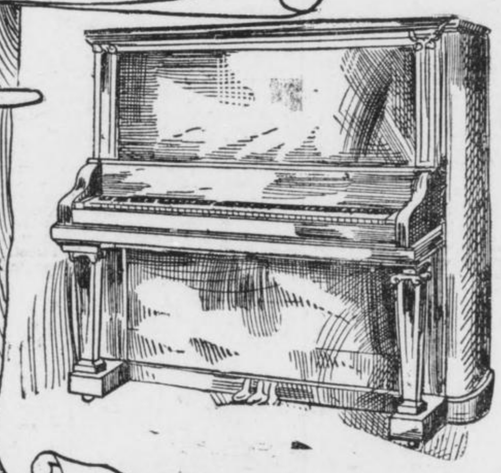












READY!

The Want Ad Contest Starts To-morrow

Contestants Will Begin Securing Want Ads in the Big Prize Contest

Rules: Ten contest votes will be given for every cent turned in to the want-ad man in payment for ads at the following rate:

One insertion 10 cents a line; two insertions 7 1-2 cents a line; three insertions 6 cents a line; 7 insertions 5 cents a line. Minimum 20 cents. Count six average length words to the line.

Receipts will be given for every cent turned in. Contestants will drop ballot blank in box at district headquarters or main office.

All Ready For Big Want Ad Contest

District Headquarters Open Thursday and Contestants Will Report There For Start

Well, we're off to-morrow. The Georgian's Want Ad Contest is all ready, the contestants are waiting for the word, and the want ads will commence coming in to-morrow. There is still time for you to enter, if you're over 14 years old and less than 90, but you'd better start Thursday and be even with the others.

Listen: The Want Ad Man has made arrangements with four of the best located and most progressive drug stores in Atlanta for space to be used as district headquarters, and contestants need not come all the way to the uptown office to begin work.

Come to the headquarters of the district in which you live, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. You may work anywhere in the city you like, but will be directed from the district where your home is. They are as follows:

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS

DISTRICT NO. 1—North of Marietta and West of Peachtree, Taylor Bros. Drug Store, 191 West Peachtree Street.

DISTRICT NO. 2—North of Decatur Street and east of Peachtree, including Kirkwood, Decatur and Eastern Suburbs; Ponce DeLeon Pharmacy corner Ponce DeLeon and North Boulevard.

DISTRICT NO. 3—South of Decatur Street and east of Whitehall, Paragon Pharmacy, Capitol Avenue and Georgia Avenue.

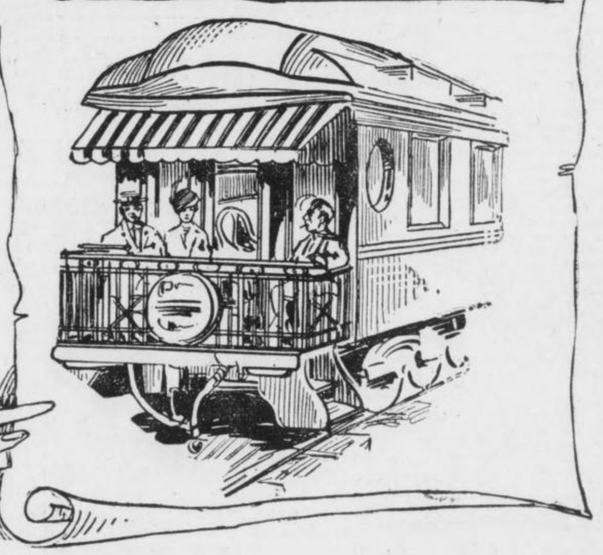
DISTRICT NO. 4—South of Marietta Street and west of Whitehall, including West End, College Park, East Point and Battle Hill; Medlock's Pharmacy, Gordon and Lee Streets.

Experienced District Managers will meet you, with blanks, instructions as to details, helpful hints for work and every aid to enable you to get business without trouble. If you have not already entered, have the nomination blank on another page of this issue filled out and present it to the District Manager.

Remember, the first prize is a splendid new model Automobile, and others range from a handsome piano, or a trip to California, down through motorcycles, bicycles, gold watches and diamonds. You can surely win something if you'll try and keep trying. And more than that, you'll learn to "sell the goods," the most valuable business training a young man or woman can possibly have.

Don't fail to see the District Managers at the headquarters to-morrow. Clip this out and remember the address of your headquarters.

NOW, GO IN AND WIN!



Nomination Coupon

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

1,000 VOTES

I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)

as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.

It isn't too late to enter. Fill out this Nomination blank and bring it with you Thursday ☛

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED

Optimistic Trade Boosters From Throughout Georgia Namee Executive Committee.

Voicing their belief that a new era of prosperity is dawning for Georgia, more than 75 representatives of trade and commercial bodies of various towns and counties in the State met at the headquarters of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning and took the first steps in an organization of a great State commercial organization, to be known as the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. C. J. Haden, chairman of the special committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which called the state-wide meeting, presided.

The convention unanimously and enthusiastically adopted resolutions prepared by a committee on temporary organization, headed by C. G. Bradley, of Madison, that the new State organization be formed. The resolutions provided for the naming of an executive committee of seven, with C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, as chairman, to take charge of the active work of organization. This committee, which Mr. Haden announced he will appoint within two weeks, will name a vice president for each county in the State that is affiliated with the central organization, a secretary and treasurer, and will have charge of the work of securing a charter for the State chamber and the drafting of a constitution and by-laws.

Next Meet in Macon.

The next meeting of the State organization will be held in Macon, Ga., at the pleasure of the executive committee. This meeting probably will not be called until the committee has completed its work of securing a charter and drafting the constitution and by-laws. A president will be elected at the Macon meeting, which, it is hoped, will be attended by not less than 300 representatives of commercial bodies.

Considerable discussion developed in the selection of the next place of meeting, with Atlanta and Macon as the contending cities. The tide was turned in favor of Macon when Mayor Woodward of Atlanta, President Moore of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and other prominent Atlantans declared that the Central Georgia city should be given the preference over Atlanta.

Not an Atlanta Move.

"We must show the people of Georgia that this is not solely an Atlanta movement," declared Mayor Woodward, "and that we are willing to work for the good of the whole State as much as we are willing to work for Atlanta. This movement must be made State-wide to attain its proper measure of success, and it can not be made State-wide if the people become imbued with the idea that it is strictly an Atlanta affair. By all means the next meeting should be held in Macon, and if possible future meetings, at least until the Chamber of Commerce has become thoroughly established should be held in various cities throughout the State."

The question of where the meetings of the State organization shall be held will not be definitely decided until the Macon meeting. It is probable that the executive committee will submit, at that time, recommendations as to the regular meetings of the State body. Chairman Haden is of the opinion that the meetings, at least for a year or two, should not be held at any one place twice in succession.

Speeches Full of Optimism.

A number of optimistic addresses, expressing a firm belief in the future of Georgia and in the State Chamber of Commerce as a method of development, were delivered during the Wednesday morning session. Among the speakers were prominent business men from all over the State and several representatives of railroads that do business in Georgia, all of whom pledged their support and the support of their corporations to the new movement.

V. N. Richards, of Washington, of the Southern Railway, and J. A. Pride, of Norfolk, Va., representing the Seaboard Air Line, were among the railroad men who addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Dan G. Hughes, of Twiggs County; Philip G. Campbell, of Atlanta, founder of the "Corn Club" movement; Robert Maddox, of Atlanta; R. D. Cole, of Newnan; C. D. McKinney, of Decatur, and C. G. Bradley, of Morgan County.

At 1 o'clock the visiting delegates were entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City Club, as guests of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

MACON, July 23.—Macon labor union men instead of the customary street parade will have a basket picnic at Lakeside Park on Labor Day. Special trains will be operated to the park.

WHY, CHARLES ROBBINS!

THOMSON, CONN., July 23.—Nine days after he had been presented with a baby carriage as a premium for getting married, Charles S. Robbins, 60, sued for a divorce.

O. M. TIFT DIES AT TIFTON.

TIFTON.—Orville M. Tift died Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eliza C. Tift, postmaster at Tifton. He was a son of the late W. O. Tift, of Tifton. The funeral was held in Tifton this afternoon.

2,000 Teamsters on Strike in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 23.—Two thousand teamsters went on strike today as the result of the order of the union yesterday, following the break between the men and the members of the employers' association.

The only teamsters not affected are the bakery and ice wagon drivers, whose grievances were recently adjusted.

PRESSMAN BANKRUPT.

Roger Lawson Speer, a pressman, Wednesday in the United States District Court filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $309.45 with assets of $100.

House Still Toils With Funds Bill

The House gave three hours to the consideration of the general appropriations bill Wednesday and managed to get through nine pages. Only one change was made in the report of the committee. This was the adoption of an amendment by John Y. Smith, of Atlanta, increasing the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

At 10 o'clock the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole and took up the appropriations bill, with Speaker Pro Tem McMichael in the chair. An obstacle was met in the adoption of Section 1 and Section 1-A, which provides for the salaries of Statehouse officers, in amendments offered by Representative Ed Wohlwender. The Representative from Muscogee wanted to know whether any of the Statehouse officers were receiving fees, and it took an hour's discussion for the other members to convince him that everyone was on the salary basis. He offered two amendments, but withdrew both.

In the appropriations bill no objection was made to amounts set aside for the colleges of Georgia, as published in The Georgian several days ago.

When the House takes up the bill Thursday it will begin with the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the public schools of the State. This is the exact amount as paid out to country school teachers this year, which is more than $100,000 under the actual expense incurred and the amount appropriated by the last Legislature.

Anthony N. Brady Dead in London

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady, New York financier, died last night in his rooms at the Hotel Charlton of heart disease.

Mr. Brady, whose fortune is estimated at $100,000,000, arrived in London from New York two weeks ago. It is believed grief over the death of his daughter in a wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Westport, Conn., last October, hastened his end.

Louis Sherry, the New York restaurant man, who was with Mr. Brady, has arranged to ship the body back to America to-morrow on the liner Olympic.

Won Vast Fortune in Business in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady was 70 years old. He was born in France of Irish parents. Early in his boyhood he came to America and worked as bartender in Albany.

A short time later he decided to go into business. With his savings he started a tea and coffee store. He soon controlled the tea and coffee industry in Albany and Troy, N. Y., and branched out through the State.

Then he went into Wall Street and became known as one of the most daring speculators in the street. He was a director or an officer in more than 60 corporations.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfeld, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Government Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1913 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

2,000 ATTEND REVIVAL.

DALTON.—A crowd of 2,000 persons attended a revival meeting conducted by Rev. E. B. Farrar in North Dalton Tuesday night. The services are being held in a tent.

FARMERS MEET AT DALTON.

DALTON.—About 200 farmers attended the farm school at the courthouse Tuesday, the attendance being larger than at any previous meeting. Organization of the Whitfield County Farmers' Institute was perfected by the election of D. Puryear, president, and C. L. Foster, secretary.

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under strict surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha',
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha'," hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pretty. "Denty leddies," dainty ladies.

COTTON GOSSIP

The market has been very weak all day on predictions of unsettled weather with showers over the western belt. The selling for a while was general with no special support. The weakness of the July position in New Orleans has also caused selling here. Some of those who have been identified with the bull side for the past two weeks were among the sellers, though they are buying now on the decline and express the belief that the market should be bought on soft spots regardless of weather conditions, especially with the spot situation so acute. Though you hear a great many bearish expressions to the effect that we have seen the high level for some time to come.—J. M. Anderson.

* * *

Warehouse stocks in New York today 31,821; certificated 23,341 bales.

* * *

Riordan sold 4,000 bales of January at 11.25.

* * *

Bishop, Texas, says: "More cotton pickers in demand and Mexican rebels and federals coming for the purpose. Cotton opening fast on 700-acre farm, promising bale to the acre."

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas generally clear. Oklahoma—North portion cloudy; balance clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows very favorable conditions, cloudy over entire eastern half of the belt and Oklahoma. Fair in rest of the belt. Splendid rains in the Eastern States and Alabama, nice showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.29; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market, in session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to get ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be retendered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now showing up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There will be thundershowers to-night or Thursday in the Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Ohio Valley and showers to-night in the lower Lake region, followed by generally fair weather Thursday. In the upper Lake region the weather will be generally fair. It will be somewhat cooler in the Lake region.

General Forecast.

General forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Georgia—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Virginia—Showers to-night or Thursday.

North and South Carolina—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Alabama and Mississippi—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Louisiana—Fair except showers in the southwest and east portions to-night or Thursday.

East Texas—Fair in interior; showers on coast to-night or Thursday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and Thursday.

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, nominal; middling 12¾.
Athens, steady; middling 11¾.
Macon, steady; middling 12½.
New Orleans, quiet; middling 12 7-16.
New York, quiet; middling 12.40.
Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.65.
Boston, quiet; middling 12.40.
Liverpool, quiet; middling 6.69d.
Savannah, firm; middling 12c.
Augusta, steady; middling 12⅜.
Norfolk, steady; middling 12½.
Charleston, steady; middling 12 5-16.
Charleston, nominal.
Mobile, steady; middling 12c.
Wilmington, quiet; middling 12c.
Little Rock, steady; middling 12c.
Baltimore, nominal; middling 12½.
Memphis, quiet; middling 12¾.
Memphis, steady; middling 12⅜.
St. Louis, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Houston, quiet; middling 12 3-16.
Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.
Charlotte, steady; middling 12c.
Greenville, steady; middling 12c.

MILLER-COTTER COTTON LETTER.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Influence of excellent rains in Atlantic States was felt in the market. With showers predicted for Texas the outlook is quite encouraging to crop. Sentiment is more bearish, and selling would probably be free if rains come over the Southwest. Otherwise, the market may wait on further developments without material decline.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞; Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27½d, up 1-16d.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 23.—October was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day, selling up 12 points. Later months were in demand from speculators. Crude mills are very firm in their views, and are offering very sparingly at about half a cent above the market.

Refiners continue moderate buyers of old crop oil, this demand forcing the price up. On the advance there were moderate realizing sales which caused a setback in October and November of 4 to 5 points.

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot		6.40
July	9.25@9.40	9.34@9.50
August	9.32@9.36	9.44@9.46
September	9.40@9.43	9.43@9.50
October	8.26@8.28	8.34@8.36
November	6.91@6.94	6.99@7.00
December	6.73@6.74	6.76
January	6.72@6.75	6.76
February	6.70@6.78	6.71@6.73

Closed strong; sales 14,800 barrels.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Money on call 2½. Time money unchanged; 60 days, 3¾@4; 90 days 4½; six months, 6 per cent.

Posted rates, sterling exchange, 4.84@4.87½ with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8675@4.8680 for demand and 4.8320 for 60-day bills.

Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The tone showed a slight improvement at the metal market to-day. Copper: Spot, 13⅜; July, 13⅜@14⅛; August, 13⅜@14⅛; September, 13⅜@14⅛. Tin, 4.62½; lead, 4.20@4.40; spelter, 5.35@5.70.

COTTON DROPS ON WEATHER OUTLOOK

Bull Clique Liquidates When Longs Curtail Holdings—Buying Light—No Support.

NEW YORK, July 23.—With cables at a point or so better than had been expected and no rain in either Texas or Oklahoma, the cotton market opened quiet and steady to-day, with prices showing irregularity, being 2 off to 3 points higher than the closing quotations of Tuesday. Barometric conditions as shown on the map did not indicate any rain in prospect for the Western belt, resulting in most active positions increasing their gains 2 to 4 points from the initial level.

Cotton bulls received another jolt after the call when another drop of 30 points in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the market. July New Orleans dropped from 12.00 to 11.70, while August followed with a loss of 26 points. This, together with the late map showing unsettled weather condition in the Western belt, was about the only interesting feature. With the exception of scattered trade buying, the market was friendless and prices droped 6 to 12 points from the opening. July and August were the heaviest pressed, both declining 12 points. The selling was generally accredited to holders of long contracts, who were tired of waiting for the market to pull out of the rut.

During the afternoon session Memphis operators were reported sellers on the rumor that the National Ginners Association gave the crop 82 per cent, compared with the Government figures of July 3, of 81.8, which would indicate a slight improvement for the month. This brought out a renewal of the early selling sufficiently to maintain prices around the low point.

The market closed steady with prices at a net decline of 9 to 12 points from Tuesday's final.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: August 11.96, October 11.40, January 11.28.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: July 11.85, August 11.78, October 11.44, January 11.44.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Thursday.	1912.
New Orleans	400 to 450	750
Semi-weekly interior movement:
	1913.	1912.
Receipts	9,321	2,544
Shipments	10,380	7,583
Stocks	117,687	79,658

RANGE IN NEW YORK FUTURES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close	Prev. Close.
July	12.16	12.16	12.03	12.04	12.04-05	12.15-16
Aug	12.00	12.02	11.88	11.89	11.88-90	12.01-02
Spt	11.68	11.68	11.58	11.59	11.57-59	11.67-69
Oc	11.45	11.48	11.36	11.36	11.36-37	11.45-46
Nv				11.33	11.28-30	11.38-40
Dc	11.37	11.41	11.29	11.34	11.29-30	11.39-40
Jn	11.34	11.36	11.23	11.24	11.24-25	11.33-34
Fb					11.25-26	11.34-36
Mh	11.43	11.43	11.31	11.31	11.31-32	11.41-42
My	11.46	11.46	11.38	11.38	11.33-35	11.43-45

Closed steady

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—This market was due 2½ points lower on near positions and 4 to 4½ points lower on distant months, but opened quiet at a net decline of 2 to 3 points; at 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet, at a net decline of 3 to 4 points.

Fair business doing in spot cotton at 3 points decline; middling 6.69d; sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American bales; imports 1,000 bales, of which none were American.

At the close the market was steady with prices at a net decline of 4½ to 5 points from the final quotations of Tuesday.

Futures opened easier.

	Opening. Range	P. M.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	6.45	6.33½	6.42½	6.47
July-Aug.	6.44½	6.40½	6.42	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	6.36½	6.30	6.34½	6.39½
Sept.-Oct	6.22	6.21½	6.20	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Dec.-Jan.	6.15½	.....	6.11	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	6.13	6.12½	6.11	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	6.14	.....	6.12½	6.17
Mch.-Apr.	6.15½	6.15½	6.13½	6.18
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.14½	6.19
May-June	6.18	.....	6.15½	6.20

Closed steady.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—There were good and rather general rains over night in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina; showers fell in Louisiana and Mississippi. Galveston, Tex., had a good rain, but there was little in the interior of the State. Indications are for clearing weather in the Atlantics, cloudy in the Central and Western States; more general showers in the Central belt, and also in the Eastern section of Texas and Western Oklahoma. More general rains are indicated for the Western States toward Saturday.

Liverpool was about as due and quotes spot 3 points lower; sales, 8,000 bales. Futures weakened toward the close on better weather news.

Our market opened at unchanged figures, but soon gave way on the Government forecast of unsettled weather and showers for the Western States. August showed the greatest decline, probably consequence of hedge selling against spots. Trading settled around 11.42 for October. While there is no pronounced supporting demand from the trade, selling is conservative to avoid defeat on technical conditions.

New York advises that freight room for 4,000 bales to be shipped out of the local stock to Liverpool has been canceled, and that some cotton is coming there for delivery on July.

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS FUTURES

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close	Prev. Close.
July	12.00	12.00	11.70	11.75	11.71-76	12.00-01
Ag	11.95	11.95	11.69	11.70	11.70-71	11.94-95
Spt	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.45-47	11.55-57
Oc	11.51	11.52	11.40	11.41	11.41-42	11.50-51
Nv					11.38-40	11.48-49
Dc	11.48	11.50	11.37	11.40	11.38-40	11.48-49
Jn	11.51	11.51	11.40	11.41	11.41-42	11.50-51
Fb					11.30-40	11.46-49
Mh	11.54	11.54	11.48	11.48	11.48-59	11.59-61
My					11.53-55	11.65-68

Closed steady.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	1,147	601
Galveston	995	262
Mobile	2	52
Savannah	135	127
Charleston	51	.....
Norfolk	764	238
New York	.....	102
Boston	.....	8
Pacific coast	231	.....
Total	3,327	1,390

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	750	128
Augusta	78	155
Memphis	418	761
St. Louis	398	79
Cincinnati	155	1,084
Total	1,799	2,207

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

A. Norden & Co.: We favor buying on breaks such as we had yesterday.

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We continue to favor purchases on such dips as we had yesterday.

Miller & Co.: We anticipate further recession, but believe in buying into the market when these come along.

COPPER STOCKS HEAVILY BOUGHT

Big Issues Readily Absorbed by Strong Sources Who Disregard Temporary Fluctuations.

By CHARLES W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lower prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market to-day, with the exception of the copper shares which ruled strong.

Canadian Pacific showed a loss of a point in response to a similar decline in the London market. Other industrial issues yielded fractionally, but the recessions were not accompanied by any indications of weakness, and as the leader the one developed after the first few minutes of trading.

United States Government 2s showed a further decline this morning, 10,000 of the bonds selling at 96¾, a decrease of ⅜.

The London market was dull.

Trading on the curb was steady.

The tone continued dull through the forenoon and all around fractional losses were recorded. Canadian Pacific dropped 1¼, a net loss of 1¼. Steel, New York, New Haven and Hartford and Union Pacific declined ½. Petroleum was the most prominent in the declines, losing 1¼ since the opening. Changes in other issues were in the form of fractional declines.

Call money loaning at 2½.

The market closed strong. Governmetn bonds strong; other bonds firm.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCKS.	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.
Amal. Cop.	69½	68¼	69¼	68⅜
Am. Agri.	.....	.....	.....	.....
A. B. Sugar.	24⅝	24¼	24	24½
Am. Can	32⅝	31⅝	32	32⅝
do. pfd.	93½	92½	92⅝	92⅜
Am. C. Fdy.	44⅜	43¾	43¾	43⅝
A. Cot. Oil	38	38	37	37½
Am. Ice	22	22	20	.....
Am. Loco.	.....	.....	30	30
Am. Smelt.	62⅜	62	62⅜	62½
Am. Sugar	111⅜	111⅛	110	111½
A. T. and T.	128¼	128¼	128	127⅜
Am. Wool	.....	.....	16½	16½
Anaconda	34½	34¼	34½	34¼
Atchison	93	97½	97½	98
A. C. L.	.....	.....	117	117
B. and O.	98	98	98	97⅜
Beth. Steel	33¼	32½	33½	32⅜
B. R. T.	87⅜	87¼	87½	87⅞
Can. Pacific	218½	217¼	217½	219¼
Cen. Leath.	23	22⅝	23⅜	23¼
C. and O.	54	53¼	53⅝	54
C. F. and I.	30¾	30¾	29½	30⅝
Col. Sou.	.....	.....	30½	30½
Con. Gas	.....	.....	130¾	130½
Corn Prod.	10¼	9⅞	.....	10¼
D. and H.	.....	.....	.....	153
D. and R. G.	18⅝	18⅜	17½	18½
Dis. Secu.	.....	.....	.....	.....
Erie	26⅝	26⅛	26¼	26⅜
do. pfd.	40⅜	40	40¼	40¼
Gen. Elec.	140¼	139¾	139½	140
G. N. pfd.	124¼	123⅞	124	124⅛
G. N. O.	33½	33⅛	33½	33⅛
Gt. West.	14	14	13	14¼
Ill. Cen.	113½	113⅛	113¼	112⅝
Interboro.	15⅜	15⅛	15½	15⅜
do. pfd.	59	58¼	58½	59
Int. Har. (old)	.....	.....	106¼	106
Iowa Cen.	.....	.....	.....	7
K. C. S.	27½	27⅛	27½	27¼
M., K. and T.	22⅜	21⅜	22⅜	21⅝
do. pfd.	.....	.....	59	58
L. Valley	149	148¼	148½	149½
L. and N.	133	132⅜	132½	132⅞
Mo. Pacific	31⅝	31½	31½	31½
N. Y. Central	98¼	98	97⅞	98
Northwest.	128½	128½	128½	128½
Nat. Lead	.....	.....	41½	.....
N. and W.	104⅞	104⅞	104½	105
No. Pacific	108⅞	108⅜	108¼	108½
O. and W.	29¼	29	28⅜	29
Penna.	113⅞	113⅜	113⅜	113⅝
Pacific Mail	.....	.....	19	19½
P. Gas Co.	112⅜	112⅜	112	.....
P. Steel Car.	.....	.....	24½	24½
Reading.	160⅜	159⅞	160¼	160⅝
R. I. and Steel	24⅜	24	24	23⅞
do. pfd.	86¼	85	85	86½
Rock Island.	16½	16¼	16¼	16⅜
do. pfd.	.....	.....	27	27
S.-Sheffield.	.....	.....	25	25
So. Pacific.	92⅜	92¼	92¼	96⅝
So. Railway	22⅞	22½	22⅝	22⅜
do. pfd.	.....	.....	77¼	77
St. Paul.	104⅜	104⅛	104⅜	104⅜
Tenn. Copper.	29⅞	29¼	29½	29⅜
Texas Pacific.	14⅜	14⅛	14⅜	14½
Union Pacific.	148¼	147¼	147½	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60	59	58⅜	.....
U. S. Steel.	56⅞	56⅞	56½	56⅞
do. pfd.	106⅝	106⅝	106¼	106½
Utah Copper	45½	45¼	45½	44⅝
V.-C. Chem.	25½	25½	24½	25½
Wabash.	.....	.....	2½	2½
do. pfd.	6⅞	6⅞	6⅜	6⅜
W. Union	.....	.....	63¼	62½
W. Maryland	.....	.....	.....	40½
W. Electric	62	61½	61½	62¼
W. Central	.....	.....	43	43

Total sales, 192,000 shares.

STOCK GOSSIP

While the market has a reactionary tendency, do not look for any decline of consequence. There seems to be a steady accumulation of the better class of stocks on all recessions by the large interests, who buy for a long pull and disregard temporary fluctuations. Prices of dividend-paying issues are low, and if present crop prospects materialize at harvest time, we look for a continuation of large earnings for railroads, and a higher range of values before the end of the year.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The news from the Balkans is not inspiring. Foreign traders are disposed to take profit.

* * *

Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Texas, submits a rival currency bill to President Wilson.

* * *

The New Haven may select a new president to-day or Thursday.

* * *

The express rate decision may be rendered to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads may be denied advance, but may be ordered to discontinue high allowance paid to industrial owners of switching railroads, thereby saving $42,000,000 a year, says The American.

* * *

Information channels favor profit-taking.

* * *

The Erie Railroad agreed to join other roads in accepting any arbitration award, but will ask men to defer effective date until January 1, 1915.

* * *

It is reported that the United Cigar Company will open a London branch.

* * *

New Haven Railroad earned between 5 and 5½ per cent in 1913 and paid 7½ per cent dividends.

* * *

Weld & Co. are offering $1,370,000 Baltimore and Ohio mortgage 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds at 89 and interest to yield about 4⅝ per cent.

MINING STOCKS.

BOSTON, July 23.—Opening: Calariz, 62½; New Haven, 102⅜; Allouez, 33½; Sheet Machine, 46½; Calumet Hecla, 495; Butte Superior, 27⅞; Quincy, 60.

Atlanta Markets

EGGS—Fresh country, candled, 16@17c.

BUTTER—Jersey and creamery, in 1-lb. blocks 27½@30c; fresh country, fair demond, 15@18c.

UNDRAWN POULTRY—Drawn, head and feet on, per pound: riens, 19c; fries, 22½@24; roosters, 8@10c; turkeys, owing to fatness, 17@19c.

LIVE POULTRY—Hens, 40@45; roosters, 30@35c; broilers, 25@30c per pound; puddle ducks, 30@35c; Pekins, 35@40c; geese, 50@60c each; turkeys, owing to fatness, 15@17c.

FRUITS AND PRODUCE.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—Lemons, fancy, $8.00@9.00; cauliflower, 10@12½c lb.; bananas, 2½c lb; cabbage, $2.00 per crate; peanuts, per pound, fancy virginia, 6½@7c; choice, 5½@6c; beets, $1.75@2.00 in half-barrel crates; cucumbers, $1.25@1.50. Eggplants 75c@1.00 per crate; peppers, $1.25@1.50 per crate; tomatoes, fancy, six-basket crates, $2.00@2.50; onions, $1.00 per bu.; sweet potatoes, pumpkin yams, 50@85c. okra, fancy, six-basket crates, $1.50@1.75.

FISH.

FISH—Bream and perch, 7c pound; snapper, 10c pound; trout, 10c pound; bluefish, 7c pound; pompano, 20c pound; mackerel, 7c pound; mixed fish, 5@6c pound; black bass, 10c pound; mullet, $11.00 per barrel.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR—Postell's Elegant, $7.75; Omega, $7.00; Carter's Best, $6.25; Quality (finest patent), $6.40; Gloria (self-rising), $6.00; Results (self-rising), $6; Swans Down (fancy patent), $6.00; Victory (the very best patent), $6.40; Monogram, $6.00; Puritan (highest patent), $5.65; Golden Grain, $5.60; Faultless (finest patent), $6.25; Home Queen (highest patent), $5.65; Paragon (highest patent, $5.75; Sunrise (half patent), $4.

To Gain Your Goal With The Greatest Speed,

A Home In "Dixie"

In city, town or country can be found just the place you are looking for if you will read the Real Estate and "Want Ad" section of this newspaper. These ads are the guide posts to wealth and happiness.

Want Anything?

TELEPHONE

Main / Atlanta 100

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion .....10c a line
3 insertion ..... 6c a line
7 insertions ..... 5c a line
26 insertions ....4½c a line
50 insertions .... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

TELEPHONE

Both / Phones 100

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE "SOUTH."

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed.

No.	Arrive From—		No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingh'm	12:40 pm	36	New York	12:15 am
35	New York	5:00 am	26	Columbus	5:20 am
13	Jacksonville	8:20 am	18	Cincinnati	6:40 am
42	Washington	8:25 am	32	Fort Valley	5:30 am
12	Shreveport	8:30 am	35	Birmingh'm	5:50 am
16	Heflin	8:20 am	7	Chattn'ga	6:40 am
29	New York	11:15 am	12	Richmond	6:56 am
8	Chattn'ga	10:25 am	23	Kansas City	7:00 am
7	Macon	10:40 am	16	Brunswick	7:45 am
17	Fort Valley	10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm	11:30 a
21	Columbus	10:50 am	38	New York	11:01 am
6	Cincinnati	11:10 am	40	Charlotte	12:00 p m
29	Columbus	1:40 pm	6	Macon	12:20 pm
39	Birmingh'm	2:30 pm	20	Columbus	12:36 pm
40	Birmingh'm	12:40 pm	30	New York	7:45 pm
39	Charlotte	9:55 pm	15	Chattn'ga	3:00 pm
5	Macon	4:00 pm	39	Birmingh'm	4:10 pm
37	New York	5:00 pm	18	Toccoa	4:30 pm
25	Brunswick	7:50 pm	22	Columbus	5:10 pm
11	Richmond	8:30 pm	5	Cincinnati	5:10 pm
24	Kansas City	9:30 pm	23	Fort Valley	5:20 pm
23	Jacksonville	6:50 am	25	Heflin	5:45 pm
17	Toccoa	8:10 am	10	Macon	5:35 pm
			34	Washington	9:45 pm
			24	Jacksonville	9:30 pm
			41	Shreveport	11:10 pm
			14	Jacksonville	11:10 pm

All trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office No. 1 Peachtree St.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—I am a candidate for alderman from the Eighth Ward subject to the approaching city primary. Jno. S. Owens. 7-5-1

FUNERAL NOTICES.

THORNTON—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Austell Thornton and Mrs. Leila A. Thornton are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Austell Thornton to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the residence, 611 Peachtree street. Interment at Oakland; private. Pall-bearers selected will meet at Barclay & Brandon Co., 246 Ivy street, at 3:30 o'clock. 7-23-24

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Tuesday afternoon oblong barrette set with pearl at each end. Reward if returned to 524 Spring street. 7-23-13

LOST—In shopping district, Whitehall Street, Monday afternoon, ladies' black silk umbrella, gold and pearl handle, monogram "I. M. M." Reward for return. Mrs. Harrison, 202 Pulliam St., Phone Main 4722-J. 36-23-7

LOST—One bay mare mule, blind in right eye. Finder call Atlanta phone 5640-M. 43-23-7

LOST—Pair of eyeglasses, black cord attached, on Friday 18th. Reward if returned to No. 10 Williams street. 7-23-1

STRAYED from 457 N. Jackson St., a brown muley head cow. Reward for her return to above address. Cal Ivy 118 or Ivy 1848. 7-23-15

LOST—On Ferry, Fair, King or Hill street one bundle of collector's cards. Return to J. K. Polk, 288 Decatur street. 7-22-21

LOST—Saturday, between National Paper Company and Marietta St., or on Cooper St. to Hendrix street car, between Simpson and Broad, gold chain with Knights of Columbus charm. Call Main 1163 or Ivy 3182-J. 7-20-93

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

LOST AND FOUND.

W. M. COX cleans all kinds of carpets, rugs a specialty. Ivy 3135-J, Atlanta 1818. 145 Auburn Ave. 7-20-81

LOST—Thursday, between Atlanta and Marietta, Goodyear tire in case. Phone Ivy 2009. Reward. 74-20-7

LOST—Large white English bulldog. Answers to name of Jack. Strayed from 224 Whitehall Street. Reward for return. 7-19-13

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-23

THE LADY who removed silverware from rest room Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405 Third National Bank Bldg. Phone Ivy 551. 7-19-28

LOST—In ladies' room Terminal Station, silver mesh purse, engraved "Ruth Roberts." Liberal reward for return or information leading to recovery. Phone Ivy 5710. 901 Empire Life Bldg. 31-19-7

PERSONAL.

SUITS PRESSED ONLY 35 CENTS.

PHONE MAIN 1177 AND A MESSENGER WILL CALL.

THE WRIGHT SHOP.

FORMERLY IDEAL TAILOR SHOP. 15 FAIRLIE STREET. 6-30-33

HAT SALE—Trimmed hats, $1.50 to $5.00; outing hats, 75c; imported horsehair hats, $4.98; black hats, maline and lace trimmed. Remodeling hats specialty, $1.50. Panamas cleaned. Mrs. C. H. Smith, 115 Peachtree, next to Candler Bldg. 25-22-7

LADIES—Ask your druggist for Chichester Pills, the Diamond brand; for twenty years known as best, safest, always reliable; buy of your druggist. Take no other. Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. 5-20-1

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, home-like. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-57

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-14

FACES READ by physiognomy. What are your best assets? Don't neglect finding this out in courtship or business. Written readings, only $2. The Helper, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. 5-3-5

PANAMA EXPOSITION TOUR—Quick action will save money and secure accommodations impossible later on. Contracting manager here from San Francisco. Address Dept. C, P. O. Box 1023, Atlanta, Ga. 30-19-7

OWEN J. ALFORD—Please call General Delivery, Atlanta, for important letter. Good news. 7-20-4

EDUCATIONAL.

WANTED—Pupils in Atlanta who want private teaching during the regular school months; grade, high school or college entrance work; rates reasonable; good testimonials. If interested, write for a personal interview. 531 W. Taylor, Griffin, Ga. 7-20-15

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—First-class, experienced cabinet man for making casket shells. Atlanta Casket Company. 7-23-18

WANTED—Reliable colored driver with references. Address P. O. Box 84, city. 40-23-7

WANTED—A colored presser. Herman Solloway, 273 Whitehall street. 7-23-15

HAVE good opening for man with character, ability and $600 for half interest in business just organized with fine prospects. Address Manufacturer, Box 39, care Georgian. 31-23-7

WANTED—Solicitor for high-grade business. Can make $5 daily. Call at 70½ Peachtree street. Office 4-6. 7-23-5

GOVERNMENT POSITIONS are easy to get. My free booklet Y-412 tells how. Write to-day—NOW. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 7-2-1

WANTED—Young man who has had experience cutting fabrics. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 40-22-7

WANTED—Job press feeders. Empire Printing and Box Co., 553 Whitehall St. 7-22-1

WANTED—Two tile layers to lay tile walk at once. Call at 1021 Empire Bldg. 36-21-7

WANTED—Reliable, sober man for night watchman; give references. Address Watchman, care Georgian. 28-21-7

FOR Colored Southern Automobile School, day and night classes. Corner Magnolia and Hulsey streets. 98-20-7

PULLMAN porters wanted; give references. For information write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-31

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 E. Mitchell St.

WANTED—Railway mail clerks, $75.00 to $150 month. Details free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49 F, Rochester, N. Y. 25-18-7

FIFTY fast messengers with or without wheels, $8 to $12 week. Miller's Minute Messenger Service, rear City Hall. We sell wheels on weekly payments. 7-2-29

YES, shave 10c, hair cut 15c, massage 15c, at 41 Marietta Street, 4 E. Mitchell, 115 Edgewood Avenue, 99 Whitehall, 52 Ivy. Best white workmen. Clean linen. Baths 15c. 6-21-5

HILBURN HOTEL.

10 AND 12 WALTON ST.,

FOR gentlemen only; center of city, near new postoffice; rate 50c, 75c and $1.00. 6-31-10

WANTED—Men at once to learn the barber trade. A hundred jobs waiting. Few weeks completes. Better wages than you can earn without trade. Tools given. Wages while learning. Drop a card for particulars or call. Moler Barber College, 38 Luckie street. 26-19-7

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY—Able-bodied, unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35, citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 1927½ Second Avenue, Birmingham, Ala; 411 Cherry Street, Macon; Leonard Bldg., Augusta, or Broad and Marietta, Atlanta, Ga. 7-1-21

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

A FIRST-CLASS lady stenographer; must be accurate and rapid. Address Downtown, Box 30, care Georgian. 32-23-7

WANTED—First-class cook. 15 Brown Place. Phone Main 2690-L. 7-23-12

WANTED—Experienced white chambermaid at Hotel Ansley. Apply to Mrs. Scott, Housekeeper. 7-23-9

FIRST-CLASS COOK; room on lot; require reference. Apply at 1133 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 308. 41-23-7

WANTED—Girl for office work. 18 Trinity avenue. 7-23-6

WANTED—Woman to whipstitch books; must be experienced. Piedmont Printing Co., 127 Central avenue. 7-23-3

WANTED—Ladies with experience to trim straw and felt hats. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 39-22-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

SALESLADIES WANTED—A large cloak and suit house is desirous of connecting with them 5 additional salesladies. Must have experience from the large ready-to-wear stores. Permanent position and good salary to those who can qualify. Correspondence confidential. Address Suits and Cloaks, P. O. Box 988, Atlanta, Ga. 7-23-23

WANTED—White women to press men's underwear. Steady work and good pay. Apply Peter Hill Company, top floor Commerce Hall Bldg., Pryor and Edgewood. 7-22-7

WANTED—Woman to do cooking and general housework. Call Main 5424-L. 7-21-7

WANTED—At once several rapid, experienced typists; neat appearing; no others need apply. Miss Murphy, 179 Edgewood avenue. 7-21-12

WANTED—A good cook; references. 106 Lawton St. 7-20-31

WANTED—A good woman who understands work for a general helper for orphanage. Telephone West 1053. 7-20-20

WANTED—Girls to work in icing room. Frank E. Block Co. 7-19-26

WANTED—Good cook; family of two; North Side; good wages. Phone Ivy 876. 7-19-30

WANTED—A good settled woman to cook and do general housework; must understand cooking and sleep in house; references required. Apply 20 Fort McPherson. 7-18-6

WANTED—Governess, experienced in Atlanta public school work, for out of town; give experience and reference. Box 197, Austell, Ga. 33-19-7

WANTED—Young lady for office, with some knowledge of bookkeeping; rapid in writing, with good hand; steady employment. Address Box 610, care Georgian. 7-19-7

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pays $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. We make over and retrim hats free. 2-29-41

WANTED—Young lady stenographer; position till April 1; experience not necessary, if applicant can spell good; do not care for reference, only as to honesty. Address Box 209, Royston, Ga. 7-18-15

WANTED—Young women and girls desiring attractive positions. Welfare of operators and clerks closely supervised by the company; their conduct on the premises carefully guarded by matron, woman supervisors and chief operator, who have complete control over the retiring and operating rooms. Short training course for those inexperienced; salary paid while learning. Salary increased upon being transferred to operating force, and for those becoming efficient, increased as they become worthy, with opportunities for ultimate advancement to $75 per month. References proving the standing of the applicant essential. Those having educational advantages preferred. Lunch room and comfortable retiring rooms provided with several hundred Carnegie Library books for the convenience of the operators. Matron and trained nurse in attendance. Apply 8:30 to 5, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Training School, 25 Auburn Avenue. 6-15-16

WANTED—An experienced saleswoman one that understands the cloak and suit business thoroughly and competent to take complete charge thereof. Applicants will be treated strictly confidential. Write Box 607, care Herald, Albany, Ga.

HELP WANTED—MALE AND FEMALE.

WANTED—Experienced pantry men or women (white.) Apply at Steward's office, Hotel Ansley. 7-21-18

AGENTS—Make money fast. We have articles that sell. Call 47 Evans, West End. 7-19-12

WANTED, Cotton Mill Help ALL KINDS. High Wages. Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills, Atlanta, Ga. 6-17-7

TEACHERS WANTED.

South Atlantic Teachers' Agency 1125 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. SPECIAL registration. Direct calls coming fall. 6-26-28

AGENTS & SALESMEN WANTED.

WANTED—Three or four high grade salesmen to sell finished lots. Five minutes north of Five Points. I pay 40 cash for the sale of each lot. Reeves & Moran, 702 Empire Bldg. 7-22-8

TRAVELING SALESMEN.

WE REQUIRE AT ONCE THE SERVICES OF THREE GOOD, LIVE, ACTIVE, HIGH-GRADE TRAVELING SALESMEN TO TRAVEL SOUTHERN STATES. APPLICANTS MUST BE MORE THAN 25 YEARS OF AGE, GOOD PERSONALITY AND HAVE SUCCESSFUL RECORD AS SALESMEN; TO SUCH WE CAN OFFER A POSITION THAT WILL PAY $200 AND UP PER MONTH ABOVE EXPENSES. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY AND TRAVELING EXPENSES ADVANCED. REFERENCES REQUIRED. E. F. WHITE, 820 FORSYTH BUILDING, ATLANTA, GA. 40-27-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position at once; prefer job as butler or janitor; can give good reference. Call or address George Ellis, 172 Orme St. 47-23-7

COLORED man wants a job as butler in private family. Address P. S., Malvox, Elberton, Ga. 45-23-7

BOY WANTS job helping cook and do housework. Phone Atlanta 3216. 42-23-7

COMPETENT bookkeeper, best references, married, desires permanent situation immediately. Address J. H., care Georgian. 26-23-7

SITUATION wanted by an advertising man; a young fellow (25), but master of practical, sane methods that sell. A successful experience covering the building of catalogs, editing of house organs and the installation of mail order facilities that capitalize service and good goods. Particularly strong on the writing of sales letters and literature in which the "hook" is sound sales talk presented in a personal, human interest manner. For samples of work and an interview, Address W., Box 430, care Georgian. 25-23-7

WANTED—Position by young man with four years' experience as stenographer, bookkeeper and cashier; now employed. Address F., Box 60, care Georgian. 30-23-7

WANTED—Position by bright young man; office work preferred; can give good references. Address C. E. B., Box 38, care Georgian.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUCTION SALES.

AT AUCTION.

SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS, INCLUDING A FINE LOT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE. A LIST OF THE SAME WILL APPEAR IN TO-MORROW'S AD. SALE 10 A. M., FRIDAY, JULY 25.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY.

12 East Mitchell Street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED by a reliable colored man, position as janitor or porter. Five years' experience. Understands steam heat and hot air furnaces. Can furnish good references. Address C. Thomas, 24 Carter St. 38-22-7

WANTED—Position by bookkeeper and office man; ten years' experience; best references. Address Y. Z., Box 84, care Georgian.

RELIABLE colored chauffeur wants position at once. Can butler. References. Address Clifford Robinson, 53 Auburn Avenue. 82-20-7

BOOKKEEPER, general office man, fifteen years' experience, open for position. Address Y. P., Box 850, care Georgian. 84-20-7

WANTED—Position by young man, 20, with banking experience; can furnish good references. Address, stating salary, W. C. P., Box 144, Greenville, Fla. 35-20-7

A-1 BLACKSMITH and general repair man (both in wood and iron); best of references. Call Ivy 7582-J, or write F., 118 West Peachtree St., Atlanta. 59-20-7

SITUATION WANTED as building superintendent; broad experience in North and South on general building construction and reinforced concrete. Will go any place. Very best of references furnished. Address Box 982, care Georgian. 55-20-7

WANTED—Settled, reliable man wants position as night watchman. W. F. Lampp, Wrens, Ga. 42-17-7

A YOUNG colored man wants position as porter or janitor; good references. Address C. A. H., No. 12 Old Wheat street. 7-18-11

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads, 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

STENOGRAPHIC and assistant bookkeeping position desired at once. R. A. P., 138 Crew street. 35-23-7

WANTED—Sewing by the day by an experienced seamstress. Price, $1.00. Phone Mrs. H. Ivy 3707-J. 27-23-7

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housekeeper in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

DRESSMAKING — DRESSMAKERS

WANTED—Sewing by day; $1 and car fare, or will make tub and lawn dresses at home for $1. Dressmaker, 374 E. Hunter. 97-20-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD. We'll bring Cash for Old Clothes and Shoes. "THE VESTAIRE," 166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.

One year,	mail, postage prepaid,	$6.00
Six months,	mail, postage prepaid,	2.50
Three mos.,	mail, postage prepaid,	1.25
One month,	mail, postage prepaid,	.45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.

Delivered by carrier, one year	$5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months	2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months	1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month	.45
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week	.10

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

A FEW uncalled for suits to be sold at cost. Dundee Woolen Mills, 75 Peachtree street. 7-23-16

FOR SALE—At once, three new pianos. Sold everywhere for $375, will sacrifice for $125 each. Not leaving town. No fake. Reason for this remarkable offer will be given you. Call 24 Mead avenue Decatur. 29-23-7

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 37-21-7

LADIES! Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree, Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

BROILERS

35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR

Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00.

C. H. MASON,

6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.

4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.

Rebuilt typewriters, $23 to $75.

The American Writing Machine Co., 48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

MAXWELL RUNABOUT, new engine, practically new tires, Prest-O-Lite, $175 if sold soon. Box 628, care Georgian. 33-23-7

AUTOGENOUS WELDING OF ALL MACHINE PARTS. All kinds of repair work promptly done. Work guaranteed. Shearer Machine Company, 197 Whitehall.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE; 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.

SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-301

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS

While You Wait.

Sanford Decarbonizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.

CAMP MACHINE SHOP,

275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

TRAVIS & JONES,

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.

Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS,

RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-54

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Stowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS

Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.

WE USE OXYGEN

No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.

A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.

It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.

Atlanta Welding Co.

Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

HOTTEST CITY

The hottest city on earth is said to be Mecca, the capital of the Turkish Province of Hejaz, in Arabia.

A temperature of 125 degrees Fahrenheit is nothing unusual in Mecca.

Being the birthplace of Mohammed and containing the Kaaba, the city of Mecca is also the central and most holy place of all Islam.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

STUDEBAKER

SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $670. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 25% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5900. 6-6-1

CLEARANCE SALE OF GOOD USED CARS.

Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:

Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.

If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,

241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

Autos Wanted.

WANTED—Small roadster or light touring car; Hupmobile or Model T Ford preferred. Must be a bargain. Box 276 care Georgian. 34-23-7

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 3-26-31

POULTRY

Pet and Live Stock

Fat Hens Declared To Be Best Layers

Grain Feeding Gives Desired Result. Expert Tells When Fowl Is Useless.

By JUDGE J. F. MARSHALL.

It is no secret with a great many poultrymen and farmers that a well-fed, fat hen is a good egg producer, in spite of the hue and cry by a certain class warning us not to get our hens fat.

I believe these people are honest in their opinions. I think they have been governed almost wholly by the fact that at times they have killed an old hen that had passed her usefulness and quit producing eggs, and the hen in question was filled with fat and no signs of eggs.

Putting two and two together, they decided that the reason she was not producing eggs was on account of her fat, while the real truth in the matter is she was too old to produce eggs. And her fatness is explained by lack of exercise.

Observation covering a period of nearly 40 years, during which I have made a study of the hen, her laying times, her condition during that time, and in fact everything pertaining to egg production, has brought me to the conclusion that it is the fat but energetic hen that gives us the eggs.

Corn Not a Bad Feed.

I have seen hundreds of hens dressed for the table, and it has been almost a universal rule that the hen that was full of eggs in various stages of formation was also full of layers of fat. I have observed hundreds of farmers who would feed their hens corn almost exclusively the year round and market eggs by the bushel all the time. They were stock farmers who had more corn to spare than any other kind of grain, and they made use of it.

How often you have heard corn condemned? Some go so far as to assert that it should not be fed to hens at all in any considerable quantity.

Did you ever stop to think that the yolk of the egg is about 60 per cent fat, while the white and shell contain no fat? The yolk being the first part of the egg to form must necessarily have, as the Irishman said, the wherewithal to form it from. The fat must be there ready for the work.

Surplus Energy Gives Eggs.

We must remember that the egg is manufactured from the surplus energy the hen has over and above that necessary to maintain her body in a good, healthy condition. As soon as that point is reached she begins to lay on the reserve, which is fat out of which the egg is made.

There may be an occasional hen that will take on fat abnormally and get filled up so as to retard egg production, but we must take the chances on that if we are working for heavy egg production. Such hens usually are not worth much for eggs in any event.

There is a class of hens that tend to take on fat outside of the digestive tract on the lower part of the abdomen. They get so fat that it is difficult for them to walk. As a rule such hens had just as well be disposed of as soon as found in that condition, for the fat is in such a position that it can not be utilized in egg formation.

These are drone hens which give many persons the idea that fat hens are useless. They are the exceptions that prove the rule.

Professor James Rice, of Cornell poultry department, says it has been his experience that hens will consume considerably more food a time before they begin to lay, another indication that they are preparing the system for the great strain to be put upon it.

Experiment Suggested.

Then did you ever notice how ravenously a hen taking care of chickens will eat in her endeavor to recoup herself, and how, as soon as she has fattened up, she will begin to lay?

For the sake of experimenting along that line just feed the hen with chickens just enough to keep her in moderate condition, but not nearly what she would like to have, and see how long she will be commencing to lay.

To sum up the matter, a hen must have a variety consisting of a great bulk of green stuff, together with the grain and a supply of meat in some form, in all a good, generous bill of fare at all times, that she may get her body in good condition with the extra for fat. On the farm range the hen will get much of her variety of greens, as well as bugs for the meat, so that grain is the real thing needed.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK.

Ducks.

TWENTY-FIVE TRIOS pure white Indian Runners, $5 per trio. Coweta Duck Farm, Senoia, Ga. 7-13-341

Leghorns.

1,500 GRAND White Leghorns; breeders; of our celebrated "Model" strain; in perfect health; pure white, and heavy layers; must have room; sacrince price, $1 each. Order to-day. Model Poultry Farm, "The Farm of Quality," Box G, Colbert, Ga. 6-17-29

Orpingtons.

WHITE ORPINGTONS for sale, four hens, one cockerel, $15; six hens, one cock, $20; ten hens, one cockerel, $35; five cockerels, $5 each. H. A. Black, Cartersville, Ga. 1-23-7

Plymouth Rocks.

I HAVE 11 Buff Plymouth Rock hens, 2 Buff Plymouth Rock cockerels, 16 Buff Plymouth Rock large fryers. Want to close out at once as we will be away for some time. Price to suit you. R. L. Barry, Prado, Ansley Park. Bell 2917 Ivy. 7-23-17

PARTRIDGE ROCKS — The South's leading winning strain. Can give quality and blood lines unequaled by any breeder in the South. My birds are winners at the Southern International, Macon, Columbus, Griffin, Nashville, Tenn.; Paducah, Ky.; Shreveport, La. Send for mating list. R. P. Cotter, Box G, Barnesville, Ga. 2-15-17

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Poultry—Disinfectants.

AGASCO-SPRAY

WILL RID your premises of mites, lice, fleas and ants. It is ready for immediate use with brush or spray pump. When applied to poles and nests it eradicates lice and mites so effectually that fowls do not have to be carried through that inconvenient and nerve-racking process of dipping. Manufactured by Atlanta Gas Light Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Poultry Remedies.

ARE your hens paying their board? If not, Southern Poultry Remedy is the best thing to give them now. It's guaranteed. Price 25c and 50c at all seed stores and dealers.

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

Foxes.

RED FOX FOR SALE—Young and fairly tamed; very attractive for pet or mascot. F. B. D., Box 694, Columbus, Ga. 46-23-7

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW.

GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

Hogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

FOR SALE—A sound mare; will work anywhere; also a fine four-year-old mule; a bargain. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-19-9

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.

SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES. BOTH PHONES 2568.

OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; KIRKWOOD PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

AUNT PATSY MASH FEED $2.75 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

LAY-OR-BUST MASH FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RED COMB PIGEON FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds,

Our Want Ads Are The Things That You Need

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—Three to five-year loan of $800 from private party. Will pay 8 per cent interest. Glit-edge security in real estate. Address C. L. E., Box 850, care Georgian. 7-23-4

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

ESTABLISHED 1888.
6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
3-11-50

MONEY TO LOAN.

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.
TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

LOANS $25.00 AND UP
On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.
AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.
GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.
7-17-1

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

SACRIFICE.
FIRST-CLASS restaurant and lunch room in one of the best locations on the North Side, in the heart of the hotel and business districts; best class patronage; doing a nice business. Owner has other business interests requiring entire time and will sacrifice for quick sale. Price $900. Good opportunity for some one. Phone or see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. M. 3155. 7-23-22

Notice to Business Men.
LUNCH 25c. Ponciana, 24 East Ellis. 7-23-8

WILL SELL the State rights of Georgia for the best drink on the market. Now on sale at 75 founts. Also counter, table, etc. This is an exceptional opportunity. Answer quick. Address Bargain, 849, care Georgian. 7-23-11

BUSINESS INVESTMENT—6 pt. caps. We manufacture human necessities and luxuries. The demand for both is increasing. Business on a 20% earning basis first year. Can use five thousand dollars additional capital expanding and double our earnings in twelve months. If you have a part or all of this for investment we invite you to investigate. P. D. W. Company, P. O. Box 714, Augusta, Ga. 7-23-10

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-1

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

ROOMS AND BOARD.

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 5459-L. 7-17-2

NICE furnished rooms, with or without board. 69½ E. Alabama street. Atlanta phone 2853. 7-20-84

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-11

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 674. 7-22-10

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3818-J. 7-21-8

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Ansley Park---7-Room Bungalow
RIGHT OFF PIEDMONT AVENUE CAR LINE.
THIS brand new home is a BEAUTY; 7 large rooms, sleeping porch, beautiful fireplaces, FURNACE HEAT, hardwood floors, fine basemant rooms, large lot, lying absolutely perfect. This is the best bungalow for the money in that entire section. $6,500 on terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.
ON GEORGIA avenue, right at the Park (Georgia is going to be some avenue soon, too), 5 large rooms and hallway, elevated lot, all conveniences. Easy terms. See us.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-36

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board in private family by young man. Wants home-like place, on car line passing Equitable building preferred. Best references. Replying state location, price, etc., to W. L. R., 33 Gilmer street, city. 7-23-7

WANTED—In private family board for man and wife and one child. Address L. O. R., care Georgian. 37-23-7

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

SUMMER RESORTS.

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED rooms with all modern conveniences at 108 Capitol avenue. 44-23-7

BEAUTIFUL, cool, front room; private bath; shady lot; gentleman. "West Peachtree," care Georgian. 38-23-7

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room, $2.25 weekly. 31 Hood St., near Whitehall. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

GENTLEMAN can get nicely furnished room, all conveniences. Apartment 3, 145 Forrest avenue. 28-23-7

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-23

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-72

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3041. 7-20-60

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street. West 209. 7-20-30

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4138-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.60. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-5

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.
THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.
ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.
36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

FURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

TWO or three furnished housekeeping rooms; private bath; must be the best in every way. X. X., care Georgian. 42-18-7

FURNISHED APARTMENTS WANTED.

WANTED—Furnished three-room apartment, with bath and electric light; couple with daughter twelve years old. Address M. M., care Georgian. 34-18-7

UNFURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

MARRIED couple desire upper or lower porches of a house with four rooms; every convenience for housekeeping; must be on North Side and select neighborhood. Ivy 6246-J. 7-22-21

YOUNG couple want three upstairs rooms; all conveniences; good neighborhood. Address K. P., Box 851, care Georgian. 48-23-7

WANTED—On September 1, by couple, entire upstairs, consisting of four or five rooms, in strictly modern North Side home. Call Ivy 3656-J. 7-21-3

ONE unfurnished room with private bath by young lady. Exclusive North Side home. Best only. Box 19, 61 West Harris Street. 7-20-62

WANTED—In Inman Park, four upstairs housekeeping rooms, with modern conveniences; unfurnished; near car. Address R. M., Box 845, care Georgian. 27-19-7

FURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

YOUNG couple, two furnished rooms and kitchenette; must be first-class, in good neighborhood; first floor preferred; give description and price. Address Furnished Rooms, care Georgian. 7-23-1

UNFURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

A NICE six-room house; must have nice, large shady lot and city conveniences. Prefer one in the suburbs, but must be on car line. Address J. H., care Georgian. 7-21-17

HOTELS. WANTED.

HOTEL WANTED—Commercial, in good live town in Georgia or Florida, by an experienced hotel man; either European or American plan. Address P. O. Box 393, Fernandina, Fla. 29-21-7

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Cole's Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA bungalow for sale or rent; best part of Inman Park; built-in bookshelves and open fireplace, with or without some furniture; large lot and front porch. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care Georgian. 39-23-7

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Ell," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 301 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 107 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-15-25

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-35

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 22 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Board if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 15 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS (Next door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-3-36

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences; also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558-J. Furnished rooms and furnished three-room apartments; close in, with all conveniences. 7-16-10

ONE FRONT ROOM; PRIVATE FAMILY. 226 PULLIAM STREET. 7-19-6

TWO nice rooms and kitchenette, completely furnished for light housekeeping, to parties without children; splendid location; private family; one block of Grant Park. Good car service. 428 East Georgia avenue. 7-19-10

THE PICKWICK.
New, Ten Story and Fireproof.
Cool outside rooms with connecting bath.
Convenient shower baths on each floor.
77 Fairlie Street, next Carnegie Library. 6-5-32

UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT

THREE unfurnished upstairs rooms for rent. 20 Brotherton street. 7-23-14

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End to couple for housekeeping; every convenience. Phone W. 128-J. 7-22-17

FOR RENT—Two large front rooms. 155 W. Fair St. 32-22-7

THREE or five housekeeping rooms, first floor, furnished or unfurnished. 16 Cooper St. Call Main 5108 or Main 3513. 7-20-79

TWO unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Close in. References. 50 Williams Street. 7-20-24

ONE large unfurnished room for rent. 471 East Cain street. 7-19-36

TWO lovely unfurnished housekeeping rooms; references exchanged. 120 E. Fair St. 7-19-25

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette two doors from Peachtree Street. 54 East Alexander Street.

TWO large fine front rooms for light housekeeping. M. 820-J. 7-20-92

TWO large unfurnished rooms, suitable for housekeeping; conveniences. Reasonable. 411 Fraser Street. 7-19-3

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED or unfurnished rooms. 24 Cooper St. Reasonable prices. 7-20-83

FOR RENT—Rooms, furnished or unfurnished, with or without kitchenette. 221 West Peachtree. 7-20-42

FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO or three furnished front connecting housekeeping rooms, close in. 37 Carnegie way. 26-22-7

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, neatly furnished, block from Postoffice; all conveniences. 74 Walton Street. 7-21-14

COMFORTABLY furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences. 388 Peachtree St. Ivy 4530-J. 58-20-7

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

FOUR ROOMS for light housekeeping; all conveniences; no children. Apply 191 Luckie street. 7-22-23

FURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Small, completely furnished apartment, including piano and linen. Close in. Call Ivy 6843. 31-21-7

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

BEAUTIFUL five-room apartment; all conveniences; close in. Apply Owner, 715 Peters Bldg., or call Main 1225. 7-20-38

48 COLUMBIA AVENUE, second-floor apartment six cool, airy, well lighted rooms; possession now or September 1. Phone Ivy 794-J. 7-20-46

UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

TEN-ROOM HOUSE, beautiful, shady lot, large garden and garage; cheap rent to desirable person. Call Ivy 4686. 7-21-19

SIX-ROOM cottage, North Side, for rent by owner, reasonable; bath. Phone Ivy 6432. 7-17-14

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR SALE OR RENT—New bungalow on half-acre lot, with beautiful shade; will make terms to suit; furnished or unfurnished. Call Decatur 556. 7-20-82

OFFICES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Attractive office desk and telephone all for $10. Apply Manager Temple Court. 7-22-9

FOR RENT—Office Candler Building; $17 month. Phones Ivy 2125-J, Ivy 5427-J. 7-19-16

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy teams. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,900, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h., 188 Hill	$25.00
6-r. h., 196 Crumley	25.00
6-r. h., Washington street, East Point	20.00
6-r. h., 75 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood	22.50
6-r. h., 575 Edgewood avenue	27.50
6-r. h., 88 Lucile avenue, furnished	45.00
6-r. h., 58 Dunn	26.30
6-r. h., 389 Cherokee, apartment, furnished	35.00
6-r. h., 108 Mansfield	25.00
6-r. h., 20 Clifford	25.00
6-r. h., 309 Moreland avenue	40.00
6-r. h., Harwell and Malden lane	20.00
6-r. h., 180 Cameron	18.60
6-r. h., 140 Drexel	25.00
6-r. h., 12 Howard	22.50
6-r. h., 47 Drewry	30.60
6-r. h., 21 Park street, Oakhurst	22.50
6-r. h., Hardee street	15.00
6-r. h., 32 Olympic place, Decatur	27.50
6-r. h., 13 Haynes	13.60
6-r. h., 32 Druid circle	30.00
6-r. h., 12 Clifford	27.50
6-r. h., 1170 DeKalb avenue	30.00
6-r. h., 401 E. Fair street	30.00
5-r. h., 124 Hill	25.00
5-r. h., 23 Summit	17.50
5-r. h., 99 Glennwood	13.60

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

7-r. apt., 41 E. Cain St.	60.00	5-r. apt., 152 Whitefoord Ave.	$20.00
6-r. apt., 43 Garfield Place	30.00	5-r. apt., A-15 Highland Ave.	20.60
6-r. apt., 75 Orme St.	21.00	4-r. apt. H-312 Rawson street (Sept. 1)	35.00
5-r. apt., 312 Rawson St.	42.50	4-r. apt., 4-396 Piedmont Ave.	17.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

WAREHOUSE FOR RENT
3 AND 5 PACKARD STREET, corner Madison Avenue, we have this three-story brick building, dimensions being 20,000 square feet, cement floors, elevator service. Good office on first floor. First-class railroad service. This is one of the best renting propositions in town. Call at our office for particulars.
Chas. P. Glover Realty Company
2½ WALTON STREET.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS
THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.
IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.
FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE
JOHN J. WOODSIDE

WEST PEACHTREE PLACE
(Cottage, $3,750.)
House has 6 rooms, gas, bath, etc. Nice lot. Easy terms.
THOS. R. FINNEY, SALES MANAGER, 12 "Real Estate Row."

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.
JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 85 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.
LEE STREET COTTAGE.
SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

Central Property to Exchange
WE CAN exchange a small lot on one street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers and, at the price at which it can be bought, should yield handsome profits.
J. R. SMITH & EWING J. H.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

ON TUESDAY, August 5, next, Legal Sale Day, we will sell before Court House door the southwest corner of Fair and Fraser streets, fronting 67 feet 10 inches on Fair street, by 90 feet on Fraser street. This property is inside the half-mile circle, and has many fine advantages from a business standpoint. Sold for administration of D. Gussi estate. Terms, half cash, balance 1 to 2 years 7 per cent. Be on hand.
GREENE REALTY CO.
Agents.

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

FINE Georgia farm land; will exchange for Atlanta property at cash value. Owner, 1423 Candler Bldg. 7-23-19

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell. 114 Candler Building. 6-26-3

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 403 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME
NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.
FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Several Big Deals Reported Wednesday

Announcement Soon of Interesting Transactions—Realty Looking Up. Marietta Street Lease.

Reports of big sales in realty circles have taken the place largely of news of the medium-sized transactions, and are proving infinitely more interesting. An investor, for instance, has bought an $80,000 parcel that he will hold for enhancement, and an owner has refused more than half a million on a downtown corner. Another dealer, it is reported, has sold a handsome dwelling on a North Side street between the Peachtrees, and has refused a flattering offer on central property wanted by a syndicate for improvement with a substantial building.

There are other signs of returning activity in real estate, and the dealers are very optimistic of a heavy fall business. Details of the above transactions are expected to come out in a week, when they will be ready for announcement. Other trades are in the contract stage.

* * *

Chamber Directors Meeting.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company met Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Empire Building and decided to fix a price on the four top floors of the Chamber of Commerce Building so that this price could be submitted to the local committee of merchants and manufacturers. The directors are meeting again Wednesday afternoon to fix this price definitely, and a report to the other body is expected at once.

* * *

Marietta Street Lease.

Mr. Rankin, of the Smith, Ewing & Rankin Renting Agency, has announced the lease for a term of No. 164 Marietta street, a three-story and basement building, to the Atlanta Envelope Company for a client, at about $3,000 a year. The building contains about 20,000 square feet of floor space.

Meeting on Realty Loans.

A subcommittee of the State Legislature has taken hold of the bill to repeal the bill of 1910, which prohibits loans of State and municipal funds on real estate. Committees of the Atlanta Real Estate Board appeared at the Capitol Tuesday afternoon to present arguments in favor of the repeal, and they received a warm reception.

Certain bond dealers who are interested in having the bill remain as enacted also appeared. Speaking of their argument, Harris White, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, declared it was "weak."

Concrete Buildings Planned.

Two concrete buildings will soon be erected by the syndicate interested in the Walker street development. These structures will face on Walker street, where the new Railway tracks will pass, and will be used for wholesale and manufacturing purposes. More than twenty applications for space have been received by the projectors. Among those in the syndicate are W. S. McKemie, Tom Stocks, W. J. Blalock and Ernest Duncan.

Judge Don A. Pardee recently approved a connection between the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Southern at this point, and the work can start at once laying tracks from the Southern to Haynes street.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$600—Newton St. John to R. O. Adams, lot 105x180 feet southeast corner Automobile avenue and Adams avenue. July 22.

$500—Jack D. Hayes to M. Levin and Joe Cohen, lot 40x80 feet north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 17.

$1,500—Joel T. Dares to John T. Taylor, lot 50x150 feet 61 feet west of southwest corner West Tenth street and Ridge avenue. July 18.

$3,500—S. W. Sullivan to M. S. Moore, lot 48x155 feet south side Argard avenue 294 feet west of Highland avenue. October 2, 1909.

$4,125—Mrs. Jessie May Cunningham to Walker Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, No. 21 Stonewall street, 48x140 feet. March 17.

$2,000—Mrs. Jessie L. T. Stark to John F. Green, lot 1480x1611 feet west side McDonough road at intersection of Constitution road, three-tenths interest. July 19.

$4,000—E. G. Black to G. E. Mathews, lot 76x278 feet north side Gordon street 196 feet east of Hopkins street; also triangular lot at northwest corner of above lot. March 8, 1911.

$350—Mrs. Mattie E. Jones to J. A. Sewell, lot 50x166 feet north side Bain street 500 feet west of Bachelor avenue. July 22.

$175—W. L. Venable to J. W. Phillips, lot 150x230 feet west side Bayard street 364 feet north of Francis street. July 3.

Warranty Deeds.

$1,000—M. Levin and Joe Cohen to James H. McNesser and Harry Constangy, lot 40 by 80 feet, north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 19.

$1,200—Ludella E. Peacock to Thomas Roseborough, lot 50 by 110 feet, west side McDaniel street, 100 feet north of Gardner street. July 18.

$500—George P. Moore to Mrs. M. A. A. Wellborn, lot 50 by 144 feet, south side Home avenue, 200 feet east of Gress avenue. July 22.

$3,200—J. M. Farmer to J. T. and W. C. Slaughter, lot 50 by 100 feet, south side Linden street, 93 feet east of Piedmont avenue. July 22.

$240—Gordon F. Mitchell to Owen C. McConnell, lot 8 by 222 feet, east side North Boulevard, 122 feet north of Forrest avenue, one-half interest. July 21.

$3,500—Robert L. York to Mrs. Nassie Tuggle, No 535 Highland avenue, 33 by 179 feet. June 25.

Bonds for Title.

$1,400—Cobbs Land Company to Mrs. A. J. Callaway, lot 28, block 1, Cobbs Land Company property, 50 by 154 feet, on Elizabeth lane. July 14. Transferred to Joseph Buchman, July 21.

$10,500—Atlanta Banking and Savings Company to L. F. Henderson, lot 40 by 171 feet, north side Stokes avenue, at southwest corner lot K, block D, of West End Park. July 16.

$26,000—Mrs. Mattie F. Huggins to Mrs. Kate G. Ryder, No. 342 Ponce DeLeon avenue, 38 by 316 feet. July 3.

$3,000—L. S. Huntley Company to Mrs. Cora P. M. Scott, lot 50 by 122 feet, east side Roswell road, 314 feet from Peachtree road. July 3.

$50,000—J. F. Leary to Phoenix Planing Mill, lot 153 by 43 by 492 by 75 by 500 by 182 by 524 feet, east side Sampson street, 100 feet south of Highland avenue; also lot 50 by 152 feet, south side Highland avenue, 503 feet east of Sampson street; also lot 43 by 142 feet, south side Highland, 603 feet east of Sampson street. December 22, 1909.

Lo

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

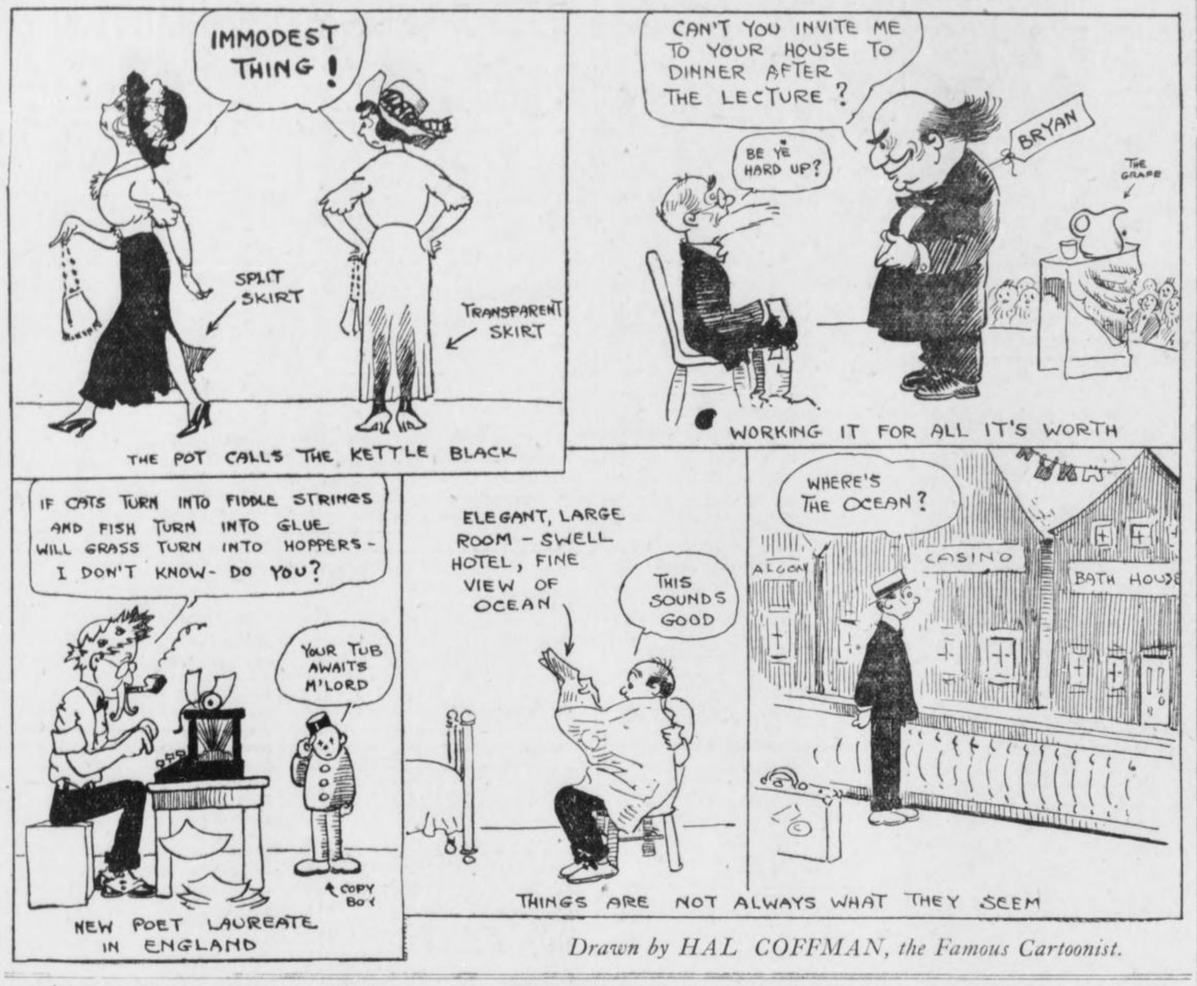
A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News



Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

* * *

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

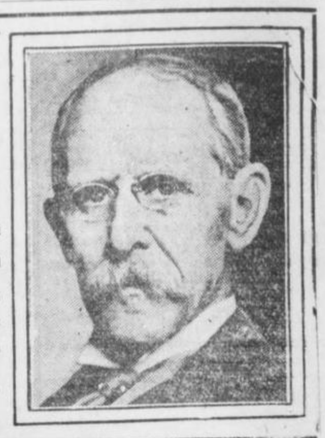
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1913, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE.

NIGHT EDITION

CONLEY IS CONFRONTED WITH LEE

Dorsey Grills Negroes in Same Cell at Jail

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the girls saw the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo, Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

LATEST NEWS

BOSTON, July 23.—The Holland-American liner Sloterdyke reported by wireless this afternoon that she was nearing port with a huge hole battered through her steel plates, having been in collision with a four-masted schooner, name unknown.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23. Criminal prosecutions may result from investigation into the origin of the fire which destroyed the Binghamton Clothing Company's plant with a death list estimated at 58.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Colonel M. M. Mulhall assisted Otto L. Bannard, Republican candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909, using all his influence against Hall, according to letters read by the Overman Lobby Committee to-day. Ambition of D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., high in the councils of the manufacturers' organization, to be appointed Ambassador to China following the recall of Ambassador Crane, was revealed.

NEW YORK, Just before entering into a conference with the Federal Board of Mediators who are seeking to adjust the differences between the Eastern railroads and their trainmen, W. C. Lee, president of the B. of R. T., to-day denied that he had held a conference in 1910 with George W. Perkins, when a member of J. P. Morgan & Co., relatives to a wage controversy on the Erie Railroad.

COLUMBUS, July 23.—Dolly Clarke, a woman of the restricted district, was drowned in the Chattahoochee River this afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A great battle is raging in Shanghai, China, this afternoon. The fighting centered about the arsenal, where quantities of ammunition was stored.

ROME, July 23.—Pope Pius today ordered the dismissal of all the members of the Swiss guards. Earlier in the day the men had been instructed that they must submit to his discipline. This they refused to do.

BOSTON, July 23.—In the three singles matches in the Eastern singles championship played at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, to-day, W. M. Johnston, the young Californian, won a straight set victory over Gardener Beals. G. M. Church, of Tenafly, N. J., defeated M. C. Baggs in straight sets and A. S. Dabney, local crack, won from Dean Mathey, of this city.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—A reporter in a newspper dispatch boat, through field glasses this afternoon found the bodies of ex-Postmaster L. W. Dutro and Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, drowned Tuesday, floating near the Memphis harbor.

Shoots Stepmother To Reunite Parents

BASS LAKE, IND., July 23.—Martin Strasburger tried to kill his stepmother and then ended his own life, that the way might be cleared for a reconciliation between his father and divorced mother.

This is the theory held by many here as the solution of the double shooting at Frank Strasburger's country home, in which the second Mrs. Strasburger was wounded and Strasburger's son Martin killed himself.

China Quells Revolt; Shanghai in Danger

Special Cable to The Georgian.

SHANGHAI, July 23.—From reports received here to-day it is believed the Chinese Republic will not be torn asunder. The outlook for President Yuan is much more hopeful and all indications point to the Government ruling supreme.

The royal troops to-day defeated the Secessionists at Hsuichoufu. An attack on the arsenal at Shanghai by the southern army is expected at any moment.

Do You Know
?
the Hottest City on Earth?
Read Page 14

ASKS PROBE OF ATTACK ON SOULE

Assembly Likely to Investigate Report Misrepresentation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

Postmasters Named For 3 Georgia Towns

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day nominated the following Georgia postmasters:

Joseph M. McAfee, Canton, Cherokee County; Annie K. Bunn, Cedartown, Polk County, and George Dansby, Rockmart, Polk County.

THOMPSON ON MOUND IN FINAL

Crackers and Turtles Clash in Deciding Game of Series—No Scoring in First.

Score by innings:

ATLANTA	001
MEMPHIS	00

THE BATTING ORDER.

Crackers.	Turtles.
Agler, 1b.	Love, 2b.
Bisland, ss.	Merritt, cf.
Welchonce, cf.	Baerwald, rf.
Long, rf.	Ward, 3b.
Alperman, 2b.	Schweitzer, lf.
Smith, 3b.	Abstein, 1b.
Bailey, lf.	Shanley, ss.
Dunn, c.	Snell, c.
Thompson, p.	Harrell, p.

RED ELM BALL PARK, MEMPHIS, TENN, July 23.—Billy Smith's Crackers and the Turtles met hehe this afternoon in the third and deciding game of their series. Each team has won one game.

Carl Thompson and Harrell were selected to do the twirling. Dunn and Snell were on the receiving ends.

Neither team scored in the first inning.

FIRST INNING.

Agler was safe on Ward's error. Bisland sacrificed, Abstein to Love, Love covering first. Welchonce out, Love to Abstein. Agler took third. Long out, Harrell to Abstein. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love went out, Smith to Agler. Merritt singled to center and was out stealing, Dunn to Alperman. Baerwald popped to Long. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Alperman fanned. Smith singled to left. Bailey doubled to left, Smith went to third. Dunn popped to Abstein. Thompson fanned. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Welchonce. Abstein grounded out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Breakfasters Eat On Calmly as Fire Is Fought in Cafe

Fire which broke out in the ceiling of Durand's Restaurant shortly before 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning failed to take the appetite from a dozen men, who calmly continued eating their breakfast while firemen swarmed the room. Even when the firemen mounted ladders and began hacking at the ceiling the diners were not dismayed.

The fire was of little consequence, the ceiling catching probably from a defective wire near the flue of the warming retainer. The call brought out every central company, though, while a great crowd of early morning workers gathered.

Husband Thrashes His Wife's Insulter

J. N. Brown, a Greek, of No. 49 Luckie street, was arrested Wednesday for insulting a woman who, in company with her husband, stood on the corner of Spring and Luckie streets.

The husband knocked the Greek to the pavement. Brown came to his feet and ran toward Carnegie Way. The man gave chase and cornered Brown in front of Engine House No. 8. Firemen called the patrol wagon and Brown was arrested and freed on $100 cash bond.

Zion City Banishes Pool and 'Movies'

ZION CITY, ILL., July 23.—The young sports and old ones of Zion City hereafter will go to bed without rolling their accustomed series of games of Keely pool. The other residents of the city will retire without having made their nightly excursion to the moving picture theater.

The City Council, controlled by the forces of Overseer Voliva, ordered the theater and the poolroom closed.

NEW WAYCROSS PAPER.

WAYCROSS.—This city has another publication. It is The Sentinel and it's managing editor is C. R. Hawk, until recently connected with The Morning Herald. The Sentinel will be issued weekly.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT MONTGOMERY—

MONTGOMERY	14
BIRMINGHAM	00

Brown and Donahue; Gregory and Mayer. Umpires, Breitenstein and Wright. FIRST GAME.

AT MOBILE—

MOBILE	003	320	0	-	8	11	0
NASHVILLE	000	000	0	-	0	2	1

Cavet and Schmidt; Beck and Gibson. Umpires, Pfenninger and Stockdale. Game called on account of rain.

New Orleans-Chattanooga, no game; rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CHICAGO	243	111
PHILADELPHIA	032	200

Cheney and Needham; Chalmers and Howley. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

AT BROOKLYN—

ST. LOUIS	100	000	010	-	2	10	1
BROOKLYN	000	111	40X	-	7	12	1

Harmon and Wingo; Yingling and Miller. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

AT NEW YORK—

PITTSBURG	000	000	000	-	0	2	0
NEW YORK	200	000	00X	-	2	5	0

McQuillen and Gibson; Maruard and Meyers. Umpires, O'Dy and Emslie.

AT BOSTON—

CINCINNATI	000	001
BOSTON	002	010

Packard and Kling; Tyler and Rariden. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CLEVELAND—

BOSTON	300	000
CLEVELAND	000	203

Foster and Thomas; Falkenburg and Carisch. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

AT ST. LOUIS—

PHILADELPHIA	000
ST. LOUIS	000

Bender and Thomas; Hamilton and Agnew. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

AT CHICAGO—

WASHINGTON	030	003
CHICAGO	010	000

Boehling and Henry; Scott and Schalk. Umpires, Dineen and Egan.

New York-Detroit, no game; rain.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT ALBANY—

ALBANY—
000	200	00	-
JACKSONVILLE—
000	000	00	-

Luhrson and Wells; Wilder and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

AT CHARLESTON—

CHARLESTON—
000			-
COLUMBUS—
000			-

Wolfe and Menefee; McCormac and Thompson. Umpire, Barr.

FIRST GAME.

AT MACON—

MACON—
000	00		-
SAVANNAH—
000	00		-

Martin and Humphries; Robertson and Geibel. Umpire, Moran.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	000 001 000—1	6
St. Paul	100 100 00x—2	9	1

Ferry and Smith; Karger and James. Umpires, Connolly and Murray.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000 000 000—0	5	3
Minneapolis	300 000 00x—3	5	0

Northrup and Clemons; Comstock and Owens. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

Toledo-Milwaukee, no game; wet grounds.

Indianapolis-Kansas City, no game, rain.

Slain While Aiding Brother in a Fight

DOTHAN, ALA., July 23.—Robert Moon, aged 20, shot and killed Joseph Halsted, 25 years old, in a row at Memphis Church, seven miles south of Dothan, late Tuesday night.

Moon shot three times with a pistol, all taking effect. He surrendered to the Sheriff. Moon was in a row with Jasper Halsted, brother of Joseph, when Joseph interfered. Halsted is survived by a wife and small child.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT CORDELE—

CORDELE—
000	120
WAYCROSS—
000	000		-

AT THOMASVILLE—

THOMASVILLE—
2			-
AMERICUS—
0			-

Roth and Dudley; Stewart and Manchester. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Bacon, Needed at Capital, Unable to Address Assembly

Senator Bacon will not be able to address the General Assembly of Georgia in response to the invitation extended him last week, on account of the absolute necessity of every Democratic Senator being in Washington while the tariff bill is before Congress.

In a letter expressing deep regret, Senator Bacon also inclosed a letter from Senator Kern urging him not to leave the National Capital at this time because of the existing strained relations with certain nations.

The letter was read in the House and Senate Wednesday morning, and resolutions of regret at Senator Bacon's forced declination were adopted.

Atlanta Salesmen Held as 'Peddlers'

RICHMOND, July 23.—Arrested last night at the instance of the Retail Merchants' Association on the charge of peddling merchandise without a license, J. H. Thrash and W. E. Hoiston, young men, both from Atlanta, representing the Fisher Knitting Mill Company, were in Police Court to-day.

They were allowed to go free when they explained that they were merely soliciting orders.

TRACE FOUND HERE OF NEGRO SAID TO HAVE SEEN PHAGAN SLAYING

Sister of Will Green Tells Police He Slept at Home at Hour Girl Was Slain; Jim Conley, Factory Sweeer Again Grilled.

The two negro principals in the Phagan case—Newt Lee and Jim Conley—were put on the grill together in the cell of the former in the county jail by Solicitor Dorsey and his assistant, Frank G. Hooper, late Wednesday afternoon.

Present at the cross-examination were J. M. Gantt, former pencil factory employee, and Detectives Starnes and Campbell, the officers who have had charge of Conley for the past several weeks. After half an hour's questioning Gantt left the jail. Solicitor Dorsey and the others remained and the questioning of the two negroes continued until a late hour. Conley was then taken back to police headquarters.

Here are Wednesday's important developments in the Phagan murder mystery:

Bloodstained glove of Mary Phagan is said to have been found on the first floor near the place the discovery of her pay envelope was made.

New evidence is found tending to establish the identity of the negro, Will Green, said to have seen the attack upon Mary Phagan.

Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the pencil factory, undergoes a grilling examination at the hands of Solicitor General Dorsey and his associate counsel, Frank A. Hooper.

J. M. Gantt, expected to give sensational evidence for the prosecution at the trial, is in conference with the solicitor and present at the grilling of Lee.

Leo M. Frank tells Sheriff Mangum that he is eager for the trial to begin, and will be ready when it is called Monday morning.

Solicitor Dorsey announces that he will insist that there be no further delay.

It became known Wednesday that the defense in the Frank case had been informed that the negro, Will Green, who is said to have been shooting craps with Jim Conley the day that Mary Phagan was murdered and to have seen her attacked, and the Wil lGreen living at 105 Thurmond street, Atlanta, are the same person.

Private detectives in the employ of the defense have trailed the negro across a half-dozen States and have missed him by as small a margin as 30 minutes in some of the towns they have visited in the chase.

Trailed by a Ring.

Charles Fine, proprietor of the Radius Jewelry Company, No. 107 Peachtree street, when he read in The Georgian that the defense was searching for a Will Green, recalled that he had a ring in his store which was to have been called for by a negro of the same name, but which unaccountably had been left there without a claimant. He regarded this as peculiar, and notified persons interested in the defense.

A negro calling himself J. Will Green visited the store May 16 and displayed a rather ornate gold ring, worth probably $12 or $15. He desired to have a Radius diamond set in it, and said that he would be around within a day or two after it. He never returned. It was about this time that the report spread around the city that the Phagan murder had had an eyewitness in the person of a negro who was shooting craps with Conley.

A sister of the Will Green who left the ring at the jewelry store was seen Wednesday. She said that her brother had left town about two months ago and that none of the family had heard from him since or had any idea where he was. She said he was working with some small circus or theatrical troupe when he left.

The Green that the detectives have been pursuing is known to be con-

RACING RESULTS

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Plate Glass 113 (Knapp), 3-5, 1-5, out, won; Panzareta 98 (Rederis), 7-2, 7-10, 1-5, second; Sir Blaise 109 (Hopkins), 20, 5, 2, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Also ran: T. P. Coniff, Upright, Be, Mediator, General Ben Ledi.

SECOND—5½ furlongs: Black Tony 121(Loftus), 9-20, 1-6, out, won; Rustling Brass 113 (Turner), 7- 6-5, 1-2, second; Tattler 105 (Martin), 8- 2- 7-10, third. Time 1:07 4-5. Also ran: Erin, Perpetual, Caronome.

THIRD—Five furlongs: Miss Declare 107 (J. Montour), 6, 5-2, 6-5, won; Emerald Gem 100 (Neylon), 3, 3-2, 7-10, second; Czr Michael 107 (Goose), 2, even, 1-2, third. Time 1:001-5. Also ran: Jane L., Behest, Superi, Patty Regan, Harbord, Woof, Tempest, Basante.

ENTRIES.

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Two-year-olds, selling, 5½ furlongs: Anytime 105, Andes 108, Robert Oliver 110, The Spirit 105, Trap 105, Ovation 105, Lady Grant 110, xWater Lily 105.

SECOND—Three-year-olds and up, mares and geldings, selling, mile: Cadeau 109, Oakhurst 113, xEuterpe 84, Judge Walser 107, Klinka 102, Joe Diebold 109.

THIRD—Two-year-olds, conditions, 5½ furlongs: Stromboli 113, Flittergold 113, Undercover 108, Cliff Field 108, Orotund 103, Figinny 108, Spearhead 112, Hurakan 108, Surprising 112.

FOURTH—Three-year-olds, Southampton Hndicap, mile and one-sixteenth: Monmouth 96, Flying Fairy 112, Strenuous 100, Fifty Five 99.

FIFTH — Four-year-olds and up, steeplechase, selling, about 2¼ miles: Son of the Wind 141, Shnnon River 137, xTillie D. 138, Tom Cat 142, Pilot II 142, Octopus 142, xxEssex II 138, Adventuress 130.

SIXTH—Three-year-olds and up, selling, 6 furlongs: Deduction 109, Montrossor 101, Yanghee 107, Little Jupiter 104, Ivabel 97, Judge Walser 115, Aviator 109, Water Welles 109.

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.

xx—Apprentice allowance ten pounds claimed.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Winston-Salem	030 000 020—5	11	1
Asheville	000 000 100—0	6	7

Boyle and Smith; Watson and Millman. Umpire, Sigman.

FLASHLIGHT OF SOCIETY FOLK AT WATER FROLIC AT FORREST ADAIR'S POOL TUESDAY EVENING

LANFORD SCOUTS BLUDGEON TALE OF DEFENSE

Chief Declares Pinkertons Made No Report of Alleged Find to Him.

Continued From Page 1.

nected with a circus or show, additional strength thus being given to the theory that their identity is the same.

She thought the detectives were mistaken in believing that her brother knew anything about the crime. He slept practically all the day that Mary Phagan was murdered, she declared, and didn't even go downtown to see the Memorial Day parade, although he was urged by one of his friends. He was working nights for the Southern Railway at this time, according to the sister, joining the show people a few days later.

She failed to explain why he suddenly had left town without stopping to recover the gold ring of considerable value which he had left at the Fine jewelry store.

Gantt Sees Solicitor.

J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee of the National Pencil Factory, who Wednesday conferred with Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper, denied that he made the startling statement to them that he saw at 1 o'clock on the day that Mary Phagan was murdered Jim Conley and Leo Frank conversing together in Frank's office.

Intimation that Gantt contemplated making such a statement to the prosecution is said to have come to the defense in an anonymous letter some time ago. The writer said in effect:

"I was standing on the street the other day and heard Gantt talking to some other fellow. He told this fellow that he had stood across the street Saturday, April 26, and had looked through the window of the factory and seen Jim Conley talking to Frank in Frank's office.

"I don't think Gantt has told this to the Solicitor yet, and, as he is not in very good financial condition, I think that he might be persuaded to keep it quiet if he was sent a little money."

No attention was paid to the letter.

Lee Grilled Again.

Gantt, the Solicitor and attorney were in the jail together. They remained two and a quarter hours questioning Newt Lee closely. They went over practically the same ground that was covered in the inquest, quizzing him about his actions the day of the murder and his whereabouts every minute during the time before he reported at the factory and about Frank's manner when he met him at the factory.

Lee stuck to his previous story, and declared that he knew nothing about the crime until he came upon the body that night. They asked him how he happened to go into the basement at that time, and he made the same explanation that he gave before the Coroner's Jury.

Lee said that he did not see Conley there that night and did not even know Conley by sight. In the afternoon it was planned to take Conley from the police station to the jail to confront Lee and question the two together.

Lanford Scouts Bludgeon Evidence.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Judge Ellis Joins Beavers in Vice War

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the Superior Court, joined Chief Beavers in his vice crusade Wednesday when the injunction proceedings of Mrs. Lula Bell, keeper of a house at Peters and Fair street, which was raided last week, came up for disposal.

Mrs. Bell withdrew her petition for a permanent injunction and agreed to move from the neighborhood. Judge Ellis then announced he would grant no more temporary injunctions against the police on petition of women of Mrs. Bell's character until he had investigated the charges himself.

President to Free Four Life-Termers

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., July 23 T. A. Keating, Arthur Hewitt, Bob Clark and Gilbert Mullins, sentenced to serve life terms in Leavenworth Prison, will be free in July, 1914. Papers were received at the Federal Prison here to-day from President Wilson commuting their sentences, providing the behavior of the four men is good.

The four were convicted of the murder of a guard in the prison mutiny in 1901, when 27 Federal convicts escaped.

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. [illegible] of directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

SENATE ACTS TO ENFORCE WEBB LIQUOR LAW

Passes Hixon-Searcy Bill—Fight Rages Over 3-Gallon Burden of Proof Clause.

By a vote of 36 to 3 the Senate Wednesday afternoon passed the Hixon-Searcy prohibition bill providing for the enforcement of the Webb bill in Georgia.

The bill makes it unlawful for any firm or corporation to transport liquor into the State for illegal purposes and places the burden of proof of such legality upon the shipper when quantities in excess of three gallons are shipped.

Three-Gallon Clause Attacked.

It was around the three-gallon provision as recommended in the Temperance Committee substitute that the fight centered Wednesday morning. Senator Hixon, chairman of the committee and author of the original bill, and Senator Searcy, vice chairman of the committee, opposed this provision on the ground that the whole burden of proof should be placed on the carrier.

This was vigorously opposed, however, by Senator McNeil, of the Twenty-second, a member of the committee, who declared that such a provision was an unjust burden upon the carrier.

Senator Harrell, of the Twelfth, also opposed the Hixon-Searcy measure, declaring that the measure was an effort to punish the innocent carrier rather than the illegal "blind tiger" within the State.

Increase in Crime Charged.

As the bill stands the burden of proof of illegal sale is placed on the State when quantities less than three gallons are shipped into the State. Several amendments, including those of Senator Hixon, striking out the three-gallon clause, were voted down before the final passage of the bill.

In the course of the debate sensational statements were made by Senator McNeil, "a prohibitionist in restriction," who declared that under the present prohibition law with its "nefarious results," felonies in the State had increased 66 per cent.

Slaton Makes More Court Nominations

The Senate Wednesday received the following nominations from the Governor:

Tom Eason to be Judge of the City Court of McRae for four years from August 3, 1913.

W. S. Mann to be Solicitor of the City Court of McRae for the unexpired term from January 1, 1914, to November 1, 1914, vice Hamilton Burch, Jr., resigned.

D. R. Pearce to be Judge of the City Court of Pulaski County for four years from March 1, 1914.

"TIGER" GETS NEW TRIAL.

COLUMBUS.—W. A. Waters, a former member of the Columbus police force, convicted of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to six months on the State farm, nas been granted a new trial.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS.
Atlanta Floral Company,
485 EAST FAIR STREET.

Cash Gro. Co. 118 & 120 Whitehall
Combination Sale
Red Ribbon Tea, lb. 60c
Anyone buying 1 lb. Tea we will sell one of these Items
25 lbs. Granulated Sugar 99c
20 lbs. Granulated Sugar 69c
10 lbs. Granulated Sugar 25c
10 lbs. Snowdrift Lard . 59c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard $1.09
Gallon Wesson Oil . . . 59c
No. 10. Cottolene . . . 79c

Noted Lecturer to 'Talk' to Deaf Here

George William Veditz, of Colorado Springs, former president of the National Association of the Deaf, will deliver a lecture to the deaf people of Atlanta in the sign language at Taft Hall Saturday night, August 2.

Mr. Veditz's subject will be "Faust." He also will deliver a sermon to the deaf Sunday mornin, August 3, at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. John Wesley Michaels, Southern evangelist to the deaf, also will be in Atlanta at the same time and will assist Mr. Veditz.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Papal Guards Must Obey Orders or Quit

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 23.—The Swiss guards at the Vatican must obey orders or leave. Their demands, presented after the mutiny on Monday, were rejected by the Holy See to-day.

They were told they must either submit to the present military rule or return to their homes. The organizers of the agitation will be dismissed, it is reported.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentation within a few days.

APPEAL IN W. & A. CASE ORDERED BY SLATON

Governor Upsets Predecessor's Precedent by Carrying Suit to U. S. Supreme Court.

Governor Slaton Wednesday morning instructed Attorney General Thomas S. Felder and James K. Hines, special attorney for the Railroad Commission, to appeal to the United States Supreme Court in the State's suit against the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, seeking to restrain the company from charging higher rates than those fixed by the Georgia standard tariff and classification.

The appeal for injunction by the State was turned down by the Superior and Supreme Courts.

Governor Slaton's act is directly contrary to that of Governor Brown, who, when the State Supreme Court ruled against the State, instructed the Attorney General not to appeal, holding it would be of no avail.

The Governor acted upon the advice of the Attorney General and Mr. Hines, who, immediately after his inauguration, urged him to order an appeal.

AVOID IMPURE MILK
for Infants and Invalids
Get
HORLICK'S
It means the Original and Genuine
MALTED MILK
"Others are Imitations"
The Food-Drink for all Ages
Rich milk, malted grain, in powder form. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged. More healthful than tea or coffee.
Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S
HORLICK'S Contains Pure Milk

BANKRUPT SALE
WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES
Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Thread, etc., $288; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $378; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $98; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $155; Felt, $67; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $998; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Mull, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,829; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $845; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a five-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 513 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee
402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

Will the Czar's Long Arm Get This Princess at Last?

How a noble Russian beauty has (for the present) tricked the imperial spies and may yet escape the "golden cage" prepared for her by a dissolute Grand Duke will be told in

Next Sunday's American

Get it from your dealer or order in advance by phoning Main 100.

SEASHORE EXCURSION
VIA
SOUTHERN RAILWAY
Premier Carrier of the South
Thursday, August 7th, 1913
$6.00 Jacksonville . . Limit 6 days.
$8.00 Tampa . . . . Limit 8 days.
$6.00 Brunswick . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 St. Simon . . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Cumberland . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Atlantic Beach . Limit 6 days.
Tickets good returning on any regular train within limit.
Two Special Trains From Atlanta
10:00 a. m. Solid Pullman Train, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:10 a. m.
10:15 p. m. Coaches Only, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:25 a. m.
No local stops will be made.
Passengers for Brunswick, St. Simon and Cumberland will be handled in extra coaches and sleeping cars attached to the regular train leaving Atlanta at 9:30 p. m., arriving Brunswick 7:55 a. m., where connection is made with the boats for the islands.
For Further Information, Ask Southern Railway Tickets Agents.

NOMINATION BLANK
I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:
Name .....
Address .....
Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON
For any regularly nominated Candidate in the
BEAUTY CONTEST
Name of Candidate.....
Address .....
Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about it may be of great benefit. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

FOR THE LIVER TAKE LIVER EASE

Calomel Has Been Completely Displaced by Dr. Verdier's Liver Ease.

Be sure you get the perfect substitute for Calomel when you need a medicine for the liver.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE is made of imported drugs, purely vegetable and acts on the liver as thoroughly as calomel with none of the bad after effects.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE contains no drug that can produce salivation; there is no irritation of the stomach and bowels and no sickening after effects.

Take DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE and go about your work as though you were not taking a medicine at all. A dose at bedtime will cleanse the system of all impurities and stimulate the liver to expel the bile promptly with no discomfort. You can get DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE at any drug store for 50c per large bottle fully guaranteed.

SECOND CHAPTER IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

The Discovery of the Body of the Slain Factory Girl and Start of Hunt for Slayer.

CHAPTER II.

His heart pounding in superstitious fright, Newt Lee, the night watchman, forced himself to approach the strange object on the pile of debris in the pencil factory basement. A step nearer and he could make out what appeared to be a human foot. He recoiled and was on the point of precipitate flight.

But he must look closer, he thought. Perhaps, after all, it was only the ghastly prank of some of the factory employees who had manufactured a rude effigy and placed it there to scare him.

Determinedly he walked closer and thrust his lantern out over the mysterious object. He shrieked. Before his horrified eyes the shaky and uncertain light of his lantern disclosed the body of a little girl.

Grimed, bloody and mutilated the body lay on the flat of its back, as the terrified negro remembered it afterward, although the police, coming a few minutes later, found the body on its face, one arm drawn slightly up under the body and the other stretched full length at the side.

Discrepancy Not Explained.

This strange discrepancy never has been explained to the public except by the possibility that Lee, in his terror, was mistaken in the position he believed the body was in when he discovered it. Conley, telling his remarkable story three weeks later, said that he dumped the girl's body face downward on the trash pile where it later was come upon by Lee.

Lee was to oappalled by his grewsome find to make a close investigation. He only saw that it was a little white girl and that she had been murdered. With frightened steps he hurried to the ladder at the other end of the basement. He was in a panic. He scuttled up the ladder and dropped the trap door over it. He felt a bit relieved away from the blackness of the basement and the awful thing that it contained.

In a moment he remembered that Mr. Frank had told him that when anything happened at the factory to call the police. The telephone at police headquarters rang at 3:30 o'clock. Policeman Anderson answered it perfunctorily. Suddenly he straightened in his chair, his indifference dropping from him in a flash.

"What's that? What's that?" he shouted, trying to make out the incoherent message of the negro at the other end of the wire. Finally he understood that a girl had been killed and that her body was lying in the basement of the National Pencil Factory on Forsyth street.

Police Rush to Scene.

"There's been a murder, fellows," he exclaimed, slamming the receiver on the hook. "Boots" Rogers was in the station. His automobile stood in front. The two men rushed out and jumped into the car. In the still morning hours, they dashed toward the scene of the tragedy. Sergeants Dobbs and Brown stood conversing at Pryor and Decatur streets. An instant's stop was made and the two officers leaped into the car.

The automobile sped on to Forsyth street, and then down to the bleak, gray building from which only one dim light flickered. The car had barely stopped before the men were out of it, and on the sidewalk. They tried the door and it was locked. They rattled it impatiently and in a moment the figure of the still frightened negro, swinging his smoky lantern, was seen coming down the stairs that lead from the second floor.

"Where's the body?" was the first question they shot at him.

Already the negro was under the shadow of suspicion.

"Come this way," Lee replied, and led the way to the opening into the dark basement.

Into the Dark Basement.

One by one the officers descended the narrow ladder into the inky darkness, unrelieved except by the single gas jet, which was turned so low that the negro Lee described it as a "lightning bug." Dobbs and Brown, with the negro, took the lead. Straight to the huddled, tragic form the black man guided the men. Sergeant Brown took one look.

"My God, it's only a child!" he exclaimed.

And the child was little Mary Phagan, who had gone forth from home the day before filled with the happiness of youth and untouched by any thought of harm or evil.

The change was terrible. In the tortured form that lay cold in the factory basement could hardly be recognized the fresh, pretty girl that came to Atlanta the day before to draw her pay and take childish delight in the Memorial Day parade.

The brute who slew her had worked a sickening transformation in her features. The smiling, innocent face was bruised, swollen and discolored. Cinders and black dirt were ground into the tender face so that at first it was almost impossible to tell whether she was black or white.

Dragged About the Floor.

She appeared to have been dragged across the basement floor by her murderer with as little feeling as is given a sheep in the shambles.

Blood from an ugly wound in the back of the head soaked and matted the pretty hair that, with girlish vanity, had been carefully brushed and tied with twin blue ribbons on each side of her head when she left home.

A length of heavy cord was looped about her neck, and the deep purple imprints in her flesh told that her assailant had used this either to drag her across the floor or to strangle her to death. If the story of the negro Conley is found to be true, the body was not dragged in the basement. A clumsy gag, torn from her dress, was bound around her head.

The pongee silk lavender dress which Mary proudly had donned for the holiday was torn and bloodstained. The twin bows of blue had been kept in place by the gag bound around her head. One little slipper was on her right foot and the other was found a few feet away. Her hat was found near the elevator shaft.

Basement Is Searched.

When the policemen had recovered from their first horror, they set out at once to investigate. They had hardly begun a search of the basement before their eyes lighted on two bits of paper by the side of the body. These contained the mysterious incoherent notes which were to play such a large part in the progress of the investigation.

This is the manner in which one of the almost illegible scrawls was deciphered:

"He said he wood love me laid down like the night witch did it, but that long tall black negro did it by hisself."

The other read:

"Mama that negro hired down here did this I went to get water and he pushed me down this hole a long tall negro black that has it woke long lean tall negro I write while play with me."

By daybreak the police and detective departments were in a turmoil of excitement.

Lee Put Under Arrest.

Newt Lee, the only person at the time known to have been in the factory while the murdered girl was there, was placed under immediate arrest, being taken directly from the factory to the police station. The dragnet was spread for other suspects. Leo Frank had been called from the factory by Policeman Anderson, but no answer came to the telephone. Early in the morning an automobile was sent to his house and he was brought to the police station to tell all he knew in order to assist the officers in their search for the criminal.

Soon after daybreak the news spread that a terrible murder had been committed; that a 14-year-old girl had been attacked and strangled in the National Pencil factory. Crowds of morbidly curious began to gather about the factory. They pressed their way into the front door and swarmed down into the cellar. Officers had difficulty in handling them.

Who the victim of the tragedy was the officers had not yet succeeded in establishing. Someone had said he thought it was a girl by the name of "Fagan," but no one was certain. Grace Hicks, of No. 100 McDonough road, one of the girl employees of the factory, was brought from her home by "Boots" Rogers to identify the body.

Girl Identifies Victim.

She looked at the swollen face and at the little gold bracelet imbedded in the flesh of the arm.

"It's Mary Phagan," she cried, and fainted.

She had been a warm friend of the murdered girl and at one time had worked by her side.

One of the most pathetic scenes was enacted when 12-year-old Vera Epps, who had been a chum and playmate of the Phagan girl since Mary had moved to Atlanta, visited the morgue and looked upon the distorted features of her little friend.

She burst into hysterical weeping and would not be comforted. She probably did not comprehend the full tragedy, but she knew that her playmate had been taken from her in a terrible manner and that some man fiendishly and ruthlessly had strangled her to death. Her father and mother were with her. They tried to get her to leave the room where the body lay, but she stayed on for more than an hour.

Cries Out for Vengeance.

Childish rage was added to her sorrow and she cried for vengeance.

"I'd help lynch the man that killed poor Mary," she cried, clenching her little hands in fury. "If they'd just let me I'd like to hold the rope that choked him to death. That's all he deserves. I was playing with Mary only a few days ago. She was my playmate nearly every day, but when I saw her dead body I hardly would have known her."

A grief-stricken home on Lindsay street received the news of Mary Phagan's fate that morning. Mrs. Coleman, her mother, had been frantic with anxiety when Mary had failed to return home the night before. Mary had said that she would return directly after the Memorial Day parade. She never had failed in any of her promises.

But the mother remembered that Mary had remarked about wanting to go to the Bijou. Possibly she had met some of her girl companions and they had gone to the entertainment in the evening. She sent Mr. Coleman to town to wait at the door of the theater. He waited until long after the crowd had filed out, but Mary did not come. Mrs. Phagan slept hardly at all that night.

Mother Had Premonition.

Mary probably had gone to the home of one of her friends, she tried to assure herself, but a deadly weight of fear oppressed her in spite of all her efforts to shake it off. She would doze into a troubled slumber only to awake with a premonition that harm had come to her child.

When a knock came at the door that morning she answered with a sinking heart.

Helen Ferguson, a girl living nearby, stood there with the tragic message on her lips.

"Mary is——" she started to say.

"Not dead?" shrieked Mrs. Coleman, knowing too well that it was so. Other members of the family rushed to the door and they were told the meager facts as they were known then, only that Mary's dead body had been found in the basement of the factory and that she plainly had been murdered.

Mrs. Coleman swooned and for days she was unable to do more than walk about the house and moan for her little girl.

Aroused by the shocking crime, practically the entire detective force was sent out to capture the murderer of the girl. It was only the matter of a few hours before the police station was filled with persons who declared that they had seen Mary Phagan some time on the day that she was slain or that they had seen a girl of about her age with one or more men at various times of the night.

Every Clew Run Down.

The detectives were hampered as much as they were aided by these well meaning persons. They were forced to investigate every story that had any semblance of furnishing a clew to the mystery. Hours that day were wasted in looking up tales of suspicious occurrences on the streets of Atlanta that Saturday night.

Newt Lee, already in custody, was kept under a running fire of questions, but maintained, even when he broke down and wept, that he knew absolutely nothing about the crime except that he found the body in the basement.

A traveling man told the detectives that he saw a girl he was certain was Mary Phagan standing in front of the factory Saturday afternoon talking to a man. Another person told a story of seeing three men, intoxicated and reeling, leading a little girl in short dress, near midnight Saturday. The girl, he said, appeared reluctant to go with them and was crying.

Another story that had to be investigated was that a girl of Mary Phagan's age had been seen talking to a man on the sidewalk near the pencil factory at a late hour Saturday night, and that she seemed to be trying to get away from him.

The police at this time were ready to credit the story that the girl had been lured to the factory at night and there attacked and killed. Nothing as yet had developed to substantiate the theory that she never had left the building after she entered it Saturday noon to obtain her pay envelope.

Startling Story Told.

After scores of persons had related suspicious incidents that they had observed came the most startling story of all. It was that Mary had been seen on the street at about 12:30 Saturday night by an acquaintance who actually had spoken to her and had received a reply.

E. L. Sentell, an employee of Kamper's grocery, was the informant. He had known Mary Phagan for years, he said. He was walking on Forsyth street that night when he was attracted by the sight of a man coming down the street walking with a little girl in short dresses. As a girl of this age was an uncommon sight on the street at this hour of night, he waited as they approached. He was startled to recognize Mary Phagan in the little girl. He knew that her parents were not accustomed to let her go out at this late hour.

He spoke to her as she and the man passed.

"Hello, Mary," he said.

"Hello, Ed," she replied.

This is the sensational story that he told. Unquestionably, the man she was with must be the man who knew about her death. A clew to his supposed identity was obtained. Sentell was positive he could recognize the man when he faced him. The news spread like wildfire that an arrest was to be made and that the man to be taken was without doubt the one who had lured Mary Phagan to the factory and killed her.

Within an hour the waiting crowds at the police station saw the officers arriving with their prisoner.

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

WOMEN WHO MOURN MARY PHAGAN

MRS. R. E. PHAGAN. RUTH PHAGAN. OLLIE PHAGAN. MATTIE PHAGAN.

ATTACK BURLESON FOR POST RATE CUT

Certain Members of Congress Also Oppose Increase in Maximum Size of Parcels.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Postmaster General Burleson has been requested by the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads to appear before the committee Thursday and explain his order reducing parcel post rates and increasing the maximum size packages to be carried by that service from 11 to 20 pounds. This order is to become effective August 15.

Certain members of Congress, including members of the Senate committee, are opposed to this new order of the Postmaster General.

Senator Bryan said to-day:

"I think that the order of the Postmaster General at this time was ill-advised. I intend to use every effort to get my bill repealing that section of the law which the Postmaster General claims gives him authority to change the rates passed by Congress before his order can go into effect."

Sues Money Lenders For Loss of Position

MACON, July 23.—W. R. Roberts, a railroad fireman, who lost his position because his salary was garnished, has brought suit for $2,000 damages in Superior Court against King Bros., money lenders, of Atlanta and Macon.

Roberts charges that he borrowed $20 and paid back $40, and that King Bros. then claimed he still owed $22. Refusing to pay this, his salary was attached, which entailed the loss of his position at a time when his wife was critically ill.

Fraud Suit Thrown Out of Macon Court

MACON, July 23.—The suit for $100,000 damages brought by A. C. Felton, vice president of a lumber company, against R. J. Taylor and N. M. Block, Macon bank presidents, in which they were charged with conspiracy to defraud him out of stock worth $100,000 and with cheating and swindling, has been thrown out of Superior Court by Judge H. A. Mathews.

The court sustained the general demurrer offered by Taylor and Block.

HE SAVED 89 LIVES.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 23.—Captain Patrick Grace, 76, who had a record of having saved 89 persons from drowning, is dead at his home in Montgomery.

Armistice Near in War in the Balkans

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

SOFIA, July 23.—It was stated officially to-day that Servia and Greece have agreed to Roumania's proposal to discuss an armistice with Bulgaria. The preliminary discussion will be held at Nish.

In an official note to Sofia to-day Roumania insists that she be allowed to retain strategetic position on the frontier; that specified privileges shall be extended to the Roumanian population in Macedonia and that the peace negotiations shall be opened in Roumanian territory after an armistice has been signed.

Bill Creates State Printing Supervisor

The creation of the office of Superintendent of Public Printing is provided in a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Representative Smith, of Atlanta. A salary of $2,400 is provided. The duties of the office would be to handle the awarding of all contracts for State printing.

The appointment of a practical printer by the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor, the appointment to be ratified by the Secretary of State, Comptroller General and Treasurer, also is provided.

Hatpin Stab May Cause Man's Death

SAVANNAH, July 23.—As a result of what may have been a hatpin wound in the arm, a Greek named Ricardos is in the Oglethorpe Hospital in a critical condition. Double pneumonia has set in, and it is not expected that he will recover.

The police are investigating a report that the Greek was jabbed in the arm by a woman with a hatpin.

BURGLAR ADMITS SUIT CASE THEFTS

Miller, Caught Robbing Store, Confesses When Accused by Detective Who Posed as Pal.

R. W. Miller, held by the police on a charge of breaking into Gober's store, at No. 30 Carroll street, confessed to numerous thefts of suit cases from passenger stations when confronted with a member of the detective force who had been masquerading with him as a pal, according to the police.

P. W. Reeves, captured with Miller, grew sullen during the grilling and would say nothing. Chief Lanford told of the new evidence Wednesday.

When Miller and Reeves were trapped Monday night a third man escaped through a window. At the police station the pair denied all guilt. Then the detective, whose name Chief Lanford refuses to disclose, confronted them. Reeves branded the detective a liar. For a moment violence was feared.

Miller's home, near Red Oak, was searched Tuesday afternoon. A suit case and a pair of white canvas shoes, stolen from the Terminal station on July 4, were found.

Miller and Reeves will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles Thursday.

Accused Chief of Feudists on Trial

WINCHESTER, KY., July 23.—Fletcher Deaton, alleged to be the arch conspirator in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, was placed on trial after Andrew Johnson had been found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of Callahan, shouted and wept for joy when the jury pronounced Johnson guilty. She worked up the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Blood Poison, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the surest and best of drugs, are supplied from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE.—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank 16 1-2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF HEIRLOOMS

Georgian Want Ad Reveals Disappearance of Silver in Bank Rest Room.

Loss of a package of old and extremely valuable silverware has resulted in a search for two young women who are believed to have picked up the valuables.

The package disappeared several days ago while the owner was in the rest room of the Third National Bank Building, and it is believed that two young women who were in the room at the time and who are not employed in the building, walked away with it.

The loss has been attracting attention by the appearance of a unique advertisement in the loss column of The Georgian, reading, "The lady who removed silverware from rest room in the Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405, Third National Bank Building."

The silverware bears the monogram of "C," engraved on it a century ago. The package contained a number of spoons, sugar shells and other pieces. They were heirlooms and highly prized.

It is probable that arrests will follow unless the silverware is returned, as the owner is sure she can identify the young women who were in the rest room.

FELIX WAS IN PAIN.

JOLIET, ILL., July 23.—Because he shrieked so they could not sleep a gang of Mexicans tied Felix Manuelo to the top of a box car. He was rescued and taken to a hospital where an operation for appendicitis was performed to-day.

SEABOARD NAMES LOW BALTIMORE RATE.

$20.85 round trip, on sale August 1-2-3. Through electric lighted steel trains, excellent Dining Car service. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Some of the Season's Best Merchandise in a Clearaway Thursday in

The Down-Stairs Section

Wash Fabrics At Prices that Many Will Want to Share

10c yard — For 25c Voiles in solid colors.

15c yard — For 25c Dolly Madison Crepes—a pretty dress fabric.

11c yard — For 20c Plisse Crepe in small floral designs, very dainty; many shades to select from.

10c yard — For 15c Dress Swisses in dotted and striped effects; full range of desirable colors.

12½c yard — For 25c Shirting Madras, neat stripe effects—all fast colors.

19c yard — For 25c and 35c Silk stripe Poplins and Ottoman cloth.

19c yard — For 35c White Ratine in short lengths.

4c yard — For figured Lawns for dresses—white ground with neat black figures.

25c Brassieres That Are Worthy of Your Attention.

Well-made, perfect-fitting Brassieres, embroidery-trimmed; a value that every woman will appreciate at this price.

49c For Girls' White Lawn Dresses

Ordinarily they would be priced at 75c—for they are dresses of good value, made of good lawn, prettily trimmed with embroidery and small tucks.

10c Each For Children's separate Body Waists and Drawers; well made, of good quality muslin.

Women's Parasols At Half Price---50c Instead of $1.00

We thought they were remarkable values when we marked them at $1.00—women thought so too, for they bought nearly all of them at that price. The few remaining to be disposed of to-morrow at just half. An opportunity you will want to share.

Clearing Out Certain Groups of Gloves, Hose and Handkerchiefs

25c Pair for Long Lisle Gloves—16-button length.

35c Dozen for Men's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs.

Children's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs; plain white; six for 15c.

23c Pair for—

Women's black lace lisle Hose; regular 35c value.

Timely Things at Prices to Make One Think

50c Garden Hoe, at 25c.

39c Brooms, at 25c.

Patented Grass Shears, at 10c.

6 Dozen Agate Buttons, for 5c.

25c Patent Leather Belts (all colors), at 10c.

29c For Women's Blouses Up to 75c

Pretty Blouses in many styles, lace or embroidery trimmed. Choose from all-white or some with dainty color touches. High-neck or low-neck styles. Some are made shirt style, with either soft or laundered collar.

SAYS HIS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN HIS COFFEE

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

J. Ham Lewis Martyr To Senatorial Dignity

WASHINGTON, July 21.—J. Ham Lewis, Senator from Illinois, to-day answered a query anent semi-wintry raiment, consisting of buckskin gloves, felt hat, dark gray suit of heavy texture and parti-colored woolen vest, within which he braved the sweltering weather.

"Misconceived Senatorial dignity decrees that we shall wear a vest," explained Senator Lewis, fingering the garment in question, "when we would fain di-vest ourselves of the encumbrance."

House Bill Requires Seed Cotton Record

A bill requiring all purchasers of seed cotton to keep a complete record of the same has been introduced in the House by Representatives Hines and Moon, of Troup County.

In the last few weeks many complaints have been filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture by farmers who stated that seed cotton which they had purchased under the highest recommendations had proved to be either of inferior quality or absolutely worthless.

Moose and G. O. P. in Battle in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 23.—The elephant and the bull moose in Louisville are engaged in a fight which threatens to eliminate both.

Following attacks by Republicans on Progressive nominations for the August primary, the Progressives have attacked the Republican list, starting with George T. Wood, candidate for mayor. Invalid nominating papers are the chief grounds.

PROTECT YOUR EYES.
What will you take for your eyes? Are they not entitled to the best glasses?
We strive for the best in skill, in material, in workmanship.
Oculist service at optician prices.
L. N. Huff Optical Co., two stores, 70 Whitehall, 52 W. Mitchell. Adv.

Little Captains of Industry

The Georgian "Want Ad" is a little captain of industry working night and day, bringing together thousands for mutual benefit who otherwise might never meet.

Read for Profit
Georgian "Want Ads"
Use for Results

Yellowjackets Rout Soldiers of Second Regiment

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, July 23.—After having crowned themselves with glory by routing the "enemy," composed of another battalion of the regiment, a detachment of the Second Georgia infantry to-day was put to ignominious flight by a swarm of yellowjackets, encountered on the battlefield. Several of the soldiers were stung, but the majority escaped by a hasty and disorganized retreat.

While to-day's "battle" was in progress a squad of soldiers digging intrenchments unearthed a human skeleton.

The Macon Volunteers last night entertained Colonel Thomas and other officers at supper, followed by a "badger" fight. Lieutenant Whittaker, of the Floyd Rifles, held the "badger."

Captain J. A. Fort, of Americus, was to-day's officer of the day.

Republican Regime In Portugal Totters

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MADRID, July 23.—The Portuguese Republic is tottering. The country seethes with the revolutionary spirit to overthrow the Republican Government and re-establish a monarchy. Travelers from Portugal arriving here to-day say the movement is the best organized since King Manuel was dethroned.

Troops are being rushed to all points in an effort to check the rebellion, which Government officials consider the most serious since the new form of government was established.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here to-day.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

Strike Shuts World's Biggest Copper Mine

CALUMET, MICH., July 23.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 copper miners of the upper peninsula went on a strike this morning, completely tying up twenty mines in four counties. The men demand shorter hours and an increase in wages. The Calumet and Hecla, the biggest copper producer in the world, has been shut down.

The men were organized recently by the Western Federation of Miners. There has been no disorder.

N. P. Head Is Slated For Mellen's Place

NEW YORK, July 23.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, probably will succeed Charles S. Mellen as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This report came to-day from a reliable source.

It was said that Mr. Elliott has been in consultation with J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents for the New Haven, and the official announcement of his appointment may come at any time.

Government Agent Goes to LaFayette

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Milton E. Elliott, counsel for the Comptroller of the Currency, left Washington to-day for LaFayette, Ga., to examine the First National Bank, which was closed Saturday when a shortage of $30,000 was discovered.

The mystery surrounding the shortage has not been cleared.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 457 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Camella Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral services for Joseph A. Johnson, a pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted from the residence, No. 302 Luckie street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers will be Captain Henry Jennings, Frank Whitley, A. Q. Adams, George H. Sims, James Hudson and Andrew Kessett. Interment in Oakland.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

VETERAN EDITORS GIVE UP OFFICES

Georgia Weekly Press Association Names New Recording Secretary and Treasurer.

LA GRANGE, July 23.—Two officers who have served the Georgia Weekly Press Association for twenty or more years retired to-day when the annual election was held. B. T. Mosely, of The Danielsville Monitor, for twenty years treasurer, is succeeded by J. J. Howell, of The Cuthbert Leader. W. A. Shackelford, of The Oglethorpe Echo, Lexington, recording secretary since the association was formed 27 years ago, is succeeded by C. E. Benns, of The Butler Herald.

H. M. Stanley, of The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, was re-elected corresponding secretary. P. T. McCutcheon, of The Franklin News-Banner, was elected president; J. C. McAuliffe, of The Milledgeville News, first vice president, and J. A. Perry, of The LaGrange Reporter, second vice president.

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton arrived this afternoon from Atlanta to attend the barbecue given the editors by Fuller E. Callaway and to be honor guests at the banquet to-night by the citizens of LaGrange.

Members of the association leave on a special train at 9 o'clock Thursday morning for Brunswick and St. Simons Island, where several days will be spent.

The members of the association returned to LaGrange from West Point late Tuesday afternoon, after a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point-Lanett News, and an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the banks of the Chattahoochee River by the citizens of that city.

A session of the convention was held in the courthouse Tuesday night. Besides routine matters there were interesting papers from a number of the leading members of the association on subjects of live interest to the weekly press of the State.

Pass the Medals to These Heroes, Please!

TRENTON, N. J., July 23.—A test meal of eggs three years old was made by the State Board of Health here.

If the board survives, $4,000 worth of ancient eggs will be released from cold storage.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DEAD IN RUINS OF FACTORY NOW FIXED AT 58

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tops of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At noon on Wednesday twenty-one bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 58, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Thirty-seven are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

SEEKING SHERIFF'S PLACE.

SAVANNAH.—Robert Saussy has qualified as a candidate for Sheriff of Chatham County in the primary election of July 30. The time for qualifying has expired, leaving the race between Mr. Saussy and Colonel Merrett W. Dixon.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

Operation Threatened?

Postpone it until you have tried Nuxcara. Many serious conditions are caused by indigestion and consequent mal-nutrition.

TAKE NUXCARA
3 Times a Day

One-half hour before each meal. Mr. J. F. Adams, of Atlanta, took Nuxcara and this is what he says:

"Nuxcara has been a boon to me. The first bottle that I bought I was hardly able to reach the drug store. I had suffered for twenty-five years with dyspepsia, part of the time in bed. Kept away from my business for days at a time. I regard Nuxcara as the only cure for indigestion and mal-nutrition and always recommend it to any one suffering that way. I can not say too much for this great medicine and am glad of an opportunity to bring it to the notice of some one suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia, knowing that it will cure them."

Ask Your Druggist--
$1.00 a Bottle

Lamar-Rankin Drug Co.
Distributors,
69 S. Forsyth Street
EDMONDSON DRUG CO.,
Special Atlanta Agents,
11 N. Broad St.
Manufactured by the Nuxcara Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS

During the hot summer days we are offering some splendid bargains in household necessities. Listen to these prices:

$2.00 White Enameled Chamber Pail
$1.20
(Just like cut, except pure white).

$1.50 White Enameled Chamber Pail
98c

Handsome Brass Cuspidors
50c to $3.50 Each

Enameled Cuspidors
20c to $1.00 Each

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Brass Jardinieres
$1.98

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Umbrella Stands
$1.98

Don't fail to see our beautiful window display. We are still offering special prices on tennis and outdoor goods.

KING HARDWARE CO.
53 Peachtree 87 Whitehall

EISEMAN BROS., Inc.

Have You Seen Those New

ENGLISH LOUNGE SUITS

We Have Just Gotten In?

A belated shipment that now necessarily includes them in the clearance prices our

REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE

is offering. These Suits were made up especially to our order of high class flannels, tropical worsteds---domestic and Canadian Crashes---and are very exceptional values! They are the strictly authoritative English cut, splendidly tailored and exquisitely finished. The collection includes both two and three-piece models; coats quarter lined with either fine, soft finished silk or alpaca. Three-piece suits have skeleton vests. These suits were bought to sell and are brilliant values at $16.50 to $35.00.

Clearance Price

$12.50 to $26.50

They are fashionable, cool and serviceable. Real bargains you'll be glad to profit by.

The extensive improvements being made on our building are not interfering with the customary business and service of the store, and you'll find your best interests thoroughly well cared for as usual.

All Departments of the Big Store are brimful of bountiful bargains! Clearance prices on Clothing, Furnishings, Children's Wear, Hats, Shoes and Leather Goods.

Eiseman Bros. Inc.

Store closes each Wednesday at One o'Clock during July and August.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

PASSIVE MEXICO POLICY SCORED BY SENATORS

Fall's Resolution, Guaranteeing American Citizens' Rights Abroad, Is Tabled.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Fall resolution guaranteeing constitutional rights to American citizens abroad and protection to their property, went over without debate when the Senate met to-day. This leaves the resolution tabled and ready for consideration at any time the author may see fit to again call it up.

Fall agreed with members of the Senate that enough publicity has been given the Mexican situation for the present and on motion of Senator Simmons, the tariff bill was made the order of business.

Senator Fall made it plain that he was not averse to having his resolution referred to the Foreign Relations Committee in accordance with the suggestion of Chairman Bacon of that committee.

"I feel confident that sufficient publicity has been given the Mexican situation through debate on this resolution," said Senator Fall, "to make it plain that the United States either must revoke the order prohibiting the exportation of arms into Mexico, or take a determined attitude with regard to the protection of Americans in Mexico."

Senator Fall said in regard to the Mexican situation that no greater error could be made than a continuance of the dilatory tactics pursued by the United States in the past. Agreeing with Fall in this view were a large number of Senators in both sides of the chamber.

President and Bacon Confer on Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Wilson to-day summoned Representative Flood, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the White House to confer on conditions in Mexico.

The delicacy of the present situation enforced a policy of secrecy at the White House, but it was asserted that the purpose of to-day's conference was to discuss the advisability of removing the ban from shipments of arms and ammunition to the constitutionalists in Northern Mexico.

General Carranza and other revolutionists have been pleading for weeks for the removal of this prohibition, claiming that they are entitled to the same privileges accorded to the Maderists by President Taft.

It is doubtful if any decisive move will be made until after the removal of Ambassador Wilson, but it is practically certain that this Government will favor the removal of the prohibition relative to the shipment of arms to the rebels and then will await developments in the hope of establishing a stable government in Mexico.

U. S. Prepared to Act on Short Notice.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dispatch of a gunboat to Mexican waters, in addition to the four battleships already there, the presence of Secretary of War Garrison and General Leonard Wood on the Texas border and the summoning of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to Washington are taken to indicate the intention of official circles here that the Mexican situation will no longer be allowed by President Wilson to drift.

Reports from Chihuahua and Coahuila indicate the centralization of the Federalist forces in those provinces and the opening of railroad communication from the capital to the border within a week.

Mexico Is Stuffed With Ammunition for U. S.

LAREDO, TEXSA, July 23.—A bitter arraignment of the United States, accusing the Government of fostering the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz, and of aiming mortal blows at the liberty and sovereignty of the weaker Central American nations, in direct contrast to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, has been published in Spanish and distributed throughout Mexico.

A copy of the document to-day was forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

"With the pretext of diffusing civilization," says the document, "they (the United States) send to the limit of the continent all the castoffs, all the excess of population which congests their cities, and heralds of culture and progress, the majority of those who arrive are tramps, broken bankers, defaulters, pardoned prisoners, the bulls of their cosmopolitan criminals.

"These are they who come to us, who, supported by them in obtaining concessions, in founding banks without capital, to suck like vampires the blood and the riches of the ingenuous and credulous, noble and confiding people."

The Waters-Pierce Oil Company and the Harriman interests are flayed for their efforts to establish trusts in oil and railroad properties. The document then says:

"We have given them our riches and our confidence, but we will not give them an atom of our dignity nor another hand's breadth of our territory. The people must stand erect at the proper moment, and this now has arrived. They can not annihilate us. International complications will prevent them.

"They would require 100,000 men to invade Mexico, and their triumph, if they triumph, would be over burning fields and mountains of corpses. They would need their entire fleet to blockade our ports.

"This would be very dangerous for them, for there is someone lying in ambush. Mexico is bristling with rifles and stuffed with ammunition. It would be a horrible war."

$20.85 BALTIMORE AND RETURN VIA SEABOARD.

Sold August 1-2-3. Correspondingly low rates from other points. New Steel Dining Cars, through trains.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

by JAMES B. NEVIN

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitiutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and

Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

Eckman's Alterative

FOR THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For sale by all of Jacobs' Drug Stores.

LAWMAKERS PUT IN TEACHERS' FIX BY MEASURE

McMichael Resolution Diverts Legislators' Salary Fund to Schoolma'ams.

To pay the members of the Georgia General Assembly in 1914 in script, payable within six months, and apply the fund set aside for legislators' salaries to the payment of country school teachers is the provision of a resolution introduced by Representative McMichael, of Marion County, Thursday morning. The resolution would have provided for this at the present session, but for the fact that many members already have drawn their pay.

Should the resolution be adopted it would mean that two-thirds of the annual deficit of $100,000 in school teachers' salaries would be made up at once. The daily payroll of the Legislature amounts to from $1,300 to $1,500 a day.

The teachers are awaiting the payment of more than $100,000 on their salaries, past due many months. Script usually is given, but as payment is deferred from six to twelve months they are forced to discount at from 10 to 50 per cent, if they are not in position to support themselves until payment of the script is made by the State.

McMichael's resolution is a bit sarcastic, referring to the fact that all other employees of the State from the Governor down to the janitors, including the members of the General Assembly, are paid promptly.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.

The resolution provides for the payment of cash to the legislators for actual mileage due the members.

PRISON REFORM PUSHED BY WELTNER

Secretary of Crusaders Urges Indeterminate Sentence as Best for Convicts.

Another gun in the campaign of the bill providing indeterminate prison sentences, which has been favorably reported by both House and Senate Committees, has been fired by Philip Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association, which is responsible for the bill.

"The enactment of the bill will not only improve convict conditions in Georgia," Mr. Weltner declares, "but it will increase the efficiency of the convicts in road building. The indeterminate sentence is based on justice and common sense rather than sentiment and mercy; and wherever it has been tried it has tended to embarrass the crook by keeping him in up to the limit, yet holding the door of opportunity open to the occasional offenders whom kind treatment and hope can reform.

"To give a convict a fixed term of imprisonment means that the law believes it can foretell the length of time it will take to discipline him. Wrong doing gets the perpetrator into prison; right doing ought to be his only means of getting out."

"BUSY --AS-- BEES"

Little bees make the honey; little "Want Ads" make the money

Read for Profit

GEORGIAN "WANT ADS"

Use for Results

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. According to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

TO PROBE SLAYING.

COLUMBUS. — When the Law and Equity Court of Lee County, Alabama, convenes on August 4 the Grand Jury will take up the case of Homer Carmack, charged with entering the store of J. J. Folk recently and hacking him to death with a butcher knife.

Uncle Trusty Can't Keep You From Owning a Home

TRUSTS have no monopoly of the EARTH! There's a home in this world for EVERYBODY—there's a home for YOU, right here in Atlanta.

If you are making "living" wages, then no TRUST—no COMBINATION—no power on earth, except YOURSELF, can keep you from OWNING a home!

If you continue to pay RENT on somebody else's property, then you'll probably never own a home—but, if you BUY a handsome house and lot, on our DIVIDED PAYMENT PLAN, then you will be the proud owner of a splendid HOME!

For $100 down, and as little as $21 a month, we will sell you a house and lot, in CAPITOL VIEW, which is a picturesque residential section, inside of Atlanta's city limits—an 18-minute street car ride from the Postoffice! We have several brand-new houses ready for occupancy!

For full information, phone us —or call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE

207 Equitable Bldg.

Bell, Main 3520

Atlanta Phone, 3520

300 Fine Summer Dresses at Half Price

Just the thing to wear at the present time, when the season is at its height, and certainly a timely opportunity, indeed, to buy them at Half Price.

Many very substantial effects make up the 300 imported ratine and heavy linens, fine French linens and voile, Bedford cord and very many novelty materials.

Smart French models, plain tailored models, including dark colors that may be worn all through the fall.

White and light colors and dozens of exquisite combinations of materials and colors.

These are the kind of dresses you'll find in this sale, and there're 300 to select from.

You'll not have any trouble finding what you want. All sizes from misses' 14 to women's 44—all at Half Price. And, remember, you have two months of summer to benefit by the purchase.

$10.00 Dresses	$ 5.00
$12.50 Dresses	$ 6.25
$15.00 Dresses	$ 7.50
$18.50 Dresses	$ 9.25
$20.00 Dresses	$10.00
$25.00 Dresses	$12.50
$30.00 Dresses	$15.00
$35.00 Dresses	$17.50
$40.00 Dresses	$20.00

J. P. Allen & Co. 51 and 53 Whitehall

Great July Pre-Inventory Sales at

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

A "Let-Go" of Fine Linens

Prices Drop to Half and Less for This Most Extraordinary Clearaway

"Clean Stocks" is our slogan—our rigid Pre-Inventory Policy is not to carry over any soiled merchandise nor odds and ends.

That's the reason for the finest linens in the South being offered at a fraction of their value.

To our certain knowledge no Southern store ever offered linens of such qualities at these near-half and less-than-half prices.

The left aisle table and counters are heaped high with values. Though the sale is scheduled for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—it is plain that the best Bargains will be snapped up Thursday. Selling starts at 8:30 with these unprecedented values.

Finest Table Linens at Exactly Half Price

French table linens—acknowledged the finest in the world. Oddments—only one pattern of a kind. Two or more patterns, however, at the same price:

$20 cloth, 2x2 1-2 yards, at $10.00.
$25 cloth, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, at $12.50.
$30 cloth, 2 1-2x3 yards, at $15.00.
$25 dozen napkins, 27 in. size, $12.50.

Fine Lunch Sets

Beautiful qualities of high grade linens. Cloths are hemstitched or scalloped. Dozen napkins to complete each set. Just about a dozen sets in all, to clear them, we make these pre-inventory prices:

$12.50 Linen sets, $6.90.
$15.00 Linen sets, $8.50.

Napkins in the Sale

$2.98 doz., 22 1-2 in. size, values $4 and $4.50.
$5.98 doz., 27-inch size, values $7.50 to $9.
$7.98 doz. 27-inch size, values $10 to $15.

$5 German Damask Lunch Sets Only $1.98

All linen damask lunch sets in various colored designs. The cloths are 63x63 inches, neatly hemstitched. Half dozen 14-inch napkins complete the set.

Scalloped Table Cloths

A few odd scalloped cloths that are a little soiled. Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2 1-4 x 2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2 x 2 1-2 prices:

$8.50 Scalloped cloths, $4.90.
$10.00 Scalloped cloths, $5.90.
$12.50 Scalloped cloths, $6.90.
$15.00 Scalloped cloths, $8.90.

Soiled Table Cloths

Though these linens need a tubbing, they will emerge with their "bloom" and "finish" intact. High grade linens; full 100 per cent flax; honest to the last thread; the grades you would gladly buy at full price. Here's how they go to-morrow:

$6.50 to $8.50 Cloths at $3.90

Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2x 2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3 yards.

$8, $10 & $12.50 Cloths at $4.90

Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1-2 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3, 2 1-2x3 1-2 yards.

$13.50 to $16.50 Cloths at $9.90

Extremely fine tablecloths in all sizes up to 2 1-2x4 yards.

Pre-Inventory Pencil Pushes Down Prices on Rich's Staple Black Silks

Standard $1 and $1.25 Black Silks at 59c

Rich's black silks in a sale. And at an average half price! It is almost as if a grocer sold sugar at half. For Rich's black silks are as staple and as standard.

You can choose from soft, lustrous black LOUISINE; the fashionable black FAILLE FRANCAIS; the gracious ever-wearing GROSGRAIN; a magnificent MOURNING SILK; the beautiful SATIN BENGALINE. Widths range from 20 to 27 inches. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 a yard; to-morrow at 59c.

Prices on $1.00 to $2.00 Silks Slashed to 49c

You will be astonished at the values; the quantities; the varieties; the lovely $1.00 to $2.00 silks that are offered at 49c.

You have choice of 42-inch all-silk chiffons; flowered silks, odd silks; 27-inch chiffon taffetas in changeables and solid colors; novelty silks, including many desirable weaves and patterns. Lengths from 3 to 30 yards. Not a yard worth less than $1.00; most of them formerly priced at $1.50 to $2.50. Choice 49c.

55c for 85c to $1.50 Silks—the 85c and $1.00 silks are spot-proof foulards, in choice patterns and favored colors. The $1.50 silks are Dolly Madison patterns, pretty floral designs, new this season.

79c for $1.00 Messalines—choice of our entire stock of $1 yard-wide Messalines, except black or white.

$1.19 for $1.50 silk and wool Poplins—the beauty of silk wedded to the strength of wool. Soft and sheer, with classic grace. Leading shades of navy and Copenhagen, also black and brown. 42 inches wide.

33c for 59c Silk Foulards—navy grounds, with neat pin and polka dots. 23 in.

$1.39 for $1.75 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines—includes our entire stock of $1.75 Crepe de Chines in full pieces, except black or white, and all $2 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines in dress lengths.

25c for 50c to 85c silks—solid color messalines and wash silks and short lengths of staple and novelty silks. The yard, 25c.

(Silk Annex—Main Floor, Left)

To Sell These Stockings Quickly, We Have Slashed the Prices

Nothing wrong with the stockings, save that they are odd lots and broken lines that we won't invoice. So we empty the boxes and group the different lots on three tables at 29c, 49c and 59c.

Stockings are variously of lisle and silk lisle, lace and embroidered. Black, tan and a few white and colors. All sizes at each price.

29c; values to 50c.
49c; values to 75c.
59c; values to $1.25.

(Main Floor, Right)

A Parasol Sale at $1.98

Choose any summer parasol in stock, whether its former price was $2.50, $3, $3.50 or $4, at $1.98.

Something like four score in all, in solid colors; Roman stripes; solid colors with floral or Persian borders; plaids and other fancies. Novelty and regulation shapes. Leading colors and combinations. Select the parasol you like—there's a saving of about half at $1.98. (Main Floor, Right)

Half Price Sale Toys, Games, Etc.

Final outclearing Friday and Saturday of all kinds of dolls, doll buggies, children's furniture, toys, vehicles and games. Most of the articles are at half price; some even less than half.

(Toy Annex—Main Floor, Right)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

The Social World

Mrs. Lundy Harris, who is at the Georgian Terrace for several days while making her plans for a log cabin she will build on her estate in North Georgia, was the honor guest at an informal luncheon Wednesday morning when Mrs. Warren Candler invited a few of Mrs. Harris' friends to spend a quiet day reminiscing with her.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Harris will be one of the distinguished guests at the dinner Colonel and Mrs. Robert Lowry will give at the Piedmont Club. Mrs. Harris leaves Friday for North Georgia.

Adairs Give Swimming Party.

One of the largest parties of the week was the swimming party given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, when 150 guests were entertained. After a swim in the pool a buffet supper was served on the terrace and lawn.

Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., and Miss Augusta Pearce, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Adair.

For Miss Rosalie Howell.

An elaborate party was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. E. R. Gunby, of Tampa, Fla., at the residence of her father, Mr. Clarke Howell, in honor of her little daughter, Rosalie, whose fourth birthday was thus observed. Twenty-five guests were entertained at a "sunbonnet party."

Immediately after arriving each little girl was presented with a little pink sunbonnet and pink apron. Figures of little girls in pink sunbonnets, bearing garlands of pink roses, surrounded the birthday cake with its four pink tapers, and the Jack Horner pie was decorated with similar figures.

The little hostess wore white lingerie, with blue ribbons, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Gunby was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney and Miss Constance Knowles.

Miss Owens Entertains.

Miss Sarah Owens gave a hearts dice party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Henderson, of Marietta. Miss Fay Slaughter and Miss Floy Eskridge won the prizes, a fan and a bluebird pin. An ivory fan was given to the honor guest. Guests included Misses Beryl May of Knoxville, Margaret Woodrum of Nashville, Ruth Thrasher, Fay Slaughter, Ruth Harrison, Lucile Gann, Martha Boykin, Louise Cohen, Lilla Cheshire, Tommie Hornea, Eva Owens, Mrs. Edward Henderson and Mrs. Satterfield.

Miss Fay Slaughter will entertain informally for Miss Owens Thursday evening.

For Mrs. Pou.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGive will give a theater party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, who is visiting Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman.

For Miss Carmichael.

Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, is being tendered a series of parties during her visit to Miss Margaret Rushton, the largest affair being the informal tea given Wednesday afternoon by Miss Rushton's sister, Mrs. Clyde Lanier King.

Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. King's home adorned the apartments.

Mrs. King's guests included a number of young men as well as girls.

Thursday morning Mrs. Graham Williams will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Eloise Walker gave a box party at the Forsyth, followed by a tea at Hotel Ansley, in honor of Miss Carmichael, the other guests being Mrs. Stirling Turner, Miss Evelyn Ragland and Miss Cullen Battle.

Friday morning Miss Mirian Fielder will give an informal bridge party for Miss Carmichael, only one table of bridge to be entertained, the party to be followed by an informal afternoon party, given by Mrs. John Ray Pattillo.

Saturday morning Mrs. Stewart Roberts will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael, and other informal affairs are being planned.

PERSONALS

Miss Emmie Willingham is visiting friends in Chattanooga.

Miss May Etta Lowell, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. Will Smith, of Inman Park.

Miss Gladys Quinn, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. E. W. Henderson in West Peachtree street.

Miss Lollie Belle Fuller and Mrs. George Croft are spending several weeks in Asheville, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. George Elmer are visiting Judge and Mrs. John Candler at their home in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Claude Shewmake and children have returned from St. Simons, where they sojourned several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, with their two children, and Miss Corinne Bass are at St. Simons for two weeks.

Mrs. Ella Wright Wilcox and little daughter, Katherine, have returned to Atlanta, after a stay at Wrightsville Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Omar F. Elder, who have been at Wrightsville Beach for several days, will return to Atlanta this week.

Mrs. Charles Sisson is the guest of the Misses Joseph at Warm Springs, having made the trip in Mr. Sisson's touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Field returned to Atlanta Tuesday, after spending several weeks at their summer home in Rabun County.

Mr. and Mrs. Gadsden Russell and little son, Gadsden, Jr., are spending to weeks with Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Heisell, in Saluda, N. C.

Miss Margaret Murphy, of Newnan, is the guest of Miss Jessie Thompson. In a few days they will go to Cedartown to be guests at a house party.

Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman, will leave Thursday for Warm Springs for a visit before going to the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. L. H. Ledsinger will spend the summer and early autumn in the mountains of Virginia and Western North Carolina. Her son, Mr. Robert Ledsinger, will accompany her.

Mr. A. D. Adair and Mr. A. D. Adair, Jr., have returned from New York, where they went to meet Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morgan McClung on their return from a trip around the world. Mr. and Mrs. McClung are expected Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Adair, who will leave with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin August 7 to spend the remainder of the summer in Scotland.

Mrs. H. E. Bussey is visiting friends in Birmingham. She will return Thursday, when she, Mr. Bussey and their young son will make their home with Mrs. McRae, No. 647 Peachtree street.

Miss Alma Atel, of Augusta, sister of Mr. J. W. Atel, of Atlanta, spent a few days here on her way to Chicago. Several informal affairs were given in her honor during her short visit.

LOW RATES EAST VIA SEABOARD.

$20.85 Baltimore and return on sale August 1-2-3. Through Steel Trains, new Dining Cars. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

CRISIS IN WATER PROBLEM REACHED

Board to Debate Situation—Only Six Feet of Clear Liquid Left in Reservoirs.

The City Water Board will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider a water situation that constantly has grown more grave since the breaking of the 15,000,000-gallon pump at the river station two weeks ago.

The reserve supply in the reservoirs at the Hemphill station has dropped two feet since that date. It will take at least two weeks to put the big pump in working order again. While the reservoirs have over 20 feet of water in them there is only a 6-foot margin from muddy water. This is due to the fact that the location of the filtration plant will not permit water to flow through it lower than that point.

A conference was held Wednesday morning between J. O. Cochran, president of the Park Board; W. Z. Smith, general manager of waterworks, and W. E. Dunn, president of the Water Board, to consider cutting off the 500,000-gallon daily flow into Piedmont Park lake. That would mean that the bathing would have to be stopped. It was decided that no further action would be taken at present than to shorten the hours for bathing in the lake.

Although twenty men are working on the broken pump, as many as can be effectively used in both day and night shifts, it is feared that the water pressure may have to be reduced so as to make the daily consumption of the city equal the amount pumped from the river each day.

WATSON EAGER TO HIT MUGWUMPS

Lobby Inquiry Shows Indiana Legislator Couldn't Influence Tariff Board Selections.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Members of the Overman Lobby Inquiry Committee to-day said an effort would be made this week to finish reading into the record several thousand letters made public by M. M. Mulhall.

The correspondence showed that, on September 18, James E. Watson, of Indiana, wrote to Mulhall that President Taft had turned over to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh the entire question of the tariff board personnel.

Mugwump Peeved Watson.

"If MacVeagh were a Republican we might reach him," wrote Watson, "but he is a mugwump and I swear that I never know what to do with a mugwump, inasmuch as I have no right to kill him."

On September 28 Mulhall wrote to John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"I wish to do all I possibly can to beat in Maryland this fall the amendment to the Constitution disfranchising the negroes, which, if carried, will make Maryland a one-party State and wipe out of Congress three Republican members, one of whom is the best friend we ever had in Congress, Sydney E. Mudd."

Tried to Get Watson.

Mulhall called on several manufacturers interested in the Danbury hatters' strike, to have them employ Watson as counsel in the ensuing litigation.

Arkansas Freight Rates Cut 20 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK, July 23.—Effective to-day the trunk line railroads in Arkansas accepted the Arkansas Railroad Commission's standard freight tariff, which reduces railway rates approximately 20 per cent and will probably cut earnings of the railways $500,000 a year in the State.

Five years' litigation between State and railroads over these rates resulted in a victory in United States Supreme Court for the State.

Negro Church Union Holding Convention

The Baptist Young People's Union (negro) is holding its eighteenth annual convention in the Beulah Baptist Church, of which W. F. Paschal is pastor. The Rev. A. W. Bryant, of Savannah, presided, and the vice president of the union, W. A. Flagg, of Macon, conducted the devotionals.

An expression meeting was conducted by Professor J. H. James, A.B., of Central City College.

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Miners and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldg., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

STODDARDIZE---

Then---"All Aboard"

WHEN your clothes have been STODDARDIZED, you are ready to leave for your vacation! STODDARDIZING makes Women's, Men's and Children's apparel look just like new!

A WAGON FOR A PHONE CALL.

We pay Charges (one way) on Out-of-Town Orders of $2 or more.

Stoddard 126 Peachtree Street, Bell Phone, Ivy 43, Atlanta Phone 43 — Dixie's Greatest Dry Cleaner and Dyer

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.---Atlanta, New York---Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

TO-MORROW---A Remarkable Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

Quick Clearance Every Ratine Dress Every Linen Dress

JUST 75 BEAUTIFUL RATINE DRESSES AND 91 CHARMING LINEN DRESSES REMAIN IN STOCK—

In both of these popular materials, the very latest and loveliest styles and shades of the season are featured—

They Go On Sale To-morrow At . . . . . CHOICE $6.95 The Regular Prices Are Up to $22.50

The crowds that have thronged this store will be even greater to-morrow, when this announcement is read—

Clearance Sale Ladies' Motor Coats

Every fair motorist in Atlanta can afford an elegant auto coat at SUCH a price. Fine linen, all styles, some trimmed in contrasting shades of leather, others with caps to match, etc., for quick clearance to-morrow

$10 Values; Choice . . . $5.45

Quick Clearance of 450 Waists

Lovely summer lingerie waists, in all the latest beautiful style ideas, exquisitely trimmed, immense variety to suit every feminine taste, for quick clearance to-morrow

$1.50 to $1.75 Values; Choice . $1.00

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

"Atlanta's Exclusive Women's Apparel Store"---43-45 Whitehall Street

Attention, Agents!

RELIABLE DISTRICT MANAGERS wanted in all unassigned territory in Georgia. Liberal contracts, giving exclusive control of territory to right men. Address

Louis Sherfesee, State Manager
or Charles S. Northen, General Agent
701-2-3-4 Third National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

PURELY MUTUAL---ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF HARTFORD,

Organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.
Principal office, 49 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Amount of capital stock—None.

II. ASSETS.

Total assets $35,297,578.44

III. LIABILITIES.

Total liabilities $35,297,578.44

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total income $3,404,963.79

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total disbursements $2,649,146.89
Greatest amount insured in any one risk $50,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding (estimated) 153,452,325.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT—County of Hartford.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, Harry E. Johnson, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

HARRY E. JOHNSON,
Assistant Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 11th day of July, 1913.

NELSON G. FORD, Notary Public.

Keely's Fine Footwear in a Twice-Yearly Sale

Every pair of low shoes offered in this sale is of the true, tried and trusty sort.

In point of style every pair is of the best type.

Hundreds of delighted women have found it profitable to attend these sales.

It will pay you as it has paid them.

Surer than the return from a gilt-edge bond is the PROFIT to you in the purchase of one or more pairs of these famous shoes.

They're good values at $3, $3½ and $4.

The sale price is $2.65 a pair.

There is in the lot every width of last and every style of toe and heel.

Your favorite WIDTH and STYLE are here.

Your SIZE IS ALSO HERE.

We have to apologize to the many ladies who could not be promptly served on Monday.

We knew we had the Pumps and Oxfords. We knew we had the values.

But really the crowd came so thick and fast that we were mightily taxed to wait upon it.

But we shall do better to-morrow.

More room is given to the display.

More salespeople in attendance.

Better and more commodious fitting facilities are furnished.

We're Proud of This Sale

It is the most successful shoe sale in our experience.

But there's a reason for the great Pump and Oxford business that we're doing.

Here it is--

$3, $3½ and $4 values Pumps and Oxfords, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values of low shoes and ties, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values in highest grade footwear, now $2.65

This is not a Skyrocket Sale.

Nor is it a clearance of doubtful values, or odd stocks, or passe styles.

But $2.65 of your money will purchase to-morrow stylish, up-to-date, desirable footwear of the $3, $3½ and $4 kinds.

The style, the quality, the value, the service are all in the sale.

The unusual thing is the price, $2.65 a pair.

Keely Company

WIFE NOW DENIES THAT SHE SHOT TOM WOOD

Gainesville Bride to Repudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 22.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss Pearl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."

The universal verdict of the patrons of the Bijou is that this week's attraction, "Good Morning, Judge," is one of the snappiest, liveliest and most pleasing musical comedies of the season, and judging from the cordial reception that has been given the attraction so far, standing room will be at a premium the entire week. Differing from most of the musical comedies that have been offered at the Bijou, "Good Morning, Judge," has a well-defined plot, which concerns the election of a German brewer to the mayoralty of his home town and the many ludicrous situations that arises when the good-natured brewer is forced to assume the position of municipal judge.

The musical numbers are new and up to date and the costumes in keeping with the splendid tone of the attraction.

Forsyth Packed.

"Sold out" has been the record at every performance at the Forsyth this week, and a wonderful advance sale for the remaining performances indicating that the busy theater is going to make a new attendance record, possibly eclipsing the figures set up by Miss Kellermann two years ago. The show is one of the strongest that has ever been offered in vaudeville in Atlanta. There is not a weak spot, every act counts and the applause is distributed evenly.

The big feature of the program is the appearance of John F. Conroy, the only person who possesses every kind of medal that has been awarded for heroism. Conroy has saved 137 lives. Assisted by two pretty girls, he gives a diving exhibition that is superior to any that has been seen in Atlanta.

Thrills at Big Movie at Grand.

A more wonderful photo-play than Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" has rarely been seen. There is interest in this 12,000 feet of film from the introduction of Jean Valjean until the last inch has been run off, and the Grand is being filled at the daily matinee and night performances. The characters of the Hugo novel are played by some of the most distinguished actors of France. The performances are given at 2:30 and at 8:30.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HERE BOOSTED BY BIG MEET

Mrs. M. C. Hardin, a prominent worker for suffrage in Georgia.

Enthusiasm Marks Taft Hall Gathering—Only "Anti" Partially Converted.

Spurred to enthusiasm by Mrs. William Peel, presiding officer, several hundred suffragists and a suffragette or two at Taft Hall Tuesday participated in a monster meeting, in many respects unequaled before in Atlanta. Round after round of applause marked the efforts of every speaker.

The meeting was an all-suffrage affair, for although a debate was advertised not a single out-and-out anti-suffragist speech was made. Ernest Neal, member of the House of Representatives, was the only speaker of the opposition, and even he declared he had little faith in many of the stock arguments of the antis and that he wished Mrs. Peel godspeed in the present movement.

Debate Is Opened.

Following an organ recital by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, Mrs. Peel called the meeting to order. "If it had not been for woman," she said in opening the discussion, "man would still be walking on four legs. But woman has performed her duty and as a result all of us are to-day walking on two legs."

Following Representative Neal's address, R. A. Broyles declared the men needed the women to help them out in things political.

Among the other speakers were Dr. A. M. Hughlett, who declared he was a suffragist first, last and all the time, for the reason that women are as intelligent as men; Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, who paid high tribute to the cause; Mrs. Frances Whitesides, a leader in the Civic League; Mrs. Mary McLendon, "the original suffragette," president of the Georgia League, Mrs. M. C. Hardin and Dr. John E. White.

Mrs. McLendon Speaks.

Mrs. McLendon spoke of the first efforts of Georgia women to organize, and asserted the present movement would result in a perfect organization throughout the State.

Dr. White made a vigorous address in favor of suffrage and sharply criticised the "idle rich" woman, who, he said, sought a good time for life by marrying a man with an automobile.

At the meeting's close Mrs. Peel invited all anti-suffragists in the house to stand up. No one stood up.

ACQUITTED OF GRAFT CHARGE.

COLUMBUS. — County Officer James Palmer has been exonerated by the Muscogee County Board of Commissioners of charges preferred by Langdon Bell, a frequent violator of the prohibition law, that he had paid the officer for protection.

PIANO SALESMEN WANTED.

Three wide-awake, energetic, retail piano salesmen, young men of ability and experience, to work city and country trade in State of Georgia. Good wages and permanent positions. Apply by letter only, giving experience, age, salary expected and amount of business that salary should produce. Address CABLE PIANO COMPANY, 84 N. Broad street, Atlanta, Ga.

FRIEDMANN CURE FAILS TO SAVE THORNTON

Young Atlanta Banker Sinks Rapidly and Dies at Asheville Following New Treatment.

Bitter arraignment of Dr. Franz Friedrich Friedmann, the German scientist and discoverer of a serum hailed as a curative of tuberculosis, followed the death of Austell Thornton, one of the best-known young bankers in Atlanta, near Asheville, N. C., early Wednesday morning.

Thornton's death was the result of tuberculosis, which set in following an attack of pneumonia eighteen months ago. When Dr. Friedmann came to this country last winter with his serum, heralded as a cure for consumptives, Thornton went to New York and underwent the treatment.

While Dr. Friedmann used the Bellevue Hospital there in demonstrating his cures, he also did a great deal of work in hotels among patients who flocked to Manhattan from all over the United States.

Treated by Friedmann.

Thornton received his injections at the hotel where he was stopping, and it is said that Dr. Friedmann himself administered them. It is also declared that the German physician charged young Thornton a fabulous price for the treatment, one person Wednesday morning placing the sum at $3,500.

Thornton ended his treatments and left New York three months ago in the belief that the serum would prove a curative, as it had been claimed. The only improvement at all noticeable was a lessening of the fever.

"I am firmly convinced," said S. H. Venable, an uncle of Thornton's widow, that the Friedmann treatment hastened Thornton's end. When he went to New York to take the injections the young man was not in a dangerous condition, still almost immediately after he left New York after the serum had been injected into him he began to grow weaker. The plague's ravages were more noticeable."

Mr. Thornton was about 31 years old, and had resided in Atlanta since childhood. Six years ago he married Miss Bob Venable.

He was prominent in society and club circles, being a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, the Capital City Club and of practically every other prominent social organization of the city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family home, No. 611 Peachtree street. Interment private at Oakland.

Mr. Thornton was one of the best known citizens of Atlanta, and at the time of his death was a director in the Atlanta National Bank. He had large private interests and at one time was president of the Pine Mountain Granite Company. He was educated at the University of Georgia. His father, the late A. B. Thornton, was also a director in the Atlanta National.

He is survived by his widow and two children; also his mother, Mrs. Albert Thornton; his brother, Albert Thornton, and his sister, Miss Janie Thornton, all of Atlanta.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

Be Your Own Boss

A little money linked with good judgment will put you in the straight road to success. Familiarize yourself with the numerous opportunities to purchase a small business by reading carefully the Business Opportunities listed in the "Want Ad" columns of to-day's Georgian.

CRAWFORD WILL CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Uncertainty Regarding Frank Trial Results in Delay Until Next Monday.

Because of the uncertainty regarding the trial of Leo M. Frank, Auditor James L. Anderson Wednesday postponed the hearing of the Crawford will case until next Monday, at the request of Reuben Arnold, counsel for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, who is also connected with the defense of Frank.

Mr. Anderson announced that should the Frank trial again be postponed the Crawford case will be called at that time, but should Judge Roan decide to call Frank's trial for Monday morning the hearing of the will case will be indefinitely postponed, its resumption to be governed entirely by the disposition of the Frank case.

Plan to Explode Poison Claim.

The postponing of the hearing on Wednesday morning prevented the introduction of what Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim is their most convincing evidence in Mrs. Crawford's denial that she had killed her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, by poisoning him. It is understood that they had planned to place Dr. J. W. Hurt, Crawford's family physician, on the stand.

Dr. Hurt, Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim, will testify that while attending Mr. Crawford during his last illness, he frequently gave him morphine and other drugs to allay the pain. These drugs given by Dr. Hurt, the defense will claim, are what Dr. Harris found in Crawford's stomach when the body was exhumed and a post-mortem made.

It is probable that Dr. Hurt will be one of the first witnesses when the hearing is resumed, which, unless the Frank trial is postponed, probably will not be until about the middle of August.

Search On For Barber.

Attorneys for the heirs-at-law stated Wednesday that they will continue the search for Fred Lumb, the barber who is charged with being Mrs. Crawford's accomplice in the alleged poison plot. Unable to locate Lumb in New York, where he was last heard of, it is planned to extend the search all over the United States.

Attorney J. S. James, chief of counsel for the heirs, said that Lumb has lived in different parts of the United States under various names, all of which are known. It is suspected that Lumb is living under one of the names he has formerly used, and efforts will be made to obtain trace of him.

Ex-Postmaster at Memphis Drowned

MEMPHIS, July 23.—L. W. Dutro, until recently postmaster, a prominent Republican and business man, was drowned late Tuesday afternoon in the Mississippi River while attempting to rescue Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, daughter of a Mrs. Bradford, of Brownsville, Tenn. Mrs. W. F. Brooks, wife of a Selma, Ala., railroad mechanic, a third member of the party, did not go in wading. A step-off in the river bed caused the death of Dutro and Mrs. Gwynne.

Mrs. Gwynne, a handsome brunette worked circulation contests on various Southern papers.

Worries Disappear When You Go to the Bonita Theater

Allen and Kenna, with the Aviation Girls and Fatima Trio, are real dispellers of glooms at the Bonita. With every performance this great combination packs the beautiful little theater, but the many electric fans keep you cool and comfortable. Give your tired body and threadbare nerves a rest by a visit to the Bonita.

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

Lobby War Success, House Doormen Say

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Doorkeepers of the House declare that President Wilson's war on the "insidious lobby" has made lobbyists scarcer than ever before.

They say that whereas lobbyists formerly made dozens of trips during the day to the House chamber with cards of visitors to members, they now make very few such trips.

Slayer of Feudist Gets Life Sentence

LEXINGTON, July 23.—Andrew Johnson, charged with being one of the men who assassinated Ed Caliahan, former noted feudist of the Breathitt County mountains, has been found guilty at Winchester, Ky., and given a life sentence.

Court immediately began the trial of Fletcher Deaton, charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot. Eighteen more will be tried for the actual murder, and twelve others for perjury. These cases are expected to consume five weeks. The feature evidence in each case is that of the woman who traced the murder plots or who heard the conspirators plan the murder.

NEW COLUMBUS DEPOT BEGUN.

COLUMBUS.—A force of men has begun tearing down the old Southern Railway freight depot preparatory to building a new and larger one. A temporary depot is being erected on the site of the old Georgia Midland depot.

Senator's Daughter On Socialist Stump

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mrs. Nina Lane McBride, daughter of Senator Lane of Oregon, is in Washington visiting her father. Next month she will commence a tour of the Eastern States, speaking from street corners and in workingmen's halls on the Socialist propaganda.

Mrs. McBride met her husband, who also is a Socialist worker, at a rally of the party in Portland, Oreg. She met him the second time at a hoboes' convention in New Orleans. They were married by a Magistrate.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

BINGHAM SCHOOL'S central purpose for 120 years has been to make Men of Boys. Asheville climate world renowned. Organization Military. Two details from U. S. Army allowed to N. C. The A. & M. College has one, Bingham the other. Target and Gallery practice, with latest U. S. Army Rifles. Lake for Swimming. Summer Camp during July and August. Tuition and Board $150 per Half Term. $300 a year. Address Col. R. Bingham, Box 6, Asheville, N. C.

J. M. High Co.

Atlanta's Best Store—the Store for the Masses

Sale of

Men's Sorosis Low Shoes

$5.00 Values . . $3.85

We are cleaning up our stock of Men's Oxfords, so offer all Men's Sorosis $5.00 low shoes for sale at . . . $3.85

(All this week)

All Women's and Children's Sorosis Low Shoes on Sale at greatly reduced prices.

Shoe Department--Annex

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Remnant Day in the Wash Goods

The Selling Starts at Nine o'Clock

You who know the possibilities of our remnant sales will doubtless be pleased to hear that this one brings even greater savings than the average. You may plan accordingly and you will not be disappointed.

Remnants carry their own guarantee of worth and desirability here at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s—they would never have become short lengths had they not been fabrics that women liked and bought freely when they were full pieces and when prices were regular.

For this sale to-morrow we have rummaged out every semblance of a remnant in the Wash Goods Section and what is more, we have cut prices more vigorously than ever this summer!

What a fine opportunity it means for those seeking materials for dresses, waists, skirts and underwear.

Flaxons
Dimities
Nainsooks
Lawns
Swisses
Piques
Voiles
Lingerie Cloth
Mulls

Savings Are Never Less Than ONE-HALF Often More. Lengths Two to Six Yards

Linen Lawns
Irish Linens
Brown Linens
Linen Sheetings
Pillow Case Linens
Ginghams
Percales
Poplins
Crepes

Twenty-two Lingerie and Crepe de Chine Dresses for Juniors Are $10.75, Reduced from $17.50, $20.00 and $27.50.

---Junior Department

The occasion of this price is that we would clear away these finer dresses—so we invite your help. The lingerie dresses are all white, and all as beautiful as exquisite laces, embroideries and hand-embroidery and ribbons applied and arranged by artists could make them. The crepe de chine dresses are white, light blue and tan. You will find yokes and sleeves touched with little flower boquets and with rich heavy laces. All priced at $10.75, when their worth is measured by $17.50, $20 and $27.50.

Girls' Kimonos, sizes fourteen and eighteen years, in figured and flowered lawns, that were $1.75 and $2.00, are marked for to-morrow $1.00. The smaller sizes, two to twelve years, in crepes and lawns, that were $1.50, are 75c.

There Will Be No More News of Junior Suits Such as This---$10.00 for $20.00 to $30.00 Suits.

Four are white serges that were $27.50. Eight are novelty suits of one shade and style and another—not one of them was less than $20.00, the highest priced was $30.00.

And with these are four misses' three-piece suits, sizes twelve to fourteen years, in blue serge. Very attractively fashioned. These were $22.50. So, in all only sixteen may share these savings.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

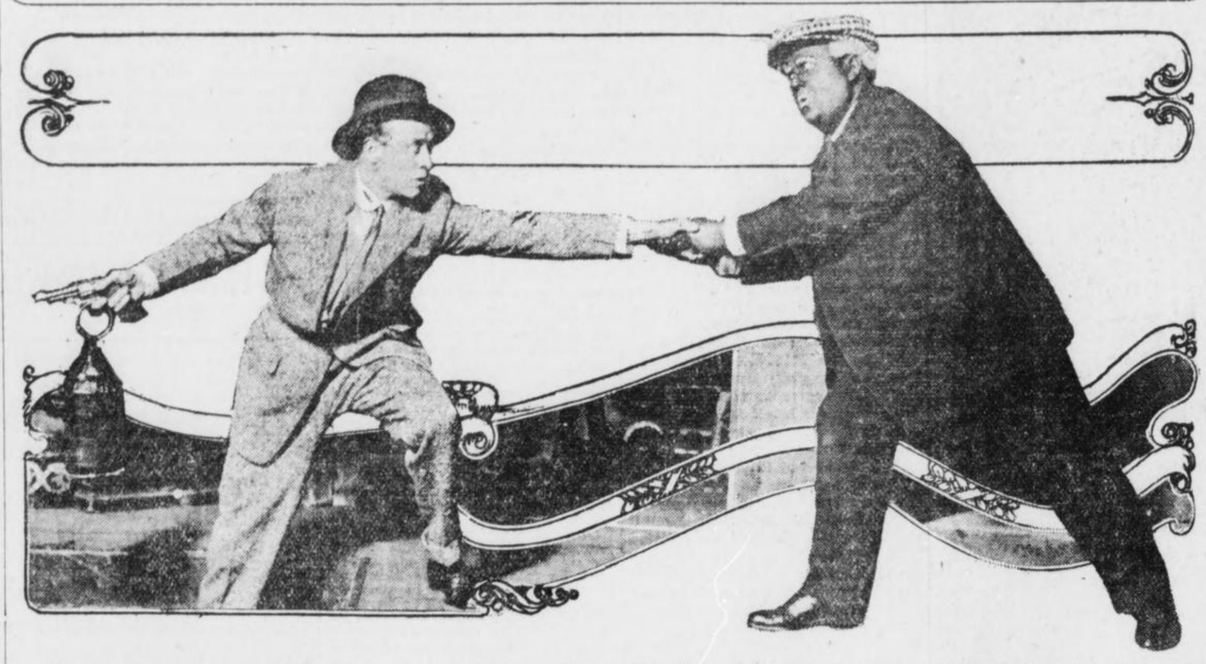
"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours,

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

The Ghost Breaker

By C. W. GODDARD and PAUL DICKEY

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles, and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

The crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, hats, gloves, little necessities and more follies, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly; Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers
SHELTON, S. C.
E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible asd best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

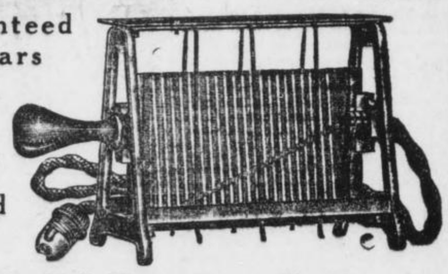
DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.
Write for illustrated catalogue.—S. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years



$1.95 Postpaid

"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

$1.95 Postpaid

3-Year Guarantee

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.
Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.
326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a nig hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa ,I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.

Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. "For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work.

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert. "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science, Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented :-: Girls :-:

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

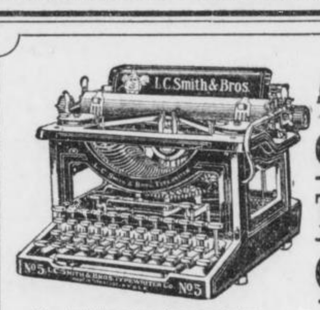
Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.



The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

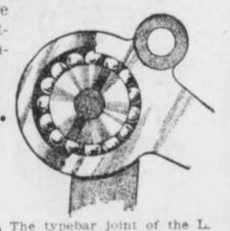
L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.



The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2913

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 22.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Alibi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermann, of the Reds, set a price of $1,800 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's pater owning about three-fourths of the Island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Havin' only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Junglejites can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a dusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1776 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. And about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherwieght champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan is sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that, if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with manager Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing: Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player, was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth,
a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood
with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb,
his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon
that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred,
and left the baseball yard.
"We can not play against that guy—
he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he
gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the
piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he must hoof it back.
And as he labored down the road a
motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine
that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats,
a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had
copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air,
he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car
that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.
Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.
Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 5, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.469
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	45	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.
Philadelphia 6-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 8-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
Cland.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.
St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.556	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.
Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.
LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	31	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.
LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.
Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 6, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.
Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.
St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.
Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS.

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks
per chair;
The champion pug was walloping
his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stall-in'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest slam and knock the rummy
out!"
And soft the champion answers as the mutt he gently
pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies,
and this fight goes twenty rounds!"
Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons
fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed message,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked
out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweigut championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of our West, as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the finals.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 306 yards into the cup.

International League.
Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

Jake Abel is to retire from the boxing game. This information comes from Max Abelson, brother of the lightweight battler. Jake has been discouraged from his recent knockout at the hands of Charlie White. However, Abel should remember that many other boys have been handed the same dose by the hard-hitting Chicagoan.

* * *

New Orleans boxing fans are picking Yong Denny to defeat "Wildcat" Ferns when the pair clash at the Pelican City on Labor Day. Ferns and Denny met on July 4 in a ten-round mill with the former getting a slight shade. The coming scrap is billed to go twenty rounds.

Johnny Lore, the Eastern lightweight, is hot after a return go with Frankie Russell. The latter was given a knockout decision in twelve rounds over Lore about two weeks ago when Johnny fell out of the ring. The Eastern boy says he will give Russell a neat side bet if he will consent to meet him again and will cut the purse any way suitable to Russell.

* * *

Joe Levy is after a re-match with Champion Ritchie, but if such a proposition is not forthcoming he is willing to send the Mexican against the winner of the Baldwn-Cross fight.

* * *

Sammy Harris, manager of "Kid" Williams will be presented by McCarey with the diamond-studden belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship of the world. Harris says he will keep Williams on a farm until August, when he will start him on his training grind for the Campi bout.

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. We pay postage on mail orders.
Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL CAPSULES MIDY
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER
Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name MIDY
Beware of counterfeits

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at Home or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. M. WOOLLEY, 24-N, Vinson Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia

Pacific Northwest
offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.
Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.
Excellent Daily Trains
from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.
The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.
Union Pacific
STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST
Heavy double tracks — dustless roadbed — Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.
Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.
A. J. DUTCHER, G. A. 908 Olive Street St. Louis, Mo.
C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A. 620 Woodward Bldg. Birmingham, Ala.

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOOSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 26 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, 1b.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	3	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

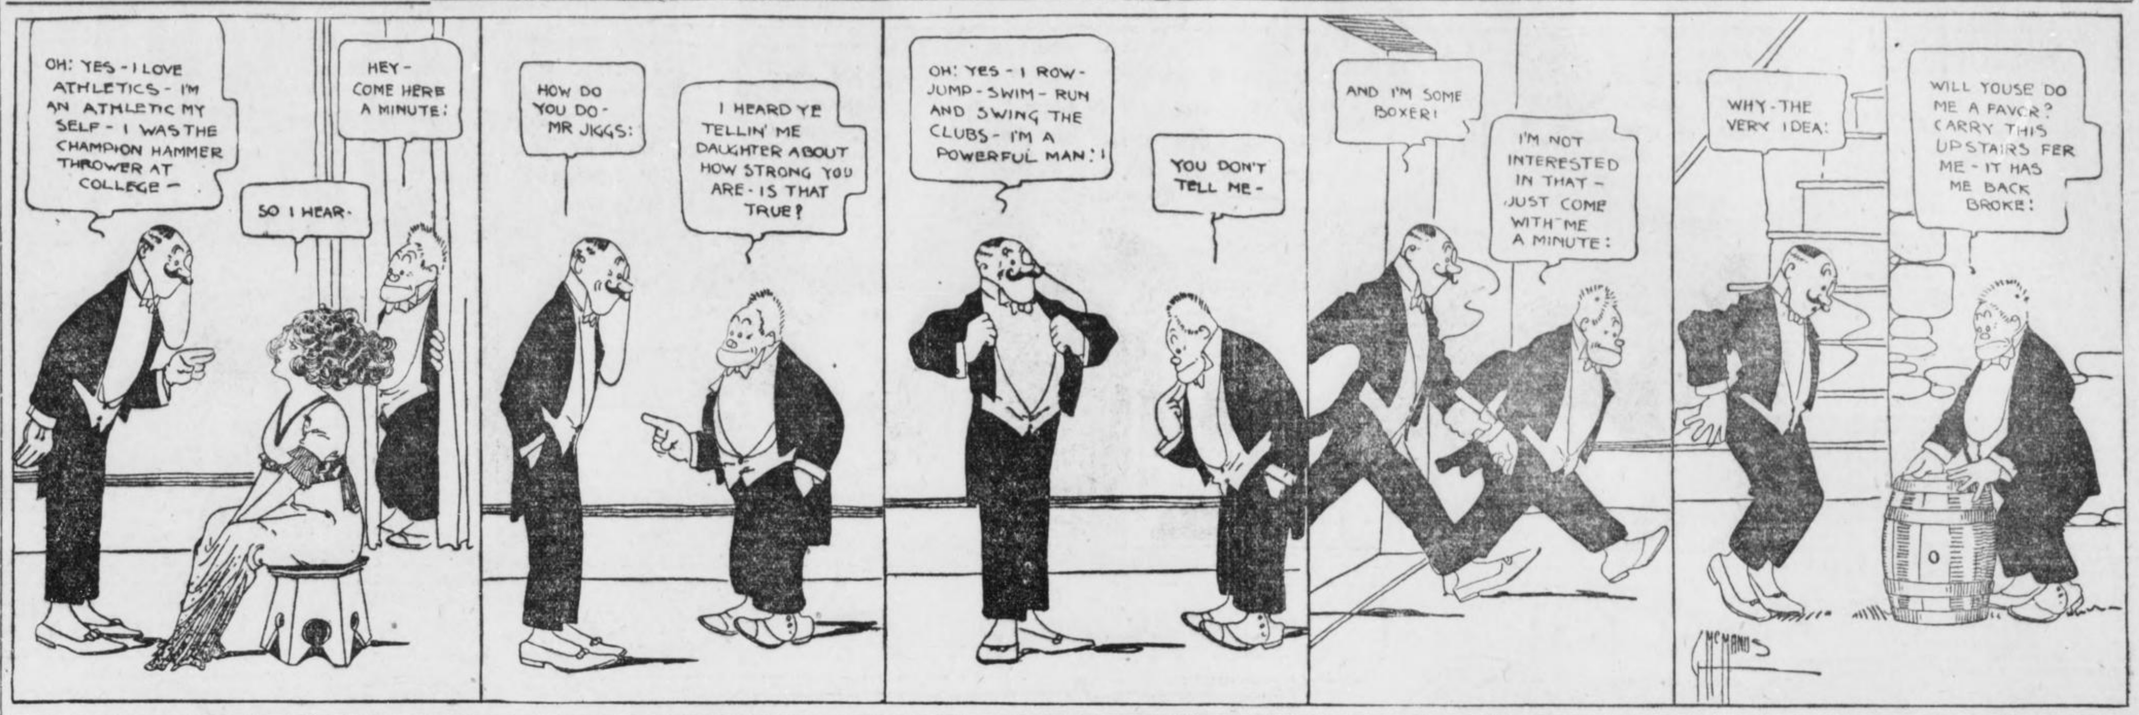
FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great
LES MISERABLES
Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus



Us Boys

Registered United States Patent Office

Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

FOOD FOR FANS

COOKED AND SERVED BY Skinny Shaner

THE GOSH DARN FOOLS, THEY THINKED I WAS GOING TO TRY AND BLOW UP THEIR JOINT WITH BREAD AND BUTTER AND SUGAR - HA, HA, HA. VAN IS GETTING MUCH BETTER - TO-DAY WE PLAY THE HINKIES - I GUESS I WILL PLAY, I DONNO THOUGH

SHANER'S GOOGLY DEPT

SHANER'S HINTS TO YOUNG MEN — NO 11 — DON'T BITE YOUR FINGER NAILS—

Answer to yesterdaye's WHAT KEY IN MUSIC WOULD MAKE A GOOD ARMY OFFICER? A SHARP MAJOR - DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THAT?

Here's one for to-day FROM RUTH MILLAR - U. S. A. WHAT GOES MOST AGAINST A FARMER'S GRAIN?

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Pueblo an.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—it musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs. Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet tonight at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Sperl and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover, of South Bostop, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders traveling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jock McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 38 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-fought-for honors untilnext year, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the rudest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

ITCHING PILES

Every sufferer from itching piles should read these words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was

Cured by Tetterine

For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure.

Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.

50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, get my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 740 M., New York, N. Y.

Big Reduction IN Dental Work

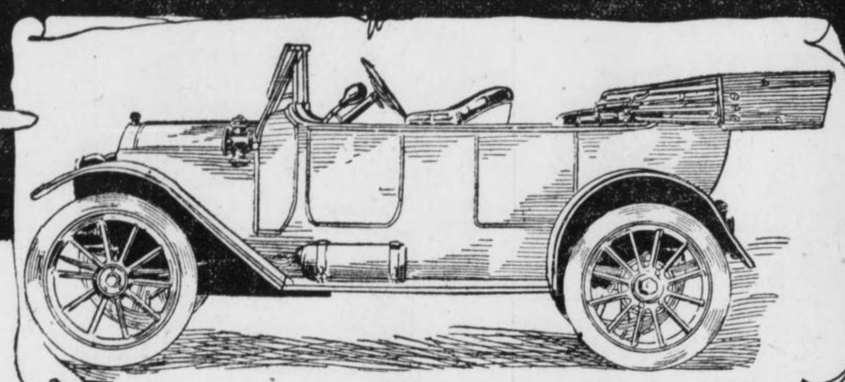
GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.

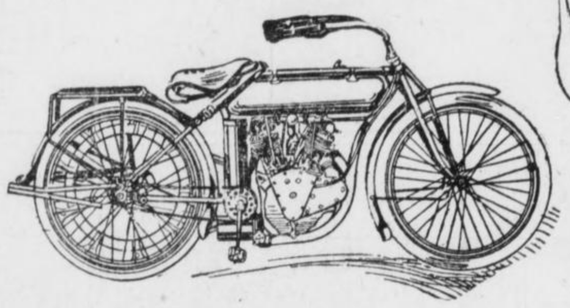
Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth Best That Money Can Buy $5.00

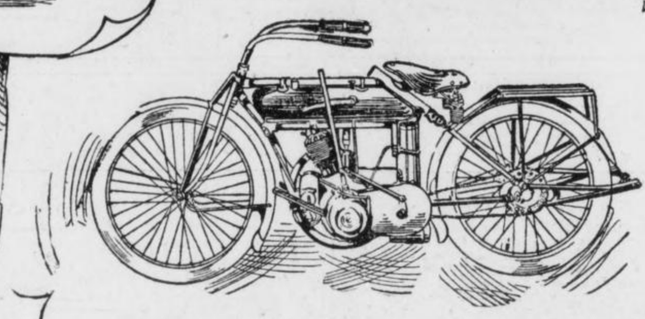
We Use the Best Methods of Painless Dentistry

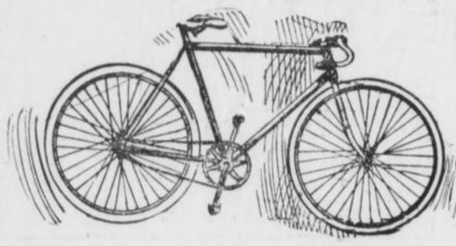
Atlanta Dental Parlors
Cor. Peachtree & Decatur Sts.
Entrance 29 1-2 Peachtree St.

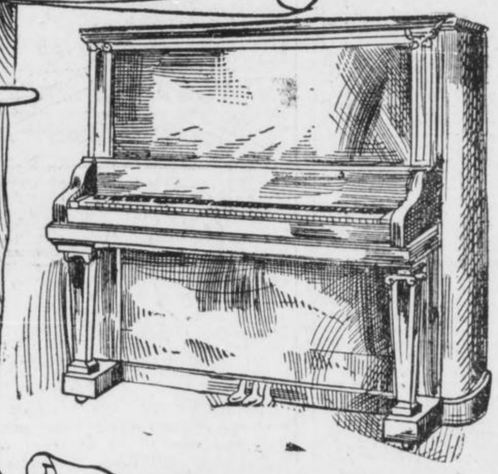
LOOK! AT THE FINE THINGS YOU CAN GET FREE!

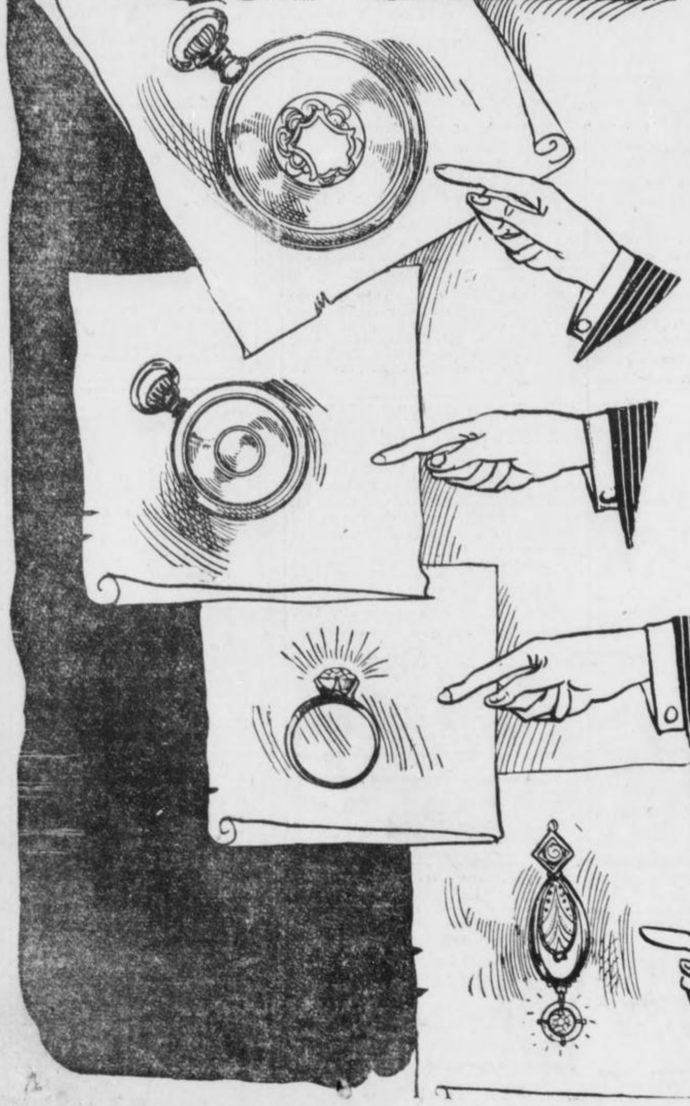


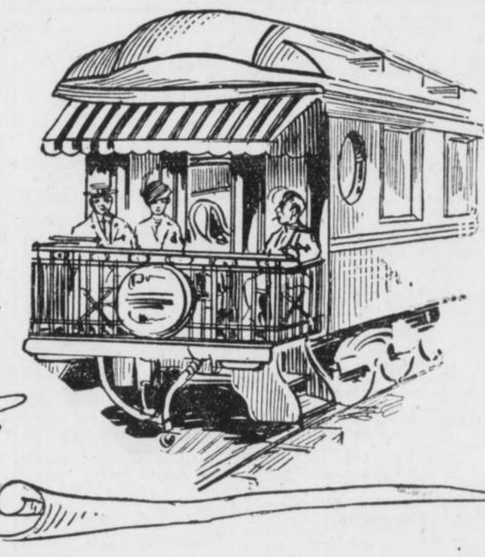












READY!

The Want Ad Contest Starts To-morrow

Contestants Will Begin Securing Want Ads in the Big Prize Contest

Rules: Ten contest votes will be given for every cent turned in to the want-ad man in payment for ads at the following rate:

One insertion 10 cents a line; two insertions 7 1-2 cents a line; three insertions 6 cents a line; 7 insertions 5 cents a line. Minimum 20 cents. Count six average length words to the line.

Receipts will be given for every cent turned in. Contestants will drop ballot blank in box at district headquarters or main office.

All Ready For Big Want Ad Contest

District Headquarters Open Thursday and Contestants Will Report There For Start

Well, we're off to-morrow. The Georgian's Want Ad Contest is all ready, the contestants are waiting for the word, and the want ads will commence coming in to-morrow. There is still time for you to enter, if you're over 14 years old and less than 90, but you'd better start Thursday and be even with the others.

Listen: The Want Ad Man has made arrangements with four of the best located and most progressive drug stores in Atlanta for space to be used as district headquarters, and contestants need not come all the way to the uptown office to begin work.

Come to the headquarters of the district in which you live, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. You may work anywhere in the city you like, but will be directed from the district where your home is. They are as follows:

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS

DISTRICT NO. 1—North of Marietta and West of Peachtree, Taylor Bros. Drug Store, 191 West Peachtree Street.

DISTRICT NO. 2—North of Decatur Street and east of Peachtree, including Kirkwood, Decatur and Eastern Suburbs; Ponce DeLeon Pharmacy corner Ponce DeLeon and North Boulevard.

DISTRICT NO. 3—South of Decatur Street and east of Whitehall, Paragon Pharmacy, Capitol Avenue and Georgia Avenue.

DISTRICT NO. 4—South of Marietta Street and west of Whitehall, including West End, College Park, East Point and Battle Hill; Medlock's Pharmacy, Gordon and Lee Streets.

Experienced District Managers will meet you, with blanks, instructions as to details, helpful hints for work and every aid to enable you to get business without trouble. If you have not already entered, have the nomination blank on another page of this issue filled out and present it to the District Manager.

Remember, the first prize is a splendid new model Automobile, and others range from a handsome piano, or a trip to California, down through motorcycles, bicycles, gold watches and diamonds. You can surely win something if you'll try and keep trying. And more than that, you'll learn to "sell the goods," the most valuable business training a young man or woman can possibly have.

Don't fail to see the District Managers at the headquarters to-morrow. Clip this out and remember the address of your headquarters.

NOW, GO IN AND WIN!

Nomination Coupon — 1,000 VOTES

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)

as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.

It isn't too late to enter. Fill out this Nomination blank and bring it with you Thursday ☛

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED

Optimistic Trade Boosters From Throughout Georgia Namee Executive Committee.

Voicing their belief that a new era of prosperity is dawning for Georgia, more than 75 representatives of trade and commercial bodies of various towns and counties in the State met at the headquarters of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning and took the first steps in an organization of a great State commercial organization, to be known as the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. C. J. Haden, chairman of the special committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which called the statewide meeting, presided.

The convention unanimously and enthusiastically adopted resolutions prepared by a committee on temporary organization, headed by C. G. Bradley, of Madison, that the new State organization be formed. The resolutions provided for the naming of an executive committee of seven, with C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, as chairman, to take charge of the active work of organization. This committee, which Mr. Haden announced he will appoint within two weeks, will name a vice president for each county in the State that is affiliated with the central organization, a secretary and treasurer, and will have charge of the work of securing a charter for the State chamber and the drafting of a constitution and by-laws.

Next Meet in Macon.

The next meeting of the State organization will be held in Macon, Ga., at the pleasure of the executive committee. This meeting probably will not be called until the committee has completed its work of securing a charter and drafting the constitution and by-laws. A president will be elected at the Macon meeting, which, it is hoped, will be attended by not less than 300 representatives of commercial bodies.

Considerable discussion developed in the selection of the next place of meeting, with Atlanta and Macon as the contending cities. The tide was turned in favor of Macon when Mayor Woodward of Atlanta, President Moore of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and other prominent Atlantans declared that the Central Georgia city should be given the preference over Atlanta.

Not an Atlanta Move.

"We must show the people of Georgia that this is not solely an Atlanta movement," declared Mayor Woodward, "and that we are willing to work for the good of the whole State as much as we are willing to work for Atlanta. This movement must be made State-wide to attain its proper measure of success, and it can not be made State-wide if the people become imbued with the idea that it is strictly an Atlanta affair. By all means the next meeting should be held in Macon, and if possible future meetings, at least until the Chamber of Commerce has become thoroughly established should be held in various cities throughout the State."

The question of where the meetings of the State organization shall be held will not be definitely decided until the Macon meeting. It is probable that the executive committee will submit, at that time, recommendations as to the regular meetings of the State body. Chairman Haden is of the opinion that the meetings, at least for a year or two, should not be held at any one place twice in succession.

Speeches Full of Optimism.

A number of optimistic addresses, expressing a firm belief in the future of Georgia and in the State Chamber of Commerce as a method of development, were delivered during the Wednesday morning session. Among the speakers were prominent business men from all over the State and several representatives of railroads that do business in Georgia, all of whom pledged their support and the support of their corporations to the new movement.

V. N. Richards, of Washington, of the Southern Railway, and J. A. Pride, of Norfolk, Va., representing the Seaboard Air Line, were among the railroad men who addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Dan G. Hughes, of Twiggs County; Philip G. Campbell, of Atlanta, founder of the "Corn Club" movement; Robert Maddox, of Atlanta; R. D. Cole, of Newnan; C. D. McKinney, of Decatur, and C. G. Bradley, of Morgan County.

At 1 o'clock the visiting delegates were entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City Club, as guests of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

MACON, July 23.—Macon labor union men instead of the customary street parade will have a basket picnic at Lakeside Park on Labor Day. Special trains will be operated to the park.

WHY, CHARLES ROBBINS!

THOMSON, CONN., July 23.—Nine days after he had been presented with a baby carriage as a premium for getting married, Charles S. Robbins, 60, sued for a divorce.

O. M. TIFT DIES AT TIFTON.

TIFTON.—Orville M. Tift died Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eliza C. Tift, postmaster at Tifton. He was a son of the late W. O. Tift, of Tifton. The funeral was held in Tifton this afternoon.

2,000 Teamsters on Strike in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 23.—Two thousand teamsters went on strike today as the result of the order of the union yesterday, following the break between the men and the members of the employers' association.

The only teamsters not affected are the bakery and ice wagon drivers, whose grievances were recently adjusted.

PRESSMAN BANKRUPT.

Roger Lawson Speer, a pressman, Wednesday in the United States District Court filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $509.45 with assets of $100.

House Still Toils With Funds Bill

The House gave three hours to the consideration of the general appropriations bill Wednesday and managed to get through nine pages. Only one change was made in the report of the committee. This was the adoption of an amendment by John Y. Smith, of Atlanta, increasing the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

At 10 o'clock the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole and took up the appropriations bill, with Speaker Pro Tem McMichael in the chair. An obstacle was met in the adoption of Section 1 and Section 1-A, which provides for the salaries of Statehouse officers, in amendments offered by Representative Ed Wohlwender. The Representative from Muscogee wanted to know whether any of the Statehouse officers were receiving fees, and it took an hour's discussion for the other members to convince him that everyone was on the salary basis. He offered two amendments, but withdrew both.

In the appropriations bill no objection was made to amounts set aside for the colleges of Georgia, as published in The Georgian several days ago.

When the House takes up the bill Thursday it will begin with the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the public schools of the State. This is the exact amount as paid out to country school teachers this year, which is more than $100,000 under the actual expense incurred and the amount appropriated by the last Legislature.

Anthony N. Brady Dead in London

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady, New York financier, died last night in his rooms at the Hotel Charlton of heart disease.

Mr. Brady, whose fortune is estimated at $100,000,000, arrived in London from New York two weeks ago. It is believed grief over the death of his daughter in a wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Westport, Conn., last October, hastened his end.

Louis Sherry, the New York restaurant man, who was with Mr. Brady, has arranged to ship the body back to America to-morrow on the liner Olympic.

Won Vast Fortune in Business in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady was 70 years old. He was born in France of Irish parents. Early in his boyhood he came to America and worked as bartender in Albany.

A short time later he decided to go into business. With his sayings he started a tea and coffee store. He soon controlled the tea and coffee industry in Albany and Troy, N. Y., and branched out through the State.

Then he went into Wall Street and became known as one of the most daring speculators in the street. He was a director or an officer in more than 60 corporations.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfeld, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Governtment Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1913 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

2,000 ATTEND REVIVAL.

DALTON.—A crowd of 2,000 persons attended a revival meeting conducted by Rev. E. B. Farrar in North Dalton Tuesday night. The services are being held in a tent.

FARMERS MEET AT DALTON.

DALTON.—About 200 farmers attended the farm school at the courthouse Tuesday, the attendance being larger than at any previous meeting. Organization of the Whitfield County Farmers' Institute was perfected by the election of D. Puryear, president, and C. L. Foster, secretary.

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under strict surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha',
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha'," hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pretty. "Denty leddies," dainty ladies.

COTTON GOSSIP

The market has been very weak all day on predictions of unsettled weather with showers over the western belt. The selling for a while was general with no special support. The weakness of the July position in New Orleans has also caused selling here. Some of those who have been identified with the bull side for the past two weeks were among the sellers, though they are buying now on the decline and express the belief that the market should be bought on soft spots regardless of weather conditions, especially with the spot situation so acute. Though you hear a great many bearish expressions to the effect that we have seen the high level for some time to come.—J. M. Anderson.

* * *

Warehouse stocks in New York to-day 31,821; certificated 23,341 bales.

* * *

Riordan sold 4,000 bales of January at 11.25.

* * *

Bishop, Texas, says: "More cotton pickers in demand and Mexican rebels and federals coming for the purpose. Cotton opening fast on 700-acre farm, promising bale to the acre."

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas generally clear. Oklahoma—North portion cloudy; balance clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows very favorable conditions; cloudy over entire eastern half of the belt and Oklahoma. Fair in rest of the belt. Splendid rains in the Eastern States and Alabama, nice showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.29; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market all session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to the ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be retendered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now coming up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There will be thundershowers to-night or Thursday in the Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Ohio Valley and showers to-night in the lower Lake region, followed by generally fair weather Thursday. In the upper Lake region the weather will be generally fair. It will be somewhat cooler in the Lake region.

General Forecast.

General forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Georgia—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Virginia—Showers to-night or Thursday.

North and South Carolina—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Alabama and Mississippi—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Louisiana—Fair except showers in the southwest and east portions to-night or Thursday.

East Texas—Fair in interior; showers on coast to-night or Thursday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and Thursday.

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, nominal; middling 12⅜.
Athens, steady; middling 11⅞.
Macon, steady; middling 12½.
New Orleans, quiet; middling 12 7-16.
New York, quiet; middling 12.40.
Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.65.
Boston, quiet; middling 12.40.
Liverpool, quiet; middling 6.69d.
Savannah, firm; middling 12c.
Augusta, steady; middling 12⅜.
Norfolk, steady; middling 12½.
Charleston, steady; middling 12 5-16.
Charleston, nominal.
Mobile, steady; middling 12c.
Wilmington, quiet; middling 12c.
Little Rock, steady; middling 12c.
Baltimore, nominal; middling 12½.
Memphis, quiet; middling 12⅜.
Memphis, steady; middling 12⅜.
St. Louis, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Houston, quiet; middling 12 3-16.
Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.
Charlotte, steady; middling 12c.
Greenville, steady; middling 12c.

MILLER-COTTER COTTON LETTER.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Influence of excellent rains in Atlantic States was felt in the market. With showers predicted for Texas the outlook is quite encouraging to crop. Sentiment is more bearish, and selling would probably be free if rains come over the Southwest. Otherwise, the market may wait on further developments without material decline.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞; Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27⅛d, up 1 1-16d.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 23.—October was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day, selling up 12 points. Later months were in demand from speculators. Crude mills are very firm in their views, and are offering very sparingly at about half a cent above the market.

Refiners continue moderate buyers of old crop oil, this demand forcing the price up. On the advance there were moderate realizing sales, which caused a setback in October and November of 4 to 5 points.

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot	.....	6.40
July	9.25@9.40	9.34@9.50
August	9.32@9.36	9.44@9.46
September	9.40@9.43	9.43@9.50
October	8.26@8.28	8.34@8.36
November	6.91@6.94	6.99@7.00
December	6.73@6.74	6.76
January	6.72@6.75	6.76
February	6.70@6.78	6.71@6.73

Closed strong; sales 14,800 barrels.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Money on call 2½. Time money unchanged; 60 days, 3⅜@4; 90 days(4½; six months, 6 per cent.

Posted rates, sterling exchange, 4.84@4.87½ with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8675@4.8680 for demand and 4.8320 for 60-day bills.

Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The tone showed a slight improvement at the metal market to-day. Copper: Spot, 13⅜; July, 13⅜@14⅛; August, 13⅜@14⅛; September, 13⅜@14⅛. Tin, 42½; lead, 4.20@4.40; spelter, 5.85@5.90.

COTTON DROPS ON WEATHER OUTLOOK

Bull Clique Liquidates When Longs Curtail Holdings—Buying Light—No Support.

NEW YORK, July 23.—With cables at a point or so better than had been expected and no rain in either Texas or Oklahoma, the cotton market opened quiet and steady to-day, with prices showing irregularity, being 2 off to 3 points higher than the closing quotations of Tuesday. Barometric conditions as shown on the map did not indicate any rain in prospect for the Western belt, resulting in most active positions increasing their gains 2 to 4 points from the initial level.

Cotton bulls received another jolt after the call when another drop of 30 points in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the market. July New Orleans dropped from 12.00 to 11.70, while August followed with a loss of 26 points. This, together with the late map showing unsettled weather condition in the Western belt, was about the only interesting feature. With the exception of scattered showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.29; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market all session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to the ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be retendered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now coming up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There will be thundershowers to-night or Thursday in the Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Ohio Valley and showers to-night in the lower Lake region, followed by generally fair weather Thursday. In the upper Lake region the weather will be generally fair. It will be somewhat cooler in the Lake region.

General Forecast.

General forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Georgia—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Virginia—Showers to-night or Thursday.

North and South Carolina—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Alabama and Mississippi—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Louisiana—Fair except showers in the southwest and east portions to-night or Thursday.

East Texas—Fair in interior; showers on coast to-night or Thursday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and Thursday.

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, nominal; middling 12⅜.
Athens, steady; middling 11⅞.
Macon, steady; middling 12½.
New Orleans, quiet; middling 12 7-16.
New York, quiet; middling 12.40.
Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.65.
Boston, quiet; middling 12.40.
Liverpool, quiet; middling 6.69d.
Savannah, firm; middling 12c.
Augusta, steady; middling 12⅜.
Norfolk, steady; middling 12½.
Charleston, steady; middling 12 5-16.
Charleston, nominal.
Mobile, steady; middling 12c.
Wilmington, quiet; middling 12c.
Little Rock, steady; middling 12c.
Baltimore, nominal; middling 12½.
Memphis, quiet; middling 12⅜.
Memphis, steady; middling 12⅜.
St. Louis, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Houston, quiet; middling 12 3-16.
Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.
Charlotte, steady; middling 12c.
Greenville, steady; middling 12c.

MILLER-COTTER COTTON LETTER.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Influence of excellent rains in Atlantic States was felt in the market. With showers predicted for Texas the outlook is quite encouraging to crop. Sentiment is more bearish, and selling would probably be free if rains come over the Southwest. Otherwise, the market may wait on further developments without material decline.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞; Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27⅛d, up 1 1-16d.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 23.—October was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day, selling up 12 points. Later months were in demand from speculators. Crude mills are very firm in their views, and are offering very sparingly at about half a cent above the market.

Refiners continue moderate buyers of old crop oil, this demand forcing the price up. On the advance there were moderate realizing sales, which caused a setback in October and November of 4 to 5 points.

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot	.....	6.40
July	9.25@9.40	9.34@9.50
August	9.32@9.36	9.44@9.46
September	9.40@9.43	9.43@9.50
October	8.26@8.28	8.34@8.36
November	6.91@6.94	6.99@7.00
December	6.73@6.74	6.76
January	6.72@6.75	6.76
February	6.70@6.78	6.71@6.73

Closed strong; sales 14,800 barrels.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Money on call 2½. Time money unchanged; 60 days, 3⅜@4; 90 days(4½; six months, 6 per cent.

Posted rates, sterling exchange, 4.84@4.87½ with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8675@4.8680 for demand and 4.8320 for 60-day bills.

Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The tone showed a slight improvement at the metal market to-day. Copper: Spot, 13⅜; July, 13⅜@14⅛; August, 13⅜@14⅛; September, 13⅜@14⅛. Tin, 42½; lead, 4.20@4.40; spelter, 5.85@5.90.

COPPER STOCKS HEAVILY BOUGHT

Big Issues Readily Absorbed by Strong Sources Who Disregard Temporary Fluctuations.

By CHARLES W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lower prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market to-day, with the exception of the copper shares which ruled strong.

Canadian Pacific showed a loss of a point in response to a similar decline in the London market. Other industrial issues yielded fractionally, but the recessions were not accompanied by any indications of weakness, and as the leader the one developed after the first few minutes of trading.

United States Government 2s showed a further decline this morning, 10,000 of the bonds selling at 96⅝, a decrease of ⅜.

The London market was dull.

Trading on the curb was steady.

The tone continued dull through the forenoon and all around fractional losses were recorded. Canadian Pacific dropped ¼, a net loss of 1¼. Steel, New York, New Haven and Hartford and Union Pacific declined ½. Petroleum was the most prominent in the declines, losing 1¼ since the opening. Changes in other issues were in the form of fractional declines.

Call money loaning at 2¼.

The market closed strong. Governmetn bonds strong; other bonds firm.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCKS.	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.
Amal. Cop.	69½	68¾	69¼	68⅜
Am. Agri.	....	....	....	....
A. B. Sugar.	24⅝	24½	24	24½
Am. Can	32¾	31⅜	32	32⅜
do. pfd.	93½	92½	92⅝	92⅜
Am. C. Fdy.	44⅝	43¾	43⅜	43⅝
A. Cot. Oil	38	38	37	37½
Am. Ice	22	22	20	....
Am. Loco.	....	....	30	30
Am. Smelt.	62¾	62	62⅜	62½
Am. Sugar	111⅜	111⅜	110	111½
A. T. and T.	128¼	128¼	128	127⅜
Am. Wool	....	....	16½	16½
Anaconda	34½	34⅛	34½	34¼
Atchison	98	97½	97½	98
A. C. L.	....	....	117	117
B. and O.	98	98	98	97⅜
Beth. Steel	33¼	32½	33⅛	32¾
B. R. T.	87⅜	87¼	87½	87⅜
Can. Pacific	218½	217¼	217½	219¼
Cen. Leath.	23	22⅝	23⅜	23¼
C. and O.	54	53¼	53⅜	54
C. F. and I.	30⅜	30⅜	29½	30⅝
Col. Sou.	....	....	30¼	30½
Con. Gas	....	....	130¾	130½
Corn Prod.	10¼	9⅞	....	10¼
D. and H.	....	....	....	153
D. and R. G.	18⅜	18⅜	17½	18½
Dis. Secu.	....	....	....	....
Erie	26⅜	26¼	26¼	26⅜
do. pfd.	40⅜	40	40¼	40¼
Gen. Elec.	140¼	139¾	139½	140
G. N. pfd.	124¼	123⅞	124	124⅛
G. N. O.	33½	33½	38½	33½
Gt. West.	14	14	13	14¼
Ill. Cen.	113½	113½	113¼	112⅝
Interboro.	15⅜	15½	15½	15⅜
do. pfd.	59	58¼	58½	59
Int. Har. (old)	....	....	106¼	106
Iowa Cen.	....	....	7	7
K. C. S.	27⅛	27⅛	27½	27¼
M., K. and T.	22⅜	21⅜	22⅝	21⅜
do. pfd.	....	....	59	58
L. Valley.	149	148¼	148¼	149½
L. and N.	133	132⅜	132¼	132⅞
Mo. Pacific.	31⅝	31½	31½	31½
N. Y. Central	98¼	98	97⅞	98
Northwest.	128½	128½	128½	128½
Nat. Lead.	....	....	41½	....
N. and W.	104⅞	104⅞	104½	105
No. Pacific.	108⅞	108⅜	108⅛	108⅛
O. and W.	29¼	29	28⅜	29
Penna.	113⅞	113⅜	113⅜	113⅜
Pacific Mail	....	....	19	19½
P. Gas Co.	112⅜	112¾	112	....
P. Steel Car.	....	....	24½	24½
Reading.	160⅜	159⅞	160⅛	160⅝
R. I. and Steel	24⅜	24	24	23⅞
do. pfd.	86¼	85	85	86⅛
Rock Island.	16½	16¼	16⅛	16⅝
do. pfd.	....	....	27	27
S.-Sheffield.	....	....	25	25
So. Pacific.	92⅜	92¼	92⅛	96⅝
So. Railway	22⅞	22½	22⅝	22⅜
do. pfd.	....	....	77¼	77
St. Paul.	104⅜	104½	104⅜	104⅜
Tenn. Copper.	29⅞	29¼	29½	29⅜
Texas Pacific.	14⅜	14⅜	14⅜	14½
Union Pacific.	148⅛	147¼	147½	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60	59	58⅜	....
U. S. Steel.	56⅞	56⅝	56½	56⅞
do. pfd.	106⅝	106⅜	106¼	106½
Utah Copper	45¼	45⅛	45½	44⅝
V.-C. Chem.	25½	25½	24½	25½
Wabash.	....	....	2½	2½
do. pfd.	6⅞	6⅞	6¾	6¾
W. Union	....	....	63¼	62½
W. Maryland	....	....	....	40½
W. Electric	62	61½	61½	62¼
W. Central.	....	....	43	43

Total sales, 192,000 shares.

STOCK GOSSIP

While the market has a reactionary tendency, do not look for any decline of consequence. There seems to be a steady accumulation of the better class of stocks on all recessions by the large interests, who buy for a long pull and disregard temporary fluctuations. Prices of dividend-paying issues are low, and if present crop prospects materialize at harvest time, we look for a continuation of large earnings for railroads, and a higher range of values before the end of the year.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The news from the Balkans is not inspiring. Foreign traders are disposed to take profit.

* * *

Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Texas, submits a rival currency bill to President Wilson.

* * *

The New Haven may select a new president to-day or Thursday.

* * *

The express rate decision may be rendered to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads may be denied advance, but may be ordered to discontinue high allowance paid to industrial owners of switching railroads, thereby saving $42,000,000 a year, says The American.

* * *

Information channels favor profit-taking.

* * *

The Erie Railroad agreed to join other roads in accepting any arbitration award, but will ask men to defer effective date until January 1, 1915.

* * *

It is reported that the United Cigar Company will open a London branch.

* * *

New Haven Railroad earned between 5 and 5½ per cent in 1913 and paid 7½ per cent dividends.

* * *

Weld & Co. are offering $1,370,000 Baltimore and Ohio mortgage 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds at 89 and interest to yield about 4⅝ per cent.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans.	1,147	601
Galveston.	995	262
Mobile.	2	52
Savannah.	135	127
Charleston.	51	.....
Norfolk.	764	238
New York.	.....	102
Boston.	.....	8
Pacific coast.	231	.....
Total.	3,327	1,390

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston.	750	128
Augusta.	78	155
Memphis.	418	761
St. Louis.	398	79
Cincinnati.	155	1,084
Total.	1,799	2,207

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

A. Norden & Co.: We favor buying on breaks such as we had yesterday.

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We continue to favor purchases on such dips as we had yesterday.

Miller & Co.: We anticipate further recession, but believe in buying into the market when these come along.

RANGE IN NEW YORK FUTURES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close	Prev. Close.
Jly	12.16	12.16	12.03	12.04	12.04-05	12.15-16
Ag	12.00	12.02	11.88	11.89	11.89-90	12.01-02
Spt	11.68	11.68	11.58	11.59	11.57-59	11.67-69
Oc	11.45	11.48	11.36	11.36	11.36-37	11.45-46
Nv	....	....	....	11.33	11.28-30	11.38-40
Dc	11.37	11.41	11.29	11.34	11.29-30	11.39-40
Jn	11.34	11.36	11.23	11.24	11.24-25	11.33-34
Fb	....	....	....	....	11.25-26	11.34-36
Mh	11.43	11.43	11.31	11.31	11.31-32	11.41-42
My	11.46	11.46	11.38	11.38	11.33-35	11.43-45

Closed steady

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—This market was due 2½ points lower on near positions and 4 to 4½ points lower on distant months, but opened quiet at a net decline of 2 to 3 points; at 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet, at a net decline of 3 to 4 points.

Fair business doing in spot cotton at 3 points decline; middling 6.69d; sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American bales; imports 1,000 bales, of which none were American.

At the close the market was steady with prices at a net decline of 4½ to 5 points from the final quotations of Tuesday.

Futures opened easier.

	Opening Range.	2 P.M.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	.6.45	6.43½	6.42½	6.47
July-Aug.	.6.44½	6.43½	6.42	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	.6.36½	6.36	6.34½	6.39½
Sept.-Oct.	.6.22	6.21½	6.20	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	.6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Oct.-Nov.	.6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Dec.-Jan.	.6.15½	.....	6.11	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	.6.13	6.12½	6.11	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	.6.14	.....	6.12½	6.17
Mch.-Apr.	.6.15½	6.15½	6.13½	6.18

To Gain Your Goal With The Greatest Speed,

A Home In "Dixie"

In city, town or country can be found just the place you are looking for if you will read the Real Estate and "Want Ad" section of this newspaper. These ads are the guide posts to wealth and happiness.

Want Anything?

TELEPHONE

Main / Atlanta 100

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion .....10c a line
3 insertion ..... 6c a line
7 insertions ..... 5c a line
26 insertions ....4½c a line
50 insertions .... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

TELEPHONE

Both Phones 100

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH."

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed.

No.	Arrive From—		No.	Depart To—
26	Birmingh'm	12:01 am	26	New York	12:15 am
36	New York	2:00 am	20	Columbus	5:20 am
18	Jacksonville	5:30 am	15	Cincinnati	5:40 am
42	Washington	8:25 am	32	Fort Valley	5:30 am
12	Shreveport	6:30 am	25	Birmingh'm	5:35 am
16	Heflin	8:20 am	7	Chatt'ga	6:40 am
28	New York	11:15 am	12	Richmond	6:55 am
8	Chatt'ga	10:25 am	23	Kansas City	7:00 am
7	Macon	10:40 am	16	Brunswick	7:45 am
17	Fort Valley	10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm	11:30 a
21	Columbus	10:50 am	38	New York	11:01 am
5	Cincinnati	11:10 am	40	Charlotte	12:00 n
29	Columbus	1:40 pm	6	Macon	12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm	2:30 pm	20	Columbus	12:38 pm
40	Birmingh'm	12:40 pm	39	New York	7:45 pm
39	Charlotte	3:55 pm	15	Chatt'ga	3:00 pm
5	Macon	4:00 pm	39	Birmingh'm	4:10 pm
37	New York	5:00 pm	18	Toccoa	4:20 pm
18	Brunswick	5:10 pm	23	Columbus	5:10 pm
11	Richmond	8:50 pm	5	Cincinnati	5:10 pm
24	Kansas City	9:30 pm	23	Fort Valley	5:20 pm
19	Columbus	10:20 pm	26	Heflin	5:45 pm
31	Fort Valley	10:25 pm	10	Macon	5:30 pm
14	Cincinnati	11:00 pm	44	Washington	8:45 pm
22	Jacksonville	9:20 pm	24	Jacksonville	9:20 pm
17	Toccoa	8:10 am	14	Jacksonville	11:10 pm

All trains run daily. Central time.

City Ticket Office No. 1 Peachtree St.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—I am a candidate for alderman from the Eighth Ward subject to the approaching city primary. Jno. S. Owens. 7-5-1

FUNERAL NOTICES.

THORNTON—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Austell Thornton and Mrs. Leila A. Thornton are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Austell Thornton to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the residence, 611 Peachtree street. Interment at Oakland; private. Pall-bearers selected will meet at Barclay & Brandon Co.; 246 Ivy street, at 3:30 o'clock. 7-23-24

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Tuesday afternoon oblong barrette set with pearl at each end. Reward if returned to 524 Spring street. 7-23-13

LOST—In shopping district, Whitehall Street Monday afternoon, ladies' black silk umbrella, gold and pearl handle, monogram "I. M. M." Reward for return. Mrs. Harrison, 202 Pulliam St. Phone Main 4722-J. 36-23-7

LOST—One bay mare mule, blind in right eye. Finder call Atlanta phone 5640-M. 43-23-7

LOST—Pair of eyeglasses, black cord attached, on Friday 18th. Reward if returned to No. 10 Williams street. 7-23-3

STRAYED from 457 N. Jackson St., a brown muley head cow. Reward for her return to above address. Cal Ivy 116 or Ivy 1848. 7-22-15

LOST—On Ferry, Fair, King or Hill street one bundle of collector's cards. Return to J. K. Polk, 288 Decatur street. 7-22-21

LOST—Saturday, between National Paper Company and Marietta St., or on Cooper St. to Hendrix street car, between Simpson and Broad, gold chain with Knights of Columbus charm. Call Main 1163 or Ivy 3182-J. 7-20-93

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

LOST AND FOUND.

W. M. COX cleans all kinds of carpets, rugs a specialty. Ivy 3135-J, Atlanta 1818. 145 Auburn Ave. 7-20-81

LOST—Thursday, between Atlanta and Marietta, Goodyear tire in case. Phone Ivy 2090. Reward. 7-20-7

LOST—Large white English bulldog. Answers name of Jack. Reward for return. Phone Ivy 5720. 961 Empire Life Bldg. 7-19-13

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-14

THE LADY who removed silverware from rest room Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405 Third National Bank Bldg. Phone Ivy 851. 7-19-28

LOST—In ladies' room Terminal Station, silver mesh purse, engraved "Ruth Roberts." Liberal reward for return or information leading to recovery. Phone Ivy 5719. 961 Empire Life Bldg. 31-19-7

PERSONAL.

SUITS PRESSED ONLY 35 CENTS. PHONE MAIN 1177 AND A MESSENGER WILL CALL. THE WRIGHT SHOP. FORMERLY IDEAL TAILOR SHOP. 15 FAIRLIE STREET. 6-30-33

HAT SALE—Trimmed hats, $1.50 to $5.00; outing hats, 75c; imported horsehair hats, $4.98; black hats, malline and lace trimmed. Remodeling hats specialty, $1.50. Panamas cleaned. Mrs. C. H. Smith, 115 Peachtree, next to Candler Bldg. 25-22-7

LADIES—Ask your druggist for Chichester Pills, the Diamond brand; for twenty years known as best, safest, always reliable; buy of your druggist. Take no other. Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. 5-20-1

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, home-like. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-67

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-14

FACES READ by physiognomy. What are your best assets? Don't neglect finding this out in courtship or business. Written readings, only $2. The Helper, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. 5-3-6

PANAMA EXPOSITION TOUR—Quick action will save money and secure accommodations impossible later on. Contracting manager here now from San Francisco. Address Dept. C. P. O. Box 1023, Atlanta, Ga. 30-19-7

OWEN J. ALFORD—Please call General Delivery, Atlanta, for important letter. Good news. 7-20-4

EDUCATIONAL.

WANTED—Pupils in Atlanta who want private teaching during the regular school months; grade, high school or college entrance work; rates reasonable; good testimonials. If interested, write for a personal interview. 531 W. Taylor, Griffin, Ga. 7-20-15

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—First-class, experienced cabinet man for making casket shells. Atlanta Casket Company. 7-23-18

WANTED—Reliable colored driver with references. Address P. O. Box 84, city. 40-23-7

WANTED—A colored presser. Herman Solloway, 273 Whitehall street. 7-23-15

HAVE good opening for man with character, ability and $600 for half interest in business just organized with fine prospects. Address Manufacturer, Box 39, care Georgian. 31-23-7

WANTED — Solicitor for high-grade business. Can make $5 daily. Call at 70½ Peachtree street. Office 4-6. 7-23-5

GOVERNMENT POSITIONS are easy to get. My free booklet Y-412 tells how. Write to-day—NOW. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 7-2-1

WANTED—Young man who has had experience cutting fabrics. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 40-22-7

WANTED—Job press feeders. Empire Printing and Box Co., 553 Whitehall St. 7-22-1

WANTED—Two tile layers to lay tile walk at once. Call at 1021 Empire Bldg. 36-21-7

WANTED—Reliable, sober man for night watchman; give references. Address Watchman, care Georgian. 28-21-7

FOR Colored Southern Automobile School, day and night classes. Corner Magnolia and Hulsey streets. 98-20-7

PULLMAN porters wanted; give references. For information write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-31

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 E. Mitchell St.

WANTED—Railway mail clerks, $75.00 to $150 month. Details free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49 F, Rochester, N. Y. 25-18-7

FIFTY fast messengers with or without wheels, $8 to $12 week. Miller's Minute Messenger Service, rear City Hall. We sell wheels on weekly payments. 7-2-29

YES, shave 10c, hair cut 15c, massage 15c, at 41 Marietta Street, 4 E. Mitchell, 115 Edgewood Avenue, 99 Whitehall, 52 Ivy. Best white workmen. Clean linen. Baths 15c. 6-21-6

HILBURN HOTEL.

10 AND 12 WALTON ST., FOR gentlemen only; center of city, near new postoffice; rate 50c, 75c and $1.00. 6-21-10

WANTED—Men at once to learn the barber trade. A hundred jobs waiting. Few weeks completes. Better wages than you can earn without trade. Tools given. Wages while learning. Drop a card for particulars or call. Moler Barber College, 28 Luckie street. 26-19-7

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY—Able-bodied, unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 1927½ Second Avenue, Birmingham, Ala; 411 Cherry Street, Macon; Leonard Bldg., Augusta, or Broad and Marietta, Atlanta, Ga. 7-1-21

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

A FIRST-CLASS lady stenographer; must be accurate and rapid. Address Downtown, Box 30, care Georgian. 32-23-7

WANTED—First-class cook. 15 Brown Place. Phone Main 2690-L. 7-23-12

WANTED—Experienced white chambermaid at Hotel Ansley. Apply to Mrs. Scott, Housekeeper. 7-23-9

FIRST-CLASS COOK; room on lot; require reference. Apply at 1133 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 308. 41-23-7

WANTED—Girl for office work. 18 Trinity avenue. 7-23-6

WANTED—Woman to whipstitch books; must be experienced. Piedmont Printing Co., 127 Central avenue. 7-23-3

WANTED—Ladies with experience to trim straw and felt hats. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 39-22-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

SALESLADIES WANTED—A large cloak and suit house is desirous of connecting with them 5 additional salesladies. Must have experience from the large ready-to-wear stores. Permanent position and good salary to those who can qualify. Correspondence confidential. Address Suits and Cloaks, P. O. Box 988, Atlanta, Ga. 7-23-23

WANTED—White women to press men's underwear. Steady work and good pay. Apply Peter Hill Company, top floor Commerce Hall Bldg., Pryor and Edgewood. 7-22-7

WANTED—Woman to do cooking and general housework. Call Main 5424-L. 7-21-7

WANTED—At once several rapid, experienced typists; neat appearing; no others need apply. Miss Murphy. 179 Edgewood avenue. 7-21-12

WANTED—A good cook; references. 106 Lawton St. 7-20-31

WANTED—A good woman who understands work for a general helper for orphanage. Telephone West 1053. 7-20-20

WANTED—Girls to work in icing room. Frank E. Block Co. 7-19-26

WANTED—Good cook; family of two; North Side; good wages. Phone Ivy 876. 7-19-30

WANTED—A good settled woman to cook and do general housework; must understand cooking and sleep in house; references required Apply 20 Fort McPherson. 7-18-6

WANTED—Governess, experienced in Atlanta public school work, for out of town; give experience and reference. Box 197, Austell, Ga. 33-19-7

WANTED—Young lady for office, with some knowledge of bookkeeping; rapid in writing, with good hand; steady employment. Address Box 610, care Georgian. 7-19-7

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pays $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 190½ Whitehall St. We make over and retrim hats free. 2-29-41

WANTED—Young lady stenographer; position till April 1; experience not necessary, if applicant can spell good; do not care for reference, only as to honesty. Address Box 209, Royston, Ga. 7-18-15

WANTED—Young women and girls desiring attractive positions. Welfare of operators and clerks closely supervised by the company; their conduct on the premises carefully guarded by matron, woman supervisors and chief operator, who have complete control over the retiring and operating rooms. Short training course for those inexperienced; salary paid while learning. Salary increased upon being transferred to operating force, and for those becoming efficient, increased as they become worthy, with opportunities for ultimate advancement to $75 per month. References proving the standing of the applicant essential. Those having educational advantages preferred. Lunch room and comfortable retiring rooms provided with several hundred Carnegie Library books for the convenience of the operators. Matron and trained nurse in attendance. Apply 8:30 to 5, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Training School, 25 Auburn Avenue. 6-15-16

WANTED—An experienced saleswoman one that understands the cloak and suit business thoroughly and competent to take complete charge thereof. Applicants will be treated strictly confidential Write Box 607, care Herald, Albany, Ga.

HELP WANTED—MALE AND FEMALE.

WANTED—Experienced pantry men or women (white.) Apply at Steward's office, Hotel Ansley. 7-21-18

AGENTS—Make money fast. We have articles that sell. Call 47 Evans, West End. 7-19-12

WANTED, Cotton Mill Help ALL KINDS. High Wages. Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills, Atlanta, Ga. 6-17-7

TEACHERS WANTED.

South Atlantic Teachers' Agency 1125 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. SPECIAL registration. Direct calls coming fast. 6-26-28

AGENTS & SALESMEN WANTED.

WANTED—Three or four high grade salesmen to sell finished lots. Five minutes north of Five Points. I pay 40 cash for the sale of each lot. Reeves & Moran, 702 Empire Bldg. 7-22-8

TRAVELING SALESMEN. WE REQUIRE AT ONCE THE SERVICES OF THREE GOOD, LIVE, ACTIVE, HIGH-GRADE TRAVELING SALESMEN TO TRAVEL SOUTHERN STATES. APPLICANTS MUST BE MORE THAN 25 YEARS OF AGE, GOOD PERSONALITY AND HAVE SUCCESSFUL RECORD AS SALESMEN; TO SUCH WE CAN OFFER A POSITION THAT WILL PAY $200 AND UP PER MONTH ABOVE EXPENSES. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY AND TRAVELING EXPENSES ADVANCED. REFERENCES REQUIRED. E. F. WHITE, 820 FORSYTH BUILDING, ATLANTA, GA. 40-27-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position at once; prefer job as butler or janitor; can give good reference. Call or address George Ellis, 172 Orme St. 47-23-7

COLORED man wants a job as butler in private family. Address F. S. Mattox, Elberton, Ga. 45-23-7

BOY WANTS job helping cook and do housework. Phone Atlanta 3216. 42-23-7

COMPETENT bookkeeper, best references, married, desires permanent situation immediately. Address J. H., care Georgian. 26-23-7

SITUATION wanted by an advertising man; a young fellow (25), but master of practical, sane methods that sell. A successful experience covering the building of catalogs, editing of house organs and the installation of mail order facilities that capitalize service and good goods. Particularly strong on the writing of sales letters and literature in which the "hook" is sound sales talk presented in a personal, human interest manner. For samples of work and an interview, Address W., Box 430, care Georgian. 25-23-7

WANTED—Position by young man with four years' experience as stenographer, bookkeeper and cashier; now employed. Address F., Box 60, care Georgian. 30-23-7

WANTED—Position by bright young man; office work preferred; can give good references. Address C. E. B., Box 38, care Georgian.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUCTION SALES.

AT AUCTION. SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS, INCLUDING A FINE LOT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE. A LIST OF THE SAME WILL APPEAR IN TO-MORROW'S AD. SALE 10 A. M., FRIDAY, JULY 25. CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY. 12 East Mitchell Street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED by a reliable colored man, position as janitor or porter. Five years' experience. Understands steam heat and hot air furnaces. Can furnish good references. Address C. Thomas, 34 Carter St. 28-22-7

WANTED—Position by bookkeeper and office man; ten years' experience; best references. Address Y. Z., Box 84, care Georgian.

RELIABLE colored chauffeur wants position at once. Can butler. Reference. Address Clifford Robinson, 53 Auburn Avenue. 82-20-7

BOOKKEEPER, general office man, fifteen years' experience, open for position. Address Y. P., Box 850, care Georgian. 84-20-7

WANTED—Position by young man, 20, with banking experience; can furnish good references. Address, stating salary, W. C. P., Box 144, Greenville, Fla. 35-20-7

A-1 BLACKSMITH and general repair man (both in wood and iron); best of references. Call Ivy 7582-J, or write F., 118 West Peachtree St., Atlanta.

SITUATION WANTED as building superintendent; broad experience in North and South on general building construction and reinforced concrete. Will go any place. Very best of references furnished. Address Box 982, care Georgian. 55-20-7

WANTED—Settled, reliable man wants position as night watchman. W. F. Lampp, Wrens, Ga. 42-17-7

A YOUNG colored man wants position as porter or janitor; good references. Address C. A. H., No. 12 Old Wheat street. 7-18-11

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

STENOGRAPHIC and assistant bookkeeping position desired at once. R., A. P., 138 Crew street. 35-23-7

WANTED—Sewing by the day by an experienced seamstress. Price, $1.00. Phone Mrs. H. Ivy 3707-J. 27-23-7

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housekeeper in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

DRESSMAKING — DRESSMAKERS

WANTED—Sewing by day; $1 and car fare, or will make tub and lawn dresses at home for $1. Dressmaker, 374 E. Hunter. 97-20-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. J. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD. We'll bring Cash for Old Clothes and Shoes. "THE VESTAIRE," 166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.

One year,	mail, postage prepaid,	$5.00
Six months,	mail, postage prepaid,	2.60
Three mos.,	mail, postage prepaid,	1.25
One month,	mail, postage prepaid,	.45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.

Delivered by carrier, one year	$5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months	2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months	1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month	.45
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week	.10

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

A FEW uncalled for suits to be sold at cost. Dundee Woolen Mills, 75 Peachtree street. 7-23-16

FOR SALE—At once, three new pianos. Sold everywhere for $375, will sacrifice for $125 each. Not leaving town. No fake. Reason for this remarkable offer will be given you. Call 24 Mead avenue, Decatur. 29-23-7

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES! Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree, Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

BROILERS 35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00. C. H. MASON, 6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED. 4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP. Rebuilt typewriters, $25 to $75. American Writing Machine Co. 48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

MAXWELL RUNABOUT, new engine, practically new tires, Prest-O-Lite, $175 if sold soon. Box 628, care Georgian. 33-23-7

AUTOGENOUS WELDING OF ALL MACHINE PARTS. All kinds of repair work promptly done. Work guaranteed. Shearer Machine Company, 197 Whitehall.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS. SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-301

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS While You Wait. Sanford Decarbonizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1. CAMP MACHINE SHOP, 275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

TRAVIS & JONES, AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING. Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS, RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 moled, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Stowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS

Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.

WE USE OXYGEN

No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.

A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.

It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.

Atlanta Welding Co.

Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

HOTTEST CITY

The hottest city on earth is said to be Mecca, the capital of the Turkish Province of Hejaz, in Arabia.

A temperature of 125 degrees Fahrenheit is nothing unusual in Mecca.

Being the birthplace of Mohammed and containing the Kaaba, the city of Mecca is also the central and most holy place of all Islam.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

STUDEBAKER

SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $650. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 35% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-6-1

CLEARANCE SALE OF GOOD USED CARS.

Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:

Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.

If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, 241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given to mail shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

Autos Wanted.

WANTED—Small roadster or light touring car; Hupmobile or Model T Ford preferred. Must be a bargain. Box 276 care Georgian. 34-23-7

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 3-26-31

POULTRY
Pet and Live Stock

Fat Hens Declared To Be Best Layers

Grain Feeding Gives Desired Result. Expert Tells When Fowl Is Useless.

By JUDGE J. F. MARSHALL.

It is no secret with a great many poultrymen and farmers that a well-fed, fat hen is a good egg producer, in spite of the hue and cry by a certain class warning us not to get our hens fat.

I believe these people are honest in their opinions. I think they have been governed almost wholly by the fact that at times they have killed an old hen that had passed her usefulness and quit producing eggs, and the hen in question was filled with fat and no signs of eggs.

Putting two and two together, they decided that the reason she was not producing eggs was on account of her fat, while the real truth in the matter is she was too old to produce eggs. And her fatness is explained by lack of exercise.

Observation covering a period of nearly 40 years, during which I have made a study of the hen, her laying times, her condition during that time, and in fact everything pertaining to egg production, has brought me to the conclusion that it is the fat but energetic hen that gives us the eggs.

Corn Not a Bad Feed.

I have seen hundreds of hens dressed for the table, and it has been almost a universal rule that the hen that was full of eggs in various stages of formation was also full of layers of fat. I have observed hundreds of farmers who would feed their hens corn almost exclusively the year round and market eggs by the bushel all the time. They were stock farmers who had more corn to spare than any other kind of grain, and they made use of it.

How often you have heard corn condemned? Some go so far as to assert that it should not be fed to hens at all in any considerable quantity.

Did you ever stop to think that the yolk of the egg is about 60 per cent fat, while the white and shell contain no fat? The yolk being the first part of the egg to form must necessarily have, as the Irishman said, the wherewithal to form it from. The fat must be there ready for the work.

Surplus Energy Gives Eggs.

We must remember that the egg is manufactured from the surplus energy the hen has over and above that necessary to maintain her body in a good, healthy condition. As soon as that point is reached she begins to lay on the reserve, which is fat out of which the egg is made.

There may be an occasional hen that will take on fat abnormally and get filled up so as to retard egg production, but we must take the chances on that if we are working for heavy egg production. Such hens usually are not worth much for eggs in any event.

There is a class of hens that tend to take on fat outside of the digestive tract on the lower part of the abdomen. They get so fat that it is difficult for them to walk. As a rule such hens had just as well be disposed of as soon as found in that condition, for the fat is in such a position that it can not be utilized in egg formation.

These are drone hens which give many persons the idea that fat hens are useless. They are the exceptions that prove the rule.

Professor James Rice, of Cornell poultry department, says it has been his experience that hens will consume considerably more food a time before they begin to lay, another indication that they are preparing the system for the great strain to be put upon it.

Experiment Suggested.

Then did you ever notice how ravenously a hen taking care of chickens will eat in her endeavor to recoup herself, and how, as soon as she has fattened up, she will begin to lay?

For the sake of experimenting along that line just feed the hen with chickens just enough to keep her in moderate condition, but not nearly what she would like to have, and see how long she will be commencing to lay.

To sum up the matter, a hen must have a variety consisting of a great bulk of green stuff, together with the grain and a supply of meat in some form, in all a good, generous bill of fare at all times, that she may get her body in good condition with the extra for fat. On the farm range the hen will get much of her variety of greens, as well as bugs for the meat, so that grain is the real thing needed.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK.

Ducks.

TWENTY-FIVE TRIOS pure white Indian Runners, $5 per trio. Coweta Duck Farm, Senoia, Ga. 7-13-341

Leghorns.

1,500 GRAND White Leghorns; breeders; of our celebrated "Model" strain; in perfect health; pure white, and heavy layers; must have room; sacrifice price, $1 each. Order to-day. Model Poultry Farm, "The Farm of Quality," Box G, Colbert, Ga. 6-17-29

Orpingtons.

WHITE ORPINGTONS for sale, four hens, one cockerel, $15; six hens, one cock, $20; ten hens, one cockerel, $35; five cockerels, $5 each. H. A. Black, Cartersville, Ga. 1-23-7

Plymouth Rocks.

I HAVE 11 Buff Plymouth Rock hens, 2 Buff Plymouth Rock cockerels, 16 Buff Plymouth Rock large fryers. Want to close out at once as we will be away for some time. Price to suit you. R. L. Barry, Prado, Ansley Park. Bell 2917 Ivy. 7-23-17

PARTRIDGE ROCKS — The South's leading winning strain. Can give quality and blood lines unequaled by any breeder in the South. My birds are winners at the Southern International, Macon, Columbus, Griffin, Nashville, Tenn.; Paducah, Ky.; Shreveport, La. Send for mating list. R. P. Cotter, Box G, Barnesville, Ga. 2-15-17

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Poultry—Disinfectants.

AGASCO-SPRAY

WILL RID your premises of mites, lice, fleas and ants. It is ready for immediate use with brush or spray pump. When applied to poles and nests it eradicates lice and mites so effectually that fowls do not have to be carried through that inconvenient and nerve-racking process of dipping. Manufactured by Atlanta Gas Light Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Poultry Remedies.

ARE your hens paying their board? If not, Southern Poultry Remedy is the best thing to give them now. It's guaranteed. Price 25c and 50c at all seed stores and dealers.

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

Foxes.

RED FOX FOR SALE—Young and fairly tamed; very attractive for pet or mascot. F. B. D., Box 694, Columbus, Ga. 46-23-7

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW. GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

Hogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

FOR SALE—A sound mare; will work anywhere; also a fine four-year-old mule; a bargain. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-19-9

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO. SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES. BOTH PHONES 2568. OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB PIGEON FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RICE SPECIAL CHICK FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

ALFALFA MEA

Our Want Ads Are The Things That You Need

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—Three to five-year loan of $800 from private party. Will pay 8 per cent interest. Gilt-edge security in real estate. Address C. L. E., Box 850, care Georgian. 7-23-4

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

ESTABLISHED 1888.
6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
8-11-50

MONEY TO LOAN.

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.
TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

LOANS $25.00 AND UP
On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.

AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make it easy carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.

GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.
7-17-1

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

SACRIFICE.

FIRST-CLASS restaurant and lunch room in one of the best locations on the North Side, in the heart of the hotel and business districts; best class patronage; doing a nice business. Owner has other business interests requiring entire time and will sacrifice for quick sale. Price $900. Good opportunity for some one. Phone or see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. M. 3155. 7-23-22

Notice to Business Men.
LUNCH 25c. Ponciana, 24 East Ellis. 7-23-8

WILL SELL the State rights of Georgia for the best drink on the market. Now on sale at 75 founts. Also counter, table, etc. This is an exceptional opportunity. Answer quick. Address Bargain, 849, care Georgian. 7-23-11

BUSINESS INVESTMENT—6 pt. caps. We manufacture human necessities and luxuries. The demand for both is increasing. Business on a 20% earning basis first year. Can use five thousand dollars additional capital expanding and double our earnings in twelve months. If you have a part or all of this for investment we invite you to investigate. P. D. W. Company, P. O. Box 714, Augusta, Ga. 7-23-10

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 99, care Georgian. 34-20-1

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

ROOMS AND BOARD.

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 5459-L. 7-17-2

NICE furnished rooms, with or without board. 694½ E. Alabama street. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-10

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3878-J. 7-21-8

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Ansley Park---7-Room Bungalow
RIGHT OFF PIEDMONT AVENUE CAR LINE.
THIS brand new home is a BEAUTY; 7 large rooms, sleeping porch, beautiful fireplaces, FURNACE HEAT, hardwood floors, fine basemant rooms, large lot, lying absolutely perfect. This is the best bungalow for the money in that entire section. $6,500 on terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.
ON GEORGIA avenue, right at the Park (Georgia is going to be some avenue soon, too), 5 large rooms and hallway, elevated lot, all conveniences. Easy terms. See us.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-5

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family, 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board in private family by young man. Wants homelike place, on car line passing Equitable building preferred. Best references. Replying state location, price, etc., to W. L. R., 33 Gilmer street, city. 7-23-7

WANTED—In private family board for man and wife and one child. Address L. O. R., care Georgian. 37-23-7

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

SUMMER RESORTS.

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Sam Jones 2365, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED rooms with all modern conveniences at 108 Capitol avenue. 44-23-7

BEAUTIFUL, cool, front room; private bath; shady lot; gentleman. "West Peachtree," care Georgian. 38-23-7

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room, $2.25 weekly. 31 Hood St., near Whitehall. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

GENTLEMAN can get nicely furnished room, all conveniences. Apartment 3, 148 Forrest avenue. 28-23-7

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-23

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 2888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-72

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3041. 7-20-60

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street. West 209. 7-20-30

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4138-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.60. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-5

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 301 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 107 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-15-25

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-35

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 23 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Board if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 15 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS (Next Door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-3-36

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences; also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558-J. Furnished rooms and furnished three-room apartments; close in, with all conveniences. 7-16-10

ONE FRONT ROOM; PRIVATE FAMILY. 226 PULLIAM STREET. 7-19-6

TWO nice rooms and kitchenette, completely furnished for light housekeeping, to parties without children; splendid location; private family; one block of Grant Park. Good car service. 428 East Georgia avenue. 7-19-10

THE PICKWICK.
New, Ten Story and Fireproof.
Cool outside rooms with connecting bath.
Convenient shower baths on each floor.
77 Fairlie Street, next Carnegie Library. 6-5-32

UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT

THREE unfurnished upstairs rooms for rent. 20 Brotherton street. 7-23-14

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End to couple for housekeeping; every convenience. Phone W. 128-J. 7-22-16

FOR RENT—Two large front rooms. 155 W. Fair St. 32-22-7

THREE or five housekeeping rooms, first floor, furnished or unfurnished. 16 Cooper St. Call Main 5108 or Main 3513. 7-20-73

TWO unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Close in. References. 50 Williams Street. 7-20-24

ONE large unfurnished room for rent. 471 East Cain street. 7-19-36

TWO lovely unfurnished housekeeping rooms; references exchanged. 120 E. Fair St. 7-19-25

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette two doors from Peachtree Street. 54 East Alexander Street.

TWO large fine front rooms for light housekeeping. M. 820-J. 7-20-92

TWO large unfurnished rooms, suitable for housekeeping; conveniences. Reasonable. 411 Fraser Street. 7-19-3

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED or unfurnished rooms. 24 Cooper St. Reasonable prices. 7-20-83

FOR RENT—Rooms, furnished or unfurnished, with or without kitchenette. 221 West Peachtree. 7-20-42

FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO or three furnished front connecting housekeeping rooms, close in. 37 Carnegie way. 26-22-7

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, neatly furnished, block from Postoffice; all conveniences. 74 Walton Street. 7-21-14

COMFORTABLY furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences. 388 Peachtree St. Ivy 4530-J. 58-20-7

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

FOUR ROOMS for light housekeeping; all conveniences; no children. Apply 191 Luckie street. 7-22-22

FURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Small, completely furnished apartment, including piano and linen. Close in. Call Ivy 6845. 31-21-7

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

BEAUTIFUL five-room apartment; all conveniences; close in. Apply Owner, 715 Peters Bldg., or call Main 1225. 7-20-38

48 COLUMBIA AVENUE, second-floor apartment, six cool, airy, well lighted rooms; possession now or September 1. Phone Ivy 794-J. 7-20-46

UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

TEN-ROOM HOUSE, beautiful, shady lot, large garden and garage; cheap rent to desirable person. Call Ivy 4686. 7-21-19

SIX-ROOM cottage, North Side, for rent by owner, reasonable; bath. Phone Ivy 6432. 7-17-14

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR SALE OR RENT—New bungalow on half-acre lot, with beautiful shade; will make terms to suit; furnished or unfurnished. Call Decatur 556. 7-20-82

OFFICES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Attractive office desk and telephone all for $10. Apply Manager Temple Court. 7-22-9

FOR RENT—Office Candler Building; $17 month. Phones Ivy 2125-J, Ivy 5427-J. 7-19-16

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.
THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.
ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.
36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

FURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

TWO or three furnished housekeeping rooms; private bath; must be the best in every way. X. X., care Georgian. 42-18-7

FURNISHED APARTMENTS WANTED.

WANTED—Furnished three-room apartment, with bath and electric light; couple with daughter twelve years old. Address M. M., care Georgian. 34-18-7

UNFURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

MARRIED couple desire upper or lower porches of a house with four rooms; every convenience for housekeeping; must be on North Side and select neighborhood. Ivy 6246-J. 7-23-21

YOUNG couple want three upstairs rooms; all conveniences; good neighborhood. Address K. P., Box 851, care Georgian. 48-23-7

WANTED—On September 1, by couple, entire upstairs, consisting of four or five rooms, in strictly modern North Side home. Call Ivy 3656-J. 7-21-2

ONE unfurnished room with private bath by young lady. Exclusive North Side home. Best only. Box 19, 61 West Harris Street. 7-20-62

WANTED—In Inman Park, four upstairs housekeeping rooms, with modern conveniences; unfurnished; near car. Address R. M., Box 845, care Georgian. 27-19-7

FURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

YOUNG couple, two furnished rooms and kitchenette; must be first-class, in good neighborhood; first floor preferred; give description and price. Address Furnished Rooms, care Georgian. 7-23-1

UNFURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

A NICE six-room house; must have nice, large shady lot and city conveniences. Prefer one in the suburbs, but must be on car line. Address J. H., care Georgian. 7-21-17

HOTELS. WANTED.

HOTEL WANTED—Commercial, in good live town in Georgia or Florida, by an experienced hotel man; either European or American plan. Address P. O. Box 393, Fernandina, Fla. 29-21-7

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Cole's Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA bungalow for sale or rent; best part of Inman Park; built-in bookshelves and open fireplace, with or without some furniture; large lot and front porch. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care Georgian. 39-23-7

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Eli," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy teams. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h.,	138 Hill		$25.00
6-r. h.,	196 Crumley		25.00
6-r. h.,	Washington street, East Point		20.00
6-r. h.,	75 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood		22.50
6-r. h.,	575 Edgewood avenue		27.50
6-r. h.,	88 Lucile avenue, furnished		45.00
6-r. h.,	58 Dunn		26.30
6-r. h.,	369 Cherokee, apartment, furnished		35.00
6-r. h.,	108 Mansfield		25.00
6-r. h.,	20 Clifford		25.00
6-r. h.,	309 Moreland avenue		40.00
6-r. h.,	Harwell and Malden lane		20.00
6-r. h.,	150 Cameron		18.60
6-r. h.,	140 Drexel		25.00
6-r. h.,	12 Howard		22.50
6-r. h.,	47 Dreary		30.60
6-r. h.,	21 Park street, Oakhurst		22.50
6-r. h.,	Hardee street		15.00
6-r. h.,	32 Olympic place, Decatur		27.50
6-r. h.,	13 Haynes		12.60
6-r. h.,	32 Druid circle		30.00
6-r. h.,	12 Clifford		27.50
6-r. h.,	1170 DeKalb avenue		30.00
6-r. h.,	401 E. Fair street		30.00
5-r. h.,	124 Hill		25.00
5-r. h.,	23 Summit		17.50
5-r. h.,	99 Glenwood		15.00

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

7-r. apt.,	41 E. Cain St.		60.00
6-r. apt.,	43 Garfield Place		30.00
6-r. apt.,	75 Orme St.		21.00
5-r. apt.,	312 Rawson St.		42.50
5-r. apt.,	152 Whitefoord Ave.		$20.00
5-r. apt.,	A-15 Highland Ave.		20.60
4-r. apt.,	H-312 Rawson street (Sept. 1)		35.00
4-r. apt.,	4-396 Piedmont Ave.		17.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

WAREHOUSE FOR RENT
3 AND 5 PACKARD STREET, corner Madison Avenue, we have this three-story brick building, dimensions being 20,000 square feet, cement floors, elevator service. Good office on first floor. First-class railroad service. This is one of the best renting propositions in town. Call at our office for particulars.
Chas. P. Glover Realty Company
2½ WALTON STREET.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS
THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.
IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.
FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE
JOHN J. WOODSIDE

WEST PEACHTREE PLACE
(Cottage, $3,750.)
House has 6 rooms, gas, bath, etc. Nice lot. Easy terms.
THOS. R. FINNEY, SALES MANAGER, 12 "Real Estate Row."

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.
JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 95 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house, garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.
LEE STREET COTTAGE.
SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

Central Property to Exchange
WE CAN exchange a small lot on one street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers and, at the price at which it can be bought, should yield handsome profits.
J. R. J. H.
SMITH & EWING
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

ON TUESDAY, August 5, next, Legal Sale Day, we will sell before Court House door the southwest corner of Fair and Fraser streets, fronting 67 feet 10 inches on Fair street, by 90 feet on Fraser street. This property is inside the half-mile circle, and has many fine advantages from a business standpoint. Sold for administration of D. Gussi estate. Terms, half cash, balance 1 to 2 years 7 per cent. Be on hand.
GREENE REALTY CO.
Agents.

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

FINE Georgia farm land; will exchange for Atlanta property at cash value. Owner, 1423 Candler Bldg. 7-23-19

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell, 114 Candler Building. 6-26-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 409 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME
NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.
FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Several Big Deals Reported Wednesday

Announcement Soon of Interesting Transactions—Realty Looking Up. Marietta Street Lease.

Reports of big sales in realty circles have taken the place largely of news of the medium-sized transactions, and are proving infinitely more interesting. An investor, for instance, has bought an $80,000 parcel that he will hold for enhancement, and an owner has refused more than half a million on a downtown corner. Another dealer, it is reported, has sold a handsome dwelling on a North Side street between the Peachtrees, and has refused a flattering offer on central property wanted by a syndicate for improvement with a substantial building.

There are other signs of returning activity in real estate, and the dealers are very optimistic of a heavy fall business. Details of the above transactions are expected to come out in a week, when they will be ready for announcement. Other trades are in the contract stage.

* * *

Chamber Directors Meeting.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company met Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Empire Building and decided to fix a price on the four top floors of the Chamber of Commerce Building so that this price could be submitted to the local committee of merchants and manufacturers. The directors are meeting again Wednesday afternoon to fix this price definitely, and a report to the other body is expected at once.

* * *

Marietta Street Lease.

Mr. Rankin, of the Smith, Ewing & Rankin Renting Agency, has announced the lease for a term of No. 164 Marietta street, a three-story and basement building, to the Atlanta Envelope Company for a client, at about $3,000 a year. The building contains about 20,000 square feet of floor space.

* * *

Meeting on Realty Loans.

A subcommittee of the State Legislature has taken hold of the bill to repeal the bill of 1910, which prohibits loans of State and municipal funds on real estate. Committees of the Atlanta Real Estate Board appeared at the Capitol Tuesday afternoon to present arguments in favor of the repeal, and they received a warm reception.

Certain bond dealers who are interested in having the bill remain as enacted also appeared. Speaking of their argument, Harris White, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, declared it was "weak."

Concrete Buildings Planned.

Two concrete buildings will soon be erected by the syndicate interested in the Walker street development. These structures will face on Walker street, where the new Southern Railway tracks will pass, and will be used for wholesale and manufacturing purposes. More than twenty applications for space have been received by the projectors. Among those in the syndicate are W. S. McKemie, Tom Stocks, W. J. Blalock and Ernest Duncan.

Judge Don A. Pardee recently approved a connection between the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Southern at this point, and the work can start at once laying tracks from the Southern to Haynes street.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$600—Newton St. John to R. O. Adams, lot 105x180 feet southeast corner Automobile avenue and Adams avenue. July 22.

$500—Jack D. Hayes to M. Levin and Joe Cohen, lot 40x80 feet north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 17.

$1,500—Joel T. Dares to John T. Taylor, lot 50x150 feet 61 feet west of southwest corner West Tenth street and Ridge avenue. July 18.

$3,500—S. W. Sullivan to M. S. Moore, lot 48x155 feet south side Argard avenue 294 feet west of Highland avenue. October 2, 1909.

$4,125—Mrs. Jessie May Cunningham to Walker Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, No. 21 Stonewall street, 48x140 feet. March 17.

$2,000—Mrs. Jessie L. T. Stark to John F. Green, lot 1480x1611 feet west side McDonough road at intersection of Constitution road, three-tenths interest. July 19.

$4,000—E. G. Black to G. E. Mathews, lot 76x278 feet north side Gordon street 196 feet east of Hopkins street; also triangular lot at northwest corner of above lot. March 8, 1911.

$350—Mrs. Mattie E. Jones to J. A. Sewell, lot 50x166 feet north side Bain street 500 feet west of Bachelor avenue. July 22.

$175—W. L. Venable to J. W. Phillips, lot 150x230 feet west side Bayard street 364 feet north of Francis street. July 3.

Warranty Deeds.

$1,000—M. Levin and Joe Cohen to James H. McNesser and Harry Constangy, lot 40 by 80 feet, north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 19.

$1,200—Ludella E. Peacock to Thomas Roseborough, lot 50 by 110 feet, west side McDaniel street, 100 feet north of Gardner street. July 18.

$500—George P. Moore to Mrs. M. A. A. Wellborn, lot 50 by 274 feet, south side Home avenue, 200 feet east of Gress avenue. July 22.

$3,200—J. M. Farmer to J. T. and W. C. Slaughter, lot 50 by 100 feet, south side Linden street, 93 feet east of Piedmont avenue. July 22.

$240—Gordon F. Mitchell to Owen C. McConnell, lot 8 by 222 feet, east side North Boulevard, 122 feet north of Forrest avenue, one-half interest. July 21.

$3,500—Robert L. York to Mrs. Nassie Tuggle, No 535 Highland avenue, 33 by 170 feet. June 25.

Bonds for Title.

$1,400—Cobbs Land Company to Mrs. A. J. Callaway, lot 28, block 1, Cobbs Land Company property, 50 by 154 feet, on Elizabeth lane. July 14. Transferred to Joseph Buchman, July 21.

$10,500—Atlanta Banking and Savings Company to L. F. Henderson, lot 40 by 171 feet, north side Stokes avenue, at southwest corner lot K, block D, of West End Park. July 16.

$26,000—Mrs. Mattie F. Huggins to Mrs. Kate G. Ryder, No. 342 Ponce DeLeon avenue, 38 by 316 feet. July 3, 3.

$3,000—L. S. Huntley Company to Mrs. Cora P. M. Scott, lot 50 by 122 feet, east side Roswell road, 314 feet from Peachtree road. July 3.

$50,000—J. F. Leary to Phoenix Planing Mill, lot 153 by 43 by 492 by 75 by 500

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1879
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

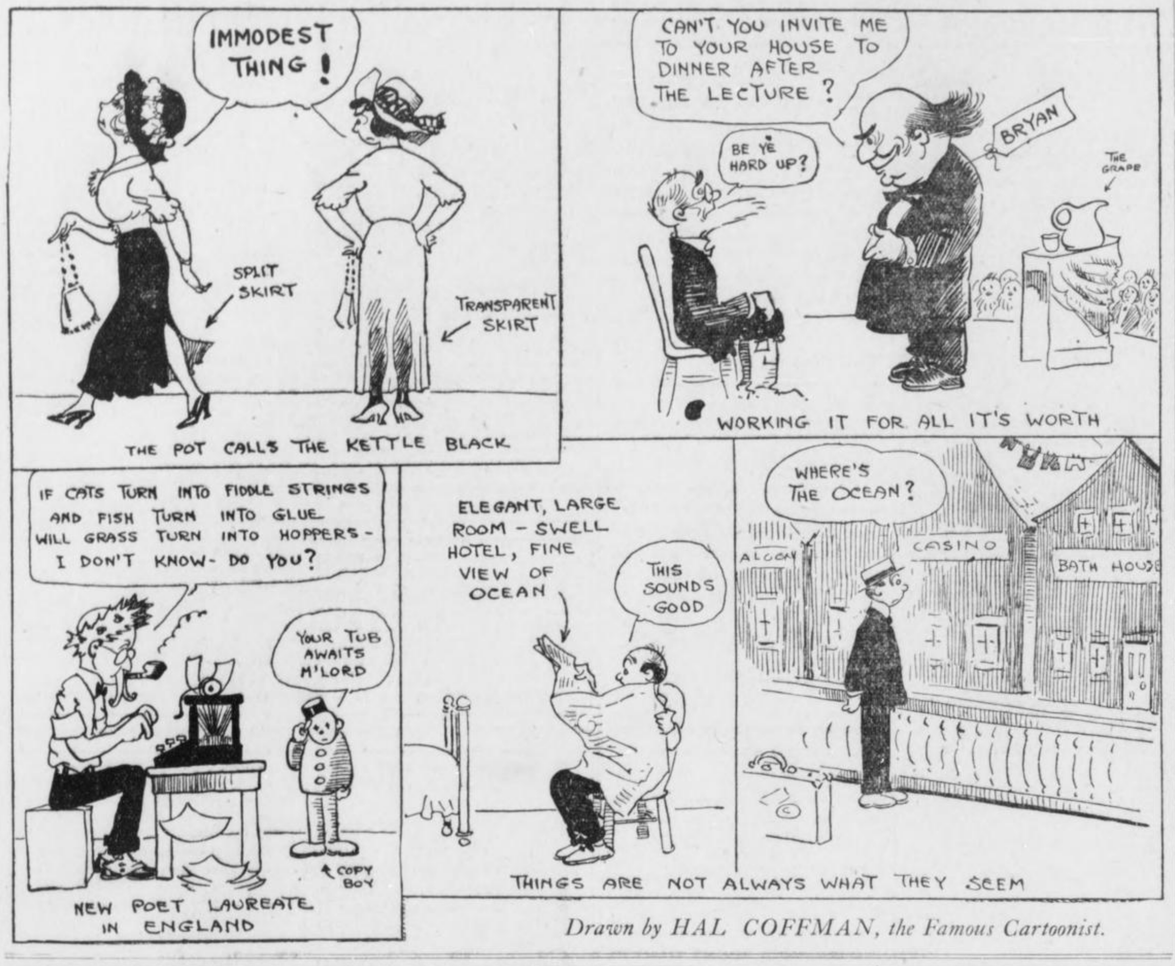
A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News



Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

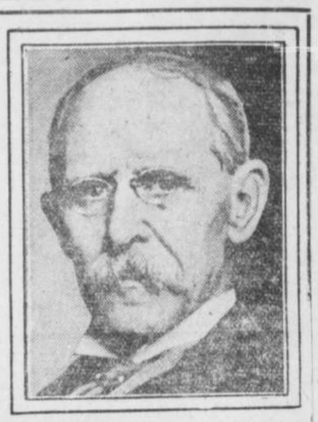
* * *

Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature



Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

CRACKERS LOSE AGAIN

FINAL ★ BOX SCORE EDITION

BASEBALL

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1908, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE

CONLEY CONFRONTED WITH NEWT LEE

CONLEY AND LEE PUT ON GRILL BY DORSEY

More Trace Found of Negro Said To Have Witnessed the Phagan Slaying.

The two negro principals in the Phagan case—Newt Lee and Jim Conley—were put on the grill together in the cell of the former in the county jail by Solicitor Dorsey and his assistant, Frank G. Hooper, late Wednesday afternoon.

Present at the cross-examination were J. M. Gantt, former pencil factory employee, and Detectives Campbell and Starnes, the officers who have had charge of Conley for the past several weeks. After half an hour's questioning Gantt left the jail. Solicitor Dorsey and the others remained, and the questioning of the two negroes continued until a late hour. Conley was then taken back to police headquarters.

Here are Wednesday's important developments in the Phagan murder mystery:

Bloodstained glove of Mary Phagan is said to have been found on the first floor near the place the discovery of her pay envelope was made.

New evidence is found tending to establish the identity of the negro Will Green, said to have seen attack upon Mary Phagan.

Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the pencil factory, undergoes a grilling examination at the hands of Solicitor General Dorsey and his associate counsel, Frank A. Hooper.

Frank Ready for Trial.

J. M. Gantt, expected to give sensational evidence for the prosecution at the trial, is in conference with the solicitor and present at the grilling of Lee.

Leo M. Frank tells Sheriff Mangum that he is eager for the trial to begin, and will be ready when it is called Monday morning.

Solicitor Dorsey announces that he will insist that there be no further delay.

It became known Wednesday that the defense in the Frank case had been informed that the negro Will Green, who is said to have been shooting craps with Jim Conley the day that Mary Phagan was murdered and to have seen her attacked, and the Will Green living at 105 Thurmond street, Atlanta, are the same person.

Private detectives in the employ of the defense have trailed the negro across a half-dozen States and have missed him by as small a margin as 30 minutes in some of the towns they have visited in the chase.

Trailed by a Ring.

Charles Fine, proprietor of the Radius Jewelry Company, No. 107 Peachtree street, when he read in The Georgian that the defense was searching for a Will Green, recalled that he

Continued to Page 2, Column 1.

Do You Know

?

the Hottest City on Earth?

Read Page 14

LATEST NEWS

Rain cut in again to-day and motorcycle races at Jack Prince's Motordrome had to be called off for to-night. The management decided it would give the weather a fair chance to get settled this time, and postponed the meet until Friday night.

BOSTON, July 23.—The Holland-American liner Sloterdyke reported by wireless this afternoon that she was nearing port with a huge hole battered through her steel plates, having been in collision with a four-masted schooner, name unknown.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23. Criminal prosecutions may result from investigation into the origin of the fire which destroyed the Binghamton Clothing Company's plant with a death list estimated at 58.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Colonel M. M. Mulhall assisted Otto L. Bannard, Republican candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909, using all his influence against Hall, according to letters read by the Overman Lobby Committee to-day. Ambition of D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., high in the councils of the manufacturers' organization, to be appointed Ambassador to China following the recall of Ambassador Crane, was revealed.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Just before entering into a conference with the Federal Board of Mediators who are seeking to adjust the differences between the Eastern railroads and their trainment, W. C. Lee, president of the B. of R. T., to-day denied that he had held a conference in 1910 with George W. Perkins, when a member of J. P. Morgan & Co., relatives to a wage controversy on the Erie Railroad.

COLUMBUS, July 23.—Dolly Clarke, a woman of the restricted district, was drowned in the Chattahoochee River this afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A great battle is raging in Shanghai, China, this afternoon. The fighting centered about the arsenal, where quantities of ammunition was stored.

ROME, July 23.—Pope Pius today ordered the dismissal of all the members of the Swiss guards. Earlier in the day the men had been instructed that they must submit to his discipline. This they refused to do.

BOSTON, July 23.—In the three singles matches in the Eastern singles championship played at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, to-day, W. M. Johnston, the young Californian, won a straight set victory over Gardener Beals. G. M. Church, of Tenafly, N. J., defeated M. C. Baggs in straight sets and A. S. Dabney, local crack, won from Dean Mathey, of this city.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—A reporter in a newspper dispatch boat, through field glasses this afternoon found the bodies of ex-Postmaster L. W. Dutro and Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, drowned Tuesday, floating near the Memphis harbor.

ATHENS, July 23.—Sixty Bulgarians were arrested to-day after attempting to blow up the train on which the Greek Premier was traveling to Sofia.

PEKIN, CHINA, July 23.—Tong King Chong, one of the tw American Senators in the Chinese Parliament, and close personal friends of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, is in prison here to-day and may be beheaded on orders of President Yuan Shai Kai for his sympathy with the rebels in the south. Tong King Chong was accused of being in correspondence with Dr. Sen and was thrown into prison as a rebel.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day commuted the sentence of Isaac B. Walker, vice president of the Union Bank, of Dallas, Texas, who was sentenced to five years at Leavenworth, Kans., May 29, 1912, for misapplication of funds of his bank. Walker was found to have been an innocent victim of a loan transaction.

E. C. Kilpatrick, a clerk for the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, arrested Tuesday afternoon on the charge of insulting several women in the Grant Building, forfeited the $200 bond under which he was released when he failed to put in an appearance for his trial in the Recorder's Court Wednesday afternoon. His arrest on sight was ordered.

ASKS PROBE OF ATTACK ON SOULE

Assembly Likely to Investigate Report Misrepresentation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local thundershowers Wednesday and probably Thursday.

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the girls saw the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo, Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

RACING RESULTS

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Plate Glass 113 (Knapp), 3-5, 1-5, out, won; Panzareta 98 (Kederis), 7-2, 7-10, 1-5, second; Sir Blaise 109 (Hopkins), 20, 5, 2, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Also ran: T. P. Conliff, Upright, Be, Mediator, General Ben Ledi.

SECOND—5½ furlongs: Black Tony 121(Loftus), 9-20, 1-6, out, won; Rustling Brass 113 (Turner), 7-6-5, 1-2, second; Tattler 106 (Martin), 8- 2- 7-10, third. Time 1:07 4-5. Also ran: Erin, Perpetual, Caronome.

THIRD—Five furlongs: Miss Declare 107 (J. Montour), 6, 5-2, 6-5, won; Emerald Gem 100 (Neylon), 3, 3-2, 7-10, second; Czr Michael 107 (Goose), 2, even, 1-2, third. Time 1:001-5. Also ran: Jane L., Behest, Superi, Patty Regan, Harbord, Woof, Tempest, Basante.

FOURTH—Mile: Prince Ahmed 100 (Deronde), 6, 2, even, won; Blackford 90 (Kederis), 3, even, 1-2, second; Bennet 94 (McDonald), 6, 2, even, third. Time 1:38 3-5. Also ran: Spring Maid, Fountain Fay, Edda, Cliff Edge, High Private.

FIFTH—Mile and furlong: First Sight 112 (Knapp), 18-5, even, out, won; Donerail 108 (Goose), 18-5, even, out, second; Barnegat 104 (Hoffman), 6, 8-5, out, third. Time, 1:52. Also ran: Buskin.

ENTRIES.

AT WINDSOR.

FIRST—Two-year-olds, selling, 5½ furlongs: Anytime 105, Andes 108, Robert Oliver 110, The Spirit 105, Trap 105, Ovation 105, Lady Grant 110, xWater Lily 105.

SECOND—Three-year-olds and up, mares and geldings, selling, mile: Cadeau 109, Oakhurst 113, xxEuterpe 84, Judge Walser 107, Klinka 102, Joe Diebold 109.

THIRD—Two-year-olds, conditions, 5½ furlongs: Strombolt 112, Flittergold 113, Undercover 108, Cliff Field 108, Orotund 109, Figinny 108, Spearhead 112, Hurakan 109, Surprising 112.

FOURTH—Three-year-olds, Southampton Hndicap, mile and one-sixteenth: Monmouth 96, Flying Fairy 112, Strenuous 100, Fifty Five 99.

FIFTH — Four-year-olds and up, steeplechase, selling, about 2¼ miles: Son of the Wind 141, Shnnon River 137, xTillie D. 138, Tom Cat 142, Pilot II 142, Octopus 142, xxEssex II 138, Adventuress 130.

SIXTH—Three-year-olds and up, selling, 6 furlongs: Deduction 109, Montrossor 101, Yanghee 107, Little Jupiter 104, Ivabel 97, Judge Walser 115, Aviator 109, Water Welles 109.

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.

xx—Apprentice allowance ten pounds claimed.

Postmasters Named For 3 Georgia Towns

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day nominated the following Georgia postmasters:

Joseph M. McAfee, Canton, Cherokee County; Annie K. Bunn, Cedartown, Polk County, and George Dansby, Rockmart, Polk County.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT ALBANY—

ALBANY—
000	200	00X	-	2	7	2
JACKSONVILLE—
000	000	000	-	0	5	1

Luhrson and Wells; Wilder and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

SECOND GAME.

ALBANY—
020	0..	...	-	.	.	.
JACKSONVILLE—
000	0..	...	-	.	.	.

Dugglesby and Wells; Burmeister and Krebs. Umpire, Pender.

AT CHARLESTON—

CHARLESTON—
000	000	23X	-	5	9	1
COLUMBUS—
000	000	000	-	0	6	1

Wolfe and Menefee; McCormac and Thompson. Umpire, Barr.

FIRST GAME.

AT MACON—

MACON—
000	000	40X	-	4	11	2
SAVANNAH—
000	001	001	-	2	10	1

Martin and Humphries; Robertson and Geibel. Umpire, Moran.

SECOND GAME.

MACON—
0..	...	..	-	.	.	.
SAVANNAH—
1..	...	...	-	.	.	.

Voss and Humphreys; Adams and Geibel. Umpire, Moran.

THOMPSON ON MOUND IN FINAL

Crackers and Turtles Clash in Deciding Game of Series—No Scoring in First.

RED ELM BALL PARK, MEMPHIS, TENN, July 23.—Billy Smith's Crackers and the Turtles met here this afternoon in the third and deciding game of their series. Each team has won one game.

Carl Thompson and Harrell were selected to do the twirling. Dunn and Snell were on the receiving ends.

Neither team scored in the first inning.

FIRST INNING.

Agler was safe on Ward's error. Bisland sacrificed, Abstein to Love. Love covering first. Welchonce out, Love to Abstein. Agler took third. Long out, Harrell to Abstein. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love went out, Smith to Agler. Merritt singled to center and was out stealing, Dunn to Alperman. Baerwald popped to Long. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Alperman fanned. Smith singled to left. Bailey doubled to left, Smith went to third. Dunn popped to Abstein. Thompson fanned. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Welchonce. Abstein grounded out, Bisland to Agler. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland singled to right. Welchonce went out, Harrell to Abstein. Long singled to center, scoring Bisland and Long stole second. Alperman popped to Ward. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

Shenley out, Bisland to Agler. Snell singled to left. Harrell sacrificed, Love doubled to Center, scoring Snell. Merritt grounded to Bisland and was out to Agler. TWO HITS, ONE RUN.

FOURTH INNING.

Smith went to second when Merritt dropped his long fly in deep center. Bailey walked. Dunn out, Harrell to Abstein and both runners advanced on the out. Thompson hit to Harrell and Smith was out in a chase. Thompson went to second. Agler fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald grounded out Alperman to Agler. Ward fanned. Schweitzer flied to Bailey. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Bisland grounded out, Love to Abstein. Welchonce walked. Long beat out a slow bunt to third for a hit and Welchonce took second. Alperman popped to Abstein. Smith flied to Schweitzer. ONE HIT, NO RUNS.

Abstein out, Smith to Agler. Shanley out, Thompson to Agler. Snell walked. Harrell popped to Bisland. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Bailey flied to Love. Dunn flied to Baerwald. Thompson fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Love out, Bisland to Agler. Merritt out, Alperman to Agler. Baerwald flied to Welchonce. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

Agler fanned. Bisland out, Shanley to Abstein. Welchonce flied to Merritt. NO HITS, NO RUNS.

Ward fanned. Schweitzer singled to left. Abstein doubled to center and Schweitzer was held at third. Shanley singled past short, scoring Schweitzer and Abstein. Shanley stole second. Snell grounded to Bisland who threw to third to catch Shanley. Shanley was safe on a close decision. Harrell singled to right, scoring Shanley. Love grounded to Agler, who threw Snell out at plate to Dunn. Merritt flied out to Welchonce. FOUR HITS, THREE RUNS.

For Remainder of Details See Red Type.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

FIRST GAME.

AT CORDELE—

CORDELE—
000	120	01X	-	4	9	1
WAYCROSS—
000	000	000	-	0	0	0

AT THOMASVILLE—

THOMASVILLE—
200	00.	...	-	.	.	.
AMERICUS—
000	00	..	-	.	.	.

Roth and Dudley; Stewart and Manchester. Umpire, McLaughlin.

AT BRUNSWICK—

BRUNSWICK—
000	00.	...	-	.	.	.
VALDOSTA—
000	30.	...	-	.	.	.

Zellars and Pierre; Cates and Kite. Umpire, Derrick.

ATLANTA	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	–	2
MEMPHIS	0	0	1	0	0	0	3	7	x	– 11

CRACKERS	r	h	o	a	e	TURTLES	r	h	o	a	e
Agler, 1b	0	0	12	1	0	Love, 2b	1	2	3	3	0
Bisland, ss	1	1	1	4	0	Merritt, cf	0	1	2	0	1
Welchonce, cf	0	0	4	0	0	Baerwald, rf	1	1	1	0	0
Long, rf	0	3	0	0	0	Ward 3b	0	0	1	0	1
Alperman, 2b	0	1	1	1	1	Schweitzer, lf	2	2	2	0	0
Smith, 3b	0	1	1	1	0	Abstein, 1b	2	1	9	1	1
Bailey, lf	0	1	1	0	0	Shanley, ss	2	2	1	3	0
Dunn, c	0	0	4	1	0	Snell, c	2	2	8	0	0
Thompson, p	1	0	0	3	0	Harrel p	1	2	0	4	0
Totals	2	7	24	11	1	Totals	11	13	27	11	2

SUMMARY:

Two-base hits—Bailey, Love, Abstein. Struck out—by Harrell 6; by Thompson 3. Bases on balls—off Harrell 2; off Thompson 1. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Snell. Stolen bases—Long, Shanley. Umpires, Rudderham and Hart.

EIGHTH INNING—Long singled to center. Alperman singled to left, Smith grounded to Shanley, forcing Alperman at second, and Long was thrown out at the plate. Bailey popped to Shanley. TWO HITS, NO RUNS.

Baerwald singled to left. Ward out, Thompson to Agler. Sweitzer singled, scoring Baerwald. Abstein safe on Smith's wild throw to Agler. Shanley singled, scoring Sweitzer. Snell singled, scoring Abstein and Shanley. Harrell singled to right. Love hit a home run clearing the bases. Merritt flied to Welchonce. Baerwald popped to Smith. SIX HITS, SEVEN RUNS.

NINTH INNING—Manush safe on Abstein's error. Agler flied out. Bisland flied to Merritt and Manush scored. Welchonce flied out. ONE RUN, NO HITS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT MONTGOMERY—

MONTGOMERY	141	000	0X	-	6	6 4
BIRMINGHAM	000	000	00	-	0	5 2

Brown and Donahue; Gregory and Mayer. Umpires, Breitenstein and Wright.

AT MOBILE—

MOBILE	003	320	0	-	8	11 0
NASHVILLE	000	000	0	-	0	2 1

Cavet and Schmidt; Beck and Gibson. Umpires, Pfenninger and Stockdale. Game called on account of rain.

New Orleans-Chattano oga, no game; rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CHICAGO	243	111	010	-	13	20 2
PHILADELPHIA	032	200	010	-	8	14 1

Cheney, Humphrey, Marshall and Needham; Chalmers, Brennan, Mayer and Howley. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

AT BROOKLYN—

ST. LOUIS	100	000	010	-	2	10 1
BROOKLYN	000	111	40X	-	7	12 1

Harmon and Wingo; Yingling and Miller. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

AT NEW YORK—

PITTSBURG	000	000	000	-	0	2 0
NEW YORK	200	000	00X	-	2	5 0

McQuillen and Gibson; Maruard and Meyers. Umpires, O'Dy and Emslie.

AT BOSTON—

CINCINNATI	000	001	000	-	1	6 0
BOSTON	002	010	10X	-	4	8 2

Packard and Kling; Tyler and Rariden. Umpires, Brennan and Eason.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CLEVELAND—

BOSTON	300	000	000	-	3	6 1
CLEVELAND	000	203	00X	-	5	10 0

Foster, Leonard and Thomas and Carrigan; Falkenberg and Carisch. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

AT ST. LOUIS—

PHILADELPHIA	000	002	201	-	8	12 0
ST. LOUIS	000	010	000	-	1	9 4

Bender and Thomas; Hamilton and Agnew. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

AT CHICAGO—

WASHINGTON	030	003	001	-	7	8 3
CHICAGO	010	000	000	-	1	6 8

Boehling and Henry; Scott and Schalk. Umpires, Dineen and Egan.

New York-Detroit, no game; rain.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	000	001	000—1	6	3
St. Paul	100	100	00x—2	9	1

Ferry and Smith; Karger and James. Umpires, Connolly and Murray.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	000	000	000—0	5	3
Minneapolis	300	000	00x—3	8	0

Northrup and Clemons; Comstock and Owens. Umpires, O'Brien and Westervelt.

Toledo-Milwaukee, no game; wet grounds.

Indianapolis-Kansas City, no game, rain.

FEDERAL.

St. Louis	023	001	000—6	12	3
Chicago	201	010	000—4	12	2

Raymer and O'Neill; Ashenfelder, McGuire and McDonough. Umpires, Wilson and Newhouse.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	040	000	000—4	3	0
Indianapolis	000	001	02x—6	9	4

Conroy and Murray; Billiard and Jester. Umpires, Conklin and Flaherty.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Baltimore	101	002	000—4	16	0
Toronto	001	000	010—2	4	2

Cottrell and Egan; Gearne, Gaward and Graham. Umpires, Finneran and Hart.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Jersey City	102	000	010—4	8	4
Montreal	020	202	00x—6	12	0

McHale, Manser and Wells; Dale and Burns. Umpires, Nattin and Owens.

Newark	401	101	010—8	12	4
Buffalo	030	000	000—3	7	3

Shack and Smith; Main, Mattern and Lalonge. Umpires, Hayes and Carpenter.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Winston-Salem	030	000	020—5	11	1
Asheville	000	000	000—0	6	7

Boyle and Smith; Watson and Milliman. Umpire, Sigman.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Portsmouth	001	000	000—1	5	1
Newport News	103	000	00x—4	7	2

Verbout and Holloman; Austin and Powell. Umpire, Norcum.

FLASHLIGHT OF SOCIETY FOLK AT WATER FROLIC AT FORREST ADAIR'S POOL TUESDAY EVENING

LANFORD SCOUTS BLUDGEON TALE OF DEFENSE

Chief Declares Pinkertons Made No Report of Alleged Find to Him.

Continued From Page 1.

had a ring in his store which was to have been called for by a negro of the same name, but which unaccountably had been left there without a claimant. He regarded this as peculiar, and notified persons interested in the defense.

A negro calling himself J. Will Green visited the store May 16 and displayed a rather ornate gold ring, worth probably $12 or $15. He desired to have a Radius diamond set in it, and said that he would be around within a day or two after it. He never returned. It was about this time that the report spread around the city that the Phagan murder had had an eyewitness in the person of a negro who was shooting craps with Conley.

A sister of the Will Green who left the ring at the jewelry store was seen Wednesday. She said that her brother had left town about two months ago and that none of the family had heard from him since or had any idea where he was. She said he was working with some small circus or theatrical troupe when he left.

The Green that the detectives have been pursuing is known to be connected with a circus or show, additional strength thus being given to the theory that their identity is the same.

She thought the detectives were mistaken in believing that her brother knew anything about the crime. He slept practically all the day that Mary Phagan was murdered, she declared, and didn't even go downtown to see the Memorial Day parade, although he was urged by one of his friends. He was working nights for the Southern Railway at this time, according to the sister, joining the show people a few days later.

She failed to explain why he suddenly had left town without stopping to recover the gold ring of considerable value which he had left at the Fine jewelry store.

Gantt Sees Solicitor.

J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee of the National Pencil Factory, who Wednesday conferred with Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper, denied that he made the startling statement to them that he saw at 1 o'clock on the day that Mary Phagan was murdered Jim Conley and Leo Frank conversing together in Frank's office.

Intimation that Gantt contemplated making such a statement to the prosecution is said to have come to the defense in an anonymous letter some time ago. The writer said in effect:

"I was standing on the street the other day and heard Gantt talking to some other fellow. He told this fellow that he had stood across the street Saturday, April 26, and had looked through the window of the factory and seen Jim Conley talking to Frank in Frank's office.

"I don't think Gantt has told this to the Solicitor yet, and, as he is not in very good financial condition, I think that he might be persuaded to keep it quiet if he was sent a little money."

No attention was paid to the letter.

Lee Grilled Again.

Gantt, the Solicitor and attorney were in the jail together. They remained two and a quarter hours questioning Newt Lee closely. They went over practically the same ground that was covered in the inquest, quizzing him about his actions the day of the murder and his whereabouts every minute during the time before he reported at the factory and about Frank's manner when he met him at the factory.

Lee stuck to his previous story, and declared that he knew nothing about the crime until he came upon the body that night. They asked him how he happened to go into the basement at that time, and he made the same explanation that he gave before the Coroner's Jury.

Lee said that he did not see Conley there that night and did not even know Conley by sight. In the afternoon it was planned to take Conley from the police station to the jail to confront Lee and question the two together.

Lanford Scouts Bludgeon Evidence.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about ing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessand is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

FOR THE LIVER TAKE LIVER EASE

Calomel Has Been Completely Displaced by Dr. Verdier's Liver Ease.

Be sure you get the perfect substitute for Calomel when you need a medicine for the liver.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE is made of imported drugs, purely vegetable and acts on the liver as thoroughly as calomel with none of the bad after effects.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE contains no drug that can produce salivation; there is no irritation of the stomach and bowels and no sickening after effects.

Take DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE and go about your work as though you were not taking a medicine at all. A dose at bedtime will cleanse the system of all impurities and stimulate the liver to expel the bile promptly with no discomfort. You can get DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE at any drug store for 50c per large bottle fully guaranteed.

Judge Ellis Joins Beavers in Vice War

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the Superior Court, joined Chief Beavers in his vice crusade Wednesday when the injunction proceedings of Mrs. Lula Bell, keeper of a house at Peters and Fair street, which was raided last week, came up for disposal.

Mrs. Bell withdrew her petition for a permanent injunction and agreed to move from the neighborhood. Judge Ellis then announced he would grant no more temporary injunctions against the police on petition of women of Mrs. Bell's character until he had investigated the charges himself.

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. The Board of Directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

SENATE ACTS TO ENFORCE WEBB LIQUOR LAW

Passes Hixon-Searcy Bill—Fight Rages Over 3-Gallon Burden of Proof Clause.

By a vote of 36 to 3 the Senate Wednesday afternoon passed the Hixon-Searcy prohibition bill providing for the enforcement of the Webb bill in Georgia.

The bill makes it unlawful for any firm or corporation to transport liquor into the State for illegal purposes and places the burden of proof of such legality upon the shipper when quantities in excess of three gallons are shipped.

Three-Gallon Clause Attacked.

It was around the three-gallon provision as recommended in the Temperance Committee substitute that the fight centered Wednesday morning. Senator Hixon, chairman of the committee and author of the original bill, and Senator Searcy, vice chairman of the committee, opposed this provision on the ground that the whole burden of proof should be placed on the carrier.

This was vigorously opposed, however, by Senator McNeil, of the Twenty-second, a member of the committee, who declared that such a provision was an unjust burden upon the carrier.

Senator Harrell, of the Twelfth, also opposed the Hixon-Searcy measure, declaring that the measure was an effort to punish the innocent carrier rather than the illegal "blind tiger" within the State.

Increase in Crime Charged.

As the bill stands the burden of proof of illegal sale is placed on the State when quantities less than three gallons are shipped into the State. Several amendments, including those of Senator Hixon, striking out the three-gallon clause, were voted down before the final passage of the bill.

In the course of the debate sensational statements were made by Senator McNeil, "a prohibitionist in restriction," who declared that under the present prohibition law with its "nefarious results," felonies in the State had increased 66 per cent.

Slaton Makes More Court Nominations

The Senate Wednesday received the following nominations from the Governor:

Tom Eason to be Judge of the City Court of McRae for four years from August 3, 1913.

W. S. Mann to be Solicitor of the City Court of McRae for the unexpired term from January 1, 1914, to November 1, 1914, vice Hamilton Burch, Jr., resigned.

D. R. Pearce to be Judge of the City Court of Pulaski County for four years from March 1, 1914.

"TIGER" GETS NEW TRIAL.

COLUMBUS.—W. A. Waters, a former member of the Columbus police force, convicted of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to six months on the State farm, has been granted a new trial.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS.
Atlanta Floral Company,
485 EAST FAIR STREET.

Cash Gro. Co. 118 & 120 Whitehall

Combination Sale

Red Ribbon Tea, lb. 60c

Anyone buying 1 lb. Tea we will sell one of these Items

25 lbs. Granulated Sugar 99c
20 lbs. Granulated Sugar 69c
10 lbs. Granulated Sugar 25c
10 lbs. Snowdrift Lard . 59c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard $1.09
Gallon Wesson Oil . . . 59c
No. 10. Cottolene . . . 79c

Noted Lecturer to 'Talk' to Deaf Here

George William Veditz, of Colorado Springs, former president of the National Association of the Deaf, will deliver a lecture to the deaf people of Atlanta in the sign language at Taft Hall Saturday night, August 2.

Mr. Veditz's subject will be "Faust." He also will deliver a sermon to the deaf Sunday mornin, August 3, at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. John Wesley Michaels, Southern evangelist to the deaf, also will be in Atlanta at the same time and will assist Mr. Veditz.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Papal Guards Must Obey Orders or Quit

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 23.—The Swiss guards at the Vatican must obey orders or leave. Their demands, presented after the mutiny on Monday, were rejected by the Holy See to-day.

They were told they must either submit to the present military rule or return to their homes. The organizers of the agitation will be dismissed, it is reported.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentatior within a few days.

APPEAL IN W. & A. CASE ORDERED BY SLATON

Governor Upsets Predecessor's Precedent by Carrying Suit to U. S. Supreme Court.

Governor Slaton Wednesday morning instructed Attorney General Thomas S. Felder and James K. Hines, special attorney for the Railroad Commission, to appeal to the United States Supreme Court in the State's suit against the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, seeking to restrain the company from charging higher rates than those fixed by the Georgia standard tariff and classification.

The appeal for injunction by the State was turned down by the Superior and Supreme Courts.

Governor Slaton's act is directly contrary to that of Governor Brown, who, when the State Supreme Court ruled against the State, instructed the Attorney General not to appeal, holding it would be of no avail.

The Governor acted upon the advice of the Attorney General and Mr. Hines, who, immediately after his inauguration, urged him to order an appeal.

AVOID IMPURE MILK
for Infants and Invalids
Get
HORLICK'S
It means the Original and Genuine
MALTED MILK
"Others are Imitations"
The Food-Drink for all Ages
Rich milk, malted grain, in powder form. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged. More healthful than tea or coffee.
Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S
HORLICK'S Contains Pure Milk

SEASHORE EXCURSION VIA SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Premier Carrier of the South

Thursday, August 7th, 1913

$6.00 Jacksonville . . Limit 6 days.
$8.00 Tampa . . . . Limit 8 days.
$6.00 Brunswick . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 St. Simon . . . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Cumberland . . Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Atlantic Beach . Limit 6 days.

Tickets good returning on any regular train within limit.

Two Special Trains From Atlanta

10:00 a. m. Solid Pullman Train, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:10 a. m.
10:15 p. m. Coaches Only, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:25 a. m.

No local stops will be made.

Passengers for Brunswick, St. Simon and Cumberland will be handled in extra coaches and sleeping cars attached to the regular train leaving Atlanta at 9:30 p. m., arriving Brunswick 7:55 a. m., where connection is made with the boats for the islands.

For Further Information, Ask Southern Railway Tickets Agents.

BANKRUPT SALE

WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES

Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Thread, etc., $288; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $378; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $98; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $155; Felt, $67; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $996; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Mull, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,829; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $845; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a five-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 513 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee

402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

Will the Czar's Long Arm Get This Princess at Last?

How a noble Russian beauty has (for the present) tricked the imperial spies and may yet escape the "golden cage" prepared for her by a dissolute Grand Duke will be told in

Next Sunday's American

Get it from your dealer or order in advance by phoning Main 100.

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON

For any regularly nominated Candidate in the

BEAUTY CONTEST

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

SECOND CHAPTER IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

The Discovery of the Body of the Slain Factory Girl and Start of Hunt for Slayer.

CHAPTER II.

His heart pounding in superstitious fright, Newt Lee, the night watchman, forced himself to approach the strange object on the pile of debris in the pencil factory basement. A step nearer and he could make out what appeared to be a human foot. He recoiled and was on the point of precipitate flight.

But he must look closer, he thought. Perhaps, after all, it was only the ghastly prank of some of the factory employees who had manufactured a rude effigy and placed it there to scare him.

Determinedly he walked closer and thrust his lantern out over the mysterious object. He shrieked. Before his horrified eyes the shaky and uncertain light of his lantern disclosed the body of a little girl.

Grimed, bloody and mutilated the body lay on the flat of its back, as the terrified negro remembered it afterward, although the police, coming a few minutes later, found the body on its face, one arm drawn slightly up under the body and the other stretched full length at the side.

Discrepancy Not Explained.

This strange discrepancy never has been explained to the public except by the possibility that Lee, in his terror, was mistaken in the position he believed the body was in when he discovered it. Conley, telling his remarkable story three weeks later, said that he dumped the girl's body face downward on the trash pile where it later was come upon by Lee.

Lee was to oappalled by his grewsome find to make a close investigation. He only saw that it was a little white girl and that she had been murdered. With frightened steps he hurried to the ladder at the other end of the basement. He was in a panic. He scuttled up the ladder and dropped the trap door over it. He felt a bit relieved away from the blackness of the basement and the awful thing that it contained.

In a moment he remembered that Mr. Frank had told him that when anything happened at the factory to call the police. The telephone at police headquarters rang at 3:30 o'clock. Policeman Anderson answered it perfunctorily. Suddenly he straightened in his chair, his indifference dropping from him in a flash.

"What's that? What's that?" he shouted, trying to make out the incoherent message of the negro at the other end of the wire. Finally he understood that a girl had been killed and that her body was lying in the basement of the National Pencil Factory on Forsyth street.

Police Rush to Scene.

"There's been a murder, fellows," he exclaimed, slamming the receiver on the hook. "Boots" Rogers was in the station. His automobile stood in front. The two men rushed out and jumped into the car. In the still morning hours, they dashed toward the scene of the tragedy. Sergeants Dobbs and Brown stood conversing at Pryor and Decatur streets. An instant's stop was made and the two officers leaped into the car.

The automobile sped on to Forsyth street, and then down to the bleak, gray building from which only one dim light flickered. The car had barely stopped before the men were out of it, and on the sidewalk. They tried the door and it was locked. They rattled it impatiently and in a moment the figure of the still frightened negro, swinging his smoky lantern, was seen coming down the stairs that lead from the second floor.

"Where's the body?" was the first question they shot at him.

Already the negro was under the shadow of suspicion.

"Come this way," Lee replied, and led the way to the opening into the dark basement.

Into the Dark Basement.

One by one the officers descended the narrow ladder into the inky darkness, unrelieved except by the single gas jet, which was turned so low that the negro Lee described it as a "lightning bug." Dobbs and Brown, with the negro, took the lead. Straight to the huddled, tragic form the black man guided the men. Sergeant Brown took one look.

"My God, it's only a child!" he exclaimed.

And the child was little Mary Phagan, who had gone forth from home the day before filled with the happiness of youth and untouched by any thought of harm or evil.

The change was terrible. In the tortured form that lay cold in the factory basement could hardly be recognized the fresh, pretty girl that came to Atlanta the day before to draw her pay and take childish delight in the Memorial Day parade.

The brute who slew her had worked a sickening transformation in her features. The smiling, innocent face was bruised, swollen and discolored. Cinders and black dirt were ground into the tender face so that at first it was almost impossible to tell whether she was black or white.

Dragged About the Floor.

She appeared to have been dragged across the basement floor by her murderer with as little feeling as is given a sheep in the shambles.

Blood from an ugly wound in the back of the head soaked and matted the pretty hair that, with girlish vanity, had been carefully brushed and tied with twin blue ribbons on each side of her head when she left home.

A length of heavy cord was looped about her neck, and the deep purple imprints in her flesh told that her assailant had used this either to drag her across the floor or to strangle her to death. If the story of the negro Conley is found to be true, the body was not dragged in the basement. A clumsy gag, torn from her dress, was bound around her head.

The pongee silk lavender dress which Mary proudly had donned for the holiday was torn and blood-stained. The twin bows of blue had been kept in place by the gag bound around her head. One little slipper was on her right foot and the other was found a few feet away. Her hat was found near the elevator shaft.

Basement Is Searched.

When the policemen had recovered from their first horror, they set out at once to investigate. They had hardly begun a search of the basement before their eyes lighted on two bits of paper by the side of the body. These contained the mysterious incoherent notes which were to play such a large part in the progress of the investigation.

This is the manner in which one of the almost illegible scrawls was deciphered:

"He said he wood love me laid down like the night witch did it, but that long tall black negro did it by hisself."

The other read:

"Mama that negro hired down here did this I went to get water and he pushed me down this hole a long tall negro black that has it woke long lean tall negro I write while play with me."

By daybreak the police and detective departments were in a turmoil of excitement.

Lee Put Under Arrest.

Newt Lee, the only person at the time known to have been in the factory while the murdered girl was there, was placed under immediate arrest, being taken directly from the factory to the police station. The dragnet was spread for other suspects. Leo Frank had been called from the factory by Policeman Anderson, but no answer came to the telephone. Early in the morning an automobile was sent to his house and he was brought to the police station to tell all he knew in order to assist the officers in their search for the criminal.

Soon after daybreak the news spread that a terrible murder had been committed; that a 14-year-old girl had been attacked and strangled in the National Pencil factory. Crowds of morbidly curious began to gather about the factory. They pressed their way into the front door and swarmed down into the cellar. Officers had difficulty in handling them.

Who the victim of the tragedy was the officers had not yet succeeded in establishing. Someone had said he thought it was a girl by the name of "Fagan," but no one was certain. Grace Hicks, of No. 100 McDonough road, one of the girl employees of the factory, was brought from her home by "Boots" Rogers to identify the body.

Girl Identifies Victim.

She looked at the swollen face and at the little gold bracelet imbedded in the flesh of the arm.

"It's Mary Phagan," she cried, and fainted.

She had been a warm friend of the murdered girl and at one time had worked by her side.

One of the most pathetic scenes was enacted when 12-year-old Vera Epps, who had been a chum and playmate of the Phagan girl since Mary had moved to Atlanta, visited the morgue and looked upon the distorted features of her little friend.

She burst into hysterical weeping and would not be comforted. She probably did not comprehend the full tragedy, but she knew that her playmate had been taken from her in a terrible manner and that some man fiendishly and ruthlessly had strangled her to death. Her father and mother were with her. They tried to get her to leave the room where the body lay, but she stayed on for more than an hour.

Cries Out for Vengeance.

Childish rage was added to her sorrow and she cried for vengeance.

"I'd help lynch the man that killed poor Mary," she cried, clenching her little hands in fury. "If they'd just let me I'd like to hold the rope that choked him to death. That's all he deserves. I was playing with Mary only a few days ago. She was my playmate nearly every day, but when I saw her dead body I hardly would have known her."

A grief-stricken home on Lindsay street received the news of Mary Phagan's fate that morning. Mrs. Coleman, her mother, had been frantic with anxiety when Mary had failed to return home the night before. Mary had said that she would return directly after the Memorial Day parade. She never had failed in any of her promises.

But the mother remembered that Mary had remarked about wanting to go to the Bijou. Possibly she had met some of her girl companions and they had gone to the entertainment in the evening. She sent Mr. Coleman to town to wait at the door of the theater. He waited until long after the crowd had filed out, but Mary did not come. Mrs. Phagan slept hardly at all that night.

Mother Had Premonition.

Mary probably had gone to the home of one of her friends, she tried to assure herself, but a deadly weight of fear oppressed her in spite of all her efforts to shake it off. She would doze into a troubled slumber only to awake with a premonition that harm had come to her child.

When a knock came at the door that morning she answered with a sinking heart.

Helen Ferguson, a girl living nearby, stood there with the tragic message on her lips.

"Mary is——" she started to say.

"Not dead?" shrieked Mrs. Coleman, knowing too well that it was so. Other members of the family rushed to the door and they were told the meager facts as they were known then, only that Mary's dead body had been found in the basement of the factory and that she plainly had been murdered.

Mrs. Coleman swooned and for days she was unable to do more than walk about the house and moan for her little girl.

Aroused by the shocking crime, practically the entire detective force was sent out to capture the murderer of the girl. It was only the matter of a few hours before the police station was filled with persons who declared that they had seen Mary Phagan some time on the day that she was slain or that they had seen a girl of about her age with one or more men at various times of the night.

Every Clew Run Down.

The detectives were hampered as much as they were aided by these well meaning persons. They were forced to investigate every story that had any semblance of furnishing a clew to the mystery. Hours that day were wasted in looking up tales of suspicious occurrences on the streets of Atlanta that Saturday night.

Newt Lee, already in custody, was kept under a running fire of questions, but maintained, even when he broke down and wept, that he knew absolutely nothing about the crime except that he found the body in the basement.

A traveling man told the detectives that he saw a girl he was certain was Mary Phagan standing in front of the factory Saturday afternoon talking to a man. Another person told a story of seeing three men, intoxicated and reeling, leading a little girl in short dress, near midnight Saturday. The girl, he said, appeared reluctant to go with them and was crying.

Another story that had to be investigated was that a girl of Mary Phagan's age had been seen talking to a man on the sidewalk near the pencil factory at a late hour Saturday night, and that she seemed to be trying to get away from him.

The police at this time were ready to credit the story that the girl had been lured to the factory at night and there attacked and killed. Nothing as yet had developed to substantiate the theory that she never had left the building after she entered it Saturday noon to obtain her pay envelope.

Startling Story Told.

After scores of persons had related suspicious incidents that they had observed came the most startling story of all. It was that Mary had been seen on the street at about 12:30 Saturday night by an acquaintance who actually had spoken to her and had received a reply.

E. L. Sentell, an employee of Kamper's grocery, was the informant. He had known Mary Phagan for years, he said. He was walking on Forsyth street that night when he was attracted by the sight of a man coming down the street walking with a little girl in short dresses. As a girl of this age was an uncommon sight on the street at this hour of night, he waited as they approached. He was startled to recognize Mary Phagan in the little girl. He knew that her parents were not accustomed to let her go out at this late hour.

He spoke to her as she and the man passed.

"Hello, Mary," he said.

"Hello, Ed," she replied.

This is the sensational story that he told. Unquestionably, the man she was with must be the man who knew about her death. A clew to his supposed identity was obtained. Sentell was positive he could recognize the man when he faced him. The news spread like wildfire that an arrest was to be made and that the man to be taken was without doubt the one who had lured Mary Phagan to the factory and killed her.

Within an hour the waiting crowds at the police station saw the officers arriving with their prisoner.

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

WOMEN WHO MOURN MARY PHAGAN

MRS. R. E. PHAGAN. RUTH PHAGAN. OLLIE PHAGAN. MATTIE PHAGAN.

ATTACK BURLESON FOR POST RATE CUT

Certain Members of Congress Also Oppose Increase in Maximum Size of Parcels.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Postmaster General Burleson has been requested by the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads to appear before the committee Thursday and explain his order reducing parcel post rates and increasing the maximum size packages to be carried by that service from 11 to 20 pounds. This order is to become effective August 15.

Certain members of Congress, including members of the Senate committee, are opposed to this new order of the Postmaster General.

Senator Bryan said to-day:

"I think that the order of the Postmaster General at this time was ill-advised. I intend to use every effort to get my bill repealing that section of the law which the Postmaster General claims gives him authority to change the rates passed by Congress before his order can go into effect."

Sues Money Lenders For Loss of Position

MACON, July 23.—W. R. Roberts, a railroad fireman, who lost his position because his salary was garnished, has brought suit for $2,000 damages in Superior Court against King Bros., money lenders, of Atlanta and Macon.

Roberts charges that he borrowed $20 and paid back $40, and that King Bros. then claimed he still owed $22. Refusing to pay this, his salary was attached, which entailed the loss of his position at a time when his wife was critically ill.

Fraud Suit Thrown Out of Macon Court

MACON, July 23.—The suit for $100,000 damages brought by A. C. Felton, vice president of a lumber company, against R. J. Taylor and N. M. Block, Macon bank presidents, in which they were charged with conspiracy to defraud him out of stock worth $100,000 and with cheating and swindling, has been thrown out of Superior Court by Judge H. A. Mathews.

The court sustained the general demurrer offered by Taylor and Block.

HE SAVED 89 LIVES.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 23.—Captain Patrick Grace, 76, who had a record of having saved 89 persons from drowning, is dead at his home in Montgomery.

Armistice Near in War in the Balkans

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

SOFIA, July 23.—It was stated officially to-day that Servia and Greece have agreed to Roumania's proposal to discuss an armistice with Bulgaria. The preliminary discussion will be held at Nish.

In an official note to Sofia to-day Roumania insists that she be allowed to retain strategetic position on the frontier; that specified privileges shall be extended to the Roumanian population in Macedonia and that the peace negotiations shall be opened in Roumanian territory after an armistice has been signed.

Bill Creates State Printing Supervisor

The creation of the office of Superintendent of Public Printing is provided in a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Representative Smith, of Atlanta. A salary of $2,400 is provided. The duties of the office would be to handle the awarding of all contracts for State printing.

The appointment of a practical printer by the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor, the appointment to be ratified by the Secretary of State, Comptroller General and Treasurer, also is provided.

Hatpin Stab May Cause Man's Death

SAVANNAH, July 23.—As a result of what may have been a hatpin wound in the arm, a Greek named Ricardos is in the Oglethorpe Hospital in a critical condition. Double pneumonia has set in, and it is not expected that he will recover.

The police are investigating a report that the Greek was jabbed in the arm by a woman with a hatpin.

BURGLAR ADMITS SUIT CASE THEFTS

Miller, Caught Robbing Store, Confesses When Accused by Detective Who Posed as Pal.

R. W. Miller, held by the police on a charge of breaking into Gober's store, at No. 30 Carroll street, confessed to numerous thefts of suit cases from passenger stations when confronted with a member of the detective force who had been masquerading with him as a pal, according to the police.

P. W. Reeves, captured with Miller, grew sullen during the grilling and would say nothing. Chief Lanford told of the new evidence Wednesday.

When Miller and Reeves were trapped Monday night a third man escaped through a window. At the police station the pair denied all guilt. Then the detective, whose name Chief Lanford refuses to disclose, confronted them. Reeves branded the detective a liar. For a moment violence was feared.

Miller's home, near Red Oak, was searched Tuesday afternoon. A suit case and a pair of white canvas shoes, stolen from the Terminal station on July 4, were found.

Miller and Reeves will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles Thursday.

Accused Chief of Feudists on Trial

WINCHESTER, KY., July 23.—Fletcher Deaton, alleged to be the arch conspirator in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, was placed on trial after Andrew Johnson had been found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of Callahan, shouted and wept for joy when the jury pronounced Johnson guilty. She worked up the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Eczema, Rheumatism, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the purest and best of drugs, are supplied from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank 16 1-2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF HEIRLOOMS

Georgian Want Ad Reveals Disappearance of Silver in Bank Rest Room.

Loss of a package of old and extremely valuable silverware has resulted in a search for two young women who are believed to have picked up the valuables.

The package disappeared several days ago while the owner was in the rest room of the Third National Bank Building, and it is believed that two young women who were in the room at the time and who are not employed in the building, walked away with it.

The loss has been attracting attention by the appearance of a unique advertisement in the loss column of The Georgian, reading, "The lady who removed silverware from rest room in the Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405, Third National Bank Building."

The silverware bears the monogram of "C," engraved on it a century ago. The package contained a number of spoons, sugar shells and other pieces. They were heirlooms and highly prized.

It is probable that arrests will follow unless the silverware is returned, as the owner is sure she can identify the young women who were in the rest room.

FELIX WAS IN PAIN.

JOLIET, ILL., July 23.—Because he shrieked so they could not sleep a gang of Mexicans tied Felix Manuelo to the top of a box car. He was rescued and taken to a hospital where an operation for appendicitis was performed to-day.

SEABOARD NAMES LOW BALTIMORE RATE.

$20.85 round trip, on sale August 1-2-3. Through electric lighted steel trains, excellent Dining Car service. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Some of the Season's Best Merchandise in a Clearaway Thursday in

The Down-Stairs Section

Wash Fabrics At Prices that Many Will Want to Share

10c yard — For 25c Voiles in solid colors.

15c yard — For 25c Dolly Madison Crêpes—a pretty dress fabric.

11c yard — For 20c Plisse Crepe in small floral designs, very dainty; many shades to select from.

10c yard — For 15c Dress Swisses in dotted and striped effects; full range of desirable colors.

12½c yard — For 25c Shirting Madras, neat stripe effects—all fast colors.

19c yard — For 25c and 35c Silk stripe Poplins and Ottoman cloth.

19c yard — For 35c White Ratine in short lengths.

4c yard — For figured Lawns for dresses—white ground with neat black figures.

25c — Brassieres That Are Worthy of Your Attention.

Well-made, perfect-fitting Brassieres, embroidery-trimmed; a value that every woman will appreciate at this price.

49c — For Girls' White Lawn Dresses

Ordinarily they would be priced at 75c—for they are dresses of good value, made of good lawn, prettily trimmed with embroidery and small tucks.

10c Each — For Children's separate Body Waists and Drawers; well made, of good quality muslin.

Women's Parasols At Half Price---50c Instead of $1.00

We thought they were remarkable values when we marked them at $1.00—women thought so too, for they bought nearly all of them at that price. The few remaining to be disposed of to-morrow at just half. An opportunity you will want to share.

Clearing Out Certain Groups of Gloves, Hose and Handkerchiefs

25c Pair for Long Lisle Gloves—16-button length.

35c Dozen for Men's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs.

Children's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs; plain white; six for 15c.

23c Pair for—

Women's black lace lisle Hose; regular 35c value.

Timely Things at Prices to Make One Think

50c Garden Hoe, at 25c.

39c Brooms, at 25c.

Patented Grass Shears, at 10c.

6 Dozen Agate Buttons, for 5c.

25c Patent Leather Belts (all colors), at 10c.

29c — For Women's Blouses Up to 75c

Pretty Blouses in many styles, lace or embroidery trimmed. Choose from all-white or some with dainty color touches. High-neck or low-neck styles. Some are made shirt style, with either soft or laundered collar.

SAYS HIS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN HIS COFFEE

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

J. Ham Lewis Martyr To Senatorial Dignity

WASHINGTON, July 21.—J. Ham Lewis, Senator from Illinois, to-day answered a query anent semi-wintry raiment, consisting of buckskin gloves, felt hat, dark gray suit of heavy texture and parti-colored woolen vest, within which he braved the sweltering weather.

"Misconceived Senatorial dignity decrees that we shall wear a vest," explained Senator Lewis, fingering the garment in question, "when we would fain di-vest ourselves of the encumbrance."

House Bill Requires Seed Cotton Record

A bill requiring all purchasers of seed cotton to keep a complete record of the same has been introduced in the House by Representatives Hines and Moon, of Troup County.

In the last few weeks many complaints have been filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture by farmers who stated that seed cotton which they had purchased under the highest recommendations had proved to be either of inferior quality or absolutely worthless.

Moose and G. O. P. in Battle in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 23.—The elephant and the bull moose in Louisville are engaged in a fight which threatens to eliminate both.

Following attacks by Republicans on Progressive nominations for the August primary, the Progressives have attacked the Republican list, starting with George T. Wood, candidate for mayor. Invalid nominating papers are the chief grounds.

PROTECT YOUR EYES.

What will you take for your eyes? Are they not entitled to the best glasses?

We strive for the best in skill, in material, in workmanship.

Oculist service at optician prices.

L. N. Huff Optical Co., two stores, 70 Whitehall, 52 W. Mitchell. Adv.

Little Captains of Industry

The Georgian "Want Ad" is a little captain of industry working night and day, bringing together thousands for mutual benefit who otherwise might never meet.

Read for Profit

Georgian "Want Ads"

Use for Results

Yellowjackets Rout Soldiers of Second Regiment

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, July 23.—After having crowned themselves with glory by routing the "enemy," composed of another battalion of the regiment, a detachment of the Second Georgia infantry to-day was put to ignominious flight by a swarm of yellowjackets, encountered on the battlefield. Several of the soldiers were stung, but the majority escaped by a hasty and disorganized retreat.

While to-day's "battle" was in progress a squad of soldiers digging intrenchments unearthed a human skeleton.

The Macon Volunteers last night entertained Colonel Thomas and other officers at supper, followed by a "badger" fight. Lieutenant Whittaker, of the Floyd Rifles, held the "badger."

Captain J. A. Fort, of Americus, was to-day's officer of the day.

Republican Regime In Portugal Totters

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MADRID, July 23.—The Portuguese Republic is tottering. The country seethes with the revolutionary spirit to overthrow the Republican Government and re-establish a monarchy. Travelers from Portugal arriving here to-day say the movement is the best organized since King Manuel was dethroned.

Troops are being rushed to all points in an effort to check the rebellion, which Government officials consider the most serious since the new form of government was established.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here to-day.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

Strike Shuts World's Biggest Copper Mine

CALUMET, MICH., July 23.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 copper miners of the upper peninsula went on a strike this morning, completely tying up twenty mines in four counties. The men demand shorter hours and an increase in wages. The Calumet and Hecla, the biggest copper producer in the world, has been shut down.

The men were organized recently by the Western Federation of Miners. There has been no disorder.

N. P. Head Is Slated For Mellen's Place

NEW YORK, July 23.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, probably will succeed Charles S. Mellen as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This report came to-day from a reliable source.

It was said that Mr. Elliott has been in consultation with J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents for the New Haven, and the official announcement of his appointment may come at any time.

Government Agent Goes to LaFayette

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Milton E. Elliott, counsel for the Comptroller of the Currency, left Washington to-day for LaFayette, Ga., to examine the First National Bank, which was closed Saturday when a shortage of $30,000 was discovered.

The mystery surrounding the shortage has not been cleared.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 467 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Camelia Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral services for Joseph A. Johnson, a pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted from the residence, No. 392 Luckie street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers will be Captain Henry Jennings, Frank Whitley, A. Q. Adams, George H. Sims, James Hudson and Andrew Russett. Interment in Oakland.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

VETERAN EDITORS GIVE UP OFFICES

Georgia Weekly Press Association Names New Recording Secretary and Treasurer.

LA GRANGE, July 23.—Two officers who have served the Georgia Weekly Press Association for twenty or more years retired to-day when the annual election was held. B. T. Mosely, of The Danielsville Monitor, for twenty years treasurer, is succeeded by J. J. Howell, of The Cuthbert Leader. W. A. Shackelford, of The Oglethorpe Echo, Lexington, recording secretary since the association was formed 27 years ago, is succeeded by C. E. Benns, of The Butler Herald.

H. M. Stanley, of The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, was re-elected corresponding secretary. P. T. McCutcheon, of The Franklin News-Banner, was elected president; J. C. McAuliffe, of The Milledgeville News, first vice president, and J. A. Perry, of The LaGrange Reporter, second vice president.

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton arrived this afternoon from Atlanta to attend the barbecue given the editors by Fuller E. Callaway and to be honor guests at the banquet tonight by the citizens of LaGrange.

Members of the association leave on a special train at 9 o'clock Thursday morning for Brunswick and St. Simons Island, where several days will be spent.

The members of the association returned to LaGrange from West Point late Tuesday afternoon, after a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point-Lanett News, and an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the banks of the Chattahoochee River by the citizens of that city.

A session of the convention was held in the courthouse Tuesday night. Besides routine matters there were interesting papers from a number of the leading members of the association on subjects of live interest to the weekly press of the State.

Pass the Medals to These Heroes, Please!

TRENTON, N. J., July 23.—A test meal of eggs three years old was made by the State Board of Health here.

If the board survives, $4,000 worth of ancient eggs will be released from cold storage.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DEAD IN RUINS OF FACTORY NOW FIXED AT 58

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tons of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At noon on Wednesday twenty-one bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 58, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Thirty-seven are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

SEEKING SHERIFF'S PLACE.

SAVANNAH.—Robert Saussy has qualified as a candidate for Sheriff of Chatham County in the primary election of July 30. The time for qualifying has expired, leaving the race between Mr. Saussy and Colonel Merrett W. Dixon.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

Operation Threatened?

Postpone it until you have tried Nuxcara. Many serious conditions are caused by indigestion and consequent mal-nutrition.

TAKE

NUXCARA

3 Times a Day

One-half hour before each meal. Mr. J. F. Adams, of Atlanta, took Nuxcara and this is what he says:

"Nuxcara has been a boon to me. The first bottle that I bought I was hardly able to reach the drug store. I had suffered for twenty-five years with dyspepsia, part of the time in bed. Kept away from my business for days at a time. I regard Nuxcara as the only cure for indigestion and mal-nutrition and always recommend it to any one suffering that way. I can not say too much for this great medicine and am glad of an opportunity to bring it to the notice of some one suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia, knowing that it will cure them."

Ask Your Druggist--$1.00 a Bottle

Lamar-Rankin Drug Co.

Distributors,

69 S. Forsyth Street

EDMONDSON DRUG CO.,

Special Atlanta Agents,

11 N. Broad St.

Manufactured by the Nuxcara Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS

During the hot summer days we are offering some splendid bargains in household necessities. Listen to these prices:

$2.00 White Enameled Chamber Pail

$1.20

(Just like cut, except pure white).

$1.50 White Enameled Chamber Pail

98c

Handsome Brass Cuspidors

50c to $3.50 Each

Enameled Cuspidors

20c to $1.00 Each

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Brass Jardinieres

$1.98

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Umbrella Stands

$1.98

Don't fail to see our beautiful window display.

We are still offering special prices on tennis and outdoor goods.

KING HARDWARE CO.

53 Peachtree 87 Whitehall

EISEMAN BROS., Inc.

Have You Seen Those New

ENGLISH LOUNGE SUITS

We Have Just Gotten In?

A belated shipment that now necessarily includes them in the clearance prices our

REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE

is offering. These Suits were made up especially to our order of high class flannels, tropical worsteds---domestic and Canadian Crashes---and are very exceptional values! They are the strictly authoritative English cut, splendidly tailored and exquisitely finished. The collection includes both two and three-piece models; coats quarter lined with either fine, soft finished silk or alpaca. Three-piece suits have skeleton vests. These suits were bought to sell and are brilliant values at $16.50 to $35.00.

Clearance Price

$12.50 to $26.50

They are fashionable, cool and serviceable. Real bargains you'll be glad to profit by.

The extensive improvements being made on our building are not interfering with the customary business and service of the store, and you'll find your best interests thoroughly well cared for as usual.

All Departments of the Big Store are brimful of bountiful bargains! Clearance prices on Clothing, Furnishings, Children's Wear, Hats, Shoes and Leather Goods.

Eiseman Bros. Inc.

Store closes each Wednesday at One o'Clock during July and August.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

PASSIVE MEXICO POLICY SCORED BY SENATORS

Fall's Resolution, Guaranteeing American Citizens' Rights Abroad, Is Tabled.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Fall resolution guaranteeing constitutional rights to American citizens abroad and protection to their property, went over without debate when the Senate met to-day. This leaves the resolution tabled and ready for consideration at any time the author may see fit to again call it up.

Fall agreed with members of the Senate that enough publicity has been given the Mexican situation for the present and on motion of Senator Simmons, the tariff bill was made the order of business.

Senator Fall made it plain that he was not averse to having his resolution referred to the Foreign Relations Committee in accordance with the suggestion of Chairman Bacon of that committee.

"I feel confident that sufficient publicity has been given the Mexican situation through debate on this resolution," said Senator Fall, "to make it plain that the United States either must revoke the order prohibiting the exportation of arms into Mexico, or take a determined attitude with regard to the protection of Americans in Mexico."

Senator Fall said in regard to the Mexican situation that no greater error could be made than a continuance of the dilatory tactics pursued by the United States in the past. Agreeing with Fall in this view were a large number of Senators in both sides of the chamber.

President and Bacon Confer on Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Wilson to-day summoned Representative Flood, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the White House to confer on conditions in Mexico.

The delicacy of the present situation enforced a policy of secrecy at the White House, but it was asserted that the purpose of to-day's conference was to discuss the advisability of removing the ban from shipments of arms and ammunition to the constitutionalists in Northern Mexico.

General Carranza and other revolutionists have been pleading for weeks for the removal of this prohibition, claiming that they are entitled to the same privileges accorded to the Maderists by President Taft.

It is doubtful if any decisive move will be made until after the removal of Ambassador Wilson, but it is practically certain that this Government will favor the removal of the prohibition relative to the shipment of arms to the rebels and then will await developments in the hope of establishing a stable government in Mexico.

U. S. Prepared to Act on Short Notice.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dispatch of a gunboat to Mexican waters, in addition to the four battleships already there, the presence of Secretary of War Garrison and General Leonard Wood on the Texas border and the summoning of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to Washington are taken to indicate the intention of official circles here that the Mexican situation will no longer be allowed by President Wilson to drift.

Reports from Chihuahua and Coahuila indicate the centralization of the Federalist forces in those provinces and the opening of railroad communication from the capital to the border within a week.

Mexico Is Stuffed With Ammunition for U. S.

LAREDO, TEXSA, July 23.—A bitter arraignment of the United States, accusing the Government of fostering the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz, and of aiming mortal blows at the liberty and sovereignty of the weaker Central American nations, in direct contrast to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, has been published in Spanish and distributed throughout Mexico.

A copy of the document to-day was forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

"With the pretext of diffusing civilization," says the document, "they (the United States) send to the limit of the continent all the castoffs, all the excess of population which congests their cities, and heralds of culture and progress, the majority of those who arrive are tramps, broken bankers, defaulters, pardoned prisoners, the bulls of their cosmopolitan criminals.

"These are they who come to us, who, supported by them in obtaining concessions, in founding banks without capital, to suck like vampires the blood and the riches of the ingenuous and credulous, noble and confiding people."

The Waters-Pierce Oil Company and the Harriman interests are flayed for their efforts to establish trusts in oil and railroad properties. The document then says:

"We have given them our riches and our confidence, but we will not give them an atom of our dignity nor another hand's breadth of our territory. The people must stand erect at the proper moment, and this now has arrived. They can not annihilate us. International complications will prevent them.

"They would require 100,000 men to invade Mexico, and their triumph, if they triumph, would be over burning fields and mountains of corpses. They would need their entire fleet to blockade our ports.

"This would be very dangerous for them, for there is someone lying in ambush. Mexico is bristling with rifles and stuffed with ammunition. It would be a horrible war."

$20.85 BALTIMORE AND RETURN VIA SEABOARD.

Sold August 1-2-3. Correspondingly low rates from other points. New Steel Dining Cars, through trains.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and

Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

Eckman's Alterative

FOR THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For sale by all of Jacobs' Drug Stores.

LAWMAKERS PUT IN TEACHERS' FIX BY MEASURE

McMichael Resolution Diverts Legislators' Salary Fund to Schoolma'ams.

To pay the members of the Georgia General Assembly in 1914 in script, payable within six months, and apply the fund set aside for legislators' salaries to the payment of country school teachers is the provision of a resolution introduced by Representative McMichael, of Marion County, Thursday morning. The resolution would have provided for this at the present session, but for the fact that many members already have drawn their pay.

Should the resolution be adopted it would mean that two-thirds of the annual deficit of $100,000 in school teachers' salaries would be made up at once. The daily payroll of the Legislature amounts to from $1,300 to $1,500 a day.

The teachers are awaiting the payment of more than $100,000 on their salaries, past due many months. Script usually is given, but as payment is deferred from six to twelve months they are forced to discount at from 10 to 50 per cent, if they are not in position to support themselves until payment of the script is made by the State.

McMichael's resolution is a bit sarcastic, referring to the fact that all other employees of the State from the Governor down to the janitors, including the members of the General Assembly, are paid promptly.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.

The resolution provides for the payment of cash to the legislators for actual mileage due the members.

PRISON REFORM PUSHED BY WELTNER

Secretary of Crusaders Urges Indeterminate Sentence as Best for Convicts.

Another gun in the campaign of the bill providing indeterminate prison sentences, which has been favorably reported by both House and Senate Committees, has been fired by Philip Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association, which is responsible for the bill.

"The enactment of the bill will not only improve convict conditions in Georgia," Mr. Weltner declares, "but it will increase the efficiency of the convicts in road building. The indeterminate sentence is based on justice and common sense rather than sentiment and mercy; and wherever it has been tried it has tended to embarrass the crook by keeping him in up to the limit, yet holding the door of opportunity open to the occasional offenders whom kind treatment and hope can reform.

"To give a convict a fixed term of imprisonment means that the law believes it can foretell the length of time it will take to discipline him. Wrong doing gets the perpetrator into prison; right doing ought to be his only means of getting out."

"BUSY --AS-- BEES"

Little bees make the honey; little "Want Ads" make the money

Read for Profit

GEORGIAN "WANT ADS"

Use for Results

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. According to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

TO PROBE SLAYING.

COLUMBUS. — When the Law and Equity Court of Lee County, Alabama, convenes on August 4 the Grand Jury will take up the case of Homer Carmack, charged with entering the store of J. J. Folk recently and hacking him to death with a butcher knife.

Great July Pre-Inventory Sales at

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

A "Let-Go" of Fine Linens

Prices Drop to Half and Less for This Most Extraordinary Clearaway

"Clean Stocks" is our slogan—our rigid Pre-Inventory Policy is not to carry over any soiled merchandise nor odds and ends.

That's the reason for the finest linens in the South being offered at a fraction of their value.

To our certain knowledge no Southern store ever offered linens of such qualities at these near-half and less-than-half prices.

The left aisle table and counters are heaped high with values. Though the sale is scheduled for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—it is plain that the best Bargains will be snapped up Thursday. Selling starts at 8:30 with these unprecedented values.

Finest Table Linens at Exactly Half Price

French table linens—acknowledged the finest in the world. Oddments—only one pattern of a kind. Two or more patterns, however, at the same price:

$20 cloth, 2x2 1-2 yards, at $10.00.
$25 cloth, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, at $12.50.
$30 cloth, 2 1-2x3 yards, at $15.00.
$25 dozen napkins, 27 in. size, $12.50.

Fine Lunch Sets

Beautiful qualities of high grade linens. Cloths are hemstitched or scalloped. Dozen napkins to complete each set. Just about a dozen sets in all, to clear them, we make these pre-inventory prices:

$12.50 Linen sets, $6.90.
$15.00 Linen sets, $8.50.

Napkins in the Sale

$2.98 doz., 22 1-2 in. size, values $4 and $4.50.
$5.98 doz., 27-inch size, values $7.50 to $9.
$7.98 doz. 27-inch size, values $10 to $15.

$5 German Damask Lunch Sets Only $1.98

All linen damask lunch sets in various colored designs. The cloths are 63x63 inches, neatly hemstitched. Half dozen 14-inch napkins complete the set.

Scalloped Table Cloths

A few odd scalloped cloths that are a little soiled. Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2 1-4 x 2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2 x 2 1-2 prices:

$8.50 Scalloped cloths, $4.90.
$10.00 Scalloped cloths, $5.90.
$12.50 Scalloped cloths, $6.90.
$15.00 Scalloped cloths, $8.90.

Soiled Table Cloths

Though these linens need a tubbing, they will emerge with their "bloom" and "finish" intact. High grade linens; full 100 per cent flax; honest to the last thread; the grades you would gladly buy at full price. Here's how they go to-morrow:

$6.50 to $8.50 Cloths at $3.90

Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3 yards.

$8, $10 & $12.50 Cloths at $4.90

Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1-2 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3, 2 1-2x3 1-2 yards.

$13.50 to $16.50 Cloths at $9.90

Extremely fine tablecloths in all sizes up to 2 1-2x4 yards.

Pre-Inventory Pencil Pushes Down Prices on Rich's Staple Black Silks

Standard $1 and $1.25 Black Silks at 59c

Rich's black silks in a sale. And at an average half price! It is almost as if a grocer sold sugar at half. For Rich's black silks are as staple and as standard.

You can choose from soft, lustrous black LOUISINE; the fashionable black FAILLE FRANCAIS; the gracious ever-wearing GROSGRAIN; a magnificent MOURNING SILK; the beautiful SATIN BENGALINE. Widths range from 20 to 27 inches. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 a yard; to-morrow at 59c.

Prices on $1.00 to $2.00 Silks Slashed to 49c

You will be astonished at the values; the quantities; the varieties; the lovely $1.00 to $2.00 silks that are offered at 49c.

You have choice of 42-inch all-silk chiffons; flowered silks, odd silks; 27-inch chiffon taffetas in changeables and solid colors; novelty silks, including many desirable weaves and patterns. Lengths from 3 to 30 yards. Not a yard worth less than $1.00; most of them formerly priced at $1.50 to $2.50. Choice 49c.

55c for 85c to $1.50 Silks—the 85c and $1.00 silks are spot-proof foulards, in choice patterns and favored colors. The $1.50 silks are Dolly Madison patterns, pretty floral designs, new this season.

79c for $1.00 Messalines—choice of our entire stock of $1 yard-wide Messalines, except black or white.

$1.19 for $1.50 silk and wool Poplins—the beauty of silk wedded to the strength of wool. Soft and sheer, with classic grace.

Leading shades of navy and Copenhagen, also black and brown. 42 inches wide.

33c for 59c Silk Foulards—navy grounds, with neat pin and polka dots. 23 in.

$1.39 for $1.75 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines—includes our entire stock of $1.75 Crepe de Chines in full pieces, except black or white, and all $2 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines in dress lengths.

25c for 50c to 85c silks—solid color messalines and wash silks and short lengths of staple and novelty silks. The yard, 25c.

(Silk Annex—Main Floor, Left)

To Sell These Stockings Quickly, We Have Slashed the Prices

Nothing wrong with the stockings, save that they are odd lots and broken lines that we won't invoice. So we empty the boxes and group the different lots on three tables at 29c, 49c and 59c.

Stockings are variously of lisle and silk lisle, lace and embroidered. Black, tan and a few white and colors. All sizes at each price.

29c; values to 50c.
49c; values to 75c.
59c; values to $1.25.

(Main Floor, Right)

A Parasol Sale at $1.98

Choose any summer parasol in stock, whether its former price was $2.50, $3, $3.50 or $4, at $1.98.

Something like four score in all, in solid colors; Roman stripes; solid colors with floral or Persian borders; plaids and other fancies. Novelty and regulation shapes. Leading colors and combinations. Select the parasol you like—there's a saving of about half at $1.98.

(Main Floor, Right)

Half Price Sale Toys, Games, Etc.

Final outclearing Friday and Saturday of all kinds of dolls, doll buggies, children's furniture, toys, vehicles and games. Most of the articles are at half price; some even less than half.

(Toy Annex—Main Floor, Right)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

Uncle Trusty Can't Keep You From Owning a Home

TRUSTS have no monopoly of the EARTH! There's a home in this world for EVERYBODY—there's a home for YOU, right here in Atlanta.

If you are making "living" wages, then no TRUST—no COMBINATION—no power on earth, except YOURSELF, can keep you from OWNING a home!

If you continue to pay RENT on somebody else's property, then you'll probably never own a home—but, if you BUY a handsome house and lot, on our DIVIDED PAYMENT PLAN, then you will be the proud owner of a splendid HOME!

For $100 down, and as little as $21 a month, we will sell you a house and lot, in CAPITOL VIEW, which is a picturesque residential section, inside of Atlanta's city limits—an 18-minute street car ride from the Post-office! We have several brand-new houses ready for occupancy!

For full information, phone us—or call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE
207 Equitable Bldg.
Bell, Main 3520
Atlanta Phone, 3520

300 Fine Summer Dresses at Half Price

Just the thing to wear at the present time, when the season is at its height, and certainly a timely opportunity, indeed, to buy them at Half Price.

Many very substantial effects make up the 300 imported ratine and heavy linens, fine French linens and voile, Bedford cord and very many novelty materials.

Smart French models, plain tailored models, including dark colors that may be worn all through the fall.

White and light colors and dozens of exquisite combinations of materials and colors.

These are the kind of dresses you'll find in this sale, and there're 300 to select from.

You'll not have any trouble finding what you want. All sizes from misses' 14 to women's 44—all at Half Price. And, remember, you have two months of summer to benefit by the purchase.

$10.00 Dresses $ 5.00
$12.50 Dresses $ 6.25
$15.00 Dresses $ 7.50
$18.50 Dresses $ 9.25
$20.00 Dresses $10.00
$25.00 Dresses $12.50
$30.00 Dresses $15.00
$35.00 Dresses $17.50
$40.00 Dresses $20.00

J. P. Allen & Co. 51 and 53 Whitehall

The SOCIAL WORLD

Mrs. Lundy Harris, who is at the Georgian Terrace for several days while making her plans for a log cabin she will build on her estate in North Georgia, was the honor guest at an informal luncheon Wednesday morning when Mrs. Warren Candler invited a few of Mrs. Harris' friends to spend a quiet day reminiscing with her.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Harris will be one of the distinguished guests at the dinner Colonel and Mrs. Robert Lowry will give at the Piedmont Club. Mrs. Harris leaves Friday for North Georgia.

Adairs Give Swimming Party.

One of the largest parties of the week was the swimming party given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, when 150 guests were entertained. After a swim in the pool a buffet supper was served on the terrace and lawn.

Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., and Miss Augusta Pearce, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Adair.

For Miss Rosalie Howell.

An elaborate party was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. E. R. Gunby, of Tampa, Fla., at the residence of her father, Mr. Clarke Howell, in honor of her little daughter, Rosalie, whose fourth birthday was thus observed. Twenty-five guests were entertained at a "sunbonnet party."

Immediately after arriving each little girl was presented with a little pink sunbonnet and pink apron. Figures of little girls in pink sunbonnets, bearing garlands of pink roses, surrounded the birthday cake with its four pink tapers, and the Jack Horner pie was decorated with similar figures.

The little hostess wore white lingerie, with blue ribbons, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Gunby was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney and Miss Constance Knowles.

Miss Owens Entertains.

Miss Sarah Owens gave a hearts dice party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Henderson, of Marietta. Miss Fay Slaughter and Miss Floy Eskridge won the prizes, a fan and a bluebird pin. An ivory fan was given to the honor guest. Guests included Misses Beryl May of Knoxville, Margaret Woodrum of Nashville, Ruth Thrasher, Fay Slaughter, Ruth Harrison, Lucile Gann, Martha Boykin, Louise Cohen, Lilla Cheshire, Tommie Hornea, Eva Owens, Mrs. Edward Henderson and Mrs. Satterfield.

Miss Fay Slaughter will entertain informally for Miss Owens Thursday evening.

For Mrs. Pou.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGive will give a theater party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, who is visiting Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman.

For Miss Carmichael.

Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, is being tendered a series of parties during her visit to Miss Margaret Rushton, the largest affair being the informal tea given Wednesday afternoon by Miss Rushton's sister, Mrs. Clyde Lanier King.

Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. King's home adorned the apartments.

Mrs. King's guests included a number of young men as well as girls.

Thursday morning Mrs. Graham Williams will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Eloise Walker gave a box party at the Forsyth, followed by a tea at Hotel Ansley, in honor of Miss Carmichael, the other guests being Mrs. Stirling Turner, Miss Evelyn Ragland and Miss Cullen Battle.

Friday morning Miss Mirian Fielder will give an informal bridge party for Miss Carmichael, only one table of bridge to be entertained, the party to be followed by an informal afternoon party, given by Mrs. John Ray Pattillo.

Saturday morning Mrs. Stewart Roberts will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael, and other informal affairs are being planned.

PERSONALS

Miss Emmie Willingham is visiting friends in Chattanooga.

Miss May Etta Lowell, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. Will Smith, of Inman Park.

Miss Gladys Quinn, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. E. W. Henderson in West Peachtree street.

Miss Lollie Belle Fuller and Mrs. George Croft are spending several weeks in Asheville, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. George Elmer are visiting Judge and Mrs. John Candler at their home in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Claude Shewmake and children have returned from St. Simons, where they sojourned several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, with their two children, and Miss Corinne Bass are at St. Simons for two weeks.

Mrs. Ella Wright Wilcox and little daughter, Katherine, have returned to Atlanta, after a stay at Wrightsville Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Omar F. Elder, who have been at Wrightsville Beach for several days, will return to Atlanta this week.

Mrs. Charles Sisson is the guest of the Misses Joseph at Warm Springs, having made the trip in Mr. Sisson's touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Field returned to Atlanta Tuesday, after spending several weeks at their summer home in Rabun County.

Mr. and Mrs. Gadsden Russell and little son, Gadsden, Jr., are spending to weeks with Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Heisell, in Saluda, N. C.

Miss Margaret Murphy, of Newnan, is the guest of Miss Jessie Thompson. In a few days they will go to Cedartown to be guests at a house party.

Mrs. Dazier Pou, of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman, will leave Thursday for Warm Springs for a visit before going to the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. L. H. Ledsinger will spend the summer and early autumn in the mountains of Virginia and Western North Carolina. Her son, Mr. Robert Ledsinger, will accompany her.

Mr. A. D. Adair and Mr. A. D. Adair, Jr., have returned from New York, where they went to meet Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morgan McClung on their return from a trip around the world. Mr. and Mrs. McClung are expected Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Adair, who will leave with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin August 7 to spend the remainder of the summer in Scotland.

Mrs. H. E. Bussey is visiting friends in Birmingham. She will return Thursday, when she, Mr. Bussey and their young son will make their home with Mrs. McRae, No. 647 Peachtree street.

Miss Alma Atel, of Augusta, sister of Mr. J. W. Atel, of Atlanta, spent a few days here on her way to Chicago. Several informal affairs were given in her honor during her short visit.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

CRISIS IN WATER PROBLEM REACHED

Board to Debate Situation—Only Six Feet of Clear Liquid Left in Reservoirs.

The City Water Board will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider a water situation that constantly has grown more grave since the breaking of the 18,000,000-gallon pump at the river station two weeks ago.

The reserve supply in the reservoirs at the Hemphill station has dropped two feet since that date. It will take at least two weeks to put the big pump in working order again. While the reservoirs have over 20 feet of water in them there is only a 6-foot margin from muddy water. This is due to the fact that the location of the filtration plant will not permit water to flow through it lower than that point.

A conference was held Wednesday morning between J. O. Cochran, president of the Park Board; W. Z. Smith, general manager of waterworks, and W. E. Dunn, president of the Water Board, to consider cutting off the 500,000-gallon daily flow into Piedmont Park lake. That would mean that the bathing would have to be stopped. It was decided that no further action would be taken at present than to shorten the hours for bathing in the lake.

Although twenty men are working on the broken pump, as many as can be effectively used in both day and night shifts, it is feared that the water pressure may have to be reduced so as to make the daily consumption of the city equal the amount pumped from the river each day.

LOW RATES EAST VIA SEABOARD.

$20.85 Baltimore and return on sale August 1-2-3. Through Steel Trains, new Dining Cars. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

WATSON EAGER TO HIT MUGWUMPS

Lobby Inquiry Shows Indiana Legislator Couldn't Influence Tariff Board Selections.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Members of the Overman Lobby Inquiry Committee to-day said an effort would be made this week to finish reading into the record several thousand letters made public by M. M. Mulhall.

The correspondence showed that, on September 18, James E. Watson, of Indiana, wrote to Mulhall that President Taft had turned over to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh the entire question of the tariff board personnel.

Mugwump Peeved Watson.

"If MacVeagh were a Republican we might reach him," wrote Watson, "but he is a mugwump and I swear that I never know what to do with a mugwump, inasmuch as I have no right to kill him."

On September 28 Mulhall wrote to John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers: "I wish to do all I possibly can to beat in Maryland this fall the amendment to the Constitution disfranchising the negroes, which, if carried, will make Maryland a one-party State and wipe out of Congress three Republican members, one of whom is the best friend we ever had in Congress, Sydney E. Mudd."

Tried to Get Watson.

Mulhall called on several manufacturers interested in the Danbury hatters' strike, to have them employ Watson as counsel in the ensuing litigation.

Arkansas Freight Rates Cut 20 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK, July 23.—Effective to-day the trunk line railroads in Arkansas accepted the Arkansas Railroad Commission's standard freight tariff, which reduces railway rates approximately 20 per cent and will probably cut earnings of the railways $500,000 a year in the State.

Five years' litigation between State and railroads over these rates resulted in a victory in United States Supreme Court for the State.

Negro Church Union Holding Convention

The Baptist Young People's Union (negro) is holding its eighteenth annual convention in the Beulah Baptist Church, of which W. F. Paschal is pastor. The Rev. A. W. Bryant, of Savannah, presided, and the vice president of the union, W. A. Flagg, of Macon, conducted the devotionals.

An expression meeting was conducted by Professor J. H. James, A.B., of Central City College.

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Miners and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldg., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

STODDARDIZE---

Then---"All Aboard"

WHEN your clothes have been STODDARDIZED, you are ready to leave for your vacation! STODDARDIZING makes Women's, Men's and Children's apparel look just like new!

A WAGON FOR A PHONE CALL.

We pay Charges (one way) on Out-of-Town Orders of $2 or more.

Stoddard 126 Peachtree Street, Bell Phone, Ivy 43, Atlanta Phone 43 — Dixie's Greatest Dry Cleaner and Dyer

Attention, Agents!

RELIABLE DISTRICT MANAGERS wanted in all unassigned territory in Georgia. Liberal contracts, giving exclusive control of territory to right men. Address

Louis Sherfesee, State Manager
or Charles S. Northen, General Agent
701-2-3-4 Third National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

PURELY MUTUAL---ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF HARTFORD,

Organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.
Principal office, 49 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.
Amount of capital stock—None.

II. ASSETS.
Total assets $35,297,578.44

III. LIABILITIES.
Total liabilities $35,297,578.44

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.
Total income $3,404,963.79

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.
Total disbursements $2,649,146.89
Greatest amount insured in any one risk $50,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding (estimated) 153,452,325.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT—County of Hartford.
Personally appeared before the undersigned, Harry E. Johnson, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.
HARRY E. JOHNSON, Assistant Secretary.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 11th day of July, 1913.
NELSON G. FORD, Notary Public.

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.---Atlanta, New York---Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

TO-MORROW---A Remarkable Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

Quick Clearance Every Ratine Dress Every Linen Dress

JUST 75 BEAUTIFUL RATINE DRESSES AND 91 CHARMING LINEN DRESSES REMAIN IN STOCK—

In both of these popular materials, the very latest and loveliest styles and shades of the season are featured—

They Go On Sale To-morrow At ..... CHOICE $6.95 The Regular Prices Are Up to $22.50

The crowds that have thronged this store will be even greater to-morrow, when this announcement is read—

Clearance Sale Ladies' Motor Coats

Every fair motorist in Atlanta can afford an elegant auto coat at SUCH a price. Fine linen, all styles, some trimmed in contrasting shades of leather, others with caps to match, etc., for quick clearance to-morrow

$10 Values; Choice ... $5.45

Quick Clearance of 450 Waists

Lovely summer lingerie waists, in all the latest beautiful style ideas, exquisitely trimmed, immense variety to suit every feminine taste, for quick clearance to-morrow

$1.50 to $1.75 Values; Choice . $1.00

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

"Atlanta's Exclusive Women's Apparel Store"---43-45 Whitehall Street

Keely's Fine Footwear in a Twice-Yearly Sale

Every pair of low shoes offered in this sale is of the true, tried and trusty sort.

In point of style every pair is of the best type.

Hundreds of delighted women have found it profitable to attend these sales.

It will pay you as it has paid them.

Surer than the return from a gilt-edge bond is the PROFIT to you in the purchase of one or more pairs of these famous shoes.

They're good values at $3, $3½ and $4.

The sale price is $2.65 a pair.

There is in the lot every width of last and every style of toe and heel.

Your favorite WIDTH and STYLE are here.

Your SIZE IS ALSO HERE.

We have to apologize to the many ladies who could not be promptly served on Monday.

We knew we had the Pumps and Oxfords. We knew we had the values.

But really the crowd came so thick and fast that we were mightily taxed to wait upon it.

But we shall do better to-morrow.

More room is given to the display.

More salespeople in attendance.

Better and more commodious fitting facilities are furnished.

We're Proud of This Sale

It is the most successful shoe sale in our experience.

But there's a reason for the great Pump and Oxford business that we're doing.

Here it is--

$3, $3½ and $4 values Pumps and Oxfords, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values of low shoes and ties, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values in highest grade footwear, now $2.65

This is not a Skyrocket Sale.

Nor is it a clearance of doubtful values, or odd stocks, or passe styles.

But $2.65 of your money will purchase to-morrow stylish, up-to-date, desirable footwear of the $3, $3½ and $4 kinds.

The style, the quality, the value, the service are all in the sale.

The unusual thing is the price, $2.65 a pair.

Keely Company

WIFE NOW DENIES THAT SHE SHOT TOM WOOD

Gainesville Bride to Repudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 23.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss Pearl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."

The universal verdict of the patrons of the Bijou is that this week's attraction, "Good Morning, Judge," is one of the snappiest, liveliest and most pleasing musical comedies of the season, and judging from the cordial reception that has been given the attraction so far, standing room will be at a premium the entire week. Differing from most of the musical comedies that have been offered at the Bijou, "Good Morning, Judge," has a well-defined plot, which concerns the election of a German brewer to the mayoralty of his home town and the many ludicrous situations that arises when the good-natured brewer is forced to assume the position of municipal judge.

The musical numbers are new and up to date and the costumes in keeping with the splendid tone of the attraction.

Forsyth Packed.

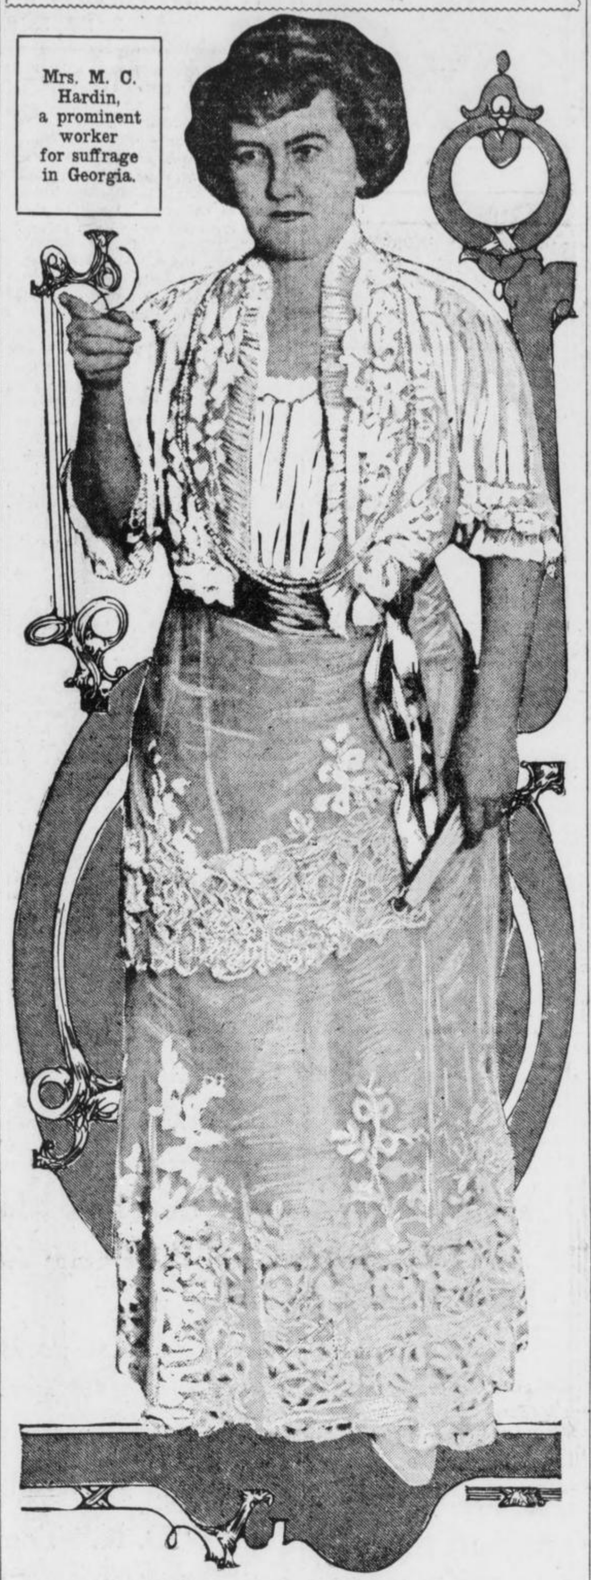
"Sold out" has been the record at every performance at the Forsyth this week, and a wonderful advance sale for the remaining performances indicating that the busy theater is going to make a new attendance record, possibly eclipsing the figures set up by Miss Kellermann two years ago. The show is one of the strongest that has ever been offered in vaudeville in Atlanta. There is not a weak spot, every act counts and the applause is distributed evenly.

The big feature of the program is the appearance of John F. Conroy, the only person who possesses every kind of medal that has been awarded for heroism. Conroy has saved 137 lives. Assisted by two pretty girls, he gives a diving exhibition that is superior to any that has been seen in Atlanta.

Thrills at Big Movie at Grand.

A more wonderful photo-play than Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" has rarely been seen. There is interest in this 12,000 feet of film from the introduction of Jean Valjean until the last inch has been run off, and the Grand is being filled at the daily matinee and night performances. The characters of the Hugo novel are played by some of the most distinguished actors of France. The performances are given at 2:30 and at 8:30.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HERE BOOSTED BY BIG MEET



Mrs. M. C. Hardin, a prominent worker for suffrage in Georgia.

Enthusiasm Marks Taft Hall Gathering—Only "Anti" Partially Converted.

Spurred to enthusiasm by Mrs. William Peel, presiding officer, several hundred suffragists and a suffragette or two at Taft Hall Tuesday participated in a monster meeting, in many respects unequaled before in Atlanta. Round after round of applause marked the efforts of every speaker.

The meeting was an all-suffrage affair, for although a debate was advertised not a single out-and-out anti-suffragist speech was made. Ernest Neal, member of the House of Representatives, was the only speaker of the opposition, and even he declared he had little faith in many of the stock arguments of the antis and that he wished Mrs. Peel godspeed in the present movement.

Debate Is Opened.

Following an organ recital by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, Mrs. Peel called the meeting to order. "If it had not been for woman," she said in opening the discussion, "man would still be walking on four legs. But woman has performed her duty and as a result all of us are to-day walking on two legs."

Following Representative Neal's address, R. A. Broyles declared the men needed the women to help them out in things political.

Among the other speakers were Dr. A. M. Hughlett, who declared he was a suffragist first, last and all the time, for the reason that women are as intelligent as men; Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, who paid high tribute to the cause; Mrs. Frances Whitesides, a leader in the Civic League; Mrs. Mary McLendon, "the original suffragette," president of the Georgia League, Mrs. M. C. Hardin and Dr. John E. White.

Mrs. McLendon Speaks.

Mrs. McLendon spoke of the first efforts of Georgia women to organize, and asserted the present movement would result in a perfect organization throughout the State.

Dr. White made a vigorous address in favor of suffrage and sharply criticised the "idle rich" woman, who, he said, sought a good time for life by marrying a man with an automobile.

At the meeting's close Mrs. Peel invited all anti-suffragists in the house to stand up. No one stood up.

PIANO SALESMEN WANTED.

Three wide-awake, energetic, retail piano salesmen, young men of ability and experience, to work city and country trade in State of Georgia. Good wages and permanent positions. Apply by letter only, giving experience, age, salary expected and amount of business that salary should produce. Address CABLE PIANO COMPANY, 84 N. Broad street, Atlanta, Ga.

ACQUITTED OF GRAFT CHARGE.

COLUMBUS. — County Officer James Palmer has been exonerated by the Muscogee County Board of Commissioners of charges preferred by Langdon Bell, a frequent violator of the prohibition law, that he had paid the officer for protection.

Be Your Own Boss

A little money linked with good judgment will put you in the straight road to success. Familiarize yourself with the numerous opportunities to purchase a small business by reading carefully the Business Opportunities listed in the "Want Ad" columns of to-day's Georgian.

FRIEDMANN CURE FAILS TO SAVE THORNTON

Young Atlanta Banker Sinks Rapidly and Dies at Asheville Following New Treatment.

Bitter arraignment of Dr. Franz Friedrich Friedmann, the German scientist and discoverer of a serum hailed as a curative of tuberculosis, followed the death of Austell Thornton, one of the best-known young bankers in Atlanta, near Asheville, N. C., early Wednesday morning.

Thornton's death was the result of tuberculosis, which set in following an attack of pneumonia eighteen months ago. When Dr. Friedmann came to this country last winter with his serum, heralded as a cure for consumptives, Thornton went to New York and underwent the treatment.

While Dr. Friedmann used the Bellevue Hospital there in demonstrating his cures, he also did a great deal of work in hotels among patients who flocked to Manhattan from all over the United States.

Treated by Friedmann.

Thornton received his injections at the hotel where he was stopping, and it is said that Dr. Friedmann himself administered them. It is also declared that the German physician charged young Thornton a fabulous price for the treatment, one person Wednesday morning placing the sum at $3,500.

Thornton ended his treatments and left New York three months ago in the belief that the serum would prove a curative, as it had been claimed. The only improvement at all noticeable was a lessening of the fever.

"I am firmly convinced," said S. H. Venable, an uncle of Thornton's widow, that the Friedmann treatment hastened Thornton's end. When he went to New York to take the injections the young man was not in a dangerous condition, still almost immediately after he left New York after the serum had been injected into him he began to grow weaker. The plague's ravages were more noticeable."

Mr. Thornton was about 31 years old, and had resided in Atlanta since childhood. Six years ago he married Miss Bob Venable.

He was prominent in society and club circles, being a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, the Capital City Club and of practically every other prominent social organization of the city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family home, No. 611 Peachtree street. Interment private at Oakland.

Mr. Thornton was one of the best known citizens of Atlanta, and at the time of his death was a director in the Atlanta National Bank. He had large private interests and at one time was president of the Pine Mountain Granite Company. He was educated at the University of Georgia. His father, the late A. B. Thornton, was also a director in the Atlanta National.

He is survived by his widow and two children; also his mother, Mrs. Albert Thornton; his brother, Albert Thornton, and his sister, Miss Janie Thornton, all of Atlanta.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

CRAWFORD WILL CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Uncertainty Regarding Frank Trial Results in Delay Until Next Monday.

Because of the uncertainty regarding the trial of Leo M. Frank, Auditor James L. Anderson Wednesday postponed the hearing of the Crawford will case until next Monday, at the request of Reuben Arnold, counsel for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, who is also connected with the defense of Frank.

Mr. Anderson announced that should the Frank trial again be postponed the Crawford case will be called at that time, but should Judge Roan decide to call Frank's trial for Monday morning the hearing of the will case will be indefinitely postponed, its resumption to be governed entirely by the disposition of the Frank case.

Plan to Explode Poison Claim.

The postponing of the hearing on Wednesday morning prevented the introduction of what Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim is their most convincing evidence in Mrs. Crawford's denial that she had killed her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, by poisoning him. It is understood that they had planned to place Dr. J. W. Hurt, Crawford's family physician, on the stand.

Dr. Hurt, Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim, will testify that while attending Mr. Crawford during his last illness, he frequently gave him morphine and other drugs to allay the pain. These drugs given by Dr. Hurt, the defense will claim, are what Dr. Harris found in Crawford's stomach when the body was exhumed and a post-mortem made.

It is probable that Dr. Hurt will be one of the first witnesses when the hearing is resumed, which, unless the Frank trial is postponed, probably will not be until about the middle of August.

Search On For Barber.

Attorneys for the heirs-at-law stated Wednesday that they will continue the search for Fred Lumb, the barber who is charged with being Mrs. Crawford's accomplice in the alleged poison plot. Unable to locate Lumb in New York, where he was last heard of, it is planned to extend the search all over the United States.

Attorney J. S. James, chief of counsel for the heirs, said that Lumb has lived in different parts of the United States under various names, all of which are known. It is suspected that Lumb is living under one of the names he has formerly used, and efforts will be made to obtain trace of him.

Ex-Postmaster at Memphis Drowned

MEMPHIS, July 23.—L. W. Dutro, until recently postmaster, a prominent Republican and business man, was drowned late Tuesday afternoon in the Mississippi River while attempting to rescue Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, daughter of a Mrs. Bradford, of Brownsville, Tenn. Mrs. W. F. Brooks, wife of a Selma, Ala., railroad mechanic, a third member of the party, did not go in wading. A step-off in the river bed caused the death of Dutro and Mrs. Gwynne.

Mrs. Gwynne, a handsome brunette worked circulation contests on various Southern papers.

Worries Disappear When You Go to the Bonita Theater

Allen and Kenna, with the Aviation Girls and Fatima Trio, are real dispellers of glooms at the Bonita. With every performance this great combination packs the beautiful little theater, but the many electric fans keep you cool and comfortable. Give your tired body and threadbare nerves a rest by a visit to the Bonita.

BINGHAM SCHOOL'S central purpose for 120 years has been to make Men of Boys. Asheville climate world renowned. Organization Military. Two details from U. S. Army allowed to N. C. The A. & M. College has one, Bingham the other. Target and Gallery practice, with latest U. S. Army Rifles. Lake for Swimming. Summer Camp during July and August. Tuition and Board $150 per Half Term. $300 a year. Address Col. R. Bingham, Box 6, Asheville, N. C.

J. M. High Co

Atlanta's Best Store—the Store for the Masses

Sale of

Men's Sorosis Low Shoes

$5.00 Values . . $3.85

We are cleaning up our stock of Men's Oxfords, so offer all Men's Sorosis $5.00 low shoes for sale at . . . $3.85

(All this week)

All Women's and Children's Sorosis Low Shoes on Sale at greatly reduced prices.

Shoe Department--Annex

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

Lobby War Success, House Doormen Say

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Doorkeepers of the House declare that President Wilson's war on the "insidious lobby" has made lobbyists scarcer than ever before.

They say that whereas lobbyists formerly made dozens of trips during the day to the House chamber with cards of visitors to members, they now make very few such trips.

NEW COLUMBUS DEPOT BEGUN.

COLUMBUS.—A force of men has begun tearing down the old Southern Railway freight depot preparatory to building a new and larger one. A temporary depot is being erected on the site of the old Georgia Midland depot.

Slayer of Feudist Gets Life Sentence

LEXINGTON, July 23.—Andrew Johnson, charged with being one of the men who assassinated Ed Callahan, former noted feudist of the Breathitt County mountains, has been found guilty at Winchester, Ky., and given a life sentence.

Court immediately began the trial of Fletcher Deaton, charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot. Eighteen more will be tried for the actual murder, and twelve others for perjury. These cases are expected to consume five weeks. The feature evidence in each case is that of the woman who traced the murder plots or who heard the conspirators plan the murder.

Senator's Daughter On Socialist Stump

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mrs. Nina Lane McBride, daughter of Senator Lane of Oregon, is in Washington visiting her father. Next month she will commence a tour of the Eastern States, speaking from street corners and in workingmen's halls on the Socialist propaganda.

Mrs. McBride met her husband, who also is a Socialist worker, at a rally of the party in Portland, Oreg. She met him the second time at a hoboes' convention in New Orleans. They were married by a Magistrate.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Remnant Day in the Wash Goods

The Selling Starts at Nine o'Clock

You who know the possibilities of our remnant sales will doubtless be pleased to hear that this one brings even greater savings than the average. You may plan accordingly and you will not be disappointed.

Remnants carry their own guarantee of worth and desirability here at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s—they would never have become short lengths had they not been fabrics that women liked and bought freely when they were full pieces and when prices were regular.

For this sale to-morrow we have rummaged out every semblance of a remnant in the Wash Goods Section and what is more, we have cut prices more vigorously than ever this summer!

What a fine opportunity it means for those seeking materials for dresses, waists, skirts and underwear.

Flaxons
Dimities
Nainsooks
Lawns
Swisses
Piques
Voiles
Lingerie Cloth
Mulls

Savings Are Never Less Than ONE-HALF Often More. Lengths Two to Six Yards

Linen Lawns
Irish Linens
Brown Linens
Linen Sheetings
Pillow Case Linens
Ginghams
Percales
Poplins
Crepes

Twenty-two Lingerie and Crepe de Chine Dresses for Juniors Are $10.75, Reduced from $17.50, $20.00 and $27.50.

---Junior Department

The occasion of this price is that we would clear away these finer dresses—so we invite your help. The lingerie dresses are all white, and all as beautiful as exquisite laces, embroideries and hand-embroidery and ribbons applied and arranged by artists could make them. The crepe de chine dresses are white, light blue and tan. You will find yokes and sleeves touched with little flower boquets and with rich heavy laces. All priced at $10.75, when their worth is measured by $17.50, $20 and $27.50.

Girls' Kimonos, sizes fourteen and eighteen years, in figured and flowered lawns, that were $1.75 and $2.00, are marked for to-morrow $1.00. The smaller sizes, two to twelve years, in crepes and lawns, that were $1.50, are 75c.

There Will Be No More News of Junior Suits Such as This---$10.00 for $20.00 to $30.00 Suits.

Four are white serges that were $27.50. Eight are novelty suits of one shade and style and another—not one of them was less than $20.00, the highest priced was $30.00.

And with these are four misses' three-piece suits, sizes twelve to fourteen years, in blue serge. Very attractively fashioned. These were $22.50. So, in all only sixteen may share these savings.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours.

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

:: A Girl's Room ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly: Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, SHELTON, S. C.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers

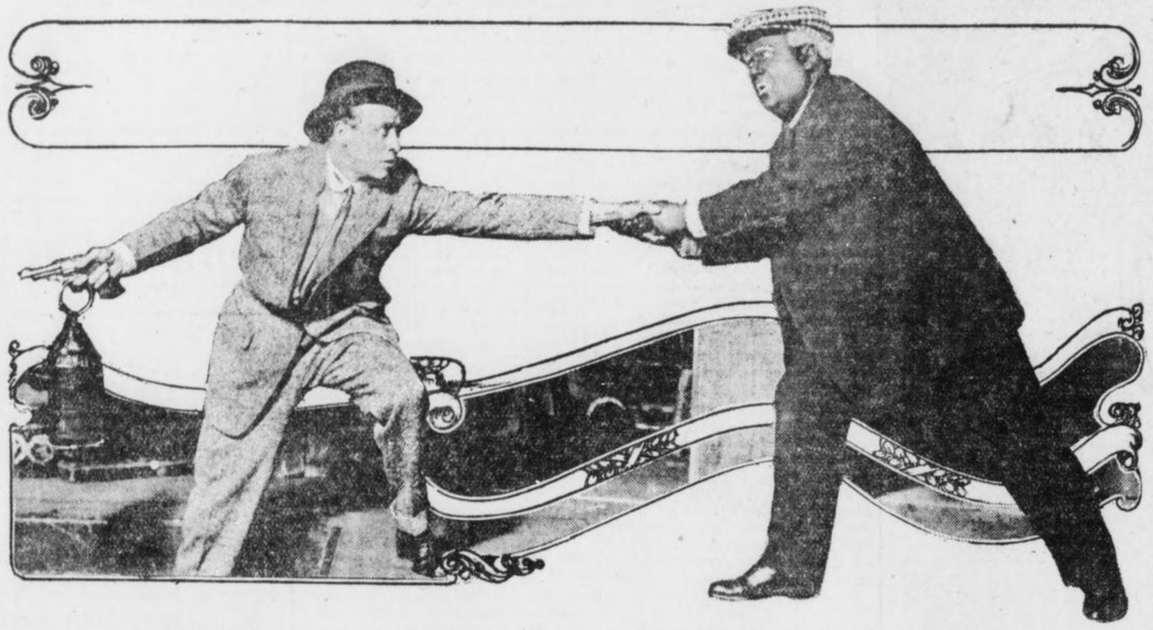
SHELTON, S. C.

E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

The Ghost Breaker

By C. W. Goddard and Paul Dickey

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible asd best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.

Write for illustrated catalogue.—B. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, hats, gloves, little necessities and more follies, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

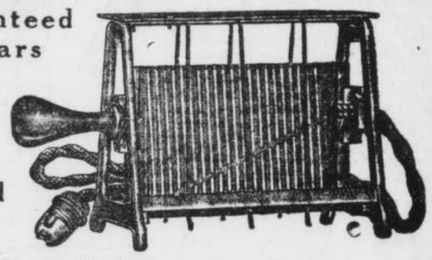
$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years

$1.95 Postpaid



"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

$1.95 Postpaid 3-Year Guarantee

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.

Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.

326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bullhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa. I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

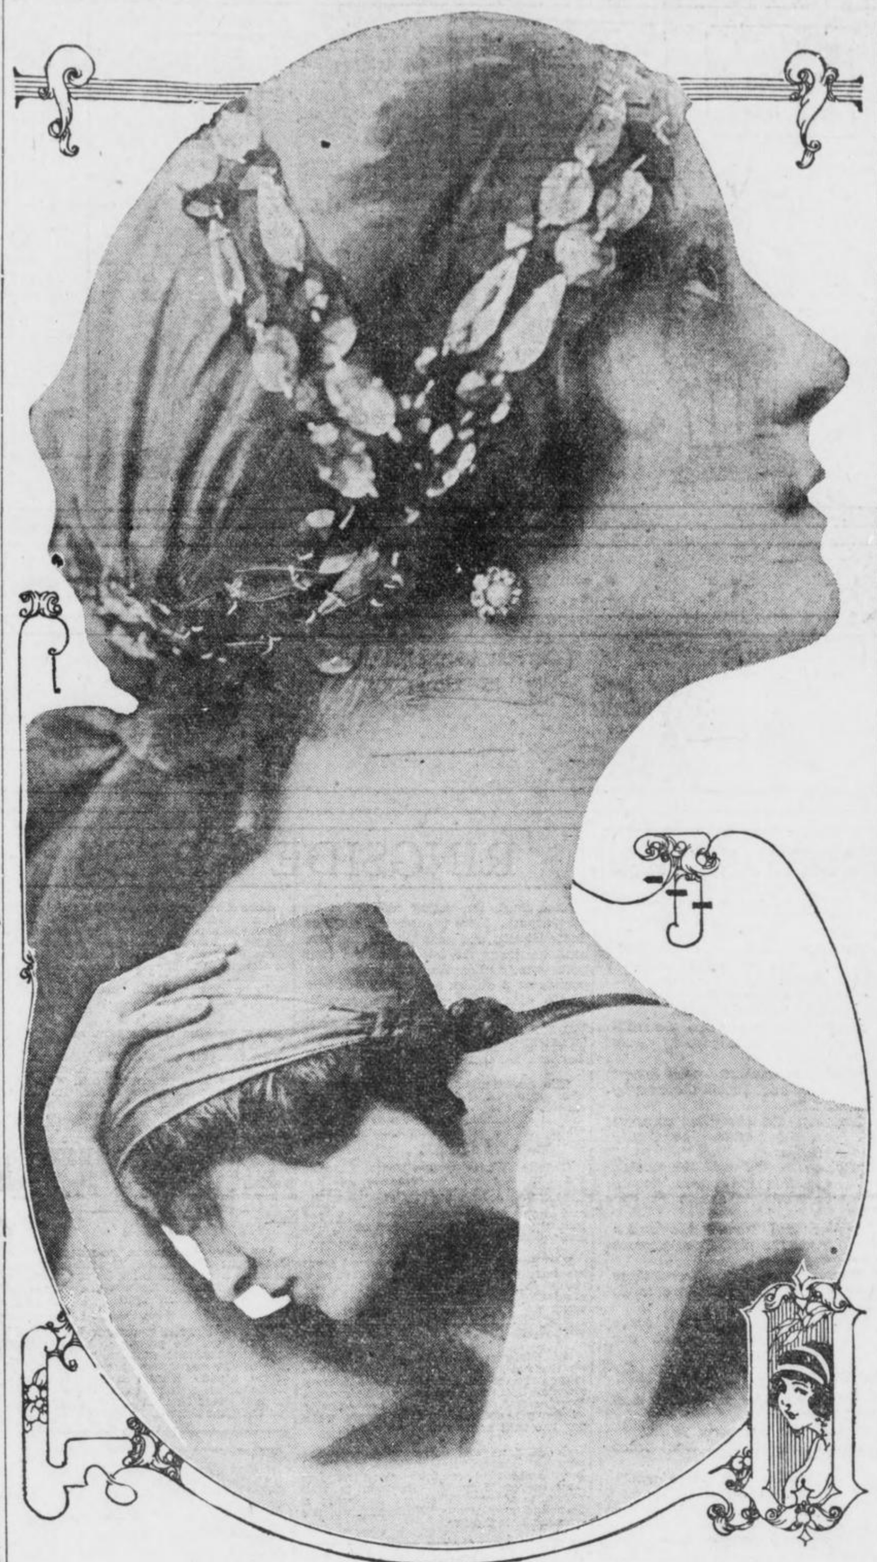
Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.



Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to add an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert. "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science. Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented Girls

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.

The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2042

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 22.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Alibi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermann, of the Reds, set a price of $1,800 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's pater owning about three-fourths of the Island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Havin' only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Junglettes can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a fusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1776 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. And about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship, or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan in sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that, if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with manager like Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing: Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player, was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth, a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb, his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred, and left the baseball yard.
"We can not play against that guy—he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he must hoof it back,
And as he labored down the road a motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats, a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air, he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.

Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.

Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 5, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct		W.	L.	Pct
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.469
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	45	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.

Philadelphia 6-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 8-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
C'land.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.

St Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.556	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.

Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	31	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.

LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 8, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.

Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.

St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.

Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks per chair;
The champion pug was walloping his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stallin'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest slam and knock the rummy out!"
And soft the champion answers as the mutt he gently pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies, and this fight goes twenty rounds!"
Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed message,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweight championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of our West, as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

Jake Abel is to retire from the boxing game. This information comes from Max Abelson, borther of the lightweight battler. Jake has been discouraged from his recent knockout at the hands of Charlie White. However, Abel should remember that many other boys have been handed the same dose by the hard-hitting Chicagoan.

* * *

New Orleans boxing fans are picking Yong Denny to defeat "Wildcat" Ferns when the pair clash at the Pelican City on Labor Day. Ferns and Denny met on July 4 in a ten-round mill with the former getting a slight shade. The coming scrap is billed to go twenty rounds.

Johnny Lore, the Eastern lightweight, is hot after a return go with Frankie Russell. The latter was given a knockout decision in twelve rounds over Lore about two weeks ago when Johnny fell out of the ring. The Eastern boy says he will give Russell a neat side bet if he will consent to meet him again and will cut the purse any way suitable to Russell.

* * *

Joe Levy is after a re-match with Champion Ritchie, but if such a proposition is not forthcoming he is willing to send the Mexican against the winner of the Baldwn-Cross fight.

* * *

Sammy Harris, manager of "Kid" Williams will be presented by McCarey with the diamond-studden belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship of the world. Harris says he will keep Williams on a farm until August, when he will start him on his training grind for the Campi bout.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the finals.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 305 yards into the cup.

International League.

Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced."
Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. We for out-of-town customers.
Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH
July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL CAPSULES MIDY
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER
Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name (MIDY)
Beware of counterfeits

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at Home or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. M. WOOLLEY, 24-N, Vickis Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia

Pacific Northwest

offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.

Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.

Excellent Daily Trains

from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.

The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.

Union Pacific

STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST

Heavy double tracks—dustless roadbed—Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.

Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.

A. J. DUTCHER, G. A.
908 Olive Street
St. Louis, Mo.

C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A.
620 Woodward Bldg.
Birmingham, Ala.

2546

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOSSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 76 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, 1b.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	3	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

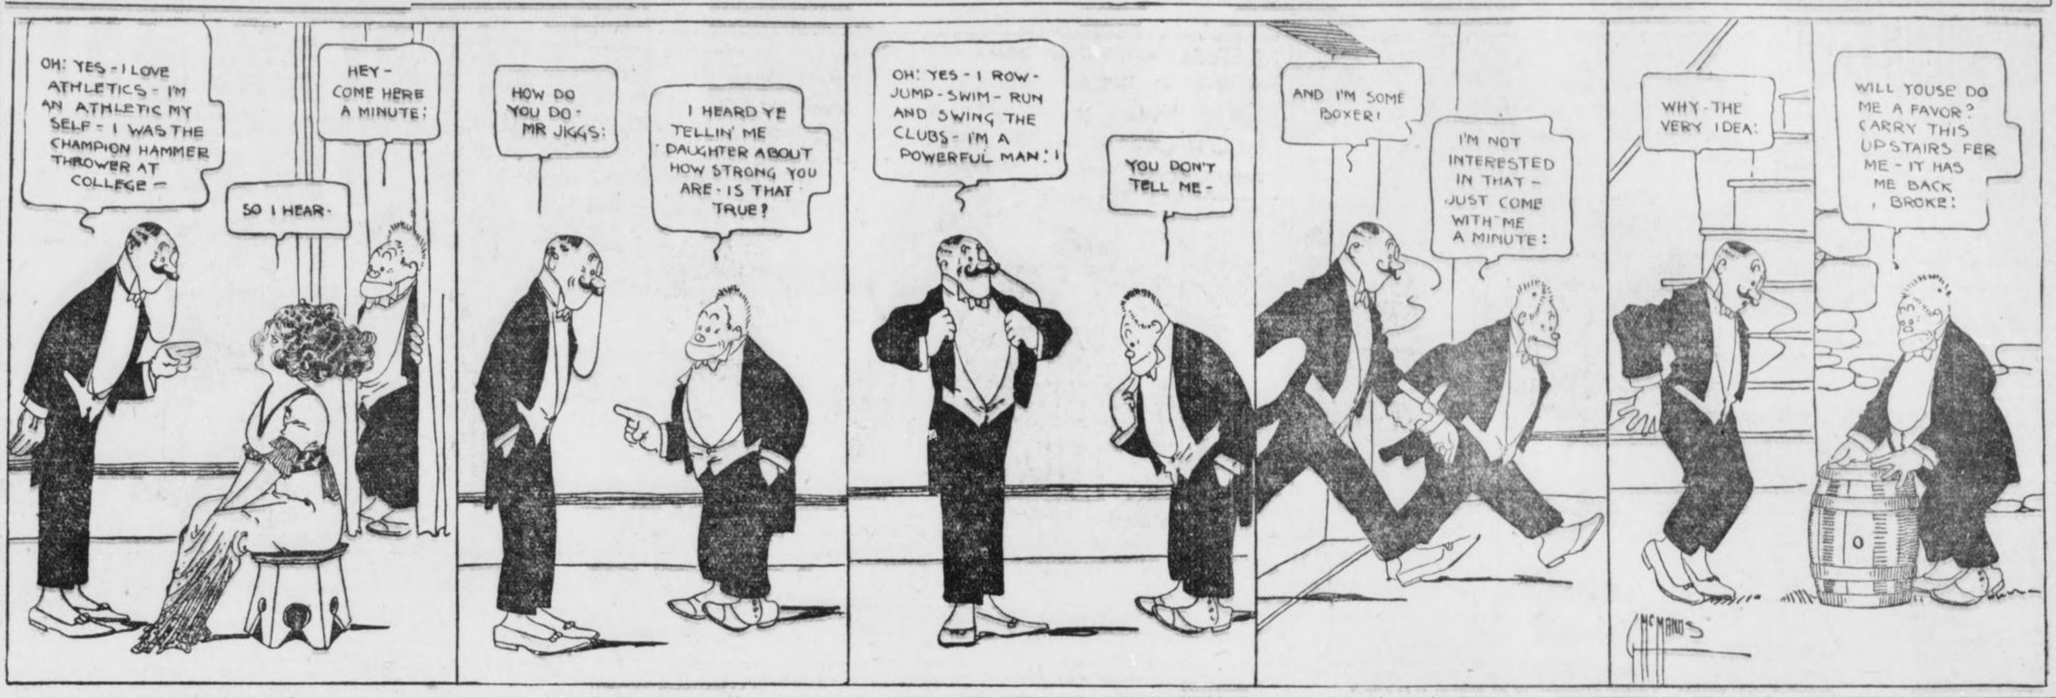
FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE. CLEAN. COOL. COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great
LES MISERABLES
Nine Reels—4 Acts
MATINEE 25c
NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus



Us Boys

Registered United States Patent Office

Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Puebloan.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—it musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs. Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet tonight at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Sperl and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover, of South Boston, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders travelling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jock McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 33 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-fought-for honors untilnext year, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the rudest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

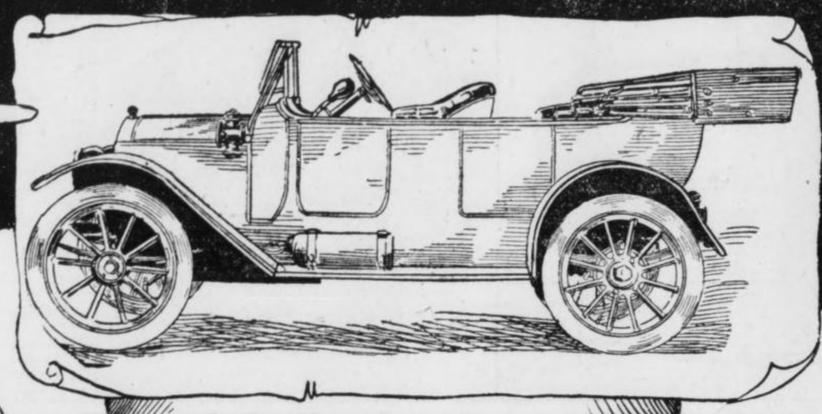
ITCHING PILES
Every sufferer from itching piles should read these words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was
Cured by Tetterine
For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure.
Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.
50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

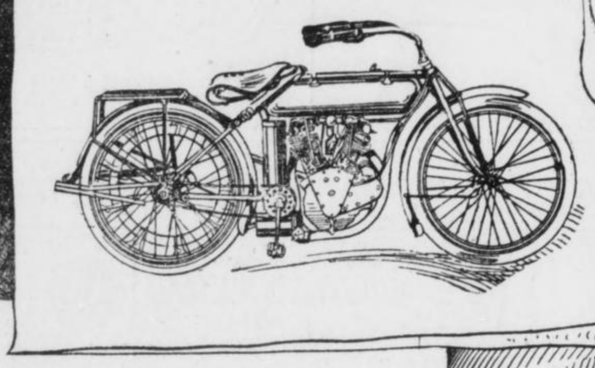
Big Reduction IN Dental Work
GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.
Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth Best That Money Can Buy $5.00
We Use the Best Methods of Painless Dentistry
Atlanta Dental Parlors
Cor. Peachtree & Decatur Sts.
Entrance 19 1-2 Peachtree St.

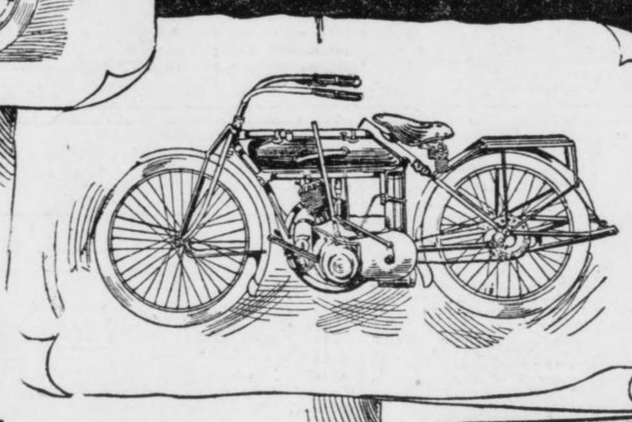
TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, get my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 746 M., New York, N. Y.

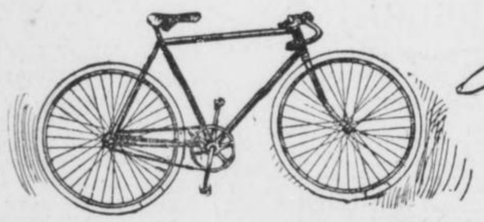
MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

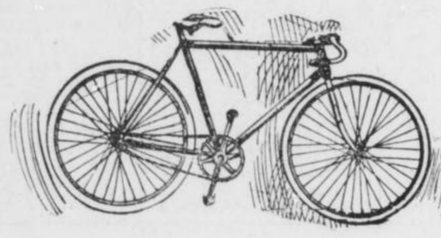
LOOK! AT THE FINE THINGS YOU CAN GET FREE!

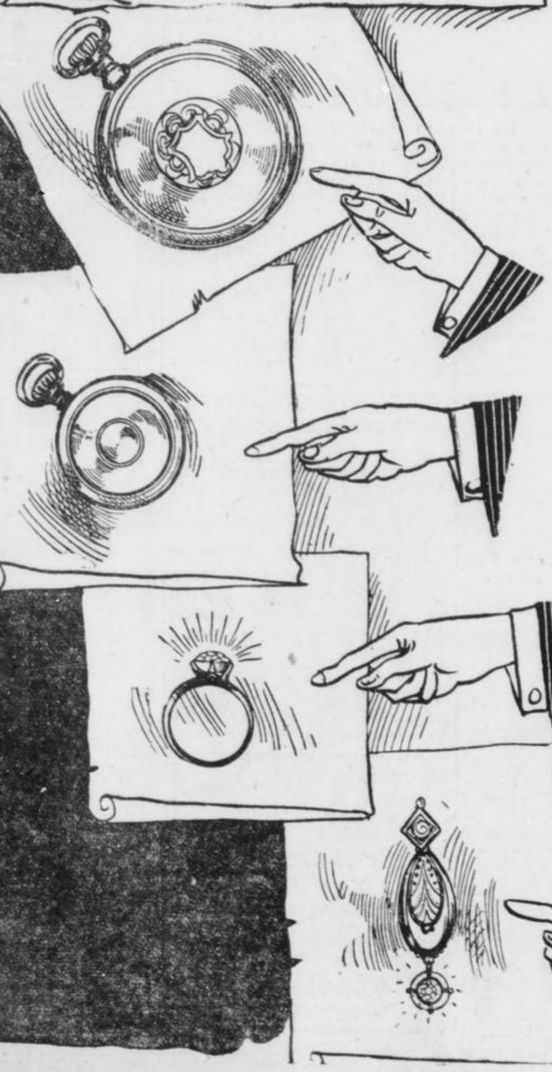


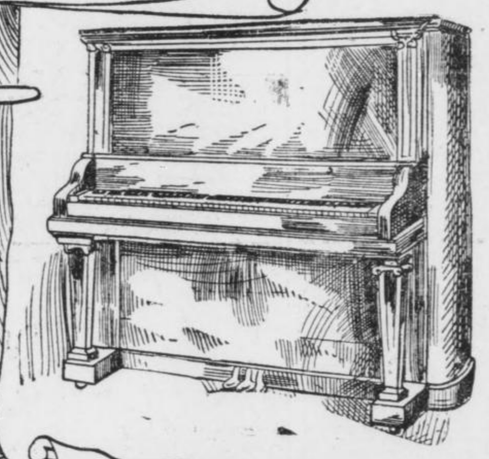












READY!

The Want Ad Contest Starts To-morrow

Contestants Will Begin Securing Want Ads in the Big Prize Contest

Rules: Ten contest votes will be given for every cent turned in to the want-ad man in payment for ads at the following rate:

One insertion 10 cents a line; two insertions 7 1-2 cents a line; three insertions 6 cents a line; 7 insertions 5 cents a line. Minimum 20 cents. Count six average length words to the line.

Receipts will be given for every cent turned in. Contestants will drop ballot blank in box at district headquarters or main office.

All Ready For Big Want Ad Contest

District Headquarters Open Thursday and Contestants Will Report There For Start

Well, we're off to-morrow. The Georgian's Want Ad Contest is all ready, the contestants are waiting for the word, and the want ads will commence coming in to-morrow. There is still time for you to enter, if you're over 14 years old and less than 90, but you'd better start Thursday and be even with the others.

Listen: The Want Ad Man has made arrangements with four of the best located and most progressive drug stores in Atlanta for space to be used as district headquarters, and contestants need not come all the way to the uptown office to begin work.

Come to the headquarters of the district in which you live, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. You may work anywhere in the city you like, but will be directed from the district where your home is. They are as follows:

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS

DISTRICT NO. 1—North of Marietta and West of Peachtree, Taylor Bros. Drug Store, 191 West Peachtree Street.

DISTRICT NO. 2—North of Decatur Street and east of Peachtree, including Kirkwood, Decatur and Eastern Suburbs; Ponce DeLeon Pharmacy corner Ponce DeLeon and North Boulevard.

DISTRICT NO. 3—South of Decatur Street and east of Whitehall, Paragon Pharmacy, Capitol Avenue and Georgia Avenue.

DISTRICT NO. 4—South of Marietta Street and west of Whitehall, including West End, College Park, East Point and Battle Hill; Medlock's Pharmacy, Gordon and Lee Streets.

Experienced District Managers will meet you, with blanks, instructions as to details, helpful hints for work and every aid to enable you to get business without trouble. If you have not already entered, have the nomination blank on another page of this issue filled out and present it to the District Manager.

Remember, the first prize is a splendid new model Automobile, and others range from a handsome piano, or a trip to California, down through motorcycles, bicycles, gold watches and diamonds. You can surely win something if you'll try and keep trying. And more than that, you'll learn to "sell the goods," the most valuable business training a young man or woman can possibly have.

Don't fail to see the District Managers at the headquarters to-morrow. Clip this out and remember the address of your headquarters.

NOW, GO IN AND WIN!

It isn't too late to enter. Fill out this Nomination blank and bring it with you Thursday ☛

Nomination Coupon — 1,000 VOTES

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)

as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED

Optimistic Trade Boosters From Throughout Georgia Namee Executive Committee.

Voicing their belief that a new era of prosperity is dawning for Georgia, more than 75 representatives of trade and commercial bodies of various towns and counties in the State met at the headquarters of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning and took the first steps in an organization of a great State commercial organization, to be known as the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. C. J. Haden, chairman of the special committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which called the statewide meeting, presided.

The convention unanimously and enthusiastically adopted resolutions prepared by a committee on temporary organization, headed by C. G. Bradley, of Madison, that the new State organization be formed. The resolutions provided for the naming of an executive committee of seven, with C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, as chairman, to take charge of the active work of organization. This committee, which Mr. Haden announced he will appoint within two weeks, will name a vice president for each county in the State that is affiliated with the central organization, a secretary and treasurer, and will have charge of the work of securing a charter for the State chamber and the drafting of a constitution and by-laws.

Next Meet in Macon.

The next meeting of the State organization will be held in Macon, Ga., at the pleasure of the executive committee. This meeting probably will not be called until the committee has completed its work of securing a charter and drafting the constitution and by-laws. A president will be elected at the Macon meeting, which, it is hoped, will be attended by not less than 300 representatives of commercial bodies.

Considerable discussion developed in the selection of the next place of meeting, with Atlanta and Macon as the contending cities. The tide was turned in favor of Macon when Mayor Woodward of Atlanta, President Moore of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and other prominent Atlantans declared that the Central Georgia city should be given the preference over Atlanta.

Not an Atlanta Move.

"We must show the people of Georgia that this is not solely an Atlanta movement," declared Mayor Woodward, "and that we are willing to work for the good of the whole State as much as we are willing to work for Atlanta. This movement must be made State-wide to attain its proper measure of success, and it can not be made State-wide if the people become imbued with the idea that it is strictly an Atlanta affair. By all means the next meeting should be held in Macon, and if possible future meetings, at least until the Chamber of Commerce has become thoroughly established should be held in various cities throughout the State."

The question of where the meetings of the State organization shall be held will not be definitely decided until the Macon meeting. It is probable that the executive committee will submit, at that time, recommendations as to the regular meetings of the State body. Chairman Haden is of the opinion that the meetings, at least for a year or two, should not be held at any one place twice in succession.

Speeches Full of Optimism.

A number of optimistic addresses, expressing a firm belief in the future of Georgia and in the State Chamber of Commerce as a method of development, were delivered during the Wednesday morning session. Among the speakers were prominent business men from all over the State and several representatives of railroads that do business in Georgia, all of whom pledged their support and the support of their corporations to the new movement.

V. N. Richards, of Washington, of the Southern Railway, and J. A. Pride, of Norfolk, Va., representing the Seaboard Air Line, were among the railroad men who addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Dan G. Hughes, of Twiggs County; Philip G. Campbell, of Atlanta, founder of the "Corn Club" movement; Robert Maddox, of Atlanta; R. D. Cole, of Newnan; C. D. McKinney, of Decatur, and C. G. Bradley, of Morgan County.

At 1 o'clock the visiting delegates were entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City Club, as guests of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

MACON, July 23.—Macon labor union men instead of the customary street parade will have a basket picnic at Lakeside Park on Labor Day. Special trains will be operated to the park.

WHY, CHARLES ROBBINS!

THOMSON, CONN., July 23.—Nine days after he had been presented with a baby carriage as a premium for getting married, Charles S. Robbins, 60, sued for a divorce.

O. M. TIFT DIES AT TIFTON.

TIFTON.—Orville M. Tift died Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eliza C. Tift, postmaster at Tifton. He was a son of the late W. O. Tift, of Tifton. The funeral was held in Tifton this afternoon.

2,000 Teamsters on Strike in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 23.—Two thousand teamsters went on strike today as the result of the order of the union yesterday, following the break between the men and the members of the employers' association.

The only teamsters not affected are the bakery and ice wagon drivers, whose grievances were recently adjusted.

PRESSMAN BANKRUPT.

Roger Lawson Speer, a pressman, Wednesday in the United States District Court filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $509.45 with assets of $100.

House Still Toils With Funds Bill

The House gave three hours to the consideration of the general appropriations bill Wednesday and managed to get through nine pages. Only one change was made in the report of the committee. This was the adoption of an amendment by John Y. Smith, of Atlanta, increasing the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

At 10 o'clock the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole and took up the appropriations bill, with Speaker Pro Tem McMichael in the chair. An obstacle was met in the adoption of Section 1 and Section 1-A, which provides for the salaries of Statehouse officers, in amendments offered by Representative Ed Wohlwender. The Representative from Muscogee wanted to know whether any of the Statehouse officers were receiving fees, and it took an hour's discussion for the other members to convince him that everyone was on the salary basis. He offered two amendments, but withdrew both.

In the appropriations bill no objection was made to amounts set aside for the colleges of Georgia, as published in The Georgian several days ago.

When the House takes up the bill Thursday it will begin with the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the public schools of the State. This is the exact amount as paid out to country school teachers this year, which is more than $100,000 under the actual expense incurred and the amount appropriated by the last Legislature.

Anthony N. Brady Dead in London

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady, New York financier, died last night in his rooms at the Hotel Charlton of heart disease.

Mr. Brady, whose fortune is estimated at $100,000,000, arrived in London from New York two weeks ago. It is believed grief over the death of his daughter in a wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Westport, Conn., last October, hastened his end.

Louis Sherry, the New York restaurant man, who was with Mr. Brady, has arranged to ship the body back to America to-morrow on the liner Olympic.

Won Vast Fortune in Business in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady was 70 years old. He was born in France of Irish parents. Early in his boyhood he came to America and worked as bartender in Albany.

A short time later he decided to go into business. With his savings he started a tea and coffee store. He soon controlled the tea and coffee industry in Albany and Troy, N. Y., and branched out through the State.

Then he went into Wall Street and became known as one of the most daring speculators in the street. He was a director or an officer in more than 60 corporations.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfeld, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Government Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1915 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

2,000 ATTEND REVIVAL.

DALTON.—A crowd of 2,000 persons attended a revival meeting conducted by Rev. E. B. Farrar in North Dalton Tuesday night. The services are being held in a tent.

FARMERS MEET AT DALTON.

DALTON.—About 200 farmers attended the farm school at the courthouse Tuesday, the attendance being larger than at any previous meeting. Organization of the Whitfield County Farmers' Institute was perfected by the election of D. Puryear, president, and C. L. Foster, secretary.

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under strict surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha',
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha', hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pret-

COTTON GOSSIP

The market has been very weak all day on predictions of unsettled weather with showers over the western belt. The selling for a while was general with no special support. The weakness of the July position in New Orleans has also caused selling here. Some of those who have been identified with the bull side for the past two weeks were among the sellers, though they are buying now on the decline and express the belief that the market should be bought on soft spots regardless of weather conditions, especially with the spot situation so acute. Though you hear a great many bearish expressions to the effect that we have seen the high level for some time to come.—J. M. Anderson.

* * *

Warehouse stocks in New York to-day 31,821; certificated 23,341 bales.

* * *

Riordan sold 4,000 bales of January at 11.25.

* * *

Bishop, Texas, says: "More cotton pickers in demand and Mexican rebels and federals coming for the purpose. Cotton opening fast on 700-acre farm, promising bale to the acre."

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas generally clear. Oklahoma—North portion cloudy; balance clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows very favorable conditions; cloudy over entire eastern half of the belt and Oklahoma. Fair in rest of the belt. Splendid rains in the Eastern States and Alabama, nice showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.29; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market, in session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to the ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be retendered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now showing up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There will be thundershowers to-night or Thursday in the Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Ohio Valley and showers to-night in the lower Lake region, followed by generally fair weather Thursday. In the upper Lake region the weather will be generally fair. It will be somewhat cooler in the Lake region.

General Forecast.

General forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Georgia—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Virginia—Showers to-night or Thursday.

North and South Carolina—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Alabama and Mississippi—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Louisiana—Fair except showers in the southwest and east portions to-night or Thursday.

East Texas—Fair in interior; showers on coast to-night or Thursday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and Thursday.

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, nominal; middling 12¾.
Athens, steady; middling 11⅞
Macon, steady; middling 12½.
New Orleans, quiet; middling 12 7-16.
New York, quiet; middling 12.40.
Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.65.
Boston, quiet; middling 12.40.
Liverpool, quiet; middling 6.69d.
Savannah, firm; middling 12c.
Augusta, steady; middling 12¾.
Norfolk, steady; middling 12½.
Charleston, steady; middling 12 5-16.
Charleston, nominal.
Mobile, steady; middling 12c.
Wilmington, quiet; middling 12c.
Little Rock, steady; middling 12c.
Baltimore, nominal; middling 12½.
Memphis, quiet; middling 12⅝.
Memphis, steady; middling 12¾.
St. Louis, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Houston, quiet; middling 12 5-16.
Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.
Charlotte, steady; middling 12c.
Greenville, steady; middling 12c.

MILLER-COTTER COTTON LETTER.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Influence of excellent rains in Atlantic States was felt in the market. With showers predicted for Texas the outlook is quite encouraging to crop. Sentiment is more bearish, and selling would probably be free if rains come over the Southwest. Otherwise, the market may wait on further developments without material decline.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞; Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27½d, up 1-16d.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 23.—October was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day, selling up 12 points. Later months were in demand from speculators. Crude mills are very firm in their views, and are offering very sparingly at about half a cent above the market.

Refiners continue moderate buyers of old crop oil, this demand forcing the price up. On the advance there were moderate realizing sales, which caused a setback in October and November of 4 to 5 points.

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot	.....	6.40
July	9.25@9.40	9.34@9.50
August	9.32@9.36	9.44@9.46
September	9.40@9.43	9.43@9.50
October	8.26@8.28	8.34@8.38
November	6.91@6.94	6.99@7.00
December	6.73@6.74	6.78
January	6.72@6.75	6.76
February	6.70@6.78	6.71@6.73

Closed strong; sales 14,800 barrels.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Money on call 2½. Time money unchanged; 60 days, 3¾@4; 90 days, 4½; six months, 6 per cent.

Posted rates, sterling exchange, 4.84@4.87½ with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8675@4.8680 for demand and 4.8320 for 60-day bills.

Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The tone showed a slight improvement at the metal market to-day. Copper: Spot, 13⅜; July, 13⅜@14⅛; August, 13⅜@14⅛; September, 13⅜@14⅛. Tin, 4.62½; lead,

COTTON DROPS ON WEATHER OUTLOOK

Bull Clique Liquidates When Longs Curtail Holdings—Buying Light—No Support.

NEW YORK, July 23.—With cables at a point or so better than had been expected and no rain in either Texas or Oklahoma, the cotton market opened quiet and steady to-day, with prices showing irregularity, being 2 off to 3 points higher than the closing quotations of Tuesday. Barometric conditions as shown on the map did not indicate any rain in prospect for the Western belt, resulting in most active positions increasing their gains 2 to 4 points from the initial level.

Cotton bulls received another jolt after the call when another drop of 30 points in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the market. July New Orleans dropped from 12.00 to 11.70, while August followed with a loss of 25 points. This, together with the late map showing unsettled weather condition in the Western belt, was about the only interesting feature. With the exception of scattered trade buying, the market was friendless and prices droped 6 to 12 points from the opening. July and August were the heaviest pressed, both declining 12 points. The selling was generally accredited to holders of long contracts, who were tired of waiting for the market to pull out of the rut.

During the afternoon session Memphis operators were reported sellers on the rumor that the National Ginners Association gave the crop 82 per cent, compared with the Government figures of July 3, of 81.8, which would indicate a slight improvement for the month. This brought out a renewal of the early selling sufficiently to maintain prices around the low point.

The market closed steady with prices at a net decline of 9 to 12 points from Tuesday's final.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: August 11.96, October 11.40, January 11.28.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: July 11.85, August 11.78, October 11.44, January 11.44.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Thursday.	1912
New Orleans	400 to 450	750

Semi-weekly interior movement:

	1913.	1912	1911
Receipts	3,321	2,544	3,152
Shipments	10,380	7,583	3,664
Stocks	117,687	79,658	62,148

RANGE IN NEW YORK FUTURES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	12.16	12.16	12.03	12.04	12.04-05	12.15-16
Ag	12.00	12.02	11.88	11.89	11.89-90	12.01-02
Spt	11.68	11.68	11.58	11.59	11.57-58	11.67-69
Oc	11.45	11.48	11.36	11.36	11.36-37	11.45-46
Nv	.....	.....	.....	11.33	11.28-30	11.38-40
Dc	11.37	11.41	11.29	11.34	11.29-30	11.39-40
Jn	11.34	11.36	11.23	11.24	11.23-24	11.33-34
Fb	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.25-26	11.34-36
Mh	11.43	11.43	11.31	11.31	11.31-32	11.41-42
My	11.46	11.46	11.38	11.38	11.33-35	11.43-45

Closed steady

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—This market was due 2½ points lower on near positions and 4 to 4½ points lower on distant months, but opened quiet at a net decline of 2 to 3 points; at 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet, at a net decline of 3 to 4 points.

Fair business doing in spot cotton at 3 points decline; middling 6.69d; sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American bales; imports 1,000 bales, of which none were American.

At 1 p. m. the close the market was steady with prices at a net decline of 4½ to 5 points from the final quotations of Tuesday.

Futures opened easier.

	Opening Range.	2 P.M.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	6.45	6.43½	6.42½	6.47
July-Aug.	6.44½	6.43½	6.42	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	6.36½	6.36	6.34½	6.39½
Sept.-Oct.	6.22	6.21½	6.20	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Dec.-Jan.	6.15½	.....	6.11	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	6.13	6.12½	6.11	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	6.14	.....	6.12½	6.17
Mch.-Apr.	6.15½	6.15½	6.13½	6.18
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.14½	6.19
May-June	6.18	.....	6.15½	6.20

Closed steady.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—There were good and rather general rains over night in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina; showers fell in Louisiana and Mississippi. Galveston, Tex., had a good rain, but there was little in the interior of the State. Indications are for clearing weather in the Atlantics, cloudy in the Central and Western States; more general showers in the Central belt, and also in the Eastern section of Texas and Western Oklahoma. More general rains are indicated for the Western States toward Saturday.

Liverpool was about as due and quotes spots 3 points lower; sales, 8,000 bales. Futures weakened toward the close on better weather news.

Our market opened at unchanged figures, but soon gave way on the Government forecast of unsettled weather and showers for the Western States. August showed the greatest decline, probably consequence of hedge selling against spots. Trading settled around 11.42 for October. While there is no pronounced supporting demand from the trade, selling is conservative to avoid defeat on technical conditions.

New York advises that freight room for 4,000 bales to be shipped out of the local stock to Liverpool has been canceled, and that some cotton is coming there for delivery on July.

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS FUTURES

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	12.00	12.00	11.70	11.75	11.71-75	12.00-01
Ag	11.95	11.95	11.69	11.70	11.70-71	11.94-95
Spt	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44-47	11.55-57
Oc	11.51	11.52	11.40	11.41	11.41-42	11.50-51
Nv	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.38-40	11.48-49
Dc	11.48	11.50	11.37	11.40	11.38-40	11.48-49
Jn	11.51	11.51	11.40	11.41	11.41-42	11.50-51
Fb	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.39-40	11.46-49
Mh	11.54	11.54	11.48	11.48	11.48-50	11.55-61
My	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.53-55	11.65-68

Closed steady.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	1,147	601
Galveston	995	262
Mobile	2	52
Savannah	135	127
Charleston	51	.....
Norfolk	764	238
New York	.....	102
Boston	.....	8
Pacific coast	231	.....
Total	3,327	1,390

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	750	128
Augusta	78	155
Memphis	418	761
St. Louis	398	79
Cincinnati	155	1,084
Total	1,799	2,207

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

A. Norden & Co.: We favor buying on breaks such as we had yesterday.

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We continue to favor purchases on such dips as we had yesterday.

Miller & Co.: We anticipate further recession, but believe in buying into the [illegible] when these come along.

COPPER STOCKS HEAVILY BOUGHT

Big Issues Readily Absorbed by Strong Sources Who Disregard Temporary Fluctuations.

By CHARLES W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lower prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market to-day, with the exception of the copper shares which ruled strong.

Canadian Pacific showed a loss of a point in response to a similar decline in the London market. Other industrial issues yielded fractionally, but the recessions were not accompanied by any indications of weakness, and as the leader the one developed after the first few minutes of trading.

United States Government 2s showed a further decline this morning, 10,000 of the bonds selling at 96¾, a decrease of ⅛.

The London market was dull.

Trading on the curb was steady.

The tone continued dull through the forenoon and all around fractional losses were recorded. Canadian Pacific dropped ¼, a net loss of 1¼. Steel, New York, New Haven and Hartford and Union Pacific declined ½. Petroleum was the most prominent in the declines, losing 1¼ since the opening. Changes in other issues were in the form of fractional declines.

Call money loaning at 2¼.

The market closed strong. Governmetn bonds strong; other bonds firm.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCKS.	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.
Amal. Cop.	69¼	68¼	69¼	68⅝
Am. Agri.	.....	.....	.....	.....
A. B. Sugar.	24⅝	24¼	24	24¼
Am. Can	32⅝	31⅝	32	32⅝
do. pfd.	93¼	92½	92⅝	92⅝
Am. C. Fdy.	44⅝	43¾	43⅝	43⅝
A. Cot. Oil	38	38	37	37½
Am. Ice	22	22	20	.....
Am. Loco.	.....	.....	30	30
Am. Smelt.	62⅜	62	62⅜	62½
Am. Sugar	111⅜	111⅜	110	111½
A. T. and T.	128¼	128¼	128	127⅞
Am. Wool	.....	.....	16½	16½
Anaconda	34½	34⅛	34½	34¼
Atchison	98	97½	97½	98
A. C. L.	.....	.....	117	117
B. and O.	98	98	98	97⅝
Beth. Steel	33¼	32½	33¼	32⅜
B. R. T.	87⅜	87¼	87½	87⅜
Can. Pacific	218½	217¼	217½	219¼
Cen. Leath.	57	52⅝	53⅜	54
C. and O.	54	53¼	53⅜	54
C. F. and I.	30⅜	30⅜	29½	30⅝
Col. Sou.	.....	.....	30½	30½
Con. Gas	.....	.....	130⅜	130½
Corn Prod.	10⅛	9⅞	.....	10¼
D. and H.	.....	.....	.....	153
D. and R. G.	18⅜	18⅜	17½	18½
Dis. Secu.	.....	.....	.....	.....
Erie	26⅜	26¼	26¼	26⅝
do. pfd.	40⅜	40	40¼	40¼
Gen. Elec.	140¼	139⅜	139½	140
G. N. pfd.	124¼	123⅞	124	124⅛
G. N. O.	33½	33½	33½	33½
Gt. West.	14	14	13	14¼
Ill. Cen.	113½	113½	113¼	112⅝
Interboro.	15⅜	15½	15½	15⅝
do. pfd.	59	58¼	58½	59
Int. Har. (old)	.....	.....	106¼	106
Iowa Cen.	.....	.....	7	7
K. C. S.	27⅛	27⅛	27¼	27¼
M., K. and T.	22⅜	21⅜	22⅜	21⅜
do. pfd.	.....	.....	59	58
L. Valley	149	148¼	148¼	149½
L. and N.	133	132⅜	132½	132⅝
Mo. Pacific	31⅜	31½	31½	31½
N. Y. Central	98¼	98	97⅞	98
Northwest.	128½	128¼	128½	128½
Nat. Lead.	.....	.....	41½	.....
N. and W.	104⅞	104¾	104½	105
No. Pacific.	108⅞	108⅜	108⅛	108½
O. and W.	29¼	29	28⅜	29
Penna.	113⅞	113⅜	113⅜	113⅝
Pacific Mail	.....	.....	19	19½
P. Gas Co.	112⅜	112¼	112	.....
P. Steel Car.	.....	.....	24½	24½
Reading.	160⅜	159⅞	160⅛	160⅝
R. I. and Steel	24⅜	24	24	23⅞
do. pfd.	86¼	85	85	86½
Rock Island.	16½	16¼	16¼	16⅝
do. pfd.	.....	.....	27	27
S.-Sheffield.	.....	.....	25	25
So. Pacific.	92⅜	92¼	92¼	96⅝
So. Railway	22⅞	22½	22⅜	22⅜
do. pfd.	.....	.....	77¼	77
St. Paul.	104⅜	104½	104⅜	104⅜
Tenn. Copper.	29⅞	29¼	29½	29⅜
Texas Pacific.	14⅜	14⅜	14⅜	14½
Union Pacific.	148⅛	147¼	147½	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60	59	58⅜	.....
U. S. Steel.	56⅞	56⅝	56½	56⅞
do. pfd.	106⅜	106⅜	106¼	106½
Utah Copper.	45½	45¼	45½	44⅝
V.-C. Chem.	25½	25½	24½	25½
Wabash.	.....	.....	2½	2½
do. pfd.	6⅞	6⅞	6¾	6¾
W. Union	.....	.....	63¼	62¼
W. Maryland.	.....	.....	.....	40½
W. Electric	62	61½	61½	62¼
W. Central.	.....	.....	43	43

Total sales, 192,000 shares.

STOCK GOSSIP

While the market has a reactionary tendency, do not look for any decline of consequence. There seems to be a steady accumulation of the better class of stocks on all recessions by the large interests, who buy for a long pull and disregard temporary fluctuations. Prices of dividend-paying issues are low, and if present crop prospects materialize at harvest time, we look for a continuation of large earnings for railroads, and a higher range of values before the end of the year.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The news from the Balkans is not inspiring. Foreign traders are disposed to take profit.

* * *

Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Texas, submits a rival currency bill to President Wilson.

* * *

The New Haven may select a new president to-day or Thursday.

* * *

The express rate decision may be rendered to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads may be denied advance, but may be ordered to discontinue high allowance paid to industrial corp. switching railroads, thereby saving $42,000,000 a year, says The American.

* * *

Information channels favor profit-taking.

* * *

The Erie Railroad agreed to join other roads in accepting any arbitration award, but will ask men to defer effective date until January 1, 1915.

* * *

It is reported that the United Cigar Company will open a London branch.

* * *

New Haven Railroad earned between 5 and 5½ per cent in 1913 and paid 7½ per cent dividends.

* * *

Weld & Co. are offering $1,370,000 Baltimore and Ohio mortgage 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds at 89 and interest to yield about 4⅝ per cent.

MINING STOCKS.

BOSTON, July 23.—Opening: Calariz, 62½; New Haven, 102⅜; Allouez, 33½; Sheet Machine, 46½; Calumet Hecla, [illegible]; Butte Superior, 27⅜; Quincy, 60.

Atlanta Markets

EGGS—Fresh country, candled, 16@17c.

BUTTER—Jersey and creamery, in 1-lb. blocks 27½@30c; fresh country, fair demond, 15@18c.

UNDRAWN POULTRY—Drawn, head and feet on, per pound: Hens, 12c; fries, 22½@24; roosters, 8@10c; turkeys, owing to fatness, 17@19c.

LIVE POULTRY—Hens, 40@45; roosters, 30@35c; broilers, 25@30c per pound; puddle ducks, 30@35c; Pekins, 35@40c; geese, 50@60c each; turkeys, owing to fatness, 15@17c.

FRUITS AND PRODUCE.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—Lemons, fancy, $8.00@9.00; cauliflower, 10@12½c lb.; bananas, 2½c lb; cabbage, $2.00 per crate; peanuts, per pound, fancy virginia, 6½@7c; choice, 5½@6c; beets, $1.75@2.00 in half-barrel crates; cucumbers, $1.25@1.50. Eggplants 75c @1.00 per crate; peppers, $1.25@1.50 per crate; tomatoes, fancy, six-basket crates, $2.00@2.50; onions, $1.00 per bu.; sweet potatoes, pumpkin yams, 80@85c. okra, fancy, six-basket crates, $1.50@1.75.

FISH.

FISH—Bream and perch, 7c pound; snapper, 10c pound; trout, 10c pound; bluefish, 7c pound; pompano, 20c pound; mackerel, 7c pound; mixed fish, 5@6c pound; black bass, 10c pound; mullet, $11.00 per barrel.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR—Postell's Elegant, $7.75; Omega, $7.00; Carter's Best, $6.25; Quality (finest patent), $6.40; Gloria (self-rising), $6.00; Results (self-rising), $6; Swans Down (fancy patent), $6.00; Victory (the very best patent), $6.40; Monogram, $6.00; Puritan (highest patent), $5.65; Golden Grain, $5.60; Faultless (finest patent), $6.25;

To Gain Your Goal With The Greatest Speed,

A Home In "Dixie"

In city, town or country can be found just the place you are looking for if you will read the Real Estate and "Want Ad" section of this newspaper. These ads are the guide posts to wealth and happiness.

Want Anything?

TELEPHONE

Main / Atlanta 100

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion .....10c a line
3 insertion ..... 6c a line
7 insertions .... 5c a line
30 insertions ....4½c a line
90 insertions .... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

TELEPHONE

Both / Phones 100

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE "SOUTH."

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed.

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
29	Birmingh'm ....12 01 am	26	New York....12:15 am
35	New York ..... 5:00 am	26	Columbus .... 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville .. 5:20 am	13	Cincinnati .... 6:40 am
31	Washington .... 6:25 am	32	Fort Valley.. 6:50 am
12	Shreveport .... 6:30 am	35	Birmingh'm .. 5:50 am
16	Hollin ..... 8:20 am	7	Chattn'ga .... 6:40 am
26	New York..... 8:58 am	12	Richmond .... 6:55 am
6	Chattn'ga ..... 10:35 am	23	Kansas City.. 7:00 am
8	Macon ..... 10:40 am	16	Brunswick .... 7:45 am
27	Fort Valley..10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm .. 11:30 am
32	Columbus .... 10:50 am	28	New York.. 11:01 am
6	Cincinnati .... 11:10 am	40	Charlotte .... 12:00 n'n
29	Columbus .... 1:40 pm	6	Macon ..... 12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm .. 2:30 pm	30	Columbus .... 12:30 pm
40	Birmingh'm .. 2:40 pm	30	New York.. 2:45 pm
15	Charlotte ..... 3:55 pm	15	Chattn'ga .... 3:00 pm
8	Macon ..... 4:00 pm	38	Birmingh'm .. 4:10 pm
37	New York..... 5:00 pm	18	Toccoa ..... 4:30 pm
16	Brunswick .... 7:50 pm	22	Columbus .... 5:10 pm
41	Richmond .... 8:30 pm	2	Cincinnati .... 5:10 pm
24	Jacksonville .. 8:50 am	25	Hollin ..... 5:45 pm
10	Macon ..... 6:30 pm	10	Macon ..... 6:30 pm
14	Washington .. 8:45 pm	14	Washington .. 8:45 pm
24	Jacksonville.. 8:30 pm	24	Jacksonville.. 8:30 pm
11	Shreveport .. 11:10 pm	11	Shreveport .. 11:10 pm
14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm	14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm

All trains run daily. Central time.
City Ticket Office No. 1 Peachtree St.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—I am a candidate for alderman from the Eighth Ward subject to the approaching city primary. Jno. S. Owens. 7-5-1

FUNERAL NOTICES.

THORNTON—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Austell Thornton and Mrs. Lella A. Thornton are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Austell Thornton to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the residence, 611 Peachtree street. Interment at Oakland; private. Pall-bearers selected will meet at Barclay & Brandon Co., 246 Ivy street, at 3:30 o'clock. 7-23-24

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Tuesday afternoon oblong barrette set with pearl at each end. Reward if returned to 524 Spring street. 7-23-12

LOST—In shopping district, Whitehall Street Monday afternoon, ladies' black silk umbrella, gold and pearl handle, monogram "I. M. M." Reward for return. Mrs. Harrison, 292 Pulliam St., Phone Main 4722-J. 36-23-7

LOST—One bay mare mule, blind in right eye. Finder call Atlanta phone 5640-M. 43-23-7

LOST—Pair of eyeglasses, black cord attached, on Friday 18th. Reward if returned to No. 10 Williams street. 7-23-2

STRAYED from 457 N. Jackson St., a brown muley head cow. Reward for her return to above address. Call Ivy 116 or Ivy 1848. 7-22-15

LOST—On Perry, Fair, King or Hill street one bundle of collector's cards. Return to J. K. Polk, 288 Decatur street. 7-22-21

LOST—Saturday, between National Paper Company and Marietta St., or on Cooper St. to Hendrix street car, between Simpson and Broad, gold chain with Knights of Columbus charm. Call Main 1163 or Ivy 2182-J. 7-29-93

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

LOST AND FOUND.

W. M. COX cleans all kinds of carpets, rugs a specialty. Ivy 3135-J, Atlanta 1818. 145 Auburn Ave. 7-20-81

LOST—Thursday, between Atlanta and Marietta, Goodyear tire in case. Phone Ivy 2000. Reward. 74-20-7

LOST—Large white English bulldog. Answers to name of Jack. Strayed from 224 Whitehall Street. Reward for return. 7-19-12

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-25

THE LADY who removed silverware from rest room Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405 Third National Bank Bldg. Phone Ivy 351. 7-19-28

LOST—In ladies' room Terminal Station, silver mesh purse, engraved "Ruth Roberts." Liberal reward for return or information leading to recovery. Phone Ivy 5710. 901 Empire Life Bldg. 21-19-7

PERSONAL.

SUITS PRESSED ONLY 35 CENTS.
PHONE MAIN 1177 AND A MESSENGER WILL CALL.
THE WRIGHT SHOP.
FORMERLY IDEAL TAILOR SHOP.
15 FAIRLIE STREET. 6-30-33

HAT SALE—Trimmed hats, $1.50 to $5.00; outing hats, 75c; imported horsehair hats, $4.98; black hats, maline and lace trimmed. Remodeling hats specialty, $1.50. Panamas cleaned. Mrs. C. H. Smith, 115 Peachtree, next to Candler Bldg. 25-22-7

LADIES—Ask your druggist for Chichester Pills, the Diamond brand; for twenty years known as best, safest, always reliable; buy of your druggist. Take no other. Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. 5-20-1

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, home-like. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-57

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 24 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-14

FACES READ by physiognomy. What are your best assets? Don't neglect finding this out in courtship or business. Written readings, only $2. The Helper, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. 5-3-5

PANAMA EXPOSITION TOUR—Quick action will save money and secure accommodations impossible later on. Contracting manager here now from San Francisco. Address Dept. C. P. O. Box 1023, Atlanta, Ga. 30-19-7

OWEN J. ALFORD—Please call General Delivery, Atlanta, for important letter. Good news. 7-20-4

EDUCATIONAL.

WANTED—Pupils in Atlanta who want private teaching during the regular school months; grade, high school or college entrance work; rates reasonable; good testimonials. If interested, write for a personal interview. 531 W. Taylor, Griffin, Ga. 7-20-15

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—First-class, experienced cabinet man for making casket shells. Atlania Casket Company. 7-23-18

WANTED—Reliable colored driver with references. Address P. O. Box 84, city. 40-23-7

WANTED—A colored presser. Herman Solloway, 273 Whitehall street. 7-23-15

HAVE good opening for man with character, ability and $600 for half interest in business just organized with fine prospects. Address Manufacturer, Box 99, care Georgian. 31-23-7

WANTED—Solicitor for high-grade business. Can make $5 daily. Call at 70½ Peachtree street. Office 4-6. 7-23-5

GOVERNMENT POSITIONS are easy to get. My free booklet Y-412 tells how. Write to-day—NOW. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 7-2-1

WANTED—Young man who has had experience cutting fabrics. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 155½ Marietta St. 40-22-7

WANTED—Job press feeders. Empire Printing and Box Co., 553 Whitehall St. 7-22-1

WANTED—Two tile layers to lay tile walk at once. Call at 1021 Empire Bldg. 36-21-7

WANTED—Reliable, sober man for night watchman; give references. Address Watchman, care Georgian. 28-21-7

FOR Colored Southern Automobile School, day and night classes. Corner Magnolia and Hulsey streets. 58-20-7

PULLMAN porters wanted; give references. For information write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-31

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 E. Mitchell St.

WANTED—Railway mail clerks, $75.00 to $150 month. Details free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49 F, Rochester, N. Y. 25-18-7

FIFTY fast messengers with or without wheels, 18 to 21 years old. Miller's Minute Messenger Service, rear City Hall. We sell wheels on weekly payments. 7-2-29

YES, shave 10c, hair cut 15c, massage 15c, at 41 Marietta Street, 4 E. Mitchell, 115 Edgewood Avenue, 99 Whitehall, 52 Ivy. Best white workmen. Clean linen. Baths 15c. 6-21-5

HILBURN HOTEL.

10 AND 12 WALTON ST.,
FOR gentlemen only; center of city, near new postoffice; rate 50c, 75c and $1.00. 6-21-10

WANTED—Men at once to learn the barber trade. A hundred jobs waiting. Few weeks completes. Better wages than you can earn without trade. Tools given. Wages while learning. Drop a card for particulars or call. Moler Barber College, 38 Luckie street. 26-19-7

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY—Able-bodied, unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 192½ Second Avenue, Birmingham, Ala.; 411 Cherry Street, Macon; Leonard Bldg., Augusta, or Broad and Marietta, Atlanta, Ga. 7-1-21

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

A FIRST-CLASS lady stenographer; must be accurate and rapid. Address Downtown, Box 30, care Georgian. 32-23-7

WANTED—First-class cook. 15 Brown Place. Phone Main 2690-L. 7-23-12

WANTED—Experienced white chambermaid at Hotel Ansley. Apply to Mrs. Scott, Housekeeper. 7-22-9

FIRST-CLASS COOK; room on lot; require reference. Apply at 1133 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 308. 41-23-7

WANTED—Girl for office work. 18 Trinity avenue. 7-23-6

WANTED—Woman to whipstitch books; must be experienced. Piedmont Printing Co., 127 Central avenue. 7-23-3

WANTED—Ladies with experience to trim straw and felt hats. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 155½ Marietta St. 39-22-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

SALESLADIES WANTED—A large cloak and suit house is desirous of connecting with them 5 additional salesladies. Must have experience from the large ready-to-wear stores. Permanent position and good salary to those who can qualify. Correspondence confidential. Address Suits and Cloaks, P. O. Box 988, Atlanta, Ga. 7-23-23

WANTED—White women to press men's underwear. Steady work and good pay. Apply Peter Hill Company, top floor Commerce Hall Bldg., Pryor and Edgewood. 7-22-7

WANTED—Woman to do cooking and general housework. Call Main 5424-L. 7-21-7

WANTED—At once several rapid, experienced typists; neat appearing; no others need apply. Miss Murphy, 179 Edgewood avenue. 7-21-12

WANTED—A good cook; references. 106 Lawton St. 7-20-31

WANTED—A good woman who understands work for a general helper for orphanage. Telephone West 1055. 7-20-20

WANTED—Girls to work in icing room. Frank E. Block Co. 7-19-26

WANTED—Good cook; family of two; North Side; good wages. Phone Ivy 876. 7-19-30

WANTED—A good settled woman to cook and do general housework; must understand cooking and sleep in house; references required. Apply 20 Fort McPherson. 7-18-6

WANTED—Governess, experienced in Atlanta public school work, for out of town; give experience and reference. Box 197, Austell, Ga. 38-19-7

WANTED—Young lady for office, with some knowledge of bookkeeping; rapid in writing, with good hand; steady employment. Address Box 610, care Georgian. 7-18-7

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pays $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. We make over and retrim hats free. 7-29-41

WANTED—Young lady stenographer; position till April 1; experience not necessary, if applicant can spell good; do not care for reference, only as to honesty. Address Box 209, Royston, Ga. 7-18-15

WANTED—Young women and girls desiring attractive positions. Welfare of operators and clerks closely supervised by the company; their conduct on the premises carefully guarded by matron, woman supervisors and chief operator, who have complete control over the retiring and operating rooms. Short training course for those inexperienced; salary paid while learning. Salary increased upon being transferred to operating force, and for those becoming efficient, increased as they become worthy, with opportunities for ultimate advancement to $75 per month. References proving the standing of the applicant essential. Those having educational advantages preferred. Lunch room and comfortable retiring rooms provided with several hundred Carnegie Library books for the convenience of the operators. Matron and trained nurse in attendance. Apply 8:30 to 5, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Training School, 25 Auburn Avenue. 6-15-16

WANTED—An experienced saleswoman one that understands the cloak and suit business thoroughly and competent to take complete charge thereof. Applicants will be treated strictly confidential. Write Box 607, care Herald, Albany, Ga.

HELP WANTED—MALE AND FEMALE.

WANTED—Experienced pantry men or women (white.) Apply at Steward's office, Hotel Ansley. 7-21-18

AGENTS—Make money fast. We have articles that sell. Call 47 Evans, West End. 7-19-12

WANTED,
Cotton Mill Help
ALL KINDS.
High Wages.
Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills,
Atlanta, Ga.
6-17-7

TEACHERS WANTED.

South Atlantic Teachers' Agency
1125 Atlanta National Bank Bldg.
SPECIAL registration. Direct calls coming fast. 6-26-28

AGENTS & SALESMEN WANTED.

WANTED—Three or four high grade salesmen to sell finished lots. Five minutes north of Five Points. I pay 40 cash for the sale of each lot. Reeves & Moran, 702 Empire Bldg. 7-22-8

TRAVELING SALESMEN.
WE REQUIRE AT ONCE THE SERVICES OF THREE GOOD, LIVE, ACTIVE, HIGH-GRADE TRAVELING SALESMEN TO TRAVEL SOUTHERN STATES. APPLICANTS MUST BE MORE THAN 25 YEARS OF AGE, GOOD PERSONALITY AND HAVE SUCCESSFUL RECORD AS SALESMEN; TO SUCH WE CAN OFFER A POSITION THAT WILL PAY $200 AND UP PER MONTH ABOVE EXPENSES. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY AND TRAVELING EXPENSES ADVANCED. REFERENCES REQUIRED. E. F. WHITE, 820 FORSYTH BUILDING, ATLANTA, GA. 40-27-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position at once; prefer job as butler or janitor; can give good reference. Call or address George Ellis, 172 Orme St. 47-23-7

COLORED man wants a job as butler in private family. Address F. S. Mattox, Elberton, Ga. 45-23-7

BOY WANTS job helping cook and do housework. Phone Atlanta 3216. 42-23-7

COMPETENT bookkeeper, best references, married, desires permanent situation immediately. Address J. B., care Georgian. 26-23-7

SITUATION wanted by an advertising man; a young fellow (25), but master of practical, sane methods that sell. A successful experience covering the building of catalogs, editing of house organs and the installation of mail order facilities that capitalize service and good goods. Particularly strong on the writing of sales letters and literature in which the "hook" is sound sales talk presented in a personal, human interest manner. For samples of work and an interview, address W., Box 430, care Georgian. 25-23-7

WANTED—Position by young man with four years' experience as stenographer, bookkeeper and cashier; now employed. Address F., Box 60, care Georgian. 39-23-7

WANTED—Position by bright young man; office work preferred; can give good references. Address C. E. B., Box 38, care Georgian.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUCTION SALES.

AT AUCTION.
SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS, INCLUDING A FINE LOT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE. A LIST OF THE SAME WILL APPEAR IN TO-MORROW'S AD. SALE 10 A. M., FRIDAY, JULY 25.
CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY.
12 East Mitchell Street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED by a reliable colored man, position as janitor or porter. Five years' experience. Understands steam heat and hot air furnaces. Can furnish good references. Address C. Thomas, 34 Carter St. 38-22-7

WANTED—Position by bookkeeper and office man; ten years' experience; best references. Address Y. Z., Box 84, care Georgian.

RELIABLE colored chauffeur wants position at once. Can butler. References. Address Clifford Robinson, 53 Auburn Avenue. 82-20-7

BOOKKEEPER, general office man, fifteen years' experience, open for position. Address Y. P., Box 859, care Georgian. 84-20-7

WANTED—Position by young man, 20, with banking experience; can furnish good references. Address, stating salary, W. C. P., Box 144, Greenville, Fla. 55-20-7

A-1 BLACKSMITH and general repair man (both in wood and iron); best of references. Call Ivy 7582-J, or write F., 118 West Peachtree St., Atlanta. 59-20-7

SITUATION WANTED as building superintendent; broad experience in North and South on general building construction and reinforced concrete. Will go any place. Very best of references furnished. Address Box 982, care Georgian. 55-20-7

WANTED—Settled, reliable man wants position as night watchman. W. F. Lampp, Wrens, Ga. 42-17-7

A YOUNG colored man wants position as porter or janitor; good references. Address C. A. H., No. 12 Old Wheat street. 7-18-11

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

STENOGRAPHIC and assistant bookkeeping position desired at once. R. A. F., 138 Crew street. 35-23-7

WANTED—Sewing by the day by an experienced seamstress. Price, $1.00. Phone Mrs. H. Ivy 3707-J. 27-23-7

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housekeeper in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

DRESSMAKING — DRESSMAKERS

WANTED—Sewing by day; $1 and car fare, or will make tub and lawn dresses at home for $1. Dressmaker, 374 E. Hunter. 97-20-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE,"
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 6-16-46

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
One year, mail, postage prepaid, $5.00
Six months, mail, postage prepaid, 2.50
Three mos., mail, postage prepaid, 1.25
One month, mail, postage prepaid, .45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
Delivered by carrier, one year.....$5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months.. 2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months.. 1.35
Delivered by carrier, one month ..... .45
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week ..... .10

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

A FEW uncalled for suits to be sold at cost. Dundee Woolen Mills, 75 Peachtree street. 7-23-19

FOR SALE—At once, three new pianos. Sold everywhere for $375, will sacrifice for $125 each. Not leaving town. No fake. Reason for this remarkable offer will be given you. Call 24 Mead avenue, Decatur. 29-23-7

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 112 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition. $12.50. 19 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 193 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES' Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches, 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree, Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3589-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

BROILERS
35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.
4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.
Rebuilt typewriters, $23 to $75.
American Writing Machine Co.,
48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

MAXWELL RUNABOUT, new engine, practically new tires, Prest-O-Lite, $175 if sold soon. Box 628, care Georgian. 33-23-7

AUTOGENOUS WELDING
OF ALL MACHINE PARTS. All kinds of repair work promptly done. Work guaranteed. Shearer Machine Company, 197 Whitehall.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $19.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.39; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.
SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-301

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS
While You Wait.
Sanford Dry Vaporizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP,
275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 36 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS,
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Stowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS
Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.
WE USE OXYGEN
No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.
A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.
It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.
Atlanta Welding Co.
Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

HOTTEST CITY

The hottest city on earth is said to be Mecca, the capital of the Turkish Province of Hejaz, in Arabia.
A temperature of 125 degrees Fahrenheit is nothing unusual in Mecca.
Being the birthplace of Mohammed and containing the Kaaba, the city of Mecca is also the central and most holy place of all Islam.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

STUDEBAKER
SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $650. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 85% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-6-1

CLEARANCE SALE OF GOOD USED CARS.
Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:
Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.
If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

Autos Wanted.

WANTED—Small roadster or light touring car; Hupmobile or Model T Ford preferred. Must be a bargain. Box 276 care Georgian. 84-23-7

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood nue. 3-26-21

POULTRY
Pet and Live Stock

Fat Hens Declared To Be Best Layers

Grain Feeding Gives Desired Result. Expert Tells When Fowl Is Useless.

By JUDGE J. F. MARSHALL.

It is no secret with a great many poultrymen and farmers that a well-fed, fat hen is a good egg producer, in spite of the hue and cry by a certain class warning us not to get our hens fat.

I believe these people are honest in their opinions. I think they have been governed almost wholly by the fact that at times they have killed an old hen that had passed her usefulness and quit producing eggs, and the hen in question was filled with fat and no signs of eggs.

Putting two and two together, they decided that the reason she was not producing eggs was on account of her fat, while the real truth in the matter is she was too old to produce eggs. And her fatness is explained by lack of exercise.

Observation covering a period of nearly 40 years, during which I have made a study of the hen, her laying times, her condition during that time, and in fact everything pertaining to egg production, has brought me to the conclusion that it is the fat but energetic hen that gives us the eggs.

Corn Not a Bad Feed.

I have seen hundreds of hens dressed for the table, and it has been almost a universal rule that the hen that was full of eggs in various stages of formation was also full of layers of fat. I have observed hundreds of farmers who would feed their hens corn almost exclusively the year round and market eggs by the bushel all the time. They were stock farmers who had more corn to spare than any other kind of grain, and they made use of it.

How often you have heard corn condemned? Some go so far as to assert that it should not be fed to hens at all in any considerable quantity.

Did you ever stop to think that the yolk of the egg is about 60 per cent fat, while the white and shell contain no fat? The yolk being the first part of the egg to form must necessarily have, as the Irishman said, the wherewithal to form it from. The fat must be there ready for the work.

Surplus Energy Gives Eggs.

We must remember that the egg is manufactured from the surplus energy the hen has over and above that necessary to maintain her body in a good, healthy condition. As soon as that point is reached she begins to lay on the reserve, which is fat out of which the egg is made.

There may be an occasional hen that will take on fat abnormally and get filled up so as to retard egg production, but we must take the chances on that if we are working for heavy egg production. Such hens usually are not worth much for eggs in any event.

There is a class of hens that tend to take on fat outside of the digestive tract on the lower part of the abdomen. They get so fat that it is difficult for them to walk. As a rule such hens had just as well be disposed of as soon as found in that condition, for the fat is in such a position that it can not be utilized in egg formation. These are drone hens which give many persons the idea that fat hens are useless. They are the exceptions that prove the rule.

Professor James Rice, of Cornell poultry department, says it has been his experience that hens will consume considerably more food a time before they begin to lay, another indication that they are preparing the system for the great strain to be put upon it.

Experiment Suggested.

Then did you ever notice how ravenously a hen taking care of chickens will eat in her endeavor to recoup herself, and how, as soon as she has fattened up, she will begin to lay?

For the sake of experimenting along that line just feed the hen with chickens just enough to keep her in moderate condition, but not nearly what she would like to have, and see how long she will be commencing to lay.

To sum up the matter, a hen must have a variety consisting of a great bulk of green stuff, together with the grain and a supply of meat in some form, in all a good, generous bill of fare at all times, that she may get her body in good condition with the extra for fat. On the farm range the hen will get much of her variety of greens, as well as bugs for the meat, so that grain is the real thing needed.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK.

Ducks.

TWENTY-FIVE TRIOS pure white Indian Runners, $5 per trio. Coweta Duck Farm, Senoia, Ga. 7-13-341

Leghorns.

1,500 GRAND White Leghorns; breeders; of our celebrated "Model" strain; in perfect health; pure white, and heavy layers; must have room; sacrifice price, $1 each. Order to-day. Model Poultry Farm, "The Farm of Quality," Box O, Colbert, Ga. 6-17-29

Orpingtons.

WHITE ORPINGTONS for sale, four hens, one cockerel, $15; six hens, one cock, $20; ten hens, one cockerel, $35; five cockerels, $5 each. H. A. Black, Cartersville, Ga. 1-23-7

Plymouth Rocks.

I HAVE 11 Buff Plymouth Rock hens, 2 Buff Plymouth Rock cockerels, 16 Buff Plymouth Rock large fryers. Want to close out at once as we will be away for some time. Price to suit you. R. L. Barry, Prado, Ansley Park. Bell 2917 Ivy. 7-23-17

PARTRIDGE ROCKS—The South's leading winning strain. Can give quality and blood lines unequaled by any breeder in the South. My birds are winners at the Southern International, Macon, Columbus, Griffin, Nashville, Tenn.; Paducah, Ky.; Shreveport, La. Send for mating list. R. P. Cotter, Box G, Barnesville, Ga. 2-15-17

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Poultry—Disinfectants.

AGASCO-SPRAY
WILL RID your premises of mites, lice, fleas and ants. It is ready for immediate use with brush or spray pump. When applied to poles and nests it eradicates lice and mites so effectually that fowls do not have to be carried through that inconvenient and nerve-racking process of dipping. Manufactured by Atlanta Gas Light Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Poultry Remedies.

ARE your hens paying their board? If not, Southern Poultry Remedy is the best thing to give them now. It's guaranteed. Price 25c and 50c at all seed stores and dealers.

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

Foxes.

RED FOX FOR SALE—Young and fairly tamed; very attractive for pet or mascot. F. B. D., Box 694, Columbus, Ga. 46-23-7

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW.
GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

Hogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

FOR SALE—A sound mare; will work anywhere; also a fine four-year-old mule; a bargain. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-19-9

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BOTH PHONES 2568.
OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

AUNT PATSY MASH FEED $2.75 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

LAY-OR-BUST MASH FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RED COMB

Our Want Ads Are The Things That You Need

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—Three to five-year loan of $800 from private party. Will pay 8 per cent interest. Glit-edge security in real estate. Address C. L. E., Box 850, care Georgian. 7-23-4

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

ESTABLISHED 1888.
6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
3-11-50

MONEY TO LOAN.

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.
TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

LOANS $25.00 AND UP
On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.
AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.
GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.
7-17-1

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

SACRIFICE.
FIRST-CLASS restaurant and lunch room in one of the best locations on the North Side, in the heart of the hotel and business districts; best class patronage; doing a nice business. Owner has other business interests requiring entire time and will sacrifice for quick sale. Price $900. Good opportunity for some one. Phone or see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. M. 3155. 7-23-22

Notice to Business Men.
LUNCH 25c. Ponciana, 24 East Ellis. 7-23-8

WILL SELL the State rights of Georgia for the best drink on the market. Now on sale at 75 founts. Also counter, table, etc. This is an exceptional opportunity. Answer quick. Address Bargain, 849, care Georgian. 7-23-11

BUSINESS INVESTMENT—6 pt. caps. We manufacture human necessities and luxuries. The demand for both is increasing. Business on a 20% earning basis first year. Can use five thousand dollars additional capital expanding and double our earnings in twelve months. If you have a part or all of this for investment we invite you to investigate. P. D. W. Company, P. O. Box 714, Augusta, Ga. 7-23-10

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-1

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

ROOMS AND BOARD.

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 5459-L. 7-17-2

NICE furnished rooms, with or without board. 69½ E. Alabama street. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-19

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3838-J. 7-21-8

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 4-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Ansley Park---7-Room Bungalow
RIGHT OFF PIEDMONT AVENUE CAR LINE.
THIS brand new home is a BEAUTY; 7 large rooms, sleeping porch, beautiful fireplaces, FURNACE HEAT, hardwood floors, fine basemant rooms, large lot, lying absolutely perfect. This is the best bungalow for the money in that entire section. $6,500 on terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.
ON GEORGIA avenue, right at the Park (Georgia is going to be some avenue soon, too), 5 large rooms and hallway, elevated lot, all conveniences. Easy terms. See us.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-9

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family. 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board in private family by young man. Wants homelike place, on car line passing Equitable building preferred. Best references. Replying state location, price, etc., to W. L. R., 33 Gilmer street, city. 7-23-7

WANTED—In private family board for man and wife and one child. Address L. O. R., care Georgian. 37-23-7

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

SUMMER RESORTS.

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Seal 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED rooms with all modern conveniences at 108 Capitol avenue. 44-23-7

BEAUTIFUL, cool, front room; private bath; shady lot; gentleman. "West Peachtree," care Georgian. 38-23-7

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room, $2.25 weekly. 31 Hood St., near Whitehall. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

GENTLEMAN can get nicely furnished room, all conveniences. Apartment 3, 148 Forrest avenue. 28-23-7

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-22

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-73

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3941. 7-20-60

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street, West 209. 7-20-30

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4738-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.66. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-5

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 361 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 107 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-15-25

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-25

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 23 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Board if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 15 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS (Next door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-3-36

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences, also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558-J.
Furnished rooms and furnished three-room apartments; close in, with all conveniences. 7-16-10

ONE FRONT ROOM; PRIVATE FAMILY. 226 PULLIAM STREET. 7-19-6

TWO nice rooms and kitchenette, completely furnished for light housekeeping, to parties without children; splendid location; private family; one block of Grant Park. Good car service. 428 East Georgia avenue. 7-19-10

THE PICKWICK.
New, Ten Story and Fireproof.
Cool outside rooms with connecting bath.
Convenient shower baths on each floor.
77 Fairlie Street, next Carnegie Library. 6-5-32

UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT

THREE unfurnished upstairs rooms for rent. 20 Brotherton street. 7-23-14

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End to couple for housekeeping; every convenience. Phone W. 128-J. 7-22-14

FOR RENT—Two large front rooms. 155 W. Fair St. 32-22-7

THREE or five housekeeping rooms, first floor, furnished or unfurnished. 16 Cooper St. Call Main 5108 or Main 3513. 7-20-79

TWO unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Close in. References. 50 Williams Street. 7-20-24

ONE large unfurnished room for rent. 471 East Cain street. 7-19-36

TWO lovely unfurnished housekeeping rooms; references exchanged. 120 E. Fair St. 7-19-25

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette two doors from Peachtree Street. 54 East Alexander Street.

TWO large fine front rooms for light housekeeping. M. 820-J. 7-20-92

TWO large unfurnished rooms, suitable for housekeeping; conveniences. Reasonable. 411 Fraser Street. 7-19-3

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED or unfurnished rooms. 24 Cooper St. Reasonable prices. 7-20-83

FOR RENT—Rooms, furnished or unfurnished, with or without kitchenette. 221 West Peachtree. 7-20-42

FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO or three furnished front connecting housekeeping rooms, close in. 37 Carnegie way. 26-22-7

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, neatly furnished, block from Postoffice; all conveniences. 74 Walton Street. 7-21-14

COMFORTABLY furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences. 388 Peachtree St. Ivy 4530-J. 58-20-7

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

FOUR ROOMS for light housekeeping; all conveniences; no children. Apply 191 Luckie Street. 7-22-23

FURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Small, completely furnished apartment, including piano and linen. Close in. Call Ivy 6843. 31-21-7

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

BEAUTIFUL five-room apartment; all conveniences; close in. Apply Owner, 715 Peters Bldg., or call Main 1225. 7-20-38

48 COLUMBIA AVENUE, second-floor apartment six cool, airy, well lighted rooms; possession now or September 1. Phone Ivy 794-J. 7-20-46

UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

TEN-ROOM HOUSE, beautiful, shady lot, large garden and garage; cheap rent to desirable person. Call Ivy 4686. 7-21-19

SIX-ROOM cottage, North Side, for rent by owner, reasonable; bath. Phone Ivy 6432. 7-17-14

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR SALE OR RENT—New bungalow on half-acre lot, with beautiful shade; will make terms to suit; furnished or unfurnished. Call Decatur 556. 7-20-82

OFFICES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Attractive office desk and telephone all for $10. Apply Manager Temple Court. 7-22-9

FOR RENT—Office Candler Building, $17 month. Phones Ivy 2125-J, Ivy 5421-J. 7-19-16

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.
THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.
ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.
36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

FURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

TWO or three furnished housekeeping rooms; private bath; must be the best in every way. X. X., care Georgian. 42-18-7

FURNISHED APARTMENTS WANTED.

WANTED—Furnished three-room apartment, with bath and electric light; couple with daughter twelve years old. Address M. M., care Georgian. 34-18-7

UNFURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

MARRIED couple desire upper or lower porches of a house with four rooms; every convenience for housekeeping; must be on North Side and select neighborhood. Ivy 6246-J. 7-23-21

YOUNG couple want three upstairs rooms; all conveniences; good neighborhood. Address K. P., Box 851, care Georgian. 48-23-7

WANTED—On September 1, by couple, entire upstairs, consisting of four or five rooms, in strictly modern North Side home. Call Ivy 3656-J. 7-21-3

ONE unfurnished room with private bath by young lady. Exclusive North Side home. Best only. Box 19, 61 West Harris Street. 7-20-62

WANTED—In Inman Park, four upstairs housekeeping rooms, with modern conveniences; unfurnished; near car. Address R. M., Box 845, care Georgian. 27-19-7

FURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

YOUNG couple, two furnished rooms and kitchenette; must be first-class, in good neighborhood; first floor preferred; give description and price. Address Furnished Rooms, care Georgian. 7-23-1

UNFURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

A NICE six-room house; must have nice, large shady lot and city conveniences. Prefer one in the suburbs, but must be on car line. Address J. H., care Georgian. 7-21-17

HOTELS. WANTED.

HOTEL WANTED—Commercial, in good live town in Georgia or Florida, by an experienced hotel man; either European or American plan. Address P. O. Box 393, Fernandina, Fla. 29-21-7

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Colonial Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA bungalow for sale or rent; best part of Inman Park; built-in bookshelves and open fireplace, with or without some furniture; large lot and front porch. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care Georgian. 39-23-7

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Eli," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h., 188 Hill	$25.00	5-r. h., 99 Glennwood	15.60
6-r. h., 196 Crumley	25.00	5-r. h., 124 Hill	25.00
6-r. h., Washington street, East Point	20.00	5-r. h., 23 Summit	17.50
6-r. h., 75 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood	22.50	6-r. h., 12 Howard	22.50
6-r. h., 875 Edgewood avenue	27.50	6-r. h., 47 Drewry	30.60
6-r. h., 88 Lucile avenue, furnished	45.00	6-r. h., 21 Park street, Oakhurst	22.50
6-r. h., 58 Dunn	26.20	6-r. h., Hardee street	15.00
6-r. h., 569 Cherokee, apartment, furnished	35.00	6-r. h., 52 Druid circle	30.00
6-r. h., 198 Mansfield	25.00	6-r. h., 12 Clifford	27.50
6-r. h., 29 Clifford	25.00	6-r. h., 1170 DeKalb avenue	30.00
6-r. h., 300 Moreland avenue	40.00	6-r. h., 491 E. Fair street	30.00
6-r. h., Harwell and Malden lane	20.00	6-r. h., 180 Cameron	18.60
6-r. h., 140 Drexel	25.00	6-r. h., 27 Mangum	22.50

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

7-r. apt., 41 E. Cain St.	60.00	5-r. apt., 152 Whitefoord Ave.	$20.00
6-r. apt., 43 Garfield Place	30.00	5-r. apt., A-15 Highland Ave.	20.60
6-r. apt., 75 Orme St.	21.00	4-r. apt., H-312 Rawson street (Sept. 1)	35.00
5-r. apt., 312 Rawson St.	42.50	4-r. apt., 4-296 Piedmont Ave.	17.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

WAREHOUSE FOR RENT
3 AND 5 PACKARD STREET, corner Madison Avenue, we have this three-story brick building, dimensions being 20,000 square feet, cement floors, elevator service. Good office on first floor. First-class railroad service. This is one of the best renting propositions in town. Call at our office for particulars.
Chas. P. Glover Realty Company
2½ WALTON STREET.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS
THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.
IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.
FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE
JOHN J. WOODSIDE
WEST PEACHTREE PLACE
(Cottage, $3,750.)
House has 6 rooms, gas, bath, etc. Nice lot. Easy terms.
THOS. R. FINNEY, SALES MANAGER, 12 "Real Estate Row."

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599.
TWO WEST END BARGAINS.
JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 95 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.
LEE STREET COTTAGE.
SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

Central Property to Exchange
WE CAN exchange a small lot on one street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good values. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers and, at the price at which it can be bought, should yield handsome profits.
J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

ON TUESDAY, August 5, next, Legal Sale Day, we will sell before Court House door the southwest corner of Fair and Fraser streets, fronting 67 feet 10 inches on Fair street, by 90 feet on Fraser street. This property is inside the half-mile circle, and has many fine advantages from a business standpoint. Sold for administration of D. Gussi estate. Terms, half cash, balance 1 to 2 years 7 per cent. Be on hand.
GREENE REALTY CO.
Agents.

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

FINE Georgia farm land; will exchange for Atlanta property at cash value. Owner, 1423 Candler Bldg. 7-23-19

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell, 114 Candler Building. 6-26-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 403 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME
NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.
FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Several Big Deals Reported Wednesday

Announcement Soon of Interesting Transactions—Realty Looking Up. Marietta Street Lease.

Reports of big sales in realty circles have taken the place largely of news of the medium-sized transactions, and are proving infinitely more interesting. An investor, for instance, has bought an $80,000 parcel that he will hold for enhancement, and an owner has refused more than half a million on a downtown corner. Another dealer, it is reported, has sold a handsome dwelling on a North Side street between the Peachtrees, and has refused a flattering offer on central property wanted by a syndicate for improvement with a substantial building.

There are other signs of returning activity in real estate, and the dealers are very optimistic of a heavy fall business. Details of the above transactions are expected to come out in a week, when they will be ready for announcement. Other trades are in the contract stage.

* * *

Chamber Directors Meeting.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company met Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Empire Building and decided to fix a price on the four top floors of the Chamber of Commerce Building so that this price could be submitted to the local committee of merchants and manufacturers. The directors are meeting again Wednesday afternoon to fix this price definitely, and a report to the other body is expected at once.

* * *

Marietta Street Lease.

Mr. Rankin, of the Smith, Ewing & Rankin Renting Agency, has announced the lease for a term of No. 164 Marietta street, a three-story and basement building, to the Atlanta Envelope Company for a client, at about $3,000 a year. The building contains about 20,000 square feet of floor space.

Meeting on Realty Loans.

A subcommittee of the State Legislature has taken hold of the bill to repeal the bill of 1910, which prohibits loans of State and municipal funds on real estate. Committees of the Atlanta Real Estate Board appeared at the Capitol Tuesday afternoon to present arguments in favor of the repeal, and they received a warm reception.

Certain bond dealers who are interested in having the bill remain as enacted also appeared. Speaking of their argument, Harris White, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, declared it was "weak."

Concrete Buildings Planned.

Two concrete buildings will soon be erected by the syndicate interested in the Walker street development. These structures will face on Walker street, where the Southern Railway tracks will pass, and will be used for wholesale and manufacturing purposes. More than twenty applications for space have been received by the projectors. Among those in the syndicate are W. S. McKemie, Tom Stocks, W. J. Blalock and Ernest Duncan.

Judge Don A. Pardee recently approved a connection between the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Southern at this point, and the work can start at once laying tracks from the Southern to Haynes street.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.
Warranty Deeds.

$600—Newton St. John to R. O. Adams, lot 105x180 feet southeast corner Automobile avenue and Adams avenue. July 22.

$500—Jack D. Hayes to M. Levin and Joe Cohen, lot 40x80 feet north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 17.

$1,500—Joel T. Dares to John T. Taylor, lot 50x150 feet 61 feet west of southwest corner West Tenth street and Ridge avenue. July 18.

$3,500—S. W. Sullivan to M. S. Moore, lot 48x155 feet south side Argard avenue 294 feet west of Highland avenue. October 2, 1909.

$4,125—Mrs. Jessie May Cunningham to Walker Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, No. 21 Stonewall street, 48x140 feet. March 17.

$2,000—Mrs. Jessie L. T. Stark to John F. Green, lot 1480x1611 feet west side McDonough road at intersection of Constitution road, three tenths interest. July 19.

$4,000—E. G. Black to G. E. Mathews, lot 76x278 feet north side Gordon street 196 feet east of Hopkins street; also triangular lot at northwest corner of above lot. March 8, 1911.

$350—Mrs. Mattie E. Jones to J. A. Sewell, lot 50x166 feet north side Bain street 500 feet west of Bachelor avenue. July 22.

$175—W. L. Venable to J. W. Phillips, lot 150x230 feet west side Bayard street 364 feet north of Francis street. July 3.

Warranty Deeds.

$1,000—M. Levin and Joe Cohen to James H. McNesser and Harry Constangy, lot 40 by 80 feet, north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 19.

$1,200—Ludella E. Peacock to Thomas Roseborough, lot 50 by 110 feet, west side McDaniel street, 100 feet north of Gardner street. July 18.

$500—George P. Moore to Mrs. M. A. A. Wellborn, lot 50 by 274 feet, south side Home avenue, 200 feet east of Gress avenue. July 22.

$3,200—J. M. Farmer to J. T. and W. C. Slaughter, lot 50 by 100 feet, south side Linden street, 93 feet east of Piedmont avenue. July 22.

$240—Gordon F. Mitchell to Owen C. McConnell, lot 8 by 222 feet, east side North Boulevard, 122 feet north of Forrest avenue, one-half interest. July 21.

$3,500—Robert L. York to Mrs. Nassie Tuggle, No 535 Highland avenue, 33 by 170 feet. June 25.

Bonds for Title.

$1,400—Cobbs Land Company to Mrs. A. J. Callaway, lot 28, block 1, Cobbs Land Company property, 50 by 154 feet, on Elizabeth lane. July 14. Transferred to Joseph Buchman, July 21.

$10,500—Atlanta Banking and Savings Company to L. F. Henderson, lot 40 by 171 feet, north side Stokes avenue, at southwest corner lot K, block D, of West End Park. July 16.

$26,000—Mrs. Mattie F. Huggins to Mrs. Kate G. Ryder, No. 342 Ponce DeLeon avenue, 38 by 316 feet. July 3. 3.

$3,000—L. S. Huntley Company to Mrs. Cora P. M. Scott, lot 50 by 122 feet, east side Roswell road, 314 feet from Peachtree road. July 3.

$50,000—J. F. Leary to Phoenix Planing Mill, lot 153 by 43 by 492 by 75 by 500 by 182 by 524 feet, east side Sampson street, 100 feet south of Highland avenue; also lot 50 by 152 feet, south side Highland avenue, 503 feet east of Sampson street; also lot 43 by 142 feet, south side Highland, 603 feet east of Sampson street. December 22, 1909.

Loan Deeds.

$1,500—James R. Cothran to Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1879
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News

Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex. But then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

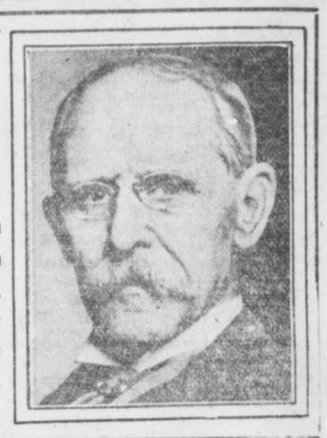
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1906, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE.

HOME EDITION

'I AM READY FOR TRIAL,' SAYS FRANK

TELEPHONE GIRLS HELP POLICE TRAP BURGLARS

FLASHLIGHT OF SOCIETY FOLK AT WATER FROLIC AT FORREST ADAIR'S POOL TUESDAY EVENING

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the grils saw the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo, Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of

Continued on Page 2, Columr

Bacon, Needed at Capital, Unable to Address Assembly

Senator Bacon will not be able to address the General Assembly of Georgia in response to the invitation extended him last week, on account of the absolute necessity of every Democratic Senator being in Washington while the tariff bill is before Congress.

In a letter expressing deep regret, Senator Bacon also inclosed a letter from Senator Kern urging him not to leave the National Capital at this time because of the existing strained relations with certain nations.

The letter was read in the House and Senate Wednesday morning, and resolutions of regret at Senator Bacon's forced declination were adopted.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

Do You Know

?

the Hottest City on Earth?

Read Page 14

LEGISLATOR ACCUSES SOULE

Assembly Likely to Probe Report False Representation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Postmasters Named For 3 Georgia Towns

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President to-day nominated the following Georgia postmasters:

Joseph M. McAfee, Canton, Cherokee County; Annie K. Bunn, Cedartown, Polk County, and George Dansby, Rockmart, Polk County.

Husband Thrashes His Wife's Insulter

J. N. Brown, a Greek, of No. 49 Luckie street, was arrested Wednesday for insulting a woman who, in company with her husband, stood on the corner of Spring and Luckie streets.

The husband knocked the Greek to the pavement. Brown came to his feet and ran toward Carnegie Way. The man gave chase and cornered Brown in front of Engine House No. 8.

Firemen called the patrol wagon and Brown was arrested and freed on $100 cash bond.

Slain While Aiding Brother in a Fight

DOTHAN, ALA., July 23.—Robert Moon, aged 20, shot and killed Joseph Halsted, 25 years old, in a row at Memphis Church, seven miles south of Dothan, late Tuesday night.

Moon shot three times with a pistol, all taking effect. He surrendered to the Sheriff. Moon was in a row with Jasper Halsted, brother of Joseph, when Joseph interfered. Halsted is survived by a wife and small child.

Atlanta Salesmen Held as 'Peddlers'

RICHMOND, July 23.—Arrested last night at the instance of the Retail Merchants' Association on the charge of peddling merchandise without a license, J. H. Thrash and W. E. Holston, young men, both from Atlanta, representing the Fisher Knitting Mill Company, were in Police Court to-day.

They were allowed to go free when they explained that they were merely soliciting orders.

The Man Who Said

"There Is Nothing New Under the Sun"

neglected to read The Georgian "Want Ad" columns. New features, names, opportunities, prices and effects are being introduced daily.

Read for Profti

Georgian "Want Ads"

Use for Results

FRIEDMANN 'CURE' FAILS THORNTON

Young Atlanta Banker Sinks Rapidly and Dies at Asheville Following New Treatment.

Bitter arraignment of Dr. Franz Friedrich Friedmann, the German scientist and discoverer of a serum hailed as a curative of tuberculosis, followed the death of Austell Thornton, one of the best-known young bankers in Atlanta, near Asheville, N. C., early Wednesday morning.

Thornton's death was the result of tuberculosis, which set in following an attack of pneumonia eighteen months ago. When Dr. Friedmann came to this country last winter with his serum, heralded as a cure for consumptives, Thornton went to New York and underwent the treatment.

While Dr. Friedmann used the Bellevue Hospital there in demonstrating his cures, he also did a great deal of work in hotels among patients who flocked to Manhattan from all over the United States.

Treated by Friedmann.

Thornton received his injections at the hotel where he was stopping, and it is said that Dr. Friedmann himself administered them. It is also declared that the German physician charged young Thornton a fabulous price for the treatment, one person Wednesday morning placing the sum at $3,500.

Thornton ended his treatments and left New York three months ago in the belief that the serum would prove a curative, as it had been claimed. The only improvement at all noticeable was a lessening of the fever.

"I am firmly convinced," said S. H. Venable, an uncle of Thornton's widow, that the Friedmann treatment hastened Thornton's end. When he went to New York to take the injections the young man was not in a dangerous condition, still almost immediately after he left New York after the serum had been injected into him he began to grow weaker. The plague's ravages were more noticeable."

Mr. Thornton was about 31 years old, and had resided in Atlanta since childhood. Six years ago he married Miss Bob Venable.

He was prominent in society and club circles, being a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, the Capital City Club and of practically every other prominent social organization of the city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family home, No. 611 Peachtree street. Interment private at Oakland.

Breakfasters Eat On Calmly as Fire Is Fought in Cafe

Fire which broke out in the ceiling of Durand's Restaurant shortly before 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning failed to take the appetite from a dozen men, who calmly continued eating their breakfast while firemen swarmed the room. Even when the firemen mounted ladders and began hacking at the ceiling the diners were not dismayed.

The fire was of little consequence, the ceiling catching probably from a defective wire near the flue of the warming retainer. The call brought out every central company, though, while a great crowd of early morning workers gathered.

China Quells Revolt; Shanghai in Danger

Special Cable to The Georgian.

SHANGHAI, July 23.—From reports received here to-day it is believed the Chinese Republic will not be torn asunder. The outlook for President Yuan is much more hopeful and all indications point to the Government ruling supreme.

The royal troops to-day defeated the Secessionists at Hsuichoufu. An attack on the arsenal at Shanghai by the southern army is expected at any moment.

Shoots Stepmother To Reunite Parents

BASS LAKE, IND., July 23.—Martin Strasburger tried to kill his stepmother and then ended his own life, that the way might be cleared for a reconciliation between his father and divorced mother.

This is the theory held by many here as the solution of the double shooting at Frank Strasburger's country home, in which the second Mrs. Strasburger was wounded and Strasburger's son Martin killed himself.

Zion City Banishes Pool and 'Movies'

ZION CITY, ILL., July 23.—The young sports and old ones of Zion City hereafter will go to bed without rolling their accustomed series of games of Keely pool. The other residents of the city will retire without having made their nightly excursion to the moving picture theater.

The City Council, controlled by the forces of Overseer Voliva, ordered the theater and the poolroom closed.

BALTIMORE RESORT BURNS.

BALTIMORE, July 23.—Fire early to-day swept Klein's Deer Park, a resort at Westport, destroying every building in the place.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local thundershowers Wednesday and probably Thursday.

TRACE FOUND HERE OF NEGRO SAID TO HAVE SEEN PHAGAN SLAYING

Here are Wednesday's important developments in the Phagan murder mystery:

Bloodstained glove of Mary Phagan is said to have been found on the first floor near the place the discovery of her pay envelope was made.

New evidence is found tending to establish the identity of the negro, Will Green, said to have seen the attack upon Mary Phagan.

Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the pencil factory, undergoes a grilling examination at the hands of Solicitor General Dorsey and his associate counsel, Frank A. Hooper.

J. M. Gantt, expected to give sensational evidence for the prosecution at the trial, is in conference with the solicitor and present at the grilling of Lee.

Leo M. Frank tells Sheriff Mangum that he is eager for the trial to begin, and will be ready when it is called Monday morning.

Solicitor Dorsey announces that he will insist that there be no further delay.

It became known Wednesday that the defense in the Frank case had been informed that the negro, Will Green, who is said to have been shooting craps with Jim Conley the day that Mary Phagan was murdered and to have seen her attacked, and the Wil lGreen living at 105 Thurmond street, Atlanta, are the same person.

Private detectives in the employ of the defense have trailed the negro across a half-dozen States and have missed him by as small a margin as 30 minutes in some of the towns they have visited in the chase.

Trailed by a Ring.

Charles Fine, proprietor of the Radius Jewelry Company, No. 107 Peachtree street, when he read in The Georgian that the defense was searching for a Will Green, recalled that he had a ring in his store which was to have been called for by a negro of the same name, but which unaccountably had been left there without a claimant. He regarded this as peculiar, and notified persons interested in the defense.

A negro calling himself J. Will Green visited the store May 16 and displayed a rather ornate gold ring, worth probably $12 or $15. He desired to have a Radius diamond set in it, and said that he would be around within a day or two after it. He never returned. It was about this time that the report spread around the city that the Phagan murder had had an eyewitness in the person of a negro who was shooting craps with Conley.

A sister of the Will Green who left the ring at the jewelry store was seen Wednesday. She said that her brother had left town about two months ago and that none of the family had heard from him since or had any idea where he was. She said he was working with some small circus or theatrical troupe when he left.

Sister Offers an Alibi.

The Green that the detectives have been pursuing is known to be connected with a circus or show, additional strength thus being given to the theory that their identity is the same.

She thought the detectives were mistaken in believing that her brother knew anything about the crime. He slept practically all the day that Mary Phagan was murdered, she declared, and didn't even go downtown to see the Memorial Day parade, although he was urged by one of his friends. He was working nights for the Southern Railway at this time, according to the sister, joining the show people a few days later.

She failed to explain why he suddenly had left town without stopping to recover the gold ring of considerable value which he had left at the Fine jewelry store.

Gantt Sees Solicitor.

J. M. Gantt, a discharged employee of the National Pencil Factory, who Wednesday conferred with Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper, denied that he made the startling statement to them that he saw at 1 o'clock on the day that Mary

NEWT LEE GRILLLED AGAIN IN PRESENCE OF GANTT

Continued From Page 1.

Phagan was murdered Jim Conley and Leo Frank conversing together in Frank's office.

Intimation that Gantt contemplated making such a statement to the prosecution is said to have come to the defense in an anonymous letter some time ago. The writer said in effect:

"I was standing on the street the other day and heard Gantt talking to some other fellow. He told this fellow that he had stood across the street Saturday, April 26, and had looked through the window of the factory and seen Jim Conley talking to Frank in Frank's office.

"I don't think Gantt has told this to the Solicitor yet, and, as he is not in very good financial condition, I think that he might be persuaded to keep it quiet if he was sent a little money."

No attention was paid to the letter.

Lee Grilled Again.

Gantt, the Solicitor and attorney were in the jail together. They remained two and a quarter hours questioning Newt Lee closely. They went over practically the same ground that was covered in the inquest, quizzing him about his actions the day of the murder and his whereabouts every minute during the time before he reported at the factory and about Frank's manner when he met him at the factory.

Lee stuck to his previous story, and declared that he knew nothing about the crime until he came upon the body that night. They asked him how he happened to go into the basement at that time, and he made the same explanation that he gave before the Coroner's Jury.

Lee said that he did not see Conley there that night and did not even know Conley by sight. In the afternoon it was planned to take Conley from the police station to the jail to confront Lee and question the two together.

Lanford Scouts Bludgeon Evidence.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Slaton Makes More Court Nominations

The Senate Wednesday received the following nominations from the Governor:

Tom Eason to be Judge of the City Court of McRae for four years from August 3, 1913.

W. S. Mann to be Solicitor of the City Court of McRae for the unexpired term from January 1, 1914, to November 1, 1914, vice Hamilton Burch, Jr., resigned.

D. R. Pearce to be Judge of the City Court of Pulaski County for four years from March 1, 1914.

Finds Cat, Whiskers And All, Petrified

COTTONWOOD FALLS, KANS., July 23.—While repairing the floor of his house John Mann, a farmer living southeast of here, found a petrified kitten in perfect condition.

The cat weighed five pounds and its body was smooth and hard as though the work of a sculptor. Its tail, feet and ears were intact and there were a few whiskers projecting from the jaws.

Pittsburg Policemen Want to Form Union

PITTSBURG, July 23.—At the suggestion of Joseph G. Armstrong, Director of Public Works, the policemen of Pittsburg are planning to organize.

The new union, if the plans of the movers are successful, will be incorporated under the rules of the American Federation of Labor.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded expectiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time would bring. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

FOR THE LIVER TAKE LIVER EASE

Calomel Has Been Completely Displaced by Dr. Verdier's Liver Ease.

Be sure you get the perfect substitute for Calomel when you need a medicine for the liver.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE is made of imported drugs, purely vegetable and acts on the liver as thoroughly as calomel with none of the bad after effects.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE contains no drug that can produce salivation; there is no irritation of the stomach and bowels and no sickening after effects.

Take DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE and go about your work as though you were not taking a medicine at all. A dose at bedtime will cleanse the system of all impurities and stimulate the liver to expel the bile promptly with no discomfort. You can get DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE at any drug store for 50c per large bottle fully guaranteed.

RIVALRY, MINUS DISCORD, ABOUNDS IN BOOSTER BUTTON BEAUTY RACE

Candidates for sponsorship of 500,000 Club growing numerous.

Miss Maud Steele, new entry of brunette type and one of prettiest in contest.

Veritable Shower of Coupon Votes Received, Showing Enthusiasm in Competition.

Rivalry in Atlanta's booster button beauty contest threatens to equal that immortal mythological event in which Ate, Goddess of Discord, dropped a golden apple at the feet of Paris marked for the fairest one.

But no such disastrous result as the destruction of Troy is expected unless Birmingham or Memphis should steal Atlanta's prettiest girl and then outrank the Gate City in the census of 1920.

Atlantans fell sure that the girl elected the sponsor of the "500,000 Booster Club" will glory in her leadership and be present to act as queen of the celebration when the 500,000 population is counted in 1920.

One of the fairest candidates nominated Wednesday is Miss Maud Steele, of 9 Venable street. She is a brunette, though not extreme, and gives the brunette almost an equal place with the blondes in the number of candidates.

Each day brings in new candidates, and a snowstorm of coupon votes for the favorites. It is a wonderful contest indeed. But why shouldn't it be? The prettiest girl in Atlanta! Just think of it.

Clip the coupons that appear each day in The Georgian. Nominate your candidate. VOTE.

BURGLAR SHOT IN RESISTING ARREST

Telephone Girls' Presence of Mind Results in Capture of Two Negro Thieves.

Continued From Page 1.

the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly and the burglar probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

NEW WAYCROSS PAPER.

WAYCROSS.—This city has another publication. It is The Sentinel and it's managing editor is C. R. Hawk, until recently connected with The Morning Herald. The Sentinel will be issued weekly.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS,
Atlanta Floral Company,
455 EAST FAIR STREET.

Cash Gro. Co. 118 & 120 Whitehall

Combination Sale

Red Ribbon Tea, lb. 60c

Anyone buying 1 lb. Tea we will sell one of these items

25 lbs. Granulated Sugar	99c
20 lbs. Granulated Sugar	69c
10 lbs. Granulated Sugar	25c
10 lbs. Snowdrift Lard	59c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard	$1.09
Gallon Wesson Oil	59c
No. 10. Cottolene	79c

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. The Board of Directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

SENATE ACTS TO ENFORCE WEBB LIQUOR LAW

Passes Hixon-Searcy Bill—Fight Rages Over 3-Gallon Burden of Proof Clause.

By a vote of 36 to 3 the Senate Wednesday afternoon passed the Hixon-Searcy prohibition bill providing for the enforcement of the Webb bill in Georgia.

The bill makes it unlawful for any firm or corporation to transport liquor into the State for illegal purposes and places the burden of proof of such legality upon the shipper when quantities in excess of three gallons are shipped.

Three-Gallon Clause Attacked.

It was around the three-gallon provision as recommended in the Temperance Committee substitute that the fight centered Wednesday morning. Senator Hixon, chairman of the committee and author of the original bill, and Senator Searcy, vice chairman of the committee, opposed this provision on the ground that the whole burden of proof should be placed on the carrier.

This was vigorously opposed, however, by Senator McNeil, of the Twenty-second, a member of the committee, who declared that such a provision was an unjust burden upon the carrier.

Senator Harrell, of the Twelfth, also opposed the Hixon-Searcy measure, declaring that the measure was an effort to punish the innocent carrier rather than the illegal "blind tiger" within the State.

Increase in Crime Charged.

As the bill stands the burden of proof of illegal sale is placed on the State when quantities less than three gallons are shipped into the State. Several amendments, including those of Senator Hixon, striking out the three-gallon clause, were voted down before the final passage of the bill.

In the course of the debate sensational statements were made by Senator McNeil, "a prohibitionist in restriction," who declared that under the present prohibition law with its "nefarious results," felonies in the State had increased 66 per cent.

Oriental Fruit Fly Threatens California

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston to-day asked Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for aid in the fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly, which menaces California fruit interests.

He wants Secretary McAdoo to hold in quarantine all passenger vessels entering California ports that officials may examine luggage for fruit bearing the fly.

"TIGER" GETS NEW TRIAL.

COLUMBUS.—W. A. Waters, a former member of the Columbus police force, convicted of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to six months on the State farm, has been granted a new trial.

AVOID IMPURE MILK
for Infants and Invalids
Get
HORLICK'S
It means the Original and Genuine
MALTED MILK
"Others are Imitations"
The Food-Drink for all Ages
Rich milk, malted grain, in powder form. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged. More healthful than tea or coffee.
Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S
HORLICK'S Contains Pure Milk

Noted Lecturer to 'Talk' to Deaf Here

George William Veditz, of Colorado Springs, former president of the National Association of the Deaf, will deliver a lecture to the deaf people of Atlanta in the sign language at Taft Hall Saturday night, August 2.

Mr. Veditz's subject will be "Faust." He also will deliver a sermon to the deaf Sunday mornin, August 3, at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. John Wesley Michaels, Southern evangelist to the deaf, also will be in Atlanta at the same time and will assist Mr. Veditz.

Papal Guards Must Obey Orders or Quit

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 23.—The Swiss guards at the Vatican must obey orders or leave. Their demands, presented after the mutiny on Monday, were rejected by the Holy See to-day.

They were told they must either submit to the present military rule or return to their homes. The organizers of the agitation will be dismissed, it is reported.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentation within a few days.

APPEAL IN W. & A. CASE ORDERED BY SLATON

Governor Upsets Predecessor's Precedent by Carrying Suit to U. S. Supreme Court.

Governor Slaton Wednesday morning instructed Attorney General Thomas S. Felder and James K. Hines, special attorney for the Railroad Commission, to appeal to the United States Supreme Court in the State's suit against the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, seeking to restrain the company from charging higher rates than those fixed by the Georgia standard tariff and classification.

The appeal for injunction by the State was turned down by the Superior and Supreme Courts.

Governor Slaton's act is directly contrary to that of Governor Brown, who, when the State Supreme Court ruled against the State, instructed the Attorney General not to appeal, holding it would be of no avail.

The Governor acted upon the advice of the Attorney General and Mr. Hines, who, immediately after his inauguration, urged him to order an appeal.

GIRL HELD AS HORSE THIEF.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 23.—Miss Ella P. Behe, 23, a nurse, is in the county jail at Ebensburg, charged with horsestealing. She was arrested near Portage riding a horse taken from a livery stable.

BANKRUPT SALE

WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES

Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Thread, etc., $288; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $378; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $98; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $155; Felt, $67; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $998; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Muil, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,829; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $845; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a five-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 513 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee

402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

Will the Czar's Long Arm Get This Princess at Last?

How a noble Russian beauty has (for the present) tricked the imperial spies and may yet escape the "golden cage" prepared for her by a dissolute Grand Duke will be told in

Next Sunday's American

Get it from your dealer or order in advance by phoning Main 100.

SEASHORE EXCURSION VIA SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Premier Carrier of the South

Thursday, August 7th, 1913

$6.00 Jacksonville	Limit 6 days.
$8.00 Tampa	Limit 8 days.
$6.00 Brunswick	Limit 6 days.
$6.00 St. Simon	Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Cumberland	Limit 6 days.
$6.00 Atlantic Beach	Limit 6 days.

Tickets good returning on any regular train within limit.

Two Special Trains From Atlanta

10:00 a. m. Solid Pullman Train, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:10 a. m.

10:15 p. m. Coaches Only, Will Arrive Jacksonville 8:25 a. m.

No local stops will be made.

Passengers for Brunswick, St. Simon and Cumberland will be handled in extra coaches and sleeping cars attached to the regular train leaving Atlanta at 9:30 p. m., arriving Brunswick 7:55 a. m., where connection is made with the boats for the islands.

For Further Information, Ask Southern Railway Tickets Agents.

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON

For any regularly nominated Candidate in the

BEAUTY CONTEST

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

SECOND CHAPTER IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

The Discovery of the Body of the Slain Factory Girl and Start of Hunt for Slayer.

CHAPTER II.

His heart pounding in superstitious fright, Newt Lee, the night watchman, forced himself to approach the strange object on the pile of debris in the pencil factory basement. A step nearer and he could make out what appeared to be a human foot. He recoiled and was on the point of precipitate flight.

But he must look closer, he thought. Perhaps, after all, it was only the ghastly prank of some of the factory employees who had manufactured a rude effigy and placed it there to scare him.

Determinedly he walked closer and thrust his lantern out over the mysterious object. He shrieked. Before his horrified eyes the shaky and uncertain light of his lantern disclosed the body of a little girl.

Grimed, bloody and mutilated the body lay on the flat of its back, as the terrified negro remembered it afterward, although the police, coming a few minutes later, found the body on its face, one arm drawn slightly up under the body and the other stretched full length at the side.

Discrepancy Not Explained.

This strange discrepancy never has been explained to the public except by the possibility that Lee, in his terror, was mistaken in the position he believed the body was in when he discovered it. Conley, telling his remarkable story three weeks later, said that he dumped the girl's body face downward on the trash pile where it later was come upon by Lee.

Lee was to oappalled by his grewsome find to make a close investigation. He only saw that it was a little white girl and that she had been murdered. With frightened steps he hurried to the ladder at the other end of the basement. He was in a panic. He scuttled up the ladder and dropped the trap door over it. He felt a bit relieved away from the blackness of the basement and the awful thing that it contained.

In a moment he remembered that Mr. Frank had told him that when anything happened at the factory to call the police. The telephone at police headquarters rang at 3:30 o'clock. Policeman Anderson answered it perfunctorily. Suddenly he straightened in his chair, his indifference dropping from him in a flash.

"What's that? What's that?" he shouted, trying to make out the incoherent message of the negro at the other end of the wire. Finally he understood that a girl had been killed and that her body was lying in the basement of the National Pencil Factory on Forsyth street.

Police Rush to Scene.

"There's been a murder, fellows," he exclaimed, slamming the receiver on the hook. "Boots" Rogers was in the station. His automobile stood in front. The two men rushed out and jumped into the car. In the still morning hours, they dashed toward the scene of the tragedy. Sergeants Dobbs and Brown stood conversing at Pryor and Decatur streets. An instant's stop was made and the two officers leaped into the car.

The automobile sped on to Forsyth street, and then down to the bleak, gray building from which only one dim light flickered. The car had barely stopped before the men were out of it, and on the sidewalk. They tried the door and it was locked. They rattled it impatiently and in a moment the figure of the still frightened negro, swinging his smoky lantern, was seen coming down the stairs that lead from the second floor.

"Where's the body?" was the first question they shot at him.

Already the negro was under the shadow of suspicion.

"Come this way," Lee replied, and led the way to the opening into the dark basement.

Into the Dark Basement.

One by one the officers descended the narrow ladder into the inky darkness, unrelieved except by the single gas jet, which was turned so low that the negro Lee described it as a "lightning bug." Dobbs and Brown, with the negro, took the lead. Straight to the huddled, tragic form the black man guided the men. Sergeant Brown took one look.

"My God, it's only a child!" he exclaimed.

And the child was little Mary Phagan, who had gone forth from home the day before filled with the happiness of youth and untouched by any thought of harm or evil.

The change was terrible. In the tortured form that lay cold in the factory basement could hardly be recognized the fresh, pretty girl that came to Atlanta the day before to draw her pay and take childish delight in the Memorial Day parade.

The brute who slew her had worked a sickening transformation in her features. The smiling, innocent face was bruised, swollen and discolored. Cinders and black dirt were ground into the tender face so that at first it was almost impossible to tell whether she was black or white.

Dragged About the Floor.

She appeared to have been dragged across the basement floor by her murderer with as little feeling as is given a sheep in the shambles.

Blood from an ugly wound in the back of the head soaked and matted the pretty hair that, with girlish vanity, had been carefully brushed and tied with twin blue ribbons on each side of her head when she left home.

A length of heavy cord was looped about her neck, and the deep purple imprints in her flesh told that her assailant had used this either to drag her across the floor or to strangle her to death. If the story of the negro Conley is found to be true, the body was not dragged in the basement. A clumsy gag, torn from her dress, was bound around her head.

The pongee silk lavender dress which Mary proudly had donned for the holiday was torn and bloodstained. The twin bows of blue had been kept in place by the gag bound around her head. One little slipper was on her right foot and the other was found a few feet away. Her hat was found near the elevator shaft.

Basement Is Searched.

When the policemen had recovered from their first horror, they set out at once to investigate. They had hardly begun a search of the basement before their eyes lighted on two bits of paper by the side of the body. These contained the mysterious incoherent notes which were to play such a large part in the progress of the investigation.

This is the manner in which one of the almost illegible scrawls was deciphered:

"He said he wood love me laid down like the night witch did it, but that long tall black negro did it by hisself.'

The other read:

"Mama that negro hired down here did this I went to get water and he pushed me down this hole a long tall negro black that has it woke long lean tall negro I write while play with me."

By daybreak the police and detective departments were in a turmoil of excitement.

Lee Put Under Arrest.

Newt Lee, the only person at the time known to have been in the factory while the murdered girl was there, was placed under immediate arrest, being taken directly from the factory to the police station. The dragnet was spread for other suspects. Leo Frank had been called from the factory by Policeman Anderson, but no answer came to the telephone. Early in the morning an automobile was sent to his house and he was brought to the police station to tell all he knew in order to assist the officers in their search for the criminal.

Soon after daybreak the news spread that a terrible murder had been committed; that a 14-year-old girl had been attacked and strangled in the National Pencil factory. Crowds of morbidly curious began to gather about the factory. They pressed their way into the front door and swarmed down into the cellar. Officers had difficulty in handling them.

Who the victim of the tragedy was the officers had not yet succeeded in establishing. Someone had said he thought it was a girl by the name of "Fagan," but no one was certain. Grace Hicks, of No. 100 McDonough road, one of the girl employees of the factory, was brought from her home by "Boots" Rogers to identify the body.

Girl Identifies Victim.

She looked at the swollen face and at the little gold bracelet imbedded in the flesh of the arm.

"It's Mary Phagan," she cried, and fainted.

She had been a warm friend of the murdered girl and at one time had worked by her side.

One of the most pathetic scenes was enacted when 12-year-old Vera Epps, who had been a chum and playmate of the Phagan girl since Mary had moved to Atlanta, visited the morgue and looked upon the distorted features of her little friend.

She burst into hysterical weeping and would not be comforted. She probably did not comprehend the full tragedy, but she knew that her playmate had been taken from her in a terrible manner and that some man fiendishly and ruthlessly had strangled her to death. Her father and mother were with her. They tried to get her to leave the room where the body lay, but she stayed on for more than an hour.

Cries Out for Vengeance.

Childish rage was added to her sorrow and she cried for vengeance.

"I'd help lynch the man that killed poor Mary," she cried, clenching her little hands in fury. "If they'd just let me I'd like to hold the rope that choked him to death. That's all he deserves. I was playing with Mary only a few days ago. She was my playmate nearly every day, but when I saw her dead body I hardly would have known her."

A grief-stricken home on Lindsay street received the news of Mary Phagan's fate that morning. Mrs. Coleman, her mother, had been frantic with anxiety when Mary had failed to return home the night before. Mary had said that she would return directly after the Memorial Day parade. She never had failed in any of her promises.

But the mother remembered that Mary had remarked about wanting to go to the Bijou. Possibly she had met some of her girl companions and they had gone to the entertainment in the evening. She sent Mr. Coleman to town to wait at the door of the theater. He waited until long after the crowd had filed out, but Mary did not come. Mrs. Phagan slept hardly at all that night.

Mother Had Premonition.

Mary probably had gone to the home of one of her friends, she tried to assure herself, but a deadly weight of fear oppressed her in spite of all her efforts to shake it off. She would doze into a troubled slumber only to awake with a premonition that harm had come to her child.

When a knock came at the door that morning she answered with a sinking heart.

Helen Ferguson, a girl living nearby, stood there with the tragic message on her lips.

"Mary is——" she started to say.

"Not dead?" shrieked Mrs. Coleman, knowing too well that it was so. Other members of the family rushed to the door and they were told the meager facts as they were known then, only that Mary's dead body had been found in the basement of the factory and that she plainly had been murdered.

Mrs. Coleman swooned and for days she was unable to do more than walk about the house and moan for her little girl.

Aroused by the shocking crime, practically the entire detective force was sent out to capture the murderer of the girl. It was only the matter of a few hours before the police station was filled with persons who declared that they had seen Mary Phagan some time on the day that she was slain or that they had seen a girl of about her age with one or more men at various times of the night.

Every Clew Run Down.

The detectives were hampered as much as they were aided by these well meaning persons. They were forced to investigate every story that had any semblance of furnishing a clew to the mystery. Hours that day were wasted in looking up tales of suspicious occurrences on the streets of Atlanta that Saturday night.

Newt Lee, already in custody, was kept under a running fire of questions, but maintained, even when he broke down and wept, that he knew absolutely nothing about the crime except that he found the body in the basement.

A traveling man told the detectives that he saw a girl he was certain was Mary Phagan standing in front of the factory Saturday afternoon talking to a man. Another person told a story of seeing three men, intoxicated and reeling, leading a little girl in short dress, near midnight Saturday. The girl, he said, appeared reluctant to go with them and was crying.

Another story that had to be investigated was that a girl of Mary Phagan's age had been seen talking to a man on the sidewalk near the pencil factory at a late hour Saturday night, and that she seemed to be trying to get away from him.

The police at this time were ready to credit the story that the girl had been lured to the factory at night and there attacked and killed. Nothing as yet had developed to substantiate the theory that she never had left the building after she entered it Saturday noon to obtain her pay envelope.

Startling Story Told.

After scores of persons had related suspicious incidents that they had observed came the most startling story of all. It was that Mary had been seen on the street at about 12:30 Saturday night by an acquaintance who actually had spoken to her and had received a reply.

E. L. Sentell, an employee of Kamper's grocery, was the informant. He had known Mary Phagan for years, he said. He was walking on Forsyth street that night when he was attracted by the sight of a man coming down the street walking with a little girl in short dresses. As a girl of this age was an uncommon sight on the street at this hour of night, he waited as they approached. He was startled to recognize Mary Phagan in the little girl. He knew that her parents were not accustomed to let her go out at this late hour.

He spoke to her as she and the man passed.

"Hello, Mary," he said.

"Hello, Ed," she replied.

This is the sensational story that he told. Unquestionably, the man she was with must be the man who knew about her death. A clew to his supposed identity was obtained. Sentell was positive he could recognize the man when he faced him. The news spread like wildfire that an arrest was to be made and that the man to be taken was without doubt the one who had lured Mary Phagan to the factory and killed her.

Within an hour the waiting crowds at the police station saw the officers arriving with their prisoner.

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

WOMEN WHO MOURN MARY PHAGAN

MRS. R. E. PHAGAN. RUTH PHAGAN. OLLIE PHAGAN. MATTIE PHAGAN.

ATTACK BURLESON FOR POST RATE CUT

Certain Members of Congress Also Oppose Increase in Maximum Size of Parcels.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Postmaster General Burleson has been requested by the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads to appear before the committee Thursday and explain his order reducing parcel post rates and increasing the maximum size packages to be carried by that service from 11 to 20 pounds. This order is to become effective August 15.

Certain members of Congress, including members of the Senate committee, are opposed to this new order of the Postmaster General.

Senator Bryan said to-day:

"I think that the order of the Postmaster General at this time was ill-advised. I intend to use every effort to get my bill repealing that section of the law which the Postmaster General claims gives him authority to change the rates passed by Congress before his order can go into effect."

Sues Money Lenders For Loss of Position

MACON, July 23.—W. R. Roberts, a railroad fireman, who lost his position because his salary was garnished, has brought suit for $2,000 damages in Superior Court against King Bros., money lenders, of Atlanta and Macon.

Roberts charges that he borrowed $20 and paid back $40, and that King Bros. then claimed he still owed $22. Refusing to pay this, his salary was attached, which entailed the loss of his position at a time when his wife was critically ill.

Fraud Suit Thrown Out of Macon Court

MACON, July 23.—The suit for $100,000 damages brought by A. C. Felton, vice president of a lumber company, against R. J. Taylor and N. M. Block, Macon bank presidents, in which they were charged with conspiracy to defraud him out of stock worth $100,000 and with cheating and swindling, has been thrown out of Superior Court by Judge H. A. Mathews.

The court sustained the general demurrer offered by Taylor and Block.

HE SAVED 89 LIVES.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 23.—Captain Patrick Grace, 76, who had a record of having saved 89 persons from drowning, is dead at his home in Montgomery.

Armistice Near in War in the Balkans

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

SOFIA, July 23.—It was stated officially to-day that Servia and Greece have agreed to Roumania's proposal to discuss an armistice with Bulgaria. The preliminary discussion will be held at Nish.

In an official note to Sofia to-day Roumania insists that she be allowed to retain strategetic position on the frontier; that specified privileges shall be extended to the Roumanian population in Macedonia and that the peace negotiations shall be opened in Roumanian territory after an armistice has been signed.

Bill Creates State Printing Supervisor

The creation of the office of Superintendent of Public Printing is provided in a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Representative Smith, of Atlanta. A salary of $2,400 is provided. The duties of the office would be to handle the awarding of all contracts for State printing.

The appointment of a practical printer by the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor, the appointment to be ratified by the Secretary of State, Comptroller General and Treasurer, also is provided.

Hatpin Stab May Cause Man's Death

SAVANNAH, July 23.—As a result of what may have been a hatpin wound in the arm, a Greek named Ricardos is in the Oglethorpe Hospital in a critical condition. Double pneumonia has set in, and it is not expected that he will recover.

The police are investigating a report that the Greek was jabbed in the arm by a woman with a hatpin.

BURGLAR ADMITS SUIT CASE THEFTS

Miller, Caught Robbing Store, Confesses When Accused by Detective Who Posed as Pal.

R. W. Miller, held by the police on a charge of breaking into Gober's store, at No. 30 Carroll street, confessed to numerous thefts of suit cases from passenger stations when confronted with a member of the detective force who had been masquerading with him as a pal, according to the police.

P. W. Reeves, captured with Miller, grew sullen during the grilling and would say nothing. Chief Lanford told of the new evidence Wednesday.

When Miller and Reeves were trapped Monday night a third man escaped through a window. At the police station the pair denied all guilt. Then the detective, whose name Chief Lanford refuses to disclose, confronted them. Reeves branded the detective a liar. For a moment violence was feared.

Miller's home, near Red Oak, was searched Tuesday afternoon. A suit case and a pair of white canvas shoes, stolen from the Terminal station on July 4, were found.

Miller and Reeves will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles Thursday.

Accused Chief of Feudists on Trial

WINCHESTER, KY., July 23.—Fletcher Deaton, alleged to be the arch conspirator in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, was placed on trial after Andrew Johnson had been found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of Callahan, shouted and wept for joy when the jury pronounced Johnson guilty. She worked up the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF HEIRLOOMS

Georgian Want Ad Reveals Disappearance of Silver in Bank Rest Room.

Loss of a package of old and extremely valuable silverware has resulted in a search for two young women who are believed to have picked up the valuables.

The package disappeared several days ago while the owner was in the rest room of the Third National Bank Building, and it is believed that two young women who were in the room at the time and who are not employed in the building, walked away with it.

The loss has been attracting attention by the appearance of a unique advertisement in the loss column of The Georgian, reading, "The lady who removed silverware from rest room in the Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405, Third National Bank Building."

The silverware bears the monogram of "C," engraved on it a century ago. The package contained a number of spoons, sugar shells and other pieces. They were heirlooms and highly prized.

It is probable that arrests will follow unless the silverware is returned, as the owner is sure she can identify the young women who were in the rest room.

FELIX WAS IN PAIN.

JOLIET, ILL., July 23.—Because he shrieked so they could not sleep a gang of Mexicans tied Felix Manuelo to the top of a box car. He was rescued and taken to a hospital where an operation for appendicitis was performed to-day.

SEABOARD NAMES LOW BALTIMORE RATE.

$20.85 round trip, on sale August 1-2-3. Through electric lighted steel trains, excellent Dining Car service. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Etc., Etc., Etc., Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the surest and best of drugs, are supplid from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank 16 1-2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Some of the Season's Best Merchandise in a Clearaway Thursday in

The Down-Stairs Section

Wash Fabrics At Prices that Many Will Want to Share

10c yard — For 25c Voiles in solid colors.

15c yard — For 25c Dolly Madison Crepes—a pretty dress fabric.

11c yard — For 20c Plisse Crepe in small floral designs, very dainty; many shades to select from.

10c yard — For 15c Dress Swisses in dotted and striped effects; full range of desirable colors.

12½c yard — For 25c Shirting Madras, neat stripe effects—all fast colors.

19c yard — For 25c and 35c Silk stripe Poplins and Ottoman cloth.

19c yard — For 35c White Ratine in short lengths.

4c yard — For figured Lawns for dresses—white ground with neat black figures.

25c — Brassieres That Are Worthy of Your Attention.

Well-made, perfect-fitting Brassieres, embroidery-trimmed; a value that every woman will appreciate at this price.

49c — For Girls' White Lawn Dresses

Ordinarily they would be priced at 75c—for they are dresses of good value, made of good lawn, prettily trimmed with embroidery and small tucks.

10c Each — For Children's separate Body Waists and Drawers; well made, of good quality muslin.

Women's Parasols At Half Price---50c Instead of $1.00

We thought they were remarkable values when we marked them at $1.00—women thought so too, for they bought nearly all of them at that price. The few remaining to be disposed of to-morrow at just half. An opportunity you will want to share.

Clearing Out Certain Groups of Gloves, Hose and Handkerchiefs

25c Pair for Long Lisle Gloves—16-button length.

35c Dozen for Men's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs.

Children's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs; plain white; six for 15c.

23c Pair for—

Women's black lace lisle Hose; regular 35c value.

Timely Things at Prices to Make One Think

50c Garden Hoe, at 25c.

39c Brooms, at 25c.

Patented Grass Shears, at 10c.

6 Dozen Agate Buttons, for 5c.

25c Patent Leather Belts (all colors), at 10c.

29c — For Women's Blouses Up to 75c

Pretty Blouses in many styles, lace or embroidery trimmed. Choose from all-white or some with dainty color touches. High-neck or low-neck styles. Some are made shirt style, with either soft or laundered collar.

SAYS HIS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN HIS COFFEE

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

J. Ham Lewis Martyr To Senatorial Dignity

WASHINGTON, July 21.—J. Ham Lewis, Senator from Illinois, to-day answered a query anent semi-wintry raiment, consisting of buckskin gloves, felt hat, dark gray suit of heavy texture and parti-colored woolen vest, within which he braved the sweltering weather.

"Misconceived Senatorial dignity decrees that we shall wear a vest," explained Senator Lewis, fingering the garment in question, "when we would fain di-vest ourselves of the encumbrance."

House Bill Requires Seed Cotton Record

A bill requiring all purchasers of seed cotton to keep a complete record of the same has been introduced in the House by Representatives Hines and Moon, of Troup County.

In the last few weeks many complaints have been filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture by farmers who stated that seed cotton which they had purchased under the highest recommendations had proved to be either of inferior quality or absolutely worthless.

Moose and G. O. P. in Battle in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 23.—The elephant and the bull moose in Louisville are engaged in a fight which threatens to eliminate both.

Following attacks by Republicans on Progressive nominations for the August primary, the Progressives have attacked the Republican list, starting with George T. Wood, candidate for mayor. Invalid nominating papers are the chief grounds.

PROTECT YOUR EYES.

What will you take for your eyes? Are they not entitled to the best glasses?

We strive for the best in skill, in material, in workmanship.

Oculist service at optician prices.

L. N. Huff Optical Co., two stores, 70 Whitehall, 52 W. Mitchell. Adv.

Little Captains of Industry

The Georgian "Want Ad" is a little captain of industry working night and day, bringing together thousands for mutual benefit who otherwise might never meet.

Read for Profit

Georgian "Want Ads"

Use for Results

Yellowjackets Rout Soldiers of Second Regiment

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, July 23.—After having crowned themselves with glory by routing the "enemy," composed of another battalion of the regiment, a detachment of the Second Georgia infantry to-day was put to ignominious flight by a swarm of yellowjackets, encountered on the battlefield. Several of the soldiers were stung, but the majority escaped by a hasty and disorganized retreat.

While to-day's "battle" was in progress a squad of soldiers digging intrenchments unearthed a human skeleton.

The Macon Volunteers last night entertained Colonel Thomas and other officers at supper, followed by a "badger" fight. Lieutenant Whittaker, of the Floyd Rifles, held the "badger."

Captain J. A. Fort, of Americus, was to-day's officer of the day.

Republican Regime In Portugal Totters

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MADRID, July 23.—The Portuguese Republic is tottering. The country seethes with the revolutionary spirit to overthrow the Republican Government and re-establish a monarchy. Travelers from Portugal arriving here to-day say the movement is the best organized since King Manuel was dethroned.

Troops are being rushed to all points in an effort to check the rebellion, which Government officials consider the most serious since the new form of government was established.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here to-day.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

Strike Shuts World's Biggest Copper Mine

CALUMET, MICH., July 23.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 copper miners of the upper peninsula went on a strike this morning, completely tying up twenty mines in four counties. The men demand shorter hours and an increase in wages. The Calumet and Hecla, the biggest copper producer in the world, has been shut down.

The men were organized recently by the Western Federation of Miners. There has been no disorder.

N. P. Head Is Slated For Mellen's Place

NEW YORK, July 23.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, probably will succeed Charles S. Mellen as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This report came to-day from a reliable source.

It was said that Mr. Elliott has been in consultation with J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents for the New Haven, and the official announcement of his appointment may come at any time.

Government Agent Goes to LaFayette

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Milton E. Elliott, counsel for the Comptroller of the Currency, left Washington to-day for LaFayette, Ga., to examine the First National Bank, which was closed Saturday when a shortage of $30,000 was discovered.

The mystery surrounding the shortage has not been cleared.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 457 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Camelia Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral services for Joseph A. Johnson, a pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted from the residence, No. 302 Luckie street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers will be Captain Henry Jennings, Frank Whitley, A. Q. Adams, George H. Sims, James Hudson and Andrew Klassett. Interment in Oakland.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

VETERAN EDITORS GIVE UP OFFICES

Georgia Weekly Press Association Names New Recording Secretary and Treasurer.

LA GRANGE, July 23.—Two officers who have served the Georgia Weekly Press Association for twenty or more years retired to-day when the annual election was held. B. T. Mosely, of The Danielsville Monitor, for twenty years treasurer, is succeeded by J. J. Howell, of The Cuthbert Leader. W. A. Shackelford, of The Oglethorpe Echo, Lexington, recording secretary since the association was formed 27 years ago, is succeeded by C. E. Benns, of The Butler Herald.

H. M. Stanley, of The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, was re-elected corresponding secretary. P. T. McCutcheon, of The Franklin News-Banner, was elected president; J. C. McAuliffe, of The Milledgeville News, first vice president, and J. A. Perry, of The LaGrange Reporter, second vice president.

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton arrived this afternoon from Atlanta to attend the barbecue given the editors by Fuller E. Callaway and to be honor guests at the banquet to-night by the citizens of LaGrange.

Members of the association leave on a special train at 9 o'clock Thursday morning for Brunswick and St. Simons Island, where several days will be spent.

The members of the association returned to LaGrange from West Point late Tuesday afternoon, after a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point-Lanett News, and an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the banks of the Chattahoochee River by the citizens of that city.

A session of the convention was held in the courthouse Tuesday night. Besides routine matters there were interesting papers from a number of the leading members of the association on subjects of live interest to the weekly press of the State.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

Pass the Medals to These Heroes, Please!

TRENTON, N. J., July 23.—A test meal of eggs three years old was made by the State Board of Health here.

If the board survives, $4,000 worth of ancient eggs will be released from cold storage.

DEAD IN RUINS OF FACTORY NOW FIXED AT 58

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tons of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At noon on Wednesday twenty-one bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 58, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Thirty-seven are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

SEEKING SHERIFF'S PLACE.

SAVANNAH.—Robert Saussy has qualified as a candidate for Sheriff of Chatham County in the primary election of July 30. The time for qualifying has expired, leaving the race between Mr. Saussy and Colonel Merrett W. Dixon.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

Operation Threatened?

Postpone it until you have tried Nuxcara. Many serious conditions are caused by indigestion and consequent mal-nutrition.

TAKE

NUXCARA

3 Times a Day

One-half hour before each meal. Mr. J. F. Adams, of Atlanta, took Nuxcara and this is what he says:

"Nuxcara has been a boon to me. The first bottle that I bought I was hardly able to reach the drug store. I had suffered for twenty-five years with dyspepsia, part of the time in bed. Kept away from my business for days at a time. I regard Nuxcara as the only cure for indigestion and mal-nutrition and always recommend it to any one suffering that way. I can not say too much for this great medicine and am glad of an opportunity to bring it to the notice of some one suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia, knowing that it will cure them."

Ask Your Druggist--$1.00 a Bottle

Lamar-Rankin Drug Co.

Distributors,

69 S. Forsyth Street

EDMONDSON DRUG CO.,

Special Atlanta Agents,

11 N. Broad St.

Manufactured by the Nuxcara Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS

During the hot summer days we are offering some splendid bargains in household necessities. Listen to these prices:

$2.00 White Enameled Chamber Pail

$1.20

(Just like cut, except pure white).

$1.50 White Enameled Chamber Pail

98c

Handsome Brass Cuspidors

50c to $3.50 Each

Enameled Cuspidors

20c to $1.00 Each

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Brass Jardinieres

$1.98

$3.00 Hand-Hammered Umbrella Stands

$1.98

Don't fail to see our beautiful window display. We are still offering special prices on tennis and outdoor goods.

KING HARDWARE CO.

53 Peachtree 87 Whitehall

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

EISEMAN BROS., Inc.

Have You Seen Those New

ENGLISH LOUNGE SUITS

We Have Just Gotten In?

A belated shipment that now necessarily includes them in the clearance prices our

REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE

is offering. These Suits were made up especially to our order of high class flannels, tropical worsteds---domestic and Canadian Crashes---and are very exceptional values! They are the strictly authoritative English cut, splendidly tailored and exquisitely finished. The collection includes both two and three-piece models; coats quarter lined with either fine, soft finished silk or alpaca. Three-piece suits have skeleton vests. These suits were bought to sell and are brilliant values at $16.50 to $35.00.

Clearance Price

$12.50 to $26.50

They are fashionable, cool and serviceable. Real bargains you'll be glad to profit by.

The extensive improvements being made on our building are not interfering with the customary business and service of the store, and you'll find your best interests thoroughly well cared for as usual.

All Departments of the Big Store are brimful of bountiful bargains! Clearance prices on Clothing, Furnishings, Children's Wear, Hats, Shoes and Leather Goods.

Eiseman Bros. Inc.

Store closes each Wednesday at One o'Clock during July and August.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

PASSIVE MEXICO POLICY SCORED BY SENATORS

Fall's Resolution, Guaranteeing American Citizens' Rights Abroad, Is Tabled.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Fall resolution guaranteeing constitutional rights to American citizens abroad and protection to their property, went over without debate when the Senate met to-day. This leaves the resolution tabled and ready for consideration at any time the author may see fit to again call it up.

Fall agreed with members of the Senate that enough publicity has been given the Mexican situation for the present and on motion of Senator Simmons, the tariff bill was made the order of business.

Senator Fall made it plain that he was not averse to having his resolution referred to the Foreign Relations Committee in accordance with the suggestion of Chairman Bacon of that committee.

"I feel confident that sufficient publicity has been given the Mexican situation through debate on this resolution," said Senator Fall, "to make it plain that the United States either must revoke the order prohibiting the exportation of arms into Mexico, or take a determined attitude with regard to the protection of Americans in Mexico."

Senator Fall said in regard to the Mexican situation that no greater error could be made than a continuance of the dilatory tactics pursued by the United States in the past. Agreeing with Fall in this view were a large number of Senators in both sides of the chamber.

President and Bacon Confer on Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Wilson to-day summoned Representative Flood, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the White House to confer on conditions in Mexico.

The delicacy of the present situation enforced a policy of secrecy at the White House, but it was asserted that the purpose of to-day's conference was to discuss the advisability of removing the ban from shipments of arms and ammunition to the constitutionalists in Northern Mexico.

General Carranza and other revolutionists have been pleading for weeks for the removal of this prohibition, claiming that they are entitled to the same privileges accorded to the Maderists by President Taft.

It is doubtful if any decisive move will be made until after the removal of Ambassador Wilson, but it is practically certain that this Government will favor the removal of the prohibition relative to the shipment of arms to the rebels and then will await developments in the hope of establishing a stable government in Mexico.

U. S. Prepared to Act on Short Notice.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dispatch of a gunboat to Mexican waters, in addition to the four battleships already there, the presence of Secretary of War Garrison and General Leonard Wood on the Texas border and the summoning of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to Washington are taken to indicate the intention of official circles here that the Mexican situation will no longer be allowed by President Wilson to drift.

Reports from Chihuahua and Coahuila indicate the centralization of the Federalist forces in those provinces and the opening of railroad communication from the capital to the border within a week.

Mexico Is Stuffed With Ammunition for U. S.

LAREDO, TEXSA, July 23.—A bitter arraignment of the United States, accusing the Government of fostering the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz, and of aiming mortal blows at the liberty and sovereignty of the weaker Central American nations, in direct contrast to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, has been published in Spanish and distributed throughout Mexico.

A copy of the document to-day was forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

"With the pretext of diffusing civilization," says the document, "they (the United States) send to the limit of the continent all the castoffs, all the excess of population which congests their cities, and heralds of culture and progress, the majority of those who arrive are tramps, broken bankers, defaulters, pardoned prisoners, the bulls of their cosmopolitan criminals.

"These are they who come to us, who, supported by them in obtaining concessions, in founding banks without capital, to suck like vampires the blood and the riches of the ingenuous and credulous, noble and confiding people."

The Waters-Pierce Oil Company and the Harriman interests are flayed for their efforts to establish trusts in oil and railroad properties. The document then says:

"We have given them our riches and our confidence, but we will not give them an atom of our dignity nor another hand's breadth of our territory. The people must stand erect at the proper moment, and this now has arrived. They can not annihilate us. International complications will prevent them.

"They would require 100,000 men to invade Mexico, and their triumph, if they triumph, would be over burning fields and mountains of corpses. They would need their entire fleet to blockade our ports.

"This would be very dangerous for them, for there is someone lying in ambush. Mexico is bristling with rifles and stuffed with ammunition. It would be a horrible war."

$20.85 BALTIMORE AND RETURN VIA SEABOARD.

Sold August 1-2-3. Correspondingly low rates from other points. New Steel Sleeping Cars, through trains.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and

LAWMAKERS PUT IN TEACHERS' FIX BY MEASURE

McMichael Resolution Diverts Legislators' Salary Fund to Schoolma'ams.

To pay the members of the Georgia General Assembly in 1914 in script, payable within six months, and apply the fund set aside for legislators' salaries to the payment of country school teachers is the provision of a resolution introduced by Representative McMichael, of Marion County, Thursday morning. The resolution would have provided for this at the present session, but for the fact that many members already have drawn their pay.

Should the resolution be adopted it would mean that two-thirds of the annual deficit of $100,000 in school teachers' salaries would be made up at once. The daily payroll of the Legislature amounts to from $1,300 to $1,500 a day.

The teachers are awaiting the payment of more than $100,000 on their salaries, past due many months. Script usually is given, but as payment is deferred from six to twelve months they are forced to discount at from 10 to 50 per cent, if they are not in position to support themselves until payment of the script is made by the State.

McMichael's resolution is a bit sarcastic, referring to the fact that all other employees of the State from the Governor down to the janitors, including the members of the General Assembly, are paid promptly.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.

The resolution provides for the payment of cash to the legislators for actual mileage due the members.

Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

Eckman's Alterative
FOR THE THROAT AND LUNGS.
Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For sale by all of Jacobs' Drug Stores.

PRISON REFORM PUSHED BY WELTNER

Secretary of Crusaders Urges Indeterminate Sentence as Best for Convicts.

Another gun in the campaign of the bill providing indeterminate prison sentences, which has been favorably reported by both House and Senate Committees, has been fired by Philip Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association, which is responsible for the bill.

"The enactment of the bill will not only improve convict conditions in Georgia," Mr. Weltner declares, "but it will increase the efficiency of the convicts in road building. The indeterminate sentence is based on justice and common sense rather than sentiment and mercy; and wherever it has been tried it has tended to embarrass the crook by keeping him in up to the limit, yet holding the door of opportunity open to the occasional offenders whom kind treatment and hope can reform.

"To give a convict a fixed term of imprisonment means that the law believes it can foretell the length of time it will take to discipline him. Wrong doing gets the perpetrator into prison; right doing ought to be his only means of getting out."

"BUSY --AS-- BEES"

Little bees make the honey; little "Want Ads" make the money

Read for Profit

GEORGIAN "WANT ADS"

Use for Results

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. According to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

TO PROBE SLAYING.

COLUMBUS. — When the Law and Equity Court of Lee County, Alabama, convenes on August 4 the Grand Jury will take up the case of Homer Carmack, charged with entering the store of J. J. Folk recently and hacking him to death with a butcher knife.

Great July Pre-Inventory Sales at

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

A "Let-Go" of Fine Linens

Prices Drop to Half and Less for This Most Extraordinary Clearaway

"Clean Stocks" is our slogan—our rigid Pre-Inventory Policy is not to carry over any soiled merchandise nor odds and ends.

That's the reason for the finest linens in the South being offered at a fraction of their value.

To our certain knowledge no Southern store ever offered linens of such qualities at these near-half and less-than-half prices.

The left aisle table and counters are heaped high with values. Though the sale is scheduled for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—it is plain that the best Bargains will be snapped up Thursday. Selling starts at 8:30 with these unprecedented values.

Finest Table Linens at Exactly Half Price

French table linens—acknowledged the finest in the world. Oddments—only one pattern of a kind. Two or more patterns, however, at the same price:
$20 cloth, 2x2 1-2 yards, at $10.00.
$25 cloth, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, at $12.50.
$30 cloth, 2 1-2x3 yards, at $15.00.
$25 dozen napkins, 27 in. size, $12.50.

Fine Lunch Sets

Beautiful qualities of high grade linens. Cloths are hemstitched or scalloped. Dozen napkins to complete each set. Just about a dozen sets in all, to clear them, we make these pre-inventory prices:
$12.50 Linen sets, $6.90.
$15.00 Linen sets, $8.50.

Napkins in the Sale

$2.98 doz., 22 1-2 in. size, values $4 and $4.50.
$5.98 doz., 27-inch size, values $7.50 to $9.
$7.98 doz. 27-inch size, values $10 to $15.

$5 German Damask Lunch Sets Only $1.98

All linen damask lunch sets in various colored designs. The cloths are 63x63 inches, neatly hemstitched. Half dozen 14-inch napkins complete the set.

Scalloped Table Cloths

A few odd scalloped cloths that are a little soiled. Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2 1-4 x 2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2 x 2 1-2 prices:
$8.50 Scalloped cloths, $4.90.
$10.00 Scalloped cloths, $5.90.
$12.50 Scalloped cloths, $6.90.
$15.00 Scalloped cloths, $8.90.

Soiled Table Cloths

Though these linens need a tubbing, they will emerge with their "bloom" and "finish" intact. High grade linens; full 100 per cent flax; honest to the last thread; the grades you would gladly buy at full price. Here's how they go to-morrow:

$6.50 to $8.50 Cloths at $3.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2x 2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3 yards.

$8, $10 & $12.50 Cloths at $4.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1-2 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3, 2 1-2x3 1-2 yards.

$13.50 to $16.50 Cloths at $9.90
Extremely fine tablecloths in all sizes up to 2 1-2x4 yards.

Pre-Inventory Pencil Pushes Down Prices on Rich's Staple Black Silks

Standard $1 and $1.25 Black Silks at 59c

Rich's black silks in a sale. And at an average half price! It is almost as if a grocer sold sugar at half. For Rich's black silks are as staple and as standard.

You can choose from soft, lustrous black LOUISINE; the fashionable black FAILLE FRANCAIS; the gracious ever-wearing GROSGRAIN; a magnificent MOURNING SILK; the beautiful SATIN BENGALINE. Widths range from 20 to 27 inches. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 a yard; to-morrow at 59c.

Prices on $1.00 to $2.00 Silks Slashed to 49c

You will be astonished at the values; the quantities; the varieties; the lovely $1.00 to $2.00 silks that are offered at 49c.

You have choice of 42-inch all-silk chiffons; flowered silks, odd silks; 27-inch chiffon taffetas in changeables and solid colors; novelty silks, including many desirable weaves and patterns. Lengths from 3 to 30 yards. Not a yard worth less than $1.00; most of them formerly priced at $1.50 to $2.50. Choice 49c.

55c for 85c to $1.50 Silks—the 85c and $1.00 silks are spot-proof foulards, in choice patterns and favored colors. The $1.50 silks are Dolly Madison patterns, pretty floral designs, new this season.

79c for $1.00 Messalines—choice of our entire stock of $1 yard-wide Messalines, except black or white.

$1.19 for $1.50 silk and wool Poplins—the beauty of silk wedded to the strength of wool. Soft and sheer, with classic grace. Leading shades of navy and Copenhagen, also black and brown. 42 inches wide.

33c for 59c Silk Foulards—navy grounds, with neat pin and polka dots. 23 in.

$1.39 for $1.75 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines—includes our entire stock of $1.75 Crepe de Chines in full pieces, except black or white, and all $2 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines in dress lengths.

25c for 50c to 85c silks—solid color messalines and wash silks and short lengths of staple and novelty silks. The yard, 25c.

(Silk Annex—Main Floor, Left)

To Sell These Stockings Quickly, We Have Slashed the Prices

Nothing wrong with the stockings, save that they are odd lots and broken lines that we won't invoice. So we empty the boxes and group the different lots on three tables at 29c, 49c and 59c.

Stockings are variously of lisle and silk lisle, lace and embroidered. Black, tan and a few white and colors. All sizes at each price.

29c; values to 50c.
49c; values to 75c.
59c; values to $1.25.

(Main Floor, Right)

A Parasol Sale at $1.98

Choose any summer parasol in stock, whether its former price was $2.50, $3, $3.50 or $4, at $1.98.

Something like four score in all, in solid colors; Roman stripes; solid colors with floral or Persian borders; plaids and other fancies. Novelty and regulation shapes. Leading colors and combinations. Select the parasol you like—there's a saving of about half at $1.98. (Main Floor, Right)

Half Price Sale Toys, Games, Etc.

Final outclearing Friday and Saturday of all kinds of dolls, doll buggies, children's furniture, toys, vehicles and games. Most of the articles are at half price; some even less than half.

(Toy Annex—Main Floor, Right)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

300 Fine Summer Dresses at Half Price

Just the thing to wear at the present time, when the season is at its height, and certainly a timely opportunity, indeed, to buy them at Half Price.

Many very substantial effects make up the 300 imported ratine and heavy linens, fine French linens and voile, Bedford cord and very many novelty materials.

Smart French models, plain tailored models, including dark colors that may be worn all through the fall.

White and light colors and dozens of exquisite combinations of materials and colors.

These are the kind of dresses you'll find in this sale, and there're 300 to select from.

You'll not have any trouble finding what you want. All sizes from misses' 14 to women's 44—all at Half Price. And, remember, you have two months of summer to benefit by the purchase.

$10.00 Dresses $ 5.00
$12.50 Dresses $ 6.25
$15.00 Dresses $ 7.50
$18.50 Dresses $ 9.25
$20.00 Dresses $10.00
$25.00 Dresses $12.50
$30.00 Dresses $15.00
$35.00 Dresses $17.50
$40.00 Dresses $20.00

J. P. Allen & Co. 51 and 53 Whitehall

Uncle Trusty Can't Keep You From Owning a Home

TRUSTS have no monopoly of the EARTH! There's a home in this world for EVERYBODY—there's a home for YOU, right here in Atlanta.

If you are making "living" wages, then no TRUST—no COMBINATION—no power on earth, except YOURSELF, can keep you from OWNING a home!

If you continue to pay RENT on somebody else's property, then you'll probably never own a home—but, if you BUY a handsome house and lot, on our DIVIDED PAYMENT PLAN, then you will be the proud owner of a splendid HOME!

For $100 down, and as little as $21 a month, we will sell you a house and lot, in CAPITOL VIEW, which is a picturesque residential section, inside of Atlanta's city limits—an 18-minute street car ride from the Post-office! We have several brand-new houses ready for occupancy!

For full information, phone us—or call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE
207 Equitable Bldg.
Bell, Main 3520
Atlanta Phone, 3520

The SOCIAL WORLD

Mrs. Lundy Harris, who is at the Georgian Terrace for several days while making her plans for a log cabin she will build on her estate in North Georgia, was the honor guest at an informal luncheon Wednesday morning when Mrs. Warren Candler invited a few of Mrs. Harris' friends to spend a quiet day reminiscing with her.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Harris will be one of the distinguished guests at the dinner Colonel and Mrs. Robert Lowry will give at the Piedmont Club. Mrs. Harris leaves Friday for North Georgia.

Adairs Give Swimming Party.

One of the largest parties of the week was the swimming party given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, when 150 guests were entertained. After a swim in the pool a buffet supper was served on the terrace and lawn.

Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., and Miss Augusta Pearce, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Adair.

For Miss Rosalie Howell.

An elaborate party was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. E. R. Gunby, of Tampa, Fla., at the residence of her father, Mr. Clarke Howell, in honor of her little daughter, Rosalie, whose fourth birthday was thus observed. Twenty-five guests were entertained at a "sunbonnet party."

Immediately after arriving each little girl was presented with a little pink sunbonnet and pink apron. Figures of little girls in pink sunbonnets, bearing garlands of pink roses, surrounded the birthday cake with its four pink tapers, and the Jack Horner pie was decorated with similar figures.

The little hostess wore white lingerie, with blue ribbons, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Gunby was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney and Miss Constance Knowles.

Miss Owens Entertains.

Miss Sarah Owens gave a hearts dice party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Henderson, of Marietta. Miss Fay Slaughter and Miss Floy Eskridge won the prizes, a fan and a bluebird pin. An ivory fan was given to the honor guest. Guests included Misses Beryl May of Knoxville, Margaret Woodrum of Nashville, Ruth Thrasher, Fay Slaughter, Ruth Harrison, Lucile Gann, Martha Boykin, Louise Cohen, Lilla Cheshire, Tommie Horne, Eva Owens, Mrs. Edward Henderson and Mrs. Satterfield.

Miss Fay Slaughter will entertain informally for Miss Owens Thursday evening.

For Mrs. Pou.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGive will give a theater party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, who is visiting Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman.

For Miss Carmichael.

Miss Clio Carmichael, of Jackson, is being tendered a series of parties during her visit to Miss Margaret Rushton, the largest affair being the informal tea given Wednesday afternoon by Miss Rushton's sister, Mrs. Clyde Lanier King.

Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. King's home adorned the apartments.

Mrs. King's guests included a number of young men as well as girls.

Thursday morning Mrs. Graham Williams will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Eloise Walker gave a box party at the Forsyth, followed by a tea at Hotel Ansley, in honor of Miss Carmichael, the other guests being Mrs. Stirling Turner, Miss Evelyn Ragland and Miss Cullen Battle.

Friday morning Miss Mirian Fielder will give an informal bridge party for Miss Carmichael, only one table of bridge to be entertained, the party to be followed by an informal afternoon party, given by Mrs. John Ray Pattillo.

Saturday morning Mrs. Stewart Roberts will entertain one table of bridge for Miss Carmichael, and other informal affairs are being planned.

PERSONALS

Miss Emmie Willingham is visiting friends in Chattanooga.

Miss May Etta Lowell, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. Will Smith, of Inman Park.

Miss Gladys Quinn, of Rome, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. E. W. Henderson in West Peachtree street.

Miss Lollie Belle Fuller and Mrs. George Croft are spending several weeks in Asheville, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. George Elmer are visiting Judge and Mrs. John Candler at their home in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Claude Shewmake and children have returned from St. Simons, where they sojourned several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, with their two children, and Miss Corinne Bass are at St. Simons for two weeks.

Mrs. Ella Wright Wilcox and little daughter, Katherine, have returned to Atlanta, after a stay at Wrightsville Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Omar F. Elder, who have been at Wrightsville Beach for several days, will return to Atlanta this week.

Mrs. Charles Sisson is the guest of the Misses Joseph at Warm Springs, having made the trip in Mr. Sisson's touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Field returned to Atlanta Tuesday, after spending several weeks at their summer home in Rabun County.

Mr. and Mrs. Gadsden Russell and little son, Gadsden, Jr., are spending to weeks with Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Helsell, in Saluda, N. C.

Miss Margaret Murphy, of Newnan, is the guest of Miss Jessie Thompson. In a few days they will go to Cedartown to be guests at a house party.

Mrs. Dozier Pou, of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman, will leave Thursday for Warm Springs for a visit before going to the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. L. H. Ledsinger will spend the summer and early autumn in the mountains of Virginia and Western North Carolina. Her son, Mr. Robert Ledsinger, will accompany her.

Mr. A. D. Adair and Mr. A. D. Adair, Jr., have returned from New York, where they went to meet Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morgan McClung on their return from a trip around the world. Mr. and Mrs. McClung are expected Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Adair, who will leave with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin August 7 to spend the remainder of the summer in Scotland.

Mrs. H. E. Bussey is visiting friends in Birmingham. She will return Thursday, when she, Mr. Bussey and their young son will make their home with Mrs. McRae, No. 647 Peachtree street.

Miss Alma Atel, of Augusta, sister of Mr. J. W. Atel, of Atlanta, spent a few days here on her way to Chicago. Several informal affairs were given in her honor during her short visit.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

LOW RATES EAST VIA SEABOARD.

$20.85 Baltimore and return on sale August 1-2-3. Through Steel Trains, new Dining Cars. Ticket Office, 88 Peachtree.

CRISIS IN WATER PROBLEM REACHED

Board to Debate Situation—Only Six Feet of Clear Liquid Left in Reservoirs.

The City Water Board will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider a water situation that constantly has grown more grave since the breaking of the 18,000,000-gallon pump at the river station two weeks ago.

The reserve supply in the reservoirs at the Hemphill station has dropped two feet since that date. It will take at least two weeks to put the big pump in working order again. While the reservoirs have over 20 feet of water in them there is only a 6-foot margin from muddy water. This is due to the fact that the location of the filtration plant will not permit water to flow through it lower than that point.

A conference was held Wednesday morning between J. O. Cochran, president of the Park Board; W. Z. Smith, general manager of waterworks, and W. E. Dunn, president of the Water Board, to consider cutting off the 500,000-gallon daily flow into Piedmont Park lake. That would mean that the bathing would have to be stopped. It was decided that no further action would be taken at present than to shorten the hours for bathing in the lake.

Although twenty men are working on the broken pump, as many as can be effectively used in both day and night shifts, it is feared that the water pressure may have to be reduced so as to make the daily consumption of the city equal the amount pumped from the river each day.

WATSON EAGER TO HIT MUGWUMPS

Lobby Inquiry Shows Indiana Legislator Couldn't Influence Tariff Board Selections.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Members of the Overman Lobby Inquiry Committee to-day said an effort would be made this week to finish reading into the record several thousand letters made public by M. M. Mulhall.

The correspondence showed that, on September 18, James E. Watson, of Indiana, wrote to Mulhall that President Taft had turned over to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh the entire question of the tariff board personnel.

Mugwump Peeved Watson.

"If MacVeagh were a Republican we might reach him," wrote Watson, "but he is a mugwump and I swear that I never know what to do with a mugwump, inasmuch as I have no right to kill him."

On September 28 Mulhall wrote to John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"I wish to do all I possibly can to beat in Maryland this fall the amendment to the Constitution disfranchising the negroes, which, if carried, will make Maryland a one-party State and wipe out of Congress three Republican members, one of whom is the best friend we ever had in Congress, Sydney E. Mudd."

Tried to Get Watson.

Mulhall called on several manufacturers interested in the Danbury hatters' strike, to have them employ Watson as counsel in the ensuing litigation.

Arkansas Freight Rates Cut 20 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK, July 23.—Effective to-day the trunk line railroads in Arkansas accepted the Arkansas Railroad Commission's standard freight tariff, which reduces railway rates approximately 20 per cent and will probably cut earnings of the railways $500,000 a year in the State.

Five years' litigation between State and railroads over these rates resulted in a victory in United States Supreme Court for the State.

Negro Church Union Holding Convention

The Baptist Young People's Union (negro) is holding its eighteenth annual convention in the Beulah Baptist Church, of which W. F. Paschal is pastor. The Rev. A. W. Bryant, of Savannah, presided, and the vice president of the union, W. A. Flagg, of Macon, conducted the devotionals.

An expression meeting was conducted by Professor J. H. James, A.B., of Central City College.

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Mixers and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldg., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

STODDARDIZE---

Then---"All Aboard"

WHEN your clothes have been STODDARDIZED, you are ready to leave for your vacation! STODDARDIZING makes Women's, Men's and Children's apparel look just like new!

A WAGON FOR A PHONE CALL.

We pay Charges (one way) on Out-of-Town Orders of $2 or more.

Stoddard 126 Peachtree Street, Bell Phone, Ivy 43, Atlanta Phone 43 — Dixie's Greatest Dry Cleaner and Dyer

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.---Atlanta, New York---Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

TO-MORROW---A Remarkable Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

Quick Clearance Every Ratine Dress Every Linen Dress

JUST 75 BEAUTIFUL RATINE DRESSES AND 91 CHARMING LINEN DRESSES REMAIN IN STOCK—

In both of these popular materials, the very latest and loveliest styles and shades of the season are featured—

They Go On Sale To-morrow At . . . . . CHOICE $6.95 The Regular Prices Are Up to $22.50

The crowds that have thronged this store will be even greater to-morrow, when this announcement is read—

Clearance Sale Ladies' Motor Coats

Every fair motorist in Atlanta can afford an elegant auto coat at SUCH a price. Fine linen, all styles, some trimmed in contrasting shades of leather, others with caps to match, etc., for quick clearance to-morrow

$10 Values; Choice . . . $5.45

Quick Clearance of 450 Waists

Lovely summer lingerie waists, in all the latest beautiful style ideas, exquisitely trimmed, immense variety to suit every feminine taste, for quick clearance to-morrow

$1.50 to $1.75 Values; Choice . $1.00

Southern Suit & Skirt Co.

"Atlanta's Exclusive Women's Apparel Store"---43-45 Whitehall Street

Attention, Agents!

RELIABLE DISTRICT MANAGERS wanted in all unassigned territory in Georgia. Liberal contracts, giving exclusive control of territory to right men. Address

Louis Sherfesee, State Manager
or Charles S. Northen, General Agent
701-2-3-4 Third National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

PURELY MUTUAL---ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF HARTFORD,

Organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.
Principal office, 49 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Amount of capital stock—None.

II. ASSETS.

Total assets $35,297,578.44

III. LIABILITIES.

Total liabilities $35,297,578.44

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total income $3,404,963.79

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.

Total disbursements $2,649,146.89
Greatest amount insured in any one risk $50,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding (estimated) 153,452,325.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT—County of Hartford.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, Harry E. Johnson, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

HARRY E. JOHNSON,
Assistant Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 11th day of July, 1913.

NELSON G. FORD, Notary Public.

Keely's Fine Footwear in a Twice-Yearly Sale

Every pair of low shoes offered in this sale is of the true, tried and trusty sort.

In point of style every pair is of the best type.

Hundreds of delighted women have found it profitable to attend these sales.

It will pay you as it has paid them.

Surer than the return from a gilt-edge bond is the PROFIT to you in the purchase of one or more pairs of these famous shoes.

They're good values at $3, $3½ and $4.

The sale price is $2.65 a pair.

There is in the lot every width of last and every style of toe and heel.

Your favorite WIDTH and STYLE are here.

Your SIZE IS ALSO HERE.

We have to apologize to the many ladies who could not be promptly served on Monday.

We knew we had the Pumps and Oxfords. We knew we had the values.

But really the crowd came so thick and fast that we were mightily taxed to wait upon it.

But we shall do better to-morrow.

More room is given to the display.

More salespeople in attendance.

Better and more commodious fitting facilities are furnished.

We're Proud of This Sale

It is the most successful shoe sale in our experience.

But there's a reason for the great Pump and Oxford business that we're doing.

Here it is--

$3, $3½ and $4 values Pumps and Oxfords, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values of low shoes and ties, now $2.65
$3, $3½ and $4 values in highest grade footwear, now $2.65

This is not a Skyrocket Sale.

Nor is it a clearance of doubtful values, or odd stocks, or passe styles.

But $2.65 of your money will purchase to-morrow stylish, up-to-date, desirable footwear of the $3, $3½ and $4 kinds.

The style, the quality, the value, the service are all in the sale.

The unusual thing is the price, $2.65 a pair.

Keely Company

WIFE NOW DENIES THAT SHE SHOT TOM WOOD

Gainesville Bride to Repudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 22.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss Pearl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."

The universal verdict of the patrons of the Bijou is that this week's attraction, "Good Morning, Judge," is one of the snappiest, liveliest and most pleasing musical comedies of the season, and judging from the cordial reception that has been given the attraction so far, standing room will be at a premium the entire week. Differing from most of the musical comedies that have been offered at the Bijou, "Good Morning, Judge," has a well-defined plot, which concerns the election of a German brewer to the mayoralty of his home town and the many ludicrous situations that arises when the good-natured brewer is forced to assume the position of municipal judge.

The musical numbers are new and up to date and the costumes in keeping with the splendid tone of the attraction.

Forsyth Packed.

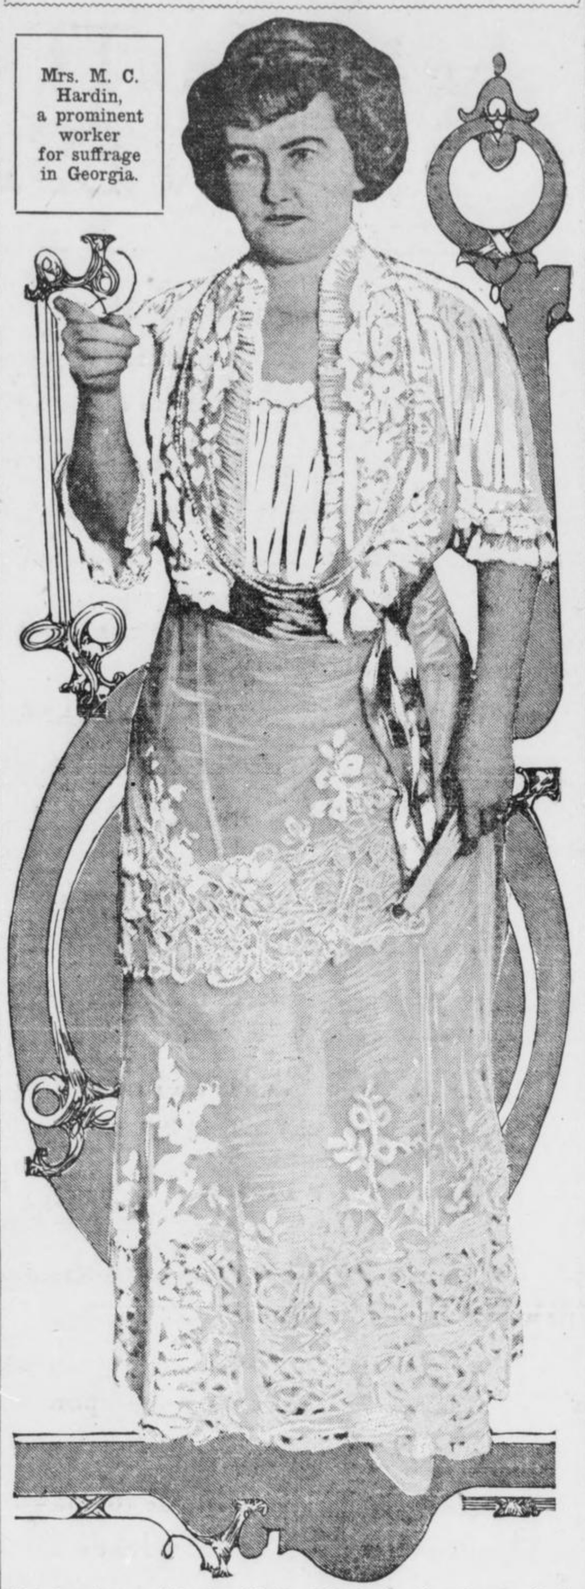
"Sold out" has been the record at every performance at the Forsyth this week, and a wonderful advance sale for the remaining performances indicating that the busy theater is going to make a new attendance record, possibly eclipsing the figures set up by Miss Kellermann two years ago. The show is one of the strongest that has ever been offered in vaudeville in Atlanta. There is not a weak spot, every act counts and the applause is distributed evenly.

The big feature of the program is the appearance of John F. Conroy, the only person who possesses every kind of medal that has been awarded for heroism. Conroy has saved 137 lives. Assisted by two pretty girls, he gives a diving exhibition that is superior to any that has been seen in Atlanta.

Thrills at Big Movie at Grand.

A more wonderful photo-play than Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" has rarely been seen. There is interest in this 12,000 feet of film from the introduction of Jean Valjean until the last inch has been run off, and the Grand is being filled at the daily matinee and night performances. The characters of the Hugo novel are played by some of the most distinguished actors of France. The performances are given at 2:30 and at 8:30.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HERE BOOSTED BY BIG MEET



Mrs. M. C. Hardin, a prominent worker for suffrage in Georgia.

Enthusiasm Marks Taft Hall Gathering—Only "Anti" Partially Converted.

Spurred to enthusiasm by Mrs. William Peel, presiding officer, several hundred suffragists and a suffragette or two at Taft Hall Tuesday participated in a monster meeting, in many respects unequaled before in Atlanta. Round after round of applause marked the efforts of every speaker.

The meeting was an all-suffrage affair, for although a debate was advertised not a single out-and-out anti-suffragist speech was made. Ernest Neal, member of the House of Representatives, was the only speaker of the opposition, and even he declared he had little faith in many of the stock arguments of the antis and that he wished Mrs. Peel godspeed in the present movement.

Debate Is Opened.

Following an organ recital by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, Mrs. Peel called the meeting to order. "If it had not been for woman," she said in opening the discussion, "man would still be walking on four legs. But woman has performed her duty and as a result all of us are to-day walking on two legs."

Following Representative Neal's address, R. A. Broyles declared the men needed the women to help them out in things political.

Among the other speakers were Dr. A. M. Hughlett, who declared he was a suffragist first, last and all the time, for the reason that women are as intelligent as men; Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, who paid high tribute to the cause; Mrs. Frances Whitesides, a leader in the Civic League; Mrs. Mary McLendon, "the original suffragette," president of the Georgia League, Mrs. M. C. Hardin and Dr. John E. White.

Mrs. McLendon Speaks.

Mrs. McLendon spoke of the first efforts of Georgia women to organize, and asserted the present movement would result in a perfect organization throughout the State.

Dr. White made a vigorous address in favor of suffrage and sharply criticised the "idle rich" woman, who, he said, sought a good time for life by marrying a man with an automobile.

At the meeting's close Mrs. Peel invited all anti-suffragists in the house to stand up. No one stood up.

ACQUITTED OF GRAFT CHARGE.

COLUMBUS.—County Officer James Palmer has been exonerated by the Muscogee County Board of Commissioners of charges preferred by Langdon Bell, a frequent violator of the prohibition law, that he had paid the officer for protection.

PIANO SALESMEN WANTED.

Three wide-awake, energetic, retail piano salesmen, young men of ability and experience, to work city and country trade in State of Georgia. Good wages and permanent positions. Apply by letter only, giving experience, age, salary expected and amount of business that salary should produce. Address CABLE PIANO COMPANY, 84 N. Broad street, Atlanta, Ga.

Be Your Own Boss

A little money linked with good judgment will put you in the straight road to success. Familiarize yourself with the numerous opportunities to purchase a small business by reading carefully the Business Opportunities listed in the "Want Ad" columns of to-day's Georgian.

SLIT SKIRT FAD NOT WORRYING OUR MAYOR

"Let 'Em Wear Anything They Want," He Says—"If They Can Stand It, I Can."

'X-Rays' All Depend On Point of View

In Boulder, Colo., the diaphanous 'silhouette skirt may be worn in the shade only.

AND

In Lima, Ohio, this revealing garment of line without substance is absolutely taboo.

BUT

In Atlanta to-day Mayor Woodward averred that the new gown problem was one for women only to decide upon for themselves.

Atlanta will not try to regulate skirts. A spirit of conservatism has marked the police department since the vindication of Miss September Morn, who was discovered in a mountain pool in the show window of a book store.

The skirt question has been before the people ever since Mrs. Adam, more generally known under her maiden name of Eve, first appeared garbed in the foliage of the ancient ficus carica.

There are those who hold the modern tendency is back to the foliage skirt, not the fig leaf, but possibly the leaf of the asparagus fern or other chiffon-like vegetable.

How Other Towns View It.

Miss Mary Lindsay, of Lima, Ohio, the town named after the well known bean, has been arrested because her slit skirt left practically nothing to conjecture.

The Mayor of Boulder, Colo., has issued an order in which he admits that a woman may wear as thin a skirt as her taste and the weaver's art will allow. But he insists that it be worn on the shady side of the street only.

The courts will probably have to decide the course to be taken by a fashionably gowned women when the sun at the zenith illuminates both sides of the street.

"It's Up to Them," Says Mayor.

Mayor James G. Woodward declared that he certainly would not undertake to tell women how to dress.

And the policy of all the members of his administration would be to leave these matters entirely with the women.

"If they can stand it, I can," he said. "It doesn't bother me and I don't think it any business of the police to interfere.

"Whether it's a silhouette skirt or a sheath gown, it's entirely up to them."

Anniston's Mayor Missed the Shock.

ANNISTON, July 23.—Annistonians received their first "slit skirt" shock Tuesday, when a young woman from out of town appeared on Noble street, the principal business thoroughfare, attired in one of the ultra-garments, minus the old-fashioned petticoat. Mayor J. L. Wikle was in Birmingham. Chief of Police Shiretzki and Recorder J. F. Green were non-committal.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

CRAWFORD WILL CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Uncertainty Regarding Frank Trial Results in Delay Until Next Monday.

Because of the uncertainty regarding the trial of Leo M. Frank, Auditor James L. Anderson Wednesday postponed the hearing of the Crawford will case until next Monday, at the reques, of Reuben Arnold, counsel for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, who is also connected with the defense of Frank.

Mr. Anderson announced that should the Frank trial again be postponed the Crawford case will be called at that time, but should Judge Roan decide to call Frank's trial for Monday morning the hearing of the will case will be indefinitely postponed, its resumption to be governed entirely by the disposition of the Frank case.

Plan to Explode Poison Claim.

The postponing of the hearing on Wednesday morning prevented the introduction of what Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim is their most convincing evidence in Mrs. Crawford's denial that she had killed her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, by poisoning him. It is understood that they had planned to place Dr. J. W. Hurt, Crawford's family physician, on the stand.

Dr. Hurt, Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim, will testify that while attending Mr. Crawford during his last illness, he frequently gave him morphine and other drugs to allay the pain. These drugs given by Dr. Hurt the defense will claim, are what Dr. Harris found in Crawford's stomach when the body was exhumed and a post-mortem made.

It is probable that Dr. Hurt will be one of the first witnesses when the hearing is resumed, which, unless the Frank trial is postponed, probably will not be until about the middle of August.

Search On For Barber.

Attorneys for the heirs-at-law stated Wednesday that they will continue the search for Fred Lumb, the barber who is charged with being Mrs. Crawford's accomplice in the alleged poison plot. Unable to locate Lumb in New York, where he was last heard of, it is planned to extend the search all over the United States.

Attorney J. S. James, chief of counsel for the heirs, said that Lumb has lived in different parts of the United States under various names, all of which are known. It is suspected that Lumb is living under one of the names he has formerly used, and efforts will be made to obtain trace of him.

Ex-Postmaster at Memphis Drowned

MEMPHIS, July 23.—L. W. Dutro, until recently postmaster, a prominent Republican and business man, was drowned late Tuesday afternoon in the Mississippi River while attempting to rescue Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, daughter of a Mrs. Bradford, of Brownsville, Tenn. Mrs. W. F. Brooks, wife of a Selma, Ala., railroad mechanic, a third member of the party, did not go in wading. A step-off in the river bed caused the death of Dutro and Mrs. Gwynne.

Mrs. Gwynne, a handsome brunette, worked circulation contests on various Southern papers.

Worries Disappear When You Go to the Bonita Theater

Allen and Kenna, with the Aviation Girls and Fatima Trio, are real dispellers of glooms at the Bonita. With every performance this great combination packs the beautiful little theater, but the many electric fans keep you cool and comfortable. Give your tired body and threadbare nerves a rest by a visit to the Bonita.

BINGHAM SCHOOL'S central purpose for 120 years has been to make Men of Boys. Asheville climate world renowned. Organization Military. Two details from U. S. Army allowed to N. C. The A. & M. College has one, Bingham the other. Target and Gallery practice, with latest U. S. Army Rifles. Lake for Swimming. Summer Camp during July and August. Tuition and Board $150 per Half Term. $300 a year. Address Col. R. Bingham, Box 6, Asheville, N. C.

J. M. High Co.

Atlanta's Best Store—the Store for the Masses

Sale of

Men's Sorosis Low Shoes

$5.00 Values . . $3.85

We are cleaning up our stock of Men's Oxfords, so offer all Men's Sorosis $5.00 low shoes for sale at . . . $3.85

(All this week)

All Women's and Children's Sorosis Low Shoes on Sale at greatly reduced prices.

Shoe Department--Annex

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

Lobby War Success, House Doormen Say

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Doorkeepers of the House declare that President Wilson's war on the "insidious lobby" has made lobbyists scarcer than ever before.

They say that whereas lobbyists formerly made dozens of trips during the day to the House chamber with cards of visitors to members, they now make very few such trips.

NEW COLUMBUS DEPOT BEGUN.

COLUMBUS.—A force of men has begun tearing down the old Southern Railway freight depot preparatory to building a new and larger one. A temporary depot is being erected on the site of the old Georgia Midland depot.

Slayer of Feudist Gets Life Sentence

LEXINGTON, July 23.—Andrew Johnson, charged with being one of the men who assassinated Ed Callahan, former noted feudist of the Breathitt County mountains, has been found guilty at Winchester, Ky., and given a life sentence.

Court immediately began the trial of Fletcher Deaton, charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot. Eighteen more will be tried for the actual murder, and twelve others for perjury. These cases are expected to consume five weeks. The feature evidence in each case is that of the woman who traced the murder plots or who heard the conspirators plan the murder.

Senator's Daughter On Socialist Stump

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mrs. Nina Lane McBride, daughter of Senator Lane of Oregon, is in Washington visiting her father. Next month she will commence a tour of the Eastern States, speaking from street corners and in workingmen's halls on the Socialist propaganda.

Mrs. McBride met her husband, who also is a Socialist worker, at a rally of the party in Portland, Oreg. She met him the second time at a hoboes' convention in New Orleans. They were married by a Magistrate.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Remnant Day in the Wash Goods

The Selling Starts at Nine o'Clock

You who know the possibilities of our remnant sales will doubtless be pleased to hear that this one brings even greater savings than the average. You may plan accordingly and you will not be disappointed.

Remnants carry their own guarantee of worth and desirability here at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s—they would never have become short lengths had they not been fabrics that women liked and bought freely when they were full pieces and when prices were regular.

For this sale to-morrow we have rummaged out every semblance of a remnant in the Wash Goods Section and what is more, we have cut prices more vigorously than ever this summer!

What a fine opportunity it means for those seeking materials for dresses, waists, skirts and underwear.

Flaxons
Dimities
Nainsooks
Lawns
Swisses
Piques
Voiles
Lingerie Cloth
Mulls

Savings Are Never Less Than ONE-HALF Often More.. Lengths Two to Six Yards

Linen Lawns
Irish Linens
Brown Linens
Linen Sheetings
Pillow Case Linens
Ginghams
Percales
Poplins
Crepes

Twenty-two Lingerie and Crepe de Chine Dresses for Juniors Are $10.75, Reduced from $17.50, $20.00 and $27.50. ---Junior Department

The occasion of this price is that we would clear away these finer dresses—so we invite your help. The lingerie dresses are all white, and all as beautiful as exquisite laces, embroideries and hand-embroidery and ribbons applied and arranged by artists could make them. The crepe de chine dresses are white, light blue and tan. You will find yokes and sleeves touched with little flower boquets and with rich heavy laces. All priced at $10.75, when their worth is measured by $17.50, $20 and $27.50.

Girls' Kimonos, sizes fourteen and eighteen years, in figured and flowered lawns, that were $1.75 and $2.00, are marked for to-morrow $1.00. The smaller sizes, two to twelve years, in crepes and lawns, that were $1.50, are 75c.

There Will Be No More News of Junior Suits Such as This---$10.00 for $20.00 to $30.00 Suits.

Four are white serges that were $27.50. Eight are novelty suits of one shade and style and another—not one of them was less than $20.00, the highest priced was $30.00.

And with these are four misses' three-piece suits, sizes twelve to fourteen years, in blue serge. Very attractively fashioned. These were $22.50. So in all only sixteen may share these savings.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about £4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours,

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly: Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers

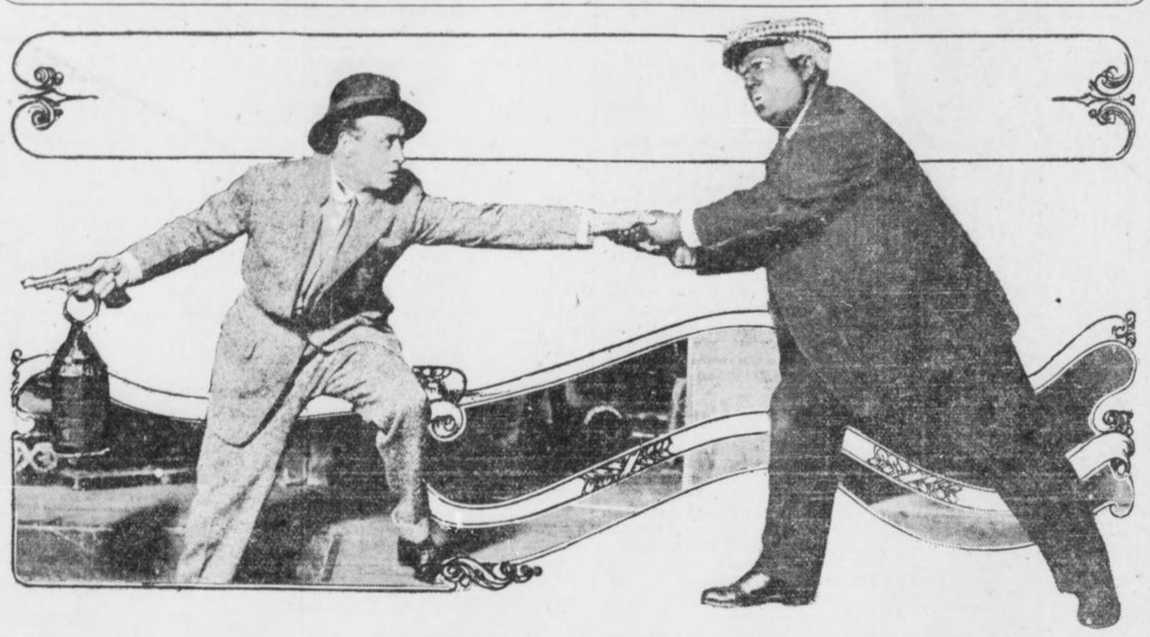
SHELTON, S. C.

E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

The Ghost Breaker

By C. W. GODDARD and PAUL DICKEY

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.

Write for illustrated catalogue.—S. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

:: Real Freedom ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, [illegible] gloves, little necessities and more frivolities, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life, for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible and best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

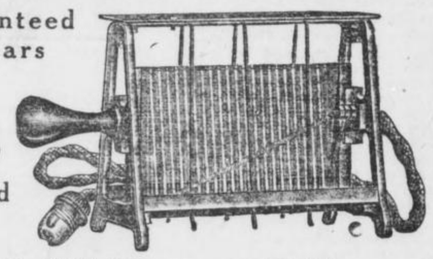
S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years

$1.95 Postpaid



"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

$1.95 Postpaid

3-Year Guarantee

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.

Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.

326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat lead of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa ,I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

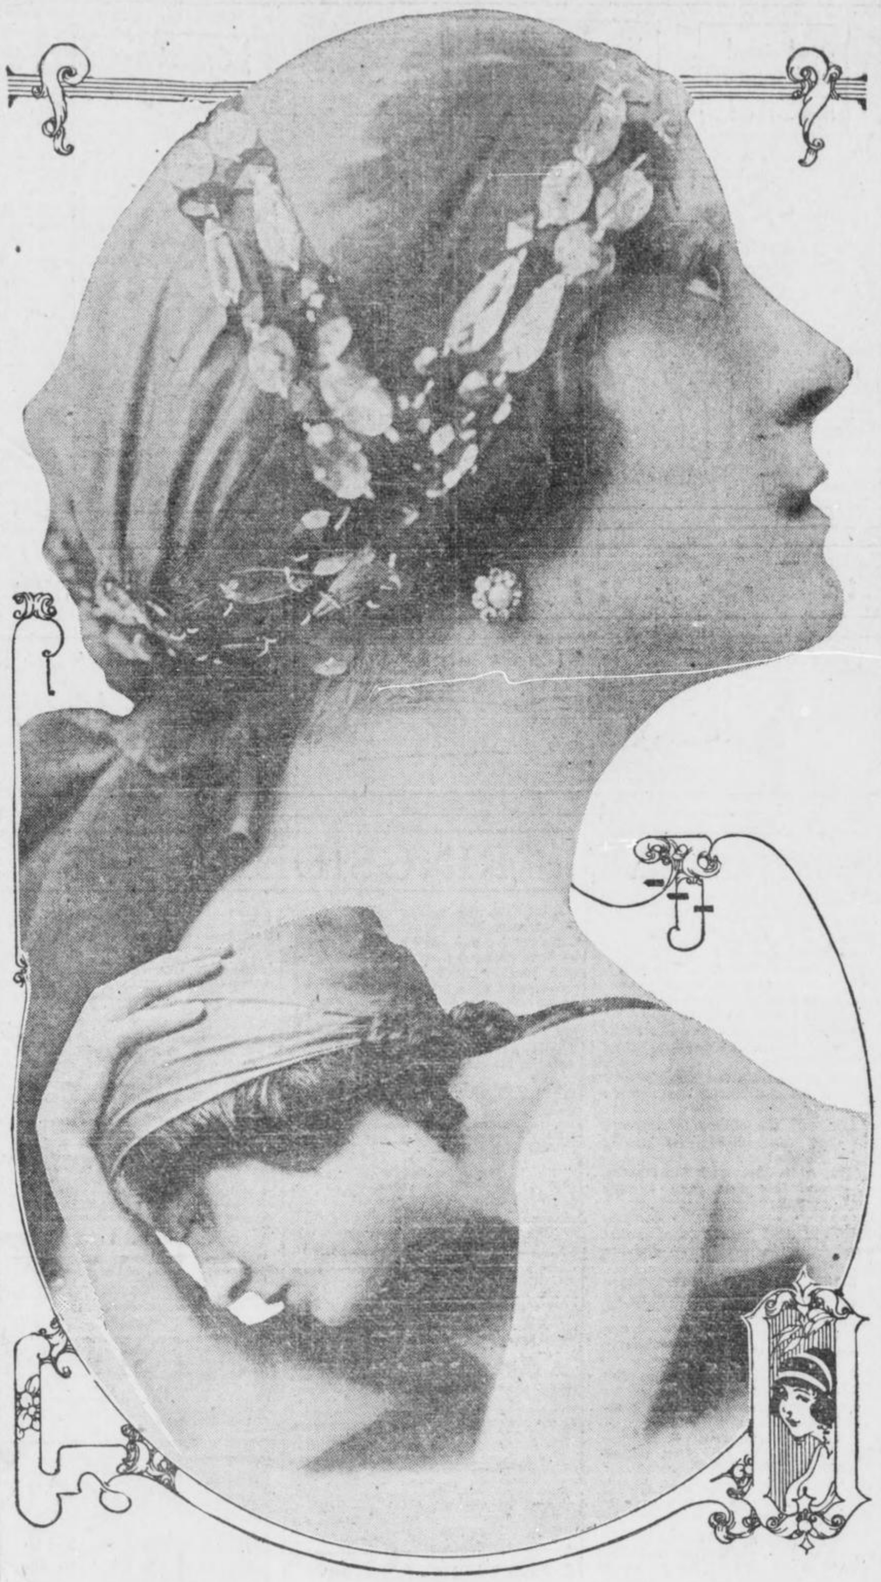
Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.



Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu jitsu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work.

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert. "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science, Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented :-: Girls :-:

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.

The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2042

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 23.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Allbi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermann, of the Reds, set a price of $1,800 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's pater owning about three-fourths of the island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Havin' only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Jungleites can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a lusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1775 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. And about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherwieght champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship, or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan is sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter, at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that, if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with managers like Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing: Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player, was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth, a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb, his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred, and left the baseball yard.
"We can not play against that guy—he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he must hoof it back.
And as he labored down the road a motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats, a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air, he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.

Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.

Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 5, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.409
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	46	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.

Philadelphia 6-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 8-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
C'land.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.

St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville.	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.555	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.

Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	21	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.

LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 6, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.

Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.

St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.

Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks per chair;
The champion pug was walloping his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stallin'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest slam and knock the rummy out!"
And soft the champion answers as the mutt he gently pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies, and this fight goes twenty rounds!"
Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed message,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweight championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of our West, as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the finals.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 306 yards into the cup.

International League.

Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Ask for out-of-town customers.
Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL CAPSULES MIDY
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name MIDY
Beware of counterfeits

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

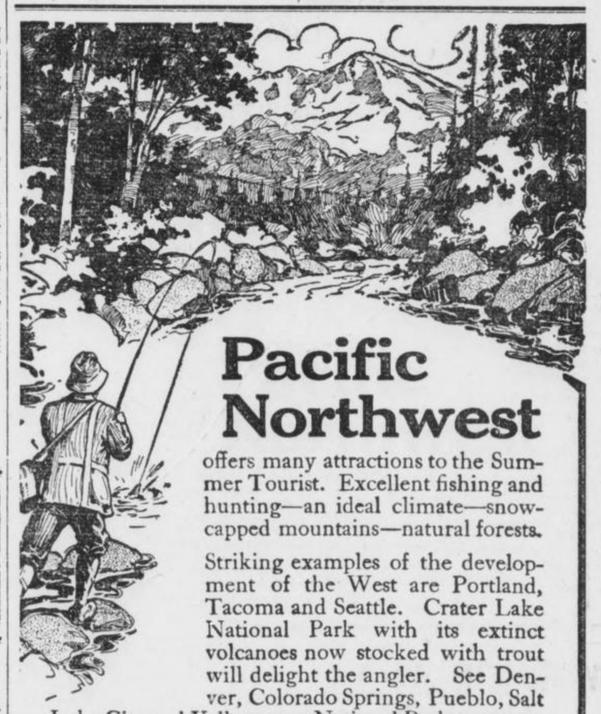
THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at Home or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. M. WOOLLEY, M-N, White Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia



Pacific Northwest
offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.
Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.
Excellent Daily Trains
from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.
The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.
Union Pacific
STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST
Heavy double tracks—dustless roadbed—Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.
Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.
A. J. DUTCHER, G. A. 908 Olive Street St. Louis, Mo.
C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A. 620 Woodward Bldg. Birmingham, Ala.

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOOSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 36 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, 1b.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b.	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	3	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

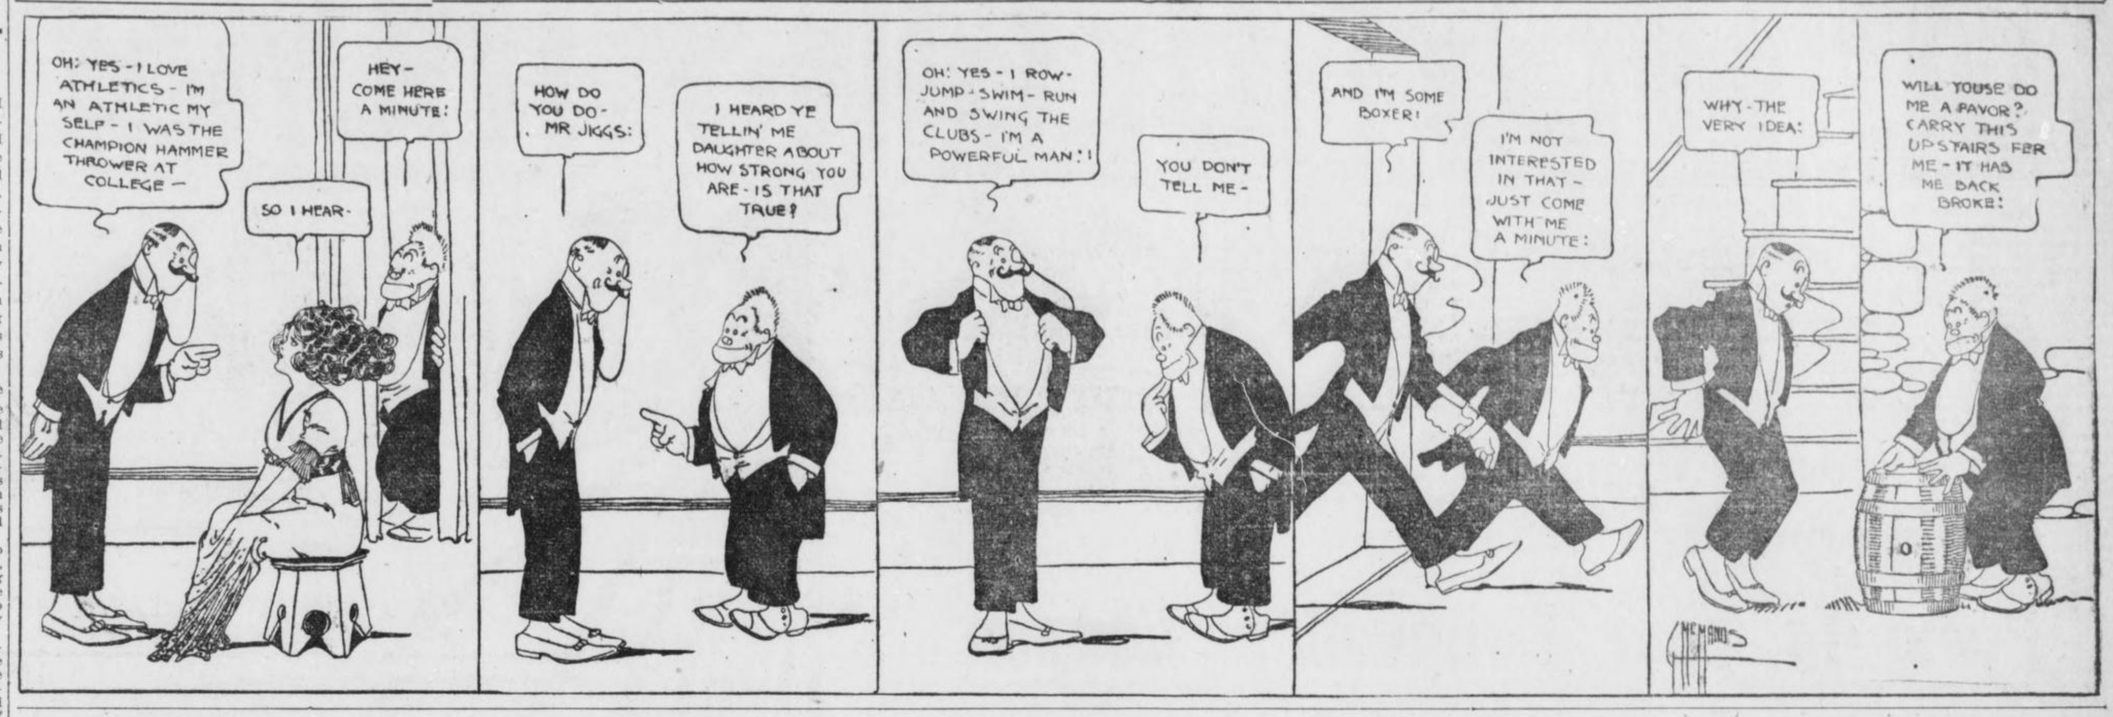
MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great LES MISERABLES Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father — By George McManus



Us Boys

Registered United States Patent Office

Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Pueblo an.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—it musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs. Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet tonight at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Speri and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover, of South Boston, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders traveling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jock McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 38 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-fought-for honors untilnext yeag, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the rudest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

ITCHING PILES
Every sufferer from itching piles should read these words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was
Cured by Tetterine
For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure.
Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.
50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, set my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 748 M., New York, N. Y.

BigReduction IN Dental Work
GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.
Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth Best That Money Can Buy $5.00
We Use the Best Methods of Painless Dentistry
Atlanta Dental Parlors
Cor. Peachtree & Decatur Sts.
Entrance 19 1-2 Peachtree St.

CONTEST BEGINS THURSDAY!

Every contestant in the Georgian's Want-Ad Competition is urged to see The Want-Ad Man to-morrow (Wednesday) and get ready for a flying start. The first day should bring big results.

Bring in Your Nomination Coupon and Start in at Once

Many of Atlanta's brightest young men and women have entered and received their instructions. You can still get an even start if you don't delay.

Every prize shown here and many others are to be awarded the winners. No guessing, no buying anything, no expense to you. Experienced District Managers will aid you, show you how to get results, help you to win.

Contestants will secure want ads for The American and Georgian. They will work among friends, neighbors, acquaintances, business people, or where they please. Every family in Atlanta has a want, and a suggestion gets the ad. It's easy.

The Coupon on This Page Starts You With 1,000 Votes. FILL IT OUT NOW

Nomination Coupon — 1,000 VOTES

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

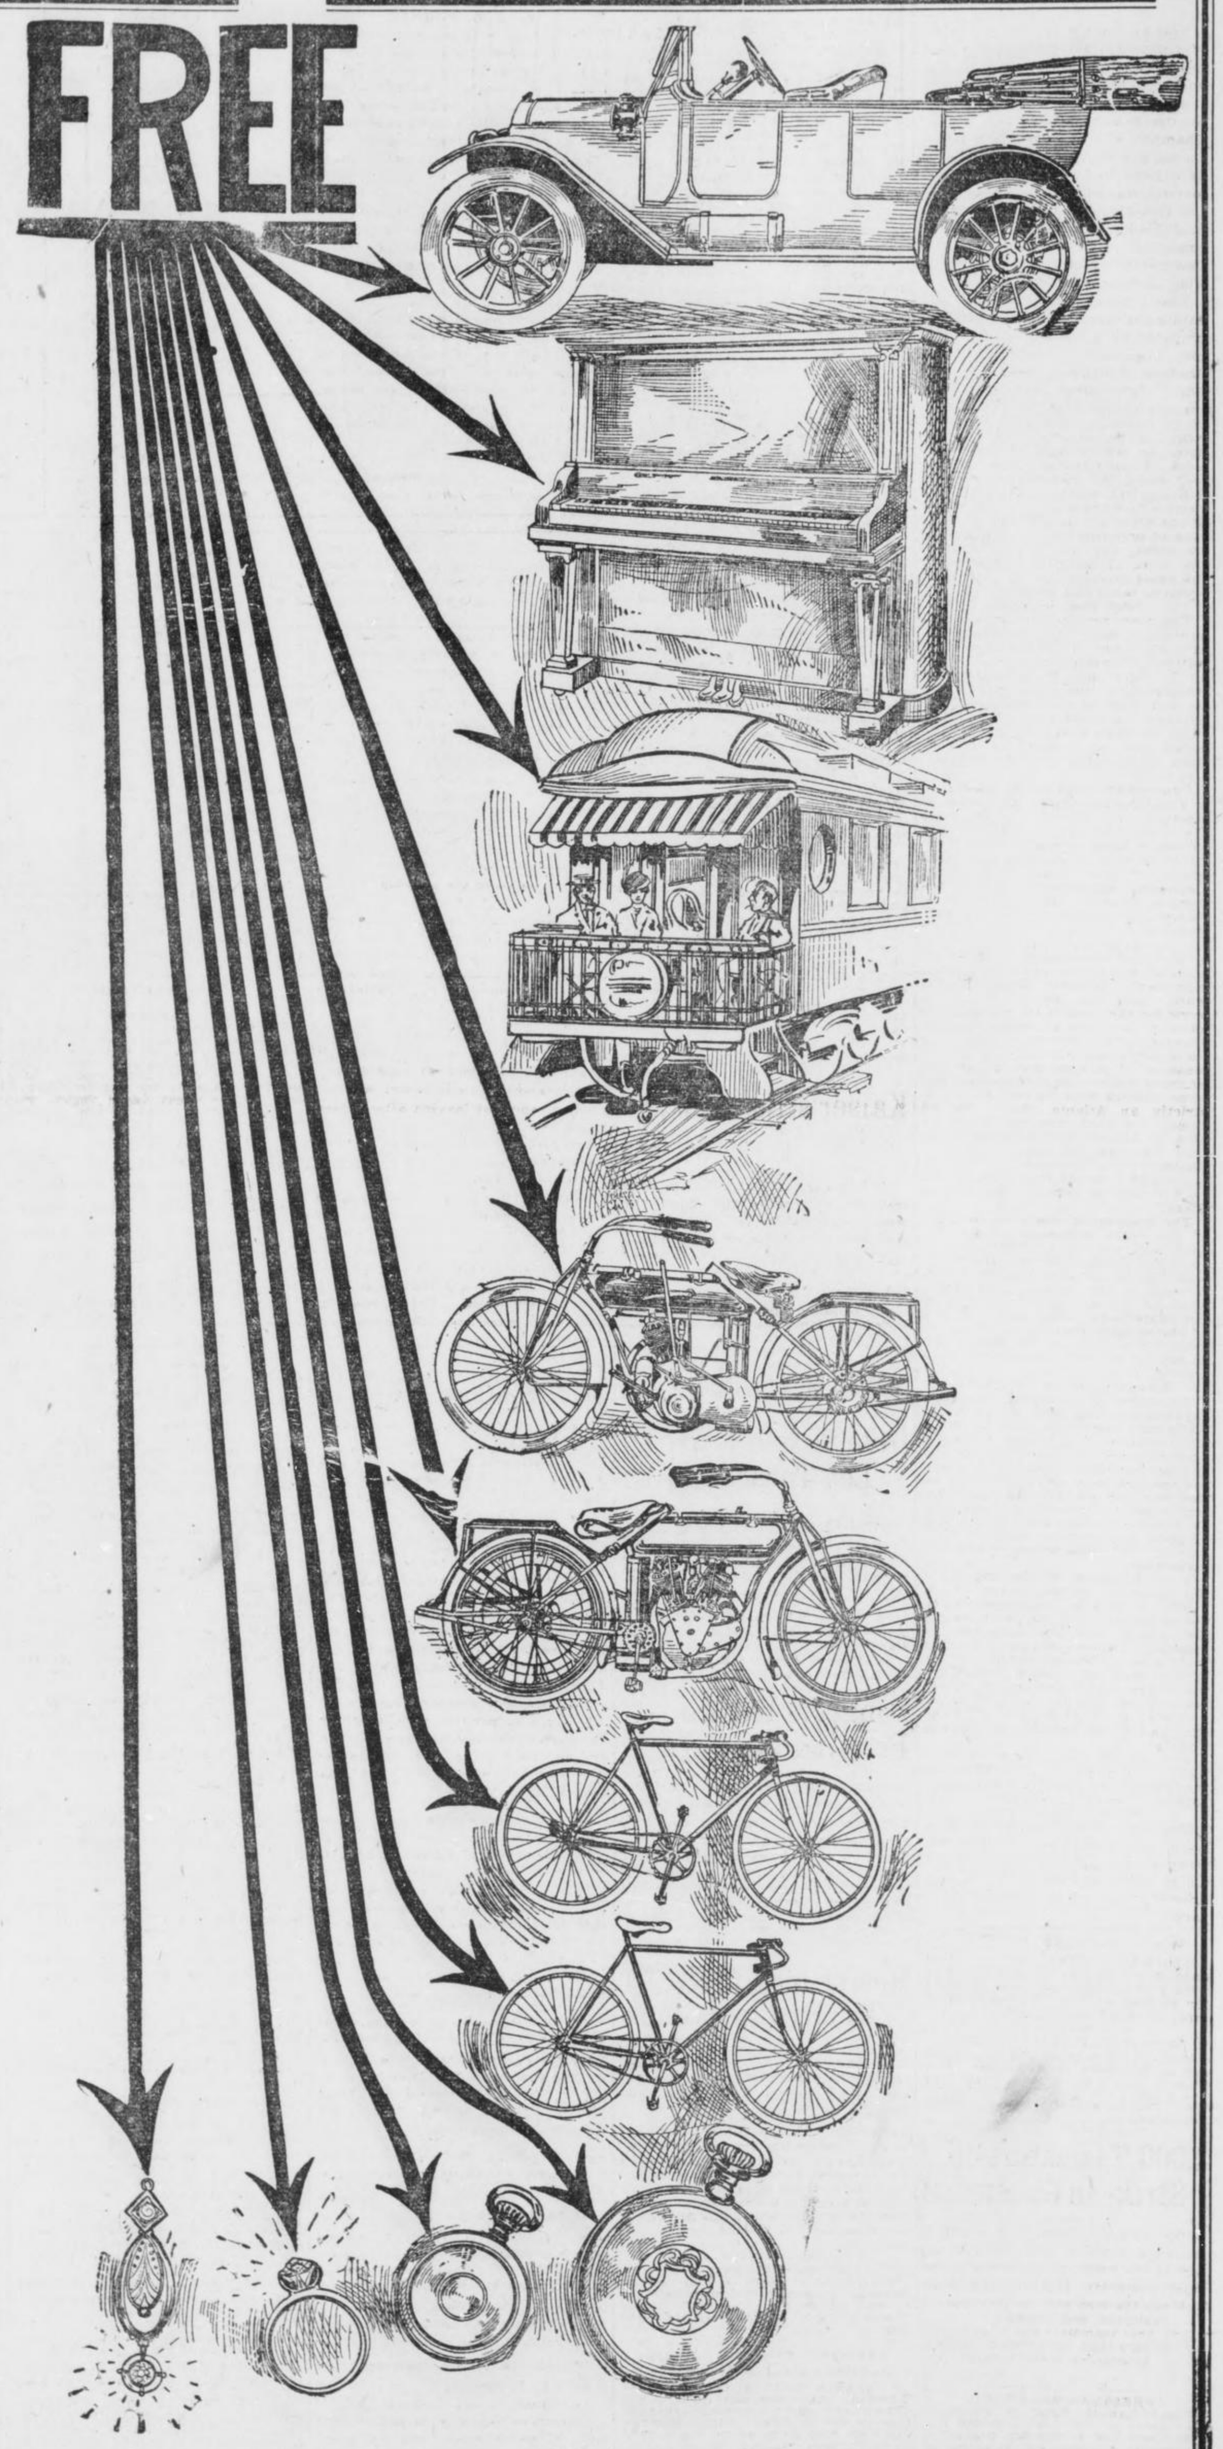
I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)
as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.



HEARST'S

SUNDAY AMERICAN

AND

ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Business Office, No. 7 Edgewood Avenue

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED

Optimistic Trade Boosters From Throughout Georgia Name Executive Committee.

Voicing their belief that a new era of prosperity is dawning for Georgia, more than 75 representatives of trade and commercial bodies of various towns and counties in the State met at the headquarters of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning and took the first steps in an organization of a great State commercial organization, to be known as the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. C. J. Haden, chairman of the special committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which called the state-wide meeting, presided.

The convention unanimously and enthusiastically adopted resolutions prepared by a committee on temporary organization, headed by C. G. Bradley, of Madison, that the new State organization be formed. The resolutions provided for the naming of an executive committee of seven, with C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, as chairman, to take charge of the active work of organization. This committee, which Mr. Haden announced he will appoint within two weeks, will name a vice president for each county in the State that is affiliated with the central organization, a secretary and treasurer, and will have charge of the work of securing a charter for the State chamber and the drafting of a constitution and by-laws.

Next Meet in Macon.

The next meeting of the State organization will be held in Macon, Ga., at the pleasure of the executive committee. This meeting probably will not be called until the committee has completed its work of securing a charter and drafting the constitution and by-laws. A president will be elected at the Macon meeting, which, it is hoped, will be attended by not less than 300 representatives of commercial bodies.

Considerable discussion developed in the selection of the next place of meeting, with Atlanta and Macon as the contending cities. The tide was turned in favor of Macon when Mayor Woodward of Atlanta, President Moore of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and other prominent Atlantans declared that the Central Georgia city should be given the preference over Atlanta.

Not an Atlanta Move.

"We must show the people of Georgia that this is not solely an Atlanta movement," declared Mayor Woodward, "and that we are willing to work for the good of the whole State as much as we are willing to work for Atlanta. This movement must be made State-wide to attain its proper measure of success, and it can not be made State-wide if the people become imbued with the idea that it is strictly an Atlanta affair. By all means the next meeting should be held in Macon, and if possible future meetings, at least until the Chamber of Commerce has become thoroughly established should be held in various cities throughout the State."

The question of where the meetings of the State organization shall be held will not be definitely decided until the Macon meeting. It is probable that the executive committee will submit, at that time, recommendations as to the regular meetings of the State body. Chairman Haden is of the opinion that the meetings, at least for a year or two, should not be held at any one place twice in succession.

Speeches Full of Optimism.

A number of optimistic addresses, expressing a firm belief in the future of Georgia and in the State Chamber of Commerce as a method of development, were delivered during the Wednesday morning session. Among the speakers were prominent business men from all over the State and several representatives of railroads that do business in Georgia, all of whom pledged their support and the support of their corporations to the new movement.

V. N. Richards, of Washington, of the Southern Railway, and J. A. Pride, of Norfolk, Va., representing the Seaboard Air Line, were among the railroad men who addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Dan G. Hughes, of Twiggs County; Philip G. Campbell, of Atlanta, founder of the "Corn Club" movement; Robert Maddox, of Atlanta; R. D. Cole, of Newnan; C. D. McKinney, of Decatur, and C. G. Bradley, of Morgan County.

At 1 o'clock the visiting delegates were entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City Club, as guests of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

MACON, July 23.—Macon labor union men instead of the customary street parade will have a basket picnic at Lakeside Park on Labor Day. Special trains will be operated to the park.

WHY, CHARLES ROBBINS!

THOMSON, CONN., July 23.—Nine days after he had been presented with a baby carriage as a premium for getting married, Charles S. Robbins, 60, sued for a divorce.

O. M. TIFT DIES AT TIFTON.

TIFTON.—Orville M. Tift died Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eliza C. Tift, postmaster at Tifton. He was a son of the late W. O. Tift, of Tifton. The funeral was held in Tifton this afternoon.

2,000 Teamsters on Strike in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 23.—Two thousand teamsters went on strike today as the result of the order of the union yesterday, following the break between the men and the members of the employers' association.

The only teamsters not affected are the bakery and ice wagon drivers whose grievances were recently adjusted.

PRESSMAN BANKRUPT.

Roger Lawson Speer, a pressman, Wednesday in the United States District Court filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $209.45 with assets of $100.

House Still Toils With Funds Bill

The House gave three hours to the consideration of the general appropriations bill Wednesday and managed to get through nine pages. Only one change was made in the report of the committee. This was the adoption of an amendment by John Y. Smith, of Atlanta, increasing the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

At 10 o'clock the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole and took up the appropriations bill, with Speaker Pro Tem McMichael in the chair. An obstacle was met in the adoption of Section 1 and Section 1-A, which provides for the salaries of Statehouse officers, in amendments offered by Representative Ed Wohlwender. The Representative from Muscogee wanted to know whether any of the Statehouse officers were receiving fees, and it took an hour's discussion for the other members to convince him that everyone was on the salary basis. He offered two amendments, but withdrew both.

In the appropriations bill no objection was made to amounts set aside for the colleges of Georgia, as published in The Georgian several days ago.

When the House takes up the bill Thursday it will begin with the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the public schools of the State. This is the exact amount as paid out to country school teachers this year, which is more than $100,000 under the actual expense incurred and the amount appropriated by the last Legislature.

Anthony N. Brady Dead in London

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady, New York financier, died last night in his rooms at the Hotel Charlton of heart disease.

Mr. Brady, whose fortune is estimated at $100,000,000, arrived in London from New York two weeks ago. It is believed grief over the death of his daughter in a wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Westport, Conn., last October, hastened his end.

Louis Sherry, the New York restaurant man, who was with Mr. Brady, has arranged to ship the body back to America to-morrow on the liner Olympic.

Won Vast Fortune in Business in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Anthony N. Brady was 70 years old. He was born in France of Irish parents. Early in his boyhood he came to America and worked as bartender in Albany.

A short time later he decided to go into business. With his savings he started a tea and coffee store. He soon controlled the tea and coffee industry in Albany and Troy, N. Y., and branched out through the State.

Then he went into Wall Street and became known as one of the most daring speculators in the street. He was a director or an officer in more than 60 corporations.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfeld, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Government Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1913 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

2,000 ATTEND REVIVAL.

DALTON.—A crowd of 2,000 persons attended a revival meeting conducted by Rev. E. B. Farrar in North Dalton Tuesday night. The services are being held in a tent.

FARMERS MEET AT DALTON.

DALTON.—About 200 farmers attended the farm school at the courthouse Tuesday, the attendance being larger than at any previous meeting. Organization of the Whitfield County Farmers' Institute was perfected by the election of D. Puryear, president, and C. L. Foster, secretary.

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under strict surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha'
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha'," hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pretty. "Denty leddies," dainty ladies.

COTTON GOSSIP

The market has been very weak all day on predictions of unsettled weather with showers over the western belt. The selling for a while was general with no special support. The weakness of the July position in New Orleans has also caused selling here. Some of those who have been identified with the bull side for the past two weeks were among the sellers, though they are buying now on the decline and express the belief that the market should be bought on soft spots regardless of weather conditions, especially with the spot situation so acute. Though you hear a great many bearish expressions to the effect that we have seen the high level for some time to come.—J. M. Anderson.

* * *

Warehouse stocks in New York to-day 31,821; certificated 23,341 bales.

* * *

Riordan sold 4,000 bales of January at 11.25.

* * *

Bishop, Texas, says: "More cotton pickers in demand and Mexican rebels and federals coming for the purpose. Cotton opening fast on 700-acre farm, promising bale to the acre."

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas generally clear. Oklahoma—North portion cloudy; balance clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows very favorable conditions; cloudy over entire eastern half of the belt and Oklahoma. Fair in rest of the belt. Splendid rains in the Eastern States and Alabama, nice showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas."

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.29; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market, in session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to the ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be redelivered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now showing up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There will be thundershowers to-night or Thursday in the Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Ohio Valley and showers to-night in the lower Lake region, followed by generally fair weather Thursday. In the upper Lake region the weather will be generally fair. It will be somewhat cooler in the Lake region.

General Forecast.

General forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Georgia—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Virginia—Showers to-night or Thursday.

North and South Carolina—Showers late to-night or Thursday.

Alabama and Mississippi—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Tennessee and Kentucky—Showers to-night or Thursday.

Louisiana—Fair except showers in the southwest and east portions to-night or Thursday.

East Texas—Fair in interior; showers on coast to-night or Thursday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and Thursday.

CHICAGO CARLOTS.

Following are the receipts for Wednesday and estimated for Thursday:

	Wedn'day.	Thursday
Wheat	590	472
Corn	144	99
Oats	150	102
Hogs	25,000	19,000

PRIMARY MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
WHEAT—
Receipts	2,228,000	1,372,000
Shipments	691,000	608,000
CORN—
Receipts	504,000	441,000
Shipments	542,000	376,000

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—Wheat opened ¼d lower to ½d higher. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ¼d lower to ½d higher; closed unchanged to ¼d lower.

Corn opened ¼d lower. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ⅜ to ½d lower; closed ⅛ to ¾d lower.

MILLER-COTTER COTTON LETTER.

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Influence of excellent rains in Atlantic States was felt in the market. With showers predicted for Texas the outlook is quite encouraging to crop. Sentiment is more bearish, and selling would probably be free if rains come over the Southwest. Otherwise, the market may wait on further developments without material decline.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞; Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27½d, up 1 1-16d.

224,758 Added to Federation of Labor

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 23.—A big increase in the membership of the American Federation of Labor is noted in the report submitted at today's meeting of the executive council of the federation here.

In the last nine months of the fiscal year ending June 30 the gain in membership was 224,758. The total membership at the close of June, 1913, was 2,026,716, against 1,703,749 for June, 1912. During the last nine months 257 new charters were granted.

WIFE SLAYER AT LARGE.

COLUMBUS.—Howard King, a negro, who completely severed the head of his wife Saturday night, after having shot a negro man three times, because he had spoken to her, is still at large and absolutely no trace of him can be found.

COTTON DROPS ON WEATHER OUTLOOK

Bull Clique Liquidates When Longs Curtail Holdings—Buying Light—No Support.

NEW YORK, July 23.—With cables at a point or so better than had been expected and no rain in either Texas or Oklahoma, the cotton market opened quiet and steady to-day, with prices showing irregularity, being 2 off to 3 points higher than the closing quotations of Tuesday. Barometric conditions as shown on the map did not indicate any rain in prospect for the Western belt, resulting in most active positions increasing their gains 2 to 4 points from the initial level.

Cotton bulls received another jolt after the call when another drop of 30 points in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the market. July New Orleans dropped from 12.00 to 11.70, while August followed with a loss of 25 points. This, together with the late map showing unsettled weather condition in the Western belt, was about the only interesting feature. With the exception of scattered trade buying, the market was friendless and prices droped 6 to 12 points from the opening. July and August were the heaviest pressed, both declining 12 points. The selling was generally accredited to holders of long contracts, who were tired of waiting for the market to pull out of the rut.

* * *

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: August 11.96, October 11.40, January 11.28.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: July 11.85, August 11.78, October 11.44, January 11.44.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Thursday.	1912.
New Orleans	400 to 450	750

Semi-weekly interior movement:

	1913.	1912.	1911.
Receipts	3,921	2,944	3,152
Shipments	10,380	7,583	3,664
Stocks	117,687	79,658	62,148

NEW YORK COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	2:00 P.M.	Prev. Close.
July	12.16	12.16	12.04	12.07	12.15-16
Aug.	12.00	12.02	11.88	11.90	12.01-01
Sept.	11.68	11.68	11.59	11.59	11.67-68
Oct.	11.45	11.45	11.36	11.40	11.45-46
Nov.					11.38-40
Dec.	11.37	11.41	11.30	11.32	11.39-40
Jan.	11.34	11.36	11.25	11.26	11.33-34
Feb.					11.34-36
Meh.	11.43	11.43	11.33	11.37	11.41-42
May	11.46	11.46	11.38	11.39	11.43-45

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—This market was due 2½ points lower on near positions and 4 to 4½ points lower on distant months, but opened quiet at a net decline of 2 to 3 points at 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet, at a net decline of 3 to 4 points.

Fair business doing in spot cotton at 3 points decline; middling 6.69d; sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American bales; imports 1,000 bales, of which none were American.

At the close the market was steady with prices at a net decline of 4½ to 5 points from the final quotations of Tuesday.

Futures opened easier.

	Opening Range.	2 P.M.	Close.	Close.	Prev.
July	6.45	6.43½	6.42½	6.47
July-Aug.	6.44½	6.43½	6.42	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	6.36½	6.36	6.34½	6.39½
Sept.-Oct	6.22	6.21½	6.20	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	6.15½	6.20½
Dec.-Jan.	6.15½	.....	6.11	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	6.13	6.12½	6.11	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	6.14	.....	6.12½	6.17
Mch.-Apr.	6.15½	6.15½	6.13½	6.18
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.14½	6.19
May-June	6.18	.....	6.15½	6.20

Closed steady.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—There were good and rather general rains over night in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina; showers fell in Louisiana and Mississippi. Galveston, Tex., had a good rain, but there was little in the interior of the State. Indications are for clearing weather in the Atlantics, cloudy in the Central and Western States; more general showers in the Central belt, and local in the Eastern section of Texas and Western Oklahoma. More general rains are indicated for the Western States toward Saturday.

Liverpool was about as due and quotes spots 3 points lower; sales, 8,000 bales. Futures weakened toward the close on better weather news.

Our market opened at unchanged figures, but soon gave way on the Government forecast of unsettled weather and showers for the Western States. August showed the greatest decline, probably in consequence of hedge selling against spots. Trading settled around 11.42 for October. While there is no pronounced supporting demand from the trade, selling is conservative to avoid defeat on technical conditions.

New York advises that freight room for 4,000 bales to be shipped out of the local stock to Liverpool has been canceled, and that some cotton is coming there for delivery on July.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	2:00 P.M.	Prev. Close.
July	12.00	12.00	11.70	11.73	12.00-01
Aug.	11.95	11.95	11.69	11.73	11.94-95
Sept.					11.55-57
Oct.	11.51	11.52	11.40	11.44	11.50-51
Nov.					11.48-49
Dec.	11.48	11.50	11.38	11.41	11.48-49
Jan.	11.51	11.51	11.41	11.44	11.50-51
Feb.					11.46-49
Meh.	11.54	11.50	11.50	11.50	11.59-61
May					11.65-68

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	1,147	601
Galveston	995	262
Mobile	2	52
Savannah	135	127
Charleston	51	.....
Norfolk	764	238
New York	.....	102
Boston	.....	8
Pacific coast	231	.....
Total	3,327	1,390

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	750	128
Augusta	78	155
Memphis	418	761
St. Louis	398	79
Cincinnati	155	1,084
Total	1,799	2,207

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 23.—October was the center of attraction in the cotton seed oil market to-day, selling up 12 points. Later months were in demand from speculators. Crude mills are very firm in their views, and are offering very sparingly at about half a cent above the market.

Refiners continue moderate buyers of old crop oil, this demand forcing the price up. On the advance there were moderate realizing sales, which caused a setback in October and November of 4 to 5 points.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

A. Norden & Co.: We favor buying on breaks such as we had yesterday.

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We continue to favor purchases on such dips as we had yesterday.

Miller & Co.: We anticipate further recession, but believe in buying into the market when these come along.

STOCKS DECLINE ON PROFIT-TAKING

Big Issues Readily Absorbed by Strong Sources Who Disregard Temporary Fluctuations.

By CHARLES W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lower prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market to-day, with the exception of the copper shares which ruled strong.

Canadian Pacific showed a loss of a point in response to a similar decline in the London market. Other industrial issues yielded fractionally, but the recessions were not accompanied by any indications of weakness, and as the leader the one developed after the first few minutes of trading.

United States Government 2s showed a further decline this morning, 10,000 of the bonds selling at 96⅜, a decrease of ⅜.

The London market was dull.

Trading on the curb was steady.

The tone continued dull through the forenoon and all around fractional losses were recorded. Canadian Pacific dropped ¼, a net loss of 1¼. Steel, New York, New Haven and Hartford and Union Pacific declined ½. Petroleum was the most prominent in the declines, losing 1¼ since the opening. Changes in other issues were in the form of fractional declines.

Call money loaning at 2¼.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCK—	High.	Low.	2:00 P. M.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Cop.	68⅜	68⅛	68⅜	68⅜
Am. B. Sugar	24⅝	24⅛	24½	24½
Am. Can	32⅜	31⅝	32	32⅜
do. pfd.	92⅛	92½	92½	92⅜
A. C. Fdy.	43⅜	43⅜	43⅜	43⅜
A. Cot. Oil	38	38	38	37½
Am. Ice	22	22	22	....
Am. Smelt.	62⅜	62	62	62½
Am. Sugar	111⅜	111⅜	111⅜	111½
Anaconda	34¼	34¼	34¼	34¼
Atchison	98	97½	97½	98
B. and O.	98	98	98	97⅜
Beth. Steel	33¼	32½	32½	32⅝
B. R. T.	87⅜	87¼	87⅜	87⅜
Can. Pac.	218½	217¼	217½	219¼
Cen. Leath.	23	22⅝	22⅞	23⅛
C. and O.	54	53¼	53⅜	54
C. F. and I.	30⅜	30⅜	30⅜	30⅝
Corn Prod.	10⅛	9⅝	9⅞	10¼
Erie	26¼	26⅛	26¼	26⅜
do. pfd.	40⅜	40	40	40⅜
Gen. Elec.	140¼	139⅜	139⅝	140
G. N. pfd.	124¼	123⅜	123⅝	124⅛
Gt. West.	14	14	14	14¼
Interboro	15⅜	15½	15⅜	15⅜
do. pfd.	59	58¼	58½	59
M., K. and T.	22	21⅜	21⅜	21⅜
L. Valley	149	148¼	148¼	149¼
L. and N.	133	132⅜	132⅜	132⅞
Mo. Pacific	31⅝	31½	31⅝	31½
N. Y. Central	98¼	98	98	98
Northwest.	128½	128½	128½	128½
N. and W.	104⅞	104⅞	104⅞	105
No. Pacific	108⅞	108⅝	108½	108½
O. and W.	29¼	29¼	29¼	29
Penna.	113⅞	113⅝	113⅞	113⅝
P. Gas Co.	112⅜	112⅜	112⅝	....
Reading	160⅜	159⅝	160⅛	160⅝
R. I. and Steel	24⅜	24	24¼	23⅞
do. pfd.	86⅞	86	86	86½
Rock Island	16½	16⅜	16⅜	16⅝
So. Pacific	92⅜	92¼	92⅜	96⅝
So. Railway	22⅞	22⅞	22⅞	22⅜
St. Paul	104⅜	104½	104½	104⅜
Tenn. Copper	29⅞	29½	29½	29⅜
Union Pacific	148⅛	147¼	147⅜	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60	59½	59½	....
U. S. Steel	56⅞	56⅜	53½	56⅞
do. pfd.	106½	106¼	106¼	106½
Utah Copper	45½	45¼	45⅜	44⅝
V.-C. Chem.	25½	25½	25½	25½
Wabash, pfd.	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞	6⅜
W. Electric	62	62	62	62¼

1 p. m. sales, 128,000 shares.

STOCK GOSSIP

The yearly statement of the Republic Steel Company shows that the steel business is in good shape and the stock of this company and the United Steel Corporation should sell considerably higher before the end of the year. The demand for copper metal is again quite active and it is more than likely that the price will show a gradually advancing tendency. Believe conditions justify higher prices.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The news from the Balkans is not inspiring. Foreign traders are disposed to take profit.

* * *

Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Texas, submits a rival currency bill to President Wilson.

* * *

The New Haven may select a new president to-day or Thursday.

* * *

The express rate decision may be rendered to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads may be denied advance, but may be ordered to discontinue high allowance paid to industrial owners of switching railroads, thereby saving $42,000,000 a year, says The American.

* * *

Information channels favor profit-taking.

* * *

The Erie Railroad agreed to join other roads in accepting any arbitration award, but will ask men to defer effective date until January 1, 1915.

* * *

It is reported that the United Cigar Company will open a London branch.

* * *

New Haven Railroad earned between 5 and 5½ per cent in 1913 and paid 7½ per cent dividends.

* * *

Money is easing up. The readiness with which time loans could be made at rates from 3½ to 4 per cent lower than they were two weeks and less ago was influential in creating optimism. It was deemed significant that the supply of funds should come from the Standard Oil crowd. That group of financiers is closely watched in Wall street and any indication of Standard Oil buying is heralded as a signal for bullishness. If the financiers of No. 26 Broadway are willing to lend money on easy terms, they must favor a rising market. That reasoning may not be correct, but it sounds plausible in more than one commission house.

* * *

While the market has a reactionary tendency, do not look for any decline of consequence. There seems to be a steady accumulation of the better class of stocks on all recessions by the large interests, who buy for a long pull and disregard temporary fluctuations. Prices of dividend-paying issues are low, and if present crop prospects materialize at harvest time, we look for a continuation of large earnings for railroads, and a higher range of values before the end of the year.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

Weld & Co. are offering $1,370,000 Baltimore and Ohio mortgage 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds at 89 and interest to yield about 4⅝ per cent.

MINING STOCKS.

BOSTON, July 23.—Opening: Calariz, 62⅛; New Haven, 102⅜; Allouez, 33½; Sheet Machine, 46⅛; Calumet Hecla, 425; Butte Superior, 27⅞; Quincy, 60.

Atlanta Markets

EGGS—Fresh country, candled, 16@17c.

BUTTER—Jersey and creamery, in 1-lb. blocks 27½@30c; fresh country, fair demond, 15@18c.

UNDRAWN POULTRY—Drawn, head and feet on, per pound: riens, 19c; fries, 22½@24; roosters, 8@10c; turkeys, owing to fatness, 17@19c.

LIVE POULTRY—Hens, 40@45; roosters, 30@35c; broilers, 25@30c per pound; puddle ducks, 30@35c; Pekins, 35@40c; geese, 50@60c each; turkeys, owing to fatness, 15@17c.

FRUITS AND PRODUCE.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—Lemons fancy, $8.00@9.00; cauliflower, 10@12½c lb.; bananas, 2½c lb; cabbage, $2.00 per crate; peanuts, per pound, fancy Virginia, 6½@7c; choice, 5½@6c; beets, $1.75@2.00 in half-barrel crates; cucumbers, $1.25@1.50. Eggplants 75c @1.00 per crate; peppers, $1.25@1.50 per crate; tomatoes, fancy, six-basket crates, $2.00@2.50; onions, $1.00 per bu.; sweet potatoes, pumpkin yams, 80@85c. okra, fancy, six-basket crates, $1.50@1.75.

FISH.

FISH—Bream and perch, 7c pound; snapper, 10c pound; trout, 10c pound; bluefish, 7c pound; pompano, 20c pound; mackerel, 7c pound; mixed fish, 5@6c pound; black bass, 10c pound; mullet, $11.00 per barrel.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR—Postell's Elegant, $7.75; Omega, $7.00; Carter's Best, $6.25; Quality (finest patent), $6.40; Gloria (self-rising), $6.00; Results (self-rising), $6; Swans Down (fancy patent), $6.00; Victory (the very best patent), $6.40; Monogram, $6.00; Puritan (highest patent), $5.65; Golden Grain, $5.60; Faultless (finest patent), $6.25; Home Queen (highest patent), $5.65; Paragon (highest patent, $5.75; Sunrise (half patent), $4.85; White Cloud (highest patent), $5.25; White Daisy (highest patent), $5.00; White Lily (high patent), $5.00; Diadem (fancy high patent), $5.75; Water Lily (patent), $5.15; Sunbeam, $4.85; Southern Star (patent), $4.85; Queen Spray (patent), $4.85; Tulip (straight), $4.00; King Cotton (half patent), $4.75; low-grade, 98-lb sacks, $4.00.

CORN—Choice red cob 90c, No. 2 white bone dry 87c, mixed 85c, choice yellow 85c, cracked corn 85c.

MEAL—Plain 144-pound sacks 83c, 96-pound sacks 84c, 48-pound sacks 86c, 24-pound sacks 84c.

OATS—Fancy white clipped 57c, No. 2 clipped 56c, fancy white 55c, No. 2 mixed 54c.

COTTON SEED MEAL—Harper $31.50

COTTON SEED HULLS—Square sacks $17.00.

SEEDS—Amber cane seed $1.00, cane seed, orange $1.00, rye (Tennessee) $1.25, red top cane seed $1.35, rye (Georgia) $1.35, blue seed oats 50c, barley $1.25, Burt oats 70c.

FEEDSTUFFS.

CHICKEN FEED—Beef scrap 100-lb. sacks, $3.25; 50-lb. sacks, $1.65; Purina pigeon feed, $2.20; Purina baby chick feed, $2.00; Purina scratch, 100-lb sks., $1.85; 50-lb. sacks, $2.00; Purina scratch bales, $2.05; Purina chowder, 100-lb. sacks, $2.00; Purina chowder, dozen 2-pound packages, $2.20; Victory baby chick, $2.00; Victory scratch, 50-lb. sacks, $1.90; 100-lb. sacks, $1.85; wheat, two-bushel bags, per bushel, $1.25; oyster shell, 80c; special scratch, 100-lb sacks, $1.80; Eggo, $1.85; charcoal, 50-lb sacks, $2.00.

SHORTS—White, 100-lb. sacks, $1.75; Halliday, white, 100-lb. sacks, $1.70; Jandy middling, 100-lb. sacks, $1.75; fancy, 75-lb. sacks, $1.75; P. W., 75-lb. sacks, $1.65; brown, 100-lb. sacks, $1.55; Georgia feed, 75-lb. sacks, $1.55; Clover leaf, 75-lb. sacks, $1.60;

To Gain Your Goal With The Greatest Speed,

ESTRANGED WIFE KIDNAPS BABIES

Augusta Mother Defies Superior Court Order Awarding Two Children to Husband.

AUGUSTA, July 23.—Taking the law into her own hands after two courts decided she should not have possession of her two little girls, Mrs. Mary W. Zachry, wife of Julian J. Zachry, of Augusta and Harlem, left this city with the two children Tuesday afternoon in an automobile. Her destination was not known here.

The Zachrys have been separated several months, the husband living in Harlem with his parents and the wife in Augusta with her mother and sisters.

When the pair separated Mrs. Zachry took the two children, Frances, aged 2 1-2 years, and Mildred, aged 9 months, to live with her. About six weeks ago, Zachry brought habeas corpus proceedings before Ordinary Walton and obtained possession of the children.

Want Anything?

TELEPHONE

Main Atlanta 100

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion .....10c a line
3 insertion ..... 8c a line
7 insertions ..... 5c a line
20 insertions .....4½c a line
90 insertions ..... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

TELEPHONE

Both Phones 100

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE "SOUTH."

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed.

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingh'm ... 12:01 am	36	New York...12:15 am
35	New York ... 2:20 am	29	Columbus ... 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville . 5:30 am	13	Cincinnati ... 5:40 am
42	Washington . 5:25 am	32	Fort Valley.. 5:30 am
12	Shreveport.. 6:30 am	25	Birmingh'm 6:30 am
16	Heflin ..... 8:20 am	7	Chatt'ga ... 6:40 am
29	New York... 11:15 am	12	Richmond ... 6:55 am
25	Chatt'ga ..... 11:00 am	23	Kansas City. 7:00 am
7	Macon ..... 10:40 am	16	Brunswick ... 7:45 am
17	Fort Valley.. 10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm 11:30 -
21	Columbus ... 10:50 am	38	New York... 11:01 am
6	Cincinnati ... 11:10 am	40	Charlotte ...12:00 n'n
29	Columbus ..... 1:40 pm	6	Macon ..... 12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm ... 2:30 pm	30	Columbus ... 12:30 pm
40	Birmingh'm ...12:40 pm	38	New York... 7:45 pm
39	Charlotte ..... 3:55 pm	15	Chatt'ga ..... 3:00 pm
5	Macon ..... 4:00 pm	39	Birmingh'm ... 4:10 pm
37	New York ..... 5:00 pm	18	Toccoa ..... 4:20 pm
18	Brunswick ... 7:50 pm	22	Columbus ... 5:10 pm
11	Richmond ... 8:30 pm	11	Cincinnati ... 5:15 pm
26	Kansas City.. 8:20 pm	23	Fort Valley.. 5:20 pm
16	Chatt'ga ..... 9:.5 pm	25	Heflin ..... 5:45 pm
19	Columbus ....10:20 pm	10	Macon ..... 5:30 pm
31	Fort Valley..10:25 pm	44	Washington . 8:45 pm
14	Cincinnati ...11:00 pm	24	Jacksonville. 9:30 pm
28	Jacksonville . 6:50 am	12	Shreveport .11:10 pm
17	Toccoa ..... 8:10 am	14	Jacksonville .11:10 pm

All trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office No. 1 Peachtree St.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—I am a candidate for alderman from the Eighth Ward subject to the approaching city primary. Jno. S. Owens. 7-5-1

FUNERAL NOTICES.

THORNTON—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lella A. Thornton are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Austell Thornton to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the residence, 611 Peachtree street. Interment at Oakland; private. Pall-bearers selected will meet at Barclay & Brandon Co., 248 Ivy street, at 3:30 o'clock. 7-23-24

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Tuesday afternoon oblong barrette set with pearl at each end. Reward if returned to 524 Spring street. 7-23-13

LOST—In shopping district, Whitehall Street, Monday afternoon, ladies' black silk umbrella, gold and pearl handle, monogram "I. M." Reward for return. Mrs. Harrison, 202 Pulliam St., Phone Main 4722-J. 36-23-7

LOST—One bay mare mule, blind in right eye. Finder call Atlanta phone 5640-M. 43-23-7

LOST—Pair of eyeglasses, black cord attached, on Friday 18th. Reward if returned to No. 10 Williams street. 7-23-1

STRAYED from 457 N. Jackson St., a brown muley head cow. Reward for her return to above address. Cal Ivy 116 or Ivy 1848. 7-22-15

LOST—On Perry, Fair, King or Hill street one bundle of collector's cards. Return to J. K. Polk, 288 Decatur street. 7-22-21

LOST—Saturday, between National Paper Company and Marietta St., or on Cooper St. to Hendrix street car, between Simpson and Broad, gold chain with Knights of Columbus charm. Call Main 1163 or Ivy 8182-J. 7-20-93

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN

LOST AND FOUND.

W. M. COX cleans all kinds of carpets, rugs a specialty. Ivy 3135-J, Atlanta 1818. 145 Auburn Ave. 7-20-81

LOST—Thursday, between Atlanta and Marietta, Goodyear tire in case. Phone Ivy 2000. Reward. 74-20-7

LOST—Large white English bulldog. Answers to name of Jack. Strayed from 224 Whitehall Street. Reward for return. 7-19-13

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-23

THE LADY who removed silverware from rest room Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405 Third National Bank Bldg. Phone Ivy 551. 7-19-28

LOST—In ladies' room Terminal Station, silver mesh purse, engraved "Ruth Roberts." Liberal reward for return or information leading to recovery. Phone Ivy 5710. 901 Empire Life Bldg. 31-19-7

PERSONAL.

SUITS PRESSED ONLY

35 CENTS.

PHONE MAIN 1177 AND A MESSENGER WILL CALL.

THE WRIGHT SHOP.

FORMERLY IDEAL TAILOR SHOP.

15 FAIRLIE STREET. 6-30-33

HAT SALE—Trimmed hats, $1.50 to $5.00; outing hats, 75c; imported horsehair hats, $4.98; black hats, maline and lace trimmed. Remodeling hats specialty, $1.50. Panamas cleaned. Mrs. C. H. Smith, 115 Peachtree, next to Candler Bldg. 25-22-7

LADIES—Ask your druggist for Chichester Pills, the Diamond brand; for twenty years known as best, safest, always reliable; buy of your druggist. Take no other. Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. 5-20-1

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, home-like. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-57

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-14

FACES READ by physiognomy. What are your best assets? Don't neglect finding this out in courtship or business. Written readings, only $2. The Helper, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. 5-3-5

PANAMA EXPOSITION TOUR—Quick action will save money and secure accommodations impossible later on. Contracting manager here now from San Francisco. Address Dept. C, P. O. Box 1023, Atlanta, Ga. 30-19-7

OWEN J. ALFORD—Please call General Delivery, Atlanta, for important letter. Good news. 7-20-4

EDUCATIONAL.

WANTED—Pupils in Atlanta who want private teaching during the regular school months; grade, high school or college entrance work; rates reasonable; good testimonials. If interested, write for a personal interview. 531 W. Taylor, Griffin, Ga. 7-20-15

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—First-class, experienced cabinet man for making casket shells. Atlanta Casket Company. 7-23-18

WANTED—Reliable colored driver with references. Address P. O. Box 84, city. 40-23-7

WANTED—A colored presser. Herman Solloway, 273 Whitehall street. 7-23-15

HAVE good opening for man with character, ability and $600 for half interest in business just organized with fine prospects. Address Manufacturer, Box 39, care Georgian. 31-23-7

WANTED—Solicitor for high-grade business. Can make $5 daily. Call at 70½ Peachtree street. Office 4-6. 7-23-5

GOVERNMENT POSITIONS are easy to get. My free booklet Y-412 tells how. Write to-day—NOW. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 7-2-1

WANTED—Young man who has had experience cutting fabrics. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 40-22-7

WANTED—Job press feeders. Empire Printing and Box Co., 553 Whitehall St. 7-22-1

WANTED—Two tile layers to lay tile walk at once. Call at 1021 Empire Bldg. 36-21-7

WANTED—Reliable, sober man for night watchman; give references. Address Watchman, care Georgian. 28-21-7

FOR Colored Southern Automobile School, day and night classes. Corner Magnolia and Hulsey streets. 98-20-7

PULLMAN porters wanted; give references. For information write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-31

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 E. Mitchell St.

WANTED—Railway mail clerks, $75.00 to $150 month. Details free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49 F, Rochester, N. Y. 25-18-7

FIFTY fast messengers with or without wheels, $8 to $12 week. Miller's Minute Messenger Service, rear City Hall. We sell wheels on weekly payments. 7-2-29

YES, shave 10c, hair cut 15c, massage 15c, at 41 Marietta Street, 4 E. Mitchell, 115 Edgewood Avenue, 99 Whitehall, 52 Ivy. Best white workmen. Clean linen. Baths 15c. 6-21-5

HILBURN HOTEL.

10 AND 12 WALTON ST.,

FOR gentlemen only; center of city, near new postoffice; rate 50c, 75c and $1.00. 5-31-10

WANTED—Men at once to learn the barber trade. A hundred jobs waiting. Few weeks completes. Better wages than you can earn without trade. Tools given. Wages while learning. Drop a card for particulars or call. Moler Barber College, 38 Luckie street. 26-19-7

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY—Able-bodied, unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 192714 Second Avenue, Birmingham, Ala; 411 Cherry Street, Macon; Leonard Bldg., Augusta, or Broad and Marietta, Atlanta, Ga. 7-1-21

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

A FIRST-CLASS lady stenographer; must be accurate and rapid. Address Downtown, Box 30, care Georgian. 32-23-7

WANTED—First-class cook. 15 Brown Place. Phone Main 2690-L. 7-23-12

WANTED—Experienced white chambermaid at Hotel Ansley. Apply to Mrs. Scott, Housekeeper. 7-23-9

FIRST-CLASS COOK; room on lot; require reference. Apply at 1133 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 3094. 41-23-7

WANTED—Girl for office work. 18 Trinity avenue. 7-23-6

WANTED—Woman to whipstitch books; must be experienced. Piedmont Printing Co., 127 Central avenue. 7-23-3

WANTED—Ladies with experience to trim straw and felt hats. Apply American Hat Manufacturing Co., 195½ Marietta St. 39-22-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

SALESLADIES WANTED—A large cloak and suit house is desirous of connecting with them 5 additional saleslades. Must have experience from the large ready-to-wear stores. Permanent position and good salary to those who can qualify. Correspondence confidential. Address Suits and Cloaks, P. O. Box 988, Atlanta, Ga. 7-23-23

WANTED—White women to press men's underwear. Steady work and good pay. Apply Peter Hill Company, top floor Commerce Hall Bldg., Foyer and Edgewood. 7-22-7

WANTED—Woman to do cooking and general housework. Call Main 5424-L. 7-21-7

WANTED—At once several rapid, experienced typists; neat appearing; no others need apply. Miss Murphy, 179 Edgewood avenue. 7-21-12

WANTED—A good cook; references. 106 Lawton St. 7-20-31

WANTED—A good woman who understands work for a general helper for orphanage. Telephone West 1053. 7-20-20

WANTED—Girls to work in icing room. Frank E. Block Co. 7-19-26

WANTED—Good cook; family of two; North Side; good wages. Phone Ivy 876. 7-19-30

WANTED—A good settled woman to cook and do general housework; must understand cooking and sleep in house; references required. Apply 20 Fort Pl., Pherson. 7-18-6

WANTED—Governess, experienced in Atlanta public school work, for out of town; give experience and reference. Box 197, Austell, Ga. 33-19-7

WANTED—Young lady for office, with some knowledge of bookkeeping; rapid in writing, with good hand; steady employment. Address Box 610, care Georgian. 7-19-7

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pays $60 to $100 a month. Write ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. We make over and retrim hats free. 2-29-41

WANTED—Young lady stenographer; position till April 1; experience not necessary, if applicant can spell good; do not care for reference, only as to honesty. Address Box 209, Royston, Ga. 7-18-15

WANTED—Young women and girls desiring attractive positions. Welfare of operators and clerks closely supervised by the company; their conduct on the premises carefully guarded by matron, woman supervisor and chief operator, who have complete control over the retiring and operating rooms. Short training course for those inexperienced; salary paid while learning. Salary increased upon being transferred to operating force, and for those becoming efficient, increased as they become worthy, with opportunities for ultimate advancement to $75 per month. References proving the standing of the applicant essential. Those having educational advantages preferred. Lunch room and comfortable retiring rooms provided with several hundred Carnegie Library books for the convenience of the operators. Matron and trained nurse in attendance. Apply 8:30 to 5, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Training School, 25 Auburn Avenue. 6-15-16

WANTED—An experienced saleswoman on one that understands the cloak and suit business thoroughly and competent to take complete charge thereof. Applicants will be treated strictly confidential. Write Box 607, care Herald, Albany, Ga.

HELP WANTED—MALE AND FEMALE.

WANTED—Experienced pantry men or women (white). Apply at Steward's office, Hotel Ansley. 7-21-18

AGENTS—Make money fast. We have articles that sell. Call 47 Evans, West End. 7-19-12

WANTED,
Cotton Mill Help
ALL KINDS.
High Wages.
Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills,
Atlanta, Ga.

6-17-7

TEACHERS WANTED.

South Atlantic Teachers' Agency
1125 Atlanta National Bank Bldg.
SPECIAL registration. Direct calls coming fast. 6-26-28

AGENTS & SALESMEN WANTED.

WANTED—Three or four high grade salesmen to sell finished lots. Five minutes north of Five Points. I pay 40 cash for the sale of each lot. Reeves & Moran, 702 Empire Bldg. 7-22-8

TRAVELING SALESMEN.
WE REQUIRE AT ONCE THE SERVICES OF THREE GOOD, LIVE, ACTIVE, HIGH-GRADE TRAVELING SALESMEN TO TRAVEL SOUTHERN STATES. APPLICANTS MUST BE MORE THAN 25 YEARS OF AGE, GOOD PERSONALITY AND HAVE SUCCESSFUL RECORD AS SALESMEN; TO SUCH WE CAN OFFER A POSITION THAT WILL PAY $200 AND UP PER MONTH ABOVE EXPENSES. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY AND TRAVELING EXPENSES ADVANCED. REFERENCES REQUIRED. E. F. WHITE, 820 FORSYTH BUILDING, ATLANTA, GA. 40-23-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position at once; prefer job as butler or janitor; can give good reference. Call or address George Ellis, 172 Orme St. 47-23-7

COLORED man wants a job as butler in private family. Address P. S. Mattox, Elberton, Ga. 45-23-7

BOY WANTS job helping cook and do housework. Phone Atlanta 3216. 42-23-7

COMPETENT bookkeeper, best references, married, desires permanent situation immediately. Address J. D., care Georgian. 26-23-7

SITUATION wanted by an advertising man; a young fellow (25), but master of practical, sane methods that sell. A successful experience covering the building of catalogs, editing of house organs and the installation of mail order facilities that capitalize service and good goods. Particularly strong on the writing of sales letters and literature in which the "hook" is sound sales talk presented in a personal, human interest manner. For samples of work and an interview, Address W., Box 430, care Georgian. 25-23-7

WANTED—Position by young man with four years' experience as stenographer, bookkeeper and cashier; now employed. Address F., Box 60, care Georgian. 30-23-7

WANTED—Position by bright young man; office work preferred; can give good references. Address C. E. B., Box 58, care Georgian.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUCTION SALES.

AT AUCTION.
SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS, INCLUDING A FINE LOT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE. A LIST OF THE SAME WILL APPEAR IN TO-MORROW'S AD. SALE 10 A. M., FRIDAY, JULY 25.
CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY.
12 East Mitchell Street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED by a reliable colored man, position as janitor or porter. Five years' experience. Understands steam heat and hot air furnaces. Can furnish good references. Address C. Thomas, 34 Carter St. 38-23-7

WANTED—Position by bookkeeper and office man; ten years' experience; best references. Address Y. Z., Box 84, care Georgian.

RELIABLE colored chauffeur wants position at once. Can butler. Reference. Address Clifford Robinson, 53 Auburn Avenue. 82-20-7

BOOKKEEPER, general office man, fifteen years' experience, open for position. Address Y. P., Box 850, care Georgian. 84-20-7

WANTED—Position by young man, 20, with banking experience; can furnish good references. Address, stating salary, W. C. P., Box 144, Greenville, Fla. 35-20-7

A-1 BLACKSMITH and general repair man (both in wood and iron); best of references. Call Ivy 7582-J, or write F., 118 West Peachtree St., Atlanta. 59-20-7

SITUATION WANTED as building superintendent; broad experience in North and South on general building construction and reinforced concrete. Will go any place. Very best of references furnished. Address Box 982, care Georgian. 55-20-7

WANTED—Settled, reliable man wants position as night watchman. W. F. Lampp, Wrens, Ga. 42-17-7

A YOUNG colored man wants position as porter or janitor; good references. Address C. A. H., No. 12 Old Wheat street. 7-18-11

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

STENOGRAPHIC and assistant bookkeeping position desired at once. R. A. P., 138 Crew street. 35-23-7

WANTED—Sewing by the day by an experienced seamstress. Price, $1.00. Phone Mrs. H. Ivy 3707-J. 27-23-7

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housekeeper in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

DRESSMAKING — DRESSMAKERS

WANTED—Sewing by day; $1 and car fare, or will make tub and lawn dresses at home for $1. Dressmaker, 374 E. Hunter. 97-20-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE,"
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, ca-ha Georgian. 6-16-46

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
One year, mail, postage prepaid, $5.00
Six months, mail, postage prepaid, 2.60
Three mos., mail, postage prepaid, 1.25
One month, mail, postage prepaid, .46

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
Delivered by carrier, one year.....$5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months.. 2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months. 1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month .... .46
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week 10

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

A FEW uncalled for suits to be sold at cost. Dundee Woolen Mills, 75 Peachtree street. 7-23-16

FOR SALE—At once, three new pianos. Sold everywhere for $375, will sacrifice for $125 each. Not leaving town. No fake. Reason for this remarkable offer will be given you. Call 24 Mead avenue, Decatur. 29-23-7

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-12-1

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES' Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 771½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree, Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

BROILERS
35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.
4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.
Rebuilt typewriters, $23 to $75.
American Writing Machine Co.
48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

MAXWELL RUNABOUT, new engine, practically new tires, Prest-O-Lite, $175 if sold soon. Box 628, care Georgian. 33-23-7

AUTOGENOUS WELDING
OF ALL MACHINE PARTS. All kinds of repair work promptly done. Work guaranteed. Shearer Machine Company, 197 Whitehall.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.
SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-301

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS
While You Wait.
Sanford Decarbonizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP,
275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS,
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 moled, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Stowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS
Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.
WE USE OXYGEN
No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.
A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.
It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.
Atlanta Welding Co.
Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

HOTTEST CITY

The hottest city on earth is said to be Mecca, the capital of the Turkish Province of Hejaz, in Arabia.

A temperature of 125 degrees Fahrenheit is nothing unusual in Mecca.

Being the birthplace of Mohammed and containing the Kaaba, the city of Mecca is also the central and most holy place of all Islam.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

STUDEBAKER
SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $679. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 35% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-6-1

CLEARANCE SALE OF GOOD USED CARS.
Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:
Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.
If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

Autos Wanted.

WANTED—Small roadster or light touring car; Hupmobile or Model T Ford preferred. Must be a bargain. Box 276, care Georgian. 34-23-7

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-12

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 3-26-31

POULTRY
Pet and Live Stock

Fat Hens Declared To Be Best Layers

Grain Feeding Gives Desired Result. Expert Tells When Fowl Is Useless.

By JUDGE J. F. MARSHALL.

It is no secret with a great many poultrymen and farmers that a well-fed, fat hen is a good egg producer, in spite of the hue and cry by a certain class warning us not to get our hens fat.

I believe these people are honest in their opinions. I think they have been governed almost wholly by the fact that at times they have killed an old hen that had passed her usefulness and quit producing eggs, and the hen in question was filled with fat and no signs of eggs.

Putting two and two together, they decided that the reason she was not producing eggs was on account of her fat, while the real truth in the matter is she was too old to produce eggs. And her fatness is explained by lack of exercise.

Observation covering a period of nearly 40 years, during which I have made a study of the hen, her laying times, her condition during that time, and in fact everything pertaining to egg production, has brought me to the conclusion that it is the fat but energetic hen that gives us the eggs.

Corn Not a Bad Feed.

I have seen hundreds of hens dressed for the table, and it has been almost a universal rule that the hen that was full of eggs in various stages of formation was also full of layers of fat. I have observed hundreds of farmers who would feed their hens corn almost exclusively the year round and market eggs by the bushel all the time. They were stock farmers who had more corn to spare than any other kind of grain, and they made use of it.

How often you have heard corn condemned? Some go so far as to assert that it should not be fed to hens at all in any considerable quantity.

Did you ever stop to think that the yolk of the egg is about 60 per cent fat, while the white and shell contain no fat? The yolk being the first part of the egg to form must necessarily have, as the Irishman said, the wherewithal to form it from. The fat must be there ready for the work.

Surplus Energy Gives Eggs.

We must remember that the egg is manufactured from the surplus energy the hen has over and above that necessary to maintain her body in a good, healthy condition. As soon as that point is reached she begins to lay on the reserve, which is fat out of which the egg is made.

There may be an occasional hen that will take on fat abnormally and get filled up so as to retard egg production, but we must take the chances on that if we are working for heavy egg production. Such hens usually are not worth much for eggs in any event.

There is a class of hens that tend to take on fat outside of the digestive tract on the lower part of the abdomen. They get so fat that it is difficult for them to walk. As a rule such hens had just as well be disposed of as soon as found in that condition, for the fat is in such a position that it can not be utilized in egg formation. These are drone hens which give many persons the idea that fat hens are useless. They are the exceptions that prove the rule.

Professor James Rice, of Cornell poultry department, says it has been his experience that hens will consume considerably more food a time before they begin to lay, another indication that they are preparing the system for the great strain to be put upon it.

Experiment Suggested.

Then did you ever notice how ravenously a hen taking care of chickens will eat in her endeavor to recoup herself, and how, as soon as she has fattened up, she will begin to lay?

For the sake of experimenting along that line just feed the hen with chickens just enough to keep her in moderate condition, but not nearly what she would like to have, and see how long she will be commencing to lay.

To sum up the matter, a hen must have a variety consisting of a great bulk of green stuff, together with the grain and a supply of meat in some form, in all a good, generous bill of fare at all times, that she may get her body in good condition with the extra for fat. On the farm range the hen will get much of her variety of greens, as well as bugs for the meat, so that grain is the real thing needed.

Ducks.

TWENTY-FIVE TRIOS pure white Indian Runners, $5 per trio. Coweta Duck Farm, Senoia, Ga. 7-13-341

Leghorns.

1,500 GRAND White Leghorns; breeders of our celebrated "Model" strain; in perfect health; pure white, and heavy layers; must have room; sacrifice price, $1 each. Order to-day. Model Poultry Farm, "The Farm of Quality," Box G, Colbert, Ga. 6-17-29

Orpingtons.

WHITE ORPINGTONS for sale, four hens, one cockerel, $15; six hens, one cock, $20; ten hens, one cockerel, $35; five cockerels, $5 each. H. A. Black, Cartersville, Ga. 1-23-7

Plymouth Rocks.

I HAVE 11 Buff Plymouth Rock hens, 2 Buff Plymouth Rock cockerels, 16 Buff Plymouth Rock large fryers. Want to close out at once as we will be away for some time. Price to suit you. R. L. Barry, Prado, Ansley Park. Bell 2917 Ivy. 7-23-17

PARTRIDGE ROCKS—The South's leading winning strain. Can give quality and blood lines unequaled by any breeder in the South. My birds are winners at the Southern International, Macon, Columbus, Griffin, Nashville, Tenn.; Paducah, Ky.; Shreveport, La. Send for mating list. R. P. Cotter, Box G, Barnesville, Ga. 2-15-17

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Poultry—Disinfectants.

AGASCO-SPRAY
WILL RID your premises of mites, lice, fleas and ants. It is ready for immediate use with brush or spray pump. When applied to poles and nests it eradicates lice and mites so effectually that fowls do not have to be carried through that inconvenient and nerve-racking process of dipping. Manufactured by Atlanta Gas Light Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Poultry Remedies.

ARE your hens paying their board? If not, Southern Poultry Remedy is the best thing to give them now. It's guaranteed. Price 25c and 50c at all seed stores and dealers.

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield, Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

Foxes.

RED FOX FOR SALE—Young and fairly tamed; very attractive for pet or mascot. F. B. D., Box 694, Columbus, Ga. 46-23-7

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW.
GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

Hogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

FOR SALE—A sound mare; will work anywhere; also a fine four-year-old mule; a bargain. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-19-9

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BOTH PHONES 2568.
OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS

Our Want Ads Are The Things That You Need

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—Three to five-year loan of $800 from private party. Will pay 8 per cent interest. Gilt-edge security in real estate. Address C. L. E., Box 850, care Georgian. 7-23-4

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

ESTABLISHED 1888.
6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
3-11-50

MONEY TO LOAN.

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.
TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

LOANS $25.00 AND UP
On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.

AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.

GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.
7-17-1

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

SACRIFICE.

FIRST-CLASS restaurant and lunch room in one of the best locations on the North Side, in the heart of the hotel and business districts; best class patronage; doing a nice business. Owner has other business interests requiring entire time and will sacrifice for quick sale. Price $900. Good opportunity for some one. Phone or see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. M. 3155. 7-23-22

Notice to Business Men.
LUNCH 25c. Ponciana, 24 East Ellis. 7-23-8

WILL SELL the State rights of Georgia for the best drink on the market. Now on sale at 75 founts. Also counter, table, etc. This is an exceptional opportunity. Answer quick. Address Bargain, 849, care Georgian. 7-23-11

BUSINESS INVESTMENT—6 pt. caps. We manufacture human necessities and luxuries. The demand for both is increasing. Business on a 20% earning basis first year. Can use five thousand dollars additional capital expanding and double our earnings in twelve months. If you have a part or all of this for investment we invite you to investigate. P. D. W. Company, P. O. Box 714, Augusta, Ga. 7-23-10

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-1

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

ROOMS AND BOARD.

16 EAST BAKER ST.

GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 5459-L. 7-17-2

NICE furnished rooms, with or without board. 69½ E. Alabama street. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.

LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-10

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.

BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3378-J. 7-21-8

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Ansley Park---7-Room Bungalow
RIGHT OFF PIEDMONT AVENUE CAR LINE.

THIS brand new home is a BEAUTY; 7 large rooms, sleeping porch, beautiful fireplaces, FURNACE HEAT, hardwood floors, fine basement rooms, large lot, lying absolutely perfect. This is the best bungalow for the money in that entire section. $6,500 on terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.

ON GEORGIA avenue, right at the Park (Georgia is going to be some avenue soon, too), 5 large rooms and hallway, elevated lot, all conveniences. Easy terms. See us.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-9

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family. 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

36 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board in private family by young man. Wants homelike place, on car line passing Equitable building preferred. Best references. Replying state location, price, etc., to W. L. R., 33 Gilmer street, city. 7-23-7

WANTED—In private family board for man and wife and one child. Address L. O. R., care Georgian. 37-23-7

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

SUMMER RESORTS.

WILTON LODGE.

TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2395, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED rooms with all modern conveniences at 108 Capitol avenue. 44-23-7

BEAUTIFUL, cool, front room; private bath; shady lot; gentleman. "West Peachtree," care Georgian. 38-23-7

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room, $2.25 weekly. 31 Hood St., near Whitehall. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

GENTLEMAN can get nicely furnished room, all conveniences. Apartment 3, 148 Forrest avenue. 28-23-7

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-22

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.

20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-72

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 2041. 7-20-60

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street, West 209. 7-20-30

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4138-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.60. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-5

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 301 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 197 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-15-25

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-35

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 23 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Board if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 15 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS (Next door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-3-36

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences; also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558-J. Furnished rooms and furnished three-room apartments; close in, with all conveniences. 7-16-10

ONE FRONT ROOM; PRIVATE FAMILY. 226 PULLIAM STREET. 7-19-6

TWO nice rooms and kitchenette, completely furnished for light housekeeping, to parties without children; splendid location; private family; one block of Grant Park. Good car service. 428 East Georgia avenue. 7-19-10

THE PICKWICK.
New, Ten Story and Fireproof.
Cool outside rooms with connecting bath.
Convenient shower baths on each floor.
77 Fairlie Street, next Carnegie Library. 6-5-32

UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT

THREE unfurnished upstairs rooms for rent. 20 Brotherton street. 7-23-14

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End to couple for housekeeping; every convenience. Phone W. 128-J. 7-22-16

FOR RENT—Two large front rooms. 155 W. Fair St. 32-22-7

THREE or five housekeeping rooms, first floor, furnished or unfurnished. 16 Cooper St. Call Main 5108 or Main 3513. 7-20-79

TWO unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Close in. References. 50 Williams Street. 7-20-24

ONE large unfurnished room for rent. 471 East Cain street. 7-19-36

TWO lovely unfurnished housekeeping rooms; references exchanged. 120 E. Fair St. 7-19-25

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette two doors from Peachtree Street. 54 East Alexander Street.

TWO large fine front rooms for light housekeeping. M. 820-J. 7-20-92

TWO large unfurnished rooms, suitable for housekeeping; conveniences. Reasonable. 411 Fraser Street. 7-19-3

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED or unfurnished rooms. 24 Cooper St. Reasonable prices. 7-20-83

FOR RENT—Rooms, furnished or unfurnished, with or without kitchenette. 221 West Peachtree. 7-20-42

FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO or three furnished front connecting housekeeping rooms, close in. 37 Carnegie way. 26-22-7

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, neatly furnished, block from Postoffice; all conveniences. 74 Walton Street. 7-21-14

COMFORTABLY furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences. 388 Peachtree St. Ivy 4530-J. 58-20-7

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS FOR RENT.

FOUR ROOMS for light housekeeping; all conveniences; no children. Apply 191 Luckie street. 7-22-23

FURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Small, completely furnished apartment, including piano and linen. Close in. Call Ivy 6843. 31-21-7

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

BEAUTIFUL five-room apartment; all conveniences; close in. Apply Owner, 715 Peters Bldg., or call Main 1225. 7-20-38

48 COLUMBIA AVENUE, second-floor apartment; six cool, airy, well lighted rooms; possession now or September 1. Phone Ivy 794-J. 7-20-46

UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

TEN-ROOM HOUSE, beautiful, shady lot, large garden and garage; cheap rent to desirable person. Call Ivy 4686. 7-21-19

SIX-ROOM cottage, North Side, for rent by owner, reasonable; bath. Phone Ivy 6432. 7-17-14

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR SALE OR RENT—New bungalow on half-acre lot, with beautiful shade; will make terms to suit; furnished or unfurnished. Call Decatur 586. 7-20-82

OFFICES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Attractive office desk and telephone all for $10. Apply Manager Temple Court. 7-22-9

FOR RENT—Office Candler Building; $17 month. Phones Ivy 2125-J, Ivy 5437-J. 7-19-16

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.

THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.

ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.
36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

FURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

TWO or three furnished housekeeping rooms; private bath; must be the best in every way. X. X., care Georgian. 42-18-7

FURNISHED APARTMENTS WANTED.

WANTED—Furnished three-room apartment, with bath and electric light; couple with daughter twelve years old. Address M. M., care Georgian. 34-18-7

UNFURNISHED ROOMS WANTED.

MARRIED couple desire upper or lower porches of a house with four rooms; every convenience for housekeeping; must be on North Side and select neighborhood. Ivy 6246-J. 7-23-21

YOUNG couple want three upstairs rooms; all conveniences; good neighborhood. Address K. P., Box 851, care Georgian. 48-23-7

WANTED—On September 1, by couple, entire upstairs, consisting of four or five rooms, in strictly modern North Side home. Call Ivy 3656-J. 7-21-3

ONE unfurnished room with private bath by young lady. Exclusive North Side home. Best only. Box 19, 61 West Harris Street. 7-20-62

WANTED—In Inman Park, four upstairs housekeeping rooms, with modern conveniences; unfurnished; near car. Address R. M., Box 845, care Georgian. 27-19-7

FURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

YOUNG couple, two furnished rooms and kitchenette; must be first-class, in good neighborhood; first floor preferred; give description and price. Address Furnished Rooms, care Georgian. 7-23-1

UNFURNISHED HOUSES WANTED.

A NICE six-room house; must have nice, large shady lot and city conveniences. Prefer one in the suburbs, but must be on car line. Address J. H., care Georgian. 7-21-17

HOTELS. WANTED.

HOTEL WANTED—Commercial, in good live town in Georgia or Florida, by an experienced hotel man; either European or American plan. Address P. O. Box 393, Fernandina, Fla. 29-21-7

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Colvin Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA bungalow for sale or rent; best part of Inman Park; built-in bookshelves and open fireplace, with or without some furniture; large lot and front porch. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care Georgian. 39-23-7

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 2978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Eli," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h., 188 Hill	$25.00
6-r. h., 196 Crumley	25.00
6-r. h., Washington street, East Point	20.00
6-r. h., 15 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood	22.50
6-r. h., 575 Edgewood avenue	27.50
6-r. h., 88 Lucile avenue, furnished	45.00
6-r. h., 58 Dunn	26.20
6-r. h., 569 Cherokee, apartment, furnished	35.00
6-r. h., 108 Mansfield	25.00
6-r. h., 20 Clifford	25.00
6-r. h., 309 Moreland avenue	40.00
6-r. h., Harwell and Malden lane	30.00
6-r. h., 180 Cameron	18.60
6-r. h., 140 Drexel	25.00
6-r. h., 12 Howard	22.50
6-r. h., 47 Dreery	30.60
6-r. h., 21 Park street, Oakhurst	22.50
6-r. h., Hardee street	15.00
6-r. h., 32 Olympic place, Decatur	27.50
6-r. h., 13 Haynes	12.60
6-r. h., 32 Druid circle	30.00
6-r. h., 12 Clifford	27.50
6-r. h., 1170 DeKalb avenue	30.00
6-r. h., 401 E. Fair street	30.00
5-r. h., 124 Hill	25.00
5-r. h., 23 Summit	17.50
5-r. h., 99 Glenwood	15.60

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

7-r. apt., 41 E. Cain St.	60.00	5-r. apt., 152 Whitefoord Ave.	$20.00
6-r. apt., 43 Garfield Place	30.00	5-r. apt., A-15 Highland Ave.	20.60
6-r. apt., 75 Orme St.	21.00	4-r. apt., H-312 Rawson street (Sept. 1)	35.00
5-r. apt., 312 Rawson St.	42.50	4-r. apt., 4-396 Piedmont Ave.	17.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

WAREHOUSE FOR RENT

3 AND 5 PACKARD STREET, corner Madison Avenue, we have this three-story brick building, dimensions being 20,000 square feet, cement floors, elevator service. Good office on first floor. First-class railroad service. This is one of the best renting propositions in town. Call at our office for particulars.

Chas. P. Glover Realty Company
2½ WALTON STREET.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS

THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.

IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.

FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE
JOHN J.
WOODSIDE

WEST PEACHTREE PLACE
(Cottage, $3,750.)
House has 6 rooms, gas, bath, etc. Nice lot. Easy terms.
THOS. R. FINNEY, SALES MANAGER, 12 "Real Estate Row."

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.
JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot, 95 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.
LEE STREET COTTAGE.
SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

Central Property to Exchange

WE CAN exchange a small lot on Cone street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers and, at the price at which it can be bought, should yield handsome profits.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

ON TUESDAY, August 5, next, Legal Sale Day, we will sell before Court House door the southwest corner of Fair and Fraser streets, fronting 67 feet 10 inches on Fair street, by 90 feet on Fraser street. This property is inside the half-mile circle, and has many fine advantages from a business standpoint. Sold for administration of D. Gussi estate. Terms, half cash, balance 1 to 2 years 7 per cent. Be on hand.

GREENE REALTY CO.
Agents.

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

FINE Georgia farm land; will exchange for Atlanta property at cash value. Owner, 1423 Candler Bldg. 7-23-19

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell, 114 Candler Building. 8-29-3

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 409 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL-ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME

NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Several Big Deals Reported Wednesday

Announcement Soon of Interesting Transactions—Realty Looking Up. Marietta Street Lease.

Reports of big sales in realty circles have taken the place largely of news of the medium-sized transactions, and are proving infinitely more interesting. An investor, for instance, has bought an $80,000 parcel that he will hold for enhancement, and an owner has refused more than half a million on a downtown corner. Another dealer, it is reported, has sold a handsome dwelling on a North Side street between the Peachtrees, and has refused a flattering offer on central property wanted by a syndicate for improvement with a substantial building.

There are other signs of returning activity in real estate, and the dealers are very optimistic of a heavy fall business. Details of the above transactions are expected to come out in a week, when they will be ready for announcement. Other trades are in the contract stage.

* * *

Chamber Directors Meeting.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company met Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Empire Building and decided to fix a price on the four top floors of the Chamber of Commerce Building so that this price could be submitted to the local committee of merchants and manufacturers. The directors are meeting again Wednesday afternoon to fix this price definitely, and a report to the other body is expected at once.

* * *

Marietta Street Lease.

Mr. Rankin, of the Smith, Ewing & Rankin Renting Agency, has announced the lease for a term of No. 164 Marietta street, a three-story and basement building, to the Atlanta Envelope Company for a client, at about $3,000 a year. The building contains about 20,000 square feet of floor space.

Meeting on Realty Loans.

A subcommittee of the State Legislature has taken hold of the bill to repeal the bill of 1910, which prohibits loans of State and municipal funds on real estate. Committees of the Atlanta Real Estate Board appeared at the Capitol Tuesday afternoon to present arguments in favor of the repeal, and they received a warm reception.

Certain bond dealers who are interested in having the bill remain as enacted also appeared. Speaking of their argument, Harris White, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, declared it was "weak."

Concrete Buildings Planned.

Two concrete buildings will soon be erected by the syndicate interested in the Walker street development. These structures will face on Walker street, where the new Southern Railway tracks will pass, and will be used for wholesale and manufacturing purposes. More than twenty applications for space have been received by the projectors. Among those in the syndicate are W. S. McKemie, Tom Stocks, W. J. Blalock and Ernest Duncan.

Judge Don A. Pardee recently approved a connection between the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Southern at this point, and the work can start at once laying tracks from the Southern to Haynes street.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$600—Newton St. John to R. O. Adams, lot 105x180 feet southeast corner Automobile avenue and Adams avenue. July 22.

$500—Jack D. Hayes to M. Levin and Joe Cohen, lot 40x80 feet north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 17.

$1,500—Joel T. Dares to John T. Taylor, lot 50x150 feet 61 feet west of southwest corner West Tenth street and Ridge avenue. July 18.

$3,500—S. W. Sullivan to M. S. Moore, lot 48x155 feet south side Argard avenue 294 feet west of Highland avenue. October 2, 1909.

$4,125—Mrs. Jessie May Cunningham to Walker Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, No. 21 Stonewall street, 48x140 feet. March 17.

$2,000—Mrs. Jessie L. T. Stark to John F. Green, lot 1480x1611 feet west side McDonough road at intersection of Constitution road, three-tenths interest. July 19.

$4,000—E. G. Black to G. E. Mathews, lot 76x278 feet north side Gordon street 196 feet east of Hopkins street; also triangular lot at northwest corner of above lot. March 8, 1911.

$350—Mrs. Mattie E. Jones to J. A. Sewell, lot 50x166 feet north side Bain street 500 feet west of Bachelor avenue. July 22.

$175—W. L. Venable to J. W. Phillips, lot 150x230 feet west side Bayard street 364 feet north of Francis street. July 3.

Warranty Deeds.

$1,000—M. Levin and Joe Cohen to James H. McNesser and Harry Constangy, lot 40 by 80 feet, north side Lena street, 120 feet east of Ashby street. July 19.

$1,200—Ludella E. Peacock to Thomas Roseborough, lot 50 by 110 feet west side McDaniel street, 100 feet north of Gardner street. July 18.

$500—George P. Moore to Mrs. M. A. A. Wellborn, lot 50 by 274 feet, south side Home avenue, 200 feet east of Gress avenue. July 22.

$3,200—J. M. Farmer to J. T. and W. C. Slaughter, lot 50 by 100 feet, south side Linden street, 93 feet east of Piedmont avenue. July 22.

$240—Gordon F. Mitchell to Owen C. McConnell, lot 8 by 222 feet, east side North Boulevard, 122 feet north of Forrest avenue, one-half interest. July 21.

$3,500—Robert L. York to Mrs. Nassie Tuggle, No 535 Highland avenue, 33 by 170 feet. June 25.

Bonds for Title.

$1,400—Cobbs Land Company to Mrs. A. J. Callaway, lot 28, block 1, Cobbs Land Company property, 50 by 154 feet, on Elizabeth lane. July 14. Transferred to Joseph Buchman, July 21.

$10,500—Atlanta Banking and Savings Company to L. F. Henderson, lot 40 by 171 feet, north side Stokes avenue, at southwest corner lot K, block D, of West End Park. July 16.

$26,000—Mrs. Mattie F. Huggins to M's. Kate G. Ryder, No. 342 Ponce DeLeon avenue, 38 by 316 feet. July 3. 3.

$3,000—L. S. Huntley Company to Mrs. Cora P. M. Scott, lot 50 by 122 feet, east side Roswell road, 314 feet from Peachtree road. July 3.

$50,000—J. F. Leary to Phoenix Planing Mill, lot 153 by 43 by 492 by 75 by 500 by 182 by 524 feet, east side Sampson street, 100 feet south of Highland avenue; also lot 50 by 152 feet, south side Highland avenue, 503 feet east of Sampson street; also lot 43 by 142 feet, south side Highland, 603 feet east of Sampson street. December 22, 1909.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News

Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged womap or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition, you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

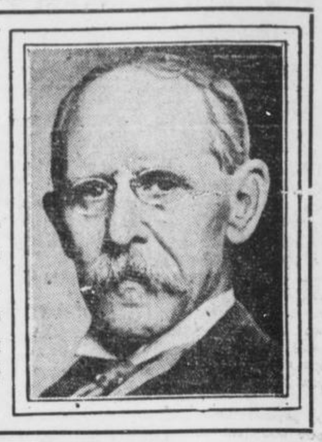
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

South Georgia AFTERNOON EDITION

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1906, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAT. NO MORE

PHONE GIRLS TRAP BURGLARS

LANFORD RIDICULES BLUDGEON EVIDENCE

RIVALRY, MINUS DISCORD, ABOUNDS IN BOOSTER BUTTON BEAUTY RACE

Candidates for sponsorship of 500,000 Club growing numerous.

Miss Maude Steele, new entry of brunette type and one of prettiest in contest.

Veritable Shower of Coupon Votes Received, Showing Enthusiasm in Competition.

Rivalry in Atlanta's booster button beauty contest threatens to equal that immortal mythological event in which Ate, Goddess of Discord, dropped a golden apple at the feet of Paris marked for the fairest one.

But no such disastrous result as the destruction of Troy unless Birmingham or Memphis should steal Atlanta's prettiest girl and then outrank the Gate City in the census of 1920.

Atlantans fell sure that the girl elected the sponsor of the "500,000 Booster Club" will glory in her leadership and be present to act as queen of the celebration when the 500,000 population is counted in 1920.

One of the fairest candidates nominated Wednesday is Miss Maud Steele, of 9 Venable street. She is a brunette, though not extreme, and gives the brunette almost an equal place with the blondes in the number of candidates.

Each day brings in new candidates, and a snowstorm of coupon votes for the favorites. It is a wonderful contest indeed. But why shouldn't it be?

The prettiest girl in Atlanta! Just think of it.

Clip the coupons that appear each day in The Georgian. Nominate your candidate. VOTE.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfield, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

Fraud Suit Thrown Out of Macon Court

MACON, July 23.—The suit for $100,000 damages brought by A. C. Felton, vice president of a lumber company, against R. J. Taylor and N. M. Block, Macon bank presidents, in which they were charged with conspiracy to defraud him out of stock worth $100,000 and with cheating and swindling, has been thrown out of Superior Court by Judge H. A. Mathews.

The court sustained the general demurrer offered by Taylor and Block.

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

Women Give Tillman Fried Chicken Shower

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Following his assertion that the frying of chicken was unknown here, Senator Tillman was swamped with samples of fried chicken sent by local housewives.

LABOR MEN TO PICNIC.

MACON, July 23.—Macon labor union men instead of the customary street parade will have a basket picnic at Lakeside Park on Labor Day. Special trains will be operated to the park.

CHARGES POISON PLOT TO YOUNG WIFE

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the girls say the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo, Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried. "There are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of the mdisappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

63 BODIES IN FACTORY RUINS

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tons of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At 3 o'clock this morning nineteen bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 63, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Forty-four are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

$250,000 if Bartender Holds Job Six Years

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Edward Musse, bartender at a Delaware Water Gap hotel, has fallen heir to $250,000 from a German uncle "providing he stays continuously employed at the position he occupies when he learns that he is heir to my fortune."

To appease the nephew, who is now 24, the uncle provides he may receive $65,000 each year until he reaches the age of 30, when he gets the principal.

A codicil provides if he marries "respectably" before January 1, 1914, he is to receive an additional $14,000 from each of two aunts.

WIFE SLAYER AT LARGE.

COLUMBUS.—Howard King, a negro, who completely severed the head of his wife Saturday night, after having shot a negro man three times, because he had spoken to her, is still at large and absolutely no trace of him can be found.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local thundershowers Wednesday and probably Thursday.

Breakfasters Eat On Calmly as Fire Is Fought in Cafe

Fire which broke out in the ceiling of Durand's Restaurant shortly before 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning failed to take the appetite from a dozen men, who calmly continued eating their breakfast while firemen swarmed the room. Even when the firemen mounted ladders and began hacking at the ceiling the diners were not dismayed.

The fire was of little consequence, the ceiling catching probably from a defective wire near the flue of the warming retainer. The call brought out every central company, though, while a great crowd of early morning workers gathered.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here today.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

U. S. Is Confident of Breaking Film Trust

WASHINGTON, July 23.—It was announced to-day at the Department of Justice that the Government has finished the taking of testimony in the prosecution of the anti-trust suit against the motion Pictures Patent Company, the moving picture trust.

The defendants, twelve of the largest film companies in the world, will present their case the first week in October in the Federal Courts of New York. The Department of Justice is confident of success.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Lima Keeps Lonely Slit Skirt as Curio

LIMA, OHIO, July 23.—In the relic room at police headquarters to-day hangs the first and last slit skirt ever worn in Lima.

Mayor Shook in sentencing Mary Shedrick, the wearer, to pay a fine of $25, ordered the skirt taken from the woman and sent to the dry cleaners. The skirt came back to-day and Chief of Police Earnest ordered it hung in the relic room.

Oriental Fruit Fly Threatens California

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston to-day asked Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for aid in the fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly, which menaces California fruit interests.

He wants Secretary McAdoo to hold in quarantine all passenger vessels entering California ports that officials may examine luggage for fruit bearing the fly.

Austell Thornton Dies at Asheville

ASHEVILLE, July 23.—Austell Thornton, of Atlanta, died at his country home near here at 2 o'clock this morning.

SAYS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN DRINK

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill-treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. Accoding to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

Negro Church Union Holding Convention

The Baptist Young People's Union (negro) is holding its eighteenth annual convention in the Beulah Baptist Church, of which W. F. Paschal is pastor. The Rev. A. W. Bryant, of Savannah, presided, and the vice president of the union, W. A. Flagg, of Macon, conducted the devotionals.

An expression meeting was conducted by Professor J. H. James, A.B., of Central City College.

Further Disorders Feared at Vatican

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, July 23.—Vatican officials fear the Swiss Guards may cause further trouble.

The entire militia on guard to-day was ordere to be prepared to suppress disorders.

SCOUTS NEW 'PROOF' OF DEFENSE

Detective Chief Scoffs at Claim of Evidence That Club Used by Negro Was Found.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil Factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched and found that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that

LANFORD SCOUTS BUDGEON TALE OF DEFENSE

Chief Declares Pinkertons Made No Report of Alleged Fine to Him.

Continued From Page 1.

might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place, it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

"Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Slayer of Feudist Gets Life Sentence

LEXINGTON, July 23.—Andrew Johnson, charged with being one of the men who assassinated Ed Callahan, former noted feudist of the Breathitt County mountains, has been found guilty at Winchester, Ky., and given a life sentence.

Court immediately began the trial of Fletcher Deaton, charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot. Eighteen more will be tried for the actual murder, and twelve others for perjury. These cases are expected to consume five weeks. The feature evidence in each case is that of the woman who traced the murder plots or who heard the conspirators plan the murder.

Widow, 94, Sues for 46 Years' Alimony

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., July 23.—Mrs. Deborah VanNess, of Garden City, 94 years old, has begun suit in the Supreme Court here to collect 46 years' alimony from the estate of her husband, Cornelius VanNess, who died three years ago.

She was granted a divorce from her husband in 1867, and discovered recently that she was allowed $600 a year alimony.

TO-DAY'S MARKET OPENINGS.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	First Call.	Prev. Close.
July	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.30-31
Aug.	11.95	11.95	11.95	11.95	11.91-95
Sept.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.55-57
Oct.	11.51	11.51	11.51	11.51	11.50-51
Nov.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.47-49
Dec.	11.48	11.49	11.48	11.49	11.48-49
Jan.	11.51	11.51	11.51	11.51	11.50-51
Feb.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.46-49
Mch.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.59-61
May	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.65-69

NEW YORK COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	First Call.	Prev. Close.
July	12.16	12.16	12.14	12.14	12.15-16
Aug.	12.00	12.01	12.00	12.01	12.01-02
Sept.	11.68	11.68	11.68	11.68	11.67-69
Oct.	11.45	11.46	11.45	11.46	11.45-46
Nov.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.38-40
Dec.	11.38	11.40	11.37	11.39	11.39-40
Jan.	11.34	11.34	11.34	11.34	11.33-34
Feb.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.34-36
Mch.	11.43	11.43	11.43	11.43	11.41-42
May	11.46	11.46	11.46	11.46	11.43-45

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Futures opened quiet.

	Opening Range	2 P. M.	Prev. Close
July	6.43 -6.44	6.43½	6.47
July-Aug.	6.44½-6.42½	6.43½	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	6.36½-6.35½	6.36	6.39½
Sept.-Oct.	6.22 -6.2	6.21½	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	6.18 -6.16½	6.17½	6.20½
Nov.-Dec.	6.13 -6.12	.....	6.15½
Dec.-Jan.	6.15½	.....	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	6.13 -6.12	6.12½	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	6.14 -6.13½	.....	6.17
Mch.-April	6.05½-6.15	6.15½	6.18
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.19
May-June	6.18	.....	6.20

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Blazers and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldg., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

YOU MAY SAY WHAT YOU LIKE—

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

As "exclusively predicted"—ahem!—in this column of uplift, the bill to compel the reading of the Bible in the common schools of the State was given its coup de grace Tuesday afternoon, when the Senate Committee on Education declined to recommend it for passage.

The bill succeeded in stirring up a lot of hard feeling and a lot of talk, but outside of that amounted to very little.

It now hath gone where the woodbine twineth, and there will be few regrets, in the Legislature, at least.

The membership generally was opposed to it, but rather hated to be forced on record against it. If it had gone to the floor of the Senate, it likely would have been slaughtered, and had it gone to the floor of the House, it certainly would have been.

The average disposition in the General Assembly is to keep religion and politics unmixed as much as possible.

EDITORS READY TO SELECT OFFICERS

Final Business Session of Georgia Weekly Press Association Convenes at LaGrange.

LAGRANGE, July 23.—When the Georgia Weekly Press Association convened for its second day's session this morning at 9:30 o'clock chief interest centered in the election of officers for the ensuing year and the selection of the place for the 1914 meeting. A number of papers will be read at this session.

This afternoon Fuller E. Callaway will tender the party a barbecue. A ball game, automobile drives and other things for the pleasure of the guests are on the program. A banquet to-night by the citizens of LaGrange will be the closing event.

The members of the association returned to LaGrange from West Point late Tuesday afternoon, after a reception at the home of W. Trox Bankston, editor of The West Point Lanett-News, and old old-fashioned Georgia barbecue served on the banks of the Chattahoochee River by the citizens of that city.

A session of the convention was held in the courthouse Tuesday night. Besides routine matters there were interesting papers from a number of the leading members of the association on subjects of live interest to the weekly press of the State.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

MORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

Judge, Not Coroner, Gets Daring Joker

YONKERS, N. Y., July 23.—Passengers on a street car here dove from every available exit when Stanzianno Nazzano, a laborer who sat on a rear seat, absently-mindedly knocked the ashes from his cigar with a stick of dynamite.

He was arrested and fined $20.

WIFE TO ACCUSE ANOTHER OF SHOOTING

Gainesville Bride to Refudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 22.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss eParl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1913 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

HE SAVED 89 LIVES.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 23.—Captain Patrick Grace, 76, who had a record of having saved 89 persons from drowning, is dead at his home in Montgomery.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

WHY, CHARLES ROBBINS!

THOMSON, CONN., July 23.—Nine days after he had been presented with a baby carriage as a premium for getting married, Charles S. Robbins, 60, sued for a divorce.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

"TIGER" GETS NEW TRIAL.

COLUMBUS.—W. A. Waters, a former member of the Columbus police force, convicted of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to six months on the State farm, nas been granted a new trial.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON

For any regularly nominated Candidate in the

BEAUTY CONTEST

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

BANKRUPT SALE

WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES

Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Tweed, etc., $268; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $375; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $68; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $155; Felt, $37; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $998; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Mull, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,329; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $545; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a two-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 615 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee

402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under striot surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha'
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha'," hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pretty. "Denty leddies," dainty ladies.

CICERO OF THE HOUSE LOOKS MAD--BUT ISN'T

Gentleman From Chatham Just Scowls to Make 'Em Sit Up and Take Notice.

Whether Representative Herman Shuptrine, of Chatham, would have preferred to be Demonthenese or Cicero, had he lived away back yonder before Georgia Legislatures were invented, is problematical, but certainly he would have elected to be the greatest orator in his vicinity, just as he is to-day the greatest orator in his vicinity.

When Chuptrine, who also is known in the House as "Souptureen," "Sunshine," and "Baby Mine," is speaking he isn't really half so mad as he looks!

"Shup" just scowls at 'em because he wants 'em to sit up and take notice. As a matter of fact, he is as gentle by nature as a May zephyr, and wouldn't do anything rash in any circumstances.

When Shuptrine speaks, however, he snatches the stars from the heavens, waves vigorously the Star Spangled Banner o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave, leads his audience down by the banks of the Suwanee River, and always winds up in a regular Fourth of July blaze of glory—or words to that effect.

When Shuptrine is under full steam ahead oratorically, the speed limit is off, the town constable doesn't matter, and small persons and pestiferous things will do well to stand from under!

Whether folks love Shuptrine because of his oratory or in spite of it, however, he is popular in the House. Such things as he advocates generally get through. His personal influence is great, because he is recognized as able, clear-headed, well poised, and effective.

In addition to these things no member is more conscientious in his attendance upon the sessions of the House and the committees. The gentleman from Chatham is on three of the most important committees of the House, which is, of course, a substantial evidence of his high standing.

He is a druggist in Savannah, and ranks among the leaders of his profession in Georgia.

He can work hard as well as wave, oratorically, the Starry Banner.

He's liked because, or in spite of, his penchant for Fourth of July speeches.

HERMAN SHUPTRINE.

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF HEIRLOOMS

Georgian Want Ad Reveals Disappearance of Silver Belonging to Miss Barbara Lambdin.

Loss of a package of old and extremely valuable silverware by Miss Barbara E Lambdin, editor of The Missionary Survey, has resulted in a search for two young women who are believed to have picked up the valuables.

The package disappeared several days ago while Miss Lambdin was in the rest room of the Third National Bank Building, and it is believed that two young women who were in the room at the time and who are not employed in the building, walked away with it.

The loss has been attracting attention by the appearance of a unique advertisement in the loss column of The Georgian, reading, "The lady who removed silverware from rest room in the Third National Bank Building will avoid trouble by returning immediately to Room 1405, Third National Bank Building."

The silverware bears the monogram of "C," engraved on it a century ago. The package contained a number of spoons, sugar shells and other pieces. They were heirlooms and highly prized by Miss Lambdin, as they had been used by her great-great-grandparents.

It is probable that arrests will follow unless the silverware is returned, as Miss Lambdin is sure she can identify the young women who were in the rest room.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Government Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Zion City Banishes Pool and 'Movies'

ZION CITY, ILL., July 23.—The young sports and old ones of Zion City hereafter will go to bed without rolling their accustomed series of games of Kelly pool. The other residents of the city will retire without having made their nightly excursion to the moving picture theater.

The City Council, controled by the forces of Overseer Voliva, ordered the theater and the poolroom closed.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral of Mrs. Camelia Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 457 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

Finds Cat, Whiskers And All, Petrified

COTTONWOOD FALLS., KANS., July 23.—While repairing the floor of his house John Mann, a farmer living southeast of here, found a petrified kitten in perfect condition.

The cat weighed five pounds and its body was smooth and hard as though the work of a sculptor. Its tail, feet and ears were intact and there were a few whiskers projecting from the jaws.

Pittsburg Policemen Want to Form Union

PITTSBURG, July 23.—At the suggestion of Joseph G. Armstrong, Director of Public Works, the policemen of Pittsburg are planning to organize.

The new union, if the plans of the movers are successful, will be incorporated under the rules of the American Federation of Labor.

SLIT SKIRT FAD NOT WORRYING OUR MAYOR

"Let 'Em Wear Anything They Want," He Says—"If They Can Stand It, I Can."

SLIT SKIRTS ALL DEPEND ON THE POINT OF VIEW

In Boulder, Colo., the diaphanous "silhouette" skirt may be worn in the shade only.

AND

In Lima, Ohio, this revealing garment of line without substance is absolutely taboo.

BUT

In Atlanta to-day Mayor Woodward averred that the new gown problem was one for women only to decide upon for themselves.

Atlanta will not try to regulate skirts. A spirit of conservatism has marked the police department since the vindication of Miss September Morn, who was discovered in a mountain pool in the show window of Cole's book store.

The skirt question has been before the people ever since Mrs. Adam, more generally known under her maiden name of Eve, first appeared garbed in the foliage of the ancient ficus carica.

There are those who hold the modern tendency is back to the foliage skirt, not the fig leaf, but possibly the leaf of the asparagus fern or other chiffon-like vegetable.

How Other Towns View It.

Miss Mary Lindsay, of Lima, Ohio, the town named after the well known bean, has been arrested because her slit skirt left practically nothing to conjecture.

The Mayor of Boulder, Colo., has issued an order in which he admits that a woman may wear as thin a skirt as her taste and the weaver's art will allow. But he insists that it be worn on the shady side of the street only.

The courts will probably have to decide the course to be taken by a fashionably gowned women when the sun at the zenith illuminates both sides of the street.

"It's Up to Them," Says Mayor.

Mayor James G. Woodward declared that he certainly would not undertake to tell women how to dress.

And the policy of all the members of his administration would be to leave these matters entirely with the women.

"If they can stand it, I can," he said. "It doesn't bother me and I don't think it any business of the police to interfere.

"Whether it's a silhouette skirt or a sheath gown, it's entirely up to them."

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. The Board of Directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentation within a few days.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Eczema, Rheumatism, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the surest and best of drugs, are supplid from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank 16 1-2 North Bread Street, Atlanta, Ga.

AMERICAN FLAG OFFER

SIZE 5X8 FEET

Valued at Five Dollars

for 90 cents

This beautiful American Flag, the very latest, with 48 stars, made of fine bunting.

Cut out Coupon below, and bring to THE HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN Office, with 90 cents, and secure one of these beautiful flags.

THIS COUPON and 90c entitles the holder to an American Flag, 5 feet by 8 feet, when presented at our offices,

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN
THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
20 EAST ALABAMA ST. 35 PEACHTREE ST.

Flags will be mailed at an additional charge of 10c for postage.

Every man is proud to say he is an American, and it is his duty to see that "Old Glory is flung to the breeze" on every appropriate occasion.

See that you have one of these flags at your office or at your home.

Take advantage of this offer.

Hearst's Sunday American
and
Atlanta Georgian

20 East Alabama Street 35 Peachtree Street
ATLANTA, GA.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All he efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours,

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder, then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly: Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

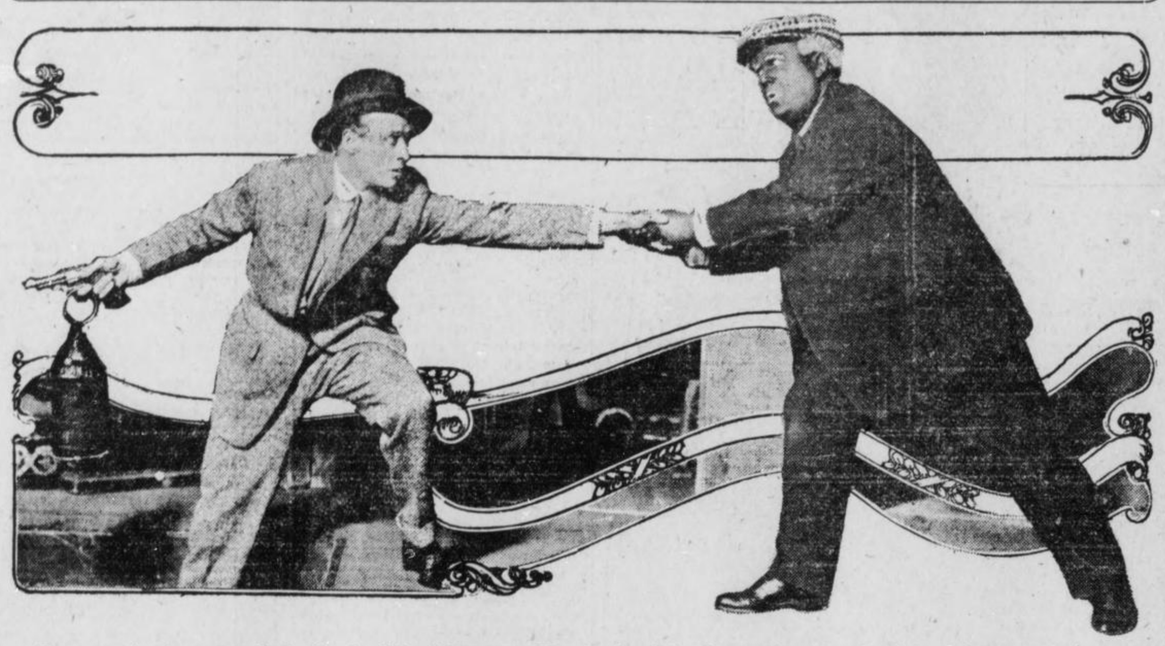
Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers
SHELTON, S. C.
E. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

The Ghost Breaker

By J. W. GODDARD and PAUL DICKEY

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here, Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible and best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.
S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.
ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.
Write for illustrated catalogue.—B. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

A MOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, hats, gloves, little necessities and more follies, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years

$1.95 Postpaid

"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

Dries Hair Quick

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

$1.95 Postpaid 3-Year Guarantee

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.
Western Merchandise & Supply Co.,
Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.
326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, she sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa ,I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.

Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three aiders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop irio symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert, "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science, Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented Girls

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around, I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

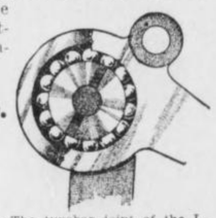
L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.



The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2942

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 22.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Alibi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermann, of the Reds, set a price of $1,800 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's pater owning about three-fourths of the Island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Havin' only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Jungleites can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a lusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1776 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. "Rot about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherwieght champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship, or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan is sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that, if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with manager Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing, Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth, a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb, his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred, and left the baseball yard.
"We can not play against that guy—he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he must hoof it back.
And as he labored down the road a motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats, a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air, he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.

Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.

Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 5, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.469
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	45	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.

Philadelphia 6-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 5-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
C'land.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.

St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.556	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.

Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	31	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.

LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 6, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.

Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.

St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.

Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks per chair;
The champion pug was walloping his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stallin'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest slam and knock the rummy out!"
And soft the champion answers as the mutt he gently pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies, and this fight goes twenty rounds!"

Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed message,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweight championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of our West, as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the finals.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 306 yards into the cup.

International League.

Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

Jake Abel is to retire from the boxing game. This information comes from Max Abelson, borther of the lightweight battler. Jake has been discouraged from his recent knockout at the hands of Charlie White. However, Abel should remember that many other boys have been handed the same dose by the hard-hitting Chicagoan.

* * *

New Orleans boxing fans are picking Yong Denny to defeat "Wildcat" Ferns when the pair clash at the Pelican City on Labor Day. Ferns and Denny met on July 4 in a ten-round mill with the former getting a slight shade. The coming scrap is billed to go twenty rounds.

Johnny Lore, the Eastern lightweight, is hot after a return go with Frankie Russell. The latter was given a knockout decision in twelve rounds over Lore about two weeks ago when Johnny fell out of the ring. The Eastern boy says he will give Russell a neat side bet if he will consent to meet him again and will cut the purse any way suitable to Russell.

* * *

Joe Levy is after a re-match with Champion Ritchie, but if such a proposition is not forthcoming he is willing to send the Mexican against the winner of the Baldwn-Cross fight.

* * *

Sammy Harris, manager of "Kid" Williams will be presented by McCarey with the diamond-studden belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship of the world. Harris says he will keep Williams on a farm until August, when he will start him on his training grind for the Campi bout.

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at Home or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. McWOOLLEY, 24-N, Vicos Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced."
Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Ice for out-of-town customers.
Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH
July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER
Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name S.M.
Beware of counterfeits

Pacific Northwest
offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.
Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.
Excellent Daily Trains
from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.
The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.
Union Pacific
STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST
Heavy double tracks — dustless roadbed — Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.
Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.
A. J. DUTCHER, G. A. 908 Olive Street St. Louis, Mo.
C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A. 620 Woodward Bldg. Birmingham, Ala.
2548

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOOSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 36 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, 1b.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	3	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf...	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

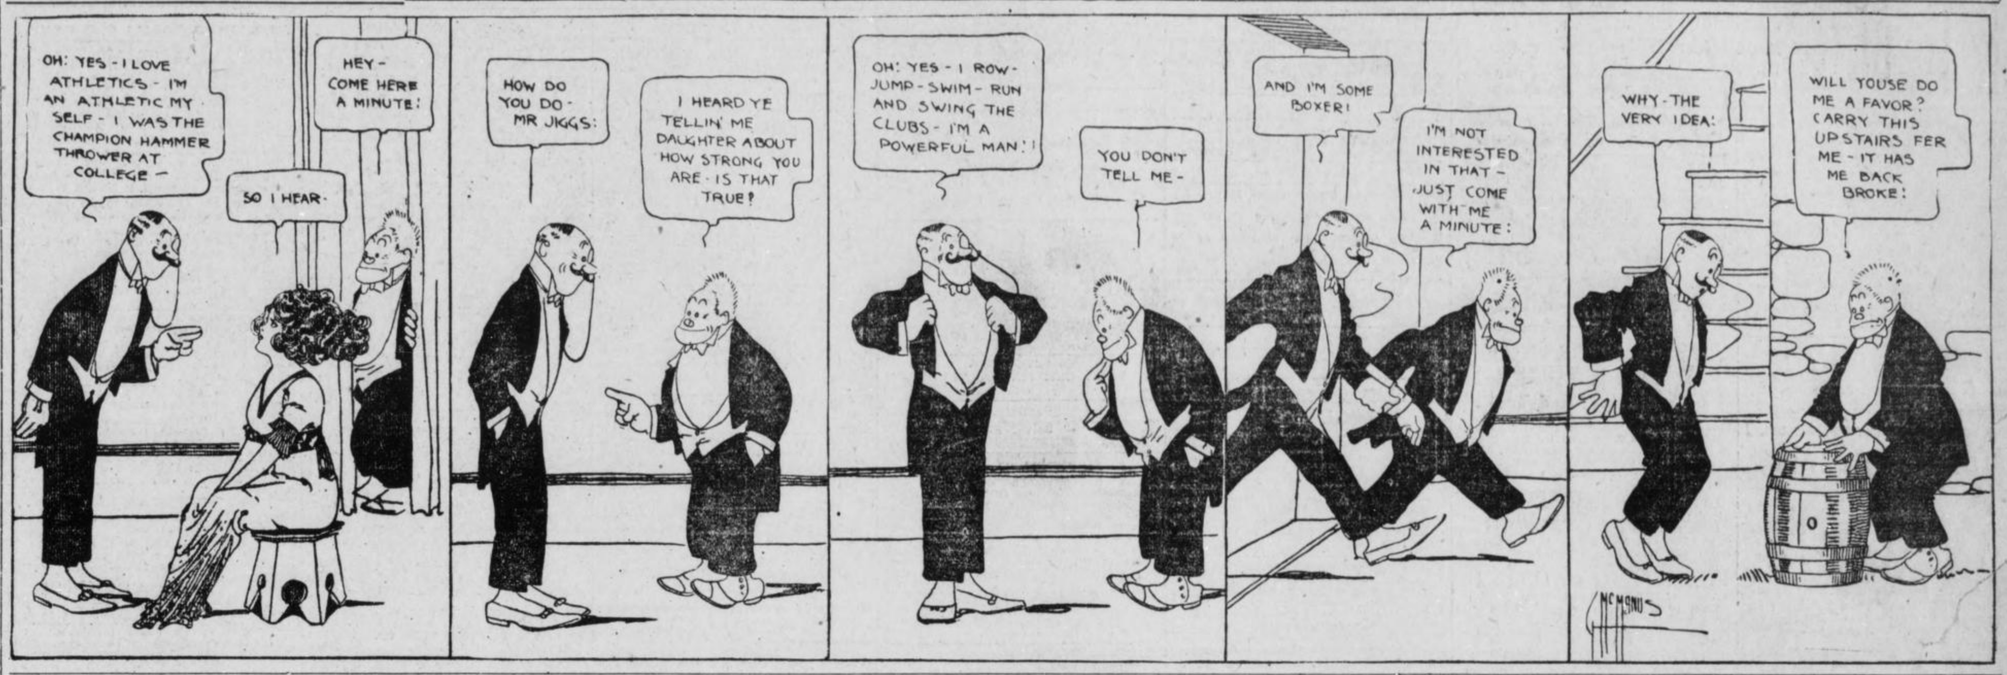
MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great
LES MISERABLES
Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father — By George McManus



Us Boys — Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

Registered United States Patent Office

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Pueblo an.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—It musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs, Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet tonight at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Sperl and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover of South Boston, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders traveling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jack McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 38 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-fought-for honors untilnext year, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the rudest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

ITCHING PILES

Every sufferer from itching piles should read these words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was

Cured by Tetterine

For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure. Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.

50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, get my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 748 M., New York, N. Y.

Big Reduction IN Dental Work

GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.

Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth $
Best That Money Can Buy
We Use the Best Methods of Painless
Atlanta Dental
Cor. Peachtree & De
Entrance 19½ Peachtr

Why Wait For a Soothsayer, Charmer or Wizard,

FURNITURE FOR SALE. FURNITURE FOR SALE.

Walker-Cooley Furniture Company

87-89 S. FORSYTH STREET.
Bell Phone Main 2785.

WE ARE SELLING furniture cheaper for cash than any store in Atlanta, as we are out of the high-rent district. See us before buying.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

YOUNG MAN with thorough knowledge of city, able to handle labor, wants permanent position in any line. Address H., Box 133, care Georgian. 28-16-7

SUPERINTENDENT of building construction or inspector is open for an engagement on any class of building. Address A. C., Box 411, care Georgian. 41-18-7

EXPERIENCED colored man, 32 years old, wants work as janitor or porter. Give good references as to honesty, reliability and habits. No Sunday work. Address L. T. A., 131 Markham Street (rear). 35-18-7

WANTED—Situation as teacher by business department in some high school or college. Have five good typewriters and seven years experience. Address P. O. Box 136, Blue Ridge, Ga. 47-18-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housekeeper in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187, Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

INEXPERIENCED stenographer desires position at once. Call Ivy 2782-L. 36-18-7

WANTED—Position by good, experienced nurse; special for sick babies. 256 Houston street. 40-18-7

WANTED—Position by young lady stenographer; have had three years' experience. Am at present employed, but desire to change. Call Main 3567-J. 28-18-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Drophead, new style, standard make sewing machine, in good condition. State lowest price. Address Sewing Machine, Box 725, care Georgian. 7-20-18

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE,"
166 Decatur Street.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-36

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Year-old fox terrier, view camera, Barred Rock cockerel; desire a tent, Perfection oil stove or bicycle. Tent, Box 63, care American. 7-20-7

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 3-26-31

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.
SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-391

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS
While You Wait.
Sanford Decarbonizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP,
275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

BABCOCK Electric Victory; good batteries; new tires, new inner tubes, newly painted, brand-new charging outfit; all in first-class condition and all for $400 if taken next week. 452 Central Ave. M. 157-J. 56-20-7

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4822. 26 James Street. 3-1-84

WINDSHIELDS,
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1913 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1913 model, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Bowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

STUDEBAKER
SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $650. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-350

COLUMBUS Electric Coupe. New chains and sprockets; battery just rebuilt and entire car refinished by John M. Smith. Will sell at a bargain, with one year guarantee.
LOT 90x1,300 feet on Marietta car line, near Smyrna. Sold 18 months ago for $1,500. Will trade $750 equity for automobile.
FIRESTONE-COLUMBUS SO. CO.,
45 Auburn ave. Phone Ivy 4177. 7-16-36

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leaks and all punctures up to 3/8 penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 35% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-4-1

CLEARANCE SALE
OF
GOOD USED CARS.
Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:
Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.
If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
241 PEACHTREE STREET.

Tire Repairing.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS
Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.
WE USE OXYGEN
No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.
A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.
It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.
Atlanta Welding Co.
Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

LONGEST TUNNEL

THE longest tunnel in the world is the Simplon, which is twelve and one-half miles long. It took eight years to complete, at a cost of nearly $20,000. The tunnel gives France and Switzerland direct communication with Milan.

Many people are still under the impression that the Gothard tunnel is the longest, but, as a matter of fact, the Simplon tunnel is one-fourth more in length than the St. Gothard, and nearly twice the length of the Mont Cenis.

ANOTHER INTERESTING FACT TO-MORROW

BUSINESS GUIDE

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell Street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-2-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK.
Corner Alabama and Broad Streets.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Baseball Score.

PLAY — Baseball scores given by innings at 77 Peachtree Street. You will find the standing of all the leagues. — BALL

Butter.

BIG "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches at all founts. 7-20-59

Bread.

EAT MILKMAID BREAD; the best.

Carpenter and Builder.

FLY—SCREENS—FLY
COME see our roll-away screen, our roller-bearing screen, our sliding screen; none better. It will pay you to see our goods and get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1819. Porter Screen Company. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 6-12-13

ALL KINDS OF REPAIR WORK.
D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St.
Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Fly Screens.

SPECIAL SALE on fly screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-58

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.
METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
62 N. Pryor St. Bell Phone Ivy 4203. 7-10-10

Furniture.

SPECIAL SALE on screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn. Ivy 4467. 7-20-57

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta. Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-4-13

Furniture Upholstering.

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO.
Satisfaction guaranteed. Main 5111, Atlanta 5950-F. 6-16-25

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta Street. Atlanta 3567. 6-7-29

Gas Stoves and Cookers.

THE PORTABLE OIL GAS STOVE.
The ideal steam cookers—assorted. Reduce fuel bill and labor 75 per cent. R. B. Henry, General Agent, 269 Washington St. Bell Main 307-J. Agents wanted. 7-18-16

Jewelry.

WATCHES, Diamonds, Jewelry, Eye Glasses, Spectacles sold on the "divided payment" plan to reliable persons.
BANTA-COLE CO.
5 SOUTH BROAD STREET. 6-26-3

Keys.

KEYS MADE CHARLES L. REEVES, 13½ S Broad Street. Main 885. 7-1-44

Lace Curtains.

WORK called for and delivered; satisfaction guaranteed; prices, 25c to 50c per pair. Call Atlanta phone 2641. 6-2-13

Lighting Fixtures.

ELECTRIC and gas fixtures; all new styles; lowest prices. Queen Mantel and Tile Company, 56 West Mitchell Street. Phone Main 681. 1-16-16

Lime, Concrete, Roofing, Stone.

LADD LIME AND STONE COMPANY.
Lime, concrete and roofing stone. 915 3d Nat. Bank Bldg. 2-3-50

Mattress Renovating.

SANITARY MATTRESS RENOVATING—Factory new and up-to-date; moderate prices; give us a trial. Jackson & Orr Company, Means Street and W. & A. R. R. Both phones. 3-20-14

Machine Works.

SKIP—KNOCK—JUMP
CARBON.
CAMP cleans perfectly while you wait. A great thing for trucks. Try it.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP
275 Marietta Street. Main 2937. 7-8-29

New Rubber Tires.

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Ave. 2-13-9

Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON does all kinds of repair work. Painting and tinting a specialty. Bell phone West 1288-J. 397 W. Fair St. 6-22-137

Peanut Butter.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-46

Peanuts.

GET Big "4" Salted Peanuts at all founts. 7-20-50

Phenoline.

A DISINFECTANT, deodorant and germicide; destroys chicken mites and all kinds of insects. Phenoline Co., 106-A Edgewood Avenue. Main 2317, Atlanta 3038-A. 6-11-28

Picnic Lunches.

GET MILKMAID BREAD at all groceries. 7-20-68

Peanut Sandwiches.

EAT Big "4" Salted Peanuts, the Best. 7-20-48

Refrigerator.

SAVE MONEY on refrigerators at R. F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-11

Royal Typewriters For Rent.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 North Pryor Street. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

Sandwiches.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-51

Safe Cracksman.

FIRE and burglar-proof safes opened and repaired. C. C. Downes, 29½ Marietta Street. Phones M. 2146, Atlanta 4922. 6-5-11

Sewing Machines.

WE RENT new machines with complete set of attachments for $2 per month; also machines repaired; prompt delivery. Both phones 1893. Singer Sewing Machine Company, 79 Whitehall. 9-14-44

Signs.

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780 8-18-33

KENT ON SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

Stove and Range Repairing.

STOVE DOCTOR.
STOVE, range and furnace repairing. 61 South Pryor Street. Bell Phone Main 1460. Atlanta phone 1410. 4-10-10

DAN, THE FIXER.
STOVES AND REFRIGERATOR REPAIRING.
We sell second-hand gas stoves.
We sweep chimneys.
121 WHITEHALL STREET.
Atlanta phone 2235. Bell phone M. 2699.

Tailors.

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-24

Trunks, Bags and Suitcases.

RETAILED AND REPAIRED.
ROUNTREE'S, 77 WHITEHALL ST.
PHONES: Bell M. 1576. Atlanta 1654.

Umbrellas.

"Taylor-Made" UMBRELLAS
BUY from makers—All prices from $1.00 up, with detachable handles. Guaranteed and kept in repair free. Expert repairing.
TAYLOR UMBRELLA CO.,
116½ Whitehall St. 4-23-3

Window and Housecleaning.

NATIONAL Window Cleaning Co., 47 E. Hunter St. Main 1175, Atlanta 1051. 7-2-42

EVERY DAY is a good day to read the Want Ads in The Atlanta Georgian.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Ducks.

FOR SALE—Ten White Indian Runners, eight females; fine birds; price $12.50 for lot. See them quick. 51 Oglethorpe Avenue. 47-20-7

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Rhode Island Reds.

WANTED—One Rose Comb R. I. Red cockerel; utility, but pure-bred. Price? M. V. Calvin, 21 Howard Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 71-20-7

100 HEAD S. C. Rhode Island Red hens and pullets, all thoroughbred; at $1 each. B. R. Leggett, Broxton, Ga. 38-20-7

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $20 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

THE READING OF WANT ADS in Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian means money to you.

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW,
GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

FOR SALE—Magnificent registered Jersey heifer, 18 months old, due to calve December. Address H. P. L., No. 401 Peters Building, Atlanta. 29-18-7

FORTUNES have been made in Atlanta Real Estate. Your opportunity is probably to-day. Read Real Estate ads in "Want Ad" section of The Georgian.

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—A fine mare; will work anywhere. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-13-9

HORSES AND VEHICLES.

Splendid runabout for sale. Cheap for cash. Apply at Room 201 Equitable Building.
Thoroughbred buggy horse for sale; will work anywhere. Rides the five gaits. Apply Room 201 Equitable Building. 92-20-7

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BOTH PHONES 2568.
OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

AUNT PATSY MASH FEED $2.75 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

LAY-OR-BUST MASH FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RED COMB PIGEON FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RICE SPECIAL CHICK FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

ALFALFA MEAL $2.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

SWIFT'S MEAT SCRAPS $3.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

GUARANTEED CHARCOAL $2.50 per 100 pounds, 50 pounds $1.25.

THE GEORGIAN'S RENT BULLETIN

ROOMS AND BOARD.

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-16

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3878-J. 7-21-8

NICE ROOMS with board or table board. 69½ East Alabama St. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

AT 513 PEACHTREE, a tea room and dining room open to public; patronage solicited. 80-20-7

COOL ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.00; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-83

FOR SALE—Kindergarten table, five chairs and some material for work; very reasonable. Call Ivy 3534-J. 7-20-17

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.09; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-33

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES! Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

A VERY sweet toned Kranich & Bush piano; great bargain. Address J. R. S., Box 214, care Georgian. 100-20-7

DIAMOND FOR SALE.
Will sell a beauty in a solitaire diamond. Will trade this stone for Travelers Bank stock, Universal Ice Company, deposits of the City Savings Bank, time deposits of any good bank in Georgia; or, good commercial paper. "Diamond," Box 205, care Georgian. 91-20-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree, Apartment 5. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—One Premo camera, 5 by 7, and developing outfit; first $15 gets it. A. L. Quinn, 759 Whitehall Street. 73-20-7

FOR SALE—Diamond ring, about ¾ carat, pure white and perfect, for only $37.50; worth $60. Bargain. Call at 413 Peters Building. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-65

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

PEARS FOR SALE (CHEAP)—Sand pears, better known as LeContes. Will sell in barrel lots only. Joseph Fleischman, Hawkinsville, Ga. 7-20-8

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

FURNITURE and carpets for sale cheap; also piano for sale or rent, for use of it. Ivy 4809-J. 7-20-32

BROILERS
35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

What will you give for three hundred shares of the Universal Ice Company stock? Make me very best offer. Will trade this stock for land or purchase money notes. Universal, Box 508, care Georgian. 85-20-7

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Nice new furniture cheap at 118 West Pine street. 31-18-7

WHOLE and one-half return tickets to Jacksonville, Fla., will sell cheap. Phone Main 4472. 44-18-7

FOR SALE—Floor showcase, cigar wall case and small soda fountain. 141 South Pryor street. 7-18-8

ONE seven-passenger Pope-Toledo, one Cadillac car, one mule, one horse for sale cheap. 295 Cooper Street. 35-7-7

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street. 7-20-73

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.
4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.
Rebuilt typewriters, $22 to $75.
American Writing Machine Co.
48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 1-2-7

ROOMS AND BOARD.

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-39

WANTED—Two or three young men boarders; large front room; private home, Inman Park. Phone Ivy 6867-L. 7-20-47

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue.

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

TWO beautifully furnished rooms for couple or young men; day boarders wanted. 43 W. Peachtree. Ivy 2160. 7-14-7

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 2666-J. 7-17-2

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-15-34

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

WANTED—Board and room; refined private home. Upper Peachtree. Woman and son. Permanent. Address K. A. B., Box 848, care American. 66-20-7

SUMMER RESORTS.

WHY STAY IN THE CITY and burn up with Oak Grove at your door, 'the Cool Off Place," on Tallulah Falls Ry. Sleep under cover at night. T. M. Fodrill, Turnerville, Ga. 35-22-7

WANTED—A few boarders for the rest of the summer at a nice, quiet country home, surrounded by large oaks; good country fare; all modern conveniences; less than quarter of mile from station. Rates $5 to $8 per week. Special rates for children. Address Mrs. W. S. Paris, Oak Mount, Clayton, Ga. 39-20-7

WILTON LODGE,
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Tallulah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-23

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room $2.75 weekly. 31 Hood street, near Mitchell. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-87

FURNISHED ROOMS.
Furnished room, overlooking Piedmont Park; private home; permanent; suitable for two young men; steam heated, electric light, bath. 139 East Tenth street. Ivy 6164. 95-20-7

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-73

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3041. 7-20-60

NICELY furnished rooms, with bath, cool, comfortable and cozy. Six minutes walk from Five Points. Phone Ivy 2295. 82-20-7

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street, West 209. 7-20-30

ROOMS, with conveniences, at 56 Williams Street. Phone Ivy 3365-J. 7-20-44

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4138-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.60. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

COOL front room, bath on each floor; near in. 11 Cone street. 39-16-7

FURNISHED rooms at 319 North Jackson street. Phone Ivy 3605. 7-18-14

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

NICELY furnished rooms and board at 503 Washington; gentlemen preferred 27-18-7

ROOMS, furnished; board if desired; nice bath and phone furnished. Call Atlanta 4810. 7-18-2

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-6

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 361 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 107 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-18-25

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-35

ONE large front room furnished for light housekeeping, with gas range, $2.50 per week. 18 Woodward avenue. 7-18-5

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 23 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Board if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 5 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THREE furnished second-floor rooms, convenient for housekeeping; private bath. No children. Main 4347-J. 7-18-21

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS
(Next door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-2-36

FOUR gentlemen can have two cool, bright rooms, private bath, $5, or couple can rent them very cheap, unfurnished; near Piedmont Park. Ivy 7491-J. 7-16-34

TWO nicely furnished front rooms for housekeeping, one front bed room, private entrance; dressing room; connecting bath; good bargain. 290 Washington. 7-18-29

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences; also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558-J. Furnished rooms and furnished three-room apartments; close in, with all conveniences. 7-16-10

ONE FRONT ROOM; P

When One of Our Want Ads Will Stir Up a Blizzard

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

$8,400 with which to buy purchase money notes, either first or second mortgages. Money in hand. No delay. Would lend on some good stocks. "Loan," Box 102, care Georgian. 93-20-7

STOCKS AND BONDS.

WILL BUY real estate direct from owners in exchange for 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of a large established corporation. Address P. C., Box 851, care American. 7-20-67

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

$1,250 WANTED on high-class property in West End section. Offer, P. O. Box 441, Atlanta. 7-18-18

ESTABLISHED 1888.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS
In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President.
3-11-50

WE HAVE six high-class loans, twelve fifty, fifteen hundred and seventeen fifty. Will pay 8 per cent. West End, P. O. Box 441. 7-18-19

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Cole Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 60c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

YOU ARE looking for a position, aren't you, or you would not be reading these ads? Perhaps the position you are looking for is not to be found advertised today. Then why not spend a few cents advertising for a position in the "Situation Wanted" columns of this paper tomorrow? There is no need of your walking around in the hot sun or rain, letting your brain go to rust as well as worrying yourself sick looking for a good position when a "Situation Wanted" ad in The Georgian will do the searching for you. An ad in this paper will cost you only a few cents to run several times and relieve your mind of a heavy load. Try it and see.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

WANTED—A partner for established branch agency to handle inside end. This is a money maker and exceptional opportunity. Address Salesman, Box 482, care Georgian. 7-20-89

YOUNG MAN of exceptional business ability will invest with services $2,000 to $4,000 in good going concern. Address J. M. B., Box 854, care American. 72-20-7

LIVE opportunity for a live man with moderate capital. Enterprise of exceptional merit; big future and fortune for the right man. Handle your own money. Strictest investigation invited. Address Quick Results, Box 852, care American. 70-20-7

IF YOU want to buy a business of any kind it will be to your interest to examine our listings. Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building. 7-20-64

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

FOR SALE—FURNITURE AND FURNISHINGS of ten-room house, close in, on North Side. Lease on house at cheap rent; nice place to run boarding house or rent rooms. Price $500, terms of $100 cash and balance monthly. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

LARGE CORPORATION requires the services of man in each locality to manage branch office; make $5,000 yearly; investment of $100 necessary; send 10 cents stamps for contract and particulars. Guaranty Collection Company, Dept. 11, Potts Camp, Miss. 28-20-7

QUESTION—If you have read this, is it not reasonable to suppose others will read your ad in this paper if you want anything?

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-1

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—$600 cash, balance monthly (price $1,200), buys old-established and beautifully equipped SODA WATER, CIGAR, CONFECTIONERY and MILK DEPOT business, on prominent corner; thickly populated, high-class residence section; average daily sales about $25; rent only $40 for store room and eight-room house in connection; a good opportunity in this line. Some terms considered. YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

IF YOU WANT to sell your business, no matter where located, need partner or additional capital, see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building, Atlanta. "We can sell any business that has merit." 7-20-45

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—SODA WATER, CIGAR and LUNCH business in heart of city, on terms of $150 cash, balance monthly, or will trade $400 equity for vacant lot, automobile or anything of value. Purchaser to assume $650 due on fount, payable monthly; big bargain; act quick. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
One year, mail, postage prepaid, $5.00
Six months, mail, postage prepaid, 2.50
Three mos., mail, postage prepaid, 1.25
One month, mail, postage prepaid, .45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
Delivered by carrier, one year..... $5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months.. 2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months.. 1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month .... .46
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week 10

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN.

$5,000 to lend on Atlanta real estate. Will lend in $1,000 denominations or any multiple. No red tape or delay. "Money," Box 300, care Georgian. 50-20-7

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

EAT Milk Maid Bread, the Best. 7-20-70

LOANS $25.00 AND UP
On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.
AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.
GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440.
7-17-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA BUNGALOW for sale; best section Inman Park; beautiful porch, built-in bookshelves, large open fireplace. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

A first-class little piece of property, always rented, near Fair Street School and Hunter street, can be bought on good terms. Now rented for $15 per month. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 87-20-7

CENTER HILL HOME.

Will sell, on good terms, a home at Center Hill—only short distance from the car line—large lot. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 89-20-7

FOR SALE—Cottage of five rooms and bath; near one of Atlanta's best schools. 259 East North Ave., or call Ivy 6648-L. 96-20-7

PEACHTREE ROAD HOME.

Near Seventeenth street, brand-new home; everything modern; large lot. Will sell this home on good terms, or will trade it for good income-paying property. Immediate possession. "Peachtree Road," Box 108, care Georgian.

FOR SALE—Five-room bungalow on Third avenue, Lakeview; lot 50 by 190, in six blocks of East Lake, $2,250; terms. W. M. Butler, Third Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 41-20-7

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park, Johns College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Eli," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

TRUCK FARM.

SIX MILES of center of city; 14 acres in high state of cultivation; four acres good bottom land; one 5-room and one 3-room house; running water; all kinds of fruits; right at railroad stop and near car line. Bargain at $3,000, on good terms. See YOUNG & GOODROE, 413 Peters Bldg. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-66

FOR SALE—By owner, lot near East Lake, facing car line; 75 feet front; tile walks; within 400 feet of water main; sewerage touches back of lot; $500; easy terms. Address Perry, Box 847, care Georgian. 7-20-18

THIS is an age of suburban residences. Then why not buy you a lot out in beautiful Clairemont Park, North Decatur? Buy now while the price is low. Easy terms. L. P. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

FOR SALE—Ten-room house on North Moreland Avenue; $500 less than market value. Leaving city reason for selling. Address B. K., Box 222, care Georgian. 7-17-16

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 280, near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

A REAL BARGAIN, North Side bungalow, seven rooms and sleeping porch, all screened, furnace heated, double floors and storm-sheathed. Large basement with servant's room. Front yard nicely sodded. Ivy 5974. 26-18-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.

THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.

ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.

36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHY NOT BUY you a lot out in beautiful Peachtree Highlands on the car line to Brookhaven? Property values in this section are sure to enhance rapidly and the environments are all that could be desired. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

TWENTY (20) acres land at Norcross, Ga., four blocks from depot; nineteen miles from Atlanta; all in cultivation and fruit trees. No houses. Offer for $1,250, one-fourth cash, balance three years, 8% interest. Public schools and churches. Address Box 56, Lavonia, Ga. 7-19-33

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

LIST your property with L. P. Bottenfield—the man that sells. 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. Lynch & Bell, Sale Managers. 7-20-12

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

BARTER AND EXCHANGE.

I have a big tract of acreage, only two miles from the city limits, as well as twenty thousand dollars worth of property in the city, that I will exchange for a big piece of central property, or semi-central. I want some land in the deal, or will take two or three pieces. "Realty," Box 402, care Georgian. 88-20-7

NEW six-room bungalow to exchange for vacant lots, negro property preferred. Bell phone 298 Decatur. 54-20-7

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 409 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-29

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—Six or seven-room bungalow in Inman Park, on North Side. Can pay about $4,000. Have some cash. Prefer to deal with owner or would like to rent bungalow in West End Park. Henry, Box 10, care American. 7-20-77

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell. 114 Candler Building. 6-26-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHITEHALL STREET
AT $200 FRONT FOOT

RIGHT near the corner of Whitehall and McDaniel Streets, where property is selling for $350 per foot, we have for a few days only, 60 feet frontage at the above ridiculously low price. No loan. Will trade for good renting property.

THE BEST BUY ON THE STREET.

ADAIR & HOLT, Real Estate and Loans
97½ PEACHTREE ST. PHONE Ivy 10.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy teams. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h.,	138 Hill		$25.00
6-r. h.,	196 Crumley		25.00
6-r. h.,	Washington street, East Point		20.00
6-r. h.,	15 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood.		22.50
6-r. h.,	575 Edgewood avenue		27.50
6-r. h.,	88 Lucile avenue, furnished		45.00
6-r. h.,	58 Dunn		26.30
6-r. h.,	369 Cherokee, apartment, furnished		35.00
6-r. h.,	108 Mansfield		25.00
6-r. h.,	20 Clifford		25.00
6-r. h.,	309 Moreland avenue		40.00
6-r. h.,	Harwell and Malden lane		20.00
6-r. h.,	180 Cameron		18.60
6-r. h.,	140 Drexel		25.00
6-r. h.,	12 Howard		22.50
6-r. h.,	47 Drewry		30.00
6-r. h.,	21 Park street, Oakhurst		22.50
6-r. h.,	Hardee street		15.00
6-r. h.,	32 Olympic place, Decatur		27.50
6-r. h.,	13 Haynes		12.00
6-r. h.,	52 Druid circle		30.00
6-r. h.,	12 Clifford		27.50
6-r. h.,	1170 DeKalb avenue		30.00
6-r. h.,	401 E. Fair street		30.00
5-r. h.,	124 Hill		25.00
5-r. h.,	23 Summit		17.50
5-r. h.,	90 Glenwood		15.60

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

16-r. h.,	45-47 E. Mitchell St....	$ 65.00
10-r. h.,	20 Ponce DeLeon.....	125.00
9-r. h.,	93 Capitol Sq., Aug. 13.	75.00
9-r. h.,	18 Baltimore Block....	$40.00
8-r. h.,	62 Alta Ave.....	40.00
8-r. h.,	417 Piedmont Ave.....	32.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

A. J. MAYFIELD
REAL ESTATE AND RENTING.
49 S. Pryor St.

WANTED—VACANT HOUSES.
I HAVE a constant demand for large and small houses, white and colored, which I am unable to fill. If you have anything vacant, list it with me. Call, write or phone.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS

THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.

IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.

FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Summer Prices Now Prevail

ON EAST ATLANTA REAL ESTATE—We offer ten nice cottages and forty beautiful vacant lots. Terms and prices to suit you. See us early and get the pick.
Also a few houses to rent.

MARBUT & MINOR
Bell Phone Main 9211. Atlanta Phone 3102-A.

WANTED---NORTH SIDE BUNGALOW

WE HAVE a customer for a North Side bungalow, six to seven rooms in size, and preferably on a large lot. Will pay $5,000 to $7,000, with substantial cash payment.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

Monarch Auto Oil

THE BEST at any price. Delivered to your address with faucet in barrels and half-barrels. We keep our customers supplied with Monarch Puncture Stopper FREE. Will preserve inner tube and tire.

Monarch Oil Co.
217-218 Temple Court. Phone Main 2974.

J. W. DOBBINS & CO.
312 PETERS BUILDING. BELL PHONE M. 2126

$6,000—MORELAND AVENUE bungalow, six rooms, furnace, oak floors, servant's room, attractive and up to date, east front lot 50x225.

$5,250—SEVEN-ROOM cottage with large hall and attic; all conveniences, east front lot 55x220, lots of fruit, grapes, etc. Garage with electric lights, everything for good home.

$4,500—JUST OFF Piedmont avenue, new 5-room house and 4 acres with creek in rear, good proposition.

$3,200—STORE and five rooms on Marietta street.

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1598.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.

JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 95 by 266; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most jam-up place in West End for sale.

LEE STREET COTTAGE.

SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME

NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

FOR SALE
JOHN J.
WOODSIDE

FOR SALE—SUNSET AVE. COTTAGE. (Near Simpson St.).
Good five-room home. Has gas, bath and city improvements. In good condition. Terms easy. Price only $2,350. Easy. Price only $2,350.
THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager.
12 "Real Estate Row."

Myrtle Street Bungalow---$6,000

6 LARGE ROOMS and hallway; all conveniences; well arranged; elevated lot; in a splendid neighborhood and convenient to Tenth Street School. Can make you reasonable terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.

ON a splendid elevated lot on Georgia avenue, right at Grant Park, 5 large rooms; all conveniences; well arranged; $500 cash and the balance easy. This is in the most desirable section of the South Side.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

Home Bargains

$5,500—BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW, six rooms, hardwood floors, furnace, etc. It is a real bargain and a dandy home sure. We can arrange terms to suit your pocket. Remember, they are right near corner Ponce DeLeon Avenue and North Boulevard.

$5,000—ANOTHER SWELL, six-room bungalow; hardwood floors, and furnace, sleeping porch. You will look a long time before you find a single little home in a class with either of these. Now this is right at Atkins Park, 300 feet of Highland Avenue car line. You may name your terms. $500 cash.

MARTIN-OZBURN REALTY CO.
Third National Bank Bldg. Phones: Ivy 1276; Atlanta 208.

Central Property to Exchange

WE CAN EXCHANGE a small lot on Cone street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers, and at the price at which it can be bought should yield handsome profits.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
130 PEACHTREE STREET.
IVY 1513. Atlanta 2865.

BEN GRAHAM CO.
318-319 EMPIRE BUILDING. MAIN 4376.

PEACHTREE ROAD—Some of the prettiest lots on the road. We would like to exchange for some renting property or a nice North Side home.

TWO North Georgia farms on W. of A. Railway, to exchange for city renting property.

BEAUTIFUL LAKEVIEW, two-story, eight-room house; large corner lot, 100 by 190 to 20-foot alley. This has a lovely oak grove and is in fine neighborhood. Price $3,200, on very easy terms.

W. M. JEFFRIES AND R. W. PARRIS, Salesmen.

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Viaduct Is Wanted For Spring Street

Old Agitation To Be Renewed. Brown Building Changes—Home for Druid Hills.

Things are shaping up in such a way, say well-informed real estate men, that remarkable developments may be expected shortly on the west side of the city. A good deal has been said of late about railroad operations, the proposed Bleckley plaza, which will extend to Forsyth street, and of proposed manufactories along railroad rights of way. Now comes the announcement that the Spring street viaduct project has been revived.

A well-known citizen is telling his friends that he will make the race for council with the Spring street viaduct as one of his platform planks.

A survey of the ground necessary for this improvement was made by Captain R. M. Clayton, Chief of Construction, and the idea is for the south end of the bride to strike Madison avenue.

There has been a growing tendency to bring the Terminal Station nearer the center of the city and nearer the Union Station, and advocates of the Spring street viaduct anticipate that such an improvement will contribute largely to this affect. The Bleckley Plaza would also serve this end.

The Spring street bridge would be several hundred feet long and the idea would be to make it uniform in height with the other viaducts. The Forsyth street bridge is now highest, with the Broad and Whitehall structures about on a line.

Brown Building Alterations.

The block of buildings of the Joseph E. Brown Company, on the north side of Wall street, opposite the Union Depot, is undergoing repairs to cost about $500, the metal cornices having been condemned by Building Inspector Hays. The old cornices will be replaced with brick and cement.

To Build in Druid Hills.

Charles T. Hopkins, the well-known attorney, will soon sell his home at 403 North Boulevard, it was learned Tuesday, and will erect a handsome home in Druid Hills. The Hopkins home is one of the oldest in the neighborhood, and is located on a lot 150 by 160 feet. It is at the corner of Angier avenue.

Loan Money at 7 Per Cent.

There is no lack of loan money at 7 per cent on all kinds of Atlanta property, according to S. B. McKinney, of the loan department of the Edwin P. Ansley Real Estate Agency.

"Real estate is the best security for money," declared Mr. McKinney, "and I would loan on any kind of Atlanta property that was worth anything. We are getting money regularly from several States of the Union, and this looks like a good sign to me. Frequently the loan agents don't recommend loans on anything except central and semi-central property, but I consider the suburban property around Atlanta splendid security."

To Fix Price for Floors.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company are meeting Tuesday afternoon to fix a price on four floors of the chamber home at the southeast corner of North Pryor street and Auburn avenue, a request for such a price having come from the committee looking for a site for the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association exhibit building. Real estate men are watching the outcome with interest, inasmuch as the building will be a distinct addition to whatever district it adorns.

Application for Dormitory.

An application was filed Tuesday with Building Inspector Hays for a permit to build a three-story dormitory for the Marist College on the east side of Ivy street, near Peachtree, at a cost of $40,000. The Mackle-Crawford Construction Company have the contract.

Plans for Exhibit Building.

Among the propositions for a site for the permanent exhibit building of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association is one by L. O. Turner, the well-known real estate man, who would locate this structure on the west side of South Pryor street, 95 feet south of East Mitchell street. The lot is 105 by 185 feet, and a client of Mr. Turner's would sell it for $80,000, on terms acceptable to the Chamber of Commerce.

J. R. Smith's proposition was to erect a $100,000 building at the northwest corner of Bartow and Walton streets on a lot fronting 100 feet on Walton and 95 feet on Bartow. Mr. Smith and associates would lease this property ten years at $18,000 a year, payable $1,500 monthly, with an option to purchase at the end of a year for $185,000. A loan of about $75,000 would have to be assumed and five annual notes of $17,000 would be given at 6 per cent, $25,000 to be cash.

East Lake Sales.

J. W. Dobbins & Co. report the sale of three building lots in the subdivision of the East Lake Drive, Land and Improvement Company for an aggregate of about $2,100. These are in block 2 and just off Lakeview drive. Several new homes are going up in this subdivision.

Mims Parcel Brings $10,937.

W. N. Gary has bought from the estate of Sue Harper Mims, through the L. C. Green Realty Company, a 60 by 145 foot lot on Peachtree Circle, in Ansley Park, for $10,937. This is known as lot 2 of block 13.

Resume Healey Work.

Work was again taken up Tuesday on the Healey Building, following a ten-day strike, and prospects point to satisfactory progress from now on. The Healey lost 60 days at the start because her giant cranes failed to arrive, and thus fell far behind the Hurt Building and the Winecoff Hotel. The latter are due to be completed October 1, but the Healey Building will not be ready for tenants until after January 1, 1914.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$28,000—James T. Williams et al. to Williams-Hartsock Company, lot 55 by 195 feet, west side West Peachtree street, 218 feet south of West Third street. February 5.

$6,715—Charles B. Wallace to R. H. Caldwell, Jr., and Miss Emily E. Mills, lot 53 by 200 feet, southwest corner Gordon and Peeples streets. July 2.

$800—White Provision Company to Ware & Harper, lot 80 by 100 feet, west side Garibaldi street, 80 feet south of Eades street, seven-eighths interest. April 11.

$60—Atlanta Cemetery Association to William V. Sloan, lot 79, block 6, Atlanta Park Cemetery. July 17.

$60—Same to same, lot 78, block 6, same cemetery. April 16.

$2,350—Lula H. Callaway to Goldberg & Klein, lot 32 by 90 feet, south side Woodward avenue, 126 feet east of Fraser street. December 9, 1910.

$1 and Other Consideration—W. R. Doyle and Mary V. Jones to E. S. Kelley, No. 230 Greensferry avenue, 56 by 115 feet. January 6.

$1,350—E. S. Kelly to Dora Giles, same property. June 4.

$1,250—West End Park Company to M. G. Norris, lot 178 by 62 feet, west side Ontario avenue, south side Stokes avenue, 150 feet north of South Gordon street. July 18.

$150—J. J. West to Mrs. Frank Gallagher, lot 57 by 190 feet, on Virginia avenue, land lot 130. July 14.

Warranty Deeds.

$6,500—Mrs. Lucile C. Christian to I. H. Morehead, Jr., lot 50 by 150 feet, east side Pryor street, 190 feet north of Georgia avenue. July 16.

Love and Affection—A. D. Morrison to Mrs. A. B. Morrison, Nos. 55 and 57 Crew street, 44 by 100 feet, March 18.

$150—Elizabeth Pennington to C. L. DeFoor, lot 50 by 173 feet, north side Princeton avenue, 750 feet west of east line of land lot 192. July 19.

$875—J. F. Mayfield to H. G. White, lot 50 by 182 feet, east side Howell Mill road, 960 feet north of line of land lot 163. July 21.

$650—Fred Albright (by guardian) to Max and Ida Liberson, lot 27 by 85 feet, north side Woodward avenue, 139 feet west of Cameron street. July 21.

$700—Max and Ida Liberson to Peter A. Farrington, same property, July 21.

$2,500—J. A. Sewell to C. H. Thompson, lot 50 by 134 feet, north side Center street, 250 feet west of Cochran street. July 17.

$14,000—D. W. Morgan to Margaret Lawshe and Lula L. Kingsbery, No. 250 St. Charles avenue, 50 by 150 feet. July 1.

$2,200—J. H. Phillips to Edd Eidson, lot 50 by 200 feet, south side Peachtree avenue, 100 feet west of Grand View avenue. June 11.

$3,800—C. R. O'Quinn to Mrs. M. T. Langston, No. 109 Confederate avenue, 38 by 94 feet. June 30.

$2,850—Interstate Land Company to T. J. Ware, lots 7 and 8, block C of Peachtree Terrace, land lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 24.

$8,000—M. G. Norris to A. A. Almand, lot 62 by 178 feet, west side Ontario avenue, 350 feet north of South Gordon street. July 21.

Quitclaim Deeds.

$5 and to Correct Description—Mrs. Frankie W. Perkins et al. to Mrs. N. W. Perkins, four-fifths of an acre, on northwest side of Central of Georgia Railroad, 379 feet northwest of Perkins street. July 18.

$1 and Other Considerations—The Prest-o-Lite Company to the Prest-o-Lite Company, Inc., lot 223 by [illegible] feet, northwest side of Kuhrt [illegible] south of McDaniel street, and all other property now owned or acquired by grantor.

$175—Mrs. Missouri [illegible] to Interstate Land Co., lot 8, block C, of Peachtree [illegible], lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 26.

$725—Charles [illegible] to Patrick, lot 209 by [illegible] feet, west side of [illegible] lot 119, being property of W. White estate.

$600—Charles [illegible] to Walter E. Shelver, lot 50 by 150 feet, on Washington street, Fourteenth District. November.

$30,000—[illegible] to Andrew Johnson, 5-7 [illegible] W. E. Mosby and sentenced to life imprisonment.

$1,500—[illegible] to Lillian Gross, daughter of Calla-Passmore, [illegible] pronounced Johnson guilty. She [illegible] upon the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

Chief of Police Dies on Trial

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 23.—Today defeated the efforts of Shanghai by the Chief of Police, alleged to be the arch [illegible] in the assassination of former Governor Ed Callahan, was placed on [illegible] expected at any moment ruling supreme.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1913.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

Lo An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. ...s not affliction wasted.

...les are needed to warn the young against the matri... ...ssness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

T HE lo... wives and husbands are human lighthouses— ...which is ...ul.

... marries a woman undertakes to make her happy ...ht yea... y. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers. ...00. Th... has no right to experiment on another un... ...ct com... vorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed ... people ...ice.

... Gothard ... fact, there really is no marriage or divorce ...act, the Si... le beings need consider. ...than the St...

... of the Mont... e not good enough to be trusted with lib... NOTHER INTE... e laws. When they are good enough the ... For the man fully developed and fully ...'s doing when he goes into a marriage ... character will insure permanency.

In the Run of the News

Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers.

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition,

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come. If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

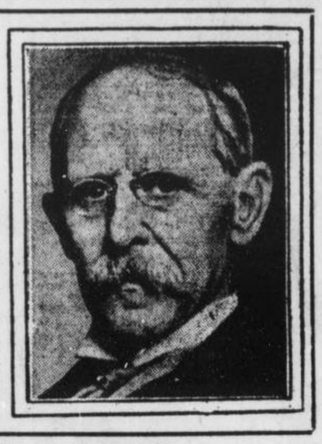
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 302. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1913. Copyright, 1906, By The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAY NO MORE.

EVENING EDITION

CHARGES POISON PLOT TO YOUNG WIFE

House Hears Salary Scheme Charge Against Soule

LANFORD RIDICULES BLUDGEON THEORY

SCOUTS NEW 'PROOF' OF DEFENSE

Detective Chief Scoffs at Claim of Evidence That Club Used by Negro Was Found.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning ridiculed the story that the defense of Leo M. Frank has in its possession a bloody club, alleged to have been found by two Pinkerton detectives on May 10 in the National Pencil factory, and with which, it is reported, the defense will contend Mary Phagan was slain by James Conley, the negro sweeper.

Asserting that he knows nothing whatever of the alleged bloody club, Chief Lanford declared that, if Pinkerton detectives found such a weapon on May 10, or any other date, they had failed to report the fact to him. Failure to officially report such a find would be regarded as a breach of the pact between the city detectives and the Pinkertons, as the latter officers, while employed by the pencil factory, have been working hand in hand with city detectives, with the understanding that any evidence they unearthed would be communicated to detective headquarters.

Has Received No Report.

"If Pinkerton detectives found a bloody club in the pencil factory they certainly should have reported that fact to me at once—I have received no such report," said Chief Lanford.

The police regard as significant the attitude of Harry Scott, who is managing the Pinkerton investigation, and who, subsequent to May 10, has continued to assert his belief in the guilt of Frank.

Chief Lanford characterized the alleged finding of the club as an "absurdity," and scouted the idea of it having any bearing on the case. He is satisfied, he said, that it will never figure as evidence.

The chief said the only club found in the pencil factory, of which he had any knowledge, was a small section of broom handle, about a foot in length, which hung by a cord beside the desk of Leo M. Frank in the latter's private office.

Broom Handle Was Found.

This "club" bore no blood stains, he said, and showed no evidence of having ever been used as a weapon in any way. It was too light to have done any damage had a blow been struck with it, he said.

Chief Lanford treated the bloody club story in the manner of a joke.

"Do you see a club there?" remarked the Chief, pointing to a perfectly clear spot on his office floor, when asked as to the reported find by the Pinkertons.

"Well, that's the answer," he continued. "There is just as much of a bloody club lying there on that floor as there was on the floor of the pencil factory, where it is said the Pinkertons found their bloody club. The whole thing is absurd and will have no bearing whatever on the case of Frank. I'm satisfied this mysterious club will never be introduced in evidence.

No Weapon Was Found.

"When it is recalled that the very spot that yielded up this bloody club was searched thoroughly more than a dozen times by numerous officers prior to May 10 and no club nor other weapon was found, the ridiculousness of this story is apparent. We searched that factory from top to bottom and bottom to top, closely investigating every conceivable place for weapons or any other bit of evidence that might throw light on the mystery, and yet no club was found.

"There's absolutely nothing to it.

"In Frank's private office we found a small piece of broomstick, hanging by a cord beside his desk. There were no blood stains on it, and it showed no evidence of having been used as a weapon. In the first place,

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

Breakfasters Eat On Calmly as Fire Is Fought in Cafe

Fire which broke out in the ceiling of Durand's Restaurant shortly before 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning failed to take the appetite from a dozen men, who calmly continued eating their breakfast while firemen swarmed the room. Even when the firemen mounted ladders and began hacking at the ceiling the diners were not dismayed.

The fire was of little consequence, the ceiling catching probably from a defective wire near the flue of the warming retainer. The call brought out every central company, though, while a great crowd of early morning workers gathered.

Noted Sleuth Trails Warship Plans Thief

NEW YORK, July 23.—Declaring that he had been commissioned to work with United States Government operators in rounding up a band of international spies, Captain Marian Herrmann, nominally head of the Trieste police, but officially known as one of the cleverest secret service operatives of Austria, arrived here today.

Captain Herrmann is believed to have important information bearing on the recent disappearance from the naval officers at Washington of plans for the construction of a new dreadnought.

Republican Regime In Portugal Totters

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MADRID, July 23.—The Portuguese Republic is tottering. The country seethes with the revolutionary spirit to overthrow the Republican Government and re-establish a monarchy. Travelers from Portugal arriving here to-day say the movement is the best organized since King Manuel was dethroned.

Troops are being rushed to all points in an effort to check the rebellion, which Government officials consider the most serious since the new form of government was established.

Strike Shuts World's Biggest Copper Mine

CALUMET, MICH., July 23.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 copper miners of the upper peninsula went on a strike this morning, completely tying up twenty mines in four counties. The men demand shorter hours and an increase in wages. The Calumet and Hecla, the biggest copper producer in the world, has been shut down.

The men were organized recently by the Western Federation of Miners. There has been no disorder.

Zion City Banishes Pool and 'Movies'

ZION CITY, ILL., July 23.—The young sports and old ones of Zion City hereafter will go to bed without rolling their accustomed series of games of Keely pool. The other residents of the city will retire without having made their nightly excursion to the moving picture theater.

The City Council, controlled by the forces of Overseer Voliva, ordered the theater and the poolroom closed.

Pass the Medals to These Heroes, Please!

TRENTON, N. J., July 23.—A test meal of eggs three years old was made by the State Board of Health here.

If the board survives, $4,000 worth of ancient eggs will be released from cold storage.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local thundershowers Wednesday and probably Thursday.

SOIL SCHOOL PRESIDENT ACCUSED

Assembly Likely to Probe Report False Representation Was Made to Boost Salary.

Representative Connor, of Spalding County, introduced a resolution in the House to-day calling for a legislative investigation of the State Agricultural College at Athens, particularly with respect to Dr. Andrew M. Soule's connection therewith.

Mr. Connor's resolution recites the fact that Dr. Soule has been publicly accused in The Southern Fancier-Farmer, a poultry and agricultural magazine, with having obtained a recent raise in salary upon false representations, and calls upon the Legislature to investigate the charge and summon Dr. Soule before the Committee on Appropriations to answer the same.

It also provides for the summoning of B. M. Blackburn, the editor of the magazine, who is held responsible for the charges, to come before the committee and substantiate them, if he can.

Charges Misrepresentation.

The magazine charges that Dr. Soule recently asked the board to raise his salary from $5,000 to $6,000 and based his appeal upon the ground that he had been offered a salary of $8,000 per annum to serve in a similar capacity in the Minneapolis College of Agriculture.

The magazine says Dr. Soule never was offered any such sum to serve in the Minnesota college, nor any sum whatever, and that his correspondence with the Minnesota college was very brief, and resulted speedily in the choice of another man for the place.

The Fancier-Farmer prints that which purports to be documentary evidence to sustain this charge.

Besides the direct allegation of obtaining a raise in salary on false representation to the Georgia College management, the magazine attacks Dr. Soule vigorously for incompetency and general unfitness for the office he holds.

Bitter Fight Probable.

Mr. Connor's resolution, which, under the rules, went over for one day, caused a genuine sensation in the House and undoubtedly will bring about a biter fight on the floor.

In addition to that it may hold up indefinitely the contemplated $100,000 appropriation to the college.

The House likely will pass the Connor resolution and order the investigation to proceed with all haste possible.

Besides the specific charges set forth The Fancier-Farmer protests that Dr. Soule, in The Country Gentleman and other publications has caused ot be printed false and ridiculous statements about the South, calling the people of Georgia "mossbacks" and saying that when he came here originally the State's agricultural situation was deplorably bad and marked by pronounced unintelligence and shiftlessness.

Motive Is Discovered.

Back of this entire matter is said to be the impression that Dr. Soule is advocating qffuietly but as effectively as he may the removal of the Experiment Station from Griffin to Athens.

Mr. Connor, the author of the resolution, is a resident of Griffin and is, of course, much opposed to the contemplated change.

This, in connection with the other charges, undoubtedly means a bitter and perhaps prolonged fight in the Legislature, not only over the matter of Dr. Soule's opposition, but over the question of removing the Experiment Station from Griffin to Athens.

HER FIRST VOTE "DRY."

ELGIN, ILL., July 23.—The first vote of a woman in Illinois on the saloon question was in favor of the "dry" side. Miss Illione Wilbur, age 23, was the voter.

Big Fortune Left by Russian Sought Here

Somewhere in the United States a Russian emigrant named Trooshkovsky died a few years ago, leaving a vast fortune, and in the effort to locate in whose hands the estate is now being held, W. Trooshkovsky, of St. Petersburg, Russia, has implored the assistance of Governor Slaton.

While such information would not be in the Governor's office, through newspaper publicity Governor Slaton hopes to be able to furnish the information requested if Trooshkovsky lived in Georgia. Any person having information is requested to communicate with the Governor.

Cardinal Gibbons 79; Felicitated by Pope

BALTIMORE, MD., July 23.—In a modest chapel at the home of T. Herbert Shriver, at Union Mills, near Westminster, Md., Cardinal Gibbons this morning celebrated the mass of thanksgiving that marked the 79th anniversary of his birth. Only members of the family of the host were present.

The rest of the day the Cardinal passed in repose. He received many telegrams and letters of felicitation, including a cablegram from the Pope and rulers of Europe.

Slain While Aiding Brother in a Fight

DOTHAN, ALA., July 23.—Robert Moon, aged 20, shot and killed Joseph Halsted, 25 years old, in a row at Memphis Church, seven miles south of Dothan, late Tuesday night.

Moon shot three times with a pistol, all taking effect. He surrendered to the Sheriff. Moon was in a row with Jasper Halsted, brother of Joseph, when Joseph interfered. Halsted is survived by a wife and small child.

Atlanta Salesmen Held as 'Peddlers'

RICHMOND, July 23.—Arrested last night at the instance of the Retail Merchants' Association on the charge of peddling merchandise without a license, J. H. Thrash and W. E. Holston, young men, both from Atlanta, representing the Fisher Knitting Mill Company, were in Police Court to-day.

They were allowed to go free when they explained that they were merely soliciting orders.

Tokio Prepares New Land Bill Protest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—A Tokio dispatch to a local Japenese paper to-day said that the Japanese Government, dissatisfied with the reply of Secretary of State Bryan to its protest against the California alien land bill, is preparing a third note of protest to the United States.

It will be ready for presentation within a few days.

The Man Who Said

"There Is Nothing New Under the Sun"

neglected to read The Georgian "Want Ad" columns. New features, names, opportunities, prices and effects are being introduced daily.

Read for Profti

Georgian "Want Ads"

Use for Results

THIEF SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Trio of Robbers Surprised as They Are Looting Store Caught in Long Chase.

The presence of mind of half a dozen girls employed at the Atlanta Telephone Exchange, at Ivy and Edgewood streets, in notifying the police when they saw burglars breaking into the candy store of Michael Koliff, across the street, resulted in the capture of two negro burglars early Wednesday morning.

In the chase and battle which followed the arrival of the police one of the negroes, Will Wauker, was shot in the right leg by Call Officer Watson, but was not wounded seriously.

The other negro, Dave Smith, was found hiding in a cellar on Houston street half an hour later by Plain Clothes Officer Gresham and Captain Mayo.

The police declare that the burglars would have escaped with their booty had it not been for the telephone girls, and Chief of Police Beavers has extended his personal thanks and congratulations to the girls for their presence of mind.

Heard Glass Crash.

The young women, while working at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, heard the sound of breaking glass as the burglars smashed the window of the candy store.

Looking out of the exchange window the girls say the two men enter a store. A third posted himself on the corner as lookout.

While several of the young women watched the burglars, another of the girls telephoned police headquarters and notified the police.

Assistant Chief Jett, Captain Mayo, Call Officers Watson and Anderson and Policeman McWilliams went to the scene in an automobile. As the car, driven at top speed, dashed up to the front of the candy store, the negro who stood on the sidewalk saw the officers coming and ran. The police, thinking he was the only man in the job, started in pursuit, but were called back by the telephone girls, who were gathered at the windows of the plant.

Call Policemen Back.

"Come back," they cried, "there are two others in the store!"

As the car turned and started hurriedly back to the store, two negroes dashed out of the front door and ran up Ivy street, with the police in pursuit. The negroes turned down Auburn avenue and ran to the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, where they separated.

One of them disappeared in the darkness, but the other was seen to run around to the back of the plant. The police surrounded the place, and Captain Mayo went into the darkness after him.

He flushed the negro in a few minutes, and the burglar ran out into the open on the rear side of the plant, directly toward Officer Watson.

Leaps at Policeman.

The policeman yelled three times at the negro to halt. The burglar, however, continued to advance, and as he struck at the officer, Watson leaped aside and fired, the bullet penetrating the negro's leg.

The wounded negro was sent to the Grady Hospital in the automobile, and the police continued their search for the other burglar. Half an hour later Captain Mayo and Officer Gresham found him crouched in the darkness of a cellar on Houston street. Gresham came upon the negro suddenly, and the burglar, probably thinking the officer was alone, leaped up with a curse.

Gresham covered him with his revolver, but the negro continued to advance. As Gresham was about to fire, Captain Mayo came up and covered the negro and he surrendered.

When the automobile, crowded with police and prisoners, passed the telephone exchange en route back to the station, they were applauded by the young women who crowded the windows and who were responsible for the capture of the two negroes.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE HERE BOOSTED BY BIG MEET

Mrs. M. A. Harding, a prominent worker for suffrage in Georgia.

Enthusiasm Marks Taft Hall Gathering—Only "Anti" Partially Converted.

Spurred to enthusiasm by Mrs. William Peel, presiding officer, several hundred suffragists and a suffragette or two at Taft Hall Tuesday participated in a monster meeting, in many respects unequaled before in Atlanta. Round after round of applause marked the efforts of every speaker.

The meeting was an all-suffrage affair, for although a debate was advertised not a single out-and-out anti-suffragist speech was made. Ernest Neal, member of the House of Representatives, was the only speaker of the opposition, and even he declared he had little faith in many of the stock arguments of the antis and that he wished Mrs. Peel godspeed in the present movement.

Debate Is Opened.

Following an organ recital by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, Mrs. Peel called the meeting to order. "If it had not been for woman," she said in opening the discussion, "man would still be walking on four legs. But woman has performed her duty and as a result all of us are to-day walking on two legs."

Following Representative Neal's address, R. A. Broyles declared the men needed the women to help them out in things political.

Among the other speakers were Dr. A. M. Hughlett, who declared he was a suffragist first, last and all the time, for the reason that women are as intelligent as men; Mrs. S. E. Cunningham, who paid high tribute to the cause; Mrs. Frances Whitesides, a leader in the Civic League; Mrs. Mary McLendon, "the original suffragette," president of the Georgia League, and Dr. John E. White.

Mrs. McLendon Speaks.

Mrs. McLendon spoke of the first efforts of Georgia women to organize, and asserted the present movement would result in a perfect organization throughout the State.

Dr. White made a vigorous address in favor of suffrage and sharply criticised the "idle rich" woman, who, he said, sought a good time for life by marrying a man with an automobile.

At the meeting's close Mrs. Peel invited all anti-suffragists in the house to stand up. No one stood up.

SAYS BRIDE PUT GLASS IN CUP OF COFFEE

E. R. Sweat, Seeking Divorce, Bares What He Declares Was Attempt on His Life.

That his bride of six months placed pulverized glass in his coffee with the evident purpose of killing him is one of the sensational charges made in a suit for divorce filed Wednesday by E. R. Sweat, of No. 33 Gresham street, through his attorney, S. A. Boorstin.

Sweat claims that persecutions at the hands of his wife, of which the alleged attempt to administer the ground glass was the climax, have left him a nervous wreck and unfit for work.

They were wed February 8, after a romantic courtship. Married life soon palled on the wife, according to Sweat. Her ill treatment of him began before a month had passed, he says. She reproved him one day, he recites, by slapping him in the face in the presence of strangers. Then she grew more persistent.

Sweat swears that she would sleep the whole day for the sole purpose of keeping him awake and tormenting him when he returned home tired from work at night.

They separated after an incident of July 15. Sweat's story is that he came home from work that night and sat down at the supper table. He drank one cup of coffee and asked for another. He says that the second cup tasted peculiar and that when he stirred it and got some of the grounds on his spoon he discovered a quantity of pulverized glass.

He declares that he charged her with an attempt to kill him and that she replied by hurling the sugar bowl out of the window and snatching the coffee cup from his grasp and destroying it. She left the saucer on the table and in this, Sweat claims, there remained some of the glass which he had removed from the cup.

Sues Money Lenders For Loss of Position

MACON, July 23.—W. R. Roberts, a railroad fireman, who lost his position because his salary was garnished, has brought suit for $2,000 damages in Superior Court against King Bros., money lenders, of Atlanta and Macon.

Roberts charges that he borrowed $20 and paid back $40, and that King Bros. then claimed he still owed $22. Refusing to pay this, his salary was attached, which entailed the loss of his position at a time when his wife was critically ill.

China Quells Revolt; Shanghai in Danger

Special Cable to The Georgian.

SHANGHAI, July 23.—From reports received here to-day it is believed the Chinese Republic will not be torn asunder. The outlook for President Yuan is much more hopeful and all indications point to the Government ruling supreme.

The royal troops to-day defeated the Secessionists at Hsuichoufu. An attack on the arsenal at Shanghai by the southern army is expected at any moment.

Accused Chief of Feudists on Trial

WINCHESTER, KY., July 23.—Fletcher Deaton, alleged to be the arch conspirator in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, was placed on trial after Andrew Johnson had been found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of Callahan, shouted and wept for joy when the jury pronounced Johnson guilty. She worked up the evidence on which the prosecution was conducted.

DEAD IN RUINS OF FACTORY NOW FIXED AT 63

Probe Begun of Binghamton Holocaust as Death List Grows. Girls Trapped at Benches.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 23.—Searching parties to-day worked in the ruins of the building of the Binghamton Clothing Company seeking bodies believed to be buried there.

Streams of water were played on the building all night to cool them enough to allow the rescue work to begin. Workmen at daylight began digging at the tons of charred timber, brick and mortar, in an effort to reach the bodies still known to be buried in the debris.

At noon on Wednesday nineteen bodies had been recovered. The death list will reach 63, it was estimated. Ten injured are in a hospital. Of the 111 persons in the building at the time the fire broke out only 38 escaped. Forty-four are missing.

Girls Mistake Alarm.

Belief that the alarm was sounded only as a fire drill, caused the great loss of life. When the girls and women working in the factory realized that the building was burning the main avenue of escape had already been cut off. Instantly the other exits were choked with panic-stricken girls.

Many reached the windows but the firemen and others bent on rescuing inmates were powerless to aid them, owing to the rapidity with which the flames licked up the inflammable mill material.

Eighteen minutes elapsed from the time the fire broke out until the walls fell and the building was in ruins.

Fire Laid to Smoker.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, attributes the fire to the carelessness of an employee in throwing a cigarette butt under a stairway, where inflammable material was stored.

Smoking was prohibited in the building, but many employees were addicted to the habit, according to Freeman, and often went to the alley near the building to smoke.

Rigid investigation of the fire will be made by the authorities. They will investigate the charges made that gasoline was stored in the building, dangerously near the stairway from the upper floors and that the fire escapes were so exposed that many victims were burned while trying to descend.

Pittsburg Policemen Want to Form Union

PITTSBURG, July 23.—At the suggestion of Joseph G. Armstrong, Director of Public Works, the policemen of Pittsburg are planning to organize.

The new union, if the plans of the movers are successful, will be incorporated under the rules of the American Federation of Labor.

Judge, Not Coroner, Gets Daring Joker

YONKERS, N. Y., July 23.—Passengers on a street car here dove from every available exit when Stanzianno Nazzano, a laborer who sat on a rear seat, absently-mindedly knocked the ashes from his cigar with a stick of dynamite.

He was arrested and fined $30.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish fiction to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then read some prospective mother to whom a word in time would bring. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

DEATH COMES TO A. THORNTON AT ASHEVILLE

Hundreds Mourn Young Atlanta Banker—Prominent in Social Life of the City.

News of the death of Austell Thornton, a prominent young Atlanta man, was received by his friends here from Ashville, N. C., Wednesday. According to the dispatches, Mr. Thornton died in his cottage near that city at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. All members of the family were at his bedside.

Mr. Thornton was about 31 years old, and had resided in Atlanta since childhood. Six years ago he married Miss Bob Venable.

He was prominent in society and club circles, being a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, the Capital City Club and of practically every other prominent social organization of the city.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family home, 611 Peachtree street. Interment private at Oakland.

Mr. Thornton was one of the best known citizens of Atlanta, and at the time of his death was a director in the Atlanta National Bank. He had large private interests and at one time was president of the Pine Mountain Granite Company. He was educated at the University of Georgia. His father, the late A. B. Thornton, was also a director in the Atlanta National.

He is survived by his widow and two children; also his mother, Mrs. Albert Thornton; his brother, Albert Thornton, and his sister, Miss Janie Thornton, all of Atlanta.

Wills $400,000 for Home for Old Maids

YORK, PA., July 23.—The will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was probated here, sets aside $400,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home in this city for aged unmarried women of Pennsylvania.

OLDEST NEGRESS DEAD AGAIN.

MILLEN.—Mary Morgan, a negress, 114 years old, is dead here today. She was the oldest woman in Georgia at the time of her death.

Noted Lecturer to 'Talk' to Deaf Here

George William Veditz, of Colorado Springs, former president of the National Association of the Deaf, will deliver a lecture to the deaf people of Atlanta in the sign language at Taft Hall Saturday night, August 2.

Mr. Veditz's subject will be "Faust." He also will deliver a sermon to the deaf Sunday mornin, August 3, at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. John Wesley Michaels, Southern evangelist to the deaf, also will be in Atlanta at the same time and will assist Mr. Veditz.

Divers' Heads Crash; 1 Dying, Other Hurt

CONNERSVILLE, IND., July 23.—Edward Voltz was fatally hurt and Frank Davis may die of injuries received in diving at a beach here.

Davis dived from a high springboard and was followed immediately by Voltz. Just as Voltz reached the water Davis bobbed up and their heads met with a crack. Davis was under water two minutes.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."

The universal verdict of the patrons of the Bijou is that this week's attraction, "Good Morning, Judge," is one of the snappiest, liveliest and most pleasing musical comedies of the season, and judging from the cordial reception that has been given the attraction so far, standing room will be at a premium the entire week. Differing from most of the musical comedies that have been offered at the Bijou, "Good Morning, Judge," has a well-defined plot, which concerns the election of a German brewer to the mayoralty of his home town and the many ludicrous situations that arises when the good-natured brewer is forced to assume the position of municipal judge.

The musical numbers are new and up to date and the costumes in keeping with the splendid tone of the attraction.

Forsyth Packed.

"Sold out" has been the record at every performance at the Forsyth this week, and a wonderful advance sale for the remaining performances indicating that the busy theater is going to make a new attendance record, possibly eclipsing the figures set up by Miss Kellermann two years ago. The show is one of the strongest that has ever been offered in vaudeville in Atlanta. There is not a weak spot, every act counts and the applause is distributed evenly.

The big feature of the program is the appearance of John P. Conroy, the only person who possesses every kind of medal that has been awarded for heroism. Conroy has saved 137 lives. Assisted by two pretty girls, he gives a diving exhibition that is superior to any that has been seen in Atlanta.

Thrills at Big Movie at Grand.

A more wonderful photo-play than Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" has rarely been seen. There is interest in this 12,000 feet of film from the introduction of Jean Valjean until the last inch has been run off, and the Grand is being filled at the daily matinee and night performances. The characters of the Hugo novel are played by some of the most distinguished actors of France. The performances are given at 2:30 and at 8:30.

Funeral Designs and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS.
Atlanta Floral Company,
455 EAST FAIR STREET.

ANSLEY PARK TO QUIZ COUNCIL ON PAVING

Residents Will Demand Reason for Delay—Quest Vain Declares Mayor.

A delegation of Ansley Park citizens will go before the Streets Committee of Council at its meeting a week from Friday to protest against the lack of work in Ansley Park and to insist that Peachtree Circle and South Prado, for which money has been appropriated, be paved at once.

These citizens declare they will demand to know who is responsible for the delay. The money was appropriated January 1. The property owners are to pay a greater proportion than the city. Yet not a pick has been stuck in the park during the seven months of the year, with the exception of one short block on Lombardy street.

Mayor Woodward declared Wednesday that little relief from such conditions could be expected so long as our present system of government was in effect. He said he had been trying to tell the people all the year that they could not trace responsibility in matters of such gross incompetency and negligence.

"This new charter of Council's the Legislature is about to submit to the people is far worse," he said. "It provides for a board to supervise the construction department, which will be about as satisfactory as the remainder of our boards.

"The Ansley Park citizens will have to frighten the whole city government into action to get any real results."

President to Free Four Life-Termers

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., July 23. T. A. Keating, Arthur Hewitt, Bob Clark and Gilbert Mullins, sentenced to serve life terms in Leavenworth Prison, will be free in July, 1914. Papers were received at the Federal Prison here to-day from President Wilson commuting their sentences, providing the behavior of the four men is good.

The four were convicted of the murder of a guard in the prison mutiny in 1901, when 27 Federal convicts escaped.

Kaiser's Lieutenant Joins U. S. Cavalry

CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfeld, son of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in Germany, a graduate of Gottingen University, and until one month ago a lieutenant in the Kaiser's army, becomes a United States cavalry trooper to-day.

Dr. Goldfeld spent the last month trying to forget that he had been jilted by a girl. He also spent about $32,000 at Paris and Monte Carlo as he tried to forget. His pay as a trooper is $16 a month. His father sends him 200 marks a month.

PASSIVE MEXICO POLICY SCORED BY SENATORS

Debate on Resolution, Guaranteeing American Citizens' Rights Abroad, Is Resumed.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Debate on the Fall resolution, guaranteeing constitutional rights to American citizens abroad and protection to their property, was resumed when the Senate convened to-day.

Though the wording of the resolution was general there was no attempt to cloak the fact that the Mexican crisis is the issue.

Senator Fall said in regard to the Mexican situation that no greater error could be made than a continuance of the dilatory tactics pursued by the United States in the past. Agreeing with Fall in this view were a large number of Senators in both sides of the chamber.

Many held the opinion that the Senate should take no hasty nor untoward steps. An incendiary statement by that body might fan Mexican resentment against Americans into flame and cause diplomatic complications, it was believed.

President and Bacon Confer on Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Wilson to-day summoned Representative Flood, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the White House to confer on conditions in Mexico.

The delicacy of the present situation enforced a policy of secrecy at the White House, but it was asserted that the purpose of to-day's conference was to discuss the advisability of removing the ban from shipments of arms and ammunition to the constitutionalists in Northern Mexico.

General Carranza and other revolutionists have been pleading for weeks for the removal of this prohibition, claiming that they are entitled to the same privileges accorded to the Maderists by President Taft.

It is doubtful if any decisive move will be made until after the removal of Ambassador Wilson, but it is practically certain that this Government will favor the removal of the prohibition relative to the shipment of arms to the rebels and then will await developments in the hope of establishing a stable government in Mexico.

U. S. Prepared to Act on Short Notice.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dispatch of a gunboat to Mexican waters, in addition to the four battleships already there, the presence of Secretary of War Garrison and General Leonard Wood on the Texas border and the summoning of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to Washington are taken to indicate the intention of official circles here that the Mexican situation will no longer be allowed by President Wilson to drift.

Reports from Chihuahua and Coahuila indicate the centralization of the Federalist forces in those provinces and the opening of railroad communication from the capital to the border within a week.

Realty Men Invited To Meet in Atlanta

An invitation to hold its 1916 convention in Atlanta will be extended to the Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which soon will hold its 1913 gathering. The Atlanta invitation will be drawn up by Mayor Woodward and presented to the convention by President Harry White, of the local branch of the organization.

Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward, is back of the movement to bring the real estate men to the Gate City.

Lima Keeps Lonely Slit Skirt as Curio

LIMA, OHIO, July 23.—In the relic room at police headquarters to-day hangs the first and last slit skirt ever worn in Lima.

Mayor Shook in sentencing Mary Shedrick, the wearer, to pay a fine of $25, ordered the skirt taken from the woman and sent to the dry cleaners. The skirt came back to-day and Chief of Police Earnest ordered it hung in the relic room.

LANFORD SCOUTS BLUDGEON TALE OF DEFENSE

Chief Declares Pinkertons Made No Report of Alleged Find to Him.

Continued From Page 1.

it was too light to serve as a weapon. This was the only club found in the factory at the time any possible weapons should have been found and would have been found."

Date Still in Doubt.

Reuben Arnold said Wednesday that the defense would ask for no continuance of the Frank case except for such imperative reasons as the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. Luther Rosser, chief of counsel, also has indicated that no move will be made by the defense for further delay in the trial unless an emergency arises of the sort described by Attorney Arnold.

Informal conferences between the counsel in the Crawford will case and those in the Frank case, in both of which Rosser and Arnold appear as attorneys, have resulted in the announcement that the persons interested in the Crawford hearing are willing to waive the priority of their case and permit the Frank trial to go on Monday.

Finds Cat, Whiskers And All, Petrified

COTTONWOOD FALLS., KANS., July 23.—While repairing the floor of his house John Mann, a farmer living southeast of here, found a petrified kitten in perfect condition.

The cat weighed five pounds and its body was smooth and hard as though the work of a sculptor. Its tail, feet and ears were intact and there were a few whiskers projecting from the jaws.

Widow, 94, Sues for 46 Years' Alimony

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., July 23.—Mrs. Deborah VanNess, of Garden City, 94 years old, has begun suit in the Supreme Court here to collect 46 years' alimony from the estate of her husband, Cornelius VanNess, who died three years ago.

She was granted a divorce from her husband in 1867, and discovered recently that she was allowed $600 a year alimony.

Congress Blamed for Printing Office Waste

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Joint Committee on Printing of the two branches of Congress took final steps to-day toward launching an inquiry into the Government Printing Office. It is charged that thousands of dollars are wasted annually in the printing of useless documents.

The committee believes members of Congress rather than the Public Printer are to blame.

Gets $7,692 Year to Let Tobacco Alone

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 23.—Leonard Thomas, of Haverford, will receive $100,000 on his twenty-first birthday if he can swear on that day that he has never used tobacco in any form during his life, according to the will of his grandmother, Elizabeth Van Horsen Nicholson, probated here.

Leonard is 8 years old and has not used tobacco yet.

2,000 Teamsters on Strike in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 23.—Two thousand teamsters went on strike today as the result of the order of the union yesterday, following the break between the men and the members of the employers' association.

The only teamsters not affected are the bakery and ice wagon drivers whose grievances were recently adjusted.

Exhibit May Be in Commerce Chamber

The location of the proposed permanent Atlanta manufacturers' exhibit probably will be definitely known within a week. The committee on arrangements has several propositions under consideration, and a report is expected soon.

It is understood the majority of the committee favors leasing four upper floors of the Chamber of Commerce at Pryor street and Auburn avenue, the old Y. M. C. A. building. The Board of Directors of the Chamber, it is unofficially stated, made a fair price to the manufacturers.

$250,000 if Bartender Holds Job Six Years

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Edward Musse, bartender at a Delaware Water Gap hotel, has fallen heir to $250,000 from a German uncle "providing he stays continuously employed at the position he occupies when he learns that he is heir to my fortune."

To appease the nephew, who is now 24, the uncle provides he may receive $65,000 each year until he reaches the age of 30, when he gets the principal.

A codicil provides if he marries "respectably" before January 1, 1914, he is to receive an additional $14,000 from each of two aunts.

U. S. Is Confident of Breaking Film Trust

WASHINGTON, July 23.—It was announced to-day at the Department of Justice that the Government has finished the taking of testimony in the prosecution of the anti-trust suit against the motion Pictures Patent Company, the moving picture trust.

The defendants, twelve of the largest film companies in the world, will present their case the first week in October in the Federal Courts of New York. The Department of Justice is confident of success.

Oriental Fruit Fly Threatens California

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston to-day asked Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for aid in the fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly, which menaces California fruit interests.

He wants Secretary McAdoo to hold in quarantine all passenger vessels entering California ports that officials may examine luggage for fruit bearing the fly.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Regenstein, who died at the home, No. 457 Washington street, was held from the home Wednesday morning. Interment at Oakland.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Harland, who died at her home Tuesday morning, was held from the residence Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Melvin Nesbitt, fifteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who died Tuesday, was held from the residence in Capitol View, Wednesday morning. Interment at Westview.

The body of W. L. Golden, who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday morning, was sent to Cordele, Ga., Wednesday for funeral and interment. He was fifty-two years old, and is survived by a wife and one son.

The funeral of Mary M. Mapes, thirteen-month-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mapes, who died Tuesday, will be held from Poole's chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Westview.

The funeral of Mrs. Camelia Joyner, who died at a private sanitarium at noon Tuesday, was held from the residence at No. 249 Hill street, Wednesday, and the body was sent to Blairs, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Joyner was twenty-one years old, and is survived by her husband and parents.

The body of Roger Hendrix Mott, who died at a local sanitarium Tuesday, was sent to his old home at Statesville, N. C., Wednesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Mott was thirty-one years old, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. H. Mills, of Statesville, and one brother, Dr. C. B. Mott.

The funeral of Alfred E. Harwell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harwell, who died at the home, No. 153 Oglethorpe avenue, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. S. H. Hall will officiate. Interment at Greenwood.

The funeral services for Joseph A. Johnson, a pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted from the residence, No. 302 Luckie street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Pallbearers will be Captain Henry Jennings, Frank Whitley, A. Q. Adams, George H. Sims, James Hudson and Andrew Klassett. Interment in Oakland.

SLIT SKIRT FAD NOT WORRYING OUR MAYOR

"Let 'Em Wear Anything They Want," He Says—"If They Can Stand It, I Can."

'X-Rays' All Depend On Point of View

In Boulder, Colo., the diaphanous 'silhouette skirt may be worn in the shade only.

AND

In Lima, Ohio, this revealing garment of line without substance is absolutely taboo.

BUT

In Atlanta to-day Mayor Woodward averred that the new gown problem was one for women only to decide upon for themselves.

Atlanta will not try to regulate skirts. A spirit of conservatism has marked the police department since the vindication of Miss September Morn, who was discovered in a mountain pool in the show window of a book store.

The skirt question has been before the people ever since Mrs. Adam, more generally known under her maiden name of Eve, first appeared garbed in the foliage of the ancient ficus carica.

There are those who hold the modern tendency is back to the foliage skirt, not the fig leaf, but possibly the leaf of the asparagus fern or other chiffon-like vegetable.

How Other Towns View It.

Miss Mary Lindsay, of Lima, Ohio, the town named after the well known bean, has been arrested because her slit skirt left practically nothing to conjecture.

The Mayor of Boulder, Colo., has issued an order in which he admits that a woman may wear as thin a skirt as her taste and the weaver's art will allow. But he insists that it be worn on the shady side of the street only.

The courts will probably have to decide the course to be taken by a fashionably gowned women when the sun at the zenith illuminates both sides of the street.

"It's Up to Them," Says Mayor.

Mayor James G. Woodward declared that he certainly would not undertake to tell women how to dress.

And the policy of all the members of his administration would be to leave these matters entirely with the women.

"If they can stand it, I can," he said. "It doesn't bother me and I don't think it any business of the police to interfere.

"Whether it's a silhouette skirt or a sheath gown, it's entirely up to them."

Anniston's Mayor Missed the Shock.

ANNISTON, July 23.—Annistonians received their first "slit skirt" shock Tuesday, when a young woman from out of town appeared on Noble street, the principal business thoroughfare, attired in one of the ultra-garments, minus the old-fashioned petticoat. Mayor J. L. Wikle was in Birmingham. Chief of Police Shiretzki and Recorder J. F. Green were non-committal.

Frogs Oust Mice as Bogies of Fair Sex

PORT CLINTON, OHIO, July 23.—Thousands of frogs are migrating overland from the marshes of Lake Erie and the Portage River to Sandusky Bay. In the evenings when they lift up their voices their numbers seem to have been multiplied to millions. They fill the roads and streets and hundreds hop into homes.

Nervous women have become more afraid of the clammy little frogs than of the proverbial mice.

Women Give Tillman Fried Chicken Shower

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Following his assertion that the frying of chicken was unknown here, Senator Tillman was swamped with samples of fried chicken sent by local housewives.

NOMINATION BLANK

I hereby nominate as the most beautiful girl in Atlanta:

Name .....

Address .....

Only one of these blanks will be credited to any one contestant.

VOTING COUPON

For any regularly nominated Candidate in the

BEAUTY CONTEST .

Name of Candidate.....

Address .....

Fill out this Coupon and send it to "Booster Button" Editor of The Georgian and American.

BANKRUPT SALE

WHOLESALE MILLINERY STOCK AND FIXTURES

Of Myers Millinery Company, Bankrupt

In pursuance of an order passed by Hon. P. H. Adams, Referee in Bankruptcy, I will receive sealed bids on the stock of millinery, consisting of items invoicing approximately as follows:

Ribbons, $5,600; wire, $194; Hat Pins, $65; Thread, etc., $288; Mourning Veils, $100; Hat Bands, etc., $378; Braid, $950; Velveteen, $98; Velvet, $1,285; English Crepe, $155; Felt, $67; Furs, $47; Maline, $367; Chiffon, $998; Scarfs, $188; Veiling, $706; Lace, $812; Mull, $124; Silk, $1,000; Plumes, $3,829; Aigrettes and Fancy Feathers, $2,800; Flowers, $3,282; Children's Headwear, $845; Ladies' Hats and Frames, $1,750. Total $26,000.

Also office and store fixtures invoicing $1,825.

Also bankrupt's leasehold interest in a five-story building equipped with elevator located at No. 39 East Alabama Street, now renting at $200 a month, lease expiring June 30, 1915.

I will accept said bids up and until 11 o'clock A. M. of Friday, July 25, next, at which time said bids will be opened at Room No. 513 Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. Bids may be submitted as an entirety or separately on the stock or fixtures or lease and are subject to the confirmation of the court. For further information and inspection of stock and inventory apply to

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee

402 Rhodes Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mayson & Johnson, Attorneys for Trustee.

FOR THE LIVER TAKE LIVER EASE

Calomel Has Been Completely Displaced by Dr. Verdier's Liver Ease.

Be sure you get the perfect substitute for Calomel when you need a medicine for the liver.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE is made of imported drugs, purely vegetable and acts on the liver as thoroughly as calomel with none of the bad after effects.

DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE contains no drug that can produce salivation; there is no irritation of the stomach and bowels and no sickening after effects.

Take DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE and go about your work as though you were not taking a medicine at all. A dose at bedtime will cleanse the system of all impurities and stimulate the liver to expel the bile promptly with no discomfort. You can get DR. VERDIER'S LIVER EASE at any drug store for 50c per large bottle fully guaranteed.

WIFE NOW DENIES THAT SHE SHOT TOM WOOD

Gainesville Bride to Repudiate Confession When Taken Before Grand Jury.

GAINESVILLE, July 22.—Repudiating her confession as to the shooting of her ball player husband, Tom Wood, and charging a man with firing the bullet will be the sensational testimony of Mrs. Pearl Thomas Wood before the Hall County Grand Jury this afternoon. This man comes from a prominent family and his arrest is expected.

This man was an old friend of Mrs. Wood's, and when she was told by her husband that he was going to desert her, it is said, she appealed to him. He came to the Wood home on Athens street, where a quarrel began, ending in the probably fatal wounding of Wood.

Gainesville is greatly excited over the shooting. The statement this morning that Mrs. Wood would completely repudiate her confession and charge the man with firing the shot aroused intense interest. The Grand Jury is in session, and the Solicitor announced this morning that an immediate investigation would be held.

At a local hospital Tom Wood lies in a dying condition, a bullet hole in one of his lungs and with but two days at the most in which he can possibly live. At the county jail is his bride of a few months, completely prostrated. Tuesday night she confessed to the killing, declaring that she had determined to kill her husband rather than have him desert her. She declared that he had decided upon a separation and was preparing to leave Gainesville.

Quarrel Precedes Shooting.

According to the account of the shooting, which, it is said, Mrs. Wood will make to the Grand Jury, her husband, another man and herself were in the Wood home when a quarrel ensued, during which the other man drew a pistol. Wood ran from the house and as he darted out the front door the other man shot, Wood falling fatally wounded upon the porch.

Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Wood weeping over the body of her youthful husband. An automobile was obtained and the wounded man placed in it. Mrs. Wood accompanied him to the hospital, holding his head tenderly in her lap, while her cries drew the tears from others in the machine. In contrast to her piteous condition the husband charged her time and again with shooting him. His protestations that "She shot me!" "She shot me!" continued after he had been placed upon the operating table.

Bride Goes to Jail.

A few moments after the wounded man was taken to the hospital Sheriff Spencer arrived there. Mrs. Wood surrendered to him and admitted that she had done the shooting. She begged to be allowed to remain with her husband, but owing to his condition and his continual charges that she had done the shooting, it was thought best to remove her. She was taken to the county jail, where she spent the night weeping and piteously declaring her love for her husband.

"He was preparing to desert me, and was going away at midnight," she told the Sheriff. "He came to the house to tell me good-bye. I made up my mind I would rather kill him than have him desert me."

Mrs. Wood is a bride of but a few months. Wood has played with the Gainesville ball club for a long while. The courtship began a few months ago, when he was introduced to her at the ball park. She was Miss Pearl Thomas, and comes from a highly respected family, which has been living in Gainesville for ten years. She was extremely popular and a host of her friends called at the county jail this morning.

Wood's home is in Nashville and his parents are expected to arrive to-day. Doctors state there is no chance for his recovery.

Senator's Daughter On Socialist Stump

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mrs. Nina Lane McBride, daughter of Senator Lane of Oregon, is in Washington visiting her father. Next month she will commence a tour of the Eastern States, speaking from street corners and in workingmen's halls on the Socialist propaganda.

Mrs. McBride met her husband, who also is a Socialist worker, at a rally of the party in Portland, Oreg. She met him the second time at a hoboes' convention in New Orleans. They were married by a Magistrate.

"BUSY --AS-- BEES"

Little bees make the honey; little "Want Ads" make the money

Read for Profit

GEORGIAN "WANT ADS"

Use for Results

RIVALRY, MINUS DISCORD, ABOUNDS IN BOOSTER BUTTON BEAUTY RACE

Candidates for sponsorship of 500,000 Club growing numerous.

Miss Maud Steele, new entry of brunette type and one of prettiest in contest.

Veritable Shower of Coupon Votes Received, Showing Enthusiasm in Competition.

Rivalry in Atlanta's booster button beauty contest threatens to equal that immortal mythological event in which Ate, Goddess of Discord, dropped a golden apple at the feet of Paris marked for the fairest one.

But no such disastrous result as the destruction of Troy is expected unless Birmingham or Memphis should steal Atlanta's prettiest girl and then outrank the Gate City in the census of 1920.

Atlantans fell sure that the girl elected the sponsor of the "500,000 Booster Club" will glory in her leadership and be present to act as queen of the celebration when the 500,000 population is counted in 1920.

One of the fairest candidates nominated Wednesday is Miss Maud Steele, of 9 Venable street. She is a brunette, though not extreme, and gives the brunette almost an equal place with the blondes in the number of candidates.

Each day brings in new candidates, and a snowstorm of coupon votes for the favorites. It is a wonderful contest indeed. But why shouldn't it be? The prettiest girl in Atlanta! Just think of it.

Clip the coupons that appear each day in The Georgian. Nominate your candidate. VOTE.

WELTNER PUSHES PRISON REFORMS

Secretary of Crusaders Urges Indeterminate Sentence as Best for Convicts.

Another gun in the campaign of the bill providing indeterminate prison sentences, which has been favorably reported by both House and Senate Committees, has been fired by Philip Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association, which is responsible for the bill.

"The enactment of the bill will not only improve convict conditions in Georgia," Mr. Weltner declares, "but it will increase the efficiency of the convicts in road building. The indeterminate sentence is based on justice and common sense rather than sentiment and mercy; and wherever it has been tried it has tended to embarrass the crook by keeping him in up to the limit, yet holding the door of opportunity open to the occasional offenders whom kind treatment and hope can reform.

"To give a convict a fixed term of imprisonment means that the law believes it can foretell the length of time it will take to discipline him. Wrong doing gets the perpetrator into prison; right doing ought to be his only means of getting out."

Ex-Postmaster at Memphis Drowned

MEMPHIS, July 23.—L. W. Dutro, until recently postmaster, a prominent Republican and business man, was drowned late Tuesday afternoon in the Mississippi River while attempting to rescue Mrs. Frankie Bradford Gwynne, daughter of a Mrs. Bradford, of Brownsville, Tenn. Mrs. W. F. Brooks, wife of a Selma, Ala., railroad mechanic, a third member of the party, did not go in wading. A step-off in the river bed caused the death of Dutro and Mrs. Gwynne.

Mrs. Gwynne, a handsome brunette, worked circulation contests on various Southern papers.

MANAGES GROCERY HOUSE.

WAYCROSS.—M. R. Catherwood has been made manager of the Waycross wholesale grocery business of the Joseph Hull Company, succeeding James Knox, who resigned to engage in other business in Waycross.

BURGLAR ADMITS SUIT CASE THEFTS

Miller, Caught Robbing Store, Confesses When Accused by Detective Who Posed as Pal.

R. W. Miller, held by the police on a charge of breaking into Gober's store, at No. 30 Carroll street, confessed to numerous thefts of suit cases from passenger stations when confronted with a member of the detective force who had been masquerading with him as a pal, according to the police.

P. W. Reeves, captured with Miller, grew sullen during the grilling and would say nothing. Chief Lanford told of the new evidence Wednesday.

When Miller and Reeves were trapped Monday night a third man escaped through a window. At the police station the pair denied all guilt. Then the detective, whose name Chief Lanford refuses to disclose, confronted them. Reeves branded the detective a liar. For a moment violence was feared.

Miller's home, near Red Oak, was searched Tuesday afternoon. A suit case and a pair of white canvas shoes, stolen from the Terminal station on July 4, were found.

Miller and Reeves will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles Thursday.

SEEKING SHERIFF'S PLACE.

SAVANNAH.—Robert Saussy has qualified as a candidate for Sheriff of Chatham County in the primary election of July 30. The time for qualifying has expired, leaving the race between Mr. Saussy and Colonel Merrett W. Dixon.

A Beautiful Face

with clear eyes—unwrinkled skin and vivacious manner comes to the girl who is freed from the nervous tension—the headaches, backaches and pain that sap her strength at irregular intervals and make her old before her time. She can be rescued from such slavery by taking the right remedy.

Dr. Pierce's

Favorite Prescription

has been sold by druggists for over forty years and always gives satisfaction.

CRAWFORD WILL CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Uncertainty Regarding Frank Trial Results in Delay Until Next Monday.

Because of the uncertainty regarding the trial of Leo M. Frank, Auditor James L. Anderson Wednesday postponed the hearing of the Crawford will case until next Monday, at the request of Reuben Arnold, counsel for Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, who is also connected with the defense of Frank.

Mr. Anderson announced that should the Frank trial again be postponed the Crawford case will be called at that time, but should Judge Roan decide to call Frank's trial for Monday morning the hearing of the will case will be indefinitely postponed, its resumption to be governed entirely by the disposition of the Frank case.

Plan to Explode Poison Claim.

The postponing of the hearing on Wednesday morning prevented the introduction of what Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim is their most convincing evidence in Mrs. Crawford's denial that she had killed her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, by poisoning him. It is understood that they had planned to place Dr. J. W. Hurt, Crawford's family physician, on the stand.

Dr. Hurt, Mrs. Crawford's attorneys claim, will testify that while attending Mr. Crawford during his last illness, he frequently gave him morphine and other drugs to allay the pain. These drugs given by Dr. Hurt, the defense will claim, are what Dr. Harris found in Crawford's stomach when the body was exhumed and a post-mortem made.

It is probable that Dr. Hurt will be one of the first witnesses when the hearing is resumed, which, unless the Frank trial is postponed, probably will not be until about the middle of August.

Search On For Barber.

Attorneys for the heirs-at-law stated Wednesday that they will continue the search for Fred Lumb, the barber who is charged with being Mrs. Crawford's accomplice in the alleged poison plot. Unable to locate Lumb in New York, where he was last heard of, it is planned to extend the search all over the United States.

Attorney J. S. James, chief of counsel for the heirs, said that Lumb has lived in different parts of the United States under various names, all of which are known. It is suspected that Lumb is living under one of the names he has formerly used, and efforts will be made to obtain trace of him.

Student Dedicates Chinese Restaurant

"If people would look about them and learn from others, the world would be better," declared Timothy Tingfang Lew, a young Chinese student of the University of Georgia, in an address at the opening of a new Chinese restaurant at 86 1-2 North Broad street Tuesday night.

"Everybody can learn something from those about him," he continued. "And every nation can learn something from the study of the customs of other nations. If people would study other people they would know more."

Usury Is Charged to Columbus Mill Man

COLUMBUS, July 23.—G. W. Maddox, a cotton mill man, of this city, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with usury, the warrant having been issued in Justice McCrory's court, and the charges made by T. A. Youngblood, a mill operative.

It is alleged that Maddox, under whom many people were employed, would lend them money, charging the operatives 5 per cent per week.

After the Bath

Air-Float Talcum Powder—borated, perfumed—guaranteed pure.

TALCUM PUFF COMPANY

Mixers and Manufacturers, Bush Terminal Bldg., BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Air-Float Talcum Powder 10 cents a box

BINGHAM SCHOOL'S central purpose for 120 years has been to make Men of Boys. Asheville climate world renowned. Organization Military. Two details from U. S. Army allowed to N. C. The A. & M. College has one, Bingham the other. Target and Gallery practice, with latest U. S. Army Rifles. Lake for Swimming. Summer Camp during July and August. Tuition and Board $150 per Half Term. $300 a year. Address Col. R. Bingham, Box 6, Asheville, N. C.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination are Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS AND SKIN DISEASES

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Eczema, Rheumatism, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly contracted and chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the purest and best of drugs, are supplied from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing and if I can help you I will.

DR. J. D. HUGHES, Opposite Third National Bank, 16 1-2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

U. S. Promises Aid to Akin's Drainage Plan

A fight for a favorable report on his bill appropriating $5,000 to drain swamp lands in Georgia will be made by Representative L. R. Akin before the Appropriations Committee of the House when the bill comes up for consideration Thursday afternoon.

The amount requested is to be met by an equal amount from the Federal Government. The Government also will furnish engineers and all other details. According to Mr. Akin the Secretary of Agriculture has agreed to all this.

TO PROBE SLAYING.

COLUMBUS. — When the Law and Equity Court of Lee County, Alabama, convenes on August 4 the Grand Jury will take up the case of Homer Carmack, charged with entering the store of J. J. Folk recently and hacking him to death with a butcher knife.

Great July Pre-Inventory Sale at

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

A "Let-Go" of Fine Linens

Prices Drop to Half and Less for This Most Extraordinary Clearaway

"Clean Stocks" is our slogan—our rigid Pre-Inventory Policy is not to carry over any soiled merchandise nor odds and ends.

That's the reason for the finest linens in the South being offered at a fraction of their value.

To our certain knowledge no Southern store ever offered linens of such qualities at these near-half and less-than-half prices.

The left aisle table and counters are heaped high with values. Though the sale is scheduled for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—it is plain that the best Bargains will be snapped up Thursday. Selling starts at 8:30 with these unprecedented values.

Finest Table Linens at Exactly Half Price

French table linens—acknowledged the finest in the world. Oddments—only one pattern of a kind. Two or more patterns, however, at the same price:

$20 cloth, 2x2 1-2 yards, at $10.00.
$25 cloth, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, at $12.50.
$30 cloth, 2 1-2x3 yards, at $15.00.
$25 dozen napkins, 27 in. size, $12.50.

Fine Lunch Sets

Beautiful qualities of high grade linens. Cloths are hemstitched or scalloped. Dozen napkins to complete each set. Just about a dozen sets in all, to clear them, we make these pre-inventory prices:

$12.50 Linen sets, $6.90.
$15.00 Linen sets, $8.50.

Napkins in the Sale

$2.98 doz., 22 1-2 in. size, values $4 and $4.50.
$5.98 doz., 27-inch size, values $7.50 to $9.
$7.98 doz., 27-inch size values $10 to $15.

$5 German Damask Lunch Sets Only $1.98

All linen damask lunch sets in various colored designs. The cloths are 63x63 inches, neatly hemstitched. Half dozen 14-inch napkins complete the set.

Scalloped Table Cloths

A few odd scalloped cloths that are a little soiled. Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2 1-4 x 2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2 x 2 1-2 prices:

$8.50 Scalloped cloths, $4.90.
$10.00 Scalloped cloths, $5.90.
$12.50 Scalloped cloths, $6.90.
$15.00 Scalloped cloths, $8.90.

Soiled Table Cloths

Though these linens need a tubbing, they will emerge with their "bloom" and "finish" intact. High grade linens; full 100 per cent flax; honest to the last thread; the grades you would gladly buy at full price. Here's how they go to-morrow:

$6.50 to $8.50 Cloths at $3.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4 yards, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3 yards.

$8, $10 & $12.50 Cloths at $4.90
Sizes are 2x2 yards, 2x2 1-2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1-2 yards, 2 1-4x2 1-4, 2 1-2x2 1-2 yards, 2 1-2x3, 2 1-2x3 1-2 yards.

$13.50 to $16.50 Cloths at $9.90
Extremely fine tablecloths in all sizes up to 2 1-2x4 yards.

Pre-Inventory Pencil Pushes Down Prices on Rich's Staple Black Silks

Standard $1 and $1.25 Black Silks at 59c

Rich's black silks in a sale. And at an average half price! It is almost as if a grocer sold sugar at half. For Rich's black silks are as staple and as standard.

You can choose from soft, lustrous black LOUISINE; the fashionable black FAILLE FRANCAIS; the gracious ever-wearing GROSGRAIN; a magnificent MOURNING SILK; the beautiful SATIN BENGALINE. Widths range from 20 to 27 inches. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 a yard; to-morrow at 59c.

Prices on $1.00 to $2.00 Silks Slashed to 49c

You will be astonished at the values; the quantities; the varieties; the lovely $1.00 to $2.00 silks that are offered at 49c.

You have choice of 42-inch all-silk chiffons; flower silks, odd silks; 27-inch chiffon taffetas in changeables and solid colors; novelty silks, including many desirable weaves and patterns. Lengths from 3 to 30 yards. Not a yard worth less than $1.00; most of them formerly priced at $1.50 to $2.50. Choice 49c.

55c for 85c to $1.50 Silks—the 85c and $1.00 silks are spot-proof foulards, in choice patterns and favored colors. The $1.50 silks are Dolly Madison patterns, pretty floral designs, new this season.

79c for $1.00 Messalines—choice of our entire stock of $1 yard-wide Messalines, except black or white.

$1.19 for $1.50 silk and wool Poplins—the beauty of silk wedded to the strength of wool. Soft and sheer, with classic grace. Leading shades of navy and Copenhagen, also black and brown. 42 inches wide.

33c for 59c Silk Foulards—navy grounds, with neat pin and polka dots. 23 in.

$1.39 for $1.75 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines—includes our entire stock of $1.75 Crepe de Chines in full pieces, except black or white, and all $2 to $3.50 Crepe de Chines in dress lengths.

25c for 50c to 85c silks—solid color messalines and wash silks and short lengths of staple and novelty silks. The yard, 25c.

(Silk Annex—Main Floor, Left)

To Sell These Stockings Quickly, We Have Slashed the Prices

Nothing wrong with the stockings, save that they are odd lots and broken lines that we won't invoice. So we empty the boxes and group the different lots on three tables at 29c, 49c and 59c.

Stockings are variously of lisle and silk lisle, lace and embroidered. Black, tan and a few white and colors. All sizes at each price.

29c; values to 50c.
49c; values to 75c.
59c; values to $1.25.

(Main Floor, Right)

A Parasol Sale at $1.98

Choose any summer parasol in stock, whether its former price was $2.50, $3, $3.50 or $4, at $1.98.

Something like four score in all, in solid colors; Roman stripes; solid colors with floral or Persian borders; plaids and other fancies. Novelty and regulation shapes. Leading colors and combinations. Select the parasol you like—there's a saving of about half at $1.98.

Half Price Sale Toys, Games, Etc.

Final outclearing Friday and Saturday of all kinds of dolls, doll buggies, children's furniture, toys, vehicles and games. Most of the articles are at half price; some even less than half.

(Toy Annex—Main Floor, Right)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

:: The Amateur Gardener ::

A Complete Short Story

"THERE'S not much need for a watering can, any way, just now, is there?"

Corporal John Smith straightened his back and looked at his questioner.

"You've only just moved in, haven't you?" he asked irrelevantly. "Your front lawn has been neglected for some time."

"Yes, I only came the other day. My name's Paley—Richard Paley. I have heard you spoken of already as Mr. Smith—Police Corporal Smith, I think. Several people told me about your skill as a gardener, and I have had a peep or two on the sly. They told me the truth, any way. But it is the grass that takes my eye so much. I've never seen a plot look so smooth and green—so velvety, I might say."

"Oh, I'm proud of that grass. It's really very simple when you get a start. It takes time, of course; but careful sowing and plenty of rolling will work wonders if you have anything like a decent bit of ground to begin with."

"I must have a lesson or two," said Paley, smiling. "It would just suit me to have a bit of green like that in front of the window."

"I'm sure I shall be pleased to help you," said Corporal Smith.

"I'll make a start to-morrow, then. May I borrow your mower and roller for a day or two?"

"Certainly."

For the next few days Mr. Paley paid great attention to his garden.

"I don't see much difference in my lawn yet," he said, after about a week had passed. "Do you think the roller is heavy enough for my lawn?"

"Don't make a mistake and have the roller too heavy," said Smith. "I do sometimes put a brick or two inside for a bit of extra weight, but you certainly could do with it a bit heavier. Don't be in too big a hurry to get it done."

More Suggestions.

"I'll tell what I'll do, if you don't mind," said Mr. Paley. "I'll have the ends of your roller boarded up, with a hole left so that I can put in a quantity of sand."

"Well, I don't mind. It would perhaps be a better and more convenient way of getting what you want."

"Thanks! I'll have it done, then," said Paley, turning away.

A day or two later he called his neighbor's attention to the roller in its new form, and the latter walked round into the next garden.

"I see you've got an evening paper. What's the latest score?"

"There's a paragraph that will interest you professionally," said Paley, referring once more to the paper.

"What's that?" inquired Smith.

"You remember that big robbery a week or two since?"

"Yes. They got away with about $4,000 worth of stuff, I remember."

"More than that, I should think. The paper says that the police have got some slight clew, which they are following up."

"I should like to get my fingers on some of that stolen property," said Corporal Smith.

"In cases like this, it seems to me," said Paley, "that the police are often outwitted in quite a simple manner. The safest method to hide such stuff as this would be to put it just under their noses. They get so full of fantastic theories, and look so far away, that they will miss what is just within reach of their fingers if they did but know it.

A Dollar Bet.

"Perhaps you may be right to some extent," said Smith. "You know, of course, that the information supplied to the papers is not all that the police have, and sometimes it is even published as a blind."

"Yes, that is so, certainly; but I still think that the police miss frequently what is quite close to them."

"Well," said Smith, "I must stick up for my own side. We'll take this as a test case if you like, and see what comes of it."

"All right," returned Paley. "I'm agreeable. As a bit of sport, we'll put a dollar on it, shall we? Besides, it will be of interest to us locally, as the report states that a suspected man has been traced into this district. So you may have a bit of luck after all. Who knows?"

"I should be very glad to. And if the man is down here I may even have a chance. I'll see what the paper has to say, though I expect to hear something officially."

"Well, good-night," said Mr. Paley.

The clicking of the latch on the gate made both men look in that direction.

"Ah!" murmured Smith. "This is Detective Smart, who has charge of the very case we have been discussing. I shall be hearing something reliable now."

He noticed, with surprise, the start that Paley gave on hearing the name; but it was nothing to his astonishment when the detective walked directly up to Paley, placed his hand on him and arrested him in the strictly formal manner under the name of Robert Pearout.

"Why, sergeant," he gasped, "this is Mr. Richard Paley."

"He may have given you that name, but I know him as Robert Pearout," replied the detective.

Smith stared at the prisoner.

"It's quite true that is my real name," said the latter dejectedly, "and I have deceived you. It may look black against me, going under a false name; but I have a good excuse for that. I know they can't prove anything against me, and I'm sure to be at liberty again soon."

The house he had occupied was thoroughly searched, but nothing of importance was found. There was strong circumstantial evidence that he was in some way mixed up in the affair, even if he were not the moving spirit. All the efforts of the police to bring it home to him were futile, and he was at length released.

He greeted Smith at the earliest opportunity.

"Just what I told you!" he said. "Your men, with their far-fetched theories, made a wild grasp at me, but were wrong again. I did get into trouble once, but have gone straight since. I am a marked man though now, and I shall soon be going."

The next morning he had disappeared, nor was any trace of him afterward discovered.

A Find.

Smith was prevented by the bad weather from pursuing his hobby. When at last the sun shone he found that the absconding Mr. Paley had not returned his gardening implements, and he had to fetch them himself.

The relief he found much too heavy for his purpose and he proceeded to empty it.

At length the running of the sand was interrupted by something inside.

Poking this out with a stick, he was astonished to find wrapped in a piece of newspaper a small jewel case, which he at once recognized as part of the stolen property.

With eager fingers he opened his prize; but his hopes were immediately dashed to the ground when he found the sole contents was a slip of paper addressed to himself.

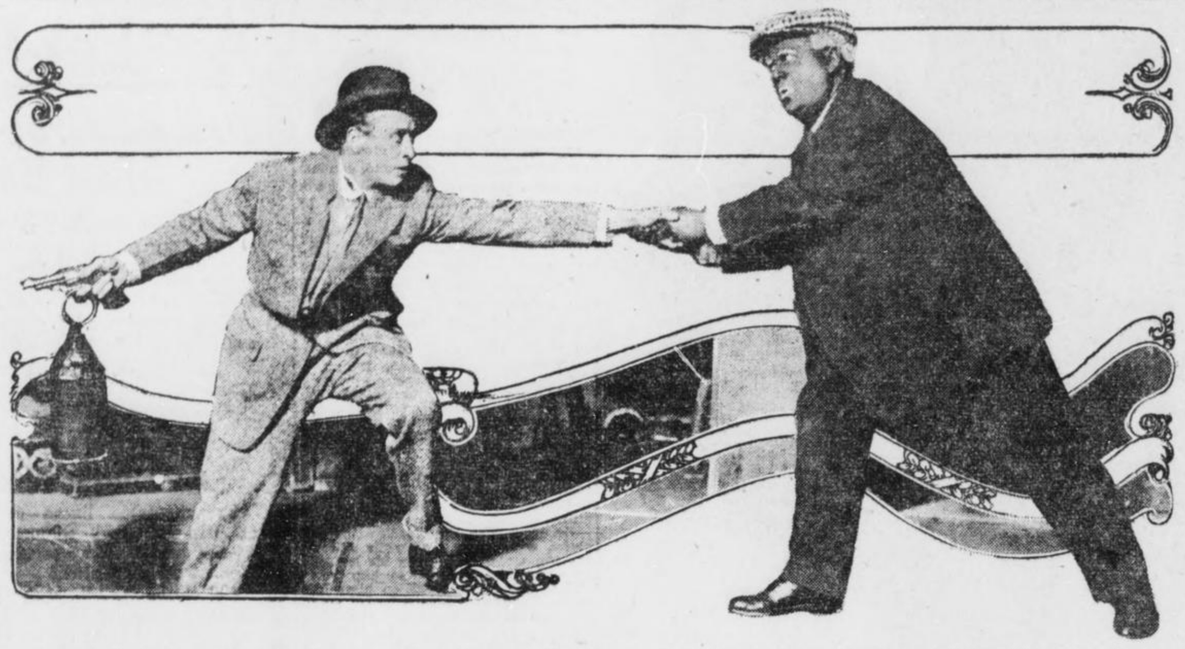
"Dear Mr. Smith," it ran, "many thanks for your roller, of which I made good use. The police do miss things close under their noses and within reach of their fingers. Had you emptied the roller sooner your luck would have been better. You owe me a dolar. Please get some one to cut and roll the grass. I should not be contented if I thought that all my energy in that direction had been wasted. Gratefully yours,

"ROBERT PEAROUT,
"Alias
"RICHARD PALEY."

The Ghost Breaker

By C. W. Goddard and Paul Dickey

THE DEATH TRAP IN THE CASTLE



Rusty cautiously approached with the lighted lantern. Warren took it in his left hand and held out his right.

"Take a good grip, Rusty. Can you hold me?"

"Yes, sah!" Rusty crouched back and set himself.

Jarvis cautiously stepped out with his left foot. A four-foot strip of the floor sank under the light weight and the other end nearest the wall rose. If he had been walking at an ordinary gait nothing could have saved him. The speed of his rush and his remarkable agility carried forward far enough for the weight of his upper body to strike the rising end of the trap and thus shut it again.

crumbled to the floor, less than half conscious.

Jarvis dropped his useless revolver and picked up a chair, which was the nearest thing at hand. He swung it up in front of him just as the third blow descended. The chair was split, but chairs were made to stand rough treatment in the day it was constructed, and the brass-bound joints hung together and entangled the sword blade.

Instantly Jarvis recognized his one chance—to rush his foeman so rapidly to the rear that he would be forced to surrender his sword or fall over backward, pulled down by the weight of steel. He put his back into a mighty shove and lurched forward, as he had done at school when he was always good for two yards against the best linemen in the American colleges. The ghostly knight clattered backward, trying to wrench free his weapon, while Jarvis thrust the battered chair at his head and gave him no purchase for a strong wrench at the sword.

Suddenly Jarvis felt himself going forward on to his face and regained his balance by a mighty effort. The resistance was gone. He swung up the chair for a blow and—nearly stepped into the closing trapdoor.

There was a faint splash and—silence.

Warren darted back to the table and picked up his revolver. He leaned there for a few moments, weak and panting. It had all been so sudden, so unexpected and was over so quickly that but for the empty pedestal and the sword on the floor by the trap he would hardly have been able to believe it had happened at all.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

The Most Exciting Serial of the Year.

SERIALIZED

By J. W. McCONAUGHY

(Copyright, 1913, by Star Co.)

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"They're trying to scare us, Rusty," he cried, battling with a sudden panic that came upon him with an overwhelming rush. "They're trying to scare us—they're probably watching every move we make! That's where that pounding comes from—d—n 'em! Why don't they shoot? They're trying to scare us—like they did the poor boob down in the village!"

He set his teeth hard and stood still until his manhood conquered. The running continued as before but there was no nervous strain in his voice now as he drove Rusty back to the fireplace, where the wall and floor looked solid.

"They want to get us out of this room—they want to get us out of here. Rusty, some one was working in this room! Now, where was he working? Where was he——"

"Marse Warren, look heah!"

Rusty, with great terror, had had a greater eye for details. His big black hand darted out along the mantelpiece and came back with a small mallet and chisel. Warren took them eagerly. He knew—he was certain the mantel was empty less than half an hour before.

"Good boy, Rusty!" he exclaimed, as he returned them. "Now I'll tell you something—these are his tools. Some one was working in this room and we have beaten him to it. Now, where was he working?"

He looked about him carefully.

The Portrait.

"Mortar on the floor—mortar on the mantel—look at that!"

A crevice between two of the big stones above the fireplace showed where the night worker had been busy.

"That's where he was working, Rusty! And we've beat him to it! We've beat——"

He stopped abruptly as if a voice had interrupted him. Both stood perfectly still for several seconds and then simultaneously they turned and stared at the picture of the old grandee. Each was unconscious that the other had made the same movement until Rusty looked at his master.

"Did you feel it, too, Marse Warren?" he asked in a hushed voice.

Warren did not reply. His eyes were shining like stars. He slowly raised the pistol to cover the ancient don, and then with slow, cautious steps he walked up to him.

Rusty watched in shivering silence. The swinging lantern and the fire-light threw long, grotesque, leaping shadows about the recesses of the dim and musty hall. Somewhere in the groined roof bats were squeaking and in the eerie hush even those fine notes were audible. Occasionally a faint sound from the walls or beneath the floor told of the presence of the dread night-walkers of the old castle. Rusty drew farther back into the glare of the fire and kept his round, terrified eyes on his master.

Jarvis advanced noiselessly until he was within easy arm's reach of the portrait. He held up his lantern and scrutinized its surface. Apparently the canvas was without a break. The old grandee held his marshal's baton on his hip and glared haughtily over the head of the irreverent child of the young people.

The ghost breaker had read of the habits of old pictures in feudal castles and he gave the frame particular attention. Seemingly it was set into the wall and had not been disturbed for a hundred years. He rapped the fierce old captain about the midriff with his knuckles. There was the usual wood backing of the canvas, but the sound was not hollow.

Warren backed away, still staring, and wiped his forehead with his handkerchief.

"By God, that's weird!" he muttered, in an uncertain voice. "You could feel that just as plain!"

He backed into the low pedestal of one of the steel-clad warriors at the side of the stairs and sat down, still staring at the picture.

"By God, that's weird!" he repeated, again and again. Rusty, owl-eyed, gazed also.

"It sure is, Marse Warren; it sure is. It—"

Rusty turned his eyes to his master to offer an explanation and nearly dropped, speechless and dead. The figure in armor had turned halfway round on its pedestal and had raised the old two-handed Thirteenth Century sword on which it had been leaning to deal a blow on the young man's head that would have split him to the waist.

Ghost or ghost breaker never achieved the equal of the yell that burst from Rusty's mighty lungs. The very power and suddenness of it caused Jarvis to leap a half dozen feet forward into the room, and even as he jumped he realized that the danger was real and must be from his rear, and he wheeled, with revolver poised and cocked, as the sword blade came down on the stone with a ringing crash.

At the same instant Jarvis fired full into the steel cuirass. The next—and the man in armor sprang down the steps, raising his weapon for another blow. Again Jarvis fired and leaped to one side as the sword came down. So close was it that the flat of the blade brushed his coat sleeve. But, worse than this, he knew in a flash that the armored murderer was proof against soft-nosed bullets.

Weighted by his armor, the swordsman wheeled slowly in pursuit. Jarvis was practically cornered between the great table and his adversary. Rusty was in the enemy's rear, but he had

:: :: Real Freedom :: ::

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

ANOTHER assigned a trivial household task to her daughter, and the girl rebelled. She preferred to loll in a chair and read the latest fiction.

"I detest housework," she snapped; "I despise that word 'Duty' you talk so much about; I hate being ordered around in this way. I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please."

And when the noble Bird of Freedom heard her make this speech, it hung its head on its breast, and drooped its tail feathers in shame.

It knew that no freedom comes with matrimony, but that freedom ends at its portals. It knew that the day was coming when the same girl would look back with a sigh at the liberty she enjoyed as a girl, and of which she now showed so little appreciation.

The mother also knew it, and her reply to her daughter's speech was a sigh. How many times a mother's answer is a sigh only the good Lord knows. It is an expression of pain that goes unheeded on earth, but that is recorded against the one who evoked it in Heaven.

Extravagances.

Though the amount is usually limited, there are few girls these days who do not have spending money with which to do as they please. Obsessed by the passion of possession they buy flowers, ribbons, [illegible] gloves, little necessities and more frilles, few of which outlast their brief season. There is no one to object; no one to question; no one to scold when the bills come in. The girl who wants a pretty flower buys it without the nagging consciousness that it would be better to spend the money for potatoes. She is free, with her little or much, to do as she pleases.

The majority of girls are engaged in some sort of lucrative employment, and all their time is not their own, but the hour comes at last when the typewriter is closed, the loom is quiet, the sewing machine covered, and the books put back on their shelves. Often the day is too long, and the labor too arduous for the pay received, but it always ends at last and for a time the girl is free.

She has a few hours of sweet liberty when she may go for a ride, a swim, or to dance, or to lie undisturbed in a corner and rest. Her life for a brief period, is all her own, with to-day's work ended and no intrusion of the duties of to-morrow.

But when asked to do a little household task for which she lacks inclination, she says irritably, "I will be glad when I am married and can do as I please!"

The noble Bird of Freedom, my dear girls, is never an emblem of wifehood. That little gold band that is put on a girl's finger at the altar is a link in a chain which, in the great majority of cases, is as binding as that worn by a slave.

The married woman who has as much freedom as a girl is a creature existing only in fairy tale and imagination. Her time, her money, her thoughts, her soul and body are no longer her own. Free as a girl to serve herself, she condemns herself to life in the servitude of others when she marries.

She formerly purchased for one, and bought as she pleased. She now buys for two, often with less money to buy with, and must account for all she spends. In the same way that a dollar is not her own, neither may an hour be called hers to do with as she likes. If you doubt this, my dear girl, look at your mother.

What She Does.

How often does she say, "I want this for myself?" Do you ever hear her express the intention of going where SHE pleases? How many times in your whole life have you seen her at her ease without household task in her hands? When she takes a seat isn't it that she may hold the baby?

Marry, by all means, and may you marry well and happily. But don't enter that state believing that you will be as free as a bird once you are a wife.

Go into it knowing the sacrifices you must make. Go into it knowing that nothing is purchased in this world without its price, and the price of love is the ending of all the precious freedom of girlhood.

Perhaps this knowledge may make you better appreciate the liberty you enjoy to-day, and give you an understanding of matrimony that will rob you of all discontent and envy if your days of girlhood are indefinitely prolonged.

Perhaps, also—and this is my greatest hope—it may make you more tender and helpful with the burdens of the one in whose chain of slavery you are unconsciously a link—your mother.

$5 PREMOETTES JR. $5

This is the Camera to take on that vacation of yours. Makes good pictures for you with practically no effort on your part. Let Jno. L. Moore & Sons put one of these in your suit case. 42 N. Broad St.

:: :: A Girl's Room :: ::

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-day"

A GIRL'S character and individuality are very clearly shown by the condition and contents of her own bedroom. If she is neat and orderly, careful of her belongings, or careless, wasteful, destructive or extravagant, these traits are distinctly emphasized in her room. Tastes which are refined and cultivated, or tastes which are trivial and mean, are reflected there. Her surroundings show her culture, or the need of it.

The habit of keeping her room, desk and clothes in order, having a place for everything, and everything in its place, is an immense help toward training in method, accuracy and thoroughness. A girl may well practice these simple but necessary rules of orderliness. They will be an aid toward character building and an aid toward the making of a wider sphere of influence. It is generally acknowledged that those who are negligent of order are untrustworthy and incapable, fretful and unhappy.

A girl's room may be a place to help to mold her character to the ideal girl she wishes to be. "I used to be very spasmodic about keeping my room in order," said a girl. "I waited until it was in frightful disorder; then I rearranged everything. But my experience is that the habit of putting my things in order, and the harder task of keeping them so, is a tremendous help in managing myself. If I can manage all the little external things, it is easier to sort out good thoughts from hurtful, wasteful thoughts, and keep character in order."

If a girl loves books and pictures a few of them, at least, will be in her room. She knows that a well-furnished mind is like a well-appointed room, and that by forming a habit of reading and arranging time for the companionship of a good book in the day's work, she will not only increase her intellectual work and the facility with which she learns, but will make her an interesting woman. The girl who has a bright, wideawake mind uses her talents and never ceases to be receptive. Her books are not the passing, ephemeral novels of the day. She does not spoil her taste by reading too much trash, but she gets the right start, learns to choose the books worth reading, and she cultivates reading, not as a task, but for the great enjoyment it gives. And so a girl has her bookshelf, where she accumulates gradually her collection of books. On the walls she has a few good pictures. These may be neatly-framed prints, or photographs of famous pictures of the world. They are within the means of most girls, and those who love beauty and culture will not fail to have them.

If possible, each girl in a family should have her own room, where she may have opportunities for being alone, and for cultivating her own resources; where she may read, study, paint or sew. In this way she is helped to depend on her individual interests rather than on the excitement of constant companionship. If a girl's room is merely a transient spot to sleep and dress in, and not a place to read and think in, she can not understand the pleasure of a room of her own. Facilities for solitude are not encouraged enough in home life, yet they should be recognized as a necessity for growth of character. In the quiet half hours of solitude strength of soul is formed to face perplexities or temptations, to commune with one's own heart and conscience, and thus to solve hard problems.

INDIGESTION?

Stop it quickly; Have your grocer send you one doz. bottles of

SHIVAR GINGER ALE

Drink with meals, and if not promptly relieved, get your money back at our expense. Wholesome, delicious, refreshing. Prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water and the purest flavoring materials.

SHIVAR SPRING, Manufacturers

SHELTON, S. C.

L. L. ADAMS CO., Distributors, Atlanta.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY

1374 PEACHTREE ROAD - - - - ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

1. Boarding Department limited. $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Building, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air class rooms.
3. Courses in Domestic Science and Physical Training a part of regular curriculum.
4. Departments: Kindergarten, Primary, Academic, College Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression.

Thirty-sixth Session begins SEPTEMBER 11th, 1913.

Write for illustrated catalogue.—B. L. D. and EMMA B. SCOTT, Principals.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL

PABLO BEACH, FLA.

10-hour ride from Atlanta, 17 miles from Jacksonville, Fla. Most accessible asd best beach resort for Atlantans or Georgians. American plan. Reasonable rates.

Take Your Vacation at

Wrightsville Beach

Near Wilmington, N. C.

Splendid hotels; finest beach on Atlantic Coast; best sea and sound fishing; electric train service to city. No end to indoor and outdoor amusements. Reduced railroad rates. For literature and other information write to

E. L. Hinton, Mgr. Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
C. E. Hooper, Mgr. Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.
H. C. Foss, Mgr. Hanover Inn, Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

TATE SPRING

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A high, cool, healthful resort, in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains of East Tennessee, an unexcelled climate.

Modern hotel—one thousand acre park and grounds—eighteen hole golf course—saddle horses—fine five-piece orchestra for concerts and dancing and that most famous of all American Mineral Waters,

TATE SPRING NATURAL MINERAL WATER

always a help, nearly always a cure in indigestion, nervousness and all ailments attributable to improper functions of the bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Hoss, Bishop Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to say that I regard Tate Spring water as the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys of which I have knowledge."

Enjoy the healthful water at the spring or have it shipped to your home. For sale by all druggists, in sterilized bottles, filled and sealed at the spring.

Send postal to-day for illustrated booklet, giving rates, location and description of this ideal place for the summer outing. Address

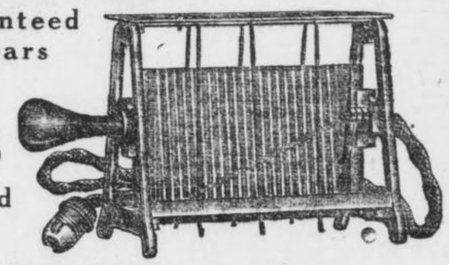
TATE SPRING HOTEL CO.

S. B. ALLEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR,
TATE SPRING, TENN.

ATLANTA MINERAL WATER CO., LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS.

Toasts While You Eat

Guaranteed 3 Years



$1.95 Postpaid

"O. K." Toasts at Table

The O. K. Electric Toaster gives you the pleasure of toasting right on the table while you eat. It means no gas or kitchen odors, no burnt toast or burnt fingers. With the O. K. Toaster you toast while you eat.

Unusual Price 3-Yr. Guarantee You cannot buy an electric toaster anywhere near as good as the O. K. for anywhere near the price of the O. K. The 3-year guarantee is absolute. If, within 3 years, the O. K. becomes defective, we will replace it with a new toaster.

The O. K. Toaster is a bargain you cannot find anywhere else. It is 8 inches wide and stands 5 inches high. It has a 6-foot asbestos-lined cord and it is heavily nickel plated. Is for direct or alternating current, 100 or 125 volts.

10-Day Trial Send Coupon Send for the O. K. Toaster this very day. Toast with it for 10 days and if it is not O. K. in every way, just return it and your money will be refunded. Be sure to send coupon as no orders can be filled without coupon. The coupon is worth real money.

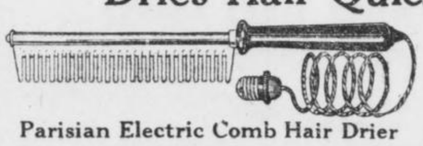
Dries Hair Quick



$1.95 Postpaid 3-Year Guarantee

Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier

Every Woman Needs It

There is not a woman, young or old, who does not need the Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier. In one minute it is ready for use; in 15 minutes it has dried your hair perfectly. All the electricity goes into heating the comb; no electricity comes in contact with the user. The comb is never hot enough to injure the hair. The Parisian Electric Comb Hair Drier is 11 inches long, with a 6-foot cord. It is of aluminum and is highly polished. It can be attached to any 100 to 125 volt electric light socket, either direct or alternating current.

Special Price This Comb has never been offered at less $3.00. By a special arrangement with the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer it at the special price of $1.95, postpaid, with each Comb goes this unconditional guarantee—If, within 3 years, it proves defective, we will replace it with a new Comb.

10-Day Trial Send for the Parisian Electric Comb and Drier to-day. Use it 10 days. If not altogether satisfactory return it and your money will be returned. Be sure to send coupon with order. No orders can be filled without coupon.

COUPON

This coupon and $1.95 entitles sender to one O. K. Electric Toaster or one Parisian Electric Comb and Drier on 10 days trial.

Western Merchandise & Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.

WESTERN MERCHANDISE & SUPPLY CO.

326 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

PA took Ma & me out on the lake fishing bullheds last nite. We stayed out on the lake a long time & it was getting lite wen we got hoam. Ma was gitting cross, too.

Wife, sed Pa, wen we started out, you may not know it, but a bullhed is better eeting than any other fresh water fish. A bulhead isent the prittiest thing in the world to look at, Pa sed, beeing moar or less slimy, like a eel, & with a big hed & two sharp thorns one on eech side of its neck. Its eyes are vary small & fathomless, Pa sed, like the eyes of a fat German after a picnic, & it has long whiskers that look like strips of spagetty, but wen you have caught yure bullhed & skinned him, & fried him oaver a nice wood fire, thare isent anything nicer to eet in the wide wurld. Wait till we git a boat load of the grand fish, Pa sed, & I will treet you & littel Bobbie to a feed fit for the gods.

I used to eet bullheds wen I was a littel gurl, sed Ma. My father used to catch them in the mill ponds out in Wisconsin, & if I remember rite thay was awful hard to skin & thay certingly was good eeting. He used to catch them with angelworms, Ma sed.

He was no sportman, sed Pa. I always catch them with flies. I cast for them, Pa sed.

I am going to try wurms, I toald Pa. Harry Misner toald me to always catch them here in this lake with wurms, & I got sum wurms from him for nothing.

A lot of good wurms will do you, sed Pa. You better talk off that hook & git one of these hackle flies on yure line.

No, I sed, I am going to try the wurms.

Wen we got to the place ware Pa thought thare wud be sum bullheds, we put out the ankor & Ma bet Pa a cigar aggenst a box of candy that I wud catch moar bullheds than he caught.

It is like talking candy away from a child, sed Pa, but I will take the wager.

I doant beleeve you will catch a bullhed with a fly, sed Ma. Dident I tell you my father always used wurms?

The bullheds thought yure father was a older brother, sed Pa. I always thought he was a kind of bullhed anyway. He dident seem to think that I wud amount to much as a son in law.

That was wen you were yung & wild, sed Ma. You have improved since you got oalder, & now he likes you vary much & I doant want you to call him a bullhed, eethur.

Jest then I got a bite & pulled in a nice bullhed neerly a foot long.

Good for you, Bobbie, sed Ma. Keep up the good work. Look at old Ike Walton, here, throwing that fly all oaver the top of the water.

Nevver mind me, sed Pa. I will git moar & bigger fish than Bobbie, & then wen he sed that I caught another one.

Poor, deer husband, sed Ma. Why doant you resite the bullheds that peece of poetry you rote for the bankwet the other nite. My father used to resite peeces from Byron & Tom Moore wen he went bullhed fishing. & then I caught a awful big bullhed, that made three.

We mite as well try another spot ware thay will rise to a fly, sed Pa.

This spot is all rite for Bobbie, sed Ma. We will stay rite ware we are.

I caught so many bullheds that I got tired, & all Pa caught with his hackle fly was the rim of Ma's hat.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT IF IT IS WORTH WHILE.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and deeply in love with a man eleven years my senior. He often asked me to go to a show, but I refused. Do you think I will lose his affection by not accepting his invitation?

X. Y. Z.

If he cares for you in the right way, his love is not so easily lost. You do not say why you are refusing his attentions.

Use Cough Drops.

"Muriel," said the old gentleman, sharply, "that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was to cough when the other chaps remained too late and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter. "He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."

Dark, Coarse Skin Made Soft and Fair

Palmer's Skin Whitener

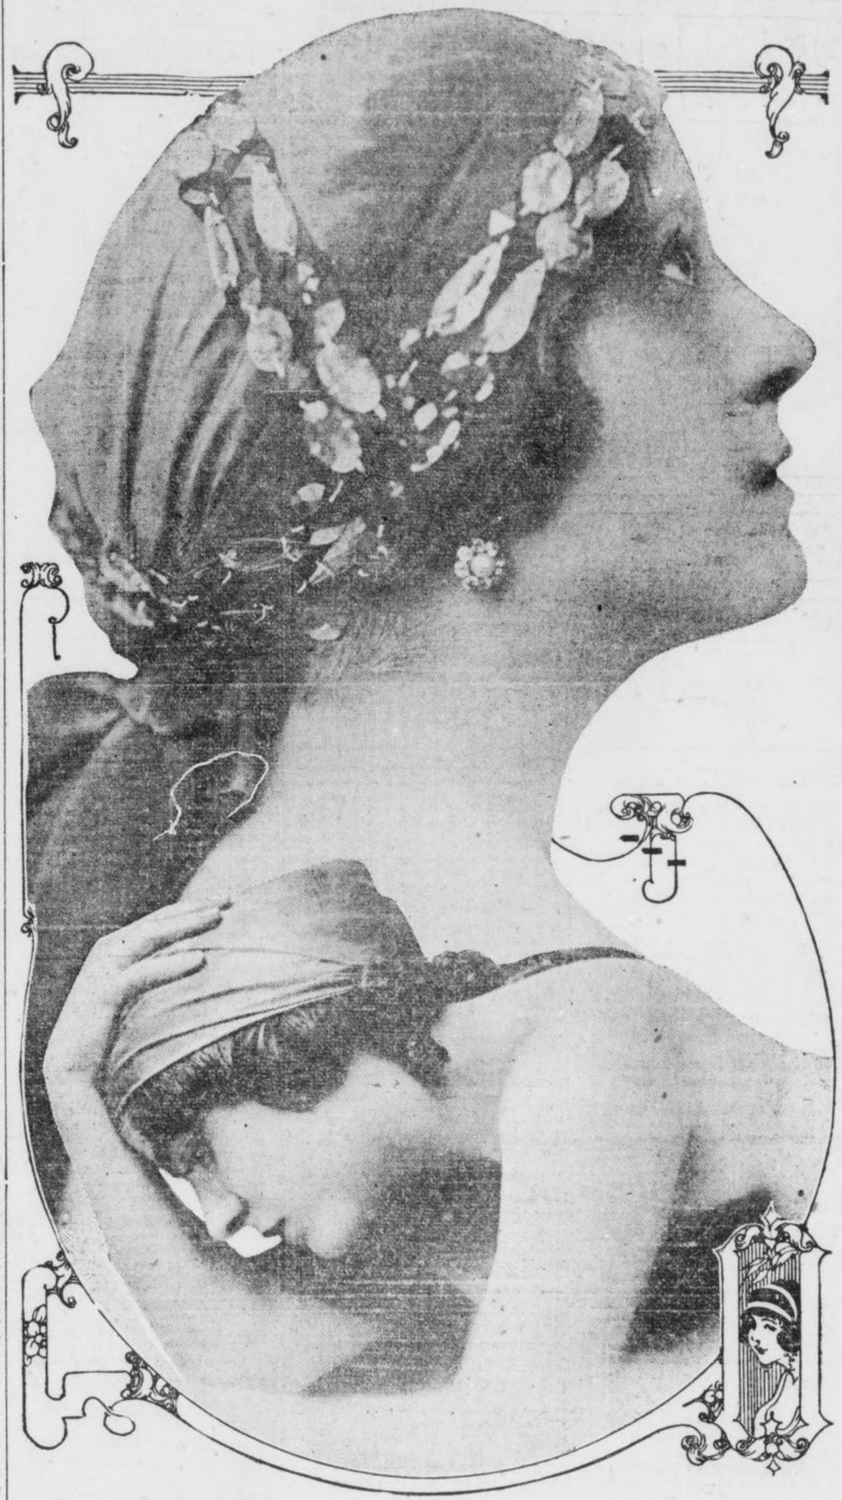
Postpaid 25c Anywhere

All Jacobs' Stores

And Druggists Generally.

Beauty

Mlle. Dazie Tells How to Mould Beautiful Shoulders, and Points Out the Value of Poise.



Mlle. Dazie.

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

I HAVE seen "La Belle Dazie" and she is! Just as bewitchingly pretty is Mademoiselle Dazie in her own dainty Hudson-breeze-swept apartment as when she twinkles her toes at you over the footlights. From her many charms, I singled out the wonderfully clear and well proportioned line of her lovely profile, the beautiful curve of the white shoulders and the soft, luxuriant hair.

"Will you tell me a short cut to the acquisition of these three alders and abettors of beauty, Mademoiselle Dazie?" I asked.

"I will be glad to tel you all I know about it—and I won't pretend that I think that is very little," said the honest star who twinkles under the joint management of B. F. Keith and Martin Beck. "For we women of the stage have to make a study of how to be just as lovely and appealing to audiences as a hoarding of natural resources and a few additions thereto will make us.

On False Hair.

"About a profile—it is a good idea to own a hand-glass and to view one's self side-face once in a while, for the coiffure that looks well from the front may make you look like a caricature of a leap-frog game or a door-knob from the side! Dont' wear false hair if you can avoid it, it will cause your own locks to depart in wrath, and it will in all probability spoil the shape of your head. THE NATURAL CONTOUR OF THE HEAD IS GENERALLY WELL WORTH SHOWING—why won't more feminine persons remember that? A good masseuse to rub in a good tonic; a good brush, with your own arms to apply it faithfully, often and long, and you'll have luxuriant locks to aid an uptilted poise in giving you a good profile. For 'carry the head high' is the first rule for a good profile.

"Oh, and brushing your hair is fine for your arms. Calisthenics and exercise will generally give you rounded contours where you want them. I am pretty slender, you know, and yet I have not scrawny arms or shoulders. JIU JITSU DID THAT. For two years I did a jiu jitsu dance with a man who weighed half again as much as I did, but I was really and truly able to throw him through my knowledge of the Japanese art, and from the beginning of that act I noticed how my shoulders were rounding out and developing. Jiu ought not to be an outworn fad in this country. It is well worth the consideration of any woman who wants to develop into symmetry and strength. That and deep breathing gave me a broad, healthy singer's diaphragm, too. Oh, yes, jiu jitsu, of thee I sing! It gives a woman confidence in her power to take care of herself, and it will aid the underdeveloped woman to put a curve where she wants it and the woman of overluxuriant figure to take off a curve or two.

"I have two more little secrets that I will be glad to give you," went on the generous Dazie. "They are on the subjects of eyes and relaxation."

For the Eyes.

And very important subjects they are, so the interviewer's heart was duly rejoiced at what she was about to receive.

"For eyes, witch hazel diluted as much or as little as you like and applied with a bit of absorbent cotton whenever the eyes are tired or dusty. That cleanses and relaxes them.

"But about real relaxation, I have a theory that I most earnestly practice. Whenever fatigue threatens, I lie down flat on my back with no pillow to break the natural line of the relaxed body. Really, I fairly 'flop.' And there I lie with bodily tension all gone, and mind absolutely blank, and in a state of restful 'suspended animation.' And I get up rested, happy and ready to go on with the day's work.

"I walk, in spite of the fact that most dancers think they get enough leg motion and exercise in the practice of their profession. But I don't believe one can have too much out-of-door life, and I believe in exercise, so I go out and get them both, and when I am tired, I just relax completely, as I have told you.

"I don't sleep late, either, because morning hours are best for accomplishing things."

And as delighted Dazie has accomplished so much in a short life—so much for beauty and for art and for a willingness to work and give more and more of grace and charm to the world, I conclude that her "Morning Hours" really have "accomplished things."

Utterly Crushed.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peeler—a very junior officer—was doing his utmost to make a favorable impression on the pretty nursemaid, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased elusive butterflies.

"Ah," sighed the dashing Robert, "I wish you were my governess!"

"So do I," replied the girl.

Hope sprang into Robert's heart.

"And what would you do with me?" he asked.

"Stop your smoking cigarettes, and get your hair cut—to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours!"

Then Robert ponderously continued on his beat.

ATHENS COLLEGE, ATHENS, ALABAMA.
Governed by Women, for Girls and Women.

Recognized by General Board of Education as an A-Grade College on 14 entrance unit basis. In the foothills of North Alabama, between 800 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Pure freestone water. On main line of L. & N. Railroad. Academy A Grade attached. Twenty-eight in Faculty. Beautiful new School of Music, Art, Oratory, Domestic Science. Resident Graduate Nurse. Health certificate required of all students. Rates moderate—not cheap, but thorough. Apply now. Seventy-first session begins September 17.

MARY NORMAN MOORE, President.

References—Our patrons and the people of the State of Alabama.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ATHENS, GA.

Named by a United States Commissioner of Education as being among the best fitted State Normal Schools in the United States. Fifty-six officers and teachers, ten buildings, eighteen departments of instruction, full certificate courses in Psychology, Pedagogy, English, Expression, Oratory, Mathematics, Science, History, Latin, German, Greek, French, Spanish, Correspondence.

The Home-Life courses are among the strongest in the South. Domestic Arts and Sciences, Manual Arts, Agriculture, Gardening, Home Nursing, Physical Culture, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Sight Singing. Diploma a license to teach. Two Practice Schools. Education for fitness and happiness in the home. Total expenses for a year less than $150.00. Write for Catalogue.

JERE M. POUND, President.

The Discontented :-: Girls :-:

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

DO you know what a wonderfully complicated thing a human being is? Every feature, every portion of your body, every motion you make, reflects your mental organization.

I know a woman past middle life who has always been on the opposite side of every question discussed in her presence.

She was agnostic with the orthodox, reverential with atheists, liberal with the narrow, bigoted with the liberal.

Whatever belief any one expressed on any subject she invariably took the other extreme. She loved to disagree with her fellow men. It was her pastime.

Now, to walk with that woman in silence is merely to carry on a wordless argument.

You can not regulate your steps so they will harmonize with hers. She will be just ahead or just behind you, and if you want to turn to the left, she pulls to the right. A promenade with her is more exhausting than a day's labor.

She is not conscious of it, and would think any one very unreasonable and unjust who told her of her peculiarities.

I know a woman who all her life has been looking afar for happiness and peace and content, and has never found any of them, because she did not look into her own soul.

She was a restless girl, and she married, believing in domestic life lay the goal of her dreams. But she was not happy there and sighed for freedom. She wanted to move, and did move, once, twice, thrice, to different points of the United States. She was discontented with each change. She is to-day possessed of all comforts and luxuries which life can afford, yet she is the same restless soul. She likes to read, but it is always the book which she does not possess which she craves. If she is in the library with shelves book-filled she goes into the garret and hunts in old boxes for a book or a paper which has been cast aside.

If she is in a picture gallery she wants to go to the window and look out on the street, but when she is on the street it bores her and she longs to go in the house.

If a member of the family is absent she gets no enjoyment out of the society of those at home; yet when that absent one returns her mind strays elsewhere, seeking some imagined happiness not found here.

I wonder if such souls ever find it, even in the spirit realm, or if they go on there seeking and always seeking something just beyond. It is a great gift to learn to enjoy the present—to get all there is out of it, and to think of to-day as a piece of eternity. Begin now to teach yourself this great art if you have not thought of it before. To be able to enjoy heaven, one must learn first to enjoy earth.

The Gentle Art

"I DON'T know how you feel about it, Mame," said the tall, willowy creature in the clinging black gown, "but unless trade in this shop picks up it's me to look for another place! The way Mme. Cerise's business has slumped since folks went away for the summer is a caution.

"Look at the way we're stacked up with these here just from Paris glares that nobody would buy after they caught their breath and saw how awful they were! You'd think it was Philadelphia the way the women insisted on quiet little things just before the season closed! And these things marked down to next to nothing!"

"It's fierce!" agreed the other willowy creature in black. "I bet that's a customer—the one looking in at the window."

"You leave her to me!" hissed the first speaker, hastily patting her hair and straightening up. "My land! She's a find! She came in from Persimmon Center with her husband, who brought a carload of live stock, and he's given her a pocketful to spend so's she can go back and give the town a jolt! I could tell it a mile off!

A Greeting.

"Good morning!" she broke off to murmur in velvet tones. "Is there something I can do for you?"

"Oh, yes, you were just looking around. I see. We are always glad to have people come in whether they buy or not. That Bulgarian dress in the window? Do you know, you certainly have an eye for style, to pick out something like that, which is the very latest thing—we just unpacked it this morning. The shipment was delayed, and it is a little beyond the season, so it is marked down awfully low, along with everything else.

"Only $22, and a month ago we'd have got fifty for it. Why, it is the very best material, madam, I assure you. This ratine is so stylish, but if it is new to you, of course, it does remind you of a thin bath towel. I sold six dresses on this order to a stylish customer the other day. She has a big summer home at Lake Geneva, and I tell you they wear clothes there! You had better let me show you how stunning you look in it.

"Mame, did you ever? It might have been made for her—see how it fits! Oh, my, no; you wouldn't want to take it in—everything is loose and baggy this year. You'll get used to it. Goodness, no! You wouldn't want to take off that collar and sash! You're not a bit too old for such bright colors! That's really a joke when you can't be more than 20—well, you don't look it. I'm sure you wouldn't make a mistake in taking this.

"All right. I'll lay it aside for you. I want to show you something special that we keep for our best trade. Just a minute!

"Mame, for goodness sake, rustle out those chiffon things that we've had a year—on the top shelf—and those blouses that every one always returns because something was wrong with the cut—under those boxes!

"Now, here! Did you ever see anything prettier for a tea party or a meeting of the Literary Club—oh, I can tell when a woman is progressive just by looking at her! This chiffon will wear like iron and see how it's draped! Everything is so clinging, you know, and you have just the figure for it!

"Doesn't she look sweet in this purple, Mame? The touch of pink and yellow around the neck just sets off her complexion. Oh, my, this isn't low neck—women wear blouses on the street nearly as low as this. By the way, Mame, bring me some of these new blouses—I want her to see them.

Only $10.

"Isn't this dainty? And only $10. Perfect with your tailor suit! I'll put this with the purple chiffon and the Bulgarian dress. You would regret it to the last day of your life if you let such bargains slip! You can just take the blouse in here—and let it out a bit there—and it will be perfect!

"Did you notice these hats? Aren't they dears? Marked down two-thirds, madam! I suppose that orange quill sticking up does seem odd to you, but our very best people are wearing them. Maybe you prefer this light blue canoe shape with the orange feathers in the back—doesn't that give her style, Mame?

"Oh, you must have it! It is such a pleasure to get hold of a customer that fashionable things become as they do you! Now, if you will give me the hotel address—thank you! Ninety-one dollars and fifty cents! You certainly have some bargains! Good morning!

"Catch me, Mame! I'm going to faint! What do you think of really selling all that junk? Come along—I'm going to strike Mme. Cerise for more pay!"

Do You Know---

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always had a great idea of the decorative in regard to her personal attendants. When her husband, the late Czar, was on the throne, she had a bodyguard which made a brilliant pageant on great occasions. The only guard she now retains is the giant Cossack of 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, who accompanies Her Majesty everywhere. On any official occasion he wears a magnificent white and gold uniform, and stands behind the Empress' chair when she is at the table.

The proceedings of the Marconi Committee are costing the English Government Stationery Department a good deal. The comittee have been sitting for two solid months—putting all their days of work on end—and the talk to which they have listened fills 1,500 pages of closely-printed foolscap. In round figures, 30,000 questions have been asked and answered in at least a million and a half words.

Wilhelmina of Holland is the only actually ruling Queen in the civilized world.

Mr. John Burns states that there are now licensed in England 320,119 motor vehicles. These are made up of 175,247 motor cars, 132,245 motorcycles, and 12,627 heavy motor vehicles.

How to Be Interesting

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

"I MET a girl about four months ago," writes Harry, "and since that time we have kept company and I love her very much and I think she loves me, too. We always spend our time together. Some time ago she told me that from the day we first became acquainted I have never told her anything that would interest her. We talk of incidents of the day, and I try to tell her of all I hear downtown. Will you please tell me what more I can tell to obtain her interest?"

Certainly. I will be glad to. I wish every young man in the world would come to me with a similar request.

You told her of the fire next door; you recounted the accident an acquaintance had with his motor boat; you recalled incidents when you were in danger on the water; you asked her what she though of the latest murder; you wondered if she thought as you do about a certain magazine; you told her everything you could recall, from what the office boy said to the latest Congressional scandal, and she wasn't interested!

Of course not. She might be, if you began this tale of a day's events with a statement you have never made. She might be, if at any time in the months you have been keeping company with her you had ever made that statement.

And that is, "I love you!"

Tell her that, and I am sure you will "obtain her interest." Tell her you love her, and I will vouch for it that you will find yourself talking to the most interested listener you ever had in your life, whether that life be long or short.

Tell her you love her, and while she hears she will not know there are others on the planet besides you two. Tell her that, and you are telling Her something that will win her interest in you for the balance of your life.

If you were a woman, you would have known long ago why she has looked bored when you have speculated if worms or bugs make the best fishing bait. It was because she did not know that you had an interest in her greater than in your subject.

Tell her you love her, and thereafter, so long as you so conduct youhself that she believes it, your conversation will be as bright and scintillating as though it were made up of stars strung on moonbeams.

Tell her you love her, and prove it; and so long as love remains, the most commonplace remark you make will be received with an interest that will glorify it and give it rank (in her opinion) among the sayings of wit and wisdom that live forever.

And her opinion, my dear Harry, is the opinion of al the world to you if you love her.

YOUR EYEGLASSES

Should fit so comfortably and yet so securely that you will not be aware they are on your nose. That is the one secret of satisfaction you get from glasses made at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, 42 N. Broad St.

A Better Chance for Typewriter Operators

The ball-bearing, long-wearing L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

Business to-day is run at high speed. The typewriter operator who can write faster and more accurately than the majority, commands the largest salary.

To develop speed and to become better than the average, means practice.

To those who are learning typewriting and to those who are already holding positions, the—

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co.

has a message.

It is this: We will rent you a typewriter and send it to your home where you can spend a little time after working hours, perfecting yourself in the work and acquiring speed and accuracy.

No typewriter is so well adapted to speed operating as the L. C. Smith & Bros., because it is ball bearing and consequently easy running.

Others than students and operators often want to rent a typewriter. We give special attention to this department of our business and invite a call.

The typebar joint of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, showing ball-bearings.

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.

Home Office and Factory at Syracuse, N. Y.

121 N. Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Phone Ivy 1949

It Is Cool and Comfortable

In the Great North Woods and Beautiful Lake Country

of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan

¶ There are hundreds of delightful outing places located on the direct lines of the Chicago and North Western Ry., any one of which is ideal for "week-end" or summer vacation outings.

¶ A day or two in this lake-dotted, balsam-laden region—fishing, sailing and tramping—will provide the rest and relaxation every city dweller must have at least once a year to keep in good fighting trim.

¶ The Great North Woods where the air is keen and tingling with the scent of the pine trees and a thousand sparkling lakes and swift flowing trout streams teeming with gamy fish can be reached comfortably in a night's ride on the Chicago and North Western Ry.

¶ You can dine on the train, sleep in comfort in a luxurious sleeper and roll out in time for a crisp country breakfast in the exuberant North Country.

Regular Summer Train Service to this Resort Country Now in Effect via the Chicago and North Western Line.

The Fisherman's Special, consisting of through Pullman sleeping cars and coaches, leaves the new Passenger Terminal daily 6:00 p. m. for Rhinelander, Tomahawk Lake, Woodruff, Lac du Flambeau, Powell, Manitowish, Mercer, and at 6:00 p.m. daily, except Sunday, for Three Lakes, Eagle River, Conover, Phelps, State Line, Watersmeet, Cisco Lake, Gogebic and intermediate points.

For descriptive literature, fares, reservations and full particulars apply to ticket offices

Chicago and North Western Ry.

N. M. BREEZE, General Agent, 434 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NW2012

DAVE BUNTING BEEN RECALLED BY VOLUNTEERS

NASHVILLE, July 22.—Too much foxy stuff on the part of President Alibi Hirsig knocked the Vols' deal for Almeida into a cocked hat, and in order to bolster up the works around the hot corner Dave Bunting has been recalled from Akron.

Garry Hermann, of the Reds, set a price of $1,500 on the Cuban third sacker's head, but Hirsig had his ears crowded full of chatter about Raphael's pater owning about three-fourths of the Island of Cuba, so that Almeida spent his time in the States merely to study the habits and customs of the natives, and was pretty apt to leave baseball flat on its back most any time. Having only a little while ago parted with $1,500 for Artie Hofman, the Vol mogul figured out he had a fine chance to get stung by slipping the Reds 1,800 iron men, so he wired Herrmann offering him $900 for immediate delivery of Almeida and the remaining half provided the Cuban reported to the Vols next spring. Hirsig figured that Garry was foolish. He learned different.

The old "ill wind" stuff came in when the Interstate League began to wabble and Manager Siegle, of the Akron club, advised Hirsig that he was ready to return Bunting to the Vols before the big blow-off came. Dave has been going in great style for Seigle and ought to be able to jump right in and take care of third base, for Bobby Baumgardner is quite a distance from being ripe and lacks class, although he is a pretty handy man with the ash.

Hirsig has departed for Detroit to have a confab with President Navin in regard to having the Tigers farm Catcher Gibson to the Vols again next season. Gibby looks ripe for the big show, but Hirsig hopes that the Jungleites can spare him next year, and that is about all that is left for the poor old Vols to do—to build up a club for 1914, since all hope of getting out of te ruck is gone.

Several clubs are known to be after Gibby, but Hirsig is hopeful, which is about the best little thing that he does.

BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

The Phillies are still keeping pace with the Giants. They humbled the Cubs twice, coming from behind in both games.

* * *

Three-fingered Brown was the hero in both games of the double-header between the Reds and Braves. With his teammates in danger of losing each contest in the final innings, he rushed to the rescue and averted serious mishap.

* * *

In a great rally in the ninth inning the White Sox, aided by Rath's long single, won out from the Senators.

* * *

The Naps had their batting eyes with them and drove two Red Sox pitchers from the box, scoring an easy victory.

* * *

The Athletics received a surprise when the Browns hit both Brown and Houck hard and scored a shut-out victory.

* * *

The Yankees lost their batting eyes in the game with the Tigers, getting only three bingles and narry a run.

* * *

The Dodgers were pushed a little further down the ladder when the Cardinals took them into camp in rather easy fashion.

* * *

Jack Coombs will be back in the Athletics' line-up in about five weeks. The big pitcher, who is up in Maine recovering from a severe illness, is rapidly regaining his strength and expects to help his team regain their lead during the last month of the season.

* * *

Pitcher Kent was sent to the minors by the Brooklyns. He goes to the Toronto International League team.

* * *

Heine Zimmerman is rapidly recovering from the injury to his foot and his physician states he will be back in the game in about two weeks.

* * *

Now is the time for Jake Stahl to come through with an interview about the serpent's tooth, the head that wears a crown, and the quality of mercy.

* * *

It appears Fielder Jones can still go after the high ones, whether he gets them or not.

* * *

On the other hand, if F. Chance really prefers Zeider on the hospital roster to Hal Chase on first, what is he twittering about?

* * *

Watch the sportographs for a fearful epidemic of "crucial serieses" to-day. The Pirates are at the Polo Grounds and it may be the last chance to spring the old favorite.

* * *

If the Yanks can't win any pennants themselves, they can at least make a lusty splash in the general situation. Last year (for instance) they played twenty-one games with the Red Sox. The Yanks won two. And it may be recalled that the Red Sox won a pennant. N. B.—The Athletics have won fourteen out of fifteen games from the Yanks so far this year.

* * *

Now are the well-known exciting days of 1776 being more or less re-enacted in the sporting warfare between Uncle Sam and John Bull. There is golf, corresponding to Bunker Hill. And there is polo, which resembles Brandywine. And about this tennis business, now—let's wait a bit.

* * *

What a sad commentary on the pitching talent of the Cardinals, that, after trotting out practically the entire staff, a person named Doak should be the only one to show any ability against the Giants.

* * *

The cry in Nashville is either for another first-class slabman or some more hitting strength on the club. No chance to get that combination in any one person, any how.

* * *

Those reports of a slump by the Mackmen have an indefinable flavor as of a war scare between these United States and Great Britain.

* * *

"Babe" Adams, the no-hit pitcher, the Volunteers fancied they purchased from Savannah, still continues to pastime in the Sally League, which doubtless is helping the Vols a lot.

KILBANE PLANS LONG TRIP; TO MEET BEST IN CLASS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 23.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, has announced that his promised trip to Ireland will be extended into a boxing tour of the world. The champion will go after the best in England, Ireland and the Continent, after which he may visit Australia and meet the best featherweights there.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Polly and Her Pals

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

None of Us Is Superstitious, but---

KRAZY KAT

No Chance to Quarrel in This Game

RITCHIE SAYS BRITTON WILL BE EASY MARK

By Otto C. Floto.

DENVER, July 23.—Whenever a youngster wins a championship, or a champion defends his title, he invariably lays himself open to attack by all contenders through the columns of the press, or via Uncle Sam's route through the postoffices. It is on occasions of this kind that the ever-ready letter writer gets his inning. Willie Ritchie is no exception to the rule, and his daily mail contains all sorts of defis and challenges. Evidently Willie must have been somewhat peeved at a letter Dan Morgan is sending to the sporting editors throughout the land in which the merits of Jack Britton are lavishly exploited. In addition Morgan would have us believe that Ritchie fears the issue with his representative. Hence the following epistle from the title holder:

"Morgan in Wrong."

"Either Dan Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, has mud in his beifry or he takes the great American public to be a set of asinine individuals that can have the wool pulled over their eyes by the manager of a fighter at his own time, pleasure and convenience. He declares that I fear the issue with his boy Britton. Well, I need but recall the time that Britton and I met in a four-round bout and Jack was hanging on for dear life at the end. I had him all but knocked out.

"To show you the respect in which I hold Britton, I told Packey McFarland and Emil Thiry in Kansas City when we met there that Britton was a sucker, and that Packey would beat him sure. (At that time Packey was matched with Jack.) The result of the battle will bear me out, and McFarland can vouch for the truth of this statement. In addition I told Thiry I wished I never had anybody harder than Britton to beat.

Willing to Meet Britton.

"Now, as to Britton. I'll meet him. I'll agree to stop him when we do meet. But first I am looking after Willie Ritchie. I think that boys like Cross have a far better claim to my attention just now than Jack. At that, if a promoter will offer what I think my services are worth in a bout between Britton and myself—well, the match is on right now.

"Morgan finds fault with my fighting Rivers at 134 pounds. Pardon me, while I laugh. Remember when Jack fought McFarland and weighed 138 pounds? I'll bet right now Britton can't make 134 ringside, and if he does he'll be so weak it won't be a fight—it'll be a burlesque on the art. There's only one fault to find with managere like Morgan: They play the public for suckers and attempt to put things on sporting editors that insult their intelligence. Rest assured of one thing: Britton will have no cause to complain about my willingness to battle him when I see the proper financial inducements in sight."

LARNED AND WRIGHT WIN OVER LITTLE AND PELL

BOSTON, July 23.—William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, former national singles champions, defeated R. D. Little and T. R. Pell in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championship at the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

W. M. Washburn and Gustave F. Touchard, of New York, eliminated Dean Mathey and George Church, the former Princeton team, in four sets, 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

BLUES RELEASE FEINE.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 23.—Louis H. Feine, utility player, was released by Manager Carr of the local American Association baseball team last night.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

THE PLAYERS' UNION.

The score was knotted in the ninth,
a man on every base,
And on the slab the pitcher stood
with sorrow on his face.
Then up stepped mighty Tyrus Cobb,
his bludgeon in his hands,
And mighty were the cheers that rang throughout the crowded
stands.
But Tyrus never smote the ball upon
that fateful day,
For all the athletes turned their backs and calmly walked away.
"There's nothing doing," they averred,
and left the baseball yard,
"We can not play against that guy—
he has no union card."

Some base wretch has unearthed the fact that Mr. Chappelle's first name is Laverne. This shows that you can always get something on somebody if you dig deep enough.

Old Bill Naughton uttered a great truth when he said that fighters get more than they are worth. A conservative estimate is that most of them get 99 per cent too much.

If those Pirates do not have a care they may be thrown into the hoose gow for exceeding the speed limit.

If the National League schedule were to open on the Fourth of July, the Pirates would finish approximately 147 parasangs to the good.

The sole trouble with the said Pirates is that they can't break the old habit of being left at the post.

Bobby Wallace did the hero stunt at a fire yonder eve, thereby garnering almost as much glory as if he had made a home run with the bases full.

I love to see Old Joe Dunn as he
gayly frisks about,
As graceful as a William goat that
suffers from the gout.

Bat Nelson says he has quit the ring in order to have more time to count his money. This always has been Mr. Nelson's favorite pastime.

The reason Brooklyn is not losing more games is that there is a rule forbidding it to play more than two games in one day.

"The Giants will win in a walk," quoth Joe Tinker, who, having been walked on by said Giants, knows something of their walking ability.

The man who first called it the sport of kings must have had an awful grouch against the monarchial form of government.

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Without a dollar to his name the
piker left the track,
For he had lost his final dime and he
must hoof it back.
And as he labored down the road a
motor car whizzed by,
A great, big scarlet buzz machine
that passed him on the fly.
And there upon the cushioned seats,
a picture of content,
He gazed upon the bookie who had
copped his last red cent.
He ate the dust that filled the air,
he smelled the gasoline,
And all forlorn he watched the car
that faded from the scene.
"The sport of kings!" he muttered, as he clenched his trembling fist.
"If racing is the sport of kings, I am an anarchist!"

BASEBALL SUMMARY

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Atlanta at Memphis.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.
Nashville at Mobile.
Birmingham at Montgomery.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mont.	55	40	.579	Chat.	48	44	.522
Mobile	56	43	.566	M'phis.	46	53	.465
Atlanta	50	40	.556	N'ville.	41	52	.441
B'ham.	47	43	.522	N. Or.	31	59	.344

Tuesday's Results.

Atlanta 4, Memphis 0.
Montgomery 5, Birmingham 4.
Nashville 6, Mobile 2.
Chattanooga 4, New Orleans 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Jacksonville at Albany.
Columbus at Charleston.
Savannah at Macon.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
C'bus.	16	7	.696	Albany	11	12	.478
S'v'nah.	12	9	.571	Chas'n.	10	15	.400
J'ville.	11	11	.500	Macon	8	14	.364

Tuesday's Results.

Columbus 4-9, Charleston 1-0.
Albany 5, Jacksonville 0.
Macon-Savannah, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Pittsburg at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N. Y.	60	26	.698	B'klyn.	38	43	.469
Phila.	50	32	.610	Boston	36	49	.429
P'burg.	44	42	.512	S. Louis	35	53	.398
Chicago	45	43	.511	C'nati.	35	55	.389

Tuesday's Results.

Philadelphia 5-8, Chicago 5-6.
New York 8-2, Pittsburg 3-1 (second game 11 innings).
St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 4-3, Boston 3-2 (first game 10 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Phila.	63	27	.700	Boston	42	45	.483
C'land.	54	37	.593	Detroit	39	57	.406
Wash.	51	39	.567	St Louis	38	58	.396
Chicago	51	44	.537	N. Y.	28	59	.321

Tuesday's Results.

St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 0.
Chicago 6, Washington 5.
Cleveland 8, Boston 5.
Detroit 2, New York 0.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

Waycross at Cordele.
Americus at Thomasville.
Brunswick at Valdosta.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
C'dele.	12	8	.600	T'ville.	10	10	.500
B'wick.	10	8	.556	Am'cus.	10	11	.476
Valdosta	9	9	.500	W'cross	7	12	.368

Tuesday's Results.

Thomasville 2, Americus 1 (12 innings).
Cordele 2, Waycross 1.
Valdosta-Brunswick, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Games Wednesday.

LaGrange at Anniston.
Talladega at Gadsden.
Opelika at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Gd'sden.	38	30	.559	Opelika	34	34	.500
Newnan	36	31	.537	T'dega.	31	38	.449
L'Gr'ge.	34	33	.507	An'ton.	31	38	.449

Tuesday's Results.

LaGrange 12, Anniston 4.
Newnan 4, Opelika 1.
Gadsden 2, Talladega 1.

OTHER RESULTS.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Richmond 3.
Norfolk 6, Roanoke 5.
Newport News 1, Portsmouth 0.

Carolina League.

Asheville 5, Greensboro 1.
Winston-Salem 2, Raleigh 1.
Charlotte 4, Durham 2.

American Association.

St. Paul 7, Columbus 2.
Milwaukee 12, Toledo 0.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 0.
Minneapolis-Louisville, rain.

Cotton States League.

Selma 2, Jackson 1.
Jackson 2, Selma 1.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

SPORT.

THEY were gathered at the ringside at twenty bucks
per chair;
The champion pug was walloping
his enemy with care.
"Hey! Soak 'im! Can the stall-
in'!" all indignantly they shout.
"Cut loose with one good honest
slam and knock the rummy
out!"
And soft the champion answers
as the mutt he gently
pounds:
"I've contracted with the movies,
and this fight goes twenty rounds!"
Around and 'round the motor track the mad-speed demons
fly,
While thousands cheer those heroes who still dare to do or die—
The modern gladiators brave who dread nor death nor
hurt,
And boldly risk erasure in the grand old name of sport.
Now comes the far-flashed mes-
sage,
Lo! The conqueror is in!
And slowly is this line ticked
out:
"Tight-Rim-Stick Tires win!"

* * *

CHAMPION RITCHIE IN HIS plan to take a long rest is not so ill-advised as might at first appear. There is no case on record where a champion ever lost a title while resting.

* * *

THE SPORT CALDRON IS bubbling madly. In addition to the protested Yanks-Browns game and the white heavyweight championship controversy, Capablanca now claims a forfeit in his contest with Tenewurzel in the chessmasters' tournament.

* * *

SINCE JOHNNY COULON HAS declined to meet Kid Williams one Eddie Campi is going to tackle the little Baltimore terror again, thus proving the old adage that dubs rush in where champions prefer to rest.

* * *

THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORities should investigate Frank McGuinness, who claims to have been champion of the English navy. He has knocked seven men in seven starts around New York, which is enough to demonstrate that he was never remotely connected with the English navy.

* * *

THE MAGNATES MUST BE right in their contention that ballplayers draw bigger pay to-day than ever before. It is only within the last year or two that they could afford appendicitis.

* * *

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION, furthermore, is coming to the aid of the ballplayer more every day. When badly injured in a game—other injuries don't count—he can not now be released on the day he goes to the hospital. The owner is compelled to wait a couple of weeks.

* * *

BAN JOHNSON SAYS THERE are no big profits in baseball nowadays. We gathered as much from the fact that big league franchises are going begging at $1,000,000 or so in the open market.

JEANNETTE VS. LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, July 23.—It is said Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford are practically matched to meet shortly in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles.

TINKER DRAWS SUSPENSION.

BOSTON, July 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League team, was suspended yesterday for an argument with Umpire Orth in Monday's game.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Mike Saul, the voting referee, is on the warpath. Mike is after the scalp of Eddie Hanlon and says he will not rest until he drags the latter into the ring with him. "Let Hanlon make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock and I will give him a $50 side bet," wails Mike, "and if he can't make that weight let him step out of the lightweight division." After dispersing with these few words Mike darted up Peachtree with a large cigar between his teeth.

* * *

The question of weight is holding up the proposed Jack White-Abe Attell match on the coast for August 25. Attell is demanding 124 pounds ringside, while White is sticking out for 126 pounds at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Charlie White writes from Chicago that he is ready to come to Atlanta for another ring engagement. The crack Windy City battler says he will meet any boy the promoters wish to put him on with. A match between White and Whitney should prove a corker.

* * *

Kid Young has entirely recovered from his battle with Charlie Lee and is now ready to meet his rival in a return encounter. Young says he will start light work at once so as to be in the best shape in case he does get another match with Lee.

* * *

Ad Wolgast is to be seen in action on the coast again. Tom McCarey has signed the ex-champion to meet Johnny Dundee in a 20-round affair next month. Dundee and Wolgast are at Los Angeles at the present time and will start work for the mill some time next week.

* * *

Coast fans are going wild over the coming Matty Baldwin-Leach Cross bout scheduled to take place at Los Angeles on July 29. Baldwin is well thought of our West, as he holds a 20-round verdict over Willie Ritchie, the present title holder.

C. EVANS LEADS GOLFERS; ALLIS' TEE SHOT INTO CUP

CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles Evans, Jr., present champion, led to-day when the contestants in the amateur golf championship in the Western Golf Association started the second round of 36 holes at the Homewood course. Evans topped the field, one stroke below Warren K. Wood, whom he defeated last year at Denver by one stroke in the finals.

"Ned" Allis, of Milwaukee, made what was believed to be a world's record shot yesterday when he drove from the first tee 396 yards into the cup.

International League.

Montreal 4, Jersey City 0.
Montreal 9, Jersey City 6.
Providence 4, Rochester 1.
Toronto 5, Baltimore 1.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.

Jake Abel is to retire from the boxing game. This information comes from Max Abelson, borther of the lightweight battler. Jake has been discouraged from his recent knockout at the hands of Charlie White. However, Abel should remember that many other boys have been handed the same dose by the hard-hitting Chicagoan.

* * *

New Orleans boxing fans are picking Yong Denny to defeat "Wildcat" Ferns when the pair clash at the Pelican City on Labor Day. Ferns and Denny met on July 4 in a ten-round mill with the former getting a slight shade. The coming scrap is billed to go twenty rounds. Johnny Lore, the Eastern lightweight, is hot after a return go with Frankie Russell. The latter was given a knock-out decision in twelve rounds over Lore about two weeks ago when Johnny fell out of the ring. The Eastern boy says he will give Russell a neat side bet if he will consent to meet him again and will cut the purse any way suitable to Russell.

* * *

Joe Levy is after a re-match with Champion Ritchie, but if such a proposition is not forthcoming he is willing to send the Mexican against the winner of the Baldwin-Cross fight.

* * *

Sammy Harris, manager of "Kid" Williams will be presented by McCarey with the diamond-studden belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship of the world. Harris says he will keep Williams on a farm until August, when he will start him on his training grind for the Campi bout.

KODAKS
"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Ace for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.
A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.
14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

EXCURSION
Atlanta, Carrollton, Forsyth and intermediate points to TYBEE and SAVANNAH
July 25.
$6.00 ROUND TRIP.
Special Train—Coaches and Sleeping Cars.
Ask the Ticket Agent.
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY.

SANTAL CAPSULES MIDY
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER
Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name MIDY
Beware of counterfeits

CAPITAL CITY GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS AUG. 2

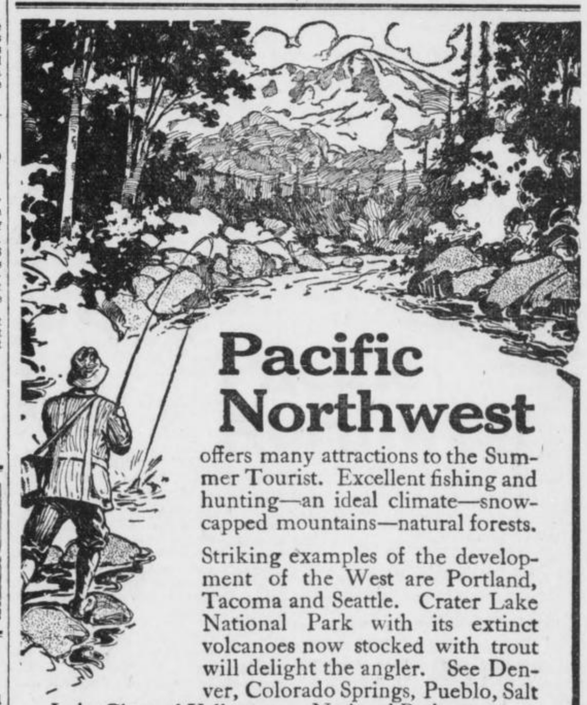
THE Capital City Country Club announces that the qualifying round in its golf tourney for the president's cup is to be played Saturday, August 2. The play is to be match with handicaps.

Following the qualifying round the first and second rounds are to be finished by August 5, the semi-finals by August 7, and the finals will be played August 9.

A large force of workmen have been putting the course in shape for the tournament, and the condition of the links will be excellent by the time the matches begin.

The pairings will be announced later.

MORPHINE
Opium, Whiskey and Drug Habits treated at House or at Sanitarium. Book on subject Free. DR. B. M. WOOLLEY, 34-N, White Sanitarium, Atlanta, Georgia.



Pacific Northwest

offers many attractions to the Summer Tourist. Excellent fishing and hunting—an ideal climate—snow-capped mountains—natural forests.

Striking examples of the development of the West are Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Crater Lake National Park with its extinct volcanoes now stocked with trout will delight the angler. See Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park en route. Liberal stopovers and side trips.

Excellent Daily Trains

from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.

The route follows the beautiful Columbia River by daylight.

Union Pacific

STANDARD ROAD OF THE WEST

Heavy double tracks — dustless roadbed — Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.

Go now while the low round trip rates are in effect. Write now for illustrated booklets giving detailed information on points of interest.

A. J. DUTCHER, G. A.
908 Olive Street
St. Louis, Mo.

C. M. ROLLINGS, T. P. A.
620 Woodward Bldg.
Birmingham, Ala.

254b

TURTLES WILL FACE THOMPSON IN LAST GAME

By Joe Agler.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23.—I am feeling more like a regular prophet this morning. I said the Crackers would turn the tables on the Turtles in the second game, and they certainly made good.

Dent pitched grand ball. The Memphis sluggers were helpless before him and there never was a time when they threatened. That was largely because we had things sewed up before they ever got to bat. Glen Liebhardt was easy in the opening inning and we made enough runs right there to win three such games as Dent was pitching.

Wally Smith and Bisland deserve special mention for their performance yesterday. Wally got two hits and looked more like himself at the plate than he has in the last two weeks. Bisland's fielding at short was spectacular. Joe Dunn is catching as good a game now as any backstop in the league and his pegging to bases is keeping the other fellows nailed down close.

I figure we have a great chance to cop the odd game this afternoon, with Thompson on the mound trying to make his string five in a row. We will break our necks, if necessary, to help him do that, as the victory means a lot to us, also.

After this series we get the toughest engagement of the trip; three games at Montgomery. The boys are looking for hard battles in every contest, but not a man on the club will be satisfied to take less than two of the games.

'CHICK' EVANS LOW MAN IN WESTERN TOURNAMENT

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOOSMOOR, ILL., July 23.—Playing exceedingly fine golf, Charles Evans, Jr., the present title holder of the Western amateur championship, played in the second half of the qualifying round here this morning and led the 64 survivors when he turned in a card of 73 for the round.

This, with his score of 78 made yesterday, gives him a grand total of 151 for the 36 holes. He went out in 38 and came back in 35. On the home hole he holed his approach, which was off the green, a distance of 75 feet from the cup, and it gave him a four for the hole and enabled him to beat Warren K. Wood's score of 152.

Warren Wood, of the Homewood Club, made the morning round in 75, taking 36 for the first nine holes and 39 for the return trip. This, with his score of 77 made yesterday, gives him second best score in the qualifying round.

NILES AND DABNEY WIN EASTERN TENNIS DOUBLES

BOSTON, July 23.—In the opening round of the Eastern tennis doubles at Longwood yesterday Niles and Dabney defeated Clothier and Gardner in one of the most sensational double matches ever played at the local court. Score, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

In the only singles match played this morning S. C. Inman defeated H. C. Pray 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

TIGERS BUY A THIRD-SACKER.

DETROIT, July 23.—The Detroit Baseball Club has purchased Third Baseman Beck, of the Waco Club in the Texas League.

WHITE SOX SELL SCHALLER.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Walter Schaller, utility outfielder of the White Sox, has been sold to the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

Atlanta.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Agler, 1b.	2	1	0	13	0	0
Bisland, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	0
Welchonce, cf.	3	2	2	4	0	0
Long, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Alperman, 2b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Smith, 3b	4	0	2	0	3	0
Bailey, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dunn, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Dent, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	31	4	7	27	11	0

Memphis.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Love, 2b.	4	0	2	3	4	0
Butler, ss.	4	0	0	2	6	0
Baerwald, rf.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Ward, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Schweitzer, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Abstein, 1b.	3	0	0	11	0	1
Shanley, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Seabough, c.	3	0	0	7	2	1
Liebhardt, p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Merritt.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals.	30	0	3	27	14	2

Merritt batted for Liebhardt in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Atlanta. . . . . .301 000 000—4
Memphis. . . . . .000 000 000—0

Summary: Three-base hit—Welchonce. Sacrifice hits—Bisland, Long. Stolen bases—Agler, Love. Bases on balls—Off Liebhardt 4. Struck out—By Liebhardt 6, by Dent 2. Hit by pitcher—By Liebhardt (Welchonce.) Time—1:30. Umpires—Rudderham and Hart.

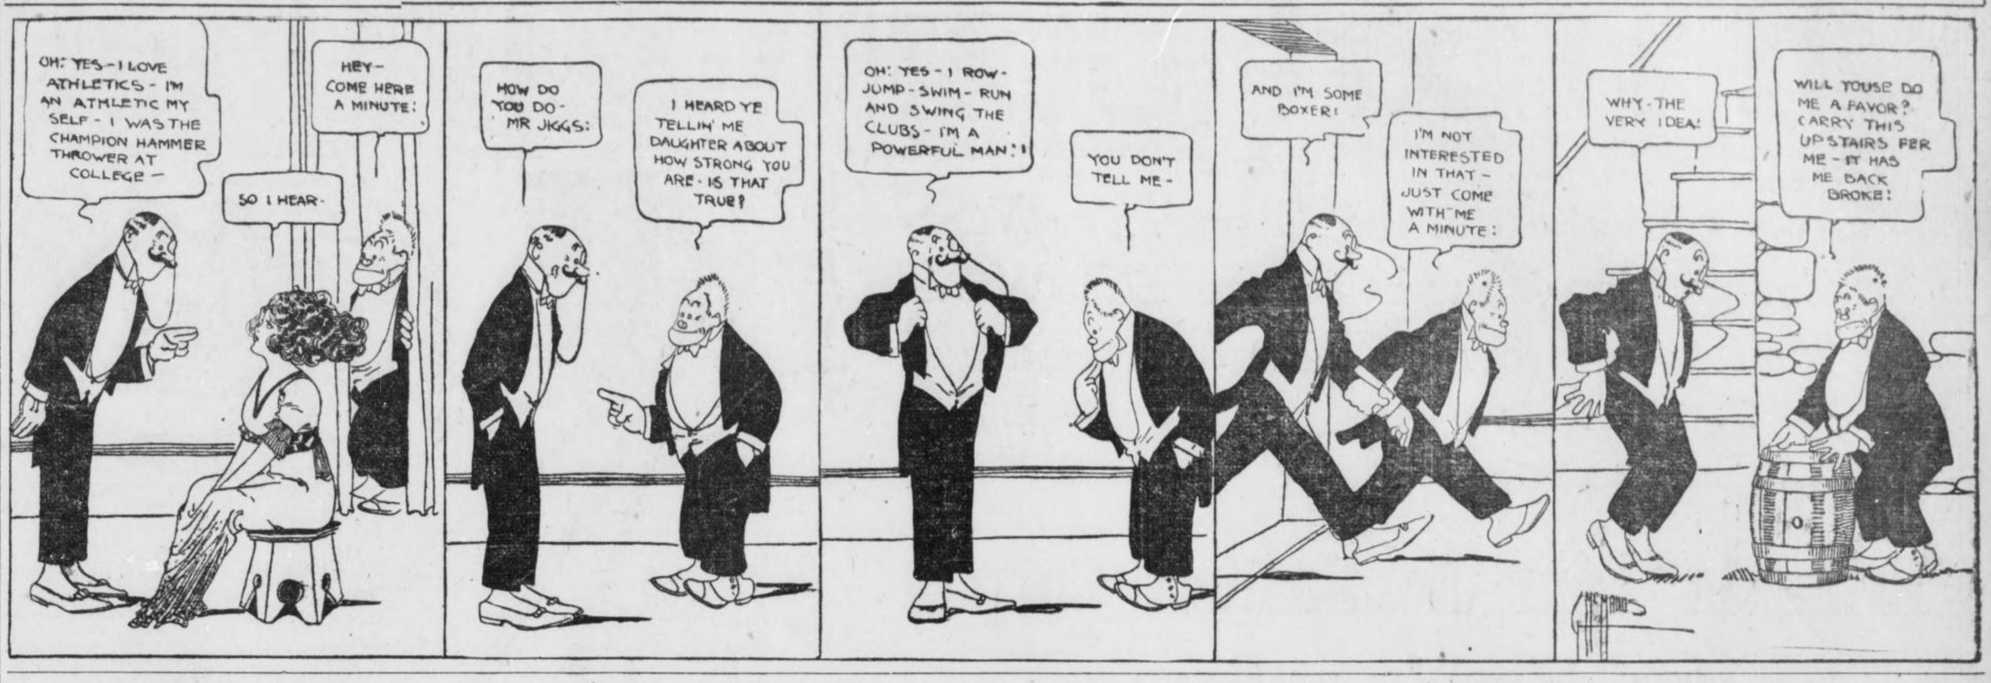
MOTOR RACES
TO-NIGHT
8:15 P. M.

FORSYTH MATINEE TO-DAY 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
The Sensation of All Diving Acts
JOHN F. CONROY AND HIS DIVING MODELS
Lester, Diero, Smith, Cook and Brandon and Others

SAFE, CLEAN, COOL, COMFORTABLE
GRAND MATINEE AT 2:30 TO-NIGHT AT 8:30
Victor Hugo's Great LES MISERABLES Nine Reels---4 Acts
MATINEE 25c NIGHT 25 and 50c

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

Bringing Up Father — By George McManus



Us Boys — Registered United States Patent Office — Think of Taking Skinny for a Desperado

FOOD FOR FANS
COOKED AND SERVED BY S'Remedy Shaner

THE GOSH DARN FOOLS, THEY THINKED I WAS GOING TO TRY AND BLOW UP THEIR JOINT WITH BREAD AND BUTTER AND SUGAR- HA, HA, HA. VAN IS GETTING MUCH BETTER- TO-DAY WE PLAY THE NINKIES - I GUESS I WILL PLAY, I DONNO THOUGH.

SHANER'S GOOGLY DEPT
SHANER'S HINTS TO YOUNG MEN — NO II — DON'T BITE YOUR FINGER NAILS—

Answer to yesterday's: WHAT KEY IN MUSIC WOULD MAKE A GOOD ARMY OFFICER? A SHARP MAJOR- DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THAT?

Here's one for to-day FROM RUTH MILLAR- U. S. A. WHAT GOES MOST AGAINST A FARMER'S GRAIN?

SMITH ASKED $5,000 TO BOX FIREMAN FLYNN

By Otto Floto.

THE inside story of how the match between Gunboat Smith and Jim Flynn was finally cinched is just coming to light. In order to get the Gunboat person's bold Spencerian moniker to the legal sheet of paper on which were written the conditions that are to govern the bout, Jack Curley was forced to guarantee Smith and his spiritual adviser, James Buckley, that their share would amount to $5,000. Curley did not care to assume the risk, but was forced up to a barrier which meant either comply with the demand or no match. Smith, it is claimed, wanted the refusal to guarantee him the amount named above as a loophole to crawl out of the meeting with the Pueblo an.

"The very fact that I have shown such anxiety to clinch the bout for Flynn speaks louder than words how certain I am that Jim can stow away the Gunboat," writes Curley. "If from what I have seen of Smith entitles him to be called the Gunboat then Flynn is the Battering Ram and will sink the old hulk as soon as he jams into it. This battle, as you know, is the commencement of the elimination of 'white hopes.' Manager Billy Gibson will offer a belt emblematic of the premier heavyweight honors among the whites. If Flynn wins it—and there isn't the least doubt in my mind but that he will—I want to go on record right now as saying he'll be ready to defend it against all comers. We'll give out checks like they do in the barber shops on which will be printed the word NEXT."

JEANNETTE WINS BOUT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Joe Jeannette failed to make an impression here when he met John Lester Johnson. The contest went ten rounds with Jeannette an easy winner. Sheriff Harburger ordered the bout stopped between Willie Rothwell and Ralph Rose in the fourth round when Rose hit low.

COOPERSTOWN WINS POLO MATCH.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 23.—The Army polo polo quartet was defeated by the Cooperstown team in the second round for the Overture Cup at the annual Point Judith tournament yesterday by a score of 9½ goals to 7.

But C. Murphy Opened Up---Once

Bargain in Joe Agler Resulted

By O. B. Keeler.

SPEAKING of Chubby Chawles Murphy, however—and a good many people are speaking of C. C. these days—it musn't be gathered that Mr. Murphy never has opened up his heart at all, just because he was the least bit fractious in that little matter of the Leifield deal with Atlanta.

Not by any means.

There was a time, now, that Mr. Murphy did the Crackers a good turn, and you may judge how good it was by the fact that the Cubs' owner sold the Crackers a ball player for exactly half the price he could have realized elsewhere.

Doesn't sound like Mr. Murphy, does it?

But it was—and he didn't have to do it, either.

Maybe you remember when Joe Agler came to the Crackers. Maybe you also remember just how it was that he didn't stay in Jersey City, where he came from. But if you don't you may find an excuse for a bit of history.

* * *

HERE it goes.

Agler belonged to the Cubs, Jersey City made an offer for him. Murphy accepted the offer. Agler reported.

So far, O. K.

Then came the trouble.

Mr. Murphy asked for the price. He said it was $3,500. Jersey City said it was $2,500. Mr. Murphy showed a telegram offering $3,500. Mr. J. City showed a telegram, filed at the other end, offering $2,500.

Apparently both were correct. Undeniably both were sincere in their convictions. The mistake seems to have happened along the wire somewhere.

But, anyway, there was a fearful row. Jersey City offered to pay $2,500 for Agler. Mr. Murphy wouldn't touch it with boxing gloves.

Right at the top of the squabble Mr. Murphy wired heatedly to know what the Atlanta club would give for a perfectly good fork-hand first sacker.

The Atlanta management said $1,250.

Mr. Murphy said, "Done."

And it was.

And (considering also Mr. Agler's first basing capacity) the Atlanta management has felt pretty kindly toward Mr. Murphy, which may serve to offset some of the regard entertained for the Cubs' owner in Jersey City.

* * *

NEWS from our old friend, "Lefty" Russell.

The expensive southpaw didn't have much luck with the Athletics, and when he came to Atlanta year before last he didn't find the come-back trail thickly set with four-leaf clovers. The prize beauty showed class in only one game. Then he flivvered. Also his habits were not of the most serene, and he was afflicted with temperament.

It looked as if he never would be a regular pitcher.

And he isn't now.

He's a first baseman with the Allentown club, of the Tri-State League. And the last set of records from that circuit give Lefty a fine little rating.

Playing in 61 games, the ex-slabman has a batting average of .314 and stands well up toward the top of the heap. His fielding average is not so lofty, but his .975 is explained by a willingness to go after anything in sight.

And the folks down at Allentown like Lefty pretty well, thank you!

* * *

THE grim rally of the apparently down-and-out Pirates is getting to be the talk of the National League. Not even the Giants have been steaming along with the powerful drive of the Clarke machine in the last two weeks, though the commanding lead of McGraw's clan overshadows a spurt that otherwise might be threatening. The present series between the clubs cuts deeply into the situation, especially as the Pirates started it with the record of being easy for the Giants in every previous encounter this season.

MOTORCYCLE DEMONDS CLASH IN BIG RACE AT N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Six teams, composed of the speediest motorcyclists in the country, will meet to-night at the Brighton Beach motordrome in a special two-hour race.

Chappelle and Ohne are the favorites, but according to the practice spins yesterday the pair will be hard pushed by the field.

The teams are Chappelle-Ohne, Cox-Kearney, Davis-Fisher, Veditz-Mercier, Costello-Sperl and St. Ives-Hagan.

Don't All Speak At Once.

By O. B. KEELER.

WHO was it said the Pirates were through—
That they lacked the class and the wallop, too;
Who kidded the slump of that mighty crew
In phrases of light derision?
Who was it said that when Honus passed
The Skull and Bones would crawl down the mast—
That the One Best Wager, first and last,
Was a berth in the Second Division?

WHO was it said they would walk forlorn
In the Lowly Ways that are trimmed with thorn—
Would play the target for wads of scorn,
With never a flash of defiance?
They're traveling now, on the season's wane,
At a mighty clip—but the 'dopesters strain
For a Tip to quiet the wild refrain:
"Will they EVER wallop the Giants?"

FRENCH CHAMPION QUITS; TAME BRAND OF KNOCK-OUT

BOSTON, July 23.—Mariel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover, of South Boston, in the fourth round of a bout here last night.

Thomas had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Glover became aggressive in the third. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner, followed by Glover. Referee Sheehan interfered, rendering a decision of a "technical knockout."

RED SOX SIGN RADLOFF, LEFT-HANDED MOUNDMAN

BOSTON, July 23.—The work of strengthening the Boston Americans for the pennant race of 1914 has begun. Two young pitchers have been bought within a few days. Pitcher Radloff, whose purchase from the Manistee club of the Michigan State League was announced here to-day, being the latest acquisition. The newcomer is a left-hander. He will report at the close of the Michigan League season.

Richards and McNeil Favorites

Big Marathon Race On To-night

WEATHER permitting, the big motor Marathon race will be run to-night at the Motordrome. J. Pluvius caused a postponement last night, but unless it rains some more during the next six or seven hours Jack Prince announces that the race will surely be held to-night.

With ten riders traveling around the saucer at an 85-mile-an-hour clip there is sure to be plenty of excitement. And it is even betting that at least one spill will have taken place before the entire 105 laps have been "cleaned up."

Jock McNeil and Tex Richards are favorites in this event. But all the other riders are confident that they will carry off the $500 prize offered for the victor.

Harry Glenn, the local boy, admits that his machine is not as fast as some of the others, but Harry says that his motor possesses the endurance, and claims that endurance more than speed is what will count in this long journey.

Following is the complete and revised program for to-night:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, 38 4-5 seconds.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn vs. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second heat of Special Match Race—Glenn vs. Schwartz.

Third heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, Georges Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

WHITE AND CAPERS BEAT AUGUSTA NET CHAMPIONS

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—When Henry Garrett and Will Gary defated the Waring brothers, of Columbia, S. C., for the championship in doubles in the recent South Atlantic tennis tournament it was thought that the Augusta cracks would res secure with their hard-foughtfor honors untilnext year, at least, when an effort would be made to defeat them. But such was not to be.

There is being conducted a city tennis tournament here and Ed H. White and Frank H. Capers, who did not look at all serious in the South Atlantic tennis tourney, defeated Garrett and Gary 6-3, 3-6 and 6-0. It was about the ruddest jolt that Messrs. Garrett and Gary have had in a long time.

ITCHING PILES
Every sufferer from itching piles should read these words from H. S. Hood, of Bellaire, Mich., who was
Cured by Tetterine
For sixteen years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half a box made a complete cure.
Tetterine gives instant relief to all skin diseases, such as eczema, tetter, ringworm, ground itch, etc. It has the right medicinal qualities to get at the cause and to relieve the effect. Get it to-day—Tetterine.
50c at druggists, or by mail.
SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Big Reduction IN Dental Work
GOOD WORK means more practice and lower prices.
We have reduced our prices on all Dental work, but the quality of our work remains the same.
Gold Crowns $3.00
Bridge Work $3.00
Set of Teeth $5.00
Best That Money Can Buy
We Use the Best Methods of Painless Dentistry
Atlanta Dental Parlors
Cor. Peachtree & Decatur Sts.
Entrance 191-2 Peachtree St.

TOBACCO HABIT You can conquer it easily in 3 days, improve your health, prolong your life. No more stomach trouble, no foul breath, no heart weakness. Regain manly vigor, calm nerves, clear eyes and superior mental strength. Whether you chew or smoke pipe, cigarettes, cigars, get my interesting Tobacco Book. Worth its weight in gold. Mailed free. E. J. WOODS, 534 Sixth Ave., 740 M., New York, N. Y.

CONTEST BEGINS THURSDAY!

Every contestant in the Georgian's Want-Ad Competition is urged to see The Want-Ad Man to-morrow (Wednesday) and get ready for a flying start. The first day should bring big results.

Bring in Your Nomination Coupon and Start in at Once

Many of Atlanta's brightest young men and women have entered and received their instructions. You can still get an even start if you don't delay.

Every prize shown here and many others are to be awarded the winners. No guessing, no buying anything, no expense to you. Experienced District Managers will aid you, show you how to get results, help you to win.

Contestants will secure want ads for The American and Georgian. They will work among friends, neighbors, acquaintances, business people, or where they please. Every family in Atlanta has a want, and a suggestion gets the ad. It's easy.

The Coupon on This Page Starts You With 1,000 Votes. FILL IT OUT NOW

Nomination Coupon — 1,000 VOTES

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN

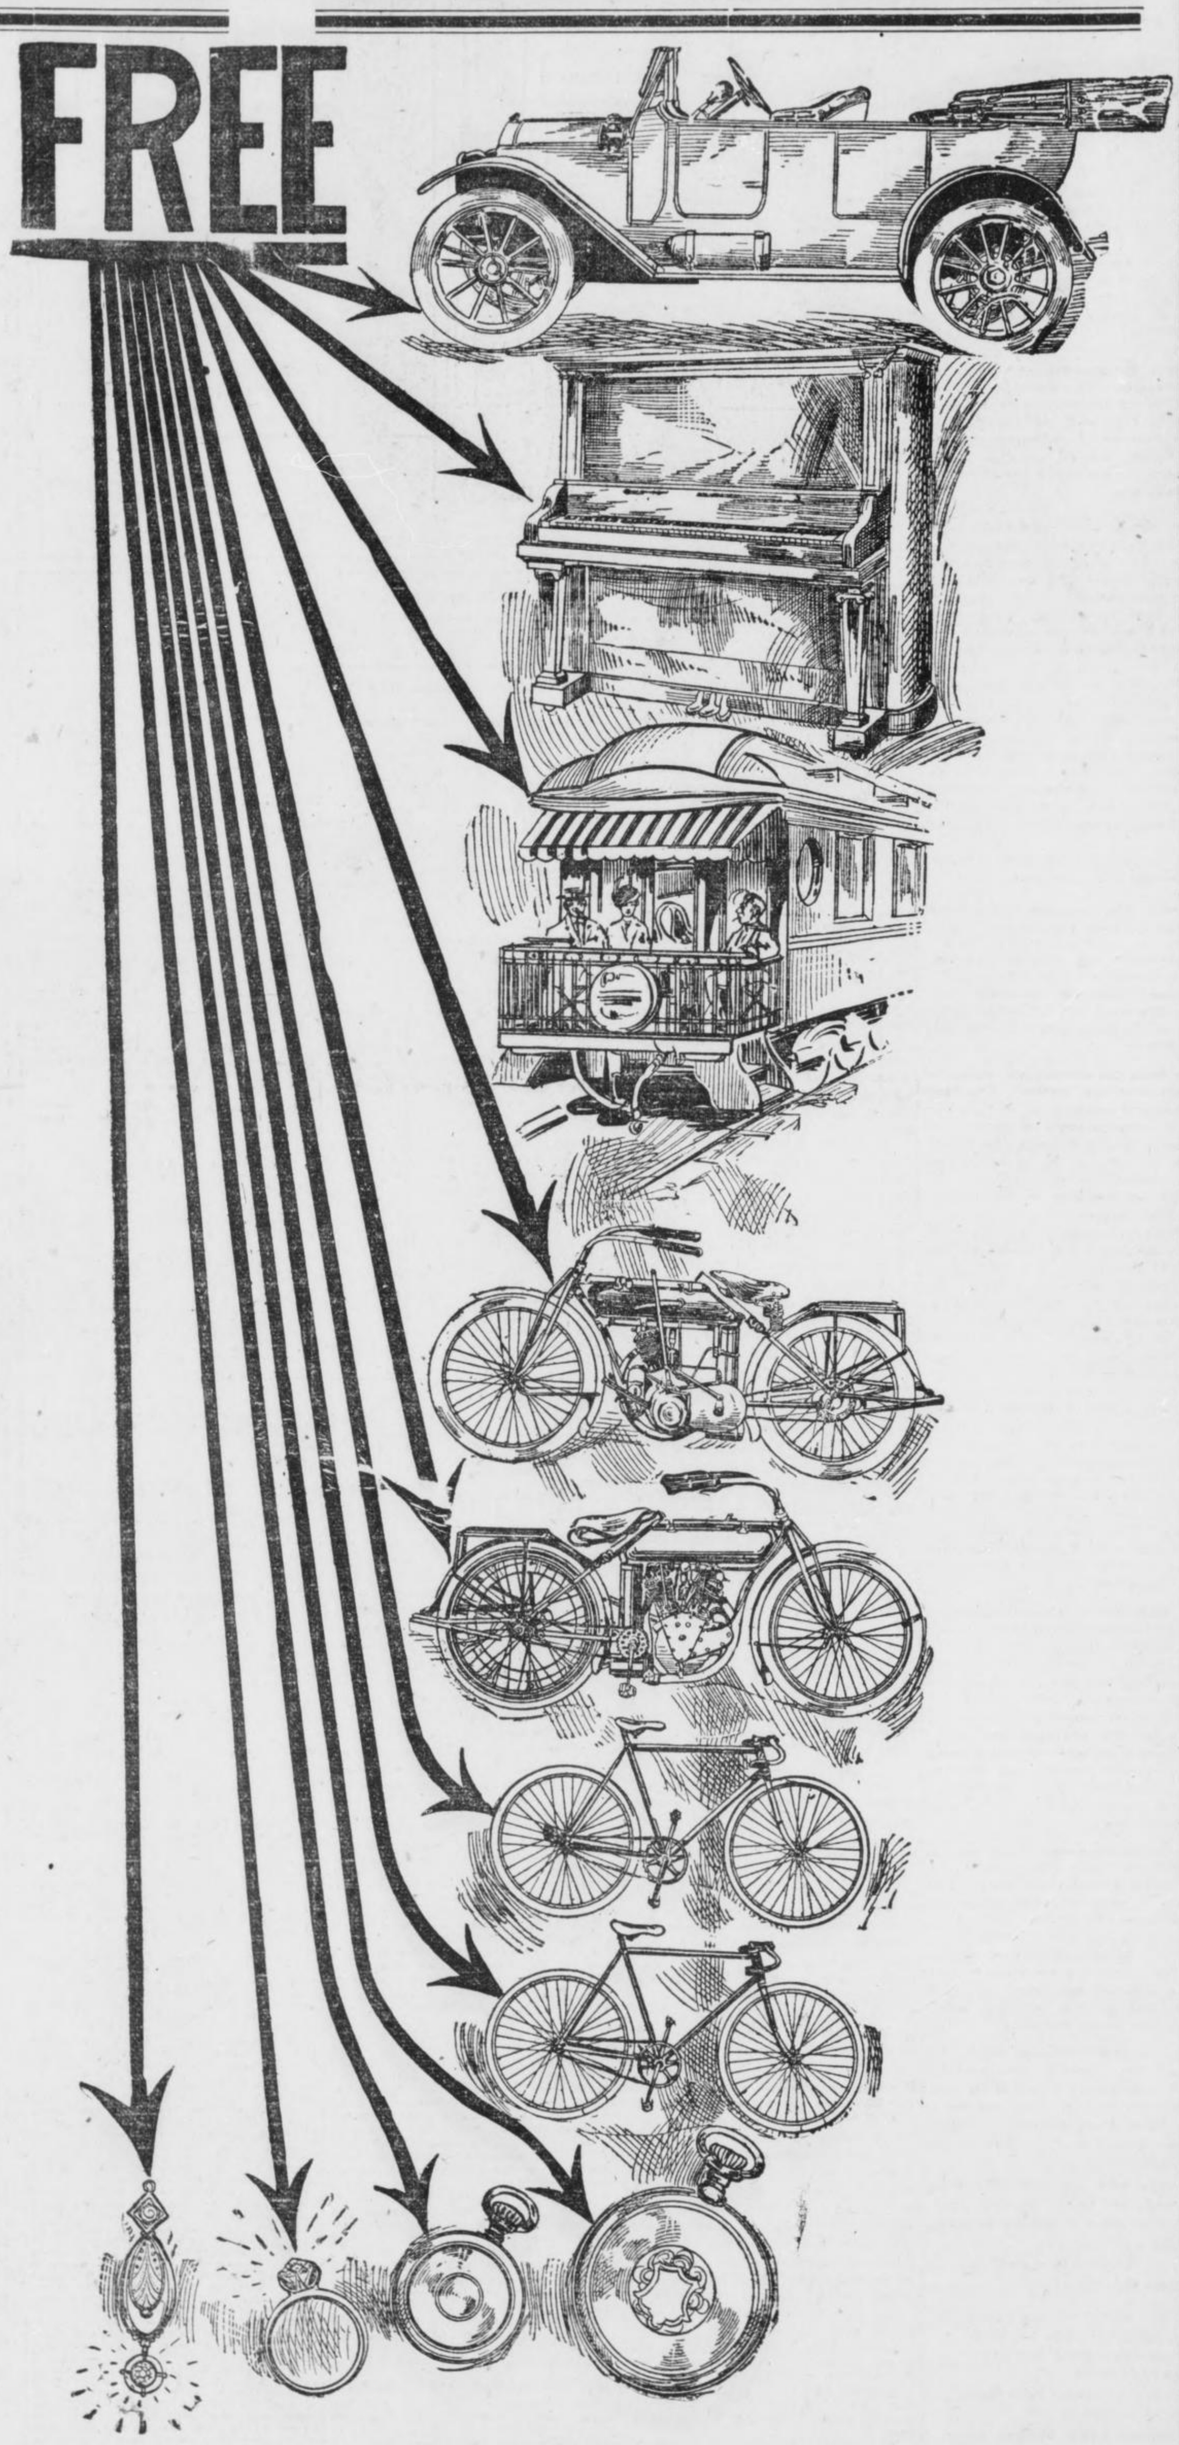
I Nominate ..... (Name)

..... (Address)
as contestant in your Want Ad Contest.

..... (Address)

..... (Name)

This coupon properly filled out will count for 1,000 Votes for Contestant named. Only one coupon will be counted for each Contestant.



HEARST'S

SUNDAY AMERICAN

AND

ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Business Office, No. 7 Edgewood Avenue

TOO MUCH LAW, NOT ENOUGH THOUGHT

Prevailing Unrest Injures Business—Lack of Sympathy Destroys Incentive.

By B. C. FORBES.

Throughout this country there is a growing tendency to act first and then think. We have too much action and not enough thinking. We pass a hundred laws, for example, where five would suffice. No other nation scribbles on its statute books such a conglomeration of nonsense as our legislators indulge in every year.

* * *

We are too restless, to feverish, too prone to chase after will-o'-the-wisp panaceas. We are becoming enamored of turmoil, or social strife, of backbiting.

* * *

There are manifold wrongs to be righted, it is true. We do well to rise up in wrath against certain practices in both high and low places. Yet, the symptoms of restlessness prevalent to-day suggest underlying godlessness, or, perhaps I should call it mental poise.

* * *

Our educational institutions teach how to do things rather than how to think. And when one considers that progress should, and no doubt will, mean less need for all-day work and more time for thought and reflection, is it not infinitely important that THINKING be cultivated? Have not many of us lost the habit of communion with ourselves? Some have even ceased to be able to converse. We must have constant distraction—business, it may be, or pleasure. We must have an eternal round of theaters, cabarets, moving pictures, vaudeville, automobiling, boating, trips hither and thither, "thrillers" of the Coney Island pattern, etc., etc., etc.

We have little opportunity to get acquainted with ourselves.

* * *

Family life, the quiet home circle, tranquil pursuits are a-dying.

* * *

The storm and strife of business, of money-making appears to be growing more tense and desperate every day. We have all but killed sentiment in the hurly-burly of latter-day competition.

* * *

We have not masters and men, but corporations and "hands." The head of a department told me on Saturday that an employe came to him and expressed regret at leaving after fifteen years' service, but the executive was nonplussed, for he was not aware that he had ever set eyes on the employe until that moment!

"Efficiency" is supposed to be a foe to all sentiment in business. My humble opinion is that without a modicum of sentiment between the employee and the employer or superior you can not have the fullest measure of efficiency. There must be something more than the mere performance of a task under strict surveillance. There must be some sense of loyalty, a spirit of camaraderie, the right esprit de corps. You can not geth the best results by a policy of heartlessness, by treating men as machines, by ignoring the human side of them. They are of the same flesh and blood as their overseers and employers. They have like hopes and ambitions. They have family ties, domestic troubles and joys exactly as their "superiors" have.

* * *

On Saturday I was privileged to attend an annual outing of one of our great banks, an institution employing a force of between 450 and 500. Its president had them all, along with almost as many of their families and friends, at his beautiful home as his guests for the afternoon and evening. Such a gracious act makes more for loyalty and honesty and industry and service than all the "efficiency" maxims propounded in the last half dozen years.

* * *

The personal element can not be crushed and killed with impunity. A little break in the year's round, such as that I mention, serves as a reminder that life has its pleasant as well as its serious side; that there is a time to laugh as well as work; that the chief officer is not above associating with the humblest clerk, that all are human, that there are other bonds than salary contracts.

* * *

There is need for taking the rough edge off life. There is need for sentiment and sympathy and fuller understanding, room for a helping hand, for a little encouragement. Things can not always go well. Life is not one grand, sweet song.

* * *

My bonny man, the warld, it's true,
Was made for neither me nor you;
It's just a place to warstle through,
As Job confessed o't;
And aye the best that we'll can do
Is mak the best o't.

What you would like's a palace ha',
Or Sunday parlor dink an' braw
Wi' a' things ordered in a raw
By denty leddies.
Weel, than, ye cannae hae't that's a'
That to be said is.

As Robert Louis Stevens says:

Glossary—"Warstle," wrestle. "Ha'," hall. "Dink an' braw," neat and pretty. "Denty leddies," dainty ladies.

7 DAYS LEFT AND LAST PONY VOTE BONUS IS ON

Sharpest Competition Due in Home Stretch—Extra Ballots Only on American.

Just one week from Thursday The Georgian and American pony contest closes! Think what this means to the contestants. Just seven days in which to hustle in votes!

Nothing counts now save subscriptions to The Georgian and Sunday American, and there are no bonus votes except for subscriptions to The Sunday American.

On The Sunday American, therefore, the contestants should concentrate their efforts. The "Red Letter Ballots" may save the day for any boy or girl. Red letter ballots are good for 4,500 votes, in addition to the regular schedule, when accompanied by a two-year paid-in-advance subscription to The Sunday American; 2,000 votes when accompanied by a year's subscription and 800 votes when accompanied by a six months' subscription.

No matter what newspaper, or how many newspapers, the resident of Atlanta or the South reads during the week, every one wants The Sunday American. Therefore, while this bonus offer is not as liberal as those which have gone before, it should be of great assistance in piling up votes.

And how the votes will roll up during the week! The standings will be published every day, for a time. Watch them, and see how keen is the race for the ponies.

It is a safe prediction that every day will see startling changes in the standings. This last week of the contest is not going to be pleasant for the over-confident, for the easy-going, or for the faint-hearted. It will be a cruel pace set by the leaders, with every one guessing, and every one in the dark.

There is not a boy or a girl in any district who can be sure of success, not a one but needs every possible vote that can be solicited, entreated, or cajoled from relatives, friends, or strangers.

It is the home stretch which the contestants are entering now, and the going will be swift.

Two Hustlers in Shetland Contest

R. C. Overstreet, Sylvania, Ga.

Vivian Broom, 493 Woodward avenue.

SIDELIGHTS ON POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments is the hardest worked committee at present in the House, but when it has cleared away the new county propositions, which it is trying manfully to do, it will get a much needed and deserved breathing spell.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, the chairman of the committee, is one of the Legislature's really tireless workers, and sits patiently through the most exhaustive hearings, without expressing the slightest desire to cut anybody off or shut up the noise.

He seems determined to give every new county proposition coming up a "square deal" and a full committee hearing, no matter what happens thereafter in the House.

After the new counties are disposed of, however, the work of the Constitutional Amendments Committee will be by no means at an end. There yet is to come up Mr. Edmondson's bill calling for a Constitutional convention, and while the impression is that no such bill likely will pass the House at this session, that would by no means stop the Constitutional Amendments Committee from considering, and recommending it, one way or the other, to the House.

Besides this, there are half dozen other proposed amendments to the Constitution, some of which will have aggressive and most influential backing. All of these Chairman Myrick intends giving a hearing, if time holds out.

The only thing that can head off the chairman of Constitutional Amendments Committee in the matter of hard work is adjournment—and that will not come for twenty-odd days yet.

Phil Cook, Secretary of State, is happy!

He thinks he is going to get a new Great Seal of State soon, and that is what he has been looking for—these many days.

For long, long years, Secretary Cook's pet grievance—he hasn't many grievances of any sort—has been that worn-out Great Seal of State, which, despite his best efforts, can hardly be made out on legal documents.

Secretary Cook isn't at all foolish about great seals of state, either. He figures that he could have wabbled along without them, had they never been invented, and he would be, perhaps, quite as happy, had he never heard tell of one.

Still, if Georgia must have a great seal of state, he opines that it should be one that might be differentiated from other and less important seals, and that without the aid of a 40-horsepower microscope.

"Look at this thing, now," said the Secretary, exhibiting a specimen of the present great seal's most deadly work. "Could you tell whether that is the great seal of Georgia or the great seal of Kamchatka? I couldn't, if I didn't know. What's the use having such a great seal?"

Nobody could answer that, and so everybody listening agreed that the Legislature should, and probably will, pass the present bill of Mr. Nunnally, providing for a new great seal.

"The best office in Bibb County" will not be the best office after the first of January if a bill proposed by Representative Wallace Miller is passed by the present Legislature.

This is the office of Clerk of the City Court, now held by Charles H. Smith, 23 years of age, who draws an income of $8,000, collected in fees.

Mr. Miller's bill puts the clerk on a salary basis and provides for a salary of $2,400. The clerk is appointed by the judge, who now receives a salary of $3,300, but for whose benefit there has already been a bill introduced, raising the pay to $5,000.

The duties of this Clerk of Court are very light, and as he has a well-paid assistant, the office is really a delightful one. It has long been considered the choicest office of the county.

Professor J. W. Boyd, of Fairmount, Gordon County, whose eloquent plea for Tate County was successful before the House Committee on Constitiutional Amendments Tuesday, is one of the most picturesque men that ever served in the Georgia Legislature.

When a member of the State Senate in 1908, he introduced the famous bill abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia, and no man fought for the passage of that measure through both Houses and both committees more aggressively and more effectively than Boyd.

He is an orator of the old school, with a "hallelujah lick" that reminds one instantly of that other eloquent North Georgian, the late Congressman William H. Felton. Undoubtedly, it was Boyd's great effort before the committee on Tuesday that carried the day for Tate.

The argument winning the greatest favor, perhaps, was that wherein Boyd assured the committee that the creation of Tate would result, by reason of the amalgamation therein of the Republican end of Pickens, in the abolition of one rock-ribbed Republican county—Pickens—and the creation of a new rock-ribbed Democratic county of Tate.

It has been years since Pickens sent a Democrat to the Legislature, all because of the Republican end of the county that Boyd proposes to whack off. The Republicans of Pickens, needless to say, are bitterly opposed to Tate and are fighting it tooth and nail. The pressing of this partisan point before the committee, however, was effective.

Of course, Senator Boyd urged other points, such as earnest desire upon the part of the population effected, necessity of location, wealth and Tate's ability to take care of itself, but the big card undoubtedly seems to have been the anti-Republican argument before a Democratic committee.

Tate will go before the House when it does go with considerable favor behind it.

NEW COLUMBUS DEPOT BEGUN.

COLUMBUS.—A force of men has begun tearing down the old Southern Railway freight depot preparatory to building a new and larger one. A temporary depot is being erected on the site of the old Georgia Midland depot.

STOCK MARKET

By CHARLES W. STORM.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lower prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market to-day, with the exception of the copper shares which ruled strong.

Canadian Pacific showed a loss of a point in response to a similar decline in the London market. Other industrial issues yielded fractionally, but the recessions were not accompanied by any indications of weakness, and as the leader the one developed after the first few minutes of trading.

United States Government 2s showed a further decline this morning, 10,000 of the bonds selling at 96¾, a decrease of ⅝.

The London market was dull.

Trading on the curb was steady.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

STOCKS.	Open.	High.	Noon.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Cop.	68⅜	68⅛	68¼	68⅜
Am. B. Sugar	24⅝	24⅛	24¼	24½
Am. Can	32⅜	31⅝	32	32⅝
do. pfd.	93⅛	92½	92½	92⅝
A. Car Fdy.	43⅝	43⅜	43⅜	43⅝
Am. Ice	22	22	22	....
Am. Smelt.	62⅜	62	62¼	62½
Am. Sugar	111⅜	111⅜	111⅜	111⅛
Anaconda	34⅛	34⅛	34⅛	34⅛
Atchison	98	97⅝	97⅝	98
B. and O.	98	98	98	97⅛
Beth. Steel	33⅛	32⅝	33	32⅜
B. R. T.	87⅜	87⅛	87⅜	87⅞
Can. Pac.	218½	218	218⅛	219⅛
Cen. Leath.	23	23	23	23¼
C. and O.	54	53⅛	53⅜	54
C. F. and I.	30⅜	30⅜	30⅝	30⅝
Corn Prod.	10⅛	10	10	10⅛
Erie	26¼	26⅛	26⅛	26⅜
do. pfd.	40⅛	40	40	40⅛
Gen. Elec.	140⅛	139⅝	139⅝	140
G. N. pfd.	124⅛	123⅝	123⅝	124⅛
Gt. West.	14	14	14	14⅛
Interboro	15⅜	15½	15½	15⅝
do. pfd.	59	58⅛	58⅛	59
M., K. and T.	22	22	22	21⅜
L. Valley	149	148⅛	148⅛	149⅛
L. and N.	133	132⅜	132⅝	132⅞
Mo. Pacific.	31⅜	31½	31⅜	31½
N. Y. Central.	98⅛	98	98	98
Northwest.	128½	128½	128½	128½
N. and W.	104⅞	104⅞	104⅝	105
No. Pacific.	108⅞	108⅝	108⅜	108½
O. and W.	29¼	29¼	29¼	29
Penna.	113⅞	113⅝	113⅝	113⅝
P. Gas Co.	112⅝	112⅝	112⅝	....
Reading.	160½	159⅞	160⅜	160⅝
R. I. and Steel	24⅜	24	24¼	23⅞
do. pfd.	86⅞	86	86	86½
Rock Island.	16½	16⅜	16⅜	16⅝
So. Pacific.	92⅜	92¼	92⅜	96⅝
So. Railway	22⅞	22⅞	22⅞	22⅝
St. Paul.	104⅞	104⅜	104⅜	104⅜
Union Pacific.	147⅝	147⅜	147⅝	148¼
U. S. Rubber	60	59½	59½	....
U. S. Steel.	56⅞	56½	56⅝	56⅞
do. pfd.	106½	106½	106½	106½
Utah Copper	43½	43⅛	43⅛	44⅝
Wabash, pfd.	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝	6⅜
W. Electric	62	62	62	62¼

STOCK GOSSIP

The yearly statement of the Republic Steel Company shows that the steel business is in good shape and the stock of this company and the United Steel Corporation should sell considerably higher before the end of the year. The demand for copper metal is again quite active and it is more than likely that the price will show a gradually advancing tendency. Believe conditions justify higher prices.—G. D. Potter.

* * *

The news from the Balkans is not inspiring. Foreign traders are disposed to take profit.

* * *

Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Texas, submits a rival currency bill to President Wilson.

* * *

The New Haven may select a new president to-day or Thursday.

* * *

The express rate decision may be rendered to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads may be denied advance, but may be ordered to discontinue high allowance paid to industrial owners of switching railroads, thereby saving $42,000,000 a year, says The American.

* * *

Information channels favor profit-taking.

* * *

The Erie Railroad agreed to join other roads in accepting any arbitration award, but will ask men to defer effective date until January 1, 1915.

* * *

It is reported that the United Cigar Company will open a London branch.

* * *

New Haven Railroad earned between 5 and 5½ per cent in 1913 and paid 7½ per cent dividends.

COTTON GOSSIP

Dallas wires: "Texas generally clear. Oklahoma—North portion cloudy; balance clear."

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows very favorable conditions; cloudy over entire eastern half of the belt and Oklahoma. Fair in rest of the belt. Splendid rains in the Eastern States and Alabama, nice showers in Louisiana and Mississippi. Heavy rains in Galveston, but none in interior of Texas. Indications are for clearing over the Atlantics, showers in the Central States and Eastern part of Texas with increasing cloudiness over the Western half of Texas.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "Spot cotton, fair demand; prices easier; sales estimated 8,000. American middling fair, 7.59; good middling, 6.95; middling, 6.68; low middling, 6.49; good ordinary, 6.01; ordinary, 5.67."

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "July gyrations stirred the lethargic New Orleans talent out of a half slumber. Ring traders were not looking for anything of the kind, and for a time lacked an adequate explanation of the market's action. All along it has been understood that the strength of the New Orleans July position resulted from the presence of concentrated long interest, held by a few men who were expected to stand pat and receive cotton, and from the presence of a scattered long interest held by men who were simply riding on the backs of the other fellow. So confident were the riders that July would be protected to the last that they neglected the small but important formality of watching the pulse of the market, in session and out.

"Early yesterday the fact became known to a few that the concentrated long interest in July had been wholly liquidated and the wise boys moved to the ringside to watch the fun when the 'riders' should wake up. The news spread slowly and the sensitive nerve was not touched until after the lunch hour. Then pandemonium broke loose. There were not a great many outstanding speculative long contracts, but as everybody interested wanted to liquidate at one and the same moment, fluctuations were violent. The talent has now turned its attention to August. It is well within the range of the possible that a few of the 2,300 bales taken up on July contracts may be retendered on August. It is also possible that the talent may shy away from August, because of the comparative rapidity with which new crop cotton is now showing up, as there is a disposition in some quarters to believe that 'first' bales will be more quickly followed by a free movement than is usual."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 23.—With cables at a point or so better than had been expected and no rain in either Texas or Oklahoma, the cotton market opened quiet and steady to-day, with prices showing irregularity, being 2 off to 3 points higher than the closing quotations of Tuesday. Barometric conditions as shown on the map did not indicate any rain in prospect for the Western belt, resulting in most active positions increasing their gains 2 to 4 points from the initial level.

Cotton bulls received another jolt after the call when another drop of 30 points in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the market. July New Orleans dropped from 12.00 to 11.70, while August followed with a loss of 25 points. This, together with the late map showing unsettled weather condition in the Western belt, was about the only interesting feature. With the exception of scattered trade buying, the market was friendless and prices droped 6 to 12 points from the opening. July and August were the heaviest pressed, both declining 12 points. The selling was generally accredited to holders of long contracts, who were tired of waiting for the market to pull out of the rut.

NEW YORK COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	12:00 P.M.	Prev. Close.
July	12.16	12.16	12.07	12.08	12.15-16
Aug.	12.00	12.02	11.88	11.90	12.01-02
Sept.	11.68	11.68	11.68	11.68	11.67-69
Oct.	11.45	11.48	11.36	11.38	11.45-46
Nov.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.38-40
Dec.	11.37	11.41	11.30	11.31	11.39-40
Jan.	11.34	11.36	11.25	11.26	11.33-34
Feb.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.34-36
Mch.	11.43	11.48	11.33	11.33	11.41-42
May	11.46	11.46	11.38	11.38	11.43-45

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.—This market was due 2½ points lower on near positions and 4 to 4½ points lower on distant months, but opened quiet at a net decline of 2 to 3 points; at 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet, at a net decline of 3 to 4 points.

Fair business doing in spot cotton at 3 points decline; middling 8.69d; sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American bales; imports 1,000 bales, of which none were American.

Futures opened easier.

	Opening Range.	2 P.M.	Close.	Prev. Close.
July	6.45	6.43½	6.42½	6.47
July-Aug.	6.44½	6.43½	6.42	6.46½
Aug.-Sept.	6.36½	6.36	6.34½	6.39½
Sept.-Oct	6.32	6.21½	6.20	6.25
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17½	615½	6.20½
Oct.-Nov.	6.18	6.17¼	6.15½	6.20½
Dec.-Jan.	6.15½	.....	6.11	6.15½
Jan.-Feb.	6.13	6.12½	6.11	6.15½
Feb.-Mch.	6.14	.....	6.12½	6.17
Mch.-Apr.	6.15½	6.15½	6.13½	6.18
Apr.-May	.....	.....	6.14½	6.19
May-June	6.18	.....	6.15½	6.20

Closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Cotton quotations:

	Open	High	Low	12:00 P.M.	Prev. Close.
July	12.00	12.00	11.70	11.70	12.00-01
Aug.	11.96	11.95	11.69	11.72	11.91-95
Sept.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.55-57
Oct.	11.51	11.52	11.40	11.41	11.50-51
Nov.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.48-49
Dec.	11.48	11.50	11.38	11.38	11.48-49
Jan.	11.51	11.51	11.44	11.49	11.50-51
Feb.	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.46-49
Mch.	11.54	11.54	11.54	11.54	11.59-61
May	.....	.....	.....	.....	11.65-68

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

A. Norden & Co.: We favor buying on breaks such as we had yesterday.

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We continue to favor purchases on such dips as we had yesterday.

Miller & Co.: We anticipate further recession, but believe in buying into the market when these come along.

GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Grain quotations to noon:

	High.	Low.	Noon.	Prev. Close.
WHEAT—
July	86⅝	86⅛	86½	86⅛
Sept.	87⅝	86⅞	87⅝	87
Dec.	91	90½	90⅞	90⅝
CORN—
July	61½	60⅞	61⅜	61⅞
Sept.	62⅛	62	62⅜	62½
Dec.	59½	59	59⅜	59⅝
OATS—
July	39⅛	38⅞	39	39⅛
Sept.	40⅝	40½	40⅝	40⅝
Dec.	42⅝	42¼	42⅝	40⅝
PORK—
July	22.25	22.25	22.25	22.10
Sept.	21.55	21.45	21.52½	21.42½
Jan.	.....	.....	.....	11.52½
LARD—
July	.....	.....	.....	11.82½
Sept.	11.87½	11.87½	11.87½	11.67½
Oct.	.....	.....	.....	11.95
RIBS—
July	.....	.....	.....	11.75
Sept.	11.87½	11.87½	11.87½	11.87½
Oct.	11.65	11.62½	11.65	11.65

Grain Notes

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Wheat traders were inclined to ignore the big export business and argued that with a large movement and a tight money market, prices are not expected to work much higher and hold any advance.

"It was said by corn traders last night that should there be good rains shown on the map to-day prices may go some lower, but that corn should be bought on any good break.

"From the action of oats yesterday traders were inclined to look upon it as having been overbought in the last few days. There is a disposition, however, to buy on every decline."

* * *

Chicago, raining, 67 degrees; Minneapolis, clear, 60; Springfield, Peoria, cloudy, 72; no rain; Terre Haute, clear, 80; Kansas City, part cloudy, 85; no rain; St. Louis, clear, 74; no rain; Omaha, cloudy, 75; light rain last night.

* * *

The August Government report is to be issued Friday, August 8, at 1:15 p. m., Central time.

* * *

Bears are predicting a liberal Western movement of wheat this week.

* * *

Liverpool weekly stocks were: Wheat, 3,218,000 bushels, and corn, 893,000 bushels. Wheat increased 464,000 bushels and corn unchanged.

* * *

The Western hog run during the past week was 445,800, compared with 567,000 last year. The movement of provisions from Chicago is somewhat larger than last year and probably offsets the increased hog receipts.

* * *

A cablegram from the Institute of Agriculture at Rome has been received by the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington giving tariff statistics on the world's crops. The estimated production of wheat in 1913 by countries is:

Bulgaria, 64,401,000 bushels; Spain, 110,100,000 bushels; England and Wales, 55,080,000 bushels; Italy, 198,417,000 bushels. The combined production of Belgium, Bulgaria, Denmark, Spain, Italy, Luxemboura, Switzerland, the United States, India, Japan, Great Britain, European Russia and Hungary is estimated at 1,962,000,000 bushels, or, 100.2 per cent of last year's production.

MINING STOCKS.

BOSTON, July 23.—Opening: Calaria, 62½; New Haven, 102¾; Allouez, 33½; Sheet Machine, 46½; Calumet Hecla, 425; Butte Superior, 27⅝; Quincy, 60.

BAR SILVER.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Commercial bar silver, 58⅞. Mexican dollars, 47.

LONDON, July 23.—Bar silver steady, 27⅛d, up 1-16d.

AMERICAN FLAG OFFER

SIZE 5X8 FEET

Valued at Five Dollars

for 90 cents

This beautiful American Flag, the very latest, with 48 stars, made of fine bunting.

Cut out Coupon below, and bring to THE HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and ATLANTA GEORGIAN Office, with 90 cents, and secure one of these beautiful flags.

THIS COUPON and 90c entitles the holder to an American Flag, 5 feet by 8 feet, when presented at our offices,

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN
THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

20 EAST ALABAMA ST. 35 PEACHTREE ST.

Flags will be mailed at an additional charge of 10c for postage.

Every man is proud to say he is an American, and it is his duty to see that "Old Glory is flung to the breeze" on every appropriate occasion.

See that you have one of these flags at your office or at your home.

Take advantage of this offer.

Hearst's Sunday American

and

Atlanta Georgian

20 East Alabama Street 35 Peachtree Street
ATLANTA, GA.

Why Wait For a Soothsayer, Charmer or Wizard,

FURNITURE FOR SALE. FURNITURE FOR SALE.

Walker-Cooley Furniture Company

87-89 S. FORSYTH STREET.
Bell Phone Main 2785.

WE ARE SELLING furniture cheaper for cash than any store in Atlanta, as we are out of the high-rent district. See us before buying.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

YOUNG MAN with thorough knowledge of city, able to handle labor, wants permanent position in any line. Address H., Box 133, care Georgian. 28-16-7

SUPERINTENDENT of building construction or inspector is open for an engagement on any class of building. Address A. C., Box 411, care Georgian. 41-18-7

EXPERIENCED colored man, 33 years old, wants work as janitor or porter. Give good references as to honesty, reliability and habits. No Sunday work. Address L. T. A., 131 Markham Street (rear). 35-18-7

WANTED—Situation as teacher for business department in some high school or college. Have five good typewriters and seven years experience. Address P. O. Box 136, Blue Ridge, Ga. 47-18-7

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

SPECIAL RATES for Situation Wanted ads. 3 lines 1 time, 10c; 3 times, 20c; 7 times, 40c.

WANTED—Position as teacher in public school by young lady with two years' experience. Normal training. First grade license. Address L. T., Hartwell, Ga. 34-22-7

POSITION WANTED as general housewerker in a private family, city or country; city references. Address S. M., Box 67, care Georgian. 30-22-7

WANTED—Position as companion; would like to be with old couple; will work for reasonable price. Call at once at 236 Park avenue. 29-22-7

FIRST-CLASS chambermaid wants work at once; find her in rear of 103 Washington street. 35-21-7

WANTED—By colored girl half day's work. E. H., 172 Fort street. 32-21-7

WANTED—Immediately as housekeeper, matron for school, domestic science teacher; splendid testimonials of work and character furnished. Address R., Box 187 Athens, Ga. 30-21-7

WANTED—Position in office as file clerk by young lady with experience. Address At Once, care Georgian. 36-20-7

WANTED—Position as matron, chaperon, housekeeper or linen woman, by settled, experienced widow with no encumbrance. Best references. Box 1313, care Georgian. 44-20-7

INEXPERIENCED stenographer desires position at once. Call Ivy 2782-L. 36-18-7

WANTED—Position by good, experienced nurse; special for sick babies. 396 Houston street. 40-18-7

WANTED—Position by young lady stenographer; have had three years' experience. Am at present employed, but desire to change. Call Main 3567-J. 28-18-7

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Drophead, new style, standard make sewing machine, in good condition. State lowest price. Address Sewing Machine, Box 735, care Georgian. 7-20-18

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

DROP A CARD
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE,"
166 Decatur Street.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-26

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To swap a set of black Lynx furs for an ice cream freezer. Address Mrs. J. W. Carmichael, 492 Chestnut St., Atlanta, Ga. 7-21-4

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Year-old fox terrier, view camera, Barred Rock cockerel; desire a tent. Perfection oil stove or bicycle. Tent, Box 63, care American. 7-20-7

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

FIRST CHECK for $75 gets Harley-Davidson motorcycle in good running condition; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded; better hurry. G. F. Dodson, Buchanan, Ga. 2-20-13

THOR motorcycles, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Company, 116 Edgewood Avenue. 3-26-31

SIMPLIFY HOME, house and room seeking by saving time, temper and tramping by consulting The Georgian's Rent Bulletin.

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

AS FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS WE SELL NASSAU 3,500 MILES GUARANTEED auto casing, 28 by 3, $9.15; 30 by 3, $9.80; 30 by 3½, $14.45; 32 by 3½, $15.40; 34 by 4, $20.85. Our STANDARD BLEMISHED CASING, NO GUARANTEE: 30 by 3, $8.45; 30 by 3½, $11.30; 32 by 3½, $12.25; 34 by 3½, $13.20; 34 by 4, $18.90. All other sizes in stock. Plain and non-skid. McPherson Auto Tire Co., Atlanta, Ga. 28-22-7

LITTLE FOUR ROADSTERS.
SEE the LITTLE FOUR Runabout. Sells for $690 f. o. b. factory; best car ever produced for the money. Johnson Motor Car Company, 455 Peachtree St. 7-13-361

CAMP CLEANS CARBONS
While You Wait.
Sanford Decarbonizer used. No experimenting. It does its work perfectly. No adjustments disturbed. $1.50 to $2.50 per cylinder. Motorcycles, $1.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP,
275 MARIETTA STREET. MAIN 2937.

BABCOCK Electric Victory; good batteries; new tires, new inner tubes, newly painted, brand-new charging outfit; all in first-class condition and all for $400 if taken next week. 452 Central Ave. M. 157-J. 56-20-7

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WINDSHIELDS,
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Manufacturers all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Company, 243 Edgewood. 3-4-64

FOR SALE—Marathon, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Everett, 1912 model, five-passenger, $550; Whiting, 1911 model, two-passenger, $275. Flowers Auto Garage Company, 34-36 Auburn avenue. 6-3-203

STUDEBAKER
SEVEN-PASSENGER touring car in fine condition; an excellent car for rent service. Special price, $650. Buick Motor Co., 241 Peachtree St., Atlanta. 7-13-359

COLUMBUS Electric Coupe. New chains and sprockets; battery just rebuilt and entire car refinished by John M. Smith. Will sell at a bargain, with one year guarantee.
LOT 50x1,300 feet on Marietta car line, near Smyrna. Sold 18 months ago for $1,500. Will trade $750 equity for automobile.
FIRESTONE-COLUMBUS SO. CO., 45 Auburn ave. Phone Ivy 4177. 7-16-26

SAVE your auto and motorcycle tires by using Auto Puncture Cure. Seals valve leak and all punctures up to 20-penny spikes automatically at once; preserves the rubber; prevents tube from sticking to casing; saves 35% of tire expense, 50% tire trouble and 40% of your religion. Watch for trademark, A. P. C. Call North Pryor Garage. Auto Puncture Cure Company, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 5990. 6-6-1

CLEARANCE SALE
OF
GOOD USED CARS.
Owing to the fact that we are going to move EVERY used car now on our floors by July 15th, we have put very low cash prices on the following cars:
Maxwell AA Runabout.
Whiting 4-cylinder Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Maxwell Q Roadster.
Model 16 Buick 5-passenger Touring car.
Model 21 Buick 5-passenger fore-door Touring car.
If you want a good car CHEAP, call on us at once
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
241 PEACHTREE STREET.

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES. AUTOMOBILES AND SUPPLIES.

CARBON REMOVED FROM AUTOMOBILE CYLINDERS
Without Removing Cylinders or Disturbing a Single Adjustment.
WE USE OXYGEN
No Liquid, Solvent or Preparation of Any Kind.
A Recent Discovery. No Possible Injury to Car.
It Takes One Hour's Time.
Think of the Saving in Time and Money.
Scores of References Furnished.
Come and Let Us Tell You About It.
Atlanta Welding Co.
Bell Phone Ivy 5367. 74 Ivy Street.

LONGEST TUNNEL

THE longest tunnel in the world is the Simplon, which is twelve and one-half miles long. It took over eight years to complete, at a cost of nearly $20,000,000. The tunnel gives France and Switzerland direct communication with Milan.

Many people are still under the impression that the St. Gothard tunnel is the longest, but, as a matter of fact, the Simplon tunnel is one-fourth more in length than the St. Gothard, and nearly twice the length of the Mont Cenis.

ANOTHER INTERESTING FACT TO-MORROW

BUSINESS GUIDE

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell Street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK.
Corner Alabama and Broad Streets.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Baseball Score.

PLAY — Baseball scores given by innings at 77 Peachtree Street. You will find the standing of all the leagues. — BALL

Butter.

BIG "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches at all founts. 7-20-59

Bread.

EAT MILKMAID BREAD, the best. 7-20-69

Carpenter and Builder.

FLY—SCREENS—FLY
COME see our roll-away screen, our roller-bearing screen, our sliding screen; none better. It will pay you to see our goods and get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Company. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 6-12-13

ALL KINDS OF REPAIR WORK.
D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St.
Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call 4-6-13

Fly Screens.

SPECIAL SALE on fly screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-58

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.
METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
PRICE & THOMAS—FLY SCREENS.
62 N. Pryor St. Bell Phone Ivy 4203. 7-10-10

Furniture.

SPECIAL SALE on screen doors and windows at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn. Ivy 4467. 7-20-57

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments. 416 Marietta.
Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-6-12

Furniture Upholstering.

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO.
Satisfaction guaranteed. Main 5111, Atlanta 5950-F. 6-16-2f

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta Street. Atlanta 3567. 6-7-29

Gas Stoves and Cookers.

THE PORTABLE OIL GAS STOVE—The ideal steam cookers—assorted. Reduce fuel bill and labor 75 per cent. R. B. Henry, General Agent, 269 Washington St. Bell Main 307-J. Agents wanted. 7-18-16

Jewelry.

WATCHES, Diamonds, Jewelry, Eye Glasses, Spectacles sold on the "divided payment" plan to reliable persons.
BANTA-COLE CO.
5 SOUTH BROAD STREET 6-26-3

Keys.

KEYS MADE CHARLES L. REEVES, 13½ S Broad Street. Main 885. 7-1-44

Lace Curtains.

WORK called for and delivered; satisfaction guaranteed; prices, 25c to 50c per pair. Call Atlanta phone 2641. 6-2-13

Lighting Fixtures.

ELECTRIC and gas fixtures; all new styles; lowest prices. Queen Mantel and Tile Company, 56 West Mitchell Street. Phone Main 681. 1-16-16

Lime, Concrete, Roofing, Stone.

LADD LIME AND STONE COMPANY. Lime, concrete and roofing stone. 915 3d Nat. Bank Bldg. 2-3-50

Mattress Renovating.

SANITARY MATTRESS RENOVATING—Factory new and up-to-date; moderate prices; give us a trial. Jackson & Orr Company, Means Street and W. & A. R. R. Both phones. 3-20-14

Machine Works.

SKIP—KNOCK—JUMP
CARBON.
CAMP cleans perfectly while you wait. A great thing for trucks. Try it.
CAMP MACHINE SHOP
275 Marietta Street. Main 2937. 7-8-29

New Rubber Tires.

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Ave. 2-13-9

Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON does all kinds of repair work. Painting and tinting a specialty. Bell phone West 1288-J. 397 W. Fair St. 6-22-137

Peanut Butter.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-46

Peanuts.

GET Big "4" Salted Peanuts at all founts. 7-20-50

Phenoline.

A DISINFECTANT, deodorant and germicide; destroys chicken mites and all kinds of insects. Phenoline Co., 106-A Edgewood Avenue. Main 2317. Atlanta 3038-A. 6-11-28

Picnic Lunches.

GET MILKMAID BREAD at all groceries. 7-20-68

Peanut Sandwiches.

EAT Big "4" Salted Peanuts, the Best. 7-20-48

Refrigerator.

SAVE MONEY on refrigerators at R. F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-11

Royal Typewriters For Rent.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 North Pryor Street. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

Sandwiches.

YOUR GROCER has Big "4" Peanut Butter. 7-20-51

Safe Cracksman.

FIRE and burglar-proof safes opened and repaired. C. C. Downes, 29½ Marietta Street. Phones M. 2146, Atlanta 4922. 6-5-11

Sewing Machines.

WE RENT new machines with complete set of attachments for $2 per month; also machines repaired; prompt delivery. Both phones 1893. Singer Sewing Machine Company, 79 Whitehall. 9-14-44

Signs.

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780. 8-18-33

KENT ON SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

Stove and Range Repairing.

STOVE DOCTOR.
STOVE, range and furnace repairing. 61 South Pryor Street. Bell Phone Main 1460. Atlanta phone 1410. 4-16-10

DAN, THE FIXER.
STOVES AND REFRIGERATOR REPAIRING.
We sell second-hand gas stoves.
We sweep chimneys.
121 WHITEHALL STREET.
Atlanta phone 2235 Bell phone M. 2699.

Tailors.

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-24

Trunks, Bags and Suitcases.

RETAILED AND REPAIRED.
ROUNTREE'S, 77 WHITEHALL ST.
PHONES: Bell M. 1576. Atlanta 1654.

Umbrellas.

"Taylor-Made" UMBRELLAS
BUY from makers—All prices from $1.00 up, with detachable handles. Guaranteed and kept in repair free. Expert repairing.
TAYLOR UMBRELLA CO.,
116½ Whitehall St. 4-23-3

Window and Housecleaning.

NATIONAL Window Cleaning Co., 47 E. Hunter St. Main 1175, Atlanta 1051. 7-2-42

EVERY DAY is a good day to read the Want Ads in The Atlanta Georgian.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Ducks.

FOR SALE—Ten White Indian Runners, eight females; fine birds; price $12.50 for lot. See them quick. 51 Oglethorpe Avenue. 47-20-7

Poultry—All Varieties.

HOW to grow alfalfa and become rich; booklet telling how easily it can be done for a 2c stamp. Loring Brown, Box G, Smyrna, Ga. 6-26-17

Rhode Island Reds.

WANTED—One Rose Comb R. I. Red cockerel; utility, but pure-bred. Price? M. V. Calvin, 21 Howard Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 71-20-7

100 HEAD S. C. Rhode Island Red hens and pullets, all thoroughbred, at $1 each. B. R. Leggett, Broxton, Ga. 38-20-7

Canaries.

FOR SALE—Young canaries, males, guaranteed fine singers, only $2; females, 75c. 641 Highland avenue. 26-21-7

Dogs.

FINE BERKSHIRE PIGS only $5; short nose; sire weighs 800 pounds; two registered sows $25 each; all bargains. W. M. Rodgers, Chappells, S. C. 7-22-6

COLLIE DOG, five months old; pedigreed stock-trained. Bottenfield. Phone 27-J, Decatur, Ga. 7-3-34

THE READING OF WANT ADS in Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian means money to you.

Cows.

FINE JERSEY COW.
GIVING four gallons milk daily; price $50. West 406-J. 7-19-23

FOR SALE—Magnificent registered Jersey heifer, 18 months old, due to calve December. Address H. P. L., No. 401 Peters Building, Atlanta. 29-18-7

FORTUNES have been made in Atlanta Real Estate. Your opportunity is probably to-day. Read Real Estate ads in "Want Ad" section of The Georgian.

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Horse and buggy. Phone Main 2835-J. Call 11 to 1 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. 7-22-41

FOR SALE—A fine mare; will work anywhere. Call Ivy 5852-J. 7-21-6

FOR SALE—Four pairs of mules. Apply to J. S. Davidson, 108 Whitehall Street. 7-19-9

HORSES AND VEHICLES.
Splendid runabout for sale. Cheap for cash. Apply at Room 201 Equitable Building.
Thoroughbred buggy horse for sale; will work anywhere. Rides the five gaits. Apply Room 201 Equitable Building. 92-20-7

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BOTH PHONES 2568.
OUR NORTH SIDE AND SOUTH SIDE DELIVERIES LEAVE THE STORE at 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END DELIVERIES LEAVE AT 2:00 P. M. ORDERS GIVEN BEFORE THESE HOURS WILL BE DELIVERED SAME DAY THEY ARE GIVEN.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB MASH FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

RED COMB CHICK FEED $2.25 per 100 pounds, 10 pounds 25c.

AUNT PATSY MASH FEED $2.75 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

LAY-OR-BUST MASH FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RED COMB PIGEON FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

RICE SPECIAL CHICK FEED $2.50 per 100 pounds, 8 pounds 25c.

ALFALFA MEAL $2.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

SWIFT'S MEAT SCRAPS $3.25 per 100 pounds, 7 pounds 25c.

GUARANTEED CHARCOAL $2.50 per 100 pounds, 50 pounds $1.25.

-:- THE GEORGIAN'S RENT BULLETIN -:-

ROOMS AND BOARD.

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-22-17

NICE CLEAN ROOMS and good board. 143 Marietta street. Atlanta phone 874. 7-22-10

43 WEST PEACHTREE has changed hands. Everything new and clean. Rates reasonable. Table boarders wanted. Ivy 2160. 7-22-5

NICELY furnished room, with or without board, for two or three gentlemen. 390 Whitehall. 7-21-13

LARGE, cool front room, near in, with board. Table the best. All conveniences. Ivy 6049-J. 35 Cone street. 7-21-15

68 WALTON ST.
BLOCK of postoffice, under new management; large, cool rooms, newly furnished, painted and papered. Meals a specialty at reasonable prices. 7-21-16

LADIES can get nicely furnished rooms and board at 249 Whitehall. Call Main 3878-J. 7-21-8

NICE ROOMS with board or table board. 69½ East Alabama St. Atlanta phone 2833. 7-20-84

ROOM AND BOARD for two; private family; close in; reasonable. Call Ivy 2782-L. 75-20-7

AT 513 PEACHTREE, a tea room and dining room open to public; patronage solicited. 80-20-7

ROOM, with board, in large suburban home. Two bath rooms, shade trees, big porches, large vegetable garden, chickens, Jersey cow, good servants. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-37

ROOMS, with or without board. 12 W. Pine St. 7-20-29

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

ONE OAK TYPEWRITER DESK, 1 Revolving Post Card Rack, 4 Humphrey Gas Arcs, 1 18-foot Store Awning. Apply 119 Peachtree St., Candler Bldg. 21-22-7

FOR SALE—Spring wagon in good condition, $12.50. 10 Equitable Place. 7-22-4

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.00; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-23

FOR SALE—Kindergarten table, five chairs and some material for work; very reasonable. Call Ivy 3534-J. 7-20-17

SECOND-HAND SAFES—All sizes, home safes $15.00; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 7-20-23

FOR SALE, CHEAP—One 2-horsepower gasoline engine and pump jack. Good as new. Call Atlanta phone 1930 or address 103 Lovejoy street, Atlanta. 27-21-7

LADIES! Cedar chest and window seats to-day $7; moth proof, 21x36 inches. 77½ Whitehall. 7-21-13

ONE nice bedroom set in excellent condition and cheap. Apply 58 Irwin St. 33-21-7

SECOND-HAND FURNITURE—Several articles, office clock, bookcase and library, also parlor set. Apply 57 Irwin Street. 34-21-7

A VERY sweet toned Kranich & Bush piano; great bargain. Address J. R. S., Box 214, care Georgian. 100-20-7

DIAMOND FOR SALE.
Will sell a beauty in a solitaire diamond. Will trade this stone for Travelers Bank stock, Universal Ice Company, deposits on the City Savings Bank, time deposits of any good bank in Georgia; or, good commercial paper. "Diamond," Box 205, care Georgian. 91-20-7

FOR SALE—A mission dining room set and various other pieces in good condition. Owner leaving city. 95 West Peachtree. Apartment 6. 7-20-80

FOR SALE—One Premo camera, 5 by 7, and developing outfit; first $15 gets it. A. L. Quinn, 759 Whitehall Street. 73-20-7

FOR SALE—Diamond ring, about ⅜ carat, pure white and perfect, for only $37.50; worth $60. Bargain. Call at 413 Peters Building. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-65

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

PEARS FOR SALE (CHEAP)—Sand pears, better known as LeContes. Will sell in barrel lots only. Joseph Fleischman, Hawkinsville, Ga. 7-20-8

FOR SALE—Camping outfit, consisting of 12 by 14 tent, six cots, six stools, folding table, stove and utensils. G. R. Williams, East Point, Ga. 7-20-10

FOR SALE—$50 Monitor range for $15. Phone Ivy 3580-J. 241 Forrest Avenue. 7-20-26

FURNITURE and carpets for sale cheap; also piano for sale or rent for use of it. Ivy 4809-J. 7-20-32

BROILERS
35 each. Phone Decatur 389. 7-20-36

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.
What will you give for three hundred shares of the Universal Ice Company stock? Make me very best offer. Will trade this stock for land or purchase money notes. Universal, Box 508, care Georgian. 85-20-7

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Nice new furniture cheap at 118 West Pine street. 31-18-7

WHOLE and one-half return tickets to Jacksonville, Fla., will sell cheap. Phone Main 4472. 44-18-7

FOR SALE—Floor showcase, cigar wall case and small soda fountain. 141 South Pryor street. 7-18-8

ONE seven-passenger Pope-Toledo, one Cadillac car, one mule, one horse for sale cheap. 295 Cooper Street. 35-7-7

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 North Pryor Street.

FURNITURE—I BUY AND SELL CASH BARGAINS. S. M. SNIDER, 145 SOUTH PRYOR STREET. PHONE MAIN 1421. 6-30-28

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

MOVED to 130½ Peachtree street, opposite Candler Bldg. Tom Weaver, Tailor. Established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-16

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED.
4 MONTHS FOR $5 AND UP.
Rebuilt typewriters, $23 to $75.
American Writing Machine Co.
48 North Pryor St. Phone Main 2526. 7-3-7

ROOMS AND BOARD.

CHOICE BOARD in private home; walking distance. 118 West Peachtree St. Ivy 7582-J. 7-20-35

REFINED, cultured Christian lady, owning her own home, fine Jersey cows, excellent vegetable garden and an immense large lot of fine poultry, will furnish room with board to a few people at $5 per week each. My home is modern in every particular and we have a very large and beautiful shady lawn of one acre. The fare I give is better than you can get at most places for double or even three times the price I charge. My home is in the most beautiful part of Atlanta. References exchanged. Address Home, Box 750, care Georgian. 7-20-3

WANTED—Two or three young men boarders; large front room; private home, Inman Park. Phone Ivy 6867-L. 7-20-47

NICE boarding house; gentlemen only. 151 Richardson street, right off Formwalt. Main 2250. 7-20-16

NICE rooms and board, ladies or gentlemen, $4 to $6 week. 123 Capitol Avenue. 6-28-36

22 E. CAIN, nicely furnished rooms and board; three minutes from Candler Bldg. Ivy 578-J. 7-15-27

FIRST-CLASS table board, with or without rooms, reasonable rates. 55 West Harris. Ivy 7799-J. 7-19-21

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK; ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 7-8-42

NICELY furnished front room and good board to young man in private family 263 West Peachtree, August 1. 7-17-4

TWO rooms, elegantly furnished, strictly private home, North Side; gentlemen only; references. Ivy 7311. 7-17-18

TWO beautifully furnished rooms for couple or young men; day boarders wanted. 43 W. Peachtree. Ivy 2160. 7-14-7

IVY HOTEL, 98 IVY ST.
AMERICAN PLAN, $1.25 up. Weekly Rates. 7-8-8

16 EAST BAKER ST.
GOOD board, pleasant rooms, desirable sleeping porch. Ivy 2666-J. 7-17-2

36 EAST NORTH AVE.
BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 7-3-12

OPPOSITE THE CAPITOL.
LARGE, nicely furnished rooms, excellent table board; hot and cold water. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 7-15-34

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—Room and board for self and husband, who travels, in refined home or apartment. Must be heated. State price and location. Address C. M. S., 55 Carmel Ave. Phone Ivy 4708-L. 7-2-12

WANTED—Board and room; refined private home. Upper Peachtree. Woman and son, 15. Permanent. Address K. A. B., Box 848, care American. 66-20-7

SUMMER RESORTS.

WHY STAY IN THE CITY and burn up with Oak Grove at your door, 'the Cool Off Place,' on Tallulah Falls Ry. Sleep under cover at night. T. M. Fosdrill, Turnerville, Ga. 35-22-7

WANTED—A few boarders for the rest of the summer at a nice, quiet country home, surrounded by large oaks; good country fare; all modern conveniences; fine water; quarter of mile from station. Rates $5 to $8 per week. Special rates for children. Address Mrs. W. S. Paris, Oak Mount, Clayton, Ga. 39-20-7

WILTON LODGE.
TURNERVILLE, Habersham County, Georgia, in the Blue Ridge, nearby Talluiah Falls; ideal climate; excellent fare; sleeping porches; rates reasonable. 43-11-7

COME to Rhea Springs, where you can play golf, tennis, boat, swim, dance and drink the best water that flows. Southern Railway sells round trip tickets. Train leaves Atlanta at 5:40 a. m., arrives Spring City, our railway station, at noon. No change cars or delay at Chattanooga. For further information, Atlanta, phone Dr. Saul 2305, or write Rhea Springs Co., Rhea Springs, Tenn. 48-18-7

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

TWO lovely furnished rooms, one front and one rear; all conveniences; walking distance. 41 Cone. 7-22-23

COMPLETELY furnished housekeeping room $2.75 weekly. 31 Hood street, near Mitchell. Main 2758-J. 7-22-20

TWO furnished rooms for gentlemen or couple; light housekeeping if desired. Main 2378-J. 112 Crew. 7-22-19

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms, with kitchenette for light housekeeping. Call Atlanta phone 3254. 7-22-18

LARGE COOL FRONT ROOM, private family; steam-heated apartments, all conveniences. Block of Candler Building. Phone Ivy 5095. 164 Ivy street, Apartment No. 5. 7-22-11

TWO ROOMS for housekeeping and four nicely furnished single rooms, cheap. Apply 17 W. Cain. 7-22-2

AT THE CAROLLTON.
20 CARNEGIE WAY. FURNISHED APARTMENTS AND FURNISHED ROOMS. J. F. STEELE, MGR. 7-22-3

ONE nicely furnished room and two unfurnished rooms very reasonable. Atlanta phone 3283. 7-21-20

FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping, three minutes from center of city. 191 Whitehall. 7-21-9

NICELY furnished front room, South Side; close in; all conveniences. Main 3888. 7-20-74

ONE large room, furnished complete for light housekeeping. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5256. 7-20-87

FURNISHED ROOMS.
Furnished room, overlooking Piedmont Park; private home; permanent; suitable for two young men; steam heated, electric light, bath. 139 East Tenth Street. Ivy 6164. 95-20-7

ONE large, nicely furnished front room; close in. 33 West Peachtree St. 7-20-78

NICELY furnished and cool rooms, with all conveniences; private home; everything clean and neat. Main 3606-J. 7-20-72

ONE OR TWO nicely furnished rooms in strictly private home. Phone Ivy 3041. 7-20-60

NICELY furnished rooms, with bath, cool, comfortable and cozy. Six minutes walk from Five Points. Phone Ivy 296. 83-20-7

TWO ROOMS and kitchenette, furnished complete for housekeeping, one block Grant Park. Cheap. Atlanta phone 1804. Apply 267 Oakland Avenue. 7-20-21

ONE large front upstairs bed room, nice and cool. 256-B Courtland. Ivy 5356. 7-20-88

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping, in cottage, with couple. 166 Oak Street. West 209. 7-20-30

ROOMS, with conveniences, at 56 Williams Street. Phone Ivy 3365-J. 7-20-44

SETTLED couple, owner of home, have three furnished rooms for housekeeping to couple without children; best reference given and required. Phone Ivy 6180. 57-20-7

TWO blocks from postoffice, just opened newly furnished rooms; all conveniences. Ivy 7725-J. 7-20-28

GENTLEMEN for lovely furnished room, near bath; private home. 227 West Peachtree St. Ivy 4763-J. 7-20-34

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

DELIGHTFULLY cool, comfortably furnished rooms; all conveniences; close in. 22 West Peachtree St. 7-20-33

NICELY furnished front bedroom for couple. 130 Ivy St. Ivy 4138-J. 7-20-39

THREE elegant furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Rent price, $16.60. 407 Fraser Street. 53-20-7

COOL front room, bath on each floor; near in. 11 Cone street. 39-16-7

FURNISHED rooms at 319 North Jackson street. Phone Ivy 3605. 7-18-14

ONE large and two small rooms for couple or two gentlemen. Call Ivy 3625-J. 7-19-20

NICELY furnished rooms and board at 503 Washington; gentlemen preferred. 27-18-7

ROOMS, furnished; board if desired; nice bath and phone furnished. Call Atlanta 4810. 7-18-2

AIRY furnished front room; home conveniences; private family. 85 W. Harris. Ivy 1934. 7-19-22

COOL, nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 307 Rawson St. Atlanta phone 1668. 7-19-31

ONE large furnished front room, $15 month; two connecting rooms, $25 month. 72 Spring. 32-19-7

ONE nicely furnished room, two business men or women or couple. Reasonable. 411 Fraser. 7-19-5

FURNISHED ROOM for rent. 301 Capitol Avenue. Jewish young man preferred. 76-20-7

THE FELTON, 107 IVY ST.
Nicely furnished rooms; hot and cold baths; all conveniences. 7-15-23

FOR RENT—By August 1, nicely furnished front room with private bath and entrance. Ivy 3534-J. 263 West Peachtree. 7-17-3

TWO nice cool upstairs furnished rooms for gentlemen; private family. Main 4776-L. 431 Central avenue. 7-19-35

ONE large front room furnished for light housekeeping, with gas range, $2.50 per week. 18 Woodward avenue. 7-18-5

DELIGHTFULLY cool room in refined North Side home; reasonable; gas, electricity. Between Peachtrees. Ivy 1294-J. 26-14-7

TWO nice large, cool and airy front rooms, one-half block of Peachtree Street. Home surroundings. 23 West Harris Street. 7-19-14

LARGE second story front room, newly furnished; dressing room attached; for couple or two gentlemen. Ivy 3182-J. 48 Currier street. 7-19-32

COMFORTABLE furnished front room, all conveniences, in strictly private family. Bath and if desired. 521 Courtland Street. Ivy 5863-J. 7-19-17

CHESTERFIELD.
EXCLUSIVE bachelor apartment; shower-bath. 15 W. Harris. 7-6-18

19 EAST CAIN STREET.
TWO elaborately furnished rooms, very cool, close in. 7-15-26

ONE furnished room, suitable for couple or two young men or two young ladies; reference required. Apply 331 Courtland Street. Bell phone 1760. 6-22-5

THREE furnished second-floor rooms, convenient for housekeeping; private bath. No children. Main 4347-J. 7-18-21

THE MARTINQUE.
CORNER ELLIS AND IVY STREETS
(Next door to Elks' Club).
FURNISHED ROOMS, with connecting bath. 7-3-36

FOUR gentlemen can have two cool, bright rooms, private bath, $5, or couple can rent them very cheap, unfurnished; near Piedmont Park. Ivy 7491-J. 7-16-34

TWO nicely furnished front rooms for housekeeping, one front bed room, private entrance; dressing room; connecting bath; good bargain. 290 Washington. 7-18-29

FOR RENT—Desirable three-room apartment, suite and private porch, completely furnished, all conveniences; also separate rooms; private home. 183 Ivy Street. 7-19-4

THE FAIRLEIGH.
133-5-7 SPRING ST. Phone Ivy 5558

When One of Our Want Ads Will Stir Up a Blizzard

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES.

$8,400 with which to buy purchase money notes, either first or second mortgages. Money in hand. No delay. Would lend on some good stocks. "Loan," Box 102, care Georgian. 93-20-7

STOCKS AND BONDS.

WILL BUY real estate direct from owners in exchange for 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of a large established corporation. Address P. C., Box 851, care American. 7-20-67

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—$500 for one year on improved real estate, undivided interest. H. C., P. O. Box 853, City. 50-20-7

$1,250 WANTED on high-class property in West End section. Offer, P. O. Box 441, Atlanta. 7-18-18

ESTABLISHED 1888.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS

In Sums of $500 and over.
THE MERCHANTS AND MECHANICS BANKING AND LOAN CO.,
209 Grant Building. Telephone Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, President. 3-11-50

WE HAVE six high-class loans, twelve fifty, fifteen hundred and seventeen fifty. Will pay 8 per cent. West End, P. O. Box 441. 7-18-19

MEDICAL.

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Colonial Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

YOU ARE looking for a position, aren't you, or you would not be reading these ads? Perhaps the position you are looking for is not to be found advertised today. Then why not spend a few cents advertising for a position in the "Situation Wanted" columns of this paper tomorrow? There is no need of your walking around in the hot sun or rain, letting your brain go to rust as well as worrying yourself sick looking for a good position when a "Situation Wanted" ad in The Georgian will do the searching for you. An ad in this paper will cost you only a few cents to run several times and relieve your mind of a heavy load. Try it and see.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Colored saloon on Decatur street, doing good business. Apply E. M., Box 48, care Georgian. 22-22-7

WANTED—A partner for established branch agency to handle inside end. This is a money maker and exceptional opportunity. Address Salesman, Box 482, care Georgian. 7-20-89

YOUNG MAN of exceptional business ability will invest with services $2,000 to $4,000 in good going concern. Address J. M. B., Box 854, care American. 72-20-7

LIVE opportunity for a live man with moderate capital. Enterprise of exceptional merit; big future and fortune for the right man. Handle your own money. Strictest investigation invited. Address Quick Results, Box 852, care American. 70-20-7

IF YOU want to buy business of any kind it will be to your interest to examine our listings. Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building. 7-20-64

THE R. F. JORDAN Furniture Company is making a special sale on refrigerators. 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-54

FOR SALE—FURNITURE and FURNISHINGS of ten-room house, close in, on North Side. Lease on house at cheap rent; nice place to run boarding house or rent rooms. Price $500, terms of $100 cash and balance monthly. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

LARGE CORPORATION requires the services of man in each locality to manage branch office; make $5,000 yearly; investment of $100 necessary; send 10 cents stamps for contract and particulars. Guaranty Collection Company, Dept. 11, Potts Camp, Miss. 28-20-7

QUESTION—If you have read this, is it not reasonable to suppose others will read your ad in this paper if you want anything?

SAVE MONEY on furniture at R. F. Jordan Furniture Company, 144-146 Auburn Avenue. Ivy 4467. 7-20-56

FOR SALE—In South Carolina town, stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes; will inventory about $15,000; stock in good condition; all good, salable merchandise; nice store; has established trade. Will sell at discount and give terms. This is good opportunity for live man. "Opportunity," Box 90, care Georgian. 34-20-7

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—Completely furnished three-chair barber shop, near center of town; fixtures and good will. This is a good opportunity for right party. Best cash offer more than $300 will be accepted. Address J. P. Wimbish, 35½ Auburn Avenue, Atlanta. 7-20-27

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—$600 cash, balance monthly (price $1,200), buys old-established and beautifully equipped SODA WATER, CIGAR, CONFECTIONERY and MILK DEPOT business, on prominent corner; thickly populated, high-class residence section; average daily sales about $25; rent only $40 for store room and eight-room house in connection; a good opportunity in this line. Some terms considered. YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

IF YOU WANT to sell your business, no matter where located, need partner or additional capital, see Young & Goodroe, Business Brokers, 413-414 Peters Building, Atlanta. "We can sell any business that has merit." 7-20-45

MOVED TO 130½ Peachtree St., opposite Candler Bldg., Tom Weaver, Tailor, established 1900. Tailoring, refitting, altering, dry cleaning and pressing. 7-16-15

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

ON account of ill health I will sell at a sacrifice my well-established and up-to-date pool room (four tables), barber shop (three chairs), one Lippincott soda fountain, lunch and cigar stands and electric fans with all other necessaries in a first-class and well established place of this kind; located in one of Florida's best towns of 10,000 population. For price, terms and other particulars, address P. O. Box 293, Jacksonville, Fla. 7-19-11

EAT Big "4" Peanut Butter Sandwiches. 7-20-49

FOR SALE—SODA WATER, CIGAR and LUNCH business in heart of city, on terms of $150 cash, balance monthly, or will trade $400 equity for vacant lot, automobile or anything of value. Purchaser to assume $650 due on fount, payable monthly; big bargain; act quick. Phone or see YOUNG & GOODROE, Business Brokers, 413 Peters Building. 7-20-45

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published by The Georgian Company, 20 East Alabama St. Atlanta, Georgia.

Entered at Atlanta postoffice as second-class matter.

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
One year, mail, postage prepaid, $5.00
Six months, mail, postage prepaid, 2.50
Three mos., mail, postage prepaid, 1.25
One month, mail, postage prepaid, .45

Subscriptions Payable in Advance.
Delivered by carrier, one year..... $5.20
Delivered by carrier, six months.. 2.60
Delivered by carrier, three months.. 1.30
Delivered by carrier, one month .... .45
Delivered by carrier in Atlanta and other cities, one week ..... .10

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN.

$5,000 to lend on Atlanta real estate. Will lend in $1,000 denominations or any multiple. No red tape or delay. "Money," Box 300, care Georgian. 90-20-7

R. C. DeSAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Bldg. 7-1-43

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell Building.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad Street. 4-1-17

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould Building. 7-12-1

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plan. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood Avenue.

EAT Milk Maid Bread, the Best. 7-20-70

LOANS $25.00 AND UP

On Furniture, Pianos or Indorsed Notes.

AT RATES permitted by the laws of the State. Our easy payment plan allows you to pay us back to suit your income. We also protect you from publicity, and extend every courtesy to make the carrying of a loan satisfactory to you in every way.

GUARANTEE LOAN CO.
Room 318 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Bell Phone Main 440. 7-17-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

CALIFORNIA BUNGALOW for sale; best section Inman Park; beautiful porch, built-in bookshelves, large open fireplace. Phone Mr. Smoots, Ivy 4324. 7-22-40

NINE LOTS for sale in Hollywood Cemetery cheap. Call Bell Main 3978-L. 37-22-7

MY EQUITY in No. 1 South Gordon, West End Park, Atlanta. Ideal home; 8 rooms, bath, hardwood floors. Conveniences. Box 315, Troy, Ala. 7-22-13

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

A first-class little piece of property, always rented, near Fair Street School and Hunter street, can be bought on good terms. Now rented for $15 per month. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 87-20-7

CENTER HILL HOME.

Will sell, on good terms, a home at Center Hill—only a short distance from the car line—large lot. Call at Room 201 Equitable Building. 89-20-7

FOR SALE—Cottage of five rooms and bath; near one of Atlanta's best schools. 259 East North Ave., or call Ivy 6648-L. 96-20-7

PEACHTREE ROAD HOME.

Near Seventeenth street, brand-new home; everything modern; large lot. Will sell this home on good terms, or will trade it for good income-paying property. Immediate possession. "Peachtree Road," Box 108, care Georgian.

FOR SALE—Five-room bungalow on Third avenue, Lakeview; lot 50 by 190, in six blocks of East Lake, $2,250; terms. W. M. Butler, Third Avenue, Decatur, Ga. 41-20-7

REMEMBER the great cut price sale of lovely lots Wednesday at 3 o'clock in Camden Park; joins College Park. Terms $10 cash and $5 a month. "Get there, Eli," and buy a couple of them. 49-20-7

TRUCK FARM.

SIX MILES of center of city; 14 acres in high state of cultivation; four acres good bottom land; one 5-room and one 3-room house; running water; all kinds of fruits; right at railroad stop and near car line. Bargain at $3,000, on good terms. See YOUNG & GOODROE, 413 Peters Bldg. Phone Main 3155. 7-20-66

FOR SALE—By owner, lot near East Lake, facing car line; 75 feet front; tile walks; within 400 feet of water main; sewerage touches back of lot; $599; easy terms. Address Perry, Box 847, care Georgian. 7-20-13

THIS is an age of suburban residences. Then why not buy you a lot out in beautiful Clairemont Park, North Decatur? Buy now while the price is low. Easy terms. L. P. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

FOR SALE—A beautiful house and lot, 126 Flora avenue. Go out and look at it and make me an offer; good terms. Atlanta phone 4856. 43-18-7

RENT RECEIPTS have no cash value. See me about building a home for you on monthly payments. Own Interest. Address Box 631, care Georgian. 7-17-37

FOR SALE—Ten-room house on North Moreland Avenue; $500 less than market value. Leaving city reason for selling. Address B. K., Box 222, care Georgian. 7-17-16

BEAUTIFUL shaded lot, 50 by 258 near East Lake; tile sidewalks and curbing down; small cash payment, balance arranged to suit. Owner, Box 115, care Georgian. 7-18-3

A REAL BARGAIN, North Side bungalow, seven rooms and sleeping porch, all screened, furnace heated, double floors and storm-sheathed. Large basement with servant's room. Front yard nicely sodded. Ivy 5974. 26-18-7

CONTINUED IN NEXT COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

ANSLEY PARK HOME.

THIS IS a seven-room two-story house with very large sleeping porch. It has hardwood floors and steam heated. It is brand-new and was built for a home, but on account of sickness owner has to sell. It is located near car line and on good, large lot. This is a real bargain at $7,000, and on good terms. See us at once about this, as it will surely sell at this price and terms.

MARIETTA ST. STORE.

ONE-STORY BRICK STORE on lot 47 feet front, running through to railroad. This side of North avenue. Price, $125 per foot—$50 per foot less than adjoining property sold for. Owner needs money for other business.

SHARP & BOYLSTON.
36 S. BROAD STREET.
PHONES 756.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHY NOT BUY you a lot out in beautiful Peachtree Highlands on the car line to Brookhaven? Property values in this section are sure to enhance rapidly and the environments are all that could be desired. Bottenfield, 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. 7-20-12

TWENTY (20) acres land at Norcross, Ga., four blocks from depot; nineteen miles from Atlanta; all in cultivation and fruit trees. No houses. Offer for $1,250, one-fourth cash, balance three years, 8% interest. Public schools and churches. Address Box 56, Lavonia, Ga. 7-19-33

FOR BUSINESS reasons must sell my home at once, and am offering special inducements for quick sale. It's located in one of the best residence sections of the North Side. Beautiful, elevated, level lot 190 feet deep; vegetable garden, chicken runs, house is fully screened, has hardwood floors, exposed beam ceiling, tile bath, electric lights, gas, hot and cold water, beautiful lawn, tile walk; in fact, it is an up-to-date ideal home. You must see it to appreciate it. If you want a bargain call Main 2059, or address T. W. M., Box 130, care Georgian. 7-15-22

LIST your property with L. P. Bottenfield—the man that sells. 1021 Empire Building. M. 3010. Lynch & Bell, Sale Managers. 7-20-12

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

WHAT have you to exchange for a beautiful 12-room residence with all modern conveniences? Address Owner, Box 383, care Georgian. 7-21-2

WANTED—To exchange house and lot worth $1,200, on car line, for farm of equal value. Address Box 473, care Georgian. 7-19-8

BARTER AND EXCHANGE.

I have a big tract of acreage, only two miles from the city limits, as well as twenty thousand dollars worth of property in the city, that I will exchange for a big piece of central property, or semi-central. I want some land in the deal, or will take two or three pieces. "Realty," Box 402, care Georgian. 88-20-7

NEW six-room bungalow to exchange for vacant lots, negro property preferred. Bell phone 298 Decatur. 54-20-7

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Beautiful six-room cottage on Atlanta's beautiful East Lake Drive. Price $3,550. Will take as part payment a nice lot on good street or 1913 touring car; balance like rent. Plenty of shade. Large lot. Near Druid Hills, on the driveway. Dr. W. A. Gardner. Phone 6478-J Ivy or 93 West. Address Dr. W. A. Gardner, care Howell Park Sanitarium, West End, Atlanta. 69-20-7

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS for sale near Fort Valley; will exchange for Atlanta property. J. T. Kimbrough, 409 Atlanta National Bank Building. 7-11-22

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—Six or seven-room bungalow in Inman Park, on North Side. Can pay about $4,000. Have some cash. Prefer to deal with owner or would like to rent bungalow in West End Park. Henry, Box 10, care American. 7-20-77

FARMS FOR SALE.

I OWN and offer for sale, exchange or lease, several well improved productive farms. Easy terms. G. H. Waddell. 114 Candler Building. 6-26-1

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

WHITEHALL STREET
AT $200 FRONT FOOT

RIGHT near the corner of Whitehall and McDaniel Streets, where property is selling for $350 per foot, we have for a few days only, 60 feet frontage at the above ridiculously low price. No loan. Will trade for good renting property.

THE BEST BUY ON THE STREET.

ADAIR & HOLT, Real Estate and Loans
97½ PEACHTREE ST. PHONE Ivy 10.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON
11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

SEVERAL lots near the East Lake car line, between the Junction and the club, at bargain prices, and on easy teams. See Mr. Bradshaw.

NO. 38 BROOKS STREET, a new six-room bungalow, convenient to McLendon and Decatur car lines. May make your own terms. See Mr. Cohen.

ON IRWIN STREET we have six negro houses, on lot 100x200, with alley on side, and room enough for two or three more houses. Now rents for $58.60 per month. This is 13 per cent. Can sell for $5,500. See Mr. Martin.

WELL-BUILT, six-room cottage in the Inman Park section. Elevated lot, 50x176 feet. Fine purchase for $3,800. Terms, $500 cash and $30 monthly. See Mr. Frederick.

A SWELL six-room bungalow in the Druid Hills section. Stone front, hardwood floors, sleeping porch inclosed in glass. Beam ceilings, furnace heat. Lot 50x200, with alley on side. Price $6,000, on easy terms. You will like this. See Mr. Bradshaw.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

6-r. h., 138 Hill	$25.00
6-r. h., 196 Crumley	25.00
6-r. h., Washington street, East Point	20.00
6-r. h., 15 W. Boulevard DeKalb, Kirkwood	22.50
6-r. h., 575 Edgewood avenue	27.50
6-r. h., 88 Lucile avenue, furnished	45.00
6-r. h., 58 Dunn	26.30
6-r. h., 369 Cherokee, apartment, furnished	35.00
6-r. h., 108 Mansfield	25.00
6-r. h., 20 Clifford	25.00
6-r. h., 309 Moreland avenue	40.00
6-r. h., Harwell and Malden lane	20.00
6-r. h., 189 Cameron	18.60
6-r. h., 140 Drexel	25.00
6-r. h., 12 Howard	22.50
6-r. h., 47 Drewry	30.60
6-r. h., 21 Park street, Oakhurst	22.50
6-r. h., Hardee street	15.00
6-r. h., 32 Olympic place, Decatur	27.50
6-r. h., 13 Haynes	12.50
6-r. h., 52 Druid circle	30.00
6-r. h., 12 Clifford	27.50
6-r. h., 1179 DeKalb avenue	30.00
6-r. h., 401 E. Fair street	30.00
5-r. h., 124 Hill	25.00
5-r. h., 23 Summit	17.50
5-r. h., 90 Glenwood	15.60

A LONG LIST of larger houses. Come to see us.

HOUSES FOR RENT. HOUSES FOR RENT.

FOR RENT.

16-r. h., 45-47 E. Mitchell St.	$ 65.00	9-r. h., 18 Baltimore Block	$40.00
10-r. h., 20 Ponce DeLeon	125.00	8-r. h., 62 Alta Ave.	40.00
9-r. h., 93 Capitol Sq., Aug. 13.	75.00	8-r. h., 417 Piedmont Ave.	32.50

WE PUBLISH A WEEKLY RENT BULLETIN, giving a good description of everything we have for rent. Get a copy.
JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
Atlanta Phone 618. 12 AUBURN AVE. Bell Phone Ivy 671.

A. J. MAYFIELD
REAL ESTATE AND RENTING.
49 S. Pryor St.

WANTED—VACANT HOUSES.

I HAVE a constant demand for large and small houses, white and colored, which I am unable to fill. If you have anything vacant, list it with me. Call, write or phone.

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

THE EUCLID APARTMENTS

THIS NEW APARTMENT House at 161 Euclid Avenue has just been completed and consists of 16 three and four-room apartments. Each apartment fronts Euclid Avenue and has all the latest improvements and novelties. The wall safes are attractive features for valuables, and the three-room apartments have wall beds, which really makes them equal to four rooms. Prices are $32.50 and $37.50. The neighborhood is unexcelled.

IN THE BOSCOBEL, which adjoins, are three and four-room apartments at $30 to $35 each.

FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Summer Prices Now Prevail

ON EAST ATLANTA REAL ESTATE—We offer ten nice cottages and forty beautiful vacant lots. Terms and prices to suit you. See us early and get the pick.
Also a few houses to rent.

MARBUT & MINOR
Bell Phone Main 9211. Atlanta Phone 3102-A.

WANTED---NORTH SIDE BUNGALOW

WE HAVE a customer for a North Side bungalow, six to seven rooms in size, and preferably on a large lot. Will pay $5,000 to $7,000, with substantial cash payment.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

Monarch Auto Oil

THE BEST at any price. Delivered to your address with faucet in barrels and half-barrels. We keep our customers supplied with Monarch Puncture Stopper FREE. Will preserve inner tube and tire.

Monarch Oil Co.
217-218 Temple Court. Phone Main 2974.

J. W. DOBBINS & CO.
312 PETERS BUILDING. BELL PHONE M. 2126

$6,000—MORELAND AVENUE bungalow, six rooms, furnace, oak floors, servant's room, attractive and up to date, east front lot 50x225.

$5,250—SEVEN-ROOM cottage with large hall and attic; all conveniences, east front lot 55x220, lots of fruit, grapes, etc. Garage with electric lights, everything for good home.

$4,500—JUST OFF Piedmont avenue, new 5-room house and 4 acres with creek in rear, good proposition.

$3,200—STORE and five rooms on Marietta street.

FOR SALE BY
GREENE REALTY COMPANY
511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599.

TWO WEST END BARGAINS.

JUST OFF Gordon street we have orders to sell immediately the very prettiest home in West End. Corner lot 95 by 200; eight rooms; furnace heat, servants' house; garage, with natural shade; owner moved away; most lam-up place in West End for sale.

LEE STREET COTTAGE.

SIX ROOMS—Right near Park Street Church; deep lot; fine car service. Both of these places we want to show to you.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MYRTLE STREET HOME

NO. 290 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Eighth, on lot 50 by 195 feet to a 10-foot alley, we offer a modern, 2-story home with 10 rooms. This place has four bedrooms, sleeping porch, laundry, furnace heat and Ruud hot-water heater. This home is thoroughly equipped with all up-to-date conveniences that are so much in demand in this day and time, which are so hard to find in homes not built to suit individual taste. Price $10,500. Terms can be arranged.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

FOR SALE
JOHN J. WOODSIDE

FOR SALE—SUNSET AVE. COTTAGE. (Near Simpson St.)
Good five-room home. Has gas, bath and city improvements. In good condition. Terms easy. Price only $2,350. Easy. Price only $2,350.
THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager.
12 "Real Estate Row."

Myrtle Street Bungalow---$6,000

6 LARGE ROOMS and hallway; all conveniences; well arranged; elevated lot; in a splendid neighborhood and convenient to Tenth Street School. Can make you reasonable terms.

GRANT PARK COTTAGE—$3,500.

ON a splendid elevated lot on Georgia avenue, right at Grant Park, 5 large rooms; all conveniences; well arranged; $500 cash and the balance easy. This is in the most desirable section of the South Side.

THOMSON & LYNES
18 AND 20 WALTON STREET. PHONE IVY 718.

Home Bargains

$5,500—BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW, six rooms, hardwood floors, furnace, etc. It is a real bargain and a dandy home sure. We can arrange terms to suit your pocket. Remember, they are right near corner Ponce DeLeon Avenue and North Boulevard.

$5,000—ANOTHER SWELL, six-room bungalow; hardwood floors, and furnace, sleeping porch. You will look a long time before you find a single little home in a class with either of these. Now this is right at Atkins Park, 200 feet of Highland Avenue car line. You may name your terms. $500 cash.

MARTIN-OZBURN REALTY CO.
Third National Bank Bldg. Phones: Ivy 1276; Atlanta 208.

Central Property to Exchange

WE CAN EXCHANGE a small lot on Cone street, within 600 feet of the Candler Building, for a small farm or acreage, close to Atlanta preferred. Will give good value. Cone street is in the shadow of the skyscrapers, and at the price at which it can be bought should yield handsome profits.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
IVY 1513. 130 PEACHTREE STREET. Atlanta 2865.

BEN GRAHAM CO.
318-319 EMPIRE BUILDING. MAIN 4376.

PEACHTREE ROAD—Some of the prettiest lots on the road. We would like to exchange for some renting property or a nice North Side home.

TWO North Georgia farms on W. of A. Railway, to exchange for city renting property.

BEAUTIFUL LAKEVIEW, two-story, eight-room house; large corner lot, 100 by 190 to 20-foot alley. This has a lovely oak grove and is in fine neighborhood. Price $3,200, on very easy terms.

W. M. JEFFRIES AND R. W. PARRIS, Salesmen.

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Viaduct Is Wanted For Spring Street

Old Agitation To Be Renewed. Brown Building Changes—Home for Druid Hills.

Things are shaping up in such a way, say well-informed real estate men, that remarkable developments may be expected shortly on the west side of the city. A good deal has been said of late about railroad operations, the proposed Bleckley plaza, which will extend to Forsyth street, and of proposed manufactories along railroad rights of way. Now comes the announcement that the Spring street viaduct project has been revived.

A well-known citizen is telling his friends that he will make the race for council with the Spring street viaduct as one of his platform planks.

A survey of the ground necessary for this improvement was made by Captain R. M. Clayton, Chief of Construction, and the idea is for the south end of the bride to strike Madison avenue.

There has been a growing tendency to bring the Terminal Station nearer the center of the city and nearer the Union Station and advocates of the Spring street viaduct anticipate that such an improvement will contribute largely to this effect. The Bleckley Plaza would also serve this end.

The Spring street bridge would be several hundred feet long and the idea would be to make it uniform in height with the other viaducts. The Forsyth street bridge is now highest, with the Broad and Whitehall structures about on a line.

Brown Building Alterations.

The block of buildings of the Joseph E. Brown Company, on the north side of Wall street, opposite the Union Depot, is undergoing repairs to cost about $500, the metal cornices having been condemned by Building Inspector Hays. The old cornices will be replaced with brick and cement.

To Build in Druid Hills.

Charles T. Hopkins, the well-known attorney, will soon sell his home at 403 North Boulevard, it was learned Tuesday, and will erect a handsome home in Druid Hills. The Hopkins home is one of the oldest in the neighborhood, and is located on a lot 150 by 160 feet. It is at the corner of Angier avenue.

Loan Money at 7 Per Cent.

There is no lack of loan money at 7 per cent on all kinds of Atlanta property, according to S. B. McKinney, of the loan department of the Edwin P. Ansley Real Estate Agency.

"Real estate is the best security for money," declared Mr. McKinney, "and I would loan on any kind of Atlanta property that was worth anything. We are getting money regularly from several States of the Union, and this looks like a good sign to me. Frequently the loan agents don't recommend loans on anything except central and semi-central property, but I consider the suburban property around Atlanta splendid security."

To Fix Price for Floors.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce Realty Company are meeting Tuesday afternoon to fix a price on four floors of the chamber home at the southeast corner of North Pryor street and Auburn avenue, a request for such a price having come from the committee looking for a site for the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association exhibit building. Real estate men are watching the outcome with interest, inasmuch as the building will be a distinct addition to whatever district it adorns.

Application for Dormitory.

An application was filed Tuesday with Building Inspector Hays for a permit to build a three-story dormitory for the Marist College on the east side of Ivy street, near Peachtree, at a cost of $40,000. The Mackle-Crawford Construction Company have the contract.

Plans for Exhibit Building.

Among the propositions for a site for the permanent exhibit building of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association is one by L. O. Turner, the well-known real estate man, who would locate this structure on the west side of South Pryor street, 95 feet south of East Mitchell street. The lot is 105 by 185 feet, and a client of Mr. Turner's would sell it for $80,000, on terms acceptable to the Chamber of Commerce.

J. R. Smith's proposition was to erect a $100,000 building at the northwest corner of Bartow and Walton streets on a lot fronting 100 feet on Walton and 95 feet on Bartow. Mr. Smith and associates would lease this property ten years at $18,000 a year, payable $1,500 monthly, with an option to purchase at the end of a year for $185,000. A loan of about $75,000 would have to be assumed and five annual notes of $17,000 would be given at 6 per cent, $25,000 to be cash.

East Lake Sales.

J. W. Dobbins & Co. report the sale of three building lots in the subdivision of the East Lake Drive, Land and Improvement Company for an aggregate of about $2,100. These are in block 2 and just off Lakeview drive. Several new homes are going up in this subdivision.

Mims Parcel Brings $10,937.

W. N. Gary has bought from the estate of Sue Harper Mims, through the L. C. Green Realty Company, a 60 by 145 foot lot on Peachtree Circle, in Ansley Park, for $10,937. This is known as lot 2 of block 13.

Resume Healey Work.

Work was again taken up Tuesday on the Healey Building, following a ten-day strike, and prospects point to satisfactory progress from now on. The Healey lost 60 days at the start because her giant cranes failed to arrive, and thus fell far behind the Hurt Building and the Winecoff Hotel. The latter are due to be completed October 1, but the Healey Building will not be ready for tenants until after January 1, 1914.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$28,000—James T. Williams et al. to Williams-Hartsock Company, lot 55 by 195 feet, west side West Peachtree street, 218 feet south of West Third street. February 5.

$6,715—Charles B. Wallace to R. H. Caldwell, Jr., and Miss Emily E. Mills, lot 53 by 200 feet, southwest corner Gordon and Peeples streets. July 2.

$800—White Provision Company to Ware & Harper, lot 80 by 100 feet, west side Garibaldi street, 80 feet south of Eades street, seven-eighths interest. April 11.

$60—Atlanta Cemetery Association to William V. Sloan, lot 79, block 6, Atlanta Park Cemetery. July 17.

$60—Same to same, lot 78, block 6, same cemetery. April 16.

$2,350—Lula H. Callaway to Goldberg & Klein, lot 32 by 90 feet, south side Woodward avenue, 126 feet east of Fraser street. December 9, 1910.

$1 and Other Consideration—W. R. Doyle and Mary V. Jones to E. S. Kelley, No. 230 Greensferry avenue, 56 by 115 feet. January 6.

$1,350—E. S. Kelly to Dora Giles, same property. June 4.

$1,250—West End Park Company to M. G. Norris, lot 178 by 62 feet, west side Ontario avenue, south side Stokes avenue, 350 feet north of South Gordon street. July 18.

$150—J. J. West to Mrs. Frank Gallagher, lot 57 by 190 feet, on Virginia avenue, land lot 130. July 14.

Warranty Deeds.

$6,500—Mrs. Lucile C. Christian to I. H. Morehead, Jr., lot 50 by 150 feet, east side Pryor street, 190 feet north of Georgia avenue. July 16.

Love and Affection—A. D. Morrison to Mrs. A. B. Morrison, Nos. 55 and 57 Crew street, 44 by 100 feet, March 18.

$150—Elizabeth Pennington to C. L. DePoor, lot 50 by 173 feet, north side Princeton avenue, 750 feet west of east line of land lot 192. July 19.

$875—J. F. Mayfield to H. G. White, lot 50 by 182 feet, east side Howell Mill road, 960 feet north of line of land lot 153. July 21.

$650—Fred Albright (by guardian) to Max and Ida Liberson, lot 27 by 85 feet, north side Woodward avenue, 139 feet west of Cameron street. July 21.

$700—Max and Ida Liberson to Peter A. Farrington, same property, July 21.

$2,500—J. A. Sewell to C. H. Thompson, lot 50 by 134 feet, north side Center street, 250 feet west of Cochran street. July 17.

$14,000—D. W. Morgan to Margaret Lawshe and Lula L. Kingsbery, No. 250 St. Charles avenue, 50 by 150 feet. July 1.

$2,200—J. H. Phillips to Edd Eidson, lot 50 by 200 feet, south side Peachtree avenue, 100 feet west of Grand View avenue. June 11.

$3,800—C. R. O'Quinn to Mrs. M. T. Langston, No. 109 Confederate avenue, 38 by 94 feet. June 30.

$2,850—Interstate Land Company to T. J. Ware, lots 7 and 8, block C of Peachtree Terrace, land lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 24.

$8,000—M. G. Norris to A. A. Almand, lot 62 by 178 feet, west side Ontario avenue, 350 feet north of South Gordon street. July 21.

Quitclaim Deeds.

$5 and to Correct Description—Mrs. Frankie W. Perkins et al. to Mrs. N. W. Perkins, four-fifths of an acre, on northwest side of Central of Georgia Railroad, 379 feet northwest of Perkins street. July 18.

$1 and Other Considerations—The Prest-o-Lite Company to the Prest-o-Lite Company, Inc., lot 223 by 70 feet, northwest side of Kuhrt street, 97 feet south of McDaniel street. Also all other property now owned or hereafter acquired by grantor. June 23.

$175—Mrs. Missouri E. Piaster to Interstate Land Company, lots 7 and 8, block C, of Peachtree Terrace, land lot 101, Seventeenth District. June 26.

$725—Charles L. Truitt to Isaiah Patrick, lot 209 by 150 feet, on northwest side of unnamed street in land lot 119, being part of lot 2 of William W. White estate. June 25.

$600—Charles J. Shelverton to Walter E. Shelverton, lot 95 by 150 feet, on Washington street, in land lot 161, Fourteenth District, one-third interest. November 21, 1910.

BUILDING PERMITS.

$30,000—McKenzie Building Company, 5-7 Decatur street; alterations. W. E. Mashburn.

$1,500—Mrs. S. D. Frazier, 252 Gordon street; remodel dwelling. W. H. Passmore.

$300—E. E. Steed, 132 Acton street; one-story frame dwelling. Day work.

$100—Carrie L. Chapman, 309 West Fair street; repairs. Day work.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

The Beginning of Marriage

Haphazard Reflections on Grave Topics

(Copyright, 1912.)

At stated times we mortals have stated visitations.

One day it is the grippe, next day the financial problem.

Then it is the marriage and divorce question, with much learned expounding by the good and the pure, such as bishops and members of Sorosis.

What is marriage? How did it begin? Whence does it come?

Why is it a feature of human life wherever that life is found?

You must begin with such questions. Always study beginnings. Nothing can be learned by taking hold of a thing in the middle and examining its imperfections.

The first priest to join man and woman together was no benign being with lawn sleeves and soul-stirring words.

Marriage was brought about on this earth by the will and wisdom of God Almighty working through primitive babyhood.

In the old days, when the world was cruder, men and women ran wild through forests and swamps. They fought nature, fought each other, as savage as other beasts around them. There was no love; there was no marriage. The instincts of self-preservation and of reproduction worked alone to keep the race here through its hard childhood.

But in cold stone caves or in rough nests under fallen tree trunks savage children were born and nursed by their savage mothers with savage affection.

Through those infants of the stone age, or of ages much earlier, marriage and pure affection came into the world.

It is not hard to reproduce in our minds the picture of the first marriage.

A savage woman, half human, half ape, with rough, matted locks hanging round her face, sits holding her new-born baby, protecting it from wind and cold.

It is a queer baby, covered perhaps with reddish hair, its brow no higher than a rat's. Its jaw protrudes; its tiny, grimy hands clutch with monkey power all things within reach.

Along comes the father, full of plans to kill a mammoth or a cave bear; interested in his stone-tipped club, but caring nothing for the mother, who has been for some time only a whining nuisance.

He stops for a second to look at the small creature which he has added to earth's animal life.

Its misshapen skull, ferret eyes, miniature shoulders—something about it reminds him of his royal self, as studied in the pool. He stoops to look closer. His bristly hairs are grabbed, and a weird, insane, toothless grin lights up the little monkey face.

Then the savage takes a new view of life; there the marriage institution and the marriage problem are born simultaneously.

Says the mammoth hunter, with whistling words and hoarse throat sounds half articulated:

"I like this baby. He's like me. Let me hold him. Don't you go out with him looking for food, and don't leave him alone while I'm gone. I've got a bear located. No one can beat me killing bears. I'll bring the bear's heart to you this evening. You can give this baby some of the blood. It will do him good. Don't have anything to say to that mammoth hunter in the next swamp. I want you to stick to me. I'll look after you. I have taken a fancy to that baby. He looks very much like me."

Off goes the father, and that savage mother, in a primitive way, is a wife. Hereafter she is to be cared for. Bears will be killed for her, even while she has children to keep her busy and unattractive. Society takes a new turn and the red-haired baby has done it.

To childhood, helpless and beautiful, we owe marriage and all that growth of morality which is gradually making us really civilized.

The basis of all real growth is altruism; and altruism, the inclination to think more of others than of yourself, came into the world through the cradle.

The influence of childhood has transformed mere animal attraction into unselfish affection. It has substituted family life for savage life. The interests of childhood demand that marriage and its responsibilities be held sacred.

Duty to future generations demands that divorce be made difficult and considered a misfortune.

Marriage, brought into the world through the influence of children, should be dissolved only with due regard for the interests of children.

An unhappy marriage is earth's worst affliction. Quite true. But it is not affliction wasted.

Examples are needed to warn the young against the matrimonial recklessness which underlies most unhappy marriages.

Unhappy wives and husbands are human lighthouses—lonely, but useful.

A man who marries a woman undertakes to make her happy and keep her busy. If he keeps his contract, she will keep hers.

If he fails, he has no right to experiment on another unfortunate. The divorce class is a self-indulgent, malformed class, not worth notice.

As a matter of fact, there really is no marriage or divorce problem which sensible beings need consider.

At present men are not good enough to be trusted with liberal marriage or divorce laws. When they are good enough the laws will not be wanted. For the man fully developed and fully moral will know what he is doing when he goes into a marriage contract. His stability of character will insure permanency. There will be no need of laws.

In the Run of the News

Drawn by HAL COFFMAN, the Famous Cartoonist.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes On Women Smokers

Smoking Is Serious Drawback to Equal Franchise, and in Additiou Is One of the Greatest Beauty Destroyers Women Contend With.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

(Copyright, 1913, by American-Journal-Examiner.)

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

IT is unfortunate for the great and good cause of equal franchise that women are growing into ungraceful and unhygienic habits in the world we call civilized.

Smoking women are everywhere evident; and the habit once indulged in occasionally by the few daring ones is now indulged openly and almost constantly in European lands; and, of course, American women are following suit, as is their custom toward older countries.

A middle-aged woman or an old woman smoking in a public place is a sight to make angels weep and men sigh over the memory of their mothers.

The young girls who smoke in public or anywhere else ought to make men pause and hesitate before thinking of asking these young women to perpetuate their species.

And to perpetuate the species and bring normal, healthy and moral men and women into the world is the real business of every young woman, however we may regard other occupations for her, and however wide we are trying to make her sphere of usefulness.

Nerves and Nicotine.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen has now come to the front in an open denunciation of the smoking woman.

He declares woman has not man's "sense of proportion" and does not know when to stop. But he also believes the smoking habit, especially the cigarette habit, a serious detriment to men. Lord Methuen says:

"A man is constitutionally stronger than a woman, and his nerves will stand the strain of nicotine much better than hers will.

"Then, again, the throat, chest and lungs, which are some of the principal organs affected by excessive cigarette smoking, are more susceptible in the female sex, and consequently irritation is set up the more quickly.

"But I think it is the eyes which are most affected by the habit. After excessive indulgence, these organs generally become weak-looking and uncertain, and often assume a watery appearance.

"Another symptom of the habitual cigarette smoker is a nasty, troublesome cough, particularly in the morning, which arises from the irritation caused by the nicotine to the throat and chest. This is more often the case with the person who inhales the smoke—a habit which, I am sorry to say, is pretty general among cigarette smokers."

"I think you will agree that these ailments do not add to the attractiveness or the charm of the gentle sex, but then, in addition, you have to consider the deleterious effect cigarette smoking has upon the heart and the nerves.

"The cigarette habit among ladies is deplored by all doctors, but particularly in regard to the younger members of the sex.

"At middle age the effects are not so much pronounced, or, perhaps, not so noticeable, but in the case of a young girl her development is undoubtedly impeded, and this must have a detrimental effect upon the future of the race."

It is gratifying to lovers of the human race to have a man of brain and position take this stand toward the smoking habit, especially an Englishman, for it is English women of prominence who have made the unwholesome custom fashionable.

There are a million more women than men in England, and perhaps the habit first originated in woman's desire for man's society, and in her loneliness she found even the smell of his cigar smoke solace.

There was once a romantic girl living in a retired country place who asked her lover to smoke into a bottle that she might let the smoke escape some lonely evening during his absence and imagine him present.

Present Smoking Craze.

However the present smoking craze originated, it is most unfortunate. It is bad enough for posterity to have the vices of the fathers to combat, but what hope can the world have of a higher humanity when both parents have vitiated their blood and destroyed their nervous systems by nicotine?

A young woman on one of the large ocean liners was seen always with a cigarette between her lips. She remarked to some fellow passengers that she had taken the cure once at a sanitarium, but that the habit was too strong to overcome. Many women who are subject to nervous breakdowns and who are sent to "rest cures" and sanitariums to recover from "overwork" or "overpleasuring" are really suffering from nicotine poisoning, were the truth known.

It seems appalling that such a condition of society should exist; appalling that smoking among women has attained such a hold upon the community that men like Lord Methuen are alarmed.

But it is well that one such man has raised his voice in protest. The craze for smoking started with the English women, and it is befitting that Englishmen should make some effort at mitigating the evil.

For evil it is, and one which menaces the generations to come.

If woman is to have the franchise, and use it to better the world, let her not emulate the vices of men to prove her worth and ability.

And let her value her beauty and health and attractiveness enough to enable her to give up the disgusting cigarette habit.

Let us hope Lord Methuen is a prophet when he says:

Should Give Up Smoking.

"I do not think the time is far distant when there will be as strong a crusade against smoking to excess as there has been against drinking to excess.

"I believe it will be the doctors who will lead the crusade against excessive smoking.

"They will tell a person plainly that it is ruination to his nerves to smoke cigarettes, as some people do, from the age of 10 years onward."

Positions Wanted

By THOMAS TAPPER.

ABOUT this time, as the almanac used to say, there will be lots of young men looking for jobs.

They are graduates.

Everybody loves to give a graduate advice, to tell him how and what to do that he may succeed.

The reason why people do this is not that they love to preach. It is because, having grown older, they have discovered what a precious thing it is to be YOUNG, what an amazing opportunity there is for anyone who is about to go to work with the STRENGTH AND FAITH OF YOUTH in the right hand.

The business world is a place of keen competition. To look at it from the outside makes one think that the effort to walk in, find a chance and make good is impossible.

But it can be done.

Once landed on the job, the graduate will probably be too busy to remember the advice he has received. This will do him no serious harm if he becomes a discoverer.

He must discover these facts:

1. Success never comes by parcel post. It is the blossom on the slow-growing plant which starts as a seed and is watched, watered and nursed for about half a century.

2. To stand up to the swiftness of the business game demands a clear mind, a clean body, an active imagination, the capacity for silent observation and a spirit of good nature that takes a blow the way a punching bag does.

3. At ten dollars a week these five qualities are being financed at two dollars each. The rate is low. But this standard of value is not fixed. It can be run up to any figure one likes.

4. There are no rules of success that apply equally in all cases. But no man ever lived who could get along, who could succeed in his own way, without the Great Five we have named.

5. But there are absolutely definite rules for failure. And the basis of them is an unclean mind, a body thrown out of tune by dissipation, affection bestowed upon a couple of bad habits, the inclination to tell shady stories and a tendency of dodging the truth.

These and their kind will put a young man on the scrap heap and keep him there.

And a scrap heap is a most uncomfortable substitue for a mattress.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS

Hammerstein finds a Caruso laying bricks. "Gold" ones?

* * *

"I should worry about a national crisis and get a wrinkle in my lecture roll."

* * *

Lawyer whose wife has been awarded alimony should have had her for his client.

* * *

Poverty is often the balance wheel of virtue.

Members who took a trip under the sea were looking for a naval training station, not a site for a public building.

* * *

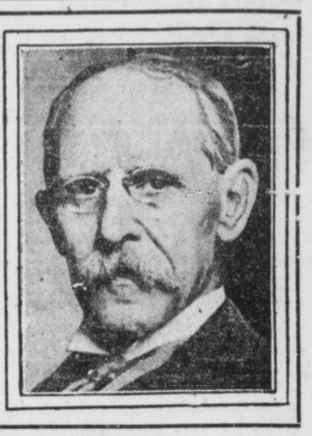
Wouldn't take the chance of sending that $5,000,000 American Express Company melon by freight.

* * *

Pennsylvania abolishes State conventions. Bread line for politicians will form on the left.

Mysteries of Science and Nature

Force of Gravitation Controls Cannon Balls, Baseballs, Moons, Planets, Suns and Stars Without Visible Means of Connection.



By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE mystery of mysteries in science is the attraction of gravitation—that very force of nature that is the most familiar to us all!

It seems strange that the most familiar thing in the world should be, at the same time, the most inexplicable—but so it is.

In order to see clearly wherein the mystery consists, let us first consider what gravitation appears to be. It is gravitation that gives the property of weight to all bodies. If there were no gravitation, we could float like thistledowns, and infinitely better than thistledowns; for they, too, are finally brought down by gravitation.

It is gravitation that brings a cannon ball eventually to the earth, no matter how swiftly it may be projected. The faster it starts the farther it will go, but during every second of its flight it drops the same distance vertically toward the earth, whether the speed imparted to it by the powder is 500 or 3,000 feet per second. Gravitation acts on a moving body exactly as well as on one at rest.

It is gravitation that curbs the motion of the moon and keeps it in an orbit of which the earth is the active focus.

Governs Earth's Motion.

So, too, it is gravitation that governs the earth in its motion around the sun, preventing it from flying away into boundless space. Astronomy shows that gravitation acts between all the planets and all the stars and controls their motions with respect to one another.

Now, this mysterious force appears to be an attraction, as if there were elastic cords connecting all the bodies in space and tending to draw them together. But space, as far as our senses can detect, is empty. There are no elastic cords and no physical connections whatever between astronomical bodies, or between a flying stone, or cannon ball, and the earth. How, then, can there be an attraction? In order that a body may be attracted or drawn, there must be something to draw it. Gravitation does the trick, but completely hides from us the mechanism through which it acts. We can discover no mechanism at all.

When an unfortunate aeroplanist drops from his machine at a height of a thousand feet, he begins at once to fall toward the earth as if it were pulling him; but how can it pull if it has nothing to pull with? You may think at first sight that it is the air which acts as an intermediary; but that is not so, because the earth and the moon "pull" upon one another with a force equal to the strength of a steel cable five hundred miles in diameter; but there is no air, and no other tangible thing in the open space, 240,000 miles across, that gaps between the moon and the earth.

Then gravitation exerts the same force at every instant. No matter how fast the falling aeronaut may be descending at any moment, gravitation will keep on adding speed as if he had just started. Disregarding the slight retardation produced by the resistance of the air, he will fall 16 feet in the first second, 48 feet in the second second, 80 feet in the third second, gaining 32 feet in his velocity during every second after the first.

Falls 10,000 Feet in 25 Seconds.

From a height of 1,000 feet he will come down in about eight seconds, and will strike the ground with a velocity of about 256 feet per second. From a height of 10,000 feet he would fall in about 25 seconds, and would strike with a velocity of 400 feet per second.

The same kind of calculation can be applied to the gravitation between the earth and the moon. If the moon were not in motion across the direction of the earth's "pull" it would fall to the earth in about 116 hours.

Now, to return to the mystery, how is this force exerted? Is it really a pull as it seems to be? The answer to which science is tending is that instead of being a pull, gravitation is a push; in other words, that the falling aeronaut is pushed toward the ground and the moon is pushed toward the earth.

On the face of it one might think that nothing was gained by this theory, because it seems as impossible that a push should be exerted without a tangible connection as a pull. But the clew is found in the supposed properties of that invisible, intangible, all-pervading medium called the ether.

Waves of Ether.

This, to be sure, is explaining one mystery by another, for we know nothing about the ether except that it conveys the waves of light and electricity, but, at any rate, it affords a conceivable explanation of gravitation. I have no space to go into this explanation, which has recently been developed by Dr. Charles F. Brush, but an idea of its nature may be formed from the statement that it regards the ether as being filled with a peculiar form of waves, and that material bodies may intercept these waves in such a way as to be pushed toward one another on account of the diminished effect of the ether waves in the space between the bodies.

A Basket of Figs

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

IT was 266 years ago, in the city of Naples, that a basket of figs created a revolution which resulted in the death of 500 men, many of them members of the ancient nobility; the burning of scores of villas and palaces, and the elevation to power of a peasant whose entire possessions would not have brought the price of a decent suit of clothes.

The owner of the basket of figs was asked to pay the royal tax upon the fruit; he refused to do so, and emptied his basket upon the street. Close by stood Masaniello, the fisherman, young, handsome, brave and "chock full" of the old eternal sense of justice and right. Poor and humble as he was, Masaniello possessed a commanding personality, the "gift imperial" of magnetizing men, and outraged by the injustice he had witnessed he sounded the call of arms.

Arming themselves, the populace, with Masaniello at their head, drove out the Spanish Viceroy, liberated the prisoners of the customs, burnt the houses of the King's creatures, destroyed the offices of the tax collectors, and made short work of ridding the city of the tyrannical nobility and their henchmen.

In a trice Masaniello was master of Naples. The Viceroy was forced to remove the hated taxes, and in his rude shanty home the barefooted fisherman, in rude, democratic fashion, but with an eye single to justice and humanity, disposed of the petitions and complaints that were handed to him.

But Nature is inexorable, and in establishing her balances she is worse than a thousand Shylocks. For an entire week the entire care of a city of hundreds of thousands of inhabitants had fallen upon Masaniello. He was general, judge, legislator, and for the whole time he had hardly slept or eaten. The combined physical and mental strain was more than he could bear, and the fisherman's brain began to reel. He became a maniac and did all sorts of violent things; and instead of loving him and caring for him until he regained his sanity, the fools killed and buried him like a dog. But despite this the name of Masaniello will live forever in the memory of the lovers of liberty and justice.