ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order It NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 250. ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. 2 CENTS EVERYWHERE PAY NO MORE

HOME EDITION

MAYOR BAR TO JUSTICE, BROYLES' CHARGE

Recorder Declares His Pardons and Remissions of Fines Are Crippling Courts.

ASSERTS CRUSADE AGAINST BLIND TIGERS IS BLOCKED

Woodward's Actions Encourage Law Violations, He Says—Cites Liquor Cases as Proof.

That Mayor Woodward is striking a blow at justice and crippling the courts by his remissions of fines and granting of pardons, was the charge made by Recorder Nash R. Broyles, in a statement to a Georgian reporter Friday morning. The interview was given out by the Recorder following a series of pardons issued by the Mayor, in cases which had been sustained by the Court of Appeals.

"The action of the Mayor in these matters is a serious blow to justice," declared Judge Broyles. "We can not enforce the law against blind tigers when, after they have fought their cases through all of the courts and lost, the Mayor presents them with a pardon or reduces the amount of their fines. The sentences in these blind tiger cases were justified by the facts, and the higher courts have sustained them.

Says He Crippies Courts.

"Such a course as the Mayor is following is crippling the courts in the efforts to enforce the laws, and if we expect to enforce the liquor laws in Atlanta and break up the blind tiger cases were justified by the facts hampered, and the sentences of the court should be allowed to be carried out without interference.

"This interference and leniency not only cripples the court, but encourages the unlawful ones to further violate the law. Mayor Woodward has acted on many of these cases and granted pardons and reductions in fines without even consulting me.

"In but one instance has he talked with me regarding a case. That was several weeks ago—the day the Court of Appeals sustained my decision in the Griff Freeman case. Mayor Woodward called me over the telephone and told me the attorneys for Freeman had requested him to grant a pardon. I told the Mayor that Freeman was one of the most noted blind tiger operators we had to deal with, and urged him not to interfere with the sentence.

Granted Freeman Pardon.

"The Mayor said: 'Well, this is a case that came up before I went into office, anyway, so I will tell the attorneys I can not do anything in the matter.' Despite this, however, Mayor Woodward has granted a pardon of the 30-day sentence imposed on Freeman and reduced his fine from $500 to $250.

"Such interference with the court's work has assumed a serious stage, and unless it ceases the cause of justice will be dealt a blow from which it will require a long time to recover."

Case Which Brought Protest.

Griff Freeman was arrested in September, 1911, for operating a blind tiger. He has been arrested several other times on a similar charge, but it is this case which drew forth Judge Broyles' remarks. Freeman is characterized by Broyles as being "one of the most notorious blind tiger operators in Atlanta," and a sentence of 30 days in adition to a $500 fine was imposed upon him. The case was appealed and the Court of Appeals sustained Broyles' decision.

Thursday, the police were instructed to arrest Freeman and have him begin his sentence. A short while after the arrest, Mayor Woodward instructed the police not to send Freeman to the stockade until he had time to consider his application for a pardon. Later, the Mayor remitted the 30-day sentence, and reduced the fine to $250, which Freeman paid.

Dr. W. D. Roper, a druggist at Pryor and Wall Streets, was convicted of having liquor in his store for sale, and fined $500 or 30 days. He was also convicted on a charge of selling cocaine, which case is still pending on appeal. Two months ago the Court of Appeals handed down a decree sustaining Broyles' sentence in the liquor case.

Judge Broyles charges that Mayor

Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

THE GEORGIAN ARTIST'S DIAGRAM OF PENCIL FACTORY USED BEFORE GRAND JURY TO EXPLAIN PHAGAN SLAYING

PLAN OF THE BUILDING WHERE TRAGEDY OCCURRED, SHOWN BY ARTIST WHO STUDIED IT CAREFULLY.

Drawn by Bert Green

KEY TO DIAGRAM.

(A)—Machine room where murder was committed.
(B)—Course by stairs taken to elevator.
(D)—The elevator shaft.
(E) and (C)—Route taken with body to cellar.
(F)—Pencil shaving dump.
Cross—Where body was found.
Arrow—Where lock and staple were pulled from rear door.
(H)—Location of office.

FLAGLER BURIED IN ST. AUGUSTINE

Body of Financier Rests Under Altar of Church—Flags at Half-Mast.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., May 23.—The funeral of Henry M. Flagler was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Memorial Presbyterian Church in St. Augustine. The body of the dead financier and railroad magnate was buried beneath the altar of the church.

A special train of ten coaches was required to take the delegation of Jacksonville people to the funeral. All of the principal civic organizations were represented.

All of the flags in this city and at St. Augustine, as well as down the East Coast to Key West, are flying at half-mast to-day in his memory.

Miami Mourns for Dead Financier.

MIAMI, FLA., May 23.—Union memorial services were conducted here this afternoon for Henry M. Flagler, who made Miami possible.

Public buildings are draped in mourning, flags are half-mast, all business houses are closed for the afternoon and courts have adjourned in respect to the financier's memory.

Grant Park Chosen For Sunday Concert

The Sunday afternoon musical concert by the Fifth Regiment Band will be in Grant Park instead of Piedmont Park, as was announced, Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

President J. O. Cochran, of the Park Board, said he hoped to secure enough money from Council to have the music in both parks during the summer, but that the first concert was being financed by private parties and only sufficient funds were available for a concert in Grant Park.

Venezuela Conceals Trouble at Capital

NEW YORK, May 23.—Venezuelan Government officials yesterday withheld a telegram to the correspondent of the Associated Press at Caracas, Venezuela, requesting details of the arrest of many Venezuelans there, and the reason for the flight of Dr. Leopoudo Baptista, former Secretary General to President Gomez, and of General Juan Pablo Penalosa, from the Venezuelan capital to Curacoa, where they arrived in a small sailing boat on Wednesday.

Mt. Vesuvius Again Active; Earth Shaken As Big Fissure Opens

NAPLES, May 23.—Vesuvius, during the night and this morning, showed renewed signs of activity. One eruption was accompanied by a slight earthquake shock.

A new and large central fissure has opened round the crater, from which ashes are emitted. The ashes, however, have not yet gone beyond the limits of the volcano.

Militant Bomb in A Carnegie Library

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

KEIGHLEY, ENGLAND, May 23.—A suffragette bomb, composed of explosives and nitric acid, was found in the Carnegie Library here to-day.

Although the bomb had an exploding mechanism affixed to it, the mechanism was not set so as to explode the bomb.

CAMBRIDGE, ENG., May 23.—Miriam Pratt, a militant suffragette, was remanded without bail to-day on a charge of setting fire to a residence in this city on May 17. Miss Pratt is a school teacher at Norwich.

Millionaire Brewer Near Death in Crash

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 23.—Henry Uihlein, millionaire president of the Schlitz Brewing Company, narrowly escaped death when the buggy in which he was riding was rammed by a street car.

Mr. Uihlein was thrown to the pavement. His feet became entangled in the reins and he was dragged several feet before the frightened horse could be caught.

Floods Cause Big Sugar Crop Slump

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The sugar crop of Louisiana in 1912, owing to spring floods, was the smallest since 1889, the Department of Agriculture announces.

Preliminary returns indicate the output was slightly more than 300,000,000 pounds, or about 42 per cent of the production of 1911.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

STOVALL RESIGNS LEGISLATIVE POST

Savannah Editor Thought to Have Won U. S. Ambassadorship to Switzerland.

Pleasant A. Stovall, editor of The Savannah Press, Friday resigned as a member of the House of Representatives from Chatham County. His resignation is interpreted to mean that he has been notified of his appointment as United States Ambassador to Switzerland, bearing out recent reports from Washington.

Mr. Stovall's letter to Governor Brown follows:

"I beg leave to hand you herewith my resignation as a member of the lower house of the General Assembly from Chatham County, to which position I was elected last October; the same to take effect immediately."

Governor Brown announced he would call an election in June to name Mr. Stovall's successor.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Showers and somewhat cooler Friday; cloudy, with probably showers Saturday.

Your Friend--The Market Basket

For the Saturday marketing the worried and busy housewife finds comfort in the fact that the Market Basket will relieve her of the vexing problem—"What will I have for Sunday dinner?" It appears to-day.

Crushed Under Car, Nerve of Trainman Alone Stays Death

R. C. Potts, a railroad brakeman, lies at the point of death at the Elkin-Goldsmith Infirmary from injuries received when run over by a passenger train. Though one leg was amputated and he was badly bruised, the injured man has displayed remarkable nerve.

Potts' nerve may bring him through an accident that usually means death. His left leg was almost completely severed. His right foot is badly crushed and it may be necessary to remove it, too. A large hole in his head and contusions on his face make his condition extremely serious.

An engine and two coaches passed over Potts Thursday night at Magnolia Street bridge.

4 Injured in Crush Of Blind at Shrine

CHICAGO, May 23.—Precautions were taken to-day to prevent accident in the big crowds of blind, deaf and crippled pilgrims at the Shrine of St. Rita, following the crush last night in which three women fainted and Miss Anna Richards, of Berwyn, Ill., was taken home in a serious condition.

Stories of blind being made to see and deaf to hear by kissing a piece of the shinbone of Saint Rita, which was brought from Passia and placed in a shrine here, has attracted thousands of pilgrims.

Try to Link Wood With Dynamite Plot

BOSTON, May 23.—Two checks and two receipts were introduced today by District Attorney Pelitier in the Wood-Atteaux-Collins trial in an attempt to conect William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, with the Lawrence dynamite plant.

The checks were for $505 and for $2,100, respectively, payable to Frank E. Atteaux. They were signed by the treasurer of the American Woolen Company and approved by Wood.

Labor Heads Denied Contempt Rehearing

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Motions for a writ of error and a rehearing of the contempt case against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, were overruled by the District Court of Appeals to-day.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

CITY SAVINGS TO REOPEN BUSINESS

Capital Stock Will Be Doubled and New Location Sought by Bank That Failed.

Appointment of a receiver for the City Savings Bank is merely a preliminary to complete reorganization, doubling the capital stock and reopening for business in a different location, it was announced Friday.

Application for a new charter is expected Saturday. A large number of the old stockholders, and some new stockholders whose names will add prestige to the bank, will take the stock.

The City Savings Bank closed March 31, after a two-days' run. It is solvent, but funds were invested in long-time notes, upon which it was impossible to realize on short notice.

The State Treasurer, who took over the assets, announced that the directors could sell, reorganize or go into a voluntary receivership. Efforts were made to sell, but the terms offered did not suit some of the stockholders. Reorganization then was arranged, but before a charter could be secured the time limit during which the Treasurer could hold the assets expired and a friendly receiver was named to take charge until the new bank could get ready for business.

Gibson Again Tried As Countess' Slayer

NEWBURGH, N. Y., May 23.—The second trial of Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer charged with the murder of Countess Rosa Menschik Szabo, in order to secure her estate, was begun here to-day. Gibson was in the court room when death sentence was imposed upon a slayer, but showed no emotion.

"I am a lawyer and believe the law should be upheld," he said. "I believe in capital punishment."

Mrs. Gibson, dressed in black and wearing a big black picture hat, sat opposite her husband and frequently whispered words of cheer across to him.

Liquor Saves Man Poisoned Like Banker

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, May 23.—Robert Palmer, who swallowed two bichloride of mercury tablets Wednesday night, was believed to be entirely out of danger to-day and his physicians said they believed he would recover.

He swallowed enough poison, they said, to kill six persons, but on account of the liquor he had been drinking, the poison did not affect him.

Civil Service Board Members to Retire

WASHINGTON, May 23.—It was announced at the White House that President Wilson has accepted the resignation of General John C. Black, of Illinois, as chairman, and William Washburn, of New York, as a member of the United States Civil Service Commission.

LAWYERS AGAINST NEW CONSTITUTION

Prevalent Spirit of Unrest Renders Undertaking Dangerous Now, Says Committee.

When the Georgia Bar Association meets at Warm Springs next week the Committee on Jurisprudence, Law Reform and Procedure will report adversely on the proposition of calling a constitutional convention, as is being urged by Representative Grover Edmondson and other legislators.

Alex W. Smith, chairman, of Atlanta, has drafted the report, and a part of it reads as follows:

"This committee considers it exceedingly unwise to call a constitutional convention at this time. The prevalent spirit of unrest, in matters legal, political, social and financial, renders the time inauspicious to relax, in the slightest, the bulwarks of our constitutional protection, much less throw down the bars to an entirely new revision."

Memphis Sets Pace For Speedy Divorces

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 23.—A new record in court procedure was established here to-day when Chancellor Fentress granted a divorce to Mrs Mollie Toohey, wife of J. M. Toohey, a Memphis millionaire, within two hours after the petition was filed.

An attorney representing Mrs. Toohey filed papers beginning the suit for divorce at 8 o'clock this morning. One hour later an attorney representing Toohey filed an answer. A few minutes before 10 o'clock the court had granted the decree.

Thaw Case Briber Given 2-Year Term

NEW YORK, May 23.—John N. Anhut, the young New York lawyer convicted of bribery in connection with a plot to free Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan Insane Asylum, to-day was sentenced to not less than two years nor more than four years in prison.

Justice Seabury, in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, passed sentence.

Synod Appreciates Atlanta Hospitality

The forty commissioners who attended the Assembly of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Synod adopted this resolution just before adjourning:

"Resolved, That we express our cordial appreciation of the Christian kindness and hospitality of the people of Atlanta."

CHINESE ATTACK LOAN PACT.

PEKIN, CHINA, May 23.—Anhwei, Kiangsi, Hunan and Kwang Tung Provinces have assumed a hostile attitude toward President Yuan Shih Kai, alleging that the signing of the five-power loan of $125,000,000 was unconstitutional.

INDICTMENT OF BOTH LEE AND FRANK IS ASKED

Great Mass of Evidence Carefully Prepared by Solicitor Submitted to Grand Jury.

CRIME STUDIED 3 HOURS; ADJOURNS TILL SATURDAY

Utmost Care Taken to Insure Secrecy at the Investigation. Diagram Studied.

The Phagan case is now in the process of investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

Two bills for indictment of Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, for the murder of Mary Phagan, were presented before that tribunal at its session Friday morning by Solicitor Dorsey.

A host of witnesses gave their testimony. The torn and blood-stained clothing of the slain girl also was turned over to the Grand Jury for inspection.

The Grand Jury studied carefully an elaborate diagram drawn by Bert Green, one of The Georgian's staff artists, and setting forth in black and white the prosecutor's theory of how the murder was probably committed. Intense interest was displayed in the drawing.

After being in session for nearly three hours, the Grand Jury adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, when the Phagan case will be taken up once more.

Woman Gives New Testimony.

Whether the sensational testimony of Mrs. Mima Famby, 400 Piedmont Avenue—or Nina Fomby, as the woman says her name is—will be introduced at the Grand Jury probe, is a matter of doubt. Mrs. Fomby's affidavit declaring that on the evening of the murder Frank called the affiant on the telephone and in an excited voice asked her to arrange a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not disclose, is in the hands of the Solicitor General.

Important as is the bearing which the alleged telephone conversation appears to have on the mystery of Mary Phagan's death, doubts are already being expressed as to the part it will be permited to play in the present hearing or any to come, owing to the chary wording of the law on such evidence.

It is suposed, however, that if Mrs. Fomby's affidavit is admitted, an immediate attempt to attack her credibility will be made by the defense. Her own story puts the credibility of her testimony in doubt.

Frank Refused to Talk.

Frank, when interviewed in his cell at the Tower Friday morning regarding the telephone conversation and his dealings with Mrs. Fomby in general, refused to discuss the question.

"I am feeling fine," he said, but would not discuss the crime at all.

Among the witnesses who went before the Grand Jury were:

Dr. J. W. Hurt, Coroner's physician, who examined the dead girl's body the morning after it was found.

T. W. Epps, the newsboy who waited at the corner on the afternoon of the tragedy for Mary Phagan while she went to the factory to get her pay envelope.

Detective a Witness.

Harry Scott, assistant superintendent of the local branch of the Pinkerton detective agency, who has been investigating the mysterious case.

J. N. Starnes, a city detective.

M. D. Darley, Frank's assistant at the pencil factory.

L. S. Dobbs, sergeant of police, who answered Lee's call to the pencil factory the morning the body was found.

"Boots" Rogers, former county policeman, who drove the police to the factory in his automobile in answer to Lee's call.

Pat Campbell, city detective.

Bass Rosser, city detective.

Utmost secrecy clothed the Grand Jury's investigation. The cracks about the doors and windows of their room on the second floor of the Thrower Building were lined with paper in order that no chance conversation or view of the proceedings might escape.

Great Throng in Corridors.

An immense throng crowded the corridors of the building and filled the adjoining rooms.

The witnesses were all bunched into the ante-room and there kept waiting while one at a time they entered before the tribunal and told what they knew regarding the death of Mary Phagan.

PHAGAN SLAYING IS TAKEN UP BY GRAND JURY

Examination of Scores of Witnesses Begun—Big Throng Held in Corridors.

Continued From Page 1.

Dr. Hurt was the first witness to go before the Grand Jury. He went into their room at 10:55 in the morning. He was dismissed at 11:23. Dr. Hurt's testimony, through his examination of the body, is considered of vast importance. He declined to make any statement whatsoever as he left the building.

In rapid succession other witnesses followed. Their testimony, which is believed will weave the preliminary chain of evidence about Frank and Lee which will warrant their indictment, was placed before the Grand Jury.

Sergeant Dobbs Testifies.

Police Sergeant Dobbs followed Dr. Hurt into the Grand Jury room at 11:49. His testimony is supposed to consist mainly of the condition of the Phagan girl's body when he arrived on the scene, including its location and the evidence surrounding it. Most important probably of his testimony was that as to the actions of the negro, Newt Lee, as he led the police squad to the body and while the initial examination of it took place in the basement of the factory.

City Detective Starnes, after Dobbs' departure, took into the Grand Jury room a map of the pencil factory, showing the floor upon which the girl is supposed to have met her slayer, tracing the trail along which he dragged the body down into the basement.

The rapidity with which the wheels of justice revolved at the hearing bore out Solicitor Dorsey's statement that when he presented his evidence before the Grand Jury it would be in a clear, concise form.

That the prosecution will avoid presenting its most incriminating evidence before the tribunal, unless necessary to secure indictments of the two men, was admitted in the Solicitor's office just before the Grand Jury convened. No more than enough evidence to secure true bills will be revealed, it was said.

Woman Makes Affidavit.

The affidavit of Mrs. Mima Fomby, who told of Frank trying to get a room at her place was signed in the office of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford May 11. Mrs. Fomby was sworn by Recorder Nash Broyles. Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler witnessed the signature.

Mrs. Fomby said that she and a party of friends were playing bridge in her apartments late Memorial Day afternoon when Frank, whom she had known a long time, telephoned her. It was between 4 and 5:30 o'clock, she stated. Frank, according to her story, wanted to rent a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not give. Mrs. Fomby said that she flatly refused him, but Frank insisted he be rented an apartment.

"He said he was forced to obtain a room for himself and the girl," said Mrs. Fomby, "but didn't want to go anywhere else because he put such implicit trust in me. I would not grant his request and hung up the telephone."

Called Several Times.

"Later he called again," she continued. "This time he was more insistent and said something about it being a case of life and death. Between 6:20 and 10 o'clock he called probably half a dozen times. Finally I told him not to call any more, as I was going automobiling with friends."

Mrs. Fomby said that she had been offered money to leave the city until the courts concluded with the Phagan case. To substantiate this charge the name of Alexander S. Martin, of Gainesville, a newspaper man, had been bandied the police. He is said to know of hush money having been offered Mrs. Fomby.

Shortly after Frank's arrest Mrs. Fomby said she visited him at the Tower. At first she said he did not recognize her, but later spoke to her, and they had a secret conference, the nature of which she would not discuss.

The woman added that when she lived at 87 Armstrong Street Frank was a frequent visitor to her place and had brought girls there.

Chief Lanford's Theory.

Chief Lanford's theory, as outlined Friday morning, is that the girl had been knocked unconscious when the alleged telephone call was made to secure a room, and the plan was to remove the girl to a place where she could be given medical attention without suspicion.

"When it was seen that Mrs. Fomby would not rent a room," said Chief Lanford, "it was necessary that she be disposed of. Dead folks tell no tales."

The corridors of the Thrower building were thronged with witnesses long before 10 o'clock this morning, the hour for the Grand Jury to assemble. More than 100 are under subpoena. If all are examined it will be several days before the result of the jury's deliberation will be known.

George W. Parrott, a well-known business man, has written the following letter in the interest of Frank:

As is perhaps known by many, I am interested in the National Pencil Company and I have, with keen interest, noted, from time to time, hints and insinuations that Mr. Leo Frank has misused and mistreated female employees of the factory.

Deny He Misused Employees.

I felt it due myself and the other gentlemen interested in the factory that as to this matter there should be a thorough investigation.

To that end, on Wednesday, together with other gentlemen likewise interested in the factory, I interviewed every employee of the factory, both male and female.

Every one of them, without a dissenting voice, voluntarily and emphatically made affidavit that Mr. Frank had never, at any time, or in any way, misused or mistreated them, and that none of them had ever known a single instance of any familiarity on the part of Mr. Frank with any one of the female employees.

These affidavits are in my possession.

This is a matter of personal concern to me, and I beg that, in justice to myself and others interested in the factory, that this matter be set fairly right before the public.

GEORGE W. PARROTT.

Changes in Spanish Cabinet.

MADRID, May 23.—Important changes are being made in the personnel of the Spanish Government. Senor Barroso, Minister of Justice, resigned to-day. This portfolio probably will be assumed by Premier Romanones. Senor Villanueva has been named Speaker of the Chamber of Deputies.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest
VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON. FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913
5 VOTES
NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.
Vote for .....
Address .....
CARRIERS' AND AGENTS' BALLOT.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Friday, May 23, 1913.
5 VOTES NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.
Vote for .....
Address .....
SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

Next Sunday's Coupons Will Count 30 Votes

Frank Feeling Fine, but Will Not Discuss His Case

Leo Frank was seen this morning by a reporter for the first time since he was put in jail. He absolutely refused to talk on the Mary Phagan murder mystery, saying he had been advised not to say a word.

"What do you know about the affidavit, charging that on the night of the murder of Mary Phagan you called Mrs. Mina Famby on the telephone and tried to engage a room for yourself and a young girl?"

"I will not talk," said Frank. "I have been cautioned not to say one word."

"Do you deny or admit it?"

"I refuse to answer," replied Frank.

Frank is confined on the second floor of the county jail on the west side of the building. His cell is roomy, and as the reporter was admitted by the guard Frank arose from a chair in which he was sitting puffing on a cigar.

"How are you feeling?" Frank was asked.

"I am feeling fine," said the accused man as he puffed violently on his cigar. "But I don't want to talk to you," and I called the turnkey.

The turnkey came and Frank said to him, "Please don't let anyone in here to see me again who is not my friend."

"All right," said the turnkey.

"I won't say a word and you might as well go," said Frank, and the interview was ended.

Several other visitors saw Frank to-day.

Advice to Those Who Have Lung Trouble

Pulmonary Lung Trouble is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. To all you possibly can to add to strength and increase weight; eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air, and then, if health and strength do not return, add the tonic and beneficial effects of Eckman's Alterative. Read what it did in this case:

"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 208-214 South Market Street, Wilmington, Del.), recommended to me Eckman's Alterative, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life." (Signed) JAS. SQUIRES.

(Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' drug stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

Condition of Japanese Emperor Grave

Whole Nation Praying for His Recovery

Dispute With United States Overshadowed by Alarm Over Ruler's Illness.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

TOKIO, May 23.—It was reported to-night that Emperor Yoshihito is suffering from pleuro-pneumonia.

Throughout the day the Mikado's temperature reached 102.92 Fahrenheit, with no signs of abatement.

The Emperor is confined to Ayoama palace, his condition being too low to allow removal to the new Chiyoda palace.

A military guard has been placed about the palace, although the crowds have been very orderly and quiet up to date.

A number of Shinto priests have left on a religious pilgrimage for Fujiyama, where there is an ancient shrine.

Priests to Offer Sacrifices.

Sacrifices will be offered up for the recovery of the imperial patient.

The following statement was issued to-day by Count Watanabe:

His majesty is asleep. Conditions have not changed since yesterday and are not serious. The bulletin issued by the attending physicians apprised the people of the real condition of the imperial patient. His majesty had been in good health since ascending the throne, despite the report that he was suffering from weakness of the lungs, and has actively attended to affairs of state.

It is interesting to note that the modern European methods of treatment are being administered, the Emperor being a progressive.

Grave fears are felt that the illness may prove fatal, leaving Japan without a ruler at a time made critical by the dispute with the United States.

Weakened by Worry.

The present illness can be directly traced to a severe cold which the Emperor contracted five days ago, but his condition was aggravated by worry over the diplomatic controversy with the United States over the California land bill.

High officials remain reticent on the possible political effect of the Mikado's illness. Count Watanabe, Minister of Imperial Household, issued a statement for the benefit of the Japanese people saying that the Emperor's condition is not serious.

In spite of this reassuring statement, however, grave fears were expressed that the Mikado would not survive. The Emperor's condition has never been strong and the cares of state have tended to weaken him.

For the time being the illness of the sovereign has tended to eclipse the American dispute, but high officials of the government are alarmed lest the death of the Mikado might inflame the people into an irresistible demand for war.

Should Yoshihito die, the dynasty would be in danger. The Crown Prince, Hirohito, is only twelve years old, and should there be a regency it is possible that old quarrels between the leading families would flare which would change the future government and identity of the future reigning family.

Pulse Remains High.

The Emperor's pulse remained around 90 to-day, and his respiration, 38. All the theaters have been ordered closed.

Among the callers at the palace to express sympathy for the family of the sick man was Arthur Bailly Blanchard, Charge d'Affaires of the United States Embassy.

The following official bulletin was issued to-day by Drs. Miura and Aoyama:

The illness of the Emperor has been diagnosed as pneumonia. His fever has increased within the past 24 hours. Yesterday the temperature was 101; last night it was 102. This afternoon at 4 o'clock it was 103.

Delay in Alien Bill Dispute Expected.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—That the illness of the Mikado reported in diplomatic circles to be even more serious than indicated by press dispatches from Tokio, will delay the continuation of the dispute concerning the California land law, was the opinion expressed by diplomats here to-day.

It is understood that the Emperor is possessed of a constitution which is not too strong and that an attack of pneumonia similar to the one he is now suffering from left him very weak five years ago.

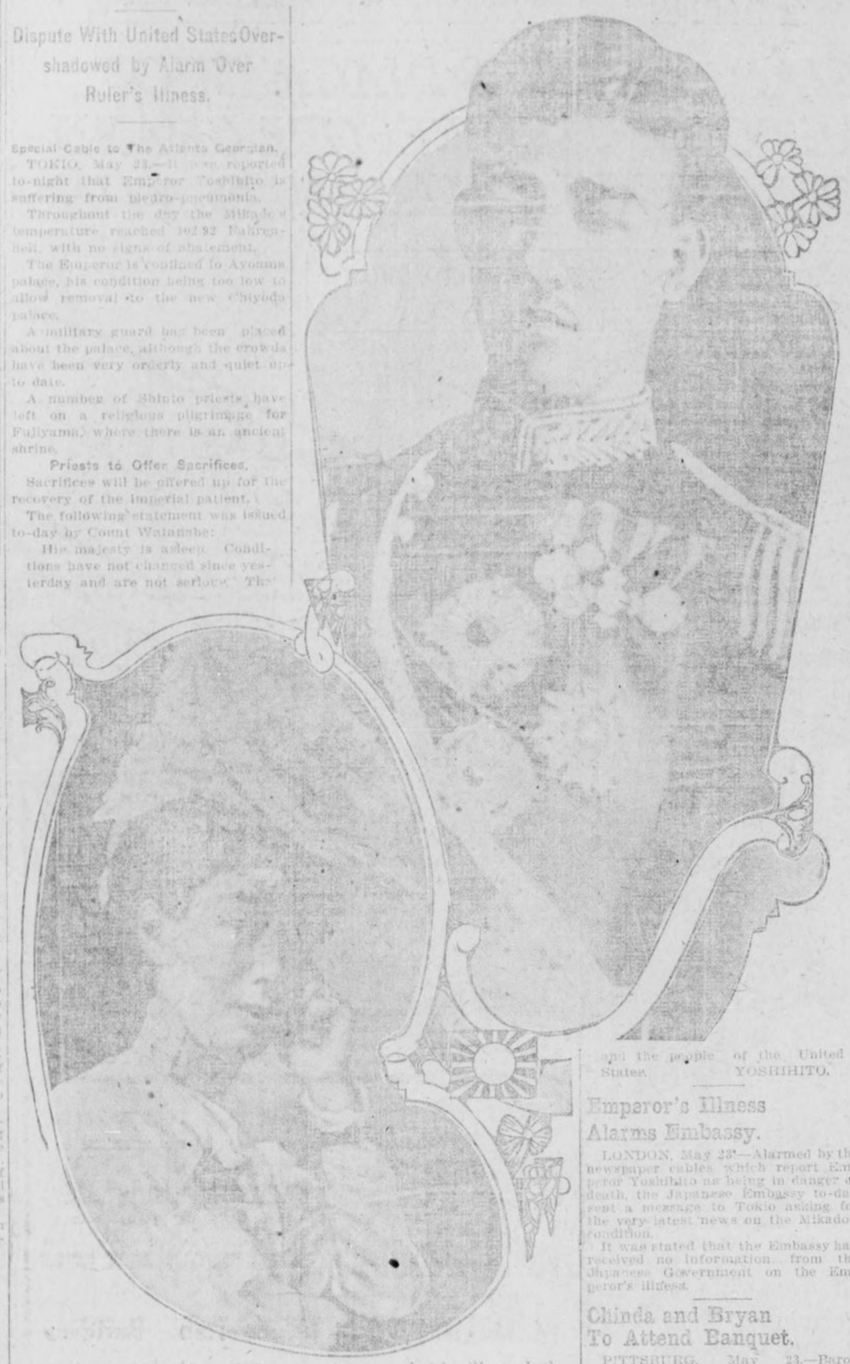
Therefore, grave fears for his recovery are entertained here and it is practically certain nothing further will be done about the enactment of the Webb law until after the Emperor has passed the crisis in his illness.

Japan has until August 10 in which to file her reply to the Bryan note to the Webb bill not being enforced until that date—and it is probable that the conferences between Secretary Bryan and Ambassador Chinda scheduled for next week will be postponed.

Despite the press dispatches stating that the American reply to the Japanese protest has not been favorably received in Tokio, officials here point to the fact that Japan recently made representations for a proper national exhibit for the 1915 exposition in San Francisco as evidence that no sensitively grave situation has yet been brought about.

The President to-day received the following message from the Mikado in answer to his cablegram of sympathy sent yesterday:

Deeply touched by your kind presence inquiring after my indisposition, I express my sincere thanks to yourself, Government and the people of the United States. YOSHIHITO.



Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, who is seriously ill, and the Empress.

Emperor's Illness Alarms Embassy.

LONDON, May 23.—Alarmed by the newspaper cables which report Emperor Yoshihito as being in danger of death, the Japanese Embassy to-day sent a message to Tokio asking for the very latest news on the Mikado's condition.

It was stated that the Embassy had received no information from the Japanese Government on the Emperor's illness.

Chinda and Bryan To Attend Banquet.

PITTSBURG, May 23.—Baron Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States; Secretary of State Bryan and George Guthrie, newly appointed Ambassador to Japan, will attend a banquet in Pittsburg June 6.

California Japs Deny Labor Claims.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., May 23. Himoreto Fujii, editor of The Japanese Rafu Shimpo, of Los Angeles, and L. S. Sioqi stopped here to-day en route to Washington to confer with Ambassador Chinda. They stated they would endeavor to show by statistics that the labor unions in California were wrong in their statements regarding the Japanese peril.

Fined $5 for Lifting Hat to Girl in Sleep

CHICAGO, May 23.—Ernest Plath's habits while asleep cost him a fine of $5 and costs. When Plath is asleep, according to his own story, he has a habit of doffing his hat and nodding his head like an automaton. He fell asleep on a street car.

Miss Ethel Wood said Plath kept nodding his head and tipping his hat to her. When Plath told the judge he was sound asleep and did not know what he was doing, the court reached for the "$5 and costs" rubber stamp and said:

"You'll find it cheaper to stay awake."

PURE WATER Necessary TO GOOD HEALTH

CASCADE SPRING WATER

Purest and Best Water in the South.

A Delightful Table Water

Indorsed by Physicians Everywhere.

Delivered to your home daily direct from the springs. Order by mail or telephone.

Cascade Water Co.
R. F. D. No. 1.
Phone, Atlanta 5356-A.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N. C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $2.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 26, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 27, with return limit June 3 at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:25 a. m., 3:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 3:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route, Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

May Fete at Home Of Uncle Remus Is Halted by Weather

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery announced Friday morning that, owing to inclement weather, the May Festival to have been held at Snapbean Farm Saturday afternoon, had been postponed. Mrs. Montgomery, in charge of the affair to be staged at the home of Uncle Remus, said, however, an early date would be fixed for the entertainment.

An elaborate program has been arranged. Hundreds of well trained children will be on the grounds to give the May pole drill and dance. Miss Katherine Vickers, on a platform resplendent with garlands and gaily colored bunting, will be crowned Queen of the May, and, surrounded by fair maids of honor with their retinue of attendants, will review the celebration.

May songs, under the directorship of Miss Harralson, of the public schools music department, will be rendered by the multitude of childish voices.

Officers Elected By Banking Chapter

The Atlanta Chapter of the American Institute of Banking Thursday night elected these officers:

President, T. W. Townsend, Fourth National Bank; vice president, Fonville McWhorter, Central Bank and Trust Corporation; treasurer, E. H. Bee, Third National Bank, and secretary, W. V. Crowley, American National Bank. Mr. Townsend and Mr. Bee were re-elected.

Delegates to the eleventh annual covention at Richmond in September are T. W. Townsend, Fourth National Bank; John W. Yopp, The Southern Banker," and Fonville McWhorter, Central Bank and Trust Corporation.

E. B. WILLIAMS SPEAKS AT NEWNAN COMMENCEMENT

E. T. Williams, an Atlanta attorney, will deliver the principal address at the ceremonies to attend the graduation exercises of public school pupils in Newnan, Ga., and surrounding communities June 5. More than 500 children will gather for the occasion.

DIPLOMAS FOR 27 ATLANTA NURSES

Certificates Granted by Georgia Association at Savanah Thursday—Thirteen Denied.

Twenty-seven Atlanta young women to-day hold certificates as registered nurses, granted them at the annual meeting of the examining board of the Georgia Registered Nurses' Association in Augusta, Ga., Thursday afternoon. Forty-three took the examination. Of these thirteen failed to pass. The successful applicants from Atlanta follow:

Misses Queenie Jones, Caroline Hill, Virginia Hasty, Viola Miller, Maude Carter, Ethel Moore, Ethel M. Hardwick, Cassie Oliver, Odelle Johnson, Alma Ragan, Lena Fox, Lillian Alexander, Myrtis Brown, Jewell Batchelor, Mary Caldwell, Wright Powell, Jewell Pickett, Sarah Dossey, Elizabeth Roberts, Marie Williams, Lucia Masse, Ellen McClary, Daisy Wilson, Margarette Hagan, Rosa Morgan, Ethel Phillips, Maggie McMath.

Among the officers of the association who attended the meeting were: Miss E. M. Johnstone, Savannah, president; Mrs. E. S. Tupman, Atlanta; Miss M. A. Owens, Savannah, and Miss E. R. Dendy, Augusta, secretary.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN DIES ON WAY TO REUNION

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., May 23. W. L. Weatherby, the aged editor of The Reform Press, of Dunnville, Ontario, Canada, died on a Queen and Crescent train at Glen Mary, Tenn., while en route to the Confederate reunion.

We have Beautiful Bedding Plants 3c each. Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

White City Park Now Open

Prepare for Some Rainy Weather

We're going to have plenty of rain during the next few weeks, and you're going to need protection. There's no need to soak through it all when you can come in here and get a handsome, serviceable Raincoat at a very moderate price. Better that than to be laid up with a cold and have to pay a doctor's bill and lose time from your work.

We're showing a splendid line of

RAINCOATS

at anywhere from

$6.00 to $18.00

and good, serviceable

UMBRELLAS

at from

$1.00 to $5.00

Carlton's

Thirty-six Whitehall

SATURDAY

Little Tender Georgia SNAP BEANS

3c qt.

No. 10 Silver Leaf Lard	$1.29
Meadow Gold Butter	32½c
24 lbs. Gold Medal Flour	87c
24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	77c
48 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	$1.52
Swift's Premium Hams	18½c
3-pound Can Mocha and Java	$1.00
1-pound Can Leader Coffee	25c
1 pound Good Coffee	15c

We carry Carhardt & Bro.'s Famous Line of Coffees, and have recently installed one of the finest coffee mills in the city.

WYATT'S C. O. D.

77 South Pryor

Atlanta Phone 947 WE DELIVER Bell—Main 4926

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.

114-116 Whitehall St.

Extra Specials For Friday and Saturday

For Cash Only

MEATS.

Stew Beef	5c to 7c
Chuck Roast	10c to 12 1-2c
Rib Roast	12 1-2c to 17 1-2c
Chuck Steak	10c to 12 1-2c
Round Steak	15c
Loin Steak	20c
Porterhouse Steak	20c

LAMB.

Lamb Leg, hind quarter	15c
Lamb Leg, forequarter	12 1-2c
Lamb Shoulder	12 1-2c
Lamb Stew	10c
Lamb Chops	20c

PORK.

Pork Shoulders	12 1-2c
Pork Hams	15 1-2c
Pork Chops	17 1-2c
Pork Sausage (our own make)	20c
Wiener Sausage (our own make)	15c
Bologna Sausage (our own make)	12 1-2c

GROCERIES

3-pound can California Lemon Cling Peaches, 35c can, for	20c
White Asparagus (Libby), 25c can, for	17 1-2c
Salmon (Red), 15c can, for	10c
Cheese (full cream)	18c
Garden Peas, 15c can, for	10c

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.

114-116 Whitehall St.

Postmaster Traps Eloping Husband

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL., May 23.—Refusal of a Denver postmaster to assist in concealing the location of John M. Peters, of Uma, Va., resulted in his capture and conviction to-day on a charge of white slavery.

Peters was living with his wife and four children when he eloped with Miss Bettie Freeman, daughter of R. A. Freeman, a neighbor.

The girl wished to communicate with her parents, so a letter was written and inclosed in an envelope addressed to the postmaster of Denver, with the request that the outer envelope be thrown away and the inner envelope containing the letter be mailed. The postmaster did as instructed, but he wrote on the letter, "Received from Crystal City, Ill., with the request to be remailed at Denver."

Say Wm. Lorimer Will Run Again for Senate

CHICAGO, May 23.—The news is being spread around that William Lorimer will be a candidate for United States Senator under the direct election law at the expiration of the term of Lawrence Y. Sherman, two years hence.

"I will neither affirm nor deny the report," Mr. Lorimer says. "I have no announcement to make on the subject at this time."

It's common sense to care for your teeth — and a pleasure too if you use

COLGATE'S
TRADE RIBBON MARK
DENTAL CREAM

A delicious flavor instead of a "druggy" taste.

Its twice-a-day use checks decay-germs, and cleans the teeth without scratching the enamel.

Ribbon Dental Cream leaves the mouth wholesome, refreshed.

Sold Everywhere

SISSON DEFENDS STATE RIGHTS IN JAP ROW

U. S. Unworthy of Existence if It Submits to Interference, Congressman Declares.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Defending the right of the United States to protect her own land against the invasion of aliens, Representative Sisson, of Mississippi, urged on the House to-day the necessity of curtailing the treaty-making power of the President and the Senate. He advocated the extension of the right of ratifying treaties to the representatives of the people. Sisson disclaimed any intention of making a war speech and explained that he merely sought to sustain the right of America to control her own soil.

"If any nations," he continued, "should decide that they will dictate how our land laws should be made, then we will be unworthy of national existence if we submit to such dictation. Does anyone claim that this is a declaration of war because I announce this truth?

"It is no declaration of war for the United States Government to decline to override the rights of a sovereign State at the dictation of a foreign power.

Wants Peace Only.

"Nothing has been further from my mind than to embarrass or tend to render more difficult the peaceful solution of whatever differences, real or imaginary, may exist between the friendly Government of Japan and our own Government. Our officials are to be commended for their wise and earnest effort to maintain peaceful relations between the United States and Japan.

"A treaty can not compel any department of the Government to do what the Constitution forbids it to do. On these questions the true canon of construction that the treaty-making power, in its seeming absoluteness and unconditional extent, is confronted with seemingly absolute and unconditional authority invested in the judiciary."

"Make Treaties Public."

Sisson pleaded for less secrecy in the making of treaties. He declared that treaties should be considered in the open session of the Senate and the vote of each Senator should be made a public record.

"What would become of the farmer if the great corporations of the country should enter the land market and buy all of the best lands of the country and then cultivate them with Mongolian or other alien labor? The great land corporation would drive the American farmer out of existence."

Helen Keller to Try Own Cure on Prince

LONDON, May 23.—According to letters from Madrid, there is only the frailest hope that Prince Jamie, King Alfonso's five-year-old son, ever can be cured of his deafness and dumbness.

Helen Keller has been summoned by the Queen to proceed in all haste to the royal palace, every specialist of note in Europe having failed to help the child.

ROYAL WEDDING GUESTS THICK IN BERLIN

Big and Little Monarchs Throng the Capital for Wedding of Kaiser's Only Daughter.

Special Cable to The American.

BERLIN, May 23.—Big and little monarchs, royal dukes and fair ladies are as common as pebbles upon the streets of Berlin to-day. Every once in a while royal equipage, with an escort of the soldiery of some foreign nation, rolls past in the street and the natives pause to stare and comment upon H. R. H. Somebody or other or the Duke of something. All are here to attend to-morrow the wedding of Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the Kaiser, and Prince Ernst of Cumberland, son of the Duke of Cumberland and Prince of Great Britain.

It is nearly impossible to get accommodations at a first-class hotel to-day because of the crowds that have come to Berlin from all parts of the Empire, from abroad and from various parts of Europe. Even some of the royal guests have been quartered at hotels because of the fact that there was not room enough at the Palace, where it had been planned to quarter some of the more distinguished visitors.

The celebration of the wedding started several days ago, with a most elaborate evening of opera. A State banquet was held Friday at which all of the impressive appearing diplomats here as attendants upon the parties of their royal masters were present. To-morrow the actual ceremony will be performed, and Victoria Luise Adelheid Methilde Charlotte Hohenzollern, Princess of Prussia and Ernst August Chretien George of Vrunswick-Lunebourg, the House of Guelph, descendant of George III of Great Britain and great grandson of Queen Victoria of England will become one.

$2,000,000 Kaiser's Dowry on Daughter

BERLIN, May 23.—It is reported the Kaiser and Kaiserin have settled a dowry of $2,000,000 on their daughter, Princess Victoria Luise, who is to be married to Prince Ernest of Cumberland, Saturday.

The unusually large amount is probably in view of the coming proclamation—making the couple the reigning Duke and Duchess of Brunswick.

Urges U. S. to Sue Road for $3,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Representative Neeley of Kansas to-day sent a letter to the Attorney General urging the latter to sue the Missouri Pacific for more than $3,000,000, alleged to be due the Government for financing the road about 25 years ago when the central division of this road was built.

Neely quotes an opinion of Treasury Solicitor Thompson, in which Thompson recommends that suit be begun.

Who Groom in The Royal Wedding Is

Following are some interesting facts about the House of Cumberland, into which the Princess Victoria Luise, will be married to-morrow.

The Prince of Cumberland is both German and English.

He is a greadgrandson of King George III of Great Britain. His grandfather was a brother of Queen Victoria of England, they both having been children of George III.

In the event of the failure of succession of present heirs to the throne of England, it probably would be the present Duke of Cumberland, or in the event of his death, the Prince of Cumberland who would succeed to the throne, because of their descent from King George.

The arms of the House of Cumberland are almost similar to those of the royal family of Great Britain.

The Duke of Cumberland is a Prince of Great Britain, a general in the British army and a Colonel in the Austrian army.

Starves Self When Arrested as Slayer

CRIPPLE CREEK, COLO., May 23. For 96 hours James L. Bacon, former State Representative, in jail charged with the murder of his wife and 6-year-old stepdaughter last month, has refused water and food.

Doctors report that Bacon's physical and mental condition is normal. The last meal Bacon ate was on Monday morning at 7 o'clock in Denver. He merely states he does not care to eat.

KING GEORGE ASKS PEACE FOR WORLD

English Ruler's Berlin Speech Taken to Show Three Great Dynasties' Friendship.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

BERLIN, May 23.—"The preservation of world peace is my fervent desire, as it was the chief aim of my father's life," declared King George of England, guest of the Kaiser, in replying to an address presented to him by the British residents of Berlin.

This is the first political note sounded during the wedding festivities of the Kaiser's only daughter, for which three emperors and many princes are gathered.

The King's words seem, according to the opinion expressed in influential circles, to epitomize the chief significance of the royal visits as a demonstration of the peaceful and friendly relations existing among the three powerful dynasties.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Don't Force Your Widow to Marry for a Home!

IF AFTER years of paying rent—and providing well for your family—you should die, WITHOUT leaving an' estate—WHAT THEN? Would your widow be forced to marry for a HOME—or else be compelled to face the battle of life alone? Please read on!

You can buy the pretty six-room Bungalow shown in above picture by paying only $100 down and $25 a month, instead of rent, till the house is paid for. (No mortgage to assume.) Then, should death claim you, you will be leaving your widow a beautiful home of her own.

Phone us for full particulars—or, better still, call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE, 207 Equitable Building

Bell Phone, Main 3520 Atlanta Phone 3510

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS BASS BASS BASS.

A Host of Mighty Values for Saturday

Bass' May Sale

Our New York buyers are searching the markets daily with ready cash, for the best offerings of Importers, Manufacturers and Wholesalers, with the result that many thousands of dollars worth of choice Spring and Summer goods are being secured for this sale at prices which enable us to undersell all other retail stores.

$3 and $4 Fine Wash Dresses

Saturday we place on sale some 200 beautiful Wash Dresses, made of fine quality white pique, linene and colored zephyrs; all neatly trimmed, and good values up to $4.00. Your choice..... $1.90

Bargain Sale of Ladies' Suits

We have had consigned to us, by one of New York's largest manufacturers, 109 ladies' fine Spring and Summer Suits, to sell. Made of fine English Serges, in cream, black and white stripes, tan, black and navy. Worth $20; your choice..... $6.90

$10.00 Sample Dresses at $4.90

Think of buying new and fashionable Dresses that, until this sale, would have cost you $10.00. In the lot you will find the very popular all-wool cream serges, silk ratines, all-over embroidery voiles with Bulgarian trimmings, and silk messalines in all the new shades and colors. Your choice..... $4.90

May Sale of Untrimmed Hats

In this May Sale you can buy the newest and prettiest Untrimmed Hat Shapes of the season at about one-fourth their real value. Included are Hemps, Milans, Panamettes, Ajours, Chips, Neapolitans and other fashionable straws. Black, white, blue, red, pink, tan, purple, heliotrope and various color combinations. Shapes and colors to suit every type and taste. Your choice..... 98c

500 White Pique Skirts; worth $3.00; choice Saturday..... 98c

1,000 Waists, 79c

$1 to $2 values; while they last. Voiles, lingerie and embroidered lawn; in latest styles; worth $1 to $2; while they last..... 69c

Sale of House Dresses at 50c. Made of good quality madras and percale, and very neatly trimmed. If you paid $1 you would get value received. Saturday..... 50c

Ladies' lisle finished silk-taped Vests; regular 19c value; Saturday only..... 5c

Ladies' muslin Corset Covers and Drawers; trimmed with lace and embroidery, and ribbon inserted. 50c values, Saturday... 19c

Ladies' muslin Gowns and Petticoats. Neatly trimmed with lace and embroidery. The kind sold elsewhere at 75c; Saturday..... 39c

100 Dozen Children's Drawers—Made of good quality muslin, and trimmed with embroidery; worth 25c; Saturday..... 10c

Balkan Middy Blouses; made of good quality galatea. Blue, white and pink collars. Worth $1.50; Saturday..... 98c

Ladies' Long Crepe Kimonos, in pink, blue and lavender and all the pretty shades, and good styles. $2 values, Saturday..... 98c

1,000 CHILDREN'S DRESSES—Made of good quality madras, galatea and percales. All very neatly trimmed. Sizes six to fifteen years. Worth up to $1.50. Saturday..... 69c

5,000 CHILDREN'S PARASOLS—Covered with good quality linen, on good, strong frames; very neat handle. In pink, white, blue, red and combination colors; Saturday..... 10c

Saturday Specials on Main Floor

Cut Prices in Ladies' and Men's Neckwear, Children's Belts, Etc.

On one of the main center counters you will find ladies' new style Neckwear, Lace Collars in white and ecru, the kind that other retail stores ask $1.00 for; Jabots and all the latest styles in bows. Ladies' and children's new style Belts. Men's All-silk Ties, in all the latest colors and styles. You pay 50c to $1 elsewhere. Your choice Saturday..... 25c

R. & G. make Corsets; all sizes and styles; Saturday, special..... 44c

Ladies' silk lisle thread Gloves, full length; black and colors; all sizes; Saturday..... 39c

Ladies' pure silk Hose, with double lisle heel and toe; black, tan, white and colors; very special, Saturday..... 47c

Ladies' Fine Hand Bags—We have just secured three lines of drummers' samples of very fine Hand Bags; not a one in the lot worth less than $1.00; Saturday..... 47c

Ladies' Silk Hose, good quality; black, white, tan and colors; Saturday..... 25c

Children's All-Silk Socks and Stockings; the 50c kind; Saturday. 25c

Ladies' 16-button fine Silk Gloves; black, white and colors; well made and worth $1.50; Saturday..... 69c

MEN'S UNDERWEAR

Fine Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers; in all sizes. The kind you pay 50c to $1 a garment for in other stores; Saturday... 25c

Men's $1 Night Shirts, made of fine bleached Cambric; neatly trimmed; Saturday..... 50c

Bargain Sale of Fine Laces Saturday

The biggest bargains ever offered in any house in Atlanta. 20,000 yards very fine Linen Torchon Laces, Ruby and Round Thread Vals, Edges and Insertions. All new patterns and worth up to 40c; Saturday..... 5c

A Special Purchase of Sheets

10,000 full double bed size Hemmed Sheets; made of good material. The dollar kind, Saturday..... 49c

Sale of Huck Towels

Extra good Hemmed Huck Towels, red border; good size. Saturday, special..... 4c

632 Fine Jap Matting Art Squares

Made of fine quality 180-warp matting in floral and Oriental designs, full 9x12 feet. Only one to a customer. $1.98

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS.

Be Sure to Look For the Big Blue Sign:

A BANKRUPT SALE!

at 32 Whitehall Street

There is absolutely no way to tell you how cheap these goods will sell—Bankrupt Prices are "whatever somebody will give." Come see what you will give.

Three great stocks—Ladies' wear, Men's wear; something to please everyone, placed in the hands of Ira A. Watson & Company, selling agents, who sell out Bankrupt, Liquidation and other stocks.

With orders to "sell out" for the benefit of whom it may concern. Watson don't care what the price, just so they sell. Prices not based on cost.

FAR LESS THAN COST OF PRODUCTION.

THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPT COURT does not fix any prices—JUST SELL at some price to somebody. A mighty downfall to-morrow for the grand finale—the finish—THE END. Prices that can only be appreciated when you see the goods. Everybody loves to make a good trade. We will trade—Come See.

All Prices Reduced to "Selling Point" Whatever Somebody Will Give

See the Windows
32 WHITEHALL STREET.

Choice HANAN'S SHOES and other finest best; tomorrow (Thursday) $3.50

Boys' Norfolk best Blue Serge Suits; sold for $10. $3.99

EXTRA SPECIAL. Lot of fine Shirts; all go for 39c. Monarch, Faultless and other $1 Shirts 69c

Redfern Corsets. Every lady knows them. Well, how's this? $1.99 That will make them "go" some.

HAIR. Human Hair Switches that sold up to $10; go for 99c There will be some switching.

Men's $4.00 Howard & Foster, and other fine Footwear, $1.99

Ladies' Silk Waists 99c

ARROW Collars at 8 1/3c Or 98c a Dozen.

SHIRTS. Earl & Wilson's Faultless; choice up to $2.50 Shirts 99c

1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 7c, 9c, Etc. Great Counters and displays loaded with Jewelry, Notions, useful articles needed and used in every household daily. Come—it's fun to "paw" them over, and root and rummage, and reek and revel in these Bankrupt Bargains.

10c Sale--- 25c Sale---99c Sale WONDERFUL THINGS

$2.00 to $3.00 Men's Straw Hats. 98c

FOR BOYS One fine lot full Suits of clothes; sold up to $6.50; go at..... $1.99

Men's John B. Stetson's Best Hats. $2.50

Ladies' fine genuine 50c Silk Hose, two for one; a pair 25c

BANKRUPTCY Means all bargains; 25c Infants' Socks 9c

Men's $1.50 Straw Hats 49c

See the WINDOWS 32 Whitehall Street

Men's Pants; one big lot for $1.99 Sold up to $5.00.

Men's $30.00, finest, best, newest Suits, $9.99 Watson's famous give-away prices.

Remember, this stock was only in business 16 months, so it's all entirely NEW GOODS.

Men's Hanan Shoes, and the world's best. $3.50

Men's 50c Belts 19c

Men's $18.00 Suits, $4.99 Just think! A whole fine new suit.

DON'T FORGET! The number is 32 WHITEHALL Street.

PRESBYTERIANS DOOM COUNTRY MISSIONS

Attempt to Save Church and Rural Life Department Fails in Assembly.

Defenders of the church and country life department of the Board of Home Missions went down to an inglorious parliamentary defeat at the forenoon session of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly.

As a result the report of the executive commission stands that this department "shall be discontinued as soon as practicable."

Every attempt to revise this decision ran against a stone wall in the rulings of the moderator. One commissioner after another essayed to speak on the report, but each was told that no question formally was before the assembly.

Rev. John Deans, of Brooklyn, N. Y., asked what interpretation was to be made of "as soon as practicable"—that given by Dr. Mark A. Matthews in presenting the report Wednesday, or that he gave Thursday, or the one he presented Friday morning.

Rev. Deans was informed that he was to accept the final explanation. Rev. T. M. Hall, of the Erie, Pa., Presbytery, sought to introduce a resolution bearing on the subject, but was ruled out of order.

Bars Reconsideration.

As a final recourse, one of the commissioners moved for a reconsideration of the portion of the executive commission's report bearing on the department of church and country life. Moderator Stone ran his eye over the house and ruled that two-thirds of the original assembly considering the question must be present to vote on a reconsideration. It was the moderator's assumption that the two-thirds was not in the auditorium.

Although the church and country life advocates were forced to accept defeat in their fight to establish the department permanently as a part of the Board of Home Missions' activities, those at the head of the work declared that they would be able to accomplish this at the next general assembly.

"We will simply continue the department through the year and then come before the next Assembly on our record," is the statement made Friday of their contemplated plan of campaign.

Professing Christians who spend Sundays in their automobiles or on the golf course came in for unrestrained criticism from Rev. Frederick J. Sauber, of Marcellus, N. Y., who submitted the report of the committee on Christian life and work.

Apathy Blamed for Vice.

The apathy and indifference of Christian people was blamed by Dr. Sauber for the rapid progress which the white slave evil has made. He called attention to the falling away from the church of the younger generation and pleaded for more active evangelistic work. Judging by the figures of additions to church membership, he estimated that it required about a half hundred persons one year to get one new member into the church.

W. H. Houston, secretary of the vacancy and supply department of the Presbyterian Church, said that there were 3,000 young men in the country who had studied for the Presbyterian ministry who were still without pulpits, while there were many churches about the country without preachers. His department, he said, was for the purpose of relieving this situation. He asked five years for a trial of the new plan.

Drug Traffic Attacked.

Looking toward the remedying of these conditions, the Assembly voted to instruct the moderator and stated clerk to write, through any of the Assembly boards, to every minister of the church urging him to bring to the attention of every family in his church the needs of the ministry for young men.

A strong resolution against interstate traffic in opium, cocaine and other similar dugs was introduced by Dr. C. A. R. Janvier, of Philadelphia, and passed by the unanimous vote of the Assembly.

"The United States was in the lead of the movement to bar international traffic in the drugs," said Dr. Janvier, "but within her own borders the traffic is being continued with only a slight check. Decided action by this assembly will assist in passing the bill which is now before Congress."

Truce on Hubbert.

When no further movement was made Friday in the effort to oust the Rev. J. M. Hubbert from his position as Assistant Stated Clerk of the Assembly, it became known that a truce had been patched up between his friends and William H. Roberts, the Stated Clerk. Dr. Roberts had been working hard to have the office of assistant abolished. He gave economy as his reason for recommending the change. The office pays $3,000 annually.

The members of the large Chicago delegation were happy to-day over the unanimous acceptance of the invitation of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of that city for the 1914 Assembly. This is the church of which Moderator Stone is the pastor. The First Presbyterian Church of Atlantic City, N. J., was the only other candidate for next year, but the indications are that there will be a hot fight on for the privilege of entertaining the commissioners in 1915.

The resignation of Duncan J. McMillan from the Board of Church Erection, which was announced Thursday afternoon, was not entirely unexpected. Dr. McMillan had been known not to be in sympathy with many of the moves of the board in the past. His stand on the John S. Kennedy memorial fund was the final straw that made his resignation virtually a foregone conclusion. He was bitterly opposed to placing it in the loan fund, contending that it was illegal. When the Assembly voted, almost unanimously, to place it in the loan fund, he announced that he could no longer serve.

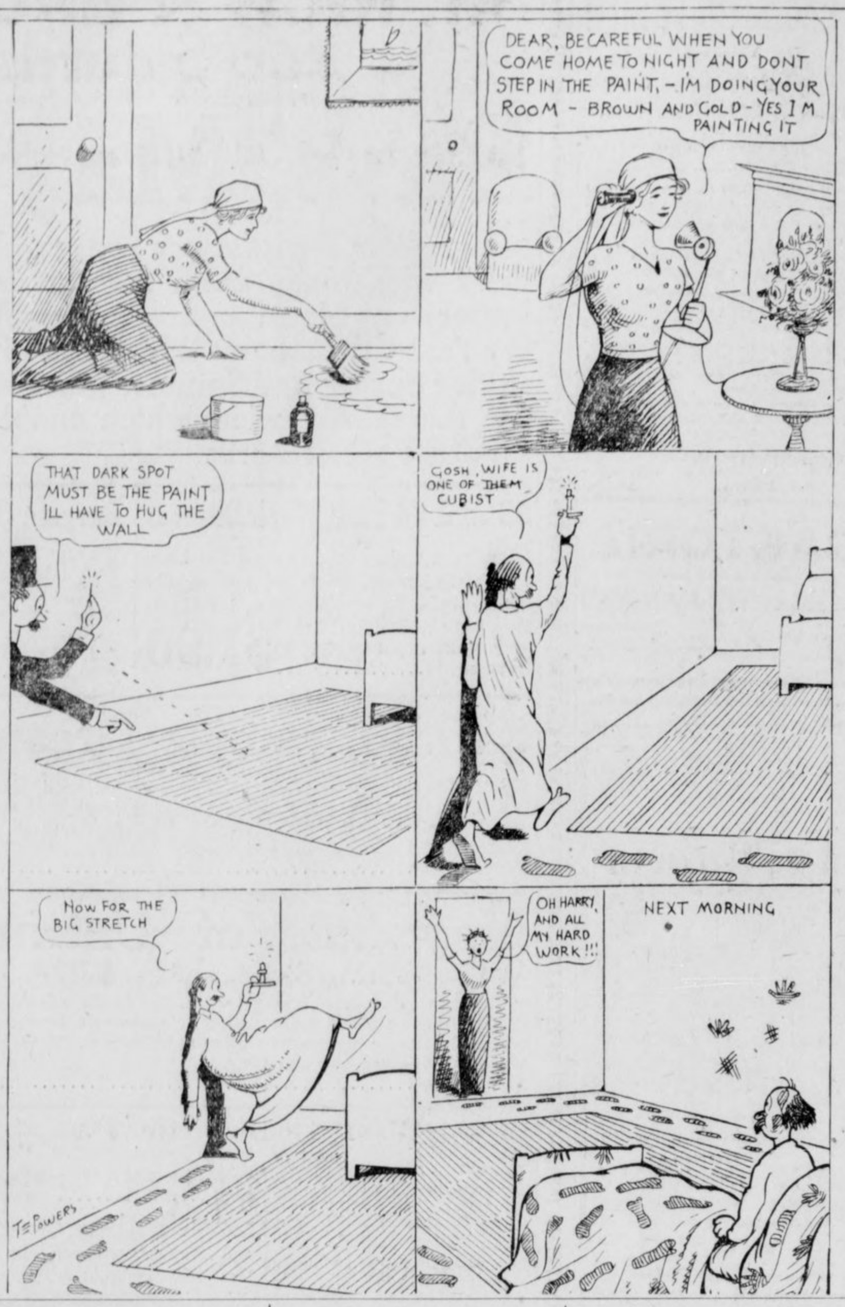
Tribute Paid Roberts.

Resolutions of respect and thanks were passed in honor of Stated Clerk Roberts in view of the fact that he had reached the thirtieth anniversary of his election to the clerkship of the assembly. The resolutions noted that nearly two million dollars of the church's money had passed through his hands and that he had done more for church co-operation than any other member of the denomination.

He was given a leave of absence for two months to make the foreign trip with the commission which is seeking to bring about a world alliance of Christian religions. Dr. Roberts responded feelingly to the tributes paid him.

WITH THE BEST INTENTION

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.



BROYLES SCORES MAYOR AS BAR TO JUSTICE

Recorder Says Woodward Cripples Courts by Granting Pardons and Remitting Fines.

Continued From Page 1.

Woodward also instructed the police not to molest Roper, as he was considering an application for pardon. Roper is still at liberty, nothing more having been heard from the Mayor.

Another instance referred to by Recorder Broyles in his interview was the Dan Shaw case. Shaw was known as the "blind tiger king" and received a twelve-month sentence in the county chaingang and a 30-day sentence in the city stockade. Governor Brown pardoned him on the chaingang sentence, with the stipulation that Shaw would leave Georgia and go back to Virginia. Appeal was made to Judge Broyles to remit the stockade sentence of 30 days, but he declined. Mayor Woodward granted this pardon.

Mattie Lou White was convicted in November, 1912, on a blind tiger charge in connection with an immorality charge. She was fined $500 or 30 days, and bound over to the State courts. The sentence given by Broyles was sustained by the Court of Appeals and her arrest was ordered.

Woman Also Is Free.

She had been out on bond since the time of her arrest. She appealed to the Mayor and was given a letter to the police instructing them not to molest her, as he was considering her appeal for a pardon. She is still at liberty. The letter is dated May 7.

R. L. Dixon, the man who was convicted on an immorality charge in connection with Mattie Lou White, is confined in the city jail and will begin the servng of his stockade term. The White woman called upon him at police headquarters this morning. Judge Broyles points out this case as an instance of how the court's work is being hampered, charging that the serious violators of the law are at liberty, while Dixon, who is held on a lighter charge, is serving his sentence.

Empire Life Gets Plans for Building

AUGUSTA, GA., May 23.—Twenty-five architects have submitted preliminary plans to the directors of the Empire Life Insurance Company for the fifteen-story building that company will erect here. A building committee will make a selection. The Empire plans to begin the erection of its building on October 1.

The Augusta Chronicle Building Company will begin the erection of a ten-story building within the next 60 days.

White City Park Now Open

Miller Bell New Grand Chancellor of State Pythians

WAYCROSS, GA., May 23.—Grand Chancellor James W. Austin's suggestion for changing the method of electing grand lodge officers for the Knights of Pythias of Georgia, was to-day referred to the incoming committee on judiciary with instructions to prepare an amendment and submit it with a report at the next convention.

The officers elected for the year are:

Grand Chancellor, Miller S. Bell, Milledgeville; Grand Vice Chancellor, H. M. Stanley, Dublin; Grand Prelate John P. Cheney, Marietta; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, W. H. Leopold, Savannah; Grand Master of Exchequer, R. C. Norman, Washington; Grand Master-at-arms, Troy Beatty, Athens; Grand Inner Guard, George C. Schaufele, Augusta; Grand Outer Guard, Joseph D. Smith, Barnesville. Supreme representatives, B. D. Brantley, Blackshear and C. M. Milan, Cartersville.

Macon was selected as the permanent meeting place for the Grand Lodge.

Roosevelt Going to Arizona for a Rest

NEW YORK, May 23.—Colonel Roosevelt, with two of his sons, will visit Arizona this summer.

Through his secretary he yesterday denied that while in the Southwest he would seek a lost tribe of Indians. He said he was merely going for a rest. He will do little hunting, but will ride considerably.

CAMPBELL TO CLAIMS COURT.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Edward J. Campbell, to be chief justice of the Court of Claims.

Hansen Is Bound to Keep Peace a Year

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, May 23.—J. Salter Hansen, the Chicago theatrical man who has been involved in litigation with Arthur Bourchier, a London theatrical man, for some time over the production of the play "Croesus," reappeared in court to-day and was bound over in the sum of $10,000 to keep the peace for a year.

He also was sentenced to pay the costs of the hearing on the charge of assault, brought against him by Bourchier.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about it. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

You will buy

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

for the satisfaction you feel when eating these finest smoked meats. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon are always the same, always good. Try Swift's Premium Ham or Bacon.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

"Smoked in Atlanta"

Established 1865— EISEMAN BROS., Inc. —Incorporated 1912

Boys' and Children's Clothes!

Our Boys' and Children's Department (entire second floor) is large, complete and comprehensive. Junior Fashions at their best, and in unlimited variety.

Just now interest is centering on warm weather wearables, and our representative stock of

WASH SUITS

for ages 2½ to 17 years embraces the latest novelties in a variety of more than 200 different styles.

$1.00 - - - - and - - - - Up

PLAY-TIME COSTUMES are now being eagerly sought by the average "small boy" with vacation visions just ahead, and our line covers all the best makes. Accurately designed, stoutly sewed, and of good material.

Baseball Suits, in all colors, Shirt, Padded Pants, Cap and Belt,

$1.00 - - - - - to - - - - - $1.50

Khaki Indian Suits, 4 to 14 years, $1.00 to $1.50. Indian Suits of Leather, sizes 6 to 14 years, $5.00. Captain Suits, Regular Army Suits, Cowboy, Broncho and other costume suits,

$1.25 - - - - - to - - - - - $2.50

We Are Official Outfitters for Boy Scouts of America

Eiseman Bros., Inc.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

Entire Building

CREDIT AT THE MENTER CO.

Our Great Chain of Stores Means Low Prices to You

You know the advantage of buying in quantity. We own a chain of nearly 100 prosperous stores, and believe us we buy in enormous quantities.

This great saving we pass on to you. We give you better quality, newer styles and at less money. We outfit

MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN

Visit our store. Take advantage of our low prices and liberal credit terms.

PETTICOAT SPECIAL: Tomorrow and all next week we will sell all $1 and $1.50 petticoats at 59c, and all $3 to $5 silk petticoats at $2.49.

THE MENTER CO.

EASY PAYING | 71 1-2 Whitehall St. Upstairs 1st floor Below J. M. High Co. | CHARGE ACCOUNT

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Saturday Is Hosiery and Knit Underwear Day

First on the list is Hosiery, and here are the kinds that many people want now at very low prices. In the shelves are thousands of pairs—more costly, including the season's novelties in women's stockings at $5 and $6—but—here are the "bread and butter" kinds, on the counters for to-morrow, for your convenience, and for your saving.

For Children, Women and Men

Socks for Children—a special lot at 15c pair. You may select, at this price, either plain black or white, or white with plaid tops.

Infants' white silk-lisle ribbed Hose—special for this sale at 15c pair.

Pony Hose for Boys and Girls

Girls' fine, one-and-one-ribbed silk-lisle Hose, black only; 25c pair.

Boys' medium weight black cotton Pony Hose; extra high-spliced heel, very elastic; sizes 9½ to 11; 25c pair.

Women's "Economy" Hose of sheer gauze lisle, with double hem top; 15c pair.

Sheer gauze silk-lisle Hose; high-spliced heel, double hem top; black, white and tan; 25c pair.

"Gordon" sheer, gauze lisle Hose with double hem top, extra high-spliced heel; black, white and tan; 35c pair—three pairs for $1.00.

Women's $2.00 embroidered black silk Hose, heavy, good quality—are priced for Saturday at $1.50 pair.

Men's "Round Ticket" summer Half Hose, with linen heel and toe, in black, gray, navy and tan. They are "hard to wear out;" 25c pair.

Time to Buy Porch Fans

Proof? This extensive stock of new and decidedly attractive kinds.

Artistic, fancy Bamboo Fans are priced at 10c each.

Satin Palm Fans are two for 5c.

Small Palm Fans in odd shapes with colored satin bindings; quaint and very pleasing; 10c and 15c each.

Women's Knit Underwear

Combinations at 98c—sheer, cool and comfortable; with cuff or loose knee. Since women have learned the absolute satisfaction of these one-piece knitted suits, the demand for them increases daily.

There are also good knitted Combinations at 50c—Essex Mills suits—with cuff knee, low neck, sleeveless, light weight cotton; regular and extra sizes.

Three 25c Vests for 50c

Practical women will not be slow to take advantage of this opportunity. All sizes are here, these vests are sheer, light weight, drawn with mercerized tape.

Men's 25c Garments at 19c

A few sizes are missing in this assortment of bleached and unbleached shirts and drawers, some with short, some with long sleeves.

Boys' 50c Night Shirts at 39c

Reduced because they are slightly soiled; good, well-made garments in sizes 4 to 8 years.

Boys' cool summer Pajamas. Sizes 4 to 8 years, 50c; 10 to 14 years, 75c suit.

Men's 75c Night Shirts at 59c

Two materials to choose from: Pajama checks or plain, soft nainsook, they are trimmed with colored braids.

Men's "My Letter" Night Shirts, of soft cambric, all-white with initial prettily embroidered on pocket; $1.00 each.

Men's Pajamas in a variety of styles at $1.25 and $1.50 suit.

Men's "My Letter" Pajamas at $2.00 suit.

THOMASVILLE IS TORN BY STRIFE OVER COWS

Policeman Friendly to Wandering Animals Is Haled Before City Council for Trial.

BY JAMES B. NEVIN.

The ancient and merry cow and anti-cow warfare has broken loose in Thomasville once more.

While North Georgia statesmen fight and scrap over the loaves and fishes of ordinary political persuasion, Thomasville can never find time from its cow war to get in the real big game up state.

Not long ago, an anti-cow ordinance was slipped through Council, but as was predicted, it has not served to keep grand Old Sis Cow off the streets of the town. Grave and reverend city councilors may lead, nor drive, the friends of Sis Cow to water, but they cannot make them drink.

The Council may order the police force to arrest the cows astray on the city thoroughfares, but if the policeman will not obey the Council's mandate, what is the Council going to do about it?

That is the momentous question now agitating Thomasville to the verge of strenuous internecene strife once more.

Not long since, Alderman Bennett, anti-cow, ordered Policeman Nazeworth, pro-cow, to arrest a cow the alderman discovered at large about town.

Policeman Nazeworth, who is rotund and good natured, a lover of nature and of cows, didn't exactly refuse to execute the aldermanic ukase, but he fooled around and put it off, upon one pretext and another, until his honor got mad, and had the policeman haled before Council for refusing to obey orders.

The policeman told Council he intended no disrespect to the alderman, and that, after a while, when he got through with seven or eleven other tasks, he had intended chasing that cow into the "pound," not that he had anything against cows, in fact he rather liked them, but that he was a faithful officer, knew his duty, and would perform it, if given time, and permitted to judge for himself how much, etc.

The Council, rather skittish about the cow issue in Thomasville, anyway, laughed, dismissed the charges against Policeman Nazeworth, and told him to go his way, and sin no more.

Alderman Bennett didn't like it much, but what could he do when Council refused that way to back him up?

The pro-cow hosts in Thomasville, therefore, have taken heart over the outcome of the issue thus precipitated by Alderman Bennett and met so gallantly by Policeman Nazeworth, and there is renewed talk of another red-hot municipal campaign in Thomasville, with the cow as the burning issue.

In Thomasville, if nowhere else in this world, age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of grand Old Sis Cow!

Senator M. C. Tarver, of Whitfield, will introduce in the next Legislature a bill to legalize suspension of sentence in criminal cases, in the discretion of the presiding judge, and to provide for probation officers.

Senator Tarver, who is in Atlanta, discussing his bill said:

"I am convinced that the passage of these measures will work a genuine reform in the administration of the criminal laws of the State. I do not fully agree with the idea that imprisonment for crime is wholly for reformation and not for punishment, and I hold that where punishment alone will operate to deter crime, it is all right. Beyond question, the reformation of criminals, however, is the ultimate object of punishment.

"I regard the suspension of sentence in certain cases an ideal restraint against crime.

"Of the 2,688 penitentiary convicts June 1, 1911, 1,304 were between the ages of 20 and 29 years—practically 50 per cent. It is hard to believe that of such a large number, all young men, and nearly all first offenders, the judges could not have found many worthy of another chance through suspended sentence."

BAN ON DRY BATHING.

WILMINGTON, MASS., May 23.—Girls will not be allowed to loll on the beaches of Silver Lake this summer, according to the dictum of fathers, who object to the maids collecting a tan while wearing only a smile and an apology for a bathing suit.

White City Park Now Open

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route. Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

Hill Climb Promises Rare Sport

Auto Contest Scheduled Saturday

Early List of Entries Is Large

Local automobile and motorcycle fans are in for a "big time" Saturday afternoon when the second annual hill-climb of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories' Association is run out on the steep Stewart Avenue incline.

The event was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but on account of a heavy shower it was considered advisable to postpone it a week. Since then several new entries have been received, the list having been reopened under the sanction of the American Automobile Association.

The entries will close Friday. Drivers must get their licenses from Charles I. Ryan, local representative of the American Automobile Association. He is located in the Fourth National Bank Building.

The complete list of entries follows:

Event No. 1.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	C
2.	Studebaker, D. Rooney	C
3.	Buick, Hugh Moss	C

Event No. 2

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Ford, J. L. Alexander	C
2.	Chalmers, Hugh Moss	C
3.	Studebaker, Joe Lundgren	C

Event No. 3.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C
2.	Lion, W. J. Stoddard	C

Event No. 4.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	National, Bruce McKerall	C
2.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C

Event No. 6—Free for All.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	American, Joseph H. White	D
2.	National, Bruce McKerall	D
3.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	D
4.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	D
5.	National, T. A. Fox	D

Event N. 7.

No. Car and Driver.
1. Marion, Dr. Samuel Green.
2. Buick, Hugh Moss.
3. Stoddard-Dayton, Joe Johnston.
4. Apperson, Dr. Constantine.
5. Pope-Hartford, E. A. Holbrook.

MOTORCYCLES.

Event No. 1.
(61 Class Amateurs.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Indian	H. A. Owen
2.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
3.	Indian	L. S. Peek
4.	Excelsior	T. C. Butler, Jr.
5.	Indian	E. A. Owen

Event No. 2.
(61 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
2.	Indian	Harry J. Glenn
3.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
4.	Indian	Ed L. Wilcox

Event No. 4.
(30-50 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
2.	Indian	Ed R. Wilcox
3.	Thor	G. L. Singleton

Events and Prizes.

The list of prizes is as follows:

Silver cup, donated by the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory Association, for car making fastest time; to be won three times—won 1912 by Pope-Hartford.

Silver cup, donated by E. Rivers Realty Company, for car making fastest time in events Nos. 1 and 2; to be won three times—won 1912 by E.-M.-F.

AUTOMOBILES.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup or prize to be selected; second prize, pair $3.50 gloves, donated by Thirty-five Per Cent Automobile Supply Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Atlanta Constitution; second prize, $15 raincoat, by Johnson-Gewinner Company.

Event No. 3—First prize, silver cup, by Durham Jewelry Company; second prize, barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No. 4—First prize, silver cup, by Studebaker Corporation; second prize, two 32x3½ Red tubes, by New South Rubber Company.

Event No. 5—First prize, silver cup, by Firestone Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, model "B," by Stewart-Warner Corporation.

Private Owners' Cars.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup, by Fisk Rubber Company; second prize, half barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Republic Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, pair gloves, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

MOTORCYCLES.

Event No. 1, Amateurs—First prize, silver cup, by Elyea-Austell Company; second prize, pair leggins, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

Event No. 2, Professional—First prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, by Stewart Warner Corporation; second prize, electric horn, by Hendee Manufacturing Company.

Event No. 3, Amateurs—First prize, two motorcycle tires, U. S. Tire Company; second prize, pair leggins, by Johnson-Gewinner Company.

Event No. 4, Professional—First prize, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, two motorcycle tires; second prize, one Troxel saddle, by Elyea-Austell Company.

Officials.

The officials in charge of the meet are as follows:

Technical Committee—Automobiles, Fred Steel, F. C. Skinner, A. A. Aimond; motorcycles, H. Gilbert, Dove Wylie, W. E. Schulenberger.

Starters—K. T. McKinstry, L. S. Collier.

Referees—Automobiles, W. G. Humphrey; motorcycles, J. D. Hiller.

Judges—L. T. Bissell, C. L. Elyea, T. H. Smart, R. S. Abbott.

Clerk of Course—E. H. Elleby.

Times and Umpires—D. T. Bussey, R. N. Reed, R. J. Slear.

Gasoline Tester—Ed L. Wight, Jr.

RIOTING AGAIN IN MILFORD.

MILFORD, MASS., May 23.—Several women were struck by flying stones and loyal workmen were thrown bodily off a street car when striking mill workers to-day renewed their violence.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

PEACH CROP FAR SHORT; PRICES WILL SOAR

Highest Estimate Puts Total Yield of State at 1,450 Cars—Five Thousand Last Year.

The Georgia peach crop this year will not exceed 1,450 carloads, which is 50 per cent less than the city of New York alone purchased last year.

H. D. Marks, manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, estimates the total Georgia crop at 1,454 cars. The Fruit Growers' Express figures 1,349 cars, while the Central of Georgia Railway looks for only 1,312.

Last year the Georgia crop was unusually large, 5,000 carloads of Georgia's favorite fruit being shipped to market. New York City, always the greatest consumer of the season's early delicacies, purchased 2,800 carloads. Still, there were more than 3,000 carloads for home consumption and country-wide distribution. This year New York alone will demand more than the entire State can supply.

Last year the growers realized, on the season's average, $575 per carload, gross, in New York. This season's short crop will send the price soaring. Early shipments may bring as high as $1,000 a car, although the season's average will be less.

Railroads have already begun preparing to handle the crop. All F. G. E. cars received by the Central of Georgia are being parked in the Fort Valley and Marshallville yards. This road has requisitioned 1,200 cars from the Fruit Growers' Express.

Mr. Marks expects the first carload of Greensboro peaches, the earliest variety, between June 3 and 5. Carmen peaches will begin to move between June 15 and 18; Hihley Bills June 23; Georgia Bills, June 30; and Elberta crops will be exceedingly short. Only the Hihley Bills and Georgia Bills will be gathered in great amounts.

Heavy rains, preventing pollenization, caused the crop shortage, according to Mr. Marks. Central of Georgia officials attribute the falling off to early frosts.

Says New York Is Tending to Paganism

NEW YORK, May 23.—"The idea of liberty in this country is a farce," says Sir Robert Perks, Bart., who has been visiting America.

"New York is leaning, and leaning hard, towards paganism. Unless your people return to the elementary forms of Christianity there will be an age of decadence in your country followed by a revolt which will overthrow the whole social system.

But Polly Needn't Worry Any More

CHICAGO, May 23.—Polly, the $300 parrot, for ten years a lively inmate of the home of the Rev. J. W. Libbertson, pastor of the Sacramento Boulevard church, flew out of a window and with a shriek, "I should worry!" entered the home of Mrs. C. F. Hall, some distance off.

A large brindle cat was in the room when Polly landed. The parrot's yells could be heard above the yowls of the cat. Mrs. Hall ran for the police and met Mrs. Libbertson.

"There's a ghost in my house," she said. "It cries like a child, but it flies around like a spirit and hollers, 'I should worry!'"

Mrs. Libbertson burst in the door. The large brindle cat occupied the immediate foreground. There was an expression of deep satisfaction on the cat's countenance and a few feathers and a beak on the carpet.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting

If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless, you only lose money. When you use a questionable depilatory, however, it is a very serious matter because you not only lose money, but you take the grave risk of permanent disfigurement.

If You Value Your Face

use De Miracle, the one safe, perfected hair remover of proven merit. Remember, the injury caused by the use of doubtful hair removers will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars because it will take months or possibly years to gain control of hair growths which have been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

De Miracle

Only Real Hair Remover on Earth

De Miracle contains certain ingredients which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. Therefore, you must eventually use it to retard and gain control of growths which have been caused by the unwise use of questionable depilatories. Is it not safer and wiser to begin using De Miracle now, before the growth gets beyond control?

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours. If your dealer will not supply you with De Miracle, send $1.00 direct.

New truths in next advt.

De Miracle Chemical Co., New York

Sold and Recommended by
Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

85c to $1 Foulards at 55c in the May Silk Sale

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

More Fruits of the Buyer's New York Trip
A Most Remarkable Sale of Summer Dresses

$5.95 to $8.50 Summer Dresses $3.85

We buy a great many dresses from certain makers at regular prices. Then at the end of their season they favor us with their surplus stocks greatly under price. That is how these dresses—though worth $5.95 to $8.50—come to us to sell at a profit at $3.85.

New as the morning—shown to-morrow for the first time. Made of soft white voiles and lingeries, prettily developed in embroideries and laces. Cool, inviting styles for summer wear. One hundred and eighty-seven (187) in the lot, and choice is only $3.85.

$10 & $12.50 Linen & Lingerie Dresses

The linen dresses are in the "Composed" models; one-piece dresses with white linen skirts and colored linene semi-coats. Variously white skirts with blue, rose, brown, lavender and tan coats. $5.85

The other dresses are of voile or lingerie, some comparatively simple; others made of elaborate embroidery flouncings or trimmed with laces, crushed silk girdles, crystal buttons, etc. Worth $10 and $12.50, for $5.85.

$2.50 to $3.50 Silk Shirts $1.95

All white shirts of Jap silk with turn-over collar and French attached cuffs. Also in habutai wash silks with black or colored stripes. All coat styles.

$2.50 to $3 White Nurse Waists $1.95

White lingerie waists, nursing styles. High or low neck; long or short sleeves.

$2.50 Lingerie Waists at $1.25

Also $2.50 white voile waists, low neck, lay-down flat collar of embroidered Bulgarian work. Bulgarian embroidered side pocket.

Beautiful New Waists at $1 to $2.50

Buyer just back from New York with the late styles. Lingerie waists at $1. Variously in voiles, marquisettes and lingeries. High or low necks, Gaby and flat collars, long or short sleeves.

White Outing Skirts at $1 to $2.49

The skirt at $2.49 is a particularly good value. Made of white striped Bedford cord, smartly tailored; buttons on side. Small tucks in back and strapped to simulate a belt. Other white skirts variously tailored.

Pique $1 to $1.50. Linen $2. Ratine $2.98.

Outclearing in the Center Aisle
Sale Continues Saturday

Great Wash Goods Sale

25c zephyr Ginghams,
25c colored Dimities,
19c Flaxons, Batistes, etc.
25c to 50c Wash Remnants, 10c

Shirtings at Half Price

50c David & John Anderson's Zephyr and Shirting Madras, 25c.
50c to 65c Tootal's Madras, 25c.
65c Austrian Shirtings, 25c.

(Main Floor, Left)

Clearaway of Neckwear

Usually 75c to $1.25 at

In selling this neckwear at 69c we are not unfair to those who have paid 75c to $1.25 for it. For they had first pick of all the lines, and got full value in every instance. Now that lines are broken we must be good storekeepers and hurry them out even at the little price of 69c. 69c

Every bit of neckwear is as clean and fresh as the day it first arrived. Main Floor,

This $7 Corset $3.50

Fashion is a matter of taste. Some women like a corset just this bust height—some women don't. The factory sides with the women who don't; they intend to discontinue the model. And that alone accounts for the halved price.

Corset is just as pictured. Made of fine imported broche in pink and blue. All sizes to 30 in the lot, but not in each color. Up to recently this corset has been one of our most popular models at $7; the price to-morrow is just half—$3.50.

New Corsets at $1 to $5

Complete lines of these popular makes—Thompson's, Warner's, C. B. a la Spirite, Iris and American Beauty.

(Corsets—2nd Floor)

A Sale of New Ribbons

The sale is as rare as it is timely. For pretty ribbons like these are scarce in the market at full price—and some of these are at less than half.

All new and crisp in delightful color combinations that rival the hues of the rainbow. Warp prints, Roman and Persian stripes, self-colored satin stripes, Bulgarian and Dresden patterns, Pico edges—the list is almost endless. Variously in taffetas, moires and grosgrains. Divided into two lots.

50c Ribbons 4 to 6 inch at 33c

6 to 10 in., 75c to $1.25 Ribbons 43c

(Ribbons—Main Floor, Right)

35c Gauze Lisle Stockings 25c

We had to go abroad to get them—and there's been a fair shaving of our own profit to bring them down to 25c. But we think it pays to have the best 25c stocking in town—especially when so many women will want a light weight gauze lisle for summer.

The stocking is full fashioned; the finish is finer than the domestic grades. Reinforced where needed at heels, sole and toes, and garter top. Black, white, tan and a wonderfully big 25c worth.

$1 and $1.25 Silk Stockings 73c

These are called "run of the mill grade," which means they have not been examined for defects. We've searched them over—some show a dropped thread or other slight hurt which will never affect their wear—others appear to be perfect. All silk or with lisle feet and top. Black only.

(Hosiery—Main Floor, Right)

20c to 35c Veiling 10c

Just about enough for a busy day's selling—hence the "close out" price. In fancy mesh, solid color, brown, navy, taupe, black and black-and-white combinations.

(Veiling—Mail Floor, Right)

Don't Miss the Outclearing
In Famous Center Aisle

White Canvas Pumps

$1.49 150 pairs white canvas pumps, with flat ribbon bow and light sole. Regular $2.50 values on special sale Saturday for $1.49. All sizes.

Also 150 pairs patent and tan, kid strap and lace oxfords. Broken sizes. All $3.50 values.

In the Basement Only

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

WHAT MY CREDIT MEANS TO YOU!

A simple, systematic, sensible way to buy clothes. Nothing cheap, nothing shoddy---no makeshift, but a clean, up-to-date, easy way to purchase---a plan that's all in your favor. Pay a small amount down and the balance in payments of "A Dollar a Week."

THE 1st CUT IN MEN'S SUITS

I am going to cut the price of my entire $25.00 Men's suit stock Saturday. This collection consists of Fancy Mixtures and Worsteds---Basket Weaves---Serges---Clays and Norfolks. You can buy them for . . . . . . $20.00

LADIES'

35c black, medium Heatherbloom Petticoats. These garments are really of exceptional value and are preferred by many to silk. They originally sold for $1.00 to $1.25. Saturday they go for 35c.

Ladies' wash white Shirtwaists, beautifully trimmed with handsome lace and embroidery, Saturday for 35c.

LADIES'

Wash dresses, exquisite little gowns, made up in muslin and linen, in all the late fancy colors and stripes. The dainty kind of dresses you need for the hot days. $1.35

Saturday I am reducing their original price of $2.00 and $3.00 to $1.35.

This space doesn't allow me to tell you of a dozen other bargains for Saturday. Come in and see!

DOLLAR A WEEK DAY
14 W. MITCHELL ST.

The W. A. Day store helps you. The same price for cash or credit. Ask any of my customers. They're satisfied.

PLAN EXHIBIT OF ATLANTA-MADE PRODUCTS

Chamber of Commerce Directors to Install Permanent Display to Boost Local Factories.

With "Boost Atlanta Made Goods" as the slogan, the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has decided to install in this city a permanent exhibit of Atlanta made goods.

A special train is to be chartered by the Chamber of Commerce to take Atlanta manufacturers and merchants to Chattanooga, Tenn., to inspect the exhibit of Chattanooga manufacturers, which has been operated for more than a year and has proved of great advantage in advertising goods manufactured in that city.

Plan to Lease Building.

It is proposed to lease a large building near the center of the city, fill it with goods made here, keep it open the year round and make it one of the show places of the town so visitors can see what Atlanta is doing. Business men will thereby be interested in the products of Atlanta factories and a great increase in trade is expected.

Atlanta has 548 factories, which produce over 1,000 different products, and it is doubtful if any city in the United States of its size could assemble such a comprehensive display of this nature.

The industries of Atlanta are yet in their infancy, but every article made here is finding a ready market throughout the country. This speaks well for the manufacturers with present-day competition so keen.

Success Almost Certain.

The success of exhibits in Chattanooga and other cities much smaller than Atlanta make it almost a certainty that the undertaking will prove not only a "four-time winner" here, but an everlasting asset.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting the participation of that body in the coming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Georgia Tech was considered and the matter referred to a special committee, of which M. R. Wilkinson was appointed chairman. A special committee was also appointed to take up the matter of organizing a junior order of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith Makes Hit Appears in Play for Suffrage 'Woman' Converts Many to Cause

Miss Mildred Bacon

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith

Daughter of Senator Smith One of the Charming Figures in Mrs. Hemmick's Drama.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith, is receiving many congratulations from her Washington friends for her ability as an actress. Miss Smith took a prominent part in the initial production of "Woman," a morality play written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, millionairess and a recent suffrage convert at the New National theater in the capital Wednesday night.

A number of other prominent society girls took part in the play, and it is claimed that many converts to the cause have been made among the young women by the production. Others who had parts were Misses Mildred Bacon, Mabel Talliaferro, Nellie Bly, Helen Buchanan, Desha Allen, Roberta Aimes, Jeanette Allen, Esther Denny and Mrs. David Fairfield.

The new play is an allegory, designed to depict the troubles and trials of the woman of to-day.

Needle Swallowed 30 Years Ago Found

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—A steel needle, swallowed by him more than 30 years ago, has just been removed from the body of J. E. Wood, a Central of Georgia Railroad engineer residing here.

Wood had almost forgotten about the needle, when this week he felt a stinging sensation in his left side, that led him to believe something was wrong. He had a physician make an examination and it was found that the needle had worked to the surface in his side. It was removed. Wood is 45 years of age.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

UNVEIL CANDLER SHAFT ON JUNE 3

Governor Brown and Governor-Elect Slaton Will Attend Ceremonies at Macon.

The unveiling of the monument to Allen D. Candler, Governor of Georgia from 1898 to 1904, purchased by the members of his official household, will take place at Gainesville June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. J. W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

A large party, including Governor Joseph M. Brown and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, will go from Atlanta to attend the event. The City Council of Gainesville and the local camp of Confederate Veterans and other organizations will take prominent parts.

The monument selected is a tall marble shaft. Only the State officials who served during Governor Candler's two terms contributed to the memorial. They are:

Adams, Samuel B.	Land, Max E.
Altmayer, Samuel	Larsen, W. W.
Black, E. R.	Lindsey, J. W.
Bailey, Mrs. J. W.	Longley, Frank P
Baldwin, H. W., Sr.	Lowry, Robert J.
Bacon, A. O.	Mitchell, M. G.
Burger, R. R.	Mitchell, R. G., Jr.
Bush, Isaac A.	McWhorter, Hamilton
Brown, J. Pope	Nottingham, W. D.
Bower, B. B., Jr.	Nicholson, D. B.
Brannen, J. F.	Odom, Benton.
Brown, George T	Obear, W. G.
Crisp, C. F.	Quincey, J. W.
Covington, W. A.	Post, W. G.
Corker, F. G.	Power, W. R.
Castellow, B. T.	Reid, H. M.
Callaway, E. H.	Reece, J. H.
Carswell, G. H.	Russell, A. H.
Dupree, E. F.	Shepherd, W. S.
Deal, A. M.	Smith, R. L. J.
Dyer, D. B.	Sheddon, R. F.
Dickson, Capers	Sheffield, R. H.
Dickerson, R. G.	Tallaferro, P. R.
DuPont, Augustus	Tipton, J. H.
Dillon, J. A.	Toombs, W. H.
Edwards, B. J.	Tribble, S. J.
Eve, William F.	VanBuren, J. R.
Foute, A. M.	Varnedoe, S. M.
Freeman, A. D.	Watkins, E. W.
Foster, F. C.	Webb, C. S.
Fogarty, D. G.	West, A. J.
Griffin, W. H.	West, H. F.
Green, R. E.	Willingham, Wright
Grantland, S.	Wright, Boykin
Howell, Clark.	Williams, John T.
Hughes, D. M.	Wilkes, Samuel W.
Holtzclaw, R. N.	Woodward, John C.
Hitch, C. M.	Yeomans, M. J.
Hill, J. T.	Nagle, Mary M.
Hansell, C. P.	Henderson, Lillian T.
Inman, F. M.	Lindsey, Annie F.
Johnson, F. Holmes
King, A. N.
Kent, W. B.

Bear Kills Girl, 18, Who Fled Her Home

TRUCKEE, CAL., May 23.—A bear killed and partly devoured Miss Vinnie Colt, aged 18, who recently ran away from her home here.

Searchers found the body in the Sierra Mountains, 20 miles from here, to-day.

Here's the Prize List in Great Story Contest

Prizes aggregating $250 are offered by The Atlanta Georgian for the best solution of the great serial novel, "The Triple Tie," now running in The Georgian, as follows:

First Prize	$100
Second Prize	50
Third Prize	25
Fourth Prize	15
12 other prizes, each,	5

"The Triple Tie" will be run in generous daily installments until June 29, when the final chapter will be published. Synopsis of the last installment is now in the hands of Mr. T. J. Peeples, cashier of the American National Bank.

It will be held by him in a sealed envelope until a committee of three Atlanta citizens not connected in any way with The Georgian may select the winners of the prizes.

$30,000 Paid for Old English Silver Plate

LONDON, May 23.—The sale of the collection of old English silver plate belonging to the late E. H. Baldon realized more than $30,000.

Crichton purchased a silver-gilt cream boat, made by Paul Lamerie, in 1744, for $682; a top of a George I'tazza, dated 1714, for $141; a plain bowl, dated 1715, for $175; a circular bowl dated 1663, for $287; and an Elizabethan tiger ware jug, dated 1575, for $1,000.

New Society Order: Get a "Dogstick!"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The latest thing in Washington is the dogstick. It is carried as a walking stick by society women. It is topped by a replica of their favorite dog or horse, done in ivory or silver.

The Misses Allen, daughters of General Allen, U. S. A., known as the best horsewomen among the society girls of the capital, are responsible for this fad.

What Ails You?

An invitation is extended by Doctor Pierce to every sick and ailing man or woman to consult the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., by letter. Write your symptoms fully and frankly, and every letter will be carefully considered, fully answered and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

makes for rich, pure blood and thus invigorates the system. For a torpid liver and its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, pasty coated tongue with bitter taste, loss of appetite with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good.

Ask me for "California Summer Outings"

A map-folder that tells about the outing joys of the California coast—deep-sea fishing, surf-bathing where the tent cities are, and yachting.

Lovely Yosemite typifies the High Sierras—a land of snowy peaks, giant sequoias and waterfalls.

Many consider the California summer a more enjoyable season than winter.

Low Fare Excursions

every day all summer will enable you to travel economically. On the way stop off and see the Colorado Rockies and the old city of Santa Fé. Visit, too, that world-wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Whether you take the California Limited, the Colorado Flyer or "go tourist," you have Fred Harvey meal service.

Jno. D. Carter, Sou. Pass. Agt., 14 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga. Phone, Main 342.

ALDERMAN'S WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY

Mrs. James B. Everett, Asking $5,000 Alimony, Declares Husband's Office Pays Him Well.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Mrs. Clara E. Everett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alderman James B. Everett, and for $5,000 temporary alimony. The petitioner states that she was forced to leave her husband July 1, 1912, because of his attitude toward her. She charges she is without means of support and has been compelled to depend on relatives for a livelihood since the separation.

Mrs. Everett declares her husband persuaded her to mortgage her home at 659 North Boulevard, which had been given to her by her mother, and that her husband appropriated this money to his own use. The petition states that Everett holds a position as Alderman, "from which he derives a large sum each year." In addition, he is connected with the Theatrical Club at a salary of $150 a month, while he also owns a large amount of stock in the club, which pays him good dividends, the wife states.

Judge John T. Pendleton has set May 31 for the hearing of the suit for temporary alimony. Attorneys Maddox & Sims represent Mrs. Everett.

Robert Edeson Hurt In Fall on Stage

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—Robert Edeson, the actor, is under treatment at a local hospital as the result of a fall upon the stage during a performance of "Fine Feathers."

The nature of his accident and its seriousness is being kept from his wife, who is seriously ill in a hospital at Southampton, N. Y.

POOR BEWHISKERED GOTHAM.

New York, May 23.—No more shaves on Sunday in New York. The boss barbers to-day agreed with the striking barbers to close the shops all day on Sundays.

MELONS HANG HIGH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 23.—Twenty-five dollars for fifty-four cantaloupes. That's the rate Chicago paid to-day for the first of the season.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Specials Saturday and Monday

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

ONLY ONE TO A CUSTOMER 75c

We will offer special for Saturday and Monday white pique skirts at 75 cents. They are the same you pay $1.98 for elsewhere.

MEN'S SUITS

In all colors and fancy mixtures, all up-to-date and the latest styles in summer wear. Just the thing in blue serges. Saturday for $17.50

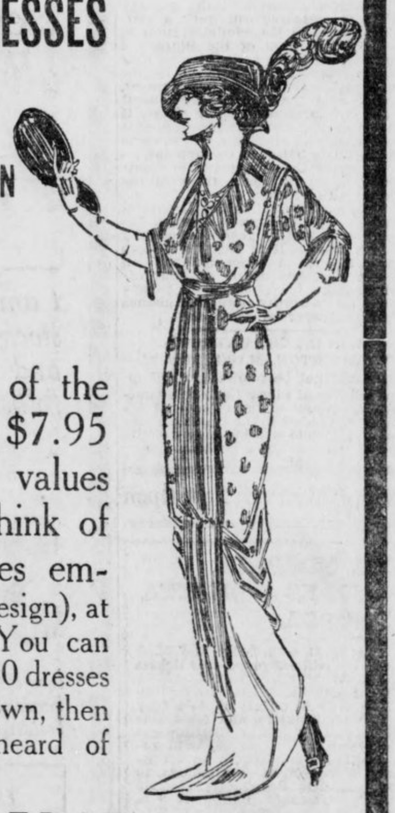
VOILE AND RATINE DRESSES

$7.95

$1.00 A WEEK

ONLY $2.00 DOWN ONE TO A CUSTOMER



Here is the opportunity of the season. These dresses at $7.95 are positively the greatest values we have ever offered. Think of it! Beautiful Voile dresses embroidered in pure silk (Persian design), at so low a price. Think of it! You can take your choice of more than 100 dresses at this price, and pay only $2 down, then $1 a week. Have you ever heard of such an offer before?

UNITED CREDIT CLOTHING COMPANY

28 WEST MITCHELL ST.

MERGER CERTAIN TO COME NEXT YEAR, SAYS STELZLE

Harder to Unite Presbyterian Churches Than to Bring Together North and South After War, He Declares.

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

"When I came here forty-nine years ago, it was in the spirit of war. When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," was the way General Robert N. Adams, of Minneapolis put it when addressing the Northern Presbyterian Assembly yesterday. General Adams has been preaching the message of the Prince of Peace for a good many years.

After the war he became a preacher, going to the rough regions of the Northwest country. For a long time he has been superintendent of home missions in the State of Minnesota, retiring a short time ago on account of impaired health. He marched into Atlanta with General Sherman and is the only surviving general of the famous group that followed Sherman "from Atlanta to the sea."

"Not only a united republic, but a united church," is the message that General Adams is now preaching. But it seems to be more difficult to unite the church than it does to get together the citizens of the Republic. Religious prejudice dies hard. This has been made apparent in some of the meetings of the assemblies. But it isn't altogether prejudice, either, that keeps men apart. It is often sincere devotion to truth, and it often happens that both opponents have right on their side. Men change their political faiths far more readily than they do their religious convictions.

Churches Working Together.

But it is still true that men with different religious beliefs are working together far more generally than do men with different political beliefs. It isn't often that the Democrats and the Republicans sit down to map out a campaign which is to bring neither of them profit nor glory. So you Atlantans who have been smiling at what sometimes seemed like a religious row don't forget that the politicians haven't come anywhere near the church in unity and co-operation.

The Southern Assembly yesterday demonstrated that fact just stated by deciding to remain within the Federal Council of Churches. And it wasn't a very easy thing to do, either, for there were many things that hurt when they voted favorably upon the resolution. So strongly did it affect one veteran who has been fighting "the battles of the Lord" that he impulsively surrendered his seat as a commissioner, but he showed his real greatness by coming back in the afternoon, repentant. This commissioner has real convictions. He's been suffering on account of them.

Prejudice Giving Way.

But it has been revealed in the meetings of these Assemblies that every denominational prejudice and all sectarian passion must give way before the spirit of which General Adams spoke—the spirit of the Prince of Peace. There's no other way.

Next year will undoubtedly see the bringing together into one denomination of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Assemblies. Then the Northern Assembly will unite with the Reformed Church of the United States. The plan is already set up. It simply requires a little more time, for such matters can not be rushed. Then, perhaps, some time in the near future all these bodies will get together.

In many respects the Protestant Churches of the United States are already in one group, working out some great problems. Yesterday the Northern Assembly listened to Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, Secretary of the Federal Council. He brought greetings from thirty denominations and 20,000,000 Protestants in this country. These groups are working harmoniously for the building up of a great Kingdom of God in America, and they're building fast. Then the Assembly listened to Dr. David G. Wylie, who represented the "Alliance of Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian System of Belief." In this long-named society there are 36,000,000 Protestants, in every part of the world, who believe in the Presbyterian doctrine. And 30,000,000 Presbyterians can wield some influence in the world. They're doing it, too, but this isn't a subject that one of them can freely talk about.

Sees Church Unity.

Other fraternal delegates spoke to the Assembly, each of them representing a very considerable group of Christian men and women working in some part of the globe in the spirit of the "Prince of Peace," and most of them expressed a longing for the time when "all should be one."

"When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," said General Adams. Without fear of serious contradiction, the commissioners who to-day close their sessions in Atlanta may say that when another General Assembly—of any of the three branches that have been here for ten days—meets in this city, it will represent not merely one of the three, but all of them.

List to the Noises That Annoy Chicago!

CHICAGO, May 23.—When a City Council committee began its investigation of unnecessary noise in Chicago, protests were entered against roosters, pet dogs, a cow, motorcycles, electric pianos and practicing voice lessons.

Alderman Nance, chairman of the committee, read to the committeemen a list of noises against which he had received complaints, which included chiming church bells at 6 a. m., shouting of peddlers, policemen's whistles, rumbling of elevated trains, and one man wrote that a cabaret performance near his home kept his family from sleeping.

Seats on Sale for Players' Club Show

Seat sale of "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be presented by the Atlanta Players' Club May 30, begins to-day.

This year's performance is expected to prove the most brilliant of any given by the club, which comprises talented amateurs from the ranks of Atlanta society. Leading roles will be taken by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Lamar Hill and Marsh Adair.

After the performance the annual dinner of the Atlanta Players' Club will be given on the lawn of the Piedmont Driving Club, followed by a dance.

Philanthropic Club Docks Girl Workers

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The Missouri Senate wage investigating committee to-day was surprised to learn from the testimony of Frank J. Sloan, manager of the City Club, a philanthropic organization of prominent St. Louisans, that the club took no interest in the welfare of its women employees.

Sloan also said that the women were paid $5 a week and two meals a day, and that when they were away from work on account of sickness they were docked.

Women Kidnaped by Moorish Outlaws

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ORAN, ALGERIA, May 23.—Word was received here to-day from the interior that Moorish bandits attacked a mail van enroute to Taourirt, abducting two European women passengers.

The driver of the van was killed and a passenger was seriously wounded. The bandits escaped into the mountains.

PRISON CRUELTIES SHARPLY DENIED

Shelby Smith Says Convicts Are Too Tired to Hear Preaching at Night Through Week.

Charges by George W. Crabtree, a Presbyterian prison evangelist, that Fulton County convicts are cruelly treated by guards under Captain Tom Donaldson, have brought a denial from Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton County Prison Commission.

The evangelist said he was prohibited from holding evangelistic services in the camp save on Sunday. Chairman Smith denies the cruelty charges, but admits the other, saying the welfare of the prisoners demands that no services be held on working days.

Further than to deny cruel treatment, Captain Donaldson declined to answer the charges made against him. Chairman Smith himself had little to say except about the evangelistic services.

"Among the 700 prisoners in this county are ten murderers and many other desperate characters, who obviously make many restrictions necessary," he said. "They work hard every day, and when they get through they need a bath and a good night's rest. To hold religious services at night, after a hard day's work, would be impractical for the prisoners, impractical for the guards and impractical for the other attendants. I favor holding religious services only on Sunday."

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Rain Spoils Jobbers' Day at Ball Park

Friday has been billed as Jobbers and Ladies' Day at Ponce DeLeon Park, but with the rain falling steadily, prospects are that the game will have to be postponed.

"Jobbers' Day" was arranged by Vice President Charles Nunnally of the Atlanta Baseball Association in honor of the jobbers of Georgia and Alabama, who are in session at the Piedmont Hotel.

The plan was to give the visitors an automobile trip around the city, winding up at the ball park. The rain god is holding sway, though, and the jobbers are planning to sit quietly about the hotel and rejoice with the farmers over the saving of the crop.

Court Is Baffled by Trust Co. Statistics

Judge Pendleton, lost in the wilderness of figures in the Guarantee Trust and Banking Company case, wants a Moses to lead him out, and Friday morning named C. J. Metz for the task.

Even a blackboard failed to make the figures submitted by auditors and the two sets of attorneys "gee," and Judge Pendleton named Mr. Metz to secure the information essential in deciding whether or not a receivership is necessary.

The task is expected to take two weeks, and the case has been adjourned for that length of time.

Negro Saved From Mob in Nebraska

LINCOLN, NEBR., May 23.—Walter Balew, negro, charged with attacking a white woman of Falls City, is in the State Penitentiary here for safekeeping.

Sheriff Aldrich said he purposed to keep Balew in the penitentiary because of the intense feeling against him at Falls City. Yesterday a mob tried to storm the jail at Hiawatha, Kans., to get Balew.

OCTOBER WEDDING MOVED UP TO MAY

Manager of Elite Theater and Fiancee "Couldn't Wait" for Day Set 4 Months Hence.

"We just couldn't wait, so we got married."

Pretty Madeline Arnold, that was, in her dove-cote apartment at 25 East Third Street, thus explained the whys and wherefores of her unexpected marriage Thursday afternoon to H. S. Hossbein, manager of the Elite Theater.

"I'm going to the show this afternoon," Miss Arnold informed her mother, Mrs. H. E. Arnold, Thursday as she left her home, 780 East North Avenue.

On the corner she met Mr. Hossbein, who had a marriage license tucked away in his inside pocket. They walked to the residence of the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. En route they were joined by two friends of the bridegroom.

No sign of storm appeared on the horizon of their new life until the bride and bridegroom entered the home of the former's parents.

Arm in arm, they stood before the former Miss Arnold's mother and chorused:

"We're married."

Silence reigned for two minutes while Mrs. Arnold was recovering from the shock. Then she kissed her daughter and welcomed the new acquisition to the family.

Mrs. Hossbein's father is connected with the Woodward Lumber Company.

CATTLE MALADY KILLS MAN.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—T. Dudley Riggs, well-known society man, died here after a long illness from pemphigus, a disease generally confined to cattle. It is thought he contracted

Harvard Grads at Reunion Stage Play

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Starting with a luncheon at the Hotel Jefferson at noon to-day, followed by a business meeting, the Seventeenth Annual Convention and Reunion of the Associated Harvard Clubs, composed of Harvard graduates from all over the United States, began its two days' session.

At 4 p. m. following the business session the delegates to the convention will be taken in autos to Sunset Inn, where a luncheon will be served on the veranda of the inn, To-night "The Perpetual Student," a musical play, will be staged by the members of the St. Louis Harvard Club.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Ladies' Maids Rebel; 'Hookists' Plan Union

CHICAGO, May 23.—Ladies' maids in Chicago are in open revolt, and efforts were being made to get enough of them in rebellion to form a union affiliated with the new Household Workers Union. Those who want to organize are "hookists," private hairdressers and private manicures.

The "hookists" declare that present styles, which compel them to hook a 250-pound woman into a tube gown designed for the lines of a 120-pound figure, are giving them the "lacers arm," akin to the "housemaids' knee."

Symptoms are a swelling of the arm muscles near the shoulder, followed by permanent lameness.

ATLANTA HORSE WINNER.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—Among the winners of the blue ribbons and cups in Thursday's events at the seventh annual exhibition of the Greenville Horse Show Association was Helmadot, owned by D. N. McCullough, Atlanta, Ga.

CROXONE SOON RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

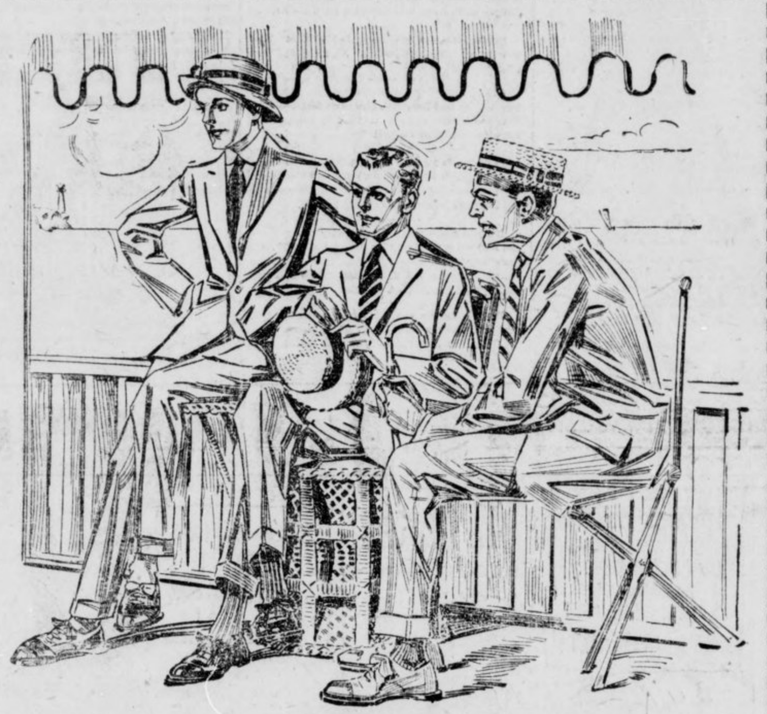
It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long-standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle. All druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

ASKIN & MARINE COMPANY



$15 $18 $20

Three Big Values In Men's Suits

—Attention, men! Here are three BIG suit values! An eastern manufacturer offered us these summer suits at a very low price, rather than run the risk of having them left on his hands. We took the entire lot, divided them among our stores, and NOW they are offered to you in three special lots—$15, $18 and $20.

—There are Norfolks, two-button styles and three-button styles. There are plain serges, fancy serges, and up-to-date weaves and patterns of all kinds. Every suit is fully guaranteed. We'll be glad to have you open a charge account.

Summer Styles For Women

—First, there are dainty ready-to-wear dresses in all of the new styles, at prices from $2.50 upward.

—Secondly, there is a splendid variety of lingerie and tailored waists in both high and low neck styles, at prices from $1 upward.

—Thirdly, there are many attractive hats in various styles, specially priced for this week.

—You can find everything you want, and our charge account plan will make the paying part easy.

Askin & Marine Co.

78 Whitehall Street

White City Park Now Open

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured; therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps. DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

Atlanta New York Paris

TO-MORROW

The Clearaway of Junior Suits

Junior Department---Third Floor

In making these new prices no thought has been taken of the excellent style points, of the real worth of the suits or of the fact that those who needs suits and who see these would gladly pay several dollars more than they are now marked. But this is a Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company clearaway, and prices have been made accordingly. She who will travel this summer, she who will stay at home—both will want just such suits and now is the opportunity for both to own them and to save.

$30.00, $35.00 & $37.50 Junior Suits..... $18.50

This includes all Junior Suits that were formerly priced between $30.00 and $37.50. A fine variety! Silk poplins, Bedford cords, serges, shepherd checks—plain tailored suits, charming Balkan suits with elegant touches of trimmings.

All $25.00 & $27.50 Junior Suits.... $12.50

Which means not one but that is at least half-price! There are shepherd checks, navy serges, striped weaves in black and white, and brown and white, just as chic and smart as ever $25.00 and $27.50 suits have been this spring. Bulgarian blouses and tailored suits.

Here Is the Way Children's and Misses' Millinery Is Priced

Girls' Hats that were $1.50 and $2.00 are 59c.

These are colored straws—in many shapes——trimmed with ribbons—bands and bows.

Girls' Hats that were $2.50 are 95c.

Rough and fancy straws in a happy variety of shapes and trimmings—ribbons and flowers.

$5.00, $6.00 and $7.50 Hats are $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

Fine choice here! Chip and milan and rough straws, charmingly bedecked with flowers and ribbons with a scattering few of tailored hats.

The finer $10.00 and $12.50 Hats are all $5.00.

All the better hats—the fanciful affairs that are trimmed by milliners who specialize in girls' hats—now $5.00. Choosing will be a delight—the shapes, the colors, the trimmings are so varied.

The New "Swim Easy" Bathing Suit Is Best for the Junior Miss

Because it is so very practical.

It is all a one-piece suit. The knickerbockers are attached to the skirt. It slips on over the head. There are but four buttons to the whole suit. Two at the waist—which is adjustable, may be made large or small, the fullness is taken up in a box plait down the front—two at the yoke.

And the "Swim Easy" is just as attractive as smart tailoring can make it. In black, red and navy, light weight mohair trimmed with braids and folds. Priced at $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, $3.00 to $4.50.

Sizes ten to eighteen years.

Girls' Bathing Suits at $1.00 and $1.50—these are the little bloomer suits without the skirts in navy mohair—prettily trimmed around the collar and sleeves.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

The Dingbat Family

The Old Man Got Off Light

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Herriman

Dauntless Durham

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

Best Sporting Page In Oklabraska

Three Corners Palladium

Score and Gossip of the Big Game

My Impressions

By Katrina.

It was just too lovely.

I wore my natty Waitress suit.

The enthusiasm was great. Several Three Corners girls were at the game, but the Bulgarian belt hasn't reached Three Corners yet. They were quite out of fashion.

My hero, Durham, defeated the cur Desmond.

I knew he would. I don't know what the

'e was, but oh, I'm so happy! 'ave only Durham. He is so hand

Durham Wins Great Game, 18-5.

By Sam Chain.

All the beauty and chivalry of Three Corners graced the ball park yesterday, when the Dauntless Durhams and the Desperate Desmonds clashed in the contest for supremacy.

The ball park was the Mecca for all lovers of sport, and with its customary enterprise the Palladium was represented by its expert.

New York's famous Polo Grounds never saw such an assemblage. Among those present were Mrs. Patsy Purty, daughter of our well-known dough merchant; Hank Hancock, who quit his barber shop for the day; our worthy Sheriff, Julius Hartfiggey the warden of the jail, who took the prisoner with him, lest he might break out while the warden was cheering Durham.

The game was replete with brilliancy. Durham made Hal Chase look slow, while Desmond batted 'em over the fence.

Long may the national sport flourish, says the Palladium.

Notes of the Big Game

Jake Jocky, the livery stable keeper, says he could pitch as good as Durham. Well, why didn't he, say we. Sweat Milligan, of the Folsom Oaks, batted him out of the box.

Katrina has made a lot of the local girls jealous. Who took her out buggy riding Sunda? Ah, there, Cliff Derrick!

Nothing to the way Dauntless Durham, the college boy hero, has the local boys. The girls won't look at any of them since Durham hit the town. The Pink Front store is using him to advertise their ties.

Many rumors are afloat that Desperate Desmond is an awful villain, and Three Corners is agog. Jim Thorpe, our brave constable, says he will put Desmond, silk hat or no silk hat, in the calaboose the first break he makes.

But such rumors exist about most every one.

Mr. Desmond came to our office yesterday and paid for 5 years' subscription to the Palladium. "The Palladium is the national paper, and its editorials are the best ever written," said Mr. Desmond. Thanks.

Durham smokes a pipe right out on the street. That ay go in the effete cities, but it's not the class in T- 's. It should be took up by our town council ...sed against it.

There will be a tango tea in aid of Days of '76 Hose Company at the firehouse to-night. Admission including lady 25 cents. Come one, come all.

Polly and Her Pals

"Get Your Goat" Gets Your Goat

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Cliff Sterrett

Us Boys

Skinny's Slip Was Quite Permissible

Registered United States Patent Office.

By Tom McNamara

The Five Frankforters

A Romance of Great Wealth as Played by Money Kings.

By KATHRYN KEY.

Copyright, 1913, by the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"Little Jacob" broke the spell. "May I speak, then? I think that such a marriage would break up our family—would utterly destroy us. We are strong because we stand to gether—one in blood, religion, ambition. What has a stranger to do with us? What does he know of our ways—or we of the ways of a Prince of the Taunus? What does he care for the faith of our fathers? What can he be to us, for all his high rank, but the stranger within our gates? What does he know of us and our deepest feelings—what does he know of our little Charlotte's heart? And I say it is folly—or madness, as my grandfather would have said!"

In implacable anger, but cool and quiet withal, Solomon said: "You are wrong, nephew. You speak as an ignorant boy. But my father had a wider outlook on life—"

Frau Gudula had been watching the faces of her sons as Jacob expressed his earnest feelings. There was a mist of deep sadness drawn over her features as she rose at the sound of Solomon's impassively determined voice: "I am not sure, my sons. Our youngest has spoken for HIM." And, attended by sacred memories, Frau Gudula left the room.

The air was very tense as Jacob spoke to his uncle: "Your father did not deal in daughters as a speculation."

The bankers had, indeed, always stood together, but an onlooker must have questioned whether the animosity that was growing between uncle and nephew in these throbbing moments would not prove a destructive force too great for the oneness of these five men to bear.

Solomon looked sternly at Jacob. "That is in both senses of the word—IM-pertinent."

"Well, I wish I had not spoken," answered Jacob—but his tone was bitter with growing misunderstanding. And later this feeling was to bear strange fruit.

"You have a right to your opinion—and to speak it. That is the rule of our family," said Amschel, the eldest.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl, with Neapolitan airiness. But the possibility of a break was stemmed by the necessity of standing together against a common foe—for just then Rose, in strange old mob-cap and uniform of calico print, came in to announce a guest who had surely never before seen servitor so garbed.

"The Prince of Klausthal"—and attired in snuff-colored, cape-topped greatcoat and high bronze hat of the latest Beau Nash style, His High and Mightiness entered the old fashioned home of Frau Gudula, the Jewess of Frankfort.

The bankers knew they were to be snubbed, yet the courtesy of the home and the claims of business demanded that they put as good a face upon the matter as possible. On Rose's announcement Amschel had exclaimed with naive joy: "The first of our royal relatives to call." But however royal the Prince's air, it was not marked by any sense of kinship!

"Er—how do you like Frankfort?" asked Amschel.

Frankfort indeed! "I am very much interested in this part of the city, which I have not before visited," said the royal relative.

"It is curious, isn't it?" spoke the Neapolitan brother with empathy.

"Very curious," said the Prince dryly.

"But we are used to it," said Amschel with eager unction. And then a long, awkward silence fell.

Bad Business.

At last, with suave elegance, the Prince broke the spell of silence: "Gentlemen—my cousin, the Duke Gustavus, has informed me that he will call on you to-day—and with what purpose he is coming."

Solomon broke in eagerly: "It will interest me to hear what your Highness said to him—your opinion of this marriage."

"As a matter of business," interposed Amschel.

The Prince answered with every drop of royal blood marshalling indignant forces back of his easy tone: "I confine myself, gentlemen, to such business as is my own—those affairs which you have, till now, so ably conducted for me. I am here to ask you to transfer my money to a banking firm in Paris, with whom in future I propose to deal."

"Is your Highness dissatisfied with our management of your affairs?" asked Amschel, the ubiquitous.

"Oh, no. But as by my cousin's marriage, I shall have the honor of being distantly connected with your family, I consider it inconvenient that you should continue the administration of my finances. I could not so burden my relatives—however distant."

Solomon summoned dignity to his aid. "I entirely agree with his Highness. I should much dislike to benefit—in business—by my connection with your family."

The duel was on. "I am glad we are in accord. Perhaps you will agree with me in this—since your family is now ennobled—that financial obligations are not the worst our aristocracy may incur? May I request you to convey my compliments to the ladies of your family—and permit me to wish you a good day."

But Solomon's lucky day in his father's house had not begun very propitiously. In fact, this day, for all its golden sunshine, did not seem to be a bearer of joy. The old Castle of Neustadt seemed to feel something in the air—and at the state breakfast a hard-faced little Princess Evelyn had presided behind the great gold coffee urn. "Gustavus," she had asked with all her heart in her eyes, "how soon will some one else pour your coffee for you?"

"No fairer face will ever peek roguishly at me from behind the old urn"— began Gustavus in a bantering tone, but suddenly the light that may shine for a man in but one true pair of eyes cast its soft radiance over Gustavus' soul—"Evelyn, Evelyn—little cousin"—he breathed so softly that even the attendant lackeys could not hear—"Evelyn—my God is it true—you could care perhaps?" And the name of his maker had here been uttered so reverently by the lips of Gustavus of Taunus.

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Frances Connally entertained at tea at the Driving Club Friday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, a guest of Miss Carolyn King, and Miss Edith Bowron, of Birmingham, who is visiting Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Tea was served in the pink room. The table around which the guests were seated had as a centerpiece a vase of Dorothy Perkins roses. The mints and ices were in pink and silver, candle sticks with pink shades added another touch of color.

Miss Connally's guests were Misses Edith Bowron, Elizabeth Boyd, Carolyn King, Elizabeth Morgan, Lula Dean Jones, Hildreth Burton-Smith, Nancy Prince, Courtenay Harrison, Nancy Hill Hopkins, Eloise Oliver, Harriet Orr, Charles Owens, Mary Robinson and Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Mrs. Selden Hostess at Tea.

Mrs. G. K. Selden gave an informal 5 o'clock tea Thursday afternoon for Miss Anne Selden, her house guest; Miss Isabel Clarke, of Augusta, a guest of Miss Eloise Stewart; Mrs. Mary Cooley, who will be married in June, and Miss Lillian Beattey, of Columbus, Ohio, a guest of Mrs. Henry Troutman. The attractive apartment was decorated in sweetpeas and carnations, sweetpeas being as a centerpiece on the tea table.

Mrs. Seldon received her guests wearing a lingerie gown of white crepe. Twenty guests enjoyed the informality of the afternoon.

Musical Recital.

At the Barili School of Music, Saturday afternoon, a recital will be given by Miss Edith Dunson and Miss Elizabeth Hancock. Following is the program:

Piano Solos, "To Spring," "The Butterfly," "Anitra's Dance," "In the Hall of the Mountain King," Grieg—Miss Hancock.

Aria, "Mignon," Ambroise Thomas—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solos, "The Mill," "Will-o'-the-Wisp," Jensen—Miss Hancock.

Songs, "I Know Now the Great Golden Sun," Ryder; "The Maiden and the Butterfly," D'Albert; "At Dawning," Cadman; "He Loves Me," Chadwick—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solo, "Sonata Pathetique," Beethoven—Miss Hancock.

Song, "The Loreley," Liszt—Miss Dunstn.

Dinner-Dance at Club.

There will be an informal dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday evening, for which several informal parties are being arranged.

Evening Party.

Miss Annie Winship Bates will entertain a number of boys and girls at an evening party Friday, May 30, at her mother's home on West Peachtree Street.

For Miss Hartzog.

Miss Irene Hartzog, a bride-elect, was tendered a bridge party Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Irby Bagwell. Guests were: Mrs. J. O. Watson, Mrs. C. N. Dennis, Mrs. W. M. Lewis, Mrs. John Burdine, Mrs. R. D. Ison, Mrs. Jeff Green, Mrs. A. J. Wilson and the Misses Edith Daniel, Arline Goree, Ruby Lawton and Irene Bearden.

Peanut Hunt at Mrs. Shewmake's.

Circle No. 7 of the First Methodist Church, of which Miss Laura Wyatt is chairman, will give a peanut hunt Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Claude Shewmake's residence. If the weather is inclement the hunt will be postponed.

Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. William A. Wimbish entertained informally at luncheon Thursday for Miss Lula Vergehas, of South Georgia. Guests were a few young people.

Music at Jewish Temple.

Friday evening the entire 8 o'clock service at the Jewish Temple will be devoted to music. The public will be welcome.

PROGRAM.

Organ prelude—Gade.
Service—Dunkley.
Solo, "Unto Thee Will I Sing," Huhn—Mr. John Mullin.
Anthem, "By Babylon's Wave," Gounod.
Organ solo, "At Evening," Buck.
Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., organist and director.

Dance at Segadlo's.

There will be a dance at Segadlo's Friday evening, given by a number of young men.

Bagmen of Bagdad Parade in Columbus

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—The Grand Council of the Georgia-Florida division of the United Commercial Travelers, in annual session here, will conclude its business session late this afternoon, after which the parade of the Bagmen of Bagdad will take place.

To-night at 7:30 o'clock the Bagmen of Bagdad will hold a business session, when they will elect officers for the year. The business session will be followed by a dance at the Racine Hotel.

Rev. B. F. Fraser to Preach to Veterans

"The Soldier's Spirit" will be the subject of a morning sermon by the Rev. B. F. Fraser at the St. Paul's Methodist Church Sunday.

The occasion will be in honor of Confederate veterans of Atlanta. A special musical program has been arranged.

The evening service will be in charge of the children of the church Sunday school. Songs and recitations will be innovations.

RAILWAY TO TRY WIRELESS.

PITTSBURG, May 23.—The Pennsylvania Railroad may soon establish a wireless telegraph station in Pittsburg, to connect this city with Philadelphia and other division points.

PERSONALS

Miss Emily Cassin, who is ill of diphtheria, is being missed frtm the social affairs of the week.

Miss Louise Watts entertained informally at bridge Friday afternoon for a number of visitors.

Miss Irene Nickerson, of Athens, left Friday afternoon after being the guest of Mrs. Hilliard Spalding for a week.

Mrs. A. W. Hill will entertain a few friends at tea at the Driving Club Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Walter Keenan, of Columbia, S. C., a guest of Miss Helen Taylor.

Mrs. D. B. Osborne gave a bridge party Friday afternoon in honor of two brides of the past winter, Mrs. George Varden and Mrs. Edward King.

Mr. and Mrs. George Addy, of Pittsburg, are guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wheeler. They are en route home after spending three months at their winter home at Deland, Fla.

The box party that Miss Ruth Northen was to have given Saturday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, guest of Miss Carolyn King, has been postponed because of the death of her kinsman, Mr. B. S. Walker, Jr.

Mrs. Fred Lee Bennett, of Rochester, N. Y., who was Miss Mary Elizabeth Holcomb, of Atlanta, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philo Holcomb. Mrs. Bennett will be in the South until after the marriage of her brother, Mr. Alfred Holcomb, to Miss Mary Rosser, June 5.

Mrs. Strachan Barrett, of Henderson, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. Virgil Perryman, and will remain with her through next week. Among the informal affairs tendered her was a bridge party by Mrs. William Rushton, and an informal tea Friday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Mr. R. W. Tidwell, Mr. Frank Tidwell and Miss Lilien Tidwell leave next week for their country home, "Poplar Grove," on Williams Mill Road, where they will spend the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. McCall, Howard McCall, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Obear, Jr., and children will join them and be away from the city until fall. Reuben Bruce Tidwell, of Denver, also will spend the summer with his grandfather, Mr. Tidwell.

Odd Fellows Give Third Degree to 20

A meeting of Odd Fellows will be held Friday evening when Fulton Lodge will confer the third degree on twenty or more candidates for Capital Lodge No. 60.

This will be the degree contested for at the coming session of the Grand Lodge of Georgia in Savannah next week. Fulton Lodge team is to be a contestant for the prize.

Bryan to Proclaim Direct Vote Senators

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Secretary Bryan is preparing to make formal announcement of the ratification of the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of United States Senators.

It will mark the closing chapter of a reform movement which started eighty-seven years ago.

MAYOR ASSERTS SCHOOL MUST COME FIRST

Insists Girls' High Take Precedence Over All Other Matters in June Budget.

Mayor Woodward declared Friday he would urge an appropriation for a new English-Commercial Girls' High School building to take precedence over other matters when the finance committee prepares the June budget. The Mayor said there could be no question that this building was the city's most important need, and he would insist on the money being provided for it if everything else had to be sacrificed.

The Board of Education Thursday adopted a resolution insisting that Council provide $75,000 for this building. Members of the finance committee promised the amount the first of the year.

Girls Now Poorly Housed.

Hundreds of girls seeking a commercial education are being housed in small rented dwelling houses, and members of the Board of Education assert that conditions are intolerable.

The finance committee will meet Friday to begin work on the new budget. With only $120,000 available, Council has recommended an expenditure of $30,000 on the Whitehall Street regrading. The board of trustees of the Grady Hospital wants an additional $25,000 for a nurse's dormitory. All the departments want additional appropriations. If the new high school building is provided for virtually all other special appropriations will have to be sacrificed.

Smith Sees Tax Dodging.

Chairman Charles W. Smith, of the tax committee, declared Thursday he believed there were nearly 1,200 pupils attending the public schools whose parents were not paying any taxes. He said the fact that many were not real estate owners was nothing against them, but that they were dodging their street and sanitary taxes.

A list of the pupils has been secured and is being checked with the tax books. Chairman Smith believes a notification of parents of school children that they were delinquent in their taxes would result in immediate payment.

BRYAN TO SPEAK AT AUBURN.

MOBILE, ALA., May 23.—Definite acceptance from Secretary of State Bryan to an invitation to deliver an address on Tuesday morning, June 3, at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute commencement at Auburn has been received here.

FORT MOULTRIE GUN EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR

Coast Artillery Captain and Three Privates Victims—Four Others Seriously Hurt.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—Captain Guy Hanna, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A., died shortly before 11 o'clock to-day at the Fort Moultrie Hospital, his being the fourth death from the explosion of a 4.7 inch gun at Battery Lord, Fort Moultrie, last night at 9:20 o'clock, when officers and men were at night target practice.

The other dead are Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton, and the seriously hurt are Privates Swaggerty and Steinspringer, Hospital Steward Lamar, and a corporal whose name was not learned. The corporal's right shoulder was torn off. Several others received minor injuries.

Two Killed Outright.

Privates Baxter and Christian were killed outright. Their bodies were cut in two. Private Dalton died three hours later in the post hospital. Captain-Hanna was struck by a fragment of the breech lock of the big gun, which tore a hole in his side. Captain Clarke and Lieutenant Perry, between whom he was standing, escaped without injury.

The injured were rushed to the post hospital, nearby, and physicians were called from Charleston to assist the army surgeons in caring for the victims.

Mrs. Radcliff Saved By Insanity Decision

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—Dr. L. N. Jones, Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum at Milledgeville, testifying here as an alienist, declared that Mrs. Jennie Mae Radcliff is insane and William Green is in his right mind.

Upon this testimony depended whether or not Mrs. Radcliff, charged with killing her husband, George M. Radcliff, a Columbus merchant, and Green, charged with killing O. D. Kitchens, a young insurance man, would go to trial.

Judge Price Gilbert committed Mrs. Radcliff to the asylum. If she recovers her mental faculties she will stand trial. Green will likely be put on trial Monday.

White City Park Now Open

Girl Faints When Telephone Bill Is $58

BETHLEHEM, PA., May 23.—Mary Smak, a pretty Hungarian domestic, not knowing what the rules or regulations of the telephone company were, decided to call her sweetheart on the telephone at Cleveland. She went into the booth in Gottlieb Huebner's candy store to-day and got connections with Cleveland.

Fifty-eight minutes she remained there. After she was through Huebner was told that the bill was $58. He informed the girl, who fainted. She earns only $2.50 a week.

Clerical Onions Are Barred by Church

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—The Lutheran Ministerium, the supreme body of that sect, decided at the sixty-sixth annual convention, that hereafter ministers of that denomination must not engage in outside work.

One minister has been ordained thirty-seven years and in that time has preached three sermons, but this was not as flagrant as one who raised onions, presumably for market, or another who was an undertaker on the side.

CN

Spring Cleaning Time Is Here

Don't be satisfied with the "top-cleaning" which pleases but doesn't protect.

Use CN and make your home pure-clean—sure-clean.

CN removes dirt and cuts grease better than ordinary cleansers. It is a powerful disinfectant and a safe deodorant.

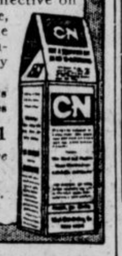
CN is equally effective on woodwork, marble, tiling, etc. Make this spring cleaning thorough by using CN.

All Grocers, Druggists and Department Stores

10c, 25c, 50c, $1

The yellow package with the gable-top.

West Disinfecting Co. Atlanta, Ga.



"PROGRESS" REFRIGERATORS

Are built entirely of steel; their construction renders them absolutely sanitary, durable and economical. They are germ proof, non-absorbent and easily cleaned. Every refrigerator essential is combined in the "Progress." Reasonably priced, at

$13.50 to $40

MARTIN & KNOTT FURNITURE CO.

135 Whitehall Street

U. C. V. REUNION
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

Southern Railway

Premier Carrier of the South

$3.00 Round Trip From Atlanta $3.00

Correspondingly low fares from other points.

Tickets on sale May 24-25-26-27-28, and for trains scheduled to arrive at Chattanooga before noon May 29.

Return limit June 5, with privilege of extension.

Stopovers at all Stations.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

May 26—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.	12:15 noon
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
May 27—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.

4 Regular Trains Daily 4

CITY TICKET OFFICE, NO. 1 PEACHTREE STREET.
J. L. MEEK, A. G. P. A. R. L. BAYLOR, D. P. A.
ATLANTA, GA.

READ GEORGIAN WANT ADS.

KEELY COMPANY

A Rummage Sale

On Second Floor

Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Waists

At $5 Each

A Special Saturday Sale

This department, preparatory to a fresh inflow of mid-summer merchandise, is clearing its shelves and tables of ONE OF A KIND STYLES--dresses soiled in displays and broken size assortments.

To effect an immediate disposal, they are ridiculously underpriced. They are to be sold for a final clearance, and are not EXCHANGEABLE or RETURNABLE.

In the collection you will find great pickings and unusual bargains.

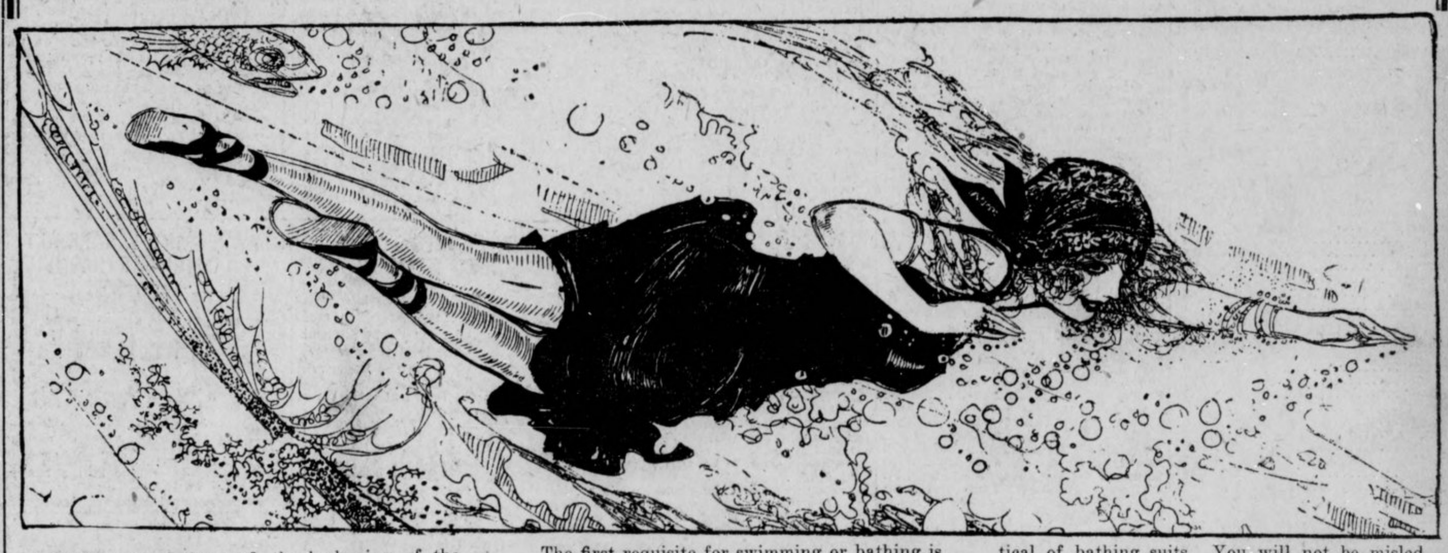
Cream Serge Suits	Hair-line Stripe Suits
Black Pongee Suits	Natural Pongee Suits
Colored Serge Suits	Taffeta Silk Suits
Taffeta Silk Dresses	One-piece Serge Dresses
Black Voile Skirts	French Serge Skirts
Chiffon Blouse Waists	Lace Trimmed Waists
Lingerie Waists	Allover Waists
Linen Coat Suits	One-piece Linen Dresses

Your Choice, Five Dollars

KEELY COMPANY

ENJOY LIFE—GO SWIMMING

By EVELYN WREN



THE song of the surf, the beckoning of the breakers, the lure of the lake invite us. The water fascinates, allures and enthralls. We act well and wisely to heed its call and—

Go swimming!

The intimate contact with the water, the overcoming of this element, the struggle and the conquest are inspiring. The laughter comes to your heart, the joy speaks from your eyes and intense happiness is yours.

The opportunities for this delight are at hand. Popular Piedmont Park is the scene of much of this wholesome gayety. East Lake is the mecca for those who appreciate the benefits of this recreation.

Did you ever bathe or swim when a gentle rain was falling? The raindrops tickle your nose, they confuse your sight, they tantalize and tease, adding to the joy of conquest. They help to make you feel the joy of living, the pleasure of happy combat with the water.

If you can't swim, learn. Wade out into the cool, refreshing water, just as far as you can keep your footing, and get acquainted. Laugh at the water, coax and love it, but never let it guess that you are a wee bit afraid. Let it learn that you intend to be victorious, splendidly victorious, as your acquaintance proceeds.

By and by the water will yield to your efforts. You will glide along as if it consciously aided and abetted your joy of conquest. The knowledge that you have overcome those first few fearful thoughts, that you are at home in the water and the pleasure in the bracing, physical contact inspires and cheers you.

The first requisite for swimming or bathing is a good suit. The suit must be cut properly, fit comfortably and be becoming. It detracts much from your first feeling of helplessness if the bathing suit is becoming. When you are expert you will judge of other details which add to your progress—flat trimmings, elimination of superfluous weight and ease of donning.

The J. M. High Company has bathing suits for the novice and the expert, for the maid and matron, for the youngster and his dad—for everyone who appreciates the value of the best of recreations.

The simple suits, well made and cut according to the new lines, are a delight to the beginner. They carry the flat trimming or pretty turn-over collars which will not dangle, damp and dripping, in your face. Every detail is carefully planned to aid, not impede, your progress.

When you first go swimming your costume will be rather elaborate. You will wish a pair of the bright, pretty bathing slippers and the whole line of accessories. You will choose your cap with a view to becomingness and be far less conscious of your lack of skill than if you looked and felt a dowd.

When you can really swim you will become an expert in choosing your bathing costume. You will know that the pretty sashes, the long ties and the large collars give a gorgeous effect on land, but prove real hindrances in the water. You will learn that your suit can be pretty, yet practical.

That swimming may be enjoyed to its fullest, J. M. High Company has selected the most practical of bathing suits. You will not be misled into the purchase of a suit that will prove impossible for swimming, though attractive on the beach. Every suit is practical. Moreover, they are all fashionable. They embrace all the timely touches with no loss of practicability. You can appear well, feel comfortable and swim with little effort.

These suits range in material from serviceable self-material, braid, striped material and stitch-mohair to shining silk. The trimmings are in ing. The prices begin at $2.50, for a pretty, practical suit, to $15.00 for a handsome, practical one. The caps, in all colors and a great variety of becoming styles, cost from 50c to $1.50. The slippers, picturesque with their long ankle lacings, are priced at 25c to $1.00.

There is no exercise so physically beneficial. There is no pleasure so intensely wholesome. Every muscle is brought into play. The chest broadens and grows strong. The mental attitude is positive and inspiring. To swim is to live at your fullest.

J. M. High Company is co-operating with us this year. They are ready with bathing suits, bathing accessories and bathing suggestions. Let's go see them and then—

Let's go swimming!

J.M.HIGH COMPANY.

EX-DIXIE STARS ARE SHINING IN MAJOR LEAGUE

EX-SOUTHERN Leaguers are making a noise like a slide trombone up in the select circles of the National League. Some of them are high up, some low down but they're all there with something.

For instance:

Slim Sallee, ex-Baron, is the champion rescuer of the league. Seven times he has been sent to the rescue of wavering hurlers—a high compliment to be paid a southpaw.

Rube Benton, ex-Lookout, holds the league record for wildness (with Toney of the Cubs), with an average of five and a quarter free passes per game.

Stengle, late of Montgomery, is the premier slugger, with 37 total bases to his credit.

These figures tell you what the graduates from the Southern League are doing, in comparison with the other guys in President Lynch's circuit:

Cincinnati.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Fromme	8	5	2
Packard	7	4	5
Johnson	11	5	4
Suggs	7	3	3
Smith	4	2	3
Harter	5	0	5
Benton	7	6	0
Brown	5	1	4
Betts	1	0	1
Released Men		6	5

Boston.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Perdue	6	3	0
James	7	0	1
Tyler	7	1	0
Hess	4	2	0
Dickson	1	0	1
Strand	1	0	1
Released Men		2	5

Brooklyn.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Ragon	9	4	2
Rucker	10	2	3
Allen	8	4	1
Curtis	6	1	3
Stack	6	1	3
Yingling	1	1	1

Chicago.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Lavender	9	6	5
Cheney	13	2	6
Smith	6	4	3
Richie	5	4	0
Toney	6	4	2
Humphries	6	1	5
Leifield	3	1	2
Pierce	4	2	1
Overall	2	1	0
Relbach	2	1	2

New York.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Tesreau	9	6	1
Crandall	7	1	3
Ames	6	2	1
Mathewson	7	0	1
Memaree	6	4	1
Marquard	4	2	1
Wiltse	6	1	5

Philadelphia.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Chalmers	5	1	2
Mayer	5	2	3
Moore	3	2	1
Seaton	10	3	3
Brennan	6	3	2
Nelson	2	1	2
Alexander	6	1	1
Rixey	3	2	1

Pittsburg.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Adams	9	4	1
Hendrix	12	3	3
Cooper	6	3	4
Robinson	10	3	5
Camnitz	9	3	3
O'Toole	8	6	4
Ferry	2	0	2
Conzelman	1	1	1

St. Louis.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Griner	7	1	0
Burk	3	2	1
Sallee	12	5	7
Perritt	9	7	5
Geyer	6	0	6
Harmon	7	5	3
Steele	6	4	0
Redding	1	1	1
Willis	1	3	4
Hunt	2	1	1
Konetchy	1	0	1

On a basis of games pitched to a decision, Mathewson has been the steadiest pitcher in the league this spring—three passes in seven battles. Benton and Toney have been the wildest. Seaton and Hendrix have been the strike-out stars.

Myers, of Boston, the man who beat "Mary" Calhoun out of a job, has the best base stealing record so far. Stengel, of Brooklyn, who came in only last fall, is the premier slugger. Record:

Baserunning.

Players.	G.	SB	Pct.
Myers, Boston	24	12	.500
Devore, New York	15	6	.400
Murray, New York	26	10	.385
Herzog, New York	29	11	.379
Lobert, Philadelphia	25	9	.360
Clymer, Chicago	24	8	.333
Doyle, New York	25	8	.320
Bescher, Cincinnati	22	7	.318
Marsans, Cincinnati	25	7	.280
Merkle, New York	29	8	.276
Leach, Chicago	15	4	.267
Miller, Chicago	19	5	.263
Stengel, Brooklyn	27	7	.259
Mitchell, Chicago	27	7	.259
Grant, Cincinnati	24	6	.250
Snodgrass, New York	24	6	.253
Burns, New York	28	7	.250

Long Hitting.

Players.	2B	3B	HR	Total Ex. B.
Stengel, Brooklyn	5	5	3	37
Konetchy, St. Louis	5	6	2	36
Miller, Pittsburg	6	6	1	34
Knabe, Phila.	12	1	1	31
Bates, Cincinnati	1	5	3	29
Merkle, New York	8	3	1	29
Tinker, Cincinati	8	4	0	28
Wheat, Brooklyn	7	2	2	28
Zimmerman, Chi.	6	4	1	28
[illegible], Phila.	4	0	5	28
[illegible], Brooklyn	4	4	1	24
[illegible], Brooklyn	4	2	2	24
[illegible], Chicago	2	4	1	20
[illegible], New York	8	0	1	20

White City Park Now Open

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

All Members of This Club :-: :-: :-: By George McManus

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

TRAVERS WINS 2 MATCHES; TRAVIS IS ELIMINATED

NEW YORK, May 23.—Successful playing on the part of the national champion, Jerome D. Travers, the elimination of Walter J. Travis from the third division of players and defeat of Fred Herreshoff, who won the Oakland tournament a week ago, were features in yesterday's rounds in the tournament for the metropolitan amateur golf championship of Fox Hills, Staten Island.

Travers won his match in the morning round of 18 holes from H. H. Kerr, of South Shore, Long Island, but did not exhibit his usual deftness at any stage of the game, while in the afternoon, most of the play being during a severe rainstorm, he was almost at the top of his game and defeated D. J. Graham, of Greenwich, Conn., by five up and four to play.

Herreshoff's defeat was accomplished by M. Michael, of Youngtakah, in the first round for the championship eligibles. Travis succumbed during the second round for the third division. The veteran was unable to do himself justice owing to his having wrenched his right knee two days ago, and was one down to J. D. Lord, of Brooklyn, of the home green. Oswald Kirby, the New Jersey State champion, is expected to win his match in the third round to-morrow morning, and probably will meet Travers in the semi-final later in the day.

Herreshoff is Beaten.

Travers won his match from H. K. Kerr, of South Shore, 3 up and 2 to play. The surprise of the morning round was the defeat of Fred Herreshoff, of Garden City, by M. M. Michael, of Yountakah, who won by 1 up. Oswald Kirby, of New Jersey, State champion, defeated the inter-scholastic champion, Max R. Marston, 3 up and 2 to play.

Other matches in first round resulted as follows:

H. F. Whitney, Nassau, beat W. S. Leeds, Fox Hills, 6 up and 5 to play. G. T. Baker, Garden City, beat F. H. Thomas, Morris County, 4 up and 3 to play; A. F. Kammer, Fox Hills, beat E. E. Sturges, Wykegyl, 4 up and 3 to play; J. R. Hyde, South Shore, defeated Max Behr, Baltusrel, 3 up and 2 to play; H. J. Topping, Greenwich, defeated E. M. Barnes, Englewood, 5 up and 3 to play.

E. M. Wild, Cranford, beat S. D. Bowers, Brooklawn, 3 up and 2 to play; W. W. Taylor, Ardsley, beat M. P. Lewis, Flushing, 6 up and 5 to play; McKim Hollins, Westbrook, beat J. M. Ward, Garden City, 4 up and 2 to play; Chisholm Beach, Fox Hills, beat B. H. Hidder, Oakland, 2 up and 1 to play; S. J. Gresham, Greenwich, beat T. V. Bermingham, Wykagyl, 6 up and 5 to play; R. T. Allen, Fox Hills, beat Roy O. Webb, Englewood, 2 up and 1 to play; L. P. Gayer, Siwanoy, beat J. H. Slater, Fox Hills, 3 up and 2 to play, and Gardner W. White, Oakland, beat H. V. Gaines, Wykagyl, 2 up.

Travis Downs Graham.

The result of the second match play round follows:

Wild beat Taylor, 6 up and 4 to play; Whitney beat Hollins by 1 up; Kammer beat Brokaw, 4 up and 3 to play; Hyde beat Topping, 3 up and 2 to play; Beach beat Michael, 2 up and 1 to play; Travers beat Graham, 5 up and 4 to play; Kirby beat Allen, 2 up and 1 to play, and Gwyer beat White, 3 up and 2 to play.

NAT HERRESHOFF WILL NOT BUILD DEFENDER

BRISTOL, R. I., May 23.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer and builder of the succesful defenders of the American cup for the past twenty years, to-day declined to enter a competition for the design of the 1914 defender.

SUMMER FARES.
Lake, Mountain and Seashore Resorts.

Daily on and after May 15 the Central of Georgia Railway will have on sale at its principal ticket offices round trip tickets at reduced fares to summer resorts in the North, South, East and West, and to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia via Savannah and steamships. For total fares, conditions, train service, etc.,

ASK NEAREST TICKET AGENT CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY, or write to W. H. Fogg, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga. Adv.

ORDINARY TEAM CAN WIN "RAG" IN NATIONAL

—SAYS FRANK CHANCE

By Allen Sangree.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Frank Chance, one time boss of the Cubs, now manager of the New York Highlanders, says this is the year an ordinary ball club can win the pennant in the National League. Mind you, it was the league of which he was formerly such a prominent part that the P. L. was discussing.

A team of ordinary hitters, with ordinary pitchers, with ordinary base running and with ordinary thinking should grab the pennant in the senior major league organization, according to the former Cub boss.

"I never saw such an upset in the dope," said Chance.

"What is the answer?" he was asked.

"There isn't any answer that I know of," was his reply. "Now, look at the Pirates. There was the team that looked to have a runaway race in the National. It looked like a walkover for Clarke and his men. They were playing the best baseball in the league at the close of the season. They had the pitchers, the hitters, the fielders. They seemed to have everything.

Can't See the Phillies.

"Clarke had a smarter ball club than McGraw. He seemed to have better pitchers. He seemed to have a better balanced team. The Pirates seemed to be the class of the league. Yet look where they are.

"The Giants haven't been playing the kind of baseball they played when they won pennants. McGraw has a team that should be beaten."

"But the Phillies?" it was suggested.

"I don't figure them to win. They will go along in great shape for a while. Suddenly some fellow will be injured. Then another will suffer an accident. Then another, and pretty soon a pitcher will blow. Before you have realized it the team will be down. It's the hard luck team of the league.

Thinks Cubs Have Chance.

"I believe those Phillies have scared more people and have done less real damage than any ball club in the National League."

"Who will win?" he was asked.

"I don't know. If the Cubs had a couple more pitchers and played consistent baseball they would win. If the Pirates played the game of which they are capable they would win. If any team in the league got consistent pitching that was even good, fairly good hitting and played just ordinary baseball every day that team would win.

"It isn't a knock on the old league. It's just the peculiar condition which prevails this year. It isn't that the teams aren't good, it's because they are erratic."

MATTY M'CUE AND ATTELL SIGN FOR 10-ROUND BOUT

KENOSHA, WIS., May 23.—Matty McCue and Abe Attell have signed for a ten-round bout here. The match hinges on McCue's winning from Patsy Brannigan in Milwaukee next Monday evening. The tentative date for the McCue-Attell mill is June 5.

R-A Wearing Red-Seal Shoes Made in Atlanta ? 93 Peachtree

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—During the past few days the Pirates have played much nearer their natural form than heretofore this season. After being beaten all over the circuit, the Pittsburg club came to New York and gave us a stiff battle when we were looking for something easy. They also gave the Dodgers a neat trimming.

Fans have been talking about the weak pitching of the Pirates. The twirlers may have been off before this, but they certainly braced up against us. Adams, Hendrix, Robinson and Cooper all looked good in New York, and the rest of the club played pretty fair ball except in a couple of games. The team seems to be getting bad catching, the steady work of Gibson behind the bat being sadly missed. His absence also hurts the pitchers. He is laid up and will be out of the game for some time. Poor throwing and bad judgment behind the bat put the team off its balance in a couple of the contests against us.

* * *

THE Pirates will be in the race, and don't make any mistake about that. The club is just as good as the one which came so strong at the finish last year, and I predict that once this team gets going behind the pitching it is bound to get, there will be very few clubs in the league which will stop it. Personally, I am tickled to death that Clarke's team has made such a late start, because it is going to do a whole lot of crowding at the finish. Practically there are only two changes in the team over last year, and these should strengthen it. Viox is playing second base, and, although it is his first season in the big league as a regular, he looked better than any of the several men who appeared at that place last year. He is the kind of a ball player that helps any team, aggressive and "crabbing" all the time. When he first joined the Pittsburg club he was known as the freshest busher ever to come up from the minors, and he still retains his fighting spirit. He also hits the ball hard, and is a difficult man to pitch to, refusing to offer at bad balls.

ASIDE from all his natural accomplishments, Wagner has taken a personal shine to Viox, and this in itself is a big help to any player who joins the Pittsburg team. The Dutchman will teach him a lot of baseball. It is customary for Wagner to take up with some young fellow each season and string along with him, and the lucky recruit always benefits by it. Last year it was "Tom" Hendrix, and before that it was "Jack" Miller, now playing first base.

But the real wonder of the Pirates is Hans Wagner, who looks just the same as he did when I broke into the league, except that his hair is a little grayer, because it wasn't gray at all then. He looks just the same on the ball field as far as his playing goes. He is a wonder for his age, thirty-nine, and is a grand example of what taking care of himself has done for him. He is hitting just as hard as he ever did this season, if not harder, and the chances are all in favor of him batting over .300 once more, which he generally does with great consistency.

MENSOR, in center field, is a newcomer, but he looks like a good ball player. The chances are that "Artie" Hofman, the former Cub, will play in the outfield regularly as soon as he gets in shape. Just at present his heart is bad, and he is afraid of over-exerting himself. Pittsburg will come, and when they do they will come very fast, because they have a bunch of terrific hitters and plenty good pitchers to stop the opposing teams. It is going to be a hard little combination to beat.

The Giants have also braced on the past week, and McGraw is getting back closer each day to the lineup that won him two pennants. We came near losing a good ball player last week when Shafer threatened to go home, but he changed his mind. Many blamed Shafer for this, but he is only a boy, and got the idea he was needed home by his father. He should not be censured for his action.

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CHARLEY EBBETS TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST KLEM

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 23.—President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, was so incensed over Umpire Klem's action in continuing the game with Pittsburg yesterday in the heavy rain that he announced he would file chargee with the board of directors of the National League.

The rain fell in torrents from the second half of the third inning and the field was in frightful condition. The infielders could hardly keep their feet going after batted balls. The pitchers could not control the wet ball and only clever work by the pitchers prevented wild pitches.

SHAMROCK IV WILL NOT BE A "FREAK CRAFT"

LONDON, May 22.—Charles E. Nicholson, the famous yacht designer, who will design the challenger Shamrock IV, which will try to lift the America's cup in 1914, declared today that the new yacht will not be a "freak craft."

SEWANEE AND VANDERBILT CLASH AT NASHVILLE

SEWANEE, TENN., May 23.—The Sewanee Tigers play their last series of baseball to-day and Saturday with Vanderbilt at Nashville. For the last few weeks the Tigers have been playing good ball, Captain Bordon shaking up the line-up after they returned from the long southern trip. McGoodwin, on first, is now playing fine ball on the initial sack, which was the weak spot of the team.

Captain Gordon will pitch the first game against the Commodores, and he ought to land the first victory, as he has been pitching winnig ball all season. Eggleston will be in the box in the second contest.

TETTER

Tetterine cures tetter. Read what Mrs. V. C. McQuiddy, Estill Springs, Tenn. says:

I had a severe case of tetter on both hands and I finally got helpless. A leading physician knew of no cure. I decided to give Tetterine a trial. To my utter surprise and satisfaction it worked a speedy cure.

Use Tetterine

It cures eczema, tetter, erysipelas, itching piles, ground itch and all skin maladies.

50c at druggists, or by mail.

SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

For the accommodation of the Veterans and their friends, the Western and Atlantic Railroad will operate trains Atlanta to Chattanooga on May 26, to leave Atlanta as follows:

8:00 A. M.
8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.
2:15 P. M.
3:00 P. M.
4:50 P. M.
8:50 P. M.

Round-trip tickets will be sold Atlanta to Chattanooga and return at rate of $3.00. Tickets will be on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga to June 25.

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

M'CARTY AND PELKY ARE READY FOR GO SATURDAY

CALGARY, ALBERTA, May 23.—Arthur Pelky and Luther McCarty eased up to-day in their training. McCarty spent most of the day on horseback and in jawing Calgary scribes for poking fun at his "cowboy" outfit. Pelky went for a long walk and then rested. Both men are on edge and look fit for a tough scrap.

BUD ANDERSOH OFFERED FIGHT WITH LEACH CROSS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The managers of the St. Nicholas Athletic Club have invited Bud Anderson, the sensational lightweight boxer of California, who recently knocked out K. O. Brown and oJe Mandot, to come east and box Leach Cross in July.

CUBS AFTER SCHAUER.

SUPERIOR, WIS., May 23.—George McGurn, scout for the Chicago Cubs, after watching a Northern League game here made an offer for Rube Schauer, Superior pitcher. The offer is being considered.

FLYNN AND COFFEY CLASH IN NEW YORK GO FRIDAY

NEW YORK, May 23.—"If James Coffey, the Dublin giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, box to form, as the fistic fans would say, then the patrons of the hit, block and step-away sport may depend on an interesting ten-round bout at the Garden Athletic Club to-night.

Both men are within the pale of the first class brigade of heavyweight boxers. Coffey is the climber and Flynn one of those fighters who may come back at any time, no matter how many defeats he may have experienced.

Both are aggresive boxers, and as they are hitters the bout may terminate suddenly and in a manner that the fans of this city enjoy—by a knockout. Both are in perfect physical condition for a hard battle. The winner will be matched with Gunboat Smith.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell goods. Try it!

Go To The Original $15 Tailors

—the only store in town where you can get

Real $25 Suits
Made to Order
$15

The old reliable "Scotch" Woolen Mills. Our imitators will do their best to confuse you. To protect yourself, remember this name and address.

Scotch WOOLEN MILLS
107 Peachtree

MAIL ORDERS—Write for Free Samples and self-measuring blanks.

Pullman Tires

Have set a new standard of "Tire Value." Pullman Tires are of standard material and construction---fully guaranteed. Made by one of the country's largest manufacturers, to meet the demand for a better and cheaper tire.

	Clincher or Dunlop.	Heavy Non-skid Type.	Red Tubes.
28x3	$ 9.15	$10.15	$2.15
30x3	9.80	10.65	2.30
30x3½	14.45	15.75	3.10
32x3½	15.40	16.65	3.30
34x3½	16.75	18.05	3.40
33x4	20.20	21.70	4.40
34x4	20.85	22.25	4.50
35x4	21.55	22.95	4.60
36x4	22.25	23.70	4.80
35x4½	27.30	29.00	5.70
36x4½	28.05	29.80	5.90
37x4½	28.85	30.65	6.05
37x5	35.40	37.60	7.10

All other sizes in proportion.

PULLMAN GUARANTEE

If in your opinion this Pullman Tire No. — fails to give its cost value in tire service return it direct to us and we will replace it, charging only for value of service obtained.

Pullman Rubber Co.

Examination Allowed on all C. O. D. Shipments

PULLMAN RUBBER COMPANY
349 Peachtree St.
ATLANTA, GA.

FLYNN-SAVAGE BOUT WILL BE HELD JUNE 13

THE Jim Flynn-Jim Savage ten-round bout will be staged at the Auditorium on June 13. The heavyweights were originally scheduled to exchange blows June 9, but the scrap has been moved back four days on account of the Buffalo Bill circus, which will be here the latter date.

The Fireman fights Jim Coffey at New York Friday night and will leave for Atlanta soon. The promoters of the Auditorium show have made arrangements to have both contestants on the battle ground ten days before the scrap, which should give the fans ample time to see the two heavyweights in their training work.

Savage has been boxing several of the big hopes in New York and is being touted as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. His bout with Flynn should prove a great chance for the clever boy. Many of the Eastern boxing followers, who have seen Savage in action lately, are boosting him as another Jim Corbett.

* * *

THE winner of the Auditorium show will probably meet Gunboat Smith or Luther McCarty. McCarey and Coffroth both have their eyes peeled on the June 9 show and it would not be surprising to see the coast promoters send for the winner.

Two other good ten-round battles will be held in connection with the heavyweight tilt. Mike Saul, well known around these parts as one of the toughest lightweights, will probably meet Eddie Hanlon in one of the battles, while Spider Britt and Meyer Pries may swing the padded gloves in the other set-to.

* * *

THESE three mills should certainly bring together some dandy milling. Fans who have seen Britt and Pries box against each other know what a sterling scrap they usually put up. Each has a grudge against the other and a bloody contest is usually the result.

The last time the two boys met, Britt was awarded a slight shade by the referee, although most of the fans present thought a draw was the correct verdict. After the scrap Mike Saul, the referee, said he would have called the mill an even thing had Pries not indulged in foul tactics.

* * *

SAUL and Hanlon need no introduction to local fandom. Mike was rated as a contender for the lightweight crown until he lost on a foul to Abel when out of shape. Mike says he is out to win back his lost laurels and many of the local fans are with Mike to the last. Hanlon has always claimed that Saul was one boy whom he could lick.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Rummy Should Worry :: By Tad

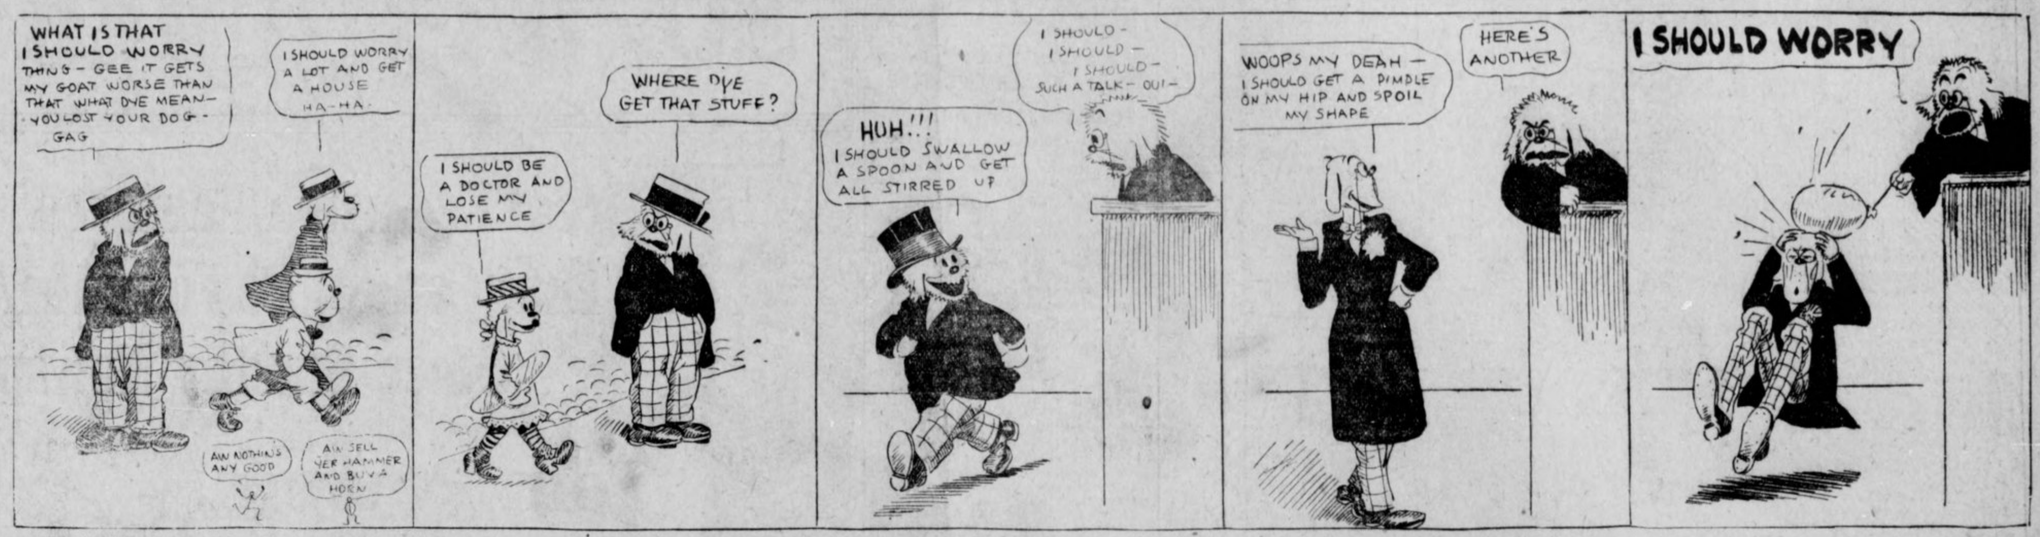
Copyright, 1913, International News Service.



BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

After winning nine games in a row, Walter Johnson, of the Senators, went against the Naps yesterday and was beaten, the Cleveland club pounding him for thirteen hits.

* * *

Umpire Klem increased his unpopularity in Brooklyn yesterday by permitting the game to go for five innings and then calling it on account of rain after the Pirates had scored the lone tally of the game.

* * *

The Dodgers have protested the game, claiming that the rain fell no harder in the sixth inning, when Klem ordered a cessation of play, than it had during the three innings previous.

* * *

The Red Sox outhit the White Sox yesterday, but the Chicagoans grabbed off a 2 to 1 victory.

* * *

The league-leading Athletics had an easy time defeating the Tigers yesterday, the veteran Plank shutting out the Detroit boys and permitting them but three hits.

* * *

That old Pirate machine seems to be in fine working order again and it seems quite safe to bet that they will be up among the leaders in another month.

* * *

Rain halted the Cardinals-Giants game in the second inning after the Cardinals had secured a one-run lead.

* * *

The Yankees went down to a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the hands of the Browns, Stone, a recruit pitcher, holding the New Yorkers to six scattered hits.

* * *

The National League race this season promises to be one of the best in many years. The weak "sisters" seem conspicuously absent. In other years, the Dodgers, Cardinals and Braves were the pie counters for the triple alliance. But a new order of events now exists.

* * *

The alliance, composed of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, has been dissolved. The trio that has roosted in and around first place for ten years has been ousted, and a new state of affairs has come to pass.

* * *

Whether the Phillies, Dodgers, Cardinals and even the lowly Braves can keep up the clip they have been traveling is a question. Perhaps they'll falter farther along, but even if they do they have already dealt the mighty trio such a terrific wallop that there will be no runaway race for any one of the trio, as in years gone by.

* * *

A similar condition exists in the American League. No one team has a cinch. A trifle more than 400 points separates the leading Athletics from the Yankees. But the Yankees are due to move along in the percentage column. Chance has had a hard time getting his team started, but as soon as his pitchers round into shape they will furnish trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Browns are not the snap team of other years. The Tigers are beginning to add to their win column. The Red Sox, although far down in the standing to-day, have the power, and when once the machine gets well oiled it will furnish considerable trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Athletics have been traveling at a fine rate, despite the illness of Jack Coombs, the star flinger. The Naps and White Sox seem to have the "punch" this year and the Senators are showing that their speed of last year has become a permanent possession.

* * *

Careful examination of Carl Cashion's injured arm demonstrates that a ligament is badly torn and the big lad may be out for the entire season.

* * *

Joe Birmingham has done something with the Naps that no manager ever did before—he has got them figuring on world's series receipts. Let a club get doing that in earnest and they fight every step of the way.

Cracker Attack Most Deadly Ever
Local Club Is Stronger Than Gulls

By Percy H. Whiting.

THE Cracker team has the most deadly attack ever seen in the Southern League. Napoleon's pet troops or a band of war-pathing Comanches look tame beside them. Day after day they drive pitchers to cover. All teams look alike to them. All pitchers are the same.

They can slug the ball over the lot; they can beat out bunts if by chance they lay them down; they can wait out a wavering pitcher; they can run bases; they can use the hit-and-run; they shine at the run-and-hit. There isn't an offensive maneuver, barring the bunt, at which they do not shine.

* * *

WHY this team shouldn't wallop the stuffing out of Mike Finn's club in three out of every four battles, provided the Cracker pitchers made even a half-decent show, we can't see. Nor can anybody who witnessed yesterday's game.

Mike Finn has a pretty well-balanced club. Paulet, Stock, Starr and O'Dell are good men. Of course, alongside of Agler, Alperman, Bisland and Smith they don't look so much—but that's a fair average infield. Clark, Jacobson and Robertson are good outfielders, but in offensive and defensive strength they do not average up to the Crackers. In catching strength the teams are about a stand-off. If the Gulls hope to beat Atlanta out of the pennant they better have pitchers who are about eleven times as strong as the Crackers' slabmen.

* * *

IN Thursday's game the Cracker pitcher had all the advantage. Two veterans were out—Brady and Campbell. Of course it is not insinuated that Brady classes with Campbell in antiquity, but then he's no fledgling. And Brady plastered it all over Campbell.

"The King" held the dangerous Campbell hitless, didn't give the savage Robertson one he could push out of the infield, and had the rest of the collection swinging themselves sick at his offerings.

In the meantime the Crackers were eating Campbell alive, and finally ended by piling up nine hits for eleven bases in six innings. With the Crackers ahead, 7 to 2, the game was called on account of darkness, with the rain falling hard and everybody ready to call it off and go home.

* * *

BEFORE the Mobile season is over some cast-off is going to figure. They always do. Mobile has O'Dell and Sentell, former Crackers. Atlanta has Long and Dunn, former Gulls. So something has to happen.

In yesterday's game the ex-Gulls now with the Crackers had all the better of the argument. Sentell didn't play, and Al O'Dell made a couple of errors. Long made three hits out of four times up, while Dunn kicked over a single and threw faultlessly to second.

Bill Smith offered a direct challenge to the Gulls by using Joe Dunn. Before the season opened Mike said, in all kindness but with great firmness, that Joe Dunn's arm was gone. Probably he really thought it. But Dunn's work this year hasn't proved Mike's prediction. And to-day Smith stuck in Dunn, just to show up Mike. Only one Gull tried to steal, and he was pegged out easily.

* * *

MIKE FINN is playing himself up as the victim of misguided confidence. Understand, Mike doesn't mean that he's been the goat of a confidence game—you see it's like this:

After the Gulls began to gather this spring, a fake "signed statement," alleged to have been written by Mike, appeared in various papers around the circuit and was played up strong in Mobile. Then the season opened and Mike's "statement" went over strong. The result was that the Gull fans lost interest.

"It's got so bad now," said Mike, "that they don't come out at all to see us play. Once in a while a few will turn out, sort of to celebrate our having won a pennant. The rest of them have dismissed the season as a closed incident, have credited themselves with a pennant won and have turned to other things. It's a fine fix, with the season just started and our team losing a game or two a day."

* * *

THE suspicion prevails that the Gull fans will have only to consult the standing of the clubs to wake themselves up by the time the team returns home. The Gulls have lost the last three games straight, and the last six out of seven. They are going about as poorly now as a team can go. It will not take them long to kick away their lead at this rate.

Before returning home the Gulls have to play two more games with the Crackers, three in Chattanooga, four in Nashville and four in Memphis. Any of the Tennessee clubs might furnish trouble for the Gulls, now that they have flickered. And a 4½-game lead can be shot to bits in five games, if they turn out right.

Anyhow, the Crackers will try to do what they can for the noble cause.

BOXING
News of the Ring Game

New York will have another chance to see Jim Flynn in action Friday night. The Pueblo fireman will don the gloves with Jim Coffey in a scheduled 10-round bout. "Soldier" Kearns and George Rodel will clash in the semi-windup.

* * *

This will be Flynn's last battle before he meets Jim Savage at the Auditorium here next month. If Flynn succeeds in defeating Savage he will probably take a trip to the coast in an effort to get on with Gunboat Smith or Jess Willard.

* * *

Luther McCarty is another heavyweight who is to get into action. Luther takes on Arthur Pelky in a 12-round set-to at Calgary, Alberta, Saturday night. McCarty must win if he intends to get away with some more of the easy money he has been gathering. Pelky is Tommy Burns' protege.

* * *

Young Shrugrue, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, three Eastern lightweights, are after the first tilt with Willie Ritchie, who says he will defend his title on July 4. It looks very much as if Joe Rivers will beat them all to the match.

* * *

Danny Morgan, manager of Jack Britton, has offered to bet $2,500 that Britton can outpoint Luther McCarty in a 10-round scrap. Morgan refers to McCarty as a "cheese champion."

* * *

Abe Attell, who helped Bud Anderson train for his bout with Joe Mandot on the coast, is begging Tom McCarey for another chance at Johnny Kilbane. Abe says he is as good as ever and is positive he can beat the featherweight champion in a return match. McCarey has the bout under consideration.

* * *

Coast fans are blaming Tom Jones for Jess Willard's defeat at the hands of Gunboat Smith the other night. They claim that Willard was receiving instruction from several sources in his corner.

* * *

This rather confused the Kansas cowboy, who stopped dead still several times to look toward Jones for some definite advice.

* * *

Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, is the latest luminary Eastern fistic circles are discussing. Robideau fought Johnny Lore in New York last week and handed the latter a neat lacing.

* * *

The Jack Britton-Eddie Murphy fight at Kenosha, Wis., Tuesday night drew but $900. A dreadful rainstorm kept the attendance down.

* * *

Nate Lewis and his fighter, Charlie White, arrived in Chicago Wednesday from New Orleans, where White stopped Thomas in two rounds. Lewis at once got in touch with Danny Morgan in an effort to close a Britton-White scrap for the Wisconsin city this month. Morgan is holding out for a big guarantee.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

Mobile at Atlanta at Ponce DeLeon.
Game called at 3:45 o'clock.
Memphis at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Chattanooga.
Montgomery at Nashville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mobile	27	15	.643	M'phis	18	19	.486
Atlanta	21	18	.538	Chatt.	18	19	.486
N'ville.	20	18	.526	B'ham	16	19	.457
Mon'gy	19	19	.500	N. Or.	12	24	.333

Thursday's Results.

Atlanta 7, Mobile 2.
Other games postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

No games scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	20	9	.690	St. L.	16	21	.432
C'land	22	12	.647	Boston	14	19	.424
W'gton	18	12	.600	Detroit	12	22	.353
Ch'cago	21	14	.600	N. York	9	23	.281

Thursday's Results.

Philadelphia 7, Detroit 3.
Cleveland 5, Washington 0.
St. Louis 7, New York 0.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Pittsburg at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	19	7	.731	Ch'go	17	16	.515
B'klyn	19	12	.613	P'burg	15	18	.455
N. York	15	14	.517	Boston	10	17	.370
St. L.	16	15	.516	C'nati	9	21	.300

Thursday's Results.

Pittsburg 1, Brooklyn 0.
Other games postponed, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Opelika at LaGrange.
Talladega at Anniston.
Gadsden at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Gadsd'n	11	4	.733	Ann'ton	7	8	.467
T'dega	11	7	.533	Opelika	7	9	.438
Newnan	8	7	.533	LaGr'ge	5	11	.313

Thursday's Results.

LaGrange 4, Opelika 3.
Other games postponed; rain.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Cordele at Thomasville.
Valdosta at Waycross.
Americus at Brunswick.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
V'dosta	11	8	.579	W'cross	10	9	.526
Cordele	11	8	.579	Am'cus	8	11	.421
Th'ville	10	9	.526	B'wick	7	12	.368

Thursday's Results.

Cordele 7, Thomasville 5.
Americus 7, Brunswick 4.
Valdosta 6, Waycross 1.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Macon at Albany.
Charleston at Columbus.
Savannah at Jacksonville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Sav'nah	24	6	.800	C'l'bus	14	15	.483
J'ville	15	15	.500	Ch'ston	13	16	.448
Macon	15	15	.500	Albany	8	22	.267

Thursday's Results.

Savannah 5, Jacksonville 1.
Macon 4, Albany 1.
Charleston-Columbus; rain.

OTHER RESULTS.

Texas League.

Dallas 5, San Antonio 2.
Beaumont 13, Fort Worth 6.
Houston 13, Austin 1.
Galveston 8, Waco 6.

Cotton States League.

All games postponed; rain.

Carolina Association.

Winston-Salem 6, Greensboro 2.
Asheville 11, Durham 5.
Raleigh 5, Charlotte 3.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Portsmouth 1.
Roanoke 1, Norfolk 1.
Richmond 12, Newport News 4.

Sporting Food
By GEORGE E. PHAIR

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN.

When Heine Zim starts going some
He makes a lot of fuss.
He puts the whole world on the bum
And does not care a cuss.
And yet he would not do the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

When Heine Zim is fancy free
He is a wild young gent.
He is a willing slave to the
Artistic temperament.
And yet he would not pull the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

Joe Thomas, the youth whom Charlie White walloped, is called the pride of New Orleans. This demonstrates how easy it is to be proud.

WHY SHOULD FATHER WORRY?

Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes six.
What matter if Murphy has lines on his brow
With the Cubs in a heluva fix?

Los Angeles and San Francisco are fighting over the Ritchie-Rivers match, demonstrating how easy it is to start a fight.

LINES TO CHARLEY FRANK.

You may change, you may censor your words if you will,
But the scent of alfalfa will cling to them still.

SPORTS AND SUCH
By RIGHT CROSS

THE STANDING of the clubs in the big leagues at this writing forms a fine chance for that much-talked-of "rushing attack" in baseball which is known as the "base-running game."

It is a theory of students of the great national pastime that a team of fast and skillful base stealers has a tremendous edge at the go-off in a battle with a team less gifted in this direction. Let us give a look:

The Boston Americans, the world's champions, are popularly known as the Speed Boys, a name which arose from the dazzling rapidity with which they are wont to flit from base to base. This seems to be an off season for flitting. The Red Sox are not only way down in the league race, but they are also way down in the base-stealing records for the season.

* * *

THERE ARE OTHER EXAMPLES that might be pointed out, but there is no use rubbing it in, and we don't owe Boston any consideration anyway. The Red Sox are enough to prove the point, which is namely, to wit, i. e.—that a losing club doesn't pull any "rushing attack" stuff. Base stealing is the diversion of winners. It is not so much a cause as an effect. Base stealers are the lancers of a baseball army. They are highly spectacular, but useful only when the battle is half won.

In the old days of the great game of war no general in his senses ever sent cavalry against an unshaken defense. Napoleon, through a mistaken conception of the situation, did it at Waterloo and lost. It is the same way with base stealing in baseball. When you have the other team on the run you can complete the rout by running wild on the bases, but we have never yet seen a team run wild to any extent when it is five runs behind.

It is true, of course, that an individual base runner, like Cobb, for instance, will occasionally steal second at a critical moment and thus lay the foundation of a winning run. But this is beside the main point—that base stealing as a system of offense in a ball game is nix.

ED ALPERMAN SECURES JOB WITH WAYCROSS CLUB

Ed Alperman, the Atlanta captain's younger brother, has secured a berth with Charlie Wahoo's Waycross Empire State League Club and will join that team in the next few days.

Ed arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and will be here with his brother for a few days before reporting to his new teammates.

Ed is an outfielder and it is understood that the local club will keep a string on him, which they will yank at the end of the present season.

DE PONTHIEU SHADES KIRKE.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 23.—Louis DePonthieu, champion of France, shaded Ollie Kirke, of St. Louis, in a ten-round boxing bout.

STOVALL MUST PAY FINE AND APOLOGIZE TO UMPIRE

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—George Stovall, suspended manager of the St. Louis Americans, was reinstated by President Johnson, of the American League, yesterday on condition that Stovall write a letter of apology to Umpire Charles Ferguson, on whom he spat while playing in a game here May 3.

In addition to apologizing to Umpire Ferguson, Stovall must pay a $100 fine.

If Stovall complies with the conditions, he will be allowed to play in the game against Detroit Saturday. The apology to Umpire Ferguson must be mailed to Johnson's office in Chicago and approved by Johnson before it is forwarded to Ferguson.

Stovall said he would comply with conditions of his reinstatement.

AMES, GROH AND DEVORE ARE TRADED FOR FROMME

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In an effort to bolster up his team Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati club, has just completed a deal with Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, whereby he receives Pitcher Ames, Infielder Groh and Outfielder Devore in exchange for Pitcher Fromme.

PIRATES GET BANKSTON FROM GORDON BALL TEAM

BARNESVILLE, GA., May 23.—President Dreyfuss, of Pittsburg, has made an offer to Everett Bankston, catcher of 1913 Gordon team. He will probably leave for Pittsburg.

White City Park Now Open

ATLANTA 3 MATS. MON. WED. SAT. 25c — All This Week The Deep Purple Miss Billy Long Co. Nights 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c. Next—ST. ELMO—Seats Now

FORSYTH DAILY MAT. 2:30 EVENING 8:30 — ADAM & EVE—GALLAGHER & FIELDS—JOSEPHINE DUNFEE—JOHN GEIGER—NEVIN & ERWOOD — BRADSHAW BROS. & DUNEDIN TROUPE — KEITH VAUDEVILLE HIGHEST QUALITY

BASEBALL TO-DAY MOBILE vs. ATLANTA Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

Make State and County tax returns now. Office corner Pryor and Hunter Streets. T. M. Armistead, Tax Receiver.

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

"THE VICTOR"

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM
Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. B. WOOLLEY & SON, No. 3-A Victor Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

NOTICE! Closing-Out-Ends $7, $8, $9 Trousers Made-to-Measure $3.50 FORDON THE TAILOR, Inc. 8-10 N. Pryor St. NEAR UNION DEPOT

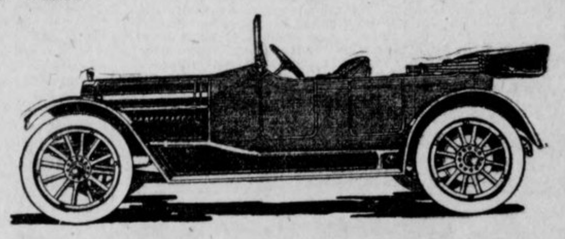
BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion. WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF? At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

MONEY LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES ON PROMISSORY NOTES Without Endorsement Without Collateral Security Without Real Estate Security NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO. 1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

John Ruskin A Cigar FOR ALL MEN Two Sizes AFTER DINNER, RECESS 5¢

Mitchell Mitchell

MANY of you are considering owning an automobile, but haven't yet decided just which one you want.



When you come to investigate the 1913 Mitchell car—made by a company that has built good vehicles since 1834—you will find so many strong reasons for owning a Mitchell that your doubts as to which car you want will be solved.

In the Mitchell you will find only the highest quality of workmanship and materials.

The first look will satisfy as to the lines and finish; simple elegance and comfort throughout; combined in a design assuring strength, power and durability.

Here are some of the 1913 Mitchell features—things you ceratinly should have in your car:

Long stroke T-head Motor.

Electric Self Starter and Electric Lighting System

Left Drive and Center Control. Firestone Demountable Rims. Rayfield Carburetor. Timken Front Axle Bearings. Silk Mohair Top with Dust Cover. Gasoline Tank Gauge. Thirty-six-inch Wheels. Bosch Ignition. French Belaise Springs. Jones Speedometer. Turkish Upholstered Cushions. Portable Electric Lamp.

Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company
Racine, Wisconsin

Factory Branch Mitchell Motor Co. of Atlanta, 316-318 Peachtree St.

The Mistakes of Jennie

By HAL COFFMAN

Being a Series of Chapters in the Life of a Southern Girl in the Big City

The Man Held Her Tight in His Arms.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Jennie got home that night she told her boarding house keeper she was going out the next day—being Sunday—with Tom. They were going into the country and have dinner at some little inn that Tom knew about. So the next morning she hurried out to where she was to meet THE MAN. He was waiting for her with a big touring car and a chauffeur to drive it. And Jennie, in her plain little white dress, couldn't help but look in wide-eyed wonder at such luxury and grandeur, and could hardly realize that she was going to ride in it all day long.

THE MAN helped her in, and was very careful to arrange the robes "just so," and explained to her it would never do for his little "pal" to get echilled.

Oo-! Golly! Thought Jennie, this is even better than the taxicab—and the cushions were so soft and "comfy."

And so they rolled on and on, until early afternoon, when they came to the quaintest looking little hotel that nestled in the trees by the side of the road. And THE MAN said they were going to have the daintiest luncheon that Jennie ever tasted. The landlord bowed and smiled, and seemed very happy to see THE MAN, and ushered them into a private room, where the table was all set as if waiting for them. And everything had an air of being prearranged. But Jennie was so happy she didn't notice it, or the side glances of understanding between the landlord and THE MAN—as if he had been there many times before.

THE MAN ordered cocktails, and it tasted so warm and nice to Jennie that she didn't say no, when THE MAN asked her to have another one before they ate their luncheon. After the second one, Jennie felt so happy she wanted to sing and laugh both at the same time, and didn't quite realize at first when THE MAN held her tight in his arms and was kissing her.

* * * * *

An hour or two after Jennie had left the house that morning Tom came over for her to go out with him to spend Sunday as they both had become accustomed to do. Jennie's boarding house friend was greatly surprised when she saw Tom—for Jennie had told her she was going out with Tom that day.

Tom told her there had been no definite arrangement made, but had just come over to call for Jennie the same as he had always done. And then Jennie's friend realized for the first time that the little girl had lied to her.

—HAL COFFMAN.

(To Be Continued.)

Up-to-Date Jokes

When Professor Rokitanski, of Vienna, was asked if he had any sons he answered, "Four."

"And what professions have they chosen?"

"Two howl and two heal," was the laconic reply.

A couple of his sons were public singers and the other two were doctors.

"Where have you been, Frank?"

"In Manchester."

"What were you doing there?"

"I ran a photograph gallery."

"Did you get anything to do?"

"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them left on the doorstep."

Just Dogs

"NOTHING is more like a man than a dog is," declared the candy store proprietor. "I'm just like a dog myself. I even know what a dog is thinking more than half the time when I am watching him.

"Yesterday I saw a dog a block and a half away, I knew at once that something was wrong with him. He had a seedy, uncomfortable look. He hung his head. As I passed him the dog hailed me after the fashion of fellows of the same guild and with the same spirit of comradeship.

"Suddenly—'Danny!' The word of reproof smote the air. Danny had known all the time that the woman who owned him was watching him, waiting for a chance to give him a rebuke. That's why he had the famous hangdog expression. He knew that it was impossible for him to keep free from scolding. I knew how he felt.

"Some dogs are very particular not to speak to you until you have spoken to them first. There is a scraggy dog that comes to our house from time to time, visits for a few days, and then departs, either to go home or to visit somewhere else. We may not see him again for a month or six weeks.

"Just the other day he appeared at our house. The kids were playing on the porch and didn't see him. He sauntered into the yard in a casual sort of way and lay down on the lawn, watching the children with a very alert expression.

"Finally one of them saw him and cried, 'Why, there's Babs!' That is our name for him, since we do not know his real name.

"At this greeting Babs tore up the porch steps and nearly wiggled himself into a frazzle in his delight. I am like that.

"A dog is very bitter in his hatred of flies, fleas, cats and firecrackers. He hates like sin to have to get out of the way of an automobile, and music and carpet dust nearly kill him. He is so like me in these things."

Act Quickly

Don't wait until you have some ailment caused by poor digestion, biliousness, or by inactive bowels which may lead to a serious sickness. Immediate relief is afforded by that best corrective and preventive

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Do You Know That—

The Canadian Parliament is one of the few Parliaments in the world where speeches in two languages are allowed. This, of course, is due to the large French and English elements in Canada. For instance, when the Canadian House of Commons is sitting in committee, should a French-Canadian start to address the House in French, you may see the English chairman retire from his seat and allow a French chairman to take his place. In the same manner the official English reporters cease work and a staff of French shorthand writers begin.

Owing to the frequency of weak excuses for leave of absence from work many employers have framed a special code of rules to govern days off. The following are the regulations of one firm: "1. One day off for funeral of any relative where death certificate is produced. 2. All marriages and honeymoons to be arranged during annual holidays or not at all. 3. The burying of more than three uncles or aunts a year not accepted as an excuse for absence. 4. For sickness where it is proved days off allowed."

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the royal standard on his motor cars. A flag on which are emblazoned the words, "God with us," will be painted on transparent glass, which will be electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car, so that it will be recognized a long way off.

Well Versed.

Lord Dufferin delivered an address before the Greek class of the McGill University, about which a reporter wrote:

"His Lordship spoke to the class in the purest ancient Greek, without mispronouncing a word or making the slightest grammatical solecism."

"Good heavens!" remarked Sir Hector Langevin to the late Sir John A. MacDonald, "how did the reporter know that?"

"I told him," was the Conservative statesman's answer.

"But you don't know Greek."

"True; but I know a little about politics."

Wished He Hadn't.

"You see," he exclaimed, as he showed her the wishbone of the Christmas turkey, "you take hold there and I take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you!" he exclaimed.

"You really wish for me?" she asked.

"Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile. "You can have me."

A Matter of Observation.

Lexton Sake entered the room and critically examined the surroundings. Then suddenly his eye lighted on the clew for which he sought.

"Aha!" he exclaimed. "It was from a hole somewhere in this room that the mouse emerged!"

His companion opened his eyes wide in wonderment; then——

"Your power of scent," he remarked, "is positively marvelous, Blexton."

"Power of scent be botnered," replied the great detective. "Can't you see the heel-marks of a woman's shoe on this chair—eh?"

She Forgot.

The order which the comely young German woman handed in at the Post-office Savings Bank was made payable to Gretchen H. Schmidt, and she had signed it simply Gretchen Schmidt. The man at the counter called her back to rectify the mistake just as she was turning away.

"See, you have forgotten the 'H.,'" he explained.

The young woman looked at her receipt and then blushed a rosy red.

"Ach! so I haf," she murmured, and wrote hurriedly:

"Age 23."

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly Company. The play "Within the Law" is copyrighted by Mr. Veiller and this novelization of it is published by his permission. The American Play Company is the sole proprietor of the exclusive rights of the representation and performance of "Within the Law" in all languages.

By MARVIN DANA from the Play by BAYARD VEILLER.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

At last Gilder was restored in a measure to his self-possession. He spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

Gilder looked at her with a newly dawning respect; then his shrewdness suggested a retort.

Mary Laughed.

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said.

Mary laughed. There was something dreadful in that burst of spurious amusement.

"Why not?" she answered. "I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed the true heart of him, in which love for his boy was before all else. He found himself wholly at a loss before the woman's unexpected reply.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will——"

At that moment the son himself entered hurriedly from the hallway. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman whom he loved. At his entrance Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming, even though she had known he must come—perhaps from some other emotion, deeper, hidden as yet even from himself.

The young man, with his wholesome face alight with tenderness, went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent, motionless, abashed by the event. And Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressing it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said, happily, "but I left him a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

The voice of the older man came with a sinister force and saturnine.

"No, Dick, I haven't had any note."

"Then, why——?" The young man broke off suddenly. He was become aware that here was something malignant, with a meaning beyond his present understanding, for he saw the inspector and Demarest, and he knew the two of them for what they were officially.

A Pawn in the Game.

"What are they doing here?" he demanded suspiciously, staring at the two.

"Oh, never mind them," Mary said. There was a malevolent gleam in her violet eyes. This was the recompense of which she had dreamed through soul-tearing ages. "Just tell your father your news, Dick."

The young man had no comprehension of the fact that he was only a pawn in the game. He spoke with simple pride.

"Dad, we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Always, Mary stared with her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder himself seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

Mary rejoiced to make the knowledge sure.

"I married your son this morning," she said, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him."

In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speeceh against this calamity that had befallen him.

It was Burke who offered a diversion, a crude interruption after his own fashion.

"It's a frame-up," he roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Why, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And, by G——, she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face, which had grown older by years with the passing of the seconds.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

There was no quiver in her voice as she answered. She drew her hand from his clasp and spoke evenly.

"It's the truth."

"It's the truth!" the young man repeated, incredulously.

The Son Interrupted.

"It is the truth," Mary said, firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years. It was the father who broke it, and now his voice was become tremulous.

"I wanted to save you, Dick. That's why I came."

The son interrupted him violently.

"There's a mistake—there must be."

It was Demarest who gave an official touch to the tragedy of the moment.

"There's no mistake," he said. There was authority in his statement.

"There is, I tell you!" Dick cried, horrified by this conspiracy of defamation. He turned his tortured face to his bride of a day.

"Mary," he said, huskily, "there is a mistake."

Something in her face appalled him. He was voiceless for a few terrible instants. Then he spoke again, more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary preserved her poise. Yes—she must not forget! This was the hour of her triumph. What mattered it that the honey of it was as ashes in her mouth? She spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, so trusted her, was overwhelmed by the revelation. He stood trembling for a moment, tottered, almost it seemed would have fallen, but presently steadied himself and sank supinely into a chair, where he sat in impotent suffering.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

PLATES Made and Delivered Same Day

$5

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4—Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-6 Phone M. 1708 Sundays 9-1

Wonders of the Wonderful

SUNDAY AMERICAN

Great Exclusive Features That Cannot Be Found in Any Other Sunday Newspaper

Tom Powers,

THE FAMOUS CARTOONIST, has some very funny pictures that will keep you laughing all week

A Jeff and Mutt

Cartoon that is full of humor

John Temple Graves

Writes on this striking question, "Shall a Wife Obey?"

The Newly Found Oldest Gospels, and What They Really Mean.

Should Women's Wages Be Fixed by Law.

A Short Story by Rudyard Kipling.

Woman Suffrage in Dixie.

Book Reviews, by Edwin Markham and Roswell Field.

A Remarkable Comic Section

Happy Hooligan Proposes to SUSANNE Again

Howson Lott Has Some Visitors

Mr. Batch Has a Narrow Escape

Jimmy --- He Is At It Again

Just Why a Pitcher Can Curve a Baseball.
Why Every Woman Married for Six Years Ought to Go to Work.
Coronium—A New Gas, Whose Power is So Great That a Balloon Filled With It the Size of a Baseball Would Raise an Elephant from the Ground.
A Game of Polo That Cost $12,000 a Minute.
Daring Train Robbers—Remarkable Stories Told by Sophie Lyons.
Why Blondes Must Be Abolished, by Edna Goodrich, the Beautiful Actress.
May Irwin's Recipes.
Ruth St. Denis Tells How Dancing Develops a Beautiful Figure.
Tango Tea Gowns, by Lucille, the World-Famous Dressmaker.

All These and Dozens of Other Great Features in The Sunday American

A Newspaper For the Home

With Something in It For Everybody

THE

Sunday American

Is "The Market Place of the South" for Advertisers

Order Your Copy Now

Both Phones MAIN 8000

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Daysey Mayme And Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton was a student in school, none was as quick as she in deciding how many rolls of paper it would require for a room seventeen feet square, with walls twelve feet high, allowing for two doors and seven windows. Given the dimensions of a cistern, she could remove her wad of chewing gum, stick it on the under side of her desk, go to the blackboard and figure how many cubic feet of water it would take to fill the cistern and get back to her desk before her gum was cold.

She ate up problems in compound interest, gloated over questions involving the displacement of battleships, and no other girl got as much chalk on her nose and clothes in figuring just when and where we will bump into Mars.

Every Bonaparte finally meets his Wellington, and Daysey Mayme at last met hers. She had charge of the kitchen, and was down on her knees in front of the refrigerator with the day's purchase of groceries beside her when her colors went down in defeat.

Mathematical Shapes.

The butter jar was square, the milk was in bottles, the cold potatoes filled an oval dish and the prunes were in a round bowl. With eyes that could tell at a glance the distance between Jupiter and Mars, she saw that the refrigerator shelves were eighteen inches deep and two feet long, and that there were three of them.

"Let x," she began, mechanically, "represent the lard, y the eggs and z the roast; then x plus y plus z will equal one-third of the top shelf, leaving two-thirds for a, the stewed prunes; b, the cream, and c, the tomatoes."

She found the displacement of the roast was such there was no room for x, y, and a, b and c, and in trying to crowd the milk bottles on the eggs she broke three, and yellow and white leaked down over the prunes on the shelf beneath. She used every trick in science to reduce the round cans, the oval dishes and the square boxes to a space small enough to make room for the cheese, upsetting a bowl of frosting into the buttermilk jar and the salad dressing over a rice pudding.

Sat on a Pie.

The present was hard enough to bear, and when her brain leaped forward to the season when the watermelon must also be figured with she sat recklessly back on a pie and began to cry.

"Oh, Lord," she prayed, beating her head against a dish of cold potatoes, "either make woman's brains large enough to solve her problems or make watermelons smaller."

"Oh," she added a moment later, when she had found she couldn't balance the cream bottles on the roast, "if you can't make them smaller, make them square."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

HIS LOVE IS SELFISH.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man seven years my senior. He always says he loves me and often speaks of marriage, although we do not consider ourselves engaged. He never goes with other girls and expects me not to meet other boys. Has he a right to expect this, and is it right for me to go with other young men?

MABEL.

Professions of love and the occasional mention of marriage do not constitute an engagement. There must be a definite proposal and an engagement ring.

Until there is an engagement neither has the right of monopoly of the other's time, and not then if both parties have a faith that is above jealousy. You are 17—too young by several years to be engaged.

ASK HER.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 20 and in love with a girl two years my junior, with whom I have been acquainted for several years. I have been calling on her and taking her out, with the permission of her parents. Whenever I approve of one of her friendly actions she claims she would do that same thing for anybody whom she liked. How can I learn whether she loves me or not? ANXIOUS.

There is only one way: Ask her. But don't ask her unless you are financially able to follow up your question with a proposal of marriage and an engagement ring.

DON'T DO IT.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Can I gain a man's respect by allowing him to kiss me goodnight after a little evening's outing?

I have reference to a very fine young man whom I have known but a short time. I am 19 years old. A. E.

I am sure no man's lasting regard is won that way. Save your kisses for the man you love.

"Just Say"

HORLICK'S

It Means Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A Quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S

Others are imitations.

THE TRIPLE TIE

A Story for Baseball Fans That Will Interest Every Lover of the National Game

$250 in Prizes for Best Solution of "The Triple Tie"

YOU read the first four installments of the great baseball mystery story of "The Triple Tie" and now you have a fair idea of the simplicity of the offer The Georgian makes—how you may win $100 by working out the solution of the mystery as nearly as its author, A. H. C. Mitchell, has done as you can.

Mr. Mitchell has written the last chapter, but his copy is sealed up in a vault at the American National Bank. When all but this final chapter has been printed, The Georgian readers will be asked to submit to three competent judges, none of them connected with this newspaper, their version of what the grand denouement should be.

To the person who most closely approximates Mr. Mitchell's final chapter $100 will be awarded. Other prizes, making the total prize list $250, also will be distributed.

Here is the list of the awards:

No. 1	$100
No. 2	$50
No. 3	$25
No. 4	$15
Nos. 5 to 16, each	5

Read this fifth installment of the great mystery story and you will not need to be urged to read the succeeding chapters. The story will grip you. As you read, try to follow the author's channel of thought and when the time comes for you to sit down and write that final chapter, be ready to win one of the big cash prizes in The Georgian's great offer.

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

Gordon looked at his watch. "I can only spare half an hour—say forty minutes, Judge," he laughed. "You see, I am taking some lessons and the hours are from 10 to 12 in the morning and 2 to 4 in the afternoon."

"I'm glad to learn that you are starting right in to improve yourself, Gordon. Lord knows there were many things that could not be had up in the mountains where you were forced to spend all your life."

"I have no complaint to make, Judge. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I formed an ambition up there that I want to see realized."

"What is it?"

"I'll tell you as soon as I feel sure I can win out," laughed Gordon.

To his wife Deery telephoned from his office that there would a guest for dinner. "I may do some business with him at some future date," he explained, "but that has nothing to do with it at present. He is a friend of Judge Barbee's. In fact, the Judge is a sort of guardian of his. He has lived all his life in the mountains, but you would never know it to talk with him. He has never been in a city before, but you would never suspect that either. Please pass the word along to Mildred and tell her she will be interested."

At five minutes of seven o'clock that evening Gordon Kelly entered the Deery residence and a moment later was escorted into the living room by Mr. Deery, who presented him to his wife.

"This is Mr. Gordon Kelly, dear; my wife, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, and after courtesies had been exchanged, he added: "Where is Mildred?"

At that moment his daughter crossed the threshold, and as she caught sight of Gordon she stood stock still. Recovering herself instantly, she advanced and held out her hand as the young man was presented to her. Before half a dozen words could be spoken, dinner was announced.

A Warning Glance.

"I don't intend to talk of the weather, Mr. Kelly, but I would like to ask if you were caught in the storm this morning?" said Mrs. Deery, as the napkins were unfolded.

Gordon intercepted a quick, warning glance from Mildred, who was seated opposite him, and answered:

"I certainly did, Mrs. Deery. I was caught out in the suburbs and caught most of the rain, too, but fortunately I found a friend right handy and was able to dry my clothes; otherwise I should have been in a predicament."

"You were fortunate after all," smiled Mrs. Deery, "but Mildred was out in the whole drenching rain and had a most exciting adventure. You haven't heard a word about it, Galen. Mildred, tell Mr. Kelly and your father all about it."

"You tell them, please, mother," pleaded Mildred, with a slight flush.

Thereupon Mrs. Deery related the incidents of the morning, exaggerating only so much as it is a woman's right to exaggerate. She omitted, however, the mean part played by Forrest Cain. Neither did she mention the hand-holding episode, for in truth her daughter had not told her of it.

"That was very kind of you to turn back, Miss Deery," said Gordon, with a smile. "As near as I can make out the young man was at fault in not looking out for himself."

"Now I think you are fishing for compliments for that young man, Mr. Kelly," returned Mildred. "You men always stand up for each other that way."

It was evident to Gordon that Mildred desired to conceal from her parents that he, Gordon Kelly, was the young man referred to. Beyond a slight start when she first saw him in her home, she had no sign of ever having seen him before. Gordon could not fathom her reasons for wishing the matter kept secret, but he felt bound to respect them.

She Flushed Slightly.

Mrs. Deery started another topic.

"My husband tells me you have lived all your life in the mountains northwest of us," she said. "Didn't you find it lonesome up there?"

"Oh, mother, let Mr. Kelly tell us what he thinks of Atlanta," broke in Mildred quickly. "Isn't it a fine city, Mr. Kelly?"

She flushed again slightly, though Gordon could not understand why she did so. He answered:

"It certainly is, Miss Deery, but the thing that impressed me most when I arrived was the roar and rumble of it. Where I have lived the only noise we hear is the sound of the wind through the trees."

The conversation drifted into small talk. Mildred turned aside every attempt made by her parents to draw out Gordon in regard to his life in the mountains, and this was another thing in connection with the young womar, he couldn't understand.

The dinner ended and Mrs. Deery asked if Gordon would care to play bridge.

"That is an accomplishment I haven't acquired," laughed Gordon, "but I must study it up."

"Take my advice and don't do it," declared Deery. "In a moment of mental aberration I allowed myself to learn the rudiments of the game. Never again!" He held up his right hand impressively. "Since that fatal hour my wife and daughter have insisted on dragging me shrieking to all sorts of bridge parties for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home, or some such charitable affair."

They all laughed at this. It was not until Gordon was taking his leave that he managed to have a word with Mildred alone. He said:

"Tell me why you make a mystery of my connection with your adventure of the morning?"

"Sh'h," she replied with a sly look. "It's a secret."

"And why wouldn't you allow me to tell of my life in the mountains?"

"Sh-h," replied Mildred with an adorable smile. "That is secret No. 2."

Cordial Invitations.

"Won't you tell me?"

"I hope so—some time."

"By the way, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, coming up to where they stood. "You ought to know some of the young men of Atlanta. If you will take lunch with me tomorrow, I will have you meet one of them, Forrest Cain, who, I know, would be glad to make things pleasant for you while you are in Atlanta."

"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I—" He felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline. Unfortunately I have another engagement."

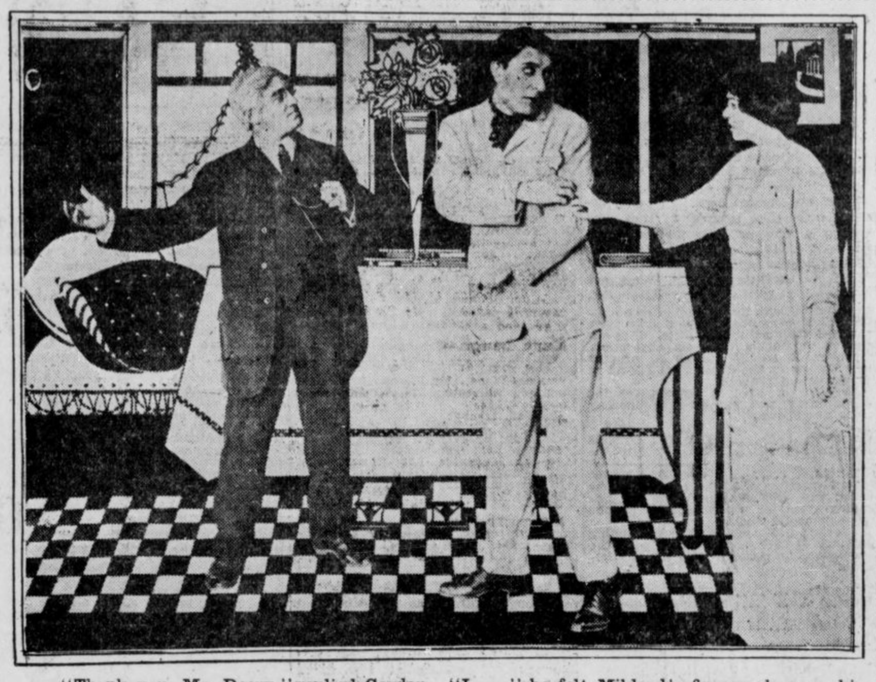
Deery noticed the hesitancy, but made no comment beyond. "Well, some other time, perhaps."

There were cordial invitations to "come again," at which Gordon said: "I'm not very well versed in etiquette, Mrs. Deery, but am I not entitled to make a 'party call'?"

"You certainly are," laughed Mrs. Deery, "come and see us the last of the week. What night, Mildred?"

"Come Thursday, Mr. Kelly," said Mildred.

His heart as light as a feather, Gordon Kelly walked home on aeriform fluid.



"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I——" he felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline."

CHAPTER VII.

FORREST CAIN, having nothing in particular to do except amuse himself and having plenty of money to do it with, spent considerable time every year in New York. He usually took three yearly trips and sometimes four to the metropolis, besides spending several weeks there in the hot season. In New York he always lived at the Niagara Club, so called because it flowed on with a roar from day to day and from month to month and from year to year. It never closed its doors. One could get a drink, or a meal, there at any hour of the day or night. Its membership consisted largely of wealthy young men of leisure—the same kind of New Yorkers in New York that Cain was in Atlanta. It was the soft of a club to appeal to a man of Cain's habits and inclinations.

The lure of Broadway and the call of the Niagara Club sounded from afar in the ears of Forrest Cain early in March, and he promptly made preparations for a trip to New York, completely forgetting the promise he had made to Galen Deery to take the young man from the mountains in tow. Transportation was secured for the following Thursday night, Cain engaging a stateroom on a Pullman car. Twice on Tuesday and twice on Wednesday he called up the Deery residence on the telephone, but the maid who answered the ring, after ascertaining who it was that was calling, told him Miss Deery was not at home. Early Thursday night he called up again, with the same result. Thereupon he proceeded to his club and spent the few hours before train time with convivial companions. Knowing the habitual inclinations of through Southern trains to be late, he took the precaution, about the time he should have left for the depot, to call up and find out about this particular train, and learned that it was nearly two hours behind schedule. He then took another chance of finding Mildred Deery, but the same maid assured him that she was not at home. Requesting that she be informed that he was leaving that night for New York, he hung up the receiver.

He then remembered that he had some orders to give regarding the overhauling of his automobile, and walked around to the garage, which was only a short distance from his club. He arrived just in time to dodge a smart shower of rain. As he was giving his instructions, the telephone in the office of the garage rang, and the proprietor answered the call. Cain heard half the conversation.

"Yes, this is the garage. Yes, Miss Deery. Yes, I understand. I'll have a car around in five minutes. All right. Goodbye."

"Where is she telephoning from?" asked Cain.

"From her home. She has a guest there who evidently doesn't care to walk home in the rain. So much the better for the automobile business. Every little helps."

"And they told me she wasn't at home," said Cain to himself, gritting his teeth. "What do you know about that?" Who was this favored guest, he wondered, and why was he, Forrest Cain, told repeatedly that Miss Deery was "not at home?"

An idea seized him. He would find out for himself. He had more than an hour to spare. His baggage was taken care of and his man, George, was waiting for him at the depot with his gripsack. He would play the role of chauffeur and drive the car to the Deery residence and take the favored guest to his home, after which he would return to the garage and have himself driven to the depot.

Pulled His Cap Down.

"Lend me a coat and cap, Davis," said Cain to the owner of the garage. "I need some air before I get on that stuffy train. I'll drive the car and collect the fare and bring back every penny of it."

Cain was one of the best customers of the garage, and he was an expert driver, so the proprietor readily gave his consent. Slipping on a long tan coat and pulling a cap well down over his eyes, Cain climbed into a touring car. The top was up, and the curtains were in place to keep out the rain. An employee cranked the car, and with Cain at the wheel it moved slowly out of the garage.

Arriving at the Deery residence, Cain sounded the horn to indicate that the car was there. A moment later the front door opened and the figure of a man holding an umbrella to be protected from the smart rain ran down the path to the sidewalk. Cain pulled his cap further down over his eyes and waited for the umbrella to be lowered. An electric light blazed only a few feet away. As he reached the side of the car, the man threw open the door, closed the umbrella with a snap and entered the vehicle. Quick as were his movements in order to avoid the rain, Cain was able to recognize his passenger the same young man he had so nearly run over in front of Ponce DeLeon Park in the furious rainstorm of Saturday morning; in short, it was, as the reader knows, George Kelly.

Cain stifled his rage and demanded in a gruff voice: "Where to?"

"Imperial Hotel," replied Kelly.

As he put the car in motion, wild thoughts filled the mind of Forrest Cain. For the first time in his life he was evidently not having his own way in a matter he had undertaken. Ever since he was old enough to walk he had ruled the Cain household. As a boy he was arrogant and self-willed. Since his father died, nine years before, he had shared with his sister the income from a large fortune. His money had enabled him to have everything he wanted. A few weeks ago he had made up his mind to marry Mildred Deery. It is true that she was not aware of this decision, and what her true feelings in regard to him were he did not know, nor did this matter trouble him much. Was he not one of the richest, if not the richest, bachelor in Atlanta? Was he not considered the great "catch?" Why, then, should he not marry the girl that suited his fancy?

Things had gone along swimmingly, he flattered himself, until this young man had crossed his path and had nearly met his death in doing so. He acknowledged to himself that he was a little rough in his talk to the fellow that day and Mildred had taken offense. But he had tried hard to "square" himself—to make amends. Had he not sent her flowers? Had he not repeatedly tried to talk with her over the telephone? Had he not tried twice that very night to do so and was he not told that she was "not at home?"

Cain was boiling with anger as his thoughts reached a sort of climax. She was not at home to him; it seemed, but she was at home to this stranger. Who was this man? How did Mildred find out who he was and where he lived? There must be a stop to the whole business. And he, Forrest Cain, was the man to stop it. Here was his chance. He would—

The car had arrived at the end of the street. To go to the Imperial Hotel a turn should be made to the right. Instead of doing this, however, Cain turned to the left and took a direction that would lead out of town. He speeded up the machine to the limit of its capacity, with a vague idea of intimidating the passenger on the rear seat, and the car flew down a hill at a terrifying pace. Rain was still falling sharply, making the roads wet and slippery and the car rolled and tossed and skidded in an alarming manner.

To be Continued To-morrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Gordon Kelly, a young North Georgia mountaineer, comes to Atlanta to get a place with Billy Smith's Crackers. It is raining when he reaches Ponce DeLeon and he is nearly run over by an auto, in which are two persons—a man and a young girl. The driver of the car is an arrogant fellow. The girl makes him stop the machine. She gets out and inquires if Kelly is injured. She apologizes for her companion's brusque manner. Kelly sees Manager Smith and tells him he has never played a game of ball. Smith consents to give Kelly a trial. The girl in the auto is Mildred Deery, daughter of Galen Deery, a crafty and wealthy speculator in timber lands. Her companion is Forrest Cain, a rich young man about town. Kelly owns timber land that Deery would like to possess.

Now go on with the story.

She Was So Neat

"ANY man who is married to a fine housekeeper is a most unfortunate creature," said the easy-going man. "It is not pleasant to live in the same block with one.

"A splendid housekeeper is much like a hawk—always on the lookout to descend upon some one and stick her claws into him or her, mostly him.

"That style of housekeeper, like a hawk, keeps mostly out of sight, busy away off somewhere. Then when you are sitting on a tabouret, there is a whirr—and down she comes! Right on your neck with her talons!

"I know the husband of a fine housekeeper who has to pull off his shoes and climb up the banisters to keep from soiling the carpet on the stairs, and he even gets into trouble for scratching the banisters a little in sliding down them.

"Another man I know has to wash his face and hands out in the laundry so that he wouldn't mess up the bedoilied bathroom. Others take their baths at the club or go without.

"A hawk woman will descend upon a scrap of paper on the lawn, and should any unfortunate person catch a glimpse of her face at such a time he will not soon forget it! One would think that the scrap of paper was guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

"Such a woman is never happy and never satisfied. Life is just one messy thing after another. Eating is a dreadful performance, to be endured like the boring of a cavity or the killing of a nerve in a tooth.

"Sleeping is another filthy habit, and causes untidy beds and horrid wrinkly linen.

"Having people walking on the carpets is about as pleasant for a splendid housekeeper as saw sharpening is to a violin professor.

"If an uncle from the country comes into such a woman's parlor with his boots on and trailing behind him his nine hobble-shoed children, and they sit on the furniture and swing their legs and eat candy and play jacks and shoot marbles and slide down the banisters and have a pillow fight, it results fatally for the poor woman."

One of Two Things.

A Kentucky mountain woman fell ill and for the first time in his life her husband had to work. It devolved upon him to nurse the invalid, look after a large family of tow-headed children, milk the cow, feed the pig, cook the meals and tend a straggly half acre of corn. At the end of ten days of these frightful labors he staggered down to the general store at the forks of the road and fell at the doorway in an exhausted heap. The storekeeper came out and said:

"Halloa, Anse, how's yore wife?"

"She ain't no better," moaned the husband. "I paid out a whole four bits for a bottle of bitters for her, but it seems like hit don't do her no good. I'm plumb wore out!"

He paused a moment and sighed deeply.

"Sometimes," he said, "I git to wishin' the old woman would git well—or somethin'!"

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Kodak Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Quick mail service for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

A MIGHTY monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold

To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse yet wise—

A precept, soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn.

Many the maxim sent the king, men say,
The one he chose: "This, too, shall pass away."

Oh, jewel sentence from the mine of truth!
What riches it contains for age or youth!

No stately epic, measured and sublime,
So comforts, or so counsels, for all time

As these few words. Go write them on your heart
And make them of your daily life a part.

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away—absorb the thought.

And wait; your waiting will not be in vain.
Time gilds with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark to-day leads into light to-morrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow.

Are you upon earth's heights? No cloud in view?
Go read your motto once again: This, too,

Shall pass away. Fame, glory, place and power,
They are but little baubles of the hour.

Flung by the ruthless years down in the dust,
Take warning and be worthy of God's trust.

Use well your prowess while it lasts; leave bloom,
Not blight, to mark your footprints to the tomb.

The truest greatness lies in being kind,
The truest wisdom in a happy mind.

He who desponds, his Maker's judgment mocks;
The gloomy Christian is a paradox.

Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short we need to make it broad,

Since life is brief we need to make it bright,
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,

And let its meaning permeate each day.
Whatever comes—This, too, shall pass away.

.:. Their Married Life .:.

Warren Gets Out His Summer Clothes and Helen Gives Away the Wrong Suit.

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

"DEAR, you'll never wear them," persisted Helen. "What's the use of keeping them any longer? Let me give these two suits to the elevator boy."

"Hold on now—not so fast! What've you got there?" scowled Warren, coming over to where Helen was examining two suits by the window.

"Why, this old blue serge, and this brown suit."

"Let's see—give them here. What's the matter with this?" as he held up the blue serge.

"Why, Warren, it's all worn shiny. And there's that new blue serge you got last summer. You'll never wear this old one."

"I'm not so sure. That's a good suit yet. Just the thing to wear fishing."

Warren was always saving his old suits to wear fishing—but he never went fishing! However, Helen was much too wise to remind him of this inconsistency, but she finally persuaded him to part with the blue serge, since he had kept at least five other old suits to "wear fishing."

It was Sunday morning, a dark, dismal Sunday, and right after breakfast Warren had declared it would be a good day to get out his summer clothes.

Signs of Spring.

The elevator boy had brought the trunk from the basement, and now Warren's summer suits were spread over the chairs and window sills of two rooms, and the whole place was filled with the odor of moth balls.

"Well, all right, then," reluctantly, as he threw down the blue serge. "Give that to the elevator boy if you want to—but that's ALL! Understand? The rest of these I'm going to keep. You've got a perfect mania for giving my clothes away. I notice you're not any too keen on getting rid of yours. What in thunder's that?" as something crunched under his heel.

"Oh, it's a moth ball, dear. Be careful, don't step on any more."

"Why the devil don't you get camphor? Don't smell half as bad as these infernal things."

"But camphor's so much more expensive. These are just as godd and they're only 5 cents a pound. I've got some fresh ones to put in with your winter clothes."

Helen had already gotten out Warren's winter suits and was beginning to pack them in the trunk.

"Well, I can't see that you need me here. Try to air out this place before I get back. Hold on, there; better not put in that overcoat. I may need that yet."

So Warren went out for his Sunday morning walk, while Helen was left to pack away his winter suits. At last she had them all in, and the trunk was ready to be sent back to the basement.

The elevator boy took it down, and with a pleased consciousness of tipping him well, Helen gave him the blue serge suit.

It was several mornings afterwards that Warren looked through his closet, now hung with the Summer suits, which had in the meantime been well aired and pressed.

"Where's that blue serge?" he called. "Had that pressed yet?"

"Oh, yes, dear, the tailor sent them all back yesterday. It's right there—hanging right in front."

"Well, I don't see it," he grumbled. "This closet's so infernally dark—you can't see a blame thing." Then a few moments' silence in which he looked again. "Well, if it's here I can't find it."

"Wait dear, I'll come."

The Wrong Suit.

Helen, who was not quite dressed, hurried in with her hair down, and looked through the long line of suits which hung on their hangers in Warren's wardrobe.

"Why, here it is—almost in front."

"No, that's the old one. Thought you said you were going to give that away."

"The—the OLD one!" stammered Helen. "Why—why it can't be——"

She had taken it to the light, but fortunately her back was to Warren, and he did not see her face. It WAS the old one. She had given the good one away!

"Oh, I remember," hastily, as she hung the suit back. "The sleeve lining was ripped in the other coat and I wanted to sew it before it was pressed. And I—I decided not to give this old one away—after all you might want to wear it fishing some time."

"Humph! Thought you were so keen about getting rid of it! Well, now you fix that other suit and have the tailor press it to-day. It's just about the right weight to wear now."

Helen, panic-stricken, went in to finish dressing. What could she do? She MUST get that suit back. Warren would be rabid if he found she had given away a perfectly new suit. No—no, he must never know!

She barely tasted her breakfast, and could hardly wait until Warren left. Then she ran out to see if the elevator boy, to whom she had given the suit, was on duty this morning.

But it was the other boy who answered her ring.

"What time will Henry be on?" she demanded.

A Thief.

"He won't be on no more, ma'am. He's been discharged."

"DISCHARGED?"

"Yes, ma'am, the superintendent laid him off this morning."

There was nothing for Helen to do but to see the superintendent and try to get the boy's address. What if he had already worn the suit? But Helen dared not think of that possibility.

"So he stole something from you, too, did he?" was the superintendent's first comment when Helen asked him about the boy.

"Stole something? Why, no, but I gave him a suit of Mr. Curtis' by mistake."

The superintendent seemed relieved. "Well, he stole from other tenants—that's why I had to get rid of him. I'm sorry, Mrs. Curtis, that I haven't his address, but you might get it from the employment agency where I engaged him."

In desperation Helen explained about the suit.

"Oh, a blue serge? Why, that's downstairs now. I wouldn't let him take it away—thought he stole that, too."

"No, no, I gave it to him. But I thought I was giving him another suit."

The superintendent brought it up, and to Helen's infinite relief it was wrapped in newspaper, just as she had given it to the boy. He had torn a hole in the paper to see what it was like, but plainly it had not been unwrapped.

Overjoyed by her good luck, Helen promptly took the suit to the little tailoring shop around the corner to be pressed.

The very next morning Warren asked about "that blue serge suit."

"Yes, dear, I had it pressed yesterday. It's hanging right there in your closet."

Warren got it out and looked it over with a curious puzzled expression.

She Confesses.

"Huh, that's funny! Guess I was wrong this time."

"Wrong? Why, what do you mean, dear?"

"Well, I thought you couldn't produce it—that's all. I'd an idea that you'd gotten those blue suits mixed—and given the wrong one to that boy."

"Why, Warren—how could you think that?" flushing quickly. "Why I told you I—I wanted to fix the sleeve lining before it was pressed."

"I know you did, and you acted mighty blamed suspicious, too. You're always lying out of a thing when you get in a hole." Then, with a keen glance at Helen's flushed face: "I'm not sure yet that I wasn't right."

There was a moment's tense silence. Warren was buttoning a pair of suspenders on the blue serge trousers, while Helen was fumblingly putting on a hanger the coat he had worn yesterday.

"Eh? How about it?" he persisted with another searching glance at her averted face.

She hung the coat on the rod in the closet, then turned with a sudden defiant:

"Very well, you were RIGHT! I D'D make a mistake—I DID give that suit to the elevator boy! But you needn't hesitate to wear it—it hadn't even been unwrapped. And if I'm always lying out of things it's your fault! You've raged and stormed at me so that when anything goes wrong—I'm AFRAID to tell you the truth!"

Wise Child.

"You see, had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

Boy—No, ma'am; it would have been eaten by us.

PURE SILK GLOVES

When you visit the Glove Department of your favorite store, do not merely ask for "a pair of silk gloves."

Specify the "Niagara Maid" kind. Do not accept substitutes. You will be pleased with the results. They wear longer, are better and cost no more than any other good kind.

Finger tips are double, and each pair contains a guarantee ticket.

Colorings are up to the instant from a style point of view.

Ask your dealer. If he cannot supply you, send us his name. We will supply you through him.

Niagara Silk Mills

North Tonawanda, N. Y.

New York Boston Chicago San Francisco

CARRIERS IN 'NECK-AND-NECK' CONTEST FOR GEORGIAN PONY

Five Bunched Closely Together at Lead With Grand Total of 126,650 Votes. Lithonia and Meansville Rivals.

I nominate, as a candidate in The Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian Pony Outfit Contest:

Name .....

Address .....

Nominated by .....

Address .....

GOOD FOR 1,000 VOTES.

Only One Nomination Blank Can be Voted for by Any Contestant.

The race among the city carriers for a Georgian and American pony finds five boys bunched closely at the lead—Ross Greer, with 33,250 votes; Mose Brodkin, 32,420; Harold Hamby, 21,195; O. B. Bigger, 20,575; Raymond Wilkinson, 19,200.

These five contestants alone have polled 126,650 votes. Fully experienced in getting subscriptions and in collections, wide awake and energetic, this contest is in deadly earnest, and the totals are likely to be increased greatly. There are some boys farther down the list, too, who may come to the front in short order.

Lithonia and Meansville are the two towns fighting hard in the Georgia State contest. Andrew B. Trimble, of Lithonia, has 13,735 votes, and M. Means, of Meansville, 11,190. It would take little to reverse these two positions.

Names and standings of contestants in the various districts follow:

District Number One.

George Rossech	38510
Jacob Patterson	17030
Josephine Simril	15390
Vera Nelle Brantley	13685
Miss Margaret Lewis	8750
Jas. O. Godard	7310
Janet Oxenham	6755
Edgar Watkins, Jr.	6475
Willie Ivey Wiggins	6215
Hugh B. Luttrell	5710
Andrew May	5595
Miss Frankie J. Smith	4570
Hillman McCalla	3725
Miss Mildred Stewart	2220
Nellie Martin	2190
Dorothy Stiff	2030
Miss Estelle Sullivan	1730
Phillip S. Reid	1695
Miss Louise Thompson	1425
Mollie Lee Kendall	1405
Glenn Moon	1330
Thomas M. Price	1270
Norman Caldwell	1250
Wm. Eisle	1145
James Grubbs	1140
Lottie Mae Dedman	1130
Eugene Morgan	1100
Wyman Conard	1000
Yoland Gavin	1000
Harold Holsombach	1000
T. L. Hoshall, Jr.	1000
Troy Mauldin	1000
Albert Smith	1000
Miss Louise McCrary	1000
Miss Sudie King	1000
Miss Gaynell Phillips	1000
Miss Mary E. Peacock	1000
Robert A. Harden	1000
Miss Edith Clower	1000
Miss Ruth Grogan	1000
H. E. Watkins, Jr.	1000
Miss Annie Phillips	1000
Miss Christa Powers	1000
Oliff Moody	1000
William Ernest	1000
Arthur Pegin	1000
Lillian Smith	1000
Chas. Johnson	1000
Frank Price, Jr.	1000
Louise McAllister	1000
Sidney Clark	1000
Donovan Owens	1000
Morgan Glover	1000
Chas. Whitner, Jr.	1000
Jack Shinholser	1000

District Number Two.

Miss Robert Harbour	29530
Eugene Willingham	23650
Miss Elizabeth Smith	10865
Miss Marjorie McLeod	10265
J. W. Collins, Jr.	9790
Miss Lottie McNair	8300
Elsie Gosnell	5889
Edmund Hurt	5020
Miss Idelle Shaw	4630
Willett Matthews	4220
Miss Edith Gray	3945
Miss Nellie Reynolds	3585
Ruth Warwick	3520
Miss Elizabeth Garwood	3475
J. Edgar Sheridan	2935
Paul M. Clark	2900
Miss LaRue Church	2435
Wm. Wellborn	1850
Clinton Hutchinson	1740
Miss Virginia Walton	1650
Edgar Sweetzer	1425
Chas. M. Kellog, Jr.	1380
Max Clein	1245
Robert Wood	1180
J. P. Tucker	1020
Martin Comerford	1010
Buel Crawley	1000
Willie Harden	1000
Raley Ray	1000
Miss Lucy Withers	1000
Miss Elizabeth Downing	1000
Robert R. Andrews	1000
Miss Catherine Fussell	1000
Nick Caroll	1000
Sarah Paxton	1000
W. Sumet	1000
Ed Ferguson	1000
Pierce Smith	1000

District Number Three.

Charles L. Stevens	25800
Mildred Brickman	21655
Willetts Matthews	20855
J. P. Goets, Jr.	8000
Miss Mabel Bracewell	3400
Miss Mary Wells	2735
Miss Alma Coleman	2335
Miss Evelyn Oxford	1800
Ernest E. Hambrick	1250
Anne S. Slatton	1040
Willie Reynolds	1000
Harry Brown	1000
Joe R. Smith	1000
Howard Grove	1000
Claudia Cochran	1000
Annie Mealor	1000
Marion Wells	1000

District Number Four.

Fannie Mae Cook	43240
Florence Greenoe	36215
Nathaniel Kay	21720
Oscar Eugene Cook	14210
W. H. Hamilton, Jr.	10150
J. Walling Davis	6800
Ida G. Fox	5965
Miss Ida Bloomberg	5965
Nell Reynolds	5450
Mill Wilhelmina Tucker	5425
Lillian Maurenberg	4185
Howell Conway	3650
Annie Slatten	2650
Fred Vickery	2600
Charles Ernest Verney	2469
H. L. W. Brown	3390
Agnes Shatren	2335
Miss Marie Toy	2235
Miss Maude A. Berry	2210
Miss Beatrice Brunson	2175
Miss Annie G. aham	2110
Miss Meta Mitchell	1870
Louis Joel	1695
Louise Whitman	1645
Guy Quillian	1615
Myrtle Jones	1485
Raymond Smith	1460
Vivian Broom	1450
John Thrasher	1425
Roy Young	1420
Paul Theodown	1400
Estelle Honer	1389
David F. Nowell	1295
William Henderson	1290
Louise Simpson	1280
Mose Gold	1270
Miss Rosemund Humphries	1035
Miss Susie Black	1230
Ralph Ross	1130
James Edens	1000
Miss L. E. Abbott	1000
Miss Lovie C. Dean	1000
Miss Alice Feldman	1000
Frank Henley	1000
Miss Annie Mae Hilsman	1000
Milton Holcombe	1000
Lynn A. Hubbard	1000
Harry Stone	1000
Miss Sarah Whitaker	1000
Miss Margaret White	1000
Charles Stone	1000
R. H. Brown	1000
Hugh Terrell	1000
Miss Carlotta Burns	1000
Lowell Battle	1000
Miss Lillian L. Brown	1000
Miss Marion Overstreet	1000
Jack Ellman	1000
Eugene Bayliss	1000
Sam K. Nece	1000
Esther Hutchins	1000
Valentine Jenkins	1000

District Number Five.

Frank Ison, Jr.	32800
Richard Rainey	9655
Emery Ward	6775
Harndon Thomas	6275
Miss Louise Chewning	5075
Dick De.ton	3800
Miss Margaret Le Feure	3260
Miss Lucile Berry	2115
Miss Mary Holloway	2065
Roy Coleman	1550
John Baker Long	1260
Wm. Hood	1150
Miss Texia Mae Butler	1000
Miss Anna Graham	1000
Albert Leake	1000
Merriot Brown Reid	1000
Miss Frances Summers	1000

District Number Six.

William Turner	19275
Miss Beverly Swanton	13340
Miss Susanne Springer	6880
Edward DeLoach	6695
Miss Virginia Jackson	4315
George Nelson Baker	3090
Edgar Wilson	2743
John Lovett	2710
Grady Harris	2015
Miss Ora E. Dozier	1790
Miss Margaret Thornton	1780
Gay Reynolds	1505
Ad Gay	1310
Francis Summers	1330
W. F. Marquett	1300
Charlie Hood	1075
Miss Grace Davis	1000
Gregory J. Eaton	1000
Angie C. Newton	1000
Benjamin F. Safiets	1000

District Number Seven.

A. Morrison	11965
Philip Gilstein	7010
James Allen	2940
Chas. R. Walker, Jr.	1725
Clyde Mitchell	1440
George H. Melton	1506
Lawrence McGinnis	1170
Joe DuPre	1115
Claude Higgins	1000
Willie Mae Dempsey	1000
Joy Carroway	1000
Miss Alma Hudson	1000
Fannie Bettis	1000
Henry Hull	1000

City Carriers and Newsboys.

Ross Greer	33260
Mose Brodkin	32420
Harold Hamby	21195
O. B. Bigger	20575
Raymond Wilkinson	19200
John ... mble	14630
J. E. Moore	12943
Powell Pendley	11750
Roy Cook	9590
Sidney Ney	8820
Irvan Willingham	8015
Sterling Jordan	6910
Olin Neal Bass	5645
Sterling Jordan	5610
Norman Gooch	4195
Newell A. Cain	3885
Charles Barron	3350
Bonnell Bloodworth	3010
St. Leonard Veitch	2265
Royal Barbour	2280
Grady Cook	1580
L. M. Harrison	1560
Frank Garwood	1545
Robert Correll	1300
R. S. McConnell	1220
Johnnie Evans	1000

Out-of-Town Agents and Carriers.

John Martin, Jr., Columbus, Ga.	18895
Leon Spence, Carrollton, Ga.	5450
Ambrose Scarboro, Royston, Ga.	4340
Patrick Jones, Macon	3,280
Jake Palmer, Murphy, N. C.	3030
H. K. Everett, Calhoun, Ga.	2965
M. E. Dasch, Stone Mountain, Ga.	2410
Gladys Daniel, Bolton	2405
Jas. S. Plunkett, Gaffney, S. C.	2180
Aubrey Hopkins, Anderson, S. C.	2085
Thos. W. Rylee, Gainesville, Ga	1585
Robt. Newby, Vienna, Ga.	1360
Alfred Chappelle, Sparta, Ga.	1355
H. Esserman, Rome, Ga.	1345
John Toler, New Orleans, La.	1340
Leon B. Spears, Woodstock, Ga.	1285
James Wilkins, Gaffney, S. C.	1015
Chas. B. Havey, Lithonia, Ga.	1000
L. Bennett, Brunswick, Ga.	1000
Jos. Milam, Cartersville, Ga.	1000
Herman Corliss, LaGrange, Ga.	1000
Smith Fallaw, Opelika, Ala.	1000
R. E. Hudson, Unadilla, Ga.	1000
Hugh Parrish, Adel, Ga.	1000
Paul Swint, Gibson, Ga.	1000
X. N. David, Cedartown, Ga.	1000
Rupert Mobley, Covington, Ga.	1000

Georgia School Boys and Girls.

Andrew B. Trimble, Lithonia	13735
M. Means, Meansville	11190
Ennie Spinks, Chipley	8155
Lois Casey, Chattahoochee	6785
Clifford Henry, Carrollton	6535
Gertrude Mosley, Menlo	6425
Virginia McCowen, Marietta Car Line	5485
Belle Ragsdale, Lithonia	4640
Anna Johnson, Summerville	4605
C. E. Crawford, Chipley	4030
John Logan, Gainesville, Ga.	3280
Margaret Danner, Doraville	3195
Esther Boorstein, Covington	2995
Blake Nichols, R. F. D. Atlanta	2965
Belle Stowe, Toccoa	2855
Wm. Reid, Columbus	2325
Warner Webb, Griffin	2285
Elmer Towns, Social Circle	2250
Terry Strozier, Greenville	2250
Patrick Jones, Macon	2125
W. L. Mattox, Newnan	2000
Alfred Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	2000
Maxwell Aubrey, Bolton	1985
B. C. Elder, Blakely	1970
Jimmy Logan Grantville	1950
Mary Allen, Juniper	1885
Chas. E. Keely, Cartesville	1850
Berta Davis, Fayetteville	1840
Berry Clein, Columbus	1795
Emory Steele, Commerce	1650
W. Harrell, Jr., Quitman	1500
Horace McConnell, R. F. D. Atl.	1405
Sarah F. Spier, Monroe	1430
Helen Mitchell, Richwood	1389
Carl Bragg, Woodcliff	1365
Rives Cary, Barnesville	1350
Paul Jossey, Forsyth	1240
Clay Burgess, Carnesville	1265
E. A. Heckle, Cornelia	1255
Wm. Tallaferro, Mansfield	1240
Virginia Young, Roswell, Ga.	1175
Jessie Collier, Barnesville	1170
J. L. Brewer, Egan	1165
Gertrude Marshall, Savannah	1150
Bennett Jeffers, Douglasville	1135
Mary Caldwell, Chipley	1130
Ruth Aiken, Carnesville	1125
Sallie Evans, Douglasville	1110
D. S. Morton, Raymond	1105
Will Chapman, Barnesville	1090
Ernest Turney, Chipley	1085
Sidney Newsome, Union Point	1080
H. C. Ogilvie, Savannah	1080
J. P. Craven, Baxley	1075
Clyde Stephens, Barnesville	1075
Robt. Mobley, Jr., Quitman	1055
Miriam Stansell, Gainesville	1055
Robert Davis, Columbus	1050
Eleanor Lindsay, Tucker	1050
Cary Brezel, Rome	1050
Cl...s Harlan, R. F. D. Atlanta	1050
H. E. White, Flovilla	1040
Ernest Baker, Washington	1040
Erva Blackstock, Hogansville	1030
W. A. Hollis, Hogansville	1020
E. Scarborough, Macon	1025
Etheridge Bradley, Smyrna	1025
Chas. Clark, Loganville	1010
Horace McConnell R. F. D., Atlanta	1405
Jessie Tabor, Loganville	1095
Mattie L. Johns Loganville	1095
J. C. Smith, Oxford	1069
Brannon Sharp, Commerce	1000
G. W. Davis, Bremen	1000
Cecil McGahee, Lithonia	1000
Sarah Carter Savannah	1000
Dan Patrick, Conyers	1000
H. H. Redwine, Fayetteville	1000
Felix Reid, Union City	1000
Ralph Little, Commerce	1000
Morris McClure, Jackson	1000
Ben Steinberg, Cartersville	1000
C. V. Turner, Jr., Quitman	1000
G. W. Posey, Jr., Juniper	1000
Lily Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
J. H. Hewlett, Conyers	1000
Rudolph Campbell, Fairburn	1000
A. E. Gilmore, Jr. Tennille	1000
Richard Johnson, Tennille	1000
J. P. Tucker, Jr., R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
Edna Jennings, Newnan	1000
Thos. Lamar, Waycross	1000
Evelyn Davis, Baconton	1000
W. B. Dismukes, Mystic	1000
Susie Glenn, Social Circle	1000
Joe Tink, Gainesville	1000

School Boys and Girls Outside of State of Georgia.

Fain E. Webb, Jr.	16550
Robert Hyatt Brown	10150
J. T. Sewell	5055
Rodney Stephens	4255
Henry Hicks	2910
McGee Hunt, Westminster, S. C.	1450
Ralph Turner	1350
Miss Dorothy Davis	1189
Miss Annie McCarell	1030
Novel Wheeler	1015
Pauline Trull	1000
J. T. Webb, Jr.	1000
Lindsay W. Graves	1000
George Andrews	1000
Miss Lydia Bewley	1000
Geo. W. Chamlee, Chattarooga, Tenn.	1000

NEW WOOL CLIP IS NOT SELLING WELL

Conditions Reversed From Those of a Year Ago—Western Markets Are Improving.

BOSTON, May 23.—Wool business locally is irregular. The leading feature of the past week has been the opening and sale of some new clip territory wools. These wools are selling very slowly, the present condition being almost a complete reversal of that prevailing a year ago. No further sacrifice sales of old wools are reported. Few leading houses have any volume of wool to offer. Conditions in the West are improving from the dealers' standpoint, as growers have moderated to some extent their demands. Buyers also have changed their attitude a little. The endeavor to market the new clip wools, however, is so difficult as to prevent free buying in the West at the level of prices recently quoted.

Receipts of wool in pounds for the week ended and including Wednesday were as follows:

	1913.	1912.
Domestic	2,962,924	4,073,933
Foreign	932,385	1,104,775
Totals	3,894,409	5,178,708

Total receipts of 3,894,409 pounds compared with 2,531,270 pounds for the preceding week, of which 1,898,155 pounds were domestic wools.

Receipts in pounds from and including January 1, 1913, as compared with the corresponding period in 1912 were as follows:

	1913.	1912.
Domestic	29,529,775	47,260,089
Foreign	38,397,480	59,169,451
Totals	67,922,255	106,429,540

COTTON GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—Freeman was probably the best buyer on the call today, said to be acting for Webb. The selling was scattered. McFadden brokers were liberal buyers.

* * *

Waters bid 11.81c for 5,000 bales of July after the call.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "American forward, 89,549 bales; total, 93,555 bales."

* * *

Dick Bros., Wilson and Shearson sold. Mitchell and Geer also offered. Mitchell sold 10,000 bales of January from 11.21c to 11.15c. Geer sold about 10,000 bales of October.

* * *

Gifford, Waters and McEnery were aggressive buyers, which was said to be for Raymond Pinchon, Pell and Hutton.

* * *

Rainfall overnight:

Tuscumbia, 1.30; Greensboro, 1.50; Goodwater, 1.40; Selma, 1.60; Demopolis, 2.10; Livingston, 2.30; Tuscaloosa, 2.60; Gadsden, 1.50; Clinton, 1.50.

Mississippi—Greenwood, 1.00; Rosedale, 1.00; Waynesboro, 1.70; Kosciusko, 1.40; Lake, 2.00; Aberdeen, 1.50; Columbus, 2.00; Okolona, 2.20.

Georgia—Macon, 2.40; Athens, 1.50; Home, 2.30; Gainesville, 1.40; Toccoa, 1.20.

South Carolina—Greenville, 1.50.

Louisiana—Abite, 1.50; Clinton, 1.05; Minden, 1.35.

Texas—Waco, .10; Pierce, .08; Palestine, .01; Galveston, .26; Houston, .10; Longview, .08.

Rainfall to-day:

Memphis, .18; Vicksburg, .26; New Orleans, 1.10; Shreveport, .01; Mobile, .88; Meridian, 1.92; Montgomery, .70; Nashville, .64; Knoxville, 1.98; Chattanooga, 2.18; Atlanta, .90; Augusta, .01; Raleigh, .01; Jackson, 1.30; Birmingham, 2.76; Anniston, 1.50.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "American middling fair, 7.33d; good middling, 6.99d; middling, 6.79d; low middling, 6.65d; good ordinary, 6.31d; ordinary, 5.97d."

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "The dilemma of the cotton market was made clear yesterday. The trade buys contracts as hedges against future need, but refuses to sell. The public is not in the market at all. The talent, as a rule, has been bearish all spring and has sold whenever a professional speculator or a merchant would buy. All along speculative shorts in numbers have counted on favorable weather and favorable crop reports to depress the market and give them opportunity to cover at a profit. All this was, of course, based on their belief in a balanced market. Belligerent bears never for a moment imagined that the public would drop out or that the trade would turn into a sponge.

"Recently the weather became extremely favorable and the character of the crop reports reflected much improvement. But because the long interest in the main is held by the trade and is not for sale, nobody stood ready to feed contracts to the market and expectant shorts began to discover that to get under cover they would have to bid the market up to a point where scalpers would supply them.

"On Monday shorts were made nervous by the drift of the market. On Tuesday they were worried. On Wednesday they were apprehensive and on Thursday they were excited. Under the circumstance high price people experienced no difficulty in obtaining a hearing for bullish data and when they talked of the possibility of too much rain to follow in the wake of too much drouth floor traders gathered round the weather boards and talked in whispers."

* * *

Too much rain.

* * *

While there is some talk of reaction, the bears seem afraid to put out any lines just yet.

* * *

It was very evident during the late trading yesterday that there was still a large short interest in the market.

* * *

McFadden brokers continue to buy and it is said they are bullish on the spot situation.

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas—Clear and cool. Oklahoma—Generally clear and cool."

* * *

A New York Cotton Exchange seat was sold for $15,000 yesterday. The previous sale was for $16,000.

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows fair in West Alabama, heavy rains in Mississippi. Very little rains west of Louisiana, Generally cloudy in Alabama and the Atlantics. Good rains in Alabama, Tennessee and West Georgia. Indications are for fair and warmer in the western States, fair in the central States and general rains in the Atlantics.

Temperatures dropped overnight to somewhat below normal, but such a cool spell comes every year. It will not last longer than a day, and then temperatures will rise over the entire western half.

* * *

The president of the Illinois Central Railroad, returning from an inspection trip, says cotton reports received from all points agree that prospects for a crop were never brighter. Farmers and planters are well contented with the outlook.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The cotton seed oil market was firm on covering of shorts to-day, buying believed to be for refiners and local bull support. The upturn brought out some scattered profit-taking, outside speculative demand disappointing and consuming interests display little interest at present. There was some selling of December against purchases of new crude.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Petroleum firm; crude Pennsylvania, 2.50.

Turpentine easy; 40½.

Rosin steady; common, 4.85.

Wool steady; domestic fleece, 25@28; pulled, scoured basis, 35@55; Texas, scoured basis, 48@55.

Hides; hulei; native steers, 18½@19½; branded steers, 15¾@16¾.

Coffee steady; options opened unchanged to 2 higher; Rio No. 7 on spot, 11¾@11¾.

Sugar steady; domestic, ordinary to prime, 4@5⅛.

Molasses steady; New Orleans, open kettle, 35@50.

Sugar, raw steady; centrifugal 3.27@3.30; muscovados, 2.77@2.80; molasses sugar, 2.50@2.53.

Sugar, refined firmer; fine granulated, 4.20@4.25; cut loaf, 5.05; crushed, 4.95; mold A, 4.60 bid; cubes, 4.50; powdered, 4.35; diamond A, 4.25; confectioners' A, 4.10. Softs—No. 1 to No. 5 are 5 points lower than No. 1 and Nos. 3 to 14 are each 5 points lower than the preceding grade.)

Beans dull; marrow, choice, 5.95@6.00; pea, choice, 3.90@3.95; red kidney, choice, 4.00@4.05.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Unsettled, showery weather will continue to-night and Saturday in the Atlantic States, with somewhat lower temperatures over the Middle and Southern districts. In the interior the weather will be generally fair with slightly higher temperatures Saturday in the Ohio Valley and the upper Lake region.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Gulf coast from Mobile to Carrabelle.

Forecast until 8 p. m. Saturday:

Georgia—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night. Cooler Saturday in southeast portion.

North Carolina—Showers to-night; cooler in the interior; Saturday cloudy; cooler in western portion.

South Carolina—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night in the interior; cooler in southern and eastern portion.

Florida—Showers to-night and Saturday; cooler to-night in northern portion; slightly cooler Saturday in north and central portions.

Alabama—Fair to-night; cooler in south portion; Saturday fair.

Mississippi—Fair to-night; Saturday fair; warmer in north and west portions.

Eastern Texas—Fair to-night and Saturday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and warmer in northern portion; Saturday fair.

Louisiana—Fair to-night and Saturday.

COTTON WEAKENS ON PROFIT-TAKING

Disappointing Cables and Bear News From the Weather Man Encourage Selling.

NEW YORK, May 23.—On overnight buying orders the cotton market opened firm to-day, May 6 points higher, with other positions showing irregularity, being 1 off to 2 points up from last night's close.

The appearance of clearing weather in the Western belt with a probability that it would extend to the rest of the belt by to-morrow caused considerable unloading after the call. Much of this was absorbed by overnight buying orders.

Commission houses, the ring crowd and Wall Street, also a few brokers with spot house connections sold heavily. The selling was said to be profit-taking. May dropped back to last night's close, while other positions declined some 4 to 8 points under the previous close. The buying was light and scattered.

During the forenoon a renewal of buying predominated, which checked the selling pressure to a considerable extent, resulting in prices recovering the initial decline. May option, however, was not in demand and held steady around the early low point. The advance was attributed chiefly to the continued rains throughout the cotton States. Rains were heavy throughout the State last night and reports of heavy rainfall were received during the entire day. There was fear among the locals of too much rain, which stimulated a general covering wave.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: May, 11.69; July, 11.79; August, 11.57; October, 11.18; January, 11.16.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: May, 12.48; July, 12.22; August, 11.76; October, 11.29; January, 11.30.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Saturday.	1912.
New Orleans	1,600 to 2,000	1,220
Galveston	1,000 to 1,800	1,091

NEW YORK COTTON.

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	Last Sale	Prev. Close.
May	11.75	11.75	11.68	11.69	11.69-70
June					11.77-78
July	11.82	11.83	11.76	11.77	11.81-83
Aug.	11.61	11.62	11.54	11.55	11.59-60
Sept.					11.31-32
Oct.	11.23	11.24	11.16	11.21	11.24-25
Dec.	11.21	11.25	11.17	11.22	11.25-26
Jan.	11.21	11.22	11.15	11.20	11.21-23
Mar.	11.29	11.31	11.25	11.30	11.29-31

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, May 23.—Due 6½ higher on July, 5½@6½ higher on other positions, this market opened steady at a net gain of 5@6 points on near positions and 4½ higher on late months. At 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet and steady with prices 6 points higher on near positions and 5@5½ points higher on late months.

Spot higher; middling 6.79d; sales, 5,000 bales, including 4,000 American bales; imports, 18,000 bales.

At the close the market was steady, with prices at a net gain of 2 to 6½ points from Thursday's final.

Futures opened quiet and steady.

	Opening Range		Close	Prev Close
May	6.55	—	.....	6.40
May-June	6.55	@6.54½	6.55½	6.40
June-July	6.51	@6.52	6.51½	6.46
July-Aug.	6.45½	@6.48	6.48½	6.42½
Aug.-Sept.	6.39	@6.38½	6.38½	6.33½
Sept.-Oct.	6.23½		6.24	6.17½
Oct.-Nov.	6.14½	@6.16	6.17	6.10½
Nov.-Dec.	6.11½	@6.13	6.13	6.07½
Dec.-Jan.	6.12		6.12½	6.06½
Jan.-Feb.	6.10	@6.11	6.11½	6.07
Feb.-Mar.	6.11½	@6.13	.....	6.07
Mar.-Apr.			.....	6.08

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—Excepting that it is too cool, a condition, however, which will not last more than a day or two, weather developments overnight were very favorable.

A rain formation is directly over the Atlantics and general rains and cooler weather are indicated for the Eastern States; while fair weather will prevail over the Western half with rising temperatures.

The press gives grave political news. London reports a serious battle between Greeks and Bulgarians and the peace conference delayed.

Liverpool was disappointing and weakened further in the last hour; spot sales only 5,000 at 6 points advance. Political developments with consols ¼ lower must have caused an unfavorable impression. Trading here was quieter this morning. Prices eased repeatedly, but support appeared on depressions and held October to 11.30.

Forwardings from Liverpool this week are larger than expected, probably due to the delay in shipments on accont of the recent holidays.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	Last Sale	Prev. Close.
May	12.52	12.52	12.50	12.50	12.50-51
June					12.23-25
July	12.25	12.25	12.17	12.22	12.23-24
Aug.	11.80	11.82	11.76	11.81	11.82-83
Sept.					11.45-48
Oct.	11.35	11.35	11.27	11.32	11.33-34
Nov.					11.32-34
Dec.	11.33	11.33	11.26	11.30	11.32-32
Jan.	11.35	11.35	11.33	11.34	11.35-36
Feb.					11.32-34
Mar.	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44-45

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

Thompson, Towle & Co.: We hesitate to follow the advance, although it may go still higher.

Norden & Co.: Should rains continue for a few days, there would probably be a further sharp advance.

Sternberger, Sinn & Co.: Think prices will make further gains.

Logan & Bryan: We suggest caution in making short commitments at this time.

Atwood, Violett & Co.: We believe the advance has gone far enough, unless some new stimulus is injected into the situation.

Norman, Mayer & Co.: Further advance will reduce trade buying and may meet spot selling, especially if crop accounts continue good.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	2,019	225
Galveston	3,684	843
Mobile	868	196
Savannah	1,293	1,635
Charleston	149	27
Wilmington	26	50
Norfolk	1,005	663
Baltimore	445	2,113
Boston	563	5
Newport News	6,431	117
Total	16,577	5,872

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	1,373	620
Augusta	323	146
Memphis	211	1,300
St. Louis	509	813
Cincinnati	218	562
Little Rock		46
Total	2,634	3,488

Today's New York Stock Market

Following are the highest, lowest and last prices of stocks sold in New York to-day:

STOCK—	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Copper	74⅞	74	74	74½
American Ice	24½	24½	24½	24
American Sug.	110	110	110	111
Am. Smelting	67¼	67	67¼	67¼
Anaconda	37⅞	37⅞	37⅞	37¾
Atchison	99⅜	99¼	99¼	99½
American Can	32	32	32	32⅞
do, pref.	92⅛	92⅛	92⅛	92¾
Am. T.-T.	129	129	129	128⅞
B. R. T.	91½	91⅜	91½	91½
B. and O.	98⅜	98⅜	98⅜	98¼
Can. Pacific	237¼	236⅝	237¼	247¼
C. and O.	65¼	64⅞	65⅛	65
Consol. Gas	132¼	132¼	132¼	132⅝
Cen. Leather	23	23	23	23
Colo. F. and I.	31¼	31⅛	31⅛	31
D. and H.	156½	156½	156½	155
Erie	28¼	28¼	28¼	28⅜
G. North. pfd.	127	127	127	127
Illinois Central	115	115	115	114½
Interboro	14½	14½	14½	14½
do, pref.	51	50⅜	50⅝	51
M., K. and T.	23⅝	23⅜	23⅝	23½
L. Valley	155¼	155¼	155¼	155¼
L. and N.	133⅜	133¼	133¼	134
Mo. Pacific	34⅜	34¼	34¾	35
N. Y. Central	100⅜	100⅛	100¼	100⅜
N. and W.	106	106	106	105¾
No. Pacific	114⅞	114⅞	114⅞	115⅜
O. and W.	28⅞	28¾	28¾	29
Penna.	110	109¾	109¾	110
Reading	161⅜	161	161¼	161½
Rock Island	18¼	17⅜	17½	18⅛
So. Pacific	95½	95¼	95½	97⅛
So. Railway	24¼	24¼	24¼	24½
do. pfd.	77¼	77¼	77¼	77
St. Paul	108	108	108	107¼
Union Pacific	150	149¾	149¾	151¾
U. S. Steel	60⅜	59⅞	60	60⅜
do. pfd.	106¼	106	106⅛	106
V.-C. Chem.	28	28	28	27½
Wabash, pfd.	7¾	7¾	7¾	7½
W. Electric	62¼	62¼

CAPITAL MUST WIN THE HELP OF LABOR

The Employer Must Study to Gain the Co-operation of the Employee.

By B. C. FORBES.

An employer in these days of labor unrest must be a diplomat, a student of human nature, a man able to blend toleration with discipline. Hundreds of strikes, petty and serious, are caused, not through unsatisfactory wages, but by arrogant bossing by heads of departments, superintendents and foremen, who puffed up by the possession of a little transient authority, treat workers as if they were made of some lower kind of material.

* * *

Corporations, firms and individual employees should pay more attention to the careful selection of overseers of every rank. It is not enough that a man is an expert; that is necessary oftentimes, but if he is to be placed in charge of many workers he must have tact, he must be humane, he must know the minds, the hearts, the habits and the ambitions of those serving under him. He must be able to inspire loyalty. He must not carry his head too high. He must avoid superciliousness. He must even occasionally close his eyes to litle incidents not strictly on the working schedule.

* * *

To be in the highest degree successful nowadays an employer or corporation manager must win the co-operation of others. The slave-driver, the heartless taskmaster cannot last. Sooner or later he will reap what he sows.

* * *

In too many establishments systems of fines for all sorts of trivial mistakes are still in vogue. They should be abolished. Numbers of corporations have seen the light in this direction. A policy of kindness has proved more profitable than one of harshness. To encourage has been found better than to coerce. For example: Childs' restaurants used to fine their waiters and waitresses for every dish they broke. A whole day's wages was sometimes lost in a moment—especially as highly polished floors, when wet, were responsible for many slips. This system has been abandoned, with, I understand, gratifying results.

* * *

Really big men seldom are tyrannical to their employees. But unfortunately, the rank and file do not come in contact with the heads of establishments, but with minor aids, many of whom are sadly unfitted by education—ignorance rather—by breeding and by temperament to inspire fealty, enthusiasm, success. They are not broad-gauge enough to discern how to obtain the best results from those under them. They are too bent upon impressing others with their own importance. They like to hear themselves bawl out orders. They enjoy seeing underlings quake. It feeds their vanity.

* * *

Have you noticed how much attention our wisest corporations are now devoting to cultivating friendly, harmonious relations with their employees? It pays.

* * *

Let me relate a recent incident.

The president of one of our largest express companies, a disciple of the new movement to inspire the loyalty of employees, visited a branch office.

The telephone rang and he answered it.

"Any more orders for me to-day?" asked one of the company's drivers.

"No," replied the president.

"Thank heaven!" exclaimed the driver, not knowing he was talking to the president.

The president sent for the man and had a heart-to-heart talk with him, telling him that if there were few orders to fill the company might have to pay him off, that drivers were in a sense the company's salesmen and that on their attitude toward the public and toward their employers the success of the business depended. No scolding was indulged in. "My job depends upon you," the president told him. "Won't you help me to keep it?"

This appeal went home.

Late in the afternoon the telephone again rang. The agent replied.

"If you can send a wagon at once I know where you can get a big shipment before the —— wagon gets it," excitedly shouted the self-same driver.

The agent, who had not known of the interview with the president, could not believe his ears.

The wagon was sent and the consignment secured.

"Did you say anything to ——?" asked the agent of the president.

"Yes, I had a little chat with him. Why?"

"Here he has started out scouting for new business—a thing unheard of before. What did you say to him—threaten to discharge him?"

* * *

This little human-interest incident—and it is not mythical, I beg you believe—is full of meaning for bosses and sub-bosses blinded by pride and arrogance.

* * *

Only the weak, the vain, the blind are tyrannical. A big man rules by milder means.

White City Park Now Open

LITTLE STORIES of the TOWN

These Girls Not Afraid Of Any Old Rats.

Pedestrians and others on Alabama Street, between Whitehall and South Pryor, were treated this morning to an unusual sight.

About midway of the block, almost in front of the electric light station, several men were engaged in the laudable business of exterminating some rats which had been caught in a trap last night. One of the executioners had a big stick and as soon as his companion let out a rodent, the big stick was wielded with such judicious precision that Mr. Rat took the count after getting one blow.

The remarkable thing about the proceeding was the interest which three pretty girls took in it. They were evidently on their way from home to business when their attention was attracted by the sight of the crowd around the rat-killers. The three stopped and watched the proceedings, all the time commenting animatedly upon the prowess of the gentleman with the big stick. When the last rat had been slain, the girls left, going in the direction of Whitehall Street.

"Well," commented one of the men in the crowd, "I always had an idea that womenfolks were afraid of rats."

"If one of them gals had bin my wife," commented an old veteran who overheard the remark, "she'd have climbed one of these here 'lectric light posts."

"Maybe them was suffragettes," commented a third. "The papers say they ain't afraid er nothin'."

"Bet if they had er bin mice," said a youth, "instead er rats, you couldn't er helt them gals here fer a minit."

Anyway, the girls did see the killing, and seemed to enjoy it.

Small Boys Nowadays Miss a Lot of Fun.

"Kids nowadays do not have the same amount of real fun that they did when I was a youngster," said a well-known business man last evening at the Transportation Club. "In company with a friend of mine, who is in the real estate business, I went out to look at some property the other afternoon. Near the place was a vacant lot and some boys were playing ball. Now, if there is anything I do love it is a good ball game and I stopped to see what sort of article these chaps were putting up. The real estate man is a fan, too, and we were very much interested in the proceedings on the field.

"But, say, those kids didn't know they were alive! We watched 'em play six innings and they didn't fight a single time! Why, when I was a small chap we fought all over the field. We mobbed the umpire half a dozen times during the nine innings. The spectators sure got their money's worth! As a matter of fact, they usually took some part in the battles and often I have seen a game resolve itself into a war between spectators and the opposing teams.

"Coming back to the office, the real estate friend and I got to talking about old days in Atlanta and the times we used to play ball in the old field alongside the Tanyard branch at Orme and Simpson Streets. We both agreed that the present generation of boys has missed a whole lot in the matter of enjoying life to its fullest."

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

Maggie Cline Is Next.

During the hot spell it has been demonstrated that the Forsyth is as cool as a lost friend and twice as comfortable. The ventilating system is working in beautiful fashion and the pure, fresh iced air that is circulated through the theater makes everything fine. All the acts are winning applause, laughter and attention. They are hit makers.

For next week the headline feature is going to be Maggie Cline, the most distinguished headliner the Forsyth has ever offered. Her Irish songs are sure to be enjoyed.

Change Meets With Favor.

The change from vaudeville to tabloid musical comedy is meeting with favor at the hands of patrons of the Bijou, and the splendid impression created at the first performance Monday afternoon is being strengthened by the succeeding presentations of this merry musical farce. "A Trip to Joyville" was written for laughing purposes only. It is brimful of catchy musical numbers and the work of the comedians and the chorus is excellent.

"The Deep Purple" Pleases.

"The Deep Purple," continues to please patrons of the Atlanta Theater. It is one of the best offerings of the season by the Miss Billy Long Company and the play has scored a hit. It is brimful of action, the lines are keen and the situations dramatic. "St. Elmo" will be next week's bill.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route, Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

KING OF GREECE GOES TO RESIST BULGARS

General Hostilities Between the Balkan War Victors Threatened by Open Clash.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ATHENS, May 23.—Terrific fighting is going on between Bulgarian and Greek troops in Southern Albania.

Dispatches to-day said a heavy force of Bulgarians, supported by artillery, crossed the neutral zone established when the armistice with Turkey was signed. Soon the conflict extended all along the line of the Greek army.

The Greek Government is threatening to precipitate general hostilities.

King Constantine, of Greece, commander of the Greek army which captured Salonika last year, left hurriedly and unexpectedly for Salonika this afternoon. The nature of his mission was kept secret, but it was reported that the conflict between the Bulgarian and Greek troops near there was the cause of his departure.

It was rumored that the King might take the field in person at the head of his army.

It is said that 60,000 Bulgars attacked a smaller body of Greeks, driving them toward Salonika. Greek reinforcements are being rushed to Salonika from Epirus.

$53,000 U. S. Bank Thief Dies in Exile

BOSTON, May 23.—Word was received in this city yesterday of the death in Valparaiso, Chili, of Frederick T. Moore, former assistant receiving teller of the National Bank of Commerce, who absconded fourteen years ago with $53,000 of the bank's funds.

The reported death of Moore recalls one of the most notorious cases in the annals of American criminology. After searching throughout the United States and the Klondike region of Alaska, Moore was arrested in Valparaiso in October, 1899, but there was no extradition treaty with Chili.

He was charged with embezzlement and after the court of first instance of Santiago De Chili acceded to the proposal to extradite him the following January, he applied to the Supreme Court of Chili and in March, 1900, that court set him free.

Moore became one of the best known photographers in Valparaiso have sent acceptances.

Wesley Hospital to Graduate 5 Nurses

Friends of Wesley Memorial Hospital have been invited to attend the graduating exercises of the training school at Wesley Memorial Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Asa G. Candler will preside. The address will be made by Rev. H. M. DuBose, D.D. Pins will be presented to members of the class by Dr. E. G. Jones and diplomas by Dr. Stewart R. Roberts. In addition to a saxophone solo by Mrs. Wesley Hirschburg and a vocal solo by J. O. Pitts, there will be orchestra selections.

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH"

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed:

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingh'm 12:01 am	36	New York 12:15 am
33	New York 5:00 am	20	Columbus 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville 5:30 am	13	Cincinnati 5:40 am
43	Washington 5:25 am	32	Port Valley 5:30 am
35	Shreveport 6:30 am	35	Birmingh'm 6:50 am
16	Heflin 8:29 am	7	Chattn'ga 6:40 am
29	New York 11:15 am	12	Richmond 6:55 am
8	Chattn'ga 10:35 am	25	Kansas City 7:00 am
7	Macon 10:40 am	16	Brunswick 7:45 am
17	Port Valley 10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm 11:30 am
21	Columbus 10:50 am	38	New York 11:01 am
6	Cincinnati 11:10 am	40	Charlotte 12:00 n'n
2	Columbus 1:40 pm	6	Macon 12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm 12:30 pm	20	Columbus 12:30 pm
40	B'minghm 12:40 pm	36	New York 2:45 pm
39	Charlotte 3:55 pm	15	Chattn'ga 3:00 pm
5	Macon 4:00 pm	29	Birmingh'm 4:10 pm
37	New York 5:00 pm	*18	Toccoa 4:30 pm
15	Brunswick 7:50 pm	22	Columbus 5:10 pm
11	Richmond 8:30 pm	9	Cincinnati 7:10 pm
24	Kansas City 9:20 pm	23	Port Valley 5:20 pm
16	Chattan'ga 9:35 pm	25	Heflin 5:45 pm
19	Columbus 10:20 pm	10	Macon 5:50 pm
31	Port Valley 10:25 pm	44	Washington 8:45 pm
14	Cincinnati 11:00 pm	24	Jacksonville 9:30 pm
23	Jacksonville 6:50 am	11	Shreveport 11:10 pm
*17	Toccoa 8:10 am	14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm

Trains marked thus (*) run daily except Sunday.

Other trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office, No. 1 Peachtree Street.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Legal Notices.

GUARDIAN SALE.

GEORGIA—Fulton County.

By virtue of an order of the court of ordinary of said county, granted at the May term, 1913, will be sold before the court house door of said county, on the first Tuesday in June next, within the legal hours of sale, the following property of the estate of Marguerite Smith, to-wit: A one-twentieth undivided interest in all that tract or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the city of Macon and County of Bibb, in said State, and distinguished in the plan of said city as parts of lots Nos. one and two (1 and 2) in block No. sixty-one (61), in the southwest common of the city of Macon, and fronting on Whitehall Street sixty (60) feet, and running back the same width one hundred and fifty (150) feet, and containing one-quarter of an acre, more or less, said lot adjoining on the three remaining sides the lands belonging to the estate of B. F. Ross, with an alley on the north, between said lands and the lot herein described, and being the residence of E. P. Smith, late of said County of Bibb, deceased, and being the same property contained and described in deed from Susan M. Persons and Clara F. Florence to Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mary E. Smith, recorded in Deed Book "DD" in the clerk's office of Bibb Superior Court, folio 541, on February 23, 1882, which one-twentieth undivided interest is probably worth one hundred and fifty dollars.

Terms cash.

MRS. LULA SMITH,
Guardian of Marguerite Smith.
HINES & JORDAN, Attorneys. 5-9-8

Want Ad Tablets hit the spot. Try one if you want anything

SPECIAL NOTICES.

STATE FARM COTTON OFFERED FOR SALE—On Friday morning, May 30th inst., will be offered for sale the State Farm Cotton of about 350 bales at the State Farm, near Milledgeville. All Cotton Buyers are cordially invited to be present and make bid on this fine lot of cotton. The Prison Commission of Georgia. 5-22-11

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 66 Decatur Street. R. Amiel & Co. 5-22-221

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 4 Decatur Street. Ben Rosenthal. 5-22-222

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for wholesale, for white and colored, at 522 Decatur Street. New South Brewing Company. 5-22-223

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 1 and 3 North Broad Street. W. H. Towery & Co. 5-22-224

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 7 East Alabama Street. Oppenheim Cigar Co. 5-22-225

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 16 and 18 North Broad Street. Gann & Garraux. 5-22-226

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 48 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-227

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 50 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-228

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 27 W. Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-229

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 11 North Forsyth Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-230

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 5 West Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-231

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 82 South Broad Street. John Campbell. 5-22-232

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 West Mitchell Street. John Campbell. 5-22-233

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 205 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-234

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 203 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-235

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 21 West Mitchell Street. E. C. Lambert. 5-22-236

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 South Pryor Street. A. Springer. 5-22-237

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 33 East Alabama Street. Lee Dreyfus. 5-22-238

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 7 and 9 Viaduct Place. Harry Staten. 5-22-239

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 41 Marietta Street. Shackleford & Johnson. 5-22-240

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 156 Decatur Street. C. D. Jones. 5-22-200

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 36 N. Broad Street. Hollis Cigar and Soda Co. 5-22-201

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 10 Walton Street. A. N. Hollis. 5-22-202

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 67 N. Broad Street. D. B. & A. N. Hollis. 5-22-203

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 5 Decatur Street. J. Bigler. 5-22-204

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 45 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-205

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 99 Decatur Street. S. Parks. 5-22-206

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 113 Peters Street. Rozenberg Bros. 5-22-207

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 113 Decatur Street. M. Prisock. 5-22-208

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 147 Decatur Street. J. A. Batchelor. 5-22-209

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 530 Decatur Street. A. L. Johnson. 5-22-210

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 404 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-211

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 366 Decatur Street. E. Fitterman & Siegel. 5-22-212

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license, wholesale and retail, for white and colored, at 350-2-4 Decatur Street. Acme Brewing Co. 5-22-213

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 226 Marietta Street. M. L. Shatzen & Co. 5-22-241

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 383 Marietta Street. J. G. Fowler. 5-22-242

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 514 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel. 5-22-243

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 384 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel & Co. 5-22-244

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 19 Peachtree Street. Ed Lambert. 5-22-245

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 Edgewood Avenue. Manheim & Powell. 5-22-246

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 129 Edgewood Avenue. Louis Silverman. 5-22-248

The MARKET BASKET for the BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Specials For
Friday and Saturday

Legs of Lamb (whole) 15c
Round Steak 15c
Fancy Rib Roast 12 1-2c and 15c
Snapper Fish Slats 12 1-2c
Pork Chops 18c
Picnic Hams 17c
Lamb Stew 10c
Sausage 10c
Liver 10c

Get the middleman's profit. Come and see.

Campbell Bros.
89 Decatur Street.
150 Marietta St.

Wood's SATURDAY SPECIALS

RED GRAVY COUNTRY (whole) HAMS 24c
Fancy Dressed Hens 20c
Pork Roast ..... 17 1-2 and 22c
Porterhouse Steak 22 1-2
Porterhouse Steak, 22 1-2c and 25c
Lamb Chops 25c
Pure Pork Sausage 17 1-2c
Blue Valley Butter 35c
Prairie Rose Butter 35c
Kingan's Breakfast Bacon, 1-pound package 33c

Wood Bros.
165 Peachtree. 36 Luckie.
Bell Ivy 7086, 7087, 7088, 796.

Sandwiches and Salads For the Summer Supper

By ELBERT L. THORNTON.

Sandwiches and Salads for the Supper during the summer months for the readers of the Market Basket.

Sandwiches.
Bacon and Tomato Sandwich.
Pecan and Butter Sandwich.
Minced Tongue and Boiled Egg Sandwich.
Cream Cheese and Jelly Sandwich.
Deviled Ham Sandwich.
Pimiento Cheese and Lettuce Sandwich.
Cold Roast Beef Sandwich.
Chicken and Bacon Sandwich.
Sardine and Pickle Sandwich.
Peanut Butter and Tomato Sandwich.
Goose Liver Paste Sandwich.
Anchovy Sandwich.
Swiss Cheese Sandwich.
Olive Relish.
Chip Beef.
Tomato and Butter Sandwich.
Club Sandwich.
Herring Sandwich.
Cheese and Olive Sandwich.

Salads.
Tomato and Lettuce Salad.
Asparagus Salad.
Mixed Vegetable Salad.
Grapefruit Salad.
Salmon and Celery Salad.
Chicken Apple and Nut Salad.
German Potato Salad.
Green Pepper and Onion Salad.
Cucumber Salad.
Fruit Salad.
Cabbage and Egg Salad.
Water Cress Salad.
Chicory Salad.
Stuffed Pepper with Shrimp.
Lettuce and Egg Salad.
Mashed Potato Salad.
Stuffed Tomato with Celery.
Stuffed Egg with Ham.

These sandwiches and salads can be prepared at noon and placed on your table after dinner, so you won't have too go into your kitchen.

Canned and fresh fruits with cake make a nice dessert, such as peaches and cream, sliced pineapple and cookies, strawberries and cream, stewed apples, prunes, etc.

SPECIALS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	79c sack	2 cans No. 2 Tomatoes	15c
Gold Medal Flour	83c sack	10c Salmon, 3 for	25c
KKK Flour	90c	Full Cream Cheese	19c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard	$1.39	2 cans Corn	15c
5 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard	70c	New Irish Potatoes, per qt.	5c
Old Irish Potatoes, per pk.	29c	Faust Macaroni, per pkg.	5c
3 cans No. 3 Tomatoes	25c	Blue Valley Butter, lb.	35c

WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF WESTERN MEATS.

H. POLLOCK'S
REMEMBER THE PLACE—487 CAPITOL AVENUE.
Phone M. 150. Atlanta 2280.

BIG PARADE JUNE 4!

ALL GROCERY STORES and meat markets will close at noon every Wednesday during June, July and August, beginning June 4th with a big parade through the principal streets.

We earnestly desire the co-operation of our lady friends and customers in making these holidays a great success. They mean much to our help.

TAPPAN & CO.
55 HIGHLAND AVENUE.

SEWELL'S Money-Saving Specials for Saturday

Buy from first hands and save 20 per cent to 50 per cent on your purchases. We retail at wholesale prices.

Solid carload Fancy Lemons, per dozen 14-1-2c
Solid carload Pineapples, each 7c
Solid carload New Irish Potatoes, per pk. 29c
Florida Tomatoes, per basket 15c
Quart bottle Grape Juice 29c
Missouri Brand Hams, per pound 19c
Missouri Brand Picnic Hams, per lb. .. 14c
35c can Libby's Asparagus 17 1-2c
Solid carload Poultry and Eggs.
Fresh dressed Hens, dressed on premises—per pound 17 1-2c

Sewell Commission Co.
Wholesale and Retail.
113-115 Whitehall St.
Branch store 164 Decatur St.

FOR
PURE ICE CREAM
Send Your Orders to
GEO. MOORE
Atlanta Phone 1326. Bell M. 3323.
68-70-72 Central Ave.

Never Again

Do I bake bread, is what she said.
She used Tip-Top Bread.
Enough said.

Why Bake Bread At Home

When you can get just as good over the phone? Call your grocer and ask for

Tip-Top Bread.

Why Become Fatigued and Worried?

The weather is oppressive. Let us help you. We will lessen your troubles. Don't go to the bother of making bread in the Summer time, you will find Tip-Top Bread As good as thine.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

CALL THE FARM PRODUCTS CO.

FOR FRESH COUNTRY Butter and Eggs

HENS, FRYERS, BROILERS, DUCKS, GEESE and TURKEYS. We receive these right from the country and dress them on the premises while you wait. Not storage.

129 South Pryor.
Main 3402. Atl. 815.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 17 Marietta Street. P. P. O'Byrne. 5-22-249

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 256 Decatur Street. H. Lysten. 5-22-252

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 127 North Pryor Street. C. C. Jones. 5-22-253

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 191 Decatur Street. Jud Stow. 5-22-254

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 Marietta Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-255

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 South Forsyth Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 29 South Pryor Street. Schwarz & Bleim. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 470 Decatur Street. M. A. Rogers. 34-22-5

AT THE next meeting of Council we will apply for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 West Mitchell Street. J. D. Brady & Bro. 33-22-5

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 324 Decatur Street. L. Zabludowsky. 5-22-214

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer Licenses.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 252 Decatur Street. J. N. Coggins. 5-22-215

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 230 Decatur Street. S. Krasner. 5-22-216

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 202-4 Decatur Street. Danneman Bros. 5-22-217

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 150 Decatur Street. J. Brantingham & Co. 5-22-218

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 80 Decatur Street. Walter Harris. 5-22-219

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 74 Decatur Street. Pete Mitchell. 5-22-220

PERSONAL.

YOUNG LADIES taken for training at the Randolph Company Hair Dressing Parlors, 58½ Whitehall Street. 3-3-37

NOW is the time to paint and we have the best that can be made. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters St. 5-21-10

ACME HATTERS HAVE MOVED TO 20 E. HUNTER STREET. OLD HATS MADE NEW. 4-23-42

PERSONAL.

VICTOR L. TREMAINE.

Mystic.
Permanently Located in Atlanta.
125 WEST PEACHTREE STREET
Hours 10 to 7. Closed on Fridays.
Develops personal magnetism and psychic powers. Your greatest wish can positively be realized. Every case guaranteed. 30-21-5

THE GATE CITY DOLL HOSPITAL, 243 Courtland, near Cain, repairs all kinds of dolls. 203-24-4

FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS—Wood fly screens, metal fly screens, hardwood floors, Venetian blinds, metal weather strips furnished anywhere in the South. Write or phone W. R. Callaway, manager, 1403 Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga. Main 5310.

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, homelike. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-37

DR. GAULT'S Antiseptic Powder for women. It is cleansing, cooling and non-irritating. Can be used as a douche at any time with safety. It has no equal. Price $1 per box, postpaid. J. T. Gault Chemical Company, 702 Austell Building, Atlanta. 4-25-23

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—In neighborhood of Houston and Courtland, little brown shaggy male puppy, white feet and white ring around neck. Finder please return to 66 Houston Street. Reward. 5-23-20

LOST—Thursday on Whitehall Street, lady's watch fob with name "Eva" engraved. Finder return to Terminal Hotel and receive liberal reward. 5-23-10

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—A homestead in Davison-Paxon-Stokes or in High's. Call Atlanta phone 2979. 5-22-21

LOST—Wednesday, 14th, Shepherd dog, with large leather collar, bushy tail; answers to name of "Shep." Atlanta 1131. 5-22-27

LOST—Wednesday, a Boston terrier bulldog; has one glass eye; answers to name of "Queen." Atlanta phone 1151. 5-22-25

LOST—Monday, about $35 in money and check made out to T. P. Westbrook. Finder please return to 107 Ivy St., or call Ivy 4778 and receive reward. 5-21-41

LOST—On Peachtree Street, silver card case, filigree to lining, containing check for $45, No. 6048, made out to Miss Mary Green, payable to Third National Bank. Return to Miss Green, 387 Spring, and receive reward. Ivy 2322-J. 5-21-40

LOST—Ring set with pearls. Finder call Ivy 2179 or P. O. Box 257. 5-21-38

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Boy with bicycle, deliver and collect Monday afternoons, route. Call 5 to 6. 26 Capitol Avenue. 204-5-23

WANTED—Assistant soda dispenser. Apply, with references, to Melton's Pharmacy. 5-22-38

WANTED—Press feeder. 110½ Whitehall Street. Ross Moore. 5-22-28

WANTED—Delivery boy, with bicycle, experienced with groceries. Apply 391 S. Pryor St. 5-22-26

SOLICITORS and agents for a live proposition. Franklin Press, 41½ Peachtree Street. 23-22-3

A 30c "Want Ad" placed in this paper may be the seed that will grow a fortune for you

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Stair builder, one competent to handle circle stair work. Apply Phoenix Planing Mill, 321 Highland Avenue. 5-22-4

ANY ONE knowing the whereabouts of Lee Martin, white, about eighteen, will confer a favor by communicating same to M., Box 580, care Georgian. 5-21-2

WANTED—Two first-class waiters. Apply 295 Peachtree; Adair Hotel. 5-21-26

WANTED—Colored help. Apply Southern Upholstering Co., corner Jefferson and Echo. 5-21-25

ATLANTA mail carriers wanted; average $90 month. Atlanta examinations coming. Specimen questions free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49-D, Rochester, N. Y. 30-14-5

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Peachtree and Forsyth Streets, Atlanta, or 411 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga. 4-1-1

WANTED—ideas. Inventors, write for list of inventions wanted and prizes offered by manufacturers. Also, how to get your patent. Sent free to any address. Randolph & Briscoe, patent attorneys, Washington, D. C. 7-11-23

PULLMAN porters wanted; references. For instruction. Write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-37

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 East Mitchell St. 5-11-17

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells of about 300,000 protected positions in U. S. service. Thousands of vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, sure and generous pay, lifetime employment. Just ask for booklet T-412. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 5-1-1

Female.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 240 Courtland, apartment 3. 5-23-48

WANTED—At once, an experienced cook. References required. 61 Avery Drive, Ansley Park. 5-23-43

WANTED—Competent general servant. Apply to 439 North Jackson St. 33-23-5

WANTED—A cook; good pay. Phone Ivy 6481-J. 62 Westminster Drive. 5-23-35

WANTED—Good cook; one that can bake bread; will pay $5 per week. Apply 174 St. Charles Avenue at once. 29-23-5

FREE—Ladies, we trim and make over hats free in our finishing department; lace and maline hats to order. Ideal Millinery School, 100½ Whitehall St. 5-23-202

STEWARDESS WANTED—Middle-aged lady who can make desserts and control help; in health resort. Address Richard Plenge, Williamston, S. C. 32-23-5

WANTED—Experienced assorter. Apply Excelsior Laundry, 40-42 Wall St. 5-22-19

WANTED—Lady steno-bookkeeper of fair ability. State salary, age, references. Go out of city. Merchant, care Georgian. 5-22-10

A COOK—Four in family; room on the place with private toilet and electric lights. 282 St. Charles Avenue. 31-22-5

WANTED—Good cook; also washerwoman to live on place. Apply 667 W. Peachtree Street. 5-21-37

COLORED girl of neat appearance for general housework. 49 Vedado Way. 42-21-5

WANTED—Experienced nurse for two children, three and three years old; settled woman preferred. Must have good references. Apply 787 Ponce De-Leon. 5-21-14

A FIRST-CLASS chambermaid; good wages. Apply 241 West Peachtree. 38-21-5

WANTED—Experienced cook. Must be settled, unincumbered woman willing to go to country place. Call mornings, 205 Peachtree Circle. 32-21-5

WANTED—Good cook. Must live in the house. Apply 1068 DeKalb Avenue. 36-20-5

WANTED—Housekeeper for sanitarium. Apply in person with references. Experience required. 237 Whitehall Street. 5-22-5

U. S. GOVERNMENT POSITIONS open to women. Write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 602-D, Rochester, N. Y. 25-20-5

WANTED—Experienced millinery trimmer and saleslady; also saleswoman for suits and shirtwaists. Grossman's. 5-19-10

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pay $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. 3-29-41

Male and Female.

BOYS and girls everywhere, to make a dollar every day after school. Pleasant and easy work. Call on or write A. W. Cassil, 41½ Peachtree Street, Atlanta. Inclose stamped and addressed envelope for reply. 33-21-5

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

NO. 6 REMINGTONS, $5 for 4 months; Royals, $7 for 4 months; Underwoods, $8 for 4 month; Remington visible, $9 for 4 months. Initial payment allowed on price of machine. Get our new illustrated catalog and price list No. 25. American Writing Machine Co., 48 N. Pryor Street. Phone M. 2526.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 N. Pryor St. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

TEACHERS WANTED.

WRITE for record of our eight years' work. High class patronage. Efficient service. Foster's Teachers Agency, Atlanta, Ga. 64-4-4

WANTED AT ONCE—A few more first-class principals and assistant teachers. Good openings, good salaries. Free registration. Register Teachers' Agency Register, Ga. 5-18-9

EDUCATIONAL.

WILL take a limited number of pupils for piano; $2 per month; graduate musician. 7 Kent St. 5-21-22

EMORY summer school; cool, quiet; fifty days from June 17. Latin, Greek, French, German, English, history, mathematics. Address E. K. Turner, Oxford, Ga. 5-9-1

AGENTS AND SALESMEN.

Wanted.

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

WE want a REAL good REAL estate salesman. FINE OPENING. Apply by mail. Wilkes, Box 662, care Georgian. 5-22-13

Want Anything?

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers, accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion ...10c a line
3 insertions ... 6c a line
7 insertions ... 5c a line
30 insertions ...4½c a line
90 insertions ... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

No advertisement accepted from out of town unless accompanied by cash, or forwarded through recognized advertising agency.

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—By colored man, position as first-class cook. Address Cook, Box 354, care Georgian. 205-5-23

LISTEN! If you want first-class salesman, with A-1 references and ability to deliver the goods, or a good all-round man, call Atlanta phone 3761. Must have work. Address W. C., Box 891, care Georgian. 5-23-5

AS REPRESENTATIVE of some corporation or salesman; for some firm at Macon, or on the road. Willing to work one month to demonstrate my ability. Can furnish reference. Address Honest Gentleman, care Georgian. 41-22-5

WANTED—Position by young man as pressman. Will accept reasonable salary. Address, Press, Box 495, care Georgian. 208-5-22

STENOGRAPHER—Young married man With two years' experience in railroad traffice work desires position. Address P. O. Box 23, Boca Grande, Fla. 37-22-5

COLLEGE graduate with two years' experience as bookkeeper and cashier for responsible firm desires responsible employment; write good hand, can use typewriter rapidly; can furnish best city references. Address E., Box 6, care Georgian. 32-22-5

ARCHITECT—Young man; designer and head draughtsman for seven years in leading New York offices, wishes to affiliate with good local architect. An interview will be convincing. Address J. M. B., care Georgian. 205-5-22

A SPLENDID dining room boy, private home or office work. Want work at once. Can give good reference. Answer quick. Z. B., 383 Martin Street, City. 30-22-5

WANTED—Position b yan experienced man as manager of small telephone exchange. Can give the best of references as to character and ability. Address J. J. N., 1004 Lafayette St., Quitman, Ga. 47-21-5

FIRST-CLASS German butler wants position; can furnish best references. Address 47 E. Mitchell St. 44-21-5

YOUNG MAN of good business ability wishes to affiliate with good concern. All recommendations of highest sources. An interview with me will be convincing. Phone Ivy 6299-L. 5-21-17

STENOGRAPHER of experience desires position at once; best references. Call Main 4865-J. 5-21-7

YOUNG MAN, 26, recently arrived from New York, seeks position as bookkeeper or clerk in mercantile house offering advancement; good correspondent and willing worker. Address Clerk, 889, care Georgian. 39-21-5

WANTED—Position as sawyer at circular saw mill in Georgia or Florida. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Six years' experience. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Council, N. C. 34-19-5

POSITION WANTED—Bookkeeper, 30, ten years' experience as bookkeeper, cashier, collector, wants position; best references. Bond if desired. Experience, Box 55, care Georgian. 31-12-5

BOOKKEEPER and auditor will straighten out your bookkeeping and office troubles. Trial balances made. Small sets of books written up. P. O. Box 836. Phone Ivy 7011. 5-4-13

Female.

YOUNG GIRL wants position in small family to do general housework. Address M. G. J., 899 Gordon St. 201-5-23

WANTED—Position as cashier by young lady with experience. Address M. C., 21 White Oak Street, Atlanta, Ga. 200-5-22

TYPEWRITING, any class, accurately, neatly done; reasonable. Stenographer, Ivy 5. 28-22-5

STENOGRAPHER with four and half years' experience desires permanent position at once. Address Miss C. L., 562 Capitol Avenue. 41-21-5

WANTED—Position by young lady as stenographer; three years' experience. Care Georgian. 206-5-21

HIGHLY efficient stenographer, office assistant, has resigned position. Must have another immediately. $18.00 per week minimum. Phone Ivy 5840. 5-21-4

WANTED—Cases to nurse by experienced sick nurse. Maternity cases a specialty. Rates reasonable. Best references. Call Ivy 7304-J, or West 1054. 36-20-5

Male and Female.

WANTED—Position by man and wife; woman to cook and man to work garden and care for chickens; best of references. Address R. B., Box 450, care Georgian. 201-5-21

DRESSMAKING—DRESSMAKERS.

WANTED—Dressmaking. One-piece dresses $2.00 and up. Mrs. O. E. Smith, 27 N. Howard St., Kirkwood. 5-20-7

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

$25.00 English baby carriage. Good as new. Will sell for less than one-third. Call West 210. 5-23-19

FOR SALE—An oak chiffonier with mirror, good as new, cheap for cash. East Point 291-L. 5-23-23

FOR SALE—New Remington automatic shotgun. Bargain if taken now. Thos. Peacock, Rutledge, Ga. 5-23-8

FOR SALE—One National coaster-brake bicycle, good as new, cheap for cash, for quick sale. Apply 533 Woodward Avenue. 27-23-5

FOR SALE—Controlling interest in modern, up-to-date, beautifully furnished, thoroughly sanitary, new and well patronized beauty parlor, to party who can take charge and manage same. Cash, real estate or terms. Write F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. 5-23-1

DEALER in fresh meats, groceries, country produce, fat spring chickens and yard eggs of my own raising. Both phones. 234 Capitol Ave. 5-22-35

CANOE FOR SALE—15-foot "DE-TROIT" canoe; cushion and racing paddles complete. Boat equipped with sponsons and was "made to order." Perfectly new. Price complete $50. Call "Canoe," Phones 484. 202-5-22

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, show cases, scales and National cash register, at a bargain. Main 3239. Atlanta 880. 80 Capitol Avenue. 5-22-202

FOR SALE—Furniture complete for 6-room house. Cheap for cash. 333 Juniper Street. Phone Ivy 4834. 207-5-22

FOR SALE—16-inch oscillating electric fan. Brand new. Direct current. $15. P. O. Box 640. 5-22-15

FOR SALE—Less than half cost, soda fount; good condition. Brewster Mercantile Co., Esom Hill, Ga. 5-22-13

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

FOR SALE—Brown wicker baby carriage; used 8 months; in perfect condition; cost $25; will sell for $10. Bell Phone West 1113-J. 5-21-20

MAHOGANY bed room suit for sale; a bargain; or will exchange for room and board. 115 McDaniel. Main 2489-J. 5-21-33

FOR SALE—Six direct current 16-inch desk fans; used only two months. West 502. 5-21-29

SWEET PEAS, 30c per 100; carnations, 50c a dozen. Alta Vista Floral Company. West 135. 5-21-16

WE are agents for Pittsburg wire fence. Can make interesting prices to both wholesale and retail trade. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta. 5-21-12

GAS water heater for sale cheap. Good as new. Phone Ivy 2407-J. 5-21-3

FOR SALE—Fresh broken crackers, 5c a pound at factory, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Frank E. Block Co., Ellis St. 5-20-11

IMMEDIATE shipment of (genuine) Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potato plants at $1.25 per thousand, or $1.50 delivered. We ship nothing but good, strong, fresh plants and guarantee entire satisfaction. The Bear's Head Farms, Pine Castle, Fla. 32-19-5

NEW Perfection refrigerator, suitable for grocery, restaurant or large boarding house. 391 South Pryor. Bell phone 623, Atlanta phone 299. 5-19-6

FOR SALE—Two pool tables, practically new; been in use in club room and not hurt; must sell at once; bargain; original cost $400. Address P. O. Box 87, Jonesboro, Ga. 5-1-6

FOR SALE.

I WILL SELL a valuable patent at a sacrifice if taken immediately. Worth one-half million. Address Patent, Box 863, care Georgian. 3-8-6

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall, M. 3780. 3-18-33

WE RENT good pianos $3 per month up. We sell good pianos $5 per month up. R. P. BECHT COMPANY, 107-108-109 Temple Court Building. Main 667. 3-19-24

C. S. HULLS & Co., Atlanta. Headquarters. F. R. Logan & 4-20-32

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT SWEEP CLEAN.

LET US prove this in your home by free demonstration. Full particulars at 107 Temple Court Building. L. R. Sires, agent. Phone Main 667. 5-2-30

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR
Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.
C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

BANKRUPTCY blanks, $1.50 per set. Warranty deeds, bonds for title, Mortgages, contracts, Stock certificates and bonds, Bennett's, 25 South Broad. 201-20-13

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Avenue. 2-13-9

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 N. Pryor Street.

KENT SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

GOOD upright mahogany piano, nearly new; can be bought at a sacrifice if taken quick; sold for $350 less than six months ago. Mahogany Piano, care Georgian. 5-18-20

PIANO BARGAINS.

PIANOS AND PIANO PLAYERS.

SOLD at the lowest prices and on the most reasonable terms at which first-class instruments can be handled. Behr Bros., Newby & Evans, Ludwig and others. Call and see me before you buy.

WALTER HUGHES,
88 N. Pryor St. 3-29-3

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—One second-hand oil stove, in good condition. Address P. O. Box 339, Atlanta. 25-23-5

WANTED—Two rolltop desks, mahogany or imitation. Write 1309, Third National Bank Bldg. 26-22-5

WANTED—Second-hand ice cream table and six wire chairs. Cherokee Drug Company. Main 2808. 5-20-24

EVERYTHING to build and paint with. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-21-11

AUTOMOBILES

For Sale, Repairs and Accessories.

FOR SALE—Wood's electric coupe, with forty-cell, iron-clad exide battery. Entire car in fine condition. Price $700.

35-horsepower, 5-passenger Firestone-Columbus touring car in good condition and a good looker, $475. Firestone-Columbus Southern Co., 45-47 Auburn Avenue. Phone Ivy 4177. 5-22-7

WILL trade nice corner lot for good auto. Must be first-class; value of lot $900.00. Phone Main 4836-J. 200-5-21

WE have several Flanders chassis and will build body and paint car to your order. Bargain prices. Don't buy any second-hand car until you see us. NORTH PRYOR GARAGE, NORTH PRYOR PLACE. 4-2-28

WINDSHIELDS.
RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Mfrs. all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Co., 248 Edgewood. 3-4-64

GOOD USED CARS
AT REASONABLE PRICES.
Maxwell, 2-cylinder runabout, fine condition throughout, $185.
"Courier Roadster," fully equipped, electric lights, $275.
Buick model 10 roadster, electric lights, $325.
Buick, model 33, 4-passenger, fully equipped, fine condition, $350.
Maxwell Roadster, Sportsman type, model Q, fully equipped, electric lights, $375.
Maxwell touring, model G, 4-passenger, fully equipped, $450.
Primo touring car, new top and seat covers, $450.
These cars are in good running condition and worth more than the prices quoted above.
BUICK MOTOR COMPANY.
241 PEACHTREE ST. 4-11-18

Castiron Welding
AUTOGENOUS METHOD.
AUTO AND ALL MACHINE PARTS.
METAL WELDING COMPANY.
MAIN 3013. 86 GARNETT STREET. 2-26-6

DOBBS TIRE REPAIR CO.
WE REPAIR AND SELL ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES. 226 PEACHTREE STREET. PHONE IVY 5646. 4-1-3

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WARNING TO INFRINGERS AND IMITATORS.
LIQUID TIRE TONIC IS PROTECTED BY U. S. DUYREA PATENT, NO. 578551. ALL INFRINGERS, AGENTS OR USERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT THEY MUST ANSWER IN THE COURT FOR VIOLATION OF THIS LAW. LIQUID TIRE TONIC COMPANY, KANSAS CITY MO. 4-8-42

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.
REPAIRING and manufacturing. Lamp and fender work. 72 Ivy Street. Atlanta phone 3816. 3-10-12

Garages For Rent.

FOR RENT—Garage. Phone Ivy 1499-J. 514 Peachtree Street.

Automobiles For Rent

DUNHAM MOTOR CO.
FIVE and seven-passenger cars. Garage, 112 East Ellis Street. Call Bell phone Ivy 2496 day, Main 4325 night. 3-21-23

Motorcycles.

THOR MOTORCYCLES, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Co., 116 Edgewood Ave. 3-26-31

MOTORCYCLES  EASY TERMS  BICYCLES.
EXCELSIOR motorcycles, high-grade bicycles; complete line new and used bicycles and motorcycles; complete stock parts and accessories; modern service depot. Lowest prices; easy terms. ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO., 145-147-149 Edgewood Avenue. Phone Ivy 1609. PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION. 4-1-22

Tire Repairing

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE."
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 3-26-24

EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—To exchange three diamond rings, value $1,100, for purchase money notes or vacant lots. J. H., Box 902, care Georgian. 42-22-5

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Best daily newspaper proposition in South Georgia—in the best city of its size in the State; modern equipment throughout. Can be bought at a bargain, half cash or good negotiable paper, balance on easy terms. Write quick to "Newspaper," Box 10, care Georgian. 5-23-12

TAILORING, cleaning and pressing business well established, excellent location, now paying $1,500 per year clear of all expenses. On account of failing in health will sacrifice for $1,000. Will accept $600 cash, balance on terms. Address P. O. Box 66, care Georgian. 5-22-1

$1,000 WILL BUY business netting 100 per cent yearly with opportunity for additional $100 monthly for services. Cash, Box 903, care Georgian. 28-21-5

CENTRALLY LOCATED restaurant and lunch room having good trade in bakery wares also. A rare chance for party that can devote his time. Present owner tied up in other business. Address R. K., Box 90, care Georgian. 201-5-19

FOR SALE—Business paying $200 to $300 per month, owner leaving city, cheap for quick cash sale. Address I. L. B., Box 607, care Georgian. 5-18-57

MEDICAL.

DR. R. P. SORRELLS, 313 Grand Building. Phone Ivy 7422. Diseases of women and children a specialty. I treat and cure diseases of women without the use of the knife. I also treat and cure cancer without using the knife. All consultations free and strictly confidential. 5-22-3

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Solum Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Poultry Fertilizer Better than Chemical To Build Up Land

EDITED BY JUDGE F. J. MARSHALL

Farmers Do Not Take Advantage of the Experience of Others. Great Opportunities.

The value of the poultry products in the country for 1910 was approximately $800,000,000, and the 1913 product will be around $1,000,000,000.

Much of this is attributed to the everlasting and persistent efforts of the American Poultry Association, an organization whose aims and efforts are to the building up and increasing of the thoroughbred poultry interests of this country. How well they have succeeded we will leave the reader to judge for himself from the wonderful building up of the industry in every nook and corner of the country.

But the very people who should receive the greatest benefits from this work are not reaping the benefits they should. I refer to the farmers of this country, and especially those of the South.

The raising of cotton by the means of chemical fertilizers seems to have a death grip upon them; so much so that they can not see over it into anything more profitable to them. They have been constantly ruining their land, but they have been turning it out to grow up in bushes and adding new land to keep up the supply. But that string to their bow is about worn out, and they must look to the building up or maintaining the fertility of the soil now in hand.

Chemical Fertilizers.

This can hardly be accomplished by the use of chemical fertilizers, for at best they represent little more than prods and stimulants, such as whisky, morphine and the like to the human body, requiring more and more at each succeeding dose to produce the results, the result of which is utter depletion. What they need are the natural elements, such as poultry manure, prepared in the way of a compost heap, can furnish to the soil. A thousand hens on the average small farm, with proper care of the droppings, will do wonders in enriching the soil. The land should then be cropped in rotation with peas, corn, clover, potatoes, etc.—with the careful deep plowing so essential to the conserving of all the elements of the soil and air, which will work wonders. If the hens are allowed to range at intervals during the day, they will do more toward destroying the insect enemies of the crops than all the insecticides you can buy.

About 175 days represent the working actually spent during the year upon the farm. If the farmer would devote at least a part of the remaining time to the care and management of a good flock of well bred chickens instead of remaining idle, much profit would result and his farm would improve in fertility each year.

The American Poultry Association stands for pure thoroughbred stock. It does not indicate to you what varieties you should keep. It leaves that to you. But whatever you do, discard the old mixed breed, and take up something that will show uniformity not only in color and breed characteristics, but in the production of eggs and meat. I have simply outlined a course that can be made profitable not only in the way of dollars and cents, but the improvement of your land in a permanent way. Get busy and work out the details, as every one must who makes a success of anything in this world.

Questions and Answers.

Judge Marshall—Some of my chickens have what seems to me to be rheumatism. They sit around on their hock joints a good deal of the time, and when they do attempt to get about they succeed with difficulty, hobbling about in a most ungainly manner. They seem to eat well and in many ways are all right. We have lost none so far with it, but of course will if they are not helped in some way. Can you suggest anything that might help them out? Thanking you in advance, I am yours truly—Mrs. M. M. H., Jackson, Miss.

Answer.—The first thing to do is to remove the cause if possible. It is no doubt rheumatism caused by roosting too low in a house or coop with a damp clay floor. Give the floor a coating of two inches of good dry sand or sawdust; something that will remove the results of the dampness. Have plenty of ventilation, but let it be pure and free from filth or dampness. Those afflicted should respond readily to treatment of some good liniment or a solution of witch hazel and arnica well rubbed in about the joints. We would also recommend the use of salts in the drinking water at the rate of a teaspoon to each two fowls. Give this one week and then use Douglass Mixture the next week.

The principal effort should, however, be made in protecting the well ones rather than in treating the sick.

Ducks.

SELLING OUT at a great sacrifice, Fawn and White Runners, at $5c each; White Runners at $1.10 each. They are of excellent type and courage and are now laying. Mrs. C. C. Ramsay, Luthersville, Ga. 36-22-5

ENTIRE lot of prize-winning Fawn and White and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale at $1.50 each. Will sell any number at this price. First come, first served. The ducks won first and second prizes at all the leading poultry shows in the South last fall. Will give ribbons with the birds. Oak Dean Poultry Farm, Stone Mountain, Ga. 5-20-2

Eggs—All Varieties.

THE EGGS of different varieties of fowls will be found classified under their respective breeds in the future, instead of under the classification of "Eggs."

Plymouth Rocks.

BARRED ROCK eggs, pure and fresh from the Georgia Poultry Farm, $1 per setting. On sale at 12 South Broad St. 32-18-5

EGGS from prize-winning E. B. Thompson Ringlet Barred Rocks, either mating, $3 for fifteen, $5 for thirty. A. M. Kendall, Dallas, Ga. 3-3-11

Poultry—All Varieties.

FOR SALE—Twenty hens, five roosters, 25 little ones (Buff Orpingtons) at a song. 301 Pulliam St. 206-5-23

FREE RANGE DUCK AND POULTRY FARM, Chamblee, Ga. Large stock of White Runners, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds, enables us to ship fresh eggs, strong and fertile. Write for prices on stock and eggs if you want a bargain. 1-21-15

Rhode Island Reds.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs, 75c per setting, for short time. Call Main 4365-J. 5-22-39

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Sound, young, gentle horse; weight about 1,100 pounds; must be cheap for cash. Ivy 3128-J. 5-21-21

Goats.

GOAT HARNESS and wagon wanted at once. Phone Main 4. 5-23-4

Dogs.

FOR SALE—Pit bull terrier; subject to registration. Call Ivy 5912. 5-22-17

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

BERMUDA grass seeds now ready at the oldest seed house South. Also many seeds to plant now. Mark W. Johnson Seed Co., 35 South Pryor Street. 34-21-5

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDSMEN FOR THE SOUTH.
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.
FOUR CITY DELIVERIES DAILY: NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES, 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END, 2 P. M.
BELL PHONE MAIN 2568, ATLANTA 2568.

NOW IS THE TIME to begin using lice powder, liquid lice killers and disinfectants. We carry Lee's, Conkey's and Pratt's Lice Powders and Liquid Lice Killers. Start using either of them now and you will not be bothered with lice and mites in your poultry houses and on your fowls this summer.

SAGO PALM BULBS started now will make large palms this season. We have all size bulbs. Price 15c a pound, two pounds 25c.

DON'T FORGET that we are headquarters for poultry feeds, poultry remedies, drinking founts, food hoppers, etc.

BUGS CAN'T STAY on plants when "Bug Death" is used. It is a dry powder put up in convenient size packages and is non-poisonous. It can be put on the plants in the morning when the dew is on or can be put on after the plants have been sprinkled. Price, pound package 15c, 3 pounds 35c, 5 pounds 50c, 12½ pounds $1.00.

The principal effort should, however, be made in protecting the well ones rather than in treating the sick.

MONEY TO LOAN.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad street. 4-1-17

PLENTY money to loan on city property. Watt Kelly, Attorney, 400 Temple Court Building. 42-2-5

R. C. DESAUSSURE.
TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Building. 4-29-25

WE loan money on furniture and household goods. F. & J. Loan Company, 120 Decatur Street. 4-25-8

MONEY ON HAND for immediate loans on property in or near Atlanta. J. E. VanValkenburg, 501 Equitable Bldg.

MORTGAGE LOANS
On Atlanta Property.
BUSINESS BUILDINGS,
5 and 5½ per cent.
RESIDENCE BUILDINGS,
6½, 6 and 6½ per cent.
Your rate depends upon the location. Without notice you can pay back a hundred, any multiple of a hundred dollars, on the entire loan on any interest date.
TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN.
Loan Correspondents,
PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA.
203-8 Empire Building.

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

MONEY TO LOAN.

WEYMAN & CONNORS.
ESTABLISHED 1890.
Mortgages on Real Estate. 4-1-3

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plant. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood avenue.

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould building. 7-12-1

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 320 Austell building.

MONEY WANTED.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6%
ON SAVINGS.
IN SUMS of $500 to $5,000. The Merchants and Mechanics' Banking and Loan Co., 209 Grant Building. Tel. Ivy 5341.
Cash Capital $120,000.
Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, Pres. 3-11-50

BUSINESS GUIDE

Ready Reference for the Business Man, the Artisan And the Public in General

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Corner Alabama and Broad street. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Bicycles.

FOR BICYCLES and supplies, See D. Alexander, 54 N. Pryor. M. 3116. Repair Work a specialty. 2-27-51

CALL Main 1320, Atlanta 1436. Bicycle repairs and sundries. Atlanta Bicycle Company, 10 Peters Street. 2-15-66

Blacksmithing.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON WORK.
WE make all kinds of metal windows and doors, also window gratings and hangers of all kinds. Anderson Bros. & Rich, 372 Edgewood Avenue. 4-2-7

Blue Prints.

DIXIE BLUE PRINT CO.
40½ LUCKIE STREET, Atlanta, Ga. Best equipment. Best prints of any size or kind. Lowest prices. Phone Ivy 5364. 4-28-12

Builders.

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-15-16

Carpenter and Builder.

ALL KINDS REPAIR WORK.
D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Carpets and Rugs Cleaned.

ATLANTA STEAM CARPET CLEANING COMPANY (Inc.) 27 West Alexander street. Phone Ivy 4186. Moist and dry cleaning. Rugs woven from your old carpets and rags. Porch shades made to order. 2-8-27

Coal, Coke and Wood.

S. M. TRUITT & SONS,
for dry wood and best coal. 1-31-21

Contract Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON, 397 W. Fair St., West 1288-J, for all kinds of painting and tinting.

Dentist.

BEST WORK
Crowns (22 k.) $3.00
Bridge work $3.00
Full set teeth $3.00
Filling 50c
R. R. fare allowed 25 miles. All work guaranteed 20 years.
Eastern Painless Dentists
38½ Peachtree St., Near Walton.
4-2-31

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs. 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Engineering.

"Amo Engineers Are Questionable!" YOU NEED engineering advice. Write us your troubles, problems, resources. We'll help you. Amo House, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. Fee, $1. 5-3-5

Engineering and Machine Designing.

G. V. PLANT, M. E.
I DEVELOP YOUR INVENTION.
Dixie Pattern and Machine Works, 262 West North Avenue. Main 2829. 4-5-17

Fire-Proof Storage.

WE STORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS and pianos. Office and warehouse, 239-241 Edgewood avenue. Ivy 2037. John J. Woodside Storage Company.

Fly Screens.

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.
METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

FLY—SCREENS—FLY
COME SEE our Roll-aawy Screens, our Roller-bearing Screens, our Sliding Screens; none better. It will pay you to see our goods; get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Co. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 2-4-14

Fresh Oysters Daily.

VIRGINIA and New Orleans oysters on the half shell, 40c dozen. 77 Peachtree street.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering.

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta street. Atlanta 2567. 3-5-6

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO.,
Upholstering, repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds; satisfaction guaranteed. Phones, Atlanta 5950-F, M. 5111. 3-5-30

Furniture.

Rosser F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn Ave. Phones: Bell Ivy 4467, Atlanta 1800.
WE CARRY a full line of household furniture from kitchen to parlor; also a complete line of summer porch goods, such as porch sets, porch rockers, rugs, etc.; refrigerators, ice cream freezers and everything in the furniture line. We can save you 20 per cent on everything. Call and see us before buying elsewhere. Cash or terms. 5-15-8

PERFECTION OIL STOVES.
Three-burner, including oven and vessels, complete, $12.50.
CAMERON FURNITURE CO.,
85 South Forsyth Street.
5-1-3

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta, Phone Atlanta 1

Plant your savings in Georgia soil and grow a fortune. Many have done so, why not you?

The Georgian's Rent Bulletin

ROOM AND BOARD.

BOARD for two young men, $5 per week. For information call Ivy 3383. 5-23-45

NICELY furnished, large, airy rooms with board in one of Decatur's best residences; references required. Phone Decatur 253. 5-23-39

THE CAPITOL TERRACE can accommodate a few more boarders; cool, delightful rooms; all conveniences; close in. 89 Capitol Ave. Main 3270. 5-23-34

FRONT ROOM with board, dressing room connecting with running water. Call Ivy 290. 5-23-31

TWO young men or married couple for nicely furnished front room; all conveniences; close in. Main 1558-J. 5-14-11

COUPLE can find room with board at 102 Washington. Main 4089-J. 5-23-25

WANTED—Six gentlemen can secure first-class board in private family. Ideal home, beautiful lawn and shade, immediately on car line. Bell phone Decatur 138. 5-23-201

TWO LARGE, light, airy connecting rooms, meals optional, in a beautifully furnished private modern home, to refined permanent couples with references. Mrs. Corey, 619 West Peachtree St. Ivy 5635-J. 5-23-11

BOARD AND ROOMS.

EXCELLENT board; delightful rooms; close in; all conveniences. 115 South Pryor. 5-20-3

BEAUTIFUL furnished front room, with dressing room, in private adult family; close in; also room for gentlemen; excellent meals; prices reasonable. 56 East Cain. Ivy 5520-L. 5-22-32

NICE room and best of board; electricity; all conveniences; walking distance. Ivy 2856-L. 5-22-31

19 W. CAIN.

LARGE, clean furnished rooms; excellent board if desired; refined ladies or gentlemen. Ivy 6642. 5-22-33

LARGE room, nicely furnished, hot water; good table board. Also garage easy to get in and out. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 5-22-30

BOARD for three young men, close in; front rooms. 254 Rawson Street. M. 3793-J. 5-22-29

EXCELLENT table, large front room, with dressing room. 322 West Peachtree. Ivy 994-L. 5-22-16

RARE opportunity for refined couple or gentlemen to secure two furnished rooms, with or without board, in delightful North Side home; highest, coolest spot in city; no other boarders. Ivy 7311. 5-22-20

TWO young men can secure room and board in very desirable home in West End. All conveniences. Shower baths, private tennis court, etc. 88 Park St. 5-21-39

THE ROY, 22 E. Ellis, under new management. Now prepared to render patrons best service. Ivy 7398-J. 5-21-35

TWO large front rooms with excellent table board. Mrs. J. M. Colman, 279 Peachtree St. 5-21-206

DELIGHTFUL rooms with board, with or without private bath. Table board a specialty. 514 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 1499-J. Mrs. F. B. Gregory. 37-21-5

DO YOU want first-class board in private North Side home? Call Ivy 719-J 5-20-18

WANTED—A few boarders; also table boarders. 327 Whitehall. Main 3286. 5-20-16

LARGE, cool room and board in suburban home; good servants; large porches, shade trees, big vegetable garden, fruit, cows and chickens. Phone Decatur 389. 5-19-200

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-16-27

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree; select boarding house, near in. Ivy 5795. 5-10-35

ROOM AND BOARD for four young men May 15. Private home. 163 Courtland. Ivy 7057-J. 5-10-25

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK. ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 5-5-30

PEACHTREE INN.

Peachtree and Alexander Sts. American plan $7.50 week up. Room to yourself. European, $2 week up. 1-9-34

36 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 4-28-16

NEATLY furnished rooms; homelike cooking, also table board. 127 Capitol Avenue. Main 5172-J. 4-23-7

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

TWO or three furnished light housekeeping rooms for rent to couple. 168 Crew St. 5-23-47

HALF OF HOME, furnished for couple; private bath, on car line. Centrally located. 111 Cooper. 5-23-44

FURNISHED room upstairs, all conveniences, for rent. Apply 305 S. Pryor. 5-23-42

IN PRIVATE home on North Side for one or two gentlemen, elegantly furnished front room, with private lavatory, large closets and connecting bath. Phone Ivy 5760-J. 5-23-41

WELL furnished room and kitchenette for two business women. 126 Windsor Street. Main 3588. 5-23-32

ONE nicely furnished room, four windows, private family. All conveniences. Atlanta Phone 3254. 5-23-33

THREE rooms, dressing room, hall and trunk room furnished for light housekeeping, to couple without children. Price, $30. Call Ivy 967-L. 5-23-28

ONE or two furnished rooms; could arrange for light housekeeping. 227 Capitol Avenue. Main 3941. 5-23-21

TWO nicely furnished front rooms; all conveniences; gas stove. 179 Capitol Avenue. Main 3158-J. 5-21-24

THREE light housekeeping rooms and use of living room; modern conveniences. 53 Queen St., West End. Bell phone West 1205. 5-23-26

TWO OR THREE furnished rooms for light housekeeping, electricity, gas stove; rent reasonable. Ivy 3287-J. 5-23-24

TWO beautifully furnished rooms, complete for housekeeping, $16; also one suite of 3 front rooms, very reasonable; bath on each floor. Bell phone. Best location. 290 Washington St. 5-23-28

ENTIRE lower floor beautifully furnished for housekeeping; also two nice bed rooms. Private home. One block from Whitehall. Walking distance. 30 W. Fair St. 5-23-200

ONE furnished and one unfurnished room cheap; all conveniences; close in. 232 Courtland. 5-22-24

NICELY furnished rooms, with kitchenette, with bath, light and telephone. Call Main 3582-J. 5-22-18

FOR RENT—1, 2 or 3 rooms, furnished or partly furnished for light housekeeping. References exchanged. 179 E. Pine Street. 4-16-42

LISTEN! WE HAVE TWO BEAUTIFUL ROOMS FOR RENT, ALL CONVENIENCES. TWO BLOCKS OF CANDLER BUILDING. REASONABLE. 184 COURTLAND STREET. ATLANTA PHONE 3761. 5-20-201

ONE large beautiful front room on second floor. Ideal surroundings. Every convenience. North Side. Telephone Ivy 1744-L. 5-21-5

FOR RENT—Three nice new upstairs rooms; bath, gas and water. $16.60. 55 S. McDaniel St. 5-21-28

WANTED—Young man for roommate to share nicely furnished room. Main 4380-L. 5-21-30

NICELY furnished room, suitable for gentlemen or young ladies; $2 week. 47 E. Mitchell Street, upstairs. 45-12-5

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

ONE beautifully furnished, bright front room, reasonable; private home; walking distance. Ivy 5451. 5-21-32

TWO bright connecting housekeeping rooms, completely furnished. North Side private home. Ivy 2098-J. 5-21-19

TWO beautiful connecting, furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping; also rooms for young men; all conveniences. 422 Whitehall St. Main 3462-J. 5-21-36

FURNISHED room in private family; gentlemen preferred. Ivy 2421-L. 15 Bedford Place. 5-21-42

NICELY furnished rooms with board; early breakfast; conveniences. 72 Spring Street. 34-21-5

TWO nice furnished rooms for rent to gentlemen or couple. 377 Whitehall Street. 29-21-5

TWO large, nicely furnished rooms, private family. Suburban home. Suburban Home, Box 907, care Georgian. 27-21-5

NICELY furnished cool room; close in; private home; adjoins bath; reasonable. Main 3428-L. 5-19-4

HANDSOMELY furnished large front room, private bath; shady lot; gentleman preferred. "Peachtree," care American. 113-8-5

FURNISHED rooms; private home; all conveniences; hot and cold baths. 19 E. Harris. Ivy 6349-J. 5-8-11

TWO newly renovated bedrooms, 256-B Courtland Street. Phone Ivy 5356. 5-18-25

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL unfurnished room to couple; reasonable. West 1129-L. 5-23-30

THREE upstairs rooms with closets; sink, freshly tinted if desired. 3 Angier Avenue. Ivy 6470-L. 5-23-27

THREE ROOMS for light housekeeping for couple. 129 Richardson Street. 26-23-5

THREE upstairs rooms for light housekeeping; use of phone. 154 Richardson. 5-22-36

THREE large unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 111 East Ellis. Ivy 7433-J. 5-21-204

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End, consisting of three rooms; also trunk room, linen closets, private bath, hall. Every convenience. Phone West 128-J. 5-21-31

UNFURNISHED rooms with conveniences for housekeeping. 34 East Alexander Street, between Peachtrees. 46-21-5

Furnished or Unfurnished.

ONE furnished or unfurnished front room; private family. 7 Kent Street. 5-21-23

ONE upstairs furnished or unfurnished room. 377 Whitehall St. 5-21-27

THREE beautiful corner rooms; separate entrance; private bath, veranda; sink in kitchen. Ivy 99. 5-20-10

ONE nice room furnished or unfurnished, conveniently located, half block from car line, all conveniences; cool and shady. Call Decatur 507. 5-20-14

APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

A NICE, airy 4-room apartment completely furnished in the Corinthian, 136 West Peachtree. Apply Chas. P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton St. 5-23-46

FIVE-ROOM apartment in the Colonial. 84 East North Avenue. Ivy 847-L. 5-18-64

Unfurnished

BEAUTIFUL small apartment, close in, steam heated. Phone Ivy 428. 52 E. Cain. 5-23-37

FOR RENT—Splendid new apartment, six rooms, steam heat, every modern convenience. 816 North Jackson Street. Phone Ivy 641-L. 5-23-6

FOR RENT—Upstairs apartment of five rooms with bath, in best residential district in city. Electric lights furnished, also heat in winter, $45 per month. Call Ivy 5398-L. 5-21-200

47 EAST CAIN STREET—Five rooms; freshly painted; clean and in nice repair. $25 per month. Apply owner, 509 Atlanta National Bank Building. 5-14-204

Furnished or Unfurnished.

TWO, three of five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432. 5-23-40

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432 5-18-54

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TWO FINE lots; nice residence section; North Side; near car line; opposite Ansley Park; bargain. Address Vacant Lots, care Georgian. 5-23-16

BY OWNER, pretty new bungalow in Ormewood Park, six rooms, bath, electric lights, cabinet mantels, etc. Large, level lot in beautiful oak grove, less than block of car line and close to schools. Room for garden and chickens. Price $2,850 on easy terms. A. S. Thompson, 303 4th Nat. Bank. Both phones 5141. 5-23-9

TWO 25-acre home sites on Peachtree Road. Address P. D., Box 604, care Georgian. 35-22-5

OWNER leaving city will sell new 7-room St. Charles Avenue bungalow. Three bed rooms, breakfast room, beautiful hardware and fixtures, furnace, hardwood floors, etc. Lot 50x150 feet. Elevated, shady, side drive, flowers and fruit. A bargain at $6,750. Terms, $3,000 loan, 6 per cent. $1,850 cash; balance $35 monthly. Jack, P. O. Box 1710, City. 5-22-9

BARGAIN—14 per cent investment; 13 houses; rent for $97 month, $8,000 on terms. Improvements are in excellent condition. Inman Park. We have this price only for a short time. M. L. Thrower, 39 N. Forsyth Street. 27-22-5

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care American. 112-18-5

I HAVE two farms, 125 acres, and one 75 acres. Will exchange one or both for vacant lot. Call Milton. Main 2653. 5-3-24

FOR SALE cheap by owner, 739 Spring Street, near Twelfth Street, two-story nine-room house; price $5,500; $750 cash required; balance easy terms, if desired. Address G. A. Dunlop, 501 Mutual Building, Richmond, Va. 5-3-9

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4381. 4-15-42

I HAVE seven acres, three-room house, half block car line, all cultivated, fine for trucking; will exchange for small renting property. Call Milton, Main 2652. 5-3-24

FOR SALE—Beautiful lot, 60 by 232 feet; $1,600; right on Peachtree. Easy terms. See me quick. Address Peachtree, Box 800, care Georgian. 5-2-4

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrary.

HOUSES FOR RENT.

Furnished.

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 27-13-5

FOR RENT—Summer months, 6-room furnished cottage. References required. Phone Ivy 5709-J. 5-23-22

ONE of the best homes in Decatur completely furnished for summer. Phone Decatur 17. 202-5-23

WANTED—To rent for summer months, a furnished cottage with conveniences; suburb preferred. Address H. E. T., Box 50, care Georgian. 209-5-22

COMPLETELY furnished seven-room house for summer; references required. 98 E. Georgia Ave. Main 7170-L. 5-22-23

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 26-20-5

COOL, comfortable Peachtree home, furnished; five large bed rooms, upstairs living room, reception hall, drawing room and den, dining room and kitchen, two baths, servant's room and garage. Call Ivy 617. 5-17-12

Unfurnished.

OUR RENT list describes everything for rent. Call, write or phone for one. Ivy 3390. Charles P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton street. 2-15-49

FOR RENT.

$15.00—No. 20 Woodson St., five-room cottage, all conveniences, nice neighborhood, close to school and church. Within two blocks of Grant Park.

$25.00—No. 320 Waldo St. we have a 6-room cottage with hall and carrying all modern conveniences; nice neighborhood.

$15.60—No. 115 Luckie St. we have 5-room cottage with all modern conveniences, nice neighborhood, car line in front.

GEO. P. MOORE,
Real Estate and Renting.
10 Auburn Avenue.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

LOVELY new, modern, steam-heated house; ten rooms and three baths, tile porches, tile baths and tile roof. Ivy 2432. 5-18-53

OFFICE SPACE FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Three large, outside, beautifully furnished rooms, second floor; hot and cold water, gas, electricity, sewerage. Corner Peachtree and Auburn. Thirty seconds from and overlooking Five Points. Ideal location for physician's or dentist's office, general offices, sales or display rooms. Cheap rent. Long lease. Apply to F. Reuter, 74 North Pryor Street. Phone Ivy 836. 6-23-2

DESK SPACE with use of telephone. Apply 533 Candler Bldg. 4-25-9

ROOMS WANTED

Furnished.

WANTED—By couple without children June 1st, 3 or 4 furnished housekeeping rooms, private bath, second floor preferred. Phone West 574-J. 5-23-36

WANTED—For couple, one large room with closet. References exchanged. Call Main 2961, Mr. Sheats. 5-22-200

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping by June 1 in North end. No objection to distance. Address J. L., care of Georgian. 207-5-17

APARTMENTS WANTED.

Furnished.

COUPLE without children would like furnished apartment or small house for summer. Give description and terms. J. F., Box 890, care Georgian. 28-23-5

HOUSES WANTED.

Unfurnished.

WISH to rent by June 5 an unfurnished five or six-room house, with electric lights. Prefer North Side or Inman Park. Good locality and reasonable rental. Ivy 3930-L. 213-5-18

WOULD you give 25 cents for a good job? Place a "Want Ad" in The Georgian and get one.

SUMMER RESORTS.

THE HENNING INN has been recently renovated and refurnished, under new management. Rates very reasonable. Apply to Henning Inn, P. O. Box 223, Brevard, N. C. 31-23-5

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

WEST END.

LUCILE AVE.—Near Peeples St., we can sell you a 10-room, 2-story house on extra large, elevated lot for $6,000. This place has a loan bearing only 5 per cent interest, balance easy. Owner a non-resident and wants to sell.

BEECHER ST.—Near Lee; this is a nearly new 6-room cottage on lot 50x200 feet. This is a genuine pick-up at the price—$3,250—and look, only $300 cash and balance $30 per month.

St. Charles Avenue Lot.

THIS is the cheapest lot on this street. See us for price, terms and location.

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Railroad Makes Move For Two Spur Tracks

Southern to Serve Big Factories in Marietta St. Section—West End Lots Bring $30,800.

An agreement entered into between the Southern Railway Company and Judge E. C. Kontz, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kontz, Porter Langston and Philip Weltner, presages a considerable commercial development in the entire Marietta Street section. It will mean the erection of factories which will add greatly to the effectiveness of the Marietta Street neighborhood as a manufacturing center.

The agreement contemplates the construction of double spur tracks from the Southern's main line near Simpson Street to a point about a block and a half toward Mangum Street, between Simpson and Jones Avenue. The tracks will extend westerly 550 and 357 feet, respectively. Work on them is expected to start soon.

Persons in close touch with the improvement intimated that substantial commercial establishments were in contemplation, but refused to go into details.

This step is but another evidence of an industrial awakening in the neighborhood mentioned. Other interests, principally the railroads, are quietly working out plans of extension. Announcement of such plans is looked for shortly.

Most of the property in this direction on which developers have an eye for manufacturing is within the one-mile radius, which means close proximity to downtown activities.

West End Lots Bring $30,800.

Included in Friday's real estate announcements was the sale of approximately $30,800 in residence lots by the Dillin-Morris Company and J. S. Collins, of Collins Brothers & Davies for William J. Davis, developer of West End Park. The sale of 27 lots covered a period of 30 days, and it was also announced that about 25 houses are just completed or being built in this subdivision, and that the total in West End Park is now approximately 150. West End Park was opened up a year ago.

The lots just sold are on West Ontario Avenue, near Gordon Street, and averaged $1,100 to $1,250 apiece.

Sales on Durant Place.

Prominent citizens figured this week in two sales on Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. Edward M. Durant sold to Attorney Sam D. Hewlett, Legislator-elect; John Y. Smith and John T. Dennis a 44 by 109-foot lot, for $2,000, and an adjoining lot, 42 by 109 feet, for the same price. Mr. Hewlett and Mr. Smith got an undivided three-eighths interest each and Mr. Dennis two-eighths. The cash consideration was $500 in each sale.

Transfer of Ellis Parcel.

S. H. Phelan, of Crawford County, formerly of Atlanta, has conveyed to Mrs. Barry Wright, of Rome, the northeast corner of Ellis and Courtland Streets. This parcel is a block east of the Elks Club and in the vicinity of other valuable properties. The frontage on Ellis Street is 50 feet.

Cancellations on Increase.

Figures in The Fulton County Daily Report for the twentieth week of 1913 and the corresponding week in 1912 show a continued increase in the number and amount of mortgages canceled, which realty men consider a good sign. The number in 1913 was 45 and the total $59,445, and for last year 39 and $45,835. Real estate transfers gained in number, but fell off in amount, and building permits dropped back a little in both.

Auction Sale Successful.

Everything but the weather was favorable to a successful auction sale Thursday by the Foster & Robson Co. of bungalows and lots on the South Decatur car line in the Ninth Ward. Rain stopped the sale, but before it came the following sales, aggregating $5,530, were made:

Bungalow to J. A. Boatwright for $1,500.

Bungalow to M. Owen for $1,525, sold on the grounds for a profit.

Bungalow to Mrs. T. M. Johnson for $1,550.

Lot 36 to L. N. Ragsdale for $245.

Lot 37 to T. N. Bradshaw for $140.

Lot 19 to M. Owen for $270.

Lot 49, on Vannoy Street, to J. L. Veal for $300.

Oakland City Auction.

The Foster & Robson Real Estate Agency has become associated with the W. E. Treadwell Company in the sale Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of bungalows and residence lots at Oakland City, on the East Point car line. These real estate agencies report many inquiries, and a large crowd of home-seekers is expected out. The property for sale is opposite the George W. Adair School and has undergone extensive improvements.

New Dry Goods Home.

The new home of the Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will be started at once at 92 South Pryor Street, and the concern will move its stock from North Pryor, having sold out there some weeks ago to Luther Z. Rosser and J. H. Porter. Mrs. L. J. Bowle has applied for a permit to erect a four-story and basement brick building for the dry goods house at a cost of $28,000. Donaldson & Pierson are the contractors. The Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will occupy the building under lease.

T. C. Hellbrauck has filed application to build a $2,000 dwelling of one story on West Tenth Street. Day labor will be used.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$10 and to Correct—H. O. Reese to W. A. Wright, lot 53x207 feet, east side Kennesaw Avenue, 316 feet north of North Avenue. April 12.

$10 and to Correct—W. A. Wright to C. R. Jolly, same property. April 12.

$8,500—Robert B. Ridley, Jr., to Harvey Hill, lot 50x146 feet, east side Juniper Street, 110 feet south of Tenth Street. May 15.

$160—Mrs. Sarah I. Weathers to J. N. Landers and Anderson Bros.' Co., lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—W. C. Harper to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$160—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$2,000—General Realty and Development Corporation to E. C. Robertson, lot 60x258 feet, west side Racine Street, 726 feet north of Greensferry Avenue. May 21.

$2,100—Equitable Loan and Security Company to T. M. McIntosh, 118 Jones Avenue, 35x119 feet. June 24, 1907.

$2,475—Mrs. Gertrude J. Dickey et al. to Miss Emily Jekyl, lot 865x590 feet, north side Tuxedo Drive, 1,400 feet northwest from Pace's Ferry Road. May 27, 1911.

$1,200—J. J. West to E. D. Duncan, lot 52x133 feet, north side Bellwood Avenue, 111 feet west of Ashby Street. May 13.

$50—Atlanta Cemetery Association to K. S. Foster, lot 279, block 4, Atlanta Park Cemetery. April 19.

$1,500—Ophelia A. Terrell to W. H. Turnipseed, lot 50 feet front on Nelson Street, running through to Chapel Street, 200 feet from Haynes Street. May 20.

$1,750—H. M. Spitz to W. E. Treadwell and Julius Oelsner, lot 75x90 feet, east side Park Lane, being lot 15, block 19, Ansley Park. May 3.

$3,350—W. D. Newsom to Mrs. Edna E. Keene, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45x100. December 30, 1909.

$5—J. G. Norman et al. to Mary P. Norman, lot west side Avenue A, 400 feet south of Johnson Street, 50x140. March 28.

$10,000—W. W. Ward to Capital City Realty Company, lot southwest corner Battle Street and Altoona Pass, 250x806; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 236 feet east of Wellington Avenue, 250x351; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 97 feet west of Altoona Pass, 250x350. May, 1913.

$1,750—Newton S. Thomas to W. L. Saye, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. June 14, 1909.

$2,250—G. R. Glenn to Newton S. Thomas, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. January 24, 1908.

$1 and Other Considerations—W. D. Hughes to Mrs. Annie M. Smith, lot 23x124 feet, north line of Mrs. Smith's property, in land lot 15. February 1, 1911.

$636—T. C. Holmes and E. T. Luckie to Miss Clara Perry, lot 108x145 feet, south side Holmes Street, 619 feet east of Howell Mill Road. May 22.

Bonds For Title.

$10,000—Martin Nally Estate (by executrix) and Mrs. Mary Nally to C. L. DeFoor, lot 22x135 feet, northwest side South Forsyth Street, 114 feet southwest of Brotherton Street. April 5.

$18,000—Mrs. Cora W. Weaver to E. W. G. Boogher and E. A. Turner, lot west side Myrtle Street, 151 feet north of Eighth Street, 50x180. May 21.

$50,592—A. W. VanHoose to Ben J. Massell, lot 63x158 feet, east side Peachtree Street, 223 feet north of Pine Street. March 15.

$15,700—Clarence Blosser to Mrs. E. W. Smith, 516 West Peachtree Street, 40x173 feet. May 17.

$8,500—Mrs. Annie M. Smith to J. T. Wardlaw, lot 59x169 feet, west side Sinclair Avenue, 200 feet northeast of Colquitt. May 21.

$4,000—Edward M. Durant to Sam D. Hewlett et al., lot 44x108 feet, west side Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

$4,000—Same to same, lot 41x109 feet, west side Durant Place, 518 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

Mortgages.

$528—A. H. Thomas to McDonald Baldwin, lot 50 by 213 feet, west side Moreland Avenue, 200 feet north of Walker Street. May 20.

$2,480—T. M. Word and Dr. J. W. Hurt to Colonial Trust Company, 26 acres on the diagonal line between the southeast and northwest corners of land lot 202. May 15.

$3,480—Mrs. Grace M. Keefer to Colonial Trust Company, lot north side Fourteenth Street, 521 feet west of Piedmont Avenue, 75 by 185. May 22.

$525—J. C. Moore to Atlanta Banking and Savings Company, lot 85 by 165 feet, northeast corner Lakewood Avenue and Livermore Street. May 22.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 50 by 288 feet, west side Ponce DeeLon Place, 178 feet north of Phoce DeLeon Avenue. May 16.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 174 by 2,412 feet, on Hemphill Avenue, at southwest corner of A. B. Turner's property; land lot 154; Seventeenth district. May 16.

$354—W. L. Saye to Colonial Trust Company, lot 23 by 120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. May 19.

$1,248—A. R. Griffin to Central Bank and Trust Corporation, 328 Crew Street, 40 by 200 feet. May 19.

Loan Deeds.

$3,400—Mrs. Eliza T. Borne to Travelers Insurance Company, 237 Myrtle Street, 60 by 150 feet. May 22.

$3,600—J. D. Blalock to Henry Hirsch, lot at southeast corner land known as the Loftin, 8-acre tract, in land lot 157, Seventeenth District, 210 by 785. April 4.

1,400—Mrs. Edna E. Keene to W. C. Mauldin, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45 by 100 feet. May 22.

$1,800—Anderson Bros. Co. to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 45 by 162 feet, northeast side Gordon Road, 599 feet southeast of Greensferry Avenue. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 257 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$600—Mrs. Addie L. Lindsay to Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, 82 West Fifteenth Street, 93 by 84 feet. May 17.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON

11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

NORTH SIDE HOME at a bargain price. If you want to buy a bargain go look at 43 Ponce DeLeon Avenue and St. Charles Avenue. We know it is worth $5,500, but we invite an offer. Can arrange any reasonable terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

ON NEXT SATURDAY, May 24, we will sell at auction, jointly with W. E. Treadwell & Co., the Ragsdale property on Warner Avenue, Allene Avenue and Woodrow Avenue, consisting of six modern bungalows and sixteen building lots. This very desirable and attractive property will be sold on terms that will put it in the reach of everyone. See special ad. in this issue. Get plats giving full details from either office.

ON DARGAN STREET, convenient to the Lucile Avenue cars, a new 6-room bungalow with all conveniences, tinted walls, stone foundation, brick mantels, furnace heat, beam ceilings. Everything first class. Lot 47x150 feet. Price, $4,150. $650 cash, balance easy. See Mr. Cohen.

TWO CLOSE-IN corners on Washington Street. Price and terms reasonable. We advise the purchase of these properties for steady enhancement. See Mr. Hook.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

3-r. flat, 148 Highland Avenue	$16.00
3-r. h., 39 Gaskill Street	8.60
3-r. h., 749 Whitehall Street	9.00
3-r. h., 19 Fowler Street	10.00
3-r. h., 126 Love Street	8.60
3-r. h., 175 Randolph Street	8.60
3-r. h., 43 Kendall Street	10.60
3-r. h., R. Evans Drive, Ft. McPherson	5.60
3-r. h., 354 Edgewood Avenue	10.60
3-r. h., 23 Corput Street	9.00
3-r. flat, 336 Grant Street	15.00
3-r. h., 72 South Jackson Street	8.60
4-r. h., 59 Fairview Avenue	8.00
4-r. h., 24 Lampkin Street	7.60
4-r. h., 94 Lovejoy Street	8.60
4-r. h., 33 Bell Street	16.65
4-r. h., 223 Humphries Street	12.50
4-r. h., Lakewood, and 17 acres of land, per year	150.00
4-r. h., 31 McDonough Road	10.00
4-r. h., Stewart Avenue, and 13½ acres of land	25.00
4-r. flat, 262 E. North Avenue	17.50
5-r. h., 67 Atwood Street	25.00
5-r. h., 5 Holderness Street	20.00
5-r. h., 144 Ashby Street	27.50

And a long list of larger houses. Come to see us.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR RENT.

"J" 312-14 RAWSON STREET.

ON THE south side of Rawson, between Cooper and Windsor, we have a third floor front apartment "J," five rooms; electric lights, hot and cold water, gas, electric bells, washstand, bath, closet and sink; steam heat; janitor service; gas range; storage room in the basement. A complete, up-to-date apartment. Cooper Street car half block. $40 on a lease.

JOHN J. WOODSIDE.

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, STORAGE.
Phones: Bell 671 Ivy; Atlanta 618. 12 "Real Estate Row."

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

SPLENDID BRICK VENEERED RESIDENCE ON FIFTEENTH STREET.

A NEW, 2-STORY, 9-room house, hardwood floors, tile roof, sleeping porch, furnace heat, electricity, gas, basement, garage with servants' rooms. Lot 50x185. Price, $13,000; $2,000 cash, balance to suit. THIS is the third house from West Peachtree. GO OUT AND LOOK AT IT. Keys next door.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS.
Ivy 1513. 130 Peachtree. Atl. 2865.

FOR SALE JOHN J. WOODSIDE

SNUG LITTLE HOME.

(304 WEST FOURTH STREET.)

HAS five rooms, water, bath, sidewalks, street, elevated corner lot. Terms, $500 cash, $15 month, 8 per cent.

THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager, 12 "Real Estate Row."

$30,000

WE HAVE a client with $30,000 in bank, with which to purchase good annual or semi-annual notes. We do not want notes to broker, but will submit them to one client only. No red tape or delay.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT

JAS. H. REYNOLDS, Sales Manager.
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5212

THOMSON & LYNES

AUBURN AVENUE—Brand-new two-story brick store in the busy section of Auburn Avenue. Leases and monthly rentals will pay 12 per cent. Price, $12,000; no loan to assume. Terms, half cash, submit balance.

THOMSON & LYNES
18-20 WALTON ST.

WILLIAMS-HARTSOCK CO.

Real Estate and Builders. Fourth National Bank Bldg. Phone 2105 Main.

GOOD NEW HOMES: Listen, on Moreland Avenue, corner of Albemarble, we are just completing a beautiful two-story, seven-room bungalow. This place has an abundance of large and roomy closets, tile bath, exposed ceiling beams, stone front, stone steps, and it is on a corner lot; birch doors, the best of hardware; will tint walls to suit your own taste. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. To see this is to buy it. Take a look and come to see us.

ON NORTH AVENUE, close to Highland Avenue, we have just completed a pretty six-room home with two baths; it is seldom that you find a place so well built and so complete in every detail as this one. Each bath has tile floor; large rooms, plenty of light and furnace heat. Will take a good lot in part payment for this. It is close to school and churches, within a stone's throw of Druid Hills; car line a block away. Or will sell on easy terms.

ON BEAUTIFUL Cleburne Avenue we are offering the best value in the city in a new six-room, hall and bath bungalow with tile floor on front porch and in bath room, dressing mirrors, stone steps, and automobile drive on side. This lot has a frontage of 70 feet. If you have been waiting for a large lot here it is. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. We know that you will like this.

FOR SALE BY

GREENE REALTY COMPANY

511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Piedmont Avenue Frontage

We have recently had consigned with us some Piedmont Avenue frontage, ranging in price from $115 per foot to $135 per foot.

These lots are situated on the most desirable part of Piedmont Avenue, being between Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, facing Piedmont Park. The scarcity of building lots of this class of property on the north side is easily recognized by anyone who has been looking for a home site recently. The unusually good value offered here will be appreciated by anyone in the market for first-class residence property. Reasonable terms can be arranged.

Forrest & George Adair

Six New Bungalows and Sixteen Building Lots AT AUCTION Saturday, May 24, 3 P. M.

In the Tenth Ward on Warner Street and Allene and Woodrow Avenues. Just two blocks from the splendid car service to East Point, College Park and Hapeville. Also convenient to the Stewart Avenue car line.

This property is in a rapidly growing section, close to the new $40,000 "Adair" Public School, and only two blocks from Adair Park.

One of Atlanta's best citizens, Mr. I. N. Ragsdale, has developed this property, sparing neither time nor money to bring this property to a point of desirability that would make it acceptable to the better class of citizens for homes.

With this purpose uppermost in mind, he has built six attractive bungalows. Built them of good material and with day labor, exercising good taste and rare good judgment in all the details of arrangement and construction. These are not the usual "built to sell" affairs.

Each house has a small loan, which the purchaser assumes as part of the price. The balance will be paid in small monthly payments without interest. A small cash payment will be required, ranging from $100 to $250. This is an unusually easy arrangement that should appeal to every buyer of a home.

The lots will be sold on very easy terms, with 6 per cent simple interest.

The lots lie particularly well, many of them having nice shade. They will make desirable and valuable home sites. Several of them have the added value of two street fronts.

Take East Point or College Park cars. Get off at Gammages. A big sign will direct you to the property. Get plats from

W. E. TREADWELL & CO.

24 South Broad Street, or

FOSTER & ROBSON

11 Edgewood Avenue.

FINE 300-ACRE FARM (NEAR ATLANTA).

ON CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER; also on good creek; nearly half of farm as fine bottom land as can be had. Fine chertedl road within about two miles of this place. Adjoining land held at $100 acre. We have an option on this. If sold at once, only $40 acre. A REAL BARGAIN.

FARMS FOR SALE.

ACRES, fifteen miles from Atlanta, $40 per acre; will take vacant lot worth $1,100 and purchaser assume nine $100 notes. Address Big Bargain, Box 3, care Georgian. 30-23-5

FOR SALE—At a bargain, one of the nicest 10-acre farms in 10 miles of Atlanta. Terms if desired. Address A. F. D., care Georgian. 205-5-23

STORES.

For Sale.

BEER SALOON and pool room for sale cheap. Apply to 161 Decatur St. 200-5-23

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

AM IN MARKET for modern, new six-room bungalow, near car line and good lot. Inman Park or North Side; state price and location. Address Bungalow, care Georgian.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen men controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow humbly before every corporation legal jackal attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

He has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which involved many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was to be in a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock owned by one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, was to be sold ahead of all other stock.

Untermyer was a leader in the fight for the policyholders of big insurance companies against dishonest management. In this fight, which improved conditions for all policyholders throughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of to-day who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truths concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than that commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Untermyer, in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

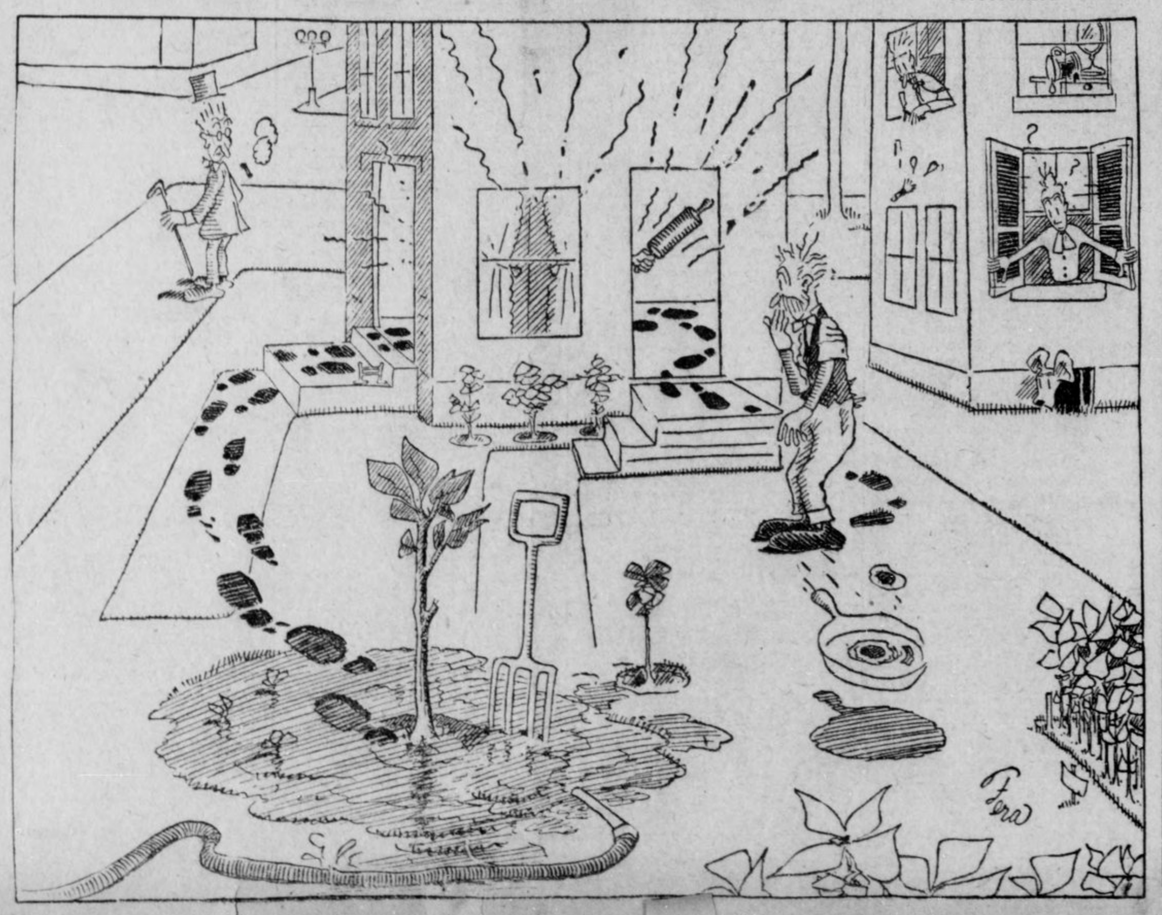
Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done. What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat."

You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, alive and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind.

The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK.—TAD.

On the Trail of Mr. Suburbs

By FERA.



Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on

Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

"I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as a lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power; whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much dwelt on and how do they act? Please tell me, are these emanations a disintegrating of the countless particles composing a particle of radium? If so, how are they especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, is it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to escape—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to escape or to emanate for years and years and years with no sensible diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it powerful for anything in particular? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration? J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inquirer supposes a particle of radium to be.

Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to send off continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear.

Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, but it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present imperceptible to us, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substances called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkable for their great atomic weight; in fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold or platinum.

Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "Alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. Those called "Beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "Gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light.

All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The Alpha rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The Beta rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the GAMMA RAYS ARE SO PIERCING THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SENT THROUGH A FOOT OF SOLID IRON!

In consequence of the distintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but so minute are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,500 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. Yet the energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point! If we could get unlimited supplies of radium, instead of having to be content with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories put together, we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields.

Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up, in some unknown way, in the atoms, and is held in suspense there until the automatic disintegration of the atoms sets it free to act in other ways. It then sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is pitifully weak compared with the explosive force contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be locked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the imprisoned energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which infinitesimal particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom as the planets are in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interferes with the regular motions of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world now in existence may dissolve, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting the property of radio-activity to any other substance that happens to be near a bit of radium, as, for instance, the hands and clothes of the experimenters. But this imparted radio-activity does not last long. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, of its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a hint that the dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unguessed. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTRICACIES OF A CROWD, ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEIVABLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Emanation Unperceivable.

Dr. LeBon has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the existence of emanations. Thus the cat sees us in the darkest nights by virtue of some halo produced around our bodies by vital action, and photographs made in the dark are similarly explained. What was once known as "odic force," producing an alleged luminous nimbus around a human being, would, by this hypothesis, be accounted for as the result of an emanation. When this subject was under investigation many years ago it was remarked that relatively few persons exhibit the phenomenon in visible form. They are like gold, which shows no perceptible radio-activity, although the property may exist in it, while those who exhibit the nimbus resemble radium, which pours out an abundance both of rays and of radio-active emanation.

THE WEATHER.
Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Showers and somewhat cooler Friday; cloudy, with probably showers Saturday.

WOMAN GIVES EVIDENCE AGAINST FRANK

EXTRA

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 250. ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. 2 CENTS EVERYWHERE PAY NO MORE

South Georgia
AFTERNOON EDITION

CHURCH AND RURAL LIFE BOARD IN BALANCE

Attempt to Save Home Mission Department at Last Northern Assembly Session.

The fate of the department of church and country life hung in the balance when the final day's session of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly began Friday morning.

This department is one of the activities of the Home Mission Board, which came in for much of the criticism which has been leveled at the board. On the recommendation of the executive commission, the Assembly voted to discontinue it as far as possible. Many of the commissioners regarded the action as hasty and a reconsideration will be taken during the day.

When no further movement was made Friday in the effort to oust the Rev. J. M. Hubbert from his position as Assistant Stated Clerk of the Assembly, it became known that a truce had been patched up between his friends and William H. Roberts, the Stated Clerk. Dr. Roberts had been working hard to have the office of assistant abolished. He gave economy as his reason for recommending the change. The office pays $3,000 annually.

Sentiment for Retention.

As the time for the test of strength approached it appeared that those in favor of retaining the office of assistant clerk were greatly in the majority. On this clear indication of the sentiment of the Assembly, it is said that Dr. Roberts was willing to drop his fight against Hubbert and so agreed in a conference of the Assembly leaders.

The members of the large Chicago delegation were happy to-day over the unanimous acceptance of the invitation of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of that city for the 1914 Assembly. This is the church of which Moderator Stone is the pastor. The First Presbyterian Church of Atlantic City, N. J., was the only other candidate for next year, but the indications are that there will be a hot fight on for the privilege of entertaining the commissioners in 1915.

San Francisco extended an invitation several months ago, asking that the Presbyterians come there during the exposition. Dr. Mark A. Matthews presented the invitation of Seattle on Thursday, immediately after the selection of Chicago for 1914. The commissioners from Rochester, N. Y., renewed their invitation, which they twice had made and twice withdrawn, and it is likely that Atlantic City will renew its invitation when next year's Assembly meets.

Generals Hold Attention.

Two veterans of the Civil War held the attention of the commissioners for nearly an hour Thursday afternoon and furnished one of the most interesting incidwents of the Northern Assembly. They were General Otis Adams, who was with Sherman, and General John W. Laughlin, of Ohio, who was stationed in Atlanta after its surrender.

"I was here 49 years ago," said General Adams. "We received then a very much warmer reception than given us on this occasion, and everyone knows that we have nothing to complain of this time. Then we were received with extended arms.

"Then Atlanta was a town of 9,000 or 10,000. I come to Atlanta now to find it a city of 175,000, and one of the most beautiful cities of our great republic.

The resignation of Duncan J. McMillan from the Board of Church Erection, which was announced Thursday afternoon, was not entirely unexpected. Dr. McMillan had been known not to be in sympathy with many of the moves of the board in the past. His stand on the John S. Kennedy memorial fund was the final straw that made his resignation virtually a foregone conclusion. He was bitterly opposed to placing it in the loan fund, contending that it was illegal. When the Assembly voted, almost unanimously, to place it in the loan fund, he announced that he could no longer serve.

Crushed Under Car, Nerve of Trainman Alone Stays Death

R. C. Potts, a railroad brakeman, lies at the point of death at the Elkin-Goldsmith Infirmary from injuries received when run over by a passenger train. Though one leg was amputated and he was badly bruised, the injured man has displayed remarkable nerve.

Potts' nerve may bring him through an accident that usually means death. His left leg was almost completely severed. His right foot is badly crushed and it may be necessary to remove it, too. A large hole in his head and contusions on his face make his condition extremely serious.

An engine and two coaches passed over Potts Thursday night at Magnolia Street bridge.

Harvard Grads at Reunion Stage Play

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Starting with a luncheon at the Hotel Jefferson at noon to-day, followed by a business meeting, the Seventeenth Annual Convention and Reunion of the Associated Harvard Clubs, composed of Harvard graduates from all over the United States, began its two days' session.

At 4 p. m. following the business session the delegates to the convention will be taken in autos to Sunset Inn, where a luncheon will be served on the veranda of the inn. To-night "The Perpetual Student," a musical play, will be staged by the members of the St. Louis Harvard Club.

Needle Swallowed 30 Years Ago Found

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—A steel needle, swallowed by him more than 30 years ago, has just been removed from the body of J. E. Wood, a Central of Georgia Railroad engineer residing here.

Wood had almost forgotten about the needle, when this week he felt a stinging sensation in his left side, that led him to believe something was wrong. He had a physician make an examination and it was found that the needle had worked to the surface in his side. It was removed. Wood is 45 years of age.

New Society Order: Get a "Dogstick!"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The latest thing in Washington is the dogstick. It is carried as a walking stick by society women. It is topped by a replica of their favorite dog or horse, done in ivory or silver.

The Misses Allen, daughters of General Allen, U. S. A., known as the best horsewomen among the society girls of the capital, are responsible for this fad.

Say Wm. Lorimer Will Run Again for Senate

CHICAGO, May 23.—The news is being spread around that William Lorimer will be a candidate for United States Senator under the direct election law at the expiration of the term of Lawrence Y. Sherman, two years hence.

"I will neither affirm nor deny the report," Mr. Lorimer says. "I have no announcement to make on the subject at this time."

Bryan to Proclaim Direct Vote Senators

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Secretary Bryan is preparing to make formal announcement of the ratification of the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of United States Senators.

It will mark the closing chapter of a reform movement which started eighty-seven years ago.

Roosevelt Going to Arizona for a Rest

NEW YORK, May 23.—Colonel Roosevelt, with two of his sons, will visit Arizona this summer.

Through his secretary he yesterday denied that while in the Southwest he would seek a lost tribe of Indians. He said he was merely going for a rest. He will do little hunting, but will ride considerably.

CAMPBELL TO CLAIMS COURT.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Edward J. Campbell, to be chief justice of the Court of Claims.

3 DEAD FROM EXPLOSION AT ARMY POST

Gun Lock at Fort Moultrie Is Wrecked by Heavy Charge. Captain May Die.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—Three men are dead, one probably fatally wounded, four seriously hurt and several others are to-day suffering from minor injuries as the result of the explosion of a 4.7-inch gun at Battery Bingham, Fort Moultrie, last night at 9:20 o'clock, while coast artillerymen and officers were at night target practice.

The dead are Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton; the fatally injured is Captain Guy Hanna, and the seriously hurt are Privates Swaggerty and Steinspringer, Hospital Steward Lamar, and a corporal whose name was not learned. The corporal's right shoulder was torn off.

Privates Baxter and Christian were killed outright. Their bodies were cut in two. Private Dalton died three hours later in the post hospital. Captain Hanna was struck by a fragmen of the breech lock of the big gun, which tore a hole in his side. Captain Clarke and Lieutenant Perry, between whom he was standing, escaped without injury.

The injured were rushed to the post hospital, nearby, and physicians were called from Charleston to assist the army surgeons in caring for the victims.

The explosion was caused, it is said, by the failure to properly close the lock after the cartridge had been inserted. When the fuse was set off the lock was blown back with terrific force and shattered into fragments. Officers of the post are to-day making a careful investigation into the affair.

Greeks and Bulgars Battle in Albania

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ATHENS, May 23.—Terrific fighting is going on between Bulgarian and Greek troops in Southern Albania.

Dispatches to-day said a heavy force of Bulgarians, supported by artillery, crossed the neutral zone established when the armistice with Turkey was signed. Soon the conflict extended all along the line of the Greek army.

The Greek Government is threatening to precipitate general hostilities.

Millionaire Brewer Near Death in Crash

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 23.—Henry Uihlein, millionaire president of the Schlitz Brewing Company, narrowly escaped death when the buggy in which he was riding was rammed by a street car.

Mr. Uihlein was thrown to the pavement. His feet became entangled in the reins and he was dragged several feet before the frightened horse could be caught.

Turkey Now Hit by Serious Revolution

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 23.—Following her disastrous war with the Balkan allies, Turkey now has a revolution on her hands.

Serious fighting is going on in the Vilayet of Basra, in Asiatic Turkey, between Saadun tribesmen and loyal troops of the Turkish army on one hand and a group of rebellious tribesmen. The Sheik of the Saadun tribesmen has been killed.

Floods Cause Big Sugar Crop Slump

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The sugar crop of Louisiana in 1912, owing to spring floods, was the smallest since 1889, the Department of Agriculture announces.

Preliminary returns indicate the output was slightly more than 300,000,000 pounds, or about 42 per cent of the production of 1911.

Memphis Sets Pace For Speedy Divorces

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 23.—A new record in court procedure was established here to-day when Chancellor Fentress granted a divorce to Mrs. Mollie Toohey, wife of J. M. Toohey, a Memphis millionaire, within two hours after the petition was filed.

An attorney representing Mrs. Toohey filed papers beginning the suit for divorce at 8 o'clock this morning. One hour later an attorney representing Toohey filed an answer. A few minutes before 10 o'clock the court had granted the decree.

Girl Faints When Telephone Bill Is $58

BETHLEHEM, PA., May 23.—Mary Smak, a pretty Hungarian domestic, not knowing what the rules or regulations of the telephone company were, decided to call her sweetheart on the telephone at Cleveland. She went into the booth in Gottlieb Huebner's candy store to-day and got connections with Cleveland.

Fifty-eight minutes she remained there. After she was through Huebner was told that the bill was $58. He informed the girl, who fainted. She earns only $2.50 a week.

CHURCHMAN HELD AS THIEF.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—John B. Dallas, former bookkeeper and church worker of Ardmore, Pa., is under arrest, charged with embezzling $45,000. It is said that he kept an automobile and chauffeur and bought a $15,000 home on $20 a week.

Condition of Mikado Very Grave Illness Overshadows U.S. Dispute Death Would Imperil Dynasty

Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, who is seriously ill, and the Empress.

Crowds Surround the Palace and Shinto Priests Pray for Recovery of Ruler.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

TOKIO, May 23.—The condition of Emperor Yoshihito, who is suffering from inflammation of the lungs, remained critical to-day.

The Mikado's fever still was very high and the eight court physicians were in constant attendance.

It is interesting to note that the modern European methods of treatment are being administered, the Emperor being a progressive.

Grave fears are felt that the illness may prove fatal, leaving Japan without a ruler at a time made critical by the dispute with the United States.

The present illness can be directly traced to a severe cold which the Emperor contracted five days ago, but his condition was aggravated by worry over the diplomatic controversy with the United States over the California land bill.

High officials remain reticent on the possible political effect of the Mikado's illness. Count Watanabe, Minister of Imperial Household, issued a statement for the benefit of the Japanese people saying that the Emperor's condition is not serious.

In spite of this reassuring statement, however, gravest fears were expressed that the Mikado would not survive. The Emperor's condition has never been strong and the cares of state have tended to weaken him.

For the time being the illness of the sovereign has tended to eclipse the American dispute, but high officials of the government are alarmed lest the death of the Mikado might inflame the people into an irresistible demand for war.

Should Yoshihito die, the dynasty would be in danger. The Crown Prince, Hirohito, is only twelve years old, and should there be a regency it is possible that old quarrels between the leading families would flare which would change the future government and identity of the future reigning family.

Helen Keller to Try Own Cure on Prince

LONDON, May 23.—According to letters from Madrid, there is only the frailest hope that Prince Jamie, King Alfonso's five-year-old son, ever can be cured of his deafness and dumbness.

Helen Keller has been summoned by the Queen to proceed in all haste to the royal palace, every specialist of note in Europe having failed to help the child.

French Soldiers Riot Against Military Act

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PARIS, May 23.—Hundreds of French soldiers engaged in rioting to-day at various points in protest against the new military law, which extends the term of enlistment to three years.

The ringleaders will be courtmartialed. A great many arrests have been made.

Clerical Onions Are Barred by Church

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—The Lutheran Ministerium, the supreme body of that sect, decided at the sixty-sixth annual convention, that hereafter ministers of that denomination must not engage in outside work.

One minister has been ordained thirty-seven years and in that time has preached three sermons, but this was not as flagrant as one who raised onions, presumably for market, or another who was an undertaker on the side.

Militant Bomb in A Carnegie Library

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

KEIGHLEY, ENGLAND, May 23.—A suffragette bomb, composed of explosives and nitric acid, was found in the Carnegie Library here to-day.

Although the bomb had an exploding mechanism affixed to it, the mechanism was not set so as to explode the bomb.

SLAYING INDICTMENTS AGAINST BOTH LEE AND FRANK WILL BE ASKED

Woman Makes Affidavit That Pencil Factory Superintendent Tried to Rent Room for Himself and Girl on the Day Mary Phagan Was Killed.

Bills of indictment charging Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee with the murder of Mary Phagan were presented the Grand Jury this morning. This announcement from Solicitor Dorsey came as a distinct surprise as it had been intimated on several occasions one of the two would be named as an accessory to the fact.

One of the most important witnesses summoned is Mrs. Mima Famby, 400 Piedmont Avenue, who, according to her affidavit, will testify that Frank telephoned her the evening of the murder and endeavored to arrange for a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not disclose. The Solicitor said Mrs. Famby would hardly testify Friday, but would before the Grand Jury finished the case.

Important as is the bearing which this alleged telephone conversation appears to have on the mystery of Mary Phagan's death, doubts already are being expressed as to the part it will be permitted to have with the evidence that is being presented to warrant the indictment of Frank and Lee.

The law always has been very chary of accepting telephone conversations as evidence in a court of justice, except under the most unusual circumstances, where there was opportunity for the fullest corroboration. These circumstances do not appear to exist in the alleged telephone conversations betwen Frank and Mrs. Famby.

Mrs. Famby Is Ill.

Whether the usual reluctance of the law to accept such testimony will be waived by the Grand Jury probably will not be known Friday, as Mrs. Famby was reported sick in bed at her home Friday morning, and she refused to talk to anyone in regard to the case.

"Mrs. Famby is very sick," said the nurse, Mrs. Emma F. Rivers. "She cannot be seen to-day. She is slightly better, however, than she was yesterday, and it is possible that she will be practically recovered by Saturday."

It is to be supposed that if Mrs. Famby's testimony is admitted there will be an immediate attempt to attack her credibility. Some of the statements in her affidavit will be folowed out, and an investigation will be made of the facts of her private life, so far as they may affect the probable truth of her statements.

John W. Moore, attorney in the Grace and Appelbaum cases, said today that the Georgia law would permit the introduction of telephone conversations in evidence if the person testifying could swear positively that he or she knew the voice at the other end of the line.

Mrs. Famby's affidavit was signed in the office of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford May 11. Mrs. Famby was sworn by Recorder Nash Broyles. Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler witnessed the signature.

Mrs. Famby said that she and a party of friends were playing bridge in her apartments late Memorial Day afternoon when Frank, whom she had known a long time, telephoned her. It was between 6 and 6:30 o'clock, she stated. Frank, according to her story, wanted to rent a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not give. Mrs. Famby said that she flatly refused him, but Frank insisted he be rented an apartment.

"He said he was forced to obtain a room for himself and the girl," said Mrs. Famby, "but didn't want to go anywhere else because he put such implicit trust in me. I would not grant his request and hung up the telephone."

Called Several Times.

"Later he called again," she continued. "This time he was more insistent and said something about it being a case of life and death. Between 6:30 and 10 o'clock he called probably half a dozen times. Finally I told him not to call any more, as

PHAGAN GRAND JURY

L. H. Beck, foreman;
A. D. Adair, Sr.,
F. P. H. Akers,
B. F. Bell,
J. C. Bell,
Sol Benjamin,
William E. Besser,
Albert Boylston,
C. M. Brown,
C. A. Cowles,
Walker Dunson,
S. C. Glass,
A. L. Guthman,
Charles Heinz,
H. G. Hubbard,
V. H. Kreigshaber,
R. R. Nash,
W. L. Percy,
R. A. Redding,
R. F. Sams,
John D. Wing.

PRISON CRUELTIES SHARPLY DENIED

Shelby Smith Says Convicts Are Too Tired to Hear Preaching at Night Through Week.

Charges by George W. Crabtree, a Presbyterian prison evangelist, that Fulton County convicts are cruelly treated by guards under Captain Tom Donaldson, have brought a denial from Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton County Prison Commission.

The evangelist said he was prohibited from holding evangelistic services in the camp save on Sunday. Chairman Smith denies the cruelty charges, but admits the other, saying the welfare of the prisoners demands that no services be held on working days.

Further than to deny cruel treatment, Captain Donaldson declined to answer the charges made against him. Chairman Smith himself had little to say except about the evangelistic services.

"Among the 700 prisoners in this county are ten murderers and many other desperate characters, who obviously make many restrictions necessary," he said. "They work hard every day, and when they get through they need a bath and a good night's rest. To hold religious services at night, after a hard day's work, would be impractical for the prisoners, impractical for the guards and impractical for the other attendants. I favor holding religious services only on Sunday."

RAILWAY TO TRY WIRELESS.

PITTSBURG, May 23.—The Pennsylvania Railroad may soon establish a wireless telegraph station in Pittsburg, to connect this city with Philadelphia and other diversion points.

PHAGAN CASE UP TO GRAND JURY

Continued From Page 1.

I was going automobiling with friends."

Mrs. Famby said that she had been offered money to leave the city until the courts concluded with the Phagan case. To substantiate this charge the name of Alexander S. Martin, of Gainesville, a newspaper man, has been handed the police. He is said to know of hush money having been offered Mrs. Famby.

Shortly after Frank's arrest Mrs. Famby said she visited him at the Tower. At first she said he did not recognize her, but later spoke to her, and they had a secret conference, the nature of which she would not discuss.

The woman added that when she lived at 87 Armstrong Street Frank was a frequent visitor to her place and had brought girls there.

Chief Lanford's Theory.

Chief Lanford's theory, as outlined Friday morning, is that the girl had been knocked unconscious when the alelged telephone call was made to secure a room, and the plan was to remove the girl to a place where she could be given medical attention without suspicion.

"When it was seen that Mrs. Famby would not rent a room," said Chief Lanford, "it was necessary that she be disposed of. Dead folks tell no tales."

The corridors of the Thrower building were thronged with witnesses long before 10 o'clock this morning, the hour for the Grand Jury to assemble. More than 100 are under subpena. If all are examined it will be several days before the result of the jury's deliberation will be known.

George W. Parrott, a well-known business man, has written the following letter in the interest of Frank:

As is perhaps known by many, I am interested in the National Pencil Company and I have, with keen interest, noted, from time to time, hints and insinuations that Mr. Leo Frank has misused and mistreated female employees of the factory.

Deny He Misused Employees.

I felt it due myself and the other gentlemen interested in the factory that as to this matter there should be a thorough investigation.

To that end, on Wednesday, together with other gentlemen likewise interested in the factory, I interviewed every employee of the factory, both male and female.

Every one of them, without a dissenting voice, voluntarily and emphatically made affidavit that Mr. Frank had never, at any time, or in any way, misused or mistreated them, and that none of them had ever known a single instance of any familiarity on the part of Mr. Frank with any one of the female employees.

These affidavits are in my possession.

This is a matter of personal concern to me, and I beg that, in justice to myself and others interested in the factory, that this matter be set fairly right before the public.

GEORGE W. PARROTT.

West Point Commencement.

WEST POINT.—The West Point public schools close for the summer vacation on Friday. The commencement sermon will be preached Sunday by Rev. L. R. Christie, of Columbus. The graduating program will be rendered Monday night, when Dr. C. E. Pattillo will make the literary address.

Judge Covington Orator.

WRIGHTSVILLE.—W. A. Covington, of Moultrie, delivered the literary address of Warthen College commencement at the college auditorium.

We have Beautiful Bedding Plants, 3c each. Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

Spring Cleaning Time Is Here

Don't be satisfied with the "top-cleaning" which pleases but doesn't protect.

Use CN and make your home pure-clean—sure-clean.

CN removes dirt and cuts grease better than ordinary cleansers. It is a powerful disinfectant and a safe deodorant.

CN is equally effective on woodwork, marble, tiling, etc. Make this spring cleaning thorough by using CN.

All Grocers, Druggists and Department Stores

10c, 25c, 50c, $1

The yellow package with the gable-top.

West Disinfecting Co. Atlanta, Ga.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest
VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913
5 VOTES
NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.

Vote for .....

Address .....

CARRIERS' AND AGENTS' BALLOT.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Friday, May 23, 1913.
5 VOTES NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.

Vote for .....

Address .....

SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

Next Sunday's Coupons Will Count 30 Votes

MERGER CERTAIN TO COME NEXT YEAR, SAYS STELZLE

Harder to Unite Presbyterian Churches Than to Bring Together North and South After War, He Declares.

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

"When I came here forty-nine years ago, it was in the spirit of war. When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," was the way General Robert N. Adams, of Minneapolis put it when addressing the Northern Presbyterian Assembly yesterday. General Adams has been preaching the message of the Prince of Peace for a good many years.

After the war he became a preacher, going to the rough regions of the Northwest country. For a long time he has been superintendent of home missions in the State of Minnesota, retiring a short time ago on account of impaired health. He marched into Atlanta with General Sherman and is the only surviving general of the famous group that followed Sherman "from Atlanta to the sea."

"Not only a united republic, but a united church," is the message that General Adams is now preaching. But it seems to be more difficult to unite the church than it does to get together the citizens of the Republic. Religious prejudice dies hard. This has been made apparent in some of the meetings of the assemblies. But it isn't altogether prejudice, either, that keeps men apart. It is often sincere devotion to truth, and it often happens that both opponents have right on their side. Men change their political faiths far more readily than they do their religious convictions.

Churches Working Together.

But it is still true that men with different religious beliefs are working together far more generally than do men with different political beliefs. It isn't often that the Democrats and the Republicans sit down to map out a campaign which is to bring neither of them profit nor glory. So you Atlantans who have been smiling at what sometimes seemed like a religious row don't forget that the politicians haven't come anywhere near the church in unity and co-operation.

The Southern Assembly yesterday demonstrated that fact just stated by deciding to remain within the Federal Council of Churches. And it wasn't a very easy thing to do, either, for there were many things that hurt when they voted favorably upon the resolution. So strongly did it affect one veteran who has been fighting "the battles of the Lord" that he impulsively surrendered his seat as a commissioner, but he showed his real greatness by coming back in the afternoon, repentant. This commissioner has real convictions. He's been suffering on account of them.

Prejudice Giving Way.

But it has been revealed in the meetings of these Assemblies that every denominational prejudice and all sectarian passion must give way before the spirit of which General Adams spoke—the spirit of the Prince of Peace. There's no other way.

Next year will undoubtedly see the bringing together into one denomination of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Assemblies. Then the Northern Assembly will unite with the Reformed Church of the United States. The plan is already set up. It simply requires a little more time, for such matters can not be rushed. Then, perhaps, some time in the near future all these bodies will get together.

In many respects the Protestant Churches of the United States are already in one group, working out some great problems. Yesterday the Northern Assembly listened to Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, Secretary of the Federal Council. He brought greetings from thirty denominations and 20,000,000 Protestants in this country. These groups are working harmoniously for the building up of a great Kingdom of God in America, and they're building fast. Then the Assembly listened to Dr. David G. Wylie, who represented the "Alliance of Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian System of Belief." In this long-named society there are 30,000,000 Protestants, in every part of the world, who believe in the Presbyterian doctrine. And 30,000,000 Presbyterians can wield some influence in the world. They're doing it, too, but this isn't a subject that one of them can freely talk about.

Sees Church Unity.

Other fraternal delegates spoke to the Assembly, each of them representing a very considerable group of Christian men and women working in some part of the globe in the spirit of the "Prince of Peace," and most of them expressed a longing for the time when "all should be one."

"When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," said General Adams. Without fear of serious contradiction, the commissioners who to-day close their sessions in Atlanta may say that when another General Assembly—of any of the three branches that have been here for ten days—meets in this city, it will represent not merely one of the three, but all of them.

List to the Noises That Annoy Chicago!

CHICAGO, May 23.—When a City Council committee began its investigation of unnecessary noise in Chicago, protests were entered against roosters, pet dogs, a cow, motorcycles, electric pianos and practicing voice lessons.

Alderman Nance, chairman of the committee, read to the committeemen a list of noises against which he had received complaints, which included chiming church bells at 6 a. m., shouting of peddlers, policemen's whistles, rumbling of elevated trains, and one man wrote that a cabaret performance near his home kept his family from sleeping.

$30,000 Paid for Old English Silver Plate

LONDON, May 23.—The sale of the collection of old English silver plate belonging to the late E. H. Baldon realized more than $30,000.

Crichton purchased a silver-gilt cream boat, made by Paul Lamerie, in 1744, for $682; a top of a George I'tazza, dated 1714, for $141; a plain bowl, dated 1715, for $175; a circular bowl, dated 1663, for $287; and an Elizabethan tiger ware jug, dated 1575, for $1,000.

Baby Astor Deluged With Unasked Gifts

NEW YORK, May 23.—"Baby Astor" as he is known in society—has, it is just learned, been showered with gifts illustrative of the world-wide interest in the little child of millions and of tragedy—for in the most part, they have come from strangers.

In every instance these gifts have been returned "with thanks and regrets."

Many of them have been articles of infant wear.

Labor-Pastor Appeals to Church

'Holds Key to Workers' Problem'

'Unions Lack Capable Local Chiefs'

Rev. J. C. Day, Presbyterian delegate, who says labor problem must be fought out on moral and religious grounds.

Rev. Jonathan C. Day Also Asserts Socialism Holds Out More Hope to Toilers.

The fundamental lack of organized labor, especially in local undertakings, is competent leadership, in the opinion of the Rev. Jonathan C. Day, Superintendent of the New York Labor Temple, who is in Atlanta for the Presbyterian Assemblies.

"There are enough competent leaders to direct the national affairs of labor, but there is great need of men who will come to the front for labor in the smaller cities and villages.

"These leaders are bound to come through organization. They must be developed just as capital has developed its great leaders. Hampered as laboring men are by their constant battle, it will take longer to develop leaders than it did for the capitalists.

"Organized labor is interpreted by the great majority in terms of the McNamaras and others who have resorted to violence. No greater injustice could be done the American workingmen than to assume that these men represent the will of the rank and file. I have had many years' experience with laboring men; I have been a delegate to their assemblies since I joined the ministry, and I have found that the great masses of the workingmen are fair and willing to do the right thing. They want only what they are entitled to.

Has Checked Child-Labor.

"Labor has done more to combat child-labor than the church," he said. "Ministers have prayed, but the laboring man has gone to the roots of the matter, and secured stringent legislation against child-labor and a fair deal for women."

The Rev. Mr. Day declared that the labor problem never will be solved until the fight is based on moral and religious grounds, and it is the work of the church to provide these grounds.

"The church should do its utmost to establish friendly relations with labor," he declared. "We talk about evangelizing the working man, but we can not do it until we fraternalize him. It was not so long ago that the laboring man declared the church had no use for him. Now you seldom hear this statement. The church has begun to try to help the laboring man help himself. The progress of labor and the progress of the church are almost parallel."

The Rev. Mr. Day declared that Socialism holds out more hope to the working man than any other political party, and asserted that Socialism will solve the labor problem—if it is as good in practice as in theory.

Parties Shirk Socialism.

"Few men will deny that labor is entitled to a more equitable share of its products than it gets now," he said. "That is verging on Socialism. The platforms of the Democratic and Progressive parties skirt the edges of Socialism. That is one of the reasons many laboring men enrolled themselves with those parties at the last election."

The New York Labor Temple, of which the Rev. Mr. Day succeeded Dr. Charles Stelzle as superintendent, is one of the "labor wonders" of the world. More than 125,000 laboring men held their meetings there last year, and more than 150,000 people attended the fraternal services conducted by the Rev. Mr. Day. The temple authorities keep eye upon the movements of 3,000 children every year, aiding them to attend moving picture shows and other places of benefit and instruction.

An example of the fraternal work done by the temple was the recent "white goods" strike in New York. The temple was made the headquarters of the striking girls, and the Rev. Mr. Day asserts he and his aids chased no less than 300 white slave cadets from the doors of the temple while the strike was going on. On one occasion the Rev. Mr. Day went to the police station to bail out three pickets, and was himself arrested on a charge of interfering with an officer.

Says New York Is Tending to Paganism

NEW YORK, May 23.—"The idea of liberty in this country is a farce," says Sir Robert Perks, Bart., who has been visiting America.

"New York is leaning, and leaning hard, towards paganism. Unless your people return to the elementary forms of Christianity there will be an age of decadence in your country followed by a revolt which will overthrow the whole social system.

AUTO HILL CLIMB DUE TO PROVIDE REAL SPORT

Big Contest Scheduled for Stewart Avenue Incline Saturday. Early Lists Large.

Local automobile and motorcycle fans are in for a "big time" Saturday afternoon when the second annual hill-climb of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories' Association is run out on the steep Stewart Avenue incline.

The event was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but on account of a heavy shower it was considered advisable to postpone it a week. Since then several new entries have been received, the list having been reopened under the sanction of the American Automobile Association.

The entries will close Friday. Drivers must get their licenses from Charles I. Ryan, local representative of the American Automobile Association. He is located in the Fourth National Bank Building.

The complete list of entries follows:

Event No. 1.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	C
2.	Studebaker, D. Rooney	C
3.	Buick, Hugh Moss	C

Event No. 2

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Ford, J. L. Alexander	C
2.	Chalmers, Hugh Moss	C
3.	Studebaker, Joe Lundgren	C

Event No. 3.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C
2.	Lion, W. J. Stoddard	C

Event No. 4.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	National, Bruce McKerall	C
2.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C

Event No. 6—Free for All.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	American, Joseph H. White	D
2.	National, Bruce McKerall	D
3.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	D
4.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	D
5.	National, T. A. Fox	D

Event N. 7.

No. Car and Driver.
1. Marion, Dr. Samuel Green.
2. Buick, Hugh Moss.
3. Stoddard-Dayton, Joe Johnston.
4. Apperson, Dr. Constantine.
5. Pope-Hartford, E. A. Holbrook.

MOTORCYCLES.
Event No. 1.
(61 Class Amateurs.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Indian	H. A. Owen
2.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
3.	Indian	L. S. Peek
4.	Excelsior	T. C. Butler, Jr.
5.	Indian	E. A. Owen

Event No. 2.
(61 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
2.	Indian	Harry J. Glenn
3.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
4.	Indian	Ed L. Wilcox

Event No. 4.
(30-50 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
2.	Indian	Ed R. Wilcox
3.	Thor	G. L. Singleton

Events and Prizes.

The list of prizes is as follows:

Silver cup, donated by the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory Association, for car making fastest time; to be won three times—won 1912 by Pope-Hartford.

Silver cup, donated by E. Rivers Realty Company, for car making fastest time in events Nos. 1 and 2; to be won three times—won 1912 by E.-M.-F.

AUTOMOBILES.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup or prize to be selected; second prize, pair $2.50 gloves, donated by Thirty-five Per Cent Automobile Supply Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Atlanta Constitution; second prize, $15 raincoat, by Johnson-Gewinner Company.

Event No. 3—First prize, silver cup, by Durham Jewelry Company; second prize, barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No 4—First prize, silver cup, by Studebaker Corporation; second prize, two 32x3½ Red tubes, by New South Rubber Company.

Event No. 5—First prize, silver cup, by Firestone Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, model "B," by Stewart-Warner Corporation.

Private Owners' Cars.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup, by Fisk Rubber Company; second prize, half barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Republic Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, pair gloves, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

MOTORCYCLES.

Event No. 1, Amateurs—First prize, silver cup, by Elyea-Austell Company; second prize, pair leggins, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

Event No. 2, Professional—First prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, by Stewart Warner Corporation; second prize, electric horn, by Hendee Manufacturing Company.

UNVEIL CANDLER SHAFT ON JUNE 3

Governor Brown and Governor-Elect Slaton Will Attend Ceremonies at Macon.

The unveiling of the monument to Allen D. Candler, Governor of Georgia from 1898 to 1904, purchased by the members of his official household, will take place at Gainesville June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. J. W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

A large party, including Governor Joseph M. Brown and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, will go from Atlanta to attend the event. The City Council of Gainesville and the local camp of Confederate Veterans and other organizations will take prominent parts.

The monument selected is a tall marble shaft. Only the State officials who served during Governor Candler's two terms contributed to the memorial. They are:

Adams, Samuel B.	Land, Max E.
Altmayer, Samuel	Larsen, W. W.
Black, E. R.	Lindsey, J. W.
Bailey, Mrs. J. W.	Longley, Frank P
Baldwin, H. W., Sr.	Lowry, Robert J.
Bacon, A. O.	Mitchell, M. G.
Burger, R. R.	Mitchell, R. G., Jr.
Bush, Isaac A.	McWhorter, Hamilton
Brown, J. Pope	Nottingham, W. D.
Bower, B. B., Jr.	Nicholson, D. B.
Brannen, J. F.	Odom, Benton.
Brown, George T	Obear, W. G.
Crisp, C. F.	Quincey, J. W.
Covington, W. A	Post, W. G.
Corker, F. G.	Power, W. R.
Castellow, B. T.	Reid, H. M.
Callaway, E. H.	Reece, J. H.
Carswell, G. H.	Russell, A. H.
Dupree, E. F.	Shepherd, W. S.
Deal, A. M.	Smith, R. L. J.
Dyer, D. B.	Sheddon, R. F.
Dickson, Capers	Sheffield, R. H.
Dickerson, R. G.	Taliaferro, P. R.
DuPont, Augustus	Tipton, J. H.
Dillon, J. A.	Toombs, W. H.
Edwards, B. J.	Tribble, S. J.
Eve, William F.	VanBuren, J. R.
Foute, A. M.	Varnedoe, S. M.
Freeman, A. D.	Watkins, E. W.
Foster, F. C.	Webb, C. S.
Fogarty, D. G.	West, A. J.
Griffin, W. H.	West, H. F.
Green, R. E.	Willingham, Wright
Grantland, S.	Wright, Boykin
Howell, Clark	Williams, John T
Hughes, D. M.	Wilkes, Samuel W.
Holtzclaw, R. N.	Woodward, John C.
Hitch, C. M.	Yeomans, M. J.
Hill, J. T.	Nagle, Mary M.
Hansell, C. P.	Henderson, Lillian T.
Inman, F. M.	Lindsey, Annie F.
Johnson, F. Holmes
King, A. N.
Kent, W. B.

TO-DAY'S MARKET OPENINGS.

NEW YORK COTTON

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	First Call.	Prev. Close
May	11.75	11.75	11.75	11.75	11.69-70
June					11.77-78
July	11.82	11.82	11.78	11.78	11.81-83
Aug.	11.61	11.61	11.61	11.61	11.59-60
Sept.					11.31-32
Oct.	11.23	11.23	11.19	11.19	11.24-25
Dec.	11.24	11.24	11.20	11.21	11.25-26
Jan.	11.21	11.21	11.20	11.20	11.21-23
Mar.	11.29	11.29	11.28	11.28	11.29-31

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	First Call.	Prev. Close
May	12.52	12.52	12.52	12.52	12.50-51
June					11.23-25
July	11.25	11.25	11.21	11.21	12.23-24
Aug.	11.80	11.80	11.80	11.80	11.82-83
Sept.					11.40-41
Oct.	11.35	11.35	11.33	11.33	11.33-34
Nov.					11.32-34
Dec.	11.33	11.33	11.31	11.31	11.31-32
Jan.	11.35	11.35	11.35	11.35	11.35-36
Feb.					11.32-34
Mar.					11.44-45

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Stock quotations to 10 a. m.:

STOCKS	High.	Low.	10 a.m.	Prev. Close
Atchison	99⅛	99⅛	99⅛	99½
American Can	32⅞	32⅞	32⅞	32⅞
Am. T.-T.	128	128	128	128⅞
Can. Pacific	237	237	237	247¼
Col. Met.	36¼	36	36
Erie	28¼	28¼	28¼	28⅜
G. North. pfd.	127	127	127	127
N. Y. Central.	100⅝	100⅝	100⅝	100⅝
Pennsylvania	110	110	110	110
Reading	161½	161⅜	161½	161½
Rock Island	8⅛	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛
So. Pacific	97¼	97¼	97¼	97⅛
Union Pacific	151⅜	151⅜	151⅜	151¼
U. S. Steel	60⅜	60¼	60¼	60⅜
W. Maryland.	40	40	40	39¾

Militant Held as Incendiary.

CAMBRIDGE, ENG., May 23.—Miriam Pratt, a militant suffragette, was remanded without bail to-day on a charge of setting fire to a residence in this city on May 17. Miss Pratt is a school teacher at Norwich.

Advice to Those Who Have Lung Trouble

Pulmonary Lung Trouble is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Do all you possibly can to add to strength and increase weight; eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air, and then, if health and strength do not return, add the tonic and beneficial effects of Eckman's Alterative. Read what it did in this case:

405 E. 5th St., Wilmington, Del.

"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market Street, Wilmington, Del.), recommended to me Eckman's Alterative, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life."

(Affidavit.) JAS. SQUIRES.

(Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' drug stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

ALDERMAN'S WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY

Mrs. James B. Everett, Asking $5,000 Alimony, Declares Husband's Office Pays Him Well.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Mrs. Clara E. Everett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alderman James B. Everett, and for $5,000 temporary alimony. The petitioner states that she was forced to leave her husband July 1, 1912, because of his attitude toward her. She charges she is without means of support and has been compelled to depend on relatives for a livelihood since the separation.

Mrs. Everett declares her husband persuaded her to mortgage her home at 659 North Boulevard, which had been given to her by her mother, and that her husband appropriated this money to his own use. The petition states that Everett holds a position as Alderman, "from which he derives a large sum each year." In addition, he is connected with the Theatrical Club at a salary of $150 a month, while he also owns a large amount of stock in the club, which pays him good dividends, the wife states.

Judge John T. Pendleton has set May 31 for the hearing of the suit for temporary alimony. Attorneys Maddox & Sims represent Mrs. Everett.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured; therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps. DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.

It's common sense to care for your teeth—and a pleasure too if you use

COLGATE'S
TRADE RIBBON MARK
DENTAL CREAM

A delicious flavor instead of a "druggy" taste.

Its twice-a-day use checks decay-germs, and cleans the teeth without scratching the enamel.

Ribbon Dental Cream leaves the mouth wholesome, refreshed.

Sold Everywhere

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even if she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some expective mother to whom a word in time may bring. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful help, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book.

THOMASVILLE IS TORN BY STRIFE OVER LAWS

Policeman Friendly to Wandering Animals Is Haled Before City Council for Trial.

BY JAMES B. NEVIN.

The ancient and merry cow and anti-cow warfare has broken loose in Thomasville once more.

While North Georgia statesmen fight and scrap over the loaves and fishes of ordinary political persuasion, Thomasville can never find time from its cow war to get in the real big game up state.

Not long ago, an anti-cow ordinance was slipped through Council, but as was predicted, it has not served to keep grand Old Sis Cow off the streets of the town. Grave and reverend city councilors may lead, or drive, the friends of Sis Cow to water, but they cannot make them drink.

The Council may order the police force to arrest the cows astray on the city thoroughfares, but if the policeman will not obey the Council's mandate, what is the Council going to do about it?

That is the momentous question now agitating Thomasville to the verge of strenuous internecene strife once more.

Not long since, Alderman Bennett, anti-cow, ordered Policeman Nazeworth, pro-cow, to arrest a cow the alderman discovered at large about town.

Policeman Nazeworth, who is rotund and good natured, a lover of nature and of cows, didn't exactly refuse to execute the aldermanic ukase, but he fooled around and put it off, upon one pretext and another, until his honor got mad, and had the policeman haled before Council for refusing to obey orders.

The policeman told Council he intended no disrespect to the alderman, and that, after a while, when he got through with seven or eleven other tasks, he had intended chasing that cow into the "pound," not that he had anything against cows, in fact he rather liked them, but that he was a faithful officer, knew his duty, and would perform it, if given time, and permitted to judge for himself how much, etc.

The Council, rather skittish about the cow issue in Thomasville, anyway, laughed, dismissed the charges against Policeman Nazeworth, and told him to go his way, and sin no more.

Alderman Bennett didn't like it much, but what could he do when Council refused that way to back him up?

The pro-cow hosts in Thomasville, therefore, have taken heart over the outcome of the issue thus precipitated by Alderm. Bennett and met so gallantly by Policeman Nazeworth, and there is renewed talk of another red-hot municipal campaign in Thomasville, with the cow as the burning issue.

In Thomasville, if nowhere else in this world, age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of grand Old Sis Cow!

Senator M. C. Tarver, of Whitfield, will introduce in the next Legislature a bill to legalize suspension of sentence in criminal cases, in the discretion of the presiding judge, and to provide for probation officers.

Senator Tarver, who is in Atlanta, discussing his bill said:

"I am convinced that the passage of these measures will work a genuine reform in the administration of the criminal laws of the State. I do not fully agree with the idea that imprisonment for crime is wholly for reformation and not for punishment, and I hold that where punishment alone will operate to deter crime, it is all right. Beyond question, the reformation of criminals, however, is the ultimate object of punishment.

"I regard the suspension of sentence in certain cases an ideal restraint against crime.

"Of the 2,688 penitentiary convicts June 1, 1911, 1,304 were between the ages of 20 and 29 years—practically 50 per cent. It is hard to believe that of such a large number, all young men, and nearly all first offenders, the judges could not have found many worthy of another chance through suspended sentence."

The Supreme Court, in a recent reversal of Judge Charlton, in a case from Savannah, has settled definitely one phase of what constitutes a "blind tiger" in Georgia.

A defendant charged with operating a "blind tiger," pleaded that his place was not a "blind tiger," because, while intoxicating liquors may have been sold therein, they were sold openly and above board, and hence could not properly come under the ban of "secretiveness," held to be an essential element in the gentle art of "blind tigering."

The court held, however, that so far as the purposes of the Georgia prohibition laws are concerned, all places where intoxicants are sold, whether openly or in the most exclusive club, are "secretive" in their violations of the law, and hence very properly may come under the designation of "blind tigers."

The prohibitionists claim that this ruling furnishes them a new and powerful weapon for use against violators of the state-wide prohibition law.

A number of Georgia Congressmen have run down home for a week or so, while the Senate chews upon the tariff bill.

Congressman Lee is spending a few days at Chickamauga; Judge Bartlett is in Macon, and Congressman Tribble is in Athens.

The House will do nothing more than loaf away the time from now until the Senate gets through with the Underwood bill. And as the Senate is not expected to get through with that bill before July or later, it looks as if there may be much time for the members of the other House to see the folks back home, if they so incline.

Governor Joseph M. Brown has returned from Albany, where he was the guest of honor for a day of the local Chautauqua.

PEACH CROP FAR SHORT; PRICES WILL SOAR

Highest Estimate Puts Total Yield of State at 1,450 Cars—Five Thousand Last Year.

The Georgia peach crop this year will not exceed 1,450 carloads, which is 50 per cent less than the city of New York alone purchased last year.

H. D. Marks, manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, estimates the total Georgia crop at 1,454 cars. The Fruit Growers' Express figures 1,349 cars, while the Central of Georgia Railway looks for only 1,312.

Last year the Georgia crop was unusually large, 5,000 varloads of Georgia's favorite fruit being shipped to market. New York City, always the greatest consumer of the season's early delicacies, purchased 3,800 carloads. Still, there were more than 3,000 carloads for home consumption and country-wide distribution. This year New York alone will demand more than the entire State can supply.

Last year the growers realized, on the season's average, $575 per carload, gross, in New York. This season's short crop will send the price soaring. Early shipments may bring as high as $1,000 a car, although the season's average will be less.

Railroads have already begun preparing to handle the crop. All F. G. E. cars received by the Central of Georgia are being parked in the Fort Valley and Marshallville yards. This road has requisitioned 1,200 cars from the Fruit Growers' Express.

Mr. Marks expects the first carload of Greensboro peaches, the earliest variety, between June 3 and 5. Carmen peaches will begin to move between June 15 and 18; Hihley Bills June 23; Georgia Bills, June 30, and Elberta crops will be exceedingly short. Only the Hihley Bills and Georgia Bills will be gathered in great amounts.

Heavy rains, preventing polienization, caused the crop shortage, according to Mr. Marks. Central of Georgia officials attribute the falling off to early frosts.

MELONS HANG HIGH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 23.—Twenty-five dollars for fifty-four cantaloupes. That's the rate Chicago paid to-day for the first of the season.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith Makes Hit

Appears in Play for Suffrage 'Woman' Converts Many to Cause

Miss Mildred Bacon

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith

Daughter of Senator Smith One of the Charming Figures in Mrs. Hemmick's Drama.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith, is receiving many congratulations from her Washington friends for her ability as an actress. Miss Smith took a prominent part in the initial production of "Woman," a mortality play written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, millionairess and a recent suffrage convert at the New National theater in the capital Wednesday night.

A number of other prominent society girls took part in the play, and it is claimed that many converts to the cause have been made among the young women by the production. Others who had parts were Misses Mildred Bacon, Mabel Talliaferro, Nellie Bly, Helen Buchanan, Desha Ailen, Roberta Aimes, Jeanette Allen, Esther Denny and Mrs. David Fairfield.

The new play is an allegory, designed to depict the troubles and trials of the woman of to-day.

Dying Woman Killed in Accident.

CASTIGLIONE, ITALY, May 23.—While a priest and relatives and friends were praying at the bedside of a dying woman to-day, the house collapsed. The sick woman was instantly killed and all the others received serious injuries.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell goods. Try it!

GERMANS ACCORD HONOR TO WAGNER

Centenary of Famous Composer Observed Throughout Empire. Son Maintains Silence.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

BERLIN, May 23.—"I prefer to be silent on this occasion," writes Siegfrieid Wagner, son of the great composer and himself a noted musician, in a letter received by an American correspondent to-day. "We have our reasons, the same reasons for which we do not play this year at our Festspielhaus (festival theater) in Baireuth."

The words quoted were in reply to a request for an expression in connection with the centenary of Richard Wagner's birth, May 22, 1813. While Baireuth was silent the rest of Germany was fittingly remembering the day. The people of Berlin heard five Wagner programs in the public parks and the notables who are here for the wedding of the Kaiser's daughter attended a gala performance of "Die Meistersinger."

In Munich, once the home of the composer, a great monument in his honor was unveiled yesterday. A bust of Wagner also has been placed this year in Walhalla, the famous hall of fame built by Ludwig II. The Bavarians were angry over the money spent by Ludwig on the composer, and they finally drove the latter away, withholding all honor from him until this year.

Frau Cosima Wagner, the widow, lives with Siegfried in the composer's old home in Baireuth, "Wahnfried," in the garden of which he is buried. Frau Wagner is 72 years of age and not in good health.

Savannah Pastor at Monroe.

MONROE.—Dr. Sam J. White, of Savannah, will preach the commencement sermon of the Monroe High School Sunday and will conduct services at the Christian Church throughout the week.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Miller Bell New Grand Chancellor of State Pythians

WAYCROSS, GA., May 23.—Grand Chancellor James W. Austin's suggestion for changing the method of electing grand lodge officers for the Knights of Pythias of Georgia, was to-day referred to the incoming committee on judiciary with instructions to prepare an amendment and submit it with a report at the next convention.

The officers elected for the year are:

Grand Chancellor, Miller S. Bell, Milledgeville; Grand Vice Chancellor, H. M. Stanley, Dublin; Grand Prelate John P. Cheney, Marietta; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, W. H. Leopold, Savannah; Grand Master of Exchequer, R. C. Norman, Washington; Grand Master-at arms, Troy Beatty, Athens; Grand Inner Guard, George C. Schaufele, Augusta; Grand Outer Guard, Joseph D. Smith, Barnesville. Supreme representatives, B. D. Brantley, Blackshear and C. M. Milan, Cartersville.

Macon was selected as the permanent meeting place for the Grand Lodge.

Fifth District Commencement.

MONROE.—Dr. D. W. Key, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Monroe, on Sunday will deliver the commencement sermon of the Fifth District Agricultural College. On Tuesday evening Professor D. L. Ernest, of the State College of Agriculture, will deliver an address,

ROYAL WEDDING GUESTS THICK IN BERLIN

Big and Little Monarchs Throng the Capital for Wedding of Kaiser's Only Daughter.

Special Cable to The American.

BERLIN, May 23.—Big and little monarchs, royal dukes and fair ladies are as common as pebbles upon the streets of Berlin to-day. Every once in a while royal equipage, with an escort of the soldiery of some foreign nation, rolls past in the street and the natives pause to stare and comment upon H. R. H. Somebody or other or the Duke of something. All are here to attend to-morrow the wedding of Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the Kaiser, and Prince Ernst of Cumberland, son of the Duke of Cumberland and Prince of Great Britain.

It is nearly impossible to get accommodations at a first-class hotel to-day because of the crowds that have come to Berlin from all parts of the Empire, from abroad and from various parts of Europe. Even some of the royal guests have been quartered at hotels because of the fact that there was not room enough at the Palace, where it had been planned to quarter some of the more distinguished visitors.

The celebration of the wedding started several days ago, with a most elaborate evening of opera. A State banquet was held Friday at which all of the impressive appearing diplomats here as attendants upon the parties of their royal masters were present. To-morrow the actual ceremony will be performed, and Victoria Luise Adelheid Methilde Charlotte Hohenzollern, Princess of Prussia and Ernst August Chretien George of Vrunswick-Lunebourg, the House of Guelph, descendant of George III of Great Britain and great grandson of Queen Victoria of England will become one.

LITTLE STORIES of the TOWN

These Girls Not Afraid Of Any Old Rats.

Pedestrians and others on Alabama Street, between Whitehall and South Pryor, were treated this morning to an unusual sight.

About midway of the block, almost in front of the electric light station, several men were engaged in the laudable business of exterminating some rats which had been caught in a trap last night. One of the executioners had a big stick and as soon as his companion let out a rodent, the big stick was wielded with such judicious precision that Mr. Rat took the count after getting one blow.

The remarkable thing about the proceeding was the interest which three pretty girls took in it. They were evidently on their way from home to business when their attention was attracted by the sight of the crowd around the rat-killers. The three stopped and watched the proceedings, all the time commenting animatedly upon the prowess of the gentleman with the big stick. When the last rat had been slain, the girls left, going in the direction of Whitehall Street.

"Well," commented one of the men in the crowd, "I always had an idea that womenfolks were afraid of rats."

"If one of them gals had bin my wife," commented an old veteran who overheard the remark, "she'd have climbed one of these here 'lectric light posts."

"Maybe them was suffragettes," commented a third. "The papers say they ain't afraid er nothin'."

"Bet if they had er bin mice," said a youth, "instead er rats, you couldn't er helt them gals here fer a minit."

Anyway, the girls did see the killing, and seemed to enjoy it.

Small Boys Nowadays Miss a Lot of Fun.

"Kids nowadays do not have the same amount of real fun that they did when I was a youngster," said a well-known business man last evening at the Transportation Club. "In company with a friend of mine, who is in the real estate business, I went out to look at some property the other afternoon. Near the place was a vacant lot and some boys were playing ball. Now, if there is anything I do love it is a good ball game and I stopped to see what sort of article these chaps were putting up. The real estate man is a fan, too, and we were very much interested in the proceedings on the field.

"But, say, those kids didn't know they were alive! We watched 'em play six innings and they didn't fight a single time! Why, when I was a small chap we fought all over the field. We mobbed the umpire half a dozen times during the nine innings. The spectators sure got their money's worth! As a matter of fact, they usually took some part in the battles and often I have seen a game resolve itself into a war between spectators and the opposing teams.

"Coming back to the office, the real estate friend and I got to talking about old days in Atlanta and the times we used to play ball in the old field alongside the Tanyard branch at Orme and Simpson Streets. We both agreed that the present generation of boys has missed a whole lot in the matter of enjoying life to its fullest."

POOR BEWHISKERED GOTHAM.

New York, May 23.—No more shaves on Sunday in New York. The boss barbers to-day agreed with the striking barbers to close the shops all day on Sundays.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Who Groom in The Royal Wedding Is

Following are some interesting facts about the House of Cumberland, into which the Princess Victoria Luise, will be married to-morrow.

The Prince of Cumberland is both German and English.

He is a greadgrandson of King George III of Great Britain. His grandfather was a brother of Queen Victoria of England, they both having been children of George III.

In the event of the failure of succession of present heirs to the throne of England, it probably would be the present Duke of Cumberland, or in the event of his death, the Prince of Cumberland who would succeed to the throne, because of their descent from King George.

The arms of the House of Cumberland are almost similar to those of the royal family of Great Britain.

The Duke of Cumberland is a Prince of Great Britain, a general in the British army and a Colonel in the Austrian army.

But Polly Needn't Worry Any More

CHICAGO, May 23.—Polly, the $300 parrot, for ten years a lively inmate of the home of the Rev. J. W. Libbertson, pastor of the Sacramento Boulevard church, flew out of a window and with a shriek, "I should worry!" entered the home of Mrs. C. F. Hall, some distance off.

A large brindle cat was in the room when Polly landed. The parrot's yells could be heard above the yowls of the cat. Mrs. Hall ran for the police and met Mrs. Libbertson.

"There's a ghost in my house," she said. "It cries like a child, but it flies around like a spirit and hollers, 'I should worry!'"

Mrs. Libbertson burst in the door. The large brindle cat occupied the immediate foreground. There was an expression of deep satisfaction on the cat's countenance and a few feathers and a beak on the carpet.

$2,000,000 Kaiser's Dowry on Daughter

BERLIN, May 23.—It is reported the Kaiser and Kaiserin have settled a dowry of $2,000,000 on their daughter, Princess Victoria Luise, who is to be married to Prince Ernest of Cumberland, Saturday.

The unusually large amount is probably in view of the coming proclamation—making the couple the reigning Duke and Duchess of Brunswick.

Wright's Models for Birds.

LONDON, May 23.—Birds would copy the Wright brothers if they only knew how," said Horace Darwin in the first annual Wright memorial address at the Royal United Service in session here.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Specials Saturday and Monday

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

ONLY ONE TO A CUSTOMER 75c

We will offer special for Saturday and Monday white pique skirts at 75 cents. They are the same you pay $1.98 for elsewhere.

MEN'S SUITS

In all colors and fancy mixtures, all up-to-date and the latest styles in summer wear. Just the thing in blue serges. Saturday for $17.50

VOILE AND RATINE DRESSES

$7.95

$1.00 A WEEK

ONLY $2.00 DOWN ONE TO A CUSTOMER

Here is the opportunity of the season. These dresses at $7.95 are positively the greatest values we have ever offered. Think of it! Beautiful Voile dresses embroidered in pure silk (Persian design), at so low a price. Think of it! You can take your choice of more than 100 dresses at this price, and pay only $2 down, then $1 a week. Have you ever heard of such an offer before?

UNITED CREDIT CLOTHING COMPANY

28 WEST MITCHELL ST.

The Dingbat Family

The Old Man Got Off Light

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Herriman

Dauntless Durham

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

Best Sporting Page In Oklabraska

Three Corners Palladium

Score and Gossip of the Big Game

My Impressions

By Katrina.

It was just too lovely.

I wore my natty Waitress suit.

The enthusiasm was great. Several Three Corners girls were at the game, but the Bulgarian belt hasn't reached Three Corners yet. They were quite out of fashion.

My hero, Durham, defeated the cur Desmond.

I knew he would. I don't know what the score was, but oh, I'm so happy! It was only Durham. He is so handsome.

Durham Wins Great Game, 18-5.

By Sam Chais.

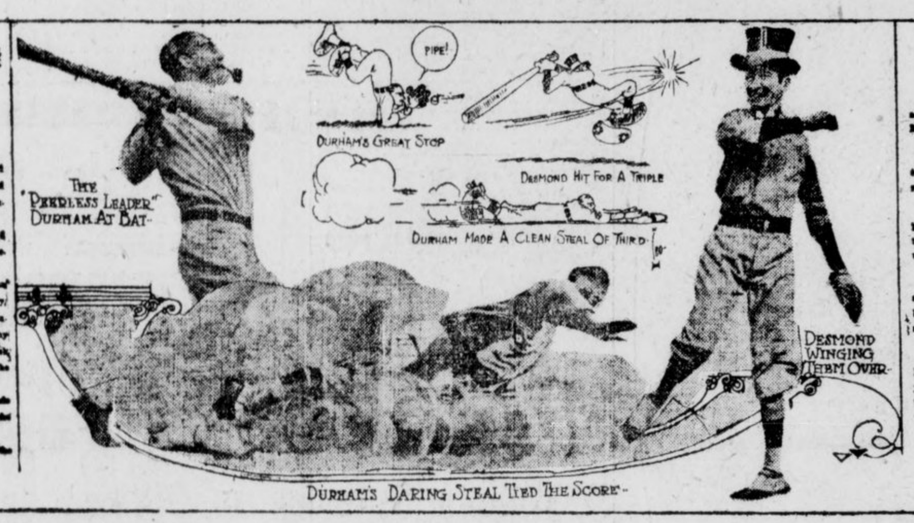
All the beauty and chivalry of Three Corners graced the ball park yesterday, when the Dauntless Durhams and the Desperate Desmonds clashed in the contest for supremacy.

The ball park was the Mecca for all lovers of sport, and with its customary enterprise the Palladium was represented by its expert.

New York's famous Polo Grounds never saw such an assemblage. Among those present were Mrs. Paddy Pastry, daughter of our well-known dough merchant; Hank Hancock, who quit his barber shop for the day; our worthy Sheriff, Julius Rufstigger, the warden of the jail, who took the prisoner with him, lest he might break out while the warden was shooting Durham.

The game was replete with brilliancy. Durham made Hal Chase look stupid, while Desmond batted 'em over the fence.

Long may the national sport flourish, says the Palladium.



DURHAM'S DARING STEAL TIED THE SCORE

Notes of the Big Game

John Pasky, the livery stable keeper, says he could pitch as good as Durham. Well, why didn't he, say we. Swat Milligan, of the Fulton Oaks, batted him out of the box.

Katrina has made a lot of the local girls jealous. Who took her out buggy riding Sunday? Ah, there, Cliff Durrick!

Nothing to the way Dauntless Durham, the college boy hero, has the local boys. The girls won't look at any of them since Durham hit the town. The Pink Front store is using him to advertise their ties.

Many rumors are afloat that Desperate Desmond is an awful villain, and Three Corners is agog. Jim Thorpe, our brave constable, says he will put Desmond, silk hat or no silk hat, in the calaboose the first break he makes.

But such rumors exist about most every one. Mr. Desmond came to our office yesterday and paid for 6 years' subscription to the Palladium. "The Palladium is the national paper, and its editorials are the best ever written," said Mr. Desmond. Thanks.

Durham smokes a pipe right out on the street. That may go in the effete cities, but it's not the class in T[illegible]s. It should be took up by our town council and [illegible] against it.

There will be a tango tea in aid of Boys of '76 Home Company at the Arabesque to-night. Admission including lady $5 cents. Come one, come all.

After the Game Dauntless Durham Says:

Polly and Her Pals

"Get Your Goat" Gets Your Goat

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Cliff Sterrett

Us Boys

Skinny's Slip Was Quite Permissible

Registered United States Patent Office.

By Tom McNamara

The Five Frankforters

A Romance of Great Wealth as Played by Money Kings.

By KATHRYN KEY.

Copyright, 1913, by the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"Little Jacob" broke the spell. "May I speak, then? I think that such a marriage would break up our family—would utterly destroy us. We are strong because we stand to gether—one in blood, religion, ambition. What has a stranger to do with us? What does he know of our ways—or we of the ways of a Prince of the Taunus? What does he care for the faith of our fathers? What can he be to us, for all his high rank, but the stranger within our gates? What does he know of us and our deepest feelings—what does he know of our little Charlotte's heart? And I say it is folly—or madness, as my grandfather would have said!"

In implacable anger, but cool and quiet withal, Solomon said: "You are wrong, nephew. You speak as an ignorant boy. But my father had a wider outlook on life—"

Frau Gudula had been watching the faces of her sons as Jacob expressed his earnest feelings. There was a mist of deep sadness drawn over her features as she rose at the sound of Solomon's impassively determined voice: "I am not sure, my sons. Our youngest has spoken for HIM." And, attended by sacred memories, Frau Gudula left the room.

The air was very tense as Jacob spoke to his uncle: "Your father did not deal in daughters as a speculation."

The bankers had, indeed, always stood together, but an onlooker must have questioned whether the animosity that was growing between uncle and nephew in these throbbing moments would not prove a destructive force too great for the oneness of these five men to bear.

Solomon looked sternly at Jacob. "That is in both senses of the word—IM-pertinent."

"Well, I wish I had not spoken," answered Jacob—but his tone was bitter with growing misunderstanding. And later this feeling was to bear strange fruit.

"You have a right to your opinion—and to speak it. That is the rule of our family," said Amschel, the eldest.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl, with Neapolitan airiness. But the possibility of a break was stemmed by the necessity of standing together against a common foe—for just then Rose, in strange old mob-cap and uniform of calico print, came in to announce a guest who had surely never before seen servitor so garbed.

"The Prince of Klausthal"—and attired in snuff-colored, cape-topped greatcoat and high bronze hat of the latest Beau Nash style, His High and Mightiness entered the old fashioned home of Frau Gudula, the Jewess of Frankfort.

The bankers knew they were to be snubbed, yet the courtesy of the home and the claims of business demanded that they put as good a face upon the matter as possible. On Rose's announcement Amschel had exclaimed with naive joy: "The first of our royal relatives to call." But however royal the Prince's air, it was not marked by any sense of kinship!

"Er—how do you like Frankfort?" asked Amschel.

Frankfort indeed! "I am very much interested in this part of the city, which I have not before visited," said the royal relative.

"It is curious, isn't it?" spoke the Neapolitan brother with mouthy.

"Very curious," said the Prince dryly.

"But we are used to it," said Amschel with eager unction. And then a long, awkward silence fell.

Bad Business.

At last, with suave elegance, the Prince broke the spell of silence: "Gentlemen—my cousin, the Duke Gustavus, has informed me that he will call on you to-day—and with what purpose he is coming."

Solomon broke in eagerly: "It will interest me to hear what your Highness said to him—your opinion of this marriage."

"As a matter of business," interposed Amschel.

The Prince answered with every drop of royal blood marshalling indignant forces back of his easy tone: "I confine myself, gentlemen, to such business as is my own—those affairs which you have, till now, so ably conducted for me. I am here to ask you to transfer my money to a banking firm in Paris, with whom in future I propose to deal."

"Is your Highness dissatisfied with our management of your affairs?" asked Amschel, the ubiquitous.

"Oh, no. But as by my cousin's marriage, I shall have the honor of being distantly connected with your family, I consider it inconvenient that you should continue the administration of my finances. I could not so burden my relatives—however distant."

Solomon summoned dignity to his aid. "I entirely agree with his Highness. I should much dislike to benefit—in business—by my connection with your family."

The duel was on. "I am glad we are in accord. Perhaps you will agree with me in this—since your family is now ennobled—that financial obligations are not the worst our aristocracy may incur? May I request you to convey my compliments to the ladies of your family—and permit me to wish you a good day."

But Solomon's lucky day in his father's house had not begun very propitiously. In fact, this day, for all its golden sunshine, did not seem to be a bearer of joy. The old Castle of Neustadt seemed to feel something in the air—and at the state breakfast a hard-faced little Princess Evelyn had presided behind the great gold coffee urn, "Gustavus," she had asked with all her heart in her eyes, "how soon will some one else pour your coffee for you?"

"No fairer face will ever peek rougishly at me from behind the old urn"—began Gustavus in a bantering tone, but suddenly the light that may shine for a man in but one true pair of eyes cast its soft radiance over Gustavus' soul—"Evelyn, Evelyn—little cousin"—he breathed so softly that even the attendant lackeys could not hear—"Evelyn—my God is it true—you could care perhaps?" And the name of his maker had here been uttered so reverently by the lips of Gustavus of Taunus.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

CAPITAL MUST WIN THE HELP OF LABOR

The Employer Must Study to Gain the Co-operation of the Employee.

By B. C. FORBES.

An employer in these days of labor unrest must be a diplomat, a student of human nature, a man able to blend toleration with discipline. Hundreds of strikes, petty and serious, are caused, not through unsatisfactory wages, but by arrogant bossing by heads of departments, superintendents and foremen, who puffed up by the possession of a little transient authority, treat workers as if they were made of some lower kind of material.

* * *

Corporations, firms and individual employees should pay more attention to the careful selection of overseers of every rank. It is not enough that a man is an expert; that is necessary oftentimes, but if he is to be placed in charge of many workers he must have tact, he must be humane, he must know the minds, the hearts, the habits and the ambitions of those serving under him. He must be able to inspire loyalty. He must not carry his head too high. He must avoid superciliousness. He must even occasionally close his eyes to litle incidents not strictly on the working schedule.

* * *

To be in the highest degree successful nowadays an employer or corporation manager must win the co-operation of others. The slave-driver, the heartless taskmaster cannot last. Sooner or later he will reap what he sows.

* * *

In too many establishments systems of fines for all sorts of trivial mistakes are still in vogue. They should be abolished. Numbers of corporations have seen the light in this direction. A policy of kindness has proved more profitable than one of harshness. To encourage has been found better than to coerce. For example: Childs' restaurants used to fine their waiters and waitresses for every dish they broke. A whole day's wages was sometimes lost in a moment—especially as highly polished floors, when wet, were responsible for many slips. This system has been abandoned, with, I understand, gratifying results.

* * *

Really big men seldom are tyrannical to their employees. But unfortunately, the rank and file do not come in contact with the heads of establishments, but with minor aids, many of whom are sadly unfitted by education — ignorance rather — by breeding and by temperament to inspire fealty, enthusiasm, success. They are not broad-gauge enough to discern how to obtain the best results from those under them. They are too bent upon impressing others with their own importance. They like to hear themselves bawl out orders. They enjoy seeing underlings quake. It feeds their vanity.

* * *

Have you noticed how much attention our wisest corporations are now devoting to cultivating friendly, harmonious relations with their employees? It pays.

* * *

Let me relate a recent incident.

The president of one of our largest express companies, a disciple of the new movement to inspire the loyalty of employees, visited a branch office.

The telephone rang and he answered it.

"Any more orders for me to-day?" asked one of the company's drivers.

"No," replied the president.

"Thank heaven!" exclaimed the driver, not knowing he was talking to the president.

The president sent for the man and had a heart-to-heart talk with him, telling him that if there were few orders to fill the company might have to pay him off, that drivers were in a sense the company's salesmen and that on their attitude toward the public and toward their employers the success of the business depended. No scolding was indulged in. "My job depends upon you," the president told him. "Won't you help me to keep it?"

This appeal went home.

Late in the afternoon the telephone again rang. The agent replied.

"If you can send a wagon at once I know where you can get a big shipment before the —— wagon gets it," excitedly shouted the self-same driver.

The agent, who had not known of the interview with the president, could not believe his ears.

The wagon was sent and the consignment secured.

"Did you say anything to ——?" asked the agent of the president.

"Yes, I had a little chat with him. Why?"

"Here he has started out scouting for new business—a thing unheard of before. What did you say to him—threaten to discharge him?"

* * *

This little human-interest incident—and it is not mythical, I beg you believe—is full of meaning for bosses and sub-bosses blinded by pride and arrogance.

* * *

Only the weak, the vain, the blind are tyrannical. A big man rules by milder means.

Did You Ever?

By WINSOR M'CAY.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food liks eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

CROXONE SOON RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long-standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle. All druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

Ask me for "California Summer Outings"

A map-folder that tells about the outing joys of the California coast—deep-sea fishing, surf-bathing where the tent cities are, and yachting.

Lovely Yosemite typifies the High Sierras—a land of snowy peaks, giant sequoias and waterfalls.

Many consider the California summer a more enjoyable season than winter.

Low Fare Excursions

every day all summer will enable you to travel economically. On the way stop off and see the Colorado Rockies and the old city of Santa Fé. Visit, too, that world-wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Whether you take the California Limited, the Colorado Flyer or "go tourist," you have Fred Harvey meal service.

Jno. D. Carter, Sou. Pass. Agt.,
14 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.
Phone, Main 342.

Georgian Want Ads

Use For Results

Wonders of the Wonderful SUNDAY AMERICAN

Great Exclusive Features That Cannot Be Found in Any Other Sunday Newspaper

Tom Powers,

THE FAMOUS CARTOONIST, has some very funny pictures that will keep you laughing all week

A Jeff and Mutt

Cartoon that is full of humor

John Temple Graves

Writes on this striking question, "Shall a Wife Obey?"

The Newly Found Oldest Gospels, and What They Really Mean.
Should Women's Wages Be Fixed by Law.
A Short Story by Rudyard Kipling.
Woman Suffrage in Dixie.
Book Reviews, by Edwin Markham and Roswell Field.

A Remarkable Comic Section

Happy Hooligan Proposes to SUSANNE Again
Howson Lott Has Some Visitors
Mr. Batch Has a Narrow Escape
Jimmy --- He Is At It Again

Just Why a Pitcher Can Curve a Baseball.
Why Every Woman Married for Six Years Ought to Go to Work.
Coronium—A New Gas, Whose Power is So Great That a Balloon Filled With It the Size of a Baseball Would Raise an Elephant from the Ground.
A Game of Polo That Cost $12,000 a Minute.
Daring Train Robbers—Remarkable Stories Told by Sophie Lyons.
Why Blondes Must Be Abolished, by Edna Goodrich, the Beautiful Actress.
May Irwin's Recipes.
Ruth St. Denis Tells How Dancing Develops a Beautiful Figure.
Tango Tea Gowns, by Lucille, the World-Famous Dressmaker.

All These and Dozens of Other Great Features in The Sunday American

A Newspaper For the Home
With Something in It For Everybody

THE Sunday American
Is "The Market Place of the South" for Advertisers

Order Your Copy Now
Both Phones MAIN 8000

EX-DIXIE STARS ARE SHINING IN MAJOR LEAGUE

EX-SOUTHERN Leaguers are making a noise like a slide trombone up in the select circles of the National League. Some of them are high up, some low down but they're all there with something.

For instance:

Slim Sallee, ex-Baron, is the champion rescuer of the league. Seven times he has been sent to the rescue of wavering hurlers—a high compliment to be paid a southpaw.

Rube Benton, ex-Lookout, holds the league record for wildness (with Toney of the Cubs), with an average of five and a quarter free passes per game.

Stengle, late of Montgomery, is the premier slugger, with 37 total bases to his credit.

These figures tell you what the graduates from the Southern League are doing, in comparison with the other guys in President Lynch's circuit:

Cincinnati.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Fromme	8	5	2
Packard	7	4	5
Johnson	11	5	4
Suggs	7	3	3
Smith	4	2	3
Harter	5	0	5
Benton	7	5	0
Brown	5	1	4
Betts	1	0	1
Released Men		6	5

Boston.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Perdue	6	3	0
James	7	0	1
Tyler	7	1	0
Hess	4	2	0
Dickson	1	0	1
Strand	1	0	1
Released Men		2	5

Brooklyn.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Ragon	9	4	2
Rucker	10	2	3
Allen	8	4	1
Curtis	6	1	3
Stack	6	1	3
Yingling	1	1	1

Chicago.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Lavender	9	6	3
Cheney	13	2	6
Smith	6	4	3
Richie	5	4	0
Toney	6	4	2
Humphries	6	1	5
Leifield	3	1	2
Pierce	4	2	1
Overall	2	1	0
Relbach	2	1	2

New York.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Tesreau	9	6	1
Crandall	7	1	3
Ames	6	2	1
Mathewson	7	0	1
Memaree	6	4	1
Marquard	4	2	1
Wiltse	6	1	5

Philadelphia.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Chalmers	5	1	2
Mayer	5	2	3
Moore	3	2	1
Seaton	10	3	3
Brennan	6	3	2
Nelson	2	4	2
Alexander	6	1	1
Risey	3	2	1

Pittsburg.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Adams	9	4	1
Hendrix	12	3	3
Cooper	6	3	4
Robinson	10	3	5
Camnitz	9	3	3
O'Toole	8	6	4
Ferry	2	0	2
Conzelman	1	1	1

St. Louis.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Griner	7	1	0
Burk	2	2	1
Sallee	12	5	7
Perritt	9	7	5
Geyer	6	0	6
Harmon	7	5	4
Steele	6	4	0
Redding	1	1	1
Willis	1	3	4
Hunt	2	1	1
Konetchy	1	0	1

On a basis of games pitched to a decision, Mathewson has been the steadiest pitcher in the league this spring—three passes in seven battles. Benton and Toney have been the wildest. Seaton and Hendrix have been the strike-out stars.

Myers, of Boston, the man who beat "Mary" Calhoun out of a job, has the best base stealing record so far. Stengel, of Brooklyn, who came to only last fall, is the premier slugger. Record:

Baserunning.

Players.	G.	SB	Pct.
Myers, Boston	24	12	.500
Devore, New York	15	6	.400
Murray, New York	26	10	.385
Herzog, New York	29	11	.379
Lobert, Philadelphia	25	9	.360
Clymer, Chicago	24	8	.333
Doyle, New York	25	8	.320
Bescher, Cincinnati	22	7	.318
Marsans, Cincinnati	25	7	.280
Merkle, New York	29	8	.276
Leach, Chicago	15	4	.267
Miller, Chicago	19	5	.263
Stengel, Brooklyn	27	7	.259
Mitchell, Chicago	27	7	.259
Grant, Cincinnati	24	6	.250
Snodgrass, New York	24	6	.253
Burns, New York	28	7	.250

Long Hitting.

Players.	2B	3B	HR	Total Ex. B.
Stengel, Brooklyn	5	5	3	37
Konetchy, St. Lous	5	6	2	36
Miller, Pittsburg	6	6	1	34
Knabe, Phila.	12	1	1	31
Bates, Cincinnati	1	5	3	29
Merkle, New York	8	3	1	29
Tinker, Cincinati	8	4	0	28
Wheat, Brooklyn	7	2	2	28
Zimmerman, Chi.	6	4	1	28
Magee, Phila.	4	0	5	28
Fisher, Brooklyn	4	4	1	24
Smith, Brooklyn	4	2	2	22
Saier, Chicago	2	4	1	20
Doyle, New York	8	0	1	20

White City Park Now Open

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

All Members of This Club :-: :-: :-: By George McManus

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

TRAVERS WINS 2 MATCHES; TRAVIS IS ELIMINATED

NEW YORK, May 23.—Successful playing on the part of the national champion, Jerome D. Travers, the elimination of Walter J. Travis from the third division of players and defeat of Fred Herreshoff who won the Oakland tournament a week ago, were features in yesterday's rounds in the tournament for the metropolitan amateur golf championship of Fox Hills, Staten Island.

Travers won his match in the morning round of 18 holes from H. H. Kerr, of South Shore, Long Island, but did not exhibit his usual deftness at any stage of the game, while in the afternoon, most of the play being during a severe rainstorm, he was almost at the top of his game and defeated D. J. Graham, of Greenwich, Conn., by five up and four to play.

Herreshoff's defeat was accomplished by M. Michael, of Youngtakah, in the first round for the championship eligibles. Travis succumbed during the second round for the third division. The veteran was unable to do himself justice owing to his having wrenched his right knee two days ago, and was one down to J. D. Lord, of Brooklyn, of the home green. Oswald Kirby, the New Jersey State champion, is expected to win his match in the third round to-morrow morning, and probably will meet Travers in the semi-final later in the day.

Herreshoff Is Beaten.

Travers won his match from H. K. Kerr, of South Shore, 3 up and 2 to play. The surprise of the morning round was the defeat of Fred Herreshoff, of Garden City, by M. M. Michael, of Yountakah, who won by 1 up. Oswald Kirby, of New Jersey, State champion, defeated the inter-scholastic champion, Max R. Marston, 3 up and 2 to play.

Other matches in first round resulted as follows:

H. F. Whitney, Nassau, beat W. S. Leeds, Fox Hills, 6 up and 5 to play. G. T. Baker, Garden City, beat F. H. Thomas, Morris County, 4 up and 3 to play; A. F. Kammer, Fox Hills, beat E. E. Sturges, Wykegyl, 4 up and 3 to play; J. R. Hyde, South Shore, defeated Max Behr, Baltusrel, 3 up and 2 to play; H. J. Topping, Greenwich, defeated E. M. Barnes, Englewood, 5 up and 3 to play.

E. M. Wild, Cranford, beat S. D. Bowers, Brooklawn, 3 up and 2 to play; W. W. Taylor, Ardsley, beat M. P. Lewis, Flushing, 6 up and 5 to play; McKim Hollins, Westbrook, beat J. M. Ward, Garden City, 4 up and 2 to play; Chisholm Beach, Fox Hills, beat B. H. Hidder, Oakland, 2 up and 1 to play; S. J. Gresham, Greenwich, beat T. V. Bermingham, Wykagyl, 6 up and 5 to play; R. T. Allen, Fox Hills, beat Roy O. Webb, Englewood, 2 up and 1 to play; L. P. Gayer, Siwanoy, beat J. H. Slater, Fox Hills, 3 up and 2 to play, and Gardner W. White, Oakland, beat H. V. Gaines, Wykagyl, 2 up.

Travis Downs Graham.

The result of the second match play round follows:

Wild beat Taylor, 6 up and 4 to play; Whitney beat Hollins by 1 up; Kammer beat Brokaw, 4 up and 3 to play; Hyde beat Topping, 3 up and 2 to play; Beach beat Michael, 2 up and 1 to play; Travers beat Graham, 5 up and 4 to play; Kirby beat Allen, 2 up and 1 to play, and Gwyer beat White, 3 up and 2 to play.

NAT HERRESHOFF WILL NOT BUILD DEFENDER

BRISTOL, R. I., May 23.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer and builder of the succesful defenders of the American cup for the past twenty years, to-day declined to enter a competition for the design of the 1914 defender.

SUMMER FARES.
Lake, Mountain and Seashore Resorts.

Daily on and after May 15 the Central of Georgia Railway will have on sale at its principal ticket offices round trip tickets at reduced fares to summer resorts in the North, South, East and West, and to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia via Savannah and steamships. For total fares, conditions, train service, etc.,

ASK NEAREST TICKET AGENT CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY, or write to W. H. Fogg, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga. Adv.

ORDINARY TEAM CAN WIN "RAG" IN NATIONAL

—SAYS FRANK CHANCE

By Allen Sangree.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Frank Chance, one time boss of the Cubs, now manager of the New York Highlanders, says this is the year an ordinary ball club can win the pennant in the National League. Mind you, it was the league of which he was formerly such a prominent part that the P. L. was discussing.

A team of ordinary hitters, with ordinary pitchers, with ordinary base running and with ordinary thinking should grab the pennant in the senior major league organization, according to the former Cub boss.

"I never saw such an upset in the dope," said Chance.

"What is the answer?" he was asked.

"There isn't any answer that I know of," was his reply. "Now, look at the Pirates. There was the team that looked to have a runaway race in the National. It looked like a walkover for Clarke and his men. They were playing the best baseball in the league at the close of the season. They had the pitchers, the hitters, the fielders. They seemed to have everything.

Can't See the Phillies.

"Clarke had a smarter ball club than McGraw. He seemed to have better pitchers. He seemed to have a better balanced team. The Pirates seemed to be the class of the league. Yet look where they are.

"The Giants haven't been playing the kind of baseball they played when they won pennants. McGraw has a team that should be beaten."

"But the Phillies?" it was suggested.

"I don't figure them to win. They will go along in great shape for a while. Suddenly some fellow will be injured. Then another will suffer an accident. Then another, and pretty soon a pitcher will blow. Before you have realized it the team will be down. It's the hard luck team of the league.

Thinks Cubs Have Chance.

"I believe those Phillies have scared more people and have done less real damage than any ball club in the National League."

"Who will win?" he was asked.

"I don't know. If the Cubs had a couple more pitchers and played consistent baseball they would win. If the Pirates played the game of which they are capable they would win. If any team in the league got consistent pitching that was even good, fairly good hitting and played just ordinary baseball every day that team would win.

"It isn't a knock on the old league. It's just the peculiar condition which prevails this year. It isn't that the teams aren't good, it's because they are erratic."

MATTY M'CUE AND ATTELL SIGN FOR 10-ROUND BOUT

KENOSHA, WIS., May 23.—Matty McCue and Abe Attell have signed for a ten-round bout here. The match hinges on McCue's winning from Patsy Brannigan in Milwaukee next Monday evening. The tentative date for the McCue-Attell mill is June 5.

R U Wearing Red Seal Shoes Made in Atlanta ? 93 Peachtree

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—During the past few days the Pirates have played much nearer their natural form than heretofore this season. After being beaten all over the circuit, the Pittsburg club came to New York and gave us a stiff battle when we were looking for something easy. They also gave the Dodgers a neat trimming.

Fans have been talking about the weak pitching of the Pirates. The twirlers may have been off before this, but they certainly braced up against us. Adams, Hendrix, Robinson and Cooper all looked good in New York, and the rest of the club played pretty fair ball except in a couple of games. The team seems to be getting bad catching, the steady work of Gibson behind the bat being sadly missed. His absence also hurts the pitchers. He is laid up and will be out of the game for some time. Poor throwing and bad judgment behind the bat put the team off its balance in a couple of the contests against us.

* * *

THE Pirates will be in the race, and don't make any mistake about that. The club is just as good as the one which came so strong at the finish last year, and I predict that once this team gets going behind the pitching it is bound to get, there will be very few clubs in the league which will stop it. Personally, I am tickled to death that Clarke's team has made such a late start, because it is going to do a whole lot of crowding at the finish. Practically there are only two changes in the team over last year, and these should strengthen it. Viox is playing second base, and, although it is his first season in the big league as a regular, he looked better than any of the several men who appeared at that place last year. He is the kind of a ball player that helps any team, aggressive and "crabbing" all the time. When he first joined the Pittsburg club he was known as the freshest busher ever to come up from the minors, and he still retains his fighting spirit. He also hits the ball hard, and is a difficult man to pitch to, refusing to offer at bad balls.

ASIDE from all his natural accomplishments, Wagner has taken a personal shine to Viox, and this in itself is a big help to any player who joins the Pittsburg team. The Dutchman will teach him a lot of baseball. It is customary for Wagner to take up with some young fellow each season and string along with him, and the lucky recruit always benefits by it. Last year it was "Tom" Hendrix, and before that it was "Jack" Miller, now playing first base.

But the real wonder of the Pirates is Hans Wagner, who looks just the same as he did when I broke into the league, except that his hair is a little grayer, because it wasn't gray at all then. He looks just the same on the ball field as far as his playing goes. He is a wonder for his age, thirty-nine, and is a grand example of what taking care of himself has done for him. He is hitting just as hard as he ever did this season, if not harder, and the chances are all in favor of him batting over .300 once more, which he generally does with great consistency.

MENSOR, in center field, is a newcomer, but he looks like a good ball player. The chances are that "Artie" Hofman, the former Cub, will play in the outfield regularly as soon as he gets in shape. Just at present his heart is bad, and he is afraid of over-exerting himself. Pittsburg will come, and when they do they will come very fast, because they have a bunch of terrific hitters and plenty good pitchers to stop the opposing teams. It is going to be a hard little combination to beat.

The Giants have also braced on the past week, and McGraw is getting back closer each day to the lineup that won him two pennants. We came near losing a good ball player last week when Shafer threatened to go home, but he changed his mind. Many blamed Shafer for this, but he is only a boy, and got the idea he was needed home by his father. He should not be censured for his action.

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CHARLEY EBBETS TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST KLEM

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 23.—President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, was so incensed over Umpire Klem's action in continuing the game with Pittsburg yesterday in the heavy rain that he announced he would file charges with the board of directors of the National League.

The rain fell in torrents from the second half of the third inning and the field was in frightful condition. The infielders could hardly keep their feet going after batted balls. The pitchers could not control the wet ball and only clever work by the pitchers prevented wild pitches.

SHAMROCK IV WILL NOT BE A "FREAK CRAFT"

LONDON, May 22.—Charles E. Nicholson, the famous yacht designer, who will design the challenger Shamrock IV, which will try to lift the America's cup in 1914, declared today that the new yacht will not be a "freak craft."

SEWANEE AND VANDERBILT CLASH AT NASHVILLE

SEWANEE, TENN., May 23.—The Sewanee Tigers play their last series of baseball to-day and Saturday with Vanderbilt at Nashville. For the last few weeks the Tigers have been playing good ball, Captain Bordon shaking up the line-up after they returned from the long southern trip. McGoodwin, on first, is now playing fine ball on the initial sack, which was the weak spot of the team.

Captain Gordon will pitch the first game against the Commodores, and he ought to land the first victory, as he has been pitching winnig ball all season. Eggleston will be in the box in the second contest.

TETTER

Tetterine cures tetter. Read what Mrs. V. C. McQuiddy, Estill Springs, Tenn. says:

"I had a severe case of tetter on both hands and I finally got helpless. A leading physician knew of no cure. I decided to give Tetterine a trial. To my utter surprise and satisfaction it worked a speedy cure.

Use Tetterine

It cures eczema, tetter, erysipelas, itching piles, ground itch and all skin maladies.

50c at druggists, or by mail.

SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

For the accommodation of the Veterans and their friends, the Western and Atlantic Railroad will operate trains Atlanta to Chattanooga on May 26, to leave Atlanta as follows:

8:00 A. M.
8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.
2:15 P. M.
3:00 P. M.
4:50 P. M.
8:50 P. M.

Round-trip tickets will be sold Atlanta to Chattanooga and return at rate of $3.00. Tickets will be on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga to June 25.

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

M'CARTY AND PELKY ARE READY FOR GO SATURDAY

CALGARY, ALBERTA, May 23.—Arthur Pelky and Luther McCarty eased up to-day in their training. McCarty spent most of the day on horseback and in jawing Calgary scribes for poking fun at his "cowboy" outfit. Pelky went for a long walk and then rested. Both men are on edge and look fit for a tough scrap.

BUD ANDERSOH OFFERED FIGHT WITH LEACH CROSS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The managers of the St. Nicholas Athletic Club have invited Bud Anderson, the sensational lightweight boxer of California, who recently knocked out K. O. Brown and oJe Mandot, to come east and box Leach Cross in July.

CUBS AFTER SCHAUER.

SUPERIOR, WIS., May 23.—George McGurn, scout for the Chicago Cubs, after watching a Northern League game here made an offer for Rube Schauer, Superior pitcher. The offer is being considered.

FLYNN AND COFFEY CLASH IN NEW YORK GO FRIDAY

NEW YORK, May 23.—"If James Coffey, the Dublin giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, box to form, as the fistic fans would say, then the patrons of the hit, block and step-away sport may depend on an interesting ten-round bout at the Garden Athletic Club to-night.

Both men are within the pale of the first class brigade of heavyweight boxers. Coffey is the climber and Flynn one of those fighters who may come back at any time, no matter how many defeats he may have experienced.

Both are aggresive boxers, and as they are hitters the bout may terminate suddenly and in a manner that the fans of this city enjoy—by a knockout. Both are in perfect physical condition for a hard battle. The winner will be matched with Gunboat Smith.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell goods. Try it!

Go To The Original $15 Tailors

—the only store in town where you can get

Real $25 Suits
Made to Order

$15

The old reliable "Scotch" Woolen Mills. Our imitators will do their best to confuse you. To protect yourself, remember this name and address.

Scotch WOOLEN MILLS

107 Peachtree

MAIL ORDERS—Write for free Samples and self-measuring blanks.

Pullman Tires

Have set a new standard of "Tire Value." Pullman Tires are of standard material and construction---fully guaranteed. Made by one of the country's largest manufacturers, to meet the demand for a better and cheaper tire.

	Clincher or Dunlop.	Heavy Non-skid Type.	Red Tubes.
28x3	$ 9.15	$10.15	$2.15
30x3	9.80	10.65	2.30
30x3½	14.45	15.75	3.10
32x3½	15.40	16.65	3.30
34x3½	16.75	18.05	3.40
33x4	20.20	21.70	4.40
34x4	20.85	22.25	4.50
35x4	21.55	22.95	4.60
36x4	22.25	23.70	4.80
35x4½	27.30	29.00	5.70
36x4½	28.05	29.80	5.90
37x4½	28.85	30.65	6.05
37x5	35.40	37.60	7.10

All other sizes in proportion.

PULLMAN GUARANTEE

If in your opinion this Pullman Tire No. — fails to give its cost value in tire service return it direct to us and we will replace it, charging only for value of service obtained.

Pullman Rubber Co.

Examination Allowed on all C. O. D. Shipments

PULLMAN RUBBER COMPANY
349 Peachtree St.
ATLANTA, GA.

FLYNN-SAVAGE BOUT WILL BE HELD JUNE 13

THE Jim Flynn-Jim Savage ten-round bout will be staged at the Auditorium on June 13. The heavyweights were originally scheduled to exchange blows June 9, but the scrap has been moved back four days on account of the Buffalo Bill circus, which will be here the latter date.

The Fireman fights Jim Coffey at New York Friday night and will leave for Atlanta soon. The promoters of the Auditorium show have made arrangements to have both contestants on the battle ground ten days before the scrap, which should give the fans ample time to see the two heavyweights in their training work.

Savage has been boxing several of the big hopes in New York and is being touted as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. His bout with Flynn should prove a great chance for the clever boy. Many of the Eastern boxing followers, who have seen Savage in action lately, are boosting him as another Jim Corbett.

* * *

THE winner of the Auditorium show will probably meet Gunboat Smith or Luther McCarty. McCarty and Coffroth both have their eyes peeled on the June 9 show and it would not be surprising to see the coast promoters send for the winner.

Two other good ten-round battles will be held in connection with the heavyweight tilt. Mike Saul, well known around these parts as one of the toughest lightweights, will probably meet Eddie Hanlon in one of the battles, while Spider Britt and Meyer Pries may swing the padded gloves in the other set-to.

* * *

THESE three mills should certainly bring together some dandy milling. Fans who have seen Britt and Pries box against each other know what a sterling scrap they usually put up. Each has a grudge against the other and a bloody contest is usually the result.

The last time the two boys met, Britt was awarded a slight shade by the referee, although most of the fans present thought a draw was the correct verdict. After the scrap Mike Saul, the referee, said he would have called the mill an even thing had Pries not indulged in foul tactics.

* * *

SAUL and Hanlon need no introduction to local fandom. Mike was rated as a contender for the lightweight crown until he lost on a foul to Abel when out of shape. Mike says he is out to win back his lost laurels and many of the local fans are with Mike to the last. Hanlon has always claimed that Saul was one boy whom he could lick.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

THE STANDING of the clubs in the big leagues at this writing forms a fine chance for that much-talked-of "rushing attack" in baseball which is known as the "base-running game."

It is a theory of students of the great national pastime that a team of fast and skillful base stealers has a tremendous edge at the go-off in a battle with a team less gifted in this direction. Let us give a look:

The Boston Americans, the world's champions, are popularly known as the Speed Boys, a name which arose from the dazzling rapidity with which they are wont to flit from base to base. This seems to be an off season for flitting. The Red Sox are not only way down in the league race, but they are also way down in the base-stealing records for the season.

* * *

THERE ARE OTHER EXAMPLES that might be pointed out, but there is no use rubbing it in, and we don't owe Boston any consideration anyway. The Red Sox are enough to prove the point, which is namely, to wit, i. e.—that a losing club doesn't pull any "rushing attack" stuff. Base stealing is the diversion of winners. It is not so much a cause as an effect. Base stealers are the lancers of a baseball army. They are highly spectacular, but useful only when the battle is half won.

In the old days of the great game of war no general in his senses ever sent cavalry against an unshaken defense. Napoleon, through a mistaken conception of the situation, did it at Waterloo and lost. It is the same way with base stealing in baseball. When you have the other team on the run you can complete the rout by running wild on the bases, but we have never yet seen a team run wild to any extent when it is five runs behind.

It is true, of course, that an individual base runner, like Cobb, for instance, will occasionally steal second at a critical moment and thus lay the foundation of a winning run. But this is beside the main point—that base stealing as a system of offense in a ball game is nix.

ATLANTA
3 MATS. MON. WED. SAT.
25c
All This Week
The Deep Purple
Miss Billy Long Co.
Nights 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c.
Next--ST. ELMO--Seats Now

FORSYTH DAILY MAT. 2:30 EVENING 8:30
ADAM & EVE---GALLASHER & FIELDS---JOSEPHINE DUNFEE---JOHN GEIGER---NEVIN & ERWOOD --- BRADSHAW BROS. & DUNEDIN TROUPE
KEITH VAUDEVILLE HIGHEST QUALITY

BASEBALL
TO-DAY
MOBILE vs. ATLANTA
Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Rummy Should Worry :: By Tad

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

After winning nine games in a row, Walter Johnson, of the Senators, went against the Naps yesterday and was beaten, the Cleveland club pounding him for thirteen hits.

* * *

Umpire Klem increased his unpopularity in Brooklyn yesterday by permitting the game to go for five innings and then calling it on account of rain after the Pirates had scored the lone tally of the game.

* * *

The Dodgers have protested the game, claiming that the rain fell no harder in the sixth inning, when Klem ordered a cessation of play, than it had during the three innings previous.

* * *

The Red Sox outhit the White Sox yesterday, but the Chicagoans grabbed off a 2 to 1 victory.

* * *

The league-leading Athletics had an easy time defeating hte Tigers yesterday, the veteran Plank shutting out the Detroit boys and permitting them but three hits.

* * *

That old Pirate machine seems to be in fine working order again and it seems quite safe to bet that they will be up among the leaders in another month.

* * *

Rain halted the Cardinals-Giants game in the second inning after the Cardinals had secured a one-run lead.

* * *

The Yankees went down to a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the hands of the Browns, Stone, a recruit pitcher, holding the New Yorkers to six scattered hits.

* * *

The National League race this season promises to be one of the best in many years. The weak "sisters" seem conspicuously absent. In other years, the Dodgers, Cardinals and Braves were the pie counters for the triple alliance. But a new order of events now exists.

* * *

The alliance, composed of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, has been dissolved. The trio htat has roosted in and around first place for ten years has been ousted, and a new state of affairs has come to pass.

* * *

Whether the Phillies, Dodgers, Cardinals and even the lowly Braves can keep up the clip they have been traveling is a question. Perhaps they'll falter farther along, but even if they do they have already dealt the mighty trio such a terrific wallop that there will be no runaway race for any one of the trio, as in years gone by.

* * *

A similar condition exists in the American League. No one team has a cinch. A trifle more than 400 points separates the leading Athletics from the Yankees. But the Yankees are due to move along in the percentage column. Chance has had a hard time getting his team started, but as soon as his pitchers round into shape they will furnish trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Browns are not the snap team of other years. The Tigers are beginning to add to their win column. The Red Sox, although far down in the standing to-day, have the power, and when once the machine gets well oiled it will furnish considerable trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Athletics have been traveling at a fine rate, despite the illness of Jack Coombs, the star flinger. The Naps and White Sox seem to have the "punch" this year and the Senators are showing that their speed of last year has become a permanent possession.

* * *

Careful examination of Carl Cashion's injured arm demonstrates that a ligament is badly torn and the big lad may be out for the entire season.

* * *

Joe Birmingham has done something with the Naps that no manager ever did before—he has got them figuring on world's series receipts. Let a club get doing that in earnest and they fight every step of the way.

* * *

Merito Acosta, the Cuban with the Senators, celebrated his 17th birthday the other day and the Washington players got him in the shower bath room and did the honors, as is the custom of the country, laying on one for each year and one to grow on. Acosta will take a day off next year when his birthday arrives and will disappear.

* * *

Jim Baskette retired from the American League just in time to cinch his batting lead for the season. He was walloping 1.000 when he was relegated to the minors. Cobb can't pass that.

DEPONTHIEU SHADES KIRK.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 23.—Louis DePonthieu, champion of France, shaded Ollie Kirke, of St. Louis, in a ten-round boxing bout.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Make State and County tax returns now. Office corner Pryor and Hunter Streets. T. M. Armistead, Tax Receiver.

Cracker Attack Most Deadly Ever

Local Club Is Stronger Than Gulls

By Percy H. Whiting.

THE Cracker team has the most deadly attack ever seen in the Southern League. Napoleon's pet troops or a band of war-pathing Comanches look tame beside them. Day after day they drive pitchers to cover. All teams look alike to them. All pitchers are the same.

They can slug the ball over the lot; they can beat out bunts if by chance they lay them down; they can wait out a wavering pitcher; they can run bases; they can use the hit-and-run; they shine at the run-and-hit. There isn't an offensive maneuver, barring the bunt, at which they do not shine.

* * *

WHY this team shouldn't wallop the stuffing out of Mike Finn's club in three out of every four battles, provided the Cracker pitchers made even a half-decent show, we can't see. Nor can anybody who witnessed yesterday's game.

Mike Finn has a pretty well-balanced club. Paulet, Stock, Starr and O'Dell are good men. Of course, alongside of Agler, Alperman, Bisland and Smith they don't look so much—but that's a fair average infield. Clark, Jacobson and Robertson are good outfielders, but in offensive and defensive strength they do not average up to the Crackers. In catching strength the teams are about a stand-off. If the Gulls hope to beat Atlanta out of the pennant they better have pitchers who are about eleven times as strong as the Crackers' slabmen.

* * *

IN Thursday's game the Cracker pitcher had all the advantage. Two veterans were out—Brady and Campbell. Of course it is not insinuated that Brady classes with Campbell in antiquity, but then he's no fledgling. And Brady plastered it all over Campbell.

"The King" held the dangerous Campbell hitless, didn't give the savage Robertson one he could push out of the infield, and had the rest of the collection swinging themselves sick at his offerings.

In the meantime the Crackers were eating Campbell alive, and finally ended by piling up nine hits for eleven bases in six innings. With the Crackers ahead, 7 to 2, the game was called on account of darkness, with the rain falling hard and everybody ready to call it off and go home.

* * *

BEFORE the Mobile season is over some cast-off is going to figure. They always do. Mobile has O'Dell and Sentell, former Crackers. Atlanta has Long and Dunn, former Gulls. So something has to happen.

In yesterday's game the ex-Gulls now with the Crackers had all the better of the argument. Sentell didn't play, and Al O'Dell made a couple of errors. Long made three hits out of four times up, while Dunn kicked over a single and threw faultlessly to second.

Bill Smith offered a direct challenge to the Gulls by using Joe Dunn. Before the season opened Mike said, in all kindness, but with great firmness, that Joe Dunn's arm was gone. Probably he really thought it. But Dunn's work this year hasn't proved Mike's prediction. And to-day Smith stuck in Dunn, just to show up Mike. Only one Gull tried to steal, and he was pegged out easily.

* * *

MIKE FINN is playing himself up as the victim of misguided confidence. Understand, Mike doesn't mean that he's been the goat of a confidence game—you see it's like this:

After the Gulls began to gather this spring, a fake "signed statement," alleged to have been written by Mike, appeared in various papers around the circuit and was played up strong in Mobile. Then the season opened and Mike's "statement" went over strong. The result was that the Gull fans lost interest.

"It's got so bad now," said Mike, "that they don't come out at all to see us play. Once in a while a few will turn out, sort of to celebrate our having won a pennant. The rest of them have dismissed the season as a closed incident, have credited themselves with a pennant won and have turned to other things. It's a fine fix, with the season just started and our team losing a game or two a day."

* * *

THE suspicion prevails that the Gull fans will have only to consult the standing of the clubs to wake themselves up by the time the team returns home. The Gulls have lost the last three games straight, and the last six out of seven. They are going about as poorly now as a team can go. It will not take them long to kick away their lead at this rate.

Before returning home the Gulls have to play two more games with the Crackers, three in Chattanooga, four in Nashville and four in Memphis. Any of the Tennessee clubs might furnish trouble for the Gulls, now that they have flickered. And a 4½-game lead can be shot to bits in five games, if they turn out right.

Anyhow, the Crackers will try to do what they can for the noble cause.

STOVALL MUST PAY FINE AND APOLOGIZE TO UMPIRE

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—George Stovall, suspended manager of the St. Louis Americans, was reinstated by President Johnson, of the American League, yesterday on condition that Stovall write a letter of apology to Umpire Charles Ferguson, on whom he spat while playing in a game here May 3.

In addition to apologizing to Umpire Ferguson, Stovall must pay a $100 fine.

If Stovall complies with the conditions, he will be allowed to play in the game against Detroit Saturday. The apology to Umpire Ferguson must be mailed to Johnson's office in Chicago and approved by Johnson before it is forwarded to Ferguson.

Stovall said he would comply with conditions of his reinstatement.

AMES, GROH AND DEVORE ARE TRADED FOR FROMME

Philadelphia, May 23.—In an effort to bolster up his team Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati club, has just completed a deal with Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, whereby he receives Pitcher Ames, Infielder Groh and Outfielder Devore in exchange for Pitcher Fromme.

PIRATES GET BANKSTON FROM GORDON BALL TEAM

BARNESVILLE, GA., May 23.—President Dreyfus, of Pittsburg, has made an offer to Everett Bankston, catcher of 1913 Gordon team. He will probably leave for Pittsburg.

White City Park Now Open

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE
of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

BOXING

News of the Ring Game

New York will have another chance to see Jim Flynn in action Friday night. The Pueblo fireman will don the gloves with Jim Coffey in a scheduled 10-round bout. "Soldier" Kearns and George Rodel will clash in the semi-windup.

* * *

This will be Flynn's last battle before he meets Jim Savage at the Auditorium here next month. If Flynn succeeds in defeating Savage he will probably take a trip to the coast in an effort to get on with Gunboat Smith or Jess Willard.

* * *

Luther McCarty is another heavyweight who is to get into action. Luther takes on Arthur Pelky in a 12-round set-to at Calgary, Alberta, Saturday night. McCarty must win if he intends to get away with some more of the easy money he has been gathering. Pelky is Tommy Burns' protege.

* * *

Young Shrugrue, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, three Eastern lightweights, are after the first chance with Willie Ritchie, who says he will defend his title on July 4. It looks very much as if Joe Rivers will beat them all to the match.

* * *

Danny Morgan, manager of Jack Britton, has offered to bet $2,500 that Britton can outpoint Luther McCarty in a 10-round scrap. Morgan refers to McCarty as a "cheese champion."

* * *

Abe Attell, who helped Bud Anderson train for his bout with Joe Mandot on the coast, is begging Tom McCarey for another chance at Johnny Kilbane. Abe says he is as good as ever and is positive he can beat the featherweight champion in a return match. McCarey has the bout under consideration.

* * *

Coast fans are blaming Tom Jones for Jess Willard's defeat at the hands of Gunboat Smith the other night. They claim that Willard was receiving instruction from several sources in his corner.

* * *

This rather confused the Kansas cowboy, who stopped dead still several times to look toward Jones for some definite advice.

* * *

Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, is the latest luminary Eastern fistic circles are discussing. Robideau fought Johnny Lore in New York last week and handed the latter a neat lacing.

* * *

The Jack Britton-Eddie Murphy fight at Kenosha, Wis., Tuesday night drew but $900. A dreadful rainstorm kept the attendance down.

* * *

Nate Lewis and his fighter, Charlie White, arrived in Chicago Wednesday from New Orleans, where White stopped Thomas in two rounds. Lewis at once got in touch with Danny Morgan in an effort to close a Britton-White scrap for the Wisconsin city this month. Morgan is holding out for a big guarantee.

* * *

Frank Klaus and Eddie McGoorty have completed training for their six-round affair at Pittsburg Saturday night. The middleweights claim they are in great condition for the fray.

* * *

Mike Saul stopped at the Georgian Sporting Department yesterday to inform us that he would gladly take on Eddie Hanlon at the next show to be staged at the Auditorium. Mike, however, insists that Eddie make 135 pounds. The two boys met before and put up a corking mill until Saul was awarded the scrap on a foul.

* * *

Mike Gibbons, who will meet Jimmy Perry at Pittsburg Thursday night, is in the best of shape for the battle, as was shown by his easy victory over Mike Donovan the other night.

* * *

Joe Mandot, the French baker boy, may never box again. Mandot says two of his ribs were broken in the second round of his recent clash with Anderson and the injury is causing him much pain. Mandot is heartbroken over the defeat and says he will probably enter business and quit the ring for good.

American Association.

Louisville 2, St. Paul 1.
Minneapolis 2, Toledo 1.
Toledo 15, Minneapolis 7.
Milwaukee 4, Indianapolis 1.
Indianapolis 6, Milwaukee 3.
Kansas City 3, Columbus 2.

International League.

Rochester 3, Jersey City 2.
Providence 2, Toronto 1.
Other games postponed; rain.

Appalachian League.

Rome 9, Bristol 4.
Knoxville-Cleveland, postponed; rain.
Middlesboro-Johnson City, postponed; rain.

BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion.
WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF?
At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request.
THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.
Mobile at Atlanta at Ponce DeLeon. Game called at 3:45 o'clock.
Memphis at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Chattanooga.
Montgomery at Nashville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mobile	27	15	.643	M'phis	18	19	.486
Atlanta	21	18	.538	Chatt.	18	19	.486
N'ville.	20	18	.526	B'ham	16	19	.457
Mon'gy	19	19	.500	N. Or.	12	24	.333

Thursday's Results.
Atlanta 7, Mobile 2.
Other games postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.
No games scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	20	9	.690	St. L.	16	21	.432
C'land	22	12	.647	Boston	14	19	.424
W'gton	18	12	.600	Detroit	12	22	.353
Ch'cago	21	14	.600	N. York	9	23	.281

Thursday's Results.
Philadelphia 7, Detroit 3.
Cleveland 5, Washington 0.
St. Louis 7, New York 0.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Pittsburg at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	19	7	.731	Ch'go	17	16	.515
B'klyn	19	12	.613	P'burg	15	18	.455
N. York	15	14	.517	Boston	10	17	.370
St. L.	16	15	.516	C'nati	9	21	.300

Thursday's Results.
Pittsburg 1, Brooklyn 0.
Other games postponed, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Opelika at LaGrange.
Talladega at Anniston.
Gadsden at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Gadsd'n	11	4	.733	Ann'ton	7	8	.467
T'dega	8	7	.533	Opelika	7	9	.438
Newnan	8	7	.533	LaGr'ge	5	11	.313

Thursday's Results.
LaGrange 4, Opelika 3.
Other games postponed; rain.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Cordele at Thomasville.
Valdosta at Waycross.
Americus at Brunswick.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
V'dosta	11	8	.579	W'cross	10	9	.526
Cordele	11	8	.579	Am'cus	8	11	.421
Th'ville	10	9	.526	B'wick	7	12	.368

Thursday's Results.
Cordele 7, Thomasville 5.
Americus 7, Brunswick 4.
Valdosta 6, Waycross 1.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Macon at Albany.
Charleston at Columbus.
Savannah at Jacksonville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Sav'nah	24	6	.800	C'l'bus	14	15	.483
J'ville	15	15	.500	Ch'ston	13	16	.448
Macon	15	15	.500	Albany	8	22	.267

Thursday's Results.
Savannah 5, Jacksonville 1.
Macon 4, Albany 1.
Charleston-Columbus; rain.

OTHER RESULTS.

Texas League.
Dallas 5, San Antonio 2.
Beaumont 13, Fort Worth 6.
Houston 13, Austin 1.
Galveston 8, Waco 6.

Cotton States League.
All games postponed; rain.

Carolina Association.
Winston-Salem 6, Greensboro 2.
Asheville 11, Durham 5.
Raleigh 5, Charlotte 3.

Virginia League.
Petersburg 4, Portsmouth 1.
Roanoke 1, Norfolk 1.
Richmond 12, Newport News 4.

John Ruskin
A Cigar FOR ALL MEN
Two Sizes AFTER DINNER RECESS 5¢

Sporting Food

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN.

When Heine Zim starts going some
He makes a lot of fuss.
He puts the whole world on the bum
And does not care a cuss.
And yet he would not do the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

When Heine Zim is fancy free
He is a wild young gent.
He is a willing slave to the
Artistic temperament.
And yet he would not pull the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

Joe Thomas, the youth whom Charlie White walloped, is called the pride of New Orleans. This demonstrates how easy it is to be proud.

WHY SHOULD FATHER WORRY?

Father, dear father, come home with me now;
The clock in the steeple strikes six.
What matter if Murphy has lines on his brow
With the Cubs in a heluva fix?

Los Angeles and San Francisco are fighting over the Ritchie-Rivers match, demonstrating how easy it is to start a fight.

LINES TO CHARLEY FRANK.

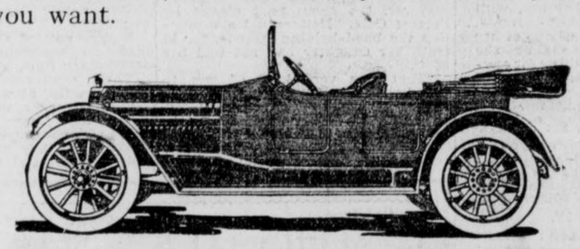
You may change, you may censor your words if you will,
But the scent of alfalfa will cling to them still.

MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

"THE VICTOR"

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM
Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years' experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. B. WOOLLEY & SON, No. 5-A Walker Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

Mitchell
MANY of you are considering owning an automobile, but haven't yet decided just which one you want.



When you come to investigate the 1913 Mitchell car—made by a company that has built good vehicles since 1834—you will find so many strong reasons for owning a Mitchell that your doubts as to which car you want will be solved.

In the Mitchell you will find only the highest quality of workmanship and materials.

The first look will satisfy as to the lines and finish; simple elegance and comfort throughout; combined in a design assuring strength, power and durability.

Here are some of the 1913 Mitchell features—things you ceratinly should have in your car:

Long stroke T-head Motor.

Electric Self Starter and Electric Lighting System

Left Drive and Center Control.
Firestone Demountable Rims.
Rayfield Carburetor.
Timken Front Axle Bearings.
Silk Mohair Top with Dust Cover.
Gasoline Tank Gauge.
Thirty-six-inch Wheels.
Bosch Ignition.
French Belaise Springs.
Jones Speedometer.
Turkish Upholstered Cushions.
Portable Electric Lamp.

Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company
Racine, Wisconsin
Factory Branch Mitchell Motor Co. of Atlanta, 316-318 Peachtree St.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Daysey Mayme And Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton was a student in school, none was as quick as she in deciding how many rolls of paper it would require for a room seventeen feet square, with walls twelve feet high, allowing for two doors and seven windows. Given the dimensions of a cistern, she could remove her wad of chewing gum, stick it on the under side of her desk, go to the blackboard and figure how many cubic feet of water it would take to fill the cistern and get back to her desk before her gum was cold.

She ate up problems in compound interest, gloated over questions involving the displacement of battleships, and no other girl got as much chalk on her nose and clothes in figuring just when and where we will bump into Mars.

Every Bonaparte finally meets his Wellington, and Daysey Mayme at last met hers. She had charge of the kitchen, and was down on her knees in front of the refrigerator with the day's purchase of groceries beside her when her colors went down in defeat.

Mathematical Shapes.

The butter jar was square, the milk was in bottles, the cold potatoes filled an oval dish and the prunes were in a round bowl. With eyes that could tell at a glance the distance between Jupiter and Mars, she saw that the refrigerator shelves were eighteen inches deep and two feet long, and that there were three of them.

"Let x," she began, mechanically, "represent the lard, y the eggs and z the roast; then x plus y plus z will equal one-third of the top shelf, leaving two-thirds for a, the stewed prunes; b, the cream, and c, the tomatoes."

She found the displacement of the roast was such there was no room for x, y, and a, b and c, and in trying to crowd the milk bottles on the eggs she broke three, and yellow and white leaked down over the prunes on the shelf beneath. She used every trick in science to reduce the round cans, the oval dishes and the square boxes to a space small enough to make room for the cheese, upsetting a bowl of frosting into the buttermilk jar and the salad dressing over a rice pudding.

Sat on a Pie.

The present was hard enough to bear, and when her brain leaped forward to the season when the watermelon must also be figured with she sat recklessly back on a pie and began to cry.

"Oh, Lord," she prayed, beating her head against a dish of cold potatoes, "either make woman's brains large enough to solve her problems or make watermelons smaller."

"Oh," she added a moment later, when she had found she couldn't balance the cream bottles on the roast, "if you can't make them smaller, make them square."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

HIS LOVE IS SELFISH.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man seven years my senior. He always says he loves me and often speaks of marriage, although we do not consider ourselves engaged. He never goes with other girls and expects me not to meet other boys. Has he a right to expect this, and is it right for me to go with other young men?

MABEL.

Professions of love and the occasional mention of marriage do not constitute an engagement. There must be a definite proposal and an engagement ring.

Until there is an engagement neither has the right of monopoly of the other's time, and not then if both parties have a faith that is above jealousy. You are 17—too young by several years to be engaged.

ASK HER.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 20 and in love with a girl two years my junior, with whom I have been acquainted for several years. I have been calling on her and taking her out, with the permission of her parents. Whenever I approve of one of her friendly actions she claims she would do that same thing for anybody whom she liked. How can I learn whether she loves me or not? ANXIOUS.

There is only one way: Ask her. But don't ask her unless you are financially able to follow up your question with a proposal of marriage and an engagement ring.

DON'T DO IT.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Can I gain a man's respect by allowing him to kiss me good-night after a little evening's outing?

I have reference to a very fine young man whom I have known but a short time. I am 19 years old. A. E.

I am sure no man's lasting regard is won that way. Save your kisses for the man you love.

"Just Say"

HORLICK'S

It Means Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A Quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S

Others are imitations.

THE TRIPLE TIE

A Story for Baseball Fans That Will Interest Every Lover of the National Game

$250 in Prizes for Best Solution of "The Triple Tie"

YOU read the first four installments of the great baseball mystery story of "The Triple Tie" and now you have a fair idea of the simplicity of the offer The Georgian makes—how you may win $100 by working out the solution of the mystery as nearly as its author, A. H. C. Mitchell, has done as you can.

Mr. Mitchell has written the last chapter, but his copy is sealed up in a vault at the American National Bank. When all but this final chapter has been printed, The Georgian readers will be asked to submit to three competent judges, none of them connected with this newspaper, their version of what the grand denouement should be.

To the person who most closely approximates Mr. Mitchell's final chapter $100 will be awarded. Other prizes, making the total prize list $250, also will be distributed.

Here is the list of the awards:

No. 1	$100
No. 2	$50
No. 3	$25
No. 4	$15
Nos. 5 to 16, each	5

Read this fifth installment of the great mystery story and you will not need to be urged to read the succeeding chapters. The story will grip you. As you read, try to follow the author's channel of thought and when the time comes for you to sit down and write that final chapter, be ready to win one of the big cash prizes in The Georgian's great offer.

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

Gordon looked at his watch. "I can only spare half an hour—say forty minutes, Judge," he laughed. "You see, I am taking some lessons and the hours are from 10 to 12 in the morning and 2 to 4 in the afternoon."

"I'm glad to learn that you are starting right in to improve yourself, Gordon. Lord knows there were many things that could not be had up in the mountains where you were forced to spend all your life."

"I have no complaint to make, Judge. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I formed an ambition up there that I want to see realized."

"What is it?"

"I'll tell you as soon as I feel sure I can win out," laughed Gordon.

To his wife Deery telephoned from his office that there would a guest for dinner. "I may do some business with him at some future date," he explained, "but that has nothing to do with it at present. He is a friend of Judge Barbee's. In fact, the Judge is a sort of guardian of his. He has lived all his life in the mountains, but you would never know it to talk with him. He has never been in a city before, but you would never suspect that either. Please pass the word along to Mildred and tell her she will be interested."

At five minutes of seven o'clock that evening Gordon Kelly entered the Deery residence and a moment later was escorted into the living room by Mr. Deery, who presented him to his wife.

"This is Mr. Gordon Kelly, dear; my wife, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, and after courtesies had been exchanged, he added: "Where is Mildred?"

At that moment his daughter crossed the threshold, and as she caught sight of Gordon she stood stock still. Recovering herself instantly, she advanced and held out her hand as the young man was presented to her. Before half a dozen words could be spoken, dinner was announced.

A Warning Glance.

"I don't intend to talk of the weather, Mr. Kelly, but I would like to ask if you were caught in the storm this morning?" said Mrs. Deery, as the napkins were unfolded.

Gordon intercepted a quick, warning glance from Mildred, who was seated opposite him, and answered:

"I certainly did, Mrs. Deery, I was caught out in the suburbs and caught most of the rain, too, but fortunately I found a friend right handy and was able to dry my clothes; otherwise I should have been in a predicament."

"You were fortunate after all," smiled Mrs. Deery, "but Mildred was out in the whole drenching rain and had a most exciting adventure. You haven't heard a word about it, Galen. Mildred, tell Mr. Kelly and your father all about it."

"You tell them, please, mother," pleaded Mildred, with a slight flush.

Thereupon Mrs. Deery related the incidents of the morning, exaggerating only so much as it is a woman's right to exaggerate. She omitted, however, the mean part played by Forrest Cain. Neither did she mention the hand-holding episode, for in truth her daughter had not told her of it.

"That was very kind of you to turn back, Miss Deery," said Gordon, with a smile. "As near as I can make out the young man was at fault in not looking out for himself."

"Now I think you are fishing for compliments for that young man, Mr. Kelly," returned Mildred. "You men always stand up for each other that way."

It was evident to Gordon that Mildred desired to conceal from her parents that he, Gordon Kelly, was the young man referred to. Beyond a slight start when she first saw him in her home, she had no sign of ever having seen him before. Gordon could not fathom her reasons for wishing the matter kept secret, but he felt bound to respect them.

She Flushed Slightly.

Mrs. Deery started another topic. "My husband tells me you have lived all your life in the mountains northwest of us," she said. "Didn't you find it losesome up there?"

"Oh, mother, let Mr. Kelly tell us what he thinks of Atlanta," broke in Mildred quickly. "Isn't it a fine city, Mr. Kelly?"

She flushed again slightly, though Gordon could not understand why she did so. He answered:

"It certainly is, Miss Deery, but the thing that impressed me most when I arrived was the roar and rumble of it. Where I have lived the only noise we hear is the sound of the wind through the trees."

The conversation drifted into small talk. Mildred turned aside every attempt made by her parents to draw out Gordon in regard to his life in the mountains, and this was another thing in connection with the young woman he couldn't understand.

The dinner ended and Mrs. Deery asked if Gordon would care to play bridge.

"That is an accomplishment I haven't acquired," laughed Gordon, "but I must study it up."

"Take my advice and don't do it," declared Deery. "In a moment of mental aberration I allowed myself to learn the rudiments of the game. Never again!" He held up his right hand impressively. "Since that fatal hour my wife and daughter have insisted on dragging me shrieking to all sorts of bridge parties for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home, or some such charitable affair."

They all laughed at this. It was not until Gordon was taking his leave that he managed to have a word with Mildred alone. He said:

"Tell me why you make a mystery of my connection with your adventure of the morning?"

"Sh'h," she replied with a sly look. "It's a secret."

"And why wouldn't you allow me to tell of my life in the mountains?"

"Sh-h," replied Mildred with an adorable smile. "That is secret No. 2."

Cordial Invitations.

"Won't you tell me?"

"I hope so—some time."

"By the way, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, coming up to where they stood. "You ought to know some of the young men of Atlanta. If you will take lunch with me tomorrow, I will have you meet one of them, Forrest Cain, who, I know, would be glad to make things pleasant for you while you are in Atlanta."

"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I—" He felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline. Unfortunately I have another engagement."

Deery noticed the hesitancy, but made no comment beyond. "Well, some other time, perhaps."

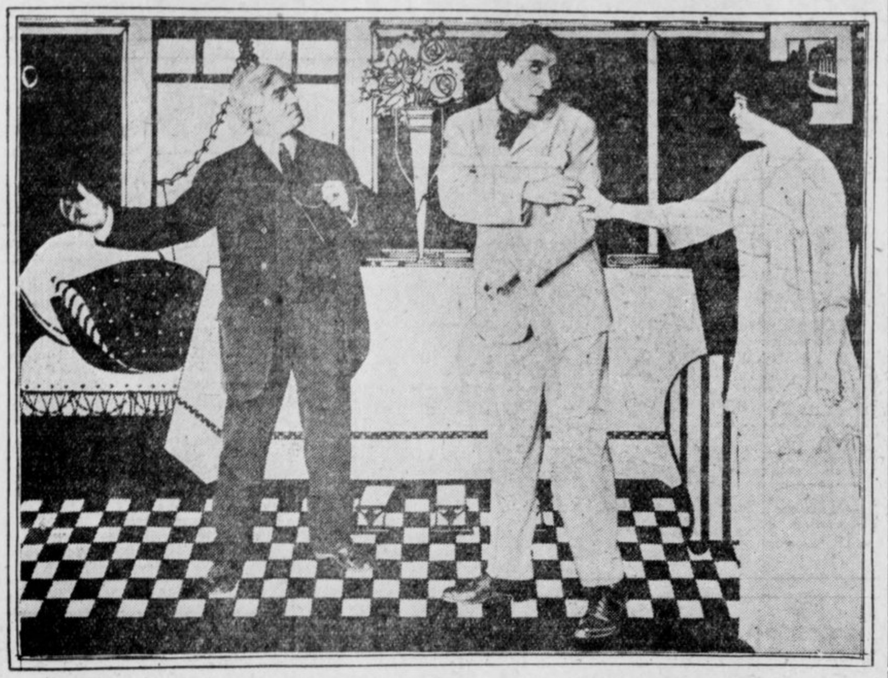
There were cordial invitations to "come again," at which Gordon said:

"I'm not very well versed in etiquette, Mrs. Deery, but am I not entitled to make a 'party call'?"

"You certainly are," laughed Mrs. Deery, "come and see us the last of the week. What night, Mildred?"

"Come Thursday, Mr. Kelly," said Mildred.

His heart as light as a feather, Gordon Kelly walked home on aeriform fluid.



"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I——" he felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline."

CHAPTER VII.

FORREST CAIN, having nothing in particular to do except amuse himself and having plenty of money to do it with, spent considerable time every year in New York. He usually took three yearly trips and sometimes four to the metropolis, besides spending several weeks there in the hot season. In New York he always lived at the Niagara Club, so called because it flowed on with a roar from day to day and from month to month and from year to year. It never closed its doors. One could get a drink, or a meal, there at any hour of the day or night. Its membership consisted largely of wealthy young men of leisure—the same kind of New Yorkers in New York that Cain was in Atlanta. It was the sort of a club to appeal to a man of Cain's habits and inclinations.

The lure of Broadway and the call of the Niagara Club sounded from afar in the ears of Forrest Cain early in March, and he promptly made preparations for a trip to New York, completely forgetting the promise he had made to Galen Deery to take the young man from the mountains in tow. Transportation was secured for the following Thursday night. Cain engaging a stateroom on a Pullman car. Twice on Tuesday and twice on Wednesday he called up the Deery residence on the telephone, but the maid who answered the ring, after ascertaining who it was that was calling, told him Miss Deery was not at home. Early Thursday night he called up again, with the same result. Thereupon he proceeded to his club and spent the few hours before train time with convivial companions. Knowing the habitual inclinations of through Southern trains to be late, he took the precaution, about the time he should have left for the depot, to call up and find out about this particular train, and learned that it was nearly two hours behind schedule. He then took another chance of finding Mildred Deery, but the same maid assured him that she was not at home. Requesting that she be informed that he was leaving that night for New York, he hung up the receiver.

He then remembered that he had some orders to give regarding the overhauling of his automobile, and walked around to the garage, which was only a short distance from his club. He arrived just in time to dodge a smart shower of rain. As he was giving his instructions, the telephone in the office of the garage rang, and the proprietor answered the call. Cain heard half the conversation.

"Yes, this is the garage. Yes, Miss Deery. Yes, I understand. I'll have a car around in five minutes. All right. Goodbye."

"Where is she telephoning from?" asked Cain.

"From her home. She has a guest there who evidently doesn't care to walk home in the rain. So much the better for the automobile business. Every little helps."

"And they told me she wasn't at home," said Cain to himself, gritting his teeth. "What do you know about that?" Who was this favored guest, he wondered, and why was he, Forrest Cain, told repeatedly that Miss Deery was "not at home?"

An idea seized him. He would find out for himself. He had more than an hour to spare. His baggage was taken care of and his man, George, was waiting for him at the depot with his gripsack. He would play the role of chauffeur and drive the car to the Deery residence and take the favored guest to his home, after which he would return to the garage and have himself driven to the depot.

Pulled His Cap Down.

"Lend me a coat and cap, Davis," said Cain to the owner of the garage. "I need some air before I get on that stuffy train. I'll drive the car and collect the fare and bring back every penny of it."

Cain was one of the best customers of the garage, and he was an expert driver, so the proprietor readily gave his consent. Slipping on a long tan coat and pulling a cap well down over his eyes, Cain climbed into a touring car. The top was up, and the curtains were in place to keep out the rain. An employee cranked the car, and with Cain at the wheel it moved slowly out of the garage.

Arriving at the Deery residence, Cain sounded the horn to indicate that the car was there. A moment later the front door opened and the figure of a man holding an umbrella to be protected from the smart rain ran down the path to the sidewalk. Cain pulled his cap further down over his eyes and waited for the umbrella to be lowered. An electric light blazed only a few feet away. As he reached the side of the car, the man threw open the door, closed the umbrella with a snap and entered the vehicle. Quick as were his movements in order to avoid the rain, Cain was able to recognize his passenger the same young man he had so nearly run over in front of Ponce DeLeon Park in the furious rainstorm of Saturday morning; in short, it was, as the reader knows, George Kelly.

Cain stifled his rage and demanded in a gruff voice: "Where to?"

"Imperial Hotel," replied Kelly.

As he put the car in motion, wild thoughts filled the mind of Forrest Cain. For the first time in his life he was evidently not having his own way in a matter he had undertaken. Ever since he was old enough to walk he had ruled the Cain household. As a boy he was arrogant and self-willed. Since his father died, nine years before, he had shared with his sister the income from a large fortune. His money had enabled him to have everything he wanted. A few weeks ago he had made up his mind to marry Mildred Deery. It is true that she was not aware of this decision, and what her true feelings in regard to him were he did not know, nor did this matter trouble him much. Was he not one of the richest, if not the richest, bachelor in Atlanta? Was he not considered the great "catch?" Why, then, should he not marry the girl that suited his fancy?

Things had gone along swimmingly, he flattered himself, until this young man had crossed his path and had nearly met his death in doing so. He acknowledged to himself that he was a little rough in his talk to the fellow that day and Mildred had taken offense. But he had tried hard to "square" himself—to make amends. Had he not sent her flowers? Had he not repeatedly tried to talk with her over the telephone? Had he not tried twice that very night to do so and was he not told that she was "not at home?"

Cain was boiling with anger as his thoughts reached a sort of climax. She was not at home to him, it seemed, but she was at home to this stranger. Who was this man? How did Mildred find out who he was and where he lived? There must be a stop to the whole business. And he, Forrest Cain, was the man to stop it. Here was his chance. He would—

The car had arrived at the end of the street. To go to the Imperial Hotel a turn should be made to the right. Instead of doing this, however, Cain turned to the left and took a direction that would lead out of town. He speeded up the machine to the limit of its capacity, with a vague idea of intimidating the passenger on the rear seat, and the car flew down a hill at a terrifying pace. Rain was still falling sharply, making the roads wet and slippery and the car rolled and tossed and skidded in an alarming manner.

To be Continued To-morrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Gordon Kelly, a young North Georgia mountaineer, comes to Atlanta to get a place with Billy Smith's Crackers. It is raining when he reaches Ponce DeLeon and he is nearly run over by an auto, in which are two persons—a man and a young girl. The driver of the car is an arrogant fellow. The girl makes him stop the machine. She gets out and inquires if Kelly is injured. She apologizes for her companion's brusque manner. Kelly sees Manager Smith and tells him he has never played a game of ball. Smith consents to give Kelly a trial. The girl in the auto is Mildred Deery, daughter of Galen Deery, a crafty and wealthy speculator in timber lands. Her companion is Forrest Cain, a rich young man about town. Kelly owns timber land that Deery would like to possess.

Now go on with the story.

She Was So Neat

"ANY man who is married to a fine housekeeper is a most unfortunate creature," said the easy-going man. "It is not pleasant to live in the same block with one.

"A splendid housekeeper is much like a hawk—always on the lookout to descend upon some one and stick her claws into him or her, mostly him.

"That style of housekeeper, like a hawk, keeps mostly out of sight, busy away off somewhere. Then when you are sitting on a tabouret, there is a whirr—and down she comes! Right on your neck with her talons!

"I know the husband of a fine housekeeper who has to pull off his shoes and climb up the banisters to keep from soiling the carpet on the stairs, and he even gets into trouble for scratching the banisters a little in sliding down them.

"Another man I know has to wash his face and hands out in the laundry so that he wouldn't mess up the bedoilied bathroom. Others take their baths at the club or go without.

"A hawk woman will descend upon a scrap of paper on the lawn, and should any unfortunate person catch a glimpse of her face at such a time he will not soon forget it! One would think that the scrap of paper was guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

"Such a woman is never happy and never satisfied. Life is just one messy thing after another. Eating is a dreadful performance, to be endured like the boring of a cavity or the killing of a nerve in a tooth.

"Sleeping is another filthy habit, and causes untidy beds and horrid wrinkly linen.

"Having people walking on the carpets is about as pleasant for a splendid housekeeper as saw sharpening is to a violin professor.

"If an uncle from the country comes into such a woman's parlor with his boots on and trailing behind him his nine hobble-shoed children, and they sit on the furniture and swing their legs and eat candy and play jacks and shoot marbles and slide down the banisters and have a pillow fight, it results fatally for the poor woman."

One of Two Things.

A Kentucky mountain woman fell ill and for the first time in his life her husband had to work. It devolved upon him to nurse the invalid, look after a large family of tow-headed children, milk the cow, feed the pig, cook the meals and tend a straggly half acre of corn. At the end of ten days of these frightful labors he staggered down to the general store at the forks of the road and fell at the doorway in an exhausted heap. The storekeeper came out and said:

"Halloa, Anse, how's yore wife?"

"She ain't no better," moaned the husband. "I paid out a whole four bits for a bottle of bitters for her, but it seems like hit don't do her no good. I'm plumb wore out!"

He paused a moment and sighed deeply.

"Sometimes," he said, "I git to wishin' the old woman would git well—or somethin'!"

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced."

Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies.

Quick mail service for out-of-town customers.

Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

A MIGHTY monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold
To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse yet wise—

A precept, soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn.

Many the maxim sent the king, men say,
The one he chose: "This, too, shall pass away."

Oh, jewel sentence from the mine of truth!
What riches it contains for age or youth!

No stately epic, measured and sublime,
So comforts, or so counsels, for all time

As these few words. Go write them on your heart
And make them of your daily life a part.

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away—absorb the thought.

And wait; your waiting will not be in vain,
Time gilds with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark to-day leads into light to-morrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow.

Are you upon earth's heights? No cloud in view?
Go read your motto once again: This, too,

Shall pass away. Fame, glory, place and power,
They are but little baubles of the hour,

Flung by the ruthless years down in the dust.
Take warning and be worthy of God's trust.

Use well your prowess while it lasts; leave bloom,
Not blight, to mark your footprints to the tomb.

The truest greatness lies in being kind,
The truest wisdom in a happy mind.

He who desponds, his Maker's judgment mocks;
The gloomy Christian is a paradox.

Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short we need to make it broad,

Since life is brief we need to make it bright,
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,

And let its meaning permeate each day.
Whatever comes—This, too, shall pass away.

.:. Their Married Life .:.

Warren Gets Out His Summer Clothes and Helen Gives Away the Wrong Suit.

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

"DEAR, you'll never wear them," persisted Helen. "What's the use of keeping them any longer? Let me give these two suits to the elevator boy."

"Hold on now—not so fast! What've you got there?" scowled Warren, coming over to where Helen was examining two suits by the window.

"Why, this old blue serge, and this brown suit."

"Let's see—give them here. What's the matter with this?" as he held up the blue serge.

"Why, Warren, it's all worn shiny. And there's that new blue serge you got last summer. You'll never wear this old one."

"I'm not so sure. That's a good suit yet. Just the thing to wear fishing."

Warren was always saving his old suits to wear fishing—but he never went fishing! However, Helen was much too wise to remind him of this inconsistency, but she finally persuaded him to part with the blue serge, since he had kept at least five other old suits to "wear fishing."

It was Sunday morning, a dark, dismal Sunday, and right after breakfast Warren had declared it would be a good day to get out his summer clothes.

Signs of Spring.

The elevator boy had brought the trunk from the basement, and now Warren's summer suits were spread over the chairs and window sills of two rooms, and the whole place was filled with the odor of moth balls.

"Well, all right, then," reluctantly, as he threw down the blue serge. "Give that to the elevator boy if you want to—but that's ALL! Understand? The rest of these I'm going to keep. You've got a perfect mania for giving my clothes away. I notice you're not any too keen on getting rid of yours. What in thunder's that?" as something crunched under his heel.

"Oh, it's a moth ball, dear. Be careful, don't step on any more."

"Why the devil don't you get camphor? Don't smell half as bad as these infernal things."

"But camphor's so much more expensive. These are just as good and they're only 5 cents a pound. I've got some fresh ones to put in with your winter clothes."

Helen had already gotten out Warren's winter suits and was beginning to pack them in the trunk."

"Well, I can't see that you need me here. Try to air out this place before I get back. Hold on, there; better not put in that overcoat. I may need that yet."

So Warren went out for his Sunday morning walk, while Helen was left to pack away his winter suits. At last she had them all in, and the trunk was ready to be sent back to the basement.

The elevator boy took it down, and with a pleased consciousness of tipping him well, Helen gave him the blue serge suit.

It was several mornings afterwards that Warren looked through his closet, now hung with the Summer suits, which had in the meantime been well aired and pressed.

"Where's that blue serge?" he called. "Had that pressed yet?"

"Oh, yes, dear, the tailor sent them all back yesterday. It's right there—hanging right in front."

"Well, I don't see it," he grumbled. "This closet's so infernally dark you can't see a blame thing." Then a few moments' silence in which he looked again. "Well, if it's here I can't find it."

"Wait dear, I'll come."

The Wrong Suit.

Helen, who was not quite dressed, hurried in with her hair down, and looked through the long line of suits which hung on their hangers in Warren's wardrobe.

"Why, here it is—almost in front."

"No, that's the old one. Thought you said you were going to give that away."

"The—the OLD one!" stammered Helen. "Why—why it can't be——"

She had taken it to the light, but fortunately her back was to Warren, and he did not see her face. It WAS the old one. She had given the good one away!

"Oh, I remember," hastily, as she hung the suit back. "The sleeve lining was ripped in the other coat and I wanted to sew it before it was pressed. And I—I decided not to give this old one away—after all you might want to wear it fishing some time."

"Humph! Thought you were so keen about getting rid of it! Well, now you fix that other suit and have the tailor press it to-day. It's just about the right weight to wear now."

Helen, panic-stricken, went in to finish dressing. What could she do? She MUST get that suit back. Warren would be rabid if he found she had given away a perfectly new suit. No—no, he must never know!

She barely tasted her breakfast, and could hardly wait until Warren left. Then she ran out to see if the elevator boy, to whom she had given the suit, was on duty this morning.

But it was the other boy who answered her ring.

"What time will Henry be on?" she demanded.

A Thief.

"He won't be on no more, ma'am. He's been discharged."

"DISCHARGED!"

"Yes, ma'am, the superintendent laid him off this morning."

There was nothing for Helen to do but to see the superintendent and try to get the boy's address. What if he had already worn the suit? But Helen dared not think of that possibility.

"So he stole something from you, too, did he?" was the superintendent's first comment when Helen asked him about the boy.

"Stole something? Why, no, but I gave him a suit of Mr. Curtis' by mistake."

The superintendent seemed relieved. "Well, he stole from other tenants—that's why I had to get rid of him. I'm sorry, Mrs. Curtis, that I haven't his address, but you might get it from the employment agency where I engaged him."

In desperation Helen explained about the suit.

"Oh, a blue serge? Why, that's downstairs now. I wouldn't let him take it away—thought he stole that, too."

"No, no, I gave it to him. But I thought I was giving him another suit."

The superintendent brought it up, and to Helen's infinite relief it was wrapped in newspaper, just as she had given it to the boy. He had torn a hole in the paper to see what it was like, but plainly it had not been unwrapped.

Overjoyed by her good luck, Helen promptly took the suit to the little tailoring shop around the corner to be pressed.

The very next morning Warren asked about "that blue serge suit."

"Yes, dear, I had it pressed yesterday. It's hanging right there in your closet."

Warren got it out and looked it over with a curious puzzled expression.

She Confesses.

"Huh, that's funny! Guess I was wrong this time."

"Wrong? Why, what do you mean, dear?"

"Well, I thought you couldn't produce it—that's all. I'd an idea that you'd gotten those blue suits mixed—and given the wrong one to that boy."

"Why, Warren—how could you think that?" flushing quickly. "Why I told you I—I wanted to fix the sleeve lining before it was pressed."

"I know you did, and you acted mighty blamed suspicious, too. You're always lying out of a thing when you get in a hole." Then, with a keen glance at Helen's flushed face: "I'm not sure yet that I wasn't right."

There was a moment's tense silence. Warren was buttoning a pair of suspenders on the blue serge trousers, while Helen was fumblingly putting on a hanger the coat he had worn yesterday.

"Eh? How about it?" he persisted with another searching glance at her averted face.

She hung the coat on the rod in the closet, then turned with a sudden defiant:

"Very well, you were RIGHT! I DID make a mistake—I DID give that suit to the elevator boy! But you needn't hesitate to wear it—it hadn't even been unwrapped. And if I'm always lying out of things it's your fault! You've raged and stormed at me so that when anything goes wrong—I'm AFRAID to tell you the truth!"

Wise Child.

"You see, had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

Boy—No, ma'am; it would have been eaten by us.

"Niagara Maid"

PURE SILK GLOVES

When you visit the Glove Department of your favorite store, do not merely ask for "a pair of silk gloves."

Specify the Niagara Maid kind. Do not accept substitutes. You will be pleased with the results. They wear longer, are better and cost no more than any other good kind.

Finger tips are double, and each pair contains a guarantee ticket.

Colorings are up to the instant from a style point of view.

Ask your dealer. If he cannot supply you, send us his name. We will supply you through him.

Niagara Silk Mills

North Tonawanda, N. Y.

New York Boston

Chicago San Francisco

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

From Lucille's Diary

AFTER the long winter in town I felt the need of a change, so last week I made up my mind to drop in on Carol Nodine for a little breath of country air. She appeared astonished when I drove up to her house in the rickety old station hack.

"How is this for a surprise party?" I asked gayly, as she met me at the door.

"I fear, Lucile," she answered, "that you'll be the more surprised of the two. Both children have the mumps and my maid was so afraid of catching it that she's gone away. Wait!" she called to the hack driver, who, having deposited my bags, was starting away. "Lucile, have you ever had the mumps?"

"Oh, yes, long ago," I replied.

So she waved to the driver to go on and invited me into the house. However, there was so little welcome in her voice or manner that for a moment I was almost sorry I had come. Then I realized that she was worried and preoccupied about the children, so I felt it my duty to her to overlook her apparent lack of hospitality.

When Tom came home late in the afternoon his genial pleasure in finding me made up for any lukewarmness on Carol's part.

Something To Do.

"This is jolly," he exclaimed. Then he said how nice it was of me not to run away when I discovered the family plight.

"I'm hoping to be able to help Carol," I told him. "Isn't there something I can do about dinner, dear?" I asked, turning to her.

"It would scarcely be wise for you to venture into the kitchen in that dress," she said, glancing at the pretty pink house gown I had put on after my nap.

"Oh, there's nothing regal about this," I assured her.

"Very well, then, if you wish to do something you may put on a big apron and hull the strawberries."

"Delighted!" I responded. But I think it was inconsiderate of Carol to ask me to stain my fingers with strawberries, when she knows how careful I am with my hands.

"Great Caesar!" Tom fairly shouted, when he began to eat his desert. "What's on these strawberries?"

"Powdered sugar, of course," said his wife.

"Powdered sugar, nothing, Carol! It tastes more like soap." He gulped down a glass of water.

Carol tasted her berries. Why, this isn't sugar," she declared. "It's baking soda."

"How in the world did you happen to put soda on them?" asked Tom.

"Just by dipping into the wrong jar, I suppose," was the tart answer. She glanced at me somewhat reproachfully, but I did not feel that I was to be blamed, as she should have told me more explicitly just where to get the sugar.

That evening, while Carol was looking after the children, I taught Tom how to play poker-patience, and he was so interested that we played until 11 o'clock. Then Carol came downstairs in a dressing gown and said that our laughter was disturbing the children. She did not appear in the least grateful to me for entertaining poor Tom, who would have been lonely and dismal, I am sure, had it not been for me."

"If you'll lend me your riding skirt, Carol, I'll set forth on your horse to explore the country," I said the next morning after Tom had left the house, and I foresaw nothing but a tiresome day in prospect. However, the roads were so bad that I did not enjoy the ride as much as I had expected, and, coming home, I made a short cut through some private places to avoid the worst of the mud. As I was galloping across a pretty little stretch of green an old man, who was raking it, demanded if I didn't know I was on a tennis court.

"He was a picturesque figure," I said to Carol when I told her of the incident, "with his white hair and white beard, but as dictatorial as if he owned the entire country."

"He does pretty nearly," she replied. "He amuses himself by taking care of a part of his own grounds, and the tennis court is his special pride. I'm so sorry, Lucile, that you rode over it. I hope he isn't offended, for Tom is trying awfully hard to get the contract for some new buildings of his. It does seem as if everything was going wrong." Then she began to cry nervously without any thought of how I must feel.

The Best Way.

"Perhaps," I said a little stiffly, "it would be best for me to go back to town, Carol. I'm afraid you're not enjoying my visit."

"Well, frankly, Lucile, I believe it would be wise," she said, with sudden cheerfulness. "We should all have a much pleasanter time if you were to come later when the children are well and I have a maid."

I was not sorry to leave, for I was having a hopelessly dull time. Still I certainly was surprised when Carol speeded my departure in that cool way. I wonder how any one as brusque and tactless as Carol is manages to retain her friends.

Sifted.

"I was out motoring the other day."

"So?"

"Yes, and I came to a river, but could find no means of getting my machine over."

"Well, what did you do?"

"Oh, I just sat down and thought it over."

Some Real Secrets of Beauty

Told by Mme. Lina Cavalieri

Mme. Lina Cavalieri.

PHOTO COPYRIGHT 1913 BY MISSKIN

By MME. LINA CAVALIERI.

The Distinguished Grand Opera Prima Donna and World-famous Beauty.

YOU have brought yourself safely through winter with its disfiguring colds and its many aids to fleshmaking found on the tables at which you have eaten. You have escaped spring and its coarsening of the skin and drying of the hair, caused by its cold, high winds. Summer approaches and I want to talk to you for a few minutes on how to avoid the perils to beauty that are peculiar to that season.

The beauty destroyer of summer is dust—dust, which, flying through the air, lodges in the pores of your face and forms blackheads and pimples; dust, which settles upon your hair, dulling its luster, and gathers about the hair roots, choking them and causing the hair to fall. Make a resolution at once, and let it be: "I will guard against beauty-destroying dust."

You can only do this by great vigilance, but you have long ago learned that vigilance is the price of beauty. I might express my wishes for you in this respect in other ways, but I choose to so put it that you will remember it. Keep clean. Fight dust with cleanliness.

It is not always possible to run home and wash your face when it has been perspiring. You may be on the golf links or you may have been waiting a long time in an office. You can remove the perspiration from the face by dampening your handkerchief with a little witch hazel, with rose water or eau de cologne, which you can carry in a tiny bottle in your wrist bag. Do not use water on the face that has been scorched by the burning rays of the sun. The effect is to coarsen the skin and cause wrinkles. Cleanse it before retiring with plentiful applications of one of the oils I have so often recommended or with your favorite cold cream.

The hair will also need greater attention in summer. It will need more frequent shampoos, especially if the scalp perspires. If you have "washed your hair" twice a month, it will probably need a weekly shampoo in summer. Wash it whenever it needs it. Your hair brush will tell the story. If your scalp has been perspiring freely and you have not a chance to shampoo it at once, rub alcohol into the roots to dry the scalp. Perspiration drying upon the hair leaves the same deposit I described upon the face and is as inimical to it. If it keeps the hair in a state of moisture, the hair rots and the weakened roots permit it to fall.

Wished He Hadn't.

"You see," he exclaimed, as he showed her the wishbone of the Christmas turkey, "you take hold there and I take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you!" he exclaimed.

"You really wish for me?" she asked. "Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile. "You can have me."

WITHIN THE LAW

A Powerful Story of Adventure, Intringe and Love

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Turner, an orphan, employed in Edward Gilder's department store, is accused of theft and sent to prison, though innocent. Aggie Lynch, a convict friend of Mary's at Burnsing, sees good "possibilities" for her in the world of crime. Upon Mary's release she is continually hounded and in desperation throws herself into the North River. Joe Garson, a forger, rescues her and keeps her and Aggie in luxury, though living chaste lives. Mary becomes the leader of a band of swindlers, robbing only the unscrupulous and keeping always "within the law." Gilder's son, Dick, meets and loves Mary, who seeks to wreak vengeance on the father through the son. She marries him.

"English Eddie" Griggs is introduced into the story. He tells of the stealing of $300,000 worth of tapestries and intimates that he knows where they can be found. Though "English Eddie" tells her the tapestries were smuggled into the country and that the owner, who turns out to be her sworn enemy, Gilder, dare not "squeal," Mary decides his proposition is not strictly "within the law." Mary and Garson then discuss the probability of their being forced to abandon their blackmailing game by the police. Garson displays a revolver equipped with a Maxim silencer and smokeless cartridges. While Mary is waiting for her husband, Inspector Burke and the lawyer, Demarest, now prosecuting attorney, call and demand that she leave the city at once. She displays an injunction preventing them from molesting her. As they parley, old man Gilder arrives. He demands that Mary give up his son, evidently not knowing the two are wedded. Now the moment Mary has lived for has arrived. The hour of her revenge has struck. Dick enters. Mary commands him to tell his father of their marriage, and he does. And Mary's revenge is complete. The inspector tells Dick that Mary has "done time" and Mary admits it.

Now Go on With the Story

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly Company. The play "Within the Law" is copyrighted by Mr. Veiller and this novelization of it is published by his permission. The American Play Company is the sole proprietor of the exclusive rights of the representation and performance of "Within the Law" in all languages.

By MARVIN DANA from the Play by BAYARD VEILLER.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

At last Gilder was restored in a measure to his self-possession. He spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

Gilder looked at her with a newly dawning respect; then his shrewdness suggested a retort.

Mary Laughed.

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said.

Mary laughed. There was something dreadful in that burst of spurious amusement.

"Why not?" she answered. "I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed the true heart of him in which love for his boy was before all else. He found himself wholly at a loss before the woman's unexpected reply.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will——"

At that moment the son himself entered hurriedly from the hallway. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman whom he loved. At his entrance Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming, even though she had known he must come—perhaps from some other emotion, deeper, hidden as yet even from himself.

The young man, with his wholesome face alight with tenderness, went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent, motionless, abashed by the event. And Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressing it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said, haplily, "but I left him a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

The voice of the older man came with a sinister force and saturnine.

"No, Dick, I haven't had any note."

"Then, why——?" The young man broke off suddenly. He was become aware that here was something malignant, with a meaning beyond his present understanding, for he saw the Inspector and Demarest, and he knew the two of them for what they were officially.

A Pawn in the Game.

"What are they doing here?" he demanded suspiciously, staring at the two.

"Oh, never mind them," Mary said. There was a malevolent gleam in her violet eyes. This was the recompense of which she had dreamed through soul-tearing ages. "Just tell your father your news, Dick."

The young man had no comprehension of the fact that he was only a pawn in the game. He spoke with simple pride.

"Dad, we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Always, Mary stared with her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder himself seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

Mary rejoiced to make the knowledge sure.

"I married your son this morning," she said, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him."

In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speeceh against this calamity that had befallen him.

It was Burke who offered a diversion, a crude interruption after his own fashion.

"It's a frame-up," he roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Why, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And, by G——, she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face, which had grown older by years with the passing of the seconds.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

There was no quiver in her voice as she answered. She drew her hand from his clasp and spoke evenly.

"It's the truth."

"It's the truth!" the young man repeated, incredulously.

The Son Interrupted.

"It is the truth," Mary said, firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years. It was the father who broke it, and now his voice was become tremulous.

"I wanted to save you, Dick. That's why I came."

The son interrupted him violently.

"There's a mistake—there must be."

It was Demarest who gave an official touch to the tragedy of the moment.

"There's no mistake," he said. There was authority in his statement.

"There is, I tell you!" Dick cried, horrified by this conspiracy of defamation. He turned his tortured face to his bride of a day.

"Mary," he said, huskily, "there is a mistake."

Something in her face appalled him. He was voiceless for a few terrible instants. Then he spoke again, more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary preserved her poise. Yes—she must not forget! This was the hour of her triumph. What mattered it that the honey of it was as ashes in her mouth? She spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, so trusted her, was overwhelmed by the revelation. He stood trembling for a moment, tottered, almost it seemed would have fallen, but presently steadied himself and sank supinely into a chair, where he sat in impotent suffering.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

The Manicure Lady

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

"WHAT'S the matter now, George?" asked the Manicure Lady as she glanced at the Head Barber's long face. "You look as though you had just dreamed that there would never be no more racing at all. Is the folks sick, or ain't the tips coming regular this morning, or what?"

"Everything is breaking bad for me," replied the Head Barber. "There was an old gambler that used to say when he was losing at poker, 'Sometimes the cards run that way for weeks—and then they turn around and run worse!' Well, that's the way things are with me. The rent is due to-morrow and I'm ten dollars shy on that. The grocer looks at me kind o' North Polev when I drop in to give him an order nowadays, and the butcher has lost his Dutch smile and seems to be growing peaked thinking about my little bill. I know everything is going to turn out all right but it makes me feel blue sometimes to think that I haven't got a nice fat bank account instead of all the time skating on thin ice."

"So you think you are in hard luck do you?" said the Manicure Lady. "You poor thing, you. What if you should go into a slow decline? Georgous people that is all the time complaining and whining about being up against it don't know half of the thousand reasons we have for being thankful. I wish you had been with me yesterday afternoon. If you had been there and saw what I seen, I guess I wouldn't be hearing no more hard-luck talk from you.

Broke a Heel.

"I broke part of one of my high heels off yesterday when I was running to catch a car and stopped in to see a cobbler and have the stilt fixed. It was a dingy little dump on Sixth Avenue, about as poverty-struck a place as I have ever saw.

"The cobbler was a little German feller and the first thing I noticed was that he was paralyzed in both legs. His little boy had to do all the fetching and carrying for him. When I asked him how long he had been that way he said three years. He said he could remember that it was three years because it happened about the time that he lost his oldest boy. He told me all he had left was the little fellow in the shops and his invalid wife out in the back room. She hadn't been able to move from her bed for over a year, and would never be able to move again! He didn't tell me all this complaining like, either. He said it kind of patient, because he seen that I wanted to know, not because he was looking for charity. He wouldn't have took none, because he wasn't that kind of a little sport.

"Say, George, what do you think? That little shoemaker was working away on my shoe and he began whistling a little German waltz tune! Think of it, George—he was whistling at his work!"

"I don't see nothing remarkable about that," remarked the Head Barber.

A Wonderful Sight.

"You don't see nothing remarkable about anything except the third race at Pimlico," snapped the Manicure Lady. "Why, man, think of it! There was a human being with as little to be thankful for as a blind dog, and as much to be sad about as one of the Manchester martyrs—and he was whistling! He seen that I noticed him, and explained that he always whistled a little to make him cheer up and remember that he could work! He charged me 15 cents for the job and wouldn't take no more, but I managed to slip his little kid a dollar on the way out. Why don't you try whistling a little, George? Heavens knows you ain't in no hard luck!"

The Spoils

"BETWEEN my wife and my dog I have a pretty hard time," said the head of the household. "Both are always bringing home things that I have to dispose of. My wife gets them at bargain sales and auctions and such places as that. But where my dog gets his treasures heaven knows!

"We have a garret and a cellar full of things that my wife has bought that are utterly useless. There has never been any other way of disposing of her wares. Lots of times I can't even figure out what they are for, and I don't believe my wife knows. They are Oriental sometimes, Aztec and Indian occasionally—but always they are a puzzle.

"The dog does the same sort of thing, although his conquests are usually recognizable, and once he brought me a pair of perfectly good trousers! In the pockets were seventy-five cents and a beer check, all of which proved acceptable.

"On another occasion my knowledge of anatomy enabled me to classify my dog's trophy as the dressed carcass of a sheep. He was very proud of that find.

"As is the way with all professionals, my dog and my wife can never see any virtue in each other's winnings. He sniffs at her Japanese cotton crepe aeroplane holder for all the world as if it were a bar of soap, and her receptable for meteors is about as interesting to him as a brush and comb.

"My wife is equally unresponsive. In fact, she is militantly opposed to my dog's discoveries. For examnle, when he proudly strutted into the drawing room, where my wife was entertaining the Ellnor Glyn Literary Society, and displayed there a section of a cow's backbone, my wife raised a scream of horror in which all of her guests joined.

"So embarrassed did the poor dog become that he dropped the prize and retired in confusion. Then my wife gathered up the backbone with a pair of double embossed Louis XIV coal tongs, that otherwise might have gone forever unused, and carried it out. I don't know but that she employed the tongs in hitting the poor dog over the head. But even so, that does not count in summing up the tongs' usefulness, for it was not a legitimate purpose for which to use them. A broom or a comet eradicator would have done just as well."

The Mistakes of Jennie

By HAL COFFMAN

Being a Series of Chapters in the Life of a Southern Girl in the Big City

The Man Held Her Tight in His Arms.

Up-to-Date Jokes

When Professor Rokitanski, of Vienna, was asked if he had any sons he answered, "Four."

"And what professions have they chosen?"

"Two howl and two heal," was the laconic reply.

A couple of his sons were public singers and the other two were doctors.

"Where have you been, Frank?"

"In Manchester."

"What were you doing there?"

"I ran a photograph gallery."

"Did you get anything to do?"

"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them left on the doorstep."

Gorst—What is Simpson doing now?

Fish—Oh, he's traveling with a menagerie.

Gorst—Pretty hard work, isn't it?

Fish—Hard work? No; he's nothing to do except stick his head into a lion's mouth twice a day.

First Pat—Wot's the matter? You look broken-hearted.

Second Pat—And so I am. I was a-sittin' 'ere in this bar, dozin' and dreamin', when a bloke came in an ordered drinks 'round for everybody three times—and I slept through it all!

Just Dogs

"NOTHING is more like a man than a dog is," declared the candy store proprietor. "I'm just like a dog myself. I even know what a dog is thinking more than half the time when I am watching him.

"Yesterday I saw a dog a block and a half away. I knew at once that something was wrong with him. He had a sneaky, uncomfortable look. He hung his head. As I passed him the dog hailed me after the fashion of fellows of the same guild and with the same spirit of comradeship:

"Suddenly—'Danny!' The word of reproof smote the air. Danny had known all the time that the woman who owned him was watching him, waiting for a chance to give him a rebuke. 'That's why he had the famous hangdog expression. He knew that it was impossible for him to keep free from scolding. I knew how he felt.

"Some dogs are very particular not to speak to you until you have spoken to them first. There is a scraggy dog that comes to our house from time to time, visits for a few days, and then departs, either to go home or to visit somewhere else. We may not see him again for a month or six weeks.

"Just the other day he appeared at our house. The kids were playing on the porch and didn't see him. He sauntered into the yard in a casual sort of way and lay down on the lawn, watching the children with a very alert expression.

"Finally one of them saw him and cried, 'Why, there's Babs!' That is our name for him, since we do not know his real name.

"At this greeting Babs tore up the porch steps and nearly wiggled himself into a frazzle in his delight. I am like that.

"A dog is very bitter in his hatred of flies, fleas, cats and firecrackers. He hates like sin to have to get out of the way of an automobile, and music and carpet dust nearly kill him. He is so like me in these things."

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Jennie got home that night she told her boarding house keeper she was going out the next day—being Sunday—with Tom. They were going into the country and have dinner at some little inn that Tom knew about. So the next morning she hurried out to where she was to meet THE MAN. He was waiting for her with a big touring car and a chauffeur to drive it. And Jennie, in her plain little white dress, couldn't help but look in wide-eyed wonder at such luxury and grandeur, and could hardly realize that she was going to ride in it all day long.

THE MAN helped her in, and was very careful to arrange the robes "just so," and explained to her it would never do for his little "pal" to get echilled.

Oo-! Goliy! Thought Jennie, this is even better than the taxicab—and the cushions were so soft and "comfy."

And so they rolled on and on, until early afternoon, when they came to the quaintest looking little hotel that nestled in the trees by the side of the road. And THE MAN said they were going to have the daintiest luncheon that Jennie ever tasted. The landlord bowed and smiled, and seemed very happy to see THE MAN, and ushered them into a private room, where the table was all set as if waiting for them. And everything had an air of being prearranged. But Jennie was so happy she didn't notice it, or the side glances of understanding between the landlord and THE MAN—as if he had been there many times before.

THE MAN ordered cocktails, and it tasted so warm and nice to Jennie that she didn't say no, when THE MAN asked her to have another one before they ate their luncheon. After the second one, Jennie felt so happy she wanted to sing and laugh both at the same time, and didn't quite realize at first when THE MAN held her tight in his arms and was kissing her.

* * * * *

An hour or two after Jennie had left the house that morning Tom came over for her to go out with him to spend Sunday as they both had become accustomed to do. Jennie's boarding house friend was greatly surprised when she saw Tom—for Jennie had told her she was going out with Tom that day.

Tom told her there had been no definite arrangement made, but had just come over to call for Jennie the same as he had always done. And then Jennie's friend realized for the first time that the little girl had lied to her.

—HAL COFFMAN.

(To Be Continued.)

Well Versed.

Lord Dufferin delivered an address before the Greek class of the McGill University, about which a reporter wrote: "His Lordship spoke to the class in the purest ancient Greek, without mispronouncing a word or making the slightest grammatical solecism."

"Good heavens!" remarked Sir Hector Langevin to the late Sir John A. MacDonald, "how did the reporter know that?"

"I told him," was the Conservative statesman's answer.

"But you don't know Greek."

"True; but I know a little about politics."

Do You Know That—

The Canadian Parliament is one of the few Parliaments in the world where speeches in two languages are allowed. This, of course, is due to the large French and English elements in Canada. For instance, when the Canadian House of Commons is sitting in committee, should a French-Canadian start to address the House in French, you may see the English chairman retire from his seat and allow a French chairman to take his place. In the same manner the official English reporters cease work and a staff of French shorthand writers begin.

Owing to the frequency of weak excuses for leave of absence from work many employers have framed a special code of rules to govern days off. The following are the regulations of one firm: "1. One day off for funeral of any relative where death certificate is produced. 2. All marriages and honeymoons to be arranged during annual holidays or not at all. 3 The burying of more than three uncles or aunts a year not accepted as an excuse for absence. 4. For sickness where it is proved days off allowed."

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the royal standard on his motor cars. A flag on which are emblazoned the words, "God with us," will be painted on transparent glass, which will be electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car, so that it will be recognized a long way off.

A Matter of Observation.

Lexton Sake entered the room and critically examined the surroundings. Then suddenly his eye lighted on the clew for which he sought.

"Aha!" he exclaimed. "It was from a hole somewhere in this room that the mouse emerged!"

His companion opened his eyes wide in wonderment; then——

"Your power of scent," he remarked, "is positively marvelous, Blexton."

"Power of scent be bothered," replied the great detective. "Can't you see the heel-marks of a woman's shoe on this chair—eh?"

Act Quickly

Don't wait until you have some ailment caused by poor digestion, biliousness, or by inactive bowels which may lead to a serious sickness. Immediate relief is afforded by that best corrective and preventive

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

PLATES Made and Delivered Same Day

$5

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4--Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-6 Phone M. 1708 Sundays 8-1

INEFFICIENCY AT GAINESVILLE IS DISPROVED

Mrs. Longstreet Appears to Have Flattened Postoffice Department Statement.

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

Whatever may be the merits of the question of Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet's removal as postmaster at Gainesville, the contention that her administration was inefficient seems to have fallen pretty flat, and to that extent sympathy with her apparently is general among political observers throughout Georgia.

Postmaster General Burleson, it appears, permitted a statement to go forth from the Postoffice Department in Washington that Mrs. Longstreet's conduct of the Gainesville office was not what it should have been, but Mrs. Longstreet in turn has literally swamped the Senate committee on postoffices and postroads with endorsements from hundreds of citizens of Gainesville, including dozens of the heaviest users of the local postal service. With one accord, these people aver that her service not only has been satisfactory, but extraordinarily good.

The truth of the matter is, of course the Postmaster General, of his own knowledge, knows nothing about the conduct of the Gainesville office under Mrs. Longstreet. It appears that certain postoffice inspectors reported adversely on her administration one time, however, and that lately, and the Washington department permitted its statement to go out with that one inspection report as a basis. Mrs. Longstreet, with considerable ingenuity and much promptness, appears rather to have flattened that out thoroughly.

Mrs. Longstreet informed the Senate Committee that she did not care to retain the office particularly, if it were the President's desire to give it to someone else, but she did object to going out under the cloud of a report of inefficiency.

In that view of the matter, Mrs. Longstreet appears to have a great many sympathizers in Georgia, and the showing she made as to a satisfactory state of affairs in the Gainesville office apparently is very gratifying to her friends.

Her fight to retain the postmastership at Gainesville has attracted much attention throughout the state.

Congressman Charles G. Edwards states that he is heartily in accord with the movement for a third United States judge in Georgia, and will use his best endeavors in behalf of the bill proposing the same, now pending in Congress.

Mr. Edwards joined in the conference that was held in Washington several weeks ago, and he and Congressman Charles L. Bartlett will probably be relied upon to put the measure through the House. The Georgia Senators have indicated their purpose of concurring in the plan.

Congressman Edwards says he favors the bill because the business of the United States courts in Georgia has increased so greatly that two judges can no longer handle it. He has no personal feeling against any judge, but believes that the welfare of this part of the State requires more of the time of the judge than it now receives.

C. M. Methvin, president of the Georgia Weekly Press Association, has extended an invitation to President Woodrow Wilson to attend the next meeting of the association, to be held in LaGrange on July 15-16, and deliver an address before the members of that body. Mrs. Wilson is invited to accompany the President.

A similar invitation will be extended by the Chamber of Commerce of LaGrange and the municipal authorities of that city, and Hon. William J. Harris, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Georgia, will interest himself in the matter in an effort to secure the President's acceptance of the invitation.

The United States Senators from this State and members of Congress from Georgia also have been asked to urge upon the President that the invitation be accepted, and they will no doubt exert all influence possible in this direction.

As the General Assembly will be in session at the time specified, it also is proposed to introduce a joint resolution in that body inviting the President to deliver an address to the legislators, which resolution will no doubt be gladly adopted unanimously, provided the President is able to visit the State at that time.

Government Cannon Adorn Fort Walker

Two brass cannon that were used at the battle of Gettysburg were received from Washington by the City Park Department Thursday and sent to Grant Park to adorn Fort Walker.

The cannon were secured through the courtesy of Congressman William Schley Howard and are being used to replace two which were owned by the State and ordered moved from the park to the Capitol grounds by Governor Brown.

Gov. Brown and Ulm Break Into 'Movies'

Governor Brown and his secretary, Hardy Ulm, stood beneath the statue of General John B. Gordon on the Capitol grounds Thursday and were put on a film by representatives of the Edison Company, who are making pictures in and around Atlanta.

Charles Seay, manager of the company, was being piloted around the city by City Clerk Walter Taylor.

INSANE MAN SLAYS FIVE ROOMMATES IN ASYLUM

BLACKFOOT, IDAHO, May 22.—Peter Bradovitch, an insane Austrian, confined in the Southern Idaho Insane Asylum here, killed his five roommates by beating them on the head with a table as they lay asleep.

CZAR IN GERMANY FOR WEDDING FETE

Berlin Takes Greatest Precaution to Protect Russian Emperor and Other European Rulers.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

BERLIN, May 22.—Czar Nicholas of Russia arrived here to-day to attend the marriage of Princess Victoria Louise to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland.

Precautions much more elaborate than those taken yesterday for King George and Queen Mary of England were employed by the Government to guard the life of the Russian Emperor.

The route between the railway station and the palace was lined with soldiers, while secret agents mingled with the crowds.

The czar was met at the station by Emperor William, the Empress, the Crown Prince and a number of other notables.

Duchess of Baden Guest.

Very early in the day the Dowager Duchess of Baden, the Emperor's aunt and the senior living member of the royal family of Prussia, arrived.

She was followed shortly afterward by the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland.

On each occasion Emperor William, the Empress, Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and his bride-to-be, the Princess Victoria Luise, together with a large contingent of Hohenzollern princes and princesses, drove to the station to escort the arriving guests to the castle.

At the arrival of the venerable Duchess of Baden, Emperor William —always a model of punctuality—was late, probably for the first time in his life, and the spectators on the station platform were treated to the spectacle of his majesty in a hasty run endeavoring to reach the halting place of the railway car before his aunt stepped out. He lost the race.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH"

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed:

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingham .. 10:45 am	36	New York .. 12:15 am
35	New York .. 5:00 am	20	Columbus .. 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville 5:30 am	13	Cincinnati .. 5:40 am
19	Washington .. 6:55 am	37	Washington .. 5:50 am
12	Shreveport .. 6:30 am	35	Birmingham 5:50 am
16	Helin ..... 8:20 am	7	Chattanooga .. 6:40 am
29	New York .. 11:15 am	12	Richmond .. 6:55 am
8	Chattanooga 10:35 am	23	Kansas City 7:00 am
7	Macon ..... 10:40 am	16	Brunswick .. 7:45 am
17	Fort Valley 10:45 am	29	Birmingham 11:30 am
21	Columbus .. 10:50 am	38	New York .. 11:01 am
6	Cincinnati .. 11:10 am	40	Charlotte .. 12:00 n'n
20	Columbus .. 1:40 pm	6	Macon ..... 12:20 pm
30	Birmingham 2:30 pm	30	Columbus .. 12:30 pm
40	Birmingham 12:40 pm	30	New York .. 2:45 pm
29	Charlotte .. 3:05 pm	7	Chattanooga 3:00 pm
5	Macon ..... 4:00 pm	39	Birmingham 4:15 pm
37	New York .. 5:00 pm	*18	Toccoa ..... 4:30 pm
15	Brunswick .. 7:50 pm	*22	Columbus .. 5:30 pm
12	Richmond .. 8:30 pm	11	Cincinnati .. 5:10 pm
24	Kansas City 9:20 pm	23	Fort Valley 5:20 pm
16	Chattanooga 9:35 pm	25	Helin ..... 5:45 pm
19	Columbus .. 10:20 pm	10	Macon ..... 8:00 pm
21	Fort Valley 10:25 pm	44	Washington .. 8:45 pm
14	Cincinnati .. 11:00 pm	24	Jacksonville 9:30 pm
23	Jacksonville 6:50 am	18	Shreveport .. 10:10 pm
*17	Toccoa ..... 8:10 am	14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm

Trains marked thus (*) run daily except Sunday.

Other trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office, No. 1 Peachtree Street.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

STATE FARM COTTON OFFERED

FOR SALE—On Friday morning, May 30th inst., will be offered for sale the State Farm Cotton of about 350 bales at the State Farm, near Milledgeville. All Cotton Buyers are cordially invited to be present and make bid on this fine lot of cotton. The Prison Commission of Georgia. 5-22-11

Marshal Sales.

United States Marshal's Sale.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF GEORGIA.

Will be sold on the first Tuesday in June next, at public outcry at the Court House in said county, in front of the old City Hall Building, corner of Pryor and Hunter Streets, City of Atlanta, Georgia, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, certain property, of which the following is a full and complete description, to-wit: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the City of Atlanta, State of Georgia, being part of land lot fifty-one in the 14th District of Fulton County, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a point on the east side of Piedmont Avenue, formerly Calhoun Street, at the northwest corner of Clark's lot, running thence north along the east side of Piedmont Avenue forty-five feet to King's lot, thence east along King's lot two hundred seventy-four feet, more or less, thence south parallel with Piedmont Avenue forty-four feet, thence west at right angles (now Piedmont Ave.), two hundred seventy-four feet, more or less, to beginning point, being part of lots one hundred twenty-eight and one hundred twenty-nine, block twenty-three.

Said property levied on as the property of David T. Howard, to satisfy an execution issued from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Georgia, February 22, 1910, in favor of the United States against John Williams and David T. Howard; said property being in possession of David T. Howard.

This first day of May, 1913.

W. H. JOHNSON,
United States Marshal.
5-1-34

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 66 Decatur street. R. Amiel & Co. 5-22-221

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 4 Decatur Street. Ben Rosenthal. 5-22-222

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for wholesale, for white and colored, at 532 Decatur Street. New South Brewing Company. 5-22-223

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 1 and 3 North Broad Street. W. H. Gowery & Co. 5-22-224

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 7 East Alabama Street. Oppenheim Cigar Co. 5-22-225

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 16 and 18 North Broad Street. Gann & Garraux. 5-22-226

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 48 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-227

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 50 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-228

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer Licenses.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 324 Street. L. Zabludowsky. 5-22-214

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 252 Street. J. N. Coggins. 5-22-215

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 230 Street. S. Krasner. 5-22-216

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 202-4 Street. Danneman Bros. 5-22-217

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 150 Street. J. Brantingham & Co. 5-22-218

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 80 Street. Walter Harris. 5-22-219

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 74 Street. Pete Mitchell. 5-22-220

PERSONAL.

NOW is the time to paint and we have the best that can be made. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters St. 5-21-10

VICTOR L. TREMAINE.

Mystic,
Permanently Located in Atlanta.
125 WEST PEACHTREE STREET
Hours 10 to 7. Closed on Fridays.
Develops personal magnetism and psychic powers. Your greatest wish can positively be realized. Every case guaranteed. 30-21-5

ACME HATTERS HAVE MOVED TO 20 E. HUNTER STREET. OLD HATS MADE NEW.

4-23-42

THE GATE CITY DOLL HOSPITAL, 243 Courtland, near Cain, repairs all kinds of dolls. 203-24-4

FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS—Wood fly screens, metal fly screens, hardwood floors, Venetian blinds, metal weather strips furnished anywhere in the South. Write or phone W. R. Callaway, manager, 1403 Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga. Main 5316.

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, homelike. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-87

DR. GAULT'S Antiseptic Powder for women. It is cleansing, cooling and non-irritating. Can be used as a douche any time with water. It has no equal. Price $1 per box, postpaid. J. T. Gault Chemical Company, 702 Austell Building, Atlanta. 4-25-33

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—A homestead in Davison-Paxon-Stokes or in High's. Call Atlanta phone 2979. 5-22-21

LOST—Wednesday, 14th, Shepherd dog, with large leather collar, bushy tail; answers to name of "Shep." Atlanta 1131. 5-22-27

LOST—Wednesday, a Boston terrier bulldog; has one glass eye; answers to name of "Queen." Atlanta phone 1131. 5-22-25

LOST—Monday, about $35 in money and check made out to T. P. Westbrook. Finder please return to 107 Ivy St., or call Ivy 4778 and receive reward. 5-21-41

LOST—On Peachtree Street, silver card case, filigree to lining, containing check for $45, No. 6048, made out to Miss Mary Green, payable to Third National Bank. Return to Miss Green, 387 Spring, and receive reward. Ivy 2322-J. 5-21-40

LOST—Ring set with pearls. Finder call Ivy 2179 or P. O. Box 257. 5-21-38

LOST—Monday, cameo brooch, between Five Points and Chamberlin's. Reward. Call Decatur 116. 205-5-20

THE PARTY that took an umbrella off the fence corner of Washita Avenue and Highland Avenue Tuesday morning please return to 548 Highland Avenue and get reward. 208-5-20

LOST—Lady's black silk umbrella about a month ago, gold and pearl handle, engraved L. W. R. Finder return to 829 Candler Building. Reward. 5-20-3

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Assistant soda dispenser. Apply, with references, to Melton's Pharmacy. 5-22-38

WANTED—Press feeder. 110½ Whitehall Street. Ross Moore. 5-22-28

WANTED—Delivery boy, with bicycle, experienced with groceries. Apply 391 S. Pryor St. 5-22-26

YOUNG man to help in grocery store on Saturdays. Apply 80 Capitol Ave. 5-22-261

SOLICITORS and agents for a live proposition. Franklin Press, 41½ Peachtree Street. 29-22-5

WANTED—Stair builder, one competent to handle circle stair work. Apply Phoenix Planing Mill, 321 Highland Avenue. 5-22-4

ANY ONE knowing the whereabouts of Lee Martin, white, about eighteen, will confer a favor by communicating same to M., Box 580, care Georgian. 5-21-2

WANTED—Two first-class waiters. Apply 205 Peachtree; Adair Hotel. 5-21-26

WANTED—Colored help. Apply Southern Upholstering Co., corner Jefferson and Echo.

I TEACH MEN THE BARBER TRADE quickly, cheaply, thoroughly and furnish tools. I pay commission for bringing students. I give wages in finishing department. Positions waiting. Call at once or write Manager Moler System, 38 Luckie St. 25-17-5

ATLANTA mail carriers wanted; average $90 month. Atlanta examinations coming. Specimen questions free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49-D, Rochester, N. Y. 30-14-5

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Peachtree and Forsyth Streets, Atlanta, or 411 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga. 4-1-1

WANTED—Ideas. Inventors, write for list of inventions wanted and prizes offered by manufacturers. Also, how to get your patent. Sent free to any address. Randolph & Briscoe, patent attorneys, Washington, D. C. 7-11-23

PULLMAN porters wanted; references. For instruction. Write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-37

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 East Mitchell St. 5-11-17

Want Anything?

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers, accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion ...10c a line
3 insertions ... 9c a line
7 insertions ... 8c a line
30 insertions ..4½c a line
90 insertions ... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

No advertisement accepted from out of town unless accompanied by cash, or forwarded through recognized advertising agency.

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

HELP WANTED.

Male.

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells of about 300,000 protected positions in U. S. service. Thousands of vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, sure and generous pay, lifetime employment. Just ask for booklet T-412. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 5-1-1

Female.

WANTED—Experienced assorter. Apply Excelsior Laundry, 40-42 Wall St. 5-22-19

WANTED—Lady steno-bookkeeper of fair ability. State salary, age, references. Go out of city. Merchant, care Georgian. 5-22-10

A COOK—Four in family; room on the place with private toilet and electric lights. 282 St. Charles Avenue. 31-22-5

WANTED—Good cook; also washerwoman to live on place. Apply 667 W. Peachtree Street. 5-21-37

COLORED girl of neat appearance for general housework. 49 Vedado Way. 42-21-5

WANTED—Experienced nurse for two children, one and three years old; settled woman preferred. Must have good references. Apply 787 Ponce De Leon. 5-21-14

A FIRST-CLASS chambermaid; good wages. Apply 241 West Peachtree. 38-21-5

WANTED—Experienced cook. Must be settled, unincumbered woman willing to go to country place. Call mornings. 205 Peachtree Circle. 32-21-5

WANTED—Good cook. Must live in the house. Apply 1068 DeKalb Avenue. 36-20-5

WANTED—Expert laundress and cook to live on lot. Apply 1068 DeKalb Ave. 5-20-27

WANTED—Housekeeper for sanitarium. Apply in person with references. Experience required. 257 Whitehall Street. 5-22-5

WANTED—Good cook; room on lot. 76 Park Lane, Ansley Park. Take Piedmont Avenue car and get off at Park Lane. 5-20-26

WANTED—Laundress to wash on lot. 415 Cherokee Avenue. 5-20-21

WANTED—Cook at once; reference required. Phone Ivy 6481-J. 62 Westminster Drive. 209-5-20

U. S. GOVERNMENT POSITIONS open to women. Write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 602-D, Rochester, N. Y. 25-20-5

WANTED—Experienced millinery trimmer and saleslady; also saleswomap for suits and shirtwaists. Grossman's. 5-19-10

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY: best trade on earth for women; pay $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. 3-29-41

Male and Female.

CRICHTON-SHUMAKER
Established 1835
Business College
THE LEADING
Business Training School in the South.
INDIVIDUAL INSTRUCTION
BY THE PROPRIETORS IN PERSON.
CATALOGUE FREE.
KISER BUILDING ATLANTA.

BOYS and girls everywhere, to make a dollar every day after school. Pleasant and easy work. Call on or write A. R. Cassil, 41½ Peachtree Street, Atlanta. Inclose stamped and addressed envelope for reply. 33-21-5

DRESSMAKING—DRESSMAKERS.

WANTED—Dressmaking. One-piece dresses, $2.00 and up. Mrs. O. E. Smith, 27 N. Howard St., Kirkwood. 5-20-7

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

NO. 6 REMINGTONS, $5 for 4 months; Royals, $7 for 4 months; Underwoods, $8 for 4 month; Remington visible, $9 for 4 months. Initial payment allowed on price of machine. Get our new illustrated catalog and price list No. 26. American Writing Machine Co., 48 N. Pryor Street. Phone M. 2526.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 N. Pryor St. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

TEACHERS WANTED.

WHITE for record of our eight years' work. High class patronage. Efficient service. Foster's Teachers Agency, Atlanta, Ga. 64-5-4

WANTED AT ONCE—A few more first-class principals and assistant teachers. Good openings, good salaries. Free registration. Register Teachers' Agency Register, Ga. 5-18-9

EDUCATIONAL.

WILL take a limited number of pupils for piano; $2 per month; graduate musician. 7 Kent St. 5-21-22

EMORY summer school; cool, quiet; fifty days from June 17. Latin, Greek, French, German, English, history, mathematics. Address E. K. Turner, Oxford, Ga. 5-9-1

AGENTS AND SALESMEN.

Wanted.

WANTED—High class salesmen with stock or insurance experience. No advances. Call for Mr. Brown, 576 Kimball Hotel. 206-5-22

WE want a REAL good REAL estate salesman. FINE OPENING. Apply by mail. Wilkes, Box 602, care Georgian. 5-22-14

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Male.

AS REPRESENTATIVE of some corporation or salesman; for some firm at Macon, or on the road. Willing to work one month to demonstrate my ability. Can furnish reference. Address Honest Gentleman, care Georgian. 41-22-5

WANTED—Position by young man as pressman. Will accept reasonable salary. Address Press, Box 495, care Georgian. 208-5-22

STENOGRAPHER—Young married man With two years' experience in railroad traffice work desires position. Address P. O. Box 23, Boca Grande, Fla. 37-22-5

COLLEGE graduate with two years' experience as bookkeeper and cashier for responsible firm desires responsible employment; write good hand, can use typewriter rapidly; can furnish best city references. Address E., Box 6, care Georgian. 32-22-5

ARCHITECT—Young man; designer and head draughtsman for seven years in leading New York offices, wishes to affiliate with good local architect. An interview will be convincing. Address J. M. B., care Georgian. 205-5-22

A SPLENDID dining room boy, private home or office work. Want work at once. Can give good reference. Answer quick. Z. B., 383 Martin Street, City. 30-22-5

WANTED—Position by an experienced man as manager of small telephone exchange. Can give the best of references as to character and ability. Address J. J. N., 1004 Lafayette St., Quitman, Ga. 47-21-5

FIRST-CLASS German butler wants position; can furnish best references. Address 47-E. Mitchell St. 44-21-5

YOUNG MAN of good business ability wishes to affiliate with good concern. All recommendations of highest sources. An interview with me will be convincing. Phone Ivy 6299-L. 5-21-17

STENOGRAPHER of experience desires position at once; best references. Call Main 4865-J. 5-21-7

YOUNG MAN, 26, recently arrived from New York, seeks position as bookkeeper or clerk in mercantile house offering advancement; good correspondent and willing worker. Address Clerk, 889, care Georgian. 39-21-5

A YOUNG WHITE MAN wants position at once as chauffeur. Can handle any car; 3 years' shop experience. A. H. 158 Whitehall St. 212-5-20

WANTED—Work by young man just out of college; good penman and calculator; had rather have work so I can have afternoons off, but will consider anything that will pay. Box 610, care Georgian. 32-20-5

WANTED—Position by young man with well advanced high school education, with a reputable firm, preferably in the office where the chances are good for advancement. Address W. R. B., Box 440, care Georgian. 33-20-5

WANTED—Position by young man who has just completed a course of bookkeeping, with good habits and good references; ready to begin work June 1. Address N. W. Johnson, 8 Perry Street, Newnan, Ga. 34-20-5

YOUNG MAN, 18 years of age, strictly sober, must have work. Have had 3 years' experience in drug store. Prefer job in drug store, but will be glad to get anything to do. Address D. Mc., Adrian, Ga. 35-19-5

WANTED—Position as sawyer at circular saw mill in Georgia or Florida. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Six years' experience. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Council, N. C. 34-19-5

POSITION WANTED—Bookkeeper, 30, ten years' experience as bookkeeper, cashier, collector; wants position; best references. Bond if desired. Experience, Box 55, care Georgian. 31-12-5

BOOKKEEPER and auditor will straighten out your bookkeeping and office troubles. Trial balances made. Small sets of books written up. P. O. Box 836, Phone Ivy 7011. 5-4-13

Female.

WANTED—By a colored woman, job as cook or maid in private family. Address 239 Courtland Street. Louise Williams. 49-22-5

WANTED—By a colored woman, a job as maid or cook for one-half day. Address Annie Broomfield, 161 Courtland Street. 39-22-5

WANTED—Position as cashier by young lady with experience. Address M. C., 21 White Oak Street, Atlanta, Ga. 209-5-22

TYPEWRITING, any class; accurately, neatly done; reasonable. Stenographer, Ivy 5. 28-22-5

WE CLEAN kid gloves, launder lace curtains, fancy waists, lace collars, fancy underwear, by hand. Woman's Exchange, 3 South Broad Street. 31-18-5

STENOGRAPHER with four and half years' experience desires permanent position at once. Address Miss C. L., 362 Capitol Avenue. 41-21-5

WANTED—Position by young lady as stenographer; three years' experience. Care Georgian. 206-5-21

HIGHLY efficient stenographer, office assistant, has resigned position. Must have another immediately. $18.00 per week minimum. Phone Ivy 5840. 5-21-4

WILL take housekeeper's place for bachelors' apartment or hotel or home. Mrs. H. S. Christy, care General Delivery, City. 39-20-5

YOUNG LADY, two years experience, wishes position as stenographer. Phone Ivy 6705. 37-20-5

WANTED—Cases to nurse by experienced sick nurse. Maternity cases a specialty. Rates reasonable. Best references. Call Ivy 7304-J, or West 1054. 36-20-5

YOUNG lady wishes clerical position in office. Address L., 117 Simpson St., city. 30-20-5

Male and Female.

WANTED—Position by man and wife; woman to cook and man to work garden and care for chickens; best of references. Address R. B., Box 450, care Georgian. 201-5-21

PIANO BARGAINS.

PIANOS AND PIANO PLAYERS.

SOLD at the lowest prices and on the most reasonable terms at which first-class instruments can be handled. Behr Bros., Newby & Evans, Ludwig and others. Call and see me before you buy.

WALTER HUGHES,
88 N. Pryor St.
5-22-1

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

DEALER in fresh meats, groceries, country produce, fat spring chickens and yard eggs of my own raising. Both phones. 234 Capitol Ave. 5-22-35

CANOE FOR SALE—15-foot "DETROIT" canoe; cushion and racing paddles complete. Boat equipped with sponsons and was "made to order." Perfectly new. Price complete $50. Call "Canoe," Phones 484. 202-5-22

FOR SALE—Jewel gas range, with warmer. Cash $27.50. Only used three months. Will sell cheap. Range, care Georgian. 201-5-22

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, show cases, scales and National cash register, at a bargain. Main 3239. Atlanta 880. 80 Capitol Avenue. 5-22-202

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, in good condition, cheap. 410 Temple Court. 204-5-22

LIGHT spring wagon and horse, for good milk cow. 496 Chestnut Street. 203-5-22

FOR SALE—Furniture complete for 6-room house. Cheap for cash. 233 Juniper Street. Phone Ivy 4834. 207-5-22

FOR SALE—16-inch oscillating electric fan. Brand new. Direct current. $15. P. O. Box 640. 5-22-15

FOR SALE—Less than half cost, soda fount; good condition. Brewster Mercantile Co., Esom Hill, Ga. 5-22-13

SAFES—We will dispose of several second-hand safes at cost. We need room. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Co., 113-15 North Pryor Street. 5-22-12

ONE HORSE and mule, two ice wagons, All O. K. Will sell or rent. Bargain price. Also ice route, over 150 customers. Address W., Box 600, care Georgian. 5-22-8

FOR SALE—No. 5 Oliver Typewriter. Practically new. Box 148, Palmetto, Ga. 5-22-6

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $52.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

SECOND-HAND SAFES—Small, medium and large home safes, $15; Hall's bank and fireproof safes, vault doors, etc. C. J. Daniel, 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 9-7-33

FOR SALE—Brown wicker baby carriage; used 8 months; in perfect condition; cost $25; will sell for $10. Bell Phone West 1113-J. 5-21-20

MAHOGANY bed room suit for sale; a bargain; or will exchange for room and board. 115 McDaniel. Main 2489-J. 5-21-33

FOR SALE—Six direct current 16-inch desk fans; used only two months. West 502. 5-21-29

SWEET PEAS, 30c per 100; carnations, 50c a dozen. Alta Vista Floral Company. West 135. 5-21-16

WE are agents for Pittsburg wire fence. Can make interesting prices to both wholesale and retail trade. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta. 5-21-12

GAS water heater for sale cheap. Good as new. Phone Ivy 2407-J. 5-21-3

FOR SALE—Nearly new iron bed, mattress and springs. Ivy 3769-J. 5-20-28

FOR SALE—Good Underwood typewriter; best condition; late model. Call W. L. G., care J. P. Stevens Engraving Co. 204-5-20

FOR SALE—Fresh broken crackers, 5c a pound at factory, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Frank E. Block Co., Ellis St. 5-20-11

IMMEDIATE shipment of (genuine) Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potato plants at $1.25 per thousand, or $1.50 delivered. We ship nothing but good, strong, fresh plants and guarantee entire satisfaction. The Bear's Head Farms, Pine Castle, Fla. 32-19-5

NEW Perfection refrigerator, suitable for grocery, restaurant or large boarding house. 391 South Pryor. Bell phone 623, Atlanta phone 299. 5-19-6

FOR SALE—Two pool tables, practically new; been in use in club room and not hurt; must sell at once; bargain; original cost $400. Address P. O. Box 87, Jonesboro, Ga. 5-1-6

FOR SALE.

I WILL SELL a valuable patent at a sacrifice if taken immediately. Worth one-half million. Address Patent, Box 863, care Georgian. 3-8-6

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780. 3-18-33

WE RENT good pianos $3 per month up. We sell good pianos $5 per month up. R. P. BECHT COMPANY, 107-108-109 Temple Court Building. Main 667. 2-19-26

C. S. HULLS Headquarters F. R. Logan & Co., Atlanta. 4-20-22

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT SWEEP CLEAN.

LET US prove this in your home by free demonstration. Full particulars at 107 Temple Court Building. L. R. Sires, agent. Phone Main 667. 5-2-30

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR

Pays for itself in ice-saving.
$17.50 to $75.00.

C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

BANKRUPTCY blanks, $1.50 per set. Warranty deeds, bonds for title, Mortgages, contracts, Stock certificates and bonds. Bennett's, 25 South Broad. 201-20-13

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Avenue. 2-13-9

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 N. Pryor Street.

KENT SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

GOOD upright mahogany piano, nearly new; can be bought at a sacrifice if taken quick; sold for $350 less than six months ago. Mahogany Piano, care Georgian. 5-18-20

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad, if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

MEDICAL.

DR. R. P. SORRELLS, 313 Grand Building. Phone Ivy 7422. Diseases of women and children a specialty. I treat and cure diseases of women without the use of the knife. I also treat and cure cancer without using the knife. All consultations free and strictly confidential. 5-22-3

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Columbian Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-26-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

AUCTION SALES.

AT AUCTION.

SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS, INCLUDING A FINE LOT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE, FORMERLY OF A PEACHTREE HOME, INCLUDING MAHOGANY DINING SUIT, COST $250; BRASS BEDS, REFRIGERATOR, SOLID MAHOGANY PARLOR SUIT, COST $200; FIBER RUSH PORCH SET, MAHOGANY BED ROOM FURNITURE, FRENCH WILTON, BODY BRUSSELS, ART SQUARES, SILVERWARE, CHINA, ETC., FRIDAY, MAY 23, AT 12 E. MITCHELL STREET.

COMMENCING AT 10 A. M. FRIDAY WE WILL OFFER TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER A FINE CONSIGNMENT OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FROM STORAGE, FORMERLY OF A PEACHTREE HOME, CONSISTING OF MAHOGANY DINING SUIT, COST $200, WHICH INCLUDES CHINA CABINET, LARGE BUFFET, 54-INCH DINING TABLE, EIGHT GENUINE LEATHER SEAT CHAIRS, BRASS BEDS, SOLID MAHOGANY BED ROOM SUIT, COST $260; FINE PORCH FURNITURE, SOLID MAHOGANY THREE-PIECE PARLOR SUIT, UPHOLSTERED IN GENUINE LEATHER, AND COST $200; ENAMEL-LINED REFRIGERATOR, KITCHEN SAFE, OIL STOVE, MAHOGANY AND CIRCASSIAN WALNUT BED ROOM FURNITURE, MAHOGANY LIBRARY TABLE, QUARTERED OAK DINING TABLE WITH SET OF CHAIRS TO MATCH, INLAID LINOLEUM, INVALID CHAIR, VERNIS-MARTIN IRON BEDS, NATIONAL SPRINGS, FELT MATTRESSES, LACE CURTAINS, FINE LOT OF SILVERWARE, CHINA, OAK SIDEBOARD, OAK DRESSERS AND WASHSTANDS, PORCH SETTEE, KITCHEN CHAIRS, BABY CARRIAGE, HALL RUNNERS, A LOT OF ROCKERS IN MAHOGANY AND EARLY ENGLISH, FRENCH WILTON AND BODY BRUSSELS ART SQUARES, CREX RUGS, DAVENPORT, AND MANY OTHER THINGS TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION. THIS IS ONE OF THE FINEST LOTS OF FURNITURE EVER OFFERED IN THE CITY AND MUST BE SOLD AT THIS SALE, AS OWNER IS LEAVING FOR NEW YORK. IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET FOR FURNITURE IT WOULD PAY YOU TO ATTEND THIS SALE. SALE AT 10 A. M., FRIDAY, MAY 23.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY.
12 East Mitchell Street.

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Rolltop desk. Must be cheap for cash. Box 126, Cartersville, Ga. 38-22-5

WANTED—Two rolltop desks, mahogany or imitation. Write 1305, Third National Bank Bldg. 26-22-5

KODAK WANTED—3¼x5½ to swap for bicycle, fair condition. F. W. Frye, 245 W. Peachtree. Phone Ivy 2085. 25-22-5

WANTED—Second-hand ice cream table and six wire chairs. Cherokee Drug Company. Main 2808. 5-20-24

EVERYTHING to build and paint with. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-21-11

WANTED—Second-hand No. 8 gas stove in good condition. Must be a bargain. Address W. B. C., care Georgian. 5-21-200

WANTED—To rent cash register with privilege of buying. Call Main 2808. 5-20-25

WANTED—One large refrigerator holding from 200 to 500 pounds ice. Call G. N. Melnert, phones 1787.

A 30c "Want Ad" placed in this paper may be the seed that will grow a fortune for you

BUSINESS GUIDE

Ready Reference for the Business Man, the Artisan And the Public in General

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Corner Alabama and Broad street. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Bicycles.

FOR BICYCLES and supplies, See D. Alexander, 54 N. Pryor. M. 3116. Repair Work a specialty. 5-27-51

CALL Main 1320, Atlanta 1436. Bicycle repairs and sundries. Atlanta Bicycle Company, 10 Peters Street. 2-16-66

Blacksmithing.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON WORK.

WE make all kinds of metal windows and doors, also window gratings and hangers of all kinds. Anderson Bros. & Rich, 372 Edgewood Avenue. 4-2-7

Blue Prints.

DIXIE BLUE PRINT CO.

40½ LUCKIE STREET, Atlanta, Ga. Best equipment. Best prints of any size or kind. Lowest prices. Phone Ivy 5364. 4-28-12

Builders.

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-15-16

Carpenter and Builder.

ALL KINDS REPAIR WORK. D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Carpets and Rugs Cleaned.

ATLANTA STEAM CARPET CLEANING COMPANY (Inc.) 27 West Alexander street. Phone Ivy 4186. Moist and dry cleaning. Rugs woven from your old carpets and rags. Porch shades made to order. 2-5-27

Coal, Coke and Wood.

S. M. TRUITT & SONS, for dry wood and best coal. 1-31-21

Contract Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON, 397 W. Fair St., West 1288-J. for all kinds of painting and tinting.

Dentist.

BEST WORK

Crowns (22 k.) $3.00
Bridge work $3.00
Full set teeth $3.00
Filling 50c

R. R. fare allowed 25 miles. All work guaranteed 20 years.

Eastern Painless Dentists

86½ Peachtree St., Near Walton. 4-2-31

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Engineering.

"Amo Engineers Are Questionable!" YOU NEED engineering advice. Write us your troubles, problems, resources. We'll help you. Amo House, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. Fee, $1. 5-3-5

Engineering and Machine Designing.

G. V. PLANT, M. E.

I DEVELOP YOUR INVENTION. Dixie Pattern and Machine Works, 262 West North Avenue. Main 2829. 4-5-17

Fire-Proof Storage.

WE STORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS and pianos. Office and warehouse, 239-241 Edgewood avenue. Ivy 2037. John J. Woodside Storage Company.

Fly Screens.

Fly Screens Made to Order.

OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS. Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.

METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

FLY—SCREENS—FLY

COME SEE our Roll-aawy Screens, our Roller-bearing Screens, our Sliding Screens; none better. It will pay you to see our goods; get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Co. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 2-4-14

Fresh Oysters Daily.

VIRGINIA and New Orleans oysters on the half shell, 40c dozen. 77 Peachtree street.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering.

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta street. Atlanta 3567. 3-5-6

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO., Upholstering, repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds; satisfaction guaranteed. Phones, Atlanta 5950-F, M. 5111. 3-5-30

Furniture.

Rosser F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn Ave. Phones: Bell Ivy 4467, Atlanta 1800.

WE CARRY a full line of household furniture from kitchen to parlor; also a complete line of summer porch goods, such as porch sets, porch rockers, rugs, etc.; refrigerators, ice cream freezers and everything in the furniture line. We can save you 20 per cent on everything. Call and see us before buying elsewhere. Cash or terms. 5-15-8

PERFECTION OIL STOVES. Three-burner, including oven and vessels, complete, $12.50. CAMERON FURNITURE CO., 85 South Forsyth Street. 5-1-3

T. C. FURNITURE CO. Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta. Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-8-12

ARE YOU LOOKING for a good position? A little "Want Ad" will find it for you.

Groceries.

GUARANTEED fresh country eggs 16½c doz., credit grocers, 30c; lemons, 14½c doz.; 24 lbs. guaranteed flour, 64c; 48 lbs., $1.27; 96 lbs., $2.93, barrel, $4.99; No. 10 Silver Leaf lard, $1.37; No. 10 Cottolene, $1.19. Cash Grocery Co., 118 and 120 Whitehall. 5-21-9

Hat Cleaning.

STRAW HATS, 25c; Soft Hats cleaned and blocked, 35c. George's Hat Cleaning and Shoe Shine Parlor, 3½ E. Alabama street. 4-10-11

Hatters.

ACME HATTERS make old hats look like new. Mail orders given prompt attention. 20 East Hunter street. 12-3-44

Instrument Makers.

E. A. BOSTROM MFG. CO., Instrument Makers. NOW LOCATED AT 278½ EDGEWOOD AVENUE. All kinds of high-grade light machine work done. Special attention given to repairing of engineers' instruments. LEVELS and TRANSITS. 3-11-40

Jewelry.

FRENCH and Electric Clocks repaired. We call for and deliver them. Phone us if you want to know the correct time.

Harris-Bell Co.

5 SOUTH BROAD STREET.

Lighting Fixtures.

ELECTRIC and gas fixtures; all new styles; lowest prices. Queen Mantel and Tile Company, 56 West Mitchell street. Phone Main 681. 1-16-16

Lime, Concrete, Roofing, Stone.

LADD LIME AND STONE COMPANY. Lime, concrete and roofing stone. 915 3d Nat. Bank Bldg. 2-8-50

Mattress Renovating.

SANITARY MATTRESS RENOVATING—Factory new and up-to-date; moderate prices; give us a trial. Jackson & Orr Company, Means street and W. & A. R. R. Both phones. 3-20-14

Mining Engineers.

Zed W. & W. F. Summerour.

MINING ENGINEERS AND PROSPECTORS. TWENTY YEARS' FIELD EXPERIENCE. LOCATING GOLD ORES A SPECIALTY. CHARGES REASONABLE. A1 REFERENCES. ADDRESS AURARIA OR ROY, GEORGIA. 5-8-4

Painting and Tinting.

EMERY CONSTRUCTION COMPANY. "Let us build you a house." "Or paint your old house." 318 Fourth National Bank. Main 1455. 4-29-26

PAINT! PAINT!

THE TRIPOD PAINT COMPANY, 37-9 Pryor Street.

BEST goods, prompt service. Phone us your orders. Phones Bell Main 4711, Main 4710, Atlanta 406. 7-1-12

Printing.

THE FRANKLIN PRESS for the cheapest and best printing. 41½ Peachtree St. Phone M 4608-J. 31-20-5

RYBERT & HOLLINGSWORTH FOR ANY KIND of printing. We satisfy our customers. 10 Gilmer Street. Bell Main 4600. 5-17-3

Roof and Gutter Work.

I REPAIR all roofs, gutters, all kinds sheet iron work. 33 South Pryor. Main 3127. T. W. Hooper. 3-4-68

Safe Cracksman.

Fire and burglar proof safes opened and repaired. C. C. Downes, 29½ Marietta Street. Phones M. 2146. Atlanta 4922. 4-5-11

Sand.

SAND.

SAND in any quantity and quality; prompt delivery. S. M. Truitt & Son. 1-13-23

Sewing Machines.

WE RENT new machines with complete set of attachments for $2 per month; also machines repaired; prompt delivery. Both phones 1893. Singer Sewing Machine Company, 79 Whitehall. 9-14-44

Shoes.

GET the best shoes for the whole family. Peacock & Drennen, 222 Marietta Street. 4-16-28

Shoe Repairing.

SHOES HALF-SOLED, SEWED, 50 CENTS. At Gwinn's Shoe Shop, 6 Luckie Street, Opposite Piedmont Hotel. Both phones. 3-26-45

Stove and Range Repairing.

STOVE DOCTOR.

STOVE, range and furnace repairing. 61 South Pryor Street. Bell Phone Main 1460. Atlanta phone 1410. 4-10-10

DAN, THE FIXER.

STOVES AND REFRIGERATOR REPAIRING. We sell second-hand gas stoves. We sweep chimneys. 121 WHITEHALL STREET. Atlanta phone 2235. Bell phone M. 2699.

Transferring and Moving.

TRANSFERRING and moving a specialty. Prices reasonable. L. Stallings. Bell Phone Ivy 3094-J. 42-26-4

Trunks, Bags and Suitcases.

RETAILED AND REPAIRED. ROUNTREE'S, 77 WHITEHALL ST. PHONES: Bell M. 1976. Atlanta 1654.

Umbrellas.

"Taylor-Made" Umbrellas.

BUY from makers; all prices and styles; re-covering and repairing; every umbrella kept in repair free. Phone for salesman; prompt service. TAYLOR UMBRELLA CO., 116½ Whitehall St. 4-23-35

Violin Maker.

OLD VIOLINS BOUGHT, sold and exchanged; repairing a specialty. The Old Reliable Violin Dealer. Mays Badgett, 34½ Peachtree. 3-31-34

Wood.

WOOD.

SOUTH GEORGIA mill cut-offs by the carload or any quantity you may want. They make fine kindling. S. M. Truitt & Son. 1-13-23

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Little Things Count In Poultry Raising

Items Worth Considering by the Breeder—Good Advice by Expert.

EDITED BY JUDGE F. J. MARSHALL

Don't be in a hurry to feed the youngsters as they are taken from the nest. It is this rush in feeding that causes a great deal of indigestion and mortality in little chickens. Let them work on some good sharp coarse sand for twenty-four hours. In this way you will have removed the tendency to gas in the crop, a common ailment where feed is given too soon. You will get a sour crop, bloating, indigestion, resulting in diarrhea, and death is the result. When you do feed let it be fed dry.

Do not tamper with the regulator after you have had the machine open and the eggs cooled down. You can tell nothing about it then. If the regulator needs any adjustment, attend to it at a time when it has been running for hours without opening.

When you get so you can care for and make profitable 25 hens, then you are ready to increase the number if you desire, but until you can do that much better not go any farther.

If some of the hens have been roupy during the past winter and recovered, better be cautious about breeding from them. That is where so much of the trouble comes from, as fowls which have had a severe case of roup are almost sure to produce chicks which are inclined to be roupy the following fall and winter. Breed only from those strictly sound and healthy.

Laying hens are often confined to a fattening diet for months at a time through the laying season without any thought about the results. They will lay and perhaps lay well for a time, but will eventually get out of condition with indigestion and liver trouble. They need a variety with lots of green stuff for filler.

Diarrhea in chicks is often caused by sour feed, impure water, damp quarters, filthy coops, exposure to cold and wet, lack of sharp grit and several all-round cross-grained, wrong methods of treatment. Look out for these conditions and right them if they exist at your place.

Questions and Answers.

Judge F. J. Marshall: I would like to know where and by whom the National Egg Laying Contest is carried on? I have seen quite a little about it, but I am ignorant as to what it represents. Any information along this line will be appreciated.

M. R. S., Madison, Ga.

ANSWER: The National Egg Laying Contest, so called, is being carried on by the State of Missouri at Mountain Grove, by Mr. T. E. Quisenberry, a poultryman of nation-wide notoriety, one who has had experience not only in utility fowls, but who knows a thoroughbred from head to tail, and what it should be. The first annual contest closed the first of November last and the second year's contest was started November 15, so that the first half of the year is almost up. This great old State of Missouri, so commonly slurred in various ways, produces more poultry and poultry products than any other State in the Union. The income last year from these poultry products amounted to more than $45,000,000, as given out by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. A few years ago the poultry breeders of the State were delighted with the appropriation of $22,000 by the Legislature for the promotion of more and better poultry. That was mighty good, but this year's solons have just raised to $66,000. What do you think of that? They are certainly satisfied with the way the money has been used and want to get more of the same kind of results. It looks to us that if some of the other States which have a tendency to poke fun at Missouri would even follow along behind in her steps they would be mighty well.

Rhode Island Reds.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs, 75c per setting, for short time. Call Main 4635-J. 5-22-39

Ducks.

SELLING OUT at a great sacrifice, Fawn and White Runners, at 85c each; White Runners at $1.10 each. They are of excellent type and courage and are now laying. Mrs. C. C. Ramsay, Lutherysville, Ga. 36-22-5

ENTIRE lot of prize-winning Fawn and White and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale at $1.50 each. Will sell any number at this price. First come, first served. The ducks won first and second prizes at all the leading poultry shows in the South last fall. Will give ribbons with the birds. Oak Dean Poultry Farm, Stone Mountain, Ga. 5-20-2

Eggs—All Varieties.

THE EGGS of different varieties of fowls will be found classified under their respective breeds in the future, instead of under the classification of "Eggs."

Plymouth Rocks.

BARRED ROCK eggs, pure and fresh from the Georgia Poultry Farm, $1 per setting. On sale at 12 South Broad St. 32-18-5

EGGS from prize-winning E. B. Thompson Ringlet Barred Rocks, either mating, $3 for fifteen, $5 for thirty. A. M. Kendall, Dallas, Ga. 3-8-11

Poultry—All Varieties.

FREE RANGE DUCK AND POULTRY FARM, Chamblee, Ga. Large stock of White Runners, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds, enables us to ship fresh eggs, strong and fertile. Write for prices on stock and eggs if you want a bargain. 1-21-18

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Sound, young, gentle horse; weight about 1,100 pounds; must be cheap for cash. Ivy 3128-J. 5-21-21

Dogs.

FOR SALE—Pit bull terrier; subject to registration. Call Ivy 5912. 5-22-17

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

BERMUDA grass seeds now ready at the oldest seed house South. Also many seeds to plant now. Mark W. Johnson Seed Co., 35 South Pryor Street. 34-21-5

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.

SEEDSMEN FOR THE SOUTH, 16 WEST MITCHELL STREET. FOUR CITY DELIVERIES DAILY: NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES, 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END, 2 P. M.

BELL PHONE MAIN 2568, ATLANTA 2568.

NOW IS THE TIME to begin using lice powder, liquid lice killers and disinfectants. We carry Lee's, Conkey's and Pratt's Lice Powders and Liquid Lice Killers. Start using either of them now and you will not be bothered with lice and mites in your poultry houses and on your fowls this summer.

SAGO PALM BULBS started now will make large palms this season. We have all size bulbs. Price 15c a pound, two pounds 25c.

DON'T FORGET that we are headquarters for poultry feeds, poultry remedies, drinking founts, food hoppers, etc.

BUGS CAN'T STAY on plants when "Bug Death" is used. It is a dry powder put up in convenient size packages and is non-poisonous. It can be put on the plants in the morning when the dew is on or can be put on after the plants have been sprinkled. Price, pound package 15c, 3 pounds 35c, 5 pounds 50c, 12½ pounds $1.00.

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

AUTOMOBILES

For Sale, Repairs and Accessories.

FOR SALE—Wood's electric coupe, with forty-cell, iron-clad exide battery. Entire car in fine condition. Price $700.

35-horsepower, 5-passenger Firestone-Columbus touring car in good condition and a good looker, $475. Firestone-Columbus Southern Co., 45-47 Auburn Avenue. Phone Ivy 4177. 5-22-7

WILL trade nice corner lot for good auto. Must be first-class; value of lot $900.00. Phone Main 4836-J. 200-5-21

WE have several Flanders chassis and will build body and paint car to your order. Bargain prices. Don't buy any second-hand car until you see us. NORTH PRYOR GARAGE, NORTH PRYOR PLACE. 4-2-28

WINDSHIELDS.

RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Mfrs. all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Co., 248 Edgewood. 3-4-64

GOOD USED CARS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Maxwell, 2-cylinder runabout, fine condition throughout, $185.

"Courier Roadster," fully equipped, electric lights, $275.

Buick model 10 roadster, electric lights, $325.

Buick, model 33, 4-passenger, fully equipped, fine condition, $350.

Maxwell Roadster, Sportsman type, model Q, fully equipped, electric lights, $375.

Maxwell touring, model G, 4-passenger, fully equipped, $450.

Primo touring car, new top and seat covers, $450.

These cars are in good running condition and worth more than the prices quoted above.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY. 241 PEACHTREE ST. 4-11-18

Castiron Welding

AUTOGENOUS METHOD. AUTO AND ALL MACHINE PARTS. METAL WELDING COMPANY. MAIN 3013. 86 GARNETT STREET. 2-26-6

DOBBS TIRE REPAIR CO.

WE REPAIR AND SELL ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES. 226 PEACHTREE STREET. PHONE IVY 5646. 4-1-8

TRAVIS & JONES, AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING. Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WARNING TO INFRINGERS AND IMITATORS.

LIQUID TIRE TONIC IS PROTECTED BY U. S. DUYREA PATENT, NO. 578551, AND ALL INFRINGERS, AGENTS OR USERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT THEY MUST ANSWER IN THE COURT FOR VIOLATION OF THIS LAW. LIQUID TIRE TONIC COMPANY, KANSAS CITY, MO. 4-8-48

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.

REPAIRING and manufacturing. Lamp and fender work. 72 Ivy Street. Atlanta phone 3816. 3-10-12

Garages For Rent.

FOR RENT—Garage. Phone Ivy 1499-J. 514 Peachtree Street.

Automobiles For Rent

DUNHAM MOTOR CO.

FIVE and seven-passenger cars. Garage, 112 East Ellis Street. Call Bell phone Ivy 2496 day, Main 4325 night. 3-21-22

Motorcycles.

THOR MOTORCYCLES, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Co., 116 Edgewood Ave.

MOTORCYCLES  EASY TERMS  BICYCLES

EXCELSIOR motorcycles, high-grade bicycles; complete line new and used bicycles and motorcycles; complete stock parts and accessories; modern service depot. Lowest prices; easy terms. ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO., 145-147-149 Edgewood Avenue. Phone Ivy 1609. PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION. 4-1-22

Tire Repairing

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

The Georgian's Rent Bulletin

ROOM AND BOARD.

BEAUTIFUL furnished front room, with dressing room, in private adult family; close in; also room for gentlemen; excellent meals; prices reasonable. 56 East Cain. Ivy 5520-L. 5-22-32

NICE room and best of board; electricity; all conveniences; walking distance. Ivy 2856-L. 5-22-31

19 W. CAIN.

LARGE, clean furnished rooms; excellent board if desired; refined ladies or gentlemen. Ivy 6642. 5-22-33

LARGE room, nicely furnished, hot water; good table board. Also garage easy to get in and out. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 5-22-30

BOARD for three young men, close in; front rooms. 254 Rawson Street. M. 2793-J. 5-22-29

EXCELLENT table, large front room, with dressing room. 322 West Peachtree. Ivy 894-L. 5-22-16

RARE opportunity for refined couple or gentlemen to secure two furnished rooms, with or without board, in delightful North Side home; highest, coolest spot in city; no other boarders. Ivy 7311. 5-22-20

TWO young men can secure room and board in very desirable home in West End. All conveniences. Shower baths, private tennis court, etc. 88 Park St. 5-21-39

THE ROY, 22 E. Ellis, under new management. Now prepared to render patrons best service. Ivy 7398-J. 5-21-35

TWO large front rooms with excellent table board. Mrs. J. M. Colman, 279 Peachtree St. 5-21-206

DELIGHTFUL rooms with board, with or without private bath. Table board a specialty. 514 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 1499-J. Mrs. F. B. Gregory. 37-21-5

DO YOU want first-class board in private North Side home? Call Ivy 719-J. 5-20-18

WANTED—A few boarders; also table boarders. 327 Whitehall. Main 3286. 5-20-16

LARGE, cool room and board in suburban home; good servants; large porches, shade trees, big vegetable garden, fruit, cows and chickens. Phone Decatur 389. 5-19-200

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-16-27

NICE large front room with four large windows, big closet, best board; also garage for rent, easy to get in and out, room for four or five cars. Main 4839-L. 5-16-31

WANTED—Seven boarders; $4.50 per week; home cooking; nice, clean rooms; hot and cold water; two baths; Bell phone ordered in; free use of piano. 191 South Pryor St. 5-14-11

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree; select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-10-35

ROOM AND BOARD for four young men May 15. Private home. 163 Courtland. Ivy 7057-J. 5-10-25

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK. ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 5-5-30

PEACHTREE INN.

Peachtree and Alexander Sts. American plan $7.50 week up. Room to yourself. European, $3 week up. 1-9-84

36 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 4-28-16

NEATLY furnished rooms; homelike cooking, also table board. 127 Capitol Avenue. Main 5172-J. 4-25-7

ROOMS AND BOARD. Wanted.

WANTED—For couple, one large room with closet. References exchanged. Call Main 2061, Mr. Sheats. 5-22-200

ROOMS FOR RENT. Furnished.

ONE furnished and one unfurnished room cheap; all conveniences; close in. 232 Courtland. 5-22-24

NICELY furnished rooms, with kitchenette, with bath, light and telephone. Call Main 3583-J. 5-22-18

FOR RENT—1, 2 or 3 rooms, furnished or partly furnished for light housekeeping. References exchanged. 179 E. Pine Street. 5-22-203

LISTEN! WE HAVE TWO BEAUTIFUL ROOMS FOR RENT, ALL CONVENIENCES, TWO BLOCKS OF CANDLER BUILDING. REASONABLE. 184 COURTLAND STREET. ATLANTA PHONE 3761. 5-20-201

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms in modern apartment building, newly papered and painted; steam heat; all modern conveniences; within four blocks of the Candler building. Call 506 Empire Life Building or phone Main 1897. 2-1-14

ONE large beautiful front room on second floor. Ideal surroundings. Every convenience. North Side. Telephone Ivy 1744-L. 5-21-5

ONE nicely furnished front room; all conveniences. 179 Capitol Avenue. Main 3758-J. 5-21-24

FOR RENT—Three nice new upstairs rooms; bath, gas and water. $10.60. 55 S. McDaniel St. 5-21-28

WANTED—Young man for roommate to share nicely furnished room. Main 4380-L. 5-21-30

NICELY furnished room, suitable for gentlemen or young ladies; $2 week. 47 E. Mitchell Street, upstairs. 45-12-5

ONE clean, well furnished room; hot and cold bath attached; gentlemen only. Ivy 1197. 5-21-18

TWO bright connecting housekeeping rooms, completely furnished, North Side private home. Ivy 2098-J. 5-21-19

TWO nicely furnished rooms, hot and cold baths, with or without board. Ivy 2126-J. 5-21-34

ONE beautifully furnished, bright front room, reasonable; private home; walking distance. Ivy 5461. 5-21-32

TWO beautiful connecting, furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping; also rooms for young men; all conveniences. 422 Whitehall St. Main 3462-J. 5-21-36

FURNISHED room in private family; gentlemen preferred. Ivy 2421-L. 15 Bedford Place. 5-21-42

NICELY furnished rooms with board, early breakfast; conveniences. 72 Spring Street. 34-21-5

TWO nice furnished rooms for rent to gentlemen or couple. 377 Whitehall Street. 29-21-5

TWO large, nicely furnished rooms, private family. Suburban home. Suburban Home, Box 907, care Georgian. 27-21-5

NICE, large and delightfully cool furnished rooms in refined Decatur home. Call Decatur 264. 5-20-15

TO GENTLEMEN, rooms with or without private bath; all conveniences. West Peachtree. Ivy 3281. 5-20-12

TWO beautiful rooms, strictly private family, Inman Park; new home, every convenience, with or without breakfast and 6 o'clock dinner. Ivy 7244-J. 5-20-9

NICELY furnished cool room; close in; private home; adjoins bath; reasonable) 3428-J. 5-19-4

HANDSOMELY furnished large front room, private bath; shady lot; gentleman preferred. "Peachtree," care American. 113-8-5

FURNISHED rooms; private home; all conveniences; hot and cold baths. 19 E. Harris. Ivy 6349-J. 5-8-11

TWO newly renovated bedrooms, 256-B Courtland Street. Phone Ivy 5356. 5-18-25

TWO front rooms, one with bath and dressing room attached, for two couples; private home; North Side; references exchanged. Ivy 6634. 5-20-30

ROOMS FOR RENT. Furnished.

42 AUBURN AVE., large, light rooms; block from Five Points; housekeeping if desired. 5-22-37

ONE furnished room suitable for one or two gentlemen; all conveniences. 79 West Baker. 5-16-28

FOR RENT—To couple, by adults, mother and son, in private home, entire lower floor, consisting of reception hall and three large connecting rooms and butler's pantry; freshly tinted and completely furnished for housekeeping; large shady front porch; electric lights, separate gas, sink in kitchen, use of phone; excellent neighborhood; North Side; reasonable. Ivy 2458-L. 5-20-31

FURNISHED rooms for rent, 62 Houston Street, two blocks from Candler Building. 203-5-20

LARGE room, four windows, nice porch, electricity, bath, phone. 62 Williams, corner Baker. Ivy 6760-J. 5-16-51

TWO ROOMS, well arranged for housekeeping; stove, running water and all conveniences. Ivy 993-J. 5-16-43

Unfurnished.

THREE upstairs rooms for light housekeeping; use of phone. 154 Richardson. 5-22-36

THREE large unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 111 East Ellis. Ivy 7433-J. 5-21-204

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End, consisting of three rooms; also trunk room, linen closets, private bath, hall. Every convenience. Phone West 128-J. 5-21-31

UNFURNISHED rooms with conveniences for housekeeping. 34 East Alexander Street, between Peachtrees. 46-21-5

THREE nice large rooms, close in; reasonable. 108 East Ellis Street. Ivy 2576-J. 5-20-20

THREE large connecting rooms, $9.00. 32 Castleberry Street, one block from Forsyth Street. Call after 5:30 p. m. 5-20-13

THREE connecting rooms, all modern conveniences; $12.50 month. 100 Elbert Street, near Stewart Avenue. 35-20-5

TWO large, bright, lower-floor rooms, kitchenette, with owner. 99 Richardson Street. Main 2497-J. 5-17-37

Furnished or Unfurnished.

ONE furnished or unfurnished front room; private family. 7 Kent Street. 5-21-23

ONE upstairs furnished or unfurnished room. 377 Whitehall St. 5-21-27

THREE beautiful corner rooms; separate entrance; private bath, veranda; sink in kitchen. Ivy 99. 5-20-10

ONE nice room furnished or unfurnished, conveniently located, half block from car line, all conveniences; cool and shady. Call Decatur 507. 5-20-14

APARTMENTS FOR RENT. Furnished.

DANDY little apartment; close in; four rooms and bath; two porches; everything furnished; possession June 1. Phone Ivy 838. 5-22-22

FIVE-ROOM apartment in the Colonial. 84 East North Avenue. Ivy 847-L. 5-18-64

BEAUTIFUL, sunny, five-room apartment, close in, steam heat, hot water, gas stove, tile bath, tile porch, sleeping porch. See Owner, 715 Peters Bldg., or phone Main 1225. 5-15-26

Unfurnished.

FOR RENT—Upstairs apartment of five rooms with bath, in best residential district in city. Electric lights furnished, also heat in winter, $35 per month. Call Ivy 5398-L. 5-21-200

47 EAST CAIN STREET—Five rooms; freshly painted; clean and in nice repair. $25 per month. Apply owner, 503 Atlanta National Bank Building. 5-14-204

Furnished or Unfurnished.

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432. 5-18-54

MONEY TO LOAN.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad street. 4-1-17

PLENTY money to loan on city property. Watt Kelly, Attorney, 400 Temple Court Building. 42-2-5

R. C. DESAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Building. 4-29-25

WE loan money on furniture and household goods. F. & J. Loan Company, 120 Decatur Street. 4-25-4

MONEY ON HAND for immediate loans on property in or near Atlanta. J. E. VanValkenburg, 501 Equitable Bldg.

MORTGAGE LOANS

On Atlanta Property. BUSINESS BUILDINGS, 5 and 5½ per cent.

RESIDENCE BUILDINGS, 6½, 6 and 6½ per cent.

Your rate depends upon the location. Without notice you can pay back a hundred, any multiple of a hundred dollars, on the entire loan on any interest date.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN.

Loan Correspondents, PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA. 203-4 Empire Building.

WEYMAN & CONNORS. ESTABLISHED 1400. Mortgages on Real Estate. 4-1-8

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plant. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood avenue.

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould building. 7-13-1

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 320 Austell building.

MONEY WANTED.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6% ON SAVINGS.

IN SUMS of $500 to $5,000. The Merchants and Mechanics' Banking and Loan Co., 209 Grant Building. Tel. Ivy 5341. Cash Capital $120,000. Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier. B. M. Grant, Pres. 3-11-50

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

HOUSES FOR RENT. Furnished.

WANTED—To rent for summer months, a furnished cottage with conveniences; suburb preferred. Address H. E. T., Box 50, care Georgian. 209-5-22

COMPLETELY furnished seven-room house for summer; references required. 98 E. Georgia Ave. Main 4170-L. 5-22-23

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 26-20-5

COOL, comfortable Peachtree home, furnished; five large bed rooms, upstairs living room, reception hall, drawing room and den, dining room and kitchen, two baths, servant's room and garage. Call Ivy 617. 5-17-12

Unfurnished.

FOR RENT—Modern, North Side cottage, six rooms and bath, $20. Phone Ivy 6432. 5-16-22

OUR RENT list describes everything for rent. Call, write or phone for one. Ivy 3390 Charles P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton street. 2-13-49

FOR RENT.

$15.00—No. 20 Woodson St., five-room cottage, all conveniences, nice neighborhood, close to school and church. Within two blocks of Grant Park.

$25.00—No. 320 Waldo St. we have a 6-room cottage with hall and carrying all modern conveniences; nice neighborhood.

$15.60—No. 115 Luckie St. we have 5-room cottage with all modern conveniences, nice neighborhood, car line in front.

GEO. P. MOORE, Real Estate and Renting. 10 Auburn Avenue.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

LOVELY new, modern, steam-heated house; ten rooms and three baths, tile porches, tile baths and tile roof. Ivy 2432. 5-18-53

OFFICE SPACE FOR RENT.

DESK SPACE with use of telephone. Apply 533 Candler Bldg. 4-25-9

STORES. For Rent.

STORE for rent, 126 Capitol Avenue. Owner, 322 Atlanta National Bank Building. Phone Main 4555. 38-20-5

NICE STORE for rent corner St. Charles and Highland, for any kind of business. 782 Highland Avenue. Call Mr. Scott, Ivy 4500. 5-15-22

ROOMS WANTED Furnished.

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping by June 1 in North end. No objection to distance. Address J. L., care of Georgian. 207-5-17

Unfurnished.

WANTED—Two or three nice unfurnished rooms with kitchenette and private bath for light housekeeping; in boarding house preferred; must be North Side. Phone Ivy 5961-J. 5-20-19

WANTED—At once, two or three cheerful first-floor rooms and porch, close in, reasonable. References. Address Private, 885 care Georgian. 29-20-5

HOUSES WANTED. Unfurnished.

I WISH to rent by June 8 an unfurnished five or six-room house, with electric lights. Prefer North Side or Inman Park. Good locality and reasonable rental. Ivy 3980-L. 213-5-18

WOULD you give 25 cents for a good job? Place a "Want Ad" in The Georgian and get one.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TWO 25-acre home sites on Peachtree Road. Address P. D., Box 604, care Georgian. 35-22-5

OWNER leaving city will sell new 7-room St. Charles Avenue bungalow. Three bed rooms, breakfast room, beautiful hardware and fixtures, furnace, hardwood floors, etc. Lot 50x150 feet. Elevated, shady, side drive, flowers and terms. A bargain at $6,750. Terms, $2,000 loan, 6 per cent, $1,850 cash; balance $35 monthly. Jack, P. O. Box 1710, City. 5-22-9

BARGAIN—14 per cent investment; 13 houses; rent for $87 month. $8,000 on terms. Improvements are in excellent condition. Inman Park section. We have this price only for a short time. M. L. Thrower, 39 N. Forsyth Street. 37-22-5

AUCTION SALE—40 lots on Ashby St., May 31, at 3 p. m. J. T. Elliott, owner. Plats at my office. John H. James, Auctioneer. 5-22-2

TWO three-room houses, near Tech (white locality); city conveniences. Value, care Georgian. 210-5-20

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care American. 112-18-5

I HAVE two farms, 125 acres, and one 75 acres. Will exchange one or both for vacant lot. Call Milton. Main 2053. 5-3-24

FOR SALE cheap by owner, 739 Spring Street, near Twelfth Street, two-story nine-room house; price $5,500; $750 cash required; balance easy terms, if desired. Address G. A. Dunlop, 301 Mutual Building, Richmond, Va. 5-3-9

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-18-43

I HAVE seven acres, three-room house, half block car line, all cultivated, fine for trucking; will exchange for small renting property. Call Milton, Main 2053. 5-3-24

FOR SALE—Beautiful lot, 60 by 232 feet; $1,600; right on Peachtree. Easy terms. See me quick. Address Peachtree, Box 800, care Georgian. 5-2-4

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

FARMS FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—For 30 days, bargain, five farms, one 10½, 20, 30, 50 and 90-acre; all one and a half miles of Austell, Ga. Terms. Address P. O. Box 177, Austell, Ga. 202-5-16

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

AN up-to-date five or six-room home, in good section, within mile circle; price must be right with fair terms. Homeseeker, care Georgian. 5-22-34

AM IN MARKET for modern new 6-room bungalow, near car line and good lot, Inman Park or North Side.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen men controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow humbly before every corporation legal jackal attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

He has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which involved many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was to be in a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock owned by one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, was to be sold ahead of all other stock.

Untermyer was a leader in the fight for the policyholders of big insurance companies against dishonest management. In this fight, which improved conditions for all policyholders throughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of to-day who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truths concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than [illegible] commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Untermyer, in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

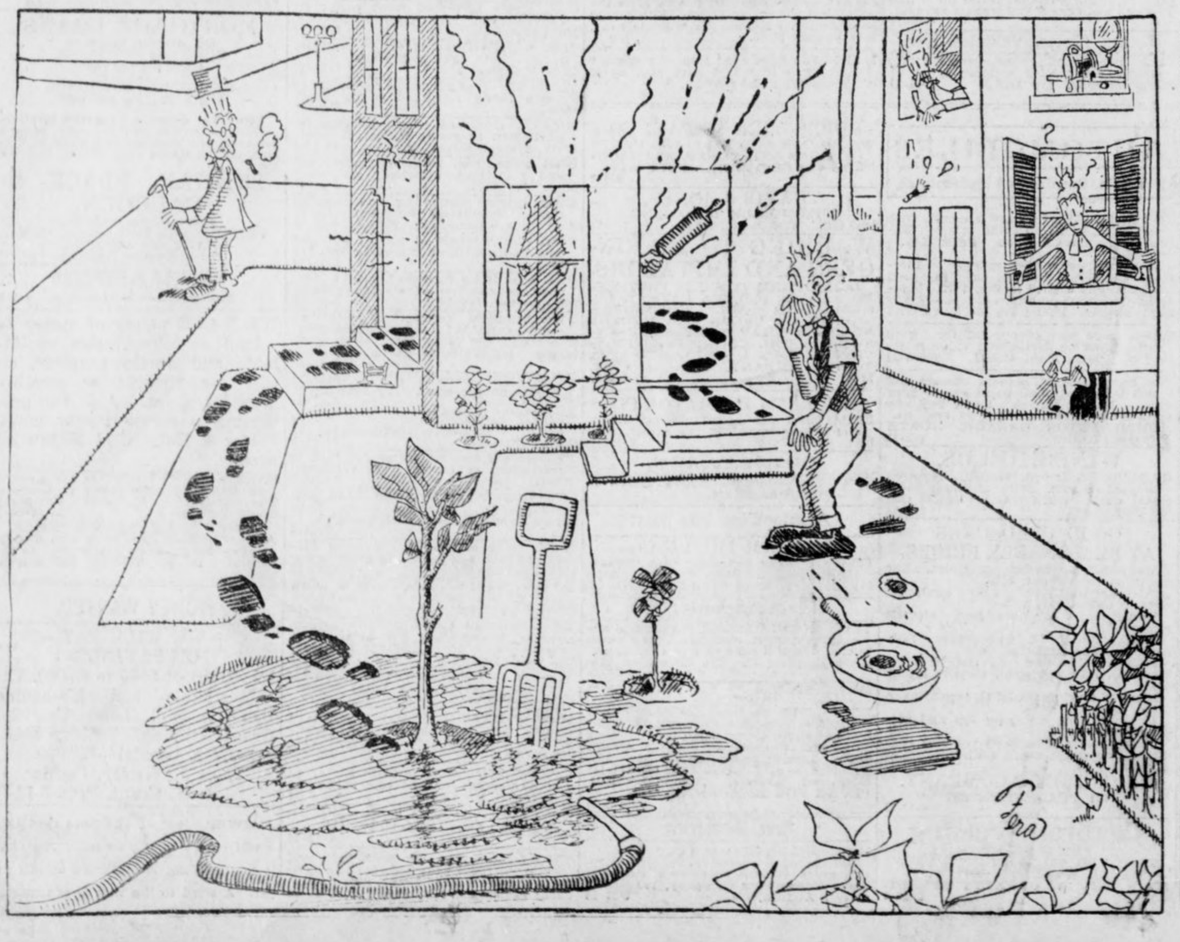
Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done. What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat."

You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, alive and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind.

The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK.—TAD.

On the Trail of Mr. Suburbs

By FERA.



Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on

Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

"I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as a lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power; whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much dwelt on and how do they act? Please tell me, are these emanations a disintegrating of the countless particles composing a particle of radium? If so, how are they especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, is it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to escape—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to escape or to emanate for years and years and years with no sensible diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it powerful for anything in particular? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration? J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inquirer supposes a particle of radium to be.

Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to send off continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear.

Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, but it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present imperceptible to us, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substances called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkable for their great atomic weight; in fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold or platinum.

Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "Alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. Those called "Beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "Gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light.

All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The Alpha rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The Beta rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the GAMMA RAYS ARE SO PIERCING THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SENT THROUGH A FOOT OF SOLID IRON!

In consequence of the distintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but so minute are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,500 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. Yet the energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point! If we could get unlimited supplies of radium, instead of having to be content with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories put together, we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields.

Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up, in some unknown way, in the atoms, and is held in suspense there until the automatic disintegration of the atoms sets it free to act in other ways. It then sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is pitifully weak compared with the explosive force contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be locked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the imprisoned energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which infinitesimal particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom as the planets are in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interferes with the regular motions of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world now in existence may dissolve, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting the property of radio-activity to any other substance that happens to be near a bit of radium, as, for instance, the hands and clothes of the experimenters. But this imparted radio-activity does not last long. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, of its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a hint that the dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unguessed. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTRICACIES OF A CROWD, ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEIVABLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Emanation Unperceivable.

Dr. LeBon has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the existence of emanations. Thus the cat sees us in the darkest nights by virtue of some halo produced around our bodies by vital action, and photographs made in the dark are similarly explained. What was once known as "odic force," producing an alleged luminous nimbus around a human being, would, by this hypothesis, be accounted for as the result of an emanation. When this subject was under investigation many years ago it was remarked that relatively few persons exhibit the phenomenon in visible form. They are like gold, which shows no perceptible radio-activity, although the property may exist in it, while those who exhibit the nimbus resemble radium, which pours out an abundance both of rays and of radio-active emanation.

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order It NOW
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 249. ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. 2 CENTS EVERYWHERE PAY NO MORE

EXTRA

JAPS RESENT U.S. REPLY; TO PRESS CLAIMS

Ambassador Chinda Instructed to Insist That Treaty Is Violated.

REFERENDUM PROPOSED DISPLEASES ORIENTALS

This Government, It Is Revealed, Refuses to Test Alien Law in Supreme Court.

TOKIO, May 22.—Emperor Yoshihito of Japan was taken seriously ill to-day with inflammation of the lungs. He has a high fever, and eight court physicians are constantly in attendance. The Emperor has never had a rugged constitution. He ascended to the throne July 30 last, and is 34 years old.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

TOKIO, May 22.—The reply of the United States Government to the representations of Japan relative to the anti-alien land law in California is considered unfavorable. This was learned to-day at the Foreign Office.

Part of the reply to-day became known. It denies any intended infringement of Japanese treaty rights.

The United States Government refused to initiate any action in the Supreme Court to test the validity of the action of the California Legislature and Governor Johnson, who signed the law.

The Japanese government has sent instructions to Ambassador Chinda to press more vigorously the claims of the Japanese.

In its communication to the Japanese Ambassador the Foreign Office urges the necessity of impressing upon Secretary of State Bryan Japan's interpretation of the existing treaty between this country and the United States.

Another feature of the reply which is distasteful to Japan is the proposal to submit the anti-alien land law to a referendum vote in California.

Chinda Gives Notice He Will Renew Protest.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, to-day served notice on the State Department that next week he will resume the official discussion of the controversy arising from the California land law.

It was learned that Ambassador Chinda will take up the American reply at length when he calls upon Secretary Bryan. It is understood here that the Japanese official has received instructions from his Government to lay particular stress upon the Japanese contention that the present situation is an infringement on treaty obligations.

Government dispatches from Tokio to-day pointed out that the Japanese Foreign Office considers the American reply to the Japanese protests as unfavorable, inasmuch as it denied the right of the Orientals to hold land in the United States, despite the existing treaty.

Officials here say that this opinion arises from the fact that the Japanese do not understand the form of government of this country and that the States rights doctrine is incomprehensible to the Orient.

It is admitted here that the American reply was quite frank, as was the protest of Japan, but administration officials say there was no clause in the entire note at which the Japanese should take offense.

Wilson Orders To Omit "War Talk."

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Acting under orders of President Wilson, Representative Sisson of Mississippi to-day went over the rough draft of his speech on the Japanese situation, to be delivered in the House to-morrow, carefully expurgating all the "war talk."

The President warned Sisson that the speech must contain nothing of an incendiary nature, and Sisson is editing out all remarks which are not strictly musty and conventional, relating to the treaty-making powers of the Federal Government as fixed by products of the last 100 years.

Several Republican members have threatened to question him about his position on the question of an adequate navy, and it is possible that they fiery Southern orator may depart altogether from his set speech and plunge into a discussion of war passages.

MODERATORS THANK THE GEORGIAN FOR FAIR AND CORRECT REPORTS

The Atlanta Georgian is deserving of an expression of thanks from the Presbyterian Church for the capable and sympathetic reports it has printed of the Assembly's proceedings. In behalf of the Presbyterian Assembly, I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the fairness and correctness of these reports.

JOHN TIMOTHY STONE,
Moderator Northern Presbyterian Church.
J. S. LYON,
Moderator Southern Presbyterian Church.
R. M. RUSSELL,
Moderator United Presbyterian Church.

Bandits and Police In Pistol Battle in New York Streets

NEW YORK, May 22.—A running fight in the streets of New York today accompanied a hold-up when four armed Italian bandits attacked James T. Wintress, a bank messenger, who was carrying $10,000 in a carriage from his bank to the Nathan Manufacturing Company. Before Wintress could produce a weapon he had been twice wounded.

Sergeant Sheehan and Patrolman Finnegan, the first officers on the scene, opened fire on the robbers, wounding two of them. The other two fled, firing at the policemen with rifles.

Wintress was taken to the Harlem Hospital, where it was found his condition was critical.

Dynamiter Bares Plot of Mill Men

BOSTON, May 22.—John J. Breen, the undertaker who has confessed that he distributed dynamite at Lawrence during the textile strike of 1912, again took the stand when the trial of President William Wood, of the American Woolen Company, Fred E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, charged with conspiracy to "plant" the explosive, was resumed to-day.

Breen had charged that Atteaux paid him $700 for his part in the dynamite "plant" and that he was offered $7,000 by Attorney Coakley to settle suits brought against him by persons in whose houses the dynamite was planted.

Iowa Man Dying As Walker Did

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, May 22.—Small hope was entertained to-day for the recovery of Robert Palmer, a cattle salesman and member of a prominent Iowa family, who swallowed three bichloride of mercury tablets.

He has been reading newspaper accounts of the slow death of B. S. Walker, the Macon, Ga., banker, by the accidental swallowing of the same poison.

LABOR TROUBLES FORCE AUTO FACTORY TO MOVE

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 22.—William Knudsen, general manager of the Buffalo branch of the Ford Motor Company, has received orders directing him to close down the plant and ship the machinery and material on hand to Detroit.

The order, Mr. Knudsen stated, is the result of the strike of machinists and other labor troubles in Buffalo.

Look At This!

A large automobile dealer in Atlanta says he gets better results in the automobile columns of The Georgian and Hearst's Sunday American in the "Want Ad" section than any advertising he has tried. These little "Want Ad" tablets hit the spot.

First Concert of Year at Piedmont Park Next Sunday

The first outdoor musical concert of the season will be given in Piedmont Park Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Fifth Regiment Band.

"Whether these concerts will be permanent depend on the action of Council in providing funds," said J. O. Cochran," president of the park board. "We can secure private subscriptions if Council only will begin the movement.

"We hope to have music in Grant and Piedmont Parks several times a week and every Sunday through the summer."

Boasts of Marrying Jap to Yankee Girl

MINNEAPOLIS, May 22.—"I have just married a Japanese to an American, and done more for God and Uncle Sam than your alien land bill will do in 1,000 years."

This telegram was forwarded to Governor Johnson of California by the Rev. G. L. Morrill, after the minister had married Kozo Maihori and Miss Bertha Royan, of Minneapolis.

Fool or Knave, Says Johnson.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., May 22.—"That minister must be either a knave or a fool," said Governor Johnson, commenting upon the telegram of the Rev. G. L. Morrill, of Minneapolis.

Sunday Apologizes To Schumann-Heink

SOUTH BEND, IND., May 22.—A letter containing an apology for having called her a "cheap skate" was mailed to-day by Evangelist "Billy" Sunday to Madame Schumann-Heink. Last night the preacher made a public statement apologizing to the singer.

Sunday's remark that Schumann-Heink resented was made during a sermon on "Mothers," when he said that "Melba, Calve, Eames and Schumann-Heink are cheap skates compared with mothers."

Madame Schumann-Heink is the mother of eight children.

Steamer Blown Up By Floating Mine

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

SMYRNA, ASIA MINOR, May 22.—The French steamer Senegal was sunk at the mouth of the Gulf of Smyrna to-day by striking a floating mine, planted for the Balkan war. A large hole was torn in the bottom of the vessel.

The first wireless report from the scene stated that all the crew and passengers, as well as the mail cargo, were saved. A second report, however, stated that five persons on the Senegal were killed and six wounded.

2 Fatally Shot in Feud at Moultrie

MOULTRIE, GA., May 22.—J. M. Hornage and his son were fatally wounded to-day by Jerry and James Hart, sawmill men. The Hornages, it is alleged, waylaid the Harts several miles from this city, but in the shooting that followed both of the Harts escaped uninjured.

The trouble is said to have been the result of a recent timber deal between the Harts and the Hornages.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local showers Thursday and probably Friday.

ATTACKS U.S. MODERATOR AND QUITS ASSEMBLY

Dr. W. M. McPheeters Hotly Accuses Dr. J. S. Lyons of Using "Steam Roller" Methods.

Declaring that Moderator Dr. J. S. Lyons was running the Southern Presbyterian Assembly "with a steam roller like a political convention," Dr. W. M. McPheeters, of Columbia, S. C., chairman of the Committee on Education and one of the leading figures in the Assembly, resigned as head of the committee, placed his report in the hands of the clerk, and retired from the deliberations of the body.

Dr. McPheeters' action came at the close of a lengthy dispute over parliamentary law with the moderator, touching upon his right to propose a substitute to the minority report of the committee on the Federal Council of Churches.

Twice refused permission to broach his substitute, and failing to get the approval of the house when C. H. Jones, of Oklahoma, appealed from the parliamentary decision of the moderator, Dr. McPheeters finally gained the floor on a question of personal privilege.

Personalities Injected.

It was then that personalities were injected into his dispute with the moderator. Expressing his high personal regard for Dr. Lyons, Dr. McPheeters said:

"But he can not change the rules of procedure under which the Assembly works. All that is necessary to reduce this gathering to one simila rto a political convention, with its steam roller methods, are actions such as the moderator has taken, to forbid discussion and rush to a vote a question upon which the Assembly is divided, without an opportunity for discussion by those opposing it."

He was interrupted by the gavel of Moderator Lyons.

"I will call the doctor or order," said the moderator. "What he is saying is a reflection on the personal integrity of the moderator, and I cannot listen to it with equanimity. The doctor can not continue."

Dr. McPheeters turned and faced

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Son Near Death From Kissing Dying Mother

FORT SCOTT, KANS., May 22.—Carl Heckenliable, a young farmer of this county, is near death in a hospital at Wichita, as a result of kissing his dying mother good-bye. The mother died of blood poisoning. When her physicians announced death was approaching, her son embraced and kissed her.

The next day the young man was taken ill, eruptions appearing on his body. Physicians pronounced the case blood poisoning contracted by the farewell kiss, and Heckenliable was hurried to Wichita for treatment.

SWIMMING RULES.

The lake will be open from 5 o'clock until sundown on week days. Sundays, from 6 to 8 o'clock in the morning, both men and women will be permitted in the lake. It will be closed until 2 p. m., and from then until sundown only men will be allowed to enter.

No swimming or boating will be permitted at night.

No private craft will be allowed on the lake.

Two-piece bathing suits must be worn, white and silk suits being prohibited.

No lounging around the lake in bathing suits will be permitted, and everyone must use the regular entrance.

Piedmont Bathing Season Opens

Fair Mermaids First to Take Dip

500 Enjoy Fresh, Clear Water

Miss Lillian Smith and Miss Frances Smith, 47 Piedmont Place, among those who opened Swimming season at Piedmont Park Thursday

Turkey Trotter at Tybee Faces Trial

SAVANNAH, GA., May 22.—John Roan, a prominent young man, was arrested while dancing with a girl in the pavilion at Tybee because of his persistence in doing the turkey trot, bunny hug and other prohibited dance steps. He was led away to jail, leaving his companion alone on the ballroom floor.

Roan disregarded a sign conspicuously posted in the pavilion, stating that these steps were prohibited. He was warned by officers, but paid no attention to them.

Roan's friends finally succeeded in bailing him out. He will appear before the Town Council of Tybee charged with disorderly conduct.

Georgian's Grandson On Arctic Expedition

SAVANNAH, GA., May 22.—Mrs. W. D. Waples, of this city, has gone to Washington to say good-bye to her grandson, Lieutenant Fitzhugh Green, who is about to leave for a three-year trip in the Arctic regions with a special expedition of the National Geographic Society for the purpose of studying the topography of the land and the history of the people in a part of the icebound regions of the Far North.

Lieutenant Green is from St. Joseph, Mo., where his father, Charles E. Green, son of Mrs. Waples, and formerly a Savannahan, has resided since his marriage years ago.

Crowds Rush to Formal Opening of Atlanta's 'Beach'—Jennie Perkerson Watches Others.

Just as old Sol shot his golden rays above the horizon, two dull splashes in the limpid waters of Piedmont Park sounded, marking the formal opening of that resort for the summer.

Pretty Lillian Smith and her fair sister, Frances, in chic bathing costumes plunged downward from the springboard in the new lake. The waters shot upward high for the first time. And thus was re-christened the pool which will form Atlanta's playground for the summer months.

Dan Carey on Honeymoon.

As the young day grew, the crowds increased. Spectators began to gather on the grassy banks. Various persons began to ask for Dan Carey, the General Manager of Parks, who started the public bathing there years ago. Dave Gillespie answered:

"He's on his honeymoon."

More than 500 enjoyed the first day's bathing. The weather was warm and the water was fine, and everybody was right in the swim.

Among the early morning spectators was Jennie Perkerson, the 11-year-old girl who won all the races last year. She was on hand at 5 o'clock, but was without her bathing suit, and therefore stayed on the bank.

Two lifesavers were on duty, the same as in midseason. Lifesaver McDermott spent the entire morning diving, springing as far as possible with only one foot to leap with. "He's a fine lifesaver," said Superintendent Gillespie. "He gets over the water fast because he has only one leg to carry."

"Three men have kept tab on the number of bathers, and they have counted up nearly 500," said Gillespie. "There'll be fully that many by the time you get back to town. This is a better record than opening morning last year, when we had only about 250.

School Children In.

"I'm looking for 500 school children this afternoon, for they like the place. The season has started in fine shape, and I believe it will be the bathing lake's most popular year."

At noon 42,000,000 gallons of water had been run into the lake and it still was ten inches below the normal mark. The city chemist went out and took away a sample bottle for analysis. The analysis is hardly more than a formality, since the lake is sufficiently large for the water to purify itself.

Ball 'Trust' Inquiry Resolution Not Dead

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Representative Gallagher, of Illinois, denied to-day that his resolution for an investigation of the so-called baseball trust was dead.

There have been reports, Gallagher admitted, that the House Rules Committee, to which his resolution has been referred, was hostile. He declared, nevertheless, that he would press for a public hearing.

"I have some evidence that will open their eyes," he declared.

GRAND JURY WON'T HEAR LEO FRANK OR LEE

Understood That Cases Will Be Brought Separately, With One Accused as Accomplice.

DORSEY PLANS TO BLOCK ANY DEFENSE TESTIMONY

Prosecutor Ready to Present the Strongest Evidence—Vote of Twelve to Decide Action.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey announced Thursday afternoon that he was prepared to go before the Grand Jury Friday morning with his strongest evidence in the case of Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, held in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Although Mr. Dorsey would not discuss the form in which the cases would be presented, it was reliably stated they would be heard separately and the charge against one would be that he was an accessory to the fact.

Neither of the defendants will go before the jury. Mr. Dorsey said that in the event any move was made to introduce evidence for the defense he was prepared to block it. He said he had looked up Supreme Court decisions on this question, because when the Grand Jury was asked to indict Dr. W. H. Gillem for beating W. H. Johnson the jury in his absence had allowed Dr. Gillem to come before it, which, he said, was contrary to all law.

Twelve to Govern Action.

The opinion of 12 of the 21 jurymen will govern the action of the body. There can be no minority, said the Solicitor. If 12 of the men indict or decline to indict, the other jurors have to sign the "true" or "no bill" with the 12. Eighteen of the 21 constitute a quorum.

The Solicitor said it would be impossible to present all the evidence in one day, and that it might be necessary to carry the investigation over into the next week. He said, however, that it was not improbable the strongest evidence he had would be presented the first day, and if the jury considered it sufficiently strong, it could return an indictment without hearing the other evidence.

Gets Finger Print Evidence.

He said for the last few days his case had been complete, with the exception of preparing the testimony accumulated and some later important facts brought out by finger-print and handwriting experts. Several witnesses, whose identity has been carefully guarded, would give evidence that no one outside of his office was aware of, said the Solicitor.

C. W. Tobie, of the Burns Agency, stated Thursday afternoon that he was making the most satisfactory progress. He said it was only a question of a few more days when he would have the case in a definite, tangible shape.

The Solicitor would not discuss the findings of P. A. Flak, the finger-print expert from New York, other than to say that nothing had developed from it that would make him contemplate a change in his plan to present the cases to the Grand Jury Friday.

Burns Forces Augmented.

The Burns forces have been augmented by a finger-print and handwriting expert and another detective. The three were closeted with the negro, Newt Lee, for more than an hour Wednesday. Neither would discuss the interview.

L. J. Fletcher, Bertillon expert at the Federal prison, was drawn into the case by Solicitor Dorsey Wednesday.

Mr. Fletcher is a handwriting expert as well. He has been connected with the Government for several years and has made an intimate study of criminology. He worked with Mr. Dorsey's expert, Flak, when he examined articles for finger prints at the Solicitor's office Wednesday night.

Department and Pinkerton detectives are conducting a relentless search for the missing mesh bag Mary Phagan carried to the factory with her when she received her pay. It is found they expect it to prove one of the most important bits of evidence for the State.

City detectives have been assigned the task of locating the young woman

ENGLAND THINKS MILITANT WAR IS CURBED

Real Leaders of Militant Suffragettes Sick in Hospitals and Under Criminal Charges.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, May 22.—With the two real leaders of the militant suffragettes sick in hospitals and under criminal charges, Home Secretary McKenna believes the Government is in a fair way to break the backbone of the violence campaign.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, commander-in-chief of the militants, and her first lieutenant, Mrs. Flora "General" Drummond, are ill, and the chief adviser of the Women's Social and Political Union, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, is a political exile in France.

Faces Seven Years in Cell.

It will be nearly seven years before Mrs. Pankhurst will be at liberty again, having been sentenced that length of time for conspiracy and inciting riot. The trial of Mrs. Drummond was interrupted by sickness.

While the Government is hoping that the wave of suffrage violence is weakening, the vigilance of Scotland Yard will not be relaxed. Extra guards were to-day placed over the persons of officers of the Government in consequence of the discovery at Cardiff, Wales, of a suffragette conspiracy to hurt Mr. McKenna.

Incendiaries Are Active.

There were several incendiary fires early to-day in and about London. At Fulham $15,000 damage was done to the plant of the Westminster Improved Paving Company.

The police believe that the fires were set by persons in the employ of the Women's Social and Political Union. Suffrage literature was found at the scene of each blaze.

Beer Men Endorse Note of Detective

AUGUSTA, GA., May 22.—Augusta has a little police scandal.

John S. Carswell and S. J. Rouse, near-beer dealers, were indorsers on a note of Detective A. J. Matthews for $500. An Augusta bank renewed the note when it came due at the expiration of six months, and later there were two other renewals. The bank finally demanded that it be paid, suit being entered against Matthews and his indorsers.

Matthews left here three weeks ago on his vacation, before the note scandal came out. Although he was expected back within ten days, he has not returned. The Police Commission has just discharged him and elected Sergeant Whittle as a detective in his place.

Asks $1,600,000 U. S. Armor Plate Plant

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Senator Ashurst announced that he would introduce a bill at to-day's session of the Senate appropriating $1,600,000 to build an armor plate factory to be run in opposition to the armor plate trust.

"This bill, if enacted into law, will once for all put at rest the nefarious activities of the armor plate trust," said Senator Ashurst. "Furthermore, I believe it will prove my charge that the trust has grossly overtaxed the Government for the manufacture of armor plate."

JUDGE LINDSEY RECOVERS; YEAR'S REST IS ORDERED

DENVER, May 22.—Although Judge Ben B. Lindsey is out of danger from his recent operation for stomach trouble at a sanitarium in Battle Creek, Mich., his physicians have told him that it is necessary for him to have a year's rest before he will recover entirely.

The Judge thinks it probable that a few years' work followed up at the present would be better than several years more after taking a year's rest.

Cleans Like Magic

NOTHING can equal Absorene for quick, easy and thorough cleaning. It acts like magic. Dull, dark, grimy wall paper is made to look like new—fresh and inviting. The soiled-darkened window shades that you are about to throw away can be cleaned and used for a long time to come.

Absorene

Wall Paper Cleaner

is so easily used—simply wipe the wall or shade once with Absorene and the dirt and grime is absorbed. Absorene is ready to use—no mixing or fussing—and it leaves no dirt or litter behind it. There is no hard work—no drudgery—no rubbing. And Absorene is absolutely harmless—it can not harm either the hands or most delicate fabrics. A large can costs but 15c.

For Sale By

JACOBS' PHARMACY CO.

10 Stores.

Absorene Mfg. Co. Makers St. Louis, Mo.

Makers of H R H Paint Cleaner—Red Cedar Meal

Actress Brands Wasting of Talent as Crime

'Answer Big Call,' Urges Miss Gladys Hanson

Miss Gladys Hanson, noted Atlanta actress, who tells what makes for success on stage.

Declares Duty to Parents Should Be Considered, but Not Allowed to Doom Career.

Here are the things Miss Gladys Hanson says make for success on the stage:

Earnestness.
The power to forget self.
A good director.
Understanding.
Honesty.
Beauty good—but not essential.
Poise.
Charm.
The capacity for hard work.

"There are so many mistaken sacrifices in life. Big brains go to rack and ruin because people have been taught to believe that it is their duty to do certain things or to obey older heads, regardless of whether it ruins their own lives or not."

Gladys Hanson, Atlanta's very own actress who is the leading woman in Belasco's "The Governor's Lady," was talking of the pity of wasted talent that she said one continually met on every corner in everyday life.

"If a person feels within the call to do a big thing, it's absolutely wrong for her deliberately to turn her back upon it. It's almost criminal for her to allow anything to interfere with her carrying it out, without it can't possibly be helped."

Describes Her Ups and Downs.

Miss Hanson, in the music room of her Cleburne Avenue home, had drifted to her subject following an intimate account of the ups and downs of her stage career during the past six years. She had spoken of how the real values of things had opened to her with each experience; told of the brilliant theatrical season just closed in New York; and of the big people she had met.

"I do not mean that people—or children, of whom I am speaking particularly, of course—have no duty at all to parents or guardians, or that they should walk roughshod to a career no matter what the consequences nor what it may cost others. But I do think, with proper thought brought to the problem, a way could be found that children might do their full duty and yet their development be accomplished along with it. The effort might be made, anyhow."

Some Mothers Are Selfish.

"For instance in the case of a young girl or boy having a mother to support, it is very beautiful that they want that mother comfortable and are willing to sacrifice themselves in the cause; but while not always the case, of course, very frequently mothers are selfish if they sit down and meekly accept the sacrifice. Mothers or others should realize they are using and perhaps wasting a young life with big possibilities. And they should leave no stone unturned to see if some way can not be arranged that the child's education can go on and its latent talents be developed.

"There are usually many things that can be done—for where there is a will there is a way. The trouble with most people is they follow the line of least resistance. Of course, every case is different, but a mother, we will say, might help by also going to work if she were able, or making some other little turn, such as living with relatives for a few years, until the child is able to command a good salary.

Take it this way: Suppose she had the sentiment that made a child no child. Wouldn't she have to manage some other way? Then why not help the child that much? There is this, too: If she doesn't, she is sacrificing her child, with all the prospects of its youth, to a life that has practically done its work."

Miss Hanson said she appreciated "stick" and the mother lean—but she could not appreciate the fact of the little undeveloped soul.

"As for an education," she declared, "when a person makes up his mind to it, there'll be a way to get through. There always has been for people in earnest. Others before him have proved that. He may have to work his way by doing unpleasant tasks, but he will be all the stronger for it. And his mother should encourage him to climb."

The actress said she knew of an instance where a man could have, perhaps, become something great in the world if it hadn't been that his parents refused to listen to the idea of going out of their home town or letting him go when his big opportunity came. The result was he stuck to a little job throughout his life till he became an old man himself. He never married, because they never wanted him to. He ruined his life for no legitimate reason—he could have supported those parents anywhere he might have been. But the world shouted that he had done his duty when they finally passed away.

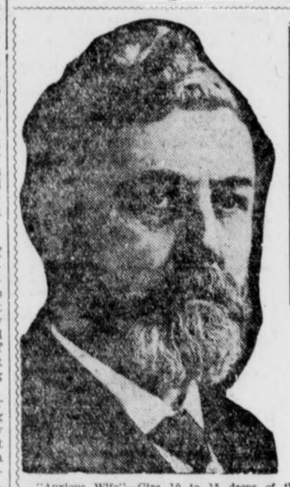
"As for children's wanting to do big things and failing to do them because their friends never went into the world, or because their fathers and mothers object for no specific reason, or want them to do something else, I have no patience," Miss Hanson said.

"If parents will not consent to their careers, I do not advise children going headstrong about their own way until they get older. They will then be able to look at things more clearly, and if they still want to be or do certain things, let them take matters into their own hands and go ahead. As I said before, there will always be some way to do it."

Miss Hanson declared that parents so frequently made the mistake of trying to force their boys and girls to follow some line that they themselves wanted to when they were young, and perhaps never had the opportunity—or never took it if they did have it.

"A child should be allowed to do what he likes because that is usually what he is adapted to. If he likes a certain thing he will work all the harder to make a success of it.

"But no matter whether rich or poor, real yearning should never be stilled. The big call should be answered. Pride nor prejudice, ancestry nor the lack of it, should interfere. Let children discuss their heart desires with their parents, and develop themselves. Or if they have no ambition let the parents stir on to it. Sitting with folded hands is deplorable. Development is the highest thing—and nothing else outside of goodness matters."



THE DOCTOR'S ANSWERS ON HEALTH AND BEAUTY QUESTIONS

By DR. LEWIS BAKER.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College building, College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Anxious Wife"—Give 10 to 15 drops of the following in water an hour before each meal and your child will soon be cured of bed-wetting: Comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic, 2 drams.

* * *

"La Rue" writes: "For many years I have suffered with stomach and bowel trouble which has been caused by a severe case of catarrh. My blood is also in poor condition. What can be done for me?"

Answer: If you follow the directions given below you will soon be well and strong again. Obtain the following from any well-stocked drug store and mix by shaking well, then take a teaspoonful four times daily: Syrup sarsaparilla comp. 4 ozs.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; fluid ext. Buchu, 1 oz. Use in connection with this the following local treatment: Get a 2-oz. package of antiseptic vilane powder and make a catarrh balm by mixing one ounce of lard or vaseline with a level teaspoonful of the powder and use in the nostrils daily. Also make a wash of one pint of warm water and one-half teaspoonful of Vilane powder and use two or three times a day until the nostrils are thoroughly cleansed and your trouble will soon be gone.

* * *

"Elsie M." writes: "I have such short, stringy, straggling hair and my scalp is full of dandruff. Please advise what to do."

Answer: The best advice I can offer is simple. Get at a well stocked drug store a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol, directions accompanying, and use it regularly. It promotes a healthy, vigorous growth of hair and cures dandruff, itching scalp, lustreless hair and stops falling hair. If the hair is harsh and straggling it restores a soft, fluffy appearance, and brings back the intense natural color.

* * *

"Haselle" says: "I would certainly appreciate something that would increase my weight and take away that languid feeling which I am subject to most of the time. My blood is weak and watery and my appetite is poor."

Answer: Your condition is very easily overcome if you will follow the directions given below. Ask your druggist for three-grain hypomuriate tablets and take according to the directions and your weight will increase. These tablets promote assimilation, absorption and aid digestion, transform the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physicians and are perfectly harmless. They should be taken regularly for several months and you can depend upon gaining flesh and that languid feeling will vanish completely.

* * *

"D. E. G." writes: "My rheumatism is getting worse all the time. I am getting so stiff that it makes it very hard for me to get around."

Answer: Do not worry about your rheumatism as that can be very easily cured by using the following: Get at the drug store the ingredients named and mix thoroughly and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again at bed time and you will soon be entirely cured of that disagreeable disease, rheumatism. Purchase 2 drams of iodide of potassium; one-half ounce of wine of colchicum; 4 drams of sodium salicylate; 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort; 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, and 8 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla. This has cured thousands and I am sure it will cure you.

* * *

"Musician" asks: "Can you tell me how to overcome a bronchial trouble which manifests itself after singing, by a tickling in the throat, hoarseness and a slight cough?"

Answer: Obtain a bottle essence menthol-laxene and use it pure, or make into a cough syrup by mixing with ordinary granulated sugar syrup or honey. Directions for use and how to make accompany the package. It makes a full pint of effective pleasant cough syrup and cures all throat and bronchial trouble.

* * *

"Mrs. G. B." writes: "I suffer a great deal with stomach disorders. Heavy feeling after eating, heart palpitation, wind and gas on stomach, etc. Am restless and irritable. Afraid to eat a hearty meal. Sometimes great pain. I fear appendicitis."

Answer: The neglect of constipation and indigestion is the most frequent cause of appendicitis. It is better to prevent than to cure by an operation. I advise that you obtain tablets triopeptine and take according to directions accompanying sealed cartons. They are pink, white and blue to be taken morning, noon and night respectively. I think many cases of appendicitis could be prevented by using triopeptine intelligently.

* * *

"Mrs. C. C." writes: "Can you prescribe a tonic for one who is sleepless, nervous, hysterical, thin and getting thinner? Have little appetite and am restless day and night."

Answer: The following if used for several weeks will gradually restore and strengthen your nervous system: Compound syrup of hypophosphites, 5 ozs.; tincture cadomene, 1 oz. (not cardamon). Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful before each meal.

* * *

"Poor H." writes: "My health is very poor on account of a long-standing constipation. I have to use pills or something all the time. Can you prescribe something to take that will cure chronic constipation?"

Answer: Constipation is probably the cause of more illness than any other thing. Most remedies only relieve the trouble and never cure. I always prescribe three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets), and have found them most reliable and gradually curative. They act pleasantly and tone up the bowels and liver, while purifying the blood.

* * *

K. K. K. asks: "I am growing more stout as I get older and weigh 60 pounds too much now. I am alarmed and want to reduce. Please advise what to take."

Answer: You need not be alarmed if you will begin taking 5-grain arbolene tablets. These tablets reduce usually at the rate of a pound a day after the first few days. Any druggist can supply them in sealed tubes with full directions.

State Treasurer Puts City Savings In Receiver's Hands

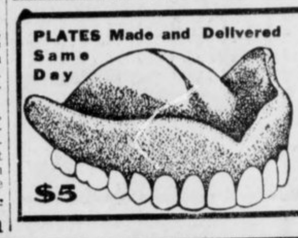
W. J. Speer, State Treasurer, Thursday placed the City Savings Bank, 17 East Alabama Street, in the hands of a receiver, Attorney L. F. McClelland was appointed receiver.

Almost two months ago, the bank, fearing a run, voluntarily placed itself in the hands of the State Banking Department. The examiners went through the books of the institution and declared it to be solvent. The department announced that the directors could take such course as they saw fit—either reopen for business, sell or seek a voluntary receivership.

The City Savings has been bargaining with other financial institutions in the city in an endeavor to have them buy the bank and pay off depositors.

Negotiations, apparently, have been unsuccessful.

White City Park Now Open



DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4--Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-8 Phone M. 1708 Sundays 9-1

After the Experiment—

WHITE TRUCKS

Fill Out the Fleet

The country's greatest concerns, seeking the most efficient truck for their individual needs, often experiment with several different makes.

This explains the duplication of the names of prominent firms in the lists of owners quoted by various truck manufacturers.

Learn which truck stopped at the experimental stage—which truck is completing the fleet.

There are thirty-five hundred White Trucks in service today. A large majority of them are repeat orders.

Promise may have placed the experimental trucks—White performance obtained the subsequent reorders.

Here are a few of the many White owners who own many White Trucks.

407 White Trucks are owned by 95 Department and Dry Goods Stores, such as:

B. Altman & Co., J. N. Adam & Co., T. Eaton Co., Ltd., Marshall Field & Co., Gimbel Bros., A. W. Gamage, Ltd., The Higbee Co., Joseph Horne & Co., Boggs & Buhl, Inc., The Hub, Hudson's Bay Co., Kaufmann Bros., McCreery & Co., Mandel Bros., The Rosenbaum Co., Sanger Bros., Stern Bros., etc.

127 White Trucks are owned by 59 Coal and Ice Companies, such as:

The Atlantic Ice & Coal Corporation, C. L. Amos Coal Co., Bohlen-Huse Ice Co., Burr Bros., Inc., Consumers' Ice Co., Curran & Burton, Inc., Northwestern Fuel Co., Staples Coal Co., Union Ice Co., Zettlemeyer Coal Co., etc.

236 White Trucks are owned by 126 Express and Transfer Companies, such as:

The American Express Co., Auto Delivery Co., B. & O. Transfer Co., Chicago & West Suburban Express Co., Shaw Transfer Co., Tacoma Transfer Co., Wells-Fargo & Co., etc.

256 White Trucks are owned by 93 Municipalities, States and Governments, such as:

The Cities of Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Paul, San Francisco, Seattle, Savannah, the States of Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the Governments of Brazil, Russia, the United States, etc.

165 White Trucks are owned by 103 Grocery Companies, such as:

The Bell Co., J. B. Blood Co., Chandler & Rudd Co., W. E. Drislane & Co., W. M. Hoyt & Co., W. P. Southworth Co., Jordan Stabler Co., West Coast Grocery Co., etc.

151 White Trucks are owned by 80 Transportation Companies, such as:

The Chicago Motor Transportation Co., Huntington Auto Transit Co., Pittsburgh Auto Transit Co., Perth Amboy Transportation Co., Rapid Transit Co., Schenectady Transportation Co., etc.

48 White Trucks are owned by 16 Rubber Companies, such as:

The Continental Rubber Works, Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Diamond Rubber Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., Goodyear Rubber Co., Michelin Tire Co., Miller Rubber Co., Ohio Rubber Co., etc.

114 White Trucks are owned by 46 Gas & Electric Companies, such as:

Bell Telephone Co., The Central Union Telephone Co., Consolidated Gas, Electric Light & Power Co., Greenfield Electric Light & Power Co., Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co., Southern Bell Telephone Co., Toronto Electric Light Co., Ltd., Western Electric Co., etc.

This White Radiator leads the way wherever trucks are used. The greater number of White Trucks in service proves their superior efficiency in every variety of motor transportation.

278 White Trucks are owned by 138 Manufacturing Companies, such as:

The American Can Co., American Steel & Wire Co., Aluminum Castings Co., B. T. Babbitt, Inc., Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., Cleveland-Akron Bag Co., Coes Wrench Co., The Crane Co., Interstate Foundry Co., Lake Erie Iron Co., National Cash Register Co., National Casket Co., Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Remington Typewriter Co., The Sherwin-Williams Co., Standard Manufacturing Co., United States Steel Corp., White Enamel Refrigerator Co., etc.

143 White Trucks are owned by 82 Brewing, Bottling and Distilling Companies, such as:

The Berghoff Brewing Association, E. & J. Burke, Ltd., Independent Brewing Co. of Pittsburgh, Kundtz Brewing Co., Ltd., Leisy Brewing Co., Lion Brewery, National Distilling Co., Pabst Brewing Co., Pacific Brewing & Malting Co., Rock Island Brewing Co., Russell Distilling Co., P. Schoenhofen Brewing Co., Standard Brewing Co., etc.

153 White Trucks are owned by 85 Contractors and Building Supply Companies, such as:

Booth & Flinn, Ltd., Bradley Contracting Co., Cleveland Builders' Supply Co., Leahy Contracting Co., Mercer-Frazer Co., National Building Supply Co., Pittsburgh Contracting Co., Stacy Contracting Co., Warren Bros. Co., West Roxbury Trap Rock Co., etc.

131 White Trucks are owned by 21 Oil Companies, such as:

The Atlantic Refining Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Refining Co., Magnolia Petroleum Co., National Refining Co., Standard Oil Co., Waters-Pierce Oil Co., West India Oil Co., etc.

165 White Trucks are owned by 61 Packers and Meat Dealers, such as:

Armour & Co., Booth Fisheries Co., Cleveland Provision Co., Cudahy Packing Co., Darling & Co., Houston Packing Co., Indianapolis Abbatoir Co., Otto Stahl, Inc., Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., etc.

86 White Trucks are owned by 48 Milling and Baking Companies, such as:

The Atlanta Milling Co., Dillman Baking Co., Independent Cracker Co., Pacific Coast Biscuit Co., Schulze Baking Co., United Baking Co., Western Canada Flour Mills Co., Ltd., etc.

148 White Trucks are owned by 84 Furniture Companies, such as:

The Atherton Furniture Co., W. & J. Sloane, Spear & Co., Standard Furniture Co., Sterling & Welch Co., etc.

67 White Trucks are owned by 38 Confectioners, Caterers and Ice Cream Companies, such as:

The American Chicle Co., Boston Ice Cream Co., Bunte Bros., Davis Ice Cream Co., Walter M. Lowney Co., The Nunnally Co., Page & Shaw, Inc., Telling Bros. Co., etc.

Let the known responsibility of The White Company insure the future of your motor trucks. Make the White experience of over fifty years an asset to your business. In spite of steadily increasing output, the demand for White Trucks is exceeding the supply. Insure your future deliveries by ordering now.

THE WHITE COMPANY

Manufacturers of Gasoline Motor Cars, Trucks and Taxicabs

118 MARIETTA STREET

DENOMINATIONAL SOCIAL SERVICE PLATFORM LIKELY

New Planks Apparently Will Contain More 'Real Religion' Than Those of Federal Council.

By DR. CHARLES STELZLE.

It begins to look as though the Presbyterians now assembled in Atlanta will get out a social service platform which will have more "real religion" in it than is supposed to be contained in the social service platform of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which is now the standard of social service "faith and practice."

The debate in the Southern Assembly yesterday clearly revealed a sturdy opposition to the latter document, though, it must be confessed, many of those who discuss this platform seem to forget that it was necessarily made as simple and direct as possible, dealing purely with social service subjects.

However, in the report of the Federal Council's commission on social service it is distinctly stated that evangelism and the spiritual motive must underlie all social service effort.

Opponents of Platform.

It appears that even more strongly opposed to the Federal Council's platform is that group in the Presbyterian Churches which believes that the church has no right to interfere in the affairs of the state.

In the statement which is to serve as the basis of the proposed union between the Southern Assembly and the United Presbyterian Assembly is the following paragraph with regard to the exclusively spiritual character of the church:

This union is based on the statement of our common Confession of Faith, viz., "Synods and Councils are to handle or conclude nothing but that which is ecclesiastical; and are not to intermeddle with civil affairs which concern the Commonwealth, unless by way of humble petition in cases extraordinary; or by way of advice for satisfaction of conscience, if they be thereunto required by the civil magistrate."

It is largely a question apparently as to whether what is right for a single church member to do is wrong for the church to do collectively.

It was largely this attitude toward affairs of the state that was originally responsible for the disruption of the Presbyterian Church at the time of the war. The Northern section of the church was naturally sympathetic toward the fight being made by the Federal forces.

South's Opinion Differed.

The Southern section wanted the church to keep "hands off," and many of its ministers declined to pray for the success of either army.

It is, therefore, a more serious matter with the Southern Assembly than appears upon the surface. It is not that it opposes the fight being made against child labor and kindred subjects, but as to whether it will be consistent with its historic attitude toward all such matters.

Perhaps it is extreme in some of its positions, but to go clear over to the other side requires more—something or other—than most of us possess.

The Northern Presbyterians have just unanimously adopted a new social service creed. It is only two years old, and is entitled, "What the Presbyterian Church Believes About Social Service." Here are several paragraphs:

We affirm that Christianity has largely created the present demands for social and economic justice. But for the presence of Christian ideals in the world the consciousness of such problems would not exist. Our social problems, then, exist by reason of the operation of the fundamental principles of Christianity, and the Christian Church is therefore under an unmistakable obligation to contribute to their solution.

We believe that Jesus Christ is the final authority over all human life. We believe that the church is under imperative obligation to show how these Christian principles apply to human affairs. We believe that this teaching ought to be given by the church definitely in relation to present practical conditions. Therefore, we hold that the time has come when the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America must speak its mind concerning particular problems now threatening society.

We hold that our church ought to declare:

1. For the acknowledgment of the obligations of wealth.
2. For the application of Christian principles to the conduct of industrial organizations, whether of capital or labor.
3. For a more equitable distribution of wealth.
4. For the abatement of poverty.

Attacks Child Labor.

5. For the abolition of child labor.
6. For such regulation of the conditions of the industrial occupation of women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of themselves, the community, and future generations.
7. For adequate protection of working people from dangerous machinery and objectionable conditions of labor, and from occupational disease.
8. For some provision by which the burden imposed by injuries and deaths from industrial accidents shall not be permitted to rest upon the injured person or his family.
9. For the release of every worker from work one day in seven.
10. For such ordering of the hours and requirements of labor as to make them compatible with healthy physical, mental and moral life.
11. For the employment of the methods of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes.
12. For the removal of insanitary dwellings and the relief or prevention of congestion of population.
13. For the application of Christian methods in the care of dependent and incapable persons.
14. For the development of a Christian spirit in the attitude of society toward offenders against the law.

Recommendations Adopted.

The Assembly also adopted the following recommendations:

1. That the General Assembly hereby urge the ministers of the church—

(a) To inform themselves carefully regarding the conditions of human life in their own neighborhoods, particularly as these are affected by the conditions of industry.

(b) To acquaint their congregations with these facts.

(c) To instruct their congregations in the teachings of the gospel regarding social service.

(d) To co-operate in every effort for the attainment of the ends for which our church has declared itself.

2. That the General Assembly hereby request all who have charge of schools and colleges to make ample provision for instruction regarding the Christian ideal of society. That it request the governing bodies and faculties of theological seminaries to provide that the students in their care be taught the social principles of the gospel.

3. That the General Assembly hereby urge all the members of our churches to give serious study to social problems, and to avail themselves of their opportunities for social service; to create a Christian public sentiment demanding the removal of wrong wherever found.

4. That the General Assembly appoint a Bureau of social service.

Stand on Labor Question.

The Bureau of Social Service of the Northern Assembly has issued a leaflet concerning its relation to organized labor, in which occurs the following paragraph:

We may set it down as a fundamental principle that the church can not advocate any economic system, no matter what it may be. The church can not assume to legislate for its members on matters which are clearly outside of its province.

However, when the workingman is making a fight for better living conditions, a reasonable number of hours of employment, a living wage and a square deal in every other particular, he has a right to insist that the church shall come out clearly and specifically and take its stand with him in the struggle. The church must stand with organized labor in its contention for conditions which every unprejudiced person must recognize as just and fair, but the approval of the church of the methods whereby these conditions are to be obtained should be given only when they are lawful and moral.

But here the church can not afford to stop at the point of passing resolutions. It should seek in every practicable way, by agitation and by its influence on public sentiment and on civic legislation, to improve the conditions of the toilers.

Must Keep in Own Province.

But in contending for the improved conditions, it need not necessarily stand for other organizations which are seeking to secure the same conditions.

The church may stand with organized labor as an organization on all questions which have a moral and ethical basis, but when the question at issue is merely a matter of expediency, of jurisdiction, of a recognition of the union, or any similar matter, then the church must have the right to maintain a neutral position, just as the trades union would not be expected to take sides were the church to take up denomnational differences, creeds or forms of government. As individuals, we may think as we please about the affairs of the church or of labor. Every man must be given the right to "join" or not to join. But we can not assume to commit our organizations—either church or labor—to any system outside of their peculiar province.

It is quite likely that each of the Assemblies will appoint a committee of five to consider the entire question of the relation of the church to social service, with instructions to report to the next Assemblies.

White Slave Crusade Opened by Northern Church

Attempt Made to Oust Assistant Stated Clerk

Great Ovation Given Foreign Missions Secretary—Chicago Expected to Get 1914 Meet.

Without a dissenting vote, the Northern Presbyterian Assembly on Thursday morning adopted the recommendation of the committee on bills and overtures for the appointment of a committee of five for an investigation of the white slave traffic.

The Rev. Mark A. Matthews, of Seattle, retiring moderator, presented the report. Attention was called to the alarming spread of the evil and the necessity for the Presbyterian Church to take a hand in its abatement.

The traffic in women was described as the most blighting and corrupting evil that ever has swept the country. The recommendation by the committee on bills and overtures was made at the instance of the Rev. John Balcolm Shaw, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, of Chicago, who spoke before the committee in behalf of a group of Chicago commissioners.

Chicago Delegation Leads.

Members of the delegation from Chicago, where the Senatorial vice probe has uncovered much valuable information in regard to the causes of white slavery, were responsible for the resolution. Prominent in the delegation is Rufus S. Simmons, who first suggested to Theodore Roosevelt the desirability of enacting a Federal law on the subject of traffic in women. Following is the resolution as it was prepared for introduction:

Believing that the time has come for the church to speak out upon the white slave traffic, which God is laying upon the conscience of the nation, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America orders the appointment of a special committee of nine to consider the enormous violation of the seventh commandment and the church's duty toward the youth and family life of the nation; toward those foul interests that corrupt and threaten the nation's life, and toward that large unfortunate class, our erring sisters, for whom the heart of Christ bleeds, and for whose souls His church can not evade responsibility.

Asks Limit for Speeches.

The first skirmish of the fight to oust the Rev. James M. Hubbert, D.D., from the office of assistant stated clerk was precipitated by the suggestion of Moderator Stone that during the last two days of the Assembly all speakers be limited to three minutes, in the interest of expedition.

Ex-Congressman W. S. Bennet of New York, one of the commissioners, immediately protested.

"I do not care what time you give to the discussion of other subjects," he declared, "but I am going to make a motion that more time be given the debate on the proposition to do away with the office of assistant stated clerk."

Before the discussion on the parliamentary point became strained, W. P. Merrill, of New York, jumped to his feet and raised a laugh by saying that he was responsible for the three-minute limit suggestion, as he had not yet heard a half-hour speech on the floor of the Assembly that could not very well have been condensed to three minutes.

Withdraws His Suggestion.

Moderator Stone relieved Commissioner Bennet of the need of making a motion by withdrawing his limitations of debate.

The office of assistant stated clerk carries with it a salary of $3,000. William H. Roberts receives $5,000 annually as stated clerk. It was on the recommendation of Dr. Roberts that the agitation to abolish the office of assistant clerk was started, the battle, therefore, narrowing down almost to a personal issue between Stated Clerk Roberts and Assistant Stated Clerk Hubbert.

Dr. Roberts has held his position nearly thirty years, and during this time has acquired more power and supervision over the affairs of the Assembly than any other individual. The assistant clerk also is a strong man, with opinions, and it is said that this situation and the possibilities it suggests was more responsible for the move to oust Dr. Hubbert than the question of economy, which was ascribed by Dr. Roberts.

Calls Office Needless.

"As stated clerk, I take the ground that the question of the continuance of the office of assistant clerk is one of proper financial administration," said Dr. Roberts, in his report to the executive commission. "I can not with fidelity to the church assume the responsibility of recommending in the budget the payment of $3,000 per annum for an office, the need for which appears to have ceased."

Made a Special Order.

The discussion on the subject was made a special order for 12 o'clock.

Two new members were added to the Board of Home Missions on recommendation of Rev. Maitland Alexander, of the standing committee on Home Missions. They were Dr. Edgar P. Hill, of Chicago, to succeed Dr. S. J. Niccolls, resigned, and W. Francis Erwin, of Louisville, Ky., to succeed Dr. Francis O. Phroner, deceased.

Expect Chicago to Win.

Chicago is expected to land the 1914 meeting of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly. The commissioners from Chicago have extended an urgent invitation to the Assembly and it is regarded as likely that the committee on next place of meeting will consider seriously none of the other invitations.

Rochester, N. Y., was in the race last year and was mentioned again this year, but will probably withdraw, leaving Chicago the only candidate in the field. The committee will report its recommendation Friday afternoon.

A great ovation was given Dr. A. W. Halsey, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, at the conclusion of his impassioned address on the sufferings and sacrifices of the missionaries who have gone into the foreign field. The commissioners applauded and cheered and then rose to their feet to sing a rousing hymn.

The report of the Foreign Mission Board was presented by Dr. W. R. King, of Monmouth, Ill., who said that the work of 1912 was the greatest in the church's history, and that the Foreign Missionary Board of the Presbyterian Church had grown to be the most powerful of any Protestant denomination.

Expenditures of nearly $2,000,000 in 1912 were reported by the Foreign Mission Board of the Northern Assembly.

Much of this great outlay went to awakening China. At the beginning of last year the Foreign Missionary Board started with a rush by adding to the missionaries already on the field in the Celestial Empire 100 recruits. An emergency fund was raised for this purpose.

From Sunday schools and young people's societies $1,234,698.42 was received. From the churches of the country, $706,251.16 was received. This latter amount is the greatest in the history of Presbyterian foreign missions. Receipts from women's societies were $410,103.82.

The report of the standing committee on church polity and of the special committee on work in Europe were the other important reports which came before the assembly during the forenoon.

Office, Attacked as Needless, One of Most Powerful in Organization of Assembly.

WHETHER YOU USE CALOMEL OR NOT

You Will Realize How Much Better For You This Safe Vegetable Remedy Will Be.

The liver is such a delicate organ that most people have learned from experience the danger of flogging it into action with the dangerous drug—calomel. Any dealer or drug store sells and recommends Dodson's Liver Tone, a pleasant-tasting, harmless vegetable liquid that encourages the liver, relieves constipation and biliousness without restriction of habit or diet.

There are no bad after-effects from taking Dodson's Liver Tone. It does just what it is intended to do and no more. Dodson's Liver Tone can not harm either children or grown-ups and is an excellent preventive of chronic liver troubles.

Any dealer or drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tone for 50 cents per bottle, and every bottle sold is guaranteed to give satisfaction, and you get your money back without a question if it fails you. Some remedies are sold in imitation of Dodson's Liver Tone—look out for them. Remember the guarantee.

Keely Company

at $3.25

200 Parasols worth up to $5

This line being a manufacturer's surplus, includes the prettiest parasols of the season. All of the fashionable colors are represented.

You will find plain styles, fancy styles, upturn styles and dome shape styles in the assortment. The sticks are very handsome, carved, stained, polished, etched, and all are priced at approximately HALF.

Many new things are shown, including Canopy shapes; Japanese shapes; Indian shapes and Coaching shapes. All are made of the most beautiful silks. Some are bordered, others are plain and many are combined in contrasts and some are trimmed. All have very smart and unusual handles. In many cases you will find fancy ribs; some are staple, others are gilt. Some are straight at tips, others are upturned at tips, at easily worth $5

$3.25

An immense showing of children's and misses' Parasols, in all colors.

50c to $1.00

A Sale of Gloves

at 69c pr.

gloves on sale worth $1.

Every pair full 16-button length, made exclusively for us. Made of soft, fine lustrous silk. Fine and strong in their construction. They will prove a pleasure to the wearer. All are two-clasp styles. Paris point embroidery on the back. Colors are tan, copenhagen, navy, black and white. Every wise shopper will secure two or three pairs of them.

Keely Company

SEE OTHER AD. ON PAGE 3

RICH'S ECONOMY BASEMENT

Rousing Two-Day Sale

Women who are economy-wise will share and save Friday & Saturday

$1 & $1.25 Dresses 69c

No mother of girls from 6 to 14 years wants to do home sewing when such pretty and worthy dresses are only 69c.

Made of fast color ginghams and chambrays. Plain colors, plaids, checks and stripes. Splendidly made in attractive styles that few home sewers could approach. Light and dark colors. $1 and $1.25 dresses for only 69c.

50c Dresses 39c

For little tots of 2 to 4 years. Plaids and checks in ginghams.

50c Rompers 39c

Ginghams and chambrays. Plain colors and checks. Neatly trimmed. 2 to 6.

$1 House Dresses 79c

Captured the sample line of the Enterprise Mfg. Co., of this city.

Several hundred house dresses. Many different styles. Variously in sturdy fast color ginghams, percales and chambrays. Solid colors with plaid or check trimmings, white percales with large polka dots, neat checks, stripes and plaids—the assortment permits the widest choosing. Light, medium and dark colors—sizes for all. All grouped at just two prices.

$1.35 & $1.50 Dresses at . . 98c

$1 to $1.25 Dresses at . . 79c

Wash Goods---A Sale

15c for 25c mercerized voiles—Solid colors and pretty floral patterns. Charming for summer dresses.

19c for 35c white or colored linens—Just the weight and texture for suits, skirts, etc. White or colors. Yard wide.

8c for 12½c percales—Light grounds for skirts, waists, dresses, etc. Yard wide. Mill lengths 10 to 20 yards.

15c for motor cloth—a heavy linene for suits and dresses. White and colors. Yard wide.

19c for 25c Tissues—a soft, sheer fabric in delightful stripes on white grounds.

10c for 15c tan lawns—linen finish and color. Yard wide.

5c for 10c Ginghams—chambrays and seersuckers. Solid colors and stripes. Mill lengths. 8 to 10 yards.

7c for 9c Apron ginghams—all the popular checks in, blue or brown.

15c for 25c Ripplette—the soft, crinkly crepe that requires no ironing. Solid colors. 10 to 20-yard lengths.

Sale of Men's Furnishings

69c for $1 shirts—have sold here special at 89c, but a splendid $1 quality. Made of soft percales; coat styles, attached cuffs. White and colored grounds; neat stripes and figure designs.

19c for 50c belts—fine leather belts for men and boys. Black and colors. Regular and patent buckles. Worth 35c and 50c.

25c for 39c and 50c ties—all silk Imperial four-in-hand ties, narrow or with flowing ends.

Great Sale of Corsets at 49c, 89c & 98c

At these three prices we have elected to sell many corsets, old models and new; some worth a fourth more, some a half, some even twice over:

49c for good comfortable corsets for house wear. White batiste with long hips and medium high busts, and grey, black or white corsets in short models. Well boned and of good materials. Former prices to $1.

89c Many different kinds of corsets in this lot. Made of a fine quality summer batiste. Medium busts and long hips. All sizes.

98c for choice of one big table of corsets, including many fashionable models. Some are slightly soiled. Embroidery and lace trimmed. All sizes.

Full Weight 40c Brooms 25c

Two-pound broom, made of selected broom corn. Plump and full, 5-string tied, wire wrapped, polished handle.

25c Oilcloth, 45 Inches, 15c

Standard quality oilcloth, full weight, finely finished, 45 inches. White and colors.

50c Worth of Laundry Soap 25c

10 big bars of Rich's Special laundry soap. Made for us by one of the leading soap makers. Same formula as his famous 5c Laundry Soap. Full 9-oz. bars. 10 big bars, 25c.

Soaps Always Cost Less Here

6 bars Ivory, 25c.	6 bars Fairy, 25c.
6 Fels-Naptha, 25c.	3 cakes Bon Ami, 25c.
6 Octagon Laundry, 25c.	3 cakes Sapolio, 25c.
Spotless Cleanser, 5c.	2 cans Dutch Cleanser, 15c.
7 Kirk's Cabinet, 25c.	6 Gold Dust Twins, 25c.

Muslinwear at Half Price

Grouped a table of women's gowns, combinations and princess slips and children's petticoats. Just a few women's garments of each kind; quite a number of the children's petticoats and bodywaists. All need a tubbing, which accounts for the halved prices. Buy and save a half.

15c Tea Aprons 8c

White lawn tea aprons with daintily ruffled edge.

50c Sun Hats 25c

Women's chambray sun hats or automobile bonnets of plain blue chambray.

25c Ribbons 19c

4-inch silk taffeta ribbons in the bright Bulgarian colorings.

$5 to $7.50 Trimmed Hats $2.50

30 hats have just come down from the 2nd floor millinery section. All are in the correct spring styles for street and semi-dress wear. Former prices were $5 and $7.50, so they will go in a hurry at $2.50.

75c and Rough Braid Sailors 39c

The practical summer hat for smart street and outing wear. Made of the popular rough straw braids—shepherdess or straight brim with round or square crown. Black, white, navy, red.

Big Sale of Untrimmed Hats 49c

Actual Values from $1 to $2.95

Exceptional opportunities to buy genuine hemp, Neapolitan, Milan and chip hats at very much below the regular.

Bargains here. Genuine hemp, Neapolitan, Milan and chip hats much below wholesale prices. Daily we sell them to milliners who save over local jobbers' prices. Large and medium shapes for summer wear. Black, navy, brown, burnt straw and red. Choice 49c.

$1 to $1.39 Fancy Feathers for 69c

A big assortment of fancy feathers in solid colors and two-tone effects. Charming trimmings for many purposes. Have been selling freely at $1 to $1.39. Choice 69c.

On Sale Only in Rich's Economy Basement

FULTON COUNTY PRISON HEAD IS ATTACKED BY EVANGELIST

Rev. George Crabtree Scores T. G. Donaldson for Refusing to Allow Night Services in Camps.

THAT—

The South is seriously lacking in humanitarianism in its treatment of prisoners;

Small boys are made to associate with hardened criminals;

Religious services have been denied the prisoners;

Georgia is the most dereliet of Southern States in this matter;

Thomas J. Donaldson, County Superintendent of Prisons, is not the proper man for the office he occupies.

These were the declarations made by the Rev. George W. Crabtree, a prison evangelist, here to attend the Presbyterian Assemblies Thursday.

The Rev. Mr. Crabtree, who has visited many prisons and prison camps and has studied them carefully, deplored the existing conditions which he stated were in some cases totally lacking in Christianity or humanity.

Armed with a letter from R. E. Davison, chairman of the State Prison Commission, to act as a passport, the evangelist visited many of the State encampments and other prisons. He declared that when he presented the letter to Mr. Donaldson and asked permission to hold services in his camp Mr. Donaldson flatly refused.

Claims He Ignored Letter.

"Not only did Mr. Donaldson refuse to permit me to hold services in his camp," said Mr. Crabtree, "but he ignored Mr. Davison's letter also in this respect. I went so far as to telephone one of his officials, a warden in charge of the camp, and asked him if I could come out and hold services at night.

"This warden informed me that I would have to get Mr. Donaldson's permission to do that. He laughed when I told him I had Mr. Davison's permission. He told me that I could not conduct services among the prisoners in his camp without the consent of Donaldson.

"I asked Mr. Donaldson if I might be permitted to hold services there during the night time. I have conducted such services in practically every convict camp in this State and other Southern States, as well. Consequently I did not expect the reception which I received from Donaldson. He told me flatly that I could not see his prisoners at any time except on Sundays."

Charges Inhumane Usages.

The Rev. Mr. Crabtree charged in his speech that Donaldson's usages of his convicts are most inhumane. He declared also that the work of soul-saving among them was hampered. The evangelist averred that the men were treated more brutally in the Fulton County camp than in that of any other section of the State.

Mr. Crabtree severely criticised Donaldson's action in ignoring Mr. Davison's letter, declaring that it was a pointed insult to the commissioner, as well Christianity.

Mr. Davison's letter read as follows:

State Prison Commission,
Atlanta, Ga.

To the Wardens of the State:

This will introduce to you Mr. George W. Crabtree, who is a prison evangelist. Permit him to enter your camps and preach to the prisoners and hold religious services of any kind that he sees fit, provided it is done on Sundays or at night, when the prisoners are in camp. Any courtesies shown will be appreciated.

Very truly,
R. E. DAVISON, Chairman.

Scores Boys' Treatment.

"That small boys should be put in the company of hardened criminals is a disgrace to the South," declared Mr. Crabtree. In this respect Georgia is far behind many of the other Southern States, many of which have begun to realize that the prisoner is, after all, a human being and that efforts should be made to elevate him rather than harden him in the ways of sin. In many Georgia camps I have seen little boys crowded in camps of full grown men, which is undoubtedly the worst thing that can be done.

"Throughout the South, in practically every convict camp that I have visited, the prisoners receive my teachings and the services that I hold in the right spirit. I have had many conversations among the prisoners and I have yet to find a camp where the men are not glad to hear me preach.

Few Guards Are Converted.

"But the greatest trouble is among the guards and prison officials. In the five years that I have been doing evangelistic work in the convict camps, though the conversions of prisoners have been many, I have had but one convert among the guards and officials. That was an old man in South Carolina some months ago."

The Rev. Mr. Crabtree, whose home is in Washington, S. C., travels from camp to camp in a large spring wagon, and in every State but Georgia, and, in fact, everywhere in Georgia except in Fulton County, is permitted to hold services among the prisoners every night and several times on Sunday. He has lately been given a number of phonograph records, and during his services regales the prisoners with sacred music on a phonograph.

He came recently from the convict camps of Texas, where he was sent by the First Presbyterian Church session of Houston. At the close of his work in one big Texas camp the prisoners drew up resolutions of thanks to the Houston church for sending the Rev. Mr. Crabtree among them.

U. S. Cardinal Is Called to Vatican

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ROME, ITALY, May 22.—Cardinal William O'Connell, of Boston, arrived here recently, accompanied by Dr. John R. Slattery, and both have had frequent interviews at the Vatican, especially with Cardinal Merry Del Val, who is an intimate friends of the Boston prelate, while Dr. Slattery met and conferred with the Pope's doctors.

Secrecy is maintained as to the object of Cardinal O'Connell's visit, but it is said he was summoned to Rome by the Papal Secretary of State.

White City Park Now Open

EXTRA SPECIAL
Friday Offerings
Sorosis Shoe Dept.

285 pairs of new Spring Pumps and Button Oxfords, just received, go on sale at 8 a. m., Friday, $3.50 values, at pair $2.49

Including black satin, patent colt and gun metal. Beautiful Satin Evening Slippers, in pink, blue, white, red and black: A $3.00 value, Friday only, pair.. $1.95

Genuine English models, now the craze among college girls and young women in general, in black calf, tan Russia calf and white Sea Island canvas, with either leather or rubber soles, and sold in all shoe stores at $5.00 pair. One day only, Friday, pair... $3.85

J.M.HIGH COMPANY.

ASSIGNEE'S AUCTION SALE
Atlanta Real Estate, Residences and Storehouse

The above cut represents the home place of J. M. Averett, assignor in this matter, located on the Peyton Road, about six miles west of Atlanta, near the Mason and Turner Ferry Road.

This beautiful 2-story, 8-room residence will be offered for sale, first with fifteen acres of land, and next with about fifteen more acres of land containing a 5-room cottage and a large storehouse, total about thirty acres. All of this property is in two adjoining tracts of land which have been surveyed and subdivided into eighty lots, the total value of which is $25,000, fronting on Peyton Road 1,168 feet and 758 feet on Rockwood Avenue and Mason and Turner Road.

The River car line now runs within a mile of this property. The English Avenue car line, which stops within a mile of the Mason and Turner Road on the River car line, will be extended down the River car line and Mason and Turner Road, passing this property, as soon as the Mason and Turner Road is widened by the County, and an ordinance has already been passed by the County to do this work.

This property will be offered for sale at public outcry in front of the court house door, Fulton County, Ga., at the corner of Pryor and Hunter Streets, on Tuesday, June 3, 1913, at 10 a. m., and will be sold to the highest bidder, or bidders, subject to the approval of a Creditors' Committee.

Terms of sale: Purchaser assumes mortgage of $2,000 on home place and fifteen acres, and $1,000 on balance of thirty acres, due March 1, 1915, with interest at 6 per cent, payable semi-annually, and on equity pays 25 per cent cash; 25 per cent in six months; 25 per cent in twelve months and 25 per cent in eighteen months; deferred payments to bear interest at 7 per cent from date of confirmation of said sale.

For inspection of property inquire of J. M. Averett, care Rockwood Commercial Company, Mason and Turner Road, R. F. D. No. 5, Atlanta, Ga., or the undersigned.

H. A. FERRIS, Trustee,

402 Rhodes Building - - - - - Atlanta, Georgia

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.
Atlanta New York Paris

Once Perhaps in a Season Such
A Lace Sale
As This at Nine o'Clock To-morrow
Smyrna, Torchon, Cluny, Irish and Valenciennes Laces at Wonderfully Low Prices

We would not pose as prophets, but we do predict large, happy crowds here for laces to-morrow when the covers are lifted at nine o'clock and this sale gets under way. It will be but the logical sequence of events---given such a cause at this season---wanted laces at fractioned prices---and the result is---well consider your own wants.

You would ordinarily buy, for a hundred and one purposes, many, many yards of just such laces within a six months. You need them, you must have them; no denying that. This sale is calculated to make it very evident that now is the time to supply yourself against all the emergencies of a six months. Prices are fractioned---and the laces are all of that quality that you are accustomed to associate with Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co., and therein lies the completed merit of the sale---quality priced.

Here is the schedule of the savings:

Linen Laces That Were 15c to $1.50 a Yard Are Reduced One-Fourth to One-Half

These are Smyrna, Cluny and Torchon edges and insertions, both hand-made and machine-made, one-half inch to four and one-half inches wide.

1,100 Yards of 25c to 60c Laces Are Now 8c a Yard

Odd lots gathered from here and there in the stock. Venise bands and edges, Irish laces, cotton bands in white and ecru and a few colored trimmings.

200 Dozen Yards of 15c to 25c a Yard Laces Are Now 75c a Dozen

Round thread Valenciennes lace edges in cream and white. These will be sold only by the dozen.

200 Dozen 7 1-2c to 12 1-2c a Yard Laces Are 29c a Dozen

Narrow round thread Valenciennes edges. Sold only by the dozen yards. Fine patterns for waists, for underwear.

A "Little" Sale of Neckwear in Which the Savings Are Big

Keeping things ever new in the neckwear section means keeping odd surpluses down—never allowing them to accumulate.

This is our method—

50c and 39c Princess Helen cotton crepe and voile collars, all white, are 25c and 19c.

Novel 25c embroidered white batiste collars are 15c.

$1.00 and $1.25 all white embroidered collars, with Valenciennes lace edges, are 69c.

A number of $1.00 to $6.00 Valenciennes lace guimpes, some hand-embroidered, are Half-Price.

25c to 50c a yard rufflings, one inch to four inches wide, white, ecru and black, are 15c.

Mesh veilings, regularly 50c to $1.00 a yard, black and colors, are, a yard, 15c.

The Savings On These Gloves Should Fit In Nicely

50c Lisle thread gloves, long-wearing quality, two-clasp, in black, white and tan, at 29c.

Kayser's $1.00 sixteen-button silk gloves, and where you find the name Kayser on a glove there is worth; these in light blue, pink, lavender, buff, navy, tan and brown at 59c.

Trefousse's sixteen-button glace kid gloves, always $3.50 a pair because the kid skin is that soft, supple quality, and because they are so beautifully finished in every little detail; these in cream, buff, gray, pink, light blue and lavender at $1.98.

New and Very Dainty Handkerchiefs

Fill the handkerchief box for the summer-time with such handkerchiefs as these and you will fill it with handkerchief satisfaction.

These are qualities that have brought this department to the position it now holds among the stores of the country—one notable for its fine qualities at low prices.

Women's hand-embroidered initial handkerchiefs, all linen, at 10c.

Women's hand-hemstitched and hand-embroidered sheer linen handkerchiefs at 25c.

Women's sheer lissue handkerchiefs in white and many dainty shades to match summer dresses, shades that will not fade, at 25c.

Women's colored handkerchiefs, with hand-embroidered corner designs, at 15c, 25c and 50c.

Women's all linen glove handkerchiefs, very neat and dainty, at 25c and 50c.

Women's all linen handkerchiefs, exceptional quality, specially priced at 50c a dozen.

Agents For Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

J. Wylie Smith's Own Story

Stirring Episodes in Long Flight

Career in Mexican Army Thrilling

This is the fourth installment of the story of J. Wylie Smith, the refugee president of the defunct Commercial Loan and Discount Company, who, after evading extradition during two years of service in the insurrecto army of General Orozco, in Mexico, returned to Atlanta to stand trial because he is dying with tuberculosis—a phantom of his former self.

By J. WYLIE SMITH.

(Continued From Yesterday.)

I was dispatched by Salazar to take several hundred men to Mopemi and storm the fortifications in an effort to separate Tellez' army at Torreon. Compos, an insurrecto colonel, had about 600 men to the North of Mopemi and he was to meet me. When Tellez sent relief to Mopemi Salazar was to send a detachment between the divided army and we were to attack the smaller number from all sides.

Rebels Victims of Ruse.

It worked as beautifully as anything you ever saw. Resorting to Rojas' old scheme I built fake camp fires and had bugles blown over a distance of a mile. When we attacked the federals next morning we found that they had all fled.

Tellez then sent two regiments down as a relief. With some 1,500 rebels Salazar cut them off. Compos came up on the other side. We had them prisoners, without a chance of escape.

Tellez, feigning to be ignorant of the situation, published a statement in a Torreon paper that he was going to send a trainload of supplies to Mopemi. The information reached Salazar.

"Seize the train," ordered Salazar.

The train came. It was seized. But instead of supplies it was composed of two carloads of beer and a car of whisky.

John Barleycorn Wins.

That was our end. As soon as the news spread through Salazar's 1,500 men they broke ranks and made for the train. In an hour the worst orgie that ever splotched the face of this earth was in progress. Fifteen hundred men were as drunk as boiled owls. The very ground seemed alive with imps and in every direction was the din of bestial revelry. The 1,500 prisoners walked through them back to Tellez and Torreon as easily as though they had been sick fish.

At Rojas I got orders placing me on the staff of General Rojas. But I was getting tired of this foolish and treacherous warfare and I was looking for a chance to get away.

We heard that reinforcements for the Federals were coming from the South so Orozco abandoned his siege of Mexico City. Retreating north the Federals pursued us. With Rojas I went on to Chihuahua and reached there on July 3, lacking one day of being a year since I first reached the city.

Orozco, who was further South, ordered us to continue our retreat to Juarez. He wanted all the trains for his army, for the Federals were so hot behind him he expected to be in a hurry.

Under orders from General Rojas I went to Governor Eurile and got an order releasing all prisoners. I felt great pride as I went to deliver freedom to my old associates. Many of them had taken a special liking to me when I was held there as a prisoner and I felt a real affection for a number of them.

But my old friend Warden Rembao was not so pleased with the order. He knew the Federals would soon be in the town and he was afraid he would be punished. I hated him but when he began to let them out one at a time I told him it would not do to be rough with a man who had been so kind to me.

I Open the Gates.

Rembao resisted. I went to General Rojas. The General was offended and ordering two companies to follow him marched toward the jail.

"Open the gates," he said to me.

I threw them wide and 325 men rushed to freedom. Rembao said he would take them back so Rojas put me in charge of them to protect them. I marched them into a quartel.

Orozco insisted that we move on towards Juarez. We offered the prisoners freedom or places as soldiers or freedom. All but two old men joined us.

Many wanted to stay in Chihuahua and fight. But Orozco had promised if the residents would not move away he would not allow a battle to take place in the city. He kept that promise both at Chihuahua and Juarez, which was what I thought to be an evidence of real statesmanship and kindness.

You people in Atlanta have heard great stories of the shrewd work the detectives did in catching me.

I Assumed No Disguise.

I walked the streets of Juarez undisguised and under my right name. I decided I did not want to come back to the United States. I realized that the Mexican revolution probably would last long after my earthly days. So why not. I had made good as a soldier of fortune and I had powerful friends.

But forces stronger than human power had picked me out. On July 11 I was stricken with typhoid fever and taken to the hospital.

Orozco and Rojas fell out. Rojas pulled out with his men for the State of Sonora; and that was the last I saw of the man who had been so kind to me and with whom my fortunes had been so closely linked during the past year.

Three days later a Pinkerton detective, Turrel, of the Houston agency located me. He saw that my food was not good and he had better food sent to me, for which I was very grateful.

A few days later General Orozco called and took a seat on the side of my bed.

"Smith," he said, "Turrel has offered me $600 to give you up. Must I do it?"

Orozco's Temptation.

Six hundred dollars looked mighty big. I knew what it meant to Orozco in his depleted financial state. I shut my eyes and felt that my last chance had gone, and I couldn't decide whether I cared or not.

The spirit of the fighter was still alive in me, though. I asked him to protect me.

He had brought with him a copy of the El Paso Times. He could not speak or read a word of English and he asked me to read him a certain editorial in the Times. It was a bitter denunciation of Orozco as a looter and a brigand.

"Americans hate me," he said. "They won't recognize me."

"You are Rojas' pet and Rojas and I are enemies now. But the Americans want you. Bah. I guess I'll protect Rojas' pet."

He gave Detective Turrel five minutes to get across the border. When I told him he had robbed me of my good meals he had food sent to me.

The Federals approached Juarez and Orozco again stuck to his agreement not to fight in the city. I was just able to walk when the retreat began. With five other sick men we followed the army, for I knew that the Federals would turn me over to the detectives and they might have me shot.

Sickness Overcomes Me.

Four days marching over that dusty trail in a blazing sun broke me down. I was shaking in the throes of a fatal sickness, I knew. The first little house we reached I stopped.

Rojas' army had just passed and taken everything these people had. Two old couples lived there and when they saw my condition they took me in. Oh, the Mexicans are the most hospitable people in the world.

The man at the head of the house was Ricardo Martinoz, a peon farmer. He raised only peas and corn and chickens. All were gone except about two bushels of peas which he found in the field. It was later discovered that the soldiers had overlooked a yearling calf.

We were happy. Here was real food. But a bear came down and ate up half the calf one night. We did not have but a few good meals left.

There was no danger of being caught here. The house, a two room cottage with dirt floors, was on a [illegible] mountain trail 70 miles from Juarez.

Horrors Overcome Me.

My fever raged. I began to want to be caught. I had no bed, but wrapped in a thick blanket I had secured from the army I rolled in agony on that dirt floor. I had hemorrhages. I was dying. Then, to my surprise, I began to get better.

It was cold up there in the Sierra Mountains. In January it snowed. When the fever left me lying on that cold floor I got pneumonia. This was the middle of January, 1913. The old people trudged six miles across the mountains to a little village and got me a doctor—Mr. Mayfield, an Englishman.

He nursed me through the dreadful disease and got me a little credit at a little commissary nearby. But the food was poor, mostly beans and corn.

When I began to recover from the pneumonia I faced the worst horror of my life. Just able to sit up I was stricken with a hemorrhage from tuberculosis.

I Gave Up.

I gave up. I wanted to come back to Atlanta and die and be buried on my native heath. I wrote the American consul at Juarez. He communicated with Hamilton.

Then when I was ready to leave the doctor seized all my things, including the red blanket that had saved my life, and refused to let me go until I paid him. I did not have a cent. Further life with such food and surrounding conditions meant certain death.

I had to wait for mail to be transmitted to and from Hamilton. He agreed to pay my debts. A loan was secured by a friend in Juarez from parties in El Paso.

Last Friday a week ago I started on the long wagon trail, 180 miles to Juarez.

Strange to say I gained strength during this trip. I reached Juarez and had a good meal with the American consul. Feeling much stronger I went out in the park and took a seat on a bench. As is the custom in all Mexican towns the town band began to play in the public square.

The band played La Paloma. I forgot all my troubles and sped away into the land of imagination.

"Oh," I said as I arose to my feet, "if I could ride a horse I would still be in the army of the insurrectos, fighting."

I had barely noticed an American who had taken a seat beside me. When I got up he got up. I started to my little room down a side street and he followed.

When I turned a corner he set upon me, striking me full in the mouth. Here the scar is now. I whipped out my dagger and slashed at him, cutting at his stomach.

He screamed and fled up the street. The next day Hamilton arrived.

We hurried home—home, even though it is a prison.

I kissed my little babe in San Antonio. If my wife ever gets well enough I guess she will cook again. I am dying.

It is the end of the world.

THE END.

Underwood Funeral To Be Held Friday

The body of Mrs. Amanda Underwood, wife of Alvin H. Underwood, once of Atlanta, but now of Memphis, was brought to Atlanta Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. She died in Memphis Wednesday.

The body was taken to the residence of Mr. Underwood's parents, Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Underwood, 727 Peachtree Street, where funeral services will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Rev. John B. Robins, of Trinity Church, will conduct the services. Burial will be private at Westview Cemetery.

APPLE WOMAN LEAVES $40,000.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 22.—Madeline Raggio, known to every river man on the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers as "Apple Annie," is dead here to-day. During the years she sold apples from a basket she made $40,000.

KENTUCKIANS FIGHT FATAL DUEL IN FRONT OF CHURCH

LEXINGTON, KY., May 22.—In a duel at church between W. K. Osborn, 49, and Lewis White, 23, White killed Osborn. Both used pistols. Osborn, it is alleged, mistreated a brother of White, who announced he would kill Osborn on sight. They met in front of a church and shot out the affair in the presence of scores of people. White, who was uninjured, escaped into the mountains.

PUBLIC TARIFF HEARINGS WILL TERMINATE MAY 27

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Notice has been served upon those who wish to protest against the Underwood bill that the various sub-committees of the Senate Finance Committee will terminate their public hearings on Tuesday, May 27.

Hansen Loses Fight To Stage 'Croesus'

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, May 22.—The appeal of J. Salter Hansen, a Chicago theatrical man, against the order enjoining him from use of the Garrick Theater, was dismissed to-day by the court. This means that Dr. Henri DeRothschilds' play, "Croesus," will be produced by Arthur Bourchier at the Garrick Theater to-night.

For over a week theatrical circles have been jarred by the legal warfare between Hansen and Bourchier. The dispute grew out of claims of both managers to the right to produce "Croesus." Hansen got the first option on the play, but the playwright afterward repudiated it. Then the rights were sold to Bourchier.

Maxwell House Blend

is coffee of uniform excellence and absolute purity.

Insist upon getting it.

Sealed cans at grocers.

Cheek-Neal Coffee Co.
Nashville
Houston
Jacksonville

CUTTING EXPENSES

It's like cutting the grass on your lawn. You cut off your superfluous grass and leave that which is desirable. Same with your expenses—cut down the unnecessary ones and gather up the dollars which you will save by so doing and bank them with us.

4% Interest Added

GEORGIA SAVINGS BANK & TRUST CO.

GRANT BUILDING

Open Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 in addition to morning hours.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO. ATLANTA - NEW YORK - PARIS CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

Let Every Good Housekeeper Attend These Two Sales In The Bazaar To-morrow

A Sale of Metal Wares and Novelties, A Sale of Lamps

They are packed with savings.

The advertising pen rushes to its opportunity.

It is prone to exclaim at the top of its point on such an occasion. Here is good news---better news for housekeepers than in many a day.

Included in these sales are any number of those little brass, nickel and copper novelties that a housekeeper always finds good use for---tea sets, trays, kettles, fern dishes, jardinieres, ramekins and the like, and then those fine brown earthen cooking utensils---casseroles, dishes, pans; exquisite and gorgeous lamps and simple little lamps. And such prices as these!

Read them carefully.

Any wonder the advertising pen wants to write in superlatives?

But no, rather will we leave the superlatives to you and your exclamations when you see just how good the values are and just how many useful and wanted articles these sales bring.

To those fixing up their homes these sales are a direct command to be up early and to Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co's.

They get under way with the opening of the store.

Metal Wares and Novelties

50c and 85c watering pots in bright colors 25c
25c watering pots in bright colors 10c
$18.50 brass tea set and tray, 5 pieces $4.50
$16.50 copper tea set and tray, 5 pieces $3.50
$12.50 brass tea set and tray, 5 pieces $3.00
$37.50 wrought iron and copper tea kettle and wall fixture $9.00
$14.50 brass coffee urn $4.50
$10.00 brass kettle $2.50
$6.50 brass kettle $1.75
$8.50 copper baking dish $2.50
$5.00 brass fern dishes $1.50
$5.00 nickel and tile serving trays $1.50
$7.50 nickel trivets with stove $2.50
$10.00 nickel trivet with stove $2.50
$8.50 nickel relish dish $1.50
$5.00 nickel and glass tankards $1.00
$4.00 silver plate tea pot 75c
$5.00 brass egg boiler $1.00
$1.00 brass fern dishes 25c
$4.50 Oriental brass lanterns 50c
$5.00 brass serving trays $1.00
$7.50 wicker serving tray $3.00
$8.50 brass serving tray $2.50
50c embossed tin trays 15c
40c embossed tin trays 10c
20c embossed tin trays 5c
$5.00 brass watering pot $1.50
$1.50 brass incense burner 25c
$1.50 brass cigar lamps 25c
$1.25 nickel tea strainers 25c
$4.50 nickel and glass caviar dish 75c
$10.00 brass wine cooler $1.50
$2.50 brass door knockers 50c
$3.50 brass candle wall brackets 50c
$5.00 brass candelabra $1.00
$20.00 coffee and brandy set, damaged $2.00
$2.50 novelty decanters 90c
$14.00 wrought iron stand and jardiniere $5.00
$12.50 wrought iron smoking set and stand $4.50
$9.00 bronze candle stick $1.50
$1.25 bronze wall brackets 25c
$14.50 carved wood and brass bellows $3.00
$6.50 carved wood and brass bellows $1.00
$12.50 brass and leather bellows $2.50
$14.50 bronze card stand, damaged $1.75
25c candlesticks, large old-fashioned shape, all colors 10c
90c Oriental baskets 25c
$2.25 Oriental baskets 75c
$5.00 Oriental hanging lamps $1.50
$6.50 mission jardiniere $1.50
$17.50 set of 12 nickel ramekins $5.00
$7.50 casseroles $3.00

The Lamps

$4.50 to $11.50 Lamps $2.98

Included are gas lamps with brass and oxidized metal stands, glass shades in green and pink, complete with burner and chimney—no cord—these were $4.50 to $6.50. Electric lamps, many styles, with glass and fabric shades in green and pink. These were $5.00 to $7.50, and then electric porch lamps of cane and bamboo. These were $11.50 originally.

$100 Torchere or floor lamp, Elizabethan design of solid bronze with red plush, standard, 7 lights $35.00
$75.00 magnificent large table lamp of gold bronze and royal blue enamel $37.50
$22.50 Du Barry rose silk shade for above lamp $14.50
$44.50 Oriental Damascus brass oil lamp, student style, two burners $25.00
$57.50 Turkish brass lamp, "Napoleon" shape shade, 4 lights, yellow fringe $35.00
$15.00 Japanese vase lamp, old blue china, wicker covered, shade to match of blue rice paper $7.50
$18.50 bronze and crystal desk lamp, bronze shade, bead fringe $7.50
$45.00 large double library lamp, antique brass, amber glass shades, yellow silk fringe $22.50
$75.00 white marble and gold bronze lamp, exceedingly handsome $50.00
$32.50 shade of French prints and tapestry with fringe suitable for above lamp $17.50
$27.50 Oriental Damascus brass lamp, double inverted shades with yellow lining and fringe $12.50
$8.50 small brass desk lamp, red silk shade $3.50
$16.50 bronze and crystal lamp, red silk shade with fringe $4.50
$18.50 Persian brass oil lamp, no shade $6.50
$45.00 German bronze library lamp, yellow silk shade with heavy fringe to match $15.00

Brown Earthen Cooking Ware

25c to 40c pie pans 10c
45c bakers 15c
25c shirring dishes 10c
75c aspic molds 25c
90c aspic molds 25c
25c small bean pots 10c
50c casseroles 20c
60c casseroles 20c
$1.75 casseroles 50c
$2.25 casseroles 75c
50c tea pots 25c

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

The Dingbat Family

The Old Man Got Off Light

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Herriman

Dauntless Durham

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

Best Sporting Page In Oklabraska

Three Corners Palladium

Score and Gossip of the Big Game

My Impressions

By Katrina.

It was just too lovely.

I wore my natty Waitress suit.

The enthusiasm was great. Several Three Corners girls were at the game, but the Bulgarian belt hasn't reached Three Corners yet. They were quite out of fashion.

My hero, Durham, defeated the cur Desmond.

I knew he would. I don't know what the

-e was, but oh, I'm so happy!
-ove only Durham. He is so hand-

Durham Wins Great Game, 18-5.

By Sam Chain.

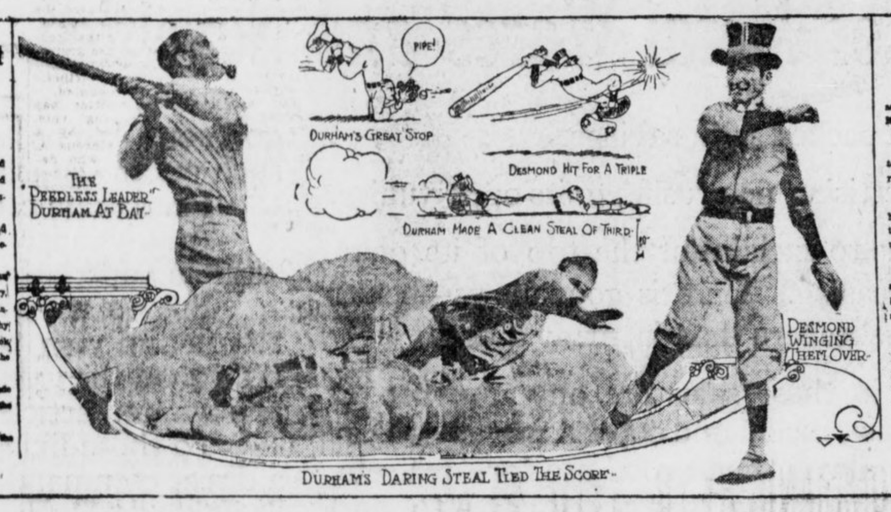
All the beauty and chivalry of Three Corners graced the ball park yesterday, when the Dauntless Durhams and the Desperate Desmonds clashed in the contest for supremacy.

The ball park was the Mecca for all lovers of sport, and with its customary enterprise the Palladium was represented by its expert.

New York's famous Polo Grounds never saw such an assemblage. Among those present were Mrs. Patsy Putty, daughter of our well-known dough merchant; Hank Hancock, who quit his barber shop for the day; our worthy Sheriff, Julius Hartzinger, the warden of the jail, who took the prisoner with him, lest he might break out while the warden was cheering Durham.

The game was replete with brilliancy. Durham made Hal Chase look slow, while Desmond batted 'em over the fence.

Long may the national sport flourish, says the Palladium.



Notes of the Big Game

Jake Jocky, the livery stable keeper, says he could pitch as good as Durham. Well, why didn't he, say we. Swat Milligan, of the Polson Oaks, batted him out of the box.

Katrina has made a lot of the local girls jealous. Who took her out buggy riding Sunday? Ah, there, Cliff Derrick!

Nothing to the way Dauntless Durham, the college boy hero, has the local boys. The girls won't look at any of them since Durham hit the town. The Pink Front store is using him to advertise their ties.

Many rumors are afloat that Desperate Desmond is an awful villain, and Three Corners is agog. Jim Thorpe, our brave constable, says he will put Desmond, silk hat or no silk hat, in the calaboose the first break he makes.

But such rumors exist about most every one. Mr. Desmond came to our office yesterday and paid for 6 years' subscription to the Palladium. "The Palladium is the national paper, and its editorials are the best ever written," said Mr. Desmond. Thanks.

Durham smokes a pipe right out on the street. That ay go in the effete cities, but it's not the class in T-'s. It should be took up by our town council -ssed against it.

There will be a tango tea in aid of Days of '76 Hose Company at the firehouse to-night. Admission including lady 35 cents. Come one, come all.

After the Game Dauntless Durham Says:

WE GIVE

Polly and Her Pals

"Get Your Goat" Gets Your Goat

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Cliff Sterrett

Us Boys

Skinny's Slip Was Quite Permissible

Registered United States Patent Office.

By Tom McNamara

The Five Frankforters

A Romance of Great Wealth as Played by Money Kings.

By KATHRYN KEY.

Copyright, 1913, by the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"Little Jacob" broke the spell. "May I speak, then? I think that such a marriage would break up our family—would utterly destroy us. We are strong because we stand to gether—one in blood, religion, ambition. What has a stranger to do with us? What does he know of our ways—or we of the ways of a Prince of the Taunus? What does he care for the faith of our fathers? What can he be to us, for all his high rank, but the stranger within our gates? What does he know of us and our deepest feelings—what does he know of our little Charlotte's heart? And I say it is folly—or madness, as my grandfather would have said!"

In implacable anger, but cool and quiet withal, Solomon said: "You are wrong, nephew. You speak as an ignorant boy. But my father had a wider outlook on life—"

Frau Gudula had been watching the faces of her sons as Jacob expressed his earnest feelings. There was a mist of deep sadness drawn over her features as she rose at the sound of Solomon's impassively determined voice: "I am not sure, my sons. Our youngest has spoken for HIM." And, attended by sacred memories, Frau Gudula left the room.

The air was very tense as Jacob spoke to his uncle: "Your father did not deal in daughters as a speculation."

The bankers had, indeed, always stood together, but an onlooker must have questioned whether the animosity that was growing between uncle and nephew in these throbbing moments would not prove a destructive force too great for the oneness of these five men to bear.

Solomon looked sternly at Jacob. "That is in both senses of the word—IM-pertinent."

"Well, I wish I had not spoken," answered Jacob—but his tone was bitter with growing misunderstanding. And later this feeling was to bear strange fruit.

"You have a right to your opinion—and to speak it. That is the rule of our family," said Amschel, the eldest.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl, with Neapolitan airiness. But the possibility of a break was stemmed by the necessity of standing together against a common foe—for just then Rose, in strange old mob-cap and uniform of calico print, came in to announce a guest who had surely never before seen servitor so garbed.

"The Prince of Klausthal"—and attired in snuff-colored, cape-topped greatcoat and high bronze hat of the latest Beau Nash style, His High and Mightiness entered the old fashioned home of Frau Gudula, the Jewess of Frankfort.

The bankers knew they were to be snubbed, yet the courtesy of the home and the claims of business demanded that they put as good a face upon the matter as possible. On Rose's announcement Amschel had exclaimed with naive joy: "The first of our royal relatives to call." But however royal the Prince's air, it was not marked by any sense of kinship!

"Er—how do you like Frankfort?" asked Amschel.

Frankfort indeed! "I am very much interested in this part of the city, which I have not before visited," said the royal relative.

"It is curious, isn't it?" spoke the Neapolitan brother with sympathy.

"Very curious," said the Prince dryly.

"But we are used to it," said Amschel with eager unction. And then a long, awkward silence fell.

Bad Business.

At last, with suave elegance, the Prince broke the spell of silence: "Gentlemen—my cousin, the Duke Gustavus, has informed me that he will call on you to-day—and with what purpose he is coming."

Solomon broke in eagerly: "It will interest me to hear what your Highness said to him—your opinion of this marriage."

"As a matter of business," interposed Amschel.

The Prince answered with every drop of royal blood marshalling indignant forces back of his easy tone: "I confine myself, gentlemen, to such business as is my own—those affairs which you have, till now, so ably conducted for me. I am here to ask you to transfer my money to a banking firm in Paris, with whom in future I propose to deal."

"Is your Highness dissatisfied with our management of your affairs?" asked Amschel, the ubiquitous.

"Oh, no. But as by my cousin's marriage, I shall have the honor of being distantly connected with your family, I consider it inconvenient that you should continue the administration of my finances. I could not so burden my relatives—however distant."

Solomon summoned dignity to his aid. "I entirely agree with his Highness. I should much dislike to benefit—in business—by my connection with your family."

The duel was on. "I am glad we are in accord. Perhaps you will agree with me in this—since your family is now ennobled—that financial obligations are not the worst our aristocracy may incur? May I request you to convey my compliments to the ladies of your family—and permit me to wish you a good day."

But Solomon's lucky day in his father's house had not begun very propitiously. In fact, this day, for all its golden sunshine, did not seem to be a bearer of joy. The old Castle of Neustadt seemed to feel something in the air—and at the state breakfast a hard-faced little Princess Evelyn had presided behind the great gold coffee urn. "Gustavus," she had asked with all her heart in her eyes, "how soon will some one else pour your coffee for you?"

"No fairer face will ever peek rougishly at me from behind the old urn"— began Gustavus in a bantering tone, but suddenly the light that may shine for a man in but one true pair of eyes cast its soft radiance over Gustavus' soul—"Evelyn, Evelyn—little cousin"—he breathed so softly that even the attendant lackeys could not hear—"Evelyn—my God is it true—you could care, perhaps?" And the name of his maker had here been uttered so reverently by the lips of Gustavus of Taunus.

The Social World

MR. AND MRS. PAUL SEYDEL, of New York, who are being tendered a series of parties as guests of Mrs. Seydel's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Vassar Woolley, were honor guests at the tea given Thursday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. Woolley.

Dorothy Perkins roses, arranged throughout the house, with pastel tinted sweetpeas, formed the decorations in all apartments. On the piazza, where punch was served, the decorations were of palms and foliage plants, with vases of yellow primroses and daisies. Misses Virginia Lipscomb, Bertha Moore, Margaret McCarty and Marian Woolley served punch.

In the dining room the prettily appointed tea table was adorned with vari-colored sweetpeas, arranged in a tall silver vase rising from a flat bowl of the same blossoms.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb, Mrs. William D. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Hugh Willet, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Mrs. William Hurd Hillyer, Mrs. Shepard Eryan, Mrs. George M. Brown, Mrs. Hugh McKee, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. William M. Slaton, Mrs. Ronald Ransome, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. B. M. Woolley and Mrs. Edward T. Brown.

Mrs. Woolley was handsomely gowned in white marquisette, embroidered in rose color. Mrs. Seydel's gown of white chiffon and lace had touches of pale pink and blue. Mrs. James Jackson wore black lace elaborately trimmed in jet.

A number of gentlemen were included among the guests, and the affair was one of the happiest events of the week, affording the close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Seydel an opportunity to greet them.

For Miss Boyd.

A compliment to Miss Elizabeth Boyd, the guest of Miss Carolyn King, was the bridge party given by Miss Eloise Oliver Thursday afternoon at her home on Peachtree Street. Nasturtiums in yellow shades were used in decorating the rooms where the card tables were placed, and pink sweetpeas graced the tea table in the dining room, where all the details were in pink and white. Miss Oliver wore a white lace gown draped in pink chiffon.

The party included Misses Elizabeth Boyd, Carolyn King, Adeline Thomas, Frances Connally, Josephine Stoney, Susie Hallman, Courtenay Harrison, Marion Goldsmith, Hildreth Burton-Smith, Martha Francis, Aurelia Speer, Katherine Ellis, Elizabeth Morgan, Emily Winship, Annie Lee McKenzie, Sarah Rawson, Marion Woodward, Marjorie Brown, Margaret Hawkins, Nancy Hill Hopkins, Clifford West, Harriet Orr, Penelope Clarke, Mrs. Charles Shelton and Mrs. William Schroeder.

For Mr. and Mrs. Seydel.

Mrs. William D. Grant will entertain a party of young people at dinner Sunday evening, at the country home of Governor-elect and Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seydel, of New York.

At Mrs. James Jackson's matinee party Saturday for Mrs. Seydel the guests will include Mrs. Seydel, Mrs. Vassar Woolley and Mrs. B. M. Woolley. Mrs. George Forrester will give a matinee party Tuesday for Mrs. Seydel, who was entertained informally at tea at the Piedmont Driving Club Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. William D. Ellis, Jr.

Miss Cora Brown Entertains.

Miss Cora Brown entertained at lunch yesterday at the Capital City Club in honor of Mrs. John Callaway, of Knoxville, Tenn., here in attendance at the Southern Presbyterian Assembly. The affair was informal, covers being laid for eight intimate friends of Mrs. Callaway, who will be remembered as Miss Florence Newton, a former Atlanta girl.

Miss Watts Hostess.

Miss Louise Watts will entertain at bridge Friday afternoon at her home on Spring Street. Her guests will be Miss Genie Hood, of Cuthbert; Miss Helen Taylor and her guest, Mrs. Walter Keenan, of Columbia, S. C.; Miss Emma Taylor, Miss Edith Watts, Mrs. Paul Seydel, of New York; Mrs. R. W. Hunt and Mrs. L. C. Meckel.

For Miss Dowmer.

Miss Margaret Armstrong will give a bridge party Tuesday afternoon for Miss Aline Parks' guest, Miss Louise Dowmer, of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Mrs. John Means Daniel will give a tea Wednesday for her.

For Dr. and Mrs. Hume.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borford entertained informally at luncheon Wednesday for Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hume, of Oklahoma, who are attending the General Assembly.

Miss Candler Hostess.

Miss Allie Candler entertained the sixteen members of the graduating class of Agnes Scott College at luncheon on Thursday.

Bridge at East Lake.

Misses Isabel and Ethel Wilson entertained twelve guests at bridge on Thursday afternoon at the East Lake Country Club for Mrs. Harvey Burt Wheelock, of Birmingham, who is visiting Miss Hennie Franklin. The prizes were a pink brocaded jewel box, a half-spoon, and a Vantine pin box. The tables were decorated with sweetpeas.

Reception for Bride.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jackson gave a reception Tuesday evening for their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Coursey, and Mr. Coursey, at their country place on the Hamilton Road. About 40 guests were entertained at a buffet supper, after which there was a linen shower for the bride.

For Miss Gaut.

Miss Mary Gaut, of Nashville, was given an informal bridge Thursday afternoon by her hostess, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun. Red poppies and red rambler roses decorated all apartments except the dining room, where the tea table was adorned with pink and white sweetpeas, with all minor details in pink and white. A few other friends joined the players for tea. Mrs. Calhoun wore white ratine, with coat of heavy white lace. Miss Gaut wore pink marquisette.

Oyez! Oyez! Oyez! Woman Opens Court

WATERTOWN, N. Y., May 22.—For what is supposed to be the first time in the history of the Supreme Court in New York State, a woman opened court here to-day. Miss Bertha McDonnell, Deputy County Clerk of Jefferson County, had the honor.

When Justice Emerson took the bench this morning the court crier was absent and Miss McDonnell was summoned. She mounted the bench to the crier's dais, raised the gavel and called out the "Oyez, Oyez," etc., of the official ritual for opening the court.

Brith Abraham Work Enthuses Atlantans

Atlanta delegates to the Brith Abraham convention, just closed in Buffalo, N. Y., are returning home enthused about the work accomplished by the organization in the past year. Local delegates, members of Kadisha Lodge No. 216, included Samuel Gersham, J. H. Goldstein and I. M. Feinberg.

WOMAN'S CLUB EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS ON FRIDAY

The executive board of the Atlanta Woman's Club will hold its last meeting Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Important business is to be transacted

Miss Lemmie Sims

The talented daughter of Mrs. H. L. Sims. Miss Sims will take part in the piano recital at Cable Hall on May 30.

PERSONALS

Miss Isabel Clarke, of Augusta, is the guest of Miss Eloise Stewart.

Miss Harriet Calhoun is ill at her home on Peachtree Street.

Mrs. Charles Collier and baby, and Miss Amelia Sturgeon left Monday for a ten-days' visit at Carey N. C.

Mrs. John Callaway, of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting Misses Mary and Lucy Nagle.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Jones returned Monday from Johns Hopkins, Baltimore. Mr. Jones is greatly improved.

Miss Nelson Chambliss, of Chattanooga, returned home Tuesday. Thursday Miss Lula Dean Jones left for a visit to Miss Chambliss.

Mrs. John J. Woodside, Jr., who underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Joseph's Wednesday morning, is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carey, whose marriage at the home of the bride, in Uvalde, Texas, was a recent event, have returned and are at home with the bridegroom's father, Mr. John Carey, 439 North Jackson Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, of Cincinnati, who are in the city attending the General Assembly, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daniel at luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club Tuesday. Wednesday Mrs. George Tigner had as her guests at the Capital City Club for luncheon Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. William Spalding and Mrs. Thomas Daniel.

COMMANDERY TO GIVE HIGH DEGREE

Sixteen Former Masonic Heads to Confer Order of Temple Friday Night.

Sixteen past commanders, embracing the entire roster of Atlanta Commandery, will participate in conferring the Order of the Temple at a conclave to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

The occasion will be in the nature of a reunion for Atlanta Knights of the Temple and gives promise of being the greatest conclave in Atlanta's history.

Music will be provided by the Knight Templar quartet. Another feature will be the execution of military movements by the Knight Templar drill corps of Atlanta.

Joseph Kyle Orr, grand senior warden of the Grand Encampment of the United States, will be present. The following past commanders of Atlanta Commandery will participate: Joseph C. Greenfield, Thomas H. Jeffries, George E. Argard, George T. E. Hardeman, Forrest Adair, John R. Dickey, James G. Lester, David E. Ashby, William M. Slaton, John R. Wilkinson, William A. Sims, Malvern Hill, Albert P. Wood, John D. Simmons, Fred W. Hadley and George S. Barker. Seated in the east will be Cicero A. Peck, Levin C. Mathews, John H. Barfield and H. H. Cassil.

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

KEITH VAUDEVILLE AT FORSYTH.

It's a good bill of Keith vaudeville which is being presented this week at the Forsyth Theater. The headliner is Ed Gillette's animal act with "Adam" and "Eve," two remarkably well trained monkeys, playing th estellar roles. Joe Geiger, the man who makes a violin "talk," is a prime favorite on t.e bill. Variety is the keynote of the program. There's plenty of comedy and the work of Bradshaw Brothers, gymnasts, and the Dunedin troupe of bicycle riders is well worth while. Maggie Cline is the headliner for next week.

"THE DEEP PURPLE" AT ATLANTA.

"The Deep Purple" is one of the most interesting plays yet produced at the Atlanta Theater by Miss Billy Long and her associate players. The play is from the pen of Paul Armstrong. It is ingenious in plot and the action is swift and compelling. Each character is well drawn and the work of all the members of Miss Long's company is excellent. There will be a matinee on Saturday. The company is now rehearsing "St. Elmo," which will be the offering next week.

TABLOID PROVES POPULAR.

Tabloid musical comedy, interspersed with vaudeville, as presented at the Bijou this week, is proving immensely popular with patrons of that house. Every performance has been well attended. "A Trip to Joyville" is the comedy presented. Daily matinees are given

White City Park Now Open

ACCUSES PASTOR OF HERESY IN ASSEMBLY

Charge Made Against Jersey Minister in Debate Stirs Delegates to Protest.

A charge of heresy against the Rev. Robert Inglis, of Newark, N. J., uttered on the floor of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly, provided the sensation of Thursday morning's session.

The accusation was uttered by the Rev. James G. Mason, of Metuchen, N. J., just before the Assembly took its noon recess, and came so unexpectedly that the commissioners were bewildered by its suddenness.

They were undecided whether to take Dr. Mason seriously until they saw by his grim features and angry gestures that he was genuinely in earnest.

Has Evidence, He Says.

"I have the evidence in my possession to prove it," shouted Dr. Mason, menacingly, "but I am not going to file formal charges."

Before the Metuchen commissioner could go further a score of delegates were on their feet protesting against his language.

Moderator Stone brought Dr. Mason to a stop by ruling him out of order. The speaker insisted on continuing, but the moderator was firm.

The charges were sprung in the debate on the report of the special committee on graded Sunday school lessons, and after Dr. Inglis, in the interest of harmony, had advocated the adoption of the committee's report, which recommended droping the present "syndicate" lessons on the ground that they were not properly representative of Presbyterian doctrines.

Inglis Recommendation Adopted.

The report of the committee was adotped by an overwhelming vote. The discussion was marked by a forceful address by Rev. Marcus A. Brownson, of Philadelphia, who declared the "syndicate" lessons did not come up to the doctrinal teachings of the Presbyterian Church and were harmful alike to the teacher and the scholar.

Mexico City Light System Menaced

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—Troops were rushed to-day to Necaxa, a suburb, where rebels are reported to be menacing the power station which furnishes electric light for this city. The plant was built with American and Canadian capital and represents an investment of $2,000,000.

A new revolt, the ninth since Huerta became President, is about to be launched in the State of Jalisco.

Sheriff Collects $5,300 in 3 Months

Sheriff Wheeler Mangum Thursday filed with the Secretary of State a report of his collections of fees for the first quarter of 1913. The total is $5,303.54, considerable less than the amounts reported by other county officers.

Since the action of the Supreme Court in declaring the new salary law unconstitutional the fees go to the sheriff and his men, as the fees of the various other officers go to the men in those offices. The sheriff divides his with eighteen deputies.

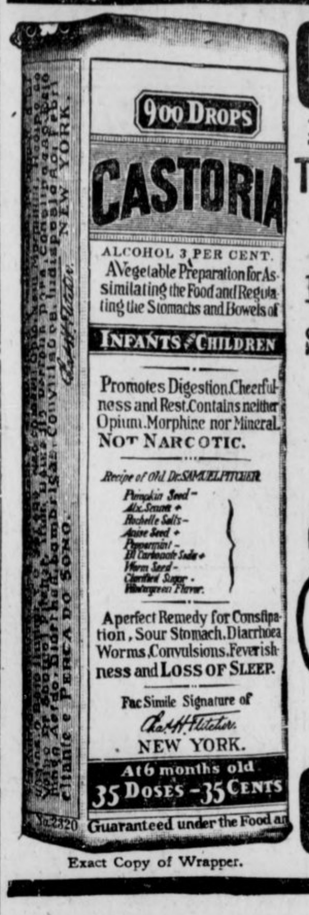
Street Railway Wins Suit.

VALDOSTA.—A suit of Miss Essie Barnwell against the Valdosta Street Railway Company for permanent injury to her eyes in a collision, ended in the jury bringing in a verdict for the railway company. She asked $5,000.

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured, therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps, DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE FIRST CONSIDERATION

In the Management of Trust Funds Is

SECURITY

It rises above Friendship.
Make your Trust Estate absolutely safe by placing its administration with the

TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA

Capital and Surplus $1,800,000

Equitable Bldg. Pryor St.

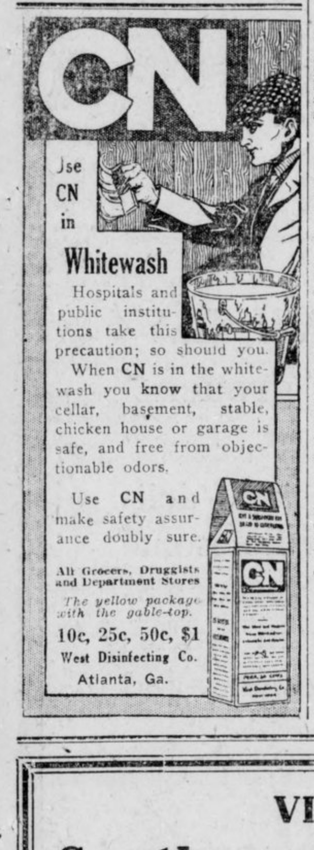
NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION

KNOXVILLE TENN
Sept. 1st to Nov. 1st
1913
LOW RATES ON ALL RAILROADS

The big event of the year, national in scope, with the South as its special field. Grounds cover more than 100 acres. Eleven large buildings and a number of smaller structures. Ten acres of exhibit space. The Industrial Progress of the South to be shown in a special All-South Building. Many large exhibitors taking from 500 to 2,000 square feet for their displays. Attractions new and on extensive scale.

Make your plans to visit the largest exposition ever held in the Southern States. Reduced rates from all points. Write for illustrated booklets.

CN



Use CN in Whitewash

Hospitals and public institutions take this precaution; so should you.

When CN is in the whitewash you know that your cellar, basement, stable, chicken house or garage is safe, and free from objectionable odors.

Use CN and make safety assurance doubly sure.

All Grocers, Druggists and Department Stores

The yellow package with the gable-top.

10c, 25c, 50c, $1

West Disinfecting Co.

Atlanta, Ga.

Spirella CORSETS

(NOT SOLD IN STORES)

Fitted in your own home.

SPIRELLA CORSET SHOP

Phone W. 428.

Telephone or send postal for corsetiere to call.

VIA

Southern Railway

Premier Carrier of the South

$3.00 Round Trip From Atlanta $3.00

Correspondingly low fares from other points.

Tickets on sale May 24-25-26-27-28, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon May 29.

Return limit June 5, with privilege of extension.

Stopovers at all Stations.

4 Regular Trains Daily 4

Also Special Trains as Below

May 26—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.	12:15 noon
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
May 27—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, NO. 1 PEACHTREE STREET.

J. L. MEEK, A. G. P. A. R. L. BAYLOR, D. P. A.

ATLANTA, GA.

YOU FORGET YOUR WORRIES AT THE BONITA

Your troubles, business cares and worries disappear when you visit the Bonita. You begin to pat your foot when the orchestra starts and you follow with a swaying body the catchy songs and dances of the beauty chorus, and you laugh until your sides ache at the funny comedians. Try it; it's a good tonic.

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Quick mail service for out-of-town customers.

Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Special Sale of Shoe Polish, Shoe Trees and Cleaning Preparations

For Black, Tan, White and Fancy Colored Footwear

We doubt if there is anything for cleaning one's shoes that Allen does not carry in stock. We buy our polish in large quantities and effect considerable saving in price for both you and ourselves. In order to introduce several new things we are going to offer the following special sale prices on shoe-trees, polish, findings, etc.:

Regular 75c shoe trees, 50c a pair, or three pairs for $1.00

Regular 50c shoe trees, 35c a pair, or three pairs for 75c.

Regular 25c slipper form trees, three pairs for 50c. Every lady should have a pair of these light, convenient trees for her evening and low shoes not in use.

They are also good for high shoes, but our $1.00 pack flat trees are a little better for the heavy high shoe. Several dry cleaning preparations for shoes, slippers, etc., and white canvas cleaning preparation and other good polish which we will sell at a sharp reduction. If you will use one bottle you will buy more. Energine, 50c size, or a quart bottle, 35c. This cleans kid gloves, silk or satin gowns, dresses, etc., as well as evening slippers, and every lady should have a bottle at home all the time, as accidents will happen when the dry cleaners are not available.

We also have Energine in 25c and 15c sizes, pint and half pint. Non-explosive dry-cleaning gas, 25c size, 19 cents. White Blanco or Nova, 25c size, 19c. Whittemore's Albo, 10c; Whittemore's Bully Shine, 10c a box, or three boxes for 25c; Whittemore's black, white or tan Oily Cream, in a 25c tube, 19c. A complete stock of evening slipper rosettes, satin, silk and leather pump bows, shoe laces, etc., at special prices. Also a full stock of cut steel buckles, gunmetal and leather covered buckles, from 50c to $10 a pair.

J. P. Allen & Co. 51-53 Whitehall

Georgian Want Ads

Use For Results

WHITE PLAGUE GREAT DREAD OF M'FARLAND

By Otto C. Floto.

PACKEY McFARLAND is out again with the statement that he will not make weight for any man living. "I think I am a lightweight, and if any of the men of that class meet me it will be at practically catch weights—by which I mean, say 135 pounds at 3 o'clock on the day of battle. That's near enough to the lightweight poundage for me."

And still I have it from one who knows that if McFarland would really agree to train he could make the 133-pound limit, which, after all, is the official weight of the class. Personally, I have my doubts and don't believe he can do any such low weight and be "right and fit," and a man who enters a battle unless well prepared for it is a fool. No one has ever yet accused Packey of being in any way weak in his business training.

The real truth of the matter is that Packey has a dread fear way down deep in his heart. It haunts him every time he thinks of it, and for that reason refuses to "make weight." McFarland fears the awful "white plague." He is under the impression that a pugilist who continually trains and battles is heir to it, and all the argument in the world can't shake this conviction from his mind. That's the real truth, and the why and wherefore that keeps Packey from agreeing to the 133-pound notch.

* * *

WE have before us the names of three victims—three of the most wonderful champions that ever lived—who were carried away by the greatest foe the flesh must combat. McFarland has probably read the old volumes of Fistiana and learned these things for himself—else why this horrible dread of reducing whenever asked to do so? There are many more of the fighting brigade that exited out of this old world with the cough, but three will be sufficient to mention.

First and foremost we have Tom Sayers, the greatest man of his weight and inches that England ever produced. And at the time of his holding the championship Britannia ruled the world in pugilism. Sayers, never much more than a middleweight, fought all the heavies they brought to him. Only Bob Fitzsimmons, in our time, could be compared to him. Sayers was only defeated once, and that by Nat Langham, his battle with Heenan being a draw. Sayers died from tuberculosis before he had reached his fortieth year. Constant training preparing for battle hastened his death.

* * *

THEN there was Peter Jackson, the wonderful Australian and without any doubt whatever the greatest heavyweight that ever lived. Peter was not forced to "make weight," but he was required to train, and in doing so trained away a lot of vitality which brought about his sickness, and add to this the fact that he continually exposed himself to the weather.

It's only a few years ago that Joe Gans went by the same route. Nothing more than his constant reducing to make the required weight brought on the dreaded plague to Gans. He drew upon Nature to so great an extent in reducing away the flesh that should have remained on his frame, that the old machine of flesh and bones cracked under the strain, and he passed away, barely having gone over the 30-year line.

So with Sayers and Jackson it was the constant grind of getting into shape, while with Gans it was ridding himself of muscle and strength. The end of all these three great champions was the same, however, and brought about by the same methods. It is the dread of this occurrence that has struck fear into the heart of McFarland, and that's why he won't tackle the job.

* * *

AND yet Packey is determined to battle the men who agree to live up to the rules and make the poundage the official code calls for. So then he cannot be classed as a lightweight. There cannot be made any exceptions for one man without making the same concession to all. If 133 pounds is too light for that division—and Wolgast, Nelson, Rivers and other champions declare it is NOT—then we will have to establish a new weight.

But suppose we make the mark 135 pounds. What then? Along would come some boy who couldn't make it, but could scale down to 137 pounds. Wouldn't he have the same right to demand battles against lightweights as McFarland demands now? Of course he would, and the first thing we know the lightweight limit will be soaring somewhere around the 140-pound level.

A 140-pound man comes pretty near to knocking for admission to the welterweight set, and our lightweight patrons would be eliminated from any standing at all. They'd be like a man without a country—too light for the 140-pound men and too heavy for the featherweights.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

"Jawn" McGraw, boss of the Giants, is a very, very peeved gentleman these days. "Jawn," who has taken to writing pieces for the papers, solemnly declared a few days back that the Cardinals were traveling far ahead of their speed, intimated they were flashes in the pan, and emphasized the fact that just as soon as the Cardinals went against a good team they would be so badly beaten that undertakers would have a difficult little job assembling their frames for burial.

* * *

To date, the Giants have clashed twice with the Cardinals—and twice the Cardials have won. McGraw sicked Mathewson and Tesreau, his two star flingers, on to the St. Louis boys with the result that the Cardinals knocked Matty out of the box and then turned around and trimmed Tesreau in rather easy fashion. The Cardinals are now within one point of third place.

* * *

Walter Johnson, the "Mighty Swede," isn't a Swede at all. It has been discovered that Johnson, although he did come from Minnesota, which turns out nearly as many Swedes as does Sweden, is of Scotch-Irish parentage.

* * *

Over in Brooklyn they are forming lynching parties to-day for the purpose of stringing Klem, an umpire person, to a very high tree. Klem gave some decisions yesterday that were weird—then some. And all of them were against the Dodgers, who eventually lost the game.

* * *

The Phillies pounded out twenty hits in eight innings yesterday, including three doubles, a triple and a home run. Cravath headed the swatters with five hits out of as many times at the bat. Incidentally the Phillies garnered twelve runs while the Reds drew nine goose eggs.

* * *

The White Sox engineered one of the greatest ninth inning rallies of the season yesterday, scoring six runs, but their rally fell short and the Red Sox won the game 10 to 9.

* * *

The two straight defeats of the Dodgers and the two victories of the Phillies have widened the gap between the teams to nearly 100 points, and it looks as if the dream of the Brooklyn fans of first place honors from the old league won't come true for a week or so, at least.

* * *

Those who believe in the spring showing of ball teams as a basis for "doping" out the outcome of the pennant races, may witness the following:

The Giants took the measure of practically every team they played during the training series, yet they have had a mighty task in winning fifteen out of twenty-nine league games. The Phillies, who were the easiest propositions struck by any team during the spring games and who were extended the heartfelt sympathy of the sporting fraternity, have won nineteen out of twenty-six combats.

* * *

The alibi architects (some times known as New York sport writers) have resumed operations to-day. They blame the "in" and "out" work of the Giants to lack of hitting, poor base running, fielding errors and the poor condition of the pitchers. They assert, however, that except for these few minor defeats, the Giants are playing a fine game of baseball.

* * *

Outfielder Cree was the only Yankee to secure a hit off Pitcher Earl Hamilton, of the Browns, yesterday.

* * *

The Braves made five runs in the eighth inning yesterday, but fell one short of the total amassed by the Cubs.

* * *

Williams, a pinch hitter for the Senators, tied up the score with a home run in the ninth inning yesterday and his team beat out the Naps in the tenth frame.

* * *

O'Rourke, the Buffalo third baseman, is batting .108 this season. Ty Cobb, please write.

* * *

It seems that Paul Sentell can't stay out of the Southern League. As utility man he ought to help the Finns. But suppose he and Mike start quarreling!

* * *

Well, anyhow, if the Giant-Sox tour goes through it will keep a lot of ham actors off the stage next fall.

* * *

Joe Tinker says that one of the chief reasons why he wouldn't give Rube Benton and $5,000 for Pitcher Beck, of Nashville, is that he never heard either of Beck or Nashville.

* * *

Fred Bender, brother of "Chief," may get a try-out with the Naps.

Is he a pitcher?

No, he's an Indian.

* * *

The police in Newark have to protect the umpires these days. If New Orleans newspapers don't show a little sense the same thing will be true in the Crescent City.

* * *

Roy Mitchell, of the Browns, got by a nine-inning game with 87 thrown balls Sunday. Economical Roy.

* * *

What do you know about Baron Kentzer, of the Dodgers. He's still holding out.

* * *

George Stallings hasn't yet been thrown out of a National League park. They say it was not always thus when the Georgian was in the International League.

* * *

Doc Adkins, the pitcher released by Baltimore, will take up the practice of law at Durham, N. C.

* * *

A fan in Boston recently collected $100 on a $5 bet that Boston would win four straight from Pittsburg. The thing hadn't happened before in 11 years.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Athletics still steadily maintain their winning pace in the American League with a persistence which looks as if they would surely take the pennant. Washington has encountered considerable hard luck, and the club of Griffith has fallen off the monstrous pace at which it started the season, largely because the two ends of the Washington infield have been in the game only irregularly. Cleveland is the surprise of the race.

The Washington club has two weaknesses at present. One is the pitching staff, outside of Walter Johnson, and the other is the torn up infield, which takes away the normal speed of the team. If Johnson could pitch every day there would not be any question raised in the American League about which club will win the pennant. That would be settled now. But Johnson cannot pitch every day, and an argument therefore remains in the league. Besides Johnson, no other Washington pitcher has shown exceptional form this year, with the possible exception of Groome, who is an in-and-outer at best.

"Give me one airtight pitcher," Griffith used to wail constantly when he was managing the Cincinnati club, "and I will win a pennant."

* * *

THEY gave him about the airtightest one in the business when he joined out with Washington, and darned if he didn't almost grab the flag. Then this year, when it looked as if he had his best chance to take the championship, Foster, the young third-baseman whom Griffith had raised and carved out into a big leaguer, was taken ill with typhoid fever and will be out of the game for several weeks. Gandil, the first-baseman who has done so well for the Washington club, was injured some time ago, and is out of the game.

Clark Griffith asserts that it was Gandil who put the team on a winning basis last summer. One good player, filling up a weak spot, will often do this for a club. The Washington team had been badly beaten by the Yankees in a series last spring, and the club seemed to be going to pieces rapidly. Griffith got on a train on Saturday night with Montreal as his destination.

"I made up my mind," said Griffith, in telling about the purchase later, "that something had to be done and done quickly to plug that hole at first base if the team was to be kept from falling out of the league. I paid $12,000 to the Montreal club for Gandil at a time when the Washington management could ill afford to spend that amount of money. It was just after Gandil joined the team we started our winning streak which ran up to seventeen games, and we got the purchase price back many times during this victorious spell. Gandil had rounded out the infield."

* * *

GRIFFITH'S game has been speed. It was the speed that won the games for the Washington club last have hurt the Washington team's chances for the pennant, although I believe it still has a look-in. The season is young, and the Athletics may have an attack of injuries. "Connie" Mack's pitchers don't look any too good anyway, outside of Bender and Plank. And Griffith is still asking for a pitcher.

"Give me one airtight left-hander," he says now. And in the next breath, "There is no such animal at large."

* * *

ON the one hand, the Cleveland club is the sensation of the American League, and, on the other hand, as the orators say, the Boston team is the big surprise of the race to date. The Cleveland boys are startling because of their unexpected good showing, and the Boston Red Sox, champions of the world, because of their surprisingly poor display.

Birmingham seems to be a natural-born manager, one of the few anywhere in the world. As a makeshift, he took hold of the team last year after it had all the heart beaten out of it by nearly every club in the American League, and he gave Cleveland the first good baseball that it has watched in several years. With practically the same men that worked for the club last year, Birmingham has set his team up in the fight for the pennant this time. Even with the mighty Frenchman, Lajoie, out of the lineup, they gave the Athletics a very stiff argument in the series last week.

* * *

YET the Yankees, considered to be the easiest team in the league and as welcome anywhere as an inheritance, upset the Naps badly. By a study of the Cleveland club, it strikes me that Birmingham has a very small chance of beating out the year. Without Foster and Gandil the Washington infield is badly slowed up. Laporte, who is taking Foster's place, is exceptionally slow on his feet. These two missing players Athletics, and it would surprise me greatly to see him finish above the Washington boys. His strength lies in his pitchers and Lajoie and Jackson. The rest of the team has not the ruggedness to make a tough fight of it for the pennant.

* * *

THE Athletics, of course, are the class of the American League to date, and are liable to remain the class of it indefinitely, from all indications. I do not see any club that can beat them out of the pennant. The team is moving at its old time speed, and the players are awake to the fact that they must keep hustling. None of the old listlessness which beat the club last year is apparent this season. I do not see who can stop them. Mack has two veteran pitchers who are reliable, Plank and Bender, and he can piece out his pitching from the rest of the staff for the remainder of the games. That club will absorb a lot of bad pitching and still win ball games, because it hits so hard.

* * *

THE condition of the Red Sox, which deserves some expert attention, is not to be explained easily. There are the same men who won the championship of the world, but the team is all off its balance. The pitchers who did such remarkable work last year are not pitching any ball at all this season. Of course, some of my readers may advance the argument that I think the Giants and Pittsburg still have a chance for the pennant in the National League, yet they both get away to bad starts. That is true. But the Giants and Pirates have not such clubs as the Athletics and Washington to overtake, as have the Red Sox. The Boston team will finish in the first division, where it normally belongs, but I do not believe it has better than a very outside chance for the championship. It is below its regular residence in the standing of the clubs now as it was above it last season.

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Sporting Food
By GEORGE E. PHAIR

JOYFUL GLOOM.

John Evers said to Frank Leroy:
"It gives me bitter pain, old boy,
To see your athletes in the rut;
I hate to see you losing, but—
I told you so!"

Said Frank Leroy to Keystone John:
"You're looking worn and weak and wan,
It fills my bosom with regret
To see you on the slide, and yet—
I told you so!"

They had a feeling of relief
To see each other deep in grief.
They gloried in each other's pain,
And so they sang this sweet refrain:
"I told you so!"

Looking over Mr. Chance's alleged baseball team, we find that all he needs to strengthen his infield is a net.

Those Red Sox may be champions of the world, but an innocent bystander is led to believe that they are trying to keep it a secret.

Players in the American Association have taken up the practice of clouting each other with bats. Up to date, none of the umpires has taken it upon himself to interfere.

Watching a motorcycle race is much like watching an aviation meet. Some times it fizzles out without an accident.

CONCERNING A B. B. MAGNATE.

And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew
That one small man could throw the bull he threw.

Some men spend their time shooting at clay birds, demonstrating how little some men think of time.

Umpiring an amateur ball game in our fair city affords a pleasant pastime—to the bystanders.

ENTRY LIST IS REOPENED FOR HILLCLIMB SATURDAY

E. H. Elleby, secretary of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories Association, received word Wednesday that the entry list for the Stewart Avenue Hill Climb could be re-opened owing to the postponement.

This permission was granted by the American Automobile Association under whose sanction the event is going to be run.

A Buick, another Ford and others will enter in the fully equipped cars, amateur event, and there will probably be several other entries in the other events.

The climb was scheduled for last Saturday, but owing to the downpour was postponed a week.

The auto classic, which is the second under the auspices of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories Association, is attracting wide attention.

Fully 3,000 persons lined the course last week to witness the event, and it is expected that that many more will be on hand this Saturday.

Fast time has been made in the trials this week, and it is confidently expected that the time will be lowered in several of the events.

GRADY-ANDERSON DRAW.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, May 22.—Tommy Grady fought a six-round draw at Ludlow, Ky., with Billy Anderson.

Kinky Hair Straight SOFT and SILKY

EXELENTO never fairs to do what it claims. It stops falling HAIR, cleans DANDRUFF at once, and just feeds the SCALP and ROOTS of the HAIR, and makes HAIR grow so fast that it is a wonder.

Every package is guaranteed.

Plain talk: Don't fool yourself by using some preparation which claims to straighten your HAIR. Kinky HAIR can not be made straight. YOU have to have HAIR before you can straighten it. When you use EXELENTO QUININE POMADE, it will promote the growth of the HAIR very fast, and you will soon have nice, long HAIR, which will be long, straight, soft and silky.

PRICE—25 CENTS, by all druggists or by mail on receipt of stamps or coin.

EXELENTO MEDICINE COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

AGENTS wanted everywhere. Write for particulars to-day.

OTTO JORDAN DRAWS INDEFINITE SUSPENSION

WAYCROSS, GA., May 22.—Ottor Jordan, former manager of Atlanta's Southern League team, was to-day indefinately suspended because of his conduct in Brunswick yesterday, when he was put out of the game by Umpire Bennett. Jordan is manager of the Valdosta Empire League team and feels that the suspension is unwarranted.

Olympic Champions May Compete Here

Kohlemainen and McDonald are Pleased at Invitation of Portola Committee.

NEW YORK, May 22.—In a letter to the athletic committee of the Portola Festival received yesterday, Jas. E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, conveys the information that he has delivered the invitation of the Portola Committee to Pat McDonald and Hannes Kohlemainen, the athletes whose presence is desired at the athletic games to be held in connection with the celebration.

Although the athletes will not be able to answer the invitation definitely, Sullivan writes that they will do the best they can to make the trip, and states that both men were greatly pleased to be asked. McDonald is the shot putter who won the 16-pound event at the Olympic games in Stockholm, defeating Ralph Rose, and was in turn defeated by Rose in the two-handed shot-put contest. Should he visit San Francisco in October, local followers of athletics will have an opportunity to see the two greatest weight putters in the world in competition.

Kohlemainen proved himself to be the greatest amateur distance runner in the world at the Stockholm games, and it is proposed to arrange a special two-mile invitational race if he is able to be present at the Portola sports.

The plans for a land and water relay race from Sacramento to San Francisco on the opening day of the festival have met with an enthusiastic reception from the athletes of the Young Men's Christian Associations and the high schools, and the event promises to be an interesting one.

AUSTRALIAN NET PLAYERS PRACTICING IN BOSTON

BOSTON, May 22—The Australian tennis players, Captain Stanley M. Doust, Horace Bice, Aubrey B. Jones and Manager E. W. Hicks, arrived here for ten days' practice on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club.

Later in the week the American tennis team, Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco; Norris William, of Philadelphia, and H. H. Hackett and R. D. Little, of New York, will appear at Longwood. While the players will not meet on opposite sides of the net, they will give exhibition matches during their stay. Each side will, therefore, have a chance of seeing the other in action ten days before the first of their international matches in the preliminary round for the Davis cup.

White City Park Now Open

BASEBALL
TO-DAY
MOBILE vs. ATLANTA
Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

EADE'S GOUT PILLS
Face from GOUT
The old and Popular Remedy for Gout, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago; pains in the head, face and limbs.
At druggists.
E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., Agents for U. S.
90 Beekman St., N. Y.

NOTICE!
Closing-Out-Ends
$7, $8, $9
Trousers Made-to-Measure
$3.50
FORDON
THE TAILOR, Inc.
8-10 N. Pryor St.
NEAR UNION DEPOT

Ask the "white coat" boys at the ball park for a bottle of

KO-NUT

The drink that kills the "grouch"

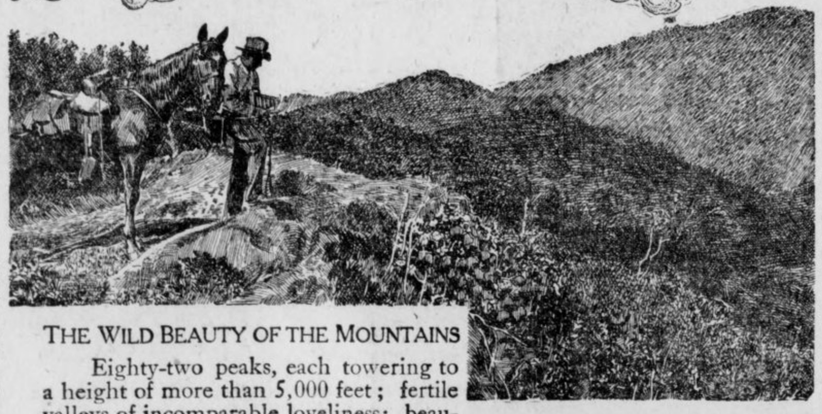
That pleasing, delicious and wholesome drink you get for a 5-cent piece in bottles at all drink stands and ball parks.

wholesome refreshing stimulating

5c in sterilized bottles

Made by the Red Rock Company, Atlanta

"The Land of the Sky"



THE WILD BEAUTY OF THE MOUNTAINS

Eighty-two peaks, each towering to a height of more than 5,000 feet; fertile valleys of incomparable loveliness; beautiful vistas everywhere, as far as the eye can reach—these, in a word, are the scenic glories of "The Land of the Sky" in Western North Carolina.

It is but a short trip to this wonder region from eastern, southern or middle-western cities, on the finely equipped through trains of the

SOUTHERN RAILWAY
Premier Carrier of the South

There are scores of resorts to choose from, with golf, boating, driving and riding—all irresistibly tempting in the crisp mountain air. Palatial hotels, with social entertainment in the evenings. Private cottages and boarding houses exquisitely located on mountain or lake.

Health and recreation abound at Asheville, Black Mountain, Hendersonville, Brevard, Lake Toxaway, Saluda, Waynesville, Tryon, Flat Rock, Hot Springs, N. C., and many other attractive resorts.

For tickets and information apply to Dep't. A.

R. L. BAYLOR, Division Passenger Agent, 1 Peachtree Street, Atlanta.

Write for beautifully illustrated booklet on "The Land of the Sky." Specially reduced fares for summer. Liberal stop-overs. Besides America's most charming all-year-round vacation district, Southern Railway System embraces territory offering unusually remunerative investment in fruit culture, farming and manufacturing.

You Can Make Pure Lager BEER

In Your Own Home—with
Johann Hofmeister Genuine Lager Beer Extract

You can now brew your own beer—best you ever tasted—easily, cheaply, right in your own home. With Johann Hofmeister Beer Extract anyone can make the same high quality lager beer that has been made in Germany for ages—in the same honest, old-fashioned way. Beer that's so tasty, wholesome, satisfying, every member of the family will surely be delighted with it. Better beer than you can buy in saloons or in bottles anywhere. And it will cost less than 3 cents a quart—a little over a half cent a glass!

Real Malt and Hop Beer at 11 Cents a Gallon Remember, it's not near-beer—not imitation beer—but real German style lager beer, made of select Barley Malt and the best Hops. Beer of fine, natural color—topped with a rich, creamy foam. Beer with snap and sparkle—clear and pure as can be—with life and health in every drop. And the taste—oh, delicious!

Johann Hofmeister Lager Beer Extract is guaranteed under the U. S. Food and Drugs Act, Serial No. 39,317. No license needed anywhere to make your own beer with this pure extract. Get a can of it to-day, follow the simple instructions—then you'll know why brewery beer can never be sold where this beer has been introduced.

50c can makes 3 gallons of beer.
75c can makes 7 gallons of beer.

Sold by all Druggists, or sent direct, prepaid, upon receipt of price (either size), by Johann Hofmeister, 165 Hofmeister Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

BOOKLOVER CONTESTANTS.—Order LUCKEE TIPS on Booklovers' Contest. This list of probable answers contained every one of the 77 correct titles in the contest just closed in Louisville. It is gotten up by a man of fifteen years' experience in the book business, who has the assistance of half a dozen prize winners. LUCKEE TIPS have proven the best list sold on like contests all over the country.

Price 60c for complete list; first section now ready for mailing out. Order to-day. You will need help to win a prize and this is the best help available.

BENJAMIN A. LUCKEE, Box 23, Nashville, Tenn.

WANTED, IDEAS

An Opportunity To Make Money

Inventors, men of ideas and inventive ability, should write to-day for our list of inventions needed, and prizes offered by leading manufacturers.

Patents secured or our fee returned. "Why Some Inventors Fail," "How to Get Your Patent and Your Money," and other valuable booklets sent free to any address.

RANDOLPH & CO.
Patent Attorneys
616 "F" Street, N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

FLYNN-SAVAGE BOUT WILL BE HELD JUNE 13

THE Jim Flynn-Jim Savage ten-round bout will be staged at the Auditorium on June 13. The heavyweights were originally scheduled to exchange blows June 9, but the scrap has been moved back four days on account of the Buffalo Bill circus, which will be here the latter date.

The Fireman fights Jim Coffey at New York Friday night and will leave for Atlanta soon. The promoters of the Auditorium show have made arrangements to have both contestants on the battle ground ten days before the scrap, which should give the fans ample time to see the two heavyweights in their training work.

Savage has been boxing several of the big hopes in New York and is being touted as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. His bout with Flynn should prove a great chance for the clever boy. Many of the Eastern boxing followers, who have seen Savage in action lately, are boosting him as another Jim Corbett.

* * *

THE winner of the Auditorium show will probably meet Gunboat Smith or Luther McCarty. McCarey and Coffroth both have their eyes peeled on the June 9 show and it would not be surprising to see the coast promoters send for the winner.

Two other good ten-round battles will be held in connection with the heavyweight tilt. Mike Saul, well known around these parts as one of the toughest lightweights, will probably meet Eddie Hanlon in one of the battles, while Spider Britt and Meyer Pries may swing the padded gloves in the other set-to.

* * *

THESE three mills should certainly bring together some dandy milling. Fans who have seen Britt and Pries box against each other know what a sterling scrap they usually put up. Each has a grudge against the other and a bloody contest is usually the result.

The last time the two boys met, Britt was awarded a slight shade by the referee, although most of the fans present thought a draw was the correct verdict. After the scrap Mike Saul, the referee, said he would have called the mill an even thing had Pries not indulged in foul tactics.

* * *

SAUL and Hanlon need no introduction to local fandom. Mike was rated as a contender for the lightweight crown until he lost on a foul to Abel when out of shape. Mike says he is out to win back his lost laurels and many of the local fans are with Mike to the last. Hanlon has always claimed that Saul was one boy whom he could lick.

SPORTS AND SUCH

By RIGHT CROSS

THE STANDING of the clubs in the big leagues at this writing forms a fine chance for that much-talked-of "rushing attack" in baseball which is known as the "base-running game."

It is a theory of students of the great national pastime that a team of fast and skillful base stealers has a tremendous edge at the go-off in a battle with a team less gifted in this direction. Let us give a look:

The Boston Americans, the world's champions, are popularly known as the Speed Boys, a name which arose from the dazzling rapidity with which they are wont to flit from base to base. This seems to be an off season for flitting. The Red Sox are not only way down in the league race, but they are also way down in the base-stealing records for the season.

* * *

THERE ARE OTHER EXAMPLES that might be pointed out, but there is no use rubbing it in, and we don't owe Boston any consideration anyway. The Red Sox are enough to prove the point, which is namely, to wit, i. e.—that a losing club doesn't pull any "rushing attack" stuff. Base stealing is the diversion of winners. It is not so much a cause as an effect. Base stealers are the lancers of a baseball army. They are highly spectacular, but useful only when the battle is half won.

In the old days of the great game of war no general in his senses ever sent cavalry against an unshaken defense. Napoleon, through a mistaken conception of the situation, did it at Waterloo and lost. It is the same way with base stealing in baseball. When you have the other team on the run you can complete the rout by running wild on the bases, but we have never yet seen a team run wild to any extent when it is five runs behind.

It is true, of course, that an individual base runner, like Cobb, for instance, will occasionally steal second at a critical moment and thus lay the foundation of a winning run. But this is beside the main point—that base stealing as a system of offense in a ball game is nix.

ATLANTA
3 MATS. MON. WED. SAT.
25c
All This Week
The Deep Purple
Miss Billy Long Co.
Nights 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c.
Next—ST. ELMO—Seats Now

FORSYTH DAILY M'AT. 2:30 EVENIN 8:30
ADAM & EVE—GALLAGHER & FIELDS—JOSEPHINE DUNFEE—JOHN GEIGER—NEVIN & ERWOOD—BRADSHAW BROS. & DUNEDIN TROUPE
KEITH VAUDEVILLE HIGHEST QUALITY

BASEBALL
—TO-DAY—
MOBILE vs. ATLANTA
Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Rummy Should Worry :: By Tad

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

BASEBALL

Diamond News and Gossip

After winning nine games in a row, Walter Johnson, of the Senators, went against the Naps yesterday and was beaten, the Cleveland club pounding him for thirteen hits.

* * *

Umpire Klem increased his unpopularity in Brooklyn yesterday by permitting the game to go for five innings and then calling it on account of rain after the Pirates had scored the lone tally of the game.

* * *

The Dodgers have protested the game, claiming that the rain fell no harder in the sixth inning, when Klem ordered a cessation of play, than it had during the three innings previous.

* * *

The Red Sox outhit the White Sox yesterday, but the Chicagoans grabbed off a 2 to 1 victory.

* * *

The league-leading Athletics had an easy time defeating the Tigers yesterday, the veteran Plank shutting out the Detroit boys and permitting them but three hits.

* * *

That old Pirate machine seems to be in fine working order again and it seems quite safe to bet that they will be up among the leaders in another month.

* * *

Rain halted the Cardinals-Giants game in the second inning after the Cardinals had secured a one-run lead.

* * *

The Yankees went down to a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the hands of the Browns, Stone, a recruit pitcher, holding the New Yorkers to six scattered hits.

* * *

The National League race this season promises to be one of the best in many years. The weak "sisters" seem conspicuously absent. In other years, the Dodgers, Cardinals and Braves were the pie counters for the triple alliance. But a new order of events now exists.

* * *

The alliance, composed of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, has been dissolved. The trio that has roosted in and around first place for ten years has been ousted, and a new state of affairs has come to pass.

* * *

Whether the Phillies, Dodgers, Cardinals and even the lowly Braves can keep up the clip they have been traveling is a question. Perhaps they'll falter farther along, but even if they do they have already dealt the mighty trio such a terrific wallop that there will be no runaway race for any one of the trio, as in years gone by.

* * *

A similar condition exists in the American League. No one team has a cinch. A trifle more than 400 points separates the leading Athletics from the Yankees. But the Yankees are due to move along in the percentage column. Chance has had a hard time getting his team started, but as soon as his pitchers round into shape they will furnish trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Browns are not the snap team of other years. The Tigers are beginning to add to their win column. The Red Sox, although far down in the standing to-day, have the power, and when once the machine gets well oiled it will furnish considerable trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Athletics have been traveling at a fine rate, despite the illness of Jack Coombs, the star flinger. The Naps and White Sox seem to have the "punch" this year and the Senators are showing that their speed of last year has become a permanent possession.

* * *

Careful examination of Carl Cashion's injured arm demonstrates that a ligament is badly torn and the big lad may be out for the entire season.

* * *

Joe Birmingham has done something with the Naps that no manager ever did before—he has got them figuring on world's series receipts. Let a club get doing that in earnest and they fight every step of the way.

ED ALPERMAN SECURES JOB WITH WAYCROSS CLUB

Ed Alperman, the Atlanta captain's younger brother, has secured a berth with Charlie Wahoo's Waycross Empire State League Club and will join that team in the next few days.

Ed arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and will be here with his brother for a few days before reporting to his new teammates.

Ed is an outfielder and it is understood that the local club will keep a string on him, which they will yank at the end of the present season.

DE PONTHIEU SHADES KIRKE.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 23.—Louis DePonthieu, champion of France, shaded Ollie Kirke, of St. Louis, in a ten-round boxing bout.

Make State and County tax returns now. Office corner Pryor and Hunter Streets. T. M. Armistead, Tax Receiver.

Cracker Attack Most Deadly Ever

Local Club Is Stronger Than Gulls

By Percy H. Whiting.

THE Cracker team has the most deadly attack ever seen in the Southern League. Napoleon's pet troops or a band of war-pathing Comanches look tame beside them. Day after day they drive pitchers to cover. All teams look alike to them. All pitchers are the same.

They can slug the ball over the lot; they can beat out bunts if by chance they lay them down; they can wait out a wavering pitcher; they can run bases; they can use the hit-and-run; they shine at the run-and-hit. There isn't an offensive maneuver, barring the bunt, at which they do not shine.

* * *

WHY this team shouldn't wallop the stuffing out of Mike Finn's club in three out of every four battles, provided the Cracker pitchers made even a half-decent show, we can't see. Nor can anybody who witnessed yesterday's game.

Mike Finn has a pretty well-balanced club. Paulet, Stock, Starr and O'Dell are good men. Of course, alongside of Agler, Alperman, Bisland and Smith they don't look so much—but that's a fair average infield. Clark, Jacobson and Robertson are good outfielders, but in offensive and defensive strength they do not average up to the Crackers. In catching strength the teams are about a stand-off. If the Gulls hope to beat Atlanta out of the pennant they better have pitchers who are about eleven times as strong as the Crackers' slabmen.

* * *

IN Thursday's game the Cracker pitcher had all the advantage. Two veterans were out—Brady and Campbell. Of course it is not insinuated that Brady classes with Campbell in antiquity, but then he's no fledgling. And Brady plastered it all over Campbell.

"The King" held the dangerous Campbell hitless, didn't give the savage Robertson one he could push out of the infield, and had the rest of the collection swinging themselves sick at his offerings.

In the meantime the Crackers were eating Campbell alive, and finally ended by piling up nine hits for eleven bases in six innings. With the Crackers ahead, 7 to 2, the game was called on account of darkness, with the rain falling hard and everybody ready to call it off and go home.

* * *

BEFORE the Mobile season is over some cast-off is going to figure. They always do. Mobile has O'Dell and Sentell, former Crackers. Atlanta has Long and Dunn, former Gulls. So something has to happen.

In yesterday's game the ex-Gulls now with the Crackers had all the better of the argument. Sentell didn't play, and Al O'Dell made a couple of errors. Long made three hits out of four times up, while Dunn kicked over a single and threw faultlessly to second.

Bill Smith offered a direct challenge to the Gulls by using Joe Dunn. Before the season opened Mike said, in all kindness but with great firmness, that Joe Dunn's arm was gone. Probably he really thought it. But Dunn's work this year hasn't proved Mike's prediction. And to-day Smith stuck in Dunn, just to show up Mike. Only one Gull tried to steal, and he was pegged out easily.

* * *

MIKE FINN is playing himself up as the victim of misguided confidence. Understand, Mike doesn't mean that he's been the goat of a confidence game—you see it's like this:

After the Gulls began to gather this spring, a fake "signed statement," alleged to have been written by Mike, appeared in various papers around the circuit and was played up strong in Mobile. Then the season opened and Mike's "statement" went over strong. The result was that the Gull fans lost interest.

"It's got so bad now," said Mike, "that they don't come out at all to see us play. Once in a while a few will turn out, sort of to celebrate our having won a pennant. The rest of them have dismissed the season as a closed incident, have credited themselves with a pennant won and have turned to other things. It's a fine fix, with the season just started and our team losing a game or two a day."

* * *

THE suspicion prevails that the Gull fans will have only to consult the standing of the clubs to wake themselves up by the time the team returns home. The Gulls have lost the last three games straight, and the last six out of seven. They are going about as poorly now as a team can go. It will not take them long to kick away their lead at this rate.

Before returning home the Gulls have to play two more games with the Crackers, three in Chattanooga, four in Nashville and four in Memphis. Any of the Tennessee clubs might furnish trouble for the Gulls, now that they have flickered. And a 4½-game lead can be shot to bits in five games, if they turn out right.

Anyhow, the Crackers will try to do what they can for the noble cause.

STOVALL MUST PAY FINE AND APOLOGIZE TO UMPIRE

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—George Stovall, suspended manager of the St. Louis Americans, was reinstated by President Johnson, of the American League, yesterday on condition that Stovall write a letter of apology to Umpire Charles Ferguson, on whom he spat while playing in a game here May 3.

In addition to apologizing to Umpire Ferguson, Stovall must pay a $100 fine.

If Stovall complies with the conditions, he will be allowed to play in the game against Detroit Saturday. The apology to Umpire Ferguson must be mailed to Johnson's office in Chicago and approved by Johnson before it is forwarded to Ferguson.

Stovall said he would comply with conditions of his reinstatement.

AMES, GROH AND DEVORE ARE TRADED FOR FROMME

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In an effort to bolster up his team Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati club, has just completed a deal with Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, whereby he receives Pitcher Ames, Infielder Groh and Outfielder Devore in exchange for Pitcher Fromme.

PIRATES GET BANKSTON FROM GORDON BALL TEAM

BARNESVILLE, GA., May 23.—President Dreyfuss, of Pittsburg, has made an offer to Everett Bankston, catcher of 1913 Gordon team. He will probably leave for Pittsburg.

White City Park Now Open

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE
of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

"THE VICTOR"

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM
Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years' experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. B. WOOLLEY & SON., No. 3-A Victor Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

BOXING

News of the Ring Game

New York will have another chance to see Jim Flynn in action Friday night. The Pueblo fireman will don the gloves with Jim Coffey in a scheduled 10-round bout. "Soldier" Kearns and George Rodel will clash in the semi-windup.

* * *

This will be Flynn's last battle before he meets Jim Savage at the Auditorium here next month. If Flynn succeeds in defeating Savage he will probably take a trip to the coast in an effort to get on with Gunboat Smith or Jess Willard.

* * *

Luther McCarty is another heavyweight who is to get into action. Luther takes on Arthur Pelky in a 12-round set-to at Calgary, Alberta, Saturday night. McCarty must win if he intends to get away with some more of the easy money he has been gathering. Pelky is Tommy Burns' protege.

* * *

Young Shrugrue, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, three Eastern lightweights, are after the first tilt with Willie Ritchie, who says he will defend his title on July 4. It looks very much as if Joe Rivers will beat them all to the match.

* * *

Danny Morgan, manager of Jack Britton, has offered to bet $2,500 that Britton can outpoint Luther McCarty in a 10-round scrap. Morgan refers to McCarty as a "cheese champion."

* * *

Abe Attell, who helped Bud Anderson train for his bout with Joe Mandot on the coast, is begging Tom McCarey for another chance at Johnny Kilbane. Abe says he is as good as ever and is positive he can beat the featherweight champion in a return match. McCarey has the bout under consideration.

* * *

Coast fans are blaming Tom Jones for Jess Willard's defeat at the hands of Gunboat Smith the other night. They claim that Willard was receiving instruction from several sources in his corner.

* * *

This rather confused the Kansas cowboy, who stopped dead still several times to look toward Jones for some definite advice.

* * *

Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, is the latest luminary Eastern flattic circles are discussing. Robideau fought Johnny Lore in New York last week and handed the latter a neat lacing.

The Jack Britton-Eddie Murphy fight at Kenosha, Wis., Tuesday night drew but $900. A dreadful rainstorm kept the attendance down.

* * *

Nate Lewis and his fighter, Charlie White, arrived in Chicago Wednesday from New Orleans, where White stopped Thomas in two rounds. Lewis at once got in touch with Danny Morgan in an effort to close a Britton-White scrap for the Wisconsin city this month. Morgan is holding out for a big guarantee.

NOTICE!
Closing-Out-Ends
$7, $8, $9
Trousers Made-to-Measure
$3.50
FORDON
THE TAILOR, Inc.
8-10 N. Pryor St.
NEAR UNION DEPOT

BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion.
WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF?
At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request.
THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.
Mobile at Atlanta at Ponce DeLeon. Game called at 3:45 o'clock.
Memphis at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Chattanooga.
Montgomery at Nashville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mobile	27	15	.643	M'phis	18	19	.486
Atlanta	21	18	.538	Chatt.	18	19	.486
N'ville.	20	18	.526	B'ham	16	19	.457
Mon'gy	19	19	.500	N. Or.	12	24	.333

Thursday's Results.
Atlanta 7, Mobile 2.
Other games postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.
No games scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	29	9	.690	St. L.	16	21	.432
C'land	22	12	.647	Boston	14	19	.424
W'gton	18	12	.600	Detroit	12	22	.353
Ch'cago	21	14	.600	N. York	9	23	.281

Thursday's Results.
Philadelphia 7, Detroit 3.
Cleveland 5, Washington 0.
St. Louis 7, New York 0.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Pittsburg at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	19	7	.731	Ch'go	17	18	.515
B'klyn	19	12	.613	P'burg	15	18	.455
N. York	15	14	.517	Boston	10	17	.370
St. L.	16	15	.516	C'nati	9	21	.300

Thursday's Results.
Pittsburg 1, Brooklyn 0.
Other games postponed, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Opelika at LaGrange.
Talladega at Anniston.
Gadsden at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Gadsd'n	11	4	.733	Ann'ton	7	8	.467
T'dega	8	7	.533	Opelika	7	9	.438
Newnan	8	7	.533	LaGr'ge	5	11	.313

Thursday's Results.
LaGrange 4, Opelika 3.
Other games postponed; rain.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Cordele at Thomasville.
Valdosta at Waycross.
Americus at Brunswick.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
V'dosta	11	8	.579	W'cross	10	9	.526
Cordele	11	8	.579	Am'cus	8	11	.421
Th'ville	10	9	.526	B'wick	7	12	.368

Thursday's Results.
Cordele 7, Thomasville 5.
Americus 7, Brunswick 4.
Valdosta 6, Waycross 1.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.
Macon at Albany.
Charleston at Columbus.
Savannah at Jacksonville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Sav'nah	24	6	.800	C'l'bus	14	15	.483
J'ville	15	15	.500	Ch'ston	13	16	.448
Macon	15	15	.500	Albany	8	22	.267

Thursday's Results.
Savannah 5, Jacksonville 1.
Macon 4, Albany 1.
Charleston-Columbus; rain.

OTHER RESULTS.

Texas League.
Dallas 5, San Antonio 2.
Beaumont 13, Fort Worth 6.
Houston 13, Austin 1.
Galveston 8, Waco 6.

Cotton States League.
All games postponed; rain.

Carolina Association.
Winston-Salem 6, Greensboro 2.
Asheville 11, Durham 5.
Raleigh 5, Charlotte 3.

Virginia League.
Petersburg 4, Portsmouth 1.
Roanoke 1, Norfolk 1.
Richmond 12, Newport News 4.

John Ruskin
A Cigar FOR ALL MEN
Two Sizes
AFTER DINNER, RECESS
5¢

Sporting Food

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN.

When Heine Zim starts going some
He makes a lot of fuss.
He puts the whole world on the bum
And does not care a cuss.
And yet he would not do the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

When Heine Zim is fancy free
He is a wild young gent.
He is a willing slave to the
Artistic temperament.
And yet he would not pull the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

Joe Thomas, the youth whom Charlie White walloped, is called the pride of New Orleans. This demonstrates how easy it is to be proud.

WHY SHOULD FATHER WORRY?

Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes six.
What matter if Murphy has lines on his brow
With the Cubs in a heluva fix?

Los Angeles and San Francisco are fighting over the Ritchie-Rivers match, demonstrating how easy it is to start a fight.

LINES TO CHARLEY FRANK.

You may change, you may veneer
your words if you will,
But the scent of alfalfa will cling to them still.

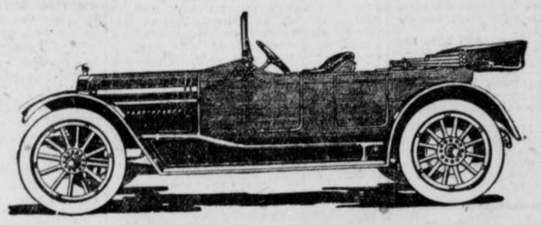
MONEY
LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES
ON PROMISSORY NOTES
Without Endorsement
Without Collateral Security
Without Real Estate Security
NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO.
1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Mitchell Mitchell Mitchell
MANY of you are considering owning an automobile, but haven't yet decided just which one you want.



When you come to investigate the 1913 Mitchell car—made by a company that has built good vehicles since 1834—you will find so many strong reasons for owning a Mitchell that your doubts as to which car you want will be solved.

In the Mitchell you will find only the highest quality of workmanship and materials.

The first look will satisfy as to the lines and finish: simple elegance and comfort throughout: combined in a design assuring strength, power and durability.

Here are some of the 1913 Mitchell features—things you ceratinly should have in your car:

Long stroke T-head Motor.

Electric Self Starter and Electric Lighting System

Left Drive and Center Control.
Firestone Demountable Rims.
Rayfield Carburetor.
Timken Front Axle Bearings.
Silk Mohair Top with Dust Cover.
Gasoline Tank Gauge.
Thirty-six-inch Wheels.
Bosch Ignition.
French Belaise Springs.
Jones Speedometer.
Turkish Upholstered Cushions.
Portable Electric Lamp.

Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company
Racine, Wisconsin
Factory Branch Mitchell Motor Co. of Atlanta, 316-318 Peachtree St.

The Mistakes of Jennie

By HAL COFFMAN

Being a Series of Chapters in the Life of a Southern Girl in the Big City

The Man Held Her Tight in His Arms.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Jennie got home that night she told her boarding house keeper she was going out the next day—being Sunday—with Tom. They were going into the country and have dinner at some little inn that Tom knew about. So the next morning she hurried out to where she was to meet THE MAN. He was waiting for her with a big touring car and a chauffeur to drive it. And Jennie, in her plain little white dress, couldn't help but look in wide-eyed wonder at such luxury and grandeur, and could hardly realize that she was going to ride in it all day long.

THE MAN helped her in, and was very careful to arrange the robes "just so," and explained to her it would never do for his little "pal" to get echilled.

Oo-! Golly! Thought Jennie, this is even better than the taxicab—and the cushions were so soft and "comfy."

And so they rolled on and on, until early afternoon, when they came to the quaintest looking little hotel that nestled in the trees by the side of the road. And THE MAN said they were going to have the daintiest luncheon that Jennie ever tasted. The landlord bowed and smiled, and seemed very happy to see THE MAN, and ushered them into a private room, where the table was all set as if waiting for them. And everything had an air of being prearranged. But Jennie was so happy she didn't notice it, or the side glances of understanding between the landlord and THE MAN—as if he had been there many times before.

THE MAN ordered cocktails, and it tasted so warm and nice to Jennie that she didn't say no, when THE MAN asked her to have another one before they ate their luncheon. After the second one, Jennie felt so happy she wanted to sing and laugh both at the same time, and didn't quite realize at first when THE MAN held her tight in his arms and was kissing her.

* * * * *

An hour or two after Jennie had left the house that morning Tom came over for her to go out with him to spend Sunday as they both had become accustomed to do. Jennie's boarding house friend was greatly surprised when she saw Tom—for Jennie had told her she was going out with Tom that day.

Tom told her there had been no definite arrangement made, but had just come over to call for Jennie the same as he had always done. And then Jennie's friend realized for the first time that the little girl had lied to her.

—HAL COFFMAN.

(To Be Continued.)

Up-to-Date Jokes

When Professor Rokitanski, of Vienna, was asked if he had any sons he answered, "Four."

"And what professions have they chosen?"

"Two howl and two heal," was the laconic reply.

A couple of his sons were public singers and the other two were doctors.

"Where have you been, Frank?"

"In Manchester."

"What were you doing there?"

"I ran a photograph gallery."

"Did you get anything to do?"

"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them left on the doorstep."

Just Dogs

"NOTHING is more like a man than a dog is," declared the candy store proprietor. "I'm just like a dog myself. I even know what a dog is thinking more than half the time when I am watching him.

"Yesterday I saw a dog a block and a half away. I knew at once that something was wrong with him. He had a sneaky, uncomfortable look. He hung his head. As I passed him the dog hailed me after the fashion of fellows of the same guild and with the same spirit of comradeship:

"Suddenly—'Danny!' The word of reproof smote the air. Danny had known all the time that the woman who owned him was watching him, waiting for a chance to give him a rebuke. That's why he had the famous hangdog expression. He knew that it was impossible for him to keep free from scolding. I knew how he felt.

"Some dogs are very particular not to speak to you until you have spoken to them first. There is a scraggy dog that comes to our house from time to time, visits for a few days, and then departs, either to go home or to visit somewhere else. We may not see him again for a month or six weeks.

"Just the other day he appeared at our house. The kids were playing on the porch and didn't see him. He sauntered into the yard in a casual sort of way and lay down on the lawn, watching the children with a very alert expression.

"Finally one of them saw him and cried, 'Why, there's Babs!' That is our name for him, since we do not know his real name.

"At this greeting Babs tore up the porch steps and nearly wiggled himself into a frazzle in his delight. I am like that.

"A dog is very bitter in his hatred of flies, fleas, cats and firecrackers. He hates like sin to have to get out of the way of an automobile, and music and carpet dust nearly kill him. He is so like me in these things."

Act Quickly

Don't wait until you have some ailment caused by poor digestion, biliousness, or by inactive bowels which may lead to a serious sickness. Immediate relief is afforded by that best corrective and preventive

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Well Versed.

Lord Dufferin delivered an address before the Greek class of the McGill University, about which a reporter wrote:

"His Lordship spoke to the class in the purest ancient Greek, without mispronouncing a word or making the slightest grammatical solecism."

"Good heavens!" remarked Sir Hector Langevin to the late Sir John A. MacDonald, "how did the reporter know that?"

"I told him," was the Conservative statesman's answer.

"But you don't know Greek."

"True; but I know a little about politics."

PLATES Made and Delivered Same Day

$5

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4--Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-6 Phone M. 1708 Sundays 9-1

Do You Know That—

The Canadian Parliament is one of the few Parliaments in the world where speeches in two languages are allowed. This, of course, is due to the large French and English elements in Canada. For instance, when the Canadian House of Commons is sitting in committee, should a French-Canadian start to address the House in French, you may see the English chairman retire from his seat and allow a French chairman to take his place. In the same manner the official English reporters cease work and a staff of French shorthand writers begin.

Owing to the frequency of weak excuses for leave of absence from work many employers have framed a special code of rules to govern days off. The following are the regulations of one firm: "1. One day off for funeral of any relative where death certificate is produced. 2. All marriages and honeymoons to be arranged during annual holidays or not at all. 3. The burying of more than three uncles or aunts a year not accepted as an excuse for absence. 4. For sickness where it is proved days off allowed."

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the royal standard on his motor cars. A flag on which are emblazoned the words, "God with us," will be painted on transparent glass, which will be electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car, so that it will be recognized a long way off.

Wished He Hadn't.

"You see," he exclaimed, as he showed her the wishbone of the Christmas turkey, "you take hold there and I take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you!" he exclaimed. "You really wish for me?" she asked. "Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile. "You can have me."

A Matter of Observation.

Lexton Sake entered the room and critically examined the surroundings. Then suddenly his eye lighted on the clew for which he sought.

"Aha!" he exclaimed. "It was from a hole somewhere in this room that the mouse emerged!"

His companion opened his eyes wide in wonderment; then——

"Your power of scent," he remarked, "is positively marvelous, Blexton."

"Power of scent be bothered," replied the great detective. "Can't you see the heel-marks of a woman's shoe on this chair—eh?"

She Forgot.

The order which the comely young German woman handed in at the Post-office Savings Bank was made payable to Gretchen H. Schmidt, and she had signed it simply Gretchen Schmidt. The man at the counter called her back to rectify the mistake just as she was turning away.

"See, you have forgotten the 'H.,'" he explained.

The young woman looked at her receipt and then blushed a rosy red.

"Ach! so I haf," she murmured, and wrote hurriedly:

"Age, 23."

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly Company. The play "Within the Law" is copyrighted by Mr. Veiller and this novelization of it is published by his permission. The American Play Company is the sole proprietor of the exclusive rights of the representation and performance of "Within the Law" in all languages.

By MARVIN DANA from the Play by BAYARD VEILLER.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

At last Gilder was restored in a meaure to his self-possession. He spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

Gilder looked at her with a newly dawning respect; then his shrewdness suggested a retort.

Mary Laughed.

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said.

Mary laughed. There was something dreadful in that burst of spurious amusement.

"Why not?" she answered. "I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed the true heart of him, in which love for his boy was before all else. He found himself wholly at a loss before the woman's unexpected reply.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will——"

At that moment the son himself entered hurriedly from the hallway. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman whom he loved. At his entrance Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming, even though she had known he must come—perhaps from some other emotion, deeper, hidden as yet even from himself.

The young man, with his wholesome face alight with tenderness, went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent, motionless, abashed by the event. And Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressing it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said, happily, "but I left him a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

The voice of the older man came with a sinister force and saturnine.

"No, Dick, I haven't got any note."

"Then, why——?" The young man broke off suddenly. He was become aware that here was something malignant, with a meaning beyond his present understanding, for he saw the inspector and Demarest, and he knew the two of them for what they were officially.

A Pawn in the Game.

"What are they doing here?" he demanded suspiciously, staring at the two.

"Oh, never mind them," Mary said. There was a malevolent gleam in her violet eyes. This was the recompense of which she had dreamed through soul-tearing ages. "Just tell your father your news, Dick."

The young man had no comprehension of the fact that he was only a pawn in the game. He spoke with simple pride.

"Dad, we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Always, Mary stared with her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder himself seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

Mary rejoiced to make the knowledge sure.

"I married your son this morning," she said, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him."

In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speeceh against this calamity that had befallen him.

It was Burke who offered a diversion, a crude interruption after his own fashion.

"It's a frame-up," he roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Why, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And, by G——, she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face, which had grown older by years with the passing of the seconds.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

There was no quiver in her voice as she answered. She drew her hand from his clasp and spoke evenly.

"It's the truth."

"It's the truth!" the young man repeated, incredulously.

The Son Interrupted.

"It is the truth," Mary said, firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years. It was the father who broke it, and now his voice was become tremulous.

"I wanted to save you, Dick. That's why I came."

The son interrupted him violently.

"There's a mistake—there must be."

It was Demarest who gave an official touch to the tragedy of the moment.

"There's no mistake," he said. There was authority in his statement.

"There is, I tell you!" Dick cried, horrified by this conspiracy of defamation. He turned his tortured face to his bride of a day.

"Mary," he said, huskily, "there is a mistake."

Something in her face appalled him. He was voiceless for a few terrible instants. Then he spoke again, more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary preserved her poise. Yes—she must not forget! This was the hour of her triumph. What mattered it that the honey of it was as ashes in her mouth? She spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, so trusted her, was overwhelmed by the revelation. He stood trembling for a moment, tottered, almost it seemed would have fallen, but presently steadied himself and sank supinely into a chair, where he sat in impotent suffering.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

Wonders of the Wonderful

SUNDAY AMERICAN

Great Exclusive Features That Cannot Be Found in Any Other Sunday Newspaper

Tom Powers,

THE FAMOUS CARTOONIST, has some very funny pictures that will keep you laughing all week

A Jeff and Mutt

Cartoon that is full of humor

John Temple Graves

Writes on this striking question, "Shall a Wife Obey?"

The Newly Found Oldest Gospels, and What They Really Mean.

Should Women's Wages Be Fixed by Law.

A Short Story by Rudyard Kipling.

Woman Suffrage in Dixie.

Book Reviews, by Edwin Markham and Roswell Field.

A Remarkable Comic Section

Happy Hooligan Proposes to SUSANNE Again

Howson Lott Has Some Visitors

Mr. Batch Has a Narrow Escape

Jimmy --- He Is At It Again

Just Why a Pitcher Can Curve a Baseball.
Why Every Woman Married for Six Years Ought to Go to Work.
Coronium—A New Gas, Whose Power is So Great That a Balloon Filled With It the Size of a Baseball Would Raise an Elephant from the Ground.
A Game of Polo That Cost $12,000 a Minute.
Daring Train Robbers—Remarkable Stories Told by Sophie Lyons.
Why Blondes Must Be Abolished, by Edna Goodrich, the Beautiful Actress.
May Irwin's Recipes.
Ruth St. Denis Tells How Dancing Develops a Beautiful Figure.
Tango Tea Gowns, by Lucille, the World-Famous Dressmaker.

All These and Dozens of Other Great Features in The Sunday American

A Newspaper For the Home

With Something in It For Everybody

THE

Sunday American

Is "The Market Place of the South" for Advertisers

Order Your Copy Now

Both Phones MAIN 8000

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Daysey Mayme And Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton was a student in school, none was as quick as she in deciding how many rolls of paper it would require for a room seventeen feet square, with walls twelve feet high, allowing for two doors and seven windows. Given the dimensions of a cistern, she could remove her wad of chewing gum, stick it on the under side of her desk, go to the blackboard and figure how many cubic feet of water it would take to fill the cistern and get back to her desk before her gum was cold.

She ate up problems in compound interest, gloated over questions involving the displacement of battleships, and no other girl got as much chalk on her nose and clothes in figuring just when and where we will bump into Mars.

Every Bonaparte finally meets his Wellington, and Daysey Mayme at last met hers. She had charge of the kitchen, and was down on her knees in front of the refrigerator with the day's purchase of groceries beside her when her colors went down in defeat.

Mathematical Shapes.

The butter jar was square, the milk was in bottles, the cold potatoes filled an oval dish and the prunes were in a round bowl. With eyes that could tell at a glance the distance between Jupiter and Mars, she saw that the refrigerator shelves were eighteen inches deep and two feet long, and that there were three of them.

"Let x," she began, mechanically, "represent the lard, y the eggs and z the roast; then x plus y plus z will equal one-third of the top shelf, leaving two-thirds for a, the stewed prunes; b, the cream, and c, the tomatoes."

She found the displacement of the roast was such there was no room for x, y, and z, b and c, and in trying to crowd the milk bottles on the eggs she broke three, and yellow and white leaked down over the prunes on the shelf beneath. She used every trick in science to reduce the round cans, the oval dishes and the square boxes to a space small enough to make room for the cheese, upsetting a bowl of frosting into the buttermilk jar and the salad dressing over a rice pudding.

Sat on a Pie.

The present was hard enough to bear, and when her brain leaped forward to the season when the watermelon must also be figured with she sat recklessly back on a pie and began to cry.

"Oh, Lord," she prayed, beating her head against a dish of cold potatoes, "either make woman's brains large enough to solve her problems or make watermelons smaller."

"Oh," she added a moment later, when she had found she couldn't balance the cream bottles on the roast, "if you can't make them smaller, make them square."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

HIS LOVE IS SELFISH.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man seven years my senior. He always says he loves me and often speaks of marriage, although we do not consider ourselves engaged. He never goes with other girls and expects me not to meet other boys. Has he a right to expect this, and is it right for me to go with other young men?

MABEL.

Professions of love and the occasional mention of marriage do not constitute an engagement. There must be a definite proposal and an engagement ring.

Until there is an engagement neither has the right of monopoly of the other's time, and not then if both parties have a faith that is above jealousy. You are 17—too young by several years to be engaged.

ASK HER.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 20 and in love with a girl two years my junior, with whom I have been acquainted for several years. I have been calling on her and taking her out, with the permission of her parents. Whenever I approve of one of her friendly actions she claims she would do that same thing for anybody whom she liked. How can I learn whether she loves me or not?

ANXIOUS.

There is only one way: Ask her. But don't ask her unless you are financially able to follow up your question with a proposal of marriage and an engagement ring.

DON'T DO IT.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Can I gain a man's respect by allowing him to kiss me goodnight after a little evening's outing?

I have reference to a very fine young man whom I have known but a short time. I am 19 years old.

A. E.

I am sure no man's lasting regard is won that way. Save your kisses for the man you love.

"Just Say"

HORLICK'S

It Means
Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A Quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S

Others are imitations.

THE TRIPLE TIE

A Story for Baseball Fans That Will Interest Every Lover of the National Game

$250 in Prizes for Best Solution of "The Triple Tie"

YOU read the first four installments of the great baseball mystery story of "The Triple Tie" and now you have a fair idea of the simplicity of the offer The Georgian makes—how you may win $100 by working out the solution of the mystery as nearly as its author, A. H. C. Mitchell, has done as you can.

Mr. Mitchell has written the last chapter, but his copy is sealed up in a vault at the American National Bank. When all but this final chapter has been printed, The Georgian readers will be asked to submit to three competent judges, none of them connected with this newspaper, their version of what the grand denouement should be.

To the person who most closely approximates Mr. Mitchell's final chapter $100 will be awarded. Other prizes, making the total prize list $250, also will be distributed.

Here is the list of the awards:

No. 1	$100
No. 2	$50
No. 3	$25
No. 4	$15
Nos. 5 to 16, each	5

Read this fifth installment of the great mystery story and you will not need to be urged to read the succeeding chapters. The story will grip you. As you read, try to follow the author's channel of thought and when the time comes for you to sit down and write that final chapter, be ready to win one of the big cash prizes in The Georgian's great offer.

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

Gordon looked at his watch. "I can only spare half an hour—say forty minutes, Judge," he laughed. "You see, I am taking some lessons and the hours are from 10 to 12 in the morning and 2 to 4 in the afternoon."

"I'm glad to learn that you are starting right in to improve yourself, Gordon. Lord knows there were many things that could not be had up in the mountains where you were forced to spend all your life."

"I have no complaint to make, Judge. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I formed an ambition up there that I want to see realized."

"What is it?"

"I'll tell you as soon as I feel sure I can win out," laughed Gordon.

To his wife Deery telephoned from his office that there would a guest for dinner. "I may do some business with him at some future date," he explained, "but that has nothing to do with it at present. He is a friend of Judge Barbee's. In fact, the Judge is a sort of guardian of his. He has lived all his life in the mountains, but you would never know it to talk with him. He has never been in a city before, but you would never suspect that either. Please pass the word along to Mildred and tell her she will be interested."

At five minutes of seven o'clock that evening Gordon Kelly entered the Deery residence and a moment later was escorted into the living room by Mr. Deery, who presented him to his wife.

"This is Mr. Gordon Kelly, dear; my wife, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, and after courtesies had been exchanged, he added: "Where is Mildred?"

At that moment his daughter crossed the threshold, and as she caught sight of Gordon she stood stock still. Recovering herself instantly, she advanced and held out her hand as the young man was presented to her. Before half a dozen words could be spoken, dinner was announced.

A Warning Glance.

"I don't intend to talk of the weather, Mr. Kelly, but I would like to ask if you were caught in the storm this morning?" said Mrs. Deery, as the napkins were unfolded.

Gordon intercepted a quick, warning glance from Mildred, who was seated opposite him, and answered:

"I certainly did, Mrs. Deery, I was caught out in the suburbs and caught most of the rain, too, but fortunately I found a friend right handy and was able to dry my clothes; otherwise I should have been in a predicament."

"You were fortunate after all," smiled Mrs. Deery, "but Mildred was out in the whole drenching rain and had a most exciting adventure. You haven't heard a word about it, Galen. Mildred, tell Mr. Kelly and your father all about it."

"You tell them, please, mother," pleaded Mildred, with a slight flush.

Thereupon Mrs. Deery related the incidents of the morning, exaggerating only so much as it is a woman's right to exaggerate. She omitted, however, the mean part played by Forrest Cain. Neither did she mention the hand-holding episode, for in truth her daughter had not told her of it.

"That was very kind of you to turn back, Miss Deery," said Gordon, with a smile. "As near as I can make out the young man was at fault in not looking out for himself."

"Now I think you are fishing for compliments for that young man, Mr. Kelly," returned Mildred. "You men always stand up for each other that way."

It was evident to Gordon that Mildred desired to conceal from her parents that he, Gordon Kelly, was the young man referred to. Beyond a slight start when she first saw him in her home, she had no sign of ever having seen him before. Gordon could not fathom her reasons for wishing the matter kept secret, but he felt bound to respect them.

She Flushed Slightly.

Mrs. Deery started another topic. "My husband tells me you have lived all your life in the mountains northwest of us," she said. "Didn't you find it lonesome up there?"

"Oh, mother, let Mr. Kelly tell us what he thinks of Atlanta," broke in Mildred quickly. "Isn't it a fine city, Mr. Kelly?"

She flushed again slightly, though Gordon could not understand why she did so. He answered:

"It certainly is, Miss Deery, but the thing that impressed me most when I arrived was the roar and rumble of it. Where I have lived the only noise we hear is the sound of the wind through the trees."

The conversation drifted into small talk. Mildred turned aside every attempt made by her parents to draw out Gordon in regard to his life in the mountains, and this was another thing in connection with the young woman he couldn't understand.

The dinner ended and Mrs. Deery asked if Gordon would care to play bridge.

"That is an accomplishment I haven't acquired," laughed Gordon, "but I must study it up."

"Take my advice and don't do it," declared Deery. "In a moment of mental aberration I allowed myself to learn the rudiments of the game. Never again!" He held up his right hand impressively. "Since that fatal hour my wife and daughter have insisted on dragging me shrieking to all sorts of bridge parties for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home, or some such charitable affair."

They all laughed at this. It was not until Gordon was taking his leave that he managed to have a word with Mildred alone. He said:

"Tell me why you make a mystery of my connection with your adventure of the morning?"

"Sh'h," she replied with a sly look. "It's a secret."

"And why wouldn't you allow me to tell of my life in the mountains?"

"Sh-h," replied Mildred with an adorable smile. "That is secret No. 2."

Cordial Invitations.

"Won't you tell me?"

"I hope so—some time."

"By the way, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, coming up to where they stood. "You ought to know some of the young men of Atlanta. If you will take lunch with me tomorrow, I will have you meet one of them, Forrest Cain, who, I know, would be glad to make things pleasant for you while you are in Atlanta."

"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I—" He felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline. Unfortunately I have another engagement."

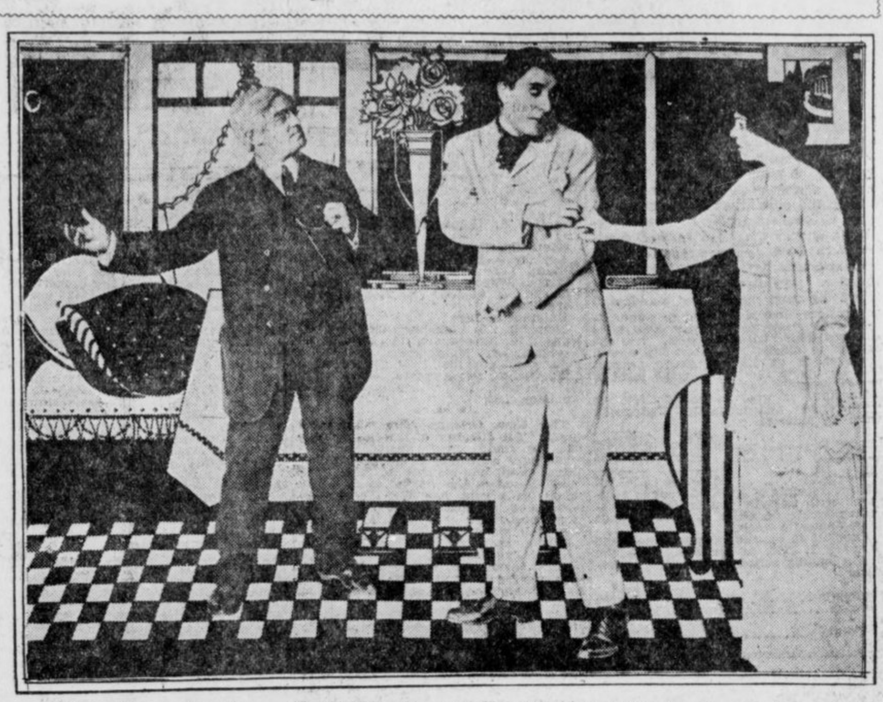
Deery noticed the hesitancy, but made no comment beyond. "Well, some other time, perhaps."

There were cordial invitations to "come again," at which Gordon said: "I'm not very well versed in etiquette, Mrs. Deery, but am I not entitled to make a 'party call'?"

"You certainly are," laughed Mrs. Deery, "come and see us the last of the week. What night, Mildred?"

"Come Thursday, Mr. Kelly," said Mildred.

His heart as light as a feather, Gordon Kelly walked home on aeriform fluid.



"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I——" he felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline."

CHAPTER VII.

FORREST CAIN, having nothing in particular to do except amuse himself and having plenty of money to do it with, spent considerable time every year in New York. He usually took three yearly trips and sometimes four to the metropolis, besides spending several weeks there in the hot season. In New York he always lived at the Niagara Club, so called because it flowed on with a roar from day to day and from month to month and from year to year. It never closed its doors. One could get a drink, or a meal, there at any hour of the day or night. Its membership consisted largely of wealthy young men of leisure—the same kind of New Yorkers in New York that Cain was in Atlanta. It was the sort of a club to appeal to a man of Cain's habits and inclinations.

The lure of Broadway and the call of the Niagara Club sounded from afar in the ears of Forrest Cain early in March, and he promptly made preparations for a trip to New York, completely forgetting the promise he had made to Galen Deery to take the young man from the mountains in tow. Transportation was secured for the following Thursday night. Cain engaging a stateroom on a Pullman car. Twice on Tuesday and twice on Wednesday he called up the Deery residence on the telephone, but the maid who answered the ring, after ascertaining who it was that was calling, told him Miss Deery was not at home. Early Thursday night he called up again, with the same result. Thereupon he proceeded to his club and spent the few hours before train time with convivial companions. Knowing the habitual inclinations of through Southern trains to be late, he took the precaution, about the time he should have left for the depot, to call up and find out about this particular train, and learned that it was nearly two hours behind schedule. He then took another chance of finding Mildred Deery, but the same maid assured him that she was not at home. Requesting that she be informed that he was leaving that night for New York, he hung up the receiver.

He then remembered that he had some orders to give regarding the overhauling of his automobile, and walked around to the garage, which was only a short distance from his club. He arrived just in time to dodge a smart shower of rain. As he was giving his instructions, the telephone in the office of the garage rang, and the proprietor answered the call. Cain heard half the conversation.

"Yes, this is the garage. Yes, Miss Deery. Yes, I understand. I'll have a car around in five minutes. All right. Goodbye."

"Where is she telephoning from?" asked Cain.

"From her home. She has a guest there who evidently doesn't care to walk home in the rain. So much the better for the automobile business. Every little helps."

"And they told me she wasn't at home," said Cain to himself, gritting his teeth. "What do you know about that?" Who was this favored guest, he wondered, and why was he, Forrest Cain, told repeatedly that Miss Deery was "not at home?"

An idea seized him. He would find out for himself. He had more than an hour to spare. His baggage was taken care of and his man, George, was waiting for him at the depot with his gripsack. He would play the role of chauffeur and drive the car to the Deery residence and take the favored guest to his home, after which he would return to the garage and have himself driven to the depot.

Pulled His Cap Down.

"Lend me a coat and cap, Davis," said Cain to the owner of the garage. "I need some air before I get on that stuffy train. I'll drive the car and collect the fare and bring back every penny of it."

Cain was one of the best customers of the garage, and he was an expert driver, so the proprietor readily gave his consent. Slipping on a long tan coat and pulling a cap well down over his eyes, Cain climbed into a touring car. The top was up, and the curtains were in place to keep out the rain. An employee cranked the car, and with Cain at the wheel it moved slowly out of the garage.

Arriving at the Deery residence, Cain sounded the horn to indicate that the car was there. A moment later the front door opened and the figure of a man holding an umbrella to be protected from the smart rain ran down the path to the sidewalk. Cain pulled his cap further down over his eyes and waited for the umbrella to be lowered. An electric light blazed only a few feet away. As he reached the side of the car, the man threw open the door, closed the umbrella with a snap and entered the vehicle. Quick as were his movements in order to avoid the rain, Cain was able to recognize his passenger the same young man he had so nearly run over in front of Ponce DeLeon Park in the furious rainstorm of Saturday morning; in short, it was, as the reader knows, George Kelly.

Cain stifled his rage and demanded in a gruff voice: "Where to?"

"Imperial Hotel," replied Kelly.

As he put the car in motion, wild thoughts filled the mind of Forrest Cain. For the first time in his life he was evidently not having his own way in a matter he had undertaken. Ever since he was old enough to walk he had ruled the Cain household. As a boy he was arrogant and self-willed. Since his father died, nine years before, he had shared with his sister the income from a large fortune. His money had enabled him to have everything he wanted. A few weeks ago he had made up his mind to marry Mildred Deery. It is true that she was not aware of this decision, and what her true feelings in regard to him were he did not know, nor did this matter trouble him much. Was he not one of the richest, if not the richest, bachelor in Atlanta? Was he not considered the great "catch?" Why, then, should he not marry the girl that suited his fancy?

Things had gone along swimmingly, he flattered himself, until this young man had crossed his path and had nearly met his death in doing so. He acknowledged to himself that he was a little rough in his talk to the fellow that day and Mildred had taken offense. But he had tried hard to "square" himself—to make amends. Had he not sent her flowers? Had he not repeatedly tried to talk with her over the telephone? Had he not tried twice that very night to do so and was he not told that she was "not at home?"

Cain was boiling with anger as his thoughts reached a sort of climax. She was not at home to him, it seemed, but she was at home to this stranger. Who was this man? How did Mildred find out who he was and where he lived? There must be a stop to the whole business. And he, Forrest Cain, was the man to stop it. Here was his chance. He would—

The car had arrived at the end of the street. To go to the Imperial Hotel a turn should be made to the right. Instead of doing this, however, Cain turned to the left and took a direction that would lead out of town. He speeded up the machine to the limit of its capacity, with a vague idea of intimidating the passenger on the rear seat, and the car flew down a hill at a terrifying pace. Rain was still falling sharply, making the roads wet and slippery and the car rolled and tossed and skidded in an alarming manner.

To be Continued To-morrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Gordon Kelly, a young North Georgia mountaineer, comes to Atlanta to get a place with Billy Smith's Crackers. It is raining when he reaches Ponce DeLeon and he is nearly run over by an auto, in which are two persons—a man and a young girl. The driver of the car is an arrogant fellow. The girl makes him stop the machine. She gets out and inquires if Kelly is injured. She apologizes for her companion's brusque manner. Kelly sees Manager Smith and tells him he has never played a game of ball. Smith consents to give Kelly a trial. The girl in the auto is Mildred Deery, daughter of Galen Deery, a crafty and wealthy speculator in timber lands. Her companion is Forrest Cain, a rich young man about town. Kelly owns timber land that Deery would like to possess.

Now go on with the story.

She Was So Neat

"ANY man who is married to a fine housekeeper is a most unfortunate creature," said the easy-going man. "It is not pleasant to live in the same block with one.

"A splendid housekeeper is much like a hawk—always on the lookout to descend upon some one and stick her claws into him or her, mostly him.

"That style of housekeeper, like a hawk, keeps mostly out of sight, busy away off somewhere. Then when you are sitting on a tabouret, there is a whirr—and down she comes! Right on your neck with her talons!

"I know the husband of a fine housekeeper who has to pull off his shoes and climb up the banisters to keep from soiling the carpet on the stairs, and he even gets into trouble for scratching the banisters a little in sliding down them.

"Another man I know has to wash his face and hands out in the laundry so that he wouldn't mess up the bedoilied bathroom. Others take their baths at the club or go without.

"A hawk woman will descend upon a scrap of paper on the lawn, and should any unfortunate person catch a glimpse of her face at such a time he will not soon forget it! One would think that the scrap of paper was guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

"Such a woman is never happy and never satisfied. Life is just one messy thing after another. Eating is a dreadful performance, to be endured like the boring of a cavity or the killing of a nerve in a tooth.

"Sleeping is another filthy habit, and causes untidy beds and horrid wrinkly linen.

"Having people walking on the carpets is about as pleasant for a calm did housekeeper as saw sharpening is to a violin professor.

"If an uncle from the country comes into such a woman's parlor with his boots on and trailing behind him his nine hobble-shoed children, and they sit on the furniture and swing their legs and eat candy and play jacks and shoot marbles and slide down the banisters and have a pillow fight, it results fatally for the poor woman."

One of Two Things.

A Kentucky mountain woman fell ill and for the first time in his life her husband had to work. It devolved upon him to nurse the invalid, look after a large family of tow-headed children, milk the cow, feed the pig, cook the meals and tend a straggly half acre of corn. At the end of ten days of these frightful labors he staggered down to the general store at the forks of the road and fell at the doorway in an exhausted heap. The storekeeper came out and said:

"Halloa, Anse, how's yore wife?"

"She ain't no better," moaned the husband. "I paid out a whole four bits for a bottle of bitters for her, but it seems like hit don't do her no good. I'm plumb wore out!"

He paused a moment and sighed deeply.

"Sometimes," he said, "I git to wishin' the old woman would git well—or somethin'!"

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Quick mail service for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

A MIGHTY monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold
To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse yet wise—

A precept, soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn.

Many the maxim sent the king, men say,
The one he chose: "This, too, shall pass away."

Oh, jewel sentence from the mine of truth!
What riches it contains for age or youth!

No stately epic, measured and sublime,
So comforts, or so counsels, for all time

As these few words. Go write them on your heart
And make them of your daily life a part.

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away—absorb the thought,

And wait; your waiting will not be in vain,
Time gilds with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark to-day leads into light to-morrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow.

Are you upon earth's heights? No cloud in view?
Go read your motto once again: This, too,

Shall pass away. Fame, glory, place and power,
They are but little baubles of the hour,

Flung by the ruthless years down in the dust,
Take warning and be worthy of God's trust.

Use well your prowess while it lasts; leave bloom,
Not blight, to mark your footprints to the tomb.

The truest greatness lies in being kind,
The truest wisdom in a happy mind.

He who desponds, his Maker's judgment mocks;
The gloomy Christian is a paradox.

Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short we need to make it broad,

Since life is brief we need to make it bright,
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,

And let its meaning permeate each day.
Whatever comes—This, too, shall pass away.

.:. Their Married Life .:.

Warren Gets Out His Summer Clothes and Helen Gives Away the Wrong Suit.

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

"DEAR, you'll never wear them," persisted Helen. "What's the use of keeping them any longer? Let me give these two suits to the elevator boy."

"Hold on now—not so fast! What've you got there?" scowled Warren, coming over to where Helen was examining two suits by the window.

"Why, this old blue serge, and this brown suit."

"Let's see—give them here. What's the matter with this?" as he held up the blue serge.

"Why, Warren, it's all worn shiny. And there's that new blue serge you got last summer. You'll never wear this old one."

"I'm not so sure. That's a good suit yet. Just the thing to wear fishing."

Warren was always saving his old suits to wear fishing—but he never went fishing! However, Helen was much too wise to remind him of this inconsistency, but she finally persuaded him to part with the blue serge, since he had kept at least five other old suits to "wear fishing."

It was Sunday morning, a dark, dismal Sunday, and right after breakfast Warren had declared it would be a good day to get out his summer clothes.

Signs of Spring.

The elevator boy had brought the trunk from the basement, and now Warren's summer suits were spread over the chairs and window sills of two rooms, and the whole place was filled with the odor of moth balls.

"Well, all right, then," reluctantly, as he threw down the blue serge. "Give that to the elevator boy if you want to—but that's ALL! Understand? The rest of these I'm going to keep. You've got a perfect mania for giving my clothes away. I notice you're not any too keen on getting rid of yours. What in thunder's that?" as something crunched under his heel.

"Oh, it's a moth ball, dear. Be careful, don't step on any more."

"Why the devil don't you get camphor? Don't smell half as bad as these infernal things."

"But camphor's so much more expensive. These are just as godd and they're only 5 cents a pound. I've got some fresh ones to put in with your winter clothes."

Helen had already gotten out Warren's winter suits and was beginning to pack them in the trunk."

"Well, I can't see that you need me here. Try to air out this place before I get back. Hold on, there; better not put in that overcoat. I may need that yet."

So Warren went out for his Sunday morning walk, while Helen was left to pack away his winter suits. At last she had them all in, and the trunk was ready to be sent back to the basement.

The elevator boy took it down, and with a pleased consciousness of tipping him well, Helen gave him the blue serge suit.

It was several mornings afterwards that Warren looked through his closet, now hung with the Summer suits, which had in the meantime been well aired and pressed.

"Where's that blue serge?" he called. "Had that pressed yet?"

"Oh, yes, dear, the tailor sent them all back yesterday. It's right there—hanging right in front."

"Well, I don't see it," he grumbled. "This closet's so infernally dark—you can't see a blame thing." Then a few moments' silence in which he looked again. "Well, if it's here I can't find it."

"Wait dear, I'll come."

The Wrong Suit.

Helen, who was not quite dressed, hurried in with her hair down, and looked through the long line of suits which hung on their hangers in Warren's wardrobe.

"Why, here it is—almost in front."

"No, that's the old one. Thought you said you were going to give that away."

"The—the OLD one!" stammered Helen. "Why—why it can't be——"

She had taken it to the light, but fortunately her back was to Warren, and he did not see her face. It WAS the old one. She had given the good one away!

"Oh, I remember," hastily, as she hung the suit back. "The sleeve lining was ripped in the other coat and I wanted to sew it before it was pressed. And I—I decided not to give this old one away—after all you might want to wear it fishing some time."

"Humph! Thought you were so keen about getting rid of it! Well, now you fix that other suit and have the tailor press it to-day. It's just about the right weight to wear now."

Helen, panic-stricken, went in to finish dressing. What could she do? She MUST get that suit back. Warren would be rabid if he found she had given away a perfectly new suit. No—no, he must never know!

She barely tasted her breakfast, and could hardly wait until Warren left. Then she ran out to see if the elevator boy, to whom she had given the suit, was on duty this morning.

But it was the other boy who answered her ring.

"What time will Henry be on?" she demanded.

A Thief.

"He won't be on no more, ma'am. He's been discharged."

"DISCHARGED!"

"Yes, ma'am, the superintendent laid him off this morning."

There was nothing for Helen to do but to see the superintendent and try to get the boy's address. What if he had already worn the suit? But Helen dared not think of that possibility.

"So he stole something from you, too, did he?" was the superintendent's first comment when Helen asked him about the boy.

"Stole somethinz? Why, no, but I gave him a suit of Mr. Curtis' by mistake."

The superintendent seemed relieved. "Well, he stole from other tenants—that's why I had to get rid of him. I'm sorry, Mrs. Curtis, that I haven't his address, but you might get it from the employment agency where I engaged him."

In desperation Helen explained about the suit.

"Oh, a blue serge? Why, that's downstairs now. I wouldn't let him take it away—thought he stole that, too."

"No, no, I gave it to him. But I thought I was giving him another suit."

The superintendent brought it up, and to Helen's infinite relief it was wrapped in newspaper, just as she had given it to the boy. He had torn a hole in the paper to see what it was like, but plainly it had not been unwrapped.

Overjoyed by her good luck, Helen promptly took the suit to the little tailoring shop around the corner to be pressed.

The very next morning Warren asked about "that blue serge suit."

"Yes, dear, I had it pressed yesterday. It's hanging right there in your closet."

Warren got it out and looked it over with a curious puzzled expression.

She Confesses.

"Huh, that's funny! Guess I was wrong this time."

"Wrong? Why, what do you mean, dear?"

"Well, I thought you couldn't produce it—that's all. I'd an idea that you'd gotten those blue suits mixed—and given the wrong one to that boy."

"Why, Warren—how could you think that?" flushing quickly. "Why I told you I—I wanted to fix the sleeve lining before it was pressed."

"I know you did, and you acted mighty blamed suspicious, too. You're always lying out of a thing when you get in a hole." Then, with a keen glance at Helen's flushed face: "I'm not sure yet that I wasn't right."

There was a moment's tense silence. Warren was buttoning a pair of suspenders on the blue serge trousers, while Helen was fumblingly putting on a hanger the coat he had worn yesterday.

"Eh? How about it?" he persisted with another searching glance at her averted face.

She hung the coat on the rod in the closet, then turned with a sudden defiant:

"Very well, you were RIGHT! I DID make a mistake—I DID give that suit to the elevator boy! But you needn't hesitate to wear it—it hadn't even been unwrapped. And if I'm always lying out of things it's your fault! You've raged and stormed at me so that when anything goes wrong—I'm AFRAID to tell you the truth!"

Wise Child.

"You see, had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

Boy—No, ma'am; it would have been eaten by us.

"Niagara Maid"

PURE SILK GLOVES

When you visit the Glove Department of your favorite store, do not merely ask for "a pair of silk gloves."

Specify the Niagara Maid kind. Do not accept substitutes. You will be pleased with the results. They wear longer, are better and cost no more than any other good kind.

Finger tips are double, and each pair contains a guarantee ticket.

Colorings are up to the instant from a style point of view.

Ask your dealer. If he cannot supply you, send us his name. We will supply you through him.

Niagara Silk Mills
North Tonawanda, N. Y.
New York Boston
Chicago San Francisco

CARRIERS IN 'NECK-AND-NECK' CONTEST FOR GEORGIAN PONY

Five Bunched Closely Together at Lead With Grand Total of 126,650 Votes. Lithonia and Meansville Rivals.

I nominate, as a candidate in The Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian Pony Outfit Contest:

Name .....

Address .....

Nominated by .....

Address .....

GOOD FOR 1,000 VOTES.

Only One Nomination Blank Can be Voted for Any Contestant.

The race among the city carriers for a Georgian and American pony finds five boys bunched closely at the lead—Ross Greer, with 33,260 votes; Mose Brodkin, 32,420; Harold Hamby, 21,195; O. B. Bigger, 20,575; Raymond Wilkinson, 19,200.

These five contestants alone have polled 126,650 votes. Fully experienced in getting subscriptions and in collections, wide awake and energetic, this contest is in deadly earnest, and the totals are likely to be increased greatly. There are some boys farther down the list, too, who may come to the front in short order.

Lithonia and Meansville are the two towns fighting hard in the Georgia State contest. Andrew B. Trimble, of Lithonia, has 13,735 votes, and M. Means, of Meansville, 11,190. It would take little to reverse these two positions.

Names and standings of contestants in the various districts follow:

District Number One.

George Rosseh	38510
Jacob Patterson	17030
Josephine Simril	15390
Vera Nelle Brantley	13685
Miss Margaret Lewis	8750
Jas. O. Godard	7310
Janet Oxenham	6755
Edgar Watkins, Jr.	6475
Willie Ivey Wiggins	6215
Hugh B. Luttrell	5710
Andrew May	5595
Miss Frankie J. Smith	4570
Hillman McCalla	3725
Miss Mildred Stewart	2220
Nellie Martin	2190
Dorothy Stiff	2030
Miss Estelle Sullivan	1730
Phillip S. Reid	1405
Miss Louise Thompson	1435
Mokie Lee Kendall	1405
Glenn Moon	1320
Thomas M. Price	1270
Norman Caldwell	1250
Wm. Elsie	1145
James Grubbs	1140
Lottie Mae Dedman	1130
Eugene Morgan	1100
Wyman Conard	1000
Yoland Gwin	1000
Harold Holsombach	1000
T. L. Hoshall, Jr.	1000
Roy Mauldin	1000
Albert Smith	1000
Miss Louise McCrary	1000
Miss Sudie King	1000
Miss Gaynell Phillips	1000
Miss Mary E. Peacock	1000
Robert A. Harden	1000
Miss Edith Clower	1000
Miss Ruth Grogan	1000
H. E. Watkins, Jr.	1000
Miss Annie Phillips	1000
Miss Christa Powers	1000
Oliff Moody	1000
William Ernest	1000
Arthur Pepin	1000
Lillian Smith	1000
Chas. Johnson	1000
Frank Price, Jr.	1000
Louise McAllister	1000
Sidney Clark	1000
Donovan Owens	1000
Morgan Glover	1000
Chas. Whitner, Jr.	1000
Jack Shinholser	1000

District Number Two.

Miss Robert Harbour	29530
Eugene Willingham	23650
Miss Elizabeth Smith	10865
Miss Marjorie McLeod	10265
J. W. Collins	9790
Miss Lottie McNair	8300
Elsie Gosnell	5880
Edmund Hurt	5020
Miss Idelle Shaw	4630
Willett Matthews	4220
Miss Edith Gray	3945
Miss Nellie Reynolds	3585
Ray Warwick	3520
Miss Elizabeth Garwood	3475
J. Edgar Sheridan	2935
Paul M. Clark	2900
Miss LaRue Church	2435
Wm. Wellborn	1850
Clinton Hutchinson	1740
Miss Virginia Walton	1650
Edgar Sweetzer	1425
Chas. M. Kellog, Jr.	1380
Max Clein	1245
Robert Wood	1180
J. R. Wood	1120
J. P. Tucker	1035
Martin Comerford	1010
Buel Crawley	1000
Willie Harden	1000
Raley Ray	1000
Miss Lucy Withers	1000
Miss Elizabeth Downing	1000
Robert R. Andrews	1000
Miss Catherine Fussell	1000
Nick Caroll	1000
Sarah Paxton	1000
W. Samet	1000
Ed Ferguson	1000
Pierce Smith	1000

District Number Three.

Charles L. Stevens	25800
Mildred Brickman	21635
Willetts Matthews	20855
J. P. Goets, Jr.	8000
Miss Mabel Bracewell	3400
Miss Mary Wells	2735
Miss Alma Coleman	2335
Miss Evelyn Oxford	1800
Ernest E. Hamprick	1250
Anne S. Slatton	1040
Willie Reynolds	1000
Harry Brown	1000
Joe R. Smith	1000
Howard Grove	1000
Claudia Cochran	1000
Annie Mealor	1000
Marion Wells	1000

District Number Four.

Fannie Mae Cook	43249
Florence Greenoe	36215
Nathaniel Kay	21720
Oscar Eugene Cook	14210
W. H. Hamilton, Jr.	10130
J. Walling Davis	6800
Ida G. Fox	5965
Miss Ida Bloomberg	5965
Nell Reynolds	5450
Mill Wilhelmina Tucker	5425
Lillian Mautenberg	5185
Howell Conway	3650
Annie Slatten	2650
Fred Vickery	2600
Charles Ernest Verno	2460
H. L. W. Brown	3390
Agnes Shatren	2335
Miss Marie Toy	2235
Miss Maude L. Berry	2210
Miss Beatrice Brunson	2175
Miss Ann G. Cham.	2110
Miss Meta Mitchell	1870
Louis Joel	1650
Louise Whitman	1645
Guy Quillian	1615
Myrtle Jones	1485
Raymond Smith	1460
Vivian Broom	1450
John Thrasher	1425
Roy Young	1420
Paul Theodown	1400
Estelle Honer	1389
David F. Nowell	1295
William Henderson	1290
Louise Simpson	1250
Mose Gold	1250
Miss Rosemund Humphries	1025
Miss Susie Black	1250
Ralph Rose	1150
James Edens	1130
Miss L. E. Abbott	1099
Miss Lovie C. Dean	1095
Miss Alice Feldman	1095
Frank Henley	1090
Miss Annie Mae Hilsman	1090
Milton Holcombe	1090
Lynn A. Hubbard	1090
Harry Stone	1090
Miss Sarah Whitaker	1090
Miss Margaret White	1090
Charles Stone	1000
R. H. Brown	1000
Hugh Terrell	1000
Miss Carlitta Burns	1000
Lowell Battle	1000
Miss Lillian L. Brown	1000
Miss Marion Overstreet	1000
Jack Ellman	1000
Eugene Bayliss	1000
Sam K. Nece	1000
Esther Hutchins	1000
Valentine Jenkins	1000

District Number Five.

Frank Ison, Jr.	32800
Richard Rainey	9655
Emery Ward	6775
Harndon Thomas	6275
Miss Louise Chewning	5075
Dick Deaton	3800
Miss Margaret Le Feure	3260
Miss Lucile Berry	2115
Miss Mary Holloway	2065
Roy Coleman	1570
John Baker Long	1260
Wm. Hood	1150
Miss Texia Mae Butler	1000
Miss Anna Graham	1000
Albert Leake	1000
Merriot Brown Reid	1000
Miss Frances Summers	1000

District Number Six.

William Turner	19275
Miss Beverly Swanton	13340
Miss Susanne Springer	6880
Edward DeLoach	6695
Miss Virginia Jackson	4315
George Nelson Baker	3090
Edgar Wilson	2745
John Lovett	2710
Grady Harris	2015
Miss Ora F. Dozier	1790
Miss Margaret Thornton	1780
Gay Reynolds	1505
Ad Gay	1310
Francis Summers	1330
E. F. Marquett	1300
Charlie Hood	1075
Miss Grace Davis	1000
Gregory J. Eaton	1000
Angie C. Newton	1000
Benjamin F. Safiets	1000

District Number Seven.

A. Morrison	11965
Philip Gilstein	7010
James Allen	2940
Chas. R. Walker, Jr.	1725
Clyde Mitchell	1540
George H. Melton	1500
Lawrence McGinnis	1170
Joe DuPre	1115
Claude Higgins	1000
Willie Mae Dempsey	1000
Joy Carraway	1000
Miss Alma Hudson	1000
Fannie Bettis	1000
Henry Hull	1000

City Carriers and Newsboys.

Ross Greer	33260
Mose Brodkin	32420
Harold Hamby	21195
O. B. Bigger	20575
Raymond Wilkinson	19200
John Tumble	14630
J. E. Moore	12940
Powell Pendley	11750
Roy Crook	9500
Sidney Ney	8820
Irvan Willingham	8015
Sterling Jordan	6910
Olin Neal Bass	5645
Sterling Jordan	5610
Norman Gooch	4195
Everett J. Cain	3885
Charles Barron	3350
Bonnell Bloodworth	2610
St. Leonard Veitch	2305
Royal Barbour	2280
Grady Cook	1585
L. M. Harrison	1560
Frank Garwood	1545
Robert Correll	1300
R. S. McConnell	1220
Johnnie Evans	1000

Out-of-Town Agents and Carriers.

John Martin, Jr., Columbus, Ga.	18895
Leon Spence, Carrollton, Ga.	5450
Ambrose Scarboro, Royston, Ga.	4310
Patrick Jones, Macon	3280
Jake Palmer, Murphy, N. C.	3030
H. K. Everett, Calhoun, Ga.	2965
M. E. Dasch, Stone Mountain, Ga.	2410
Gladys Daniel, Bolton	2405
Jas. S. Plunkett, Gaffney, S. C.	2180
Aubrey Hopkins, Anderson, S. C.	2085
Thos. W. Rylee, Gainesville, Ga	1585
Robt. Newby, Vienna, Ga.	1360
Alfred Chappelie, Sparta, Ga.	1355
H. Esserman, Rome, Ga.	1345
John Toler, New Orleans, La.	1340
Leon B. Spears, Woodstock, Ga.	1285
James Wilkins, Gaffney, S. C.	1015
Chas. B. Havey, Lithonia, Ga.	1000
L. Bennett, Brunswick, Ga.	1000
Jos. Milam, Cartersville, Ga.	1000
Herman Corliss, LaGrange, Ga.	1000
Smith Fallaw, Opelika, Ala.	1000
R. E. Hudson, Unadilla, Ga.	1000
Hugh Parrish, Adel, Ga.	1000
Paul Swint, Gibson, Ga.	1000
X. N. David, Cedartown, Ga.	1000
Rupert Mobley, Covington, Ga.	1000

Georgia School Boys and Girls.

Andrew B. Trimble, Lithonia	13735
M. Means, Meansville	11190
Ennie Spinks, Chipley	8155
Lois Casey, Chattahoochee	6785
Clifford Henry, Carrollton	6535
Gertrude Moseley, Menlo	6425
Virginia McCowen, Marietta Car Line	5485
Belle Ragsdale, Lithonia	4640
Anna Johnson, Summerville	4605
E. Crawford, Chipley	4030
John Logan, Gainesville, Ga.	3280
Margaret Danner, Doraville	3115
Esther Boorstein, Covington	2995
Blake Nichols, R. F. D. Atlanta	2965
Belle Stowe, Toccoa	2855
Wm. Reid, Columbus	2325
Warner Webb, Griffin	2285
Elmer Towns, Social Circle	2240
Terry Strozier, Greenville	2230
Patrick Jones, Macon	2125
W. L. Mattox, Newnan	2000
Alfred Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	2000
Maxwell Aubrey, Bolton	1935
B. C. Elder, Blakely	1970
Jimmy Logan Granville	1950
Mary Allen, Juniper	1885
Chas. E. Keely, Cartersville	1855
Berry Davis, Fayetteville	1840
Berry Clein, Columbus	1795
Emory Steele, Commerce	1650
W. Harrell, Jr., Quitman	1500
Horace McConnell, R. F. D. Atl.	1405
Sarah F. Spier, Monroe	1430
Helen Mitchell, Richwood	1380
Carl Bragg, Woodcliff	1365
Rives Cary, Barnesville	1320
Paul Jossey, Forsyth	1240
Clay Burruss, Carnesville	1265
E. A. Heckle, Cornelia	1255
Wm. Tallaferro, Mansfield	1240
Virginia Young, Roswell, Ga.	1175
Jessie Collier, Barnesville	1170
I. L. Brewer, Egan	1165
Gertrude Marshall, Savannah	1150
Emmett Jeffers, Douglasville	1135
Mary Caldwell, Chipley	1130
Ruth Aiken, Carnesville	1125
Sallie Evans, Douglasville	1110
D. S. Morton, Raymond	1105
Will Chapman, Barnesville	1090
Ernest Turney, Chipley	1085
Sidney Newsome, Union Point	1080
H. C. Ogilvie, Savannah	1080
J. P. Craven, Baxley	1075
Clyde Stephens, Barnesville	1075
Robt. Mobley, Jr., Quitman	1055
Miriam Stansell, Gainesville	1055
Robert Davis, Columbus	1050
Eleanor Lindsay, Tucker	1050
Cary Brezel, Rome	1050
Cl..s Harlan, R. F. D. Atlanta	1050
H. E. White, Flovilla	1040
Ernest Baker, Washington	1040
Erva Blackstock, Hogansville	1030
W. A. Hollis, Hogansville	1030
E. Scarborough, Macon	1025
Etheridge Bradley, Smyrna	1015
Chas. Clark, Loganville	1010
Horace McConnell R. F. D., Atlanta	1005
Jessie Tabor, Loganville	1005
Mattie L. Johns Loganville	1005
J. C. Smith, Oxford	1005
Brannon Sharp, Commerce	1000
G. W. Davis, Bremen	1000
Cecil McGahee, Lithonia	1000
Sarah Carter Savannah	1000
Dan Patrick, Conyers	1000
H. H. Redwine, Fayetteville	1000
Felix Reid, Union City	1000
Ralph Little, Commerce	1000
Morris McClure, Jackson	1000
Ben Steinberg, Cartersville	1000
C. V. Turner, Jr., Quitman	1000
G. W. Posey, Jr., Juniper	1000
Lily Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
J. H. Hewlett, Conyers	1000
Rudolph Campbell, Fairburn	1000
A. E. Gilmore, Jr, Tennille	1000
Richard Johnson, Tennille	1000
J. P. Tucker, Jr., R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
Edna Jennings, Newnan	1000
Thos. Lamar, Waycross	1000
Evelyn Davis, Baconton	1000
W. B. Dismukes, Mystic	1000
Susie Glenn, Social Circle	1000
Joe Tink, Gainesville	1000

School Boys and Girls Outside of State of Georgia.

Fain E. Webb, Jr.	16530
Robert Hyatt Brown	10185
J. T. Sewell	5055
Rodney Stephens	4255
Henry Hicks	2910
McGee Hunt, Westminster, S. C.	1450
Ralph Turner	1350
Miss Dorothy Davis	1180
Miss Annie McCarell	1020
Novel Wheeler	1015
Pauline Trull	1000
J. T. Webb, Jr.	1000
Lindsay W. Graves	1000
George Andrews	1000
Miss Lydia Bemley	1000
Geo. W. Chamlee, Chattarooga, Tenn.	1000

NEW WOOL CLIP IS NOT SELLING WELL

Conditions Reversed From Those of a Year Ago—Western Markets Are Improving.

BOSTON, May 23.—Wool business locally is irregular. The leading feature of the past week has been the opening and sale of some new clip territory wools. These wools are selling very slowly, the present condition being almost a complete reversal of that prevailing a year ago. No further sacrifice sales of old wools are reported. Few leading houses have any volume of wool to offer. Conditions in the West are improving from the dealers' standpoint, as growers have moderated to some extent their demands. Buyers also have changed their attitude a little. The endeavor to market the new clip wools, however, is so difficult as to prevent free buying in the West at the level of prices recently quoted.

Receipts of wool in pounds for the week ended and including Wednesday were as follows:

	1913.	1912.
Domestic	2,962,024	4,073,933
Foreign	932,385	1,104,775
Totals	3,894,409	5,178,708

Total receipts of 3,894,409 pounds compared with 2,531,270 pounds for the preceding week, of which 1,898,155 pounds were domestic wools.

Receipts in pounds from and including January 1, 1913, as compared with the corresponding period in 1912 were as follows:

	1912.	1912.
Domestic	29,529,775	47,260,089
Foreign	38,397,480	59,169,451
Totals	67,922,255	106,429,540

COTTON GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—Freeman was probably the best buyer on the call today, said to be acting for Weld. The selling was scattered. McFadden brokers were liberal buyers.

* * *

Dick Bros., Wilson and Sherrson sold. Mitchell and Geer also offered. Mitchell sold 10,000 bales of January from 11.21c to 11.15c. Geer sold about 10,000 bales of October.

* * *

Rainfall overnight:

Tuscumbia, 1.30; Greensboro, 1.50; Goodwater, 1.40; Selma, 1.60; Demopolis, 2.10; Livingston, 2.30; Tuscaloosa, 2.60; Gadsden, 1.50; Clinton, 1.50.

Mississippi—Greenwood, 1.00; Rosedale, 1.00; Waynesboro, 1.70; Kosciusko, 1.40; Lake, 2.60; Aberdeen, 1.50; Columbus, 2.00; Okolona, 2.20.

Georgia—Macon, 2.40; Athens, 1.20; Rome, 2.30; Gainesville, 1.40; Toccoa, 1.20.

South Carolina—Greenville, 1.50.

Louisiana—Ahite, 1.50; Clinton, 1.05; Minden, 1.35.

Texas—Waco, .10; Pierce, .08; Palestine, .01; Galveston, .26; Houston, .10; Longview, .08.

Rainfall to-day:

Memphis, .18; Vicksburg, .26; New Orleans, 1.10; Shreveport, .01; Mobile, .88; Meridian, 1.52; Montgomery, .70; Nashville, .64; Knoxville, 1.98; Chattanooga, 2.18; Atlanta, .90; Augusta, .01; Raleigh, .01; Jackson, 1.30; Birmingham, 2.16; Anniston, 1.50.

* * *

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "The dilemma of the cotton market was made clear yesterday. The trade buys contracts as hedges against future need, but refuses to sell. The public is not in the market at all. The talent, as a rule, has been bearish all spring and has sold whenever a professional speculator or a merchant would buy. All along speculative shorts in numbers have counted on favorable weather and favorable crop reports to depress the market and give them opportunity to cover at a profit. All this was, of course, based on their belief in a balanced market. Belligerent bears never for a moment imagined that the public would drop out or that the trade would turn into a sponge.

"Recently the weather became extremely favorable and the character of the crop reports reflected much improvement. But because the long interest in the main is held by the trade and is not for sale, nobody stood ready to feed contracts to the market and expectant shorts began to discover that to get under cover they would have to bid the market up to a point where scalpers would supply them.

"On Monday shorts were made nervous by the drift of the market. On Tuesday they were worried. On Wednesday there were apprehensive and on Thursday they were excited. Under the circumstances high price people experienced no difficulty in obtaining a hearing for bullish data and when they talked of the possibility of too much rain to follow the wake of too much drouth floor traders gathered round the weather boards and talked in whispers."

SPINNERS' TAKING FOR WEEK 222,000 BALES

The visible supply of American cotton during the past week shows a decrease of 166,262 bales, as compared with a decrease of 151,801 bales for the corresponding week last year, against a decrease of 111,416 bales for the same week the year before. Other kinds during the week shows an increase of 59,000 bales, against an increase of 2,000 bales for the same week last year and an increase of 1,000 bales in 1911.

The total visible supply of American for the week shows a decrease of 107,262 bales, compared with a decrease of 148,491 bales for the corresponding week last year, against a decrease of 110,412 bales for the same week in 1911.

World's visible supply:

	1913	1912	1911
American	2,797,392	3,164,989	1,934,575
Other kinds	1,558,000	1,168,000	1,183,000
T'tl all k'ds	4,355,392	4,332,989	3,117,579

World's spinners' takings:

	1913	1912	1911
For week	222,000	227,000	153,000
Since S'pt	11,715,000	12,953,000	10,284,000

Movement into sight for week:

	1913	1912	1911
Or'ind. w'k	1,709	16,602	10,959
Since S'pt.	923,510	1,185,210	855,543
Into s't. w'k	53,938	79,957	77,137
Since S'pt.	13,180,192	15,329,320	11,445,442
So. c'ns'mp.	20,000	31,000	30,000

Weekly interior movement:

	1913	1912	1911
Receipts	22,046	25,502	15,130
Shipments	49,160	46,871	39,001
Stocks	358,114	240,636	200,200

Weekly exports:

	1913	1912	1911
For week	68,251	64,587
Since S'pt. 1	7,962,391	10,021,285

SPOT COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta, quiet; middling 12c

Athens, steady; middling 11¾.

Macon, steady; middling 11¾.

New Orleans, steady; middling 12 7-16.

New York, quiet; middling 12.10.

Philadelphia, quiet; middling 12.20.

Boston, quiet; middling 12.10.

Liverpool, steady; middling 6.79d.

Savannah, firm; middling 12c.

Augusta, steady; middling 12c.

Norfolk, steady; middling 12¼.

Mobile, nominal; middling 11¾.

Galveston, steady; middling 12 5-16.

Charleston, steady; middling 11¾.

Wilmington, quiet; middling 11¾.

Little Rock, steady; middling 11¾.

Baltimore, nominal; middling 12¾.

Memphis, quiet; middling 12¼.

St. Louis, quiet; middling 12¾.

Houston, steady; middling 12 3-16.

Louisville, firm; middling 12¼.

Greenville, quiet; middling 11¾.

Charlotte, steady; middling 11¾.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Unsettled, showery weather will continue to-night and Saturday in the Atlantic States, with somewhat lower temperatures over the Middle and Southern districts. In the interior the weather will be generally fair with slightly higher temperatures Saturday in the Ohio Valley and the upper Lake region.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Gulf coast from Mobile to Carrabelle.

Forecast until 8 p. m. Saturday:

Georgia—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night. Cooler Saturday in southeast portion.

North Carolina—Showers to-night; cooler in the interior; Saturday cloudy; cooler in western portion.

South Carolina—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night in the interior; cooler in southern and eastern portion.

Florida—Showers to-night and Saturday; cooler to-night in northern portion; slightly cooler Saturday in north and central portions.

Alabama—Fair to-night; cooler in south portion; Saturday fair.

Mississippi—Fair to-night; Saturday fair; warmer in north and west portions.

Eastern Texas—Fair to-night and Saturday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and warmer in northern portion; Saturday fair.

Louisiana—Fair to-night and Saturday.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The cotton seed oil market was firm on covering of shorts to-day, having believed to be for refiners and local bull support. The upturn brought out some scattered profit-taking, outside speculative demand disappointing and consuming interests display little interest at present. There was some selling of December against purchases of new crude.

	Opening.	Closing.
Spot		7.08
May	7.09@7.15	7.10@7.20
June	7.05@7.10	7.11@7.14
July	7.08@7.11	7.11@7.12
August	7.16@7.19	7.20@7.23
September	7.18@7.20	7.21@7.23
October	6.88@6.99	6.97@6.99
November	6.48@6.49	6.51@6.53
December	6.39@6.40	6.41@6.43

Closed steady; sales, 19,500 barrels.

COTTON WEAKENS ON PROFIT-TAKING

Disappointing Cables and Bear News From the Weather Man Encourage Selling.

NEW YORK, May 23.—On overnight buying orders the cotton market opened firm to-day, May 6 points higher, with other positions showing irregularity, being 1 off to 2 points up from last night's close.

The appearance of clearing weather in the Western belt with a probability that it would extend to the rest of the belt by to-morrow caused considerable unloading after the call. Much of this was absorbed by overnight buying orders.

Commission houses, the ring crowd and Wall street, also a few brokers with spot house connections sold heavily. The selling was said to be profit-taking. May dropped back to last night's close, while other positions declined some 4 to 5 points under the previous close. The buying was light and scattered.

During the forenoon a renewal of buying predominated, which checked the selling pressure to a considerable extent, resulting in prices recovering the initial decline. May option, however, was not in demand and held steady around the early low point. The advance was attributed chiefly to the continued rains throughout the cotton States. Rains were heavy throughout the State last night and reports of heavy rainfall were received during the entire day. There was fear among the locals of too much rain, which stimulated a general covering wave.

During the afternoon session the market was quiet. The principal feature was the steady buying of late positions, which held steady around the opening quotations. May, July and August fluctuated about the early low level. Many believe there is still a large spot interest in the market. The late weather map was favorable, but there was considerable comment on some heavy rains in the central belt. The strength of the market is explained by trade buying.

The ring evidently went long during the early part of the day and during the last half-hour of trading they began to unload considerable cotton, resulting in near positions dropping about 11 points from the start and late months lost the early advance and receded some 8 to 7 points under the opening. The market closed steady with prices showing a net decline of 6 to 15 points from the final quotations of Thursday.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: May, 11.69; July, 11.79; August, 11.57; October, 11.18; January, 11.16.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: May, 12.48; July, 12.22; August, 11.76; October, 11.29; January, 11.30.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Saturday.	1912.
New Orleans	1,600 to 2,000	1,220
Galveston	1,000 to 1,800	1,091

RANGE IN NEW YORK FUTURES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
My	11.75	11.75	11.68	11.69	11.61-64	11.69-70
Je					11.62-64	11.77-78
Jly	11.82	11.83	11.70	11.73	11.72-73	11.81-83
Ag	11.61	11.62	11.50	11.50	11.50-51	11.59-60
Spt	11.28	11.28	11.28	11.28	11.24-26	11.31-32
Oct	11.23	11.24	11.15	11.18	11.17-18	11.24-25
Dc	11.16	11.16	11.16	11.16	11.18-19	11.25-26
Jn	11.21	11.22	11.14	11.15	11.15-16	11.21-23
Mh	11.29	11.37	11.23	11.23	11.23-24	11.29-31

Closed steady.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, May 23.—Due 6½ higher on July, 5½@6½ higher on other positions, this market opened steady at a net gain of 5@6 points on near positions and 4½ higher on late months. At 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet and steady with prices 6 points higher on near positions and 5@5½ points higher on late months.

Spot higher; middling 6.79d; sales, 5,000 bales, including 4,000 American bales; imports, 18,000 bales.

At the close the market was steady, with prices at a net gain of 2 to 6½ points from Thursday's final.

Futures opened quiet and steady.

	Opening Range.	2 P. M.	Close.	Prev
May	6.55			6.40
May-June	6.55 @6.54½	6.55½		6.49
June-July	6.51 @6.52	6.51½		6.46
July-Aug	6.45½@6.48	6.48½		6.42½
Aug.-Sept.	6.39 @6.38½	6.38½		6.35½
Sept.-Oct	6.23½	6.24		6.17½
Oct.-Nov.	6.14½@6.16	6.17		6.10½
Nov.-Dec.	6.11½@6.13	6.13		6.07½
Dec.-Jan.	6.12	6.12½		6.06½
Jan.-Feb.	6.10 @6.11	6.11½		6.07
Feb.-Mar.	6.11½@6.13	.....		6.07
Mar.-Apr.	.....	.....		6.08

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—Excepting that it is too cool, a condition, however, which will not last more than a day or two, weather developments overnight were very favorable.

A rain formation is directly over the Atlantics and general rains and cooler weather will prevail for the Eastern States; while fair weather will prevail over the Western half with rising temperatures.

The press gives grave political news. London reports a serious battle between Greeks and Bulgarians and the peace conference delayed.

Liverpool was disappointing and weakened further in the last hour; spot sales only 5,000 at 6 points advance. Political developments with consols lower must have caused an unfavorable impression. Trading here was quieter this morning. Prices eased repeatedly, but support appeared on depressions and held October to 11.30.

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS FUTURES

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Close.	Prev. Close.
My	12.52	12.62	12.46	12.42	12.41-43	12.50-51
Je					12.16-18	12.23-25
Jly	12.25	12.25	12.15	12.16	12.16-17	12.23-24
Ag	11.80	11.82	11.76	11.79	11.74	11.82-83
Spt					11.41-43	11.46-48
Oct	11.35	11.35	11.27	11.28	11.28-29	11.33-34
N'v					11.27-29	11.32-34
D'c	11.33	11.33	11.25	11.27	11.26-27	11.31-32
J'n	11.35	11.45	11.29	11.29	11.29-30	11.35-36
F'b					11.25-27	11.32-34
Mh	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.38-40	11.44-45

Closed steady.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	2,019	225
Galveston	3,684	843
Mobile	868	196
Savannah	1,293	1,635
Charleston	149	27
Wilmington	26	50
Norfolk	1,005	663
Baltimore	445	2,111
Boston	563	5
Newport News	6,431	117
Total	16,577	5,872

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	1,373	620
Augusta	333	146
Memphis	211	1,300
St. Louis	509	813
Cincinnati	218	563
Little Rock		46
Total	2,634	3,488

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Money on call 2½@3. Time money firmer; sixty days 3½@4 per cent; ninety days 3¾@4 per cent; six months 4¼@4½.

Posted rates: Sterling exchange 4.83¼@4.87, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.86¼@4.8630 for demand and 4.83 for sixty days' bills. Prime mercantile paper unchanged.

Today's New York Stock Market

Following are the highest, lowest and last prices of stocks sold in New York to-day:

STOCK—	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Copper	74⅛	74	74⅛	74⅛
American Ice	24½	24½	24½	24
American Sug.	110	110	110	111
Am. Smelting	67⅛	67	67	67¼
Am. Locomo.	33	33	33	32¾
Am. Car Fdy.	....	....	....	48½
Am. Cot. Oil	....	....	....	39½
Am. Woolen	....	....	....	17
Anaconda	37⅞	37⅞	37⅞	37¾
Atchison	99⅝	99¼	99⅝	99½
A. C. L.	....	....	....	122
American Can	32	32	32	32⅛
do. pref.	92¾	92¾	92¾	92¾
Am. Beet Sug.	....	....	....	29½
Am. T.-T.	129	129	129	128⅞
Am. Agricul.	....	....	....	49¼
B. R. T.	92	91¼	92	91½
B. and O.	98½	98¼	98⅜	98¼
Can. Pacific	237⅞	236¾	237⅞	247¼
Corn Products	....	....	....	10⅛
C. and O.	....	....	....	65
Consol. Gas	133¼	132¼	133¼	132⅝
Cen. Leather.	23	22¾	23	23
Colo. F. and I.	31¼	31	31	31
Colo. Southern	....	....	....	28
D. and H.	156½	156½

CAPITAL MUST WIN THE HELP OF LABOR

The Employer Must Study to Gain the Co-operation of the Employee.

By B. C. FORBES.

An employer in these days of labor unrest must be a diplomat, a student of human nature, a man able to blend toleration with discipline. Hundreds of strikes, petty and serious, are caused, not through unsatisfactory wages, but by arrogant bossing by heads of departments, superintendents and foremen, who puffed up by the possession of a little transient authority, treat workers as if they were made of some lower kind of material.

* * *

Corporations, firms and individual employees should pay more attention to the careful selection of overseers of every rank. It is not enough that a man is an expert; that is necessary oftentimes, but if he is to be placed in charge of many workers he must have tact, he must be humane, he must know the minds, the hearts, the habits and the ambitions of those serving under him. He must be able to inspire loyalty. He must not carry his head too high. He must avoid superciliousness. He must even occasionally close his eyes to litle incidents not strictly on the working schedule.

* * *

To be in the highest degree successful nowadays an employer or corporation manager must win the co-operation of others. The slave-driver, the heartless taskmaster cannot last. Sooner or later he will reap what he sows.

* * *

In too many establishments systems of fines for all sorts of trivial mistakes are still in vogue. They should be abolished. Numbers of corporations have seen the light in this direction. A policy of kindness has proved more profitable than one of harshness. To encourage has been found better than to coerce. For example: Childs' restaurants used to fine their waiters and waitresses for every dish they broke. A whole day's wages was sometimes lost in a moment—especially as highly polished floors, when wet, were responsible for many slips. This system has been abandoned, with, I understand, gratifying results.

* * *

Really big men seldom are tyrannical to their employees. But unfortunately, the rank and file do not come in contact with the heads of establishments, but with minor aids, many of whom are sadly unfitted by education—ignorance rather—by breeding and by temperament to inspire fealty, enthusiasm, success. They are not broad-gauge enough to discern how to obtain the best results from those under them. They are too bent upon impressing others with their own importance. They like to hear themselves bawl out orders. They enjoy seeing underlings quake. It feeds their vanity.

* * *

Have you noticed how much attention our wisest corporations are now devoting to cultivating friendly, harmonious relations with their employees? It pays.

* * *

Let me relate a recent incident.

The president of one of our largest express companies, a disciple of the new movement to inspire the loyalty of employees, visited a branch office.

The telephone rang and he answered it.

"Any more orders for me to-day?" asked one of the company's drivers.

"No," replied the president.

"Thank heaven!" exclaimed the driver, not knowing he was talking to the president.

The president sent for the man and had a heart-to-heart talk with him, telling him that if there were few orders to fill the company might have to pay him off, that drivers were in a sense the company's salesmen and that on their attitude toward the public and toward their employers the success of the business depended. No scolding was indulged in. "My job depends upon you," the president told him. "Won't you help me to keep it?"

This appeal went home.

Late in the afternoon the telephone again rang. The agent replied.

"If you can send a wagon at once I know where you can get a big shipment before the —— wagon gets it," excitedly shouted the self-same driver.

The agent, who had not known of the interview with the president, could not believe his ears.

The wagon was sent and the consignment secured.

"Did you say anything to ——?" asked the agent of the president.

"Yes, I had a little chat with him. Why?"

"Here he has started out scouting for new business—a thing unheard of before. What did you say to him—threaten to discharge him?"

* * *

This little human-interest incident—and it is not mythical, I beg you believe—is full of meaning for bosses and sub-bosses blinded by pride and arrogance.

* * *

Only the weak, the vain, the blind are tyrannical. A big man rules by milder means.

White City Park Now Open

LITTLE STORIES of the TOWN

These Girls Not Afraid Of Any Old Rats.

Pedestrians and others on Alabama Street, between Whitehall and South Pryor, were treated this morning to an unusual sight.

About midway of the block, almost in front of the electric light station, several men were engaged in the laudable business of exterminating some rats which had been caught in a trap last night. One of the executioners had a big stick and as soon as his companion let out a rodent, the big stick was wielded with such judicious precision that Mr. Rat took the count after getting one blow.

The remarkable thing about the proceeding was the interest which three pretty girls took in it. They were evidently on their way from home to business when their attention was attracted by the sight of the crowd around the rat-killers. The three stopped and watched the proceedings, all the time commenting animatedly upon the prowess of the gentleman with the big stick. When the last rat had been slain, the girls left, going in the direction of Whitehall Street.

"Well," commented one of the men in the crowd, "I always had an idea that womenfolks were afraid of rats."

"If one of them gals had bin my wife," commented an old veteran who overheard the remark, "she'd have climbed one of these here 'lectric light posts."

"Maybe them was suffragettes," commented a third. "The papers say they ain't afraid er nothin'."

"Bet if they had er bin mice," said a youth, "instead er rats, you couldn't er helt them gals here fer a minit."

Anyway, the girls did see the killing, and seemed to enjoy it.

Small Boys Nowadays Miss a Lot of Fun.

"Kids nowadays do not have the same amount of real fun that they did when I was a youngster," said a well-known business man last evening at the Transportation Club. "In company with a friend of mine, who is in the real estate business, I went out to look at some property the other afternoon. Near the place was a vacant lot and some boys were playing ball. Now, if there is anything I do love it is a good ball game and I stopped to see what sort of article these chaps were putting up. The real estate man is a fan, too, and we were very much interested in the proceedings on the field.

"But, say, those kids didn't know they were alive! We watched 'em play six innings and they didn't fight a single time! Why, when I was a small chap we fought all over the field. We mobbed the umpire half a dozen times during the nine innings. The spectators sure got their money's worth! As a matter of fact, they usually took some part in the battles and often I have seen a game resolve itself into a war between spectators and the opposing teams.

"Coming back to the office, the real estate friend and I got to talking about old days in Atlanta and the times we used to play ball in the old field alongside the Tanyard branch at Orme and Simpson Streets. We both agreed that the present generation of boys has missed a whole lot in the matter of enjoying life to its fullest."

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

Maggie Cline Is Next.

During the hot spell it has been demonstrated that the Forsyth is as cool as a lost friend and twice as comfortable. The ventilating system is working in beautiful fashion and the pure, fresh iced air that is circulated through the theater makes everything fine. All the acts are winning applause, laughter and attention. They are hit makers.

For next week the headline feature is going to be Maggie Cline, the most distinguished headliner the Forsyth has ever offered. Her Irish songs are sure to be enjoyed.

Change Meets With Favor.

The change from vaudeville to tabloid musical comedy is meeting with favor at the hands of patrons of the Bijou, and the splendid impression created at the first performance Monday afternoon is being strengthened by the succeeding presentations of this merry musical farce. "A Trip to Joyville" was written for laughing purposes only. It is brimful of catchy musical numbers and the work of the comedians and the chorus is excellent.

"The Deep Purple" Pleases.

"The Deep Purple," continues to please patrons of the Atlanta Theater. It is one of the best offerings of the season by the Miss Billy Long Company and the play has scored a hit. It is brimful of action, the lines are keen and the situations dramatic. "St. Elmo" will be next week's bill.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route, Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

KING OF GREECE GOES TO RESIST BULGARS

General Hostilities Between the Balkan War Victors Threatened by Open Clash.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ATHENS, May 23.—Terrific fighting is going on between Bulgarian and Greek troops in Southern Albania.

Dispatches to-day said a heavy force of Bulgarians, supported by artillery, crossed the neutral zone established when the armistice with Turkey was signed. Soon the conflict extended all along the line of the Greek army.

The Greek Government is threatening to precipitate general hostilities.

King Constantine, of Greece, commander of the Greek army which captured Salonika last year, left hurriedly and unexpectedly for Saloniki this afternoon. The nature of his mission was kept secret, but it was reported that the conflict between the Bulgarian and Greek troops near there was the cause of his departure.

It was rumored that the King might take the field in person at the head of his army.

It is said that 60,000 Bulgars attacked a smaller body of Greeks, driving them toward Salonika. Greek reinforcements are being rushed to Salonika from Epirus.

$53,000 U. S. Bank Thief Dies in Exile

BOSTON, May 23.—Word was received in this city yesterday of the death in Valparaiso, Chili, of Frederick T. Moore, former assistant receiving teller of the National Bank of Commerce, who absconded fourteen years ago with $53,000 of the bank's funds.

The reported death of Moore recalls one of the most notorious cases in the annals of American criminology. After searching throughout the United States and the Klondike region of Alaska, Moore was arrested in Valparaiso, in October, 1899, but there was no extradition treaty with Chili.

He was charged with embezzlement and after the court of first instance of Santiago De Chili acceded to the proposal to extradite him the following January, he applied to the Supreme Court of Chili and in March, 1900, that court set him free.

Moore became one of the best known photographers in Valparaiso, have sent acceptances.

Wesley Hospital to Graduate 5 Nurses

Friends of Wesley Memorial Hospital have been invited to attend the graduating exercises of the training school at Wesley Memorial Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Asa G. Candler will preside. The address will be made by Rev. H. M. DuBose, D.D. Pins will be presented to members of the class by Dr. E. G. Jones and diplomas by Dr. Stewart R. Roberts. In addition to a saxophone solo by Mrs. Wesley Hirschburg and a vocal solo by J. O. Pitts, there will be orchestra selections.

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH"

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA.

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed:

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingh'm 12:01 am	36	New York .12:15 am
35	New York . 5:00 am	20	Columbus . 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville 5:30 am	13	Cincinnati . 5:40 am
43	Washington 5:25 am	32	Port Valley. 5:30 am
12	Shreveport . 6:30 am	35	Birmingh'm 5:50 am
16	Heflin . 8:20 am	7	Chatin'ga . 6:40 am
29	New York. .11:15 am	12	Richmond . 6:55 am
8	Chatin'ga . 10:25 am	25	Kansas City 7:00 am
7	Macon . . . .10:40 am	16	Brunswick . 7:45 am
17	Fort Valley 10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm 11:30 am
21	Columbus . .10:50 am	38	New York. .11:01 am
6	Cincinnati. .11:10 am	40	Charlotte . .12:00 n'n
25	Columbus . 1:40 pm	6	Macon . . . .12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm 2:30 pm	20	Columbus . 12:30 pm
40	B'mingh'm 12:40 pm	30	New York. . 2:45 pm
28	Charlotte . 3:55 pm	15	Chatin'ga . 3:40 pm
5	Macon . . . 4:00 pm	39	Birmingh'm 4:10 pm
27	New York. . 5:00 pm	*18	Toccoa . . . . 4:30 pm
15	Brunswick . 7:50 pm	22	Columbus . 5:10 pm
11	Richmond . 8:50 pm	5	Cincinnati . 5:10 pm
24	Kansas City 9:20 pm	23	Fort Valley. 5:25 pm
16	Chattan'ga . 9:35 pm	25	Heflin . . . . . 5:45 pm
19	Columbus . .10:20 pm	10	Macon . . . . 5:30 pm
21	Fort Valley 10:25 pm	44	Washington 8:45 pm
14	Cincinnati . .11:00 pm	24	Jacksonville 9:30 pm
22	Jacksonville 6:50 am	11	Shreveport . 11:10 pm
*17	Toccoa . . . . 8:10 am	14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm

Trains marked thus (*) run daily except Sunday.

Other trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office, No. 1 Peachtree Street.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Legal Notices.

GUARDIAN SALE.

GEORGIA—Fulton County.

By virtue of an order of the court of ordinary of said county, granted at the May term, 1913, will be sold before the court house door of said county, on the first Tuesday in June next, within the legal hours of sale, the following property of the estate of Marguerite Smith, to-wit: A one-twentieth undivided interest in all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Macon and County of Bibb, in said State, and distinguished in the plan of said city as parts of lots Nos. one and two (1 and 2) in block No. sixty-one (61), in the southwest common of the city of Macon, and fronting on Tattnall Street sixty (60) feet, and running back the same width one hundred and fifty (150) feet, and containing one-quarter of an acre, more or less, said lot adjoining on the three remaining sides the lands belonging to the estate of B. F. Ross, with an alley on the north, between said lands and the lot herein described, and being the residence of E. P. Smith, late of said County of Bibb, deceased, and being the same property contained and described in deed from Susan M. Persons and Clara F. Florence to Mrs. E. P. Smith and Mary E. Smith, recorded in Deed Book "DD" in the clerk's office of Bibb Superior Court, folio 541, on February 23, 1882, which one-twentieth undivided interest is probably worth one hundred and fifty dollars.

Terms cash.

MRS. LULA SMITH,
Guardian of Marguerite Smith.
HINES & JORDAN, Attorneys. 5-9-8

Want Ad Tablets hit the spot. Try one if you want anything

The MARKET BASKET for the BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Specials For
Friday and Saturday

Legs of Lamb (whole) 15c
Round Steak 15c
Fancy Rib Roast
12 1-2c and 15c
Snapper Fish Slats
12 1-2c
Pork Chops 18c
Picnic Hams 17c
Lamb Stew 10c
Sausage 10c
Liver 10c

Get the middleman's profit. Come and see.

Campbell Bros.
89 Decatur Street.
150 Marietta St.

Wood's SATURDAY SPECIALS

RED GRAVY COUNTRY (whole) HAMS 24c
Fancy Dressed Hens 20c
Pork Roast ....17 1-2 and 22c
Porterhouse Steak 22 1-2
Porterhouse Steak,
22 1-2c and 25c
Lamb Chops 25c
Pure Pork Sausage....17 1-2c
Blue Valley Butter 35c
Prairie Rose Butter 35c
Kingan's Breakfast Bacon, 1-pound package 33c

Wood Bros.
165 Peachtree. 36 Luckie.
Bell Ivy 7086, 7087, 7088, 796.

Why Bake Bread At Home

When you can get just as good over the phone? Call your grocer and ask for

Tip-Top Bread.

Sandwiches and Salads For the Summer Supper

By ELBERT L. THORNTON.

Sandwiches and Salads for the Supper during the summer months for the readers of the Market Basket.

Sandwiches.
Bacon and Tomato Sandwich.
Pecan and Butter Sandwich.
Minced Tongue and Boiled Egg Sandwich.
Cream Cheese and Jelly Sandwich.
Deviled Ham Sandwich.
Pimiento Cheese and Lettuce Sandwich.
Cold Roast Beef Sandwich.
Chicken and Bacon Sandwich.
Sardine and Pickle Sandwich.
Peanut Butter and Tomato Sandwich.
Goose Liver Paste Sandwich.
Anchovy Sandwich.
Swiss Cheese Sandwich.
Olive Relish.
Chip Beef.
Tomato and Butter Sandwich.
Club Sandwich.
Herring Sandwich.
Cheese and Olive Sandwich.

Salads.
Tomato and Lettuce Salad.
Asparagus Salad.
Mixed Vegetable Salad.
Grapefruit Salad.
Salmon and Celery Salad.
Chicken Apple and Nut Salad.
German Potato Salad.
Green Pepper and Onion Salad.
Cucumber Salad.
Fruit Salad.
Cabbage and Egg Salad.
Water Cress Salad.
Chicory Salad.
Stuffed Pepper with Shrimp.
Lettuce and Egg Salad.
Mashed Potato Salad.
Stuffed Tomato with Celery.
Stuffed Egg with Ham.

These sandwiches and salads can be prepared at noon and placed on your table after dinner, so you won't have too go into your kitchen.

Canned and fresh fruits with cake make a nice dessert, such as peaches and cream, sliced pineapple and cookies, strawberries and cream, stewed apples, prunes, etc.

SPECIALS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour...79c sack
Gold Medal Flour .....83c sack
KKK Flour 90c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard $1.39
5 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard 70c
Old Irish Potatoes, per pk. 29c
3 cans No. 3 Tomatoes 25c
2 cans No. 2 Tomatoes 15c
10c Salmon, 3 for 25c
Full Cream Cheese 19c
2 cans Corn 15c
5 lbs. New Irish Potatoes, per qt. 5c
Faust Macaroni, per pkg. 5c
Blue Valley Butter, lb. 35c

WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF WESTERN MEATS.

H. POLLOCK'S
REMEMBER THE PLACE—487 CAPITOL AVENUE.
Phone M. 150. Atlanta 2280.

BIG PARADE JUNE 4!

ALL GROCERY STORES and meat markets will close at noon every Wednesday during June, July and August, beginning June 4th with a big parade through the principal streets.

We earnestly desire the co-operation of our lady friends and customers in making these holidays a great success. They mean much to our help.

TAPPAN & CO.
55 HIGHLAND AVENUE.

FOR
PURE ICE CREAM
Send Your Orders to
GEO. MOORE
Atlanta Phone 1326. Bell M. 3323.
68-70-72 Central Ave.

Never Again

Do I bake bread, is what she said.
She used Tip-Top Bread.
Enough said.

Why Become Fatigued and Worried?

The weather is oppressive. Let us help you. We will lessen your troubles. Don't go to the bother of making bread in the Summer time, you will find Tip-Top Bread As good as thine.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

SEWELL'S Money-Saving Specials for Saturday

Buy from first hands and save 20 per cent to 50 per cent on your purchases. We retail at wholesale prices.

Solid carload Fancy Lemons, per dozen 14-1-2c
Solid carload Pineapples, each 7c
Solid carload New Irish Potatoes, per pk..29c
Florida Tomatoes, per basket 15c
Quart bottle Grape Juice 29c
Missouri Brand Hams, per pound 19c
Missouri Brand Picnic Hams, per lb....14c
35c can Libby's Asparagus 17 1-2c
Solid carload Poultry and Eggs.
Fresh dressed Hens, dressed on premises—per pound 17 1-2c

Sewell Commission Co.
Wholesale and Retail.
113-115 Whitehall St.
Branch store 164 Decatur St.

CALL THE
FARM PRODUCTS CO.
FOR FRESH COUNTRY Butter and Eggs

HENS, FRYERS, BROILERS, DUCKS, GEESE and TURKEYS. We receive these right from the country and dress them on the premises while you wait. Not storage.

129 South Pryor.
Main 3402. Atl. 815.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

STATE FARM COTTON OFFERED FOR SALE—On Friday morning, May 30th inst., will be offered for sale the State Farm Cotton of about 350 bales at the State Farm, near Milledgeville. All Cotton Buyers are cordially invited to be present and make bid on this fine lot of cotton. The Prison Commission of Georgia. 5-22-11

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 66 Decatur Street. R. Amiel & Co. 5-22-221

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 4 Decatur Street. Ben Rosenthal. 5-22-222

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for wholesale, for white and colored, at 522 Decatur Street. New South Brewing Company. 5-22-223

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 1 and 3 North Broad Street. W. H. Towery & Co. 5-22-224

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 7 East Alabama Street. Oppenheim Cigar Co. 5-22-225

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 16 and 18 North Broad Street. Gann & Garraux. 5-22-226

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 48 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-227

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 50 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-228

I HERREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 27 W. Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-229

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 11 North Forsyth Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-230

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 5 West Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-231

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 32 South Broad Street. John Campbell. 5-22-232

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 West Mitchell Street. John Campbell. 5-22-233

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 205 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-234

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 203 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-235

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 21 West Mitchell Street. E. C. Lambert. 5-22-236

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 South Pryor Street. A. Springer. 5-22-237

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 33 East Alabama Street. Lee Dreyfus. 5-22-238

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 7 and 9 Viaduct Place. Harry Staten. 5-22-239

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 41 Marietta Street. Shackleford & Johnson. 5-22-240

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 156 Decatur Street. C. D. Jones. 5-22-200

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 36 N. Broad Street. Hollis Cigar and Soda Co. 5-22-201

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 10 Walton Street. A. N. Hollis. 5-22-202

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 67 N. Broad Street. D. B. & A. N. Hollis. 5-22-203

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 5 Decatur Street. J. Bigler. 5-22-204

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 45 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-205

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 99 Decatur Street. S. Parks. 5-22-206

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 113 Peters Street. Rozenberg Bros. 5-22-207

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 113 Decatur Street. M. Prisock. 5-22-208

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 147 Decatur Street. J. A. Batchelor. 5-22-209

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 530 Decatur Street. A. L. Johnson. 5-22-210

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 404 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-211

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 366 Decatur Street. E. Fitterman & Siegel. 5-22-212

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license, wholesale and retail, for white and colored, at 350-2-4 Decatur Street. Acme Brewing Co. 5-22-213

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 236 Marietta Street. M. L. Shatzen & Co. 5-22-241

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 383 Marietta Street. J. G. Fowler. 5-22-242

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 514 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel. 5-22-243

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 384 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel & Co. 5-22-244

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 19 Peachtree Street. Ed Lambert. 5-22-245

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 Edgewood Avenue. Manheim & Powell. 5-22-246

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 123 Edgewood Avenue. Louis Silverman. 5-22-248

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 17 Marietta Street. P. P. O'Byrne. 5-22-249

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 256 Decatur Street. H. Lysten. 5-22-252

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 127 North Pryor Street. C. C. Jones. 5-22-253

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 191 Decatur Street. Jud Stow. 5-22-254

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 Marietta Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-255

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 South Forsyth Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 29 South Pryor Street. Schwarz & Bleim. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 470 Decatur Street. M. A. Rogers. 34-22-5

AT THE next meeting of Council we will apply for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 West Mitchell Street. J. D. Brady & Bro. 33-22-5

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 324 Decatur Street. L. Zabludowsky. 5-22-214

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer Licenses.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 252 Decatur Street. J. N. Coggins. 5-22-215

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 230 Decatur Street. S. Krasner. 5-22-216

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 202-4 Decatur Street. Danneman Bros. 5-22-217

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 150 Decatur Street. J. Brantingham & Co. 5-22-218

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 80 Decatur Street. Walter Harris. 5-22-219

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 74 Decatur Street. Pete Mitchell. 5-22-220

PERSONAL.

YOUNG LADIES taken for training at the Randolph Company Hair Dressing Parlors, 58½ Whitehall Street. 3-3-37

NOW is the time to paint and we have the best that can be made. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters St. 5-21-10

ACME HATTERS HAVE MOVED TO 20 E. HUNTER STREET. OLD HATS MADE NEW.
4-23-42

PERSONAL.

VICTOR L. TREMAINE.

Mystic.
Permanently Located in Atlanta.
125 WEST PEACHTREE STREET
Hours 10 to 7. Closed on Fridays.
Develops personal magnetism and psychic powers. Your greatest wish can positively be realized. Every case guaranteed. 30-21-5

THE GATE CITY DOLL HOSPITAL, 243 Courtland, near Cain, repairs all kinds of dolls. 203-24-4

FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS—Wood fly screens, metal fly screens, hardwood floors, Venetian blinds, metal weather strips furnished anywhere in the South. Write or phone W. R. Callaway, manager, 1403 Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga. Main 5310.

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, homelike. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 28 Windsor Street. 11-9-57

DR. GAULT'S Antiseptic Powder for women. It is cleansing, cooling and non-irritating. Can be used as a douche at any time with safety. It has no equal. Price $1 per box, postpaid. J. T. Gault Chemical Company, 702 Austell Building, Atlanta. 4-25-33

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—In neighborhood of Houston and Courtland, little brown shaggy male puppy, white feet and white ring around neck. Finder please return to 66 Houston Street. Reward. 5-23-20

LOST—Thursday on Whitehall Street, lady's watch fob with name "Eva" engraved. Finder return to Terminal Hotel and receive liberal reward. 5-23-10

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—A homestead in Davison-Paxon-Stokes or in High's. Call Atlanta phone 2979. 5-22-21

LOST—Wednesday, 14th, Shepherd dog, with large leather collar, bushy tail; answers to name of "Shep." Atlanta 1131. 5-22-37

LOST—Wednesday, a Boston terrier bulldog; has one glass eye; answers to name of "Queen." Atlanta phone 1131. 5-22-25

LOST—Monday, about $35 in money and check made out to T. P. Westbrook. Finder please return to 107 Ivy St., or call Ivy 4778 and receive reward. 5-21-41

LOST—On Peachtree Street, silver card case, filigree to lining, containing check for $45, No. 6048, made out to Miss Mary Green, payable to Third National Bank. Return to Miss Green, 387 Spring, and receive reward. Ivy 2322-J. 5-21-40

LOST—Ring set with pearls. Finder call Ivy 2179 or P. O. Box 257. 5-21-38

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Boy with bicycle, deliver and collect Monday afternoons, route. Call 5 to 6. 26 Capitol Avenue. 204-5-23

WANTED—Assistant soda dispenser. Apply, with references, to Melton's Pharmacy. 5-22-38

WANTED—Press feeder. 110½ Whitehall Street. Ross Moore. 5-22-28

WANTED—Delivery boy, with bicycle, experienced with groceries. Apply 391 S. Pryor St. 5-22-26

SOLICITORS and agents for a live proposition. Franklin Press, 41½ Peachtree Street. 29-22-5

A 30c "Want Ad" placed in this paper may be the seed that will grow a fortune for you

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Stair builder, one competent to handle circle stair work. Apply Phoenix Planing Mill, 321 Highland Avenue. 5-22-4

ANY ONE knowing the whereabouts of Lee Martin, white, about eighteen, will confer a favor by communicating same to M., Box 580, care Georgian. 5-21-2

WANTED—Two first-class waiters. Apply 205 Peachtree; Adair Hotel. 5-21-26

WANTED—Colored help. Apply Southern Upholstering Co., corner Jefferson and Echo. 5-21-25

ATLANTA mail carriers wanted; average $90 month. Atlanta examinations coming. Specimen questions free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49-D, Rochester, N. Y. 30-14-5

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Peachtree and Forsyth Streets, Atlanta, or 411 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga. 4-1-1

WANTED—Ideas. Inventors, write for list of inventions wanted and prizes offered by manufacturers. Also, how to get your patent. Sent free to any address. Randolph & Briscoe, patent attorneys, Washington, D. C. 7-11-23

PULLMAN porters wanted; references. For instruction. Write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-37

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 East Mitchell St. 5-11-17

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells of about 300,000 protected positions in U. S. service. Thousands of vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, sure and generous pay, lifetime employment. Just ask for booklet T-412. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 5-1-1

Female.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 240 Courtland, apartment 3. 5-23-48

WANTED—At once, an experienced cook. References required. 61 Avery Drive, Ansley Park. 5-23-43

WANTED—Competent general servant. Apply to 439 North Jackson St. 32-23-5

WANTED—A cook; good pay. Phone Ivy 6481-J. 62 Westminster Drive. 5-23-35

WANTED—Good cook; one that can bake bread; will pay $5 per week. Apply 174 St. Charles Avenue at once. 29-23-5

FREE—Ladies, we trim and make over hats free in our finishing department; lace and maline hats to order. Ideal Millinery School, 100½ Whitehall St. 5-23-202

STEWARDESS WANTED—Middle-aged lady who can make desserts and control help; in health resort. Address Richard Plenge, Williamston, S. C. 32-23-5

WANTED—Experienced assorter. Apply Excelsior Laundry, 40-42 Wall St. 5-22-19

WANTED—Lady steno-bookkeeper of fair ability. State salary, age, reference. Go out of city. Merchant, care Georgian. 5-22-10

A COOK—Four in family; room on the place with private toilet and electric lights. 282 St. Charles Avenue. 31-22-5

WANTED—Good cook; also washerwoman to live on place. Apply 667 W. Peachtree Street. 5-21-37

COLORED girl of neat appearance for general housework. 49 Vedado Way. 42-21-5

WANTED—Experienced nurse for two children, one and three years old; settled woman preferred. Must have good references. Apply 787 Ponce De Leon. 5-21-14

A FIRST-CLASS chambermaid; good wages. Apply 241 West Peachtree. 38-21-5

WANTED—Experienced cook. Must be settled, unincumbered woman willing to go to country place. Call mornings, 205 Peachtree Circle. 32-21-5

WANTED—Good cook. Must live in the house. Apply 1068 DeKalb Avenue. 36-20-5

WANTED—Housekeeper for sanitarium. Apply in person with references. Experience required. 237 Whitehall Street. 5-22-5

U. S. GOVERNMENT POSITIONS open to women. Write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 602-D, Rochester, N. Y. 25-20-5

WANTED—Experienced millinery trimmer and saleslady; also saleswoman for suits and shirtwaists. Grossman's. 5-19-10

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pay $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. 3-29-41

Male and Female.

BOYS and girls everywhere, to make a dollar every day after school. Pleasant and easy work. Call on or write A. R. Cassil, 41½ Peachtree Street, Atlanta. Inclose stamped and addressed envelope for reply. 33-21-5

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

NO. 6 REMINGTONS, $5 for 4 months; Royals, $7 for 4 months; Underwoods, $8 for 4 month; Remington visible, $9 for 4 months. Initial payment allowed on price of machine. Get our new illustrated catalog and price list No. 26. American Writing Machine Co., 48 N. Bryor Street. Phone M. 2526.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 N. Pryor St. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

TEACHERS WANTED.

WRITE for record of our eight years' work. High class patronage. Efficient service. Foster's Teachers Agency, Atlanta, Ga. 64-8-4

WANTED AT ONCE—A few more first-class principals and assistant teachers. Good openings, good salaries. Free registration. Register Teachers' Agency Register, Ga. 5-18-9

EDUCATIONAL.

WILL take a limited number of pupils for piano; $2 per month; graduate musician. 7 Kent St. 5-21-22

EMORY summer school; cool, quiet; forty days from June 17. Latin, Greek, French, German, English, history, mathematics. Address E. K. Turner, Oxford, Ga. 5-9-1

AGENTS AND SALESMEN.

Wanted.

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

WE want a REAL good REAL estate salesman. FINE OPENING. Apply by mail. Wilkes, Box 602, care Georgian. 5-22-14

Want Anything?

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers, accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion ...10c a line
3 insertions ... 6c a line
7 insertions ... 5c a line
30 insertions ..4½c a line
50 insertions ... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

No advertisement accepted from out of town unless accompanied by cash, or forwarded through recognized advertising agency.

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—By colored man, position as first-class cook. Address Cook, Box 254, care Georgian. 205-5-23

LISTEN! If you want first-class salesman, with A-1 references and ability to deliver the goods, or a good all-round man, call Atlanta, phone 3761. Must have work. Address W. C., Box 891, care Georgian. 5-23-5

AS REPRESENTATIVE of some corporation or salesman; for some firm at Macon, or on the road. Willing to work one month to demonstrate my ability. Can furnish reference. Address Honest Gentleman, care Georgian. 41-22-5

WANTED—Position by young man as pressman. Will accept reasonable salary. Address Press, Box 495, care Georgian. 205-5-22

STENOGRAPHER—Young married man With two years' experience in railroad traffice work desires position. Address P. O. Box 23, Boca Grande, Fla. 37-22-5

COLLEGE graduate with two years' experience as bookkeeper and cashier for responsible firm desires responsible employment; write good hand, can use typewriter rapidly; can furnish best city references. Address E., Box 6, care Georgian. 32-22-5

ARCHITECT—Young man; designer and head draughtsman for seven years in leading New York offices, wishes to affiliate with good local architect. An interview will be convincing. Address M. H., care Georgian. 205-5-22

A SPLENDID dining room boy, private home or office work. Want work at once. Can give good reference. Answer quick. Z. B., 382 Martin Street, City. 30-22-5

WANTED—Position b yan experienced man as manager of small telephone exchange. Can give the best of references as to character and ability. Address J. J. N., 1004 Lafayette St., Quitman, Ga. 47-21-5

FIRST-CLASS German butler wants position; can furnish best references. Address 47 E. Mitchell St. 44-21-5

YOUNG MAN of good business ability wishes to affiliate with good concern. All recommendations of highest sources. An interview with me will be convincing. Phone Ivy 6299-L. 5-21-17

STENOGRAPHER of experience desires position at once; best references. Call Main 4865-J. 5-21-7

YOUNG MAN, 26, recently arrived from New York, seeks position as bookkeeper or clerk in mercantile house offering advancement; good correspondent and willing worker. Address Clerk, 889, care Georgian. 39-21-5

WANTED—Position as sawyer at circular saw mill in Georgia or Florida. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Six years' experience. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Council, N. C. 34-19-5

POSITION WANTED—Bookkeeper, 30, ten years' experience as bookkeeper, cashier, collector, wants position; best references. Bond if desired. Experience, Box 55, care Georgian. 31-12-5

BOOKKEEPER and auditor will straighten out your bookkeeping and office troubles. Trial balances made. Small sets of books written up. P. O. Box 836. Phone Ivy 7011. 5-4-13

Female.

YOUNG GIRL wants position in small family to do general housework. Address M. G. J., 889 Gordon St. 201-5-23

WANTED—Position as cashier by young lady with experience. Address M. C., 21 White Oak Street, Atlanta, Ga. 200-5-22

TYPEWRITING, any class, accurately, neatly done; reasonable. Stenographer, Ivy 5. 28-22-5

STENOGRAPHER with four and half years' experience desires permanent position at once. Address Miss C. I., 362 Capitol Avenue. 42-21-5

WANTED—Position by young lady as stenographer; three years' experience. Care Georgian. 206-5-21

HIGHLY efficient stenographer, office assistant, has resigned position. Must have another immediately. $18.00 per week minimum. Phone Ivy 5840. 5-21-4

WANTED—Cases to nurse by experienced sick nurse. Maternity cases a specialty. Rates reasonable. Best references. Call Ivy 7304-J, or West 1054. 36-20-5

Male and Female.

WANTED—Position by man and wife; woman to cookand man to work garden and care for chickens; best of references. Address R. B., Box 450, care Georgian. 201-5-21

DRESSMAKING—DRESSMAKERS.

WANTED—Dressmaking. One-piece dresses, $2.00 and up. Mrs. O. E. Smith, 27 N. Howard St., Kirkwood. 5-20-7

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

$25.00 English baby carriage. Good as new. Will sell for less than one-third. Call West 210. 5-23-19

FOR SALE—An oak chiffonier with mirror, good as new, cheap for cash. East Point 291-L. 5-23-23

FOR SALE—New Remington automatic shotgun. Bargain if taken now. Thos. Peacock, Rutledge, Ga. 5-23-8

FOR SALE—One National coaster-brake bicycle, good as new, cheap for cash, for quick sale. Apply 533 Woodward Avenue. 27-23-5

FOR SALE—Controlling interest in modern, up-to-date, beautifully furnished, thoroughly sanitary, new and well patronized beauty parlor, to party who can take charge and manage same. Cash, real estate or terms. Write F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. 5-23-1

DEALER in fresh meats, groceries, country produce, fat spring chickens and yard eggs of my own raising. Both phones. 234 Capitol Ave. 5-22-35

CANOE FOR SALE—15-foot "DETROIT" canoe; cushion and racing paddles complete. Boat equipped with sponsons and was "made to order." Perfectly new. Price complete $50. Call "Canoe," Phones 484. 202-5-22

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, show cases, scales and National cash register, at a bargain. Main 3239. Atlanta 350. 89 Capitol Avenue. 5-22-202

FOR SALE—Furniture complete for 6-room house. Cheap for cash. 332 Juniper Street. Phone Ivy 4884. 207-5-22

FOR SALE—16-inch oscillating electric fan. Brand new. Direct current. $15. P. O. Box 640. 5-22-15

FOR SALE—Less than half cost, soda fount; good condition. Brewster Mercantile Co., Esom Hill, Ga. 5-22-13

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

FOR SALE—Brown wicker baby carriage; used 8 months; in perfect condition; cost $25; will sell for $10. Bell Phone West 1113-J. 5-21-20

MAHOGANY bed room suit for sale; a bargain; or will exchange for room and board. 115 McDaniel. Main 2489-J. 5-21-33

FOR SALE—Six direct current 16-inch desk fans; used only two months. West 502. 5-21-29

SWEET PEAS, 30c per 100; carnations, 50c a dozen. Alta Vista Floral Company. West 136. 5-21-16

WE are agents for Pittsburg wire fence. Can make interesting prices to both wholesale and retail trade. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta. 5-21-12

GAS water heater for sale cheap. Good as new. Phone Ivy 2407-J. 5-21-3

FOR SALE—Fresh broken crackers, 5c a pound at factory, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Frank E. Block Co., Ellis St. 5-20-11

IMMEDIATE shipment of (genuine) Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potato plants at $1.25 per thousand, or $1.50 delivered. We ship nothing but good, strong, fresh plants and guarantee entire satisfaction. The Bear's Head Farms, Pine Castle, Fla. 32-19-5

NEW Perfection refrigerator, suitable for grocery, restaurant or large boarding house. 391 South Pryor. Bell phone 623, Atlanta phone 298. 5-19-6

FOR SALE—Two pool tables, practically new; been in use in club room and not hurt; must sell at once; bargain; orig cost $400. Address P. O. Box 87, Jonesboro, Ga. 5-1-6

FOR SALE.

I WILL SELL a valuable patent at a sacrifice if taken immediately. Worth one-half million. Address Patent, Box 863, care Georgian. 3-8-6

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780. 3-13-33

WE RENT good pianos $3 per month up. We sell good pianos $5 per month up. R. P. BECHT COMPANY, 107-108-109 Temple Court Building. Main 667. 2-19-26

C. S. HULLS It e a dquarters. F. R. Logan & Co., Atlanta. 4-20-32

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT SWEEP CLEAN.

LET US prove this in your home by free demonstration. Full particulars at 107 Temple Court Building. L. R. Sires, agent. Phone Main 667. 5-2-30

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR

Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00.

C. H. MASON,
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

BANKRUPTCY blanks, $1.50 per set. Warranty deeds, bonds for title, Mortgages, contracts. Stock certificates and bonds. Bennett's, 25 South Broad. 201-20-13

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Avenue. 2-13-8

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 N. Pryor Street.

KENT SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

GOOD upright mahogany piano, nearly new; can be bought at a sacrifice if taken quick; sold for $350 less than six months ago. Mahogany Piano, care Georgian. 5-18-20

PIANO BARGAINS.

PIANOS AND PIANO PLAYERS.

SOLD at the lowest prices and on the most reasonable terms at which first-class instruments can be handled. Behr Bros., Newby & Evans, Ludwig and others. Call and see me before you buy.

WALTER HUGHES,
88 N. Pryor St. 3-29-3

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—One second-hand oil stove, in good condition. Address P. O. Box 339, Atlanta. 25-23-5

WANTED—Two rollton desks, mahogany or imitation. Write 1309, Third National Bank Bldg. 26-22-5

WANTED—Second-hand ice cream table and six wire chairs. Cherokee Drug Company. Main 2808. 5-20-24

EVERYTHING to build and paint with. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-21-11

AUTOMOBILES

For Sale, Repairs and Accessories.

FOR SALE—Wood's electric coupe, with forty-cell, iron-clad exide battery. Entire car in fine condition. Price $700.

35-horsepower, 5-passenger Firestone-Columbus touring car in good condition and a good looker. $475. Firestone-Columbus Southern Co., 45-47 Auburn Avenue. Phone Ivy 4177. 5-22-7

WILL trade nice corner lot for good auto. Must be first-class; value of lot $900.00. Phone Main 4836-J. 206-5-21

WE have several Flanders chassis and will build body and paint car to your order. Bargain prices. Don't buy any second-hand car until you see us. NORTH PRYOR GARAGE, NORTH PRYOR PLACE. 4-5-28

WINDSHIELDS.

RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Mfrs. all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Co., 248 Edgewood. 3-4-64

GOOD USED CARS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Maxwell, 2-cylinder runabout, fine condition throughout, $185.

"Courier Roadster," fully equipped, electric lights, $275.

Buick model 10 roadster, electric lights, $325.

Buick, model 32, 4-passenger, fully equipped, fine condition, $350.

Maxwell Roadster, Sportsman type, model Q, fully equipped, electric lights, $375.

Maxwell touring, model G, 4-passenger, fully equipped, $450.

Primo touring car, new top and seat covers, $450.

These cars are in good running condition and worth more than the prices quoted above.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY.
241 PEACHTREE ST. 4-11-18

Castiron Welding

AUTOGENOUS METHOD.
AUTO AND ALL MACHINE PARTS.
METAL WELDING COMPANY.
MAIN 3013. 86 GARNETT STREET. 2-26-6

DOBBS TIRE REPAIR CO.
WE REPAIR AND SELL ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES. 226 PEACHTREE STREET. PHONE IVY 5646. 4-1-3

TRAVIS & JONES.
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WARNING TO INFRINGERS AND IMITATORS.

LIQUID TIRE TONIC IS PROTECTED BY U. S. DUYREA PATENT, NO. 575551, AND ALL INFRINGERS, AGENTS OR USERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT THEY MUST ANSWER IN THE COURT FOR VIOLATION OF THIS LAW. LIQUID TIRE TONIC COMPANY, KANSAS CITY, MO. 4-8-45

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.
REPAIRING and manufacturing. Lamp and fender work. 72 Ivy Street. Atlanta phone 3816. 3-10-12

Garages For Rent.

FOR RENT—Garage. Phone Ivy 1499-J. 514 Peachtree Street.

Automobiles For Rent

DUNHAM MOTOR CO.

FIVE and seven-passenger cars. Garage, 112 East Ellis Street. Call Bell phone Ivy 2496 day, Main 4325 night. 3-21-23

Motorcycles.

THOR MOTORCYCLES, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Co., 116 Edgewood Ave. 3-26-31

MOTORCYCLES  EASY TERMS  BICYCLES.

EXCELSIOR motorcycles, high-grade bicycles; complete line new and used bicycles and motorcycles; complete stock parts and accessories; modern service depot. Lowest prices; easy terms. ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO., 145-147-149 Edgewood Avenue. Phone Ivy 1609. PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION. 4-1-22

Tire Repairing

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 190 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-28-15

WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I Buck, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE."
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 8-26-24

EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—To exchange three diamond rings, value $1,100, for purchase money notes or vacant lots. J. H., Box 902, care Georgian. 42-22-5

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Business in South Georgia—in the best city of its size in the State; modern equipment throughout. Can be bought at a bargain, half cash or good negotiable paper, balance on easy terms. Write quick to "Newspaper," Box 19, care Georgian. 5-23-12

TAILORING, cleaning and pressing business well established, excellent location, now paying $1,500 per year clear of all expenses. On account of failing in health will sacrifice for $1,000. Will accept $600 cash, balance on terms. Address P. O. Box 60, care Georgian. 5-22-1

$1,000 WILL BUY business netting 100 per cent yearly with opportunity for additional $100 monthly for services. Cash, Box 903, care Georgian. 28-21-5

CENTRALLY LOCATED restaurant and lunch room having good trade in bakery wares also. A rare chance for party that can devote his time. Present owner tied up in other business. Address R. K., Box 20, care Georgian. 201-5-19

FOR SALE—Business paying $200 to $300 per month, owner leaving city, cheap for quick cash sale. Address I. L. B., Box 607, care Georgian. 5-18-57

MEDICAL.

DR. R. P. SORRELLS, 313 Grand Building. Phone Ivy 7422. Diseases of women and children a specialty. I treat and cure diseases of women without the use of the knife. I also treat and cure cancer without using the knife. All consultations free and strictly confidential. 5-22-3

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Collum Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Poultry Fertilizer Better than Chemical To Build Up Land

EDITED BY JUDGE F. J. MARSHALL

Farmers Do Not Take Advantage of the Experience of Others. Great Opportunities.

The value of the poultry products in the country for 1910 was approximately $800,000,000, and the 1913 product will be around $1,000,000,000.

Much of this is attributed to the everlasting and persistent efforts of the American Poultry Association, an organization whose aims and efforts are to the building up and increasing of the thoroughbred poultry interests of this country. How well they have succeeded we will leave the reader to judge for himself from the wonderful building up of the industry in every nook and corner of the country.

But the very people who should receive the greatest benefits from this work are not reaping the benefits they should. I refer to the farmers of this country, and especially those of the South.

The raising of cotton by the means of chemical fertilizers seems to have a death grip upon them; so much so that they can not see over it into anything more profitable to them. They have been constantly ruining their land, but they have been turning it out to grow up in bushes and adding new land to keep up the supply. But that string to their bow is about worn out, and they must look to the building up or maintaining the fertility of the soil now in hand.

Chemical Fertilizers.

This can hardly be accomplished by the use of chemical fertilizers, for at best they represent little more than prods and stimulants, such as whisky, morphine and the like to the human body, requiring more and more at each succeeding dose to produce the results, the result of which is utter depletion. What they need are the natural elements, such as poultry manure, prepared in the way of a compost heap, can furnish to the soil. A thousand hens on the average small farm, with proper care of the droppings, will do wonders in enriching the soil. The land should then be cropped in rotation with peas, corn, clover, potatoes, etc.—with the careful deep plowing so essential to the conserving of all the elements of the soil and air, which will work wonders. If the hens are allowed to range at intervals during the day, they will do more toward destroying the insecticides you can buy.

About 175 days represent the working actually spent during the year upon the farm. If the farmer would devote at least a part of the remaining time to the care and management of a good flock of well bred chickens instead of remaining idle, much profit would result and his farm would improve in fertility each year.

The American Poultry Association stands for pure thoroughbred stock. It does not indicate to you what varieties you should keep. It leaves that to you. But whatever you do, discard the old mixed breed, and take up something that will show uniformity not only in color and breed characteristics, but in the production of eggs and meat. I have simply outlined a course that can be made profitable not only in the way of dollars and cents, but the improvement of your land in a permanent way. Get busy and work out the details, as every one must who makes a success of anything in this world.

Questions and Answers.

Judge Marshall—Some of my chickens have what seems to me to be rheumatism. They sit around on their hock joints a good deal of the time, and when they do attempt to get about they succeed with difficulty, hobbling about in a most ungainly manner. They seem to eat well and in many ways are all right. We have lost none so far with it, but of course will if they are not helped in some way. Can you suggest anything that might help them out? Thanking you in advance, I am yours truly—Mrs. M. M. H., Jackson, Miss.

Answer.—The first thing to do is to remove the cause if possible. It is no doubt rheumatism caused by roosting too low in a house or coop with a damp clay floor. Give the floor a coating of two inches of good dry sand or sawdust; something that will remove the results of the dampness. Have plenty of ventilation, but let it be pure and free from filth or dampness. Those afflicted should respond readily to treatment of some good liniment or a solution of witch hazel and arnica well rubbed in about the joints. We would also recommend the use of salts in the drinking water at the rate of a teaspoon to each two fowls. Give this one week and then use Douglass Mixture the next week.

The principal effort should, however, be made in protecting the well ones rather than in treating the sick.

Ducks.

SELLING OUT at a great sacrifice, Fawn and White Runners, at 85c each; White Runners at $1.10 each. They are of excellent type and courage and are now laying. Mrs. C. C. Ramsay, Luthersville, Ga. 36-22-5

ENTIRE lot of prize-winning Fawn and White and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale at $1.50 each. Will sell any number at this price. First come, first served. The ducks won first and second prizes at all the leading poultry shows in the South last fall. Will give ribbons with the birds. Oak Dean Poultry Farm, Stone Mountain, Ga. 5-20-2

Eggs—All Varieties.

THE EGGS of different varieties of fowls will be found classified under their respective breeds in the future, instead of under the classification of "Eggs."

Plymouth Rocks.

BARRED ROCK eggs, pure and fresh from the Georgia Poultry Farm, $1 per setting. On sale at 12 South Broad St. 32-18-5

EGGS from prize-winning E. B. Thompson Ringlet Barred Rocks, either mating, $3 for fifteen, $5 for thirty. A. M. Kendall, Dallas, Ga. 3-8-11

Poultry—All Varieties.

FOR SALE—Twenty hens, five roosters, 25 little ones (Buff Orpingtons) at a song. 301 Pulliam St. 206-5-23

FREE RANGE DUCK AND POULTRY FARM, Chamblee, Ga. Large stock of White Runners, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds, enables us to ship fresh eggs, strong and fertile. Write for prices on stock and eggs if you want a bargain. 1-21-13

Rhode Island Reds.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs, 75c per setting, for short time. Call Main 4265-J. 5-22-39

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Sound, young, gentle horse; weight about 1,100 pounds; must be cheap for cash. Ivy 3128-J. 5-21-21

Goats.

GOAT HARNESS and wagon wanted at once. Phone Main 4. 5-23-4

Dogs.

FOR SALE—Pit bull terrier; subject to registration. Call Ivy 5912. 5-22-17

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

BERMUDA grass seeds now ready at the oldest seed house South. Also many seeds to plant now. Mark W. Johnson Seed Co., 35 South Pryor Street. 34-21-5

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDSMEN FOR THE SOUTH,
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.
FOUR CITY DELIVERIES DAILY; NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES, 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END, 2 P. M.
BELL PHONE MAIN 2568, ATLANTA 2568.

NOW IS THE TIME to begin using lice powder, liquid lice killers and disinfectants. We carry Lee's, Conkey's and Pratt's Lice Powders and Liquid Lice Killers. Start using either of them now and you will not be bothered with lice and mites in your poultry houses and on your fowls this summer.

SAGO PALM BULBS started now will make large palms this season. We have all size bulbs. Price 15c a pound, two pounds 25c.

DON'T FORGET that we are headquarters for poultry feeds, poultry remedies, drinking founts, food hoppers, etc.

BUGS CAN'T STAY on plants when "Bug Death" is used. It is a dry powder put up in convenient size packages and is non-poisonous. It can be put on the plants in the morning when the dew is on or can be put on after the plants have been sprinkled. Price, pound package 15c, 3 pounds 35c, 5 pounds 50c, 12½ pounds $1.00.

MONEY TO LOAN.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad street. 4-1-17

PLENTY money to loan on city property. Watt Kelly, Attorney, 400 Temple Court Building. 42-2-5

R. C. DESAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Building. 4-29-25

WE loan money on furniture and household goods. F. & J. Loan Company, 120 Decatur Street. 4-25-8

MONEY ON HAND for immediate loans on property in or near Atlanta. J. E. VanValkenburg, 501 Equitable Bldg.

MORTGAGE LOANS

On Atlanta Property.
BUSINESS BUILDINGS,
5 and 5½ per cent.
RESIDENCE BUILDINGS,
5½, 6 and 6½ per cent.

Your rate depends upon the location. Without notice you can pay back a hundred, any multiple of a hundred dollars, on the entire loan on any interest date.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN.
Loan Correspondents,
PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA.
203-8 Empire Building.

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

MONEY TO LOAN.

WEYMAN & CONNORS.
ESTABLISHED 1890.
Mortgages on Real Estate. 4-1-3

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plant. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood avenue.

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould building. 7-13-1

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell building.

MONEY WANTED.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6% ON SAVINGS.

IN SUMS of $500 to $5,000. The Merchants and Mechanics' Banking and Loan Co., 209 Grant Building. Tel. Ivy 5341. Cash Capital $120,000. Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier. B. M. Grant, Pres. 3-11-50

BUSINESS GUIDE

Ready Reference for the Business Man, the Artisan And the Public in General

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Corner Alabama and Broad street. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Bicycles.

FOR BICYCLES and supplies, See D. Alexander, 54 N. Pryor. M. 3116. Repair Work a specialty. 3-27-51

CALL Main 1320, Atlanta 1436. Bicycle repairs and sundries. Atlanta Bicycle Company, 10 Peters Street. 2-15-66

Blacksmithing.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON WORK.

WE make all kinds of metal windows and doors, also window gratings and hangers of all kinds. Anderson Bros. & Rich, 372 Edgewood Avenue. 4-2-7

Blue Prints.

DIXIE BLUE PRINT CO.
40½ LUCKIE STREET, Atlanta, Ga. Best equipment. Best prints of any size or kind. Lowest prices. Phone Ivy 5364. 4-28-12

Builders.

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-15-16

Carpenter and Builder.

ALL KINDS REPAIR WORK.
D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Carpets and Rugs Cleaned.

ATLANTA STEAM CARPET CLEANING COMPANY (Inc.) 27 West Alexander street. Phone Ivy 4186. Moistand dry cleaning. Rugs woven from your old carpets and rags. Porch shades made to order. 2-8-27

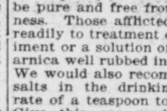
Coal, Coke and Wood.

S. M. TRUITT & SONS, for dry wood and best coal. 1-21-21

Contract Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON, 397 W. Fair St., West 1238-J, for all kinds of painting and tinting.

Dentist.



BEST WORK
Crowns (22 k.) $3.00
Bridge work $3.00
Full set teeth $5.00
Filling 50c
R. R. fare allowed 25 miles. All work guaranteed 20 years.
Eastern Painless Dentists
38½ Peachtree St., Near Walton. 4-2-31

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Engineering.

"Amo Engineers Are Questionable!" YOU NEED engineering advice. Write us your troubles, problems, resources. We'll help you. Amo House, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. Fee, $1. 5-3-8

Engineering and Machine Designing.

G. V. PLANT, M. E.
I DEVELOP YOUR INVENTION. Dixie Pattern and Machine Works, 262 West North Avenue. Main 2829. 4-5-17

Fire-Proof Storage.

WE STORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS and pianos. Office and warehouse, 239-241 Edgewood avenue. Ivy 2037. John J. Woodside Storage Company.

Fly Screens.

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.
METAL AND WOOD FRAMES; portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

FLY—SCREENS—FLY
COME SEE our Roll-aawy Screens, our Roller-bearing Screens, our Sliding Screens; none better. It will pay you to see our goods; get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Co. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 2-4-14

Fresh Oysters Daily.

VIRGINIA and New Orleans oysters on the half shell, 40c dozen. 77 Peachtree street.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering.

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta street. Atlanta 3567. 3-5-6

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO., Upholstering, repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds; satisfaction guaranteed. Phones, Atlanta 5950-F, M. 5111. 3-5-26

Furniture.

Rosser F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn Ave. Phones: Bell Ivy 4467, Atlanta 1800.

WE CARRY a full line of household furniture from kitchen to parlor; also a complete line of summer porch goods, such as porch sets, porch rockers, rugs, etc.; refrigerators, ice cream freezers and everything in the furniture line. We can save you 20 per cent on everything. Call and see us before buying elsewhere. Cash or terms. 5-15-8

PERFECTION OIL STOVES.
Three-burner, including oven and vessels, complete, $12.50.
CAMERON FURNITURE CO., 85 South Forsyth Street. 5-1-3

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta, Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-5-12

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

Groceries.

GUARANTEED fresh country eggs 16½c doz., credit grocers, 30

Plant your savings in Georgia soil and grow a fortune. Many have done so, why not you?

The Georgian's Rent Bulletin

ROOM AND BOARD.

BOARD for two young men, $5 per week. For information call Ivy 3383. 5-23-45

NICELY furnished, large, airy rooms with board in one of Decatur's best residences; references required. Phone Decatur 253. 5-23-39

THE CAPITOL TERRACE can accommodate a few more boarders; cool, delightful rooms; all conveniences; close in. 83 Capitol Ave. Main 3270. 5-23-34

FRONT ROOM with board, dressing room connecting with running water. Call Ivy 290. 5-23-31

TWO young men or married couple for nicely furnished front room; all conveniences; close in. Main 1558-J. 5-14-11

COUPLE can find room with board at 102 Washington. Main 4089-J. 5-23-25

WANTED—Six gentlemen can secure first-class board in private family. Ideal home, beautiful lawn and shade, immediately on car line. Bell phone Decatur 138. 5-23-201

TWO LARGE, light, airy connecting rooms, meals optional, in a beautifully furnished private modern home, to refined permanent couples with references. Mrs. Corey, 619 West Peachtree St. Ivy 5635-J. 5-23-11

BOARD AND ROOMS.

EXCELLENT board; delightful rooms; close in; all conveniences. 115 South Pryor. 5-20-3

BEAUTIFUL furnished front room, with dressing room, in private adult family; close in; also room for gentlemen; excellent meals; prices reasonable. 56 East Cain. Ivy 5520-L. 5-22-32

NICE room and best of board; electricity; all conveniences; walking distance. Ivy 2856-L. 5-22-31

19 W. CAIN.

LARGE, clean furnished rooms; excellent board if desired; refined ladies or gentlemen. Ivy 5642. 5-22-33

LARGE room, nicely furnished, hot water; good table board. Also garage easy to get in and out. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 5-22-30

BOARD for three young men, close in; front rooms. 354 Rawson Street. M. 3793-J. 5-22-29

EXCELLENT table, large front room, with dressing room. 322 West Peachtree. Ivy 994-L. 5-22-16

RARE opportunity for refined couple or gentlemen to secure two furnished rooms, with or without board, in delightful North Side home; highest, coolest spot in city; no other boarders. Ivy 7511. 5-22-20

TWO young men can secure room and board in very desirable home in West End. All conveniences. Shower baths, private tennis court, etc. 88 Park St. 5-21-39

THE ROY, 22 E. Ellis, under new management. Now prepared to render patrons best service. Ivy 7398-J. 5-21-35

TWO large front rooms with excellent table board. Mrs. J. M. Colman, 279 Peachtree St. 5-21-206

DELIGHTFUL rooms with board, with or without private bath. Table board a specialty. 514 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 1499-J. Mrs. F. B. Gregory. 37-21-5

DO YOU want first-class board in private North Side home? Call Ivy 719-J. 5-20-18

WANTED—A few boarders; also table boarders. 327 Whitehall. Main 3286. 5-20-16

LARGE, cool room and board in suburban home; good servants; large porches, shade trees, big vegetable garden, fruit, cows and chickens. Phone Decatur 289. 5-19-200

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-16-27

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree; select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-10-35

ROOM AND BOARD for four young men May 15. Private home, 163 Courtland. Ivy 7057-J. 5-10-25

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK. ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 5-5-30

PEACHTREE INN.

Peachtree and Alexander Sts. American plan $7.50 week up. Room to yourself. European, $3 week up. 1-9-34

36 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 4-28-16

NEATLY furnished rooms; homelike cooking, also table board. 127 Capitol Avenue. Main 5172-J. 4-23-7

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

TWO or three furnished light housekeeping rooms for rent to couple. 168 Crew St. 5-23-47

HALF OF HOME, furnished for couple; private bath, on car line. Centrally located. 111 Cooper. 5-23-44

FURNISHED room upstairs, all conveniences, for rent. Apply 305 S. Pryor. 5-23-42

IN PRIVATE home on North Side for one or two gentlemen, elegantly furnished front room, with private lavatory, large closets and connecting bath. Phone Ivy 5760-J. 5-23-41

WELL furnished room and kitchenette for two business women. 126 Windsor Street. Main 3588. 5-23-32

ONE nicely furnished room, four windows, private family. All conveniences. Atlanta Phone 3254. 5-23-33

THREE rooms, dressing room, hall and trunk room furnished for light housekeeping, to couple without children. Price, $30. Call Ivy 967-L. 5-23-38

ONE or two furnished rooms; could arrange for light housekeeping. 227 Capitol Avenue. Main 3941. 5-23-21

TWO nicely furnished front rooms; all conveniences; gas stove. 179 Capitol Avenue. Main 3758-J. 5-21-24

THREE light housekeeping rooms and use of living room; modern conveniences. 53 Queen St., West End. Bell phone West 1205. 5-23-26

TWO OR THREE furnished rooms for light housekeeping, electricity, gas stove; rent reasonable. Ivy 3287-J. 5-23-24

TWO beautifully furnished rooms, complete for housekeeping, $16; also one suite of 3 front rooms, very reasonable; bath on each floor. Bell phone. Best location. 290 Washington St. 5-23-28

ENTIRE lower floor beautifully furnished for housekeeping; also two nice bed rooms. Private home. One block from Whitehall. Walking distance. 30 W. Fair St. 5-23-200

ONE furnished and one unfurnished room cheap; all conveniences; close in. 232 Courtland. 5-22-24

NICELY furnished rooms, with kitchenette, with bath, light and telephone. Call Main 3582-J. 5-22-18

FOR RENT—1, 2 or 3 rooms, furnished or partly furnished for light housekeeping. References exchanged. 179 E. Pine Street. 5-22-203

LISTEN! WE HAVE TWO BEAUTIFUL ROOMS FOR RENT, ALL CONVENIENCES, TWO BLOCKS OF CANDLER BUILDING. REASONABLE. 184 COURTLAND STREET. ATLANTA PHONE 3761. 5-20-201

ONE large beautiful front room on second floor. Ideal surroundings. Every convenience. North Side. Telephone Ivy 1744-L.

FOR RENT—Three nice new upstairs rooms; bath, gas and water. $10.60. 55 S. McDaniel St. 5-21-28

WANTED—Young man for roommate to share nicely furnished room. Main 4380-L. 5-21-30

NICELY furnished room, suitable for gentlemen or young ladies; $2 week. 47 E. Mitchell Street, upstairs. 45-12-5

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

ONE beautifully furnished, bright front room, reasonable; private home; walking distance. Ivy 5451. 5-21-32

TWO bright connecting housekeeping rooms, completely furnished, North Side private home. Ivy 2098-J. 5-21-19

TWO beautiful connecting, furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping; also rooms for young men; all conveniences. 422 Whitehall St. Main 3462-J. 5-21-36

FURNISHED room in private family; gentlemen preferred. Ivy 2421-L. 15 Bedford Place. 5-21-42

NICELY furnished rooms with board; early breakfast; conveniences. 72 Spring Street. 34-21-5

TWO nice furnished rooms for rent to gentlemen or couple. 377 Whitehall Street. 29-21-5

TWO large, nicely furnished rooms, private family. Suburban home. Suburban Home, Box 907, care Georgian. 27-21-5

NICELY furnished cool room; close in; private home; adjoins bath; reasonable. Main 3428-L. 5-19-4

HANDSOMELY furnished large front room, private bath; shady lot; gentleman preferred. "Peachtree," care American. 113-8-5

FURNISHED rooms; private home; all conveniences; hot and cold baths. 19 E. Harris. Ivy 6349-J. 5-8-11

TWO newly renovated bedrooms, 256-R Courtland Street. Phone Ivy 5356. 5-18-25

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL unfurnished room to couple; reasonable. West 1129-L. 5-23-30

THREE upstairs rooms with closets; sink, freshly tinted if desired. 3 Angier Avenue. Ivy 6470-L. 5-23-27

THREE ROOMS for light housekeeping for couple. 129 Richardson Street. 26-23-5

THREE upstairs rooms for light housekeeping; use of phone. 154 Richardson. 5-22-36

THREE large unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 111 East Ellis. Ivy 7433-J. 5-21-204

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End, consisting of three rooms; also trunk room, linen closets, private bath, hall. Every convenience. Phone West 128-J. 5-21-31

UNFURNISHED rooms with conveniences for housekeeping. 34 East Alexander Street, between Peachtrees. 46-21-5

Furnished or Unfurnished.

ONE furnished or unfurnished front room; private family. 7 Kent Street. 5-21-23

ONE upstairs furnished or unfurnished room. 377 Whitehall St. 5-21-27

THREE beautiful corner rooms; separate entrance; private bath, veranda; sink in kitchen. Ivy 99. 5-20-10

ONE nice room furnished or unfurnished, conveniently located, half block from car line, all conveniences; cool and shady. Call Decatur 507. 5-20-14

APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

A NICE, airy 4-room apartment completely furnished in the Corinthian, 136 West Peachtree. Apply Chas. P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton St. 5-23-46

FIVE-ROOM apartment in the Colonial. 84 East North Avenue. Ivy 847-L. 5-18-64

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL small apartment, close in, steam heated. Phone Ivy 428. 52 E. Cain. 5-23-37

FOR RENT—Splendid new apartment, six rooms, steam heat, every modern convenience. 210 North Jackson Street. Phone Ivy 641-L. 5-23-6

FOR RENT—Upstairs apartment of five rooms with bath, in best residential district in city. Electric lights furnished, also heat in winter, $35 per month. Call Ivy 5398-L. 5-21-200

47 EAST CAIN STREET—Five rooms; freshly painted; clean and in nice repair. $25 per month. Apply owner, 509 Atlanta National Bank Building. 5-14-204

Furnished or Unfurnished.

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432. 5-18-54

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TWO FINE lots; nice residence section; North Side; near car line; opposite Ansley Park; bargain. Address Vacant Lots, care Georgian. 5-23-16

BY OWNER, pretty new bungalow in Ormewood Park, six rooms, bath, electric lights, cabinet mantels, etc. Large, level lot in beautiful oak grove, less than block of car line and close to schools. Room for garden and chickens. Price $2,850 on easy terms. A. S. Thompson, 403 4th Nat. Bank. Both phones 5141. 5-23-9

TWO 25-acre home sites on Peachtree Road. Address P. D., Box 604, care Georgian. 35-22-5

OWNER leaving city will sell new 7-room St. Charles Avenue bungalow. Three bed rooms, breakfast room, beautiful hardware and fixtures, furnace, hardwood floors, etc. Lot 50x150 feet. Elevated, shady, side drive, flowers and fruit. A bargain at $6,750. Terms, $2,000 loan, 6 per cent, $1,850 cash, balance $35 monthly. Jack, P. O. Box 1710, City. 5-22-9

BARGAIN—14 per cent investment; 13 houses; rent for $97 month. $8,000 on terms. Improvements are in excellent condition. Inman Park section. We have this price only for a short time. M. L. Thrower, 39 N. Forsyth Street. 27-22-5

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care American. 112-18-5

I HAVE two farms, 125 acres, and one 75 acres. Will exchange one or both for vacant lot. Call Milton. Main 2053. 5-3-24

FOR SALE cheap by owner, 739 Spring Street, near Twelfth Street, two-story nine-room house; price $5,500; $750 cash required; balance easy terms, if desired. Address G. A. Dunlop, 301 Mutual Building, Richmond, Va. 5-3-9

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-18-43

I HAVE seven acres, three-room house, half block car line, all cultivated, fine for trucking; will exchange for small renting property. Call Milton, Main 2053. 5-3-24

FOR SALE—Beautiful lot, 60 by 232 feet; $1,600; right on Peachtree. Easy terms. See me quick. Address Peachtree, Box 800, care Georgian. 5-2-4

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

HOUSES FOR RENT.

Furnished.

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 27-13-5

FOR RENT—Summer months, 6-room furnished cottage. References required. Phone Ivy 5709-J. 5-23-22

ONE of the best homes in Decatur completely furnished for summer. Phone Decatur 17. 202-5-23

WANTED—To rent for summer months, a furnished cottage with conveniences; suburb preferred. Address H. E. T., Box 50, care Georgian. 209-5-22

COMPLETELY furnished seven-room house for summer; references required. 98 E. Georgia Ave. Main 4170-L. 5-22-23

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 26-20-5

COOL, comfortable Peachtree home, furnished; five large bed rooms, upstairs living room, reception hall, drawing room and den, dining room and kitchen, two baths, servant's room and garage. Call Ivy 617. 5-17-12

Unfurnished.

OUR RENT list describes everything for rent. Call, write or phone for one. Ivy 3390. Charles P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton street. 2-13-49

FOR RENT.

$15.00—No. 20 Woodson St., five-room cottage, all conveniences, nice neighborhood, close to school and church. Within two blocks of Grant Park.

$25.00—No. 320 Waldo St. we have a 6-room cottage with hall and carrying all modern conveniences; nice neighborhood.

$15.60—No. 115 Luckie St. we have 5-room cottage with all modern conveniences, nice neighborhood, car line in front.

GEO. P. MOORE, Real Estate and Renting. 10 Auburn Avenue.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

LOVELY new, modern, steam-heated house; ten rooms and three baths, tile porches, tile baths and tile roof. Ivy 2432. 5-18-53

OFFICE SPACE FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Three large, outside, beautifully furnished rooms, second floor; hot and cold water, gas, electricity, sewerage. Corner Peachtree and Auburn. Thirty seconds from and overlooking Five Points. Ideal location for physician's or dentist's office, general offices, sales or display rooms. Cheap rent. Long lease. Apply to F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. Phone Ivy 833. 6-23-2

DESK SPACE with use of telephone. Apply 533 Candler Bldg. 4-25-9

ROOMS WANTED

Furnished.

WANTED—By couple without children June 1st, 3 or 4 furnished housekeeping rooms, private bath, second floor preferred. Phone West 574-J. 5-23-36

WANTED—For couple, one large room with closet. References exchanged. Call Main 2061, Mr. Sheats. 5-22-200

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping by June 1 in North end. No objection to distance. Address J. L., care of Georgian. 207-5-17

APARTMENTS WANTED.

Furnished.

COUPLE without children would like furnished apartment or small house for summer. Give description and terms. J. F., Box 890, care Georgian. 28-23-5

HOUSES WANTED.

Unfurnished.

I WISH to rent by June 5 an unfurnished five or six-room house, with electric lights. Prefer North Side or Inman Park. Good locality and reasonable rental. Ivy 3930-L. 213-5-18

WOULD you give 25 cents for a good job? Place a "Want Ad" in The Georgian and get one.

SUMMER RESORTS.

THE HENNING INN has been recently renovated and refurnished, under new management. Rates very reasonable. Apply to Henning Inn, P. O. Box 223, Brevard, N. C. 31-23-5

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Railroad Makes Move For Two Spur Tracks

Southern to Serve Big Factories in Marietta St. Section—West End Lots Bring $30,800.

An agreement entered into between the Southern Railway Company and Judge E. C. Kontz, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kontz, Porter Langston and Philip Weltner, presages a considerable commercial development in the entire Marietta Street section. It will mean the erection of factories which will add greatly to the effectiveness of the Marietta Street neighborhood as a manufacturing center.

The agreement contemplates the construction of double spur tracks from the Southern's main line near Simpson Street to a point about a block and a half toward Mangum Street, between Simpson and Jones Avenue. The tracks will extend westerly 550 and 357 feet, respectively. Work on them is expected to start soon.

Persons in close touch with the improvement intimated that substantial commercial establishments were in contemplation, but refused to go into details.

This step is but another evidence of an industrial awakening in the neighborhood mentioned. Other interests, principally the railroads, are quietly working out plans of extension. Announcement of such plans is looked for shortly.

Most of the property in this direction on which developers have an eye for manufacturing is within the one-mile radius, which means close proximity to downtown activities.

West End Lots Bring $30,800.

Included in Friday's real estate announcements was the sale of approximately $30,800 in residence lots by the Dillin-Morris Company and J. S. Collins, of Collins Brothers & Davies for William J. Davis, developer of West End Park. The sale of 27 lots covered a period of 30 days, and it was also announced that about 25 houses are just completed or being built in this subdivision, and that the total in West End Park is now approximately 150. West End Park was opened up a year ago.

The lots just sold are on West Ontario Avenue, near Gordon Street, and averaged $1,100 to $1,250 apiece.

Sales on Durant Place.

Prominent citizens figured this week in two sales on Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. Edward M. Durant sold to Attorney Sam D. Hewlett, 1 egislator-elect; John Y. Smith and John T. Dennis a 44 by 109-foot lot, for $2,000, and an adjoining lot, 42 by 109 feet, for the same price. Mr. Hewlett and Mr. Smith got an undivided three-eighths interest each and Mr. Dennis two-eighths. The cash consideration was $500 in each sale.

Transfer of Ellis Parcel.

S. H. Phelan, of Crawford County, formerly of Atlanta, has conveyed to Mrs. Barry Wright, of Rome, the northeast corner of Ellis and Courtland Streets. This parcel is a block east of the Elks Club and in the vicinity of other valuable properties. The frontage on Ellis Street is 50 feet.

Cancellations on Increase.

Figures in The Fulton County Daily Report for the twentieth week of 1913 and the corresponding week in 1912 show a continued increase in the number and amount of mortgages canceled, which realty men consider a good sign. The number in 1913 was 45 and the total $59,445, and for last year 39 and $45,835. Real estate transfers gained in number, but fell off in amount, and building permits dropped back a little in both.

Auction Sale Successful.

Everything but the weather was favorable to a successful auction sale Thursday by the Foster & Robson Co. of bungalows and lots on the South Decatur car line in the Ninth Ward. Rain stopped the sale, but before it came the following sales, aggregating $5,530, were made:

Bungalow to J. A. Boatwright for $1,500.

Bungalow to M. Owen for $1,525, sold on the grounds for a profit.

Bungalow to Mrs. T. M. Johnson for $1,550.

Lot 36 to I. N. Ragsdale for $245.

Lot 37 to T. N. Bradshaw for $140.

Lot 19 to M. Owen for $270.

Lot 49, on Vannoy Street, to J. L. Veal for $300.

Oakland City Auction.

The Foster & Robson Real Estate Agency has become associated with the W. E. Treadwell Company in the sale Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of bungalows and residence lots at Oakland City, on the East Point car line. These real estate agencies report many inquiries, and a large crowd of home-seekers is expected out. The property for sale is opposite the George W. Adair School and has undergone extensive improvements.

New Dry Goods Home.

The new home of the Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will be started at once at 92 South Pryor Street, and the concern will move its stock from North Pryor, having sold out there some weeks ago to Luther Z. Rosser and J. H. Porter. Mrs. L. J. Bowie has applied for a permit to erect a four-story and basement brick building for the dry goods house at a cost of $28,000. Donaldson & Pierson are the contractors. The Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will occupy the building under lease.

T. C. Hellbrauck has filed application to build a $2,000 dwelling of one story on West Tenth Street. Day labor will be used.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$10 and to Correct—H. O. Reese to W. A. Wright, lot 53x207 feet, east side Kennesaw Avenue, 316 feet north of North Avenue. April 12.

$10 and to Correct—W. A. Wright to C. R. Jolly, same property. April 12.

$8,500—Robert B. Ridley, Jr., to Harvey Hill, lot 50x146 feet, east side Juniper Street, 110 feet south of Tenth Street. May 15.

$160—Mrs. Sarah I. Weathers to J. N. Landers and Anderson Bros.' Co., lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$165—W. C. Harper to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$160—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$2,000—General Realty and Development Corporation to E. C. Robertson, lot 60x258 feet, west side Racine Street, 726 feet north of Greensferry Avenue. May 21.

$2,100—Equitable Loan and Security Company to T. M. McIntosh, 118 Jones Avenue, 39x119 feet. June 24, 1907.

$2,475—Mrs. Gertrude J. Dickey et al. to Miss Emily Jekyl, lot 865x590 feet, north side Tuxedo Drive, 1,400 feet northwest from Pace's Ferry Road. May 27, 1911.

$1,200—J. J. West to E. D. Duncan, lot 52x133 feet, north side Bellwood Avenue, 411 feet west of Ashby Street. May 13.

$50—Atlanta Cemetery Association to K. S. Foster, lot 279, block 4, Atlanta Park Cemetery. April 10.

$1,500—Ophelia L. Terrell to W. H. Turnipseed, lot, 50 feet front on Nelson Street, running through to Chapel Street, 200 feet from Haynes Street. May 20.

$1,750—H. M. Spitz to W. E. Treadwell and Julius Oelsner, lot 75x90 feet, east side Park Lane, being lot 15, block 13, Ansley Park. May 3.

$3,350—W. D. Newsom to Mrs. Edna E. Keene, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45x100. December 30, 1909.

$5—J. G. Norman et al. to Mary P. Norman, lot west side Avenue A, 400 feet south of Johnson Street, 50x140. March 28.

$10,000—W. W. Ward to Capital City Realty Company, lot southwest corner Battle Street and Altoona Pass, 250x806; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 236 feet east of Wellington Avenue, 250x351; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 97 feet west of Altoona Pass, 250x350. May, 1913.

$1,750—Newton S. Thomas to W. L. Saye, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. June 14, 1909.

$2,250—G. R. Glenn to Newton S. Thomas, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. January 24, 1908.

$1 and Other Considerations—W. D. Hughes to Mrs. Annie M. Smith, lot 23x124 feet, north line of Mrs. Smith's property, in land lot 15. February 1, 1911.

$160—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$636—T. C. Holmes and E. T. Luckie to Miss Clara Perry, lot 108x145 feet, south side Holmes Street, 619 feet east of Howell Mill Road. May 22.

Bonds For Title.

$10,000—Martin Nally Estate (by executrix) and Mrs. Mary Nally to C. L. DeFoor, lot 22x135 feet, northwest side South Forsyth Street, 114 feet southwest of Brotherton Street. April 5.

$18,000—Mrs. Cora W. Weaver to E. W. G. Boogher and E. A. Turner, lot west side Myrtle Street, 151 feet north of Eighth Street, 50x180. May 21.

$50,592—A. W. VanHoose to Ben J. Massell, lot 63x158 feet, east side Peachtree Street, 223 feet north of Pine Street. March 15.

$15,700—Clarence Bfosser to Mrs. E. W. Smith, 516 West Peachtree Street, 40x173 feet. May 17.

$8,500—Mrs. Annie M. Smith to J. T. Wardlaw, lot 59x169 feet, west side Sinclair Avenue, 200 feet northeast of Colquitt. May 21.

$4,000—Edward M. Durant to Sam D. Hewlett et al., lot 44x108 feet, west side Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

$4,000—Same to same, lot 41x109 feet, west side Durant Place, 518 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

Mortgages.

$538—A. H. Thomas to McDonald Baldwin, lot 50 by 213 feet, west side Moreland Avenue, 200 feet north of Walker Street. May 20.

$2,480—T. M. Word and Dr. J. W. Hurt to Colonial Trust Company, 26 acres on the diagonal line between the southeast and northwest corners of land lot 202. May 15.

$3,480—Mrs. Grace M. Keefer to Colonial Trust Company, lot north side Fourteenth Street, 521 feet west of Piedmont Avenue, 75 by 185. May 22.

$528—J. C. Moore to Atlanta Banking and Savings Company, lot 85 by 165 feet, northeast corner Lakewood Avenue and Livermore Street. May 22.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 50 by 288 feet, west side Ponce DeLeon Place, 178 feet north of Pnoce DeLeon Avenue. May 16.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 174 by 2,412 feet, on Hemphill Avenue, at southwest corner of A. B. Turner's property; land lot 154; Seventeenth district. May 16.

$254—W. L. Saye to Colonial Trust Company, lot 22 by 120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. May 19.

$1,248—A. R. Griffin to Central Bank and Trust Corporation, 328 Crew Street, 40 by 200 feet. May 19.

Loan Deeds.

$3,400—Mrs. Eliza T. Borne to Travelers Insurance Company, 237 Myrtle Street, 60 by 150 feet. May 22.

$2,600—J. D. Blalock to Henry Hirsch, lot at southeast corner land known as the Loftin, 8-acre tract, in land lot 157, Seventeenth District, 210 by 785. April 4.

1,400—Mrs. Edna E. Keene to W. C. Mauldin, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45 by 100 feet. May 22.

$1,800—Anderson Bros. Co. to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 43 by 162 feet, northeast side Gordon Road, 599 feet southeast of Greensferry Avenue. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$600—Mrs. Addie L. Lindsay to Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, 81 West Fifteenth Street, 93 by 84 feet. May 17.

FARMS FOR SALE.

20 ACRES, fifteen miles from Atlanta, $40 per acre; will take vacant lot worth $1,100 and purchaser assume nine $100 notes. Address Big Bargain, Box 3, care Georgian. 30-23-5

FOR SALE—At a bargain, one of the nicest 10-acre farms in 10 miles of Atlanta. Terms if desired. Address A. F. D., care Georgian. 203-5-23

STORES. For Sale.

BEER SALOON and pool room for sale cheap. Apply to 161 Decatur St. 200-5-23

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

AM IN MARKET for modern, new six-room bungalow, near car line and good lot, Inman Park or North Side; state price and location. Address Bungalow, care Georgian. 5-23-15

AN up-to-date five or six-room home, in good section, within mile circle; price must be right with fair terms. Homeseeker, care Georgian. 5-22-34

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

WEST END.

LUCILE AVE.—Near Peeples St., we can sell you a 10-room, 2-story house on extra large, elevated lot for $6,000. This place has a loan bearing only 5 per cent interest, balance easy. Owner a non-resident and wants to sell.

BEECHER ST.—Near Lee; this is a nearly new 6-room cottage on lot 50x200 feet. This is a genuine pick-up at the price—$3,250—and look, only $300 cash and balance $30 per month.

St. Charles Avenue Lot.

THIS is the cheapest lot on this street. See us for price, terms and location.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON

11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

NORTH SIDE HOME at a bargain price. If you want to buy a bargain go look at 43 Ponce DeLeon Avenue and St. Charles Avenue. We know it is worth $5,500, but we invite an offer. Can arrange any reasonable terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

ON NEXT SATURDAY, May 24, we will sell at auction, jointly with W. E. Treadwell & Co., the Ragsdale property on Warner Avenue, Allene Avenue and Woodrow Avenue, consisting of six modern bungalows and sixteen building lots. This very desirable and attractive property will be sold on terms that will put it in the reach of everyone. See special ad. in this issue. Get plats giving full details from either office.

ON DARGAN STREET, convenient to the Lucile Avenue cars, a new 6-room bungalow with all conveniences, tinted walls, stone foundation, brick mantels, furnace heat, beam ceilings. Everything first class. Lot 47x150 feet. Price, $4,150. $650 cash, balance easy. See Mr. Cohen.

TWO CLOSE-IN corners on Washington Street. Price and terms reasonable. We advise the purchase of these properties for steady enhancement. See Mr. Hook.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

3-r. flat, 148 Highland Avenue	$16.00
3-r. h., 39 Gaskill Street	8.60
3-r. h., 749 Whitehall Street	9.00
3-r. h., 19 Fowler Street	10.00
3-r. h., 126 Love Street	8.60
3-r. h., 175 Randolph Street	8.60
3-r. h., 43 Kendall Street	10.60
3-r. h., R. Evans Drive, Ft. McPherson	5.60
3-r. h., 354 Edgewood Avenue	10.60
3-r. h., 23 Corput Street	9.00
3-r. flat, 336 Grant Street	15.00
3-r. h., 72 South Jackson Street	8.60
4-r. h., 59 Fairview Avenue	8.00
4-r. h., 24 Lampkin Street	7.60
4-r. h., 94 Lovejoy Street	8.60
4-r. h., 33 Bell Street	16.65
4-r. h., 223 Humphries Street	12.50
4-r. h., Lakewood, and 17 acres of land, per year	150.00
4-r. h., 31 McDonough Road	10.00
4-r. h., Stewart Avenue, and 13½ acres of land	25.00
4-r. flat, 262 E. North Avenue	17.50
5-r. h., 67 Atwood Street	25.00
5-r. h., 5 Holderness Street	20.00
5-r. h., 144 Ashby Street	27.50

And a long list of larger houses. Come to see us.

FOR RENT.

"J" 312-14 RAWSON STREET.

ON THE south side of Rawson, between Cooper and Windsor, we have a third floor front apartment "J," five rooms; electric lights, hot and cold water, gas, electric bells, washstand, bath, closet and sink; steam heat; janitor service; gas range; storage room in the basement. A complete, up-to-date apartment. Cooper Street car half block. $40 on a lease.

JOHN J. WOODSIDE.

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, STORAGE.
Phones: Bell 671 Ivy; Atlanta 618. 12 "Real Estate Row."

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

SPLENDID BRICK VENEERED RESIDENCE ON FIFTEENTH STREET.

A NEW, 2-STORY, 9-room house, hardwood floors, tile roof, sleeping porch, furnace heat, electricity, gas, basement, garage with servants' rooms. Lot 50x185. Price, $13,000; $2,000 cash, balance to suit. THIS is the third house from West Peachtree. GO OUT AND LOOK AT IT. Keys next door.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS.
Ivy 1513. 130 Peachtree. Atl. 2865.

FOR SALE JOHN J. WOODSIDE

SNUG LITTLE HOME.

(304 WEST FOURTH STREET.)

HAS five rooms, water, bath, sidewalks, street, elevated corner lot. Terms, $500 cash, $15 month, 8 per cent.

THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager, 12 "Real Estate Row."

$30,000

WE HAVE a client with $30,000 in bank, with which to purchase good annual or semi-annual notes. We do not want notes to broker, but will submit them to one client only. No red tape or delay.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT

JAS. H. REYNOLDS, Sales Manager.
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Piedmont Avenue Frontage

We have recently had consigned with us some Piedmont Avenue frontage, ranging in price from $115 per foot to $135 per foot.

These lots are situated on the most desirable part of Piedmont Avenue, being between Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, facing Piedmont Park. The scarcity of building lots of this class of property on the north side is easily recognized by anyone who has been looking for a home site recently. The unusually good value offered here will be appreciated by anyone in the market for first-class residence property. Reasonable terms can be arranged.

Forrest & George Adair

Six New Bungalows and Sixteen Building Lots AT AUCTION Saturday, May 24, 3 P. M.

In the Tenth Ward on Warner Street and Allene and Woodrow Avenues. Just two blocks from the splendid car service to East Point, College Park and Hapeville. Also convenient to the Stewart Avenue car line.

This property is in a rapidly growing section, close to the new $40,000 "Adair" Public School, and only two blocks from Adair Park.

One of Atlanta's best citizens, Mr. I. N. Ragsdale, has developed this property, sparing neither time nor money to bring this property to a point of desirability that would make it acceptable to the better class of citizens for homes.

With this purpose uppermost in mind, he has built six attractive bungalows. Built them of good material and with day labor, exercising good taste and rare good judgment in all the details of arrangement and construction. These are not the usual "built to sell" affairs.

Each house has a small loan, which the purchaser assumes as part of the price. The balance will be paid in small monthly payments without interest. A small cash payment will be required, ranging from $100 to $250. This is an unusually easy arrangement that should appeal to every buyer of a home.

The lots will be sold on very easy terms, with 6 per cent simple interest.

The lots lie particularly well, many of them having nice shade. They will make desirable and valuable home sites. Several of them have the added value of two street fronts.

Take East Point or College Park cars. Get off at Gammages. A big sign will direct you to the property. Get plats from

W. E. TREADWELL & CO.

24 South Broad Street, or

FOSTER & ROBSON

11 Edgewood Avenue.

THOMSON & LYNES

AUBURN AVENUE—Brand-new two-story brick store in the busy section of Auburn Avenue. Leases and monthly rentals will pay 12 per cent. Price, $12,000; no loan to assume. Terms, half cash, submit balance.

THOMSON & LYNES

18-20 WALTON ST.

WILLIAMS-HARTSOCK CO.

Real Estate and Builders. Fourth National Bank Bldg. Phone 2106 Main.

GOOD NEW HOMES: Listen, on Moreland Avenue, corner of Albemarble, we are just completing a beautiful two-story, seven-room bungalow. This place has an abundance of large and roomy closets, tile bath, exposed ceiling beams, stone front, stone steps, and it is on a corner lot; birch doors, the best of hardware; will tint walls to suit your own taste. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. To see this is to buy it. Take a look and come to see us.

ON NORTH AVENUE, close to Highland Avenue, we have just completed a pretty six-room home with two baths; it is seldom that you find a place so well built and so complete in every detail as this one. Each bath has tile floor; large rooms, plenty of light and fine heat. Will take a good lot in part payment for this. It is close to school and churches, within a stone's throw of Druid Hills; car just a block away. Or will sell on easy terms.

ON BEAUTIFUL Cleburne Avenue we are offering the best value in the city in a new six-room, hall and bath bungalow with tile floor on front porch and in bath room, dressing mirrors, stone steps, and automobile drive on side. This lot has a frontage of 70 feet. If you have been waiting for a large lot here it is. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. We know that you will like this.

FOR SALE BY

GREENE REALTY COMPANY

511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599

FINE 300-ACRE FARM (NEAR ATLANTA).

ON CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER; also on good creek; nearly half of farm as fine bottom land as can be had. Fine cherted road within about two miles of this place. Adjoining land held at $100 acre. We have an option on this. If sold at once, only $40 ac

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable In Advance.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen men controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow humbly before every corporation legal jackal attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

He has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which involved many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was to be in a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock owned by one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, was to be sold ahead of all other stock.

Untermyer was a leader in the fight for the policyholders of big insurance companies against dishonest management. In this fight, which improved conditions for all policyholders throughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of to-day who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truth concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Untermyer, in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

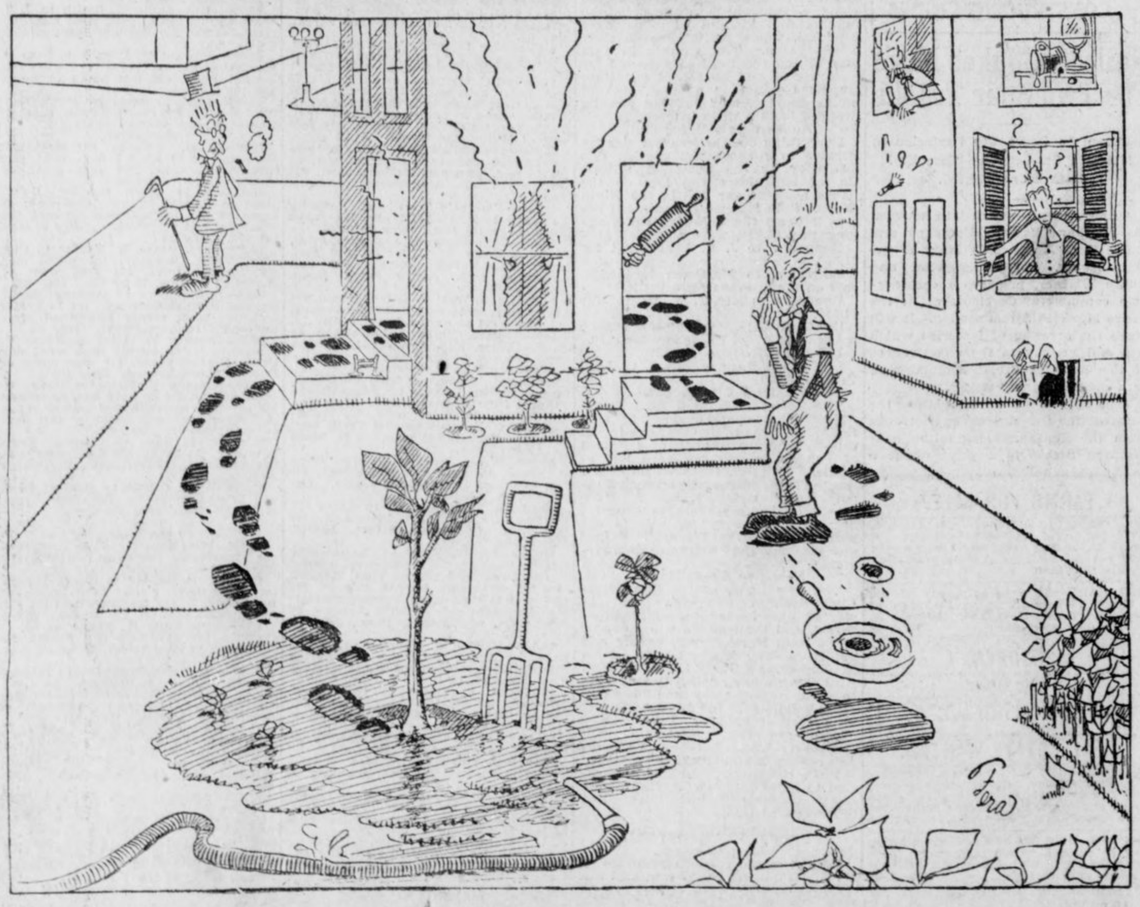
Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done. What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat."

You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, alive and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind.

The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK.—TAD.

On the Trail of Mr. Suburbs

By FERA.



Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on

Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

"I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as a lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power; whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much dwelt on and how do they act? Please tell me, are these emanations a disintegrating of the countless particles composing a particle of radium? If so, how are they especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, is it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to escape—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to escape or to emanate for years and years and years with no sensible diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it powerful for anything in particular? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration? J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inquirer supposes a particle of radium to be.

Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to send off continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear.

Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, but it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present imperceptible to us, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substances called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkable for their great atomic weight; in fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold or platinum.

Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "Alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. Those called "Beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "Gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light.

All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The Alpha rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The Beta rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the GAMMA RAYS ARE SO PIERCING THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SENT THROUGH A FOOT OF SOLID IRON!

In consequence of the distintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but so minute are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,500 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. Yet the energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point! If we could get unlimited supplies of radium, instead of having to be content with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories put together, we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields.

Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up, in some unknown way, in the atoms, and is held in suspense there until the automatic disintegration of the atoms sets it free to act in other ways. It then sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is pitifully weak compared with the explosive force contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be locked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the imprisoned energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which infinitesimal particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom as the planets are in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interferes with the regular motions of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world now in existence may dissolve, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting the property of radio-activity to any other substance that happens to be near a bit of radium, as, for instance, the hands and clothes of the experimenters. But this imparted radio-activity does not last long. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, of its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a hint that the dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unguessed. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTRICACIES OF A CROWD. ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEIVABLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Emanation Unperceivable.

Dr. LeBon has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the existence of emanations. Thus the cat sees us in the darkest nights by virtue of some halo produced around our bodies by vital action, and photographs made in the dark are similarly explained. What was once known as "odic force," producing an alleged luminous nimbus around a human being, would, by this hypothesis, be accounted for as the result of an emanation. When this subject was under investigation many years ago it was remarked that relatively few persons exhibit the phenomenon in visible form. They are like gold, which shows no perceptible radio-activity, although the property may exist in it, while those who exhibit the nimbus resemble radium, which pours out an abundance both of rays and of radio-active emanation.

GULLS BEAT CRACKERS, 6-0

BASEBALL

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 250. ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. 2 CENTS EVERYWHERE PAY NO MORE

FINAL ★★

FELDER DENIES PHAGAN BRIBERY

MUSSER IS EASY FOR VISITING HITTERS

Mobile Practically Cinches the Game When They Score Four Runs in Fifth Inning.

PONCE DE LEON BALL PARK, May 23.—Mobile defeated Atlanta here this afternoon in the second game of their series by a score of 6 to 0.

THE GAME.

FIRST INNING.

Stock went out, Alperman to Agler. Starr grounded out, Musser to Agler. O'Dell flied to Bailey. NO RUNS.

Long grounded to Starr and was out to Paulet. Bailey went out over the same route. Alperman grounded to Starr and was out to Paulet. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Jacobson was called out on strikes. Clark was an easy out, Musser to Agler. Robertson grounded out to Agler. NO RUNS.

Welchonce lofted one to Clark. Smith pushed one past Hogg for an infield hit. Starr made a fast throw to Paulet after getting the pill, but was too late. Bisland flied to Robertson. Smith went out trying to steal, Schmidt to Starr. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Paulet flied to Alperman. Schmidt singled past Musser. Hogg walked. Stock flied to Agler. Starr singled to right and Schmidt scored. O'Dell lined to Bisland. ONE RUN.

Agler out, Hogg to Paulet. Graham doubled down the third base line. Musser grounded to Stock, who tagged Graham and doubled Musser at first. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

Jacobson singled to right. Clark sacrificed, Musser to Agler. Robertson flied to Bailey. Paulet walked and went out trying to steal, Graham to Alperman. NO RUNS.

Long walked and was caught off first, Schmidt to Paulet. Bailey out, O'Dell to Paulet. Alperman flied to Robertson. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Schmidt out, Bisland to Agler. Hogg singled to center. Stock walked. Starr singled to right, filling the bases. O'Dell popped to Welchonce. Jacobson singled to left, scoring Hogg and Stock. Clark doubled to center and Starr and Jacobson scored. Robertson grounded out to Agler. FOUR RUNS.

Welchonce flied to O'Dell. Smith singled to center. Bisland fouled to Schmidt. Agler singled to left. Graham grounded out to Paulet. NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Paulet singled through the box. Schmidt grounded out to Agler. Hogg out, Alperman to Agler. Stock singled to left and Paulet tallied. Starr popped to Alperman. ONE RUN.

Musser flied to Robertson. Long went out, Stock to Paulet. Bailey flied to Jacobson. NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

O'Dell fouled to Smith. Jacobson fanned. Clark struck out. NO RUNS.

Alperman fouled to Schmidt. Welchonce singled to center. Smith fouled to Robertson. Bisland popped to Starr. NO RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.

Robertson out, Musser to Agler. Paulet was safe on Bisland's error. Schmidt fouled to Graham. Hogg out, Bisland to Agler. NO RUNS.

Agler singled down the third base line. Graham out, O'Dell to Paulet. Musser fanned. Long grounded out to Paulet. NO RUNS.

NINTH INNING.

Stock singled through Smith. Starr sacrificed, Musser to Agler. O'Dell lined out to Alperman and Stock was doubled at second to Bisland. NO RUNS.

Bailey flied to Jacobson. Alperman out, Starr to Paulet.

Welchonce out, Starr to Paulet.

FEDERAL LEAGUE.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	000 000 001	—1	7	1
St. Louis	000 000 000	—0	2	3

Miller and Cooper; Rehmer and Walden.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Covington	000 120 001	—4	5	1
Indianapolis	103 022 00x	—8	10	2

Justic and Hicks; Billiard and Durell. Umpires, Lippert and Conklin.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	000 003 004	—7	13	0
Chicago	000 100 000	—1	8	0

Ashenfelder and Lucia; Finneran and McDonough. Umpires, Fyfe and Nippert.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Gadsden	000 000 200	—2	4	5
Newnan	510 200 10x	—9	15	3

King, Trawick and Jordan; Lovett and Chase.

RACING NEWS ON PAGE 10.

BASEBALL

GULLS	. . . . .	001	041	000	-	6
CRACKERS	. . .	000	000	000	-	0

GULLS—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Stock, ss	4	1	2	1	2	0
Starr, 2b	4	1	2	1	5	0
O'Dell, 3b	5	0	0	1	2	0
Jacobson, rf	4	1	2	2	0	0
Clark, lf	3	0	1	1	0	0
Roberston, rf	4	0	0	4	0	0
Paulet, 1b	3	1	1	15	0	0
Schmidt, c	4	1	1	2	2	0
Hogg, p	3	1	1	0	1	0
Totals	34	6	10	27	12	0

CRACKERS—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Long, lf	2	0	0	0	0	0
Bailey, rf	4	0	0	2	0	0
Alperman, 2b	4	0	1	4	3	0
Welchonce, cf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Smith, 3b	3	0	2	1	0	0
Bisland, ss	2	0	0	2	2	1
Agler, 1b	3	0	2	13	0	0
Graham, c	3	0	1	4	1	0
Musser, p	3	0	0	0	5	0
Totals	28	0	7	27	11	1

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Graham, Clark. Dohble plays—Stock to Paulet. Struck Out—by Musser 3; by Hogg 0. Bases on balls—off Musser 3; off Hogg 1. Umpires, Hart and Pfenninger.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT NASHVILLE—

MONTGOMERY	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	2	1	1	0	0 - 4 8 2
NASHVILLE	. . . . .	0	1	3	1	0	0	0	0	X - 5 9 2

Bagby and Gribbens; Williams and Noyes. Umpires, Fifield and Stockdale.

FIRST GAME.

AT CHATTANOOGA—

NEW ORLEANS	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0 - 0 8 2
CHATTANOOGA	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1 - 1 5 4

Swindell and Robertson; Summers and Street. Umpires, Wright and Kerin.

SECON GAME.

NEW ORLEANS	. . . . .	0	0	4	0	0	0	2	0	- 6 12 0
CHATTANOOGA	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	- 3 8 2

Evans and Robinson; More and Street. Umpires, Kirin and Wright.

FIRST GAME.

AT BIRMINGHAM—

MEMPHIS	. . . . .	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	- 2 5 1
BIRMINGHAM	. . . . .	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	- 1 3 2

Newton and Snell; Foxen and Mayer. Umpires, Breitenstein and Rudderham.

SECON D GAME.

MEMPHIS	. . . . .	0	0	0	1	1	1	3	- 6 9 2
BIRMINGHAM	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	- 1 6 2

Kissinger and Snell; Thompson and Clifton. Umpires, Breitenstein and Rudderham.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—

CINCINNATI	. . . . .	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	- 1 7 2
PHILADELPHIA	. . . . .	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	1	X - 4 7 0

Brown and Clark; Brennan and Killifer. Umpires, O'Day and Emslie.

Chicago-Boston not scheduled.

All other games off; rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Philadelphia-Washington, no game; rain.

Only one game scheduled.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Newport News	. . . .200 000 030	—5	9	1
Richmond	. . . .010 210 04x	—8	12	0

Austin, Kull and Matthews; Ayers and Rogers. Umpire, Norcum.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Portsmouth	.100 001 25	—9	6	1
Petersburg	.201 101 25	—12	13	7

Herbert and Garvin; Hedgepeth, Richmond and Laughlin. Umpire, Clarke. Called on account of darkness.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Asheville	. . . .020 020 101	—6	11	2
Durham	. . . .000 000 112	—4	7	3

Watson and Milliman; Smith and Wright. Umpire, Miller.

Norfolk-Roanoke, no game; rain.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

AT MINNEAPOLIS—

INDIANAPOLIS—	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	-2 7 2
MINNEAPOLIS—	2	1	0	0	5	1	0	0	X	-9 16 3

Schardt, Kaiserling and Cotter; Olmstead and Smith. Umpires, Westervelt and Irwin.

AT ST. PAUL—

TOLEDO—	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	- 1 6 1
ST. PAUL—	0	2	4	1	0	0	0	0	X	- 7 9 0

George and Livingstone; Laroy and Miller. Umpires, Johnstone and Connolly.

AT KANSAS CITY—

LOUISVILLE—	2	0	0	0	0	2	2	1	2	-9 14 1
KANSAS CITY—	4	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	-6 11 2

Woodburn and Sevriod; Vaughn and Mitchell. Umpires, Chill and O'Brien.

AT MILWAUKEE—

COLUMBUS—	3	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	-5 11 5
MILWAUKEE—	0	1	0	0	0	5	2	0	X	-8 13 2

McQuillen and Smith; Slipnicka and Hughes. Umpires, Murray and Handiboe.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

AT TORONTO—

PROVIDENCE—	0	3	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	- 5 11 2
TORONTO—	0	2	0	1	0	5	1	1	X	-10 12 0

Lafitte, Whatley and Kocher; Hearne, Gouliat and Graham. Umpires, Hayes and Nallin.

AT MONTREAL—

BALTIMORE—	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	-3 9 2
MONTREAL—	0	0	0	1	3	0	0	0	X	-3 13 2

Danforth and Egan; Mattern and Burns. Umpires, Mullen and Cross.

No games scheduled.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

AT JACKSONVILLE—

SAVANNAH—	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	- 2 5 3
JACKSONVILLE—	0	0	0	3	0	0	1	1	X	- 5 9 1

Adams and Geibel; Groover and Smith. Umpires, Barr and Moran.

AT COLUMBUS—

CHARLESTON—	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	- 1 5 2
COLUMBUS—	2	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	X	- 5 4 1

Eldridge and Fox; Baker and Thompson. Umpire, Glatts.

Macon-Albany, no game; rain.

COTTON STATES LEAGUE.

FIRST GAME.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Jackson	. . . . .210 000 20x	—5	11	1
Columbus	. . . . .000 101 000	2	8	3

Faircloth and Erwin; Cooper and Utter. Umpire, Williams.

FIRST GAME.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Meridian	. . . . .000 100 x	—1	6	0
Selma	. . . . .000 000 0	—0	3	0

South and Guiettrez; Luhrson and Mueller. Umpire, Thompson.

SECOND GAME.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Meridian	. . . . .000 002 2	—4	11	0
Selma	. . . . .000 000 0	—0	2	1

South and Guittrez; Wyly and Mueller. Umpire, Thompson.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Jackson	.010 000 0	—1	3	4
Columbus	.302 000 0	—5	6	1

Pheney and Erwin; Poole and Utter. Umpire, Williams.

CAROLINA LEAGUE.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Raleigh	. . . . .210 000 010 00	—4	8	1
Charlotte	. . . . .020 100 100 01	—5	8	1

Mahaffey and Lidgate; High, Cathey and Molcolmson. Umpire, Chestnut.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

Affidavits and an alleged dictograph record made public Friday afternoon, accuse Colonel Thomas B. Felder of offering to C. C. February, a bribe of $1,000 for possession of police records of the Phagan case.

These affidavits and the dictograph record are sworn to by A. S. Colyar, Jr., of Nashville, and February, who is stenographer to Newport Lanford, Chief of the Atlanta Detective Department.

The Georgian on Wednesday published the fact that there were rumors on the streets that connected the name of Colonel Felder with the Phagan case in a sinister way.

Colonel Felder made a statement to a Georgian reporter to the effect that these rumors were false.

At that time, however, the police department was engaged in the effort to entrap Colonel Felder and bring against him a charge of bribery.

From developments Friday, it would seem that Colonel Felder was engaged in an effort to entrap Lanford and Beavers.

Colonel Felder has issued a statement to that effect. A statement from Mayor Woodward tends to corroborate it.

Chief of Detectives Lanford stated Friday afternoon that the premature publication of the affidavits had thwarted his plans and had defeated justice, and that he did not know what his future course would be as regards Colonel Felder.

No Mention of Case Except About Graft

Mayor Woodward Friday afternoon admitted that he had had conversation with Colonel Felder on Monday. No mention of the Phagan case was made by the attorney, however, except in reference to police graft.

"Colonel Felder said that he had run across a great many evidences of police graft in near beer saloons and resorts during the Phagan investigation," declared the Mayor. "He suggested that this evidence be gathered up in an effort to unearth crookedness in the police system. I asked him how the matter could be gone about and Mr. Felder replied that it would take a good deal of money; that he would have to get the evidence in shape first."

The Mayor denied that Felder was accompanied by C. C. Jones as has been stated. He said that Felder was alone. The Mayor's assertion was borne out by Frank Hammond, the official's secretary.

The sensational charges against Colonel Felder grow out of a plan entered into by Chief of Police Beavers, Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, his secretary, G. C. February, and A. S. Colyar, Jr., of Nashville.

For nearly a week Lanford and Colyar have been working on the theory that they could develop the situation which would enable them to make a charge of bribery against Colonel Felder.

Colyar had worked in South Carolina with Colonel Felder at various times in the past, he claimed, and enjoyed Colonel Felder's confidence. He informed Chief Lanford that Mr. Felder had failed to pay him money due for his work in South Carolina and that he intended to get revenge.

Colyar Reported Long Talk With Felder

On Monday Colyar reported that he had had long and confidential talks with Felder and C. W. Tobie, the Burns investigator who was working here on the Phagan case under the direction of Felder. He reported that Colonel Felder expressed extreme hostility to Chief Beavers and Lanford, cursed them and intimated that he would like to get possession of an affidavit the police were said to have secured from Mary Phagan's parents denying that they had asked Colonel Felder to enter the case and setting forth that they had refused proffers made by Felder.

He also reported that he had informed Felder he knew G. C. February, Lanford's secretary, quite well and hat he was sure he could frame up with February to secure a transcript of the police records and the Coleman affidavit. He said Felder said he would give February $1,000 for them.

On Monday night, it is stated, Colyar and February went to Colonel Felder's office and were in a conference there with Felder for something more than half an hour.

Colyar reported Tuesday that at this conference an arrangement was made for another meeting between February and Felder, the latter promising to give February $1,000 for the Coleman affidavit and the transcript of the police records of evidence in the case.

According to an affidavit made public Friday afternoon, a meeting as held Wednesday afternoon in the Williams House in North Forsyth Street between Colonel Felder, February and Colyar. It is stated a dictograph was placed in the room and that the city detective department now has in its possession alleged dictograph conversation in which Colonel Felder was quoted as offering February money to secure the Coleman affidavit.

It is charged by Colyar that Felder offered $1,000 for the affidavit and other police records of the Phagan case.

Colyar Submits Report To Chief Lanford

Monday morning Colyar made a written report to Chief Lanford, the substance of which was as follows:

"I met T. B. Felder at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night at the Marion Hotel and went with him to his law offices in the Equitable building, and held consultation with him until 9:15 p. m. In the meantime, C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the Burns Agency, dropped in in response to a telephone call. I was introduced to him and made an appointment with him for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in room 300 at the Piedmont Hotel.

"I find that Mr. Tobie is a former Pinkerton detective, and that he was discharged from that agency, as they allege, for corrupt practices. He is now posing as the confidential man of W. J. Burns.

"In my conversation with Mr. Tobie this morning, he said he would have the murderer of Mary Phagan within ten days, and that he had been on the scene long enough to know that the reason he had not been discovered before was on account of jealousy, politics and money.

"In my conversation with T. B. Felder, he stated that he had some thirty or forty clients, among whom were C.C.Jones, the Henderson Hotel and other liquor clients who were willing to raise a fund of $25,000 to impeach James L. Beavers and Newport A. Lanford, as both of them were corrupt, and that Beavers was at the present time living in open adultery with a prostitute, and was drunk half the time, and that Lanford missed his calling when he quit the farm, and threatened to go before the Board of Aldermen and file articles of impeachment against both them, and that he would have the backing of J. G. Woodward, Mayor of Atlanta; that Carlos Mason and two others of the police board had already gone back on Beavers because he was a fanatic.

"He said that he was employed to prosecute the Phagan murderer by J. A. McCall and other citizens of Atlanta, and that his employment had been ratified by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, and that he intended to have them arrested for perjury and could prove the same."

(This reference to perjury is based on the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that Felder's employment in the case was without their consent.

"In my conversation with him on Monday morning in the club rooms on the eighth floor of the Walton Building, he told me that he was very anxious for me to meet C. C. Jones, and that he could get me big money if I would help him secure the evidence that would throw Beavers and his flunky, Lanford, out of a job, and that he already had the assistance and cooperation of Henry Jennings, former Chief of Police.

"Said Affidavit Would Raise a Mob"

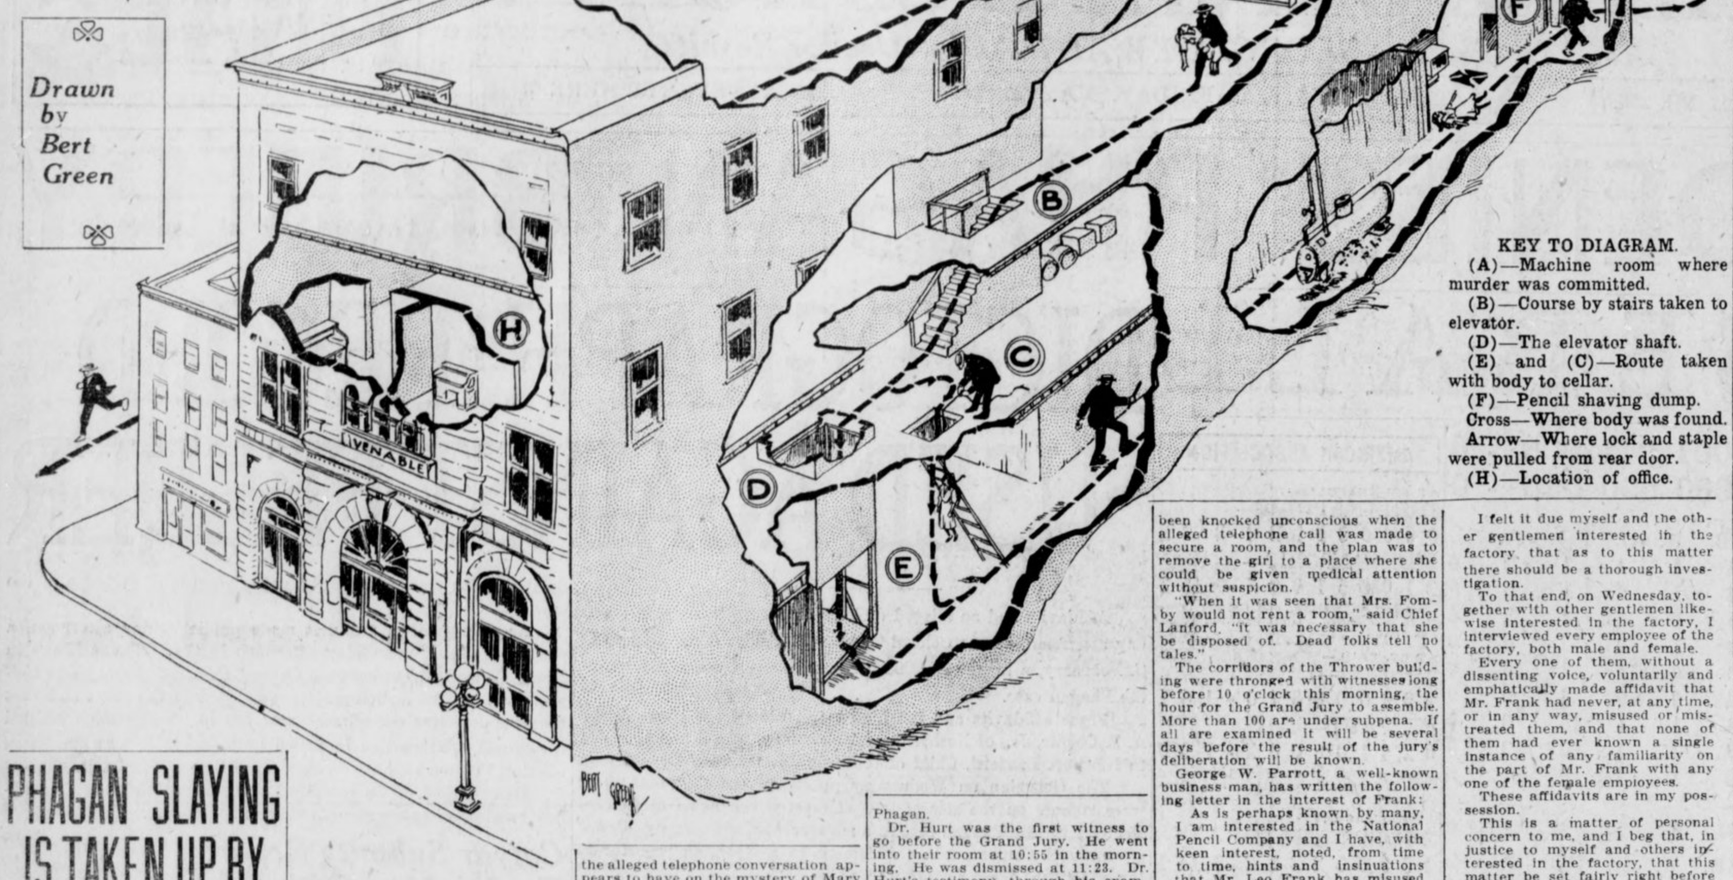
"Further in his conversation this morning he said that the police department was at loggerheads, and that Pat Campbell was giving Chief Beavers and Lanford the double-cross, and that before the week was out Beavers and Lanford would find that the good people of this city were indignant at their course in the Phagan case, and that the moment they published the affidavit signed by J. W. Coleman and wife reflecting on his moral character they would go to jail, and that he could speak one word at this time and raise a mob that would hang Beavers and Lanford to a telegraph pole.

"He further said that if I would go to work for him and

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

THE GEORGIAN ARTIST'S DIAGRAM OF PENCIL FACTORY USED BEFORE GRAND JURY TO EXPLAIN PHAGAN SLAYING

PLAN OF THE BUILDING WHERE TRAGEDY OCCURRED, SHOWN BY ARTIST WHO STUDIED IT CAREFULLY.



KEY TO DIAGRAM.
(A)—Machine room where murder was committed.
(B)—Course by stairs taken to elevator.
(D)—The elevator shaft.
(E) and (C)—Route taken with body to cellar.
(F)—Pencil shaving dump.
Cross—Where body was found.
Arrow—Where lock and staple were pulled from rear door.
(H)—Location of office.

PHAGAN SLAYING IS TAKEN UP BY GRAND JURY

The Phagan case is now in the process of investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

Two bills for indictment of Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, for the murder of Mary Phagan, were presented before that tribunal at its session Friday morning by Solicitor Dorsey.

A host of witnesses gave their testimony. The torn and blood-stained clothing of the slain girl also was turned over to the Grand Jury for inspection.

The Grand Jury studied carefully an elaborate diagram drawn by Bert Green, one of The Georgian's staff artists, and setting forth in black and white the prosecutor's theory of how the murder was probably committed. Intense interest was displayed in the drawing.

After being in session for nearly three hours, the Grand Jury adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, when the Phagan case will be taken up once more.

Woman Gives New Testimony.

Whether the sensational testimony of Mrs. Mima Famby, 400 Piedmont Avenue—or Nina Fomby, as the woman says her name is—will be introduced at the Grand Jury probe, is a matter of doubt. Mrs. Fomby's affidavit declaring that on the evening of the murder Frank called the affiant on the telephone and in an excited voice asked her to arrange a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not disclose, is in the hands of the Solicitor General.

Important as is the bearing which the alleged telephone conversation appears to have on the mystery of Mary Phagan's death, doubts are already being expressed as to the part it will be permited to play in the present hearing or any to come, owing to the charg wording of the law on such evidence.

It is suposed, however, that if Mrs. Fomby's affidavit is admitted, an immediate attempt to attack her credibility will be made by the defense. Her own story puts the credibility of her testimony in doubt.

Frank Refused to Talk.

Frank, when interviewed in his cell at the Tower Friday morning regarding the telephone conversation and his dealings with Mrs. Fomby in general, refused to discuss the question.

"I am feeling fine," he said, but would not discuss the crime at all.

Among the witnesses who went before the Grand Jury were:

Dr. J. W. Hurt, Coroner's physician, who examined the dead girl's body the morning after it was found.

T. W. Epps, the newsboy who waited at the corner on the afternoon of the tragedy for Mary Phagan while she went to the factory to get her pay envelope.

Detective a Witness.

Harry Scott, assistant superintendent of the local branch of the Pinkerton detective agency, who has been investigating the mysterious case.

J. N. Starnes, a city detective.

M. D. Darley, Frank's assistant at the pencil factory.

L. S. Dobbs, sergeant of police, who answered Lee's call to the pencil factory the morning the body was found.

"Boots" Rogers, former county policeman, who drove the police to the factory in his automobile in answer to Lee's call.

Pat Campbell, city detective.

Bass Rosser, city detective.

Utmost secrecy clothed the Grand Jury's investigation. The cracks about the doors and windows of their room on the second floor of the Thrower Building were lined with paper in order that no chance conversation or view of the proceedings might escape.

An immense throng crowded the corridors of the building and filled the adjoining rooms.

The witnesses were all bunched into the ante-room and there kept waiting while one at a time they entered before the tribunal and told what they knew regarding the death of Mary Phagan.

Dr. Hurt was the first witness to go before the Grand Jury. He went into their room at 10:55 in the morning. He was dismissed at 11:23. Dr. Hurt's testimony, through his examination of the body, is considered of vast importance. He declined to make any statement whatsoever as he left the building.

In rapid succession other witnesses followed. Their testimony, which is believed will weave the preliminary chair of evidence about Frank and Lee which will warrant their indictment, was placed before the Grand Jury.

Sergeant Dobbs Testifies.

Police Sergeant Dobbs followed Dr. Hurt into the Grand Jury room at 11:49. His testimony is supposed to consist mainly of the condition of the Phagan girl's body when he arrived on the scene, including its location and the evidence surrounding it. Most important probably of his testimony was that as to the actions of the negro, Newt Lee, as he led the police squad to the body and while the initial examination of it took place in the basement of the factory.

City Detective Starnes, after Dobbs' departure, took into the Grand Jury room a map of the pencil factory, showing the floor upon which the girl is supposed to have met her slayer, tracing the trail along which he dragged the body down into the basement.

The rapidity with which the wheels of justice revolved at the hearing bore out Solicitor Dorsey's statement that when he presented his evidence before the Grand Jury it would be in a clear, concise form.

That the prosecution will avoid presenting its most incriminating evidence before the tribunal, unless necessary to secure indictments of the two men, was admitted in the Solicitor's office just before the Grand Jury convened. No more than enough evidence to secure true bills will be revealed, it was said.

Woman Makes Affidavit.

The affidavit of Mrs. Mima Fomby, who told of Frank trying to get a room at her place was signed in the office of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford May 11. Mrs. Fomby was sworn by Recorder Nash Broyles. Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler witnessed the signature.

Mrs. Fomby said that she and a party of friends were playing bridge in her apartments late Memorial Day afternoon when Frank, whom she had known a long time, telephoned her. It was between 6 and 6:30 o'clock, she stated. Frank, according to her story, wanted to rent a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not give. Mrs. Fomby said that she flatly refused him, but Frank insisted he be rented an apartment.

"He said he was forced to obtain a room for himself and the girl," said Mrs. Fomby, "but didn't want to go anywhere else because he put such implicit trust in me. I would not grant his request and hung up the telephone."

Called Several Times.

"Later he called again," she continued. "This time he was more insistent and said something about it being a case of life and death. Between 6:30 and 10 o'clock he called probably half a dozen times. Finally I told him not to call any more, as I was going automobiling with friends."

Mrs. Fomby said that she had been offered money to leave the city until the courts concluded with the Phagan case. To substantiate this charge the name of Alexander S. Martin, of Gainesville, a newspaper man, has been handed the police. He is said to know of hush money having been offered Mrs. Fomby.

Shortly after Frank's arrest Mrs. Fomby said she visited him at the Tower. At first she said he did not recognize her, but later spoke to her, and they had a secret conference, the nature of which she would not discuss.

The woman added that when she lived at 87 Armstrong Street Frank was a frequent visitor to her place and had brought girls there.

Chief Lanford's Theory.

Chief Lanford's theory, as outlined Friday morning, is that the girl had been knocked unconscious when the alleged telephone call was made to secure a room, and the plan was to remove the girl to a place where she could be given medical attention without suspicion.

"When it was seen that Mrs. Fomby would not rent a room," said Chief Lanford, "it was necessary that she be disposed of. Dead folks tell no tales."

The corridors of the Thrower building were thronged with witnesses long before 10 o'clock this morning, the hour for the Grand Jury to assemble. More than 100 are under subpena. If all are examined it will be several days before the result of the jury's deliberation will be known.

George W. Parrott, a well-known business man, has written the following letter in the interest of Frank:

As is perhaps known by many, I am interested in the National Pencil Company and I have, with keen interest, noted, from time to time, hints and insinuations that Mr. Leo Frank has misused and mistreated female employees of the factory.

I felt it due myself and the other gentlemen interested in the factory, that as to this matter there should be a thorough investigation.

To that end, on Wednesday, together with other gentlemen likewise interested in the factory, I interviewed every employee of the factory, both male and female.

Every one of them, without a dissenting voice, voluntarily and emphatically made affidavit that Mr. Frank had never, at any time, or in any way, misused or mistreated them, and that none of them had ever known a single instance of any familiarity on the part of Mr. Frank with any one of the female employees.

These affidavits are in my possession.

This is a matter of personal concern to me, and I beg that, in justice to myself and others interested in the factory, that this matter be set fairly right before the public.

GEORGE W. PARROTT.

Advice to Those Who Have Lung Trouble

Pulmonary Lung Trouble is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Do all you possibly can to add to strength and increase weight; eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air, and then, if health and strength do not return, add the tonic and beneficial effects of Eckman's Alterative. Read what it did in this case:

405 E. 5th St., Wilmington, Del.

"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market Street, Wilmington, Del.), recommended to me Eckman's Alterative, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life."

(Affidavit.) JAS. SQUIRES.

(Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' drug stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

AK Antikamnia FOR ALL PAIN TABLETS FOR HEADACHES NEURALGIA AND LAGRIPPE

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.

114-116 Whitehall St.

Extra Specials For Friday and Saturday

For Cash Only

MEATS.

Stew Beef	5c to 7c
Chuck Roast	10c to 12 1-2c
Rib Roast	12 1-2c to 17 1-2c
Chuck Steak	10c to 12 1-2c
Round Steak	15c
Loin Steak	20c
Porterhouse Steak	20c

LAMB.

Lamb Leg, hind quarter	15c
Lamb Leg, forequarter	12 1-2c
Lamb Shoulder	12 1-2c
Lamb Stew	10c
Lamb Chops	20c

PORK.

Pork Shoulders	12 1-2c
Pork Hams	15 1-2c
Pork Chops	17 1-2c
Pork Sausage (our own make)	20c
Wiener Sausage (our own make)	15c
Bologna Sausage (our own make)	12 1-2c

GROCERIES

3-pound can California Lemon Cling Peaches, 35c can, for	20c
White Asparagus (Libby), 25c can, for	17 1-2c
Salmon (Red), 15c can, for	10c
Cheese (full cream)	18c
Garden Peas, 15c can, for	10c

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.

114-116 Whitehall St.

Frank Feeling Fine, but Will Not Discuss His Case

Leo Frank was seen this morning by a reporter for the first time since he was put in jail. He absolutely refused to talk on the Mary Phagan murder mystery, saying he had been advised not to say a word.

"What do you know about the affidavit, charging that on the night of the murder of Mary Phagan you called Mrs. Nina Famby on the telephone and tried to engage a room for yourself and a young girl?"

"I will not talk," said Frank. "I have been cautioned not to say one word."

"Do you deny or admit it?"

"I refuse to answer," replied Frank.

Frank is confined on the second floor of the county jail on the west side of the building. His cell is roomy, and as the reporter was admitted by the guard Frank arose from a chair in which he was sitting puffing on a cigar.

"How are you feeling?" Frank was asked.

"I am feeling fine," said the accused man as he puffed violently on his cigar. "But I don't want to talk to you," and he called the turnkey.

The turnkey came and Frank said to him, "Please don't let anyone in here to see me again who is not my friend."

"All right," said the turnkey.

"I won't say a word and you might as well go," said Frank, and the interview was ended.

Several other visitors saw Frank to-day.

May Fete at Home Of Uncle Remus Is Halted by Weather

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery announced Friday morning that, owing to inclement weather, the May Festival to have been held at Snapbean Farm Saturday afternoon, had been postponed. Mrs. Montgomery, in charge of the affair to be staged at the home of Uncle Remus, said, however, an early date would be fixed for the entertainment.

An elaborate program has been arranged. Hundreds of well trained children will be on the grounds to give the May pole drill and dance. Miss Katherine Vickers, on a platform resplendent with garlands and gaily colored bunting, will be crowned Queen of the May, and, surrounded by fair maids of honor with their retinue of attendants, will review the celebration.

May songs, under the directorship of Miss Harralson, of the public schools music department, will be rendered by the multitude of childish voices.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N. C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route, Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

Four Atlanta Men Officers of U. C. T.

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—Pensacola was selected as the next meeting place by the Grand Council, Georgia-Florida division, United Commercial Travelers, this afternoon. Officers were elected as follows

Senior councillor, E. D. Weir, Savannah; junior councillor, J. N. Keely, Tampa; secretary, R. L. Wallace, Atlanta; treasurer, A. L. Brooke, Atlanta; conductor, M. L. Stern, Savannah; page, Max Heinberg, Pensacola; sentinel, J. M. Giddens, Columbus; executive committee, George J. Byrd, Atlanta, and J. W. Bates, Macon; representative Supreme Council, T. B. Lewis, Atlanta, and V. Kugelman, Savannah.

PURE WATER Necessary TO GOOD HEALTH

CASCADE SPRING WATER

Purest and Best Water in the South.

A Delightful Table Water

Indorsed by Physicians Everywhere.

Delivered to your home daily direct from the springs. Order by mail or telephone.

Cascade Water Co.

R. F. D. No. 1.

Phone, Atlanta 5856-A.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest
VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913
5 VOTES
NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.

Vote for .....

Address .....

CARRIERS' AND AGENTS' BALLOT.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Friday, May 23, 1913.
5 VOTES NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.

Vote for .....

Address .....

SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

Next Sunday's Coupons Will Count 30 Votes

Turkey Now Hit by Serious Revolution

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 23.—Following her disastrous war with the Balkan allies, Turkey now has a revolution on her hands.

Serious fighting is going on in the Villayet of Basra, in Asiatic Turkey, between Saadun tribesmen and loyal troops of the Turkish army on one hand and a group of rebellious tribesmen. The Sheik of the Saadun tribesmen has been killed.

Spanish Miners Rioting.

MADRID, May 23.—Part of the province of Huelva was put under martial law to-day as a result of serious rioting among the striking employees of the famous Rio Tinto copper mines. A number of persons have been injured and much damage done to property.

We have Beautiful Bedding Plants 3c each. Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

White City Park Now Open

Prepare for Some Rainy Weather

We're going to have plenty of rain during the next few weeks, and you're going to need protection. There's no need to soak through it all when you can come in here and get a handsome, serviceable Raincoat at a very moderate price. Better that than to be laid up with a cold and have to pay a doctor's bill and lose time from your work.

We're showing a splendid line of

RAINCOATS

at anywhere from

$6.00 to $18.00

and good, serviceable

UMBRELLAS

at from

$1.00 to $5.00

Carlton's

Thirty-six Whitehall

SATURDAY

Little Tender Georgia SNAP BEANS

3c qt.

No. 10 Silver Leaf Lard	$1.29
Meadow Gold Butter	32½c
24 lbs. Gold Medal Flour	87c
24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	77c
48 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	$1.52
Swift's Premium Hams	18½c
3-pound Can Mocha and Java	$1.00
1-pound Can Leader Coffee	25c
1 pound Good Coffee	15c

We carry Carhardt & Bro.'s Famous Line of Coffees, and have recently installed one of the finest coffee mills in the city.

WYATT'S C. O. D.

77 South Pryor

Atlanta Phone 947 WE DELIVER Bell---Main 4926

MAYOR A BAR TO JUSTICE RECORDER BROYLES SAYS

Declares His Pardons and Remissions of Fines Are Crippling Courts of City.

That Mayor Woodward is striking a blow at justice and crippling the courts by his remissions of fines and granting of pardons, was the charge made by Recorder Nash R. Broyles, in a statement to a Georgian reporter Friday morning. The interview was given out by the Recorder following a series of pardons issued by the Mayor, in cases which had been sustained by the Court of Appeals.

"The action of the Mayor in these matters is a serious blow to justice," declared Judge Broyles. "We can not enforce the law against blind tigers when, after they have fought their cases through all of the courts and lost, the Mayor presents them with a pardon or reduces the amount of their fines. The sentences in these blind tiger cases were justified by the facts, and the higher courts have sustained them.

Says He Cripples Courts.

"Such a course as the Mayor is following is crippling the courts in the efforts to enforce the laws, and if we expect to enforce the liquor laws in Atlanta and break up the blind tiger cases were justified by the facts hampered, and the sentences of the court should be allowed to be carried out without interference.

"This interference and leniency not only cripples the court, but encourages the unlawful ones to further violate the law. Mayor Woodward has acted on many of these cases and granted pardons and reductions in fines without even consulting me.

"In but one instance has he talked with me regarding a case. That was several weeks ago—the day the Court of Appeals sustained my decision in the Griff Freeman case. Mayor Woodward called me over the telephone and told me the attorneys for Freeman had requested him to grant a pardon. I told the Mayor that Freeman was one of the most noted blind tiger operators we had to deal with, and urged him not to interfere with the sentence.

Granted Freeman Pardon.

"The Mayor said: 'Well, this is a case that came up before I went into office, anyway, so I will tell the attorneys I can not do anything in the matter.' Despite this, however, Mayor Woodward has granted a pardon of the 30-day sentence imposed on Freeman and reduced his fine from $500 to $250.

"Such interference with the court's work has assumed a serious stage, and unless it ceases the cause of justice will be dealt a blow from which it will require a long time to recover."

Case Which Brought Protest.

Griff Freeman was arrested in September, 1911, for operating a blind tiger. He has been arrested several other times on a similar charge, but it is this case which drew forth Judge Broyles' remarks. Freeman is characterized by Broyles as being "one of the most notorious blind tiger operators in Atlanta," and a sentence of 30 days in adition to a $500 fine was imposed upon him. The case was appealed and the Court of Appeals sustained Broyles' decision.

Thursday, the police were instructed to arrest Freeman and have him begin his sentence. A short while after the arrest, Mayor Woodward instructed the police not to send Freeman to the stockade until he had time to consider his application for a pardon. Later, the Mayor remitted the 30-day sentence, and reduced the fine to $250, which Freeman paid.

Dr. W. D. Roper, a druggist at Pryor and Wall Streets, was convicted of having liquor in his store for sale, and fined $500 or 30 days. He was also convicted on a charge of selling cocaine, which case is still pending on appeal. Two months ago the Court of Appeals handed down a decree sustaining Broyles' sentence in the liquor case.

Judge Broyles charges that Mayor Woodward also instructed the police not to molest Roper, as he was considering an application for pardon. Roper is still at liberty, nothing more having been heard from the Mayor.

Another instance referred to by Recorder Broyles in his interview was the Dan Shaw case. Shaw was known as the "blind tiger king" and received a twelve-month sentence in the county chaingang and a 30-day sentence in the city stockade. Governor Brown pardoned him on the chaingang sentence, with the stipulation that Shaw would leave Georgia and go back to Virginia. Appeal was made to Judge Broyles to remit the stockade sentence of 30 days, but he declined. Mayor Woodward granted this pardon.

Mattie Lou White was convicted in November, 1912, on a blind tiger charge in connection with an immorality charge. She was fined $500 or 30 days, and bound over to the State courts. The sentence given by Broyles was sustained by the Court of Appeals and her arrest was ordered.

Woman Also Is Free.

She had been out on bond since the time of her arrest. She appealed to the Mayor and was given a letter to the police instructing them not to molest her, as he was considering her appeal for a pardon. She is still at liberty. The letter is dated May 7.

R. L. Dixon, the man who was convicted on an immorality charge in connection with Mattie Lou White, is confined in the city jail and will begin the serving of his stockade term. The White woman called upon him at police headquarters this morning. Judge Broyles points out this case as an instance of how the court's work is being hampered, charging that the serious violators of the law are at liberty, while Dixon, who is held on a lighter charge, is serving his sentence.

It's common sense to care for your teeth — and a pleasure too if you use

COLGATE'S
TRADE RIBBON MARK
DENTAL CREAM

A delicious flavor instead of a "druggy" taste.

Its twice-a-day use checks decay-germs, and cleans the teeth without scratching the enamel.

Ribbon Dental Cream leaves the mouth wholesome, refreshed.

Sold Everywhere

Militant Bomb in A Carnegie Library

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

KEIGHLEY, ENGLAND, May 23.—A suffragette bomb, composed of explosives and nitric acid, was found in the Carnegie Library here to-day.

Although the bomb had an exploding mechanism affixed to it, the mechanism was not set so as to explode the bomb.

CAMBRIDGE, ENG., May 23.—Miriam Pratt, a militant suffragette, was remanded without bail to-day on a charge of setting fire to a residence in this city on May 17. Miss Pratt is a school teacher at Norwich.

Venezuela Conceals Trouble at Capital

NEW YORK, May 23.—Venezuelan Government officials yesterday withheld a telegram to the correspondent of the Associated Press at Caracas, Venezuela, requesting details of the arrest of many Venezuelans there, and the reason for the flight of Dr. Leopoudo Baptista, former Secretary General to President Gomez, and of General Juan Pablo Penalosa, from the Venezuelan capital to Curacoa, where they arrived in a small sailing boat on Wednesday.

Synod Appreciates Atlanta Hospitality

The forty commissioners who attended the Assembly of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Synod adopted this resolution just before adjourning:

"Resolved, That we express our cordial appreciation of the Christian kindness and hospitality of the people of Atlanta."

CHINESE ATTACK LOAN PACT.

PEKIN, CHINA, May 23.—Anhwei, Kiangsi, Hunan and Kwang Tung Provinces have assumed a hostile attitude toward President Yuan Shih Kai, alleging that the signing of the five-power loan of $125,000,000 was unconstitutional.

SUSPEND POLICE WITH WHISKY IN POCKET

J. C. Askew Faces Charges of Drinking and Aresting Boy Without Cause.

star, and a pint bottle of whisky by Captain Poole, Policeman J. C. Askew, of the morning watch, faces charges of drunkenness, and of arresting Roy N. Spence, nineteen years old, of Cave Springs, Ga., because the boy asked him where he could catch a car to Whitehall Street. Askew was suspended by Chief Beavers, who has announced that he will at once file the charges against the officer.

Young Spencer graduated recently from the high school in his home town, and on Friday came to Atlanta to secure a position. New to city ways, he thought the best way to get information was to ask a policeman. He came out on the plaza at the Terminal, and seeing Askew standing on the corner in full uniform, asked where he could catch the Whitehall car. Askew, it is said, was highly insulted and placed the boy under arrest.

Policeman Andrews, the regular man on the Terminal Station beat, saw Askew make the arrest, and saw also, he claims, that Askew was drunk. Unable to get a satisfactory explanation from Askew, he called the patrol and sent both Spence and Askew to headquarters.

Millionaire Brewer Near Death in Crash

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 23.—Henry Uihlein, millionaire president of the Schlitz Brewing Company, narrowly escaped death when the buggy in which he was riding was rammed by a street car.

Mr. Uihlein was thrown to the pavement. His feet became entangled in the reins and he was dragged several feet before the frightened horse could be caught.

Labor Heads Denied Contempt Rehearing

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Motions for a writ of error and a rehearing of the contempt case against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, were overruled by the District Court of Appeals to-day.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Don't Force Your Widow to Marry for a Home!

IF AFTER years of paying rent—and providing well for your family—you should die, WITHOUT leaving an estate—WHAT THEN? Would your widow be forced to marry for a HOME—or else be compelled to face the battle of life alone? Please read on!

You can buy the pretty six-room Bungalow shown in above picture by paying only $100 down and $25 a month, instead of rent, till the house is paid for. (No mortgage to assume.) Then, should death claim you, you will be leaving your widow a beautiful home of her own.

Phone us for full particulars—or, better still, call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE, 207 Equitable Building

Bell Phone, Main 3520 Atlanta Phone 3570

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS BASS BASS BASS

A Host of Mighty Values for Saturday

Bass' May Sale

Our New York buyers are searching the markets daily with ready cash, for the best offerings of Importers, Manufacturers and Wholesalers, with the result that many thousands of dollars worth of choice Spring and Summer goods are being secured for this sale at prices which enable us to undersell all other retail stores.

$3 and $4 Fine Wash Dresses

Saturday we place on sale some 200 beautiful Wash Dresses, made of fine quality white pique, linene and colored zephyrs; all neatly trimmed, and good values up to $4.00. Your choice..... $1.90

Bargain Sale of Ladies' Suits

We have had consigned to us, by one of New York's largest manufacturers, 109 ladies' fine Spring and Summer Suits, to sell. Made of fine English Serges, in cream, black and white stripes, tan, black and navy. Worth $20; your choice..... $6.90

$10.00 Sample Dresses at $4.90

Think of buying new and fashionable Dresses that, until this sale, would have cost you $10.00. In the lot you will find the very popular all-wool cream serges, silk ratines, all-over embroidery voiles with Bulgarian trimmings, and silk messalines in all the new shades and colors. Your choice..... $4.90

May Sale of Untrimmed Hats

In this May Sale you can buy the newest and prettiest Untrimmed Hat Shapes of the season at about one-fourth their real value. Included are Hemps, Milans, Panamettes, Ajours, Chips, Neapolitans and other fashionable straws. Black, white, blue, red, pink, tan, purple, heliotrope and various color combinations. Shapes and colors to suit every type and taste. Your choice..... 98c

500 White Pique Skirts; worth $3.00; choice Saturday..... 98c

1,000 Waists, 79c
$1 to $2 values; while they last. Voiles, lingerie and embroidered lawn; in latest styles; worth $1 to $2; while they last..... 69c

Sale of House Dresses at 50c.
Made of good quality madras and percale, and very neatly trimmed. If you paid $1 you would get value received. Saturday..... 50c

Ladies' lisle finished silk-taped Vests; regular 10c value; Saturday only..... 5c

Ladies' muslin Corset Covers and Drawers; trimmed with lace and embroidery, and ribbon inserted. 50c values, Saturday... 19c

Ladies' muslin Gowns and Petticoats. Neatly trimmed with lace and embroidery. The kind sold elsewhere at 75c; Saturday..... 39c

100 Dozen Children's Drawers—Made of good quality muslin, and trimmed with embroidery; worth 25c; Saturday..... 10c

Balkan Middy Blouses; made of good quality galatea. Blue, white and pink collars. Worth $1.50; Saturday..... 98c

Ladies' Long Crepe Kimonos, in pink, blue and lavender and all the pretty shades, and good styles. $2 values, Saturday..... 98c

1,000 CHILDREN'S DRESSES—Made of good quality madras, galatea and percales. All very neatly trimmed. Sizes six to fifteen years. Worth up to $1.50. Saturday..... 69c

5,000 CHILDREN'S PARASOLS—Covered with good quality linen, on good, strong frames; very neat handle. In pink, white, blue, red and combination colors; Saturday..... 10c

Saturday Specials on Main Floor

Cut Prices in Ladies' and Men's Neckwear, Children's Belts, Etc.

On one of the main center counters you will find ladies' new style Neckwear, Lace Collars in white and ecru, the kind that other retail stores ask $1.00 for; Jabots and all the latest styles in bows. Ladies' and children's new style Belts. Men's All-silk Ties, in all the latest colors and styles. You pay 50c to $1 elsewhere. Your choice Saturday..... 25c

R. & G. make Corsets; all sizes and styles; Saturday, special..... 44c

Ladies' silk lisle thread Gloves, full length; black and colors; all sizes; Saturday..... 39c

Ladies' pure silk Hose, with double lisle heel and toe; black, tan, white and colors; very special, Saturday..... 47c

Ladies' Fine Hand Bags—We have just secured three lines of drummers' samples of very fine Hand Bags; not a one in the lot worth less than $1.00; Saturday..... 47c

Ladies' Silk Hose, good quality; black, white, tan and colors; Saturday..... 25c

Children's All-Silk Socks and Stockings; the 50c kind; Saturday. 25c

Ladies' 16-button fine Silk Gloves; black, white and colors; well made and worth $1.50; Saturday..... 69c

MEN'S UNDERWEAR
Fine Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers; in all sizes. The kind you pay 50c to $1 a garment for in other stores; Saturday... 25c

Men's $1 Night Shirts, made of fine bleached Cambric; neatly trimmed; Saturday..... 50c

Bargain Sale of Fine Laces Saturday

The biggest bargains ever offered in any house in Atlanta. 20,000 yards very fine Linen Torchon Laces, Ruby and Round Thread Vals, Edges and Insertions. All new patterns and worth up to 40c; Saturday..... 5c

A Special Purchase of Sheets
10,000 full double bed size Hemmed Sheets; made of good material. The dollar kind, Saturday..... 49c

Sale of Huck Towels
Extra good Hemmed Huck Towels, red border; good size. Saturday, special..... 4c

632 Fine Jap Matting Art Squares $1.98

Made of fine quality 180-warp matting in floral and Oriental designs, full 9x12 feet.
Only one to a customer.

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS.

Be Sure to Look For the Big Blue Sign:

A BANKRUPT SALE!

at 32 Whitehall Street

There is absolutely no way to tell you how cheap these goods will sell—Bankrupt Prices are "whatever somebody will give." Come see what you will give.

Three great stocks—Ladies' wear, Men's wear; something to please everyone, placed in the hands of Ira A. Watson & Company, selling agents, who sell out Bankrupt, Liquidation and other stocks.

With orders to "sell out" for the benefit of whom it may concern. Watson don't care what the price, just so they sell. Prices not based on cost.

FAR LESS THAN COST OF PRODUCTION.

THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPT COURT does not fix any prices—JUST SELL at some price to somebody. A mighty downfall to-morrow for the grand finale—the finish—THE END. Prices that can only be appreciated when you see the goods. Everybody loves to make a good trade. We will trade—Come See.

All Prices Reduced to "Selling Point" Whatever Somebody Will Give

See the Windows

32 WHITEHALL STREET.

Choice HANAN'S SHOES and other finest best; tomorrow (Thursday) $3.50

Boys' Norfolk best Blue Serge Suits; sold for $10. $3.99

EXTRA SPECIAL. Lot of fine Shirts; all go for 39c
Monarch, Faultless and other $1 Shirts 69c

Redfern Corsets. Every lady knows them. Well, how's this? $1.99 That will make them "go" some.

HAIR. Human Hair Switches that sold up to $10; go for 99c There will be some switching.

Men's $4.00 Howard & Foster, and other fine Footwear. $1.99

Ladies' Silk Waists 99c

ARROW Collars at 8⅓c Or 98c a Dozen.

SHIRTS. Earl & Wilson's Faultless; choice up to $2.50 Shirts 99c

1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 7c, 9c, Etc. Great Counters and displays loaded with Jewelry, Notions, useful articles needed and used in every household daily. Come—it's fun to "paw" them over, and root and rummage, and reek and revel in these Bankrupt Bargains.

10c Sale---25c Sale---99c Sale
WONDERFUL THINGS

$2.00 to $3.00 Men's Straw Hats 98c

FOR BOYS. One fine lot full Suits of clothes; sold up to $6.50; go at..... $1.99
Men's John B. Stetson's Best Hats. $2.50

Ladies' fine genuine 50c Silk Hose, two for one; a pair 25c

BANKRUPTCY. Means all bargains; 25c Infants' Socks 9c

Men's $1.50 Straw Hats 49c

See the WINDOWS 32 Whitehall Street

Men's Pants; one big lot for $1.99 Sold up to $5.00.

Men's $30.00, finest, best, newest Suits, $9.99 Watson's famous give-away prices.

Remember, this stock was only in business 16 months, so it's all entirely NEW GOODS.

Men's Hanan Shoes, and the world's best $3.50

Men's 50c Belts 19c

Men's $18.00 Suits, $4.99 Just think! A whole fine new suit.

DON'T FORGET! The number is 32 WHITEHALL Street.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

Continued From Page One.

C. C. Jones in an effort to overthrow those —— —— ——, he would not only guarantee me good money, but would pay me a large sum in advance, and I said to him: 'Suppose I get arrested,' and he said: 'To —— with arrest. Jim Woodward will turn you loose so quick it will make your head swim; and no matter who you are or what crime you commit, such as getting hold of private papers and documents they might have in their possession to overthrow them, you will never be indicted, for Hugh M. Dorsey, Solicitor General, and I understand each other thoroughly.

"This was the sum and substance of the conversations I have had up to the present time with T. B. Felder and C. W. Tobie. I am to have another meeting with both of them today, and Felder is to arrange a meeting between C. C. Jones and myself in regard to paying me $500 corruption fund, in his desperate effort to overthrow the police department.

"I left the Piedmont Hotel at 10:55 a. m. and Tobie went from thence to Felder's office, as he informed me, to meet a committee of citizens, among whom were Mr. Hirsch, Mr. Myers, Mr. Greenstein and several other prominent Jews in this city."

"P. S.—T. B. Felder told me last night that Solicitor Dorsey had no confidence whatever in Lanford, and believed absolutely that he was trying to give him the double-cross in the Phagan case, and that Lanford had been trying to get the solicitor to get him a dictagraph for several days, and that Dorsey had been putting him off, and that he would play — getting a dictograph, and he went from this conference to Dorsey's house, where he remained until 11:25 Sunday night, and reached home about midnight, as I was talking to him over the phone at five minutes past 12."

Following this written statement, according to Chief Lanford, Colyar arranged a meeting in Felder's office between Felder and G. C. February, clerk and stenographer to Lanford. Lanford says he had two other men to shadow Colyar and February; that the meeting took place in Felder's office shortly after 8 o'clock Monday night and lasted for somewhat more than half an hour.

Lanford says Colyar and February reported to him that Felder said he would pay well for the affidavit made by the Colemans denying that they authorized Felder to enter the Phagan case and for transcripts of the police records of the case.

Lanford says that Colyar and February reported to him that Felder asked February if he had access to Lanford's safe and his records; that February replied that none but he and Lanford knew the combination to the safe, and that all the records of evidence in the Phagan case were kept in that safe.

Lanford says that February and Colyar reported that Felder then said he would give February $1,000 for a copy of the Phagan evidence and for the affidavit which the Colemans had made.

Colemans Swear That They Refused to Hire Felder

Here follows the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that they refused to employ Mr. Felder as a lawyer in the case:

State of Georgia, Fulton County.

The affiant, J. W. Cloeman and wife, citizens of Atlanta, Ga., who reside at 146 Lindsay Street.

The affiant is the step-father of Mary Phagan, deceased, the child who was foully murdered by a hellish brute on April 26, 1913.

The affiant is in the employ of the City of Atlanta in the Sanitary Department.

The affiant, while at the police station during the Coroner's inquest, the exact day he does not remember, was approached by a man somewhat under the influence of liquor, and said to the affiant:

"I am working for the law firm of T. B. Felder, and I would like to have you go to his office, as he wants to see you, and I advise you to employ him."

Affiant said: "No, I won't go to his office."

The piker then said: "Will you talk to Colonel Felder if I bring him here?" Whereupon the affiant agreed to see him. He went off and came back in a few minutes with Felder. Colonel Felder then said: "I want you to employ me to prosecute this case; it will not cost you a cent, as certain people have promised to pay me my fee, but I have got to have your consent to the employment before I can get into the Coroner's jury."

The affiant told him he did not want to employ him, and did not want to have anything to do with him, as the affiant did not employ him, nor did the affiant's wife employ him, and the only information the affiant ever had that he was employed was what he read in the newspapers.

Affiant has many good neighbors and he appreciates their sympathy for him and his broken-hearted wife, but he can not see how they would come to employ Colonel Felder without his knowledge and consent.

A man met the affiant on the street and offered him one dollar to go upon the fee of this astute counsel, but he declined to accept it, and told the party he had not employed Felder.

Affiant is thoroughly satisfied with the great work done by Chief of Police Beavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford and the able men working under them, as he believes, as thousands of others do in Atlanta, that they have the real murderer in jail, and the affiant can not reconcile himself to the conduct of Colonel Felder, who is posing as a prosecuting attorney and wanting $5,000 from the people of the city, as set out in the afternoon papers, to bring a noted detective here, and according to the press of the city, large amounts have been subscribed by people the affiant does not believe are anxious to prosecute the man under arrest.

The affiant means no reflection on the press of the city and the citizens of Atlanta who are in favor of justice and fair play. Affiant will ever appreciate the sympathy that has been shown him and his family by these good people, and he asks them if they have any money to spend to punish the murderer of his sweet, innocent child to stand behind the Atlanta police department and let no one mislead them.

J. W. COLEMAN.
MRS. J. W. COLEMAN.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of May, 1913.
HAROLD HILTON, Notary Public, Fulton Co.

Felder Denies Phagan Bribe; Calls Colyar 'Crook and Liar'

Colonel Felder late this afternoon issued this statement:

"The first development in this case was a visit from Colyar, at which he told me that the police were framing up on me, Dorsey and The Constitution. He said the police had affidavits to show that we were working in the interest of Leo Frank, and that large sums of money had been paid us and that I had been paid by an uncle of the accused man in New York.

"Colyar also told me that he had proof of the corruption of Lanford and Beavers and that they were covering up evidence in the Phagan case. I replied to Coylar that I would not believe him; that I was not interested in the moral character of Beavers or Lanford, but that if he could produce evidence to me that the guilty persons in the Phagan murder were being shielded or that evidence was being suppressed I could verify this evidence; I might be interested in that.

"Colyar insisted that he did not want any money. Colyar brought Febuary to my office in the Equitable building. Febuary denounced the police department. He said he had evidence against Beavers and Lanford, and it was so rotten he wanted to get out. He asked me about a job. I told him that if he was able to produce such evidence as he claimed it would not be difficult to get him as good a job as he had.

"Colyar then suggested that I meet them at his room in the Williams House. I told him I couldn't come next day but would come the day following, which was Tuesday, I think. I went there, but didn't stay more than five minutes. I didn't care about any dictograph. I was willing to say what I had to say at Five Points. I repeated to them that I was only interested in the Phagan case. They said they thought I was working for the Mayor and others. I told them that if they had evidence of corruption in the police department I thought Mayor Woodward would be glad to get it but that I cared nothing about it. They mentioned the fact that they were liable to be put in the penitentiary for getting this data. I told them that if they had real proof of graft I didn't think there would be any trouble about the Solicitor not prosecuting them no matter how they got it.

"They asked if I knew who would pay a thousand dollars for it. I told them I thought I did—a Mr. Myles. They asked me if I would introduce them and I told them I would not. He then wanted me to go to East Lake to receive these documents. I refused to go. I told them I didn't care to go.

"I saw Myles afterwards and Myles told me he thought he would go out there, but I told him Colyar was a liar and a crook and I would drop the matter.

"I will give a full and detailed statement of the whole case later. This whole plot was inspired by jealousy following my employment of the Burns Agency. Witnesses have been kept from talking to the Burns men here and barriers have been placed in their way as much as possible. In my written statement I will turn the limelight on them, although I don't think it's necessary. The people of Atlanta appreciate the condition of affairs.

"The affidavit printed was secured from Coleman after the arrival of the Burns detective. I was not employed by Mr. Coleman. The direct cause of my employment was the visit of a committee of ladies, but with the consent of Mr. Coleman. I refused to go into the case without the consent of the parents of the child."

HERE IS AFFIDAVIT CHARGING BRIBERY

Here is an affidavit in possession of the police, sworn to by Lanford's secretary, G. C. Febuary and A. S. Colyar, detailing the conversation alleged to have taken place Monday night in Colonel Felder's office:

"State of Georgia, County of Fulton.—Personally appeared before me, a notary public in and for the above State and County, A. S. Colyar and G. C. Febuary, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

"We met Mr. Felder in his office Monday night at 8 o'clock p. m., and Mr. Felder said: 'I know who killed Mary Phagan. I have had a Burns man here for three weeks, I know when she was killed and how she was killed. She was murdered 30 minutes after she reached that building, on the second floor, and then the body was lowered to the basement. And I know who wrote those notes that were found by her body.

"'This d—d fellow Lanford has had that poor negro Ed Connally locked up for three weeks without a warrant, and he knows it, and he can be impeached from office for it; he knows there is no evidence against Newt Lee, and yet he holds him. I would expose Lanford and Beavers right now, but I don't want to detract attention from the Pragan case or mix their case up with the Phagan case.

"'Beavers is a —— —— ——, but I came pretty near catching him one day alst week, but when we do catch him, we are going to put the d—d reform —— in a two-horse wagon, naked, and drive him through the streets of Atlanta with a sign on him, "Here is Atlanta's Reform Police Chief." Lanford is a d—d drunkard and keeps a quart of whisky in his desk all of the time, and the people of this town are indignant at the conduct of those flunkeyqs down there. I am receiving at least twenty letters every day, and as many telephone calls, telling me that the people are behind me in this fight to impeach those —— ——. Right here on my desk is a letter (getting letter from his desk and reading aloud) from one of the most prominent women in the city of Atlanta, commending my course.'"

The affidavit then continues: "The Colonel then said, 'I want the evidence to impeach both Beavers and Lanford.' The remark was made that we might get in jail, and Colonel Felder said: 'There are only two ways of getting to the jail; one is through the Mayor and the other is through the Governor; and if you get arrested by the policemen. Jim Woodward, with whom I had a long interview this afternoon, will make those —— —— —— down there jump a rope to turn you loose, and I don't care a d—d who the Governor is, whether it be Joe Brown or Jack Slaton. I will have any man turned loose that will get me the evidence that will impeach those —— —— —— If they arrest you, call on me and see if I don't come with the bond at any hour. I can call a mass meeting to-morrow afternoon through the papers and have ten thousand of the best citizens in this town meet at Five Points to-morrow night and go to the station house and hang Beavers and Lanford to telephone poles, the two corrupt grafters and thieves.'

"'Now, I want to say to you further (talking to Febuary). You go and get me the evidence in the Phagan case and that Coleman afdavit, and bring it to me, and I will give you one thousand dollars in cash for it. And if you lose your job I will place you in a government position in Washington or a job in New York; and if I ilfa down on that I will give you a job here in my ofce.' It was suggested to Colonel Felder that we would have to steal the papers, for no one knew the combination to the safe except Chief Lanford and Mr. Febuary, and in reply to this, Colonel Felder said, 'Go ahead and get them and I will pay you one thousand dollars.' And we then stated to Colonel Felder that this would be larceny after trust, and Colonel Felder said, 'Larceny H——. It is not larceny to steal a perjured affidavit and forged statements and other crooked papers that a d—— thief like Lanford has gathered against an innocent man; and you get them and I will stand behind you and pay the money. I have such men as James G. Woodward, C. C. Jones, Robert F. Maddox, Sam Inman, J. W. English, and the best men in this town behind me, and who are determined to put that gang —— —— to the bad, and they will stand behind you gentlemen with their money and their lives.'"

"Colonel Felder further stated that Lanford and Beavers were feasting and fattening off of the rich graft they were getting out of certain disorderly houses they were shielding, after they had had people to believe that they had closed them up, and certain blind tigers and gamblers that were favored by these grafters; and upon being asked how much they got, Colonel Felder replied that the amount was colossal."

"The above is the sum and substance of a conversation between Col. T. B. Felder, A. S. Colyar and G. C. Febuary, held in the office of Colonel Felder, in the Equitable building, on Monday night, May 19, 1913, at about 8:15 p. m.

A. S. COLYAR,
G. C. FEBUARY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 21st day of May, 1913.
W. W. BROWN,
Notary Public Fulton County, Georgia."

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expend without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

You will buy

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

for the satisfaction you feel when eating these finest smoked meats. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon are always the same, always good. Try Swift's Premium Ham or Bacon.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

"Smoked in Atlanta"

White City Park Now Open

Established 1865— EISEMAN BROS., Inc. —Incorporated 1912

Boys' and Children's Clothes!

Our Boys' and Children's Department (entire second floor) is large, complete and comprehensive. Junior Fashions at their best, and in unlimited variety.

Just now interest is centering on warm weather wearables, and our representative stock of

WASH SUITS

for ages 2½ to 17 years embraces the latest novelties in a variety of more than 200 different styles.

$1.00 - - - - and - - - - Up

PLAY-TIME COSTUMES are now being eagerly sought by the average "small boy" with vacation visions just ahead, and our line covers all the best makes. Accurately designed, stoutly sewed, and of good material.

Baseball Suits, in all colors, Shirt, Padded Pants, Cap and Belt,

$1.00 ----- to ----- $1.50

Khaki Indian Suits, 4 to 14 years, $1.00 to $1.50. Indian Suits of Leather, sizes 6 to 14 years, $5.00. Captain Suits, Regular Army Suits, Cowboy, Broncho and other costume suits,

$1.25 ----- to ----- $2.50

We Are Official Outfitters for Boy Scouts of America

Eiseman Bros., Inc.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

Entire Building

CREDIT

AT THE MENTER CO.

Our Great Chain of Stores Means Low Prices to You

You know the advantage of buying in quantity. We own a chain of nearly 100 prosperous stores, and believe us we buy in enormous quantities.

This great saving we pass on to you. We give you better quality, newer styles and at less money. We outfit

MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN

Visit our store. Take advantage of our low prices and liberal credit terms.

PETTICOAT SPECIAL: Tomorrow and all next week we will sell all $1 and $1.50 petticoats at 59c. and all $3 to $5 silk petticoats at $2.49.

THE MENTER CO.

EASY PAYING | 71 1-2 Whitehall St. Upstairs 1st Door Below J. M. High Co. | CHARGE ACCOUNT

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Saturday Is Hosiery and Knit Underwear Day

First on the list is Hosiery, and here are the kinds that many people want now at very low prices. In the shelves are thousands of pairs—more costly, including the season's novelties in women's stockings at $5 and $6—but—here are the "bread and butter" kinds, on the counters for to-morrow, for your convenience, and for your saving.

For Children, Women and Men

Socks for Children—a special lot at 15c pair. You may select, at this price, either plain black or white, or white with plaid tops.

Infants' white silk-lisle ribbed Hose—special for this sale at 15c pair.

Pony Hose for Boys and Girls

Girls' fine, one-and-one-ribbed silk-lisle Hose, black only; 25c pair.

Boys' medium weight black cotton Pony Hose; extra high-spliced heel, very elastic; sizes 9½ to 11; 25c pair.

Women's "Economy" Hose of sheer gauze lisle, with double hem top; 15c pair.

Sheer gauze silk-lisle Hose; high-spliced heel, double hem top; black, white and tan; 25c pair.

"Gordon" sheer, gauze lisle Hose with double hem top, extra high-spliced heel; black, white and tan; 35c pair—three pairs for $1.00.

Women's $2.00 embroidered black silk Hose, heavy, good quality—are priced for Saturday at $1.50 pair.

Men's "Round Ticket" summer Half Hose, with linen heel and toe, in black, gray, navy and tan. They are "hard to wear out;" 25c pair.

Time to Buy Porch Fans

Proof? This extensive stock of new and decidedly attractive kinds.

Artistic, fancy Bamboo Fans are priced at 10c each.

Satin Palm Fans are two for 5c.

Small Palm Fans in odd shapes with colored satin bindings; quaint and very pleasing; 10c and 15c ea

Women's Knit Underwear

Combinations at 98c—sheer, cool and comfortable; with cuff or loose knee. Since women have learned the absolute satisfaction of these one-piece knitted suits, the demand for them increases daily.

There are also good knitted Combinations at 50c—Essex Mills suits—with cuff knee, low neck, sleeveless, light weight cotton; regular and extra sizes.

Three 25c Vests for 50c

Practical women will not be slow to take advantage of this opportunity. All sizes are here, these vests are sheer, light weight, drawn with mercerized tape.

Men's 25c Garments at 19c

A few sizes are missing in this assortment of bleached and unbleached shirts and drawers, some with short, some with long sleeves.

Boys' 50c Night Shirts at 39c

Reduced because they are slightly soiled; good, well-made garments in sizes 4 to 8 years.

Boys' cool summer Pajamas. Sizes 4 to 8 years, 50c; 10 to 14 years, 75c suit.

Men's 75c Night Shirts at 59c

Two materials to choose from: Pajama checks or plain, soft nainsook, they are trimmed with colored braids.

Men's "My Letter" Night Shirts, of soft cambric, all-white with initial prettily embroidered on pocket; $1.00 each.

Men's Pajamas in a variety of styles at $1.25 and $1.50 suit.

Men's "My Letter" Pajamas at $2.00 suit.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD ALLEGED BRIBE OFFER

Here follows, in part, the alleged dictograph record of the conversation that took place in a room in the Williams House Wednesday afternoon between Colonel Thomas B. Felder, G. C. Febuary and A. S. Colyar:

Febuary: Let me understand you. You want this Coleman afdavit and all other Phagan afdavits that I can get hold of.

Felder: Yes. Colyar told me that he was to have the evidence that would get those two chiefs out of commission, the Phagan papers and the Coleman afdavit. Now what have you got?

Febuary: I haven't got these papers. The chief has these paprs in a large envelope. I do not know whether he keeps any graft sheets or not. I never saw one.

Colyar: You will have to examine the papers after Mr. Febuary brings them up. ———— Tell me this. Wasn't you employed by Coleman to work on this case?

Felder: Coleman said this to me: (failed to catch part of conversation) Then I said "Mr. Coleman I was invited by Mr. McCall." I believe that was his name (scraping of feet on floor interfered with dictograph). I said, Mr. Coleman, I would like to go in on the prosecution of this case. He said, I haven't got any money to employ a lawyer. I said, you misunderstand me, it isn't necessary for you to pay me any money, that has all been arranged. McCall said, now you meet us down there at 4:30, wasn't it Febuary, that the inquest was to be held that afternoon, and I went down and was introduced to Mr. Coleman, but I have forgotten who introduced me to Coleman. Now he said Mr. Felder we would like to have you look after the case, but I haven't money to employ anybody with. Now I said Mr. Coleman, you misapprehend the gentleman, now he is asking you for no money, he is simply asking you for your consent to represent you. Before we could close the deal the coroner's jury broke up and we all separated. Now there wasn't anything said about the regularity of my employment, but it was taken for granted.

Colyar: I want to put you in position where you can act, without bringing me into it.

Felder: I don't have to say you gave me the papers.

Colyar: If you do, they willgive me hell and you know it. I will be an accessory before the fact for him getting those papers and giving them to you.

Felder: You violate no law.

Colyar: He has.

Felder: No he hasn't. To abstract a lot of framed up documents is no larceny.

Colyar: Well, tell him what you want to, Febuary. Felder, can you bring Miles up here to see me. Can you bring hi mup at 4 o'clock?

Felder: Yes. All right.

Febuary: It is 3:20 now.

Felder: Tell what you are going to do about the papers.

Febuary: Well, I put them back. I was afraid to deliver these papers to you in Atlanta.

Felder: What is that?

A. S. Colyar: I have been stopping here off and on for ve years.

Thomas B. Felder: When I moved here twenty-three years ago, this was the nest hotel in Atlanta.

A. S. Colyar: Well, tell me, I thought you told me the other day that you became solicitor general six months after you were twenty-one. And I was reading the statutes and it stated the solicitor general had to be twenty-ve years old.

Thomas B. Felder: No. The statute has been changed since I was made solicitor.

A. S. Colyar: The statute stated that he must be twenty-ve years of age and must be an attorney at the bar of Georgia for three years in good standing, and must take an oath that he will prosecute all without fear or favor.

Thomas B. Felder: Yes.

A. S. Colyar: How old are you, Colonel?

Thomas B. Felder: I will be forty-in October. How old are you?

A. S. Colyar: I will be forty-seven next February.

G. C. Febuary: Mr. Colyar looks a good deal older than you.

Thomas B. Felder: Well! I have an appointment with another gentleman at 3:30.

A. S. Colyar: Well. There's the man you want to talk to.

G. C. Febuary: Now, you know this is pretty ticklish business—

A. S. Colyar: I told him last night that they could put him in the penitentiary as long as Hugh Dorsey is solicitor general.

G. C. Febuary: Well, you see, I am the chief's stenographer and I write all these afdavits.

Thomas B. Felder: Can this young man be trusted all right?

A. S. Colyar: Absolutely. I would trust him anywhere on earth. Who is this fellow Miles?

Thomas B. Felder: Well, you see, Miles is in the bureau of investigation, and he has three or four experts in the way of investigators and things like that.

Now, what I say to you is strictly condential. Day before yesterday I saw Woodward.

A. S. Colyar: You saw Woodward Monday?

Thomas B. Felder: Yes. Woodward says now it is all right for you to get the papers, and we will pay you for them.

Promised Mayor to Get Evidence Against Beavers and Lanford.

Thomas B. Felder: I will tell you what I have been doing for the last month. I have been investigating certain things for this company Mr. Miles works for, and I called on the mayor Monday afternoon, with C. C. Jones and I told the mayor I could get the evidence on these grafting . . . . . Beavers and Lanford, and the mayor told me to see Mr. Miles. That he had been working on it for a month. To show you how conscientious Mr. Miles is, although he has been in my ofce nearly every day, he has never mentioned it to me. The mayor also wanted me to prosecute them in the courts, as attorney, and I told him "No, I had my hands full, but I would help get up the evidence." Miles came over yesterday afternoon and I had a conference with him about an hour or two and without calling any names, I told him that I could get the evidence. But I said this young man doesn't want to lose his position. Well, he says, tell him for me that I will give him a position to-day just as good as the one he has. Mayor Woodward said to get him the evidence and he would be glad to prosecute this bunch.

A. S. Colyar: Well, I tell you he wouldn't. I tell you that this thing will just put us in the penitentiary.

Thomas B. Felder: Well, I assure you that I have never mentioned the names of either one of you.

A. S. Colyar: Well, say; Dorsey told Chief Lanford, so I have been informed, that you told Dorsey Sunday night that I was the———framer and double-crosser and blackmailer in the state, and you know if you know the law at all, that a blackmailer has to threaten a man with a crime, and you know I have not charged you with any crime.

Colyar: Will a thousand dollars be paid if we can get the papers?

Felder: Yes.

Colyar: I don't want any of that money.

Felder: Well, I have got an appointment with Miles. If the papers will do what you think they will do, I will give you a thousand dollars for them.

Colyar: We will get the papers and turn them over to Mr. Miles. But damned if I do it in Fulton County.

Felder: Why?

Colyar: I have got my reasons for it.

Felder: Well, if you can get the papers for me to examine by 2:30 tomorrow—

Colyar: He can tell him he is going fishing or something like that, just as he gets the papers, and he can go to Lakewood.

Febuary: I would rather do it out there.

Felder: I have some business engagements to-morrow that will not allow me to get away long enough to go out there.

Colyar: Oh! Pshaw! You can hop in your machine and go out there in a couple of minutes.

Felder: You won't meet anybody else except Miles and myself?

Febuary: No. It is like you said awhile ago, "Too many cooks spoil the broth."

Felder: That's right.

Febuary: Well, if you are in a hurry now, suppose we think this thing over and let you know later today or to-morrow whether to meet you here or out yonder.

Felder: I can't possibly go to East Lake.

Colyar: You can take your man and go out there and get the papers in a few minutes, give us a receipt and the money.

Felder: I told Woodward that I would get the papers that would put these two fellows out of business.

Febuary: That is all you want the papers for?

Felder: That's all. Yes.

Colyar: Well, we will meet you at East Lake at 2:30.

Felder: Well, I will send Miles out there and you can talk to him.

Colyar: Well, write your name on a piece of paper, for I don't know whether I will know him or not.

Felder: Why, you just met him a short while ago.

Colyar: Yes, I know, but I don't know whether I would recognize him or not, so you write your name on a piece of paper.

Felder: Well, I will write my name on a piece of paper so you will know him. As soon as I can get hold of Miles I will send him up.

Colyar: Send him up by 4 o'clock.

Crushed Under Car, Nerve of Trainman Alone Stays Death

R. C. Potts, a railroad brakeman, lies at the point of death at the Elkin-Goldsmith Infirmary from injuries received when run over by a passenger train. Though one leg was amputated and he was badly bruised, the injured man has displayed remarkable nerve.

Potts' nerve may bring him through an accident that usually means death. His left leg was almost completely severed. His right foot is badly crushed and it may be necessary to remove it, too. A large hole in his head and contusions on his face make his condition extremely serious.

An engine and two coaches passed over Potts Thursday night at Magnolia Street bridge.

Active; Earth Shaken As Big Fissure Opens

NAPLES, May 23.—Vesuvius, during the night and this morning, showed renewed signs of activity. One eruption was accompanied by a slight earthquake shock.

A new and large central fissure has opened round the crater, from which ashes are emitted. The ashes, however, have not yet gone beyond the limits of the volcano.

PEACH CROP FAR SHORT; PRICES WILL SOAR

Highest Estimate Puts Total Yield of State at 1,450 Cars—Five Thousand Last Year.

The Georgia peach crop this year will not exceed 1,450 carloads, which is 50 per cent less than the city of New York alone purchased last year.

H. D. Marks, manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, estimates the total Georgia crop at 1,454 cars. The Fruit Growers' Express figures 1,349 cars, while the Central of Georgia Railway looks for only 1,312.

Last year the Georgia crop was unusually large, 5,000 varloads of Georgia's favorite fruit being shipped to market. New York City, always the greatest consumer of the season's early delicacies, purchased 2,800 carloads. Still, there were more than 3,000 carloads for home consumption and country-wide distribution. This year New York alone will demand more than the entire State can supply.

Last year the growers realized, on the season's average, $575 per carload, gross, in New York. This season's short crop will send the price soaring. Early shipments may bring as high as $1,000 a car, although the season's average will be less.

Railroads have already begun preparing to handle the crop. All F. G. E. cars received by the Central of Georgia are being parked in the Fort Valley and Marshallville yards. This road has requisitioned 1,200 cars from the Fruit Growers' Express.

Mr. Marks expects the first carload of Greensboro peaches, the earliest variety, between June 3 and 5. Carmen peaches will begin to move between June 15 and 18; Hibley Bills June 23; Georgia Bills, June 30, and Elberta crops will be exceedingly short. Only the Hibley Bills and Georgia Bills will be gathered in great amounts.

Heavy rains, preventing pollenization, caused the crop shortage, according to Mr. Marks. Central of Georgia officials attribute the falling off to early frosts.

Says New York Is Tending to Paganism

NEW YORK, May 23.—"The idea of liberty in this country is a farce," says Sir Robert Perks, Bart., who has been visiting America.

"New York is leaning, and leaning hard, towards paganism. Unless your people return to the elementary forms of Christianity there will be an age of decadence in your country followed by a revolt which will overthrow the whole social system.

But Polly Needn't Worry Any More

CHICAGO, May 23.—Polly, the $300 parrot, for ten years a lively inmate of the home of the Rev. J. W. Libbertson, pastor of the Sacramento Boulevard church, flew out of a window and with a shriek, "I should worry!" entered the home of Mrs. C. F. Hall, some distance off.

A large brindle cat was in the room when Polly landed. The parrot's yells could be heard above the yowls of the cat. Mrs. Hall ran for the police and met Mrs. Libbertson.

"There's a ghost in my house," she said. "It cries like a child, but it flies around like a spirit and hollers, 'I should worry!'"

Mrs. Libbertson burst in the door. The large brindle cat occupied the immediate foreground. There was an expression of deep satisfaction on the cat's countenance and a few feathers and a beak on the carpet.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting

If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless, you only lose money. When you use a questionable depilatory, however, it is a very serious matter because you not only lose money, but you take the grave risk of permanent disfigurement.

If You Value Your Face

use De Miracle, the one safe, perfected hair remover of proven merit. Remember, the injury caused by the use of doubtful hair removers will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars because it will take months or possibly years to gain control of hair growths which have been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

De Miracle

Only Real Hair Remover on Earth

De Miracle contains certain ingredients which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. Therefore, you must eventually use it to retard and gain control of growths which have been caused by the unwise use of questionable depilatories. Is it not safer and wiser to begin using De Miracle now, before the growth gets beyond control?

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours. If your dealer will not supply you with De Miracle, send $1.00 direct.

New truths in next advt.

De Miracle Chemical Co., New York

Sold and Recommended by Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

WHAT MY CREDIT MEANS TO YOU!

A simple, systematic, sensible way to buy clothes. Nothing cheap, nothing shoddy---no makeshift, but a clean, up-to-date, easy way to purchase---a plan that's all in your favor. Pay a small amount down and the balance in payments of "A Dollar a Week."

THE 1st CUT IN MEN'S SUITS

I am going to cut the price of my entire $25.00 Men's suit stock Saturday. This collection consists of Fancy Mixtures and Worsteds---Basket Weaves---Serges---Clays and Norfolks. You can buy them for . . . . . . $20.00

LADIES'

35c black, medium Heatherbloom Petticoats. These garments are really of exceptional value and are preferred by many to silk. They originally sold for $1.00 to $1.25. Saturday they go for 35c.

Ladies' wash white Shirtwaists, beautifully trimmed with handsome lace and embroidery, Saturday for 35c.

LADIES'

Wash dresses, exquisite little gowns, made up in muslin and linen, in all the late fancy colors and stripes. The dainty kind of dresses you need for the hot days. $1.35

Saturday I am reducing their original price of $2.00 and $3.00 to $1.35.

This space doesn't allow me to tell you of a dozen other bargains for Saturday. Come in and see!

DOLLAR A WEEK DAY 14 W. MITCHELL ST.

The W. A. Day store helps you. The same price for cash or credit. Ask any of my customers. They're satisfied.

White City Park Now Open

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route. Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

85c to $1 Foulards at 55c in the May Silk Sale

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

More Fruits of the Buyer's New York Trip
A Most Remarkable Sale of Summer Dresses

$5.95 to $8.50 Summer Dresses $3.85

We buy a great many dresses from certain makers at regular prices. Then at the end of their season they favor us with their surplus stocks greatly under price. That is how these dresses—though worth $5.95 to $8.50—come to us to sell at a profit at $3.85.

New as the morning—shown to-morrow for the first time. Made of soft white voiles and lingeries, prettily developed in embroideries and laces. Cool, inviting styles for summer wear. One hundred and eighty-seven (187) in the lot, and choice is only $3.85.

$10 & $12.50 Linen & Lingerie Dresses

The linen dresses are in the "Composed" models; one-piece dresses with white linen skirts and colored linene semi-coats. Variously white skirts with blue, rose, brown, lavender and tan coats. $5.85

The other dresses are of voile or lingerie, some comparatively simple; others made of elaborate embroidery flouncings or trimmed with laces, crushed silk girdles, crystal buttons, etc. Worth $10 and $12.50, for $5.85.

$2.50 to $3.50 Silk Shirts $1.95

All white shirts of Jap silk with turn-over collar and French attached cuffs. Also in habutai wash silks with black or colored stripes. All coat styles.

$2.50 to $3 White Nurse Waists $1.95

White lingerie waists, nursing styles. High or low neck; long or short sleeves.

$2.50 Lingerie Waists at $1.25

Also $2.50 white voile waists, low neck, lay-down flat collar of embroidered Bulgarian work. Bulgarian embroidered side pocket.

Beautiful New Waists at $1 to $2.50

Buyer just back from New York with the late styles. Lingerie waists at $1. Variously in voiles, marquisettes and lingeries. High or low necks, Gaby and flat collars, long or short sleeves.

White Outing Skirts at $1 to $2.49

The skirt at $2.49 is a particularly good value. Made of white striped Bedford cord, smartly tailored; buttons on side. Small tucks in back and strapped to simulate a belt. Other white skirts variously tailored.

Pique $1 to $1.50. Linen $2. Ratine $2.98.

Outclearing in the Center Aisle
Sale Continues Saturday

Great Wash Goods Sale

25c zephyr Ginghams,
25c colored Dimities,
19c Flaxons, Batistes, etc.
25c to 50c Wash Remnants,
10c

Shirtings at Half Price

50c David & John Anderson's Zephyr and Shirting Madras, 25c.
50c to 65c Tootal's Madras, 25c.
65c Austrian Shirtings, 25c.

(Main Floor, Left)

Clearaway of Neckwear

Usually 75c to $1.25 at

In selling this neckwear at 69c we are not unfair to those who have paid 75c to $1.25 for it. For they had first pick of all the lines, and got full value in every instance. Now that lines are broken we must be good storekeepers and hurry them out even at the little price of 69c. 69c

Every bit of neckwear is as clean and fresh as the day it first arrived. Main Floor.

This $7 Corset $3.50

Fashion is a matter of taste. Some women like a corset just this bust height—some women don't. The factory sides with the women who don't; they intend to discontinue the model. And that alone accounts for the halved price.

Corset is just as pictured. Made of fine imported broche in pink and blue. All sizes to 30 in the lot, but not in each color. Up to recently this corset has been one of our most popular models at $7; the price to-morrow is just half—$3.50.

New Corsets at $1 to $5

Complete lines of these popular makes—Thompson's, Warner's, C. B. a la Spirite, Iris and American Beauty.

(Corsets—2nd Floor)

A Sale of New Ribbons

The sale is as rare as it is timely. For pretty ribbons like these are scarce in the market at full price—and some of these are at less than half.

All new and crisp in delightful color combinations that rival the hues of the rainbow. Warp prints, Roman and Persian stripes, self colored satin stripes, Bulgarian and Dresden patterns, Pico edges—the list is almost endless. Variously in taffetas, moires and grosgrains. Divided into two lots.

50c Ribbons 4 to 6 inch at 33c

6 to 10 in., 75c to $1.25 Ribbons 43c

(Ribbons—Main Floor, Right)

35c Gauze Lisle Stockings 25c

We had to go abroad to get them—and there's been a fair shaving of our own profit to bring them down to 25c. But we think it pays to have the best 25c stocking in town—especially when so many women will want a light weight gauze lisle for summer.

The stocking is full fashioned; the finish is finer than the domestic grades. Reinforced where needed at heels, sole and toes, and garter top. Black, white, tan and a wonderfully big 25c worth.

$1 and $1.25 Silk Stockings 73c

These are called "run of the mill grade," which means they have not been examined for defects. We've searched them over—some show a dropped thread or other slight hurt which will never affect their wear—others appear to be perfect. All silk or with lisle feet and top. Black only.

(Hosiery—Main Floor, Right)

20c to 35c Veiling 10c

Just about enough for a busy day's selling—hence the "close out" price. In fancy mesh, solid color, brown, navy, taupe, black and black-and-white combinations.

(Veiling—Mail Floor, Right)

White Canvas Pumps

$1.49 150 pairs white canvas pumps, with flat ribbon bow and light sole. Regular $2.50 values on special sale Saturday for $1.49. All sizes.

Also 150 pairs patent and tan, kid strap and lace oxfords. Broken sizes. All $3.50 values.

In the Basement Only

Don't Miss the Outclearing In Famous Center Aisle

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

PLAN EXHIBIT OF ATLANTA-MADE PRODUCTS

Chamber of Commerce Directors to Install Permanent Display to Boost Local Factories.

With "Boost Atlanta Made Goods" as the slogan, the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has decided to install in this city a permanent exhibit of Atlanta made goods.

A special train is to be chartered by the Chamber of Commerce to take Atlanta manufacturers and merchants to Chattanooga, Tenn., to inspect the exhibit of Chattanooga manufacturers, which has been operated for more than a year and has proved of great advantage in advertising goods manufactured in that city.

Plan to Lease Building.

It is proposed to lease a large building near the center of the city, fill it with goods made here, keep it open the year round and make it one of the show places of the town so visitors can see what Atlanta is doing. Business men will thereby be interested in the products of Atlanta factories and a great increase in trade is expected.

Atlanta has 548 factories, which produce over 1,000 different products, and it is doubtful if any city in the United States of its size could assemble such a comprehensive display of this nature.

The industries of Atlanta are yet in their infancy, but every article made here is finding a ready market throughout the country. This speaks well for the manufacturers with present-day competition so keen.

Success Almost Certain.

The success of exhibits in Chattanooga and other cities much smaller than Atlanta make it almost a certainty that the undertaking will prove not only a "four-time winner" here, but an everlasting asset.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting the participation of that body in the coming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Georgia Tech was considered and the matter referred to a special committee, of which M. R. Wilkinson was appointed chairman. A special committee was also appointed to take up the matter of organizing a junior order of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith Makes Hit Appears in Play for Suffrage 'Woman' Converts Many to Cause

Miss Mildred Bacon

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith

Needle Swallowed 30 Years Ago Found

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—A steel needle, swallowed by him more than 30 years ago, has just been removed from the body of J. E. Wood, a Central of Georgia Railroad engineer residing here.

Wood had almost forgotten about the needle, when this week he felt a stinging sensation in his left side, that led him to believe something was wrong. He had a physician make an examination and it was found that the needle had worked to the surface in his side. It was removed. Wood is 45 years of age.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY.

Daughter of Senator Smith One of the Charming Figures in Mrs. Hemmick's Drama.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith, is receiving many congratulations from her Washington friends for her ability as an actress. Miss Smith took a prominent part in the initial production of "Woman," a morality play written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, millionairess and a recent suffrage convert at the New National theater in the capital Wednesday night.

A number of other prominent society girls took part in the play, and it is claimed that many converts to the cause have been made among the young women by the production. Others who had parts were Misses Mildred Bacon, Mabel Talliaferro, Nellie Bly, Helen Buchanan, Desha Allen, Roberta Aimes, Jeanette Allen, Esther Denny and Mrs. David Fairfield.

The new play is an allegory, designed to depict the troubles and trials of the woman of to-day.

French Soldiers Riot Against Military Act

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PARIS, May 23.—Hundreds of French soldiers engaged in rioting to-day at various points in protest against the new military law, which extends the term of enlistment to three years.

The ringleaders will be courtmartialed. A great many arrests have been made.

UNVEIL CANDLER SHAFT ON JUNE 3

Governor Brown and Governor-Elect Slaton Will Attend Ceremonies at Macon.

The unveiling of the monument to Allen D. Candler, Governor of Georgia from 1898 to 1904, purchased by the members of his official household, will take place at Gainesville June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. J. W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

A large party, including Governor Joseph M. Brown and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, will go from Atlanta to attend the event. The City Council of Gainesville and the local camp of Confederate Veterans and other organizations will take prominent parts.

The monument selected is a tall marble shaft. Only the State officials who served during Governor Candler's two terms contributed to the memorial. They are:

Adams, Samuel B.	Land, Max E.
Altmayer, Samuel	Larsen, W. W.
Black, E. R.	Lindsey, J. W.
Bailey, Mrs. J. W.	Longley, Frank P.
Baldwin, H. W., Sr.	Lowry, Robert J.
Bacon, A. O.	Mitchell, M. G.
Burger, R. R.	Mitchell, R. G., Jr.
Bush, Isaac A.	McWhorter, Hamilton
Brown, J. Pope	Nottingham, W. D.
Bower, B. B., Jr.	Nicholson, D. B.
Brannen, J. F.	Odom, Benton.
Brown, George T.	Obear, W. G.
Crisp, C. F.	Quincey, J. W.
Covington, W. A.	Post, W. G.
Corker, F. G.	Power, W. R.
Castellow, B. T.	Reid, H. M.
Callaway, E. H.	Reece, J. H.
Carswell, G. H.	Russell, A. H.
Dupree, E. F.	Shepherd, W. S.
Deal, A. M.	Smith, R. L. J.
Dyer, D. B.	Sheddon, R. F.
Dickson, Capers	Sheffield, R. H.
Dickerson, R. G.	Tallaferro, P. R.
DuPont, Augustus	Tipton, J. H.
Dillon, J. A.	Toombs, W. H.
Edwards, B. J.	Tribble, S. J.
Eve, William F.	Vanburen, J. R.
Foute, A. M.	Varnedoe, S. M.
Freeman, A. D.	Watkins, E. W.
Foster, F. C.	Webb, C. S.
Fogarty, D. G.	West, A. J.
Griffin, W. H.	West, H. F.
Green, R. E.	Willingham, Wright
Grantland, S.	Wright, Boykin
Howell, Clark.	Williams, John T.
Hughes, D. M.	Wilkes, Samuel W.
Holtzclaw, R. N.	Woodward, John C.
Hitch, C. M.	Yeomans, M. J.
Hill, J. T.	Nagle, Mary M.
Hansell, C. P.	Henderson, Lillian T.
Inman, F. M.	Lindsey, Annie F.
Johnson, F. Holmes
King, A. N.
Kent, W. B.

Bear Kills Girl, 18, Who Fled Her Home

TRUCKEE, CAL., May 23.—A bear killed and partly devoured Miss Vinnie Colt, aged 18, who recently ran away from her home here.

Searchers found the body in the Sierra Mountains, 20 miles from here, to-day.

Here's the Prize List in Great Story Contest

Prizes aggregating $250 are offered by The Atlanta Georgian for the best solution of the great serial novel, "The Triple Tie," now running in The Georgian, as follows:

First Prize	$100
Second Prize	50
Third Prize	25
Fourth Prize	15
12 other prizes, each	5

"The Triple Tie" will be run in generous daily installments until June 29, when the final chapter will be published. Synopsis of the last installment is now in the hands of Mr. T. J. Peeples, cashier of the American National Bank.

It will be held by him in a sealed envelope until a committee of three Atlanta citizens not connected in any way with The Georgian may select the winners of the prizes.

$30,000 Paid for Old English Silver Plate

LONDON, May 23.—The sale of the collection of old English silver plate belonging to the late E. H. Baldon realized more than $30,000.

Crichton purchased a silver-gilt cream boat, made by Paul Lamerie, in 1744, for $682; a top of a George I'tazza, dated 1714, for $141; a plain bowl, dated 1715, for $175; a circular bowl dated 1663, for $287; and an Elizabethan tiger ware jug, dated 1575, for $1,000.

New Society Order: Get a "Dogstick!"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The latest thing in Washington is the dogstick. It is carried as a walking stick by society women. It is topped by a replica of their favorite dog or horse, done in ivory or silver.

The Misses Allen, daughters of General Allen, U. S. A., known as the best horsewomen among the society girls of the capital, are responsible for this fad.

What Ails You?

An invitation is extended by Doctor Pierce to every sick and ailing man or woman to consult the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., by letter. Write your symptoms fully and frankly, and every letter will be carefully considered, fully answered and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

makes for rich, pure blood and thus invigorates the system. For a torpid liver and its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue with bitter taste, loss of appetite with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good.

ALDERMAN'S WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY

Mrs. James B. Everett, Asking $5,000 Alimony, Declares Husband's Office Pays Him Well.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Mrs. Clara E. Everett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alderman James B. Everett, and for $5,000 temporary alimony. The petitioner states that she was forced to leave her husband July 1, 1912, because of his attitude toward her. She charges she is without means of support and has been compelled to depend on relatives for a livelihood since the separation.

Mrs. Everett declares her husband persuaded her to mortgage her home at 659 North Boulevard, which had been given to her by her mother, and that her husband appropriated this money to his own use. The petition states that Everett holds a position as Alderman, "from which he derives a large sum each year." In addition, he is connected with the Theatrical Club at a salary of $150 a month, while he also owns a large amount of stock in the club, which pays him good dividends, the wife states.

Judge John T. Pendleton has set May 31 for the hearing of the suit for temporary alimony. Attorneys Maddox & Sims represent Mrs. Everett.

Robert Edeson Hurt In Fall on Stage

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—Robert Edeson, the actor, is under treatment at a local hospital as the result of a fall upon the stage during a performance of "Fine Feathers."

The nature of his accident and its seriousness is being kept from his wife, who is seriously ill in a hospital at Southampton, N. Y.

POOR BEWHISKERED GOTHAM.

New York, May 23.—No more shaves on Sunday in New York. The boss barbers to-day agreed with the striking barbers to close the shops all day on Sundays.

MELONS HANG HIGH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 23.—Twenty-five dollars for fifty-four watermelons. That's the rate Chicago paid to-day for the first of the season.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Ask me for

"California Summer Outings"

A map-folder that tells about the outing joys of the California coast—deep-sea fishing, surf-bathing where the tent cities are, and yachting.

Lovely Yosemite typifies the High Sierras—a land of snowy peaks, giant sequoias and waterfalls.

Many consider the California summer a more enjoyable season than winter.

Low Fare Excursions

every day all summer will enable you to travel economically. On the way stop off and see the Colorado Rockies and the old city of Santa Fé. Visit, too, that world-wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Whether you take the California Limited, the Colorado Flyer or "go tourist," you have Fred Harvey meal service.

Jno. D. Carter, Son. Pass. Agt.,
14 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.
Phone, Main 342.

Specials Saturday and Monday

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

ONLY ONE TO A CUSTOMER 75c

We will offer special for Saturday and Monday white pique skirts at 75 cents. They are the same you pay $1.98 for elsewhere.

MEN'S SUITS

In all colors and fancy mixtures, all up-to-date and the latest styles in summer wear. Just the thing in blue serges. Saturday for $17.50

VOILE AND RATINE DRESSES

$7.95

$1.00 A WEEK

ONLY $2.00 DOWN ONE TO A CUSTOMER

Here is the opportunity of the season. These dresses at $7.95 are positively the greatest values we have ever offered. Think of it! Beautiful Voile dresses embroidered in pure silk (Persian design), at so low a price. Think of it! You can take your choice of more than 100 dresses at this price, and pay only $2 down, then $1 a week. Have you ever heard of such an offer before?

UNITED CREDIT CLOTHING COMPANY

28 WEST MITCHELL ST.

MERGER CERTAIN TO COME NEXT YEAR, SAYS STELZLE

Harder to Unite Presbyterian Churches Than to Bring Together North and South After War, He Declares.

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

"When I came here forty-nine years ago, it was in the spirit of war. When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," was the way General Robert N. Adams, of Minneapolis put it when addressing the Northern Presbyterian Assembly yesterday. General Adams has been preaching the message of the Prince of Peace for a good many years.

After the war he became a preacher, going to the rough regions of the Northwest country. For a long time he has been superintendent of home missions in the State of Minnesota, retiring a short time ago on account of impaired health. He marched into Atlanta with General Sherman and is the only surviving general of the famous group that followed Sherman "from Atlanta to the sea."

"Not only a united republic, but a united church," is the message that General Adams is now preaching. But it seems to be more difficult to unite the church than it does to get together the citizens of the Republic. Religious prejudice dies hard. This has been made apparent in some of the meetings of the assemblies. But it isn't altogether prejudice, either, that keeps men apart. It is often sincere devotion to truth, and it often happens that both opponents have right on their side. Men change their political faiths far more readily than they do their religious convictions.

Churches Working Together.

But it is still true that men with different religious beliefs are working together far more generally than do men with different political beliefs. It isn't often that the Democrats and the Republicans sit down to map out a campaign which is to bring neither of them profit nor glory. So you Atlantans who have been smiling at what sometimes seemed like a religious row don't forget that the politicians haven't come anywhere near the church in unity and co-operation.

The Southern Assembly yesterday demonstrated that fact just stated by deciding to remain within the Federal Council of Churches. And it wasn't a very easy thing to do, either, for there were many things that hurt when they voted favorably upon the resolution. So strongly did it affect one veteran who has been fighting "the battles of the Lord" that he impulsively surrendered his seat as a commissioner, but he showed his real greatness by coming back in the afternoon, repentant. This commissioner has real convictions. He's been suffering on account of them.

Prejudice Giving Way.

But it has been revealed in the meetings of these Assemblies that every denominational prejudice and all sectarian passion must give way before the spirit of which General Adams spoke—the spirit of the Prince of Peace. There's no other way.

Next year will undoubtedly see the bringing together into one denomination of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Assemblies. Then the Northern Assembly will unite with the Reformed Church of the United States. The plan is already set up. It simply requires a little more time, for such matters can not be rushed. Then, perhaps, some time in the near future all these bodies will get together.

In many respects the Protestant Churches of the United States are already in one group, working out some great problems. Yesterday the Northern Assembly listened to Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, Secretary of the Federal Council. He brought greetings from thirty denominations and 20,000,000 Protestants in this country. These groups are working harmoniously for the building up of a great Kingdom of God in America, and they're building fast. Then the Assembly listened to Dr. David G. Wylie, who represented the "Alliance of Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian System of Belief." In this long-named society there are 30,000,000 Protestants, in every part of the world, who believe in the Presbyterian doctrine. And 30,000,000 Presbyterians can wield some influence in the world. They're doing it, too, but this isn't a subject that one of them can freely talk about.

Sees Church Unity.

Other fraternal delegates spoke to the Assembly, each of them representing a very considerable group of Christian men and women working in some part of the globe in the spirit of the "Prince of Peace," and most of them expressed a longing for the time when "all should be one."

"When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," said General Adams. Without fear of serious contradiction, the commissioners who to-day close their sessions in Atlanta may say that when another General Assembly—of any of the three branches that have been here for ten days—meets in this city, it will represent not merely one of the three, but all of them.

List to the Noises That Annoy Chicago!

CHICAGO, May 23.—When a City Council committee began its investigation of unnecessary noise in Chicago, protests were entered against roosters, pet dogs, a cow, motorcycles, electric pianos and practicing voice lessons.

Alderman Nance, chairman of the committee, read to the committeemen a list of noises against which he had received complaints, which included chiming church bells at 6 a. m., shouting of peddlers, policemen's whistles, rumbling of elevated trains, and one man wrote that a cabaret performance near his home kept his family from sleeping.

Seats on Sale for Players' Club Show

Seat sale of "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be presented by the Atlanta Players' Club May 30, begins to-day.

This year's performance is expected to prove the most brilliant of any given by the club, which comprises talented amateurs from the ranks of Atlanta society. Leading roles will be taken by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Lamar Hill and Marsh Adair.

After the performance the annual dinner of the Atlanta Players' Club will be given on the lawn of the Piedmont Driving Club, followed by a dance.

Philanthropic Club Docks Girl Workers

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The Missouri Senate wage investigating committee to-day was surprised to learn from the testimony of Frank J. Sloan, manager of the City Club, a philanthropic organization of prominent St. Louisans, that the club took no interest in the welfare of its women employees.

Sloan also said that the women were paid $5 a week and two meals a day, and that when they were away from work on account of sickness they were docked.

Women Kidnaped by Moorish Outlaws

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ORAN, ALGERIA, May 23.—Word was received here to-day from the interior that Moorish bandits attacked a mail van enroute to Taourirt, abducting two European women passengers.

The driver of the van was killed and a passenger was seriously wounded. The bandits escaped into the mountains.

PRISON CRUELTIES SHARPLY DENIED

Shelby Smith Says Convicts Are Too Tired to Hear Preaching at Night Through Week.

Charges by George W. Crabtree, a Presbyterian prison evangelist, that Fulton County convicts are cruelly treated by guards under Captain Tom Donaldson, have brought a denial from Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton County Prison Commission.

The evangelist said he was prohibited from holding evangelistic services in the camp save on Sunday. Chairman Smith denies the cruelty charges, but admits the other, saying the welfare of the prisoners demands that no services be held on working days.

Further than to deny cruel treatment, Captain Donaldson declined to answer the charges made against him. Chairman Smith himself had little to say except about the evangelistic services.

"Among the 700 prisoners in this county are ten murderers and many other desperate characters, who obviously make many restrictions necessary," he said. "They work hard every day, and when they get through they need a bath and a good night's rest. To hold religious services at night, after a hard day's work, would be impractical for the prisoners, impractical for the guards and impractical for the other attendants. I favor holding religious services only on Sunday."

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Rain Spoils Jobbers' Day at Ball Park

Friday has been billed as Jobbers and Ladies' Day at Ponce DeLeon Park, but with the rain falling steadily, prospects are that the game will have to be postponed.

"Jobbers' Day" was arranged by Vice President Charles Nunnally of the Atlanta Baseball Association in honor of the jobbers of Georgia and Alabama, who are in session at the Piedmont Hotel.

The plan was to give the visitors an automobile trip around the city, winding up at the ball park. The rain god is holding sway, though, and the jobbers are planning to sit quietly about the hotel and rejoice with the farmers over the saving of the crop.

Court Is Baffled by Trust Co. Statistics

Judge Pendleton, lost in the wilderness of figures in the Guarantee Trust and Banking Company case, wants a Moses to lead him out, and Friday morning named C. J. Metz for the task.

Even a blackboard failed to make the figures submitted by auditors and the two sets of attorneys "gee," and Judge Pendleton named Mr. Metz to secure the information essential in deciding whether or not a receivership is necessary.

The task is expected to take two weeks, and the case has been adjourned for that length of time.

Negro Saved From Mob in Nebraska

LINCOLN, NEBR., May 23.—Walter Balew, negro, charged with attacking a white woman of Falls City, is in the State Penitentiary here for safekeeping.

Sheriff Aldrich said he purposed to keep Balew in the penitentiary because of the intense feeling against him at Falls City. Yesterday a mob tried to storm the jail at Hiawatha, Kans., to get Balew.

OCTOBER WEDDING MOVED UP TO MAY

Manager of Elite Theater and Fiancee "Couldn't Wait" for Day Set 4 Months Hence.

"We just couldn't wait, so we got married."

Pretty Madeline Arnold, that was, in her dove-cote apartment at 25 East Third Street, thus explained the whys and wherefores of her unexpected marriage Thursday afternoon to H. S. Hossbein, manager of the Elite Theater.

"I'm going to the show this afternoon," Miss Arnold informed her mother, Mrs. H. E. Arnold, Thursday as she left her home, 780 East North Avenue.

On the corner she met Mr. Hossbein, who had a marriage license tucked away in his inside pocket. They walked to the residence of the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. En route they were joined by two friends of the bridegroom.

No sign of storm appeared on the horizon of their new life until the bride and bridegroom entered the home of the former's parents.

Arm in arm, they stood before the former Miss Arnold's mother and chorused:

"We're married."

Silence reigned for two minutes while Mrs. Arnold was recovering from the shock. Then she kissed her daughter and welcomed the new acquisition to the family.

Mrs. Hossbein's father is connected with the Woodward Lumber Company.

CATTLE MALADY KILLS MAN.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—T. Dudley Riggs, well-known society man, died here after a long illness from pemphigus, a disease generally confined to cattle. It is thought he contracted

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Harvard Grads at Reunion Stage Play

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Starting with a luncheon at the Hotel Jefferson at noon to-day, followed by a business meeting, the Seventeenth Annual Convention and Reunion of the Associated Harvard Clubs, composed of Harvard graduates from all over the United States, began its two days' session.

At 4 p. m. following the business session the delegates to the convention will be taken in autos to Sunset Inn, where a luncheon will be served on the veranda of the inn. To-night "The Perpetual Student," a musical play, will be staged by the members of the St. Louis Harvard Club.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Ladies' Maids Rebel; 'Hookists' Plan Union

CHICAGO, May 23.—Ladies' maids in Chicago are in open revolt, and efforts were being made to get enough of them in rebellion to form a union, affiliated with the new Household Workers Union. Those who want to organize are "hookists," private hair dressers and private manicures.

The "hookists" declare that present styles, which compel them to hook a 250-pound woman into a tube gown designed for the lines of a 120-pound figure, are giving them the "lacers' arm," akin to the "housemaids' knee."

Symptoms are a swelling of the arm muscles near the shoulder, followed by permanent lameness.

ATLANTA HORSE WINNER.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—Among the winners of the blue ribbons and cups in Thursday's events at the seventh annual exhibition of the Greenville Horse Show Association was Helmadot, owned by D. N. McCullough, Atlanta, Ga.

CROXONE SOON RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that is the come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

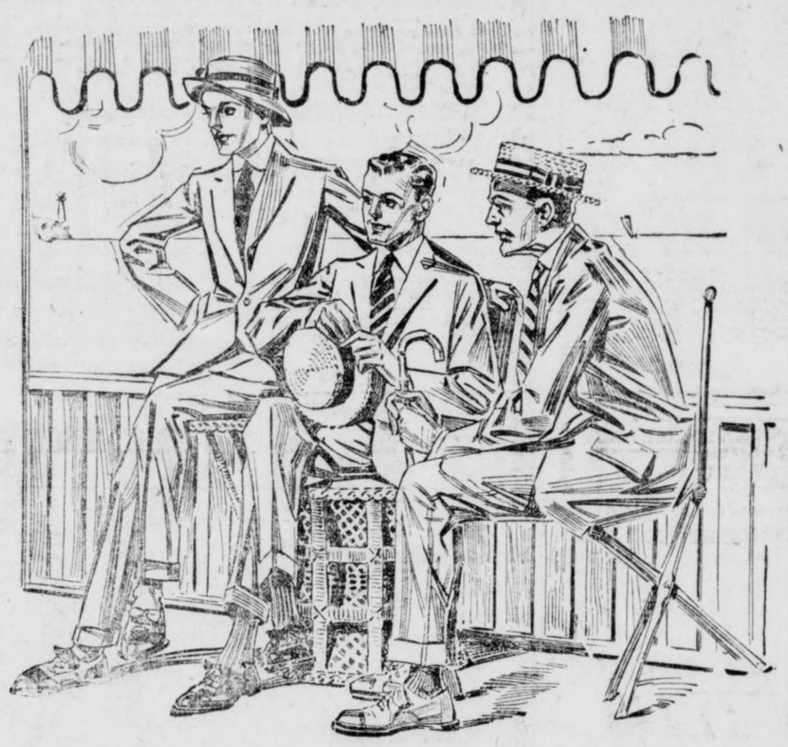
It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long-standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle. All druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

ASKIN & MARINE COMPANY



$15 $18 $20

Three Big Values In Men's Suits

—Attention, men! Here are three BIG suit values! An eastern manufacturer offered us these summer suits at a very low price, rather than run the risk of having them left on his hands. We took the entire lot, divided them among our stores, and NOW they are offered to you in three special lots—$15, $18 and $20.

—There are Norfolks, two-button styles and three-button styles. There are plain serges, fancy serges, and up-to-date weaves and patterns of all kinds. Every suit is fully guaranteed. We'll be glad to have you open a charge account.

Summer Styles For Women

—First, there are dainty ready-to-wear dresses in all of the new styles, at prices from $2.50 upward.

—Secondly, there is a splendid variety of lingerie and tailored waists in both high and low neck styles, at prices from $1 upward.

—Thirdly, there are many attractive hats in various styles, specially priced for this week.

—You can find everything you want, and our charge account plan will make the paying part easy.

Askin & Marine Co.

78 Whitehall Street

White City Park Now Open

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured; therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps. DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

Atlanta New York Paris

TO-MORROW

The Clearaway of Junior Suits

Junior Department---Third Floor

In making these new prices no thought has been taken of the excellent style points, of the real worth of the suits or of the fact that those who need suits and who see these would gladly pay many dollars more than they are now marked. But this is a Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company clearaway, and prices have been made accordingly. She who will travel this summer, she who will stay at home—both will want just such suits and now is the opportunity for both to own them and to save.

$30.00, $35.00 & $37.50 Junior Suits..... $18.50

This includes all Junior Suits that were formerly priced between $30.00 and $37.50. A fine variety! Silk poplins, Bedford cords, serges, shepherd checks—plain tailored suits, charming Balkan suits with elegant touches of trimmings.

All $25.00 & $27.50 Junior Suits.... $12.50

Which means not one but that is at least half-price! There are shepherd checks, navy serges, striped weaves in black and white, and brown and white, just as chic and smart as ever $25.00 and $27.50 suits have been this spring. Bulgarian blouses and tailored suits.

Here Is the Way Children's and Misses' Millinery Is Priced

Girls' Hats that were $1.50 and $2.00 are 59c.

These are colored straws—in many shapes—trimmed with ribbons—bands and bows.

Girls' Hats that were $2.50 are 95c.

Rough and fancy straws in a happy variety of shapes and trimmings—ribbons and flowers.

$5.00, $6.00 and $7.50 Hats are $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

Fine choice here! Chip and milan and rough straws, charmingly bedecked with flowers and ribbons, with a scattering few of tailored hats.

The finer $10.00 and $12.50 Hats are all $5.00.

All the better hats—the fanciful affairs that are trimmed by milliners who specialize in girls' hats—now $5.00. Choosing will be a delight—the shapes, the colors, the trimmings are so varied.

The New "Swim Easy" Bathing Suit Is Best for the Junior Miss

Because it is so very practical.

It is all a one-piece suit. The knickerbockers are attached to the skirt. It slips on over the head. There are but four buttons to the whole suit. Two at the waist—which is adjustable, may be made large or small, the fullness is taken up in a box plait down the front—two at the yoke.

And the "Swim Easy" is just as attractive as smart tailoring can make it. In black, red and navy, light weight mohair trimmed with braids and folds. Priced at $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, $3.00 to $4.50.

Sizes ten to eighteen years.

Girls' Bathing Suits at $1.00 and $1.50—these are the little bloomer suits without the skirts in navy mohair—prettily trimmed around the collar and sleeves.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

PLAN EXHIBIT OF ATLANTA-MADE PRODUCTS

Chamber of Commerce Directors to Install Permanent Display to Boost Local Factories.

With "Boost Atlanta Made Goods" as the slogan, the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has decided to install in this city a permanent exhibit of Atlanta made goods.

A special train is to be chartered by the Chamber of Commerce to take Atlanta manufacturers and merchants to Chattanooga, Tenn., to inspect the exhibit of Chattanooga manufacturers, which has been operated for more than a year and has proved of great advantage in advertising goods manufactured in that city.

Plan to Lease Building.

It is proposed to lease a large building near the center of the city, fill it with goods made here, keep it open the year round and make it one of the show places of the town so visitors can see what Atlanta is doing. Business men will thereby be interested in the products of Atlanta factories and a great increase in trade is expected.

Atlanta has 548 factories, which produce over 1,000 different products, and it is doubtful if any city in the United States of its size could assemble such a comprehensive display of this nature.

The industries of Atlanta are yet in their infancy, but every article made here is finding a ready market throughout the country. This speaks well for the manufacturers with present-day competition so keen.

Success Almost Certain.

The success of exhibits in Chattanooga and other cities much smaller than Atlanta make it almost a certainty that the undertaking will prove not only a "four-time winner" here, but an everlasting asset.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting the participation of that body in the coming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Georgia Tech was considered and the matter referred to a special committee, of which M. R. Wilkinson was appointed chairman. A special committee was also appointed to take up the matter of organizing a junior order of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith Makes Hit Appears in Play for Suffrage 'Woman' Converts Many to Cause

Miss Mildred Bacon

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith

Daughter of Senator Smith One of the Charming Figures in Mrs. Hemmick's Drama.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith, is receiving many congratulations from her Washington friends for her ability as an actress. Miss Smith took a prominent part in the initial production of "Woman," a morality play written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, millionairess and a recent suffrage convert at the New National theater in the capital Wednesday night.

A number of other prominent society girls took part in the play, and it is claimed that many converts to the cause have been made among the young women by the production. Others who had parts were Misses Mildred Bacon, Mabel Talliaferro, Nellie Bly, Helen Buchanan, Desha Allen, Roberta Aimes, Jeanette Allen, Esther Denny and Mrs. David Fairfield.

The new play is an allegory, designed to depict the troubles and trials of the woman of to-day.

Needle Swallowed 30 Years Ago Found

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—A steel needle, swallowed by him more than 30 years ago, has just been removed from the body of J. E. Wood, a Central of Georgia Railroad engineer residing here.

Wood had almost forgotten about the needle, when this week he felt a stinging sensation in his left side, that led him to believe something was wrong. He had a physician make an examination and it was found that the needle had worked to the surface in his side. It was removed. Wood is 45 years of age.

French Soldiers Riot Against Military Act

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PARIS, May 23.—Hundreds of French soldiers engaged in rioting to-day at various points in protest against the new military law, which extends the term of enlistment to three years.

The ringleaders will be courtmartialed. A great many arrests have been made.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY.

UNVEIL CANDLER SHAFT ON JUNE 3

Governor Brown and Governor-Elect Slaton Will Attend Ceremonies at Macon.

The unveiling of the monument to Allen D. Candler, Governor of Georgia from 1898 to 1904, purchased by the members of his official household, will take place at Gainesville June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. J. W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

A large party, including Governor Joseph M. Brown and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, will go from Atlanta to attend the event. The City Council of Gainesville and the local camp of Confederate Veterans and other organizations will take prominent parts.

The monument selected is a tall marble shaft. Only the State officials who served during Governor Candler's two terms contributed to the memorial. They are:

Adams, Samuel B.	Land, Max E.
Altmayer, Samuel	Larsen, W. W.
Black, E. R.	Lindsey, J. W.
Bailey, Mrs. J. W.	Longley, Frank P
Baldwin, H. W., Sr.	Lowry, Robert J.
Bacon, A. O.	Mitchell, M. G.
Burger, R. R.	Mitchell, R. G., Jr.
Bush, Isaac A.	McWhorter, Hamilton
Brown, J. Pope	Nottingham, W. D.
Bower, B. B., Jr.	Nicholson, D. B.
Brannen, J. F.	Odom, Benton.
Brown, George T	Obear, W. G.
Crisp, C. F.	Quincey, J. W.
Covington, W. A.	Post, W. G.
Corker, F. G.	Power, W. R.
Castellow, B. T.	Reid, H. M.
Callaway, E. H.	Reece, J. H.
Carswell, G. H.	Russell, A. H.
Dupree, E. F.	Shepnerd, W. S.
Deal, A. M.	Smith, R. L. J.
Dyer, D. B.	Sheddon, R. F.
Dickson, Capers	Sheffield, R. H.
Dickerson, R. G.	Tallaferro, P. R.
DuPont, Augustus	Tipton, J. H.
Dillon, J. A.	Toombs, W. H.
Edwards, B. J.	Tribble, S. J.
Eve, William F.	Vanburen, J. R.
Foute, A. M.	Varnedoe, S. M.
Freeman, A. D.	Watkins, E. W.
Foster, F. C.	Webb, C. S.
Fogarty, D. G.	West, A. J.
Griffin, W. H.	West, H. F.
Green, R. E.	Willingham, Wright
Grantland, S.	Wright, Boykin
Howell, Clark	Williams, John T.
Hughes, D. M.	Wilkes, Samuel W.
Holtzclaw, R. N.	Woodward, John C.
Hitch, C. M.	Yeomans, M. J.
Hill, J. T.	Nagle, Mary M.
Hansell, C. P.	Henderson, Lillian T.
Inman, F. M.	Lindsey, Annie F.
Johnson, F. Holmes
King, A. N.
Kent, W. B.

Bear Kills Girl, 18, Who Fled Her Home

TRUCKEE, CAL., May 23.—A bear killed and partly devoured Miss Vinnie Colt, aged 18, who recently ran away from her home here.

Searchers found the body in the Sierra Mountains, 20 miles from here, to-day.

Here's the Prize List in Great Story Contest

Prizes aggregating $250 are offered by The Atlanta Georgian for the best solution of the great serial novel, "The Triple Tie," now running in The Georgian, as follows:

First Prize - -	$100
Second Prize -	50
Third Prize - -	25
Fourth Prize - -	15
12 other prizes, each,	5

"The Triple Tie" will be run in generous daily installments until June 29, when the final chapter will be published. Synopsis of the last installment is now in the hands of Mr. T. J. Peeples, cashier of the American National Bank.

It will be held by him in a sealed envelope until a committee of three Atlanta citizens not connected in any way with The Georgian may select the winners of the prizes.

$30,000 Paid for Old English Silver Plate

LONDON, May 23.—The sale of the collection of old English silver plate belonging to the late E. H. Baldon realized more than $30,000.

Crichton purchased a silver-gilt cream boat, made by Paul Lamerie, in 1744, for $682; a top of a George I'tazza, dated 1714, for $141; a plain bowl, dated 1715, for $175; a circular bowl dated 1663, for $287; and an Elizabethan tiger ware jug, dated 1575, for $1,000.

New Society Order: Get a "Dogstick!"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The latest thing in Washington is the dogstick. It is carried as a walking stick by society women. It is topped by a replica of their favorite dog or horse, done in ivory or silver.

The Misses Allen, daughters of General Allen, U. S. A., known as the best horsewomen among the society girls of the capital, are responsible for this fad.

What Ails You?

An invitation is extended by Doctor Pierce to every sick and ailing man or woman to consult the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., by letter. Write your symptoms fully and frankly, and every letter will be carefully considered, fully answered and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

makes for rich, pure blood and thus invigorates the system. For a torpid liver and its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue with bitter taste, loss of appetite with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good.

Ask me for "California Summer Outings"

A map-folder that tells about the outing joys of the California coast—deep-sea fishing, surf-bathing where the tent cities are, and yachting.

Lovely Yosemite typifies the High Sierras—a land of snowy peaks, giant sequoias and waterfalls.

Many consider the California summer a more enjoyable season than winter.

Low Fare Excursions

every day all summer will enable you to travel economically. On the way stop off and see the Colorado Rockies and the old city of Santa Fé. Visit, too, that world-wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Whether you take the California Limited, the Colorado Flyer or "go tourist," you have Fred Harvey meal service.

Jno. D. Carter, Sou. Pass. Agt., 14 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga. Phone, Main 342.

ALDERMAN'S WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY

Mrs. James B. Everett, Asking $5,000 Alimony, Declares Husband's Office Pays Him Well.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Mrs. Clara E. Everett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alderman James B. Everett, and for $5,000 temporary alimony. The petitioner states that she was forced to leave her husband July 1, 1912, because of his attitude toward her. She charges she is without means of support and has been compelled to depend on relatives for a livelihood since the separation.

Mrs. Everett declares her husband persuaded her to mortgage her home at 659 North Boulevard, which had been given to her by her mother, and that her husband appropriated this money to his own use. The petition states that Everett holds a position as Alderman, "from which he derives a large sum each year." In addition, he is connected with the Theatrical Club at a salary of $150 a month, while he also owns a large amount of stock in the club, which pays him good dividends, the wife states.

Judge John T. Pendleton has set May 31 for the hearing of the suit for temporary alimony. Attorneys Maddox & Sims represent Mrs. Everett.

Robert Edeson Hurt In Fall on Stage

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—Robert Edeson, the actor, is under treatment at a local hospital as the result of a fall upon the stage during a performance of "Fine Feathers."

The nature of his accident and its seriousness is being kept from his wife, who is seriously ill in a hospital at Southampton, N. Y.

POOR BEWHISKERED GOTHAM.

New York, May 23.—No more shaves on Sunday in New York. The boss barbers to-day agreed with the striking barbers to close the shops all day on Sundays.

MELONS HANG HIGH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 23.—Twenty-five dollars for fifty-four cantaloupes. That's the rate Chicago paid to-day for the first of the season.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food liks eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Specials Saturday and Monday

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

ONLY ONE TO A CUSTOMER 75c

We will offer special for Saturday and Monday white pique skirts at 75 cents. They are the same you pay $1.98 for elsewhere.

MEN'S SUITS

In all colors and fancy mixtures, all up-to-date and the latest styles in summer wear. Just the thing in blue serges. Saturday for $17.50

VOILE AND RATINE DRESSES

$7.95

$1.00 A WEEK

ONLY $2.00 DOWN ONE TO A CUSTOMER

Here is the opportunity of the season. These dresses at $7.95 are positively the greatest values we have ever offered. Think of it! Beautiful Voile dresses embroidered in pure silk (Persian design), at so low a price. Think of it! You can take your choice of more than 100 dresses at this price, and pay only $2 down, then $1 a week. Have you ever heard of such an offer before?

UNITED CREDIT CLOTHING COMPANY

28 WEST MITCHELL ST.

MERGER CERTAIN TO COME NEXT YEAR, SAYS STELZLE

Harder to Unite Presbyterian Churches Than to Bring Together North and South After War, He Declares.

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

"When I came here forty-nine years ago, it was in the spirit of war. When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," was the way General Robert N. Adams, of Minneapolis put it when addressing the Northern Presbyterian Assembly yesterday. General Adams has been preaching the message of the Prince of Peace for a good many years.

After the war he became a preacher, going to the rough regions of the Northwest country. For a long time he has been superintendent of home missions in the State of Minnesota, retiring a short time ago on account of impaired health. He marched into Atlanta with General Sherman and is the only surviving general of the famous group that followed Sherman "from Atlanta to the sea."

"Not only a united republic, but a united church," is the message that General Adams is now preaching. But it seems to be more difficult to unite the church than it does to get together the citizens of the Republic. Religious prejudice dies hard. This has been made apparent in some of the meetings of the assemblies. But it isn't altogether prejudice, either, that keeps men apart. It is often sincere devotion to truth, and it often happens that both opponents have right on their side. Men change their political faiths far more readily than they do their religious convictions.

Churches Working Together.

But it is still true that men with different religious beliefs are working together far more generally than do men with different political beliefs. It isn't often that the Democrats and the Republicans sit down to map out a campaign which is to bring neither of them profit nor glory. So you Atlantans who have been smiling at what sometimes seemed like a religious row don't forget that the politicians haven't come anywhere near the church in unity and co-operation.

The Southern Assembly yesterday demonstrated that fact just stated by deciding to remain within the Federal Council of Churches. And it wasn't a very easy thing to do, either, for there were many things that hurt when they voted favorably upon the resolution. So strongly did it affect one veteran who has been fighting "the battles of the Lord" that he impulsively surrendered his seat as a commissioner, but he showed his real greatness by coming back in the afternoon, repentant. This commissioner has real convictions. He's been suffering on account of them.

Prejudice Giving Way.

But it has been revealed in the meetings of these Assemblies that every denominational prejudice and all sectarian passion must give way before the spirit of which General Adams spoke—the spirit of the Prince of Peace. There's no other way.

Next year will undoubtedly see the bringing together into one denomination of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Assemblies. Then the Northern Assembly will unite with the Reformed Church of the United States. The plan is already set up. It simply requires a little more time, for such matters can not be rushed. Then, perhaps, some time in the near future all these bodies will get together.

In many respects the Protestant Churches of the United States are already in one group, working out some great problems. Yesterday the Northern Assembly listened to Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, Secretary of the Federal Council. He brought greetings from thirty denominations and 20,000,000 Protestants in this country. These groups are working harmoniously for the building up of a great Kingdom of God in America, and they're building fast. Then the Assembly listened to Dr. David G. Wylie, who represented the "Alliance of Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian System of Belief." In this long-named society there are 30,000,000 Protestants, in every part of the world, who believe in the Presbyterian doctrine. And 30,000,000 Presbyterians can wield some influence in the world. They're doing it, too, but this isn't a subject that one of them can freely talk about.

Sees Church Unity.

Other fraternal delegates spoke to the Assembly, each of them representing a very considerable group of Christian men and women working in some part of the globe in the spirit of the "Prince of Peace," and most of them expressed a longing for the time when "all should be one."

"When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," said General Adams. Without fear of serious contradiction, the commissioners who to-day close their sessions in Atlanta may say that when another General Assembly—of any of the three branches that have been here for ten days—meets in this city, it will represent not merely one of the three, but all of them.

List to the Noises That Annoy Chicago!

CHICAGO, May 23.—When a City Council committee began its investigation of unnecessary noise in Chicago, protests were entered against roosters, pet dogs, a cow, motorcycles, electric pianos and practicing voice lessons.

Alderman Nance, chairman of the committee, read to the committeemen a list of noises against which he had received complaints, which included chiming church bells at 6 a. m., shouting of peddlers, policemen's whistles, rumbling of elevated trains, and one man wrote that a cabaret performance near his home kept his family from sleeping.

Seats on Sale for Players' Club Show

Seat sale of "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be presented by the Atlanta Players' Club May 30, begins to-day.

This year's performance is expected to prove the most brilliant of any given by the club, which comprises talented amateurs from the ranks of Atlanta society. Leading roles will be taken by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Lamar Hill and Marsh Adair.

After the performance the annual dinner of the Atlanta Players' Club will be given on the lawn of the Piedmont Driving Club, followed by a dance.

Philanthropic Club Docks Girl Workers

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The Missouri Senate wage investigating committee to-day was surprised to learn from the testimony of Frank J. Sloan, manager of the City Club, a philanthropic organization of prominent St. Louisans, that the club took no interest in the welfare of its women employees.

Sloan also said that the women were paid $5 a week and two meals a day, and that when they were away from work on account of sickness they were docked.

Women Kidnaped by Moorish Outlaws

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ORAN, ALGERIA, May 23.—Word was received here to-day from the interior that Moorish bandits attacked a mail van enroute to Taourirt, abducting two European women passengers.

The driver of the van was killed and a passenger was seriously wounded. The bandits escaped into the mountains.

PRISON CRUELTIES SHARPLY DENIED

Shelby Smith Says Convicts Are Too Tired to Hear Preaching at Night Through Week.

Charges by George W. Crabtree, a Presbyterian prison evangelist, that Fulton County convicts are cruelly treated by guards under Captain Tom Donaldson, have brought a denial from Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton County Prison Commission.

The evangelist said he was prohibited from holding evangelistic services in the camp save on Sunday. Chairman Smith denies the cruelty charges, but admits the other, saying the welfare of the prisoners demands that no services be held on working days.

Further than to deny cruel treatment, Captain Donaldson declined to answer the charges made against him. Chairman Smith himself had little to say except about the evangelistic services.

"Among the 700 prisoners in this county are ten murderers and many other desperate characters, who obviously make many restrictions necessary," he said. "They work hard every day, and when they get through they need a bath and a good night's rest. To hold religious services at night, after a hard day's work, would be impractical for the prisoners, impractical for the guards and impractical for the other attendants. I favor holding religious services only on Sunday."

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Rain Spoils Jobbers' Day at Ball Park

Friday has been billed as Jobbers and Ladies' Day at Ponce DeLeon Park, but with the rain falling steadily, prospects are that the game will have to be postponed.

"Jobbers' Day" was arranged by Vice President Charles Nunnally of the Atlanta Baseball Association in honor of the jobbers of Georgia and Alabama, who are in session at the Piedmont Hotel.

The plan was to give the visitors an automobile trip around the city, winding up at the ball park. The rain god is holding sway, though, and the jobbers are planning to sit quietly about the hotel and rejoice with the farmers over the saving of the crop.

Court Is Baffled by Trust Co. Statistics

Judge Pendleton, lost in the wilderness of figures in the Guarantee Trust and Banking Company case, wants a Moses to lead him out, and Friday morning named C. J. Metz for the task.

Even a blackboard failed to make the figures submitted by auditors and the two sets of attorneys "gee," and Judge Pendleton named Mr. Metz to secure the information essential in deciding whether or not a receivership is necessary.

The task is expected to take two weeks, and the case has been adjourned for that length of time.

Negro Saved From Mob in Nebraska

LINCOLN, NEBR., May 23.—Walter Balew, negro, charged with attacking a white woman of Falls City, is in the State Penitentiary here for safekeeping.

Sheriff Aldrich said he purposed to keep Balew in the penitentiary because of the intense feeling against him at Falls City. Yesterday a mob tried to storm the jail at Hiawatha, Kans., to get Balew.

OCTOBER WEDDING MOVED UP TO MAY

Manager of Elite Theater and Fiancee "Couldn't Wait" for Day Set 4 Months Hence.

"We just couldn't wait, so we got married."

Pretty Madeline Arnold, that was, in her dove-cote apartment at 25 East Third Street, thus explained the why and wherefores of her unexpected marriage Thursday afternoon to H. S. Hossbeln, manager of the Elite Theater.

"I'm going to the show this afternoon," Miss Arnold informed her mother, Mrs. H. E Arnold, Thursday as she left her home, 780 East North Avenue.

On the corner she met Mr. Hossbeln, who had a marriage license tucked away in his inside pocket. They walked to the residence of the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. En route they were joined by two friends of the bridegroom.

No sign of storm appeared on the horizon of their new life until the bride and bridegroom entered the home of the former's parents.

Arm in arm, they stood before the former Miss Arnold's mother and chorused:

"We're married."

Silence reigned for two minutes while Mrs. Arnold was recovering from the shock. Then she kissed her daughter and welcomed the new acquisition to the family.

Mrs. Hossbeln's father is connected with the Woodward Lumber Company.

CATTLE MALADY KILLS MAN.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—T. Dudley Riggs, well-known society man, died here after a long illness from pemphigus, a disease generally confined to cattle. It is thought he contracted

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Harvard Grads at Reunion Stage Play

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Starting with a luncheon at the Hotel Jefferson at noon to-day, followed by a business meeting, the Seventeenth Annual Convention and Reunion of the Associated Harvard Clubs, composed of Harvard graduates from all over the United States, began its two days' session.

At 4 p. m. following the business session the delegates to the convention will be taken in autos to Sunset Inn, where a luncheon will be served on the veranda of the inn. To-night "The Perpetual Student," a musical play, will be staged by the members of the St. Louis Harvard Club.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Ladies' Maids Rebel; 'Hookists' Plan Union

CHICAGO, May 23.—Ladies' maids in Chicago are in open revolt, and efforts were being made to get enough of them in rebellion to form a union, affiliated with the new Household Workers Union. Those who want to organize are "hookists," private hair dressers and private manicures.

The "hookists" declare that present styles, which compel them to hook a 250-pound woman into a tube gown designed for the lines of a 120-pound figure, are giving them the "lacers' arm," akin to the "housemaids' knee."

Symptoms are a swelling of the arm muscles near the shoulder, followed by permanent lameness.

ATLANTA HORSE WINNER.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—Among the winners of the blue ribbons and cups in Thursday's events at the seventh annual exhibition of the Greenville Horse Show Association was Helmadot, owned by D. N. McCullough, Atlanta, Ga.

CROXONE SOON RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

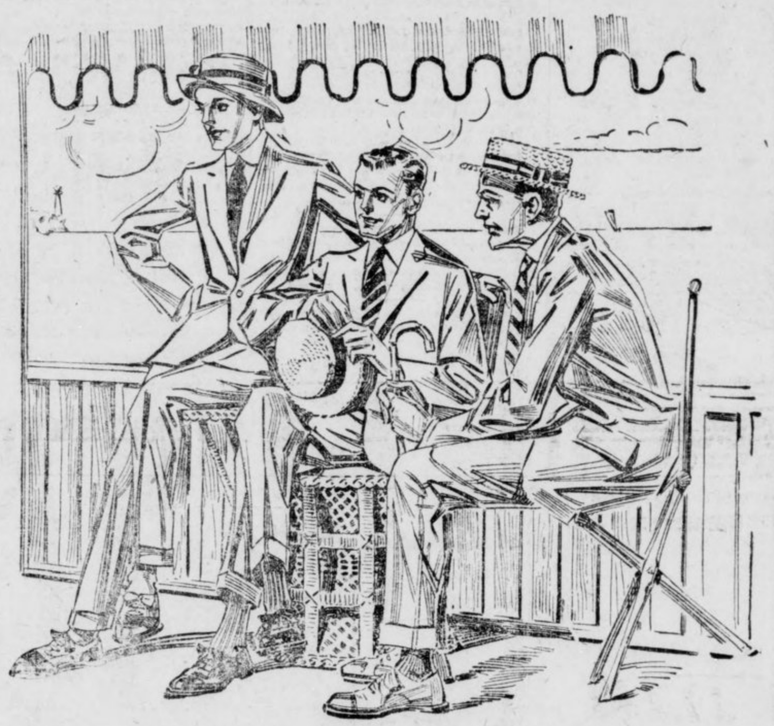
It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long-standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle. All druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

ASKIN & MARINE COMPANY



$15 $18 $20

Three Big Values In Men's Suits

—Attention, men! Here are three BIG suit values! An eastern manufacturer offered us these summer suits at a very low price, rather than run the risk of having them left on his hands. We took the entire lot, divided them among our stores, and NOW they are offered to you in three special lots—$15, $18 and $20.

—There are Norfolks, two-button styles and three-button styles. There are plain serges, fancy serges, and up-to-date weaves and patterns of all kinds. Every suit is fully guaranteed. We'll be glad to have you open a charge account.

Summer Styles For Women

—First, there are dainty ready-to-wear dresses in all of the new styles, at prices from $2.50 upward.

—Secondly, there is a splendid variety of lingerie and tailored waists in both high and low neck styles, at prices from $1 upward.

—Thirdly, there are many attractive hats in various styles, specially priced for this week.

—You can find everything you want, and our charge account plan will make the paying part easy.

Askin & Marine Co.

78 Whitehall Street

White City Park Now Open

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured; therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps. DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

Atlanta New York Paris

TO-MORROW

The Clearaway of Junior Suits

Junior Department---Third Floor

In making these new prices no thought has been taken of the excellent style points, of the real worth of the suits or of the fact that those who need suits and who see these would gladly pay many dollars more than they are now marked. But this is a Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company clearaway, and prices have been made accordingly. She who will travel this summer, she who will stay at home—both will want just such suits and now is the opportunity for both to own them and to save.

$30.00, $35.00 & $37.50 Junior Suits..... $18.50

This includes all Junior Suits that were formerly priced between $30.00 and $37.50. A fine variety! Silk poplins, Bedford cords, serges, shepherd checks—plain tailored suits, charming Balkan suits with elegant touches of trimmings.

All $25.00 & $27.50 Junior Suits.... $12.50

Which means not one but that is at least half-price! There are shepherd checks, navy serges, striped weaves in black and white, and brown and white, just as chic and smart as ever $25.00 and $27.50 suits have been this spring. Bulgarian blouses and tailored suits.

Here Is the Way Children's and Misses' Millinery Is Priced

Girls' Hats that were $1.50 and $2.00 are 59c.

These are colored straws—in many shapes——trimmed with ribbons—bands and bows.

Girls' Hats that were $2.50 are 95c.

Rough and fancy straws in a happy variety of shapes and trimmings—ribbons and flowers.

$5.00, $6.00 and $7.50 Hats are $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

Fine choice here! Chip and milan and rough straws, charmingly bedecked with flowers and ribbons, with a scattering few of tailored hats.

The finer $10.00 and $12.50 Hats are all $5.00.

All the better hats—the fanciful affairs that are trimmed by milliners who specialize in girls' hats—now $5.00. Choosing will be a delight—the shapes, the colors, the trimmings are so varied.

The New "Swim Easy" Bathing Suit Is Best for the Junior Miss

Because it is so very practical.

It is all a one-piece suit. The knickerbockers are attached to the skirt. It slips on over the head. There are but four buttons to the whole suit. Two at the waist—which is adjustable, may be made large or small, the fullness is taken up in a box plait down the front—two at the yoke.

And the "Swim Easy" is just as attractive as smart tailoring can make it. In black, red and navy, light weight mohair trimmed with braids and folds. Priced at $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, $3.00 to $4.50.

Sizes ten to eighteen years.

Girls' Bathing Suits at $1.00 and $1.50—these are the little bloomer suits without the skirts in navy mohair—prettily trimmed around the collar and sleeves.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

The Dingbat Family

The Old Man Got Off Light

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Herriman

Dauntless Durham

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

Best Sporting Page In Oklabraska

Three Corners Palladium

Score and Gossip of the Big Game

My Impressions

By Katrina.

It was just too lovely.

I wore my natty Waltrous suit.

The enthusiasm was great. Several Three Corners girls were at the game, but the Bulgarian belt hasn't reached Three Corners yet. They were quite out of fashion.

My hero, Durham, defeated the cur Desmond.

I know he would. I don't know what the

...was, but oh, I'm so happy! ...ve only Durham. He is so hang...

Durham Wins Great Game, 18-5.

By Sam Chain.

All the beauty and divelry of Three Corners glyued the ball park yesterday, when the Dauntless Durhams and the Desperate Desmonds clashed in the contest for supremacy.

The ball park was the fullest for all brass-of-speed, and, with its customary enterprise the Palladium was represented by its expert.

New York's famous Pale Gravats never saw such an assemblage. Among those present were Mrs. Patsy Pastry, daughter of our well-known dough merchant; Hank Hancock, who quit his barber shop for the day; our worthy Sheriff, Julius Harbingers; the warden of the jail, who took the prisoner with him, but he might break out with the warden was chasing Durham.

The game was replete with brilliancy. Durham made Hal Chase look clym, while Desmond batted 'em over the fence.

Long may the national sport flourish says the Palladium.

Notes of the Big Game

John Fonty, the fiery stable keeper, says he could pitch as good as Durham. Well, why didn't he, say we. Swat Milligan, of the Polson Oaks, batted him out of the box.

Katrina has made a lot of the local girls jealous. Who took her out buggy riding Sunday? Ah, there, Cliff Dexter, rich!

Nothing to the way Dauntless Durham, the college boy hero, has the local boys. The girls won't look at any of them since Durham hit the town. The Pink Front store is using him to advertise their line.

Many rumors are afloat that Desperate Desmond is an awful villain, and Three Corners is agog. Jim Thorpe, our brave constable, says he will put Desmond, silk hat or no silk hat, in the calaboose the first break Desmond makes.

But such rumors exist about most every one.

Mr. Desmond came to our office yesterday and paid for 5 years' subscription to the Palladium. "The Palladium is the national paper, and its editorials are the best ever written," said Mr. Desmond. Thanks.

Durham smokes a pipe right out on the street. That may go in the effete cities, but it's not the class in Three. It should be took up by our town council and stood against it.

There will be a tango tea in aid of Days of '76 Hose Company at the firehouse to-night. Admission including lady 25 cents. Come one, come all.

After the Game Dauntless Durham Says:

WE GIVE

Polly and Her Pals

"Get Your Goat" Gets Your Goat

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Cliff Sterrett

Us Boys

Skinny's Slip Was Quite Permissible

Registered United States Patent Office.

By Tom McNamara

The Five Frankforters

A Romance of Great Wealth as Played by Money Kings.

By KATHRYN KEY.

Copyright, 1913, by the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"Little Jacob" broke the spell. "May I speak, then? I think that such a marriage would break up our family—would utterly destroy us. We are strong because we stand together—one in blood, religion, ambition. What has a stranger to do with us? What does he know of our ways—or we of the ways of a Prince of the Taunus? What does he care for the faith of our fathers? What can he be to us, for all his high rank, but the stranger within our gates? What does he know of us and our deepest feelings—what does he know of our little Charlotte's heart? And I say it is folly—or madness, as my grandfather would have said!"

In implacable anger, but cool and quiet withal, Solomon said: "You are wrong, nephew. You speak as an ignorant boy. But my father had a wider outlook on life—"

Frau Gudula had been watching the faces of her sons as Jacob expressed his earnest feelings. There was a mist of deep sadness drawn over her features as she rose at the sound of Solomon's impassively determined voice: "I am not sure, my sons. Our youngest has spoken for HIM." And, attended by sacred memories, Frau Gudula left the room.

The air was very tense as Jacob spoke to his uncle: "Your father did not deal in daughters as a speculation."

The bankers had, indeed, always stood together, but an onlooker must have questioned whether the animosity that was growing between uncle and nephew in these throbbing moments would not prove a destructive force too great for the oneness of these five men to bear.

Solomon looked sternly at Jacob. "That is in both senses of the word—IM-pertinent."

"Well, I wish I had not spoken," answered Jacob—but his tone was bitter with growing misunderstanding. And later this feeling was to bear strange fruit.

"You have a right to your opinion—and to speak it. That is the rule of our family," said Amschel, the eldest.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl, with Neapolitan airiness. But the possibility of a break was stemmed by the necessity of standing together against a common foe—for just then Rose, in strange old mob-cap and uniform of calico print, came in to announce a guest who had surely never before seen servitor so garbed.

"The Prince of Klausthal"—and attired in snuff-colored, cape-topped greatcoat and high bronze hat of the latest Beau Nash style, His High and Mightiness entered the old fashioned home of Frau Gudula, the Jewess of Frankfort.

The bankers knew they were to be snubbed, yet the courtesy of the home and the claims of business demanded that they put as good a face upon the matter as possible. On Rose's announcement Amschel had exclaimed with naive joy: "The first of our royal relatives to call." But however royal the Prince's air, it was not marked by any sense of kinship!

"Er—how do you like Frankfort?" asked Amschel.

Frankfort indeed! "I am very much interested in this part of the city, which I have not before visited," said the royal relative.

"It is curious, isn't it?" spoke the Neapolitan brother with sympathy.

"Very curious," said the Prince dryly.

"But we are used to it," said Amschel with eager unction. And then a long, awkward silence fell.

Bad Business.

At last, with suave elegance, the Prince broke the spell of silence: "Gentlemen—my cousin, the Duke Gustavus, has informed me that he will call on you to-day—and with what purpose he is coming."

Solomon broke in eagerly: "It will interest me to hear what your Highness said to him—your opinion of this marriage."

"As a matter of business," interposed Amschel.

The Prince answered with every drop of royal blood marshalling indignant forces back of his easy tone: "I confine myself, gentlemen, to such business as is my own—those affairs which you have, till now, so ably conducted for me. I am here to ask you to transfer my money to a banking firm in Paris, with whom in future I propose to deal."

"Is your Highness dissatisfied with our management of your affairs?" asked Amschel, the ubiquitous.

"Oh, no. But as by my cousin's marriage, I shall have the honor of being distantly connected with your family, I consider it inconvenient that you should continue the administration of my finances. I could not so burden my relatives—however distant."

Solomon summoned dignity to his aid. "I entirely agree with his Highness. I should much dislike to benefit—in business—by my connection with your family."

The duel was on. "I am glad we are in accord. Perhaps you will agree with me in this—since your family is now ennobled—that financial obligations are not the worst our aristocracy may incur? May I request you to convey my compliments to the ladies of your family—and permit me to wish you a good day."

But Solomon's lucky day in his father's house had not begun very propitiously. In fact, this day, for all its golden sunshine, did not seem to be a bearer of joy. The old Castle of Neustadt seemed to feel something in the air—and at the state breakfast a hard-faced little Princess Evelyn had presided behind the great gold coffee urn. "Gustavus," she had asked with all her heart in her eyes, "how soon will some one else pour your coffee for you?"

"No fairer face will ever peek roguishly at me from behind the old urn"— began Gustavus in a bantering tone, but suddenly the light that may shine for a man in but one true pair of eyes cast its soft radiance over Gustavus' soul—"Evelyn, Evelyn—little cousin"—he breathed so softly that even the attendant lackeys could not hear—"Evelyn—my God is it true—you could care perhaps?" And the name of his maker had here been uttered so reverently by the lips of Gustavus of Taunus.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Frances Connally entertained at tea at the Driving Club Friday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, a guest of Miss Carolyn King, and Miss Edith Bowron, of Birmingham, who is visiting Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Tea was served in the pink room. The table around which the guests were seated had as a centerpiece a vase of Dorothy Perkins roses. The mints and ices were in pink and silver candle sticks with pink shades added another touch of color.

Miss Connally's guests were Misses Edith Bowron, Elizabeth Boyd, Carolyn King, Elizabeth Morgan, Lula Dean Jones, Hildreth Burton-Smith, Nancy Prince, Courtenay Harrison, Nancy Hill Hopkins, Eloise Oliver, Harriet Orr, Charles Owens, Mary Robinson and Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Mrs. Selden Hostess at Tea.

Mrs. G. K. Selden gave an informal 5 o'clock tea Thursday afternoon for Miss Anne Selden, her house guest; Miss Isabel Clarke, of Augusta, a guest of Miss Eloise Stewart; Mrs. Mary Cooley, who will be married in June, and Miss Lillian Beattey, of Columbus, Ohio, a guest of Mrs. Henry Troutman. The attractive apartment was decorated in sweetpeas and carnations, sweetpeas being as a centerpiece on the tea table.

Mrs. Seldon received her guests wearing a lingerie gown of white crepe. Twenty guests enjoyed the informality of the afternoon.

Musical Recital.

At the Barili School of Music, Saturday afternoon, a recital will be given by Miss Edith Dunson and Miss Elizabeth Hancock. Following is the program:

Piano Solos, "To Spring," "The Butterfly," "Anitra's Dance," "In the Hall of the Mountain King," Grieg—Miss Hancock.

Aria, "Mignon," Ambroise Thomas—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solos, "The Mill," "Will-o'-the-Wisp," Jensen—Miss Hancock.

Songs, "I Know Now the Great Golden Sun," Ryder; "The Maiden and the Butterfly," D'Albert; "At Dawning," Cadman; "He Loves Me," Chadwick—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solo, "Sonata Pathetique," Beethoven—Miss Hancock.

Song, "The Loreley," Liszt—Miss Dunstn.

Dinner-Dance at Club.

There will be an informal dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday evening, for which several informal parties are being arranged.

Evening Party.

Miss Annie Winship Bates will entertain a number of boys and girls at an evening party Friday, May 30, at her mother's home on West Peachtree Street.

For Miss Hartzog.

Miss Irene Hartzog, a bride-elect, was tendered a bridge party Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Irby Bagwell. Guests were: Mrs. J. O. Watson, Mrs. C. N. Dennis, Mrs. W. M. Lewis, Mrs. John Burdine, Mrs. R. D. Ison, Mrs. Jeff Green, Mrs. A. J. Wilson and the Misses Edith Daniel, Arline Goree, Ruby Lawton and Irene Bearden.

Peanut Hunt at Mrs. Shewmake's.

Circle No. 7 of the First Methodist Church, of which Miss Laura Wyatt is chairman, will give a peanut hunt Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Claude Shewmake's residence. If the weather is inclement the hunt will be postponed.

Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. William A. Wimbish entertained informally at luncheon Thursday for Miss Lula Vergehas, of South Georgia. Guests were a few young people.

Music at Jewish Temple.

Friday evening the entire 8 o'clock service at the Jewish Temple will be devoted to music. The public will be welcome.

PROGRAM.

Organ prelude—Gade.
Service—Dunkley.
Solo, "Unto Thee Will I Sing," Huhn—Mr. John Mullin.
Anthem, "By Babylon's Wave," Gounod.
Organ solo, "At Evening," Buck.
Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., organist and director.

Dance at Segadlo's.

There will be a dance at Segadlo's Friday evening, given by a number of young men.

Bagmen of Bagdad Parade in Columbus

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—The Grand Council of the Georgia-Florida division of the United Commercial Travelers, in annual session here, will conclude its business session late this afternoon, after which the parade of the Bagmen of Bagdad will take place.

To-night at 7:30 o'clock the Bagmen of Bagdad will hold a business session, when they will elect officers for the year. The business session will be followed by a dance at the Racine Hotel.

Rev. B. F. Fraser to Preach to Veterans

"The Soldier's Spirit" will be the subject of a morning sermon by the Rev. B. F. Fraser at the St. Paul's Methodist Church Sunday.

The occasion will be in honor of Confederate veterans of Atlanta. A special musical program has been arranged.

The evening service will be in charge of the children of the church Sunday school. Songs and recitations will be innovations.

RAILWAY TO TRY WIRELESS.

PITTSBURG, May 23.—The Pennsylvania Railroad may soon establish a wireless telegraph station in Pittsburg, to connect this city with Philadelphia and other division points.

PERSONALS

Miss Emily Cassin, who is ill of diphtheria, is being missed frtm the social affairs of the week.

Miss Louise Watts entertained informally at bridge Friday afternoon for a number of visitors.

Miss Irene Nickerson, of Athens, left Friday afternoon after being the guest of Mrs. Hilliard Spalding for a week.

Mrs. A. W. Hill will entertain a few friends at tea at the Driving Club Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Walter Keenan, of Columbia, S. C., a guest of Miss Helen Taylor.

Mrs. D. B. Osborne gave a bridge party Friday afternoon in honor of two brides of the past winter, Mrs. George Varden and Mrs. Edward King.

Mr. and Mrs. George Addy, of Pittsburg, are guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wheeler. They are en route home after spending three months at their winter home at Deland, Fla.

The box party that Miss Ruth Northen was to have given Saturday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, guest of Miss Carolyn King, has been postponed because of the death of her kinsman, Mr. B. S. Walker, Jr.

Mrs. Fred Lee Bennett, of Rochester, N. Y., who was Miss Mary Elizabeth Holcomb, of Atlanta, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philo Holcomb. Mrs. Bennett will be in the South until after the marriage of her brother, Mr. Alfred Holcomb, to Miss Mary Rosser, June 5.

Mrs. Strachan Barrett, of Henderson, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. Virgil Perryman, and will remain with her through next week. Among the informal affairs tendered her was a bridge party by Mrs. William Rushton, and an informal tea Friday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Mr. R. W. Tidwell, Mr. Frank Tidwell and Miss Lilien Tidwell leave next week for their country home, "Poplar Grove," on Williams Mill Road, where they will spend the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. McCall, Howard McCall, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Obear, Jr., and children will join them and be away from the city until fall. Reuben Bruce Tidwell, of Denver, also will spend the summer with his grandfather, Mr. Tidwell.

Odd Fellows Give Third Degree to 20

A meeting of Odd Fellows will be held Friday evening when Fulton Lodge will confer the third degree on twenty or more candidates for Capital Lodge No. 60.

This will be the degree contested for at the coming session of the Grand Lodge of Georgia in Savannah next week. Fulton Lodge team is to be a contestant for the prize.

Bryan to Proclaim Direct Vote Senators

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Secretary Bryan is preparing to make formal announcement of the ratification of the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of United States Senators.

It will mark the closing chapter of a reform movement which started eighty-seven years ago.

MAYOR ASSERTS SCHOOL MUST COME FIRST

Insists Girls' High Take Precedence Over All Other Matters in June Budget.

Mayor Woodward declared Friday he would urge an appropriation for a new English-Commercial Girls' High School building to take precedence over other matters when the finance committee prepares the June budget. The Mayor said there could be no question that this building was the city's most important need, and he would insist on the money being provided for it if everything else had to be sacrificed.

The Board of Education Thursday adopted a resolution insisting that Council provide $75,000 for this building. Members of the finance committee promised the amount the first of the year.

Girls Now Poorly Housed.

Hundreds of girls seeking a commercial education are being housed in small rented dwelling houses, and members of the Board of Education assert that conditions are intolerable.

The finance committee will meet Friday to begin work on the new budget. With only $120,000 available, Council has recommended an expenditure of $30,000 on the Whitehall Street regrading. The board of trustees of the Grady Hospital wants an additional $25,000 for a nurse's dormitory. All the departments want additional appropriations. If the new high school building is provided for virtually all other special appropriations will have to be sacrificed.

Smith Sees Tax Dodging.

Chairman Charles W. Smith, of the tax committee, declared Thursday he believed there were nearly 1,200 pupils attending the public schools whose parents were not paying any taxes. He said the fact that many were not real estate owners was nothing against them, but that they were dodging their street and sanitary taxes.

A list of the pupils has been secured and is being checked with the tax books. Chairman Smith believes a notification of parents of school children that they were delinquent in their taxes would result in immediate payment.

BRYAN TO SPEAK AT AUBURN.

MOBILE, ALA., May 23.—Definite acceptance from Secretary of State Bryan to an invitation to deliver an address on Tuesday morning, June 3, at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute commencement at Auburn has been received here.

FORT MOULTRIE GUN EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR

Coast Artillery Captain and Three Privates Victims—Four Others Seriously Hurt.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—Captain Guy Hanna, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A., died shortly before 11 o'clock to-day at the Fort Moultrie Hospital, his being the fourth death from the explosion of a 4.7 inch gun at Battery Lord, Fort Moultrie, last night at 9:20 o'clock, when officers and men were at night target practice.

The other dead are Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton, and the seriously hurt are Privates Swaggerty and Steinspringer, Hospital Steward Lamar, and a corporal whose name was not learned. The corporal's right shoulder was torn off. Several others received minor injuries.

Two Killed Outright.

Privates Baxter and Christian were killed outright. Their bodies were cut in two. Private Dalton died three hours later in the post hospital. Captain Hanna was struck by a fragment of the breech lock of the big gun, which tore a hole in his side. Captain Clarke and Lieutenant Perry, between whom he was standing, escaped without injury.

The injured were rushed to the post hospital, nearby, and physicians were called from Charleston to assist the army surgeons in caring for the victims.

Mrs. Radcliff Saved By Insanity Decision

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—Dr. L. N. Jones, Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum at Milledgeville, testifying here as an alienist, declared that Mrs. Jennie Mae Radcliff is insane and William Green is in his right mind.

Upon this testimony depended whether or not Mrs. Radcliff, charged with killing her husband, George M. Radcliff, a Columbus merchant, and Green, charged with killing O. D. Kitchens, a young insurance man, would go to trial.

Judge Price Gilbert committed Mrs. Radcliff to the asylum. If she recovers her mental faculties she will stand trial. Green will likely be put on trial Monday.

White City Park Now Open

Girl Faints When Telephone Bill Is $58

BETHLEHEM, PA., May 23.—Mary Smak, a pretty Hungarian domestic, not knowing what the rules or regulations of the telephone company were, decided to call her sweetheart on the telephone at Cleveland. She went into the booth in Gottlieb Huebner's candy store to-day and got connections with Cleveland.

Fifty-eight minutes she remained there. After she was through Huebner was told that the bill was $58. He informed the girl, who fainted. She earns only $2.50 a week.

Clerical Onions Are Barred by Church

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—The Lutheran Ministerium, the supreme body of that sect, decided at the sixty-sixth annual convention that hereafter ministers of that denomination must not engage in outside work.

One minister has been ordained thirty-seven years and in that time has preached three sermons, but this was not as flagrant as one who raised onions, presumably for market, or another who was an undertaker on the side.

CN

Spring Cleaning Time Is Here

Don't be satisfied with the "top-cleaning" which pleases but doesn't protect.

Use CN and make your home pure-clean—sure-clean.

CN removes dirt and cuts grease better than ordinary cleansers. It is a powerful disinfectant and a safe deodorant.

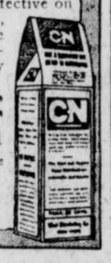
CN is equally effective on woodwork, marble, tiling, etc. Make this spring cleaning thorough by using CN.

All Grocers, Druggists and Department Stores

10c, 25c, 50c, $1

The yellow package with the gable-top.

West Disinfecting Co. Atlanta, Ga.



"PROGRESS" REFRIGERATORS

Are built entirely of steel; their construction renders them absolutely sanitary, durable and economical. They are germ proof, non-absorbent and easily cleaned. Every refrigerator essential is combined in the "Progress." Reasonably priced, at

$13.50 to $40

MARTIN & KNOTT FURNITURE CO.

135 Whitehall Street

U. C. V. REUNION
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

Southern Railway

Premier Carrier of the South

$3.00 Round Trip From Atlanta $3.00

Correspondingly low fares from other points.

Tickets on sale May 24-25-26-27-28, and for trains scheduled to arrive at Chattanooga before noon May 29.

Return limit June 5, with privilege of extension.

Stopovers at all Stations.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

May 26—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.	12:15 noon
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
May 27—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.

4 Regular Trains Daily 4

CITY TICKET OFFICE, NO. 1 PEACHTREE STREET.
J. L. MEEK, A. G. P. A. R. L. BAYLOR, D. P. A.
ATLANTA, GA.

READ GEORGIAN WANT ADS.

KEELY COMPANY

A Rummage Sale

On Second Floor

Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Waists

At $5 Each

A Special Saturday Sale

This department, preparatory to a fresh inflow of mid-summer merchandise, is clearing its shelves and tables of ONE OF A KIND STYLES--dresses soiled in displays and broken size assortments.

To effect an immediate disposal, they are ridiculously underpriced. They are to be sold for a final clearance, and are not EXCHANGEABLE or RETURNABLE.

In the collection you will find great pickings and unusual bargains.

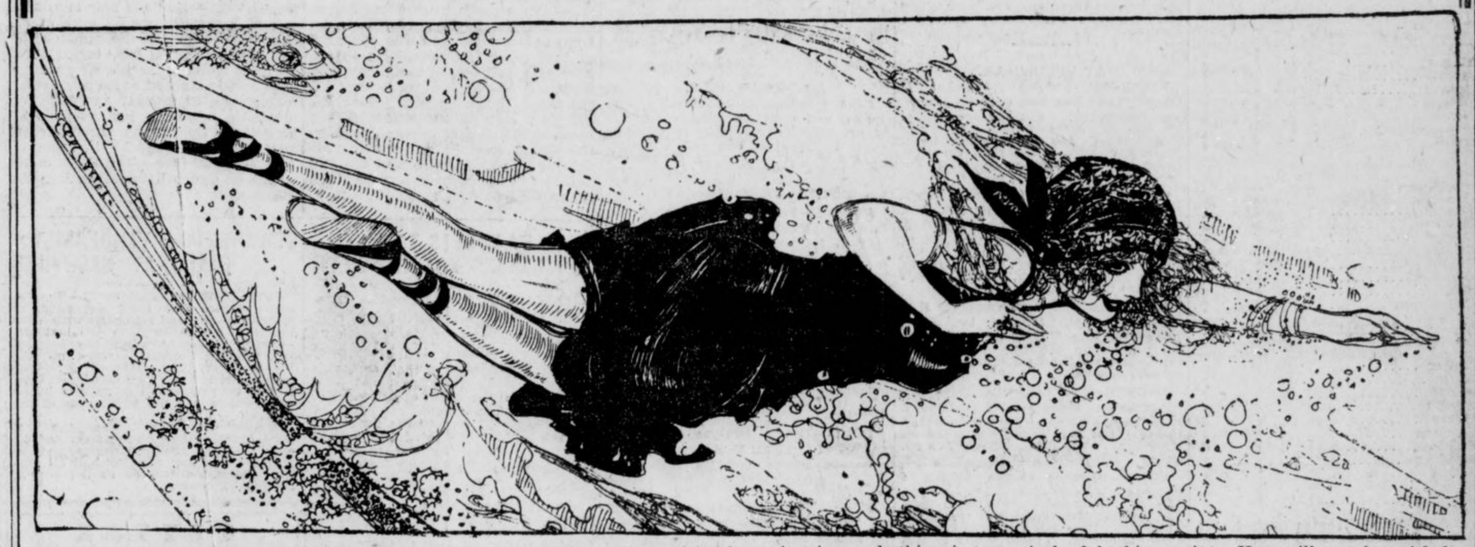
Cream Serge Suits	Hair-line Stripe Suits
Black Pongee Suits	Natural Pongee Suits
Colored Serge Suits	Taffeta Silk Suits
Taffeta Silk Dresses	One-piece Serge Dresses
Black Voile Skirts	French Serge Skirts
Chiffon Blouse Waists	Lace Trimmed Waists
Lingerie Waists	Allover Waists
Linen Coat Suits	One-piece Linen Dresses

Your Choice, Five Dollars

KEELY COMPANY

ENJOY LIFE—GO SWIMMING

By EVELYN WREN



THE song of the surf, the beckoning of the breakers, the lure of the lake invite us. The water fascinates, allures and enthralls. We act well and wisely to heed its call and—

Go swimming!

The intimate contact with the water, the overcoming of this element, the struggle and the conquest are inspiring. The laughter comes to your heart, the joy speaks from your eyes and intense happiness is yours.

The opportunities for this delight are at hand. Popular Piedmont Park is the scene of much of this wholesome gayety. East Lake is the mecca for those who appreciate the benefits of this recreation.

Did you ever bathe or swim when a gentle rain was falling? The raindrops tickle your nose, they confuse your sight, they tantalize and tease, adding to the joy of conquest. They help to make you feel the joy of living, the pleasure of happy combat with the water.

If you can't swim, learn. Wade out into the cool, refreshing water, just as far as you can keep your footing, and get acquainted. Laugh at the water, coax and love it, but never let it guess that you are a wee bit afraid. Let it learn that you intend to be victorious, splendidly victorious, as your acquaintance proceeds.

By and by the water will yield to your efforts. You will glide along as if it consciously aided and abetted your joy of conquest. The knowledge that you have overcome those first few fearful thoughts, that you are at home in the water and the pleasure in the bracing, physical contact inspires and cheers you.

The first requisite for swimming or bathing is a good suit. The suit must be cut properly, fit comfortably and be becoming. It detracts much from your first feeling of helplessness if the bathing suit is becoming. When you are expert you will judge of other details which add to your progress—flat trimmings, elimination of superfluous weight and ease of donning.

The J. M. High Company has bathing suits for the novice and the expert, for the maid and matron, for the youngster and his dad—for everyone who appreciates the value of the best of recreations.

The simple suits, well made and cut according to the new lines, are a delight to the beginner. They carry the flat trimming or pretty turn-over collars which will not dangle, damp and dripping, in your face. Every detail is carefully planned to aid, not impede, your progress.

When you first go swimming your costume will be rather elaborate. You will wish a pair of the bright, pretty bathing slippers and the whole line of accessories. You will choose your cap with a view to becomingness and be far less conscious of your lack of skill than if you looked and felt a dowd.

When you can really swim you will become an expert in choosing your bathing costume. You will know that the pretty sashes, the long ties and the large collars give a gorgeous effect on land, but prove real hindrances in the water. You will learn that your suit can be pretty, yet practical.

That swimming may be enjoyed to its fullest, J. M. High Company has selected the most practical of bathing suits. You will not be misled into the purchase of a suit that will prove impossible for swimming, though attractive on the beach. Every suit is practical. Moreover, they are all fashionable. They embrace all the timely touches with no loss of practicability. You can appear well, feel comfortable and swim with little effort.

These suits range in material from serviceable self-material, braid, striped material and stitch-mohair to shining silk. The trimmings are in ing. The prices begin at $2.50, for a pretty, practical suit, to $15.00 for a handsome, practical one. The caps, in all colors and a great variety of becoming styles, cost from 50c to $1.50. The slippers, picturesque with their long ankle lacings, are priced at 25c to $1.00.

There is no exercise so physically beneficial. There is no pleasure so intensely wholesome. Every muscle is brought into play. The chest broadens and grows strong. The mental attitude is positive and inspiring. To swim is to live at your fullest.

J. M. High Company is co-operating with us this year. They are ready with bathing suits, bathing accessories and bathing suggestions. Let's go see them and then—

Let's go swimming!

J.M.HIGH COMPANY.

EX-DIXIE STARS ARE SHINING IN MAJOR LEAGUE

EX-SOUTHERN Leaguers are making a noise like a slide trombone up in the select circles of the National League. Some of them are high up, some low down but they're all there with something.

For instance:

Slim Sallee, ex-Baron, is the champion rescuer of the league. Seven times he has been sent to the rescue of wavering hurlers—a high compliment to be paid a southpaw.

Rube Benton, ex-Lookout, holds the league record for wildness (with Toney of the Cubs), with an average of five and a quarter free passes per game.

Stengle, late of Montgomery, is the premier slugger, with 37 total bases to his credit.

These figures tell you what the graduates from the Southern League are doing, in comparison with the other guys in President Lynch's circuit:

Cincinnati.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Fromme	8	5	2
Packard	7	4	5
Johnson	11	5	4
Suggs	7	3	3
Smith	4	2	3
Harter	5	0	5
Benton	7	6	0
Brown	5	1	4
Betts	1	0	1
Released Men		6	5

Boston.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Perdue	6	3	0
James	7	0	1
Tyler	7	1	0
Hess	4	2	0
Dickson	1	0	1
Strand	1	0	1
Released Men		2	5

Brooklyn.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Ragon	9	4	2
Rucker	10	2	3
Allen	8	4	1
Curtis	6	1	3
Stack	6	1	3
Yingling	1	1	1

Chicago.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Lavender	9	6	5
Cheney	13	2	6
Smith	6	4	3
Richie	5	4	0
Toney	6	4	2
Humphries	6	1	5
Leifield	3	1	2
Pierce	4	2	1
Overall	2	1	0
Relbach	2	1	2

New York.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Tesreau	9	6	1
Crandall	7	1	3
Ames	6	2	1
Mathewson	7	0	1
Memaree	6	4	1
Marquard	4	2	1
Wiltse	6	1	5

Philadelphia.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Chalmers	5	1	2
Mayer	5	2	3
Moore	3	2	1
Seaton	10	3	3
Brennan	6	3	2
Nelson	2	1	2
Alexander	6	1	1
Rixey	3	2	1

Pittsburg.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Adams	9	4	1
Hendrix	12	3	3
Cooper	6	3	4
Robinson	10	3	5
Camnitz	9	3	3
O'Toole	8	6	4
Ferry	2	0	2
Conzelman	1	1	1

St. Louis.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Griner	7	1	0
Burk	2	2	1
Sallee	12	5	7
Perritt	9	7	6
Geyer	6	0	6
Harmon	7	5	3
Steele	6	4	0
Redding	1	1	1
Willis	1	3	4
Hunt	2	1	1
Konetchy	1	0	1

On a basis of games pitched to a decision, Mathewson has been the steadiest pitcher in the league this spring—three passes in seven battles. Benton and Toney have been the wildest. Seaton and Hendrix have been the strike-out stars.

Myers, of Boston, the man who beat "Mary" Calhoun out of a job, has the best base stealing record so far. Stengel, of Brooklyn, who came in only last fall, is the premier slugger. Record:

Baserunning.

Players.	G.	SB	Pct.
Myers, Boston	24	12	.500
Devore, New York	15	6	.400
Murray, New York	26	10	.385
Herzog, New York	29	11	.379
Lobert, Philadelphia	25	9	.360
Clymer, Chicago	24	8	.333
Doyle, New York	25	8	.320
Bescher, Cincinnati	22	7	.318
Marsans, Cincinnati	25	7	.280
Merkle, New York	29	8	.276
Leach, Chicago	15	4	.267
Miller, Chicago	19	5	.263
Stengel, Brooklyn	27	7	.259
Mitchell, Chicago	27	7	.259
Grant, Cincinnati	24	6	.250
Snodgrass, New York	24	6	.250
Burns, New York	28	7	.250

Long Hitting.

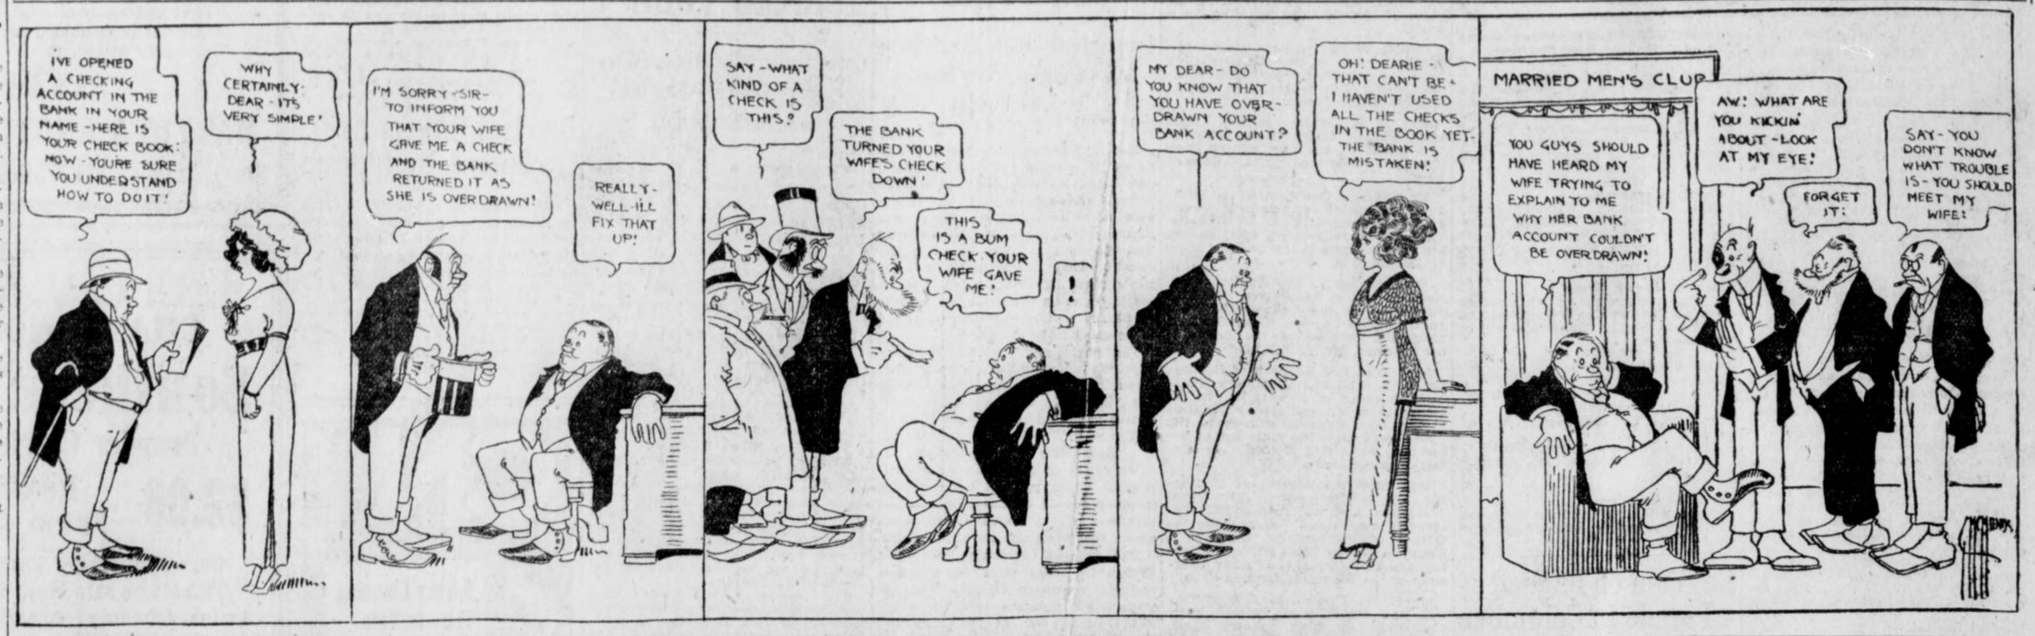
Players.	2B	3B	HR	Total Ex. B.
Stengel, Brooklyn	5	5	3	37
Konetchy, St. Lous	5	6	2	36
Miller, Pittsburg	6	6	1	34
Knabe, Phila.	12	1	1	31
Bates, Cincinnati	1	5	3	29
Merkle, New York	8	3	1	29
Tinker, Cincinnati	8	4	0	28
Wheat, Brooklyn	7	2	2	28
Zimmerman, Chi.	6	4	1	28
Magee, Phila.	4	0	5	28
Fisher, Brooklyn	4	4	1	24
Smith, Brooklyn	4	2	2	24
Saier, Chicago	2	4	1	20
Doyle, New York	8	0	1	20

White City Park Now Open

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

All Members of This Club :-: :-: :-: By George McManus

Copyright, 1913, International News Service



RACING

RESULTS.
AT ELECTRIC PARK.

FIRST—Five furlongs: Col C. (Pickens), 6.30, 2.60, 2.50, won; Old Cross 109 (Doyle), 2.60, 2.40, second; Transcina 101 (Deunler), 3.00, third. Time 1:04. Sweet Spices, Breakfast, Santaneca, Galoa, Molmar also ran.

SECOND—3-year-olds and up, selling, mile and one-sixteenth: Ella Crane 100 (Deunler), 4.00, 2.50, 2.30, won; Camel 110 (Skirvin), 4.00, 2.30, second; Hans Creek 102 (Chappell), 2.50, third. Time 1:57 1-5. Cynosure, Mohawk, Queen also ran.

THIRD—Maidens, 3-year-olds and up, about 5 furlongs: Satir 102 (Alex), 20.30, 6.80, 4.20, won; Hermis Jr., 112 (Pickens), 3.60, 3.00, second; Refugita 102 (Doyle), 4.90, third. Time 1:03 High Up, Racine, Black Silk, Merry Chase, Old Hank also ran.

FOURTH—6½ furlongs: Bertis 104 (Deunler), 4.70, 2.90, 2.70, won; Pretend 110 (Alex), 3.60, 3.10, second; Maxton 106 (Johnston), 3.50, third. Time 1:32 1-5. Kinder Lou, Mollie Kearney, Judge Landis, Hudas Sister, Iberville also ran.

FIFTH—Selling, 3-year-olds and up, 4½ furlongs: Racing Belle 112 (Pickens), 4.70, 3.60, 2.80, won; Naughty Rose 107 (Bauer), 6.40, 3.80, second; Pink Lady 100 (Alex), 3.70, third. Time 1:01. Susan, Anna Claire, Washalle, R. H. Gray also ran.

SIXTH—6½ furlongs: Vigorous 113 (Johnstone), 7.00, 3.90, 3.30, won; Little England 105 (Dennison), 19.50, 6.30, second; Bryn 98 (Sterling), 3.90, third. Time 1:32 1-5. Otilo, Bay Cliff, Touch-Me also ran.

AT LOUISVILLE.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Wilhite 112 (Borel), 10.60, 5.40, 3.50, won; Sir Marion 111 (Musgrave), 4.10, 19.50, second; Theresa Gill 98 (Kederis), 3.30, third. Time 1:16 1-5. Little Baker, Anna Reed, World's Wonder, Little Nell, Prospect, Cedar Brook, Servicence, Pampinea, Dr. Jackson also ran.

SECOND — Five furlongs, Purse: Bringhurst 110 (Steele), 7.70, 5.30, 4.10, won; Holton 113 (Taplin), 13.20, 7.00, second; Bushy Head 110 (Ganz), 5.90, third. Time 1:02 4-5. Father Riley, Mary Pickford, Honey Mine, Battling Nelson, Pan American, Bandit, Banjo Jim also ran.

THIRD—Mile: Sam eBrnard 151 (Mr. Lee), 10.10, 5.40, 2.80, won; Dr. Waldo Briggs 151 (Mr. Howe), 4.80, 2.80, second; Beautiful 145 (Mr. Leon), 2.50, third. Time 1:48 2-5. Kenneth D., Automatic also ran.

FOURTH—The Louisville Handicap, six furlongs: Royal Tea 100 (Callahon), 34.10, 11.00, 4.20, won; High Private 112, (Loftus), 3.30, 2.40, second; Bonanza 108 (Duggan), 2.60, third. Time 1:14 2-5. Hobnob, Silver Bill also ran.

FIFTH—Advance money, selling, 6 furlongs: Merrick 110 (Loftus), 4.30, 3.20, 2.40, won; Jabot 110 (Goose), 6.20, 3.20, second; Anna Patricia 98 (Kederis), 2.60, third. Time 1:15 3-5. Amity, Alanasia, Danberry, Ursula Emma, Ben Lasca, Over The Sands also ran.

SIXTH—4½ furlongs: Old Rosebud 115 (McCabe), 2.90, 2.40, 2.30, won; The Norman 110 (Loftus), 4.00, 3.10, second; Harwood 105 (Hanover), 3.15, third. Time :54 2-5. Kilday, Hodge, Darbishire, Brave Cunarder also ran.

SEVENTH—Mile and one-sixteenth: Milton B. 115 (Steele), 17.80, 6.30, 5.00, won; Manager Mack 111 (Goose), 3.30, 3.00; Just Red 109 (Teehan), 4.60. Time, 1:48 4-5. Also ran: Hanley, Fellowman, Mockler, Wander, Oreon and Husky Lad.

ENTRIES.
AT TORONTO.

FIRST—Trial purse, conditions, three-year-olds and up, $600 added, 6 furlongs: Fred Levy 104, Kayderoseros 104, Crisco 104, White Caps 114, Bwana Tumbo 122, J. Houghton 124, Plate Glass 129.

SECOND—Juvenile purse, two-year-olds, 4½ furlongs, $700 added: Scarlet Letter 102, Southern Maid 102, Myrtle Ledl 102, Peacock 100, xxPrivate Petal 105, xxFuzzy Wuzzy 105, John Marshall 105, Miss Cayle 112. (xxLivingston entry.)

THIRD—Minto stakes, selling, $1,000 added, three-year-olds and up, mile and one-sixteenth: aFountain Fay 103, aFlower Girl 108, bBlackford 100, bBarnegat 102, xHoney Bee 90, xFlabbergast 103, Amon 103, Tanunda 105, Towton Field 112, Superstition 112, Patton 117. (aDavis entry; bWatkins entry.)

FOURTH—Woodstock plate, $2,000, three-year-olds and up, mile and one-eighth: aSpring Maid 107, aFirst Sight 117, bKleburne 117, bHorron 117, Mimesis 107, Burnt Candle 112, Chuckles 112, Barnegat 114, Yenghee 114, Buskin 119, Flabbergast 112.

FIFTH—King plate, $5,000 added, 50 guineas and plate, three-year-olds and up, mile and one-fourth: aVolvode 106, aMaid of Frome 108, bOrdramida 108, bHearts of Oak 113, cElfain 103, cCrystiawoga 105, Gold Bud 119, Mausolus 108, Rock Spring 121, Porcupine 121. (xSeagram entry; bGiddings entry; cBrookdale entry.)

SIXTH—Aintree steeplechase handicap, $1,000 added, four-year-olds and up, about two miles: Onaping 130, Lampblack 133, Mystic Light 134, Lockula 138, Belle 135, Guncotton 136.

SEVENTH—Carleton purse, selling, $600 added, three-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs: xDynamo 96, xArdeion 99, Hasson 101, Aunt Alice 107, Chorocu 109, Carollon 109, Miss Jonah 109, Dr. Hollis 111, Tom Hayes 111, Little Jane 114, Detroit 114, York Lad 117.

Also eligible, in order named: xFatherola 109, Black River 109, Chippewaya 114, Timbus 116, New Haven 90, Dr. Neet 101, Minnie Bright 105, Rash 111, Aplaster 112.

xApprentice allowance of five pounds claimed.

Weather cloudy; track good.

AT ELECTRIC PARK.

FIRST—Selling; 4½ furlongs: Woolgate 111, Bryan 99, Inspired 106, Auto Maid 106, Refugita 101, Gold Check 106, Satir 101, Golden Cluster 106, Brush 101.

SECOND—Selling; 1 1-16 miles: xH. M. Sabath 101, Iberville 106, Mollie Kearney 106, Bad News II 103, Cat 106, Our Nugget 106, Sylvan Dell 106.

THIRD—Selling; 4½ furlongs: Odd Cross 109, Smiling Faces 107, Panama 101, Molma 101, Old Jordan 112, Trenta Soldi 109, Santaneca 101.

FOURTH—Selling; 7 furlongs: Royal Onyx 112, Hans Creek 103, Wasaskie 115, Maxton 112, Ben Prior 112, Stelcliff 112, Roseburg IV 106.

FIFTH—Baltimore Country handicap; 6½ furlongs: Deduction 113, Golliwogg 100, Stairs 116, Ella Grane 104, Princess Thorpe 100.

SIXTH—Selling; 5 furlongs: George S. Davis 110, Tom Holland 110, Racing Belle 113, xSylvestris 108, Little Pal 115, Remarkable 113, Horace E 110.

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.

Weather rainy. Track sloppy.

AT LOUISVILLE.

FIRST—Selling, three-year-olds and up, five and a half furlongs: Jean Grey 92, Silk Day 96, xBrookfield 96, Marshon 98, L. H. Adair 98, Bow and Arrow 98, Darkey 98, Farmer Joe 109, Cedarbrook 101, Phyllis Antoinette 102, Coppertown 105, The Grader 105, John D. Wakefield 108, Back Bay 109, Morristown 111.

SECOND—Selling, two-year-olds, five furlongs: Buzz Around 97, Birka 102, May L 103, Ida Lavinia 104, Jack Crowdus 105, Korfghags 108, Mockery 107, Candy Box 107, Art Rick 108, Lost Fortune 108, Violet May 110.

THIRD — Handicap, three-year-olds and up, one mile and one-sixteenth: Sonada 102, Miss Thorpe 102, Bonanza 105, Sleeth 105, Princess Callaway 110.

FOURTH—Three-year-old fillies, the Kentucky stakes, one and one-sixteenth miles: Medille 112, Carpathia 112, Ballyshe 112, Cream 112, Floral Park 112, Gowell 117.

FIFTH—Purse, two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs: Tom Boy 100, Abednego 103, Lambs Tail 108 Malay 103, Hyki 103, Christophine 110, Boots and Saddle 113.

SIXTH—Selling, three-year-olds and up, one and one-sixteenth miles: Imen 94, Sheriff Nolte 106, Praeterian 106, Supple 108, Syzygy 108, Cracker Box 108, Automatic 110, Wintergreen 110, Tay Pay 110, Hanly 113, Sir Catesby 117.

xApprentice allowance claimed.

Weather cloudy; track muddy.

NAT HERRESHOFF WILL NOT BUILD DEFENDER

BRISTOL, R. I., May 23.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer and builder of the successful defenders of the American cup for the past twenty years, to-day declined to enter a competition for the design of the 1914 defender.

goods. Try it!

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell AD DLOUISVILLE

R-U Wearing Red Seal Shoes Made in Atlanta ? 93 Peachtree

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—During the past few days the Pirates have played much nearer their natural form than heretofore this season. After being beaten all over the circuit, the Pittsburg club came to New York and gave us a stiff battle when we were looking for something easy. They also gave the Dodgers a neat trimming.

Fans have been talking about the weak pitching of the Pirates. The twirlers may have been off before this, but they certainly braced up against us. Adams, Hendrix, Robinson and Cooper all looked good in New York, and the rest of the club played pretty fair ball except in a couple of games. The team seems to be getting bad catching, the steady work of Gibson behind the bat being sadly missed. His absence also hurts the pitchers. He is laid up and will be out of the game for some time. Poor throwing and bad judgment behind the bat put the team off its balance in a couple of the contests against us.

* * *

THE Pirates will be in the race, and don't make any mistake about that. The club is just as good as the one which came so strong at the finish last year, and I predict that once this team gets going behind the pitching it is bound to get, there will be very few clubs in the league which will stop it. Personally, I am tickled to death that Clarke's team has made such a late start, because it is going to do a whole lot of crowding at the finish. Practically there are only two changes in the team over last year, and these should strengthen it. Viox is playing second base, and, although it is his first season in the big league as a regular, he looked better than any of the several men who appeared at that place last year. He is the kind of a ball player that helps any team, aggressive and "crabbing" all the time. When he first joined the Pittsburg club he was known as the freshest busher ever to come up from the minors, and he still retains his fighting spirit. He also hits the ball hard, and is a difficult man to pitch to, refusing to offer at bad balls.

ASIDE from all his natural accomplishments, Wagner has taken a personal shine to Viox, and this in itself is a big help to any player who joins the Pittsburg team. The Dutchman will teach him a lot of baseball. It is customary for Wagner to take up with some young fellow each season and string along with him, and the lucky recruit always benefits by it. Last year it was "Tom" Hendrix, and before that it was "Jack" Miller, now playing first base.

But the real wonder of the Pirates is Hans Wagner, who looks just the same as he did when I broke into the league, except that his hair is a little grayer, because it wasn't gray at all then. He looks just the same on the ball field as far as his playing goes. He is a wonder for his age, thirty-nine, and is a grand example of what taking care of himself has done for him. He is hitting just as hard as he ever did this season, if not harder, and the chances are all in favor of him batting over .300 once more, which he generally does with great consistency.

MENSOR, in center field, is a newcomer, but he looks like a good ball player. The chances are that "Artie" Hofman, the former Cub, will play in the outfield regularly as soon as he gets in shape. Just at present his heart is bad, and he is afraid of over-exerting himself. Pittsburg will come, and when they do they will come very fast, because they have a bunch of terrific hitters and plenty good pitchers to stop the opposing teams. It is going to be a hard little combination to beat.

The Giants have also braced on the past week, and McGraw is getting back closer each day to the lineup that won him two pennants. We came near losing a good ball player last week when Shafer threatened to go home, but he changed his mind. Many blamed Shafer for this, but he is only a boy, and got the idea he was needed home by his father. He should not be censured for his action.

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CHARLEY EBBETS TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST KLEM

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 23.—President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, was so incensed over Umpire Klem's action in continuing the game with Pittsburg yesterday in the heavy rain that he announced he would file charges with the board of directors of the National League.

The rain fell in torrents from the second half of the third inning and the field was in frightful condition. The infielders could hardly keep their feet going after batted balls. The pitchers could not control the wet ball and only clever work by the pitchers prevented wild pitches.

SHAMROCK IV WILL NOT BE A "FREAK CRAFT"

LONDON, May 22.—Charles E. Nicholson, the famous yacht designer, who will design the challenger Shamrock IV, which will try to lift the America's cup in 1914, declared today that the new yacht will not be a "freak craft."

SEWANEE AND VANDERBILT CLASH AT NASHVILLE

SEWANEE, TENN., May 23.—The Sewanee Tigers play their last series of baseball to-day and Saturday with Vanderbilt at Nashville. For the last few weeks the Tigers have been playing good ball, Captain Gordon shaking up the line-up after they returned from the long southern trip. McGoodwin, on first, is now playing fine ball on the initial sack, which was the weak spot of the team.

Captain Gordon will pitch the first game against the Commodores, and he ought to land the first victory, as he has been pitching winning ball all season. Eggleston will be in the box in the second contest.

TETTER

Tetterine cures tetter. Read what Mrs. V. C. McQuiddy, Edill Springs, Tenn., says:

I had a severe case of tetter on both hands and I finally got helpless. A leading physician knew of no cure. I decided to give Tetterine a trial. To my utter surprise and satisfaction it worked a speedy cure.

Use Tetterine

It cures eczema, tetter, erysipelas, itching piles, ground itch and all skin maladies.

50c at druggists, or by mail.

SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

For the accommodation of the Veterans and their friends, the Western and Atlantic Railroad will operate trains Atlanta to Chattanooga on May 26, to leave Atlanta as follows:

8:00 A. M.
8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.
2:15 P. M.
3:00 P. M.
4:50 P. M.
8:50 P. M.

Round-trip tickets will be sold Atlanta to Chattanooga and return at rate of $3.00. Tickets will be on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga to June 25.

C. H. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

FLYNN AND COFFEY CLASH IN NEW YORK GO FRIDAY

NEW YORK, May 23.—"If James Coffey, the Dublin giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, box to form, as the fistic fans would say, then the patrons of the hit, block and step-away sport may depend on an interesting ten-round bout at the Garden Athletic Club to-night.

Both are aggressive boxers, and as the first class brigade of heavyweight boxers, Coffey is the climber and Flynn one of those fighters who may come back at any time, no matter how many defeats he may have experienced.

Both are aggresive boxers, and as they are hitters the bout may terminate suddenly and in a manner that the fans of this city enjoy—by a knockout. Both are in perfect physical condition for a hard battle. The winner will be matched with Gunboat Smith.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell goods. Try it!

M'CARTY AND PELKY ARE READY FOR GO SATURDAY

CALGARY, ALBERTA, May 23.—Arthur Pelky and Luther McCarty eased up to-day in their training. McCarty spent most of the day on horseback and in jawing Calgary scribes for poking fun at his "cowboy" outfit. Pelky went for a long walk and then rested. Both men are on edge and look fit for a tough scrap.

SUMMER FARES.
Lake, Mountain and Seashore Resorts.

Daily on and after May 15 the Central of Georgia Railway will have on sale at its principal ticket offices round trip tickets at reduced fares to summer resorts in the North, South, East and West, and to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia via Savannah and steamships. For total fares, conditions, train service, etc.,

ASK NEAREST TICKET AGENT CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY, or write to W. H. Fogg, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga. Adv.

Go To The Original $15 Tailors
—the only store in town where you can get
Real $25 Suits
Made to Order
$15
The old reliable "Scotch" Woolen Mills. Our imitators will do their best to confuse you. To protect yourself, remember this name and address.
Scotch Woolen Mills
107 Peachtree
MAIL ORDERS—Write for Free Samples and self-measuring blanks.

Pullman Tires

Have set a new standard of "Tire Value." Pullman Tires are of standard material and construction—fully guaranteed. Made by one of the country's largest manufacturers, to meet the demand for a better and cheaper tire.

	Clincher or Dunlop.	Heavy Non-skid Type.	Red Tubes.
28x3	$9.15	$10.35	$2.15
30x3	9.80	10.65	2.30
30x3½	14.45	15.75	3.10
32x3½	15.40	16.65	3.30
34x3½	16.75	18.05	3.90
38x4	20.20	21.70	4.40
34x4	20.85	23.25	4.50
35x4	21.55	22.95	4.60
36x4	22.25	23.70	4.80
35x4½	27.30	29.00	5.70
36x4½	28.05	29.80	5.90
37x4½	28.85	30.65	6.05
37x5	35.40	37.60	7.40

All other sizes in proportion.

PULLMAN GUARANTEE
If in your opinion this Pullman Tire No. — fails to give its cost value in tire service return it direct to us and we will replace it, charging only for value of service obtained.
Pullman Rubber Co.

Examination Allowed on all C. O. D. Shipments
PULLMAN RUBBER COMPANY
349 Peachtree St.
ATLANTA, GA.

FLYNN-SAVAGE BOUT WILL BE HELD JUNE 13

THE Jim Flynn-Jim Savage ten-round bout will be staged at the Auditorium on June 13. The heavyweights were originally scheduled to exchange blows June 9, but the scrap has been moved back four days on account of the Buffalo Bill circus, which will be here the latter date.

The Fireman fights Jim Coffey at New York Friday night and will leave for Atlanta soon. The promoters of the Auditorium show have made arrangements to have both contestants on the battle ground ten days before the scrap, which should give the fans ample time to see the two heavyweights in their training work.

Savage has been boxing several of the big hopes in New York and is being touted as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. His bout with Flynn should prove a great chance for the clever boy. Many of the Eastern boxing followers, who have seen Savage in action lately, are boosting him as another Jim Corbett.

* * *

THE winner of the Auditorium show will probably meet Gunboat Smith or Luther McCarty. McCarey and Coffroth both have their eyes peeled on the June 9 show and it would not be surprising to see the coast promoters send for the winner.

Two other good ten-round battles will be held in connection with the heavyweight tilt. Mike Saul, well known around these parts as one of the toughest lightweights, will probably meet Eddie Hanlon in one of the battles, while Spider Britt and Meyer Pries may swing the padded gloves in the other set-to.

* * *

THESE three mills should certainly bring together some dandy milling. Fans who have seen Britt and Pries box against each other know what a sterling scrap they usually put up. Each has a grudge against the other and a bloody contest is usually the result.

The last time the two boys met, Britt was awarded a slight shade by the referee, although most of the fans present thought a draw was the correct verdict. After the scrap Mike Saul, the referee, said he would have called the mill an even thing had Pries not indulged in foul tactics.

* * *

SAUL and Hanlon need no introduction to local fandom. Mike was rated as a contender for the lightweight crown until he lost on a foul to Abel when out of shape. Mike says he is out to win back his lost laurels and many of the local fans are with Mike to the last. Hanlon has always claimed that Saul was one boy whom he could lick.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Rummy Should Worry :: By Tad

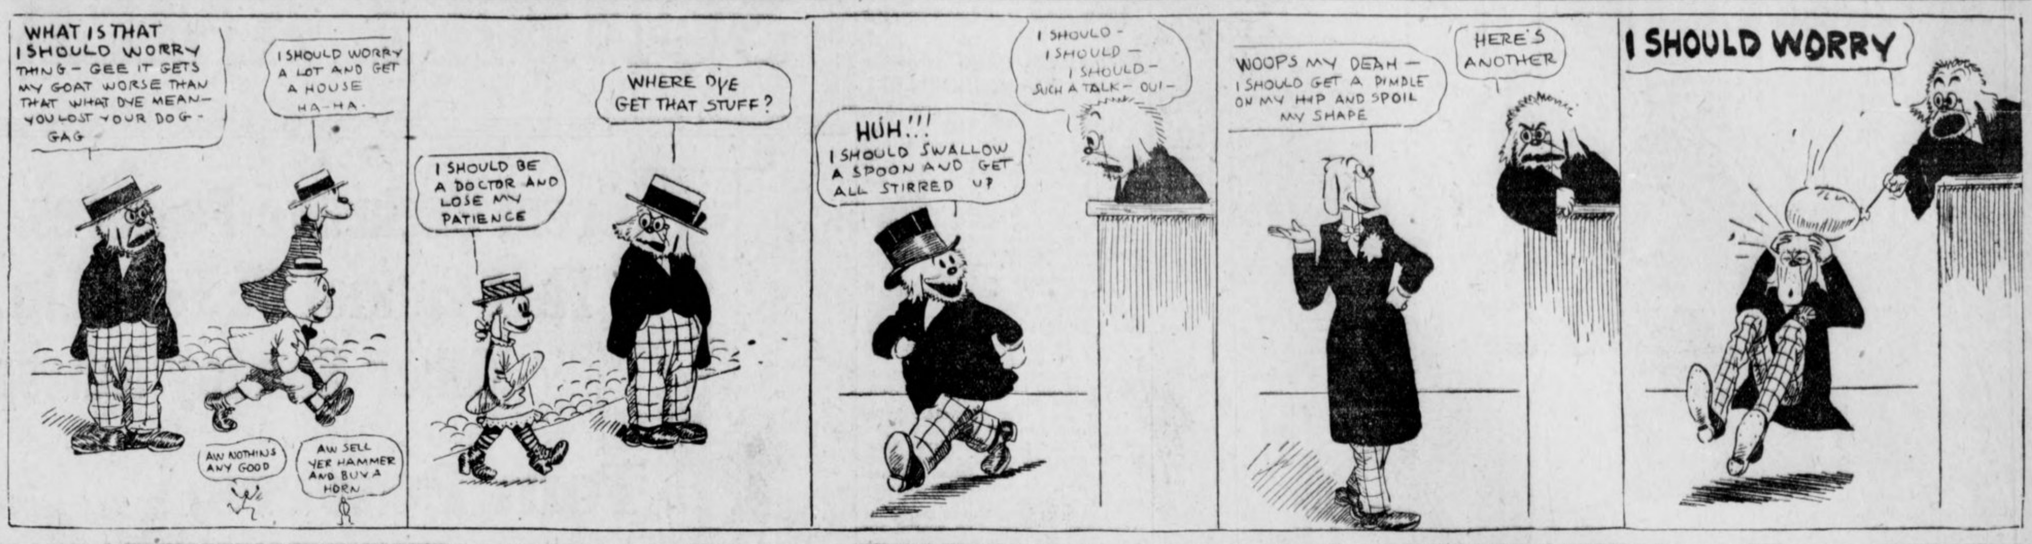
Copyright, 1913, International News Service.



BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

After winning nine games in a row, Walter Johnson, of the Senators, went against the Naps yesterday and was beaten, the Cleveland club pounding him for thirteen hits.

* * *

Umpire Klem increased his unpopularity in Brooklyn yesterday by permitting the game to go for five innings and then calling it on account of rain after the Pirates had scored the lone tally of the game.

* * *

The Dodgers have protested the game, claiming that the rain fell no harder in the sixth inning, when Klem ordered a cessation of play, than it had during the three innings previous.

* * *

The Red Sox outhit the White Sox yesterday, but the Chicagoans grabbed off a 2 to 1 victory.

* * *

The league-leading Athletics had an easy time defeating the Tigers yesterday, the veteran Plank shutting out the Detroit boys and permitting them but three hits.

* * *

That old Pirate machine seems to be in fine working order again and it seems quite safe to bet that they will be up among the leaders in another month.

* * *

Rain halted the Cardinals-Giants game in the second inning after the Cardinals had secured a one-run lead.

* * *

The Yankees went down to a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the hands of the Browns, Stone, a recruit pitcher, holding the New Yorkers to six scattered hits.

* * *

The National League race this season promises to be one of the best in many years. The weak "sisters" seem conspicuously absent. In other years, the Dodgers, Cardinals and Braves were the pie counters for the triple alliance. But a new order of events now exists.

* * *

The alliance, composed of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, has been dissolved. The trio that has roosted in and around first place for ten years has been ousted, and a new state of affairs has come to pass.

* * *

Whether the Phillies, Dodgers, Cardinals and even the lowly Braves can keep up the clip they have been traveling is a question. Perhaps they'll falter farther along, but even if they do they have already dealt the mighty trio such a terrific wallop that there will be no runaway race for any one of the trio, as in years gone by.

* * *

A similar condition exists in the American League. No one team has a cinch. A trifle more than 400 points separates the leading Athletics from the Yankees. But the Yankees are due to move along in the percentage column. Chance has had a hard time getting his team started, but as soon as his pitchers round into shape they will furnish trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Browns are not the snap team of other years. The Tigers are beginning to add to their win column. The Red Sox, although far down in the standing to-day, have the power, and when once the machine gets well oiled it will furnish considerable trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Athletics have been traveling at a fine rate, despite the illness of Jack Coombs, the star flinger. The Naps and White Sox seem to have the "punch" this year and the Senators are showing that their speed of last year has become a permanent possession.

* * *

Careful examination of Carl Cashion's injured arm demonstrates that a ligament is badly torn and the big lad may be out for the entire season.

* * *

Joe Birmingham has done something with the Naps that no manager ever did before—he has got them figuring on world's series receipts. Let a club get doing that in earnest and they fight every step of the way.

SPORTS AND SUCH
By RIGHT CROSS

THE STANDING of the clubs in the big leagues at this writing forms a fine chance for that much-talked-of "rushing attack" in baseball which is known as the "base-running game."

It is a theory of students of the great national pastime that a team of fast and skillful base stealers has a tremendous edge at the go-off in a battle with a team less gifted in this direction. Let us give a look:

The Boston Americans, the world's champions, are popularly known as the Speed Boys, a name which arose from the dazzling rapidity with which they are wont to flit from base to base. This seems to be an off season for flitting. The Red Sox are not only way down in the league race, but they are also way down in the base-stealing records for the season.

* * *

THERE ARE OTHER EXAMPLES that might be pointed out, but there is no use rubbing it in, and we don't owe Boston any consideration anyway. The Red Sox are enough to prove the point, which is namely, to wit, i. e.—that a losing club doesn't pull any "rushing attack" stuff. Base stealing is the diversion of winners. It is not so much a cause as an effect. Base stealers are the lancers of a baseball army. They are highly spectacular, but useful only when the battle is half won.

In the old days of the great game of war no general in his senses ever sent cavalry against an unshaken defense. Napoleon, through a mistaken conception of the situation, did it at Waterloo and lost. It is the same way with base stealing in baseball. When you have the other team on the run you can complete the rout by running wild on the bases, but we have never yet seen a team run wild to any extent when it is five runs behind.

It is true, of course, that an individual base runner, like Cobb, for instance, will occasionally steal second at a critical moment and thus lay the foundation of a winning run. But this is beside the main point—that base stealing as a system of offense in a ball game is nix.

Cracker Attack Most Deadly Ever
Local Club Is Stronger Than Gulls

By Percy H. Whiting.

THE Cracker team has the most deadly attack ever seen in the Southern League. Napoleon's pet troops or a band of war-pathing Comanches look tame beside them. Day after day they drive pitchers to cover. All teams look alike to them. All pitchers are the same.

They can slug the ball over the lot; they can beat out bunts if by chance they lay them down; they can wait out a wavering pitcher; they can run bases; they can use the hit-and-run; they shine at the run-and-hit. There isn't an offensive maneuver, barring the bunt, at which they do not shine.

* * *

WHY this team shouldn't wallop the stuffing out of Mike Finn's club in three out of every four battles, provided the Cracker pitchers made even a half-decent show, we can't see. Nor can anybody who witnessed yesterday's game.

Mike Finn has a pretty well-balanced club. Paulet, Stock, Starr and O'Dell are good men. Of course, alongside of Agler, Alperman, Bisland and Smith they don't look so much—but that's a fair average infield. Clark, Jacobson and Robertson are good outfielders, but in offensive and defensive strength they do not average up to the Crackers. In catching strength the teams are about a stand-off. If the Gulls hope to beat Atlanta out of the pennant they better have pitchers who are about eleven times as strong as the Crackers' slabmen.

* * *

IN Thursday's game the Cracker pitcher had all the advantage. Two veterans were out—Brady and Campbell. Of course it is not insinuated that Brady classes with Campbell in antiquity, but then he's no fledgling. And Brady plastered it all over Campbell.

"The King" held the dangerous Campbell hitless, didn't give the savage Robertson one he could push out of the infield, and had the rest of the collection swinging themselves sick at his offerings.

In the meantime the Crackers were eating Campbell alive, and finally ended by piling up nine hits for eleven bases in six innings. With the Crackers ahead, 7 to 2, the game was called on account of darkness, with the rain falling hard and everybody ready to call it off and go home.

* * *

BEFORE the Mobile season is over some cast-off is going to figure. They always do. Mobile has O'Dell and Sentell, former Crackers. Atlanta has Long and Dunn, former Gulls. So something has to happen.

In yesterday's game the ex-Gulls now with the Crackers had all the better of the argument. Sentell didn't play, and Al O'Dell made a couple of errors. Long made three hits out of four times up, while Dunn kicked over a single and threw faultlessly to second.

Bill Smith offered a direct challenge to the Gulls by using Joe Dunn. Before the season opened Mike said, in all kindness but with great firmness, that Joe Dunn's arm was gone. Probably he really thought it. But Dunn's work this year hasn't proved Mike's prediction. And to-day Smith stuck in Dunn, just to show up Mike. Only one Gull tried to steal, and he was pegged out easily.

* * *

MIKE FINN is playing himself up as the victim of misguided confidence. Understand, Mike doesn't mean that he's been the goat of a confidence game—you see it's like this:

After the Gulls began to gather this spring, a fake "signed statement," alleged to have been written by Mike, appeared in various papers around the circuit and was played up strong in Mobile. Then the season opened and Mike's "statement" went over strong. The result was that the Gull fans lost interest.

"It's got so bad now," said Mike, "that they don't come out at all to see us play. Once in a while a few will turn out, sort of to celebrate our having won a pennant. The rest of them have dismissed the season as a closed incident, have credited themselves with a pennant won and have turned to other things. It's a fine fix, with the season just started and our team losing a game or two a day."

* * *

THE suspicion prevails that the Gull fans will have only to consult the standing of the clubs to wake themselves up by the time the team returns home. The Gulls have lost the last three games straight, and the last six out of seven. They are going about as poorly now as a team can go. It will not take them long to kick away their lead at this rate.

Before returning home the Gulls have to play two more games with the Crackers, three in Chattanooga, four in Nashville and four in Memphis. Any of the Tennessee clubs might furnish trouble for the Gulls, now that they have flickered. And a 4½-game lead can be shot to bits in five games, if they turn out right.

Anyhow, the Crackers will try to do what they can for the noble cause.

ED ALPERMAN SECURES JOB WITH WAYCROSS CLUB

Ed Alperman, the Atlanta captain's younger brother, has secured a berth with Charlie Wahoo's Waycross Empire State League Club and will join that team in the next few days.

Ed arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and will be here with his brother for a few days before reporting to his new teammates.

Ed is an outfielder and it is understood that the local club will keep a string on him, which they will yank at the end of the present season.

DE PONTHIEU SHADES KIRKE.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 23.—Louis DePonthieu, champion of France, shaded Ollie Kirke, of St. Louis, in a ten-round boxing bout.

STOVALL MUST PAY FINE AND APOLOGIZE TO UMPIRE

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—George Stovall, suspended manager of the St. Louis Americans, was reinstated by President Johnson, of the American League, yesterday on condition that Stovall write a letter of apology to Umpire Charles Ferguson, on whom he spat while playing in a game here May 3.

In addition to apologizing to Umpire Ferguson, Stovall must pay a $100 fine.

If Stovall complies with the conditions, he will be allowed to play in the game against Detroit Saturday. The apology to Umpire Ferguson must be mailed to Johnson's office in Chicago and approved by Johnson before it is forwarded to Ferguson.

Stovall said he would comply with conditions of his reinstatement.

AMES, GROH AND DEVORE ARE TRADED FOR FROMME

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In an effort to bolster up his team Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati club, has just completed a deal with Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, whereby he receives Pitcher Ames, Infielder Groh and Outfielder Devore in exchange for Pitcher Fromme.

PIRATES GET BANKSTON FROM GORDON BALL TEAM

BARNESVILLE, GA., May 23.—President Dreyfuss, of Pittsburg, has made an offer to Everett Bankston, catcher of 1913 Gordon team. He will probably leave for Pittsburg.

BOXING
News of the Ring Game

New York will have another chance to see Jim Flynn in action Friday night. The Pueblo fireman will don the gloves with Jim Coffey in a scheduled 10-round bout. "Soldier" Kearns and George Rodel will clash in the semi-windup.

* * *

This will be Flynn's last battle before he meets Jim Savage at the Auditorium here next month. If Flynn succeeds in defeating Savage he will probably take a trip to the coast in an effort to get on with Gunboat Smith or Jess Willard.

* * *

Luther McCarty is another heavyweight who is to get into action. Luther takes on Arthur Pelky in a 12-round set-to at Calgary, Alberta, Saturday night. McCarty must win if he intends to get away with some more of the easy money he has been gathering. Pelky is Tommy Burns' protege.

* * *

Young Shrugrue, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, three Eastern lightweights, are after the first tilt with Willie Ritchie, who says he will defend his title on July 4. It looks very much as if Joe Rivers will beat them all to the match.

* * *

Danny Morgan, manager of Jack Britton, has offered to bet $2,500 that Britton can outpoint Luther McCarty in a 10-round scrap. Morgan refers to McCarty as a "cheese champion."

* * *

Abe Attell, who helped Bud Anderson train for his bout with Joe Mandot on the coast, is begging Tom McCarey for another chance at Johnny Kilbane. Abe says he is as good as ever and is positive he can beat the featherweight champion in a return match. McCarey has the bout under consideration.

* * *

Coast fans are blaming Tom Jones for Jess Willard's defeat at the hands of Gunboat Smith the other night. They claim that Willard was receiving instruction from several sources in his corner.

* * *

This rather confused the Kansas cowboy, who stopped dead still several times to look toward Jones for some definite advice.

* * *

Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, is the latest luminary in Eastern fistic circles are discussing. Robideau fought Johnny Lore in New York last week and handed the latter a neat lacing.

* * *

The Jack Britton-Eddie Murphy fight at Kenosha, Wis., Tuesday night drew but $900. A dreadful rainstorm kept the attendance down.

* * *

Nate Lewis and his fighter, Charlie White, arrived in Chicago Wednesday from New Orleans, where White stopped Thomas in two rounds. Lewis at once got in touch with Danny Morgan in an effort to close a Britton-White scrap for the Wisconsin city this month. Morgan is holding out for a big guarantee.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

Mobile at Atlanta at Ponce DeLeon.
Game called at 3:45 o'clock.
Memphis at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Chattanooga.
Montgomery at Nashville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mobile	27	15	.643	M'phis	18	19	.486
Atlanta	21	18	.538	Chatt.	18	19	.486
N'ville	20	18	.526	B'ham	16	19	.457
Mon'gy	19	19	.500	N. Or.	12	24	.333

Thursday's Results.

Atlanta 7, Mobile 2.
Other games postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

No games scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	20	9	.690	St. L.	16	21	.432
Cland	25	12	.647	Boston	14	19	.424
W'gton	18	12	.600	Detroit	12	22	.353
Ch'cago	21	14	.600	N. York	9	23	.281

Thursday's Results.

Philadelphia 7, Detroit 3.
Cleveland 5, Washington 0.
St. Louis 7, New York 0.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Pittsburg at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	19	7	.731	Ch'go	17	16	.515
B'klyn	19	12	.613	P'burg	15	18	.455
N. York	15	14	.517	Boston	10	17	.370
St. L.	16	15	.516	C'nati	9	21	.300

Thursday's Results.

Pittsburg 1, Brooklyn 0.
Other games postponed, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Opelika at LaGrange.
Talladega at Anniston.
Gadsden at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Gadsd'n	11	4	.733	Ann'ton	7	8	.467
T'dega	8	7	.533	Opelika	7	9	.438
Newnan	8	7	.533	LaGr'ge	5	11	.313

Thursday's Results.

LaGrange 4, Opelika 3.
Other games postponed; rain.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Cordele at Thomasville.
Valdosta at Waycross.
Americus at Brunswick.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
V'dosta	11	8	.579	W'cross	10	9	.526
Cordele	11	8	.579	Am'cus	8	11	.421
Th'ville	10	9	.526	B'wick	7	12	.368

Thursday's Results.

Cordele 7, Thomasville 5.
Americus 7, Brunswick 4.
Valdosta 6, Waycross 1.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Macon at Albany.
Charleston at Columbus.
Savannah at Jacksonville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Sav'nah	24	6	.800	C'lbus	14	15	.483
J'ville	15	15	.500	Ch'ston	13	16	.448
Macon	15	15	.500	Albany	8	22	.267

Thursday's Results.

Savannah 5, Jacksonville 1.
Macon 4, Albany 1.
Charleston-Columbus; rain.

OTHER RESULTS.

Texas League.

Dallas 5, San Antonio 2.
Beaumont 13, Fort Worth 6.
Houston 13, Austin 1.
Galveston 8, Waco 6.

Cotton States League.

All games postponed; rain.

Carolina Association.

Winston-Salem 6, Greensboro 2.
Asheville 11, Durham 5.
Raleigh 5, Charlotte 3.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Portsmouth 1.
Roanoke 1, Norfolk 1.
Richmond 12, Newport News 4.

Sporting Food
By GEORGE E. PHAIR

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN.

When Heine Zim starts going some
He makes a lot of fuss.
He puts the whole world on the bum
And does not care a cuss.
And yet he would not do the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

When Heine Zim is fancy free
He is a wild young gent.
He is a willing slave to the
Artistic temperament.
And yet he would not pull the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

Joe Thomas, the youth whom Charlie White walloped, is called the pride of New Orleans. This demonstrates how easy it is to be proud.

WHY SHOULD FATHER WORRY?

Father, dear father, come home with me now;
The clock in the steeple strikes six.
What matter if Murphy has lines on his brow
With the Cubs in a heluva fix?

Los Angeles and San Francisco are fighting over the Ritchie-Rivers match, demonstrating how easy it is to start a fight.

LINES TO CHARLEY FRANK.

You may change, you may censor
your words if you will,
But the scent of alfalfa will cling to
them still.

ATLANTA 3 MATS. MON. WED. SAT. 25c — All This Week — The Deep Purple — Miss Billy Long Co. — Nights 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c. — Next—ST. ELMO—Seats Now

FORSYTH DAILY MAT. 2:30 EVENING 8:30 — ADAM & EVE—GALLAGHER & FIELDS—JOSEPHINE DUNFEE—JOHN GEIGER—NEVIN & ERWOOD—BRADSHAW BROS. & DUNEDIN TROUPE — KEITH VAUDEVILLE HIGHEST QUALITY

BASEBALL — TO-DAY — MOBILE vs. ATLANTA — Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

Make State and County tax returns now. Office corner Pryor and Hunter Streets. T. M. Armistead, Tax Receiver.

White City Park Now Open

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

"THE VICTOR"

DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM — Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years' experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. B. WOOLLEY & SON., No. 1-A Victor Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

NOTICE! Closing-Out-Ends $7, $8, $9 Trousers Made-to-Measure $3.50 FORDON THE TAILOR, Inc. 8-10 N. Pryor St. NEAR UNION DEPOT

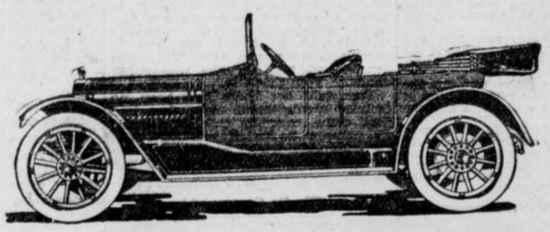
BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion. WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF? At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

John Ruskin A Cigar FOR ALL MEN Two Sizes AFTER DINNER, RECESS 5¢

MONEY — LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES ON PROMISSORY NOTES Without Endorsement Without Collateral Security Without Real Estate Security NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO. 1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Mitchell

MANY of you are considering owning an automobile, but haven't yet decided just which one you want.



When you come to investigate the 1913 Mitchell car—made by a company that has built good vehicles since 1834—you will find so many strong reasons for owning a Mitchell that your doubts as to which car you want will be solved.

In the Mitchell you will find only the highest quality of workmanship and materials.

The first look will satisfy as to the lines and finish: simple elegance and comfort throughout: combined in a design assuring strength, power and durability.

Here are some of the 1913 Mitchell features—things you certainly should have in your car:

Long stroke T-head Motor.

Electric Self Starter and Electric Lighting System

Left Drive and Center Control. Thirty-six-inch Wheels.
Firestone Demountable Rims. Bosch Ignition.
Rayfield Carburetor. French Belaise Springs.
Timken Front Axle Bearings. Jones Speedometer.
Silk Mohair Top with Dust Cover. Turkish Upholstered Cushions.
Gasoline Tank Gauge. Portable Electric Lamp.

Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company
Racine, Wisconsin

Factory Branch Mitchell Motor Co. of Atlanta, 316-318 Peachtree St.

The Mistakes of Jennie

By HAL COFFMAN

Being a Series of Chapters in the Life of a Southern Girl in the Big City

The Man Held Her Tight in His Arms.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Jennie got home that night she told her boarding house keeper she was going out the next day—being Sunday—with Tom. They were going into the country and have dinner at some little inn that Tom knew about. So the next morning she hurried out to where she was to meet THE MAN. He was waiting for her with a big touring car and a chauffeur to drive it. And Jennie, in her plain little white dress, couldn't help but look in wide-eyed wonder at such luxury and grandeur, and could hardly realize that she was going to ride in it all day long.

THE MAN helped her in, and was very careful to arrange the robes "just so," and explained to her it would never do for his little "pal" to get echilled.

Go-l Golly! Thought Jennie, this is even better than the taxicab—and the cushions were so soft and "comfy."

And so they rolled on and on, until early afternoon, when they came to the quaintest looking little hotel that nestled in the trees by the side of the road. And THE MAN said they were going to have the daintiest luncheon that Jennie ever tasted. The landlord bowed and smiled, and seemed very happy to see THE MAN, and ushered them into a private room, where the table was all set as if waiting for them. And everything had an air of being prearranged. But Jennie was so happy she didn't notice it, or the side glances of understanding between the landlord and THE MAN—as if he had been there many times before.

THE MAN ordered cocktails, and it tasted so warm and nice to Jennie that she didn't say no, when THE MAN asked her to have another one before they ate their luncheon. After the second one, Jennie felt so happy she wanted to sing and laugh both at the same time, and didn't quite realize at first when THE MAN held her tight in his arms and was kissing her.

* * * * *

An hour or two after Jennie had left the house that morning Tom came over for her to go out with him to spend Sunday as they both had become accustomed to do. Jennie's boarding house friend was great'y surprised when she saw Tom—for Jennie had told her she was going out with Tom that day.

Tom told her there had been no definite arrangement made, but had just come over to call for Jennie the same as he had always done. And then Jennie's friend realized for the first time that the little girl had lied to her.

—HAL COFFMAN.

(To Be Continued.)

Up-to-Date Jokes

When Professor Rokitanski, of Vienna, was asked if he had any sons he answered, "Four."

"And what professions have they chosen?"

"Two howl and two heal," was the laconic reply.

A couple of his sons were public singers and the other two were doctors.

"Where have you been, Frank?"

"In Manchester."

"What were you doing there?"

"I ran a photograph gallery."

"Did you get anything to do?"

"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them left on the doorstep."

Just Dogs

"NOTHING is more like a man than a dog is," declared the candy store proprietor. "I'm just like a dog myself. I even know what a dog is thinking more than half the time when I am watching him.

"Yesterday I saw a dog a block and a half away. I knew at once that something was wrong with him. He had a sneaky, uncomfortable look. He hung his head. As I passed him the dog hailed me after the fashion of fellows of the same guild and with the same spirit of comradeship:

"Suddenly—'Danny!' The word of reproof smote the air. Danny had known all the time that the woman who owned him was watching him, waiting for a chance to give him a rebuke. That's why he had the famous hangdog expression. He knew that it was impossible for him to keep free from scolding. I knew how he felt.

"Some dogs are very particular not to speak to you until you have spoken to them first. There is a scraggy dog that comes to our house from time to time, visits for a few days, and then departs, either to go home or to visit somewhere else. We may not see him again for a month or six weeks.

"Just the other day he appeared at our house. The kids were playing on the porch and didn't see him. He sauntered into the yard in a casual sort of way and lay down on the lawn, watching the children with a very alert expression.

"Finally one of them saw him and cried, 'Why, there's Babs!' That is our name for him, since we do not know his real name.

"At this greeting Babs tore up the porch steps and nearly wiggled himself into a frazzle in his delight. I am like that.

"A dog is very bitter in his hatred of flies, fleas, cats and firecrackers. He hates like sin to have to get out of the way of an automobile, and music and carpet dust nearly kill him. He is so like me in these things."

Act Quickly

Don't wait until you have some ailment caused by poor digestion, biliousness, or by inactive bowels which may lead to a serious sickness. Immediate relief is afforded by that best corrective and preventive

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

PLATES Made and Delivered Same Day

$5

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4--Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-6 Phone M. 1708 Sundays 9-1

Well Versed.

Lord Dufferin delivered an address before the Greek class of the McGill University, about which a reporter wrote:

"His Lordship spoke to the class in the purest ancient Greek, without mispronouncing a word or making the slightest grammatical solecism."

"Good heavens!" remarked Sir Hector Langevin to the late Sir John A. MacDonald, "how did the reporter know that?"

"I told him," was the Conservative statesman's answer.

"But you don't know Greek."

"True; but I know a little about politics."

Do You Know That—

The Canadian Parliament is one of the few Parliaments in the world where speeches in two languages are allowed. This, of course, is due to the large French and English elements in Canada. For instance, when the Canadian House of Commons is sitting in committee, should a French-Canadian start to address the House in French, you may see the English chairman retire from his seat and allow a French chairman to take his place. In the same manner the official English reporters cease work and a staff of French shorthand writers begin.

Owing to the frequency of weak excuses for leave of absence from work many employers have framed a special code of rules to govern days off. The following are the regulations of one firm: "1. One day off for funeral of any relative where death certificate is produced. 2. All marriages and honeymoons to be arranged during annual holidays or not at all. 3. The burying of more than three uncles or aunts a year not accepted as an excuse for absence. 4. For sickness where it is proved days off allowed."

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the royal standard on his motor cars. A flag on which are emblazoned the words, "God with us," will be painted on transparent glass, which will be electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car, so that it will be recognized a long way off.

Wished He Hadn't.

"You see," he exclaimed, as he showed her the wishbone of the Christmas turkey, "you take hold there and I take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you!" he exclaimed. "You really wish for me?" she asked. "Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile. "You can have me."

A Matter of Observation.

Lexton Sake entered the room and critically examined the surroundings. Then suddenly his eye lighted on the clew for which he sought.

"Aha!" he exclaimed. "It was from a hole somewhere in this room that the mouse emerged!"

His companion opened his eyes wide in wonderment; then—

"Your power of scent," he remarked, "is positively marvelous, Blexton."

"Power of scent be bothered," replied the great detective. "Can't you see the heel-marks of a woman's shoe on this chair—eh?"

She Forgot.

The order which the comely young German woman handed in at the Post-office Savings Bank was made payable to Gretchen H. Schmidt, and she had signed it simply Gretchen Schmidt. The man at the counter called her back to rectify the mistake just as she was turning away.

"See, you have forgotten the 'H.,'" he explained.

The young woman looked at her receipt and then blushed a rosy red.

"Ach! so I haf," she murmured, and wrote hurriedly:

"Age, 23."

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly Company. The play "Within the Law" is copyrighted by Mr. Veiller and this novelization of it is published by his permission. The American Play Company is the sole proprietor of the exclusive rights of the representation and performance of "Within the Law" in all languages.

By MARVIN DANA from the Play by BAYARD VEILLER.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT:

At last Gilder was restored in a meaure to his self-possession. He spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

Gilder looked at her with a newly dawning respect; then his shrewdness suggested a retort.

Mary Laughed.

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said

Mary laughed. There was something dreadful in that burst of spurious amusement.

"Why not?" she answered. "I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed the true heart of him, in which love for his boy was before all else. He found himself wholly at a loss before the woman's unexpected reply.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will——"

At that moment the son himself entered hurriedly from the hallway. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman whom he loved. At his entrance Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming, even though she had known he must come—perhaps from some other emotion, deeper, hidden as yet even from himself.

The young man, with his wholesome face alight with tenderness, went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent, motionless, abashed by the event. And Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressing it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said, happily, "but I left him a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

The voice of the older man came with a sinister force and saturnine.

"No, Dick, I haven't had any note."

"Then, why——?" The young man broke off suddenly. He was become aware that here was something malignant, with a meaning beyond his present understanding, for he saw the inspector and Demarest, and he knew the two of them for what they were officially.

A Pawn in the Game.

"What are they doing here?" he demanded suspiciously, staring at the two.

"Oh, never mind them," Mary said. There was a malevolent gleam in her violet eyes. This was the recompense of which she had dreamed through soul-tearing ages. "Just tell your father your news, Dick."

The young man had no comprehension of the fact that he was only a pawn in the game. He spoke with simple pride.

"Dad, we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Always, Mary stared with her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder himself seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

Mary rejoiced to make the knowledge sure.

"I married your son this morning," she said, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him."

In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speeceh against this calamity that had befallen him.

It was Burke who offered a diversion, a crude interruption after his own fashion.

"It's a frame-up," he roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Why, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And, by G——, she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face, which had grown older by years with the passing of the seconds.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

There was no quiver in her voice as she answered. She drew her hand from his clasp and spoke evenly.

"It's the truth."

"It's the truth!" the young man repeated, incredulously.

The Son Interrupted.

"It is the truth," Mary said, firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years. It was the father who broke it, and now his voice was become tremulous.

"I wanted to save you, Dick. That's why I came."

The son interrupted him violently.

"There's a mistake—there must be."

It was Demarest who gave an official touch to the tragedy of the moment.

"There's no mistake," he said. There was authority in his statement.

"There is, I tell you!" Dick cried, horrified by this conspiracy of defamation. He turned his tortured face to his bride of a day.

"Mary," he said, huskily, "there is a mistake."

Something in her face appalled him. He was voiceless for a few terrible instants. Then he spoke again, more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary preserved her poise. Yes—she must not forget! This was the hour of her triumph. What mattered it that the honey of it was as ashes in her mouth? She spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, so trusted her, was overwhelmed by the revelation. He stood trembling for a moment, tottered, almost it seemed would have fallen, but presently steadied himself and sank supinely into a chair, where he sat in impotent suffering.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

Wonders of the Wonderful

SUNDAY AMERICAN

Great Exclusive Features That Cannot Be Found in Any Other Sunday Newspaper

Tom Powers,

THE FAMOUS CARTOONIST, has some very funny pictures that will keep you laughing all week

A Jeff and Mutt

Cartoon that is full of humor

John Temple Graves

Writes on this striking question, "Shall a Wife Obey?"

The Newly Found Oldest Gospels, and What They Really Mean.

Should Women's Wages Be Fixed by Law.

A Short Story by Rudyard Kipling.

Woman Suffrage in Dixie.

Book Reviews, by Edwin Markham and Roswell Field.

A Remarkable Comic Section

Happy Hooligan Proposes to SUSANNE Again

Howson Lott Has Some Visitors

Mr. Batch Has a Narrow Escape

Jimmy --- He Is At It Again

Just Why a Pitcher Can Curve a Baseball.
Why Every Woman Married for Six Years Ought to Go to Work.
Coronium—A New Gas, Whose Power is So Great That a Balloon Filled With It the Size of a Baseball Would Raise an Elephant from the Ground.
A Game of Polo That Cost $12,000 a Minute.
Daring Train Robbers—Remarkable Stories Told by Sophie Lyons.
Why Blondes Must Be Abolished, by Edna Goodrich, the Beautiful Actress.
May Irwin's Recipes.
Ruth St. Denis Tells How Dancing Develops a Beautiful Figure.
Tango Tea Gowns, by Lucille, the World-Famous Dressmaker.

All These and Dozens of Other Great Features in The Sunday American

A Newspaper For the Home

With Something in It For Everybody

THE

Sunday American

Is "The Market Place of the South" for Advertisers

Order Your Copy Now

Both Phones MAIN 8000

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Daysey Mayme And Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton was a student in school, none was as quick as she in deciding how many rolls of paper it would require for a room seventeen feet square, with walls twelve feet high, allowing for two doors and seven windows. Given the dimensions of a cistern, she could remove her wad of chewing gum, stick it on the under side of her desk, go to the blackboard and figure how many cubic feet of water it would take to fill the cistern and get back to her desk before her gum was cold.

She ate up problems in compound interest, gloated over questions involving the displacement of battleships, and no other girl got as much chalk on her nose and clothes in figuring just when and where we will bump into Mars.

Every Bonaparte finally meets his Wellington, and Daysey Mayme at last met hers. She had charge of the kitchen, and was down on her knees in front of the refrigerator with the day's purchase of groceries beside her when her colors went down in defeat.

Mathematical Shapes.

The butter jar was square, the milk was in bottles, the cold potatoes filled an oval dish and the prunes were in a round bowl. With eyes that could tell at a glance the distance between Jupiter and Mars, she saw that the refrigerator shelves were eighteen inches deep and two feet long, and that there were three of them.

"Let x," she began, mechanically, "represent the lard, y the eggs and z the roast; then x plus y plus z will equal one-third of the top shelf, leaving two-thirds for a, the stewed prunes; b, the cream, and c, the potatoes."

She found the displacement of the roast was such there was no room for x, y, and a, b and c, and in trying to crowd the milk bottles on the eggs she broke three, and yellow and white leaked down over the prunes on the shelf beneath. She used every trick in science to reduce the round cans, the oval dishes and the square boxes to a space small enough to make room for the cheese, upsetting a bowl of frosting into the buttermilk jar and the salad dressing over a rice pudding.

Sat on a Pie.

The present was hard enough to bear, and when her brain leaped forward to the season when the watermelon must also be figured with she sat recklessly back on a pie and began to cry.

"Oh, Lord," she prayed, beating her head against a dish of cold potatoes, "either make woman's brains large enough to solve her problems or make watermelons smaller."

"Oh," she added a moment later, when she had found she couldn't balance the cream bottles on the roast, "if you can't make them smaller, make them square."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

HIS LOVE IS SELFISH.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man seven years my senior. He always says he loves me and often speaks of marriage, although we do not consider ourselves engaged. He never goes with other girls and expects me not to meet other boys. Has he a right to expect this, and is it right for me to go with other young men?

MABEL.

Professions of love and the occasional mention of marriage do not constitute an engagement. There must be a definite proposal and an engagement ring.

Until there is an engagement neither has the right of monopoly of the other's time, and not then if both parties have a faith that is above jealousy. You are 17—too young by several years to be engaged.

ASK HER.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 20 and in love with a girl two years my junior, with whom I have been acquainted for several years. I have been calling on her and taking her out, with the permission of her parents. Whenever I approve of one of her friendly actions she claims she would do that same thing for anybody whom she liked. How can I learn whether she loves me or not? ANXIOUS.

There is only one way: Ask her. But don't ask her unless you are financially able to follow up your question with a proposal of marriage and an engagement ring.

DON'T DO IT.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Can I gain a man's respect by allowing him to kiss me goodnight after a little evening's outing?

I have reference to a very fine young man whom I have known but a short time. I am 19 years old. A. E.

I am sure no man's lasting regard is won that way. Save your kisses for the man you love.

"Just Say"

HORLICK'S

It Means

Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A Quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S

Others are imitations.

THE TRIPLE TIE

A Story for Baseball Fans That Will Interest Every Lover of the National Game

$250 in Prizes for Best Solution of "The Triple Tie"

YOU read the first four installments of the great baseball mystery story of "The Triple Tie" and now you have a fair idea of the simplicity of the offer The Georgian makes—how you may win $100 by working out the solution of the mystery as nearly as its author, A. H. C. Mitchell, has done as you can.

Mr. Mitchell has written the last chapter, but his copy is sealed up in a vault at the American National Bank. When all but this final chapter has been printed, The Georgian readers will be asked to submit to three competent judges, none of them connected with this newspaper, their version of what the grand denouement should be.

To the person who most closely approximates Mr. Mitchell's final chapter $100 will be awarded. Other prizes, making the total prize list $250, also will be distributed.

Here is the list of the awards:

No. 1	$100
No. 2	$50
No. 3	$25
No. 4	$15
Nos. 5 to 16, each	5

Read this fifth installment of the great mystery story and you will not need to be urged to read the succeeding chapters. The story will grip you. As you read, try to follow the author's channel of thought and when the time comes for you to sit down and write that final chapter, be ready to win one of the big cash prizes in The Georgian's great offer.

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

Gordon looked at his watch. "I can only spare half an hour—say forty minutes, Judge," he laughed. "You see, I am taking some lessons and the hours are from 10 to 12 in the morning and 2 to 4 in the afternoon."

"I'm glad to learn that you are starting right in to improve yourself, Gordon. Lord knows there were many things that could not be had up in the mountains where you were forced to spend all your life."

"I have no complaint to make, Judge. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I formed an ambition up there that I want to see realized."

"What is it?"

"I'll tell you as soon as I feel sure I can win out," laughed Gordon.

To his wife Deery telephoned from his office that there would a guest for dinner. "I may do some business with him at some future date," he explained, "but that has nothing to do with it at present. He is a friend of Judge Barbee's. In fact, the Judge is a sort of guardian of his. He has lived all his life in the mountains, but you would never know it to talk with him. He has never been in a city before, but you would never suspect that either. Please pass the word along to Mildred and tell her she will be interested."

At five minutes of seven o'clock that evening Gordon Kelly entered the Deery residence and a moment later was escorted into the living room by Mr. Deery, who presented him to his wife.

"This is Mr. Gordon Kelly, dear; my wife, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, and after courtesies had been exchanged, he added: "Where is Mildred?"

At that moment his daughter crossed the threshold, and as she caught sight of Gordon she stood stock still. Recovering herself instantly, she advanced and held out her hand as the young man was presented to her. Before half a dozen words could be spoken, dinner was announced.

A Warning Glance.

"I don't intend to talk of the weather, Mr. Kelly, but I would like to ask if you were caught in the storm this morning?" said Mrs. Deery, as the napkins were unfolded.

Gordon intercepted a quick, warning glance from Mildred, who was seated opposite him, and answered:

"I certainly did, Mrs. Deery. I was caught out in the suburbs and caught most of the rain, too, but fortunately I found a friend right handy and was able to dry my clothes; otherwise I should have been in a predicament."

"You were fortunate after all," smiled Mrs. Deery, "but Mildred was out in the whole drenching rain and had a most exciting adventure. You haven't heard a word about it, Galen. Mildred, tell Mr. Kelly and your father all about it."

"You tell them, please, mother," pleaded Mildred, with a slight flush.

Thereupon Mrs. Deery related the incidents of the morning, exaggerating only so much as it is a woman's right to exaggerate. She omitted, however, the mean part played by Forrest Cain. Neither did she mention the hand-holding episode, for in truth her daughter had not told her of it.

"That was very kind of you to turn back, Miss Deery," said Gordon, with a smile. "As near as I can make out the young man was at fault in not looking out for himself."

"Now I think you are fishing for compliments for that young man, Mr. Kelly," returned Mildred. "You men always stand up for each other that way."

It was evident to Gordon that Mildred desired to conceal from her parents that he, Gordon Kelly, was the young man referred to. Beyond a slight start when she first saw him in her home, she had no sign of ever having seen him before. Gordon could not fathom her reasons for wishing the matter kept secret, but he felt bound to respect them.

She Flushed Slightly.

Mrs. Deery started another topic. "My husband tells me you have lived all your life in the mountains northwest of us," she said. "Didn't you find it losesome up there?"

"Oh, mother, let Mr. Kelly tell us what he thinks of Atlanta," broke in Mildred quickly. "Isn't it a fine city, Mr. Kelly?"

She flushed again slightly, though Gordon could not understand why she did so. He answered:

"It certainly is, Miss Deery, but the thing that impressed me most when I arrived was the roar and rumble of it. Where I have lived the only noise we hear is the sound of the wind through the trees."

The conversation drifted into small talk. Mildred turned aside every attempt made by her parents to draw out Gordon in regard to his life in the mountains, and this was another thing in connection with the young woman he couldn't understand.

The dinner ended and Mrs. Deery asked if Gordon would care to play bridge.

"That is an accomplishment I haven't acquired," laughed Gordon, "but I must study it up."

"Take my advice and don't do it," declared Deery. "In a moment of mental aberration I allowed myself to learn the rudiments of the game. Never again!" He held up his right hand impressively. "Since that fatal hour my wife and daughter have insisted on dragging me shrieking to all sorts of bridge parties for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home, or some such charitable affair."

They all laughed at this. It was not until Gordon was taking his leave that he managed to have a word with Mildred alone. He said:

"Tell me why you make a mystery of my connection with your adventure of the morning?"

"Sh'h," she replied with a sly look. "It's a secret."

"And why wouldn't you allow me to tell of my life in the mountains?"

"Sh-h," replied Mildred with an adorable smile. "That is secret No. 2."

Cordial Invitations.

"Won't you tell me?"

"I hope so—some time."

"By the way, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, coming up to where they stood. "You ought to know some of the young men of Atlanta. If you will take lunch with me tomorrow, I will have you meet one of them, Forrest Cain, who, I know, would be glad to make things pleasant for you while you are in Atlanta."

"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I—" He felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline. Unfortunately I have another engagement."

Deery noticed the hesitancy, but made no comment beyond. "Well, some other time, perhaps."

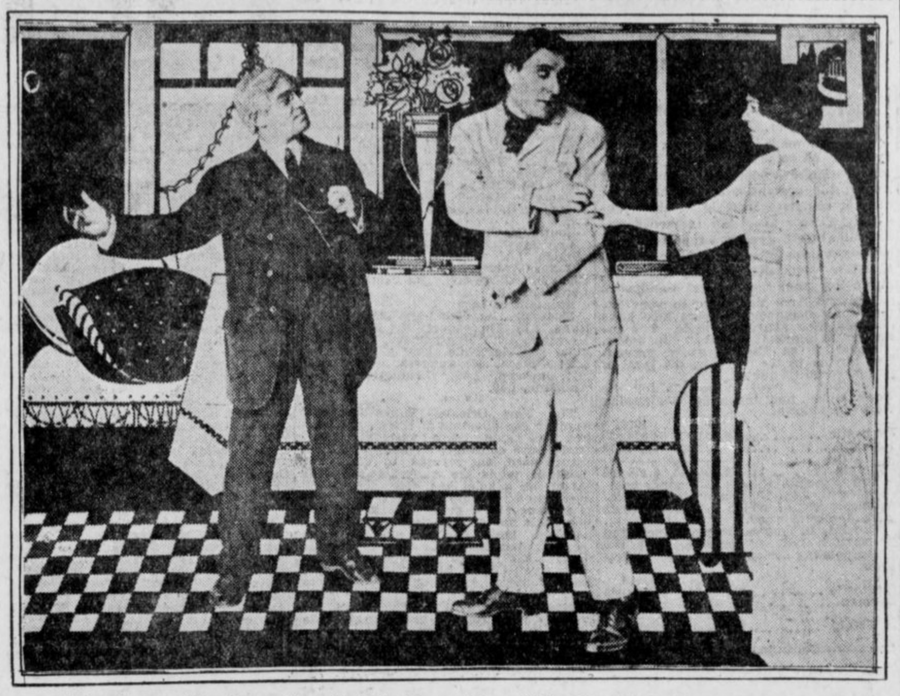
There were cordial invitations to "come again," at which Gordon said:

"I'm not very well versed in etiquette, Mrs. Deery, but am I not entitled to make a 'party call'?"

"You certainly are," laughed Mrs. Deery, "come and see us the last of the week. What night, Mildred?"

"Come Thursday, Mr. Kelly," said Mildred.

His heart as light as a feather, Gordon Kelly walked home on aeriform fluid.



"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I——" he felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline."

CHAPTER VII.

FORREST CAIN, having nothing in particular to do except amuse himself and having plenty of money to do it with, spent considerable time every year in New York. He usually took three yearly trips and sometimes four to the metropolis, besides spending several weeks there in the hot season. In New York he always lived at the Niagara Club, so called because it flowed on with a roar from day to day and from month to month and from year to year. It never closed its doors. One could get a drink, or a meal, there at any hour of the day or night. Its membership consisted largely of wealthy young men of leisure—the same kind of New Yorkers in New York that Cain was in Atlanta. It was the sort of a club to appeal to a man of Cain's habits and inclinations.

The lure of Broadway and the call of the Niagara Club sounded from afar in the ears of Forrest Cain early in March, and he promptly made preparations for a trip to New York, completely forgetting the promise he had made to Galen Deery to take the young man from the mountains in tow. Transportation was secured for the following Thursday night, Cain engaging a stateroom on a Pullman car. Twice on Tuesday and twice on Wednesday he called up the Deery residence on the telephone, but the maid who answered the ring, after ascertaining who it was that was calling, told him Miss Deery was not at home. Early Thursday night he called up again, with the same result. Thereupon he proceeded to his club and spent the few hours before train time with convivial companions. Knowing the habitual inclinations of through Southern trains to be late, he took the precaution, about the time he should have left for the depot, to call up and find out about this particular train, and learned that it was nearly two hours behind schedule. He then took another chance of finding Mildred Deery, but the same maid assured him that she was not at home. Requesting that she be informed that he was leaving that night for New York, he hung up the receiver.

He then remembered that he had some orders to give regarding the overhauling of his automobile, and walked around to the garage, which was only a short distance from his club. He arrived just in time to dodge a smart shower of rain. As he was giving his instructions, the telephone in the office of the garage rang, and the proprietor answered the call. Cain heard half the conversation.

"Yes, this is the garage. Yes, Miss Deery. Yes, I understand. I'll have a car around in five minutes. All right. Goodbye."

"Where is she telephoning from?" asked Cain.

"From her home. She has a guest there who evidently doesn't care to walk home in the rain. So much the better for the automobile business. Every little helps."

"And they told me she wasn't at home," said Cain to himself, gritting his teeth. "What do you know about that?" Who was this favored guest, he wondered, and why was he, Forrest Cain, told repeatedly that Miss Deery was "not at home?"

An idea seized him. He would find out for himself. He had more than an hour to spare. His baggage was taken care of and his man, George, was waiting for him at the depot with his gripsack. He would play the role of chauffeur and drive the car to the Deery residence and take the favored guest to his home, after which he would return to the garage and have himself driven to the depot.

Pulled His Cap Down.

"Lend me a coat and cap, Davis," said Cain to the owner of the garage. "I need some air before I get on that stuffy train. I'll drive the car and collect the fare and bring back every penny of it."

Cain was one of the best customers of the garage, and he was an expert driver, so the proprietor readily gave his consent. Slipping on a long tan coat and pulling a cap well down over his eyes, Cain climbed into a touring car. The top was up, and the curtains were in place to keep out the rain. An employee cranked the car, and with Cain at the wheel it moved slowly out of the garage.

Arriving at the Deery residence, Cain sounded the horn to indicate that the car was there. A moment later the front door opened and the figure of a man holding an umbrella to be protected from the smart rain ran down the path to the sidewalk. Cain pulled his cap further down over his eyes and waited for the umbrella to be lowered. An electric light blazed only a few feet away. As he reached the side of the car, the man threw open the door, closed the umbrella with a snap and entered the vehicle. Quick as were his movements in order to avoid the rain, Cain was able to recognize his passenger the same young man he had so nearly run over in front of Ponce DeLeon Park in the furious rainstorm of Saturday morning; in short, it was, as the reader knows, George Kelly.

Cain stifled his rage and demanded in a gruff voice: "Where to?"

"Imperial Hotel," replied Kelly.

As he put the car in motion, wild thoughts filled the mind of Forrest Cain. For the first time in his life he was evidently not having his own way in a matter he had undertaken. Ever since he was old enough to walk he had ruled the Cain household. As a boy he was arrogant and self-willed. Since his father died, nine years before, he had shared with his sister the income from a large fortune. His money had enabled him to have everything he wanted. A few weeks ago he had made up his mind to marry Mildred Deery. It is true that she was not aware of this decision, and what her true feelings in regard to him were he did not know, nor did this matter trouble him much. Was he not one of the richest, if not the richest, bachelor in Atlanta? Was he not considered the great "catch?" Why, then, should he not marry the girl that suited his fancy?

Things had gone along swimmingly, he flattered himself, until this young man had crossed his path and had nearly met his death in doing so. He acknowledged to himself that he was a little rough in his talk to the fellow that day and Mildred had taken offense. But he had tried hard to "square" himself—to make amends. Had he not sent her flowers? Had he not repeatedly tried to talk with her over the telephone? Had he not tried twice that very night to do so and was he not told that she was "not at home?"

Cain was boiling with anger as his thoughts reached a sort of climax. She was not at home to him, it seemed, but she was at home to this stranger. Who was this man? How did Mildred find out who he was and where he lived? There must be a stop to the whole business. And he, Forrest Cain, was the man to stop it. Here was his chance. He would—

The car had arrived at the end of the street. To go to the Imperial Hotel a turn should be made to the right. Instead of doing this, however, Cain turned to the left and took a direction that would lead out of town. He speeded up the machine to the limit of its capacity, with a vague idea of intimidating the passenger on the rear seat, and the car flew down a hill at a terrifying pace. Rain was still falling sharply, making the roads wet and slippery and the car rolled and tossed and skidded in an alarming manner.

To be Continued To-morrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Gordon Kelly, a young North Georgia mountaineer, comes to Atlanta to get a place with Billy Smith's Crackers. It is raining when he reaches Ponce DeLeon and he is nearly run over by an auto, in which are two persons—a man and a young girl. The driver of the car is an arrogant fellow. The girl makes him stop the machine. She gets out and inquires if Kelly is injured. She apologizes for her companion's brusque manner. Kelly sees Manager Smith and tells him he has never played a game of ball. Smith consents to give Kelly a trial. The girl in the auto is Mildred Deery, daughter of Galen Deery, a crafty and wealthy speculator in timber lands. Her companion is Forrest Cain, a rich young man about town. Kelly owns timber land that Deery would like to possess.

Now go on with the story.

She Was So Neat

"ANY man who is married to a fine housekeeper is a most unfortunate creature," said the easy-going man. "It is not pleasant to live in the same block with one.

"A splendid housekeeper is much like a hawk—always on the lookout to descend upon some one and stick her claws into him or her, mostly him.

"That style of housekeeper, like a hawk, keeps mostly out of sight, busy away off somewhere. Then when you are sitting on a tabouret, there is a whirr—and down she comes! Right on your neck with her talons!

"I know the husband of a fine housekeeper who has to pull off his shoes and climb up the banisters to keep from soiling the carpet on the stairs, and he even gets into trouble for scratching the banisters a little in sliding down them.

"Another man I know has to wash his face and hands out in the laundry so that he wouldn't mess up the bedoilied bathroom. Others take their baths at the club or go without.

"A hawk woman will descend upon a scrap of paper on the lawn, and should any unfortunate person catch a glimpse of her face at such a time he will not soon forget it! One would think that the scrap of paper was guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

"Such a woman is never happy and never satisfied. Life is just one messy thing after another. Eating is a dreadful performance, to be endured like the boring of a cavity or the killing of a nerve in a tooth.

"Sleeping is another filthy habit, and causes untidy beds and horrid wrinkly linen.

"Having people walking on the carpets is about as pleasant for a conscientious housekeeper as saw sharpening is to a violin professor.

"If an uncle from the country comes into such a woman's parlor with his boots on and trailing behind him his nine hobble-shoed children, and they sit on the furniture and swing their legs and eat candy and play jacks and shoot marbles and slide down the banisters and have a pillow fight, it results fatally for the poor woman."

One of Two Things.

A Kentucky mountain woman fell ill and for the first time in his life her husband had to work. It devolved upon him to nurse the invalid, look after a large family of tow-headed children, milk the cow, feed the pig, cook the meals and tend a straggly half acre of corn. At the end of ten days of these frightful labors he staggered down to the general store at the forks of the road and fell at the doorway in an exhausted heap. The storekeeper came out and said:

"Halloa, Anse, how's yore wife?"

"She ain't no better," moaned the husband. "I paid out a whole four bits for a bottle of bitters for her, but it seems like hit don't do her no good. I'm plumb wore out!"

He paused a moment and sighed deeply.

"Sometimes," he said, "I git to wishin' the old woman would git well—or somethin'!"

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced."

Eastman Films and complete stock amateur supplies. Quick mail service for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

A MIGHTY monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold

To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse yet wise—

A precept, soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn.

Many the maxim sent the king, men say,
The one he chose: "This, too, shall pass away."

Oh, jewel sentence from the mine of truth!
What riches it contains for age or youth!

No stately epic, measured and sublime,
So comforts, or so counsels, for all time

As these few words. Go write them on your heart
And make them of your daily life a part.

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away—absorb the thought,

And wait; your waiting will not be in vain.
Time gilds with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark to-day leads into light to-morrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow.

Are you upon earth's heights? No cloud in view?
Go read your motto once again: This, too,

Shall pass away. Fame, glory, place and power,
They are but little baubles of the hour,

Flung by the ruthless years down in the dust,
Take warning and be worthy of God's trust.

Use well your prowess while it lasts; leave bloom,
Not blight, to mark your footprints to the tomb.

The truest greatness lies in being kind,
The truest wisdom in a happy mind.

He who desponds, his Maker's judgment mocks;
The gloomy Christian is a paradox.

Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short we need to make it broad.

Since life is brief we need to make it bright.
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,

And let its meaning permeate each day.
Whatever comes—This, too, shall pass away.

.:. Their Married Life .:.

Warren Gets Out His Summer Clothes and Helen Gives Away the Wrong Suit.

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

"DEAR, you'll never wear them," persisted Helen. "What's the use of keeping them any longer? Let me give these two suits to the elevator boy."

"Hold on now—not so fast! What've you got there?" scowled Warren, coming over to where Helen was examining two suits by the window.

"Why, this old blue serge, and this brown suit."

"Let's see—give them here. What's the matter with this?" as he held up the blue serge.

"Why, Warren, it's all worn shiny. And there's that new blue serge you got last summer. You'll never wear this old one."

"I'm not so sure. That's a good suit yet. Just the thing to wear fishing."

Warren was always saving his old suits to wear fishing—but he never went fishing! However, Helen was much too wise to remind him of this inconsistency, but she finally persuaded him to part with the blue serge, since he had kept at least five other old suits to "wear fishing."

It was Sunday morning, a dark, dismal Sunday, and right after breakfast Warren had declared it would be a good day to get out his summer clothes.

Signs of Spring.

The elevator boy had brought the trunk from the basement, and now Warren's summer suits were spread over the chairs and window sills of two rooms, and the whole place was filled with the odor of moth balls.

"Well, all right, then," reluctantly, as he threw down the blue serge. "Give that to the elevator boy if you want to—but that's ALL! Understand? The rest of these I'm going to keep. You've got a perfect mania for giving my clothes away. I notice you're not any too keen on getting rid of yours. What in thunder's that?" as something crunched under his heel.

"Oh, it's a moth ball, dear. Be careful, don't step on any more."

"Why the devil don't you get camphor? Don't smell half as bad as these infernal things."

"But camphor's so much more expensive. These are just as good and they're only 5 cents a pound. I've got some fresh ones to put in with your winter clothes."

Helen had already gotten out Warren's winter suits and was beginning to pack them in the trunk.

"Well, I can't see that you need me here. Try to air out this place before I get back. Hold on, there; better not put in that overcoat. I may need that yet."

So Warren went out for his Sunday morning walk, while Helen was left to pack away his winter suits. At last she had them all in, and the trunk was ready to be sent back to the basement.

The elevator boy took it down, and with a pleased consciousness of tipping him well, Helen gave him the blue serge suit.

It was several mornings afterwards that Warren looked through his closet, now hung with the Summer suits, which had in the meantime been well aired and pressed.

"Where's that blue serge?" he called. "Had that pressed yet?"

"Oh, yes, dear, the tailor sent them all back yesterday. It's right there—hanging right in front."

"Well, I don't see it," he grumbled. "This closet's so infernally dark—you can't see a blame thing." Then a few moments' silence in which he looked again. "Well, if it's here I can't find it."

"Wait dear, I'll come."

The Wrong Suit.

Helen, who was not quite dressed, hurried in with her hair down, and looked through the long line of suits which hung on their hangers in Warren's wardrobe.

"Why, here it is—almost in front."

"No, that's the old one. Thought you said you were going to give that away."

"The—the OLD one!" stammered Helen. "Why—why it can't be——"

She had taken it to the light, but fortunately her back was to Warren, and he did not see her face. It WAS the old one. She had given the good one away!

"Oh, I remember," hastily, as she hung the suit back. "The sleeve lining was ripped in the other coat and I wanted to sew it before it was pressed. And I—I decided not to give this old one away—after all you might want to wear it fishing some time."

"Humph! Thought you were so keen about getting rid of it! Well, now you fix that other suit and have the tailor press it to-day. It's just about the right weight to wear now."

Helen, panic-stricken, went in to finish dressing. What could she do? She MUST get that suit back. Warren would be rabid if he found she had given away a perfectly new suit. No—no, he must never know!

She barely tasted her breakfast, and could hardly wait until Warren left. Then she ran out to see if the elevator boy, to whom she had given the suit, was on duty this morning.

But it was the other boy who answered her ring.

"What time will Henry be on?" she demanded.

A Thief.

"He won't be on no more, ma'am. He's been discharged."

"DISCHARGED!"

"Yes, ma'am, the superintendent laid him off this morning."

There was nothing for Helen to do but to see the superintendent and try to get the boy's address. What if he had already worn the suit? But Helen dared not think of that possibility.

"So he stole something from you, too, did he?" was the superintendent's first comment when Helen asked him about the boy.

"Stole something? Why, no, but I gave him a suit of Mr. Curtis' by mistake."

The superintendent seemed relieved. "Well, he stole from other tenants—that's why I had to get rid of him. I'm sorry, Mrs. Curtis, that I haven't his address, but you might get it from the employment agency where I engaged him."

In desperation Helen explained about the suit.

"Oh, a blue serge? Why, that's downstairs now. I wouldn't let him take it away—thought he stole that, too."

"No, no, I gave it to him. But I thought I was giving him another suit."

The superintendent brought it up, and to Helen's infinite relief it was wrapped in newspaper, just as she had given it to the boy. He had torn a hole in the paper to see what it was like, but plainly it had not been unwrapped.

Overjoyed by her good luck, Helen promptly took the suit to the little tailoring shop around the corner to be pressed.

The very next morning Warren asked about "that blue serge suit."

"Yes, dear, I had it pressed yesterday. It's hanging right there in your closet."

Warren got it out and looked it over with a curious puzzled expression.

She Confesses.

"Huh, that's funny! Guess I was wrong this time."

"Wrong? Why, what do you mean, dear?"

"Well, I thought you couldn't produce it—that's all. I'd an idea that you'd gotten those blue suits mixed—and given the wrong one to that boy."

"Why, Warren—how could you think that?" flushing quickly. "Why I told you I—I wanted to fix the sleeve lining before it was pressed."

"I know you did, and you acted mighty blamed suspicious, too. You're always lying out of a thing when you get in a hole." Then, with a keen glance at Helen's flushed face: "I'm not sure yet that I wasn't right."

There was a moment's tense silence. Warren was buttoning a pair of suspenders on the blue serge trousers, while Helen was fumblingly putting on a hanger the coat he had worn yesterday.

"Eh? How about it?" he persisted with another searching glance at her averted face.

She hung the coat on the rod in the closet, then turned with a sudden defiant:

"Very well, you were RIGHT! I DID make a mistake—I DID give that suit to the elevator boy! But you needn't hesitate to wear it—it hadn't even been unwrapped. And if I'm always lying out of things it's your fault! You've raged and stormed at me so that when anything goes wrong—I'm AFRAID to tell you the truth!"

Wise Child.

"You see, had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

Boy—No, ma'am; it would have been eaten by us.

PURE SILK GLOVES

When you visit the Glove Department of your favorite store, do not merely ask for "a pair of silk gloves."

Specify the "Niagara Maid" kind. Do not accept substitutes. You will be pleased with the results. They wear longer, are better and cost no more than any other good kind.

Finger tips are double, and each pair contains a guarantee ticket.

Colorings are up to the instant from a style point of view.

Ask your dealer. If he cannot supply you, send us his name. We will supply you through him.

Niagara Silk Mills

North Tonawanda, N. Y.

New York Boston Chicago San Francisco

A 30c "Want Ad" placed in this paper may be the seed that will grow a fortune for you

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Stair builder, one competent to handle circle stair work. Apply Phoenix Planing Mill, 321 Highland Avenue. 5-22-4

ANY ONE knowing the whereabouts of Lee Martin, white, about eighteen, will confer a favor by communicating same to M., Box 530, care Georgian. 5-21-2

WANTED—Two first-class waiters. Apply 205 Peachtree; Adair Hotel. 5-21-26

WANTED—Colored help. Apply Southern Upholstering Co., corner Jefferson and Echo. 5-21-25

ATLANTA mail carriers wanted; average $90 month. Atlanta examinations coming. Specimen questions free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 49-D, Rochester, N. Y. 30-14-5

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Peachtree and Forsyth Streets, Atlanta, or 411 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga. 4-1-1

WANTED—ideas. Inventors, write for list of inventions wanted and prizes offered by manufacturers. Also, how to get your patent. Sent free to any address. Randolph & Briesce, patent attorneys, Washington, D. C. 7-11-23

PULLMAN porters wanted; references. For instruction. Write P, O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-37

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 East Mitchell St. 5-11-17

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells of about 200,000 protected positions in U. S. service. Thousands of vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, sure and generous pay, lifetime employment. Just ask for booklet T-412. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 5-1-1

Female.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 240 Courtland, apartment 3. 5-23-48

WANTED—At once, an experienced cook. References required. 61 Avery Drive, Ansley Park. 5-23-43

WANTED—Competent general servant. Apply to 439 North Jackson St. 33-23-5

WANTED—A cook; good pay. Phone Ivy 6481-J. 62 Westminster Drive. 5-23-35

WANTED—Good cook; one that can bake bread; will pay $5 per week. Apply 174 St. Charles Avenue at once. 29-23-5

FREE—Ladies, we trim and make over hats free in our finishing department; lace and mailne hats to order. Ideal Millinery School, 100½ Whitehall St. 5-23-202

STEWARDESS WANTED—Middle-aged lady who can make desserts and control help; in health resort. Address Richard Plenge, Williamston, S. C. 22-23-5

WANTED—Experienced assorter. Apply Excelsior Laundry, 40-42 Wall St. 5-22-19

WANTED—Lady steno-bookkeeper of fair ability. State salary, age, references. Go out of city. Merchant, care Georgian. 5-22-10

A COOK—Four in family; room on the place with private toilet and electric lights. 282 St. Charles Avenue. 31-22-5

WANTED—Good cook; also washerwoman to live on place. Apply 667 W. Peachtree Street. 5-21-37

COLORED girl of neat appearance for general housework. 49 Vedado Way. 42-21-5

WANTED—Experienced nurse for two children, one and three years old; settled woman preferred. Must have good references. Apply 787 Ponce De-Leon. 5-21-14

A FIRST-CLASS chambermaid; good wages. Apply 241 West Peachtree. 38-21-5

WANTED—Experienced cook. Must be settled, unincumbered woman willing to go to country place. Call mornings, 205 Peachtree Circle. 32-21-5

WANTED—Good cook. Must live in the house. Apply 1068 DeKalb Avenue. 36-20-5

WANTED—Housekeeper for sanitarium. Apply in person with references. Experience required. 237 Whitehall Street. 5-22-5

U. S. GOVERNMENT POSITIONS open to women. Write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 602-D, Rochester, N. Y. 25-20-5

WANTED—Experienced millinery trimmer and saleslady; also saleswoman for suits and shirtwaists. Grossman's. 5-19-10

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pay $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 100½ Whitehall St. 3-29-41

Male and Female.

BOYS and girls everywhere, to make a dollar every day after school. Pleasant and easy work. Call on or write A. R. Cassil, 41½ Peachtree Street, Atlanta. Inclose stamped and addressed envelope for reply. 33-21-5

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

NO. 6 REMINGTONS, $5 for 4 months; Royals, $7 for 4 months; Underwoods, $8 for 4 month; Remington visible, $9 for 4 months. Initial payment allowed on price of machine. Call our new illustrated catalog and price list No. 26. American Writing Machine Co., 48 N. Pryor Street. Phone M. 2526.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 N. Pryor St. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

TEACHERS WANTED.

WRITE for record of our eight years' work. High class patronage. Efficient service. Foster's Teachers Agency, Atlanta, Ga. 64-4-4

WANTED AT ONCE—A few more first-class principals and assistant teachers. Good openings, good salaries. Free registration. Register Teachers' Agency Register, Ga. 5-18-9

EDUCATIONAL.

WILL take a limited number of pupils for piano; $2 per month; graduate musician. 7 Kent St. 5-21-22

EMORY summer school; cool, quiet; fifty days from June 17. Latin, Greek, French, German, English, history, mathematics. Address E. K. Turner, Oxford, Ga. 5-9-1

AGENTS AND SALESMEN.

Wanted.

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

PORTRAIT AGENTS—Send your work direct to artist and get better work. We get order out on time. Prices to suit your trade. Stevens Bros., 23½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta. 3-7-35

I want a REAL good REAL estate salesman; FINE OPENING. Apply mail, J. Wilkes, Box 602, care Georgian. 5-22-14

Want Anything?

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers, accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion ...10c a line
3 insertions .. 6c a line
7 insertions ... 5c a line
30 insertions ..4½c a line
90 insertions ... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

No advertisement accepted from out of town unless accompanied by cash or forwarded through recognized advertising agency.

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—By colored man, position as first-class cook. Address Cook, Box 354, care Georgian. 205-5-23

LISTEN! If you want first-class salesman, with A-1 references and ability to deliver the goods, or a good all-round man, call Atlanta phone 3761. Must have work. Address W. C., Box 891, care Georgian. 5-23-5

AS REPRESENTATIVE of some corporation or salesman; for some firm at Macon, or on the road. Willing to work one month to demonstrate my ability. Can furnish reference. Address Honest Gentleman, care Georgian. 41-22-5

WANTED—Position by young man as pressman. Will accept reasonable salary. Address Press, Box 495, care Georgian. 208-5-22

STENOGRAPHER—Young married man With two years' experience in railroad traffice work desires position. Address P. O. Box 23, Boca Grande, Fla. 37-22-5

COLLEGE graduate with two years' experience as bookkeeper and cashier for responsible firm desires responsible employment; write good hand, can use typewriter rapidly; can furnish best city references. Address E., Box 6, Georgian. 32-22-5

ARCHITECT—Young man; designer and head draughtsman for seven years in leading New York offices, wishes to affiliate with good local architect. An interview will be convincing. Address J. M. B., care Georgian. 205-5-22

A SPLENDID dining room boy, private home or office work. Want work at once. Can give good reference. Answer quick. Z. B., 383 Martin Street, City. 30-22-5

WANTED—Position b yan experienced man as manager of small telephone exchange. Can give the best of references as to character and ability. Address J. J. N., 1004 Lafayette St., Quitman, Ga. 47-21-5

FIRST-CLASS German butler wants position; can furnish best references. Address 47 E. Mitchell St. 44-21-5

YOUNG MAN of good business ability wishes to affiliate with good concern. All recommendations of highest sources. An interview with me will be convincing. Phone Ivy 6299-L. 5-21-17

STENOGRAPHER of experience desires position at once; best references. Call Main 4865-J. 5-21-7

YOUNG MAN, 26, recently arrived from New York, seeks position as bookkeeper or clerk in mercantile house offering advancement; good correspondent and willing worker. Address Clerk, 889, care Georgian. 39-21-5

WANTED—Position as sawyer at circular saw mill in Georgia or Florida. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Six years' experience. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Council, N. C. 34-19-5

POSITION WANTED—Bookkeeper, 30, ten years' experience as bookkeeper, cashier, collector, wants position; best references. Bond if desired. Experience, Box 55, care Georgian. 31-12-5

BOOKKEEPER and auditor will straighten out your bookkeeping and office troubles. Trial balances made. Small sets of books written up. P. O. Box 836. Phone Ivy 7011. 5-4-13

Female.

YOUNG GIRL wants position in small family to do general housework. Address M. G. J., 899 Gordon St. 201-5-23

WANTED—Position as cashier by young lady with experience. Address M. C., 21 White Oak Street, Atlanta, Ga. 200-5-22

TYPEWRITING, any class, accurately, neatly done, reasonable. Stenographer, Ivy 5. 28-22-5

STENOGRAPHER with four and half years' experience desires permanent position at once. Address Miss C. L., 362 Capitol Avenue. 41-21-5

WANTED—Position by young lady as stenographer; three years' experience. Care Georgian. 206-5-21

HIGHLY efficient stenographer, office assistant, has resigned position. Must have another immediately. $18.00 per week minimum. Phone Ivy 5840. 5-21-4

WANTED—Cases to nurse by experienced sick nurse. Maternity cases a specialty. Rates reasonable. Best references. Call Ivy 7304-J, or West 1054. 36-20-5

Male and Female.

WANTED—Position by man and wife; woman to cookand man to work garden and care for chickens; best of references. Address R. B., Box 459, care Georgian. 201-5-21

DRESSMAKING—DRESSMAKERS.

WANTED—Dressmaking. One-piece dresses, $2.00 and up. Mrs. O. E. Smith, 27 N. Howard St., Kirkwood. 5-20-7

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

$25.00 English baby carriage. Good as new. Will sell for less than one-third. Call West 210. 5-23-19

FOR SALE—An oak chiffonier with mirror, good as new, cheap for cash. East Point 291-L. 5-23-23

FOR SALE—New Remington automatic shotgun. Bargain if taken now. Thos. Peacock, Rutledge, Ga. 5-23-8

FOR SALE—One National coaster-brake bicycle, good as new, cheap for cash, for quick sale. Apply 533 Woodward Avenue. 27-23-5

FOR SALE—Controlling interest in modern, up-to-date, beautifully furnished, thoroughly sanitary, new and well patronized beauty parlor, to party who can take charge and manage same. Cash, real estate or terms. Write F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. 5-23-1

DEALER in fresh meats, groceries, country produce, fat spring chickens and yard eggs of my own raising. Both phones. 234 Capitol Ave. 5-22-35

CANOE FOR SALE—15-foot "DETROIT" canoe; cushion and racing paddles complete. Boat equipped with sponsons and was "made to order." Perfectly new. Price complete $50. Call "Canoe," Phones 484. 202-5-22

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, show cases, scales and National cash register, at a bargain. Main 3239. Atlanta 880. 80 Capitol Avenue. 5-22-202

FOR SALE—Furniture complete for 6-room house. Cheap for cash. 333 Juniper Street. Phone Ivy 4834. 207-5-22

FOR SALE—16-inch oscillating electric fan. Brand new. Direct current; $15. P. O. Box 640. 5-22-15

FOR SALE—Less than half cost, soda fount; good condition. Brewster Mercantile Co., Esom Hill, Ga. 5-22-13

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

FOR SALE—Brown wicker baby carriage; used 8 months; in perfect condition; cost $25; will sell for $10. Bell Phone West 1113-J. 5-21-20

MAHOGANY bed room suit for sale; a bargain; or will exchange for room and board. 115 McDaniel. Main 2489-J. 5-21-33

FOR SALE—Six direct current 16-inch desk fans; used only two months. West 502. 5-21-29

SWEET PEAS, 30c per 100; carnations, 50c a dozen. Alta Vista Floral Company. West 135. 5-21-16

WE are agents for Pittsburg wire fence. Can make interesting prices to both wholesale and retail trade. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta. 5-21-12

GAS water heater for sale cheap. Good as new. Phone Ivy 2407-J. 5-21-3

FOR SALE—Fresh broken crackers, 5c a pound at factory, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Frank E. Block Co., Ellis St. 5-20-11

IMMEDIATE shipment of (genuine) Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potato plants at $1.25 per thousand, or $1.50 delivered. We ship nothing but good, strong, fresh plants and guarantee entire satisfaction. The Bear's Head Farms, Pine Castle, Fla. 32-19-5

NEW Perfection refrigerator, suitable for grocery, restaurant or large boarding house. 391 South Pryor. Bell phone 623, Atlanta phone 299. 5-19-6

FOR SALE—Two pool tables, practically new; been in use in club room and not hurt; must sell at once; bargain; original cost $400. Address P. O. Box 87, Jonesboro, Ga. 5-1-6

FOR SALE.

I WILL SELL a valuable patent at a sacrifice if taken immediately. Worth one-half million. Address Patent, Box 863, care Georgian. 3-8-6

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780. 3-15-33

WE RENT good pianos $3 per month up. We sell good pianos $5 per month up. R. P. BECHT COMPANY. 107-108-109 Temple Court Building. Main 667. 2-19-26

C. S. HULLS Headquarters. F. R. Logan & Co., Atlanta. 4-20-32

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT SWEEP CLEAN.

LET US prove this in your home by free demonstration. Full particulars at 107 Temple Court Building. L. R. Sires, agent. Phone Main 667. 5-2-30

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR

Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00.

C. H. MASON.
6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

BANKRUPTCY blanks, $1.50 per set. Warranty deeds, bonds for title, Mortgages, contracts, Stock certificates and bonds. Bennett's, 25 South Broad. 201-20-13

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Avenue. 2-13-9

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 N. Pryor Street.

KENTON SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

GOOD upright mahogany piano, nearly new; can be bought at a sacrifice if taken quick; sold for $350 less than six months ago. Mahogany Piano, care Georgian. 5-18-20

PIANO BARGAINS.

PIANOS AND PIANO PLAYERS.

SOLD at the lowest prices and on the most reasonable terms at which first-class instruments can be handled. Behr Bros., Newby & Evans, Ludwig and others. Call and see me before you buy.

WALTER HUGHES,
88 N. Pryor St.
3-29-1

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—One second-hand oil stove, in good condition. Address P. O. Box 339, Atlanta. 25-23-5

WANTED—Two rolltop desks, mahogany or imitation. Write 1309, Third National Bank Bldg. 26-22-5

WANTED—Second-hand ice cream table and six wire chairs. Cherokee Drug Company. Main 2808. 5-20-24

EVERYTHING to build and paint with. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-21-11

AUTOMOBILES

For Sale, Repairs and Accessories.

FOR SALE—Wood's electric coupe, with forty-cell, iron-clad exide battery. Entire car in fine condition. Price $700.

35-horsepower, 5-passenger Firestone-Columbus touring car in good condition and a good looker, $475. Firestone-Columbus Southern Co., 45-47 Auburn Avenue. Phone Ivy 4177. 5-22-7

WILL trade nice corner lot for good auto. Must be first-class; value of lot $800.00. Phone Main 4836-J. 200-5-21

WE have several Flanders chassis and will build body and paint car to your order. Bargain prices. Don't buy any second-hand car until you see us. NORTH PRYOR GARAGE, NORTH PRYOR PLACE. 4-2-28

WINDSHIELDS.

RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Mfrs. all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Co., 245 Edgewood. 3-4-64

GOOD USED CARS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Maxwell, 2-cylinder runabout, fine condition throughout, $185.

"Courier Roadster," fully equipped, electric lights, $275.

Buick model 10 roadster, electric lights, $325.

Buick, model 33, 4-passenger, fully equipped, fine condition, $350.

Maxwell Roadster, Sportsman type, model Q, fully equipped, electric lights, $375.

Maxwell touring, model G, 4-passenger, fully equipped, $450.

Primo touring car, new top and seat covers, $450.

These cars are in good running condition and worth more than the prices quoted above.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY.
241 PEACHTREE ST.
4-11-18

Castiron Welding

AUTOGENOUS METHOD.
AUTO AND ALL MACHINE PARTS.
METAL WELDING COMPANY.
MAIN 3013. 86 GARNETT STREET.
2-26-6

DOBBS TIRE REPAIR CO.
WE REPAIR AND SELL ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES. 226 PEACHTREE STREET. PHONE IVY 5646. 4-1-3

TRAVIS & JONES,
AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.
Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WARNING TO INFRINGERS AND IMITATORS.

LIQUID TIRE TONIC IS PROTECTED BY U. S. DUYREA PATENT, NO. 578551 AND ALL INFRINGERS, AGENTS OR USERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT THEY MUST ANSWER IN THE COURT FOR VIOLATION OF THIS LAW. LIQUID TIRE TONIC COMPANY, KANSAS CITY, MO. 4-3-48

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.
REPAIRING and manufacturing. Lamp and fender work. 72 Ivy Street. Atlanta phone 3816. 3-10-12

Garages For Rent.

FOR RENT—Garage. Phone Ivy 1499-J. 514 Peachtree Street.

Automobiles For Rent

DUNHAM MOTOR CO.

FIVE and seven-passenger cars. Garage, 112 East Ellis Street. Call Bell phone Ivy 2496 day, Main 4325 night. 3-21-22

Motorcycles.

THOR MOTORCYCLES, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Co., 116 Edgewood Ave. 3-26-31

MOTORCYCLES  EASY TERMS  BICYCLES.

EXCELSIOR motorcycles, high-grade bicycles; complete line new and used bicycles and motorcycles; complete stock parts and accessories; modern service depot. Lowest prices; easy terms. ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO., 145-147-149 Edgewood Avenue. Phone Ivy 1609. PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION. 4-1-22

Tire Repairing

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE."
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 8-26-26

EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—To exchange three diamond rings, value $1,100, for purchase money notes or vacant lots. J. H., Box 902, care Georgian. 42-22-5

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Best daily newspaper proposition in South Georgia—in the best city of its size in the State; modern equipment throughout. Can be bought at a bargain, half cash or good negotiable paper, balance on easy terms. Write quick to "Newspaper," Box 10, care Georgian. 5-23-12

TAILORING, cleaning and pressing business well established, excellent location, now paying $1,500 per year clear of all expenses. On account of failing in health will sacrifice for $1,000. Will accept $600 cash, balance on terms. Address P. O. Box 60, care Georgian. 5-22-1

$1,000 WILL BUY business netting 100 per cent yearly with opportunity for additional $100 monthly for services. Cash, Box 903, care Georgian. 28-21-5

CENTRALLY LOCATED restaurant and lunch room having good trade in bakery wares also. A rare chance for party that can devote his time. Present owner tied up in other business. Address R. K., Box 90, care Georgian. 201-5-19

FOR SALE—Business paying $200 to $300 per month, owner leaving city, cheap for quick cash sale. Address I. B., Box 607, care Georgian. 5-18-57

MEDICAL.

DR. R. P. SORRELLS, 313 Grand Building. Phone Ivy 7422. Diseases of women and children a specialty. I treat and cure diseases of women without the use of the knife. I also treat and cure cancer without using the knife. All consultations free and strictly confidential. 5-22-3

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Collum Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Poultry Fertilizer Better than Chemical To Build Up Land

EDITED BY JUDGE F. J. MARSHALL

Farmers Do Not Take Advantage of the Experience of Others. Great Opportunities.

The value of the poultry products in the country for 1910 was approximately $800,000,000, and the 1913 product will be around $1,000,000,000.

Much of this is attributed to the everlasting and persistent efforts of the American Poultry Association, an organization whose aims and efforts are to the building up and increasing of the thoroughbred poultry interests of this country. How well they have succeeded we will leave the reader to judge for himself from the wonderful building up of the industry in every nook and corner of the country.

But the very people who should receive the greatest benefits from this work are not reaping the benefits they should. I refer to the farmers of this country, and especially those of the South.

The raising of cotton by the means of chemical fertilizers seems to have a death grip upon them; so much so that they can not see over it into anything more profitable to them. They have been constantly ruining their land, but they have been turning it out to grow up in bushes and adding new land to keep up the supply. But that string to their bow is about worn out, and they must look to the building up or maintaining the fertility of the soil now in hand.

Chemical Fertilizers.

This can hardly be accomplished by the use of chemical fertilizers, for at best they represent little more than prods and stimulants, such as whisky, morphine and the like to the human body, requiring more and more at each succeeding dose to produce the results, the result of which is utter depletion. What they need are the natural elements, such as poultry manure, prepared in the way of a compost heap, can furnish to the soil. A thousand hens on the average small farm, with proper care of the droppings, will do wonders in enriching the soil. The land should then be cropped in rotation with peas, corn, clover, potatoes, etc.—with the careful deep plowing so essential to the conserving of all the elements of the soil and air, which will work wonders. If the hens are allowed to range at intervals during the day, they will do more toward destroying the insect enemies of the crops than all the insecticides you can buy.

About 175 days represent the working actually spent during the year upon the farm. If the farmer would devote at least a part of the remaining time to the care and management of a good flock of well bred chickens instead of remaining idle, much profit would result and his farm would improve in fertility each year.

The American Poultry Association stands for pure thoroughbred stock. It does not indicate to you what varieties you should keep. It leaves that to you. But whatever you do, discard the old mixed breed, and take up something that will show uniformity not only in color and breed characteristics, but in the production of eggs and meat. I have simply outlined a course that can be made profitable not only in the way of dollars and cents, but the improvement of your land in a permanent way. Get busy and work out the details, as every one must who makes a success of anything in this world.

Questions and Answers.

Judge Marshall—Some of my chickens have what seems to me to be rheumatism. They sit around on their hock joints a good deal of the time, and when they do attempt to get about they succeed with difficulty, hobbling about in a most ungainly manner. They seem to eat well and in many ways are all right. We have lost none so far with it, but of course will if they are not helped in some way. Can you suggest anything that might help them out? Thanking you in advance, I am yours truly—Mrs. M. M. H., Jackson, Miss.

Answer.—The first thing to do is to remove the cause if possible. It is no doubt rheumatism caused by roosting too low in a house or coop with a damp clay floor. Give the floor a coating of two inches of good dry sand or sawdust; something that will remove the results of the dampness. Have plenty of ventilation, but let it be pure and free from filth or dampness. Those afflicted should respond readily to treatment of some good liniment or a solution of witch hazel and arnica well rubbed in about the joints. We would also recommend the use of salts in the drinking water at the rate of a teaspoon to each two fowls. Give this one week and then use Douglass Mixture the next week.

The principal effort should, however, be made in protecting the well ones rather than in treating the sick.

Ducks.

SELLING OUT at a great sacrifice, Fawn and White Runners, at $5 each; White Runners at $1.10 each. They are of excellent type and courage and are now laying. Mrs. C. C. Ramsay, Luthersville, Ga. 36-22-5

ENTIRE lot of prize-winning Fawn and White and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale at $1.50 each. Will sell any number at this price. First come, first served. The ducks won first and second prizes at all the leading poultry shows in the South last fall. Will give ribbons with the birds. Oak Dean Poultry Farm, Stone Mountain, Ga. 5-20-2

Eggs—All Varieties.

THE EGGS of different varieties of fowls will be found classified under their respective breeds in the future, instead of under the classification of "Eggs."

Plymouth Rocks.

BARRED ROCK eggs, pure and fresh from the Georgia Poultry Farm, $1 per setting. On sale at 12 South Broad St. 32-18-5

EGGS from prize-winning E. B. Thompson Ringlet Barred Rocks, either mating, $3 for fifteen, $5 for thirty. A. M. Kendall, Dallas, Ga. 3-2-11

Poultry—All Varieties.

FOR SALE—Twenty hens, five roosters, 25 little ones. (Buff Orpingtons) at a song. 301 Pulliam St. 206-5-23

FREE RANGE DUCK AND POULTRY FARM, Chamblee, Ga. Large stock of White Runners, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds, enables us to ship fresh eggs, strong and fertile. Write for prices on stock and eggs if you want a bargain. 1-21-15

Rhode Island Reds.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs, 75c per setting, for short time. Call Main 4365-J. 5-22-39

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Sound, young, gentle horse; weight about 1,100 pounds; must be cheap for cash. Ivy 3128-J. 5-21-21

Goats.

GOAT HARNESS and wagon wanted at once. Phone Main 4. 5-23-4

Dogs.

FOR SALE—Pit bull terrier; subject to registration. Call Ivy 5912. 5-22-17

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

BERMUDA grass seeds now ready at the oldest seed house South. Also many seeds to plant now. Mark W. Johnson Seed Co., 35 South Pryor Street. 34-21-5

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.

SEEDSMEN FOR THE SOUTH.
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.
FOUR CITY DELIVERIES DAILY;
NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES, 9 A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST END, 2 P. M.

BELL PHONE MAIN 2568, ATLANTA 2568.

NOW IS THE TIME to begin using lice powder, liquid lice killers and disinfectants. We carry Lee's, Conkey's and Pratt's Lice Powders and Liquid Lice Killers. Start using either of them now and you will not be bothered with lice and mites in your poultry houses and on your fowls this summer.

SAGO PALM BULBS started now will make large palms this season. We have all size bulbs. Price 15c a pound, two pounds 25c.

DON'T FORGET that we are headquarters for poultry feeds, poultry remedies, drinking founts, food hoppers, etc.

BUGS CAN'T STAY on plants when "Bug Death" is used. It is a dry powder put up in convenient size packages and is non-poisonous. It can be put on the plants in the morning when the dew is on or can be put on after the plants have been sprinkled. Price, pound package 15c, 3 pounds 35c, 5 pounds 50c, 12½ pounds $1.00.

MONEY TO LOAN.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call, S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad street. 4-1-17

PLENTY money to loan on city property. Watt Kelly, Attorney, 400 Temple Court Building. 42-2-5

R. C. DESAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Building. 4-29-25

WE loan money on furniture and household goods. F. & J. Loan Company, 120 Decatur Street. 4-25-8

MONEY ON HAND for immediate loans on property in or near Atlanta. J. E. VanValkenburg, 501 Equitable Bldg.

MORTGAGE LOANS

On Atlanta Property.
BUSINESS BUILDINGS,
5 and 5½ per cent.

RESIDENCE BUILDINGS,
6½, 6 and 6½ per cent.

Your rate depends upon the location. Without notice you can pay back a hundred, any multiple of a hundred dollars, on the entire loan on any interest date.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN.
Loan Correspondents,
PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA.
303-4 Empire Building.

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

MONEY TO LOAN.

WEYMAN & CONNORS.
ESTABLISHED 1890.
Mortgages on Real Estate. 4-1-3

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plant. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood avenue.

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould building. 7-12-1

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell building.

MONEY WANTED.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6% ON SAVINGS.

IN SUMS of $500 to $5,000. The Merchants and Mechanics' Banking and Loan Co., 209 Grant Building. Tel. Ivy 5341. Cash Capital $120,000.

Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier.
B. M. Grant, Pres. 3-11-50

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

BUSINESS GUIDE

Ready Reference for the Business Man, the Artisan And the Public in General

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Corner Alabama and Broad street. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Bicycles.

FOR BICYCLES and supplies, See D. Alexander, 54 N. Pryor. M. 3116. Repair Work a specialty. 5-27-51

CALL Main 1320, Atlanta 1436. Bicycle repairs and sundries. Atlanta Bicycle Company, 10 Peters Street. 2-15-66

Blacksmithing.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON WORK.

WE make all kinds of metal windows and doors, also window gratings and hangers of all kinds. Anderson Bros. & Rich, 372 Edgewood Avenue. 4-2-7

Blue Prints.

DIXIE BLUE PRINT CO.

40½ LUCKIE STREET, Atlanta, Ga. Best equipment. Best prints of any size or kind. Lowest prices. Phone Ivy 5364. 4-28-12

Builders.

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-15-16

Carpenter and Builder.

ALL KINDS REPAIR WORK. D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Carpets and Rugs Cleaned.

ATLANTA STEAM CARPET CLEANING COMPANY (Inc.) 27 West Alexander street. Phone Ivy 4186. Moist and dry cleaning. Rugs woven from your old carpets and rags. Porch shades made to order. 2-8-27

Coal, Coke and Wood.

S. M. TRUITT & SONS, for dry wood and best coal. 1-31-21

Contract Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON, 397 W. Fair St., West 1288-J, for all kinds of painting and tinting.

Dentist.

BEST WORK
Crowns (22 k.) $3.00
Bridge work $3.00
Full set teeth $3.00
Filling 50c
All work guaranteed 20 years.
R. R. fare allowed 25 miles.

Eastern Painless Dentists
38½ Peachtree St., Near Walton.
4-2-31

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Engineering.

"Amo Engineers Are Questionable!"

YOU NEED engineering advice. Write us your troubles, problems, resources. We'll help you. Amo House, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. Fee, $1. 5-3-5

Engineering and Machine Designing.

G. V. PLANT, M. E.
I DEVELOP YOUR INVENTION.
Dixie Pattern and Machine Works, 262 West North Avenue. Main 2829. 4-5-17

Fire-Proof Storage.

WE STORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS and pianos. Office and warehouse, 239-241 Edgewood avenue. Ivy 2037. John J. Woodside Storage Company.

Fly Screens.

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.

METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company. Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

FLY—SCREENS—FLY

COME SEE our Roll-aawy Screens, our Roller-bearing Screens, our Sliding Screens; none better. It will pay you to see our goods; get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Co. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 2-4-14

Fresh Oysters Daily.

VIRGINIA and New Orleans oysters on the half shell, 40c dozen. 77 Peachtree street.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering.

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta street. Atlanta 3567. 3-5-6

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO., Upholstering, repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds; satisfaction guaranteed. Phones, Atlanta 5950-F, M. 5111. 3-5-36

Furniture.

Rosser F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn Ave. Phones: Bell Ivy 4467, Atlanta 1800.

WE CARRY a full line of household furniture from kitchen to parlor; also a complete line of summer porch goods, such as porch sets, porch rockers, rugs, etc.; refrigerators, ice cream freezers and everything in the furniture line. We can save you 20 per cent on everything. Call and see us before buying elsewhere. Cash or terms. 5-15-8

PERFECTION OIL STOVES. Three-burner, including oven and vessels, complete, $12.50. CAMERON FURNITURE CO., 85 South Forsyth Street. 5-1-3

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta, Phone Atlanta 1797.

Plant your savings in Georgia soil and grow a fortune. Many have done so, why not you?

The Georgian's Rent Bulletin

ROOM AND BOARD.

BOARD for two young men, $5 per week. For information call Ivy 3383. 5-23-45

NICELY furnished, large, airy rooms with board in one of Decatur's best residences; references required. Phone Decatur 253. 5-23-39

THE CAPITOL TERRACE can accommodate a few more boarders; cool, delightful rooms; all conveniences; close in. 89 Capitol Ave. Main 3270. 5-23-34

FRONT ROOM with board, dressing room connecting with running water. Call Ivy 290. 5-23-31

TWO young men or married couple for nicely furnished front room; all conveniences; close in. Main 1558-J. 5-14-11

COUPLE can find room with board at 102 Washington. Main 4089-J. 5-23-25

WANTED—Six gentlemen can secure first-class board in private family. Ideal home, beautiful lawn and shade, immediately on car line. Bell phone Decatur 138. 5-23-201

TWO LARGE, light, airy connecting rooms, meals optional, in a beautifully furnished private modern home, to refined permanent couples with references. Mrs. Corey, 619 West Peachtree St. Ivy 5635-J. 5-23-11

BOARD AND ROOMS.

EXCELLENT board; delightful rooms; close in; all conveniences. 115 South Pryor. 5-20-3

BEAUTIFUL furnished front room, with dressing room, in private adult family; close in; also room for gentlemen; excellent meals; prices reasonable. 56 East Cain. Ivy 5520-L. 5-22-32

NICE room and best of board; electricity; all conveniences; walking distance. Ivy 2856-L. 5-22-31

19 W. CAIN.

LARGE, clean furnished rooms; excellent board if desired; refined ladies or gentlemen. Ivy 6642. 5-22-33

LARGE room, nicely furnished, hot water; good table board. Also garage easy to get in and out. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4839-L. 5-22-30

BOARD for three young men, close in; front rooms. 254 Rawson Street. M. 3793-J. 5-22-29

EXCELLENT table, large front room, with dressing room. 322 West Peachtree. Ivy 994-L. 5-22-16

RARE opportunity for refined couple or gentlemen to secure two furnished rooms, with or without board, in delightful North Side home; highest, coolest spot in city; no other boarders. Ivy 7311. 5-22-20

TWO young men can secure room and board in very desirable home in West End. All conveniences. Shower baths, private tennis court, etc. 88 Park St. 5-21-39

THE ROY, 22 E. Ellis, under new management. Now prepared to render patrons best service. Ivy 7398-J. 5-21-35

TWO large front rooms with excellent table board. Mrs. J. M. Colman, 279 Peachtree St. 5-21-206

DELIGHTFUL rooms with board, with or without private bath. Table board a specialty. 514 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 1499-J. Mrs. F. B. Gregory. 37-21-5

DO YOU want first-class board in private North Side home? Call Ivy 719-J. 5-20-18

WANTED—A few boarders; also table boarders. 327 Whitehall. Main 3286. 5-20-16

LARGE, cool room and board in suburban home; good servants; large porches, shade trees, big vegetable garden, fruit, cows and chickens. Phone Decatur 389. 5-19-200

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-16-27

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree; select boarding house; near in. Ivy 5795. 5-10-35

ROOM AND BOARD for four young men May 15. Private home. 163 Courtland. Ivy 7057-J. 5-10-25

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK. ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 5-5-30

PEACHTREE INN.

Peachtree and Alexander Sts. American plan $7.50 week up. Room to yourself. European, $3 week up. 1-9-34

36 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 4-28-16

NEATLY furnished rooms; homelike cooking, also table board. 127 Capitol Avenue. Main 5172-J. 4-23-7

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

TWO or three furnished light housekeeping rooms for rent to couple. 168 Crew St. 5-23-47

HALF OF HOME, furnished for couple; private bath, on car line. Centrally located. 111 Cooper. 5-23-44

FURNISHED room upstairs, all conveniences, for rent. Apply 305 S. Pryor. 5-23-42

IN PRIVATE home on North Side for one or two gentlemen, elegantly furnished front room, with private lavatory, large closets and connecting bath. Phone Ivy 5760-J. 5-23-41

WELL furnished room and kitchenette for two business women. 126 Windsor Street. Main 3588. 5-23-32

ONE nicely furnished room, four windows, private family. All conveniences. Atlanta Phone 3254. 5-23-33

THREE rooms, dressing room, hall and trunk room furnished for light housekeeping, to couple without children. Price, $30. Call Ivy 967-L. 5-23-38

ONE or two furnished rooms; could arrange for light housekeeping. 227 Capitol Avenue. Main 3941. 5-23-21

TWO nicely furnished front rooms; all conveniences; gas stove. 179 Capitol Avenue. Main 3758-J. 5-21-24

THREE light housekeeping rooms and use of living room; modern conveniences. 53 Queen St., West End. Bell phone West 1205. 5-23-26

TWO OR THREE furnished rooms for light housekeeping, electricity, gas stove; rent reasonable. Ivy 3287-J. 5-23-24

TWO beautifully furnished rooms, complete for housekeeping, $16; also one suite of 3 front rooms, very reasonable; bath on each floor. Bell phone. Best location. 290 Washington St. 5-23-28

ENTIRE lower floor beautifully furnished for housekeeping; also two nice bed rooms. Private home. One block from Whitehall. Walking distance. 30 W. Fair St. 5-23-200

ONE furnished and one unfurnished room cheap; all conveniences; close in. 232 Courtland. 5-22-24

NICELY furnished rooms, with kitchenette, with bath, light and telephone. Call Main 3582-J. 5-22-18

FOR RENT—1, 2 or 3 rooms, furnished or partly furnished for light housekeeping. References exchanged. 179 E. Pine Street. 5-22-203

LISTEN! WE HAVE TWO BEAUTIFUL ROOMS FOR RENT, ALL CONVENIENCES. TWO BLOCKS OF CANDLER BUILDING. REASONABLE. 184 COURTLAND STREET. ATLANTA PHONE 3761. 5-20-201

ONE large beautiful front room on second floor. Ideal surroundings. Every convenience. North Side. Telephone Ivy 1744-L. 5-21-5

FOR RENT—Three nice new upstairs rooms; bath, gas and water. $10.60. 55 S. McDaniel St. 5-21-28

WANTED—Young man for roommate to share nicely furnished room. Main 4380-L. 5-21-30

NICELY furnished room, suitable for gentlemen or young ladies; $2 week. 47 E. Mitchell Street, upstairs. 45-12-5

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

ONE beautifully furnished, bright front room, reasonable; private home; walking distance. Ivy 5451. 5-21-32

TWO bright, connecting housekeeping rooms, completely furnished. North Side private home. Ivy 2098-J. 5-21-19

TWO beautiful connecting, furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping; also rooms for young men; all conveniences. 422 Whitehall St. Main 3462-J. 5-21-36

FURNISHED room in private family; gentlemen preferred. Ivy 2421-L. 15 Bedford Place. 5-21-42

NICELY furnished rooms with board; early breakfast; conveniences. 72 Spring Street. 34-21-5

TWO nice furnished rooms for rent to gentlemen or couple. 377 Whitehall Street. 29-21-5

TWO large, nicely furnished rooms, private family. Suburban home. Suburban Home, Box 907, care Georgian. 27-21-5

NICELY furnished cool room; close in; private home; adjoins bath; reasonable. Main 3428-L. 5-19-4

HANDSOMELY furnished large front room, private bath; shady lot; gentleman preferred. "Peachtree," care American. 113-8-5

FURNISHED rooms; private home; all conveniences; hot and cold baths. 19 E. Harris. Ivy 6349-J. 5-8-11

TWO newly renovated bedrooms, 256-B Courtland Street. Phone Ivy 6356. 5-18-25

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL unfurnished room to couple; reasonable. West 1129-L. 5-23-30

THREE upstairs rooms with closets; sink, freshly tinted if desired. 3 Angier Avenue. Ivy 6470-L. 5-23-27

THREE ROOMS for light housekeeping for couple. 129 Richardson Street. 26-23-5

THREE upstairs rooms for light housekeeping; use of phone. 154 Richardson. 5-22-36

THREE large unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 111 East Ellis. Ivy 7433-J. 5-21-204

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End, consisting of three rooms; also trunk room, linen closets, private bath, hall. Every convenience. Phone West 128-J. 5-21-31

UNFURNISHED rooms with conveniences for housekeeping. 34 East Alexander Street, between Peachtrees. 46-21-5

Furnished or Unfurnished.

ONE furnished or unfurnished front room; private family. 7 Kent Street. 5-21-23

ONE upstairs furnished or unfurnished room. 377 Whitehall St. 5-21-27

THREE beautiful corner rooms; separate entrance; private bath, veranda; sink in kitchen. Ivy 99. 5-20-16

ONE nice room furnished or unfurnished, conveniently located, half block from car line, all conveniences; cool and shady. Call Decatur 507. 5-20-14

APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

A NICE, airy 4-room apartment completely furnished in the Corinthian, 136 West Peachtree. Apply Chas. P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton St. 5-23-46

FIVE-ROOM apartment in the Colonial. 84 East North Avenue. Ivy 847-L. 5-18-64

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL small apartment, close in, steam heated. Phone Ivy 428. 52 E. Cain. 5-23-37

FOR RENT—Splendid new apartment, six rooms, steam heat, every modern convenience. 310 North Jackson Street. Phone Ivy 641-L. 5-23-6

FOR RENT—Upstairs apartment of five rooms with bath, in best residential district in city. Electric lights furnished, also heat in winter, $35 per month. Call Ivy 5398-L. 5-21-200

47 EAST CAIN STREET—Five rooms; freshly painted; clean and in nice repair. $25 per month. Apply owner, 509 Atlanta National Bank Building. 5-14-204

Furnished or Unfurnished.

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432. 5-23-40

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2432. 5-18-54

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TWO FINE lots; nice residence section; North Side; near car line; opposite Ansley Park; bargain. Address Vacant Lots, care Georgian. 5-23-16

BY OWNER, pretty new bungalow in Ormewood Park, six rooms, bath, electric lights, cabinet mantels, etc. Large, level lot in beautiful oak grove, less than block of car line and close to schools. Room for garden and chickens. Price $2,850 on easy terms. A. S. Thompson, 403 4th Nat. Bank. Both phones 5141. 5-23-9

TWO 25-acre home sites on Peachtree Road. Address P. D., Box 604, care Georgian. 35-22-5

OWNER leaving city will sell new 7-room St. Charles Avenue bungalow. Three bed rooms, breakfast room, beautiful hardware and fixtures, furnace, hardwood floors, etc. Lot 50x150 feet. Elevated, shady, side drive, flowers and fruit. A bargain at $6,750. Terms, $2,000 loan, 6 per cent. $1,850 cash; balance $35 monthly. Jack, P. O. Box 1710, City. 5-22-9

BARGAIN—14 per cent investment; 13 houses; rent for $97 month. $8,000 on terms. Improvements are in excellent condition. Inman Park section. We have this price only for a short time. M. L. Thrower, 39 N. Forsyth Street. 27-22-5

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnace, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care American. 112-18-5

I HAVE two farms, 125 acres, and one 75 acres. Will exchange one or both for vacant lot. Call Milton. Main 2052. 5-3-24

FOR SALE cheap by owner, 739 Spring Street, near Twelfth Street, two-story nine-room house; price $5,500; $750 cash required; balance easy terms, if desired. Address G. A. Dunlop, 301 Mutual Building, Richmond, Va. 5-3-9

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-18-43

I HAVE seven acres, three-room house, half block car line, all cultivated, fine for trucking; will exchange for small renting property. Call Milton, Main 2052. 5-3-24

FOR SALE—Beautiful lot, 60 by 232 feet; $1,600; right on Peachtree. Easy terms. See me quick. Address Peachtree, Box 800, care Georgian. 5-2-4

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

HOUSES FOR RENT.

Furnished.

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 27-13-5

FOR RENT—Summer months, 6-room furnished cottage. References required. Phone Ivy 5709-J. 5-23-22

ONE of the best homes in Decatur completely furnished for summer. Phone Decatur 17. 202-5-22

WANTED—To rent for summer months, a furnished cottage with conveniences; suburb preferred. Address H. E. T., Box 50, care Georgian. 209-5-22

COMPLETELY furnished seven-room house for summer; references required. 98 E. Georgia Ave. Main 4170-L. 5-22-23

SUMMER rent; delightful furnished home; large, shady lot; reasonable rent. "Between Peachtrees," Georgian. 26-20-5

COOL, comfortable Peachtree home, furnished; five large bed rooms, upstairs living room, reception hall, drawing room and den, dining room and kitchen, two baths, servant's room and garage. Call Ivy 617. 5-17-12

Unfurnished.

OUR RENT list describes everything for rent. Call, write or phone for one. Ivy 3390. Charles P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton street. 2-13-49

FOR RENT.

$15.00—No. 20 Woodson St., five-room cottage, all conveniences, nice neighborhood, close to school and church. Within two blocks of Grant Park.

$25.00—No. 320 Waldo St. we have a 6-room cottage with hall and carrying all modern conveniences; nice neighborhood.

$15.60—No. 115 Luckie St. we have 5-room cottage with all modern conveniences, nice neighborhood, car line in front.

GEO. P. MOORE, Real Estate and Renting. 10 Auburn Avenue.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

LOVELY new, modern, steam-heated house; ten rooms and three baths, tile porches, tile baths and tile roof. Ivy 2432. 5-18-53

OFFICE SPACE FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Three large, outside, beautifully furnished rooms, second floor; hot and cold water, gas, electricity, sewerage. Corner Peachtree and Auburn. Thirty seconds from and overlooking Five Points. Ideal location for physician's or dentist's office, general offices, sales or display rooms. Cheap rent. Long lease. Apply to F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. Phone Ivy 836. 6-23-2

DESK SPACE with use of telephone. Apply 533 Candler Bldg. 4-25-9

ROOMS WANTED

Furnished.

WANTED—By couple without children June 1st, 3 or 4 furnished housekeeping rooms, private bath, second floor preferred. Phone West 574-J. 5-23-36

WANTED—For couple, one large room with closet. References exchanged. Call Main 2061, Mr. Sheats. 5-22-200

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping by June 1 in North end. No objection to distance. Address J. L., care of Georgian. 207-5-17

APARTMENTS WANTED.

Furnished.

COUPLE without children would like furnished apartment or small house for summer. Give description and terms. J. F., Box 890, care Georgian. 28-23-5

HOUSES WANTED.

Unfurnished.

I WISH to rent by June 5 an unfurnished five or six-room house, with electric lights. Prefer North Side or Inman Park. Good locality and reasonable rental. Ivy 3930-L. 213-5-18

WOULD you give 25 cents for a good job? Place a "Want Ad" in The Georgian and get one.

SUMMER RESORTS.

THE HENNING INN has been recently renovated and refurnished, under new management. Rates very reasonable. Apply to Henning Inn, P. O. Box 223, Brevard, N. C. 31-23-5

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Railroad Makes Move For Two Spur Tracks

Southern to Serve Big Factories in Marietta St. Section—West End Lots Bring $30,800.

An agreement entered into between the Southern Railway Company and Judge E. C. Kontz, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kontz, Porter Langston and Philip Weltner, presages a considerable commercial development in the entire Marietta Street section. It will mean the erection of factories which will add greatly to the effectiveness of the Marietta Street neighborhood as a manufacturing center.

The agreement contemplates the construction of double spur tracks from the Southern's main line near Simpson Street to a point about a block and a half toward Mangum Street, between Simpson and Jones Avenue. The tracks will extend westerly 550 and 357 feet, respectively. Work on them is expected to start soon.

Persons in close touch with the improvement intimated that substantial commercial establishments were in contemplation, but refused to go into details.

This step is but another evidence of an industrial awakening in the neighborhood mentioned. Other interests, principally the railroads, are quietly working out plans of extension. Announcement of such plans is looked for shortly.

Most of the property in this direction on which developers have an eye for manufacturing is within the one-mile radius, which means close proximity to downtown activities.

West End Lots Bring $30,800.

Included in Friday's real estate announcements was the sale of approximately $30,800 in residence lots by the Dillin-Morris Company and J. S. Collins, of Collins Brothers & Davies for William J. Davis, developer of West End Park. The sale of 27 lots covered a period of 30 days, and it was also announced that about 25 houses are just completed or being built in this subdivision, and that the total in West End Park is now approximately 150. West End Park was opened up a year ago.

The lots just sold are on West Ontario Avenue, near Gordon Street, and averaged $1,100 to $1,250 apiece.

Sales on Durant Place.

Prominent citizens figured this week in two sales on Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. Edward M. Durant sold to Attorney Sam D. Hewlett, 1 egislator-elect; John Y. Smith and John T. Dennis a 44 by 109-foot lot, for $2,000, and an adjoining lot, 42 by 109 feet, for the same price. Mr. Hewlett and Mr. Smith got an undivided three-eighths interest each and Mr. Dennis two-eighths. The cash consideration was $500 in each sale.

Transfer of Ellis Parcel.

S. H. Phelan, of Crawford County, formerly of Atlanta, has conveyed to Mrs. Barry Wright, of Rome, the northeast corner of Ellis and Courtland Streets. This parcel is a block east of the Elks Club and in the vicinity of other valuable properties. The frontage on Ellis Street is 50 feet.

Cancellations on Increase.

Figures in The Fulton County Daily Report for the twentieth week of 1913 and the corresponding week in 1912 show a continued increase in the number and amount of mortgages canceled, which realty men consider a good sign. The number in 1913 was 45 and the total $59,445, and for last year 39 and $45,835. Real estate transfers gained in number, but fell off in amount, and building permits dropped back a little in both.

Auction Sale Successful.

Everything but the weather was favorable to a successful auction sale Thursday by the Foster & Robson Co. of bungalows and lots on the South Decatur car line in the Ninth Ward. Rain stopped the sale, but before it came the following sales, aggregating $5,530, were made:

Bungalow to J. A. Boatwright for $1,500.

Bungalow to M. Owen for $1,525, sold on the grounds for a profit.

Bungalow to Mrs. T. M. Johnson for $1,550.

Lot 36 to I. N. Ragsdale for $245.

Lot 37 to T. N. Bradshaw for $140.

Lot 19 to M. Owen for $270.

Lot 49, on Vannoy Street, to J. L. Veal for $300.

Oakland City Auction.

The Foster & Robson Real Estate Agency has become associated with the W. E. Treadwell Company in the sale Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of bungalows and residence lots at Oakland City, on the East Point car line. These real estate agencies report many inquiries, and a large crowd of home-seekers is expected out. The property for sale is opposite the George W. Adair School and has undergone extensive improvements.

New Dry Goods Home.

The new home of the Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will be started at once at 92 South Pryor Street, and the concern will move its stock from North Pryor, having sold out there some weeks ago to Luther Z. Rosser and J. H. Porter. Mrs. L. J. Bowie has applied for a permit to erect a four-story and basement brick building for the dry goods house at a cost of $28,000. Donaldson & Pierson are the contractors. The Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will occupy the building under lease.

T. C. Hellbrauck has filed application to build a $2,000 dwelling of one story on West Tenth Street. Day labor will be used.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

$10 and to Correct—H. O. Reese to W. A. Wright, lot 53x207 feet, east side Kennesaw Avenue, 316 feet north of North Avenue. April 12.

$10 and to Correct—W. A. Wright to C. R. Jolly, same property. April 12.

$8,500—Robert B. Ridley, Jr., to Harvey Hill, lot 50x146 feet, east side Juniper Street, 110 feet south of Tenth Street. May 15.

$160—Mrs. Sarah I. Weathers to J. N. Landers and Anderson Bros.' Co., lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—W. C. Harper to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$160—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$2,000—General Realty and Development Corporation to E. C. Robertson, lot 60x258 feet, west side Racine Street, 726 feet north of Greensferry Avenue. May 21.

$2,100—Equitable Loan and Security Company to T. M. McIntosh, 118 Jones Avenue, 39x119 feet. June 24, 1907.

$2,475—Mrs. Gertrude J. Dickey et al. to Miss Emily Jekyl, lot 865x590 feet, north side Tuxedo Drive, 1,400 feet northwest from Pace's Ferry Road. May 27, 1911.

$1,200—J. J. West to E. D. Duncan, lot 52x133 feet, north side Bellwood Avenue, 411 feet west of Ashby Street. May 13.

$50—Atlanta Cemetery Association to K. S. Foster, lot 279, block 4, Atlanta Park Cemetery. April 10.

$1,500—Ophelia A. Terrell to W. H. Turnipseed, lot, 50 feet front on Nelson Street, running through to Chapel Street, 200 feet from Haynes Street. May 20.

$1,750—H. M. Spitz to W. E. Treadwell and Julius Oelsner, lot 75x90 feet, east side Park Lane, being lot 15, block 19, Ansley Park. May 3.

$3,350—W. D. Newsom to Mrs. Edna E. Keene, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45x100. December 30, 1909.

$5—J. G. Norman et al. to Mary P. Norman, lot west side Avenue A, 400 feet south of Johnson Street, 50x140. March 28.

$10,000—W. W. Ward to Capital City Realty Company, lot southwest corner Battle Street and Altoona Pass, 250x806; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 236 feet east of Wellington Avenue, 250x351; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 307 feet west of Altoona Pass, 250x350. May, 1913.

$1,750—Newton S. Thomas to W. L. Saye, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. June 14, 1909.

$2,250—G. R. Glenn to Newton S. Thomas, lot 23x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. January 24, 1908.

$1 and Other Considerations—W. D. Hughes to Mrs. Annie M. Smith, lot 23x124 feet, north line of Mrs. Smith's property, in land lot 15. February 1, 1911.

$626—T. C. Holmes and E. T. Luckie to Miss Clara Perry, lot 108x145 feet, south side Holmes Street, 619 feet east of Howell Mill Road. May 22.

Bonds For Title.

$10,000—Martin Nally Estate (by executrix) and Mrs. Mary Nally to C. L. DeFoor, lot 22x135 feet, northwest side South Forsyth Street, 114 feet southwest of Brotherton Street. April 5.

$18,000—Mrs. Cora W. Weaver to E. W. G. Boogher and E. A. Turner, lot west side Myrtle Street, 151 feet north of Eighth Street, 50x180. May 21.

$50,592—A. W. VanHoose to Ben J. Massell, lot 63x158 feet, east side Peachtree Street, 223 feet north of Pine Street. March 15.

$15,700—Clarence Blosser to Mrs. E. W. Smith, 516 West Peachtree Street, 40x173 feet. May 17.

$8,500—Mrs. Annie M. Smith to J. T. Wardlaw, lot 59x169 feet, west side Sinclair Avenue, 200 feet northeast of Colquitt. May 21.

$4,000—Edward M. Durant to Sam D. Hewlett et al., lot 44x108 feet, west side Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

$4,000—Same to same, lot 41x109 feet, west side Durant Place, 518 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

Mortgages.

$538—A. H. Thomas to McDonald Baldwin, lot 50 by 213 feet, west side Moreland Avenue, 200 feet north of Walker Street. May 20.

$2,480—T. M. Word and Dr. J. W. Hurt to Colonial Trust Company, 26 acres on the diagonal line between the southeast and northwest corners of land lot 202. May 15.

$2,480—Mrs. Grace M. Keefer to Colonial Trust Company, lot north side Fourteenth Street, 521 feet west of Piedmont Avenue, 75 by 185. May 22.

$525—J. C. Moore to Atlanta Banking and Savings Company, lot 85 by 165 feet, northeast corner Lakewood Avenue and Livermore Street. May 22.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 50 by 288 feet, west side Ponce DeLon Place, 178 feet north of Pnoce DeLeon Avenue. May 16.

$6,00—Grayson V. Heidt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 174 by 2,412 feet, on Hemphill Avenue, at southwest corner of A. B. Turner's property; land lot 154; Seventeenth district. May 16.

$354—W. L. Saye to Colonial Trust Company, lot 23 by 120 feet, west side Spring Street, 138 feet north of Merritts Avenue. May 19.

$1,248—A. R. Griffin to Central Bank and Trust Corporation, 328 Crew Street, 40 by 200 feet. May 19.

Loan Deeds.

$3,400—Mrs. Eliza T. Borne to Travelers Insurance Company, 237 Myrtle Street, 60 by 150 feet. May 22.

$3,600—J. D. Bialock to Henry Hirsch, lot at southeast corner land known as the Loftin, 8-acre tract, in land lot 157, Seventeenth District, 210 by 785. April 4.

1,400—Mrs. Edna E. Keene to W. C. Mauldin, lot west side Hill Street, 206 feet south of Bass Street, 45 by 100 feet. May 22.

$1,800—Anderson Bros. Co. to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 43 by 162 feet, northeast side Gordon Road, 599 feet southeast of Greensferry Avenue. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 22.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$600—Mrs. Addie L. Lindsay to Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, 82 West Fifteenth Street, 93 by 84 feet. May 17.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

WEST END.

LUCILE AVE.—Near Peeples St., we can sell you a 10-room, 2-story house on extra large, elevated lot for $6,000. This place has a loan bearing only 5 per cent interest, balance easy. Owner a non-resident and wants to sell.

BEECHER ST.—Near Lee; this is a nearly new 6-room cottage on lot 50x200 feet. This is a genuine pick-up at the price—$3,250—and look, only $300 cash and balance $30 per month.

St. Charles Avenue Lot.

THIS is the cheapest lot on this street. See us for price, terms and location.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON

11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

NORTH SIDE HOME at a bargain price. If you want to buy a bargain go look at 43 Ponce DeLeon Avenue and St. Charles Avenue. We know it is worth $5,500, but we invite an offer. Can arrange any reasonable terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

ON NEXT SATURDAY, May 24, we will sell at auction, jointly with W. E. Treadwell & Co., the Ragsdale property on Warner Avenue, Allene Avenue and Woodrow Avenue, consisting of six modern bungalows and sixteen building lots. This very desirable and attractive property will be sold on terms that will put it in the reach of everyone. See special ad. in this issue. Get plats giving full details from either office.

ON DARGAN STREET, convenient to the Lucile Avenue cars, a new 6-room bungalow with all conveniences, tinted walls, stone foundation, brick mantels, furnace heat, beam ceilings. Everything first class. Lot 47x150 feet. Price, $4,150. $650 cash, balance easy. See Mr. Cohen.

TWO CLOSE-IN corners on Washington Street. Price and terms reasonable. We advise the purchase of these properties for steady enhancement. See Mr. Hook.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

3-r. flat, 148 Highland Avenue	$16.00
3-r. h., 39 Gaskill Street	8.60
3-r. h., 749½ Whitehall Street	9.00
3-r. h., 19 Fowler Street	10.00
3-r. h., 126 Love Street	8.60
3-r. h., 175 Randolph Street	8.60
3-r. h., 43 Kendall Street	10.60
3-r. h., R. Evans Drive, Ft. McPherson	5.60
3-r. h., 354 Edgewood Avenue	10.60
3-r. h., 23 Corput Street	9.00
3-r. flat, 336 Grant Street	15.00
3-r. h., 72 South Jackson Street	8.60
4-r. h., 59 Fairview Avenue	8.00
4-r. h., 24 Lampkin Street	7.60
4-r. h., 94 Lovejoy Street	8.60
4-r. h., 33 Bell Street	16.65
4-r. h., 223 Humphries Street	12.50
4-r. h., Lakewood, and 17 acres of land, per year	150.00
4-r. h., 31 McDonough Road	10.00
4-r. h., Stewart Avenue, and 13½ acres of land	25.00
4-r. flat, 262 E. North Avenue	17.50
5-r. h., 67 Atwood Street	25.00
5-r. h., 5 Holderness Street	20.00
5-r. h., 144 Ashby Street	27.50

And a long list of larger houses. Come to see us.

FOR RENT.

"J" 312-14 RAWSON STREET.

ON THE south side of Rawson, between Cooper and Windsor, we have a third floor front apartment "J," five rooms; electric lights, hot and cold water, gas, electric bells, washstand, bath, closet and sink; steam heat; janitor service; gas range; storage room in the basement. A complete, up-to-date apartment. Cooper Street car half block. $40 on a lease.

JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING, STORAGE.
Phones: Bell 671 Ivy; Atlanta 618. 12 "Real Estate Row."

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

SPLENDID BRICK VENEERED RESIDENCE ON FIFTEENTH STREET.

A NEW, 2-STORY, 9-room house, hardwood floors, tile roof, sleeping porch, furnace heat, electricity, gas, basement, garage with servants' rooms. Lot 50x185. Price, $13,000; $2,000 cash, balance to suit. THIS is the third house from West Peachtree. GO OUT AND LOOK AT IT. Keys next door.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING.

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS.
Ivy 1513. 130 Peachtree. Atl. 2865.

FOR SALE JOHN J. WOODSIDE

SNUG LITTLE HOME.
(304 WEST FOURTH STREET.)

HAS five rooms, water, bath, sidewalks, street, elevated corner lot. Terms, $500 cash, $15 month, 8 per cent. THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager, 12 "Real Estate Row."

$30,000

WE HAVE a client with $30,000 in bank, with which to purchase good annual or semi-annual notes. We do not want notes to broker, but will submit them to one client only. No red tape or delay.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT

JAS. H. REYNOLDS, Sales Manager.
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Piedmont Avenue Frontage

We have recently had consigned with us some Piedmont Avenue frontage, ranging in price from $115 per foot to $135 per foot.

These lots are situated on the most desirable part of Piedmont Avenue, being between Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, facing Piedmont Park. The scarcity of building lots of this class of property on the north side is easily recognized by anyone who has been looking for a home site recently. The unusually good value offered here will be appreciated by anyone in the market for first-class residence property. Reasonable terms can be arranged.

Forrest & George Adair

Six New Bungalows and Sixteen Building Lots AT AUCTION Saturday, May 24, 3 P. M.

In the Tenth Ward on Warner Street and Allene and Woodrow Avenues. Just two blocks from the splendid car service to East Point, College Park and Hapeville. Also convenient to the Stewart Avenue car line.

This property is in a rapidly growing section, close to the new $40,000 "Adair" Public School, and only two blocks from Adair Park.

One of Atlanta's best citizens, Mr. I. N. Ragsdale, has developed this property, sparing neither time nor money to bring this property to a point of desirability that would make it acceptable to the better class of citizens for homes.

With this purpose uppermost in mind, he has built six attractive bungalows. Built them of good material and with day labor, exercising good taste and rare good judgment in all the details of arrangement and construction. These are not the usual "built to sell" affairs.

Each house has a small loan, which the purchaser assumes as part of the price. The balance will be paid in small monthly payments without interest. A small cash payment will be required, ranging from $100 to $250. This is an unusually easy arrangement that should appeal to every buyer of a home.

The lots will be sold on very easy terms, with 6 per cent simple interest.

The lots lie particularly well, many of them having nice shade. They will make desirable and valuable home sites. Several of them have the added value of two street fronts.

Take East Point or College Park cars. Get off at Gammages. A big sign will direct you to the property. Get plats from

W. E. TREADWELL & CO.

24 South Broad Street, or

FOSTER & ROBSON

11 Edgewood Avenue.

THOMSON & LYNES

AUBURN AVENUE—Brand-new two-story brick store in the busy section of Auburn Avenue. Leases and monthly rentals will pay 12 per cent. Price, $12,000; no loan to assume. Terms, half cash, submit balance.

THOMSON & LYNES
18-20 WALTON ST.

WILLIAMS-HARTSOCK CO.

Real Estate and Builders. Fourth National Bank Bldg. Phone 2106 Main.

GOOD NEW HOMES: Listen, on Moreland Avenue, corner of Albemarble, we are just completing a beautiful two-story, seven-room bungalow. This place has an abundance of large and roomy closets, tile bath, exposed ceiling beams, stone front, stone steps, and it is on a corner lot; birch doors, the best of hardware; will tint walls to suit your own taste. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. To see this is to buy it. Take a look and come to see us.

ON NORTH AVENUE, close to Highland Avenue, we have just completed a pretty six-room home with two baths; it is seldom that you find a place so well built and so complete in every detail as this one. Each bath has tile floor; large rooms, plenty of light and furnace heat. Will take a good lot in part payment for this. It is close to schcol and churches, within a stone's throw of Druid Hills; car just a block away. Or will sell on easy terms.

ON BEAUTIFUL Cleburne Avenue we are offering the best value in the city in a new six-room, hall and bath bungalow with tile floor on front porch and in bath room, dressing mirrors, stone steps, and automobile drive on side. This lot has a frontage of 70 feet. If you have been waiting for a large lot here it is. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. We know that you will like this.

FOR SALE BY

GREENE REALTY COMPANY

511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599

FINE 300-ACRE FARM (NEAR ATLANTA).

ON CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER; also on good creek; nearly half of farm as fine bottom land as can be had. Fine cherted road within about two miles of this place. Adjoining land held at $100 acre. We have an option on this. If sold at once, only $40 acre. A REAL BARGAIN.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3, 1879
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable In Advance.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen men controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow humbly before every corporation legal jackal attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

He has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which involved many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was to be in a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock owned by one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, was to be sold ahead of all other stock.

Untermyer was a leader in the fight for the policyholders of big insurance companies against dishonest management. In this fight, which improved conditions for all policyholders throughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of to-day who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truth concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Unte..., in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

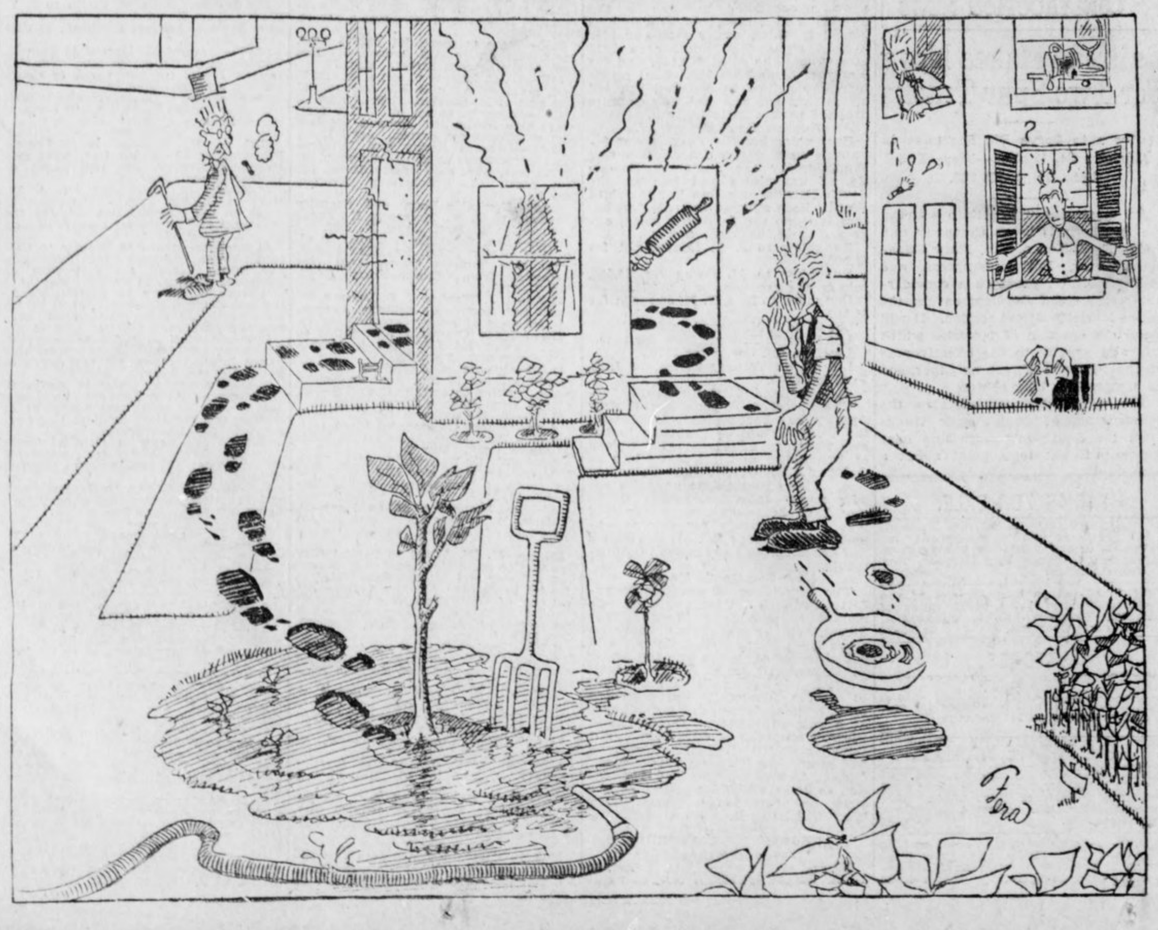
Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done. What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat."

You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, alive and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind.

The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK.—TAD.

On the Trail of Mr. Suburbs

By FERA.



Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on

Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

"I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as a lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power; whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much dwelt on and how do they act? Please tell me, are these emanations a disintegrating of the countless particles composing a particle of radium? If so, how are they especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, is it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to escape—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to escape or to emanate for years and years and years with no sensible diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it powerful for anything in particular? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration?

J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inquirer supposes a particle of radium to be.

Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to send off continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear.

Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, but it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present imperceptible to us, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substances called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkable for their great atomic weight; in fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold or platinum.

Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "Alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. Those called "Beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "Gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light.

All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The Alpha rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The Beta rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the GAMMA RAYS ARE SO PIERCING THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SENT THROUGH A FOOT OF SOLID IRON!

In consequence of the distintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but so minute are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,500 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. Yet the energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point! If we could get unlimited supplies of radium, instead of having to be content with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories put together, we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields.

Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up, in some unknown way, in the atoms, and is held in suspense there until the automatic disintegration of the atoms sets it free to act in other ways. It then sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is pitifully weak compared with the explosive force contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be locked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the imprisoned energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which infinitesimal particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom as the planets are in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interferes with the regular motions of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world now in existence may dissolve, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting the property of radio-activity to any other substance that happens to be near a bit of radium, as, for instance, the hands and clothes of the experimenters. But this imparted radio-activity does not last long. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, of its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a hint that the dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unguessed. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTRICACIES OF A CROWD, ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEIVABLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Emanation Unperceivable.

Dr. LeBon has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the existence of emanations. Thus the cat sees us in the darkest nights by virtue of some halo produced around our bodies by vital action, and photographs made in the dark are similarly explained. What was once known as "odic force," producing an alleged luminous nimbus around a human being, would, by this hypothesis, be accounted for as the result of an emanation. When this subject was under investigation many years ago it was remarked that relatively few persons exhibit the phenomenon in visible form. They are like gold, which shows no perceptible radio-activity, although the property may exist in it, while those who exhibit the nimbus resemble radium, which pours out an abundance both of rays and of radio-active emanation.

BRIBERY IN PHAGAN CASE

T. B. FELDER ACCUSED OF OFFERING $1,000

EXTRA

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit---GEORGIAN WANT ADS---Use for Results

VOL. XI. NO. 250. ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. 2 CENTS EVERYWHERE PAY NO MORE

NIGHT EDITION

GULLS SCORE ONE RUN IN THIRD INNING

Musser Faces Hogg in Second Game of Great Series at Ponce DeLeon.

Score by innings:

GULLS 001 0
CRACKERS 000 0

PONCE DE LEON BALL PARK, May 23.—The Crackers and Gulls wended their way out to Poncy to meet in the second game of their series here this afternoon.

The Gulls registered one tally in the third inning.

Bill Smith sent Musser and Graham in to do the battery work for Atlanta, while Mike Finn selected Hogg and Schmidt to perform for Mobile.

THE GAME.

FIRST INNING.

Stock went out, Alperman to Agler. Starr grounded out, Musser to Agler. O'Dell filed to Bailey. NO RUNS.

Long grounded to Starr and was out to Paulet. Bailey went out over the same route. Alperman grounded to Starr and was out to Paulet. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Jacobson was called out on strikes. Clark was an easy out, Musser to Agler. Robertson grounded out to Agler. NO RUNS.

Welchonce lofted one to Clark. Smith pushed one past Hogg for an infield hit. Starr made a fast throw to Paulet after getting the pill, but was too late. Bisland filed to Robertson. Smith went out trying to steal, Schmidt to Starr. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Paulet filed to Alperman. Schmidt singled past Musser. Hogg walked. Stock filed to Agler. Starr singled to right and Schmidt scored. O'Dell lined to Bisland. ONE RUN.

Agler out, Hogg to Paulet. Graham doubled down the third base line. Musser grounded to Stock, who tagged Graham and doubled Musser at first. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

Jacobson singled to right. Clark sacrificed, Musser to Agler. Robertson flied to Bailey. Paulet walked and went out trying to steal, Graham to Alperman. NO RUNS.

RACING

RESULTS.
AT ELECTRIC PARK.

FIRST—Five furlongs: Col C. (Pickens), 6.30, 2.60, 2.50, won; Old Cross 109 (Doyle), 2.60, 2.40, second; Transcina 101 (Deunler), 3.00, third. Time 1:04. Sweet Spices, Breakfast, Santaneca, Galoa, Molmar also ran.

SECOND—3-year-olds and up, selling, mile and one-sixteenth: Elfa Crane 100 (Deunler), 4.00, 2.50, 2.30, won; Camel 110 (Skirvin), 4.00, 2.30, second; Hans Creek 102 (Chappell), 2.50, third. Time 1:57 1-5. Cynosure, Mohawk, Queen also ran.

THIRD—Maidens, 3-year-olds and up, about 5 furlongs: Satir 102 (Alex), 20.30, 6.80, 4.20, won; Hermis Jr., 112 (Pickens), 3.60, 3.00, second; Refugita 102 (Doyle), 4.90, third. Time 1:03. High Up, Racine, Black Silk, Merry Chase, Old Hank also ran.

FOURTH—6½ furlongs: Bertis 104 (Deunler), 4.70, 2.90, 2.70, won; Pretend 110 (Alex), 3.60, 3.10, second; Maxton 106 (Johnston), 3.50, third. Time 1:32 1-5. Kinder Lou, Mollie Kearney, Judge Landis, Hudas Sister, Iberville also ran.

AT LOUISVILLE.

FIRST—Six furlongs: Wilhite 112 (Borel), 10.60, 5.40, 3.50, won; Sir Marion 111 (Musgrave), 4.10, 19.50, second; Theresa Gill 98 (Kederis), 3.30, third. Time 1:16 1-5. Little Baker, Anna Reed, World's Wonder, Little Nell, Prospect, Cedar Brook, Servicence, Pampinea, Dr. Jackson also ran.

SECOND — Five furlongs, Purse: Bringhurst 110 (Steele), 7.70, 5.30, 4.10, won; Holton 113 (Taplin), 13.20, 7.00, second; Bushy Head 110 (Ganz), 5.90, third. Time 1:02 4-5. Father Riley, Mary Pickford, Honey Mine, Battling Nelson, Pan American, Bandit, Banjo Jim also ran.

THIRD—Mile: Sam eBrnard 151 (Mr. Lee), 10.10, 5.40, 2.80, won; Dr. Waldo Briggs 151 (Mr. Howe), 4.80, 2.80, second; Beautiful 145 (Mr. Leon), 2.30, third. Time 1:48 2-5. Kenneth D., Automatic also ran.

BASEBALL

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT NASHVILLE—
MONTGOMERY 0
NASHVILLE 0

FIRST GAME.

AT CHATTANOOGA—
NEW ORLEANS .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 - 0 8 2
CHATTANOOGA .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 - 1 5 4

Swindell and Robertson; Summers a nd Street. Umpires, Wright and Kerin.

FIRST GAME.

AT BIRMINGHAM—
MEMPHIS ..... 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 - 2 5 1
BIRMINGHAM ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 - 1 3 2

Newton and Snell; Foxen and Maye r. Umpires, Breitenstein and Rudderham.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT PHILADELPHIA—
CINCINNATI ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 - 1 7 2
PHILADELPHIA ..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 1 X - 4 7 0

Brown and Clark; Brennan and Killifer. Umpires, O'Day and Emslie.

Chicago-Boston not scheduled.
All other games off; rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Philadelphia-Washington, no game; rain.
Only one game scheduled.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

AT TORONTO—
PROVIDENCE—
0 3 0 2 0 0 0 1 0 - 5 11 2
TORONTO—
0 2 0 1 0 5 1 1 X - 10 12 0

Lafitte, Whatley and Kocher; Hearne and Graham. Umpires, Hayes and Nallin.

AT MONTREAL—
BALTIMORE—
0 0 0 0 3 . . . . - . . .
MONTREAL—
0 0 0 1 3 . . . . - . . .

Danforth and Egan; Mattern and Burns. Umpires, Mullen and Cross.

No games scheduled.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

AT JACKSONVILLE—
SAVANNAH—
0 0 0 . . . . . - . . .
JACKSONVILLE—
0 0 0 . . . . . - . . .

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

AT MINNEAPOLIS—
INDIANAPOLIS—
0 0 0 0 0 0 . . . . - . . .
MINNEAPOLIS—
2 1 0 0 5 1 . . . . - . . .

Schardt and Cotter; Olmstead and Smith. Umpires, Westervelt and Irwin.

AT ST. PAUL—
TOLEDO—
0 2 4 0 0 0 0 . . - . . .
ST. PAUL—
0 0 0 1 0 0 0 . . - . . .

George and Livingstone; Laroy and Miller. Umpires, Johnstone and Connolly.

AT KANSAS CITY—
LOUISVILLE—
2 0 0 0 . . . . . - . . .
KANSAS CITY—
4 1 0 0 . . . . . - . . .

AT MILWAUKEE—
COLUMBUS—
3 1 0 0 1 0 . . . . - . . .
MILWAUKEE—
0 1 0 0 0 5 . . . - . . .

McQuillen and Smith; Slipnicka and Hughes. Umpires, Murray and Handiboe.

$100,000 Blaze at Tallapoosa Sweeps Business District

TALLAPOOSA, GA., May 23.—Fire, starting in a pressing club here to-day, caused a loss estimated at $100,000, when the greater part of the business section of the town was wiped out. The blaze raged for two and one-half hours before it was under the control of the volunteer fire department.

The burned buildings were owned by W. L. Tumlin, George Pound, H. H. Pound, W. B. Brock and S. S. Rambo, the latter losing a residence.

The stores were occupied by S. L. McMahan, general merchandise; A. A. Horseley, meat market and restaurant; Miss Maude Tumlin, millinery; R. G. Kilgore, general merchandise; Mrs. M. C. Matthews, bakery; Thomas Duke, barber shop, and the pressing club. J. A. Huddleston's general merchandise store was badly damaged.

E. B. WILLIAMS SPEAKS AT NEWNAN COMMENCEMENT

E. T. Williams, an Atlanta attorney, will deliver the principal address at the ceremonies to attend the graduation exercises of public school pupils in Newnan, Ga., and surrounding communities June 5. More than 500 children will gather for the occasion.

INDICTMENT OF BOTH LEE AND FRANK IS ASKED

Great Mass of Evidence Carefully Prepared by Solicitor Submitted to Grand Jury.

The Phagan case is now in the process of investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

Two bills for indictment of Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, for the murder of Mary Phagan, were presented before that tribunal at its session Friday morning by Solicitor Dorsey.

A host of witnesses gave their testimony. The torn and blood-stained clothing of the slain girl also was turned over to the Grand Jury for inspection.

The Grand Jury studied carefully an elaborate diagram drawn by Bert Green, one of The Georgian's staff artists, and setting forth in black and white the prosecutor's theory of how the murder was probably committed. Intense interest was displayed in the drawing.

After being in session for nearly three hours, the Grand Jury adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, when the Phagan case will be taken up once more.

Woman Gives New Testimony.

Whether the sensational testimony of Mrs. Mima Famby, 400 Piedmont Avenue—or Nina Fomby, as the woman says her name is—will be introduced at the Grand Jury probe, is a matter of doubt. Mrs. Fomby's affidavit declaring that on the evening of the murder Frank called the affiant on the telephone and in an excited voice asked her to arrange a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not disclose, is in the hands of the Solicitor General.

Important as is the bearing which the alleged telephone conversation appears to have on the mystery of Mary Phagan's death, doubts are already being expressed as to the part it will be permited to play in the present hearing or any to come, owing to the chary wording of the law on such evidence.

It is suposed, however, that if Mrs. Fomby's affidavit is admitted, an immediate attempt to attack her credibility will be made by the defense. Her own story puts the credibility of her testimony in doubt.

Frank Refused to Talk.

Frank, when interviewed in his cell at the Tower Friday morning regarding the telephone conversation and his dealings with Mrs. Fomby in general, refused to discuss the question.

"I am feeling fine," he said, but would not discuss the crime at all.

Among the witnesses who went before the Grand Jury were:

Dr. J. W. Hurt, Coroner's physician, who examined the dead girl's body the morning after it was found.

T. W. Epps, the newsboy who waited at the corner on the afternoon of the tragedy for Mary Phagan while she went to the factory to get her pay envelope.

Detective a Witness.

Harry Scott, assistant superintendent of the local branch of the Pinkerton detective agency, who has been investigating the mysterious case.

J. N. Starnes, a city detective.

M. D. Darley, Frank's assistant at the pencil factory.

L. S. Dobbs, sergeant of police, who answered Lee's call to the pencil factory the morning the body was found.

"Boots" Rogers, former county policeman, who drove the police to the factory in his automobile in answer to Lee's call.

Pat Campbell, city detective.
Bass Rosser, city detective.

Utmost secrecy clothed the Grand Jury's investigation. The cracks about the doors and windows of their room on the second floor of the Thrower Building were lined with paper in or-

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

Two Killed on U. S. Torpedo Destroyer

SAN DIEGO, CAL., May 23.—A high-pressure cylinder blew out on the United States torpedo boat destroyer Stewart to-day, killing R. C. Smith, oiler, and H. F. Rock, chief machinist's mate. Alma Miller, an oiler, was fatally hurt.

The torpedo boat was going at full speed at the time.

Gibson Again Tried As Countess' Slayer

NEWBURGH, N. Y., May 23.—The second trial of Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer charged with the murder of Countess Rosa Menschik Szabo, in order to secure her estate, was begun here to-day. Gibson was in the court room when death sentence was imposed upon a slayer, but showed no emotion.

"I am a lawyer and believe the law should be upheld," he said. "I believe in capital punishment."

Mrs. Gibson, dressed in black and wearing a big black picture hat, sat opposite her husband and frequently whispered words of cheer across to him.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

The Georgian on Wednesday published an exclusive story that Colonel Thomas B. Felder was involved in the Phagan murder case in a manner that would at least require a very explicit explanation.

Developments Friday would seem to indicate that the police officials intend to bring the whole matter before the Grand Jury for a thorough investigation of Felder's attitude for attempted bribery.

He is accused by A. S. Colyar, Jr., of offering G. C. February, Chief Clerk to Newport Lanford, $1,000 for an affidavit made by J. W. Coleman and wife denying that they had engaged Felder in the Phagan case.

Chief of Detectives Lanford, in commenting on the charges made against Colonel Felder, said:

"Premature publication of this matter has so upset my plans that at this time I can not sayy what action I will take. Justice has been thwarted. I will have to think the situation over. I shall not arrest Colonel Felder at present."

The sensational charges against Colonel Felder grow out of a plan entered into by Chief of Police Beavers, Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, his secretary, G. C. February, and A. S. Colyar, Jr., of Nashville.

For nearly a week Lanford and Colyar have been working on the theory that they could develop the situation which would enable them to make a charge of bribery against Colonel Felder.

Colyar had worked in South Carolina with Colonel Felder at various times in the past, he claimed, and enjoyed Colonel Felder's confidence. He informed Chief Lanford that Mr. Felder had failed to pay him money due for his work in South Carolina and that he intended to get revenge.

Colyar Reported Long Talk With Felder

On Monday Colyar reported that he had had long and confidential talks with Felder and C. W. Tobie, the Burns investigator who was working here on the Phagan case under the direction of Felder. He reported that Colonel Felder expressed extreme hostility to Chief Beavers and Lanford, cursed them and intimated that he would like to get possession of an affidavit the police were said to have secured from Mary Phagan's parents denying that they had asked Colonel Felder to enter the case and setting forth that they had refused proffers made by Felder.

He also reported that he had informed Felder he knew G. C. February, Lanford's secretary, quite well and hat he was sure he could frame up with February to secure a transcript of the police records and the Coleman affidavit. He said Felder said he would give February $1,000 for them.

On Monday night, it is stated, Colyar and February went to Colonel Felder's office and were in a conference there with Felder for something more than half an hour.

Colyar reported Tuesday that at this conference an arrangement was made for another meeting between February and Felder, the latter promising to give February $1,000 for the Coleman affidavit and the transcript of the police records of evidence in the case.

According to an affidavit made public Friday afternoon, a meeting as held Wednesday afternoon in the Williams House in North Forsyth Street between Colonel Felder, February and Colyar. It is stated a dictograph was placed in the room and that the city detective department now has in its possession alleged dictograph conversation in which Colonel Felder was quoted as offering February money to secure the Coleman affidavit.

It is charged by Colyar that Felder offered $1,000 for the affidavit and other police records of the Phagan case.

Colyar Submits Report To Chief Lanford

Monday morning Colyar made a written report to Chief Lanford, the substance of which was as follows:

"I met T. B. Felder at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night at the Marion Hotel and went with him to his law offices in the Equitable building, and held consultation with him until 9:15 p. m. In the meantime, C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the Burns Agency, dropped in in response to a telephone call. I was introduced to him and made an appointment with him for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in room 300 at the Piedmont Hotel.

"I find that Mr. Tobie is a former Pinkerton detective, and that he was discharged from that agency, as they allege, for corrupt practices. He is now posing as the confidential man of W. J. Burns.

"In my conversation with Mr. Tobie this morning, he said he would have the murderer of Mary Phagan within ten days, and that he had been on the scene long enough to know that the reason he had not been discovered before was on account of jealousy, politics and money.

"In my conversation with T. B. Felder, he stated that he had some thirty or forty clients, among whom were C.C.Jones, the Henderson Hotel and other liquor clients who were willing to raise a fund of $25,000 to impeach James L. Beavers and Newport A. Lanford, as both of them were corrupt, and that Beavers was at the present time living in open adultery with a prostitute, and was drunk half the time, and that Lanford missed his calling when he quit the farm, and threatened to go before the Board of Aldermen and file articles of impeachment against both them, and that he would have the backing of J. G. Woodward, Mayor of Atlanta; that Carlos Mason and two others of the police board had already gone back on Beavers because he was a fanatic.

"He said that he was employed to prosecute the Phagan murderer by J. A. McCall and other citizens of Atlanta, and that his employment had been ratified by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, and that he intended to have them arrested for perjury and could prove the same."

(This reference to perjury is based on the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that Felder's employment in the case was without their consent.

"In my conversation with him on Monday morning in the club rooms on the eighth floor of the Walton Building, he told me that he was very anxious for me to meet C. C. Jones, and that he could get me big money if I would help him secure the evidence that would throw Beavers and his flunky, Lanford, out of a job, and that he already had the assistance and cooperation of Henry Jennings, former Chief of Police.

"Said Affidavit Would Raise a Mob"

"Further in his conversation this morning he said that the police department was at loggerheads, and that Pat Campbell was giving Chief Beavers and Lanford the double-cross, and that before the week was out Beavers and Lanford would find that the good people of this city were indignant at their course in the Phagan case, and that the moment they published the affidavit signed by J. W. Coleman and wife reflecting on his moral character they would go to jail, and that he could speak one word at this time and raise a mob that would hang Beavers and Lanford to a telegraph pole.

"He further said that if I would go to work for him and C. C. Jones in an effort to overthrow those —— —— ——, he would not only guarantee me good money, but would pay me a large sum in advance, and I said to him: 'Suppose I get arrested,' and he said: 'To —— with arrest. Jim Woodward will turn you loose so quick it will make your head swim; and no matter who you are or what crime you commit, such as getting hold of private papers and documents they might have in their possession to overthrow them, you will never be indicted, for Hugh M. Dorsey, Solicitor General, and I understand each other thoroughly.

"This was the sum and substance of the conversations I have had up to the present time with T. B. Felder and C. W. Tobie. I am to have another meeting with both of them today, and Felder is to arrange a meeting between C. C. Jones and myself in regard to paying me $500 corruption fund, in his desperate effort to overthrow the police department.

"I left the Piedmont Hotel at 10:55 a. m. and Tobie went from thence to Felder's office, as he informed me, to meet a committee of citizens, among whom were Mr. Hirsch, Mr. Myers, Mr. Greenstein and several other prominent Jews in this city."

"P. S.—T. B. Felder told me last night that Solicitor Dorsey had no confidence whatever in Lanford, and believed absolutely that he was trying to give him the double-cross in the Phagan case, and that Lanford had been trying to get the solicitor to get him a dictagraph for several days, and that Dorsey had been putting him off, and that he would play — getting a dictograph, and he went from this conference to Dorsey's house, where he remained until 11:25 Sunday night, and reached home about midnight, as I was talking to him over the phone at five minutes past 12."

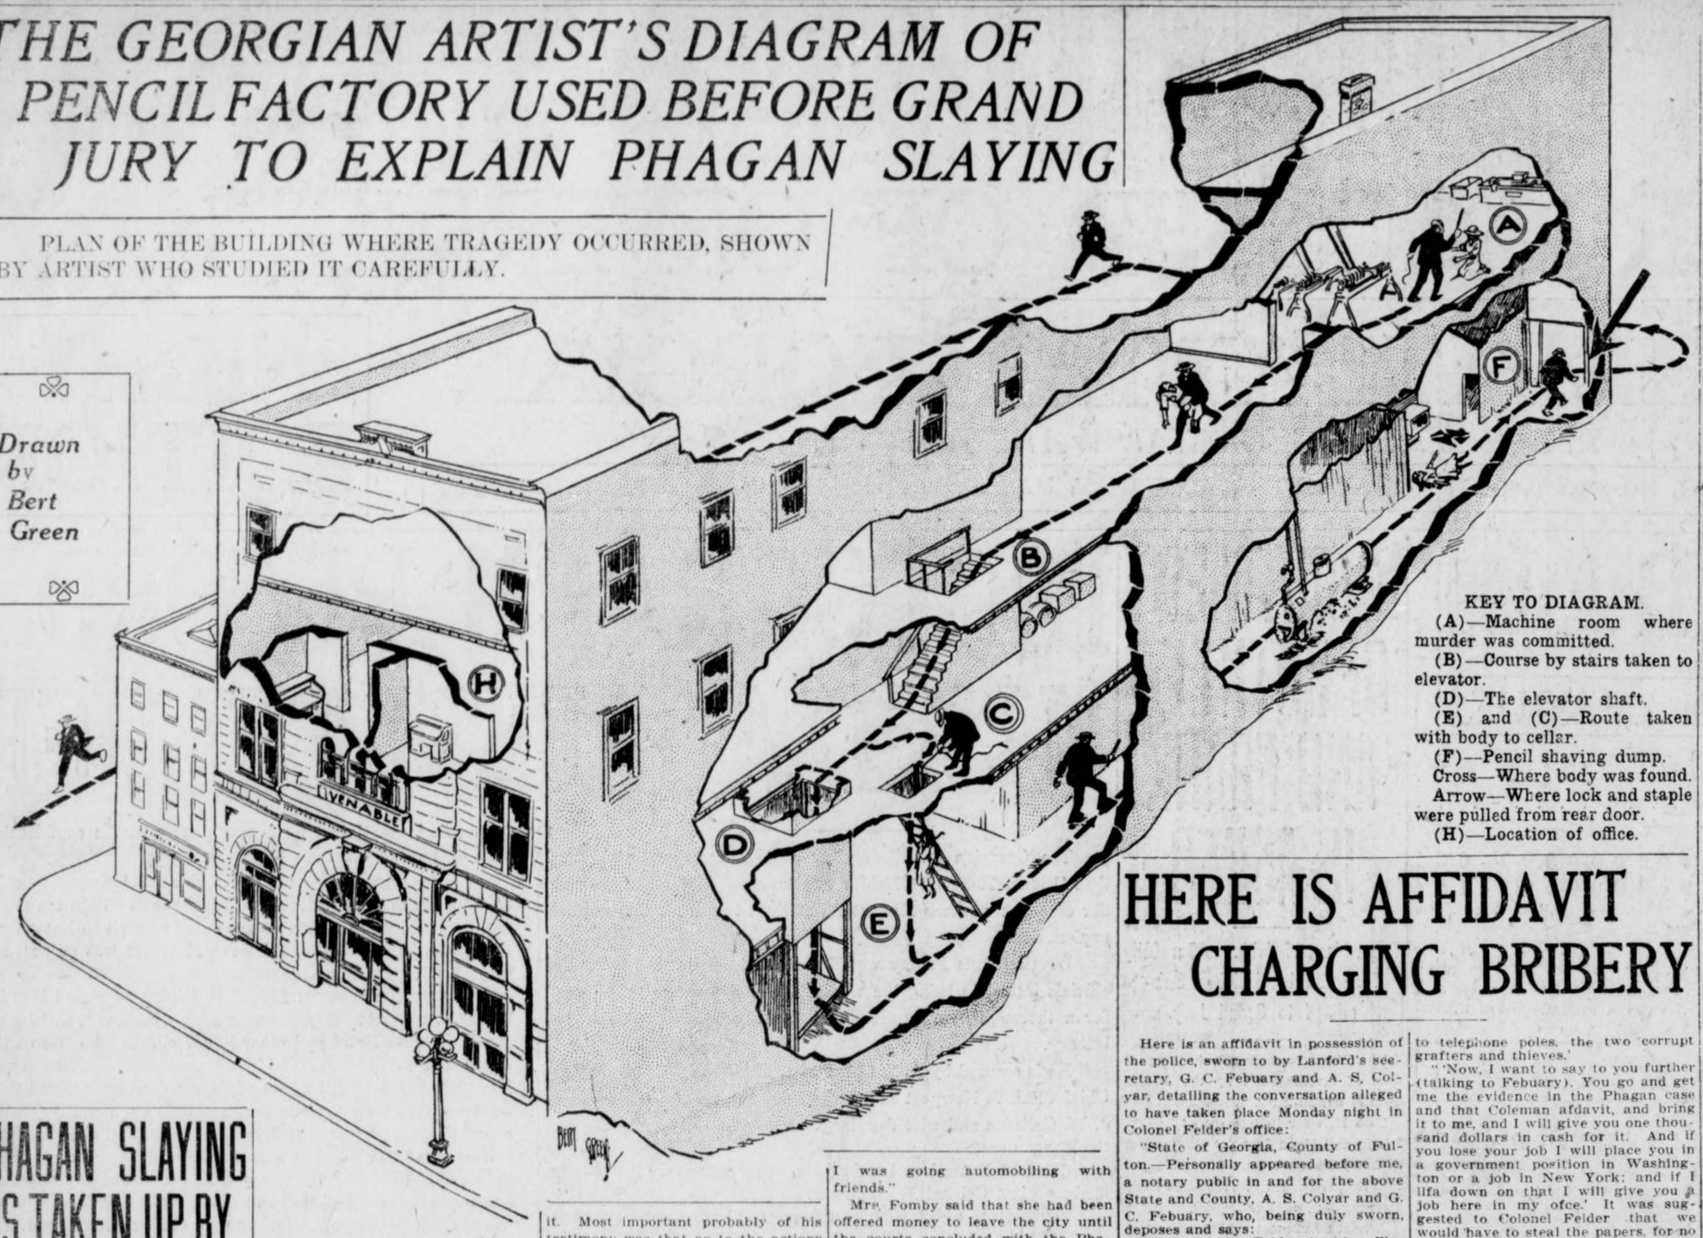
Following this written statement, according to Chief Lanford,

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

THE GEORGIAN ARTIST'S DIAGRAM OF PENCIL FACTORY USED BEFORE GRAND JURY TO EXPLAIN PHAGAN SLAYING

PLAN OF THE BUILDING WHERE TRAGEDY OCCURRED, SHOWN BY ARTIST WHO STUDIED IT CAREFULLY.

Drawn by Bert Green



KEY TO DIAGRAM.
(A)—Machine room where murder was committed.
(B)—Course by stairs taken to elevator.
(D)—The elevator shaft.
(E) and (C)—Route taken with body to cellar.
(F)—Pencil shaving dump.
Cross—Where body was found.
Arrow—Where lock and staple were pulled from rear door.
(H)—Location of office.

PHAGAN SLAYING IS TAKEN UP BY GRAND JURY

Continued From Page 1.

der that no chance conversation or view of the proceedings might escape.

An immense throng crowded the corridors of the building and filled the adjoining rooms.

The witnesses were all bunched into the ante-room and there kept waiting while one at a time they entered before the tribunal and told what they knew regarding the death of Mary Phagan.

Dr. Hurt was the first witness to go before the Grand Jury. He went into their room at 10:55 in the morning. He was dismissed at 11:23. Dr. Hurt's testimony, through his examination of the body, is considered of vast importance. He declined to make any statement whatsoever as he left the building.

In rapid succession other witnesses followed. Their testimony, which is believed will weave the preliminary chair of evidence about Frank and Lee which will warrant their indictment, was placed before the Grand Jury.

Sergeant Dobbs Testifies.

Police Sergeant Dobbs followed Dr Hurt into the Grand Jury room at 11:49. His testimony is supposed to consist mainly of the condition of the Phagan girl's body when he arrived on the scene, including its location and the evidence surrounding it. Most important probably of his testimony was that as to the actions of the negro, Newt Lee, as he led the police squad to the body and while the initial examination of it took place in the basement of the factory.

City Detective Starnes, after Dobbs' departure, took into the Grand Jury room a map of the pencil factory, showing the floor upon which the girl is supposed to have met her slayer, tracing the trail along which he dragged the body down into the basement.

The rapidity with which the wheels of justice revolved at the hearing bore out Solicitor Dorsey's statement that when he presented his evidence before the Grand Jury it would be in a clear, concise form.

That the prosecution will avoid presenting its most incriminating evidence before the tribunal, unless necessary to secure indictments of the two men, was admitted in the Solicitor's office just before the Grand Jury convened. No more than enough evidence to secure true bills will be revealed, it was said.

Woman Makes Affidavit.

The affidavit of Mrs. Mima Fomby, who told of Frank trying to get a room at her place was signed in the office of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford May 11. Mrs. Fomby was sworn by Recorder Nash Broyles. Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler witnessed the signature.

Mrs. Fomby said that she and a party of friends were playing bridge in her apartments late Memorial Day afternoon when Frank, whom she had known a long time, telephoned her. It was between 5 and 6:30 o'clock, she stated. Frank, according to her story, wanted to rent a room for himself and a girl whose name he would not give. Mrs. Fomby said that she flatly refused him, but Frank insisted he be rented an apartment.

"He said he was forced to obtain a room for himself and the girl," said Mrs. Fomby, "but didn't want to go anywhere else because he put such implicit trust in me. I would not grant his request and hung up the telephone."

Called Several Times.

"Later he called again," she continued. "This time he was more insistent and said something about it being a case of life and death. Between 6:30 and 10 o'clock he called probably half a dozen times. Finally I told him not to call any more, as I was going automobiling with friends."

Mrs. Fomby said that she had been offered money to leave the city until the courts concluded with the Phagan case. To substantiate this charge the name of Alexander S. Martin, of Gainesville, a newspaper man, has been handed the police. He is said to know of hush money having been offered Mrs. Fomby.

Shortly after Frank's arrest Mrs. Fomby said she visited him at the Tower. At first she said he did not recognize her, but later spoke to her, and they had a secret conference, the nature of which she would not discuss.

The woman added that when she lived at 87 Armstrong Street Frank was a frequent visitor to her place and had brought girls there.

Chief Lanford's Theory.

Chief Lanford's theory, as outlined Friday morning, is that the girl had been knocked unconscious when the alleged telephone call was made to secure a room, and the plan was to remove the girl to a place where she could be given medical attention without suspicion.

"When it was seen that Mrs. Fomby would not rent a room," said Chief Lanford, "it was necessary that she be disposed of. Dead folks tell no tales."

The corridors of the Thrower building were thronged with witnesses long before 10 o'clock this morning, the hour for the Grand Jury to assemble. More than 100 are under subpena. If all are examined it will be several days before the result of the jury's deliberation will be known.

George W. Parrott, a well-known business man, has written the following letter in the interest of Frank:

As is perhaps known by many, I am interested in the National Pencil Company and I have, with keen interest, noted, from time to time, hints and insinuations that Mr. Leo Frank has misused and mistreated female employees of the factory.

Deny He Misused Employees.

I felt it due myself and the other gentlemen interested in the factory that as to this matter there should be a thorough investigation.

To that end, on Wednesday, together with other gentlemen likewise interested in the factory, I interviewed every employee of the factory, both male and female.

Every one of them, without a dissenting voice, voluntarily and emphatically made affidavit that Mr. Frank had never, at any time, or in any way, misused or mistreated them, and that none of them had ever known a single instance of any familiarity on the part of Mr. Frank with any one of the female employees.

These affidavits are in my possession.

This is a matter of personal concern to me, and I beg that, in justice to myself and others interested in the factory, that this matter be set fairly right before the public.

GEORGE W. PARROTT.

Advice to Those Who Have Lung Trouble

Pulmonary Lung Trouble is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Do all you possibly can to add to strength and increase weight; eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air, and then, if health and strength do not return, add the tonic and beneficial effects of Eckman's Alterative. Read what it did in this case:

405 E. 5th St., Wilmington, Del.
"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. I took eggs, and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market Street, Wilmington, Del.), recommended to me Eckman's Alterative, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life."
(Affidavit.) JAS. SQUIRES.
(Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' drug stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

HERE IS AFFIDAVIT CHARGING BRIBERY

Here is an affidavit in possession of the police, sworn to by Lanford's secretary, G. C. Febuary and A. S. Colyar, detailing the conversation alleged to have taken place Monday night in Colonel Felder's office:

"State of Georgia, County of Fulton.—Personally appeared before me, a notary public in and for the above State and County, A. S. Colyar and G. C. Febuary, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

"We met Mr. Felder in his office Monday night at 8 o'clock p. m., and Mr. Felder said: 'I know who killed Mary Phagan. I have had a Burns man here for three weeks, I know when she was killed and how she was killed. She was murdered 30 minutes after she reached that building, on the second floor, and then the body was lowered to the basement. And I know who wrote those notes that were found by her body.

"'This d—d fellow Lanford has had that poor negro Ed Connally locked up for three weeks without a warrant, and he knows it, and he can be impeached from office for it; he knows there is no evidence against Newt Lee, and yet he holds him. I would expose Lanford and Beavers right now, but I don't want to detract attention from the Pragan case or mix their case up with the Phagan case.

"'Beavers is a —— —— ——, but I came pretty near catching him one day alst week, but when we do catch him, we are going to put the d—d reform —— in a two-horse wagon, naked, and drive him through the streets of Atlanta with a sign on him, "Here is Atlanta's Reform Police Chief." Lanford is a d—d drunkard and keeps a quart of whisky in his desk all of the time, and the people of this town are indignant at the conduct of those flunkeyqs down there. I am receiving at least twenty letters every day, and as many telephone calls, telling me that the people are behind me in this fight to impeach those —— ——. Right here on my desk is a letter (getting letter from his desk and reading aloud) from one of the most prominent women in the city of Atlanta, commending my course.'"

The affidavit then continues: "The Colonel then said, 'I want the evidence to impeach both Beavers and Lanford.' The remark was made that we might get in jail, and Colonel Felder said: 'There are only two ways of getting to the jail; one is through the Mayor and the other is through the Governor; and if you get arrested by the policemen, Jim Woodward, with whom, I had a long interview this afternoon, will make those —— —— —— down there jump a rope to turn you loose, and I don't care a d—d who the Governor is, whether it be Joe Brown or Jack Slaton, I will have any man turned loose that will get me the evidence that will impeach those —— —— ——. If they arrest you, call on me and see if I don't come with the bond at any hour. I can call a mass meeting to-morrow afternoon through the papers and have ten thousand of the best citizens in this town meet at Five Points to-morrow night and go to the station house and hang Beavers and Lanford to telephone poles, the two corrupt grafters and thieves.'

"'Now, I want to say to you further (talking to Febuary). You go and get me the evidence in the Phagan case and that Coleman afdavit, and bring it to me, and I will give you one thousand dollars in cash for it. And if you lose your job I will place you in a government position in Washington or a job in New York; and if I lifa down on that I will give you a job here in my ofce.' It was suggested to Colonel Felder that we would have to steal the papers, for no one knew the combination to the safe except Chief Lanford and Mr. Febuary, and in reply to this, Colonel Felder said, 'Go ahead and get them and I will pay you one thousand dollars.' And we then stated to Colonel Felder that this would be larceny after trust, and Colonel Felder said, 'Larceny H——. It is not larceny to steal a perjured affidavit and forged statements and other crooked papers that a d—— thief like Lanford has gathered against an innocent man; and you get them and I will stand behind you and pay the money. I have such men as James G. Woodward, C. C. Jones, Robert F. Maddox, Sam Inman, J. W. English, and the best men in this town behind me, and who are determined to put that gang . . . . to the bad, and they will stand behind you gentlemen with their money and their lives.'"

"Colonel Felder further stated that Lanford and Beavers were feasting and fattening off of the rich graft they were getting out of certain disorderly houses they were shielding, after they had had people to believe that they had closed them up, and certain blind tigers and gamblers that were favored by these grafters; and upon being asked how much they got, Colonel Felder replied that the amount was colossal."

The above is the sum and substance of a conversation between Col. T. B. Felder, A. S. Colyar and G. C Febuary, held in the office of Colone Felder, in the Equitable building, on Monday night, May 19, 1913, at about 8:15 p. m.

A. S. COLYAR.
G. C. FEBUARY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 21st day of May, 1913.
W. W. BROWN.
Notary Public Fulton County, Georgia."

Say Wm. Lorimer Will Run Again for Senate

CHICAGO, May 23.—The news is being spread around that William Lorimer will be a candidate for United States Senator under the direct election law at the expiration of the term of Lawrence Y. Sherman, two years hence.

"I will neither affirm nor deny the report," Mr. Lorimer says. "I have no announcement to make on the subject at this time."

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route, Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

Four Atlanta Men Officers of U. C. T.

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—Pensacola was selected as the next meeting place by the Grand Council, Georgia-Florida division, United Commercial Travelers, this afternoon. Officers were elected as follows

Senior councilor, E. D. Weir, Savannah; junior councilor, J. N. Keely, Tampa; secretary, R. L. Wallace, Atlanta; treasurer, A. L. Brooke, Atlanta; conductor, M. L. Stern, Savannah; page, Max Heinberg, Pensacola; sentinel, J. M. Giddens, Columbus; executive committee, George J. Byrd, Atlanta, and J. W. Bates, Macon; representative Supreme Council, T. B. Lewis, Atlanta, and V. Kugelman, Savannah.

Turkey Now Hit by Serious Revolution

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 23.—Following her disastrous war with the Balkan allies, Turkey now has a revolution on her hands.

Serious fighting is going on in the Vilayet of Basra, in Asiatic Turkey, between Saadun tribesmen and loyal troops of the Turkish army on one hand and a group of rebellious tribesmen. The Sheik of the Saadun tribesmen has been killed.

Spanish Miners Rioting.

MADRID, May 23.—Part of the province of Huelva was put under martial law to-day as a result of serious rioting among the striking employees of the famous Rio Tinto copper mines. A number of persons have been injured and much damage done to property.

We have Beautiful Bedding Plants 3c each. Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

White City Park Now Open

The Georgian-American Pony Contest
VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913
5 VOTES
NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.
Vote for .....
Address .....
CARRIERS' AND AGENTS' BALLOT.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian
Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Friday, May 23, 1913.
5 VOTES NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 7, 1913.
Vote for .....
Address .....
SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

Next Sunday's Coupons Will Count 30 Votes

Prepare for Some Rainy Weather

We're going to have plenty of rain during the next few weeks, and you're going to need protection. There's no need to soak through it all when you can come in here and get a handsome, serviceable Raincoat at a very moderate price. Better that than to be laid up with a cold and have to pay a doctor's bill and lose time from your work.

We're showing a splendid line of

RAINCOATS

at anywhere from

$6.00 to $18.00

and good, serviceable

UMBRELLAS

at from

$1.00 to $5.00

Carlton's

Thirty-six Whitehall

AK Antikamia TABLETS FOR ALL PAIN — FOR HEADACHES NEURALGIA AND LAGRIPPE

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.
114-116 Whitehall St.

Extra Specials For Friday and Saturday

For Cash Only

MEATS.

Stew Beef	5c to 7c
Chuck Roast	10c to 12 1-2c
Rib Roast	12 1-2c to 17 1-2c
Chuck Steak	10c to 12 1-2c
Round Steak	15c
Loin Steak	20c
Porterhouse Steak	20c

LAMB.

Lamb Leg, hind quarter	15c
Lamb Leg, forequarter	12 1-2c
Lamb Shoulder	12 1-2c
Lamb Stew	10c
Lamb Chops	20c

PORK.

Pork Shoulders	12 1-2c
Pork Hams	15 1-2c
Pork Chops	17 1-2c
Pork Sausage (our own make)	20c
Wiener Sausage (our own make)	15c
Bologna Sausage (our own make)	12 1-2c

GROCERIES

3-pound can California Lemon Cling Peaches, 35c can, for	20c
White Asparagus (Libby), 25c can, for	17 1-2c
Salmon (Red), 15c can, for	10c
Cheese (full cream)	18c
Garden Peas, 15c can, for	10c

WOLFSHEIMER & CO.
114-116 Whitehall St.

PURE WATER Necessary TO GOOD HEALTH

CASCADE SPRING WATER

Purest and Best Water in the South.

A Delightful Table Water

Indorsed by Physicians Everywhere.

Delivered to your home daily direct from the springs. Order by mail or telephone.

Cascade Water Co.
R. F. D. No. 1.
Phone, Atlanta 5856-A.

SATURDAY
Little Tender Georgia SNAP BEANS
3c qt.

No. 10 Silver Leaf Lard	$1.29
Meadow Gold Butter	32½c
24 lbs. Gold Medal Flour	87c
24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	77c
48 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	$1.52
Swift's Premium Hams	18½c
3-pound Can Mocha and Java	$1.00
1-pound Can Leader Coffee	25c
1 pound Good Coffee	15c

We carry Carhardt & Bro.'s Famous Line of Coffees, and have recently installed one of the finest coffee mills in the city.

WYATT'S C. O. D.
77 South Pryor
Atlanta Phone 947 WE DELIVER Bell—Main 4926

SUSPEND POLICE WITH WHISKY IN POCKET

Relieved of his revolver, club and star, and a pint bottle of whisky by Captain Poole, Policeman J. C. Askew, of the morning watch, faces charges of drunkenness, and of arresting Roy N. Spence, nineteen years old, of Cave Springs, Ga., because the boy asked him where he could catch a car to Whitehall Street. Askew was suspended by Chief Beavers, who has announced that he will at once file the charges against the officer.

Young Spencer graduated recently from the high school in his home town, and on Friday came to Atlanta to secure a position. New to city ways, he thought the best way to get information was to ask a policeman. He came out on the plaza at the Terminal and espied Askew standing on the corner in full uniform, asked where he could catch the Whitehall car. Askew, it is said, was highly insulted and placed the boy under arrest.

Policeman Andrews, the regular man on the Terminal Station beat, saw Askew make the arrest, and saw also, he claims, that Askew was drunk. Unable to get a satisfactory explanation from Askew, he called the patrol and sent both Spence and Askew to headquarters.

It's common sense to care for your teeth — and a pleasure too if you use

COLGATE'S
TRADE RIBBON MARK
DENTAL CREAM

A delicious flavor instead of a "druggy" taste.

Its twice-a-day use checks decay-germs, and cleans the teeth without scratching the enamel.

Ribbon Dental Cream leaves the mouth wholesome, refreshed.

Sold Everywhere

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

Continued From Page One.

Colyar arranged a meeting in Felder's office between Felder and G. C. February, clerk and stenographer to Lanford. Lanford says he had two other men to shadow Colyar and February; that the meeting took place in Felder's office shortly after 8 o'clock Monday night and lasted for somewhat more than half an hour.

Lanford says Colyar and February reported to him that Felder said he would pay well for the affidavit made by the Colemans denying that they authorized Felder to enter the Phagan case and for transcripts of the police records of the case.

Lanford says that Colyar and February reported to him that Felder asked February if he had access to Lanford's safe and his records; that February replied that none but he and Lanford knew the combination to the safe, and that all the records of evidence in the Phagan case were kept in that safe.

Lanford says that February and Colyar reported that Felder then said he would give February $1,000 for a copy of the Phagan evidence and for the affidavit which the Colemans had made.

Colemans Swear That They Refused to Hire Felder

Here follows the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that they refused to employ Mr. Felder as a lawyer in the case:

State of Georgia, Fulton County.

The affiant, J. W. Cloeman and wife, citizens of Atlanta, Ga., who reside at 146 Lindsay Street.

The affiant is the step-father of Mary Phagan, deceased, the child who was foully murdered by a hellish brute on April 26, 1913.

The affiant is in the employ of the City of Atlanta in the Sanitary Department.

The affiant, while at the police station during the Coroner's inquest, the exact day he does not remember, was approached by a man somewhat under the influence of liquor, and said to the affiant:

"I am working for the law firm of T. B. Felder, and I would like to have you go to his office, as he wants to see you, and I advise you to employ him."

Affiant said: "No, I won't go to his office."

The piker then said: "Will you talk to Colonel Felder if I bring him here?" Whereupon the affiant agreed to see him. He went off and came back in a few minutes with Felder. Colonel Felder then said: "I want you to employ me to prosecute this case; it will not cost you a cent, as certain people have promised to pay me my fee, but I have got to have your consent to the employment before I can get into the Coroner's jury."

The affiant told him he did not want to employ him, and did not want to have anything to do with him, as the affiant did not employ him, nor did the affiant's wife employ him, and the only information the affiant ever had that he was employed was what he read in the newspapers.

Affiant has many good neighbors and he appreciates their sympathy for him and his broken-hearted wife, but he can not see how they would come to employ Colonel Felder without his knowledge and consent.

A man met the affiant on the street and offered him one dollar to go upon the fee of this astute counsel, but he declined to accept it, and told the party he had not employed Felder.

Affiant is thoroughly satisfied with the great work done by Chief of Police Beavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford and the able men working under them, as he believes, as thousands of others do in Atlanta, that they have the real murderer in jail, and the affiant can not reconcile himself to the conduct of Colonel Felder, who is posing as a prosecuting attorney and wanting $5,000 from the people of the city, as set out in the afternoon papers, to bring a noted detective here, and according to the press of the city, large amounts have been subscribed by people the affiant does not believe are anxious to prosecute the man under arrest.

The affiant means no reflection on the press of the city and the citizens of Atlanta who are in favor of justice and fair play. Affiant will ever appreciate the sympathy that has been shown him and his family by these good people, and he asks them if they have any money to spend to punish the murderer of his sweet, innocent child to stand behind the Atlanta police department and let no one mislead them.

J. W. COLEMAN,
MRS. J. W. COLEMAN.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of May, 1913.
HAROLD HILTON, Notary Public, Fulton Co.

Officers Elected By Banking Chapter

The Atlanta Chapter of the American Institue of Banking Thursday night elected these officers:

President, T. W. Townsend, Fourth National Bank; vice president, Fonville McWhorter, Central Bank and Trust Corporation; treasurer, E. H. Bee, Third National Bank, and secretary, W. V. Crowley, American National Bank. Mr. Townsend and Mr. Bee were re-elected.

Delegates to the eleventh annual covention at Richmond in September are T. W. Townsend, Fourth National Bank; John W. Yopp, "The Southern Banker," and Fonville McWhorter, Central Bank and Trust Corporation.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Don't Force Your Widow to Marry for a Home!

IF AFTER years of paying rent—and providing well for your family—you should die, WITHOUT leaving an estate—WHAT THEN? Would your widow be forced to marry for a HOME—or else be compelled to face the battle of life alone? Please read on!

You can buy the pretty six-room Bungalow shown in above picture by paying only $100 down and $25 a month, instead of rent, till the house is paid for. (No mortgage to assume.) Then, should death claim you, you will be leaving your widow a beautiful home of her own.

Phone us for full particulars; or, better still, call at our office!

W. D. BEATIE, 207 Equitable Building

Bell Phone, Main 3520 Atlanta Phone 3570

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS BASS BASS BASS

A Host of Mighty Values for Saturday

Bass' May Sale

Our New York buyers are searching the markets daily with ready cash, for the best offerings of Importers, Manufacturers and Wholesalers, with the result that many thousands of dollars worth of choice Spring and Summer goods are being secured for this sale at prices which enable us to undersell all other retail stores.

$3 and $4 Fine Wash Dresses

Saturday we place on sale some 200 beautiful Wash Dresses, made of fine quality white pique, linene and colored zephyrs; all neatly trimmed, and good values up to $4.00. Your choice..... $1.90

Bargain Sale of Ladies' Suits

We have had consigned to us, by one of New York's largest manufacturers, 109 ladies' fine Spring and Summer Suits, to sell. Made of fine English Serges, in cream, black and white stripes, tan, black and navy. Worth $20; your choice..... $6.90

$10.00 Sample Dresses at $4.90

Think of buying new and fashionable Dresses that, until this sale, would have cost you $10.00. In the lot you will find the very popular all-wool cream serges, silk ratines, all-over embroidery voiles with Bulgarian trimmings, and silk messalines in all the new shades and colors. Your choice $4.90

May Sale of Untrimmed Hats

In this May Sale you can buy the newest and prettiest Untrimmed Hat Shapes of the season at about one-fourth their real value. Included are Hemps, Milans, Panamettes, Ajours, Chips, Neapolitans and other fashionable straws. Black, white, blue, red, pink, tan, purple, heliotrope and various color combinations. Shapes and colors to suit every type and taste. Your choice 98c

500 White Pique Skirts; worth $3.00; choice Saturday 98c

1,000 Waists, 79c
$1 to $2 values; while they last. Voiles, lingerie and embroidered lawn; in latest styles; worth $1 to $2; while they last 69c

Sale of House Dresses at 50c.
Made of good quality madras and percale, and very neatly trimmed. If you paid $1 you would get value received. Saturday 50c

Ladies' lisle finished silk-taped Vests; regular 19c value; Saturday only 5c

Ladies' muslin Corset Covers and Drawers; trimmed with lace and embroidery, and ribbon inserted. 50c values, Saturday ... 19c

Ladies' muslin Gowns and Petticoats. Neatly trimmed with lace and embroidery. The kind sold elsewhere at 75c; Saturday 39c

100 Dozen Children's Drawers—Made of good quality muslin, and trimmed with embroidery; worth 25c; Saturday 10c

Balkan Middy Blouses; made of good quality galatea. Blue, white and pink collars. Worth $1.50; Saturday 98c

Ladies' Long Crepe Kimonos, in pink, blue and lavender and all the pretty shades, and good styles. $2 values, Saturday 98c

1,000 CHILDREN'S DRESSES—Made of good quality madras, galatea and percales. All very neatly trimmed. Sizes six to fifteen years. Worth up to $1.50. Saturday 69c

5,000 CHILDREN'S PARASOLS—Covered with good quality linen, on good, strong frames; very neat handle. In pink, white, blue, red and combination colors; Saturday 10c

Saturday Specials on Main Floor

Cut Prices in Ladies' and Men's Neckwear, Children's Belts, Etc.

On one of the main center counters you will find ladies' new style Neckwear, Lace Collars in white and ecru, the kind that other retail stores ask $1.00 for; Jabots and all the latest styles in bows. Ladies' and children's new style Belts. Men's All-silk Ties, in all the latest colors and styles. You pay 50c to $1 elsewhere. Your choice Saturday 25c

R. & G. make Corsets; all sizes and styles; Saturday, special 44c

Ladies' silk lisle thread Gloves, full length; black and colors; all sizes; Saturday 39c

Ladies' pure silk Hose, with double lisle heel and toe; black, tan, white and colors; very special, Saturday 47c

Ladies' Fine Hand Bags—We have just secured three lines of drummers' samples of very fine Hand Bags; not a one in the lot worth less than $1.00; Saturday 47c

Ladies' Silk Hose, good quality; black, white, tan and colors; Saturday 25c

Children's All-Silk Socks and Stockings; the 50c kind; Saturday. 25c

Ladies' 16-button fine Silk Gloves; black, white and colors; well made and worth $1.50; Saturday 69c

MEN'S UNDERWEAR
Fine Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers; in all sizes. The kind you pay 50c to $1 a garment for in other stores; Saturday 25c

Men's $1 Night Shirts, made of fine bleached Cambric; neatly trimmed; Saturday 50c

Bargain Sale of Fine Laces Saturday

The biggest bargains ever offered in any house in Atlanta. 20,000 yards very fine Linen Torchon Laces, Ruby and Round Thread Vals, Edges and Insertions. All new patterns and worth up to 40c; Saturday 5c

A Special Purchase of Sheets
10,000 full double bed size Hemmed Sheets; made of good material. The dollar kind, Saturday 49c

Sale of Huck Towels
Extra good Hemmed Huck Towels, red border; good size. Saturday, special 4c

632 Fine Jap Matting Art Squares $1.98

Made of fine quality 180-warp matting in floral and Oriental designs, full 9x12 feet.
Only one to a customer.

BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS. BASS.

Be Sure to Look For the Big Blue Sign:

A BANKRUPT SALE!

at 32 Whitehall Street

There is absolutely no way to tell you how cheap these goods will sell—Bankrupt Prices are "whatever somebody will give." Come see what you will give.

Three great stocks—Ladies' wear, Men's wear; something to please everyone, placed in the hands of Ira A. Watson & Company, selling agents, who sell out Bankrupt, Liquidation and other stocks.

With orders to "sell out" for the benefit of whom it may concern. Watson don't care what the price, just so they sell. Prices not based on cost.

FAR LESS THAN COST OF PRODUCTION.

THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPT COURT does not fix any prices—JUST SELL at some price to somebody. A mighty downfall to-morrow for the grand finale—the finish—THE END. Prices that can only be appreciated when you see the goods. Everybody loves to make a good trade. We will trade—Come See.

All Prices Reduced to "Selling Point" Whatever Somebody Will Give

See the Windows
32 WHITEHALL STREET.

Choice HANAN'S SHOES and other finest best; tomorrow (Thursday) $3.50

Boys' Norfolk best Blue Serge Suits; sold for $10. $3.99

EXTRA SPECIAL. Lot of fine Shirts; all go for 39c
Monarch, Faultless and other $1 Shirts 69c

Redfern Corsets. Every lady knows them. Well, how's this? $1.99 That will make them "go" some.

HAIR. Human Hair Switches that sold up to $10; go for 99c. There will be some switching.

Men's $4.00 Howard & Foster, and other fine Footwear, $1.99

Ladies' Silk Waists 99c

ARROW Collars at 8⅓c Or 98c a Dozen.

SHIRTS. Earl & Wilson's Faultless; choice up to $2.50 Shirts 99c

1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 7c, 9c, Etc.
Great Counters and displays loaded with Jewelry, Notions, useful articles needed and used in every household daily. Come—it's fun to "paw" them over, and root and rummage, and reek and revel in these Bankrupt Bargains.
10c Sale--- 25c Sale---99c Sale
WONDERFUL THINGS

$2.00 to $3.00 Men's Straw Hats 98c

FOR BOYS. One fine lot full Suits of clothes; sold up to $6.50; go at $1.99
Men's John B. Stetson's Best Hats. $2.50

Ladies' fine genuine 50c Silk Hose, two for one; a pair 25c

BANKRUPTCY. Means all bargains; 25c Infants' Socks 9c

Men's $1.50 Straw Hats 49c

See the WINDOWS 32 Whitehall Street

Men's Pants; one big lot for $1.99. Sold up to $5.00.

Men's $30.00, finest, best, newest Suits, $9.99. Watson's famous give-away prices.

Remember, this stock was only in business 16 months, so it's all entirely NEW GOODS.

Men's Hanan Shoes, and the world's best, $3.50

Men's 50c Belts 19c

Men's $18.00 Suits, $4.99. Just think! A whole fine new suit.

DON'T FORGET! The number is 32 WHITEHALL Street.

PRESBYTERIANS DOOM COUNTRY MISSIONS

Attempt to Save Church and Rural Life Department Fails in Assembly.

Defenders of the church and country life department of the Board of Home Missions went down to an inglorious parliamentary defeat at the forenoon session of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly.

As a result the report of the executive commission stands that this department "shall be discontinued as soon as practicable."

Every attempt to revise this decision ran against a stone wall in the rulings of the moderator. One commissioner after another essayed to speak on the report, but each was told that no question formally was before the assembly.

Rev. John Deans, of Brooklyn, N. Y., asked what interpretation was to be made of "as soon as practicable"—that given by Dr. Mark A. Matthews in presenting the report Wednesday, or that he gave Thursday, or the one he presented Friday morning.

Rev. Deans was informed that he was to accept the final explanation. Rev. T. M. Hall, of the Erie, Pa., Presbytery, sought to introduce a resolution bearing on the subject, but was ruled out of order.

Bars Reconsideration.

As a final recourse, one of the commissioners moved for a reconsideration of the portion of the executive commission's report bearing on the department of church and country life. Moderator Stone ran his eye over the house and ruled that two-thirds of the original assembly considering the question must be present to vote on a reconsideration. It was the moderator's assumption that the two-thirds was not in the auditorium.

Although the church and country life advocates were forced to accept defeat in their fight to establish the department permanently as a part of the Board of Home Missions' activities, those at the head of the work declared that they would be able to accomplish this at the next general assembly.

"We will simply continue the department through the year and then come before the next Assembly on our record," is the statement made Friday of their contemplated plan of campaign.

Professing Christians who spend Sundays in their automobiles or on the golf course came in for unrestrained criticism from Rev. Frederick J. Sauber of Marcellus, N. Y., who submitted the report of the committee on Christian life and work.

Apathy Blamed for Vice.

The apathy and indifference of Christian people was blamed by Dr. Sauber for the rapid progress which the white slave evil has made. He called attention to the falling away from the church of the younger generation and pleaded for more active evangelistic work. Judging by the figures of additions to church membership, he estimated that it required about a half hundred persons one year to get one new member into the church.

W. H. Houston, secretary of the vacancy and supply department of the Presbyterian Church, said that there were 3,000 young men in the country who had studied for the Presbyterian ministry who were still without pulpits, while there were many churches about the country without preachers. His department, he said, was for the purpose of relieving this situation. He asked five years for a trial of the new plan.

Drug Traffic Attacked.

Looking toward the remedying of these conditions, the Assembly voted to instruct the moderator and stated clerk to write, through any of the Assembly boards, to every minister of the church urging him to bring to the attention of every family in his church the needs of the ministry for young men.

A strong resolution against interstate traffic in opium, cocaine and other similar dugs was introduced by Dr. C. A. B. Javier, of Philadelphia, and passed by the unanimous vote of the Assembly.

"The United States was in the lead of the movement to bar international traffic in the drugs," said Dr. Janvier, "but within her own borders the traffic is being continued with only a slight check. Decided action by this assembly will assist in passing the bill which is now before Congress."

Truce on Hubbert.

When no further movement was made Friday in the effort to oust the Rev. J. M. Hubbert from his position as Assistant Stated Clerk of the Assembly, it became known that a truce had been patched up between his friends and William H. Roberts, the Stated Clerk. Dr. Roberts had been working hard to have the office of assistant abolished. He gave economy as his reason for recommending the change. The office pays $3,000 annually.

The members of the large Chicago delegation were happy to-day over the unanimous acceptance of the invitation of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of that city for the 1914 Assembly. This is the church of which Moderator Stone is the pastor. The First Presbyterian Church of Atlantic City, N. J., was the only other candidate for next year, but the indications are that there will be a hot fight on for the privilege of entertaining the commissioners in 1915.

The resignation of Duncan J. McMillan from the Board of Church Erection, which was announced Thursday afternoon, was not entirely unexpected. Dr. McMillan had been known not to be in sympathy with many of the moves of the board in the past. His stand on the John S. Kennedy memorial fund was the final straw that made his resignation virtually a foregone conclusion. He was bitterly opposed to placing it in the loan fund, contending that it was illegal. When the Assembly voted, almost unanimously, to place it in the loan fund, he announced that he could no longer serve.

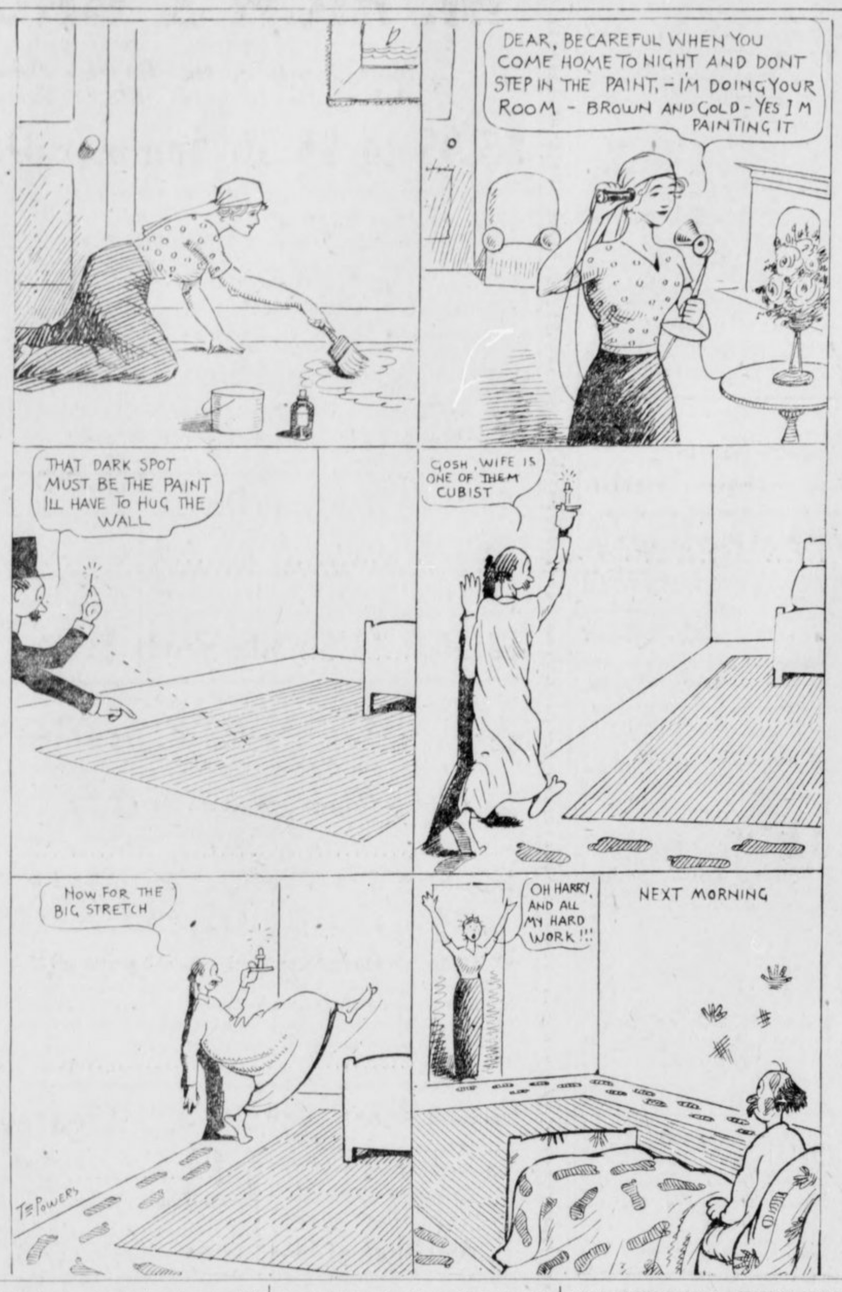
Tribute Paid Roberts.

Resolutions of respect and thanks were passed in honor of Stated Clerk Roberts in view of the fact that he had reached the thirtieth anniversary of his election to the clerkship of the assembly. The resolutions noted that nearly two million dollars of the church's money had passed through his hands and that he had done more for church co-operation than any other member of the denomination.

He was given a leave of absence for two months to make the foreign trip with the commission which is seeking to bring about a world alliance of Christian religions. Dr. Roberts responded feelingly to the tributes paid him.

WITH THE BEST INTENTION

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.



BROYLES SCORES MAYOR AS BAR TO JUSTICE

Recorder Says Woodward Cripples Courts by Granting Pardons and Remitting Fines.

Continued From Page 1.

Woodward also instructed the police not to molest Roper, as he was considering an application for pardon. Roper is still at liberty, nothing more having been heard from the Mayor.

Another instance referred to by Recorder Broyles in his interview was the Dan Shaw case. Shaw was known as the "blind tiger king" and received a twelve-month sentence in the county chaingang and a 30-day sentence in the city stockade. Governor Brown pardoned him on the chaingang sentence, with the stipulation that Shaw would leave Georgia and go back to Virginia. Appeal was made to Judge Broyles to remit the stockade sentence of 30 days, but he declined. Mayor Woodward granted this pardon.

Mattie Lou White was convicted in November, 1912, on a blind tiger charge in connection with an immorality charge. She was fined $500 or 30 days, and bound over to the State courts. The sentence given by Broyles was sustained by the Court of Appeals and her arrest was ordered.

Woman Also Is Free.

She had been out on bond since the time of her arrest. She appealed to the Mayor and was given a letter to the police instructing them not to molest her, as he was considering her appeal for a pardon. She is still at liberty. The letter is dated May 7.

R. L. Dixon, the man who was convicted on an immorality charge in connection with Mattie Lou White, is confined in the city jail and will begin the serving of his stockade term. The White woman called upon him at police headquarters this morning. Judge Broyles points out this case as an instance of how the court's work is being hampered, charging that the serious violators of the law are at liberty, while Dixon, who is held on a lighter charge, is serving his sentence.

Empire Life Gets Plans for Building

AUGUSTA, GA., May 23.—Twenty-five architects have submitted preliminary plans to the directors of the Empire Life Insurance Company for the fifteen-story building that company will erect here. A building committee will make a selection. The Empire plans to begin the erection of its building on October 1.

The Augusta Chronicle Building Company will begin the erection of a ten-story building within the next 60 days.

White City Park Now Open

Miller Bell New Grand Chancellor of State Pythians

WAYCROSS, GA., May 23.—Grand Chancellor James W. Austin's suggestion for changing the method of electing grand lodge officers for the Knights of Pythias of Georgia, was to-day referred to the incoming committee on judiciary with instructions to prepare an amendment and submit it with a report at the next convention.

The officers elected for the yeaf are:

Grand Chancellor, Miller S. Bell, Milledgeville; Grand Vice Chancellor, H. M. Stanley, Dublin; Grand Prelate John P. Cheney, Marietta; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, W. H. Leopold, Savannah; Grand Master of Exchequer, R. C. Norman, Washington; Grand Master-at-arms, Troy Beatty, Athens; Grand Inner Guard, George C. Schaufele, Augusta; Grand Outer Guard, Joseph D. Smith, Barnesville. Supreme representatives, B. D. Brantley, Blackshear and C. M. Milan, Cartersville.

Macon was selected as the permanent meeting place for the Grand Lodge.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about it. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

Roosevelt Going to Arizona for a Rest

NEW YORK, May 23.—Colonel Roosevelt, with two of his sons, will visit Arizona this summer.

Through his secretary he yesterday denied that while in the Southwest he would seek a lost tribe of Indians. He said he was merely going for a rest. He will do little hunting, but will ride considerably.

CAMPBELL TO CLAIMS COURT.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Edward J. Campbell, to be chief justice of the Court of Claims.

Hansen Is Bound to Keep Peace a Year

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, May 23.—J. Salter Hansen, the Chicago theatrical man who has been involved in litigation with Arthur Bourchier, a London theatrical man, for some time over the production of the play "Croesus," reappeared in court to-day and was bound over in the sum of $10,000 to keep the peace for a year.

He also was sentenced to pay the costs of the hearing on the charge of assault, brought against him by Bourchier.

You will buy

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

for the satisfaction you feel when eating these finest smoked meats. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon are always the same, always good. Try Swift's Premium Ham or Bacon.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

"Smoked in Atlanta"

Established 1865— EISEMAN BROS., Inc. —Incorporated 1912

Boys' and Children's Clothes!

Our Boys' and Children's Department (entire second floor) is large, complete and comprehensive. Junior Fashions at their best, and in unlimited variety.

Just now interest is centering on warm weather wearables, and our representative stock of

WASH SUITS

for ages 2½ to 17 years embraces the latest novelties in a variety of more than 200 different styles.

$1.00 - - - - and - - - - Up

PLAY-TIME COSTUMES are now being eagerly sought by the average "small boy" with vacation visions just ahead, and our line covers all the best makes. Accurately designed, stoutly sewed, and of good material.

Baseball Suits, in all colors, Shirt, Padded Pants, Cap and Belt,

$1.00 - - - - - to - - - - - $1.50

Khaki Indian Suits, 4 to 14 years, $1.00 to $1.50. Indian Suits of Leather, sizes 6 to 14 years, $5.00. Captain Suits, Regular Army Suits. Cowboy, Broncho and other costume suits,

$1.25 - - - - - to - - - - - $2.50

We Are Official Outfitters for Boy Scouts of America

Eiseman Bros., Inc.

11-13-15-17 Whitehall

Entire Building

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Saturday Is Hosiery and Knit Underwear Day

First on the list is Hosiery, and here are the kinds that many people want now at very low prices. In the shelves are thousands of pairs—more costly, including the season's novelties in women's stockings at $5 and $6—but—here are the "bread and butter" kinds, on the counters for to-morrow, for your convenience, and for your saving.

For Children, Women and Men

Socks for Children—a special lot at 15c pair. You may select, at this price, either plain black or white, or white with plaid tops.

Infants' white silk-lisle ribbed Hose—special for this sale at 15c pair.

Pony Hose for Boys and Girls

Girls' fine, one-and-one-ribbed silk-lisle Hose, black only; 25c pair.

Boys' medium weight black cotton Pony Hose; extra high-spliced heel, very elastic; sizes 9½ to 11; 25c pair.

Women's "Economy" Hose of sheer gauze lisle, with double hem top; 15c pair.

Sheer gauze silk-lisle Hose; high-spliced heel, double hem top; black, white and tan; 25c pair.

"Gordon" sheer, gauze lisle Hose with double hem top, extra high-spliced heel; black, white and tan; 35c pair—three pairs for $1.00.

Women's $2.00 embroidered black silk Hose, heavy, good quality—are priced for Saturday at $1.50 pair.

Men's "Round Ticket" summer Half Hose, with linen heel and toe, in black, gray, navy and tan. They are "hard to wear out;" 25c pair.

Time to Buy Porch Fans

Proof? This extensive stock of new and decidedly attractive kinds.

Artistic, fancy Bamboo Fans are priced at 10c each.

Satin Palm Fans are two for 5c.

Small Palm Fans in odd shapes with colored satin bindings; quaint and very pleasing; 10c and 15c each.

Women's Knit Underwear

Combinations at 98c—sheer, cool and comfortable; with cuff or loose knee. Since women have learned the absolute satisfaction of these one-piece knitted suits, the demand for them increases daily.

There are also good knitted Combinations at 50c—Essex Mills suits—with cuff knee, low neck, sleeveless, light weight cotton; regular and extra sizes.

Three 25c Vests for 50c

Practical women will not be slow to take advantage of this opportunity. All sizes are here, these vests are sheer, light weight, drawn with mercerized tape.

Men's 25c Garments at 19c

A few sizes are missing in this assortment of bleached and unbleached shirts and drawers, some with short, some with long sleeves.

Boys' 50c Night Shirts at 39c

Reduced because they are slightly soiled; good, well-made garments in sizes 4 to 8 years.

Boys' cool summer Pajamas. Sizes 4 to 8 years, 50c; 10 to 14 years, 75c suit.

Men's 75c Night Shirts at 59c

Two materials to choose from: Pajama checks or plain, soft nainsook, they are trimmed with colored braids.

Men's "My Letter" Night Shirts, of soft cambric, all-white with initial prettily embroidered on pocket; $1.00 each.

Men's Pajamas in a variety of styles at $1.25 and $1.50 suit.

Men's "My Letter" Pajamas at $2.00 suit.

CREDIT AT THE MENTER CO.

Our Great Chain of Stores Means Low Prices to You

You know the advantage of buying in quantity. We own a chain of nearly 100 prosperous stores, and believe us we buy in enormous quantities.

This great saving we pass on to you. We give you better quality, newer styles and at less money. We outfit

MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN

Visit our store. Take advantage of our low prices and liberal credit terms.

PETTICOAT SPECIAL: Tomorrow and all next week we will sell all $1 and $1.50 petticoats at 59c, and all $3 to $5 silk petticoats at $2.49.

THE MENTER CO.

EASY PAYING

71 1-2 Whitehall St. Upstairs 1st Door Below J. M. High Co.

CHARGE ACCOUNT

THOMASVILLE IS TORN BY STRIFE OVER COWS

Policeman Friendly to Wandering Animals Is Haled Before City Council for Trial.

BY JAMES B. NEVIN.

The ancient and merry cow and anti-cow warfare has broken loose in Thomasville once more.

While North Georgia statesmen fight and scrap over the loaves and fishes of ordinary political persuasion, Thomasville can never find time from its cow war to get in the real big game up state.

Not long ago, an anti-cow ordinance was slipped through Council, but as was predicted, it has not served to keep grand Old Sis Cow off the streets of the town. Grave and reverend city councillors may lead, or drive, the friends of Sis Cow to water, but they cannot make them drink.

The Council may order the police force to arrest the cows astray on the city thoroughfares, but if the policeman will not obey the Council's mandate, what is the Council going to do about it?

That is the momentous question now agitating Thomasville to the verge of strenuous internecene strife once more.

Not long since, Alderman Bennett, anti-cow, ordered Policeman Nazeworth, pro-cow, to arrest a cow the alderman discovered at large about town.

Policeman Nazeworth, who is rotund and good natured, a lover of nature and of cows, didn't exactly refuse to execute the aldermanic ukase, but he fooled around and put it off, upon one pretext and another, until his honor got mad, and had the policeman haled before Council for refusing to obey orders.

The policeman told Council he intended no disrespect to the alderman, and that, after a while, when he got through with seven or eleven other tasks, he had intended chasing that cow into the "pound," not that he had anything against cows, in fact he rather liked them, but that he was a faithful officer, knew his duty, and would perform it, if given time, and permitted to judge for himself how much, etc.

The Council, rather skittish about the cow issue in Thomasville, anyway, laughed, dismissed the charges against Policeman Nazeworth, and told him to go his way, and sin no more.

Alderman Bennett didn't like it much, but what could he do when Council refused that way to back him up?

The pro-cow hosts in Thomasville, therefore, have taken heart over the outcome of the issue thus precipitated by Alderman Bennett and met so gallantly by Policeman Nazeworth, and there is renewed talk of another red-hot municipal campaign in Thomasville, with the cow as the burning issue.

In Thomasville, if nowhere else in this world, age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of grand Old Sis Cow!

Senator M. C. Tarver, of Whitfield, will introduce in the next Legislature a bill to legalize suspension of sentence in criminal cases, in the discretion of the presiding judge, and to provide for probation officers.

Senator Tarver, who is in Atlanta, discussing his bill said:

"I am convinced that the passage of these measures will work a genuine reform in the administration of the criminal laws of the State. I do not fully agree with the idea that imprisonment for crime is wholly for reformation and not for punishment, and I hold that where punishment alone will operate to deter crime, it is all right. Beyond question, the reformation of criminals, however, is the ultimate object of punishment.

"I regard the suspension of sentence in certain cases an ideal restraint against crime.

"Of the 2,688 penitentiary convicts June 1, 1911, 1,304 were between the ages of 20 and 29 years—practically 50 per cent. It is hard to believe that of such a large number, all young men, and nearly all first offenders, the judges could not have found many worthy of another chance through suspended sentence."

BAN ON DRY BATHING.

WILMINGTON, MASS., May 23.—Girls will not be allowed to loll on the beaches of Silver Lake this summer, according to the dictum of fathers, who object to the maids collecting a tan while wearing only a smile and an apology for a bathing suit.

White City Park Now Open

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route. Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

Hill Climb Promises Rare Sport

Auto Contest Scheduled Saturday

Early List of Entries Is Large

Local automobile and motorcycle fans are in for a "big time" Saturday afternoon when the second annual hill-climb of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories' Association is run out on the steep Stewart Avenue incline.

The event was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but on account of a heavy shower it was considered advisable to postpone it a week. Since then several new entries have been received, the list having been reopened under the sanction of the American Automobile Association.

The entries will close Friday. Drivers must get their licenses from Charles I. Ryan, local representative of the American Automobile Association. He is located in the Fourth National Bank Building.

The complete list of entries follows:

Event No. 1.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	C
2.	Studebaker, D. Rooney	C
3.	Buick, Hugh Moss	C

Event No. 2

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Ford, J. L. Alexander	C
2.	Chalmers, Hugh Moss	C
3.	Studebaker, Joe Lundgren	C

Event No. 3.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C
2.	Lion, W. J. Stoddard	C

Event No. 4.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	National, Bruce McKerall	C
2.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	C

Event No. 6—Free for All.

No.	Car and Driver.	Class.
1.	American, Joseph H. White	D
2.	National, Bruce McKerall	D
3.	Studebaker, F. Lundgren	D
4.	Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane	D
5.	National, T. A. Fox	D

Event N. 7.

No.	Car and Driver.
1.	Marion, Dr. Samuel Green.
2.	Buick, Hugh Moss.
3.	Stoddard-Dayton, Joe Johnston.
4.	Apperson, Dr. Constantine.
5.	Pope-Hartford, E. A. Holbrook.

MOTORCYCLES.

Event No. 1.

(61 Class Amateurs.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Indian	H. A. Owen
2.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
3.	Indian	L. S. Peek
4.	Excelsior	T. C. Butler, Jr.
5.	Indian	E. A. Owen

Event No. 2.

(61 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Pope	G. L. Singleton
2.	Indian	Harry J. Glenn
3.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
4.	Indian	Ed L. Wilcox

Event No. 4.

(30-50 Class Professional.)

No.	Machine.	Rider.
1.	Thor	O. R. Lancaster
2.	Indian	Ed R. Wilcox
3.	Thor	G. L. Singleton

Events and Prizes.

The list of prizes is as follows:

Silver cup, donated by the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory Association, for car making fastest time; to be won three times—won 1912 by Pope-Hartford.

Silver cup, donated by E. Rivers Realty Company, for car making fastest time in events Nos. 1 and 2; to be won three times—won 1912 by E.-M.-F.

AUTOMOBILES.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup or prize to be selected; second prize, pair $3.50 gloves, donated by Thirty-five Per Cent Automobile Supply Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Atlanta Constitution; second prize, $15 raincoat, by Johnson-Gewinner Company.

Event No. 3—First prize, silver cup, by Durham Jewelry Company; second prize, barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No. 4—First prize, silver cup, by Studebaker Corporation; second prize, two 32x3½ Red tubes, by New South Rubber Company.

Event No. 5—First prize, silver cup, by Firestone Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, model "R," by Stewart-Warner Corporation.

Private Owners' Cars.

Event No. 1—First prize, silver cup, by Fisk Rubber Company; second prize, half barrel Triple "E" oil, by Reed Oil Company.

Event No. 2—First prize, silver cup, by Republic Tire and Rubber Company; second prize, pair gloves, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

MOTORCYCLES.

Event No. 1, Amateurs—First prize, silver cup, by Elyea-Austell Company; second prize, pair leggins, by Alexander-Seewald Company.

Event No. 2, Professional—First prize, Stewart-Warner speedometer, by Stewart Warner Corporation; second prize, electric horn, by Hendee Manufacturing Company.

Event No. 3, Amateurs—First prize, two motorcycle tires, U. S. Tire Company; second prize, pair leggins, by Johnson-Gewinner Company.

Event No. 4, Professional—First prize, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, two motorcycle tires; second prize, one Troxel saddle, by Elyea-Austell Company.

Officials.

The officials in charge of the meet are as follows:

Technical Committee—Automobiles, Fred Steel, F. C. Skinner, A. A. Almond; motorcycles, H. Gilbert, Dove Wylie, W. E. Schulenberger.

Starters—K. T. McKinstry, L. S. Collier.

Referees—Automobiles, W. G. Humphrey; motorcycles, J. D. Hiller.

Judges—L. T. Bissell, C. L. Elyea, T. H. Smart, R. S. Abbott.

Clerk of Course—E. H. Elleby.

Times and Umpires—D. T. Bussey, R. N. Reed, R. J. Slear.

Gasoline Tester—Ed L. Wight, Jr.

RIOTING AGAIN IN MILFORD.

MILFORD, MASS., May 23.—Several women were struck by flying stones and loyal workmen were thrown bodily off a street car when striking mill workers to-day renewed their violence.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

PEACH CROP FAR SHORT; PRICES WILL SOAR

Highest Estimate Puts Total Yield of State at 1,450 Cars—Five Thousand Last Year.

The Georgia peach crop this year will not exceed 1,450 carloads, which is 50 per cent less than the city of New York alone purchased last year.

H. D. Marks, manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, estimates the total Georgia crop at 1,454 cars. The Fruit Growers' Express figures 1,349 cars, while the Central of Georgia Railway looks for only 1,312.

Last year the Georgia crop was unusually large, 5,000 varloads of Georgia's favorite fruit being shipped to market. New York City, always the greatest consumer of the season's early delicacies, purchased 2,800 carloads. Still, there were more than 3,000 carloads for home consumption and country-wide distribution. This year New York alone will demand more than the entire State can supply.

Last year the growers realized, on the season's average, $575 per carload, gross, in New York. This season's short crop will send the price soaring. Early shipments may bring as high as $1,000 a car, although the season's average will be less.

Railroads have already begun preparing to handle the crop. All F. G. E. cars received by the Central of Georgia are being parked in the Fort Valley and Marshallville yards. This road has requisitioned 1,200 cars from the Fruit Growers' Express.

Mr. Marks expects the first carload of Greensboro peaches, the earliest variety, between June 3 and 5. Carmen peaches will begin to move between June 15 and 18; Hihley Bills June 23; Georgia Bills, June 30, and Elberta crops will be exceedingly short. Only the Hihley Bills and Georgia Bills will be gathered in great amounts.

Heavy rains, preventing pollenization, caused the crop shortage, according to Mr. Marks. Central of Georgia officials attribute the falling off to early frosts.

Says New York Is Tending to Paganism

NEW YORK, May 23.—"The idea of liberty in this country is a farce," says Sir Robert Perks, Bart., who has been visiting America.

"New York is leaning, and leaning hard, towards paganism. Unless your people return to the elementary forms of Christianity there will be an age of decadence in your country followed by a revolt which will overthrow the whole social system.

But Polly Needn't Worry Any More

CHICAGO, May 23.—Polly, the $300 parrot, for ten years a lively inmate of the home of the Rev. J. W. Libbertson, pastor of the Sacramento Boulevard church, flew out of a window and with a shriek, "I should worry!" entered the home of Mrs. C. F. Hall, some distance off.

A large brindle cat was in the room when Polly landed. The parrot's yells could be heard above the yowls of the cat. Mrs. Hall ran for the police and met Mrs. Libbertson.

"There's a ghost in my house," she said. "It cries like a child, but it flies around like a spirit and hollers, 'I should worry!'"

Mrs. Libbertson burst in the door. The large brindle cat occupied the immediate foreground. There was an expression of deep satisfaction on the cat's countenance and a few feathers and a beak on the carpet.

If you have anything to sell advertise in The Sunday American. Largest circulation of any Sunday newspaper in the South.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting

If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless, you only lose money. When you use a questionable depilatory, however, it is a very serious matter because you not only lose money, but you take the grave risk of permanent disfigurement.

If You Value Your Face

use De Miracle, the one safe, perfected hair remover of proven merit. Remember, the injury caused by the use of doubtful hair removers will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars because it will take months or possibly years to gain control of hair growths which have been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

De Miracle

Only Real Hair Remover on Earth

De Miracle contains certain ingredients which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. Therefore, you must eventually use it to retard and gain control of growths which have been caused by the unwise use of questionable depilatories. Is it not safer and wiser to begin using De Miracle now, before the growth gets beyond control?

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours. If your dealer will not supply you with De Miracle, send $1.00 direct.

New truths in next advt.

De Miracle Chemical Co., New York

Sold and Recommended by
Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

85c to $1 Foulards at 55c in the May Silk Sale

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

More Fruits of the Buyer's New York Trip
A Most Remarkable Sale of Summer Dresses

$5.95 to $8.50 Summer Dresses $3.85

We buy a great many dresses from certain makers at regular prices. Then at the end of their season they favor us with their surplus stocks greatly under price. That is how these dresses—though worth $5.95 to $8.50—come to us to sell at a profit at $3.85.

New as the morning—shown to-morrow for the first time. Made of soft white voiles and lingeries, prettily developed in embroideries and laces. Cool, inviting styles for summer wear. One hundred and eighty-seven (187) in the lot, and choice is only $3.85.

$10 & $12.50 Linen & Lingerie Dresses

The linen dresses are in the "Composed" models; one-piece dresses with white linen skirts and colored linene semi-coats. Variously white skirts with blue, rose, brown, lavender and tan coats. $5.85

The other dresses are of voile or lingerie, some comparatively simple; others made of elaborate embroidery flouncings or trimmed with laces, crushed silk girdles, crystal buttons, etc. Worth $10 and $12.50, for $5.85.

$2.50 to $3.50 Silk Shirts $1.95

All white shirts of Jap silk with turn-over collar and French attached cuffs. Also in habutai wash silks with black or colored stripes. All coat styles.

$2.50 to $3 White Nurse Waists $1.95

White lingerie waists, nursing styles. High or low neck; long or short sleeves.

$2.50 Lingerie Waists at $1.25

Also $2.50 white voile waists, low neck, lay-down flat collar of embroidered Bulgarian work. Bulgarian embroidered side pocket.

Beautiful New Waists at $1 to $2.50

Buyer just back from New York with the late styles. Lingerie waists at $1. Variously in voiles, marquisettes and lingeries. High or low necks, Gaby and flat collars, long or short sleeves.

White Outing Skirts at $1 to $2.49

The skirt at $2.49 is a particularly good value. Made of white striped Bedford cord, smartly tailored; buttons on side. Small tucks in back and strapped to simulate a belt. Other white skirts variously tailored.

Pique $1 to $1.50. Linen $2. Ratine $2.98.

Outclearing in the Center Aisle
Sale Continues Saturday

Great Wash Goods Sale

25c zephyr Ginghams,
25c colored Dimities,
19c Flaxons, Batistes, etc.
25c to 50c Wash Remnants, 10c

Shirtings at Half Price

50c David & John Anderson's Zephyr and Shirting Madras, 25c.
50c to 65c Tootal's Madras, 25c.
65c Austrian Shirtings, 25c.

(Main Floor, Left)

Clearaway of Neckwear

Usually 75c to $1.25 at

In selling this neckwear at 69c we are not unfair to those who have paid 75c to $1.25 for it. For they had first pick of all the lines, and got full value in every instance. Now that lines are broken we must be good storekeepers and hurry them out even at the little price of 69c. 69c

Every bit of neckwear is as clean and fresh as the day it first arrived.

Main Floor.

This $7 Corset $3.50

Fashion is a matter of taste. Some women like a corset just this bust height—some women don't. The factory sides with the women who don't; they intend to discontinue the model. And that alone accounts for the halved price.

Corset is just as pictured. Made of fine imported broche in pink and blue. All sizes to 30 in the lot, but not in each color. Up to recently this corset has been one of our most popular models at $7; the price to-morrow is just half—$3.50.

New Corsets at $1 to $5

Complete lines of these popular makes—Thompson's, Warner's, C. B. a la Spirite, Iris and American Beauty.

(Corsets—2nd Floor)

A Sale of New Ribbons

The sale is as rare as it is timely. For pretty ribbons like these are scarce in the market at full price—and some of these are at less than half.

All new and crisp in delightful color combinations that rival the hues of the rainbow. Warp prints, Roman and Persian stripes, self colored satin stripes, Bulgarian and Dresden patterns, Pico edges—the list is almost endless. Variously in taffetas, moires and grosgrains. Divided into two lots.

50c Ribbons 4 to 6 inch at 33c

6 to 10 in., 75c to $1.25 Ribbons 43c

(Ribbons—Main Floor, Right)

35c Gauze Lisle Stockings 25c

We had to go abroad to get them—and there's been a fair shaving of our own profit to bring them down to 25c. But we think it pays to have the best 25c stocking in town—especially when so many women will want a light weight gauze lisle for summer.

The stocking is full fashioned; the finish is finer than the domestic grades. Reinforced where needed at heels, sole and toes; and garter top. Black, white, tan and a wonderfully big 25c worth.

$1 and $1.25 Silk Stockings 73c

These are called "run of the mill grade," which means they have not been examined for defects. We've searched them over—some show a dropped thread or other slight hurt which will never affect their wear—others appear to be perfect. All silk or with lisle feet and top. Black only.

(Hosiery—Main Floor, Right)

20c to 35c Veiling 10c

Just about enough for a busy day's selling—hence the "close out" price. In fancy mesh, solid color, brown, navy, taupe, black and black-and-white combinations.

(Veiling—Mail Floor, Right)

Don't Miss the Outclearing In Famous Center Aisle

White Canvas Pumps

$1.49 150 pairs white canvas pumps, with flat ribbon bow and light sole. Regular $2.50 values on special sale Saturday for $1.49. All sizes.

Also 150 pairs patent and tan, kid strap and lace oxfords. Broken sizes. All $3.50 values.

In the Basement Only

WHAT MY CREDIT MEANS TO YOU!

A simple, systematic, sensible way to buy clothes. Nothing cheap, nothing shoddy---no makeshift, but a clean, up-to-date, easy way to purchase---a plan that's all in your favor. Pay a small amount down and the balance in payments of "A Dollar a Week."

THE 1st CUT IN MEN'S SUITS

I am going to cut the price of my entire $25.00 Men's suit stock Saturday. This collection consists of Fancy Mixtures and Worsteds---Basket Weaves---Serges---Clays and Norfolks. You can buy them for . . . . . . $20.00

LADIES'

35c black, medium Heatherbloom Petticoats. These garments are really of exceptional value and are preferred by many to silk. They originally sold for $1.00 to $1.25. Saturday they go for 35c.

Ladies' wash white Shirtwaists, beautifully trimmed with handsome lace and embroidery, Saturday for 35c.

LADIES'

Wash dresses, exquisite little gowns, made up in muslin and linen, in all the late fancy colors and stripes. The dainty kind of dresses you need for the hot days. $1.35

Saturday I am reducing their original price of $2.00 and $3.00 to $1.35.

This space doesn't allow me to tell you of a dozen other bargains for Saturday. Come in and see!

DOLLAR A WEEK DAY
14 W. MITCHELL ST.

The W. A. Day store helps you. The same price for cash or credit. Ask any of my customers. They're satisfied.

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

PLAN EXHIBIT OF ATLANTA-MADE PRODUCTS

Chamber of Commerce Directors to Install Permanent Display to Boost Local Factories.

With "Boost Atlanta Made Goods" as the slogan, the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has decided to install in this city a permanent exhibit of Atlanta made goods.

A special train is to be chartered by the Chamber of Commerce to take Atlanta manufacturers and merchants to Chattanooga, Tenn., to inspect the exhibit of Chattanooga manufacturers, which has been operated for more than a year and has proved of great advantage in advertising goods manufactured in that city.

Plan to Lease Building.

It is proposed to lease a large building near the center of the city, fill it with goods made here, keep it open the year round and make it one of the show places of the town so visitors can see what Atlanta is doing. Business men will thereby be interested in the products of Atlanta factories and a great increase in trade is expected.

Atlanta has 548 factories, which produce over 1,000 different products, and it is doubtful if any city in the United States of its size could assemble such a comprehensive display of this nature.

The industries of Atlanta are yet in their infancy, but every article made here is finding a ready market throughout the country. This speaks well for the manufacturers with present-day competition so keen.

Success Almost Certain.

The success of exhibits in Chattanooga and other cities much smaller than Atlanta make it almost a certainty that the undertaking will prove not only a "four-time winner" here, but an everlasting asset.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting the participation of that body in the coming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Georgia Tech was considered and the matter referred to a special committee, of which M. R. Wilkinson was appointed chairman. A special committee was also appointed to take up the matter of organizing a junior order of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith Makes Hit Appears in Play for Suffrage 'Woman' Converts Many to Cause

Miss Mildred Bacon

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith

Daughter of Senator Smith One of the Charming Figures in Mrs. Hemmick's Drama.

Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith, is receiving many congratulations from her Washington friends for her ability as an actress. Miss Smith took a prominent part in the initial production of "Woman," a morality play written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, millionairess and a recent suffrage convert at the New National theater in the capital Wednesday night.

A number of other prominent society girls took part in the play, and it is claimed that many converts to the cause have been made among the young women by the production. Others who had parts were Misses Mildred Bacon, Mabel Talliaferro, Nellie Bly, Helen Buchanan, Desha Allen, Roberta Aimes, Jeanette Allen, Esther Denny and Mrs. David Fairfield.

The new play is an allegory, designed to depict the troubles and trials of the woman of to-day.

Needle Swallowed 30 Years Ago Found

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—A steel needle, swallowed by him more than 30 years ago, has just been removed from the body of J. E. Wood, a Central of Georgia Railroad engineer residing here.

Wood had almost forgotten about the needle, when this week he felt a stinging sensation in his left side, that led him to believe something was wrong. He had a physician make an examination and it was found that the needle had worked to the surface in his side. It was removed. Wood is 45 years of age.

French Soldiers Riot Against Military Act

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PARIS, May 23.—Hundreds of French soldiers engaged in rioting to-day at various points in protest against the new military law, which extends the term of enlistment to three years.

The ringleaders will be courtmartialed. A great many arrests have been made.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

UNVEIL CANDLER SHAFT ON JUNE 3

Governor Brown and Governor-Elect Slaton Will Attend Ceremonies at Macon.

The unveiling of the monument to Allen D. Candler, Governor of Georgia from 1898 to 1904, purchased by the members of his official household, will take place at Gainesville June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. J. W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

A large party, including Governor Joseph M. Brown and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, will go from Atlanta to attend the event. The City Council of Gainesville and the local camp of Confederate Veterans and other organizations will take prominent parts.

The monument selected is a tall marble shaft. Only the State officials who served during Governor Candler's two terms contributed to the memorial. They are:

Adams, Samuel B.	Land, Max E.
Altmayer, Samuel	Larsen, W. W.
Black, E. R.	Lindsey, J. W.
Bailey, Mrs. J. W.	Longley, Frank P
Baldwin, H. W., Sr.	Lowry, Robert J.
Bacon, A. O.	Mitchell, M. G.
Burger, R. R.	Mitchell, R. G., Jr.
Bush, Isaac A.	McWhorter, Hamilton
Brown, J. Pope	Nottingham, W. D.
Bower, B. B., Jr.	Nicholson, D. B.
Brannen, J. F.	Odom, Benton.
Brown, George T	Obear, W. G.
Crisp, C. F.	Quincey, J. W.
Covington, W. A.	Post, W. G.
Corker, F. G.	Power, W. R.
Castellow, B. T.	Reid, H. M.
Callaway, E. H.	Reece, J. H.
Carswell, G. H.	Russell, A. H.
Dupree, E. F.	Shepherd, W. S.
Deal, A. M.	Smith, R. L. J.
Dyer, D. B.	Sheddon, R. F.
Dickson, Capers	Sheffield, R. H.
Dickerson, R. G.	Tallaferro, P. R.
DuPont, Augustus	Tipton, J. H.
Dillon, J. A.	Toombs, W. H.
Edwards, B. J.	Tribble, S. J.
Eve, William F.	Vanburen, J. R.
Foute, A. M.	Varnedoe, S. M.
Freeman, A. D.	Watkins, E. W.
Foster, F. C.	Webb, C. S.
Fogarty, D. G.	West, A. J.
Griffin, W. H.	West, H. F.
Green, R. E.	Willingham, Wright
Grantland, S.	Wright, Boykin,
Howell, Clark.	Williams, John T.
Hughes, D. M.	Wilkes, Samuel W.
Holizclaw, R. N.	Woodward, John C.
Hitch, C. M.	Yeomans, M. J.
Hill, J. T.	Nagle, Mary M.
Hansell, C. P.	Henderson, Lillian T.
Inman, F. M.	Lindsey, Annie F.
Johnson, F. Holmes
King, A. N.
Kent, W. B.

Bear Kills Girl, 18, Who Fled Her Home

TRUCKEE, CAL., May 23.—A bear killed and partly devoured Miss Vinnie Colt, aged 18, who recently ran away from her home here.

Searchers found the body in the Sierra Mountains, 20 miles from here, to-day.

Here's the Prize List in Great Story Contest

Prizes aggregating $250 are offered by The Atlanta Georgian for the best solution of the great serial novel, "The Triple Tie," now running in The Georgian, as follows:

First Prize - - -	$100
Second Prize -	50
Third Prize - -	25
Fourth Prize - -	15
12 other prizes, each,	5

"The Triple Tie" will be run in generous daily installments until June 29, when the final chapter will be published. Synopsis of the last installment is now in the hands of Mr. T. J. Peeples, cashier of the American National Bank.

It will be held by him in a sealed envelope until a committee of three Atlanta citizens not connected in any way with The Georgian may select the winners of the prizes.

$30,000 Paid for Old English Silver Plate

LONDON, May 23.—The sale of the collection of old English silver plate belonging to the late E. H. Baldon realized more than $30,000.

Crichton purchased a silver-gilt cream boat, made by Paul Lamerie, in 1744, for $682; a top of a George I'tazza, dated 1714, for $141; a plain bowl, dated 1715, for $175; a circular bowl dated 1663, for $287; and an Elizabethan tiger ware jug, dated 1575, for $1,000.

New Society Order: Get a "Dogstick!"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The latest thing in Washington is the dogstick. It is carried as a walking stick by society women. It is topped by a replica of their favorite dog or horse, done in ivory or silver.

The Misses Allen, daughters of General Allen, U. S. A., known as the best horsewomen among the society girls of the capital, are responsible for this fad.

What Ails You?

An invitation is extended by Doctor Pierce to every sick and ailing man or woman to consult the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., by letter. Write your symptoms fully and frankly, and every letter will be carefully considered, fully answered and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

makes for rich, pure blood and thus invigorates the system. For a torpid liver and its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue with bitter taste, loss of appetite with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good.

ALDERMAN'S WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY

Mrs. James B. Everett, Asking $5,000 Alimony, Declares Husband's Office Pays Him Well.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Mrs. Clara E. Everett has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alderman James B. Everett, and for $5,000 temporary alimony. The petitioner states that she was forced to leave her husband July 1, 1912, because of his attitude toward her. She charges she is without means of support and has been compelled to depend on relatives for a livelihood since the separation.

Mrs. Everett declares her husband persuaded her to mortgage her home at 659 North Boulevard, which had been given to her by her mother, and that her husband appropriated this money to his own use. The petition states that Everett holds a position as Alderman, "from which he derives a large sum each year." In addition, he is connected with the Theatrical Club at a salary of $150 a month, while he also owns a large amount of stock in the club, which pays him good dividends, the wife states.

Judge John T. Pendleton has set May 31 for the hearing of the suit for temporary alimony. Attorneys Maddox & Sims represent Mrs. Everett.

Robert Edeson Hurt In Fall on Stage

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—Robert Edeson, the actor, is under treatment at a local hospital as the result of a fall upon the stage during a performance of "Fine Feathers."

The nature of his accident and its seriousness is being kept from his wife, who is seriously ill in a hospital at Southampton, N. Y.

POOR BEWHISKERED GOTHAM.

New York, May 23.—No more shaves on Sunday in New York. The boss barbers to-day agreed with the striking barbers to close the shops all day on Sundays.

MELONS HANG HIGH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 23.—Twenty-five dollars for fifty-four cantaloupes. That's the rate Chicago paid to-day for the first of the season.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Ask me for

"California Summer Outings"

A map-folder that tells about the outing joys of the California coast—deep-sea fishing, surf-bathing where the tent cities are, and yachting.

Lovely Yosemite typifies the High Sierras—a land of snowy peaks, giant sequoias and waterfalls.

Many consider the California summer a more enjoyable season than winter.

Low Fare Excursions

every day all summer will enable you to travel economically. On the way stop off and see the Colorado Rockies and the old city of Santa Fé. Visit, too, that world-wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Whether you take the California Limited, the Colorado Flyer or "go tourist," you have Fred Harvey meal service.

Jno. D. Carter, Sou. Pass. Agt.,
14 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.
Phone, Main 342.

Specials Saturday and Monday

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

ONLY ONE TO A CUSTOMER 75c

We will offer special for Saturday and Monday white pique skirts at 75 cents. They are the same you pay $1.98 for elsewhere.

MEN'S SUITS

In all colors and fancy mixtures, all up-to-date and the latest styles in summer wear. Just the thing in blue serges. Saturday for $17.50

VOILE AND RATINE DRESSES

$7.95

$1.00 A WEEK

ONLY $2.00 DOWN ONE TO A CUSTOMER

Here is the opportunity of the season. These dresses at $7.95 are positively the greatest values we have ever offered. Think of it! Beautiful Voile dresses embroidered in pure silk (Persian design), at so low a price. Think of it! You can take your choice of more than 100 dresses at this price, and pay only $2 down, then $1 a week. Have you ever heard of such an offer before?

UNITED CREDIT CLOTHING COMPANY

28 WEST MITCHELL ST.

MERGER CERTAIN TO COME NEXT YEAR, SAYS STELZLE

Harder to Unite Presbyterian Churches Than to Bring Together North and South After War, He Declares.

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

"When I came here forty-nine years ago, it was in the spirit of war. When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," was the way General Robert N. Adams, of Minneapolis put it when addressing the Northern Presbyterian Assembly yesterday. General Adams has been preaching the message of the Prince of Peace for a good many years.

After the war he became a preacher, going to the rough regions of the Northwest country. For a long time he has been superintendent of home missions in the State of Minnesota, retiring a short time ago on account of impaired health. He marched into Atlanta with General Sherman and is the only surviving general of the famous group that followed Sherman "from Atlanta to the sea."

"Not only a united republic, but a united church," is the message that General Adams is now preaching. But it seems to be more difficult to unite the church than it does to get together the citizens of the Republic. Religious prejudice dies hard. This has been made apparent in some of the meetings of the assemblies. But it isn't altogether prejudice, either, that keeps men apart. It is often sincere devotion to truth, and it often happens that both opponents have right on their side. Men change their political faiths far more readily than they do their religious convictions.

Churches Working Together.

But it is still true that men with different religious beliefs are working together far more generally than do men with different political beliefs. It isn't often that the Democrats and the Republicans sit down to map out a campaign which is to bring neither of them profit nor glory. So you Atlantans who have been smiling at what sometimes seemed like a religious row don't forget that the politicians haven't come anywhere near the church in unity and co-operation.

The Southern Assembly yesterday demonstrated that fact just stated by deciding to remain within the Federal Council of Churches. And it wasn't a very easy thing to do, either, for there were many things that hurt when they voted favorably upon the resolution. So strongly did it affect one veteran who has been fighting "the battles of the Lord" that he impulsively surrendered his seat as a commissioner, but he showed his real greatness by coming back in the afternoon, repentant. This commissioner has real convictions. He's been suffering on account of them.

Prejudice Giving Way.

But it has been revealed in the meetings of these Assemblies that every denominational prejudice and all sectarian passion must give way before the spirit of which General Adams spoke—the spirit of the Prince of Peace. There's no other way.

Next year will undoubtedly see the bringing together into one denomination of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Assemblies. Then the Northern Assembly will unite with the Reformed Church of the United States. The plan is already set up. It simply requires a little more time, for such matters can not be rushed. Then, perhaps, some time in the near future all these bodies will get together.

In many respects the Protestant Churches of the United States are already in one group, working out some great problems. Yesterday the Northern Assembly listened to Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, Secretary of the Federal Council. He brought greetings from thirty denominations and 20,000,000 Protestants in this country. These groups are working harmoniously for the building up of a great Kingdom of God in America, and they're building fast. Then the Assembly listened to Dr. David G. Wylie, who represented the "Alliance of Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian System of Belief." In this long-named society there are 30,000,000 Protestants, in every part of the world, who believe in the Presbyterian doctrine. And 30,000,000 Presbyterians can wield some influence in the world. They're doing it, too, but this isn't a subject that one of them can freely talk about.

Sees Church Unity.

Other fraternal delegates spoke to the Assembly, each of them representing a very considerable group of Christian men and women working in some part of the globe in the spirit of the "Prince of Peace," and most of them expressed a longing for the time when "all should be one."

"When I returned the other day, it was in the spirit of the Prince of Peace," said General Adams. Without fear of serious contradiction, the commissioners who to-day close their sessions in Atlanta may say that when another General Assembly—of any of the three branches that have been here for ten days—meets in this city, it will represent not merely one of the three, but all of them.

List to the Noises That Annoy Chicago!

CHICAGO, May 23.—When a City Council committee began its investigation of unnecessary noise in Chicago, protests were entered against roosters, pet dogs, a cow, motorcycles, electric pianos and practicing voice lessons.

Alderman Nance, chairman of the committee, read to the committeemen a list of noises against which he had received complaints, which included chiming church bells at 6 a. m., shouting of peddlers, policemen's whistles, rumbling of elevated trains, and one man wrote that a cabaret performance near his home kept his family from sleeping.

Seats on Sale for Players' Club Show

Seat sale of "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be presented by the Atlanta Players' Club May 30, begins to-day.

This year's performance is expected to prove the most brilliant of any given by the club, which comprises talented amateurs from the ranks of Atlanta society. Leading roles will be taken by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Lamar Hill and Marsh Adair.

After the performance the annual dinner of the Atlanta Players' Club will be given on the lawn of the Piedmont Driving Club, followed by a dance.

Philanthropic Club Docks Girl Workers

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The Missouri Senate wage investigating committee to-day was surprised to learn from the testimony of Frank J. Sloan, manager of the City Club, a philanthropic organization of prominent St. Louisans, that the club took no interest in the welfare of its women employees.

Sloan also said that the women were paid $5 a week and two meals a day, and that when they were away from work on account of sickness they were docked.

Women Kidnaped by Moorish Outlaws

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ORAN, ALGERIA, May 23.—Word was received here to-day from the interior that Moorish bandits attacked a mail van enroute to Taourirt, abducting two European women passengers.

The driver of the van was killed and a passenger was seriously wounded. The bandits escaped into the mountains.

PRISON CRUELTIES SHARPLY DENIED

Shelby Smith Says Convicts Are Too Tired to Hear Preaching at Night Through Week.

Charges by George W. Crabtree, a Presbyterian prison evangelist, that Fulton County convicts are cruelly treated by guards under Captain Tom Donaldson, have brought a denial from Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton County Prison Commission.

The evangelist said he was prohibited from holding evangelistic services in the camp save on Sunday. Chairman Smith denies the cruelty charges, but admits the other, saying the welfare of the prisoners demands that no services be held on working days.

Further than to deny cruel treatment, Captain Donaldson declined to answer the charges made against him. Chairman Smith himself had little to say except about the evangelistic services.

"Among the 700 prisoners in this county are ten murderers and many other desperate characters, who obviously make many restrictions necessary," he said. "They work hard every day, and when they get through they need a bath and a good night's rest. To hold religious services at night, after a hard day's work, would be impractical for the prisoners, impractical for the guards and impractical for the other attendants. I favor holding religious services only on Sunday."

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Rain Spoils Jobbers' Day at Ball Park

Friday has been billed as Jobbers and Ladies' Day at Ponce DeLeon Park, but with the rain falling steadily, prospects are that the game will have to be postponed.

"Jobbers' Day" was arranged by Vice President Charles Nunnally of the Atlanta Baseball Association in honor of the jobbers of Georgia and Alabama, who are in session at the Piedmont Hotel.

The plan was to give the visitors an automobile trip around the city, winding up at the ball park. The rain god is holding sway, though, and the jobbers are planning to sit quietly about the hotel and rejoice with the farmers over the saving of the crop.

Court Is Baffled by Trust Co. Statistics

Judge Pendleton, lost in the wilderness of figures in the Guarantee Trust and Banking Company case, wants a Moses to lead him out, and Friday morning named C. J. Metz for the task.

Even a blackboard failed to make the figures submitted by auditors and the two sets of attorneys "gee," and Judge Pendleton named Mr. Metz to secure the information essential in deciding whether or not a receivership is necessary.

The task is expected to take two weeks, and the case has been adjourned for that length of time.

Negro Saved From Mob in Nebraska

LINCOLN, NEBR., May 23.—Walter Balew, negro, charged with attacking a white woman of Falls City, is in the State Penitentiary here for safekeeping.

Sheriff Aldrich said he purposed to keep Balew in the penitentiary because of the intense feeling against him at Falls City. Yesterday a mob tried to storm the jail at Hiawatha, Kans., to get Balew.

OCTOBER WEDDING MOVED UP TO MAY

Manager of Elite Theater and Fiancee "Couldn't Wait" for Day Set 4 Months Hence.

"We just couldn't wait, so we got married."

Pretty Madeline Arnold, that was, in her dove-cote apartment at 25 East Third Street, thus explained the whys and wherefores of her unexpected marriage Thursday afternoon to H. S. Hossbein, manager of the Elite Theater.

"I'm going to the show this afternoon," Miss Arnold informed her mother, Mrs. H. E. Arnold, Thursday as she left her home, 780 East North Avenue.

On the corner she met Mr. Hossbein, who had a marriage license tucked away in his inside pocket. They walked to the residence of the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. En route they were joined by two friends of the bridegroom.

No sign of storm appeared on the horizon of their new life until the bride and bridegroom entered the home of the former's parents.

Arm in arm, they stood before the former Miss Arnold's mother and chorused:

"We're married."

Silence reigned for two minutes while Mrs. Arnold was recovering from the shock. Then she kissed her daughter and welcomed the new acquisition to the family.

Mrs. Hossbein's father is connected with the Woodward Lumber Company.

CATTLE MALADY KILLS MAN.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—T. Dudley Riggs, well-known society man, died here after a long illness from pemphigus, a disease generally confined to cattle. It is thought he contracted

Harvard Grads at Reunion Stage Play

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Starting with a luncheon at the Hotel Jefferson at noon to-day, followed by a business meeting, the Seventeenth Annual Convention and Reunion of the Associated Harvard Clubs, composed of Harvard graduates from all over the United States, began its two days' session.

At 4 p. m. following the business session the delegates to the convention will be taken in autos to Sunset Inn, where a luncheon will be served on the veranda of the inn. To-night "The Perpetual Student," a musical play, will be staged by the members of the St. Louis Harvard Club.

The Sunday American goes everywhere all over the South. If you have anything to sell The Sunday American is "The Market Place of the South." The Sunday American is the best advertising medium.

Ladies' Maids Rebel; 'Hookists' Plan Union

CHICAGO, May 23.—Ladies' maids in Chicago are in open revolt, and efforts were being made to get enough of them in rebellion to form a union, affiliated with the new Household Workers Union. Those who want to organize are "hookists," private hairdressers and private manicures.

The "hookists" declare that present styles, which compel them to hook a 250-pound woman into a tube gown designed for the lines of a 120-pound figure, are giving them the "lacers' arm," akin to the "housemaids' knee."

Symptoms are a swelling of the arm muscles near the shoulder, followed by permanent lameness.

ATLANTA HORSE WINNER.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—Among the winners of the blue ribbons and cups in Thursday's events at the seventh annual exhibition of the Greenville Horse Show Association was Helmadot, owned by D. N. McCullough, Atlanta, Ga.

CROXONE SOON RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

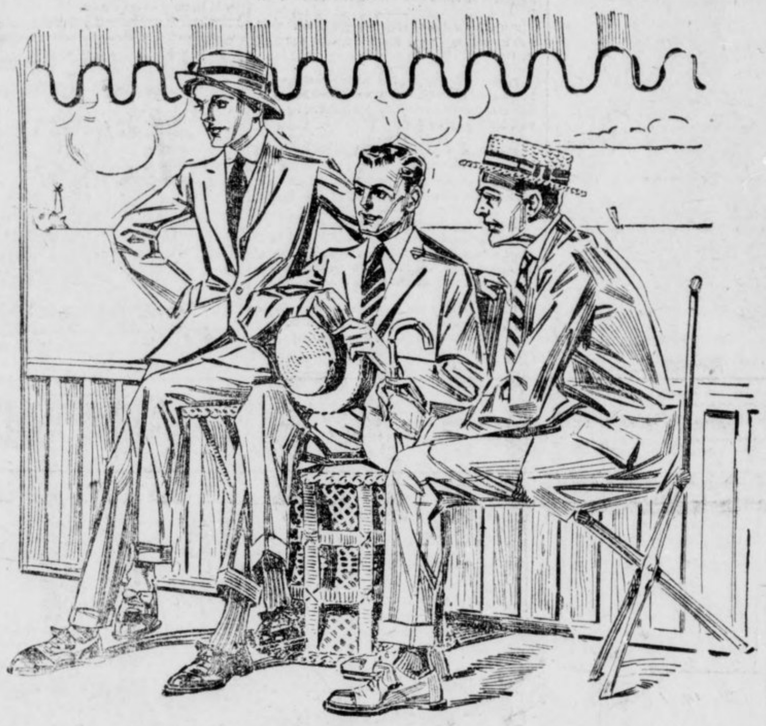
It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long-standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle. All druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

ASKIN & MARINE COMPANY



$15 $18 $20

Three Big Values In Men's Suits

—Attention, men! Here are three BIG suit values! An eastern manufacturer offered us these summer suits at a very low price, rather than run the risk of having them left on his hands. We took the entire lot, divided them among our stores, and NOW they are offered to you in three special lots—$15, $18 and $20.

—There are Norfolks, two-button styles and three-button styles. There are plain serges, fancy serges, and up-to-date weaves and patterns of all kinds. Every suit is fully guaranteed. We'll be glad to have you open a charge account.

Summer Styles For Women

—First, there are dainty ready-to-wear dresses in all of the new styles, at prices from $2.50 upward.

—Secondly, there is a splendid variety of lingerie and tailored waists in both high and low neck styles, at prices from $1 upward.

—Thirdly, there are many attractive hats in various styles, specially priced for this week.

—You can find everything you want, and our charge account plan will make the paying part easy.

Askin & Marine Co.

78 Whitehall Street

White City Park Now Open

Have You Sore Gums or Loose Teeth?

A prominent dentist, after years of experience, has found a home remedy that will cure Riggs' disease, bleeding, inflamed and spongy gums, and tighten loose teeth by rinsing the mouth.

Probably you have not enjoyed eating for some time. Get a bottle of STYP-STRING-ANT and that disease of the gums and teeth will be cured; therefore, aiding digestion. 50c bottle at all druggists, or parcel post, 55c in stamps. DeLamater-Lawrence Drug Company, wholesale distributors.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOSE CO.

Atlanta New York Paris

TO-MORROW

The Clearaway of Junior Suits

Junior Department---Third Floor

In making these new prices no thought has been taken of the excellent style points, of the real worth of the suits or of the fact that those who need suits and who see these would gladly pay many dollars more than they are now marked. But this is a Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company clearaway, and prices have been made accordingly. She who will travel this summer, she who will stay at home—both will want just such suits and now is the opportunity for both to own them and to save.

$30.00, $35.00 & $37.50 Junior Suits..... $18.50

This includes all Junior Suits that were formerly priced between $30.00 and $37.50. A fine variety! Silk poplins, Bedford cords, serges, shepherd checks—plain tailored suits, charming Balkan suits with elegant touches of trimmings.

All $25.00 & $27.50 Junior Suits.... $12.50

Which means not one but that is at least half-price! There are shepherd checks, navy serges, striped weaves in black and white, and brown and white, just as chic and smart as ever $25.00 and $27.50 suits have been this spring. Bulgarian blouses and tailored suits.

Here Is the Way Children's and Misses' Millinery Is Priced

Girls' Hats that were $1.50 and $2.00 are 59c.

These are colored straws—in many shapes—trimmed with ribbons—bands and bows.

Girls' Hats that were $2.50 are 95c.

Rough and fancy straws in a happy variety of shapes and trimmings—ribbons and flowers.

$5.00, $6.00 and $7.50 Hats are $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

Fine choice here! Chip and milan and rough straws, charmingly bedecked with flowers and ribbons, with a scattering few of tailored hats.

The finer $10.00 and $12.50 Hats are all $5.00.

All the better hats—the fanciful affairs that are trimmed by milliners who specialize in girls' hats—now $5.00. Choosing will be a delight—the shapes, the colors, the trimmings are so varied.

The New "Swim Easy" Bathing Suit Is Best for the Junior Miss

Because it is so very practical.

It is all a one-piece suit. The knickerbockers are attached to the skirt. It slips on over the head. There are but four buttons to the whole suit. Two at the waist—which is adjustable, may be made large or small, the fullness is taken up in a box plait down the front—two at the yoke.

And the "Swim Easy" is just as attractive as smart tailoring can make it. In black, red and navy, light weight mohair trimmed with braids and folds. Priced at $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, $3.00 to $4.50.

Sizes ten to eighteen years.

Girls' Bathing Suits at $1.00 and $1.50—these are the little bloomer suits without the skirts in navy mohair—prettily trimmed around the collar and sleeves.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

The Dingbat Family

The Old Man Got Off Light

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Herriman

Dauntless Durham

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

Best Sporting Page In Oklabraska

Three Corners Palladium

Score and Gossip of the Big Game

My Impressions

By Katrina.

It was just too lovely.

I wore my natty Waitress suit.

The enthusiasm was great. Several Three Corners girls were at the game, but the Bulgarian belt hasn't reached Three Corners yet. They were quite out of fashion.

My hero, Durham, defeated the chr Desmond.

I know he would. I don't know what the

...s was, but oh, I'm so happy! ...ve only Durham. He is so hang-

Durham Wins Great Game, 18-5.

By Sam Chain.

All the beauty and chivalry of Three Corners graced the ball park yesterday, when the Dauntless Durhams and the Desperate Desmonds clashed in the contest for supremacy.

The ball park was thrilling to all lovers of sport, and, with its customary enterprise the Palladium was represented by its expert.

New York's famous Polo Grounds never saw such an assemblage. Among those present were Mrs. Patsy Parley, daughter of our well-known dough merchant; Hank Hancock, who quit his barber shop for the day; our worthy Sheriff, Julius Hartzfigure; the warden of the jail, who took the prisoner with him, but he might break out while the warden was chasing Durham.

The game was replete with brilliancy. Durham made Hal Chase look clum, while Desmond batted like over the fence.

Long may the national sport flourish, says the Palladium.

Notes of the Big Game

Jake Funky, the livery stable keeper, says he could pitch as good as Durham. Well, why didn't he, say we. Swat Milligan, of the Potato Oaks, batted him out of the box.

Katrina has made a lot of the local girls jealous. Who took her out buggy riding Sunday? Ah, there, Cliff Derrick!

Nothing to the way Dauntless Durham, the college boy hero, has the local boys. The girls won't look at any of them since Durham hit the town. The Pink Front stops to using him to advertise their ties.

Many rumors are afloat that Desperate Desmond is an awful villain, said Three Corners is agog. Jim Thorpe, our brave constable, says he will put Desmond, silk hat or no silk hat, in the calaboose the first break he makes.

But such rumors exist about most every one.

Mr. Desmond came to our office yesterday and paid for 6 years' subscription to the Palladium. "The Palladium is the national paper, and its editorials are the best ever written," said Mr. Desmond. Thanks.

Durham smokes a pipe right out on the street. That ay go in the effete cities, but it's not the class in T-...s. It should be took up by our town council ...and against it.

There will be a tango tea in aid of Days of '76 Hose Company at the firehouse to-night. Admission including lady 25 cents. Come one, come all.

After the Game Dauntless Durham Says:

WE GIVE

Polly and Her Pals

"Get Your Goat" Gets Your Goat

Copyright, 1913, International News Service

By Cliff Sterrett

Us Boys

Skinny's Slip Was Quite Permissible

Registered United States Patent Office.

By Tom McNamara

The Five Frankforters

A Romance of Great Wealth as Played by Money Kings.

By KATHRYN KEY.

Copyright, 1913, by the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"Little Jacob" broke the spell. "May I speak, then? I think that such a marriage would break up our family—would utterly destroy us. We are strong because we stand to gether—one in blood, religion, ambition. What has a stranger to do with us? What does he know of our ways—or we of the ways of a Prince of the Taunus? What does he care for the faith of our fathers? What can he be to us, for all his high rank, but the stranger within our gates? What does he know of us and our deepest feelings—what does he know of our little Charlotte's heart? And I say it is folly—or madness, as my grandfather would have said!"

In implacable anger, but cool and quiet withal, Solomon said: "You are wrong, nephew. You speak as an ignorant boy. But my father had a wider outlook on life—"

Frau Gudula had been watching the faces of her sons as Jacob expressed his earnest feelings. There was a mist of deep sadness drawn over her features as she rose at the sound of Solomon's impassively determined voice: "I am not sure, my sons. Our youngest has spoken for HIM." And, attended by sacred memories, Frau Gudula left the room.

The air was very tense as Jacob spoke to his uncle: "Your father did not deal in daughters as a speculation."

The bankers had, indeed, always stood together, but an onlooker must have questioned whether the animosity that was growing between uncle and nephew in these throbbing moments would not prove a destructive force too great for the oneness of these five men to bear.

Solomon looked sternly at Jacob. "That is in both senses of the word—IM-pertinent."

"Well, I wish I had not spoken," answered Jacob—but his tone was bitter with growing misunderstanding. And later this feeling was to bear strange fruit.

"You have a right to your opinion—and to speak it. That is the rule of our family," said Amschel, the eldest.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl, with Neapolitan airiness. But the possibility of a break was stemmed by the necessity of standing together against a common foe—for just then Rose, in strange old mob-cap and uniform of calico print, came in to announce a guest who had surely never before seen servitor so garbed.

"The Prince of Klausthal"—and attired in snuff-colored, cape-topped greatcoat and high bronze hat of the latest Beau Nash style, His High and Mightiness entered the old fashioned home of Frau Gudula, the Jewess of Frankfort.

The bankers knew they were to be snubbed, yet the courtesy of the home and the claims of business demanded that they put as good a face upon the matter as possible. On Rose's announcement Amschel had exclaimed with naive joy: "The first of our royal relatives to call." But however royal the Prince's air, it was not marked by any sense of kinship!

"Er—how do you like Frankfort?" asked Amschel.

Frankfort indeed! "I am very much interested in this part of the city, which I have not before visited," said the royal relative.

"It is curious, isn't it?" spoke the Neapolitan brother with sympathy.

"Very curious," said the Prince dryly.

"But we are used to it," said Amschel with eager unction. And then a long, awkward silence fell.

Bad Business.

At last, with suave elegance, the Prince broke the spell of silence: "Gentlemen—my cousin, the Duke Gustavus, has informed me that he will call on you to-day—and with what purpose he is coming."

Solomon broke in eagerly: "It will interest me to hear what your Highness said to him—your opinion of this marriage."

"As a matter of business," interposed Amschel.

The Prince answered with every drop of royal blood marshalling indignant forces back of his easy tone: "I confine myself, gentlemen, to such business as is my own—those affairs which you have, till now, so ably conducted for me. I am here to ask you to transfer my money to a banking firm in Paris, with whom in future I propose to deal."

"Is your Highness dissatisfied with our management of your affairs?" asked Amschel, the ubiquitous.

"Oh, no. But as by my cousin's marriage, I shall have the honor of being distantly connected with your family, I consider it inconvenient that you should continue the administration of my finances. I could not so burden my relatives—however distant."

Solomon summoned dignity to his aid. "I entirely agree with his Highness. I should much dislike to benefit—in business—by my connection with your family."

The duel was on. "I am glad we are in accord. Perhaps you will agree with me in this—since your family is now ennobled—that financial obligations are not the worst our aristocracy may incur? May I request you to convey my compliments to the ladies of your family—and permit me to wish you a good day."

But Solomon's lucky day in his father's house had not begun very propitiously. In fact, this day, for all its golden sunshine, did not seem to be a bearer of joy. The old Castle of Neustadt seemed to feel something in the air—and at the state breakfast a hard-faced little Princess Evelyn had presided behind the great gold coffee urn. "Gustavus," she had asked with all her heart in her eyes, "how soon will some one else pour your coffee for you?"

"No fairer face will ever peek rougishly at me from behind the old urn"— began Gustavus in a bantering tone, but suddenly the light that may shine for a man in but one true pair of eyes cast its soft radiance over Gustavus' soul—"Evelyn, Evelyn—little cousin"—he breathed so softly that even the attendant lackeys could not hear—"Evelyn—my God is it true—you could care perhaps?" And the name of his maker had here been uttered so reverently by the lips of Gustavus of Taunus.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Frances Connally entertained at tea at the Driving Club Friday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, a guest of Miss Carolyn King, and Miss Edith Bowron, of Birmingham, who is visiting Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Tea was served in the pink room. The table around which the guests were seated had as a centerpiece a vase of Dorothy Perkins roses. The mints and ices were in pink and silver candle sticks with pink shades added another touch of color.

Miss Connally's guests were Misses Edith Bowron, Elizaoeth Boyd, Carolyn King, Elizabeth Morgan, Lula Dean Jones, Hildreth Burton-Smith, Nancy Prince, Courtenay Harrison, Nancy Hill Hopkins, Eloise Oliver, Harriet Orr, Charles Owens, Mary Robinson and Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Mrs. Selden Hostess at Tea.

Mrs. G. K. Selden gave an informal 5 o'clock tea Thursday afternoon for Miss Anne Selden, her house guest; Miss Isabel Clarke, of Augusta, a guest of Miss Eloise Stewart; Mrs. Mary Cooley, who will be married in June, and Miss Lillian Beattey, of Columbus, Ohio, a guest of Mrs. Henry Troutman. The attractive apartment was decorated in sweetpeas and carnations, sweetpeas being as a centerpiece on the tea table.

Mrs. Seldon received her guests wearing a lingerie gown of white crepe. Twenty guests enjoyed the informality of the afternoon.

Musical Recital.

At the Barill School of Music, Saturday afternoon, a recital will be given by Miss Edith Dunson and Miss Elizabeth Hancock. Following is the program:

Piano Solos, "To Spring," "The Butterfly," "Anitra's Dance," "In the Hall of the Mountain King," Grieg—Miss Hancock.

Aria, "Mignon," Ambroise Thomas—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solos, "The Mill," "Will-o'-the-Wisp," Jensen—Miss Hancock.

Songs, "I Know Now the Great Golden Sun," Ryder; "The Maiden and the Butterfly," D'Albert; "At Dawning," Cadman; "He Loves Me," Chadwick—Miss Dunson.

Piano Solo, "Sonata Pathetique," Beethoven—Miss Hancock.

Song, "The Loreley," Liszt—Miss Dunstn.

Dinner-Dance at Club.

There will be an informal dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday evening, for which several informal parties are being arranged.

Evening Party.

Miss Annie Winship Bates will entertain a number of boys and girls at an evening party Friday, May 30, at her mother's home on West Peachtree Street.

For Miss Hartzog.

Miss Irene Hartzog, a bride-elect, was tendered a bridge party Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Irby Bagwell. Guests were: Mrs. J. O. Watson, Mrs. C. N. Dennis, Mrs. W. M. Lewis, Mrs. John Burdine, Mrs. R. D. Ison, Mrs. Jeff Green, Mrs. A. J. Wilson and the Misses Edith Daniel, Arline Goree, Ruby Lawton and Irene Bearden.

Peanut Hunt at Mrs. Shewmake's.

Circle No. 7 of the First Methodist Church, of which Miss Laura Wyatt is chairman, will give a peanut hunt Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Claude Shewmake's residence. If the weather is inclement the hunt will be postponed.

Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. William A. Wimbish entertained informally at luncheon Thursday for Miss Lula Vergehas, of South Georgia. Guests were a few young people.

Music at Jewish Temple.

Friday evening the entire 8 o'clock service at the Jewish Temple will be devoted to music. The public will be welcome.

PROGRAM.

Organ prelude—Gade.
Service—Dunkley.
Solo, "Unto Thee Will I Sing," Huhn—Mr. John Mullin.
Anthem, "By Babylon's Wave," Gounod.
Organ solo, "At Evening," Buck.
Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., organist and director.

Dance at Segadlo's.

There will be a dance at Segadlo's Friday evening, given by a number of young men.

Bagmen of Bagdad Parade in Columbus

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—The Grand Council of the Georgia-Florida division of the United Commercial Travelers, in annual session here, will conclude its business session late this afternoon, after which the parade of the Bagmen of Bagdad will take place.

To-night at 7:30 o'clock the Bagmen of Bagdad will hold a business session, when they will elect officers for the year. The business session will be followed by a dance at the Racine Hotel.

Rev. B. F. Fraser to Preach to Veterans

"The Soldier's Spirit" will be the subject of a morning sermon by the Rev. B. F. Fraser at the St. Paul's Methodist Church Sunday.

The occasion will be in honor of Confederate veterans of Atlanta. A special musical program has been arranged.

The evening service will be in charge of the children of the church Sunday school. Songs and recitations will be innovations.

RAILWAY TO TRY WIRELESS.

PITTSBURG, May 23.—The Pennsylvania Railroad may soon establish a wireless telegraph station in Pittsburg, to connect this city with Philadelphia and other division points.

PERSONALS

Miss Emily Cassin, who is ill of diphtheria, is being missed frtm the social affairs of the week.

Miss Louise Watts entertained informally at bridge Friday afternoon for a number of visitors.

Miss Irene Nickerson, of Athens, left Friday afternoon after being the guest of Mrs. Hilliard Spalding for a week.

Mrs. A. W. Hill will entertain a few friends at tea at the Driving Club Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Walter Keenan, of Columbia, S. C., a guest of Miss Helen Taylor.

Mrs. D. B. Osborne gave a bridge party Friday afternoon in honor of two brides of the past winter, Mrs. George Varden and Mrs. Edward King.

Mr. and Mrs. George Addy, of Pittsburg, are guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wheeler. They are en route home after spending three months at their winter home at Deland, Fla.

The box party that Miss Ruth Norihen was to have given Saturday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, guest of Miss Carolyn King, has been postponed because of the death of her kinsman, Mr. B. S. Walker, Jr.

Mrs. Fred Lee Bennett, of Rochester, N. Y., who was Miss Mary Elizabeth Holcomb, of Atlanta, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philo Holcomb. Mrs. Bennett will be in the South until after the marriage of her brother, Mr. Alfred Holcomb, to Miss Mary Rosser, June 5.

Mrs. Strachan Barrett, of Henderson, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. Virgil Perryman, and will remain with her through next week. Among the informal affairs tendered her was a bridge party by Mrs. William Rushton, and an informal tea Friday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Mr. R. W. Tidwell, Mr. Frank Tidwell and Miss Lilien Tidwell leave next week for their country home, "Poplar Grove," on Williams Mill Road, where they will spend the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. McCall, Howard McCall, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Obear, Jr., and children will join them and be away from the city until fall. Reuben Bruce Tidwell, of Denver, also will spend the summer with his grandfather, Mr. Tidwell.

Odd Fellows Give Third Degree to 20

A meeting of Odd Fellows will be held Friday evening when Fulton Lodge will confer the third degree on twenty or more candidates for Capital Lodge No. 60.

This will be the degree contested for at the coming session of the Grand Lodge of Georgia in Savannah next week. Fulton Lodge team is to be a contestant for the prize.

Bryan to Proclaim Direct Vote Senators

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Secretary Bryan is preparing to make formal announcement of the ratification of the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of United States Senators.

It will mark the closing chapter of a reform movement which started eighty-seven years ago.

MAYOR ASSERTS SCHOOL MUST COME FIRST

Insists Girls' High Take Precedence Over All Other Matters in June Budget.

Mayor Woodward declared Friday he would urge an appropriation for a new English-Commercial Girls' High School building to take precedence over other matters when the finance committee prepares the June budget. The Mayor said there could be no question that this building was the city's most important need, and he would insist on the money being provided for it if everything else had to be sacrificed.

The Board of Education Thursday adopted a resolution insisting that Council provide $75,000 for this building. Members of the finance committee promised the amount the first of the year.

Girls Now Poorly Housed.

Hundreds of girls seeking a commercial education are being housed in small rented dwelling houses, and members of the Board or Education assert that conditions are intolerable.

The finance committee will meet Friday to begin work on the new budget. With only $120,000 available, Council has recommended an expenditure of $30,000 on the Whitehall Street regrading. The board of trustees of the Grady Hospital wants an additional $25,000 for a nurse's dormitory. All the departments want additional appropriations. If the new high school building is provided for virtually all other special appropriations will have to be sacrificed.

Smith Sees Tax Dodging.

Chairman Charles W. Smith, of the tax committee, declared Thursday he believed there were nearly 1,200 pupils attending the public schools whose parents were not paying any taxes. He said the fact that many were not real estate owners was nothing against them, but that they were dodging their street and sanitary taxes.

A list of the pupils has been secured and is being checked with the tax books. Chairman Smith believes a notification of parents of school children that they were delinquent in their taxes would result in immediate payment.

BRYAN TO SPEAK AT AUBURN.

MOBILE, ALA., May 23.—Definite acceptance from Secretary of State Bryan to an invitation to deliver an address on Tuesday morning, June 3, at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute commencement at Auburn has been received here.

FORT MOULTRIE GUN EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR

Coast Artillery Captain and Three Privates Victims—Four Others Seriously Hurt.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—Captain Guy Hanna, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A., died shortly before 11 o'clock to-day at the Fort Moultrie Hospital, his being the fourth death from the explosion of a 4.7 inch gun at Battery Lord, Fort Moultrie, last night at 9:20 o'clock, when officers and men were at night target practice.

The other dead are Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton, and the seriously hurt are Privates Swaggerty and Steinspringer, Hospital Steward Lamar, and a corporal whose name was not learned. The corporal's right shoulder was torn off. Several others received minor injuries.

Two Killed Outright.

Privates Baxter and Christian were killed outright. Their bodies were cut in two. Private Dalton died three hours later in the post hospital. Captain Hanna was struck by a fragment of the breech lock of the big gun, which tore a hole in his side. Captain Clarke and Lieutenant Perry, between whom he was standing, escaped without injury.

The injured were rushed to the post hospital, nearby, and physicians were called from Charleston to assist the army surgeons in caring for the victims.

Mrs. Radcliff Saved By Insanity Decision

COLUMBUS, GA., May 23.—Dr. L. N. Jones, Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum at Milledgeville, testifying here as an alienist, declared that Mrs. Jennie Mae Radcliff is insane and William Green is in his right mind.

Upon this testimony depended whether or not Mrs. Radcliff, charged with killing her husband, George M. Radcliff, a Columbus merchant, and Green, charged with killing O. D. Kitchens, a young insurance man, would go to trial.

Judge Price Gilbert committed Mrs. Radcliff to the asylum. If she recovers her mental faculties she will stand trial. Green will likely be put on trial Monday.

White City Park Now Open

Girl Faints When Telephone Bill Is $58

BETHLEHEM, PA., May 23.—Mary Smak, a pretty Hungarian domestic, not knowing what the rules or regulations of the telephone company were, decided to call her sweetheart on the telephone at Cleveland. She went into the booth in Gottlieb Huebner's candy store to-day and got connections with Cleveland.

Fifty-eight minutes she remained there. After she was through Huebner was told that the bill was $58. He informed the girl, who fainted. She earns only $2.50 a week.

Clerical Onions Are Barred by Church

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—The Lutheran Ministerium, the supreme body of that sect, decided at the sixty-sixth annual convention, that hereafter ministers of that denomination must not engage in outside work.

One minister has been ordained thirty-seven years and in that time has preached three sermons, but this was not as flagrant as one who raised onions, presumably for market, or another who was an undertaker on the side.

"PROGRESS" REFRIGERATORS

Are built entirely of steel; their construction renders them absolutely sanitary, durable and economical. They are germ proof, non-absorbent and easily cleaned. Every refrigerator essential is combined in the "Progress." Reasonably priced, at

$13.50 to $40

MARTIN & KNOTT FURNITURE CO.

135 Whitehall Street

U. C. V. REUNION
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

Southern Railway

Premier Carrier of the South

$3.00 Round Trip From Atlanta $3.00

Correspondingly low fares from other points.

Tickets on sale May 24-25-26-27-28, and for trains scheduled to arrive at Chattanooga before noon May 29.

Return limit June 5, with privilege of extension.

Stopovers at all Stations.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

May 26—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.	12:15 noon
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
May 27—Lv.	Atlanta	8:30 a. m.
Ar.	Chattanooga	2:05 p. m.

4 Regular Trains Daily 4

CITY TICKET OFFICE, NO. 1 PEACHTREE STREET.
J. L. MEEK, A. G. P. A. R. L. BAYLOR, D. P. A.
ATLANTA, GA.

READ GEORGIAN WANT ADS.

KEELY COMPANY

A Rummage Sale

On Second Floor

Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Waists

At $5 Each

A Special Saturday Sale

This department, preparatory to a fresh inflow of mid-summer merchandise, is clearing its shelves and tables of ONE OF A KIND STYLES--dresses soiled in displays and broken size assortments.

To effect an immediate disposal, they are ridiculously underpriced. They are to be sold for a final clearance, and are not EXCHANGEABLE or RETURNABLE.

In the collection you will find great pickings and unusual bargains.

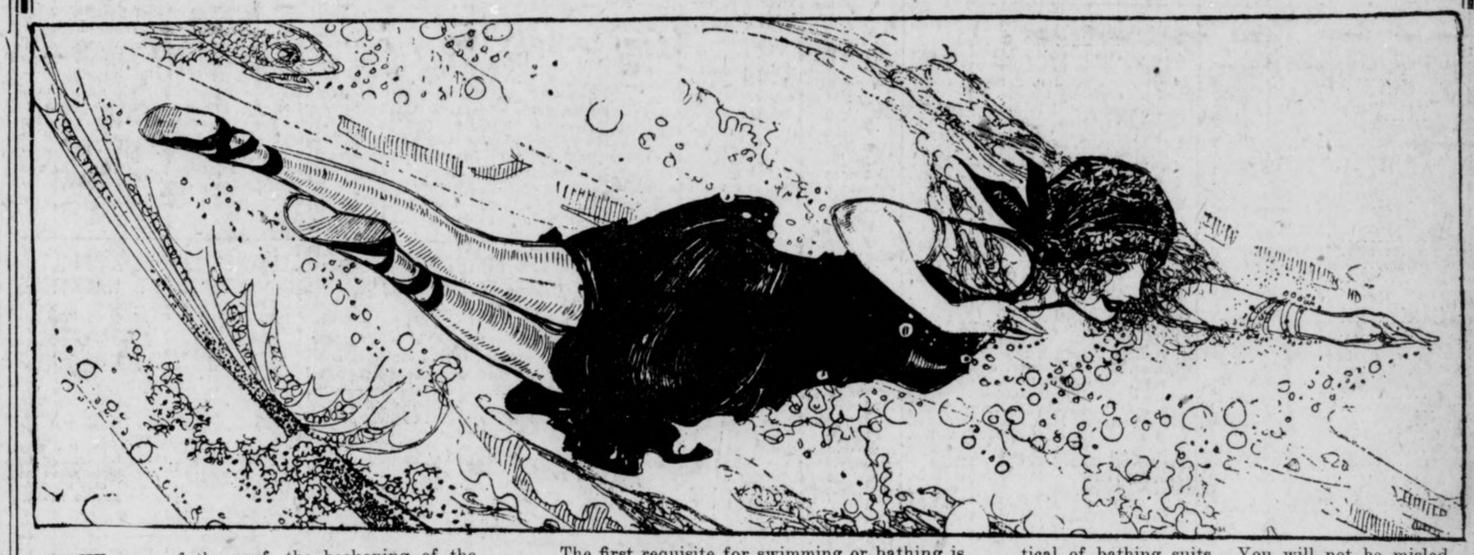
Cream Serge Suits	Hair-line Stripe Suits
Black Pongee Suits	Natural Pongee Suits
Colored Serge Suits	Taffeta Silk Suits
Taffeta Silk Dresses	One-piece Serge Dresses
Black Voile Skirts	French Serge Skirts
Chiffon Blouse Waists	Lace Trimmed Waists
Lingerie Waists	Allover Waists
Linen Coat Suits	One-piece Linen Dresses

Your Choice, Five Dollars

KEELY COMPANY

ENJOY LIFE—GO SWIMMING

By EVELYN WREN



THE song of the surf, the beckoning of the breakers, the lure of the lake invite us. The water fascinates, allures and enthralls. We act well and wisely to heed its call and—

Go swimming!

The intimate contact with the water, the overcoming of this element, the struggle and the conquest are inspiring. The laughter comes to your heart, the joy speaks from your eyes and intense happiness is yours.

The opportunities for this delight are at hand. Popular Piedmont Park is the scene of much of this wholesome gayety. East Lake is the mecca for those who appreciate the benefits of this recreation.

Did you ever bathe or swim when a gentle rain was falling? The raindrops tickle your nose, they confuse your sight, they tantalize and tease, adding to the joy of conquest. They help to make you feel the joy of living, the pleasure of happy combat with the water.

If you can't swim, learn. Wade out into the cool, refreshing water, just as far as you can keep your footing, and get acquainted. Laugh at the water, coax and love it, but never let it guess that you are a wee bit afraid. Let it learn that you intend to be victorious, splendidly victorious, as your acquaintance proceeds.

By and by the water will yield to your efforts. You will glide along as if it consciously aided and abetted your joy of conquest. The knowledge that you have overcome those first few fearful thoughts, that you are at home in the water and the pleasure in the bracing, physical contact inspires and cheers you.

The first requisite for swimming or bathing is a good suit. The suit must be cut properly, fit comfortably and be becoming. It detracts much from your first feeling of helplessness if the bathing suit is becoming. When you are expert you will judge of other details which add to your progress—flat trimmings, elimination of superfluous weight and ease of donning.

The J. M. High Company has bathing suits for the novice and the expert, for the maid and matron, for the youngster and his dad—for everyone who appreciates the value of the best of recreations.

The simple suits, well made and cut according to the new lines, are a delight to the beginner. They carry the flat trimming or pretty turn-over collars which will not dangle, damp and dripping, in your face. Every detail is carefully planned to aid, not impede, your progress.

When you first go swimming your costume will be rather elaborate. You will wish a pair of the bright, pretty bathing slippers and the whole line of accessories. You will choose your cap with a view to becomingness and be far less conscious of your lack of skill than if you looked and felt a dowd.

When you can really swim you will become an expert in choosing your bathing costume. You will know that the pretty sashes, the long ties and the large collars give a gorgeous effect on land, but prove real hindrances in the water. You will learn that your suit can be pretty, yet practical.

That swimming may be enjoyed to its fullest, J. M. High Company has selected the most practical of bathing suits. You will not be misled into the purchase of a suit that will prove impossible for swimming, though attractive on the beach. Every suit is practical. Moreover, they are all fashionable. They embrace all the timely touches with no loss of practicability. You can appear well, feel comfortable and swim with little effort.

These suits range in material from serviceable self-material, braid, striped material and stitch-mohair to shining silk. The trimmings are in ing. The prices begin at $2.50, for a pretty, practical suit, to $15.00 for a handsome, practical one. The caps, in all colors and a great variety of becoming styles, cost from 50c to $1.50. The slippers, picturesque with their long ankle lacings, are priced at 25c to $1.00.

There is no exercise so physically beneficial. There is no pleasure so intensely wholesome. Every muscle is brought into play. The chest broadens and grows strong. The mental attitude is positive and inspiring. To swim is to live at your fullest.

J. M. High Company is co-operating with us this year. They are ready with bathing suits, bathing accessories and bathing suggestions. Let's go see them and then—

Let's go swimming!

J.M. HIGH COMPANY.

EX-DIXIE STARS ARE SHINING IN MAJOR LEAGUE

EX-SOUTHERN Leaguers are making a noise like a slide trombone up in the select circles of the National League. Some of them are high up, some low down but they're all there with something.

For instance:

Slim Sallee, ex-Baron, is the champion rescuer of the league. Seven times he has been sent to the rescue of wavering hurlers—a high compliment to be paid a southpaw.

Rube Benton, ex-Lookout, holds the league record for wildness (with Toney of the Cubs), with an average of five and a quarter free passes per game.

Stengle, late of Montgomery, is the premier slugger, with 37 total bases to his credit.

These figures tell you what the graduates from the Southern League are doing, in comparison with the other guys in President Lynch's circuit:

Cincinnati.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Fromme	8	5	2
Packard	7	4	5
Johnson	11	5	4
Suggs	7	3	3
Smith	4	2	3
Harter	5	0	5
Benton	7	6	0
Brown	5	1	4
Betts	1	0	1
Released Men		6	5

Boston.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Perdue	6	3	4
James	7	0	1
Tyler	7	1	0
Hess	4	2	0
Dickson	1	0	1
Strand	1	0	1
Released Men		2	5

Brooklyn.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Ragon	9	4	2
Rucker	10	2	3
Allen	8	4	1
Curtis	6	1	3
Stack	6	1	3
Yingling	1	1	1

Chicago.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Lavender	9	6	3
Cheney	13	2	6
Smith	6	4	2
Richie	5	4	0
Toney	6	4	2
Humphries	6	1	5
Leifield	3	1	2
Pierce	4	2	1
Overall	2	1	0
Reibach	2	1	2

New York.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Tesreau	9	6	1
Crandall	7	1	6
Ames	6	2	1
Mathewson	7	0	1
Memaree	6	4	1
Marquard	4	2	1
Wiltse	6	1	5

Philadelphia.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Chalmers	5	1	2
Mayer	5	2	3
Moore	3	2	1
Seaton	10	3	3
Brennan	6	3	2
Nelson	2	1	2
Alexander	6	1	1
Rixey	3	2	1

Pittsburg.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Adams	9	4	1
Hendrix	12	3	3
Cooper	6	3	4
Robinson	10	3	5
Camnitz	9	3	3
O'Toole	8	6	4
Perry	2	0	2
Conzelman	1	1	1

St. Louis.

Pitchers.	Times In.	Taken Out.	Put In.
Griner	7	1	0
Burk	2	2	1
Sallee	12	5	7
Perritt	9	7	5
Geyer	6	0	6
Harmon	7	5	4
Steele	6	4	0
Redding	1	1	1
Willis	1	3	4
Hunt	2	1	1
Konetchy	1	0	1

On a basis of games pitched to a decision, Mathewson has been the steadiest pitcher in the league this spring—three passes in seven battles. Benton and Toney have been the wildest. Seaton and Hendrix have been the strike-out stars.

Myers, of Boston, the man who beat "Mary" Calhoun out of a job, has the best base stealing record so far. Stengel, of Brooklyn, who came in only last fall, is the premier slugger. Record:

Baserunning.

Players.	G.	SB	Pct.
Myers, Boston	24	12	.500
Devore, New York	15	6	.400
Murray, New York	26	10	.385
Herzog, New York	29	11	.379
Lobert, Philadelphia	25	9	.360
Clymer, Chicago	24	8	.333
Doyle, New York	25	8	.320
Bescher, Cincinnati	22	7	.318
Marsans, Cincinnati	25	7	.280
Merkle, New York	29	8	.276
Leach, Chicago	15	4	.267
Miller, Chicago	19	5	.263
Stengel, Brooklyn	27	7	.259
Mitchell, Chicago	27	7	.259
Grant, Cincinnati	24	6	.250
Snodgrass, New York	24	6	.250
Burns, New York	28	7	.250

Long Hitting.

Players.	2B	3B	HR	Total Ex. B.
Stengel, Brooklyn	5	5	3	37
Konetchy, St. Louis	5	6	2	36
Miller, Pittsburg	6	6	1	34
Knabe, Phila.	12	1	1	31
Bates, Cincinnati	1	5	3	29
Merkle, New York	8	3	1	29
Tinker, Cincinnati	8	4	0	28
Wheat, Brooklyn	7	2	2	28
Zimmerman, Chi.	6	4	1	28
Magee, Phila.	4	0	5	28
Fisher, Brooklyn	4	4	1	24
Hinch, Brooklyn	4	2	2	24
Saier, Chicago	2	4	1	20
Doyle, New York	8	0	1	20

White City Park Now Open

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

All Members of This Club :-: :-: Copyright, 1913, International News Service :-: By George McManus

TRAVERS WINS 2 MATCHES; TRAVIS IS ELIMINATED

NEW YORK, May 23.—Successful playing on the part of the national champion, Jerome D. Travers, the elimination of Walter J. Travis from the third division of players and defeat of Fred Herreshoff, who won the Oakland tournament a week ago, were features in yesterday's rounds in the tournament for the metropolitan amateur golf championship of Fox Hills, Staten Island.

Travers won his match in the morning round of 18 holes from H. H. Kerr, of South Shore, Long Island, but did not exhibit his usual deftness at any stage of the game, while in the afternoon, most of the play being during a severe rainstorm, he was almost at the top of his game and defeated D. J. Graham, of Greenwich, Conn., by five up and four to play.

Herreshoff's defeat was accomplished by M. Michael, of Youngtakah, in the first round for the championship eligibles. Travis succumbed during the second round for the third division. The veteran was unable to do himself justice owing to his having wrenched his right knee two days ago, and was one down to J. D. Lord, of Brooklyn, of the home green. Oswald Kirby, the New Jersey State champion, is expected to win his match in the third round to-morrow morning, and probably will meet Travers in the semi-final later in the day.

Herreshoff Is Beaten.

Travers won his match from H. K. Kerr, of South Shore, 3 up and 2 to play. The surprise of the morning round was the defeat of Fred Herreshoff, of Garden City, by M. M. Michael, of Yountakah, who won by 1 up. Oswald Kirby, of New Jersey, State champion, defeated the inter-scholastic champion, Max R. Marston, 3 up and 2 to play.

Other matches in first round resulted as follows:

H. F. Whitney, Nassau, beat W. S. Leeds, Fox Hills, 6 up and 5 to play. G. T. Baker, Garden City, beat F. H. Thomas, Morris County, 4 up and 3 to play; A. F. Kammer, Fox Hills, beat E. E. Sturges, Wykegyl, 4 up and 3 to play; J. R. Hyde, South Shore, defeated Max Behr, Baltusrel, 3 up and 2 to play; H. J. Topping, Greenwich, defeated E. M. Barnes, Englewood, 5 up and 3 to play.

E. M. Wild, Cranford, beat S. D. Bowers, Brooklawn, 3 up and 2 to play; W. W. Taylor, Ardsley, beat M. P. Lewis, Flushing, 6 up and 5 to play; McKim Hollins, Westbrook, beat J. M. Ward, Garden City, 4 up and 2 to play; Chisholm Beach, Fox Hills, beat B. H. Hidder, Oakland, 2 up and 1 to play; S. J. Gresham, Greenwich, beat T. V. Bermingham, Wykagyl, 6 up and 5 to play; R. T. Allen, Fox Hills, beat Roy O. Webb, Englewood, 2 up and 1 to play; L. P. Gayer, Siwanoy, beat J. H. Slater, Fox Hills, 3 up and 2 to play, and Gardner W. White, Oakland, beat H. V. Gaines, Wykagyl, 2 up.

Travis Downs Graham.

The result of the second match play round follows:

Wild beat Taylor, 6 up and 4 to play; Whitney beat Hollins by 1 up; Kammer beat Brokaw, 4 up and 3 to play; Hyde beat Topping, 3 up and 2 to play; Beach beat Michael, 2 up and 1 to play; Travers beat Graham, 5 up and 4 to play; Kirby beat Allen, 2 up and 1 to play, and Gwyer beat White, 3 up and 2 to play.

NAT HERRESHOFF WILL NOT BUILD DEFENDER

BRISTOL, R. I., May 23.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer and builder of the succesful defenders of the American cup for the past twenty years, to-day declined to enter a competition for the design of the 1914 defender.

SUMMER FARES.
Lake, Mountain and Seashore Resorts.

Daily on and after May 15 the Central of Georgia Railway will have on sale at its principal ticket offices round trip tickets at reduced fares to summer resorts in the North, South, East and West, and to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia via Savannah and steamships. For total fares, conditions, train service, etc.,

ASK NEAREST TICKET AGENT CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY, or write to W. H. Fogg, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga. Adv.

ORDINARY TEAM CAN WIN "RAG" IN NATIONAL

—SAYS FRANK CHANCE

By Allen Sangree.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Frank Chance, one time boss of the Cubs, now manager of the New York Highlanders, says this is the year an ordinary ball club can win the pennant in the National League. Mind you, it was the league of which he was formerly such a prominent part that the P. L. was discussing.

A team of ordinary hitters, with ordinary pitchers, with ordinary base running and with ordinary thinking should grab the pennant in the senior major league organization, according to the former Cub boss.

"I never saw such an upset in the dope," said Chance.

"What is the answer?" he was asked.

"There isn't any answer that I know of," was his reply. "Now, look at the Pirates. There was the team that looked to have a runaway race in the National. It looked like a walkover for Clarke and his men. They were playing the best baseball in the league at the close of the season. They had the pitchers, the hitters, the fielders. They seemed to have everything.

Can't See the Phillies.

"Clarke had a smarter ball club than McGraw. He seemed to have better pitchers. He seemed to have a better balanced team. The Pirates seemed to be the class of the league. Yet look where they are.

"The Giants haven't been playing the kind of baseball they played when they won pennants. McGraw has a team that should be beaten."

"But the Phillies?" it was suggested.

"I don't figure them to win. They will go along in great shape for a while. Suddenly some fellow will be injured. Then another will suffer an accident. Then another, and pretty soon a pitcher will blow. Before you have realized it the team will be down. It's the hard luck team of the league.

Thinks Cubs Have Chance.

"I believe those Phillies have scared more people and have done less real damage than any ball club in the National League."

"Who will win?" he was asked.

"I don't know. If the Cubs had a couple more pitchers and played consistent baseball they would win. If the Pirates played the game of which they are capable they would win. If any team in the league got consistent pitching that was even good, fairly good hitting and played just ordinary baseball every day that team would win.

"It isn't a knock on the old league. It's just the peculiar condition which prevails this year. It isn't that the teams aren't good, it's because they are erratic."

MATTY M'CUE AND ATTELL SIGN FOR 10-ROUND BOUT

KENOSHA, WIS., May 23.—Matty McCue and Abe Attell have signed for a ten-round bout here. The match hinges on McCue's winning from Patsy Brannigan in Milwaukee next Monday evening. The tentative date for the McCue-Attell mill is June 5.

R U Wearing Red Seal Shoes Made in Atlanta ? 93 Peachtree

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—During the past few days the Pirates have played much nearer their natural form than heretofore this season. After being beaten all over the circuit, the Pittsburg club came to New York and gave us a stiff battle when we were looking for something easy. They also gave the Dodgers a neat trimming.

Fans have been talking about the weak pitching of the Pirates. The twirlers may have been off before this, but they certainly braced up against us. Adams, Hendrix, Robinson and Cooper all looked good in New York, and the rest of the club played pretty fair ball except in a couple of games. The team seems to be getting bad catching, the steady work of Gibson behind the bat being sadly missed. His absence also hurts the pitchers. He is laid up and will be out of the game for some time. Poor throwing and bad judgment behind the bat put the team off its balance in a couple of the contests against us.

* * *

THE Pirates will be in the race, and don't make any mistake about that. The club is just as good as the one which came so strong at the finish last year, and I predict that once this team gets going behind the pitching it is bound to get, there will be very few clubs in the league which will stop it. Personally, I am tickled to death that Clarke's team has made such a late start, because it is going to do a whole lot of crowding at the finish. Practically there are only two changes in the team over last year, and these should strengthen it. Viox is playing second base, and, although it is his first season in the big league as a regular, he looked better than any of the several men who appeared at that place last year. He is the kind of a ball player that helps any team, aggressive and "crabbing" all the time. When he first joined the Pittsburg club he was known as the freshest busher ever to come up from the minors, and he still retains his fighting spirit. He also hits the ball hard, and is a difficult man to pitch to, refusing to offer at bad balls.

ASIDE from all his natural accomplishments, Wagner has taken a personal shine to Viox, and this in itself is a big help to any player who joins the Pittsburg team. The Dutchman will teach him a lot of baseball. It is customary for Wagner to take up with some young fellow each season and string along with him, and the lucky recruit always benefits by it. Last year it was "Tom" Hendrix, and before that it was "Jack" Miller, now playing first base.

But the real wonder of the Pirates is Hans Wagner, who looks just the same as he did when I broke into the league, except that his hair is a little grayer, because it wasn't gray at all then. He looks just the same on the ball field as far as his playing goes. He is a wonder for his age, thirty-nine, and is a grand example of what taking care of himself has done for him. He is hitting just as hard as he ever did this season, if not harder, and the chances are all in favor of him batting over .300 once more, which he generally does with great consistency.

MENSOR, in center field, is a newcomer, but he looks like a good ball player. The chances are that "Artie" Hofman, the former Cub, will play in the outfield regularly as soon as he gets in shape. Just at present his heart is bad, and he is afraid of over-exerting himself. Pittsburg will come, and when they do they will come very fast, because they have a bunch of terrific hitters and plenty good pitchers to stop the opposing teams. It is going to be a hard little combination to beat.

The Giants have also braced on the past week, and McGraw is getting back closer each day to the lineup that won him two pennants. We came near losing a good ball player last week when Shafer threatened to go home, but he changed his mind. Many blamed Shafer for this, but he is only a boy, and got the idea he was needed home by his father. He should not be censured for his action.

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CHARLEY EBBETS TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST KLEM

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 23.—President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, was so incensed over Umpire Klem's action in continuing the game with Pittsburg yesterday in the heavy rain that he announced he would file charges with the board of directors of the National League.

The rain fell in torrents from the second half of the third inning and the field was in frightful condition. The infielders could hardly keep their feet going after batted balls. The pitchers could not control the wet ball, and only clever work by the pitchers prevented wild pitches.

SHAMROCK IV WILL NOT BE A "FREAK CRAFT"

LONDON, May 22.—Charles E. Nicholson, the famous yacht designer, who will design the challenger Shamrock IV, which will try to lift the America's cup in 1914, declared today that the new yacht will not be a "freak craft."

SEWANEE AND VANDERBILT CLASH AT NASHVILLE

SEWANEE, TENN., May 23.—The Sewanee Tigers play their last series of baseball to-day and Saturday with Vanderbilt at Nashville. For the last few weeks the Tigers have been playing good ball, Captain Bordon shaking up the line-up after they returned from the long southern trip. McGoodwin, on first, is now playing fine ball on the initial sack, which was the weak spot of the team.

Captain Gordon will pitch the first game against the Commodores, and he ought to land the first victory, as he has been pitching winnig ball all season. Eggleston will be in the box in the second contest.

TETTER

Tetterine cures tetter. Read what Mrs. V. C. McQuiddy, Estill Springs, Tenn, says:

"I had a severe case of tetter on both hands and I finally got helpless. A leading physcian knew of no cure. I decided to give Tetterine a trial. To my utter surprise and satisfaction it worked a speedy cure.

Use Tetterine

It cures eczema, tetter, erysipelas, itching piles, ground itch and all skin maladies.

50c at druggists, or by mail.

SHUPTRINE CO., SAVANNAH, GA.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

For the accommodation of the Veterans and their friends, the Western and Atlantic Railroad will operate trains Atlanta to Chattanooga on May 26, to leave Atlanta as follows:

8:00 A. M.
8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.
2:15 P. M.
3:00 P. M.
4:50 P. M.
8:50 P. M.

Round-trip tickets will be sold Atlanta to Chattanooga and return at rate of $3.00. Tickets will be on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga to June 25.

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

M'CARTY AND PELKY ARE READY FOR GO SATURDAY

CALGARY, ALBERTA, May 23.—Arthur Pelky and Luther McCarty eased up to-day in their training. McCarty spent most of the day on horseback and in jawing Calgary scribes for poking fun at his "cowboy" outfit. Pelky went for a long walk and then rested. Both men are on edge and look fit for a tough scrap.

BUD ANDERSOH OFFERED FIGHT WITH LEACH CROSS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The managers of the St. Nicholas Athletic Club have invited Bud Anderson, the sensational lightweight boxer of California, who recently knocked out K. O. Brown and oJe Mandot, to come east and box Leach Cross in July.

CUBS AFTER SCHAUER.

SUPERIOR, WIS., May 23.—George McGurn, scout for the Chicago Cubs, after watching a Northern League game here made an offer for Rube Schauer, Superior pitcher. The offer is being considered.

FLYNN AND COFFEY CLASH IN NEW YORK GO FRIDAY

NEW YORK, May 23.—"If James Coffey, the Dublin giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, box to form, as the fistic fans would say, then the patrons of the hit, block and step-away sport may depend on an interesting ten-round bout at the Garden Athletic Club to-night.

Both men are within the pale of the first class brigade of heavyweight boxers. Coffey is the climber and Flynn one of those fighters who may come back at any time, no matter how many defeats he may have experienced.

Both are aggresive boxers, and as they are hitters the bout may terminate suddenly and in a manner that the fans of this city enjoy—by a knockout. Both are in perfect physical condition for a hard battle. The winner will be matched with Gunboat Smith.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American. YOUR advertisement in the next issue will sell goods. Try it!

Go To The Original $15 Tailors

—the only store in town where you can get

Real $25 Suits Made to Order

$15

The old reliable "Scotch" Woolen Mills. Our imitators will do their best to confuse you. To protect yourself, remember this name and address.

Scotch WOOLEN MILLS

107 Peachtree

MAIL ORDERS—Write for Free Samples and self-measuring blanks.

Pullman Tires

Have set a new standard of "Tire Value." Pullman Tires are of standard material and construction---fully guaranteed. Made by one of the country's largest manufacturers, to meet the demand for a better and cheaper tire.

	Clincher or Dunlop.	Heavy Non-skid Type.	Red Tubes.
28x3	$ 9.15	$10.15	$2.16
30x3	9.80	10.65	2.30
30x3½	14.45	15.75	3.10
32x3½	15.40	16.65	3.30
34x3½	16.75	18.05	3.40
33x4	20.20	21.70	4.40
34x4	20.85	22.25	4.50
35x4	21.55	22.95	4.60
36x4	22.25	23.70	4.80
35x4½	27.30	29.00	5.70
36x4½	28.05	29.80	5.90
37x4½	28.85	30.65	6.05
37x5	35.40	37.60	7.10

All other sizes in proportion.

PULLMAN GUARANTEE

If in your opinion this Pullman Tire No. — fails to give its cost value in tire service return it direct to us and we will replace it, charging only for value of service obtained.

Pullman Rubber Co.

Examination Allowed on all C. O. D. Shipments

PULLMAN RUBBER COMPANY

349 Peachtree St.

ATLANTA, GA.

FLYNN-SAVAGE BOUT WILL BE HELD JUNE 13

THE Jim Flynn-Jim Savage ten-round bout will be staged at the Auditorium on June 13. The heavyweights were originally scheduled to exchange blows June 9, but the scrap has been moved back four days on account of the Buffalo Bill circus, which will be here the latter date.

The Fireman fights Jim Coffey at New York Friday night and will leave for Atlanta soon. The promoters of the Auditorium show have made arrangements to have both contestants on the battle ground ten days before the scrap, which should give the fans ample time to see the two heavyweights in their training work.

Savage has been boxing several of the big hopes in New York and is being touted as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. His bout with Flynn should prove a great chance for the clever boy. Many of the Eastern boxing followers, who have seen Savage in action lately, are boosting him as another Jim Corbett.

* * *

THE winner of the Auditorium show will probably meet Gunboat Smith or Luther McCarty. McCarey and Coffroth both have their eyes peeled on the June 9 show and it would not be surprising to see the coast promoters send for the winner.

Two other good ten-round battles will be held in connection with the heavyweight tilt. Mike Saul, well known around these parts as one of the toughest lightweights, will probably meet Eddie Hanlon in one of the battles, while Spider Britt and Meyer Pries may swing the padded gloves in the other set-to.

* * *

THESE three mills should certainly bring together some dandy milling. Fans who have seen Britt and Pries box against each other know what a sterling scrap they usually put up. Each has a grudge against the other and a bloody contest is usually the result.

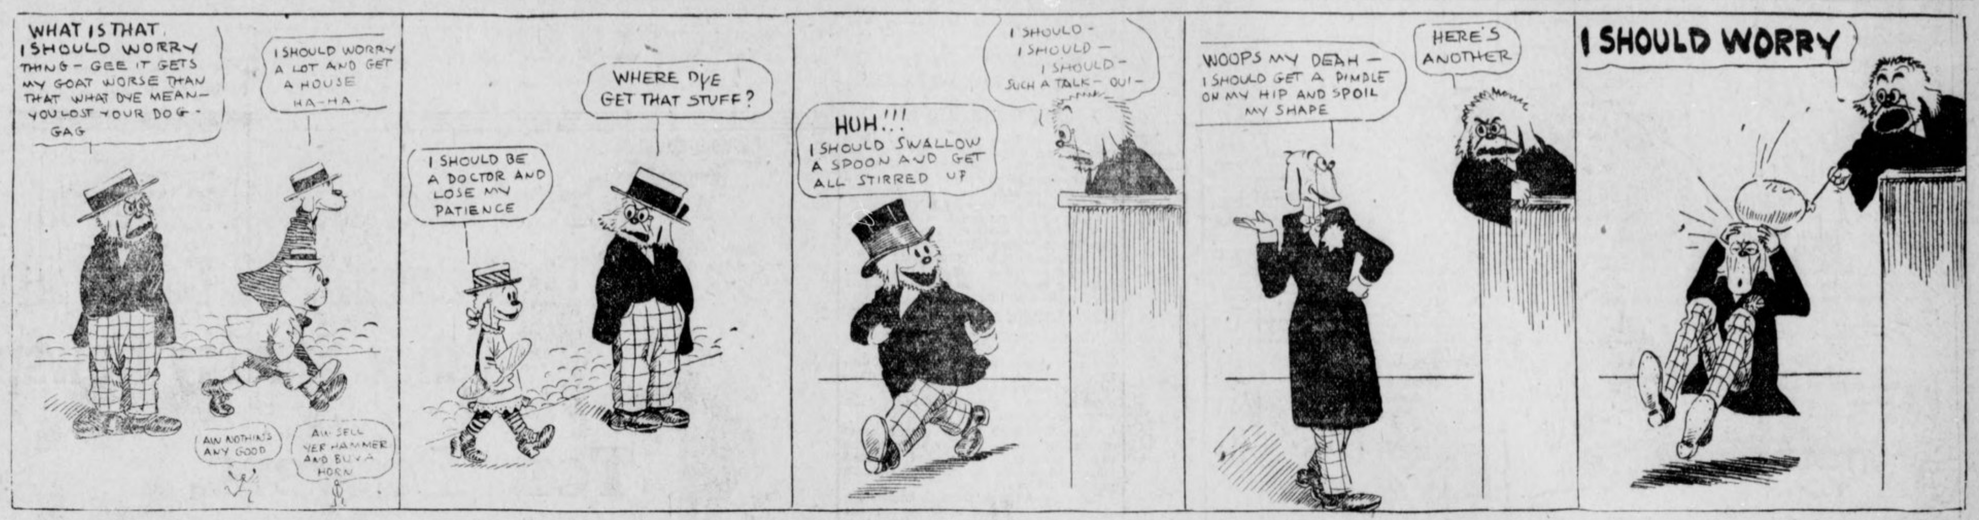
The last time the two boys met, Britt was awarded a slight shade by the referee, although most of the fans present thought a draw was the correct verdict. After the scrap Mike Saul, the referee, said he would have called the mill an even thing had Pries not indulged in foul tactics.

* * *

SAUL and Hanlon need no introduction to local fandom. Mike was rated as a contender for the lightweight crown until he lost on a foul to Abel when out of shape. Mike says he is out to win back his lost laurels and many of the local fans are with Mike to the last. Hanlon has always claimed that Saul was one boy whom he could lick.

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT :: Rummy Should Worry :: Copyright, 1913, International News Service. :: By Tad



BASEBALL
Diamond News and Gossip

After winning nine games in a row, Walter Johnson, of the Senators, went against the Naps yesterday and was beaten, the Cleveland club pounding him for thirteen hits.

* * *

Umpire Klem increased his unpopularity in Brooklyn yesterday by permitting the game to go for five innings and then calling it on account of rain after the Pirates had scored the lone tally of the game.

* * *

The Dodgers have protested the game, claiming that the rain fell no harder in the sixth inning, when Klem ordered a cessation of play, than it had during the three innings previous.

* * *

The Red Sox outhit the White Sox yesterday, but the Chicagoans grabbed off a 2 to 1 victory.

* * *

The league-leading Athletics had an easy time defeating the Tigers yesterday, the veteran Plank shutting out the Detroit boys and permitting them but three hits.

* * *

That old Pirate machine seems to be in fine working order again and it seems quite safe to bet that they will be up among the leaders in another month.

* * *

Rain halted the Cardinals-Giants game in the second inning after the Cardinals had secured a one-run lead.

* * *

The Yankees went down to a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the hands of the Browns, Stone, a recruit pitcher, holding the New Yorkers to six scattered hits.

* * *

The National League race this season promises to be one of the best in many years. The weak "sisters" seem conspicuously absent. In other years, the Dodgers, Cardinals and Braves were the pie counters for the triple alliance. But a new order of events now exists.

* * *

The alliance, composed of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, has been dissolved. The trio that has roosted in and around first place for ten years has been ousted, and a new state of affairs has come to pass.

* * *

Whether the Phillies, Dodgers, Cardinals and even the lowly Braves can keep up the clip they have been traveling is a question. Perhaps they'll falter farther along, but even if they do they have already dealt the mighty trio such a terrific wallop that there will be no runaway race for any one of the trio, as in years gone by.

* * *

A similar condition exists in the American League. No one team has a cinch. A trifle more than 400 points separates the leading Athletics from the Yankees. But the Yankees are due to move along in the percentage column. Chance has had a hard time getting his team started, but as soon as his pitchers round into shape they will furnish trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Browns are not the snap team of other years. The Tigers are beginning to add to their win column. The Red Sox, although far down in the standing to-day, have the power, and when once the machine gets well oiled it will furnish considerable trouble for the leaders.

* * *

The Athletics have been traveling at a fine rate, despite the illness of Jack Coombs, the star flinger. The Naps and White Sox seem to have the "punch" this year and the Senators are showing that their speed of last year has become a permanent possession.

* * *

Careful examination of Carl Cashion's injured arm demonstrates that a ligament is badly torn and the big lad may be out for the entire season.

* * *

Joe Birmingham has done something with the Naps that no manager ever did before—he has got them figuring on world's series receipts. Let a club get doing that in earnest and they fight every step of the way.

SPORTS AND SUCH
By RIGHT CROSS

THE STANDING of the clubs in the big leagues at this writing forms a fine chance for that much-talked-of "rushing attack" in baseball which is known as the "base-running game."

It is a theory of students of the great national pastime that a team of fast and skillful base stealers has a tremendous edge at the go-off in a battle with a team less gifted in this direction. Let us give a look:

The Boston Americans, the world's champions, are popularly known as the Speed Boys, a name which arose from the dazzling rapidity with which they are wont to flit from base to base. This seems to be an off season for flitting. The Red Sox are not only way down in the league race, but they are also way down in the base-stealing records for the season.

* * *

THERE ARE OTHER EXAMPLES that might be pointed out, but there is no use rubbing it in, and we don't owe Boston any consideration anyway. The Red Sox are enough to prove the point, which is namely, to wit, i. e.—that a losing club doesn't pull any "rushing attack" stuff. Base stealing is the diversion of winners. It is not so much a cause as an effect. Base stealers are the lancers of a baseball army. They are highly spectacular, but useful only when the battle is half won.

In the old days of the great game of war no general in his senses ever sent cavalry against an unshaken defense. Napoleon, through a mistaken conception of the situation, did it at Waterloo and lost. It is the same way with base stealing in baseball. When you have the other team on the run you can complete the rout by running wild on the bases, but we have never yet seen a team run wild to any extent when it is five runs behind.

It is true, of course, that an individual base runner, like Cobb, for instance, will occasionally steal second at a critical moment and thus lay the foundation of a winning run. But this is beside the main point—that base stealing as a system of offense in a ball game is nix.

ED ALPERMAN SECURES JOB WITH WAYCROSS CLUB

Ed Alperman, the Atlanta captain's younger brother, has secured a berth with Charlie Wahoo's Waycross Empire State League Club and will join that team in the next few days.

Ed arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and will be here with his brother for a few days before reporting to his new teammates.

Ed is an outfielder and it is understood that the local club will keep a string on him, which they will yank at the end of the present season.

DE PONTHIEU SHADES KIRKE.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 23.—Louis DePonthieu, champion of France, shaded Ollie Kirke, of St. Louis, in a ten-round boxing bout.

Cracker Attack Most Deadly Ever
Local Club Is Stronger Than Gulls

By Percy H. Whiting.

THE Cracker team has the most deadly attack ever seen in the Southern League. Napoleon's pet troops or a band of war-pathing Comanches look tame beside them. Day after day they drive pitchers to cover. All teams look alike to them. All pitchers are the same.

They can slug the ball over the lot; they can beat out bunts if by chance they lay them down; they can wait out a wavering pitcher; they can run bases; they can use the hit-and-run; they shine at the run-and-hit. There isn't an offensive maneuver, barring the bunt, at which they do not shine.

* * *

WHY this team shouldn't wallop the stuffing out of Mike Finn's club in three out of every four battles, provided the Cracker pitchers made even a half-decent show, we can't see. Nor can anybody who witnessed yesterday's game.

Mike Finn has a pretty well-balanced club. Paulet, Stock, Starr and O'Dell are good men. Of course, alongside of Agler, Alperman, Bisland and Smith they don't look so much—but that's a fair average infield. Clark, Jacobson and Robertson are good outfielders, but in offensive and defensive strength they do not average up to the Crackers. In catching strength the teams are about a stand-off. If the Gulls hope to beat Atlanta out of the pennant they better have pitchers who are about eleven times as strong as the Crackers' slabmen.

* * *

IN Thursday's game the Cracker pitcher had all the advantage. Two veterans were out—Brady and Campbell. Of course it is not insinuated that Brady classes with Campbell in antiquity, but then he's no fledgling. And Brady plastered it all over Campbell.

"The King" held the dangerous Campbell hitless, didn't give the savage Robertson one he could push out of the infield, and had the rest of the collection swinging themselves sick at his offerings.

In the meantime the Crackers were eating Campbell alive, and finally ended by piling up nine hits for eleven bases in six innings. With the Crackers ahead, 7 to 2, the game was called on account of darkness, with the rain falling hard and everybody ready to call it off and go home.

* * *

BEFORE the Mobile season is over some cast-off is going to figure. They always do. Mobile has O'Dell and Sentell, former Crackers. Atlanta has Long and Dunn, former Gulls. So something has to happen.

In yesterday's game the ex-Gulls now with the Crackers had all the better of the argument. Sentell didn't play, and Al O'Dell made a couple of errors. Long made three hits out of four times up, while Dunn kicked over a single and threw faultlessly to second.

Bill Smith offered a direct challenge to the Gulls by using Joe Dunn. Before the season opened Mike said, in all kindness but with great firmness, that Joe Dunn's arm was gone. Probably he really thought it. But Dunn's work this year hasn't proved Mike's prediction. And to-day Smith stuck in Dunn, just to show up Mike. Only one Gull tried to steal, and he was pegged out easily.

* * *

MIKE FINN is playing himself up as the victim of misguided confidence. Understand, Mike doesn't mean that he's been the goat of a confidence game—you see it's like this:

After the Gulls began to gather this spring, a fake "signed statement," alleged to have been written by Mike, appeared in various papers around the circuit and was played up strong in Mobile. Then the season opened and Mike's "statement" went over strong. The result was that the Gull fans lost interest.

"It's got so bad now," said Mike, "that they don't come out at all to see us play. Once in a while a few will turn out, sort of to celebrate our having won a pennant. The rest of them have dismissed the season as a closed incident, have credited themselves with a pennant won and have turned to other things. It's a fine fix, with the season just started and our team losing a game or two a day."

* * *

THE suspicion prevails that the Gull fans will have only to consult the standing of the clubs to wake themselves up by the time the team returns home. The Gulls have lost the last three games straight, and the last six out of seven. They are going about as poorly now as a team can go. It will not take them long to kick away their lead at this rate.

Before returning home the Gulls have to play two more games with the Crackers, three in Chattanooga, four in Nashville and four in Memphis. Any of the Tennessee clubs might furnish trouble for the Gulls, now that they have flickered. And a 4½-game lead can be shot to bits in five games, if they turn out right.

Anyhow, the Crackers will try to do what they can for the noble cause.

STOVALL MUST PAY FINE AND APOLOGIZE TO UMPIRE

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—George Stovall, suspended manager of the St. Louis Americans, was reinstated by President Johnson, of the American League, yesterday on condition that Stovall write a letter of apology to Umpire Charles Ferguson, on whom he spat while playing in a game here May 3.

In addition to apologizing to Umpire Ferguson, Stovall must pay a $100 fine.

If Stovall complies with the conditions, he will be allowed to play in the game against Detroit Saturday. The apology to Umpire Ferguson must be mailed to Johnson's office in Chicago and approved by Johnson before it is forwarded to Ferguson.

Stovall said he would comply with conditions of his reinstatement.

AMES, GROH AND DEVORE ARE TRADED FOR FROMME

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In an effort to bolster up his team Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati club, has just completed a deal with Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, whereby he receives Pitcher Ames, Infielder Groh and Outfielder Devore in exchange for Pitcher Fromme.

PIRATES GET BANKSTON FROM GORDON BALL TEAM

BARNESVILLE, GA., May 23.—President Dreyfuss, of Pittsburg, has made an offer to Everett Bankston, catcher of 1913 Gordon team. He will probably leave for Pittsburg.

BOXING
News of the Ring Game

New York will have another chance to see Jim Flynn in action Friday night. The Pueblo fireman will don the gloves with Jim Coffey in a scheduled 10-round bout. "Soldier" Kearns and George Rodel will clash in the semi-windup.

* * *

This will be Flynn's last battle before he meets Jim Savage at the Auditorium here next month. If Flynn succeeds in defeating Savage he will probably take a trip to the coast in an effort to get on with Gunboat Smith or Jess Willard.

* * *

Luther McCarty is another heavyweight who is to get into action. Luther takes on Arthur Pelky in a 12-round set-to at Calgary, Alberta, Saturday night. McCarty must win if he intends to get away with some more of the easy money he has been gathering. Pelky is Tommy Burns' protege.

* * *

Young Shrugrue, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, three Eastern lightweights, are after the first tilt with Willie Ritchie, who says he will defend his title on July 4. It looks very much as if Joe Rivers will beat them all to the match.

* * *

Danny Morgan, manager of Jack Britton, has offered to bet $2,500 that Britton can outpoint Luther McCarty in a 10-round scrap. Morgan refers to McCarty as a "cheese champion."

* * *

Abe Attell, who helped Bud Anderson train for his bout with Joe Mandot on the coast, is begging Tom McCarey for another chance at Johnny Kilbane. Abe says he is as good as ever and is positive he can beat the featherweight champion in a return match. McCarey has the bout under consideration.

* * *

Coast fans are blaming Tom Jones for Jess Willard's defeat at the hands of Gunboat Smith the other night. They claim that Willard was receiving insinuction from several sources in his corner.

* * *

This rather confused the Kansas cowboy, who stopped dead still several times to look toward Jones for some definite advice.

* * *

Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, is the latest luminary Eastern fistic circles are discussing. Robideau fought Johnny Lore in New York last week and handed the latter a neat lacing.

* * *

The Jack Britton-Eddie Murphy fight at Kenosha, Wis., Tuesday night drew but $900. A dreadful rainstorm kept the attendance down.

* * *

Nate Lewis and his fighter, Charlie White, arrived in Chicago Wednesday from New Orleans, where White stopped Thomas in two rounds. Lewis at once got in touch with Danny Morgan in an effort to close a Britton-White scrap for the Wisconsin city this month. Morgan is holding out for a big guarantee.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

Mobile at Atlanta at Ponce DeLeon.
Game called at 3:45 o'clock.
Memphis at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Chattanooga.
Montgomery at Nashville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Mobile	27	15	.643	M'phis	18	19	.486
Atlanta	21	18	.538	Chatt.	18	19	.486
N'ville	20	18	.526	B'ham	16	19	.457
Mon'gy	19	19	.500	N. Or.	12	24	.333

Thursday's Results.

Atlanta 7, Mobile 2.
Other games postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Games Friday.

No games scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	20	9	.690	St. L.	16	21	.432
C'land	22	12	.647	Boston	14	19	.424
W'gton	18	12	.600	Detroit	12	22	.353
Ch'cago	21	14	.600	N. York	9	23	.281

Thursday's Results.

Philadelphia 7, Detroit 3.
Cleveland 5, Washington 0.
St. Louis 7, New York 0.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Pittsburg at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Phila.	19	7	.731	Ch'go	17	16	.515
B'klyn	19	12	.613	P'burg	15	18	.455
N. York	15	14	.517	Boston	10	17	.370
St. L.	16	15	.516	C'nati	9	21	.300

Thursday's Results.

Pittsburg 1, Brooklyn 0.
Other games postponed, rain.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Opelika at LaGrange.
Talladega at Anniston.
Gadsden at Newnan.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
adsd'n	11	4	.733	Ann'ton	7	8	.467
T'dega	8	7	.533	Opelika	7	9	.438
Newnan	8	7	.533	LaGr'ge	5	11	.313

Thursday's Results.

LaGrange 4, Opelika 3.
Other games postponed; rain.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Cordele at Thomasville.
Valdosta at Waycross.
Americus at Brunswick.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
V'dosta	11	8	.579	W'cross	10	9	.526
Cordele	11	8	.579	Am'cus	8	11	.421
Th'ville	10	9	.526	B'wick	7	12	.368

Thursday's Results.

Cordele 7, Thomasville 5.
Americus 7, Brunswick 4.
Valdosta 6, Waycross 1.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Friday's Games.

Macon at Albany.
Charleston at Columbus.
Savannah at Jacksonville.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pc.		W.	L.	Pc.
Sav'nah	24	6	.800	C'bus	14	15	.483
J'ville	15	15	.500	Ch'ston	13	16	.448
Macon	15	15	.500	Albany	8	22	.267

Thursday's Results.

Savannah 5, Jacksonville 1.
Macon 4, Albany 1.
Charleston-Columbus; rain.

OTHER RESULTS.

Texas League.

Dallas 5, San Antonio 2.
Beaumont 13, Fort Worth 6.
Houston 13, Austin 1.
Galveston 8, Waco 6.

Cotton States League.

All games postponed; rain.

Carolina Association.

Winston-Salem 6, Greensboro 2.
Asheville 11, Durham 5.
Raleigh 5, Charlotte 3.

Virginia League.

Petersburg 4, Portsmouth 1.
Roanoke 1, Norfolk 1.
Richmond 12, Newport News 4.

Sporting Food
By GEORGE E. PHAIR

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN.

When Heine Zim starts going some
He makes a lot of fuss.
He puts the whole world on the bum
And does not care a cuss.
And yet he would not do the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

When Heine Zim is fancy free
He is a wild young gent.
He is a willing slave to the
Artistic temperament.
And yet he would not pull the same
If Frank L. Chance were in the game.

Joe Thomas, the youth whom Charlie White walloped, is called the pride of New Orleans. This demonstrates how easy it is to be proud.

WHY SHOULD FATHER WORRY?

Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes six.
What matter if Murphy has lines on his brow
With the Cubs in a heluva fix?

Los Angeles and San Francisco are fighting over the Ritchie-Rivers match, demonstrating how easy it is to start a fight.

LINES TO CHARLEY FRANK.

You may change, you may censor your words if you will,
But the scent of alfalfa will cling to them still.

ATLANTA 3 MATS. MON. WED. SAT. 25c — All This Week — The Deep Purple — Miss Billy Long Co. — Nights 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c. — Next—ST. ELMO—Seats Now

FORSYTH DAILY M/T. 2:30 EVENIN 8:30 — ADAM & EVE—GALLAGHER & FIELDS—JOSEPHINE DUNFEE—JOHN GEIGER—NEVIN & ERWOOD—BRADSHAW BROS. & DUNEDIN TROUPE — KEITH VAUDEVILLE HIGHEST QUALITY

BASEBALL TO-DAY — MOBILE vs. ATLANTA — Ponce DeLeon Park 3:45 o'Clock

Make State and County tax returns now. Office corner Pryor and Hunter Streets. T. M. Armistead, Tax Receiver.

White City Park Now Open

BROU'S INJECTION—A PERMANENT CURE of the most obstinate cases guaranteed in from 3 to 6 days; no other treatment required. Sold by all druggists.

"THE VICTOR"  DR. WOOLLEY'S SANITARIUM — Opium and Whisky and all inebriety and drug addictions scientifically treated. Our 30 years' experience shows these diseases are curable. Patients also treated at their homes. Consultation confidential. A book on the subject free. DR. B. E. WOOLLEY & SON., No. 2-A Victor Sanitarium, Atlanta, Ga.

NOTICE! Closing-Out-Ends $7, $8, $9 Trousers Made-to-Measure $3.50 FORDON — THE TAILOR, Inc. 8-10 N. Pryor St. NEAR UNION DEPOT

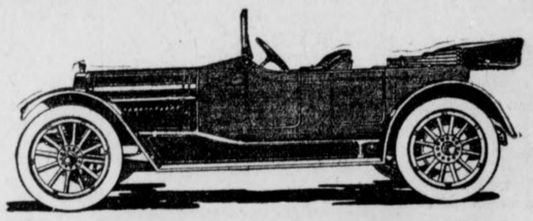
BIG G Cures in 1 to 5 days unnatural discharges. Contains no poison and may be used full strength absolutely without fear. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents contagion. WHY NOT CURE YOURSELF? At Druggists, or we ship express prepaid upon receipt of $1. Full particulars mailed on request. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

John Ruskin A Cigar FOR ALL MEN Two Sizes AFTER DINNER RECESS 5¢

MONEY — LOANED TO SALARIED MEN AT LAWFUL RATES ON PROMISSORY NOTES Without Endorsement Without Collateral Security Without Real Estate Security NATIONAL DISCOUNT CO. 1211-12 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Mitchell

MANY of you are considering owning an automobile, but haven't yet decided just which one you want.



When you come to investigate the 1913 Mitchell car—made by a company that has built good vehicles since 1834—you will find so many strong reasons for owning a Mitchell that your doubts as to which car you want will be solved.

In the Mitchell you will find only the highest quality of workmanship and materials.

The first look will satisfy as to the lines and finish: simple elegance and comfort throughout: combined in a design assuring strength, power and durability.

Here are some of the 1913 Mitchell features—things you ceratinly should have in your car:

Long stroke T-head Motor.

Electric Self Starter and Electric Lighting System

Left Drive and Center Control. Thirty-six-inch Wheels.
Firestone Demountable Rims. Bosch Ignition.
Rayfield Carburetor. French Belaise Springs.
Timken Front Axle Bearings. Jones Speedometer.
Silk Mohair Top with Dust Cover. Turkish Upholstered Cushions.
Gasoline Tank Gauge. Portable Electric Lamp.

Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company
Racine, Wisconsin
Factory Branch Mitchell Motor Co. of Atlanta, 316-318 Peachtree St.

The Mistakes of Jennie

By HAL COFFMAN

Being a Series of Chapters in the Life of a Southern Girl in the Big City

The Man Held Her Tight in His Arms.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Jennie got home that night she told her boarding house keeper she was going out the next day—being Sunday—with Tom. They were going into the country and have dinner at some little inn that Tom knew about. So the next morning she hurried out to where she was to meet THE MAN. He was waiting for her with a big touring car and a chauffeur to drive it. And Jennie, in her plain little white dress, couldn't help but look in wide-eyed wonder at such luxury and grandeur, and could hardly realize that she was going to ride in it all day long.

THE MAN helped her in, and was very careful to arrange the robes "just so," and explained to her it would never do for his little "pal" to get achilled.

Oo-! Golly! Thought Jennie, this is even better than the taxicab—and the cushions were so soft and "comfy."

And so they rolled on and on, until early afternoon, when they came to the quaintest looking little hotel that nestled in the trees by the side of the road. And THE MAN said they were going to have the daintiest luncheon that Jennie ever tasted. The landlord bowed and smiled, and seemed very happy to see THE MAN, and ushered them into a private room, where the table was all set as if waiting for them. And everything had an air of being prearranged. But Jennie was so happy she didn't notice it, or the side glances of understanding between the landlord and THE MAN—as if he had been there many times before.

THE MAN ordered cocktails, and it tasted so warm and nice to Jennie that she didn't say no, when THE MAN asked her to have another one before they ate their luncheon. After the second one, Jennie felt so happy she wanted to sing and laugh both at the same time, and didn't quite realize at first when THE MAN held her tight in his arms and was kissing her.

* * * * *

An hour or two after Jennie had left the house that morning Tom came over for her to go out with him to spend Sunday as they both had become accustomed to do. Jennie's boarding house friend was great'y surprised when she saw Tom—for Jennie had told her she was going out with Tom that day.

Tom told her there had been no definite arrangement made, but had just come over to call for Jennie the same as he had always done. And then Jennie's friend realized for the first time that the little girl had lied to her.

—HAL COFFMAN.

(To Be Continued.)

Up-to-Date Jokes

When Professor Rokitanski, of Vienna, was asked if he had any sons he answered, "Four."

"And what professions have they chosen?"

"Two howl and two heal," was the laconic reply.

A couple of his sons were public singers and the other two were doctors.

"Where have you been, Frank?"

"In Manchester."

"What were you doing there?"

"I ran a photograph gallery."

"Did you get anything to do?"

"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them left on the doorstep."

Just Dogs

"NOTHING is more like a man than a dog is," declared the candy store proprietor. "I'm just like a dog myself. I even know what a dog is thinking more than half the time when I am watching him.

"Yesterday I saw a dog a block and a half away. I knew at once that something was wrong with him. He had a sneaky, uncomfortable look. He hung his head. As I passed him, the dog hailed me after the fashion of fellows of the same guild and with the same spirit of comradeship.

"Suddenly—'Danny!' The word of reproof smote the air. Danny had known all the time that the woman who owned him was watching him, waiting for a chance to give him a rebuke. That's why he had the famous hangdog expression. He knew that it was impossible for him to keep free from scolding. I knew how he felt.

"Some dogs are very particular not to speak to you until you have spoken to them first. There is a scraggy dog that comes to our house from time to time, visits for a few days, and then departs, either to go home or to visit somewhere else. We may not see him again for a month or six weeks.

"Just the other day he appeared at our house. The kids were playing on the porch and didn't see him. He sauntered into the yard in a casual sort of way and lay down on the lawn, watching the children with a very alert expression.

"Finally one of them saw him and cried, 'Why, there's Babs!' That is our name for him, since we do not know his real name.

"At this greeting Babs tore up the porch steps and nearly wiggled himself into a frazzle in his delight. I am like that.

"A dog is very bitter in his hatred of flies, fleas, cats and firecrackers. He hates like sin to have to get out of the way of an automobile, and music and carpet dust nearly kill him. He is so like me in these things."

Act Quickly

Don't wait until you have some ailment caused by poor digestion, biliousness, or by inactive bowels which may lead to a serious sickness. Immediate relief is afforded by that best corrective and preventive

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Do You Know That—

The Canadian Parliament is one of the few Parliaments in the world where speeches in two languages are allowed. This, of course, is due to the large French and English elements in Canada. For instance, when the Canadian House of Commons is sitting in committee, should a French-Canadian start to address the House in French, you may see the English chairman retire from his seat and allow a French chairman to take his place. In the same manner the official English reporters cease work and a staff of French shorthand writers begin.

Owing to the frequency of weak excuses for leave of absence from work many employers have framed a special code of rules to govern days off. The following are the regulations of one firm: "1. One day off for funeral of any relative where death certificate is produced. 2. All marriages and honeymoons to be arranged during annual holidays or not at all. 3 The burying of more than three uncles or aunts a year not accepted as an excuse for absence. 4. For sickness where it is proved days off allowed."

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the royal standard on his motor cars. A flag on which are emblazoned the words, "God with us," will be painted on transparent glass, which will be electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car, so that it will be recognized a long way off.

Wished He Hadn't.

"You see," he exclaimed, as he showed her the wishbone of the Christmas turkey, "you take hold there and I take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you!" he exclaimed.

"You really wish for me?" she asked.

"Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile. "You can have me."

A Matter of Observation.

Lexton Sake entered the room and critically examined the surroundings. Then suddenly his eye lighted on the clew for which he sought.

"Aha!" he exclaimed. "It was from a hole somewhere in this room that the mouse emerged!"

His companion opened his eyes wide in wonderment; then——

"Your power of scent," he remarked, "is positively marvelous, Blexton."

"Power of scent be hanged," replied the great detective. "Don't you see the heel-marks of a woman's shoe on this chair—eh?"

She Forgot.

The order which the comely young German woman handed in at the Post-office Savings Bank was made payable to Gretchen H. Schmidt, and she had signed it simply Gretchen Schmidt. The man at the counter called her back to rectify the mistake just as she was turning away.

"See, you have forgotten the 'H.,'" he explained.

The young woman looked at her receipt and then blushed a rosy red.

"Ach, so I haf," she murmured, and wrote hurriedly:

"Age, 23."

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly Company. The play "Within the Law" is copyrighted by Mr. Veiller and this novelization of it is published by his permission. The American Play Company is the sole proprietor of the exclusive rights of the representation and performance of "Within the Law" in all languages.

By MARVIN DANA from the Play by BAYARD VEILLER.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

At last Gilder was restored in a meaure to his self-possession. He spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

Gilder looked at her with a newly dawning respect; then his shrewdness suggested a retort.

Mary Laughed.

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said.

Mary laughed. There was something dreadful in that burst of spurious amusement.

"Why not?" she answered. "I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed the true heart of him, in which love for his boy was before all else. He found himself wholly at a loss before the woman's unexpected reply.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will——"

At that moment the son himself entered hurriedly from the hallway. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman whom he loved. At his entrance Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming, even though she had known he must come—perhaps from some other emotion, deeper, hidden as yet even from himself.

The young man, with his wholesome face alight with tenderness, went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent, motionless, abashed by the event. And Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressing it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said, happily, "but I left him a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

The voice of the older man came with a sinister force and saturnine.

"No, Dick, I haven't had any note."

"Then, why——?" The young man broke off suddenly. He was become aware that here was something malignant, with a meaning beyond his present understanding, for he saw the inspector and Demarest, and he knew the two of them for what they were officially.

A Pawn in the Game.

"What are they doing here?" he demanded suspiciously, staring at the two.

"Oh, never mind them," Mary said. There was a malevolent gleam in her violet eyes. This was the recompense of which she had dreamed through soul-wearing ages. "Just tell your father your news, Dick."

The young man had no comprehension of the fact that he was only a pawn in the game. He spoke with simple pride.

"Dad, we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Always, Mary stared with her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder himself seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

Mary rejoiced to make the knowledge sure.

"I married your son this morning," she said, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him."

In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speecch against this calamity that had befallen him.

It was Burke who offered a diversion, a crude interruption after his own fashion.

"It's a frame-up," he roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Way, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And, by G——, she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face, which had grown older by years with the passing of the seconds.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

There was no quiver in her voice as she answered. She drew her hand from his clasp and spoke evenly.

"It's the truth."

"It's the truth!" the young man repeated, incredulously.

The Son Interrupted.

"It is the truth," Mary said, firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years. It was the father who broke it, and now his voice was become tremulous.

"I wanted to save you, Dick. That's why I came."

The son interrupted him violently.

"There's a mistake—there must be."

It was Demarest who gave an official touch to the tragedy of the moment.

"There's no mistake," he said. There was authority in his statement.

"There is, I tell you!" Dick cried, horrified by this conspiracy of defamation. He turned his tortured face to his bride of a day.

"Mary," he said, huskily, "there is a mistake."

Something in her face appalled him. He was voiceless for a few terrible instants. Then he spoke again, more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary preserved her poise. Yes—she must not forget! This was the hour of her triumph. What mattered it that the honey of it was as ashes in her mouth? She spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, so trusted her, was overwhelmed by the revelation. He stood trembling for a moment, tottered, almost it seemed would have fallen, but presently steadied himself and sank supinely into a chair, where he sat in impotent suffering.

To Be Continued To-morrow.

PLATES Made and Delivered Same Day

$5

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S

GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS

24½ Whitehall Street

(Over Brown & Allen's)

Gold Crowns $4—Bridge Work $4

All Work Guaranteed

Hours 8-6 Phone M. 1703 Sunday 9-1

Wonders of the Wonderful SUNDAY AMERICAN

Great Exclusive Features That Cannot Be Found in Any Other Sunday Newspaper

Tom Powers,

THE FAMOUS CARTOONIST, has some very funny pictures that will keep you laughing all week

A Jeff and Mutt

Cartoon that is full of humor

John Temple Graves

Writes on this striking question, "Shall a Wife Obey?"

The Newly Found Oldest Gospels, and What They Really Mean.

Should Women's Wages Be Fixed by Law.

A Short Story by Rudyard Kipling.

Woman Suffrage in Dixie.

Book Reviews, by Edwin Markham and Roswell Field.

A Remarkable Comic Section

Happy Hooligan Proposes to SUSANNE Again

Howson Lott Has Some Visitors

Mr. Batch Has a Narrow Escape

Jimmy — He Is At It Again

Just Why a Pitcher Can Curve a Baseball.
Why Every Woman Married for Six Years Ought to Go to Work.
Coronium—A New Gas, Whose Power is So Great That a Balloon Filled With It the Size of a Baseball Would Raise an Elephant from the Ground.
A Game of Polo That Cost $12,000 a Minute.
Daring Train Robbers—Remarkable Stories Told by Sophie Lyons.
Why Blondes Must Be Abolished, by Edna Goodrich, the Beautiful Actress.
May Irwin's Recipes.
Ruth St. Denis Tells How Dancing Develops a Beautiful Figure.
Tango Tea Gowns, by Lucille, the World-Famous Dressmaker.

All These and Dozens of Other Great Features in The Sunday American

A Newspaper For the Home

With Something in It For Everybody

THE Sunday American

Is "The Market Place of the South" for Advertisers

Order Your Copy Now

Both Phones MAIN 8000

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

Daysey Mayme And Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton was a student in school, none was as quick as she in deciding how many rolls of paper it would require for a room seventeen feet square, with walls twelve feet high, allowing for two doors and seven windows. Given the dimensions of a cistern, she could remove her wad of chewing gum, stick it on the under side of her desk, go to the blackboard and figure how many cubic feet of water it would take to fill the cistern and get back to her desk before her gum was cold.

She ate up problems in compound interest, gloated over questions involving the displacement of battleships, and no other girl got as much chalk on her nose and clothes in figuring just when and where we will bump into Mars.

Every Bonaparte finally meets his Wellington, and Daysey Mayme at last met hers. She had charge of the kitchen, and was down on her knees in front of the refrigerator with the day's purchase of groceries beside her when her colors went down in defeat.

Mathematical Shapes.

The butter jar was square, the milk was in bottles, the cold potatoes filled an oval dish and the prunes were in a round bowl. With eyes that could tell at a glance the distance between Jupiter and Mars, she saw that the refrigerator shelves were eighteen inches deep and two feet long, and that there were three of them.

"Let x," she began, mechanically, "represent the lard, y the eggs and z the roast; then x plus y plus z will equal one-third of the top shelf, leaving two-thirds for a, the stewed prunes; b, the cream, and c, the tomatoes."

She found the displacement of the roast was such there was no room for x, y, and a, b and c, and in trying to crowd the milk bottles on the eggs she broke three, and yellow and white leaked down over the prunes on the shelf beneath. She used every trick in science to reduce the round cans, the oval dishes and the square boxes to a space small enough to make room for the cheese, upsetting a bowl of frosting into the buttermilk jar and the salad dressing over a rice pudding.

Sat on a Pie.

The present was hard enough to bear, and when her brain leaped forward to the season when the watermelon must also be figured with she sat recklessly back on a pie and began to cry.

"Oh, Lord," she prayed, beating her head against a dish of cold potatoes, "either make woman's brains large enough to solve her problems or make watermelons smaller."

"Oh," she added a moment later, when she had found she couldn't balance the cream bottles on the roast, "if you can't make them smaller, make them square."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

HIS LOVE IS SELFISH.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man seven years my senior. He always says he loves me and often speaks of marriage, although we do not consider ourselves engaged. He never goes with other girls and expects me not to meet other boys. Has he a right to expect this, and is it right for me to go with other young men?

MABEL.

Professions of love and the occasional mention of marriage do not constitute an engagement. There must be a definite proposal and an engagement ring.

Until there is an engagement neither has the right of monopoly of the other's time, and not then if both parties have a faith that is above jealousy. You are 17—too young by several years to be engaged.

ASK HER.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 20 and in love with a girl two years my junior, with whom I have been acquainted for several years. I have been calling on her and taking her out, with the permission of her parents. Whenever I approve of one of her friendly actions she claims she would do that same thing for anybody whom she liked. How can I learn whether she loves me or not?

ANXIOUS.

There is only one way: Ask her. But don't ask her unless you are financially able to follow up your question with a proposal of marriage and an engagement ring.

DON'T DO IT.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Can I gain a man's respect by allowing him to kiss me goodnight after a little evening's outing?

I have reference to a very fine young man whom I have known but a short time. I am 19 years old.

A. E.

I am sure no man's lasting regard is won that way. Save your kisses for the man you love.

"Just Say"

HORLICK'S

It Means
Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A Quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S

Others are imitations.

THE TRIPLE TIE

A Story for Baseball Fans That Will Interest Every Lover of the National Game

$250 in Prizes for Best Solution of "The Triple Tie"

YOU read the first four installments of the great baseball mystery story of "The Triple Tie" and now you have a fair idea of the simplicity of the offer The Georgian makes—how you may win $100 by working out the solution of the mystery as nearly as its author, A. H. C. Mitchell, has done as you can.

Mr. Mitchell has written the last chapter, but his copy is sealed up in a vault at the American National Bank. When all but this final chapter has been printed, The Georgian readers will be asked to submit to three competent judges, none of them connected with this newspaper, their version of what the grand denouement should be.

To the person who most closely approximates Mr. Mitchell's final chapter $100 will be awarded. Other prizes, making the total prize list $250, also will be distributed.

Here is the list of the awards:

No. 1	$100
No. 2	$50
No. 3	$25
No. 4	$15
Nos. 5 to 16, each	5

Read this fifth installment of the great mystery story and you will not need to be urged to read the succeeding chapters. The story will grip you. As you read, try to follow the author's channel of thought and when the time comes for you to sit down and write that final chapter, be ready to win one of the big cash prizes in The Georgian's great offer.

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

Gordon looked at his watch. "I can only spare half an hour—say forty minutes, Judge," he laughed. "You see, I am taking some lessons and the hours are from 10 to 12 in the morning and 2 to 4 in the afternoon."

"I'm glad to learn that you are starting right in to improve yourself, Gordon. Lord knows there were many things that could not be had up in the mountains where you were forced to spend all your life."

"I have no complaint to make, Judge. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I formed an ambition up there that I want to see realized."

"What is it?"

"I'll tell you as soon as I feel sure I can win out," laughed Gordon.

To his wife Deery telephoned from his office that there would a guest for dinner. "I may do some business with him at some future date," he explained, "but that has nothing to do with it at present. He is a friend of Judge Barbee's. In fact, the Judge is a sort of guardian of his. He has lived all his life in the mountains, but you would never know it to talk with him. He has never been in a city before, but you would never suspect that either. Please pass the word along to Mildred and tell her she will be interested."

At five minutes of seven o'clock that evening Gordon Kelly entered the Deery residence and a moment later was escorted into the living room by Mr. Deery, who presented him to his wife.

"This is Mr. Gordon Kelly, dear; my wife, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, and after courtesies had been exchanged, he added: "Where is Mildred?"

At that moment his daughter crossed the threshold, and as she caught sight of Gordon she stood stock still. Recovering herself instantly, she advanced and held out her hand as the young man was presented to her. Before half a dozen words could be spoken, dinner was announced.

A Warning Glance.

"I don't intend to talk of the weather, Mr. Kelly, but I would like to ask if you were caught in the storm this morning?" said Mrs. Deery, as the napkins were unfolded.

Gordon intercepted a quick, warning glance from Mildred, who was seated opposite him, and answered:

"I certainly did, Mrs. Deery. I was caught out in the suburbs and caught most of the rain, too, but fortunately I found a friend right handy and was able to dry my clothes; otherwise I should have been in a predicament."

"You were fortunate after all," smiled Mrs. Deery, "but Mildred was out in the whole drenching rain and had a most exciting adventure. You haven't heard a word about it, Galen. Mildred, tell Mr. Kelly and your father all about it."

"You tell them, please, mother," pleaded Mildred, with a slight flush.

Thereupon Mrs. Deery related the incidents of the morning, exaggerating only so much as it is a woman's right to exaggerate. She omitted, however, the mean part played by Forrest Cain. Neither did she mention the hand-holding episode, for in truth her daughter had not told her of it.

"That was very kind of you to turn back, Miss Deery," said Gordon, with a smile. "As near as I can make out the young man was at fault in not looking out for himself."

"Now I think you are fishing for compliments for that young man, Mr. Kelly," returned Mildred. "You men always stand up for each other that way."

It was evident to Gordon that Mildred desired to conceal from her parents that he, Gordon Kelly, was the young man referred to. Beyond a slight start when she first saw him in her home, she had no sign of ever having seen him before. Gordon could not fathom her reasons for wishing the matter kept secret, but he felt bound to respect them.

She Flushed Slightly.

Mrs. Deery started another topic.

"My husband tells me you have lived all your life in the mountains northwest of us," she said. "Didn't you find it losesome up there?"

"Oh, mother, let Mr. Kelly tell us what he thinks of Atlanta," broke in Mildred quickly. "Isn't it a fine city, Mr. Kelly?"

She flushed again slightly, though Gordon could not understand why she did so. He answered:

"It certainly is, Miss Deery, but the thing that impressed me most when I arrived was the roar and rumble of it. Where I have lived the only noise we hear is the sound of the wind through the trees."

The conversation drifted into small talk. Mildred turned aside every attempt made by her parents to draw out Gordon in regard to his life in the mountains, and this was another thing in connection with the young womar. he couldn't understand.

The dinner ended and Mrs. Deery asked if Gordon would care to play bridge.

"That is an accomplishment I haven't acquired," laughed Gordon, "but I must study it up."

"Take my advice and don't do it," declared Deery. "In a moment of mental aberration I allowed myself to learn the rudiments of the game. Never again!" He held up his right hand impressively. "Since that fatal hour my wife and daughter have insisted on dragging me shrieking to all sorts of bridge parties for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home, or some such charitable affair."

They all laughed at this. It was not until Gordon was taking his leave that he managed to have a word with Mildred alone. He said:

"Tell me why you make a mystery of my connection with your adventure of the morning?"

"Sh-h," she replied with a sly look. "It's a secret."

"And why wouldn't you allow me to tell of my life in the mountains?"

"Sh-h," replied Mildred with an adorable smile. "That is secret No. 2."

Cordial Invitations.

"Won't you tell me?"

"I hope so—some time."

"By the way, Mr. Kelly," said Deery, coming up to where they stood. "You ought to know some of the young men of Atlanta. If you will take lunch with me tomorrow, I will have you meet one of them, Forrest Cain, who, I know, would be glad to make things pleasant for you while you are in Atlanta."

"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I—" He felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline. Unfortunately I have another engagement."

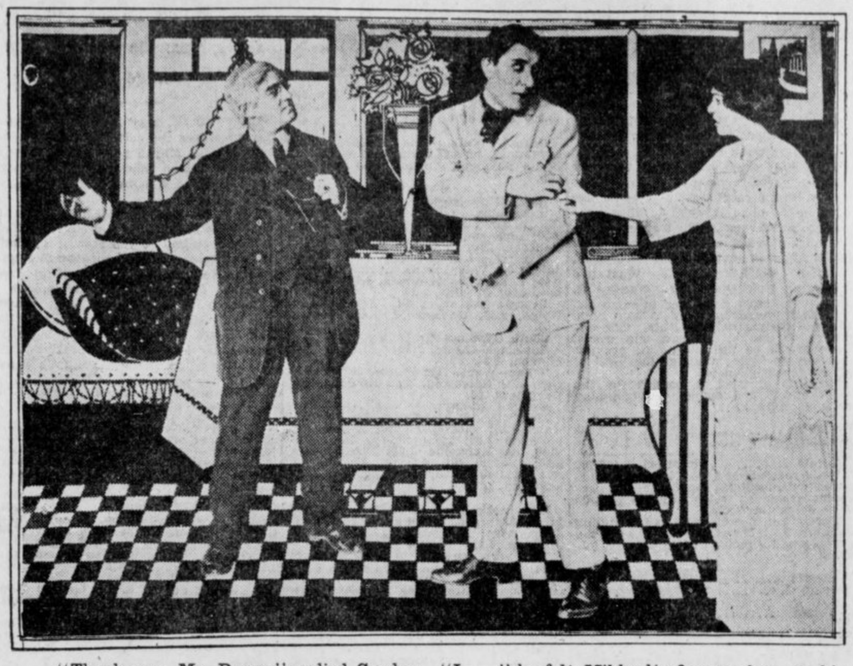
Deery noticed the hesitancy, but made no comment beyond. "Well, some other time, perhaps."

There were cordial invitations to "come again," at which Gordon said: "I'm not very well versed in etiquette, Mrs. Deery, but am I not entitled to make a 'party call'?"

"You certainly are," laughed Mrs. Deery, "come and see us the last of the week. What night, Mildred?"

"Come Thursday, Mr. Kelly," said Mildred.

His heart as light as a feather, Gordon Kelly walked home on aeriform fluid.



"Thank you, Mr. Deery," replied Gordon. "I——" he felt Mildred's fingers close on his arm in a slight pressure. "I—I'm obliged to decline."

CHAPTER VII.

FORREST CAIN, having nothing in particular to do except amuse himself and having plenty of money to do it with, spent considerable time every year in New York. He usually took three yearly trips and sometimes four to the metropolis, besides spending several weeks there in the hot season. In New York he always lived at the Niagara Club, so called because it flowed on with a roar from day to day and from month to month and from year to year. It never closed its doors. One could get a drink, or a meal, there at any hour of the day or night. Its membership consisted largely of wealthy young men of leisure—the same kind of New Yorkers in New York that Cain was in Atlanta. It was the sort of a club to appeal to a man of Cain's habits and inclinations.

The lure of Broadway and the call of the Niagara Club sounded from afar in the ears of Forrest Cain early in March, and he promptly made preparations for a trip to New York, completely forgetting the promise he had made to Galen Deery to take the young man from the mountains in tow. Transportation was secured for the following Thursday night. Cain engaging a stateroom on a Pullman car. Twice on Tuesday and twice on Wednesday he called up the Deery residence on the telephone, but the maid who answered the ring, after ascertaining who it was that was calling, told him Miss Deery was not at home. Early Thursday night he called up again, with the same result. Thereupon he proceeded to his club and spent the few hours before train time with convivial companions. Knowing the habitual inclinations of through Southern trains to be late, he took the precaution, about the time he should have left for the depot, to call up and find out about this particular train, and learned that it was nearly two hours behind schedule. He then took another chance of finding Mildred Deery, but the same maid assured him that she was not at home. Requesting that she be informed that he was leaving that night for New York, he hung up the receiver.

He then remembered that he had some orders to give regarding the overhauling of his automobile, and walked around to the garage, which was only a short distance from his club. He arrived just in time to dodge a smart shower of rain. As he was giving his instructions, the telephone in the office of the garage rang, and the proprietor answered the call. Cain heard half the conversation.

"Yes, this is the garage. Yes, Miss Deery. Yes, I understand. I'll have a car around in five minutes. All right. Goodbye."

"Where is she telephoning from?" asked Cain.

"From her home. She has a guest there who evidently doesn't care to walk home in the rain. So much the better for the automobile business. Every little helps."

"And they told me she wasn't at home," said Cain to himself, gritting his teeth. "What do you know about that?" Who was this favored guest, he wondered, and why was he, Forrest Cain, told repeatedly that Miss Deery was "not at home?"

An idea seized him. He would find out for himself. He had more than an hour to spare. His baggage was taken care of and his man, George, was waiting for him at the depot with his grip-sack. He would play the role of chauffeur and drive the car to the Deery residence and take the favored guest to his home, after which he would return to the garage and have himself driven to the depot.

Pulled His Cap Down.

"Lend me a coat and cap, Davis," said Cain to the owner of the garage. "I need some air before I get on that stuffy train. I'll drive the car and collect the fare and bring back every penny of it."

Cain was one of the best customers of the garage, and he was an expert driver, so the proprietor readily gave his consent. Slipping on a long tan coat and pulling a cap well down over his eyes, Cain climbed into a touring car. The top was up, and the curtains were in place to keep out the rain. An employee cranked the car, and with Cain at the wheel it moved slowly out of the garage.

Arriving at the Deery residence, Cain sounded the horn to indicate that the car was there. A moment later the front door opened and the figure of a man holding an umbrella to be protected from the smart rain ran down the path to the sidewalk. Cain pulled his cap further down over his eyes and waited for the umbrella to be lowered. An electric light blazed only a few feet away. As he reached the side of the car, the man threw open the door, closed the umbrella with a snap and entered the vehicle. Quick as were his movements in order to avoid the rain, Cain was able to recognize his passenger the same young man he had so nearly run over in front of Ponce DeLeon Park in the furious rainstorm of Saturday morning; in short, it was, as the reader knows, George Kelly.

Cain stifled his rage and demanded in a gruff voice: "Where to?"

"Imperial Hotel," replied Kelly.

As he put the car in motion, wild thoughts filled the mind of Forrest Cain. For the first time in his life he was evidently not having his own way in a matter he had undertaken. Ever since he was old enough to walk he had ruled the Cain household. As a boy he was arrogant and self-willed. Since his father died, nine years before, he had shared with his sister the income from a large fortune. His money had enabled him to have everything he wanted. A few weeks ago he had made up his mind to marry Mildred Deery. It is true that she was not aware of this decision,and what her true feelings in regard to him were he did not know, nor did this matter trouble him much. Was he not one of the richest, if not the richest, bachelor in Atlanta? Was he not considered the great "catch?" Why, then, should he not marry the girl that suited his fancy?

Things had gone along swimmingly, he flattered himself, until this young man had crossed his path and had nearly met his death in doing so. He acknowledged to himself that he was a little rough in his talk to the fellow that day and Mildred had taken offense. But he had tried hard to "square" himself—to make amends. Had he not sent her flowers? Had he not repeatedly tried to talk with her over the telephone? Had he not tried twice that very night to do so and was he not told that she was "not at home?"

Cain was boiling with anger as his thoughts reached a sort of climax. She was not at home to him, it seemed, but she was at home to this stranger. Who was this man? How did Mildred find out who he was and where he lived? There must be a stop to the whole business. And he, Forrest Cain, was the man to stop it. Here was his chance. He would—

The car had arrived at the end of the street. To go to the Imperial Hotel a turn should be made to the right. Instead of doing this, however, Cain turned to the left and took a direction that would lead out of town. He speeded up the machine to the limit of its capacity, with a vague idea of intimidating the passenger on the rear seat, and the car flew down a hill at a terrifying pace. Rain was still falling sharply, making the roads wet and slippery and the car rolled and tossed and skidded in an alarming manner.

To be Continued To-morrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Gordon Kelly, a young North Georgia mountaineer, comes to Atlanta to get a place with Billy Smith's Crackers. It is raining when he reaches Ponce DeLeon and he is nearly run over by an auto, in which are two persons—a man and a young girl. The driver of the car is an arrogant fellow. The girl makes him stop the machine. She gets out and inquires if Kelly is injured. She apologizes for her companion's brusque manner. Kelly sees Manager Smith and tells him he has never played a game of ball. Smith consents to give Kelly a trial. The girl in the auto is Mildred Deery, daughter of Galen Deery, a crafty and wealthy speculator in timber lands. Her companion is Forrest Cain, a rich young man about town. Kelly owns timber land that Deery would like to possess.

Now go on with the story.

She Was So Neat

"ANY man who is married to a fine housekeeper is a most unfortunate creature," said the easy-going man. "It is not pleasant to live in the same block with one.

"A splendid housekeeper is much like a hawk—always on the lookout to descend upon some one and stick her claws into him or her, mostly him.

"That style of housekeeper, like a hawk, keeps mostly out of sight, busy away off somewhere. Then when you are sitting on a tabouret, there is a whirr—and down she comes! Right on your neck with her talons!

"I know the husband of a fine housekeeper who has to pull off his shoes and climb up the banisters to keep from soiling the carpet on the stairs, and he even gets into trouble for scratching the banisters a little in sliding down them.

"Another man I know has to wash his face and hands out in the laundry so that he wouldn't mess up the bedoilied bathroom. Others take their baths at the club or go without.

"A hawk woman will descend upon a scrap of paper on the lawn, and should any unfortunate person catch a glimpse of her face at such a time he will not soon forget it! One would think that the scrap of paper was guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

"Such a woman is never happy and never satisfied. Life is just one messy thing after another. Eating is a dreadful performance, to be endured like the boring of a cavity or the killing of a nerve in a tooth.

"Sleeping is another filthy habit, and causes untidy beds and horrid wrinkly linen.

"Having people walking on the carpets is about as pleasant for a splendid housekeeper as saw sharpening is to a violin professor.

"If an uncle from the country comes into such a woman's parlor with his boots on and trailing behind him his nine hobble-shoed children, and they sit on the furniture and swing their legs and eat candy and play jacks and shoot marbles and slide down the banisters and have a pillow fight, it results fatally for the poor woman."

One of Two Things.

A Kentucky mountain woman fell ill and for the first time in his life her husband had to work. It devolved upon him to nurse the invalid, look after a large family of tow-headed children, milk the cow, feed the pig, cook the meals and tend a straggly half acre of corn. At the end of ten days of these frightful labors he staggered down to the general store at the forks of the road and fell at the doorway in an exhausted heap. The storekeeper came out and said:

"Halloa, Anse, how's yore wife?"

"She ain't no better," moaned the husband. "I paid out a whole four bits for a bottle of bitters for her, but it seems like hit don't do her no good. I'm plumb wore out!"

He paused a moment and sighed deeply.

"Sometimes," he said, "I git to wishin' the old woman would git well—or somethin'!"

KODAKS

"The Best Finishing and Enlarging That Can Be Produced." Kaptman, Photos and complete stock amateur supplies. Quick mail service for out-of-town customers. Send for Catalog and Price List.

A. K. HAWKES CO. KODAK DEPT.

14 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

A MIGHTY monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold

To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse yet wise—

A precept, soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn.

Many the maxim sent the king, men say,
The one he chose: "This, too, shall pass away."

Oh, jewel sentence from the mine of truth!
What riches it contains for age or youth!

No stately epic, measured and sublime,
So comforts, or so counsels, for all time

As these few words. Go write them on your heart
And make them of your daily life a part.

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away—absorb the thought,

And wait; your waiting will not be in vain,
Time glides with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark to-day leads into light to-morrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow,

Are you upon earth's heights? No cloud in view?
Go read your motto once again: This, too,

Shall pass away. Fame, glory, place and power,
They are but little baubles of the hour,

Flung by the ruthless years down in the dust,
Take warning and be worthy of God's trust.

Use well your prowess while it lasts; leave bloom,
Not blight, to mark your footprints to the tomb.

The truest greatness lies in being kind,
The truest wisdom in a happy mind.

He who desponds, his Maker's judgment mocks;
The gloomy Christian is a paradox.

Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short we need to make it broad,

Since life is brief we need to make it bright,
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,

And let its meaning permeate each day.
Whatever comes—This, too, shall pass away.

.:. Their Married Life .:.

Warren Gets Out His Summer Clothes and Helen Gives Away the Wrong Suit.

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

"DEAR, you'll never wear them," persisted Helen. "What's the use of keeping them any longer? Let me give these two suits to the elevator boy."

"Hold on now—not so fast! What've you got there?" scowled Warren, coming over to where Helen was examining two suits by the window.

"Why, this old blue serge, and this brown suit."

"Let's see—give them here. What's the matter with this?" as he held up the blue serge.

"Why, Warren, it's all worn shiny. And there's that new blue serge you got last summer. You'll never wear this old one."

"I'm not so sure. That's a good suit yet. Just the thing to wear fishing."

Warren was always saving his old suits to wear fishing—but he never went fishing! However, Helen was much too wise to remind him of this inconsistency, but she finally persuaded him to part with the blue serge, since he had kept at least five other old suits to "wear fishing."

It was Sunday morning, a dark, dismal Sunday, and right after breakfast Warren had declared it would be a good day to get out his summer clothes.

Signs of Spring.

The elevator boy had brought the trunk from the basement, and now Warren's summer suits were spread over the chairs and window sills of two rooms, and the whole place was filled with the odor of moth balls.

"Well, all right, then," reluctantly, as he threw down the blue serge. "Give that to the elevator boy if you want to—but that's ALL! Understand? The rest of these I'm going to keep. You've got a perfect mania for giving my clothes away. I notice you're not any too keen on getting rid of yours. What in thunder's that?" as something crunched under his heel.

"Oh, it's a moth ball, dear. Be careful, don't step on any more."

"Why the devil don't you get camphor? Don't smell half as bad as these infernal things."

"But camphor's so much more expensive. These are just as good and they're only 5 cents a pound. I've got some fresh ones to put in with your winter clothes."

Helen had already gotten out Warren's winter suits and was beginning to pack them in the trunk.

"Well, I can't see that you need me here. Try to air out this place before I get back. Hold on, there; better not put in that overcoat. I may need that yet."

So Warren went out for his Sunday morning walk, while Helen was left to pack away his winter suits. At last she had them all in, and the trunk was ready to be sent back to the basement.

The elevator boy took it down, and with a pleased consciousness of tipping him well, Helen gave him the blue serge suit.

It was several mornings afterwards that Warren looked through his closet, now hung with the Summer suits, which had in the meantime been well aired and pressed.

"Where's that blue serge?" he called. "Had that pressed yet?"

"Oh, yes, dear, the tailor sent them all back yesterday. It's right there—hanging right in front."

"Well, I don't see it," he grumbled. "This closet's so infernally dark—you can't see a blame thing." Then a few moments' silence in which he looked again. "Well, if it's here I can't find it."

"Wait dear, I'll come."

The Wrong Suit.

Helen, who was not quite dressed, hurried in with her hair down, and looked through the long line of suits which hung on their hangers in Warren's wardrobe.

"Why, here it is—almost in front."

"No, that's the old one. Thought you said you were going to give that away."

"The—the OLD one!" stammered Helen. "Why—why it can't be——"

She had taken it to the light, but fortunately her back was to Warren, and he did not see her face. It WAS the old one. She had given the good one away!

"Oh, I remember," hastily, as she hung the suit back. "The sleeve lining was ripped in the other coat and I wanted to sew it before it was pressed. And I—I decided not to give this old one away—after all you might want to wear it fishing some time."

"Humph! Thought you were so keen about getting rid of it! Well, now you fix that other suit and have the tailor press it to-day. It's just about the right weight to wear now."

Helen, panic-stricken, went in to finish dressing. What could she do? She MUST get that suit back. Warren would be rabid if he found she had given away a perfectly new suit. No—no, he must never know!

She barely tasted her breakfast, and could hardly wait until Warren left. Then she ran out to see if the elevator boy, to whom she had given the suit, was on duty this morning.

But it was the other boy who answered her ring.

"What time will Henry be on?" she demanded.

A Thief.

"He won't be on no more, ma'am. He's been discharged."

"DISCHARGED!"

"Yes, ma'am, the superintendent laid him off this morning."

There was nothing for Helen to do but to see the superintendent and try to get the boy's address. What if he had already worn the suit? But Helen dared not think of that possibility.

"So he stole something from you, too, did he?" was the superintendent's first comment when Helen asked him about the boy.

"Stole something? Why, no, but I gave him a suit of Mr. Curtis' by mistake."

The superintendent seemed relieved. "Well, he stole from other tenants—that's why I had to get rid of him. I'm sorry, Mrs. Curtis, that I haven't his address, but you might get it from the employment agency where I engaged him."

In desperation Helen explained about the suit.

"Oh, a blue serge? Why, that's downstairs now. I wouldn't let him take it away—thought he stole that, too."

"No, no, I gave it to him. But I thought I was giving him another suit."

The superintendent brought it up, and to Helen's infinite relief it was wrapped in newspaper, just as she had given it to the boy. He had torn a hole in the paper to see what it was like, but plainly it had not been unwrapped.

Overjoyed by her good luck, Helen promptly took the suit to the little tailoring shop around the corner to be pressed.

The very next morning Warren asked about "that blue serge suit."

"Yes, dear, I had it pressed yesterday. It's hanging right there in your closet."

Warren got it out and looked it over with a curious puzzled expression.

She Confesses.

"Huh, that's funny! Guess I was wrong this time."

"Wrong? Why, what do you mean, dear?"

"Well, I thought you couldn't produce it—that's all. I'd an idea that you'd gotten those blue suits mixed—and given the wrong one to that boy."

"Why, Warren—how could you think that?" flushing quickly. "Why I told you I—I wanted to fix the sleeve lining before it was pressed."

"I know you did, and you acted mighty blamed suspicious, too. You're always lying out of a thing when you get in a hole." Then, with a keen glance at Helen's flushed face: "I'm not sure yet that I wasn't right."

There was a moment's tense silence. Warren was buttoning a pair of suspenders on the blue serge trousers, while Helen was fumblingly putting on a hanger the coat he had worn yesterday.

"Eh? How about it?" he persisted with another searching glance at her averted face.

She hung the coat on the rod in the closet, then turned with a sudden defiant:

"Very well, you were RIGHT! I DID make a mistake—I DID give that suit to the elevator boy! But you needn't hesitate to wear it—it hadn't even been unwrapped. And if I'm always lying out of things it's your fault! You've raged and stormed at me so that when anything goes wrong—I'm AFRAID to tell you the truth!"

Wise Child.

"You see, had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

Boy—No, ma'am; it would have been eaten by us.

"Niagara Maid"

PURE SILK GLOVES

When you visit the Glove Department of your favorite store, do not merely ask for "a pair of silk gloves."

Specify the Niagara Maid kind. Do not accept substitutes. You will be pleased with the results. They wear longer, are better and cost no more than any other good kind.

Finger tips are double, and each pair contains a guarantee ticket.

Colorings are up to the instant from a style point of view.

Ask your dealer. If he cannot supply you, send us his name. We will supply you through him.

Niagara Silk Mills
North Tonawanda, N. Y.
New York Boston
Chicago San Francisco

CARRIERS IN 'NECK-AND-NECK' CONTEST FOR GEORGIAN PONY

Five Bunched Closely Together at Lead With Grand Total of 126,650 Votes. Lithonia and Meansville Rivals.

I nominate, as a candidate in The Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian Pony Outfit Contest:

Name .....

Address .....

Nominated by .....

Address .....

GOOD FOR 1,000 VOTES.

Only One Nomination Blank Can be Voted for Any Contestant.

The race among the city carriers for a Georgian and American pony finds five boys bunched closely at the lead—Ross Greer, with 33,260 votes; Mose Brodkin, 32,420; Harold Hamby, 21,195; O. B. Bigger, 20,575; Raymond Wilkinson, 19,200.

These five contestants alone have polled 126,650 votes. Fully experienced in getting subscriptions and in collections, wide awake and energetic, this contest is in deadly earnest, and the totals are likely to be increased greatly. There are some boys farther down the list, too, who may come to the front in short order.

Lithonia and Meansville are the two towns fighting hard in the Georgia State contest. Andrew B. Trimble, of Lithonia, has 13,735 votes, and M. Means, of Meansville, 11,190. It would take little to reverse these two positions.

Names and standings of contestants in the various districts follow:

District Number One.

George Rosseh	38510
Jacob Patterson	17030
Josephine Simril	15390
Vera Nelle Brantley	13685
Miss Margaret Lewis	8750
Jas. O. Godard	7313
Janet Oxenham	6755
Edgar Watkins, Jr.	6475
Willie Ivey Wiggins	6215
Hugh B. Luttrell	5710
Andrew May	5595
Miss Frankie J. Smith	4570
Hillman McCalla	3725
Miss Mildred Stewart	2220
Nellie Martin	2190
Dorothy Stiff	2030
Miss Estelle Sullivan	1730
Phillip S. Reid	1405
Miss Louise Thompson	1425
Mollie Lee Kendall	1405
Glenn Moon	1330
Thomas M. Price	1270
Norman Caldwell	1250
Wm. Eisle	1145
James Grubbs	1140
Lottie Mae Dedman	1130
Eugene Morgan	1100
Wyman Conard	1000
Yoland Gwin	1000
Harold Holsombach	1000
T. L. Hoshall, Jr.	1000
Roy Mauldin	1000
Albert Smith	1000
Miss Louise McCrary	1000
Miss Sudie King	1000
Miss Gaynell Phillips	1000
Miss Mary E. Peacock	1000
Robert A. Harden	1000
Miss Edith Clower	1000
Miss Ruth Grogan	1000
H. E. Watkins, Jr.	1000
Miss Annie Phillips	1000
Miss Christa Powers	1000
Cliff Moody	1000
William Ernest	1000
Arthur Perlin	1000
Lillian Smith	1000
Chas. Johnson	1000
Frank Price, Jr.	1000
Louise McAllister	1000
Sidney Clark	1000
Donovan Owens	1000
Morgan Glover	1000
Chas. Whitner, Jr.	1000
Jack Shinholser	1000

District Number Two.

Miss Robert Harbour	29530
Eugene Willingham	23650
Miss Elizabeth Smith	10865
Miss Marjorie McLeod	10265
J. W. Collins, Jr.	9790
Miss Lottie McNair	8300
Elsie Gosnell	5880
Edmund Hurt	5020
Miss Idelle Shaw	4630
Willett Matthews	4220
Miss Edith Gray	3945
Miss Nellie Reynolds	3586
Ray Warwick	3520
Miss Elizabeth Garwood	3475
J. Edgar Sheridan	2935
Paul M. Wright	2900
Miss LaRue Church	2435
Wm. Wellborn	1850
Clinton Hutchinson	1740
Miss Virginia Walton	1650
Edgar Sweetzer	1425
Chas. M. Kellog, Jr.	1380
Max Clein	1245
Robert Wood	1180
J. R. Wood	1120
J. P. Tucker	1070
Martin Comerford	1040
Ruel Crawley	1030
Willie Harden	1030
Raley Ray	1000
Miss Lucy Withers	1000
Miss Elizabeth Downing	1000
Robert L. Andrews	1000
Miss Catherine Fussell	1000
Nick Caroli	1000
Sarah Paxton	1000
W. Sumet	1000
Ed Ferguson	1000
Pierce Smith	1000

District Number Three.

Charles L. Stevens	25800
Mildred Brickman	21655
Willetts Matthews	20855
J. P. Goets, Jr.	8000
Miss Mabel Bracewell	3400
Miss Mary Wells	2735
Miss Alma Coleman	2335
Miss Evelyn Oxford	1800
Ernest E. Hambrick	1250
Anne S. Slatton	1040
Willie Reynolds	1000
Harry Brown	1000
Joe R. Smith	1000
Howard Grove	1000
Claudis Cochran	1000
Annie Mealor	1000
Marion Wells	1000

District Number Four.

Fannie Mae Cook	43240
Florence Greenoe	36215
Nathaniel Kay	21720
Oscar Eugene Cook	14210
W. H. Hamilton, Jr.	10130
J. Walling Davis	6800
Ida G. Fox	5965
Miss Hilda Bloomberg	5865
Nell Reynolds	5450
Miss Wilhelmina Tucker	5425
Lillian Maurenberg	4185
Howell Conway	3650
Annie Slatten	2630
Fred Vickery	2600
Charles Ernest Vernoy	2469
H. L. W. Brown	3390
Agnes Shatren	2335
Miss Marie Toy	2235
Miss Maude L. Berry	2210
Miss Beatrice Brunson	2175
Miss Annie L. ...ham	2110
Miss Meta Mitchell	1870
Louis Joel	1695
Louise Whitman	1645
Guy Quillian	1615
Myrtle Jones	1485
Raymond Smith	1460
Vivian Broom	1450
John Thrasher	1425
Roy Young	1420
Paul Theodown	1400
Estelle Honer	1380
David F. Nowell	1295
William Henderson	1290
Louise Simpson	1290
Mose Gold	1250
Miss Rosemund Humphries	1035
Miss Susie Black	1230
Ralph Ross	1130
James Eden	1000
Miss L. E. Abbott	1090
Miss Lovie C. Dean	1060
Miss Alice Feldman	1000
Frank Henley	1000
Miss Annie Mae Hilsman	1000
Milton Holcombe	1000
Lynn A. Hubbard	1000
Harry Stone	1000
Miss Sarah Whitaker	1000
Miss Margaret White	1000
Charles Stone	1000
R. H. Brown	1000
Hugh Terrell	1000
Miss Carlotta Burns	1000
Lowell Battle	1000
Miss Lillian L. Brown	1000
Miss Marion Overstreet	1000
Jack Ellman	1000
Eugene Bayliss	1000
Sam K. Neves	1000
Esther Richbins	1000
Valentine Jenkins	1000

District Number Five.

Frank Ison, Jr.	32800
Richard Rainey	9655
Emery Ward	6775
Harndon Thomas	6275
Miss Louise Chewning	5015
Dick De...ton	3800
Miss Margaret Le Feure	3260
Miss Lucile Berry	2115
Miss Mary Holloway	2045
Roy Coleman	1550
John Baker Long	1260
Wm. Hood	1150
Miss Texla Lee Butler	1000
Miss Anna Graham	1000
Albert Leake	1000
Merriot Brown Reid	1000
Miss Frances Summers	1000

District Number Six.

William Turner	19275
Miss Beverly Swanton	13340
Miss Susanne Springer	6880
Edward DeLoach	6695
Miss Virginia Jackson	4315
George Nelson Baker	3090
Edgar Wilson	2745
John Lovett	2710
Grady Harris	2015
Miss Ora F. Dozier	1790
Miss Margaret Thornton	1780
Gay Reynolds	1505
Ad Gay	1310
Francis Summers	1330
E. F. Marquett	1300
Charlie Hood	1075
Miss Grace Davis	1000
Gregory J. Eaton	1000
Angie C. Newton	1000
Benjamin F. Safiets	1000

District Number Seven.

A. Morrison	11965
Philip Gilstein	7010
James Allen	2940
Chas. R. Walker, Jr.	1725
Clyde Mitchell	1540
George H. Melton	1500
Lawrence McGinnis	1170
Joe DuPre	1115
Claude Higgins	1000
Willie Mae Dempsey	1000
Joy Carraway	1000
Miss Alma Hudson	1000
Fannie Bettis	1000
Henry Hull	1000

City Carriers and Newsboys.

Ross Greer	33260
Mose Brodkin	32420
Harold Hamby	21195
O. B. Bigger	20575
Raymond Wilkinson	19200
John ...mble	14630
J. E. Moore	12940
Powell Pendley	11750
Roy Cook	9500
Sidney Ney	8820
Irvan Willingham	8015
Sterling Jordan	6910
Olin Neal Bass	5645
Sterling Jordan	5610
Norman Goore	4195
Everett J. Cain	3885
Charles Barron	3350
Bonnell Bloodworth	3610
St. Leonard Veltch	2305
Royal Barbour	2280
Grady Cook	1580
L. M. Harrison	1560
Frank Garwood	1545
Robert Correll	1300
R. S. McConnell	1220
Johnnie Evans	1000

Out-of-Town Agents and Carriers.

John Martin, Jr., Columbus, Ga.	18895
Leon Spence, Carrollton, Ga.	5450
Ambrose Scarboro, Royston, Ga.	4340
Patrick Jones, Macon	3,280
Jake Palmer, Murphy, N. C.	3030
H. K. Everett, Calhoun, Ga.	2965
M. E. Dasch, Stone Mountain, Ga.	2410
Gladys Daniel, Bolton	2405
Jas. S. Plunkett, Gaffney, S. C.	2180
Aubrey Hopkins, Anderson, S. C.	2085
Thos. W. Rylee, Gainesville, Ga	1585
Robt. Newby, Vienna, Ga.	1360
Alfred Chappelle, Sparta, Ga.	1355
H. Esserman, Rome, Ga.	1345
John Toler, New Orleans, La.	1340
Leon B. Spears, Woodstock, Ga.	1285
James Wilkins, Gaffney, S. C.	1015
Chas. B. Havey, Lithonia, Ga.	1000
L. Bennett, Brunswick, Ga.	1000
Jos. Milem, Cartersville, Ga.	1000
Herman Corliss, LaGrange, Ga.	1000
Smith Fallaw, Opelika, Ala.	1000
R. E. Hudson, Unadilla, Ga.	1000
Hugh Parrish, Adel, Ga.	1000
Paul Swint, Gibson, Ga.	1000
X. N. David, Cedartown, Ga.	1000
Rupert Mobley, Covington, Ga.	1000

Georgia School Boys and Girls.

Andrew B. Trimble, Lithonia	13735
M. Means, Meansville	11190
Ennie Spinks, Chipley	8155
Lois Casey, Chattahoochee	6785
Clifford Henry, Carrollton	6535
Gertrude Moseley, Menlo	6425
Virginia McCowen, Marietta Car Line	5485
Belle Ragsdale, Lithonia	4610
Anna Johnson, Summerville	4605
C. E. Crawford, Chipley	4030
John Logan, Gainesville, Ga.	3280
Margaret Danner, Doraville	3195
Esther Boorstein, Covington	2995
Blake Nichols, R. F. D. Atlanta	2965
Belle Stowe, Toccoa	2835
Wm. Reid, Columbus	2325
Warner Webb, Griffin	2285
Elmer Towns, Social Circle	2230
Terry Strozier, Greenville	2230
Patrick Jones, Macon	2125
W. L. Mattox, Newnan	2000
Alfred Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	2000
Maxwell Aubrey, Bolton	1985
B. C. Elder, Blakely	1970
Jimmy Logan Grantville	1950
Mary Allen, Juniper	1885
Chas. E. Keely, Cartesville	1850
Berta Davis, Fayetteville	1840
Berry Clein, Columbus	1795
Emory Steele, Commerce	1650
W. Harrell, Jr., Quitman	1500
Horace McConnell, R. F. D. Atl.	1405
Sarah F. Spier, Monroe	1430
Helen Mitchell, Richwood	1380
Carl Bragg, Woodcliff	1365
Rives Cary, Barnesville	1330
Paul Jossey, Forsyth	1280
Clay Burruss, Carnesville	1265
E. A. Heckle, Cornelia	1255
Wm. Talliaferro, Mansfield	1240
Virginia Young, Roswell, Ga.	1175
Jessie Collier, Barnesville	1170
J. L. Brewer, Egan	1165
Gertrude Marshall, Savannah	1150
Bennett Jeffers, Douglasville	1135
Mary Caldwell, Chipley	1130
Ruth Aiken, Carnesville	1125
Sallie Evans, Douglasville	1110
D. S. Morton, Raymond	1105
Will Chapman, Barnesville	1090
Ernest Turney, Chipley	1085
Sidney Newsome, Union Point	1080
H. C. Ogilvie, Savannah	1080
J. P. Craven, Baxley	1075
Clyde Stephens, Barnesville	1075
Robt. Mobley, Jr., Quitman	1055
Miriam Stansell, Gainesville	1055
Robert Davis, Columbus	1050
Eleanor Lindsay, Tucker	1050
Cary Brezel, Rome	1050
Cl...s Harlan, R. F. D. Atlanta	1050
H. E. White, Flovilla	1040
Ernest Baker, Washington	1040
Erva Blackstock, Hogansville	1030
W. A. Hollis, Hogansville	1020
E. Scarborough, Macon	1025
Etheridge Bradley, Smyrna	1015
Chas. Clark, Loganville	1010
Horace McConnell R. F. D., Atlanta	1005
Jessie Tabor, Loganville	1045
Mattie L. Johns Loganville	1095
J. C. Smith, Oxford	1065
Brannon Sharp, Commerce	1000
G. W. Davis, Bremen	1000
Cecil McGahee, Lithonia	1040
Sarah Carter Savannah	1000
Dan Patrick, Conyers	1000
H. H. Redwine, Fayetteville	1095
Felix Reid, Union City	1002
Ralph Little, Commerce	1000
Morris McClure, Jackson	1000
Ben Steinberg, Cartersville	1000
C. V. Turner, Jr., Quitman	1000
G. W. Posey, Jr., Juniper	1000
Lily Wilkes, R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
J. H. Hewlett, Conyers	1000
Rudolph Campbell, Fairburn	1000
A. E. Gilmore, Jr. Tennille	1000
Richard Johnson, Tennille	1000
J. P. Tucker, Jr., R. F. D. Atlanta	1000
Edna Jennings, Newnan	1000
Thos. Lamar, Waycross	1030
Evelyn Davis, Baconton	1000
W. B. Dismukes, Mystic	1000
Susie Glenn, Social Circle	1030
Joe Tink, Gainesville	1000

School Boys and Girls Outside of State of Georgia.

Fain E. Webb, Jr.	16550
Robert Hyatt Brown	10185
J. T. Sewell	5055
Rodney Stephens	4255
Henry Hicks	2910
McGee Hunt, Westminster, S. C.	1450
Ralph Turner	1350
Miss Dorothy Davis	1180
Miss Annie McCarell	1030
Novel Wheeler	1015
Pauline Trull	1000
J. T. Webb, Jr.	1040
Lindsay W. Graves	1000
George Andrews	1000
Miss Lydia Bemley	1000
Geo. W. Chamlee, Chattarooga, Tenn.	1000

NEW WOOL CLIP IS NOT SELLING WELL

Conditions Reversed From Those of a Year Ago—Western Markets Are Improving.

BOSTON, May 23.—Wool business locally is irregular. The leading feature of the past week has been the opening and sale of some new clip territory wools. These wools are selling very slowly, the present condition being almost a complete reversal of that prevailing a year ago. No further sacrifice sales of old wools are reported. Few leading houses have any volume of wool to offer. Conditions in the West are improving from the dealers' standpoint, as growers have moderated to some extent their demands. Buyers also have changed their attitude a little. The endeavor to market the new clip wools, however, is so difficult as to prevent free buying in the West at the level of prices recently quoted.

Receipts of wool in pounds for the week ended and including Wednesday were as follows:

	1913.	1912.
Domestic	2,962,024	4,073,923
Foreign	932,385	1,104,775
Totals	3,894,409	5,178,708

Total receipts of 3,894,409 pounds compared with 2,531,270 pounds for the preceding week, of which 1,898,155 pounds were domestic wools.

Receipts in pounds from and including January 1, 1913, as compared with the corresponding period in 1912 were as follows:

	1913.	1912.
Domestic	29,529,775	47,260,089
Foreign	38,397,480	59,169,451
Totals	67,922,255	106,429,540

COTTON GOSSIP

NEW YORK, May 23.—Freeman was probably the best buyer on the call today, said to be acting for Weld. The selling was scattered. McFadden brokers were liberal buyers.

* * *

Waters bid 11.81c for 3,000 bales of July after the call.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "American forward, 80,549 bales; total, 93,655 bales."

* * *

Dick Bros., Wilson and Shearson sold. Mitchell and Geer also offered. Mitchell sold 10,000 bales of January from 11.21c to 11.15c. Geer sold about 10,000 bales of October.

* * *

Gifford, Waters and McEnery were aggressive buyers, which was said to be for Raymond Pinchon, Pell and Hutton.

* * *

Rainfall overnight:

Tuscumbia, 1.30; Greensboro, 1.50; Goodwater, 1.40; Selma, 1.60; Demopolis, 2.10; Livingston, 2.30; Tuscaloosa, 2.60; Gadsden, 1.50; Clinton, 1.50.

Mississippi—Greenwood, 1.00; Rosedale, 1.00; Waynesboro, 1.70; Kosciusko, 1.40; Lake, 2.00; Aberdeen, 1.50; Columbus, 2.00; Okolona, 2.20.

Georgia—Macon, 2.40; Athens, 1.20; Rome, 2.30; Gainesville, 1.40; Toccoa, 1.20.

South Carolina—Greenville, 1.50.

Louisiana—Ahite, 1.50; Clinton, 1.05; Minden, 1.35.

Texas—Waco, .10; Pierce, .08; Palestine, .01; Galveston, .26; Houston, .10; Longview, .08.

Rainfall to-day:

Memphis, .18; Vicksburg, .26; New Orleans, 1.10; Shreveport, .01; Mobile, .88; Meridian, 1.92; Montgomery, .70; Nashville, .64; Knoxville, 1.98; Chattanooga, 2.18; Atlanta, .90; Augusta, .01; Raleigh, .01; Jackson, 1.30; Birmingham, 2.76; Anniston, 1.50.

* * *

Liverpool cables: "American middling fair, 7.35d; good middling, 6.92d; middling, 6.79d; low middling, 6.65d; good ordinary, 6.31d; ordinary, 5.97d."

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "The dilemma of the cotton market was made clear yesterday. The trade buys contracts as hedges against future need, but refuses to sell. The public is not in the market at all. The talent, as a rule, has been bearish all spring and has sold whenever a professional speculator or a merchant would buy. All along speculative shorts in numbers have counted on favorable weather and favorable crop reports to depress the market and give them opportunity to cover at a profit. All this was, of course, based on their belief in a balanced market. Belligerent bears never for a moment imagined that the public would drop out or that the trade would turn into a sponge.

"Recently the weather became extremely favorable and the character of the crop reports reflected much improvement. But because the long interest in the main is held by the trade and is not for sale, nobody stood ready to feed contracts to the market and expectant shorts began to discover that to get under cover they would have to bid the market up to a point where scalpers would supply them.

"On Monday shorts were made nervous by the drift of the market. On Tuesday they were worried. On Wednesday they were apprehensive and on Thursday they were excited. Under the circumstances high price people experienced no difficulty in obtaining a hearing for bullish data and when they talked of the possibility of too much rain to follow in the wake of too much drouth floor traders gathered round the weather boards and talked in whispers."

* * *

Too much rain.

* * *

While there is some talk of reaction, the bears seem afraid to put out any lines just yet.

* * *

It was very evident during the late trading yesterday that there was still a large short interest in the market.

* * *

McFadden brokers continue to buy and it is said they are bullish on the spot situation.

* * *

Dallas wires: "Texas—Clear and cool. Oklahoma—Generally clear and cool."

* * *

A New York Cotton Exchange seat was sold for $15,000 yesterday. The previous sale was for $16,000.

* * *

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—Hayward & Clark: The weather map shows fair in West Alabama, heavy rains in Mississippi. Very little rains west of Louisiana. Generally cloudy in Alabama and the Atlantics. Good rains in Alabama, Tennessee and West Georgia. Indications are for fair and warmer in the western States, fair in the central States and general rains in the Atlantics.

Temperatures dropped overnight to somewhat below normal, but such a cool spell comes every year. It will not last longer than a day, and then temperatures will rise over the entire western half.

* * *

The president of the Illinois Central Railroad, returning from an inspection trip, says cotton reports received from all points agree that pospects for a crop were never brighter. Farmers and planters are well contented with the outlook.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The cotton seed oil market was firm on covering of shorts to-day, buying believed to be for refiners and local bull support. The upturn brought out some scattered profit-taking, outside speculative demand disappointing and consuming interests display little interest at present. There was some selling of December against purchases of new crude.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Petroleum firm; crude, Pennsylvania, 2.50.

Turpentine easy; 40½.

Rosin steady; common, 4.85.

Wool steady; domestic fleece, 25@28; pulled, scoured basis, 33@55; Texas, scoured basis, 18@55.

Hides quiet; native steers, 18½@19½; branded steers, 15½@15¾.

Coffee steady; options opened unchanged to 2 higher; Rio No. 7 on spot, 11¾@11¾.

Rice steady; domestic, ordinary to prime, 4@5¾.

Molasses steady; New Orleans, open kettle, 35@50.

Sugar, raw steady; centrifugal, 3.27@ 3.30; muscovado, 2.77@2.89; molasses sugar, 2.50@2.52.

Sugar, refined firmer; fine granulated, 4.20@4.25; cut loaf, 5.05; crushed, 4.95; mold A, 4.60 bid; cubes, 4.50; powdered, 4.35; diamond A, 4.25; confectioners' A, 4.10. Softs—No. 1, c. (No. 2 is 5 points lower than No. 1 and Nos. 3 to 14 are each 5 points lower than the preceding grade.)

Beans dull; marrow, choice, 5.95@6.00; pea, choice, 3.90@3.95; red kidney, choice, 4.00@4.05.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Unsettled, showery weather will continue to-night and Saturday in the Atlantic States, with somewhat lower temperatures over the Middle and Southern districts. In the interior the weather will be generally fair now, with slightly higher temperatures Saturday in the Ohio Valley and the upper Lake region.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Gulf coast from Mobile to Carrabelle.

Forecast until 8 p. m. Saturday:

Georgia—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night. Cooler Saturday in southeast portion.

North Carolina—Showers to-night; cooler in the interior; Saturday cloudy; cooler in western portion.

South Carolina—Showers to-night or Saturday; cooler to-night in the interior; cooler in southern and eastern portion.

Florida—Showers to-night and Saturday; cooler to-night in northern portion; slightly cooler Saturday in north and central portions.

Alabama—Fair to-night; cooler in south portion; Saturday fair.

Mississippi—Fair to-night; Saturday fair; warmer in north and west portions.

Eastern Texas—Fair to-night and Saturday.

Western Texas—Fair to-night and warmer in northern portion; Saturday fair.

Louisiana—Fair to-night and Saturday.

COTTON WEAKENS ON PROFIT-TAKING

Disappointing Cables and Bear News From the Weather Man Encourage Selling.

NEW YORK, May 23.—On overnight buying orders the cotton market opened firm to-day, May 6 points higher, with other positions showing irregularity, being 1 off to 2 points up from last night's close.

The appearance of clearing weather in the Western belt with a probability that it would extend to the rest of the belt by to-morrow caused considerable unloading after the call. Much of this was absorbed by overnight buying orders.

Commission houses, the ring crowd and Wall Street, also a few brokers with spot house connections sold heavily. The selling was said to be profit-taking. May dropped back to last night's close, while other positions declined some 4 to 8 points under the previous close. The buying was light and scattered.

During the forenoon a renewal of buying predominated, which checked the selling pressure to a considerable extent, resulting in prices recovering the initial decline. May option, however, was not in demand and held steady around the early low point. The advance was attributed chiefly to the continued rains throughout the cotton States. Rains were heavy throughout the State last night and reports of heavy rainfall were received during the entire day. There was fear among the locals of too much rain, which stimulated a general covering wave.

Following are 11 a. m. bids in New York: May, 11.59; July, 11.79; August, 11.57; October, 11.18; January, 11.16.

Following are 10 a. m. bids in New Orleans: May, 12.48; July, 12.22; August, 11.76; October, 11.29; January, 11.30.

Estimated cotton receipts:

	Saturday.	1912.
New Orleans	1,600 to 2,000	1,220
Galveston	1,000 to 1,800	1,091

NEW YORK COTTON.

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	Last Sale	Prev. Close.
May	11.75	11.75	11.68	11.69	11.69-70
June					11.77-78
July	11.82	11.83	11.76	11.77	11.81-83
Aug.	11.61	11.62	11.54	11.55	11.59-60
Sept.					11.31-32
Oct.	11.23	11.24	11.16	11.21	11.24-25
Dec.	11.24	11.25	11.17	11.22	11.25-26
Jan.	11.21	11.22	11.15	11.20	11.21-23
Mar.	11.29	11.31	11.25	11.30	11.29-31

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, May 23.—Due 6½ higher on July, 5½@6½ higher on other positions, this market opened steady at a net gain of 5@6 points on near positions and 4½ higher on late months. At 12:15 p. m. the market was quiet and steady with prices 4 points higher on near positions and 5@5½ points higher on late months.

Spot higher; middling 6.79d; sales, 5,000 bales, including 4,000 American bales; imports, 18,000 bales.

At the close the market was steady with prices a net gain of 2 to 6½ points from Thursday's final.

Futures opened quiet and steady.

	Opening Range		Close	Prev Close
May	6.55			6.40
May-June	6.55	@6.54½	6.55½	6.49
June-July	6.51	@6.52	6.51½	6.46
July-Aug	6.45½	@6.48	6.48½	6.42½
Aug.-Sept.	6.39	@6.38½	6.38½	6.33½
Sept.-Oct	6.23½		6.24	6.17½
Oct.-Nov.	6.14½	@6.16	6.17	6.10½
Nov.-Dec.	6.11½	@6.13	6.13	6.07½
Dec.-Jan.	6.12		6.12½	6.06½
Jan.-Feb.	6.10	@6.11	6.11½	6.07
Feb.-Mar.	6.11½	@6.13	.....	6.08
Mar.-Apr.	.....		.....	6.08

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—Excepting that it is too cool, condition, however, which will not last more than a day or two, weather developments overnight were very favorable.

A rain formation is directly over the Atlantics and general rains and cooler weather are indicated for the Eastern States; while fair weather will prevail over the Western half with rising temperatures.

The press gives grave political news. London reports a serious battle between Greeks and Bulgarians and the peace conference delayed.

Liverpool was disappointing and weakened further in the last hour; spot sales only 5,000 at 6 points advance. Political developments with consols ½ lower must have caused an unfavorable impression. Trading here was quieter this morning. Prices eased repeatedly, but support appeared on depressions and held October to 11.30.

Forwardings from Liverpool this week are larger than expected, probably due to the delay in shipments on accont of the recent holidays.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Quotations in cotton futures:

	Open	High	Low	Last Sale	Prev. Close.
May	12.52	12.52	12.50	12.50	12.50-51
June					12.23-25
July	12.25	12.25	12.17	12.22	12.23-24
Aug.	11.80	11.82	11.76	11.81	11.82-83
Sept.					11.46-48
Oct.	11.35	11.35	11.27	11.32	11.33-34
Nov.					11.32-34
Dec.	11.33	11.33	11.26	11.30	11.32-32
Jan.	11.35	11.35	11.33	11.34	11.35-36
Feb.					11.32-34
Mar.	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44	11.44-45

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS.

Thompson, Towle & Co.: We hesitate to follow the advance, although it may go still higher.

Norden & Co.: Should rains continue for a few days, there would probably be a further sharp advance.

Sternberger, Sinn & Co.: Think prices will make further gains.

Logan & Bryan: We suggest caution in making short commitments at this time.

Atwood, Violett & Co.: We believe the advance has gone far enough, unless some new stimulus is injected into the situation.

Norman, Mayer & Co.: Further advance will reduce trade buying and may meet spot selling, especially if crop accounts continue good.

PORT RECEIPTS.

The following table shows receipts at the ports to-day compared with the same day last year:

	1913.	1912.
New Orleans	2,019	225
Galveston	3,684	843
Mobile	868	196
Savannah	1,292	1,635
Charleston	149	27
Wilmington	26	50
Norfolk	1,005	663
Baltimore	445	2,111
Boston	563	5
Newport News	6,431	117
Total	16,577	5,872

INTERIOR MOVEMENT.

	1913.	1912.
Houston	1,373	620
Augusta	322	146
Memphis	211	1,300
St. Louis	509	813
Cincinnati	218	562
Little Rock	.....	46
Total	2,634	3,488

Today's New York Stock Market

Following are the highest, lowest and last prices of stocks sold in New York to-day:

STOCK—	High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Prev. Close.
Amal. Copper.	74⅛	74	74	74½
American Ice.	24½	24½	24½	24
American Sug.	110	110	110	111
Am. Smelting.	67¼	67	67¼	67¼
Anaconda	37⅞	37⅞	37⅞	37¾
Atchison	99⅜	99¼	99¼	99½
American Can	32	32	32	32⅞
do, pref.	92⅛	92⅛	92⅛	92¾
Am. T.-T.	129	129	129	128⅞
B. R. T.	91½	91⅜	91½	91½
B. and O.	98⅜	98⅜	98⅜	98¼
Can. Pacific	237¼	236⅝	237¼	247¼
C. and O.	65¼	64⅞	65⅛	65
Consol. Gas	132¼	132¼	132¼	132⅝
Cen. Leather.	23	23	23	23
Colo. F. and I.	31¼	31⅛	31⅛	31
D. and H.	156½	156½	156½	155
Erie	28¼	28¼	28¼	28⅜
G. North. pfd.	127	127	127	127
Illinois Central	115	115	115	114½
Interboro	14½	14½	14½	14½
do, pref.	51	50⅜	50⅜	51
M., K. and T.	23⅝	23⅜	23⅜	23½
L. Valley	155¼	155¼	155¼	155¼
L. and N.	133¾	133¾	133¾	134
Mo. Pacific	34¾	34¾	34¼	35
N. Y. Central	100⅜	100⅛	100	100⅜
N. and W.	106	106	106	105¾
No. Pacific	114⅞	114⅞	114⅞	153⅜
O. and W.	28⅞	28¾	28¾	29
Penna.	110	109¾	109¾	110
Reading	161⅝	161	161¼	161½
Rock Island	18¼	17⅜	17½	18⅛
So. Pacific	95½	95¼	95½	97⅛
So. Railway	24¼	24¼	24¼	24½
do. pfd.	77¼	77¼	77¼	77
St. Paul	108	108	108	107¼
Union Pacific	150	149¾	149¾	151¾
U. S. Steel	60⅜	59⅞	60	60⅜
do. pfd.	106¼	106	106¼	106
V.-C. Chem.	28	28	28	27½
Wabash, pfd.	7¾	7⅝	7¾	7½

CAPITAL MUST WIN THE HELP OF LABOR

The Employer Must Study to Gain the Co-operation of the Employee.

By B. C. FORBES.

An employer in these days of labor unrest must be a diplomat, a student of human nature, a man able to blend toleration with discipline. Hundreds of strikes, petty and serious, are caused, not through unsatisfactory wages, but by arrogant bossing by heads of departments, superintendents and foremen, who puffed up by the possession of a little transient authority, treat workers as if they were made of some lower kind of material.

* * *

Corporations, firms and individual employees should pay more attention to the careful selection of overseers of every rank. It is not enough that a man is an expert; that is necessary oftentimes, but if he is to be placed in charge of many workers he must have tact, he must be humane, he must know the minds, the hearts, the habits and the ambitions of those serving under him. He must be able to inspire loyalty. He must not carry his head too high. He must avoid superciliousness. He must even occasionally close his eyes to litle incidents not strictly on the working schedule.

* * *

To be in the highest degree successful nowadays an employer or corporation manager must win the co-operation of others. The slave-driver, the heartless taskmaster cannot last. Sooner or later he will reap what he sows.

* * *

In too many establishments systems of fines for all sorts of trivial mistakes are still in vogue. They should be abolished. Numbers of corporations have seen the light in this direction. A policy of kindness has proved more profitable than one of harshness. To encourage has been found better than to coerce. For example: Childs' restaurants used to fine their waiters and waitresses for every dish they broke. A whole day's wages was sometimes lost in a moment—especially as highly polished floors, when wet, were responsible for many slips. This system has been abandoned, with, I understand, gratifying results.

* * *

Really big men seldom are tyrannical to their employees. But unfortunately, the rank and file do not come in contact with the heads of establishments, but with minor aids, many of whom are sadly unfitted by education—ignorance rather—by breeding and by temperament to inspire fealty, enthusiasm, success. They are not broad-gauge enough to discern how to obtain the best results from those under them. They are too bent upon impressing others with their own importance. They like to hear themselves bawl out orders. They enjoy seeing underlings quake. It feeds their vanity.

* * *

Have you noticed how much attention our wisest corporations are now devoting to cultivating friendly, harmonious relations with their employees? It pays.

* * *

Let me relate a recent incident.

The president of one of our largest express companies, a disciple of the new movement to inspire the loyalty of employees, visited a branch office.

The telephone rang and he answered it.

"Any more orders for me to-day?" asked one of the company's drivers.

"No," replied the president.

"Thank heaven!" exclaimed the driver, not knowing he was talking to the president.

The president sent for the man and had a heart-to-heart talk with him, telling him that if there were few orders to fill the company might have to pay him off, that drivers were in a sense the company's salesmen and that on their attitude toward the public and toward their employers the success of the business depended. No scolding was indulged in. "My job depends upon you," the president told him. "Won't you help me to keep it?"

This appeal went home.

Late in the afternoon the telephone again rang. The agent replied.

"If you can send a wagon at once I know where you can get a big shipment before the ——— wagon gets it," excitedly shouted the self-same driver.

The agent, who had not known of the interview with the president, could not believe his ears.

The wagon was sent and the consignment secured.

"Did you say anything to ——?" asked the agent of the president.

"Yes, I had a little chat with him. Why?"

"Here he has started out scouting for new business—a thing unheard of before. What did you say to him—threaten to discharge him?"

* * *

This little human-interest incident—and it is not mythical, I beg you believe—is full of meaning for bosses and sub-bosses blinded by pride and arrogance.

* * *

Only the weak, the vain, the blind are tyrannical. A big man rules by milder means.

White City Park Now Open

LITTLE STORIES of the TOWN

These Girls Not Afraid Of Any Old Rats.

Pedestrians and others on Alabama Street, between Whitehall and South Pryor, were treated this morning to an unusual sight.

About midway of the block, almost in front of the electric light station, several men were engaged in the laudable business of exterminating some rats which had been caught in a trap last night. One of the executioners had a big stick and as soon as his companion let out a rodent, the big stick was wielded with such judicious precision that Mr. Rat took the count after getting one blow.

The remarkable thing about the proceeding was the interest which three pretty girls took in it. They were evidently on their way from home to business when their attention was attracted by the sight of the crowd around the rat-killers. The three stopped and watched the proceedings, all the time commenting animatedly upon the prowess of the gentleman with the big stick. When the last rat had been slain, the girls left, going in the direction of Whitehall Street.

"Well," commented one of the men in the crowd, "I always had an idea that womenfolks were afraid of rats."

"If one of them gals had bin my wife," commented an old veteran who overheard the remark, "she'd have climbed one of these here 'lectric light posts."

"Maybe them was suffragettes," commented a third. "The papers say they ain't afraid er nothin'."

"Bet if they had 'er bin mice," said a youth, "instead er rats, you couldn't er helt them gals here fer a minit."

Anyway, the girls did see the killing, and seemed to enjoy it.

Small Boys Nowadays Miss a Lot of Fun.

"Kids nowadays do not have the same amount of real fun that they did when I was a youngster," said a well-known business man last evening at the Transportation Club. "In company with a friend of mine, who is in the real estate business, I went out to look at some property the other afternoon. Near the place was a vacant lot and some boys were playing ball. Now, if there is anything I do love it is a good ball game and I stopped to see what sort of article these chaps were putting up. The real estate man is a fan, too, and we were very much interested in the proceedings on the field.

"But, say, those kids didn't know they were alive! We watched 'em play six innings and they didn't fight a single time! Why, when I was a small chap we fought all over the field. We mobbed the umpire half a dozen times during the nine innings. The spectators sure got their money's worth! As a matter of fact, they usually took some part in the battles and often I have seen a game resolve itself into a war between spectators and the opposing teams.

"Coming back to the office, the real estate friend and I got to talking about old days in Atlanta and the times we used to play ball in the old field alongside the Tanyard branch at Orme and Simpson Streets. We both agreed that the present generation of boys has missed a whole lot in the matter of enjoying life to its fullest."

THE PLAYS THIS WEEK

Maggie Cline Is Next.

During the hot spell it has been demonstrated that the Forsyth is as cool as a lost friend and twice as comfortable. The ventilating system is working in beautiful fashion and the pure, fresh iced air that is circulated through the theater makes everything fine. All the acts are winning applause, laughter and attention. They are hit makers.

For next week the headline feature is going to be Maggie Cline, the most distinguished headliner the Forsyth has ever offered. Her irish songs are sure to be enjoyed.

Change Meets With Favor.

The change from vaudeville to tabloid musical comedy is meeting with favor at the hands of patrons of the Bijou, and the splendid impression created at the first performance Monday afternoon is being strengthened by the succeeding presentations of this merry musical farce. "A Trip to Joyville" was written for laughing purposes only. It is brimful of catchy musical numbers and the work of the comedians and the chorus is excellent.

"The Deep Purple" Pleases.

"The Deep Purple," continues to please patrons of the Atlanta Theater. It is one of the best offerings of the season by the Miss Billy Long Company and the play has scored a hit. It is brimful of action, the lines are keen and the situations dramatic. "St. Elmo" will be next week's bill.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS — CHATTANOOGA.

The N., C. & St. L. Ry. and W. & A. R. R. will sell round-trip tickets at REDUCED RATES, ATLANTA TO CHATTANOOGA AND RETURN, $3.00, tickets on sale May 24 to 28, inclusive, and for trains scheduled to arrive Chattanooga before noon of May 29, with return limit June 5, with an extension by deposit at Chattanooga, to June 25, 1913. Regular trains leave Union Passenger Station at 8 a. m., 8:35 a. m., 4:50 p. m. and 8:50 p. m. All these trains carry Pullman parlor cars and first-class coaches. The 8:50 p. m. train carries local sleeper to Chattanooga. SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlanta, carrying the Atlanta party, at 2:15 p. m., May 26. The Western and Atlantic Railroad is the Battlefield Route. Sherman's line of march, every foot of it being historic. For further information call upon any agent or

C. E. HARMAN,
General Passenger Agent.

KING OF GREECE GOES TO RESIST BULGARS

General Hostilities Between the Balkan War Victors Threatened by Open Clash.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

ATHENS, May 23.—Terrific fighting is going on between Bulgarian and Greek troops in Southern Albania.

Dispatches to-day said a heavy force of Bulgarians, supported by artillery, crossed the neutral zone established when the armistice with Turkey was signed. Soon the conflict extended all along the line of the Greek army.

The Greek Government is threatening to precipitate general hostilities.

King Constantine, of Greece, commander of the Greek army which captured Salonika last year, left hurriedly and unexpectedly for Salonika this afternoon. The nature of his mission was kept secret, but it was reported that the conflict between the Bulgarian and Greek troops near there was the cause of his departure.

It was rumored that the King might take the field in person at the head of his army.

It is said that 60,000 Bulgars attacked a smaller body of Greeks, driving them toward Salonika. Greek reinforcements are being rushed to Salonika from Epirus.

$53,000 U. S. Bank Thief Dies in Exile

BOSTON, May 23.—Word was received in this city yesterday of the death in Valparaiso, Chili, of Frederick T. Moore, former assistant receiving teller of the National Bank of Commerce, who absconded fourteen years ago with $53,000 of the bank's funds.

The reported death of Moore recalls one of the most notorious cases in the annals of American criminology. After searching throughout the United States and the Klondike region of Alaska, Moore was arrested in Valparaiso in October, 1899, but there was no extradition treaty with Chili.

He was charged with embezzlement and after the court of first instance of Santiago De Chili acceded to the proposal to extradite him the following January, he applied to the Supreme Court of Chili and in March, 1900, that court set him free.

Moore became one of the best known photographers in Valparaiso. have sent acceptances.

Wesley Hospital to Graduate 5 Nurses

Friends of Wesley Memorial Hospital have been invited to attend the graduating exercises of the training school at Wesley Memorial Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Asa G. Candler will preside. The address will be made by Rev. H. M. DuBose, D.D. Pins will be presented to members of the class by Dr. E. G. Jones and diplomas by Dr. Stewart R. Roberts. In addition to a saxophone solo by Mrs. Wesley Hirschburg and a vocal solo by J. O. Pitts, there will be orchestra selections.

RAILWAY SCHEDULES.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

"PREMIER CARRIER OF THE SOUTH"

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF PASSENGER TRAINS, ATLANTA

The following schedule figures are published only as information, and are not guaranteed:

No.	Arrive From—	No.	Depart To—
36	Birmingh'm 12:01 am	36	New York 12:15 am
35	New York . 5:00 am	20	Columbus . 5:20 am
13	Jacksonville 5:50 am	13	Cincinnati . 5:40 am
43	Washington 6:25 am	32	Port Valley 5:50 am
12	Shreveport . 6:30 am	35	Birmingh'm 5:50 am
16	Heflin . . . 8:20 am	7	Chatt'ga . 6:40 am
29	New York . 11:15 am	12	Richmond . 6:55 am
8	Chatt'ga . .10:35 am	23	Kansas City 7:00 am
7	Macon . . .10:40 am	16	Brunswick . 7:45 am
7	Port Valley 10:45 am	29	Birmingh'm 11:30 am
21	Columbus . .10:50 am	38	New York . 11:01 am
6	Cincinnati . 11:10 am	40	Charlotte . 12:00 n'n
5	Columbus . . 1:40 pm	6	Macon . . . . 12:20 pm
30	Birmingh'm 2:30 pm	30	Columbus . 12:30 pm
40	B'mingh'm 12:40 pm	39	New York . 2:45 pm
39	Charlotte . . 3:55 pm	15	Chatt'ga . . 2:50 pm
5	Macon . . . . 4:00 pm	29	Birmingh'm 4:10 pm
37	New York . . 5:00 pm	*18	Toccoa . . . . 4:30 pm
15	Brunswick . . 7:50 pm	22	Columbus . . 5:10 pm
11	Richmond . . 8:30 pm	5	Cincinnati . . 5:10 pm
24	Kansas City 9:20 pm	23	Port Valley 5:20 pm
16	Chatt'ga . . 9:35 pm	25	Heflin . . . . . 5:45 pm
19	Columbus . .10:25 pm	10	Macon . . . . 8:50 pm
21	Port Valley 10:25 pm	44	Washington 8:45 pm
14	Cincinnati . 11:00 pm	24	Jacksonville 9:30 pm
23	Jacksonville . 8:50 am	11	Shreveport . 11:10 pm
*17	Toccoa . . . . 8:10 am	14	Jacksonville 11:10 pm

Trains marked thus (*) run daily except Sunday.

Other trains run daily. Central time. City Ticket Office, No. 1 Peachtree Street.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Legal Notices.

GUARDIAN SALE.

GEORGIA—Fulton County.

By virtue of an order of the court of ordinary of said county, granted at the May term, 1913, will be sold before the court house door of said county, on the first Tuesday in June next, within the legal hours of sale, the following property of the estate of Marguerite Smith, to-wit: A one-twentieth undivided interest in all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Macon and County of Bibb, in said State, and distinguished in the plan of said city as parts of lots Nos. one and two (1 and 2) in block No. sixty-one (61), in the southwest common of the city of Macon, and fronting on Tattnall Street sixty (60) feet, and running back the same width one hundred and fifty (150) feet, and containing one-quarter of an acre, more or less, said lot adjoining on the three remaining sides the lands belonging to the estate of B. F. Ross, with an alley on the north, between said lands and the lot herein described, and being the residence of E. P. Smith, late of said County of Bibb, deceased, and being the same property contained and described in deed from Susan M. Persons and Clara F. Florence to Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mary E. Smith, recorded in Deed Book "DDD" in the clerk's office of Bibb Superior Court, folio 541, on January 22, 1882, which one-twentieth undivided interest is probably worth one hundred and fifty dollars.

Terms cash.

MRS. LULA SMITH,
Guardian of Marguerite Smith.
HINES & JORDAN, Attorneys. 5-9-8

Want Ad Tablets hit the spot. Try one if you want anything

SPECIAL NOTICES.

STATE FARM COTTON OFFERED FOR SALE—On Friday morning, May 30th inst., will be offered for sale the State Farm Cotton of about 350 bales at the State Farm, near Milledgeville. All Cotton Buyers are cordially invited to be present and make bid on this fine lot of cotton. The Prison Commission of Georgia. 5-22-11

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 66 Decatur Street. R. Amiel & Co. 5-22-221

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 4 Decatur Street. Ben Rosenthal. 5-22-222

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for wholesale, for white and colored, at 522 Decatur Street. New South Brewing Company. 5-22-223

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 1 and 3 North Broad Street. W. H. Towery & Co. 5-22-224

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 7 East Alabama Street. Oppenheim Cigar Co. 5-22-225

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 16 and 18 North Broad Street. Gann & Garraux. 5-22-226

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 48 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-227

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 50 South Forsyth Street. John Fisher. 5-22-228

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 27 W. Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-229

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 11 North Forsyth Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-230

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 5 West Mitchell Street. Sig Samuels & Co. 5-22-231

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 82 South Broad Street. John Campbell. 5-22-232

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 West Mitchell Street. John Campbell. 5-22-233

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 205 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-234

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 203 Peters Street. G. L. Cary. 5-22-235

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 21 West Mitchell Street. E. C. Lambert. 5-22-236

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 South Pryor Street. A. Springer. 5-22-237

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 33 East Alabama Street. Lee Dreyfus. 5-22-238

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 7 and 9 Viaduct Place. Harry Staten. 5-22-239

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 41 Marietta Street. Shackleford & Johnson. 5-22-240

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 156 Decatur Street. C. D. Jones. 5-22-200

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 36 N. Broad Street. Hollis Cigar and Soda Co. 5-22-201

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 10 Walton Street. A. N. Hollis. 5-22-202

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 67 N. Broad Street. D. B. & A. N. Hollis. 5-22-203

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 5 Decatur Street. J. Bigler. 5-22-204

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 45 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-205

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 99 Peters Street. S. Parks. 5-22-206

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 113 Decatur Street. Rozenberg Bros. 5-22-207

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 113 Decatur Street. M. Prisock. 5-22-208

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 147 Decatur Street. J. A. Batchelor. 5-22-209

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only at 530 Decatur Street. A. L. Johnson. 5-22-210

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 404 Decatur Street. J. Silverman. 5-22-211

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 366 Decatur Street. E. Fitterman & Siegel. 5-22-212

WE HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license, wholesale and retail, for white and colored, at 350-2-4 Decatur Street. Acme Brewing Co. 5-22-213

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 238 Marietta Street. M. L. Shatzen & Co. 5-22-241

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 383 Marietta Street. J. G. Fowler. 5-22-242

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 514 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel. 5-22-243

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 384 Marietta Street. J. A. Daniel & Co. 5-22-244

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 19 Peachtree Street. Ed Lambert. 5-22-245

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 15 Edgewood Avenue. Manheim & Powell. 5-22-246

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 129 Edgewood Avenue. Louis Silverman. 5-22-248

The MARKET BASKET for the BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Specials For Friday and Saturday

Legs of Lamb (whole)	15c
Round Steak	15c
Fancy Rib Roast	12 1-2c and 15c
Snapper Fish Slats	12 1-2c
Pork Chops	18c
Picnic Hams	17c
Lamb Stew	10c
Sausage	10c
Liver	10c

Get the middleman's profit. Come and see.

Campbell Bros.

89 Decatur Street.
150 Marietta St.

Wood's SATURDAY SPECIALS

RED GRAVY COUNTRY (whole) HAMS	24c
Fancy Dressed Hens	20c
Pork Roast	17 1-2 and 22c
Porterhouse Steak	22 1-2
Porterhouse Steak,	22 1-2c and 25c
Lamb Chops	25c
Pure Pork Sausage	17 1-2c
Blue Valley Butter	35c
Prairie Rose Butter	35c
Kingan's Breakfast Bacon, 1-pound package	33c

Wood Bros.

165 Peachtree. 36 Luckie.
Bell Ivy 7086, 7087, 7088, 796.

Why Bake Bread At Home

When you can get just as good over the phone? Call your grocer and ask for Tip-Top Bread.

Sandwiches and Salads For the Summer Supper

By ELBERT L. THORNTON.

Sandwiches and Salads for the Supper during the summer months for the readers of the Market Basket.

Sandwiches.	Salads.
Bacon and Tomato Sandwich.	Tomato and Lettuce Salad.
Pecan and Butter Sandwich.	Asparagus Salad.
Minced Tongue and Boiled Egg Sandwich.	Mixed Vegetable Salad.
Cream Cheese and Jelly Sandwich.	Grapefruit Salad.
Deviled Ham Sandwich.	Salmon and Celery Salad.
Pimiento Cheese and Lettuce Sandwich.	Chicken Apple and Nut Salad.
Cold Roast Beef Sandwich.	German Potato Salad.
Chicken and Bacon Sandwich.	Green Pepper and Onion Salad.
Sardine and Pickle Sandwich.	Cucumber Salad.
Peanut Butter and Tomato Sandwich.	Fruit Salad.
Goose Liver Paste Sandwich.	Cabbage and Egg Salad.
Anchovy Sandwich.	Water Cress Salad.
Swiss Cheese Sandwich.	Chicory Salad.
Olive Relish.	Stuffed Pepper with Shrimp.
Chip Beef.	Lettuce and Egg Salad.
Tomato and Butter Sandwich.	Mashed Potato Salad.
Club Sandwich.	Stuffed Tomato with Celery.
Herring Sandwich.	Stuffed Egg with Ham.
Cheese and Olive Sandwich.

These sandwiches and salads can be prepared at noon and placed on your table after dinner, so you won't have too go into your kitchen.

Canned and fresh fruits with cake make a nice dessert, such as peaches and cream, sliced pineapple and cookies, strawberries and cream, stewed apples, prunes, etc.

SPECIALS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

24 lbs. Self-Rising Flour	79c sack	2 cans No. 2 Tomatoes	15c
Gold Medal Flour	83c sack	10c Salmon, 3 for	25c
KKK Flour	90c	Full Cream Cheese	19c
10 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard	$1.39	2 cans Corn	15c
5 lbs. Silver Leaf Lard	70c	New Irish Potatoes, per qt.	5c
Old Irish Potatoes, per pk.	29c	Faust Macaroni, per pkg.	5c
3 cans No. 3 Tomatoes	25c	Blue Valley Butter, lb.	35c

WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF WESTERN MEATS.

H. POLLOCK'S

REMEMBER THE PLACE—487 CAPITOL AVENUE.
Phone M. 150. Atlanta 2280.

BIG PARADE JUNE 4!

ALL GROCERY STORES and meat markets will close at noon every Wednesday during June, July and August, beginning June 4th with a big parade through the principal streets.

We earnestly desire the co-operation of our lady friends and customers in making these holidays a great success. They mean much to our help.

TAPPAN & CO.

55 HIGHLAND AVENUE.

FOR PURE ICE CREAM Send Your Orders to GEO. MOORE

Atlanta Phone 1326. Bell M. 3323.
68-70-72 Central Ave.

Never Again

Do I bake bread, is what she said.
She used Tip-Top Bread.
Enough said.

Why Become Fatigued and Worried?

The weather is oppressive. Let us help you. We will lessen your troubles. Don't go to the bother of making bread in the Summer time, you will find Tip-Top Bread As good as thine.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

SEWELL'S Money-Saving Specials for Saturday

Buy from first hands and save 20 per cent to 50 per cent on your purchases. We retail at wholesale prices.

Solid carload Fancy Lemons, per dozen	14-1-2c
Solid carload Pineapples, each	7c
Solid carload New Irish Potatoes, per pk.	29c
Florida Tomatoes, per basket	15c
Quart bottle Grape Juice	29c
Missouri Brand Hams, per pound	19c
Missouri Brand Picnic Hams, per lb.	14c
35c can Libby's Asparagus	17 1-2c

Solid carload Poultry and Eggs.

Fresh dressed Hens, dressed on premises—per pound 17 1-2c

Sewell Commission Co.

Wholesale and Retail.
113-115 Whitehall St.
Branch store 164 Decatur St.

CALL THE FARM PRODUCTS CO.

FOR FRESH COUNTRY Butter and Eggs

HENS, FRYERS, BROILERS, DUCKS, GEESE and TURKEYS. We receive these right from the country and dress them on the premises while you wait. Not storage.

129 South Pryor.
Main 3402. Atl. 815.

EAT TIP-TOP BREAD

At all grocers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer License.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 17 Marietta Street. P. P. O'Byrne. 5-22-249

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 256 Decatur Street. H. Lysten. 5-22-252

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 127 North Pryor Street. C. C. Jones. 5-22-253

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only, at 191 Decatur Street. Jud Stow. 5-22-254

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 Marietta Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-255

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 38 South Forsyth Street. J. P. Hunter. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 29 South Pryor Street. Schwarz & Bleim. 5-22-257

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 470 Decatur Street. M. A. Rogers. 34-22-5

AT THE next meeting of Council we will apply for renewal of near beer license for white only, at 25 West Mitchell Street. J. D. Brady & Bro. 33-22-5

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 324 Decatur Street. L. Zabludowsky. 5-22-214

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Near Beer Licenses.

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 252 Decatur Street. J. N. Coggins. 5-22-215

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 230 Decatur Street. S. Krasner. 5-22-216

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 202-4 Decatur Street. Danneman Bros. 5-22-217

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 150 Decatur Street. J. Brantingham & Co. 5-22-218

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 80 Decatur Street. Walter Harris. 5-22-219

I HEREBY make application to City Council for renewal of near beer license for colored only at 74 Decatur Street. Pete Mitchell. 5-22-220

PERSONAL.

YOUNG LADIES taken for training at the Randolph Company Hair Dressing Parlors, 58½ Whitehall Street. 3-3-37

NOW is the time to paint and we have the best that can be made. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters St. 5-21-10

ACME HATTERS HAVE MOVED TO 20 E. HUNTER STREET. OLD HATS MADE NEW. 4-23-42

PERSONAL.

VICTOR L. TREMAINE.

Mystic.
Permanently Located in Atlanta.
125 WEST PEACHTREE STREET
Hours 10 to 7. Closed on Fridays.
Develops personal magnetism and psychic powers. Your greatest wish can positively be realized. Every case guaranteed. 30-21-5

THE GATE CITY DOLL HOSPITAL, 243 Courtland, near Cain, repairs all kinds of dolls. 203-24-4

FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS, FLY SCREENS—Wood fly screens, metal fly screens, hardwood floors, Venetian blinds, metal weather strips furnished anywhere in the South. Write or phone W. R. Callaway, manager, 1403 Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga. Main 5310.

SERIOUS RESULTS come from trusses improperly fitted. John B. Daniel, at 34 Wall Street, has an expert fitter and it will cost you no more to have him fit you, and it means insurance. 6-24-19

MATERNITY SANITARIUM—Private, refined, homelike. Limited number of patients cared for. Home provided for infants. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 26 Windsor Street. 11-9-57

DR. GAULT'S Antiseptic Powder for women. It is cleansing, cooling and non-irritating. Can be used as a douche at any time with safety. It has no equal. Price $1 per box, postpaid. J. T. Gault Chemical Company, 702 Austell Building, Atlanta. 4-25-33

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—In neighborhood of Houston and Courtland, little brown shaggy male puppy, white feet and white ring around neck. Finder please return to 66 Houston Street. Reward. 5-23-20

LOST—Thursday on Whitehall Street, lady's watch fob with name "Eva" engraved. Finder return to Terminal Hotel and receive liberal reward. 5-23-10

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—A homestead in Davison-Paxon-Stokes or in High's. Call Atlanta phone 2979. 5-22-21

LOST—Wednesday, 14th, Shepherd dog, with large leather collar, bushy tail; answers to name of "Shep." Atlanta 1131. 5-22-37

LOST—Wednesday, a Boston terrier bulldog; has one glass eye; answers to name of "Queen." Atlanta phone 1131. 5-22-35

LOST—Monday, about $35 in money and check made out to T. P. Westbrook. Finder please return to 107 Ivy St., or call Ivy 4778 and receive reward. 5-21-41

LOST—On Peachtree Street, silver card case, filigree to lining, containing check for $45, No. 6048, made out to Miss Mary Green, payable to Third National Bank. Return to Miss Green, Spring, and receive reward. Ivy [illegible] has title

LOST—Ring set with pearls. Call lot in call Ivy 2179 or P. O. Box 253. throw

HELP WANTED Male.

e in the on front ible drive iting for a erms. We

WANTED—Boy with bi and collect Monday afte Call 5 to 6. 26 Capitol

WANTED—Assistant FARM Apply, with reference TA). Pharmacy. RIVER; also on

WANTED—Press feede of farm as fine hall Street. Ross Moor Fine chert miles out this

WANTED—Delivery h sell at $100 acre. experienced w on this. If sold at 391 S. Pryor St A REAL BARGAIN.

SOLICITORS proposition G, LOANS. Phones 1599 Peachtree

A 30c "Want Ad" placed in this paper may be the seed that will grow a fortune for you

HELP WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—Stair builder, one competent to handle circle stair work. Apply Phoenix Planing Mill, 321 Highland Avenue. 5-22-4

ANY ONE knowing the whereabouts of Lee Martin, white, about eighteen, will confer a favor by communicating same to M., Box 580, care Georgian. 5-21-2

WANTED—Two first-class waiters. Apply 205 Peachtree; Adair Hotel. 5-21-26

WANTED—Colored help. Apply Southern Upholstering Co., corner Jefferson and Echo. 5-21-25

ATLANTA mail carriers wanted; average $90 month. Atlanta examinations coming. Specimen questions free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 45-D, Rochester, N. Y. 30-14-5

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Peachtree and Forsyth Streets, Atlanta, or 411 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga. 4-1-1

WANTED—Ideas. Inventors, write for list of inventions wanted and prizes offered by manufacturers. Also, how to get your patent. Sent free to any address. Randolph & Briscoe, patent attorneys, Washington, D. C. 7-11-23

PULLMAN porters wanted; references. For instruction. Write P. O. Box 804, Atlanta, Ga. 5-4-37

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade; tools and position furnished. Atlanta Barber College, 10 East Mitchell St. 5-11-17

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells of about 300,000 protected positions in U. S. service. Thousands of vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, sure and generous pay, lifetime employment. Just ask for booklet T-412. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 5-1-1

Female.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 240 Courtland, apartment 3. 5-23-48

WANTED—At once, an experienced cook. References required. 61 Avery Drive, Ansley Park. 5-23-43

WANTED—Competent general servant. Apply to 439 North Jackson St. 33-23-5

WANTED—A cook; good pay. Phone Ivy 6481-J. 62 Westminster Drive. 5-23-35

WANTED—Good cook; one that can bake bread; will pay $5 per week. Apply 174 St. Charles Avenue at once. 29-23-5

FREE—Ladies, we trim and make over hats free in our finishing department; lace and maline hats to order. Ideal Millinery School, 109½ Whitehall St. 5-23-202

STEWARDESS WANTED—Middle-aged lady who can make desserts and control help; in health resort. Address Richard Plenge, Williamston, S. C. 32-23-5

WANTED—Experienced assorter. Apply Excelsior Laundry, 40-42 Wall St. 5-22-19

WANTED—Lady steno-bookkeeper of fair ability. State salary, age, references. Go out of city. Merchant, care Georgian. 5-22-10

A COOK—Four in family; room on the place with private toilet and electric lights. 282 St. Charles Avenue.

WANTED—Good cook; also washerwoman to live on place. Apply 667 W. Peachtree Street. 5-21-37

COLORED girl of neat appearance for general housework. 49 Vedado Way. 42-21-5

WANTED—Experienced nurse for two children, one and three years old; settled woman preferred. Must have good references. Apply 787 Ponce De Leon. 5-21-14

A FIRST-CLASS chambermaid; good wages. Apply 241 West Peachtree. 38-21-5

WANTED—Experienced cook. Must be settled, unincumbered woman willing to go to country place. Call mornings. 205 Peachtree Circle. 32-21-5

WANTED—Good cook. Must live in the house. Apply 1068 DeKalb Avenue. 36-20-5

WANTED—Housekeeper for sanitarium. Apply in person with references. Experience required. 237 Whitehall Street. 5-22-5

U. S. GOVERNMENT POSITIONS open to women. Write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 602-D, Rochester, N. Y. 25-20-5

WANTED—Experienced millinery trimmer and saleslady; also saleswoman for suits and shirtwaists. Grossman's. 5-19-10

GIRLS LEARN MILLINERY; best trade on earth for women; pay $60 to $100 a month. Write Ideal School of Millinery, 109½ Whitehall St. 3-29-41

Male and Female.

BOYS and girls everywhere, to make a dollar every day after school. Pleasant and easy work. Call on or write A. R. Cassil, 41½ Peachtree Street, Atlanta. Inclose stamped and addressed envelope for reply. 33-21-5

TYPEWRITERS FOR RENT.

NO. 6 REMINGTONS, $5 for 4 months; Royals, $7 for 4 months; Underwoods, $8 for 4 month; Remington visible, $9 for 4 months. Initial payment allowed on price of machine. Get our new illustrated catalog and price list No. 26. American Writing Machine Co., 48 N. Pryor Street. Phone M. 2526.

ROYAL typewriters rented; one month, $2.75; three months for $7.00; special rates to students. Royal Typewriter Co., 46 N. Pryor St. Phone Main 2492. 4-25-17

TEACHERS WANTED.

WRITE for record of our eight years' work. High class patronage. Efficient service. Foster's Teachers Agency, Atlanta, Ga. 64-2-4

WANTED AT ONCE—A few more first-class principals and assistant teachers. Good openings, good salaries. Free registration. Register Teachers' Agency Register, Ga. 5-18-9

EDUCATIONAL.

Milsake a limited number of pupils Ernest $2 per month; graduate mu- Anna Kent St. 5-21-22

Willie summer school; cool, quiet; Harry s from June 17. Latin, Joe R ch, German, English, his- Howa matics. Address E. K. Tur- Claudia Ga. 5-9-1

Annie Marion

DRUGGISTS AND SALESMEN.

Fannie Ma Wanted.

Florence G ENTS—Send your work Nathaniel t and get better work Oscar Euge Stevens Bros., 23½ W. H. Ham Atlanta. 3-7-35

J. Walling ENTS—Send your work Ida G. Fox and get better work. Miss Ida But on time. Prices to Nell Reynold Stevens Bros., 23½ Mill Wilhelmina Atlanta. 3-7-35

Lillian Mauvenberg a REAL estate Boswell Conway ING. Apply Annie Slatten care Geor- Fred Vickery Charles Ernest Vernoy

Want Anything?

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

Telephone clerk will take your ad, and, if requested, assist you in wording, or will write the ad for you—that's his business. He will also make it as brief as possible to obtain the results desired. In order to accommodate customers, accounts will be opened by phone, but you will make payments promptly after publication or when bills are presented by mail.

Classified Advertising Rates:

1 insertion ....10c a line
3 insertions .. 6c a line
7 insertions .. 5c a line
30 insertions .. 4½c a line
50 insertions ... 4c a line

No advertisements taken for less than two lines. Seven words make a line.

To protect your interests as well as ours, an order to discontinue an ad will not be accepted over the phone. Please make order to discontinue in writing.

No advertisement accepted from out of town unless accompanied by cash or forwarded through recognized advertising agency.

TELEPHONES

Bell M. / Atlanta 8000

LITTLE ADS THAT BRING BIG RESULTS

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Male.

WANTED—By colored man, position as first-class cook. Address Cook, Box 354, care Georgian. 205-5-23

LISTEN! If you want first-class salesman, with A-1 references and ability to deliver the goods, or a good all-round man, call Atlanta phone 3761. Must have work. Address W. C., Box 891, care Georgian. 5-23-5

AS REPRESENTATIVE of some corporation or salesman; for some firm at Macon, or on the road. Willing to work one month to demonstrate my ability. Can furnish reference. Address Honest Gentleman, care Georgian. 41-22-5

WANTED—Position by young man as fireman. Will accept reasonable salary. Address Press, Box 495, care Georgian. 208-5-22

STENOGRAPHER—Young married man With two years' experience in railroad traffice work desires position. Address P. O. Box 23, Boca Grande, Fla. 37-22-5

COLLEGE graduate with two years' experience as bookkeeper and cashier for responsible firm desires responsible employment; write good hand, can use typewriter rapidly; can furnish best city references. Address E., Box 6, care Georgian. 32-22-5

ARCHITECT—Young man; designer and head draughtsman for seven years in leading New York offices, wishes to affiliate with good local architect. An interview will be convincing. Address J. M. B., care Georgian. 205-5-22

A SPLENDID dining room boy, private home or office work. Want work at once. Can give good reference. Answer quick. Z. B., 383 Martin Street, City. 30-22-5

WANTED—Position b yan experienced man as manager of small telephone exchange. Can give the best of references as to character and ability. Address J. J. N., 1004 Lafayette St., Quitman, Ga. 47-21-5

FIRST-CLASS German butler wants position; will furnish best references. Address 47 E. Mitchell St. 44-21-5

YOUNG MAN of good business ability wishes to affiliate with good concern. All recommendations of highest sources. An interview with me will be convincing. Phone Ivy 6299-L. 5-21-17

STENOGRAPHER of experience desires position at once; best references. Call Main 4865-J. 5-21-7

YOUNG MAN, 26, recently arrived from New York, seeks position as bookkeeper or clerk in mercantile house offering advancement; good correspondent and willing worker. Address Clerk, 889, care Georgian. 39-21-5

WANTED—Position as sawyer at circular saw mill in Georgia or Florida. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Six years' experience. Good reference. Address P. O. Box 68, Council, N. C. 34-19-5

POSITION WANTED—Bookkeeper, 20, ten years' experience as bookkeeper, cashier, collector, wants position; best references. Bond if desired. Experience, Box 55, care Georgian. 31-12-5

BOOKKEEPER and auditor will straighten out your bookkeeping and office troubles. Trial balances made. Small sets of books written up. P. O. Box 836, Phone Ivy 7011. 5-4-13

Female.

YOUNG GIRL wants position in small family to do general housework. Address M. G. J., 899 Gordon St. 201-5-23

WANTED—Position as cashier by young lady with experience. Address M. C., 21 White Oak Street, Atlanta, Ga. 200-5-22

TYPEWRITING, any class, accurately, neatly done; reasonable. Stenographer, Ivy 5. 28-22-5

STENOGRAPHER with four and half years' experience desires permanent position at once. Address Miss C. L., 362 Capitol Avenue. 41-21-5

WANTED—Position by young lady as stenographer; three years' experience. Care Georgian. 206-5-21

HIGHLY efficient stenographer, office assistant, has resigned position. Must have another immediately. $18.00 per week minimum. Phone Ivy 5840. 5-21-4

WANTED—Cases to nurse by experienced sick nurse. Maternity cases a specialty. Rates reasonable. Best references. Call Ivy 7304-J, or West 1054. 36-20-5

Male and Female.

WANTED—Position by man and wife; woman to cook and man to work garden and care for chickens; best of references. Address R. B., Box 450, care Georgian. 201-5-21

DRESSMAKING—DRESSMAKERS.

WANTED—Dressmaking. One-piece dresses, $2.60 and up. Mrs. O. E. Smith, 27 N. Howard St., Kirkwood. 5-20-7

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

$25.00 English baby carriage. Good as new. Will sell for less than one-third. Call West 210. 5-23-19

FOR SALE—An oak chiffonier with mirror, good as new, cheap for cash. East Point 291-L. 5-23-23

FOR SALE—New Remington automatic shotgun. Bargain if taken now. Thos. Peacock, Rutledge, Ga. 5-23-8

FOR SALE—One National coaster-brake bicycle, good as new, cheap for cash, for quick sale. Apply 533 Woodward Avenue. 27-23-5

FOR SALE—Controlling interest in modern, up-to-date, beautifully furnished, thoroughly sanitary, new and well patronized beauty parlor, to party who can take charge and manage same. Cash, real estate or terms. Write F. Rosier, 74 North Pryor Street. 5-23-1

DEALER in fresh meats, groceries, country produce, fat spring chickens and real eggs of my own raising. Both phones. 234 Capitol Ave. 5-22-35

CANOE FOR SALE—15-foot "DETROIT" canoe; cushion and racing paddles complete. Boat equipped with sponsons and was "made to order." Perfectly new. Price complete $50. Call "Canoe," Phones 484. 202-5-22

FOR SALE—Rolltop desk, show cases, scales and National cash register, at a bargain. Main 3239. Atlanta 880. 80 Capitol Avenue. 5-22-202

FOR SALE—Furniture complete for 6-room house. Cheap for cash. 233 Juniper Street. Phone Ivy 4834. 207-5-22

FOR SALE—16-inch oscillating electric fan. Brand new. Direct current. $15. P. O. Box 640. 5-22-15

FOR SALE—Less than half cost, soda fount; good condition. Brewster Mercantile Co., Esom Hill, Ga. 5-22-13

DUNTLEY PNEUMATIC CLEANERS remove dirt and germs from rugs, carpets, floors, etc.; vacuum cleaners from $32.50 up; vacuum sweepers, $9.75. C. J. Daniel & Co., 416 Fourth National Bank Building. 12-2-11

FURNITURE—We buy and sell cash bargains. Southern Wreckage Company, 114 South Forsyth Street. Both phones. 1-17-5

FOR SALE—Brown wicker baby carriage; used 8 months; in perfect condition; cost $25; will sell for $10. Bell Phone West 1113-J. 5-21-20

MAHOGANY bed room suit for sale; a bargain; or will exchange for room and board. 115 McDaniel. Main 2489-J. 5-21-33

FOR SALE—Six direct current 16-inch desk fans; used only two months. West 502. 5-21-29

SWEET PEAS, 30c per 100; carnations, 50c a dozen. Alta Vista Floral Company. West 135. 5-21-16

WE are agents for Pittsburg wire fence. Can make interesting prices to both wholesale and retail trade. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta. 5-21-12

GAS water heater for sale cheap. Good as new. Phone Ivy 2407-J. 5-21-3

FOR SALE—Fresh broken crackers, 5c a pound at factory, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Frank E. Block Co., Ellis St. 5-20-11

IMMEDIATE shipment of (genuine) Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potato plants at $1.25 per thousand, or $1.50 delivered. We ship nothing but good, strong, fresh plants and guarantee entire satisfaction. The Bear's Head Farms, Pine Castle, Fla. 32-19-5

NEW Perfection refrigerator, suitable for grocery, restaurant or large boarding house. 391 South Pryor. Bell phone 623, Atlanta phone 299. 5-19-6

FOR SALE—Two pool tables, practically new; been in use in club room and but hurt; must sell at once; bargain; original cost $400. Address P. O. Box 87, Jonesboro, Ga. 5-1-6

FOR SALE.

I WILL SELL a valuable patent at a sacrifice if taken immediately. Worth one-half million. Address Patent, Box 863, care Georgian. 3-8-6

SIGNS BROWN SIGN & PAINTING CO., 77½ Whitehall. M. 3780. 3-18-33

WE RENT good pianos $3 per month up. We sell good pianos $5 per month up. R. P. BECHT COMPANY, 107-108-109 Temple Court Building. Main 667. 2-19-26

C. S. HULLS Headquarters. F. R. Logan & Co., Atlanta. 4-20-32

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT SWEEP CLEAN.

LET US prove this in your home by free demonstration. Full particulars at 107 Temple Court Building. L. R. Sires, agent. Phone Main 667. 5-2-30

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR

Pays for itself in ice-saving. $17.50 to $75.00.

C. H. MASON,

6-8 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

BANKRUPTCY blanks, $1.50 per set. Warranty deeds, bonds for title, Mortgages, contracts, Stock certificates and bonds. Bennett's, 25 South Broad. 201-20-13

NEW RUBBER TIRES put on your baby carriage. Repaired, repainted and re-covered. Phone Ivy 3076. Robert Mitchell, 229 Edgewood Avenue. 2-13-9

SAFES, FILES, cabinets, new and second hand. Gookin Bank and Office Equipment Company, 113-115 N. Pryor Street.

KENT ON SIGNS signifies best quality. Kent Sign Co., 130½ Peachtree Street. 3-5-20

GOOD upright mahogany piano, nearly new; can be bought at a sacrifice if taken quick; sold for $350 less than six months ago. Mahogany Piano, care Georgian. 5-18-20

PIANO BARGAINS.

PIANOS AND PIANO PLAYERS.

SOLD at the lowest prices and on the most reasonable terms at which first-class instruments can be handled. Behr Bros., Newby & Evans, Ludwig and others. Call and see me before you buy.

WALTER HUGHES,

88 N. Pryor St.

3-29-3

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—One second-hand oil stove, in good condition. Address P. O. Box 339, Atlanta. 25-23-5

WANTED—Two rolltop desks, mahogany or imitation. Write 1309, Third National Bank Bldg. 26-22-5

WANTED—Second-hand ice cream table and six wire chairs. Cherokee Drug Company. Main 2808. 5-20-24

EVERYTHING to build and paint with. West Lumber Co., 238 Peters Street, Atlanta, Ga. 5-21-11

AUTOMOBILES

For Sale, Repairs and Accessories.

FOR SALE—Wood's electric coupe, with forty-cell, iron-clad exide battery. Entire car in fine condition. Price $700.

35-horsepower, 5-passenger Firestone-Columbus touring car in good condition and a good looker, $475. Firestone-Columbus Southern Co., 45-47 Auburn Avenue. Phone Ivy 4177. 5-22-7

WILL trade nice corner lot for good auto. Must be first-class; value of lot $900.00. Phone Main 4836-J. 200-5-21

WE have several Flanders chassis and will build body and paint car to your order. Bargain prices. Don't buy any second-hand car until you see us. NORTH PRYOR GARAGE, NORTH PRYOR PLACE. 4-2-28

WINDSHIELDS.

RADIATORS, lamps, fenders, repaired as good as new. Mfrs. all kinds sheet metal work. Warlick Sheet Metal Co., 248 Edgewood. 3-4-64

GOOD USED CARS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Maxwell, 2-cylinder runabout, fine condition throughout, $185.

"Courier Roadster," fully equipped, electric lights, $275.

Buick model 10 roadster, electric lights, $325.

Buick, model 33, 4-passenger, fully equipped, fine condition, $350.

Maxwell Roadster, Sportsman type, model Q, fully equipped, electric lights, $375.

Maxwell touring, model G, 4-passenger, fully equipped, $450.

Primo touring car, new top and seat covers, $450.

These cars are in good running condition and worth more than the prices quoted above.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY.

241 PEACHTREE ST. 4-11-18

Castiron Welding

AUTOGENOUS METHOD.

AUTO AND ALL MACHINE PARTS.

METAL WELDING COMPANY.

MAIN 3013. 46 GARNETT STREET. 2-26-6

DOBBS TIRE REPAIR CO.

WE REPAIR AND SELL ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES. 226 PEACHTREE STREET. PHONE IVY 5646. 4-1-3

TRAVIS & JONES,

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING.

Ivy 4832. 26 James Street. 3-1-54

WARNING TO INFRINGERS AND IMITATORS.

LIQUID TIRE TONIC IS PROTECTED BY U. S. DUYREA PATENT, NO. 578561. AND ALL INFRINGERS, AGENTS OR USERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT THEY MUST ANSWER IN THE COURT FOR VIOLATION OF THIS LAW. LIQUID TIRE TONIC COMPANY, KANSAS CITY, MO. 4-3-47

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.

REPAIRING and manufacturing. Lamp and fender work. 72 Ivy Street. Atlanta phone 3816. 3-10-12

Garages For Rent.

FOR RENT—Garage. Phone Ivy 1499-J. 514 Peachtree Street.

Automobiles For Rent

DUNHAM MOTOR CO.

FIVE and seven-passenger cars. Garage, 112 East Ellis Street. Call Bell phone Ivy 2496 day, Main 4325 night. 3-21-23

Motorcycles.

THOR MOTORCYCLES, repairs and accessories; best equipped repair shop in city. We will take care of you. Southern Motorcycle Co., 116 Edgewood Ave. 3-26-31

MOTORCYCLES  EASY TERMS  BICYCLES.

EXCELSIOR motorcycles, high-grade bicycles; complete line new and used bicycles and motorcycles; complete stock parts and accessories; modern service depot. Lowest prices, easy terms. ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO., 145-147-149 Edgewood Avenue. Phone Ivy 1609. PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION. 4-1-22

Tire Repairing

HIGH-GRADE STEAM VULCANIZING. Retreading a specialty. Prompt attention given express shipments. Sanders-Speer Vulcanizing Company, 100 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga. 3-28-15

WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—To exchange nice room and board for diamond, motorcycle, typewriter or piano. Address Box 216, care Georgian. 5-16-46

I BUY MEN'S old clothes and shoes. Drop a card. I. Bock, 177 Gilmer St.

DROP A CARD.
We'll bring Cash for
Old Clothes and Shoes.
"THE VESTAIRE."
166 Decatur Street.

WE PAY HIGHEST cash prices for household goods, pianos and office furniture. Cash advanced on consignments. Central Auction Company, 12 East Mitchell Street. Bell phone Main 2424. 8-26-26

EXCHANGE—MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—To exchange three diamond rings, value $1,100, for purchase money notes or vacant lots. J. H., Box 902, care Georgian. 42-22-5

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FOR SALE—Best daily newspaper proposition in South Georgia—in the best city of its size in the State; modern equipment throughout. Can be bought at a bargain, half cash or good negotiable paper, balance on easy terms. Write quick to "Newspaper," Box 10, care Georgian. 5-23-12

TAILORING, cleaning and pressing business well established, excellent location, now paying $1,500 per year clear of all expenses. On account of failing in health will sacrifice for $1,000. Will accept $600 cash, balance on terms. Address P. O. Box 60, care Georgian. 5-22-1

$1,000 WILL BUY business netting 100 per cent yearly with opportunity for additional $100 monthly for services. Cash, Box 903, care Georgian. 28-21-5

CENTRALLY LOCATED restaurant and lunch room having good trade in bakery wares also. A rare chance for party that can devote his time. Present owner tied up in other business. Address R. K., Box 90, care Georgian. 201-5-19

FOR SALE—Business paying $200 to $300 per month, owner leaving city, cheap for quick cash sale. Address I. L. B., Box 607, care Georgian. 5-18-57

MEDICAL.

DR. R. F. SORRELLS, 313 Grand Building. Phone Ivy 7422. Diseases of women and children a specialty. I treat and cure diseases of women without the use of the knife. I also treat and cure cancer without using the knife. All consultations free and strictly confidential. 5-22-3

DROPSY CURED—Relieves shortness of breath in 36 to 48 hours. Reduces swelling in fifteen to twenty days. Collum Dropsy Remedy Company, 408 Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-25-11

DR. EDMONDSON'S Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills, a safe and reliable treatment for painful and suppressed menstruation, irregularities and similar obstructions. Trial box by mail, 50c. Frank Edmondson & Bro., manufacturing chemists, 11 North Broad St., Atlanta.

POULTRY, PET AND LIVE STOCK

Poultry Fertilizer Better than Chemical To Build Up Land

Farmers Do Not Take Advantage of the Experience of Others. Great Opportunities.

EDITED BY JUDGE F. J. MARSHALL

The value of the poultry products in the country for 1910 was approximately $800,000,000, and the 1912 product will be around $1,000,000,000.

Much of this is attributed to the everlasting and persistent efforts of the American Poultry Association, an organization whose aims and efforts are to the building up and increasing of the thoroughbred poultry interests of this country. How well they have succeeded we will leave the reader to judge for himself from the wonderful building up of the industry in every nook and corner of the country.

But the very people who should receive the greatest benefits from this work are not reaping the benefits they should. I refer to the farmers of this country, and especially those of the South.

The raising of cotton by the means of chemical fertilizers seems to have a death grip upon them; so much so that they can not see over it into anything more profitable to them. They have been constantly ruining their land, but they have been turning it out to grow up in bushes and adding new land to keep up the supply. But that string to their bow is about worn out, and they must look to the building up or maintaining the fertility of the soil now in hand.

Chemical Fertilizers.

This can hardly be accomplished by the use of chemical fertilizers, for at best they represent little more than prods and stimulants, such as whisky, morphine and the like to the human body, requiring more and more at each succeeding dose to produce the results, the result of which is utter depletion. What they need are the natural elements, such as poultry manure, prepared in the way of a compost heap, can furnish to the soil. A thousand hens on the average small farm, with proper care of the droppings, will do wonders in enriching the soil. The land should then be cropped in rotation with peas, corn, clover, potatoes, etc.—with the careful deep plowing so essential to the conserving of all the elements of the soil and air, which will work wonders. If the hens are allowed to range at intervals during the day, they will do more toward destroying the insect enemies of the crops than all the insecticides you can buy.

About 175 days represent the working actually spent during the year upon the farm. If the farmer would devote at least a part of the remaining time to the care and management of a good flock of well bred chickens instead of remaining idle, much profit would result and his farm would improve in fertility each year.

The American Poultry Association stands for pure thoroughbred stock. It does not indicate to you what varieties you should keep. It leaves that to you. But whatever you do, discard the old mixed breed, and take up something that will show uniformity not only in color and breed characteristics, but in the production of eggs and meat. I have simply outlined a course that can be made profitable not only in the way of dollars and cents, but the improvement of your land in a permanent way. Get busy and work out the details, as every one must who makes a success of anything in this world.

Questions and Answers.

Judge Marshall—Some of my chickens have what seems to me to be rheumatism. They sit around on their hock joints a good deal of the time, and when they do attempt to get about they succeed with difficulty, hobbling about in a most ungainly manner. They seem to eat well and in many ways are all right. We have lost none so far with it, but of course will if they are not helped in some way. Can you suggest anything that might help them out? Thanking you in advance, I am yours truly—Mrs. M. M. H., Jackson, Miss.

Answer.—The first thing to do is to remove the cause if possible. It is no doubt rheumatism caused by roosting too low in a house or coop with a damp clay floor. Give the floor a coating of two inches of good dry sand or sawdust; something that will remove the results of the dampness. Have plenty of ventilation, but let it be pure and free from filth or dampness. Those afflicted should respond readily to treatment of some good liniment or a solution of witch hazel and arnica well rubbed in about the joints. We would also recommend the use of salts in the drinking water at the rate of a teaspoon to each two fowls. Give this one week and then use Douglass Mixture the next week.

The principal effort should, however, be made in protecting the well ones rather than in treating the sick.

Ducks.

SELLING OUT at a great sacrifice, Fawn and White Runners, at $2 each; White Runners at $1.10 each. They are of excellent type and courage and are now laying. Mrs. C. C. Ramsay, Luthersville, Ga. 36-22-5

ENTIRE lot of prize-winning Fawn and White and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale at $1.50 each. Will sell any number at this price. First come, first served. The ducks won first and second prizes for all the leading poultry shows in the South last fall. Will give ribbons with the birds. Oak Dean Poultry Farm, Stone Mountain, Ga. 5-20-2

Eggs—All Varieties.

THE EGGS of different varieties of fowls will be found classified under their respective breeds in the future, instead of under the classification of "Eggs."

Plymouth Rocks.

BARRED ROCK eggs, pure and fresh from the Georgia Poultry Farm, $1 per setting. On sale at 12 South Broad St. 32-18-5

EGGS from prize-winning E. B. Thompson Ringlet Barred Rocks, either mating, $3 for fifteen, $5 for thirty. A. M. Kendall, Dallas, Ga. 3-8-11

Poultry—All Varieties.

FOR SALE—Twenty hens, five roosters, 25 little ones (Buff Orpingtons) at a song. 301 Pulliam St. 206-5-23

FREE RANGE DUCK AND POULTRY FARM, Chamblee, Ga. Large stock of White Runners, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds, enables us to ship fresh eggs, strong and fertile. Write for prices on stock and eggs if you want a bargain. 1-21-15

Rhode Island Reds.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs, 75c per setting, for short time. Call Main 4365-J. 5-22-39

Horses, Mules, Vehicles, Etc.

WANTED—Sound, young, gentle horse; weight about 1,100 pounds; must be cheap for cash. Ivy 3128-J. 5-21-21

Goats.

GOAT HARNESS and wagon wanted at once. Phone Main 4. 5-23-4

Dogs.

FOR SALE—Pit bull terrier; subject to registration. Call Ivy 5912. 5-22-17

Poultry, Plants and Seeds.

BERMUDA grass seeds now ready at the oldest seed house South. Also many seeds to plant now. Mark W. Johnson Seed Co., 35 South Pryor Street. 34-21-5

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.

SEEDSMEN FOR THE SOUTH,
16 WEST MITCHELL STREET.
FOUR CITY DELIVERIES DAILY:
NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES, 9
A. M.; INMAN PARK AND WEST
END, 2 P. M.

BELL PHONE MAIN 2568, ATLANTA 2568.

NOW IS THE TIME to begin using lice powder, liquid lice killers and disinfectants. We carry Lee's, Conkey's and Pratt's Lice Powders and Liquid Lice Killers. Start using either of them now and you will not be bothered with lice and mites in your poultry houses and on your fowls this summer.

SAGO PALM BULBS started now will make large palms this season. We have all size bulbs. Price 15c a pound, two pounds 25c.

DON'T FORGET that we are headquarters for poultry feeds, poultry remedies, drinking founts, food hoppers, etc.

BUGS CAN'T STAY on plants when "Bug Death" is used. It is a dry powder put up in convenient size packages and is non-poisonous. It can be put on the plants in the morning when the dew is on or can be put on after the plants have been sprinkled. Price, pound package 15c, 3 pounds 35c, 5 pounds 50c, 12½ pounds $1.00.

MONEY TO LOAN.

SPECIAL HOME FUNDS TO LEND, any amount; 6 per cent. Write or call. S. W. Carson, 24 South Broad street. 4-1-17

PLENTY money to loan on city property. Watt Kelly, Attorney, 400 Temple Court Building. 42-2-5

R. C. DESAUSSURE.

TIME and monthly loans negotiated on real estate. Room 813 Atlanta National Bank Building. 4-29-25

WE loan money on furniture and household goods. F. & J. Loan Company, 120 Decatur Street. 4-25-4

MONEY ON HAND for immediate loans on property in or near Atlanta. J. E. VanValkenburg, 501 Equitable Bldg.

MORTGAGE LOANS

On Atlanta Property.
BUSINESS BUILDINGS,
5 and 5½ per cent.

RESIDENCE BUILDINGS,
5½, 6 and 6½ per cent.

Your rate depends upon the location. Without notice you can pay back a hundred, any multiple of a hundred dollars, on the entire loan on any interest date.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN.

Loan Correspondents,
PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA.
203-5 Empire Building.

MONEY TO LOAN.

WEYMAN & CONNORS.
ESTABLISHED 1890.
Mortgages on Real Estate. 4-1-3

WE HAVE plenty of money to lend at lowest rates on Atlanta and nearby property, either for straight or monthly payment plant. Also for purchasing purchase money notes. Foster & Robson, 11 Edgewood avenue.

FARM LOANS PLACED in any amount on improved farm lands in Georgia. The Southern Mortgage Company, Gould building. 7-13-1

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS, upon their own names; cheap rates, easy payments. Confidential. D. H. Tolman, 820 Austell building.

MONEY WANTED.

6%—WE WILL PAY—6% ON SAVINGS.

IN SUMS of $500 to $5,000. The Merchants and Mechanics' Banking and Loan Co., 209 Grant Building. Tel. Ivy 5341. Cash Capital $120,000. Thos. J. Wesley, Cashier. B. M. Grant, Pres. 3-11-50

ANSWER—Just as you have read this will others read your ad if you place it in the Want Ad columns of this paper. A word to the wise is enough.

BUSINESS GUIDE

Ready Reference for the Business Man, the Artisan And the Public in General

Auction Sales of Furniture and Household Goods.

CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY, 12 East Mitchell street, buys and sells everything; regular auction Tuesday and Friday. Bell phone Main 2424. 10-3-41

Banks.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Corner Alabama and Broad street. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,000,000.

Bicycles.

FOR BICYCLES and supplies, See D. Alexander, 54 N. Pryor. M. 3116. Repair Work a specialty. 2-27-51

CALL Main 1320, Atlanta 1436. Bicycle repairs and sundries. Atlanta Bicycle Company, 10 Peters Street. 2-15-66

Blacksmithing.

STRUCTURAL STEEL AND IRON WORK.

WE make all kinds of metal windows and doors, also window gratings and hangers of all kinds. Anderson Bros. & Rich, 372 Edgewood Avenue. 4-2-7

Blue Prints.

DIXIE BLUE PRINT CO.

40½ LUCKIE STREET, Atlanta, Ga. Best equipment. Best prints of any size or kind. Lowest prices. Phone Ivy 5364. 4-28-12

Builders.

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 400 Temple Court. Main 4189. 4-15-16

Carpenter and Builder.

ALL KINDS REPAIR WORK. D. M. WHEELER, 19 South Forsyth St. Phone M. 4186. Atlanta 1547. 12-31-16

Carpets and Rugs Cleaned.

ATLANTA STEAM CARPET CLEANING COMPANY (Inc.) 27 West Alexander street. Phone Ivy 4186. Moist and dry cleaning. Rugs woven from your old carpets and rags. Porch shades made to order. 2-8-27

Coal, Coke and Wood.

S. M. TRUITT & SONS, for dry wood and best coal. 1-31-21

Contract Painting and Wall Tinting.

J. A. JOHNSON, 397 W. Fair St., West 1288-J, for all kinds of painting and tinting.

Dentist.

BEST WORK

Crowns (22 k.) $3.00
Bridge work $3.00
Full set teeth $3.00
Filling 50c

R. R. fare allowed 25 miles. All work guaranteed 20 years.

Eastern Painless Dentists
38½ Peachtree St., Near Walton.

4-2-31

Ear, Nose, Throat and Lung Trouble.

DR. GEORGE BROWN, Diseases of the Ear, Nose, Throat and Lungs, 312-14 Austell Bldg. I have the only compound oxygen plant ever brought South and make this gas daily. Weak, nervous, anaemic and pale people are invited to call. 4-6-13

Engineering.

"Amo Engineers Are Questionable!"
YOU NEED engineering advice. Write us your troubles, problems, resources. We'll help you. Amo House, Box 363, Atlanta, Ga. Fee, $1. 5-3-5

Engineering and Machine Designing.

G. V. PLANT, M. E.
I DEVELOP YOUR INVENTION.
Dixie Pattern and Machine Works, 262 West North Avenue. Main 2829. 4-5-17

Fire-Proof Storage.

WE STORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS and pianos. Office and warehouse, 239-241 Edgewood avenue. Ivy 2037. John J. Woodside Storage Company.

Fly Screens.

Fly Screens Made to Order.
OAKLAND CITY REPAIR WORKS.
Carpenter and cabinet work a specialty. Call West 242-L. Atlanta 528. C. F. Dickey, Mgr. 5-1-37

FLY SCREENS.

METAL AND WOOD FRAMES, portable garages. W. J. Baker Company, Bell phone Ivy 926. No. 811 Empire Life Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 5-1-4

FLY—SCREENS—FLY

COME SEE our Roll-aawy Screens, our Roller-bearing Screens, our Sliding Screens; none better. It will pay you to see our goods; get prices. 217 Kiser Bldg. Main 1319. Porter Screen Co. J. J. Crawford, Agent. 2-4-14

Fresh Oysters Daily.

VIRGINIA and New Orleans oysters on the half shell, 40c dozen. 77 Peachtree street.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering.

FURNITURE repaired, upholstering, refinishing neatly done. Work called for and delivered. Young K. Carson, 479 Marietta street. Atlanta 3567. 3-5-6

W. L. LUNSFORD & CO.,
Upholstering, repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds; satisfaction guaranteed. Phones, Atlanta 5950-F, M. 5111. 3-5-36

Furniture.

Rosser F. Jordan Furniture Co., 144-6 Auburn Ave. Phones: Bell Ivy 4467, Atlanta 1800.

WE CARRY a full line of household furniture from kitchen to parlor; also a complete line of summer porch goods, such as porch sets, porch rockers, rugs, etc.; refrigerators, ice cream freezers and everything in the furniture line. We can save you 20 per cent on everything. Call and see us before buying elsewhere. Cash or terms. 5-15-8

PERFECTION OIL STOVES.

Three-burner, including oven and vessels, complete, $12.50.

CAMERON FURNITURE CO., 85 South Forsyth Street. 5-1-3

T. C. FURNITURE CO.
Cash or easy payments, 415 Marietta, Phone Atlanta 1797. 4-5-12

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything,

Plant your savings in Georgia soil and grow a fortune. Many have done so, why not you?

The Georgian's Rent Bulletin

ROOM AND BOARD.

BOARD for two young men, $5 per week. For information call Ivy 3383. 5-23-45

NICELY furnished, large, airy rooms with board in one of Decatur's best residences; references required. Phone Decatur 253. 5-23-39

THE CAPITOL TERRACE can accommodate a few more boarders; cool, delightful rooms; all conveniences; close in. 89 Capitol Ave. Main 4270. 5-23-34

FRONT ROOM with board, dressing room connecting with running water. Call Ivy 290. 5-23-31

TWO young men or married couple for nicely furnished front room; all conveniences; close in. Main 1558-J. 5-14-11

COUPLE can find room with board at 102 Washington. Main 4089-J. 5-28-25

WANTED—Six gentlemen can secure first-class board in private family. Ideal home, beautiful lawn and shade, immediately on car line. Bell phone Decatur 138. 5-23-261

TWO LARGE, light, airy connecting rooms, meals optional, in a beautifully furnished private modern home, to refined permanent couples with references. Mrs. Corey, 619 West Peachtree St. Ivy 5635-J. 5-23-11

BOARD AND ROOMS.

EXCELLENT board; delightful rooms; close in; all conveniences. 115 South Pryor. 5-20-3

BEAUTIFUL furnished front room, with dressing room, in private adult family; close in; also room for gentlemen; excellent meals; prices reasonable. 56 East Cain. Ivy 5520-L. 5-22-32

NICE room and best of board; electricity; all conveniences; walking distance. Ivy 2856-L. 5-22-31

19 W. CAIN.

LARGE, clean furnished rooms; excellent board if desired; refined ladies or gentlemen. Ivy 6642. 5-22-33

LARGE room, nicely furnished, hot water; good table board. Also garage easy to get in and out. 121 Capitol Square. Main 4829-L. 5-22-30

BOARD for three young men, close in; front rooms. 254 Rawson Street. M. 3793-J. 5-22-29

EXCELLENT table, large front room, with dressing room. 822 West Peachtree. Ivy 994-L. 5-22-16

RARE opportunity for refined couple or gentlemen to secure two furnished rooms, with or without board, in delightful North Side home; highest, coolest spot in city; no other boarders. Ivy 7511. 5-22-20

TWO young men can secure room and board in very desirable home in West End. All conveniences. Shower baths, private tennis court, etc. 88 Park St. 5-21-39

THE ROY, 22 E. Ellis, under new management. Now prepared to render patrons best service. Ivy 1398-J. 5-21-35

TWO large front rooms with excellent table board. Mrs. J. M. Colman, 270 Peachtree St. 5-21-28

DELIGHTFUL rooms with board, with or without private bath. Table board a specialty. 514 Peachtree. Phone Ivy 1499-J. Mrs. F. B. Gregory. 27-21-5

DO YOU want first-class board in private North Side home? Call Ivy 719-J 5-20-18

WANTED—A few boarders; also table boarders. 327 Whitehall. Main 3286. 5-20-16

LARGE, cool room and board in suburban home; good servants; large porches, shade trees, big vegetable garden, fruit, cows and chickens. Phone Decatur 359. 5-19-200

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house; near fn. Ivy 5795. 5-16-27

THE WILTON, 220 Peachtree, select boarding house, near in. Ivy 5795. 5-10-35

ROOM AND BOARD for four young men May 15. Private home. 163 Courtland. Ivy 7057-J. 5-10-22

BEST MEALS IN TOWN, $3 WEEK. ROOM AND MEALS, $4. 197 SOUTH PRYOR. CALL MAIN 5048. 5-5-30

PEACHTREE INN.

Peachtree and Alexander Sts. American plan $7.50 week up. Room to yourself. European, $3 week up. 1-9-34

230 EAST NORTH AVE.

BETWEEN the Peachtrees; nicely furnished rooms and excellent table board. Ivy 6501. 4-28-16

NEATLY furnished rooms; home-like cooking, also table board. 127 Capitol Avenue. Main 5172-J. 4-22-7

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

TWO or three furnished light housekeeping rooms for rent to couple. 168 Crew St. 5-23-44

HALF OF HOME, furnished for couple; private bath, on car line. Centrally located. 111 Cooper. 5-23-44

FURNISHED room upstairs, all conveniences, for rent. Apply 305 S. Pryor. 5-23-42

IN PRIVATE home on North Side for one or two gentlemen, elegantly furnished front room, with private lavatory, large closets and connecting bath. Phone Ivy 5760-J. 5-23-41

WELL furnished room and kitchenette for two business women. 126 Windsor Street. Main 3588. 5-23-32

ONE nicely furnished room, four windows, private family. All conveniences. Atlanta Phone 3254. 5-23-38

THREE rooms, dressing room, hall and trunk room furnished for light housekeeping, to couple without children. Price, $20. Call Ivy 967-L. 5-23-38

ONE or two furnished rooms; could arrange for light housekeeping. 227 Capitol Avenue. Main 3941. 5-23-21

TWO nicely furnished front rooms; all conveniences; gas stove. 179 Capitol Avenue. Main 2588-J. 5-21-24

THREE light housekeeping rooms and use of living room; modern conveniences. 53 Queen St., West End. Bell phone West 1205. 5-23-26

TWO OR THREE furnished rooms for light housekeeping, electricity, gas stove; rent reasonable. Ivy 5287-J. 5-23-24

TWO beautifully furnished rooms, complete for housekeeping, $16; also one suite of 3 front rooms, very reasonable; bath on each floor. Bell phone. Best location. 299 Washington St. 5-23-28

ENTIRE lower floor beautifully furnished for housekeeping; also two nice bed rooms. Private house. One block from Whitehall. Walking distance. 30 W. Fair St. 5-23-200

ONE furnished and one unfurnished room cheap; all conveniences; close in. 32 Courtland. 5-22-24

NICELY furnished rooms, with kitchenette, with bath, light and telephone. Call Main 3582-J. 5-22-18

FOR RENT—1, 2 or 3 rooms, furnished or partly furnished for light housekeeping. References exchanged. 127 E. Pine Street. 5-22-200

LISTEN! WE HAVE TWO BEAUTIFUL ROOMS FOR RENT, ALL CONVENIENCES. TWO BLOCKS OF CANDLER BUILDING. REASONABLE. 184 COURTLAND STREET. ATLANTA PHONE 3761. 5-20-201

ONE large beautiful front room on second floor. Ideal surroundings. Every convenience. North Side. Telephone Ivy 1744-L. 5-21-5

FOR RENT—Three nice new upstairs rooms; bath, gas and water. $10.00. 55 S. McDaniel St. 5-21-28

WANTED—Young man for roommate or share nicely furnished room. Main 4980-L. 5-21-26

NICELY furnished room, suitable for gentlemen or young ladies; $2 week. 47 E. Mitchell Street, upstairs. 45-12-5

ROOMS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

ONE beautifully furnished, bright front room, reasonable; private home; walking distance. Ivy 5461. 5-21-32

TWO bright connecting housekeeping rooms, completely furnished. North Side private home. Ivy 2696-J. 5-21-19

TWO beautiful connecting, furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping; also rooms for young men; all conveniences. 422 Whitehall St. Main 2462-J. 5-21-36

FURNISHED room in private family; gentlemen preferred. Ivy 2421-L. 16 Bedford Place. 5-21-42

NICELY furnished rooms with board; early breakfast; conveniences. 72 Spring Street. 34-21-5

TWO nice furnished rooms for rent to gentlemen or couple. 377 Whitehall Street. 29-21-5

TWO large, nicely furnished rooms, private family. Suburban home. Suburban Home, Box 197, care Georgian. 27-21-5

NICELY furnished cool room; close in; private home; adjoins bath; reasonable. Main 3428-L. 5-19-4

HANDSOMELY furnished large front room, private bath; shady lot; gentleman preferred. "Peachtree," care American. 113-8-5

FURNISHED rooms; private home; all conveniences; hot and cold baths. 19 E. Harris. Ivy 6349-J. 5-8-11

TWO newly renovated bedrooms, 256-R Courtland Street. Phone Ivy 5358. 5-18-25

Unfurnished.

BEAUTIFUL unfurnished room to couple; reasonable. West 1129-L. 5-23-30

THREE upstairs rooms with closets; sink, freshly tinted if desired. 3 Angier Avenue. Ivy 6470-L. 5-23-27

THREE ROOMS for light housekeeping for couple. 129 Richardson Street. 26-23-5

THREE upstairs rooms for light housekeeping; use of phone. 184 Richardson. 5-23-36

THREE large unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 111 East Ellis. Ivy 1733-J. 5-21-204

ENTIRE upper floor of my private home in West End, consisting of three rooms; also trunk room, linen closets, private bath, hall. Every convenience. Phone West 125-J. 5-21-21

UNFURNISHED rooms with conveniences for housekeeping. 4 East Alexander Street, between Peachtree.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

ONE furnished or unfurnished front room; private family. 7 Kent Street. 5-21-23

ONE upstairs furnished or unfurnished room. 377 Whitehall St. 5-21-27

THREE beautiful corner rooms; separate entrance; private bath, veranda; sink, kitchen. 5-20-16

ONE nice room furnished or unfurnished, conveniently located, half block from car line, all conveniences; cool and shady. Call Decatur 507. 5-20-14

APARTMENTS FOR RENT.

Furnished.

A NICE, airy 4-room apartment completely furnished, the Corinthian, 136 West Peachtree. Apply Chas. P. Glover Realty Co., 2½ Walton St. 5-23-45

FIVE-ROOM apartment in the Colonial. 84 East North Avenue. Ivy 847-L. 5-18-64

Unfurnished

BEAUTIFUL small apartment, close in, steam heated. Phone Ivy 428. 52 E. Cain. 5-23-37

FOR RENT—Splendid new apartment, six rooms, steam heat, every modern convenience. 310 North Jackson Street. Phone Ivy 641-L. 5-23-6

FOR RENT—Upstairs apartment of five rooms with bath, in best residential district in city. Electric lights furnished, also heat in winter, $35 per month. Call Ivy 5398-L. 5-21-200

47 EAST CAIN STREET—Five rooms; freshly painted; clean and in nice repair. $25 per month. Apply owner, 609 Atlanta National Bank Building. 5-14-204

Furnished or Unfurnished.

TWO, three or five-room apartment, with kitchenette and private bath; also garage. No children. Ivy 2452. 5-18-14

LOOK—You have read this; if you want anything, others will read your ad if it's in the Want Ad Section.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TWO NICE lots; nice residence section, North Side; near car line; opposite Andley Park; bargain. Address Vacant Lots, care Georgian. 5-22-76

BY OWNER, pretty new bungalow in Ormewood Park; six rooms, bath, electric lights, cabinet mantels, etc. Large level lot in beautiful oak grove, less than block of car line and close to schools. Room for garden and chickens. Price $2,850 on easy terms. A. S. Thompson, 23 4th Nat. Bank. Both phones 5261. 5-23-9

TWO 25-here home sites on Peachtree Road. Address P. D., Box 864, care Georgian. 25-22-5

OWNER leaving city will sell new 7-room St. Charles Avenue bungalow. Three bed rooms, breakfast room, beautiful hardware and fixtures, furnace, hardwood floors, etc. Lot 50x142 feet. Elevated, shady, side drive, flowers and fruit. A bargain at $6,750. Terms, $2,000 loan, 6 per cent. $1,850 cash, balance $35 monthly. Jack, P. O. Box 1110, City. 5-22-9

BARGAIN—14 per cent investment; 15 houses; rent for $87 month. $8,000 on terms. Improvements are in excellent condition. Private party selling. We have this price only for a short time. M. L. Thrower, 30 N. Forsyth Street. 27-22-5

LEASE OR SALE—Artistic bungalow; screened, tiled, furnaces, garage. Address "Ansley Park," care American. 112-18-1

I HAVE two farms, 125 acres, and one 75 acres. Will exchange one or both for vacant lot. Call Milton. Main 2054. 5-8-24

FOR SALE cheap by owner, 739 Spring Street, near Twelfth Street, two-story nine-room house; price $5,500; $2,000 cash required; balance easy terms. If desired. Address G. A. Dunlop, 201 Mutual Building, Richmond, Va. 5-3-9

LET US BUILD you a home. Will buy you a lot or pay off your lot. Terms to suit. 409 Temple Court. Main 4-13-42

I HAVE seven acres, three-room house, half block car line, all cultivated, fine for trucking; will exchange for small rooming property. Call Milton, Main 2052.

FOR SALE—Beautiful lot, 60 by 232 feet; $1,600. Right on Peachtree. Easy terms. See me quick. Address Peachtree, Box 890, care Georgian. 5-2-4

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES and building lots in College Park, the most desirable suburb of Atlanta, see I. C. McCrory.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Sharp & Boylston

WEST END.

LUCILE AVE.—Near Peeples St., we can sell you a 10-room, 2-story house on extra large, elevated lot for $6,000. This place has a loan bearing only 5 per cent interest, balance easy. Owner a non-resident and wants to sell.

BEECHER ST.—Near Lee; this is a nearly new 6-room cottage on lot 50x200 feet. This is a genuine pick-up at the price—$3,250—and look only $300 cash and balance $30 per month.

St. Charles Avenue Lot.

THIS is the cheapest lot on this street. See us for price, terms and location.

GEO. P. MOORE, Real Estate and Renting. 10 Auburn Avenue.

Furnished or Unfurnished.

LOVELY new, modern, steam-heated house; ten rooms and three baths, tile porches, tile baths and tile roof. Ivy 2422. 5-18-53

OFFICE SPACE FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Three large, outside, beautifully furnished rooms, second floor; hot and cold water, gas, electricity, sewerage. Corner Peachtree and Auburn. Thirty seconds from and overlooking Five Points. Ideal location for physician's or dentist's office, general offices, sales or display rooms. Cheap rent. Long lease. Apply to F. Roster, 74 North Pryor Street. Phone Ivy 836. 6-25-2

DESK SPACE with use of telephone. Apply 533 Candler Bldg. 4-25-9

ROOMS WANTED

Furnished.

WANTED—By couple without children June 1st, 3 or 4 furnished housekeeping rooms, private bath, second floor preferred. Phone West 544-J. 5-23-36

WANTED—For couple, one large room with closet. References exchanged. Call Main 2961, Mr. Sheats. 5-22-200

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping by June 1 in North end. No objection to distance. Address J. L., care of Georgian. 207-5-17

APARTMENTS WANTED.

Furnished.

COUPLE without children would like furnished apartment or small house for summer. Give description and terms. J. F., Box 856, care Georgian. 28-23-5

HOUSES WANTED.

Unfurnished.

WISH to rent by June 5 an unfurnished five or six-room house, with electric lights. Prefer North Side or Inman Park. Good locality and reasonable rental. Ivy 5350-L. 213-5-18

WOULD you give 25 cents for a good job? Place a "Want Ad" in The Georgian and get one.

SUMMER RESORTS.

THE HENNING INN has been recently renovated and refurnished, under new management. Rates very reasonable. Apply to Henning Inn, P. O. Box 233, Brevard, N. C. 31-23-5

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Railroad Makes Move For Two Spur Tracks

Southern to Serve Big Factories in Marietta St. Section—West End Lots Bring $30,800.

An agreement entered into between the Southern Railway Company and Judge E. C. Kontz, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kontz, Porter Langston and Phillip Weltner, presages a considerable commercial development in the entire Marietta Street section. It will mean the erection of factories which will add greatly to the effectiveness of the Marietta Street neighborhood as a manufacturing center.

The agreement contemplates the construction of double spur tracks from the Southern's main line near Simpson Street to a point about a block and a half toward Mangum Street, between Simpson and Jones Avenue. The tracks will extend westerly 550 and 357 feet, respectively. Work on them is expected to start soon.

Persons in close touch with the improvement intimated that substantial commercial establishments were in contemplation, but refused to go into details.

This step is but another evidence of an industrial awakening in the neighborhood mentioned. Other interests, principally the railroads, are quietly working out plans of extension. Announcement of such plans is looked for shortly.

Most of the property in this direction on which developers have an eye for manufacturing is within the one-mile radius, which means close proximity to downtown activities.

West End Lots Bring $30,800.

Included in Friday's real estate announcements was the sale of approximately $30,800 in residence lots by the Dillin-Morris Company and J. S. Collins, of Collins Brothers & Davies for William J. Davis, developer of West End Park. The sale of 27 lots covered a period of 30 days, and it was also announced that about 25 houses are just completed or being built in this subdivision, and that the total in West End Park is now approximately 150. West End Park was opened up a year ago.

The lots just sold are on West Ontario Avenue, near Gordon Street, and averaged $1,140 to $1,250 apiece.

Sales on Durant Place.

Prominent citizens figured this week in two sales on Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. Edward M. Durant sold to Attorney Sam D. Hewlett, Legislator-elect; John Y. Smith and John T. Dennis a 44 by 109-foot lot, for $2,000, and an adjoining lot, 42 by 109 feet, for the same price, Mr. Hewlett and Mr. Smith got an undivided three-eighths interest each and Mr. Dennis two-eighths. The cash consideration was $590 in each sale.

Transfer of Ellis Parcel.

S. H. Phelan, of Crawford County, formerly of Atlanta, has conveyed to Mrs. Barry Wright, of Rome, the northeast corner of Ellis and Courtland Streets. This parcel is a block east of the Elks Club and in the vicinity of other valuable properties. The frontage on Ellis Street is 50 feet.

Cancellations on Increase.

Figures in The Fulton County Daily Report for the twentieth week of 1913 show a continued increase in the number and amount of mortgages canceled, which realty men consider a good sign. The number in 1913 was 45 and the total $59,445, and for last year 39 and $45,835. Real estate transfers gained in number, but fell off in amount, and building permits dropped back a little in both.

Auction Sale Successful.

Everything but the weather was favorable to a successful auction sale Thursday by the Foster & Robson Co. of bungalows and lots on the South Decatur car line in the Ninth Ward. Rain stopped the sale, but before it came the following sales, aggregating $5,530, were made:

Bungalow to J. A. Boatwright for $1,560.

Bungalow to M. Owen for $1,525, sold on the grounds for a profit.

Bungalow to Mrs. T. M. Johnson for $1,550.

Lot 36 to I. N. Ragsdale for $245.

Lot 37 to T. N. Bradshaw for $140.

Lot 19 to M. Owen for $270.

Lot 49, on Vannoy Street, to J. L. Veal for $300.

Oakland City Auction.

The Foster & Robson Real Estate Agency has become associated with the W. E. Treadwell Company in the sale Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of bungalows and residence lots at Oakland City, on the East Point car line. These real estate agencies report many inquiries, and a large crowd of home-seekers is expected out. The property for sale is opposite the George W. Adair School and has undergone extensive improvements.

New Dry Goods Home.

The new home of the Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will be started at once at 92 South Pryor Street, and the concern will move its stock from North Pryor, having sold out there some weeks ago to Luther Z. Rosser and J. H. Porter. Mrs. L. J. Bowle has applied for a permit to erect a four-story and basement brick building for the dry goods house at a cost of $28,000. Donaldson & Pierce are the contractors. The Dougherty-Little-Redwine Company will occupy the building under lease.

T. C. Hellbradek has filed application to build a $2,000 dwelling of one story on West Tenth Street. Day labor will be used.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Warranty Deeds.

215 and to Clarence O. Reece to W. A. Wright, lot 55x207 feet, east side Kennesaw Avenue, 316 feet north of North Avenue. April 12.

$10 and to Correct—W. A. Wright to C. R. Jolly, same property. April 12.

$8,500—Robert E. Ridley, Jr., to Harvey Hill, lot 50x146 feet, east side Juniper Street, 110 feet south of Tenth Street. May 15.

$160—Mrs. Sarah I. Weathers to J. N. Landers and Anderson Bros.' Co., lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. May 22.

$155—W. C. Harper to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$160—Same to same, lot 51x175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 204 feet east of Mathewson Street. April 1.

$2,060—General Realty and Development Corporation to E. C. Robertson, lot 58x58 feet, west side Racine Street, 726 feet north of Greensferry Avenue. May 21.

$2,100—Equitable Loan and Security Company to T. M. McIntosh, 118 Jones Avenue, 25x118 feet. June 24, 1907.

$2,475—Mrs. Gertrude J. Dickey et al. to Miss Emily Jekyl, lot 895x590 feet, north side Tuxedo Drive, 1,409 feet northwest from Pace's Ferry Road. May 27, 1911.

$1,200—J. J. West to E. D. Duncan, lot 52x123 feet, north side Bellwood Avenue, 111 feet west of Ashby Street. May 15.

$50—Atlanta Cemetery Association to C. S. Foster, lot 279, block 4, Atlanta Park Cemetery. April 16.

$1,500—Ophelia A. Terrell to W. H. Turnipseed, lot 50 feet front on Nelson Street, running through to Chapel Street, 250 feet from Haynes Street. May 20.

$1,750—H. M. Spitz to W. E. Treadwell and Julius Oelsner, lot 75x90 feet, east side Park Lane, being lot 15, block 9, Ansley Park. May 2.

$2,250—W. D. Newsom to Mrs. Edna E. Keene, lot west side Hill Street, 295 feet south of Bass Street, 45x100. December 30, 1909.

$5—J. C. Norman et al. to Mary P. Norman, lot west side Avenue A, 400 feet south of Johnson Street, 50x140. March 29.

$16,000—W. W. Ward to Capital City Realty Company, lot southwest corner Battle Street and Altoona Pass, 250x206; also lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 225 feet east of Wellington Avenue, 25x351 feet; lot north side Atlanta Avenue, 97 feet west of Altoona Pass, 250x350. May, 1913.

$1,750—Newton S. Thomas to W. L. Saye, lot 22x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 128 feet north of Merritts Avenue. June 14, 1909.

$2,250—G. R. Glenn to Newton S. Thomas, lot 22x120 feet, west side Spring Street, 128 feet north of Merritts Avenue. January 24, 1908.

"I" and Other Considerations—W. D. Hughes to Mrs. Pearlie M. Smith, lot 23x124 feet, north line of Mrs. Smith's property, in land lot 15. February 1, 1911.

$625—T. C. Holmes and E. T. Luckie to Miss Clem Ferry, lot 176x145 feet, south side Holmes Street, 619 feet east of Howell Mill Road. May 22.

Deeds For Title.

$10,000—Martin Nally Estate (by executrix) and Mary Nally to C. L. DeFoor, lot 22x135 feet, northwest side South Forsyth Street, 114 feet southwest of Brotherton Street. April 5.

$13,000—Mrs. Cora W. Weaver to S. W. G. Meagher and E. A. Turner, lot west side Myrtle Street, 151 feet north of Eighth Street, 50x180. May 21.

$50,592—A. W. VanHoose to Ben J. Massell, lot 52x158 feet, east side Peachtree Street, 223 feet north of Pine Street. March 15.

$16,700—Clarence Blosser to Mrs. E. W. Smith, 516 West Peachtree Street, 49x173 feet. May 17.

$8,500—Mrs. Annie M. Smith to J. T. Wardlaw, lot 55x169 feet, west side Sinclair Avenue, 200 feet northeast of Colquitt. May 21.

$4,000—Edward M. Durant to Sam D. Hewlett et al., lot 44x198 feet, west side Durant Place, 474 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

$4,000—Same to same, lot 41x199 feet, west side Durant Place, 518 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 19.

Mortgages.

$258—A. H. Thomas to McDonald Baldwin, lot 50 by 213 feet, west side Moreland Avenue, 200 feet north of Walker Street. May 20.

$2,480—T. M. Word and Dr. J. W. Hurt to Colonial Trust Company, 26 acres on the diagonal line between the southeast and northwest corners of land lot 202. May 15.

$2,480—Mrs. Grace M. Keefer to Colonial Trust Company, lot north side Forrest Street, 621 feet west of Piedmont Avenue, 75 by 185. May 22.

$528—J. C. Moore to Atlanta Banking and Savings Company, lot 85 by 165 feet, northeast corner Lakewood Avenue and Livermore Street. May 22.

$6.00—Grayson V. Heldt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 50 by 288 feet, west side Ponce DeLeon Place, 178 feet north of Ponce DeLeon Avenue. May 16.

$6.00—Grayson V. Heldt to Henry C. Walthour, lot 174 by 2,412 feet, on Hemphill Avenue, at southwest corner of A. B. Turner's property; land lot 154; Seventeenth District. May 16.

$254—W. L. Saye to Colonial Trust Company, lot 22 by 120 feet, west side Spring Street, 128 feet north of Merritts Avenue. May 19.

$1,248—A. R. Griffin to Central Bank and Trust Corporation, 328 Crew Street, 40 by 200 feet. May 19.

Loan Deeds.

$2,400—Mrs. Eliza T. Borne to Travelers Insurance Company, 297 Myrtle Street, 60 by 150 feet. May 22.

$5,600—J. D. Blalock to Henry Hirsch, lot at southeast corner land known as the Loftin 3-acre tract, in land lot 157, Seventeenth District, 210 by 785. April 4.

$1,800—Mrs. Edna E. Keene to W. C. Maudlin, lot west side Hill Street, 295 feet south of Bass Street, 45 by 150 feet. May 22.

$1,800—Anderson Bros. Co. to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 62 by 163 feet, northeast side Gordon Road, 599 feet southeast of Greensferry Avenue. May 20.

$1,165—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 757 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$1,100—Anderson Bros. Co. and J. N. Landers to William R. and John F. McClelland (by guardian), lot 51 by 175 feet, north side Battle Hill Avenue, 357 feet east of Mathewson Place. May 20.

$600—Mrs. Addie L. Lindsay to Mrs. Mary F. Bryan, 82 West Fifteenth Street, 93 by 84 feet. May 17.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. HOUSES FOR RENT.

W. A. FOSTER & RAYMOND ROBSON

11 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.

FOR SALE.

NORTH SIDE HOME at a bargain price. If you want to buy a bargain go look at 43 Ponce DeLeon Avenue and St. Charles Avenue. We know it is worth $5,500, but we invite an offer. Can arrange any reasonable terms. See Mr. Bradshaw.

ON NEXT SATURDAY, May 24, we will sell at auction, jointly with W. E. Treadwell & Co., the Ragsdale property on Warner Avenue, Allene Avenue and Woodrow Avenue, consisting of six modern bungalows and sixteen building lots. This very desirable and attractive property will be sold on terms that will put it in the reach of everyone. See special ad. in this issue. Get plats giving full details from either office.

ON DARGAN STREET, convenient to the Lucile Avenue cars, a new 6-room bungalow with all conveniences, tinted walls, stone foundation, brick mantels, furnace heat, beam ceilings. Everything first class. Lot 47x150 feet. Price, $4,150. $650 cash, balance easy. See Mr. Cohen.

TWO CLOSE-IN corners on Washington Street. Price and terms reasonable. We advise the purchase of these properties for steady enhancement. See Mr. Hook.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

3-r. flat, 148 Highland Avenue	$16.00
3-r. h., 39 Gaskill Street	8.00
3-r. h., 749 Whitehall Street	9.00
3-r. h., 19 Fowler Street	10.00
3-r. h., 126 Love Street	8.00
3-r. h., 175 Randolph Street	8.00
3-r. h., 43 Kendall Street	10.00
3-r. h., R. Evans Drive, St. McPherson	5.00
3-r. h., 354 Edgewood Avenue	10.50
3-r. h., 23 Corput Street	9.00
3-r. flat, 335 Grant Street	15.00
3-r. h., 72 South Jackson Street	8.50
4-r. h., 59 Fairview Avenue	8.00
4-r. h., 24 Lampkin Street	7.50
4-r. h., 94 Lovejoy Street	8.50
4-r. h., 33 Bell Street	16.65
4-r. h., 233 Humphries Street	12.50
4-r. h., Lakewood, and 17 acres of land, per year	150.00
4-r. h., 31 McDonough Road	10.00
4-r. h., Stewart Avenue, and 13½ acres of land	25.00
4-r. flat, 262 E. North Avenue	17.50
5-r. h., 67 Atwood Street	25.00
5-r. h., 5 Holderness Street	20.00
5-r. h., 144 Ashby Street	27.50

And a long list of larger houses. Come to see us.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY to lend, we can place it safely.

FOR RENT.

"I" 312-14 RAWSON STREET.

ON THE south side of Rawson, between Cooper and Windsor, we have a third floor front apartment "I," five rooms; electric lights, hot and cold water, gas, electric bells, washstand, bath, closet and sink; steam heat; janitor service; gas range; storage room in the basement. A complete, up-to-date apartment. Cooper Street car half block. $40 on a lease.

JOHN J. WOODSIDE.
REAL ESTATE, RENTING, STORAGE.
Phones: Bell 671 Ivy; Atlanta 618. 12 "Real Estate Row."

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

SPLENDID BRICK VENEERED RESIDENCE ON FIFTEENTH STREET.

A NEW, 2-STORY, 9-room house, hardwood floors, tile roof, sleeping porch, furnace heat, electricity, gas, basement, garage with servants' rooms. Lot 50x185. Price, $12,000; $2,000 cash, balance to suit. THIS is the third house from West Peachtree. GO OUT AND LOOK AT IT. Keys next door.

J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS.
Ivy 1513. 130 Peachtree. Atl. 2865.

FOR SALE JOHN J. WOODSIDE

SNUG LITTLE HOME.

(364 WEST FOURTH STREET.)

HAS five rooms, water, bath, sidewalks, street, elevated corner lot. Terms, $500 cash, $15 month, 8 per cent.

THOMAS R. FINNEY, Sales Manager.
12 "Real Estate Row."

$30,000

WE HAVE a client with $30,000 in bank, with which to purchase good annual or semi-annual notes. We do not want notes to broker, but will submit them to one client only. No red tape or delay.

FINCHER & MARRIOTT

JAS. H. REYNOLDS, Sales Manager.
1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 5213.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Piedmont Avenue Frontage

We have recently had consigned with us some Piedmont Avenue frontage, ranging in price from $115 per foot to $135 per foot.

These lots are situated on the most desirable part of Piedmont Avenue, being between Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, facing Piedmont Park. The scarcity of building lots of this class of property on the north side is easily recognized by anyone who has been looking for a home site recently. The unusually good value offered here will be appreciated by anyone in the market for first-class residence property. Reasonable terms can be arranged.

Forrest & George Adair

Six New Bungalows and Sixteen Building Lots AT AUCTION Saturday, May 24, 3 P. M.

In the Tenth Ward on Warner Street and Allene and Woodrow Avenues. Just two blocks from the splendid car service to East Point, College Park and Hapeville. Also convenient to the Stewart Avenue car line.

This property is in a rapidly growing section, close to the new $40,000 "Adair" Public School, and only two blocks from Adair Park.

One of Atlanta's best citizens, Mr. I. N. Ragsdale, has developed this property, sparing neither time nor money to bring this property to a point of desirability that would make it acceptable to the better class of citizens for homes.

With this purpose uppermost in mind, he has built six attractive bungalows. Built them of good material and with day labor, exercising good taste and rare good judgment in all the details of arrangement and construction. These are not the usual "built to sell" affairs.

Each house has a small loan, which the purchaser assumes as part of the price. The balance will be paid in small monthly payments without interest. A small cash payment will be required, ranging from $100 to $250. This is an unusually easy arrangement that should appeal to every buyer of a home.

The lots will be sold on very easy terms, with 6 per cent simple interest.

The lots lie particularly well, many of them having nice shade. They will make desirable and valuable home sites. Several of them have the added value of two street fronts.

Take East Point or College Park cars. Get off at Gammages. A big sign will direct you to the property. Get plats from

W. E. TREADWELL & CO.

24 South Broad Street, or

FOSTER & ROBSON

11 Edgewood Avenue.

THOMSON & LYNES

AUBURN AVENUE—Brand-new two-story brick store in the busy section of Auburn Avenue. Leases and monthly rentals will pay 12 per cent. Price, $12,000; no loan to assume. Terms, half cash, submit balance.

THOMSON & LYNES
18-20 WALTON ST.

WILLIAMS-HARTSOCK CO.

Real Estate and Builders. Fourth National Bank Bldg. Phone

GOOD NEW HOMES: Listen, on Moreland Avenue, corner c[ar] are just completing a beautiful two-story, seven-room [house] place has an abundance of large and roomy closets, tile[d] ceiling beams, stone front, stone steps, and it is on a co[r]ner, doors, the best of hardware; will tint walls to suit your own taste. If you this handsome place on easy terms. To see this is to buy look and come to see us.

ON NORTH AVENUE, close to Highland Avenue, we have just completed pretty six-room home with two baths; it is seldom that you find a home so well built and so complete in every detail as this one. Each bath has tile floor; large rooms, plenty of light and furnace heat. Will take a good lot in part payment for this. It is close to school and churches, within a stone's throw of Druid Hills; car just a block away. Or will sell on easy terms.

ON BEAUTIFUL Cleburne Avenue we are offering the best value in the city in a new six-room, hall and bath bungalow with tile floor on front porch and in bath room, dressing mirrors, stone steps, and automobile drive on side. This lot has a frontage of 70 feet. If you have been waiting for a large lot here it is. Will sell you this handsome place on easy terms. We know that you will like this.

FOR SALE BY

GREENE REALTY COMPANY

511 EMPIRE BLDG. REAL ESTATE, RENTING, LOANS. Phones 1599

FINE 300-ACRE FARM (NEAR ATLANTA).

ON CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER; also on good creek; nearly half of farm as fine bottom land as can be had. Fine cherted road within about two miles of this place. Adjoining land held at $100 acre. We have an option on this. If sold at once, only $40 acre. A REAL BARGAIN.

FARMS FOR SALE.

ACRES, fifteen miles from Atlanta $40 per acre; will take vacant lot worth $1,500 and purchaser assume nine $500 notes. Address Big Bargain, Box 1, care Georgian. 5-6-3-5

FOR SALE—At a bargain, one of the nicest 10-acre farms in 10 miles of Atlanta. Terms if desired. Address A. F. D., care Georgian. 203-5-28

STORES. For Sale.

BEER SALOON and pool room for sale cheap. Apply to 161 Decatur St. 200-5-23

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

AM IN MARKET for modern, new six-room bungalow, near car line and good lot. Inman Park or North Side; state price and location. Address Bungalow, care Georgian. 5-23-15

AN up-to-date five or six-room home, in good section, within mile circle; price must be right; cash terms. Home-seeker, care Georgian. 5-22-211

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
By THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.
Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3,1873
Subscription Price—Delivered by carrier, 10 cents a week. By mail, $5.00 a year.
Payable in Advance.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen men controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow humbly before every corporation legal jackal attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

He has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which involved many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was [illegible] a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock [illegible] one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, [illegible]ald ahead of all other stock.

[illegible]er was a leader in the fight for the policyholders [illegible]rance companies against dishonest management. In [illegible]ght, which improved conditions for all policyholders [illegible]oughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of to-day who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truths concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than that commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Untermyer, in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

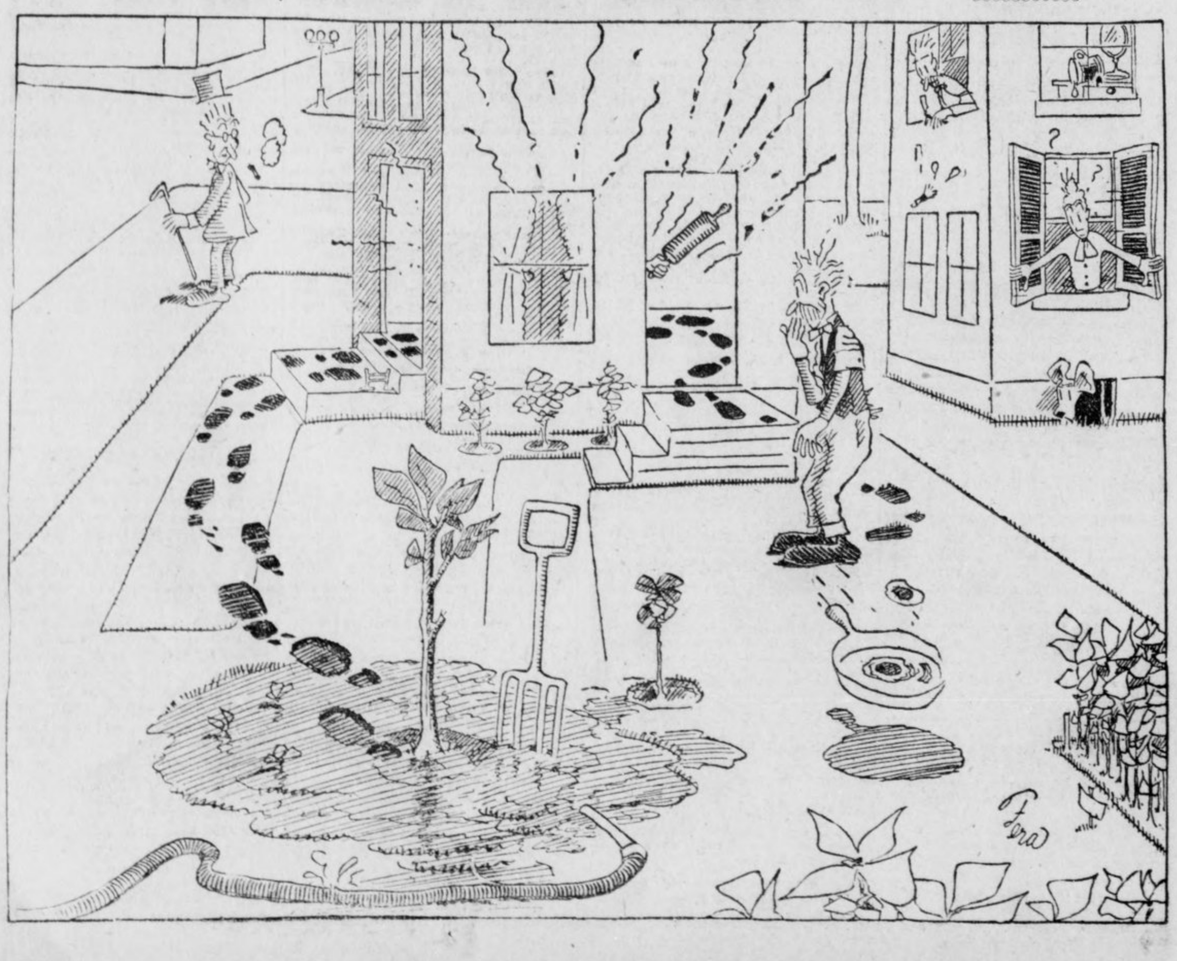
Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done. What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat."

You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, alive and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind.

The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK.—TAD.

On the Trail of Mr. Suburbs

By FERA.



Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on

Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

"I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as a lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power; whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much dwelt on and how do they act? Please tell me, are these emanations a disintegrating of the countless particles composing a particle of radium? If so, how are they especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, is it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to escape—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to escape or to emanate for years and years and years with no sensible diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it powerful for anything in particular? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration? J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inquirer supposes a particle of radium to be.

Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to send off continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear.

Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, but it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present imperceptible to us, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substances called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkable for their great atomic weight; in fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold or platinum.

Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "Alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. Those called "Beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "Gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light.

All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The Alpha rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The Beta rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the GAMMA RAYS ARE SO PIERCING THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SENT THROUGH A FOOT OF SOLID IRON!

In consequence of the distintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but so minute are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,500 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. Yet the energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point! If we could get unlimited supplies of radium, instead of having to be content with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories put together, we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields.

Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up, in some unknown way, in the atoms, and is held in suspense there until the automatic disintegration of the atoms sets it free to act in other ways. It then sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is pitifully weak compared with the explosive forces contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be locked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the imprisoned energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which infinitesimal particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom as the planets are in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interferes with the regular motions of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world now in existence may dissolve, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting the property of radio-activity to any other substance that happens to be near a bit of radium, as, for instance, the hands and clothes of the experimenters. But this imparted radio-activity does not last long. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, of its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a hint that the dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unguessed. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTRICACIES OF A CROWD, ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEIVABLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Emanation Unperceivable.

Dr. LeBon has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the existence of emanations. Thus the cat sees us in the darkest nights by virtue of some halo produced around our bodies by vital action, and photographs made in the dark are similarly explained. What was once known as "odic force," producing an alleged luminous nimbus around a human being, would, by this hypothesis, be accounted for as the result of an emanation. When this subject was under investigation many years ago it was remarked that relatively few persons exhibit the phenomenon in visible form. They are like gold, which shows no perceptible radio-activity, although the property may exist in it, while those who exhibit the nimbus resemble radium, which pours out an abundance both of rays and of radio-active emanation.