TWO ALLEGED BURGLARS NABBED BY DETECTIVES

Youthful Suspect Arrested in Pawnshop on Decatur Street Saturday Morning.

Two alleged burglars were taken into custody Saturday morning by city detectives. Sidney Gishart, 18-year-old, of 111 Central avenue, is being held, charged with burglarizing the Ragan-Malone Dry Goods establishment, on South Pryor street, early Saturday morning. The youthful suspect walked into a pawnshop on Decatur street, according to the detectives, in an effort to pawn a handsome leather suit case, stolen in the robbery. Two other suits of about $60 worth of shirts and hose were recovered by the detectives. Will Brantley, a negro, living at 185 Murray street, was taken into custody Saturday, and held under the charge of burglarizing the Klein & Jacobs pawn shop, 13 Decatur street, several nights ago.

Brantley denies any knowledge of the crime, but the detectives found at his home four shot guns, three Winchester rifles, three pistols, two rain coats, and six suits of clothes, the property of the pawn shop.

ATTACKS TESTIMONY OF CAPTAIN KENDALL

Lawyer Alleges That Commander of Empress Did Not Tell Truth.

Quebec, Que., June 27.—Contentions that the story submitted to the Empress of Ireland wreck commission by Captain Kendall and officers of the lost liner was false; that the present heading of the sinking hull proved the steward's own convictions as to how the collision took place, and that Captain Kendall, unswayed by the appearance of the colliding ship, steering gear had broken down, lost his head, formed the main part of the address, made this morning by C. S. Haight, summing up for the colliding owners.

He attempted to show that the collision was caused solely by the Empress being stopped directly in the path of the storied.

"If the steering gear of the Empress broke down," said Mr. Haight, "there was an explanation for the most surprising movements ever known at sea. He referred to the testimony of Captain Kendall that when he met the ship he had put his engines at full speed ahead. 'I cannot say,' he said, 'that there is an explanation to be found for this surprising fact. It is true that some explanation went wrong with his ship's steering gear. There must be some explanation to make him put his engines full speed ahead when the vessels were from 2 to 4 miles apart and on a safe and clear course,' addressing Mr. Haight.

"Your case involves the conclusion that Captain Kendall and his officers have deliberately placed a story before the public to the effect of it," the attorney replied.

Mr. Haight attacked the testimony of Captain Kendall, saying that he had not faced death in the water, but the ship and crew lived, and he did not guarantee that he was telling the truth as he had been suggested by Mr. Kendall.

Mr. Haight said that facts were more likely to be reasons for Captain Kendall's testimony.

"What, man," asked the lawyer, "would have enough to face the world and declare that as a story that he had placed his vessel across the bows of another?"

"Worst of all," said Mr. Haight, "the story that after the impact the storied backed away a mile and left a thousand people to perish."

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED
CONVEY BY JUDGE HILL

Motion Is Decided Without Argument—Attorney Gives Notice of Appeal.

A new trial was denied Jim Conley, charged with accessory after the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan, by Judge Hill yesterday morning. Conley's lawyer, W. M. Smith, gave notice of an appeal. The motion for a new trial was decided without argument. The appeal will probably not be heard by the higher court until next fall and by that time Conley will have served the greater portion of his sentence of twelve months.

August now ready

By Leonard Merrick. By many readers this is considered the author's best novel. It is a brilliant story of theatrical life. The scene travels rapidly from London to Paris, back again to London and finally to New York. There are the usual ups and downs, and enough joys to give the reader several Silas—Some newfangled farming, eh?

THE first figure wears a white linen skirt and waist. The skirt is made with three circular flounces. The waist of a sheerer linen has rather full raglan sleeves and cuffs, collar and vest of pin striped black and white linen with an inside hemstitched flaring collar of plain white. With it is worn a wide black satin girdle and a small black satin bow tie. The hat is of white chip faced around it with a tiny bow at the right side.

The green linen is made in a modified 1880 style. The waist plain and rather tight fitting with the long shoulder line, buttons down the back and is relieved by flaring white collar and cuffs. The broad Roman striped girdle is brought well down over the hips.

The third figure wears one of the new capes, black and white check, lined with yellow broadcloth. Straps of the broadcloth cross in front and again in the back and are knotted at one side. The dress of light-weight serge has the new long tunic of Roman striped silk. It is shirred across the back, while the front is finished with a black satin girdle. The blue waist opening over a vest of white lawn shows where it ripples open, glimpses of the Roman striped lining. With this costume is worn the popular small, white hat.

SCOTTISH CHURCHES TO SETTLE QUARREL

Edinburgh, June 27.—The recent general assemblies of the two great churches—the Presbyterian church in Scotland—the established Church of Scotland and the Free Church of Scotland—will be followed by the annual meeting of the United Free Church—which assembly are said to be promising for a union of these rival bodies, mending an historical quarrel.

Various sects broke away from the ranks of the Established Church as early as the seventeenth century, the occasion being in many cases the alleged low moral state of the clergy and the illiberal policy of the government.

1984 by adopting the rule that no pastor should be granted tenure. The constitution also gave the congregation the right to elect or remove a pastor against the will of the people, and this was a revolutionary change for a union where members in 1961 had protested the opposition of the congregation to the ouster of former leaders of the obstructionist church.

A constitution was drawn up by the members of the assembly and the church which concedes the spiritual leadership of the church to the people at the same time aims to preserve the church's unity and integrity. The new draft that will be the basis of the church's new constitution will be submitted to the members of the church.

SOUTH'S NEED FOR INDUSTRIAL TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR BOYS

(By E. G. Matheson, President Georgia School of Technology.)

The consensus of opinion, both local and national, is that the south is on the eve of an epoch-making era of prosperity which will place it in the forefront of the nation's material progress.

As is well known, the prosperity of the old south was based upon agricultural wealth. Though each large plantation represented industrial as well as agricultural life in many of its phases, yet manufacturing pursuits were rarely followed. With the easy-going tendency of the section, our people were content to derive comfortable support from the cultivation of the soil, and to ship their valuable raw products to make rich and powerful the manufacturing districts of the north and England. In all history there is no other such record of an intelligent and capable people utilizing their splendid natural resources to enrich other sections and nations, and this crime against their birthright lasted not one year, but 100 years and more.

It is only within the last twenty years that the south has awakened to its industrial possibilities, and has begun to share in the wealth of its manufactured products.

That considerable progress has been made in southern technical education in the last twenty years may be indicated by brief statistics concerning the following six leading technical schools: Alabama Polytechnic (A. S.), Texas A. and M., South Carolina A. and M. (Clemson), Combining the first year's enrollment of each of these colleges, we find a total first year attendance of 1,747; the combined attendance of the same colleges in 1903 was 813. Their original investment in plants was $184,471, and this had increased in 1903 to nearly $4,500,000, with annual income varying from $100,000 to approximately $150,000. During the period mentioned there has been an increase in the number of annual graduates of 44 per cent; in the value of school plant of 168 per cent; and in the number of courses offered of 418 per cent. While this is a crude estimate, we are still far ahead of meeting the demands of the situation.

IMPORTANT FACTORS IN TECHNICAL TRAINING

An important factor in technical training is the preparation which it gives its graduates and the consequent leadership upon which all progress is dependent. The tendency of the mass is to move in the rank marked out by ancestry till the leader comes to discontinue the line, and the higher walks of life. The value of trained leadership is incalculable, mankind to a more efficient plane cannot be overestimated, and is worth whatever it may be. In a striking degree the graduates of our technical colleges represent this valuable asset applied to industrial life, and their success amply justifies the investment in their training on the part of the various states. Speaking concretely of the Georgia school of technology, on account of intimate knowledge concerning its affairs, the following statement is truly notable. All graduates, without exception, enjoy lucrative and substantial positions as commercial or professional life, and the end is not yet. On the basis of present conditions we have every right to anticipate for them even higher honors. Furthermore, the demand for these graduates is much greater than the supply, and from every source of the south the call for their services becomes more and more insistent. The record of their careers speaks success in large letters, and is an earnest of greater achievement to follow. Eighty-five per cent of their number are in strictly engineering work, and it may be interesting to note as follows some of the positions occupied:

President Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, president and treasurer M. D. & H. L. Smith company, engineer Georgia Railway and Electric company, president Colquhoun Lumber company, superintendent American Chemical company, superintendent Brown, Engine and Boiler company, superintendent New Mexico Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, president Blue Ridge Marble company, general manager Cochran Cotton Mills, president Merry Machine works, manager Emory Steam Laundry, president Home Machine and Foundry company, professor mechanical engineering, University of Arkansas, vice president Plunger Elevator company, vice president Atlanta Utility works, captain coast artillery, United States army, adjutant general United States army, chief engineer J. S. Schuchardt's Sons, general manager Cleveland Cotton Oil mill, president Rothchild metal and life company, superintendent Lawrence plant, superintendent Elizabeth Cotton mill, superintendent Bibb Manufacturing company, superintendent public works, Columbia; assistant superintendent of Georgia, chief chemist Central Iron and Coal company, superintendent of various schools, and water plants, assistant engineer bureau of lands, and so on through the list. It is really impossible to make selections, as all the number are reflecting such credit upon their alma mater and themselves. And this remarkable showing, doubtless, is practically paralleled in the alumni records of the other leading technical schools in the south.

SOUTHERN INSTITUTES NOT MEETING DEMAND

"Most of the feminists have children," Miss Fuzsane says Gwendolyn. "In fact, many of our leaders have raised the families and the children have married and left the home nest."

"I get you," I said. "The dames are out of a regular job and have been looking around for something to do with it. It does call a modern dame to have to take care of the children. They make such swell things of it. They'll go. They'll go. They'll go."

"Men have always stood together," says Gwendolyn, "but women have not. Among women there has been no solidarity."

"Hold on! Wait till I look that one up in the dictionary," I said.

"I mean that now all women mean to stand together for the good of all women. The men have stood together; practically paralleled in the alumni records of the other leading technical schools in the south."

"I see," I said. "It means it will be to ally to get breakfast if he don't. All the women will stand together and make him."

"I don't think it means that, does it, Gwendolyn?" he asked. "I don't have to get breakfast, do I?"

"Of course not, dear," said Miss Gwendolyn. "You will hire a maid to do that. It means the broader things. The big things of life. The vote, woman taking her proper place in the world, doing some of the real work."

"Because me!" I said. "I see what that means. Algy, your wife will be coming down and chasing me out of this job. She'll hit the keys for Perkins and Partner at this little old No. 2."

"I guess not," said Algy. "No wife of mine will pound a typewriter. Not while I can hire a girl to do that work!"

"I don't," I said. "Don't give it away! I'm not ashamed to take the wages you and Perry do out to me, but I hate to have a real feminist know how much it won't do. Go on, Algy, I don't seem to get it. What the new feminism is trying to put over. What is the bitter truth. What do you want?"

"We want a broader—"

"We want anything to me. You don't want anything to me. You don't want to vote, don't you?"

"We want to take our proper place in the world. For centuries woman has been cramped mentally and intellectually—and"

"I'm on!" I said. "I get you now. You want a right to put back. Why I'm a feminist, and I didn't know it. I've been reading Algy's denials for over a year. I've been making Algy and Perry pay me wages and I've had them both so scared they don't dare swear in the office. And what? You ought to have some of the schemes they wanted to start, and little red-headed me just railed one little tootle and stepped on them and that was the end of them. Why, my dear girl, I've got the new feminism in my skirts and having 'Maw-maw' do you?"

"But the new feminism is broader—"

"Broader?" I said. "Honest, it can't be. I'm loose. Nobody has any string on me at all. I can read any kind of sisterhood paper I want to, and if I don't like the heading, I can make it go on and out and buy an ice cream soda. If anybody don't want me to wear a suit and what I can wear all night if I want to. I don't have to ask anybody the meaning of the word 'read little feminist'."

"Well, Miss Gwendolyn just smiled sadly at me."

"But my dear girl," she says, "if you married me, I would rule your life. 'Well, what if I married?' Some selfish man would rule your life and command your rights. You would be no slave under the law of this world. You would have to obey him."

"It was man enough to make me!" I said.

"Certainly," said Miss Gwendolyn. "I guess you're not a feminist enough for that I wouldn't marry him," I said. "I've had a lot of experience. I mean to throw up my hands and let the man be the boss, and to tell me 'Woman's place is in the home' as if he meant it. Gee, I don't want to vote! I want to sit in a real home and have a Tolland maid and have a right to yawn when my husband tries to tell me why he is going to vote one way or the other. I know what I want. I want what every girl in the world wants. I want a man that will love me and be a real man and love me as she wants a vote. I want a husband. I want a real, progressive down-trodden man."

"Humph," says Miss Gwendolyn, disgusted. "I guess no man would ever do you from the way you speak."

"No," I says, looking full at Algy. "No real man ever did."

"Well, Algy, I was mean to tell him that was when of course, he couldn't get back at me. I didn't want him. I wouldn't take him if he had proposed a million times. But I was more to think anybody else had him. Algy, I wanted that man. I wanted that the way with this feminism business. Maybe it's a case of the night-aidie wanting to be a crow."

WARE SCHOOL TROUBLE BREAKS OUT ANEW

Waycross, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—D. W. Wynn, school trustee for the Georgia school of technology, has been knocked down a flight of stairs in the twenty-story building of the Georgia School of Technology, a resident of the district, both had called on Superintendent B. R. Bourne regarding the extension ordered by the board of trustees.

Ricklighter and several neighbors objected to the new building and told the teacher to stop the school extension. Wynn was knocked down a flight of stairs for two months. Parents of children attending school at the Georgia School of Technology, Ricklighter's number of the parents to almost cut the attendance at the school. The teacher was brought before the superintendent.

Warrants were issued for both and bonds arranged.

AT TRUSTEE'S SALE

Here Is Your Opportunity to Secure Some of the Finest Land in the State of Georgia
AT FORCED SALE PRICES

The above is a map of Deenwood Farms, comprising some 30,000 acres. They lie just west of and within two miles of Waycross, Ga., one of the busiest railroad centers in the south.

These choice farm lands are the accumulation of about 15 years of the best part of Mr. Deen's life, and owing to the development made by him and others in that section are now right in line for big advance in values.

It has always been Mr. Deen's intention to sell these lands in farm tracts to actual settlers, as they are splendidly adapted to Sea Island cotton, sugar cane, corn, oats, legumes, Irish and sweet potatoes, and truck crops of all kinds.

But his creditors are not willing to give him sufficient time to do that. They insist upon immediate sale, and Mr. Deen has consented to permit them to sell at public sale a sufficient amount of the land to pay off his obligations.

When that has been done, the balance will be reserved to be sold at private sale, as originally intended, and for its real value.

In a sale of this kind prices always range away below actual values. Here, then, is a chance you ought not to miss, whether you want land to cultivate or to sell again.

If 100 per cent profit on quick resales looks good to you, come down to the sale prepared to buy as heavily as your funds permit.

Note the general lay of the land; the public roads and railroads which intersect it, and the farms which have been sold and are now being improved and operated.

None of this land is more than three miles from a railroad, and most of it very much less than that. It has road frontage for miles, some of which are as fine sand clay roads as are to be found anywhere in South Georgia.

DO YOU WANT A FARM?

Here is your chance to secure one that will grow anything that can be grown in any state in the union, except wheat and apples.

HERE is the HOME of the PAPER SHELL PECAN.

122 1-2 acres, one-fourth lot to 490 acres; whole lot can be bought mighty cheap at this sale.

BUY TO RESELL

Any man with a few thousand dollars can pick up sufficient land at this sale to make him a small fortune in selling it out in farm tracts to his own friends and give them a fine bargain. Come prepared to buy all you can afford at your own price.

CITY AND SUBURBAN PROPERTY GOES, TOO

Waycross is increasing in population more rapidly than any other city in Georgia. According to U. S. Census Bureau, the gain was 145 per cent, 1900 to 1910, and 25 per cent, 1910 to 1914. Over 18,000 now, and will easily be 30,000 by 1920.

NORTH DEENWOOD, SOUTH DEENWOOD and IDYLWILDE are right in line of the biggest and surest development. They are fairly well developed now (see map) and 80 per cent of Waycross' new building is in direction of those suburbs—almost there, in fact.

The Hebard Cypress Company's big plant, the Anderson Lumber Company, and the Atlantic Coast Line's big shops surround Deenwood on the north, east and south, and Maryland Farm on the west.

Carswell street and Augusta avenue, two of the finest residence streets in Waycross, run through this property.

These suburbs are now within the city limits of Waycross, and will within a few years cease to be suburban, even in name.

H. W. WILSON, Commissioner

IDYLWILDE has a new $25,000 school building—and needs it.

WINONA PARK, the only amusement and recreation place in or near the city, is right in the midst of the property. STREET RAILWAY runs through Deenwood to Winona Park. Lots around the park are bound to appreciate greatly in value.

Someone is going to pick up some wonderful bargains in suburban property at this sale. Will it be you?

Sale of city and suburban property will begin TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1914, at 10 a. m., at Courthouse, and may be continued and sold on the premises.

Don't fail to be here.

I am interested that my friends should know of this opportunity to buy these lands at their own prices.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

An Interrupted Appeal.

OF a long time, Lucille did not trust herself to speak. Her eyes fearfully sought the room which had started to press down upon her and was still suspended midway of ceiling and basement floor. Then she looked at the outstretched palm of the man who stood, so coolly smoking there in the doorway, she clasped the pocket of papers to her breast, her eyes darting a defiance to him, a defiance which he affected to ignore entirely.

"The papers, Miss Lucille, if you please."

Again that instant, mildness of tone which she knew there was no successful resistance.

For the destined to the window, she wondered what would happen if she refused, wondered what diabolical thing might enter his brain, what would happen if she refused to descend upon her knees, she thought as she descended, slowly, reluctantly, she held out the packet to him, watching him furtively as he took it, his eyes were lowered and placed it in his breast pocket.

Slowly he conducted her up the stairs. In his private room he seated her in a chair, seating himself at the desk.

"I am not going to threaten you again," he said quietly, "but this is the last time I can interfere with my plans."

Also I wish to congratulate you on your persistence and cleverness in the matter of the papers."

"You have," she added with a smile, "made it necessary for the servants to place the sign reading agents and detectives, and I have been in the room."

But, Miss Lucille, I stood and watched you from this window, hoping that you would gain access to the house."

Exactly what she had happened. I would not have been surprised if you had not."

Mr. Loubeque, she said softly, "have you never given up?"

"It is impossible," he said, "to be turned back because your ambitions are cruel and base?"

"With you, I do not like to battle with the man who has been so kind to me, in his own way, that I could love him as another father. But you would take from me, for whom you were willing to give up life itself to spare me one pang of physical anguish, you would take from me my dear, you would ruin my father, you would wreck my sweetheart's life. You would keep me apart from perfect happiness, and you would peek through the door of that happiness only to have it slammed shut in my face. Can you see that it is you who must give up?"

"Can you see that it is you who must give up?"

REAL ESTATE THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION'S SPECIAL PAGE DEVOTED TO REALTY AND BUILDING

ATHLETIC CLUB TO HAVE HANDSOMEST COUNTRY HOUSE IN SOUTH; PLANS FOR REBUILDING CALL FOR $100,000.00, HOME TO REPLACE STRUCTURE DESTROYED BY FIRE LAST MARCH

By Tilden Forbes.

According to the present plans for the new East Lake country home of the Atlanta Athletic club, to replace the former clubhouse, destroyed by fire last March, $100,000 will be expended in furnishing to local clubmen a handsome and modern structure that will not have a peer in the south.

The style of architecture will be that of the beautiful rural English, and the grounds surrounding the new country home will be replanted to correspond with the general scheme of English rural life. Five thousand dollars will be spent in landscape gardens and lawns.

The building plans call for a two-story, fireproof main building, with basement, and with a ballroom extension on the left wing, which will be of frame construction. The total floor space of the ground floor will approximate 15,000 square feet, comprising a large dining hall, spacious living room, rest room, dining hall in the right wing of the main building, kitchen and buffet in rear right wing.

Pleasing View.

The exterior view of the clubhouse will present a pleasing view. The first story of the main building will be finished in mission brick, and the second story and the exterior of the ballroom extension in stucco plaster and wooden panels, producing a truly English architectural effect. This plaster finish will be the color of dull gray. The roof, according to present specifications, will be red tile, but it is probable that the building committee will select green tiling, which is far more costly and beautiful.

The building will stand upon the old club site, and the beautiful coloring of its exterior finishing will blend with the background—the blue of the sky and the blue water of the large expanse of lake water, which will partly circle it on three sides.

The main entrance of the country home leads into a large spacious living room, which will be finished in plain mission. A big open fireplace will produce a home-like effect.

At the rear of the living room a big door will open onto a covered veranda, thirty feet wide and extending 190 feet across the entire rear of the main building and the ballroom extension. This veranda will overlook the beautiful lake, which will be approached by spacious brick terraces, sloping away from the veranda toward the water.

To the right of the living room on the first floor will be the dining room, sufficiently commodious to take care of the large crowds that visit the country club during the summer dinner dances. To the rear of the dining hall will be the buffet and the kitchen, supplied with a modern culinary outfit.

Rest Porch.

At the extreme right front of the main building, on the side, will be a rest porch and steps leading from it for golfers to tee off to hole No. 1 of the new golf course.

The interior wall finishing of the rooms on the ground floor will be in plaster and wooden panels, producing a plain, but wholesome, effect. Hollow tiles will constitute a drop-proof finish lining of the walls of the main building. The flooring of the living room will be a concrete base, over which marble flooring will be laid; that of the dining room will be of tile; the ballroom, a special grade of maple wood.

At the right of the main entrance will be a private entrance for men, from which a stairway will lead to the second floor, where the men's locker rooms will be placed. In the right wing of the second floor, besides the locker rooms for men, will be placed the shower baths, golf ball washers, a drying room for wet clothing, steel lockers for tennis rackets and rest room for men.

In the left wing of the second story will be the locker rooms and shower baths for women and their rest room. The ladies' locker will be approached by a stairway, leading from a private entrance, leading from the main entrance from the front.

From the main living room on the first floor a large stairway will lead to an assembly hall on the second floor, which will connect with the men and women's locker rooms on either side.

Cost of Building.

The lowest bid for the contract of the erection of the building proper was $43,500; for the plumbing, $11,500, and estimated cost of furnishing, $15,000. The architects, Hants & Ford, estimate $4,500 for their fee.

The basement of the building will open on the rear, and will consist of the golf professional's rooms, servants and chauffeurs' quarters and boiler and heating plant.

The present clubhouse will continue to be used by swimmers.

Notable among the improvements in the plans for the new clubhouse over the old one is the placing of the locker rooms on the second floor instead of in the basement, so that plenty of fresh air can be secured from the windows, which open on three sides.

The building committee is composed of George Adair, chairman; Thomas H. Haine, L. D. Scott and J. Henry Porter, ex-officio. The labors of these men and the board of directors, and H. E. Thrasher, secretary of the club, have been unswerving in their efforts to erect a clubhouse that would place Atlanta clubmen in the fore rank with other clubs of the country, and, as indicated by the loyal support these men are receiving from the club membership, individually and collectively, success is assured.

George Adair, shortly after the destruction of the old clubhouse in March, was quoted as saying that he would not Thanksgiving dinner in the new club. Work on the new building will be commenced at once, and progress will be pushed with determination to complete the club at an early date as possible.

In the plans for remodeling the grounds, it is probable that two of the present tennis courts, which are west of the present entrance to the club grounds, will be removed for the purpose of allowing a better view of the new club. The tennis courts will be rebuilt farther over to the right.

As the Atlanta regional bank, the local realty men are interested in the ruling that national banks, members of the new financial system, legally may make loans secured by real estate, provided such real estate security is improved farm lands unincumbered by a prior lien.

According to the announcement of the treasury department at Washington, the property must be located in the same federal reserve district as the bank making the loan; the loan must not exceed 50 per cent of the actual value of the property, and for a period not longer than five years.

Another provision made is that the total of each loan by any bank must not exceed one-third of the time deposits and must in no case exceed one-fourth of the capital and surplus of the bank.

Comptroller Williams some time since sent to each national bank a letter setting out the restrictions under which real estate loans may be made and directing that to each note secured by farm land, a certificate be attached stating the facts of the transaction by the officers making the loan.

Most Important Thing in Camp.

In the July Woman's Home Companion, C. H. Clardy writes a little article entitled "Frank's First Camp," in which he describes the best way to live in a tent. It is a practical article which contains suggestions for campers. Following is an extract:

One of the most important things to learn in camp is not to drink water you don't know about. The river water looks good, but it may be full of all sorts of germs. Spring water is usually all right. But when you don't know your water, boil it and cool it before you drink it. You can't be a good camper and neglect your own body."

There is no longer necessary for the home owner to plant comparatively small trees and wait for them to develop into luxuriant foliage. Through the achievement of Henry Hicks, of Westbury, L. I., the nursery, he overcomes all sizes and especially designed trucks of great dimensions haul the trees about the country. Shipments are also made on flat cars. Hundreds of big trees are shipped every season in this manner.

"Hellup!" She Cried.

While Atlanta realty scribes are running their tongues out to scrape together "dope" enough to fill a Sunday page, the "Columbian Leader" says this actually happened:

"Colombus had returned to Spain bringing the news of wonderful new lands across the sea."

"How much shall I write on it?" queried the martinet reporter of the "Columbian Bulletin," who had brought in the news.

"Don't write anything," replied the editor. "Let Columbus pay for his ad, and let him write it. It's probably a real estate promotion scheme."

CHAMBER'S NEW HOME ENTIRELY PAID FOR

The last check in full payment for the new home of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which was designed by President C. H. Clardy, was signed by President Clardy and the board of directors, and mailed to the proper parties. The building, which is a two-story structure, is the first of its kind in the city. It is a practical article which contains suggestions for campers. Following is an extract:

Plans for First Floor of New Country Clubhouse.

The plans for the first floor of the new clubhouse are shown in the diagram. The layout includes a large living room, dining room, kitchen, and a ballroom extension. There are also several smaller rooms, including a rest room, a shower bath, and a locker room. The diagram is labeled with various rooms and areas, such as "TERRACE A", "TERRACE B", "COVERED PORCH", "BALL ROOM PORCH", "BALL ROOM", "LIVING ROOM", "DINING ROOM", "KITCHEN", "SERVING ROOM", "REPRESENTATION", "TEA PORCH", "MEN'S ENTRANCE", "WOMEN'S ENTRANCE", "VESTIBULE", "NORTH COORSE", "ALCOVE", "LADIES SITTING ROOM", "CHECK ROOM", "LADIES LOCKER ROOM", and "BALL ROOM".

Ford Motor Company's Southern Home

Architect's drawing of the Ford Motor Company's Assembling Plant.

Excavations are now being made for the foundation of the Ford Motor company's southern assembling plant, which will be erected on the site which the company recently purchased at Ponce de Leon avenue and the old line of the Southern railway.

This will be a four-story, fully constructed building, of which the cost of the first floor facing on Ponce de Leon avenue will be the show room of the southern headquarters of this company. The remainder of the building will be taken up with the shipping department and assembling plant of the southern branch.

The establishment of this plant in Atlanta will not only bring many new and substantial citizens, but it is of a new era in distribution of northern manufactured articles in the south. The Ford company, which now ships to Atlanta for distribution in the southern territory all cars in one freight car, has found that by shipping its cars to Atlanta "knockout down" it can bring twenty automobiles in one freight car. The economy of the item of transportation expenses will be a great saving.

According to the announcement of the treasury department at Washington, the property must be located in the same federal reserve district as the bank making the loan; the loan must not exceed 50 per cent of the actual value of the property, and for a period not longer than five years.

Another provision made is that the total of each loan by any bank must not exceed one-third of the time deposits and must in no case exceed one-fourth of the capital and surplus of the bank.

Comptroller Williams some time since sent to each national bank a letter setting out the restrictions under which real estate loans may be made and directing that to each note secured by farm land, a certificate be attached stating the facts of the transaction by the officers making the loan.

Most Important Thing in Camp.

In the July Woman's Home Companion, C. H. Clardy writes a little article entitled "Frank's First Camp," in which he describes the best way to live in a tent. It is a practical article which contains suggestions for campers. Following is an extract:

One of the most important things to learn in camp is not to drink water you don't know about. The river water looks good, but it may be full of all sorts of germs. Spring water is usually all right. But when you don't know your water, boil it and cool it before you drink it. You can't be a good camper and neglect your own body."

There is no longer necessary for the home owner to plant comparatively small trees and wait for them to develop into luxuriant foliage. Through the achievement of Henry Hicks, of Westbury, L. I., the nursery, he overcomes all sizes and especially designed trucks of great dimensions haul the trees about the country. Shipments are also made on flat cars. Hundreds of big trees are shipped every season in this manner.

George Adair, shortly after the destruction of the old clubhouse in March, was quoted as saying that he would not Thanksgiving dinner in the new club. Work on the new building will be commenced at once, and progress will be pushed with determination to complete the club at an early date as possible.

In the plans for remodeling the grounds, it is probable that two of the present tennis courts, which are west of the present entrance to the club grounds, will be removed for the purpose of allowing a better view of the new club. The tennis courts will be rebuilt farther over to the right.

As the Atlanta regional bank, the local realty men are interested in the ruling that national banks, members of the new financial system, legally may make loans secured by real estate, provided such real estate security is improved farm lands unincumbered by a prior lien.

Memphis Turtles Evened the Count, Winning 7 to 3

Doscher Driven From the Mound and Perryman Hit Hard—O'Toole Gets in Bad Again.

Mike Finn's Memphis Turtles packed the grandstand for Saturday night and a rattler for home with an even break in their series, winning Saturday's game by the score of 7 to 3.

They were playing better baseball in every department of play. They were blessed with better pitching, fielded better in the trenches and they hit when the mound men were weak.

Howard Merritt twirled for the Turtles, the young left-hander wavered throughout, but he always managed to keep himself from being overpowered by the crowd. Towards the close he was working in a vicious way, but he was not a factor in the game.

Jack Doscher, who has beaten the Turtles five times in the season, started for the locals. He lasted a part of the first inning, was yanked and then was scored and Perryman substituted. He later got a double, but he was not to him, as the Crackers tied the score after he scored the run.

O'Toole is bad.

Jack O'Toole had another horrible day of it, but this time the Atlanta players were right in their kicks. Jack appeared to have a chip on his shoulder when he stalked out on the field.

His decision on balls and strikes were horrible. Time after time he overruled the Atlanta pitchers into holes by failing to give them the corner, and the same went along the locals had work themselves out with their kicking, he proceeded to get had on both sides alike.

Today's ballgame was a merry time of it and, like a human race, the locals proceeded to let the Crackers know that they were not to be trifled with.

There were no other features to the game excepting great base running by the locals. They had a lead of 3 to 0 in the first inning, but they were not to be lulled by a lot more games on the right side.

The clout went from left and center field to the center field fence. He had no trouble in making the circuit, crossing before the relay got into the infield.

How They Scored.

Allison opened with a double with a single to left. Coyle worked Doscher for a lead out home, but he was not to be bunted and, when Doscher hesitated about throwing it away, he had the ball for a hit. Mullen flamed, but when he was hit by a double, he was out.

At this stage, and stopped the run-getting, temporary.

JOHNSON'S SKILL IS TOO BAFFLING FOR FRANK MORAN

Negro Champion Retains Honors After Hard Twenty-Round Battle in Paris Ring.

FIERCE UPPERCUTTING TIRED CHALLENGER

Moran's Face Was Bleeding at Close—Johnson Showed No Marks—The Bout Was Amateurish at Times.

Paris, June 27.—Jack Johnson still holds the heavyweight championship of the world.

In a hard-fought battle at the Velodrome d'Hiver here tonight, the negro fighter defeated Frank Moran, a Pittsburgher, in a twenty-round contest. Moran was game and stubborn. He did most of the leading and made many friends.

Johnson's superior skill and his effective uppercutting were down his opponent and was the fight, which in the opinion of many, was amateurish.

Terrific uppercuts on which Johnson had relied in many previous battles again were brought into play on his young adversary, who was unable to stand up to the blows. He repeatedly went down to Moran's jaw when he last expected them, and several times with such force that the Pittsburgher was sent wobbling, but there was not a single knockdown.

S. I. A. A. May Be a Thing of The Past

EIGHT COLLEGES IN REVOLT After Meeting Here Wednesday, July 1

It is considerable of a rarity to note, the subject of college athletics cropping out in July, but such, for once, is the case—and it comes with a rush and a roar.

Some eight or more prominent colleges in the vicinity of Atlanta plan to get together for a good old-fashioned talk about athletics on July 1, and speculation is rife as to just what the outcome will be. The colleges to be represented are Vanderbilt, Georgia, Auburn, Tech, Alabama, Clemson, Mercer and Sewanee.

All these colleges are members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, but this is not an S. I. A. A. meeting. It has not been called by S. I. A. A. officers, nor have all the members of the association been invited to send delegates. In fact, only about one-third of the total membership of the S. I. A. A. will be on hand.

Object of the Conference.

For several years past, it is well known, there has been an undercurrent of dissatisfaction among many of the members of the S. I. A. A. and a tendency to question the wisdom of the organization has not only been expressed, but has been acted upon. The organization has been dissolved and a new association has been formed.

This was a vote by those who believed the association has grown large and is being controlled by a few of the members of the association. It is a vote by those who believe the association has grown large and is being controlled by a few of the members of the association.

L. F. Kenney Will Introduce Johnson Shock Absorber Here

Southern representative of the Johnson Shock Absorber company.

L. F. Kenney, a prominent business man of Chicago, has been in Atlanta for the past week, at the Hotel Ansley, investigating the conditions of this section with a view toward the successful introduction of the Johnson shock absorber.

In Chicago, where there are 150 miles of bituminous boulevard, Johnson shock absorbers are seen upon from five to six thousand of the fifty thousand automobiles in service and the same ratio is found in other large cities of the country.

After reviewing, in detail, the local street and road conditions as compared with Chicago and other cities, Mr. Kenney has concluded that a greater majority of the ten thousand motor car owners of Atlanta and territory surrounding will manifest a substantial appreciation for a device that does eliminate and successfully conditions the very objectionable existing conditions that have heretofore been impossible to overcome.

The sales policy of the Johnson is one that has proven popular to the thousands of car owners throughout the United States. It is a plan whereby the owner is enabled to test the Johnson shock absorber without any obligation on his part whatsoever. It is made possible for the motorist to test the absorber thoroughly in every manner on every road, until he has proven absolutely to his own satisfaction the possible advantages before making a purchase. This plan is made possible, Mr. Kenney states, by view of the fact that the Johnson absorber is the result of the most careful thought and rigid research of experienced and able engineers. The Johnson patent contains two essential features which no other absorber on the market. The result check and the adjustment enables the owner to adjust the load to the road.

Mr. Kenney stands ready to undertake to prove by practical demonstration and simple methods, based on same logic, to the entire satisfaction of any auto owner in the city of Atlanta, that a set of the Johnson shock absorbers, when properly installed on any make of car, will save in tire maintenance, spring repair and gas cost to exceed the initial cost of the absorbers twice every year, in addition to a 100 per cent riding comfort to the car.

Within the next week the Johnson shock absorber will be found at practically all the Atlanta dealers. Installations are being rapidly made, and motorists of Atlanta is beginning to ride with ease.

VANTIE IS WINNER OVER THE DEFIANCE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 27.—With the Resolute retired for ten days for repairs, the yacht Vantie and Defiance raced today on the sound again in the lightest of airs. The Cochran yacht won without difficulty. At one time the Vantie was nearly two miles ahead, but the Defiance regained some of the lost distance. The difference between the two at the finish was 4 minutes and 3 seconds. On corrected time the Vantie beat the Defiance 7 minutes and 15 seconds.

The accident to the Resolute was not serious. The bowsprit cap was discovered to be out of place and the bowsprit had slackened. The Resolute will meet her rivals again off Newport July 7.

The other two yachts will race off Larchmont Monday. The race was the second of a cup offered by Commodore Harold Vanderbilt, of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht club, and under the conditions of the gift it goes to the Vantie.

Concerning the Intrinsic Price of the Overland and the Inflated Price of Some Other Cars

PROBABLY the most confusing problem every automobile buyer faces is the wholesale manner in which many automobile dealers seem to willingly cut prices.

In fact this evil has grown so bad of late that some explanation is necessary.

In the automobile business, the fault does not lay chiefly with the dealer. It can be traced, directly, to the manufacturer. And here is how it is worked out:

Many manufacturers place a price on their car which is anywhere from 20% to 30% above its intrinsic value. Thus they figure they can give the dealer a high theoretical discount (which he cannot earn) as well as a high price (which he cannot get) so that he (the dealer) can judge the price around in his heart's content, and by offering his product at an apparently cut price can deceive the public into believing that they are saving some money. Or else they leave the price alone and throw in an extra tire or two all of which amounts to the same thing.

This is a notorious snare and one of the oldest deceptions known to business.

For the advertised price was inflated from the start.

Right down in his heart the manufacturer knows that in order to meet competition the dealer must cut the advertised price. Thus the manufacturer thinks that because the dealer can slightly cut this inflated price it will act as a great inducement to the buyer. The trick being, that because the dealer cuts the swollen price the buyer is supposed to be duped into believing he is getting a bargain—whereas exactly the opposite is true.

For instead of getting more for the money the buyer still gets less for more money.

The car—the price of which fluctuates at the will or whim of the dealer on the pretense or subterfuge of effecting a saving—is a good car NOT to buy.

Beware of the dealer who has a fluctuating scale of prices. He is a good man to stay away from. By necessity any car that he handles must have a fluctuating value and must have back of it a fluctuating service.

Can you go into John Wamack's in New York and attempt to strike a bargain?

Can you go into Marshall Field's in Chicago and start to haggle over the price of anything?

If you want a Big Ben clock, a Victrola, a Howard Watch, a Steinway Piano, a Gillette Safety Razor, or any one of a hundred other staple articles—haven't you got to pay the advertised price which is fixed at its source of manufacture?

So it is with the Overland car. The price is fixed at the factory. The price is made as low as it can be made. Value considered—none are lower.

The fact that the Overland price is maintained in spite of pretty keen competition is pretty good evidence of the stability of our dealers and the faith the public have in the Overland car itself.

Even the cut prices of other manufacturers are usually above our staple prices.

We have but one logical inducement to offer—the car itself at the advertised price—no more—no less.

The fact that we are shipping over 5000 cars a month—the fact that we are doing more business than any of those offering inflated car values—the fact that we do more business in one month than some manufacturers do in twelve months—proves that our policy must be fundamentally correct, and that the policy of some of the others must be fundamentally incorrect.

Careful comparison with other cars will show that a car of the Overland quality and mechanical efficiency offers much greater intrinsic value for less money than any other similar car in the world.

We say again—beware of the dealer who approaches you with a cut from his price. He is endeavoring to deceive you into thinking you are saving money.

We want you to become acquainted with the Overland. Come in and see us. Thorough demonstration—any time—any place.

Firestone TIRES

Cost you no more to buy than the ordinary. In every other respect Firestone Tires stand alone.

The Firestone builders have the largest factory in the world where only tires are made.

This gives them the authority of specialists in the field.

This year Firestone output increased 78 per cent.

For 14 years they have held the standard of quality without a break—and each year Firestone has made a better tire.

Because Firestone experts are the pioneers in tire improvement, always in advance with the better method, the more efficient machine, the refinement of workmanship.

The record of races won on Firestones has been spectacular. Their road-work in daily grind has clinched the Firestone Slogan—MOST MILES PER DOLLAR.

These all mean enormous sales, gigantic output and reduced production cost. This also means that Firestones sell at the price of ordinary tires.

And don't forget the concentrated effort, specializing on tires, with the finest working equipment in the world.

See the Firestone dealer now. You pay only ordinary price and you get the extraordinary in service.

500-Mile Race Again Proves the Greater Mileage in Firestone Tires

Barney Oldfield, on Firestone Tires, captured the American honors in the International Sweepstakes, Indianapolis, May 30th. His average speed for the 500 miles was 78.15 miles per hour. He made only three changes, while some drivers, not using Firestones but who finished in the money, changed tires thirteen and fourteen times. Two of Oldfield's Firestones went through unchanged.

This record with the winning of first place in 1911 and first and second place in 1913 by Firestones, in this world test of Tires, should be a clear tire buying guide to you.

NOT MUCH DOING IN STOCK MARKET

No Alarm in Wall Street
Over the Claflin Failure.
Sentiment Cheerful—Bonds
Were Irregular.

New York, June 25.—The stock market fell into the doldrums again today. Business during the two-hour session amounted to about 70,000 shares and the listless movement left little doubt of its highly professional origin. Prices of representative shares were lifted fractionally above the previous day's closing quotations and sentiment

The day practically was devoid of important news. Advices from leading mercantile trade centers were moderately optimistic.

Actual cash loss of the clearing house banks was much in excess of all estimates, aggregating over $12,000,000 which is a trifle more than the week's

Stocks During the Week.

The market gave an indubitable exhibition of strength in the face of extraordinary conditions. That prices yielded but little was accepted as evidence of a liquid condition. The share of a few commercial companies registered declines, but otherwise the list held relatively firm. Conditions in the steel industry remain Crop conditions, except for unfavorable weather in parts of the middle west and southwest, gave little of their bright promise. Railroad returns for May are mainly disappointing. Quoted rates for time money are unchanged. Gold exports continue but in more moderate volume.

Metals.
New York, June 27.—The metal markets were dull and practically nominal.
Lake copper, nominal; electrolytic, $12.50 @ 12.75; casting, $12.50.
Iron unchanged.
