JURY DEADLOCKED IN MURDER CASE OF MRS. CARMAN

After Deliberating for Several Hours, the Twelve Men Have Been Unable to Agree on a Verdict.

MRS. CARMAN NOT GUOT ABOUT DELAY OF JURY

In Summing Up, the District Attorney Was Very Severe on Mrs. Carman and Her Relatives.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24.—The Carman jury was still out at 11:30 o'clock and the prospects of a verdict during the night seemed small.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, after listening all the afternoon and evening to the summing up of the defense and the prosecution and the charge of Justice Charles H. Kelly, retired at 9:15 o'clock tonight to begin its deliberations.

At midnight the Carman jury was still out. It had been deliberating two hours and fifteen minutes.

During the first hour of the jury's deliberations Mrs. Carman remained in the chambers at the rear of the court. An hour and five minutes after the jury had retired it went out to request for some testimony.

Mrs. Carman, highly nervous, was brought out into the court room. Two women friends and a prison guard followed her. She went to the witness stand and testified.

She testified that she knew the man who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Carman. She said she saw him at the time of the murder.

Then for more than three hours and a half John J. Delaney, state's attorney, severely criticized the district attorney's methods in the case, particularly referring to the manner in which the Carman family was treated.

He said that the Carman family was treated with respect and dignity. He said that the Carman family was treated with respect and dignity.

$7,000,000 of Emergency Currency Is Taken Out By Ga. National Banks

$9,000,000 More Will Be Called Into Regulation as Soon as Sufficient Cotton Receipts Are Offered.

National banks, members of the Georgia National Currency association, have already taken out over $7,000,000 of emergency currency.

This information was given out at the conclusion of its executive committee's meeting in Atlanta Saturday.

It was also made known that Georgia is using 75 per cent of all the emergency currency that has been issued in the nine cotton states.

No stronger demonstration could be offered by the national banks of their determination to give the greatest relief to the cotton market.

With $7,000,000 of this money added to the circulation of Georgia, there remains $2,500,000 that will be called into regulation as soon as sufficient cotton receipts are offered to command it.

Taking Their Fall Quota. Georgia has 115 national banks. Of them, 25 constitute the Georgia National Currency association, and their resources entitle them to put $1,185,000 in circulation based on cotton and commercial paper.

Seven-eighths of this have already been taken out. The balance of the quota, which is $1,185,000, will be taken out as soon as sufficient cotton receipts are offered to command it.

ROLE OF TITANS FEROCIOUSLY RAGING WITHOUT DECISION

Immense Armies Continue to Pound Each Other on Lines Extending From the North Sea to Swiss Frontier in West and From Baltic to Carpathians in East.

ALLIES ADVANCE AT SOME POINTS AND GERMAN FORCES AT OTHERS

Neither Side, However, Claims Anything in Nature of Definite Success in Fighting in Belgium and France—Losses on Both Sides Are Tremendous, and It Seems Certain a Decision Cannot Be Very Much Longer Delayed—Russians Report the Austrians and Germans in Retreat.

Geneva, October 24.—(Via Paris).—A Basel telegram confirms the retirement of General Helmuth von Moltke as chief of the German general staff on October 22. He requested to be relieved because of ill health. His resignation was accepted, but it is not known who will succeed him.

German Submarine Is Sunk

London, October 24.—A German submarine has been rammed and sunk by the British destroyer Badger, Commander Charles Freemantle, off the Dutch coast. The Badger's bow was somewhat damaged.

This official announcement was made tonight.

Ceaseless Hammering Is Done By the Armies of Belligerents

London, October 24.—The immense armies of the belligerent powers continue to hammer each other ceaselessly on lines extending from the North sea to the Swiss frontier in the west, and from the Baltic sea to the Carpathians in the east. The net result, however, so far as can be judged from official reports issued tonight, is that they gain a little here only to lose a little elsewhere.

RUSSIAN FORCES PRESS GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS

Petrograd Claims That the Kaiser's Forces Have Been Decisively Repulsed Near Warsaw and at Ivangorod.

Petrograd, October 24.—(Via London).—Petrograd is aglow over the reported repulse of the Germans at Warsaw and at Ivangorod.

Military authorities, however, instead of magnifying the importance of the German withdrawal, are preparing to meet the enemy's advance.

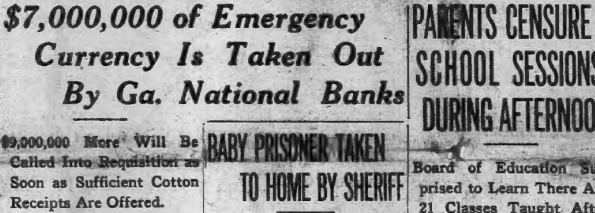

An official communication issued by general headquarters tonight says: "Our troops beyond the Vistula are pressing the German forces back."

"South of the Vistula, on the roads toward Radom, the Austro-German troops to engage in a series of attacks."

On October 23 the fighting line extended 40 versts (26 miles). It certainly points the engagements took the character of hand-to-hand encounters.

"In the forest around Radom several attacks on the Russian positions were carried out by the Austro-German forces."

PARENTS CENSURE SCHOOL SESSIONS DURING AFTERNOON

Board of Education Surprised to Learn There Are 21 Classes Taught After 12:30 O'Clock.

COUNCIL GAVE $11,812 TO PUT END TO SYSTEM

22 Double Sessions Abolished, But There Is No Change in 21 Until First of Year, It Is Said.

Double sessions are still menaced Atlanta public school system.

Regardless of the education board's promise that it would abolish the system, the board has decided to continue the sessions until the first of the year.

Members of council, particularly members of the finance committee, are brought up over the failure of the school board to carry out its promise.

Numerous complaints are being made to council members. The protests are being made by parents, teachers and citizens who are in close touch with the school situation.

School board members say that they were not aware that there were more than six double sessions still in vogue in the schools.

President George H. Hope was surprised Saturday when the Constitution informed him that there were more than six double sessions still in vogue in the schools.

School Commissioner Dan Green, chairman of the finance committee, said he did not know there were more than six double sessions still in vogue in the schools.

"The superintendent named six instances where there were double sessions," continued Commissioner Green, "and to make certain that I understood him correctly I asked him if there were any other sessions than the six."

NELMS HERE TO FORGE CHAIN AROUND INNISSES

Brother of Missing Girls Wants to Have Prisoners Indicted in Fulton County.

Marshall Nelms has returned to Atlanta to forge a chain of prosecution around Victor M. Inniss and his wife, who are charged with causing the disappearance of the Nelms sisters, so that escape will be impossible, even though Texas could fall down entirely in their efforts to convict.

He arrived Saturday morning from Birmingham, where he consulted with authorities in regard to prosecuting Inniss and his wife in Alabama in event they were not executed for murder in Texas. In Atlanta he visited Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, seeking to prepare indictments against the accused men and women in Fulton county.

Leaving Atlanta, he will, in all probability, go to Tennessee and Louisiana authorities and force other links to his chain. All these will be on the ground of conspiracy to murder, which, he charges, was plotted in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana, as well as Texas.

Texas laws require that the body or identifiable parts of the victim, must be submitted by the prosecutor. The state, however, according to Nelms, is in default of conviction on the charge of conspiracy, which would send the suspects to prison for a term of not more than ten years.

Nelms' idea is to have them also indicted in Alabama, Georgia and, if possible, Tennessee and Louisiana.

The Georgia laws are being consulted by the solicitor general. Attorney Nathan Arnold and Nelms. Tuesday afternoon it will be decided whether or not the matter will be submitted to the grand jury.

"I have no doubt whatever," Nelms told reporters, "that Inniss and his wife will be convicted in San Antonio. We have a world of evidence against them."

Nelms will return to San Antonio Wednesday.

Massengale Is Anxious To Hear From Chairmen About Election Ballots

St. Elmo Massengale, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, announces that he has not heard from a large number of the chairmen of the county committees relative to the printing of ballots.

Mr. Massengale asks that each chairman of the county committee in the state who has not informed him that his ballot has been properly printed, according to the specifications of the state committee, do so at once.

Mr. Massengale has just mailed a letter to the ordinary of each delinquent county asking him to co-operate with the county committee in having this matter attended to promptly.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS AT WINECOTT MONDAY

Although the public opening of the House Winecotti southern gardens will not occur until Tuesday night, the Rotary club has engaged the gardens for their semi-monthly meeting on Monday night.

The remaining paraphernalia for the new gardens arrived Saturday, and by Monday night the decorating will be completed, the features of which will be artificial crimson and variegated rambling roses, numbering over 1,000.

Professor W. W. Hubner, musical director at the Atlanta theater, has been engaged to lead the orchestra at the Winecotti, and Mrs. Frank Pearce, the well-known soprano soloist, will also be on the program. The Rotary club has been engaged to play the flute, but as yet the Winecotti artists have not mastered the pronunciation of his name, far less the spelling of it.

Mrs. G. T. Guernsey Will Offer For President General D. A. R.

The Daughters of the American Revolution of the state of Kansas have announced that Mrs. George T. Guernsey, an Indian Territory resident general in 1914, having been unanimously informed by her state and chapter.

She has been one of the most prominent figures in the affairs of the society in the west for a number of years and has for the past six years been one of the most popular members attending the annual meetings of the continental congress held in Washington.

She is a native of Ohio. Her father, a clergyman, being from Virginia, and her mother from Pennsylvania. She is the wife of a banker, and added to a charming personality, she is a woman of splendid executive ability.

The following is her platform:

1. Elimination of all party lines.
2. One term of three years, with no re-election, for all national officers, in order to prevent the distractions consequent upon a campaign for a second term.
3. All elected officers to have complete and unhampered control of their own affairs, and be responsible solely to congress for the proper conduct of the national office.
4. No mileage for officers or committee chairmen.
5. Regular board meetings to be held every Tuesday.
6. A committee of appeals to be created by the congress, for the decision of otherwise unsettled differences, which shall be final.
7. A magazine to be published to publicize the work of the society.
8. A half and square deal for every daughter.

JUDGE BROYLES RESIGNS, AID BELGIAN SUFFERERS. George Johnson Will Doubtless Benefit Vaudeville Show Will Be Given at the Grand.

Recorder Nath R. Broyles will cease to be "Judge Broyles" after November 1st, the date upon which he becomes judge of the court of appeals.

Recorder Broyles tendered his resignation to the mayor and general council Saturday morning. He was nominated to a seat on the court of appeals bench and will assume the place to which he has been elevated by the voters of Georgia soon after the returns of the election which will be held on November 1st.

It is understood that council will elect George E. Johnson to the place which Judge Broyles will vacate. Mr. Johnson was elected recorder in the recent city primary over three other candidates, but his term to which he has been elected by the people does not begin until next July.

Judge Broyles' resignation is as follows:

"To the Mayor and General Council of the City of Atlanta, Gentlemen: I herewith tender my resignation as recorder, to take effect on the 15th day of November next. While gratified at the promotion by the people of Georgia to the court of appeals, it is with genuine regret that I sever my official relations with the city of Atlanta. I have served her for nearly sixteen years as recorder, longer than any of my predecessors in that office, and I shall always be grateful to my fellow citizens for their constant and unwavering support of my administration of the law."

Believe that today Atlanta is the most beautiful city to grow in, in its civic beauty and righteousness in my earnest prayer.

"NATH R. BROYLES."

WAR STAMPS FOR BEER RECEIVED IN ATLANTA

The internal revenue department in the city of Atlanta has received its first batch of new war stamps for beer, which are to be placed on the increase on the brewers. The old price was $1 a barrel. Stamps for tobacco and other commodities will be received later.

MRS. G. T. GUERNSEY.

A society vaudeville performance to aid the sufferers of Belgium will be given at the Grand theater next Thursday night. The program will be furnished by entertainers from the ranks of Atlanta society and from the bill of the Forthright theater.

Tickets are now on sale at $1 each. The affair is being promoted by Henry L. DeGue, Belgian consul in Atlanta, who has received from the consulate in Washington a graphic report on the suffering of King Albert's devoted kingdom.

Hundreds of dollars will be realized by the performance. Every cent of the proceeds will be forwarded to the Belgian minister in Washington.

It was at first announced the show will be given at the Lyric, but Lake Wales last night wired permission to use the Grand.

JOHNSON TO ADDRESS DEAF-MUTE BIBLE CLASS

Deafening J. Johnson, of Talladega, Ala., visiting relatives in the city, will address the deaf-mute Bible class at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Johnson is of a family long interested in the education of the deaf in the Alabama school. He is gifted as a speaker in the expressive sign language of the deaf. It is a rare opportunity for the deaf of the city and their friends to enjoy his address this morning. All are invited and urged to be present.

ALLOWS PUBLICATION OF PARKHURST STORY

Judge George L. Bell Saturday modified his restraining order against the Atlanta Saturday Night prohibiting the publication of an article, "The Venturesome Mr. Parkhurst," permitting the publishers to run the one story, but restraining them from printing others. The injunction was issued at the plea of Mr. Parkhurst, former advertising manager of the paper.

COLORED STATE FAIR BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR

Macon, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—At the colored state fair, which will be held in Macon November 18-24, attention will be given to farming and cattle raising, and all the colored farmers who attend will be urged to raise less cotton next year and more food-stuffs, more hogs and more poultry. The colored farmers are quite a factor in Georgia, and if they will turn their attention to the diversification of the crops a long step will have been taken in the right direction.

President R. H. Wright, of the colored state fair, announces that all arrangements for the fair have been completed and that there will be more exhibits and a larger premium list this year than ever before. The most liberal premiums are offered for cotton, corn, rice, soybeans, peas, pumpkins, melons, watermelons, and other crops. In addition to these, there are premiums for domestic work. Colored farmers and their wives are urged to bring their exhibits to the fair. Everything that is considered worthy of a premium and some farmers from this section may win several of the premiums.

The amusement features of this year are also better than ever. The famous roller coaster, which will be used during the whole state fair, has been leased, and it will prove quite an attraction. It is the largest roller coaster ever seen in the south. It cost $5,000, and will be kept in operation as a permanent amusement. The midway will be crowded with all kinds of interesting amusements, and there will be horse racing in addition to all these things. A special trip to the fair to see Anna Wade Richardson, famous Negro educator, dies at Marshallville.

Marshallville, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Anna Wade Richardson, founder of Leanne Normal school, and who was one of the most remarkable negro women in Georgia, died here yesterday.

Her parents were owned by Dr. J. D. Wade. When a child she was taken to obtain an education. Securing assistance, especially from northern sympathizers, she was graduated from Atlanta university, and also from a college in Boston.

She made her life-work teaching and uplifting her race. Through her efforts she secured funds from northern sympathizers sufficient to build a commodious college and dormitory for Leanne Normal school, of which she was president for about twenty-five years.

The school will now be conducted by her son, E. R. Richardson, Jr., and her daughter, Blanch.

Her husband, E. R. Richardson, was for a number of years deputy collector of revenue.

Marshallville, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—The Berrien County Corn-Show, which has just closed, was the largest event of the year. It surpassed all previous corn shows held here in all respects.

The largest crowd ever seen in Nashville was here on the last day, which was October 21.

The five boys who raised the most corn on one acre each will be given a free scholarship in the agricultural department of the State university.

Master Ben Giddens, who won first prize last year, with 115 bushels on one acre, again took the first prize. This year he raised 132 9-10 bushels on an acre at a total cost of only $17.50.

The Douglas band furnished music for the occasion.

The citizens of Berrien are so gratified at the success this year that they are determined to have a fair in 1915.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—A decision from the United States court of appeals is expected early next week in the famous case of the Yarrow Naval Store, and upon this decision depends much as to the future of the case.

The petition of one of the factories of stockholders to set aside the sale of the plants at Brunswick and Elizabethtown, Miss., on the ground that Judge Sheppard was without jurisdiction in the event the sale of these plants is confirmed, then the plants will be turned over to their purchasers, but if the higher court decides that Judge Sheppard was without jurisdiction, then the case will probably go through the bankruptcy court in Ohio, which interest is manifested here in the decision.

ROME ATHLETIC CLUB
READY FOR BUSINESS

Rome, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—The Rome Athletic club, which numbers on its rolls ninety-eight young men, has perfected a permanent organization with John L. Harris as president; R. M. Wyatt, vice president; Carl Betts, secretary; and Robert Berry, treasurer. These officers will make up the board of directors. The club has given up quarters in the first street, with a gymnasium and basketball court.

THOUSANDS ATTEND
SINGERS' MEETING

Eufaula, Ala., October 24.—(Special.)—Several thousand visitors are attending the annual convention of the Barbour and Henry County Musical association, now in session at Belcher Bethel church, in the lower portion of the county. The singing is being led by well-known Sacred Harp singers of both counties.

STRING OF FIFTY WILL RACE IN ROME

Rome, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Three days of horse racing will be given in Rome on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. A string of fifty horses will be raced, and will be met together in the south, and a brilliant horse race will be given at the track of George G. Hines, west of Rome.

ONLY TWENTY-SIX MEN
READY TO VOTE IN ROME

Rome, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—There is apparently little interest in the election on constitution form of government, to be held November 24, in order to vote in the election it is necessary to pay taxes for 1914, and to date but twenty-six men have registered.

A notable display of stylish broadcloths

2,500 yds. Imported sponged and shrunk broadcloths 52 inches

This event will quicken the enthusiasm among smart shoppers. The sea-son's most favored fabric. A $2.00 value at $1.50 yd.

This is one of the best values we have ever offered, and consists of about 2,500 yards of imported broad-cloths, fully 52 inches wide, sponged and shrunk, velvet surface, lustrous finish, twenty-two popular colors. These have just arrived, and will be shown for the first time tomorrow in our popular dress goods section.

Luckily we gave the order for them in the early spring, and although they have been somewhat delayed in transit, from the other side, they come at an opportune moment to emphasize our great sale of dress woollens.

At regular prices, in any store hereabout (where they can be found at all), they would be $2 to $2.50 a yard. You can buy them from us tomorrow in cadet, wistaria, leaf, stone gray, china blue, Afro brown, gendarme blue, olive, Prussian green, taupe, Austrian green, wine, garnet, tan and navy.

:: Our suits strike the keynote of popular favor ::

Beautiful reproductions of foreign suits

Suits of broadcloths, gabardines, wool poplins, French serges

A great showing of about one hundred assorted suits in original styles, in several modes, some of them featuring long redingote effects, others long straight-line coats with yoke fronts. Many new styles of skirts are being shown, notably skirts with tunics, flared panels, and others with popular yoke effects.

In this line of pretty suits you will find several styles of semi-dress suits in various materials, in redingote and Russian tunic styles. The broadcloths are of fine materials, in several new models, with yoke skirts cut on straight tailored lines. Many of these styles are trimmed with silk plushes, velvets and satins, many new materials in trimmings being shown.

Thought, originality and care are evident in every piece. Of course, the colors are right. Russian green, Afro brown, midnight navy, Prussian blue, seal brown, black and combinations, all sizes, both young ladies' and women's.

A great sale of attractive crepe de chine

1,000 yards Imported all silk crepe de chine 40-inch

This sale will crowd our silk section, as it introduces a $2.00 value im-ported crepe de chine, at $1.50 yard

A New York importing house, famous for supplying fine dressmakers' trade throughout the country, has turned to us as the outlet for his surplus stock of more than 1,000 yards of imported crepe de chine.

They will go on sale Monday at $1.50 a yard, and will prove to be one of the greatest attractions ever offered by our silk department, which already has a wonderful record for striking value-giving.

As is known to all good dressers, this fabric lends itself most charmingly to the making of negligees, petticoats, dressing jackets, waists and all items of a well dressed woman's wardrobe, as well as being a supreme fabric favored by fashion this season for evening, street, dinner and afternoon dresses. This fabric, if found at all, cannot be seen otherwheres at less than $2.00 a yard. It is shown in all good colors and black and white at $1.50 a yard.

A sale of waists

at $5.00 each
—on second floor Monday

Several new models in dressy blouses at one price Monday. The very latest style waists will be shown in pretty blouses of crepes, laces over chiffons, pussy willow taffetas and mourning waists and wash silk blouses all good colors at this popular price.

MISS LUCY STOCKARD.

Whose marriage to Mr. Albert Barton White, of Birmingham, will be an interesting event of this month.

Meyers-Sugarman Wedding

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was the Meyers-Sugarman wedding, held at the Educational Alliance hall, Tuesday evening, October 20, at 7:30 p. m. The bride was Miss Ida Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyers. The groom, Mr. Samuel L. Sugarman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sugarman. Miss Rosa Meyers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Meyer L. Sugarman, brother of the groom, was best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Rose Sugarman, Miss Rae Hadas and Miss Sara Mendel; the groomsmen were Mr. Isaac Taylor, Mr. Isaac Hirschowitz and Mr. Leon Sugarman.

The bride wore a beautiful duchess satin gown, trimmed with real lace and pearl ornaments. The maid of honor wore a handsome white crepe meter, trimmed with lace and according platters and carried a shower bouquet of pink Killarney roses. The bridesmaids carried shower bouquets of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids wore white crepe meter gowns trimmed with hand-made ornaments, crystal bands and Chantilly lace.

Mrs. M. L. Sugarman, mother of the groom, wore a handsome, brocaded black satin trimmed with white lace, jet and a touch of gold. A corsage bouquet of red carnations.

Mrs. L. Meyers, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gray satin trimmed with silver lace. Her corsage was of red carnations.

The color scheme was red and white. The hall was beautifully decorated with palms and red and white decorations. The dining-room was beautifully decorated.

After the ceremony 160 guests were served with an elaborate supper. The bride and groom left for a honeymoon trip to Cincinnati, Dayton, Corvinton and Chicago.

At Crest of Series of Fat Years, South Needs Confidence, Not Cowardice!

The Constitution does not stop to fix responsibility for the failure of congress to meet its obligation to the people of the cotton belt in the crisis brought about by the European war. If so minded we could draw up a full indictment. We leave that to the people. They have more sense of intelligence than that with which they are credited. Their memories are long. They have been disappointed—grievously disappointed—in the failure of congress to act. More than that, the people of the cotton belt have not understood the failure of their representatives to even summon the democratic members in caucus, which could be done by the call of a comparatively few members. They read the announcement that the democratic president pro tem, the senate, Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, fighting for relief, gives up in disgust and goes home, declaring that the whole performance is a joke and that he will take no further part in the vaudeville. So much for national aid.

The special session of the Texas legislature has, as anticipated, refused to make outlays of the sort the plant needs to an arbitrary maximum of cotton to the plow. Since Texas is the key state in the cotton belt, without the co-operation of which nothing may be accomplished, it may be taken as settled that the fate of action by individual or state penalty is decreed. The house of representatives of South Carolina also has refused to take punitive measures looking toward legislative reduction. In each state the special act to interfere with individual right by summary action has failed. So much for state agencies, expressed through state sovereignty.

Now, what about the present financial status and financial reserves of the southern states? The Constitution makes the deliberate assertion that the south has not in its whole history, ante-bellum or post-bellum, been in better condition to withstand a temporary pressure of hard times.

The civil war stripped the south to the bone as no people have been stripped in history. There were not even the "minkies" left, as in France after the Franco-Prussian war. Everything had to be done over again, from the ground up. How the south came out of that crisis in history.

For the past ten years the south has been piling up wealth, mobilizing reserves, burying mortgages.

Year by year cotton, now revived as a curse, has been bringing in eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen cents.

We are in the position of the thrifty man piling up a nest-egg against a rainy day, or a man with healthy digestion laying up fat on which to take over when disease and malnutrition strike him.

Individual bank deposits, savings and checking are larger and more numerous than at any period of southern history.

We still depend too much on cotton as a source of support, but we don't depend on it like we did in reconstruction. We have manufactures. We have lumbering. We have mining and quarrying and shipping. And each and every one of these industries, big and little, is an anchor tugging the south away from the shoal waters of adversity.

Now as to cotton.

Of course, fifteen million bales of cotton at ten, eleven or twelve cents is better than fifteen million at six and a half or seven cents.

But, for the sake of argument, assume as the worst that the south receives only six and a half cents for its cotton crop of this year.

That will foot up, roughly, one-half a billion dollars.

Does half a billion dollars, added to the south's accumulated surplus and to its income from numerous other sources, spell disaster?

It does not.

It does spell economy and prudence and thrift and care and self-control.

It does spell courage and confidence and against unwholly and insane cowardice.

And with ordinary attention to conditions as now confront us, this section should enter within the next year the most prosperous era of its history.

But to reach that end one thing above all others must be done.

WE HAVE TO GET OUT OF OUR COTTON MUST BE CUT TO APPROXIMATELY ONE-HALF THE CROP OF THIS YEAR.

Next year the world will not need, and cannot, save at starvation prices, about a normal crop. It will have to digest the huge surplus left over from this year.

We have made great progress in the past twenty years in corn and cattle raising, in supplying ourselves with the necessities of life from our own acres.

We haven't made nearly enough progress!

We have steadily cut down the revenues we send to other sections.

We still export for meat and bread hundreds of millions. That meat and bread must, this year, be raised at home; the millions kept here.

Cotton must be reduced one-half; two-thirds would be better.

Who can assume that cotton shall be reduced and meat and bread produced?

THE BANKER, THE MERCHANT, THE FARMER!

These factors form the three-pronged grapple with which the south hangs to the shore-line of this year and next, and afterward.

The keynote is CO-OPERATION!

Let the Banker, in town and country; the landowner, on the acres or absentee; the tenant, the merchant, the "cropper," all co-operate in the doctrine of a scant crop of cotton, a bumper crop of foodstuff; let them ostracize the man who tries to "run the hog" over his neighbor; let them each make reduction of cotton and production of food the irreducible minimum for financial help.

THAT DONE, THE SOUTH'S ACCUMULATED SURPLUSES WILL DO THE REST; AND THE YEAR WILL SEE US ENTERING ONE OF THE MOST PROSPEROUS ERAS IN SOUTHERN HISTORY.

That is the situation as the Constitution sees it.

"God is in heaven; all's right with the world"—and especially that part of it that lies south of Mason and Dixon's line.

Now, quit kicking and get—TO BUSINESS!

ation. Commissioners and state authorities here and throughout the country are displaying a spirit of fairness and equity in seeking to help the carriers, which, if it had been even suggested eight or ten years ago, would have been ridiculed as a figment of idle imagination, an irreducible dream.

It is all striking evidence of the fact that it makes a wide difference whether the railroad situation is being handled by the politician or at the bar of public justice.

One might have thought from some of the talk late loose a few years ago that by now the railroads would have been cleaned into acquiescence with what seemed to be the public will, to make them perform their service for nothing. Now the legal representatives of the people are granting them concessions, and the people recognize them as such.

The pendulum of justice may take a long swing, but it always comes back. Politicians were able for a time, through demagogic appeals to passion and prejudice, to arouse a large portion of the public at least, to a point where they were almost ready to rip up the rails. But a sentiment of that sort could not last. The people, at heart, are fair and just; they hate oppression, whether it be directed at individuals or aggregations of individuals. The sense of justice of the average Georgian, the average American, is well developed; and that in the long run he is always ready to be just.

But more than this, we find that the vast majority of the politicians who made or informed these appeals to the passions of the people, after a season or whether a season has passed, have been right and their appeals were used for temporary political deception.

It is nevertheless true that many of them are among the foremost today in securing necessary concessions to the very organizations which they so freely denounced when they wanted votes.

It is gratifying to those who refused to make use of these demagogic threats to the sense of personal ambition; who, foreseeing that turn of the tide was inevitable, declined to depart from their convictions and build upon a foundation of political insanity, to view this evidence of the correctness of their positions, although they mistook them at some personal cost.

They can now calmly look back upon those political incidents strong in the conviction that they pursued the right course—the only course consistent with justice and equity—the very course which has been finally adopted by those who made political capital by talking loud the other way.

The pendulum has swung back. Principles of fairness and justice have supplanted talk of oppression and threats whose execution would have amounted practically to confiscation.

The country will be the better off for it for the return to reason in dealing with this great question.

They won't even give Carreras credit for wanting to reason—even when he thought the office was too hot to hold him.

WILMER PLEADS FOR ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Better Constitution! In common, I have no doubt, with many others who have been interested in the subject of proposed amendments to the Associated Charities, I read your editorial in Friday's issue with great interest. I simply cannot believe that Atlanta is going to let the Associated Charities die and plunge us back into those wretched conditions which have been so often and so justly a subject of our city's shame. Atlanta has too much sense, too much intelligence and too great a heart to let this catastrophe happen. But it certainly will happen unless people who have the means to help, who understand how essential to the better life of one city this institution is, and who have hearts that respond to human need, will come forward at once, and not only extricate the association from its present difficulty, but place it upon a secure footing for the future.

Our trouble seems to be that Atlanta, with all its intelligence, its sense and its money, is too busy to stop and think. Do we really want to go back to miscellaneous begging, the neglect of the sick, the neglect of the aged and the neglect of the orphaned and the neglect of the blind?

Do we want to dump out onto the streets the thousands of blind people who are so much more than a nuisance, who are so much more than a burden, who are so much more than a shame to the city?

Do we really wish to lose for the city the splendid service of the United States in that office—Mr. Logan and his noble band of helpers?

Do we desire to be without any sense of shame in the eyes of the world? Do our churches fail to realize how important it is to have a place where the needs of the poor are met?

Do we lack the information or the intelligence to perceive the fallacy of that old-fashioned absurdity (I can use no other word) that the money spent on salaries and other expenses will be better for the poor?

Would it really be a good idea to abolish all the doctors in town (of whatever school of medicine) and leave nothing but drug stores and hospitals, with none to prescribe or guide in their use?

Would it really be a better plan to throw away our money in the streets or to use it to help the poor? Do we really want to see the city of Atlanta, with its money, its sense and its money, too busy to stop and think?

Do we really want to see the city of Atlanta, with its money, its sense and its money, too busy to stop and think?

Do we really want to see the city of Atlanta, with its money, its sense and its money, too busy to stop and think?

Dramas of the Allied People
At the meeting of the Drama League at the Georgia Terrace Friday afternoon, the first of the series of dramas to be selected from the great drama of the people now at war was read by Miss Brennan, the reader, from the play "Hannibal".

Dramas from the French, one by a Belgian writer, a Russian drama and three interesting English plays will be read, interspersed with interesting reports of the progress of the war, presented during the fall and winter.

Reports read by the officers at the meeting Friday indicated the prosperity of the organization in membership and interest. Mrs. Spitzer, the president, presided, and Mrs. Harry Stearns, secretary, read the various reports of the year's work. The meetings will take place in the parlors of the Georgian Terrace.

Domino Club Entertained.
Mrs. G. H. Floyd entertained her domino club Thursday morning at her home in Druid Hills in honor of Mrs. L. A. Turner, of Fitzgerald.

Guests were Mrs. R. H. Dobbie, Mrs. Edgar Chambers, Mrs. E. L. Hulse, Mrs. Willie Dobbie, Mrs. R. W. Evans, Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. W. A. Byers, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. J. W. Little, Mrs. J. L. Turner and Mrs. L. A. Turner.

Hunter-Wilson.
The marriage of Miss Mary Rebecca Hunter and Mr. Percy McFerrin Wilson, of Birmingham, Ala., was solemnized yesterday at North Avenue Presbyterian church at noon by Dr. Richard Orme Fildes. The attendants were Miss Roberta Hunter, of Forsyth, Ga.; Miss Jewell Wood and Mr. Edward A. Northern. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home at 1197 Sycamore street, Birmingham, Alabama.

Hyperion Club Dance.
The members of the Hyperion club will entertain their friends at an indoor dance at the Hyperion club in their clubrooms in West End. The club will be attractively decorated and refreshments will be served. All welcome to the celebration of All Hallow's eve.

Dance at Segado's.
Miss Lillian Viola Mosley will cooperate with members of the DeKalb and Fulton county branches of the Equal Suffrage party of Georgia in giving a dance Friday evening, November 6, at Segado's.

A feature of the evening will be demonstrations of the newest dances and the occasion promises to be a delightful one.

Hallowe'en Party.
Miss Lillian Lewis and Belle Burdette will entertain about thirty of their little friends at a Hallowe'en party on October 31 from 6:30 until 9 o'clock. Mrs. W. M. Lewis and Mrs. John F. Burdette will assist their little daughters in entertaining their guests.

To Debutantes.
Miss Grace Stephens will entertain at bridge luncheon on Tuesday, November 3, in compliment to Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick and her guest, Miss Spencer, of Roanoke, and to Miss Constance Berry. There will be sixteen guests.

Yellow Jackets Can Come Back; They Prove It

Defeat the Virginia Military Institute Eleven 28 to 7. Fumbles Cause V. M. I. Score.

The Tech Yellow Jackets proved Saturday that they can come back. They defeated the Virginia Military Institute football eleven by the score of 28 to 7, in a game that was more a series of fumbles than a football game.

The Alabama defeat of the Saturday previous was just as a prediction in these columns, the fact that the Jackets could not make them realize that football is a very dry game. Not only did they recover from that beating and fight to a victory Saturday, but they came from behind. The victory was at the end of the first half.

Tech tied the score in the third quarter, and in the fourth quarter put their team record in motion and swept everything before them, scoring three touchdowns in seven minutes actual playing time.

Costly Fumbles.—The Jackets really out played the V. M. I. boys in the first quarter, but they were not able to score. The cause of this was a series of fumbles that caused fumbling in the backfield. The Jackets were not able to make a touchdown.

The Jackets really saved the way to the only touchdown with the V. M. I. team. The Jackets were not able to make a touchdown. The Jackets were not able to make a touchdown.

By the Air Route Tar Heels Nose Out Vanderbilt Eleven In Fiercely Contested Game

Nashville, Tenn., October 24.—North Carolina defeated Vanderbilt in a fiercely contested football game Saturday afternoon in a closely fought football contest by a score of 19 to 7.

In the third quarter, when Vanderbilt was leading by a score of 7 to 0, the Commodore attempted a kick. The ball was blocked by Ramsey, of North Carolina, and rolled back of Vanderbilt's goal line, where Ramsey fell on it for a touchdown.

Vanderbilt's touchdown was made on a long run by Quarterback Carrow, followed by a forward pass to Ramsey, who scored. Both sides dropped-kicked a goal.

North Carolina outplayed Vanderbilt 19 to 7, in a muddy field. The Commodore repeated North Carolina's lead when they scored the goal.

The teams played up and down the field, kicking repeatedly. In the fourth quarter, North Carolina scored a touchdown, and Vanderbilt failed to score.

Time after time North Carolina drove the field for gain on forward passes, only to be stopped by Vanderbilt's defense. The Commodore repeated North Carolina's lead when they scored the goal.

TOURISTS TO GEORGIA

Thomasville, Ga., Oct. 34.—(Special.)—All indications point to a larger number of winter tourists to Georgia than this season has seen. All of the winter camps here will be occupied, their owners having signified their intention of coming out early, well ahead of the regular season, in order to keep houses. The hotels and resorts are also receiving inquiries looking for the season also.

The general impression seems to be that the winter season will be better than it was last year. It is expected there will spend the season in the south more than ever before, and that it will be a good share of the business.

with so much interest and enthusiasm that a special request was made that she be heard again.

An interesting feature in connection with the Thomasville Campfire is that it was the first organization of that order in the state, and it was also the first to federate. It was organized by Mrs. J. Scott Hunter in September, 1933, just six months after the organization of the National Campfire. It is due to the enthusiasm and execuability of Mrs. Hunter that this empire has proved such a success in every way and its work has been of a high character. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is very enthusiastic over the empire work and considers the conduct of the younger organizations into the federation as a matter of great desirability.

The exhibit from the Thomastown sewing class for "Cotton day" has been sent to Albany, and is a very interesting one. It includes rugs, bed-spreads, dresses and many other articles made from cotton. One article

October Annual Meeting

At this time interest of club women naturally centers on the annual meeting to be held in Albany, October 27-29, and in the Cotton exposition to be held at the same time.

The program of unusual interest, the noted speakers who will attend, and the splendid social features planned by the hostess club will make this meeting one to be remembered. Warm appreciation is due the many active factors that have contributed to the success of the convention and of the exposition.

The legal co-operation of the club women throughout the state has made the work of preparation and arrangement a delight. Mrs. W. C. Holt, president of the Albany Woman's club, asks that the delegates send their names to their respective hostesses promptly.

Each year we have to be reminded of many little details that are apt to be neglected. Credentials cards are sent out by the state president to every federated club. As soon as delegates and alternates are elected to represent the club, their names should be sent to the chairman of the committee on homes, who then notifies each delegate the name and address of her hostess. This is an invitation, and should be acknowledged promptly and definitely, stating over what road and at what hour you will reach the convention city.

Carry your credential card, properly signed and ready to present to the credentials committee at first opportunity. When your card is presented you will receive the official badge, program and invitations, and you are equipped to enjoy the meeting.

The federation was organized for the individual club, and a delegate, whether from the small or large club or from the state-at-large, should have the same privilege.

Each annual meeting brings some new situation to be handled. This year the number of young people and representatives from new clubs who are attending their first convention should be a matter of pride and interest. It is at these meetings that our best lessons are learned. Here we meet women from all over our state, and it should be our pleasure to help each other, and to do our part to weld together the women from distant communities, that they may do better work and gain a broader outlook. And, an inspiration to go to these gatherings and see the women of today giving themselves so generously with the spirit of helpfulness toward others. Most women are willing and want to do the right thing in the right way, and with this feeling women's work will progress.

It seems that we live, this year, more than ever before, giving to women opportunities for enlarged spheres. As we understand America must hereafter depend almost entirely upon her own resources. Women's clubs will study their own country and its problems more than ever before.

Atlanta Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian association, of Atlanta, has a membership of about 1,000 women and covers several departments of social service.

One of the best known, locally, and most appreciated features of its work is the maintenance of an association residence for the accommodation of business girls and those passing through our city. The residence has just been established in a new and permanent location within walking distance of the center of business. The home is handsome and commodious, a double brick apartment, lighted with electricity and heated with steam. Here 100 girls may have a safe, comfortable and happy home life under the care of a house director and house mother, who not only look after their physical wants, but create a real home atmosphere of culture and Christian love and influence.

The department of physical education, established for the purpose of giving the business girl to get the training for grace and strength, help to develop her well-rounded womanhood. The best possible instruction is given under the direction of a teacher and trainer who has had the advantage of the best scientific methods in her line of work. There are classes for matrons, teachers, industrial workers, girls, high school girls and children. The clubs for business young women combine physical training, social life, and classes and social good times. The association club is open to all young women coming to the city a stranger to meet new friends, earnest, established young women and to make new friends.

The educational department endeavor to make the association a university for women, providing cultural, social, and lecture courses. The association is maintained by the association in a very practical way. The employment secretary is in the office to help any girl who gives advice and assistance to those making information of any sort, and who comes to the association's office without any charge.

Public rooms, public lecture and Bible classes are open to all women, whether members of the association or not. Officers of the Association.

 Director of Savannah's Playgrounds makes address.

An admirable presentation of the playground movement, educationally considered, was given by Montague Gammon, director of Savannah's municipal playgrounds, at the October meeting of the Kindergarten club. Mrs. Gammon's lecture was an interesting and valuable program for the year on "Present and Future of Kindergarten in Education."

The Kindergarten club received with enthusiasm the proposal brought before it by Mrs. Gammon, to make the national movement to send boys on a Christmas ship to the children of the National Kindergarten college. Mrs. Gammon was chairman of a committee of the club which had been working on this project. The United States government has agreed to send a Christmas ship to the children of the National Kindergarten college. The club will be sending a Christmas ship to the children of the National Kindergarten college. The club will be sending a Christmas ship to the children of the National Kindergarten college.

Itinerary of Jackson's Route Through Georgia

Two papers have been one of the most important papers that has come into my hand as state editor to visit the itinerary of General Andrew Jackson's route through Georgia when on his way with his army to fight the Seminoles in 1818. These extracts below were taken from a letter which I received from Mrs. J. B. Hays, Milledgeville, Ga. (Government records).

Except from "Itinerary" of route located by Captain Hugh Young, assistant topographical engineer, General Andrew Jackson's army, 1818. This part of the report contains sketches of the route from Hartsville, Ga. to Fort Scott. From Hartsville to Fort Scott. HAVE SPENT $10,000.00

To give the people of Atlanta the most modern and completely equipped dental offices in the south. This has been my life ambition through a successful dental practice of 24 years. I believe I have achieved it, and I cordially invite your visit, your inspection and your patronage. E. G. GRIFFIN, D.D.S.

Arrangements Are Perfect

The arrangements of the new Gate City Dental Rooms are practically perfect. You enter the reception room done and furnished in mahogany, and are at once impressed by the soft and inviting color tones of ceiling, walls and velvet floor covering. There is no sign of operating room in sight. These are screened as effectively by opaque glass as if they were not in the same building. Every piece of furniture, every implement, everything, is new—absolutely new and clean. Adequate description in brief space is impossible. You must see to appreciate.

ATTRACTIVE RECEPTION ROOM IN DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S NEW GATE CITY DENTAL OFFICES.

ONE of the BRIGHT LIGHT AIRY and SANITARY OPERATING ROOMS. Not an instrument in sight.

My Great Faith In My Home City

It is my great faith in Atlanta, my home city, which has prompted me to go to this extraordinary expense at a time of well-known business depression. I have spent more than $10,000 to give Atlanta the best dental rooms in the south at a time when others are retrenching. I have done this because I know how to appreciate the Atlanta Spirit which has made Atlanta grow, and will continue to make it grow as no other city in the south. In my opinion, Atlanta and prosperity come pretty near being synonymous.

No Expense Spared

I have spared no expense to give you the best that modern dentistry affords. In fact, I have spent considerably more than $10,000 to do it.

I have provided a system of sanitation that is perfect; every instrument is sterilized immediately after use.

I have adopted the most approved and successful methods for the prevention of pain in all dental operations.

The operating rooms are light, airy and attractive. There is not a dental instrument in sight.

The reception room is as comfortable and attractive as the finest parlor. You are invited to come and see it.

No Advance in Prices

Notwithstanding the extraordinary expense to which I have gone, I have made no advance whatever in my prices. In fact some of them I have reduced.

That has never been a part of my plan which is only to give my patients the best in comfortable surroundings as I have always given, them the best in service.

My Special Prices are as follows:

$15 Gold Dust	Bridge Work, Per Tooth . . .	$4.00
Rubber Plates . . .	Teeth Filled . . .	50c Up
Regular $8 Plates . . .	Teeth Full or Partial . . .	$5.00
Gold Crowns	Painless Extraction . . .	50c

All other dental work in proportion. Examination, is Always FREE.

TOUTS NILED FREDDIE WELSH

Champion Has Signed for Bouts With Baldwin, Wolgast and White in That Order.

BY JAMES T. CORBETT.
(Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.)

New York, October 24.—(Special).—The newspaper lampooning Freddie Welsh and his manager have been subjected to practically every abuse the lightweight champion of the world returned to this country after winning the title has eternally served the purpose of its authors, as Welsh has booked a series of matches which will keep him busy in the ring for some weeks to come.

Freddie's first start will be with Matty Baldwin, the retired lightweight, twelve rounds in a decision in Boston next Tuesday night. Baldwin, who gave Welsh a good warm-up, and that is about all that is to be said of him, as he will find it pretty hard to maintain the pace Welsh will set for twelve rounds.

Baldwin and Freddie are not strangers in the ring by any means, having met twice before. The last time was in the bout which was the full twenty rounds, with Welsh winning by a knockout in the eighth round.

When Welsh was just beginning his sensational career he was only a sixteen-year-old boy, and then an experienced youngster of four years' service in the professional ring, and the thing was about even-stevens at the time.

It was one of those Philadelphia star-dust, adulation affairs, and Welsh was to depend greatly on his ring generalship to keep him out of trouble, and with Welsh he will find it no easy task to pull the old stall stuff, for Freddie is a wise bird, and will be right on top of the veteran from the first lap of the bell.

Welsh v. Wolgast.
Welsh's second trial may prove a harder task, still he has always managed to outpoint his slugs without any great effort. But in Ad Wolgast—need for ten rounds in the Madison Square Garden November 1—Welsh will meet a boy whose style differs materially from that of the average slugger, Ad's association is both punishment, and he is an artist at the close work. Welsh shows at the close work, with a lot of questionable stuff at close range, and Welsh's former champion is anything but a pushover, with however much he may move for ten rounds to avoid the danger.

After Wolgast it will be Charley White, the former champion, and the hardest battle of the lot, as he can outpoint Welsh in the close work, and the hardest battle of the lot, as he can outpoint Welsh in the close work, and the hardest battle of the lot, as he can outpoint Welsh in the close work.

Draw Big Crowd.
The bout with Wolgast at the garden should draw an immense crowd. It will interest the sports because it will be the old story of the boxer against the slugger, and that always appeals to lovers of the game. Wolgast, generally put up an interesting bout—he is always trying hard and that always pleases the fans even when not productive of much good. Welsh, on the other hand, will have to use everything in his box of tricks to avoid the onslaughts of the husky little Michigan, and his wonderful defense will be put to a severe test to enable him to come through the mill a victor.

But what most pleases me, and it PARTICULAR SMOKERS Can Always Find Their Favorite Cigars Here THE BIG HUMIDOR Keeps Them Fresh and Sweet BROWN & ALLEN Reliable Druggists Cor. Whitehall and Alabama

WINNER OF CHALMERS TROPHY

John J. Evers, winner of the Chalmers Trophy for 1914 in the National League, receiving an ovation upon the presentation of his Chalmers "Light Six" in Boston, Monday, October 12, just before the Braves' third victory over the Athletics. Evers is standing in front of the car, with his hand on the windshield. Beside the car, hat in hand, stands Ben Mulford, Jr., chairman of the Chalmers Trophy commission.

Johnny Evers Is Greatest Money Player in Game

By Ernest J. Langdon.
"Rip Van Winkle Was a Lucky Man," according to a popular song writer, but he had little on Johnny Evers, captain of the Braves, according to the records of the national commission. These show that the Keystone King has picked up something like $11,469 of extra money as his share of the players' pool from the receipts of the world's and Chicago city series. John has been in five sets of contracts for the world's title and the same number of Chicago series. The shares of the teams John was connected with from these series amounted to $248,110 and the Keystone King certainly got one-twentieth of this sum. Evers is a grand little money player. In the fall games, pitchers of the highest class, John had batted 231 in twenty-eight contests for the championships of the world and of the Windy City, getting the better of the hurler he stacked up against except at times, that the doctor, Winter, of the Tigers, and Wyckoff and Pennington, of the Athletics. It is questionable if any other major league player could have hit better than Evers against such high-grade pitching. He failed to single in a third of these will all fair-minded sports, is that new world's champion does not intend to dodge the boys who figure the most dangerous. In both the Wolgast and White bouts the clever little Welshman will have to be at his best to prove himself a worthy successor to Ritchie.

The latter boxer had a business-like way of going about his work in the ring, and he behaved Welsh to show his best form to earn the popular favor, that is, he behaved Welsh to show his best form to earn the popular favor, that is, he behaved Welsh to show his best form to earn the popular favor.

That is one of the penalties of being a champion. A title-holder is expected to take the initiative and to make good at it. The other fellow can stall all right, but the champion must make all the time to live up to his reputation.

CATTLE TICKS GONE IN CHATTOOGA COUNTY
Locally, Ga., October 24.—(Special).—According to an order of the board of county commissioners, the eradication of the cattle tick in Chattooga County will cease for the winter months on November 1. Much benefit has been derived from the work accomplished by the inspectors the past month. When the work was begun the ticks had a good headway and many cows were dying, but the quick work of the inspectors soon showed the epidemic was being checked. Dipping vats have been in operation over the county and the inspectors, with the cooperation of the cattle owners, have completely wiped out the cattle tick in this county.

FEDS ADJOURN.

Discuss Financial and Legal Matters at Meeting.

New York, October 24.—The annual meeting of the Federal league adjourned tonight.
"We spent the greater part of the day discussing financial and legal matters of a private nature," President Gilmore said afterwards. "I can say positively that the Federal league will continue its course with assurance given us today as to substantial financial backing. The league council regulars will meet at least season, but if it is found desirable to make a change the executive committee will attend to that and, if necessary, another general meeting will be convened."

President Gilmore said he had received a list of twenty-five major league players from "Larry" Schlarf of the Buffalo club, all of whom were reported to be willing to go over to the new organization.

Knight, Jr., J. E. T. Burdette, M. I. Bunn, Obe Olden and J. F. Taylor. The members of the Waycross commission are also going to attend the meeting as well as representatives of the city government.

BOATWRIGHT FOR HEAD OF VIRGINIA LEAGUE

Norfolk, Va., October 24.—The directors of the Virginia Baseball league in annual meeting here today re-elected J. C. Boatwright, of Danville, president and transferred the Roanoke franchise to Norfolk and decided to shorten the season two weeks.

1915 season will begin on April 25 and close on Labor day.
Mr. Boatwright was elected on the thirteenth ballot. A deadlock existed for over three hours and Burrows, of Norfolk, was leading until the thirteenth ballot.
Five names were balloted on before an election was made possible by the vote of the Portsmouth club changing from Cleve to Boatwright.

Powerful, Quiet, Simple. The Greatest Motor Car Value

The motor of the 1915 models is of the powerful Chevrolet valve-in-the-head type, with enclosed valves. The removable cylinder head gives instant access to valves and spark plugs; if necessary, pistons and connecting rods may be instantly removed through top of cylinders. The motor has brass-backed center and connecting rod bearings. Lubrication is especially efficient and positive. Individual oil pocket for each connecting rod dipper insure adequate lubrication at all times at these important points. The exhaust manifold, on the right side, is a single pipe outlet, and all back pressure is eliminated. The intake manifold is bolted to the left side of the head casting. Note the new specifications and then see and test for yourself this good car at a reasonable price.

which would greatly increase the volume of business.

Since the start of the fiscal Overland year in July, 11,400 cars had been shipped, up to and including October 15. This is an increase of 60 per cent over the shipments made during the corresponding period of last year, and is 60 per cent greater than those of two years ago.

"We submit these figures," declares John N. Willis, president of the company, "as tangible proof that in spite of the European war, the automobile business is better than ever."

"On October 18 the Willis-Overland company had on hand unfilled orders for $5,500,000 worth of Overland cars, or one-third again as many as we had the same date last year. This is in spite of the fact that our daily shipments are larger than ever before, averaging over 500 cars per day. A force of 5,000 men is working in our Toledo factory, where in many departments, we are operating twenty-four hours a day in an effort to keep pace with the increasing demand for cars.

"Another encouraging feature in the fact that we are now shipping a fourth of our cars to foreign countries. Although our foreign business was practically at a standstill shortly after the mobilization of troops in Europe, it has gradually become better, until today it is practically normal again. The increase in Overland sales in other foreign countries is doing much to compensate for our loss of trade in the troubled sections of Europe. In fact, July, our sales abroad amounted to 10 per cent of what they totaled during the same period last year.

"Considering the fact that shipments of cars to all the belligerent nations ceased entirely during August, this showing is highly gratifying.

"We attribute much of our recent success in the country to bumper crops and the large prices at which farmers have been able to sell their produce. Fully 40 per cent of all Overland cars are being made in the rural districts.

"The farmer has come to consider the motor car a practical necessity. The sale of automobiles continues today in spite of the war and the conditions it has created in America, because cars are bought on the same terms as before the necessary article.

"The doctors, merchants and men in all walks of business life are investing their money in automobiles for the profits that will accrue in the ownership of a car. The car that will give the business man the greatest return is the one that makes a direct appeal to the business man. If he did not get his money's worth in an automobile, he would put his dollars into something else.

PLAN BIG "FORD DAY" AT FOUR-COUNTY FAIR

One of the features of the Commerce Four-County fair, from October 24 to 28, will be Ford day. Wednesday, October 24, has been designated as the date on which the most popular used automobile ever built will be honored at the fair.

A mammoth parade through the streets of Commerce and to the fair grounds will be held, the same to be participated in by owners of Fords in all the territory of northern Georgia. Invitations have been extended to five hundred owners, and responses have already been made. The parade will be the assurance that you can trust the Ford car to help you make Ford day a success.

A special representative of the Ford company's mechanical department will be there to give a lecture on the "Care and Operation of Fords." He will tell how they are made, explain every piece of mechanism, how it operates and will tell everything that is worth knowing about the car.

WAYCROSS AUTO FIRE APPARATUS PROVES O.K.

Waycross, Ga., October 24.—(Special.) A fire on the edge of the city yesterday demonstrated to the city the value of the recent improvements to the fire department. A blaze that might have carried by the city's auto apparatus enabled the firemen to fight the fire, no water being within reach.

MRS. MILLER RECOVERS FROM EFFECTS OF GAS

Mrs. C. R. Miller, who has been seriously ill since Tuesday night from inhaling gas when asleep, is now rapidly recovering. Mrs. Miller left her room on Saturday and later went out, coming again and tilting the room. Physicians worked several hours before restoring consciousness. Complications set in afterwards.

CASTLE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SHOW IN CHICAGO

Harley-Davidson Motor Company Exhibit Proved Huge Success, He Says.

Gus Castle, manager of the southern branch of the Harley-Davidson Motor company, returned last week from Chicago, where he has been attending the third annual motorcycle show, which, from all reports, was a huge success. Speaking of the show, Mr. Castle states that it was a great show and a successful show, both in interest, attendance and display. "Only last year," he said, "the attendance of motorcycle dealers from all parts of the country, he said, 'judging from this attendance, one would hardly think there was any such thing as a war in the world.' The speakers given and the interest taken indicated that the motorcycle business from all over the country is expecting a boom in the coming year."

"The Harley-Davidson show, as far as our own exhibit was concerned, was a huge success. In all of the previous shows I have attended I never before saw such interest. Our booth was crowded from 10 in the morning until 10:30 at night, and the only way we could get the crowd out was to turn the lights off. It was the general verdict that the Harley-Davidson, in the 1915 models displayed, showed wonderful and marked improvement and the first three days of the show over 40,000 machines were sold by contract.

"The Harley-Davidson business during the past year closed with an increase over the previous year of 25 per cent, and in the Harley-Davidson field, very fortunately, was even better. It was the Chicago exhibit, which we have thought to be the best of the show, they are now on exhibit at 224 Peachtree street.

"We are showing cut-out sections of the three-speed, and cut-out sections of the new mechanical oiling device. Quite a number of people have called and examined our line, and we can only see prosperity and a big business ahead for the coming year. Orders on hand for immediate shipment exceed those of the same time last year by over 200 per cent. The war that business has started off for 1915, the proportionate gain will be very large."

BUICK TIES UP WITH FIVE OTHER MACHINES

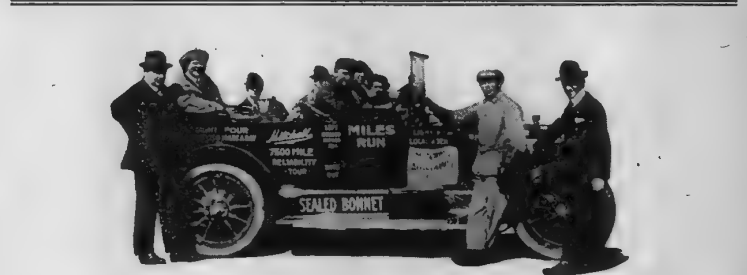

It Took Whim of Dame Fortune to Rob Buick in the Milwaukee Race.

In the contest for The Milwaukee Free Press trophy for the best reliability score, the Buick made a perfect score, and was tied with five others. In awarding this cup it was decided to engrave the names of the six cars tied for first place on the cup and draw lots for it. When it came to a matter of luck in the drawing, Dame Fortune did not smile on Emil Hokanson, the Buick driver. The cup went to Eddie Schank, who drove a Studebaker.

This score, however, only adds to an already long list of Buick victories and emphasizes the superiority of the Buick's mechanical motors and the quality of construction and design in lower, middle and upper price ranges and endurance.

Emil Hokanson, of the Hokanson Automobile company, Madison, Wis., was pilot of the Buick through several Wisconsin victories. He says it was not the driving, but the car that should have all the credit for winning and all the praise the spectators showed by their demonstrations that the Buick had their good wishes and loyalty during the run.

Note How Goodyears Dominate Every Street

Look About You—See How Men Regard Them

No need to tell you which tire serves best if you will simply look about you. Note how many men use Goodyears—men who want what you want. No other tire has ever won so many.

The quality tire—the sturdy tire—is told by this verdict of users. Men gravitate to it. And the trouble-savings which brought them will sometime bring you.

These Four are the most compelling reasons for using No-Rim-Cut tires:

They can't be rim-cut. Countless blow-outs—due to wrinkled fabric—are saved by our "On-Air" cure.

Loose tread risk is reduced 80 per cent in a patent way.

Punctures and skidding are combated, as in no other tire, by our double-thick All-Weather tread. Its efficient, smooth-running, enduring.

Not one of these features can be found in any other tire that's built.

Compel Respect

Goodyear tires compel respect. We spend fortunes on features which no one else employs. And we spend $100,000 yearly in tests and experiments, seeking new ways to improve them. We sell them at quantity prices.

Our methods must appeal to you. We urge you, for your own sake, to learn what they lead to. Find out what safety, what comfort, what endurance men are getting from Goodyear tires. Then let your judgment tell you which tire to adopt.

When you call for Good Year No-Rim-Cut tires you will get three like these. Any dealer will supply you.

Mitchell sealed bonnet seventy-five hundred mile thirty-day reliability car finished Pittsburg today in blaze of glory at twelve-ten, noon, front of Pittsburg Public Service Building. Speedometer registered 7,618.4 miles. Seals inspected and pronounced intact by Chief of Police Noble Matthews, Assistant Chief Bartley and two members of President Wilson's private bodyguard. Twenty-five Mitchell cars filled with representatives of Mitchell-Lewis Motor Co., Williams-Hasley Motor Car Co., newspaper, automobile and tire men. A tremendous ovation for this little car that has sustained every claim made by Engineer John W. Bate. Seals not broken. It would have been a shame. Engine was running more smoothly than day it left the factory. May send car to California before breaking seals. Drivers Hasley, Zirbes and Barnett cheered to the echo and in fine shape. Car will be special feature at Pittsburg Auto Show, in Mitchell booth. President Wilson's bodyguard, after seeing the Light Four, has selected a Mitchell Six for President Wilson's private car.

ELKS' CHARITY BALL WILL BE BIG EVENT

Elaborate Preparations Are Being Made for Carnival on November 23.

Amidst to help the poor of Atlanta who are suffering as a result of extensive industrial conditions, Atlanta Lodge, No. 73, P. O. E. will begin this week making elaborate preparations for a charity ball and carnival to be held at the home on East Ellis street on November 23.

In common with nearly 1,500 sister lodges throughout the country, the local branch has always exerted its utmost efforts to make Christmas cheerful for as many as possible of those who would otherwise face a dreary holiday season. Investigation by members of the order has shown that extremely numerous work must be done this year.

Letters will be sent out within the next few days to the 1,234 Elks here asking them to help make the carnival and dance a success. It is the proceeds from the affair will go direct to the Elks' charity fund, which will be distributed personally by a committee of well-known women.

The subject was discussed last night by the Elks' lodge. The committee will be made up of Mrs. J. M. Stinson and Mrs. J. M. Stinson. The committee will be made up of Mrs. J. M. Stinson and Mrs. J. M. Stinson. The committee will be made up of Mrs. J. M. Stinson and Mrs. J. M. Stinson.

Carnival features will include a large fire, which is expected to be the largest in the city. The fire will be held at the home of the Elks' lodge. The fire will be held at the home of the Elks' lodge.

Useful Garment Sack Designed by Frohnsin Aids Cotton Situation

A clever and unique—not to mention the usefulness of helping the cotton situation has been designed by Frohnsin, the women's store at 36 Whitehall street.

It is in the shape of a big garment sack, made of cotton from Georgia fields. As a respect for keeping clothing clean and dry, it will be used in delivering bales, wads, and other heavy goods.

The following inscription has been printed along its surface: "The idea of cotton garment sacks was conceived by Frohnsin, who is a practical way to help relieve the cotton situation. It is a useful and durable. It is a useful and durable. It is a useful and durable."

MAISON JUDGE HARD ON "WEARY WILLIES"

Macon, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—There were ten hoboes, eight of them from before Judge Robert J. Jones this morning, all of them charged with the crime of being "weary willies."

One man told Judge Rogers that he was a "weary willie" because he was tired of being a "weary willie."

Metamorphoses. Guest (departing)—You had better get used to it, for you'll be in it in no time.

Rural Life to Be Discussed By Club Women at Convention

A great deal of interest is centering in the question of the rural life of the club women will hold during their conventions. Its purpose is to bring the message of the federation to the women of the rural districts through the home and school improvement clubs.

Mrs. Eugene Heard, chairman of the rural district of the federation, has asked Miss Celeste Parish, state supervisor of the rural district of the federation, to make an exhaustive study of rural conditions, and wishing to estimate all agencies now working for rural betterment under different divisions.

"My committee has given much thought to the forces and agencies that are at work in bringing about a new rural society and it seems that it is to be largely a question of guidance. The organization of the home and school improvement clubs is what we need."

Questions of Guidance. "I recently attended a meeting of the women of the Elks' lodge, and after hearing the reports, I realized as never before the need of rural social centers, places where persons may naturally meet and work together."

MASONS AT MACON FOR ANNUAL MEET

Twenty-Eighth Annual Convention Will Convene on Next Tuesday.

Macon, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—The year of the Masons of Georgia was now centered on Macon, for the twenty-eighth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, P. O. E., will be held in this city during the coming week, beginning Tuesday and continuing for several days, depending on the weather or not it is possible to complete all of the business in two days.

The gathering is the most important one each year in Masonic circles, and it is anticipated that fully 1,500 delegates and delegates will be in attendance, including many others. Many of the delegates will bring their wives, and the fact that the railroad has offered extremely low rates is expected to act as an offset to the present financial stringency, which would probably have kept many away if they had to stand the expense of a full railroad fare.

Grand Master R. L. Colting of Savannah will make the latter half of the official headquarters and the Atlanta lodge will make the latter half of the official headquarters.

Corn and Canning Show At Ashburn Is Argument For Diversified Crops

Ashburn, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Fully 1,000 people who saw the exhibit of the corn and canning clubs of Turner county at the Ashburn fair, were the first to see the exhibit.

The first prize of a scholarship to the University of Georgia was awarded to the members of the girls' canning club, was awarded to Elma Brown, of Bryansburg district. For the best exhibit, Bertha Lee Harris, of Hobbs district, took second prize, $5, given by the Ashburn bank. The best exhibit of the boys' canning club, was won by Luis M. Harris, of Hobbs district. Olla Strickland, of Ashburn district, who also showed four different kinds of fruits and vegetables, won the first prize.

Thursday was home day at the fair, and several hundred Romans, including the Roman legion, were present. The Roman legion, which was present, was the Roman legion, which was present.

BRUNSWICK OPPOSES TAKING OFF TRAINS

Brunswick, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—A joint meeting of the transportation committee and the directors of the board of trade was held at the board's quarters yesterday morning for the purpose of taking up a petition of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway to discontinue all of its short trains between Brunswick and Tallahassee.

Officials of the Brunswick and Tallahassee railway, who had been present at the meeting, had been present at the meeting, had been present at the meeting.

"CROSS-CONTINENT WALK FOR $15,000"

LaGrange, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Tom D. Turner passed through LaGrange the last of this week on his way to San Francisco. He is scheduled to be completed by the 25th of November in Savannah.

The walk was attempted by Mr. Turner upon a wager of $15,000 and some side bets and advertising. He stated that if he is successful in eating his "Thanksgiving Turkey" he will earn something like $15,000.

GORDON COUNTY FAIR WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Calhoun, October 24.—(Special.)—Today brought to a close here the largest and best fair in the history of Gordon county. The fair, which has been put forth by the management for the purpose of having the most extensive fair yet held here, and every one who visited the fair was well satisfied with the success, and especially so with the success of the fair.

REWARD OFFERED FOR MURDERER OF GREEK

Brunswick, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—A reward of $100 has been offered by Governor Hightower for the person who robbed and murdered James "Doc" Brunwick on August 20th. The reward was offered by Governor Hightower for the person who robbed and murdered James "Doc" Brunwick on August 20th.

WAREHOUSE OPENED IN BLACKSHEAR

Waycross, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—An aid to the farmers who want to store their cotton and hold it for better prices, a cotton warehouse has been opened in Blackshear in Pike county. The warehouse will open for business shortly. It appears that plenty of warehouse space will be available for those desiring to keep their cotton off the market.

GA. ELKS WILL FORM STATE ASSOCIATION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Macon, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—An association of the state of the Elks lodge of Georgia will be organized in Macon next Wednesday night, this being done with the sanction of the grand lodge. Several years ago Georgia had a flourishing state association and large conventions were held annually. However, at that time the state associations had no affiliations with the grand lodge and so a regular state association was not organized.

There will be delegates from every lodge in the state to the meeting here Wednesday and splendid entertainment will be provided by the local lodge. The following have been named officially to represent the Macon lodge: C. R. Wright, R. C. Jordan and J. Z. Nyman.

ARMY WORM INVADES CHATTAHOOCY FIELDS

Waycross, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—The millions of cotton caterpillars, or army worms, has made its appearance in Chattahooccy county, and the worms have appeared thick and when a cotton field is invaded all the cotton is destroyed.

No Claim to Sympathy.

"I have seen it so hot that you could fry an egg on the pavement."

"Well, you surely don't expect sympathy for that kind of a tale. A man who has seen it so hot that you could fry an egg on the pavement deserves to suffer."

WHAT IS A TRADING STATEMENT?

It should be designed to show the Gross Profits on trading. That is, the excess of the amount charged for goods sold over their purchase price, together with any expenses attendant on their acquisition. A grocery firm, for instance, prepares a Trading Statement at the end of the year to show what it has made or lost by selling goods. In preparing such a statement the services of a Certified Public Accountant are valuable in locating leaks and tightening loose joints.
