SAVANNAH SOCIAL NEWS

Savannah, Ga., November 28.—(Special.)—This week marked the beginning of social activity here. The annual dance of the Savannah Club gave its first dance at the Hotel Savannah Wednesday evening. The Harmonie club gave its annual Thanksgiving dance the same evening. The Cotillion club will take place next week.

The officers and ladies of the past gave a dance at Fort Stevens this evening, among those invited from the city being Colonel and Mrs. Langstaff, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wood and their guests, Mrs. Charles Dufosse, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Wills Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordon, Lieutenant and Mrs. L. B. Marquardt, Misses Josephine Clark, Elizabeth Jordan, Pleasant Stovall, Josephine Kew, and Miss Winters. Delia Lindsay, Helen Dixon, Marie MacDonell, Charles Maclean, George Maclean, Catherine Jones, Miss Waring, Lucien Lee, Thomas W. Harper, Sam and Will Cannon, Sanford Wood, Percy Huger, R. T. Waller Jr., and Lieutenant G. S. Foster, U. S. N. Miss Josephine Johnston entertained with a small tea Monday afternoon for Mrs. Pleasant A. Stovall, wife of the American minister to Switzerland, who has been visiting friends here this week. Mrs. William Gerard, of whom Mrs. Stovall was staying, also entertained for her with an afternoon reception, and many smaller parties have been given for her.

Mrs. Horace A. Crane has sent out invitations for a card party, Mrs. Averill Crane, who, before her marriage two weeks ago, was Miss Ellen Hansell, of Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Crane went to Havana on their wedding trip and have just returned. For Miss Pleasant Stovall, Miss Gertrude Brigham entertained with bridge Monday afternoon. The guests included chiefly the debutantes and some of the young society set. In the party were Misses Mary Schell, Katherine Kaithehn Hewitt, Cynthia Parle, Helen Lee, Virginia Davis, Pauline Kaithehn Hewitt, Josephine Clark, Josephine Kew, Annie Lynch, Elizabeth Gordon, Dorothy Carter, Edith Bryant, and Miss Campbell. Several young people were entertained by Miss and Mr. Campbell this evening. A red cross ball will be given December 1st. The Margaret Bottoms circle for the Epworth League will give a Christmas party at the Hotel Savannah. Among those invited were Misses Mary Schell, Edith Bryant, Leona Greer, Elizabeth Taylor, Ellen Knox, Gladys Cassala, Jean Cunningham, Elizabeth Parle, Mary Marshall, Mary Gordon, Marion Connor, Daisy Gordon, Clifford Owens, Elizabeth Steele and Henry Harvey Grouser, Jr., Beverly Kelley, Howard Brooks, Frank Brooks, Henry Field, Hayden Van Dine, Wilton Lader, Edwin Corbin, Marion and Harry Means, Lamar Baker, Randall Wistar, Edward Seabrook, Frederick S.

Distinct Advantages We Afford You In the Economical Purchase of Appropriate and Lasting Gifts

Have you ever considered the many, many advantages we offer to buyers of holiday gifts?

We don't mean just a casual thought of gold jewelry and silver being desired by the recipients; but in a serious, critical, investigative sort of way.

Gifts from a jeweler's stock don't cost any more (or as much) as the tawdry, perishable, bizarre, inferior and unworthy wares which many people hurriedly buy at the last moment from other shops.

In our stocks suitable gifts can be purchased at prices ranging from 20 cents upward.

Gifts from our store are of a permanent character. They combine usefulness, beauty and low prices.

Of St. Louis, who is the charming guest of Mrs. W. W. Aswell.

Wedding Party Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Akers entertained the Akers-Salter wedding party Tuesday evening at supper after the church rehearsal for the wedding.

The guests were seated at a round table in the center of which was a large basket filled with pink roses. The salads, soups and cakes were heart-shaped, and all details were pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole's Crystal Wedding.

A beautiful event of the past week was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Poole on Thursday evening in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary.

The reception was given at their handsome country home, Ovidia, on the Cherokee road.

The room was elaborately decorated throughout the house. The mantels throughout the house were decorated with ferns and white roses, and baskets of white roses were placed on the mantels. The room was decorated with ferns and white roses, and baskets of white roses were placed on the mantels.

An orchestra furnished a beautiful musical program during the evening. Mrs. Poole was handsomely gowned in white, and the guests were seated at a round table in the center of which was a large basket filled with pink roses.

Coat Season Is at Hand—Coats are Here

Attention now centers on the weather. With unerring sureness there will be much rain and a goodly amount of cold during the winter which is just beginning.

We illustrate two Coats which show the splendid style of our

Plush Coats

These indicate clearly why we are doing such a large coat business.

There is style, finish and character in every line. Behind this is the reason—we insist upon the manufacturer using plenty of material (and it takes a lot of it) to give the correct full flare, generous facings, deep cuffs, wide belts and big, comfortable collars—we demand careful hand workmanship—we insist upon lustrous linings, which make a rich appearance when the coat is thrown open.

The models illustrated are new ones just received.

BOYS' HIGH DEFEATS TECH HIGH ELEVEN

In Greatest Prep Game of the Year on Thanksgiving by Score of 3 to 0—Scott's Drop Kick Wins Game.

Stepping calmly back from the mass of players, Alfred Scott sent one of the most beautiful drop kicks ever punted off in the city, straight through the bars for the lone score that spoiled victory for the Tech high eleven and defeat for the Tech high aggregation in their annual encounter on Thanksgiving day morning out at Grant field.

The game not only was a defeat, but it meant the losing of the prep championship of the city as well as the fortunes of the two teams throughout the season's play. The Tech high eleven, after a series of reverses, had won the game last year, and the boys' high team, who had won the championship of the city, had been defeated by the Tech high eleven in the previous year. The game was a hard-fought one, with both teams showing excellent play. The boys' high team, however, was able to hold their own against the Tech high eleven, who were the favorites to win.

SEMINARY GIRLS AID UNFORTUNATES

By Fitting Out Baskets of Good Things for the Home for Incurables on Thanksgiving Day.

The whole school seemed to be pervaded by the spirit of the giving for the original children of the home for incurables. The girls of the seminary, who are known for their good deeds, have been busy preparing baskets of food and other necessities for the home. The baskets are being distributed to the home on Thanksgiving day. The girls are very proud of their work and are looking forward to the day when they can see the baskets being used by the children of the home.

Doubling the Income Tax

(From The St. Paul Pioneer Press.)
The British exchequer, in its budget, has announced that the income tax will be doubled. This means that the rate of the tax will be increased from 10 to 20 percent. The government is very proud of its work and is looking forward to the day when it can see the money being used by the children of the home.

Napoleon's Tax on Tobacco

(From The London Chronicle.)
Napoleon tried to smoke once, and then he was so much impressed by the French tobacco monopoly, which the emperor had established, that he decided to adopt a law as cigarette as a consolation for the loss of his empire.

GEORGIA BRANCH National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations OFFICERS OF CONGRESS.

President—Mrs. Howard A. Payne, 1111 Peachtree St. N.E., Atlanta.
Vice President—Mrs. Little M. Little, 1111 Peachtree St. N.E., Atlanta.

To advocate the mother that she may, in turn, better serve the community and the state in which she lives, seems to be the conclusion of students of education. It is gratifying to notice how forces are steadily aligning and joining hands with our congress to raise the ideals of the present and coming generation. For it is our object to center the whole interest around the home and the child. The child of today is surely the parent of tomorrow.

The University of Maryland, through its extension department, is beginning to offer for the education of the home a course in home management. This course includes the care and feeding of babies and children. The course is very well equipped and is looking forward to the day when it can see the money being used by the children of the home.

The state boards of health of many states are doing valuable work in preparing and publishing bulletins in current languages on the care of the baby. The mothers of their respective states are very proud of their work and are looking forward to the day when they can see the money being used by the children of the home.

The Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. Howard Payne is president, is very active in its work. The association is very proud of its work and is looking forward to the day when it can see the money being used by the children of the home.

90 WESTERN RAILWAYS FACE LABOR QUESTION

Differences Between Roads and 55,000 Employees Are to Be Arbitrated.

Chicago, November 28.—The differences of ninety-eight western railroads with 55,000 employees will be taken up here Monday by the board of arbitration and mediation and conciliation. The country will be turned upon the hearing, brought about by the intervention of President Wilson last spring, after the men and their employers had failed to agree.

The men will be represented by a committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Men. The employers will be represented by the National Labor Relations board. The arbitration will be held at the New York City hotel. The board of arbitration will be composed of three members, one from each of the two labor organizations and one from the employers. The board will be asked to settle the differences between the two sides. The board will be asked to settle the differences between the two sides. Youngster Sets Hot Pace For Veterans in Big Race

For a youngster like Irving Janke, of Milwaukee, to win with ease in a big race against such men as Doc Kiser, M. G. (Washburn) Baker, L. P. Hughes, C. P. Pionas, Arthur Chappell, Robert (Smiling) Boyer, Harry Glenn (Silver) Boyd, "Bill" Armstrong, Alva Stratton, Ray Wehmar, Paul (Doc) Watson, Masters, Jones and Earl Seader was one of the features of the Milwaukee day race at Okauchee, which won the admiration not only of the veterans mentioned here, but of all the other thirty-two racing stars who participated in the second annual classic over the Vanderbilt cup course.

Janke is only in years of age yet he is one of the best road riders in the city which bears the distinction of being the home of the Harley-Davidson as well as being famous for other things.

With his teammate, Eddie D. Kelly, of Savannah, leading the first five laps, Janke did not start until Kelly had to stop in the sixth lap on account of having missed his spark plug. Then young Janke dropped up to third position.

The seventh lap brought him around in the lead, after passing Joe Wolters and L. L. Wilcox on the back stretch. Janke maintained his lead the eighth lap and then had spark plug trouble, necessitating a stop. Kelly, who had been in the lead, took the lead in the ninth lap with new plugs and led in the eighteenth lap when he went off the course, sustaining the injury which caused his death the following day.

The service speed made by the Milwaukee youngster melted spark plugs as fast as they could be put in. The veteran riders said they had never seen such speed on the road for such a young chap. Janke made four stops for spark plug changes in addition to the trouble which he had in the last lap. The record of the race was set by Janke, who won the race in 5 hours 2 minutes 32 seconds. His achievement of breaking the lap record on the twenty-seventh and final lap was another honor carried off by the fast young man, that was the talk of the other racers. After making five stops and getting the checkered flag for his last lap, the Harley-Davidson team captain determined to give the spectators something of an idea of the terrific speed stirred up in the gray machines from Milwaukee.

He set a pace which all of the other road-burners declared was the fastest they had ever seen on the road with a stock machine. He rode the last 11 1/2 miles of the 20 1/2-mile course in 2:38. This is at the rate of 54 1/2 miles an hour, a record which was not broken until two laps made in less than 2:30. The record for the entire race was set by Janke, who won the race in 5 hours 2 minutes 32 seconds. Ray Wehmar, who was second in the race, was 1:38, only 1 second slower than the record of Seales in the final lap of the race.

PROPER CARE OF TIRES DECLARED IMPORTANT

Look After All Minor Injuries,
Urges Official of Firestone Company.

"Many motorists do not realize the importance of prompt attention to small cuts or injuries in their tires," says J. Greenwood, manager service department Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. "It is especially important at this time of the year, that this warning be heeded."

"A cut in the tread or cover of the tire has a tendency to expand when that part of the tire is in contact with the road. This permits mud, grit, pebbles and other foreign matter to lodge in the opening. When the injured part of the tire is relieved of the weight of the car, the foreign matter which has accumulated acts as a wedge, and with each revolution of the wheel this foreign matter is forced further and further between the cover and fabric, not infrequently completely separating them."

If this separation of the tread and fabric is neglected for any length of time it is often necessary to apply a new cover. If the fabric is in very good condition, this can generally be done in a very satisfactory manner; but new much exposed and trouble can be saved by prompt attention when the cut is first made."

Examine your tires carefully at regular intervals, and especially after long trips. Tacks, stones or any other matter which may have become imbedded in the tread should be removed before any serious damage is done. Wash away all mud to permit a thorough examination of the tire.

By the use of "Cure-Out" or similar preparations intended for emergency use, a small cut, puncture or snag can be healed and thus prevent them growing and becoming serious. Large cuts or injuries should be vulcanized at once by an experienced and competent repair man."

NEW HIGHWAY ROUTE CHICAGO TO FLORIDA

H. M. McDermid Takes Charge of Preliminary Work for Project.

Latest among the good roads projects announced in this country is a new route from Chicago to Jacksonville. The movement for this north-to-south highway was launched by W. S. Gilbreath, secretary of the Hooper Motor club, at the recent Good Roads congress held in Atlanta, and the proposal was so enthusiastically received, and endorsed by the state officials of Georgia that no time was lost in doing the preliminary work in connection with the route.

To route the highway was the task assigned to H. McDermid, district manager of the Empire Automobile company. Driving a new 1915 Empire touring car, the route-blazing party left for the south on November 24. The route taken, by through Indianapolis, Louisville, Chattanooga, Macon, Atlanta, to Jacksonville.

There had been such an increase between the middle western states and Florida in the past few years, that the route selected is by far the most profitable for the proposed road. The name of the new road is still undecided. The Centurion Belt Route and "The Dixie Way" have been suggested, but the final decision will be left to the governors of the states through which the highway leads.

Dozier's Hand Badly Cut.

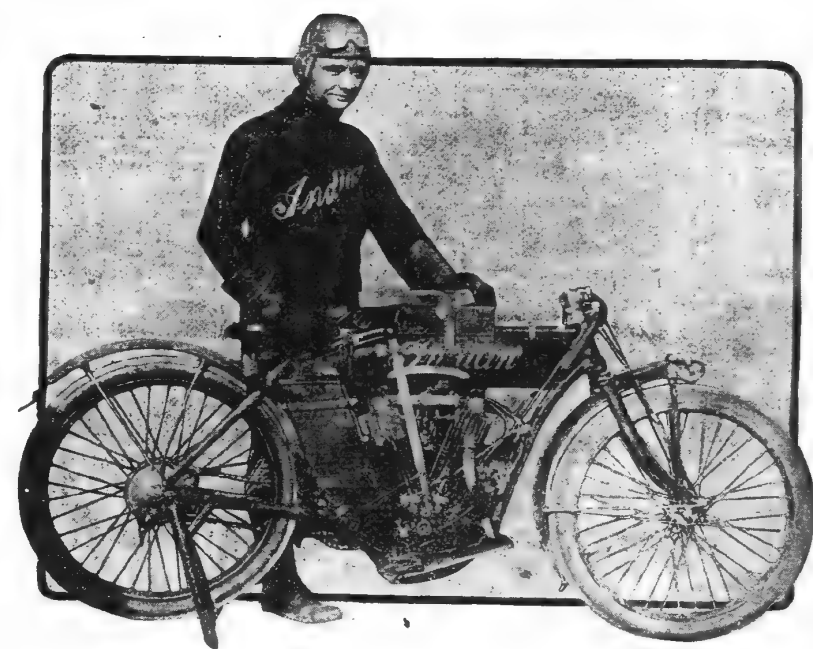

LaGrange, Ga., November 23.—(Special)—Miles Dozier, of LaGrange, but formerly of Shaliman, happened to a peculiar and painful accident yesterday afternoon when he was placing a cork in a large milk bottle and pressed too hard. The bottle split and his hand was severely cut by the sharp pieces of glass that were left standing upright. It was necessary for Dr. Dozier to have several stitches taken in the wound and he will not be able to use his left hand for several weeks.

CHAMPIONS OF THE SOUTH FOR 1914 SEASON

Auto Business Suffered Less Since War Than Any Other Line

made the following statements at the annual meeting of the American Bank

"Banks and bankers should encourage the proper use of automobiles. A first a machine for pleasure only, it rapidly taking its place, among the necessities of our fast moving civilization. The making of an automobile sets back into immediate circulation practically all of its cost. Figure now before me show that the automobile business has suffered less depression since July than almost any other line."

Due to the fact that the automobile industry has been the backbone of the American economy, it is not surprising that the industry has been the target of many attacks. In the past, the industry has been accused of being a monopoly, of being a cartel, and of being a source of pollution. In the future, the industry may be accused of being a source of global warming. Despite the fact that the industry has been the target of many attacks, it has continued to grow and to prosper. This is due to the fact that the industry has been able to adapt to changing circumstances. In the past, the industry has been able to adapt to changes in technology, in government regulation, and in consumer demand. In the future, the industry may be able to adapt to changes in global climate. The automobile industry is a resilient industry, and it is likely to continue to grow and to prosper in the future.

History of the industry and the Buick Motor company enjoyed such prosperity. Better than 17,000 1916 Buicks have been sold in the United States. More than 15,000 orders for fall delivery had to be refused. The months of November and December will show more Buicks built than have usually been built in the months that are supposed to be busier ones.

As a man thinketh, so is he; the country, as a whole, this state as a unit, and my own territory is better.

off today than it has been 1 year ago. One does not need to delude himself into feeling that there is trouble impending. Get busy and think. Think of our own condition, our state's condition and the condition of the nation. Clear thought will brush away your worry bugs, will poison your fear insects and give you a chance to see that you and all of us, the whole United States, are in a bad way.

On The Constitution Firing Line With the Commercial Travelers Some of the Live Men Who Have Put Atlanta on the Map As South's Leading Market Place for Southern Merchants

Brief Sketches of Ten of Atlanta's Biggest Wholesale Houses and Manufacturing Concerns, and Some of the Men Who Have Made Them.

Brown, Perryman & Greene Company.

Just as Atlanta has, as a whole, developed its commercial strength on the basis of the cotton trade, so the southern buyer has secured practically every article desired right here at the home market.

Merchants have long since found that it was not necessary to go beyond the confines of this city to buy all that was desirable in a line of hats and shoes, and consequently with the very necessary adjunct line—umbrellas and gloves.

No company in the south is better equipped or has a larger clientele for these goods than the Brown, Perryman & Greene Co.

Following a reorganization seven or eight years ago the largest dealer in the city in this line has evolved this strong company. For the past few years it has been a force to be reckoned with in the number of capable, courteous and wide-awake men who have been making the line into every state in the south into a center of credit and business in these states.

W. Brown, the president, is a trained salesman, himself having spent a number of years on the road. As the head of his company, he not only takes himself busy with the details, but he and his company are always round galling for the larger and better things for Atlanta and the south.

A. J. Greene, secretary and treasurer, is perhaps one of the best known men to the southern trade. While his duties naturally confine him to the house much of his time, still he can be found out and among his customers at various intervals, and as a traveler he is always ready to go. The company's big force can do down-hill business, but it is the company's treasurer.

Regular will in touch with its customers and keeping abreast always of the times as to what is wanted, up-to-date styles, a large stock and right prices, every want and requirement in the hat and cap line is met by the company.

The company is particularly proud of the opportunity it has to serve its patrons in their selection of gloves and umbrellas. Here, these men, whose quantities and not being burdened with the details of a thousand and one things which have to be sold in stock by some merchant, the company is in a better position to devote confidential and ample to its line of hats and caps, and department. These buyers are expected to be satisfied, and the company has become almost as famous for its service as for its goods and prices.

The company occupies practically all of the big building at the corner of Pryor and Denney streets. It is necessary to take care of the large stock, always on hand. It is every other big wholesale in the city that are expecting a number of customers and patrons to visit the city next week and at no place as this visitors find a cheerier welcome than at the Brown, Perryman & Greene Co.

A. M. Robinson Co.

Chief among Atlanta's leading wholesale and jobbing houses stands the A. M. Robinson Co., which has been in existence three years ago—in 1911—to be exact—has grown into one of Atlanta's most substantial of her many big commercial enterprises.

The founder of the company, A. M. Robinson, was one of the leading merchants and citizens of the city for many years. Just the type of man whose brains and energy have co-operated with other business men to make Atlanta the city she is today—the metropolitan of the south. Since then, several years ago, the business has passed into the hands of other business men, and the leading spirit today is Robinson, who is a worthy son of a worthy father.

The company is now the president of the company, and the success of the company in this wholesale house has been due to business sagacity and to the skill of its chief executive.

Mr. Robinson, perhaps one of the best known men in Atlanta, has been secretary and treasurer of the A. M. Robinson company since its organization, many years ago.

Following the company's former quarters, the company moved, several years ago, into its present, spacious building at 141 North Pryor street. The present house was built especially for it, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

Originally the company started as a jobbing house only. Now it is not only one of the city's big jobbers, but has added a line of manufactured goods which has proved more and more successful in the past few years. Hardly a merchant in this line that does not know and handle "Aragon" shirts, made by the manufacturer of the same name and as the best laundered shirt on the market today. A separate line, covering several thousand feet of floor space in the store, is devoted to the sale of these shirts, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

In the beginning only a few or eight traveling men were employed. Now, however, the company has a large staff of the south's brightest and best salesmen, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

The goods of the A. M. Robinson company are sold throughout the entire south, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

McClure Ten-Cent Co.

From a small beginning in the year 1901, the McClure Ten-Cent Co. has in the past few years become one of the largest and best known of the city's big ten-cent stores.

The store is a big, modern building, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

The store is a big, modern building, and the company has since then been in the city, and the company has since then been in the city.

Boys' Big Corn Show Next Week, With Reduced Railroad Rates, Offers Fine Opportunity for Southern Merchants to Visit the Gate City.

With troops of farmer boys swarming into the city on every train, and with merchants and business men from every point in Georgia, and railway authorities have issued the following show, which they will hold in Atlanta during the show a large number of guests.

Among them will be hundreds of merchants who will take advantage of the Corn show to attend an event of the big amount of trading done in the city, and the big amount of trading done in the city, and the big amount of trading done in the city.

The Corn show is a fine opportunity for Southern merchants to visit the Gate City.

AN INVITATION

By the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association

TO ALL GEORGIANS

AND RESIDENTS OF ADJOINING STATES

The Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association, The Chamber of Commerce, The Rotary Club and The Ad Men's Club, all of Atlanta, join in this invitation to every resident of Georgia and adjoining states, to bid you be present and enjoy to the fullest measure the extensive preparations we have made for your entertainment during the happy, frolicsome days of December, 1914.

The Hog and Hominy Carnival, The Boys' Corn Show, The Girls' Canning Club, The Grand Carnival Street Parade, The Carnival Ball and the Merry Christmas Shopping Throngs will make the welkin ring. Atlanta will be no place for "kill-joys" nor "gloom-spreaders" during these days of fun and frolic. So, throw off the cares of the past few months, put the good wife and children aboard an Atlanta-bound train and realize once more that "things are brighter than they seem." Come out of your shells and be "human" these Yuletide days, and you will go home a better and happier man.

Georgia's Great Corn Show AND EXHIBIT OF THE GIRLS' CANNING CLUB

Will prove a liberal education to every man and woman who would learn a real practical lesson from present cotton conditions. In past years these exhibits have interested the "youngsters." This year they will prove doubly interesting to the "grown-ups." Every mother's son and daughter of you Corn Club Boys and you Canning Club Girls should make it your business to bring at least one "grown-up."

The Varied Xmas Displays of Retail Stores

Will add a great measure of delight to this carnival occasion. Practically every store in Atlanta will be in holiday dress to welcome the thousands of visitors. Special displays are being made by all the merchants that you may have large and augmented stocks for easy selection. It is a golden opportunity for you. Special rate arrangements have been made with all railroads leading into Atlanta. This rate is established at one fare and twenty-five cents for the round trip from any point within 200 miles of Atlanta. Ask your agent about it.

STUPENDOUS CARNIVAL FEATURES

Who Will Be Queen of the Carnival?

This question now has all of Atlanta "guessing." Twelve of Atlanta's most popular debutantes are nominated, and no one will know who will wear the crown and the royal robes until Wednesday, December 2.

There will be twenty-three Maids of Honor with their escorts, all in special costume.

A Scintillating Street Pageant

Will open the carnival feature of this great event on Thursday afternoon, December 3. There will be a hundred or more specially designed and decorated moving attractions. Every Atlanta military organization will participate, and there will be a thousand or more maskers on foot. There will be music and fun galore, and the masking and fun will continue far into the night while the Queen's Ball is in progress.

The Queen's Ball—1,000 Masked Dancers

The great Auditorium has been engaged for this affair, which will take place on the night of Thursday, December 3.

The Queen will be crowned at 9 p. m. and then lead the Grand March. From her elevated throne, surrounded by her Maids of Honor, she will review the newest dances as exemplified by professional Terpsichorean artists.

Tickets to this Grand Ball can be secured through the Merchants of Atlanta, or by addressing Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association, 504 Chamber of Commerce Building, Atlanta.

This Great Event

Is the forerunner of Atlanta's Annual Carnival. Anybody who enjoys a good time cannot afford to miss it.

Make up a carnival party and come to Atlanta for a good and profitable visit. Decide right now to do this thing.

The merchants on the opposite page comprise the membership of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association. Each and every one of them extends to you a most cordial welcome and the fullest courtesy of their stores while in Atlanta. They are all splendidly ready to receive you and will do so in the true "holiday spirit" way.

A CHARMING VISITOR

white and blue gown rich in an embroidery of crystals. Miss Jessie M

The happy affair of this week was the funeral in honor of Mrs. Lovick Longino and Miss Coe, which was officiated by the Rev. Mr. W. J. Cranston and Willits at the home of the former. At the door of the funeral home a large number of guests gave their aid. The service was held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Reid, a ward erected by Miss Alice Carrington, both of whom are culpably drowned in Oriental whaler. The Rev. Mr. W. J. Cranston, Willits, Longino and Miss Nettie Coe, who became Mrs. Coe by marriage, were the officiating clergy on the occasion. The wedding of Miss Nettie Coe is to be held at the home of John Sibler, which took place at

Baptist church on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. was the center of social attention. This affair was artistically arranged and decorated with green and pink tapers, the chancel was sitting background for so sweet and rare an occasion. Mrs. Wister Ritchie, the organist, played many of the best selections before the bridal party arrived. Mr. Charlie Conn sang "I Love You Only" just before the march. The bridesmaids were Mrs. J. W. Langston, Leo Joseph, Malcolm Fleming and Wister Ritchie, entered first, followed by four little girls wearing the bride carrying white. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, and brother, Mr. Edson Stemberger. Harold Stemberger pronounced them husband and wife in a very impressive manner. The couple left immediately for a trip to Florida. Miss Mae Stemberger entertained a party of friends last evening recently at a chafing dish party.

And, with Miss Allen, carrying the cash, were Misses Clara and Orlene, Orelia Fleischer, Sara Allen and Katherine Jewell. Miss Mary Sibbey, of Miss Florence Allen, bridesmaids, stood in beautiful gown of white with black tulle and carrying pink bouquets, entered alone, and the common, Messrs. James Sibbey and George Hillman came in together. A bride's party was not complete, so in her going-away suit of blue with everything to match. She is attended by her sister, Miss Clara Cone, wearing the white cloth and pink and black gown.

REAL ESTATE TALK

DID YOU ever notice how people do a certain way for a long time and then, of a sudden discover that they are doing the thing exactly backward? Let us elaborate and explain to you an obscure statement. Take the case of the old-fashioned bicycle, which has one high front wheel (about 5 feet in diameter), and a little back wheel (about 1 foot in diameter). For a while ing machine people rode on. Doesn't seem like the man who made the bicycle would have had both wheels same size, like the bicycle we have day? That is the natural arrangement it was the last one thought of.

WITHIN the past year or two three of the largest banks in Atlanta completely reversed their interior arrangements. They started off with bank interiors so arranged that the public was crowded around the outside, while the operating force was caged up in the center. You remember how three big banks worked for months reversing their internal structure, so that now they could put the public in a central lobby, while the operating force was caged outside next to the windows. This is the easy, natural and efficient way, the only wonder is that it was not done long ago.

TAKE the case of the soda fount, the popular American institution. The old style fount had all the syrups and faucets in the rear; the dispenser had to turn his back to a customer in order to draw a soda water. This abled careless people to walk off with belonging to someone else. Now the soda fount is reversed, the syrups and carbonated water are in front, theerator never turns his back on you. Doesn't it seem like the man who invented the soda fount would have made it this way at first. The arrangement is so natural and so easy.

Ochsle also looks backwards the same, and afterwards find out the same natural way. Ten years ago treatment for pneumonia was to let the patient up in an air-tight room, nurses stood around and tucked cover down, they stuffed cotton in every crack to keep out the least draught. Now what is done to a pneumonia patient? They put him out in the cold air, even in the coldest weather, exact reversal of former methods. Perhaps there are other things we are doing backwards. Perhaps we will TAKE the managers of our big corporations, don't they do exactly reverse of what is sensible and practical? For years and years we have heard the cry from railroads that everything they have to buy was so high, rein price. Now, all these things cheap, and you would naturally expect the railroads quickly taking advantage of the opportunity to buy. They buying? No. They say times are dull. Are the railroads doing this backward? Will they not learn some day that while times are dull and they are out of employment, that is exactly the right time to replenish rolling stock and equipment, to repair and overhaul, to rebuild and get ready. This very process would tend to rationalize dull times.

IT IS a sensible thing to repair your house while it is empty, while labor and material are cheap. There are thousands of houses in Atlanta that need repairing, need a thorough overhauling, a new roof, a new front porch, a new back porch, and painting. There are many stores that need a brick front and general overhauling.

done, while labor is plentiful and material is cheap. Such work is not extravagance, it is the best of economy. It puts men to work and goes a part of the way toward alleviating the hardships of dull times. Let us not be work altogether because the highly civilized nations of Europe are engaged in the gentle pastime of shooting each other down in wholesale quantities.

RIGHT now the city of Atlanta thousands of men at work, and neutralize the effects of hard times. There is so much work to be done to make this side of the world habitable and comfortable, that we cannot afford to wait and put off everything until our uncivilized neighbors quit shooting at each other.

YOU must hand it to this European civilization. They think that day when they don't kill about 50,000 each other. You must hand it to European diplomacy: it is certainly improvement over our old-fashioned grape-juice variety. European officials are wonderful: they have learned to let the more men you march out in front of machine guns, the more you crash away with at one time. This is a high state of efficiency. Maybe the Europeans will find out some day that they are doing things just as well as we can learn from them.

Actual Battles Shown In Belgian War Films At Grand This Week

Never before in the history of the world has there been taken a motion picture of an actual battle. Think what it would mean today to be able to sit in a comfortable theater and view on the motion picture screen the campaigns of the great Napoleon; the battles of the revolution; the great struggles of the civil war at Gettysburg and in the Wilderness; and the more recent battles of Manila bay and the attack on Bataan; the great European struggle, possibly the most devastating in the history of the world, to bring out the possibilities of the moving picture camera on the battlefield. All sorts of pictures have been taken by motion picture cameras in an attempt to portray scenes of the principal European battles. But so far there is a record of only one such picture, being absolutely honest. And this is contained in the films made in Belgium by Edwin Weigle, staff photographer of The Chicago Tribune.

He marched with the army to Alost and was in the midst of the great battle there. He was present, too, at the battle of Arras and Malines, and he witnessed the flooding of Liège and the destruction of Tournai. Always beside him was his camera, and having the official permission of the Belgian government to make pictures wherever he liked, he was naturally given every facility to get just the sort of views he wanted. And a trained cameraman, such as Weigle, certainly knows what the American public wants.

When the armies were not on the march or in battle, Weigle gave his attention to the great sufferings of the war—women and children homeless and destitute by the great struggle. He followed them on their wanderings, seeing the starving, the man armies while behind them was a trail of devastation made by the war. He witnessed everywhere in the world's history. To see him picture the burning of their homes, their escape over pontoon bridges into lands where they would be momentarily safe, and he turned his camera in the direction of the invading hordes bent upon destruction. All of these scenes, horrible as they are, he faithfully pictured and brought with him to America.

The Tribune made an agreement with the Belgian government whereby Weigle was to have the exclusive right to make such pictures on Belgian soil. From his camera, with the armies of France, returned only a few weeks ago from his campaign with the armies of Belgium, he has brought with him actual scenes from three of the major battles of the war, together with pictures portraying the soldiers of King Albert in the trenches on the Western front, and lined up for battle. These pictures have been obtained by Manager Hyman, who has just leased the Grand theater for a series of five days, and he will show them for the first time in the north to Atlanta audiences at the Grand, beginning Monday.

Mon. Joseph G. Camp, the Belgian orator, will speak while the pictures are being shown.

Through the arrangement between The Tribune and the Belgian government one-half of the proceeds of the film in this country are to go to the Red Cross society of Belgium for hospital and relief work among the stricken Belgians. As, aside from the opportunity given to the American people to see the actual battle pictures, they will indirectly be aiding the charitable work which the Belgian government is doing.

Weigle, with Joseph McDill, veteran, noted war correspondent, was with the Belgian army in all of the campaigns up until his return to this country last night, and with him even his cinematograph. He was in the line of the great town of Antwerp when the Germans began bombarding the city, and his camera caught the actual burning of this great port, following the dropping of German shells in the midst.

THE STRAND OFFERS "ZUDORA" TOMORROW

Second Episode of Big Thanhouser Serial Attracts Enormous Interest.

Atlanta movie fans are arousing eager interest over "Zudora," the big Thanhouser picture serial, that has already become a sensation, and is one of the most talked-about series dramas of the season. The second episode, "The Mystery of the Sleeping House," will be on the Strand bill tomorrow.

Zudora not only recures her lover, John Storm, from death in this horror chamber of an Oriental tribe, but solves one of her husband's most baffling mysteries. The episode is a rapid succession of startling incidents that flash with bewildering speed.

The grand has announced the beginning of some of the most gripping feature releases for this week, including "A Romance of Old Holland," a thrilling drama from the Broncho studio.

Other features are: "Leading Ladies Arrive," a Keystone two-reeler, for Tuesday. "The Center of the Spiral," a Thanhouser mystery drama, Thursday. "Who Shot Sam?" a comedy, Friday. "The Mystery of the Sleeping House," the second episode of Zudora is as follows:

Last week Zudora solved her first case. "The Mystery of the Sleeping House," the second episode of Zudora is as follows: Last week Zudora solved her first case. "The Mystery of the Sleeping House," the second episode of Zudora is as follows:

When the ceremony is attempted an overpowering incense steals into the room, and the chief and his subjects are suddenly overcome with sleep. Recovering, they attempt to hold an isolated wedding. And the general rumble wraps them in its influence again, and again the phenomenon is repeated, sending in fantastic confusion the guests.

desperate to trace the origin of the mysterious force.

While Zudora and her guardian stand with awe and gasp, another attack is made to hold the marriage. A white slumber covers into the brains of the weirdly garbed tribe, and all sink into unconsciousness upon the deathly expected floor.

Meanwhile, John Storm Zudora's affianced husband, is searching for the mysterious force. Zudora, pointing to the incense, is told upon and seized at the order of the chief of the tribe. He is accused of creating the fatal fumes, and sentenced to death in the torture chamber.

The chief executioner, a hideous dwarfed misanthrope from the Orient, grins in gleeful contemplation of his victim's awful fate as he crouches over the burning pyre.

Zudora escapes and her situation of the mystery can be seen at the Strand theater tomorrow.

Otis Turner, known by his constituency as the "Governor," has been back at the Universal five weeks, during which time he has turned out two big two-reel features. The first is a Christmas story, which will be released around the holidays, and the second is a detective drama, "Sanford Quest, Criminalist."

HANDSOME ALBUMS GIVEN AT THE SAVOY

An innovation is announced by the Savoy theater for "The Master Key." Handsome stamp albums will be presented free to each lady attending the first installment on December 7.

On each Monday for fifteen weeks the holders of these albums will upon attending the Savoy be presented, also free, a sheet of stamps of printed pictures of the most striking incidents of "The Master Key." The album contains a page for each episode with spaces for the stamps, and when completely filled will be something that will be carefully preserved in every home.

"Seeds of the Mighty"

For the week beginning December 7, the Savoy theater will present at the Grand, which theater he has leased for two weeks, "Seeds of the Mighty," by Sir Gilbert Parker, and a famous story in the past. This picture was produced at the cost of $100,000, and is pronounced by critics to be one of the most brilliant photo-plays ever produced in America.

This picture will be followed at the Grand with many other big features.

As Mr. Hyman will open his expenses to secure the best produced for Atlanta. Here are a few that will be presented in the near future: "Writon Jacks in 'The Fire Lilies' Russell in 'Wildfire,' Clara Kimball Young in 'The Deep Purple,' and many others.

AMERICAN WOMAN TELLS OF THE RED CROSS WORK

Mrs. Deming-Jarvis Describes Scenes in French Hospital Where She is a Nurse.

Washington, November 22.—Red Cross work in France is graphically described in a long letter received here from Mrs. Deming-Jarvis, an American woman, serving in the hospital at Dinard, Brittany.

Has a Cure For Pellagra

Paris, November 22.—Mrs. Deming-Jarvis writes: "Seems to me if I had not obtained your remedy when I did I would not have lived much longer. I am glad you discovered this wonderful remedy that will cure Pellagra. When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my weight was 100 pounds; now it is 140. I would like to have this published and sent to sufferers of Pellagra."

This is published at her request. If you suffer from Pellagra or know of anyone who suffers from Pellagra it is your duty to consult the resourceful Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Remember money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—(Advt.)

Suppose You thought You'd Killed Him!

"His hands clenched in an agony of culminating fear, Tom Gallon looked through the window. —"

"Why had not his bullet gone through that dire face?—"

Thus it is in this world that those whose arms are empty feel the fingers of fear at their throats; and only those whose arms are filled can look boldly into the night.

BRITISH INDIA FORCES MAKE GOOD IN FRANCE

Britain Proud of Showing by Forces From Orient—Germans Try to Trick Them.

London, November 22.—Indian forces in France have made good, but have achieved none of the extraordinary exploits attributed to them, according to a statement written by "an officer with the Indian corps" and issued by the official press bureau tonight.

Above all, the statement emphasizes the difficulties under which the Indians are fighting because their language is the French, German and English languages. Regarding the Germans have played tricks on them.

YOUR SHAPE

Do you know what kind of fabrics suit? No doubt you can select the design. In fact, you should, for the design expresses the individuality and taste of the wearer. However, it is our business, as experts in tailoring, to suggest the proper weave. Now.

If You Are Slender

We would pick out for you some soft, round, hand-loom Cheviot. It would be a cloth that would retain its shape, and not accentuate your thin physique by wrinkling. Moreover, it would drape well, making a decided impression of being well fitted. You get the idea, n'est ce pas? We are now tailoring.

Suits and Overcoats

For $35.00. Into which we put the best workmanship known in Tailoring Art.

HANK AND HIS ANIMAL FRIENDS By Walt McDougall

Street Costumes For The Young Girl

SIMPLICITY is the characteristic of this demi-tailleur of wool eponge in dark gray. The width of the skirt is in the long tunic. The generous and well-shaped collar is of fine white linen. The sash, buttons and lining, of dull Venetian red, give it a needed touch of color. The hat is of white satin, trimmed with irregular ends of black velvet.

COAT of novelty woolen in mustard color, trimmed with pockets of same material and finished with a detachable circular cape of fine serge. An effective bit of ornamentation is the sash weighted with long silk tassels. A very smart hat is this little model of velvet with a stiff brim turned up sharply against the crown and decorated with three feather fancies.

REDINGOTE of a new shade of blue, gabardine made with full skirt and blouse and raglan sleeves. The self-belt is fastened with buttons that also ornament the sleeves and flat collar. The hat of velvet, of same shade, is trimmed with bands of fur and bronze color ostrich feathers.
