

Prohibition Amendment Fails in the Lower House By Margin of 61 Votes

Majority Is Given Hobson Resolution, and Change of 31 Votes Would Have Resulted in Necessary Two-Thirds Majority.

GEORGIANS VOTED FOR BILL, 3 AGAINST; EDWARDS WAS ABSENT

Prohibition Leaders Claim Result Comes Up to Their Expectations, and Prepare to Continue Fight—Vote Was Non-Partisan.

By John Corbett, Jr., Washington, December 22.—The national prohibition amendment to the federal constitution, proposed by Representative Edmund C. Hobson, of Alabama, failed in the house tonight by 61 votes. A change of 31 votes would have resulted in the necessary two-thirds majority, 197 members voting for and 118 against it.

How Georgians Voted. The Georgia delegation divided on the resolution, eight voting for and one against. Those voting against were Adamson, Hall, Clegg, Hughes, Howard, Park, Trivette, and Walker. The prohibition forces substantially assert that they will continue the fight until success is won and the manufacture and sale of liquor is outlawed in the United States.

Representative Adams spoke vigorously against the amendment, saying it was a prohibitionist, but preferred to bring about this moral reform by the use of state rather than national action.

After offering an amendment referring to the state a measure of control, which was lost, he voted for the resolution.

Immediately after announcement of the vote, the house adjourned. The crowd that had packed the galleries throughout the prolonged debate departed with mingled expressions of regret and jubilation.

Party Lines Wiped Out. Prohibition leaders held the vote of 197 for the resolution had come up to their expectations, as they had expected a two-thirds vote for it. Whether a similar resolution adopted by Senator Sheppard, of Texas, will reach a vote in the senate this session was not certain tonight. Administration leaders were inclined to believe it would not, because it could not pass the house.

Notwithstanding repeated public assertions that many members of the house would try to delay a record vote, the roll call disclosed a heavy attendance, larger than the average throughout the session.

The vote for the resolution would have been 197 to 118, had the vote been taken on the amendment.

WALKER MURDERED AND THEN ROBBERED RELIEVE OFFICERS

Coroner's Jury Finds That Young Atlanta Mining Engineer Was Killed by "Parties Unknown."

SLAIN MAN HAD DRAWN $800 FROM THE BANK

Letters From Girl Friend and From Little Daughter Found in Pockets of the Deceased.

Lying face upward in the chill drive, the body of C. C. Walker, the young mining engineer of Atlanta, 31 years old, was found dead in a lonely road near Lithonia, at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.

One bullet which entered the right temple and which plowed its way through the brain, and a revolver with two empty cartridges, found near the body, is one aspect of the tragedy which leads the police to believe that Walker was murdered and influenced the coroner's jury, at 10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, to return a verdict that the victim "was killed by parties unknown."

Drew $800 From Bank. Friends of Walker Tuesday morning learned that he drew $800 from an Atlanta bank Monday night, and that he was in the local office of the Pine Mountain Granite company that he had been visiting the night before.

No trace of the money was found "under the circumstances" appearing to make an investigation, and the theory is that Walker was held up and robbed, and that he was shot by his own pistol, which was taken from him in the scuffle with the highwaymen.

According to information gathered at the scene of the tragedy, Walker bore the marks of a struggle with his assailants. The pistol with which he was killed, from Arthur McConnell, police chief, said that he had been in the car with Walker at the time of the shooting.

Dr. Bell and Webb testified at the coroner's inquest that they found the body of Walker in the car, and that they found the condition of the body and the position of the car at the point of the crime.

Walker was divorced. His wife was Miss Maud Springfield. It is said that they were living in Michigan when domestic troubles brought about divorce proceedings.

Walker was a mining engineer. He was employed by the Atlanta Mining and Smelting Co. He was a member of the Georgia Mining Association.

MINISTERS WILL PROBE CONDITIONS AT FULTON TOWER

Preachers Deeply Concerned Over the Charges That Women Prisoners Are Not Given Proper Accommodations.

LACK OF SEGREGATION ALLEGED BY PRISONERS

Many Women Declare Jail Is Not Sanitary, Says Matron Bohnefeld—Sheriff Mangum Denies Charges.

A more has been set on foot by the ministers of the city to make a thorough investigation of the alleged lack of accommodations at the Fulton county jail for women prisoners.

The ministers are deeply concerned over the statements accredited to Matron Bohnefeld, who has charge of the women's ward at police barracks, that the tower is not the place for a woman on account of the fact that there are no proper cell arrangements for the women prisoners.

Says Women Complain. Matron Bohnefeld Tuesday afternoon reported to the city council that the women prisoners have been in her charge at police station and later at the jail, but have complained to her of the unfitness of the tower for women.

She said that the women prisoners have complained of lack of segregation between the women prisoners and men prisoners, charging that they are kept often exposed to the eyes of the men prisoners.

Progress of French, While Extremely Slow, May Soon Compel the Germans to Retire From Their Present Lines.

Russia Claims Her Troops Are Now in Strong and Safe Positions—500,000 More Britons Ready by Spring.

London, December 22.—Heavy fighting is taking place on both eastern and western fronts, but without producing any material change in the position of the opposing armies.

In France and Belgium the latter offensive is being pressed, and while some ground has been gained at wide intervals, other attacks have been repulsed by the Germans from their strongly entrenched positions.

While the progress of the allies is extremely slow, military experts here and in France believe the Russian general staff has reported as disturbing the German system of fortifications at vital points and Russia is carefully confined, compel a retirement by the Germans from their present lines.

In the east, most of the German north of the Tisza have retired before the East Prussian frontier before the thrust of the Russian forces, but south of that line, between the Tisza and the Pilna, the Germans continue their advance and advances tonight in a "push" which "will" have "consequences" in the future.

OLD DEED DISCOVERY LEADS TO LITIGATION

Lawsuit That Causes Considerable Sensation in Dublin. Deed Made in 1666.

Dublin, Ga., December 22.—(Special.)—Suits for the possession of a large amount of real estate in the city of Dublin, valued at about $200,000, have been filed in the superior court of this county, under an old deed made in 1666, the provisions of which will be considered in the court.

In 1666 Judge J. T. Duncan, one of the pioneer citizens of the city, was deeded a large tract of land in what is now the city of Dublin, in a deed wherein he was named as trustee for his wife, or any future wife that he might have, but at the death of his last wife the property was to go to the children of Judge Duncan who were living at that time, and not to any children that might be born later. The tenure of his wife, or any wife he might have in the future was only for life, and under the deed titles could not be guaranteed to a purchaser of any of the land beyond the lifetime of the last wife of Judge Duncan. At the time the deed was made he had two children, A. T. Duncan, who is still living in Dublin, and Miss Jennie Duncan, who later became Mrs. T. H. Overby, who later moved to Atlanta and died there a few years since. She left several children, who are now scattered over the states of Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, and who are the plaintiffs with A. T. Duncan in the present suit, which is filed against Mrs. William Fritchett, and Mrs. Homer Scarborough, as defendants, both of whom own portions of the land in question. Mrs. Fritchett owning a large section in the city limits that is regarded as some of the most choice real-estate property in Dublin. She is the present suit to be won by the plaintiffs, it is stated by the attorneys filing the suit, that several large pieces of valuable residence property in Dublin, which were once portions of the Duncan property, will be liable for the same action, and the plaintiffs in the present suit will have a legal claim against all of it. The suit has created something of a sensation here, as the property involved lies in the choicest residence section of the city, and has been built up with beautiful homes by the most prominent people in the city. That there will be an interesting legal battle over the land is certain. The last wife of Judge Duncan died in the early portion of this year, and about sixty days afterward, a loan company, examining the title to a portion of which a loan was asked, discovered the old deed and refused to grant the loan on this account. The heirs of Mrs. Overby then began to investigate the matter and the present suit is the result. J. E. Edwards, C. A. Wedington, of Dublin; Little, Powell, Smith and Goldstein, of Atlanta, represent the plaintiffs.

CHURCH WILL PROVIDE HOMES FOR POOR GIRLS

Following an eloquent appeal of Dr. Richard Orme Flinn to his congregation at the North Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday morning, hundreds of dollars in cash have been subscribed and the offer of open homes made to help the needy.

The appeal resulted from the decision of the board of trustees of the church, meeting Monday a week ago that each member should contribute to the church to consider the needs of the destitute and help them to be "on their feet." Dr. Flinn told his congregation that he was determined to see that the church and people of Atlanta, and that he had reached in Atlanta for the church to manifest the spirit of brotherly love and give liberally.

The exact amount of the subscriptions will be announced next Sunday by the pastor. Among the names of the donors of $10 each, homes were opened to homeless girls, and a list of names of two parties offering to care for four or five girls each, and a list of names of those who offered to care for one or two. There were other offers of this kind. A twenty-room house was offered for an indefinite period to house the poor.

Dr. Flinn was later called up over the phone by a young lady of his congregation, who offered to aid in organizing a debating team, and a group of girls of her set, whom she would ask to give up the fruits and vegetables of society long enough to help in providing homes for poor girls in the city.

Thirty women of the church were organized into a committee to work in conjunction with the Atlanta Charity. They will select individual cases and seek to aid them in every way possible.

NO REPORT YET MADE ON CAUSE OF WRECK

The state railroad commission had not on Tuesday completed its investigation of the cause of the wreck which occurred on the Western and Atlantic road, near Emerson, Ga., last Saturday, and, therefore, did not announce its report in the matter on Tuesday, although the report had been expected.

Inspector M. C. Kalkoff, of the commission, has not yet made his report to the commission, and the commission itself is making further investigation.

It was announced by Chairman C. Murphy Candler, of the commission, that it would probably be several days before the report is ready.

ROME DECIDES TO CALL ELECTION FOR BONDS

Rome, Ga., December 22.—(Special.)—By a unanimous vote Rome city council last night decided to call a bond election for the purpose of public improvements. Advertising a Business That Is "Different"!

November 24, 1914.

Mr. W. R. Massengale,
Massengale Advertising Agency,
Atlanta, Ga.

My dear Sir:

We wish to thank you most heartily for the splendid service you have rendered Cox College in attracting the attention of people to our many superior advantages. We regard the publicity you have given us as the very best. Our patronage is doubled over last year and prospects are bright for a large increase after Christmas. We are living in a day when people want, demand and should have the best.

Cox College is not only the largest, best equipped, best officered, and strongest in merit and standard, but it has the ideal location here at Atlanta, the metropolis of the South. Our students have more natural advantages than any students in the South. Atlanta is a cultural and educational center. The Massengale Agency has rendered us unique and most indispensable service in acquainting the public with these facts. Hence, our great unprecedented growth.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) C. Lewis Fowler

President.

SALES HELPS---No. 8

In this era of business efficiency, when time is a most exacting element, it is absolutely essential for every institution to force the desired attention to its good qualities, for no one is going to take the initiative and trouble to find them out for themselves. This necessity for Publicity has broadened its scope of activities until all of our most conservative institutions, our churches, schools, zoological gardens and art galleries, have found assistance in it. The above testimonial refers to results we have accomplished for one of these institutions. Despite all the advantages offered by Cox College, it required the co-operation of a high-class advertising agency to actually make it a complete success. The fact that this end has been reached is a further evidence of the efficiency and versatility of our organization.

Our Interesting "Year Book" Will Be Sent on Request.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright at their beautiful home in Druid Hills.

Their daughter, Miss Dorothy Arkwright, and a group of the debutantes were the guests of honor—Misses Josephine Mobley, Louise Campbell, Louise Broyles and Helen McCarthy—and there was a bright company of 150.

The reception floor was festive with the Christmas decorations. In the reception hall was a great Christmas tree, shining with tinsel and gewgaws and with tiny red electric lights. Garlands and wreaths of holly and masses of poinsettias filled the room with their symbolic beauty and the very upstairs to the ballroom, the ballroom being hung with red beaded garlands.

Supper was served in the ballroom, which was like a fairyland picture in pink and crystal.

The walls were hung with smilax, which was frosted and sparkled in the light, and the room was lined between the windows with little crystal trees.

From the center of the ceiling were dropped white Christmas bells and foliage fringed with crystal prism and every where was the crystal suggestion. Seats were covered for supper at small tables, each having its centerpiece of holly and white tulle and garlands, and at each place were all kinds of holiday "noise makers," which were played for the amusement of the guests.

Miss Arkwright was beamingly greeted with smilax and silver. Miss Arkwright was a charming dancing queen of white net embroidered in frills, the foundation of white smilax.

Miss Broyles was pink satin with tulle of chiffon and crystal finials with smilax. Miss Louise Campbell was dressed in silver with tulle of white tulle and crystals.

Miss Mobley was pink tulle and crystals over pink satin. Miss Helen McCarthy was dressed in white chiffon and silver, trimmed with French flowers.

To Miss Byck.
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Byck were hosts of a large theater party last night at the Forsyth, the occasion a compliment to their niece, Miss Edna Byck, of Savannah, invited to meet her.

After the theater supper was served at the Forsyth club, the dining room was gay with Christmas decorations, and garlands of holly and smilax were everywhere.

Each had as its centerpiece a little Christmas tree, washed at the base with cedar and holly, the trees shining with tiny red electric lights and hung with appropriate favors.

An orchestra provided music and after supper there was dancing.

Miss Stevens Entertains.
Miss Lillian Stevens gave a pretty party yesterday at her home on Elizabeth street, and sixty young women enjoyed her hospitable Christmas Eve.

The house had elaborate decorations in holly and smilax, and the Christmas colors were observed in detail. A delicious luncheon was served at the card tables. The bridge parties were dainty hand-made appetizers.

Miss Byck was a becoming gown of rose chiffon over blue. Her sister, Miss Byck, wore pink tulle, draped with chiffon.

To Miss Fillingim.
Miss Vassar Fillingim, whose marriage to Mr. W. D. Cochran, of Newton, Mass., will take place next month, was given a delightful surprise party by her friends at the Forsyth.

Japanese young girls received her guests on the floor. They placed the bride on the floor, and all of them sang a Japanese wedding song. A sang a Japanese wedding song. A sang a Japanese wedding song.

For Mrs. Poundstone.
Mrs. J. Randolph Banks entertained fifty guests at a dance last evening at some on Pine street, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Clay Poundstone, of Birmingham.

The apartments were attractive with Christmas decorations of holly wreaths, mistletoes and poinsettias.

Mrs. Banks wore a white lace gown, and Mrs. Poundstone's gown was of accordion pleated green charmeuse.

To "Butterflies."
The bright social event of the afternoon will be the party to the "Butterflies," which will be given at the home of Mrs. Frank Tucker Magon give at the home of her brother, Mr. Sam Venable, in Druid Hills.

The occasion is a compliment to Mrs. Correll Hort Venable, who is one of the members of the "Butterflies," an organization composed of a group of Atlanta pioneer women.

Cut Flowers For Holiday Occasions

Dahl's have long enjoyed an enviable reputation for artistic CORSAGES and ARM BOUQUETS. The secret lies mostly in the fact that our two large greenhouse plants keep us supplied daily with fresh Roses, Carnations, Orchids, Lilies, Violets and many others. We sell more fresh cut flowers than any other florist in the south.

Out-of-town Orders are given prompt attention and safe delivery.

SOCIETY

Dinner-Dance.

The informal dinner-dance at the Capital City club last evening was enjoyed by a large number of guests.

Dancing Party.

Miss Natalie Stokes was the honor guest at a dancing party last evening given by Mrs. Samuel Wayman at her home on Fourteenth street. The Christmas spirit was suggested in the bright holiday decorations throughout the house.

Dancing was in the garage, where the walls and furnishings are in tone of brown. A wood fire burned brightly in the big open fireplace, and wreaths of holly and poinsettia blossoms added to the attractiveness of the room.

Miss Stokes wore a pretty gown of white net.

Miss Stokes assisted Mrs. Wayman in entertaining.

Guests included the school girls and boys.

FLOWERS

What brings more cheer and happiness in the home Christmas morning than a beautiful blooming plant or a handsome vase of cut flowers? There is nothing that can take their place. They fulfill every desire.

Come in to our flower show, pick out a few and send them. They are not expensive and they are grown at our own greenhouses especially for you.

Come and see our display and look around. You are welcome whether you buy or not, and remember, we will be open all this week until 10:30 p. m.

New Accounts Invited

Since the first day its doors were opened, the name, personality and service of this bank has been closely interwoven with successful Atlanta enterprises. Thus the eminent success of this strong, progressive bank is merited by its genuinely helpful service to growing and successful business men.

Upon this basis we invite the accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON MARKET

recent buyers set in, and these profit-taking sales forced a slight recession in values. Business was in fair volume and, as a result, the market held its position. The market is attracting a larger interest on the buying side.

JAY, MOND & CO.

New York, December 22.—(Special.)—Cables this morning showed about as they were. Spot sales were larger at 13,000 bales. Most prices were somewhat higher from the opening, with German homes against heavy buyers, particularly in October. Most of the other cables were steady, but there was also very little or no selling from the south. Prices advanced rather rapidly to high levels for the movement. On 12 to 14 to 16 to 18 to 20 to 22 to 24 to 26 to 28 to 30 to 32 to 34 to 36 to 38 to 40 to 42 to 44 to 46 to 48 to 50 to 52 to 54 to 56 to 58 to 60 to 62 to 64 to 66 to 68 to 70 to 72 to 74 to 76 to
