Senator Persons' Measure Would Provide for the Taxation of the "Invisible Property" of Georgia.

WOULD RUIN GEORGIA SAYS CHAIRMAN AKIN

"Legislation, if Passed, Will Stop Progress," Says Secretary Mingham—Minority Report Will Be Made.

Following a two-hour debate on a bill introduced by President G. Ogden Persons, of the twenty-second, to amend the present tax equalization law by requiring the public assessment of all real estate, accounts, mortgages, stocks and bonds, and all other "chose in action"...

Purpose of the Bill.

In the words of the author, Senator Persons, the bill "is to require all real estate, mortgages, stocks and bonds, and all other 'chose in action' to be returned to the tax collector at their market value, be it, in real estate, mortgages, stocks and bonds, and all other 'chose in action'...

Way Persons Measure.

Senator Persons, of the second, thought that one of the best ways to present to this legislature. Senator Persons, of the second, thought that one of the best ways to present to this legislature...

Taxes Will Increase.

"If you pass this law, before you go into the thousands and tax values will greatly decrease. Don't give away your life and live; remember the other fellow. Better repay every tax you have put on your books in the last twenty years than pass this bill now before you."

NOT ONE AMERICAN RIGHT WILL BE SURRENDERED

American Reply Will Also Declare Position United States Will Take Because of Germany's Refusal to Disavow Lusitania Horror.

Chief Beavers Blamed. When Senator Beavers charged that Marion Jackson received a portion of his income from the Empire hotel and that that hotel was not what it was supposed to be, Mr. Jackson declared that if the hotel was not run properly it was up to Mr. Johnson and his police committee yesterday afternoon to report to the measure favorably. The decision came, however, only after a long fight, during which Chairman Beavers, of the fourth, denounced Senator Persons' bill as "drastic and dangerous" predicting that such a "rough cut" would destroy the borrowing power of all our business men...

Amnesia Intentionally to Be Waxed.

Amongst intentions to be waxed, are those of the German government. The trend of their opinions was that the German swastika and the American eagle should be placed side by side, and that the next communication from the United States should state to the American intentions if their rights are violated, and that the position it will take with reference to Germany's refusal to disavow the sinking of the Lusitania. Some thing much more specific and positive than has been said in the notes which the United States has sent to the submarine war zone was declared in the official gazette.

Respects Are All Laid.

"I have great respect for the sixteen women of low character living at the Empire hotel, and found it regrettable to be all here. There were only two women stopping at the Empire. One was a married woman of good reputation and the other was a stranger in town, of whom no one knew anything about."

WILSON TO UPHOLD COUNTRY'S DIGNITY.

President Wilson, it was said, does not do not intend to estimate the possibilities of the problem of Germany's refusal to disavow the submarine warfare. The president is declared to be firmly determined to uphold the dignity of the United States.

BUSINESS AGENTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Money Is Plentiful and Conditions Are Normal Again, Report Bradstreet Company Superintendents.

Declaring that the day would soon dawn when the only man not having business would be the one who did not go after it, J. R. C. Pedder, local and division superintendent of the Bradstreet company, called together fourteen district superintendents for their annual meeting of three days, yesterday, in the Empire building. Reports showing that business conditions in the south had already attained normal, that money was plentiful in their several districts and that cotton mills were working overtime on war orders, were made by each of the superintendents present. The numbers of unemployed are rapidly decreasing, they say, and there has been a marked increase in business within the last forty days. While the cotton crop is large, it was the consensus of opinion that the tendency to overproduction was more pronounced today than ever before.

Savannah Holding Over. "We are not entirely dependent upon cotton shipments," said W. R. Stewart, district superintendent at Savannah, "because of the diversity of interests in Savannah. In public affairs we are probably going ahead better than any other city in the state. In financial affairs, Savannah is holding her own. Our bank clearings for the first half of 1915 were larger than those for the first half of 1914, and the fall business is going to be as good as that of last fall. It requires more than a war 3,000 miles distant to make a panic mistake." Charleston is now in the first stages of its greatest development, and that more large industries with plenty of capital had been started there within the last five years than in the twenty years previous was the opinion of F. W. Henneker, reporting on Charleston and vicinity. "In middle Georgia financial institutions show large reserves," said L. B. Lewis, in charge of the Macon office. "Cotton acreage has been materially reduced and the cost of its production is the cheapest in years, occasioned by the rigid economy on the part of the farmer. A good price is being anticipated, indications point to a bumper corn crop."

"Within the last few months numerous inquiries have been made by various enterprises and industries, who propose establishing plants in the Georgia river, now that the waterway in to be utilized. A 10 per cent reduction in freight rates will result in about a saving of $250,000 to $300,000 to the commercial interests per annum."

Health Optimistic. A feeling of optimism prevails in Mobile, according to the statements of J. R. Jones, superintendent of that place. "A revival in the lumber business and the consequent reopening of many mills to handle large orders is generally noticeable," he says. "The postoffice receipts show a decided increase. Citrus farmers have organized for better marketing facilities. Cotton, corn and potato crops in splendid condition and farmers have diversified more than in years." The chief industries in Jacksonville, Fla., such as naval stores, phosphate and lumber, are doing well, he says, despite the depression caused by the war, according to George A. Pollin. Wholesale dealers in groceries, dry goods and hardware report the volume of business about normal for this season, said W. W. Barnes of Augusta. And in some instances the volume of last year's business. Retailers in all lines report a steady increase in sales. A factor in this condition was the unseasonable weather which speeded in June and the consumers being economical in their purchases. The condition of the cotton crop is estimated at 80 per cent at the present time. J. C. O'Brien, who is in charge of the New York City district alone, yet one man at the Chalmers New York branch attends to all repairs or adjustments that have ever been necessary.

DUBLIN LAWYER DIES. Col. H. P. Howard Succumbs to Heart Failure. Dublin, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—H. P. Howard, one of the oldest and best known lawyers in this county, died suddenly Sunday morning from heart trouble. He was found dead in his room by a friend who called on him, and had apparently been dead only a short time. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of natural causes, the illness of which had been afflicted for some time. He was 69 years of age and came to Laurens from Wilkinson county in 1849. He was admitted to the bar in 1851, and had practiced law steadily since that time, having enjoyed a high reputation for ability. He is survived by six children, J. J. J. A. George Howard, Mr. A. M. Turner and Mrs. T. C. Turner, of Alamo, and Mrs. J. Adams. Funeral services were held in the Baptist church this afternoon, and interment followed in Northview cemetery. An unusual coincidence of his death was that it occurred on the same date as the death of Judge K. J. Hawkins, just one year ago, in Dublin, and was as sudden as the death of Judge Hawkins.

POLK TO PLEAD INSANITY FOR KILLING OF HIS WIFE. Milledgeville, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—The trial of C. F. Polk, who killed his last January, has been postponed until Monday. This case will be heard tonight by the state. Solicitor Joe Foster will be assisted in the prosecution by Judge K. J. Greer, who is the attorney for the defendant. Polk shot his wife on a morning while negotiating with her between two of his brothers, himself and wife to settle some domestic quarrel. Polk was night operator at the telephone exchange in Milledgeville for many years and the murder was committed at the residence of John Cooper, near the institution.

COBB SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE SUCCESSFUL MEET. Acworth, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—The annual convention of the Cobb County Sunday School association has just closed in Acworth the most successful meeting the association has yet held. Walter Abbott, the county president, had arranged a fine program. The speakers were Judge L. Patterson of the Blue Ridge Circuit, A. C. Caldwell, superintendent of the Leona Avenue Baptist church, Atlanta; Miss Flora Davis, assistant state secretary of state association; Professor E. H. Hunt, present Seventh District Agricultural college, Macon; J. J. Daniel, of Marietta, and others. Twenty-eight schools were represented. There were 150 teachers and delegates in attendance.

America, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—The American Chamber of Commerce sent a representative delegation to Eastman tonight to extend upon the part of that organization and The Times-Recorder an invitation to the Georgia Weekly Press association to hold its next annual convention in America. This city will entertain several prominent organizations next year, and is anxious to have the week-end editors as well.

SCORCHING WEATHER TO CONTINUE TODAY; MERCURY REACHES 92

Having just emerged from a scorching midsummer day, Atlanta and territory will this morning embark upon a similarly scolding one with cloudless skies and a heartless sun. The mercury has started on its mid-summer climb. Monday was one of the hottest days of the season, the mercury registering 92 degrees at 2 o'clock, prior to which time it had been on a steady climb since 8 o'clock, when it had registered 80 degrees. However, there is consolation in the fact that today will be one minute shorter, the sun rising at 6:34 and setting at 6:34.

DINING CARS

WITH A LA CARTE SERVICE TO CINCINNATI & LOUISVILLE L&N

Chalmers Six-48 Now $1550 Big Seven-Passenger Touring Car

At last you can get one of the biggest motor cars on the market at the price you have been considering—one of the most luxurious motor cars made by one of the great leaders of the higher-priced motor-car field. At last you can get a car at a reduced price that hasn't one bit of value taken out of it. At last you can get at the price of cheap cars, a Chalmers car—a car that 10,000 owners have run for two years at the lowest record for real economy of upkeep ever known.

Cut From $1925 Not a Made-Over Car

This car was placed on the market two years ago at $1925. Thousands were sold at that price. Then the car was reduced to $1725 and we sold thousands more at this figure. Most of these cars went to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago, where the list of Chalmers Six-48 owners reads like the Blue Book. They were not bought merely by those who felt that $1725 was all they could afford to pay for an automobile, but by people who could afford any car. Over a thousand Six-48's are operating in the New York City district alone, yet one man at the Chalmers New York branch attends to all repairs or adjustments that have ever been necessary.

No Changes But Improvements. The cars operating in this district broke all records for upkeep—freedom from repair cost considered. There can be no improvement made in a motor which does such work as this. There can be no structural improvement made in carburetion which makes such a record in gas economy, or on a chassis with such proper distribution of weight—light where it can be, strong where it should be.

Not one of these quality advantages has been skimmed in the 1916 model of this car, but numerous refinements have been made. The car is built in our own shops. It is not a motor picked up here, a transmission there, and other parts from somewhere else. How We Are Able to Cut. This fact and quantity production have enabled us to produce this car at the 1916 price. We are building 20,000 cars this season. That is nearly four times as many as ever before. We are putting up new buildings; we are installing new labor-saving and cost-reducing machinery. With bigger organization, increased capital and new plans, we have cut down administrative expense in its ratio to each car made. After several years' work we are now equipped to make quality cars at quantity prices. This car gets all the advantages of this general saving. In addition, we had no new tools to make on this model, no new tool fixtures to make, no new machine tools—so we are able to give the present buyers the benefit of these special savings also.

Talk to Owners of This Car. Many of your neighbors in Atlanta and vicinity are running this car now—ask any of them about it. It is the car of Quality—Plus. It is the car of Quality, because the Chalmers Motor Company has never succumbed to the temptation to make cheap cars. When we cannot build quality cars we will go out of business. It is the car of Quality—Plus, because, with new plans for quadrupled production, new organization and the biggest business in our history, we can make Quality Cars at prices which make this Six-48 absolutely the best "buy" in the field of cars priced from $1200 to $2000 today. We are not given to over-statements. Hence we ask the privilege of proving this rather strong claim. May we show you this car, today?

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City at the following places.

It is again emphasized in the Washington dispatches that, regardless of the wording of the German note, in actual practice Germany has been conforming to American views in the conduct of her submarine warfare.

Furthermore, there is little doubt that Germany understands now, as well as does the rest of the civilized world, that the issue between the United States and that country stands wholly and singly upon its own merits; and that any questions which arise between ourselves and other nations have no bearing whatever upon it, so far as we are concerned.

The time has come, therefore, when we can safely take up and press for solution with Great Britain the question of our commerce to and from neutral European ports.

It is a question as to whether we are going to permit England to dictate the prices of our crops and our products to the point of almost ruinous depression, or demand and secure our right to free world markets that will maintain their value in accordance with the natural law of demand.

In the item of cotton alone, it is a question whether the new crop, now fast approaching harvest, together with last year's surplus, shall go at 7 to 7 cents a pound or at the free market price of 12 to 14 cents.

On a 13,000,000 bale crop this would mean a difference of something like $400,000,000.

Our demand upon England is one of simple, unquestioned right—the right to send our cargoes of non-contraband products only to neutral European ports. We are in a position to get what we want from Great Britain without danger of clash or conflict.

The national government owes it to the entire country, and more particularly just now to the cotton-growing states of the south, to act vigorously in this case, and with sufficient promptness to avert a repetition of the deplorable conditions of last fall and winter.

And upon it must rest responsibility for the result. As to the timeliness and force of its action, we shall continue to hope and believe and likewise to urge.

GET OUT THE OLD FURS.

Pur renovators and remodelers will do a rushing business this fall. With a little refurbishing and touching up, last year's mink and neckpiece, and even those of the year before, will look good to mother and debutante, when they come to inquiring into prices of the new ones. For furs are going up, perhaps way up, and it's this abominable European war that's causing it.

The brief little announcement that the Russian government has issued an order prohibiting the exportation of furs this season, probably was not seen by one per cent of those interested in the fur as an article of personal adornment; nor is it likely that one per cent of those gathered from the statement the effect it will probably have.

But Russia supplies about one-third of the fur taken by the world of fashion, and Russia has decided that it is of vastly greater importance that her soldiers shall be kept warm in the coming winter than that fashion's fancy should be catered to. So Russian sable, fox and ermine will line Russian overcoats and make Russian caps, while mink and fox will line coats and hats to the furrier to command his remodeling handiwork.

There is yet one hope. With a third of the world's fur supply cut off, it may be fashions will become simpler, and the countries now at war, and there will be a consequent decrease in the demand. Then, too, it is barely possible the Canadian trappers, stimulated by probable higher prices, will increase their catch, thus adding to available output.

But this is pure speculation. All we know is Russia has, by a single war order, taken from the world the large portion of its annual supply of the finer and more valuable pelts. And knowing that, the natural conclusion is the furs available will cost more than ever before.

It looks very much like a case of having to get out of the old and into the new over. But why not? By that time the Russian order will have been forgotten, and nobody but the wearer will be likely to know the difference.

There is perhaps no reasonable foundation for the charges which have been made respecting the management of the Confederate Soldiers' Home.

The home is under the direction of well-known Georgians of highest integrity, whose unwavering point themselves to be led into law, and to provide a maximum of comfort and pleasure for those veterans who seek its shelter in their declining years. In their effort the authorities of the home have been generally successful; and if, in this administration, it sometimes becomes necessary to lay down certain rules, it is done not for occasional regulations, it is done not to interfere with the personal liberties or enjoyment of any individual veteran, but for the good of all.

It is unfortunate that frequently there are some of the veterans who do not appreciate this viewpoint and who, sometimes unwarrantedly, point themselves to be led into law, and to provide a maximum of comfort and pleasure for those veterans who seek its shelter in their declining years.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

Frank L. Stanton

If They Give Her Half a Chance.

Since light first streamed upon her when Colonel Graves' work was done, Earth's make a mighty roar.

She's sure amazed the angels when in three or four days she'll give her half a chance.

Of wars she's seen a million, and heard the nations' sighs.

But the grave, anem who make them, still she weeps around the altar.

Her robes the stars are coronating, with light before her dance.

No tending where she'll go—if they give her half a chance.

Great earth, for all the grieving, the sorrow and the pain.

Forevermore believing in the beauty of her life.

Wars shake, but can't unmake her, on the starry self advance.

World-wide peace the angels give her half a chance.

Here is The Arkansas Gazette's idea of "Hell," for the devil knows just when to start an earthquake.

"Pumping up a tire, searching for a lost golf ball, sprinkling a lawn, or listening to an infatuated proflig."

The Little Things.

A little grace along the way.

For blessings, any time of day.

A little love, any time of day.

A dream that leaves itself might dream.

Even in heaven one little word won't miss some folks. They'd want to be the whole band.

Playing a part in Heaven is too much like work to some of the lazy saints.

Wanted Fallows.

Rising high may be hard, but coming down graceful is what you get.

Even in heaven one little word won't miss some folks. They'd want to be the whole band.

Be sure of your ground before you about halloo, for the devil knows just when to start an earthquake.

Reason there's so much trouble is because misery likes company, and some of us are afraid not to be sociable.

It's hard to strike the happy medium. It's the habit of certain people to cause their neighbors to be sorry about them.

Where do you get your Tars.

Summer tells her story.

But 'tis one you can't admire.

World that gets to glory.

In a seething shroud of fire!

Lesson for to learn.

How to listen, how to burn.

Denno how we'll make it.

When the hot rocks turn.

The sky above is gleaming.

With the fatal firebrands.

Earth beneath is steaming.

With the heat that will waste lands.

Lesson for to learn.

How to learn, how to burn.

Denno how we'll make it.

When the hot rocks turn.

The sky above is gleaming.

With the fatal firebrands.

AUDITOR FOR STATE
FEARED BY SENATORS

Senator Boykin Expresses Surprise at Georgia's Unbusiness-like Methods.

To create the office of auditor of state accounts with a salary of $15,000 a year and an office in the capitol was the purpose of a bill by Senator J. O. Adams, of the thirty-third, which was reported favorably by the senate finance committee yesterday afternoon.

The auditor is to be appointed by the governor, to hold office for four years and have charge of auditing all the claims against the state or against any state institution. The auditor, it is stipulated, must be an expert accountant and business man. He is to have two assistants.

Perfecting This Act.
"This bill embodies every idea along this line that has been thought of for the past six years," said Senator Adams, advocating his measure. "For all that time we have been trying to perfect this act."

In defending Senator Adams' proposition, Senator Boykin expressed surprise at Georgia's unbusiness-like methods that had led the state so long without an auditor. He said that the state needed a good man to check up on all receipts and expenditures.

The bill was recommended for passage by a unanimous vote of the senate Monday afternoon the finance committee reported favorably on a bill by Senator Ferguson recommending that licenses, transient vendors of such small articles as newspapers, this bill is passed, he required to purchase a license.

Forced Strike Address.
The Western and Atlantic railroad committees of the senate met Monday morning to hear the report of the construction agent in the employ of the Atlantic, Waycross and Marietta railroad, proposed a plan to extend the railroad to the west.

The joint Western and Atlantic committee met Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the joint committee will give audience to anyone who has any objection before them on any phase of the question. Monday the joint committee of the house Western and Atlantic committee and the senate committee will give the general assembly desire will give the transportation for the purpose of examining the condition of the state's property.

Senate in Busy.
The senate held a very busy session Monday morning, the session was a real work than on any other day since the opening of the year. The senator Lawrence, of the eighteenth, bore the lion's part of the day's labor. He introduced a number of bills and five of his bills passed. One of his most interesting legislative propositions was a bill to expedite the transaction of business in the courts by a new court. The senator's method, he held, will eliminate six months of delay in court cases.

Senator Dobbs, of the thirty-first, saw his bill passed providing for the right to remove from any of the state banks in the federal reserve bank. The members of the senate board of health concerning the alleged venereal condition of the state farm at Milledgeville was recommended by the senate committee on investigating committee, of which Senator Walker, of the twenty-first, is chairman. The conservative senate members in charging the state with criminal past in the case of the state farm, the motion for a passed Senator Peacock's motion. The most notable and important of the day's work, to recommit the report to the committee for the purpose of erasing the objectionable portions.

The joint penitentiary committee of the house and senate met Monday afternoon for Milledgeville to investigate the state farm. The committee, of which Senator Buchanan, of the ninth, is chairman, will be held in session at the joint committee returned from Milledgeville.

Senator Buchanan, of the ninth, introduced a resolution providing for an investigation of alleged improper conditions at the Atlanta Soldiers' home.

TORRENS AND TITLE BILLS ARE INTRODUCED

Committee Appointed by Senate and House Recommends Adoption of the System.

The fight for the passage of the Torrens and title bills, which was lost in the last general assembly, was reopened yesterday when the ad interim committee, appointed by the house and senate of 1911 to investigate this system of guaranteeing land titles, made its report to the house recommending its adoption by Georgia.

R. M. Turner, of Brooks, introduced a bill providing for the adoption of the Torrens system when this term opens. The house ordered the bill read and the commission's report printed and placed on the desks of the members.

The commission was headed by R. N. Holtzclaw, of Houston, chairman, and H. Turner, of Brooks, and J. E. Powell, of Atlanta.

The most of the remainder of the time of the house Monday was consumed in the argument of the "defaulting tax collector" bill introduced by Mr. Davidson, of Putnam. The bill provides legal protection for tax collectors in all parts of the state through the action of the courts.

The resolution of Andrews, of Fulton, to amend the constitution to change the location of the state capitol, was on Monday taken up from the table. The resolution was introduced by Andrews, of Fulton, and as many copies were distributed to the members of the house, and as many copies were distributed to the members of the senate.

ASKS INCREASED PAY FOR TIPOGRAPHERS

Mr. Davidson Asks if They Write Opinions for Supreme Court Judges.

A mid session was sprung in the house Monday afternoon when the committee No. 1 Monday afternoon when Mr. Davidson, of Putnam, suggested that typographers for the Georgia supreme court write the opinions for the court.

Mr. Davidson's suggestion was met with a great deal of opposition. The committee on the subject of the salary of the typographers for the supreme court was held in session Monday afternoon.

EASTMAN FALLS BEFORE WEEKLY PRESS EDITORS

Neighboring Towns Also Surrender to Irresistible Scribes and Their Wives.

Eastman, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—The twenty-third annual convention of the editors of the Georgia Weekly Press association convened in this city tonight and the opening session was devoted to addresses of welcome from the different organizations of the city and responses.

The first business meeting will be held in the morning. All trains leading into Eastman today have brought large numbers of editors and their wives, and the committees which have in charge the entertainment of the distinguished guests will strive to make Eastman's hospitality memorable.

This afternoon the editors were the guests of the Eastman Baseball association and the management of the Princess theater.

On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the editors will be given an auto ride to McRae and Helena, where these two cities will entertain with a barbecue basket dinner and fish fry. The return will be via Bird Springs, where a picnic and appropriate souvenirs will be provided.

Tuesday night a reception will be held at the home of some of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Edwards.

The following program was carried out tonight:

Address of welcome by President T. P. McCaskey, of the Franklin News and Investigation, Rev. W. S. Townson.

Address of welcome by the city of Eastman, Colonel J. H. Miller, city editor of the Eastman News.

BY LUMP OF SUGAR OFFICERS IDENTIFY ALLEGED BURGLAR

Sharlock Holmes could afford to take lessons from these versatile—modern sleuths.

Sharlock Holmes could afford to take lessons from these versatile—modern sleuths, County Policemen Baker and Casco, who traced the burglar in this respect. Last night they captured, identified and say they will be able to locate him, as an alleged burglar solely on a lump of sugar. Here is the story:

He could not give satisfactory answers and it was decided to search the home of the Robinsons in this respect. The policeman were not long when they encountered Will Solomon.

ASSAULT ON THE ROOM BY THE DOOR

Called "Petulant and Disorderly Violator of All Reasonable Rules."

Dr. Amos Fox, superintendent of the County Jail, says, in a hot note replying to the letter carried in Monday's Constitution from Hugh Colquitt, who has charges against a petition to the legislature asking an investigation of the home's condition.

Mr. Fox states that the record of Colquitt at the home "is that of a petulant and disorderly violator of all reasonable rules and also says that he went before the trustees of the home and asked the Colquitt be reinstated. Superintendent Fox also says that he has never claimed the title of doctor, but that this was given him because he was for many years in the drug business.

Mr. Fox's reply follows: To the Public: I would not burden the public with the details of the case against the Colquitt. I would not burden the public with the details of the case against the Colquitt.
