UNITED STATES SOLEMNLY WARNS GERMANY NEVER AGAIN TO VIOLATE AMERICAN RIGHTS

PRIMARIES' DATE IN GEORGIA FIXED BY HOUSE MEASURE

General Judiciary Committee No. 1 Favors Bill Calling for Vote on Second Wednesday in September.

ROTATION OF JUDGES MEETS WITH FAVOR

Ways and Means Committee to Pass on Anti-Tipping Bill — Subcommittee Gets Divorce Bills.

The date for all democratic primaries is set for the second Wednesday in September in a house bill reported favorably by the general judiciary committee No. 1 Friday.

The bill provides that instead of the state executive committee setting a date for such a primary it shall be set by law on the date named.

This will cover the primary for United States senators, governor, state-house officers, congressmen, justices of the supreme court and court of appeals, superior court judges and solicitors general.

It is believed the bill will pass the house and the senate.

ANTI-TIPPING MEASURE.

Although the anti-tipping bill failed in the judiciary committee of the house Friday afternoon, the measure may not be dead, as that committee recommended to the ways and means committee a measure which may have a better effect.

The bill made it a misdemeanor for any person in railroad trains or hotels to receive a tip. The committee at first voted for it, but reconsidered that action and decided to ask the ways and means committee to present a bill providing for a tax on all railroads and hotels that permitted tipping.

ROTATION OF JUDGES.

A bill providing for the rotation of the superior court judges was reported favorably by the judiciary committee No. 1, of the house, Friday.

Fulton and Chatham counties were excepted.

Under the law the state will be divided into four sections and the superior court judges will rotate in their respective sections.

The bill was framed by Representative Stark, of Jackson county. He says that he does not think there will be any serious opposition to the bill in either the house or the senate.

LIABILITY BILL ADVERSED.

Four important bills were acted upon by the general judiciary committee No. 2, of the house, Friday.

The fellow servant liability bill was reported upon adversely. The bill aimed to make corporations and companies liable for personal injuries to an employee caused by the negligence of a fellow employee.

The committee acted favorably upon a bill making it a misdemeanor for any person to bring stolen property into the state.

A bill to provide for uniform erection of all telephone and telegraph poles on public highways was reported adversely.

A bill making it a misdemeanor for any person to falsely represent himself as deaf, blind, dumb or lame was reported adversely, because the committee thought such an offense was already covered by the law against cheating and swindling.

DIVORCE BILLS.

The house committee on general judiciary No. 2 decided Friday to refer to a sub-committee all bills dealing with the divorce laws. There have been some twenty such bills dealing with all phases of the divorce laws. The special committee will report some time next week.

Thief Plays Havoc In Residence Where Money Was Scarce

"Lookout, and be sure that you leave more than a fifty-cent piece for these Atlanta burglars when you leave your house unguarded," is the warning sent out by Mrs. S. P. Baldwin, of No. 6 West End avenue, last night, when she returned home about 7 o'clock to find that a burglar had entered her house, ransacked it, and, disappointed at finding only 50 cents, had spilt buttermilk, syrup, chocolate and broken eggs all over the house.

Not satisfied with this he took his razor and ripped the bed linen and dining room linen to small fragments. In the bed room he also ripped the mattresses on the beds.

Mrs. Baldwin left her house about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon for a walk in West End Park, which is near her home.

BIG OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT AGAINST RUSSIA.

The limits of space make it impossible to show the full length of the eastern battle line. It extends to a point far north of Grodno and takes in the Baltic provinces of Russia. Between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 men are involved. Three main offensive movements are shown, however. The one striking toward Ossowiecz has for its object the Bobr and Vistula. The advance, which has passed south of Prasnysz, has backed the Russians up against the Narew, and a crossing there would give the Germans a chance to cut communications with Warsaw. The third, which is going north between Lublin and Cholm, has also for its object the cutting off of communications with Warsaw by the capture of important railroads. Further to the south is the army of General von Linsingen and the Austrians, which are keeping Bukowina clear for the present.

Teuton Armies Driving Attacks Against Warsaw And Making Some Gains

Advances, However, Are Slight, as the Russian Forces Are Putting Up a Stubborn Defense.

London, July 23.—The Austrians and Germans are driving their attacks against the Russian armies defending Warsaw without let-up, and at some points they report advances.

The attackers are operating, however, through country which the retiring troops have laid waste and where poor roads are little suited for heavy artillery movements necessary for bombardment of the great fortresses that bar the way.

The decisive actions, therefore, are not expected for a few days yet, although the battle between the Vistula and the Bug rivers, where the German field marshal, Von Mackensen's

Minister Is Charged With Murdering Man Over 45 Years Ago

Rev. W. H. McCart, Accused of Killing Monroe Smith, Jailed in Newton County While Visiting Relatives.

Covington, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Accused of killing Monroe Smith over forty-five years ago, Rev. W. H. McCart is held for trial in the Newton county jail here on a charge of murder.

McCart, who has been living in the west since the killing, was recognized and arrested during a visit to relatives in the western part of Newton county. The accused man became a minister after leaving Georgia. He has an attractive manner and talks interestingly of his travels.

The killing of Smith resulted, it is said, from an alleged attack on Mrs. McCart, mother of the man charged with murder. It is reported that Smith struck Mrs. McCart a day or two before the killing.

The arrest has created a sensation. Older citizens of the county who recall the affair differ somewhat as to details. The tragedy occurred so long ago that few remember the exact circumstances.

BODY OF UNKNOWN WHITE BOY FOUND IN TUGALOO RIVER

Hartwell, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The body of an unknown white boy about 13 years old with light hair was recovered this morning from the Tugaloo river, about 3 miles from here, by Sheriff A. S. Johnson. The body was unclothed and it is presumed that the youth was drowned while in swimming.

The body was first discovered washed up on a raft by a party of men fishing, who notified the sheriff.

There have been no reports of drownings in the river recently and the sheriff is at a loss as to identifying the body. The boy has probably been dead for about two days.

NOTE HAS FORCE OF ULTIMATUM, EDITORS ASSERT

But Carries No Bellicose Threat — American Press Almost Unit in Indorsing Reply—Very Discordant Note Sounded by Some of the German-American Editors, Who Bitterly Attack President Wilson.

Below will be found the comment of the press of the United States on the American note to Germany. The press is almost a unit in indorsing the note, especially its firmness and its plainness. As The Memphis Commercial-Appeal says, "The note has the force of an ultimatum without bellicose threatening."

A discordant note is sounded by the few German-American papers. One of these, The Illinois Staats-Zeitung, published at Chicago, charges that the United States government "had a secret agreement with England to force a break with Germany," and expresses the hope that "Germany will not blame the people for the present government's action."

Chicago Herald: President Wilson's third note to the German government, as the results of its methods of submarine warfare is couched in the language that a self-respecting man uses to a friend whose acts have wronged him and in the language which no intelligent man would resent from a neighbor whose friendship he valued.

St. Louis Republic: The third American note to Berlin leaves nothing to be desired in plainness of speech. In this note speak at once the will, the thought, the heart of America. Come what may, the nation will stand upon it as one man.

Globe-Democrat: The note briefly and succinctly declares that the German position is untenable either in law or justice. There can be no misunderstanding of this note. It is as plain as a pikestaff.

The Chicago Tribune: The reply of the government to the latest German note appears to be final, so far as the American contentions of law and right are concerned. There can now be no doubt of the duty of press and public and that is to accept the stand taken by the government without cavil or reservation.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: It is a great American charter of rights. It is broader than any specific act or event in the scope of principles it enunciates. It is the declaration representing, to the last word, the sentiment of a free people, who know their rights, have determined to defend them, and though

TEXT OF AMERICAN NOTE DELIVERED TO GERMANY

Washington, July 24.—Following is the official text of the latest American note to Germany regarding submarine warfare, which was delivered to the foreign office at Berlin today by Ambassador Gerard:

The Secretary of State to Ambassador Gerard.—(Telegram.)—Department of State, Washington, July 21, 1915.—You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the minister for foreign affairs:

The note of the imperial German government dated the 8th of July, 1915, has received the careful consideration of the government of the United States and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real differences between the two governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually set them aside.

Illegality Admitted by Germany.

The government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the imperial German government recognizes without reservation the validity of the principles insisted on in the several communications which this government had addressed to the imperial German government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas—the principle that the high seas are free, that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before she can lawfully be seized or destroyed, and that the lives of non-combatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless the vessel resists or seeks to escape after being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal.

The government of the United States is, however, keenly disappointed to find that the imperial German government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral commerce.

German Attack on Britain Irrelevant.

The imperial German government will readily understand that the government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade except with that government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the imperial German government of what this government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German naval commanders.

Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right to life itself. If the belligerent cannot retaliate against an enemy without injuring the lives of neutrals, as well as their property, humanity, as well as justice and a due regard for the dignity of neutral powers, should dictate that the practice be discontinued. If persisted in it would in such circumstances constitute an unpardonable offense against the sovereignty of the neutral nation affected.

No American Rights Can Be Abated.

The government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by this war or of the radical alterations of circumstance and method of attack produced by the use of instrumentalities of naval warfare which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea; but it cannot consent to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstance. The rights of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct such submarine operations as have characterized the activity of the imperial German navy within the so-called war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare. The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief cause of offense.

Disavowal and Reparation for Lusitania.

In view of the admission of illegality made by the imperial government when it pleaded the right of retaliation in defense of its acts, and in view of the manifest possibility of conforming to the established rules of naval warfare, the government of the United States cannot believe that the imperial government will longer refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act.

The government of the United States, while not indifferent to the friendly spirit in which it is made, cannot accept the suggestion of the imperial German government that certain vessels be designated and agreed upon which shall be free on the seas now illegally proscribed. The very agreement would, by implication, subject other vessels to illegal attack and would be a curtailment and therefore an abandonment of the principles for which this government contends and which in times of calmer counsels every nation would concede as of course.

For the Freedom of the Seas.

The government of the United States and the imperial German government are contending for the same great object, have long stood together in urging the very principles upon which the government of the United States now so solemnly insists. They are both contending for the freedom of the seas. The government of the United States will continue to contend for that freedom, from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost. It invites the practical co-operation of the imperial German government at this time when co-operation may accomplish most and this great common object be most strikingly and effectively achieved.

The imperial German government expresses the hope that this object may be in some measure accomplished even before the present war ends. It can be. The government of the United States not only feels obliged to insist upon it, by whomsoever violated or ignored, in the protection of its own citizens, but is also deeply interested in seeing it made practicable between the belligerents themselves, and holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who may be privileged to suggest a way.

Solemn Warning Given Germany.

In the meantime the very value which this government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship between the people and government of the United States and the people and government of the German nation impels it to press very solemnly upon the imperial German government the necessity for a scrupulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter. Friendship itself prompts it to say to the imperial government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly.

LANSING.

ANOTHER VIOLATION WILL BE REGARDED AS DELIBERATELY UNFRIENDLY ACT

In Official and Diplomatic Quarters the Note Is Regarded as the Strongest and Most Emphatic Pronouncement Yet Made by United States.

UNITED STATES FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM OF SEAS WITHOUT COMPROMISE

And Fight Will Be Continued "At Any Cost." Sinking of the Lusitania Termed a Wanton and Illegal Act, and Germany Is Again Asked for Disavowal and Reparation — Note Concludes With Solemn Warning to Germany Not to Offend Again.

Washington, July 23.—The American note on submarine warfare, presented to Berlin today by Ambassador Gerard, was made public here tonight. It reveals that Germany has been informed it is the intention of the United States to regard as "deliberately unfriendly" any repetition by German naval commanders of acts in contravention of American rights.

The United States announces it will continue to contend for the freedom of the seas, "from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost."

NOTE REGARDED AS EMPHATIC.

In official and diplomatic quarters the communication was viewed as the strongest and most emphatic pronouncement by the Washington government since the beginning of its correspondence with the European belligerents.

President Wilson returned to Cornish, N. H., tonight.

On the assumption that Germany already has admitted the illegality of her practices by attempting to justify them as retaliatory moves against Great Britain, the United States expresses that belief that Germany no longer will refrain from disavowing

the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act."

READY TO ACT AS COMMON FRIEND.

Referring to the German expression of hope in its last note that the freedom of the seas may be established in some measure before the end of the war, the United States declares this object can be accomplished and invites the practical co-operation of Germany. The American government adds, moreover, that it "holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who may be privileged to suggest a way" to assist in establishing the freedom of the seas.

The German note of July 8 is declared "very unsatisfactory because it fails to meet the real differences between the two governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of laws and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes on the contrary arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually set them aside."

INHUMAN ACTS INDEFENSIBLE.

Contending that "the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal," the United States then argues that it cannot discuss actions of Great Britain with Germany and it regards as "irrelevant" in the present negotiations mention of the conduct of other belligerents.

"Illegal and inhuman acts," says the note, "however justifiable they may be thought against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right of life itself."

Pointing out that a belligerent should give up its retaliation measures if unable to protect them "without injuring the lives of neutrals," the note declares that persistence in such measures under the circumstances would constitute an unpardonable offense against the sovereignty of the neutral nation affected.

AMERICAN RIGHTS MUST BE RESPECTED.

The United States, it is asserted further, "is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions" created by the present war and "is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea," but cannot consent "to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstance."

The note says that events of the two months clearly indicate that it is "possible and practicable" to conduct submarine operations "in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare."

The comment is added that the "whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction" at the demonstration of this fact by German naval commanders, and that it is "manifestly possible to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense."

NOTE DELIVERED TO GERMANY.

Berlin, July 23.—(Via London.)—The new American note to Germany was delivered to the foreign office by Ambassador Gerard at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Ambassador Gerard was closeted with Foreign Minister von Jagow for a half hour. They discussed informally several aspects of the note. The ambassador afterward declined to say anything for publication.

Presentation of the note was an informal ceremony. Ambassador Gerard rolled the document in a copy of an engineering magazine and walked with it in his hand across the square from the embassy to the foreign office, where of late he has been so frequent a visitor that a preliminary appointment scarcely was necessary.

The transmission of the note was accomplished this time without mishap. The last note was delayed several hours in transit.

The few officials of the foreign office who have seen the latest American note concerning Germany's submarine warfare, which was received today, asked to be excused from commenting until they had had an opportunity to digest its contents carefully.

Herr von Jagow, the foreign minister, took the document from American Ambassador Gerard and made a direct report on it to Kaiser Wilhelm-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor. The note probably will be published in Germany some time tomorrow. It was sent this afternoon to the foreign office manifolders, who made a number of copies of it. The work of translating it into German then began.

Newspapers here have published the British forecasts on the note, but refrain from commenting until they have received the official text.

COPY OF NOTE FOR BERNSTORFF.

Washington, July 23.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, went to the state department today for his official copy of the new American note to Germany, although he previously had received an unofficial outline of its contents.

The ambassador has had no communication with his foreign office on its view of the note, but his personal view is that the communication will bring a reply, although one may not be made for more than a month. His personal view is that the situation still is left open for amicable adjustment.

Count Bernstorff discussed the note informally with Secretary Lansing. Being without instructions, he made no suggestion as to what course his government would pursue.

In that part of the note which speaks of the "satisfaction" with which the whole world has witnessed the modification of German submarine warfare the ambassador, it is understood, saw an expression that probably would be well received in Germany because it made plain what has hitherto been a subject of doubt, that the United States was not insisting on the complete abandonment by Germany of her submarine warfare.

The object of the ambassador's visit was to discuss in detail the meaning of some of the passages in the note so he might inform his government.

GERMANY TO BE ASKED ABOUT ORDUNA CASE.

Washington, July 23.—The United States will make diplomatic inquiries of Germany regarding the submarine attack on the Cunard liner Orduna at a time when she was bringing scores of Americans home.

A report of an investigation conducted by Customs Collector Malone at New York, presented today to the state department, embracing affidavits of officers, crew and passengers on the liner, contains the sworn statement that at least one American passenger that the ship was attacked without warning.

All officials refused to discuss the report or its contents, but it is known that state department officials did not feel they could address inquiries to Germany on the statements made by British passengers alone. Now, in possession of statements by Americans, the United States probably will ask the Berlin foreign office for its version.

It was understood that one of the affidavits was by an American who swears he saw the torpedo pass the stern of the Orduna and that he also saw the shells fired at the ship strike the water. Treasury officials, however, declined to comment on that.

NOTE TO BRITAIN NEARLY READY.

Washington, July 23.—The new American note to Great Britain protesting further against interference with commerce between the United States and neutral nations was almost finished today at a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. It will go to London probably next week.

The note has been delayed partly because of the president's desire to complete the last German note before taking up the issue with Great Britain, and partly because of developments in the British situation.

GOMPERS INDORSES BRIDGEPORT STRIKE

He Asserts "German Influences" Are at Work, But Not at Bridgeport.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 23.—After a day of conferences with heads of international labor unions here, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced tonight that his organization indorsed demands made in the strike in the plants of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company and sub-contractors manufacturing war munitions for the allies. He further announced that he did not refer to Bridgeport in making his statement about "German influences," and that he did not believe the strike leaders had been influenced in any manner.

Gompers gave out the following formal statement tonight:

"The conference, after a thorough discussion of the industrial dispute existing in Bridgeport, has reached the unanimous conclusion that the demands made by the trades primarily interested are reasonable and just, and are, therefore, indorsed, and, if necessary, every possible assistance to secure the demands will be given by the American Federation of Labor."

Of the charge that German funds had influenced the strikers Gompers said:

"The newspapers have exaggerated my remarks somewhat. What I did say was that efforts of a foreign nation were at work to corrupt seamen and longshoremen to go on strike and refuse to handle all products going to the allies. I made no reference to Bridgeport. I stated that I haven't any hesitancy in believing that the same influences are at work elsewhere and for the same purpose. That statement was made by me before the Bridgeport trouble occurred. When the time shall come for me to speak more definitely I shall do so."

Of a report that a woman had offered him a big sum of money to tie up ammunition manufacturing plants of the United States, Gompers declined to speak, saying it was a matter which might come up in due time.

1,800 LONGSHOREMEN DEMAND MORE MONEY

New York, July 23.—Michael J. Hagan, of the state department of labor, and six representatives of the longshoremen on strike here, conferred today with H. H. Raymond, president of the Clyde Steamship company, on a possible settlement.

There are about 1,800 longshoremen on strike, demanding 33 cents an hour for day work, 50 cents for overtime and 60 cents for Sundays and holidays. The present scale is 30 cents an hour for day work and 35 cents an hour for overtime, Sundays and holidays.

The strikers' committee made no headway toward a settlement at the conference with Mr. Raymond. He told them the company could not afford to even consider paying the wages asked. The strikers, when the committee reported, voted to remain out, and it was stated that efforts would be made to have the longshoremen of the Old Dominion and Savannah lines, about 3,000 in number, join those of the Clyde and Mallory lines.

DESTROYER ERICSSON ALMOST SUNK AT SLIP

Philadelphia, Pa., July 23.—The United States torpedo boat destroyer Ericsson was almost sunk at her slip in the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J., Tuesday night by the opening of a sea cock which flooded two compartments of the vessel.

According to a report tonight, the Ericsson's decks were within a few feet of the water when workmen arrived at the yards Wednesday morning. The most powerful pumps obtainable had to be used before the vessel could be pumped clear of the water.

Officials at the yard would not discuss the accident, but it was admitted there that the vessel had been flooded, although it was stated that the water came from a hose. The Ericsson, which recently successfully completed her official trial trip, was said to have been undamaged by the flooding.

The battleship Oklahoma was damaged at the same yard Tuesday night by a mysterious fire.

AUTO GOES OVER BANK; 2 PERSONS LOSE LIVES

Memphis, Tenn., July 23.—Francis L. Bray, aged 21, and Miss May Daly, 22, were killed instantly, when an automobile in which they were riding late last night plunged over a high embankment in Riverside park, near here.

The bodies were not discovered until early today. Bray's neck was broken when he was pinned beneath the car, and Miss Daly was thrown from the car against a tree.

ITALY IS PREPARING FOR WAR WITH TURKEY

Relations Strained and Declaration of Hostilities Expected in Near Future.

Rome, July 23.—(Via Paris.)—Diplomatic relations between Italy and Turkey, already strained, are becoming more tense because of the reported refusal of the Turkish authorities to permit Italian subjects to leave the Ottoman empire. It is believed here that a declaration of war by Italy in the near future is highly probable.

Reports from Cairo that a Turkish-German expedition has landed on Italian territory in Tripoli has aroused the ire of the Italian press.

Rome also has heard that a large number of Italian reservists have been detained at Smyrna on the pretense that passenger traffic has been stopped because of the port being closed, while other Italians are similarly detained at various points in Asia Minor, Syria and Arabia.

Although Italy is at war with Austria, there has been no declaration of hostilities against either Germany or Turkey, the allies of Italy's antagonist. It has been the belief in diplomatic circles that each side is waiting for the other to take the initiative and thus assume the responsibility for extending the scope of the conflict.

CAPTOR IS CAPTURED ERE HE GETS RANSOM

With $6,000 in Gold in Sight, Abductor of Empey Is Taken by Cowboys.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, July 23.—Cowboys late tonight captured the abductor of Ernest Empey, a wealthy rancher kidnaped several days ago and held for $6,000 ransom, according to a report received here. The bandit, it is said, came down from Sheep mountain at nightfall and was taken.

Empey escaped late today as his captor slept in a hut on Sheep mountain, five miles from Empey's ranch, where he had been taken at the point of a rifle. According to a report from Montpelier, Empey recognized his abductor as a man employed on his ranch five years ago.

Six thousand dollars in gold was taken late today to the spot indicated by the abductor for payment some time tonight for the release of the cattleman.

LAST DITCH FIGHT TO KEEP C. BECKER FROM DEATH CHAIR

Condemned Man's Attorneys Secure Order Requiring State to Show Why a New Trial Should Not Be Granted.

BLAME FOR THE MURDER SHIFTED TO SULLIVAN

Attorneys Allege That Becker Has Placed Own Foot on Scaffold by Keeping Promise to Shield the Late New York Leader.

New York, July 23.—An order directing the state to show cause why a motion for a new trial should not be granted to Charles Becker, sentenced to die Wednesday, was signed by Supreme Court Justice Philbin here today. The order is returnable Monday, in the supreme court before Justice Ford. District Attorney Charles A. Perkins will oppose the motion.

The last effort to save the life of the former police lieutenant, twice convicted for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was made by W. Bourke Cockran, his chief counsel, who placed before Justice Philbin affidavits and what he said was newly discovered evidence.

Becker Willing to Be Quizzed.

Stating that by his silence in keeping a promise to shield the late Timothy D. Sullivan, Becker "has placed his own foot on the scaffold," Cockran declared that Becker was willing to face a cross-examination without any limitations or imposing any conditions.

In the petition are affidavits from three attorneys associated at various times with Becker's defense, which show that they never had known of Sullivan's interest in Rosenthal, as revealed in Becker's appeal to Governor Whitman and later substantiated by Harry Applebaum, Sullivan's secretary.

An affidavit from Rev. James B. Curry, who frequently saw Becker in the Tombs, is embodied in the papers. Father Curry swore that two years ago Becker confided to him the same story he gave out in his appeal to the governor. Father Curry said he tried to persuade Becker to tell his counsel about Sullivan, but he refused.

Jack Rose's Statement.

Jack Rose's statement confirming Becker's story about meeting Sullivan and Applebaum at the Circle theater 24 hours before the murder of Rosenthal, is in the new evidence. Rose, detailing his movements, in the two Becker trials never mentioned this, but testified that at the time he was asleep in his home.

Cockran said as Sullivan made no affidavit before he died he would ask Justice Ford to cite Harry Applebaum so that he may be questioned as to the bribery fund Becker said was collected to spirit Rosenthal from the jurisdiction of the state.

Edward Ginty, formerly a deputy sheriff, in an affidavit, says that Rose told him that Rosenthal should not live because he killed and that he had $6,000 to give the gambler to leave town.

Benjamin H. Kaufmann made an affidavit that he had been with Rosenthal on the night before the shooting and that Rosenthal told him that the next day he would have $15,000 and was going away.

Says Becker Was "Framed Up."

In another affidavit Louis Harris, a gambler, said that Rose confided to him that Becker was "framed up." Harris swore that Rose said to him that he had framed Becker because "Whitman wanted some one" and that he "gave him Becker."

A letter from Joseph Murphy, a prisoner in the Tombs in July, 1912, says he heard Webber, Rose and Vallon in cells adjoining, conspiring to "frame" Becker.

Another letter is from Harford T. Marshal, Bridgie Webber's attorney. Marshall says he refused to act as counsel for Webber when Webber informed him that Becker was innocent and that they had to "frame him" to save themselves.

An affidavit by Becker is embodied in the petition. In it the former police lieutenant says that there was abundant evidence in the district attorney's office as to the guilt of Rose, Vallon and Webber and claim that now he cannot get an unprejudiced review of his case by the governor, for the man who prosecuted him is now the chief executive.

MRS. CARROLL LOSES POLICE COURT FIGHT

The trial of Mrs. B. E. Carroll, of 42 Walton street, a rooming house, which has occupied the attention of Recorder George E. Johnson for a week, beginning last Saturday, and having four afternoon sessions this week, was ended last night when Judge Johnson announced he would bind Mrs. Carroll over on the specific charge of running a disorderly house.

Dr. Horace Grant, a well-known renting agent, testified that No. 42 Walton was the worst disorderly house that had ever existed in Atlanta, even "when the red light" district was open.

Mrs. Carroll's bond was not assessed last night by Judge Johnson, postponement being made today, when the lawyers stated to the court that they were not prepared to give bond, having expected an acquittal at the hands of the court. Judge Johnson will assess her bond today.

General Salazar in Pen.

Santa Fe, N. M., July 22.—General Jose Ynes Salazar today was placed in the New Mexico penitentiary here. It is stated that in addition to the perjury charge on which he is held, he may be charged with conspiracy to liberate himself.

TEUTONS ARE DRIVING AT POLISH CAPITAL

army is advancing toward the Lublin-Chelm railroad, has about reached a climax. Here the Germans claim to have broken the obstinate resistance of the Russians at several points.

RUSSIANS HOLD STRONG POSITIONS.

The Russians, however, have had lots of time to prepare defensive positions, and it is believed they will make every effort to hold them until, if necessary, they can withdraw from Warsaw. South of Warsaw, in front of Ivangorod, the Russians have retired to the Vistula river, which, with its forts and no bridges, it is believed, must form a barrier the Austrians and Germans will find difficult to overcome.

The northern Germany army, under Von Hindenburg, also is reported to have made progress, but it is stated that it has not yet crossed the Narew river, another natural defense of the Russian triangle behind the Polish capital. In fact, all along this front the Russians have resumed counter attacks from Novogeorgievsk, but none, the Germans say, failed. Before Rozan, another river fortress, the Germans declare they have taken up fortified villages and captured prisoners.

The question is rapidly settled as to whether Grand Duke Nicholas will accept a decisive battle or simply is trying to insnare the enemy as far as possible before withdrawing from Warsaw and Ivangorod, but the Germans say, failed. Before Rozan, another river fortress, the Germans declare they have taken up fortified villages and captured prisoners.

The question is rapidly settled as to whether Grand Duke Nicholas will accept a decisive battle or simply is trying to insnare the enemy as far as possible before withdrawing from Warsaw and Ivangorod, but the Germans say, failed. Before Rozan, another river fortress, the Germans declare they have taken up fortified villages and captured prisoners.

HARD FIGHTING ON WEST FRONT.

Severe fighting continues in the west. It is reported unofficially that the Germans are massing troops at St. Mihiel, but official communications indicate no serious engagement yet. That the Germans will attack here is considered likely by the military observers, who asserts that the German crown prince's recent activity indicates they hope to weaken the French hold on Verdun.

In the Austro-Italian theater the Italians claim to be meeting with success in their campaign along the Isonzo front, but Vienna disputes this. On the Carso front Rome says an enemy attack was repulsed and against an Austrian attack ended in a break down for the Austrians, who lost 1,500 prisoners.

RUSSIANS FIGHT ON THREE FRONTS.

Petrograd, July 23.—(Via London.)—Field Marshal von Mackensen, operating between the Bug and the Vistula, continues his sledge hammer blows against the Cholm-Lublin line of the Russians, directing the force principally against Lublin. His immediate objectives are Belzyce, Travnikl, Vossiavitze and Grubechow.

Of only slightly less importance in the region are the battles on the Bug between Krylow and Dobrotovra. West of Warsaw the Russians have moved back to their second line at Blonie and Nadarzyn and in front of Ivangorod. These positions are regarded as the strongest in the Russian line. The Germans assaulted them furiously in two former campaigns, but were unable to breach them.

To the northward battles are raging at Novo Georgievsk and along the entire Narew line, which embraced Pultusk and Rozan, commanding the crossing in the bend of the river, Ostrolenka and Lomza.

On the Niemen front the fighting is concentrated at Kosiovaruda, southwest of Kovno, on the road to Gumbinnen.

In the Baltic region the Germans are seeking battle with the Russians' main forces between Mitau and Shavli.

The Germans appear to be closely coordinating these separate movements. The general battle on the three fronts near Warsaw is regarded by Russian military critics as the most important of any struggle heretofore in the east. They compare the entire circumscribed region to a great fortress.

The central idea of the German campaign is assumed to be to get control of the Vistula line. With this strong natural barrier adequately fortified, military critics say, Germany might hope to keep Russia in check with comparatively small forces and then throw her entire weight against France.

BATTLE GROWS MORE FURIOUS.

Petrograd, July 23.—(11 p. m., via London, July 24, 3:43 a. m.)—The three front battle for Warsaw is growing more furious. On July 22 the Germans smashed the entanglements at Gniewoszew, 6 miles southwest of Ivangorod, but a determined counter-attack is said to have hurled them back with heavy losses.

On July 21 the Germans in the center of the Lublin-Cheim line suffered cruelly in assaults on the Piaski, Volavlitsa and Grubechow positions. They occupied Russian trenches over a wide front and proceeded to advance northward of the Voisiavitze, but it is stated, the Russians that night drove them back with much loss, taking 500 prisoners.

The Germans July 22 regained some of the ground thus lost. The battle in the Cholm region has proceeded for ten days with unabated fury, though the Russians claim the Germans have been greatly weakened and that they are approaching the limit of endurance. The Germans are reported to have abandoned attacks in the direction of Relovets.

On the river Bug, in the region of Sokal, the Russians continue meeting offensive with offensive. On the night before July 22, dispatches say, they seized several lines of German trenches, and on the 22d drove the Teutons to the outskirts of Sokal. In a counter-attack the Austrians surrendered remnants of the Tenth Jaegar battalion with its commander. On the afternoon of the 21st the Austro-German forces occupied Dobrotovra, but were driven out in the evening, leaving several hundred prisoners.

The fight for Rozan and a crossing of the Narew continues with unabated fury.

Meanwhile the Germans have begun active operations east of Rossieny, which is taken as additional evidence of a German effort to dove-tail all operations in the east.

FRENCH FAIL, GERMANS SAY.

Berlin, July 23.—(Via London.)—The war office statement today says:

"Western theater:

"Hand grenade attacks of the enemy north and northwest of Souchez were repulsed. In the Champagne district we successfully blew up several mines and occupied the borders of the openings thus made.

"In the forest of Le Pretre a French night attack failed. In the Vosges fighting is proceeding. An enemy attack against the Lingekopf-Barrenkopf line north of Munster was repulsed after severe fighting at close quarters. We captured two officers and sixty-four Alpine troops.

"A French attack against Reichackerkopf also was unsuccessful. Near Metzeral we ejected the French from their advanced positions which, according to our plan, we evacuated in order to avoid losses.

"As a reprisal for the repeated bombardment of Thiaucourt and other places between the Meuse and the Moselle our artillery yesterday bombarded Pont-a-Mousson. Our airmen dropped bombs on the railway triangle at St. Hilaire in Champagne, and forced the airmen of the enemy to retreat. The barracks at Gerardmor also was bombarded. In an aerial flight over Conflans we destroyed a battle aeroplane to the enemy.

"Eastern theater:

"In Courland there is continual fighting. We are pursuing eastwards the retreating Russians. Yesterday we captured three machine guns and many munition cars and field kitchens.

"Our troops advanced closer to the Narew bridgehead position. Before Rozan we stormed at the point of the bayonet the village of Milany and the fortification at 127r1. At the latter place we captured 290 prisoners. Night sorties from Novogeorgievsk failed.

"Southeastern theater:

"The west bank of the Vistula was cleared of the enemy from Janowitez west of Kazmiers to Granica. In the wooded ground southeast of Kosienice fighting is proceeding with Russian rear guards.

"Between the Vistula and the Bug the Teutonic allies succeeded in breaking the obstinate resistance of the enemy at several points, and forced the Russians to retreat.

"Lingekopf and Barrenkopf are three and four kilometers, respectively, north of Muenster. Granig is ten kilometers south of Ivangorod."

HARD FIGHTING IN SOUTH POLAND.

Vienna, July 23.—(Via London.)—An official communication issued today says:

"The fighting in south Poland, in Volhynia and on the Upper Bug river continues. The enemy sent strong forces against the Bug from Kamionka Strumilowa and Krystynopol to Sokal, where we have established some bridgeheads on the east bank.

"The enemy advanced at some points to within three hundred paces of our trenches and at other points there was hand-to-hand fighting. The Russians were everywhere repulsed with heavy losses.

"Southeast of Sokal a battalion of field chasseurs captured three officers and 242 men.

"Northeast of Grubechow the German forces have made important progress between the Bystrina and Vistula rivers. Archduke Joseph Ferdinand's army has repulsed the enemy at Belzyce and across the Wronow river.

"West of the Vistula from the south of the Pilica and up the river the allies have advanced to the Vistula girdle of Ivangorod.

"Near Kosienice (sixty-five miles northwest of Sandomiers) our troops had an engagement with Russian rear guards.

"On the other parts of the front, the situation is unchanged."

RUSSIANS SHOW GREAT BRAVERY.

Berlin, July 23.—(Via London.)—A Vienna dispatch to The National Zeitung says that the Russian attempt to stop the Teutonic advance in the critical battle south of the Lublin-Cholm railroad, southeast of Warsaw, has failed.

The Russian southwestern front is seriously menaced, the dispatch declares. The railroad line running through Ivangorod, Lublin and Cholm now is only a few miles north of the Teutonic lines and capture of Lublin and Cholm is said to be a question of only a brief time.

The correspondent of The National Zeitung at Tarnow, Galicia, while reporting that the Austro-German forces are advancing steadily, points out that there are many difficulties. He says the Russians have to contend with a lack of ammunition, but the statement that their morale and bravery is unbroken. They are displaying the greatest bravery and endurance, he says, even in case of contingents without higher officers do they surrender readily.

At Krasnik, 24 miles south of Lublin, there occurred an engagement at close quarters which was unusually desperate and deadly. The Russians awaited their attacking opponents and resisted them with the bayonet. They had assembled strong reserves. It was necessary literally to throw the Russians from their trenches.

Lack of good roads in Poland presents another disadvantage for the invaders. Deep sand makes army movements slow. Ten to twelve teams of horses must be utilized to draw heavy guns.

Bitter rear guard conflicts mark the slow retirement of the Russians in south Poland. They give way only one step at a time. The correspondent says their achievements, in view of their lack of ammunition, are remarkable.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

Paris, July 23.—(Via London.)—Tonight's war statement said:

"Today was comparatively quiet along this whole front.

"In Artois there was the usual artillery activity on both sides.

"Some shells were fired on the suburbs of Soissons and on Rheims.

"In the forest of Le Prete in the course of last night we regained a footing in the line of trenches previously lost. Two German counter attacks were repulsed with considerable losses to the enemy.

"One of our flying squadrons employed on bombardment duties yesterday dropped 18 projectiles on the railway station at Conflans, in Jarnisy, and forced a few German aeroplanes to alight in their lines."

Liner Cymric Sails

New York, July 23.—The White Star liner Cymric sailed for Liverpool today with a 16,000-ton cargo and 52 cabin and 1,200 steerage passengers. Only one of the passengers is an American. The big cargo includes war supplies for Great Britain.

ITALIANS GAINING ON ISONZO FRONT

Success of Invaders Becoming Clearly Apparent—Italian Guns Mow Down Austrian Columns.

Rome, July 23.—(Via London, July 24, 12:29 a. m.)—This official communication was issued today:

"The battle continues along the whole of the Isonzo front and the success of our armies is constantly becoming more clearly apparent.

"In the Monte Nero sector our Alpine troops have begun an advance along the difficult Muskica ridge. The enemy offered vigorous resistance, but our troops succeeded in wresting from him some of his most advanced points, inflicting heavy losses.

"Our slow progress continues on the front of Plava and Gorizia. Further entrenchments have been carried here and new material added.

"There was heavy fighting on the Carso front the night of the 22d and the following day. The enemy, after violent artillery preparations and being reinforced, hurled dense masses against our front, particularly on our left. Our first line, despite a previous long struggle, succeeded in arresting the shock and the subsequent arrival of our own reinforcements enabled us to make an energetic counter offensive which ended in a veritable debacle for the enemy.

"Our gunners mowed down the hostile columns, while our infantry attacked at close quarters, followed by an enveloping movement captured 1,500 prisoners, including 76 officers. The battlefield was covered with dead."

ITALIANS REPULSED, AUSTRIANS REPORT.

Vienna, July 23.—(Via London.)—The Austrian war office tonight issued the following in regard to operations on the Italian front:

"The battle near Gorizia continues. The Italians yesterday bombarded moderately the bridgehead of Gorizia. The attack on Monte Sabotino was repulsed and our troops regained, without exception, their original positions at the bridgehead. During the repulse of numerous hostile attacks the Dalmatian landwehr again particularly distinguished themselves.

"Fighting continued on the edge of the Doberdo plateau. Last night the Italians thrice attacked the Peteano-Sdraussina sector. All the attacks were repulsed.

"A hostile attempt to advance upon our trenches between Sdraussina and Polazzo was unsuccessful. The last Italian attacks near Selz and Vermigliano against Monte Corisch were in vain.

"In the middle Isonzo there were only artillery engagements. In the Krn region our troops yesterday and last night and again today repulsed attacks.

"Nothing of importance has occurred in the Carnia-Tyrolean frontier regions. Night attacks by Italians on Monte Piano miscarried. Artillery firing continues at several points."

A Distinguished Little Group of Hats For Early Fall

The Most Charming Models Immaginable

An air of freshness and newness permeates the Millinery Section.

A just-arrived group of fall hats brings into prominence those elements of fashion that you are going to hear more about,—quite a bit more—as the season grows older.

We speak of

The Silk and Panne Combinations, The Silk and Plush Combinations

in black, black-and-white and crow blue.

But the point you are going to notice at once is the chaste grace of line, the unusual trimness and smartness of the tailored hats which extends not only to the lines of the "shape" but to the bows and the wings and feathers. Everything looks so neat—the small hats, the hats of medium size, the large sailors.

They Are Priced At $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.50, $13.00 to $15.00

SUMMER SOCIAL LIFE CENTERS AT THE CLUBS

The summer social life, which centers almost entirely at the several clubs, will have a feature of special brilliance in the dinner-dance announced for next Wednesday night on the roof of the Capital City club.

There has been nothing more enjoyable among the summer entertainments than the roof garden parties three times a week, and elaborate decoration, special music, souvenirs and a special menu will distinguish the Chinese evening.

The week-end gayeties at the clubs will include the usual tea-dances at Druid Hills club this afternoon, the tea and dinner-dance from 5:30 to 12 this evening at East Lake and music tomorrow evening at East Lake from 5:30 to 8:30.

With the mid-week dinner-dance at East Lake changed to Thursday nights, informal dinner-dances are now provided for at one of the clubs every night in the week except Tuesday, and tea-dances on Wednesday at the Driving club and Saturday at Druid Hills and East Lake.

Misses Hurt's House Party.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the past week was the week-end visit by a party of Atlantians at the estate of Misses Georgia and Clarice Hurt at their home in Hiram, Ga. Miss Bessie Hurt was hostess at a large party for the visitors Saturday evening. The Misses Hurt and their guests, with a number of other young people, spent Sunday at an all-day singing out from the house. The guests included Miss Nell Maddox, of Powder Springs, Ga.; Misses Hertha Crowell and Lucile Callahan, Messrs. R. H. Clark, H. J. Miller, A. V. Bolsius, J. W. McCann and Blakely Smith, all of Atlanta.

Children's "Movies."

The program this morning at the Grand, which consists of specially censored pictures for children, offers a variety of subjects. The feature of the morning is "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," the masterpiece of Eggleston, the famous writer.

"Little Billy's City Cousin," a children's comedy; "When Charley Was a Child," "Dance of the Malays;" "Cruise Off Florida Keys" and a very pretty scene called "An Intimate Knowledge of Birds." These bird studies always please the young people, therefore the committee in charge makes an effort to get nature studies. The matinees for adults in the audiences on Saturday mornings, besides the many hundred little ones who come, is sufficient evidence that "Children's Movies" are to be a permanent fixture in this city. It is suggested that the children be in their seats, if possible, at 9 o'clock, as it sometimes happens when the program is long that the first reels are not requested, and all pictures shown are worth seeing.

Only one more week remains for the prize contest. On the last Saturday in August the attractive red auto on display at the Grand will be awarded to the girl or boy who has sent in the best story entitled, "Children's Movies, Why I Like Them and Want Them to Stay in Atlanta." Children 16 and under are eligible to enter the contest. Send the story, with your name, age and address, to the "Contest Judges," 66 Moreland avenue.

ATLANTA BOY TO MAKE DEBUT AT ALPHA TODAY

No. it's not Charlie Chapman, but it looks enough like him to make the majority of people think it is the real thing. Leon Sugarman, an Atlanta boy living at 351 Central avenue, has never seen Charlie Chaplin, but has made a close study of his antics on the screen.

He is about of the same stature and with the Chaplin make-up and Chaplin mannerisms, looks enough like him to be his twin.

It is Mr. Sugarman's ambition to go upon the stage and with that object in view will make his debut today at the Alpha theater, appearing at all performances during the afternoon and evening in an act with Billy Beard, who is just completing his third successful week at the popular Whitehall theater. The vehicle used by Billy is a song, "Those Chaplin Feet," furnishing Sugarman an opportunity to illustrate.

Mr. Sugarman has many friends in the city who predict for him a big success.

CITY HALL GOSSIP

BY A. CLOYD GILL

Maddox to Aid Park.

Robert F. Maddox, mayor of Atlanta when Maddox Park was acquired, and for whom the park was named, notified the park department Friday that he had engaged Robert B. Cridland, the Philadelphia landscape architect, in charge of the Southeastern fair project at Lakewood Park, to make a survey and plans for the development of the park. He will bear the entire expense and the proposed plans will be followed by the park department in the development of Maddox Park. The lake at the park has been completed and is now proving quite popular with the people of the North ward. A number of tennis courts are being graded and other improvements are contemplated.

Mayor to Sign Resolution.

Mayor Woodward stated Friday that he would sign a resolution offered by Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, passed by general council Thursday, providing for a committee of five to confer with the county board with a view to securing an annual appropriation from the county for Grady hospital. The mayor said he would also name the committee and hoped they would work out some plan by which county aid could be secured for Grady.

Mayson Preparing Bond Ordinance.

The resolution passed by general council Thursday providing for an ordinance calling an election for $1,250,000 bonds for municipal improvements, has been transmitted to City Attorney James L. Mayson, who is preparing the necessary ordinance. Members of general council have not decided what the question of a favorable date for holding the election and it is probable they will make some recommendation to the city attorney along this line so that the date can be fixed in the ordinance. Mayor Woodward has announced that he will sign the resolution ordering the ordinance, and he stated that if the people wanted bonds for the purpose he was speaking for $10,000,000 worth of bonds, and let the people decide what items they desired to pass.

Dallas an Census Taker.

Councilman Sim Dallas, of the seventh ward, who is in line to succeed himself and who is opposed by J. N. Landers, member of the health board, stated Friday that he was making his second race he had become acquainted with every man, woman and child in the seventh ward, and would ask for a position with the census department when Atlanta is again considered by the census bureau. He explained that he would not apply for the job until he has served another term in general council.

No Tax Increase Expected.

Indications Friday were that the resolution introduced in the board of education Thursday by W. H. Terrell providing for an increase in the city tax will not be considered by general council. Alderman Jesse Armistead, who was one of the first advocates of this measure, stated he anticipated it would get no support in general council if it were introduced. The resolution in question provides for a charter amendment striking from the charter that section which fixes the city tax rate at $13.25 per $100. The idea behind the plan is to have the section stricken so that a sliding scale of taxes can be had. This would give general council the right to raise the tax rate when funds were needed for public improvements.

Proposes Towers at Lakes.

Councilman Bill Johnson, of the fifth ward, has made a request of the park department for a tower at least 50 feet high in Clara Mere lake, at Piedmont park, and similar tower in Grace lake, at Maddox park. These towers are proposed for swimmers who are fancy divers. Park Manager Cochran stated that he would make an effort to install them next season.

Fountain at Battle Hill.

A handsome iron fountain has been donated to the Battle Hill Tuberculosis sanitarium by the park department, and it will be installed shortly by General Manager Zede Smith, of the waterworks department. The fountain will be located on the elevation directly in front of the sanitarium buildings, and around which is a pretty lawn.

Lucile Avenue School.

The first three feet of the brick walls for the Lucile avenue school have been completed and material is being placed on the ground for the work to rush the building to completion for use at the opening of school next fall. Work is also progressing on several other of the new school buildings, and the city purchasing department on next Monday will purchase a new automobile for the supervisor of buildings to be used in visiting the buildings and inspecting the work.

City May Buy School Books.

An ordinance is being prepared by Councilman Bill Johnson, of the fifth ward, providing that the city purchase the books for the children and loaned by the children of the public schools. He proposes for the department to furnish the books to the parents or guardians of the children at cost, plus the actual expenses of handling them. He is securing data on the matter, and expects to save patrons of the schools thousands of dollars annually.

Improving Moseley Park.

A big crew of workmen is engaged in clearing the undergrowth and blowing up stumps in Moseley park. All preliminary work is being done to the building of a municipal golf course at the park, and later a lake will be built on a site the park formerly used for that purpose. The site for the lake is completely encircled by large trees, and is expected to be one of the most attractive lakes in the city park system.

SPECIAL TAXES ARE DUE.

Must Pay by August 1 or Suffer Penalty.

Special taxpayers are reminded by the internal revenue agent, A. G. Blalock, that they must file returns and pay taxes covering the months commencing with July 1 to December 31, inclusive, before August 1 to escape the penalty of 50 per cent additional tax. Mr. Blalock states in this connection that many special taxpayers were penalized last November because of their failure to observe the emergency tax law of 1914. This penalty also applies to physicians, dentists and druggists, who are required to register under the Harrison narcotic law.

Those who come under the head of special taxes are bankers, brokers, theaters, moving picture shows, commission merchants, tobacco dealers, wholesale and retail liquor and malt liquor dealers, oleomargarine dealers, etc.

LETTER TO DR. MAY TELLS OF THE PLIGHT OF BELGIAN ORPHANS

Graphic descriptions of the plight of orphans near Ypres, Dixmude and places along the Belgian frontier, who are daily being carried to places of safety in France as soon as homes can be provided for them, are given in a letter to Dr. May from Comtesse Pierre de Viel Castel, who is one of the prominent ladies in the relief work abroad.

Many of these children are helpless hangers-on, the letter states, to groups of soldiers, in which father or elder brother are enlisted. Dr. May, chairman of the Georgia war relief committee for France and her allies, is exerting every effort to obtain funds for the establishment of homes for these children, that they may be properly reared until such a time may arrive when they may be returned to their relatives with safety.

"Train loads of children," the comtesse writes, "are being collected as in a drag net from points in the north of France and removed to safety, so that the soldiers can move forward when the advance begins. Many of these little hangers-on, whom they are feeding and worrying about. The Belgian military commandant told me that the children are being sent through the Belgian and French authorities, and that the children would be divided into groups of 100 each in Paris for further distribution in homes."

Dr. Ogden's Sermon.

At the Central Presbyterian church tomorrow morning Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden will preach on "The Shipwreck of the Apostle Paul." In the evening this congregation will unite with others in the open air service on the capitol grounds.

LIVE TO BE 100, SAYS SCIENTIST

Rid the World of One Thing and Every Other Man Becomes a Centenarian.

"How to prolong human life" is now a subject of world-wide discussion. One noted scientist asserts that if the world could be freed of one thing the average length of human life would bound up to the century mark. That one thing is stomach disorders.

The curse of modern civilization is stomach trouble. It and its train of official-mineral properties. Vitaltiss is extracted in condensed liquid form. Nothing is added to it—and it is free of any habit forming drugs or any harmful ingredients. It forces from the system many stomach disorders and ailments generally of liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. A invalid or delicate child may take it. Remarkable cures of chronic ills are constantly reported from its use. It is Nature's best tonic and corrective.

Talk with the demonstrator and sample Vitaltiss at Jacobs' Pharmacy. 21 Whitehall street, or write there for information.—(Adv.)

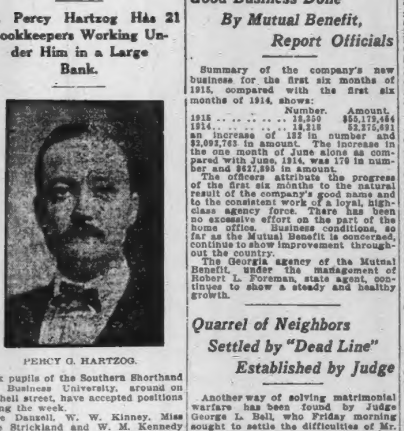
Mr. Percy Hartzog Has 21 Bookkeepers Working Under Him in a Large Bank.



PERCY G. HARTZOG.

Joe Dansell, W. W. Kinney, Miss Katie Strickland and W. M. Kennedy obtained, through the school, permanent places, and Miss Gaissert and Miss Curtis accepted temporary places.

The following letter from a former graduate of the Southern, Mr. Percy G. Hartzog, is very interesting:

"As a former pupil of the Southern Shorthand and Business University and remembering you in such grateful terms, thought possibly you would like to hear of some of my work since leaving you.

"I have had a position as bookkeeper in the First National Bank, Richmond, Va., for the past few years. There are twenty-one employed bookkeepers, and I have entire charge of the bill corps.

"The attendance of the Southern Business University is good, indeed, for the summer, and every week several new pupils are enrolled.

Applications for the fall session are coming in now, and prospects are flattering for a heavy enrollment.

MOB MAKES ATTACK UPON A. E. FREEMAN

At Least Dozen Shots Fired, But No One Is Injured During Fusillade.

The outgrowth of repeated threats upon his life and property, a mob attack was made upon A. E. Freeman at 62 Lake avenue, Friday morning shortly after midnight, and a pistol battle ensued.

Although at least a dozen shots were fired, no one apparently was injured. Freeman's store was damaged by rocks and other missiles flung by his assailants. He fled into the city, taking refuge in the Hotel Ansley.

Freeman has conducted a general grocery store at the Lake avenue address for a year or more. Trouble which was caused by legal action he took in attempts to collect accounts he said to have been responsible for the attack.

For the past month, he stated, he had been receiving threats from unknown sources. He paid no heed to them until Thursday night shortly before 12 o'clock, when some 4 mob began to collect in the neighborhood of his store.

This was spending the night across the street at the home of Mrs. Sallie Bush, 61 Lake avenue, when the caretaker while Mrs. Bush was in Grady hospital. At midnight he was roused from bed by loud outcries and the sound of damage being done to his store.

A number of shots were fired, and, it is alleged, the crowd of unknown men and boys learned Freeman was in the Bush residence, bullets were directed at that building. Freeman went to the window and fired a round of bullets into the mob, which, he said, was composed of perhaps a dozen men.

The mob, irate at this, was about to break into the Bush home, when a lone man made his escape through a rear door and fled swiftly, followed, chased by the crowd, who fired at him as he ran. His cries for help aroused the neighborhood, and the mob dispersed.

Good Business Done By Mutual Benefit, Report Officials

Summary of the company's new business for the first six months of 1915, compared with the first six months of 1914, shows:

	Number.	Amount.
1915	2,526	$5,178,664
1914	2,318	$2,575,691
an increase of	183 in number and
$2,602,973 in amount.

The increase in the one month of June alone as compared with June, 1914, was 170 in number and $627,895 in amount.

The officers attribute the progress of the first six months to the natural result of the company's good name and to the consistent work of a loyal, high-class agency force. There has been no excessive effort on the part of the home office. Business conditions, so far as the Mutual Benefit is concerned, continue to show improvement throughout the country.

The Georgia agency of the Mutual Benefit, under the management of Robert L. Foreman, state agent, continues to show a steady and healthy growth.

Quarrel of Neighbors Settled by "Dead Line" Established by Judge

Another way of solving matrimonial warfare has been found by Judge George L. Bell, who Friday morning heard the case of the differences of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L Moon by establishing a dead line between their two homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon, although estranged for considerable time, live in adjoining houses. A garden runs the length of both homes. Husband and wife came to frequent clashes over parts of the garden at the boundary line.

In the garden, was the cause of Friday's court action, Mrs. Moon having been cited before Judge Bell for pulling flowers beyond her allotted portion. Judge Bell settled matters by making the alley way that separates the two houses the "dead line."

A GOOD WORK.

The decision of the agricultural committee of the Georgia Bankers' association to extend the privileges of their educational loan fund to girls as well as to boys is just and progressive, and indicates a clear vision into the needs of rural life.

It was first thought that this fund, for the next few years, should be limited to boys, but later the committee decided to open it to both boys and girls, some of the members expressing their belief that one girl, after taking the special courses offered at state institutions, would be of more value to a community than two boys.

The special course referred to includes classes in house and body sanitation, hygiene, cooking and certain practical instruction in the care of the sick—all of these branches coming under the head of the sciences of the home which every woman should know.

In the many reports which have been made by federal and state agencies working for rural betterment, and by the National Commission on Country Life, the remedy suggested by all of them is to better the homes of the rural communities.

The men are being reached through farmers' institutes, school rallies and the extension work of the college of agriculture, but to reach the woman who keeps, conducts and has the responsibility of the home has proven the difficult phase of the problem.

State boards of health have pleaded for the instruction of women in the practical duties of the home. Half the diseases in rural communities, it is charged, are due to the semi-barbarous conditions existing in and around rural homes. Some people do not know how to live. They have the stock, the crops, the actual raw materials upon which to live, but there is not the adequate knowledge of how to conserve or utilize these material properties, and many homes, surrounded by plenty, have been impoverished through ignorance.

The girls' canning clubs have come as the voice in the wilderness leading to better things to the woman of the rural home. The government has awakened to her needs and is communicating directly with her through the "crop correspondents."

Through a provision of the Smith-Lever bill women are to share in the advantages of the appropriation through the state colleges of agriculture, and women experts and agents are to be sent to the rural communities with messages direct to the farm women.

And now, with the added aid of scholarships and loan funds which will bring the girl and the school intended for her together, the plan is complete that will in a short time prove the wisdom of the Georgia bankers, who believe that one well-equipped girl can be of more value to the community than two boys. The well-equipped girl means the well-equipped home, and the home represents the spirit of the community as it extends itself into the very life of the nation.

A NATIONAL DUTY.

The building and maintenance of levees in the valley of the Mississippi river for the purpose of flood prevention is unquestionably a national duty. It would seem that this work would come as clearly within the scope of federal action as the dredging of the river for the purposes of navigation. The people are surely as much entitled to national assistance in the protection of life and property over vast areas as in the building and extension of facilities for commerce.

Georgia's legislature has just passed a resolution pointing out the importance of unified and systematic action on the part of the federal government in affording this essential protection in the Mississippi valley, and indorsing the appeal to federal authorities to take over this work which, up to the present time, has been conducted by the people of the Mississippi valley states, who have already contributed $75,000,000 toward it and are now adding another $25,000,000 to that.

The people living in the territory affected are not asking for reclamation. They are ready and willing to take care of that feature themselves. All they ask of the government is that it take upon itself the work of confining the Mississippi within its banks and preventing the devastating floods which have been so destructive to life and property. All of the national political parties believe it is distinctly a federal problem, and President Wilson himself strongly favors it.

It remains simply a question for congress. The method of preventing floods in the Mississippi valley is a problem whose solution has already been attained. United States army engineers have completed plans showing conclusively that the carrying out of the levee system is the only simple and reliable means of protecting the valley and at the same time improving the river channel. Whatever is to be done in the matter must be done by congress. The time has come when congress can well afford to take this step, conscious of the fact that in so doing its action will meet with general public approval.

A FAVOR FROM ENGLAND.

We have been so busy insisting that England shall withdraw her illegal blockade against neutral commerce bound for neutral European ports that we are inclined to overlook the small favors England may render us.

Undoubtedly England has rendered us a favor in placing an embargo upon the exportation by her provinces of jute and jute bagging. While cotton would undoubtedly have supplanted jute for wrapping and baling purposes in the course of time, the transposition will now come more quickly.

Commending the action of the English government in the matter of the jute embargo, Fire and Fabric, a Boston textile publication, makes this comment:

> We have an abundance of short and damaged cotton in the south what is practically wasted. Such cotton would make perfect covering for everything that is now covered with jute, and the textile industry would have a new branch of manufacture that would call for thousands of new spindles and looms and the employment for many hundred hands now idle.
> Enterprising mill men now hard pushed to make ends meet, should grasp the opportunity offered by the jute embargo, and begin manufacturing cheap coverings for cotton, grain, etc., from the abundance of unmerchantable cotton now available.

This is exactly what The Constitution has been hammering at for years. We are standing in our own commercial light when we reject the available and better home product and go abroad for our bagging.

Exigencies of the war have brought cotton more and more into use in the shape of twine and bagging for various purposes; but it has only begun. Thousands of bales of the lower grades of cotton, best adapted to this purpose, might readily be consumed annually at an expense less than that involved in the importation of jute, or at least no greater. It would give the service, and would create a new factor in cotton consumption.

It is well for us, no doubt, that England has declared this embargo. We shall come more quickly to the adaptation of cotton to those uses to which it should long ago have been put. And once it has begun, there will be no return to jute.

A RECORD WORTH WHILE.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, the Southern railway made a record which is well worth the emulation of every transportation company in the country. With its thousands of miles covering southern territory between the Potomac and the Mississippi, upon which it handled during the year more than 16,500,000 passengers, there was killed but one of them, and he lost his life by standing upon the platform of a moving train against the company's rules.

There has been a disposition for some years past to "take it out on the railroads." They have gotten their full share of the knocks and the criticism, and sometimes more. On some occasions it was deserved and on others probably not.

But when a truly commendable thing is done, as in this case, it ought to be commended. The public knows little of the time and money and effort spent to provide adequate safeguards for those using the trains—a matter of duty, it is true, and yet it is the exception to find the duty so well and so effectively done.

It not only requires physical equipment, but well instructed and efficient train crews, adequately to safeguard the lives of passengers; and this year's record made by the Southern speaks well for those employees upon whom devolves the duty always of carrying out instructions and using discretion where discretion is needed in the avoiding of accident.

There are some short lines in the south which boast a record from year to year of never having killed a passenger; but with a vast system covering many thousands of miles a record like this is the exception.

It all goes to show that it can be done. Moreover, it is a duty to the public to do it. But there is always a sense of gratifying approval inspired by a duty that is well performed. The Southern's record has earned it the right to this recognition.

The editor of The Carlisle (Ky.) News tells of one of his misfortunes:

"While the editor and his family were asleep Saturday night a thief entered their sleeping room and took from the editor's pants pocket $3.50 in cash, some keys and his watch and a plug of Drummond tobacco. Ordinarily the thief would not have made such a rich haul, but unfortunately for us we had made some collections late Saturday, and he got the advantage of it."

Says It's a Search Warrant Bill.

Editor Constitution: I read with great interest the news article appearing in your paper of the 20th of July in which was introduced in the house by Messrs. Cooper and Parker of Ware and Pickren of Charlton, creating a commission known as the Western and Atlantic extension commission. This bill should pass, and every provision of it strictly complied with. The intent and purpose of it is far reaching and highly beneficial it will do. It is, in other words, a search warrant, which, if exercised, will reveal to the people of the state things that were heretofore unknown to them. It is not generally known that the state of Georgia owns deep water terminal only seven miles from the ocean, a very valuable asset. The bill further provides that this Western and Atlantic commission shall investigate and ascertain if any material shortage charges can be reduced, making for the welfare of all the people of the state if the Western and Atlantic railroad were extended to the coast. When this commission investigates and reported on, I feel confident in saying that a million dollars and possibly more will be saved annually to the people of this state. Western and Atlantic extension commission shall obtain such information as to quantity and value of commodities, such as cotton, sugar, hides and the like, imported from South America and Central America through the ports of New Orleans, Baltimore and New York, and then reshipped by rail to the state of Georgia for distribution. This will show that year after year the people of Georgia are paying the same high rail rate on the long haul when these commodities could just as well come in the state through its own port and save the people annually at every line of endeavor a great deal of money, which in the above mentioned millions of dollars, would amount to enough to pay for the Western and Atlantic extension in less than five years. They are further directed to ascertain the cost of construction. This is a matter of rules and calculations which will not be very difficult, but I will venture the statement that it can all be done for eight million dollars or less, and further, there is much idle money that would finance such a proposition. In closing I ask, Mr. Editor, why should there be any objection to the passage of this search warrant bill, which will reveal so much to the people, the whole people, now unknown to them and which relates to the great needs of the state.

Old Confusion Days Are Recalled by Story About Louis Saloshin

By Isaac W. Small.

Some of the old-timers in the composing room on the fourth floor of the old Broad street office nearly two years ago (I cannot go in "on the force" below as a reporter in 1875. He was be-devilling around as helper for P. J. Moran, who was then foreman, and piloting proof sheets from the galleys to Walter Henderson and from the old tin-cup elevator from the editorial room to the "old print" on the premises. "Louis" has certainly stayed put like a cockle-burr and seen the world come on and up in its many marvelous ways. He is the only veteran remaining of those who were wrestling with faith, and fightings, and fastings in those days to make The Constitution the success and power that it now is.

* * * * *

How near tonight that far-off day seems—the day when I walked up to one of those bow-windows of the counter in the business office, looked a frank-eyed man with side whiskers straight in the face, and remarked that I wanted a job.

Of course, he didn't have any job that was yelling for a nurse so that anybody could hear it. He didn't know me from Adam's house-cat—who I was, what I was from, or what I could do. He did not say "scat" to me, just like that, but I saw that was what he meant by his polite but firm declination.

I was that day a rank "anteloper" in town—as Hon. Hog-eye Thomas would say. Had arrived that morning from Texas with a wife, a baby, a two-dollar bill and no board-ing house. Colonel Hemphill gave me no news whatever when he said "no," that good business is slack and jobs are scarce." Didn't I know it, Mikkie Angelo?

But I loped out and got introductory notes from Colonel Reub Arnold, Major Campbell Wallace, Colonel Nat Hammond and Judge Lochrane. Then I came back to Colonel Hemphill and received that "job" worse than before.

* * * * *

Meantime fate and luck had taken my part. Two negroes—Alfred Orange and John Purifoy—were to be hung next day in the Fulton county jail and the regular hangman of the regular reporters wanted the billet to write the gruesome story of their gallows exits.

Colonel Hemphill explained the situation to me and asked whether I could do the turn and "would you object to that sort of work?"

"Why, Colonel," I replied, "I am just from Texas where reporting murders has been my daily meat and my official and unofficial spasmodic popular hangings was my only journalistic joy."

And there I got the job. The fine work I put on it, the classy way in which I reportorially conveyed those cimmerian criminals to the dead-falls and held their claims to the right of way to Abraham's bosom, is yet remembered by some of the oldest inhabitants of Atlanta.

Colonel Robert Alston and Henry W. Grady, then publishing The Herald, were laying for me next day when I came down to be paid for the job, but Colonel Hemphill saw me first and assured me that I was "hired regular."

* * * * *

In those days Colonel E. Y. Clarke was the editor-in-chief, although he hurry and doing more "boosting" than editing. The real editing was done by Colonel N. P. Tyler, at a big high desk, standing at a time, when he wasn't clipping strips of paper into small bits with a pair of long-blade shears.

Judge Lumpkin was our "society editor" then and Chesterfieldian diplomatic was the way in which he whecdled bits of news and social gossip from the ladies was a wonder and made The Constitution the medium for all the elite of the city.

Colonel W. G. Whitby did the capitol news, the general city items and the country press column, which was a feature of that era.

Howell Cobb Jackson wrote police news and quaint stories of station house incidents that were copied into the press of the nation.

My daily round took in the courts, city hall, railway depots, hotels, special political stories and anything else that happened in my way. Leg service was the main qualification of a reporter those days. Few street cars, no telephones, no evening papers to catch people at home, made necessary the copy-grinding delectable.

But, Ask Loole. He can tell you all about it!

Why It Is Wrong.

Editor Constitution: As a teacher of colored youth, I wish to commend the publication of the editorial, "An Unjust Measure." If ever words were fitly spoken, those were the words. It is always unfortunate when a law is based up in the main on good morality and legality, which makes the immoral legal and the moral illegal and criminal.

The Atlanta amusement law, revived us out of the past next to that of the Great Teacher, stands the parallel. Socrates' big crime was that he taught youth to think. For this he drank the fatal hemlock. Surely twenty-five centuries later we are not going to label a man "criminal" who teaches youth to think, even though it be "the rising generation" of the freedmen.

I wonder if the white south knows the value to itself that the missionary schools established after the war, the Atlanta "Gate-city" on the steps of the main building of Atlanta university, a southern business college in line. This accounts for much good deal to the colored people of this city.

I replied, "It means a million dollars a year to the white people of this city." And this is true, though all the items cannot readily be put into statistics. The white south is the cost of running the school which means business for Atlanta, and through it to the money spent by the students from abroad for their personal supplies, money spent in Atlanta stores. Then the many graduates teaching in the city schools, all of whose salaries are spent at once, returned to Atlanta business. There are the men educated here and who in the government employ who spend their incomes and make their investments here. There are the women educated here and who marry and live here and are making homes and not adding places for their children, sending to them, not merely parents, but mothers.

But more than these, I should emphasize that civic morale among the educated negroes of the southern states, a morale so marked that courts and congresses, students of sociology north and south rench one common conclusion—the negro criminal class is not fed from the educated negroes.

Need for Water Bonds.

Editor Constitution: I desire to take this occasion to thank you for your editorials with reference to the need for bonds for the waterworks system of Atlanta. Having served one year as chairman of the waterworks committee, and having been an ex-officio member of the board of water commissioners, I have become somewhat familiar with the needs of the department and have consistently urged including bonds for the waterworks department in any bond issue that the city should undertake to pass.

In fact, the resolution offered this year as well as the one last year, to appoint a committee to consider the need and advisability of issuing bonds, was introduced by me.

The question of water supply is an important one with reference to our fire insurance rates as well as to the sanitary needs and health requirements. I am glad to know that The Constitution will be behind a bond issue for waterworks improvement, now that city council has voted to present the matter before the people.

Unfair Criticism of the Navy; Record of Secretary Daniels

BY E. K. RODEN,
Director of the Navy League.

Editor Constitution: So much unfair criticism of the navy department in general and of the secretary of the navy in particular has appeared in the press lately as to almost prejudice public opinion in regard to the efficiency and homogeneity of our naval defense. One writer and public speaker after the other is taking their turn in assailing Secretary Daniels and his administration of the navy. If these attacks were made in good faith they would be pardonable, but as a matter of fact the attacks are for political effect rather than from any real understanding of naval conditions.

Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, who seems to have assumed the leading role in the attacks made on what is termed "naval inefficiency," is about as capable a judge of naval affairs as is the man in the street. Yet, if statements made by Mr. Gardner concerning the navy were true, the millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money spent during the last fifteen years of the upbuilding and maintenance of our navy would be so much money thrown to the winds. Fortunately, such is not the case. Any person of ordinary intelligence who will take the trouble to look over the statistics of the navy will find that the expenditures made on our naval defense have been wisely and economically spent. From a small beginning with the white squadron upon lines similar with other maritime nations, the United States has advanced so rapidly in naval construction as to have overtaken and passed all but the two leading naval powers of the world; and today our navy, which for many years was considered by European and even by South American nations as altogether unworthy of consideration, is recognized as a factor of independent significance in the international affairs of the world.

That the present administration under the able guidance of President Wilson has done and is doing its share in making our navy what it is today, it is only fair that credit be given where credit is due. The navy should not be made the object of partisan jugglery at any time, and least of all at the present time.

Perhaps the most noteworthy accomplishment of the Wilson administration in its first two years in the authorized construction of five first-class battleships to cost about $14,000,000 each. During the last two years of the previous administration only two battleships were authorized.

The addition of other units to the navy has been in the same proportion. At the present time there are under construction 23 destroyers, 32 submarines, 3 gunboats and 7 auxiliaries. The production of supplies of munitions for the increased size of the navy has kept pace with requirements. Thus the increase in number of mines on hand and in process of manufacture is 244 per cent, and in torpedoes 90 per cent. The powder factory at Indian Head has been enlarged so that when the extension now under way is completed its capacity will be nearly doubled.

The critics of the navy lament the utter unpreparedness of our fighting units and its lack of the efficiency due to inaction, to lack of practice, but they do not know that during the last fifteen months more battleships and destroyers have participated in tactical maneuvers for a longer period of time than ever before in the history of the service. The critics may not be aware of the fact that under the direction of Admiral Fletcher, upon plans evolved at the Naval War college and approved by the department, there has been busied in tactics to bring out its efficiency and readiness. All reports tell of the enthusiasm of officers and men in this practice and the splendid record made by the ships.

Again, so far as the enlisted personnel of the navy is concerned: for the first time in years is the enlistment up to the limit prescribed by law; and this has been accomplished not by lowering the standard of admission to the service, but by making the service more attractive to the young men of the country.

It will not be amiss to state that to Secretary Daniels belongs the credit and honor of having carried into effect evolutions that have placed the naval service upon a footing it never had before. I refer to the new system or promotion by which capable enlisted men are given chances to advance in the service. This system, notwithstanding the opposition it has met with in some quarters, is bound to work about a transformation in the personnel of the navy. It will substitute for the careless, rollicking, and more or less disreputable seaman of former days, an entirely new type of man—of sober, effective, alert, intelligent and educated, respecting himself and respected by his officers, well-paid, well-fed and well-clothed, surrounded by comforts of which the seafaring man of a score or more years ago knew nothing, with the certainty of rapid advancement open to him if he be of the right kind and industrious, and with a possibility of promotion to the rank of commissioned officer.

Secretary Daniels has made the naval service an institution attractive to any clean-cut young American who has designed to follow the sea as a profession. With increasingly demanding efficiency and adequacy. We lack battle cruisers, it is true, but this is due to the short-sightedness of former administrations. With this single exception our navy today is excelled only by that of one number of ships, organization of fighting units, and the esprit de corps of its personnel is concerned.

It is well, therefore, not to take too seriously irrelevant statements made about the unpreparedness of the navy by men who have their own axes to grind and who seem to delight in magnifying the alleged shortcomings at a time when it should have the backing and support of every patriotic and loyal citizen.

Strong Plea by Negro Educator

Editor Constitution: Allow me to express my high appreciation of your editorial entitled "An Unjust Measure," and to make a brief appeal to our Georgia lawmakers in behalf of the education of my race in the great state of Georgia.

Your article is timely, manly, and has the right spirit in it. It is in behalf of justice and helpfulness to an unfortunate race which a fortunate and much boasted superior race can give. We are proud of the friendship of the friends among the southern white people who are not afraid to speak in defense of the rights of our race when its rights are denied. We are at stake in such an issue, so detrimental to the highest interest and development of the negro race. Every negro in the state of Georgia is unchallenged by any friend or friends of the negro I cannot understand.

In behalf of my race I want to appeal to the legislators of the great state of Georgia, and to the fair fair fair sons of our state, the passage of this bill making it a crime in Georgia for white teachers to teach in negro schools, and why if it is not a crime for white missionaries to go to Africa to teach negroes it should not be a crime to teach them here within the borders of our own state.

If our legislators will only take the time to investigate, they will find that some of the noblest and best men and women of the south as well as of the north are engaged in the work of teaching negroes. Surely our legislators will not shut the doors of opportunity for service in the face of such men and women of the south as the venerable Dr. John D. Hammond, the president of Paine college, of Augusta, Ga., and his consecrated wife, and the scores of eminent and consecrated men and women of the north who are simply obeying the command of the Great Teacher: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations."

I doubt exceedingly if they can find in the whole length and breadth of our state a single graduate of any school in Georgia in which white teachers are employed. Hence the first effect that these are a blessing to the negro and a great help to the white race in many ways.

In behalf of the hundreds of thousands of negroes in Georgia I make this appeal to the legislators of our state not to shut in the face of our race the doors of opportunity for development along literary, industrial and religious lines which these few schools that have white teachers are giving us.

Helping the South to Better Help Itself

Editor Constitution: In your issue of July 20, under the heading, "Atlanta's Strides From Day to Day," I notice that Mr. Robert R. Otis, president of the Atlanta Real Estate board, has taken a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that Representative Blackburn, with the aid of competent assistance, will draft a measure that will meet all the requirements of a settlement bureau.

The possibilities of such a move are so great that no time should be lost in getting this measure started, and it is the judgment of the writer that the bill so introduced should be broad in its scope and include not only the farm settlements, but manufacturers of every kind, or at least those whose products could be made and utilized throughout the south.

The article referred to brought vividly to my mind a trip taken some two years ago to Kansas City, St. Joseph, and through the Ozark section of Arkansas. On that trip I learned something of the great work being carried on by the western roads, and more especially the Canadian Pacific. This road has elegant offices in Kansas City on one of the main streets, with a front window larger than any department store's in Atlanta. This window was filled with literature, and was trimmed and decorated with every farm product grown in Canada. The window was full of placards bearing statistics touching almost every question on soil, rainfall, climate, labor, etc., and in large letters that,

IMPORTANT BILLS PASSED BY SENATE

Walker Measure Providing for Prompt Payment of Teachers Adopted.

TEACHERS' BILL ADVANTAGES.

The plan to pay Georgia's school teachers promptly does away with the old system of not paying these state servants until the payment is a year overdue. Under the Walker bill the county boards of education or school commissioners can convert into cash the warrants issued by the governor monthly. The benefit, however, is twofold, providing not only for prompt payment but also for a lower rate of interest to be paid by the counties to the bank that converts the warrants into cash. This latter advantage would be accomplished by the increased safety and desirability of the warrants issued under the new plan, as approved by the federal reserve bank and by the National Park bank, the state's fiscal agent in New York. Senator Walker has predicted that the interest on these warrants will be as low as 4 per cent, a rate which would mean, he estimates, an annual saving of $50,000 to the state.

The senate yesterday morning passed two important bills.

One was the Walker bill, providing for the prompt payment of the school teachers, whereby arrangements will be made with banks to purchase the warrant of the governor drawn upon the state treasury for the payment of the teachers, when the money has not yet been received in the state treasury from taxes.

The other bill provided for the office of state auditor, which was passed with a number of amendments.

Bill is Amended.

The principal amendments were three offered respectively, by Senators Boykin, Pickett and Peacock, as follows:

An amendment by Senator Boykin, which was adopted, provides that the auditor shall have one assistant and one clerk instead of two clerks.

An amendment by Senator Pickett, of the eleventh, fixes the salaries of the auditor, his assistant and his clerk at $2,400, $1,500 and $900 per annum, respectively.

An amendment by Senator Peacock, of the fourteenth, provides that the auditor shall give a $20,000 bond, the expense of the bond to be borne by the state. The office is to be open to appointed by the governor.

When the senate adjourned the members were seating the amount of the appropriation to be donated to the state agricultural school of America. Senator McCrory pleaded for a liberal donation, but several senators argued against such generosity.

The senate will meet again Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

STATE PRISON FARM PROBED AGAIN TODAY

Great Interest in the Governor's Visit—Frank's Condition Continues to Improve.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Chairman R. E. Davidson arrived tonight by auto from his home in Greene county and the state farm probe will begin early Saturday, shortly after the arrival time of the Georgia train from Macon with Governor Harris and Prison Commissioners E. L. Rainey and T. E. Patterson.

The plan for the investigation is not given out, but it is certain that besides inquiring into details of the charges upon Leo M. Frank, the charges made by Joe Johnson will be taken up, item by item.

Frank is continually improving. He had a nice, comfortable day. At 7 o'clock his physicians made an examination of his wound. They invited to go in with them Dr. A. W. Findley, of Cave Springs, representative from Floyd county, who was at the prison at the time, being in Milledgeville as a member of the legislative committee visiting the state sanitarium today.

Dr. Findley stays the wound is beginning to heal from the inside out, but in the middle it looks bad; a good deal of irritation and pus present; that Frank has a cough, which starts up whenever he talks. For that reason he did not ask the patient many questions.

In response to how he felt, Frank said very well. Dr. Findley stated that if everybody could see what he saw it would forever put an end to the rumor that Frank was not seriously cut—that the wound was little more than half the circle of his neck and very deep.

Ask Legislative Aid To Establish Farms For Fulton "Drunks"

Legislative action will be invoked in the movement to establish farms for habitual drunkards and drug fiends. A step in this direction was made last night when Dr. J. Spratling, former head of the state hospital for inebriates in Kansas, delivered a lecture to those interested in the project in the office of E. A. Scoggins, adult probation officer for Fulton county.

Dr. Spratling is now a practitioner in Atlanta. He formerly was house surgeon in the famous Matteawan asylum for the insane, and was later connected with a similar institution in Elmira, N. Y. He will be one of the active leaders in the movement to establish inebriate farms for Fulton county.

A committee composed of J. J. Spalding, Lowry Arnold and Judge Charles W. Smith and other Atlantans will urge legislative action.

THEY'RE GOING CRAZY DOWN IN CENTRAL CITY

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Macon seems to be in the throes of an insanity epidemic, already sixteen persons having been adjudged insane here since the first of July and committed to the state sanitarium. This is twice as many as were sent to Milledgeville during this month a year ago.

Physicians state that the increase is due to the new Harrison narcotic law, which makes it practically impossible for dope fiends to secure narcotics.

An effort has been made to establish a hospital in Macon for dopers, but the proposition has been turned down by council.

AFFECTING SCENES MARK DEBATE OVER PENSIONS

House Unanimously Agrees on Increase on Sliding Scale.

The confederate veterans of Georgia won a victory yesterday in the house of representatives when a bill to increase their pensions was passed.

There was no fight on the bill, but a few members of the house, thinking of the financial condition of the state, were inclined to go a little slow in the expenditures.

But the veterans won and the discussion of the bill was one of the most affecting scenes ever witnessed in the house. Many of the old veterans, who are members, wept when they heard their cause championed by their comrades and by the younger members.

A striking feature of the debate was the speech by Mr. Wohlwender, of Muscogee, who is not a southerner by birth. His speech was one of the strongest appeals made for an increase of the pensions.

The annual pension for a veteran is now $60 a year. The bill as passed made the pensions as follows:

Scale of Increase.

For the year 1917, $70; for 1918, $80; for 1919, $90; for each year thereafter, $100.

This scale was agreed upon under an amendment offered by Mr. Elders, of Tattnall.

The first speech was made by Mr. Dart, of Glynn, a veteran, who spoke of the days of the war and of how the men of the south went out to fight for their country. As he spoke his voice was frequently broken as he tried to keep back the tears.

Mr. Pullbright, of Burke, said he was not opposed to helping the veterans, but he believed the raise in pensions should cover a period of five years at $6 a year.

Mr. Ayer, of Bibb, spoke for the increase and, he appealed to the members of the house to stand by the boys who wore the gray.

Mr. Wohlwender's Speech.

Mr. Pullbright, of Muscogee, spoke next, and he said that he was not of the south by birth, but he had married a southern woman, and he would rather see every other department of the state cut down or left out than to see the old veterans denied a single dollar they wanted and so much needed.

Mr. Wohlwender, of Chatham, and Mr. Foster, of Morgan, spoke for he bill. Mr. Foster is a veteran, and he made a special plea to the sons of confederate veterans to support the measure. When he concluded the members applauded.

Before the bill was finally passed it was amended by Mr. Perkins, of Habersham, so as to provide an additional pension of $100 for veterans who are totally blind. The vote on the passage was unanimous.

TO GIVE NEEDED RELIEF TO STATE SANITARIUM

Legislative Committee Plans Psychopathic Building and Other Improvements.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) The regular committee from the legislature to visit the state sanitarium came last night and spent the entire day in looking over the institution. The committee numbered sixteen, much smaller than usual. They divided into groups and, ushered by members of the staff of the sanitarium, inspected every part of the institution. Tonight they visited the negro building and observed the crowded condition existing there.

Members of the committee have expressed no criticism of the management. On the contrary, they are outspoken in favorable comment of the financial system in vogue, the neatness of the premises and splendid direction of the large hospital, with its difficult and various problems.

The board of trustees was in session also, giving most of its time today assisting the committee. The report of the committee will have as its basis the recommendations in the report of the board of trustees made in June to the governor. It will recommend a new building for negro patients, a psychopathic hospital for the treatment of those patients who can be cured, to separate them from the chronic and those who need only custodian care; a dormitory home for the nurses, funds to finish buildings for male whites, increased appropriations for maintenance and the passage of some laws relative to committing patients.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

By Neal McIntosh

Ask $16,000 Appropriation.

The Wheatley bill, asking for a special appropriation of $16,000 to replace the burned academic building of the Tifton district agricultural school, at Americus, which comes up for consideration before the senate under the head of unfinished business Monday morning, is a measure of extreme and immediate importance to a large section of south Georgia.

Proceeding upon the assumption that the state would not hesitate to replace this educational building immediately, the trustees of the third district school have advertised for students and are already expecting about 150 students for the coming session. Unless the money for this building is forthcoming at once, however, says Crawford Wheatley, of Sumter, author of the bill, there will be but one thing the trustees can do and that is to announce that there will be no session of the school this year and close up the institution until the new building is available. The dormitories, barns, cattle, farm and everything needed for the school is ready for service, except a building to teach in. The importance of this building is readily seen.

Already the appropriation of the money has been passed by the house and the bill has been approved by the senate committee. The bill came up in the senate Friday morning and was argued, but no action was reached before the adjournment. It will be considered again Monday morning.

Governor's Staff.

Governor Harris on Friday announced the appointment of a portion of his staff. Other appointments will be announced later.

Friday's appointments were as follows:

To be adjutant general and chief-of-staff, Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, of Atlanta.

To be colonel and chief of aids, Asa G. Candler, of Atlanta.

To be lieutenant colonel and military secretary, Frederick R. Jones, of Macon.

To be lieutenant colonels and aides-de-camp: George M. Hope, of Atlanta; Henry W. Peet, of Atlanta; Ben J. Fowler, of Macon; John D. Walker, of Sparta; John W. Murrell, of Atlanta; Charles Rowland, of Savannah; John C. Woodward, of College Park; Steadman Sanford, of Athens; Robert E. L. Spence, of Albany; William M. Camp, of Atlanta; Dr. Nunnally, of Monroe; Claude G. Smith, of Atlanta; Cliff T. Williamson, of Macon; Dennis Fleming, of Atlanta; Dr. Hightower, of Atlanta; William S. Coburn, of Atlanta; Ozy R. Horton, of Milledgeville.

The governor states that his staff was only partially completed, the remaining places to be appointed after the legislature acts on measures now pending before it affecting the staff.

Leaves for Milledgeville.

Governor Harris and members of the prison commission left last night for Milledgeville, where they will today conduct a probe into the recent attempt of William Creen, a life-time convict for murder, upon the life of Leo M. Frank, also serving a life term at the state penitentiary for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Governor Harris, besides taking part in the investigation of the Frank incident, will also make a general inspection of the state farm and reformatory properties there.

Senator Boykin a Finest Orator.

Perhaps the most effective speaker in the house of the legislature is Senator Boykin, of the seventeenth. Whenever a senator has a bill before the senate, he is wise to put a pyrotechnic finish on his argument for the measure, as speaks to the Senator Boykin's desk and nudges him. In a few minutes the silver-tongued senator will be running the gamut of human emotions in his forceful and eloquent way. He made one of his best speeches Friday advocating Senator John D. Walker's school teachers' pay bill.

Andrews in the Camera Eye.

Thursday the whole legislature was invited to walk out of the capitol for the moving picture man, who wished to snap the senators in action for the Georgia film being promoted by the chamber of commerce. Representative Andrews was so busy on one of his bills that he forgot about the camera man until all the other solons had had their beauty struck. Suddenly remembering the request, and not wishing to be absent from a picture that represented the highlights of the state, Representative Andrews rushed out on the capitol steps. "Where is the movie man?" he shouted, turning around and around in order to discover the camera. When he had circled about in confusion several times some laughing legislator informed him that the moving man was within ten feet of Colonel Andrews, whose picture had been taken while the subject was in rather a flustrated pose. All the fellow representatives of the Fulton member are anxiously awaiting an opportunity to see the moving picture of Andrews in action.

HOUSE RECONSIDERS STATE AUDITOR BILL

Places Measure at Foot of Calendar—Books and Supplies for School Children.

When the house convened yesterday morning Mr. Bulloch, of Campbell, moved a reconsideration of the state auditor bill and the motion was adopted. This places the bill at the heel of the calendar.

Among the important new bills introduced was one by Messrs. Yeomans of Terrell, Dorris of Crisp, Barber of Grady, Wells of Lowndes, and Dorris of Douglas, which provides for the furnishing of school books and supplies to the public school children. The feature of the bill is as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that from and after the passage of this act any county board of education or any local board of education may, in its discretion, furnish school books and school supplies to the pupils attending the public schools of said county or special school system, and for that purpose may use such part of the public school funds or any other funds coming into its hands as may be necessary for the purchase of such school books as are adopted and such school supplies as may be necessary, and such boards of education are authorized to furnish to the pupils free of charge such books and supplies."

Other New Bills.

Mr. Elders, of Tattnall, and Mr. Hutcheson, of Turner, offered a bill which provides that the governor may draw warrants each month for the payment of the salaries of the teachers in the public schools.

A bill was introduced by Messrs. Parker and Cooper, of Ware, to allow the sale of soft drinks, ice cream and cigars on the Sabbath.

Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, introduced a bill creating a committee of three to look after the hotels and lodging houses during the session.

Another local bill by Mr. Blackburn increases the salary of the clerk of the Fulton county commissioners from $2,500 to $3,000 a year.

The house local bills passed was one which abolishes the justices of the peace in the city of Columbus and creates a municipal court.

Ship Exemption Bill Loses.

A bill by Mr. Shuptrine to exempt from taxation ships and vessels engaged exclusively in foreign commerce was defeated, receiving 118 votes, with 54 against. Calling for a constitutional amendment, 124 votes were required, with 108 present.

Mr. Shuptrine explained that at present there was not a merchant ship of Georgia registry, and that the bill was designed, by encouraging registration, so that cotton and naval stores of the state might be quickly shipped. He said that if the bill was passed, Georgia would not lose a dollar. He gave notice of reconsideration.

A resolution by Mr. Cooper, of Ware, was adopted which calls for a special committee to escort Mr. Hall, of the house of representatives cannot be enlarged to accommodate the rapidly increasing membership. The committee is as follows: Mr. Cooper of Ware, Mr. Carlton of Barrow, and Mr. Andrews of Fulton.

The house adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning.

BIBLE CLASS TO HEAR SENATOR WALKER SPEAK

Senator John D. Walker, of Sparta, will address the Fellowship Bible class of St. John's Methodist church Sunday morning, July 9:30, in the auditorium of the church.

The Fellowship Bible class is a remarkable class. It was organized the first of the year with seventeen members, and has a present enrollment of ninety. Many of the best known citizens on the south side and in the vicinity of St. John's church are found among its members.

The subject of Senator Walker's address will be, "The Dedication of Solomon's Temple." The public is cordially invited.

At First Methodist.

Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, south, corner Peachtree and Porter place, will occupy the pulpit of his church on next Sunday morning and evening. He will take for his morning subject, "The One Foundation." His evening subject will be, "Wanted—A Tenant." The evening service will be held upon the lawn of the church.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH WIRES TO BE USED FOR LONG DISTANCE

The Postal company yesterday inaugurated a long distance telephone-telegraph system, connecting a number of important southern cities.

Telephonic communication was established over the Postal's system Friday with Atlanta, Augusta, Charlotte, Birmingham, Nashville and Memphis. Lines are being extended to Aiken, S. C., Camden, S. C., Gainesville, Ga., Chattanooga, Decatur, Ala., Greensboro, N. C., Nashville, Raleigh, N. C., Rome, Ga., Spartanburg, S. C., and Lynchburg, Va.

The Postal telephone system proposes to lower present rates. The five-minute-conversation charge from Atlanta to Augusta is 70 cents, with a charge of 10 cents for each additional minute; to Charlotte, $1.25, 25 cents for each additional minute; Birmingham, 80 cents, 15 cents for each additional minute; Nashville, $1.45, 30 cents for each additional minute, and Memphis, $2, 40 cents for each additional minute.

The same system of carrying on telegraphic and telephonic communication over the same wires is operated by the Postal in vicinity of New Orleans and along the Pacific coast. It has proved a marked success. A reporter for The Constitution, who talked over the Postal wires in the Postal headquarters Thursday, was placed in distinct connection with Charlotte and Augusta. The voices came plainly over the wires, with no buzzing or any indication of the telegraph traffic going over them.

Telephonic communication can be obtained only at the Postal offices. Recipients of long-distance calls are notified by service message sent through the telegraph department.

Valdosta Wins Flag Pennant by Forfeit

Errors Give Chicks Game; McDonald's Homer Gives Locals Their Two Tallies

By Herbert Caldwell.

Memphis, Tenn., July 23.—(Special.)—While the Crackers were looking for a place to locate in Russwork park, the Chicks were doing some aggressive baseballing and before the Crackers located a firm foundation the Chicks had turned out enough runs to ultimately win a ball game. Score, 4 to 2.

Howard Merritt, of Memphis, and Herb Kelly, of Atlanta, two southsiders, enacted the pitching roles, and as Howard was rendered considerable more assistance than was the Atlanta left-thrower, Howard was crowned the victor.

Good, bad, indifferent and brilliant baseball was met by the fans, and out of the diamond goulash came the Memphis victory, due to the brilliancy shown by the Chicks' outfield in the two innings.

The Crackers made a hectic effort to recover lost ground in the last three frames, when their efforts were confronted with the feet of Schlei, inner works presented by Crothers, Baldwin and Mitchell.

Errors Costly.

The Cracker infield absolutely refused to associate with the little round ball in the first two innings, and after they had gotten through heaving the missile around they had thrown a victory into the laps of the Chicks.

Allison ran a score for the home-fingers in the opener. Pete hit a bouncer to McDonald at third, and the Cracker gunner, in his anxiety to beat "Pete the speeder," pulled Kaufman off the cushion. Crothers dropped a sacrifice bunt at the feet of McDonald, and when Allison had quit running and sliding he was holding third base with a hand. Stewart then grounded to Williams and Allison counted on the out. Lord lifted to center and ended the round.

The Crackers turned their backs to Kelly in the second and went on an aerial expedition. When they got all feet on the ground again, the Chicks had scored three times. Schlei singled to left for the opener. Kelly pushed Schlei to second by drawing a pass. Baldwin attempted a sacrifice bunt to ward third, which Kelly tried to field. Baldwin had the roller beaten, but Kelly heaved anyhow and sailed over Kauffman's head. Schlei scored on Kelly's heave. Manning ran down the ball and in an effort to head off Eibel at third threw the ball away again and Eibel scored. Darling did this heaving Baldwin reached third. Mitchell sent a liner to center and Baldwin marked up another black tally. Howard Merritt helped Kelly out by striking out. Allison got a liner into Williams' hands and Mitchell was doubled off first.

Crackers Score Two.

The Crackers pecked at Merritt without doing any damage until the seventh. When a pair of hits, one by Mitchell and one by Crothers, aided the aliens in counting twice. Mitchell bumped Burns's grounder for a marker. Bisland grounded to Baldwin, who shut off Rumler at second, but Crothers, in a hurry to complete a twin killing, threw over Eibel's head and Bisland moved on the keystone stop. Kelly struck out Howard. Merritt took on a new supply of the "speed" and then up to bat to pitch to McDonald. Mac napped the first ball thrown into the left corners and sped home behind Bisland. Williams hit a hot grounder to Baldwin, who headed off Williams at first.

Lee opened the eighth for Atlanta with a single to left. Stewart then hit a long fly to Stewart and Lee, trying to move up on the out, perished at third. Steve to Baldwin.

In the ninth Crothers threw Kauffman out on first and Bisland then hit over second. Rumler went out, Baldwin to Eibel, and then Crothers made an easy beautiful snap of Bisland's grounder and the frolic was over.

Today's game will be called in detail by Dick Jemison's baseball parlor, starting at 4 o'clock. Perry will face Keeley.

ANOTHER DRAWN GAME IN SALLY

Macon and Columbus Clubs Play Nine Innings to an 8-to-8 Tie—Herndon's Hitting Features.

Macon, Ga., July 23.—Darkness ended a freakish game here today between Macon and Columbus, with the score 8 to 8. Fielding ranged from brilliant to ridiculous, three beautiful catches being made and several pop flies being dropped. The score was tied up several times by the Pozanis, who finally took the lead, only to be tied up by Macon and Smith, when Voss filled the bases with none out.

Wildness got Voss in trouble several times. But errors aided him at opportune moments, the locals especially.

Pitz hit a home run over the right-field fence with one on in the seventh. Herndon got a clean hit each of the first four times at bat.

LITTLE BOB WINS OVER PERRY ADAIR

And His Father Eliminates "Rube" Bush in Birmingham Tourney—Now in the Semi-Finals.

Birmingham, Ala., July 23.—(Special.) The Jones family, of Atlanta, jumped into the semi-finals of the Rosheim Spring invitation tournament here today by eliminating in the afternoon round of match play two of the three best contestants for the big trophy.

"Little Bob" Jones eliminated Perry Adair in the afternoon round, but only after a hard-fought battle, the final score being 2 up and 1 to play. In the first round of match play in the morning he easily defeated David Roberts, Jr., of Birmingham, 4 up and 3 to play.

R. F. Jones, the youngster's father, accomplished an equally difficult feat in the afternoon round when his son did, by putting out Reuben G. Bush of New York, another veteran golfer, and leaving to win the tournament. Mr. Jones won his match 3 up and 2 to play.

This puts the two Jones entries in the finals. In the morning round on Saturday Jones, senior, met Williams Badham, of Birmingham, and Jones, junior, meets Prudence Prudencio, of Chattanooga, the left-handed wizard. It is of interest in the matches those with a little human interest to their nature are wishing that the two Jones victors are in the opening round so that father and son can play it off in the afternoon.

Flag League Pennant Given To Valdosta by Forfeit; Brunswick Players Strike

President Dick Jemison, of the F. L. A. G. league, last night awarded the post-season series and the pennant to the Valdosta club, following the refusal of the Brunswick players to play the game scheduled for Brunswick Friday.

Umpires White and Donahue declared the game Friday forfeited to the Valdosta team when the Brunswick players failed to appear at the park in uniform. Manager Reynolds being the only player on the team who was at the grounds ready to play.

The Brunswick players' refusal to play was due to their demand that their back salaries be paid not be granted, nor absolute guarantee being forthcoming by the officers of the club that they would receive this money.

The officers of the club stated to league headquarters here last night that they had paid the players until July 1, and that they had not guaranteed their salaries since that date. Informing them that if they wanted to play in the post-season series, they would have to do so by carrying the team at their own expense in the interim. Some of the players left immediately, but others stuck it out.

Shortly before game time Friday, a delegation from the players approached President Hopkins, of the Brunswick club, insisting that he guarantee their back salaries. When he refused they refused to play and the game was forfeited.

The Brunswick club is due the players about $350. This amount, the club believed, would be paid the players out of the Brunswick club's share from the post-season series, which they were going to turn over to the players in addition to the players' percentage of the receipts.

Brunswick fans believe that had the players finished the series, that they would have received every cent coming to them in addition to their share of the post-season games.

In the games played in the series, Valdosta won one and Brunswick won the other two games necessary for Valdosta to win the pennant, being declared forfeited to the Valdosta club by the league president.

CHICK EVANS MEETS STANDISH IN FINALS

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23.—History repeated itself today when "Chick" Evans defeated Ned Sawyer two and one in the semi-finals of the Western Amateur golf championship. It was the same score by which Evans won from Sawyer in the semi-finals last year. Both are Chicago players.

Tomorrow the same men who met in Grand Rapids will meet. Jimmy Standish, Jr., of Detroit, will be Evans' opponent, and Robert Gardner, of H. P. Bingham, of Mayfield, 7 and 6.

The biggest gallery that ever saw a golf match in Cleveland followed Evans and Sawyer in their spectacular match play. The stance of the game, from the first hole in the morning to the second one, and at the very last old Evans had won four up and 2 to play. At all other times the score favored Sawyer one or two.

Sawyer was leading four up at the tenth hole in the morning round. Evans reel off three straight on the seventeenth, but Sawyer took the eighteenth and the match four up one ahead. He had a good lead in the afternoon, but weakened near the finish.

Those who have followed "Chick's" previous records say he never played better than today.

It was a hard match to lose, as Sawyer has been making a hard fight for the title year after year, and he never played a better game than he did today.

HONEST MESSENGER GIVEN REWARD OF $5 FOR RETURN OF COAT

A messenger boy received a reward of $5 for the return to the Winecoff hotel Friday of a coat he had picked up on Peachtree street, which had blown from the window of the room occupied by J. E. Smith, warden of the state prison farm at Milledgeville. There was $75 in a pocket of the coat.

A gust of wind had blown Warden Smith's coat out of the window and the coat landed on Peachtree, near the intersection of North Broad, after being blown over the tops of several buildings.

The warden was in Atlanta on business with the legislature and for the state prison farm. He returned Friday to Milledgeville.

ATLANTA BATTERY BOYS PUT IN STRENUOUS DAYS

Find That Practice on Government Target Range Is Hard Work.

By J. Walter LeCraw.

Anniston, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—The boys of the Atlanta artillery, Battery B, who are encamped here at Camp John T. Morgan, declared almost unanimously tonight as they limped toward their tents with tired bodies and aching limbs that the past two days have been the hardest and most strenuous they have ever spent.

Each day they have driven the cannon over rough country roads to the government target range, eight miles distant from the camp, going through extensive maneuvers and skirmishes to obtain the best possition for attack on an imaginary enemy whose position was described to them, and then when the guns were planted for action firing round after round at the targets pointed out to them over two miles distant.

Captain William M. Michel, of the Third United States field artillery, who is commanding officer of Camp John T. Morgan, and Lieutenant B. M. Bailey, United States artillery instructor-inspector, had general charge of the work for instruction purposes. To a large extent, however, they left the actual command, both of the maneuvers and the firing, to Captain A. J. Orendorff, Jr., and Lieutenants Mangum, Wilson, Tidwell and Tigne, of the Atlanta battery.

In one branch of the work—field telephone and signal communication—the Atlanta battery failed to "deliver the goods," according to the commanding officers, and a corps of men of Battery C, Third United States field artillery, had to supply the communication service in order for the firing to proceed. However, in every other branch of the work, and especially in the firing of the guns and moving them over rough roads, the Atlanta boys did excellently, and were praised by the army officers. The maneuvers and target practice will continue tomorrow, and extensive practice will be held in the field communication work, so that the Atlanta battery may become efficient in this as well as in the other branches of field artillery action.

Although much hard labor work out by the heavy work they have gone through, to which they were totally unaccustomed, the Atlanta boys have held up remarkably well. By the end of the ten days' camp it is believed that they will be hardened almost enough to become "regulars," and, in fact, two of the Atlanta boys have already expressed the intention of enlisting in the army artillery as soon as the camp is over.

HIGHWAY BOOSTERS CALLED TO MEETING AT DUBLIN MONDAY

Dublin, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Committees from all the counties along the "Right Route" of the Dixie highway, appointed at the recent meeting in Swainsboro, are called to meet in Dublin next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms and all interested citizens are invited to be present.

It had been planned to hold the meeting on July 22, when the Columbus-Savannah Dixie Overland Highway party comes through Dublin. But this will not stop long enough to do this on its outward trip.

However, the party will stop on the return trip Monday, July 26, arriving here about 7 o'clock and spending the afternoon in Dublin. Hence this call for the meeting of the boosters of the Dixie highway in the morning of the 26th.

In the afternoon, on the 26th, Dublin will entertain the entire division of the "Right Route" Dixie highway proposition, and the Dixie-to-eviland party from Columbus. The route of the proposed Dixie Overland highway traverses all the counties represented interested in the "Right Route," except Twiggs and Bibb.

This joint afternoon session should prove to be "some" good roads meeting.

JOKE ON JOE POTTLE; STILL IS FOUND ON SOLICITOR'S FARM

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—United States district court officers are chuckling over a good joke they have on Solicitor Joe Pottle, of to Ocmulgee circuit, and Mr. Pottle is grinning a bit over it himself. The joke lies in the fact that revenue officers located a moonshine still on the solicitor's farm.

Unnie Butts and Oscar Herindinge, two young white men, alleged operators of the still, were arrested and today Butts entered a plea of guilty. Herindinge denied any connection with the operation of the plant. Solicitor Pottle was surprised when he learned the moonshiners had "squatted" on his farm.

Thomas J. Carroll, a white man, was also before the United States commissioner here today, charged with operating an illicit distillery. A "still" of the most primitive kind was found on his place. He was bound over to the grand jury.

AGED BIBB NEGRO IS BADLY BEATEN BY NIGHT RIDERS

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Night riders appear to be abroad in Bibb county, and one has paid dearly for having been asked today to investigate the whipping of George Brown, an aged negro, by four masked white men last night on W. H. Manfield's farm below the city.

The party went to Brown's house, took him out in the yard and beat him so badly that he is now in the Macon hospital in a critical condition. Brown was found by Deputy Sheriff Hand this morning by Mr. Mansfield.

The men all wore masks and their identity is unknown, though Mr. Mansfield has offered a reward for a clue to their identity. It is thought they are men who have been fishing on the Mansfield farm recently, after orders have been given not to do so.

SAY BANKRUPT DEEDED 450-ACRE FARM TO WIFE

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Charging that J. M. Harper, a former Macon merchant, who was adjudicated a bankrupt some time ago, transferred a 450-acre farm to his wife when he knew he was insolvent, with a view to defrauding his creditors, A. O. B. Sparks, trustee of the bankrupt estate, today filed a petition in the United States district court asking that the deed be cancelled. It is claimed the deed was without consideration, and was received by Mrs. Harper with the knowledge of the insolvency of the grantor.

STATESBORO IS HOST TO COLUMBUS AUTOISTS

Statesboro, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The keys of Statesboro were turned over to the Columbus automobilists tonight.

The first eight or ten cars reached here at 8 o'clock, being met several miles out by a committee of citizens. They were escorted to the Jaeckel hotel, where they were banqueted by the Statesboro Board of Trade. It is understood that one hundred and one left Dublin, but four cars dropped out before reaching here. During the banquet music was furnished. The dining room was decorated and the visitors were shown every attention. Impromptu speeches were made by citizens and visitors.

GINNERS OF GEORGIA FORM ORGANIZATION

Veigh Cockrum Outlines Advantages to Be Derived From Co-operation.

Abo ut threescore of ginners from all sections of Georgia convened Friday at the convention hall of the Hotel Ansley to organize the Georgia Ginners' association, which will be affiliated with the Ginners' association, an organization comprising eleven states, with Veigh Cockrum as president.

A. Whittaker, of Conyers, Ga., was nominated for president, but it is probable that he will be ruled out this morning at the convention session, since he is not a member of the new organization. Members of the association last night were of the belief that J. T. Harrold, of Dot, Ga., would be chosen president for the ensuing year. The convention will adjourn today at noon following the election.

J. A. Lancaster, who is here from the general offices of the association at Memphis, Tenn., has been designated as district manager for the general association, with headquarters in Atlanta. His district will comprise Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas.

President Cockrum outlined some of the plans and purposes of the organization, pointing out the co-operative method by which cotton bagging is purchased, the benefit of the reduced quotation than is offered by other concerns, the insurance features of the association and the periodical reports of the cotton situation as furnished by the association.

Mr. Cockrum stated that the insurance department of the association would be in operation by August 17-18 inclusive to outline further plans for the insurance department of the association. In the past the members whose gins burned down were forced to contribute the amount of three-fourths of their loss by donations from other members. This plan will be amended at the meeting next month.

Letters have been received in Atlanta from J. A. Taylor, of Memphis, secretary of the Ginners' association. Mr. Taylor is president of the National Ginners' association. Mr. Cockrum announced that the Taylor organization was in no way connected with the Ginners' association, of which he is president.

JUDGE RAISES BOND OF MISS GRIFFIN; FELONY IS CHARGED

The bond of $1,000 required of Miss Stella Griffin, the former trained nurse and stenographer held on "criminal conspiracy" charges, was raised to $2,000 yesterday morning when Judge Sheppard, of the municipal court, presiding in the absence of Judge Thomas. Judge Sheppard also increased the amount of the bond of Miss Griffin and her alleged co-conspirators, all of whom bonds were raised by Judge Thomas. Judge Sheppard, counsel for the accused girl, was required to give bond of $1,000 instead of the original bond of $500; C. E. Garrett's bond was raised to $2,000; R. C. Palmer's $2,000, and T. E. Polhill $1,000.

Polhill and Miss Griffin remain in jail, having been there since last Monday afternoon when they were impaneled on warrants issued during course of trial. The charges the girl had pressed against George Rauch. It was at Rauch's instigation that Colonel T. B. Felder swore warrants charging criminal conspiracy against the girl and her four associates. Miss Griffin claimed that Rauch had given her $1,200 check for "heart balm" and had forged the check to $12,000.

The trial was set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock. When Colonel Felder appeared before Judge Thomas, however, announcing that he wanted the charges of conspiracy to be tried by a freight train, proved unavailing up to a late hour last night.

Mr. Felder, R. E. V.—on his cellular form the only clue to his identity, and a search of the city directory gives no name of these initials.

The man wore a suit of black clothes. He had gray eyes, black hair and heavy eyelashes and a gold upper front tooth. He was about 5 feet 11 inches tall. Over his suit he wore blue overalls.

Had to Hunt Clothes Before They Arrested Women, Say Officers

In a raid on an apartment house at No. 49 Washington street, Friday, when two women and one man were arrested by city detectives, detective officers declared that they had to scout around to get clothing for the women, who, they declared, were too scantily clad, before they could arrest them.

They were carried to police barracks, where they gave the names of Mrs. Lillie Lewis, of Columbia, S. C., and Miss Ruth Walton, of the same address, and J. G. Lovett, of 49 Washington.

Their cases were set for Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, when they will face Recorder Johnson on charges of disorderly conduct.

An all-day search by the coroner and attaches of the H. M. Patterson undertaking establishment, North Forsyth street, for the relatives of the unidentified man, found dead Friday morning at the western end of the Inman Yards, and believed to be killed by a freight train, proved unavailing up to a late hour last night.

Coroner W. E. V.— on his cellular form the only clue to his identity, and a search of the city directory gives no name of these initials.

The man wore a suit of black clothes. He had gray eyes, black hair and heavy eyelashes and a gold upper front tooth. He was about 5 feet 11 inches tall. Over his suit he wore blue overalls.

Black Rust in South Dakota Boosts Wheat—Oats Make High Record for Past Two Months.

Chicago, July 22.—Reports that black rust had begun attacking the stems of the wheat in South Dakota led to a quick upturn today in the market here. Quotations at the close were strong, 2 to 2½ above last night. Corn gained 5-8 to 2 1-4 net and oats 3-8 to 5-8. In provisions, the outcome ranged from 1-2 decline to an advance of 5 cents.

Corn manifested unvarying strength from the start.

Oats mounted to the highest level since 1909.

Higher prices for hogs and grain steadied provisions.

New York, July 23.—The cotton market was higher today on a report in more optimistic view of export prospects, the continuous heavy movement of the crop, and the failure of weather advices to show any rain in the southwest, the demand was neither general nor aggressive, but offerings were limited, and the close was about at a net advance of 7 to 9 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points in sympathy with the steady cables. At prices worked higher, on steady spot and interior support from Wall street houses, there was a little Liverpool selling and some scattered realizing, but only slight reactions occurred, and there was quite a bull swing in the market around midday on reports that local spot people were preparing to ship considerable cotton to Russia, 50,000 bales, from here to Russia. October contracts sold up to 9.99, or about 14 to 15 points above last night's closing figures. The advance was then checked by profit taking, or a desire for a reaction, and prices eased off some 6 or 7 points from the best.

Advices indicating that the discussion over cotton shipments was taking a form that suggested a desire on the part of the allies to avoid any friction of this character, made rather a favorable impression on local sentiment.

A report received here from a prominent traveling expert late in the afternoon said that crop prospects were hardly be better in southeast Alabama and southern Georgia. Exports today 5,453; so far this season 2,676,000. Port receipts 3,149. United States port stocks 789,119.

Cotton spot quiet; middling uplands, 9.25; no sales.

New Orleans Steady.

New Orleans, July 23.—A moderate demand, with only slender offerings, served to put the price of cotton 15 to 16 points up today. The market stood at the advance throughout the session, but late in the day long profits and pared down the rise took somewhat, the close being at a net gain of 7 to 9 points. A steady tone was maintained to the end. Bulls claimed the market was oversold, and there were signs at times that shorts were the best buyers.

Not a few efforts appeared anxious to even up for the week-end. Longs were not aggressive traders at any time, apparently being held in check by the fear that forecasts of the coming government report would be decidedly bearish.

Weather conditions were considered favorable, on the whole, but bulls made much of the drop in temperatures over the belt. Also some quarters of effort straighten out the cotton export situation were regarded as an important bullish feature.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, July 23.—(Special.)—Buying on the part of Liverpool in the local market today stimulated short covering and resulted in prices advancing about fourteen points.

Unconfirmed reports of large shipments to be made from the local stock to Russia had some influence on the market, but was not taken altogether the principal reason for the improvement apparent in the local market having become oversold for the time being.

Good crop reports and the political situation in Europe were features of the market sales; until now these factors have momentarily at least lost their force.

JAY BOND & CO.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 23.—(Special.)—A continuously narrow market today has moved on moderate trading. Some buying on the opening was due to weather advices, followed by a private bearish report, caused the fluctuations. The close showed a good feeling at the slight improvement. Trading was local and unimportant.

WALL ST. AWAITS REPLY TO KAISER

Nervousness Was Feature of Friday's Session—Southern Group Railway Stocks Unusually Heavy.

New York, July 23.—So far as actual results were concerned, today's stock market was largely a repetition of yesterday's. There was a further downward revision of some of the war speculations, which heretofore have been common and preferred proved the most notable exceptions, the former regaining its recent high quotations of 2½ and the latter making a new high at 116. Baldwin Locomotive also broke into new ground at 71 1-2.

Industrial stocks were more prominent, but almost wholly at the expense of quoted values, shares like St. Paul and Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern preferred and Texas and Pacific declining to lowest prices of years. Even the carriers in the southern and southwestern sections of the country were subject to declines of 1 and 2 points. Actual new low prices were established by Missouri, Kansas and Texas at 39 1-4 and Norfolk and Southern at 17.

The chief factor in connection with the slaughter of the southwestern stocks was the discouraging cotton outlook reported from Texas, together with unfavorable earnings. Cotton options were mostly higher, however, in response to the export demand for the staple from foreign sources.

Trading was the lightest of any recent session.

International conditions, particularly the impending reply of this government to Germany, furnished the basis for much of the nervousness.

Bonds irregular with a renewal of foreign selling. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,655,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

WEEKLY REVIEW COTTON MARKET

New York, July 23.—The cotton market has been comparatively quiet during the past week, with fluctuations irregular. The net result was a decline of 75 points from the level was followed by reactions of some 20 to 30 points and the talk around the ring here has been rather bearish on a favorable view of new crop progress over the greater part of the belt, but short selling has been restricted by the comparatively low price, and the possibility of crop scares while nervousness over international politics has apparently discouraged general business.

On declines Liverpool has bought pretty sumably to undo straddles and is said that there is still a substantial interest of this character outstanding, especially, however, scattered accounts are believed to be well protected pending a later view of the crop and export developments, particularly in view of disappointing conditions in south Texas. Meanwhile spinners' taking is confined to the remaining old crop holders show little disposition to force sales at low prices, and reports from the plains are being made to assist in gradual marketing. Domestic mills are reported to have covered against buyers for crop shipment and some spot demand has been reported from Alabama, but foreign trade has been small and manufacturers are believed to be waiting for the outcome of new crop movement.

Rumors from India report an improvement in the monsoon, suggesting increased activity there, while the discussion of cotton problem at Washington has taken a turn indicating a desire to prevent friction and to satisfy southern growers. According to figures published by the department of agriculture purchases of commercial fertilizers for the crop of 1915 were 58 per cent of last year's, with the effective-ness of the supply much reduced by the scarcity of potash, while the department also estimates that 92 per cent of the old crop had been sold by producers on June 1, this year, against 87 per cent last year.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW BUSINESS SITUATION

New York, July 22.—Dun's will say:

Apart from the development of further labor controversies the general situation maintains its favorable aspects. Recent settlement of the strikes in the building trades in the west has been followed by the adjustment of the local clothing strike, but fresh disturbances have appeared here and elsewhere, notably at oil plants in Kansas. Differences between employers and wage earners, however, are not yet seriously widespread, and are extremely local. With the progress of manufacture and distribution, although the contented conditions make for increased conservatism in some directions.

It is not the season for the tide of business to flow, but there are indications of a well sustained volume of transactions in various commercial and industrial lines. Not the least significance of these is the steady upward trend of commodity prices. Most products are gaining in seriously interesting with the progress of manufacture and distribution, although the contented conditions make for increased conservatism in some directions.

Except for essentially hot weather mercandise, recent high temperatures had the usual effect both in stimulating retail movement, yet bank clearings at outside cities for the week again showed a slight larger than last year's, while with New York included the gain was 8.5 per cent. Failures for the week numbered 214, against 203 last year, 39 1-4 and Norfolk and Southern at 17.

The chief factor in connection with the slaughter of the southwestern stocks was the discouraging cotton outlook reported from Texas, together with unfavorable earnings. Cotton options were mostly higher, however, in response to the export demand for the staple from foreign sources.

Trading was the lightest of any recent session.

International conditions, particularly the impending reply of this government to Germany, furnished the basis for much of the nervousness.

TENSION GROWING REGARDING MEXICO

Nothing Heard From Capital for Five Days—Immediate Action by the United States Not Thought Likely

Washington, July 22.—With communication with Mexico City cut for five days, since the reoccupation by Zapata forces, and with agents here of the Mexican factions in ignorance of military operations, the Mexican situation today again began to assume an air of tension.

Somewhere in the neighborhood of Pachuca, northwest of the capital, General Pablo Gonzales' Carranza army is believed to be battling with the Villa "flying column," whose swoop down from the north caused him to abandon Mexico City. Cutting of cables and telegraph wires has drawn a veil over this whole section.

Red Cross Urged to Work.

President Wilson today conferred with Red Cross officials and listened with interest to reports that the Red Cross had been hampered in its efforts to extend relief to the needy civilian population of Mexico. The president told Brigadier General Devol, general manager of the Red Cross; Ernest P. Bicknell, its director, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman not to be discouraged by handicaps, and to keep up the relief work, getting supplies into Mexico City wherever they could.

Political aspects of the situation were discussed briefly, but the president did not indicate what the United States would do as a result of failure of the rival factions to get together for a peace conference in accordance with his suggestions.

Although Mr. Wilson gave his callers the impression that this government has in mind taking some decisive step later, he intimated that the military situation at present made any immediate action inadvisable. Much depends, it is believed here, on the speed of battles in progress or impending.

After the conference the Red Cross officials began to formulate plans to continue their work.

Asked Recall From Carranza.

State department officials await a reply from General Carranza at Vera Cruz to a message sent to him yesterday calling his attention to the fact that his forces violated the Scott agreement for the neutralization of border cities by the recent occupation of Nace. There is apprehension also concerning the situation at Nogales, where General Maytorena, head of the Villa forces, is said to be about to attack by Carranza's army under General Calles. Some step may be taken to prevent this impending battle, Nogales being regarded as included in the agreement, that border towns would not be subject to attacks which might endanger the lives of American citizens.

The Carranza agency issued a statement answering a recent assertion by General Devol that Carranza and Villa had been engaged in the exportation of foodstuffs from Mexico and profiting from proceeds of a heavy export tax. This charge was declared to be false in so far as territory under control of the constitutionalist government is concerned.

SWISS GENERAL FEARS WAR MAY HIT COUNTRY

Berlin, July 23.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—An over-sea dispatch from Berne, Switzerland, says that General Ulrich Wille, commander of the Swiss army, addressing a meeting held to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of Sempach, said that while Switzerland hoped that the worst would be spared her, the future still was uncertain. It would be unmerited luck, General Wille declared, according to the dispatch, if Switzerland should escape in the midst of the heavy storms raging around her.
