

UNWRITTEN LAW

Will Be Only Defense of DeKalb Man Charged With the Murder of Cosby Bishop.

DEAD MAN ACUSED

OF BEING "DON JUAN"

Women and children were excluded from the immense crowd that packed the courtroom when Sara C. Chevington, his sole defense based upon the "unwritten law," was arraigned before Judge Charles W. Smith in Decatur yesterday morning for the killing of Cosby Bishop, last July, in Decatur.

Congressman William Buckley Howard, chief counsel for the defendant, stated at the close of Tuesday's proceedings, and that, besides the alleged testimony this morning to show that the slain man was the "Don Juan" of the community, and that, besides the alleged testimony with the wife of the man on trial, a number of other attempted "affairs" with married women would be disclosed.

A number of witnesses were put upon the stand Tuesday afternoon in an effort to reveal the relation between the man and the wife of the slayer. Others will be called upon today. The trial is expected to continue at least one more day, as there are a score or more of character witnesses to be submitted by both the defense and prosecution.

BIG SENSATION

The trial has created the sensation of the year in Decatur. It was estimated last night that there were more persons in the town Tuesday afternoon than at any other time in years. The courtroom was so packed that scores were unable to find even standing room.

When the prosecution, represented by Solicitor-General George M. Napier, called Bellamy and R. Norton, had finished with his first array of witnesses, Congressman Howard introduced the bill of indictment against the defense with a brief address summarizing the defense's case.

"As much as we regret the degrading and humiliating circumstances," he said, "we expect to see this country, as a poor country boy, Sara Chevington, a man of means, and money and went to the village of Scotland, where he put up a small meager cottage."

HAPPILY MARRIED

"He was happily married, and had one child. He had no money to amount to anything, but a thrift and energy that cannot be compared to wealth. He built a little house and installed cooking, dining and sleeping apartments, where he lived with his wife. "He moved to Scotland in 1914. Mrs. Chevington is a beautiful, attractive woman, and she and her husband were singularly happy. By honest, thrift and constant toil, he had made a money-making business. Every morning he went on the interurban to get out for orders, and then would go back in the afternoon to deliver them.

COLD HIM

"On Monday previous to the homicide, Chevington was coming from the Scotland depot along the highway, and just south of the railroad crossing encountered Jess Carter, a life-long friend of the Chevington family. He had known him ever since he was a mere boy.

TOOK HIM

"The first intimation he had of the violation of his home, when he was told by Carter, "Sara, your life, and I don't want you to get into what is going to tell you. There is a lot of talk in this community about your wife and this fellow Bishop. You go and make inquiry and you'll find what I mean."

BROKE INTO TEARS

"He went to her between 4:40 and 5:00 o'clock on the night of the shooting and begged her to tell him what she knew. He and her had an actual intimacy with Bishop. Then she broke into tears and told him that Bishop had pursued her, made her his mistress and later that he would kill her.

State-wide Prohibition Wins Sweeping Victory in South Carolina Polls

With One Exception the 15 Dispensary Counties Joined 30 "Dry" Counties in Voting Against Liquor.

"DRY" VOTE OVER DOUBLE THAT CAST FOR LIQUOR

Incomplete Returns Show 33,104 for Prohibition and 14,157 Against—Governor Manning Says He Will Enforce the Law.

Columbia, S. C., September 14.—South Carolina today adopted state-wide prohibition by a vote of 33,104 to 14,157, according to almost complete unofficial returns gathered here tonight.

These returns show that by a vote of more than two-to-one the voters went to do away with the present county option system of county dispensaries and to establish state-wide prohibition.

The vote, with nearly full returns from 15 of the counties, last tonight stood: For prohibition, 33,104; against prohibition, 14,157.

The total vote, while well over that cast in most general elections in South Carolina, is far below the customary total in the democratic primaries.

Governor Manning, who was elected on a local option platform, after learning the result of the vote, gave out the following statement: "I am glad to have spoken, he would do his utmost for the enforcement of the law, for the support of all citizens in his policy."

Of the thirty counties already dry under the local option law, all gave the vote in favor of state-wide prohibition, the margin being large in most cases. Only one of the counties now having dispensaries is certainly the local option district.

Charleston county, which contains the metropolis of the state, has gone over to the local option. In that county the vote stood nearly 10 to 1 against state-wide prohibition.

Richland county, in which is located the state capital, Columbia, is one of the state, went largely for prohibition, the returns, with the bulk of the vote accounted for, being 3,154 for prohibition and 1,100 for the local option.

In Dorchester, a small county in this county, the local option vote was a few larger than for prohibition, but later returns may change this.

The 15 counties which now have dispensaries, the capital, second city, Beaufort, Calhoun, Charleston, Dorchester, Florence, Georgetown, Jasper, Lexington, Orangeburg, Richland, Union and Williamsburg.

Of these, Allendale, Calhoun, Florence, Jasper, Lexington, Georgetown, Orangeburg, Richland, Union and Williamsburg, have voted for state-wide prohibition, the capital, second city, Beaufort, Calhoun, Charleston, Dorchester, Florence, Georgetown, Jasper, Lexington, Orangeburg, Richland, Union and Williamsburg.

Another important bill is the one to amend the tax law to levy a tax on all university endowments.

The state warehouse bill and the bill for a new auto tax law are also of great importance, measures which may be introduced in the legislature.

PRO-GERMANS IN WEST LIKELY TO OPPOSE LOAN

There Are Even Reports of Plan to Float Rival Loan for Germany, Thus Tying Up Money So the Allies Can't Get It.

New York, September 14.—The pro-German element of New York's financial world probably will be invited to meet in the city to discuss the proposed loan to Germany.

The proposed loan to Germany, it is believed, will be a loan of $100,000,000, to be repaid in 10 years, with interest at 6 per cent.

There are reports that a rival loan to Germany is being floated in London, which would tie up the money so that the allies could not get it.

Pro-Germans in the West are likely to oppose the loan, and there are even reports of a plan to float a rival loan for Germany.

Prospects for Favorable Adjustment of Controversy Depend Entirely on Attitude of Berlin Foreign Office.

IF GERMANY REFUSES, RUPTURE IS PROBABLE

Diplomatic Relations Will Be Severed Unless Germany Satisfies the United States—There Is Hope, However, of a Friendly Adjustment.

Washington, September 14.—Prospects for a favorable adjustment of the controversy between the United States and Germany depend entirely on the attitude which the Berlin foreign office will take toward the recommendations made today by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, as a result of his conference with Secretary Lansing.

Details of the conference became known today, throwing light on the critical point that had been reached in the relations between the two countries. The Washington government was almost ready to sever diplomatic relations, but decided to delay taking any step until Germany could be furnished the evidence in its possession on the Arabic case.

BUILDING OWNERS OPEN CONVENTION

A Million Dollars to These Delegates Is Just Like a "Jitney" Fare to Ordinary Folsk.

The Atlanta convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, with 116 delegates, was put under way Tuesday morning in the assembly hall of the Piedmont hotel.

Joe Fred Bhaer, secretary of the Atlanta association, the host of the national delegates, an official registrar of all delegates, has shaken hands with every one, welcoming him to Atlanta and Georgia.

"I have shaken hands with men worth more money than I ever dreamed of," said Mr. Bhaer last night. "If you aren't worth at least $10,000 or $15,000, there is no sensation in my shaking hands with you."

The delegates saw the value of the property he was representing as $100,000, and said that Atlanta is now entertaining a convention of higher caliber and higher personnel of delegates than any convention ever held in this city.

Besides instructive lectures this morning and afternoon on building management and other subjects equally interesting to the building owner and manager, a theater party tonight at the Forsyth theater, on schedule for the delegates, and the big barbecue at Stone Mountain on Saturday afternoon is going to be a "hummer." At this barbecue the official close of the convention will be held.

Today's Program.
This morning's session will begin at 9 o'clock with an address by Charles H. Lacey, president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, on "The Building Owner and Agent."

Following Mr. Lacey, Ass. G. Candler of Atlanta, who owns more skyscrapers in more different cities of Georgia than any other delegate to the convention, will deliver a 45-minute talk on "The Property Owner."

Mr. Candler, superintendent of the Douglas Robinson, Charles E. Brown company, of New York City, who is registered as representing $100,000 worth of office buildings and apartment houses in New York City, will conclude the morning's address with a talk on "The Building Owner."

At the afternoon session, which opens at 2 o'clock, E. S. Jewell, secretary of the Omaha Association of Building Owners and Managers, will read a paper on "Measuring Floor Area."

Mrs. E. M. Horne entertained Tuesday afternoon at a brilliant reception at her home in honor of the ladies who are attending the convention.

This morning Mrs. Horne and her ladies' reception committee, will meet the visiting ladies at different points of interest in the city, including the home of Joel Chandler Harris, the home of the famous Uncle Remus stories, the cyclorama at the city hall and luncheon at the East Lake country club.

Atlanta Convention a Success.
C. A. Patterson, convention manager and editor of the "Building and Building Management," a Chicago publication devoted to building interests, at the close of the morning session Tuesday, declared that the Atlanta convention is the most successful of the national association.

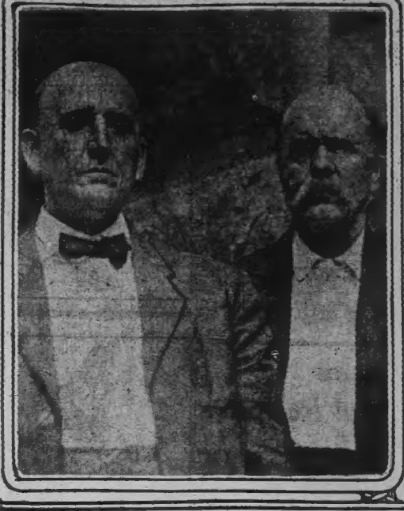

Governor Nat Harris left a stick bet at the mansion in Fulton county this morning and welcome the delegates to Atlanta. That he was too sick to talk today for five minutes, however, he compelled to return to his sick bed before his talk, instead of the official welcome to them.

"I wanted you to have an official welcome on behalf of my state," said the governor, "and that I set up and came to fill my engagement. There would have been more than I could have done here had I been here. In behalf of the entire state I am here to say that we are happy to have you meet with us and that we are proud of capital city in which you are meeting."

J. P. Jackson, secretary of the new Y. M. C. A. building, which is the largest in the south, said the invocation. Preston E. Arwirth, head of the local street railway company, read the address of welcome on behalf of Atlanta.

J. E. Randall, of Chicago, president of the national association, delivered the president's address, making several commendable remarks on the work for the past year done by the association in solving the problems of the modern skyscraper.

Murray Commissioners, in Exile, Go Home to Serve Contempt Term

D. R. Dunn (left) and T. M. Hemphill (right), Murray county commissioners, whom Judge A. W. Pite has declared must go to jail for contempt of court.

Determined to fight Judge A. W. Pite's injunction restraining them from proceeding with the erection of a courthouse at Chatsworth, according to plans and awarded contract, the Murray county commissioners and the county attorney, who have been exiles in Atlanta since last Saturday, returned last evening to commence a term in jail for contempt of court.

County Commissioners D. R. Dunn, T. M. Hemphill and J. A. McGehee and County Attorney Jess M. Sellers say that they must suffer the order of the court, for should they attempt to pursue their preparations for a public building, they would be liable to suit for advertising the plans and specifications without consent of the court. They would go without recompense for their work in the city they employed to represent them in the impending litigation, which the superior judge's attitude may bring about.

CASE AGAINST LYDE DISMISSED TUESDAY IN RECORDER'S COURT
J. J. Lyde, of 41 Walker street, whose activities in the recent campaign against Councilman Renfro to get on his trail for alleged non-payment of his city taxes, was acquitted of the charges by Recorder Johnson Tuesday afternoon in police court.

Councilman Renfro was present, but had nothing to say. W. H. Terrell, attorney for Lyde, asserts that reports of the trial in the afternoon papers were incorrect, and that the recorder dismissed the charges against his client instead of finding him guilty.

"We showed that Lyde has attempted to pay his taxes at the city marshal's office," said Johnson, dismissing the case, with instructions that Lyde be allowed to pay his taxes.

Seno, Sept. 14.—(Special.) A victory for good roads was claimed by the voters of Clayton county, who yesterday defeated the proposition to abolish the board of county commissioners and substitute therefor a single commissioner, with power to limit powers.

The special election on the proposal to abolish the board was called under the provisions of the last legislature. The campaign hinged mainly on the question of the roads, which was upheld by the result of the election. The board of county commissioners will continue to manage the county's highways.

WHO IS GAME WARDEN IN FULTON COUNTY?
Attempt of McClesky to Oust Zimmer Will Test Ruling of Attorney General.
Who is game warden in Fulton county? This has a state game commissioner the right to appoint men serving under him in the administration of a succeeding commission.

There are questions that will be up in the air in Fulton county when he gives a hearing to two warrento proceedings issued yesterday by L. L. McClesky, Fulton game warden, and the state game commissioner, and the state game commissioner, appointed by present Governor Harris, to succeed the late Governor Brackin.

Mr. McClesky was appointed game warden two weeks later Mr. Zimmer, who was appointed by Governor Brackin, was ousted from Fulton county with two wardens at once. Attorney General Clifford Fowler was appealed to for a ruling on the question.

NO PROSECUTION FOR E. E. HOLCOMBE IF HE REFUNDS MONEY
"I shall, of course, as a matter of moral responsibility and aside from any other consideration, stand behind the state and whatever shortage there may be in Mr. Holcombe's accounts, and I will not prosecute him any more," said Mr. P. B. Lattimer, attorney for public buyers and around yesterday. "It is not my purpose," said Mr. Lattimer, "to proceed against Mr. Holcombe criminally, and I understand it will not be the state's disposition, so long as the shortage is made good. I am satisfied of that."

Here's Your Hat
We believe this is the most becoming Derby we have ever shown.
There is something to the lines—the curl of the brim and the graceful taper of the crown which readily adapts it to various types and faces.

We have it in three proportions: the smaller shape for small men; the medium shape for men of medium build, and for the large, full-face, broad-shouldered man, we have a very full proportion that seems to say to every one who tries it on—here's your hat.

Mrs. A. F. Colan, regent of the Joseph Habershnam chapter, D. A. R., has called a meeting of the chapter for this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the ball room of the Ansley hotel.

What Every Mother Knows.

Every Mother knows that during the trying period before baby comes the use of Mother's Friend, a dependable external remedy obtained from druggists, is absolutely necessary so as to avoid the pains caused by undue tension upon the cords, ligaments and muscles resulting from vascular expansion. Under the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and by applying Mother's Friend all these are soothed and helped. Expansion is natural and pains are relieved. In many cases nausea, morning sickness and other distresses are avoided.

coms of alterations being made at the club the change was necessary. This meeting, the first of the fall, is an important one and all members are urged to attend.

Suffrage School.

The Atlanta Equal Suffrage association announces the following program for Wednesday's session of the suffrage school. A lecture by Attorney Ball Stockbridge on "Constitutionally Why the District" will be the subject of an address by Elizabeth Griggs, vice president of the Atlanta Typographical union.

Five Weycross Women the Right to Vote, will be debated by members of the Georgia Young People's Suffrage association. The school will open at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the Ansley hotel. Every one interested is cordially invited to attend.

Progressive Matrimony Party.

Miss Louise Baldwin and Miss Frances Johnson were hostesses at a progressive matrimony party, Friday evening at the home of Miss Baldwin, on North Boulevard. Brides and grooms were effectively arranged throughout the evening. The first prize was awarded Miss Elaine Toward and the consolation to Miss Helen B. Jones. A reception hall was served in the reception hall. The guests included Mrs. Helen McPherson, Elizabeth Galtner, Jessie Mae McVee, Virginia Cherry, Lillian Baker, Elsie Townsend, Edna Lee, Katherine Snelson, Margaret Moore, Barto Ward, Woodruff Cecil Carter, Hans Hedstrom, Kathleen Christensen, Mervin, Barto Ward, H. C. McPherson, Jr., Edward Whitman, Hugh Carter, J. C. Jones, Richard Williamson, Lester Pina, Rudolph Williams, Letta Adams, Frank Taylor, Carter Hutchinson, John Jones.

Lecture at Ansley.

The program of lecture Friday at 8 p. m. at the Hotel Ansley is as follows:

"America—Bang, by the audience, led by Dr. E. A. Kraft. Selection—Miss quartet of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. (Sings)—(a) "For You Alone" (Quill); (b) "The Lonely of Spring" (Quill); (c) "The Lonely of Spring" (Quill). Mrs. H. C. Crenshaw, accompanied by Mrs. Annie Bay Bell Carter. Some "Wonders of the West" with eight illustrations—Mrs. William Bay Carter. Mrs. Peet was asked how she could possibly give interesting material on a subject after a hurried trip, to which she aptly replied that she had been there not years, and that some people could travel forever and never anything. "Really," said she, "I hope nobody will think of an amusing remark in my little talk to make some comparisons between this and other cities with much smaller bank clearings, for as Mrs. Shalagrap would say, "comparisons are odorous" but it is very well to get on beatings now and then. I hope all who come out will feel repaid."

For ten or fifteen years I have had a mania on the subject of the building and planning of cities, and when I go to a town I look first at the streets and sidewalks, then at the buildings and skylines, and then I ask how much money they have got. Since seeing some clean, wholesome cities west of my mania has become acute. Owing to the limited seating capacity an admission of 25 cents will be charged.

600,000 ATTENDANCE FOR FESTIVAL WEEK

Retail Merchants Pledge Support to Get Biggest Crowd Atlanta Ever Saw.

An attendance of 600,000 people during the Harvest Festival week was the high water mark at the meeting of the Atlanta-Retail Merchants' association yesterday at their luncheon in the Ansley hotel. "There is no reason why," said President Beaumont Davison, of the festival association, "we should not have a total attendance of 600,000 people at the festival. It is up to the merchants to see that it is pulled off the week of the Harvest Festival."

The Harvest Festival was enthusiastically endorsed at noon yesterday at the largest meeting of the Atlanta-Retail Merchants' association held in six months. At the close of President Davison's address a resolution was adopted pledging the backing of the Atlanta retail merchants to the festival.

Executive Committee Meets.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Georgia Festival association, held Tuesday afternoon in the directors' room of the headquarters, it was suggested that the Rotary club of Atlanta, have charge of all social events of carnival week, including the aerial battle which is scheduled to take place two days during the week. It was also suggested that the Food Merchants' club, of Atlanta, have charge of Carnival City and all amusement events on the streets the week of the festival. President Beaumont Davison called special attention to the fact that the agricultural implement people are interested in the festival, and especially in the agricultural day parade, and in order to acquaint them with the detailed plans of the festival it is expected that the managers of the day parade implement concerns in Atlanta will be invited to a special luncheon within the next few days.

It was agreed to have a luncheon at the Piedmont hotel at 12:30 next Monday, at which will be invited a list of representative citizens of Atlanta, following out the plan of the festival association to acquaint all the people of Atlanta, section by section, with the detailed plans of the festival association. Another luncheon of the same kind will be held on next Tuesday night at the Winwood hotel, and among those who will be asked to be present and speak on this occasion will be James H. Gray, President of the Georgia Agricultural Implement Manufacturers' Association, Clark Howell and P. E. Murray.

Military Drill.

There will not only be airship flights, but also balloon ascensions and flights of dirigibles carrying mail and dispatch packages, in addition to the mimic war which will be carried on by the war aeroplane. The fifth regiment at a meeting last night decided to have their championship company drill at the Auditorium between dances on Wednesday night, this being Military day and the night of the military ball at the Auditorium. The first feature of this drill will be a company drill, two companies competing for the final championship. Those winning the regiment will be the champions of the drill for the next year. There will also be other prize drills. These and other features are sure to make the military ball one of the most popular events of the week and will crowd the house to its capacity.

Those at the executive committee meeting last night were Beaumont Davison, W. Orr, Ivan E. Allen, Lucien York, Mayor James G. Woodward, J. Lee Barnes and C. H. Kelley.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PLANS TO EXTEND WORK

Measures for extending the organization of the prohibition forces over the state were adopted yesterday at a meeting of the headquarters committee of the anti-saloon league and a move was made to assist the work for temperance in the Shenandoah valley. The committee also received reports on the continuation of the commonwealth. Captain W. J. Raliff, in charge of the anti-saloon work in Vicksburg, Miss., was present by invitation. He reviewed the progress of temperance in that state.

Dawson Bros. Mfg. Co., on Peters Street, Begins Active Operation of the Former Plant of Jones Bros. Co.

When the 7 o'clock whistle blows at the big Pickle and Preserving plant of the Dawson Brothers' Manufacturing company on Monday morning next, some thirty or forty employees who have been idle for several months will go back to work.

This plant, at the Peters street location, the Peters operated by Jones Brothers company, and was one of the largest concerns of its kind in the south. Several months ago, through business reverse, the plant was closed down and after a short time passed into the possession of Dawson Brothers' Manufacturing company, a firm of many years' successful experience in the pickling and preserving line. At the time last Brothers acquired the Atlanta plant they also owned similar large plants in Memphis, Tenn., and Dallas, Tex. Within the past few days the company has also secured a large plant at St. Joseph, Mo., formerly the one of Jones Bros. & Co. This latter is even larger than the Atlanta plant and is equipped with all the latest modern pickle, vinegar, and sauce making machinery. Since taking over the Atlanta plant the Dawson Brothers have

You Can Help

Some people don't like smoke.

And, perhaps, it is just as well to regulate it, so that its discomforts can be reduced to a minimum.

But real, live, smoking smokestacks are an excellent indication of prosperity.

They mean life—activity—employment—payrolls—money made and money spent in our home communities.

Wish we had more of them here—wish others that are idle—if there be any—would follow the example of the big Dawson Pickle Plant and show by a curl of inkiness emitting from their stacks that the plant was busy—that the unemployed are again at work.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Easiest thing you know.

Tell your retail merchant that you want home-made goods.

Tell him this fact: That right here under our nose is manufactured things to eat and wear which are just as good—just as stylish and durable—just as wholesome—just as low in price—as any similar goods—and you want them. Insist upon them.

Tell your shoe man that RED SEAL SHOES, made by the J. K. Orr Shoe Co., are a home product of which you are proud—and see that a pair goes on your feet.

Tell your grocer that the best HAMS, BACON and SHOULDERS are the CORNFIELD brand, cured and packed here at home by the White Provision Co., and that's the brand you want. If he hasn't got this brand, he'll get it mighty quick—just as soon as a few home people call for it.

Tell him, too, when you want VINEGAR, PICKLES, PRESERVES, etc., that you prefer the goods which are made here at home—in a clean, sanitary plant, employing nearly a half hundred of home men and women—all white labor. Call for the line put up by the Dawson Brothers Mfg. Co. Your grocer knows the line—and he can get it for you if he don't happen to have it.

Ask your grocer, too, for MISS DIXIE SELF-RISING FLOUR or for CAPITOLA FLOUR. Manufactured by the Atlanta Milling Co., giving employment to a large number of home people—and the product of this mill is the very best on the market.

You wearers of Shirts, Pants and Overalls—make it your invariable rule to call for the ARAGON BRAND. Nearly a half thousand men and women are employed by the A. M. Robinson Co. in the manufacture of these lines of wearables. A strictly home company—making a line of goods the equal of any. Your retailer will be glad to supply you—but YOU CALL FOR THEM.

Then there's KENNESAW BISCUIT—baked and packed by the Frank E. Block Co., in a model home plant, where hundreds of home people are employed. That's something. And, besides, the goods are always fresh and crisp—and they cost you no more than similar goods of other brands.

YES, You can help in the employment of more home people—you can help in the starting up of idle plants here at home—you can do a whole lot toward boosting your home community, and at the same time get the best goods—by calling for HOME-MADE GOODS—DO IT NOW.

Crackers on Last Trip; Close Season September 26; First Division Possible

By Dick Jensen. After enjoying a day of rest on the home soil, the Crackers have today played their first game of their last road trip, said trip closing the season, the last game on the home grounds having been played last Monday with the Gulls as the victims.

The Crackers have a splendid chance to finish in the first division. They are but a half a game behind the Nashville Vols, who are in fourth place, and they play the Vols today and Thursday. Two victories would put the Crackers ahead of the Vols.

Blanton Ready Again. Shortstop and Captain Blanton is ready to play again, but the local manager does not know whether he will take him on for the rest of the season. It is believed, however, that some decision regarding Blanton will be reached by the end of the present week.
