

LUMP ACCESSORY IN MURDER PLOT STATES WARRANT

Papers Will Be Sent to New York and Barber Brought Back for Joshua Crawford Death Investigation.

LAWYER SAYS LOVERS SCHEMED FOR FORTUNE

Lump and Mrs. Crawford Broke Engagement So She Could Marry Old Man, Say Witnesses for Relatives.

A warrant was sworn out before Magistrate Girardeau at 3:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon charging Fred Lump, a New York barber, with being accessory before and after the fact in the Joshua B. Crawford murder case. This warrant will be sent to New York, and Lump brought back to Atlanta immediately, according to Colonel Joseph James, attorney for the Crawford heirs.

The whole affair was planned in Florida by Lump and Mrs. Crawford, according to our witnesses, said Colonel James. "Lump had gone to St. Augustine before Mrs. Crawford met Mr. Crawford. Our witnesses say that Lump and Mrs. Crawford were sweethearts.

Called Him Old Turkey Buzzard.

"One of our witnesses, Mrs. E. C. Bursener, says that she frequently heard Mrs. Crawford say that 'I will marry the old turkey buzzard (Crawford), get his money, and then marry Lump.' Likewise, Mrs. Gertrude Painter will testify that Mrs. Crawford said that after Crawford was dead she would marry Lump and that Lump had consented to the arrangement. When asked as to how this would be accomplished, Mrs. Crawford, according to Mrs. Painter, said, 'I will tank him up on whiskey and kill him that way.'

"Likewise we have witnesses to swear that Mrs. Crawford promised to give a man by the name of George Lashley, of Pittsburg, a house and lot, and pay money to a man named E. G. Eick, of Newark, N. J., if the two would persuade Lump to accept his release from marrying Mrs. Crawford. 'I shall charge to the plan then was to marry Crawford, do away with him, and then with the money marry Lump. Lump evidently agreed. A few weeks ago we had a deposition taken from Lump in New York in which he admitted that he was in Atlanta at the time of Crawford's death. Likewise we have witnesses to prove that he remained in this city two months after the funeral of Crawford.

Lump Very Nervous.

"When this deposition was taken Lump was extremely nervous as though suffering from fright. In this deposition he stated that he stopped at a hotel on the south side of Marietta street opposite the city hall. As you know, there is no such hotel there. He also said that the reason he was there was that he was working for a barber named Charlie, and that he couldn't remember Charlie's last name. He said that he had worked for Charlie in St. Augustine, and that Charlie had sent for him to come and work in Atlanta.

"We also have evidence that Mrs. Crawford who married under the name of Mrs. M. E. Crawford, a woman by the name of Bishop Pittsburg, a her husband a short time before going to St. Augustine. One of our witnesses, Mrs. Mary McDermott, will testify to this.

The Alleged Divorce.

"Likewise we have evidence that Mrs. Crawford had been divorced from Mr. Bishop at some time or other in her career. It is likely that the prosecution will try to prove that coercion was used in bringing about the marriage of Crawford and the defendant.

In the civil hearing of the case before Auditor Anderson, Mrs. L. C. Dillings, who lived at the Crawford residence on West Peachtree before the latter's death, stated that Joshua Crawford once remarked that 'I would like to see the day when I would be degraded as well by marrying his woman,' referring to the defendant.

Mrs. Dillings told of a number of occasions when she talked with Crawford and said that Mrs. Crawford at one time attempted to choke a Miss Scott, sister of the witness.

No Effect on Barber. Should Fred Lump, the New York barber, be arrested on the warrant worn out Tuesday charging him with being accessory before and after the fact in the Crawford murder case, it will have absolutely no effect upon the case of Mrs. Mitty Belle Crawford, according to her attorney, Burton Smith.

"There is not the slightest evidence of murder in this case," Mr. Smith said. "Therefore Lump could not have been a party to such a crime. Besides, he was nowhere near Crawford at the time of his death. His arrest should occur, will have no effect at all on Mrs. Crawford, one party to the other. Even if Crawford had been murdered, it could not have affected the inheritance. "Anyone who knows Mrs. Crawford knows that she could have not committed a crime such as murdering her own husband."

COMMITTEE VOTES DOWN STATE BOARD OF TAX EQUALIZERS

Ways and Means Majority Holds Tax Revision May Be Accomplished in the Counties.

MINORITY REPORT WILL BE OFFERED IN HOUSE

Line-Up of Tuesday Will Be Continued Until the Battle for Reform Has Been Fought Out.

By a vote of 13 to 9 the house committee on ways and means yesterday afternoon decided that a state board of equalizers should be provided for in the tax equalization bill to be reported this year, but only county boards of equalizers. This action followed a discussion of several hours' duration in which it developed that a strong line-up had been formed in the committee between those who felt that a state board of equalizers was an essential part of any adequate scheme of tax revision and those who felt county boards of equalizers would accomplish all that was needed just now.

Lipscomb Bill by Substitute. After it had been settled that a state board of equalizers was not wanted, the committee voted to report as a substitute the Lipscomb bill, the bill drawn up by the subcommittee with two amendments proposed by Mr. Sheppard, of Sumter.

This bill follows substantially the original bill so far as county boards of equalizers are concerned, but strikes out all sections creating and defining the duties of a state board of equalization. In the measure as reported no provision for the adjustment of taxation between the counties is made, that being left entirely as it is now, except that the controlling jurisdiction is given the right to call county boards of equalization to such inequality as he may find and to suggest and advise changes in assessments.

Minority Report. Representatives, of Muscogee, gave notice on behalf of those who believed with him that a state board was necessary, that a minority report would be filed. It is quite certain that the nine men who voted for a state board, including Mr. Lipscomb himself, are of the opinion that the bill was favorably reported by substitute. They will sign the minority report and the line-up that was made in the committee will be carried into the house and senate and will be in evidence until the battle for tax revision in both bodies is fought to a finish.

On the motion which was made by Representative Garlington, of Richmond, that the sense of the committee be first taken as to whether a state board was wanted or not, the ayes and nays were called for with the following result:

How Committee Voted. Ayes—Cole, Garlington, Jones of Coweta, Lipscomb, Melson, Myrick, Rainey, Swift and Wheatley—9. Nays—Barnes, Cooper, Galloway, Morris, Evans, Jones of Lowndes, McGehee, Oliver, Paulk, Sheppard, Suggs, Stovall of Elbert and Thompson—13.

The chairman, Mr. Aikin, did not vote on the motion, as there was no tie, and he, of course, took no sides in the debate, but it is understood that he will present the majority report of the committee in the house and will stand for the bill which the majority reported.

Mr. Lipscomb, as matters now stand, will be placed in the rather nominal position of having to oppose on the floor of the house the passage of a bill which bears his name. He regards the elimination of the state board feature as entirely changing the intent of the bill and will oppose it with that left out.

Provision of Bill. The bill reported provides for the creation of county boards of equalization in each county to be appointed by the superior court on the recommendation of the county commissioners in those counties which have county commissioners and in other counties on the recommendation of the ordinary, clerk and tax collector. They are to hold office for a term of six years and are to be paid not less than one cent more than the tax collector, the time that they actually work, the exact sum to be fixed by the county commissioners.

These equalizers shall review the tax returns as soon after the 1st of January of each year as possible and to fix the assessments of each taxpayer. The dissatisfied taxpayer shall have the right of a hearing by these equalizers.

Mrs. Peel to Preside Over Open Meeting on Suffrage

MRS. WILLIAM LAWSON PEEL.

At the solicitation of her many friends among Atlanta's prominent men and women, Mrs. William Lawson Peel, wife of Colonel William Lawson Peel, president of the American National bank, has consented to preside over a public meeting where the subject of woman's suffrage will be discussed. The meeting will take place next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Taft hall, and already a dozen or more of Atlanta's leading men and women have consented to make five-minute talks on the subject of suffrage.

At last the time has come when this all-important subject, which has agitated the press and people of two worlds, which has put prime ministers under guard, which has made volunteer martyrs of British maids and matrons and embarrassed that Chesterfield body, the Georgian senate, is to be threshed out with equal representation on both sides of the question. The meeting has been brought about by the determination of a group of patriotic Georgia women who believe that some expression on the subject will relieve a great many minds, unclutter the machinery of a good many organizations and give those who have felt burdened with richness of thought on the subject an opportunity to get rid of some of it and at the same time enlightening many who up to the present moment have but a vague idea of the real meaning of the suffrage question.

Mrs. Peel to Tell Views. "I have consented to preside at the meeting with no idea of leading people one way or the other, with no idea of organizing for or against the measure, and I will take the opportunity of expressing my individual feeling on the subject. No, I have no idea of stating before the time of the meeting what my views are," continued Mrs. Peel. "I will not take more than the allotted five minutes' time, though what I have to say covers a great deal of space next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Taft hall, and already a dozen or more of Atlanta's leading men and women have consented to make five-minute talks on the subject of suffrage. At this meeting there will be brought into discussion the master minds of today's hearing, with the introduction of a memorandum which Mulhall said was a 'blacklist' of congressmen whose defeat was sought by the manufacturers. Congressmen to 'Knockout.' Mr. Mulhall's 'blacklist' had been prepared by former Congressman James E. Watson. It follows: 'Watson Here's a list for you to knock out: Candler, Mississippi; Hamlin, Missouri; Sanford, New York; Bryan, New York; Lever, South Carolina; Graham, Illinois; Lobeck, Nebraska; Beall, Texas; Stephens, John H., Texas; Bowman, C. C., Pennsylvania; Lloyd, Missouri; Clark, Missouri; Humphreys, Mississippi; Carter, Oklahoma; Brantley, W. G., Georgia; Hill, Tennessee; Ficker, Ohio; Burton, Texas; Towler, Iowa; Focht, Pennsylvania; Gardner, Massachusetts; Henry, George, Jr., New York; Henry, R. L., Texas; Hinds, Maine; Lindbergh, Minnesota; Rees, R. R., Kansas; Reilly, Connecticut; Foster, Vermont.' Senator's Request. Senator Smith giving me his support in the appointment of A. S. Hardy at Gainesville, but would not have been so insistent had I known he was committed to Hardy's defeat in advance, said Representative Bell today in returning to the attack on Senator Smith for the failure of Bell's nominee to win the postmastership. Taking up Senator Smith's demand for 'efficiency' in the federal service, Mr. Bell asks if this was one of the reasons why Mr. Hardy was turned down. The latter is editor of a daily newspaper in Gainesville, and his disbursements were passed over and the place awarded to a lady far advanced in years, the widow of a man formerly prominent in local politics. Bell's Formal Statement. Here is Mr. Bell's formal statement: 'Senator Smith's statement that he would approve any appointment made at the Gainesville office does not relieve the situation in the least, because in my judgment he knew better than I that Mr. Hardy would never be appointed and he was safe in making this promise. 'Big statement that he had insisted that the president's friends and his must be considered in the different appointments in Georgia is superficial because conditions surrounding federal patronage in Georgia show that they have been cared for. He might have added in safety that anti-Smith-Wilson people had not been sufficiently considered. If so I would be glad to be furnished with a list of their opponents in Georgia, who have been fortunate enough to get federal offices in Georgia, as I would like to congratulate each one and in some way locate the influence by which it was done, as it might be helpful to me. 'I am glad that Senator Smith in his indorsements considered first 'efficiency service to the government.' However, I have not been questioned on that point with respect to appointments made upon my recommendation, and inefficiency might have been one of the charges kept secret from me in connection with the Gainesville appointment. Urged Smith to Support Hardy. 'I did insist upon interest in Smith giving me his support in the appointment of A. S. Hardy at Gainesville, but would not have been so insistent had I known he was committed to Hardy's defeat in advance. 'I did insist that an interloper who had no legitimate interest in the Gainesville appointment should not be allowed to interfere because of his affinity kinship to the white house and that it was Senator Smith's duty to use his influence to help me prevent it, but no appeal I could make availed anything. This convinced me that he was really pleased he had unloaded the responsibility upon one 'without hopes or fears' to avoid the criticism of himself. Truly he 'works in a mysterious way his wonders to perform.' Among the nominations for postmasters made by Representative Bell six have been approved by the department. ANGRY HUSBAND KILLS ALLEGED HOME WRECKER

Henry McClelland Shot Dead When Felled by F. L. George in His House.

Savannah, Ga., July 15.—J. L. George entered the room of Henry J. McClelland, a boarder at his wife's home, this afternoon about 3 o'clock and with the words, 'Get down on your knees and pray to your God, for I'm going to kill you right now,' shot and mortally wounded McClelland, who died in less than an hour afterwards. He was shot in the body, the bullet passing close to his heart. After shooting McClelland, George left the house and surrendered to a policeman. He accuses McClelland of undue intimacy with his wife, from whom he had been separated several weeks. He talked freely about the shooting after being locked up and expressed regret for his act. 'But it just had to be,' he said. McClelland was the son of Miss J. Beck of this city. Both men were employees of the streets and lanes department of the city. There were no eye-witnesses to the shooting.

BRANTLEY'S NAME WAS BLACKLISTED BY LOBBY'S ORDER

Chief Lobbyist Mulhall Swears That the 'Interests' Urged That the Georgia Congressman Be 'Knocked Out.'

MANY CONGRESSMEN DISLIKED BY LOBBY

And, Like Brantley, Were Blacklisted—Mulhall Declares Tariff Board Was Created by Manufacturers.

The name of former Congressman W. G. Brantley, of Georgia, figured in the senate lobby inquiry in Washington Tuesday. Martin L. Mulhall, self-confessed chief lobbyist for the National Manufacturers' association, swore that Brantley was on the 'black list' of the manufacturers, and that orders were issued to 'knock out' the Georgian along with other congressmen not liked by the association. 'This development in regard to Brantley is a bit remarkable in view of the fact that during his last term in congress he was lampooned in certain papers as a 'Canon democrat' and a 'tool of the interests.'

The sworn statement of the chief lobbyist, however, shows that Brantley was so hostile to the 'interests' that they ordered him to be 'knocked out.' Washington, July 15.—The senate lobby investigating committee made 410 knots today over the sea of the Martin M. Mulhall correspondence. It was not a record run, but a number of fish were landed. Mulhall was in the witness chair and Senator Reed at the helm of the investigating bark for most of the five hours it was steaming ahead. Mulhall identified 410 letters, telegrams and memoranda put in the records of today's hearing. With the introducing of a memorandum which Mulhall said was a 'blacklist' of congressmen whose defeat was sought by the manufacturers. Congressmen to 'Knockout.' Mr. Mulhall's 'blacklist' had been prepared by former Congressman James E. Watson. It follows: 'Watson Here's a list for you to knock out: Candler, Mississippi; Hamlin, Missouri; Sanford, New York; Bryan, New York; Lever, South Carolina; Graham, Illinois; Lobeck, Nebraska; Beall, Texas; Stephens, John H., Texas; Bowman, C. Bell Says Senator Is Trying to Unload Responsibility on an 'Interloper'—Georgia Appointments Held Up.

Washington, July 15.—Washington today was interested chiefly in developments following Secretary Bryan's statement that he had to spend his vacation on the lecture platform because he couldn't live on the secretary of state's salary of $12,000 a year. The lobby investigation, the tariff and the Mexican situation were forgotten temporarily, at least, while everybody talked about the resolution introduced by Senator Bristow calling on the president to 'advise the senate what would be a proper salary to enable the present secretary of state to live with comfort and enable him to give his time to the discharge of his public duties.' When the Bristow resolution was read, amid republican laughter, Democratic Leader Kern and other senators immediately objected to its consideration and after a few brief exchanges it went over. It was fully discussed, however, in the lobbies and cloak rooms at both ends of the capitol. Bryan Issues Statement. Later Secretary Bryan issued this statement: 'When Mr. Bryan's attention was called to some criticisms that had been published in regard to his lecturing, he replied as follows: 'I do not find to have the criticism brought to my attention. I believe in criticism of public officials. Criticism is helpful. If a man makes a mistake, criticism enables him to correct it; if he is unjustly criticized the criticism helps him. I have had my share of criticism since I have been in public life, but it has not prevented my doing what I thought proper. 'In devoting a part of my vacation to lecturing, I am doing what I believe to be proper, and have no fear whatsoever that any unkind remarks will criticize me when he knows the facts. 'For seventeen years the sources of my income have been writing and lecturing, but each year I have made more public speeches, without compensation and where I have paid my own expenses. My income during the past year, however, has been large and I have made not only an income sufficient for my needs, but an average, something more than ten thousand dollars a year. 'In accepting the office which I now hold, I gave up my lectures and gave up my accumulations, for I do not expect to increase, during my term, the amount I have laid aside—that is, I am not going to increase my income. My income might derive from the acquiring of forty thousand dollars more for the privilege of serving the country in this office during the coming four years. I will do more if necessary, but I do not believe that fair-minded people will ask it of me. 'Therefore, until I see some reason for changing my purpose I expect to lecture upon my purpose to bring my income up to my expenses, these lectures will continue during the time that other officials give to their vacations. In addition to supplementing my salary, I hope that my lectures do good—people who attend them would not do so if they did not think they received their money's worth, but I would be glad to spend my vacation lecturing instead of lecturing, if I could do so without eating up the amount I have laid away as a protection against old age. 'Senator Bristow's resolution set out that from 1789 to 1797 Thomas Jefferson and Edmund Randolph held the office of the secretary of state at salaries of $8,000 a year; from 1797 to 1819 John Marshall, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams served—at $5,000, from 1819 to 1858 Henry Clay, Martin Van Buren, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun and James Buchanan served at $6,000; from 1858 to 1911 William H. Seward, James G. Blaine, Thomas B. Bayard, Walter Q. Gresham, Richard Olney,

Bryan Wants No Increase.

Senator Shafrath, of Colorado, declared Secretary Bryan had assured him he did not desire an increase of salary.

Secretary Bryan's home in Washington is the old mansion of General John A. Logan, for which he pays $4,000 a year. Secretary Bryan's home, which he rented a house in diplomatic row on fashionable K street, paid $7,000 a year, though during his term of office he received but a salary of $8,000, because the salary of secretary of state was increased while he was a senator and was debarred from enjoying the increase by a constitutional provision.

The historians of Washington point out that many of Bryan's predecessors in comparatively recent years were wealthy. John Hays' house was one of the show places of Washington. Secretary Bryan has the use of certain horses and equipages which belong to the state department, but he often prefers to drive his own automobile.

In Same Hour Horse Kills One and Mule Injures the Other—Robert Stewart Is Dead.

Two young boys were fatally injured yesterday at almost the same hour when they were kicked in the head by a horse and a mule. The head of a horse and a mule. The eldest victim, Robert Stewart, aged 9, died almost instantly. The other, Jeffrey Barryhill, aged 5, was expected to survive.

The accidents occurred in different parts of the city, but almost at the same time. The dead child was the son of Mrs. Belle Stewart, of 63 Ella street. He was riding a horse along Stewart avenue near West street when the animal became frightened.

He was thrown from the saddle and as his body fell to the ground the animal's hoof struck him in the head, crushing the skull. He was dead when the ambulance arrived from Grady hospital. His form had been pitched directly over the horse's head.

The Barryhill child lives at 808 Marietta street. Shortly after noon he was playing in the front yard of his home, when a mule belonging to his father escaped from the horse lot and ran through the yard.

The boy was in the animal's path and before he could move the animal stepped upon him, inflicting a wide gash in the forehead just above the left eye. He was knocked unconscious and at Grady hospital, where he was pushed in an ambulance, surgeons say there is little hope for recovery.

BRANTLEY'S NAME WAS BLACKLISTED

few months. He told, or his letters did, of his strike-breaking activities in St. Louis, of an effort to aid former Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, politically, and of how well he knew former Senator Beveridge, of that state. He gave details of another visit to Maine and another effort to give political assistance to former Congressman Littlefield, of that state. He mentioned again former President Taft, the late Vice President Sherman, the late W. Van Cleave, of the National Association of Manufacturers, and other men prominently connected at one time or other with that organization.

The witness thought about $22,000 had been raised in Indiana for the Watson campaign and a letter read just before adjournment tonight told of "many thousands" in the state one of whom was willing to spend $100,000 to defeat Watson. The letter did not identify the millionaires and the committee didn't ask who they were.

During the day Mulhall told of how he broke a strike of shoeworkers in St. Louis. He swore that $3,000 had been turned over to him by F. C. Schwedman, secretary to Van Cleave, to pay to the strike leader to end the difficulty. Schwedman, who was in the room, will be allowed to take the stand when Mulhall has finished.

Passenger That Brought Scandal.

The day's voyage was not entirely monotonous, although members of the committee began to show the strain of the long hours they have spent in this investigation and the committee adjourned two hours earlier than usual. Many times in the course of the day there were passages that brought smiles to the members of the committee and the spectators. Mulhall himself, usually close-lipped and curt, caused many of the laughs and letters read, particularly those of Dr. Crockett, of Thomaston, Maine, were followed closely.

COMMITTEE VOTES DOWN STATE BOARD

the board, but their decision as to the return is not final.

It was ordered that 300 copies of the bill be printed for distribution to members of the house.

The sub-committee of five included Akin, Stevald of Elbert, Sheppard, Cooper and the final decision in favor of Treutlen county last Thursday and had the decision postponed, again was on hand to offer objections, as was also Mr. Folsom, of Mt. Vernon.

There was a formidable array of speakers and delegates present, both in the interest of and opposed to the creation of Atkinson county. Among those favoring this county were C. L. Moses, of Coweta; J. A. Cromartie, of Jeff Davis; Mark Wilcox, of Coffee, and others.

Backed by a delegation of seventy-five people from Wilcox, Colleton, J. W. Quincey, of Douglas; J. P. Dickerson, of Homerville, and J. P. Knight, of Berrien, opposed the new county.

After a warm contest the committee voted down in defeat for the fourth time in the last several years. Rufus Hutchins, of Rome, spoke in favor of the county, while Judge Ed Burch, of Dublin, opposed it.

GRIGGS AND TREUTLEN FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

Creation of Atkinson and James Counties Turned Down After Hearing on Tuesday.

The committee on constitutional amendments Tuesday night agreed to recommend to the house for passage the amendments for the creation of Griggs and Treutlen counties. The committee declined to recommend the creation of Atkinson or James counties.

The committee began its hearings on these four counties early in the afternoon, and the hearings lasted through the entire afternoon and until 8 o'clock at night, being characterized at times by bitter fighting.

Numbers of residents and lawyers retained appeared for both sides in each instance, except in the case of Treutlen county, the hearing in favor of which was held last Thursday afternoon.

There were several large delegations present from the various counties affected, and the house chamber, where the committee met, was crowded to its capacity.

Three Counties Affected.

The creation of Griggs county affects Worth, Colquitt and Mitchell counties in favor of Griggs statistics were produced showing that the new county will have a population of 12,320, taxable values of $2,748,225 and an area of 280 square miles. Doerun is the proposed county seat.

Mr. Way, of Moultrie, and others appeared advocating the creation of Griggs county. There was also strong opposition before the committee. Judge R. L. Shipp, of Moultrie; J. M. Tipton, of Wilkes, and others speaking. There was a delegation of 100 or more residents of Worth county present opposing the creation of Griggs. As a final shot before the committee a request was offered that the decision upon Griggs be withheld until the hearing on the creation of Hansell county could be had, since these two proposed counties in part affect the same territory.

Objections Are Offered.

When the creation of the opposition against the creation of Treutlen county was called Mr. Geiger, of Mt. Vernon, who appeared on the scene at the last minute of the hearing in favor of Treutlen county last Thursday and had the decision postponed, again was on hand to offer objections, as was also Mr. Folsom, of Mt. Vernon.

There was a formidable array of speakers and delegates present, both in the interest of and opposed to the creation of Atkinson county. Among those favoring this county were C. L. Moses, of Coweta; J. A. Cromartie, of Jeff Davis; Mark Wilcox, of Coffee, and others.

Backed by a delegation of seventy-five people from Wilcox, Colleton, J. W. Quincey, of Douglas; J. P. Dickerson, of Homerville, and J. P. Knight, of Berrien, opposed the new county.

MAYOR WILL RUSH WORK ON STREETS

Street Car Company Informs Woodward That Laying of Tracks on Ivy Street Will Begin Thursday.

That the Georgia Railway and Power company will start laying the tracks on Ivy street on Thursday was the assurance Superintendent Thomas K. Glenn gave to Mayor Woodward following a conference Tuesday morning.

The mayor called County Commissioner Shelby Smith and S. B. Turman to confer with him and Captain R. M. Clayton, of the city construction department, on the progress of the work on Ivy Street. Georgia avenue and West Mitchell streets. Mayor Woodward declared that too many streets were being torn up in the city and that complaints have been made to him that little progress has been made.

Car Tracks Not Down.

As was the case in Marietta street some months ago, the county is prevented from starting the Ivy street paving because the car tracks have not been put down. However, the railway company has declared that it is ready to go to work just as soon as the city gives the word. Similar conditions are reported in Georgia living in the city. The street car company is waiting for the earth to settle in the fills made necessary to give the street a uniform grade.

What caused Mayor Woodward to call on the city and county and city officials to make up a definite program was the resolution passed up by the street committee authorizing Captain Clayton to purchase material for the West Peachtree street regrading.

Would Work Hardship.

The mayor threatened to hold up the resolution until the Ivy street paving is completed. He said that if the tracks were torn up and impassable at the same time would cause hardship on the people living on the north side.

Chief of Police Smith, of the county commissioners, informed the mayor that the paving could be started just as soon as the railway company gets a start. Upon the assurance that the railway company will start Thursday morning, Mayor Woodward agreed to approve the West Peachtree resolution for the purchase of material. The city will start on that thoroughfare within a few days.

Opening of Georgia avenue will commence September. This was assured by the county commissioners.

Mayor Woodward says that he will take steps to urge the hastening of the West Mitchell street project.

TURKEY TROT IS GAIT TO HELL, SAYS PARSON

Columbus, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—"Turkey Trot" was the subject of pointed sermon delivered by Dr. A. M. Williams, presiding elder of the Columbus Methodist district, at St. Luke's Methodist church to a large congregation. The turkey trot, and the animal dances were roundly denounced. General moral laxity in the summer season was condemned. Sabbath breaking through the use of automobiles, frequenting of summer resorts, and the like were mentioned and criticized. The sermon has been the subject of much comment here. It was editorially commended by the Columbus afternoon paper.

SWIFT FAVORS STATE BOARD

Mr. Swift opened the debate in favor of a state board. He said that a tax revision did not mean an increase of taxes from the honest citizen, but rather a decrease. The bill reported by the sub-committee did not meet the situation. Tax equalization could not be accomplished without the machinery to do it with.

The legislature in 1890 had passed an act providing for county boards, which had been repealed by the succeeding legislature because it did not equalize taxes among the counties and inequalities more glaring than they had been before.

Mr. Jones, of Coweta, said that county equalizers without a state board to supervise and control them would make but improvement on the present situation. He feared that some county boards would purposely keep assessments down so that they would not have to pay as much tax as other counties.

Sheppard's Substitute

In speaking against a state board, Mr. Sheppard, of Sumter, offered as a substitute for the committee of five's report a bill of his own, which he said was the same, except that it gave the power of recommending the county boards to county commissioners instead of the grand jury, and made some other small changes.

One of the strongest arguments for the creation of a state board of equalizers was made by Mr. Wheatley, chairman of the appropriations committee, who is ex-officio member of ways and means. Mr. Wheatley cited specific instances showing the present glaring inequalities of tax returns among counties. Land in Rabun county was assessed at $2.89 per acre, while reports to the census enumerators showed values of $4.04. Survein land was assessed at $2.07 per acre, reported to the census enumerator at $2.96; Ogilthorpe, assessed at $4.18, reported to the census enumerator at $1.48. These figures showed that Rabun, one of the poorest counties, was paying far more than its just proportion of taxes as compared with wealthier counties, such as Screven and Oglethorpe.

Peppers Perjure Themselves

Mr. Wheatley summed up his disgust with the present system by saying: "As a taxpayer, I have been purring myself, whenever I return my property for tax. All the other taxpayers in the state have been doing the same thing. I, for one, am tired of it. That is all."

After the sense of the committee had been taken by the vote on Mr. Garlington's motion and was found to be against the creation of a state board, the motion was made the substitute offered by Mr. Sheppard should be reported to the house with the recommendation that it pass a tax revision bill which had never even been read in the committee.

BUSINESS WOMEN WILL HAVE HOTEL

Atlanta Y. W. C. A. Work Will Be Broadened by A. G. Rhodes.

Right back of the new hotel Ansley in Atlanta, the business women of Atlanta will have their own hotel, their own reading room, recreation room, a place they can call their own. This becomes possible through an arrangement which the management of the Young Women's Christian association have made with Mr. A. G. Rhodes, the owner of the property, who has generously contributed to the movement.

The news comes through Mrs. Harry Dewar just prior to her departure for Europe and will bring a universal relief to the innumerable young women of Atlanta who have enjoyed the privileges of the Young Women's Christian association and who are looking forward to the reorganization, broadening and vitalizing of the Atlanta work.

Since the Atlanta branch of the Young Women's Christian association gave up their quarters in the Emery-Steiner building the central bureau has had place in the Wesley Memorial building, but in the acquisition of the Rhodes property on Ellis street the headquarters will be moved there. Plans are on foot by which a domestic science teacher will be established in the building, so that members of the association living in the new building will have the opportunity of studying that important branch. The rooms are being made comfortable and inviting and will soon be made ready for occupancy. Classes in music, handicrafts and studies will be centered in the new building.

The home of the Young Women's Christian association will still continue its usefulness on Baker street. Mrs. Harry Dewar, who is chairman of the publicity committee of the association, stated just prior to her departure that announcement will soon be made of the program of the Y. W. C. A. work for the year.

Mrs. Dewar states that the establishment of the boarding home comes as the most frequently demanded department for Atlanta's business women and for the younger element of women and girls who, coming to Atlanta to do their first work, desire comfortable home in a central locality and a home at the same time under the protecting auspices which the Young Women's Christian association represents wherever it is.

Miss Sarah Converse, of Atlanta, who is one of the most efficient of the women workers for the welfare of the Y. W. C. A., is in New York at present. While taking a special course at Columbia university she is investigating the various departments of the Young Women's Christian association there with a view to bringing an inspiring message back to the Atlanta branch of the work.

CONVICTED PREACHER GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Fort Smith, Ark., July 15.—Marion Capps, a preacher convicted of burning his three children to death, has been granted a new trial by the supreme court, according to information received here. The jury's failure to state the degree of murder of which Capps was guilty and the alleged admissions of his 15-year-old daughter, Bertha, and his 12-year-old son, Ella, that they had testified falsely against him at his trial were stated as the grounds for granting the new trial. The testimony of the children convicted their father.

EUROPE PRESSES UNITED STATES

To Declare Intentions in Regard to Chaotic Conditions in Mexico—Situation Is Intolerable for Foreigners.

Washington, July 15.—Administration officials admitted tonight that the situation in Mexico and diplomatic inquiries over Europe as to what the attitude of this country would be toward its neighbor on the south were engaging their deepest attention.

Secretary Bryan had a two-hour conference with President Wilson today and the foremost subject before them was the Mexican problem. Earlier in the day it had been discussed at length at the cabinet meeting.

It is stated that European diplomats stationed in Mexico City have sent to their respective governments identical notes, in which they declare that the position taken by the United States with reference to Mexico is contributing to revolutionary conditions and suggesting that the representatives at Washington of the respective European countries be instructed to request recognition of that the United States assume responsibility for affairs here.

It is known that the administration officials have been continuously opposed to recognition of the Huerta government until elections were held and it has frequently been stated informally that recognition would not be extended until the constitutional machinery in Mexico had been set in motion again to elect a new president to succeed the provisional president now acting.

It is believed that in the meantime every effort will be made to indicate to the Mexican people that the United States government expects protection of its interests through the present government.

COUNTY MAKES KICK ON CITY MATERIAL

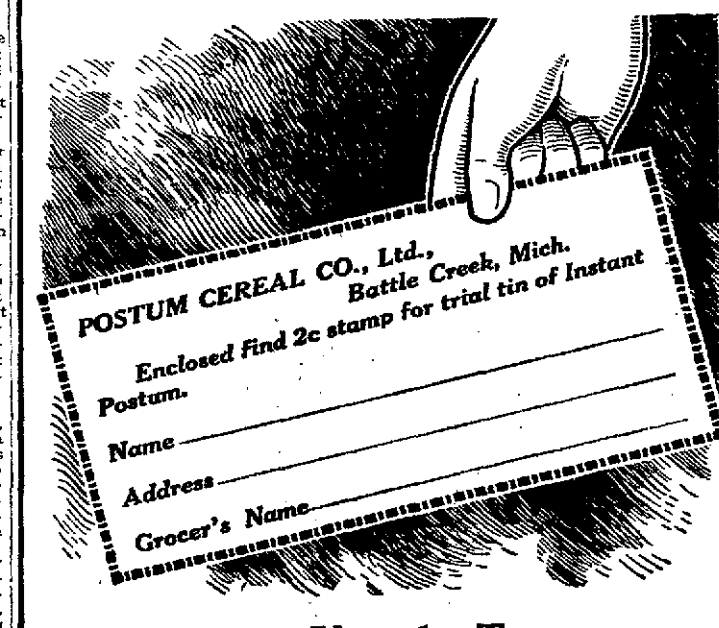

The county commissioners have made formal complaint to the sewer committee against the character of material the city is furnishing for the construction of the Butler street sewer. Chairman Shelby Smith appeared before the committee Tuesday afternoon and made the statement that the rubble stone furnished by the city was delaying the work. He made the suggestion that the city furnish crushed stone for the remainder of the job.

Contracts which the city have with the quarries specify that rubble stone be furnished by the city and furnish crushed stone instead.

The city has secured two crushers and will start blasting rock, but it will be for other jobs.

MINIMUM BALE FIXED AT COTTON CONFERENCE

North Georgia Cotton Buyers and Manufacturers Announce Strict Regulations

The North Georgia Cotton Buyers and Manufacturers' association meeting in Atlanta Tuesday at Hotel Ansley was attended by fifty or more representative men in the several lines.

The meeting was called to order by President J. D. Moss, of Athens, and the association at once got down to business. The principal work before the body was the standardizing of cotton bales and the penalization of same.

After much discussion on these features by members from all sections of the state and from a few in northeast Alabama, it was decided that every bale of cotton bought by the members must not weigh less than 400 pounds, and bales weighing less will be penalized 50 cents each.

It was further decided that all bales must not measure more than 37 by 54 inches. All gins having gin boxes larger than this will be asked to reduce to the required size.

The question of requiring the railroads to put the initial and number of car on each bill of lading was thoroughly discussed, but no definite action taken because it was not found practicable in all cases, but it will be requested whenever and wherever possible.

The meeting was a most profitable one, so said all of the very much interested members who were present.

The other officers of the association present were C. B. Howard, of Atlanta, secretary, and the following members of the executive committee: J. T. Jennings, Atlanta; W. O. Jones, Elberton; C. V. Truitt, Leesville; W. W. Smith, Cedartown, and W. M. Harris, Hampton.

Will Dispose of Grace Property.
J. A. Branch, recently associated in the defense of Mrs. Daisy E. Grace, but no definite action taken because of charge of shooting and maiming her husband, has been given power of attorney to sell her Atlanta property, which is said to comprise small dwellings and lots in different sections of Atlanta. Just what property is likely to be sold is not specified in the instrument authorizing the sale of her Atlanta holdings.

URGES GEORGIA EXHIBIT AT SAN FRANCISCO SHOW

T. Sambola Jones Tells Legislators Why Adequate Appropriation Should Be Made.

T. Sambola Jones, of Louisiana, commissioner-at-large from the United States of the Panama-Pacific exposition to be held at San Francisco, Cal., in 1915, addressed the general assembly of Georgia Tuesday morning extolling the merits of the great exposition and of the Panama canal and urging that a proper showing be made by the state of Georgia.

Mr. Jones emphasized the fact that the south would be the main recipient of any good that may and will be derived by the completion of the Panama canal and stated that every month a state would answer to the roll call in 1915 by an adequate exhibition of their products, and that Georgia by virtue of her high rank among the states should have an exhibition which would be representative of her natural resources.

"Poverty is no crime, but the inertness of a state in forwarding its ends is a horrible crime and while I realize the defective system of taxation in Georgia, this is no reason why this grand state should not be represented at the 1915 exposition," he said.

FIRST GENERAL BILL PASSES STATE SENATE

Committee Will Grant Another Hearing on Measure Providing for Reading Bible in Schools.

The first general bill of the year was passed in the senate Wednesday morning when the measure of Senator Jones, of the thirty-ninth district, requiring the preformation in writing of charges made against members of county school boards before they can be summarily dismissed, was put through without a dissenting vote.

The house resolution of Mr. Miller, of Bibb, inviting Senator Hoke Smith to address the general assembly July 18, at 12 o'clock, was passed in the senate Tuesday afternoon.

Opposition to the bill requiring the reading of the Bible in the public schools of the state took definite form Tuesday when the bill was brought up for its passage, but, upon motion of Senator E. P. Dickey, of the education committee, was referred to that committee in order to allow those opposed to the measure an opportunity of presenting their arguments.

Labor Measures Get Setback.
Two labor measures of Senator Ken, of the sixteenth, introduced by the committee on commerce and labor and by Commissioner H. M. Stanley, were given serious setbacks when one was tabled and the other recommitted. The bill requiring manufacturers to give the commission of commerce and labor any information requested by him concerning their plants or employees, was recommitted. The measure designating where the seats of females shall be placed in factories was tabled.

The bill of Senator Searcy, introduced at the request of temperance leaders, and providing for the enforcement of the Webb law in Georgia, was discussed pro and con before the temperance committee of the senate, and action was finally deferred until the committee should meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The medical practice bill which had been favorably reported by the senate committee on hygiene and sanitation, will go back to that committee for a second hearing at 9 o'clock this morning, and all concerned in the matter are requested by the chairman of the committee, Senator C. H. Richardson, to be present in the senate chamber at that time.

Favorable Report Given.
The bill of Senator Hule, of the thirty-fifth, requiring a written guarantee on all packages or sacks of melon, vegetable or other garden seeds, was reported favorably by the agricultural committee. This committee also reported favorably on a bill exempting from taxation farm products, including cotton, for twelve months.

After hearing from a delegation of fertilizer men composed of R. F. Maddox, H. C. Fisher, Hugh Gordon, J. H. Padgett, W. H. Pinson, F. T. Townsend and L. W. Reeves, the committee on agriculture reported that the bill requiring that the formula of all fertilizers be printed on the sacks or boxes of fertilizer, do not pass.

The bill of Senator Ekins, regulating catches of sea, snags and traps in the waters of this state, was reported with the recommendation that the same do not pass.

ALBYN HAYNES NAMED ON TEXAS STATE BOARD

Former Atlanta Man Appointed Member of Fire Insurance Commission.

The friends of Albyn H. Haynes, of Austin, Texas, formerly of Atlanta, will be interested to know that he has been appointed the third member of the state fire insurance commission of Texas, and that the Texas papers, in commenting on the appointment, are most complimentary to Mr. Haynes' ability.

The San Antonio Express says: "Mr. Haynes' commission is only temporary, as he is an expert to the commission and will draw a larger salary as such than is payable to the commissioners. He has accepted only for the present, until the governor can secure a third man who comes up to the requirements. Mr. Haynes has been chief clerk to the insurance board, and is recognized as one of the best posted insurance men in Texas, but he can draw no salary as an expert than as a state official. He is a native of Georgia, but makes Travis county his home."

"While Mr. Haynes has been acting as chief clerk and expert to the commission, it is not improbable that he will be made a duty of the new commission with a handsome increase in salary. He could not afford to remain commissioner. If he would accept the place permanently the governor could not get a better man."

DR. STARNES TO GIVE CONCERT ON THURSDAY

A special free concert will be given Thursday evening at the Auditorium-Armory by Dr. Percy J. Starnes under the auspices of the Atlanta Musical association.

The program, which will be one of the most beautiful ever arranged for Atlanta music lovers, will consist of a classical organ recital in which selections from Mendelssohn, Liszt and Haydn will predominate.

The Thursday evening concert, which in no way interferes with the regular Sunday concert, will be followed by another special concert at which Dr. Starnes will play the great "Symphonic Pathétique" of Tchaikowsky in its entirety.

Dr. Starnes leaves Atlanta in the early fall, and this will be one of the last opportunities local music lovers will have of hearing him preside at the great organ.

At the concert Thursday evening symphony music will make up most of the program.

Fatal Accident on Nebraska

Boston, July 15.—Henry A. Agena, an ordnance man, was fatally strangled and James Leary, a first-class electrician, was badly injured when a steam valve blew out today in the dynamo room of the battleship Nebraska in the dry dock at the Charleston navy yard. Agena was working as an electrician's helper when the accident occurred and was immediately removed to the United States naval hospital at Charleston. He died there later.

WIFE, SEPARATED COMES TO AID OF STRICKEN HUSBAND

Penniless and broken in health and spirit, a man of 50 years lay upon his back in the Wesley Memorial hospital. He had seen days of prosperity, but with the passing of time they had gone forever. His business had failed and he, a bankrupt, had aged and broken. His name is D. D. McCall—known to many Atlantans as the head of the Georgia Motor Car company, which failed about a year ago.

As he lay in the hospital McCall felt the thrill of a touch long held dear, but which he thought had also gone forever. His wife, from whom he had been separated for more than two years, hearing of his desperate illness, rushed to her husband's aid. That was but a few days ago, and since then she has watched night after night at his bedside, though without funds herself, and without other friends to aid or sympathize—only the love of former years to spur her to sacrifice.

Both are now without funds, in spite of the many friends they had in days of prosperity, but it is hoped that this picture of a wife's all-sacrificing love may reach one of their former friends, who will aid the now unfortunate pair in their sad reverse.

BIG SHOE FACTORY NOW BEING ERRECTED BY BUFORD CONCERN

Buford, Ga., July 15.—(Special).—The Bona Allen company, of Buford, is constructing a shoe factory to be run in connection with their other large industries located at Buford. This enterprising concern tans all its own leather for its horse collar factory, which is the largest in the world, and also for the harness department, and intends to increase the capacity of the tannery 250 hides more per day. In order to take care of the shoe factory. The present capacity is 400 hides per day. They also utilize the by-products of the tannery in the extensive manufacture of glue.

Mr. Conway is an expert in the United States and is known throughout the United States as an experienced tanner of shoe leather. Schlitz Brown Bottle Claims Authenticated by Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology. We reprint from his letter.

"Our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

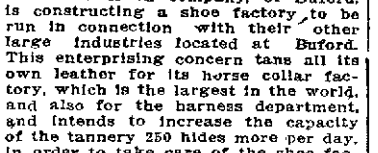

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction, placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable, on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommendable."

He quotes famous authorities to corroborate his opinion. Authorities on the subject of the detrimental influence of light on beer are:

C. Lintner, Lehrbuch der Bierbrauerei 1875, S. 343.
Beck, Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1882, S. 370.
V. Huth Der Bierbrauer 1876, S. 127.
Ney, Allg. Zeitschr. f. Bierbr. u. Malzfabr., 1878, S. 273

Light cannot harm Schlitz in Brown Bottles. It is made pure and then kept pure.

BILL CARRIGAN SUCCEEDS STAHL

Disagreement Between Manager and President Is Said to Have Led to Change. Stahl to Hold Stock.

Chicago, July 15.—"Jake" Garland Stahl was ousted as manager of the Boston Americans today by James McAleer, president of the club. Through differences were rumored causes of Stahl's release, both manager and president insisted that the demand of stockholders for a "playing manager" was the motive. Tomorrow Catcher William Carrigan will assume charge of the team.

Stahl's release was unconditional, and he will give up baseball as business, although retaining his Red Sox stock, devoting his time in the future to his banking business in Chicago. He has played four games this season, an injured foot keeping him out of the field. He managed the team from the bench.

Stahl was grieved apparently at McAleer's decision to release him and declared he had done his best to sustain the team's reputation as world's champions. To bad luck Stahl attributed the comparatively poor showing of the team this year. In connection with the news of Stahl's release, stories of internal trouble among the "Red Sox" were retold today. Carrigan, the new manager, was among the leaders of the faction which rumor says was against Stahl.

Stahl was induced by McAleer to return to the Boston team and assume the management at the beginning of the 1912 season, soon after McAleer became president.

Not a Surprise.

Boston, July 15.—The announcement that Manager "Jake" Stahl of the Boston Americans would sever his connection with the team he led to a world's championship last season was not unexpected here. The basis of the disagreement between President James R. McAleer, of the Boston club, and Manager Stahl, according to some, was the reported desire of Stahl to supplant McAleer as president, of which Stahl is understood to have disclaimed all knowledge.

Another factor was Stahl's inability to play because of an old foot injury prepared to direct the team from the bench, but President McAleer insisted that he get into condition to play. McAleer is understood to have practically ordered an operation on Stahl's foot, which was successfully performed more than a month ago, but the manager never recovered sufficiently to resume his position.

It is estimated that with Stahl's salary as player-manager of $19,000, his player's shares of the world receipts and his dividends on club stock, he cleared $25,000 last season.

"Bill" Carrigan, who succeeds Stahl, has a reputation as one of the leading baseball strategists among active players. He is 28 years old and a native of Lewiston, Maine. He came to Boston from Holy Cross college in 1906 and has been with the Red Sox since, except for part of 1907 when he played with Toronto.

MARRY FIRST, THEN THEY TELL RELATIVES

Dan Cupid stole a march on the older people Tuesday night when Miss Virginia Belle Ellis, of 560 South Pryor, and Harvey L. Jackson, of 95 Spring street, a well-known young business man of Atlanta, quietly walked off and were married by Rev. Walter Ogden in the church office of the Central Presbyterian church.

Immediately after the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride walked into the hallway, and informed them that a wedding had just taken place. Then they explained whose wedding it was.

They will be at home at 560 South Pryor street.

NEW PLAN URGED FOR FARM CREDIT

Herbert Myrick Tells Legislators of Two Systems of Banks to Enhance Rural Credits.

Herbert Myrick, of Illinois, president of Orange Judd Southern farming, addressed a joint session of the house and the senate at noon Tuesday on "Farm Finance for the South." In his address he outlined the principles upon which he believes this financial system should be established. He advised against mixing mortgage banking with current loans and deposits, and gave suggestions as to how farmers could finance their farms on the estate law. President Myrick advocated a bill for co-operative people's banks for personal credits, and co-operative land banks for realty credits.

President Myrick advocated the support of the reform bill for the monetary system now pending in congress. In part, he said:

Principles of Use of Finance.

"While a righteous social system must have a basis in the moral and ethical principles which will vary according to the needs of various groups of people, but certain principles have been established which are common to all. Current credits must be based on quick assets. Permanent credits must be based on equally permanent obligations. To mix the two forms is to risk as to invest.

Meaning of These Axioms.

"The commercial banking, current deposits usually furnish 75 to 85 per cent of the bank's funds, the balance being made up of the stockholders, or accumulated earnings. Depositors of current funds must be sure of being able to get their money out when they want it. Therefore, the bank must lend its funds so that they are being constantly paid back.

"Now if the commercial bank invests heavily in mortgages on real estate, which are not due for years to come, it cannot sell them as rapidly to meet the withdrawals of current deposits. Hence commercial banks, which deal mainly in current deposits, should be withdrawn at sight or on short notice, should be relatively permanent mortgages on real estate. This rule is the only safe one for commercial banking, whether under the old or the new system.

"On the other hand, real estate mortgages, upon a proper basis, are a valuable and permanent investment. But because money on real estate mortgages must necessarily be for a long period, the bank must invest in a special type of bank to finance it. Savings banks and trust companies may safely loan their long-term deposits on real estate, because such deposits are permanent.

"That mortgage banking in America, especially for farmers, requires much better organization and more perfecting of the co-operative building and loan associations to enable them to pay for their own homes. There are few institutions, under the immediate supervision of their membership, and on a strictly co-operative basis, which have assets of over $100,000,000, have reached their highest development in the United States, and are now being imitated abroad. But the best method of financing farm mortgages is based on the German system, now 100 years old.

NEEDS OF SOUTHERN AGRICULTURE.

"What is needed is a new system whereby the farm owner may secure a loan on his land at a reasonable rate of interest. He should have the privilege of borrowing for a long term of years, on condition that he makes a small payment upon the principal thereof each year. It is believed that the land banking method herein advocated will work out so that the amount of interest paid monthly will be just enough to pay the interest, but gradually to wipe out the principal.

"Under present methods you may pay interest on your mortgage for twenty, thirty or forty years, and at the end of the period you still owe the principal in full. Under the new system, the amount thus paid will take care of both interest and principal, and at the end of the period your property will be free and clear.

Petty Savings and Loans.

"Except at a few centers, there is a dearth throughout the south of means by which people may be encouraged to make small savings, and then co-operate to employ these savings in relatively small loans to their members for productive purposes. If the so-called savings banks, whose business is now so small that they do not patronize any bank, either as depositors or as borrowers, would thus co-operate to apply their joint savings and their united credit for the purpose of furnishing short time or seasonal loans to their own people for productive purposes, the wealth of the south would increase by leaps and bounds.

"Such little local co-operative banks are entirely feasible. This idea is the simplest, safest and most practical form of associated effort. Owing to the absence of money of the kind, many a farmer now feels that the bank or money lender is on top of him, and his neighbors against him, he is neglected, discouraged, uninterested. How much better if he knew that the bank was his supporter and his neighbors working with him, that he would be optimistic, ambitious, successful. My method seeks to enable him to accomplish this result.

CITY TAX ON SALESMEN FROM NORTH PROPOSED

Wholesale Merchants and Jobbers of Atlanta Will Ask Ordinance.

A delegation representing the wholesale merchants and jobbers of Atlanta will appear before the tax committee this afternoon and ask that an ordinance imposing a tax on northern salesmen be adopted. They will also suggest that salesmen who come here during the manufacturers' convention be required to take out a license.

Last year the Atlanta jobbers and wholesalers spent great deal of time and went to great expense to bring dealers to the convention, salesmen from the northern and eastern markets hurried to the city and reaped harvest.

Atlanta merchants don't desire to exclude the other fellows, but they do want them to pay a tax or license fee just as all the others do.

Appointments at Gilmer, Commerce, Canton and Norcross are still undecided.

Stanley's Nomination Held Up.

Representative Hughes is still eagerly awaiting the nomination of V. L. Stanley, of Dublin, whom he recommended several months ago. Mr. Stanley has one of the largest endorsements ever presented in the postoffice department, but still his name is held up. Three Smith-Wilson leaders in Georgia have examined the files of his paper, The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, and have signed a statement that his opposition to Wilson was perfectly legitimate and not bitterly partisan.

Representative Gordon Lee has not yet returned from his nominations of Mrs. W. C. Bunn, at Cedartown, and George Danaby, at Rockmart. He has been expecting them for several weeks. John I. Fullwood, the republican postmaster at Cedartown, has been holding office under a recess appointment for over a year.

President Wilson did not send in any Georgia nominations to the senate today. The name of Howard Thompson, of Gainesville, to be marshal for the northern district is still pending before the judiciary committee, of which Senator Bacon is a member.

"We are giving it very careful consideration," said Senator Bacon today. He added that Mr. Thompson and Joseph E. Davis, whose name has not yet reached the senate, would be confirmed on the same day.

Opposition to Barrow.

Senator Hoke Smith has made an engagement with Mr. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury for a defecation of Southern citizens who will call tomorrow to protest against the appointment of David C. Barrow, as collector of the port.

Senator Bacon has selected Mr. Barrow for the place. The delegation, headed by Shelby Myrick, speaker of the house, will call on the speaker to get them a hearing. Others who are coming are Dr. George W. Herliott, Edwin A. Cohen, Dr. L. A. Smith, J. R. Williams and D. T. Elliott.

SOCIETY

They Forget Style at Seashore,
Therefore Everybody Is Happy

By Josephine Earnest Purse

By JOSEPHINE EARNEST PURSE.

"Do they wear the naughty bathing suits at Wrightsville which we see pictured in Vogue and Life?" someone wrote me the other day. I had to stop and think whether or not I had seen anybody who looked naughty, but it seemed to me everybody I thought of could come so well under the refrain of the last lines of that old song, maybe, "Naughty but nice."

The truth about the seashore is all the naughtiness is in the minds of the people who don't get there; just as all the naughtiness of dancing is in the minds of the "wall flowers;" and all the naughtiness ascribed to people who frequent social clubs is in the minds of those not eligible to membership.

But back to the seashore and the bathing suits—if there ever was a place where people forget themselves and forget to carp at their neighbors, and how they look, it is at the seashore. Here is where everybody goes in for pure and unadulterated pleasure, and where, after the first consciousness of the first appearance in the first bathing suit, style is forgotten and everybody braces themselves against the great, grand sea waves and forgets whether their hair is losing curl, or the bathing skirt is the right cut. They go in for sport—real sport—and they come out of the water having had it; feeling rejuvenated, and forgetting the cares of whatever has been left behind in the dusty city, or the enemy who pecked at them at the last party.

"Style" Soon Disappears.

As a rule the bathing suits on their first appearance are rather pretentious. Trimmings of red prevail, and there are becoming colors, and a cap adjusted just so! This lasts about two days. Then the red fades, and nobody cares; the little bows here and there drop off. The cap is put on the head in the surest way and muddled, who tripped in so consciously at first, just goes in at the last with the one thought of that refreshment that only the salt waves can give her.

There are many Atlanta-ers here and it goes without saying that wherever they are there is social life and good comradeship.

The fishing is fine, many parties going out to sea each day for blue fish, Spanish mackerel and drum. Informal bridge parties, sailing parties and dancing at Lumina are the diversions.

What Do They Dance?

They dance here just what they are dancing everywhere else—call it by any name you will, "the buoyant quickstep," the "poet's sigh," the "languishing lead" or the "seaside glide."

Among the entertainments given during the week was the dainty given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Baskerville, of New York, and Mrs. Adelaide Boylston, of Raleigh. There were 150 guests.

Baby's summer skin troubles

How to prevent them

During the hot summer months your baby's skin needs especial care. The high temperature and free perspiration cause the slightest thing to irritate it.

To prevent it becoming raw or chafed and breaking out in rashes and red spots bathe your baby daily with Woodbury's Facial Soap in the following way: Use lukewarm water, and with a very soft washcloth or silk sponge apply a generous lather of Woodbury's over the entire body. Then rinse with slightly cooler water and pat with a soft towel until the little body is thoroughly dry.

Woodbury's Facial Soap is the work of an authority on the skin and its needs. It has been recommended for years by physicians because of its valuable properties. Its cleansing action and mild antiseptic quality are just what your baby's skin needs for summer protection.

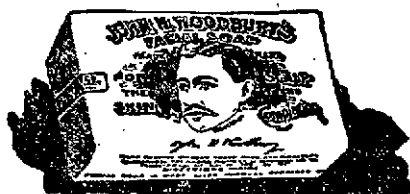

Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No mother hesitates at the price after her first cake. Begin now to get its benefits. Get a cake today and try the treatment described above. See how delightfully sweet, smooth and soft it leaves your baby's skin.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS WILL BE CONSIDERED TODAY

Ministers of Atlanta Will Hold Meeting at First Baptist Church.

The agitation both for and against the bill to enforce the reading of the Bible in public schools, which has sprung up among the ministers of Atlanta, will probably be brought to some sort of definite action this morning at 10:30 o'clock when a meeting of the ministers of the city will be held at the First Baptist church. Advocates of both sides of the question are expected to be present, and the question will be freely discussed. Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, who will be in Milledgeville Wednesday, stated last night that he is strongly opposed to the bill.

He said: "It is a violation of the Baptist conception of the separation of the church and the state and is an interference with religious liberty. Furthermore, the passage of the bill would bring the Bible into common disrepute among the children by forcing its reading upon them."

GOOD DOG CATCHERS SURE HARD TO FIND SAYS CITY MARSHAL

"Gee! don't hit!" exclaimed City Marshal Fuller as a reporter sauntered into his office in the city hall yesterday afternoon. "I reckon I'll never get two dog-catchers what'll suit the city."

The city marshal has about exhausted his patience, and is about to give up the quest for two dog-catchers to send out on the dog wagon, which has been resurrected by Alderman Van Dyke. The city authorized City Clerk Walter Taylor to employ two dog-catchers at a salary of $5 a day. After several days the city clerk gave the job up. The city marshal then volunteered, and though he has examined more than 200 applicants, not one of the bunch could make a noise like a dog-catcher.

Early Decline Was Followed by Firmness in Afternoon. August Lost Six Points, but Others Closed Higher.

New York, July 15.—An early decline at the cotton market and a decidedly firmer tone in the cotton market today, and closing prices were steady, with August still showing a net loss of points, while other months were from one to six points net higher. General business continued quiet, but it was rumored that, for practically the first time this season, domestic mills were moderate buyers of new crop months against prospective requirements, and this demand combined with rather a bullish view of the weekly report, no doubt accounted for the afternoon rally.

The opening was steady at an advance of one point, a decline of one point, with prices almost immediately sagging off, owing to the appearance of August selling orders in the hands of brokers with Liverpool connections. The difference between August in New York and August-September in Liverpool was only about 70 points this morning, and it was reported that international houses who had sold in Liverpool and bought August here, when the difference was 125 points, were taking profits on their straddles. These offerings sent August off to a net loss of 11 points during the early trading and the weakness of the month, evidently inspired some scalping, while there was also some southern selling and local offerings on favorable private crop reports from north Texas and eastern belt sections, July, however, selling only 2 points under last night's closing figures. While the selling of August tapered off toward the close of Liverpool and general offerings here became very light before midday, later in the market an increasing nervousness over the situation in the southwest, owing to the reports that both Texas and Oklahoma needed rain, dry weather and high temperatures had left the soil with increased moisture, and active or aggressive, but prices rallied some 10 or 12 points from the early low level, closing slightly off from the best under realizing.

Real Estate and Renting

100 PER CENT PROFIT

ROSWELL ROAD, at the intersection of Johnson's Ferry, Dunwoody, Lawrenceville, and Sandy Springs Roads, we offer 185 acres of the prettiest land in Fulton county.

If we could look ahead and see Roswell Road made into a beautiful 100-foot Boulevard, connecting with the proposed Riverside Drive, or see a car line out Roswell Road (it is certain to come), we could see this land selling for $10.00 per front foot.

We simply make the above remarks so as to try and get you to think about, or see this property through the same channel or glasses we are looking through, as many fortunes are lost every year from the fact that you cannot see a real estate proposition in the same light the real estate agent sees it, and want you to imagine what it would sell for as a town site proposition with a car line and its present three miles of graded and paved road.

We have subdivided this property into small tracts and are offering them as home building sites with restrictions as to stores. There isn't a possible doubt in our minds as to this property being a town site within the next five years, and we predict that every purchaser will double his money within that time.

One tract, 11 12-100 acres, fronting 447 feet on Johnson's Ferry Paved Road, and 807 feet on Roswell Road. A corner with a good house on it. It is covered with shade and some of the finest fruit in Fulton county. Next door to school house. Price $4,500. Easy terms.

One tract of 16 1/2 acres with 3,627 feet of road frontage, 2,646 feet of it paved; fronts on Roswell, Sandy Springs and Johnson's Ferry Roads. Elevated and covered with large shade trees; an old home place, and without question the prettiest building site around Atlanta. Price $8,500. Easy terms.

One tract of 18 1/4 acres, fronting 798 feet on Roswell Road; 1,824 feet on Johnson's Ferry Road, all paved, on corner, and another old home place with beautiful building site, covered with shade. Price $7,500. Easy terms.

One tract of 60 acres, as pretty a tract of land as you have seen anywhere. Fronts 644 feet on Roswell Road; 715 feet on Johnson's Ferry Road paved; 1,193 feet on Johnson's Ferry Road not paved. Covered with fruit and a fine never-failing peach orchard. A settlement road running through it, giving about 2,000 feet more frontage. Price $15,000. Easy terms. It is in a home settlement, and we believe that you can double your money if you will cut it into one to two-acre tracts.

One tract of 9 acres fronting 1,254 feet on Johnson's Ferry Paved Road. A beautiful building site. Price $2,000. Easy terms.

CABS AIDING CRIME,

DECLARE OFFICERS

Report of Many Victims Lead the Police to Believe the "System" Is Operating in Atlanta.

Assistant Chief E. L. Jett has begun a rigid investigation of cab lines in the Terminal station and downtown districts in an effort to end what the police believe to be a "system" of criminal operations that has been in practice for several weeks.

Promotion of Robberies. The police and detectives are of the theory that unlicensed cab lines are being operated purely for the purpose of robbery and the promotion of crime.

One of the most glaring instances brought to official notice was the highway robbery of two strangers a night or so ago, who, upon obtaining a cab at the Terminal station, were carried to a cross-town address, were carried, unaware of their whereabouts, to a desolate section near Elliot street.

Woman Has Narrow Escape. Another case reported to headquarters was the apparent attempt of a negro cab driver to lure a woman, an out-of-town resident, into the outskirts of the south side.

Several nights ago, upon arriving at the Terminal station, she hired a cab to be driven to the Union station, where she intended making connection with an out-going train.

From The Birmingham News--"Alabama may be at the bottom of the list of forty-eight states in education, without serious reflection upon her morals or intelligence. . . . But what excuse can there be for Georgia, the Empire State of the South, neglecting to pay the teachers of her children? It is fortunate that such papers as The Atlanta Constitution are ashamed of the situation. The only plea that can be made is that more money was appropriated than there was in the treasury. Somebody had to wait. And the school teachers are, according to some of the wise authorities, the ones least useful to the state. South Carolina has her Blease, but her children are being educated and her teachers paid their wages. Alabama has her child labor abuse, like other states of the union; Tennessee and North Carolina have their financial troubles, but it is only in Georgia, in some respects the richest of the cotton states, that the teachers are treated with contempt."

GREAT SLUSH FUND GIVEN BY THE LOBBY TO GREASE WHEELS

Mulhall Says Manufacturers Raised $500,000 to $700,000 Every Year to Oppose Legislation by Congress.

PLACE IN TAFT CABINET PLEDGED TO THE LOBBY

Mulhall Says Taft's Manager Declared Lobby Could Have Anything It Wanted—Hitchcock's Clash With Lobby.

Washington, July 15.—Plans to make the National Association of Manufacturers the controlling factor in campaigns for congress, to defeat legislation in Washington its members did not approve, to general the name of men who were running presidential booms and to land a member of the association in the cabinet of a president, were laid before the senate lobby by investigating committee today.

Martin M. Mulhall, self-styled lobbyist for the association, swore to the authenticity of nearly 400 letters which told of those letters and brought in the names of such men as former President Roosevelt and Taft, the late Vice President Sherman, former Speaker Cannon, former Senators Aldrich, Hemenway, Foraker and others, Arthur L. Vorys, Ohio manager of the Taft campaign in 1908, and Frank H. Hitchcock, one time chairman of the republican national committee and postmaster general in Mr. Taft's cabinet.

Slush Fund of $700,000.

Mulhall testified, too, that the National Council for Industrial Defense, an organization allied to the National Association of Manufacturers, had raised between $500,000 and $700,000 a year to be used in opposing legislation its members did not like. He said this information came from a collector for the council and that he had no personal knowledge of it except that he had been paid for political work from such a fund.

Mulhall showed the strain he has been under for four days during the afternoon session and the committee took him from the stand a half-hour and listened to testimony by J. P. Bird, general manager of the manufacturers' association and treasurer of the Industrial Defense Council. Bird brought half a carload of books and papers with him to Washington and turned them over to the committee. He refused to say who had contributed to the fund of the council, but he will be examined at length later and the committee will undertake to make him tell what manufacturers contributed and what amounts they gave.

Along with the information that Bird had half a carload of data to submit, the committee heard that E. C. Schwedtmann of St. Louis, secretary to the late James W. Van Cleave, once president of the National Association of Manufacturers, had about 130,000 letters bearing on the association's work. Schwedtmann was in constant communication with Mulhall according to the latter's recollection.

Watson and Roosevelt.

The committee was greatly interested in a letter which Mulhall swore he wrote to Schwedtmann April 16, 1908. It told of a conversation Mulhall had in Washington with former Representative Watson, of Indiana, in which the latter described a two-hour interview at the white house between Mr. Roosevelt and himself.

In part the letter read:

"He (Watson) said he was invited

AMENDED BY BLACKBURN CHARTER IS REPORTED

Initiative, Referendum and Recall Erased and Recorder's Powers Are Curtailed.

With two important amendments offered by Representative Blackburn and concurred in by the other members of the Fulton delegation, according to Mr. Blackburn, the new charter of the city of Atlanta was favorably reported by house general judiciary committee No. 1 yesterday.

The first amendment offered by Mr. Blackburn strikes from the charter all the sections which provide for the initiative, referendum and recall. Limit Recorder's Power.

The second amendment limits the power of the recorder in punishing offenders to a fine of $200 or thirty days in the stockade. The present charter allows the recorder to impose a fine as high as $600 and to send an offender to the stockade for sixty days.

City Attorney J. L. Mayson appeared before the committee and urged the adoption of the charter without the amendments. He said that the people wanted the initiative, referendum and recall features and were also opposed to curtailing the powers of the recorder.

Alderman James R. Nutting and Councilman Mason also appeared before the committee on behalf of the city council and urged the recommendation of the charter without change. Their appeals were of no avail, however, as the committee was unanimous in agreeing to the amendments offered by Mr. Blackburn.

Against Public Defender.

A bill which Judge W. J. Hammond was interested providing for the creation of the office of public defender in those counties which have cities with a population of 20,000 or more, was reported unfavorably.

Mr. Hammond appeared before the committee and made an earnest plea for the bill.

MERRY WAR IS RAGING OVER GEORGIA PLUMS

Senator Hoke Smith's Claim to Half of Patronage Is Not Liked by Congressmen.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 14.—(Special.)—Senator Hoke Smith left Washington this afternoon for Atlanta to deliver an address before the state legislature and to have a heart-to-heart talk with eager and anxious supporters who have been writing him about jobs under Uncle Sam.

Senator Smith's act in claiming one-half the postmaster's jobs in Georgia for his friends and supporters, has caused consternation among members of the house delegation, who had assumed they would control appointments in their districts.

A number of nominations by house members have been pending for weeks and even months, awaiting a word from Senator Smith that he approved them. Even where he has announced a hands-off policy, nominations which he has not approved have been kept in cold storage in the various executive departments.

Senator Smith asserts that since the advice and consent of the senate is necessary to make valid the president's appointments, he is charged with a responsibility to see that the proper kind of men are appointed.

Member of the house urges a division of the responsibility, and stand on the long-established custom which gives them control over patronage in their respective districts.

Senator Smith's course is sure to provoke bitter recriminations and a bitter controversy with the delegation is expected to ensue.

W. M. Braswell, of Walton county, Georgia, has been named as private secretary to the auditor for the war department.

Henry Hillier, of Atlanta, is here en route home from a pleasure trip in the east. He is accompanied by Mrs. William Hurd Hillier and Misses Eleanor and Jane Hillier.

SATISFIED OF HIS GUILT JURY ACQUITS SLAYER

Foreman Tells McNeil Jury Wants to Give Him Another Chance.

Kansas City, July 16.—A jury in the criminal court here today acquitted William F. McNeil, charged with the second degree murder, although the twelve men, according to the foreman, were "satisfied of the prisoner's guilt."

McNeil was charged with shooting Lee Self to death in a quarrel at a dance party.

When the jury came in and announced a verdict had been reached, Foreman Arthur Brown asked permission to speak to the prisoner.

"McNeil," Brown said, "we are all satisfied you are guilty, but we are going to give you another chance. We want you to go home and make a man out of yourself. Your mother is getting old and needs you. You are to cut out 'can parties.' Don't you think you can make a man of yourself?"

"Yes, sir," McNeil said weakly.

Then the verdict of acquittal was handed to the court while McNeil's gray-haired mother wept aloud.

PLOT TO MURDER AND MARRY AGAIN DENIED BY WIDOW

Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford Tells of Her Meeting and Relations With Fred Lumb, of New York.

ALIBI CLAIM IS MADE BY LAWYER OF BARBER

Attorney Sends Appearance Notice to Governor and Announces That His Client Will Fight Requisition.

While Colonel Joseph S. James, representing the part of the Crawford relatives who are seeking to wrest a share of the $250,000 estate left by the late Joshua B. Crawford, state that their detectives in New York are unable to locate Fred Lumb, the barber whom they accuse of being an accessory in the murder of the aged man, Mrs. Crawford, herself, states that they could find Lumb if they really wanted to.

"I intended all along to have Mr. Lumb here as a witness myself," she declared Wednesday while the civil case was being tried, "and if they had kept quiet and acted decently about the matter he would have been here."

Indignant Demand Made.

Asked about the sensational charges that she and Lumb had agreed to wed after she had inveigled the aged Crawford into marriage and then made away with him for his money, Mrs. Crawford made an indignant denial of the entire affair.

Later Heuben R. Arnold and Burton Smith, her attorneys, declared that they could easily prove the falsity of the charges.

"I met Mr. Lumb when he came to board at my house in St. Augustine," said the accused woman, "and my only connection with him was in that way. I had never seen the man until he made his appearance there, and there was no closer connection between us than there was between him and a score of other ladies in the house."

"About the time of my marriage Mr. Lumb became ill, and went to a hospital, and after my marriage I returned to St. Augustine to close up some business affairs. I saw Mr. Lumb on the street once or twice, and naturally, as he had been at my house, I spoke to him."

Visited Me in Atlanta.

"Later he came to Atlanta, where I had returned, and on one or two occasions he came out to my house. This was after Mr. Crawford's death, but there was no reason in the world for his coming to my house. I think he secured work here for a while, but I am not sure about that."

It seems to me that these people are not content with having me down, but must even attack those who have been about me or those whom I had met in St. Augustine in the simplest way."

The hearing before Colonel James Anderson, appointed by chief justice, continued Wednesday with a detailed amount of interrogatories in regard to the first settlement made between Mrs. Crawford and certain of the Crawford heirs named in the will of her late husband, Chas. B. Crawford, who took out the criminal warrant against the widow, and who is now after Lumb, claims that Colonel P. H. Brewster, who represented him at that time and who is said to have settled by consenting to his having one-sixth of the estate, acted without due authority from him, and it is this feature of the hearing which is now being examined.

Anderson complimented.

Colonel Anderson, who is acting as auditor in what is probably one of the most badly tangled legal cases that ever appeared in Fulton county, has been the recipient of many compliments by the attorneys for the way in which he has watched every detail and ruled quickly and yet fairly on points as they came up. The commitments were not made to Colonel Anderson, nor expressed publicly, but they came several times Wednesday in a recess of the hearing.

Numbers of the Crawford relatives were in the courtroom on the third floor of the old city hall building, and after the case was adjourned for the day at 1 o'clock many of them removed to an anteroom, where they ate the dinner which they had brought with them.

"Uncle Josh" Crawford's heirs and non-heirs and many of the family lie close together in the anteroom, as brought out during the hearing. Among them was Mrs. Elizabeth Cornett Tyler, a grandniece, who is now taking a course of medicine at the Southern College of Medicine and Surgery and who expects within the next three years to become a regularly licensed physician.

EQUALIZATION OF COUNTIES IS AN ESSENTIAL FEATURE IN REVISION OF TAX SYSTEM

BROYLES STYLED "CZAR" BY MAYOR

Woodward Says He Will Not Allow the Stockade to Be Turned Into a Modern Siberia.

Mayor James G. Woodward, in reply yesterday to attacks on his use of the pardon prerogative, sharply criticized Judge Nash Broyles, city recorder, charging that his decisions were entirely "too severe and czarlike," and asserted that the motive behind the attacks on his attitude toward prisoners is to stir up political factionalism.

The assertion that he pardoned Griff Freeman, a blind tiger of 374 West North Avenue, caused Mayor Woodward to break the silence he has maintained in face of all recent criticisms. He declared that the criticisms heaped upon him were unwarranted, and explained that he refrained from answering them because he did not want to stir up more strife in the city administration.

Only Reduced Fine.

Mayor Woodward emphatically denied that he had pardoned Freeman. "He was fined $300 by Recorder Broyles," the mayor said. "On the recommendations of Dr. Hugh Inman Batty and Dr. G. G. Hall, city physician, I reduced his fine to $250. The money was paid by his friends."

Mayor Woodward explained that it was never his intention to thwart Judge Broyles; that he has never granted clemency except in cases where it has been proven or represented by reputable persons that the prisoner was deserving.

"Judge Broyles seems to forget that the constitution guarantees people freedom, and that it is a divine right for anyone to appeal for clemency. In the case of Freeman, for instance, I was appealed to by persons who were not interested in the case except for humane reasons. Dr. Batty told me that Freeman was suffering with kidney trouble, and that he was in very bad shape. City Physician Hall informed me that Freeman was suffering from an injury to one of the knees, and was Aeted for the Best.

"It would have been barbarous to allow Freeman, or any other prisoner, to remain in jail. Under the circumstances I decided that it would be better for the city to get $250 than to keep him out there and feed him. Freeman's friends wanted me to reduce the fine to $100.

"It has been published that Judge Broyles charged that I was hindering his work. I would like to ask him if the court of appeals is not also hindering his work. I have been informed that quite a number of his cases have been reversed and sent back to him."

"All that I can figure in that Judge Broyles' methods are too severe and czarlike, and I want to say right here that whenever it is proven to me that a prisoner deserves clemency, I'll see that he gets it. I am not going to have the city stockade turned into a modern Siberia if I can help it."

Let Judge Broyles attend to his business down there at his court and stop trying to stir up factionalism, and he'll serve the people better."

Griff Freeman, the "blind tiger," was sentenced to serve twenty-nine days in the stockade by Judge Broyles Wednesday morning. He was caught at his old trade, according to the testimony of the police and a number of witnesses. In addition to the fine, Judge Broyles bound Freeman over to the higher courts on bonds amounting to approximately $5,000.

At a joint session of the senate and house committees on education Wednesday afternoon both committees placed themselves squarely behind the bill introduced by Mr. McMichael, of Marion, at the beginning of the session, for the creation of a special tax of 1 mill for one year and as much of 1 mill for the second year as may be necessary to pay the teachers.

Should this bill fail to pass the house the committee will appoint a sub-committee to draw up a bill for a bond issue to meet this emergency and place that before the house. This bill would call for approximately $1,000,000.

Wanted Action of Some Sort.

The committee of county school superintendents, of which H. H. Stone, of Oxford, is chairman, appeared before the joint session, and urged that the committee make no delay in pushing the matter of providing means for the payment of teachers. The members of this committee made it clear that they were by no means particular about the manner of action the committee might take, so long as it took action of some sort.

As one chairman put it, the situation calls for "less talk and more results."

The point was made by several of the superintendents that the lack of money for the teachers is telling severely on the quality of the applicants for teachers' positions.

Chairman Stone stated that out of the applicants he knew of for such positions at the last examinations, not more than six were over 23 years old. "We need older and more experienced teachers," he said. He said that he considered either a bond issue or a special tax as a good remedy in the present emergency and urged that one or the other of these measures be adopted as early as possible.

Dreaming of Paying Teachers.

Superintendent W. C. Wright, of Putnam, stated that the question of the payment of teachers had got so on his nerves that he even dreamed of it.

"One night last week," he said, "I woke up about 1 o'clock and the words of a dream I had just had were ringing in my ears. These words were: 'You begin to realize what a huge man can get in when his state goes back on him.'"

"These words have been haunting me ever since."

Superintendent Wall of Elbert county, was equally as dramatic in his plea before the committee. Said he:

"I am willing to say: 'If you can't pay the teachers, don't pay me.'"

State Superintendent M. L. Brittain urged the bond issue as the more preferable of the two suggested remedies, but stated that the 1 mill special tax levy would meet his approval if it was the will of the committee.

COMMITTEES WORK TO PAY TEACHERS

Bill Calling for Special Tax of One Mill for First Year Is Given Indorsement by Committee.

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE FRISCO RECEIVERSHIP

Washington, July 15.—Formal order for investigation of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad receivership was issued today by the Interstate commerce commission in accordance with the recent congressional resolution directing such an inquiry.

Prior to the introduction of a congressional resolution the commission had decided to begin an inquiry on its own initiative into the operations of the St. Louis and San Francisco, and also the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

Agents of the commission will begin at once an examination of books and records of the companies with a view to laying the foundation for public proceedings next autumn.

Ways and Means Committee-men Submitted Vigorous Minority Report to House Wednesday Morning.

STATE BOARD NEEDED AS A BALANCE WHEEL

Several Voted Under Misapprehension Tuesday When Sheppard Substitute Was Rushed Through.

That there would be a vigorous effort on the part of the advocates of tax reform to have equalization extended to the counties of the state as well as to individual taxpayers in the counties was made evident yesterday morning when the Sheppard substitute for the Lipscomb bill was reported to the house by the committee on ways and means.

The nine members of the committee who had opposed the Sheppard substitute and had stood out for a state board of equalizers sent to the clerk's desk the following vigorous minority report:

"The undersigned members of the ways and means committee hereby desire to dissent from the report of the majority of said committee reporting that house bill No. 7 do pass by substitute, and do disagree to the reporting of the majority for the following reasons:

"Any plan of equalization of taxes would be ineffective without a state board to control and supervise the local county boards of equalizers.

"Equalization of returns between counties as counties is as much to be desired as is equalization of the returns of individuals in counties, and this cannot be obtained without a state board. Respectfully submitted,

"(Signed) F. A. Lipscomb, H. H. Sanfey, Shelby Myrick, Crawford Wheatley, D. F. Melson, Garland M. Jones, H. N. Rainey, Same F. Garlington and E. D. Cole."

It further became evident that the Sheppard substitute, which was never even read to the ways and means committee before it was given a hurried approval at the end of a long, fatiguing session, when some of the members had left and the others were anxious to get to their supper, will meet with the approval of very few of the real tax revisionists as it now stands.

The chairman of the ways and means committee, Mr. Akin, himself feels that the bill is not perfect in its present shape, and he has expressed his intention of offering some amendments to it. Mr. Akin is opposed to a state board with the powers conferred on the original Lipscomb bill, but he thinks that some provision should be made for the equalization of taxes among counties.

Voted Under Misapprehension.

It also developed that several members of the ways and means committee who voted against the principle of a state board at Tuesday's meeting did so under a misapprehension, thinking that they were voting against the state board of the Lipscomb bill, the provisions of which they felt to be too drastic. One of these was J. J. Cooper of Ware, who said Wednesday that he heartily favored a state board and that he did not think an equalization bill would be complete without provision being made for equalization among counties.

"That is a vital feature of tax revision," he said, "and must not be left out. I believe that the Lipscomb bill confers too great power on a state board, but I don't see how equalization among counties can be effected without a state board of some kind."

Another member of the committee who voted in the negative on the question of a state board who did so under a misapprehension was Representative Carl L. DeVaughn of Macon. Mr. DeVaughn said that he was opposed to a board with such plenary powers as he thought were conferred by the Lipscomb bill, but he was in favor of equalization among counties as well as among individuals, and would vote for a conservative board.

Stovall's Plan.

Another member of the committee, and also of the subcommittee, who cannot be said to have voted under a misapprehension, is yet a strong advocate of state equalization. He is Dr. Stovall of Elbert. Dr. Stovall has his own ideas as to how equalization of taxes among the counties is to be achieved. He would have the county boards of equalizers send delegates to a convention of their respective congressional districts, which convention should equalize the tax returns among the counties of the district. The congressional districts in turn should send delegates to a statewide convention, who should equalize returns among the different congressional districts.

The objection raised to this plan is that it provides a machinery that is too complex to be really effective in practice. It would, however, give each of the counties representation, either directly or indirectly, on the state board, and that is what Dr. Stovall is seeking to obtain.

Cause of Misapprehension.

The truth is that there has been much misapprehension fostered among members of the house by those who are hostile to tax revision generally, as to just what is sought to be accomplished by a state board of equalizers. They have been told that the state board would jerk up individual tax payers in the different counties and possibly haul them up to Atlanta to show cause why their tax assessments should not be increased.

Next it is farther from the true intent of the advocates of the Lipscomb bill in its present shape or of real tax revisionists, who feel that it ought to be amended from this. The primary purpose of a state board of state supervision of the tax system of any sort is to bring about an equalization of assessments among counties. The assessments of individuals will be looked after by the respective county boards.

The Reported Bill.

The only feature in the Sheppard substitute that is even suggestive of the application of the principle of equalization to the counties is the following which is section 16 of the bill:

"It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid that, in order to secure an equalization of the burdens of taxation between the counties of this state, it shall be the duty of the comptroller general to examine the direct of the several counties, and if it appears that there are any inequalities, to communicate with the county board, calling their attention to such and suggesting such remedies as may appear right and expedient."

It will be noted that this section does not confer on the comptroller general any power to correct inequalities where he may find them to exist, nor does it put any machinery in his hands to enable him to determine the relative value of lands in the counties.

Of course, this section was inserted in the bill without any previous consultation with Comptroller General

Wright. Everyone knows that there is no more tract and consistent friend of real tax revision in the state than is the veteran comptroller general. He has advocated tax reform in his annual reports for years.

The Comptroller's Position.

Now the comptroller is not seeking to have any new powers conferred on him in the tax revision measure. His hands are full now and the people know with what energy and efficiency he has attended to the duties imposed upon him. He believes that there ought to be a state board of equalization to correct the inequalities of the tax returns among the counties.

He is not inclined to intrude his views upon the legislature, however, and has refused to express himself for publication. But, realizing the great importance of the problem now confronting the general assembly and the duty of all good citizens to assist in its solution, he consented to make the following emphatic statement:

"Without providing the machinery for equalization between the counties, no tax revision bill which the legislature can pass will be effective."

The Governor Interested.

Governor Stovall, as everyone knows, who has followed his recent public utterances on the subject, is also very much concerned over the problem of tax revision. It is quite certain that he will not be satisfied with an equalization of taxes which does not provide for equalization among the counties, too.

No facts that the discrepancies between the returns of the several counties are so glaring that the legislature not to attack this feature of the problem as well as that which concerns individuals. Equalization to be just and effective must include the state as a whole and not stop with the county units. In order that our fiscal system may be properly organized state supervision of tax assessments is necessary.

Lipscomb Bill Carefully Drawn.

That the Lipscomb bill is a most carefully drawn measure and contains many good features, all are agreed, even those who have so changed its original intent that the author declines to accept the mutilated measure as his own.

Frankly, all of the provisions in the Sheppard substitute which deal with county boards of equalizers are taken verbatim from the Lipscomb bill. Besides the section making the comptroller a sort of guardian of the county boards, the only addition of the Sheppard substitute that was not in the original bill is the following section providing for the employment of tax discoverers:

"Section 12. It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid that the ordinary or county commissioners in those counties having county commissioners may in their discretion employ a tax agent at an expense not to exceed $5 per day. It shall be the duty of said tax agents to seek out such property, both real and personal, in their respective counties as has not been returned and call the attention of the county boards to such unreturned property."

One Other Change.

One other change made in the Lipscomb bill by Mr. Sheppard is worthy of special notice, in view of the fact that Mr. Sheppard, in objecting to the state board feature of the bill, declared that greater powers were conferred upon the state board than were exercised by the czar of Russia. In the Lipscomb bill, as it originally was framed, provision was made for an appeal by a dissatisfied taxpayer from the county board of equalizers to a board of arbitration. This clause has been stricken from the bill by Mr. Sheppard and the decision of the county board is made final.

No relief from an unjust assessment is provided for the taxpayer who may have incurred the hostility of one or more members of a board who serve for a term of six years. His only refuge would be the slow and expensive medium of the courts and then he could not possibly expect a readjustment unless the assessment were a manifestly iniquitous one and personal spite in the making of it were clearly proved. No such sweeping powers are contemplated in the original Lipscomb bill.

TURKS ADVANCE ON BULGARIANS

Turkey Intends to Occupy Lot of Bulgar Territory—Servia and Greece Agree as to Terms to Be Imposed.

London, July 14.—Both Turkey and Rumania are rapidly pushing the occupation of as much Bulgarian territory as possible, not ostensibly with a view to permanent occupation, but in order to procure for themselves a weightier voice in the final settlement.

King Charles of Rumania has gone to join his army headquarters, the Turks have occupied Luleburgas, Bunar Hissar and Viss and are marching toward Kirk Kilsch. The Greek army has occupied Nevrokop.

The Servian and Greek premiers have held a meeting at Uskub and are agreed as to the terms to be imposed on Bulgaria.

Horrifying details of alleged Bulgarian massacres and atrocities continue to pour in from Saloniki and the powers have appointed consular commissions to investigate these reports.

Turks Cross New Frontier.

Sofia, July 14.—Turkish troops yesterday crossed the new frontier line between Bulgaria and Turkey, running from Enos, on the Aegean sea, to Midia, on the Black sea. They already have penetrated nearly 20 miles into the Bunarhissar region, the Bulgarian troops offering no opposition.

The Christians in the district are alleged to be fleeing before the Turkish troops owing to their excesses.

It was officially confirmed today that the cabinet under Premier Danoff had resigned.

Turks Want Adrianople.

Constantinople, July 14.—The government is determined to push forward Ottoman troops as far as the stronghold of Adrianople, which was captured by Bulgarians after a prolonged siege during the recent Balkan war.

The government intends to take this bold action not only because of the material advantages to be gained, but because of the moral effect it will have on Turkey's internal situation.

It is expected that by this means the position of the government will be strengthened, and it is felt that even if the powers insist on bringing pressure to bear to compel the maintenance of the future frontier line between Turkey and Bulgaria from Enos, on the Aegean sea, to Midia, on the Black sea, Turkey will yet be in a position to enforce the autonomy of the province of Thrace.

Thus far, however, the powers have not addressed any communication to the Turkish government on the subject of the northern advance of the Ottoman troops.

Atrocities by Bulgars.

Saloniki, July 14.—Full confirmation of the reported sacking and burning of the Macedonian town of Sores by the fleeing Bulgarian troops and of the crucifixion, hacking to death or burning alive of many inhabitants, has been sent to the Austro-Hungarian government by Consul General August Kral, of Saloniki.

Three-fourths of the formerly flourishing town of about 30,000 inhabitants is a mass of smoking ruins, says the consul general, who has just returned here from Sores, where he thoroughly investigated the situation.

Another horrifying story of massacre reached here today from Dolran, a town 40 miles northwest of Saloniki. Mussulman there have made a written declaration, countersigned by three local Bulgarian priests, that the Bulgarians slaughtered thirty thousand Mussulmans who had sought refuge in Dolran from the surrounding districts.

Greeks Defeat Bulgarians.

Athens, July 14.—The Greek army has occupied Nevrokop after an engagement with the Bulgarians which lasted all Tuesday. The Bulgarians were completely routed.

Official dispatches report that only 120 out of 3,000 inhabitants of the town of Doxato escaped the Bulgarian massacre.

NO NEW INDICTMENT SAYS JURY FOREMAN

State Has No Intention of Changing Plan of Action in Phagan Case.

The declaration of W. D. Beattie, foreman of the grand jury, that the grand jury had no intention of taking steps to indict James Conley, and a statement from Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey that as far as he was concerned the state would continue its present plan of action in regard to the Mary Phagan murder, apparently put a block to the rumor that the grand jury would go over the solicitor's head and indict the negro sweeper for murder.

The same rumor was put into circulation in regard to the former grand jury which served during the May term, but nothing ever came of the reports.

Solicitor Dorsey stated positively that he had no intention of shifting the present plan and would continue to prosecute on the indictment returned against Leo M. Frank by the previous grand jury. Newport Lantford, chief of detectives, also declared that as far as the detective department was concerned that there would be no shift.

It apparently means that the state will continue an even course in the matter with the intention of threshing out the matter of the guilt of Superintendent Frank before taking up the question of the guilt of the negro.

It was rumored Wednesday that the solicitor had given Conley another grilling with a view to extracting further statements from him in regard to the case. He declined to discuss this feature of the case and also refused to state anything further in regard to the Mincey affidavit.

A half past before the Frank trial obtained a confession from Conley or secure evidence from another source that would brand him as the guilty party that would, of course, change the entire affair.

GIRL SERIOUSLY SICK, BUT SHOW GOES ON

"The show's got to go on."

This is a sentence that the clown in "Polly of the Circus" made famous. It was proven last night. Pretty Bessie Parker, one of the girls in the musical comedy showing at the Old Mill theater on Whitehall, became suddenly ill with what looked like epileptic fits shortly after one of the night performances had commenced.

She had to be sent to Grady hospital, but the show went on. Officials there stated that they thought that a good night's rest would aid her to be out today. C. A. Morris, of the Theatrical Managers' association, who looks after the relief department of that organization, says the tabloids give too many shows each day, and thinks this the cause of the girl's breakdown.

The Rumanians, the dispatch continues, advancing on Vratza, 40 miles from Sofia, are reported to have occupied Plevena and Varna.

A St. Petersburg dispatch to The Times says that Russia has notified Servia and Greece that if their claims are excessive Russian mediation becomes useless. It is added that the powers are not more likely than Russia to allow Bulgaria to be crushed.

According to the officers, Dr. Delemater became "lit up" and attempted to run his wife out of the house. Some neighbor interfered and was met with a volley of profanity, it is said. And then as the officers told Dr. Delemater was given the difficult task of meeting a dozen healthy blows administered by said party of the third part. As Dr. Delemater did not dodge all the blows, he is said to have suffered considerably.
