

IMPOSTORS BUSY IN SLEUTH ROLES IN PHAGAN CASE

Representing Themselves as Pinkertons, Two Men Are Interviewing Leading Witnesses in Mystery.

DETECTIVES WORRIED BY PLANTED EVIDENCE

Men Working on Case Believe That Some Interests May Be Trying to Fix the Crime on Suspects.

What interests are promoting the planting of evidence in the Mary Phagan mystery? This question confronted police headquarters yesterday. Further evidence of mysterious forces underhandedly at work on the baffling case was revealed when it became known that impostors, representing themselves to be Pinkerton detectives had been questioning leading witnesses.

This new disclosure, coupled with past discoveries of obviously "framed-up" evidence, has stirred the police and collectors to action. Arrests are expected at any moment if the bogus detectives are caught, Chief Lanford declared they will be thrown into prison, held without bond or communication, and put through a grueling trial degree.

Why Such Methods? Although many theories have been advanced, the police are at a loss to fathom the cause of such methods. It has even been suggested that the real murders are at work, in the effort to avert suspicion which might be cast upon himself, is endeavoring to weave the web tighter around the suspects already under arrest.

Friday morning a stave well-dressed man appeared at the home of Mrs. J. W. Coleman, mother of the murdered girl, and, introducing himself as a detective from the Pinkerton agency, put her through an hours' exhaustive examination relative to Mary's character and habits. She told her husband of the incident. He later questioned Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, regarding the man who had appeared at the Coleman home. Scott was astounded at the revelation that he was the only man from the Pinkertons at work on the mystery, he knew that the man who had questioned the dead girl's mother was an impostor.

Later, George W. Epps, a leading witness at the coroner's inquest, was visited by a man answering an entirely different description from Mrs. Coleman's visitor. George is the youthful companion of the Phagan girl, with whom he had met on the morning of her disappearance. He was quizzed thoroughly of the girl's habits and character.

Evidence Is Being Planted. The Pinkertons were informed of this. Descriptions of both men have been furnished a squad of headquarters detectives who have been detailed to the special assignment of searching for the impostors. The Pinkerton official said Saturday night:

"I am satisfied that evidence is being planted. The object of such operations is mystifying. The clock record is plainly a framed-up clue. The shirt appears to be, and there are numerous..."

THE COST OF LIVING IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT

Too many people shop without system. They buy here, there, everywhere, instead of being guided by the ads in their paper. Thus they pay more than is necessary, and often do not get full value for their money.

Go through this paper carefully and read the ads. Note how you can save 5 cents here; 20, 30, 40 cents, and even several dollars, there. Note how the merchants meet your needs with fine goods at unusual prices, due to their shrewd buying.

For instance, take these few examples:
Women's $2 Underwear $1.29.
Women's $30 to $37.50 Dresses $7.49.
$1.25 Glass Shelves 85c.
Children's 75c Rompers 50c.
Girls' $4 and $5 Dresses $3.50.
Women's $30 to $40 Motor Coats $25.
Women's $10 to $25 Hats $5.
3 cans Best Condensed Milk 18c.
6 long-handled Iced Tea Spoons 50c.
25c Dishpans 15c.
Linen, Ramie and Voile Dresses $5.
$1 Middy Blouses 69c.
59c Foulards 33c.
12 yards English Nainsook $1.15.

Get down the items you can use, and figure the saving possible. Don't stop at today's paper, but read all the ads every day in The Constitution, and you'll prove the truth of the statement that "the cost of living is really what you make it."

S. S. THROUGHTS AUDITORIUM TODAY

First Christian and Second Baptist March in Great Procession With Cameras and "Movie" Men on Trail.

Today will see the climax of the unique Sunday school contest between the First Christian and the Second Baptist churches. Fully 5,000 people in their combined forces the two Sunday schools will meet on Washington street at the state capital about 10 o'clock and will march one way through the Washington street viaduct to the Auditorium-Armory where one of the most remarkable mass meetings in the history of Atlanta will take place. Not only will the big auditorium contain these two mammoth Sunday schools—which are today the two largest in the south—but there will be thousands of other people present, many of them who have never been to Sunday school before in their lives, but draw to this gathering just to see what these twentieth century Sunday schools are like.

Thousands at Auditorium. If the weather is fair, and the promise is held out gloriously, it is expected that there will be fully 5,000 people under the roof of the Auditorium when Dr. Percy J. Starnes swells on the great organ the strain of the doxology and the voices of that vast multitude join in singing the praise of God. Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian, and Dr. John B. White, of the Second Baptist, will each make short addresses. The feature of the meeting, however, will be the announcement of the contest standing of the day, with the reports of the various departments of the two schools. This will be next to the last Sunday of the contest.

"Movie" Men on the Job. In the march from the churches to the Auditorium the most alluring incident—one that in itself will draw hundreds of spectators—will be the taking of moving pictures. The "movie" men have made all arrangements for having their machines in place at the gathering at the same time that the two schools are taking on the march to the capitol for one big landscape photograph. Then the "movie" machine will be placed in an automobile and rushed across the viaduct to the Auditorium, returning then slowly over the viaduct and taking moving pictures of the varied procession of people, young and old that will journey in that rare throng. For the children this will be the greatest event of the year—to be in the "movie" and there will be some "movie" men on the grown-up, also, to get on the side of the crowd nearest the machine.

The films will be displayed on the moving picture screens of Atlanta within several days, and after that will be started on the road as a part of the "Animated Weeklies."

Program Announced First Time. The detailed program, announced herewith for the first time, will be as follows:
Later, George W. Epps, a leading witness at the coroner's inquest, was visited by a man answering an entirely different description from Mrs. Coleman's visitor. George is the youthful companion of the Phagan girl, with whom he had met on the morning of her disappearance. He was quizzed thoroughly of the girl's habits and character.

Invocation
"Stand Up for Jesus"—Hymn by student.
Twenty-third Psalm repeated in unison.
Report of today's contest in both schools.
Solo, "Ave Maria"—Bricker, Percy J. Starnes.
Address—Dr. L. O. Bricker.
"Onward Christian Soldiers"—Hymn by the congregation.
Address—Dr. John B. White.
"Rest Be the Tie That Binds"—Everybody singing.
The congregational singing of this gathering promises to be the most enthusiastic ever heard in the Auditorium. There have been concerts, there have been grand operas and unprecedented growth of both schools, but never has there been a mass of 5,000 people with the enthusiastic spirit of the Sunday school over them as these will have. A large chorus composed of singers from both schools will sing the hymns, but with such vocalizers on the program as "Onward Christian Soldiers," everybody will join.

First Christian 7,500 Ahead. While the march on Sunday for the contest is on, after today, the First Christian stands now with a lead of over 7,500 which it is believed the Second Baptist cannot possibly make up. The score in points stands 44,857 to 35,338.

The original plans were for the losing school to journey to the winning school on the last day, May 11, and be told "How we did it." But on account of the extraordinary and unprecedented growth of both schools this was rendered impossible, and a church in the city of Atlanta could contain both bodies at once. So the plans were changed to the big mass meeting today at the Auditorium. The details of the day were completed Saturday morning at a conference at which were present Dr. White and Dr. Bricker, the two pastors, John S. Spalding and C. V. LeCraw, the two superintendents, William H. Hill of the Second Baptist, and A. J. Beatt, of the First Christian, in the hands of these six men will rest in a general way the supervision of the details of the big occasion.

EDITOR NELSON'S CASE UP TO SUPREME COURT

Jefferson City, Mo., May 3.—Argument in the Missouri supreme court in the contempt case against William R. Nelson, editor and owner of The Kansas City Star, today was devoted largely to the action of Judge Guthrie, of the Jackson county circuit court, in writing an opinion judging Nelson guilty of contempt before the hearing was held. Members of the court asked the attorneys pointed questions about the propriety of Judge Guthrie's action and Attorney O. H. Jones of Kansas City and the judges indulged in an extended colloquy about the opinion. The court, sitting en banc, heard the arguments in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Nelson after Judge Guthrie had sentenced him to jail for one day for alleged contempt. The court will render the decision later.

Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison Will Make Debut Behind Footlights Monday Night

MISS AGNES TINSLEY HARRISON.

Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Harrison, of Fern Bank, Atlanta, Ga., will make her debut on the stage Monday night in the opening performance of "The Girl from Out Yonder" by the Billy Long stock company at the Atlanta. The occasion is one in which there will be broad social interest as Miss Harrison, aside from her marked talents, is a member of one of the oldest and most aristocratic families in the South. She is related to the Harrisons, the Tinsleys, and the Heagers, who have produced for many generations men and women of notable talent and scholarship. She is the niece of the late Mrs. Robert Emory Park, and a cousin of Mrs. Virginia Clay Copton, of Alabama, and her sister Miss Emily Harrison is considered one of the most brilliant women in the educational world of the South. She is the sister of Mrs. Michael Hoke, of Miss Fanille Harrison and Miss Courtney Harrison. She is beautiful, bright, and charming, with the social graces for which the women of her family are noted. She attended school at St. Mary's, Raleigh, N. C., where she studied dramatic interpretation. Her instructors there insisted she pursue her studies in that direction in the broader fields of New York, and Miss Harrison went from St. Mary's to New York, where she studied for two years. She had a private rehearsal before the managers of Klaw and Erlanger, who at once offered her an engagement in the fall, which she will fill. In the meantime she was offered the position in the stock company here, which will play the summer season at the Atlanta, and like all enthusiastic workers Miss Harrison will lose no time. She is going to work at once, that work to be started in her own home. She arrived in the city early the past week and has been constant in her attendance upon rehearsals. It is probable that in the audience Monday night there will be a large number of the recently organized Atlanta branch of the Drama League, one of the purposes of which is to patronize the genius and talent which presents itself in the community, and to patronize good plays. The play, "The Girl from Out Yonder," is a comedy of rare merit. Miss Long has the star role, formerly played by Adelaide Thurston. Miss Harrison will assume the role of a young society girl and he called upon to play the simple life of the usual society debutante.

MISSISSIPPI IS ROBBED BY CHIEF PRISON CLERK

Yerger Admits Shortage in His Accounts, and Gives $25,000 Bond.

Jackson, Miss., May 3.—Lawrence Yerger, clerk of the board of prison trustees, was arrested tonight charged with being a defaulter in the sum of $14,627. Yerger is said to have acknowledged to Governor Brewer that during the last four years he was paying a little too much for the system he was running. It was being paid for $80,000 we would be paying too much for it." City Electrician R. C. Turner, who made the first attack on the specifications, submitted by the Gramwell company, a concern which bid $115,000 to install a system, and which is supervising the installation of the system by the Okente company for $106,000, less $2,500 for the material taken from the old system, would not distinguish a good one. It will take care of Atlanta and the adjacent territory for the next ten years or more. Discussing briefly, the charge of Mayor Woodward that there had been a recent reduction of $100 on the boxes, Turner said that his information was that the boxes had been reduced to $80. He said that he thought the taxpayers were entitled to have something knocked from the prices of the boxes. The specifications of the Gramwell company, proposing a system for $115,000, were attacked by the city electrician some time ago, and the board of electrical control called for bids. The Okente company put in a bid of $106,000, agreeing to allow the city $2,500 for the material, thus cutting $11,500 from the price.

Fire Prevention Congress.

Philadelphia, May 3.—A call for a national fire prevention congress in this city, Oct. 13 to 18, was sent out today by Powell Evans, chairman of the Philadelphia fire prevention committee. The call was sent to the governors of all states, mayors, state fire marshals and insurance commissioners, trade bodies, insurance companies, labor unions and manufacturers of approved devices. All are asked to send delegates.

TO MARTIAL MUSIC OF "MARSEILLAISE" WOMEN MARCHED

Forty Bands Blared as the Suffragettes, 20,000 Strong, Swept Through the Streets of New York.

New York, May 3.—The woman suffrage army marched up Fifth avenue this afternoon 20,000 strong to the martial music of the "Marseillaise" blared from forty bands. In uniforms of white, gleaming with yellow streamers they paraded in the heat of a mid-summer sun for 8 miles from Washington square to Fifty-ninth street. A forest of yellow banners appeared for "vote for women" to an unbroken wall of spectators estimated at a quarter of a million. Inez Milholland, riding astride a mettlesome chestnut cob, directly behind an escort of mounted police led the marchers. Behind her walked eight girls in blue with silken flags; after them came two women in yellow with the suffrage map and its nine "yellow" states. And then came the long line of the rank and file, marching resolutely, unsmilingly, "for the cause." All Sorts of Women. Women with snow-white hair, children not yet out of rompers; girls from Sweden, women from New Zealand, negroes from the northern states, cow girls from Oklahoma; newswomen from the East Side, Wall street brokers—these and the artisans of many trades and callings marched in unbroken lines, eight abreast, disbanding finally at the

SIX PLEASURE-SEEKERS FIND GRAVES IN RIVER

Three Girls and Three Boys Drowned When Their Boat Is Overturned.

Boston, Mass., May 3.—When an overloaded rowboat sprang a leak in the Charles river an ank tonight, six of its youthful occupants, three girls and three boys, all of Cambridge, were drowned. Two other boys, the only ones in the party able to swim, were saved. Those drowned, all between the ages of 8 and 18 years, were: ANNA CARNERY, FLORE SILVA, MARY SHAW, FRANK MURPHY, JOHN COONEY, JOSEPH BURGESS. Those saved were John Walker, 16 years, and Antonio Monney, 15. Walker, Monney and Burgess were hosts of the little party. They hired a boat made to hold only four or five, crowded their friends in it and then started down the river. The children had rowed to the West Boston bridge and were on their way back when the boat began to take in water rapidly. Everybody screamed and the rowers headed frantically for the river wall. They were within 20 feet of the embankment when the boat went under and all of its occupants were thrown into the water. Most of the bodies had been recovered at a late hour tonight. Four Persons Drowned. Waverly, Ky., April 2.—Four persons were drowned this afternoon when the river steamer Sonoma sank at Glenmary. When being landed the boat struck a snag which caused it to capsize and fill, then sink. A score of passengers and crew were pitched into the water. The dead were: Mrs. Frank Kidwell and her baby, Fred Sadler, who boarded the boat here, and a deckhand named McKinley. The government dredge boat Kentucky went to the rescue. The Sonoma plied between Louisville and Frankfort, Ky.

JAPS MUST GO; FINAL VERDICT OF CALIFORNIA

Secretary of State Bryan Makes a Last Appeal to the Legislature, But He Accomplishes Nothing.

LONG FIGHT IN COURTS PREDICTED BY BRYAN

Believed at Washington That Japan Will Try to Get the Question Before The Hague Court of Arbitration.

Sacramento, Cal., May 3.—The alien land ownership bill, previously passed by the senate, was passed by the assembly late tonight and awaits only the signature of the governor to become a law.

Sacramento, Cal., May 3.—Defeated finally in his diplomatic effort to dislodge the California legislature from enacting an alien land law affecting the Japanese, Secretary of State Bryan declared this afternoon that he looked to the people of the state to express a final judgment through the referendum before the act shall go into effect. Mr. Bryan's statement was made before an open joint meeting of the senate and assembly, immediately before his departure for Washington. The assembly, which was even then in the midst of its debate on the land bill, paused late last night by the senate, passed for half an hour to hear him, and then took up its work of following the senate's lead.

All suggestions voted down. The procedure in the lower house today was almost identical with that which the administration leaders in the senate adopted yesterday. On the one side the democrats offered substitute legislation and amendments, but all seeking to delay action. On the other side the progressive majority stood firm in voting down every suggestion.

That the bill would pass tonight was predicted by both sides. It will then be in the hands of Governor Johnson awaiting the signature that shall make it a law.

Apparently, the only contingency that can arise to prevent the carrying of the bill provisions within the approximately ninety days in the amended referendum petition, which would require 20,000 signatures before the law could be temporarily nullified pending an election. The matter could not be submitted to the people until the fall of 1914, a delay of ninety months, in case the proposed referendum gains enough signers. Early in the session, representatives of the board of directors of the Pacific-Facility exposition at San Francisco gave notice to the legislature that the board would foster a movement to invoke the referendum against an anti-alien bill that might be passed. Recently the exposition company has been joined by several commercial and trade bodies in the larger cities, who fear Japan will levy reprisals upon California by abrogating present business relationships.

Final Plea by Bryan. Secretary of State Bryan concluded his mission to the governor and legislature of California this week with a message of farewell. To an open joint session of the two houses, attended by the governor, he gave renewed assurances of the friendly interests and co-operative attitude of the national administration toward the peculiar problem of California, transmitting the president's latest criticism of the alien land act passed last night by the senate, and rehearsing again those objections already made public.

In reply, Senator Gates, speaking for the state, said:

"This legislature appreciates the honor that has been done to this state by the visit of the secretary of state. We realize that his coming to co-operate with us marks an era in American politics. It brings the federal government into close touch with the individual states.

"On the part of the legislature I wish to express our profound appreciation and gratitude for the interest taken by the national government in a problem confronting the state of California and to assure the president that, even if we do differ with him, we do it with the profoundest respect for the opinions and those of the secretary of state. And if we feel impelled to depart from that advice we do it with respect for that advice.

"I propose and desire on the part of this legislature to thank the presdent and his secretary for their assistance and I express the hope that this visit may be a forerunner of further activity by the national government in assisting the states in their work.

Bryan Welcomes Wilson's Opinion.

Secretary Bryan, in his address, voiced the president's opinion that the words "eligible to citizenship," substituted in the California attorney general's redraft of the alien land measure for the words "ineligible to citizenship," are equally discriminatory and the reform equally objectionable to Japan.

If a law must pass, he urged that it be limited in its operation to two years; that meanwhile diplomacy might so improve the international situation that re-enactment by the next legislature would be unnecessary. This suggestion which had not yet reached the president, he said, was made "for the consideration of those who have yet to act upon the subject."

Secretary Bryan said in part:

"As I am departing this afternoon for Washington, I deem it proper that I should say a final word to you, coming at the president's request upon the mission that brought me, was unusual and yet, in the president's opinion, not only right in principle but wise in policy. It was in keeping with his own course in appearing in person to deliver a message to congress.

"I need not recount the experiences through which we have passed. The legislature, in its present form, is not satisfactory to the Japanese government. Although the lower branch of the California legislature or in conference, the conviction obtains that nothing remains to be done, from the Japanese point of view at present, but to await the return of Secretary Bryan.

Then it will be in order to take the matter up diplomatically, probably the first step being to ascertain whether the administration can begin a legal test of the constitutionality of the new act.

If the question between the United States and Japan should not be settled within the next three months, Japan might make a formal request for submission of the issue to arbitration at the Hague tribunal.

The special arbitration treaty between the two countries negotiated in 1903, which is believed to cover the case, will expire by a limiting clause unless renewed on August 24.

The particular provision of the treaty which arises of a legal nature or relating to the interpretation of treaties existing between the two contracting parties, and which is not yet settled, shall be referred to the permanent court of arbitration established at The Hague by the convention of July 29, 1899, provided, however, that they do not affect the vital interest, the independence or the honor of the two contracting parties, or do not concern the interest of third parties."

Diplomats here do not believe the question of Japanese honor, which has been referred to in connection with the California situation, would be held to be of such a nature as to come under the exemption as referred to in the treaty.

Secretary Bryan telegraphed President Wilson he would leave California tonight and arrive here next Thursday. Until that time the president, it is understood, will make no comment.

Officials here hope no bill will be signed by Governor Johnson until President Wilson has had an opportunity to confer with Secretary Bryan, as well as the attorney general.

Bray will bring to the president a detailed report and immediately after his return it is not improbable that Governor Johnson will be communicated with.

JAPAN WILL APPEAL TO HAGUE TRIBUNAL

Washington, May 3.—It was learned here today that the Webb anti-alien land bill, in its present form, is not satisfactory to the Japanese government. Although the lower branch of the California legislature or in conference, the conviction obtains that nothing remains to be done, from the Japanese point of view at present, but to await the return of Secretary Bryan.

other indications. Also, we are convinced that there are mysterious forces antagonizing our investigation. Said will be the day that these men are caught."

Solicitor Dorsey Active.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey has taken a decidedly active hand in the investigation. His entire staff has been loused upon the mystery, together with a number of private detectives in his employ. Chief Justice Douglas is also giving him time and energy in assisting the detectives and police.

Saturday morning the coroner, solicitor, detective chief and a number of detectives revisited the scene of the murder. A minute examination was made of the pencil factory premises, and measurements were taken of the basement. From 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 6:30 p. m. investigators were closeted in Chief Lanford's office, conferring over the evidence.

Headquarters was flooded with wild and groundless rumors throughout the day, many of which were to the effect that Mary Phagan had been seen on the afternoon of her murder. These stories were all found to be groundless. Chief Lanford declared last night that he had confined himself to the theory that the murdered girl never emerged from the pencil plant after entering it to draw her pay.

A number of new witnesses were subpoenaed from the coroner's office. Although their names would not be divulged, nor the character of the testimony which they will be expected to render, it is the general belief that they are former employees of the pencil concern. New witnesses are being summoned daily. The total list, when the coroner's inquest is re-opened Monday afternoon, will probably reach 300 or more.

Will Examine Bloody Shirt.

Detective Scott Saturday turned over to City Bacteriologist Claude W. Smith the bloody shirt found at the home of the negro New Lee. It will be put through a thorough microscopic inspection to ascertain if the blood spots compare with those on the clothing of the murdered girl. Dr. Smith stated, however, that the examination could not be made until early next week.

Action by Grand Jury.

"I am not in a position to state when the grand jury will take up the investigation of the Phagan murder," Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey stated last night. "The new grand jury will be impaneled on Monday and it is certain that the matter can not be taken up that day. The coroner's inquest is to be continued on that day, but whether or not the grand jury will wait until this is completed or not, I can not now say.

"The only reason for my personal investigation of the case and my conferences with police detectives," added the solicitor, "is because of the exceptional nature of the case. The duties of the solicitor's office prevent me from attending every inquest and police case. I do not feel that this affair demands that I should familiarize myself with every detail while it is fresh, for by that means I can better handle it when it becomes my business to prosecute the

WOMAN FIGHTS HOTEL

Rome, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Retaliating for the recent edict of council in revoking the pool room license of George W. Trammell, Mrs. M. E. Howland, owner of the building at Second avenue, where the proposed pool room was located, has announced that she will have the Cherokee hotel pool room's license revoked on the same ground as that of her tenant—failure to secure written permission of the adjacent property owner.

Trammell secured a license to operate the pool room, which was revoked when the owners of the Cherokee hotel next door protested that he had not obtained their permission according to the provisions of the city ordinance. He tried to evade the ordinance by erecting two small booths on the street to be used by his tenants and a real estate office. The city attorney ruled that this would not stand the scrutiny of the courts and council revoked his license, on protest of the hotel owners, in whose building a pool room is operated.

Through her attorney Mrs. Howland announces that if the hotel company refuses to allow her tenant to operate at such a place, she will refuse to let them rent their property for the same purpose.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Barbo Compound ..... a small box
Glycerine ..... 1/2 oz.
Flint ..... 1/2 oz.

Shake well and use every other week. It stops the hair from falling out, relieves itching and scalp diseases. Although it is not a dye, it sets upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes hair soft and glossy.

WILL REMAIN IN ROME

Hanks Foundry Company Not to Move to Macon.

Rome, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—The Hanks Foundry company announced today that instead of moving its large plant to Macon, as had been rumored, that the company had purchased a large tract of land in West Rome and would begin in two weeks the erection of one of the largest stove and range manufacturing plants in the south. The plant will be on the Southern railway and within a stone's throw of the Fairbanks company's large scale works, just at the city's limits.

The building machinery and capacity of the present plant will be doubled and the line enlarged. The force of molders and other employees will be doubled and the output, with the addition of the most modern machinery, increased proportionately. The company has outgrown its present quarters and has been contemplating

CITY WILL BOND WIRING CONCERNS

Alleged "Wildcat" Methods of Electrical Contractors Cause Turner to Ask Street Ordinance.

The practices of a number of alleged "wild cat" electrical contractors, who are said to have secured advance payments from builders on contracts and then skipped out, has caused the board of electrical control to draft an ordinance which will require every contractor doing business in Atlanta to give a bond of $1,500 before a permit is issued.

for months," City Electrician Turner said Saturday, "I have been receiving complaints from a number of builders who have been unable to do anything, because of the civil nature of the transactions, and further, because there was little opportunity to secure a conviction."

It requires each contractor to file with the city electrician a sworn statement, showing the firm's name, officers and all stockholders, and the technical license the firm must be held by an officer who is financially interested and liable.

SENOIA DUCK MILLS AGAIN FACE CHARGES

Attorney John E. McClelland, the Hancock-Holmes Foundry and Machine works and Park A. Dallas yesterday filed with the clerk of the federal court a petition asking that the Senoia Duck Mills, of Senoia, be declared bankrupt and its assets placed in the hands of a receiver, and that other alleged creditors be enjoined from interfering with the conduct of the business of the concern.

WHITEHALL SURE TO BE IMPROVED

Final Action Taken on Next Friday—Officials and Citizens Strongly Indorse the Plan.

There seems to be no doubt now about the regrading of a portion of Whitehall street being carried out at once. The street committee of the council, the board of county commissioners and all of the interested property owners, with a very few exceptions, are said to be squarely behind the proposition, as it means the widening of Whitehall street as far as Forsyth, and probably farther, a great retail thoroughfare; the enhancing of property values, and the improvement of the street.

A Liberal Proposition.

So certain are those property owners behind the movement of a great increase in realty values that they have signed a willingness to contribute to pay all of the expenses out of their own pockets, if the city will give them the increase in taxes for the period of three years, and they claim that by such a trade they would come out many thousands of dollars ahead.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES HUERTA

Recognition Is Expected From Spain This Week—Rebel Soldiers Rob Mormons.

Mexico City, May 3.—President Huerta was formally notified today of the recognition of his government by Great Britain. The British minister, Francis W. MANCHESTER The Manchester Spirit Cities, like persons, have distinctive personalities. In each case they are composite, reflecting the dominant characteristics of their leading citizens. Manchester is a city in which enterprise, optimism and public spirit are the predominant characteristics. There is an abiding faith, a healthy self-confidence, which does things—which insures an even more brilliant future. Some of the best people of Georgia have been attracted here by the exceptional opportunities. It is an important step for any man of family to pull up from ties of long standing and move to a new place. This very courage and enterprise of its citizens accounts in large measure for Manchester's growth. Some church has been in process of building each year of the city's existence. Its $10,000 Public School building is one of the handsomest in the state. The spirit of unity, co-operation and brotherly love is brought into action in every instance where the city's welfare is involved. Instance, the unanimous vote for a municipal electrical plant, the predominance of the best element in the control of the city government. Manchester embodies all that is desirable to the ambitious, upright American citizen. Ideal health and home conditions, superb opportunities for the bread-winner, and exceedingly congenial environment. Write for information today. 45,000 PERSONS FED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Uncle Sam Is Caring for Flood Sufferers Along Lower Mississippi.

Vicksburg, Miss., May 3.—There are now about 45,000 persons receiving government rations issued under authority of the United States army flood relief corps in the Vicksburg district, according to Captain Bankhead, who returned this morning from an inspection of the refuge camp at Natchez.

The working forces are being steadily reduced and the general situation is considered very satisfactory in the district from Natchez north.

George Hawkins, a well-known farmer, says he has reliable information from a friend who lives on Steele's Bayou that a canoe turned over with two negroes the early part of the week and both were drowned.

Levee Is Threatened. Vidalia, La., May 3.—A large sand and gravel levee at Vidalia, La., is being built today in the Mississippi river levee at Lucerna plantation, 8 miles below Vidalia, and Major Barton, United States engineer, put several men to work on sacking it, making a run-around, with both ends touching the levee. The place is virtually under control, but the men will continue sacking it up to the same height as the levee. If a break occurs at this place, it will throw sufficient water into Concordia parish to break the mud box in the railroad track back to Vidalia.

The government boat Teche is at Lucerna with men and material to hold the levee. While the work at Lucerna was under way, Major Barton was called to Point Breze, where a dangerous spot was discovered in the levee in a motor boat accompanied by S. P. Lambell, member of the fifth Louisiana levee board, for that point.

The crevasse water is filling the ditch back of the levee in the area at Vidalia, and is one foot deep. The water line is a scant two miles back of the town, advancing very slowly.

With the Lake St. John crevasse water emptying back into the Mississippi through the Tensas, Black and Red rivers, the water will not rise much higher. It is generally believed that the water over Concordia parish will soon run off and the planters be able to replant before the end of this month.

Going to Panama. Washington, May 3.—Several representatives to-day began organizing a large party to visit the Panama canal zone after the house has disposed of the tariff bill. A government ship probably will carry the party.

$100,000 for Sanitation. Washington, May 3.—To insure the health of the division of troops now encamped in Texas City during the summer and fall will involve the expenditure of $100,000 for sanitation, drainage and screening. There being no available funds for this purpose, congress will be asked for a special appropriation. General Wood has reported that the camp site will be tenable only until the heavy rains set in next November.

Condition of Duchess. London, May 3.—The condition of the Duchess of Connaught, it was announced tonight, remains unchanged. The patient has shown some improvement since the second operation on Tuesday and her strength is fairly well maintained.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET BY RACE BETWEEN GOAT AND ROOSTER

PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

Brunswick, Ga., May 3.—The annual convention of the King's Daughters of Georgia, which came to a close in this city last night, was one of the most successful ever held by the organization. The attendance was large and considerable business was disposed of at the various business sessions.

The many visitors were delightfully entertained during their visit here. Thursday afternoon a boat trip was tendered the delegates, stops being made at Jekyll Island, where the visitors were given an opportunity to view the homes of the millionaires.

Thursday night the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution tendered a reception to the visiting delegates at the convention at the Ogden hotel, which was a large and pleasant affair. The reception was attended by all of the visiting ladies, together with a large number of local people.

Officers elected for the following year are: State president, Miss Kate C. Hall, of Jacksonville, Fla., recording secretary, Mrs. W. G. Brewer, Waycross; treasurer, Miss V. C. Kennedy, Savannah, executive committee, Mrs. C. V. Avery, Augusta; Mrs. W. F. Troutman, Macon; Mrs. T. F. Broadwater, Waycross; Mrs. M. L. McKinnon, Brunswick.

The re-election of Miss Hall as president was a most deserved honor. Miss Hall formerly resided in Brunswick, but although she is now a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., the delegates to the convention insisted upon her again accepting the presidency.

PLANTING DYNAMITE IS CHARGED TO WOOD

Boston, May 3.—The trial of President William M. Wood, of the American Wool company, for the alleged "planting" of dynamite in a tenement house during the textile strike at Lawrence in January, 1912, was fixed today for May 12.

The arrest of the three men last August caused a sensation. Ernest W. Pitman, a contractor, who gave the first alleged information against them, commanded a parade while their cases were before the grand jury.

John J. Breen, a member of the Lawrence school board, was convicted of "planting" dynamite and fined $500. Later the present defendants were accused of having conspired with Breen.

RECEPTION BY WILSON IN WASHINGTON TOWER

Washington, May 3.—President Wilson ascended the Washington monument today and held an informal reception in the tower at its summit. The president had started away from the White House escorted only by Joseph W. Murphy, one of the secret service men, and had stopped for a few minutes to watch "a kid's ball game," when he suddenly took a notion to visit the monument through the day.

At first the president was not recognized, but when one man spied him he insisted on shaking hands, and the entire party grouped about the president and greeted him.

When he descended the elevator was crowded so the president gave up his seat to a woman passenger and stood on the top deck, which takes several minutes.

AUTO ACCIDENT FATAL. Lawrence H. Riley, of Macon, Dies of Injuries. Macon, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Lawrence H. Riley, a well-known business man, who was injured when his automobile wrecked last Monday afternoon on the Perry road, died here today without regaining consciousness since the accident. His skull was fractured and he was injured internally. His brother, Sam Riley, who was in the car at the time of the accident, will recover.

Mr. Riley leaves his widow and one child, six brothers, S. A. and W. S. Riley, of Macon; Dr. H. Riley, of Haddock; J. T. and Frank A. Riley, of Grovania; and C. F. Riley, of Milledgeville, and three sisters, Mrs. T. H. Bloodworth, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. G. Brown, and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, of Grovania.

BY RACE BETWEEN GOAT AND ROOSTER COLUMBUS TRADE BOARD RAISES $10,000

Contestants in contest run by Columbus trade board. From top to bottom: Joseph B. Babb, who conducted the campaign; A. H. Bickerstaff, in charge of the "red" cohorts, and John S. Bleecker, who commanded the "blues." The remaining pictures show the winning "blues" and their mascot.

Columbus, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—A spectacular race between a Blue Goat and a Red Rooster resulted in approximately ten thousand dollars being raised for the Columbus board of trade and the membership of that body trebled. It was the greatest campaign in the history of the city and the whole town is feeling good over the results. The scope of activities of the board of trade will be greatly enlarged and the office force will be increased. A substantial fund will be set aside for advertising Columbus and the city and county will both be requested to make appropriations to supplement this fund.

When the campaign to raise additional money and increase the membership of the board was launched, two teams of business men, the Reds and the Blues, were formed at a mass meeting at the Chase auditorium.

John S. Bleecker was assigned to the command of the Blue forces and A. Howard Bickerstaff was placed in charge of the Red cohorts. Each captain picked a team of about thirty men and the battle was soon on. The Blues selected as their mascot a blue goat and the Bickerstaff forces were represented by a red rooster, which proved defiance. At first it looked very much as if the Reds would really and truly "get the goat" of the opposing forces, but the Bleeckerites did some pretty lousy, seventh hour campaigning and when the work was all over and time was called, the official count placed the Blues thirty dollars ahead. In effect it was really about as pretty a dog-fall as has ever been witnessed. For each team raised approximately $4,800, a total of $9,600. Straggling subscriptions will run this past the $10,000 mark.

The teams started out to raise $8,000, and the fact that they went practically 25 per cent over the mark shows the strenuous character of their work. In the pleasantest sort of spirit quite a lively rivalry developed between the two teams. It was understood that while subscriptions were not actually limited to any amount, yet $150 would be the sum expected of the largest corporations. A new scale of membership fees ranging from $10 to $150, was adopted by the board.

The two teams of workers were exceedingly fortunate in the personnel of their leadership. John S. Bleecker, captain of the Blues, is general manager of the Columbus Railroad company and Columbus Power company and allied properties, and is not only thoroughly identified with local business interests, but in a personal way is very popular with the people of Columbus. A. Howard Bickerstaff, heading the Reds, is proprietor and manager of the Bickerstaff Brick company and is also interested and actively identified with the William Beach Hardware company, a leading mercantile establishment of the city. Personally, he is exceedingly popular among all classes. Hence it was that the two teams were well matched in quality of leadership and personnel of members.

Each day at noon during the campaign the status of the contest was posted on a prominent corner, as will be noted by the accompanying illustration. Novel Scenes at Ball Park. The culmination of the unique contest was witnessed by a large and highly interested crowd at the Columbus ball park just prior to one of the Charleston games. The Reds marched into the field with streaming colors, red fluttering to the breeze in the shape of innumerable ribbons and streamers, and then came the Blues, each man on the team bearing jauntily aloft a dainty blue parasol. At the head of the Goat division marched Captain Bleecker, carrying an umbrella of appropriate size as befitting the commander of the Blue forces, and behind trotted the goat, taking all this fame in a very serene and matter-of-fact manner. With the exception of this one item—the goat—it was very much like a scene from the Mikado.

A Monstrous Funeral. While the circus band that headed the parade of business men pulled off an unexpected stunt, for suddenly ranks were broken and a race for the grand stand, several hundred feet away, was on. The sprinters ranged from the dignified mayor of the town, himself, Hon. L. H. Chappell, down to young man hardly old enough to vote but still old enough to put in some good work for Columbus, DuPont Elvren, a dry goods merchant, was the first to reach the goal, although James V. Woodruff, of the Atlantic Ice & Coal corporation, was digging for the mark in a pretty lively manner himself.

The Reds then gave a hearty hip-hip-hurray for the Blues, the Goat brigade gave vent to lusty expressions of satisfaction that nobody had purloined their Angola, and the ceremonies were over.

The unique campaign was under the direction of Joseph B. Babb, formerly secretary of the chamber of commerce of Birmingham, Ala. The result is notable not only for the money actually raised and the new life put into the commercial organization, but the fine spirit that has been created. Columbus people are better satisfied with their city today than ever before, and this is the kind of spirit that means upbuilding and progress.

CARBURETOR COMPANY HAS NEW DEPARTMENT

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—The Wheeler-Schubler Carburetor company, of Indianapolis, makers of the Wheeler carburetor, has established a publicly department in connection with its advertising department. Joe Kelly, well-known Indianapolis newspaper man, a specialist along sporting and automobile work, has been placed in charge.

The establishment of such a department has been necessitated by the growth of the institution, which evolved from a 500 carburetor plant in 1894 to a perfect, well-organized factory, employing 1500 workmen, turning out daily 4,000 complete instruments.

The Wheeler-Schubler plant will be visited by the English automobile engineers on their visit to the 500-mile race in Indianapolis because of its reputation as an efficient accessory plant. A few months ago Frank H. Wheeler, president, purchased the interests of George M. Schebler, inventor of the carburetor, though the latter still retains his own desk and private work room at the plant.

NEGRO BOYS AND GIRLS SENT TO THE SOUTH

Chicago, May 3.—Sending of half grown negro boys and girls to what was charged to be virtually slavery in southern families, was alleged today to be a common practice in the disposition of negro dependents. R. J. Bennett, president of the Illinois Home and Aid society was questioned on the workings of his organization by members of the legislative committee investigating home-binding societies.

"That is the same as sending them into slavery," asserted the Rev. Frederick J. Lloyd, a member of the committee, when Mr. Bennett testified that dependent negro youths were often sent to domestic service in southern families.

Mr. Bennett replied that no better places could be found for the negro children.

False Alarm Draws Crowd.

In answering a false alarm turned in from Witehall and Mitchell streets last night by a policeman who thought he saw smoke pouring from a building, one of the horses attached to the chimney wagon at headquarters slipped and fell on the wood pavement of South Broad street. After aiding several yards the team was brought to a stop and with an adjustment of harness the confusion with little delay. The animal was apparently uninjured. The alarm was turned in shortly before 11 o'clock and the rush of the fire wagons attracted several hundred people to the corner.

Fire in Washington.

Washington, Ga., May 3.—(Special.) At 1 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the King building in the quarters occupied by the Washington Loan and Banking company and the drug store of John B. Green. The prompt response of the volunteer fire companies and their effective work saved the building from being destroyed.

Recovered From Severe Lung Trouble

Plenty of fresh air and good food are necessary to persons suffering from lung trouble, but something more is needed to bring about full health. Eckman's Alternative is a "medicine" for chronic and lung troubles, and so many reports have been received showing that it brought about good results in a number of cases which were declared hopeless, but that all sufferers who are not benefitting otherwise should at least investigate what it has done for others.

Investigate this case: Madison Lake, Minn. "Gentlemen: In December, 1907, I was taken with a severe case of lung trouble. My doctor advised me to rest. In November I started for Denver, Colo., after my arrival met Michael Brady, who, upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alternative. In about two months I began to feel better. I sent on taking the medicine and improved last, in March, 1910, I returned home. I think an entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 130 pounds. I now weigh 165. My appetite and sleep well. I thank God and your Alternative for my health."

(Advertisement) PAUL L. FASANO, JR. Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of chronic Bronchitis, Borechitis, Asthma, Stomach Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit forming ingredients. For sale by all Jacobs' Drug Stores, and other leading druggists. MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy Are Taken.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with your heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Chronic rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it out on earth like it.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

Just a Song at Twilight

Little more than a song will take a fine used piano now.

The people generally are waking up to the possibilities of the Player Piano.

Our warerooms are crowded with very fine upright pianos taken in exchange on Player Pianos, and they are coming in every day. Everybody seems to want a Player. Should you care for a good used piano you can have one at your own price and terms.

FEEL BULLY! HEAD CLEAR, STOMACH SWEET, BOWELS RIGHT—"CASCARETS"

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headaches, coated tongues, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, grassy, disordered stomach and are all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets and having yourself every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil and other harsh irritants?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and sweeten the stomach, remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the concentrated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

WOMEN'S BROAD JUMP RECORD IS BROKEN

Lynchburg, Va., May 3.—At the annual athletic meet at the Randolph Macon Woman's college here today, Miss Dorothy Cure, of Roanoke, Va., carried off the honors, and it is claimed broke the world's record for women on a running broad jump. Miss Cure cleared 15 feet, 2 1/2 inches, breaking the college record by 9 1/2 inches, and it is thought the world's record by 8 1/2 inches.

TARIFF PROTEST MADE BY GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, May 3.—The British government has joined other nations in protest against that provision of the tariff bill which extends a preferential of 5 per cent on goods imported in American bottoms. One of the first acts of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the new British ambassador, was to call the attention of the state department to this provision as in violation of the existing treaty of trade and commerce between America and Great Britain.

It is understood the democratic managers in the house who were at first disposed to permit the senate to deal with this question, it being one involving treaty relations, which belong to the upper house, have recognized the force of the objections that have accumulated from all quarters and will themselves remove the objectionable provision by amendment when the administrative section of the bill is reached.

LOVERS OF PEACE DROP DR. ABBOTT

Famous New York Minister Removed as Vice President for Favoring a Large Navy Free Canal Tolls Attacked.

St. Louis, May 3.—Luman Abbott of New York was removed from the list of vice presidents of the American Peace Society today because he signed the appeal of the society for large naval appropriations.

Objection to the name of Dr. Abbott was made by Charles E. Phillips, Chicago secretary of the American Peace Society.

Five additional vice presidents were elected—Mrs. Ethel S. Moore of St. Louis, Jenkins L. Jones of Chicago, Hiram Hadley of New York, and Stanley of W. J. Ryan and Mrs. Berleick Schaff of Philadelphia.

All the other officers were re-elected. The society now has more than fifty vice presidents.

Free Canal Tolls Rapped

The congress today passed resolutions urging repeal of a clause in the Panama canal act exempting American cooperative vessels from the payment of tolls.

"It fills in the resolution and adds the clause which should be submitted to the Hague court for arbitration."

The congress also approved the California legislature and to the national administration to secure such a just and impartial settlement of the question of alien ownership of land as may not discriminate against citizens of a great and friendly power and turn a long-standing friendship into enmity and friction.

Other resolutions expressed appreciation of the work of President Taft in negotiating the general arbitration treaty after which other nations look to the reduction of armaments and approve the announced policy of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to negotiate treaties of unrestricted arbitration.

Object to Military Training

We call upon all friends of peace to object to the proposed military training in the schools and to make naval ratings stations of the colleges and universities.

Austria is Preparing to Fight Montenegro

State of Siege in the Austrian Provinces Where the Slavs are Dominant

Vienna, May 3.—While it is officially declared that the international situation is without change, it is believed that the proclamation of a minor state of siege in Bosnia and Herzegovina is a signal that Austria is preparing for military operations to restore order throughout Albania. As the people of Bosnia and Herzegovina sympathize with the Montenegro, it has been deemed advisable to take the necessary measures to prevent any Slavic revolution.

Frankfurt on the Main

Frankfurt on the Main, Germany, May 3.—Russia will not regard Austria or Austria Italian intervention in Albania as a cause for war according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to this city.

Germany

Germany, May 3.—The Russian government probably will demand declarations from both the Austrian and Italian governments that their occupation of Albanian territory is not permanent. A refusal of such declarations would have a bad effect on the situation.

Berlin

Berlin, May 4.—The weekly review in the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says:

Montenegro should be informed that it will be in a state of siege if it refuses to evacuate and Montenegro can expect no assistance in its rehabilitation from the powers.

Crown Prince Danilo's action in proclaiming Scutari the capital and the reported occupation by Montenegrin troops of Albanian coast points to the destruction of the London conference.

ILLEGAL METHODS CHARGED IN SUIT

Sensational Allegations Made Against Management of the Guarantee Trust and Banking Company

The affairs of the Guarantee Trust and Banking company recently involved in numerous litigations were further complicated by the filing of an amendment to the petition pending in the superior court making charges of the most sensational nature against the company and its management.

The amendment charges that the company was never organized in good faith with any real purpose of performing its contract, but that it was the result of a purpose on the part of its promoters to unload an older corporation also owned by them and which the amendment charges was insolvent at the time.

It is charged in the amendment that Sam E. Smith and H. B. Miles were principal owners of the Guarantee Redemption company which was chartered in 1900 with a capital stock of only $250,000 and that after conducting that company unsuccessfully for several years and finding it insolvent they concocted a scheme to organize the Guarantee Trust and Banking company in order to unload the Guarantee Redemption company at a price of $4,000,000.

Fraudulent Means Charged

It is further charged in the amendment that the promoters in order to accomplish the transaction having agents of the company sign subscriptions for large amounts of stock which they were unable to pay and which were in fact never paid.

The amendment alleges that by this method Smith and Miles unloaded the insolvent Guarantee Redemption company receiving in exchange for its stock in the Guarantee Trust and Banking company to the extent of $2,234,000.

Wide Speculation Alleged

The charge is made that some of the stockholders of the company heard of these proceedings and had an audit made by the American Audit company as the result of which Smith and Miles restored about $79,000 of their stock to the company in order to prevent an effort to rescind the entire transaction.

Among other features of the amendment is an attack upon the assets of the company which it charges were invested in such wild speculation as to justify the conviction that the funds of the company were not really invested in such assets but that they were merely colorable transactions.

As an illustration the amendment cites an investment of $10,000 in the purchase of so-called Havana bonds from an agent of the company which bonds turned out to be fraudulent not issued by Havana or any other municipality.

It is charged in the amendment that the company bought the Hollywood cemetery property for $35,000 and immediately entered it upon their books at a valuation of $150,000.

The amendment charges that the income of the company is being squandered in extravagant salaries of the officers drawing $25,000 a year as salaries and other agents of the company are drawing practically no equivalent sum and that the management has been such that the expenses of the company now exceed its income the expense for the last three months aggregating only $30,000 while the actual expenses exceeded $50,000 for the same period.

It is charged in the amendment that the scheme of the company is based upon a proposition which requires the company from an investment of $470,000 to earn $1,000 in ten years and that the plan even if honestly undertaken would be utterly impracticable.

The amendment finally charges that companies of the nature of the Guarantee Trust and Banking company are required by law to file certain statements and obtain certain licenses from the state of Georgia which requirements have not been complied with and that the company has utterly failed to maintain the same while it is ## by statute of the State of Georgia, at 75 per cent of the bums contributed by bondholders, together with 3.5 per cent interest, compounded annually, and it is charged that the reserve of the defendant company falls short of the required amount by practically $289,000.

$545,000 Paid In

The investors of the Guarantee Trust and Banking company are scattered throughout the country it appearing that the holders of bonds still outstanding have paid into the company in monthly installments the sum of $545,000.

The amendment was filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court Saturday afternoon by Smith & Hastings, Charles E. & L. C. Hopkins, Hughes & Foster and Dorsey Brewster, Howell & Heyman.

The same attorneys filed proceedings in bankruptcy against the Guarantee Trust and Banking company on Friday and on the same day a petition for a receiver was filed in the United States court by creditors represented by Messrs. Stator & Phillips.

The superior court proceedings will be called for trial Monday. It is understood that the United States court hearings cannot be held until the return of Judge Newman from Columbus where he is now holding court.

LEAGUE LEADERS BATTLE TODAY

Two Juicy Rounds Give Bill's Clan The Third Straight

Barons Blow Behind Fittery and Crackers Bunch Hits With Their Errors—Score 9 to 5.

Birmingham Ala., May 3.—(Special.)—Some 6,000 Birmingham fanatics sat through two hours and thirty five minutes of agony this afternoon and watched Bill Smith's Crackers walk away with the third straight game of the series without half a trylog.

Today's court was 9 to 5 the Crackers piling up their batch of nine runs in two braces four in the opening chapter and five in the fifth.

Bill Smith's clan hit the ball hard and timely. Their hitting was as timely as the Baron errors were untimely. Ten clean bingles were registered off the deliveries of Fittery and Thompson, while the Barons went high in the air and chattered up seven horrible miscues.

Sixth Cracker Win.

Saturday's win made the sixth victory for the Crackers in the eight games they have played with the Barons. Bill Smith's crew winning three on their home grounds and three here.

Brady pitched good ball for the Smithies. He kept the seven hits that he allowed fairly well scattered. He loafed in spots but he could afford to do so with the big lead that his team-mates piled up for him.

Fittery had little but the proverbial genius and he left that valuable asset at home. Thompson, who succeeded to the mound did good work. The game was without any brilliant playings. The Barons accomplished nothing but pile up errors. Ellum being the chief offender with four blunders while the Crackers did not have to try very hard to win.

Long Starts Things.

Long greeted Fittery with a sharp slide to open the pastime. After worked the southpaw for a few ticks he remained in the pen as usual and smashed one to left counting Long. M. H. led the pilot slip through his fingers and before he could cross the plate after Tommy Welchone whiffed the come-smith pulled on to a deep right which Messenger let drop and Smith keeping on sprinting pulled up at third. Hisland counted him with a two-run smash.

The other big tick in the fifth was the fifth. With one zone Long doubled and went to third on Agler's cut. Alpermann again produced the pinch sending Long across. Welchone and Smith stunted Alpermann scoring. Hisland drew a free ticket filling the bases, and Graham also walked forcing Welchone home. Dunn rolled a slow one through the infield counting two more runs.

The Barons scored two in the second inning. McBride opened with a double and McGilvray walked. Carroll sacrificed them both up a base and May's infield hit scored McBride. McGilvray scoring on the double steal. Carroll's single followed by Ellum's home run, sent two more home in the fourth.

McGilvray was safe on an error in the sixth, took third on Carroll's single and counted on an infield out.

Pelicans 4, Turtles 3.

New Orleans, May 3.—Atz singled, went to second on a sacrifice, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly with the winning run in the tenth inning. New Orleans defeating Memphis in the last of the series, 4 to 3. After Atz had scored in the first inning through errors the locals forged ahead by the hitting of Clancy and Hendryx in the third. Abstein knocked a home run after Beerwald had singled in the sixth and gave Memphis the lead. McHenry, former Cincinnati pitcher, batted for Taylor in the seventh and his two-base hit drove in Knaupp with a tying run. Brilliant fielding shut off the visitors.

Cracker Southpaw and Winning Hurler

GRABBING A HOT LINER

Four excellent photos of the Crackers' southpaw snapped by The Constitution's staff photographer just before the Crackers left for Birmingham. "Schegg" has shown the best form of any of the local pitchers to date, and leads the hurlers, winning five games and losing but one. Price has pitched 45 1/3 innings and has allowed 14 runs and 22 hits in that time, an average of 1 run every 3 1/3 innings and an average of 1 hit every other inning. The only game he has lost this season was against Nashville at Ponce de Leon Park last week, when he allowed but 3 hits, yet was defeated, 4 to 3. Price was sent to the Crackers by Manager Clark Griffith, of the Washington Americans, on a trial. He pitched five games last season, winning four of them. Since joining the local clubs he has won, all told, nine games and lost but two, a very useful citizen to be hanging around a ball club. Principal of all his assets is his willingness. He has asked Bill Smith to pitch him two games a week, and Bill will certainly do so, especially if the left-hander delivers the brand of war that he has been dishing out to date. He will probably hurl today's opening game against the league-leading Gulls in Mobile.

BRINGING DOWN A LINE DRIVE

Georgia-Tech Frays Loom Up As Season's Greatest Games: Both Teams Going Great Now

By Dick Jentzen.

The University of Georgia-Georgia School of Technology baseball games loom up as the one big event of the near future in sportdom.

This is the case every year, but this year the excellent showing of the university team, which at the present writing is clearly entitled to the southern intercollegiate baseball title, leads zest to the games.

At the start of the season the yell went out that Georgia was shy on pitchers and without a really man on the job, things did look exceedingly blue. But as the season progressed the hurlers improved and in Corley and Morris they have two men who have been hurling a great article of ball lately.

Tremendous Hitting.

The hitting of the Georgians has been tremendous. No pitcher has felt comfortable facing them, and even had their pitcher gone bad of late, their hitting would have carried them through.

Cunningham's bunch have games Monday and Tuesday with the Washington and Lee nine. The Virginians always turn out a corking good team and those games will give the Georgians just the kind of battles that they need to keep them on edge for the Tech games.

To the casual observer a comparison of the work of the Tech and Georgia teams would lead one to believe that it will be a one-sided series, with the Georgians romping home hands down.

Sticking straight in the trail of the hope this is what should happen. But following closely the performances of Georgia and Tech teams in the past one can only surmise the outcome of the four games.

The teams meet in Athens Friday and Saturday and again in Atlanta the following Friday and Saturday. Stranger things have happened and it would be the irony of fate to have

MOORE'S HOME RUN SPUR TO JACKETS

They Follow His Circuit Clout With Steady Rain of Bingles—Sewanee Is Beaten Again—Count 5-1.

By Robert L. Hughes.

"Smoozy" Moore made it two straight wins for the Jackets when he defeated them again Saturday afternoon by a 5 to 1 score.

A large crowd was out to see the game and they were treated to the best battle that has been witnessed at the flats this season. It was a game full of spectacular catches and both teams played an excellent game.

Gordon, Sewanee's left-hander, was sent in to guard the Tigers from any of the Yellow Jackets' stingers. He put his foot in their nest at the start, however, when all nine Jackets faced him in the opener, bunting five stings, which were good for three runs. Gordon had wonderful control for a southpaw not allowing a single Jacket a free ticket.

Coach Heisman again sent Eubanks in to do the box work for the Jackets on Saturday in seven of the innings only three men faced him in each chapter, while a total of only thirty of the Tigers went to the rubber. Eubanks was in invincible form Friday after he had won the game for Tech. Coach Heisman took him out for Saturday's battle. He had the Tigers perfectly tamed and did not let one get loose to first by the big four route. He gave up only four well scattered hits.

Moore Gets Homer.

"Scrappy" Moore in the initial chapter got the only home run that has ever been knocked on Giant field. Not content with this, he lined out a single in his three "at bats."

Fax Montague's two one-hand stabs of hot ones featured the Jackets' fielding. The first was a barehand pick-up of a fast grounder over the second base, the other being a run-

Williams Goes to Pelicans; Jordan or Kernan May Be Crackers' Utility Player

Rebel Williams, the young infielder, secured by the Crackers from the Washington Americans, is no longer a Cracker. Beginning today, he will be a Pelican.

Washington turned the youngster over to the Crackers after Charley Frank had put in a claim for him at the time specified, according to the rules.

Frank appealed the case to the National commission. The local club realized that Frank had as good a claim to Williams as the locals did to Welchone, so they passed him up.

This cuts the locals down to fourteen men, and would leave them without a utility player, if Patrick Graham was not hanging around the duggings. But with Pat on the job, the club can go short handed until Bailey rounds into form and a suitable utility player is secured.

Larry Bailey, by the way, joined his teammates in Birmingham Saturday and was in uniform, but he limped badly last night when he got in the game. It is understood that if he does get in harness against the Gulls in Mobile this afternoon, it will be a most pleasant surprise.

Jack Kernan, who was released outright when Hisland reported to the Crackers, may be signed up again and act in utility roles.

But the most likely deal will be the signing of Otto Jordan, former Cracker field captain, manager and second baseman.

It is understood that the local club has been figuring with Jordan and may close the deal for him at any early date, if he can be secured and still stay in the salary limit.

Even if Otto does not play regularly, he would be a great asset to the club as third base coach, where a brainy man is always of big help to a club.

Then Otto, who is in the best shape of his long and useful career, can carry around that keystone in much better form than reports from Chattanooga or Memphis would have one believe, and an injury to any of the present infield quartet would bring him back into harness and make the

First Place Fight to Be Waged Today; Gulls Meet Locals

First Sunday Game for the Crackers—Southpaw Price to Hurl—Series Important One.

Mobile, Ala., May 3.—(Special.)—Quit-town is all a-wake. The Crackers play the Gulls a series of four games beginning Sunday.

Great preparations have been made for Sunday's game. The baseball officials are prepared to handle the largest crowd of fans that has ever attended a ball game in this city, and with clear weather they will not be disappointed.

Billy Smith and his Crackers are due to arrive here Sunday morning from Birmingham in a jubilant mood. The strength of Mike Finn's team does not seem to worry them in the least. In fact they are confident that they can stop the winning stride of the league leaders, if any team can.

First Place Fight.

The four game series will mean a fight for the honor of making the pace in the Southern league race. The Gulls are now it, ousting the Crackers the early part of the week.

On form, the two teams appear to have the best clubs in the circuit. And unless they hit a slump, the battling for the pennant will be waged by the Finnties and the Smithies.

Sunday's game promises to be a southpaw battle. Pug Cavet, the lanky sidewheeler of the Gulls, will hurl the pastime for the Finnties, with Charley Schmidt behind the platter.

Gilbert Price, the Crackers' lone southpaw and their winning pitcher, will endeavor to stop the Gulls' winning streak and score his sixth win for the season. Joe Dunn, who caught his slants.

The appearance here of Tommy Long, who cavorted in right field for the Gulls in 1912 will be greeted with a storm of cheers by Gull fans, as the Gadsden Galloper was one of the most popular players that ever wore a Mobile uniform.

Bailey With Club.

Harry Bailey, the Crackers' left fielder and clean up hitter, who has been kept at home with a badly injured foot, joined his teammates in Birmingham and may be able to get in the game Monday or Tuesday, and get into the final game of the Gulls series.

The Cracker players are pulling for Bailey to get back into harness as he has been one of their most formidable attackers and the pitchers of the league have a holy fear of his big bludgeon.

The following is the probable batting order of the two teams in today's game.

GEORGIA STICKS RAIN OUT BINGLES

Every Georgia Player Got Two or More Hits, and Tennessee Nine Given 9 to 3 Drubbing.

Athens, Ga., May 3.—(Special)—Cunningham's Red and Black aggregation of ball tossers again defeated the University of Tennessee club this afternoon with little trouble, the final count standing 9 to 3. The Georgians batted the slants of Dawson with all ease, every man on the team corraling two hits with the exception of Harrison and Hitchcock, the former getting three, while the latter got one.

The fielding feature of the day was a one-handed stab by Harrison of a difficult chance from the bat of O'Toole in the fourth. Hitchcock pitched a good game for the Athletics, keeping the Tennesseans' eight hits fairly well scattered, sending eight men out from pitcher's first and nine to the put-out column by the strike-out route. He had good control, not walking a man.

Incidentally in the last five games the Red and Black aggregation has collected 74 hits for a total of 53 tallies, while the best the opposition could do was to connect for 17 hits for a total of 7 counters.

The game Saturday was repetition of the past five, the Georgians clouting the hide almost at will, while the visitors were having trouble with Hitchcock's benders. The fielding of both teams was off color and the exhibition was one of the listless variety.

MOORE'S HOME RUN SPUR TO JACKETS

King stab of a liner from Armbruster's stick. Donaldson accepted four chances in great style without a bobble.

Fanning played a feature game for Eubanks in the exception of one wild throw. His playing in all departments was steady and his seven assists and five putouts greatly overshadowed his one wild throw.

Five bunched hits by the Jackets in the initial chapter gave the Jackets their lead. Wooten, who first faced Gordon, popped out. Moore drove one into center which was good for four sacks. He set a hot pace for the Jackets at the start and Pitts stung one to left and took second on Montague's hit through second.

Pound followed with a double to left, counting Pitts and Montague. Amason singled past third, Pound going to third and Amason took second on the throw home. Donaldson was hit by Gordon, hitting the sacks. Attridge fanned and Eubanks grounded out. Sewanee counted her lone tally in the second on a two-bagger and a sacrifice. McGowan stepped into one of Eubanks' benders, driving it into center for two sacks. He took third on Gordon's grounder to Donaldson, who threw to first. Erwin sacrificed a long fly to Wooten, scoring McGowan from third.

Eubanks had the Tigers at his mercy after the second and they were unable to even land a man safe on second.

Each counted again in the fourth. Attridge again whiffed the breezes. Eubanks singled over first and Amason stole second. Wooten beat out a bunt down the base, hitting McGowan first and threw wild to third in an effort to catch Amason off. Amason can home and Wooten went to second.

Moore singled to center, advancing Wooten to third. Moore stole second. Pitts grounded out. Fanning to Jones. Wooten scoring on the grounder.

NATIONAL

Cardinals 6, Pirates 3

Pittsburg, May 3.—Poor fielding by Pittsburg and the easy manner in which St. Louis collected hits for O'Toole made it three out of four for the visitors this afternoon. Keeney hit at first, but, getting two triples and a single off O'Toole, who allowed thirteen hits before Robinson took his place in the eighth, Pittsburg hit Steele hard in the first two innings and Harmon took his place in the third and held things nicely. Viox's wild throw over Simon's head in an effort to break up the double steal gave the Cardinals two runs in the third inning. Byrne's error, followed by Sheekard's two-bagger, added another in the sixth. The other runs were made on clean hits. In sliding to the plate on the double steal in the third inning, third baseman Mike Mowrey wrenched his ankle so badly that he had to be carried off the field. He will be out of the game for a week. Mowrey did not accompany St. Louis to Chicago, but will receive treatment here.

Reds 9, Cubs 4

Chicago, May 3.—Cincinnati batted Overvall and Lovander opportunely and scored an easy victory over Chicago in the final game of the series 9 to 4. Clarke made four hits in as many times at bat, driving in five runs. Harrison made three doubles and a single and forced a man out in five times at bat, scoring four runs for his team. Pitcher Overvall, the California giant, played in major league baseball for the first time since the close of the 1910 season, and was wild. After the bases were filled with none out and the score tied in the eighth inning he was relieved by Lavender, who was unable to check the onslaught of the visitors.

Dodgers 4, Doves 1

Brooklyn, May 3.—New York Rucker notched his first victory in four attempts on Ebbets' field this afternoon when he beat Boston 4 to 1 today. The visitors worried the star left-hander from start to finish, getting men on base in all but two innings, but he was given sensational support at critical periods except in the fourth, when a fumble by Stengel helped in the only Boston tally. Winkler took second on Stengel's error and cantered home when Man made the first of his three safe drives. Brooklyn made their hits off Garvaly's arm. Devlin was spiked on the hand by Daubert in the fourth and retired.

Phillies 5, Giants 2

Philadelphia, May 3.—Magee's single and steal of second and Luderus' double, which scored the former after two men were out in the ninth inning, gave Philadelphia the victory over New York today 5 to 2. Mathewson and Chalmers had a great battle. Passes to Spodgrass and Schafer, their double steal, and Doyle's single gave New York two runs in the first inning. In the eighth with one out Pookin singled. Cravath, who batted for Killifer, sent the first ball pitched to him into the bleachers for a home run. Chalmers was in trouble in four innings after the first, mainly through his passes, but every time he closed the inning by throwing out the batsman.

SIXTEEN IN ROW FOR RIVERSIDE

Gainesville, Ga., May 3.—(Special)—Riverside easily defeated Gordon this afternoon by a 11 to 4 score. This makes sixteen straight wins for Riverside.

The features of the game were the hitting of Mitchell and McNeill, Williamson's home run, and the nailing of Kingsley at short. Williamson pitched a great game, striking out 14 men, twice Gordon filled the bases with none out, only to have Williamson fan the next three batters.

AMERICAN

White Sox 6, Tigers 4

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—Detroit's crashing through Detroit's defense again and again to score runs, only to have the locals come back and tie the count, Chicago today in the wildest game played here in several years, finally found a way to victory in the eleventh inning. The score was 6 to 4. Harry Lord's sharp single to left brought Russell home after the pitcher reached first on an error and advanced to pass to Rath. Rath then cinched the same by racing home on an infield out. It was Detroit's ninth straight defeat; seven of them at the hands of Chicago. As was the case in several of this week's contests, Detroit failed utterly to show offensive strength with runners on the bases ready to score. Battery errors also helped Chicago to several of their scores.

Senators 2, Red Sox 1

Boston, Mass., May 3.—Washington defeated Boston 2 to 1 in a lively contest this afternoon. Bush, who pitched until one man had been retired in the seventh inning, gave ten bases on balls, but was not hit safely by Boston. Three of his passes came in the second inning and with a run hit, gave the Boston team their only tally. Johnson finished the game for Washington, sharp fielding alone saving him from being scored upon. Washington had only one hit off Boston in the first five innings, but tied the score in the seventh on an error by Engle, a base on balls and Morgan's single. Mueller hit for two bases in the eighth and tied the winning run on Milan's hit to center.

New York, May 3.—The Athletics again defeated the New York Yankees today, the score being 8 to 6. Schulz, the first New York pitcher, twirled a great game, but received miserable support. The locals delighted a big crowd with their playing in the first four innings, but were unable to pieces in the fifth. Swersey's work particularly as poor, the visitors stealing seven bases. Houck, who was knocked out of the box yesterday, was treated the same way today. Bush, who pitched the last seven innings, for the Athletics, was strong until the ninth, when with two out he walked Stump and Caldwell, and Daniels scored the pair with a triple. Bush then struck out Chasa, Stockdale and Effield.

French Baseball

Paris, May 3.—The baseball season in Paris, opened with the defeat yesterday of the Racing Club de France with the Latin Quarter American Artiste. The score was 22 to 16.

St. Louis, May 3.—Cleveland won from St. Louis today 11 to 8. St. Louis used four pitchers, none of whom was effective except Stone. St. Louis hit Cleveland's pitchers hard, knocking Baskette and Mitchell off the mound.

Appalachian League Sent Twenty-Seven Up Last Year; Starts Season on Thursday

By Lester Barnard.
 Knoxville, Tenn., May 4.—(Special)—With the new league and the prospects very bright for the most successful season in the history of the organization the third season of the Appalachian baseball league will open Thursday.

The franchise formerly held by Asheville, now in the Carolina association, was transferred to Middleboro, Ky., several months ago and Rome, Ga., has taken the place of Morristown. The other franchises in the league are Knoxville, Bristol, Johnson City and Cleveland all of Tennessee.

Games are scheduled for the opening day as follows:

Middleboro at Knoxville.
 Cleveland at Bristol.
 Johnson City at Bristol.
 Rome returns to the Appalachian league, formerly the Southeastern after a absence of two years. The Southeastern league was organized in the spring of 1910 with franchise in Rome, Knoxville, Asheville, Morristown, Johnson City and Gadsden, Ala.

That season the pennant was won by Knoxville, but early in 1911 the four northern clubs withdrew from the league and taking in Bristol and Cleveland formed the Appalachian league. Rome and Gadsden annexed some other Alabama cities and continued the Southeastern league which blew up in the middle of last season.

The reason of the explosion was that Rome was admitted to the Appalachian league a few months ago while the Georgia Alabama league is an outgrowth of the old Southeastern.

Rome Club Strong

With Joe Patton as president and Jack Reidy as manager, the Rome club has been making strenuous efforts to assemble a team which will be at the top of the percentage column when the bell taps September 3 and the fans in the Georgia city hope to capture the trophy offered to the club which wins the largest attendance on opening day.

Manager Reidy, the former University of Alabama baseball and football star who played on Southern and South Atlantic League teams for several years, has under contract a number of very promising youngsters, college players and older heads who in their preliminary workouts have given evidence of class that bodes evil for the other clubs in the league.

Last year the Appalachian league sent to higher leagues twenty-seven players ten of whom were drafted or purchased by major league clubs and established a new record as to the number of players sent up by a class D organization.

This year under the new ruling which prohibits the playing by a club of more than one man who has ever played in league above class D, it is expected by those who have seen the aspirants for positions on the team in action that last year's record will be equalled or surpassed.

Influence by the professional work in the league last year several big league scouts have already announced that they expect to spend much time around the Appalachian circuit in 1913. The salary limit this year is $1,000 exclusive of the manager and a number of players have signed up many young fellows and college players whom they expect to develop into higher league players.

Experienced Managers

Experienced managers and players will hold the managerial reins in the six cities.

Frank Moffett will keynote in minor league baseball for twenty years of more and considered by many big league scouts and managers the best judge of a ball player among the minor leaguers will again manage the Knoxville team.

Having won the pennant in the Southeastern league in 1910, Manager Moffett's team was the runner up in the Appalachian in 1911 when Johnson City won the pennant and again in 1912 when Bristol finished in first place.

Although six players were drafted or purchased from the Knoxville club last year, Manager Moffett has at present an ideal pitching staff, good in class C or B leagues, while his outfield is nearly as good and big league managers have already tried to get strings on two of his young pitchers. The Bristol club will again be managed by Coach "Red" Musser, who in one season brought the team from the bottom of the percentage column to the top, winning the pennant quite handsily in 1912.

Legs Martin, well known as a player in the South Atlantic and Carolina leagues and also the Appalachian, will manage the Johnson City team.

Bob Riggs, of South Atlantic and Texas leagues, is one of the members of the Cleveland outfit.

Pitcher "War" Sanders, who played in the Western and Southern league a few years ago and was also with the St. Louis Browns for part of two seasons has been chosen manager of Middleboro.

Phase Sent Up

The Appalachian schedule calls for 105 games including double headers, and before the season closes the managers of the teams in the league of which Jacob Smith, of Cleveland, is president expect to have as many players ready for faster company as last year when the following were sent up:

Pitcher Cullop of Bristol, to New Orleans now with the Cleveland Americans.

Pitcher Wilson of Knoxville, to Cleveland Americans, now with the New Orleans club of the Southern.

Pitcher Walker of Cleveland, to Cleveland now with Toledo of the American association.

Pitcher Williams of Morristown, to Brooklyn now with Nashville.

Pitcher Bremner of Bristol to Philadelphia Americans now with Houston of Texas league.

Pitcher Davis of Knoxville to Cincinnati Nationals now with Columbus team of American association.

Pitcher Big Day of Cleveland to St. Louis Nationals.

Outfielder Sloan of Bristol to St. Louis Americans now with Montgomery of the Southern league.

Shutout of Knoxville, to Washington Americans now with Hartford team of Connecticut league.

Third Sacker Grubb of Morristown to Cleveland Americans now with Omaha team of Western league.

Pitcher Merchant of Johnson City, to Chattanooga now with Evansville of Central association.

Pitcher Ware of Cleveland to Chattanooga now with Houston team, of Texas league.

Pitcher Kelley of Johnson City to Pittsfield (Mass.) team of Connecticut league.

Pitcher Norman of Cleveland, to San Francisco team of Pacific Coast league.

Pitcher Watson of Asheville to Hartford team of Connecticut league.

Pitcher Baker of Knoxville to Birmingham team with Seima team of Cotton States.

Pitcher Gudder of Cleveland to New Orleans now with Pensacola in Cotton States.

Pitcher Hill of Bristol to New Orleans.

Pitcher Weymack of Asheville to Memphis now with Asheville team, of Carolina association.

Third Baseman Bales of Cleveland, to Philadelphia.

Outfielder Thrasher to Columbus now with Chattanooga.

Outfielder Cochran of Knoxville to Birmingham now with Rome.

Outfielder M. J. of Asheville to Toledo of American association.

Outfielder Shaw of Johnson City, to Dayton team of Central association.

Third Baseman Cleveland of Johnson City to Washington.

Outfielder now with Johnson City.

Catcher Meyer of Knoxville to Des Moines of Western league, now with Winona (Minn.) team of Northern league.

Catcher Wallace of Knoxville to Birmingham now with Knoxville.

RITCHIE-WELSH BOUT POSSIBLE If Champion Does Not Want Too Much Money for Go. Murphy, Is the First Substitute.

By James J. Corbett.
 (Former Heavyweight Champion of the World. Written Exclusively for The Constitution.)

New York, May 3.—(Special)—Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion who has not done any champing since winning the title from Ad Wolgast in the next month. Efforts are being made to match Willie with Freddy Welsh, the British title-holder and proud possessor of a belt emblematic of the "world's lightweight championship." Although Freddy hasn't a legitimate claim to the title it must be admitted that the belt is a beautiful specimen of the jeweler's art.

Not to digress, however, Willie and Freddy may put on the gloves for a ten round bout if Billy Gibson, matchmaker for the Madison Square Garden promoters can prevail on Billy Nolan and Harry Pollock managers of the two champions to agree on the division of the spoils.

Ritchie can have a fat guarantee to box Welsh but whether the amount offered will meet with Nolan's estimate of the worth of his fighter is still a drawing card is a question. It is said Nolan asks $15,000 which is quite some money in these hard times. Pollock's demands are quite modest in comparison.

If Gibson fails to land Ritchie he will try to get "Harlem Tommy" Murphy to "sub" for the high-priced champion. The New York boxer is again in the glare of the calcium as a result of the skillful manner in which he recently handled Ad Wolgast the former bear cat of the division.

Batter's Deteriorating

The critics are using Murphy's victory to call attention to the supposed deterioration among the lightweights and thereby discredit Ritchie as champion. Their contention is present-day boxers do not compare in skill with the experts of a decade ago and they point to the result of the Murphy-Wolgast battle in support of the argument.

This is not new stuff for any means. Seligson is a newly made champion given the credit due for the victory which has placed him at the head of his division. The public is not satisfied that the newcomer is all that he should be until he has successfully defended the title several times.

Wolgast may remember was called a "cheese champion" not so very long ago but a review of the Michigan career will show that he was close to the standard of excellence set by his predecessors. Ad was not the most skillful performer in the game but his rugged strength and aggressiveness made up for what he lacked along Seligson's line.

My opinion is that there is some first-class material among the present lot of 125-pounders. Ritchie looks like the real goods in spite of the fact that he has a title on a foul. He was leading up to the time of the disqualification and would undoubtedly have been given the decision had the fight gone the limit admitting he couldn't score a knockout.

It was not so much the winning from a champion who had already shown signs of retrogression that established Ritchie's claim to class. His previous record indicated that he was a comer in the ranks of the lightweights. He had scored victories over the clever Jack Britton, Young Ernie Joe Mar and several other good boys. True some of these decisions were of the popular or newspaper variety, but convincing enough to prove the youngster's quality.

While Has Improved

But it was the twenty-round match with Freddy Welsh that stamped Willie as a boxer of great merit. Although Freddy was given the battle on points it was a very close thing, and his showing in that engagement is to my mind

"Matty" Ready For Discard? Huris Only Sixty-Seven Balls In Full Game Against Phillies

By Walter Marchand.
 New York, May 4.—(Special)—Manager John J. McGraw, of the Giants, makes the declaration that Matty Starnes, who pitched a world's record when in the game against Philadelphia, he pitched only 67 balls. To retire his opponents after pitching 67 balls means he pitched the three balls to the other men each, on an average, would face him each inning. This is at the rate of a fraction more than two balls to each man.

Starnes struck out every batter he would not have had so good a record in the matter of pitched balls, because he would have had to deliver at least 81 balls not counting fouls after to three men each of the nine innings.

Mathewson did better. He pitched the ball where the batter had to hit it—and except five times it was always hit just where the fielders were.

If the performance up to date may be taken as a criterion, the major league pitchers as a whole will undoubtedly enjoy the biggest year they had and the batters the worst. Not only have many of the veterans come to life with stellar exhibitions, but many of the newcomers are making good with it. Walter Johnson, the Starnes star, is undoubtedly in the best form of any twirler.

Christy Mathewson, the Giants' remarkable star, gave the wisecracks that have annually been predicting his on-field retirement an awful jolt when he not only pitched the Giants into first place, but made a showing that Manager McGraw declares is a world's record by only pitching 67 to the Phillies. There have been many other fine pitching performances. Pitches Steele, of the Cardinals, beat the Pirates, only allowing them three hits. Hendrix, his opponent, though wild, loosened up for one less.

Intelligent Coacher Almost As Valuable As Any Player. In Estimation of Tyrus Cobb

By TY COBB.

(Copyright 1913, by Ty Cobb Service.)

Coachers of the present day baseball are many and varied. We have comedian coachers, the Hughie Jennings type of coachers who cannot be classified. Curly Howard, of Cleveland, is usually occupy the boxes at third and first for the Athletics. Then we have men like Clarke Griffith the Washington manager, who fight and growl for every point, and the sharp and decisive John McGraw, leader of the New York Giants who fights with a demand for all that is coming to him.

A good coacher alone is worth almost as much as a good batter. The coacher can break up rallies by stopping a man at third or sending him in at the wrong time. He can keep the boys on his club hustling, getting them the right cue at the right time.

The coacher really has more chances to win games for his club than three-fourths of the men who are actually engaged in playing.

Coachers should have a good voice and should school the players in the different signals. A sudden upraising of the hands with the palms toward the pitcher is an indication of danger and that means that the runner must stop immediately.

The rules prohibit a coacher from touching a runner nowadays, but they are not adhered to. Every day you see a coacher grab a player to stop him probably many times during a game. It has to be done to halt some of the runners who are what are called "wild runners." Red Murray of the Giants was a classic case of a runner who tears around the bases and coming the advice of coachers, his mad desire being only to reach the plate.

Coachers Must Do Right Thing

A coacher must do the right thing at the right time at all times. Thousands of eyes are centered on him and he should do the wrong thing there are many fans who are ready to criticize his work and voice their opinion loudly. Often you see a coacher send a man in from third. His intention is to get the best. But the runner is caught man feet away from the plate. There are some fans who are even willing to say that the wrong was done in an intentional way.

Therefore I say again, a good coacher is a wonderful asset to a ball club. He not only directs the course of the game, but he is the base paths but is out there jolly well, putting determination into the players, putting kidding and nagging the opponents to get them rattled in anyway. He is the one who is in the conversation at the pitcher and trying to get the pitcher of the catcher. The latter is one of the strong points of the good coacher.

Also consider a strong asset of the coacher is his ability to get the home crowd to root. Many men seem to do it does not appear forced to the crowd.

Washington is represented in the coacher's line by the name of time by that pair of comedians who are wonderful in their way—Germany Schaefer and Nick Altrock. They keep the home players are busy watching Schaefer and Altrock, and naturally that detracts interest from their play. The Washington players are used to the antics of these coachers and keep plugging away, the percentage being in their favor.

Honestly I believe the title of battler is a hard one to win in Washington, favor many times by some comical little antics of these coachers.

Valuable Off the Field

However, Schaefer and Altrock are valuable to a ball club if they never appear on the lines during the game. They are the crowd and spur on the players. It is at the home games that the brains of the game are the medians get in their fine work. They keep the Senators from worrying about their home field. The fielders are worked by some bit of harmless and amusing horse play.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants I consider a grand type of coacher. He is sharp and decisive in everything he does. He is a shrewd man on the line. He seldom makes a mistake. Nearly always you will notice that he sends a man in or stops him at just the right time. He seems to divine what the opponents are going to do.

The Giants are kept on their mettle by their bat and by the same coacher's box. I doubt whether there is a better man on the coaching line for the good of his team than McGraw. If for his own reason, he would be valuable because his strategy seems to rely upon his judgment and know that "sink or swim" he will shoulder the blame if they obey his orders.

There is a great deal of difference between the Giants and Boston Red Sox. McGraw's value was shown clearly than ever before. With a team that was 40 per cent inferior he almost won the pennant. He got the best out of his players, despite countless dumb plays by the Giants, over which he had no control.

Hughie Jennings is a different type of coacher. He is continually working in his mind, trying to get the best out of them with queer shouts. His famous "E-yah" which he coined himself, is a household word in the home of every fan of the navy.

I am frank to say that I do not know what "E-yah" means, although many fans seem to think that the Detroit players are guided throughout the game by it. I heard that it came from Jennings—that it sprung from

Atlanta Motorcycle Club Behind Prince's Motordrome

The Atlanta Motorcycle club which boasts of over 100 members held their regular meeting on Friday night, giving the club a very interesting and highly appreciated by all present.

The club is in splendid shape and getting ready for a strenuous season of activity. A most talked of subject was the big quarter mile motordrome which is being built by Jack Prince work on which is fast getting under way. Quite a number of the club members have visited the track during the week and watch the progress with great interest.

Quite a number of talks were made by different members and Mr. Prince who was present was asked to give them some of the plans for his opening meets and what he had to offer the Atlanta riders.

Mr. Prince stated that Atlanta was no up to date that only the very best could be put on and that races would be given so that every local rider after showing that he could ride the track safely would be allowed to compete. He stated that the club would be given plenty of time to train on the track but before entering into a race would have to show that he was able to compete.

That a track to be built in Birmingham Savannah and Nashville during the season so that the Southern Interstate Motordrome circuit would be an established feature for years to come the week and watch the progress with great interest.

Reserve Clause in Contract Necessary Says Marchand

By Walter Marchand.
 New York, May 4.—(Special)—Ty Cobb is one of the holdouts that should be a fine title for one of these red blooded baseball novelists which sport the cheap magazines. Ty made a noble struggle but he found at last that his position was not as matter as he thought it was. He was not as pretty near speaking a parable.

I don't know how they settled it. In fact, I don't care but I am one of the many thousands who will be mighty glad to see the Georgian back in harness.

I would make this suggestion however, that now that Navin has Ty that he insist on his obeying the rules of the club. I think that Navin and Peach was entitled to that $10,000 but he nor any other man is big enough to play hop with the rules.

This Cobb episode has directed a great deal of attention to the players' contract and there has been more than the usual amount of talk of the enforceability of the reserve clause. The fact, of fact, the reserve clause does seem harsh and one-sided to the average free-born American but if the game is to continue how are you going to get along without it?

The reserve clause and it would be perfectly possible for some magnate with a long purse to have a line up something like this:

Pitchers, Johnson, Walsh, Mathewson, Rube, Wood.

Catchers Archer, Meyers, Thomas, Infielders Wagner, Daubert, Chase, Doyle, Zimmerman, Baker, Evers.

Outfielder Cobb, Speaker, Milan, Beecher, Jackson, Murray, and McGraw, manager. What would the pennant be without such a combination playing, and where would the interest be?

The reserve rule is hard, but it is necessary.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jenkinson, sporting editor The Constitution bases empty batter knuckle ball over centerfield fence and trots around the diamond before the ball is returned to the lot. When returned the first baseman holds the ball on the batter's feet and the umpire calls the batter out for failing to touch the first sack. How is this play scored? Should batter be credited with a four-base hit or only one base hit. W. T. H.

Neither. When he failed to touch first, legally he failed to reach the base, just the same as if he had been thrown out on an infield grounder.

FOUR LEAGUES OPEN SEASONS THIS WEEK

Georgia-Alabama Starts Monday—Two Others Wednesday and a Fourth Thursday.

The Georgia-Alabama league will open its playing season Monday with fine prospects. This league succeeds the old Southeastern league.

Wednesday, the Southern, Michigan and Ohio State leagues will open, and on Thursday the Appalachian league

"THE CAR WITH A CONSCIENCE"

"The Most Beautiful Car in the World— and Mechanically Correct"

☐ The National Automobile Shows rendered this verdict.

☐ At the New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Detroit and Cleveland exhibitions, the Oakland proved to be the real surprise of the new season.

☐ Oakland models were so distinctive, so different from the common type of automobiles, that the difference was apparent even to the casual observer.

☐ Don't scoff at this statement! Don't belittle it! Don't wink your eye and say "That's what they all claim." Don't say "It's a common automobile story!" Don't say "It's impossible for the Oakland to have achieved a position like this in a single year!"

☐ Don't say any of these things, but make us prove our claims.

☐ That's the faith we have in your good judgment and the faith we have in Oakland cars.

☐ The 1913 Oakland symbolizes both life and character. Its life is expressed in beautiful lines, full of color, harmonious and exquisite. Its character is embodied in a sound mechanical principle—scientific and lasting.

☐ You cannot find a harsh line on any Oakland body. You cannot find a long straight line. Each body is a delight to the eye, for each one represents a combination of sensitive curves, very beautiful, blending symmetrically.

☐ Oaklands are made in a wide range of body designs and horse power ratings. Four and six cylinder types—Models 35, 42 and 6-60. Four, five and seven passenger touring cars. Three passenger sociable roadsters, coupes and a semi-racer called "Six-Sixty Raceabout."

$1000 to $3000

☐ Delco electric starting, lighting and ignition system on two of the models.

GEORGE MAXWELL LED TRAP SHOOT

One-Arm Expert Broke 74 Out of 75—Sousa Stood Stood High—Brookhaven Opening a Success.

The official opening of the Brookhaven Gun club scored a hit from the start yesterday. Some of the best professionals came to Atlanta to compete against the local amateur champions. The only outside amateur being John Phillip Sousa, the bandmaster.

George W. Maxwell, the famous one-arm crack, carried off the honors of the day by killing seventy-four clay birds out of a possible seventy-five. Mr. Maxwell, who represents the United Metallic Cartridge company, gave an exhibition that would have been wonderful if he had had the use of both arms, but when infirmity is considered, it was nothing short of marvelous, considering that he was pitted against some of the most famous shots of the day.

W. Huff of Macon, representing the DuPont Powder company, together with E. H. Zubanks, a local man, tied for second honors by breaking seventy-three out of seventy-five. J. M. Barrett made third place by making seventy-two.

John Phillip Sousa, the famous composer-handmaster, stood high up with the winners, scoring 71 out of 75. Others in the 75-bird contest, and their scores are as follows: J. E. Allen, 67; M. T. Elnshaw, 70; C. E. Connie, 67; A. S. Dunn, 65; Mr. Dabney, 49; Dr. Edmondson, 39.

In the 50-bird contest C. E. Goodrich and D. H. Gibbs, both of United Cartridge company, tied for first, both scoring 49 out of a possible 50. Local amateurs scored as follows: E. M. Daniel, 44; J. K. Ottey and Robert Maddux, 38; Clyde King, 36; Mr. Berry, 33; Dr. Pison, 31, and Mr. Marriot, 22 out of 25.

SILVER TROPHIES FOR CLUB SHOOT

Americus, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—The handsome silver trophies which will be contested for at the annual trap shooting tournament of the Georgia State Gun club here next week were placed upon exhibition today.

The two trophies will be awarded for state championship and best amateur average.

The tournament is scheduled for May 7 and 8 and will bring to Americus a score of the best runners of this and other states, including numerous professional trap-shooters.

CLEMSON TRACK TEAM DEFEATS TECH 70-47

Clemson College, S. C., May 3.—(Special.)—Clemson defeated Tech on the track today, 70 to 47. Clemson got 9 firsts, 6 seconds and 7 thirds. Tech took 5 firsts, 7 seconds and 6 thirds.

Davenport Training.

Chicago, May 3.—(Special.)—The great half-mile, is on route. Hot Springs, Ark., to begin training for his last race. He has announced he will retire from active athletics after competing in the Central A. A. U. championships at Northwestern Field on June 21. He hopes to crown his career on the elder path by establishing a new world's record for the half-mile.

JUDGE MOSELEY SELLS THE MADISON MONITOR

Athens, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Judge Berry T. Moseley, of Danielsville, in the adjacent county of Madison, has attained "his journalistic majority" and retired from the business. For just twenty-one years he was owner and associate editor of The Monitor, the county organ of Madison. He sold out this week to H. W. Dyer, who publishes the Corner News in the same county and will combine the two papers. Judge Moseley has been treasurer of the Georgia Weekly Press association for a number of years, succeeding the late Capt. Jimmie Anderson, of Covington.

While a young man comparatively, he states in his vaudeville, that so far as he knows there are but two editors of weekly papers now in Georgia still holding down the same old tripod that he blasted twenty-one years ago when he assumed the office of the "Monitor of Madison"—W. A. Shuckelford, of the Oglethorpe Echo at Lexington, and John N. Holder, of the Jackson Herald at Jefferson. Judge Moseley, who has been a judge of the city court of his county and held other offices of trust along with his editorial duties, the practice of law in which he had a large clientele, and owning and managing a large plantation, will devote himself now to the legal profession exclusively.

ANNUAL HILL CLIMB ATTRACTS INTEREST

More Entrants Than Ever, and Better Trophies Offered—Will Be Held at Stewart Avenue May 17.

Among the big automobile events of interest to every automobile owner and dealer in the south is the second annual hill climb, held each year under the auspices of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessories association. The date for holding the popular hill climb has been set for Saturday, May 17, and the place will be Stewart avenue hill.

The association has already procured the sanction of the A. A. A. and the climb will adhere strictly to the rules set forth by this national organization.

The committee on arrangements have already started to work and report that entries are coming in faster this year than last. From the present outlook, there will be more entrants at the coming event than was ever known before. The prizes, too, are large handsome cups, and from each of the tire concerns, and the accessories and oil firms have contributed very liberally.

The committee is more than enthusiastic, and are looking forward to the coming hill climb as the crowning event of the present season.

The following events have been scheduled:

Event	Class	Piston displacement
1	Class C	160 cu. in. and under
2	Class D	161 cu. in. to 230
3	Class E	231 cu. in. to 300
4	Class F	301 cu. in. to 450
5	Class G	451 cu. in. to 600

Free for all. Amateur event open to all owners for cars equipped as used for everyday service.

The following are the main prizes: Atlanta Automobile Association Cup, now held by J. S. Crane.

Stewart Realty Cup, now held by Studebaker corporation.

Both cups must be won three times in succession to entitle to ownership. The following awards have already been received by the committee: Stewart Warner Speedometer Corp. Stewart Speedometer for automobile and motorcycles.

Reed Oil Co. One barrel of Triple "37" oil for automobiles; one-half barrel Triple "E" oil for motorcycles; one gallon of Reed's reserving fluid for each of the hill climbs.

Contestant who enters in hill climb to Atlanta State Tire Co. Silver cup to Atlanta State Tire Co. Silver cup to winner of motor cycle winner.

Other awards have not as yet been received but will be named as soon as the committee can see them.

CORNELL TRACK TEAM DEFEATS MICHIGAN

Ithaca, May 3.—Cornell easily defeated Michigan in the first dual track meet of the year today, the corrected score being 85 to 32.

Although no track records were broken, the quarters was fast, as was the high hurdle event which was won by Whinery in 16 1-5 seconds. Captain John Paul Jones, of Cornell, won his event in 17 1-2 seconds, the half and mile. Michigan made the best showing in the high jump and hammer throw, in which events the Wolverines won their only first places. Cornell took eleven firsts and eight seconds.

Jones, of Cornell, won the one-mile run. Smith, of Michigan, was second. Time, 4 minutes, 26 seconds.

Jones, Cornell, won the half-mile run. Chapman, of Cornell, was second. Time, 1 minute, 54 2-5 seconds.

150-yard Hurdle—Whinery, Cornell, first. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

440-yard Dash—Cozzens, Cornell, first. Time, 48 4-5 seconds.

Hammer—Throw—Hiler, Michigan, first. 150 feet, 7 inches.

ADVERTISING OF HUP TOUCHES HUMAN SIDE

Current Copy Strikes a New Note in Motor Car Exploitation.

The current advertising of the Hupmobile, and which will run throughout the present summer, strikes a new note in motor car exploitation as it hits directly at the human interest side of motoring, coupling up the car with the day's play so that a better day's work may result.

The art is by Gil Speer, the famous illustrator, and will deal exclusively with the Hupmobile in the open. The accompanying copy backing up the art in the outdoor appeal is by Kirk B. Alexander, of the MacManus company, author of "The Loss of the North Shore Club" and other books on outdoor life and well known as a contributor to Outing and other publications devoted to outdoor recreation.

Both Mr. Speer and Mr. Alexander are enthusiastic Hupmobileists and their joint copy breathes the personal feeling they have for the car.

This series follows the previous campaign which dealt with the "man, the machine and the material," in which the mechanical features of the Hupmobile were analyzed one by one.

When the Hupmobile "32" was offered to the public the long stroke motor, the full floating rear axle and the continuous oiling system were so unique in a car of this class that the public required thorough education. That the public was eager for the instruction is evidenced by the fact that the booklet dealing with these features ran through two editions of 100,000 each, and now in the third edition.

Although the first two advertisements only of the outdoor series have appeared as yet, the public comment, as reported by Hup dealers, has been extremely favorable.

SPLENDID SHOWING MADE BY OVERLAND IN GÖTEBORG CLIMB

The medium-priced American automobile has won another signal victory, this time in competition with many more costly European cars, in what is declared to be the most thorough and fair test of motor car endurance ever held. The occasion was the annual reliability run of the Swedish Royal Automobile club from Stockholm to Göteborg, Sweden, and return, a distance of 738 miles. The showing of the American-made cars among the sixty-eight contestants proved a surprise to the spectators, who pinned their faith to the European productions, and the performance of an Overland model 35 T was especially noteworthy. The Overland took second place in the Göteborg hill-climb, an incidental competition in the event, making the best time for the climb of any of the cars.

The Overland car, No. 7, made the best time of any of the entrants in negotiating the hill, making the climb in 1 hour 22 minutes and 7 seconds. The time of the N. A. O. car, which was given first place through handicapped reckonings of the rating formula, was 2 hours 12 minutes and 4 seconds. Both No. 7 and Overland No. 38 finished with best scores, neither having been found in need of any repairs during the contest nor late at any of the controls. Both the Overlands were strictly stock cars, without any previous preparation for the contest. They were taken from the garage of the Stockholm distributor and entered in the run with nothing added to the regular equipment except tire chains.

The formula, utilized by the Swedish club for the first time, in determining the winner, is being warmly commended by motor authorities everywhere as the most thorough ever used in like events. Not only was the weight of the car and size of the motor taken into consideration but road conditions and hill grades were figured in. In the Göteborg hill climb especially the reckoning was carefully made. The climb occurred on the return journey from Göteborg, and every car was brought to a stop at the foot of the hill. There the stop watches of the observers who rode in the cars and the officials were compared and an exceedingly careful account was taken of everything during the race. At the top of the hill again watches were compared and the observer handed his notebook over to the officials stationed there.

WILLIAM WHIPPLE IS YOUNGEST AUTO AGENT

Who is the youngest automobile agent in the United States?

That is, the youngest real agent, who has a regular contract, sells cars and banks his commissions?

William Whipple, of Genoa, Ill., lays claim to the honor. William has just passed his eighteenth birthday. Although his father, William Sr., is the possessor of five prosperous Illinois farms, William, Jr., has a decided preference for a bank roll built up strictly by his own energy. So, when he was 16 years old, he embarked in the automobile business as the agent of the Michigan cars. He is now doing a flourishing business in a regular automobile dealer's way. His fine, big, completely equipped salesroom and garage is a point of special interest to visitors, and a special pride to its hustling young owner.

William has a youthful enthusiasm which wins when older salesmanship might fail. The young agent's enthusiasm is the result of accurate knowledge acquired in actual experience at the Michigan factory in Kalamazoo. He spent considerable time in overalls and jumper as a helper, to make himself familiar with automobile construction.

LAUDER IS LAUDATORY IN PRAISE OF HUDSON

"She's a daisy!" laughed Harry Lauder, Scotch comedian and singer, as he stepped from a Hudson car after a tour of the parks and boulevards as the guest of the Detroit Burns club.

"And you're a vera clever young man who's driving her, though she's aye that simple a bit bairn could handle her wae!"

Mr. Lauder is a god judge of motor cars, and his commendation of the American automobile was frank and outspoken.

"Electrical accessories and conveniences are carried much further with American cars than with the cars manufactured in Europe," said Mr. Lauder, who by the way betrays only a slight Scotch "burr" in ordinary conversation.

On his return to his home in Scotland Mr. Lauder will consider the purchase of a Hudson car, the fact that the Hudson Motor car company is prepared to furnish complete service to all drivers in all parts of the world being a strong inducement to him.

JUDGE THE VALUE of any article by the demand for it and you will seldom err in your selection. When over 60,000 persons buy and recommend an article it must be good. When 40,000 must be produced to meet the demand in one season, that article, if it is one you can use, certainly merits your earnest consideration.

Since 1909 the Willys-Overland Company of Toledo, Ohio, has built and sold over 60,000 Overlands. They are in daily use, here and abroad. In the last seven months they have shipped over twenty-one thousand cars—85 per cent more than were delivered up to this time last year. And in the last five months as many Overlands have been built and sold as all the factories of Germany build in a year.

"What Car Shall I Buy?"

Q. It is hard to decide, isn't it? You want to get a good car. But there are many good cars. You read the ads and study catalogs. Still you cannot determine. One friend tells you one car—but it is too expensive. Another friend names another car—but you don't think it will do. Everyone is ready to help spend your money.

As a business man, you must get the best. Not only because of the money involved, but because your judgment must be upheld by the performance of the car. Of course, you are safe in walking into most any salesroom and buying a car. But will it be the very best value for the money? And that's the point to decide now.

How Much Can You Afford to Spend?

Q. When a man buys or builds a house, he usually determines this question first. But, as queer as it may sound, few men figure price before they figure car. The beautiful pictures and fine talk keep them wasting time until they throw all caution to the winds and often buy a car they do not want. We find the average buyer of a car can afford to spend about one thousand dollars.

You are buying transportation service first—beauty comes second. With it alone, you wouldn't get very far. So, consider your purchase in the light of an extended trip. You would buy service over the railroad that offered you most at your price. And that is what the Overland offers—the best transportation service to be had from any automobile at or near the Overland's price.

Q. This wonderful record is due primarily to the characteristic foresight of John N. Willys, who realized that to make his car the success he wanted it to be he must make it so good that it would almost sell itself, and thus enable him to make it in quantities which would bring the price down to the lowest possible level. That is why you—and every other man of moderate means—who desire a five-passenger, 30-horsepower, staunch touring car can get it in an Overland—the car recognized as a full $1,200 value by the keenest critics here and abroad.

ADS IN NEWSPAPERS ARE BEST FOR COLE

107 Per Cent Increase in Business for Auto Factory as Result of Using Dailies.

Articles have been written, sales arguments have been advanced, but one of the most concrete examples of the valuation of localized newspaper advertising copy is contained in a statement issued by the Cole Motor Car company of Indianapolis, in their monthly news organ, the Cole Bulletin which states that a 107 per cent increase in Cole business has resulted thus far this year in comparison to the same period last year.

Stating that the Cole policy of handling the moving of factory production by the consolidation of the sales and advertising department under one head, a former newspaper man, Homer McKee the Cole Bulletin says the methods employed have been economical as well as successful.

The Cole Motor Car company during the present fiscal year have spent nine-tenths of their annual advertising appropriation in newspaper advertising. They believe in localizing their advertising along the same line that a city editor would handle a story that came from a distant city but with a local end to it. This, the Cole Bulletin says, has had the greatest effect in stimulating interest locally in Cole. The company also makes a strong point of the low expense of newspaper advertising and of the actual results. The statement is made that on advertising where a coupon for a Cole Blue Book has been appended to an advertisement that the answers came not only from people who were directly interested, but from prospects who laid the Blue Book away for future reference.

"In many cases," Mr. McKee says, "we have been able to fill soil with these prospects. By utilizing the soil I mean applying intensified salesmanship and getting the prospect to see the business side of possessing a motor car."

As a result of the success that the Cole people have had in their localized newspaper advertising campaigns, it is stated on good official grounds they have decided to increase their business in that direction. This means it is further claimed, that they can double their production figures without increasing their advertising appropriation.

This plan, which has been worked out without a sales manager, has caused a great deal of favorable comment in the automobile industry and has already given a number of large manufacturers food for thought in the same direction.

EASTER EGG HUNT DRAWS SMALL CROWD

The annual Easter-egg hunt given by the park commission at Grant park was enjoyed by a number of children yesterday afternoon. The long delay of the hunt after Easter, and the fact that the entertainment is not quite as popular as it has been in the past, caused a number of children not to be as large as on former occasions. Those present seemed to enjoy the outing thoroughly.

There were prizes, and those who found the special eggs were proud of their good luck.

STUDEBAKER MEN TO SHARE PROFITS AS STOCKHOLDERS

Operating great plants in Detroit and South Bend with capitalization of many millions and turning out annually more automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles than any other organization in the world, the Studebaker corporation has put into effect a plan whereby certain of its employees may become stockholders and share in the profits of the concern.

The plan, which was adopted at a meeting of the board of directors, here on April 1, is simple. It provides, after dividends shall have been earned on the preferred, and on the common stock, that a fund shall be set apart for the purchase, at market price, of common stock of the corporation to be held in trust for three-year periods and then distributed to its earnings among participating employees.

Details of the plan explain rules affecting employees who might die, retire on account of age or leave the firm, which was stipulated in the plan. The fund is to be set apart from the assets of the corporation and is to be administered by the board of directors. First vice president, general manager, treasurer and assistant general manager at Detroit, the manager of works at South Bend and an official selected from the plant, will constitute a committee that may be selected as custodian of the fund.

The proportion of excess net profits to be set apart each year, is most generous. The stock purchased is to be held for three years and then, with its earnings, is to be distributed on a carefully worked-out plan bearing a relation to the salaries of the various employees.

The fund is to be known as "The Employees' Profit Sharing Fund of the Studebaker Corporation." Ultimately, the disbursement of the fund may mean a bonus equal to 29 per cent or more of the salaries of participating employees. The plan does not affect the salary of any employee. The maximum salary paid in all departments. Then plan does, however, more closely identify certain employees with a successful outcome of business, and will make effective all possible opportunities for increasing efficiency in departments. The express intention is to devote throughout the Studebaker organization the helpful spirit of team work and a higher and more efficient co-ordination of all departments.

Inviting employees to share in the profits of a corporation is a milestone along the path of progress of American business life. Its larger effect will be to draw together in closer bonds, employer and employee and to make them work in unison.

An Abridged Bible.

(From The Gallipolis Tribune.)
An abridged Bible is being advocated—one that will contain only the vital parts of the great book, and that omits hundreds of pages of matter now not read at all, except by students. No doubt such a Bible would become instantly popular, because it would be interesting and to the point. In this age, none except students will wade through very long books. Everybody wants the truth boiled down to the very shortest space. The great story of the crucifixion is told in very few words, and all the essentials of the Bible for the average person could easily be covered in one-fifth the pages required for the whole work.

News Wise and Otherwise Of Boys Who Put 'Em Over

Someone called Mr. LaHatte, Cole agent, on the phone the other day. The conversation was as follows: "Hello! Coal office? How much for coal?" "Fully equipped?" "I suppose so." "Twenty-four hundred dollars?" At this point in the conversation a scream was heard and a full thud at the other end of the line. Next day the daily papers told how the attendants at the asylum were obliged to put in a straight-jacket a wild-eyed little man who kept repeating these words: "One ton, twenty-four hundred; two tons forty—freeze! freeze! freeze!"

Non-Skid Tires.
The tremendous strides made in the automobile industry during the past five years has naturally developed similar activity, improvement and progress in accessory lines. This is especially true of pneumatic tires, and of these the non-skid stands a remarkable example as having reached a remarkable state of high-grade construction, durability and safety. Notwithstanding, therefore, the new devices brought out from time to time and offered as efficient substitutes, the dependable non-skid tire is steadily growing in favor and the demand and output rapidly increasing from year to year.

Conspicuous among these is the Federal Rugged Tread, which, since its advent, and on account of its extra heavy studs, exceptional thickness of tread, and distinctive sturdy appearance, has obtained a strong hold on the preferences of motorists everywhere.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that the Federal Rubber Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, makers of Federal tires, have just announced a substantial reduction in prices—made possible by the exceptionally heavy demand and consequent increased production facilities during the past year. This reduction will enable the car owner to make a material saving on Federal tires, which are widely and popularly known as tires of "extra service."

Federal tires are handled in Atlanta by the Elvee-Austell Co., at 35 North Pryor street.

Baseball in the West.
The baseball fan of the east has the idea that the only real baseball "bug" inhabits the territory surrounding the big league cities. Evidence to the fact that there are others that get that feeling of wanting to go out, yell, tear up hats and generally go crazy, is apparent of the following:

"Business in Portland, Ore., the afternoon of the opening game, was at a halt. A parade composed of the leading citizens of that city who filled cleverly decorated motor cars paraded through the streets for two hours, and terminated at the ball grounds. The procession was led by Mayor Rushlight and Judge Morrow, of Portland, and his majesty, Ralph W. Donges, supreme director of the grand lodge of Moose, of New York, in a Paige car, decorated with American flags. This demonstration is characteristic of all large towns on the western coast and only goes to show that the great national game has taken just as firm a hold of the people in the west as in the east.

Motor Car Test.
A most unusual motor car test was made last week when Toddy Tetzlaff, the great racing driver, went for a drive over the country roads of California in a Cartecar. Tetzlaff has always driven the most powerful geared racing cars he could secure, but when he drove the Cartecar up 50 per cent grades and on the rough country roads at a rate of 30 miles an hour he was astonished and enthusiastically exclaimed that the car was a wonder.

Tetzlaff is an expert mechanic, but he would hardly believe that such efficiency could be embodied in such a simple car. The Cartecar is the car that has attracted so much attention because of its ability to climb 12 1/2 miles will be covered in 68 hours of actual running time, so that the cars will be forced to maintain an average of more than 18 miles an hour on the road.

MOTHER AND SISTER SOUGHT BY RUSHTON
"Can any reader of the Constitution tell me of the whereabouts of my mother, Mrs. Pickens Rushton, and some time."

any sister, Elah Rushton, last seen in Augusta, Ga.?" This is the substance of a letter sent the Constitution by Hubert Rushton, of St. Matthews, S. C. The writer states that he has seen neither for the past ten years, and would greatly appreciate if any reader of the Constitution would inform him of them. They are thought to be in some Georgia town, but have not been heard of for some time.

AECOWITH RECORD OF 145,000 MILES IN RELIABILITY RUN

A notable entry in what promises to be one of the greatest motoring contests ever held is that of an Aeco car with a 145,000-mile record in the Chicago to Boston, non-stop reliability run, June 28-29. The car is entered by its owner, Harry Vissering, head of a large railway supplies house in Chicago.

Although Mr. Vissering has driven his car on an average of 24,000 miles a year for the past six years, he is confident of pulling through with a clean score and thereby qualifying for some of the prizes. He declares that the motor is running as well as ever, and that every part of the mechanism is fit for the strenuous ordeal of four days and four nights' continuous running.

Mr. Vissering himself will drive the car the night controls. This contest will be held under the auspices of the Chicago Automobile club, with the co-operation of the Bay State Automobile association, of Boston, and the Motor Dealers' Contest association of New York. Fifteen-minute stops are provided for at South Bend, Toledo, Erie, Rochester, Albany and New York city, with other controls along the route, for the purpose of changing greases and replenishing with fuel and water.

According to the schedule mapped out, the run from Chicago to Boston,

If it's right why change it? A multiplicity of models is evidence that the maker is still experimenting. There is but one Ford model. And for five years our rapidly growing factories haven't been able to make all we could sell—because it is right.

More than a quarter of million Fords now in service—convincing evidence of their wonderful merit. Runabout, $525; Touring Car, $600; Town Car, $800—e. o. b. Detroit, with all equipment. Get interesting "Ford Times" from Dept. F, Detroit; Ford Motor Company, 311 Peachtree St., Atlanta.

Handsome Is as Handsome Does Velie Cars are as Good as They Look

The name insures the quality. That's what you want in the car you buy—Quality. You get it in a Velie.

Here's a car that backs up its handsome appearance by a matchless performance. It is an impressive looking car that appeals to every man who appreciates the best.

Ownership of a Velie is proof of one's discernment. The car has grace and grit—sheer mechanical nerve—and sniffs at obstacles that hold back other motor cars.

It isn't a hot-house plant—good only for city streets. You can depend on it up the meanest hill; through the deep sand and mud. It isn't a mountain of a car that blocks traffic while it turns. But it is big enough and strong enough to serve you efficiently 365 days in the year at the least possible cost.

Three Models Each Fully Equipped

And fully equipped when coupled with the name Velie means just what it should mean—the actual presence of every part promised on paper.

The Velie, this season, is the same in its foundation that it has been for years—solid, substantial basis tried and proved true by its many owners. The changes have been along refinement and added conveniences.

There's the Gray and Davis Electric Starting and Lighting system. The starter is a six-volt, and positive under all weather conditions. Simple, light and compact, it starts the heaviest motor made, from a push on the foot button. Starter is automatically released when the engine "picks up."

The Lighting System—Gray & Davis Generator hung on an adjustable bracket—furnishes current for five lamps and storage battery. It is enclosed and kept free from dust as are practically all of the Velie operating parts.

You find these systems on the most expensive cars because there is as yet no better starting and lighting systems made. From these three models you can easily select the one that suits you best—that best fits your needs. And remember this, please, that your wife or any other woman can drive a Velie car with ease anywhere. That is why so many Velies are being bought by and for women in preference to any other gasoline car made today.

Velie 40, 4 and 5 Passenger $2000

Is a dignified and dependable car for the family. It seats four comfortably and five without crowding. It is perfectly proportioned and properly balanced. Every mechanical part is subjected to numerous tests and the car as a whole is proved before your purchase and confirmed by you after.

This 40 offers you a mode of travel—whether for short spins around town or long trips—that for comfort convenience and safety is not equaled.

Velie Roadster, $1450

An ideal runabout of great speed and durability. A special favorite with younger drivers who like to care for their own cars. All parts are instantly accessible, as, for example, the pistons may be removed from the bottom of the crank case without disturbing the cylinders, wires, water pipes or other connections.

General Specifications

TIRES—Goodyear 34x4 on demountable rims.
STANDARD PAINTING—Touring Car: Velie blue-black throughout with fine line white stripe.
Roadster: Velie vermilion body and wheels striped in black. Black gear, tanks and hood striped in vermilion.

STANDARD-EQUIPMENT INCLUDES:
Mohair Top and Envelope, Ventilating Rain-Vision Windshield, Speedometer with Trip Register, Five Demountable Rims, Rear Spring Bumpers, Tire Irons, Coat Rail, Gray & Davis Electric Starter and Generator with Five Lamps, Electric Horn, Complete Tool Kit with Tire Outfit, Pump, Jack and Special Tools in tool box at rear of body.

No-Rim-Cut Tires 10% Oversize

Tire Prices

With our new factories, we have built as high as 6,500 automobile tires daily.

This multiplied output has cut cost of production. And our profits, as usual, are kept down to the minimum.

So prices on No-Rim-Cut tires now average about 11 per cent less than last year.

No Extra do not expect to exceed that.

No-Rim-Cut tires now cost no more than any standard clincher tires.

Yet these tires save all the cost of rim-cutting. They save a ruin which wrecks 23 per cent of the hooked-base clincher tires.

And No-Rim-Cut tires are 10 per cent larger—contain 10 per cent more air—than clinchers. And that, with the average car, adds 25 per cent to the tire mileage.

Our Profit

Each year we advertise our profits. That is to show you exactly the value you get in a Goodyear tire.

THE NEW CITY BY THE SEA

A new city is being built at Atlantic Beach, Jacksonville's splendid seaside resort, which through the past dozen years has been made famous by the Continental Hotel—Beautiful homes are rising along the bluffs that overhang the beach itself, and in the palm and oak-covered hammock behind it—there is no more attractive place in Florida nor in the South for year-around residence.

More than four thousand acres of forest land and ocean front are to be opened to home builders—a modern city with paved streets, electric lights, healthful drainage, and all the conveniences and necessities of comfortable living. The location is by the finest ocean beach in the South, seventeen miles from Jacksonville and connected with it by a splendid, hard-surfaced roadway and a convenient train schedule. An electric service is promised within the next few months, with an hourly schedule from Jacksonville.

Beautiful home sites by the beach or among the great palms, magnolias and oaks of Florida's splendid forests. There is no more attractive spot in the South.

Already a beginning has been made—nearly a thousand acres north of the road to the beach have been platted, streets have been laid out and cut through, building sites cleared and a score of beautiful bungalows and houses are actually going up as rapidly as men and material can be gathered for their construction.

The electric lighting plant is ready for extension along the streets and boulevards and into the houses. An artesian well is flowing thousands of gallons an hour, sufficient for a population of ten thousand people.

Atlantic Beach is owned and being developed by men of energy and experience who are backed by abundant capital. They will control the building of Atlantic Beach from the beginning and no feature will be allowed that can mar its desirability as a home place for men and women of refinement. Building restrictions and limitations will control the class of buyers and home builders.

Many beautiful bungalows and residences will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks—desirable lots on which the purchasers may build houses of their own designing will be offered for sale within a short time. There is no more attractive place in the South for homes, summer, winter, the year around.

The Atlantic Beach Corporation has its office on the property at the Beach. It is always open to receive visitors, who will be welcomed. An inspection of the property will be a revelation. The Company also has an office in the St. James Building, Jacksonville. If you cannot come, write for full information about this home development proposition. It is the largest that has ever been undertaken in the South.

FOR MEN.

Men's "Gordon" silk-plated half Hose; extra high spliced heel and toe; black, tan, navy and gray; 25c pair.

New and Dainty Blouses at $1.50

We are conservative when we say we have never seen more charming or better Blouses at this price.

Of entirely new and extremely dainty fashioning. One particularly irresistible style in a soft Crepe with wee Dresden roses, and blue or pink Delphine collar and cuffs under very sheer white collar and cuffs.

Another especially dainty style is fashioned of sheer Voile with delicate pink, blue and lavender silk stripe; colored collar to match stripe. Others are of fine, sheer Voile all-white prettily made. All Blouses of a very high order, and one would expect to find them much higher priced.

Monday Is the Time to Buy Girls' Dresses

Proof? Plenty of it in these piles of snowy, new Frocks at this special price—

$4 and $5 Dresses at $3.50

Ideal little party dresses of sheer, cool white lawns and batistes, prettily trimmed with laces, embroideries, heading belts run with ribbon; some long-waisted effects, all charmingly fashioned—every one fresh, new and immaculate. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

Girls' Balkan Blouses at $1.00

—of white linene, with red, navy or white collar and cuffs; laced up front; 6 to 16-year sizes.

Fashionable hand-embroidered Linen Dresses at $5—Copenhagen, navy and pink; beautiful Dresses; sizes 6 to 10 years.

Misses' Silk Princess Slips; white, pink and blue, prettily trimmed with lace; 12 to 16-year sizes; price $2.50.

China Silk Slips for little tots—2 to 6-year sizes; white, pink and blue; priced at $1.50.

75c Rompers at 50c

There is no play garment so practical for growing babies as a romper. Here are good seersucker Rompers, which need no ironing; blues, pinks and tans; also others of white madras; cunning little square-neck, short-sleeve style.

Wash Goods Specials

36-inch white Linen Suiting; all-pure flax; priced for Monday at 19c yard.

Hydegrade Rugby Galateas; fresh, pretty striped effects; full range of colors and black-and-white; priced at 12 1/2c yard.

Loriet Crepe, silk-and-cotton mixed, a beautiful and very popular dress fabrics; special for Monday at 33c yard.

36-inch Nearlinsen, an ideal white fabric, with permanent finish, for dresses, waists and children's suits; very durable. Priced at 20c yard.

A Sale of Tub Dresses at $5 A Special Feature for Monday

All fresh from their over-land boxes, and each one of charming style, material and color. Choose from linens, reps, piques, Bedford cords and cotton voiles; dainty pinks, blues, white or striped effects on white ground. There are twenty-five styles to select from.

Silk Dresses That $7.95 Will Buy

A hundred uses ahead for them; scores of times when nothing will answer quite so well as a pretty, airy Silk Dress.

These are wonderful Dresses at the price quoted for Monday. The illustration shows only one style—there are many others. Of dotted and figured foulards, shantung and messalines. A great range of popular colors, with all the little new fashion touches in the way of collars, cuffs, buttons and trimmings.

Jewelry Specials

72-inch mercerized bleached Table Damask—special at 45c yard.

The Season's Fashions and the Season's Shoes

Narrow Skirts keep the feet almost continuously exposed to view. So it is quite necessary for a woman to exercise as much care in the selection of her shoes as in her gowns or hats.

These dainty Patrician Pumps conform to every demand of style and taste.

All leathers. Prices $3.50 and $4.

New Silk Petticoats at $2.98

Of soft finish Waters' Taffeta, all new shades and staple colors.

Soft, finish cotton Messaline Petticoats at $1.00—colors and black.

NEMO WEEK

NEMO WEEK is a welcome annual event in our store. It has our full approval.

Nemo patented inventions in features and fabrics have made Nemo Corsets what they are—the last word in corset-making; radically different from all others, and, for many women, distinctly superior to all others.

The new Nemo semi-elastic fabrics, Lastikops Webbing and Lastikops Cloth, insure a degree of flexibility, comfort and durability quite impossible without them.

We have Nemo Corsets for slender and medium figures at $3, $4 and $5. For figures requiring the Self-Reducing features at $3, $4, and more.

The "Nemo Week Special," No. 326, with Lasticurve-Back, is a wonder at $3.00.

Come this week—NEMO WEEK—and let our corset-experts prescribe for you.

Reviewers' Club Entertained.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the Reviewers' club were delightfully entertained by their retiring president, Miss Irene Smilie, at her home on Piedmont avenue the occasion being the annual election of officers.

Those present extended Miss Smilie a rising vote of thanks for her untiring efforts and splendid service during the past three years.

Mrs. Richard Battle with a few well-chosen words, presented Miss Smilie with a book as a token of the Reviewers' appreciation of all her efforts.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Julian Rodgers, president; Miss Hannah Franklin, vice president.

Miss Bessie Lambert, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. A. Edwards, recording secretary.

Mrs. L. G. Neal, treasurer. The house was attractively decorated with flowers while here and there copies of the works of the old masters were artistically grouped reminding the members of their study of art during the past year, and affording them an hour of pleasant intercourse while placing the name of the artist to each picture.

Mrs. Edwards won the first prize a copy of 'The Age of Innocence' while Miss Virginia Hardin was the successful winner of the consolation.

The refreshments carried out the color scheme of pink, and the occasion was one of pleasure to all.

Modern Priscilla Club.

Mrs. Gussie Polk was hostess to the Modern Priscilla club and a few invited guests at her home on Ashby street Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Simmons will entertain the club Thursday afternoon May 15 at her home 181 Glenwood avenue.

To Have May Festival.

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery who so ably managed the May festival for the Uncle Remus Memorial association the first two years will have charge again this year.

She is very anxious to have all the children in West End who are interested in the work to meet her at the home of Mrs. J. S. Nichols, 82 Gordon street Thursday afternoon May 8 at 4 o'clock.

This year there will be besides the coronation of the queen and the three May pole dances a beautiful flower drill in which at least fifteen children will take part. This drill will require both boys and girls large and small and all the mothers are urged to take this matter up in their homes, and make a personal attempt to have this festival worthy of the great cause for which it is given and a credit to West End the home of Joel Chandler Harris.

Perryman-Peacock.

The marriage of Miss Katie May Perryman and Mr. Richard Horace Peacock will occur this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Dr. A. R. Holderby at 233 Lackie street. Dr. Holderby will officiate. Friends and relatives will witness the ceremony. The bride is the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Perryman of East Point and is a popular member of the younger set. The groom holds a responsible position with Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt Co. of Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Peacock will be at home to their friends on Ware avenue in East Point.

Potter-Alexander.

The wedding of Miss Nancy Eula Potter and Mr. Allen McFarland Alexander was a pretty event of Wednesday evening April 30 taking place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. C. A. Potter in West End. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Belk of the Park Street Methodist church.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Alexander will be at home on North Boulevard.

Musical at Druid Hills.

On Thursday May 8 at 8 p. m. there will be given at Druid Hills Methodist church a musical which is of interest to the music lovers of Atlanta.

Circle No. 9 Mrs. W. M. Fambro, chairman has secured the well known artists Professor Charles Sheldon, organist; Mrs. Charles Sheldon, soloist, and Mrs. John Chandler, violinist. Admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

Allen's May Sale of Women's Ready-to-Wear To Eclipse All Past Selling Events

Beginning Monday Morning, Will Continue Thru the Entire Month of May

Suits, Dresses, Coats, Millinery, Blouses, Silk Petticoats, Corsets

The month of May will be the selling time full of advantage for the provident patron of this store. A 30-day sale covers a long stretch of time, and will carry away many "well-behaved bargains," but we have the goods to sell—very large stocks of them in every department—in fact, we have too much, and such is the reason for this great reduction sale. And these are regular stocks, bought at regular prices. No "jobs" or "seconds," consequently, it must be a first-class garment in both fabric and style that you are offered—though at small cost—this month of May.

New Graduation Dresses of Lace and Net $20 and $25

New Wash Skirts Linen, Crash, Ratine and Pique $1.50 to $6

DRESSES AS ILLUSTRATED IN ABOVE DRAWING ARE REGULAR $25, $30 AND $35 VALUES

These dresses present a combination of style, quality and desirability that will appeal to every taste and will satisfy every want.

There are dresses for afternoon, for evening, for bridge parties, for dinners and for street wear.

The materials include charmeuse, crepe meteor, Canton crepe, radium, bengaline, faille, messaline, taffeta, foulard and crepe voile. There are also beautiful lingerie dresses, of voile, marquisette and embroidered robes.

The variety of colors comprises almost every shade, hue and tint that is fashionable and popular. For instance:

The range from the most delicate pink to a deep American Beauty, includes all the intermediate shades.

The reds embrace every possible shade from the popular cerise to the deepest cardinal and wine.

In green there are vivid shades known in this season's color list as Kelly green, reseda, apple green and olives in the soft, becoming tones.

All the blues that have originated this season are here in complete range.

Taupe, gray, pearl, mauve, maize, purple, helio and plenty of white and black. No matter for what purpose you need a dress, you'll surely find one to suit you among this wonderful collection, and at an unmatched price.

The Suits Having Reduction Prices

Remembering that your Spring Suit will serve you on some very notable occasions, on your summer travels, beginning very soon, and at which times first impressions are made, you will value a good one—a smart looking one. You will also appreciate the great saving in buying it when the price is low.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CHILDREN TO UNITE IN GRAND CONCERT

In the woman's club page of The Constitution today there will be set forth the conditions governing a contest in which the school children of Georgia will contest for two complete sets of the Library of Southern Literature, each set including fifteen volumes. The school securing the largest number of advance subscriptions for the Woman's Edition of The Constitution will get the prizes one set going to a school in North Georgia, the other to the successful school in South Georgia.

The books have been presented by the Martin-Hovt company, publishers, through the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. A committee appointed by the president of that organization is in charge and all inquiries pertaining to the matter should be addressed to Circulation Contest Department, Woman's Edition, Atlanta Constitution. The time for the contest is short, and club women are urged to see that the schools of their communities act in the matter of the contest at once.

too much hot bread at any time of the day was bad, but I do not believe there were any more stomach or intestinal troubles in the old days than there are now. The doctor laughter when asked about chicken at this season for breakfast, and replied that if there were any chickens frying size at a reasonable price he would like to know about them, as he did not believe one of them now and then could offend the most delicate appetite. They are better broiled for breakfast however, the doctor thought.

Mr. William Chandler will be best man. The groomsmen will be Mr. Albert Andrews, Mr. Rentrö Rauschenberg, Dr. Fred White and Mr. Oscar Rauschenberg. The bride will be given away by her father, Mr. George W. Andrews.

Newly Arrived and Very Smart

SUMMER MILLINERY

Priced from $4.00 to $25.00

Just out of their boxes are a number of decidedly attractive Milan and Panama Hats—bright, fresh summer affairs, all.

They bear the Burgessier mark, which of itself tells that they are correct, but you will see their novel and graceful lines and smart trimmings long before you will note the Burgessier mark. On the Milan Hats of medium and small shapes feathers are used, snowy white feathers, and wings are placed at unexpected angles; crowns and brims are wrapped with satin—all white. Certainly a style among them becoming to you. With these are the correct Panama Sailors of this season, not so severe as formerly—roll brim, full crown.

Veils—Many Kinds

Many kinds to choose from, but of most particular interest right now are the French wash chiffon veils in plain and three-toned colors with satin striped borders at $2.00 to $6.50, and the new lace veils in white, cream and white-and-black. The lace pattern shows across the whole surface and in a border.

These are $3.50 to $7.00

Shall It Be Breakfast or No Breakfast?

This Is the All-Perplexing Question Now

BY ISMA DOOLY

Little Mary Goughly aged 17 returning from a visit to rich relations in the north quite mortified her parents and her grown up sister (educated abroad) by announcing she was glad to get home to get some breakfast—that her rich relations never even came down to the breakfast table and that Leonie, the French maid had brought her to her bedside in the morning nothing more than an orange, some toast and a cup of coffee saying that was all a lady ever acknowledged she took for breakfast. I just told Uncle Sam after I had been there a few days I did not get enough breakfast and then he gave orders that I was to have bacon and eggs and battercakes, and even a steak if I wanted it. I told him I liked hash better than anything for breakfast and after that I had these things brought to me explained Mary.

But the trouble was my breakfast became so popular that Aunt Mary and Cousin Sue got to coming in my room every morning in their kimonos and boudoir caps after they had had their roll and coffee and eating off my tray. Those cakes look good to me. Cousin Sue would say and she would help herself and—I like that hash dear Aunt Mary would say and she would eat it with a spoon. Then they both would take some of my coffee with rich cream in it though they told me all the time I ought to drink it half coffee half milk as they did.

Now, Wasn't Mary Awful? I noticed they always looked embarrassed when Leonie, the maid came in because she had probably told them that no lady should acknowledge she took more than toast and coffee for breakfast.

But Mary exclaimed her parents you should never have complained of anything you had in your uncle's house. Your digestion would be far better if you lived on simpler diet. But Mary's big sister was not so calm in her reproaches. She literally fell upon her young sister with abuse.

For do you not know she exclaimed that it is actually vulgar to eat a heavy breakfast?

Why even the people who do hard labor and who must have nourishment know better than to eat meat for breakfast and big sister turned pale with emotion as she thought of the affront to good form her little sister had committed.

But sister black Mammy says growing children should be well nourished and that as long as she lives and the butcher is near she will see to it I have a chop for my breakfast every morning though I tell "Mammy" I like the best the fried round steak she had in the kitchen. "That accounts for the indigestion you frequently have said big sister and then Mary talked about people who had anemia when they dieted and then had to paint their faces to look healthy—that she intended to grow up with natural color.

Properly at this juncture Mary was sent from the table though her father had enjoyed what she said and urged her mother not to "send the child out."

Little Things Are Important. This may seem a flippant thing—this family argument about breakfast—but as a lady told me not long since the little things in life are the most important. That there is always the right way to pin on the face veil, the more stylish side of the church in which to rent a pew, and that no matter how inconvenient it is to serve dinner before 7 o'clock is a horribly provincial thing to do.

Mary Goughly is not the only one who has raised this subject or whether or not the world must continue to eat breakfast for there are some people who have so firmly set their teeth against it they would die and before they would touch anything before the hour of one in the broad daylight.

These people who insist upon the entire fast in the morning do it as a rule in their religious adherence to form the same kind of form which makes them feel they must come to the opera an hour late and leave some time before it is over because they went to the opera in New York and noted that as many as seventeen of the boxes—those occupied by American royalty—were never filled before 10 o'clock, and that it was customary for these same people to look bored and leave before it was over.

This idea of form pertaining to breakfast is going to be particularly hard on those of our inhabitants who still have backyards in which they raise spring chickens and cows which admit now and then of a cream cheese or of an extra amount of cream which makes the more palatable the gravy which goes over the aforesaid barn yard product of the frying size.

Break the Visitor Of Diet Habit

Besides the people who are being guided by form in the matter, there are many who do it as victims of the diet habit. It is stylish to be on a diet whether you have to be or not. If you are thin you must be on a diet to get fat. If you are fat you must be boring people to death about how much you have lost in ten days by leaving off everything at breakfast except lemon water and dry toast.

But no matter what the diet is breakfast must not be taken or if taken, it must not be enjoyed and the person as traditional almost primitive these days who will tell right out that he or she would eat anything so wholesome as a steak for breakfast while cakes and syrup, if ever partaken of during the morning hours, must not be mentioned.

This question of breakfast or no breakfast has become so vital in the minds of many women and must be so often and so thoroughly discussed, that I thought it might be well to get some expert opinion on the subject so far for the betterment of human complexion and in the interest of the last good woman who has become an agent for a new kind of straight front corset. I asked a leading physician what he thought about the question of whether or not people at large should satisfy their appetites at breakfast. He hesitated. I realized a large part of his patronage was probably among the women who have adopted the fad of dieting and who must be indulged in it. "Confidentially," he said, "and to go no farther this ridiculous nonsense of people not eating a good meal when they are about to go out for a day's activity, is all nonsense. It comes under the head of subjects akin to 'shall the hobble skirt be slit this summer, or shall it entirely cut off the possibility of a woman getting on a street car without risking her life?'"

For the woman who has to see about her household affairs in the morning who helps dress her children for school, who must go out, for instance to a meeting somewhere or to do the marketing for the week she needs something to sustain her besides lemon water and dry toast. She ought to have a fruit or cereal or a fruit and cereal both an egg or two is good and, if she is accustomed to coffee, a good cup of coffee.

If not she is apt to lose the very beauty she is striving for because to try one's self on an empty stomach produces a nervousness and fatigue that brings a drawn expression to the face and before a woman knows it as she loses from fasting, she takes on the lines which she hates worse than anything else.

Excessive eating at any time is bad, whether it is in the morning at the noon hour or in the evening, and where people make a mistake is to fast at one meal and overeat at another. Everybody knows that the too-heavy breakfast is not good and that the old-fashioned southern habit of

The Vogue of Low Heels

As a young lady expressed it the other day: "It really looks odd to see anything but low heels nowadays." We have a black satin pump in five different heights of heel and practically the same shape toe. We also have the same number of different styles of heels in gunmetal, patent and tan, white canvas and white buckskin. When it comes to the new English last in either pump, Oxford or boot we believe that Allen has more different styles and a better range of sizes and widths than any other shoe store in the South. This does not by any means indicate that we do not carry high heels, but it goes to show that what the younger set adopts is usually found at Allen's in greater variety than anywhere else.

English Last Pump in Dull Calf or Tan, Black Satin and White $5.00

It would be the part of wisdom to select your white and tan low-heel pumps or Oxfords, especially the rubber sole ones, in the next week, for you can rest assured in another month they will be at a premium. We have ordered and reordered on them until it seemed that we were going to get a great many more than we should; but almost the next week the clerks report that they can't furnish this size or that. This means nothing more than good advice to our good customers.

Rubber or Leather Sole, English Last, Oxford, Black, Tan or White $5.50, $5, $4.50

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting. There are but few depilatories sold. You think there are hundreds because you have used the same identical preparations under several different names. This is easily explained. Women stop using.

So-Called Hair Removers. When they learn that they are harmful, therefore, they can not be sold under the same name for any length of time. Then the identical, worthless, harmful concoctions are given new names and advertised again as totally different preparations to defraud the same foolish women who innocently buy them over and over again under different names, and this will continue as long as women are so unwise as to experiment with unknown, so-called hair removers.

DeMiracle Has Stood the Test of Time. DeMiracle has been sold as DeMiracle for over eleven years, and its name has never been changed. It is acknowledged the world over by eminent authorities as the one safe, perfected hair remover, therefore it is the only depilatory you can use without experimenting.

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell. If you use DeMiracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because DeMiracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive, tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours.

Avoid Permanent Disfigurement by using substitutes. If your dealer will not supply you send $1.00 direct, free information how to determine which depilatories are harmful and worthless sent in plain, sealed envelope.

Miss Wood Tells of Meaning Of the Pen and Brush Club

By Virginia Wood

The Pen and Brush club which met last night in the studio of Miss Virginia Woolley, is the answer to a distinct call.

Now that the little art school that was a great help to the city has left there is great need for just such a club here to advance true art feeling in this big and successful city.

It has been the history of art since time immemorial that the art springs up in big American cities after they have made a success in material lines the pendulum swings back the other way and art naturally creeps into existence the people then have time to feel their need and need the beautiful!

This club intends meeting once or twice a week in the evening to sketch from the costume model without instructions except what they can give each other which after all is the best way to learn as pupils always learn more from each other than from the master.

Such a club has been in existence in New Orleans for some years and all its members tell me it was of great help to young men (or women) working on illustrating papers.

Those who really wished to get on and improve would rush to the club and get to work and many of the artists and there are many illustrators who if they will join will find a great help in having sympathetic fellow-workers.

After New Members.

The little club of a week old has already on its membership list two architects, two professors, several women painters, a newspaper cartoonist and others and they wish for more members. There is only a small fee required and all who are interested are invited to attend the next meeting to be held in Miss Woolley's studio, Wesley Memorial building corner Ivy street and Auburn avenue, on Saturday evening, May 3, at 7:30 o'clock.

A Useful Organization.

If anything is not practical it will die and should, and the idea of this little club is purely of a useful nature to the members. It can be worked up later to give scholarships to northern art schools and perhaps the big pen and brush clubs of New York city can be expected to treat these members as non-resident members to the members. ## BIG PAGEANT IS PLANNED BY ATLANTA SCHOOL CHILDREN

The public school children of Atlanta under their physical director Professor Theodore Toop are planning elaborate and beautiful field day exercises for May 12 at Piedmont park. The exercises will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will include the usual athletic contests and in addition pageant scene in which 1,000 children will take part. There will be folk dancing and many other features. The school children all over the world are making their field day exercises elaborate functions and it will be interesting to note the achievement of the Atlanta children, who have for several years now had admirable field day programs.

The public is invited to the exercises and an especial invitation has been sent to the Atlanta Drama League and the Players club that they may make the effort of the children here in the presentation of a pageant scene.

CONTEST FOR COVER DESIGN TO BE DECIDED THIS WEEK

The contest for the cover design for the women's edition of The Constitution to be published in June will be decided upon this week. A committee of judges will be appointed by Mrs. Samuel W. Inman president of the Atlanta Art association and they will consider the designs submitted within the next few days.

Artists from all over the state are competing and the interest has been manifestly enthusiastic. The art clashes in many of the schools of the state have sent specimens of their work and beside the prize of $50 which will be awarded to the best design, it is probable that several of the honor designs will be secured for publication in the edition. A full list of the competitors will be published later.

Inquiries on the subject may be directed to the Woman's Edition office, Man 5000, Constitution.

Dinner Party.

MOUNTAIN CITY HOTEL TO OPEN LATE IN JUNE

Mrs. Fred Morton of Athens has secured the Mountain City hotel in Rabun county for the summer and will open it for the reception of guests June 25.

Mountain City is located in one of the most delightful sections of the Blue Ridge.

Rabun county has been compared to Switzerland because of the rugged and attractive beauty of its scenery.

Mountain City is in the heart of this beautiful section surrounded by low, rolling peaks of the Blue Ridge and is one of the most delightful of the many beautiful spots on the Tallulah Falls railway. It is cool and pleasant even in mid summer weather and is almost without the use of blankets is almost unknown.

Mrs. Morton is one of the best known and most popular women of Athens. Her reputation is that of a splendid housekeeper. She has already spent some time at Mountain City planning and planting flower gardens around the Mountain City hotel to add to its attractiveness.

With the most delightful summer climate to be found anywhere in this part of the country, pure water from mountain streams, all the fresh vegetables the truck farm affords and chickens galore it would be difficult to imagine a more delightful place to spend the months of July and August.

I Can Make Your Fat Vanish by the Gallon!

I CONQUERED OBESITY PAST MIDDLE-AGE

I Ate Everything I Liked—Went Through No Exercise—Wore No Special Clothing—Took No Weakening Baths!

I Explain My Simple, Speedy Home Treatment to You—FREE!

I, Lucile Kimball, a married woman past middle-age, attacked by obesity for years, finally conquered the fat monster. Everything you ever tried, I tried. I went through exercises, rolled on the floor, cut down my food, gave up sweets, fats and starches, wore elastic clothing, tried electricity, massage, osteopathy, vibration, hot and vapor baths, enallowed poilets, capsules and teas—gained as rapidly as I lost—until I was afraid that my Home Obesity Treatment might prove a porary I wasted months. My fat did not return, and I waited years, but my fat did not come back. Still, I postponed—I tried my Home Obesity Treatment on friends. They were equally benefited—men and women of all ages. And finally I decided to reduce the obesity of fat men and women all over the world.

You have figured fat by the pound. Your "methods" and "treatments" have attacked living tissues more than fat. What did you gain? Nothing! Your fat came back as fast as you stopped your exercise or diet. It did not go if you tried anything else. But my Home Treatment is not exercise or diet. I say diet in its broadest sense—not "starvation diet," not "exercise diet," but diet of any kind.

Eat any kind of meat, vegetables, salads, pastry, fish, fowl, nuts, candy that you want—when you want. Drink what you want when you want it. I don't interfere with your food or drink. No bending over, rolling, playing golf, horseback riding, doing exercises of any kind. Sit in your chair at home, or in your club or your office—and the fat will vanish from you by the pint, quart and gallon. It goes away rapidly. It melts from your cells. You feel better, stronger, more energetic, more confident, more self-reliant. You never heard of anything of the kind before in your life. Everybody says, "How wonderful!" It is marvelous beyond description, and it is absolutely harmless. It is so simple, you need devote only three or four minutes each twenty-four hours to its use.

NATIONAL CONGRESS OF MOTHERS AND PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS GEORGIA BRANCH

WIDE OBSERVANCE OF MOTHERS' DAY

Now Generally Celebrated in All Parts of the Country.

Today, the first Sunday in May, is Mothers' day, and while its celebration did not originate with the Mothers' congress, it is appropriate that a few lines in explanation of the custom should appear in this department. A few years ago it occurred to a Philadelphia woman that among all the holidays, fete days and other special days set aside to honor great men and women, saints, celebrated events, etc., no time had ever been set aside to honor mothers. It seemed proper to her that one day in the year should be set aside when men should think of their mothers, no matter where they were nor what they were doing; that there should be some public recognition of motherhood.

The idea was given publicity until now it has become a national custom, and on the first Sunday in May every year you will see men wearing white carnations in their buttonholes, and from the pulpits the clergy will make appropriate remarks on the beautiful sentiment behind this custom of observing a mother's day. Every man is supposed to visit his mother on this day or communicate with her in some way. And if she has passed to the great beyond, flowers are taken to deck her grave. It is purely a sentimental custom to honor motherhood.

GOOD REPORTS RECEIVED FROM VARIOUS CLUBS

Mrs. R. L. Bivens, president of the Parent-Teacher Association of America, has sent this department a most encouraging account of the work done in America by her club since its organization by Miss Mary Collins in March.

She writes as follows: "Miss Collins was with us in March and through her efforts the American branch of the Parent-Teacher association was organized with a large and representative membership. Within two weeks from our organization there was held a bond election for the erection of some new school buildings. Our bond of education had asked for $35,000.

"We are now holding a meeting to appoint a committee to investigate and report on the condition of the present school buildings, and the need of other buildings as well. We called a special meeting, passed resolutions asking the voters to come to the aid of the children, and published our proceedings in the local paper. On the day of the election, the superintendent marched the school children, about 1,000 strong, through the streets, with banners bearing suitable mottoes. Great interest was awakened and the election carried almost unanimously. Superintendent J. E. Mathis, who is heartily in sympathy with us in our organization, and that of his teachers as well. We are already a strong organization and hope to be the largest club in the city. Surely nothing should call forth greater endeavor or cause more widespread interest than the welfare of our children."

Augusta.
The Parent-Teacher clubs of Augusta and Richmond county, are doing splendid work. Through the efforts of the central council, of August, the clubs are raising money for supervised play. They have never had playgrounds, and the idea is to fit up the school yards as playgrounds and to have a trained supervisor in charge of the playground system as soon as it can be organized. Mrs. S. B. Owen is chairman of the central council and Miss Ethel Park is secretary.

Picture Books For Little Tots

This department announced several weeks ago that it would publish from time to time a list of picture and other books suitable for children of all ages. Mrs. Edith Lyman Scott, the well-known children's librarian, and one of the most noted story tellers in this country, agreed to furnish these lists, the first of which is given this morning.

The list today includes only picture books appropriate for children who are too young to be read to, with a few descriptive lines to give the parents some idea of each book. It is as follows: "Clean Peter and the Children of Grubbyton," by O. Adelborg. A charming picture book with rhymes setting forth some of the making of the "Goops" and "Slovenly Peter" with more delicate drawings. "Baby Days," published by Century. A book of poems, stories and pictures taken from the life of St. Nicholas. It serves as a delightful picture book, as well as a story book for little children. "Golden Goose Book," by L. L. Brooks. Part I. "Three Little Pigs and Tom Thumb." Part II. "Golden Goose and Three Bears." The most artistic and entirely satisfactory illustration of these old fables from the standpoint of both child and adult. The designs are full of imagination and suggestion, the drawings are simple and clear, and the color beautiful. Mr. Brooks, with the true artist's ability, has made the pictures tell the story independently of the text, which is itself handled with much imagination. "Johnny Crow's Garden," published which has already started on a broad work, that of getting up a library for the school. This school is one of the most active district schools in the state.

Macon.
Mrs. James T. Wright has just been appointed chairman of the Central council of the Parent-Teacher association, of Macon, and will enter upon her duties this month. Since the organization of the council, the work has been in charge of Miss Florence Berni, who, with the assistance of her able co-workers, has made the Macon organization one of the strongest in the state. There are already ten Parent-Teacher clubs in Macon, and two new ones in the Macon district have just been organized—one at Culey and one at Newburg. Another is under consideration at Belleue.

An interesting course of lectures has been given by prominent physicians of Macon for the clubs, the subjects being as follows:
Feeding of Infants.
Feeding of School Children.
Clothing of Children.
Sanitation in the Home.
Diseases of the Eye and Throat.
Preventable Diseases.
Subjects discussed by the members of the clubs have been: Home Amusements, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, Moral Education of Children, Rewards and Punishments.

Brunswick.

Miss Mary Collins, state organizer of the Parent-Teacher clubs, spent the first part of last week in Brunswick, where she organized all of the schools. Later she visited the Parent-Teacher club, of Thomsville, which was organized in January with sixty members. This club was active in helping out through a bond issue for a new school building, the site of which has already been secured. The work of the club for the summer will be in beautifying this site so that it will present an attractive appearance by the time the school building is completed. Miss Collins has suggested to all of the clubs that she has organized that they issue to their members a graded book list for children six weeks before Christmas, in order that the mothers may have helpful and proper lists from which to make their selections in buying books for Christmas presents.

SUGGESTS WORK FOR PARENT-TEACHER CLUBS

Mrs. A. E. Keenan, principal of the Virgil Powers school, of Macon, has suggested a work for the parent-teacher clubs which the Macon clubs have already acted upon and which will eventually prove of great value to the state.

There is a large percentage of children of the school age who do not attend school, and Mrs. Keenan's plan is that all such cases shall be investigated by the parent-teacher clubs, each club taking up the cases in its own district. Committees are to be appointed to locate the children who have never been enrolled or who do not attend school and the reason for their non-attendance investigated. When poverty is the cause—lack of the proper clothing, inability to buy books or other school supplies, etc.—the clubs are to supply the necessary funds so that the children may attend school. The great possibilities of this work are apparent and it is recommended that all parent-teacher clubs for their consideration.

by Warne. An old nursery rhyme with pictures in color of the lion with his green and yellow tie on; the crane caught in the rain and other humorous situations. "Johnny Crow's Party." A picture book with illustrations by a real artist. "The Hey-diddle-diddle picture book" by R. Caldwell. Contents: "Where Are You Going, My Pretty Maid?" "Hey, Diddle-diddle and Baby Bunting." "A Frog He Would A-Wooling Go." "The Fox Jumps Over the Parson's Gate." One of the greatest English illustrators has pictured these old nursery favorites. The illustrations are in color, full of dramatic action, humor and appreciation of the child's point of view. "The Fairyland Picture Book." Contents: "Come, Lassies and Lads," "Ride a Cock Horse to Bamby Cross," "A Farmer Went Trotting Upon His Gray Mare," "Mrs. Mary Blaise," "The Great Fairyland Himself." "Mother Goose and Her Picture Book," by W. Crane. Contents: "Mother Hubbard," "The Three Bears," "The Absurd A. B. C." A very charming book with unusually fine color and a satisfying illustration for the dignity of these favorites. "This Little Pig, His Picture Book." Contents: "This Little Pig," "The Fairy Ship," "King Luckisboy." It should be known to every child. "Journey Book," by D. C. Falls. A picture book for little children. "Book of Cheerful Cats," by J. G. Francis. One of the most delightful humorous picture books. Illustrations are fine drawings and appeared in early numbers of St. Nicholas. Will interest older children even more than the younger.

ATLANTA TO HAVE MOVIE PICTURE PLANT; SCENES OF FILMS MADE OPERA WEEK

Al Bartlett, Atlanta's Moving Picture Man, Is Fast Making This City Famous in Out-of-the-Way Places Where It Was Scarcely Heard of Before---How the Movies Are Made.

Atlanta Is Strategic Point.

"Atlanta is today the most strategic point south of New York in the moving picture business, and is destined to be more so in the years to come.

"On the face of it, that is not a very startling statement. But a glance below the surface will show that it is fraught with considerable significance.

"Atlanta is, and always will be, the logical distributing center for moving picture supplies in southern territory, which same advantage applies to practically every other line of business.

"Atlanta is the center of the biggest happenings in the southern states, which, in view of the sweeping increase in the demand of the public for news films, means that every film-producing company of any note in the world will have to maintain a branch here.

"Any news event in the southern states can be reached quicker from Atlanta than any other central point, which is an important essential.

"Atlanta is the south's commercial center. The growth of the commercial film business in the last two years presages an unlimited horizon.

"These are reasons why every film-producing concern in the country will establish studios in Atlanta in the next five years. And that is the reason why the biggest moving picture supply houses in the country will have to open branches here. And both of these are reasons why the moving picture business is going to mean millions of dollars to Atlanta.

"And last, but, believe me sincerely when I say not least, all of these are reasons why I am in the moving picture business in Atlanta and why I am going to put 'Made in Atlanta' on every film I turn out to be flashed on the screens of moving picture theaters the country over."

—AL BARTLETT.

By Ned McIntosh.

All last week there was a man going around town with a mysterious looking box and a tripod. Every once in a while he would set his tripod down on a corner, squint into the box and turn a crank on the side of it a little bit. Then he would disappear, but presently you would find him on another corner squinting again and industriously turning his crank and suddenly—presto! He is gone again!

Did you see him? And do you know who he was?

This man of mystery is Al Bartlett, Atlanta's "movie" man, and if he happened to have his camera pointing at you while he was turning his crank you are pretty apt to see yourself the center of attraction in a Peachtree or Whitehall street "movie" show before long!

For that's Mr. Bartlett's business—making Atlanta pictures for Atlanta people, and, incidentally, for the beautiful portions of the world also.

If Mr. Bartlett got your picture this week, though, you should not hold it against him for you may rest assured it was in nowise intentional—unless, perchance, you happen to be a grand opera star. For Mr. Bartlett was out for big game only last week.

Goes to All Events.

Besides being the president of his own company—the Bartlett Film and Transparency company, which he has just organized here—Mr. Bartlett is the Atlanta correspondent for the Mutual Weekly, whose films of news events are seen by thousands of people every week in Atlanta. Mr. Bartlett does not confine himself to purely Atlanta happenings, but extends his activities all over the southern states. Through the Associated Press, The Constitution's news service and also the most gigantic news service in the world, Mr. Bartlett's New York headquarters are notified of every event, accident and disaster of importance in the world, and the Mutual Weekly camera men are assigned by telegram and cable to get the pictures, just as newspaper correspondents are sent out to get the story.

Whenever anything happens in the southern states that is of interest to the world, Al Bartlett is about the first man to hear of it and he will have one of his men on the next train out of the city. At present Mr. Bartlett has one of his operators making flood pictures in Mississippi. Soon he will go to Augusta to make pictures of the unveiling of the Southern Authors' monument. And, whenever anything happens in Atlanta, you will be mighty apt to find Mr. Bartlett himself cranking away, alongside a Constitution reporter.

The films which Mr. Bartlett made of Curuso, Borl, Scott and the other grand opera stars have already been sent to New York city for development, and will be back in Atlanta to ment, and will be back in Atlanta in a day or two.

It is not for long, though, that Mr. Bartlett will be put to the necessity of sending local films all the way to New York before they can be shown here. For he is now installing in Atlanta one of the finest developing plants in the country, which means that it will not be long until you can see Atlanta happenings at the "movies" on the very next day after the event itself.

Now that calls for more talk of an interesting sort. With the installation of his developing plant, Mr. Bartlett is planning to do in Atlanta something that is done only in such cities as New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Every few days he will get out a film of familiar sights and amusing incidents along Whitehall and Peachtree streets in addition to his local news features and he has already closed a contract with a local theater to have the pictures shown.

On all his Atlanta made films, Mr. Bartlett will have the name of his firm and his slogan, "Made in Atlanta."

Is Old at the Game.

Mr. Bartlett is an old hand in the moving picture game. He got into the business back in the early days when the great fight was on in Chicago between the Essanay and the Selig people, both of whom had their headquarters there at the time. Since that time, in war and peace, he has seen it through and incidentally he has fought his own battles, too.

You may not know Mr. Bartlett, but if you are a "movie" or vaudeville fan in good standing you have undoubtedly seen him on the screen or stage many times.

"How did I happen to break into the 'movie' game," said Mr. Bartlett in response to a question. "Oh, I was just a ham" actor loafing around Chicago and tried it as an experiment. I have always been willing to try anything once, and much to my surprise I liked the 'movies' and stayed with 'em.

"It was about the time that the Selig, Essanay and Biograph people the pioneers in the game, had gotten well under way. I was laying off in Chicago, and a friend of mine who knew the Selig people suggested that I try a shot at the 'movies.'

"But I said, 'Nope, vaudeville's good enough for me.'

"I didn't know what the 'movies' were coming to then, or I would have jumped at the chance. My friend insisted, though, so one day I dropped around to Peck court, where Selig's place was located, with him, just to look 'em over.

"W. C. Boggs, who was later shot down by a crazy Jap in Frisco—the same Jap who wounded Selig at the same time—was Selig's producer then. Boggs showed me around, and I began to prick up my ears.

"The upshot of it all was that on that very afternoon Boggs and myself came to an understanding and I took a try-out. A friend of mine was playing leading comedian for Boggs at that time, so I felt pretty much at home from the start.

"The very first chance I got in a scenario, I realized for the first time what a versatile sort of a chap a moving picture actor has to be. Boggs hit me in my own gait the first crack out of the gun, though.

"The first question he asked me

was, "Can you ride a horse?"

"Well, I was raised in the circus business. My father used to have a circuit down through here—the old Cooper circus. Maybe you remember it. And so, a saddle was like a cradle to me.

"When he asked me that question I said, 'Yes, a little bit.'

"Boggs took me down to the dressing rooms, in the basement of the little place where we were working, and rigged me out in cowboy's traps.

"My moving picture debut was made in a blood and thunder western drama, 'A Prairie Town Romance.'

"I didn't know it at the time, though, because those were strenuous days in the moving picture business.

"Selig and Essanay were at each other's throats all the time and neither lost an opportunity to get at the other. Biograph was about the only other concern of any note then, but they didn't have an office in Chicago, so they did not figure very prominently in the scrap.

Never Learned Parts.

"The result of the strained relationship between the two companies was that not a player in Selig's company knew what he was acting whenever a picture was produced. The director simply 'dressed you up' and put you out in the arena and told you what to do.

"The reason for such secrecy was to keep the Essanay crowd from knowing what we were producing through any leak in the actors. If they ever found out the story of one of our headlines they were liable to try to beat us to it by producing it first.

"That was in the old days, though. Today each player is furnished with a brief outline of the scenario which is being produced and is allowed time to study his part. That's a great help and it is making moving picture acting into an art.

"Piracy or 'duping,' both of which terms in the 'movie' parlance mean stealing and duplicating a film, has been largely eliminated by the use of copyrights and trademarks on each frame of a film, by which a 'duper' may be instantly identified.

"That's getting away from the tale of my career, though," continued Mr. Bartlett, with a laugh.

"It happened that the time I went with Selig the first troupe of real cowboys was introduced in the moving picture field. The trouble had been a scarcity of leading men who could ride a horse. So Boggs brought Fred Burns and his cowboys over from Riverside park. They had already been with Buffalo Bill for a season or so and were past anything like stage fright.

"Right here, by the way, is where my horsemanship played me a good turn. I had been slated as leading man, but Fred's boys had that job on ice for Fred.

"That's why, when I walked into the arena that day, the first thing I saw was a strapping big cowboy trying to ride a bucking broncho. Strangely enough, on the face of this thing, it so happened that right before my eyes the broncho sent the big cowboy over his head to the dust.

"I forgot the incident until my horse was led out later and discovered that the bucking broncho was picked for me. I saw the ruse at once and took a two-mile turn down the road before I went before the machine. By that time the broncho and I were the best of pals, and as a consequence so were Fred and his boys and myself.

Got No Local Color.

"A lot of things happened back there at Selig's old studio that seem funny as I look back on them now.

"For instance, there was no traveling about over the country in those days to get local color. Whenever mountains were needed there was an old brickyard back of Selig's place which had some of the finest cliff and mountain scenery in it I ever saw. The hills and valleys of that old brickyard in their day have been everything from the Alps, beyond which lay Italy, to the Rockies, where the bold highwayman held up the stagecoach.

"We always make each scene twice, you know, so that we would be sure to get a good film. I remember the first time I ever put on my old circus trick of picking up a woman from the ground on the back of a horse at a dead run. The villain was pursuing me with a vengeance and the heroine was fainting in the midst of the desert when I came dashing by and grabbed her from the ground. It happened that the heroine was in real life the wife of the villain, and after the first run of the scene was made the villain flatly refused to pursue again because he was afraid I might drop his spouse. He finally quit the company as a result.

"Those are days of the past, though. There is hardly a 'movie' actor in the business today who has not risked his neck a thousand times in the production of films. It has become a part of the business of the 'movie' actor to do dare-devil tricks on horseback, risk his life on the crags of real mountains, swim from real wrecked boats to real icebergs, and a thousand other such thrilling feats as are seen daily in the picture houses of Atlanta.

After a few years with Selig Mr. Bartlett made his first business venture in the production end of the "game." This virtually ended the war between Selig and Essanay, and these two combined with the Biograph to fight the Bartlett outfit, with the result that Mr. Bartlett was found a year later doing his turn in vaudeville again.

This was not for long, however. He soon went back to the "movies" as an operator, making pictures of Isira and big gatherings for Burke and Smith. While with them he made the first motion picture ever taken of Hoxey, the aviator who was later killed, in flight.

"It was not until 1910 that the moving picture business really began to develop to anything like the proportions it assumes today," said Mr. Bartlett. "In 1908 and 1909, there was

At the top is a sketch made by Henderson from the last photograph taken of little Mary Phagan, the 14-year-old girl of tragedy. Below is a photograph of her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, and her sister, Miss Ollie Phagan. The other picture was taken at the funeral.

Could you walk for hours in the heart of Atlanta without seeing a person you know? What did Atlanta detectives do to keep murderer from "planting" evidence against suspects? Are all the men who have been held as suspects marked men for the rest of their lives as the result of a caprice of circumstance?

This is not the story of Mary Phagan. It is a story about the story of Mary Phagan.

All of the story of little Mary Phagan that can be learned has been told simply, and without further sensation than the facts themselves afforded in the columns of The Atlanta Constitution from the time of this paper's exclusive story of the gruesome discovery of the girl's body last Sunday morning. It is, therefore, not for this story to shed light on the case, but merely to point out and discuss a few of the extraordinary phases of the most extraordinary case that has ever shocked a city.

The story of the death of Mary Phagan is the most improbable chain of events that has ever occurred within the lifetime of Atlanta. And these events have gripped and stirred the people of Atlanta as nothing that has ever happened before.

Aside from the mystery which shrouded the slayer of the girl, the thing which has held the sympathies of a whole city, as if Mary Phagan were the daughter of each person, is the factory were allowed to enter the building.

As a matter of fact what detective was watching Leo M. Frank's home to see that no one entered it and stole a monogram handkerchief, say, stained it with blood and placed it in the basement of the building, where the girl's body was found? What did the detectives do to keep the real murderers from planting evidence against those under suspicion?

And, do you think it was possible for the letter which purported to have been dropped by Mary Phagan on the street car in which she came into the city Saturday at noon to have lain undiscovered in that street car until Wednesday when it was first discovered—four days after she was last on the car?

Who Planted The Evidence?

Is there in your mind, reader, a question as to whether there was someone at large who was very, very busy while Newt Lee, Leo Frank, Arthur Mullnax and J. M. Gantt languished in jail?

Again—the mystery! Who had been "planting" the evidence?

And why? And what about Newt Lee, Frank, Mullnax and Gantt? Are these marked men for the remainder of their lives? Will they go through life the youth and innocence of the little girl. She was just a little girl. When that has been said about Mary Phagan, all has been said. All testimony that has been brought out shows that she was all in simplicity, guilelessness and purity that is implied in that simple statement.

There have been other cases—recent cases—which have interested the public and appealed more or less to their sympathies, but the principals in the cases were as different as the world is wide. In the other cases there was maturity and experience, worldly wisdom and pasts that came home to roost. In all the interest and sympathy there was a subcurrent that ran chill and repellent. In past cases, could all the tears blot out one word of the sordid tales of illicit loves and intrigues? Could the "leopard skins" change their spots? No, Lady Macbeth, No Spotted Hand.

But in the story of Mary Phagan there were no words or sentences through which she or any one would have cared to have traced a killing line. There were no stains from a spotted past to shriek their shame to the world. There was no Lady Macbeth in the past of Mary Phagan to wander through the halls of her conscience and scrub with frenzy at the tiniest speck of wrongdoing upon her white hands!

Mary Phagan's life was one of such beauty and purity that when the world knew of her her memory instantly became the fondled child in the heart of every parent and the playmate of every little girl in the city.

There was also the impenetrable mystery of it all. The haunting of a score of horrible secrets that persecuted and compelled the mind to more than mere idle curiosity.

It seems utterly beyond the bounds of reason that a person with a thousand friends could in the twinkling of an eye drop from the face of the earth—vanish into thin air in the heart of a city of 200,000 souls!

A Life Vanishes into Air.

Yet from the moment that a street car motorman saw little Mary Phagan walking down Hunter street toward the National Pencil factory at noon Memorial day there was nothing to indicate that of all the hosts of friends who knew her a single one ever laid eyes on her with the blood of life in her veins. There came those—scores of them—who said, "I saw Mary Phagan here at such and such a time," and, "I saw the girl at the other place at this hour," but never a man of them all in the final test could prove that "it was Mary Phagan whom I saw!" Do you think that you, who are reading this, could walk on any street in the heart of the city under the light of the sun for any considerable length of time—for as much as an hour—without meeting and speaking to some friend or acquaintance? Yet this marvel apparently happened in the heart of Atlanta! It was as if you yourself had watched Mary

Phagan when she stepped off the car and walked for half a block down Hunter street, and then maybe you unconsciously blinked your eyes for the minutest fraction of a second, and when you opened them again—Mary Phagan was not there! It was as if some invisible master of the black art had whispered a magic word, and—Presto! In the act of taking a step

Mary Phagan was gone—as utterly vanished as the snows of yesteryear! Notes Written By a Light.

That they were written by a light is beyond all question. Each line of the notes follows accurately the ruling of the paper upon which they were written. Could this have been accomplished in the darkness of the remote corner where her body was found? Where then could they have been written?

One note says, "He pushed down this hole." At the bottom of "this hole" is the only light in the basement—a single sickly gas jet.

Two days after Newt Lee was arrested a bloody shirt was found at his home. Why did the detectives wait two days after Newt Lee was arrested before they searched his home for evidence? And who was watching his home in the meantime to see that evidence was not "planted"?

Three days after the murder the register of the watchman's time clock showed three discrepancies of an hour each. Possibly the clock was registered correctly Sunday. Who was watching to see that it was not changed?

Others were in the building on Monday besides employees. The factory was operated on Tuesday and Wednesday. Others not connected with always with a finger pointing at them and some one saying "There is the man who was mixed up in that murder?" Are they victims of circumstance? Has a caprice of chance placed a brand upon them for life?

At this minute I glance out my window. Out of the darkness looms the building of the National Pencil company, and from a window in the top story shines dimly one wee little light. Except for this there is nothing but darkness, gloom, great haunting shadows and mystery.

This scene seems, somehow, to typify for me the case of Mary Phagan, and that one tiny light is little Mary herself—the only bright spot in the whole horrible story!

IMPOSING UPON MR. BRISBANE.

Arthur Brisbane is the most powerful writer on the staff of the Hearst publications. But like all human beings he is fallible. Like all human beings he is most easily misled from the side of his emotions.

Mr. Brisbane charges, in brief, that so callous and barbarous are the mill-owners of Georgia that they will not let off their employees in the daytime to attend the funerals of friends; hence the burials must be postponed until night.

Fortunately the Atlanta end of Mr. Hearst's interesting aggregation saw that Mr. Brisbane had been imposed upon and hence did not use in Georgia the feature that had been given unfortunate publication by the other newspapers of the circuit, and patrons of the service.

THE GRADY NURSES'S HOME.

Next week eight nurses will graduate from the training school of Grady hospital. Heretofore the graduating class has run from fifteen to eighteen members.

and encroached upon the quarters that have been used for the nurses. The situation is a penalty of growing pains, but it should be remedied if the hospital is to discharge one of its important functions, that of training nurses.

Some time ago council put $25,000 at the disposal of the trustees for the erection of the nurses' home. The trustees have for several months been investigating to find just what can be done with this amount.

The feasible plan is for council to authorize the trustees either to hold the $25,000 until next year, when another $25,000 may be forthcoming, or to use it, as far as can be, toward a substantial, permanent structure that may be completed with the next appropriation.

To put up a nurses' home for $25,000 will be sheer extravagance, for it cannot last nor can it serve its purpose.

Council should at once take action accordingly.

YALE TRAILS COLONEL "BOB."

Believing in the blithe sartorial creed of Colonel "Bob" Lowry, of Atlanta, inventor of the "Lowry red," the seniors of Yale university now appear on the campus in knickerbockers of every hue, and the popularity with which the change has been received gives rise to the rumor of a national revival of the masculine hose-and-doublet styles of our forefathers.

Why not? If life is made joyous and the eye gladdened by the variegated and colorful attire of the ladies, why not heighten that effect by applying the scheme of Balkan brilliancy to the men? Consider the added eclat of the streets, the offices, our public and social functions if the men appeared in the delicate or passionate hues of the colonial period, stalking abroad in violet hose, Bulgarian coats, cerise doublets and cocked hats.

Picture to yourself some of our leading citizens thus gladly arrayed. Visualize all mankind transformed into a moving, breathing, sentient flower garden, all the romance of the day of ruffles and knee-smalls revived in the age of iron and steel.

WHILE WE STARVE OURS!

An addition of $2,000,000 to its endowment fund is just announced by the Northwestern university at Chicago. Certainly. Reports of this nature from northern, eastern and western educational institutions are commonplace.

duce dividends that are actually incalculable.

Does rich and growing Georgia subscribe to an educational theory of exactly the opposite nature? While our neighbors to the north, east and west are taxing their resources to equip the men and women of tomorrow we are trading sadly behind. We are pursuing a policy of literary starvation toward our educational institutions.

This miserable parsimony is neither necessary nor justified. Georgia is the wealthiest state in the southeast. In its one asset of the Western and Atlantic railroad alone, owned in fee simple, the state has a credit of from seven to ten millions of dollars over and above every dollar it owes, bonded indebtedness and otherwise.

There is not a state in the south, and few, if any, in the union, which can make as good a showing. Nevertheless, Georgia is literally starving and squeezing its educational institutions. In the midst of plenty we are threatening our boys and girls with educational poverty.

It is time for the state to wake up! And if it does not do so, and keep step with the quickening touch of educational progress the world over, it will pay the penalty in no uncertain terms!

REGRADING OF WHITEHALL.

Anyone who disbelieves in the wisdom of the city's authorization of the regrading of Whitehall street along the lines of the survey of Commissioner Clayton should study the work already done on Ivy street, and, if he is a reasonable man, it will remove all existing doubt.

No work ever done on any street in the city of Atlanta has produced such a wonderful improvement as the regrading of Ivy, which was sanctioned by the city only after long argument and against considerable protest from some property owners, whose holdings, they thought, would be adversely affected.

Exactly the same thing will be true of Whitehall, which is a most important link in the greatest highway of both city and county, for in connection with Peachtree street, it makes the great thoroughfare which reaches for more than twenty-five miles from the northern to the southern limits of the county, passing through the very heart of the city.

The county commissioners have very wisely committed the board to the labor necessary to regrade the street, if the work is sanctioned by the city, and it will be an exceedingly short-sighted policy on the part of the city if favorable action is not taken by council on an enterprise which means so much to the whole city and which specifically means more to the south side of the city than any improvement which has ever been undertaken.

The Constitution will be very much disappointed if council does not meet the expectation of the public in this very important movement.

THE AUTO VACATION.

The action of Secretary of the Interior Lane in rescinding the order that formerly barred automobiles from Yosemite National park emphasizes the development of the auto as a vacation resource of the American people. Secretary Lane declares that the ban against the auto is archaic and about as reasonable as the original opposition of the sailor to steam.

Today cars penetrate every part of the country. The new field is not pre-empted by any class of Americans, since the automobile is essentially democratic. The pleasures of the road are open equally to the powerful and expensive cars of the rich men and the smaller and sturdy cars of the man in moderate circumstances.

The vacation activities of the automobile are now and will be increasingly in the future a powerful factor in securing federal aid in highway construction, improvement and maintenance.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

"Rock of Ages" I. One who was singing sweetly of forgotten years. With the old hymn—"Rock of Ages"—touched all our hearts to tears.

Visions of old came to us that made each heart to sigh. And gave us back the old times when God was in the sky.

That old hymn, "Rock of Ages!" When the storm-winds 'round us sing. What solace to the wave-worn soul still to that rock to cling!

Sweet be that hymn forever in every human heart. When sorrow's at life's fireside and dreamed-of joys depart.

Still may that music make the soul to higher realms take wing. Until God lights his latest stars and makes the Morning star.

Song of the Trusts.

I know that now I've got there—I'm sure in Trouble Town, for the fellows now in office are bringing the tariff down!

Still in a dream we linger in a shadow and in gleam. But the Light of Love is 'round us, and thank God for a dream!

Some folks spend more time traveling 'n' to Tribulation than what they does goin' on do road to Joy.

It's a big worry to get to de end of life, but you better live so that you'll find a cool shade tree whar de road ends.

No telling of a pathway to reach the realms above: God will not be unkind to us if we go Home with Love.

Two Sinners.

There was a man, it was said one time, Who went astray in his youthful prime, Can the brain keep cool and the heart keep quiet.

And the world stroved, their pathway with blossoms abloom, Crying, "God bless lady, and God bless broom!"

There was a maiden who went astray In the golden dawn of her life's young day, She had more passion and heart than head, And she followed blindly where fond Love led.

For this is the law of the earth, we know; That the woman is stoned, while the man may go. A brave man wedded her after all, But the world said, frowning, "We shall not call."

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Gossip Caught in Corridors Of the National Capitol

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 3.—(Special).—Further anti-trust legislation is to mark the early days of the new administration. Tariff revision is a step in the direction of crushing the big trusts, but other remedial measures are to follow after tariff and currency revision are out of the way.

First—An interstate trade commission having powers somewhat similar to the interstate commerce commission. Second—A price fixing commission which would permit regulated monopoly if the prices of commodities did not exceed the maximum figure.

Third—A law requiring a uniform price at the factories, the selling price to be the factory price plus the transportation charges, thus preventing price-cutting wars.

Where government prosecution of alleged trusts ceases to be wise regulation of monopoly and becomes a persecution of big business because of its size is a problem that has troubled the lawmakers.

Both parties have denounced monopolies, and in their platforms pledged themselves to kill the octopus. For the past dozen years administrations have vied with each other in seeing which could show the larger record of prosecutions begun and carried forward.

President Taft's administration pointed with pride to the fact that under it more civil and criminal suits had been undertaken than under any former administration.

There is no such word in the law as "unreasonable," say the trust-busters in congress. Any other interpretation would vitiate the whole law as unconstitutional, says the opinion of the supreme court.

In order to proceed with caution, the democrats in the Sixty-second congress voted an appropriation of $25,000 to be used by the house judiciary committee in an investigation of trusts, with the object of proposing remedial legislation.

Only a small part of this appropriation has been used. The committee has collected some very valuable data, but was prevented from prosecuting their inquiry further during the last session because of the time consumed in the Archbald impeachment case.

The democratic party must make a good record on the trust question following the series of investigations conducted by special committees of the house and senate of the Sixty-second congress.

The judiciary committee's work may be expected to produce something tangible. The Stanley investigation proceeded in most part a national election and was most less political because of the issue raised by the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the United States Steel corporation.

There are a perfect avalanche of bills aimed at the trusts, designed by their ambitious authors to eradicate all the true evils the country is heir to. The provisions of these will be carefully analyzed in conjunction with a thorough probe into the practices of the alleged monopolies.

Former Attorney General Wickersham believed that a brief enactment with these simple provisions would solve the trust problem. Such a law would make "holding companies" impossible, and by making it apply to existing corporations at the expiration of a specified time, it would terminate pending dissolution suits and put a stop to litigation against the so-called trusts in which the government has not always come out the victor.

It would also, it is claimed, do away with the necessity of the United States supreme court having to construe whether or not a corporation was engaged in "unreasonable" restraint of trade.

As a matter of some comment that Attorney General McReynolds so far has not shown a disposition to bring suits against certain concerns which have been under observation and investigation by the department of justice for some time, nor has he been very active in the prosecution of suits pending at the time he went into office.

The funeral, diverging from the general custom, was held on Monday night at the residence. The reason for the services being held at that time was the fact that she had a large number of friends who work in the mills and who wanted to attend the funeral.

What the historian wants is an accurate picture of conditions as they were. And this is an actual picture of conditions as they are in this country.

Run your mills early and late; take women and children and grind them up in your mills. Work them into consumption so that they die at 24.

BOY SCOUTS GLAD OF SPRING WEATHER

William Ellis Writes Interestingly of Hikes in Woods by the Scouts.

For many a day the restless Boy Scout has sat in his schoolroom or at home looking wistfully out of the window at the whistling winds, the bitter frost or the blinding snows. The forest is lifeless, the trees are bare and the world as a whole is dead. At last, through long days of such weather, the sun shines with its full splendor, the trees put forth their fresh green leaves, the water in the wash hole gets warm, the birds and animals come forth from their winter homes and the boy, with a heart full of serene joy, finds himself completely overwhelmed with the splendor of the season.

Now he is building a new rock dam for his swimming hole or floating down the warm creek in his dugout or canoe or destroying a nest of hornets or some other kinds of pests which are preying on the old peach tree or making their home in the henery. All of these things are filling his mind with unspeakable delight while his body is becoming strong and active. He is eager to awake early in the morning to take a swim before breakfast, to pick ripe berries or to look at his trap that he set near the old poplar tree.

This season of the year is the best time in the world for overnight hikes, tramps and joyful days in the inviting woods.

One Thursday afternoon three scouts from troop I took a week-end hike to their cabin near Buckhead. These boys have done this several times this year and have had much practice in the cooking line. There are many scouts in the troop that can cook good biscuits, battercakes and many other wholesome things. They enjoyed themselves in the heart of nature with all its glory and helped their bodies both mentally and physically.

PENNY LUNCHES PROVE TO BE VERY POPULAR

All Schools Want Them, and May Get Them Next Year.

The penny lunches served in the Inman Park school have proven such a success that all the schools in the city are clamoring for them. The Teachers-Parents' association is getting very busy and will do everything possible to have the penny lunches served in all the schools next term.

Members of the chamber of commerce have interested themselves in the matter. The board of lady visitors to the schools are heartily in favor of the system. Prominent city officials say the lunches should be served.

So it only remains for the mayor and general council next year to appropriate about $2,500 which will be sufficient to defray the expense of serving penny lunches in all the schools.

LETTERS FROM SCHOOLS.

Lee Street School.
We are all very proud of all the boys that took part in the Memorial day parade. Those who sacrificed their own time to honor the brave soldiers and to represent their school were: William Jordan, captain; Horace Loomis, first lieutenant; Morris Baggett, second lieutenant; Howard Watkins, third lieutenant; Jim Hood, fourth lieutenant; Luther Bennett, Edward DeLoach, William Kerlin, Bonnie DeLoach, Branson Stevenson, Hugh Woodall, Eddie Smith, Walter Pitchford, Robert Wells, Marlon Wilson, Raymond Woodall, James Wilkinson, Joe Taylor, J. D. Thomas, Quincy Jennings, John Tyson, W. H. Poole, Wilverly Wilson, Marlon Ramsay, Jeffrey Hope, Tom Johnson, Henry Ellis, Guy Crusselle, John McCollum, Harold Warner, Carl Duncan, Walter Dawson, Edmund Floyd, Douglas McGhee, Ott Jenkins, Sammy Jenkins, Roy Elliott, Henry Martin, Earl Perrin, Merriman Cross, Irving Albright, Ralph Mills, Edwin Batten, Edwin Pound, Frank Caldwell, Billie Woodfin, Raymond Jordan, Albert Calloway, Hartman Boone, Brook Lowry, Max Reckholder, Robert Collins, Howard Ferrin, Morris Caldwell, Carl Greene and Montgomery Becknell. We thank Superintendent Slaton for his praise of our share in the parade.

In my letter last week there was a mistake, Virginia Collier instead of getting twenty pledges signed succeeded in gaining the high number of 210. Our fifth grade is very proud to be one of the few fifth grades in the city to take part in the flag drill which is to be held at Ponce de Leon park, and they are practicing very hard. They do their drill so well that Miss Zuber has complimented them very highly.

The girls of the fifth grade are planning to hold an interesting debate on Friday. The subject is, "Resolved, That electricity is more useful than steam." The girls who are going to take part in the debate are: Genevieve Harper, Charlotte Dew, Minnie Calhoun, Francis Alman, Marie Roberts and Marguerite Eberhart.

HAROLD JORDAN.

Ira Street School.
The children of our school were overjoyed when the news came that Ruth Wilson, of the seventh grade, won the prize for the best composition on "The Gallant John E. Gordon." Last week the children of the eighth grade went on a walk in the woods beyond West End park. Miss Wood seemed anxious to know what we saw and what kind of a time we had, so she asked us to write a composition about it.

Miss Harrison visited our school last week and was pleased with the music giving in the eighth grade, excellent. Dr. Toepel came this week to drill the fourth and sixth grades in their exercises for Field day. He gave a good report.

Next week the seventh and eighth grades will debate on the subject, "Resolved, That England should not go through the Panama canal free." The seventh grade is on affirmative side and the eighth grade on the negative.

HERMAN MILLER.

Ashby Street School.
The fifth grade got the highest in attendance for last week. The little second grade boys were rewarded for the most stars on the yard; also nineteen children were rewarded for the neatest copy books.

Herbert Manning, Emmett McClenon, Louise Spivey and Roy Sturgis were neither absent nor tardy last month. Roy Sturgis has neither absent nor tardy since Christmas. John Barker, of the deaf class, has come back after a long absence. Also little Elizabeth Baker is recovering after having a long stage of whooping cough.

Miss Milledge paid us a visit Monday. She gave the second, fourth and fifth grades a star for having excellent.

We worked very hard last week to get the prize for the most signatures on the Clean-Up day cards. Lula Mae Coley, of the fourth grade, got the greatest number signed.

BLANCHE LYLE.

Inman Park.
Well, Memorial day is a thing of the past for this year, and while we had but three platoons, each boy felt that the reputation of the school rested upon him, individually, and behaved his best.

We are glad that our boys were the first to reach the cemetery, as all the other schools, which were ahead of us, dropped out before reaching there. The boys who were in the parade more than appreciated the letter of thanks from Mr. Slaton, read to us by Mrs. Johnson.

The sixth grade children are practicing for the Field day exercises, and nearly know them now. The fifth grade children are also practicing for the exercises.

Harry Smith, a pupil of the sixth grade returned to school Monday after a serious accident to his eye. The sixth grade children were very glad to have him return.

At the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association last Friday, at this school, Dr. Claud Smith, the city bacteriologist, lectured on the diseases caused by the fly and mosquito. The fly charts, which have been placed in this school, are a good illustration.

A committee has been appointed to get up the closing day exercises. Three girls, Roberta Brown, Elizabeth Wilson and Laura Lee Pennington, compose this committee.

CARROLL VINING.

Formwalt Street School.
Our hearts swelled with pride on Saturday when we saw our boys pass by in the Memorial day parade. There were seventy strong, and under the leadership of our captain, William Morgan, and our lieutenants, Robert Smith, Willie Johnson, Dan Dozier, Ralph Wallace and Ernest Green, they marched like veterans. They were armed in all their glory, and with their purple and pink ties, breast pieces and hat bands, and to streamers flying, they made a splendid showing. Our color bearers, Jack Tye, Marshall Morgan and Edward Marrit, did their share toward making our representation a success. Last, but not least, we must give full credit to our drummer boys, Frank Ruskin, Hyman Cohen, Leonard Tutwiler, Philip Schoenbeck and Hugh Frater. If they had not furnished such splendid music, Formwalt could not have kept such steady step.

On Tuesday, Grant Park went down in defeat before our team to the tune of 14 to 2. The two home runs knocked by our manager, William Morgan, were among the events of the game. With only three more games to play and having won everyone so far, Formwalt feels sure of the south side championship.

We received a visit from Dr. Toepel Tuesday. He was delighted with the work of the sixth and fourth grades. Dr. Claude Smith lectured to us Tuesday on the subject of the "House Fly." This talk proved very interesting.

Mr. Sandrum also honored us with his presence on Monday. He made a very complimentary report to our principal.

On Friday night, April 26, Miss May Eardin entertained the Formwalt baseball team at her home in Inman Park. The Formwalt colors, purple and pink, were carried out in the beautiful decorations of the table, the gaily candies, the delicious cakes, with their chocolate FV the refreshing rose-tinted block cream, with FV most conspicuous, when cut. All this brought out the loyal colors of Formwalt. In the game of baseball, Hayes Hawkins was the fortunate winner of the coveted prize, a beautiful glove. Nellie Fouche won the lovely lace baudoir cap, which was most becoming.

CLARA WYATT.

Pryor Street School.

We have heard a good deal of talk about "penny lunches." Perhaps it would be a good thing for some districts, but as for us, we had rather have the good eating we get at home than any kind of bountiful lunch. The mothers know what agrees with their children better than anyone else, and if they buy "penny lunches" a doctor bill may cost the mothers more in the long run.

Our Walter Rich Improvement club met on Friday the 25th and we had a fine meeting. A lecture by Dr. Sage on "The Great White Plague, or Tuberculosis of the Lungs," was greatly enjoyed. He started the whole audience with a story about consumption's terrible damages; damages we had never dreamed consumption had caused.

Well, we made a fine showing in the parade. We had a fine drum corps and some excellent marching. We heard from several outside sources that our marching was better than that of any other public school.

The fourth grade is doing fine work in geography. The children are divided up into three classes—class A, class B, and class C. There are 18 children in A, 19 in B, and 10 in C, so we see that about four-fifths of the class are doing fine, and all are doing fairly well.

Although we have not mentioned our flowers for several weeks, they are still living and living heartily. The front walls are bordered with a beautiful hedge, while the beds in the yard are bordered with nasturtiums and pet's eye narcissi, and the windows are adorned with ferns, blossoming geraniums and several other varieties of beautiful flowers.

WILLIAM STEELE, JR.

Peoples Street School.
The fifth and sixth grade boys feel quite honored to know that they are to be the stars in the American flag field day. After the exercises there is going to be a flag formed by the children in the fifth and sixth grades of all the schools. The girls will wear caps and capes of the colors of the flag, and the boys will be in a blue square, each holding a large white star above his head.

The seventh grade has reached Sherman's March, and the Battle of Atlanta, in history. They are going to the Cyclorama at Grant Park today to see the battle, so as to understand it better.

In the Memorial Day parade, last Saturday, some of the seventh grade girls rode in a wagon decorated with our school colors.

All the eighth grade boys except one, who was sick, marched in the parade. The fifth grade E had 100 in attendance last week. This class has been ranking among the best in attendance all this year.

Josephine Henderson got the picture in the third grade for spelling last week.

Last Friday, our baseball team was defeated by Formwalt. Our boys didn't seem to play very well at all. Many bad plays were made, and we didn't do any hitting until the last inning, in which we made five runs. Tuesday we won a game from G. W. Adair by forfeit.

We had an exciting incident happen Tuesday. Some of us heard the fire engine and then our fire bell rang. When we reached our places in front of the school, we could see some fire engines in front of the next house, and the firemen were seen on the roof putting out a small fire.

WARREN R. POLLARD.

"In Old Madrid's" Author Dead.
Clifton Bingham, the song writer, author of "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Authors," "Dear Heart" and "In Old Madrid," died at Bristol a few days ago from an apopleptic seizure at the age of 53.

Precisely how many songs Mr. Bingham wrote nobody knows, but the number is certainly more than a thousand, and in addition his output of Christmas card verses was enormous. Of his songs more than 1,500 were published, set to music. He once said that he wrote on an average from seventy to eighty ballads a year.

Wherever the English language is spoken his songs are sung and many of his compositions have been translated. He was a born ballad writer. "Songs must come from the heart," he said, "and go to the heart." "Back to the Old Love" was written on a hitting card, and another song on the "top of an omnibus at Brighton. More than one song was written in an underground train, but most of them were composed at a little desk which his father gave him.

He kept a book in which hundreds of ideas for verses were written, and if ever he had fallen short of ideas himself he always had the selection of those sent to him by admirers. "When you have the thought and one line," he said, "the other lines come almost as a matter of course." One of his most famous songs, "The Promise of Life" was written without hesitation and without correction. "In Old Sweet Song" was written at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Bingham was the son of a Bristol bookseller, and when his father died he helped his mother in the business. Then he went into journalism. He was long been writing verses, and eventually he was able to devote himself wholly to composition. For his first accepted song he received a guinea. He has himself described his first "professional" visit to London.

"I went up to see a publisher to whom I had sold many 'dying child' lyrics. When I presented myself to him he asked me in a friendly way, 'Good gracious,' he cried, 'judging from your songs I thought you were an old man with one foot in the grave.'"

The music of "In Old Madrid" was written by Mr. Trotter before the words were composed by Mr. Bingham. The score lay in Mr. Bingham's desk for months and reportedly the author received postcards from the composer asking: "What about my music?" At last the inspiration came and the words were written.

HALF HOLIDAY GIVES GREAT JOY TO BOYS

Winners in the Tennis Game and in the Interclass Debate.

The announcement that the Boys' High school would have a holiday Friday sent joy to the heart of every student. The school will be given a holiday on account of the teachers' examination. A whole holiday was not expected by the boys as for the last few years only a half holiday has been given.

Starr won the tennis singles prize in the tournament which was played on the Druid Hills courts. The winners of the doubles were Starr and Harris. The prizes will probably be tennis rackets, though they have not been definitely decided upon.

The tennis tournament was a success this year and it is hoped that the tournament will be made a regular annual event.

Two-A won over Two-B in their recent interclass debate. The debate was very interesting and the speakers had plenty of humor in their speeches. The debaters for Two-A were: Leader, McClord; Murphy. Two-B, leader, Blinn; Thomas.

The subject was, "Resolved, That the Tipkins bill should have been passed."

The winners took the negative side. Many boys are looking forward with interest to March 7, when the Market college game will be played. The first game with Market was at the latter part of the last year, and Tech High defeated Market, so there are many different opinions as to the result of the game. If Boys' High wins this game she will probably have the pennant clinched. Market college, however, is trying to keep this from happening, as they have copied the pennant for the last three years, and want to hold their record.

An exhibition of flies was recently lent to the school showing the different stages of a fly's life. The exhibit is interesting and instructive, and the boys have been noticing it and watching the flies develop.

206 GIRLS AND BOYS GRADUATE IN JUNE

Girls Graduate June 5 and the Boys June 6 at the Grand.

The graduating exercises of the Girls' High school will take place on the evening of June 5 at the Grand. The Boys' High school graduating exercises take place June 6 at the Grand.

There will be 140 girls to graduate, 100 in the literary course and 40 from the English Commercial High school. There will be 86 boys to graduate, all from the literary department.

There are no graduates from the High Tech this year because of a change in the course of study which made those who would have graduated attend school another year.

Both schools are hard at work getting ready for the exercises. The boys are practicing their speeches and the girls are preparing their essays and looking after the regulation white dresses and ribbons. With the girls there will be one occasion when "trills" cannot be objected to.

UNDAUNTED BY DREAD DISEASE, "FIGHTING FOUR" LABORS TO STAMP OUT MENINGITIS

BY BRITT CRAIG.
Much of the success attained by Atlanta's first contagious hospital is due a quartet of young internes and trained nurses who volunteered to submit to isolation in the meningitis clinic at Grady and to remain on duty there until either the plague had been driven from the city, or they themselves had succumbed to its ravages.

Within less than a month the contagious clinic will be closed. Meningitis is almost extinct. The influx of patients stopped a week or more ago. Authorities now have to contend only with the sufferers who already have been installed in the hospital, of whom there are only seventeen.

A great victory has been won over a situation which, a month ago, threatened to burden Atlanta with an epidemic. City officials are elated over the triumph.

On one page of the account which will go down in history will be the statistics of the amazing number of cases discovered in the city. The installation of a contagious hospital will be chronicled for the first time in Atlanta's career.

And, if the whole story is to be told, the drama of the four internes and nurses will occupy pages as conspicuous as the proud statistics. The story of the dangers and hardships they underwent will be a more noble record than the cold, spiritless facts and figures which tell only that meningitis was driven from the city, and leave the reader to his or her own conception of the particular process by which it was driven out.

How meningitis was defeated is a story of the heroism of the two young internes and their two co-workers, the trained nurses. It is the story of sublimity to quarantine in a pest-house in the face of peril inconceivable to the ordinary citizen, and a story that brinks on martyrdom.

Liable to Contagion.
It is a popular impression that physicians and nurses are equipped with means of preventing the contraction of contagious diseases with which they come in contact. That belief is a fallacy, pure and simple, and probably originated in the same way as did the superstition of the mistake of walking under a ladder.

pital for several years, having entered the service upon leaving college. Both are single. Married men hardly would venture so close to the verge of martyrdom unless premiums were fully paid on heavy life insurance.

Interviewed by Phone.
Members of the "Fighting Four" were interviewed yesterday by telephone, of course. Even a reporter isn't going to invade a contagious hospital.

It is unethical for physicians and nurses to talk for publication on subjects pertaining to their duties or profession. Gently they informed the reporter of this fact. A story of their heroism wouldn't pass muster without at least a few words from the courageous four, though, therefore the reporter insisted.

"Aren't you afraid you'll catch the disease and die?" he asked.
"Certainly not," retorted one of the "Fighting Four." "If we were we wouldn't be here. This is no place for nerves and fright."
"Apparently not! Do you like it?"
"We do," they chorused.
"Would you do it again?"
"We would every day of the week and Sundays, too."

"When do you expect to get out?"
"We're not worrying over that. Our interest is only in the sufferers of whom we're taking care."
The interview was brief. The reporter pleaded, but treatment of cerebro-spinal meningitis requires constant attention. Infinite care and caution and systematic methods. The task is a 24-hour one, and a single careless nap at the switch may cost a life.

Day and Night Merge.
Dr. Blair and Miss Butler are in charge of the hospital during the day, and Dr. Wright and Mrs. Ashford at night. Night and day, though, are only too often merged into one long, fatiguing watch of incessant labor. A flickering life to be snatched from the portals of eternity must be attended to upon the instant, whether at midnight or noon.

among these were three, who died within thirty hours after they had reached the clinic. The disease had reached a stage from which there is no recovery before their cases had been discovered. Two of the whites, all have been cured and released. Five, all of whom are convalescent, remain.

Twenty-eight negro patients have been given treatment. Four were cured. Seven died, each succumbing within thirty hours after admittance. The entire number had suffered for four weeks before being removed to the hospital. Of the seventeen patients, in all, seven are recovering,

All Sorts of Folks Go In For All Sorts of Literature Here

BY JAMES W. MEADE.

It was during the rush hour at "Five Points," where the Ponce de Leon avenue and the Forrest avenue cars square away for the run northward, after encircling the loop about the Empire building.

He was fat and forty and not fair to look upon. Three buttons were missing from his wrinkled coat, and another was hanging by a thread. His hat had a dent in it and it was awry. His necktie had been pulled from under his vest. His hands were jammed deep in his overcoat pockets, his shoulders were hunched up, his under jaw was thrust forward and his eyes had an almost vicious gleam.

The perspiration trickled down his reddened face.

As the newspaper man ambled up he grabbed him by the arm and snorted:

"Say! What the dickens—" but the words refused to come, and he succeeded only in making an odd grime with his mouth. But presently he got under way again.

eyes at once. He wore a heavy wooden hat, peculiar neckwear, and white duck trousers. He was shabby, genteel, and something more.

"I want Dr. So-and-So's works on insanity," he demanded with a dignity and fierceness that quite upset the decorum of the young woman at the desk.

It was very easy to read his character.

WHAT BIG SISTER GETS.
A young woman entered the library at the time the newspaper man was studying hardest the half hundred subjects selecting from the shelves, or reading under the green-shaded lamps.

She was about 25, and she carried with her an air that gave her the appearance of one burdened with serious responsibilities.

of the main branch of the library are frequently amused by children who are sent by the grown folks for books. One little girl asked for a story for her big sister, and when asked how old big sister was, she looked up abashed.

"Why, she's most married," she replied, and that ended further argument. Big sister got a love story, full of sob and heart twists.

"Me mudder wants a book by Oh-You Ida," explained a lad in a scout uniform. Questions were fired at him by nearly every one of the library staff, but he stuck to his original demand. He said his mother wanted something by "Oh-You Ida" or nothing at all.

The consultation resolved itself into a guessing match. The catalogue was scanned. "Oh-You Ida" was a new one on Miss Wooten's assistants.

"Oh, he wants something by Ouida (Louise de la Rama)," one of the assistants finally exclaimed.

The grown-ups pull stunts at the library that are even funnier than little-brother. They have most farce-comedies beaten several different ways. They are funniest when they assume an air of erudition. A matron of this type gave the librarian this bit of startling information a few weeks ago:

"I have just read that Shakespeare didn't write his plays at all. Byron wrote them," she insisted.

ATLANTA TO HAVE MOVIE PICTURE PLANT

practically no progress made at all. But few new companies were organized. This was due to the fact that nobody could get moving picture cameras. Each of the old line companies had its own patented camera and would not let out the secrets of their mechanism to anyone. The companies today, as a general rule, guard certain secrets about their machines, processes and so forth. I have several bits of information of my own that I wouldn't part with for considerable money.

"The day of great things in the moving picture business is now at hand, though. Aside from the wonderful dramatic possibilities in the moving picture film, the pictures are of inestimable value as historical documents. There is no man of any prominence living today, who may not be seen living in the films hundreds of years from now. Sarah Bernhardt, the first big star to act for the 'movies,' saw and realized this. The moving picture took on an aspect of international importance during the recent warfare waged around Tripoli, when the Italian government had films made of battles and maneuvers to be filed in the government archives as official historical documents. Think what a moving picture of the battle of Waterloo or the dramatic disaster of the Greeter at Petersburg would mean to the world today.

"The moving picture is also becoming a factor to be considered in the commercial world. At this minute I have contracts with a dozen southern cities to make pictures of their local scenes, advantages and industries and show them in fifty cities all the way from Maine to California. The moving picture camera is constantly being called into play for demonstration purposes for all sorts of big industries.

"Life Just a Grind"
The "movie-going public, too, is beginning to realize the importance of the moving picture film as never before. There is a growing demand for high-class pictures, especially of educational films and scenes of travel. A trip around the world for a nickel can you beat it? The days of the old blood and thunder melodrama on the screen are numbered.

"In locating a moving picture producing business in Atlanta I believe I have opened up at the most strategic point possible in the south. From here I can get to the scene of action anywhere in the southern states almost instantly."

"It's pretty exciting, this business of jumping about the country to all sorts of happenings and coming in constant contact with big men, isn't it?" was asked Mr. Bartlett.

Cost of Storage Reservoirs

(From Engineering Journal)
Some idea of the obstacles to be overcome in controlling floods by storage reservoirs is given in an address to the National Drainage congress by Col. S. B. Townsend, president of the Mississippi River commission. The figures show that the entire flow of the Mississippi and Monongahela, another at St. Paul, holding the flow of the Upper Mississippi and a third at St. Joseph retaining the entire flow of the Missouri, the height of the flood at Cairo during the first week in April would have been lessened only 4 inches.

Congregation of a Baptist Church Near Tallapoosa, Ga., Faces Remarkable Situation as Result, It Is Said, of Muddying Waters of a Spring.

AT BAPTIST CHURCH Tallapoosa, Ga., April 26—(Special.) Because it is claimed, of the muddying of the waters of a nearby spring, the congregation of a Baptist church in the country about 6 miles from here, has been driven from their place of worship, and it is probable that the courts will be sought in an effort to straighten out a tangle which the members of the congregation have been for years trying to adjust.

The church to find a trespass warning tacked up and the owner of the property, "Old Uncle" Nath Goodman, sitting on the steps, with a loaded gun ready to back up the warning.

How Trouble Originated. Many years ago Uncle Nath Goodman migrated to the hills of Cleburne county, Alabama, accompanied by his faithful wife, dog and gun, entered a tract of land from the government and began to make his home there. He built a comfortable place, and he and his family have dwelt there for years. The sound of his ax startled the deer in the surrounding forests, but the old man was content and happy.

The community grew, and many people began to go to the meeting place on the Lord's day. The house was near the home of Goodman, and the people went to his spring for water.

Goodman Grows Dissatisfied. Finally the old man grew tired and dissatisfied. The boys "muddled" his spring, and broke his wash pot, he said, and he began to show his spirit of dissatisfaction, and when the time came for him to make the church a deed to the land he steadfastly refused, and would never do it.

hold services on a Sunday and take steps to reclaim the property.

When the congregation assembled they were met by Uncle Nath on guard at the church door. A trespass notice was posted on the door, and he warned all not to enter under the penalty of the law. The would-be churchgoers remonstrated, but of no avail—the old man standing steadfast until he was almost driven from the place.

GUS EDWARDS' KID KABARET AT THE FORSYTH

"The Girl From Out Yonder."

(At the Atlanta.)

The Girl From Out Yonder, a romantic comedy drama in four acts, is the excellent bill chosen for the Miss Billy Long company at the Atlanta theater this week. The play is finely adapted for summer stock because of the fact that it teems with romance and comedy, and has several really dramatic situations.

Miss Long has played the role of Flotsam, daughter of a lighthouse-keeper before and has found it to be one of the most successful she has ever played in stock. Dressed in her off-skirts and wearing heavy water-ski, she is sure to gain in favor with her audiences and add to her big following.

played in the selection of the pictures. These include western and dramatic subjects and good comedy reels. These pictures will be shown to open and close each performance. Matinees are given daily at 3 o'clock, except on Monday and Saturday, when two matinees are given—at 2:30 and 4 o'clock.

WOMEN'S COATSUITS HAVE MANY FEATURES

Toledo, Ohio, May 3—Women's coat suits for fall "will embody a greater variety of features than they have in several seasons past, and the principal feature of the suit coat will be the cut-away effect," according to the report of the style committee adopted by members of the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' association here today.

DRAGGING FOR REDHORSE TABOOED BY WARDEN

Lverly, Ga., May 3—(Special.)—Perhaps the smallest amount of "dragging" for "redhorse" ever known was this year. Colonel Jesse Mercer, the state game and fish commissioner, was, perhaps, the cause of the great "sport" ceasing to be a great extent. The law now makes it a misdemeanor to "drag" for the fish, and needless to say, the fish generally went on their way undisturbed this year.

White Tiger Sentenced.

Lverly, Ga., May 3—(Special.)—T. A. Wethington, a white man of near this place, was found guilty of selling liquor in the county court at Summerville this week and sentenced to twelve months on the chain-gang, with the alternative of $1,000. Wethington has appealed the case to higher court.

GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE PROPOSED BY DEMOCRAT

Washington, May 3—Good roads legislation is considered of such importance, and so many highway improvement measures are pending in congress that leading democrats propose to create a new standing committee in the house, to be known as the committee on good roads.

NEGRO SLAYER STILL AT LARGE IN SWAMP

Savannah, Ga., May 3—A posse seeking Richard Henry Austin, the South Carolina negro who Wednesday killed two white men and wounded four others, this morning battered down the door of his father's cabin near Newington, Ga., and riddled the place with bullets. The negroes had fled, the old man, Sam Austin, taking refuge with a white farmer, Henry Austin is supposed to be in the Savannah river swamps.

General Raymond Dead.

Washington, May 3—Brigadier General Charles W. Raymond, U. S. A., retired, died at his home here today. He was 71 years old, a native of Connecticut, and was graduated from the Military academy at West Point in 1865.

Dr. Alice Graham Dead.

Kansas City, May 3.—Dr. Alice Graham, founder of Mercy hospital, an institution for the care of crippled children here, died today. She was said her health was broken by her efforts in behalf of the welfare, to whom she devoted her life. She was 53 years old.

FROM HUMBLE GEORGIA CHAPEL TO GREATEST PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION IN THE WORLD

Such Is the Spectacular Career of Dr. Matthews, Once a Georgia Country Boy.

Calhoun, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—When the gavel falls in the first session of the general assembly of the "Presbyterian church in the United States of America," which will convene in Atlanta on the 15th, it will be in the hand of one of the most remarkable pulpit personalities of the day, for this year the moderator is Dr. Mark Allison Matthews of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle. The career of Dr. Matthews is as picturesque among preachers as is that of Abraham Lincoln among statesmen. From a poor boy in a small country town in Georgia to the pastorate of the largest Presbyterian church in the world, is no small achievement when made against almost insurmountable difficulties.

The assembled thousands of Presbyterians in Atlanta on the 15th will take note of this man, for he is eminent. His appearance is striking. He is six feet, five inches tall and wears his raven-black hair in a veritable cloud about his head. He has a strong, muscular build, and his eyes give the impression of strength. But it is not his appearance that is alone noteworthy, it is his notable career. On the Pacific slope his name is a household word, and to grate and to hoodlum in Seattle is to denigrate and to fear. He has been variously denominated "The Black-maned Lion of Seattle," "The Tall Sycamore of the Sierra," and "The Scourge of Sin in Seattle." These expressions, which mean to his fellow citizens in the west. To the people of Calhoun, his native town, he is just plain Mark Matthews, but he is not a prophet without honor in his own country, for in Calhoun he is admired and respected best by those who knew him in his boyhood days, and who understand his hard, bare-handed struggle against his early lot.

He first saw the light in a small one-roomed frame house in Calhoun, in 1867. His father and mother were of good family, honest and industrious, but poor. Sherman in his destructive march from Chattanooga to Atlanta, had left Calhoun a heap of smouldering ashes in the midst of hardships, the future moderator grew up to be a tall, slender lad and earned a reputation of cleanliness, politeness and devotion to his mother. He entered school much later than the average boy, but by patient application to his books he gained a thorough education. While the boy was in school he was a member of the local stores for the purpose of supplementing the family income. He did not give up his studies, however, and at the age of 18 he would pore over the books his hard earned savings had bought. When a mere boy he showed that he had a bent towards things religious, and in several meetings in the town he was heard to sing hymns, to play the organ and to play the piano. As early as eight years he showed traits that pointed to his future work. While engaged in the store, the young man was preparing himself for the Presbyterian ministry, and at the age of 19 he was licensed to preach.

Father told him to quit. His mother was deathly with his son's desire for the life of a preacher because he thought that the lad had insufficient training and lacked the qualities necessary for success in the ministry. He was present when young Mark preached, or tried to preach, his first sermon. After the service he called the boy aside and said: "Son, if that's the best you can do, I advise you to quit right now and go back to the store." But the young man was not to be sidetracked in his ambition. This opposition only served to make him more determined, and every opportunity that came he preached and prayed. He was present at the Sunday school talks. The little Presbyterian church in Calhoun, with a membership of less than a score, was without a pastor and a call was given to young Matthews to begin his labors among the people who had known him from childhood. This probably was the hardest place to start, but the call was accepted and the young preacher began his work with the enthusiasm of youth and with faith in God and in himself.

He was a man of action from the first. His spare, gaunt form was nothing but sinew and muscle. He had a strong personality. The attendance began to grow at the services. The church was painted, ceiled, carpeted and a new organ installed in an incredibly short time. He was present at the success of his church. One winter Sunday morning a foot or more of newly fallen snow blocked the sidewalks and pathways to the church, but the preacher borrowed a mule improvised a snow plow and cleared a pathway in all directions.

Stopped sermon to put out fire. On another occasion, when in the midst of his sermon, the fire alarm was sounded by the quick strokes of the courthouse bell, the congregation was surprised to see the heels and coat tails of the preacher disappear suddenly through a window on the side of the pulpit. Matthews had not waited to finish the sentence he was uttering. The fire was soon extinguished and the young pastor came back, took up the thread of his discourse again and finished it.

Young Matthews was soon called to the First Presbyterian church at Dalton, and after three years' labor in that field he went to the First church at Jackson, Tenn. Here his work was notable and attracted wide attention. He was soon recognized by the forces of evil as a hard hitter, who never stopped until his enemy was defeated. In 1903 Dr. Matthews left Jackson for the First Presbyterian church at Seattle. The new field was in sore need of cultivation. The congregation was small, the galleries closed up for lack of hearers, and there was a church debt of twenty-five thousand dollars. Not many sermons had been preached by the new minister before the people of Seattle began to sit up and take notice of the newcomer. His preaching was direct, pointed and pithy. He was sensational because that was his nature. His sermons were announced under titles such as "Soap, Soap, Soap and Salvation." This brought the natives out and soon many who had never been known to go to church in Seattle, came out of curiosity, came again and soon formed the habit. In the first year five hundred members were received on profession of faith. In the first year and a half the debt of twenty-five thousand dollars was paid. The First Presbyterian church has been built at a cost of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. At the end of ten years Dr. Matthews had received into the church over seven thousand members and the present membership is over five thousand. This is the largest Presbyterian church in the world and it is organized "from steeple to furnace."

Charged graft to council. Space would not permit a description of the great work of this remarkable preacher during the years of his pastorate in Seattle. He has had many hard fights on his hands, but has invariably won the battle for the cause of decency and good citizenship. In 1905 he charged the Seattle city council with having a bad case of "grafting." The council was wroth and asked for a statement of the charges or a withdrawal of the damaging assertions. The great body of the people was in sympathy with the preacher and the latter instead of retracting the charges in cold type and worn the night. Then there were other and later campaigns in which the lines were closely drawn between the reformer on the one hand and the grafters on the other, but the one-time slender, open-faced Georgia lad always came out on top.

On May the 15th, Dr. Matthews will visit his native town and preparations are being made to give him a royal reception. While he has several honorary college degrees, among them being D.D. and LL.D., in Calhoun he will always be known as Mark Matthews. An open-air reception will be given him in the central park and a great mass-meeting will convene that night at one of the churches whose formal welcome will be extended to him. To this gathering he will speak at length. It is planned to present him with a handsome gavel with which to open the great general assembly and in this way the citizens feel that the splendid success of a native son will be fittingly recognized.

At St. Paul's Church.
 There will be special services at St. Paul's Methodist church, Grant street and St. Paul avenue, Sunday, both morning and evening.
 Sunday morning there will be a large class to join the church, and there will be the ordinance of baptism and holy communion. In the evening, the pastor, Dr. R. F. Fraser, will preach a special sermon on church work.
 Since the big revival about three weeks ago, St. Paul's has been experiencing an awakening, states the pastor, Dr. R. F. Fraser, states the past history before. Every Sunday many have joined the church, and the members are working with a zeal and enthusiasm hitherto unknown.

Primitive—Elder T. J. Basmore, the pastor, speaks Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on "The Atonement."

LUCIEN KNIGHT TO PUBLISH SOUVENIR BOOK OF ASSEMBLY

Lucien Knight, one of Georgia's most distinguished authors and a close student of history and present-day affairs, is preparing a souvenir book for the commissioners of the Presbyterian assemblies that will undoubtedly be the finest one ever given to any assembly.

It will contain the names and addresses of all the commissioners, pictures of the churches in which the assemblies meet, some of the principal buildings, parks, monuments and places of historic interest in Georgia.

The frontispiece will have a picture of Woodrow Wilson, who was once a resident of Atlanta and is now an elder in the Presbyterian church, and it will have a picture of Vice President Marshall, who is also an elder of the church.

Five thousand copies of the book will be published. One will be given free to each of the 1,500 commissioners and the rest will be sold at 25 cents a copy, or 80 cents by mail, which is calculated only to cover the expenses of getting out the book.

EVANGELIST HERE TO CONDUCT GREAT WEST END REVIVAL

Every night this coming week the West End Christian church will be the scene of popular evangelistic services, which will be held by Rev. John W. Hawkins, of Kentucky, one of the most prominent evangelists of the Christian church.

Mrs. Katherine King, who has had long experience in solo work at revivals, will sing at every meeting, while the congregational singing will be under the direction of Tynes L. Jennings.

Evangelist Hawkins begins the services Sunday morning, and the length of the services will be decided later. Rev. W. O. Foster is pastor of the West End church, which is located at the corner of Gordon and Dunn streets.

CHAS. B. JAMISON AT RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

A program of special interest is arranged for Sunday afternoon at the Railroad Young Men's Christian association rooms, 314 West Alabama street. The hour is 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Charles B. Jamison, physical director at the Central association, will be the speaker. He is an old association man and knows how to speak to men. It will pay to hear him.

The musical feature will be attractive, and everybody will enjoy it. The excellent orchestra will play. All men are invited.

May Festival.

The May session of the Atlanta Baptist Sunday School association, of which John M. Green is president, will be held Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock at the Antioch church, located on the Federal prison car line.

An address will be made by Rev. J. G. Spaulding. There will also be other short and interesting talks from various individuals, reflecting the benefits and advantages derived from the recent training school held at the First Baptist church. All Sunday school workers are invited to be present, and the various schools composing the organization will send delegations.

Seven Minute Sermon On the Golden Text

DELIVERED BY TRUSTING.
 I. The Great Heart Needs of Man Are Always the Same. We speak about the marvelous change in modern conditions as compared with the ancient days, but this is true only so far as physical or material things are concerned, as human nature and its needs are the same today as they ever were. Pain is the same, birth and death are the same, our yearning for companionship, our desire for God, our solicitude in the future, our hopes and our fears and all the other heart experiences which we now either suffer or enjoy are precisely the same as men passed through in any other age of history. Our fathers had the same yearning to solve as we have, they had similar mental perplexities, the same forces to fight and overcome, and when we learn that they found a way to be delivered from their fears and helped out of their troubles, we may well follow their example. Our fathers had the same struggle to make a living, the same anxiety concerning their families; they nursed their sick as do we and their hearts were rent, as ours are, when they lay away their loved ones in the grave.

II. There is No Intellectual Certainty of God Except Through Trusting Him. Our fathers learned of God by exercising inactive trust in him; they arrived at clear conceptions of the "reticent Father, strong and save," through the trust of their hearts, rather than by any intellectual process. The most vital things in life we have to take on trust, or learn by direct experience. Those whose belief in God is based on mere logic and satisfying are they who yield themselves up implicitly to trusting Him, and they have learned by experience that what they trust for is always obtained. Wise men have endeavored to demonstrate the existence of God by a process of reasoning, the logic of which tends to convince us of the existence of a supreme being. The Bible states, "the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork," and modern reasoners say that "instincts as nature shows design, plan and purpose, that there must have been a designer and a planner. They reason from cause to effect, and from effect to cause, and endow God with existence. I have no disposition, but on the contrary, to speak against the usefulness of this process of reasoning, yet I am constrained to say that even these reasoners themselves who rest with certainty in the belief of the Heavenly Father do so not by trusting in Him, but by trusting in Him. Our fathers trusted in God and were delivered from all their doubts concerning Him, and they proved by life-long service that their trust was not misplaced. Many of them were so conscious of God, and had such experience of His love and protecting care, that they were as certain of these things as we are that we have had many a father.

III. Trusting in God Solves All Life's Problems. Our fathers in their extremities have cried unto God; one states, "I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears." It is stated concerning another, "This power, this might, and the Lord heard him, and saved him from all his troubles." The psalmist, after he had tested by experience the reality of God by trusting in Him, urged all others who may be in doubt to try His reality by trusting in God for themselves, saying, "O taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in Him. O fear the Lord, ye His saints; for there is no want to them that fear Him." In another place it is stated, "The righteous shall cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles." Jesus lived this life of trust, and therefore the heavenly Father was a real presence to him and he advises others to test the reality of God's delivering mercy, when he says, "I trust in God, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." Our fathers trusted in God when they were in difficulty and were delivered.

IV. Trusting in God Lightens up the Darkest of Deaths. Whoever hope sustains a man in the trying ordeal of death must be well founded. Our fathers who died in the faith have triumphed in the hour of death. Those who have been martyred for their religion have shouted for joy when they have been burning in the fire. The dark and lonesome valley of the shadow of death will be brilliantly illuminated for us, as it was for our fathers, when they passed through the valley. The promise of God, "When thou passeth through the water, I will be with thee; and through the rivers thou shalt not overflow thee," is always fulfilled for those that trust in the Lord, and we can all say with confidence in advance of that dark hour, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me."

American Producers Excel.
 (F. W. Taussig, in the May Atlantic.)
 A machine-using people directs its energies to best advantage where thousands of goods of the same pattern are produced. Specialties, and goods saleable only in small quantities, such as luxuries bought by the rich, goods of rare pattern and the like—these are likely to be imported. Ready-made goods, all of one pattern, bought by the masses, are likely to be produced at home, without danger from competing imports. Goods made to order must be supplied by domestic producers, and these are likely to be what the customer thinks inordinately dear; because they are made preponderantly, or at least in greater degree, by hand labor, which is paid high wages and which by the very condition of the case cannot use labor-saving machinery. Again, implements themselves, big and little, are likely to be well made in a country where people are constantly turning to machinery from kitchen utensils and household hardware to machine tools, electric apparatus and huge printing presses. These are things in which the success of American industry is familiarly well exposed, and which in fact it is proverbial that the Yankee has a peculiar knack—only another way of saying that he has a comparative advantage.

You may think what you please about moderate drinking; but remember that employers measure men by dry measure.—The Youth's Companion.

A Child Who Knew His Business in the World

"Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" Jesus was a child who knew His business in the world. Long before He reached maturity His mind was filled with thoughts of serving His fellow men. He was pondering this early on His life's mission. What an example is there held forth to the youth of the twentieth century! The world has far more problems today than it had 2,000 years ago. There is more work to do than ever before. There is greater need for thinkers—both young and old—those who, like Jesus, realize their life work early, whatever it is, if they stick to it they may hope to attain it before life be done. The example of the child Jesus, who knew His business in the world, is well worth heeding by the youth of America.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' association have recently issued a pamphlet containing a catchy set of verse entitled "If You Keep a Store."

"If you keep a store in Hometown and you stock it up with stuff bought from far and distant places, just the local trade to bluff; if you skip the nearby market and you travel far to buy it is far from the natives'...

"If within your own home scotcher there's a town and shape in which town they do a business that has put it on the map; if this town can furnish to you merchandise exactly right, don't you think it's—well, short-sighted, if that town you calmly slight?"

"If you have, in easy distance, base of requisite supplies, don't you think you ought to buy there? That's the place for you—get wiser. Here's the ATLANTA goods ready, with the goods you need to buy; from her factories strong and steady she can Dixie's wants supply."

"She can furnish shoes and shovels, silks and errand shirts and strings, overalls and hats and cookstoves, yes, a thousand other things. She can furnish fads and fancies, clothes to wear and food to eat—everything, in short, that's needed to make up your stock complete."

"If you come and see these factories where they make this goodly stuff you would say, 'This town's a wonder—she's alright, she's good enough.' You would realize instantly that Atlanta, close at home, is the place for goods—merchants—there's no need for them to roam."

"What's the use of plodding northward, going west or traveling east, when within so short a distance right at home, there's such a feast? What's the gain to you in going far away at costly rates, when besides the cost of going, there's the added cost of freights?"

"Styles you get in eastern markets are no newer, no more chic than the styles Atlanta offers—fresh and novel, take your pick. Modern and the birth in Paris translated overnight, vogues and models everchanging—here you find them—always right."

"There's no quarrel with the styles, then; for Atlanta has them all—men's and women's, lads' and lasses'—for the springtime and the fall; in no town the country over can you beat ATLANTA's line; when it comes to showing fashions, she's unrivaled, keen and quick."

"In Atlanta there are rivals, eager for your steady trade; competition sharp and lively—so the prices right are made. Thus, besides the great assortment and the varied lines to choose you can buy on closing margins—all you gain and nothing lose."

"Yet, while rivals, we're a unit in the matter of OUR TOWN; so we join our hands together and we set this message down—'COME TO SEE US. WE SERVE YOU; LET US SHOW YOU, GOOD AND STRONG. IF YOU THINK YOU HAVE TO TRAVEL FAR TO MARKET, YOU ARE WRONG!'"

"And to make the point a clearer one, firmly fixed within your mind; PENSENS, when to buying yours in JENSENS, when to buying your in ATLANTA, if you come and in ATLANTA buy in adequate supply. You will find our deal a square one—here's our word: Come on—Good Buy!"

A mother who was frequently called from more important affairs to remove from her Johnny's pockets neglected tin collections of rat-upon cherries, angleworms, surf-baked eggs and the like, finally devised the sanitary pockets which are described in The Youth's Companion of May 1.

SOME DOINGS OF THE BOYS IN ATHENS

By Sam Woods. Athens, Ga., May 3.—(Special).—G. A. Woodliff, of the Guggenheimer Co., with headquarters at Lunenburg, Va., was a visitor in yesterday.

G. R. Walker, salesman for the Atlanta Old Co., of Atlanta, was in Athens during the week.

R. B. Wicker, with the McCrary Co., of Atlanta, was another of the week's visitors.

J. Kirby Smith, southern sales manager for the Spirella Corset Co., making his headquarters in Atlanta, was here yesterday.

The following salesman of Talmadge Brothers Co., came in Friday reporting good business. The boys are T. W. Kelly, Joe Wilson, Charles Elder and Ben Thornton.

J. C. Yates, formerly of Griffin, and manager of the Griffin hotel there, is now connected with the Georgian hotel in Athens.

E. C. Jones, salesman for the McCord-Stewart Co., was here Saturday last reporting good business.

Several traveling men who work out of Atlanta, are old Athens citizens, among them being W. L. Abney, Harry Gottheimer, W. H. Steadman, W. B. Beacham, Bob Hancock, E. C. Jones and Will Poek.

T. P. A. MEMBERS TO GET NICE PRIVILEGE

Western Union Telegraph Co. Extends Courtesy to Members of Association.

The following letter, received this week by J. H. Andrews, is published as information to the members of the T. P. A.

Atlanta, Ga., May 1, 1913. Mr. J. H. Andrews, Secretary, Georgia Division, T. P. A., City. Dear Sir: It gives me great pleasure to advise you that general instructions have been issued that the managers of all Western Union telegraph offices shall accept, without deposit of the cash guarantee, collect telegrams signed by members of your organization, who identify themselves as such.

We will appreciate it very much if these instructions can be placed upon your bulletin board, for the information of all your members.

At the same time, we will be glad to have any individual member bring to our attention any discourtesy or failure on the part of any of our managers or other employees to comply with these instructions or recognize credentials.

Yours very truly, W. G. PEEBLES, Manager.

Mr. Andrews writes in reference to this letter as follows: Editor Constitution Firing Line, City.

Dear Sir: I am handing you here with copy of a letter I have just received from the manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, which explains itself.

I trust that you will be able to publish this letter in your Sunday issue, as information to our membership, as a large majority of whom would undoubtedly note it if published in the Firing Line.

While this action on the part of the telegraph company makes no concession, still their decision, and order to their operators throughout the country to accept collect telegrams from our members who identify themselves as such, with the card provided for this purpose by the Travelers' Protective Association, will give a great convenience to thousands of men every day.

This is a concrete illustration of some of the courtesies extended to our membership, and emphasizes the importance of every one eligible to membership, connecting himself with this organization, aside from the insurance protection provided at cost to its members, there are a number of benefits accruing to the members besides the protection furnished in the accident insurance furnished by the organization. Yours very truly, JAS. H. ANDREWS, Sec'y.

QUARTERLY MEETING. Fain & Stamps Hold Meeting of Their Entire Sales Force.

The entire sales force of Fain & Stamps were in the city yesterday to attend the regular quarterly meeting of the salesmen. A live and enthusiastic meeting was held and the prospects for business seem to be of the brightest. The new catalogs and price lists were given out at the meeting.

Amongst those present were Ben Thompson, J. C. Owens, W. Y. Bailey, W. T. Duncan, S. E. Smith, Cliff Edwards, Bill Quarles, Bill Gaston, Ben Messer, Tom Bryant.

J. R. Burton and Louis Barrow, both working in the South Carolina territory for the A. M. Robinson company came in this week for a short visit in the city.

News of the U. C. T. Atlanta Council 18

The boys will be glad to hear of the reinstatement of Brother Joe Hardin. Brother Hardin is an old member of Atlanta 18, and travels for the Beck & Gregg Hardware company.

Atlanta 18 is sorry to report the illness of Mrs. F. M. Jennings, wife of Brother Jennings, of Carrollton. Mrs. Jennings is at the Davis-Fischer sanitarium, and the wives of the members are requested to call on her and help to make things as pleasant as possible for her.

Junior Councillor U. L. Cox came in from Alabama Saturday morning.

Brother W. J. Elliott was out this week trying to buy a lot. It is rumored that he is trying to induce some fair lady to help him build a "cosy nest" on said lot.

Brother Nick Ayer was asked what real estate he had bought, and he stated that his property was counted in blocks, not lots.

Any members who have recently met with injuries will greatly facilitate matters if they will mail their claims to Secretary Lunceford as soon as possible.

NOTES OF THE CITY SALESMEN

Second Vice-president E. P. Harris presided at the meeting yesterday morning in place of President E. L. Simmons, who was in Charleston on the committee arranging for the annual excursion.

The members of the committee who are in Charleston on the excursion matter are H. L. Simmons, W. G. McNair and J. A. Massey.

W. O. Stamps, president of Pain & Stamps, was present at the meeting yesterday morning and extended an invitation to all the boys to be guests at a little spread and demonstration that Jones Brothers & Co. are going to give in their plant on Peters street next Saturday.

Thomas W. Haney, E. P. Hardy and W. Wells (better known as Pete) were three National Biscuit company men who attended the meeting.

W. E. Orr, with Ballard & Ballard, is a new member who was present yesterday morning.

Brother R. J. Spiller, the Coca-Cola man, will be back in Atlanta shortly to establish an office here for the American Sign company.

News of the U. C. T. Fulton Council 505

Brother R. W. Holcomb, representing the Cotton States Baiting company, came in from south Georgia to spend Sunday with his homefolks.

Secretary P. S. Brownlee reports that the hat and the lams are all rapvoeing fast and that the claims are now coming in to him.

Brother George E. Byrd, the Veach flour man, managed to get in safely somehow and will spend the week-end at his home.

Two new members have recently been initiated. They are Brothers Lucius W. McConnell and Leo Page. Ask them.

Fulton Council 505 continues to grow. There are at present ten applications on file waiting for the initiation.

The boys will be glad to hear that Brother A. L. Diehl, whose child has recently been sick, reports that the youngster is much better, and that he will shortly be able to get out again.

WHY PRODUCE MEN SHOULD ORGANIZE

Benefits of a Fruit and Produce Exchange Clearly Outlined by Leading Commission Man.

By W. D. Thompson, of the Williams-Thompson Produce and Commission Company.

Produce and commission men of Atlanta have not as yet taken any definite steps towards the organization of a fruit and produce exchange, nor have they reached any agreement to renew operations under the old charter that existed several years ago. Each and every dealer realizes full well the necessity for organization, and they all understand and appreciate the many benefits that an organization of this character offers to producer, retailer and consumer, but as there is a well-developed prejudice in the public mind against a commercial organization of any kind, naturally they hesitate to do anything that is calculated to array public opinion against them even in the slightest degree. When any body of businessmen in any particular line are endeavoring to organize and the atmosphere and purposes of the union is of the highest standard, it is practically impossible for its existence to be harmful to other lines of business or to that portion of the consuming public that uses its wares. It is hard to find any line of effort or to imagine any line of business that is as hazardous to operators as the fruit and produce business, as it requires closer attention to details than any other line of business in the United States today that directly affects a greater number of people consequently any combined or organized effort properly directed by the men at the helm cannot be otherwise than beneficial to consumers as well as to the great army of tollers who produce the goods for them to consume. It would be well for that class of retail grocers and such of their customers as are always ready to yell trust, omnibus law-breakers etc. at the jobbers of fruits and produce upon the slightest intimation that they intend organizing to stop and consider for a minute the part that these jobbers play in the distribution of this important necessity of life. A jobber of produce is not more than the cart or wagon that the grower uses to carry his product to market and then to produce the mere business of himself, nor are they enabled to name the price that the goods must sell for. Fruits and produce of all kinds are extremely perishable and must at all times and under all conditions be sold quickly. This being true, and the statement cannot be successfully contradicted, as supply and demand name the market price of all perishables, and no sensible person can dispute this assertion how in the name of common sense can a set of dealers or distributors under these conditions establish and maintain a combine or trust for a single hour. As set forth at the beginning of this statement, when the public or any portion of it, thinks for a moment that the produce interests of Atlanta contemplate an organization or ever used, the efforts of any kind to manipulate

LARGE WHOLESALE HOUSE REORGANIZED ON MAY 1

JEROME SILVEY,
President Silvey & Dougherty Hat Company.

The well-known wholesale hat house, which has done business under the name of Silvey-Smith Hat Company for many years past, has recently undergone a reorganization. The firm will henceforth be known as the Silvey & Dougherty Hat Company. They will continue to do business along the same lines as heretofore, with the exception that they hope to enlarge their scope in the near future.

The officers of the company are now as follows: Jerome Silvey, president; J. S. Dougherty, vice president; and T. L. Simmons, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Silvey was president of the company under its old name, and is known as one of the most progressive and most highly respected members of Atlanta's wholesale circles.

market prices they are badly mistaken. The former produce exchange that existed here was organized upon broader lines, and its usefulness to its members, as well as its helpfulness to producers and shippers that used this market was beyond computing in dollars and cents. Whether or not the produce men of Atlanta will organize again soon is difficult to say at this time, but one thing is certain, and that is that no combined effort of any business interests in Atlanta would be more beneficial to a greater number of people. The produce interests of Atlanta as a unit, could and would prevent periodical scarcity of fruit and vegetables and the inevitable high prices that follow and play havoc with so many consumers. They could and would prevent the market from becoming overstocked with these same goods with the resultant low values that wreck the small fortunes of the producer; and often leaves him without means to produce another crop or to supply his own family with the necessities of life. The old produce exchange of Atlanta was quite a factor in securing suitable transportation rates from railroads and express companies and in securing better delivery service by these same corporations. Its weekly meetings kept the membership in close touch with each other, good fellowship was in evidence at all times and the annual outing in the shape of a barbecue or picnic to which all Atlanta butchers, grocers, men their families and friends were invited was a feast to be remembered from one occasion to another. It is to be hoped sincerely that the produce men of Atlanta will succeed in organizing it an early date, or before picnic season of this year, a produce exchange on broader lines and with a larger membership than ever before.

TIPS TO SALESMEN OF AD. NOVELTIES

Some Tips for Man Who Is Selling Calendars and Other Advertising Novelties.

By Francis E. Wright.

The salesman who takes upon himself the task of selling advertising novelties without question earns his dollars harder and holds on to them longer; the eagle screams when he spends one.

Before you become "enthralled with advertising fever" be secure in presenting a line that has a mid show of promise—for you are going to ask a merchant or manufacturer to buy and pay for something that he must give away, with only a chance that he "may" get returns. You are in no position to guarantee him the least degree of encouragement aside from reasonable reckoning. Some producers of these advertising novelties seem to think that the question of good salesmanship in a man's case is only a representative on every third trip. Competition in workmanship, price and variety is so great that merchants generally make it a "show down" proposition on a specified date—the man with the best price, prettiest picture etc. gets the order.

"The least said—the longest remembered." Confine your ads to simple facts, keep with meaning and description with an artistic arrangement and a suitable idea. Every business neighbor different conditions and these conditions are different and similar lines at times require different campaigns.

But simplicity must be the motto; take Helz's fifty-seven varieties—Uneceda—Cococa-Cola—Stetson—Wrigley's and many other of the leaders, who have gained supreme prominence by placing the name with the name "and why you should use it." It is the small merchant that forgets that the suffering public get their mail boxes stuffed with long, tedious, descriptive texts every morning and have often come to disregard the missives.

Advertising is not in order to tempt the consumer's taste; try the product. Adding an additional food to the pantry does not necessarily increase the cost of living; just the contrary. People want variety and a change. They will buy if the quality responds to the price asked. The merchant who sells with simplicity and fact, through his billboards, calendars, monthly service, etc. and abstain from fanatical, sensational and nonsensical phrases, as dignity and quality always go together.

When you are negotiating with a merchant, do not cover a wide field; it is difficult to get the proper reading. It is your place to assist him. On the other hand, every manufacturer or merchant entertains a special feature in offering his product. Then, ask the question, "Mr. Merchant, pretend I have the money and am in the market for a calendar of your line. Please answer me—Why should I buy from you when I am well pleased with the dealings and concessions I receive from your competitors?" What are the advantages to me?" Then, put his answer in attractive form, not forgetting simplicity in the design, calendar, etc. that he wishes to buy. This method will get for you the respect of your customer, as all men like to meet their equal or superior.

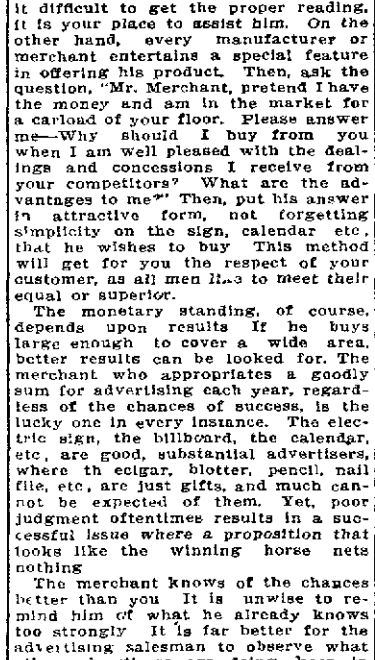

The monetary standing, of course, depends upon results. If he buys large enough to cover a wide area, better results can be looked for. The merchant who appropriates a goodly sum for advertising each year, regardless of the chances of success, is the lucky one in every instance. The electric sign, the billboard, the calendar, etc. are good substitutes and others, when in cigar, blotter, pencil, nail file, etc. are just gifts, and much cannot be expected of them. Yet, poor judgment oftentimes results in a successful issue where a proposition that looks like the winning horse nets nothing.

The merchant knows of the chances better than you. It is unwise to remind him of what he already knows too strongly. It is far better for the advertising salesman to observe what other advertisers are doing, keep in touch with their issues and instruct his prospect how to proceed cautiously.

All seasons are good for advertising, but it depends largely upon your territory—how many advertising salesmen are working it. Then it's a case of you getting ahead of the other fellow or you lose out.

The man who sells advertising matters must work, he has no special hours. Each day is a new one to him. At night he must lay his plans for the following day. You know you are pledged to get the business, and if you fail you are classified as being good for "some other occupation."

TRAVELS TENN. AND KY.

S. P. BELSINGER
Representing the Atlanta Paper Co.

S. P. Belsinger is sales manager for Tennessee and Kentucky for the Atlanta Paper Company. He is an enthusiastic booster for Atlanta but says one of his chief troubles is that many of the people in his territory don't seem to have any conception of the kind of city Atlanta is. He says that the idea many of them have of a city is Knoxville, Nashville and other small places like that and that he would like to bring them all here for a visit so that they could see what a real city is like.

Nevertheless, Mr. Belsinger is making a reputation for himself with his firm, and the amount of paper, corrugated boxes, etc. that he sells in a month is a considerable help in proving that Atlanta is as prominent a place as any on the map when it comes to wholesale business.

CATERING TO CITY TRADE

Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt Co.
Paying Special Attention.

The Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company, one of the big wholesale dry goods and notions houses of Atlanta, are paying special attention to the city trade. They carry a stock of staple goods and novelties that appeal to the merchant in the city especially and they have found it exceedingly desirable business to have.

They have two men out in the city selling their goods and report that both are making splendid records for themselves. These gentlemen are W. J. Hayes and C. S. Shifflett. They are hustling young men and have sold many good bills in the past few weeks. Mr. Hayes turned in two opening bills this week and Mr. Shifflett has had his own share of good business. They are running neck and neck for leadership and the race between the two is fast becoming exciting. The company is pleased with their results and reports that they are desirous of the city trade and are well prepared to take care of it.

Bill Quarles, city salesman for Fain & Stamps, has been home sick for a part of the week. He was out Saturday and expects to be in good shape again Monday.

R. E. Dawson, salesman for Jones Bros. & Co., is selling some bills these days. He came into the city Saturday with several carload orders for pickles, etc.

BIG MANUFACTURER HOLDS RECEPTION-DEMONSTRATION

GIDEON C. JONES,
President Jones Brothers & Company.

The firm of Jones Brothers & Co., manufacturers of pickles, preserves, pickles, etc. held a somewhat novel reception last Tuesday. They invited all the retail grocers of the city to visit their factory and see the work of making the goods in actual process. Many of the grocers accepted the invitation and found it a most interesting and profitable trip. They were taken through the extensive factory and shown the goods actually being put up for the market. The chief impression given was the absolute cleanliness of the place, the employees and of everything in connection with the products. One left with the feeling that no home kitchen could produce any cleaner eatables by the widest stretch of the imagination. The interesting processes connected with the manufacturing of vinegar, cider, pickles and preserves were fully explained and the success of goods under the "Jones" brand was seen to come from the fact that firstly they were prepared right, and secondly the firm did business in the open, and were perfectly willing to show all their supposed "trade secrets" to whoever was interested.

This enterprise has only been located in Atlanta for a few months past, and to illustrate how successful they have been, it is only necessary to say that the only difficulty they have experienced has been in getting their goods out fast enough to fill orders. Mr. Jones has made arrangements for the growing of the crops he needs in this locality for next year, and the impetus this will give to the farmers of Georgia will be appreciated by every thoughtful student of agricultural conditions.

CHILE CON CARNE

The ins this week with the Dobbs & Wey company are E. L. Kerrison, from northeast Georgia, and E. H. James, from Alabama.

James R. Thornton, with the S. P. Richards company, is still busy on his samples and was found this week with his sleeves rolled up hard at it.

H. D. Lipford, with the Atlanta Paper company, was in the city this week to help out the laundrymen who were here at the convention.

T. A. Gramling, president of the Gramling-Spalding company, has been on the sick list for the greater part of this week, getting down to the office for the first time Friday, when he was there for an hour or two.

Ben Messer, with Fain & Stamps, says that, thanks to the mention of the affair given in these columns, he was able to beat Tom Claxton in their race for the biggest sale for April. Tom says that if the Constitution Firing Line will back him up he will beat Messer for May.

W. E. Rumph, the South Carolina salesman for the Warren Manufacturing company, came in last Monday and has spent the week in the city. Mr. Rumph has just concluded a successful season and is preparing for a bigger one still in the fall.

President B. A. Hancock, of the Dixie-Pickles and Preserving company, found busy Friday last supervising the work of remodeling his plant. It is going to be a beauty when the job is finished.

All salesmen with the Ward Truitt company have now made advance trips and are getting good orders for fall delivery on underwear, sweaters, etc.

C. C. Phillips, with the Capital City Tobacco company, has been busy in the

AN EXPLANATION Item in C. S. A. Column Gave Wrong Impression.

The item referred to in the following letter, unfortunately gave the impression that it was the Jacksonville hotels which were referred to. This was not the case. Mr. McNair, chairman of the committee for the City Salesmen's association, who had the arrangement of the annual excursion in charge, wrote to a resort hotel within the vicinity and failed to make satisfactory arrangements with them. In sending his report to this paper, inadvertently he referred to the hotel as being a Jacksonville hotel, considering it as being included. In justice to the Jacksonville hotels, we take pleasure in correcting the wrong impression made. The following letter from the Jacksonville Board of Trade explains itself:

"Jacksonville, Fla., April 25, 1912.—Editor Constitution: In a recent issue of your paper, April 13, in that part of same entitled, 'The Firing Line,' we notice some reference was made to the project of an excursion to Jacksonville by the Atlanta Salesmen's association, in which they stated that it had been abandoned owing to the fact that the hotel people of this city would not make them satisfactory terms.

"On reading this, we recently took up the matter with the different hotels, and we failed to find that any of them had been approached upon the matter. We would be delighted, indeed, to have a visit from the Atlanta Salesmen's association, and assure you that you can assure them that the hotel people of this city will be only too glad to make favorable rates for them.

"We hope that the injustice done to this city and the hotel association, will be rectified by the editor of the 'Firing Line' as soon as possible. Very truly yours,
"JACKSONVILLE BOARD OF TRADE,
"H. H. RICHARDSON, Secretary."

A Firm Which Understands Auto Truck Usage

The Capital City Tobacco company have used an auto truck in the delivery of their goods for some time past. But the distinction between their use of a truck and that of the average concern is that they have figured out exactly how much the truck is worth to them and what the benefits are in saving.

E. F. Malone, of the company, some time ago perfected a scheme by which he might keep track of the wear done by this truck. He uses a card (filling system and one card is used for each day. This card gives the number of trips, distance, time, amount of oil and gasoline used, repairs and time spent at the warehouse. Besides lots of other vital information.

Mr. Malone states that he can now figure out just how much work the truck is doing at what cost, incidentally he has a perfect check on the repair and upkeep bills. He is well satisfied that the truck is a money-saver for his firm and is pleased to show any inquirers the facts that he has discovered through this system.

In The Trenches

Joe Karpolek, with Montag Brothers, went out last week with his fall line, is sending in some particularly nice orders from N. W. Florida, and reports prospects good there.

The many friends of W. Harry Anderson, who sells "Premium Brand" shoes for the Gramling-Spalding Co., will be sorry to hear that he had to go back to St. Joseph's hospital last Friday. Mr. Anderson, who was convalescing from his recent illness, suffered a slight relapse, but it is not supposed to be anything serious.

P. H. Jeter, who travels in southwest Georgia for John Silvey & Co., is back on the job, after his bridal trip.

Henry Bauer, city salesman with the Atlanta Paper company, was all smiles this week. Asked if it was about the good business he had done in April, he said it was partly that and the good business he was going to do in May.

J. P. Hix, a recent addition to the sales force of the Gramling-Spalding Co., will start selling "Premium Brand" shoes in the South Carolina territory tomorrow. He will make his headquarters in Columbia.

Amongst the ins this with the S. P. Richards Co., are John H. Huff and J. M. Bennett.

E. L. Adams, of the E. L. Adams Co., spent a couple of days this week in the mountains of north Georgia on a business trip.

next three weeks. He is on an extended paper company, will not be in for the next three weeks. He is on an extended trip through southeast Georgia.

J. L. White, with the A. M. Robinson Co., leaves next Wednesday for his territory in Alabama. Mr. White makes his headquarters in Mobile, and will not be back in Atlanta until after the summer season. He will probably go on a business trip for his firm to Cuba before his return.

The Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt Co. report that as a result of the extensive advertising the manufacturers have been doing, that they are having a big demand for "Kloofin" petticoats. They add that it is also a splendid line and has always given satisfaction to their trade.

There was a happy look around the office of the Atlanta Paper company last week. The reason was that Sales Manager and Secretary M. J. Bernard will be back from his honeymoon trip this week.

Cliff Edwards, with Fain & Stamps Co., reports April as the best month he has had this year, and last week as the best week. On Monday last he took twenty-six orders of twenty-seven calls, which is a batting average of .963, which is not at all bad.

D. P. McDanel, Lewis Parker and Luther Parker are the ins with Ward-Trutt Co., this week.

Bill Gaston, city salesman with Fain & Stamps, reports that although he has had to employ a chauffeur to drive his car nearly all month, and although he has had to write his orders left handed, all as a result of the accident in which he broke his arm, that the month just closed was one of the best he ever had.

S. P. Helm, travelling eastern and southern Florida for Montag Brothers, starts out with his new fall line on Monday.

C. H. McKain has recently accepted the position of city salesman with James Brothers & Co. Mr. McKain is an experienced salesman and should make good right away in his new connection.

J. A. Massey, city salesman with the E. L. Adams Co., left the city for Charleston last Friday as one of the committee from the City Salesman's association to arrange about the annual excursion of the association.

E. E. Shyer, with the Consolidated Paper company, came in Saturday from Montgomery, where he had met with his usual big success in the way of business.

J. Wesley Kea, representing the A. M. Robinson Co. in Florida, came in and went out again this week with a new line of fall samples.

F. W. Webb, with the Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt Co., came in this week from his south Georgia territory.

J. C. Owens and W. T. Duncan, two of the Fain & Stamps salesmen, were asked what conditions were in their territories on Saturday. The combined reply goes something like this: "The farmers have all got their crops in."

The way in which Atlanta is reaching out for trade is daily growing more interesting. Business is coming here from all quarters of the globe. But the most important business that the Atlanta business men can cultivate is that lying south of us, in the Latin-American countries. As a sample of the way this business can be cultivated this incident is given:

The well-known house of Montag Bros. have been doing considerable business in Honduras for some time past. A part of a recent order they got from there was for the printing of a supply of letter-heads, envelopes and bill heads for a customer there. The out above shows the letter head. (Incidentally it may be remarked that the typesetters had a pleasant job setting a head in a language of which they were ignorant.)

It is a pertinent comment on the possibilities of this trade when it is seen that a firm in Honduras can profitably have their business printing done in Atlanta.

AN APPRECIATION OF A POPULAR SALESMAN

It is an unnecessary remark to say that the body of men who travel over this country in the interests of business compose the finest set of men in the world. Every one who knows them knows that that kind of a remark is superfluous. But, excellent as they all are, there is occasionally some one man in the craft who stands forth as a man of such superior excellence as to be worthy of special mention when a number of the boys get together and talk of their friends and co-workers on the road. And the man who wins special appreciation from these traveling men must be an unusual character to warrant their praise.

The subject of these preliminary remarks is a salesman who has held this position of honor amongst his peers for many years past. His name is John H. Huff, and he travels out of Atlanta for the S. E. Richards company, selling their line of paper, rubber goods, novelties, etc.

Mr. Huff travels mostly in Georgia. He makes his home in Griffin and works his territory from there. His character and reputation is of the very best and he stands as a man who follows the dictates of his own best beliefs in any and all circumstances. Recently a man who has known him well for many years tried to describe him. He spoke as fluently as he could for several minutes, but finally found that he could not convey the impression he wished and wound up by saying, "John Huff is—well, he is simply a fine gentleman." What more could any man say of his friend? And all those who know John Huff will understand and endorse the sentiment.

H. C. Parkinson, traveling for John Silvey & Co., and making his headquarters at Columbus, Ga., has gone out with his new fall line.

J. C. Mason, with the Consolidated Paper company, will spend Sunday at his home in Cuthbert, Ga.

Mr. Malone states that he can now figure out just how much work the truck is doing at what cost, incidentally he has a perfect check on the repair and upkeep bills. He is well satisfied that the truck is a money-saver for his firm and is pleased to show any inquirers the facts that he has discovered through this system.

SAM HANES HAPPY.

Ragan-Malone Co.'s Salesman Has Biggest Week in 2 Years.

It is customary for a salesman to be optimistic. And to achieve this result it is also customary for him to tell about the big business he is enjoying. But there is one man in Atlanta today who has every right to boast a little and who can truthfully say that he received a pleasant surprise in the amount of his last week's business. That man is Sam Hanes, who represents the Ragan-Malone company, and has just come in off the Georgia road. He brought with him a wonderful batch of orders, and the house felt like killing the proverbial calf in his honor. In fact, the total of these orders was such an attractive looking figure that they began looking back into history, and found that it was the best week's business Mr. Hanes has had for the past two years. And to those who know Mr. Hanes' reputation as a salesman this is sufficient proof that it surely was some business.

Colonel Scott, of the Scott Machinery company, states that their place of business on Forsyth street, which was slightly damaged by fire last week, will be repaired and ready for business again shortly.

W. P. Price, with the E. L. Adams company, has gone with his family to his old home in Gainesville, Ga., to spend Sunday and Monday.

F. H. Glasgow, city salesman for the Consolidated Paper company, has just concluded a splendid week. He states that his business was all of the "top shelf" variety this week.

George K. Christian, manager, and Chaumont Davison, proprietor of Davison-Faxon-Stokes' manufacturing department, believe in The Constitution Firing Line. They say that any number of people have referred to the story, which appeared in these columns last week.

Winder, Ga., May 3.—When Winder elected a mayor last fall it fell to the lot of one Charles Ferguson to undertake the job. Mr. Ferguson said he is called by most every one in Winder, is also an undertaker by profession, so that the proposition of "undertaking to do a thing" comes natural to him. He is a capable and expert undertaker and Winder is finding out that he is also a capable and most excellent mayor.

When he took up the reins of city government he dusted off the books known as the code of ordinances and found therein certain laws about Sundays. He found that it was contrary to the law for any kind of soft drinks, cigars and the like to be sold on the Sabbath. He also found that drug stores and other places were selling soft drinks and cigars and the like on Sunday, so he called the aldermen together and asked them "What about this Sunday law? Shall I have it enforced or do you want to repeal it? If you say enforce it I will do it. If you say not, then repeal it." They said enforce it.

He called the police up and told them that beginning the next Sunday there was to be "nothing doing" in the drink and cigar line Sundays. And the lid went on. In due time certain citizens came to him and said how about letting the drinks and cigars be sold on a few hours every Sunday, for so many of the boys forget to get their cigars and tobacco Saturday. Charlie made a deal with them, and they agreed to begin to get their tobacco and cigars Saturdays also. And Charlie told every one that as long as the ordinance stood, and so long as he was mayor it was to be enforced. Then he came to him the preachers and told him that since he has put the lid on that attendance at Sunday schools has been 50 per cent greater.

Also when certain people in the town now and then get crosswise of the law and cases had to be made against them, the cases were docketed by number and when called up for trial were called up by number and fines paid or collateral forfeited, which was very pleasant to the offender and kept his name out of the case. Nothing doing in this line with Charles Ferguson, mayor and men.

He tells the police force and men in the town that he is satisfied that the name and all the facts must go on docket and when the case is called the name is called, too. He says that there has been many less offenders since.

Nearly every town in Georgia is having the proposition made to them for lighting contracts now to be signed up between the power companies and the towns in which they agree to buy current from the power companies and sell it to the citizens. When the power companies their "standard contract" for the mayor sign, he reads the many pages and did not understand it. It was too complex, too many words and phrases to suit Charlie, so he goes out to other towns and finds that they have several different kinds of contracts and he won't sign till he sees that the citizens of Winder are safeguarded. The contract offered them was for ten years, and after that time this contract, with so many words and phrases, turned out to be a free franchise so that the power company would have the right to sell the power current and light direct to the consumers, tax free and thus secure a valuable franchise for nothing. And they would then be in position to profit the citizens by excessive rates, poor service and collar all the light and power business in the town.

Charles Ferguson won't stand for that while he is mayor of Winder. He is a small man with bright eyes and he naturally looks "blumb" through you when he gets his optics on you and it is no easy matter to fool him. He is a man that no amount of money would tempt to graft. He sees

CHILE CON CARNE

R. M. Sloan, traveling for the Lamar & Hankin Drug company came in Friday from a two weeks' trip on the Georgia road. He went out again Saturday after some more of the good bills he had brought in with him.

The Hirschberg company have all their men in at present working on their new samples. The bunch includes Herman Teitelbaum, Mack Hirschberg, W. C. Tennant, J. R. Callier, Max Sautuels, Will Hirschberg, Nathan Saltzman and Sam Saltzman.

W. L. Gillian is the name of the new manager for Kingan & Co., Ltd., in the city. He arrived to take over his new duties last week.

W. W. Bullock, traveling for John Silvey & Co. in North Carolina, and making his home at Newberry, in that state, is out with his fall line.

Jones Bros. & Co., the pickle and preserve people, have the following men out on the road for them: W. R. Stronson, who is first vice president of the company, travels Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama; R. E. Dawson is in Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and south Georgia; Leslie Miller is in south Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee, and C. M. McKain works the city trade.

C. P. Webb, in Alabama for the Warren Manufacturing company, is the winner of the $10 gold piece which his company gives each month to the salesman leading in sales. This is the first time Mr. Webb has won it. But it won't be the last.

C. F. Holt, sales manager for the Dixie Pickle and Preserve company, was in Micon this week. While there he sold goods in carload lots and came back feeling quite young and good as a consequence.

T. B. Lewis, with the Capital City Tobacco company, has been working the north Georgia territory this week and has made such points as Athens, Winder, Toccoa, Gainesville, etc. The result has been big business.

J. A. Cook and F. M. Cattlett, of the Atlanta Casket company, are in the city for Sunday.

C. D. Dickinson and J. O. Chambers were the only ins this week with Brown, Perryman & Greene company unless some of the other boys came in late.

WHAT THE WILD WAVES ARE SAYING

STRAIGHTFORWARDNESS!

A straightforward business will eventually go straightforward to success.

The man who is not straightforward is crooked. And the man who is at all crooked will sooner or later step over the line from moral crookedness to legal crookedness.

By straightforwardness is meant absolute frankness in your dealings with all the people.

When you can't pay a bill, don't procrastinate, but tell your creditor frankly why and wherefore of your inability. He will gladly give you every extension possible.

But if you are not frank with him and try to bluff him out of his dues, he will take steps to see that he is protected regardless of your well-being.

If you are always straightforward with your customers, they will come to rely in what you tell them. The biggest attraction to any store is absolute reliance in the statements of the proprietor.

Reliance outdoes even price in attracting trade and holding it.

Our good wishes are altogether with the retail merchants of Georgia in their fight for the bills which will protect them from the deadbeat and the swindler. Honest business, unfortunately, needs protection, but its greatest protection lies in its own hands. Its honesty is that protection.

The salesman who deals in straightforwardness will endeavor to tell his trade the truths about the goods he is carrying at all times. The man who tries to sell goods on bluff and then goes on and tries to make a sale. Good with apologies will not last long. He is doomed to failure, where the man who sells the goods on their merits alone and sees that they are represented right, will grow continually until he reaches the goal of success, which is at the end of the straightforward lane.

It's a long lane that has no turning, but the lane which always goes ahead is sure to get there eventually.

JENKINS WRITES OF ENJOYABLE MEETING

Park Street Church Holds Banquet Which Many T. P. A. Members Attend.

Editor Constitution Firing Line: It was my pleasure to be present, last Tuesday evening, at one of the prettiest banquets that was ever spread in Atlanta. This was at Park Street Methodist church, in beautiful West End. The banquet was arranged by the ladies of the church for the male members, but the committee of lovely women was also there. God bless them; we find them at work in all the fields of noble endeavor. Side by side man and woman went out of the Garden of Eden, into the barren world, and ever since they have labored hand in hand. In times past they may have wandered far from their ideals, but they are returning. We find them jointly at work in every good cause that leads onward and upward to God. In this day and time man does not want heaven if woman cannot be permitted to share its glories with him. All are pulling together to achieve one grand and noble purpose—the bringing about of goodwill, happiness and truth on earth.

Everyone present felt better for having been at this banquet, and went away after three of the most pleasant hours ever enjoyed, feeling a willingness to help and a cheerful, active, intelligent, earnest wish to be useful. Speeches were made by Colonel E. W. Carter, Hon. Hubert Culbertson, Colonel Ed Williams, Dr. J. W. White, Dr. T. D. Longino, Hon. R. A. Broyles, M. M. Davies and others. One of the best was by Mr. Floyd, superintendent of the Park Street Sunday school.

Mr. W. J. Dickson satisfied the 300 guests who wanted to know the cost of the new building. This gentleman deserves much credit for what he has done. He has been faithful, active, cooperative, until today the church has a membership second to none for beauty and religious growth. The property is worth about $100,000, with a balance of about $20,000 resting on the indebtedness. Our heart is with them, and they can count on those present in helping to cancel that debt. It is not impossible for us to live up to the high ideals as outlined by the speakers. One of the great duties of life is not to give pain, but pleasure. No one can find excuse for wounding the heart of a fellow creature. For our own good we should be generous and show kindness to the carolers, at home or abroad, in the church on Sundays or in the busy throng during the week. We are all somewhat dependent on others and better served in what we might call the trifles of life when loved rather than if feared. The same rule will hold good in the weightier affairs of life. It is best to live well by laughing often and loving much. As Dr. S. R. Bell said, it will make the world grow and expand and all will be benefited. Tours very truly,

W. M. JENKINS, Press Chairman T. P. A. RAMBO WILL ATTEND.

Will Go to Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association.

R. K. Rambo, the popular sales manager for John Silvey & Co. will attend the meeting of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association to be held in Chattanooga on Wednesday and Thursday this week. He will represent his firm at the meeting.

BUSINESS BUILDERS

THE SALESMAN'S MOTTO: I will accomplish everything within the power of energy, tact and resourcefulness; nay, more, I will attempt and overcome the impossible.

SALESMANSHIP

Unless a salesman has the proper appreciation of his position in the business world, he does not stand a decent chance to make good in his work. The man who regards himself as merely a walking catalog and price list has no understanding of the duties of his position. The salesman who is fully informed as to his own duties will realize that he is much more than this and act accordingly.

One of the first duties of a salesman is to look out for the interests of his customers. To do this he should be alive to every advantage which can be secured by the class of business men on which he calls. He should be posted on all new ideas and movements for the betterment of that class of trade. If he is calling on the retail trade he should know of any bills which are before the legislature which will be of benefit to the retailers and should use all his influence towards the passing of these bills. He can do this by doing missionary work among the retailers themselves, many of whom are not as well posted as they should be on these matters which vitally concern them and their business.

Then he should know the latest ideas which have been found for the direct betterment of the retailers' business. If he can keep himself posted on selling methods and advertising, that much more to his trade and worth will pay him in increased orders.

He should also so train himself that he will recognize at once when a retailer is going something which is not good for his business, and be able to hang out the danger signal. If the merchant is giving too much credit, if he is buying in too large quantities, if he is employing too much help for the size of his business, the salesman who is alive to his position will tactfully point out these facts to him and so help him to conduct his business in the way which will bring the biggest returns.

The salesman should always remember that the better business the retailer does the better through him, and a big record on a good salesman's books is not made by forced sales and continuous new accounts, but by the careful and proper development of the old accounts.

There is one feature alone which the salesman should try to look after, and which is generally overlooked. That is the matter of fire insurance. The wholesale house which would not consider carrying a stock without adequate protection against fire will let the retailer have almost unlimited credit. That is the matter of fire insurance. The wholesale house which would not consider carrying a stock without adequate protection against fire will let the retailer have almost unlimited credit.

There are thousands of points such as this that the traveling salesman should do his best to look after. He is not only helping the retailers, but is helping and protecting his own firm also.

There are many angles to this question of salesmanship and it will be, unalterably the last man has entered into the long sleep and the last deal between human beings has been consummated.

RETAIL MEN

There is a new spirit coming into the retail business of the country, which cannot be too highly commended. This is the spirit of co-operation, which was practically unknown to our forefathers. Fifty years ago the favorite slogan of all business was 'competition is the life of trade.' That may have been true then but is no longer so. The different ages in the history of business are as easily traced as are those in the history of man. We are now going into the co-operative stage, and instead of trying to cut each others throats, the doorkeepers of the business are coming into a sane and wise work together they are able to give the public better service and better goods, which brings to them better profits and more lasting success.

The price cutter and the monopoly breaker, who would squeeze their rivals out of business altogether, are like the hog in the trough who would keep all the other pigs from eating, whether he wanted to eat all the swill himself or not. The up-to-date business man, who strives to give the best to his trade and to get in return a fair, living profit in return, realizes that the prime factor in his being is the service of his customers, and that he can better assure them good service through active co-operation with his outworn rivals than by bitter enmity. It is a logical axiom that the ideas of two men must amount to more than the ideas of one. When two merchants can get together and exchange ideas without bickering an effort to outwit each other, the customers of them both will feel the benefit in the good ideas which each has been able to give to the other. Then, there is probably no body of men in the world who are more poorly protected against the parasites that prey upon them than the retail merchants. Now that they are learning to get together and compare notes for their mutual benefit, the power which they have as a whole is becoming evident to them all, and by this combination they are realizing that the world would influence and can work together in sufficient harmony, to force the powers that be to give them the protection which they have hitherto needed and cried for in such an intellectual manner.

PUBLICITY POINTERS

Attractive originality is the keynote of successful advertising. None of the big advertisers in the country would have won any of their success if they had not displayed sufficient novelty in their advertising campaigns to make the public notice and talk about their copy.

The great trouble with many prospective advertisers today is that they do not grasp the original ideas which they do conceive. They let them go, thinking that anyway it would not work, and that probably somebody else has got the idea before. What if someone else has? The very fact that it is not generally known that they have is sufficient proof that they have not used the idea. A merchant should never be ashamed of his own original ideas. Use them and they will bring in the results in the way in which they will make people talk. There are thousands of ideas which come up every day, which would prove to be big paying publicity investments, only the man who thinks of them let them pass without acting on the moment when the idea is new and fresh in their minds.

Here is an idea for a laundry. Have a card printed for the window as follows:

"Did your collar scratch your neck when you twisted it to read? If so, send your collars to us and we will see that there are no rough edges to scratch your neck, no matter what position your are in."

Then place this card in the window upside down.

That is only one of thousands of novel ideas which would cause comment, and which have not yet been used—at least, not extensively.

When you are sending out your advice cards to the trade you are to call on in the next few weeks, add at the bottom of each card the name of the leader you are pushing at the time. Write, "ask me about Black's coffee, or whatever it is."

That is sufficiently novel to stick in the merchant's mind, and in many cases he will ask about the one thing which will give an opening for the selling talk.

There are thousands of these seemingly little ideas which can be worked up, and they will surely pay for the time, labor and expense of getting them out.

THE CREDIT MEN

The advantage for the merchant in the getting together of the credit men of any market is large, if the merchant will only conduct his business in such a way as to take advantage of this benefit.

When a merchant has shown the credit man of a certain firm that he is worthy of trust and the extension of his credit, and that he is going to give a favorable report on the merchant to all other credit men who ask about him. The value of a credit men's association where the members get together at regular intervals and exchange notes and ideas, is thus increased in order that the merchant who does his business on credit, may board his credit and treats the credit man of the old firm with proper consideration and fairness. That credit man will repay this by speaking a good word for the merchant when he meets his brother credit man at the meetings, and will thus start the merchant on the way to securing a good line of credit from all the different houses represented in the association.

But to get the benefit of having a credit man favorable to him, a merchant should remember that he must treat that credit man properly. It is an unfortunate habit on the part of many merchants when they get into financial troubles to not tell their creditors about it, but to simply ignore the letters about the accounts due, or pay due, and let the meetings of the strongest allies he can have in the conduct of his business for a thief of his fair name and an evil partner who will only prove to be a snare and a delusion.

Merchants, be frank with your creditors. When your bills fall due, meet them if you can, but if you can't, write and tell the true situation. If you desire an extension, the credit man will, in nine cases out of ten, grant it freely and voluntarily if you are truthful and frank with him. Whereas if you are evasive and either do not give a proper answer to his inquiries, or else ignore them altogether, the credit man is going to get his money from you just as quickly as he can, by the easiest means he can, and is not going to grant you the credit you will desire in the future. For your welfare, treat these credit men right, be frank and get in the good graces of the men who make your business possible. They will give each other reports about you at their meetings and the best report will not necessarily be about the man who has the largest amount of capital invested in his business. Business honesty is capital that you may have just as freely as anyone and the sooner you get it the better are you in position to conduct a business, such as you have dreamed of at the time when you thought the country was reformed. Reform yourself and you will find that the greater part of your country is reformed also.

P. W. PERCY RETURNS TO HIS OLD LOVE

P. W. Percy, one of the best known salesmen who have ever traveled out of Atlanta, is back with the A. M. Robinson company. Mr. Percy used to travel for this company years ago, and it is now ten or twelve years since he last carried samples of the Aragon brand. He states that he has not been able to find anything else so profitable to sell and so has returned to the connection with which he made a splendid reputation years ago. Mr. Percy will handle the South Carolina territory for the company and left for that state last Friday.

An Appeal for Broad-Gauge Merchants

By JOHN BRATTON, Secretary Georgia Retail Merchants' Association.

A broad-gauge merchant is one who believes in a live and lot live policy. By this we mean one who is willing that other merchants be given the same show in the commercial life as he, and who is willing to co-operate with his brother merchants in any move looking to improved conditions. The regret is that there are some merchants who are not of the broad-gauge kind, but on the other hand are narrow and self-contained in their views and unwilling to grant other fellow even a half loaf. Ever ready to find fault and oppose any move in which they do not see self-aggrandizement and a lion's share of profit or benefit to themselves.

The broad-gauge merchant stands ready at all times to encourage and suggest ways and means of improvement of the interests of which he is a part. Ready to give of his time and money to the end that his competitors (or rather colleagues) may share with him in the prosperity that may come from his efforts in a common cause.

The narrow gauge merchant is of course the opposite of the broad-gauge one, and is always on the lookout for an opportunity to throw cold water on every project in which he is not the prime mover. Co-operation is an unknown quantity in his makeup, and he sees no good in anything but to imply individual success for him.

Special Representative Roberts, of the Retail Merchants' Association of Georgia, who has been touring the state in the interest of the garnishment and fraudulent check bills, has classes interested about the work. Mr. Roberts, "that there are not more of the broad-gauge merchants. Whenever we have come in contact with him our work has been easy and he was not long in seeing that the work we were doing was for his good and that he should come out from behind the wall of indifference and self-complacency into the lime-light of active energy and effort in his own behalf in order that his own interests might be best sub-served."

Mr. Roberts sums up the situation aptly and to the point. He cites conditions as they are in a nutshell and proves conclusively that the average merchant is not of the broad-gauge kind, and stands in his own light, thus and so it now.

Thus regarding the growth and prosperity of the merchant body. A lack of co-operation on the part of the merchants of the state with the officers of their state association accounts for the slow progress in the enactment of the legislation needed by them. Hence its inception the Retail Merchants' Association of Georgia has been striving diligently and persistently to remedy conditions as related to the retailers of the state. That they need remedying is not questioned by those who give the subject any thought whatever, and were our merchants all thinking men, the aim and purposes of our organization would have been accomplished ere this, and victory would now be inscribed on our banner. Much good, however, has been accomplished. Where there was only a hand at the start, the ranks have been recruited until now we have a splendid army of co-workers—broad-gauge merchants—laboring with an eye single for laws that will give to the retail merchant the protection to which he is entitled against the deadbeat and the swindler, and we believe that before many moons shall have passed over our heads they can as one mighty chorus exclaim, "Eureka!"

While we have a superabundance of hope and confidence as to the ultimate result of the comparison of two men, that there is still much work that remains to be done, and that only through untiring effort on the part of the merchants throughout the state can the ends desired be attained.

We submit herewith for your consideration the comparison of two men of cantile characters. We have arrayed one against the other, to which class do you belong? Are you a broad-gauge or a narrow-gauge merchant? It will not require a very minute investigation for you to determine this. If you are with the latter class for God's sake and your own sake, and the sake of your family and your brother merchant, move over into the class of the broad-gauge merchants, those who do things because it is right that they should, and who lay aside petty jealousies, exempting the highest degree of patriotism in that they are willing to sacrifice personal interests that the greatest good may come to the greatest number of those engaged in mercantile pursuits.

Don't be a goat any longer. Get in the foreground with your brother merchants in the sunlight of progressiveness and demand of our lawmakers such laws as will put you on an equal footing with other interests. Do this and do it now.

Is There a Psychological Reason?

How is it that when a salesman is traveling for a house that carries a dozen different lines of goods, or more, that he will make big sales in one line and next to none in another? While his brother salesman, apparently under the same conditions, sells the line that salesman No. 1 practically ignores, and in his turn, gets no results with his partner's big seller.

This is a question in salesmanship that was recently brought up in the office of a leading local wholesale house, and no one there was able to give a satisfactory answer. The final decision was that it is just a matter of liking on the part of the salesman, and that there is no more reason than there is why a bachelor should like to talk with one young lady and not at all with another.

But there must be some reason. Possibly it is a deep psychological reason, and possibly it is simply a matter of training and territory. But whatever the reason is, it would be interesting to find it out. The readers of these columns are invited to give their views on the matter and maybe, with the help of many minds, it will be possible to arrive at some satisfactory conclusion. Send in the letters, anyway, and let us see what it is.

A Satisfactory Bread Account is a big asset, it brings a large number of people to your store. It is in daily demand and requires practically no investment. Tip-Top bread satisfies—hundreds of merchants will testify that it is the best seller in their house. Samples for the asking. A postal card will bring this and the price. Write us today.

DAISY TIME

THREE charming frocks for spring afternoon wear are shown on this page. They are all of light, dainty fabrics and are extremely pretty and artistic in their simplicity. The first is of figured voile and is made with draped tunic, a becoming style to slight figures. The kimono blouse and elbow sleeves show a fashion which has again come into favor, though the kimono blouse can hardly be said to have lost its popularity at any time. A second gown of rose linen is simple and shows the Robespierre collar. The remaining figure shows the back of the first gown. The hats pictured on this page are smart and becoming affairs of light chip or straw.

This Attractive And Useful Design For Needleworkers Can Be Transferred Without Recourse To The Old And Obsolete Tracing Paper Method Which Is Unreliable At Best.

Panel embroidery antedates to the earliest use of needlework at which time less work was done but it was more beautifully wrought thus bringing much of it into history. Panel embroidery demands the greatest care in following each and every line with every stitch as a significant feature. Careless work should not be tolerated for once the panel is finished it is a thing of beauty. Silks are used in bringing out the perfect design and any number of colors can be used though dull tones such as are shown in tapestry are best suited to the work. If care is exercised this entire panel can be worked in flat surface effect. The background must be worked wholly in one tone and in one direction should be distinguishable. The ribbon and scroll effects can be in heavy relief raised slightly but not padded. The Battenburg stitches are used here and the flowers can be made wholly in lace stitches if, however they are made in Battenburg lace fashion on their embroidery the outside leaves in solid satin stitch. Only very fine silk or floss will look attractive for use in either pattern.

TO TRANSFER THIS DESIGN

Put a cake of soap (laundry will do) in a pint of hot water stir vigorously and remove the soap. Saturate this Design with the soap and water mixture then remove the excess moisture by partially drying the saturated Design or by applying a sheet of blotting paper. Place the material or fabric to which the design is to be transferred on a hard flat surface and lay the Design face down upon the material. Cover with a dry sheet of thick paper or two folds of newspaper, and with the bowl of a tablespoon rub pressing hard until the Design is entirely transferred being careful to rub rather than toward you. When rubbing you can see if enough pressure is being applied by lifting a corner of the Design to note how well it is taking. Do not wet the material nor rub the face of the Design with damp fingers. To remove the Design lines after the article is completed wash in warm water with soap. The entire process is very simple and with a little care you can easily make perfect transfers to any kind of goods.

SMOOTHING WRINKLES

Now Done By Electricity.

BY LUCILLE DAUDET

Many women are taken by surprise by a sudden or rather premature appearance of aging upon their faces and worry themselves nearly sick over it never for one minute considering that it is to be attributed to nothing else but the food consumed.

If you eat food that does not agree with your system your digestive organs will never do their work properly and the consequence will be in all probability fine lines and an aging of the face long before you are old enough for this manifestation. The first step I would suggest is to take a complete change in diet.

Much to the disgust of the American woman it is a fact that her complexion is not her strong suit quite the contrary she ranges way after the English German and Scandinavian women as far as this is concerned.

True the American eats only three meals a day but three square ones, beginning with breakfast, which in every other country would make a good sized dinner. What other nations would ever dream of such a thing? Meat for breakfast and the worst about these hearty breakfasts is that one does not take the time to digest them properly nor is the food properly chewed and the result is acute indigestion and a cloudy blotchy skin.

The Southern woman with the beautiful clear, spotless complexion would snap her fingers at a breakfast consisting of all sorts of meat, eggs, coffee and other Northern essentials—all she wants is some nice fresh fruit—an orange, or a peach or two—a bit of fresh bread with butter and a cup of milk or chocolate. And this, possibly with the addition of some simple nourishing breakfast cereal, would be plenty for any woman, and will be certain not to have any disadvantageous effect upon the skin of anyone.

The beauty experts have now devised a method of getting rid of wrinkles by means of the electric iron. Here is the plan:

Moisten the face to be treated with very hot water; dry it lightly and massage with some good skin food, over which a damp cloth is spread, and then with a warm—not hot—electric iron proceed to iron out the wrinkles. This is a new form of steaming the face and a very much improved one as it will prove a good deal more effective than ordinary steaming.

If the wrinkles are very deep set, the face must undergo a complete laundering process. It must first be washed with hot water and soap, then rather the face with a thick soap jelly, after which rub it with the finger tips into the skin. After one is through with this the tough outer skin has been removed and the coloring is exquisitely delicate.

Next comes the pressing. The electric iron which must be kept at a steady even temperature will, it is claimed, work absolute wonders on the skin, pressing out all the wrinkles and furrows as though by magic.

The woman who grows fat may temporarily lose her wrinkles, but as soon as she engages in trying to reduce her weight the wrinkles will show and show plainly, merely for the reason that she did not know how to treat her face while reducing flesh.

The skin must be tightened up a case like this daily bathing the flesh with brominated facial wash, acting as an astringent, tightening the cuticle and preventing the gathering of the wrinkles. A bag of pine needles thrown into the bath will also prevent the wrinkling of the skin.

With all these remedies and preventing and curing methods the face ought to grow prettier from day to day or at least, should stay pretty for an indefinite time and there no longer is an excuse for bad complexion and wrinkles as they can be so easily removed.

A woman certainly not only has the right to make herself as attractive as she possibly can, but she ought to consider it a duty, homeliness no longer being an affliction against which one cannot fight, but, unless there are grave organic reasons, sheer neglect.

MAKE a slip the proper size, turn wrong side out, cover thickly with cotton batting, and tack firm with twine. Turn right side out again and fill with excelsior that has been clipped fine with scissors, and you will have a satisfactory pillow at little cost.

DAMP room or cupboard may be dried by keeping in it a jar containing quicklime. The lime will absorb the damp and keep the air dry and pure. It must be frequently renewed, as it loses its power.

CHOOSING A HUSBAND

BY MRS. MCGUNE

Don't expect to find a perfect man. You will wait long if you do, before you find him and when you think you have him also I fear that you will upon intimate acquaintance discover some flaw.

Most men have their failings. But we should distinguish between those failings and infirmities and moral delinquencies.

No greater mistake can be made than for a woman to marry a man for the purpose of reforming him. This experience has been tried too many times and disastrously failed to give much hope. The girl who marries a man who drinks runs an awful risk of unhappiness and misery. The fate of tens of thousands ought to warn her not to trust her welfare to such a man.

There is only one foundation for true marriage and that is love. Marry simply and solely for love.

This alone is worthy of human beings. This alone can hallow the married life, give grace to its trials, strength for its burdens, patience for its discords and sanctify its relations.

But before you give your love, be sure that its object is lovable. Love should be subject to reason, and unless the object of your affection can also command your respect, and satisfy your judgment, you would better tear the fruit from your heart. Otherwise it will bear only disappointment and sorrow.

Demand, then, in your would-be husband, that he be a manly man. Manhood is always at a premium. It was never more so than today, and nowhere is it more desirable than in married life.

Some will tell you that money is an indispensable condition, that it must enter into the eligibility of a husband. It is not to be despised. But money is as often a curse as it is a blessing.

The greatest, purest happiness is not confined to the circles of the rich. Every once in a while the curtain is drawn aside and the public gets a glimpse of the life of the wealthy. Not infrequently there is revealed an amount of infelicity which is painful to contemplate.

Money, which they possess in plenty, has been only a source of unhappiness to these people.

CONQUER YOUR PET HABITS

BY ANNETTE ANGERT

Small habits and mannerisms often taken good or bad breeding. It is hard to cure one's self of everyday mannerisms, but it can be done if you keep at it perseveringly.

Take for instance, the habit of yawning in public without making any attempt to conceal your widely opened mouth. No man or woman who had any claim to good breeding would think of doing such a thing. Not only is it extremely unbecoming to stretch your mouth from ear to ear but it is not a pleasant sight for other people.

Of course you can't keep from yawning but you can place your hand over your mouth when you do yawn. Another rude and exceedingly aggravating habit is that of interrupting conversation, taking the words out of people's mouths and carrying on the story yourself. Wait until the other person is finished and then have your say.

I know a woman who always breathes right into your face when she talks to you. If you move back she moves a step closer. It gets on your nerves until you almost give her a good vigorous push.

A very objectionable habit in women is that of crossing their knees. It is un ladylike.

To walk out of a restaurant with a toothpick in your mouth or use a toothpick at all is the very acme of ill breeding.

Don't talk at the top of your voice about your own private concerns when in public, the public is not interested and prefers to read its newspaper in peace.

There is another very annoying habit that is common to a great many people. It is the habit of asking questions and not listening to the answers which necessitates asking the same question three or four times.

It is a habit that makes a man push past a woman getting on or off a car. He does not save ten seconds by his rudeness, but he is so in the habit of pushing his way along that he does it mechanically.

A very good-looking woman of my acquaintance has a habit of pinching her nose. It is a very nice nose but she makes it fiery red about half the time by her pinching. She does not realize how often she does it, and eventually it will spoil her looks.

It's no use saying that you can't care a habit like any of the small ones mentioned. You can if you exercise your will power. It won't take long, just keep it continually on your mind,

EVENING GOWNS

BY EDNA EGAN

The modish evening gown at present is highly colorful and picturesque. It is draped in the most attractive manner and fashioned of the loveliest fabrics the loom can weave.

Brocades in the most wonderful designs frequently outfitted with threads of gold or silver are used extensively to fashion evening gowns.

White silk brocaded in silver was fashioned into a gown with soft skirt draperies. The corsage, beautifully ornamented with embroidery of crystal and silver beads, had bands of white outlining the décolletage and sleeves which were formed of chiffon points.

At the opera this season the lovely poppy pink and red, citron yellow, madonna blue, eggplant purple and malachite green are much in evidence, though many fashionable women cling to the white embroidered with gold or silver, or black elaborately beaded with crystal and pearl beads.

A gown which attracted attention was fashioned of poppy pink satin brocaded in gold. From either side of a box pleat, which extended the entire length of the front, a semi-pannier drapery fell below the knees.

The low bodice of brocade was veiled with a deep collar of filmy gold lace, and the undersleeves were of flesh-colored chiffon.

Another striking gown noticed the same evening was of silver brocade with a tunic drapery of black net embroidered with silver and rhinestones. The lace partly veils the bodice and forms the short sleeves, which are left open to show the arm to the shoulder, but are caught at the bottom with a silver ornament.

Outlining the décolletage is a trelis arrangement of rhinestones. The one bit of color introduced is a flame-colored belt decorated with a rhinestone ornament in front. In the back the velvet forms a long sash end, with one outstanding loop on the bodice.

Many smart evening gowns are trimmed with narrow bands of fur. This note is sounded strongly of most of the Parisian models.

Cracks will not crack when cut if a little thick cream is added to it. Allow one teaspoonful to each white of egg.

To mend the side of an iron utensil use putty. Place ashes and salt over the putty which will thus be effectually hardened in a few days.

If clothes are soaked overnight the labor of washing will be greatly lightened by adding one teaspoonful of pure ammonia to each tub or water.

After removing all dust wipe screen doors with kerosene and they will look new and as long as the odor remains mosquitoes and moth millers will give them a wide berth.

Venetian cloth which has worn shabby in parts can be renovated in a simple manner. Boil the material in a wet cloth and leave for several hours. Hold one inch above it a very hot iron. The steam arising from the damp goods will raise the nap of the cloth.

A HOUSEWIFE who was puzzled to know how she could put fruit in the refrigerator and not have it scent the butter and milk by the side of it caught the idea of emptying out the baskets into a few cans and putting on the tops.

Five or six thicknesses of common newspaper placed between light layers of cotton and covered and tacked in the usual way make a quilt. Those who have not tried it will be surprised at its warmth and durability. In these days of high priced cotton many will find this an economical means of keeping warm.

In washing paint be sure to use clean, hot water and as little soap as possible. Dry the paint very quickly, as it will be injured and become streaky by the water being left resting on it. If there be dirty spots, rub with turpentine, using only a little on the cloth. If the paint be unvarnished use white in the water or wash with cold tea. The flannel for washing must not be wet much and the paint should be dried quickly. No scrubbing brush should ever be used on paint.

If when taking the meat of the lobster out of the shell you will work on an opened newspaper it is a simple matter to pick up the refuse without so much as soiling the table on which it has lain.

To remove furniture dents wet the scar with warm water. Soak brown paper double it about four times lay it over the dent and press with a hot iron. Leave the iron on the paper until all moisture is absorbed. If the dent is not then removed repeat the process.

Soak water you wash rice in for a thin starch. Boil and add a bit of paraffine.

When washing the hair put the soap in one of the small salt bags. Save small pieces of soap in small salt bags and use in dish water. Vinegar and salt will clean water bottles vases pitchers, etc.

Buy from the baker by the dozen the fifty pound flour sacks wash and hem them and you will have plenty of tea towels cheap and good.

GLASS flower vases are apt to be some much stained in time, especially if such flowers as magnonette and forget-me-nots are left in them for a few days without changing the water. To remove the stains a few methods are better than that of placing a handful of used tea leaves at the bottom of the vase with a little vinegar and with the hand placed across the top shaking it until the marks have disappeared. If not completely eliminated, this should be repeated, while in addition a rag wound around a stick and pushed into the crevices will effectually remove the most obstinate stains.

COLLECTOR'S SUMMER WEAR

THE draped coat is the rage! Hardly a wrap shown this spring shows the straight lines so long popular; even the little suit coats display the same tendency for drapery, as is shown in one of the illustrations on this page.

And the coats are much shorter, too, and this abbreviated appearance extends to the evening coats as well. Nowadays it is quite the thing to see an evening gown, only covered as far as the knees, or in some instances, but a short way below the hips.

In the first illustration on this page, a smart little coat for wear over a summer gown is displayed. It is of broadcloth with peplum and revers of Bulgarian embroidery. This little garment is particularly appropriate for a young girl. The back of the coat is shown in the illustration at the bottom of the page. In the center a smart coat of moire is shown. This, also, is brightened with a touch of Bulgarian tinted silk, and is lined with thin silk, and designed for Summer wear.

Of corded silk, the coat in the upper right-hand corner of the page, shows the exaggerated shoulder line, so much favored at present. The sleeves are loose and confined at the wrist with a close-fitting cuff.

The attractive little suit coat worn by the figure in the remaining illustration, is extremely chic, although quite simple and devoid of any trimming, but the exquisitely embroidered collar.

YEGGS AT ADAIRSVILLE DYNAMITE POSTOFFICE

$1,500 Taken by Thieves—Second Time Office Has Been Robbed in Three Years.

Adairsville, Ga., May 3.—(Special).—The postoffice at this place was entered this morning and $1,500 taken, so C. H. Dyer, the postmaster, states. The explosion stopped the clock at 2:24.

The tools for gaining admission to the house were obtained from a blacksmith shop nearby. The men failed to gain admission at the front, but did get into the back door. The safe was blown with nitroglycerin. No stamps were taken, neither were the checks for the rural carriers, which arrived yesterday.

No clue was left. Government inspectors are expected today. It is the second time the same office has been robbed in three years.

FARMER OF LAURENS KILLS HIS CROPPER

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict Will Veal for the Killing of Evans.

Dublin, Ga., May 3.—(Special).—Will Veal shot and killed one of his croppers named Evans early this morning and the grand jury in session here today, after investigating the matter, refused to indict him.

Veal and Evans had an altercation Friday afternoon. It is said, over the fact that Veal was using one of Evans' plows, and it is also said that Evans ran Veal from the field with a large knife. According to witnesses, this morning the two men met in the road. Veal with his mules on the way to start his day's plowing. Evans asked him where he intended to plow, and on being told that he intended to plow in a certain field, Evans replied with an oath that he was not, and started toward Veal, getting his knife from his pocket as he went.

Veal dodged around the mules and Evans followed him with knife. After he had run around the mules several times, Veal pulled his pistol and shot Evans four or five times, killing him. Sheriff Flanders was telephoned for and when he arrived Veal gave himself up and was brought to Dublin, where the grand jury immediately took up the case and investigated it.

There were several witnesses to the tragedy, and after hearing the evidence the grand jury returned "not guilty."

MOB SOUGHT TO LYNCH WOMAN WHO KILLED MAN

But Mayor of Gary Put Woman in Auto and Eluded the Mob.

Gary, Ind., May 3.—When it was learned that Mrs. Grace Smith, who shot and killed Clarence Murphy in a saloon here last Wednesday night was to be taken from the city lockup to the county seat at Crown Point, a hundred or more switchmen held a meeting this afternoon. It was reported, it was determined to lynch the woman. Pickets were disposed along the automobile road from this city to Crown Point and a body of lynchers was posted several miles outside on the road. Murphy was a popular member of the Gary local of the Switchmen's union. At the meeting where the resolution to take the woman from the police was passed by acclamation, there were many who favored sparing her life in favor of a coat of tar and feathers.

When Police Chief Neuman learned of the plot he determined to brave the mob and take the prisoner to Crown Point.

Mob Was Eluded.
Crown Point, Ind., May 3.—Using Mayor Knott's automobile and making a detour around the point where the mob was lynchings were posted, Grace Smith was safely lodged in jail here at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The mob was not sighted.

TOWNS WINS THE MEDAL FOR BEST EXAMINATION

George W. Towns, of Holguin, Cuba, a student at the Georgia Military academy, and who is president of the G. M. A. Baraca class of College Park Baptist church, has again walked off with the medal offered by Mrs. G. B. Lindsey, the teacher of the class, for the best written examination on the full quarter's Sunday school lessons just ended.

There is special honor attached to Baraca emblem, watch fob, because of the winning of this medal, which is a fact that thirty-three of G. M. A.'s brightest boys compose this class, and they were on their honor to receive no help except from study of their Bible or lessons quarterly.

LENIENCY NOT AGREED UPON, DECLARES BRAND

Judge Who Sentenced Bankers Makes Statement in Reference to Appeals Court Decision.

Athens, Ga., May 3.—(Special).—Judge C. H. Brand, of this circuit, has furnished to the press the following statement in reference to the reversal by the court of appeals of his sentence of the two bankers here, who are now out under bond and whose cases have been assigned for new trial on June 23.

Brand says: "Athens, Ga., May 1, 1913.—On last Saturday and Monday following I had assigned for trial at chambers under orders of the court previously granted fourteen cases in which attorneys from the counties of Banks, Habersham, Hall, Gwinnett, Clarke, Jackson and Walton were interested. I was informed by some of these attorneys that the impression had gone abroad, not only in this circuit, but out of the circuit, that I misled the state and defendants' attorneys in the Griffin and McCrary cases, and that the plea of guilty entered was not entered on the conviction that I was a party to the agreement to let them off on payment of a fine of $500.

This is not true, and I will not stand for this impression to go uncorrected. I do not know what it is, but it is not true. No one but the lawyers of the state will ever read the opinion of the court of appeals in these cases, or likely have the opportunity of reading any of the defendants' attorneys will ever read the record. . . . To the fact: In the first place, there were nine lawyers in one way and another representing the defendants in these cases. Not a single one of them ever approached me or the state's attorney or ever expressed or intimated to me about what sentence I would impose. So much for the defendants' attorneys.

What Attorneys Stated.
While these attorneys took the position that they entered their plea of guilty under the belief that the court would carry out the agreement between them and the state's counsel, they "did not contend before me that I ever made any promise to the state's attorney or ever expressed or intimated to them my purpose to approve this settlement. They did contend, however, that they were led to this belief by statements which state's counsel and the general manager of the state's attorney or ever expressed or intimated to me that I had made any promise to carry out this agreement or that I had expressed any opinion that I would do so, but from the conversation which me they were of the opinion that I would not disapprove the settlement, and they so expressed themselves to defendants' attorneys.

The question then arises, what occurred in this case and what? In order to intelligently decide whether I misled them or not, it is necessary to look to their evidence, which appears in the record which is on file in the court of appeals. I do not wish to say I know what I know, but I know what I know. Judge Pottle, in his opinion in these cases, makes this statement: "None of the counsel for the accused had any conference with the judge, but counsel for the state informed him of the negotiations and the agreement. All of the counsel for the state agree, and the trial judge so certifies, that he made no promise in reference to the punishment, and expressly declined to commit himself."

Chief Justice Hill's Statement.
In a letter to me from Chief Justice Hill, this statement is made: "We made it appear prominently in the opinion that we do not, as a state's counsel for the state that you would not promise or make any agreement as to what the sentence would be in the event of a plea of guilty."

In addition to the above statements, in my order appointing the attorneys to withdraw the plea of guilty, I made this statement: "Neither of the defendants have at any time ever conspired with the judge about these cases. The judge has at no time intimated or expressed any opinion to either one of the attorneys for the defendants of the state that he would allow said cases to be settled upon any sort of terms, or that he would concur in any agreement which the parties might enter into, or carry out any recommendation which they might make. In short, no attorney connected with these cases, either for the state or the defendant, and no other human being, knew what sort of sentence would be imposed in these cases, until they were pronounced by the judge on the bench."

This statement of mine is the truth, and no honest man will dispute it. The only offense charged against me is my refusal to carry out the recommendations of the seventeen lawyers figuring in these cases. For this I have no apology to offer to any man.

C. H. BRAND.

GA. MILITARY COLLEGE PLANS COMMENCEMENT

Milledgeville, Ga., May 3.—(Special).—The Georgia Military college is celebrating one of the most successful years in its history, and plans are about complete for the commencement exercises, which will begin on May 31 and continue through May 27.

The commencement ceremony will be delivered by Dr. C. C. Jerrill, pastor of the First Methodist church in Athens, and a well-known preacher in north Georgia.

Hon. Thomas J. Shackelford, of Athens, will deliver the commencement address on May 27. The graduating class is composed of seventeen members.

TORCH IS BEING USED BY THE ARSONETTES

Railroad Sheds Burned in England—Loss $500,000—Public School Burned.

Bradford, Eng., May 3.—Extensive sheds belonging to the Midland railroad containing much freight, burned down here last night, causing a loss of $500,000. Nineteen loads of freight and quantities of dry goods and carpets were consumed.

Mysterious fires have broken out in these sheds on three successive Friday nights. The militant arsonists were suspected of arson, but there was no proof of this. The latest fire was evidently incendiary, for the frames discovered it had been started simultaneously in several parts of the building. Earlier in the night a fire had been started in some cars loaded with straw in another yard apparently to divert attention from the principal scene of operations of incendiaries.

M'ADOO AND M'COMBS SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Washington, May 3.—One of the incidents of President Wilson's trip to New Jersey which afforded him much satisfaction, and which did not become known until today, was his meeting in New York with National Chairman William F. McCombs and Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department, at the home of E. M. House. It was the first time that Chairman McCombs and Secretary McAdoo, who was vice chairman, had met since the early days of the campaign.

Differences of opinion as to the management of the campaign was said to have existed between the two men, though their relations with Mr. Wilson were always of a warm cordiality. In view of the widespread significance, politically, that has been attached to the situation, the president was glad to meet his two friends for a social chat, especially since Mr. McCombs was scheduled to sail for Europe today for several months' rest.

The departure of Mr. McCombs for Europe revived talk here of circumstances under which he declined the president's offer to be American ambassador to France. There was an intimation that while Mr. McCombs was going abroad for a rest he might be offered the name post later and would accept. So far as is known the president has not determined upon any one else for this post.

CHANGE IN CHARTER FOR CHEROKEE LIFE

The Cherokee Life Insurance company, of Rome, was granted a change in its charter by the secretary of state yesterday so as to make it a stock company, with a capital of $100,000.

A receiver was asked for the company a short while ago by dissatisfied stockholders. It was a mutual concern under its former charter and now it becomes a stock company with its stock divided into 10,000 shares, each with a par value of $10.

Rhode Island Celebrates.

Providence, R. I., May 3.—Rhode Island, which renounced its allegiance to the mother land two months before the other colonies threw off the yoke, celebrated its own independence day with athletic exercises throughout the state today.

The program was moved up a day, as the anniversary falls on a Sunday.

GROVE'S MUSIC SIMPLIFIER.

ELEVENTH LESSON

TWELFTH LESSON NEXT SUNDAY

GROVE'S MUSIC SIMPLIFIER.

"Grove's Music Simplifier" is a great help to teachers in introducing pieces by comparing the chords of said pieces with those of their representative keys on "Grove's Music Simplifier," and showing these chords to be the foundation of the musical structure upon which pieces are composed, and also show when a scholar has memorized thoroughly these chords of different keys by analysis or otherwise, that pieces can be learned with more ease and comprehension. When all the fundamental chords are learned, the scholar can easily apply them and be greatly assisted, thereby saving much time and practice.

Entered According to the Act of Parliament of Canada at the Department of Agriculture in the Year 1906.
SECOND EDITION, Copyright, 1905, International Copyright Secured. Copyright 1903-4 by W. SCOTT GROVE, Scranton, Pa.

There are four flats in the key of A flat, which makes that key difficult for the piano or organ student to master, unless he employs these charts. With the charts this key becomes as simple as the key of C, which has neither sharps nor flats to confuse the eye or fingers. The lower chart on this lesson gives the chords of the key of A flat, while the chords of its relative, the key of F minor, are given on the upper chart. The top, middle and lower sections of each chart give the three chords of each key, and these are all-sufficient for accompaniments. No other knowledge is required to play in perfect harmony.

The white letters are to be played with the left hand and the black letters with the right hand.

Having placed the chart on the piano or organ, play the white letter on the top section with the left hand, and then the three black letters in unison with the right hand.

Next play the middle section in the same way, then the lower section, and then return to the top section.

The small white letter D with a dash above it, which gives the chart position, must not be played.

After a brief practice these chords can be memorized and you may play without the use of the chart. But with the chart a person who never struck a note on the piano or organ before may in a few minutes play the harmonious chords correctly, and then accompany his or her own songs or the songs of friends. Proficiency requires practice, but no previous knowledge of music. If you have followed these twelve lessons closely you have acquired the best possible basis for a thorough musical education.

A knowledge of the keys and their chords underlies all the triumphs of the accomplished musician.

Every triad in black letters is marked 1, 3, 5. Always read triads 1, 3, 5, no matter what position. Triad  $\overset{1}{C} \overset{3}{E} \overset{5}{G}$ —marked—third position, 5, the highest; always read it so  $\overset{3}{B} \overset{5}{D} \overset{1}{F}$  first position, 1, the highest; read second position, 3, the highest, read  $\overset{1}{C} \overset{3}{E} \overset{5}{G}$  and so on with every triad major or minor.

SMALL GRAND STYLE M

A small Grand created to meet the popular demand for a grand piano suitable to the limited size of modern apartments, combining economy of space with economy of price. Made in dark Mahogany cases, dull finish, only. Length 5 feet 6 inches; width 4 feet 6 inches. Price $750.

The Power and Prestige

STEINWAY

Does not mean that this instrument is so expensive as to be within the reach only of millionaires and kings. You can buy a Steinway for $550 up. Considering the tone, the beauty, the lifelong wearing qualities of this piano, the price is not high.

The Steinway is a noble instrument. Its name is associated with all that is greatest and most glorious in the realm of piano construction. For thirty years past the name of Steinway has been associated in Georgia with that of Phillips & Crew Company. We are exclusive agents in this state.

We have in our parlors a magnificent line of Steinways for your inspection—uprights from $550 up. Grands from $750 up. Whether you contemplate an immediate purchase or not, we cordially invite you to come and see them.

OGLETHORPE, THE CROWNING GLORY OF SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANISM

Work will begin next fall on the grounds and on the college chapel, the tall building at the right of the drawing. Here will be the entrance to the university, Peachtree road being shown in the right-hand corner of the picture as it crosses a bridge into the Oglethorpe campus. About $200,000 will be expended on the grounds, $80,000 on the chapel, and $180,000 on the administration building, the first large structure reached following the driveway after passing the chapel. There are over $2,000,000 worth of buildings represented in this map, and this is the ultimate aim of the directors of the university.

At present there is in sight $550,000, and within the next five years it is confidently believed, by the Presbyterians of the south, who are solidly back of the movement, that at least $1,500,000 will be in hand, and that Oglethorpe will by that time be the greatest university of the south and among the educational pillars of the nation.

Similar bills to that passed by the Mississippi legislature have been introduced in the legislatures of Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

POLHILL HEADS STATE EDUCATORS

Election of Officers Brings Session of Georgia Educational Association to a Close.

The following officers were elected by the Georgia Educational association just before final adjournment yesterday morning:

T. G. Polhill, of LaGrange, president; J. C. Wardlaw, of Athens, first vice president; Miss Elizabeth Holt, of Augusta, second vice president; C. L. Smith, of LaGrange, secretary; and Ralph Newton, of Athens, treasurer.

Directors—Superintendent Jason Scarborough, of Tifton, Superintendent R. E. Brooks, of Dublin, Superintendent G. D. Godard, of Moultrie.

A. G. Miller, president last year, retired, and Mr. Polhill, former first vice president, was promoted. Mr. Polhill is a widely known educator in Georgia, having taught in many counties and cities. He is at present the principal of the high school at LaGrange.

Convention Adjourns.

The association adjourned Saturday shortly after noon, after holding a three-hour session. It convened Thursday evening and met three times Friday. Much valuable work was done and many important and interesting papers were read.

The place for next year's meeting has not yet been decided upon, and will be announced later by the directors.

The talks made Saturday morning were as follows:

"Georgia's Duty to Her Children in the Way of Medical Inspection"—Dr.

DUPRE AND COHEN ON MARION STAFF

Vice President Macnab Makes Appointments After Successful Visit to the City.

One of the recent visitors to Atlanta in the automobile field was Vice President M. D. Macnab, of the Marion Motor Car company, of Indianapolis. Mr. Macnab talked enthusiastically of the outlook for business in this section, and particularly of the business which his company is now receiving from this section.

While in the city Mr. Macnab secured C. W. DuPre and J. G. Cohen as distributors for the Marion in Georgia and Alabama. Mr. DuPre is one of the pioneer retail automobile men of Georgia, having for a long time handled cars at his home town in Marietta. Besides the Marion, Mr. DuPre is distributor for the Little Six, Little Four and the Chevrolet Six. Mr. Cohen was one of the men who for a long time put the Maxwell and other United States Motor company's products in the south. Later he was identified with the Locomobile company in Atlanta.

Mr. Macnab was warm in his praise of this combination to handle the Marion, and stated that he was expecting big results from their efforts.

When speaking of Atlanta, Mr. Macnab waxed eloquent, stating that the city even passed his expectations, notwithstanding the fact that he was looking for much, from what he had heard on all sides about this progressive city.

JOHN PHILLIP SOUSA MAKES HIT WITH GUN

Famous Band Leader Almost as Good a Shot as He Is Musician.

John Phillip Sousa was busy at the Brookhaven Gun club yesterday afternoon, putting the shots in pigeons. The man who neri the strains of "Stars and Stripes Forever" ringing round the world, is almost as good a shot as he is a musician, making 71 out of a possible 75 at the traps.

"You can't bluff when you are at the traps," he said. "You've got to deliver the goods. Now, in music, a fellow can for a while make people think he is a genius, possibly, but here—well, it can't be done. You've got to shoot, and you've got to hit."

Mr. Sousa arrived in Atlanta Friday morning, and is the guest of John Lester. He said that he was trying to put aside musical matters until August, when his season will begin. The author-composer-bandleader has made quite a hit here since his arrival, and has been the object of attention from the leading men of the city.

"There is a great deal in the man behind the gun," he said, "but there is much in the gun, too. When a man gets a gun it should fit him, and should be selected with the same care that one would a suit of clothes. He makes a showing, good or bad, with both."

From Atlanta Mr. Sousa goes to Americus, thence to Dawson, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., and then back to his home, Washington, D. C., after the trap season is over in the south.

BAN ON COLLEGE FRATS IS NOT CONSTITUTIONAL

Hamilton Douglas Returns to Atlanta After Winning Noted Cases.

Hamilton Douglas, attorney and grand consul of the Sigma Chi, one of the oldest and largest college fraternities, returned yesterday from Oxford, Miss., with victory, having, with other lawyers, won the case in which he stamped an unconstitutional ban on secret societies in the state universities.

The case is of nation-wide interest, he says, because it affects all fraternities and has raised the indignation of all college men.

The legislature of Mississippi passed an act abolishing from the four state universities all secret orders or societies, and the law went a step further and declared that no student should in any way remain connected with or associate with any such society.

J. P. Vaughn made application for admission as a student in the law department of the state university and was rejected because he refused to sign a pledge not to associate with any secret fraternity. He was already a fraternity member, and therefore refused to sign. He thereupon filed a bill of injunction against the college trustees and a temporary restraining order was granted by Judge D. M. Kimbrough, chancellor in equity. The case was then heard by T. L. Lamb, special chancellor, and it was at this hearing that Mr. Douglas appeared with Attorneys T. C. Kimbrough, J. P. McDonald, W. G. Cavett and A. F. Fox.

Vaughn won his case, and now the college trustees have taken an appeal. The chancellor held that the law was against both the state and the national constitution.

PRESIDENT OF HAITI SUMMONED BY DEATH

Port au Prince, Haiti, May 3.—The president of the republic of Haiti, General Tancred Auguste, died at 9 o'clock last night after a brief illness.

The national assembly was convoked to elect a successor as chief executive.

Four candidates were prepared to present their claims—former minister of the interior; Michel Oreste, a prominent senator; General Beaufosse Laroche, minister of war, and General Bellard.

In official circles and among the general public the opinion prevailed that General Bellard would obtain the nomination.

Quiet has reigned everywhere since the president's death, but precautions against any possible outbreak were immediately taken.

President Auguste had occupied his office only since August 9 last year. He succeeded General Cincinnati Leconte, who met a tragic death together with 40 officials and soldiers in a fire which destroyed the palace on August 8. It was reported that at that time he had been the victim of intrigue, but nothing was officially revealed to confirm the theory.

LABOR DEPARTMENT STAFF

Washington, May 3.—Secretary Willson today organized the clerical force of the department of labor. He appointed Robert Watson, Lowell, Mass., chief clerk; George C. Box, Buffalo, N. Y., disbursing clerk; Hugh L. Kerwin, Wellshoro, Pa., private secretary, and Samuel Gompers, Jr., son of the president of the American Federation of Labor, chief of divisions of publications.

SHE KILLED HER HUSBAND

Stanville, Miss., May 3.—While seated at the dinner table today at his home, near Sturgis, Miss., Yancy Barron, farmer, was shot and killed by his wife, Mrs. Roney Barron, aged 42. A baby Barron held in his lap was also shot, and it is believed fatally wounded. Mrs. Barron, who is a daughter of Dr. J. G. Saxon, of Gulfport, Miss., is believed to be insane.

Education Is Progressive

Nowadays the claim to culture lies not in the knowledge of past history and dead languages only.

TO BE truly educated one must be familiar not only with the history and art of past centuries, but with the happenings and progress of today as well.

FORTUNATE indeed is he who perceives the relation of history to humanity, and the presence of art in everyday life. Such knowledge becomes an animate force in the life and development of the individual and in the progress of a community.

TO TEACH old things in a new way, and to give new things their due place in the march of events, is the object of Brenau College-Conservatory in its regular courses and in those offered at the Brenau Summer School.

HIGH standards, thorough knowledge and a deep interest in educational progress and in the student create at Brenau an atmosphere that is different from that of the usual college; and which becomes an inspiration to all who come within its reach.

THE teacher who wishes to renew and increase her knowledge, will find the Brenau Summer School an ideal place in which to study during the summer months.

THE student who desires to make up a deficiency in studies or who wishes to prepare more quickly for collegiate work, will find at the Brenau Summer School just the course she needs.

THE person of leisure, who takes pleasure in intellectual activity and mental stimulation, will find the Brenau Summer School a recreation and a benefit.

AN UNUSUAL HOME—NORTH SIDE
LOCATED on a lot of natural beauty, 120x280, with magnificent shade trees thereon, we offer a home of 10 rooms, with numerous conveniences, at a price of $6,000 under its actual worth.

253 FORREST AVENUE—$6,950
A RARE BARGAIN at above price. House contains 10 rooms and furnace-heated. Could not duplicate house alone for this figure. With little expense it could be converted into a double apartment house. Size of lot 61x153 to 16-foot alley. See Mr. Chapman.

NORTH SIDE HOME
WE HAVE just had listed with us a home of real conveniences; running water in each bedroom, two sleeping porches, furnace, laundry in basement, hardwood floors, artistic mantels, large closets; in fact, everything that gives to make a permanent home. House contains eight rooms and located on a beautiful lot, between two car lines, and within two blocks of school and church. This is something unusual, and as there are a great many wanting something of this character it will be to your interest to inquire about this. Price, $8,500, $1,000 cash. See Mr. Chapman.

EIGHT-ROOM HOME
Lot 81x400 Feet
WITHIN a few hundred feet of Peachtree we have for sale an elegant home with all modern conveniences. The house is on a pretty elevation and overlooks the surrounding country and adjoins some beautiful homes. The price of $7,850 is very reasonable, and we can arrange terms. The only way to appreciate this home is to see it. Call for Mr. MacLagan.

MAGNIFICENT COUNTRY PLACE
150 ACRES, 18 miles of Atlanta, delightful elevation. Hot and cold water, sewerage, acetylene lights. Improvements cost $12,000. Will sell for $18,000, $4,500 cash. Come and see Mr. Stafford about this.

WILLIAMS STREET—RIGHT AT CAIN ST.
WITHIN 200 FEET of James Street, within 350 feet of Carnegie Way, within 200 feet of the new Y. M. C. A. building, two blocks from the corner of Cain and Peachtree. Just think what this means. Within a very short time this is going to be right in the heart of our growing city. We have a price of $225 per front foot, and it can be bought on terms. Property on Cain street, just around the corner from this, is being held for $750 per front foot. There are big things going to happen in this section in the next 12 months, and we firmly believe that this property will double in value in the next 12 months. Talk this over with Mr. Hamilton.

66 BUTLER STREET
$125 Per Foot
ON BUTLER STREET, between Gilmer and Armstrong, we have for sale this property at $125 per foot. The adjoining property recently sold for $150 per foot. This is just a block from the Auditorium, Grady hospital and Medical building, and three blocks from the new Hurt building. Can arrange it so that purchaser will not have to put up but $200 for three months. Get busy; buy this and re-sell it within three months and make a good profit on your $200 investment. Confer with Mr. MacLagan.

NORTH SIDE HOME
BEAUTIFUL 8-ROOM RESIDENCE just off Piedmont Avenue car line, all modern conveniences. A bargain at $8,750. See Mr. Cooper.

BEAUTIFUL NORTH SIDE HOME
PRICE $5,200
ON ONE of the best streets on the north side, on one of our best car lines, and within two blocks of two other lines, we have one of the most delightful 6-room homes we have on our list. Large front porch, beautiful shade. The house is beautifully furnished, furnace heat, also elegant mantels and everything is first-class. This is a fine house in a neighborhood that is A-1 for a moderate price. This can be bought on terms of $750 cash, assume a loan of $2,000 and the balance like rent. Call Mr. Hamilton.

10 AUBURN AVENUE.

$2,000 CASH, PEACHTREE ST.

MODERN 9-room house on lot 45x160, in semi-business block, worth $500 per foot today. Price $20,000; $2,000 cash, assume loan, balance $2,000 yearly.

$1,050—NORTH SIDE LOT

ON ELEVENTH STREET, between Juniper and Piedmont, we offer a lot 33x136 feet. We had three of them and have just sold one on which the owner is to build a nice little bungalow. Think of buying a lot in an exclusive North side neighborhood at $1,050 on terms of $250 cash and $25 per month. One and a half blocks of Peachtree, one block of Piedmont Park.

$2,000 CASH PAYMENT—PEACHTREE ST.

ON PEACHTREE STREET, between Baker and Ivy streets, 21x100 feet. Price, $1,400 per foot. There's $200 per foot profit in ninety days in it. Cash payment, $2,000.

$750 FOOT—GEORGIAN TERRACE BLOCK

ON PEACHTREE, in block with Georgian Terrace, 25 feet front at $750 per foot. Priced $100 per foot under anything in the block. It will sell for $1,000 per foot in twelve months. $2,500 cash; 1, 2, 3 and 4 years on balance.

BUCKHEAD BUSINESS LOTS

IN THE TRIANGLE at Buckhead we made a subdivision of business lots, fronting 26 feet on Peachtree road and running through 100 feet to and fronting 25 feet on Roswell road. During the past week we sold every lot with a double front, so resubdivided the balance of this property, making two more lots with double frontage. If you want one, be quick, as they will double in value in two years. Price, $1,750. $500 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years at 6 per cent.

$2,500—GRANT PARK COTTAGE

ONE BLOCK of main entrance to Grant Park, a 5-room cottage, on lot with two street fronts; room to build another house. $250 cash and $20 monthly.

10 ACRES—900 FEET FRONT

ON ISOM PAVED ROAD, three miles from Buckhead, 10 acres. Price, $1,500. $250 cash, balance $25 monthly.

CENTRAL LOT, $6,000

ON CAIN STREET, below Spring street, 200 feet from lot sold at $600 per foot, and across the street from lot sold at $400 per foot. We offer 21x75 feet at $6,000. Terms, $500 cash, balance 1, 2, 3 and 4 years.

$1,750—PEACHTREE ROAD LOT

JUST BEYOND Buckhead, a beautiful elevated, level lot, 50x167 feet, fronting car line. It has on it a number of large oak trees that are worth the price asked for the lot. $1,750. $500 cash balance 1, 2 and 3 years at 6 per cent. It's worth $2,500 today. Be quick.

PEACHTREE ROAD HOME

BETWEEN BROOKWOOD and Mr. Walter Andrews' home, we offer a very handsome home on a beautiful level lot, 100x400. Price $17,500, on attractive terms. Can be seen by appointment. No information over phone.

GRANT PARK—SOUTH BOULEVARD

LOOKING INTO Grant Park a 7-room, well-built cottage, on level, elevated corner lot, 50x175 feet. It's a bargain at $4,150, on terms of $750 cash and $30 monthly. No loan.

CHEAPEST R. R. FRONTAGE IN ATLANTA

200 FEET OFF WHITEHALL STREET and this side of Stewart avenue, we offer the cheapest piece of railroad frontage in the city. It fronts 574 feet on railroad right-of-way, 473 feet on a street and corners 60 feet on another street, giving railroad front on one side, street one side and end, has 12 negro shacks on it renting for $40. Price, $15,000. $2,500 cash, balance 1, 2, 3 and 4 years; interest at 6 per cent. It will sell for $50,000 in five years.

CAR LINE ON PACE'S FERRY

IT LOOKS like the car line will go out Pace's Ferry road. When it does values will jump. We offer 28 acres, fronting 550 feet and running back 2,800 feet, at $15,000. It is one of the few pieces that has not changed hands; in possession of present owners 50 years. Terms, $3,000 cash; balance 1, 2, 3 and 4 years. There's profit in it.

$50 CASH, AND $10 MONTHLY

LEVEL CORNER lot, 51x150 feet, in Whiteford avenue; one block of car line. Price, $500.

8 NEGRO INVESTMENT LOTS

ON SOUTH AVENUE, one block of Ormond street car, three blocks of Grant Park; size 25x100 feet. Price, $150 each.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN
203-8 EMPIRE BUILDING.

CENTRAL PLACE.

WE OFFER a semi-central piece of property, 50x190 feet. This lot is within the half-mile circle and the improvements rent for $37.50 per month. It has wide side and rear alleys which makes it unusually desirable. For immediate sale we offer this property for $4,500. Reasonable terms. It's worth $7,500.

AUBURN AVENUE

WITHIN three blocks of Peachtree street we can sell one of the biggest tracts of land in one piece that has been listed with us for some time. It is 100x150 feet. The price is $100 per front foot cheaper than anything else in the block, on either side of the street. $35,000 on reasonable terms will buy this.

CENTRAL PLACE

WITHIN the half-mile circle we offer a piece of property 104x200 feet with a side and rear alley. The land alone is worth the amount asked. Price $15,000. It has an apartment on it bringing in a 12 per cent income. A safer investment could not be found. It is in the neighborhood of the freight terminals and will soon be considered a business location.

ACREAGE

WITHIN one block of the city limits on Fair street we can sell twenty-six acres for $100 per acre cheaper than anything else in the immediate neighborhood. This piece of property has about a thousand feet of road frontage. The owner wants to sell or will trade for some other kind of interest-paying investment. See us at once about this.

WEST PEACHTREE STREET

WE HAVE an ideal home in the course of construction—four bedrooms, living-room, dining-room, sitting-room, kitchen; finished in hardwood throughout; two tiled baths, absolutely every modern convenience. An excellent elevated, deep lot. This is located south of Fourteenth street. The price is $18,500. A more comfortable nor ideal home can be found. Reasonable terms.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN
203 EMPIRE BUILDING.

HIGHLAND AVENUE

BETWEEN St. Charles and Highland avenues we have four vacant lots, 50x180 to alley. Will sell either the corner of St. Charles and Highland avenues, or will sell all four lots together. These lovely building lots overlook Atkins Park and many beautiful Druid Hills homes. You can't find anything in Atlanta that is more desirable to build on.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO SETTLE SILK STRIKE

Paterson, N. J., May 3.—An appeal for mediation in the Paterson silk mill strike under the Erdman act is proposed by a group of business men, according to an announcement today by George Hilton, lawyer and former judge. The dispute is now closing its tenth week with 15,000 workers on strike.

The appeal to Washington, it was announced, was authorized at a largely-attended meeting of Paterson business men, sitting independently of the manufacturers, which brought out expressions that the gravity of the situation demanded that the powers of the federal and state authorities ought to be invoked for relief.

The resolution also provided that in the event that the United States lacks authority in the premises the state legislature, which is to meet soon, be requested to investigate the strike and do its utmost to bring about a settlement in the interim the manufacturers are requested to reopen their mills and the strikers to return to their homes with the assurance that justice to both sides will be done.

The explosion of a bomb under the front porch of the home of August Miller, a boss dyer, was an incident of the day, believed to be connected with the strike troubles. The building was considerably damaged, but no one was injured.
