

6,000,000 WOMEN REFUSED BALLOT BY THE COMMONS

Measure to Extend Suffrage in Great Britain Beaten by Votes of the Irish Nationalists.

MEASURE WAS FOUGHT BY PREMIER ASQUITH

Even Those Who Favored Extension of Suffrage De-nounced Militancy—Vote Was 266 to 219.

London, May 6.—The fate of the woman's suffrage bill was sealed to-night by the votes of more than fifty Irish nationalists, who voted against it. The bill, whereby it was sought to enfranchise 6,000,000 women, was rejected by a majority of 47; the vote stood 266 to 219.

Whether there is any chance that the present parliament will pass a bill of more limited character may be doubted. Possibly the nationalists fear that if they allow a woman's franchise bill to pass the second reading it will lead to a parliamentary struggle, which would not unlikely end in dissolution of parliament before the home rule bill becomes a law. Furthermore, the debate today proved that the militant policy of the suffragists has done the cause great harm as far as parliament is concerned. The conciliation bill of last session was rejected by only a small majority compared with the Dickinson bill under discussion today. Previous bills giving some measure of enfranchisement to women, have passed the second reading, although they never survived subsequent stages.

Angered by Militancy. Recent police disclosures of acts of "eccentricity" planned by the militants far surpassing in magnitude anything heretofore attempted, and the burning of St. Catherine's church at Hatcham today undoubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill.

Announcement of the result of the vote was greeted by cheers from all sides of the house. The debate, which on Monday proceeded with extraordinary apathy, was today characterized by intensity and brilliant speeches. The house was crowded and pervaded with an atmosphere of electrical excitement. The strangers' galleries were packed and many anxious faces peeped from behind the grille-guard.

Supporters of the bill included Sir Edward Gray, David Lloyd-George, Rufus Isaacs, Augustine Birrell, Sidney Buxton, C. F. G. Masterman, Sir J. A. Simon and F. D. Acland.

Asquith Opposed Bill. In opposing the bill, Mr. Asquith said he would resign if his colleagues in the cabinet ever suggested that they did not feel justified in following a government the head of which was opposed to them.

When debate resumed this afternoon the premier defended the government's course, saying it was consistent with best traditions of British statesmanship.

He regretted that he found himself at variance from his colleagues on the suffrage question, and greatly as he would regret severing himself from the prosecution of other great causes, he would lay down his office if his colleagues ever insisted that they did not feel justified in following a gov-

NATION'S BANKERS MAY GATHER HERE

Every Effort Will Be Made to Secure 1914 Meeting of American Bankers' Association for Atlanta.

Through the Atlanta chamber of commerce and the Atlanta Clearing House association and other official bodies, every effort will be made to secure for this city the 1914 convention of the American Bankers' Association, which meets this year in Boston. The first official steps were taken yesterday, when John K. Ottley, a member of the executive council of the association, which is now in session in Briarcliff, N. Y., was authorized by the Atlanta Clearing House association to extend a formal invitation to the association to make Atlanta its conventional place.

Atlanta bankers and all others who have knowledge of the association are enthusiastic over the prospects of landing the affair, and believe that it will prove one of the most beneficial conventions that could be brought to Georgia.

There are now over 13,000 members of the association, which probably controls more capital than any other organization in the country. It is to get these men to Atlanta and get them interested in the business affairs of the city that the Atlantans are working.

The next meeting is already scheduled for Boston, and the 1915 meeting will be in San Francisco, leaving 1914 an open date, and we feel certain that the next convention will be held in Atlanta, as we desired, of course, that the clearing house should formally approve of the plan before we took any active steps, and from now on we will bend every effort toward that end.

The fact that Colonel Robert J. Lowry, president of the Lowry National bank and of the Atlanta Clearing House association, is a former president of the national organization and has possibly a wider acquaintance in Atlanta than any other one man, is regarded by Atlantans as a strong asset upon which to start work, and as Mr. Ottley is a member of the executive committee, which practically controls the location of the conventions, makes it more than probable that Atlanta has a leading chance to land the gathering.

The matter of determining the place of the next convention will be decided at the Boston meeting, according to Mr. Allen, and from now until the last day of the convention Atlantans will be working to show why Atlanta is the logical place for holding the meeting.

"As an instance of the value of such a convention," said Mr. Allen, "let me tell you of the situation in Detroit some years ago, when the bankers met there for the first time. It was a meeting of the national organization, which practically controls the location of the conventions, and when they secured the bankers' convention, they secured the capital right, and you see the results. Now in Atlanta we have as wonderful opportunities in a score of ways as Detroit had then, and we are constantly needing more capital to carry out our plans. It is to get this capital here, we will have done the city more good than can be told."

While this invitation is being extended to the national bankers, also seeking to get another convention. The National Conference of City Planning is now in session in Chicago, and C. J. Haden, representing the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, has been sent there to extend an invitation to make Atlanta the 1914 meeting place.

Through this convention the members of the chamber of commerce hope to obtain a number of valuable improvements along the lines of the work which they have already started. The convention met Monday and will end its session today. The vote upon the proposed extension of the convention is held today, and it is believed that it will be favorable to Atlanta.

LET THE CHILDREN PLAY SAYS WOODROW WILSON

Richmond, Va., May 6.—At the opening session of the plays-around and Recreation Association of America here tonight letters were read from President Wilson and former President Roosevelt commending the world-wide campaign to help child life by providing proper places in which boys and girls may play. Theodore Roosevelt was elected honorary president and Joseph Lee, of Boston, was re-elected president.

In his letter President Wilson said: "I am very sorry I cannot attend your great meeting, because I have the deepest and sincerest interest in the objects it is seeking to serve. It seems to me that the children of our country are growing up, physically, as well as mentally, in a way that is not only in the interest of the welfare of our communities, but that they should be assisted to obtain those amusements which are both good and refreshing."

MUSIC IN THE PARKS URGED BY PARK BOARD

Commissioners Will Ask Council to Appropriate $5,000 in June Sheet.

The movement started by Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward, to have the city appropriate $5,000 for music in Grant and Piedmont parks during the summer months will receive the hearty co-operation of the park board.

At the meeting of the board, Tuesday afternoon, following the introduction of the Ashley resolution in council, Commissioner Frank Wilby offered a resolution urging the board to appoint a committee of three to confer with Mayor Woodward and members of council and the finance committee with a view to securing the money in the June appropriation.

President J. O. Cochran appointed Commissioner L. C. Green, Frank Wilby and R. C. Burnett, on the committee.

Improvements in Parks. It was indicated at the meeting that extensive improvements would be made at Grant and Piedmont parks other than was made during last fall. The board will also carry out the $2,000 additional for Piedmont, and $5,000 additional for Grant park, and will again urge its recommendation to increase the salary of General Manager Dan Carey from $2,100 per annum to $2,750 per annum, an increase of $650.

Joe Bean Made Supervisor. Joe Bean was named to succeed Miss Barnwell as supervisor of play grounds. Miss Barnwell was offered the place again, but declined to accept.

Rev. Dr. Jere Moore petitioned the board to allow the Presbyterian ministers to sell the cyclorama free, and the board granted the permission after considerable discussion.

A strong delegation of citizens appeared before the board to discuss the improvement of Moseley park, in West Atlanta. The delegation was composed of G. C. Jones, Marcellus Anderson, Dr. J. C. White, S. L. Dallis, Fred Lester, Steve Herring and others.

W. C. Fuchett made a report on the children's hunt at Grant park last Saturday, stating that about 20,000 children participated in the hunt. He told the board that the event was one of the most successful ever given, and urged that the same committee be appointed to take charge of the arrangements for next season.

Dying Husband Barred Wife From Attending His Funeral

Columbus, Ga., May 6.—(Special).—Mrs. Mary Radcliff will not be able to attend the funeral of her husband, Georgia Radcliff, who died late last night at the city hospital, the result of a pistol shot, which the police declare was fired by Mrs. Radcliff. The woman is being held on the charge of murder.

It developed tonight that Radcliff had expressed the earnest wish that his wife not be permitted to see him before death, or gaze upon his body after death. The wife was very anxious to view the body, and her attorney made an earnest appeal to Judge Gilbert to permit her to attend the funeral. But the judge decided not to go counter to the dying man's request, and so the wife remains in jail.

Radcliff had an insurance policy for $5,000 in which his wife was named as the beneficiary. While he was at the hospital he had the policy changed and named as the beneficiary Mrs. Kate Fox, the hospital matron, with directions that she use the money in paying his debts and funeral expenses and marking the grave. This will about exhaust the $500.

VICE INVESTIGATOR MIXED IN A SCANDAL

Lieut. Gov. O'Hara Wants His Accuser Before Bar of Illinois Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara, who brought about the appointment of the legislative vice investigating committee and who is the most active member of the body, today accused Richard M. Sullivan to be brought before the bar of the senate to tell what he knows reflecting upon the morality of the Heurtenan governor.

Sullivan is a deputy sheriff of Sangamon county. To him is attributed a story which has been freely circulated that he has an affidavit from a woman saying that O'Hara spent a day or two in her company in Chicago.

O'Hara arose in the senate today and asked that Sullivan be summoned to appear before the body for the purpose of investigating the story. The senate acted at once and dispatched the sergeant-at-arms with a summons when found late today Sullivan said he would appear tomorrow morning.

IN COMMITTING SUICIDE HE SCATTERED DEATH

Released So Much Gas Explosion Followed and Twenty Persons Were Injured.

New York, May 6.—A despondent east side paper cutter released such a quantity of gas when he turned on the jet in committing suicide tonight that the fumes filled the tenement building where he lived and an explosion occurred, in which more than a score of persons were injured, a few of them probably mortally. The explosion and resultant fire caused a panic in the neighborhood, a crowded section on Madison street. The blaze did little damage.

The injured were mostly members of a curious crowd which had followed Policeman William J. Cummings as he investigated the odor of gas coming from the room of Samuel Gordon, the suicide. Cummings is one of those who sustained probably mortal injuries.

REFUSE TO TELL WHY ACTION WILL BE TAKEN

Search for Finger Prints and New Wounds Is Reported Reason—Inquest Resumed Thursday—Strange Man Sought.

Mary Phagan's body will be exhumed today for the second time. Bertillion and medical experts will make examinations for finger prints and wounds which may have been overlooked before. Coroner Donehoe and Dr. H. F. Harris, of the state board of health, will be in charge.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock in the scheduled time. The coroner and Dr. Harris and others of their staffs will leave at daybreak this morning in automobiles. They are expected to return about noon. The examination will be at the grave side.

This action is taken at the request of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey. Neither he nor Dr. Harris would talk when questioned by a Constitution reporter last night. Although they admitted that a second exhumation was in view, they would not divulge their reason.

Dr. Harris is Non-Committal. "I am not in a position to talk," said Dr. Harris. "Under other circumstances, I would be glad to give any information at my command. In this case, though, I have been urged to secrecy, and cannot violate my trust."

The solicitor said: "I cannot talk. The body will be exhumed in a few days, at my request. I will reveal further plans when they are known." It was learned by The Constitution, however, that the body was to be exhumed for an examination for possible finger prints and wounds. The information came from responsible source.

It also is rumored that a Bertillion expert, summoned by authorities, arrived in Atlanta last night, and will Sunday night under supervision of Dr. Harris. Coroner Donehoe and County Physician John W. Hurt. The stomach was removed and placed in the laboratory of Dr. Harris, who is analyzing it for traces of drugs or poison.

The examination for wounds will be made by Dr. Harris. When he was asked to analyze the stomach contents, he said: "The examination has not been completed. It is well under way, however, and within a few days, I will be prepared to submit the result before the coroner's jury."

He was asked if he could determine at this stage of the examination whether or not there were traces of drugs or poison.

He answered: "I am not prepared to talk on that subject. I will be unable to make a statement until I am called before the coroner's inquest."

The body was first exhumed last Saturday night under supervision of Dr. Harris. Coroner Donehoe and County Physician John W. Hurt. The stomach was removed and placed in the laboratory of Dr. Harris, who is analyzing it for traces of drugs or poison.

It came as a surprise. It was not made known until 2:50 o'clock Monday afternoon, when the coroner and Dr. Hurt appeared at the inquest held at police headquarters. It was intended to keep the second exhumation a secret, in accordance with plans of the solicitor.

Seek Strange Man. Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey is striving to learn the identity of the strange man who participated in a sensational scene at the Terminal station last Saturday week with a girl believed to have been Mary Phagan.

It was learned Tuesday that the man's suit case, which was checked overnight in the parcel check room, was tagged with a label bearing the following: "National Pencil Company, Atlanta."

Also, it was disclosed that, following the scene created by him and the girl, he cancelled his Pullman ticket for Saturday night, returning Sunday afternoon to engage a berth for that night. He left the station Saturday in company with the girl.

Girl Makes Scene. As has already been revealed, a youthful, well-dressed man, wearing a hat and carrying a suit case, walked hurriedly from the waiting room of the Terminal Saturday afternoon of the 26th, and made his way along the runway leading to the track stairs.

As he reached the gateway of tracks No. 5 and 6, a pretty girl, about 14 years old, clad in summer frock and wearing a dark blue straw hat, rushed from the waiting room and accosted him. She seemed angry. He dropped his case and led her away from the crowd, apparently to have a talk with her.

The attention of a gateman, who had noticed the arrival of both the man and girl, was again attracted to them by loud exclamations from the girl. She was furious and tearful, while he was obviously trying to explain something.

"You want to leave me; you want to leave," she was heard to wail. "I won't."

KNIGHT IS HEAD OF MAIL CLERKS

Second Annual Convention of Railway Mail Association Shows Great Advance in the Service.

The Railway Mail Association for the fourth division, made up of delegates from the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee and South Carolina, held its second annual convention in Atlanta yesterday in the Railroad Young Men's Christian association auditorium.

The constitution was amended by making the sessions of the association every other year instead of every year and the next session will be held in 1915 at some place to be designated by the executive committee. The officers elected for the next two years are:

President—C. E. Knight, of Macon.
Vice President—E. D. Carswell, of Waycross.
Secretary-treasurer—F. W. Rooney, of Atlanta.

Delegates to Cincinnati.

Delegates to the next annual convention in Cincinnati next month as elected are J. H. Kuhne, of Charleston, S. C.; T. J. Luckie, of Birmingham, Ala.; and W. M. Selcer, of Atlanta, retiring president of the fourth division.

An executive committee, composed of one member from each state, was created and W. M. Selcer, of Atlanta; R. J. Shackelford, of Nashville, Tenn.; R. J. Hadden, of Montgomery, Ala.; J. A. Cart, of Charleston, S. C.; and J. M. Ripley, of Jacksonville, Fla., were elected as members of that committee.

A resolution endorsing the administration of John Hogan, of Atlanta, as auditor and directing delegates to the national convention to urge his retention in that position was adopted by a rising vote.

When W. M. Selcer, of Atlanta, president of the association's fourth division, called the gathering to order Tuesday morning there were responses from thirty delegates as F. W. Rooney, of Atlanta, secretary-treasurer, called the roll. F. M. Jones, of Birmingham, vice president, and John Hogan, of Atlanta, national auditor, were among those present.

All-day Meeting Held.

The meeting was continuous from 9 a. m. to a late hour last night, the only recess being taken at 1 o'clock for a thirty-minute lunch. President Selcer's address immediately after roll call was the feature of the session, which was executive throughout. He said that the membership had shown a decidedly rapid and satisfactory growth. Closer relationship, the president declared, had elevated the standard of efficiency and necessarily the value of the railway mail service to the general public.

The annual report of Secretary-treasurer Rooney indicated a satisfactory balance in the fourth division's bank account, together with quick responses from the membership in payment of dues and assessments.

While the records of the association showed that G. A. Wood, of Portsmouth, N. H., was its oldest member and held certificate No. 1, they also showed that C. W. Edging, of Atlanta, is the second oldest member.

"The entire session," said Mr. Hogan, of Atlanta, national auditor of fourth division, "was given up to matters of no interest to the general public. Only the members of the association are interested in what transpired, and that mainly was the conclusive showing that the association is in a prosperous and growing condition. Nothing of a political nature whatever was brought up for the reason that the association has nothing whatever to do with politics in any way. We are working for the betterment of the service as a class and the elevation of the class of men who work in railway mail cars, giving their entire time and attention to making more efficient and satisfactory to the general public of the railway mail service, the responsibilities of which are increasing every day more than the people we serve can even imagine.

MYSTERIOUS MRS. ELLIS IS FOUND BESIDE TRACK

Woman Who Jumped or Fell From Train Near Cordele Refuses to Tell Residence.

Cordele, Ga., May 6.—(Special.)—That Mrs. W. K. Ellis, who is now confined to the Cordele sanitarium, in a serious condition, jumped from a window of the sleeper of an Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic east bound train at Ross, near Cordele, early this morning while the train was running at not less than twenty miles an hour, is the best conclusion that can be reached by parties investigating the accident or attempted suicide.

There are several mysterious connections with the affair that make it appear probable that she attempted to end her life by jumping from the train. Mrs. Ellis, as she gave her name to physicians attending her, is very reticent, refusing to divulge the place of her residence and some details in connection with the accident or attempted suicide. She is about 35 years of age and handsome.

A telephone message early this morning called physicians to the home of Eugene Youngblood, at Ross. Mr. Youngblood stating that a woman had fallen from the train and was seriously injured. Upon reaching there the physicians found that Mrs. Ellis was badly scratched and bruised, though no bones were broken, and there is no evidence of internal injuries.

According to her statement, she became sick during the night and arose from her berth and dressed about 4 o'clock. She went on the rear platform to get some fresh air and presume that she fainted, regaining consciousness lying beside the track. She managed to make her way to a nearby negro house and woke the occupants, one of them going for Mr. Youngblood, who took the injured woman to his home. She was brought to the sanitarium several hours later.

The conductor and porter on the sleeper declared that both doors were securely locked between Montezuma and Cordele, and they have no knowledge of a woman leaving her berth at such an early hour. It is alleged that when first questioned about her home and relatives Mrs. Ellis said that she was a widow. However, it developed from the statement of the conductor that she occupied a double berth and two tickets were sold for it from Atlanta to Waycross, the other passenger being a man. When confronted with this statement it is said she declared the man was her husband.

The man in the case, it is understood, left the train at Abha and walked to Fitzgerald, a distance of several miles, evidently having some knowledge of the accident to the woman or her attempted suicide.

EXHAUSTION KILLED SCOTT AND HIS MEN

Winnipeg, Man., May 6.—Exhaustion and not starvation was the upshot of Captain Scott and the men who died with him on their way back from the south pole, according to Lieutenant Gran, a member of the party which found the bodies. "The end of the party apparently was peaceful," declared Gran, here today.

"Lieutenant Wright, of Toronto, who commanded our party, went into the explorer's tent first. Captain Scott lay on his back asleep, but outside of his sleeping bag. Dr. Wilson and Lieutenant Bowers were in their sleeping bags. Apparently they had been carefully wrapped by Captain Scott, who evidently was the last to die. "Lieutenant Bowers lay on his side, exactly as if he were asleep. Dr. Wilson was half-reclined, his back against the tent, facing us as we entered. On his features were traces of a faint smile. He looked exactly as if he were about to awaken from a sound sleep. I had often seen the same look on his face in the morning as he awakened. The scene was distressing.

"While they did not die of starvation, still all their food had given out, and worst of all, their fuel. Besides, they were experiencing terrible storms. "We laid the bodies side by side, and said a burial service. Then we removed the poles from the tent and covered the bodies with the canvas. On top of this we built a cairn of snow and ice fifteen feet high. We took two skis, bound them together in the form of a cross, erected it on top of the cairn, a last memorial to the dead, and left them where they fell."

Gran has in his possession Scott's diary and records. He is en route to London to attend the meeting of the Royal Geographical society.

NOT A DENT MADE IN TARIFF MEASURE

All Attacks on Underwood Revision Prove Futile--The Income Tax Feature Is Now Being Considered.

Washington, May 6.—The overwhelming democratic majority in the house today swept through the free list, bowled over all opposition to free wool, free meats and other necessities and passed on to consideration of the hundred million dollars income tax feature of the Underwood tariff bill. Not a dent was made in the bill as approved by the ways and means committee majority. It was expected the measure would be passed unamended by the house by tomorrow.

All day the fighting across the aisle dividing the democrats and the republicans. Many amendments were offered by republicans in a forlorn effort to put many free listed articles back on the dutiable list, but all were voted down with a regularity that brought smiles from the minority. Finally, when the last of these proposed changes had been rejected, Representative Payne introduced the lively fight by offering a brand new amendment to create a tariff commission.

Instantly all the parliamentary speakers on both sides were astir. Speaker Clark sat next to Democratic Leader Underwood at the front of the speaker's rostrum where Mr. Underwood has been conducting consideration of the bill. Representatives in general, of New York rushed in from the appropriations committee, armed with precedents, and followed by Representatives Sherley, of Kentucky and Hatcher, of Georgia, who joined in the majority front against admitting the amendment. On the republican side, Leader Mann, Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, Representative Payne of New York, and others conferred and addressed the house.

It was all over quickly. Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, in the chair, sustaining a point of order made by Mr. Underwood that the lively commission amendment was not germane to the bill.

When Representative Mann appeared from the decision the house sustained the chair 164 to 87.

The Income Tax Feature.

Representative Hull, of Tennessee, chief draftsman of the income tax feature of the tariff bill, prepared tonight to resist a campaign by the minority to amend the details of the proposed law. He expected a hard fight on behalf of the mutual fire insurance companies, which would be taxed 1 per cent under the measure. Provisions affecting insurance companies were debated verbatim from the corporation tax law already in effect, but to avoid any possible question, committee amendments were prepared tonight to eliminate even the slightest variation from the existing law.

Regular reading of the income tax provision for amendment was completed in short order. Perfecting amendments offered by the ways and means committee and adopted included a provision exempting returned investments in insurance and a clause changing the terms regarding mutual fire insurance companies so as to allow them to deduct from their gross incomes the amount required under the state laws to be placed in their reserve funds. Another amendment changed the language of the provision imposing a tax of 1 per cent on the net profits of insurance companies so as to make the bill conform literally to the present corporation tax law.

Republicans attempted by numerous amendments to alter the income tax rates, but without avail. The progressives also offered several amendments. Progressive Leader Murdock proposed a 6 per cent tax on all incomes over $100,000, and Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, urged an 8 per cent tax on such incomes. Representative Kelly announced his intention of voting for the entire democratic bill, declaring he believed it was a step in the right direction. Other progressives endorsed the income tax feature.

Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts, offered an amendment providing for a tax of 1 per cent on incomes between $1,000 and $5,000 a year.

Income Tax Defeated.

The democrats generally defended the income tax as lifting the burden taxation from the poor man and making the rich man bear his share. "Some of the rich say that this class legislation," said Representative Tavenner, of Illinois. "They were never heard to complain, however, of the existing class legislation which taxes the hats, coats and shirts of the masses almost 71 per cent, and does not require men like Rockefeller and Carnegie to pay a single cent to the nation's government on their wealth."

Representative Mann, for Resident Commissioner Gozon, of the Philippines, offered an amendment to tax the Chinese, Japanese and other residents of the Philippines as well as the Philippines and Americans in the islands. The committee agreed to take this under consideration. The Philippine commissioner unsuccessfully sought to relieve the Filipinos of any income tax on the ground that they could not vote on this legislation. Representative Underwood explained that the inclusion of the Philippines in the income tax was to reach the wealth of the Philippine islands and that the bill lightened the burdens of the small farmer of the Philippines by repealing the export tax on Philippine products.

Cotton Schedule Attacked.

As the discussion of the free list closed, Representative Donovan, a Connecticut democrat, criticized the ways and means committee for framing certain sections of the bill "unintelligently."

"The cotton schedule was brutally treated," he said. He read a letter from the Crane Steel company, protesting against the raising of the duty on ferro manganese. "This is from the company of one of the largest cotton harvesters in the world," he said, "and a man who is to be sent as our representative to the court of Russia. He says the increased duty looks like a scheme of the cotton trust to put the independent producers out of business."

Republicans from the northwest attacked the free wheat and flour provisions of the bill.

Representative Underwood defended the free flour, declaring that the northwest would not be injured and an amendment to the bill was defeated. Efforts to take lumber from the free list and alter the wool pulp and print paper finally were defeated.

The wool paragraph in the free list brought about a defection from the front of the democrats. Representative Sharp, of Ohio, representing democrats opposed to free wool, offered an amendment placing a duty of 20 per cent on raw wool, the rate fixed by the Underwood bill of the last congress.

Representative Sharp defended "his democracy by the statement that he now proposed a rate, which both Speaker Clark and Majority Leader Underwood had voted for in the last congress.

Representative Fordney attacked the free wool provision. Various amendments, including one to place all manufacturers of wool on the free list were defeated.

Democratic "Rags."

Representative Mondell got permission to offer an amendment providing that all rags imported must be cleaned and sterilized and delivered a diatribe on the "democratic rags." "The democrats propose to admit free of duty," he shouted, "the rags of the world. Rags from the slums of London, rags from the purlieus of Naples and Rome, and rags from cholera and bubonic plague camps of the Balkan peninsula will be given to our people free. I know of nothing more logical in a democratic tariff bill than free rags. We must have the rags of all the world to come here to clothe our people, driven from employment by the democratic tariff rates."

Representative Underwood pointed out that Mr. Mondell's amendment was unnecessary because the rags were cleaned before being admitted to this country.

MONUMENT TO PIERCE IS ASSURED AT LAST

Concord, N. H., May 6.—Franklin Pierce, the only president of the United States from New Hampshire, seems assured at last of a statue by his native state. The senate today passed a house bill providing $15,000 for the statue to be erected on the statehouse grounds. Governor Pelker is expected to sign the measure.

The "monument to Pierce" was a democrat and a pro-slavery man has hitherto aroused such strong opposition to the statue proposal that appropriation bills for the purpose always have been killed by the long succession of republican legislatures. The present legislature is democratic for the first time in forty years.

LEAVES FLORIDA HOME TO ESCAPE MARRIAGE

Pretty Sixteen-Year-Old Emily Douglas Detained by Police on Arrival Here.

"Imported automobiles, French maids and the man I don't love, don't look as good to me as six per, a hall bedroom and all the freedom that I want."

This is the philosophy of 16-year-old Emily Douglas, who was taken in charge by the police yesterday morning, when she arrived in Atlanta, fleeing from her home in Daytona, Fla., she claims, because her parents insist on her marriage to a man she doesn't even like.

She was taken to the Tower and placed under the care of the matron E. W. Haskell, fiancée of her sister, who came from Jacksonville, Fla., to intercept her, tried to persuade her to go back with him.

"I don't blame you for not wanting to marry, but you ought to go back to your mother and sister," he told her.

To this she assented. "I'll go back, but I won't marry. I'd rather work in a factory than marry him."

And it was with this agreement that she left with him for her home last night.

FEAST FOR NEWSBOYS ON TUESDAY, MAY 13

Six hundred Atlanta newsboys are happy today, for each of the number was given a ticket yesterday to the big feast which the S. V. D. fraternity is going to give in his honor in the Young Men's Christian association hall Tuesday night, May 13.

A number of the most prominent men in the city are going to pay $3 for the privilege of sitting at the table with the boys, among these being men especially interested in boy welfare.

One of the most talented child impersonators in the country has been engaged to entertain the guests of the evening, and will be brought down from the north for this special occasion by the S. V. D. boys.

While every newsboy in the city is entitled to a ticket free, no older person may attend except by payment of $3 for the privilege.

DEPUTY SINGS HYMNS AT THE LEGAL SALES

The little crowd of possible purchasers who attended the sheriff's sales yesterday morning witnessed something new, when, in order to show the worth of the song books which were being sold, Deputy J. W. Chambers mounted the platform and warbled one verse of one of the most appropriate selections.

The books were three dozen Sacred Harp numbers, sold by the property of the Southern Express company, and listed among matter upon which expressage had not been paid.

John Owens, chief deputy sheriff, in the absence of Sheriff C. W. Mangum, acted as auctioneer, and was waiting for bids when the suggestion was made that as deputy he should render a recitation from the books.

The deputy complied and chose "Murrillo's Lesson." In a few minutes the three dozen books were knocked down to T. L. Francis for $3. Deputy Owens claims that the exceeding low bids were due to the singing while friends of Deputy Chambers declare that if he had sung another verse that the books would have brought double what they did.

MAY RAIN IS EXPECTED; FIRST OF THE MONTH

The first drop of rain that has fallen in Georgia since April is expected early today by the local weather bureau which forecasts showers and cooler weather for Wednesday. The rain is due to be local to north Georgia and its effect on this section will be to lower the temperature which ran up to 86 degrees at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

That the present month of which practically one-fifth has elapsed, had been without rainfall throughout the entire state was not realized at the local weather bureau until a glance at reports from the various stations Tuesday showed a zero in the "rainfall column" of every weather man in every town and village where there is a station.

MEN "HIGHER UP" ARE FOUND GUILTY

Four Police Inspectors of New York Convicted of Conspiracy to Prevent Disclosures Regarding Graft.

New York, May 6.—James F. Thompson, James H. Hunsicker, Murtha and Dennis Sweeney, the four demoted police inspectors, charged with a conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the supreme court shortly after 10 o'clock tonight.

Only 85 minutes were taken by the jurors to reach their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the "system" from making graft disclosures before the grand jury.

The accused officials stood outwardly unmoved as they heard the verdict. The crowd in the courtroom caused a disturbance, shutting chairs and feet until attendants checked the disorder. The prisoners gave their pedigrees and after being remanded for sentence Friday were returned to their cells. Counsel announced that a writ of habeas corpus would be sought, which would give the prisoners a chance to go free on bail pending efforts to obtain a new trial.

Only One Ballot Needed.

The penalty for obstruction of justice is one year in jail or a fine of $500 or both. It was reported that the jury required only one ballot to reach its decision.

An attorney for the defense declared the verdict was a shock and the briefness of the jury's deliberations a "surprise." Another of the prisoners' lawyers said no other verdict was expected. "The atmosphere of the city of New York was such that the present time with a determination to convict," he said.

The conviction of Thompson, Hunsicker, Murtha and Sweeney is regarded by Mr. Whitman as the most important won in connection with his exposure of the police "system" that was shown to link law enforcers with the city's underworld, when Becker, the police lieutenant, hired the four gunmen to murder Rosenthal, the gambler, last summer.

The men were on trial seven court days. District Attorney Whitman and assistants produced evidence to show that the men plotted to buy the silence of George Shipps, a county keeper, through bribing him to flee the state last December, after he had told the aldermanic committee that was investigating the police department.

Deputy J. W. Chambers made monthly payments to the police for protection for his resort.

Before Mr. Whitman had a chance to get Shipps to repeat this testimony in the grand jury the hotel man left the city.

Bribed With $2,000.

Upon being returned to the court's jurisdiction he declared he had been bribed with $2,000 to leave. The prosecutor's inquiry into his story resulted in the indictment of the defendants, then inspectors.

During the trial the state introduced evidence tending to show that graft payments by Shipps reached the defendants in turn, commanding the Harlem district where Shipps' hotel was located. The tribute was collected for Thomas Walsh, who was captain of a Harlem precinct, and was divided with the inspectors according to his confession. The amount of graft exacted was in dispute during the trial, but Mr. Whitman, in summing up this afternoon, stated it was $42,000 a year in Walsh's precinct alone. Walsh and Shipps were the state's chief witnesses.

THREAT TO CUT WAGES RESULTS IN A PROBE

Washington, May 6.—An investigation of wages and conditions in the pottery industry was started today by the department of commerce because of threatened reductions in wages which certain manufacturers claimed would be made necessary by the tariff reductions on pottery in the Underwood bill. The investigation will probably be extended to other industries. Secretary Redfield expressed the determination to get at the facts and the present conditions in the pottery industry. If a decrease in wages follows the passage of the tariff bill, he will have statistics to present to congress to show comparisons between present and future conditions.

The incident created much interest throughout the country, where three of the deaths to which he referred are said to have occurred.

LUTHER J. GLENN WILL BE TRIED TOMORROW

Trial of Luther J. Glenn, the Atlanta man recently arrested in Texas, where it was charged he had eloped with Mrs. Ione Fidoock, and now held on a charge of abandoning his minor children, is set for Thursday morning in Judge Andy Calhoun's city court. Glenn entered a formal plea of not guilty when arraigned Monday, and the fact that Sam D. Hewlett, one of the attorneys for the prosecution, was engaged in another case, made necessary a postponement. Attorney L. F. McClelland represents Glenn.

UNDERWOOD BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED BY HOUSE

Washington, May 6.—A democratic-republican love feast was held in the house as consideration of the taxing provisions of the tariff bill drew to a close. The occasion was the birthday of Representative Underwood.

Minority Leader Mann announced that he wished to put aside partisan feeling for a time and talk personally. He told the house that fifty-one years ago "one of the ablest men in public life first saw the light." He then congratulated the "democratic party and the American people that during the fifty-one years of his life there has grown to greatness and bigness the ablest gentleman from Alabama, Mr. Underwood."

Amid a roar of applause from both sides of the chamber Mr. Underwood thanked Mr. Mann for his congratulations.

NOMINATION OF HARRIS NOT YET CONFIRMED

Democrats, However, Will Put Him Through—Several Georgia Postmasters Confirmed.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, May 6.—(Special).—William J. Harris' nomination was not confirmed by the senate today, being among the three or four contested ones that went over. It is only a question of time when he will be, however, as the democrats are determined to put him through.

The only democratic senator who is at all weak on Harris' nomination is Senator Martine of New Jersey, who has been impressed by the argument that E. Dana Durand, the incumbent, should be permitted to serve until July 1.

In the meantime Mr. Durand would appoint all the reporters of crops and ginners' statistics.

The following Georgia postmasters were confirmed:

Carrollton, W. F. Brown; Colquitt, Henry M. Miller; Fayetteville, Samuel B. Lewis; Louisville, Charles V. Clarke; Sandersville, Andrew J. Irwin; Social Circle, Mattie E. Gunter.

The president today forwarded to the senate the nomination of Sinclair C. Townsend to be collector of customs for the district of St. Marys, Ga.

Representative Crisp has put Miss Julia Lathrop's letter in regard to the Ollie Taylor case in the Congressional Record, in the effort to get the widest publicity to the facts discovered by the head of the children's bureau in regard to the sensational reports that a Georgia white boy had been sentenced to a long term in jail for stealing a five-cent bottle of soda water. Miss Lathrop found that under the juvenile law Taylor was sent to the reformatory as an incorrigible.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Harris have arrived in Washington, but will leave in a few days for Baltimore, where Mrs. Harris will be placed in Johns Hopkins to undergo treatment.

HER MIND IN BLANK, GIRL OF WAYCROSS WANDERS FROM HOME

Waycross, Ga., May 6.—(Special).—Somewhere in the vicinity of Waycross, unless she has been lured away by unknown parties, Miss Lee Hall, a pretty 15-year-old girl, daughter of J. H. Hall, is wandering, her mind apparently blank. She left her home early yesterday, eluding her father and a party of neighbors who tried to catch her.

Miss Hall led the chase into a small swamp, bordering Kettle creek, and a thorough all-day search failed to reveal her whereabouts. Her father today said he did not think a man was involved in his daughter's strange disappearance, as she has never seemed to care much for boys.

The girl is described as being of medium height, light hair, blue eyes, fair skin and weight a little over a hundred. When last seen she wore a black skirt, light shirtwaist and white hat. Officers of all towns within a radius of fifty miles have been aiding the father in his search. Acting on the suggestion that the girl may have been lured away by some one, police in the larger cities will be asked to be on the lookout for the girl.

NAVAL STORES FACTORS PLAN HOLDING COMPANY

Seventy-Five Per Cent of Spirit, Turpentine and Rosin Men Represented at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., May 6.—Naval stores factors, representing 75 per cent of the growers of spirits, turpentine and rosin, met here this morning at 10 o'clock and took the first step toward entering into an agreement to protect their interests. The present chaotic state of the market has caused the meeting. About all that was done this morning was to get a general idea as to how the producers stood and it was found that they were unanimous in the opinion that an organization was a necessity.

There will be another meeting, at which the details of the plan of operation will be worked out. That there is to be formed a holding company for the protection of the producers is quite certain.

"We have ceased to consider the American Naval Stores company in connection with the naval stores situation," said a prominent factor today. "The American is no longer an important feature of the naval stores world. Its affairs are to be liquidated and its business closed up."

Interests from Wilmington to New Orleans were represented at the meeting today.

WITH THE THEATERS

"The Girl From Out Yonder."

(At the Atlanta.)

This afternoon Billy Long and the members of the stock company in her support will be seen in the first matinee of the week, playing the fine comedy drama, "The Girl From Out Yonder," which scored such a hit the opening and last night. Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, the pretty Atlanta society girl who has an important part in the play, will be seen to excellent advantage and hundreds of her friends will doubtless be present to lend her encouragement. She has scored a hit second only to the hits scored by Miss Long and Mr. Vail. The company's work is showing wonderful improvement and a fine performance is certain this afternoon. No performance will be given tonight, but every other night and Saturday matinee the company will be busy. Next week the bill will be a screaming comedy, "Are You a Mason?" Seats will be placed on sale at the matinee today.

Keith Vaudeville.

Unusual interest has been evidenced in the bill at the Forsyth this week. Beautiful Belle Story, the singing star, has grown ever so popular with theatre patrons who have enjoyed her marvelous talents. Miss Story does not sing ragtime; but she scores as great a hit with sweet and dainty songs that appeal to Williams, Thompson and Copeland in their absurd comedy sketch, "The Burglars' Union," win a laughing hit, and the Six Steppers do some dancing that has won genuine approval. The headline act is a Gus Edwards creation, "The Kid Cabaret," and it is an act worthy of the honor position.

ATLANTA AD MEN HAVE GREAT TIME

Members of Club Enjoy Banquet at Denechaud's on Tuesday Evening.

The Atlanta Ad Men's club packed Cafe Denechaud to its capacity last night when 150 members and their invited guests gathered for the long-heralded "Gigantic Jag of Joy," which proved the most successful get-together-and-get-acquainted meeting in the history of the organization.

Every one was tagged with large trunk checks, "I am so-and-so, who are you?" and every one knew every body else before the French-Italian dinner was concluded, and the smoker and vaudeville was under way.

Bess Jordan scored a decided hit in her songs from the balcony, accompanied by the canaries warbling in the cages overhead, and every one greeted her with the Ad Men's chorus: "They say Bess Jordan ain't got no style; But she's style all the while, all the while, all the while!"

When President Harry Goodhart suggested that they had a program they would like to carry out, if they got a chance, the chance was given and the program was carried out. Finally the merriment and every one subsided when Mr. Bain was introduced as the card shark who would rival Thurston. He tried his best to get some money from the crowd and make it disappear, but the diners were not anxious to see their money evaporate. They did applaud Mr. Bain's card tricks, many of which proved a mystery, even to the initiated. Then Mac Jones, a new addition to the cages overhead, and every one drew considerable attention with several clever cartoons of the great and near great members. Harry Goodhart, Billy Parkhurst, "Santa" Loundsburg, Mr. Denechaud and Fred Houser were among the victims of the facile brush of Artist Mac Jones.

Fred Houser's photo caused the greatest merriment. He was asked to turn his head for a profile picture, and every one in the house was convulsed with laughter when a pair of long ears appeared on the canvas.

Excitement interrupted the program when President Goodhart announced that the waiters reported the silver missing. He directed a search of all "suspicious" characters, and the silver was soon found by self-appointed sleuths in the pockets of F. J. Merriam, publisher of a farm journal, who colored to the roots of his hair, but enjoyed the joke when he learned his pockets had been stuffed.

Practical jokes culled were perpetrated on the unsuspecting, and the evening's merriment was accelerated by the musical entertainers, Bess Jordan, Beulah Dawson and Louis Kippatrick.

Plans for attending the national convention in Baltimore next June were outlined by Bert Adams. Two Pullman cars will be at the disposal of the Atlantans and fifty delegates have already signed up for the trip. All who go must wear uniform gray suits, blue hose and straw hats and the Atlanta contingent will march in the Baltimore parade, which will be a series of spectacular floats representing

BOXING BOUTS GIVEN FOR ILLINOIS SOLONS

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—Members of the legislature, state officials and municipal officers from a number of cities witnessed a scientific boxing entertainment here tonight. The affair was given in the interest of Senator Carroll's bill, which would legalize ten-round bouts in Illinois. Similar bills are pending in house committees. Fifteen hundred persons witnessed four bouts. Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, was present and was called upon to speak. He declined, but the official announcer said that if the legislature gives its official approval to the Carroll senate bill Mayor Harrison will allow bouts to be staged in Chicago.

The first bout was between Fred Gilmore and "Mickey" Sheridan, of Chicago, who went three fast rounds. The second bout brought together Jimmie Barry, who retired the undefeated bantam champion of the world, and Johnny Coulon, of Chicago, present holder of the bantam title. Barry and Coulon went two rounds and the former showed much of his old-time cleverness. Coulon then took on Frankie White, of Chicago, for two rounds. Representative Frank McNichols, of Chicago, was the referee in the Coulon bouts.

Coulon addressed the spectators and pleaded for the passage of the pending bill.

Representative George Hilton, of Chicago, who also has a bill in the house to legalize boxing, went four rounds with Pete Boyle, also of Chicago. There was little science in this event and the participants wore "pillow" gloves to prevent injury.

The last number was a fast four-round bout between Packey McFarland and Willie Schaefer, both of Chicago. Senator Carroll, of Chicago, was the referee.

WASHINGTON STREET VIADUCT SIDEWALK CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

Start Your Baby With Sound Health

Regular Bowel Movement from Childhood on Forestalls Future Serious Diseases

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do—but it should be done instantly—is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative-remedy. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well-known persons as the parents of Dixie Dudley, Margolite Ark, the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Earl Dudley writes: "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best medicine I ever used. It cured my baby of flatulency colic when the doctors failed; it cured my husband of constipation. My home shall never be without Syrup Pepsin." It is a pleasant-tasting laxative, which every person likes. It is mild, non-gripping, and contains that most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

This remedy is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and all others to whom harsh cathartics, salt waters, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative-remedy, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Two generations of people are using it today, and thousands of families keep it constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way, a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Where do you spend your summers?
Why should you go to Northern resorts when you can find rest and recreation within a few hours of home?
Why go to the mountains when you can find surroundings quite as healthful by the ocean?
Why spend your money for the discomforts of crowded hotels, when for less money you can have all the comforts and conveniences of your own home?

Why not own a home of your own designing at Atlantic Beach, fitted up with your own belongings, electric lighted, plenty of good water, good sewers and perfect sanitation; good neighbors and good surroundings; five minutes' walk from the finest beach for ocean surf-bathing on the South Atlantic coast; miles of smooth roads for your automobile, the coolest of summer breezes, good stores for marketing, good transportation, and all the comforts that make a summer in the South ideal?

These things are possible at Atlantic Beach. It is only seventeen miles from Jacksonville, with which it is connected by one of the finest hard-surfaced roads in the South, by a convenient steam railroad schedule, and by the promise of an electric line within a short time.

It is not an expensive proposition. The cost of the summer vacations in distant Northern resorts will pay for a home here and furnish it in a few seasons. You can occupy it for half the year and rent it the other half.

Atlantic Beach is a new city. It adjoins the famous Continental Hotel, one of the finest resorts in Florida, and its building is opening up to permanent residents the wonderfully attractive features of this seaside place.

This property extends for five miles along the finest ocean beach in the country, and extends back over hundreds of acres of wonderfully beautiful palm and oak hammock. Historic spots, Indian mounds and shell mounds are scattered through it, and magnificent drives lead to them. There is no more interesting place in the South.

Come and see it. If you cannot come, write for information. Find out about it. It is the most important home-building development ever undertaken in the South. Strong men with abundant capital are behind it.

INEFFICIENCY AGAIN

In communications published elsewhere Mrs. W. R. Emmons and J. S. Cook add another chapter to the familiar story of municipal inefficiency. Peachtree from Sixth street to the limits and Ivy street between its junction with Peachtree and its intersection with Auburn are now being visited with a plague of dust.

Mrs. Emmons bears witness to the exact truth when she says that the homes along Peachtree a thoroughfare traveled by people from every section of the city are almost uninhabitable because of the dust created by the operations of the workers. It is impossible to sit on porches. If housewives wish to protect their furniture and interior furnishings from ruin they must keep windows closed—this in weather which is essentially that of the open window.

Conditions on Ivy street are as bad or worse. A brigade of shovellers and trains of wagon are engaged all day in removing dirt from the street surface. The dust clouds are overwhelming. Life just at present on both of these streets more nearly resembles a struggle for survival in the sand storms of the Sahara than in the center of a city assumed to be highly civilized and efficiently administered.

Disease no less than money loss and inconvenience rises from these conditions. In permitting such a situation to arise and continue the city is simply pursuing the old slipshod negligent happy-go-lucky course that is visible in every other municipal channel. She is overlooking the little but essential details that have so important a bearing on capable administration. It would have been easy enough while the work on Peachtree was proceeding to make provision for sprinkling the street. The same process would have minimized the discomforts of Ivy street.

Even now it is not too late to afford relief. It is the duty of the authorities to lose no time in applying measures such as will make life bearable on these streets. Elemental intelligence should guard against their recurrence. If the city is to penalize with plagues of dust all those who agree to improvements progress will be more difficult than ever.

NOT SO BAD AS PAINTED

The following extract from the recent grand jury charge of Judge W. D. Ellis is a model and the sentiment is worth preserving.

I do not sympathize with the notion that a man is ill-bred if he does not believe in the goodness of humanity. It is for the bad I believe that it is unfair to cry out over a sort of wall of despair. Because I am committed I doubt if the holding out to public view of all the faults of the human race is conducive to the public good. There is no perfect community anywhere and probably never will be upon the face of this world of ours. In trying to elevate and promote good citizenship in trying to suppress crime and disorder we should not be led into the error of bringing reproach upon the people of one of the best communities in the world by exploiting the misdeeds of a few. Let us rather contend for teaching to the high level of honesty and virtue and at the same time ferret out and punish the guilty who are upon us and who by their conduct, violate the laws which condemn the vicious, and which give praise to and provide for the well being and safety of the good

The past few years in this country constitute pre-eminently the era of the muckraker. His poisonous trail has run and is now running over each channel of public thought, each avenue of public activity, his jaundiced venom is infecting the larger part of the body politic as a nation we are obsessed with suspicion, ignoring the good in life and inclined to judge it as a whole only by its unrepresentative nauseous and abnormal elements. The sane viewpoint of Judge Ellis is refreshing. People should ponder its lessons. Judging only by the blaring utterances of the muckraker and having no facilities for ascertaining the truth of details what sort of opinion would the average foreigner carry away from this country? He would think that our people were perfidious degraded our officials and statesmen corrupt our society steadily going to the devil.

Why this warped and wholly unjustified public attitude? Because the muckraker has pampered our intellectual palates until they can distinguish only the morbid he has cajoled people not in a viewless, things as they are but into viewing them only through his diseased vision and his smoked glasses. What is the result? Whatever good transpires is dismissed with a few newspaper lines and in a few days is forgotten. Right of way is given the domings of the evil. Virtue as it appears in the world news is minimized vice in the space and emphasis given it is glorified.

Week before last constituted a southern epoch in the presence here of a grand opera. The events of those seven days would have filled columns with gripping human interest items. The papers of the country gave the week itself a small paragraph at least. Hardly had the grand opera week ended than the Mary Phagan story broke. Newspapers the nation over could not get enough of it daily they clamored for more and more and more. What more convincing contrast could be offered? In the case of Atlanta one would be justified by the news going from this city in believing that it was a stronghold of iniquity. As a matter of fact for a place of its size it is freer from gambling drunkenness prostitution and other vices than any city in the country.

But the muckraker is kind. Every body is frail and the world is going to the devil generally. We need heroic doses of the sturdy and wholesome views of Judge Ellis. We need to realize the privilege of living in the cleanest most progressive and most constructive age in all history and to know that the sun today shines on more a total and unassuming good on more triumphant battles against vice and wrong done and on more protection of the weak against the strong than at any previous time in all his story. But the muckraker won't admit it.

A SPUR TO DEMOCRACY

The same and independent Springfield Republican warns the country that there will be no adequate opposition to the democratic party until the republicans and the Roosevelt progressives reach an understanding. It also remarks significantly that indications of this understanding are already in evidence especially in the west where the first insurrection against the republican party came into existence. These comments are almost identical with those passed by The Constitution after the democratic tidal wave of last November. At that time we bade the democratic hosts beware of overconfidence pointing out that had progressive and republican contingents united the democracy would probably have lost the last national campaign. We also contended that opposition to the party was not dead nor sleeping and that sooner or later it would manifest itself in aggressive form. Our guess then was that the bull moose wing would capture the old stand-pat wing. Though little of a definite nature has happened since then there is really little reason to alter the terms of this prophecy.

In the long run however it makes no especial difference to the democracy whether the progressives swallow the republican stand-patters or vice versa. The thing that counts is that through the length and breadth of the two opposing political organizations there run evidence of an approaching understanding. That an understanding has not yet reached the stage of an organization in either house or senate though it would not be surprising to witness the formation of such an understanding before the assembling of congress in December.

Once the two warring republican cliques have formed even a tentative alliance the test is going to be squarely up to democracy. The party can and will be invulnerable against such a combination if in the mean time it fulfills all pledges buries all dissensions and leaves no just ground for criticism. That is the main lesson from the signs of harmony in the enemy's camp. Opposition to the democracy can flourish only on the mistakes or the bad faith of the party. The country is watching and waiting as well as the new and old line republicans. It expects that the expressed and implied mandates of the past campaign senate will do well to bear in mind these mandates are ignored or trampled in redemption the country will lose no time in turning to whatever opposition party offers the most hope of defeating democracy. Leaders of the administration in house and senate will do well to bear in mind these facts as well as the signs of readjustment even now visible within the ranks of the opposition.

Gossip Caught in Corridors Of the National Capitol

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington May 6.—(Special)—A determined purpose to rid the civil service rolls of those who do not belong there has been shown by the democrats in congress.

This inquiry presages a big shake-up in all the executive departments. Senator Overman of North Carolina, the author of a resolution of inquiry, says the law has been a sham and a pretense and that the old spoils system is better than a list that clothes political deceit.

John Corrigan, Jr.

Senator Pomerene of Ohio has also expressed positive views on the subject. He is chairman of the committee on civil service and retrenchment which will conduct the investigation. A resolution he has introduced is that of Senator Overman. The committee will meet on Tuesday to make plans for the investigation.

His committee will not be a merely ornamental one but will undertake a really a serious task. Persons who have obtained a place on the rolls in the last twenty years through nepotism and political favoritism will be denied the protection of a law with which they have never complied. Thousands of government employees have been employed under the civil service by executive proclamation in the last year.

It is in the nature of the case that both Overman and Pomerene both have the same disposition to disturb the placid by taking examinations in good faith and who have been certified through the civil service commission in the regular way. But he does object to extending the list to an end of the civil service to men and women who were appointed through irregular methods by executive order.

Osborne is Determined: William H. Osborne the new commissioner of internal revenue has entered office with the determination to enforce absolutely the internal revenue laws and wipe out the illicit distilling of whiskey in the United States.

He comes to his post in position with the experience of twenty years as the head of the Kelly Club in Greensboro N. C. which under his management became one of the most complete and scientifically conducted institutions of the kind in the country.

What do you believe is the most serious effect of evasion of the internal revenue laws? Colonel Osborne was asked. Through many years of close observation I have carefully noted that the coming of a break in a plant to a community is invariably followed by a wave of crime extending often to perjury, arson and murder. The Kelly Club itself was a distinctly immoral effect upon the people who trade in the illicit product and others who having knowledge of the breaking of the laws are determined to shield them. A man cannot continually break the law or shield another who is breaking the law without acquiring a viciousness and disregard of every day morals and human life.

I had opportunity to observe this class of lawbreakers while I served as one of a committee of three which completely reorganized the North Carolina penitentiary back in 1900. That experience was also helpful to me in that I gained knowledge of the absolute organization and conduct a large business institution.

Prefer to Cabinet: If I President Wilson had given me my choice of a position under the government I believe I would have chosen the position of commissioner of internal revenue in preference to any other he said. I would prefer it to one of the cabinet positions. It is a work with which I have been connected to a certain extent for twenty years, and it will give me great pleasure to be in a position where I can try to do some of the things I have formed in regard to the absolute stopping of all illicit distillation of whiskey. It will be done with the proper organization on the part of the legitimate whiskey manufacturers.

Do you think you will reorganize the working machinery of any of the divisions under your department?

I doubt if it will be found necessary to do much reorganizing. The office of the internal revenue commissioner is one of the most smoothly running machines I have ever seen and it speaks well for the administration of the former commissioners. Every detail has been carefully worked out apparently and there seems to be the best of co-operation between the different divisions of the service.

Of course after I have observed its workings at close range for a few weeks I

A Story of the Moment

By WALTER MASON, The Famous Prose Poet

The Punctual Man

I had an appointment with Mr. Potpourri at 3 o'clock this afternoon, said the melancholy boarder. "I was there to the minute and waited nearly an hour before he came. I think there ought to be a law compelling people to be punctual. I'm always on time myself and I haven't much use for people who don't keep their appointments by the clock."

That's the intolerant attitude of all punctual men remarked the star boarder. I have known many men who prided themselves on their punctuality and they all were disagreeable. It is a curious fact that the man who has the virtue of punctuality seldom has any other virtues. He thinks that this one characteristic atones for everything. Does he foreclose his mortgage on a widow's cottage and drive that afflicted female and her twenty three children into the street? Well he always keeps his appointment to the minute and his trifling errors should be overlooked. Does he send his aged parents to the poorhouse while he burns up the king's highway in his motor car? It may be remembered that he is never a minute late keeping an appointment. He magnifies his one virtue until it fills the whole landscape and he can't see any of the smaller ones which are struggling for existence in its shade.

Punctuality my dear Miss Jiggers is nothing but the essence of selfishness. Suppose I make an appointment to meet a merchant prince at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. I arrive at his trade palace just as the clock is striking the hour and have to wait half an hour. If I made a hobby of punctuality I'd be grinding my teeth and pulling my hair out and muttering threats of vengeance. I'd be making up my mind to write a ringing communication to my favorite newspaper dwelling upon the enormity of the offense of being late. No extenuating circumstances would present themselves to my mind. But as I am not a punctual man and consequently not a selfish man I'd take things easy and reflect that I might as well wait where I was as anywhere else. It would occur to me at once that something unavoidable had detained the merchant prince. He might have been run over by an auto truck or hit by a falling beam on a ship. After a while the merchant prince would arrive and apologize for being late and I'd take advantage of the occasion to borrow $5 from him. If I met him with reproachful glances and said something about the beauties of punctuality it would be impossible to borrow a cent from him.

The punctual man makes new enemies every day. He's always making superfluous appointments hoping that the other fellow will be late which will give him a chance to growl when he sits down to the groaning board and to parade his one lonely snow-capped virtue. The other fellow pretty sure to be late for comparatively few reasonable men are cranky on the subject of being on time and then the punctual man makes him sore in his growth and complaints.

In recent years punctuality has become a foolish habit in the business world. In business houses clerks and other employees are expected to be at their work at a certain hour. If they are a minute or two late they are docked a week's salary. Nothing could be more unjust. Mrs. Jiggers' nothing could be more unjust. The feeling of indignity which is essential to the conduct of business. You can't expect the young man who has been docked to care three burrs whether his employers go broke or not. A young man let us say spends the long evenings playing billiards or poker or other in constructive games. He has a bad run of luck and when he retires to his boudoir at 5 o'clock in the morning he is dead broke and in debt to a considerable amount. How ever he reflects as he goes to sleep he'll square up everything on his payday. But after his exhausting toil he sleeps soundly and when he gets out in the morning he's half an hour late. Then he finds that there won't be any payday that week. Is it any wonder that he loses confidence in his fellow men that ambition dies in his breast? How can he do his work with enthusiasm or wholesome pride? Answer me that Mrs. Jiggers and give me some of those painted strawberries.

Isn't He the "Sassy" Thing?

(From Pickens County Progress) Atlanta subscribed $400 for the flood sufferers $300 for the Dago squealers and $100 for the Shrimps. Still they are kicking about the small pay of the working girl. A liberal set they are.

may discover some faults and instances where red tape can be eliminated and short cuts made or where it will be advisable to adopt different methods in handling certain phases of the department's work.

Born in North Carolina: The new congressman born in Granville county North Carolina, February 21 1856 the same year President Wilson was born. His father was a prominent tobacco manufacturer and he went to work in his father's factory upon leaving school. When he reached the age of 21 he struck out for himself and opened a little tobacco factory at Durham, later forming a partnership with the Cooper-Blackwell company.

In 1882 he went to Greensboro as head of the Keeles Institute but for a few years continued in the tobacco business as a buyer until the institute expanded and became so extensive it monopolized all his time. In this work he had a chance to study at first hand the terrible effect of overindulgence in liquor.

Do you believe that the internal revenue service with its present force of employees in the field can entirely stamp out the illicit distillation of whiskey? he was asked. Yes I believe it can be done with the proper co-operation on the part of the honest whiskey distillers. I remember about thirty years ago at the time when a large amount of tobacco was being manufactured and sold in North Carolina without the payment of the government tax. A meeting of the tobacco manufacturers was held in Raleigh at that meeting every manufacturer pledged his word that he would not attempt to evade any payment of the government revenue tax and furthermore pledged his word that he would inform the revenue officers of every instance of such evasion on the part of any other person. From that day the blockading of tobacco in North Carolina ceased practically. The moral effect on the community was also marked.

Now if the whiskey manufacturers would get together continued Colonel Osborne and agree to sell every effort to close up the blind tigers in the country by informing the revenue officers of every instance of evasion of the revenue laws all the blockaders could be put out of business in twelve months. And then the legitimate distiller would rid himself of the competition with the more cheaply produced goods.

DUSTY PEACHTREE AND IVY DRAW CITIZENS' COMPLAINT

Peachtree Street.

Editor Constitution: The press has ever stood behind every reform for its city's improvement and The Constitution has waged war and won so many splendid fights for our civic welfare that once again I feel it will get behind a large majority of its long suffering citizens and see that they get fair play.

It is generally conceded that Peachtree street is the most traveled thoroughfare of the city for business and pleasure. Necessarily the dust is heaviest on this street.

As taxpayers I feel the city owes the residents of Peachtree street protection from this awful scourge of dust.

For some years we have ceased to enjoy the pleasure of our porches—in fact we can hardly keep our windows open. The dust has become a menace to health.

I believe it is up to our city to give some care and protection to the property owners who have done their part in making this street attractive. We have literally eaten the dust for years and I believe every resident on this avenue as well as every pedestrian who travels it will be grateful to you if you can bring us relief.

MRS. M. R. EMMONS. Atlanta, Ga. May 5 1913.

As to Ivy Street: Editor Constitution: The dust from moving the immense amount of dirt on Ivy street is causing great inconvenience and hardship to the residents on that street, and is no doubt injuring the health of a great many people.

Copious sprinkling along the street at this time would be of great benefit but the writer understands that to do this extra sprinkling would add materially to the expense of those who live there most of whom are renters and do not feel called upon to stand this extra expense. Would it not be a good idea for the waterworks department during a dry spell like this to allow free water bills to the residents along Ivy street as an encouragement to sprinkle as much as possible?

This is merely thrown out as a suggestion but the writer believes that if your paper will call upon our city fathers to do this simple act it will do an immense amount of good if acted upon.

New News of Yesterday

Hotel Guests Who Were Never Asked to Pay Their Bills.

By E. J. Edwards (Copyright 1913 for The Constitution) At midday in the summer of 1902 I shared in an informal luncheon with the late Admiral Melville and his warm personal friend the late John Chamberlin who was one time the proprietor of a hotel and restaurant at Washington of which many of the leading politicians and members of congress and cabinet officers were very fond. It was at Mr. Chamberlin's restaurant that Roscoe Conkling took his meals for several years and there Chester A. Arthur when vice president of the United States boarded although he boarded elsewhere than in Mr. Chamberlin's hotel. At the luncheon Admiral Melville asked Mr. Chamberlin if he ever allowed distinguished public men to run up heavy bills. Oh yes replied Mr. Chamberlin some of them were never paid. I was asked some years ago if I would take charge of the restaurant in the house of representatives. I didn't hesitate a moment I said no and gave as my reason that I was too busy.

My real reason was that I had learned that some of the stewards of the house restaurant had in the past suffered heavy losses through the delinquency of members of congress to set their scores at the end of the session. But said Admiral Melville you have had now for some years a very prominent man who it is commonly said has run up a heavy bill and that there is little or no chance that he will ever pay it.

Well said Mr. Chamberlin he is paying it although he doesn't know it. His great prominence in public life have brought to him many valuable acquaintances. He is very popular. I presume it is true that he hasn't a penny in the world but he can live at my house just as long as he wants to and have the best there is in the house.

I will tell you the reason if you are careful not to let it get to his ears. His popularity and his record as an attractive man who brings a great deal of business to my house. He doesn't realize it he doesn't know that I regard him as far more than a paying guest on his board and lodging. He is a very sensitive man and I am sure that if that idea ever entered his head he would get angry and leave me.

Well hotel proprietors continued Mr. Chamberlin have some peculiar experiences and that is especially true in Washington. I could write a book of most interesting anecdotes associated with public men in Washington who were who have been or are coming to the United States. There is one used to live at the old Arlington hotel at Washington a gentleman who at one time was very prominent in politics. He went to Washington to live I think about 1875. He invested all he had in a piece of unimproved land 3 or 4 miles out from the treasury department building. Almost every body thought he was crazy to do that.

This investment made him land poor. I think he did not have a dollar income. The taxes on this property were unpaid and there were liens upon it. I once spoke to Roosevelt who was for many years the proprietor of the Arlington about this man. There is a kind of freemasonry among the hotelkeepers and we tell one another things in confidence.

Roosevelt said to me that he had kept this man as a guest of his house for some five or six years and during all that time he had never paid any board. A very large bill had accumulated against him.

But said Roosevelt this man is the soul of honor. He tells me that some day his property will change to riches because he will be able to sell his property at an enormous advance over what he paid on it. I have full confidence in him. Some day I shall get the full amount of my bill with interest and it will be a pretty large sum.

I think it was 4 or 5 years later Mr. Chamberlin continued that Roosevelt came into my place. He said that he wanted to remind me of a conversation he had with me about the guest he carried for so many years without the payment of a dollar on account. Well said Roosevelt it has turned out exactly as I told you. The land boom has reached through and extended beyond his property. He has sold his land for a very large sum which was paid in cash. The first thing he did after he received his money was to ask me to step into my private office with him. When I did so he asked me to make out my bill for all those years that he had boarded with me including interest. I had my bookkeeper make out the bill. While this was being done he said to me that he was at last a rich man, as he viewed riches.

When the bill was handed to him he simply looked at the amount. It was well up in the thousands. Then he wrote a check for the entire amount and simply said "Thank you Roosevelt."

"It Might Have Been."

It may be that Mr. Bryan would have preferred to be the man sending instead of the man sent.—Baltimore American.

About Crop Statistics

Editor Constitution: A very small change in the blank forms that are sent out to county tax receivers would enable them to gather useful crop statistics at a mere trifle of cost in time or money. A few added columns with proper headings would be the only change necessary. In the blanks our kin reports already furnish accurate knowledge of the number of bales of cotton produced. A column for the number of acres planted to cotton would enable us to tell the yield per acre. Two additional columns would gather the same information in regard to the corn crop—one for acreage and the other for total yield in bushels.

Our federal census gathers this information in decennial periods but it is four years old when we get it. Other leading crops such as oats wheat hay etc. could be included if desired but we certainly ought to know what we are doing in the matter of corn as well as cotton.

Many organizations and agencies are giving valuable and helpful aid toward bringing about better methods and conditions on our farms. Definite knowledge as to what is being done on the farms would greatly aid in giving wise direction to all these forces.

The Regrade of Whitehall

Editor Constitution: Your editorial in yesterday's paper concerning the regrading of Whitehall street is along the line of betterment to one of the principal thoroughfares in Atlanta and one that has suffered many years by reason of delinquency in the proper officials not having done the work long years ago. This regrading project means more to Whitehall street and its side streets to the south side and to the whole city than any project now before the community or that has been before the community cost considered in a long while. I trust you will follow it up with enthusiasm and have the matter definitely decided to begin the work at an early date and finish at least the Whitehall part of the work during the present summer.

Get Married While Young

You will hear some young man say I cannot invite a girl who has been brought up to do nothing for herself and to have every gratification and every luxury provided for her to marry me until I can earn income which will enable her to live with me in the way I have two remarks to make about that doctrine—that if a girl has been brought up in that manner the sooner she has a chance to live differently the better for her and secondly that it is only fair for a young man who loves a young woman to consult her as to whether or not she wishes to marry him before he can earn a large income.

The young woman has a clear right to say a word on that subject to the man she loves and not be obliged to wait till he is 35 years old before he asks her to marry him. This is a matter of looking ahead at a critical point in your lives. You are not in the habit perhaps of contemplating this event of marriage. It would be wiser to do so. The sooner you begin to think about it the better—first because it will be thinking about the most important event in your lives in respect to the development of your characters and to the happiness not only of yourselves but of the women you will marry and of the family life which will normally result.—Dr. Elliot, in Harper's Bazaar.

The Hickory in Danger

Entomologists declare the hickory to be in danger of extermination. There is a new species of bark beetle which is working widespread destruction. The bark beetle should be sought out and ruthlessly slain. The hickory is an unaristocratic tree. It is gaunt but sturdy. It looks like Uncle Sam. There is something essentially and typically American about the hickory. Its shaggy homeliness is a delight. The nut it bears is delicious. The tree is not like the spreading chestnut, affluent in verdure and generous in shade. It is rather spare and utilitarian. And the hickory nut is far more admirable than the chestnut and far more American. It is a hard nut to crack. But after the shell has once been removed, it is found to be very desirable.

Then too there is the hickory bark for building fires with. In the winter when a cheery fire in the woods or the hickory strivins for the crackling of the hickory bark is the cheeriest thing imaginable and its fragrance is beyond description delightful.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cause for Disgust

The christening party consisted of the proud father the baby—a girl the grandfather and the rest of the folk. The grandfather stood nearest the priest during the ceremony.

What's the child's name? asked the priest of the grandfather at the appropriate moment. I dunno the grandfather replied. And returned to the father and whispered hoarsely. What's her name? "Hazel," replied the father. "What?" asked the grandfather. "Hazel," repeated the father. The grandfather threw up his hands in disgust.

What do you think of that? he asked the priest. With a calendar of the saints full of girl-names—his own name his after a nob.—Saturday Evening Post.

NEGROES WERE TRIED BUT FELKER MUST PAY

Appeals Court Holds Monroe Man Must Pay Gamblers' Police Court Fines.

Some important and interesting decisions were handed down by the court of appeals yesterday morning.

A case of more than usual interest was that of J. H. Felker v. the state. Mr. Felker, who has been a member of the legislature, gave a note for $100 to a negro, who had been caught gambling at Monroe, Ga., and was tried for disorderly conduct, with the understanding, it is said, that the charge would not be pressed. Later the negro was tried for gambling in the state court. Mr. Felker, who wanted the negro to work on his place declined to pay the note, and judgment was rendered against him. He appealed. The court of appeals held that the defendant could not decline to pay the note, because the understanding about the prosecution was not carried out. The decision of the lower court was sustained.

Railroad Is Responsible

A railroad is responsible if a person is injured while walking in a switching yard of a railroad, commonly used as a roadway without any specific objection from the company, is what the court virtually held in the case of James Blinton v. the Central Railway of Georgia. The case came from Savannah. It was thrown out of court on a demurrer by the railroad, which argued that Blinton was a trespasser. The court held that Blinton was a trespasser, but that the railroad was liable for damages.

Jury Is Not the Judge

It is not for the jury to pass upon the validity and reasonableness of a city law regulating the speed of autos, but a question of law for the court, so the court of civil appeals held in the case of the Columbus Railway company. Walker, in that case the defendant appealed the jury to "weigh all the facts and say whether a city ordinance of Columbus fixing the auto speed limit was valid and reasonable. This was held to be a question of law for the court. The court of appeals held that the ordinance was valid and reasonable.

Buy Diamond's Before The New Tariff Advances Prices

Under the old tariff no duty was levied on "uncut" or "rough" diamonds. Only 10 per cent duty was paid on cut or polished diamonds.

The democratic caucus has just recommended a 20 per cent duty on polished diamonds and 10 per cent on the rough. This new rate will no doubt become effective within the next two or three months.

In addition to this, the big diamond syndicate has raised prices to the cutters since January $15.00 to $30.00 per carat.

This means an advance in the retail market within the next four to six months ranging from $15.00 to $60.00 a carat—according to grades and sizes.

Buy a diamond now on attractive monthly payments and save the advance. Our booklet, "Facts About Diamonds," gives net prices and gives full particulars regarding our liberal plans.

TRUSTEES RECEIVE HAWKES HOME DEED FROM A. K. HAWKES

At a meeting of the trustees of the Harriet Hawkins Educational and Industrial home Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in the office of Colonel Walter McBreath, A. K. Hawkes had transferred to the trustees the deed to the fifty-acre tract of land on Stewart avenue. The trustees some time back had fulfilled the original agreement with Mr. Hawkes, which was to raise a subscription of $18,000 by a given time with which to erect the first building.

This deed was accepted, and a committee, consisting of G. H. Brandon, R. A. Hemphill, E. H. Peacock, Dr. C. W. Daniel, A. B. Bundy, Joseph A. McCord, Dr. C. B. Wilmer and J. J. Egan was appointed for the purpose of mapping out the future course of the work, and to consider the recent proposed co-operation of the county commissioners.

An expression of thanks was forwarded to Mr. Hawkes for the splendid gift of this valuable tract of land, estimated to be worth $25,000, and public thanks were tendered for his liberal response to the call on them for funds and subscriptions, and the press for its valuable help in bringing the plans and the needs of the institution before the people.

Movement Started by Peacock

It will be remembered that this work was started by E. H. Peacock, who for eleven years labored among all classes and conditions of the city's needs, and has had much experience in all kinds of philanthropic and miscellaneous work, having had charge of this branch of the Tabernacle work for many years.

Knowing the great need of protecting Atlanta's young girls, and in order to be able to realize his dream of a great institution for that purpose, he went to Mr. Hawkes and explained to him his plans, asking for the gift of this property on which to build this institution, and making it a memorial to perpetuate the name of Mr. Hawkes' mother.

The Grand Work Being Done by Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm.

The Health Teacher asks you how long you continue to see your friends and neighbors being cured before you realize what a wonderful remedy the Quaker Extract must be? Now, here are a few names, with addresses, who have been relieved of child misery and restored to a life of sunshine and happiness in a few days or weeks after using the Quaker Remedies:

The remarkable work was that of saving the life of little Annie Donaldson, an eight-year-old child, not larger than an ordinary child of five years. This child has had many attacks of fever, biliousness, weak, run-down conditions for the past four years. Her stomach would bloat, restlessness at night, screaming out in the morning, foul breath, especially in the morning, dizziness, headache, tired, languid feeling, and the strange part was she most always had a voracious appetite, could eat a big meal and in one hour was hungry again.

The mother called at Coursey & Munn's drug store, procured one bottle of Quaker Extract, and in three days the child expelled a monster 11-foot tapeworm, head and all complete, squirming and alive, and today is the picture of health.

Another report: Mr. Charles D. Owens, 20 years of age, who resides at East Point, was what a wonderful case! He suffers with stomach trouble for the past five years. Has tried almost every treatment he ever heard of without even getting relief. He was advised by friends to try the Quaker Remedies. He did, and after taking just six doses expelled a monster 11-foot tapeworm, head and all complete, and he is now a healthy, happy man.

Here is another report: Mr. J. S. Collett, of 55 Wyman street, who has been a sufferer with stomach trouble for years. His stomach would bloat and cause him much distress after eating moderately. Gas would arise, cause palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, dizziness, kidney pain, bowels irregular. For weeks at a time he was unable to work. He called at Coursey & Munn's drug store, procured three bottles of Quaker Extract and after taking it five days, reports he is going back to work and is feeling better than he has in years.

Now, my friends, the Health Teacher wants every sufferer with rheumatism or blood trouble to call at once. Now, hundreds, yes, millions of people, today who suffer with indigestion, dyspepsia, fits, catarrh of the stomach or chronic constipation, that is the cause and how, if you don't "remove" the cause, Quaker Extract is a cure for catarrh, no matter if it is in the head, the stomach, kidneys, bladder or any part of the inner system. It's a blood-purifier, and there is only one way it can be cured, and that is a systematic treatment. Call at Coursey & Munn's drug store, 23 Marietta street, for Quaker Extract, for $2.50 or 4 for $5.00. Oil of Balm, 25c or 4 for $1.00. We accept all express charges on all orders of $3.00 or over. Get

NO REASON FOR DOUBT

As to the Merits of Cardui the Woman's Tonic In View of Such Evidence

Tombah Okli—In a letter from this town Mrs. J. H. Peterson says I do believe that if it had not been for Cardui the woman's tonic I would have been living today.

I am so glad that I began taking Cardui when I did. Before I began using it I was a fat health and suffered from back pain. It has now made me back strong and healthy.

Cardui helped me more than any other medicine I have ever used. I think I can take it and I am in better health now than I have been for many years.

I shall never be able to do the woman's tonic. It has made me always feel like a new girl.

Can you tell me the merits of Cardui after reading the above letter? This is only one of many that I receive each day. So I strongly recommend Cardui to all women. It proves the great value of this tonic for the ailments of women.

Cardui is one of the weakened woman's organs. It helps to refresh the worn-out nerves and is the ideal medicine for young and old.

As a tonic for women it has brought remarkable results.

As a body builder for women it is indispensable. It has no equal.

TAG DAY AN ANNIVERSARY TO MAKE THE WORLD AKIN

Tag day makes all the world akin once a year, and the annual relationship is to be established Monday. The little children who are the wards of the sheltering arms association are the welding influence. No other could do what they do so nearly universal. They need no arguments to back their little silent appeal once a year. Atlanta people know they are here. They know they must be cared for and know the work of the Atlanta women who through the Sheltering Arms are giving these little folks a chance to become some day useful happy men and women.

With Atlanta's rapid growth, the number of little folks who must come under this philanthropy is constantly on the increase and so each year there is bigger need for the generous looking of Atlanta's purse strings. In all the office buildings, hotels and stores there will be committees representing the association Monday who will accept the annual donation of Atlanta's citizenship towards this universal call and this year as it has always been in the past, it may be anticipated as a beautiful feature of the day that the offerings will be of the day's work and of her glad generosity.

FIELD DAY EXHIBITION TO BE GIVEN SATURDAY

Pastry made with Cottolene is smoother in texture, finer-grained and better in flavor than if made from butter or lard.

And Cottolene costs no more than lard, and will go one-third farther than either butter or lard.

 1 heaping teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon sugar
 Mix dry ingredients together and stir into chopping bowl. Add Cottolene chilled, chop lightly until well mixed; be careful to keep everything cold. Now add the milk, stirring lightly. 3. How the new Nemo Lastcurve-Back gives you the straight, smooth back, and keeps that "corset-edge" from showing through a thin gown.
4. That there's a hygienic Nemo Corset for every figure—slender as well as stout—that will give you perfect up-to-date style, complete ease and long wear.

RESPITE FOR NEGRO PROVOKES MOB SPIRIT

Duingerfield, Texas, May 3.—Two negro churches and a negro residence were burned at Omaha, Texas, ten miles north of here, last night when it became known that Governor O. B. Colquhoun had granted a thirty-day respite to Gas Finley, a negro, sentenced to be hanged here today for the murder of Constable George Tucker, of Omaha. Feeling was intense and fearing mob violence, he was spirited away tonight by officers to a jail in another county.

SITUATION SERIOUS IN BERRIEN COUNTY

Commissioner Mercer Declares Many Citizens Are Openly Defying Law.

"That I have not overestimated the situation in Berrien county in regard to the unlawful fishing in the big pond," stated James and Fish Commissioner Jesse Mercer yesterday, "is borne out by a letter which I received this morning from one of my game wardens. He sent me his commission and badge and said that he cannot live in that section of Georgia and hold the office.

"He begins his letter by saying: 'Things are too hot for me down here. I do not care to stay out here because I hope to prevail upon him to reconsider his action, as he is one of the best wardens I have. There are in Berrien county about fifteen wardens, and even that number has failed to cope with the serious situation. It is simply another hotfoot matter, and I do not exaggerate when I say so.'

"The number of the badge which was returned to the commissioner is 412.

In Defense of the Law.

The warden fishing situation, which was given in an exclusive story in Tuesday's Constitution, has caused the commissioner no little anxiety. He does not hesitate to say that many people in Berrien are openly defying the law, and persist in fishing in the big mill pond, despite every effort that has been made to force them to obey the law. There are those who claim they have the right to fish because of the land and right, and there are others whose claim is what they call "God-given," because the fish are there and are plentiful and they are needed for food.

The court's approach toward the situation, Tuesday morning hearing on the very point that is being raised at Milltown. The court held that it is a clear misdemeanor for any person to fish on the land of another without the land owner's permission, and that this law applies in matter what the character of the water may be. The case is that of P. W. Robinson v. the state, and came from Thomasville.

Commissioner Mercer says he will visit Milltown in a few days and then he intends to enforce the law.

No Word From Nashville.

Although every effort has been made to secure a statement from the officials at Nashville, not a word has been heard. Because of the news made by Warden M. P. Boleclair, who was ordered out of Berrien county after he had been sent there by Commissioner Mercer to make arrests, it was desired to hear the other side of the story from the Nashville mayor and officials.

How Arrests Were Made.

Nashville, Ga., May 6.—(Special.)—Game Warden Boleclair went to Milltown and stated that he was off on a vacation. It is declared here, it is said that he went fishing with a party of men in banks' pond. He then got names of those who had been fishing in the pond and had them arrested. About twenty-nine were arrested, and it is said that some of them owned part of the land in the pond. In the preliminary trial at Milltown, Boleclair had the cases dismissed. The defendants had employed attorneys and were ready to fight the case. When Warden Boleclair entered the court room at Milltown, Mayor Pafford saw a revolver in his pocket and had him arrested. Charges against him are carrying a pistol without license, carrying concealed weapons and carrying a pistol into a court room.

The defendants arrested for illegal fishing are among the best citizens of Berrien county. They claim that they had permission to fish in the pond.

Yancey, and in the afternoon the first degree will be conferred by the Oostanula Lodge, No. 113.

Won't Bury Slave Negro.

Rome, Ga., May 6.—(Special.)—Mayor R. B. Reeves, of Cave Spring, at the instance of Coroner W. Miller, is investigating the alleged interference by negroes of that city with an order which the official issued to other negroes yesterday to bury the body of Richard Bevel, colored man, who was shot and killed by Marshal Paris of that city, while resisting arrest. After the inquest adjourned, the coroner paid the negroes to bury the body, and returned the money, stating that members of their race had threatened their lives if they had anything to do with it.

The attitude of the negroes is believed to be the result of the relations between the races growing out of the tragedy. Mr. Paris was exonerated by the jury, after he had exhibited several wounds made by a knife before he was killed by the officer.

Ask a Better Schedule.

Rome, Ga., May 6.—(Special.)—Secretary S. Daniel, of the M. & M. association will appear tomorrow before the railroad commission in an effort to have the schedules between Rome and Carrollton revised so that a possible one-way trip in a day's time. Various efforts to obtain relief by the merchants in recent years have resulted in failure, but Mr. Daniel believes that the present one-way trip, backed up by the business people of both cities will be successful.

PORTUGUESE REBELS ARE SENT TO AZORES

Lisbon, May 6.—The Portuguese government has dispatched political prisoners arrested for complicity in the last attempt to overthrow the republic on April 27 to the Azores for trial and punishment.

About 200 of the prisoners were marched at dawn yesterday on board the steamer Cabo Verde, which sailed at once bound for Terceira Island, where accused are to be confined, captives of the island.

The Portuguese premier was questioned last night in parliament on the subject and replied that the prisoners were sent to Azores under the provisions of the law giving the government the right to choose any place for the trial of political prisoners.

Families of the accused are terrified by the step taken by the government and express fear as to what may happen to their relatives when they arrive on the remote island and are placed in the secluded stronghold.

The riots on April 27, in which 400 prisoners were implicated, were started by the ultra-republicans. They gathered in groups before the barracks of Lisbon, fired revolvers, exploded small bombs and cheered for "the radiant republic."

TO MAKE TWO STATES OUT OF CALIFORNIA

Sacramento, Cal., May 6.—A proposal to divide the state of California at Tehachap Pass, naming the northern half "California," and the remainder "South California," is made in a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Sanford, of Ukiah, democratic national committeeman.

The resolution sets forth that California is inadequately represented in the United States senate, as compared with New England, and that the means should be provided for giving the area additional senators.

The resolution provides for submitting the division to popular vote at the next general election. It was referred to the committee on federal relations.

Senator Sanford explained that the name "South California" was selected for the southern division of the state "out of deference to Los Angeles, the home of the 'Cafeteria'."

PUBLIC SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GIVE GREAT CONCERT

The mammoth concert to be given at the Auditorium Friday night by the great chorus of public school children, will be a beautiful occasion, holding its interest for everybody in Atlanta who has at heart the welfare and progress of the city schools.

The pupils of the eighth grade in all the thirty-seven white schools will take part in one chorus, making an aggregation of 800 voices, and the seventh grades from eight schools—Crew, Edgewood, Calhoun, Williams, Lee, Formwalt, Peoples and Pryor—will participate in a smaller chorus.

Program of Folk Songs.

The program will be made up entirely of folk songs, the big chorus to sing songs of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, America, and the seventh grades to render airs of Scotland, France, Austria and Italy.

Miss Wate Harralson, director of music in the schools, has charge of the concert, and through the courtesy of the Music Festival association, the accompaniments on the Auditorium organ will be played by Dr. Percy J. Starvos.

Costly Decorations.

The various songs will be sung by the children and the class banners borne by the seventh grades will substitute for the spectacular feature of what promises to be a beautiful occasion.

DISEASE PREVENTION DOCTORS' FIRST DUTY

Edgar Watkins Makes Address at Southern College Graduation Exercises.

At the exercises at the Grand last night at which fifteen young men received their diplomas in medicine from the Southern College of Medicine and Surgery, Colonel Edgar Watkins, of Watkins, Ga., after making the principal address of the evening, stressing the point of the sacred duty that a man takes upon himself when he enters the practice of medicine.

"You are priests of men's bodies and the bodies are the temples of the soul," said the speaker in impressing upon the young graduates the importance of their work.

During the course of his speech he also called upon the men before him to become discoverers in the world of medicine and not to be willing always to follow blindly what they had been taught, but branch out and learn something new for the good of mankind as has been done by the great physicians of history.

"The mere treatment of disease is not all of the duties you assume by becoming physicians," said Colonel Watkins. "The prevention of disease is your most important obligation. While the science of medicine has progressed enormously within the last generation, there are yet unexplored fields. The roll of the heroes of mankind who have made discoveries in preventing and healing diseases is a long one.

"It is not yet settled whether Dr. P. F. Richardson will be on that list, but it is as certain as anything in the future that if his name is not put on there for discovering a cure for tuberculosis, that some one else will bring the honor.

Dr. Watkins caused a general laugh when he began his speech by stating that he was not going to try to give any advice as is usually done at graduating exercises. He said that he did not think a lawyer should give advice and the delicate way in which he stressed the word "give" brought a general laugh.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. S. H. Bell, of Park Street Methodist church, and after the formal report of the dean, Dr. W. R. Lingo, the diplomas were delivered by Dr. Henry Bak.

FIGHT ON IN JERSEY OVER JURY REFORM

Trenton, N. J., May 6.—Three bills providing for jury reform were introduced in the senate when the New Jersey legislature convened today in special session at the prohibition, constitutional convention and small boards of freeholders. Governor Fielder's message urged affirmative action on all three subjects.

The first bill, for jury reform, that introduced by Senator Davis, and providing for selection of jurors by the sheriff acting in conjunction with a chancellor-named commissioner, is said to have President Wilson's approval. A resolution adopted a pledge to stand by Senator Read's bill, virtually the same as that adopted last session by the senate and rejected by the house.

Adjournment was taken by both houses until Friday when the bills introduced today will come up for consideration.

Friends of President Wilson are confident that the senate will pass the chancellor-jury bill which the president has agreed to as a compromise, while Assemblyman Martin and former state Chairman James R. Nugent declare the house will agree to no bill that does not contain a referendum.

No matter what the house may do there can be no jury legislation unless the republican senators break their agreement to support the bill at a conference today to support the Read bill.

GULLS SEEM TO HAVE OUR ANGORA

EDITED BY
Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

Are Enthused.
BROOKLYN fans are enthused over the showing of Dahlgren's Dodgers in the pendant race thus far. And they have just cause to be. The City of Churches seems to be represented by the best ball club it has had in years. The fact that it is lacking in Stableness is a fact that is lacking. Rucker Ragon Allen and Stack is a mighty useful quartet of pitchers while Fisher Stengel Daubert Wheat and Cuthaw not to mention old-reliable John Hummel are mighty good hitters. If steadiness is secured Brooklyn figures at the present writing as the dark horse of the older major.

Improving Rapidly.
HARRY BAILLY is improving rapidly. He stated yesterday that if the injured prop keeps mending as fast as it has been doing of late that he will probably join the team in Montgomery Thursday and play in left field once more. Bailly's return to the team will be welcomed by the manager players and fans alike.

Must Improve.
MUNSTER and Bismwim must improve or pass on. They appear to have plenty of stuff but of late have been unable to find the plates. If a pitcher cannot get his stuff over as well as not have a good arm but the proverbial glove and a prayer.

The Big Lemon.
LEFTY HULL, for whom Connie Mack dished out 12,000 good road simoleans is through. He has not given his unconditional release by the Baltimore International. Further evidence of our contention that no matter how much stuff a pitcher may have if he cannot get it over the plate—good night.

Looks Likely.
PHILADELPHIA may be the scene of the world's series this fall. The Athletics and the Phillies are leading both pennant chases and going at an excellent clip. Good batting and team work is the answer in the former standing. Good pitching solves the latter. With an even break of luck these two teams are going to be hard to head throughout the entire campaign. Washington and Cleveland in the American and Pittsburgh, Boston and New York in the National will be their most formidable contenders.

Is Not Expected.
NO ONE expects the Cracker hurlers to pitch shut out ball but it is reasonable to expect them to keep the opposition from making runs in their eleven or twelve games and having sufficient control to keep from walking from six to ten men a game. Other local critics to the contrary a howl is due when they pitch this kind of ball.

Disappointment.
BICK WEAVERS showing to date has been a disappointment. But Buck is a better pitcher than he has shown thus far. A severe cold in his pitching arm which settled there after he won the opening game in Chattanooga, while the pitcher's rain is to be blamed. If he can work out this kink he'll show and be one of the team's leading pitchers.

Will Do.
JIM BRADY and Gil Price will do. Brady has been pitching steadily ball all season. He has the team's best arm. The Gulls seemed to be set to hit any kind of pitching that day and would have slammed any man the Cracker had. However if Price had been sent in at the start of the game with a clean mind we doubt the Gulls ability to overtake him. When they were ahead Price was shot in Finna's tribe had too much confidence to be headed then.

NEW YORK YACHT CLUB REPLIES TO LIPTON

London May 6.—The Royal Ulster Yacht Club today received a letter from the New York Yacht Club replying to Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge to a race with Shamrock IV for the America's cup in which it is stated that the New York Yacht Club since 1903 has made radical changes in its system of measurement and time allowance and that important changes also have been made in the racing rules. The letter continues: "Your reference therefore to the regulations of the last contest as governing the present challenge leaves uncertain whether you mean a challenge for a match sailed with or without time allowance and if with time allowance under the New York Yacht Club system of measurement and time allowance and under the racing regulations of 1902 which governed the last contest but which are not in force at the present time." The letter concludes by asking for information on these points "as it is essential that our committee be informed of the specific nature of the match proposed before it and take any action on the challenge."

May 6.—Sir Thomas Lipton said tonight he had not yet received a copy of the letter which had been addressed by the New York Yacht Club to the Royal Ulster club and on the spur of the moment was unable to answer the questions propounded. But he added: "The New York Yacht Club's committee which has the matter in charge, is concerned of thorough sport and I have not the slightest doubt that the points they raise will be settled to our mutual satisfaction and that the race will take place."

Today's Batteries.
Mobile Ala May 6.—(Special)—W Robertson and Schmidt for Mobile and Brady and Graham for Atlanta will be the batteries in the final game of the series between Mobile and Atlanta Wednesday.

Hogg Was Steady.
Hogg allowed to hit 11th kept them well scattered. The majority of them came after two men were out when Hogg always tightened up and prevented scores with the exception of the seventh and eighth innings but a flicker in his support was mainly responsible.

How They Scored.
Bausewin walked Stock the first man to face him and Starr got a first on Bismaw's error. O'Dell and Jacobson were retired, but Clark hit a timely double to center scoring both runs. In the second, Campbell opened by slamming one down the right field foul line for two bases and scored on Schmidt's single over second. Hogg walked and Stock hit out an infield hit falling to the plate. O'Dell scored after two men were out in the Cracker half of the seventh. Graham and Bausewin singled. Hogg unhooked a wild pitch in a Graham scored. Long hit to third and O'Dell threw badly to first. Bausewin scoring.

Welchone's Doubled.
Welchone doubled in the Cracker's half of the eighth. Smith singled and Welchone counted. The Cracker's half of the eighth hit the first ball pitched him over the fence for a home run.

UMPIRE OWENS GIVEN RELEASE BY LYNCH

New York May 6.—President Lynch of the National league, announced tonight that he had dismissed Umpire C. B. Owens for violation of the rules of department. The violation alleged consisted in entering a gambling resort in making the announcement. President Lynch said: "Umpires in the National league by their deportment on and off the field are supposed to add dignity to their positions as representatives of the league. They are backed up by the president in the discharge of their duties and in order to gain and hold the respect of the players the press and the public it is most essential that their conduct at all times be above reproach. Mr. Owens by his action has forfeited the right to the protection of the league and for the good of the game he is discharged."

FOOTBALL STAR DALEY REINSTATED IN ARMY

Washington May 6.—Charles D Daley the former Harvard and West Point football star who quit the United States army to enter private life was reinstated as a second lieutenant tonight by executive approval of his nomination by the senate.

An attempt to have President Wilson notified at once of confirmations made at today's executive session was made by the democrats. Senator Smoot objected and cited the usual procedure of waiting two days before such notifications was given to the white house. Lack of a quorum prevented a vote on the question. A large number of postmasters were approved.

The only vote taken was on the confirmation of J. L. Balty as auditor of the war department. Balty was secretary to Senator Reed of Missouri, and republicans opposed his confirmation because they claimed the incumbent was better qualified to hold the position.

New Orleans May 6.—New Orleans and Birmingham played a half inning today when rain then made postponement of the game necessary. Birmingham had scored one run. New Orleans released Shortstop Knapp and reprobated. The batteries scheduled for today were Hargrove and Mayor for Birmingham, McIntyre and Yantz for New Orleans.

Awarding of Williams To Pelicans Riles Griff

Boston, Mass., May 6.—(Special)—Manager Griffith has another grievance now against Ban Johnson's method of doing business. After learning from the head of the league that young Pelicans Williams is the property of the club and that he could do with him as he wished he sent him to Atlanta only to discover from the archon of the American league that now young Williams is the property of the New Orleans club and that means a short jump to Cleveland which club really owns the Pelican franchise in the Southern league.

Under the new agreement which went into force this spring all drafted players may be drafted again by minor league clubs. Portland, Ore won the services of Rebel Williams but agreed to waive claim on him. Ban Johnson then informed Griffith that the player was the sole property of the Washington club. Nothing was said of any further claims to the youngster's services. As soon as Williams appeared with the Atlanta club last week, New Orleans complained to Secretary Far-

After having been held scoreless for eight innings Brunswick scored four runs in the ninth a lead of one over Waycross. Manager Wahoo got into the game and started a rally that gave Waycross two runs. With better support Walker would have made a strong showing for the visitors but their eight errors were all costly. ## ANOTHER TAKEN BY RED AND BLACK

Washington and Lee Given 14 to 1 Beating—Morris Pitches Well—Virginians Field Raggedly.

Athens Ga., May 6.—(Special)—Georgia continued her winning streak today by defeating Washington and Lee by the score of 14 to 1. The game was a replica of Monday's the Georgians clouting the pill with regularity while the visitors played a listless game.

Brower who was on the mound for the visitors received much punishment and was poorly supported. Morris allowed the visitors but four hits, no two coming to the same inning.

Several times Washington and Lee had men on the paths but Morris was steady and held them safely. Ginn and Erwin made beautiful shooting catches in the outer gardens. Brower continued his hitting streak by lacing out three safe ones for two bags.

Manager Smith stated tonight that he expected Outfielder Bailey to join the team in Montgomery Thursday.

THORPE'S TROPHIES GIVEN TO NEXT MEN

The Olympic Games Committee Takes Action in Meeting at Geneva, Switzerland

Geneva, Switzerland May 6.—The trophies won at the Olympic games at Stockholm by James Thorpe the Carlisle Indian athlete, will be forwarded to the men who finished second in the event. The international committee of the Olympic games decided today on motion of the American delegates.

The Thorpe case came up in a private session of the committee. Thorpe who after the games at Stockholm confessed to professionalism was the winner of the most coveted trophies the Viking ship offered by the emperor of Russia to the winner of the Pentathlon and the bronze bust of the King of Sweden offered by the king to the winner of the Pentathlon both all around competitions.

These trophies will now go to E. B. Westlund of Sweden and F. R. Bie of Norway respectively.

The committee unanimously adopted the British proposal to send congratulations to the Amateur Athletic Union for the sportsmanlike manner in which the American organization had handled the case. All the delegates regret the Thorpe affair but praise the Americans for their promptitude in making amends.

Sixty delegates attended the regular session of the international committee this being the fifteenth annual meeting. Baron de Courbetin the president acted as chairman and presented a gold medal to Professor Debelice rector of Lausanne university. He is the third recipient of this medal, the others being Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and the king of Sweden.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This article is written exclusively for The Constitution by the faculty of the University of Georgia...

Athens, Ga., May 6.—(Sp. col.)—The baseball season of 1913 has been very successful for the Red and Black in point of games won.

Now there remains only the Tech games, which in point of interest means everything to Georgia...

Early Reports True.—The reports that were sent out from Athens early in the season that Georgia had poor prospects was true.

Good Pitchers.—Corley, Morris and Hitchcock form our pitching staff. Hitchcock will not reach the point of maximum efficiency this year...

The Infield.—Henderson has capably filled the position of first base. At the fielding game he has a fine average and a better an average around .50 shows his ability.

Harrison is the first prep school star I have ever seen become a star in his first year in college...

Whorter is in his old stand, the same hitter, fielder and base-stealer as of old with three years all-southern record behind him...

dependable men in the Tech games. While Bowden has been troubled all season with a sore arm...

I can hardly understand and do not attempt to explain the hitting proclivities of our team. They have secured 222 hits in the short schedule played...

On our western trip we met some good pitchers, especially good was a professional then every player in the S. I. A. A. needs investigating.

Such being the case the public is promised a great series of ball.
