

COMING OF BURNS IS ASSURED, SAYS COLONEL FELDER

To Solve Phagan Murder, Joseph Hirsch, Capitalist, Starts Public Subscription to Assure Fund for Burns.

SOCIETY WOMEN AID MOVEMENT FOR FUND

Local Detectives in Conference and Are Believed to Have Secret Documents Bearing on Case.

With The Constitution's donation of $100 as a nucleus, Atlanta today begins building a fund with which to employ to ferret the mystery of Mary Phagan's murder. Detective William J. Burns, America's most successful detective.

Assurance that subscriptions will be plentiful and generous came to Attorney Thomas B. Felder last night in telephone messages from numerous public-spirited business men, who informed him that they would send checks this morning for their share of the fund.

One of these was Joseph Hirsch, a leading capitalist and financier, who told Colonel Felder that he wanted to see Atlanta take such means to solve the baffling mystery as to employ the detective by public subscription.

"I have infinite confidence in Mr. Burns' ability," he said, "and am assured that he will clear the murder and apprehend the murderer. I will send a check Friday morning for my share of the amount necessary to procure him."

Burns' Coming Sure.

Mr. Felder stated last night that Burns' trip to Atlanta was guaranteed. He will arrive in New York on June 1, and will come immediately to the south. The headquarters of his agency already have dispatched an expert criminal investigator to precede him to this city and to take up the murder investigation before the case grows cold.

The expert left New York Thursday. He will arrive in Atlanta some time today, and will begin work right away. His chief object will be to blaze a trail for his superior and to prepare the investigation for Burns to take hold.

Besides Mr. Hirsch, six other prominent business men telephoned Colonel Felder Thursday night to assure him of their co-operation in obtaining Detective Burns. The attorney would not divulge the names, because of the expressed desire to withhold their identity. Neither would he give the names of the five women who are conspicuous figures in Atlanta's social world, and who are playing prominent parts in the campaign to raise the Burns fund.

SOCIETY WOMEN AID

This quintet of society representatives, says Mr. Felder, are the source of the idea to raise the Burns fund through public subscription.

It was made known that Colonel Felder was endeavoring to employ the noted sleuth, he was visited by the five women, who suggested that, if the money could not be raised otherwise, public subscription should be resorted to. It will require three weeks or a month for Burns to complete his investigation, Colonel Felder is informed by Raymond Burns, the detective's son.

CLARK HOWELL GOES TO CONFER WITH WILSON

Washington, May 15.—Plans for the next campaign will be discussed at a meeting of democratic national committee here tomorrow. The members of the executive committee are Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Cato Selig, of Texas; Fred Lynch, of Minnesota; Clark Howell, of Georgia; and Homer Cummings, of Connecticut. The purpose is to talk over what steps should be taken in connection with or independently of the democratic congressional committee.

The executive committee will confer with President Wilson during the day, and later with Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, and other officers of the organization regarding increase of the representation of senators on the congressional committee.

NO WARLIKE MOVES BY UNITED STATES TO STIR JAPANESE

President Wilson to Keep the Army and Navy Quiet While Negotiations About California Are in Progress.

JAPAN IS RESOLVED ON FURTHER PROTEST

Wilson Hopes That Satisfactory Settlement of Question Can Be Secured—Reply to Japan Being Framed.

Washington, May 15.—President Wilson has determined that no warships or troops shall be moved or anything resembling a military or naval demonstration carried on by the United States while diplomatic negotiations with Japan over the California alien land legislation are in progress, so that no alarming interpretation can be placed on even the ordinary maneuvers of the state department.

This decision of the president was announced at the white house tonight. It answered a report current in official circles late in the day that presidential movements by the army and navy were contemplated, and had been destroyed at a conference between the president, Secretary Daniels, of the navy department; Secretary Garrison, of the war department; and Acting Secretary Moore, of the state department. Mr. Moore went to the white house, it was explained, to discuss the framing of a reply to the recent Japanese protest against the California land legislation, which the army and navy secretaries called to discuss routine affairs of their departments.

Early Settlement Expected.

White House officials said there had been no change in the diplomatic phases of the Japanese question, and that the situation was promising of an early settlement. It was emphatically denied that army or navy maneuvers or movements of any kind not included in ordinary plans, arranged months in advance of execution, had been contemplated at any time.

The rumor which called forth the white house statement probably began its rounds earlier in the day, when the war department made public orders that three officers and two companies of coast artillery to sail from San Francisco for Honolulu about May 23. These orders, it was explained, were in conformity with the program for the creation of a permanent and sufficient garrison in Hawaii, outlined in the latest annual report of the secretary of war, and merely carried out plans of long standing. They relieved Colonel William C. Raftery, coast artillery corps, of the command of the coast defenses of Fort Washington, to sail for Honolulu with the One Hundred and Eighteenth and One Hundred and Forty-third companies of coast artillery, assigned Captain George E. Hicks, Jr., to accompany Colonel Raftery as a member of his staff, and directed Major Frank W. Cox, new personnel officer, north Atlantic coast artillery, to sail on the same steamer.

Further Protest by Japan.

Further representations from the Japanese government in support of its protest against the California land legislation were forecast today when Viscount Chino, after being informally notified of Governor Johnson's intention to sign the land bill, called twice at the state department to inquire when the governor probably would act. After the ambassador's first visit, Acting Secretary Moore went to the white house, and spent half an hour

Constitution Starts Fund to Bring Burns Here To Solve the Mary Phagan Murder Mystery

By all means employ William J. Burns to solve the Mary Phagan murder mystery! It will cost several thousand dollars to get the world-famous detective to come to Atlanta, and The Constitution herewith starts the subscription with $100.

As soon as Homer George, manager of the Atlanta theater, learned of the subscription he subscribed $10.

Never in the history of Atlanta has there been such an insistent demand that a murderer or murderers be apprehended. For days and weeks the Phagan murder has been the sole topic of conversation.

Now that the subscription has been actually started hundreds will doubtless be glad to help swell the fund.

The Constitution will gladly acknowledge all subscriptions and turn them over to Colonel Thomas B. Felder, who has been retained by the citizens of Bellwood and vicinity to aid in the prosecution of the murderer of the little girl whose lifeless body was found in the basement of the National Pencil factory over three weeks ago.

The people of Atlanta are far from satisfied that the Phagan murder mystery has been cleared up. They feel that the guilt of the murderer should be fixed beyond all fear of disapproval.

The mystery is one that has baffled the best detectives in the city. To solve it a master mind like that of William J. Burns is needed. If he should fail—and he has never failed in the solution of a case he has undertaken—the public will be satisfied that the perpetrator of the crime will never be known.

Scarcely had Colonel Felder's request for a public subscription been made public than Joseph Hirsch, former chairman of the Grady Hospital board and former member of the board of education, communicated with Colonel Felder and informed him that he would contribute a substantial amount to the fund. Other prominent citizens likewise made known their intention of contributing. Colonel Felder will contribute his fee toward paying for the services of the world-famous detective.

There would seem to be little doubt that Burns will come to Atlanta. Your subscription will aid in the assurance.

ALL STATE CONSTABLES DISCHARGED BY BLEASE

Governor's Action Provoked by Supreme Court Decision in Regard to Webb Law.

Anderson, S. C., May 15.—All state constables of South Carolina were dismissed from office today by Governor Cole Blease. The governor, who is here attending the state grand lodge of Odd Fellows, said that he had taken this action as the result of the state supreme court's decision yesterday with reference to the Webb liquor law, to the effect that liquor may be shipped into South Carolina when for personal use. Governor Blease said tonight that under this decision the constables cannot tell which shipments are destined for illegal use, and that they are, therefore, useless.

Governor Blease, in dismissing the more than one hundred constables, said: "It is disheartening, this decision of the court. I am helpless now to enforce the liquor laws. Blind tigers are taking the state, and there will be more of them under this decision. It will be impossible to tell which is personal whisky and which is for illegal purposes. Therefore the whisky constables are useless."

BOND ISSUE PROPOSED TO CONSTRUCT LEVEES

Greenville, Miss., May 15.—Governor Earl Brewer, who was in Greenville today, announced that the Mississippi legislature would be convened in extraordinary session June 10 to consider the necessity of issuing bonds of a million dollars or more, the fund to be devoted to levee construction along the Mississippi river. The governor was urged to call the extra session by the members of the Mississippi levee commission, and planners of the delta section of Mississippi, a portion of which was overflowed during the recent Mississippi river flood.

CRIES OF "NO, NO," BY THE BAPTISTS SILENCE SPEAKER

Missionary's Plea for Baptists to Join in Building Interdenominational Mission Schools Causes Storm.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—When A. Y. Napier, Baptist missionary from China, in an address before the Southern Baptist convention on how to make foreign missionary work more effective, said it was desirable that the Baptists join the other protestant sects in building up interdenominational mission schools, there were cries of "No, no" and "sit down" from all over the audience.

Finding it impossible to continue his address, he took his seat. Special attention was given to the subject of missionary work among the negroes of the southern states and it was decided to build and equip a theological seminary for the education of negro Baptist preachers. This school will be located in Louisville, where the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, under the principalship of Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, is located, and Dr. Mullins will have the supervision of the work of the new school. Educating Negro Preachers.

The subject of educating negro preachers was introduced by Dr. Mullins, who read a resolution providing for a committee to supervise the preliminaries. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

The committee appointed was E. Y. Mullins, Louisville, chairman; A. L. Halley, Corsicans, Texas; A. J. Barton, Waco, Texas; Benjamin Cox, Memphis; E. M. Atkins, Little Rock.

PLAYING INSURGENTS, LAD SHOTS BROTHER

Eight-Year-Old Son of T. A. Boone Killed by Brother's Rifle Ball.

While playing "soldier" with his two brothers, Allen Hartman and Edward Boone, aged 13 and 10 years, respectively, Richard Irwin Boone, the 8-year-old son of T. A. Boone, newspaper man, of 25 Stewart avenue, was shot through the jugular vein with a Robert rifle and almost instantly killed at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The tragedy occurred in the back yard of the family residence. The boys had their rifle and were pretending to be "insurgents."

Allen Hartman Boone had the weapon in his hands when Richard grappled with him in childish play. Just how the rest happened no one will ever know. Suddenly there came the report of the rifle, and the little boy fell.

The bullet had barely grazed his neck, but it covered the jugular vein and he bled to death before aid could be brought.

Coroner Donegan hurried to the scene. After an investigation, he said that it was clearly an accident, and that he would hold no inquest.

The body was removed to Greenberg & Bond's undertaking establishment, where it will be held until funeral arrangements are made.

SMALLER COMMISSION URGED FOR WARE CO.

Waycross, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Following considerable agitation, the grand jury today recommended that Ware representatives pass at this session of the legislature a bill amending the act creating the county commissioners reducing the number to five, two from Waycross and three from the county. There will be strong opposition to this action and Ware representatives will urge an amendment enlarging the board to seven, four of whom shall be from the Waycross district.

WILSON TO STAND NO COMPROMISES ABOUT THE TARIFF

President Comes Out Strongly for Free Wool and Free Sugar Clauses of the Underwood Measure.

DEMOCRATS OF SENATE MUST REDEEM PLEDGES

Rumored Concessions Caused the President to Declare He Expected Pledges of Party Platform to Be Kept.

Washington, May 15.—President Wilson came out strong today as the champion of free wool and free sugar in three-years as provided for in the tariff bill recently passed by the house. He announced emphatically that he was not considering compromises of any sort; that he stood squarely behind the measure as it passed the house and he regarded it as the duty of the democratic majority in the senate to fulfill its platform pledge by enacting the house bill into law.

"I am not the kind," said the president, "that could ask a compromise when I once take my position. I have taken my stand with the house leaders for the present bill. Enough said, I am not looking for or accepting compromises."

The president's utterance was made to a half-hundred newspaper correspondents who gathered as usual today at the white house for the semi-weekly conference. Practically at the same time the senate was engaged in protracted debate, at the end of which tonight an agreement was reached to vote tomorrow on the question of public hearings on the tariff bill. While the president smilingly let it be known that he was expressing no opinion whatsoever on the proposal for hearings and that this was a subject for the senate to dispose of, his statement of unqualified support for the house bill was taken generally to mean that Mr. Wilson considered arguments from special interests on the tariff schedules to have

U. S. A. Assembly Gives Stern Rebuke to "Ecclesiastical Politics," Electing the Man Who Sought Not the Job.

ELECTION A SURPRISE FOR DR. JOHN T. STONE

Believed That End Is Put Forever to System of Campaigns for Moderatorship. Gems of Oratory in Nominations.

FRIDAY'S PROGRAM

Northern Assembly 9 a. m. Baptist Tabernacle—Presentation of the report of standing committees. Reports of executive committee. Report of executive commission. 2:30 p. m. reports of committees on Christian work, on church co-operation and union.

Southern Assembly 9 a. m. at North Avenue Presbyterian church—Reports of committees follow reading of ninety communications. Afternoon session at 2:30.

United Presbyterian Assembly, 9 a. m. at Central Presbyterian Church—Reports of committees on ministerial relief, publication, missions, etc. 2 p. m. memorial service, with address by Dr. John A. Henderson.

Luncheon at Press, at 12:30 O'clock at the Capital City Club—Luncheon at which representatives of the religious and secular press will be entertained by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, editor of The Westminster Magazine.

Women's Missionary Gathering at 10 a. m. and 2:30, at Central Congregational church—With officers' reports and addresses by home and foreign missionaries.

Union Communion Service, 4 p. m., at the Baptist Tabernacle. Joined in by all Presbyterian bodies, under the direction of Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Atlanta.

Anderton Gathering, "Evangelism," general subject of meeting, Dr. A. L. Phillips, of Richmond, Va., presiding—8 p. m. Rev. Hugh W. Rankin, of Salt Lake City, Utah, address on "Sabotage and Evangelism." Dr. John R. Davies, of Bethlehem church, Philadelphia, address on "Pastoral Evangelism." Dr. W. E. McCulloch, of Home-wood church, Pittsburg, Pa., address on "Individual Evangelism."

By electing a "dark horse" to the moderatorship of the largest body of Presbyterians in the world, selecting a man who had never been before mentioned in connection with the race, and who arranged an arrangement and begged that his name be withdrawn, the U. S. A. Presbyterian assembly yesterday afternoon put the stamp of its disapproval on the system of "ecclesiastical politics" that has prevailed at its assemblies of past years.

Dr. John Timothy Stone, leader of the delegation who came to capture the 1914 assembly for Chicago, was the man unexpectedly exalted to the highest office of the assembly. The candidacy of no less than half a dozen eminent men in Presbyterianism had been actively waged during the past few weeks, and as the day of the election approached the race was believed to be between Dr. Matthew Alexander, the "millionaire pastor" of Pittsburg, and Dr. Samuel S. Palmer, of Columbus, Ohio.

Not until the names of four avowed candidates had been presented was the nomination of Dr. Stone made, and it struck the assembly at the "psychological moment" when it realized that it had never done before the world's character and material influence that the system of a political election appeared to be having upon the assembly.

The first man nominated was Dr. Alexander, his name being laid before the body in a speech of exquisite charm and diplomacy by Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occident college, San Francisco, Cal. He was followed by Dr. David R. Moore, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who nominated Dr. William McKibbin, president of Lane Theological seminary, at Cincinnati, and one of the leading Presbyterians of Ohio.

Dr. Arthur F. Bishop, of Austin, Texas, in a speech that was a gem of oratory, then nominated Dr. Howard Agnew Johnson, of Stamford, Conn.

ASSEMBLIES BEGIN HARD WORK TODAY

Elections Over and Moderators in Place, Three Bodies Settle Down to Business. Women in Meetings, Too.

With three great Presbyterian assemblies in full swing, and Atlanta the camping ground for thousands of delegates and visitors from all parts of the world, the second day of the Presbyterian convocation begins this morning at 9 o'clock. With a great mass of important organization business and committee reports ahead of them, the three assemblies will settle down to hard work and will close their sessions early in the afternoon for a union communion service at 4 o'clock in the Baptist Tabernacle. And this will be followed in the evening by the church of the great auditorium joint gatherings.

When the three separate sessions open Friday morning, the three newly elected moderators will be in the chair. Dr. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, the U. S. A. election moderator who was swept into office at the U. S. A. election Thursday afternoon, will preside at the Baptist Tabernacle. Dr. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, will be moderator of the Southern assembly at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Dr. E. M. Russell, of Wilmington, Pa., will preside over the United Presbyterians, in session at the Central auditorium.

Gavel to Be Presented.

Dr. Stone, the U. S. A. moderator will be presented with the much talked-of Whitfield gavel Friday morning. It will be presented by Dr. George A. Beattie, of Atlanta, who secured wood from the pulpit where Whitfield preached and under which he now lies buried, in order to have this gavel made. Dr. Beattie has secured a historic gavel of the new moderator of the Southern assembly.

The thousands of visitors have become comfortably settled in Atlanta homes or hotels and the work of organizing and conducting the sessions is successful. The office of the assemblies committee, 507 Empire building, was alive with visitors all day Thursday, as people were being assisted in getting straightened out. A number of interesting social events are being planned, the most interesting of which is the general reception which will be given Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Agnes Scott college, in Decatur, when the Presbyterians of Atlanta will entertain the commissioners and their wives.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs' luncheon to the representatives of the religious and secular press takes place Friday at 12 o'clock at the city club. This will be the first time in history that editors of papers representing different Presbyterian bodies have been entertained at dinner together. An opportunity has never been provided such as this when the assemblies are meeting in the same city for the first time.

Woman Missionaries Speak.

At the Central Congregational church, on Carnegie way, where the annual convention of the United Methodist societies of the U. S. A. church is in session, a number of interesting addresses will be made Friday by woman missionaries from the home and foreign fields. Mrs. L. S. Stone, Mrs. John L. Tait, Mrs. Robert MacKenzie, Miss Margaret E. Griffith and Mrs. D. F. Delfenderfer, of Pennsylvania, will make an address in the evening on "Woman's Work in the World."

At all three of the main assemblies a number of women are present, many visitors having come from all parts of the country, including a number of the commissioners' wives. All the women present are taking an active interest in the problems in church work that are being discussed.

Accident Restores Memory.

Warren, Pa., May 15.—An accident he sustained yesterday restored to John Oliver, a wealthy lawyer, his memory of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, his home. He disappeared twelve years ago, while suffering from a mental ailment. Oliver communicated with a brother in Chicago today, who confirmed the story and started for Warren to reclaim his lost kinsman.

The Eaton Inquest.

Rockland, Mass., May 15.—The inquest into the death of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, which was suspended when the widow, Mrs. Jennie M. Eaton, was arrested charged with murder, will be resumed at Abington tomorrow.

Matthews, the "tall cedar of the Sierras," arose before the assembly to his feet at 8 o'clock and began his annual sermon as retiring moderator.

"Organic Union Through Faith."

"By faith thrust into Christ we could bring about organic union of all the branches of the Presbyterian church in America," declared Moderator Mark A. Matthews, of Seattle, in his sermon yesterday at the opening session of the Northern Presbyterian church general assembly. The text of Dr. Matthews' sermon was "The Victories of Faith Against the Failures of Unbelief."

"By the exercise of Godward faith," he continued, "that organic union would be the product of conviction. I am not in favor of the organic union of all the branches of Presbyterian churches in this country if brought about as the result of conviction. The only thing that keeps us apart is the paralyzing influence of unbelief."

"By faith the church could disarm the world. The disarmament of nations is the duty of the church. By faith and the works thereof the church could free America from the accused liquor traffic. The church will some day exterminate heretics and when she does this in twenty-five years from that day America will be free from the saloon."

Reject "Unbeliever" Pastors.

After an exposition on the supernatural powers of the church, against the material, Dr. Matthews declared that "we should change the ground of our objections to candidates for the ministry who doubt or deny the deity of Christ, if they sought to be rejected, not alone because they doubt or deny per se the deity of Christ, but because their denial is prima facie evidence that they have never been regenerated. No unregenerated man should be permitted to preach."

In conclusion Dr. Matthews predicted that "Christians soon will return to the fundamental principles, the cardinal doctrines and the use of their supernatural powers. Then the holy Sunday as God's decreed day of rest will be restored to man and by him kept holy. The church's greatest need today is faith, prayer, Godly living, daily giving, powerful preaching and the exercise of supernatural power, the result of Godward faith, thrust into Christ."

Assembly Committees Named By United Presbyterians

At the first morning assembly of the United Presbyterian church held at the Central Presbyterian church yesterday Dr. Russell M. Russell, moderator, announced the appointment of the following permanent committees of the assembly:

LYONS NEW MODERATOR AFTER FIVE BALLOTS

Louisville Pastor, of Southern Assembly, Has Served in Three States.

Five ballots were required before Dr. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, Ky., was elected moderator of the Southern Presbyterian assembly. Geographical justice was a much discussed question while the contest for moderator was on. The winner was born and reared in Virginia, and for years he has been a resident in this country. He hailed him as their favorite son, and this accolade proved a winning one.

All the southern states from Virginia to Mexico, with the exception of Maryland, were represented at the meeting which chose Dr. J. S. Lyons moderator for the coming year. Delegates from eighty-five presbyteries, representing 3,500 churches, were on hand to take part in the proceedings, and when after the fourth ballot they decided to elect Dr. Lyons, the Southern Presbyterian assembly on record in favor of pastoral evangelism and the laymen's movement, of which the new moderator is recognized leader.

Before the candidates were placed in nomination no one had an idea who the victor would be. It is contrary to southern assembly traditions to announce candidates in advance, and the names of the candidates are strictly taboo. But the fight made up in spontaneous enthusiasm what it lacked in pre-arranged "ecclesiastical politics."

Immediately upon his election, Dr. Lyons was presented with the gavel by the retiring moderator, Dr. S. C. Clyce, the retiring moderator. Then twenty elders were named to meet Dr. Dunbar Ogden relative to inter-assembly meetings to be held during the next few days.

Dr. Lyons extended an invitation to all the visiting commissioners to join in the services held in the church house every morning preparatory for the duties of the day.

Definite Schedule Arranged.

A definite schedule regulating the hours for business was adopted. The morning session will begin promptly at 9 o'clock, and will adjourn at 12:30 o'clock. The afternoon meetings will convene at 2:30 o'clock, and the night sessions will start at 8 o'clock.

The morning session given over to reading ninety communications which are now in the hands of the stated clerk. Then will follow several committee reports. Dr. B. W. Smith, chairman of the foreign missions committee, read his report on Thursday evening and printed copies were distributed among the commissioners.

"Never in the history of the church have we sent as many missionaries out as we have during the past year," said Dr. B. W. Smith. "Then, too, we raised $128,000 more last year than ever before, and for the first time in its history the foreign mission department of the church is out of debt."

Applause greeted these announcements as the moderator began to urge upon to invoke the decision of the high civil court that "if you have the right to applaud a speaker you have the right to hiss him, and, therefore, either is inappropriate."

Against Sunday Work.

Dr. Julius S. Shuler filed a report which placed the assembly on record against stores which stay open till 10 o'clock, or later, on Saturday night, for this incapacitates employees and prevents proper observation of the Sabbath by the largest members of the Southern Presbytery to discourage funerals on the Sabbath, and he opposed Sunday games, not only in the cities, but also in the army any navy.

Dr. Shuler's report was the greatest field for American Presbyterian work in the world. The object of our church is to propagate the word of God and the American Bible society has the books. They sold 1,850,000 copies in China in one year, and our work there has just begun."

Dr. Clyce Delivers Valedictory.

BRIBERY PROPOSED TO HARRY K. THAW

White's Slayer Says He Was Urged to Buy Freedom by Dr. Russell—Thaw Says He Was Well Swindled.

New York, May 15.—Dr. John W. Russell, former superintendent of the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, first made the suggestion to Harry K. Thaw that he could be released by the payment of a large sum. Thaw testified today at the bribery trial of John W. Anhalt here. Anhalt, a young attorney, is charged with offering Dr. Russell a bribe of $20,000 for an order or certificate which would result in freeing Thaw from further confinement.

Thaw, brought from Matteawan, was subjected to a rigid examination and cross-examination. Objections of counsel for the defense that Thaw, legally insane, was not competent to testify, were overruled by the court, who, however, held that his testimony must be considered as that of an insane person.

Thaw told of several visits paid to him by Anhalt at Matteawan in 1912, when the doctor said "said he would get me discharged."

"I asked if Dr. Russell had settled on something definite," said Thaw, "and he (Anhalt) said he had, and I said the money was much more than I expected to pay; that I was not in a position where I could pay it."

Thaw says he was well swindled. Under cross-examination Thaw said that in all he had spent $95,000 and no more in efforts to secure his release from Matteawan. This sum, he said, was exclusive of the expenses of his two trials for the killing of Stanford White.

"I was pretty well swindled on my two trials here," Thaw declared. "The costs were something tremendous."

The witness said that during a conversation with Anhalt questions of raising the money were discussed, and that a week later he settled 140 shares of Gas Company stock valued at about $20,000 and $2,000 cash from his sister, Mrs. George L. Carnegie.

"Were not the securities to be turned over to Anhalt?" Thaw was asked. "No, they were to be turned over to Dr. Russell. We had arranged everything before I ever saw Anhalt."

Thaw declared that his agreement with Anhalt called for the return of all or part of the $25,000 if he did not walk out of the door of the asylum or was not released by the court by specified dates. He said Anhalt paid him back $11,700 of the $25,000 January 1 last, when the plan had failed.

Objected to Being Called Harry. During cross-examination, Thaw objected to being called "Harry," saying his name was "Henry."

"Are you the Henry K. Thaw who shot and killed White?" the witness was asked.

"Yes, in a low voice."

"Will you intend to kill him?"

"This is a question outside the issue, and I refuse to answer."

Justice Scabury declined to direct the witness to answer.

Thaw said he was anxious to get out of Matteawan, but in doing so he did not desire to injure anyone. He did not see Anhalt as an attorney for himself, he said, but as attorney for Dr. Russell. He added that he understood the receipts for the gas stock and $5,000 in cash, were written by Dr. Russell.

"Anhalt," Thaw testified, "said Dr. Russell had to have all the money before he would do anything."

Obtained Money From Sister. This testimony was brought out in connection with the alleged preliminary negotiations conducted by Anhalt previous to the time Thaw testified he obtained the gas stock and cash from his sister. The witness said he still was on friendly terms with Dr. Russell. He denied that he had ever received any unusual favors in the asylum. Counsel for Anhalt asked if the cause for his friendship for Russell was the alleged plan for his release.

"It was all arranged," Thaw repeated, "but not in the cause of our mutual friendship. Anhalt was his lawyer to conclude arrangements, for it was understood that if Russell released me right off it might arouse criticism."

Dr. Russell resigned as superintendent at Matteawan shortly after Governor Sulzer and Colonel Joseph E. Scott, then superintendent of prisons, a letter demanding Dr. Russell's removal. The governor's action resulted from disclosures in an investigation of the matter at Albany, at his instigation, last February.

Court was adjourned until tomorrow morning immediately following the announcement that Thaw's testimony was concluded. Thaw was taken back to Matteawan tonight.

STRIP OF ALASKA COAST FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, May 15.—For mutual benefit, Representative Stephens, of Texas, today proposed in a joint resolution introduced at the request of the Universal Peace union, that the United States cede Great Britain the coast strip of southeastern Alaska, 536 miles long and in some places 8 or 10 miles wide. The resolution calls on President Wilson to negotiate for a commission to investigate the proposed transfer and suggest such a move would set an example in the policy of mutual concession that would constitute a "glorious achievement in history."

Lott Dispute Settled.

Waycross, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—A coffee county case in which there is much local interest has just been settled in the ordinary's court of that county. Heirs of the Lott estate, through Allen B. Spence, of this city, brought suit against Elias Hinson, administrator of the Lott estate, for certain sums they claimed were due. The ordinary gave judgment for principal and interest, amounting to $7,110. Six years ago the heirs received $5,000 from an estate valued at $20,000.

UNION LONG WAY OFF FOR TWO ASSEMBLIES

United Presbyterian and U. S. Presbyterian Leaders Expect to Wait a Generation.

No definite action will be taken by the United Presbyterians toward organic union with the other bodies at this general assembly. It is believed, as a memorial was presented at the general assembly yesterday morning in the Central Presbyterian church.

For some time a movement has been on foot to unite the United Presbyterians and the United States Presbyterians, but the general sentiment now is that it will take a decade, and possibly a full generation, before such union is accomplished.

These memorials, however, will be considered by the committee on basis of union, which is composed of Dr. J. McClurkin, Dr. W. W. Williamson, Dr. J. C. Souleier and T. S. McMurray.

At the afternoon session of the United Presbyterians Rev. Joseph B. Turner, of Philadelphia, spoke in the interest of the Presbyterian Historical society of the Philippines, whose purpose is to gather and conserve Presbyterian church history.

Rev. Frank Foster, of Cincinnati, representing the American Tract society, urged larger giving toward the foreign missions.

"Dr. Friedmann, it is thought, has found a cure for tuberculosis," he said. "Why is it that no one can find a cure for the germ of indolence in regard to giving. Let us be more liberal and remember that money is given up not for our own selfish pleasures, but to help our fellowmen. We need money, and much of it. Let us come forward and act in this emergency."

M'CONNELL BELIEVED TO FAVOR LOCAL CALL

The hopes of the Baptist Tabernacle congregation to secure Rev. Lincoln McConnell, the noted lecturer and evangelist, as pastor of their church, were heightened Thursday afternoon by a telegram from Mr. McConnell, who is now conducting a union meeting in Higginville, Mo., to the effect that he is seriously considering the call of the Tabernacle people and will endeavor to give them an answer as soon as possible.

A. C. Boatman, chairman of the committee of five through whom the call to the Tabernacle was extended to the evangelist, said last night that it was impossible to gather from the message an idea of whether or not he would accept, and that a definite answer is not expected before the first of next week.

Meanwhile, he said, the Tabernacle is living in hopes and will do everything possible to persuade Mr. McConnell to come to Atlanta.

CADETS OF UNIVERSITY GO INTO CAMP MONDAY

Athens, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—The University of Georgia cadets, four companies of infantry, one of artillery and a signal corps, will leave Monday, May 19, for a week's camp on the banks of the Chattahoochee river and Lake Warner, near Gainesville. They have camped there for seven previous years—going last year to Augusta and back to Gainesville this year—a month later than their usual camping. The final examinations follow after camp week, and the boys, besides having the experience of regular military duty in camp, will be physically fitted for the extra work preceding commencement.

After Woolen Trust.

Washington, May 15.—Representative Francis introduced today his resolution proposing congressional investigation of the American Woolen company, with directions to report bills requiring the prosecution of the company, its dissolution or both, if found warranted.

ALBANY'S TROLLEYS REFUSE TO BULGE; MANY DISAPPOINTED

Albany, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—Albany had to swallow one of the greatest disappointments in her history today when electrical transforming machinery which had been installed in the plant of the Albany Power company, failed to work, and it was found impossible to put current on the wires of the Albany Transit company for the operation of trolley cars.

Big preparations for the day had been made. The mayor had proclaimed a half holiday, and the stores were ready to close. Hundreds of visitors came to town this morning, and several prominent citizens of neighboring communities were invited with speeches which they had been invited to deliver. A baseball game had been transferred from Columbus, and at least one special train brought a big crowd of celebrators. The new trolley cars were on the tracks and ready to run, but not a wheel could be turned.

It is stated that the trouble will probably be remedied by tomorrow, and that cars will be immediately put in operation.

THE JAP'S SILVER LINING.

There may seem to be little connection between scientific agriculture and the shrill outcry raised by California over Japanese bogies. As a matter of fact, there is a very intimate connection, and it is likely to be made manifest ultimately in a very beneficial sense, showing itself indeed as the silver lining to what is otherwise a decidedly irritating cloud.

Using this condition as an argument, even so temperate and penetrating a journal as Harper's Weekly declares that what California needs is not the services of Secretary of State Bryan, but of Secretary of Agriculture Honston. What the Californians should do, declares Colonel Harvey, and he is only one of the host advancing similar advice, is to take lessons in scientific agriculture and soil conservation from the Japs.

There is a great deal of substance in the argument, but one important qualification. Californians are justified, as would be the rest of the country, in resisting any system which brought them down to the pauper Oriental scale of living, or the scale of living, for that matter, that prevails in many European countries. That said, the rest of the lesson is plain, and it applies not only to California, but equally to every state in the union.

A GOOD CHOICE.

It is to be hoped that the Rev. Lincoln McConnell will accept the call tendered him unanimously by the congregation of the Tabernacle Baptist church. He is well known in Atlanta, and is familiar with local conditions, having previously held pastorates here.

Mr. McConnell is pre-eminently the type of man who might be expected to carry out the projects of Dr. Broughton, so intimately identified with the Tabernacle Baptist.

He is an effective pulpiteer and an energetic civic and religious worker. He would undoubtedly infuse new vitality into the Tabernacle institutions and contribute materially to forward civic campaigns of the community.

If Mr. McConnell gives favorable consideration to the call he is sure of a welcome confined to none of the denominations in this city.

SIMPLE HOSPITALITY.

Councilman Claude Ashley will introduce at the next meeting of council a resolution appropriating a contingent fund for the entertainment of unofficial but prominent visitors who may come to Atlanta. As an illustration when important municipal officials from Orange and other cities in New Jersey visited Atlanta for the purpose of inspecting our sewage disposal plant there was no method of entertaining them or even assisting them upon their mission, except at private expense.

Year by year a great many persons come to Atlanta, to investigate her various public utilities or other municipal features, who cannot be entertained by the chamber of commerce or other civic bodies. The burden falls directly on public officials. This should not be so, in justice to the visitors, to the officials and to the city itself.

A small sum set aside and so hedged as to prevent abuse will be the solution of a quandary that will plague us more as the city becomes larger and more popular.

A TICKLISH SITUATION.

Guatemala has saved the Wilson administration an awkward predicament by voluntarily arranging terms for the payment of a debt held by subjects of Great Britain. Several days ago that country extended an ultimatum to the president of Guatemala, sending a battleship to back it up.

It is, however, inevitable that sooner or later Mr. Wilson must clearly define the attitude of this country under democracy toward the question of the collection of foreign debts in other nations on this hemisphere. The task will be by no means an easy one or one to approach with a broad-ax.

In deference to the Monroe doctrine we will not allow nations of the old world to occupy new territory on this side of the water. That principle is already well established. If, now, we refuse ourselves to take steps that will force the small creditor nations of this hemisphere to observe their obligations, we occupy an emphatically contradictory situation.

NORTH GEORGIA DRAINAGE.

Farmers of north Georgia who are interested in the subject of land drainage will meet in Commerce on May 23 to hear officials of state and nation discuss the profit in land reclamation.

While there is not nearly so much submerged area in middle and north as in south Georgia, the aggregate quantity still is sufficient to warrant outlay in its reclamation. Projects in Gwinnett county, for instance, have attracted widespread attention, and been visited by many persons from adjoining counties. In several of the counties, verging on the Blue Ridge there are plots that are more or less swampy or semi-marsh lands.

A GOOD CHOICE.

The poets are not singing about "summertime in Georgia," being fearful that the farmers will catch them and put them to plowing.

For the twentieth time they are talking of getting together what is left of the republican party.

There is everywhere a suspicion that the brand used in Washington is sour grape juice.

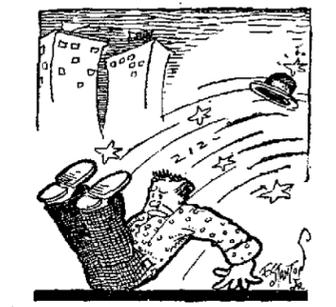

JUST from GEORGIA

"All's Well"

All's well in Georgia—from Billville to the sea; The people just as happy as the Lord would have 'em be; Blessings—they are falling ever far and free.

All's well throughout the shiny country! All's well in Georgia—that's the song to sing.— To make the bells forever in sweetest music ring; Happy from the winter to the blossoms of the spring.— All's well throughout the shiny country!

Send that music ringing past the clouds on high, Holding not an echo or memory of a sigh; We want the folks to know it in the mansions of the sky.— "All's well throughout the shiny country!"

The Old Lesson. This old-time lesson Never learned by all: "The higher you climb in life The further you must fall."

But this is for your comfort: When you reach the mountain's crown, Stay there, good people.— Never tumble down!

Proverbs of the Wayside. Few of us are rich enough to live in the country of the dreams.

After fighting so long to get in the swim some folks shout for life preservers.

What's the use of fighting the devil with fire when that's his own element? "Keep up the fire," but be careful that you don't get scorched by it.

"The Call of the Hills."

The hills, they call from 'way off,— They send this word to you: "To tatter, take a day off; In daisies and in dew! So long you've toiled and striven, For one day take your ease; Bare your brow to heaven— Be a brother to the breeze!"

So the hills are crying, O all the world along: "Leave the vales of sighing For the heights of song!" Calling from away off, Still they say to you: "Tatter, take a day off; In daisies and in dew!"

Literary Note. Authors don't live in garrets any more, because the battles don't have any trouble reaching them by the elevators. Besides, they don't wear long hair and look wild, for fear of being run in on suspicion.

A Fishing Item. Blaze, sun, with all your fires, Over old Georgia state, And blister all the llars That now are digging bait!

Great Scheme. "Whenever I hear the wolf howling at the door," says a Georgia philosopher, "I set a trap for him and sell him to a mesqueric."

In the Snake Country. "There are more snakes in this vicinity than there are remedies for snake-bite," says the Billville Banner. "But we notice that all the colonels who have kallon jugs are mighty reckless about hunting snakes."

REV. CHARLES O. JONES THANKS CONSTITUTION FOR AIDING EMORY BOYS

Editor Constitution—As president of the board of education of the North Georgia conference, and personally, I thank you most sincerely for giving the budding journalists of Emory a chance at The Constitution of today. The boys did well under the leadership of your trained men. The stimulus of the opportunity may develop ambition that may fill The Constitution's working ranks ten years from now, when the veterans have retired.

We have over 200,000 communicants and half a million adherents in Georgia, and every one of them will be grateful to you for this opportunity so graciously furnished by you to Emory.

May The Constitution continue to grow, prosper, and lead southern public opinion. With best wishes, yours sincerely, CHARLES O. JONES.

George Bailey says there are no suffragettes in Houston. Have the red-headed widows departed? Has no one asked our vice president to keep the peace? That lingering Balkan war cloud isn't casting a cool shadow over Europe. Pretty warm weather for lighting the fires of war.

A Story of the Moment An Unprofitable Policy

"Our new boarder is a remarkably fine young man," said the landlady. "He draws his salary every Saturday night, and on Monday morning he deposits one-third of it in the bank. Most of our boarders are extravagant and it does one good to see a youth who makes provision for the future."

"I have but little respect for any young man who puts a part of his salary in the bank," said the star boarder. "It is a discouraging fact that such a young man usually receives the approbation of elderly landladies and other obsolete moralists, which causes him to believe that he is doing something fine, and he soon begins to regard himself as a shining example, and so becomes insufferable; and I have no doubt whatever that I'll rise from the table one of these days and smite that model young man in the eye with a codfish tail, for if there is one thing I abominate, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, it's a shining example."

"I can understand and sympathize with the man, who, waxing well stricken in years, devotes his attention to saving money. There is nothing else for him to do. The girls won't escort him to the moving picture shows, the boys consider him an embarrassment in their games. He finds himself an anachronism. He is a square peg, and all the available holes are round. He must amuse himself some way, so he begins saving money, and spends the long winter evenings studying his bank book, and figuring out how much money he will have in five years, hence the probability being that he will be in a box then. Don't understand me as saying that the elderly man should save money. I merely insist that he has some excuse for it. As a matter of fact, no sane citizen puts his money in the bank. He blows it in and shows an inflexible determination to leave nothing behind him for the lawyers. There is nothing finer than to see an old man squandering his money hand over fist, while the attorney and conveyancer look on and gnash their teeth in impotent rage.

"But there is no excuse for the young man who saves money. He is a cold-blooded creature, who reflects disreput upon the entire race. Youth is a season of roses and wine, Mrs. Jiggers, and the young man who has as much as fifty cents of his wages left on Monday morning should be ashamed to consult himself in the looking glass. The ideal young man has to borrow money from the bank for a Monday watch on Tuesday. And he doesn't buy anything useful with his wages. Buying useful things is quite as contemptible as putting money in the bank, and no youth of spirit will consider such a course. When I was young, before I discovered that honest toil is a delusion, I worked in a hardware store and drew my wages on Saturdays. In those days dogs were popular, and I spent most of my money for the satisfaction of buying a new dog every Saturday night. I had bulldogs and terriers and hounds and spaniels. I had foreign and domestic dogs. I had more dogs than a contortionist could shake a stick at. It took all my spare change to buy feed for them, and people said I was crazy. Perhaps I was, but I was happy. You can't realize how happy you can be until you have a gross of assorted dogs, which bark all night and doze in the bootjacks thrown by incensed neighbors. There's nothing more amusing than to see a fat man at his bedroom window throwing shelf and heavy hardware at a galaxy of dogs.

"Suddenly I was fired from my position and found myself with an aggregation of bow-wows and less than 20 cents in cash. For several days I peddled dogs around town and thus earned enough to keep soul and body together. I found the experience amusing, and I danced and sang as I made my rounds, with my sample cases full of dogs. Meanwhile the bookkeeper in that hardware store, a model young man, sneered at me in the most heartless way, and one day when he was sneering the bank in which he had deposited his money went broke, and he lost the savings of years. So, while I was merely vending my pups, he was going down to the creek to tie a boulder around his neck and put an end to his misery. We always have that consolation when we see a young man depositing his money; the bank will suspend payment."

Here and Now

By George Matthew Adams

Here and Now are the Twin Words that ought to have a place in the home of every man and woman who wants to amount to something "while the Sun shines." They ought to blaze out in letters of fire before the eyes of every Human Being in every land.

Your Work is where you are, and the time to do it is Now.

Of course, what ought to be done right Now looks so much easier and simpler of achievement Tomorrow, or at some more convenient time. And the Job with some other concern or in some other city looks so much bigger and better. But you will never go wrong if you remember this— Your Work is where you are, and the time to do it is Now.

Here—your tent is set. Here the ground is broken. Here you know just how to go at things—without loss and without worry. Here you can be Master, there you may be a poor Novice. Once you let the germ of "Overthere" get you, and soon you will be all broken out with one of the worst of human ailments—the Disease of "Nowhere."

Your Work is where you are, and the time to do it is Now.

This world is getting fuller of Happiness every day, because people are beginning to understand that Heaven is—Here and Now. And in the Business world, the Idea of Efficiency is gaining by leaps and bounds because both Employer and Employee are learning the real meaning of Here and Now. If everybody—if You—would but catch the full Force and Power that these little words carry each Day would recede noiselessly and content to its Couch each Night.

Your Work is where you are, and the time to do it is Now.

Take hold upon these two little words at this very moment. Carry out their commands to the letter. Reap the rewards that are sure to give you—Here and Now.

Bees Slay Chickens.

Arthur J. Holman, a Beresford farmer, whose establishment is near the summer home of Antoine Borel, was not cut out for a bee fancier. Some time ago while pruning some trees on his farm, Arthur was overjoyed to discover a colony of bees ensconced in a hollow limb, busily engaged in making honey. Recently he decided that the time was ripe to sample this unexpected luxury, so he proceeded to the tree and began operations by poking in the hole with a large stick. The bees happened.

The World's Mysteries

MYSTERIES of ANTIQUITY

THE BURNING MIRRORS OF ARCHIMEDES.

In the early part of April there appeared in the American newspapers a dispatch from Rome to the effect that what are believed to have been the celebrated Burning Mirrors, invented by Archimedes for destroying an enemy's ships by focusing the sun's rays on them, had been found in the harbor of Syracuse. The find consisted of two bronze concave disks more than three feet in diameter, joined with a rotary apparatus.

This find created no end of interest among the delvers into antiquity, for the reason that the Burning Mirrors of Archimedes have been looked upon as somewhat of a mystery. According to Gibbon, the historian, a tradition has prevailed that the Roman fleet was reduced to ashes in the port of Syracuse by these Burning Mirrors of Archimedes; and it is asserted that a similar expedient was employed by Proclus to destroy the Gothic vessels in the harbor of Constantinople, and to protect his benefactor, Anastasius, against the bold enterprise of Vitalian.

A machine was focused on the walls of the city, consisting of a hexagon mirror of polished brass, with many smaller and movable polygons to receive and reflect the rays of the meridian sun; and a consuming flame was diverted to a distance, perhaps, of 200 feet. The truth of these two extraordinary facts is invalidated by the silence of the authentic historians; and the use of Burning Glasses was never adopted in the attack or defense of places. Yet the admirable experiments of a French philosopher at the end of the eighteenth century have demonstrated the possibility of such a mirror; and since it is possible, Gibbon says,

More Sinned Against

By Philip Weitzer, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia

Bob's father was getting on in years. Rheumatism kept him a good deal from the shop. On his seventy-first birthday the boy of his old age was sent to the chalmers. Bob had come back from Birmingham to live with his people and help earn their keep. The shop foreman could not take him on. A job opened up in the Marietta Marble works.

The old man could not spare the fare. A friend was going along. They would steal the ride on an outbound freight. The adventure seemed inviting. The pair was flushed by railroad detectives. The friend got away; Bob was caught.

He was promptly tried. The judge did not know Bob. And our system of judicial investigation does not provide a method by which the judge can really find out anything about the man before him, except their guilt or innocence, which is very little, indeed. There was the usual $50 or eight months.

The little home-place lies on the road by which the convict wagons pass. When the old man leaves off work, he can hear their rattle. The rattle tells him of his boy.

Once he was a little fellow just like other boys. He really is not any different now. But people count him a criminal. Out at the camp his legs are bound in chains, his body clothed in stripes.

"I can't think about it. I mustn't. My heart would break. When I hear the wagons rattle, I go in the back part of the house. I can't stand the sound." The old fellow sturdily hid his weeping tears.

Out in the camp Bob sees his fellow-man struck by the lash. It is probably the first time he ever saw the sight. The captain is a good man. But what can he do? The stupid law does not furnish his men with any other incentive.

Out in the camp Bob hears of tales of crime. What else have the men to talk about? Most of the stories paint crime triumphant. Eventually the weary months will drag to a close. The penalty will have been paid. After prison, what? He will not know a trade. The state exploited his young strength to build good roads. It gave him nothing in return.

All he acquired was a knowledge that crime often goes unpunished, and a distaste for honest effort. The man who works because he is made to soon loses the ability to work of his own accord. His friends will have gone. His record will force him to live a lie. He will be an easy prey to every influence that points the easiest way—the deadliest way.

Does Georgia's prison system put a check on crime? The hope is ridiculous. Jurists often acquit the apparently guilty rather than send them to the gang. Those that are sent there come away the worse for their stay. Probation, under the kindly discipline of a probation officer, who would have seen to it that Bob got work and stuck to it, and who would have helped him pay off in installments the fine the court might have imposed, would have solved the perplexity of the court in dealing with this 17-year-old offender.

He is more disposed to attribute the art to the greatest mathematician of antiquity. Is it possible that Burning Mirrors could have been effective for the destruction of ships? Syracuse, it will be remembered, was "the cradle of mechanical skill," and Gibbon is not alone responsible for the statement as to their use. Tzetzes describes the artifices of these Burning Glasses, of which he had read in a mathematical treatise of Anthemius. Yet, on the other hand, it seems remarkable that such authentic historians as Polybius, Plutarch, Livy and Marcellinus, if such Burning Glasses had been used, make no mention of the fact, as well as none of the writers of the sixth century.

This is especially true since all these writers mention that it was at this same siege of Syracuse that Archimedes invented and first used the catapults which long kept the enemy at bay, being adopted for use at short and long range. This siege occurred a little more than two centuries before Christ.

Archimedes was one of the most remarkable of ancient inventors and mathematicians and was born at Syracuse 237 B. C. It was Archimedes who first established the truths that a body plunged in fluid loses as much of its weight as is equal to the weight of an equal volume of the fluid.

Plutarch tells the following story regarding the accomplishment of Archimedes: He declared that with a given power he could move any given weight whatever, and that if given another world to stand on, he could move the one upon which we live. He was requested to put his theory into practice. He took a three-masted ship, a transport in the king's navy, which had just been dragged upon land with great labor and many men, and in this he placed her usual complement of men and cargo, and then, sitting at some distance, without any trouble, by gently pulling with his hand the end of a system of pulleys, he dragged it towards him with as smooth and even a motion as if it were passing over the sea.

Archimedes died at the capture of Syracuse by Marcellus in 212 B. C. In the general massacre that followed the fall of the city he, while engaged in drawing a mathematical figure, was killed by a Roman soldier. No blame attaches to the Roman general, as he had given orders to his men to spare the house and person of the sage, and in the midst of his triumph he lamented the death of so illustrious a person and directed an honorable burial to be given and that his surviving relatives be befriended.

In accordance with the expressed desires of the philosopher his tomb was marked by the figure of a sphere inscribed in a cylinder, which he considered one of his most valuable achievements. The discovery, noted above, of what may be Archimedes' Burning Mirrors, may lead to a further investigation of the subject and the mystery as to whether Gibbon's story is to be credited may be solved.

MODERN INVENTIONS Oriental Rugs

By GEORGE FITCH Author of "At Good Old Swab"

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.) The Oriental rug is not strictly a modern invention, but the prices now obtained for them are.

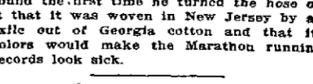

The Oriental rug was originally woven by hand in some far-off corner of the desert by a family and its descendants. It was woven out of camel's hair or silk in fantastic Oriental designs which the designer carried in his head and altered whenever he had a lapse of memory.

The Oriental rug was the most useful thing about the Oriental family. Whenever a family set up housekeeping it began by weaving a rug. This took from six months to ten years, according to the rug and the family. When the rug was finished it was used for a carpet, a bed, a saddle, a wind-break, a table, a wall, a wheat bin and for many other useful purposes. After an Oriental rug has been mellowed by several generations for such use, it becomes soft and beautiful and can be smelled for several rods on a damp, muggy day.

Some years ago people began to import these rugs to America. They are now very popular. If a rug is treated kindly it will last forever and in another century the importance of an American family will be determined by the number of Oriental rugs its ancestors have bequeathed to it.

Oriental rugs are now sold in such vast numbers that if all the Oriental rug weavers worked day and night they would still be several years behind orders. They are also so valuable that a small rug of good family and unblemished descent will often sell for $100 a square foot. Rich Americans now collect Oriental rugs instead of postage stamps and enlarge their houses from year to year to accommodate their collections.

Oriental rugs are divided into two kinds, like money—real and counterfeit. Many a man has paid $300 for a genuine Oriental

Master of human destinies am I! Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait. Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and passing by Hovel and mart and palace—soon or late I knock unbidden once at every gate! If sleeping, wake!—if feasting, rise before I turn away. It is the hour of fate. And they who follow me reach every state. Mortals desire, and conquer every foe. Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate Condemned to failure, penury and woe. Seek me in vain, and uselessly implore. I answer not, and I return no more! —JOHN F. INGALLS

UNION OF SPIRIT SHOWN AT MEETING

Precedents of History Broken When Presbyterians From All Parts of Globe Gather at Mass Meeting

For the first time in the history of the world representatives of four great sections of the Presbyterian church gathered together last night in Atlanta's Auditorium. Ministers and laymen from every portion of the globe were present—men old and gray and bent with years of faithful service sat side by side with others—youthful and going forth to fight battles for their faith.

The U. S. the I. C. S. A. and the so-called Reformed Presbyterians were represented all joined together by one faith, one God, one baptism. The latter while not holding the assembly here as the others, arriving to theirs being a triennial affair had their delegates present to join in this great union meeting.

Speakership has been passed to the union of the four great bodies. Last night showed conclusively that there would be no organic union at this general meeting of the assemblies. It was a union of spirit that was gained last night.

See One Church in Future It was easy to see that there were those present who would never part with their own doctrinal beliefs. Through it was made plain that they would welcome others to their fold. Yet these very men predicted the day when all such would be laid aside and one great Presbyterian church would reign and that in the near future.

Several of the speakers in their addresses were careful to say that what they were alluding to was the union of spirit and not of organization. James Macdonald of Toronto Canada, publisher of the Toronto Globe was the speaker of the evening. The keynote of his address which was said to be straight from the shoulder was that it is the duty of the church to instruct public opinion as to the sinfulness of war its wanton waste of the peoples wealth its crushing burdens of the poor its poisoning of the nations life and its irreparable demoralization of the manhood of the country.

At the opening of the meeting the building rang with praise as famous old hymns were sung. Each body of Presbyterians took their turn in rising and singing some old familiar hymn dear if nothing but for its association.

Presiding officer Rev. R. O. Flynn of Atlanta called upon Dr. W. F. J. C. of Clinton S. C. to pronounce the invocation.

Keynote of Meeting in Prayer A deep hush spread over the Auditorium. 5000 people rose with bowed heads as Dr. Jacobs prayed a prayer that was the keynote of the union of spirit which pervaded the meeting.

America, and the many countries of the globe. History, for one time, is not repeating itself tonight. This is the greatest meeting of Presbyterians ever held here. We are gathered together and let us say, "Thy will be done."

Dr. Bell asks Organize Union. Dr. Hugh H. Bell of San Francisco, moderator of the United Presbyterians made a strong plea for organic union.

I think this meeting sets a great pace for Presbyterianism in this country," he said. "But there are three things which we need while here. First, union of action from on high, that our deliberations may be sane and sound. Unity we are not disagreed on the duty of Christ we are not disagreed on the importance of missions. We must not crucify a Christ because of our doctrinal differences. I do not believe that anything in the entire history of the United States has ever united Christ more than this great meeting. I hope to see that every form of Presbyterianism will at some time be united as the church stands today a great challenge has been issued to all of us and unless we bring others to the Christ our mission has been fruitless. We are commissioned as brothers in Christ and the centuries bid us quit, we like men.

The day is not far distant when the American Presbyterian church will be without doctrinal distinction or difference, said Dr. Mark A. Matthews of the S. A. church, Seattle Wash. James Macdonald Addressing the meeting James Macdonald of Toronto of the Toronto Globe was introduced he was greeted with a round of applause which lasted for several minutes. Mr. Macdonald reached the heart of his subject at once and for the space of an hour held his audience as few men can. Near the end when he spoke of ending his speech cries of "Go on, go on" from all parts of the auditorium urged him to continue to the end. He spoke in part as follows:

No nation can live to itself or die to itself. It was once the dream of American statesmen that this republic might live in comfortable isolation from all alliances and antagonisms with Europe and the world. Statesmen in Canada still protest that their dominion shall not be drawn into the vortex of European politics. But whether we wish it or not America is now and must forever remain a factor in world affairs and more and more both the United States and Canada must take account of world conditions. It is for this reason I ask you first of all to consider the fact of internationalism.

Fact of Internationalism This very occasion illustrates the fact of internationalism on this continent. A Canadian speaker on this platform is as much at home as would be in Toronto. The dividing line between the two countries and their two governments is by no means so divided. Sovereignty is something and flag meets flag along the 4900 miles of transcontinental boundary but the two peoples with their interests and loyalties and purposes all interwoven cross and recross until from the Rio Grande to Hudson's bay and from Cape Breton to California, there is being erected a vast community of obligations and opportunities and unity among the outposts one in its life one in its responsibility and one in its message to the world. In this great world wide movement of internationalism does the Christian church play any worthy part or know any high obligation? The church stands in the forefront its very genius is international. Put its original commission by its program and its purposes and by the immeasurable range of its evangel it is above all other institutions splendid, international. The glad tidings of Bethlehem were not for Jews alone but for all nations. The marching orders from Olivet "Go ye into all the world take no account of political divisions or local patriotism or national bias, or necessarily the state and its government are confined within the bounds of their own domain but for the church it is the world into that world the four gospels set with us but a flag or any point at all is a reprehensible emotion of a new life.

COMING OF W. J. BURNS SAID TO BE ASSURED Continued From Page One and manager of the Burns headquarters in New York. The expert investigation preceding his visit will open today and it is said will open in a grand manner in the solicitor general's office.

In courtesy to Burns Mr. Folger will not reveal the amount necessary for his employment. It can be obtained easily through the attorney and within three days he is expected to procure him dependent mostly on the time necessary for his investigation. He will not be in Atlanta for more than three weeks at the longest.

He will bring with him a staff of expert criminal investigators. His work will be secret and not until his investigation is completed will a knowledge of his progress be made known. The secrecy of his operations is one of the many secrets of his phenomenal success as a detective.

Donations Expected Today Colonel Folger expects a number of donations today. He requests that all persons subscribing to the fund to notify or send their checks to Charles T. R. an cashier of the Fourth National bank in whose charge has been placed the financial end of the move to employ the detective.

A tray of dainties and a package of clothing Frank is undergoing imprisonment with remarkable fortitude. His appearance does not betray the effect of confinement, and he spends most of the time reading and pacing the confines of his cell.

Documents Held Secret It was freely rumored around police headquarters yesterday that detectives have procured new and startling evidence which they intend holding secret until the presentation of the Phagan case before the grand jury. It is said to be in documentary form and in the shape of certain papers or letters.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey detested from headquarters and members of the solicitor's staff held secret conferences in Dorsey's office in the Throver building last night. They were closeted for several hours after 6 o'clock. Although no one who was present would talk the report is that the consultation was for the purpose of preparing the evidence at hand so that it can effectively be submitted to the grand jury before which the mystery will go some time late next week. Mr. Dorsey announced Thursday that in the event a bill of indictment was returned against Frank or the negro New Lee or against both the case would go to trial before the last of June. This was at least a general impression that the case would be rushed to trial.

An interesting witness who has been summoned before the solicitor is J. Williams ex-politician and operator of a street car line. He lives on a street only a few doors distant from the pencil plant. Williams has not yet made his statement but will probably be called to the solicitor's office some time today. The new witness was in the basement of the factory early Sunday morning. He had come from his establishment shortly after it had been made known that a girl's body had been discovered in the cellar. It was he who lay in the spot in which the murdered girl was found while the negro night watchman went through the pantomime of the discovery.

Williams also in the place upon Frank's arrival and will be asked by Mr. Dorsey to testify to his observations of Frank's conduct whether or not the superintendent was nervous or agitated. He also will be asked as to whether or not he witnessed Frank's failure to replace the broken staple and on account of reported nervousness turn the hammer and staple over to his assistant, Mr. Darley.

NO WARLIKE MOVES BY UNITED STATES Continued on Page Two discussing the situation with President Wilson. It is understood however that Mr. Moore was able to throw but little light upon Governor Johnson's intentions when he saw the ambassador later. Viscount Chinda's calls gave rise to the impression in official circles that Japan is not inclined to delay pushing her point and that another formal communication probably will be forthcoming as soon as the California bill actually is signed.

Wilson Framing a Reply Meanwhile President Wilson in a preliminary way at least has been discussing with Acting Secretary Moore the course to be pursued in framing a reply to the original protest. This subject will come before the cabinet meeting tomorrow but the answer may not be immediate unless the Japanese government is insistent.

On the contrary it is known that the president has disposed of the protest with as much deliberation as diplomatic usage will permit. Though Governor Johnson apparently made a stronger impression upon the administration by his presentation of various acts and proposed legislation of a national character tending to commit the government to a general policy of discrimination against the yellow race, it is declared that he has injected no new suggestion into the controversy so the officials of the state department have only to consider points already made in continuing diplomatic negotiations.

It has developed that the Japanese government has not suggested the invocation of the Hague Tribunal as a means of settling the issue whence the conclusion is drawn here that Japan does not by means of the resources of diplomacy as having been exhausted to the point where arbitration is the only resort.

Satisfactory Solution Expected Press dispatches from Tokyo convey the opinion of high Japanese officials that a permanent and satisfactory settlement of the difficulty is considered expected in that capital, were welcomed in official circles here today. This was taken to mean that the negotiations are at least assured of peaceful and orderly progression, and that is little likelihood of an evolution of feeling that might result in a rupture of diplomatic relations.

Administration officials believe that the Japanese government is now quite well aware of two important facts. First, that the United States government has honestly exerted itself to the extent of its resources to prevent the enactment of the legislation and secondly that in making treaties with the United States a nation is expected to have in mind the respective functions of national and state governments.

Several radical parliamentarians called a mass meeting for tomorrow but the more responsible element among the Japanese declare they will not attend adding that they declare they place complete confidence in the government to settle the controversy amicably and honorably. They deny any agitation which might prove embarrassing.

The foreign office is optimistic as to the outcome of the controversy in reply to an inquiry this morning. A high official said. Negotiations between Japan and the United States are progressing satisfactorily. We expect to reach a friendly and permanent solution of the difficulty.

Good Kodak Finishing Cannot be done with cheap chemicals and paper. Jno. L. Moore & Sons use only the best of both and at a reasonable price. We expect to react a friendly and permanent solution of the difficulty.

WILSON TO STAND FOR NO COMPROMISE Continued From Page One been closed when the measure passed the house. He is understood to regard the effort to obtain hearings as a filibustering device.

Rumors of Concessions The precedents were about to leave the office when the president asked if it were true that reports were being circulated of compromises on the wool and sugar schedules. All day there had been rumors that concessions of some kind would be made on the principal schedules in order to satisfy opposition in the senate. The president had been told by friends that in some sources there was an expectation that a duty would be put on raw wool after the provision for free sugar after years would be dropped. It was to counteract these statements that he took occasion to make his position clear. Of course it is expected that some kind of wool and sugar minor changes in the bill made by the finance committee certain qualifications and corrections which have been approved by house leaders since the bill left their hands but in the principal items of wool and sugar the president is determined that there shall be no change if he can prevent. There were even intimations that he might veto a bill that came from the senate with amendments on wool or sugar.

The agreement in the senate was for a vote at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the motion to refer the Underwood bill to the finance committee and the Penrose free sugar amendment for public hearings. Republican leaders accepted this proposal from Chairman Simmons after Senator Stone had at that time proposed an immediate vote by moving to lay all amendments to Simmons motion on the table. This he withdrew at Senator Simmons request.

Hot Debate Over Sugar The sugar schedule was again the subject of enlivened debate. Senator Ransdell of Louisiana answering the claim of Senator James of Kentucky that the democratic platform warned Louisiana to expect free sugar, Mr. Ransdell submitted records in an effort to show that the party was not committed to free sugar. The senate resumed consideration of the tariff late in the afternoon. Senator Thomas of Colorado discussed threats of business depression.

stood or stands for free sugar. On the contrary, this action was the deliberate conclusion that the democratic party stood against the Underwood free sugar bill and in favor of a duty on sugar.

The Louisiana senator concluded with a personal appeal to his colleagues "in God's name not to vote for free sugar and put the Louisiana industry to death." Senator Williams asked why it was that Mr. Ransdell and his colleagues receded just as obstinately in the past any reduction in the duty on sugar as they now resist free sugar, and why they voted last year against a 33 per cent reduction, which every Louisiana planter now admits he could stand. If this senate, Senator Williams asked, should put a 50 per cent reduction on sugar instead of the proposed rate, with free sugar in three years which would you prefer? Senator Ransdell said he believed his people would prefer the proposed rate because it would be quick death whereas the other reduction would be slow death.

Mr. Daniel Carey Weds Miss Hare, of Uvalde, Tex.

Uvalde, Texas, May 15.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Helen Hare and Mr. Daniel Carey, of Atlanta, was solemnized this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin Hare, on High street. The ceremony at 2:30 was performed by Rev. Father G. U. Wilson, of the Church of our Lady of Guadalupe. The wedding music was played by Miss Faw Bowman, on the violin, and her sister, Mrs. Morris Worthington, of New Orleans, at the piano, daughters of Dr. A. R. Bowman, and life-long friends of the bride, Mr. Paul Carey, of Salt Lake City, was his brother's best man. Before the wedding Mr. and Mrs.

were entertained at a beautiful luncheon at the residence of Mrs. Carey. The bride and groom were immediately after the ceremony for a wedding tour, which will bring them to Atlanta in two weeks. The bride was married in a smart traveling gown of blue-gray cloth, with harmonizing hat, and her flowers were bride roses. Mrs. Carey will be cordially welcomed in Atlanta by Mr. Carey's parents and her own acquaintance made here two years ago, when she visited Miss Fenshope Clarke. Mr. Carey, a prominent and constructive citizen, is superintendent of parks, and popular in public and social life.

Evening Bridge.

Miss Louise Black will entertain at bridge tonight in compliment to Mrs. Bates Block's guests, Miss Carr and Miss Scott. There will be three tables.

Mainee Party.

Miss Adrienne Hatley will give a mainee party Monday in compliment to Miss Margaret McPheeters, of Raleigh, the guests of Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, and to Mary Stuart of Nashville, the guest of Mrs. Andrew Calhoun.

To Miss Anderson.

Miss Margaret Ashford will entertain a small party at buffet supper Sunday night in compliment to Miss Fannie Neal Anderson, of Athens.

Miss Farr's Tea.

White and gold, the class colors of the seniors at Washington seminary, were the basis for a pretty decorative scheme at the tea given in honor of the class yesterday by Miss Virginia Farr, a popular member.

The tea table centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow roses with daisies and ferns massed at the base, and roses and ferns decorated the reception rooms.

Miss Farr wore a dainty lingerie gown.

Confederate Tea.

A delightful event of Friday afternoon will be the tea given by the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Julia Jackson Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, at the residence of the district president, Miss Elizabeth Hanna, 363 Peachtree street. Two hundred and fifty guests have been invited.

The house thrown open to the guests will be decorated in palms and cut flowers in the confederate colors, red and white. Mr. W. W. Hubner will furnish a beautiful program of music and delicious refreshments will be served. Racing with Miss Hanna will be the floor of the chapter, Miss Mary Butt Griffith, president; Miss Florelia Burrow, vice president; Miss Katherine Clayton, secretary; Miss Vivian Mathis, corresponding secretary; and Miss Frances Downman, treasurer. Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. William McCarty, Mrs. E. R. Mobley, Mrs. Paul Kauschenberg, Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. Walter Bedard, Mrs. Owen Johnson, Miss Clifford West, Miss Tommie and Marion Perdue and Miss Sara Lee Evans.

The punch bowl, on a table prettily decorated with smilax and red rambler roses, will be presided over by Miss Emily Cassin, Irene Van Dyke, Eliza Putnam and Jennie Lou Lindsey.

To Knights of Pythias.

An enjoyable affair of Monday evening was the entertainment given to Atlanta No. 20, Knights of Pythias, by the Woman's auxiliary.

The program consisted of musical numbers and recitations. The dust for piano and violin by Miss Mary Taylor and Master Taylor was greatly enjoyed, as was the recitation by Miss Ruby McLaughry and piano solo by Miss Taylor.

Several addresses by members of the lodge completed the program, after which refreshments were served by the ladies.

These entertainments which are given once every three months are looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure.

Ice Cream Festival.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hemphill Avenue Methodist church will have an ice cream festival on the lawn of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Auten, 334 Hemphill avenue, Friday evening, May 16.

Refreshments will be served in the afternoon from 4 to 5:30.

Turner-de Bruyn-kops.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farr, Jr., have issued invitations to the wedding reception of their sister, Miss Ada Martin Turner to Mr. William de Bruyn-kops on Wednesday evening, June 4 at 9 o'clock, at 238 East Fifty-first street, Savannah, Ga. The ceremony will take place at 9 o'clock.

Mr. de Bruyn-kops and his bride will be at home after October 1 at 7 Atlantic street, Charleston, S. C.

Church Entertainment.

A bright entertainment is planned for tonight at Ponce de Leon Baptist church by committee No. 6, Mrs. H. G. Fennell, chairman, and a general invitation is extended.

A miscellaneous program will be presented, the participants to be Miss Margaret White, Miss Martha Boykin, Miss Elizabeth Fennell, Miss Grace Holsenbeck, Mrs. Orfa Cuipepper.

A little comedy in which Misses Marie Fennell, Dorothy Knapp, Dorothy Fennell and Elizabeth Fennell take part will be a special feature of interest.

Georgia Girl in Paris.

The talent of another Georgia girl has been recognized by no less an authority than Jean de Reszke, the great actor and singer, who has accepted for pupil Miss Cynthia Farr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Farr, Jr., of Savannah, and granddaughter of the late Dr. J. D. Turner, of Atlanta. Miss Farr went to Europe with her parents and after a hearing by de Reszke in Paris he praised both the quality of her voice and the method by which she had been trained. He predicted her readiness for concert work in three weeks and she is to remain under his instruction. With several other southern girl students she will make her home with a chaperone in an apartment in Paris. She is now in England for a gala week at Oxford and the Georgia students there have planned delightful entertainment for her party.

Miss Northern to Entertain.

Miss Margaret Northern will entertain sixteen guests at a bridge luncheon Sunday in compliment to Mrs. Bates Block's guests, Miss Carr and Miss Scott, and Miss Caroline Scott, of Arkansas, and to Miss Margaret McPheeters, of Raleigh, the guest of Mrs. Sam Inman.

Bridge Luncheon.

Miss Margaret Lewis will entertain at bridge luncheon Tuesday morning.

Miss Cassin's Bridge.

Miss Emily Cassin entertained at a pretty bridge party yesterday afternoon, at her home on West Peachtree street, in compliment to Miss Lillian Beatty, the attractive guest of Mrs. Henry Troutman.

Bowls of sweetpeas decorated the apartments and the prizes were a fan for top score and silk hose for the honor guest. The consolation was a bridge set.

Miss Cassin wore a becoming gown of radium silk trimmed in shadow lace and turquoise blue satin, and was assisted by entertaining by her mother, Mrs. E. D. Craven.

The guests included Miss Beatty, Mrs. Troutman, Mrs. Hamilton Block, Miss Bessie Brady, Miss Nellie Kiser Stewart, Miss Clifford West, Miss Elizabeth Moran, Miss Elizabeth Dunson, Miss Louise Riley, Miss Janet Lowndes, Mrs. Hal Miller, Miss Almce Hannicutt, Miss Edith Kirkpatrick, Miss Antoinette Kirkpatrick, Miss Helen Thorn, Miss Carolyn King, Miss Etta Putnam, Miss Helen Dargan and Miss Rebecca Divine, Miss Rebecca Riley and Miss Adeline Thomas.

To Miss Wilson.

Mrs. C. A. Wood was hostess at a pretty luncheon yesterday at the Georgian Terrace, the occasion a compliment to Miss Helen Dargan and her guests, Miss Ruth Wilson, of New York.

The party of twelve were seated at a handsomely appointed circular table in the new dining room, its centerpieces a plateau of Killarney roses and lilies of the valley. The place cards were girls' heads, and all the color detail was in pink.

Miss Wood was gowned in gray chiffon, and her becoming hat was black and white, with paradise aigrettes. Miss Wilson wore foliage green brocade crepe and a smart hat in all-black. Mrs. Milton Dargan wore amethyst embroidered crepe, and her hat was trimmed with French flowers in shades of amethyst. Miss Dargan wore black charmeuse, and her black tulle hat was trimmed with hand-painted flowers.

Among the young women invited to meet Miss Wilson, Miss Katherine Ellis was a charming figure. Her three-piece suit was of white tulle, embroidered, and her white chip hat was covered with green chiffon and wreathed with daisies. Miss Marian Atchison was lovely in blue brocade silk, the corsage of shadow lace, and her white chip hat, with mustard-colored velvet crown, was wreathed with cream roses. Miss Jennie D. Harris wore black satin, and her pretty face was framed with the pale pink roses which trimmed her black braided hat. Miss Sarah Rawson wore one pink raffine, and her black hat was trimmed with a black tulle ruche and roses. Miss Annie Lee McKenzie wore a white serge tailored gown, with a black tulle hat.

FIVE POSTOFFICES IN AUGUSTA DISTRICT ROBBED WITHIN WEEK

Augusta, Ga., May 15.—The robbery of the postoffice in North Augusta, S. C., Wednesday night, made the fifth robbery of small postoffices in the Augusta district within a week. It is impossible to tell how great the loss is. North Augusta, S. C.; Greenscut, Ga.; and Graniteville, Langley and Liberty, S. C., have been robbed within the past two days.

Waynesboro, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—The postoffice and several stores were entered at greenscut, early this morning by thieves. The safe of the postoffice was dynamited and $108 in stamps and papers were taken. The store was entered in the rear and a slide hammer and coal chisel were used in breaking the safe so it could be blown up.

Some of the residents were awakened by the explosion. The robbers were traced in the direction of Augusta and the iron box and papers were found that had been taken from the safe about 1 1/2 miles toward Augusta.

Two men who were seen in that neighborhood last night, Lee, a stranger and Ralph McCall, have been arrested in Augusta. The local authorities were called on and made every effort to track the robbers, but were unsuccessful.

MRS. LANIER COLLAPSES AND SOBS IN COURTROOM

Waycross, Ga., May 15.—Owing to the illness of John S. Walker, one of the attorneys for Mrs. W. C. Lanier, her case was not taken up in superior court today and it is probable it will be held during the summer.

Mrs. Lanier was in court when the case was called and was apparently unwell, but shortly after court was called to order she collapsed and her sobs could be heard continuously throughout the crowded court room. Her mother was unable to attend the morning session of court, but a physician informed the court she should be held in custody for the afternoon session.

BRIDGE OVER OGEECHEE NOW READY FOR USE

Statesboro, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—There is much interest among the automobile owners of Statesboro and Bulloch county, as well as on the opposite side of the Ogeechee river in the vicinity of Rocky Ford, in the announcement that the steel bridge which has been in course of construction for several months, is completed, and ready to be turned over to the county authorities of Screven and Bulloch counties.

Contractor Atkin was in Statesboro yesterday afternoon, and gladdened the hearts of the automobilists who have been anxiously awaiting the completion of the bridge with this announcement. He notified Ordinary Cone that the bridge would be ready to be turned over to the authorities Friday, and it has been announced by Judge Cone that he and the county commissioners would visit the bridge on that day. Not only will the mammoth steel structure be visited by the county authorities, but there is general disposition among the local automobilists to also be on hand when the bridge is opened.

It is certain that the road from here to the Rocky Ford crossing will be lined with automobilists Friday.

Mr. Joseph Thompson On Mrs. Cooney's Staff

Mrs. Robert Cooney, who is editor of the society department of the woman's edition to be published by the Federated club women in June, has appointed as one of her staff Mr. Joseph Thompson, who has been a leader in Atlanta's social life for fifty years.

He was a member of the first musical society in Atlanta, and he was the first president of the Nine O'Clock German club, Atlanta's first social organization, and he was the host for twenty years in one of Atlanta's most hospitable homes.

GEORGIA SCHOOL CHILDREN WORKING FOR WOMAN'S EDITION

Mrs. Lyman J. Ameson, Mrs. Lindsay Johnson and Mrs. Hugh Willet are receiving enthusiastic letters from many of the club women who are interesting in the clubs of their districts in the circulation contest for the Library of Southern Literature. These books are being offered by the club women for the school in north Georgia and the school in south Georgia securing the greatest number of advance subscriptions to the Woman's Edition of the Constitution, to be published June 4.

The name of the school should be given on each list, in order that all may receive proper credit. The contest will close June 15.

All schools should notify the Woman's Edition Circulation Department promptly upon entering the contest, and the names and addresses of their subscribers to the Woman's Club Edition of the Constitution should be forwarded without delay. The list will all be carefully filed and the prizes awarded at the earliest possible date.

All club women are urged to call attention to this announcement, both to the teachers and pupils of the schools and to create interest wherever possible.

The offer is open to all grammar schools, high schools, colleges, private schools in the state of Georgia. One set will be awarded to the school in south Georgia selling the

COUNCIL MAY BUY THE MOSELEY ESTATE FOR PARK PURPOSES

A petition signed by more than 3,000 residents of the west side urging that the city purchase the old Moseley estate, comprising thirty-eight acres in the Battle Hill section, for park purposes will be offered in council Monday.

LARGER SUM WANTED BY DR. TOEPEL FOR PHYSICAL CULTURE

When the board of education meets on May 29 Dr. Theodore Toepel will submit a statement in which he will urge a larger appropriation for the maintenance of the physical culture department of the public schools.

He will show that in 1890 the school roll was 13,837, and in 1905 the enrollment was 14,570, which was an increase of 1933, or 14 per cent. The enrollment in 1912 was 23,344, or an increase of 8,774, which amounted to 62 per cent.

The report will also show that the total expenses were as follows: In 1899, $145,173; in 1905, $237,995; in 1912, $713,925. The increase from 1899 to 1905 was $92,822, or 6 per cent, and between 1905 and 1912 $538,932, or 30 per cent.

The report will further show that the cost of the physical culture department was followed by the purchase of the property when the matter reaches the finance committee. He believes the tract is one of the best adapted for park purposes in Atlanta, and can be beautified to a still greater extent at little cost.

The expenses for teaching and training children were as follows: In 1899, $19,30; in 1905, $16,30; in 1912, $33.

This report will clearly indicate that the Atlanta public schools are far behind in the appropriation for physical culture. The rule in most cities is that there shall be a physical director for every 3,000 children. Newark, N. J., has a director for every 2,000 children. Atlanta has a director for every 11,500 children. There is no provision whatever for physical training in the Atlanta Girls' High school.

Dr. Toepel states that the claim that Atlanta, owing to its climate, does not need as much physical training as some other cities is erroneous, and he cites the report of the medical examiner, who states that he has found physically defective children in greater numbers than in other cities where there is a rigid physical examination.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear on council and the finance committee to select the site for a recreation place for the people of the west side.

The Seventh Ward Improvement association is solidly behind the project.

ENTERTAINMENT FUND DESIRED BY ASHLEY

Councilman Thinks City Should Give $1,000 for Entertaining Visiting City Officials.

Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward, is opposed to the city playing the part of the "piker" when city officials come to Atlanta on strictly business visits.

When council meets Monday afternoon Councilman Ashley will offer a resolution in council authorizing the appropriation of $1,000 in the June finance sheet to be used as a fund to pay the expenses of the city officials for entertaining visiting officials.

The resolution will go to the finance committee, and according to expressions from a majority of the members, it will be adopted with the chances of the amount being cut down to $500, very slim.

Councilman Ashley's resolution was inspired by the visit recently of nine aldermen and two commissioners from the progressive city of Orange, N. C., who came to Atlanta to make an inspection of the sewage disposal plants. Captain Clayton and Commissioner W. A. Davis, of the water board, entertained the party at their own expense. Councilman Ashley contends that it is a hardship on the officials of the city to spend their own money for entertainment purposes. He says the city gets the benefit of the money spent and should pay the bills.

Alderman Von Sike favors Plan A. Alderman Arthur Van Dyke says he will support the Ashley resolution in council and will go before the finance committee if necessary.

"Let me say right here that it is not proper for the city to play the piker when officials of other cities come here," Alderman Van Dyke said. "We've got Atlanta has ever sent officials there they were entertained in great style."

"I understand that two of our city officials graciously paid the bills for the last entertainment. That is not right. The city should have a fund, and I am going to join Councilman Ashley if he has a fight to 'get the money.'"

The resolution will go to the finance committee. It will provide that the money be appropriated to the mayor's contingent fund.

FINEST BUCK ELK IN AMERICA GIVEN TO GRANT PARK ZOO

Atlanta's zoo in Grant park is now the home of the largest and finest specimen of buck elk in the United States, according to Joe O. Cochran, president of the park board.

The elk was added to the Grant park family Thursday morning. The stately creature is a gift from James S. Floyd, vice president of the Atlanta National bank. Mr. Floyd made the purchase of the animal at the residence of President Cochran Wednesday morning, and the park president lost no time in announcing it.

Zookeeper Boyd, who is one of the most expert men in the United States, says the buck is a perfect specimen. "The park board is proud of our new boarder at the zoo," President Cochran said. "We want other folks in Atlanta to take an interest in the zoo."

ANNUAL FREE CLINIC BY MEDICAL COLLEGE

Augusta, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Plans providing for the establishment of an annual free clinic to be held for one week following the close of the Medical College of Georgia, under the supervision of the Alumni association of that institution, as prepared by the executive committee of the association, were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Alumni association held yesterday for that purpose.

Practically a post-graduate course in general medicine and surgery is what supporters of the program claim it will amount to. It will be different from the usual post-graduate clinical courses in this plan, according to speeches made in its advocacy, is that the members of the association will take an active part in the clinic and not be mere onlookers.

This is spoken of as being in the nature of an innovation for an American medical college by local members of the profession.

Part 1.—3/4 cup Red Velva Syrup, 1 oz. chocolate, 1/2 cup water, 3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoonful almond extract.

Part 2.—1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, whites of 3 eggs, 1 cup chopped nut meats, 1 teaspoonful vanilla extract.

Boil part one until a little hardens in cold water. Boil part two (with cut egg whites, nuts and extract) until forms a soft ball when tried in cold water; remove from stove, pour gradually into stiffly beaten whites of eggs, beating all the time. Then beat in part one. Now beat the mixture for 20 minutes, add nuts and vanilla extract and pour into buttered tins or plates. Cool and cut in squares. The chocolate may be omitted.

That old notion of sweets disagreeing with children is all wrong. The best and biggest physicians say, "Eat sweets, your body needs them." They say that when your palate craves candy, satisfy the desire, because some hungry tissue requires it—but you ought to make the candy you give the kiddies yourself, and you ought to make it with

Flagman Killed in Wreck Had Come Here to Marry

With the incongruity that always seems to go hand in hand with the doings of the little blind love god, there is interwoven into the tragedy of Wednesday night when two men were killed when an unattached engine of the Seaboard Air Line turned turtle as it was rounding a curve near Rice's station, the fact that the man who was killed in the wreck was engaged to be married.

When J. T. Allen, the 24-year-old flagman who was scalded to death, came to Atlanta he had a motive other than the position offered him. The motive was a pretty, golden-haired stenographer, Miss Irene Stanley, of 68 Houston street, whom he had met on former visits to the city.

It was two weeks ago that night, drunk with elation, Allen wired to his father, not that he was engaged, but that he had actually been married. The father telegraphed back his congratulations and blessing from Gibsland, Ga., accepting the news in good faith, as a matter of course.

Fair Reporters Tackle Mayor And Will Write Score of Stories

"Uncle Jim" Woodward, Atlanta's mayor, is not the lugubrious person many people believe him to be. Quite to the contrary, "Uncle Jim" has a fine sense of humor. This he made apparent Thursday night when Mrs. Dudley Cowles, Mrs. Ida Howell Kramer and Mrs. Ramson Wright, representing the Constitution's Woman's Edition, interviewed him.

There will be sob stories galore. Mrs. Cowles interviewed a poor old lady who is seeking compensation from the city for damage to her property. The story the old lady told will be an appealing good feature.

LAYMEN WHO SMOKE HAVE NO RIGHT TO FORBID MINISTERS

"Too many Presbyterians are guilty of smoking themselves to lay aside the requirements of their office," said William H. Ridgeway, a wealthy manufacturer of Cotswold, Pa., and a commissioner of the General Assembly, in regard to the attendance from laymen by the ministers of this denomination.

GEORGIA ALUMNI SEEK LIST OF MATRICULATES

Harrison Jones, chairman of the committee appointed by the Alumni Society of the University of Georgia to take steps to further the organization of the alumni bureau, has started a campaign to raise a fund among the graduates of the university to sustain the bureau.

It is estimated that $2,500 will be needed to start the work. Chairman Jones, who is a member of the class of 1907, pledged $200 from the class when the resolution suggesting the bureau was adopted by the society in 1912.

CONVENTION EXPENSES RETURNED IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—A rather remarkable aftermath to the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention, held recently in Columbus, is that all subscriptions to the entertainment and general expense fund of the convention are now being returned to those who donated the money.

This is probably the first time in the history of a convention in Columbus, at least a convention of this size, that money subscribed for the occasion was refunded to the public.

Killed Self on Train

St. Louis, May 15.—Frederick W. Humes, a member of the Merchants' exchange, committed suicide on a train coming into St. Louis today. He left a note to his wife, saying he was in financial straits.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB TO LEASE BROOKHAVEN

Committee Decides on Deal, With Option of Purchase at $100,000.

The Capital City club agreed yesterday afternoon to lease the Brookhaven club property on Peachtree road for a term of one year with the privilege of renewal for two years at the expiration, and with the option to buy the property for $100,000 at the expiration of the three years.

The deal will be formally closed within a few days, only several minor details regarding sewerage and water now being in the way.

The Brookhaven club property will be leased from the Kincaid estate, which recently bid the property in at legal sale. The property included in the deal is the 150 acres of the club grounds, including the club house with its fixtures and furnishings, the golf course, tennis courts, lake and all improvements.

The terms of the deal include no membership features as were included in the original proposition. The members of the Capital City club will have all the privileges of the country club feature immediately upon the transfer of the property.

Preparations for such expansion were made at the recent annual meeting of the club, when it was voted to enlarge the membership of the club from 700 to 800.

REVISION OF TARIFF DISCUSSED BY ARTISTS

Washington, May 15.—Revision of existing stringent tariff regulations that prevent the creations of American artists working and studying abroad from entering this country for a short season of the convention of the American Federation of Arts. The subject is to come up for further discussion and action at the session tomorrow.

The convention closes tomorrow with a reception and garden party given at the white house by the president and Mrs. Wilson. They were made honorary members of the federation.

NO FOUL PLAY FOUND IN ENGINEER'S DEATH

The suspicion that Engineer R. B. Brooks, who was killed Wednesday night in the Seaboard Air Line wreck near Rice's station had met with foul play, was found to be without grounds at post-mortem investigation conducted by Dr. Frank L. Eskridge Thursday afternoon.

The post-mortem was the result of rumors circulated to the effect that Brooks had been stabbed before the wreck occurred. Dr. Eskridge stated that he found no wounds of such a nature as could not have been caused by the wreck.

The funeral of the engineer will be held at the chapel at the undertaking establishment of Greenberg & Bond at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be at Atlanta Park cemetery.

New Church Dedicated.

Griffin, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—The Kincaid Memorial Methodist church is the newest of a new church just dedicated here in the Kincaid mills community. Rev. J. E. Dickey, D. D., president of Emory college, delivered the dedicatory sermon, while Rev. J. C. Adams, the pastor in charge, conducted the dedication service.

Griffin Conventions. Griffin, Ga., May 15.—(Special).—Two important conventions to be held here are the State Funeral Directors' association and the Cotton Manufacturers' association.

First Game in Public School Post-Season Series Goes to the South-Siders by Score of 3 to 0.

By Hal Reynolds.
In a closely played and hard-fought game Formwalt went out on Edgewood yesterday afternoon at Mariat by the score of 3 to 0 in the first game for the championship of the public schools.
The game was a pitchers' battle throughout between Smith and Wallace, with Smith hurling a little better game of the two.
Smith made 16 of his opponents fan the air, and while he was touched up for seven hits, he kept them widely scattered, and would have let the opposition down without a run except for errors behind him. He did not walk a single man.
Wallace also pitched a swell game, striking out 12 men and allowing only three hits. His team mates gave him jam-up support, only two errors being made behind him. Morgan secured two mistakes out of four hits to the pan.
The two teams will meet again this afternoon at Mariat at 4 o'clock.

The box score:

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—A grimly contested match with a high wind sweeping the Gun Club grounds, P. T. Joerg, of Columbus, Ga., captured the Southern Handicap of the Interstate Association shoot this afternoon by a score of 93 targets. He missed five of his last traps. Outer good scores were made. Vassa Cate, of Brunswick, Ga., and W. T. Leslie, of Tuskegee, winners of former handicaps, captured each scored 89 targets, while J. K. Warren, of Birmingham, winner of the preliminary handicap yesterday, scored 91.
Of the professionals, R. L. Evans, of Indiana, gathered the best score, but a general marks of 98 and 99 were made. Two Montgomery professionals broke 95 targets each. After the ending of the shoot, the Capital City Gun club presented the officials of the tournament with a handsome gold-headed umbrella.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Valdosta 12, Brunswick 7.
Valdosta, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Valdosta took the first game of the series from Brunswick this afternoon, score 12 to 7. In the first inning Brunswick knocked Wood out of the box. Tillman succeeding him and pitched a fine game. Valdosta, in eight innings, Valdosta retaliated in the same inning by driving Slocum from the box. Hawkins succeeded him, but was hit hard. The game was featured by Valdosta's heavy hitting and good fielding.

Chautauqua Begins Monday.
Columbus, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Great preparations are being made for the Columbus chautauqua, which will begin next Monday, and last one week. This is the first real chautauqua ever held in Columbus, and the occasion will have its element of novelty to many people. The occasion is being extensively advertised, and a large attendance from west Georgia and east Alabama is anticipated. A fine program is arranged, in which numbers of people of national note will take part.

COTTON CROP POORER THAN IN TEN YEARS

According to reports which have just been received by the state department of agriculture the outlook for cotton in Georgia is the poorest in the last ten years. Complaints have come to the Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Connor from farmers in all parts of the state of a deficiency in the stand of cotton on account of dry weather.
In many sections the condition is regarded as alarming, because the crop has been planted so long that the farmers can scarcely hope for a return even with abundant rain now, and there is a deficiency of seed for replanting. Notwithstanding this state of affairs, a report had reached New York that the Georgia department was predicting a bumper cotton crop this year, which, according to a wire to Commissioner Connor yesterday from The New York Journal of Commerce, had resulted in a depression of several points in the New York market.
The Journal of Commerce asked for a statement as to the truth or falsity of the report, to which Commissioner Connor replied in detail.
The report follows:
Journal of Commerce, New York City: Understand you have a report from this department which indicates a bumper crop for 1913 in Georgia. This is absolutely false.
My reports from inquiries sent out indicate the poorest prospect for a cotton crop in Georgia for the last ten years.
There is not 50 per cent of a stand of cotton in the state, and the soil is too dry all over the state to germinate cotton seed.
(Signed) J. J. CONNER, Commissioner of Agriculture, Atlanta, Ga., May 15, 1913.

TRACK SURFACE NOT COMPLETED THURSDAY

Seven riders are now here awaiting the finish of the track surface in order to begin training. These riders are Shields, McNeal, Lockner, Lewis, Schwartz, Luther and Richards.
Prize expected to have the track surface laid yesterday afternoon, but was delayed on account of the heat. The sun beating down on the pine boards threw back a heat that knocked out seven of the carpenters. But by Saturday afternoon the track will certainly be finished, so that the riders will commence then to work, and will work out that afternoon when a large crowd will be out to watch the boys ride.
Hundreds of people go out each day to see the progress of the track and all wonder how the motorcycle riders will be able to stay on the track with their machines. The track is nearly as large as any track that was ever built by Mr. Prince in Atlanta before.

Everything in Readiness for Auto Classic on Stewart Avenue Grade Saturday Afternoon.

The entry list for the second annual hill climb of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory association, which will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the Stewart avenue hill, closed last night.
Everything is now in readiness for the big event. Handsome prizes have been hung up for the contestants in each event. These will be on the windows of the Cloud-Stanford company on Peachtree street.

Trucks at Car Line.
Several trucks will be waiting at the end of the Stewart avenue car line to take parties out to the hill climb, which has been loaned for this purpose as follows: Pope-Hartford, Alco, Locomobile, Seiden, Velle, Packard, White and others.

The motorcycle races have been divided into four events between the amateurs and professionals. Several well-known professional riders are now in the city practicing.
Events 1 and 2 in private owners' class are special events open to fully equipped non-stock cars by private owners. Event No. 1 is open to cars with piston displacement 300 and over. Event No. 2 is open to cars of piston displacement 301 and over. This will give business men an opportunity to drive out in their cars and test their favorites' speed against that of their neighbors without the necessity of going to the trouble of stripping their automobiles.

Southern League Player to Make Fifty Bingles.

Tommy Long, the local speed merchant, made his fiftieth hit of the season yesterday in the game with the Turtles when he cracked out three bingles in four times up.
Long is the first Southern league player to pass the half century mark in hits made this season.
Wally Smith is pressing Long for the batting honors for the local team, as the result of his last few games. His hitting streak was broken finally the last two times up Thursday.
Previous to this, in the last thirteen times at the bat, he had got on base every time being walked twice, being hit by a pitched ball twice and making nine hits.

As near as can be remembered nine straight hits is the Southern league record.
Here are the batting averages of the players, including Thursday's game:

Scouts 2, Indians 1.
Savannah, Ga., May 15.—Horton and Adams pitched a brilliant first-inning game here today in the first of the series between Jacksonville and Savannah, the former winning when Grover scored with two down in the first half of the final round on Dowell's wide peg to third to double him up near Smith's lines to left by 2 to 1. Errors behind the local pitcher were all costly, two of the seven charged against the locals figuring in both runs scored by the visitors. Jacksonville scored in the first and sixth, while Savannah in the seventh on a hit, a stolen base, a sacrifice and an infield out. Mayer and Hoffman figured a-field.

FRANK CHANCE DAY.

Great Plans Are Made for Peerless Leader Saturday.
Chicago, May 15.—President Charles A. Comiskey, of the Chicago White Sox, and a party of friends went on a still hunt tonight for ticket brokers, said to be selling tickets to Saturday's game between the Chicago and New York American League clubs. The day is to be celebrated as Frank Chance day and friends of the former Chicago National league leader had planned to welcome him to the American League park.
At the request of Comiskey, a newspaper man telephoned a ticket broker in a downtown hotel and learned he could get as many as fifty $7 seats before the game. Other prizes were quoted down to $1.
May 15.—Frank Leroy Chance, erstwhile "peerless leader" of the local National league team, entered Chicago today as an enemy at the head of the New York Americans. Prospects were that "Frank Chance day" next Saturday would see a record crowd at Comiskey park.
A few reporters, in the van of Chance's friends, boarded his train at Elkhart, Ind., and got him out of bed long before the first call for breakfast.
"It's tough to come back here as an enemy instead of a friend, but I don't have to be an enemy more than two hours a day, and that helps," said Chance.
The returned exile declared that he had the making of a pennant-winning club.
"We got away in poor fashion," he continued. "I had only seven pitchers and four of them were not fit. At first I did not understand the players and they did not understand me, but now we are acquainted and will go ahead and win the pennant."
Chance said he would play first base himself next Saturday.

FERRIS AND LIEBHARDT DRAW PINK SLIPS
Minneapolis, May 15.—"Hobe" Ferris, third baseman, and Glen Liebhardt, pitcher, were today unconditionally released by President Cantillon, of the Minneapolis American Association club. Both men are old-time big league ball players. Ferris was with the Athletics of the old St. Louis Browns and Liebhardt was with the Cleveland Americans.
Washington, May 15.—For the third consecutive year the Iowa City High school has won the interscholastic national rifle shooting championship and the Astor cup which goes with it. By its victory this school made a record score for interscholastic shooting, the team's total being 954 out of a possible 1,000, which is 4 points better than the record made by the same school last year. Nineteen schools competed.

Gordon 4, Stone Mountain 2.
Barnesville, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Gordon defeated the University School of Stone Mountain this afternoon by the score of 4 to 2. The game was a pitchers' battle between McCord and Vonderson, the former having a shade the better of the argument. Errors on both sides were responsible for runs until the eighth, when Adams, for Gordon, drove one to deep left for a circuit count, getting the only earned run of the game. Both pitchers had everything, and the latter times with men on bases, they fanned the next batters or caused them to pop up or ground out.

Mr. Parker suggests an amendment which would add 2 1/2 points to each of the duties in the yard paragraph. He also outlines amendments to the cloth schedule, but none to the hosiery and knit goods, as he says he has not enough information on which to base these.
The recommendation has been taken under advisement by the subcommittee of the senate finance committee, composed of Senators Johnson, of Maine, chairman; Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and Hughes, of New Jersey.

Vandy 11, Mississippi A. & M. 10.
Nashville, Tenn., May 15.—In a fierce battling melee Vanderbilt university defeated Mississippi A. & M. here today, 11 to 10. Mississippi used three pitchers and Vanderbilt two, most of whom were effective. By a rally in the ninth inning Mississippi took a one-run lead, but Turner's single with two on bases in Vanderbilt's half of the same inning won the game.

Cartersville Wins.
Cedartown, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—In the first game of the season Cartersville made the Cedartown team bite the dust of defeat to the score of 8 to 6. The game was witnessed by a good size crowd and was free from features. Batteries: Cartersville, Shaw, Earson and Reeves; Cedartown, Allen and Cooper. Umpire, Housell.
Wrightsville 8, Dublin 0.
Wrightsville, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Wrightsville shut out Dublin in a very easy, one-sided game at Wrightsville this afternoon, by a score of 8 to 0, the visitors getting only three hits off McWhorter's unshakable. Batteries: Wrightsville, McWhorter and Lord; Dublin, Taylor, Grier and Wallace Smith.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN PANIC WHEN MEN FIGHT DUEL

J. D. Cheshire, Formerly of Atlanta, and Negro Cook Shoot in Converse Kitchen.

Spartanburg, S. C., May 15.—Two hundred young ladies were thrown into a state of panic and thirty negro waitresses and employees in the kitchen at Converse college were scattered in a moment to the four corners of the campus early today during the breakfast hour at the college, when J. D. Cheshire, of Atlanta, the new steward at the college, and John Mayes, a discharged cook, engaged in a pistol duel in the kitchen. Nine shots were fired during the engagement and seven of them took effect. In all, Mayes fired four shots, two of which took effect—once in the left hand of Cheshire and the other striking his breast bone and deflecting. Cheshire fired five times, each bullet taking effect in the negro's body—three entering Mayes' left arm above the elbow and shattering the limb; one bullet entering the left shoulder and the remaining one striking the breast and ranking downward. It is the latter ball that may prove fatal. Cheshire was arrested and gave bond. The negro is in a local hospital and physicians say his chance for recovery is slight.

SENATOR HOKE SMITH KEEPING NO OPEN DOOR

Washington, May 15.—Some democratic senators on the subcommittee working on the tariff bill have adopted office hours. The plan appeared today on Senator Hoke Smith's door: "Office open only from 10 to 11 a. m. and from 4 to 5 p. m." It was explained that Senator Smith had decided to have enough to do to wrestle with the tariff and told his secretary to lock the door and admit visitors only at the time specified.

Two Watches Vanish With $90 in Money While Cops Picnic

Pickpockets Get Busy on Annual Police Outing—A. S. Aiken Held for Theft of Valuables.

Two watches and $90 in cash was the toll of pickpockets yesterday on the annual police picnic at Warm Springs. A. S. Aiken, who gives his address as Campbell road, is held at police barracks upon suspicion of being guilty of all three thefts. Aiken was arrested at Senola, on the second section of the excursion train, upon a description given to Officers J. E. Hughes and E. H. Gresham, of the first section, by Edward Deaham, of 18 Welborn street, loser of the $90. Aiken had been seen by a detective to leave the first section at Senola, whereupon Officers Hughes and Gresham left the train and went back to Senola, and found their man on the second section. Aiken is believed by the police also to have stolen two watches from two men who complained to the police on the first section, but whose names the police failed to get. When Aiken saw the officers approaching him he is said to have attempted to hide from them, and is believed to have thrown his loot from the train. Except for this incident, the pleasure of the picnic was unmarred.

Police in Quandary Over Disposal of Man They Hold On Belief He Is a Lunatic

When Recorder Broyles declined Thursday to hear the case of Marvin Harty, of 103 Powers street, arrested last night on a charge of lunacy, he was left more than ever a man without a country. After having been released from the Alabama insane asylum several months ago, young Harty came to Atlanta, apparently sane, but several weeks ago appeared again to have lost his faculties. He had not been a resident of this state long enough to be eligible to the Milledgeville asylum, and cannot obtain transportation from either Georgia or Alabama to enter the Alabama institution again. In his violence he is said to be guilty of firing a revolver upon the public highway, but on account of his feeble-mindedness cannot be convicted in the recorder's court. At present he is being held at police station, where he declares he is willing to remain, but the police declare they cannot keep him there indefinitely. The Associated Charities are willing to bear his expenses back to the Alabama institution, provided the chief of police will take the responsibility of his conduct on the train, but Chief Beavers is said to have declined this responsibility. The city attorney will probably be called upon for a ruling in the case today as to his disposition.

WOUND KILLS M'NEILL, WIFE IN A COLLAPSE

Jacksonville, Fla., May 15.—H. P. McNeil, well-known business man of this city, and a nephew of United States Judge Emory Speer, of Macon, died tonight from a wound received while in a scuffle with his wife over a revolver yesterday morning near Pablo beach. In some mysterious manner the weapon was discharged, the bullet striking McNeil just behind the ear. He died without having regained consciousness. Mrs. McNeil is suffering from a nervous breakdown. The negro chauffeur, alleged to have witnessed the affair, and a negro woman who cooked for the McNells are held in connection with the shooting.

COUNTY BOARD ACTS ON RETURN TO FEES

Action of Supreme Court Necessitates Dismissal of County Auditor.

The decision of the Georgia supreme court, sent down Wednesday, declaring the recent act of the state legislature putting Fulton county's state initiative on a salary basis instead of the long obtaining fee system, unconstitutional; the refusal of a permit to the Atlanta Mausoleum company for a burial place on Cascade avenue, in the northern part of the city; the purchase of asphalt for use in construction of county highways, and the selection of an assistant to the public works superintendent were the principal matters before the special meeting of the county board members yesterday, and Commissioners Anderson, Waters, Turman, Smith and Wilan were present at Secretary H. M. Wood's roll call. Officially advised of the decree of the state supreme court touching the fee system, a resolution by Commissioner Shelby Smith recognized a continuance of the fee system with the county's state officials until future legislative proceedings finally dispose of the question. Also Commissioner Smith's resolution abolished for the present the position of county auditor, heretofore held by Altonzo Richmond, the county's 27th auditor. The presentation of the Atlanta Mausoleum company's proposition to establish a burial place, consisting of a concrete building, known as the "Crest" and a tract of land consisting of twenty acres, located on Cascade avenue, aroused keen interest of the large gathering which had grown listless while the commission on taking up the matter of the system. Attorney Alex Smith, representing the Atlanta Mausoleum company, scattered broadly objections of the company's opposition, and was answered by several members of the board. By a decided majority, the board of county commissioners declined to grant the petition of the Atlanta Mausoleum company, and all asphalt purchased by the commissioners for use on the public highways shall be through competitive bids presented by Commissioner Waters and adopted all bids to conform to a list of specifications presented by the commissioners when bids are received from the sellers. A. E. Christlich was elected assistant to the public works superintendent. He will be known as the binder paving expert. The pay allowed is $3,000 a year, payable monthly, the tenure of office being at the will of the board of county commissioners.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED TO YOUNG DENTISTS

Thirty-five young dentists received their diplomas from the hands of the dean of the Southern Dental college at exercises closed one of the most prosperous years in the history of the college. After the opening prayer by Dr. A. R. Holderby, Dr. S. W. Foster, dean of the institution, read his annual report and the best part of it, the saying made during the year. There were 140 students on the roll. Of these, 72 were in the first year's class, 46 in the second year and the remainder in the graduating class. The degrees were conferred by Hon. T. A. Hammond, Dr. H. H. Johnson, an eminent dentist of Macon, delivered the address. Dr. Johnson reviewed the history of the dental profession from its earliest beginnings to the present time, dwelling especially on the vast progress that had been made in dental science in recent years. His speech was an inspiration to greater effort for the young men who had chosen dentistry for their profession. Following are the names of the young men of the graduating class: Samuel G. Alderman, Clarence S. Barlow, John C. Carter, William S. Crane, Harvey K. Crews, Clarence A. Cullen, Deane C. Deisher, Julius W. Davis, Luis P. Carrizo, Paul G. Gates, Russell L. Grace, A. C. Williams, Ebera T. Yarbrough, Warren F. Yates. The officers of the class are: Julius M. Davis, president; John C. Calter, vice president; Clarence A. Cullen, secretary; Samuel G. Alderman, treasurer; Alfred C. Hunter, poet; Charles J. Williams, prophet, and Chester O. Porter, historian.

MRS. MINNIE A. HARTZ GETS TOTAL DIVORCE

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Minnie A. Hartz was today granted total divorce from her husband, Morris A. Hartz, a member of one of the best known and wealthiest Jewish families in Macon. In addition Mrs. Hartz is awarded a lump sum of $5,000 as alimony. Mr. Hartz is said to be worth about $50,000. They were married January 10, 1912, and lived together only two months, during which time Mrs. Hartz conceived a serious operation at the hospital. When she returned home, she alleged, her husband treated her cruelly and forced her to leave his home. This was denied by Mr. Hartz. Recently a jury in the city court awarded Mrs. Hartz diamonds to the value of $2,000, which her husband claimed he had only loaned her. No appeal will be taken in the divorce case, it being stated that Mrs. Hartz has already paid her husband $5,000 and consent to a divorce decree, but she had held out for a larger sum.

BATTLE IS REARRESTED FOR SHOOTING BROWN

Moultrie, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—The condition of P. Brown, who was shot Monday by J. J. Battle, is encouraging, though he is not entirely out of danger. Battle was at liberty under bond until today when he was arrested by the sheriff and held in jail, issued by Judge Thomas of superior court. J. H. Cason, the defaulting cashier for Bank of Crossland, has been surrendered by his husband to the sheriff and has been placed in jail to await the action from grand jury for July term. After his arrest he was released on $2,000 bond as he had hopes of being able to make his default good. He failed to do this and his bondmen surrendered him. His case will be tried at the July term of superior court.

GEORGIA MEDICAL COLLEGE HOLDS COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Augusta, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Twenty-eight members of the graduating class of 1913 of the Medical College of Georgia received the degree of doctor of medicine from Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, during the exercises marking the close of the commencement week at the Grand Opera house last night. As the exercises were begun, a scene seldom witnessed at the closing of the medical college presented itself in the assemblage composed of members of the student body, prominent representatives from the various institutions of the University of Georgia, other widely-known educators, members of the state medical examining board, the newly-known men in public life, in clerical circles and in the business world, forming possible the most cosmopolitan and representative gathering ever witnessing the closing exercises of this old seat of medical learning.

Dr. Ralston Lattimore, president, newly elected, of the State Medical Association, was the speaker of the occasion, confining his address to advice to the student doctors as to how best to confront the difficulties of life and to attain the success of their ambitions. The valedictory was delivered by Dr. T. Z. Cason, of Island Grove, Fla., who spoke in unusually eloquent terms of the student body of the college, "so many," Dr. Ward Beecher DuVall, of Abbeville, Ga., extended welcome to the assembly in the name of the graduating class.

PUT SOUL IN GIVING PLEADS WOMAN ORATOR

Madame Bella Pevsner Makes Eloquent Appeal for True Social Service to Y. M. C. A.

"It is not enough to give bread, when you have cake in the house, or old clothes when you have new," said Madame Bella Pevsner in an eloquent appeal audience at the Y. M. C. A. last night when she pleaded for genuine social service under the auspices of the Social Workers of Atlanta. "The wealthy men who died on the Titanic did the heroic thing; they saved the women and children. But how many of those same wealthy men attained their fortune at the expense of underpaid men? How many of those wealthy heroes of the Titanic owed their all to the women and children whom they drove in their factories?" "The social worker must give to the world his soul; he must give the best he has; while the ordinary individual simply adds to his store of wealth. "The creation of wealth at the expense of the masses keeps the millions miserable because of the misery which he causes. Happiness is the result of consistently living the higher life, and no Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was ever happy. The function of the social worker is to bring harmony out of chaos, happiness out of misery, and, above all, to develop character. "Since her arrival in Atlanta a few days ago, Madame Pevsner has attracted a large following by the causes for which she has pleaded, among which are numbered woman suffrage, woman's position in history, and Palestine and the Jewish future. She will speak again at the Jewish Educational alliance on next Sunday evening.

ALL SHRINEDOM READY TO WELCOME WINNING DELEGATES

A gala reception will be given by the Shriners of Atlanta next Saturday night when the delegates return from Dallas, Texas, where they captured the convention for next year. The local Shriners, numbering about 500, will assemble at the Terminal station with a brass band and give the delegates a grand ovation. Atlanta Shriners are jubilant over getting the convention next year, which will take place in Atlanta, and they are determined to show their appreciation of the good work done by the Atlanta delegation. The Shriners will march to the Terminal station, preceded by a brass band, and will give the delegates a warm and hearty reception. The following committee has been appointed to make arrangements for the reception: Dr. M. E. Turner, Thomas H. Pitt, Chris Essig and Oscar Weinmelester. The special train bearing the delegates to the Shriners' Imperial council will reach Atlanta Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock.

HE POSED AS A LAWYER AND OPERATED AS A SEER

Chicago, May 15.—Interesting evidence of the operations of Charles De Alvandros, alleged leader of the clairvoyant ring now under investigation, was presented to the grand jury today. According to State's Attorney Hoyne, De Alvandros led a dual existence, posing as a lawyer and operating as a seer. As a lawyer he is alleged to have directed his victim to consult the seer in one of his "parlors." De Alvandros usually handled court matters for members of the ring when they ran afoul of the law. He is at large and the police are searching for five other clairvoyants.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON ON "SLUMMING" TOUR

Washington, May 15.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson went "slumming" late yesterday with a party of local social workers, and visited "Goat Alley," "Easy Court," "Reagan Alley" and other squalid spots of the capital. Because of the lack of ostentation which attends all Mrs. Wilson's doings, it did not become known until today when members of the party let out the secret. The president's wife entered several tenements and talked with mothers and children who had no idea of the identity of their distinguished guest.

$10 MONTHLY RATE FOR TUITION

Many Pupils Entering Under the $10-a-Month Plan—Individual Instruction by the Proprietors in Person. A complete business education for $10.00 monthly in a business school of established reputation and splendid facilities is now offered for the first time by the Crichton-Shumaker Business College, Kiser Building. The $10.00 monthly rate for tuition will appeal to all thinking people. It places both teacher and pupil absolutely on their merits. The pupil pays for what he gets no more. Messrs. Crichton & Shumaker have taught business in Atlanta 25 years and more. Their pupils are not turned over to inexperienced young teachers, but receive instruction from men who have spent their lives in training stenographers and bookkeepers. Catalogue on request.

AT THE THEATERS

"Are You a Mason?" (At the Atlanta.) Gaining in popularity with every performance, the Miss Billy Long company is playing to packed houses at the Atlanta this week, the bill being that the farce comedy, "Are You a Mason?" which has 1,000 laughs. Three more performances will be given this week, tonight, Saturday matinee and night. Next week "The Deep Purple," the first of the master stroke plays by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner will be given. Seats are now selling for this week, with many buying, as it will be the first time this sensational play has ever been given in Atlanta. Matinees will be played Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Keith Vaudeville.

One of the best novelties, presentations seen on a local stage is the Apollo Trio, three Italians, who came over from Rome eight months ago to give reproductions of Greek and Roman art. The men are clothed in coats of bronze paint and with stage mounting that is attractive, and with unique lighting arrangements, they would appear as pieces of bronze if they did not betray the fact that they are alive. Paul Dickey has scored the greatest hit that has been credited to an actor in a vaudeville sketch here. The bill for next week has been announced and is one of the most promising of the season. It will be made up of comedy features, delightful and original ideas in entertainment: Gillette's Adam and Eve, the smartest monkey actors in the world; Gallagher and Barrett in a farce comedy, and Josephine Dunfee, the sweet singer, are on the bill.

BOWIE IS NOMINATED FOR ROME POSTMASTER

He Owes Place to Mrs. Wilson. Five Other Georgia Postmasters Named.

Washington, May 15.—President Wilson today nominated James Patrick Bowie to be postmaster at Rome.

The nomination was sent to the senate along with five other Georgia post-offices, as follows: Bowden, Cass county, Merida L. Moore; Concord, Pike county, Richard E. Lee; Jonesboro, Clayton county, William L. Watterson; Milledgeville, Baldwin county, R. B. Moore; Oglethorpe, Macon county, Frank E. Treadwell.

The nomination of Mr. Bowie, for Rome, is the most important piece of Georgia patronage thus far disposed of by the president. The office is the largest in the seventh congressional district. Its compensation is $3,100 annually.

Several days ago President Wilson conferred with Congressman C. Lee about the Rome office and indicated a desire to nominate for the office Mr. Bowie, who was the warm personal friend of Mrs. Wilson's daughter.

The congressman, though he had intended nominating some one else for the postoffice, gracefully yielded his prerogative in the premises.

LaGrange Wants Better Rates. Matt in Lovejoy is in Washington to appear before the interstate commerce commission in the case of the LaGrange Chamber of Commerce against the Atlanta and West Point railroad and others, involving freight rates from the west to LaGrange.

The case will be heard on Saturday next. Mr. Lovejoy alleges that the present rates are discriminatory in favor of Atlanta and Opelika, Ala., as against LaGrange, which is the largest point between Atlanta and Montgomery, and has better railroad facilities than any adjacent point in western Georgia or eastern Alabama.

Brown Appoints Tweedy. Colonel Ed T. Brown, of Atlanta, who was one of the Wilson managers in the Georgia presidential primary, is here urging the recognition by the administration of James Tweedy, of Easton, who was an Underwood delegate from the eighth congressional district, to the Baltimore convention. It is believed that he will succeed in landing a desirable place for Tweedy in the government service in Washington.

Mrs. Longstreet Still Fighting. Mrs. Ellen B. Longstreet will appear before the senate committee on post-offices and post-roads tomorrow to tell why she should be retained as postmaster at Gainesville.

REPORTERS OF WOMAN'S EDITION WORKING ON FOUR-YEAR MYSTERY

Will they succeed in getting from the governor the contents of that mysterious Hoke Smith letter which has baffled the male reporters of the various papers for four years? If they don't, the assignment might as well be given up as a hopeless one. The above photograph taken yesterday represents Mrs. Robert L. Foreman, Mrs. Louise Bigby Marsh and Mrs. Maud Barker Cobb, the ladies who have the captiol assignment for The Constitution's woman's edition, in an earnest interview with "Little Joe" Brown. Doubtless they will succeed in getting some news out of him that will set the politicians talking for months to come. We will see.

The convention voted a special order of business to give Roy. Sutton Earl Griggs, of Memphis, an opportunity to speak. In his address he said: "God snatched the warm-hearted black people from darkest Africa and set them down among the best regulated portion of the white race on the globe today, the white people of the southern states, that they might learn the true religion of Christ and take it into the places where the white man finds it impossible to go. I believe the negroes of the south will be the greatest influence yet in the evangelization of all Africa."

CRIES OF "NO, NO." FROM THE BAPTISTS

Continued From Page One. "I have been unable to return to my work in Mexico for two months on account of revolutions and revolutions against revolutionists. The country, in absolute chaos, is without hope of getting together if led by any of its own people."

"A governor of a prominent state told me he hoped missionaries would establish a school in every village in his dominion, as he believed only a system of education like that of the United States would redeem Mexico."

"In the light of these facts, the only hope I can see for Mexico is armed intervention by this country," continued Mr. Mahon. "More than 50 per cent of Mexico's population never has learned to read or write any language. More than 75 per cent of Mexican men are unfaithful to their families."

J. W. Love and A. Y. Napier, missionaries from China, said the new Chinese government welcomed the missionaries. Lansing Burrows said Missouri, by 10,000 and Oklahoma by 5,000, had decreased in the number of members during the year. Membership increase in Georgia was 9,000; in North Carolina, 6,000 and in Tennessee 10,000.

Titling System Favored. The laymen's movement was given prominent place in the discussion of the address being in favor of lay church members paying a tithe, or 10 per cent of their income. Henderson, of Bristol, Va., secretary of the Laymen's association, said the titling system was the only one that successfully would solve the question of evangelization of the world. He outlined a plan which was adopted, providing for laymen's state rallies in all southern states during February, March and April of next year. The Women's Missionary union will elect officers tomorrow and it is understood the officers now serving will be re-elected.

ATLANTA, 32D CITY IN SIZE, HAS THE LARGEST AND FINEST BARBER SHOP IN THE WORLD. Herndon's Remodeled Shop, at 66 Peachtree Street, a Revelation in Completeness of Equipment, Sanitation and Convenience for Patrons—Everything Sparkling White From Floors to Ceilings. The shop of this city—Atlanta, always ahead of the times, has better equipped than in the remodeling and renovating of Herndon's Barber Shop, at 66 Peachtree street. Herndon's Barber Shop may well envy the progressive spirit responsible for the creation of a barber shop more spacious, more elegant and completely equipped than any other in the city. A. F. Herndon visited the largest and best barber shops from here to San Francisco and inspected them in detail before beginning work at 66 Peachtree street. What he returned he had a mental picture of a bigger, brighter and better shop than Atlanta has ever had. Herndon's Barber Shop is equipped to the smallest detail with the most particular care in its most complete and best equipped by the most cheerful men with years of experience in their profession.
