

DEATH IS DEALT BY AN EXPLOSION AT FORT MOULTRIE

Three Soldiers Instantly Killed and Captain Guy Hanna Fatally Wounded—Others Less Seriously Injured.

BREECH BLOCK OF GUN BLEW OUT AT PRACTICE

Two of the Soldiers Were Cut in Two—Several Doctors Summoned From Charleston to Care for Wounded.

Charleston, S. C., May 22.—Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton are dead, Captain Guy Hanna probably fatally wounded. Privates Swaggerty and Steinapinger seriously wounded and several others less seriously wounded as the result of the explosion of a 4.7 inch gun at Battery Lord, Fort Moultrie, at 9:20 o'clock tonight while the coast artillerymen were at target practice.

Baxter and Christian were killed outright, and Dalton passed away at 12:30 o'clock, according to reports from the army post hospital.

Captain Hanna, of the Sixteenth company, who was in charge, was struck in the intestines by a fragment from the breech block, which was blown into a thousand pieces. He was standing between Captain Clarke, of the One Hundred and Forty-fourth company, and Lieutenant Perry, of the Sixteenth, neither of whom was hurt.

The gun was directly opposite the army post hospital, to which the victims were immediately taken. A message was flashed to Charleston asking that all the doctors be sent to Fort Moultrie. They began to assist at the hospital immediately on their arrival and help the army surgeon.

Baxter and Christian were cut in two when the explosion occurred, and a great hole was torn in the side of Captain Hanna.

The explosion occurred at Battery Bingham, and the men were at night target practice. Captain Hanna was in charge of the gun.

A corporal, whose name is not known, had his right shoulder torn off. It is feared that several of the wounded soldiers will die.

Reports are conflicting, though it appears that the breech of the gun was not closed after the insertion of the cartridge and that when the cartridge was exploded the breech blew back with terrific force.

Hospital Steward Lanjar was among the soldiers wounded.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN DANGEROUSLY ILL

Inflammation of Lungs Has Developed and He Has a High Fever—Physicians in Constant Attendance.

Tokio, May 22.—Emperor Yoshihito of Japan was taken ill today. The physicians in attendance declare that he is suffering from inflammation of the lungs.

Emperor Yoshihito is in a state of high fever. Eight court physicians are in constant attendance on him.

The emperor of Japan succeeded his father in July, 1912. He is in his 34th year, and has three sons, the oldest of whom is Crown Prince Hirohito, just 12 years old.

The emperor has previously suffered from lung ailments. During an attack in 1903 his condition was very serious.

The emperor caught a slight cold on May 18, but it was announced it was unimportant and that his majesty would soon resume his activities.

Tonight the nation was shocked by the issue of this official bulletin from the imperial palace, signed by the eight court physicians:

"The emperor, who has been suffering from a slight cold, developed inflammation of the lungs today. We do not consider his condition justifies anxiety, but his temperature is high."

Wilson Cables Sorrow. Washington, May 22.—President Wilson today cabled the emperor of Japan as follows:

"Reports received through press agencies are current to the effect that your majesty is indisposed. I have heard these reports with sorrow and with great concern. Should they prove to be true, I desire to offer to your majesty for myself and for the government and people of the United States the assurance of my sincere sympathy and to express the warmest hope that your illness may prove to be a brief duration and your recovery rapid and complete."

RECEIVER NAMED FOR SAVINGS BANK

Although a statement of its affairs shows its assets to be $100,000 and its liabilities $57,000, the City Savings bank, Robert H. McDougald, president, has been unable to meet the demands of its creditors and depositors and through a consent order yesterday was placed in the hands of a receiver by Judge John T. Pendleton, of the superior court. Attorney L. P. McClelland was appointed receiver.

The bank, which is located in the same building as the Guarantee Trust and Banking company, suffered a "run" from March 29 to 31, and was forced to close its doors.

The trouble, as stated by its officials is that there was so much of the assets invested in long-term notes which could not be disposed of, that it became impossible to meet demands.

The petition for receiver was filed Thursday by five members, composing the committee appointed recently at a stockholders' meeting to endeavor to secure from other financial institutions temporary aid to tide over the present situation. This committee states in its formal petition to the court that although nearly every organization of which they know has been applied to, they have found it impossible to secure aid and that it is now necessary for a receiver to be appointed to conserve the assets, at present in the hands of the state bank examiner.

The committee is composed of W. A. Sims, and K. M. Lovless, directors and stockholders, and Charles F. Glover, S. J. Prledge and Ed M. Pearce, stockholders, but not directors.

Receiver McClelland has been ordered by the court to make a complete inventory of the assets and to hold them pending further orders from court.

He was at the head of the big fertilizing plant of E. C. Painter & company and half of the insurance is in favor of the firm, the remainder going to the family. He was widely known in farm and orchard circles.

Pope Heads Manufacturers. New York, May 22.—A telegram was received today at the offices of the National Association of Manufacturers announcing that the following officers had been elected today after the annual meeting in Detroit:

ANNUAL CONGRESS PROPOSED FOR ALL PRESBYTERIANS

Body to Be Modeled After U. S. Congress

In the closing hour of the Southern Presbyterian assembly of 1913, which came to an end Thursday afternoon at the North Avenue church, a plan was born that points toward the eventual consolidation of all the Presbyterian churches of America in a "Greater Presbyterian Congress"—formed directly on the plan of the congress of the United States, with a senate and a house of representatives supreme in authority over all Presbyterian affairs in the country.

The plan made its appearance in the report of a committee on closer relations with other ecclesiastical bodies, submitted to the assembly by Dr. R. F. Campbell, of Asheville, N. C., chairman of the committee. Before the approaching adjournment, that fact the assembly, it was impossible to discuss the plan at length, although a number wanted to precipitate the question of church union at the present session of adjournment.

His previous decision to postpone action till next year on the proposed union with the U. P. church, however, the assembly had set itself on record as favoring the plan.

Modelled on U. S. Congress. As outlined by Dr. Campbell, however, the proposition fascinated the minds of scores of those present Thursday afternoon at the closing session, offering as it did the most logical and far-reaching in its scope of all the plans made for church union.

The committee to the assembly instructed the committee to prepare to the conference a plan for closer relations through a federal congress," read the report, "the congress to consist of an upper and lower house—the churches of the federation to have representation in the lower house on the basis of the number of communicants, and every church in the federation to have equal representation in the upper house by delegates elected by the members of the church."

In the closing session of the southern assembly a number of other interesting reports were also made. Dr. L. Blitzer, of Valdosta, Ga., read the report on Home and School, the Presbyterian institution at Fredericksburg, Va., and the assembly decided not to turn this school over to the synod of Virginia at the present time, but to consider the matter again next year if Virginia repeated her request.

Return of the Departed. Dr. W. M. McPheters, of Columbia, S. C., who attended the assembly last year, was also present. He appeared on the platform at the closing session and read his report as chairman of the committee on publications and Sabbath schools. The report was a glowing one of Sabbath school work that ever before, in the realization that this is one of the greatest missionary forces existing within the church.

The clash between Dr. McPheters and Moderator Lyons was the big outstanding event of the Thursday morning session, and arose in the discussion of the proposed withdrawal of the Southern Presbyterian church from the Board of Christian Education in America. The assembly had just voted down the minority report of D. Lowry, favoring withdrawal, and Dr. McPheters was trying to get a substitute motion reported before the session when he was called out of order. Charging "steam roller" methods to Dr. Lyons he declared that he would remain in the assembly no longer, handed his committee report to the clerk and walked out.

His withdrawal, however, was not acted upon by the assembly, and before the afternoon session convened Dr. McPheters had changed his mind about withdrawing.

Dr. Jacobs Talks Oglethorpe. In the interest of Oglethorpe university, the Presbyterian institution that is soon to be rebuilt in the suburbs of Atlanta, Dr. Thornevil Jacobs, editor of The Westminster Magazine, of Atlanta, addressed the afternoon session. He told of the wonderful opportunity for southern Presbyterianism that lies in the opening of this school, now "rising from the dead," and he detailed the plans for the beginning of work on the university by next fall.

Dr. S. S. Gage, of Westminster college, Fulton, Mo., presented the report of the committee on the church's position with regard to the liquor traffic, reporting unfavorably on a proposition to amend the assembly's resolution of the legislatures of the states to repeal all liquor license laws, the report declaring that this would do no good, as the legislatures are not going to act until there is a big cry from the people of their own state.

"We urge on all our membership the duty of using all legitimate means for the banishment of this traffic from the land," read the report, "and for striving by voice and vote, in all ways which may be approved by their Christian conscience and judgment, for the enactment of such laws as shall meet, equally and effectively bring this result to pass."

SEARCH IS MADE FOR TAX DODGERS

Declared That 1,500 Children Are in Public Schools Whose Parents Are Paying No Taxes.

That approximately 1,500 children are carried on the public school roster whose parents are "dodging" the tax assessors was the unofficial statement which came from the tax office yesterday afternoon.

Charles W. Smith, chairman of the tax committee, estimates that the number will be balled down to about 1,200 when C. B. Beauchamp, chief clerk in the assessors' office, completes his check of the school list against the tax register.

It is roughly estimated that about $4,500 will be added to the tax returns by forcing dodgers of street and personal taxes to pay up.

"I am going to instruct the tax assessors to notify the delinquents to pay their taxes," Chairman Smith said today, "and if they fail the city marshal is going to fine them and make levies on personal property."

The discovery that there were children attending the public schools of Atlanta whose parents made no tax returns has attracted the attention of the tax committee very recently. Tax Chairman Smith called for the school roster from Superintendent Slaton of the public schools. The list was turned over to Chief Clerk Beauchamp in the tax office, Monday, and a systematic check has been made.

While no official report has been made to the tax committee, Chairman Smith believes, from the information he has received from the tax assessors' office, that more than 1,200 parents will be forced to pay their taxes and aid in the support and maintenance of the public schools.

"I have learned that in some instances parents have three and four children at different schools, and they are paying no taxes," Chairman Smith said. "We are checking the roster of each school against the tax register, and for that reason I feel certain that the delinquent list will be cut down considerably."

According to the tax assessors, there is a growing tendency on the part of the parents to dodge the payment of street and personal taxes. They are overlooked because they fail to give their names to the city directory, and cleverly and persistently dodge the tax.

HE KICKED HER FEET AND THEN KISSED HER

Girl Stenographer Tells of the Payful Attentions of the School Superintendent.

Pittsburg, May 22.—Mrs. Arthur H. Wessels, who was Alice Lang, a stenographer in the office of Superintendent of Schools Sylvanus L. Heeter, today on the witness stand before the committee of citizens named to probe rumors reflecting on Heeter, told her story of the educator's alleged misconduct.

She said the superintendent had begun his attentions by patting her on the shoulder and playfully kicking her feet beneath her desk, and later had forcibly kissed her. She said she did not resign at once because her salary was needed at home and she feared if she complained to the board of education her story would be contradicted.

A week after the kiss she said she resented against working at night and the superintendent discharged her. Superintendent Heeter and his counsel, Arthur H. Wessels, husband of Mrs. Wessels, and Dr. J. Chris Lange, an uncle by marriage, testified to the effect that they had heard the story of the superintendent's alleged misconduct left her position in Heeter's office.

The investigation has been adjourned until Saturday afternoon, when counsel for Heeter will present the superintendent's defense. The final report of the committee is expected to be presented to the board of education by Tuesday of next week.

ROOMING HOUSE SOUGHT BY FRANK DECLARES WOMAN

Mrs. Mima Famy Swears Suspected Man Wanted a Room for Himself and a Girl on Murder Night.

TO PRESENT AFFIDAVIT TO GRAND JURY TODAY.

Mysterious Telephone Message Caused Detectives to Interview Woman Who Conducts Rooming House.

Mrs. Mima Famy, who conducts a rooming house at 400 Piedmont avenue, near Currier street, has signed an affidavit to the effect that on April 26 Leo M. Frank called her up repeatedly by telephone and endeavored to secure a room for himself and a young girl.

The affidavit was signed Monday, May 11, but had been kept a secret. Mrs. Famy attached her signature to the document in the office of Detective Chief Lanford in police headquarters, advised by Assistant Nash Broyles in the presence of Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler. The affidavit was then turned over to Solicitor Dorsey.

Detectives say this is one of the most important bits of evidence they hold. It will, in all probability, be submitted to the grand jury when it takes up the Phagan case this morning. The affidavit was signed by Detective Chief Lanford in police headquarters, advised by Assistant Nash Broyles in the presence of Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler. The affidavit was then turned over to Solicitor Dorsey.

The affidavit was signed by Detective Chief Lanford in police headquarters, advised by Assistant Nash Broyles in the presence of Probation Officer Sidney J. Coogler. The affidavit was then turned over to Solicitor Dorsey.

Some one, who refused to give a name, telephoned Chief Lanford, giving this message: "Look up Mrs. Mima Famy. She knows more than she has told."

Two detectives were assigned to search for Mrs. Famy. Within a few hours she had been located at the Piedmont apartments. Readily giving the detectives the desired information, she offered to sign an affidavit suggested by them. The following night she was interviewed by Chief Lanford and Chief Beavers, who visited her apartments. On Monday the two police officials and Solicitor Dorsey appeared at her home and asked that she come to police headquarters to sign the affidavit.

Mrs. Famy's statement to a Constitution reporter yesterday afternoon was exactly what appears in the affidavit, according to Chief Lanford. She and a party of friends were playing bridge in her apartments late in the afternoon of Memorial day, she said, when Frank telephoned, and known for considerable while, telephoned her.

Called Many Times. It was between 6 o'clock and 6:30, she stated. The suspected apartment, according to her story, superintended, according to permission to rent one of her rooms that night to be used by him and a girl whose name would not give. He was flying a restaurant, Mrs. Famy stated, but insisted that he be rented an apartment.

"He said that he was forced to obtain a room for him and the girl," she stated, "and that he didn't want to go elsewhere, because he put such implicit trust in me. I would not grant his request and hung up the telephone."

A little later, she says, Frank tele-

JAPAN TO PRESS FIGHT TO ANNUL CALIFORNIA LAW

Reply of United States Not Pleasing to the Japanese Government—Equal Treatment Is Demanded.

NATURALIZATION RIGHTS WANTED FOR JAPANESE

United States, in Reply to Japan, Takes Position That California Law Does Not Violate Existing Treaty.

Tokio, May 22.—The United States government's reply to the Japanese protest in regard to the California alien land ownership legislation, in saying that it does not involve any violation of the treaty between the United States and Japan, has caused great disappointment in official and other circles here.

The Japanese foreign office considers it unsatisfactory, as it does not mention any intention on the part of the government at Washington to take official steps to nullify the California act.

The Japanese foreign minister is urging upon Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador at Washington, the necessity of pressing the Japanese interpretation of the American Japanese treaty.

Secretary Bryan's proposal to refer the question to a referendum in the state of California is not received with favor here, as the result is considered doubtful.

War Talk Not Understood

The war talk emanating from Europe and reaching here by cable regarding the controversy between Japan and the United States on the land ownership question, is not understood in official and other circles here. The atmosphere is calm and great reserve is shown.

Some of the newspapers, however, have begun to speak out more freely. The daily newspaper, The Osaka Malnichi, finds amusement in what it calls the American fear of Japanese aggression. It says: "All Japan wants for the Japanese is equal treatment with white men. Japan's progress has reached the point where she will no longer consent to discrimination being shown against her subjects."

The general hope is expressed here that the reply sent from Washington is not America's final word, especially as the United States government, by its inaction in California inspired the better here that it would adopt strong measures in behalf of the Japanese.

It is believed in Japan that the difficulty will eventually be settled by diplomacy, but the question is how Japan is to proceed next in a puzzle to the authorities. Japan is a stranger to the technicalities of American laws and does not see her way clear to take the initiative in a lawsuit, while the national patriotism prevents a formal request that naturalization be granted, which would mean the virtual expatriation of Japanese subjects.

Demand for Naturalization.

Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of a demand for naturalization as the most feasible means of satisfying Japanese prestige.

The opinion in official circles is that the nation has been led to expect some action by Washington and if nothing should be done from that quarter, then the Japanese public, which has remained calm and dignified, is liable to become greatly irritated.

"Foolishness say that the Japanese are super-sensitive and super-proud," said an official today. "This may be true. We do not care for the material losses incurred. The present issue strikes us on our most vulnerable point, namely, our national honor, and any attack on that is like plunging a dagger into our vitals."

"Of course, it is idle to talk war, but I think in justice to the Japanese, it should be pointed out that the quiet expectancy of the people is more important than the irresponsible war talk indulged in by the jingoists last month. If the Americans understand this, they will likewise understand why the failure of a response to the Japanese appeal is likely to result in some estrangement of the traditional friendship between the United States and Japan."

POSITION OF UNITED STATES REGARDING CALIFORNIA LAND

Washington, May 22.—The basis of the state department's contention that the California alien land act does not in terms violate the treaty of 1911 was a careful scrutiny by all the lawyers of the cabinet of the language of the law and the treaty.

Saving upon the single point that in depriving Japanese in California of the right of inheritance to real estate, they concluded there was no ground for complaint.

Another view of the expressed declaration in the Webb law that it was not to be construed as abrogating any treaty provision, which thereby appeared to assure the Japanese against

Mayor's Home Robbed

Rome, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—The police are looking for a mysterious second-story marauder who recently robbed the home of Mayor Yancey, securing a $300 gold watch and while being searched he entered four homes and a store in the same night, committing minor depredations in each place. The burglar, who was discovered by Rev. C. W. Rowe in his home and who shot at the minister, was robed in a white dress or gown. In one home he invaded the room of a young lady, who awoke, but he told her he was her father and she did not know the difference until the next morning.

B. S. WALKER'S CASKET HEAPED WITH FLOWERS

Funeral and Interment to Be Held at Monroe at 1:30 This Afternoon.

IOWA MAN DYING FROM SAME POISON WALKER TOOK

Sioux City, Iowa, May 22.—After swallowing three bicarbonate of mercury tablets last night, Robert Palmer, member of a wealthy family of Sioux City, today is waiting slow death from the poison.

Palmer was in a hotel when he took the tablets. He rushed into the street shouting, "I've done it! I've done it!"

A policeman overpowered him, and he was sent to a hospital, where it was reported that Palmer was resigned to his fate.

Mason, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—The body of E. Sanders Walker, whose death occurred this morning after a fight for life that had attracted the attention of the entire country, will be interred in the family burying ground at Monroe tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The funeral party will leave Macon at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning over the Central of Georgia for Madison, and will occupy a private car. At Madison the car will be attached to the regular train on the Georgia railroad and taken as far as Society Hill, from where a narrow gauge railroad runs to Monroe, arriving there at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

At Monroe the funeral party will proceed direct to the cemetery where the interment service will be conducted by Dr. E. C. Dargan, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, of the Mulberry Street Methodist church, both of Macon.

The funeral service will be conducted by local banks and younger business men of the city. They are: Charles E. Lewis, E. B. Harrod, W. Henry Jones, Robert W. Barnes, R. K. Hines, Ed. Taylor, Jr., Bruce C. Jones and H. B. Edwards.

Today the body of Mr. Walker was placed in a silver gray casket and, during the day, hundreds of beautiful floral offerings were received. It is stated that it will be necessary to consign conveying the flowers to the train at 4:20 o'clock in the morning in order to get all of them there by the time the train leaves.

Today Mrs. Walker was almost prostrated with grief, though it is expected that she can accompany the body of her husband to Monroe.

Ex-governor Daniel, of Georgia, who lives at Monroe, has given to the Walker family half of his burial lot at the home at Monroe and it is there that Mr. Walker will be buried beside his grandfather and his great-grandfather.

Mr. Walker was E. Sanders Walker the fourth, his father being the only one of the four now living.

At the residence tonight a committee from the Macon Gun club, of which the dead man was a member, sat up with the body at the Walker home.

Treatment a Secret.

Though there has been great interest in the form of treatment that was used in Mr. Walker's case, the physicians who attended him refuse to make it public.

It is understood that the history of the case will be published in one of the large medical works for the benefit of the medical profession of the country.

The family has refused to give out the contents of any of the hundreds of telegrams that have come from all over this country, and even from Europe.

WITH CHEERFUL MOTTO U. P.'S CEASE LABORS

Many Are Moved to Tears by Reports of Devoted Men and Women in Foreign Lands.

Adopting for its motto for the coming year "The world for Christ and a tithe of our incomes for missions," the fifty-fourth annual assembly of the United Presbyterian church came to an eventful close Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to convene next May in New-castle, Pa.

Unlike the other assemblies, the United Presbyterians have proceeded through their entire course with unfeeling calm—"we are United Presbyterians, remember," Professor John A. Wilson, of Pittsburgh, remarked at the early time when the least friction ever arose in the assembly.

In his parting message, Dr. Robert M. Euseell, the moderator, said that he was glad to see that "the fool that rooks the boat" had not been present in their assembly.

Many Moved to Tears.

After the roll call, it was stated that the expense of the assembly in paying railway transportation of commissioners was $10,614.20.

During the morning session foreign missions was the topic of the day. The commissioners were moved to tears as they heard from the men and women on the firing line of Christ's call of their struggles and victories in foreign lands, which only a little while ago had been dead to the Savior.

"The greatest forward step in the history of the church," according to Moderator Russell, was taken yesterday when the "missionary and educational committee of the United Presbyterian church was organized to act as a clearing house for all of the funds of the church, absorbing the old ways and means committee, which has been in existence for the past fifty years, and the more recent million-dollar committee.

Besides creating a spirit of Christian stewardship in the various congregations, the new committee will organize and direct annually a "direct member" campaign for church funds, and will see that pledges are paid promptly and forwarded to their proper destination without delay.

Representatives of each of the boards of the church will comprise the new committee, and as one of the commissioners remarked, "It will be a man's work."

The committee recommending the new committee is composed of W. R. Sawhill, W. E. McChesney, D. Glenn Moore, J. H. Stavely and A. H. Calderwood.

The following ministers and business men from the various boards who will serve from one to three years, compose this new committee:

From committee on appropriations, Rev. W. I. Wishart, three years.

From board of foreign missions, Rev. C. R. Watson, one year; Rev. M. G. Kyle and George Innes, two years; F. O. Shang, three years.

Board of home missions, Rev. W. E. Purvis, one year; J. A. Reed, two years, and Samuel Young, three years.

Board of freedmen's missions, Rev. J. A. Dyer, one year.

Board of church extension, Rev. M. M. Patterson, two years.

Board of publication, Rev. John McNair, one year.

That Touch of Pasteurine

The Best Part of the Shave

Welcome to this new comfort in the shave. It is the finishing touch that makes you forget the razor that pulled, the burning sting of a tender skin, the hide you lost, and those "bleeding blunders"—cuts. In fact your shave gets to be almost a necessary pleasure when you wind up with

Pasteurine

The Cleansing, Soothing, Healing Antiseptic

After the razor has done its work and you've washed and dried your face, apply PASTEURINE—pure or diluted with cool water. It quickly heals those tiny skin abrasions and bleeding cuts and destroys possible germ infection. PASTEURINE hardens the too-tender skin and eradicates unsightly blemishes of the complexion. PASTEURINE allays razor irritation and prevents that "itchy stiffness" of the skin. It makes your face feel cool, comfortable and flexible.

JUMPING AT CONCLUSIONS.

Alabama must soon settle the question as to whether it will renew the convict lease system or adopt the road system in operation in Georgia.

There is yet to be invented an infallible system for the handling of convicts or prisoners. Occasional brutal guards will be found in any field of convict activity.

The final test is in general results obtained and in the verdict of those watchful people who live in the state and so are in a position to know.

Alabama should investigate personally the operation and effects of Georgia's method of handling convicts.

In this connection Mr. Philip Weltner, who furnished the card that created the comment from The Advertiser, elsewhere explains his attitude in the matter.

IN WEST VIRGINIA.

The senate will no doubt agree to a federal probe of the industrial disturbances in West Virginia. The probability now is that a thorough investigation will be authorized and the country will know the truth one way or the other.

Two directly conflicting stories have come out of the troubled mining district. One has been to the effect that the governor of the state, controlled by the employing interests, having declared martial law, has also winked at all manner of unconstitutional practices and abuses.

The nation is entitled to know the exact state of affairs. And it is not to be expected that the truth will be revealed by a partisan inquiry.

THE MEXICAN LOAN.

About the most decisive news that has recently come from Mexico is the announcement that the provisional government is about to successfully conclude negotiations for a foreign loan of $100,000,000.

Upon the manner of expending this sum will very probably depend the fate of the republic. If it is squandered the present regime will be at an end.

THE COMMERCIAL ATTACHE.

Secretary Redfield has proposed a governmental innovation which bears promise of definitely increasing the foreign trade of this country.

The idea is an excellent one. We learn now of foreign opportunities and the equipment needed to meet them through two channels only: The diplomatic and consular service, and the reports of representatives of private exporting houses.

Every student of the foreign commercial trade comments that America is not now getting its share because we fail to familiarize ourselves with the field.

It is certain that the trade wars of the future are going to be waged on a scale of increasing intensity. As production of raw resources increase production of manufactured goods will increase also.

RESTRAINING THE FLOODS.

Governor Brewer, of Mississippi, is preparing to call an extra session of the legislature of that state to consider a bond issue for strengthening the levee system.

If the disaster of the current year is not to be repeated, every state traversed by the Mississippi and its tributaries should take similar steps.

It is time, also, that the federal government took more intelligent cognizance of the situation. The problem has distinctly its interstate character.

It is possible for a well-meaning man to talk Peace to death.

THE OCEAN. By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Savannah."

The ocean is a huge and highly seasoned body of water which surrounds the land. There is such much ocean that no matter in what direction we travel we are bound to run into it sooner or later.

The ocean is very salty and contains oysters, clams and lobsters. Heated up with a little pepper and butter, the ocean would make pretty fat table d'hoie soup.

The ocean is strongly impregnated with whales, codfish, icebergs, crabs and other foreign matter and is very useful to man. With the aid of a fish line and plenty of bait a man can live for years on what he pulls out of the ocean.

BRANTLEY SOUNDS WARNING IN CRISIS OF OUR NATION

Detroit, Mich., May 22.—(Special.)—Impaling the quackster and the demagogue, scoring the forces that are undermining the constitution and attacking the courts, William G. Brantley, of Georgia, last night told the annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers that the business men of America must awake to the fact that republican government was today facing probably the gravest crisis in history.

He also declared business was entitled to a clear definition of the Sherman law, advocated repeal of the Panama canal free passage act, expressed doubt regarding the income tax, and warned against too radical a revision of the tariff. His address was easily one of the most striking of the entire session.

Regarding the income tax, Mr. Brantley said: "Business is entitled now to a modification of the Sherman law—a law to the extent of making its meaning clear and intelligible. The supreme court has been assailed for its decision in the Standard Oil case, and charged with inserting the word 'unreasonable' into the law in violation of the will of congress. I have never understood that the court did anything of the kind."

Mr. Brantley doubted whether the state or nation should levy an income tax or whether it should be levied except in emergencies. He said: "There is much to be said in criticism of the proposed method of enforcing the law, by limiting the enforcement to a small percentage of the people. The tax now proposed is intended to apply to only about 45,000 citizens, and when we remember that we are a nation more than 90,000,000 strong, with more than 15,000,000 voters, the inequality of the burden proposed becomes quite evident. To omit all incomes of $4,000 and under from taxation is to put the burdens of the government upon a select few. It smacks very strongly of socialism."

of degree and not name. He held that revision must proceed carefully lest injury be done both producer and consumer. He said about the cost of living:

"In framing tariff legislation at this time, should not be too enthusiastic over a proposition that we can substantially reduce the cost of living by reducing the tariff. It has been but a few short years ago that free silver was urged upon us as a remedy for too cheap living. The prices of commodities then were far below the figures of today. Living then was too cheap, or at least it was urged that the low price of commodities and the lack of money left the people unable to supply themselves with necessary commodities, despite their cheapness. If we will compare the tariff schedules of that day with the tariff schedules of today, we will find that little difference in them, and no difference to justify the increase in the price of commodities that has taken place. If we will look about us we will see that the increased cost of living is world-wide, and it is manifest, from our own experience as well as the experience of the world, that some other cause than the tariff must be primarily responsible for our high cost of living."

He reviewed the gold and other theories as bearing on the cost of living, and said further:

"A careful consideration of these facts should lead to the inquiry whether a too radical cut in established tariff rates, while doing the ultimate justice to the farmer, if any good, might not result disastrously to the real producer, and not simply to him, but to our country, in crippling its resources and strength."

He believed too great a lowering of the tariff walls would injure the farmer and turn him to the cities.

Mr. Brantley spoke of the rehabilitation of the south, and stressed today's crisis as follows:

"Macaulay, the great Englishman, made a prophecy that the end of this republic would come with the conflict between those who have and those who have not, and he fixed upon this century—the century in which we live—as the one that would witness the downfall of the American republic. Thomas Jefferson, but little of other hand, declared ours to be the strongest government in the world because, he said, it was the only one in which, at the call of the law, every man would respond and place himself beneath the banner of the law. His belief was grounded upon the faith that the spirit of the law would ever remain deeply implanted in the heart of the American citizen. We are approaching the time when the faith of one or the other of these great men shall be vindicated by us. To which one shall the vindication be given?"

WELTNER CRITICISES MISUSE OF PRISON REFORM STORY

Editor Constitution: I have noticed from certain extracts that the newspapers of Alabama are using my articles to bolster up the convict lease system of that state.

My articles stand for themselves, and taken on their own bottom,—furnish no justification for the use to which they have been put. Criticism of our Georgia system will in no wise justify the lawmakers of Alabama to conclude that Georgia, in the abolition of the convict lease, is dissatisfied with the change.

I know the convict lease system in Georgia. I know the convict lease system of Alabama. There is not a living soul in Georgia who would willingly go back to the convict lease.

The Prison Association of Georgia stands for progress, and not retrogression. Never will Georgia again jeopardize its convicts by placing them at the mercies of a system which puts a premium on private exploitation.

There is much room for improvement in the administration of Georgia's county road camps. What there is yet to be done will yet be accomplished. Instances of brutality call for intelligence, and not hysteria. We mean to correct the evil and save the good. The great fundamental sanity of the system of Georgia must be preserved. Steering clear of its errors, it may well be emulated by Georgia's sister state.

PHILIP WELTNER. May 22, 1913.

Must and Ought

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The inspiration of Accomplishment is first the inspiration of Necessity. We do things and we do our best things when we are driven to because—We Must. Back of every Fighter and back of every Achiever is this silent little Commander. To cultivate the feeling that you Must do what you Ought to do is to develop the sense of duty—to get habit on your side.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do. Cultivate the Must and Ought spirit and you eventually if not immediately call to your side one of the greatest factors in success—Willingness to Act and to Do.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do. If you cultivate this feeling you will never canker your soul nor rot away your initiative. Mixed with the dire necessity will come a dominant feeling of Love for what you do and the dream of a Glory that shall radiate with Joy and Helpfulness not alone your own life, but that will give to you Work itself auster that cannot fail to lighten and add Glory to countless other people.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do. Personal satisfaction, even, is little worth while unless cumulative. The man does not live who is wholly selfish. Must drives a man to his job or to his idea, but the fast-breeding germ of Compensation, massing before his eyes, vitalizes a Purpose and makes it come out to all the world as something for every one.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do. Cultivate a Foundation Must as well as a Superstructure Must. You Must give a certain number of hours to yourself or your Employer today, but make them hours of Service, not clock watching and the tolling off of time to no Result.

President Wilson is strictly on the job, but there is no evidence that he has learned the trick of the Taft smile.

It seems that the only way to reverse the tariff is to sit up with it all night and then spend the day.

Recollections of an Old-Timer.

Editor Constitution: I saw in the press dispatches the Gate City Guards of civil war fame were to make a tour of the country. In 1861 I was a member of company B, Rock City Guards, 104 men, and only 8 now living, so I thought of the original Gate City Guards would not be many living.

I will recollect the Gate City Guards in our campaigns with Generals Lee and Sigel and Jackson in the mountains of West Virginia, in the summer, fall and winter of 1861-62.

I first saw Atlanta July 6, 1862. From 1842 to 1847 father and I made three trips overland from Lynchburg, Va., to Nashville, requiring three weeks' journey. He died in 1862, and I went to Lynchburg, via Atlanta, Augusta and Charleston, sailing from Charleston to Wilmington, thence rail to Richmond and canal to Lynchburg (1,100 miles to Lynchburg to reach 600 miles), yet the journey was made in six days.

The Western and Atlantic railway, as all southern railways at that time, was on stringers and T rail, and had many wrecks; yet, on account of speed, 20 miles an hour, there were few passengers hurt. I remember, near Big Shanty, we went off the track, and our engine, "Velocity," turned over on side, but no other damage done. I was a boy 12 years of age, but I knew "Velocity" meant swiftness. The "General" was of the same type of the "General," now in the N. C. & S. C. railway depot at Chattanooga, and is looked on by thousands of people annually. It is a part of the history of this country.

It has been my pleasure to visit Atlanta many times since the war, and wonder at her pluck, enterprise, energy and advancement.

Tired of Whitewashing.

A lower Illinois editor, declaring he has become tired of whitewashing the whitewash brush in the night with another man's decision to reform and tell the truth just once. His comment on the death of a well-known citizen in the community follows: "Died—Aged 55 years 6 months and 13 days. Deceased was a mild-mannered pirate, with a mouth for whiskey and an eye for booty. He came here in the night with another man's wife and joined the church at first chance. He owes us several dollars for the paper, a large meat pie, and he could hear him pray for six blocks. He died tonight. Justice Paid it All, and we think he is right—he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an elaborate casket, and his many friends threw palm-leaf fans in the grave, as he may need them. His tombstone will be a favorite resting place for hoot owls."—St. Louis Republic.

CURRENCY HEARINGS ORDERED BY SENATE

Several Republican Senators Indicated Hostility to Monetary Legislation.

Washington, May 22.—The senate agreed today to a resolution authorizing the banking and currency committee to hold hearings on proposed currency legislation after several republicans had voiced active opposition to the passage at this session of any measure making sweeping changes in the nation's financial system.

Senator Gallinger expressed the hope that no ill matured and hastily constructed currency bill would be brought forward to occupy the summer months. Senator Briscoe said the tariff should have all the attention of congress and several others indicated plainly their hostility to such legislation at this time.

Senator Townsend made the point that currency reform is being urged at this time to divert attention from the tariff and Senator Newlands offered a plan for reform, which differs from the one proposed by the national monetary commission and those bearing the apparent stamp of prominent democrats on the house and senate banking committees.

Chairman Owen of the senate committee refused to submit to a caucus on the currency bill, but he may have had with President Wilson about currency and declined to say whether a bill might be pushed at this session.

Senator Bacon reaffirmed his belief that such a measure should be passed and was of the opinion that it might be expected to appear.

Senator Newlands advanced the idea that there should be reserve associations in every state of the union in place of the federal reserve banks. The monetary commission of the senate or twenty understood to be favored by democrats on congress banking committees. These associations, Mr. Newlands argued, should be state wide in extent and controlled by a board to provide the central control.

Senator Nelson a member of the committee said he was ready to go ahead with an investigation of currency subjects and with legislation. Senator Long said he would like to see the committee expected to do when it began holding hearings and pointed to the testimony taken by the monetary commission. Its report and the library on it have been collected by Senator Owen and he expected what committee he said expressions of opinion and to make a permanent record that would be of use to senators in framing a currency reform bill.

Today the president himself talked currency with Platt Andrew assistant secretary of the treasury under the administration. Mr. Andrew also has been in frequent conference with Senator Owen.

WISCONSIN LESSONS FOR PHILADELPHIA

Madison Wis. May 22.—On the campus of the University of Wisconsin today Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg of Philadelphia pledged a renewed purpose to solve his city's problems. The mayor spoke to a large assemblage of students and the members of the delegation of 120 easterners who came here yesterday to learn the lesson of popular education as the university applies it throughout the state.

There is a new spirit in Pennsylvania as in Wisconsin, he said. Our people have suffered from indifference, ignorance and selfishness. We are trying to wake out of this lethargy and one proof of it is the fact that this city is learning to solve its problems here to learn of how to solve them in Wisconsin. We have solved the problems that have been troubling us.

We are going ahead to make the improvements. We will do away with the ignorance, the indifference and the selfishness all through this country and when we finish we will be a shining light for all the world.

People in Philadelphia have not looked at the operation of a great city as that of a corporation. Yet we have in the city of William Penn over 1,000,000 stockholders. We are going ahead to make that corporation efficient. We have begun by banishing the politicians from the city hall.

Production of farm products the benefits to the farmer of agricultural extension work the importance of pure bred grains the value of pure milk and the success of pure bred live stock will be explained and demonstrated by the staff of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture tomorrow morning.

U. S. BANKERS DENY CAUSING 1893 PANIC

Washington, May 22.—Senator Smoot today presented to the senate records of the American Bankers' association to answer the statement made by Senator Thomas, of Colorado several days ago that the cause of the panic after the passage of the Wilson bill in 1893 was the calling of the gold bonds issued by the country to secure repeal of the silver purchase act of the Sherman law.

Senator Thomas had read an unprinted circular and a magazine article which asserted the circular was issued at the time by the American Bankers' association urging bankers to retire one third of their silver certificates and call one half their loans to bring about a money stringency.

Senator Smoot read a letter from Fred E. Farnsworth general secretary of the American Bankers' association in reply to a letter written him immediately after Senator Thomas made his speech in the senate. Mr. Farnsworth declared the circular referred to by Senator Thomas was a fraud and a dastardly attack on the American Bankers' association and the bankers of the country.

He sent a copy of the circular to the senate. The circular declared the circular was issued in 1893 and 1894 wherein appeared an original reproduction of the circular referred to.

From this record Senator Smoot stated that the bankers' association had their attention called to the circular at the time of the panic and that it had been declared a fraud over the signature of F. H. Bullock the general counsel for the American Bankers' association. The circular also showed that the circular had been declared fraudulent at a meeting of the executive committee of the bankers' association.

Replying to the denial Senator Thomas declared he had read the circular published in a leading American magazine 15 months before he made his speech and that in all the time since its publication he had never seen the statements denied in his speech. He also said that he had attempted to show that the panic of 1893 had been long before the Wilson bill became a law and that it was precipitated by bankers who called the silver purchase act wiped off the books.

He continued to declare his belief that the banking interests were responsible for the panic.

I will ask the senator if he believed the circular was issued by any responsible authority, said Senator Smoot.

Yes, said Senator Thomas. I think if the money power in this country makes up its mind to accomplish a purpose it will resort to almost anything.

WILSON IS CRITICIZED BY THE REPUBLICANS

Washington, May 22.—President Wilson was sharply criticized by republican senators in executive session tonight for his reported conduct in the senatorial fight in Maryland where William L. Mabury is a candidate to succeed Senator John Walter Smith for the long term. Both are republicans and the republican capital of the fact that a democratic president apparently had seen fit to get into a fight between members of the own party in a state other than his own.

The criticisms were voiced during consideration of the nomination of Sheelock Swann as postmaster at Baltimore. Swann is a declared supporter of Mabury but Senator Smith in a speech asked his colleagues to vote for his confirmation. In spite of this the viva voce vote was so close that the vice president declared himself in doubt. On a rising vote Swann was confirmed.

REPUBLICANS TO WORK TO CAPTURE CONGRESS

Leaders at Washington Plan to Unite Factions for Aggressive Campaign.

Washington, May 22.—With republican senators urging a joint senate and house caucus for immediate reorganization for the congressional campaign committee to seek the reclamation of republican power in congress next year, with progressive republicans conferring on plans of reconciliation of the divided party and members of the congressional committee assembling for a meeting here Saturday, Washington today became a beehive of republican activity.

Most significant of recent party developments since the defeat at the polls last November was the conference of republican and progressive republican senators early in the day to constitute a campaign committee which house leaders hastily have attempted for several weeks. Thirty-one senators attended the conference presided over by Senator Gallinger and, with almost unanimous approval a committee of five was appointed to conduct the congressional campaign for several weeks. Thirty-one senators attended the conference presided over by Senator Gallinger and, with almost unanimous approval a committee of five was appointed to conduct the congressional campaign for several weeks.

It was the prevailing opinion of the senators conference that the congressional committee should be reorganized at once with representation from the senate as well as the house following the suggestion from President Wilson adopted by the conference. The committee should be organized at once with representation from the senate as well as the house following the suggestion from President Wilson adopted by the conference.

To Reunite Party. Leaders of the congressional personnel of this consulting committee as an indication of the general effort being made to reunite the party its members consisting of progressives and regulars as well as the house members consisting of Senators Gallinger, Townsend, Clark (Wyoming), Norris and Jones. This five will consult with the house republicans and expect to find no opposition for a joint caucus to be held in the near future.

The conferees appointed as a result of the Chicago progressive republican conference a few weeks ago have been called to meet with Senator Cummins tomorrow to plan for the executive committee called to meet Saturday by Chairman Hill. The members of the conciliation committee are Senators Cummins, Crawford and Jones (Iowa) of the senate; Michigan, Rogers of Massachusetts, Anderson, Minnesota and former Governor Hadley of Missouri. Mr. Hadley probably cannot get here for the meeting tomorrow.

The conferees will outline to the executive committee the desires of the progressive republicans for a party convention this fall to reorganize the party and reform its machinery relating to the conduct of the party in the conduct of contests. In line with these ideas Senator Sherman of Illinois today introduced in the senate a bill which would provide that delegates to national conventions of all political parties be elected by primary election.

Under the terms of the delegates would be chosen according to the vote cast at the preceding election for candidates of the respective parties and state primary laws would govern. A policy such as this will be urged by the progressive republicans before the national convention which they believe will be called by the national committee. They expect the executive committee Saturday to call a meeting to consider the plan.

Members of the executive committee are John T. Adams Iowa, Fred W. Eastbrook New Hampshire, J. P. Goodrich, Indiana, Thomas A. Marlow, Montana, Alvah H. Martin, Virginia, Thomas K. Neundorff, Missouri, S. A. Perkins, Washington, Newell Sanders, Tennessee, Charles B. Warren, Michigan, Roy O. West, Illinois, Ralph E. Williams, Oregon and Charles D. Hillier, ex-officio chairman of the national committee.

The progressive wing of the party favors a convention for re-arrangement of the apportionment with a view to strengthening the apportionment among republican states. A proposition is urged either to increase or to reduce the representation in the southern states. There is difference of view among the committeemen as to the necessity or wisdom of a convention for this purpose and some of them contend that the national committee itself has power to change the apportionment.

1 KILLED, 1 SHOT BY HART BROTHERS

J. M. Harnage Is Fatally Wounded and Son Dead as Result of Shooting in Colquitt County.

Moultrie, Ga., May 22.—(Special)—News of a fatal shooting affray in the lower edge of the county reached the city today at noon from Berlin. A phone message stated that Jim and Jerry Hart, young saw mill men living in Brooks county, had fatally shot J. M. Harnage and instantly killed a son of Harnage.

The trouble seems to have started from the Harts hauling lumber and logs to their mill by the Harnage place over the public road, which was objected to by Harnage, who ordered them to desist. This morning the two Harts were hauling a couple of loads of lumber from their mill to the road at Berlin and were met by Harnage and his son, who were armed with shotguns.

When the difficulty was over young Harnage was dead, his father was lying by the road with his brains oozing out, and Jerry Hart was shot and seriously injured. While Harnage is still living, the doctors say there is no chance for his recovery. How seriously Jerry Hart is injured cannot be ascertained. The sheriff has gone to investigate the matter.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

Radium in Stone Mountain. It is possible that there is radium in the vicinity of Atlanta but it is hardly probable that it will ever be commercially available. Reports had reached the state geologist Dr. S. W. McCullie that there was supposed to be radium in the felspar which is found in considerable quantities around Gainesville.

In discussing the report yesterday, Dr. McCullie said: I heard of radium being obtained from feldspar. It is usually found in combination with lead or zinc. This mineral has been found in Colorado and radium is obtained from it in small quantities. There is radio activity in uranophane however considerable quantities of which is found in Stone Mountain. We have several specimens of it in the museum here in the capital. Uranophane contains uranium a metal closely allied to radium which is generally found with it. I doubt, however whether radium could be extracted from uranophane in any such quantities as to make it commercially available.

Governor Pines for Movies. A real governor in a motion picture play—that will be the privilege that players will have when the pictures which were taken in Atlanta yesterday are thrown on the curtain. A northern moving picture concern which has been making films here for the past two weeks has a scene of a war play which is laid on the Capitol grounds. The picture was taken just in front of the Gordon monument. The play begins with the war and continues down to the present time. Is they need a governor to give plausibility to the scene Governor Brown kindly consented to pose. Mayor Woodward and Walter Taylor, city clerk had their pictures taken in another incident in the same play some days ago posing in front of the Gandy monument.

Postmaster Appointments. Representative Sam Tribble of the Eighth congressional district was a visitor to the capital yesterday. He talked freely of the recent postoffice appointments and the annoyance that they were giving to congressmen. There has been a lot of good natured bickering of each other by his colleagues on the subject and Gen. Gordon Lee particularly had come in for his share in connection with the Rome postoffice.

Tom Hudson Out Again. Former Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Hudson who had been ill for some days with appendicitis in a local sanitarium, was able to be out again yesterday and was warmly greeted by his friends who congratulated him on his recovery.

UNABLE TO PAINT, THEY TURN "CUBISTS"

San Francisco, May 22.—Members of the Bohemian club who cannot paint and are proud of it, will hold an exhibition June 4 of "cubist" art. The success in the east of the post impressionists encouraged Bohemians who had never drawn anything but a salary to try their hands.

For the past fortnight 50 of the very latest "cubists" have been hard at it with floor paint and varnish. "Justice," by Supreme Court Justice Melvin, will show a waterfall of white-wash tumbling over the revised statutes. He believes it to be the most confusing painting ever attempted.

FOR U. S. ARMOR PLANT

Washington, May 22.—Senator Ashurst introduced a bill today to appropriate $1,600,000 for a government armor plate plant. The bill would have a board of three navy officers seek a site and report within three months after the passage of the bill. The location would begin within six months. Secretary Daniels who favors a government armor plate plant has conferred with Senator Ashurst on the bill.

Afternoon Tea.

The tea given yesterday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. Vassar Woolley at their home on Spring road, was a delightful occasion in compliment to their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seydel, of New York, and a large company of Mrs. Seydel's friends in Atlanta, when she was Miss Mildred Woolley, called to welcome them.

Artistic decoration with the season's flowers was a pretty feature. Paul Neyron roses were used in the drawing room, a profusion of yellow daisies filled the living room with their light. In the dining room the table centerpiece was an evergreen with sweet peas at the base, and Dorothy Perkins roses above. Pink candles burned in silver candlesticks, and dainty detail of color was pink. Sweet peas were massed, too, on mantel and cabinets.

Peace was served on the porch, which was picturesque with palms and hanging baskets, and vases of corn flowers and daisies.

Mrs. Woolley was gowned in pink crepe embroidered, and Mrs. Seydel was charming in white chiffon draped over a heavy white lace, which was embroidered in Persian colors.

Receiving with Mrs. Woolley were Mrs. Seydel, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb, Mrs. John M. Stanton, Mrs. Hugh Willet, Mrs. William Heard Hillier, Mrs. Ronald Ransom, Mrs. W. N. Stanton, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. John M. Moore, Mrs. Shepard Bryan, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Hugh McKee, Mrs. Edward Brown, Mrs. G. M. After the game tea was served in the dining room. The tea table was covered with a cluny lace cloth, and pink roses formed the centerpiece of the table. There were sixteen guests.

Sorority Meeting.

An interesting meeting of the Atlanta Alumnae of the Alpha Delta Phi Sorority was held Monday afternoon at Carnegie library. New officers were elected and much enthusiasm was displayed in keeping up fraternal ties.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. John A. Perdue, president; Mrs. R. K. Rambo, first vice president; Miss Nellie Vaid, second vice president; Mrs. William D. Asher, secretary; Mrs. Laurian Johnson, treasurer; Miss Anna Quillian, corresponding secretary; Miss Sarah Lu Evans, reporter.

Much interest was shown in the general convention to be held at Chicago, N. D., and it is anticipated that the Georgia girls will be well represented.

The next meeting of the Atlanta Alumnae of Alpha Delta Phi will be early in the fall and it was decided to hold a large and witty social, at which large attendance is expected.

Informal Bridge Party.

Mrs. Andrew Calhoun entertained informally at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street, at her guest, Miss Mary Grant, of Nashville.

Koors and Japanese popples decorated all of the apartments except the dining room, where sweet peas were effectively used, the centerpiece of the delicately-appointed tea table being a plate of sweet peas. The prizes were silk stockings, and the guest of honor was given a picture frame. Those who played bridge were joined by a few other guests for tea.

Third Ward Club Entertains.

In spite of the inclement weather a fair audience greeted the artists who last night gave a delightful entertainment at the Woman's Club building.

The floral decorations were unusually attractive, palms and ferns forming a background for masses of cut flowers. A hedge of pink rambler roses made a miniature "floodlight" across the front of the stage. A pretty sentiment was expressed by the use of the prize silver loving cups for vases, one holding the club flower, baby sunflowers, and both tied with the club colors, gold and brown.

Four pretty girls, Misses Hallie and Mary Crossland, Miss Irene White and Miss Margaret Ennis, acted as ushers.

The program was of more than uncommon merit. Miss Edith Couch played the overture, rendering Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" in a most charming manner.

As a final number, Miss Horton gave an impersonation of how "Miss Ceely Took the Cake," in costume.

Mrs. Selden's Tea.

Mrs. George Kearsley Selden entertained informally at afternoon tea yesterday, the occasion a delightful one, assembling twenty guests to meet Mrs. Mary Armstrong Cooley, a bride-elect, Miss Isabel Clark, of Augusta, the guest of Miss Eloise Stewart, and Miss Beatrice, of Ohio, the guest of Mrs. Henry Trevelyan, of Atlanta.

The apartment had artistic decorations in sweet peas in all their colors, and in white carnations, and the hospitality of the occasion was most happy.

Mrs. Selden wore a lacy lingerie gown and Miss Selden wore taupe chiffon.

MISS EUPHA TOMLINSON WEDS J. FRED DARMAN

Waycross, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—Although they planned to announce their marriage yesterday on Sunday, it leaked out here tonight through friends of the contracting parties that Miss Eupha Tomlinson, of Americus, and Mr. J. Fred Darmann, whose home is at Richton, were married yesterday at Americus, Rev. Mr. Blivins performing the ceremony.

The couple were members of a party that left home supposedly for the baseball game, and before going to the game the wedding was performed. Parental objections are said to have been the cause for the action of the couple and the announcement of their marriage will come as a surprise to their friends.

Miss Tomlinson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tomlinson, and is a popular member of Americus society.

GROWING CROPS VASTLY HELPED BY HEAVY RAINS

"Local showers" promised for Thursday came with a vengeance at 7 o'clock in the evening, when for ten minutes Atlanta experienced as hard a rain as has fallen here within the past two months. The rain came down in sheets, and was so blinding as almost to make street car traffic impossible.

The rain came after one of the most humid days of the year, when the temperature, while not so hot, was 80 and at any time appeared to be the average citizen to be well up in the nineties.

"It's the humidity in the atmosphere that causes the heat to become so apparent" said the weatherman in discussing the many complaints from those who were on the streets during the day.

For today showers are promised again, and by tonight the air should have cooled to several degrees. Many hard rains have fallen in various parts of Georgia during the present week, and farmers report their crop conditions as much more favorable than during the drought. Reports from Alabama also show that a hard rain fell throughout the greater part of the cotton belt, and that the planters are rejoicing over the break in the dry spell, which had threatened to destroy the cotton before it could come up.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Deep Purple." (At the Atlanta.)

Tonight "The Deep Purple" will be given at the Atlanta by Miss Billy Long and her associates. It will also be seen at tomorrow's matinee and tomorrow night. It has made a tremendous impression in Atlanta, and is creating much talk. Next week the Atlantians will have their own choice presented in "St. Elmo," which they voted the greatest play ever presented in stock. This play has been well cast and rehearsed, and is sure to be received with enthusiasm. Seats are now selling for the week.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forsyth.)

Friday and Saturday matinee and night performances at the Forsyth will include the engagements of a combination of vaudeville talent superior to any attraction the busy theater has offered since the renewal of the vaudeville policy.

Gallagher and Fields offer a comedy sketch that is totally unlike the usual run of things, and if there is a better trick violinist than John Geiger, he has never been seen here. Lett's monkeys would make an Indian laugh, and Josephine Dunfee possesses just the right voice for a passy success.

For the coming week the headline feature will be Maggie Cline, the world famous Irish queen. Madden and Fitzpatrick in "The Wanderer," the great Howard, the Scotch ventriloquist, and Caesar Nesl the American Caruso, are among the features.

"A Trip to Joyville." (At the Bijou.)

The initial week of Tabloid Musical Comedy at the Bijou in meeting with the success which has far out-distanced the most sanguine expectations of the management. "A Trip to Joyville" is just the sort of entertainment that caters to amusement seekers and amuses the lovers of comedy. It is wholesome and spontaneous, the musical numbers are all catchy, the chorus composed of young and attractive girls, the scenic entertaining, up-to-date and pleasing.

Today's Beauty Recipes By Mrs. D. Millie.

"With the approach of warm weather face powder is found unsatisfactory. At best it does not improve the complexion. A genuine beautifier is easily made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Apply in the morning and it will not rub off nor show, but will keep the skin smooth, clear and satiny. "Don't get discouraged if your hair comes out when combing. Your hair is coming out because of parasites that prey upon it and cause it to become dull and brittle. These parasites are removed by Mother's Shampoo. This can be purchased in any neighborhood. It makes the hair rich, fine and fluffy. "Hair removers should be painless, quick in action and safe. Delatone answers these three requirements. Make a little paste with powdered delatone and water, cover the hair or fuzz to be removed for two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. "Pimples, skin eruptions and certain kinds of eczema are speedily banished by Mother's Salve. This old-time household remedy quickly heals sores, cuts and burns without leaving a scar, it is cooling, soothing and antiseptic."

SOUTH'S HOSPITALITY IS WARMLY PRAISED

BY U. P. ASSEMBLY

Stating that "the memory of our sojourn in your pleasant city and in your charming homes will remain with us as a sweet memory of the years to come," the United Presbyterian assembly adopted resolutions yesterday in appreciation of the hospitality shown them while in the city.

The resolution further states that "before coming we had heard much of southern hospitality, but now we can truly say the half has not been told us."

The Presbyterians were especially grateful for the manner in which they were allowed to enter into the home life of Atlanta, and the privilege of the friends accorded them. They further stated that the service given at the hotels had been of the best, and the courtesies shown them by officials many indeed.

Thanks were also extended to J. K. Orr, chairman of the general committee on arrangements; Dr. Dunbar H. Orr, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, in which the meetings were held; Dr. Robert M. Russell, moderator of the assembly, and the press.

Miss Duff Writes Interesting Statement for Publication in the Behalf of Women.

Webster Springs, W. Va.—In an interesting letter from this place, Miss Agnes Duff says: "I had been afflicted with womanly trouble for three years, and felt weak all the time. My back and sides ached so. I almost got past going. I had used a great many different kinds of remedies, but they failed to do me any good. I had heard of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and decided to try it. When I had used the third bottle of Cardui, I felt like a new person entirely. I gained both in health and weight. I praise Cardui for my recovery and good health, and I feel sure it will do the same for others, as it has me, if they will only give it a trial."

The above letter is an earnest, frank statement of Miss Duff's opinion of Cardui. She has confidence in it, because it relieved her, after many different kinds of other remedies had failed, and she believes it will help you, just as it did her, if you will give it a fair trial.

We join Miss Duff in urging you to give Cardui a trial. It cannot harm you, and judging from the experience of thousands of others, is almost sure to do you good.

PROPOSED EXHIBIT IS GIVEN A BOOST

A distinct advance in the movement for a permanent exhibit of Atlanta-made goods to be installed here, was made yesterday when the board of directors of the chamber of commerce decided to charter a special train to take the manufacturers and merchants of this city to Chattanooga to inspect the exhibit of the Chattanooga Manufacturers' association there.

Brook Morgan was selected as chairman of the committee on the excursion which it is proposed to run to Chattanooga as soon as arrangements can be made for it. The exhibit in Chattanooga has been operated for more than a year and during that time, it is said, has accomplished great things in advertising that city.

To Lease Large Building.

The proposed exhibit was discussed at some length by the board of directors, who were enthusiastic over the advantages that would accrue to the city therefrom. The plan is to lease a large building near the heart of the city and fill it with articles made by Atlanta manufacturers, the exhibit to be open to the public the year round. It would be one of the show places of the town and would attract visitors from all parts of the country. Business men will thereby be interested in the products of Atlanta factories and great increase in trade is expected to result.

The exhibit will be under the direction of the chamber of commerce, which will lease the building and rent space to manufacturers. It is believed that it can be maintained on a reasonable basis so that exhibitors will have to pay only a moderate amount and will enjoy the advantage of having their products before the eyes of the public throughout the year.

Articles Made Here.

There are now 544 manufacturers in Atlanta turning out over one thousand articles, many of which are already finding a sale all over the country. It is doubtful whether any other city of equal size could produce such a comprehensive exhibit as could be maintained in Atlanta.

The success of the exhibit in Chattanooga, a much smaller city than Atlanta, makes it practically certain that the undertaking would prove a winner here. Mr. Morgan said that during the time the exhibit has been running in the Chattanooga city, it had been seen by many thousands of visitors and had accomplished a great deal in the way of disseminating information about the resources of the city.

Tech Celebration.

The participation of the chamber of commerce in the coming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Technological School was discussed and the matter referred to a special committee of which Mr. R. Wilkinson was appointed chairman. The organization of the Junior order of the Atlanta chamber of commerce among high school boys was recommended and a special committee appointed to take the matter up and arrange the details.

Will Confer Degrees.

A meeting of unusual interest to the Odd Fellows of the city will be held tonight in Fulton Lodge Temple, corner DeKalb and Peachtree streets.

To be held in Savannah next week, and Fulton lodge's team is to be a contestant for the prize, and as this will be the last opportunity the team will have to do the work before the session of the grand lodge, it is obvious that they will do their very best.

TREATY OF PEACE SIGNED IN COURT

Peace reigns once more in Milltown and in the vicinity of the Banks' estate fishpond. There will be no repetition of the Reelfoot lake trouble in Georgia.

State Game Commissioner Jesse E. Mercer returned to his office in the capitol yesterday from the field of war in Berrien county, and he reports that the nineteen fishermen who were under indictment for defying the law, including the mayor of Milltown, William Patford, any many of the most prominent citizens, have signed a solemn treaty of peace in open court, and have pledged themselves to be good in future.

The case came up for trial this week before Judge Christian in the city court at Nashville. The defendants were represented by J. J. Murray, Jesse B. Lovett and John P. Knight, all well-known attorneys of south Georgia, where the affairs have been of great interest.

Will Observe Law in Future.

At the opening of the trial attorneys for the defense declared that their clients, realizing that they had violated the law, were willing to plead guilty and to pledge themselves to observe the law to the letter in future provided that the accusations against them were withdrawn. They were all law-abiding citizens, it was said, and had no intention of violating the game laws of the state, but had merely followed a custom of fishing in the Banks pond which had extended to a period beyond their memory.

Upon this representation, Game Commissioner Mercer signified his willingness to have the cases nolleprossed. He had not sought to persecute anybody, he said, but simply to enforce the law of the state in which he was sworn by his oath of office. In fact, however, a contract should be drawn up and signed, not only pledging the defendants to observe the law, but also to assist the commissioner in its enforcement.

Pledge With Court Order.

When this was done and the contract signed, it was made an order of court by Judge Christian and the cases dismissed. Mr. Mercer is well satisfied with the course matters have taken, and he does not anticipate any further trouble.

"The citizens of Berrien county are in a large majority law abiding," he said, "and we need never fear such an outbreak of lawlessness from them as occurred a few years ago in the Reelfoot lake region in western Tennessee. It was natural that they should have felt at first that they had a perfect right to fish in the Banks pond, as there had been fishing there since 1832, long before they were born. Now, however, they know that they may not fish without a written permit from some one who holds at least color of title. As the pond literally teems with fish, it was natural that they should give up the privilege of free fishing in it with great reluctance.

"There will still be plenty of fishing, however," R. T. Berryhill, the representative of the Banks' estate, said, "and a reasonable man, and will never undertake to put anything like an embargo on fishing. In fact, he allows people to fish in the pond for a fee that is absurdly small."

The trouble started when Commissioner Mercer, who had received many complaints of illegal fishing in the pond, sent M. P. Boisclair, a special game warden, to Milltown to investigate the situation and to make arrests. When Mr. Boisclair placed the mayor and other prominent citizens under arrest his life was threatened, and he was compelled to leave the neighborhood in haste. For a time it was feared that the situation would be so serious that it would result in a riot.

JASPER AND BUTTS SCRAP OVER TAXES

Jackson, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—The courts may be called on to settle the question as to whether Butts or Jasper county is entitled to the larger share of the tax returns of the Central Georgia Power company. Since the dam was erected on the Ocmulgee river several years ago the company has returned its Butts county property for $750,000, and that in Jasper county for about $100,000. Now Jasper county claims that five-eighths of the company's dam is on its side of the stream and that Jasper should have more of the taxes.

DECLARE CONVICTS ARE WELL TREATED

Strong Denial Made of the Charge That Fulton County Convicts Are Brutally Handled.

Charges made by Evangelist George W. Crabtree that the 700 convicts of Fulton county, over whom Captain Tom Donaldson has charge, are more brutally treated than any others in the state, and that evangelists are not allowed to attempt to convert the men or to hold services among them, except on Sundays, called for a strong denial on the part of Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton county commissioners, and also of the committee of public works, which has direct control over Fulton's convict system.

Captain Donaldson so far has not discussed the matter, and when approached declared that he did not care to enter into such a discussion.

The arraignment of Fulton's convict system was made Thursday by Rev. George W. Crabtree, who is a prison evangelist, and who is here to attend the Presbyterian assemblies. He has done evangelistic work in many camps throughout the south. Chairman Smith states that he favors religious services being held in the camps on Sunday, but that he does not think it practicable to allow services at any night when the evangelist chooses to hold them. He also declared that the Fulton county convicts are treated humanely, and that the system is better than any other in the south.

Restrictions Are Necessary.

"We have something like 700 prisoners to care for in this county," he said, "and there are necessarily many bad characters. There are ten murderers in one camp and, while we wish to allow them as many privileges as possible, we have to require certain restrictions. Again, it would be impractical to hold services except on Sunday. The men work hard every day, and when they come in they have to have their supper and baths, and they should be allowed to get to bed where they can rest as early as possible. To hold services after supper would work a hardship on many of them, and would also be impractical for the guards and attendants."

Evangelist Crabtree declares that Captain Donaldson has been decidedly against his efforts to hold religious services for the men, and has consistently refused to allow him to hold services other than on Sunday.

He declares that he has a letter from R. E. Davidson, chairman of the Georgia prison commission, in which all warden in the state are asked to show him as many courtesies as possible and to recognize him as an evangelist.

The evangelist also declares that in the county camps young boys are forced to work and live with hardened men, and that there is nothing done to keep them from becoming like the men with whom they associate. He also attacks the guards as hardened men who have no consideration for the men under them or for those who attempt to aid them.

The Gulls continue to slip. Nine of the last thirteen games have gone to the other fellows. Keep the good work going, Billy.

WHIFFS

In Justice to Dett. ELLIOTT DETT was not wholly responsible for the loss of Wednesday's game to the Gulls. The little "trick" in the great national pastime in the nature of the lone error made by the Crackers during the afternoon came right at the critical point and had more to do with his downfall than any other happening.

Agler's Misplay. JOE AGLER made the misplay with two on bases in the seventh. Abstein hit to Agler. He scooped the ball up and instead of stepping on first, elected to throw to second, then threw wildly and Butler's triple cleaned the bases and packed the game on ice. Joe makes an seldom that when he does 'ing' he pulls a good one.

Two Constructions. THE PLAYERS claim that had Joe stepped on the initial cushion Ward could have been doubled at second easily. Our contention is that if he had turned and stepped on first he would not have nailed Ward at second anyway. This is only a difference in opinion, but no matter which contention is correct the fact remains that had he stepped on the bag, before throwing the ball might have been shut off without any further runs.

Would Have Won. DETT would have won his game had this play been made. He was pitching fine ball up until this happening. He showed a peak of stuff principal of which was a double shot that broke both out and in. We predict that the big fellow will prove a winner, even after such a disheartening start and criticism that was heaped on him, which was not merited in its entirety. Better luck next time Elliott, old boy. Keep a stiff upper lip.

Good Sportsmanship. THE RED AND BLACK, the official organ of the University of Georgia has come out with a very sportsmanlike comment on the result of the Georgia Tech game. It was not due to the fact that Tech was lucky or that baseball is baseball or that Tech had Georgia's goat but simply the fact that Tech outplayed Georgia during the three games which they won in their contention in part.

Tough Luck. FUG CAVET, the big southpaw of the Mobile Gulls and Elmer Brown of the Montgomery Bilkens, are the prize hard luck twirlers of the Southern league this season. Cavet pitched a one-hit game against Memphis the early part of the season and lost. Brown duplicated his stunt against Chattanooga this week with the same result.

"WILD BILL" CLARK NOT WITH CORDELE

Cordele Ga. May 22—(Special).—The rumor that has become current through statements furnished several papers to the effect that Wild Bill Clark has been added to the pitching staff of the Cordele baseball club, branded as false by Manager Reagan. It is said that the Cordele club has not had under consideration the signing of Clark. Judgments from all appearances, it is not Reagan's idea to hang on to any twirler, or other player for that matter, who is very old at the game, his plan seeming to be to develop young players to the stage where they can be placed with leagues higher up at the close of the Empire State League season.

Triples by Smith and Bisland And Brady's Fine Hurling Rout Gulls in First Game

The Crackers slipped the harpoon to the league-leading Mobile Gulls Thursday afternoon in their first local appearance of the season by a 7 to 1 count. Umpire Dan Pfenninger, the dean of Southern league umpires, is due the thanks of every one for calling the game at the end of the sixth chapter when it started to pour and for the ruling we forgive all his misgivings of former days. Dana called it on account of darkness in which he was amply over-ruled. There was no chance for any more pastime after the first spin die. Brady in Form. For the first time this season the Crackers went out and landed in a lead for Old Reliable King Brady and as was predicted in these columns many times, any time they do this for him he is likely to win a ball game. Brady has had to pitch his arm out on practically every occasion with a tight game to work the locals for getting now to hit when he was on the mound. But Thursday—zowie! They were nailing that old pill to all corners of the field and with a regularity that made Mike squirm on the Gulls bench. King allowed but four hits one of which was a duke three bagger that counted the first run when it should not have been more than a short swing. Billy Campbell who has been the Crackers' linch pin for ages was on the firing line for the Gulls. The locals took a liking to his offerings in three of the six innings counting two clus in the fifth and a single counter in the final session. Nine bingles, several of which were infield taps that the locals whom the Mobile scribes claim have no speed beat out for hits. Swinging bats that added to a great extent in Campbell's downfall, he and O'Dell being unable to handle them with any degree of accuracy. Smith and Bisland. Wallop Smith and Bizzy Bisland were the boys with the old maul Thursday. Wallop drove in the first two runs with a clout to the score board for three and Bizzy sent him home with a bingle. Not to be outdone by his side kick, Bizzy slapped over to the plate and after such a disheartening start and criticism that was heaped on him, which was not merited in its entirety. Better luck next time Elliott, old boy. Keep a stiff upper lip.

WORKINGMAN GOLFER TO PLAY IN U S TOURNEY

New York May 27—Local golfing circles are interested in a report from London to the effect that Abe Mitchell, the English workingman golfer, may enter the United States amateur and open championship this summer. Mitchell who was the runner up in the English amateur golf championship for a year last year against John Ball, a chauffeur in the English team, the South Atlantic mining magnate. He has played golf all his life taking his first lessons at Ashdown Forest where other members of his family have distinguished themselves at the game. He played for years for the Canteloupe workingman's club, but was unknown until last year when he got into the final with Ball. Considerable feeling was aroused over this match which was won by Ball by one up for 38 holes.

VINCENT ASTOR OWNS FASTEST MOTOR BOAT

New York May 22—Vincent Astor is the owner of what is said to be the fastest 55 foot motor boat in American waters. In its initial tryout on the Hudson yesterday with Mr. Astor at the wheel the craft developed a speed of better than 32 miles an hour and is capable of 35 when pushed to the limit. The boat named Coreyria which was built by a New Jersey firm has a new type of engine which has never before been installed in any kind of vessel. The boat cost about $10,000. It was said and required an outlay of $10 an hour to run it. In a race with a hydroplane yesterday, it raced at 35 miles an hour the craft won three times first in even terms and later, following the hydroplane a flying start.

TWO-STATE TRAVELERS MEETING IN COLUMBUS

Grand Council Georgia-Florida Division, U. C. T., Convened With 500 Delegates.

Columbus, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—With some 500 delegates in attendance from practically all sections of Georgia and Florida, the grand council of the Georgia-Florida division, United Commercial Travelers, met in annual convention here this morning for a two-days' session. Mayor L. H. Chappell, representing the city, and J. R. Cargill, the local council, welcomed the visitors to the city in appropriate addresses when the session was formally called to order in the Masonic temple at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and responses were made by Grand Councilor R. M. Cole and Supreme Councilor L. E. Vallof.

The meeting was called to order by Senior Councilor W. C. Thornton, who presided during the preliminary exercises, and a splendid orchestra dispensed sweet music at intervals during the day. Dr. L. R. Christie pronounced the opening invocation and Dr. O. B. Chester the benediction at the noon hour when the grand council adjourned for luncheon.

When the convention was reconvened 1:30 in the afternoon, it was seen that many additional visitors had arrived, swelling the attendance considerably. With Grand Councilor Cole presiding, a business session, lasting for some hours, was held, when much routine matter was disposed of by the convention. This session adjourned in time for the visitors to attend a ball game between the teams of Columbus and Charleston at 4 o'clock, and at 7:30 o'clock, when the visitors on a steamboat excursion down the Chattahoochee river, this being one of the most interesting social features of the gathering.

R. H. Rowe, of Atlanta, Firing Line editor of the Atlanta Journal, in a "booster" talk to the meeting, in which he had not a few interesting and amusing things to say. F. E. Limbaugh, of Atlanta, a well-known barber of that city, made a talk in which he earnestly urged the passage of a law by the legislature, requiring barber shops to keep in first-class condition. He urged that they be kept sanitary and clean at all times, the same as hotels are kept under the law.

D. D. Shackelford, of Atlanta, a traveling editor, also advocated a law, providing the inspection of hotels to see that the law in respect to sanitation and cleanliness be observed. One of the big features of tomorrow's program is the parade, to be held in the afternoon by the "Bagmen of Bagdad," which promises to be quite an amusing and interesting event. The convention will close tomorrow night with a big dance at the Racine hotel.

BROTHER PREVENTS ELOPEMENT PLANNED BY WESLEYAN GIRL

Macon, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—A message to the effect that his sister, Miss Edith Langdale, 19 years of age, and a freshman at Wesleyan college, was preparing to elope with a young man from Council Bluffs, Iowa, brought H. Langdale, a Valdosta lawyer and president of the Valdosta Baseball club, to Macon this morning.

Mr. Langdale confronted his sister with the report and, despite her tearful denial, accompanied by one of the members of the college faculty, he escorted the young lady to the depot and took her home to Valdosta. "If my sister is going to get married, I want her to do it at home, where we can all witness the ceremony," said Mr. Langdale to a reporter.

Mr. Bartlett, the matron of the college, is said to have sent word to Valdosta last night that the marriage was to occur some time this afternoon, and it was that information which brought Mr. Langdale to Macon.

Bridges Smith to Run.

Macon, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—There is now little doubt but that Bridges Smith, Macon's former mayor and present city clerk, will make the race for mayor this year. The rumors have been put in circulation by his friends and they are being liberally signed. So far Mr. Smith has made no definite announcement, though it is known he prefers his present position of the city clerk, to the municipal government, but feels that if the voters of Macon really want him for their mayor again that it is his duty to run.

CRUELTY ALLEGED BY EVERETT'S WIFE

Suit for $5,000 Temporary Alimony, Alleging Cruel Treatment, Filed Against Alderman.

Mrs. Clara E. Everett, wife of Alderman James B. Everett, filed suit for $5,000 temporary alimony yesterday in the superior court, charging that cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of her husband forced her to leave him on July 1, 1912. Specific instances of the alleged cruel treatment are not given in the petition, and the only instance of an act on the part of the alderman which his wife cites as objectionable is the claim that he persuaded her to mortgage her equity in a house and lot at 658 North Boulevard and used the money for his own purposes. She declares that the mortgage she placed on the property amounts to $3,100, and that it is more than half the value of the place, which, she says, was given to her by her mother shortly after her marriage on November 24, 1904.

In her petition, filed by Attorneys Maddox & Sims, Mrs. Everett states that her husband is employed by the theatrical club at a monthly salary of $150, and that "he also holds a position as alderman, from which he derives a large sum each year." She declares also that he is a stockholder in the theatrical club, and draws annual dividends from his stock, in addition to receiving his salary.

Mrs. Everett asserts that she has no income upon which to live, as the returns from the North Boulevard property are hardly more than enough to pay taxes and upkeep, and that since the separation she has had to live with friends and relatives.

She asks the sum of $5,000 as temporary alimony, and she also requests the court to order her husband to pay her temporary alimony, attorneys' fees and costs of court, pending the final litigation. Judge John T. Pendleton set May 31 as the date for hearing the petition for temporary alimony and fees.

W. J. REEVES IS FREED OF DISTILLING CHARGE

Zebulon, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—W. J. Reeves, who was taken to Macon by Deputy Marshall Riley some days ago on account of an illicit distillery found on his land, near this place, had a preliminary trial before Commissioner W. E. Martin yesterday and was discharged, as there was no evidence connecting Mr. Reeves with the still. This is what Mr. Reeves' friends expected, as they were satisfied that he knew nothing of the distillery, and that since the separation she has had to live with friends and relatives.

Wickersham Was Wrong.

Washington, May 22.—Delegate Wickersham's statement before the senate territories committee today, that Senator Chamberlain had introduced, and that the senate had passed, a bill which would have turned Cordova harbor, Alaska, over to the "Guggenbergs," had it not been killed in the house by Mr. Wickersham himself, E. Martin yesterday and was discharged, as there was no evidence connecting Mr. Reeves with the still. This is what Mr. Reeves' friends expected, as they were satisfied that he knew nothing of the distillery, and that since the separation she has had to live with friends and relatives.

65 COUNTIES REPORT CONDITIONS IMPROVED

General Rain in East and Showers in West Have Bettered Crops in Georgia.

Athens, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—Reports from about 65 counties coming to the Georgia State College of Agriculture from the farm demonstration agents, are the most favorable of the season, while local showers are reported from various portions of the western section. A number of counties are, however, still exceedingly dry from the long drought. Where the rains have been felt corn and cotton have appeared above the surface in better stands than some had anticipated, yet cotton has not a full stand by any means, while corn, generally speaking, may be said to have a fair stand. Spring sown oats have turned out poorly but fall sown oats are very generally good. November sown oats are the best of all, suffering comparatively little from drought. Reports indicate that the fields are well cultivated. A gratifying number of farmers will follow oats this year with cow peas or other legumes, and the general tendency toward diversifying crops is increasing. Where farmers have failed to get cotton stands many of them have planted to corn and have thus evaded the adversity which would have followed reliance upon cotton alone.

AGNES SCOTT WILL GRADUATE BIG CLASS

Largest Class in History of the Institution Will Receive Diplomas Wednesday.

When sixteen young ladies are handed their diplomas by the president of Agnes Scott next Wednesday they will constitute the largest class yet graduated by the institution. Special interest attaches to this inasmuch as the school was last fall placed into class A of the female colleges of the country.

Misses Laura Mel Towers, of Birmingham, Ala., class president; Allie Gardner Candler, of Atlanta, vice president; Helen Maude Smith, of Washington, D. C., secretary and treasurer; Frances Dukes, of Quilman, Ga., class poet; Emma Pope Moss, of Marietta, class historian; Grace Lydia Anderson, of Cary, N. C., secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Kate Hutchison Clark, Montgomery, Ala.; Mary Lois Enzor, of Troy, Ala.; Elizabeth Frances Joiner, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Janie Wood Mack, of Columbus, Ga.; Mary Louise Mott, of Decatur, Ala.; Eleanor Pinkston, of Greenville, Ga.; Margaret Roberts, of Valdosta, Ga.; Lavallie Kennerly Sloan, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Florence Smith, of Atlanta.

Graduation will be replete with entertainments and exercises that will dwell long in the memories of the young ladies. Perhaps the most noteworthy of these will be the "Confession" by Miss Ruth Bogard, Monticello, Ga., and the "Prayer" by Miss Allie Candler, her president of the seniors, at her home in Druid Hills. On that occasion all the girls who are engaged will be required to "kiss" their fiancés at the luncheon the class will attend at an extra lot by members of the art class.

Tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock a song recital will be given in the college auditorium by the music pupils. The Rev. Charles E. Trotter, professor of homiletics at Princeton, will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and at 8:30 Monday night the Glee Club will give its last performance of the year. At the annual celebration of the Proprietary and Memento Literary societies, which comes at 8:30 Tuesday night, the question, "Resolved, That the Panama Canal Shall Be Open Without Tax Charges," will be debated. Wednesday night at 10 o'clock the graduating exercises will be held, and diplomas will be presented to the 16 members of the senior class. Most of the Agnes Scott girls will leave for their various homes on Wednesday, though several are planning to visit friends in Atlanta for a few days.

Similar Fate to Walker's Narrowly Escaped by Roy

The same mistake that cost the life of Sanders Walker, Jr., the young Macon real estate man, who died from taking bichloride of mercury, occurred recently to Dr. Dumbear Roy, a prominent Atlanta physician, at his residence 221 Peachtree street, but due to his knowledge of drugs cost him no ill effects.

The Macon man took seven and a quarter grains of the powerful poison, under the impression that he was taking a dose of aspirin, and Dr. Roy took one grain of bichloride of mercury, thinking he was taking a one-grain dose of calomel.

According to Dr. Roy's own statement the amount of the poison that he took would have been sufficient to have caused practically the same effect as the larger dose did to Walker, but he was saved by realizing that he had made a mistake, and by applying proper emetics immediately.

STONE'S ELECTION MAY BE PROBED

Resolution Demanding Investigation May Be Introduced in Northern Presbyterian Assembly.

Before the assembly of the Northern Presbyterian church, in session today, a resolution or perhaps several resolutions similar in nature, will be introduced demanding an investigation of the reports that deception was used by certain commissioners in the nomination and election of John Timothy Stone as moderator of the assembly.

The advocates of Dr. Stone announced in an assembly last week that they would nominate a man who had not previously been considered, and whose candidacy was entirely spontaneous. The impression was given that no concerted movement for the election of Dr. Stone had been made.

The assembly understands thoroughly that so far as Dr. Stone himself is concerned, his candidacy was a surprise and that he was not expected to be nominated.

As an aftermath of the $2,500,000 Kennedy fund fight in the Northern assembly, in which $500,000 was voted at the immediate disposal of those churches in the fund which were in need of new buildings, Dr. Stone was chosen as secretary of the board of church erection, being quoted as saying that the matter had gone over his head.

Much feeling has been stirred up among the friends of the home mission board by the story which went to the New York paper regarding the action of the Northern assembly concerning the home board policy. The New York dispatch read that the enemies of the board of the story which went to the New York paper regarding the action of the Northern assembly concerning the home board policy.

STRONG RIDING WEAK, ASSERTS DR. ELLIOTT

Noted Social Worker, in Ethical Lecture, Says World Must Realize Rights of Weak.

"Get off the backs of the weak!" With these words, Dr. John Elliott reached the height of a forceful and penetrating address Thursday night at Cable hall—forceful, because it gripped the intense interest of everyone present for a whole hour, and penetrating, because it delved to the very heart of the industrial problem of America.

Dr. Elliott is one of the most noted social workers in the country, being head of the Hudson Guild in New York city. He spoke under the auspices of the special ethical lecture committee, which has furnished Atlanta such a splendid series of "ethical lectures" during the past year.

The message brought by Dr. Elliott Thursday night was that of recognition of the rights of the weak. He described the conditions of life in which the weaker half of America's varied populace are forced to live. Factors which the children are made old men and women; sweatshops where widows stitch away their lives and their little children's lives, too; department stores, offices and switch-boards where girls work day and night, or escaping slavery, the driven help of women.

Dr. Elliott described this picture as representing, not a universal, but a very important component part of America's life.

"America has not done justice to the weak. The strong are riding upon the backs of those whom circumstances have placed on the bottom of the world. Then only will we do our duty to the world's unfortunate."

In touching further upon the problem of the working girl's condition, Dr. Elliott declared that the women of America would have to interest themselves in the situation, as an entire class, before the solution to the problem would be found. Well-directed legislation by the women, he would result in recognition of the justice of the minimum wage, and the uplift of the working girl's condition which would inevitably follow.

Dr. Elliott, who is staying at the Georgia Hotel, expects to return to New York Friday, having made the trip south for the express purpose of delivering the lecture in Atlanta.

PLAN REORGANIZATION FOR BRINSON RAILWAY

Owners Decide to Spend Million in Extending and Improving the Property.

Savannah, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—At a meeting today of the owners of the Brinson railway it was decided to reorganize and reorganize the system. Approximately $1,000,000 is to be spent in extending and improving the property in the immediate future.

A meeting of the stockholders will be held in a month when these plans will be confirmed. President George M. Brinson will remain president, though it is said his authority will be more in the nature of an advisor than an executive. Richard Morgan, formerly connected with the Illinois Central, will be general manager of the Brinson system.

The idea is that the Brinson will be changed from a tramway to a real railroad. This is the way one of the company's financial backers expressed it. Heavy rails will be laid, grades will be cut and considerable new equipment will be added. Something like 350 new freight cars are to be ordered at once to enable the company to handle the business of the Great Eastern lumber company, with whom a contract was today entered into.

CONFESSED TO MURDER, BUT WAS RELEASED

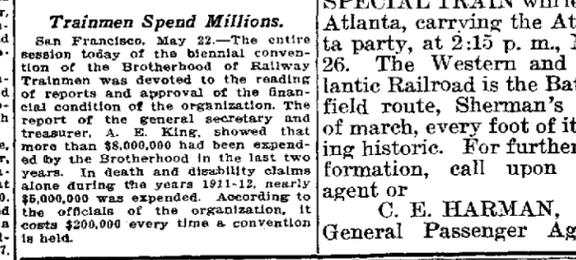

Carcaonne, France, May 22.—Miguel Vallespi, who recently returned here from the Argentine Republic and gave himself up to the police, declaring that he wished to go to the guillotine for the murder of a woman fifteen years ago, was given his freedom today.

Vallespi stated his story in the case court before a jury and told of his struggles with his conscience, which finally led to his spiritual conversion and irresolutely impelled him to give up a prosperous position in Argentina to expiate the crime in France, to satisfy the law. The jury, without leaving the box, acquitted him amid applause.

The crime caused a great sensation in France at the time, and Vallespi, who was suspected of killing the woman for her money, disappeared. He was adjudged guilty by default and condemned to the guillotine.

INCREASED STRENGTH IN COTTON MARKET

Closed Firm at Net Gain of From 13 to 17 Points—Unfavorable Weather Reports.

New York, May 22.—The cotton market showed increased activity and strength today with prices making new high ground for the movement and closing firm at a net gain of from 13 to 17 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices. In an advance of 3 points in sympathy with higher Liverpool cables.

The demand became more active for a turn, or some selling houses with southern connections which may have been encouraged by prospects for fairing weather in the western and central belts.

Only slight recessions occurred, however, and the market gradually gained strength on continued covering and scattered buying, part of which seemed to come from trade sources.

The demand became more active after the publication of the detailed weather reports showing heavy rains in the central belt which has recently been complaining of excessive moisture, and on the consequent advance stop orders were uncovered.

More of the cotton was sold in the afternoon and prices shot up sharply, with July contracts selling at 11.83 and December at 11.26 or about 36 to 42 points above the recent low level and at the highest point reached since the break in last April.

Realizing it was not enough to check the advance around these prices, but the close was within a point or two of the best. Beyond the apprehensions of too much rain in the central belt, there seemed to be nothing fresh in the new crop news.

The new crop news, however, with reference to the probable showing of the first government condition report.

The steadiness of Liverpool and further reduction in the local cotton and stock were factors in the advance, however, and shorts were probably rendered more sensitive to the unfavorable reports from the central belt, by the fact that prices had failed to weaken on the breaking of the eastern belt drought toward the end of last week.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, May 22.—Heavy buying featured the cotton market here today. It was for large traders who were taking the long side in an effort to raise the large market price.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 2 points. The advance was followed by the bulls to too much rain in the central and western sections of the belt.

LONGS TAKE PROFITS AND WHEAT DECLINES

Close Weak, Although Reports of Serious Damage in Arkansas Were Confirmed.

Chicago, May 22.—Heavy profit-taking by longs today gave the wheat market a setback notwithstanding that serious damage in Arkansas was confirmed.

The close was weak, with prices ranging from 3-8c net decline to 1-8c advance. Corn finished 8-8 to 1-8c up, oats at a gain of 1-8 to 1-4c.

Final weakness resulted partly from statements that even allowing 50 per cent damage in southwest Kansas, the state would still have a crop of 100,000 bushels.

Corn advanced on account of big purchasing by well known speculators. They took the position that nothing but receipts here would check an advance.

When buying ceased, the market slowly reacted. Many reports that crop progress was unsatisfactory lifted the price of oats.

Selling credited to the big packers eased the provision market. The best demand came from pig traders influenced by the strength of coarse grain.

UPWARD MOVEMENT IN STOCK MARKET

Important Stocks Up 1 to 2 Points—Harriman Stocks Led—Trading Heavier.

New York, May 22.—In a comprehensive upward movement which lifted the important stocks to 2 points, the market today broke away from the narrow groove which it has been following recently.

Trading was heavier and the ease with which prices were marked up suggested a scant supply of stocks.

It was assumed that short selling had been over-extended, and that covering was primarily responsible for the rise.

The Harriman stocks led in the upward movement, being influenced by persistent rumors that a plan had been agreed upon for separation of the properties in accordance with the decree of the supreme court.

Considerable importance was attached to the announcement that $100,000 gold had been engaged for export to Europe.

Bonds advanced after some hesitation in the early trading. There was a good market for the new issues of New York city bonds at 100.

BOARD OF EDUCATION URGES NEW BUILDING

New Quarters for Girls' English Commercial High School Will Take Precedence.

That the erection of the Girls' English Commercial High school should take precedence over any other new building was determined by the board of education yesterday. The board passed unanimously a resolution urged by W. H. Rich looking to the construction of the new school building at the earliest date possible.

Mr. Rich pointed out that there was a most urgent need for a new high school. There are between eighty and one hundred girls now seeking a business education for whom the housing facilities are altogether inadequate. It was the duty of the board to see that these girls were given an opportunity to acquire the knowledge which was necessary to enable them to earn a livelihood.

There were some debates in the board as to the advisability of employing a dental inspector to make periodical examinations of the children's teeth.

Mr. Krieger, chairman of the committee of finance, reported on the examination of the children's teeth. He stated that 75 per cent of the Bell street and 50 per cent of the Crew street pupils had had their teeth treated as a result of the first examination.

The matter was finally referred to the finance committee. There was discussion as to whether the medical inspectors were to be paid for the amount of work done.

It was decided that the board should not require of them five hours of work daily, instead of four as at present.

Report on Penny Lunches.
A petition signed by the principals of all the white schools in the city was read before the board.

GREEKS AND BULGARS BATTLE AT SALONIKI

Conflict Continued Entire Day With Great Fury—Artillery Freely Used.

London, May 22.—(Special.)—Saloniki and Athens tonight report another serious conflict between the Bulgarians and Greeks. Recent fighting led to the establishment of a neutral zone near Saloniki, but on May 20 a strong Bulgarian force, with artillery, violated the zone and were hotly opposed by the Greeks. The result of the engagement has not been disclosed.

The Times' Saloniki correspondent says that the fighting between the Bulgarians and Greeks continued the whole day, apparently with great fury. Artillery was freely used to cover the infantry attack.

A Sofia dispatch to The Times says that a definite territorial agreement exists between Serbia and Greece, excluding Bulgaria from all the region west of the river Vardar and Bregalnitsa. By this agreement Greece would obtain Salonki, Florina, Vodena, Kalkuss, Seres, Rama and Kavala; Serbia getting Struga Ochrida, Monastir and Pelepe.

Cordele Teachers Named.

Cordele, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—One of the strongest evidences of the splendid success of the session of the O'Neal High school, which has just closed, and of the satisfaction and harmony with which all parties concerned in the school have worked, is that at a recent meeting of the city school board, every member of the corps of teachers was re-elected by a unanimous vote.

Portland, Ore., May 22.—Efforts of the Oregon Equal Suffrage association to extend the sphere of women in governing body of the Protestant Episcopal church failed, when the annual convention of the diocese of Oregon unanimously laid on the table a resolution demanding representation in the diocesan convention.

Chancellor Gilman explained that whatever voice the women of Oregon might have in the government of the commonwealth, the constitution and canons of the Episcopal church were plainly antagonistic to accord them representation at this time.

BELL IS ELECTED TO HEAD PYTHIANS

Waycross, Ga., May 22.—The grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias of Georgia in annual convention here today, elected the following officers: Grand chancellor, N. S. Bell, Milledgeville; grand vice chancellor, H. N. Stanley, Dublin; grand prelate, John B. Cheney, Marietta; grand keeper of records and seals, W. H. Leopold, Savannah; grand master of the exchequer, R. C. Norman, Washington; grand master-at-arms, Troy

Prizes for Savannah.
In the annual prize drill between companies of the uniform rank which featured the closing of the most successful grand lodge convention ever held in Georgia, Savannah companies walked away with three of the four prizes.

Georgia, Company No. 1, of Savannah, was first prize winner; Teutonic, No. 2, of Atlanta, third; Company 15, of Savannah, fourth.

The cavalry troops of Savannah were given $100 for attending the convention. The prizes were $200, $150, $100 and $50, respectively.

After some discussion the convention voted to adopt Mason as the permanent place for the state Pythians. It is understood that this is the first step towards making Macon headquarters for the state.

The grand lodge took action on one of the retiring grand chancellor's suggestions today by cutting the state district deputy grand chancellors from 24 to 12. This was done in view of the work of the state deputy.

A council of the grand lodge officers was held at headquarters this afternoon at the request of Grand Chancellor Miller S. Bell, and plans for the year's work discussed in detail.

Pythian Sisters Elected.
Pythian sisters elected grand temple officers as follows at their concluding session today: Past grand chief, Mrs. Jennie E. Dreese, of Savannah; grand chief, Mrs. Madara Brown, of Augusta; grand senior, Mrs. Addie Koneman, of Savannah; grand junior, Mrs. Julia Schautele, of Augusta; grand manager, Miss Helen Glass, of Fort Valley; grand mistress of records and correspondence, Mrs. Margaret Miller S. Bell, and attended by the temple. The supreme representative elected was Mrs. Jessie Cox, of Savannah, and H.Mr. E. M. Schroeder, of Savannah, alternate.

Today the supreme chief of Pythian sisters, Mrs. Ida M. Johnson, of Colorado, visited Waycross and attended the convention. This is her first visit to Georgia. Tonight she went to Savannah with Mrs. Dreese to be the guest of the Pythian sisters of that city at a reception at Thunderbolt casino tomorrow night.

Waycross today has the two highest Pythian officials in the world, Supreme Chancellor T. J. Carling, of Macon, being in the city also.

Sketch of Bell.
Milledgeville, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—Miller S. Bell, mayor of Milledgeville, elected grand chancellor, Knights of Pythias, is well known over all Georgia, being ex-president of the State Bankers' association, and has just been nominated to serve his fourth term as mayor of the city.

He was first grand vizier of Yekod Temple, D. O. O. K., and has served all posts to the grand lodge from outer guard up to the present high office.

The election of Mr. Bell to the grand chancellor's office is welcomed throughout the state, over 20,000 members of the order being loyal to their leader. While Mr. Bell is prominent in Waycross today as a leading business man, being president of the Milledgeville Banking company and allied with several other big concerns of this city. He is also treasurer of the board of trustees of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college and a member of the board of trustees of the Georgia Military college.
