WASHINGTON, May 8.—Public health observations so far into the condition of the patients inoculated by Dr. F. P. Friedmann with his tuberculin vaccine, do not justify that confidence in the remedy, which has been inspired by widespread publicity, in the opinion of the United States Surgeons.

TARIFF BILL IN SENATE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

Democratic Sub-Committee Is Ready to Report on Various Provisions of the Bill

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, introduced by the Democratic party as the answer to the tariff platform pledge to revise the tariff downward, was passed by the House last night. The vote was 281 to 136, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans supporting it. Four progressives supported the bill and fourteen opposed it, while one independent progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction in the result of the day's work, he had promptly returned from his long trip to the West Coast, where he had been negotiating with the various states in the West of the tariff bill. He had also received the report of the committee on the tariff bill, which was favorable to the measure. The report was made public in the House on Monday.

With the bill a month or so outstanding on the way to the Senate, there was a dash of representatives for their home states. The House adjournment will be taken three days at a time, beginning next week (June 1). In the meantime the Senate Finance Committee will study the bill, while the House will continue its work on the tariff bill.

Republicans who voted for the bill were Cary and Stanford, of Wisconsin. Democrats who opposed it were Browne, Dupre, Leake and Morgan of Louisiana, on account of the schedule reducing sugar 25 per cent and sending it to the free list in three years, and C. B. Smith, of New York. Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelly and Ripley, of Pennsylvania; Nolan, of California; and Bryan, of Washington. Kent, of California, formerly a Republican, but now an independent progressive, also voted for the bill.

Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his progressive followers voted with the minority. Representative Vreeland, a progressive, did not vote, "present" to his name.

FRIEDMANN PATIENTS SHOW LITTLE CHANGE SINCE INOCULATION

material from Dr. Friedman's for the investigation.

On the whole, Dr. Friedman's reluctance to furnish certain details, "were not satisfactory" from a scientific standpoint, but the report says "in view of the great importance of the matter to tuberculous patients throughout the country and in the belief that a valuable remedy might have at last been found to not only cure tuberculous patients but to prevent the disease, the conditions imposed by Dr. Friedman were accepted. An additional reason for taking advantage of opportunities to make every study possible, was the assurance by Dr. Friedman of his harmlessness when injected into human beings."

One of the conditions imposed by Dr. Friedman, according to the report, was that he would furnish detailed information of the methods of preparing his remedy when the public health board received favorable results in patients.

The board found that under all the conditions imposed it would have opportunity only to study a culture of the bacteria said to be in some way affected by Friedman in the preparation of the treatment, to test its pathogenicity on the lowest animals and observe the effect of treatment by him of tuberculous patients with his "Bacterin" remedy. These limitations of the investigation were satisfactory from the scientific standpoint.

The report is careful to say that Friedman's reluctance to do so was not intended to interfere with the judgment of the board of the effects which it has observed.

The government investigation is not finished as the tests being conducted in the hygienic laboratory here and the observations of the persons inoculated will be continued.

Immediately after presentation of the public health report a resolution was unanimously adopted declaring it to be the judgment of the association that "no specific cure for tuberculosis had yet been discovered to warrant the confidence of the public or the medical profession."

All that present methods of treatment be continued. Dr. Friedman's method, mentioned by name in the resolution, was not to be continued.

The association adopted a resolution recommending that the house of representatives be notified of the results of the public health report as soon as possible.

Twelve new directors, six laymen and six doctors, were elected to fill vacancies.

Among them were:
 Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the children's bureau of the department of health; Dr. Charles P. Nell, of the college of dentistry; and Weston S. Hankin, Raleigh, N. C.

NEW YORK POLICE ARE GIVEN HEAVY SENTENCES

Convicted Inspectors Get Maximum Sentence for Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice

(By Associated Press.)
 NEW YORK, May 7.—Demetrius Sweeney, John A. Murray, James J. Horney and James J. Thompson, former police inspectors, convicted of conspiring to obstruct justice by checking arrests today "were one year in the penitentiary and pay a fine of $100 each. This is the maximum sentence."

In the moment that the sentence was pronounced the bailiff prevailed that one of the four would "speak to the district attorney of the man, higher up."

It is not yet too late for one of the inspectors to save himself by a stern, on-the-spot statement.

So moves of day court looking to an appeal was taken by any of the four prisoners today.

An effective club against appeal is held by the district attorney in the form of fifteen indictments for bribery—a felony—recently returned against the district attorney. The crime for which the four inspectors—highest uniformed officials in the department—were convicted was brought to light by the district attorney's investigation and was not admitted by the four inspectors.

George A. Ship, a resort keeper, told Mr. Whitman that he could register objection money to collect a grand jury for Sweeney. When it came time for Ship to testify before the grand jury he had been arrested.

It was found at Atlantic City, brought back to New York and certified that Sweeney and his three confederates had raised a fund and hired him to remain out of the state.

Benett, W. A. Boyer and Albert Hottel, only the films of vest of his corpse for one of both of the prisoners, is likely to precipitate immediate action by the grand jury, and there has been no indication from Attorney Luther Z. Rosser, counsel for Mr. Frank, that he will seek the liberation of his client through a habeas corpus writ.

Investigation Just Begun
 Says Detective Lanford

General satisfaction was expressed Friday morning by the detective work of the Michigan case at the action of the coroner's jury.

"Chief of Detectives Lanford, however, declares that the work of his department is just now getting underway."

"We are going to continue right on with the investigation," said the official, "and try to tie down to the truth of this matter."

"We have a theory as to who committed the crime, but we are ready to change it if we can possibly unearth any evidence which will prove that theory wrong. We are going to make an impartial investigation and we are not going to leave anything undone, which might tend towards the solution of the mystery."

"My men will not be so quoted for time now and they can make systematic work of importance in the case, and they must have much work before them. Even if nothing new develops, we have almost half a dozen men busy for the time being."

Detectives Campbell, Starnes, Clark, and Dean Rosser, who have been working on the case, are still detailed to the investigation.

HOUSE BEGINS TRIAL OF MILLIONAIRE GLOVER

Charged With Contempt for Striking Congressman Sims of Tennessee

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, May 9.—The House met an hour early this usual today to take up and act upon the case of Charles C. Glover, the millionaire bank president, whom a special house committee found guilty of contempt for neglecting to appear before the committee in Tennessee, in Farragut square on April 18. The incident was the subject of a resolution introduced by Representative Campbell and passed by the House on Monday.

A special committee of the house recommended that the speaker issue a warrant for Mr. Glover's arrest to answer the contempt charge.

The Democratic leader Underwood said that the matter would be discussed and disposed of at today's session.

When Representative Davis called up the resolution Representative Campbell, of Kansas, asked for an hour to speak against the committee's recommendation. An arrangement was finally made for five hours of debate on the resolution, and Representative Davis opened the discussion with explanation of the committee's report.

Representative Moon, of Tennessee, attacked the Washington banker. He referred to a conversation between himself and Mr. Glover mentioned in the committee's investigation, in which Mr. Glover, according to Representative Moon, expressed regret that the law prevented detaining him.

"The fact that Mr. Glover wanted to fight a duel," said Mr. Moon, "indicates that he had murder in his heart. Not only did he commit a contempt of this house, but he wanted to kill the man who thwarted his attempt to reach his arms into the United States treasury. This is the extent of the offending of Mr. Sims. He stood here to protect the interest of the government; he defied an attempt to plunder the treasury."

Representative Campbell cried that the house was exceeding its power in undertaking to prosecute punishment for an offense against the law of the land.

"We are today," said Mr. Underwood, "a citizen of the United States his constitutional right of a trial by jury in the courts of the land, on a charge of assault and battery."

Mr. Glover's attack on Mr. Sims followed.
