IDENTITY OF SOLICITOR'S DETECTIVE A MYSTERY

Chief Lanford Believes He Is One of Sheriff's Capable Deputies—Gantt Questioned,
Newt Lee Has Lawyer

The probe into the mystery of little Mary Phagan's death two weeks ago still goes on.

The small army of professional, amateur, city, state and private detectives which took up the chase of the murderer soon after the horrible details of the crime became known still pursues the investigation with unabated vigor.

Solicitor Dorsey's detective, heralded as the best in the world and admitted by the solicitor to be an A-1 man, remains a mystery. Mr. Dorsey refuses to divulge his identity, and even the attaches of his office profess not to know his name.

N. A. Lanford, chief of the city detectives, who has known not even a twelve-hour working day law since the crime was discovered, and who has been vigorously following every tangible "lead," treats the story of Mr. Dorsey's sleuth into the Himglight very lightly, and expresses the opinion that the mysterious man is no other than a very conscientious and efficient young deputy in the solicitor's office.

PUBLIC KNOWS ALL.
Officials of the Pinkerton agency, which has been employed to ferret out the mystery by the National Pencil company, declare that they are well satisfied with the progress made, and add that the public is now in possession of practically all of the really important points in the state's case. They regard the highly important testimony of Miss Monteen Stover, the Pinkertons state that the identity of the mysterious detective who has been brought into the case by Solicitor Dorsey is not known to them.

"We welcome any assistance which the alleged detectives can give the state, for we are only interested in seeing the mystery cleared and the guilty party brought to trial. However, working with the city department, and giving it the benefit of everything we learn, we have done all that is humanly possible for detectives to do, and we are continuing the probe with the intention of leaving no stone unturned."

Solicitor Dorsey on Saturday again gave practically his entire time to the Phagan investigation, and interviewed during the morning many of the city detectives, who are working on the case.

GANTT INTERVIEWED.
Among the witnesses whom he saw Saturday was M. Gantt, who for a few days was held by the detectives in connection with the case. Gantt, it is said, made a statement relative to the nervousness of Superintendent L. M. Frank when he met Gantt at the door of the factory Saturday afternoon two weeks ago.

Newt Lee, the negro ordered held by the coroner's jury, stated to Deputy Police Officer Saturday that in future he would refuse to talk to anyone except his attorney. The negro didn't remember his lawyer's name, but it was later learned that he is being represented by Attorney Bernard L. Chappelle, of 609 Temple court building. Attorney Murray Donnell, who was first reported to be counsel for the incarcerated negro, states that the report is a mistake.

As the result of the Phagan investigation it is probable that the city council will be asked to allow the city detectives money for reasonable expenses incurred in their investigations.

IMPORTANT WITNESS.
Monteen Stover, a fourteen-year-old girl of 131 South Forsyth street, has made an affidavit declaring that she went to the office of Superintendent L. M. Frank, of the National Pencil factory, at 12:05 o'clock on last Memorial day, and remained there until 12:10 o'clock without seeing any person in the building.

The young girl, who is a former employee of the factory, is regarded as one of the state's most important witnesses, and her testimony will be used to help strengthen the state's case, when the Phagan murder mystery is investigated by the grand jury.

Mr. Frank testified at the inquest that he remained in his office from the time the stenographer, Miss Hall, left as the noon whistles blew until the arrival of Lemmie Quinn at 12:25 o'clock. He also declared that Mary Phagan entered the office about 1 minute after 12 o'clock, the time Miss Stover says that she came to the office and found it empty.

According to Miss Stover she walked up the steps at 12:05, and looking at the clock, which she was accustomed to punch, and went straight to the office. There was no one in the outer office, so she went to Mr. Frank's private office and found it empty. She waited for five minutes, she says, and having heard no one in the building, left.

The detectives found this witness last Saturday when she returned to the factory to get the pay envelope, which she failed to get on her trip to the factory the week before.

She was with her mother on this second trip and they told of the former visit, when the officers who were stationed at the door of the factory, stopped them.

Miss Stover is a daughter of Mrs. Homer Edmondson, a boarding house keeper, and she is now employed as a salesgirl at a local store. She worked at the pencil factory for about a year, she says.

ATLANTA, 1914. CRY Y A A R A B SHRINERS EN ROUTE TO DALLAS

Drum Corps, Patrol and Nobles
Reach Meridian Early Satur-

Enthusiastic Welcome

"YAARAB" SPECIAL WILL REACH TEXAS ON SUNDAY

Big Delegation From Atlanta
Temple Will Arrive at Shreveport Saturday Night,
After Day in Mississippi

BY RAYMOND DANIEL,
Journal Staff Correspondent.

(On Board The "Yaarab" Special.)

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 10.—No more joyous caravan ever trekked to an oasis of the Ancient, Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, than the Atlanta contingent of Yaarab temple, which passed through Meridian shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday morning, en route to Dallas, Tex., to bring back home the acceptance of Atlanta's invitation for the mammoth convocation in 1914. Some residents of Meridian may sleep late generally, but Saturday morning was no exception. There evidently was no one left at home to keep the kitchen fire, for the railway station looked like a circus day in a country town. The early morning guests gave hearty welcome to the Atlanta Nobles, and to an hour and a half, the Atlanta eyes from the Pullman cars gave back eager responses.

Birmingham was passed before that city was awake—the "Yaarab" Special, having reached the Alabama city at 3:20 a. m.

ONE CONTINUOUS JOY.

From the time the Nobles embarked at the Terminal station at 10 o'clock Friday night, the trip has been most pleasant. The usual pranks of fun-loving, care-free Shriners was everywhere in evidence on the special train, and there have been sleep-loving Shriners who have broken all records for early to bed. The Nobles, however, were just as healthy and wise, and the wealth of merriment and good times has broken all former records for trips of this kind.

The hearty welcome that had been planned by Meridian necessitated extending the stopover time from half an hour to one hour and a half. The Atlanta nobles were met at the train by the Meridian patrol and a committee consisting of practically every lady in the town and every Shriner.

The nobles were placed in automobiles and escorted to a restaurant, where an old-fashioned Mississippi breakfast was served. The visitors were then carried over Meridian in automobiles.

ANOTHER BOMB FOUND IN POSTOFFICE AT READING

Parcel Containing Bomb Addressed to Reading Official
Was Clock Affair Set to Go Off After Delivery Hour

LONDON, May 10.—Two more of the now familiar bombs with which the militant suffragettes are attempting to scare the British parliament into giving the parliamentary franchise to women, were discovered this morning. One of them was found in the passengers' waiting room at the busy Lime street railroad station in Liverpool, and the other in the sorting room of the postoffice at Reading.

The fuse of the Liverpool bomb had been lighted by the perpetrator of the outrage, but had died out before it reached the gunpowder. The instrument of intended destruction consisted of a tin tobacco box filled with gunpowder and iron nuts, and the long fuse was laid in the center.

The Reading machine was wrapped in a bulky parcel to which the attention of the postoffice employees was attracted by the sound of ticking. The police were called in and on examination found the parcel contained an electric battery connected with explosives and accompanied by quantities of suffragette literature.

The parcel was addressed to a municipal official of Reading, now on his vacation.
The police express the belief it was timed to explode in his residence during his absence. The clockwork arrangement was in perfect working order.

Because of the possibility of further attacks by the "wild women" on the churches, many historical edifices throughout the country which during the season are usually visited by thousands of American and other tourists, have been ordered closed except during hours of service.

Beautiful Farington Hall Is Burned to the Ground

(By Associated Press.)

DUNDEE, Scotland, May 10.—Farington Hall, the residence of Henry Mc-Grady, former lord provost of Dundee, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Indications point to the militant suffragettes as the authors of the outrage.

Flames broke out simultaneously in half a dozen places in the great mansion, which was a beautiful specimen of architecture.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Testifying before a legislative committee today, Miss Maud Robinson, author of the affidavit calling into question the moral conduct of Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, declared her relations with O'Hara had not been "unduly intimate."

In her testimony Miss Robinson brought in the name of Mrs. Mabel Davidson Inbush, of Madison, daughter of a former governor of Wisconsin. She said that she came from Springfield to Chicago on the train with O'Hara and Thomas Vredenburg.

They went to the Hotel LaSalle, where they met Mrs. Inbush, a widow. Then they went to the Hotel Sherman cafe for dinner. Vredenburg, she said, left the table and returning handed her the key to a suite, saying he had registered the quartet as "J. F. Miller and wife," and "E. D. Duncan and wife."

After dinner the party adjourned to a cafe where she said they met Harry Gibbons, a friend of O'Hara's, whom the latter says he telegraphed to meet him in Chicago when he found himself in the party on the train.

After a number of drinks, witness declared that she, Mrs. Inbush and Vredenburg went to the Hotel Sherman, leaving Gibbons and O'Hara in front of the cafe.

Later in the evening she said O'Hara called at the apartment.

Miss Robinson testified she went to the hotel on January 17 and remained there three days.

Witness said that she signed the affidavit at the request of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, who assured her that it never would be made public, but would be used only to coerce O'Hara into steering his vice investigation away from Davis.

Later Davis asked her to sign a second affidavit against O'Hara, but upon advice of a lawyer friend she declined to do so.

"Why didn't he want you to sign it?" "Because he said Davis might not keep his promise to keep the affidavit secret," replied Miss Robinson.

Miss Robinson testified she had been married, then divorced and that she and her mother were in the dressmaking business in Springfield.

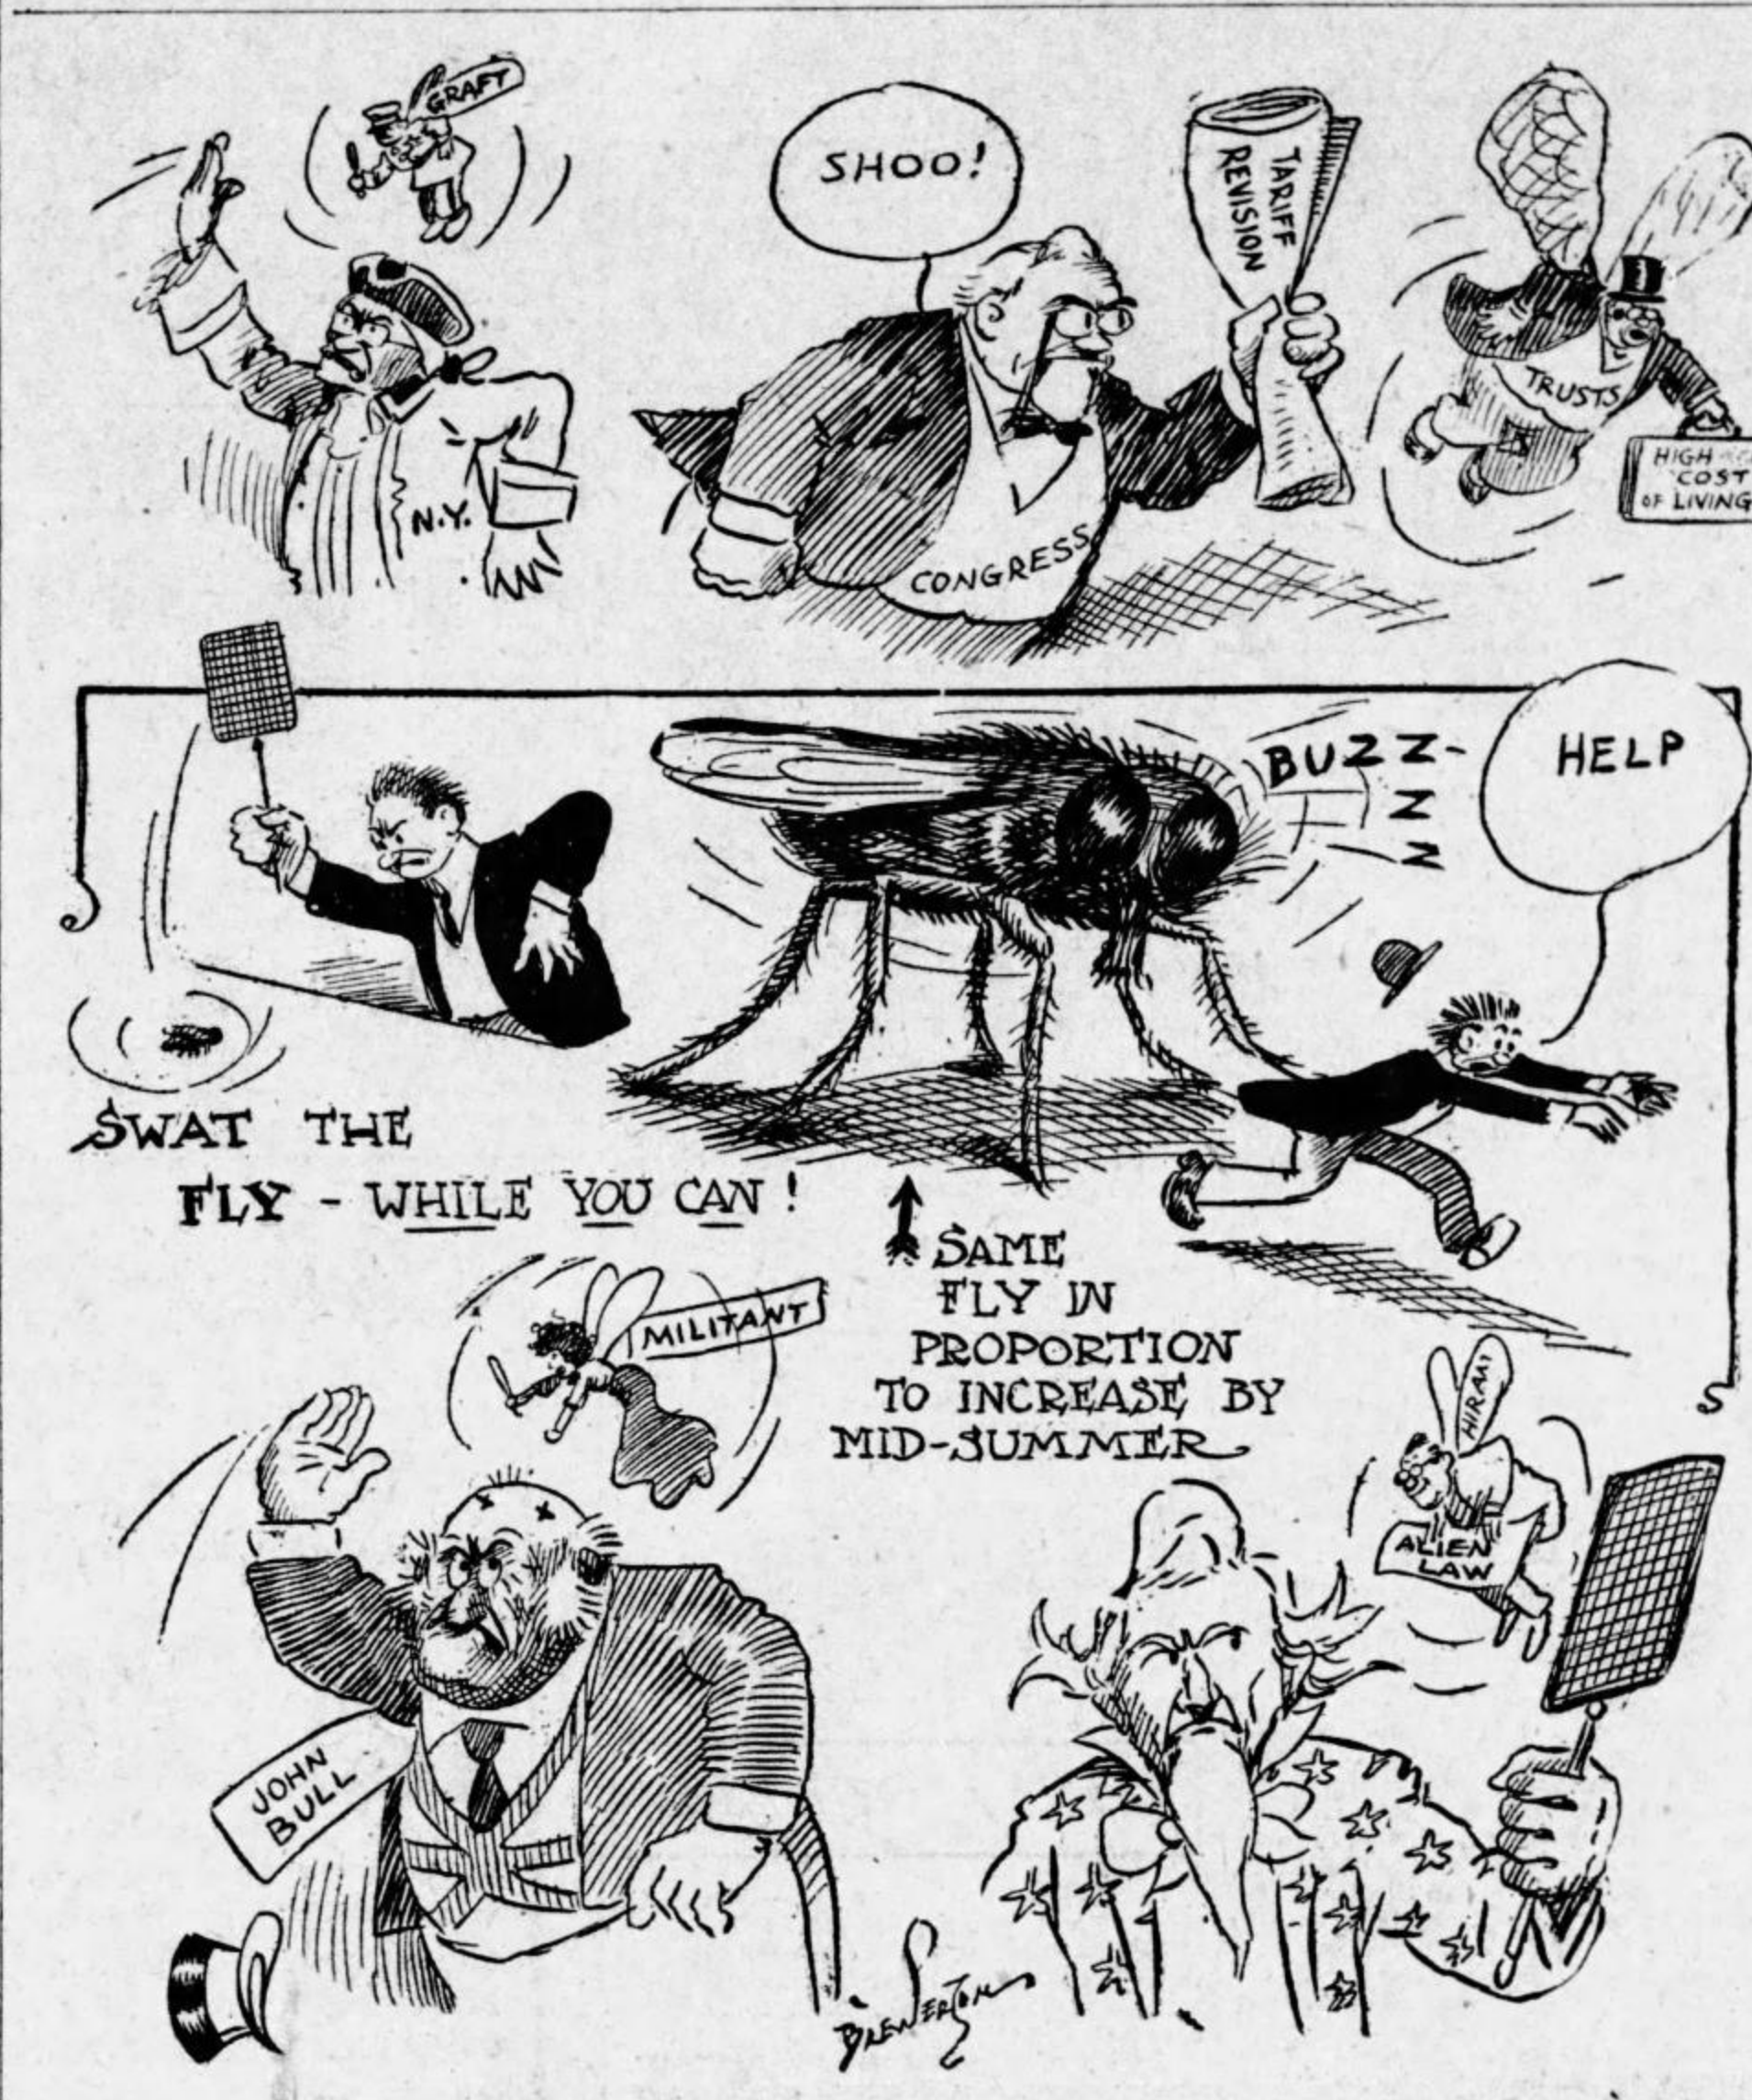

Lieutenant Governor O'Hara said this afternoon he was ready to go on the stand, and he thought Miss Robinson's testimony had made an impression favorable to him.

"I have nothing to do with this affair. I have never stayed at the Hotel Sherman and have never visited there with Mr. Vredenburg nor do I know Mr. O'Hara, and I never knew Maud Robinson," declared Mrs. Inbush today, according to a special dispatch from Madison, Wis., to the Journal.

Mrs. Inbush said she believed the bringing of her name "into this is a part of a political conspiracy against my father, just as the charges are being used against Mr. O'Hara by saloonkeepers and divekeepers who resent his investigation."

She admitted the possibility that she might have been in Chicago at the time in question, but declared if she was she was staying with friends and not at any hotel.

Wear a White Rose Tomorrow for It Is "Mother's Day"

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Great preparations have been made for the observation here tomorrow of Mother's day, and thousands of white flowers have been cut and prepared for wearers. One florist alone announced today that he would have more than 10,000 white carnations on hand, and other florists and street vendors will be prepared for a big business. The white blossom is the symbol that marks the celebrant.

Mother's day, intended to do honor to living mothers and to pay homage to the memories of those who have gone before, was originated in Philadelphia in March, 1908, and now has become an international observance.

DARDEN FIGHTING FOR CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Man Who Slæw C. M. Doddard Takes Habeas Corpus and Enjoins Wife

Elmer T. Darden, who is now out on a supersedeas bond for killing C. M. Doddard a few months ago, took habeas corpus proceedings against his wife, Mrs. Naomi Darden, Saturday morning, asking for the custody of his minor children and at the same time enjoining her from leaving the city. The paper was filed in the superior court by Spence McClelland and W. M. Smith, attorneys for Mr. Darden.

Darden was recently tried and convicted of manslaughter and given three years in the penitentiary, but was released on a supersedeas bond a few days ago, pending the hearing of his appeal for a new trial. His plea was "the unwritten law." He is now employed in making bids on marble and stone work on the new county court house.

Darden's attorneys declare that Mrs. Darden was making preparations to leave the city with the children. The paper alleges further that she is an improper person to care for his children.

M'ADOO MAY APPRAISE VALUE OF THE IMPORTS

Secretary of Treasury Will Fix
Values for Tariff Assessment
If Amendment Is Adopted

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—An amendment to the tariff bill to authorize the secretary of the treasury to proclaim values of imported goods for the purpose of assessing ad valorem tariff duties, irrespective of fluctuating foreign markets, thereby approximating the ad valorem system of specific duties, was proposed today to Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee, and Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, by the assistant attorney general and secretary of treasury.

Both leaders looked upon the proposal with interest and the tariff bill may accordingly be amended in the finance committee before it enters the senate for debate.

President Wilson has been apprised that such an amendment would cut down litigation, take much work from the board of appraisers, and is believed by its proponents to be absolutely necessary for the successful working of an ad valorem tariff bill.

Another amendment proposed would make it unlawful for any person to take up appeals from appraised valuations on a contingent fee basis. Assistant Attorney General Dennison said today that the amendment with the provision already in the bill requiring a fee of $1 for all protests and appeals would curtail customs litigation 50 per cent.

The proposed amendment which injects a completely new feature into the administration of the tariff law was conceived by Assistant Attorney General Dennison, who was chairman of the presidential commission that investigated the board of general appraisers several months ago. The recommendation of the commission for sweeping changes in the present methods of appraisal and classification recently were submitted to congress by President Wilson.

Secretary Redfield conferred with Senate Democrats are reported as disapproving the decision not to hold hearings, and upon them the opposition bases its hope to override the majority.

Senate Democrats are planning to caucus on the tariff bill in the near future to thresh out the much-disputed wool and sugar schedules and other features that have developed isolated party opposition. There also will be settled the question of excusing senators from supporting any particular section of the bill.

BIGGER CARS WILL SUPPLANT OLD ONES ON SEVERAL LINES

Trolley Company's Plan Voluntary, It Is Said, Following Conclusions on Detailed Report of Service

NINE ROUTES WILL GET EARLY INCREASE, MAYBE

Main Cross-Town Lines Selected for Improvement, Company Finds City Has Outgrown Them

Relief appears in sight for the straphangers. As a result of recent systematic investigations by the state railroad commission improved street car service will be afforded shortly on all the principal lines in Atlanta and its suburbs.

It is said that probably nine out of the twenty-three routes operated by the Georgia Railway and Power company will be given better service. Some of the routes which it is understood will receive first consideration are the Peachtree and Whitehall, West Peachtree and South Pryor, Inman Park and Georgia avenue, main Decatur and East Point and College Park. Others will be improved as rapidly as the company can give them attention, the routes with the heaviest traffic being considered first.

Small cars—those of twenty-eight-seat capacity—will give way to much larger cars affording seats for from thirty-six to forty-eight persons. Standard cars in Atlanta will soon be of the type now operated on the Inman Park and Georgia avenue line, known as the P-A-T-B cars.

VOLUNTARY IMPROVEMENTS.
There is every indication that the improved street car service will be provided voluntarily by the Georgia Railway and Power company and without the necessity of any formal order from the railroad commission.

Several weeks ago the commission ordered the street car company to furnish it with detailed statistics concerning the service on the various lines during certain hours of the day. These statistics covered a period of one week and embraced the seating capacity of each car operated during the periods named, the number of passengers transported on each, both for the entire trip and up to the center of the city, as well as much other information.

Chairman C. M. Candier, of the commission, and Statistician Eugene Martinere made a careful analysis of the statistics. Their work was most thorough, extending over a period of three weeks. They worked out the average number of passengers on each car for the entire week, the average number on each car up to the center of the city, the average number on the entire trip of each car, the average number of passengers for certain periods, and compiled a table of averages covering the seating capacities of the various cars operated.

CONCLUSIONS CONVINCING.
And when they had finished the task the conclusions reached were so backed up by the figures that they could not be questioned. Although no public statement regarding the result of the analysis or the conclusions reached has been made, it is known that the service furnished by the street car company on several of its lines during the three rush periods of the day was found to be inadequate.

Chairman Candier has submitted his conclusions to President P. S. Redfield and other officials of the Georgia Railway and Power company and they have agreed with him upon a number of them. They also volunteered to work out some suggestions for the improvement of the service.

BRYAN AND CHINDA ANOTHER CONFERENCE

Japanese Ambassador and Secretary of State Confer Over California Land Bill

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Bryan and Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, got down to business today at an early conference over the California land bill. Japan's protest already had been formally presented and the ambassador was waiting to learn what the United States proposed to do about the bill already passed by the California legislature and awaiting Governor Johnson's signature.

Early there was prospect of a special cabinet meeting to afford Secretary Bryan an opportunity to lay before President Wilson and his colleagues the results of his further conference with the Japanese ambassador. It was evident that there was no disposition to delay the question, and it appeared to be the intention of Secretary Bryan to give to the Japanese ambassador a prompt assurance of what his government might expect the United States to do about the legislation Japan considers offensive.

The conference lasted an hour and at its conclusion Viscount Chinda paid a short visit to Councillor Moore. No statement was forthcoming as to what had taken place, but it was known that having presented the views of his own government in objection to the California legislation as well as that of Arizona, the ambassador withdrew to await a formal answer from the state department.

Before that is given Secretary Bryan wishes to confer with President Wilson.

Indications were that it would be late in the day, if not Monday, before the conference between the secretary and the ambassador could be resumed.

Radium Salts Are Found in Saratoga Springs, New York

(By Associated Press.)
SARATOGA, N.Y., May 10.—Dissolved radium salts to an exceptional degree exists in the mineral springs of the New York state reservation in this village, according to the United States bureau of mines, which has submitted to the state reservation commission a report of a recent investigation in thirteen of the wells now owned by the state. It is further stated that the springs carry considerably more than a trace of barium, an element usually associated with radium.

These results were obtained from water taken in October, 1912. Since that time the commission reports the progress of recovery from the springs has been continuous, a number of new wells have begun to flow and very substantial advances in the amount of radium activity are likely to be discovered upon further examination.

CHUCK CONNORS DIES FROM HEART DISEASE

Picturesque Character of the Old Bowery in New York Dies in Hospital

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 10.—"Chuck" Connors is dead. The picturesque character of the old Bowery, best known, perhaps, as the "Mayor of Chinatown," died of heart disease in the Hudson street hospital today.

The secrets of Chinatown's dark hallways, subterranean passages and hidden shadows had been his for many years. Slant-eyed veterans of his warring tongs, the Four Brothers, the Hip Sing ton and the On Loeng tong, declared a truce when the news of his death became known, and they will march shoulder to shoulder in a parade to honor his memory.

"Chuck" Connors was sixty-one years old. Most of his life was spent in Chinatown. Of late he had made a living as guide to sightseeing parties visiting his stamping ground.

In addition to these there are over 100 farmers following approved, modern methods in corn growing and the Wilkes-Lincoln fair will be a great event in Washington, October 23-31.

Wednesday J. C. McLaughlin, manager of the Augusta Corn festival, which is being put on under the auspices of the Augusta Chronicle, in connection with the Georgia-Carolina fair at Augusta, November 5-15, was here going over the work with Mr. Burdette and other prominent farmers and he was assured that forty contestants would grow corn in an effort to make the largest yield in the Augusta territory and win the $700 prize offered for the capital prize.

The Wilkes-Lincoln fair has augmented this prize by adding $100 in gold for the largest yield in either Wilkes or Lincoln and $50 for the second largest yield, consequently should either of these counties be successful, the winner would obtain $800 in prizes. The fair has also offered splendid prizes to the boys of the two counties, ranging in value from $25 to $5 and the winners will all take their corn to the Augusta Chronicle's corn show and enter the contest there. Mr. Burdette stated he expected over 100 boys would go to the Augusta contest.

The canning club feature is also liberally looked after by the Wilkes-Lincoln fair management and the show promises to be one of the best ever held in the section. This will be the second annual fair of the two counties, the fair last year being a great success. The farming outlook in the two counties now is bright and farmers buoyant over prospects for good crops.

Sequel To Love for Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed Teaching Children to Love their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fancy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the petals of a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations.

Now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best effort can provide.

This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend, an external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every cord, nerve, muscle and tendon involved.

There will be no pain, none of that nausea or morning sickness, no sensation of distress or strain of expanding muscles. The nerves, too, will be calm, thus making the period one of restful days and peaceful nights.

Mother's Friend is sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Do not fail to use it regularly as directed. Write to-day to Bradfield Regulator Co., 235 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for your valuable book for expectant mothers.

Snail Races Are Now Popular on Ocean Steamships

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 10.—Snail racing is an innovation in the mid-Atlantic, where there are no anti-betting laws and judging from the excitement attending a race staged on the promenade deck of a French steamer which has just arrived here, the sport is likely to prove popular.

A woman passenger at dinner suggested the snail race. A half dozen snails of the edible variety, some three inches long, were obtained from the ship's steward and placed upon a sheet of white paper on the promenade deck. A head of lettuce was set as a goal. The distance over the track was eighteen inches.

When the first race was run off on Wednesday afternoon the winning snail covered the course in a little over three hours. Many of the passengers who made bets on the contests saw the start and came back later to witness the finish.

GOV. BROWN FAVORS STERILIZATION LAW

The Points Out Danger to Society From Families Criminally Insane

In an interview today, Governor Brown went on record as favoring legislation for the sterilization of persons criminally insane or of criminal instincts. That a law authorizing this should be passed by the legislature was urged by the board of the state sanitarium in its annual report issued Friday.

In expressing himself in favor of such legislation, Governor Brown said that he had followed discussions of it for a year or more, and that scientists, physicians and alienists were in favor of it.

A law of this kind is already in force in two states, and Governor Brown said that he expected every state in the union to pass a similar one eventually.

Illustrating the protection that such a law would afford society, Governor Brown said that the authorities of New York state made a record of one family of criminals, and discovered that this family and its criminal practices could be traced back to the time of the revolutionary war.

Various branches of it had furnished criminals which had cost the authorities $2,000,000 in prosecution and in retention in asylums and jails.

This instance, Governor Brown said, was fairly typical of many others throughout the country, which would indicate how much the various states suffered from the propagation of the criminal species.

CITY OFFICIALS VISIT CHARITY INSTITUTIONS

Found All That City Helps to Support Doing Good Work

A tour of inspection through six of the charitable and benevolent institutions partially supported by the city government was made Friday afternoon by Alderman Sprattling, Alderman Nutting, Councilman Thomson and City Warden Evans.

They went to the Home for Incurables, the Home for the Friendless, the Florence Crittenton Home, the Carrie Steel orphanage, the Sheltering Arms and the Home for Old Women, arriving at the latter in time to eat a delightful fish fry served by Mrs. Purcell and the ladies of the home to council members and other guests.

They found these various institutions in fine shape from the standpoint of management, sanitary conditions, etc., and all doing good work.

Their only complaint—and it was more in the nature of a reminder—is that all of the institutions have not been complying with the city ordinance requiring them to report quarterly to the council committee on benevolences and charities, of which Alderman Sprattling is the chairman and Alderman Nutting and Councilman Thomson are members. This law applies to all institutions to whose support the city appropriates money.

In addition to the six institutions named above, there are three others which get help from the city, they being the Free Kindergarten, Y. W. C. A. and Travelers' Aid Association.

COUNTY TO OIL 50 MILES OF ROADS TO LAY DUST

Roads Committee Prepares to Make Traveling Pleasant in Summer

The question of oiling the roads of Fulton county for the summer months was brought to the attention of the roads committee of the county board at its regular weekly meeting Saturday, with the result that fifty miles of roadway in the county were ordered oilled with petroleum asphalt in order to lay the dust. The work will be done under the supervision of Sam E. Finley, who has a four-year contract with the county.

Philip Weltner, John J. Eagan and W. W. Orr appeared as a committee from the Fulton association of Georgia, an association that the county make some provision to allow the prisoners to have more freedom on Sunday. Mr. Weltner appeared as the spokesman, and Sunday in the same building in which they sleep during the week, and he thought they should at least be allowed fresh air, and wanted a mess hall built for them to hear services in, instead of in the place they inhabited.

Superintendent Tom Donaldson stated that he was perfectly willing to do anything that might improve the condition of his prisoners, but stated that if they were allowed to roam in an enclosure, as suggested by Mr. Weltner, that it would mean that there would be no holiday on Sundays for the guards, who now alternated in taking a day off with their families.

No action was taken on the matter, the members agreeing to take the question up again at a future meeting. In the meantime they asked that the committee from the prison association prepare plans and specifications of what they desire, saying that the board would be glad to consider them at another meeting.

AD MEN ENTERTAINED BY JACOBS' PHARMACY

Big Time Is On at Burns Cottage, With Prominent Drug-gist the Host

Members of the Atlanta Ad Men's club are having "themselves a time" Saturday afternoon.

They are the guests of Jacobs' pharmacy at the Burns club for the afternoon, with C. A. Smith, manager of the Jacobs stores, and Joe Jacobs masters of ceremonies.

At noon the Ad Men left the city for the cottage, some in automobiles and others on a special car chartered for the event. Upon their arrival at the replica of the home occupied by the famous Scottish bard, the guests were seated at a regular old-fashioned barbecue, where every good thing imaginable to eat and drink was served.

An air of informality and generous hospitality helped to make the entertainment a red letter event in the annals of the organization.

One of the most successful membership campaigns ever held by the local Railroad Young Men's Christian association came to a close with a jollification at the rooms Friday night.

The campaign ran for thirty days. Three teams were competing for the largest number within this given time. The leaders were J. W. Whitaker, yardmaster Southern railway; L. M. Hunter, traveling fireman, W. and A. railroad, and W. T. Hamilton, yard foreman Atlanta Joint Terminal company.

The total number enrolled was 404. This will put the whole membership up to about 800.

THEATERS

ATLANTA—The Girl from Out Yonder.

FOURSYTH—Vandeville.

BLJOU—Vandeville and Pictures.

"The Girl From Out Yonder" will be seen in but two more performances at the Atlanta by the Billy Long company.

This afternoon a 25-cent matinee is scheduled, while tonight the last presentation of the play will be made. Monday afternoon the company will be seen in "Are You a Mason?" this being the first Monday matinee of the season at the Atlanta. In future three matinees will be given each week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"Are You a Mason?" is a farce comedy said to have 1,000 laughs and is one of the most pleasing of all comedies on the stage.

With stock companies elsewhere this has proved to be one of the biggest drawing cards of seasons, and it is sure to stir interest here. The Billy Long company now seems surely and safely established in the fact that there will be no testing the capacity of the house at each performance. Tonight is expected to prove the largest of the week. Seats are now in big demand for next week with every indication of still further increased attendance.

Matinee and night performances today close the engagements of the excellent Keith vaudeville and of the Forsyth so wonderfully during the week.

There will be two immense gatherings today, for the advance sale so indicates. The theatergoers have shown great interest in the coming week. A number of theater parties have been arranged for, and the usual heavy advance sale is recorded.

The bill is of exceptional quality, crowded with features and so evenly balanced there will be nothing like conflict. Comedy is to be the principal factor, but there will be some relief in the fact that there will be refreshing variety and unusual variety. The management with the aid of the Keith offices has made a special effort to have this bill a model in every respect.

The headline feature is to be Paul Dickey and his own company presenting a college life sketch called "The Come Back," written by Mr. Dickey founded on facts that he knows. Mr.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR A JUNIOR CHAMBER

Special Committee Meets With School Boys, and Success Is Assured

That the junior order of the Atlanta chamber of commerce is to soon become a reality was made evident Friday afternoon when the special committee from the chamber, headed by Ivan E. Allen, met with a number of school boys to formulate plans for the perfecting of the organization.

Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce, in outlining the work and possibilities of the younger branch, showed two handsomely illustrated books on city planning that are in use in the public schools of Chicago. In view of the proposed city plan that is to be prepared for Atlanta, this branch of the work for the schools comes at an opportune moment and is expected to be of value should the system be adopted by the board of education.

There was a general discussion of the project from nearly every one present, including R. L. Foreman, Jr., representing the school colony of the city. It was his idea to feature athletics, put on school contests, and have school debates.

The members of the committee are Jack Lewis, Harrison Jones, Kendall Weisiger, E. L. Goodheart, E. S. Everett, Theo. Toepel, R. L. Foreman, Sr., F. O. Foster, John Gilmore, Dr. J. C. White and R. C. McLarty.

Dickey was the champion football star of the University of Michigan and led, too, in all athletic sports at the school. In addition he was the leading spirit in the comedy and glee clubs and has always been a popular man with his "frat mates." Another feature will be the first appearance of the Apollo Trio, a group of men who will do living bronze statues.

The headline feature is to be Paul Dickey and his own company presenting a college life sketch called "The Come Back," written by Mr. Dickey founded on facts that he knows. Mr.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 10.—Cotton futures opened steady, 1 point up to 1 point down, closed with yesterday's close. The closing Liverpool for triple holidays caused dullness in the local market. The weather was clear and bright with temperatures showing 111° in the morning. Complaints of drought came in from the eastern belt and complaints of too light showers were heard in several important sections of the belt. These complaints led to moderate buying for long account and at the close of the first half hour of business prices were 2 points over yesterday's final figures.

The present promised fair weather over practically the entire belt over Sunday, which was regarded as most unfavorable for the eastern half. On top of the forecast, the predicted weather in the eastern belt which has already had much complaint of low temperatures, having been already much improved. Buy increased after the posting of the weather predictions and the market gradually recovered until the most active months were 6 to 7 points over the last quotations of yesterday. The close was firm at a net gain of 2 to 3 points.

COMMITTEE APPROVES NEW WHITEHALL GRADE

Street Committee Recommends It to Council—Favors Appropriation Also

The street committee of council Friday afternoon adopted the new grade for Whitehall street, from Mitchell street to Brotherton street, and recommended that the finance committee appropriate $20,000 in the June budget to begin the work.

The estimated cost of the work is $27,288. To the $20,000 which they ask the city to appropriate the property owners promising the new grade will add $17,600 subscribed among themselves, and to this they hope to get the county to add the equivalent of something like $45,000 in convict labor, all of which combined will be sufficient to complete the Whitehall street portion of the project, they estimate.

Taken as a whole, the project contemplates regrading not only Whitehall street, but also South Forsyth street and several cross streets between Mitchell and Brotherton.

The street committee's adoption of the new grade, of course, will go to council for ratification or rejection. Should council adopt it, but fail to appropriate money for the work, the adoption of it would not change the street.

The Friday meeting was the third or fourth time the street committee has had the Whitehall street matter before them, and the same property owners came back to argue both for and against the new grade.

Charles H. Black, R. R. Otis, C. E. Caverly, Walker Dunn, George I. Walker, R. A. Broyles, J. Carroll Payne, M. L. Throver, V. H. Krieger, and others were in favor of the project.

Judge John T. Pendleton, Luther Z. Rosser, E. C. Meyer and others opposed it. Judge Pendleton owns the building occupied by the Capital City laundry. The grade proposes to cut down Whitehall street 7.5 feet in front of him, whereas now it is level.

He claims such a cut would do him irreparable damage, and brands the whole project as a scheme to enhance the value of the old Trinity Methodist church corner, which was purchased by a syndicate for speculative purposes.

Luther Rosser owns property on Brotherton street, and claims the grade would damage him. E. C. Meyer spoke as attorney for the Guthman laundry, at the corner of Whitehall and Brotherton streets.

He said the new grade, as proposed, would put this company out of business. He said he was willing to lose an arm and a leg, but didn't think it would be right to kill him dead. He urged the adoption of a compromise grade which all parties at interest would agree to.

Councilman Wood, when the discussion ended and the committee were ready to vote, moved to defer action pending an effort to compromise as Mr. Meyer suggested, but the committee voted him down.

BIGGEST BIBLE SCHOOL HOPES TO HOLD TITLE

Sunday, May 11, the last day in the unique contest between the First Christian and Second Baptist Bible schools, promises to be a great success. There has been no let-up in the efforts of the "Flying Squadron" of the First Christian to increase their membership, and an immense crowd will be present at 9:30.

Plans are being perfected by this Bible school for the social entertainment of new scholars by the organized classes. The May feast, May 16, and Flower day, Sunday, May 25, when each scholar brings a bouquet of flowers, that afterward are distributed to the hospitals, police barracks, Old Ladies' home, Home for Incurables, and other institutions, are two plans about worked out.

It is the desire of the First Christian Bible school to hold their title as the largest and best Bible school in Dixie.

Auditorium Program Rendered by Big Chorus Friday—Large Audience There

The pupils of the eighth grades of the public schools, assisted by a selected number from the seventh grades, gave a concert Friday evening at the auditorium. The program was enjoyed by a large audience.

Over 1,000 voices were in the chorus, and the songs were rendered beautifully. Dr. Percy Starnes was the recipient of much praise for his organ accompaniments.

The children from the seventh grades were from the following schools: Crew street, Edgewood avenue, Calhoun street, Formwalt street, Peoples street, Lee street, Pryor street and Williams street.

The program was made up of "Folk Songs of Many Countries."

The chorus was in charge of Miss Kate Haralson, director of music in the schools, and Prof. W. M. Slaton, the superintendent, acted as master of ceremonies.

There were thirty-five of the city schools represented, and all of the different schools came with their respective colors.

The following was the program: Songs of England—(a) "The Fox Hunt," (b) "We'll May the Keel Row." Songs of Scotland—(a) "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," (b) "Auld Lang Syne."

Songs of Scotland and France—(a) "Blue Bells of Scotland," (b) "My Normandy"—Seventh grades. Songs of Ireland—(a) "Spirit of the Summer Time," (b) "Isle of Beauty."

SCORES TRICKY LAWYERS AND PLETHORA OF LAW

Judge Candler Says 75 Per Cent of Georgia Law Should Be Unwritten

In an address before the students of the Atlanta Law school and members of the local bar, Judge John S. Candler took a fling at the state's representatives, declaring that they have in view but one object—success—success as it is seen by the world, and declared that so long as this continued, jury verdicts would be looked upon as the result of trickery and adroit juggling.

Dean Hamilton Douglas introduced the speaker, paying a high tribute to him.

Judge Candler delivered an indictment of some of the practices current among some lawyers, and scored the folly of many Georgia laws. He made a direct stab at the methods used in the "third degree," and scored the detectives who would go on the stand voluntarily and testify in a case on which he had been working.

"Just so long as we make laws by the bookish over summer we will have laws violated. I believe with General Grant that if a law is a bad one, enforce it. That would repeal 75 per cent of the Georgia laws in twenty-four months," said he.

"More crime is committed in Georgia in one year than in all of England and Ireland for just the reason that we have such a useless repetition of laws, we call misdemeanors, all sorts of things, and the statutes cross-fire with the result that the public receives just about 25 per cent of the laws."

"There is no such thing as the unwritten law in Georgia, except that 75 per cent of the statutes ought to be unwritten, and forgotten. I heartily concur in the opinion of President Taft, who answers those who say there are too many lawyers in congress. That is the place for the lawyer."

YOUNG ACTRESSES HURT WHEN AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Were Rounding a Curve Two Miles Beyond Buckhead When Accident Happened

In an auto accident that happened when the car turned turtle as it struck an embankment about two miles beyond Buckhead at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Ethel Ray and Miss Adel Riley, two movie theater actresses playing on Whitehall street, were so badly injured that they had to be taken to the Grady hospital, while their escorts, O. L. McNeil, 514 Empire building, and B. S. Brooks, of the Peachtree garage, escaped with minor bruises. Clarence Ginn, a young usher at the theater, also escaped unhurt.

How the accident occurred neither of the young girls could say. All they knew was that they heard a crash and the next time they became conscious they were in the Grady automobile ambulance racing to the city.

It is understood the car failed to take the curve, and ran up an embankment and turned over, throwing all of its occupants out on the ground. O'Neil was the first to get up, and ran all the way to Buckhead to give the alarm. He fainted just as he made known his errand. Then someone telephoned to the hospital.

All were taken to the Grady, where their wounds were dressed. Miss Riley was able to leave in an automobile, and went directly to her room in Child's hotel. Miss Ray was more seriously injured, and is still at the hospital.

ONE WOMAN SEEKS TO BE A GEORGIA DOCTOR

State Board Examiners Holding Three-Day Test for 146 Applicants

At the annual meeting of the regular board of medical examiners for Georgia, held Friday afternoon in the hall of the house of representatives at the state capitol, the following officers were chosen:

President, Dr. J. W. Palmer, of Albany.

Vice-president, Dr. N. Peterson, of Tifton.

Secretary, Dr. C. T. Nolan, of Marietta, re-elected.

The other members of the board are Dr. Fred D. Peterson, of Cuthbert, and Dr. F. M. Ridley, of LaGrange.

The annual examination of young physicians applying for state licenses is being held by the board at the capitol. The examination began Thursday and will conclude Saturday at noon.

There are 346 applicants, of whom one is a woman and ten are negroes.

Mrs. Clara M. Nicols, of Atlanta, a graduate of the Southern College of Medicine and Surgery, is the only woman taking the examinations. Prior to studying medicine she was a trained nurse.

A SIMPLE RECIPE BRINGS MUCH MONEY

Eat anything and digest everything by adding Waw-Waw is what a noted English singer has said. Waw-Waw contains a vegetable which was proclaimed by a distinguished French doctor to be the young singer, who had suffered with stomach trouble, as having wonderful digestive properties and he made a sauce containing this vegetable, which he added to his food, and sold the recipe for a large sum to a company. Waw-Waw is absolutely unlike any other sauce, yet in flavor it resembles a Worcestershire, although the ingredients used are quite different. The great cooks of Europe have pronounced it unexcelled. The name Waw-Waw is an obsolete South American Indian word for vegetable. It contains no raw spices, coloring matter and is guaranteed absolutely pure. When added in the cooking or with soups, salads, hot and cold meats and fish it gives a flavor unequalled, and at the same time notice how easily you digest anything. Half a teaspoon with water or taken plain cleans the palate and is a wonderful appetizer. Waw-Waw is supplied to the House of Lords and Commons, England, and to the principal hotels and homes throughout the world. A 25-cent bottle from your local grocer will convince you how much more you will enjoy your food and at the same time how very easily you can digest anything.

Give the Kiddies Lots of Sweets

That old notion of sweets disagreeing with children is all wrong. The best and biggest physicians say, "Eat sweets, your body needs them." They say that when your palate craves candy, satisfy the desire, because some hungry tissue requires it—but you ought to make the candy you give the kiddies yourself, and you ought to make it with

VELVA

Divinity Fudge
Part 1.—3/4 cup Red Velva Syrup, 1 oz. chocolate, 1-2 cup water, 3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoonful almond extract.

Part 2.—1 cup sugar, 1-2 cup water, whites of 3 eggs, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoonful vanilla extract.

Boil part one until a little hardens in cold water. Boil part two (without egg whites, nuts and extract) until it forms a soft ball when tried in cold water; remove from stove, pour gradually into stiffly beaten whites of eggs, beating all the time. Then beat it into part one. Now beat the mixture for 20 minutes, add nuts and vanilla extract and pour into buttered tins or plates. Cool and cut in squares. The chocolate may be omitted.

in the red can, because it's the very best syrup for candy-making that your money can buy. It gives a real tang to candy that you can't get with any other syrup—and the very first can of Velva you use will prove that what we say about it is so. It's just fine for cakes, too, and other baking. Yes, buy Velva in the clean, sanitary cans. Buy it often and give the kiddies sweets. You can get Velva in the green cans, too, at your grocer's if you prefer it.

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive skunk-like odor." Beer so affected is offensive to the palate of most consumers. Beer should not be exposed to light, especially to direct sunlight, as it will thereby be detrimentally affected, the light having an influence upon the albuminoids in beer, causes the beer to become hazy."

efforts is well attested by the showing they have made in the race, against teams which have before been entered, and possible more experience players. For the past three seasons the team from the Formwalt school has succeeded in getting away with the championship of the public schools, and it seems as if the boys in the other schools are determined to break this run of victory.

WEAVER IS SENT HOME; SEEKING NEW PITCHER

Cracker Manager Up in Air Relative to Pitching Selection Today

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—Manager Smith, of the Atlanta team, stated this morning that his pitcher, Buck Weaver, has been sent home, and that he is not sure who will pitch today.

Weaver, who pitched yesterday's game for Atlanta, has been sent to Atlanta by Manager Smith, because he is out of condition. Manager Smith will likely use Manning in today's game with Grubbs behind the bat. The weather is clear and slightly cool.

WHITEY STAR IN BUM GAME

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—Were it not for the holding and batting of Whitey Star in the game Friday, there would be no real need of writing of the game, which Atlanta lost. The Cracker played the sort of ball that used to be played on the back lots and in the corn fields at home, but far from the Southern league standard.

Montgomery got exactly thirteen hits off Buck Weaver, and they were all timely ones, for they netted the Billikens ten tallies.

C. Brown was in the box for the Billikens and pitched a good game after getting down in the first part of the game. He struck out thirteen men, the Southern league record so far this year. In the third inning every man on the Montgomery team faced Whitey Star, and the result was that only one error was made by the Billikens and two by the Atlanta team.

Weaver and Jantzen made several grand stand catches, but Alperman was the real star of the game.

LOOKOUT FANS PULL HARD FOR CHAPPELLE TO STAR

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 10.—In the opinion of local fans, Bill Smith got a man that will strengthen his hurling staff at least 40 per cent when he secured Big Bill Chappelle from the locals. The passing of "Bill Cord" was generally regretted here, and it was no inferior baseball ability that resulted in the tall right-hander's transfer.

Chappelle came to Chattanooga in 1910, being secured in exchange for Al Demaree and Joey Collins. As it has eventually turned out, he has been the worst of the bargain by several thousand dollars, although Collins jumped the league, but this fact was never held against Chappelle.

The passing of Chappelle's pitching staff composed of More, Troy and Golden, right-handers, and Sommers and Coveleskie, left-handers. The kid will probably stand pat with this staff.

Coveleskie and Sommers especially are

Atlanta Stars Out of Running

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 10.—The trophy for the winner of the invitation golf tournament here will be a member of the Birmingham club. All visitors were eliminated from the first flight in the matches played during Friday.

The first flight consisted of thirteen Birmingham players and three from Atlanta. In the opening matches all Atlantians went down and out, and it is now up to Birmingham to cop. In putting the Atlanta stars out of the running the Birmingham stars played some good golf. One of the distinct features of the play was the showing of Rollo Steinhilber, the fourteen-year-old crack of Birmingham. This lad was able to put out Lowry Arnold of Atlanta. It took an extra effort on the part of W. C. Ward to win the match over the youngster in the afternoon. George Oliver had to go twenty holes to defeat U. Q. Frowell.

Marist Winner In Track Meet

Marist college was the winner in the inter-collegiate track meet that was held on the Marist campus yesterday afternoon. The Marist broke the pole vault record of the prep league, clearing the bar at 5 feet 4 inches. Some exceptionally good times were made, among them the 100-yard dash which was run by Allen, of Marist, in 19 4-5 seconds.

Pitcher Dent, of Washington, May Be Landed to Bolster Hurling Staff—May Suspend Weaver and Keep Him

Buck Weaver, Atlanta hurler, was given a thorough trial in Friday's game with Montgomery and when he failed to show was sent home prior to being sold, traded or suspended. Manager Smith contends that the hurler is not in good condition, and if he is not disposed of will be suspended and worked out at Ponce de Leon until he comes around sufficiently to get another trial with the Crackers.

While Weaver is out of the game the hurling staff must be bolstered, and President Callaway is now seeking to purchase Pitcher Dent from Washington. Dent went unusually strong with the Newark International League club last season, and doubtless would be a good man here.

Reports from Montgomery are to the effect that the Cracker team is very much discouraged over the failure of the hurlers to go at the proper clip, while some reports have it that one of the catchers is working like a school boy. Many attribute the poor showing of some of the hurlers to bad coaching by this catcher.

The failure of the hurlers to go at the clip that was expected has greatly hurt the Atlanta club and seeing this President Callaway will probably line up one or two good men within the next few days. Just what caused the hurlers to go so badly is a puzzle. Some think they have not properly cared for themselves, while other leading fans are equally as positive that it is the fault of the catchers who are not working them properly. At any rate, the hurlers are not delivering no matter if they have the goods and for this reason cannot be kept.

CLEVELAND, May 10.—Pitcher Finis E. Wilson, southpaw, who came to the Cleveland club from the Knoxville (Tenn.) club last fall, today, was released to the New Orleans Southern league team.

going like a house on fire, the Pole appearing to be in his old 1910 form, taking into consideration the value of southpaws in the league this year it will be seen that Elberfeld does not have to worry over his hurlers.

"Gaby" Street is held responsible for the return to form of Coveleskie, the Jim admitting that Charley is the first man who has been able to handle his hurlers since the passing of Rowdy Elliott. Street is holding the Pole in keeping him from working too strong in the soft spots and in mixing in a slow one now and then for the benefit of his arm and to the confusion of the opposing batters.

In the opinion of Elberfeld and experts who have seen him in action, Street is the best thing in the receiving line that has ever appeared in the Southern league, not excepting Sweeney and Archer. "Gaby" seems certain to return to the big show next year.

I. EVERS DAY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 10.—Today was Evers' day at the Polo grounds—Johnny Evers' first appearance on the local diamond as manager of the Chicago Cubs. Secretary Foster, of the New York club, said a high water mark for the sale of tickets for the year had been set, and indications were that notwithstanding the chill breeze, New York's army of fans would turn out in overwhelming numbers to welcome him.

Troy, N. Y., Evers' home town, sent hundreds of fans to see the game.

WILL NAPOLEON LAJOIE EVER GROW OLD? WON'T THE GREAT WAGNER SOON QUIT GAME?

NAP LAJOIE

Both Are Veterans of Many Years, and Yet They Continue to Star

Star players come and go in baseball, but Nap Lajoie and Hans Wagner, two of the most brilliant products of the game, go on forever, seemingly.

Hans Wagner is back in the game for Pittsburgh, after a layoff, due to an injured knee, to the disgust of pitchers who must face him, while his manner of lumbering across the diamond after batted balls is as terrifying as it was a half-dozen years back.

"The King," as American leaguers call Lajoie, is the same old Nap. Years of starring have not dimmed his batting eye. Since the opening of the season Larry has hit the ball in the fashion that kept him at the top of the list for years and has cut off base hits and made seemingly impossible plays around second with the same indolent ease which long ago earned him the reputation of being the most graceful man in baseball.

Rube Waddell has gone to the bushes. Cy Young is managing a team in the Federal league. One by one the stars fall, but to all appearances Larry and Hans are as good as they were ten years ago. Both deny they intend to retire and Lajoie made his assertion strong by saying that he'd play until they tore off his uniform.

Track Classic Is Run Today; Star Entries

Big Field Will Race for Rich Purse Over Track at Louisville--None of the Entries Is Big Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 10.—The thirty-ninth renewal of the Kentucky Derby, one of the oldest classics of the American turf, gave promise today of living up to its precedents both as to class of contenders and in point of attendance.

With fair weather and a fast track, indications were that the three-year-old thoroughbreds that faced the barrier today would offer a stirring exhibition for the thousands of lovers of the sport who renewed their annual pilgrimage to Churchill Downs.

Foundation, Ten Point, Yankee Notion, Jimmie Gill and Prince Hermis were named early today as certain starters. Leochares, Donerail and Flying Tom were possible starters. Foundation appeared the favorite early today. The winner will get about $7,000.

Always the meeting ground for society and sport, this year's Derby event promised as brilliant an assemblage as any of its predecessors. Prominent social leaders and followers of the turf from the eastern and southern capitals and from the west, supplemented the large contingent of the Blue Grass state's devotees of the thoroughbred.

While these were assembling on the club house verandas and in the grandstand a crowd of no less ardent devotion to the sport was gathering in the field enclosure to which admittance was free, according to Derby custom.

The official list of probable Derby starters, giving name of horse, weight carried, owner, sire and jockey, is as follows:

- Ten Point; 117; A. L. Astor; Jack Post.
- Foundation; 117; C. W. McKenna; Naturlum; Loftus.
- Yankee Notion; 117; H. K. Knapp; Yankee; Glass.
- Prince Hermis; 117; L. Marion; Hermis; Gans.
- Jimmie Gill; 117; Doehoefer; West; Fatherless; Borel.
- Leochares; 114; J. W. Schorr; Broomstick; Peak.
- Donerail; 117; T. P. Hayes; McGee; Geese.
- Flying Tom; 114; D. W. Scott; Hansel; Taplin.
- Sam Hirsch; 114; L. Marion; Electioneer; Gross.
- (1) Gowell; 112; J. T. Weaver; Ort Wells; Buxton.
- (4) Lord Marshall; 117; J. O. & G. H. Keen; Odd Fellow; Steele.
- (1) Floral Park; 112; Grefer & Bond; Burgomaster or Hamburg; Kederla.
- (1) Doubtful starter.

Tigers Enter Many Events

PRINCETON, N. J., May 10.—With three baseball games, a track meet, a gun shoot, a number of tennis matches on the program, athletics will reign supreme here today. Activities will open with a baseball game between the Princeton Tigers and the Yale Record, the humorous publications of the two institutions, and this will be followed by the intercollegiate gun shoot with Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Princeton as contenders. Princeton's annual interscholastic tennis matches also will be held.

CHANGES FOR THE FEDERAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 10.—With the opening of the Federal league season here and the transfer of the Louisville-Indianapolis game of the American association to this city, Indianapolis today probably will witness the start of a baseball war between the two leagues.

Preceding the game, the Federal league club, which meets Chicago, has arranged an automobile parade through the downtown streets and to their new field, where Governor Ralston will pitch the first ball. It is generally conceded that the Federal game will draw the larger crowd, as baseball fans are curious to see what Manager "Whoo Bill" Phillips has to offer. The Indianapolis association team has not been playing up to expectation lately, and yesterday only drew an attendance of about 200.

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN. "In the fell clutch of circumstance I have not winced or cried aloud."—Henry.

But then, old top, in Fate's mad pranks, That oft have bowed unnumbered heads, You have not tried to lead the Yanks Or make a winner of the Reds.

"In the fell clutch of circumstance?" A tawdry thing—a hush league note Compared to what has grappled Chance And nipped J. Tinker by the throat.

To those who esteem coincident trivialities as worthy of note, we call attention again to the Chance-Tinker furore. Both were off to an equally porous start. Of more than passing coincidence, each was able to show but one winning pitcher up to Wednesday's count, and in each case the lone winner was a recruit.

Keating, a youngster, had capped the only Yank victories established, while Johnson, an Indian debutante, had assembled all the Red gods collected to that date.

Neither of the ex-Cubs had been able to wrest off a victory through the first month of the race with any of the veteran slabs. Ford, McConnell, Fisher and Caldwell had blown for Chance, while Suggs, Benton, Fromme, etc., had failed to kick in for Tinker.

We have a rush note from Col. Bill Aulick in which he hastens to explain that "Joseph and His Brethren" are shooting 598 points higher on stage than Joseph and His Brethren are exploiting on the ball field. Mr. Aulick requests the public at large not to get the two casts mixed.

AS FOR THE DOPE AGAIN—No ball club in either league looked as bad last spring as the astounding Phillies. They were soft shell pie for almost every contender they faced. The Senators whaled the eternal padding out of them, while the Athletics tore them into gory fragments. They looked to be ninety-seven points shy of proper form—ready for a running jump into the game's morgue.

Four days after all these bitter tears were shed these same Phillies were out with the flashy pink exuding from every pore. At the end of the first month they had the field whip-sawed and trailing. They had beaten the Giants four straight games and stopped all other contenders in sight with the best exhibition of pitching any club had shown in seasons.

A great little institution—the granddope. It's great stuff to smoke as long as you don't inhale.

With Kilbane, Ritchie and McCarty hailed as champs, the National Commish should award the world's series title to South Bend and even up the field. Which may be knocking a good little town more than it deserves.

Griff and his Senators are willing to follow a reasonable pace, but even a motorcycle can't keep step with an unleashed cyclone.

To all whom it may concern—Charles E. Van Loan is scheduled to leave the Pacific for the Atlantic coast on May 18. He will be accompanied by his huffing-pony, two pushirons and a snickersnee. Pass the word along the route.

A wild-eyed reader assails us lustily for mentioning Bender in connection with golf. He writes that he wishes to know "what sort of a pitcher Bender is—not what sort of a golfer he may be." We have no rebuttal, save this—any bloke who doesn't know what "sort of a pitcher" Bender is—who at the same time insists upon signing himself "A Fan"—thereby commits forgery and perjury and is beyond the pale of any reply.

When interviewed of our correspondent Manager Stahl stated that he was not yet ready to announce his pitching selection for the first world series game next fall. Jake said that he might decide to wait several weeks longer, if not a year or two.

Overlying the positions of the Red Sox and the Reds, Harvard is tipped in advance as to how her favorite color scheme is making out. 1913 isn't starting as any red-letter year, to judge things as they lie this far from the start.

PLAYERS MIX AFTER GAME

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 10.—Various incidents of accidental roughness in the Boston-Cleveland American league game Wednesday caused some ill-feeling, which culminated in a melee in the club house after the game, in which fourteen or fifteen players of both clubs were engaged, according to a report last night.

Outfielder Givney was stunned for a moment when Pitcher Leonard tagged him on the forehead while putting him out at home. Various accusations of abusive language on the coaching lines and intentional roughness were made by both teams.

Immediately after the game, it is said, a Cleveland player and a Boston player came to blows in the club house because of some abusive language which each claimed the other had used. After a dozen or more players of both teams had entered the argument, some as peacemakers, the difference was settled with no very lasting damage done.

CLEMONS TURNS TABLES ON AUBURN TEAM. AUBURN, Ala., May 10.—Auburn suffered defeat at the hands of Clemson in a loosely-played and heavy-hitting game. The score was 18 to 4. Locke was knocked out of the box in the first inning, and Driver, who succeeded him, was batted hard. Catches by Moulton and Noble featured.

KEEPS PHILLIE'S IN RACE

SHERWOOD MAGEE, Star hitter of the Dootin team, who is going at a rapid clip this season. Two years ago he was a most vicious slugger, and is now repeating.

VALDOSTA IS GOING GOOD

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 10.—The best game of the season on the home ground, Valdosta handed Cordele the second defeat of the series, 7 to 3. Both Zellars and Gillispie were hit rather freely, each giving up eleven hits, but the hitting of Valdosta team was more opportune, Cordele's errors aiding materially.

Valdosta fielded sharply. Wasson, Erozier and Franks made circus catches in the outfield.

Valdosta . . . 000 120 03X—7 11 1
Cordele . . . 101 001 000—3 11 4
Batteries: Valdosta, Zellars and McCormack; Cordele, Gillispie and Ebanks. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Chess Champion Can't Enter

NEW YORK, May 10.—Practically all hope of inducing Dr. E. Lasker, world's chess champion, to enter the forthcoming international tournament at Havana, Cuba, has been abandoned. Word has been received from the champion at Berlin that it would be impossible for him to come over for the Cuban tournament, and that moreover it was questionable whether he would take part in many tournaments hereafter. As his serious life's work will be directed into other channels Dr. Lasker states he

HEISMAN BEGINS WORK TO LAND GOOD TEAMS

Popular Coach to Be Field Agent for the School—Good Men in Sight

That Tech will have a good football team next year is almost an assured fact. Coach Heisman, the famous coach of the Yellow Jackets, will travel for the school this summer and that he will bring some good men to the school is an assured fact. Coach Heisman is a man of extremely pleasing personality off the athletic field, and he has the knack of attracting young men.

There are already plans under foot, whereby several men have been induced to enter the school in the fall. Tech has now the greatest inducements of any school in the south and athletes will be quick to realize this. The building of the new stadium and of the new athletic field will greatly add to the aspect of things. There is to be a new club house built for the players and this will also materially add to the many attractions.

There has been organized at the school what is known as an advance club and the object will be to look after the new men who will leave prep schools this spring. Already several good men have been seen and have expressed their intention of making Tech their college. Just who these men are can not now be said, but spring prospects for good fall material are better this year than ever before and the winning streak of the red and black is about to be broken according to the men that know. The entire admiration of every sportsman in the city was aroused last year by the game struggles that the Tech football team made against every team that it played and though the men were Georgia alumni or other rival college men, they were all unanimous in their praise of the Baby Jackets.

This year they will be rewarded for their admiration not only in game fights, but in seeing an Atlanta college team get the big end of the score. No names are given out, but have a care Tech will be there next fall, stronger than ever before.

dates being set on July 28, 29 and 30. It is planned to offer prizes aggregating $14,000 for the meet.

MEN AND RELIGION FIGHT INDORSED BY GOVERNOR

He Declares Problem They Seek to Solve Is Greatest That Confronts Nation

Marion Jackson, John J. Egan, and the other leaders of the Men and Religion Fight Movement, are not far from their ideas, according to Governor Brown, who commented on their crusade today.

Governor Brown intimated that while people were keen to take sides in political issues that came up in every community, they were apt to lose sight of this the most important problem now facing the people of the world—the social evil.

He said that the problem, aside from moral considerations, underlay the very physical vigor and mentality of the nation and of the world, and not only was of vital interest to the present generation, but to successive generations of the race.

Governor Brown did not offer a remedy for the evil, or comment one way or another on the methods adopted in some cases, but he did emphasize the necessity of lessening the evil.

He considered that this problem was the greatest now facing the nation and the world, as the health and strength and happiness of humanity were largely affected by it.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. L. P. Lee, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time. My wife would not keep house without it. We have used it for years, always with good results." For sale by all dealers.—(Adv.)

Improvement of the service, and acquiesced in Chairman Candler's view that the small twenty-eight seat cars are no longer suitable and sufficient for a city of the size of Atlanta.

It is understood that this type of car will be retired as rapidly as the larger cars can be built and put into service.

Two remedies for the service on the congested lines are offered. One is to put on large cars when small ones are operated; another is to increase the number of cars and provide more frequent schedules on lines where large cars already have been installed.

It is said that a two or three-minute service will be given on Peachtree and Whitehall streets.

Owing to the evident desire of the street car company officials to co-operate with the railroad commission in providing the needed relief it is unlikely that there will be any necessity for the commission to hold a hearing or issue any formal orders.

COLLEGE PARK BAPTISTS HEAR OF MISSION WORK

Rev. A. Y. Napier, of China, will fill the pulpit of the College Park Baptist church at the morning service, 11 a. m. He will speak on the results of mission work in China.

Dr. L. B. Warren, formerly of Richmond, but now with the home mission board, will speak at the evening service, 8 p. m.

bilites with a lady in charge of each car.

The "Yaarab" special will be met at Vicksburg by the Shriners of that city and will be guests at luncheon. A special invitation has been received from Jackson, asking the nobles to stop over there, but only a short stop can be made on account of the schedule. Two ladies, Mrs. D. F. White, and Miss Besie Kempton, of Atlanta, are traveling as the guests of the "Yaarab" special. The train is due at Shreveport at 9 p. m.

Such a welcome as has been given the special in Mississippi would make a Shriner feel he was back in Atlanta. At every town and water tank where the train stopped, has been the same hearty reception. And every one seems to know that Atlanta is going to make the strongest bid as the convention city for 1914.

LIKE RAILROAD MAGNATES.

The Shriners are traveling as if they owned every railroad in the country. Every comfort possible is being provided on the train, which consists of a combination baggage car and coach, a tourist kitchen car, where the drum corps has reservations; two standard Pullmans for the members of the Atlanta and two standard Pullmans for the officers, representatives and other Nobles.

The trip is being personally conducted by Assistant General Passenger Agent John L. Meek, of the Southern railway; A. P. Matthews, division passenger agent of the Frisco lines, and N. C. Woodridge, southeastern passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific.

The official route of the special is: Going: Southern railway to Birmingham; Alabama Great Southern railway to Meridian; A. & V. S. & P. to Shreveport; Texas and Pacific railway to Dallas.

Returning: Texas and Pacific to Texas; St. L., I. M. & S. railway to Memphis; Frisco lines to Birmingham; Southern railway to Atlanta.

The long ride through Mississippi and Louisiana will carry the special to Shreveport by 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. A stop of half an hour will be made in that city, and then it will be Dallas Sunday morning at 5 o'clock.

DALLAS SUNDAY MORNING.

The nobles will probably occupy their sleepers until 7 o'clock Sunday morning (if enthusiasm can be restrained), and will then parade with the Yaarab drum corps and patrol, giving such a demonstration of music and costumes as has probably not been heard in the Lone Star state, since the stellar emblem was wrested from Mexican rule.
