CHARTER COMMITTEE IS URGED TO AID SCHOOLS

Major Guinn Asks That 30
Cents Be Set Aside on Every
Tax of $1

Major R. J. Guinn, of the board of education, went before the charter committee of general council yesterday afternoon and urged the committee to recommend to council a charter amendment setting aside for the maintenance of the public schools a sum of every $1 of tax revenue collected by the city.

Major Guinn made a very strong argument and favorably impressed the committee. To give the committee time to study over the proposition, and to give Major Guinn time to collect some further data, action was deferred until the next afternoon, at which time the committee will hear Major Guinn again.

The Guinn plan is to set aside, by vote of the board, a portion of the city's revenue for school maintenance and to place this money in the hands of the board of education at the end of every year, for the board to distribute among the various expense accounts of the department just as it sees fit, without consulting council.

Guinn's table values for 1914 are $14,000. On this basis Major Guinn plans would bring the school department $47,837. The total appropriation for schools this year is $594,000. The Guinn plan would give the school department on this year's basis, $47,837 more than council has given the department for 1914.

Under the present system, the school department is not permitted to increase its revenue. The Guinn plan is to set aside, by vote of the board, a portion of the city's revenue for school maintenance and to place this money in the hands of the board of education at the end of every year, for the board to distribute among the various expense accounts of the department just as it sees fit, without consulting council.

The charter amendment committee presented a number of other charter amendments Thursday afternoon. The resolution by Alderman Nutt, which the legislature is to submit to the voters of the state a constitutional amendment allowing two-thirds of those voting in a municipal bond election to authorize the city to issue bonds, was approved.

The resolution by Alderman Nutt, which the legislature is to submit to the voters of the state a constitutional amendment making it the duty of the city to serve on administrative boards of the state, county and city of Georgia, the committee took no action.

The charter amendment by Councilman Taylor allowing women to be elected to the city boards of health, police, fire and parks, the committee took no action.

The charter amendment extending the city's authority over smoke, drug and other nuisances, the committee took no action.

The charter amendment giving the city the right to acquire by purchase or otherwise any real estate within the city limits, the committee took no action.

Detectives Guard Precious
Pictures at Auditorium—Exhibit Open, Free to Atlanta Public

With special detectives on guard to see that no picture is lost or stolen or suffers harm, the $2,000,000 exhibit of the Photographers' Association of America will be thrown open to the public at the auditorium Friday afternoon.

Friday morning the last meeting of the congress was held, with interest centering in the election of officers and the naming of the 1915 convention city, which Indianapolis, San Francisco, Asheville and Omaha have entered strong bids.

With the last business concluded, the photographers will throw care aside and devote themselves to the entertainment of the people who have been invited to attend the convention. All Atlanta is invited to view the display Friday afternoon and many are sure to see the wonderful exhibit.

The main auditorium and the lobby is filled with the pictures of photographers which were passed on by a committee of artists and given place as being the best examples of artistic photography.

There are several thousand photographs in the exhibit. Besides these, there are several motion picture exhibits which are open to the public. Those in charge will demonstrate the making of the motion picture from start to finish.

Putty five hundred of the convention delegates were guests of the local photographers and the Atlanta club at a dance on the roof garden of the club Friday evening.

The dance of the evening was a dance rendered by Mrs. George Brown, wife of the popular club president, with her dancing partner, John Green. The dance is known as "The Dance of the Butterfly," and is Mrs. Brown's own interpretation of the modern style in both graceful and unique and is danced by Mrs. Brown with enthusiasm.

The roof garden was attractively decorated. Music, dancing and vaudeville made the occasion one of the most enjoyable of the many local festivities the visitors have been tendered.

John B. Shumate, Waiting for His Own Engine, Is Struck by Another

John B. Shumate, a yard conductor for the Southern railway, was almost instantly killed early Friday morning by an engine which struck him from behind as he was standing on the track in the south yards of the railroad, near McDaniel street.

It is believed that Shumate was waiting for his own engine to come along and was training all his attention in the direction it was due to appear when the other engine struck him. The lower part of his body was dreadfully mangled and when yard employees reached him he was dead.

The engine which struck him was in charge of Hostler A. P. Faden. It was a yard engine and was backing from the coal chute to the shop. No one is known to have seen it strike Shumate, the first alarm being given by Hostler Faden when he felt the locomotive crash into the man.

The dead conductor was one of the most popular railroad men in the city and had been service with local roads extending over thirty-eight years. His record was a fine one.

The funeral will be held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning from the residence, with interment in West View cemetery. Shumate was sixty-two years old. He lived at 451 South Boulevard. Surviving him are his wife and five children, Mrs. P. P. Folger, D. F., F. H., C. R. and Chalmers Shumate.

'WHAT IS WINE?' QUESTION DECIDED BY SEC. HOUSTON

Makes Pure Food Ruling Important for All Domestic Wine Makers

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Houston today decided the question "what is wine?" and made a pure food ruling of far-reaching importance to all domestic wine makers.

It prohibits the use of the name "wine" on products made by the addition of water to the juice, pomace or pulp of grapes, and defines wine to be the product of the normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of the fresh sound ripe grapes with the usual color treatment.

This action has been taken, in the language of the decision, "because the department of agriculture has concluded that gross deceptions have been practiced under food inspection decision."

BOUND OVER FOR SALE OF TUBERCULOUS COWS

Holding that the sale of cattle infected with tuberculosis is unlawful, Judge P. O. Hathcock, of the criminal division of the municipal court on Friday bound W. L. Strickland, a trader, over to the court under a $100 bond, charged with cheating and swindling.

H. Medlock, who bought three cows from Strickland, drew out the warrant a short time after the sale. He had the cows examined and found that they were infected and subsequently they were ordered killed.

Witnesses were introduced to swear that the cows were in a healthy condition.

On the stand he claimed not to have known that the cows had tuberculosis.

Dr. H. G. Carnes, veterinarian, testified he examined the herd of a dairyman last February and condemned the cows as tuberculous. The dairyman testified that he told Strickland as to the carcasses for general tuberculosis and assured the trader because the infection was in the gland. The law prohibits the sale of tubercular cattle for dairy purposes.

REPORT ON JUDGE SPEER CASE AGAIN DELAYED

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Continued absence of members of the house judiciary committee from the city has further delayed presentation of the report of the subcommittee which investigated impeachment charges against Judge Emory Speer of Macon, Ga.

EBERHARDT WILL FACE MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Coroner's Jury Accuses Warden of Troup County Convict Camp

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) LAGRANGE, Ga., June 19.—After being out for thirty minutes, the coroner's jury returned a verdict of "involuntary manslaughter" in the case of T. V. Eberhardt, who was under probation following the murder death of Charles Partridge, a convict, who died in Eberhardt's camp near Hogansville, Sunday.

Partridge's body was brought to LAGRANGE Sunday afternoon and members of his family were asked to find it covered with bruises, as if he had been beaten.

Two citizens of Hogansville, H. G. Hay and D. A. Denny, came to LAGRANGE soon after the arrival of the body and stated to the mother of the dead man that they had seen Eberhardt beat Partridge about fifteen minutes before his death.

Restatives of the dead boy immediately demanded a coroner's investigation.

Coroner B. S. Spinks, of this city and a jury of six men began a vigorous investigation Monday. The trial was heard Tuesday and Hay and Denny swore substantially what they had told the mother of the dead man.

360 House Dresses at $1.00

So Fine That They Should Go in the Half Day

They arrived by Friday's express. Plainly and very much to the point, they are the best values at $1.00 we have known; and this takes into consideration dresses so remarkable at $1.00 that you bought in a day more than we have for tomorrow's selling.

A maker of renown gave us this opportunity.

Many are $1.50 dresses.

Choose from chambrays in plain colors with pique collars and cuffs; from daintily flowered lawns and the greatly favored organdies, as cool and as charming as ever they could be.

Styles altogether too numerous to detail—we must resort to the commonplace—SEE THEM. Therein lies the proof of their worth. Then you will buy by the half dozens.

All sizes.

A Corset Clearaway $1.39

$2.50, $3.00 to $3.50 Values

It should be a complete clearaway before the half day is over. The values justify it. To own a $2.50 to $3.50 corset at $1.39 is not an every day opportunity. And such corsets as these—of light coutil fashioned to the styles of now, low and medium busts, free hips, long skirts, four and six rubber button hose supporters. Not every size in every model.

Gingham Petticoats Half Price

Petticoats of serviceable ginghams and madras, in light and dark stripes. Note how neatly they are made. Those going out for an outing will want them.

Were $1.50, now 75c. Were $1.25, now 63c. Were 98c, now 50c. Were 79c, now 39c.

$3.98 to $6.00 Silk Petticoats $1.98

$1.98 because they are in light shades, blues, pinks and lavenders and white, and have become a bit soiled. Crepes de chine and messalines, made variously with ruffled flounces and plain.

But twenty-one in all, so it will not be safe to delay.

A Day of Opportunities in the Junior Department (Third Floor)

Indeed, time is money—and here is proof: Those who time their purchases of junior coats, girls' dresses and hats to tomorrow will be paid in savings fine and rare.

Here:

Junior $11.50 to $35 Coats at Half Price

Twenty of them—about as many styles; silks, Bedford cords, mixture weaves, in the smart fashions of spring. For the young woman who will travel the sale is particularly attractive, and doubtless many will see the wisdom of buying at half price a coat to begin the fall season with. Prices were $11.50, $13.00, $17.00, $20.00 and up to $35.00; now $6.75, $6.50, $8.50, $10.00 up to $17.50.

Children's $1 Dresses 69c

Sizes 2 to 6 years. Percales and ginghams in light and dark colors. Made most attractively in Russian and belted styles.

At $1.00 they were values unequalled for the fabrics used, the trimmings, the styles.

Girls' $1.50 Dresses 98c

Sizes 6 to 14 years. Smart styles! Ginghams and percales, made with tiered skirts and peplums, others are two-piece dresses with white middie and plaid skirt. A timely purchase makes this value possible.

A Clearaway of Misses' and Children's Hats

$10.00 to $15.00 Hats $5.00 $8.00 to $9.00 Hats $3.69
$3.50 to $5.00 Hats $1.69 $1.50 to $3.00 Hats 79c

Every hat in the big cases of the Junior Department—third floor—is included among these four prices.

So whether it is a little knockabout hat that is wanted, or a dainty lingerie hat for parties and afternoons, the opportunity is equally fine. Hats of about every good style for the tiny children and to the junior miss.

ACTOR AND WIFE WEEP WHEN VERDICT IS GIVEN

Marshall, Known as "Great Rhynota," Is Sentenced to Three Years

Edward Marshall, known to the vaudeville stage as "The Great Rhynota," was on Thursday afternoon sentenced to three years' service in the state penitentiary by Judge Price Edwards, following his conviction in the Fulton superior court on a charge of shooting at J. C. Ross, colored, during an attempt to hold-up and rob the negro at 200 Auburn avenue.

Marshall's pretty young wife, who has stood steadfastly by the magician, dashed the efforts of her wealthy parents to induce her to leave the actor and return to their northern home, was with him in the court room, where the jury brought in the verdict of guilty, and affecting scene followed the court's declaration that they must be separated for three years.

Marshall pleaded not guilty, but Ross identified him as the man who fired on him twice and then struck him over the head with an iron rod. Numerous negroes identified Marshall as the man who ran from the bank building when Ross raised the alarm, and a direct car conductor completed the identification by testifying that Marshall, being chased by a crowd of negroes, boarded his car and attempted to escape, admitting that he had just had trouble with some negroes. Attorneys Hill & Wright, who represented the actor, may file a motion for a new trial.

The prosecution of the case was conducted by Attorney John Moore, employed by the bank, and K. K. Shropshire, assistant to the solicitor general.

Following the Marshall trial, the criminal division of the superior court adjourned for the term.

THEATERS

Criticism of natural performance at the local stage is written by some of the leading staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theaters.

The most talked of playlet presented at the Forthright for some time is "Wives of the Rich," which has scored undoubtedly one of the biggest successes in the history of the house. Presented by Claude Gillinger and Miss Edith Lytle, foremost players, and a capable company, the act gets over the footlights in a most convincing manner.

Among the most popular acts are Genaro and Bailey, who have added new material to their specialties, and Miss Emma Francis and her Arab Boys, a singing, dancing and tumbling novelty. Next week's offering will be headlined by Paul Armstrong's satire, "Save One Girl." Mr. Armstrong will be remembered as the author of "The Deep Purple," "Salome Jane," etc., and this one-act drama is said to equal the best of his work.

If the pessimistic prophets who several years ago gave up their hopes for the progress of the moving picture drama could only get a chance to glimpse the huge audience that are attending the Grand theater this week for "Nestor's Daughters," the big movie attraction featuring Annette Kellerman, they would see massive overflow crowds flooding the big lobby plumb to the sidewalk and clamoring for admittance to a picture that has become the talk of the town.

Four performances daily. Matinees 2 o'clock and 5:15. Night performances 7:30 and 9:15 o'clock.

Two large audiences witnessed the performances of the Jewell Kelley company yesterday at the Bijou. It is the general opinion of patrons of the house that "A Desperate Game," the one of the best and most interesting plays that has been offered by the popular stock company so far.

Considerable interest is being shown in next week's play, a Russian melodrama entitled "For Her Sake," a four-act drama from the pen of W. L. Roberts, who has given the stage in recent years one of its best plays. The cast required in "For Her Sake" will call for the entire strength of the company, and the play will have a splendid scenic setting. Ladies will be admitted free Monday night as usual.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 122

"IT COSTS"

"Christ, though he was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that you through His poverty might become rich."
---II Cor. 8-9

Governor Slaton says:

"It costs the taxpayers money to maintain the convict camps."

He fails to mention the men chained leg to leg--men sleeping chained to one another and to the walls--men spending Sundays and holidays in chains--men beaten and dying beneath the cruelty of convict guards.

Governor Hooper of Tennessee more rightly estimates the cost. He says of Georgia's prisons:

"I cannot trust myself to express my feelings concerning the gross and shocking brutality of such a prison system. I would rather Tennesseeans should travel on foot for a thousand years the rude trails blazed through the wilderness by our forefathers than to ride in luxury upon a system of HIGHWAYS CONSTRUCTED AT SUCH A SACRIFICE OF HUMANITY AND CHRISTIANITY."

"Costs the taxpayers money?"

Yea, These convict camps of our state cost more than money, which our Governor seems to have forgotten.

There are things which cannot be measured in dollars and cents--Disregarding Georgia's liquor law--

Women and children slaving for the lack of a living wage paid to the man of the house--

The brothel--

The drunk reeling in his ruined home--

The convict's bleeding back--

EACH ONE OF THESE MAY BRING GOLD TO A CLASS, YET COST SO MUCH IN SUFFERING AND SOUL-DESTRUCTION THAT MEN'S HEARTS GROW SICK AND COLD AT THE VERY THOUGHT: AND THEY REVOLT.

You know--

He who prattles of necessary evils--

Or, advocates licensing the sale of liquor--

Or, consents to little children laboring in mills--

Or, glibly defends strike breakers by talking of man's right to sell his labor--

Or, sneers at the thought of trying to save the fallen--yea, even though the man or woman whom men seek to save has been convicted of crime--

SUCH A MAN, WHEN GREAT QUESTIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS ARE AT STAKE, WILL BEGIN TO JEST, OR DO THAT WHICH IS WORSE, URGE INACTION, OR, ANOTHER COURSE, BECAUSE OF THE COST IN DOLLARS AND CENTS OF DOING RIGHT.

He forgets--

Christ, when He died, put a value upon lives and souls: He was crucified for the lowest of the low: He sought--He seeks to save that which is lost.

Oglethorpe, following Him, founded Georgia with the dream and hope, that men here would be helped and saved, not damned by inhuman treatment in jails. What has been the cost of disregarding his wish that neither liquor, nor slavery, should ever be permitted within her borders?

COST? GEORGIANS ARE UNWILLING LONGER TO PAY THE PRICE IN HUMAN DEGRADATION FOR THE CONVICT SYSTEM WHICH GOVERNOR SLATON VAINLY TRIES TO DEFEND.

They will not always tolerate the cost in crime of our liquor laws being broken by men in office.

Today they are understanding the frightful price paid in despoiling children of childhood to make dividends--The cost of forcing families to live upon less than a living wage.

It costs--

Putting men in office, who will refuse to betray their fellowman, regardless of his place or position in life, will cost you time and thought.

But Georgians are seeing that with the ballot they may serve God--With a vote they may destroy or save life by putting the wrong or right man in office--The man in public office is but the expression of your will.

You will pay the price.

WHEN NEXT YOU GO TO VOTE, YOU WILL REMEMBER THE MAN IN CHAINS, THE BROKEN LAWS AGAINST THE LIQUOR TRADE, THE BROTHEL, THE CHILD IN THE MILL, AND THE LACK OF A LIVING WAGE: AND YOU WILL THINK, BEFORE YOU VOTE.

Jesus asked:

"What is a man profited if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self?"

It costs.

YOUR MONEY

When Investors
Go to School.
By JOHN M. GAKISOW.

Assume that you are one of the country's thrifty, ones; you lay by a certain amount of money every year, and the question of investing your surplus confronts you.

Suppose you acknowledged to yourself that you knew nothing about the science of investment, but that you were willing to learn. What changes Recently, I received the literature of an organization that undertakes to instruct investors by mail. I was interested in the outline of the course for ordinary investors—cost $50.

In that outline I found thirty-seven headings, constituting so many "lessons" for the student. The list began with a discussion of miscellaneous forms of investment, went into the history of investment securities, took up mortgages, life insurance, stocks and markets, short-term notes, and corporation paper, guaranteed securities.

There were six lessons on bonds, taking them up in a general way and then getting down to specific issues; nine lessons followed showing how

A lesson was devoted to choosing the most desirable securities among the classes discussed, one on choosing the best corporation out of a class. Municipal bonds, savings bank investments, and government bonds were all taken up; then followed four lessons on watching investments and the markets. Defaults and reorganizations were taken up, and also "crises and depressions," and the course ended with a general review.

This is a first-rate list of subjects for the investor to study if he cares seriously to make himself familiar with the various types of investments.

with the science. I don't imagine that subjects like these are highly exciting to the average man. They are not for light reading. Still, I do think more men with surplus dollars should be taught to give some such course a try. Why let the bankers monopolize financial education?

SIX SHIP LINES ALREADY

Companies Notify Officials
They Will Make Regular

Use of Waterway

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Six estab-

erved steamship lines already have served notice upon the Panama canal management of their intention to make regular use of the waterway. One vessel from the west coast ports of South America will be at the Pacific gates of the canal July 3, seeking to make her way to Liverpool by that route and thus to initiate a fortnightly service between Liverpool and the west side of South America.

An American steamship line now operating four steamers on the Pacific side and six on the Atlantic are waiting the opening of the canal to merge all ten into a regular line between San Francisco and New York. Hawaiian sugar, which has already begun to come through the canal on barges, being trans-shipped at either end, will be carried in broken cargoes from Honolulu to New York just as soon as Governor Goethals gives the word that regular steamships may use the waterway. The most ancient of British colonial monopolies, the West India company of London, which was established in 1750, has expressed a desire to be represented at the official opening of the Panama canal and its request is under consideration by the committee in charge of the ceremonies.
