TECH IS GREAT ASSET TO CITY, SAYS ROBERT GREGG

Member of Steel Concern Says Fund Is Really Maintenance Appropriation

That the fund being raised for Great-Tech is not a donation, but a maintenance appropriation set up out of the earnings derived by Atlanta from the Georgia School of Technology, is the statement of Robert Gregg, of Atlanta Steel company, a prominent alumnus of Tech.

Every commercial and manufacturing establishment that is making a success today sets aside from its earnings a certain amount to install new and better equipment, whereby their expenses of operation and upkeep can be materially reduced and their earnings increased, and in the same manner the people of Atlanta should provide for the improvements contemplated at Tech.

"The Tech is undoubtedly one of our greatest assets. It is each year furnishing the industries of the city and the state with the very highest type of technically trained men, men who will fill the positions of trust and responsibility made vacant by retirement from active participation in the operations of our industries of those who have brought these industries up to their present point of excellence and success. Many of the largest corporations, realizing the need of such men, are placing them in positions in every department of their plants where they learn the details of operations and can fit themselves for the major supervising positions which will be given them when they are called upon to fill."

W. M. CARTER RELEASED ON A HABEAS CORPUS

Had Been Arrested on Warrant Sworn Out by Woman in Barnesville

W. M. Carter, the electrical contractor who had suit for $5,000 damages against City Electrician R. C. Turner several weeks ago and who was arrested last week on a misdemeanor warrant sworn out by Mrs. Rosa Middlebrook, of Barnesville, Ga., was released from custody on a writ of habeas corpus issued Monday by Judge Bell, of the superior court.

Albino Chambers, who is Carter's attorney, filed his petition for the writ on the ground that the officer who came from Barnesville to arrest Carter made no effort to take him back to that place, but on the contrary put him in jail and kept him there several days until he gave him for $100.

The writ gives Carter his liberty and relieves him of the bond.

FLORIDA MAN TO WED ATLANTA WOMAN TODAY

Numerous Friends Here to See Wedding of Pleasant A. Hope and Mrs. Wishart

Numerous friends of Pleasant A. Hope, of Jacksonville, Fla., were gathered in Atlanta Tuesday to attend his wedding to Mrs. Edna Watt Wishart, of this city.

Mr. Hope is a large real estate owner and is prominent in the politics of Florida. It was he who conducted the late Fletcher's first campaign for the United States senate several years ago, when Mr. Fletcher defeated Governor Browning for that office.

EMPIRE STATE BANK IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

W. J. Hlatock was Tuesday morning named receiver for the Empire State bank at 19 South Broad street on the petition of W. P. Whitaker, a stockholder.

Whitaker alleged the bank's capital stock was impaired and that the bank had already determined to take no further deposits after July 1. The petition alleged the bank had violated the banking laws by lending more than 10 per cent of its capitalization to the wife of one of the directors. The capital stock of the bank is $22,170 and the deposits $12,000. The Empire State bank was organized in December, 1912.

BAPTIST MINISTERS AND FAMILIES ENJOY PICNIC

The Baptist ministers of Atlanta, about forty in number, with their families and friends, are spending Tuesday at a picnic at Stone Mountain. The ministers, who left on an 8:30 o'clock car, had much game of baseball, played marbles and did many other things, not the least of which was consuming the quantities of good things to eat which they carried with them in baskets.

The picnic is an annual affair with the Baptist Ministers' association.

Here Is Good News For Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions, relieving the fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This does the food's allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chinese druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles. Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by Jacoby Pharmacy Co.—(Adv.)

Advertising the Truth and Placing Right Merchandise Behind It

We try to regulate all our stocks with scrupulous mathematical exactness, but our aim frequently goes wide of the mark. No odds how carefully we analyze supply and demand, in relation to the store and its public, the result is more than likely to be lopsided. Merchandise that we thought would move rapidly may show a tendency to lag, and merchandise that inspired pessimism may bound out. Therefore, some departments are fat and congested; others are lean and exhausted.

July.

The best time of all the year to straighten out the crooked lines, to secure balance and proper adjustment, to sift and rearrange. The duldest imagination realizes a flash the potentiality of present conditions.

Stocks excessively clogged—stocks that are abundant and redundant must be depleted—and

Other stocks that have been strained and drained, leaving remainders, residuums, dribbles, broken miscellanies and incomplete sediments give verge and scope to this important trade event.

The whole store has been ransacked for stubbles and surpluses which will be offered at prices that should clean them out quickly.

It is to be a Serial Sale planned with system and forethought.

The items quoted in this advertisement are only a small fraction of the aggregate. The ones that will be given to the types tomorrow and the days to follow, should grip your economic impulse with a compelling power.

Who loses the money that represents the difference between the real value of the goods and the prices asked?

Alert and thrifty women will Save it—but who loses it? We do, but we don't.

In spite of the fact that we will distribute a large volume of goods at much less than cost, including in actual losses, still in an ideal and theoretical sense we do not regard them as sacrifices.

This weeding and cleaning out process is our own method of perfecting and standardizing stock organization, and promoting a healthy condition in every department.

We resolutely reject the popular notion that the financial return of a sale is the measure of its success.

"Large profits—great success; scant profits—small success." That's not Our idea at all. If it were, then mere cunning, shrewdness and the bold trading instinct would control success.

We have a broader conception of business than mere money-making.

Service to the Community is the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company idea of business success—and the income derived from the service is simply an essential condition of success.

Of course, our views are exceptional, but we do believe that they will eventually be accepted by nearly all the practical business men who today charge us with being "theorists."

The July Sale will supply additional proof that we are right.

Prices of Silks Tumble

Creating Fine Savings

In reading the items below bear in mind, please, that the silks are all fresh, new, in every respect desirable. Their beauty and their value to you is not to be measured by their prices.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company stocks are representative of the fashions. That it has come time in our method of merchandising to clear away stocks makes for an occasion wherein every woman may profit.

GEORGIA AND HER POLITICS

INVESTMENT LAW WANTED BY NIXON

J. A. Nixon, editor of the Orange Judd Southern Farmer, has written a letter to Governor Slaton, urging him to recommend to the legislature the enactment of a law to protect the public in its dealings with bond and investment companies. In part Mr. Nixon's letter to the governor follows:

"An increasing number of concerns are going into the business of issuing, negotiating or selling bonds, certificates, amortization agreements or other obligations on the partial payment or installment plan. It is believed that some people are induced to go into these schemes in the expectation of receiving a loan of $500 to $1,000 after paying in $4 or $6 monthly dues for six consecutive months. Failing to obtain the loan, the further payment of dues, in which case some or all of the amount already paid in is sacrificed, forfeited or lapsed. In such case the victim feels that he has been imposed upon, if not swindled outright.

"Concerns of this type usually are careful to avoid any technical violation of state or federal banking laws, or statutes for the protection of depositors. Thus they escape supervision by the commissioner of banks in the respective states. Owing partly to the absence of such supervision, one of these concerns, the so-called 'Commonwealth Securities Loan company,' is now in the hands of a receiver appointed by the federal court at Dallas, Tex. Among its 2,000 creditors, more or less, there are probably quite a number from Georgia. It is known that several concerns are doing business in Georgia along the lines above referred to."

FEIDER DELIVERS SPEECH AT ELLAVILLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) ELLAVILLE, Ga., June 30.—Thomas F. Feider, of Macon, candidate for United States senator, spoke in the court house at this place yesterday afternoon to an audience composed of citizens of Sumter, Marion and Shelby counties.

Mr. Feider declared himself in favor of a change in the peonage laws now upon the statute books of this state, which he would, if elected to the United States senate, introduce a bill which would, if passed, bring such a change. He also spoke against federal judges holding office during life or good behavior. He said he thought it best, that should the federal judges wish to hold longer than eight or ten years, they should be re-elected or appointed as the case might be.

He declared himself in favor of an appropriation by the United States government for public roads and a system of rural or agricultural credit.

He most emphatically decried the appointment of judges to any office.

After spending about two hours in Ellaville, speaking and shaking hands Mr. Feider left for Americus.

JUDGE BARTLETT'S RACE DEPENDS ON HIS HEALTH.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

JACKSON, Ga., June 30.—Whether or not Judge Charles L. Bartlett is a candidate for congress to succeed himself this year depends upon the turn his health takes within the next few days. It is reported by his friends here who are in close touch with him that Judge Bartlett was operated on in Washington

ADVERTISING IN THE JOURNAL SELLS THE GOODS

MYERS-MILLER FURNITURE COMPANY UNDER SIEGE OF CUSTOMERS.

In Sunday's Journal, and in no other paper, the Myers-Furniture company, of 6 and 8 West Mitchell street, announced their plans for a big and unique sale this week. They stood pat on that announcement in one day's issue of The Journal. On Monday the crowd overflowed into the street. On Tuesday it was larger. The picture above shows the earlier arrivals Tuesday. No crowds like these have attended before any furniture sale in Atlanta. One page ad in The Journal Sunday gave the impetus for the whole week.

Now that the committee has met and adopted the rules for the primary, which will be held August 19, the plurality plan prevailing, some definite announcement is expected from Congressman Bartlett as soon as he is able to be out.

FEIDER'S ITINERARY.

FOR WEEK AFORESAID. Emmett Houser, the well known Fort Valley newspaper man, who is in charge of the Atlanta headquarters of Thomas F. Feider, candidate for the United States senate, announces Mr. Feider's itinerary for the week as follows: Feider morning at 10 o'clock Mr. Feider addressed the voters of Marion county at Buena Vista. Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday and Thursday he will travel by auto through Marion, Stewart, Webster and Hainstock counties, making the acquaintance of as many of the voters as possible. "Friday, in an auto, he will visit the different points in Campbell county, and will close this week's campaign by an address to the voters in Douglasville."

BUTTS COUNTY LAYS CLAIM TO STATE'S FIRST SLATON CLUB.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) JACKSON, Ga., June 30.—Though it is reported that Jackson county organized the first Slaton club in the state, Butts county really organized the first club of that kind, the meeting having been held in Jackson on June 4.

The officers of the club include Dr. A. F. White, president; S. H. May, A. H. Ogilvie, Joseph Jolly, S. M. Pope, J. M. Matt McMichael and J. M. Green, vice presidents; D. Jones, secretary. The club is enrolling new members daily.

SMITH HEADS CONFEREES ON COTTON FUTURES BILL

Georgia Senior Senator Narm
Chairman of Senate Conference Committee

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Following his appointment by the vice president as chairman of the senate conference on the cotton futures bill which was introduced by Senator Smith, the latter held a short preliminary conference with Congressman Lever, of South Carolina, who heads the house committee. The other members of the senate conference are Messrs. Bland, of Missouri; Bradley, of Montana; and the congressmen Lee, of Georgia, and Hiram, of Iowa, will serve with Lever as the house conferees.

Although Lever was called to the south Carolina, said Senator Smith, and we agreed this morning that the conferees will get together at the next week as possible. No fear of the legislation was discussed. The conferees are earnestly anxious to have the bill passed before the adjournment of the senate and the house.

It was made known that the conferees have been made toward perfecting the legislation, which I regard as the most important to the southern people. It is a bill that has been attempted in the American congress of almost every session.

Although the enactment of legislation for the regulation and control of the New York and other futures exchanges has been attempted in the past for over twenty years, never before has so much progress been made toward the perfection of a measure that would remedy the evils complained of by southern cotton producers.

There is no difference between the senate and house bills as far as the character of the bill is concerned. The conferees are setting together, and I feel confident that the bill will come legislation which will meet the demands of the situation.

The senate bill proposes to deny the right of the United States mail to the exchange and its members who have their contracts and practice are to be excluded from the exchange. The house bill seeks to compel the exchange to conform to the taxing power of the federal government. Both measures require the approval of the government standards, and the abolition of fixed differences in the settlement of contracts.

MOTORISTS CLAIM NEW ROAD RECORD FOR AUTO

Hartwell Men Say They Drove 115 Miles in Four and One-Half Hours

Claiming they had established a new automobile road record between Hartwell, Ga., and Atlanta, two young men from the east Georgia city stopped in Atlanta at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, six hours after they had started their car near the South Carolina line. Their car was unique in its right, being the restored and repaired half of a car that had been wrecked and burned. It was the work of the young travelers, was the prize which brought this transformation. The competition was Howard H. Page, who referred to their machine affectionately as "The Red Devil." They had started at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, and had made a run of four and a half hours, running at a discounting an average of 31 miles per hour, a pace and a half faster than the average.

Silk and Linen Shirts

In honor of the very height of the shirt season we show today a big window which represents mainly a large and handsome display of very "urgent" silk and linen shirts.

The "urgency" of a shirt might be explained to mean the arguments in its favor.

Shirts of silk and linen argue for the fine appearance of silk and the splendid wear of linen.

See the array of handsome colors—feel the soft texture of the combination weave.

POLICE HUNT BELONGINGS OF FIRST HEAT VICTIM

Money, Trunk and Three Suitcases of H. G. Niblo Are Still Missing

A trunk, three suitcases and a large amount of money, known to have belonged to H. G. Niblo, the man who died from a heat stroke Monday, were being sought by police today in Atlanta in an effort to further establish his identity.

Niblo was prostrated by the heat in the North Georgia hotel Tuesday night and died in the ambulance that was rushing him to the Grady hospital. He is the first victim of the heat in Atlanta this year.

Letters in his pocket addressed to H. G. Niblo were the only clues to his identity and investigation has despatched rather than decreased the mystery that surrounds the death of the man.

At the undertaking establishment of J. Bloomfield, where the body is at present, it was stated that the traces has been found of any personal effects belonging to the dead man other than the letters he carried in his pocket.

These were dated by the Atlanta police the same day he died and consisted of a letter to the mother of the man, who was written in the morning. It was learned that Niblo registered at the Forsyth hotel June 11, going from there to the Marietta hotel. He left the latter a week ago.

Eighteen Residents of County Adjudged Insane

Month's June Record Exceeds
That of July Last Year by One Person

Eighteen residents of Fulton county were adjudged insane by Ordinary John L. Wilkinson during the month of June which was one better than the city's previous record. In July of last year, 17 people were pronounced insane, the largest number ever adjudged in one month up to that time.

When asked whether or not in his opinion the heat was responsible for the large number of lunacy cases in the past month, Judge Wilkinson admitted that probably it had something to do with the unusual showing made. He pointed out that while the heat would hardly affect a person's mind, it does make it difficult to sleep at night and this loss of sleep very probably so affected the nerves of weak-minded that they showed their infirmity more plainly than they would do under more favorable conditions.

The number of writs for preliminary hearings being issued, Judge Wilkinson said it would not be surprising to see the record even higher than that of June.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will destroy the tissue of skin and completely destroy the whole system when used in large quantities, such ointments should never be used except on prescription from a reliable physician, as the danger of its use is to the life of the patient. Mrs. Champ Clark And Friends Near Death in a Storm

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The fact that Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house, and a party of five people she chaperoned, had a narrow escape from death at Port Washington Sunday night, became known today, when the height of the storm they were marooned in a freight house on the wharf at the fort.

The party had gone down the Potomac on the boat of the United States Navy, and had been guests of the commandant of the fort. The party was on the boat when the storm struck, and they were forced to abandon the yacht and take refuge in the freight house on the wharf.

MCCRODY JOINS FORCES WITH HEAD OF SCHOOLS

Author of Bill on State School Books Recedes From Original Stand

Representative C. R. McCrory, of Shelby, author of the bill providing for the state to purchase its own school text-books, has receded from his original position and has announced his intention of joining M. L. Brittain, state superintendent of schools, in recommending the advisability and feasibility of the state printing some of its own textbooks.

First, by leasing plates of some selected books.

Second, by complete preparation and distribution of a book of local color, namely, a state history.

The printing in each instance is to be at cost on contract, after bids have been received.

Representative McCrory has contended all along that the state should publish all its school books, starting in with a certain number of readers and gradually adding to the list.

The school book commission has prepared an address report on the entire proposition. Mr. Brittain, chairman of the commission, made his recommendations in a minority report and Representative McCrory put in still another minority report embodying his original views.

Monday morning Mr. McCrory stated he had decided to adopt Mr. Brittain's recommendation and do what he could to get the legislature to provide for the publication of the list.

The McCrory school book bill, as originally introduced last year, is the second time it has been introduced.

RIVAL MINERS' UNIONS WILL MEET AT BUTTE

Many Threats Heard, and Trouble is Expected Among Factions

BUTTE, Mont., June 29.—Meetings of the two miners' unions in Butte are expected to be held tonight, one by the Butte local No. 1, Western Federation of Miners, and the other by the Butte independent union, known as the Butte Miners' union.

Threats have been made that the meeting of the Butte local of the federation would be broken up, as was the meeting of last Tuesday.

The federation's meeting place is being kept secret for fear that it will be interrupted because of lack of police protection, according to Joseph Harkin, vice president, who is the only official of the union in Butte, others having fled a week ago.

Hair Made Beautiful

Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is not so much a gift of nature as a matter of care and proper nourishment. It is like a plant—it will not grow healthy and beautiful unless it has attention and proper nutrition.

Parian Sage, daintily perfumed and easily applied, tones up and invigorates the roots of the hair and furnishes the necessary nourishment to not only save and beautify the hair, but also stimulate it to grow long, wavy, soft, fluffy and radiant with life.

Parian Sage is applied and rubbed into the scalp, it will simply work wonders. Just as application stops itching, removes dandruff and cleanses the hair of all dust and excessive oil. Since Parian Sage, which can be obtained from Jacob's 10 Stores or at any drug or toilet counter, never disappoints, it is no longer necessary for any woman to be humiliated because of thin, streaked, faded, lifeless or unattractive hair. Parian Sage will save you time, trouble and money. It is a beauty product that is in conformity with Mr. Brittain's recommendation.

University of Tennessee is Dissatisfied With The New One-Year Rule

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "AN AW L DISCOURTESY"

A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

OLD-TIME FELLOW.
"Old-time fellow"—they called him so. And I tell you why, for they didn't know—
For while that the name had come to him From his thin, gray hair or his eyes now dim; They called him so because in the race of the mad, wild crowd through the market place, In the bitter battle for name and fame, He stood aside with a look of shame.

Because he believed, in his simple gull, There were others things in life worth while Than the wealth and station and flashy fame Of those about him who played the game; Than the sash and blow of friend from friend To gain the way or attain the end; Than the trickery and the savage greed Which stood for the age and the nation's creed.

"Old-time fellow"—they called him so. Whose place was back in the Long Ago.

For that matters, a wallop to the crest of the jawbone is merely "psychological" if you have that much imagination. But only the favored few, under such circumstances, can kid themselves into the belief that it is only the ticking of a feather and continue as if nothing else had occurred.

OFF COURSE.
America, of course, is still the land of true democracy. President Wilson commits a grave breach of golfing etiquette by driving into a player's no-man's-land.

Shad player, after discovering that it was the president, apologizes profusely for having unlimbered a few pointed truths. Just wherein is a president on a golf course any different from any one else—except in the possession of a game that is slightly more to the Joe Bush or the Gus Hilt?

"Why doesn't some one," writes George P. W., "go out and get Chance some ball players? We'll be the goat. Why?"

In the last two weeks the Giants and Athletics have about broken even. But if you're out in front it's easy enough to win a race walking on one's heels if one else comes along.

The two clubs that ought to be ashamed of themselves are Pirates and Red Sox. When two clubs with their material are down around the edge of the second division there is a chance for one of two answers: Either it is a bad fault in leadership or a sad lack of fighting quality that is born of indifference.

One of the main troubles of baseball is that both club owners and players figure they are in control of the game; that the game belongs to them. Whereas it belongs to neither in comparison to the claim of the fan. When a baseball no longer belongs to the fan there won't be any baseball left to belong to any one.

We have a hunch that Washington is on the verge of starting something new that will be worth watching.

An admirer of Herod's dedicates this from Kipling to the Red leader:
I didn't begin with the zakine,
I took my job and I stuck;
And I took the chance they wouldn't,
And now they are calling it Luck.

LOOKING FORWARD.
(Year—1924.)
President Ben Johnson, John K. Tener and James Gilmore in conference. "We'll stop this contract jumping if we have to take each case through every court in the land." These contract jumpers are a lot of trouble and irritate, and no reputable league should have anything to do with them. I won't take one of them back in my circuit if he was the greatest player I ever lived.

So recent for the press (issued by Big Three): "The American National and Federal leagues, representing organized baseball, have decided to go to war on the Columbia league and to get out an injunction against the player that jumps his contract."

You can say for me," said President Gilmore, "that the Columbia league is a bush circuit in every way and is not worthy the support of the fans. Also that the game will not stand a fourth major league."

(Year—1923.)
Presidents of the National, American, Federal and Columbia leagues, representing organized baseball, met here today for the purpose of making the United States league, the latest outlaw circuit to enter the fold. Mr. Jackson, president of the Columbia league, was especially vocal.

How about municipal ownership of baseball franchises?
England picks Freddie Welsh to beat Willie Ritchie. There was a time when we might have greeted this statement with an uproarious guff. But as things happen to be, we'll leave it alone and wait a bit. He says that those guff was not checked by an unexpected walk on the part of the ship.

Marsans Urged To Join Reds
For us to find any man of your ability to fill the place made vacant by your absence."
The Federal league officials expressed the belief that the letter was written to establish a legal point.

Tenn. Opposes One-Year Rule

Knoxville Institution Objects to Clause With Reference to Enrollment of 400 Students.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 29.—"We are sitting tight," stated Dr. H. E. Buchanan, chairman of the Tennessee Athletic council, here yesterday afternoon, when asked as to Tennessee's attitude with reference to the present flurry in the S. I. A. A.
"No, I hardly think Tennessee will be represented at the meeting in Atlanta Wednesday," Dr. Buchanan continued, "because we have been notified that this meeting was not a 'sanctioned' by the athletic authorities of the University of Georgia, but was called by a member of the athletic council of that institution."
The University of Tennessee is in favor of a one-year rule, to apply to all colleges, but we believe the one-year rule as it now stands is discriminatory, and that is the reason I would object to it at the Jacksonville meeting. Unless the rules of the S. I. A. A. are modified to such an extent that we can play Vanderbilt, in case that college sticks by its determination to leave the S. I. A. A. it is not unlikely that Tennessee will play Vanderbilt anyhow, despite consequences."

Dr. Buchanan is in favor of a new athletic association with, or without the one-year rule, so that each rule applies to all colleges alike. He will be perfectly satisfied with the S. I. A. A. provided present 400-limit one-year rule is eliminated.

In other words, the Tennessee athletic authorities do not intend to take any action with reference to the present muddle until they see "whether the ship is drifting."

Yale having beaten Harvard calmly appropriate the rowing championship, which is a good job—outside of New Haven.

Racquet Stars Play for Title

ATLANTA, Ga., June 29.—After a great exhibition of tennis, the South Atlantic States championship is still tied between J. K. Orr and W. E. Carter, of Atlanta, against the Waring brothers, of Columbia.
It was agreed to decide the championship tied here a week ago by the best two out of three sets. In the first set Carter and Orr won 6-4, ever game going to deuce. In the second set, the Waring won 7-5. In the third set each team at one time had the advantage, but the set ended 12-13.

It was decided to play one set today to decide the championship.

Every dog has his day, but in the red league every player has his day in every city in the circuit.

The Importance of Irrigation

THIS is certainly one year that has convinced the people of the importance of irrigation, and no one knows how good can be accomplished by this work unless they have tried it, and by actual experience see the results that can be obtained from its use. It is surprising what benefits it enables one to get the best results with a very small amount of water. 500 gallons per acre every week gives most any crop a perfect average and any ordinary farmer will supply this amount of water.

On the stiff red lands it is impossible to get results by the ditch system or flooding methods, but by the use of the overhead spray it thoroughly drenches the soil, opens the pores and enables the sun to draw the water from below. Far better results can be obtained with one-half the water by this method than can be accomplished by the open ditch system, making it possible for any one with a small supply of water to irrigate at least a few acres.

By the use of a medium size gasoline engine with a pressure of 30 pounds, a person can through the use of the overhead spray system, irrigate 50 to 60 feet apart to do perfect work. It is astonishing how cheaply this method of irrigation can be installed on one's garden or field. Where the water can be obtained in the field about $125 to $300 per acre will easily cover the cost of a complete system that will last for a lifetime, and give rain at one's command.

The satisfaction of knowing that you can be absolutely sure of making a 100 percent crop and get the full benefit of the sun, the rain and labor is worth this small cost. The interest on the amount invested being not over $15 per acre, and the water being so easily obtained, the person who plants and grows his crops can get up quickly and go right off to grow his crops to his first-class farmer.

There are many who yield one crop per year on poor land by using plenty water, and when a person has good land he can easily use one to two tons of fertilizer per acre by having water to feed the crops. The person who has good land, but who does not use only a limited amount of fertilizer, is when there is too much rain will yield crops, or if he has not sufficient rain, he does not get the benefit of his fertilizer. By having water so you can get the benefit any way you wish, a person can use a larger amount of fertilizer, and he will get a better yield than it is possible to get otherwise. It is also a satisfaction to know that you can grow vegetables and other crops out of season when the market is bare.

There are possibly 20,000 acres in the richest vegetable and berry-growing section of Florida now covered by the overhead spray system, and it has enabled growers in that state to become rich, where many years ago the use of this method they would have complete failures and the dry weather. But to take you to the overhead spray system, you know positively when he plants a crop on irrigated land that they are sure to find a profitable harvest.

Many people in Georgia are beginning to use in a small way this method of watering their crops. Especially is it invaluable in the growing season, when the amount of water is so small, and the cost of water is so high. We all know that a great amount of water is required in the growing of corn, and that it is to be obtained from 25 to 50 tons of fertilizer per acre where it is supplied with all the water. This irrigation is invaluable to truck gardeners and dairymen, and will probably do as much if not more for them as it will for the farmer to produce crops sufficient to feed the nation than any other method yet discovered.

People who have never seen this in use should by all means visit some of the small plants in and around Atlanta and get an idea of the actual value it is to any one, and it is especially so to the farmer. Two good men can install and put into operation one acre per day, and save a valuable crop that looks as if it will go to ruin from the dry weather. Quite a number of people are now using this system around Atlanta on short notice, and the day will come when the Skinner system of irrigation will be largely used in all parts of the South, and it will be appreciated as it should.

Yours very truly,
