MRS. BELLE CRAWFORD IS NOW FREE WOMAN

Grand Jury Returns "No Bill" for Second Time in the Famous Case

When a Fulton county grand jury returned the "no bill" for the second time against Mrs. Belle Crawford, the famous case which has been the subject of litigation in the Georgia courts for years, Mrs. Crawford is now a free woman. The return of the "no bill" on the warrant charging her with poisoning her husband, John H. Crawford, automatically releases her from the $5,000 bond under which she has been since the old charge after a grand jury had failed to indict under the evidence.

Since the death of John H. Crawford in 1907, the inheritance of $125,000 which he bequeathed to his wife has been the subject of litigation in court after court. Mrs. Crawford, who married him hardly a month before his death, and thereafter bitterly contested her portion, the major part of the state. Most of the decisions have been rendered in her favor, although the suit is still pending.

After the grand jury's decision, Mrs. Crawford's inheritance from her husband was not to be paid until she was 30 years old. She was then to receive the balance of the estate, which was to be paid to her in installments. Mrs. Crawford, who was then 25 years old, was married to John H. Crawford, who was then 25 years old. She was then to receive the balance of the estate, which was to be paid to her in installments. Mrs. Crawford, who was then 25 years old, was married to John H. Crawford, who was then 25 years old. She was then to receive the balance of the estate, which was to be paid to her in installments.

RESERVE BANK DIRECTORS KEEP MEETING SECRET

There was nothing new locally in the federal reserve bank directors' meeting, according to Joseph A. McCord, governor of the Atlanta branch.

The date and place of the directors' meeting is still kept secret, but, however, it was not held Tuesday.

It is expected to be held some time this week.

MORE RAILROADS WANT TO TAKE OFF TRAINS

Petitions Are Filed by the Seaboard, West Point and Georgia

Petitions for authority to discontinue passenger train service on some of their lines have been filed today with the railroad commission by the Seaboard Air-Line, Atlanta and West Point and Georgia railroads. Arguments on all these petitions will be heard by the commission November 12.

The Seaboard Air Line is asking permission to discontinue passenger trains Nos. 17 and 18, now operating between Atlanta and Abbeville, S. C., from the latter city to Elberton, Ga., which is thirty-one miles nearer to Atlanta.

It also wishes to change the southern terminal of local passenger trains Nos. 23 and 24, now operating between Savannah and Jacksonville, Fla., from the latter city to Tallahassee, Fla., which is seventy-one miles nearer Savannah.

The third petition, of the Seaboard's, asks authority to discontinue the double daily local passenger trains, Nos. 19, 20, 21 and 22, now operating between Savannah and Columbus, S. C., and substitute in their place one round trip train each day from Savannah to Fairfax, S. C., and another round trip train each day from Fairfax to Columbus. The Atlanta and West Point desire to discontinue local passenger trains Nos. 32 and 34, between Atlanta and Marietta, Ga., and substitute in their place one round trip train each day from Atlanta to Marietta, Ga., and another round trip train each day from Marietta to Atlanta.

Permission is sought by the Georgia Railroad to discontinue through passenger trains Nos. 2 and 6, between Atlanta and Augusta, which were put on last May when the railroad commission allowed the road to rearrange its schedule, at which time several accommodations were discontinued.

The Georgia road also wishes to discontinue local passenger trains Nos. 1 and 5, between Union Point and Augusta, and to make Milldeville one of the terminals of local passenger trains. Nos. 9 and 35, now operating between Union Point and Augusta, which would cut the service of these trains between Milldeville and Macon.

NUMEROUS FIRE ALARMS KEEP FIREMEN ON RUN

A record of eight alarms in less than twelve hours kept Atlanta's firemen busy Tuesday morning.

The calls started coming in at 1:10 p. m., when a fire broke out at 150 West Hunter street. An hour later the firemen were called to 478 Hill street, where a fire broke out at 4:55 a. m. in a residence on 100 Whitehall terrace was injured by flames.

By 1:10 p. m. the department had received four calls, and the firemen were kept busy. The firemen were kept busy, and the firemen were kept busy. The firemen were kept busy, and the firemen were kept busy.

DYNAMITERS OF FISH WILL BE PROSECUTED

State Game Commissioner Charles L. Davis has been concerned of late by reports of individuals in various parts of the state dynamiting streams and ponds to kill fish. He is one of the most serious offenses against the game laws, and Mr. Davis is determined to put a stop to the practice. Accordingly, he has instructed his game wardens in each county to be on the lookout for offenders and to prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law.

Tuesday Mr. Davis received information from Mr. A. L. Allen, game warden of White county, that he had secured the conviction of James N. Davis, a resident of that county, and that the judge who tried the case had the negro $50 and costs.

WALTER LEE MCGILL DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

For Many Years He Has Been Secretary of Southeastern Freight Association

Walter Lee McGill, secretary of the Southeastern Freight Association and one of the best known railroad men in the south, died Tuesday morning at his home, 831 North Boulevard. He had been in poor health for the past three or four years. He was 49 years old.

Mr. McGill was born in Bainbridge, Ga., December 2, 1865. Early in life he entered the railroad field and in 1890 he was made chief clerk of the Southeastern Railway and Steamship Association, which later became the Southeastern Freight Association. He was made secretary of the latter association in 1904, which position he held at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Rogers McGill, two children, W. L. Jr., and Ida R., and two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Venable and Mrs. W. W. McCowan, of Decatur.

The funeral will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian church, will officiate and interment will be in Oakland.

Snow in Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 27.—Light snow began falling in Raleigh at 1 o'clock this morning, accumulating a half inch in temperature. The fall was not very heavy to remain on the ground.

ON THE FIRING LINE

What it means to most men.

There are many true heroes that have perished in the European war who "never smiled powder," but who succumbed to sickness after hard campaigning—coupled with bad water and lack of food. The sick and debilitated man is as much out of place in his struggle for life and existence as he would be on the firing line. On the other hand the strong, vigorous man, his veins filled with rich, red blood, has an enormous advantage in whatever position he may be fated to occupy, in war or business.

The prompt and certain action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in driving out harmful germs and impurities from the blood, sets in motion the repair process which works actively on the diseased membrane where Catarrh is lurking unchecked or where the skin gives warning of the bad blood beneath by the appearance of pimples, eruptions, itching, or where the skin clears up and becomes wholesome and ruddy.

Thus by building up a new and perfect covering and carrying out of the system the Catarrh infested matter by way of the blood, liver and kidneys, Catarrh is overcome and permanently conquered.

There is not a drop of alcohol or any narcotic in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but in this safe vegetable remedy there is a mighty alternative power which by replacing the blood impurities with pure, rich blood, not only ends Catarrhal conditions wherever located, but vitalizes the kidneys, stomach, liver, bowels and every organ of the body. People who suffer from humors and skin misery because of Pimples, Skin rash, Itchings, Eruptions, Boils, Carbuncles, are especially benefited. It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST GREAT LUMBER CONCERN

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 27.—Seeking to foreclose a mortgage on the property of the Hilton Dodge Lumber company, one of the largest lumber companies in the south, owning sawmills and tracts of land in Georgia, South Carolina and other states, Emile K. Boieset and the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, trustees for holders of $5,000,000 of the company's bonds, have filed suit in the federal court.

The suit is asking the suit to be granted by United States Judge William T. Newman. In Atlanta. The trustees asked that receivers be appointed to take charge of the property and business of the company. Judge Newman appointed R. K. Knox, of Savannah, and G. S. Lewis, of Holyoke, Mass. Mr. Knox is president of the Illinois Lode company. The litigation promises to be long drawn out.

MISS LAWSON HINES GIVES BEAUTIFUL PARTY

The large tea dance at which Miss Lawson Hines, the lovely young daughter of Judge and Mrs. L. Hines, entertained Tuesday afternoon a host of friends at the home of Mrs. Hines, 1116 Madison, was one of the most beautiful given in the present gay season.

The luncheon room of Judge and Mrs. Hines on Twentieth street was elaborately decorated throughout, and in all corners except the rose-tinted parlor, which the young hostess reserved, the guests of the Halloween season were seated.

Miss Hines and Miss Morton, assisted by Miss Hines and Miss Morton, and in the parlor before a mantle banked with glowing pink roses. Wide white ribbons caught with pink silk bows were placed on pedestals, and the electric bulbs, were covered with pink silk shades.

Guests were seated in a charming room wearing a gown of pale pink tulle, and a graceful place of rest was provided in silver. The drop cloth was in accordance with the theme of the flowers were long-stemmed and in silver.

Miss Hines was a striking model of a new style, made straight, simple, and covered with monkey fur. The new style was softened by Miss Hines' hair, which was in the style of a bun and caught with silver bows. Her hair was in the style of a bun and caught with silver bows. Her hair was in the style of a bun and caught with silver bows.

Miss Hines looked very attractive in a white satin fashion.

With a broad girle of silver brocade. A bouquet of deep red roses laid in the darkened library, reception hall and dining room, the lights were covered with yellow lanterns, reflecting weird figures of witches and red figures waving festooned over the windows and connecting arches, and trees of black cat, swish, witches and other devices of Halloween combined to make the scene gay and festive. Great yellow pumpkins with glowing blinking eyes rested at intervals around the plate rack in the dining room and the centerpiece of the table was a large pumpkin filled with richly colored fruits. Branches of autumn tinted leaves interspersed with green foliage were bunched in profusion against the walls and great festoons of yellow chrysanthemums filled bowers and vases. An alcove at the end of the long entrance hall was screened with brightly tinted leaves and palms and here a stringed orchestra furnished a bright program of dance music. An interesting feature and favorite place of retreat was the wicker camp adjoining the sun parlor in which the guests' fortunes were told.

Mrs. Luther Rosser, Jr., and Mrs. James Wells served punch from a beautifully decorated bowl in the sun parlor, and seating in entertaining was Miss Isabel Robinson, Miss Elizabeth Blane, Miss Mary King, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Louise Parker, Miss Louise Taylor, Miss Anna Smith and Miss Lucile Kuhl.

A hundred and fifty guests were entertained.

Ends Dry, Hoarse or Painful Coughs Quickly

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy, Inexpensive but Effective

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant, lasting, home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents or less. You can't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared, and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The premises, certainly and even with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, chest or throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, taken in grain and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter cough.

To avoid disappointment in making this, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Miss Hines and Miss Margaret Taylor served punch. Mrs. Fred Lewis and Miss Bates presided at the favor table and received the various souvenirs, brought home by the guests, which were all of the most beautiful.

Among the little hostesses were Miss Mary Lewis, Miss Mary Cohen, Miss Robert Lowry, Miss Valerie Manley of Tulsa, Okla. Miss Mary Cohen was an Arabian with white, acorn-shaped ornaments of red velvet ornamented with gold beads. A gold and white ornamented the pretty costume.

Miss Mary Manley was a red rose. The Maria Lewis and Miss Emily Smith wore white costumes. Miss Thomas Hinson represented with a gown. Miss Mary Tilt was a Lilliputian.

The styles are such as you'd select if full price were to be paid—the season's most-to-be desired effect.

With anticipation high, this sale has surprises in store.

Our buyer for the women's salons made a very recent trip to market. There he found advantages truly remarkable—which he was not slow in availing himself of.

Certain manufacturers upon whom we depend for many of our most charming garments, had on hand in their show-rooms, samples, their odd ones and twos.

Our buyer chose the most desirable of these—suits, dresses, for afternoon, street and evening, coats and blouses—and even kimono of which we tell you farther on—he bought in quantities sufficient to make the prices quite extremely low. The garments are here and ready for you Wednesday. They disclose values really wonderful!

Come tomorrow then and choose from—

The Season's Best Fashions at Bread-and-Butter Prices.

New Suits of Special Charm Extremely Low Priced

This is a season of many styles in women's suits—instead of any one mode predominating. Here are the equally popular styles in short, medium length and redingote coats, and yoke, tunic and skirt styles, with their many variations in skirts, from which you can choose Wednesday with profit and satisfaction.

Special at $15.00

A certain group of new and charming suits which came to us through a special purchase. We marked them at $19.50 and considered them wonderfully good at that price—regular $25 value—now they are marked for special selling Wednesday at $15.

There are both long and short coats—the newest styles, beautifully tailored from the popular materials. Plenty of blues, brown, green and black, and all regular sizes.

Elegant Fur-Trimmed Suits at $35.00

NEWS OF WOMEN AND SOCIETY

To Attractive Visitor

A pleasant event of Tuesday was the spend-the-day party at which Miss Mignon McCarty entertained at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in honor of Miss Margaret Anderson, of Knoxville, Tenn., the attractive guest of Miss Helen Stewart Jones, and for Miss Caroline Nichols of St. Paul, Minn., who is visiting Miss Mamie Aubrey.

For luncheon the guests were seated at a beautifully appointed table which had an artistic centerpiece of pale pink chrysanthemums.

The guests included Miss Anderson, Miss Nichols, Miss Aubrey, Miss Jones, Miss Marion Goldsmith, Miss Deane Jones, Miss Fannie May Otley, Miss Pearl Williams, Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mrs. Russell Dodson and Mrs. Hugh Scott.

To Miss Wallingford

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Boynton will entertain at a Halloween dinner party Saturday evening at their home on Piedmont avenue in compliment to Miss Laura Cole and her guest, Miss Elizabeth Wallingford, of Flemingsburg, Kentucky.

The guests of the occasion will be Miss Wallingford, Miss Cole, Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick and her guest, Miss Mildred Spencer, of Roanoke, Va.; Miss Willie Muse, Miss Martha Crane, Miss Faith Johnson, Mr. Harold Barnwell, Mr. Cary Callaway, Mr. Locke Crumley, Mr. Judson Williamson, Mr. William Franklin, Mr. Pomerooy Graves and Mr. William Ragan.

Chrysanthemum Show

The Inman Park Chrysanthemum show will be held Thursday, October 29, from 2 to 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Porter, 78 Eliza, both streets.

No admission will be charged, and the ladies of the club extend a cordial invitation to all who are interested in flowers.

Phi Delta Theta Dance
The members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity will entertain at an informal dance Friday evening at their chapter house on West North avenue.

Stockard-White

On account of the continued illness of the bride's mother, the wedding of Miss Lucy Stockard and Mr. Albert Barton White, of Birmingham, Ala., will be very quietly solemnized at the home of the bride on Wednesday afternoon, October 28, at 4 o'clock.

Only the immediate family connection will be present to witness the ceremony.

Will Assist at Tea

An event of Friday afternoon will be a 5 o'clock tea at which Mrs. Frederick Cole and Miss Laura Cole will entertain at their home on West Peachtree street in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Wallingford, of Flemingsburg, Ky., and Miss Mildred Spencer, of Roanoke, Va., the guest of Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick.

Assisting in the entertainment of the guests will be Miss Marie Dinkins, Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick, Miss Gladys Rizer, and Miss Lila Manned, of Chattanooga, Miss Louise Barker, Mrs. Charles Boynton and Mrs. Newton Craig.

Westbrook-Ezzard
The marriage of Miss Maude Ezzard and Mr. Arthur Westbrook, was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ezzard, of Alpharetta.

Rev. Bailey officiated in the presence of a few close friends of the young couple.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. The color scheme, pink and white, was carried out in the dainty cakes and tea served after the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a traveling suit of blue, and her hat was black velvet trimmed in blue plaid. Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook left during the afternoon for a stay of several days in the mountains of Tennessee.

Miss Hurt to Entertain

Miss Mabel Hurt will entertain at a bridge tea Thursday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street, in compliment to Miss Mary Brock, a popular bride elect, and Miss Elizabeth Wallingford, of Flemingsburg, Ky., the guest of Miss Laura Cole.

The invited guests are Miss Mary Jeter, Miss Brock, Miss Wallingford, Miss Laura Cole, Miss Margaret Armstrong, Miss Dorothy Daves, Miss Emma Jordan, Miss Priscilla Rose, Miss Celeste James, Miss Louise James, Miss Annie Maude Schuessler, Miss Willie Kate Travis, Mrs. McBrine Peckham, Mrs. P. P. Hall of Atlanta, Miss Anne Maud Fuller, Mrs. L. W. Gray, Mrs. Edgar Chambers, Mrs. Vernon Hall, Miss Janie May Webb, of Athens, Miss Maude Pollock, Miss Annie Will McCall, Miss Mary Brock, Miss Margaret Harper, Miss Ruth Simms, Miss Lillian Dowling, Miss Francis Curry, Miss Beale Kempton, Miss May Holland Roberts and Mrs. Miller.

Afternoon Tea

The faculty of the English-Commercial school has issued invitations to an afternoon tea from 3:30 to 5 o'clock to be given at the school Friday afternoon in compliment to the mothers of the students of the school.

Eastern Star Ball

The Eastern Star ball to be given at the auditorium Wednesday evening, October 28, promises to be a very enjoyable affair.

A full stringed orchestra will render the dance music and a number of spectacular specialties will also be presented.

The floor committee consists of Mr. Guy Thurman, Mr. Paul Burkett, Mr. W. B. Cummings, Mr. E. C. Thayer, Mr. W. E. Fine, Mr. George Argard, Mr. Wesley Hirschburg, Mr. W. M. Mikes, Mr. C. C. Seaman, Dr. A. H. Van Dyke, Mr. C. P. Hall, Mr. J. N. G. Nottitt, Mr. W. C. Lawrence, Mr. J. R. Fisher, Mr. W. H. Terrell, Mr. W. B. Bessent and Mr. Alexander Strachan.

Pretty Afternoon Tea

Miss Eugenia Richardson, who has been delightfully entertained prior to her approaching marriage to Mr. Coleman Brown, was the honor guest at the large tea given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Howell, at her pretty home in College Park.

The guests were received in the drawing room which was effectively decorated in snowy white chrysanthemums artistically arranged against a background of palms and ferns. The vases, arranged in which the flowers were, were decorated with clusters of white blossoms, and the effective ground and white chrysanthemums continued in the library and dining room.

The round tea table had a large crystal vase filled with white chrysanthemums and at the base was a circle of fever few and maidenhair ferns. A basket with overhanging blossoms was suspended from the chandelier which was weathered in smiles and white. Many lighted tapers cast a soft glow over the pretty decorations.

Miss Marian Bradley and Miss Margaret Martin presided at the coffee urn, and Miss Frances Gresham and Miss Dorothy Harrison poured tea.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. T. J. Gresham, Miss Ellen Kemmer and Miss Helen Smith. Little Miss Virginia Proctor received the cards at the door and Miss Grace Kemmer and Miss Daley Carlson served punch.

The pretty honor guest was a lovely afternoon toilet of all white, and Mrs. Howell was garbed in black crepe de chine with touches of soft lace about the neck and sleeves.

One hundred and thirty guests called during the afternoon.

Smith, of Atlanta, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Atlanta, spent Saturday and Sunday in January.

To Mrs. Estes

Mrs. George Muse was hostess at a 5 o'clock tea Monday afternoon at her home on East Fifteenth street, in compliment to Mrs. James W. Estes, of St. Augustine, Fla., the guest of Mrs. E. J. Silver.

The lovely home was artistically decorated with Halloween decorations, quantities of autumn leaves being arranged in the drawing room, and the lights shaded with paper pumpkins. The centerpiece of the dining room table was a large bright yellow pumpkin filled with fruit and nuts. The symbols of Halloween were carried out in all details.

The guests of the occasion included fourteen friends of the honor guest.

Womens' Club Meeting

The urgent need of year-round playgrounds and other recreation features for the children and young people of Atlanta, was stressed by Mr. T. A. Butler, in his talk before the members of the Women's club which met Monday afternoon.

Mrs. F. J. McGovern presided at the meeting, and following a report from Mrs. McCall, the program of the afternoon was given over to Mrs. Frank Neely, who interested her listeners with a talk on industrial conditions. Mr. Neely followed with a statement and talk of many vital facts proving the necessity of suitable places for the recreation of the city's children. Mr. Dan Carey, superintendent of parks in Atlanta, gave his ideas to the movement entailing the co-operation of the club members.

Sewanee-Tech Game Saturday Promises to Be One of Hardest of the Season

Sewanee-Tech Game Should Be Real Live Scrap

Both Teams Expect to Win—Each Will Enter Contest Realizing Seriousness of the Task at Hand—Coaches of Two Teams Familiar With Opponents Style

The football season is now in full swing and the first of the great games of the year is being played. The Sewanee-Tech game is expected to be one of the hardest of the season. Both teams are well prepared for the contest and expect to win. The coaches of both teams are familiar with the style of the opponents and are confident that they can win.

The Sewanee team is coached by Mr. [Name] and the Tech team is coached by Mr. [Name]. Both teams are well known for their skill and strength. The Sewanee team has a strong offensive and the Tech team has a strong defense. The game is expected to be a close one.

The game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the [Location]. Both teams are expected to arrive at the field early in the morning. The game is expected to start at [Time].

The Sewanee team is expected to have a strong performance. They have a strong offensive and a strong defense. The Tech team is also expected to have a strong performance. They have a strong defense and a strong offensive.

"STALLING" THROUGH THE WINTER!

THE SPUR LIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

DOUBLE-CROSSING RUDYARD. The east is the east and the west is the west. And never the twain shall meet.

The East is still the East and the West is still the West, or thereabouts. But if C. Kipling still insists that the "twain will never meet," he should have a ringside seat at the Harvard Stadium on Saturday. On this occasion the East and West will not only meet, but they will meet with considerable impetus worked up and a way and giddy party arranged all around. Michigan has won the championship of the West and Harvard has won the championship of the East at this writing, but in so far as any one can tell now, Michigan and Harvard are representative types of western and eastern football.

Has Michigan a chance? Not to speak of, we should say offhand—although the genius of Yost may furnish a much more equal and even dual than the Yale-Norfolk game brought about.

It is now high time that a western awakening is at hand so far as sport is concerned. The west, on an average, produces as many star athletes as the east. Johnson, Bender, Archer, McLoughlin, Evans, Sherrin, Hinkley and a long list of others in sport are from the west.

The material is always there. Yet William, from Pennsylvania, is tennis champion; Outel, from Massachusetts, is golf champion; the world series was fought out between two eastern clubs and Yale beat a strong west eleven 28 to 6. Nineteen hundred and fourteen so far has been all in favor of the east on both land and water, which should be sufficient to stir up the west for an aggressive 1915 campaign.

INTERSECTIONAL STUFF. We have always contended that intersectional sport is good for both sections and for the game. The Harvard-Michigan affair this week should do both Michigan and Harvard, as well as football, a lot of good. Such meetings in the end will produce a dear mutual respect and in the end will add to the knowledge and experience of both sections.

It would be a fine thing if most of the larger eastern eleven had a western game arranged each season. As it is now, Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, the Army and Syracuse have western games—and next fall Princeton is likely to take on a western opponent. All this will be in favor of the east on both land and water, which should be sufficient to stir up the west for an aggressive 1915 campaign.

SOMETHING TO LEARN. Each section has something to learn from the other. One day last season Yost happened to be visiting a certain large eastern university. While he was surveying the landscape a certain student from the eastern campus came up and congratulated him on his success.

"You're making a wonderful showing," said the student, "considering the number of men you have to pick from."

"How do you account for this?" asked Yost. "There isn't a man on West 12th Street who plays golf better than I do."

Injury to Sikes Cited As Cause For Losing Game

Vanderbilt Supporters Believe That With the Captain in Line Up Throughout, Team Would Have Won—Game, Though Lost, Furnished Some Pleasing Features

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 27.—To Sikes' injury in the first quarter of the North Carolina game Saturday more than any other cause, is attributable the defeat of the Commodores by the Tarheels by the close margin of one touchdown. Sikes was badly wounded, and although he played the last quarter of the game, limping badly as he ran, it is likely that he will have to be carefully nursed in order to get into the game again Saturday.

North Carolina was unable to gain through Vanderbilt's line, and the Tarheels' stout Princeton spirit was an utter failure against Van Meter's specially-planned defense, except on one or two occasions. It is believed now that North Carolina would have been victorious had Sikes not been injured.

Vanderbilt's goal line but for the fluke play when Ramsey blocked the point in the third quarter. Once there the Tarheels hit the ball on Vanderbilt's one-yard line with two downs in which to carry it over, but the Gold and Black line held and Vanderbilt took the ball on down.

The play that cost Vanderbilt the game occurred early in the third period. Sikes was out of the game, and Chester was punting in place of the Commodore captain. Chester attempted a punt from Vanderbilt's twenty-yard line on the second down, and Left Tackle Ramsey broke through and blocked the kick, the ball rebounding on the goal line. Both Chester and Ramsey made a wild scramble for the ball, the latter landing on it first for a touchdown. Tandy kicked away.

Vanderbilt's touchdowns in the second period kept the game from being a tie on the second down, and the Commodore captain, many of them in the left field, and in the third, working their way through the crowd to the gymnasium. It was the second time that a Vanderbilt team had been defeated on Dudley field since Dan McKeown's charge of the Commodore hopes many years ago.

In spite of their defeat, however, the game had its bright side for Vanderbilt. Greatest of these was the assurance that Captain Van Meter could do little with it, and time and again he showed his skill in breaking through Carolina's trick formations and downing the runner for a loss. The good showing of Carman and Putnam in the backfield was another feature while both have been looked upon as dependable men, their playing Saturday, stamped them as coming stars.

Curry also made some splendid gains, but his fumbling at critical periods early in the game in a measure offset these gains, plus a fierce game while he was in the line up. Huffman and Covey also gave a good account of themselves. North Carolina's seven ends were by North Carolina on the Commodore line.

While the University of Virginia did not beat Georgia as much as North Carolina did, they were feared here much more than the Tarheels. Considering Vanderbilt's many styles and line, which she certainly was except for the one fluke that defeated her, she will have a hard time winning over Virginia, and local supporters and spectators are looking forward to next Saturday's game with much apprehension.

After Virginia, Vanderbilt meets Tennessee, Auburn and Sewanee. Victory in the last three games will earn the southern championship for the Commodore. Whether they can do it or not yet remains to be seen.

TRAILING THE NEWS BY INNIS BROWN

That the teams and coaches representing southern colleges are beginning to appreciate the injuries which have been done Jim Press in the matter of his disqualification by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, and subsequent failure to reinstate, though several representatives have expressed the belief that he should be taken back as indicated by the attitude which these coaches are showing toward his playing football this year. Coach Gordon, after hearing a full explanation of Press' case, agreed for him to play in the game here last Saturday. Now it is reported that Coach Covey may consent for him to play against the Tiers in the game this week. If such is the case, Press will possibly be allowed to play in one of two of the remaining games on the Jockey's schedule.

Early Press has been made to suffer sufficiently for any slight infraction of the rules that he may have committed several years before he entered college. We gather that a majority of these feel that at most Press was guilty of nothing more than youthful indiscretion. The criminal courts of the land everywhere provide a juvenile branch where infractions of the laws of society may be administered in a way as to correct them rather than to do in legal circles. It certainly appears that the men who administer the athletic affairs of the southern colleges could provide some means of remedying youthful infractions of their numerous mandates, without rendering an athlete ineligible to play with his college team for two, three or four years of his college course.

That football game between Vanderbilt and North Carolina last Saturday evening, at least so far as the Commodore's were concerned, this was the first meeting between the two teams since the above-mentioned play took place nearly fifteen years ago.

In this other game, the Tarheels came down to Nashville with a powerful team, and the Commodore team was at best, and were slated to take the Commodore's services of Tom Webb, who usually did the punting. Shortly after play started the Commodore line crashed the ball about 40 yards into the hands of Tom Webb, who played the ball well, and the Commodore line was called on to do the punting. Edgar dropped back holding the line, and called for the ball from the center, and he drove. The ball snuck high up in the air over his head and finally fell behind him. A Carolina man dropped on it for a touchdown. From that on, it was a free field for the Tarheels. The final score was 16 to 0.

FIRST BLIZZARD OF WINTER FINDS DOORS OF CHARITY BARRED

"I've been here," she said tensely, "but I don't want to go. There may be some good people in this city who are not like the others. The Associated Charities has been the only one to help me. We wanted to go back home to our mountains, but how could we? We had no money for railroad fare, for freight or for trunkage."

"Ten weeks ago my husband got enough money to go back. He was going to get a regular job and after while send us money to join him. He's been able to send us only $5 in that ten weeks."

"We've been scrubbing and scrubbing for times and quarters, just enough to live decent and respectable on. Our neighbors have been feeling us, but they are poor, too. I can't live on them no more. My daughter ought to be in the hospital now."

"THE DOOR CLOSED."

"I've saved enough money to get out of this town now, all but $2 for my trunk. The railroad says I have to move my trunk—where? I have to go to sell an old music box, no, to get the $2, but I can't. I can't get work any more. So this morning I went up to the Associated Charities. They helped me before. But the door was closed. Where can I go? This town isn't all place for us."

"This was one case, one of six people, between 8 o'clock and 12, six people that are but the ordinary number of visitors to the Associated Charities in a morning."

"One of the others was a young woman who had been caring for three children of her own and two belonging to a woman in the hospital. The burden had been too much for her. Her own children were enough—she could not care for her mother-in-law. So she went to the Associated Charities. But the door was closed."

"Joe Logan, the secretary, was there for a while Tuesday morning. 'I got one of the railroad this morning to ship a fellow's household goods free to the country, where he would be able to send him,' he said. 'With this I have concluded my regular work.'"

"We have told our people to go to the city workmen for emergency aid and to their church and friends, who have such resources. There is no use for me to try to do anything individually, so far as the appeals which will come to the office for a time are concerned. An ordinary person can practically nothing to relieve distress except in co-operation with others through organization."

"CLOSED DOOR MONDAY."

The Associated Charities closed its doors Monday night and unless a committee of citizens can devise means for inducing the institution it will go out of existence."

The officers and directors tendered their resignations, at a mass meeting in the city hall Monday afternoon, but the meeting refused to accept the resignations. It appeared that no further action would be taken until Colonel Robert J. Lowry offered the charities his financial support, saying he would be one of twenty men to give $1,000 or one of fifty to give $500.

After Colonel Lowry's announcement a new spirit took hold of the meeting and a committee of six, empowered to devise some method of financing the organization, and the directors and officers agreed to withhold their resignations.

MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

The committee, on whose work the expense of the Associated Charities depends, is composed of Thomas Eggleston, chairman, Morris Rich, Armand Maier, M. B. Henson, Lou J. Daniel and W. Woods White.

A financial report submitted at the meeting shows that $4,600 is needed to carry the institution through the remaining months of the present year, while the estimated budget for 1915 is $24,200. In other words, a little more than $20,000 is needed to carry the institution until 1915.

Methods of raising this sum will be considered at a meeting of the committee Tuesday and every effort will be made to secure sufficient money to warrant the organization opening its doors again within a few days.

To present resources of the Associated Charities amount to $49,112, while its liabilities, including notes for $3,300 personally indorsed by the directors, amount to $4,300.54.

INTERESTING REPORTS.

Besides the financial report, the statement for the board of directors made out by Linton C. Hopkins and Dr. David Marx, and the report of Secretary Joseph C. Logan proved interesting.

The report of the directors, after sketching the history of the organization and its accomplishments, declared the Associated Charities has the finest organization for caring for the poor in the south, an organization whose efficiency has been recognized in the north and east by many experts.

So far as the working machinery is concerned, the report continued, it is in better shape now than ever before.

Replying to criticism that the organization often spends more than it directly gives the poor, the report pointed out that the relation of the Associated Charities to the poor is that of a doctor to a patient, and no one criticizes a person for spending twice or three times as much on a doctor as he does on medicine.

Referring to the report, the report pointed out that at the present time of general business retrenchment, it is impossible to curtail the expenditures of the Associated Charities for the very reason that the conditions, which cause the general retrenchment, cause an increase in the business of the charitable organization.

Several interesting speeches were made.

made. R. J. Guinn declared that the question of caring for the poor is up to the city and should be squarely faced by the municipal authorities.

"The city should at once take steps to create a board of public welfare," he declared, "and take hold of this proposition in an intelligent manner. The time is coming when everyone must pay in proportion to his taxable property for such work as the Associated Charities has been doing."

"If the people of Atlanta could be made to realize the good the Associated Charities is accomplishing, 10,000 people would be clamoring for admission to this meeting."

Dr. A. M. Huphlett pledged his assistance in raising funds for the institution.

L. J. Daniel offered the directors a check for $100 in cash to keep the organization going for another two days pending the action of the committee.

After the general meeting, however, the directors met and decided that the office must be closed until it can commence operations on a firm basis. Pending the result of the committee's efforts the working force will be kept intact.

Methodist Ministers

Anxious to Give Aid

At a meeting of the Methodist Ministers' association held in Wesley Memorial building Monday, the following resolutions were introduced by Dr. A. M. Huphlett, pastor of St. Mark church:

"Whereas there is a strong probability of unusual physical distress among the poor the coming winter, and whereas it is the privilege of Christians to relieve such distress, and whereas such relief can be most easily and effectively afforded through proper organization—

Therefore, be it resolved by the Methodist Ministers' association that it is of the utmost importance to preserve in Atlanta the board of United Charities."

"We pledge our earnest efforts individually and officially to assist said board in every possible way to meet all cases of real need."

AFTERNOON SESSIONS ARE REDUCED TO 21

Not Likely Any Further Reduction Can Be Made Before January 1

After conferring with the superintendent of schools Tuesday, President George H. Hope of the board of education, stated that there is little probability of the number of afternoon sessions in the public schools being reduced below 21.

About all of the auditoriums, libraries and basement rooms in the schools, which are at all suitable for classroom purposes have been converted into classrooms, and the number of afternoon sessions cannot be further reduced.

Mr. Hope points out that when the sum of $11,412 was appropriated to the school department by the finance committee recently it was given the department for the express purpose of employing 47 additional teachers, and a city ordinance prevents its use for any other purpose.

Mr. Hope declares that to further reduce the afternoon sessions it would be necessary to rent houses, not suitable for school purposes, something the board of education has no money to do and which it will not do.

The board of education has received very few complaints recently about the afternoon sessions from parents and many of the patrons of the school have expressed themselves as finding the afternoon sessions actually convenient.

No special meetings have been called and according to Mr. Hope no change in the situation is expected certainly until after January 1.

The matter of determining which auditoriums and libraries might be used was left in the hands of Superintendent W. M. Sloan, and in the opinion of Mr. Hope the superintendent has about exhausted those resources.
