The Road Congress:

A Drama of Today.

The value of a dramatic presentation is the mental stimulus it affords. Words, even though they bear ideas of worth may fail to prick the crust of habitual thought or absorption in personal affairs; but the play with its appeal of eye and ear and the impact of personality seizes the attention directly and refuses to let it go until its thrills have become the common property of those who witness it or until its lessons are hammered home.

There is staged in Atlanta this week a drama whose powers of mental quickening are undoubted, whose thrills are not far to seek and whose lesson is unmistakable. The road builders of the nation and representatives of allied interests have gathered at the Auditorium-Armory for the fourth American Road Congress. Throughout the period the gospel of good roads will be preached from the platform by national and state authorities, while the vast auditorium and the street and viaduct adjoining have been transformed for benefit of visitors into a great show, set with properties that illustrate the instrumentalities and the fruits of the smooth highway.

The road may well be taken as the symbol of civilization. The trail, the road, the highway, the paved thoroughfare—these are, each, chapter titles in the history of our advancement. They tell successively of the forests and plains of the pioneers, the emergence of the settler, the increase of population and finally the coming of wealth and its concomitants, comfort, security and the interplay of commerce.

Briefly, this is the theme of the play at the Auditorium. See that you visit and receive the inspiration that it yields and the urge it conveys to ally yourself with the forces that are definitely working to the end of making this a better and a richer nation.

The Road may also be taken as the symbol of peace. War is the direct enemy of the arts which civilization carefully nurtures. The first thing, therefore, that war sets out to ruin in a country is its roads. The rounded surface of a road stretching toward the horizon is an invitation to every one to shake off indolence and be away on missions of work or duty or on ventures of pleasure or gain, but war cancels the invitation and says nay to these natural propensities, with crumpled bridges, the gas of trenchments and the barrier mounds of exploded mines.

The productive energy of our nation goes into the construction of great engines of peace and progress and not into the destructive monsters of war—that is the lesson to be gained from seeing the show at the Auditorium. The rock crushers, steam shovels, motor rollers and other road-building machinery on exhibition there, in amazing variety, have perhaps a fanciful resemblance to the machines of death, now busy in Europe. But they are, however, the Krupps of the far-distant battle for good roads; they do not excavate for the purpose of digging trenches or piling up barriers but for the purpose of thrusting aside obstructions and making the way for progress straight and easy. They do not crush the rocks that have been laboriously piled, one upon the other, in the forms of houses and cities but they crush unused stones and put them to the profitable uses of man.

Attend the Road Congress and be thankful that the sunlight, unobscured by battle smoke, still glitters along our highways and that the thought of the leading men of our nation, as exemplified in the present gathering, follows so unerringly the paths of productive peace.

The warm day, however, doesn't stave off winter.

If prohibition becomes much stricter in Europe, the soldiers will even be prohibited the use of hay rum.

Some Clumsy Fabrications.

The enemies of the Wilson administration in Georgia take delight in asserting that the south in its cotton difficulty has received shabby treatment at the hands of congress. They would make it appear as if the south, the great bulwark of the Democratic party, when it asked a Democratic president and a Democratic congress for the bread of relief measures from an over-supply of the staple and an under-supply of markets therefor, was given the stone of nothing at all. They even went so far as to charge that the senator from this state before his nomination by the Democratic party promised twelve and a half cents a pound to the farmers of Georgia for their cotton and then failed to make good his promise.

These are all indeed clumsy falsehoods—so clumsy in fact that they easily trip themselves.

The truth is, that congress has contributed much to the relief of the cotton situation and measures for further relief are still pending. Among the first acts of congress after the war began was to amend the Aldrich-Vreeland act for the issuance of additional emergency currency and, moreover, notwithstanding many difficulties the opening of the regional banks were hastened with all possible speed. "More than one hundred millions of dollars of additional currency," declares Senator Hoke Smith in his statement of what congress has actually done for the south, "will be furnished in the nine cotton states through legislation already passed and by the opening of the federal reserve banks."

Now is this all. The remodeling of the navigation laws to give easy registry to ships under the American flag provides over-riding facilities for southern cotton to reach European ports, where before there were none. A bill to provide a system of government cotton warehouses and two bills designed to amend the currency acts to provide for yet more additional currency that can be made available in the cotton states have been passed by the senate and are now pending in the house. Furthermore, it was largely through the work of the Democratic administration and certainly with its support and approval that a pool has been organized to loan one hundred and thirty-five million dollars on cotton, the bulk of the money to be furnished by banking institutions outside of the cotton states. The plan which would have relieved the situation outright, namely, that of having the government buy 5,000,000 bales of cotton and retire them from the market for a year or more was warmly contended for by senators from the cotton states but was defeated by senators from other states who deemed that this special legislation in behalf of one section was unwarranted.

Of course, Senator Smith and no other man in his right mind ever promised twelve and a half cents cotton. Fixing the price of a world commodity is beyond the power of human agency. The charge, however, is on a par with the assertion that the Democratic administration shut the door in the face of the troubled south and left it standing out in the cold. Both are the fabrications of a stupid sort of political cunning made for the consumption of the gullible.

The matter, however, of acreage reduction so necessary to guarantee the stability of price now as well as next year has been slightly off by the state government, the only agency capable of adequately handling it. An extra session of the legislature could quickly do the work. Here is where self-help on the part of Georgia is possible but here is where we find a yawning blank indeed.

War or no war, somebody is using cotton and using it fast.

It may be a short war, but England is not taking any chances with the recruits by admitting it.

A Forlorn Hope.

"Women suffrage would insure this country against being drawn into war." So declared Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association at the recent convention of that association.

"If those French, German, Russian, Austrian and Belgian mothers and wives," continued Mrs. Trout, "could have spoken at the polls, their husbands and brothers would not now be filling the trenches with their mangled bodies."

This is beautiful to hear. It is the proper sentiment of noble womanhood. So pleasing it is and so noble that one wishes very hard that it would be true. One feels that it would be a keen disappointment were it to turn out unfounded.

Grant to woman's suffrage everything in the way of the purification and elevation of politics that has ever been claimed for it and yet we fear that Mrs. Trout's sweet hope, tested in the crucible of actuality, would turn to ash.

It is hardly necessary to insist in this connection that possession of the ballot cannot avail to change human nature. The softness of woman, arising from the protective and ministering instinct of the eternal mother, by sufficient provocation, by wrongs and oppressions, can be transmuted into the wild rage of the furies. Mr. Kipling some time ago announced the proposition that the female of the species is more deadly than the male and devoted several stanzas of very respectable verse to proving it. While we are not ready to adhere to that belief, this we do know that woman because of her lack of physical strength to avenge them have wrongs and injustice from the bottom of her soul.

If those Belgian wives and mothers had their way, there would be no war, says Mrs. Trout. But alas! With those wives and mothers, fugitives from their own country, their homes, smoldering violence, and they themselves, now wards of the hospitality of alien lands, we think that the Belgian son or the Belgian husband that wouldn't fight would be discovered by his Belgian mother or his Belgian wife.

But leaving Belgium out of consideration for the moment, we recall that the socialists of Germany, France and England enunciated a lofty sentiment somewhat analogous to that of Mrs. Trout's. They said, come rain, come snow, come calm, come blow, we will never go into battle to kill our fellow workers from other lands and yet these very persons are the cannon fodder that lies in crumpled windrows across every desperate field.

Suffrage is an acquired right—no right almost say an artificial right. It is the product of the highest forms of civilization. Whatever else it may do it is idle to expect that either in man or woman it can necessarily prevail against the great primal passions that sweep and lash the human heart and boom away into the horrors of war.

Our advice to Mexico is not to make war any more unadvised than it now is.

The recent election showed conclusively that the country doesn't agree with Colonel Roosevelt's war program.

TRAVELLETT

By STEWART.

NO. 94—WELSHBAUSEN.

Welshbausen is one of some thousand little German villages, it is typical. It is a quaint cluster of peasant house affairs of board and plaster, built straight up and down, flush or nearly flush with the road, bare of porches and ornament, and crowned by more or less sharp gables. The whole village is confined to about one hundred yards on a main street and a few streets branching off from it.

Around the village, in plots like the oldtime Innish quills, are the buildings of the peasant farmers. The houses are muddled up with the village. Few of the houses are even surrounded by land enough for a kitchen garden. On the other hand, the farms lie scattered all about the village, and the farms are the boundaries, and utterly without method in their location and as to their shapes.

Schultz may live at one end of Welshbausen and a potato farm ten miles wide and a quarter of a mile long, which takes its beginning from the other end of the village. All the other farms are of similar haphazard happenings.

Welshbausen is approached, and left again, by a broad, magnificent macadam thoroughfare, a German Landstrasse, but the streets in the village proper are ankle deep in mud or dust, as the heavens grudge or sweeter. About the whole place is the depraved odor of artificial manure.

Despite its almost entire lack of size as a village, go, Welshbausen possesses two hotels. These hostels are the only places where the stranger can find a place of rest and the stranger who seeks their hospitality perpetrates commotion wholesale upon the village. ## OUR TRADE WITH RUSSIA

By Frederic J. Haskin

Another enthusiasm which houses ill with conventional foreboding has taken hold upon American manufacturers in contemplation of the present crisis. It is increasing our trade with Russia. Russia, the red land of unlimited possibilities, possessed of incalculable resources, a vast plain bordering all our cities, and lying into Asia; sparsely settled, and yet containing 100,000,000 people; with hundreds of millions of acres of rich agricultural land, vast pastures, immense timber resources, just beginning to crave modern civilization, presents, in truth, a possible market which is staggering to even the slimmest imagination.

Russia is the biggest single possibility on earth. It is the mastodon among nations, and, like the mastodon, it has been sleeping the sleep of death ever since the glacial epoch. Should it awake, it will be the world's greatest buyer and seller, the world's greatest power, and, likely, from such a consciousness would be brought forth the world's greatest art. Not to it is this world dominion which the Slav originates to dream, this is what he is working for in his Pan-Slavist propaganda. He is educated Russia, the world's greatest buyer and seller, the world's greatest power, and, likely, from such a consciousness would be brought forth the world's greatest art. ## Denial of Confession Fails to Save Woman On Shoplifting Charge

When arraigned on a charge of shoplifting, Mrs. J. E. McDuffie, a well-dressed young woman, told a jury in the criminal division of the superior court Monday that she broke down under the approval of the third degree administered by a woman detective and confessed to a theft she had never committed.

Mrs. McDuffie declared that after her arrest she was continually "bothered" by the woman detective, who threatened the arrest. She did not claim that she offered any violence, but said that she could not stand the repeated visits during the five days of her stay in jail, of the detective.

The woman was charged with stealing a dress from a Whitehall street store. The jury found her guilty and Judge H. H. Hill will impose sentence Tuesday. Mrs. McDuffie wept continually during the time that her accused was testifying.

POWER COMPANY ISSUES STATEMENT OF ACCIDENT

The following statement was issued Tuesday by the Georgia Railway and power company regarding the automobile accident on North Moreland avenue Sunday afternoon: "It has been published that according to the records of the automobile which was struck in the street car tracks and was at a standstill when it was struck. The company's records show the contrary. They show the automobile was not struck, but was in motion at the time of the accident. It was moving at about fifteen miles an hour, crossing the car tracks, that the street car was at a standstill when the collision came; and that the left front wheel of the automobile was broken by colliding with the left front corner of the car."

Thank the Smoke for Indian Summer Days, Says the Weather Man

There's a reason for all this Indian summer weather we're having now in Atlanta, weather which continues warm while cities south of Atlanta are swept by chill breezes.

The reason—simply smoke. That's the opinion of C. F. von Herrmann, the weather man. "Monday night it was 36 degrees in Augusta," he said Tuesday. "And down in Jacksonville and south Georgia the mercury dropped 10 degrees. But it was only 42 in Atlanta. Why?—Just this nice, warm, blanket of smoke that hangs over Atlanta. It's great, isn't it?"

Fair and slightly warmer was his prediction for Wednesday. No rain in the sixth, and balmy weather should continue during the remainder of the week.

SIX BANDS TAKE PART IN HOG AND HOMINY PARADE

Spectacular Pageant Being Arranged for Atlanta on December 3

Six brass bands and a drum corps have already been engaged to furnish the music for the "Hog and Hominy" parade, which is being planned on a stirring and spectacular scale for December 3.

The parade committee, composed of members of the Ad. Men's club, who have arranged many of that organization's famous "Hog and Hominy" parades, assure that there will be keen competition for the cash prizes, which aggregate $225.

The first prize will be $100 in cash for the most attractive float. Other prizes are: $20 for the best advertising float; $25 for the best children's display in automobiles; $25 for the prettiest girls driving a car, and $25 for the best comic mask on foot.

Of course Georgia and Georgia products will form the keynote of the parade as well as of the other events on Hog and Hominy day.

The parade committee is composed of Julius Boehm, George Faus, J. H. Atkinson, C. F. Baldwin and R. S. Abbott.

CALOMEL SICKENS! IT'S HORRIBLE! DON'T STAY BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

I guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" will give you the best Liver and Bowel cleansing you ever had Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver. If you are bilious, feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or your stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your head aches and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone about me.—(Adv.)

under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.—(Adv.)

The Woman Seeking a Smart Coat

may stop in our Ready-to-Wear Section. It is here—several hundred strong. It takes on varied and attractive form. One time it is a furry, soft zibeline; again it is a rich, sumptuous, colorful mixture weave; again it is a novel pomore that so closely resembles broadtail; still again it is an elegant velvet or broadcloth.

It is as multi-styled, it seems, as human ingenuity could conceive; simple, braided or girdled.

COATS! We have simply gone into the coat question with characteristic thoroughness to have our display fully and completely to meet every demand women can make on it.

Woman's Conference on Roads Interesting Event of Tuesday

Club women, delegates and visitors to the American road congress gathered Tuesday morning in the hall room of the Hotel Ansley to attend the meeting of the women's auxiliary to the good roads congress, held between the hours of 10 and 2 o'clock. Brilliant addresses were given and in each one was stressed the importance of the condition of the roadways in the effort upon the life of the country.

Mrs. Robert B. Barry, chairman of the woman's department of the road congress, presided and introduced each speaker. Mrs. John Marshall Stator delivered the address of welcome in a graceful and charming manner.

An interesting speech was made by Mrs. Logan Pitts, chairman of the civic committee of the state federation.

Besides giving statistics of interest, Mrs. Pitts described the interest taken by the women of the west in the road movement. These women are not only vitally concerned with the condition of the roads, but are striving to interest the little children and are training them to scatter seeds and to plant shrubs and vines in every available place.

"Why and How Women Should Further the Road Movement" was the subject of the short talk made by Mrs. Raw, state highway commissioner of the state of Washington. Mrs. Raw stated her earnest conviction that women could lend more vital aid in the matter of good roads than even men, and urged the co-operation of all women in the undertaking.

Mrs. Nellie Peter Hall represented Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, president of the Georgia state federation, who was prevented from attending.

Mrs. Black struck an optimistic note when she spoke of the good condition of Georgia roads—what there was of them. She described a recent automobile trip in which for many miles of Georgia country.

try roads were like a boulevard. Many valuable points were brought up by Mrs. Black upon the relation of good roads to civic welfare.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden's address on the social side of the highway was received with interest, stressing the fact that good roads make neighbors of all states.

Mrs. John A. Smith, chairman of the Georgia hall county, Georgia, and Georgia state chapter of roads in the Congress of the National Old Trails Road, Mrs. Suggs, highway commissioner of Oklahoma, told the story of the road boys and girls in the road clubs of Oklahoma.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, former state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, made an interesting address on the National Old Trails Road, and explained in a concise manner the plan to ocean highway movement, urged the co-operation of the auxiliary and the National Road congress.

Mrs. Foster represented Miss Elizabeth Butler Gentry, of Kansas City, national chairman of the movement originated by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Mitchell, of Missouri, spoke in interest of the Missouri women of the national and local road.

Mrs. M. R. Arnstein, chairman of the committee of observation of the Tennessee federation of women's clubs, held the very close attention of her audience. The economic and conservation side of good roads was the subject of her brilliant address.

Social Features of Afternoon.

The social side of Tuesday was the reception given at the Georgian Terrace which was largely attended.

Mrs. Stator was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, Mrs. E. W. Wilkerson, Mrs. Fred Houser, Mrs. William Houser, Mrs. W. T. Winn, Mrs. William Lawson Peel and Mrs. Frederic J. Paxson.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.---"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish, and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get relief from your health from your medicine as I did."---Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

St. RICHMOND, VA.---"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."---Mrs. D. TYLER, 23 West Clifton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.

Long, Wis.---"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better too much. I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."---Mrs. JOHN THOMPSON, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Spaulding returned Sunday from Atlanta, where they had seen the guests of Mrs. Spaulding's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Phinizy, and Mrs. Phinizy, who was a recent visitor to the city, accompanied by a short visit and will visit Mrs. Spaulding in Norfolk before returning home.

FAMOUS FOR HER HAIR

Actress Tells How to Obtain It.

Miss Alice, the well-known actress who played one of the leading roles in the recent past winter and who is expected to return here, has been interviewed in Chicago and made the following statement: "Any girl or gentleman can promote the growth of their hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe which I give you at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small amount of Harbo Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. Do not rub the finest hair grows as ever known, but it prevents the hair from falling out, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp cool and moist. The ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost."—Miss A.

Reception For Visitors to Road Congress at Capitol

The state capital was gallantly decorated with bunting and flags Monday evening, and presented a bright appearance for the reception of the visiting delegates to the American Road Congress being held in Atlanta.

On Monday morning, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton received in the north entrance hall and were assisted by a large committee of prominent Atlantians.

During the evening the many visitors were greeted in the bright musical program rendered by a stringed orchestra.

A group of lovely young women including Mrs. William Tilt, Miss Mary Miles, Miss Frances Goff, Mrs. Cunningham, Miss Marion Tausch, Miss Almee Huntcutt, Miss May Horine and others, served punch.

The committee assisting Mrs. Slaton included Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Frederic J. Paxon, Mrs. John K. Otley, Mrs. Morris Brandon, Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mrs. James L. Dickey, Mrs. Hendrix, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Clark Howell, Mrs. Albert Howell, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Chisley, Mrs. Walter Andrews, Mrs. Keala Speed, Mrs. John Hilder, Deception Thursday at noon at the Wren's Nest, in honor of the distinguished visitor.

The officers of the association, including Mrs. A. M. McIlwain, Mrs. E. L. McIlwain, Mrs. T. T. Stephens, Mrs. G. Hastings, Mrs. Fred Stewart and Mrs. P. T. C. Waters, Mrs. T. Connally, and Colonel John Temple Graves will introduce Mrs. Stevens to the assembled guests.

The Uncle Remus Memorial association will entertain delightfully at luncheon Thursday at noon at the Wren's Nest, in honor of the distinguished visitor.

The presence of a number of delegates and visitors to the American Road Congress lent an added interest to the meeting of the Atlanta Women's club on Monday afternoon, when Mrs. P. J. McGovern, the president, presided and introduced the guests.

Following the routine business of the club, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, was asked to present Mrs. Robert Baker, national chairman of the women's department of the road congress, where she has taken a prominent part in the general organization.

Sec. Farrell Gives Out Baseball Draft List

Crackers Lost Perryman to St. Louis Browns, and Landed Two Men From Texas League and Two From Sally—Memphis, Birmingham and Chattanooga Also Get Recruits

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 10.—The annual report of Secretary John H. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, says 300 cities and towns in the United States and Canada, comprising forty-two leagues, qualified for membership at the beginning of last season and thirty-nine leagues finished the season. Three class D leagues disbanded and two did not start. More than 3,000 players had their contracts recorded, but only 1,349 had their terms promulgated. Out of 1,031 players suspended 119 were reinstated.

The association disbursed $301,870, divided as follows: Drafted players by National and American leagues and American association, $181,000; optional, $100,000; paid for release by purchase of American association players, $197,870; returned under water rule, $1,450.

The list of drafted players every club in the association. The highest price paid in 1914 was $10,000 for a player from the American league one. The list follows in part:

With the passing of the echoes of Saturday's big football game in the south, fans are taking stock of the other big contests which will be fought out on the last day of the current week. There are at least three which are due to prove among the best games of the season. These are the Georgia-Tech, the Vanderbilt-Kentucky, and the Sewanee-Tennessee games.

Chief interest locally centers in the annual struggle between the Jackets and the Red and Black. Figured any way possible, the Jackets carry something of a lead in the matter of past records. The Jackets have won only in one instance since the team came to a common opponent. Such has played Sewanee, which has won the Tigers after in the season on the mountain, and came away victors by a single point. Two weeks ago the Jackets managed to trim the same team by a count of 29 to 6. Hence it appears through this medium of comparison that the Jackets have a considerable edge. Georgia Tech, however, has a big disappointment for their supporters and has done more than anything else to boost Tech's stock.

However, for the benefit of any who may figure Tech to win by a great big score, it may be well to state that Georgia Tech football carries something of a lead in the matter of past records. The Jackets have won only in one instance since the team came to a common opponent. Such has played Sewanee, which has won the Tigers after in the season on the mountain, and came away victors by a single point.

Just as Tech appears on last form to be some stronger than Georgia, so do Auburn and Tennessee. The Jackets have an edge over Vanderbilt and Sewanee. Auburn machine is a powerful one, and one that has been allied to one of the slow down to form instead of

McGugin's View of Rule Upheld by Walter Camp

During the course of the game in Nashville a little more than a week ago, a question of interpretation of a section of the rules with reference to making substitutions in the fourth quarter was brought up, following the decision of the referee that Vanderbilt had made an illegal substitution of Quarterback Curry, after he had been withdrawn from the game that quarter. The Commodore forces were penalized half the distance to the goal on the play. Following a ruling made by Walter Camp on the point, together with the comment of the Nashville Tennessean:

Following the dispute as to the meaning of the rule regarding the eligibility of a player returning to the game in the fourth period, which arose after the Vanderbilt-Virginia game, no less an authority than Walter Camp has come to the aid of Coach McQueen, completely vindicating him in his interpretation of the rule, which cost him an undue penalty of half the distance to the goal line against Virginia.

Camp, in answer to an inquiry made by Bradley Walker, the local official, declares that the rule does not read that a player may be substituted at any time during the fourth period. It is in addition he states that though a player was illegally substituted, the penalty should be null and void unless he has participated in a scrimmage which the rule reads half the distance to the goal line.

Camp McGugin has received numerous letters in regard to this ruling, which comes from Mike Donahue, in which it is the usual case that Vanderbilt was illegally penalized.

The correspondence which brought about Mr. Camp's ruling is as follows: The communications in regard to the matter, which are self-explanatory, are as follows:

Champion Piled Up a Lead in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Rounds, But Chicago Battler Evened Things Up in Later Rounds—No Decision by Referee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 10.—Freddie Welsh, of Wales, lightweight champion of the world, was held to a draw with Charlie White, of Chicago, in their fight here last night.

Under the law a referee's decision could not be given, but it was the opinion of the newspaper experts that Charlie White, who, evened up honors by his whitening finish. White opened a round over the champion's left eye and Welsh, partially blinded by blood, was forced to escape White's rights and lefts to the head.

White opened a round over the champion's left eye and Welsh, partially blinded by blood, was forced to escape White's rights and lefts to the head. Welsh began to fight like a champion in the fourth, backing White into a corner and giving him a good beating. In the fifth he took another big lead, whaling White all around the ring and taking little punishment in return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, Welsh jarred White with lefts and took his eye.

White came back strong in the seventh and after taking two hard ones, Welsh came up with a right. White missed with two uppercuts and Welsh, who had been hurt but was not discouraged and hooked Welsh in the head. The round was about even. In the eighth Welsh landed a punch, though both boys missed many times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended.

White outfigured Welsh in the ninth. They traded punches at the bell and after a hard rally in the center of the ring, the Chicago boy made the champion back away. White drove Welsh into a corner and laced him with stinging rights and lefts to the body. Welsh landed two rights on Welsh's jaw as the round ended.

White rushed the fight in the tenth, again driving Welsh into a corner, where he landed three times without a return. Welsh opened up a out over Welsh's eye and peppered him with rights and lefts to the head. Welsh swung wildly with blood trickling into his eyes. Welsh landed a punch and as he broke White put two lefts to Welsh's head and a right to his jaw.

The last two rounds were White's all the way. White left the ring without a mark, while Welsh was badly bruised. When they weighed at 3 o'clock the scale showed White at 133 and Welsh at 123.

Minor Leagues Remain Loyal

Indications Are That Meeting Which Opens in Omaha Today Will Vote to Stick to Organization

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 10.—There was no break in the loyalty of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, in convention here, as they declared unanimously in favor of remaining under the national agreement.

There was no lack of expression by baseball officials which indicated a feeling that the league should remain loyal to the national agreement. The N. O. M. of the Western League, "The Federal has nothing to offer me," said one of the officials. "The league cannot expect the minor league body to take any interest in it unless the league is able to make a real league of its own mistakes and not ask minor league to do that first."

Ball Player Dies PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—Oren, once a star outfielder on Chicago National and American baseball teams, died Monday in a dem. N. J. institution. With the Philadelphia team of the National association several years ago, he was struck on the head by a ball never recovered.

He was of the service to you at any time. The rule distinctly reads that a player may be substituted at any time during the fourth period.

THE SCRUB GUARD'S DREAM

BY GRANTLAND RICE

One night a member of the Scrub Eleven dreamt that he died and returned to Heaven. Upon the slab he saw his body dead. While from its bonds his battered spirit awoke. On earth, the soul replied, "I was a scrub. Beyond the realms of Nothingness and Night, Until at last the Gate blocked off his soul Where good St. Peter tends the heavenly goal."

"Who comes?" St. Peter cried. "What hast thou done That thou shouldst dwell beyond the final sun? What is thy record, prattler; pray relate? Why I should not diminish thee from the Gate?" "On earth," the soul replied, "I was a scrub. For four long years I played upon the Scrub."

"And what means that?" St. Peter said. "Please tell; That makes your soul look worse than mine in hell."

"It means," the Scrub replied in dreary tone, "That I have been the Ultimate in Boredom. Day after day I battled with some guard Who smeared my features all around the yard. From spot to spot they slammed me in the fray And left my gore along a crimson way? They hammered me until the skin was peeled And left in stripes along the trampled field."

"And all for what? For glory or for fame? For great renown or for an honored name? To have my picture taken—all the rage— And thrown across some frenzied sporting page? Nay, good saint, but rather that I might receive The selfsame curses day and night— The selfsame snarl, the selfsame gibe and frown To help the First Eleven snarl anew."

"And so for you, for I make this plea— St. Peter answered, do I get the key?" St. Peter pondered and then shook his head. "What difference makes it where you go?" he said. "Drafted at last from the Scrub, you are a free man. All that you need, old duffer, is a change: Go seek relief around old Pluto's throne— Hell will be heaven after what you've known."

It is almost a certainty that Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Penn and Cornell will take an intense interest in the coming season and all the points to be broadening influences and the general good of the game. But to help this new spirit along and partake of the uplift, Chicago, Minnesota and others must join in with Michigan and Notre Dame.

Yale and Harvard broke away this season and exchanged greetings with Notre Dame at Michigan. Princeton next year will team an invitation to some western team to visit her new stadium. All of which points to be better and a clearer understanding between two great sections. The only drawback in sight is the lack of desire on the part of eastern elevens to visit the west. Yet there are thousands of Harvard, Yale and Princeton men through the west who would welcome such a visit; and a friendly jaunt across the Alleghenies would surely do none of these institutions any harm.

One eleven fairly sure to get a chance with Yale, Harvard or Princeton is Pittsburgh university. This year has been coming along at a rapid pace and saw ranks with the best, for no fluky eleven is going to beat Carlisle, Cornell and Navy in succession—and turn the trick two years running.

Football may have been debilitated considerably, but only one who figures it a cream puff affair is entitled to a number of new guesses. It is a malpractice at the moment, but it is a game that will live in the hospital care.

F. K. H.—There are two sides to this question, the same as a plank. We know of a number of ball players who have been underpaid. And we know of another number who have drawn a good deal more than they were worth. Which is the story of all occupations.

"To Cobb would have made a wonderful end or halfback," states an exchanger. He would for five or six minutes. At which point there would be a fairly brisk young riot established on the field.

B. Smith Offers Oldfield Wins Billiard Cup In Road Race

Hack Eibel, Crater bristhoseman who is spending the winter hibernation in the swelter, in the capacity of manager of the Crystal Billiard Parlor, announces that Manager Bill Smith has offered a cup to be played for a pool billiard tourney, which will be staged at the Crystal Billiard Parlor on the first few days. The exact date for the opening of the tourney has not been announced, but it will begin after the latter part of this week or the first of next.

Several players have been secured several entries and others are expected. Manager Eibel has announced that it will be necessary for a player to give some evidence of his class in a match before he can qualify for the tourney. Every night, and the defeated players will be allowed to play for 100 balls. There will be no entrance fee. Announcement of the exact date of opening will be made within the next day or so.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—Oren, once a star outfielder on Chicago National and American baseball teams, died Monday in a dem. N. J. institution. With the Philadelphia team of the National association several years ago, he was struck on the head by a ball never recovered.

He was of the service to you at any time. The rule distinctly reads that a player may be substituted at any time during the fourth period.

second—I do not think it was intention of the rules committee to give half the distance to the goal line. The rule distinctly reads that a player may be substituted at any time during the fourth period.

Indians Play for Benefit Fund

Mike Gibbons Beats Young Mike Donovan

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Announcement was made last night that a team of former football stars of Harvard, Yale and Princeton will meet the Carlisle Indians at Fenway park, November 18. The proceeds of the game will be devoted to charity, the American Red Cross being half beneficiary.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 10.—A Thanksgiving day game between all-time stars of the University of Minnesota and Michigan, proceeds to go to Belgium, was planned here Monday.

Mike Gibbons Beats Young Mike Donovan
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul easily defeated "Tommy" Mike Donovan of this city in a ten-round match at Madison Square Garden last night, the contest stopping the contest in the sixth round when a knockout. Gibbons stopped the second round in the fifth round and one in the sixth. Gibbons weighed 141-1/2 pounds and Donovan 141-1/2.

5,000 years to produce beer of Crystal Pale quality

History records the brewing of beer (barley wine) in Egypt over 5,000 years ago.

Since that time the history of the industry has been one of continual betterment—better methods and facilities and a better product.

A modern exponent of all that is best in brewing is the brewery of the New South Brewery & Ice Co.—the home of Crystal Pale beer.

This brewery represents the crystallized thought, effort and money that has been given to the industry for ages past—it represents the skill and genius of many specialists, experts and craftsmen equipped in Europe and America.

And from this better brewery comes a better beer—Crystal—beer brewed from the finest materials, aged to full ripeness, then freshly tapped, bottled and promptly served before it has lost any of its goodness, palatable, healthful—the soul of golden barley malt and aromatic hops.
