VALUATION OF RAILROADS

DISCUSSED BY CANDLER

Work In Progress Will Have Vital Effect on Government Ownership, He Says

Either the national valuation of railroads now in progress under the direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission will prove the first step toward government ownership of the railroads or it will result in a cessation of legislation for government ownership.

The chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Chairman Candler, said at the Georgia state railroad commission meeting here today how he believed the new law would work.

CONSTITUTIONALISTS SAY

FRANK AS PRESIDENT WOULD BE A DISGRACE TO HIS OFFICE

The opinion of Justice Lamar was very brief. It proceeded on the premise that Frank was elected by court appointment. The opinion is based upon the statement that Frank was absent with the consent of his attorneys when the verdict was returned.

If application made to the full bench of the supreme court in Frank's behalf, justice must be before Monday day. It is possible that other justices will be appealed to individually and this action, if unfavorable, will be followed by an appeal to the full court Monday night when it meets again. The Chicago stock exchange closed today for Frank nearly a third of the fall court term.

"Our fine churches are closed every night so that there are no places where a man can go to sleep and something for him to eat. The announcement was received with approval and the plan was adopted. Steps are being taken to get the plan started this week."

"We will start in an experimental way at first," said Dr. White Monday morning, "and if it is successful we will increase, then we will enlarge our facilities. We will provide beds, breakfast and supper for anyone who comes. We will have the sexton take care of our guests during the night. ## BURGLARS KEPT BUSY ON THE NORTH SIDE SUNDAY

Several Hundred Dollars in Cash, Clothing and Jewelry Taken by Thieves

Burglaries operating in many different parts of the city Sunday secured valuable items at several places and had the police and detective departments busy all day. Monday morning dawned with the stores at Scottdale mills reported as being out of clothes stolen Sunday night.

Mr. B. H. Clouston, of 203 Forrest avenue, reported his back door prize open Sunday night and a diamond ring, turquoise ring, $10.00 in cash and a blue velvet watch stolen.

The W. C. T. U. pharmacy, 258 Auburn street, reported the front door broken in and the cash register rifled of $10.

Mr. M. A. Davis, a dentist, reported his home at 295 North Boulevard avenue, entered while he and his wife were away between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and a sitting of pearls, three silver car cases and a half dozen women's dresses were taken in through a front window and were evidently frightened away, as they left the silver in the sideboard and the jewelry belonging to Mrs. Davis.

SMITH AND HARDWICK TO GET COMMISSION SOON
Will Be Issued Upon Return of Governor From New York

Commissioners for Senator Hoke Smith and Thomas W. Hardwick will be issued upon the return to the city of Governor Clayton. The governor is expected to return to the city on Tuesday of next week.

Not until Monday morning were the complete returns received from the recent election. The Hokeley county returns were the last to reach the governor's office. This delay was caused by the fact that by a mistake the complete returns of that county were sent up by the ballot deposited with the clerk of the court and it required an order from the superior court before they could be opened.

The official returns from Hokeley county that Senator Smith and Hardwick received were a much larger vote in that county than was indicated by the official returns.

FOUR MURDER CASES FOR TRIAL IN COFFEE COUNTY
WATCHDOG, Ga., Nov. 22.—Four murder cases are on the docket for trial at a session of superior court that will be held in Coffee county today. The court will remain in session two weeks, the criminal cases to be taken up next Monday. Many important civil cases are scheduled for trial this week, along with a number of divorce cases.

FIREMEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN COLLISION

Several Hurlled From Seats When Wagons Collide on Fair Street

Firemen clinging to No. 10 hose-cart as it sped along Fair street to a call had a narrow escape from death Monday morning when the big chemical engine from the same station swung into Fair at the corner of Hill street just in time to crash full-till into the wagon.

Three horses were knocked off their feet, the single-tree of the wagon was splintered, Driver C. P. White was hurled from the seat of the hose-cart among the scrambling horses. Driver H. Tolbert was thrown into the street from the engine seat and other firemen were scattered right and left.

There were no serious injuries. The hose-cart was damaged and all three horses, two from the cart and one from the engine, were bruised. While suffering several cuts, but no broken bones. It was a miraculous escape.

The accident happened when the two apparatus took different routes from the station on Oakland avenue to a fire at a small place at 284 Fair, which was later extinguished without damage. The hose cart went up Woodward avenue to Fair street, thence along Fair toward the city and the fire engine went down Hill street, intending to swing into Fair at the corner. It turned just as the hose wagon arrived. The heavy chemical struck the lighter vehicle with such force that it was turned over. The horses were rolled in the dust and the singletree cracked. The engine horse was also spilled, but the chemical did not totter. The wagon hit the curbing such a blow that a big piece of granite was snapped off.

White fell from his seat on the wagon among the kicking animals. It seemed he would be trampled to death, but he saved himself by scrambling along a horse's back to his head, from which he leaped over a picket fence into the front yard of a residence.

Tolbert, driving the chemical, was thrown to the cobble stones, but fell clear of the horses. Captain E. J. Seize was on the wagon, but was not thrown out. W. W. Fanning, on the wagon, jumped. Other firemen on the wagon were Dennard, Freeman, Roberts and Tulin. On the chemical engine Tolbert were Smith and Morrow.

RURAL CREDIT LEGISLATION DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE
(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Proposed rural credit legislation was up for discussion at a general conference which began here today between the executive council of the conference of Progressive state granges and representatives of farm organizations, editors of farm papers and others interested in the subject. It is hoped to reach an agreement on the coming session of congress.

Today's program called for a general discussion of land mortgage systems, the speakers including Senator Fletcher, of Florida, and Representative Bailey, of Ohio, authors of bills on the subject pending in congress. The conference will continue through Wednesday.

LITTLE GIRL AWARDED MEDAL FOR HEROISM

Ten years old, and the medal she was awarded for saving her two nephews and niece from fire.

Nell Brantley, Ten Years Old, Rescued Two Nephews and Niece When Home Was Destroyed by Fire

A medal for heroism displayed in a fire which destroyed her mother's home last May 21 was awarded to little Nell Brantley, aged ten years, at the Second Baptist Sunday school Sunday morning by the pastor of the church, Dr. John E. White, on behalf of the Puritan hero commission, of St. Louis, Mo.

An account in The Journal of the child's brave rescue of two little nephews and a little niece was read by the commission in St. Louis and it went a representative here to investigate. After corroborating all the facts in the case as set forth in The Journal, the commission recommended that the child be given a gold medal for heroism. The commission acted in accordance with the recommendation and chose Dr. White, of whose church the child and her mother are members, to make the presentation.

On May 21 the home of Mrs. Mary O. Brantley, who was then living at 182 Forrest avenue, was destroyed by fire. In an upstairs room three children were playing—Royd Sullivan, aged five years; J. L. Sullivan, aged four years; Gladys Sullivan, aged two years. Their mother, who is a sister of Nell Brantley, was lying ill in bed from a surgical operation.

Little Nell discovered the fire, gave the alarm, and ran upstairs and brought down the children. Then she got a water bucket, fought the flames until it was useless to fight longer, and after the flames came and drew a door open, she rescued her little nephews and niece and the house she slipped past the fire and rescued her little nephews and niece.

The house was filled with smoke when Nell got her nephews and niece out, and the timbers were falling when she went back to rescue the little ones.

The Puritan hero commission is similar to the Carnegie commission. It was established by a St. Louis philanthropist some years ago and has awarded medals in deserving cases all over the country.

NO CAUSE FOR ANY ALARM OVER SCHOOLS—MAYOR

City Has Always Erected New Buildings as Needed, He Declares

There is no cause for alarm over the school situation in Atlanta, according to Mayor Woodward.

"The city has always provided rooms for the children and always will," said the Mayor.

"For the last fifteen or twenty years, there has been an increase in the number of children in the public schools. I hope the increase will always go on, for if it should stop it would be a sign that the city had stopped growing."

This increase has made it necessary for the city to build more school houses from year to year. It used to be the custom to build one or two new ones each year. Then the city limits were extended, demands upon the current revenue piled and the city issued bonds and built a batch of new ones simultaneously. Now these have filled up, and doubtless we will need more.

But this fact is neither alarming nor is it any newspaper sensation. "Tight now we have less buildings for the primary grades than we need and more buildings for the advanced grades than we need. What we ought to have been doing, what we ought to do now and what we will do, I hope, is to build more schools than we need for the primary grades, locating them at convenient places for the little fellows, and letting the older children go some distance to school. These small buildings should be built for $25,000 apiece, whereas we spent $50,000 apiece and more, in some instances, for our last bond issue buildings."

GERMANY SENT NATIVES OF INDIA TO CANADA, CHARGE
Row Last July Planned to Cause Trouble, Says Parliament Member

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—H. H. Stevens, a Vancouver member of the Canadian parliament, declared here today that an investigation indicated that the steamer Komagata Maru, whose arrival last July at Vancouver with a cargo of natives of India gave great trouble to immigration authorities, was chartered by a German shipping firm in Hongkong and that the shipment was made with a view of fomenting trouble between Britain and her Indian subjects.

Mr. Stevens declared that to make sure of trouble, the vessel was loaded with many undesirable, including 100 Indian criminals. When these men returned to Calcutta, he said, they were to cause a riot. The first intimation that the vessel had sailed for Canada, he declared, was in a newspaper dispatch from Berlin to New York. A report of the investigation has been sent to Ottawa, Mr. Stevens said.

Schooner Wrecked
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A four-masted schooner laden with lumber went ashore early this morning near Shinnecock light house, Long Island. The vessel appeared to be in a bad way, and heavy seas this forenoon. She was about a quarter of a mile from the shore. Life savers sought to rescue the crew.

W. C. T. U. ASKS CITY TO AID IN EXPENSES

Ask Appropriation of $500 to Pay Off Recent Convention Bills

Mrs. F. F. Patterson, state president of the Georgia W. C. T. U., went before the finance committee of general council Monday morning and asked for an appropriation of $500 to pay bills incurred in entertaining the recent national W. C. T. U. convention in Atlanta.

Owing to the depleted condition of the city's finances, which is always the rule at the close of the year, the committee knew of no fund from which the money could be taken. The committee did not dissuade the matter, however, but held it over one week and requested Chairman Humphrey and Mayor Woodward in the meantime to see if the money can be found.

The delegates to the national convention came to Atlanta with the understanding that free entertainment would be provided for them. Mrs. Patterson and the ladies associated with her in planning for the convention expected the city to provide entertainment for the delegates as best they could and pay the bill afterward. They now own $250, and have $—, which leaves them with a deficit of $250.

Councilman G. Humphrey, the chairman of the finance committee, is thoroughly in sympathy with the ladies but is inclined to oppose an appropriation of money by the city to relieve the situation.

"As a understand it," said he Monday, "the ministers promised to reimburse the city for the money they would think the burden is upon them, and not upon the city. For the city to underwrite a convention would establish a dangerous precedent."

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF NAVY HAS BEEN EXTENDED
(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Apprentices acting in future will receive six months' academic and professional instruction at naval training stations instead of four months at the navy yard. In announcing this change today Secretary Duley said it marks an extension of the general educational plan of the navy. While the work afloat will be continued, the longer shore training will make it possible for the men, once they are transferred to the fleet, to begin work immediately upon the higher branches of naval science, to qualify them for the most important and technical positions.

GERMAN-AMERICANS MEET AT PENSACOLA

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Atlanta New York Paris

A Huge and Helpful Disposal

==Remnants of Silks and Dress Goods

Tomorrow Morning at Nine o'Clock

Let us name this at once as one of the most radical and drastic disposals of remnants that we have launched in many and many a month—and those who take this statement at its literal value will profit.

To start with, we have the merchandise "to go on."

We've accumulated hundreds of short lengths of silks and dress goods this fall.

We will not argue their desirability—having accumulated under our own selling, they make out their own case; they would not be in short lengths were they not the fabrics that were approved this season. The point is, the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. attitude toward remnants. It is one of exclusion. We will not have them; in keeping up stocks we must think in full pieces and full ranges of colors.

Remnants must go. But for the individual—the yards of silk or dress goods a woman requires are remnant lengths. But prices are based on our judgment of remnants, and not on their desirability to you.

So, although

The Reductions Are a Third, a Half and Even More

this is no measure of their worth—as you shall see.

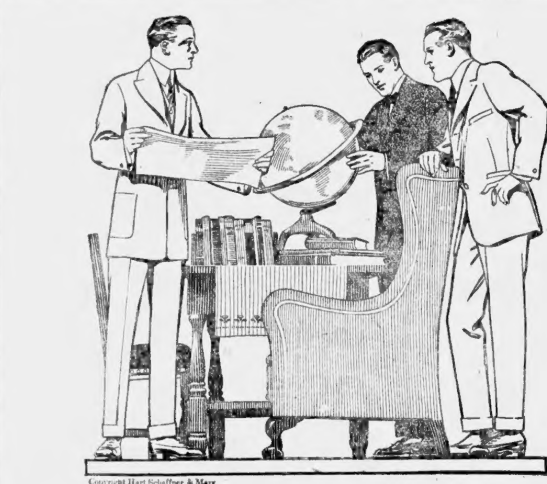

And so tomorrow for savings on silks and dress goods needed now, that will come in so splendidly for Christmas uses.

The Silks
Crepe de chine, Charmeuse, Serges, Cords, Wash silks, Messalines, Plaids, Satins, Taffetas, Jap Silks, Poplins, Brocades, Foulards, Chiffons, Velvets, Plushes, Corduroys, Velvetens.

The Dress Goods
Poplins, Cheviots, Brocades, Silk and wool crepes, Cloakings, Albatross, Mixtures.

In every color and black and white. Lengths one-half to five yards.

The recent embargo forbidding the export of all Australian wool will cause a scarcity of wool clothes, which means a big advance—don't delay too long. Secure that wool suit and overcoat today while prices are within reason.
