Second Party: THE TRIBUNE COMPANY

Antwerp, Belgium. By Joseph Medill Patterson.

THESE are the FIRST authentic motion pictures of the Belgian battlefields—the FIRST motion pictures which show the ACTUAL FIGHTING. In these scenes you see mirrored the events as they actually occurred—soldiers fighting from the trenches, machine guns in action, cannon roaring, soldiers being shot down—ALL THE GENUINE THRILLS of the European war. In one scene you see a German shell strike a Belgian home—BLOWING IT UP.

By special permission of the Belgian Government, the Chicago Tribune was granted the exclusive privilege to take motion pictures of the Belgian battlefields. 50% of the profits are to be turned over to the Belgian Red Cross. Consequently, these are the ONLY motion pictures which show the ACTUAL FIGHTING—the only GENUINE War pictures.

THIS IS EXTRA

Two reels of scenes for the War in Serbia. Hon. Jos. G. Camp, the noted Southern orator, will appear at each performance and explain the pictures in detail. Specially arranged music by full orchestra under direction of Percy Lynn

"That fellow's some hustler." You often hear that phrase applied to an energetic man.

Why is he such a hustler? Because he has no fatigue germs, putting the brakes on his system.

Jacobs' Liver Salts is the foe of fatigue germs—eliminate them and all poisons from the system. Mister, if you MUST work in an office and WILL live in a flat and don't EVER chop any wood, you have GOT HAVE GOT, I say—to help nature eliminate the accumulation of poisons that this wrong living produces. Jacobs' Liver Salts is the one persuasive eliminant.

Has Fine Action
in the Blood

Does Real Work in Cleaning Body of Impurities.

It is to the skin that blood impurities are driven by Nature. And it is in the skin that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, has its most pronounced influence.
For it is here that you see the result.
S. S. S. is some the less effective in the skin, glands and mucous surfaces in cleaning out the system of catarrh.
The purely vegetable ingredients in S. S. S. are naturally assimilated but they enter the blood as an active medicine and are not destroyed or converted while at work. It is this peculiar feature of S. S. S. that makes it so effective.
It wires into action all the forces of the skin, causes digestive secretions, stimu-lates the blood circulation to destroy disease breeding germs.

Upon entering the blood S. S. S. is spread throughout your body in about five minutes. And in a brief time it has your blood trouble so under control that it is no longer even noticeable. Gradually new flesh is formed in all broken-down places and the skin takes on the rosy glow of health. Be sure and get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, but avoid all substitutes.
Around the bottle is an illustrated circle that tells you how to obtain approval free advice in quickly overcoming various blood disorders. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 29

BUTCHERS OF ATLANTA COMPLETE BIG ABATTOIR

Plant Erected at National Stock Yards Cost One Hundred Thousand

An abattoir, erected at the cost of $100,000 by the Atlanta Butchers' association, has been opened at the National Stock Yards, furnishing facilities for the handling of 300 head of cattle and 1,200 hogs daily.

Dealers well versed in the live stock trade declare that the opening of the new and modern abattoir will do much towards increasing the importance of Atlanta as a stock market, since it furnishes a central southern distributing point.

Members of the butchers' association, who will operate the abattoir on a cooperative plan, declare that it has been completed at a particularly fortunate time, since the output of the western meat markets has been curtailed by the foot and mouth disease, while the demand has increased on account of the European war. As a result the country is turning in a measure to the south for its meats, and the new institution, they say, will do much toward increasing the importance of Atlanta and the south as a meat market.

The public has been invited to inspect the abattoir, of which one of the interested butchers has furnished the following description:
"The cleanliness of the plant as a whole is wonderful. Modern machinery and well-drained, well-washed floors completely do away with the old respectable slaughter house. On the killing floor itself one sees only spotless white cement floors within a few minutes after the slaughter has taken place. A remarkable track system overhead prevents the touching of dressed meats by employees. Septic tanks and separate lockers and showers for employees are other sanitary precautions. Lastly, every piece of meat is carefully inspected under the supervision of the board of health both before and after the slaughter. All of these precautions insure complete sanitation.

"After leaving the killing floor the meats are gradually relieved of their animal heat in the chill room, where a temperature just above freezing is maintained. This produces more tender and better flavored meats. From the chill room the meats are taken to the immense refrigerators, where they can remain indefinitely."

NEW WAR REVENUE LAW EFFECTIVE ON DECEMBER 1

Revenue Stamp Must Be Affixed to Every Bill of Lading

Harry T. Moore, traffic manager of the Atlanta freight bureau, has received a letter from W. S. Richardson, secretary of the Atlanta Freight Agents' association, explaining the new "war revenue law" which goes into effect December 1, regarding which there appears to be some misunderstanding among shippers.

The letter follows:
"Effective December 1, 1914, 'war revenue law' requires shippers to affix to each original bill of lading a revenue

"The law further requires that bills

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

The Rotarians of Atlanta have arranged an attractive display in the windows of the Healey Building, and every man, woman and child in the city should go to see the exhibition. It was a great idea--this exhibition of every imaginable kind of merchandise handled by the Atlanta Rotarians, and it not only offers the people of Atlanta the opportunity to see beautiful displays in the most appropriately dressed windows, but it gives one an excellent idea of the scope of the different businesses owned and controlled by the Rotarians of this city. The exhibit will continue all of this week, and particular attention is called to the windows occupied by the firms whose announcements appear below:

BUSINESS AND FINANCE
By W. S. Cousins, Editor The American Banker

Financial District Is Grateful for the Success of Preliminary Efforts Toward Resumption of Business.
 • Opening for Listed Bond Trading Is Not an Important Event - See Good Times Coming

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 28.—The spirit of thanksgiving has been very much in evidence this week, and Wall street has breathed more easily than at any time since the war began. And this is right and reasonable.

The success which followed the resumption of business in certain departments of the financial district last week, together with the easing of the money situation as a result of the opening of the new Federal Reserve banks has proved an excellent tonic for the market, while the I-told-you-so's have been highly complimenting themselves upon their great ability to predict the course of future events. Ignored from the mind of the markets tell of an excellent buying demand, which, in the latter market has carried the price of many shares to a higher point than the July 30 quotation—and still rising.

The governors of the New York stock exchange are still unable or unwilling to yield to the almost universal clamor for the reopening of the exchange. Many are afraid as yet of the horrors of foreign liquidation, which might be emphasized should the for-other. It does not seem reasonable, however, that a deluge of foreign selling can come at a time when we consider that from the standpoint of safety of principal and of good and prompt return on the investment, American securities are superior to those of any other nation in the world. America is the only really large civilized country in the world not already either participating in the war or threatening to participate. Furthermore, America is not a bankrupt nation. England, it is believed, will come very near being able to provide the sinews of war as in the form of the "war" savings bonds that have already accumulated. But if the war continues for a long period, the holders of these bonds in the neutral countries concerned, as well as Japan and Turkey, may be compelled to default, temporarily in some instances and more or less permanently in other official state bonds. It must not be forgotten, however, that many foreign holders of American stocks, though realizing the superior quality of their holdings, may be impelled by patriotic motives to sacrificing their investments in order to contribute to their country's necessities in this time of peril. In such a case, of course, it is impossible to estimate the extent of the liquidation, though the present possibilities are

The special committee of five rules that so much of Rule No. 21 as applies to dealings in listed bonds through the clearing house be rescinded, to take effect at the close of business on Friday, November 27, 1914. Beginning on Saturday, November 28, 1914, dealings in bonds listed in the exchange will be permitted on the floor of the exchange between the hours of 10 and 3 o'clock each day except Saturday, when dealings shall cease at 12 o'clock noon. Such dealings to be under a supervision and regulation of the committee and to be for "cash" or "regular way" only and not below the minimum prices as authorized by the committee from time to time. Transactions at prices other than those allowed by the committee, or in evasion of the committee's rules, are prohibited. All rules of the exchange governing delivery and default on contracts covered by this resolution shall be in force on and after Saturday, November 25, 1934, but the closing of contracts "under the rule" shall be subject to the action of the committee.

This is not as important an announcement as it might seem on first reading, and in fact it makes very little change in existing conditions. Certainly it does not justify the daily newspapers in a monotonous

In brief, the conditions under which trading in listed bonds is permitted will include the establishment each morning of certain minimum figures at or above which only will transactions be permitted. Should a seller be unable to secure this price, he has nothing to do but wait, even if conditions so improve as to provide a purchaser at the "established" price. In this way the exchange authorities expect to feel their way up and down

The next step will undoubtedly be the addition of guaranteed stocks to the list of securities in which open though price-restricted transactions are permitted; then in natural course should come stocks of corporations which there is comparatively slight interest abroad and finally all other securities that are on the stock exchange official list. With prices under control the stock exchange management does not believe that so much danger will exist in the case of uncontrollable foreign liquidation. So far as money conditions are concerned, they could hardly be more favorable for the experiment of business expansion; and it is conceded by banking interests that there is at least no impediment.

ing a pool for furnishing call money when the exchange of credit is not required. The committee's rules for dealing in bonds prevent transactions for foreign account by cable. They provide that securities shall be in such position as to be delivered within one day after the transactions are made. This proviso is contained in a paragraph relating that dealings shall be "cash" or "regular way" only. Sales of foreign holdings not in position to be immediately delivered are usually made with seller 10 or seller 15 days. But aside from this single exception the usual rules governing deliveries are the same as for restricted trading and there is no prohibition other than that for deliveries at the price limits.

James J. Hill, that great seer of the northwest, said, paid a visit to New York this week, and in the course of his remarks said that the business of the country generally is somewhat depressed. He does not attribute this condition so much to fear over the effects of a revision of the tariff as to federal and state legislation with respect to the railroads and corporations in general. In discussing the situation he pointed out that the foundation of the business of the railroads is the exchange of commodities. When this is not in progress as between individuals, companies and even the traffic of the railroads must suffer. This is just what is happening now. People are not buying as they would if they were more confident, trade is not going on as it should.

tariff which is the progress as they are not of other legislation which has been enacted in recent months also appears. Some of the most recent legislation may prove to be very beneficial to the people and business interests in this country. It must be tried out, however, and during the experimental stage there is naturally hesitation.

He thinks there will be a great demand for money from Europe for a long time to come, and as the governments of European countries will be in urgent need of funds, they will be willing to pay higher rates than have obtained in this country for some time. Naturally, therefore, borrowers here will be compelled to pay higher rates. This will impose an addithe burden upon the railroads, which must not only take care of mature obligations, but also provide funds with which to finance future requirements. Wheat is being held back somewhat in the northwest by the farmers, but the amount in original hands is not very much larger than in previous years. The movement at the present time is about normal. The lumber industry continues dull simply because individuals and business concerns are not building.

Eating When Others Are Through

Is Not Gluttony, But Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Enable You to Have Such an Appetite.

In these days of high pressure most men and women eat very little and fasted at table after all have left it.

Laudatory: "Ever since Jones took Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I've lost my 'eat' habit."

If your stomach can't digest your food, what will? Where's the relief? The answer is in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because, as all stomach troubles arise from indigestion and because one inviolable of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is able to thoroughly and completely digest food, doesn't it stand to reason that these tablets are going to digest all the food and whatever food you put into your stomach?

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are carefully made to supply every element lacking in a system afflicted with dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, stomach trouble, etc., and to aid healthy system to digest difficult food at instantly hours.

Just carry one of these little tablets in your purse or pocket. After every meal, no matter when eaten, you have always at hand the assistance that nature will relish and thrive upon.

In this manner one may eat all manner of food, attend late dinners, etc., and feel no nervous results afterwards. Thousands of travelers always have a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in their grips and are thus enabled to eat unaccompanied meals at any and all times.

MERCHANTS TO EXHIBIT GOODS IN HEALEY BUILDING

Rotary Club Leases Lower Floor for Display During First Week in December

If you happen to be downtown Monday and in the neighborhood of the Healey building drop over for a few minutes and look into the windows on the ground floor. And if you see almost anything more, from a bottle of perfume in the E. H. Cone drug store display to a Remington typewriter or a Goodhart camera. And you can get all sorts of ideas as to what to buy in the already taken floor space in the public showrooms of the Healey building and as many more are arranging to follow suit. The exhibits will be retained on public view during the first week in December, and for the first time in the plan and he's just made up his mind that the exhibition is going to last as long as the first ever held in Atlanta.

You may get some idea of the representative displays that will be on view from the following list of rotarians who have arranged to take space in the exhibition windows:

- W. H. Kasper, Kasper Grocery Company.
- E. M. Hudson, McCord-Stewart Company, wholesale grocery.
- Ben Lee Crew, Phillips & Crew Company, plans and maps.
- Yvan E. Allen, Pfeiffer & Allen Company, office outfitters.
- Brooks Morgan, Frank E. Block Company, candies and crackers.
- W. J. Gwiner, Johnson-Gwiner Company, auto accessories.
- Thurston Fletcher, photographer.
- George M. Greene, Burroughs Adding Machine Company.
- W. S. Turner, H. W. Rountree Company, trunks.
- E. H. Goodhart, Southern Photo Material Company.

- E. H. Cone, Cone Drug Store.
- A. E. Woodward, Addressograph Company.
- A. F. Gills, General Electric Company.
- R. N. Reed, Reed Oil Company.
- W. Carlton, Capital City Tobacco Company.
- E. D. Crane, Lion Collar Company.
- Jack Letton, Hotel Winwood.

Prizes will be given for the best exhibit among those who have entered them being Harry Goodhart, L. L. Shivers and E. A. Crane. Mr. Shivers is chairman of a special "Club committee" handling the show. Associated with him are Fred J. Paxon, Rawson Collier, L. E. Rogers, Willie West, Rockwell Johnson, F. M. Kaufman, E. A. Crane and E. H. Cone.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Jennie Owensby and family wish to thank their friends for the kindness and sympathy shown them in the recent death of her son, Grover Owensby. To his fellow-members in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen they are especially grateful, and to all those who expressed their sentiment in floral offerings.

A small sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will be mailed free to those who will address F. A. Stuart, Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich. (Adv.)

FRANK MOTION GOES TO SUPREME COURT MONDAY

Full Bench of U. S. Jurists Will Pass on Petition for Writ of Error

(Special Dispatch to The Journal) WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(Formal motion will be submitted in the supreme court when it meets at noon Monday, on behalf of Leo M. Frank, by his attorney, Harry Alexander, for leave to file a petition for writ of error to the supreme court of Georgia to bring up the Frank case for review. This is the last legal resource of the condemned man and if the full bench of the supreme court denies the motion, Frank's counsel will have to turn to the state board of pardons and Governor Slaton.

Harry Alexander completed his statement of fact which he will base the motion and his brief in the support of it tonight and sent them to the printer. They will not be made public until filed with the clerk of the supreme court Monday morning.

Later in the day when he can be heard on the motion, the chief justice will announce that the court will "take the papers" and the decision upon the motion will probably be announced a week from Monday, the next regular "opinion day" of the court.

It was through Chief Justice White that Frank's lawyers obtained permission to submit a brief, in which they

ROBIN HOOD OAK IS BEING MADE INTO FINE PIANOS

The Robin Hood oak of Sherwood forest, England, said to be the most famous tree in all history, is now being made into Conquer pianos by the Cable Piano company, whose home office and factory are in Chicago.

Its purchase was made possible by an injury sustained by the tree during a thunderstorm, otherwise no amount of money could have induced its owner to let it be cut down.

While not the oldest tree in existence, the Robin Hood oak goes back to the days of Richard the Lion Hearted, King John and Henry III of England. It was near the tree that Robin Hood, according to the legends of England, hid his robbers' cave where his band of outlaws congregated.

are to undertake to show that the United States court has jurisdiction despite the fact that the Georgia supreme court held that Frank's failure to cite in his motion for a new trial the constitutional point contained in his motion to set aside the verdict deprived him of the right to urge this point.

Justices Lamar and Holmes, who denied Frank's petition for a writ of error which would afford him a review by the United States supreme court of the decision of the Georgia supreme court, did not, it is said, consider the constitutional grounds contained in his motion to set aside the verdict, but took the position that Frank, having failed to follow the practice dictated by the Georgia supreme court, was without jurisdiction.

It is this question of jurisdiction which Frank's attorneys will argue in the brief which they will file with the supreme court Monday.

ROTARIANS PLAN TO GIVE A FEAST FOR THE KIDS

Each Member of Club Will Take One Boy to Dinner Next Tuesday Afternoon

While the general populace is busy voting for a queen of the Hog and Hunny carnival, the Rotary club is going to go it one better and crown some kings. It hasn't figured yet just how many it's going to crown, but there's going to be a batch of 'em and the coronation will take place next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce building.

The affair is going to be a "big brother-dinner" and every rotarian will invite to the feast some office boy, newsboy, messenger or any kid who has to go out into the world and earn his own living. It will be the first "rotas feast" of its kind ever held in Atlanta and in consideration of the happy Thanksgiving season, the kids will be "kings for a day" and Kipling's king won't have anything on that crowd of youngsters when they get settled down at the tables and start to "eat in."

The champion newboy of Atlanta is going to battle for 10 rounds with the champion office boy of the world, and the Rev. Dr. John R. Atkinson, new dean of St. Philip's cathedral who was a boy once and who looks after the tide in a fatherly way, will tell them about Thanksgiving and the meaning of it.

There will come a great pie-eating contest and every youngster there who likes pie will be invited to get on the job and try and take away one of the prizes.

Corn Comes Off as Easy as You Please!

"Get-It" Being Used by Millions! It is the first time that a real corn-remover has ever been made. "Get-It" is the new corn-remover, based on an steep new principle. It is a new, different formula, never successfully imitated. It makes corns, calluses, and toes, red and raw, drop off the foot. You don't burn up your toes any more with sticky tape and ointments that grow down on the poor corn—no more flesh-eating ointments that don't "stay put," no more bleeding or danger of blood poisoning. No more blisters around for days with sore corns, no more corns.

"GET-IT" is now the highest selling corn cure in the world. It is so easy to use and so safe. It is sold by druggists everywhere. 25 cents a bottle, or sent direct by R. L. Lawrence Co., Chicago, 1-1877.

ADVERTISING IN THE JOURNAL SELLS THE GOODS.

Hartman's Sale

IT'S the talk of the town, and every man in Atlanta seems to be interested in the wonderful values that are being given during our closing-out sale. Friday morning, when our doors opened, there was such a crowd of interested men as probably never awaited the opening of a store's doors before in this city. Time after time we had to close the doors to keep the overflow crowd on the outside while we waited on the packed house that was already inside the doors. Every man who came was satisfied. They bought for the reason that they knew the quality of goods Hartman carries. Now listen:

Monday at Hartman's

TOMORROW, Monday, will be a record breaking day at this store. We have decided, as we stated in our advertisement in the Journal a few days ago, to go OUT OF BUSINESS, and to get out as soon as possible, and we have marked our goods—everything in the store—down low enough for any man to buy what he may want; so come tomorrow. It will be a great day, and you'll be mighty glad you came when you see the extraordinary values which are here for such a little money. Read the prices listed below, and then don't fail to take advantage of the BIG MONDAY at Hartman's tomorrow:

RAYMOND DANIEL WITH DECATUR BOARD OF TRADE

Well-Known Newspaper Man Elected Secretary of Commercial Organization

President W. J. Dabney, of the Decatur board of trade, announces the election of Raymond Daniel, of Atlanta, as secretary of that organization, to succeed Robert C. W. Harnsperger, retired.

Mr. Daniel is well known in Atlanta and Decatur and throughout the state of Georgia as a newspaper and publicity man of long and varied experience. For several years he was with the Associated Press in Atlanta and Louisville and other cities, and has been associated with nearly all of the daily papers of Atlanta at different times in the past ten or twelve years in practically every capacity of the various news departments. For three years he has been in charge of the publicity work of the Georgia state fair, and for the past year has been the editor of the Valdosta Daily Times, on which paper he has found constructive work for south Georgia.

Mr. Daniel is well known to Maconville as a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, at a member of Yearly temple of the Shrine, and as past master of Gate City Lodge No. 2, the largest Blue Lodge south of New York City.

Mr. Daniel has long been interested in board of trade work, and was elected secretary of the Tifton chamber of commerce in 1913, which position he would have accepted but for the fact he was prevented by sickness, which kept him out of active work for a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel are already well known in Decatur, where they have been for some time.

Mr. Daniel himself being a charter member of the Decatur Athletic club, including in its membership the leading young business men of Decatur.

New officers of the board will be installed before the first of January, and it is generally understood that the or-

BARACAS AND PHILTHEAS WILL HELP CHILD'S HOME

All Urged to Contribute.
Funds Sorely Needed for Little Ones

All Baracas and Philtheas are urged to contribute liberally to the support of the Atlanta Child's home next Sunday, December 6, when collections will be taken up in the churches.

Thirty children, ranging in age from one to six years, are being cared for at the home, which is sorely in need of funds. Recently, the president of the local Baracas and Philtheas visited the home, and was moved to issue the appel to all the churches in the city.

Direct contributions may be sent to Mrs. Helen G. Woolley, 17 West Oak street.

NEGRO CHURCHES WILL CONTRIBUTE FOR ORPHANS

A collection for the Leonard street colored orphan's home will be taken up today in all the negro churches of Atlanta, and in the afternoon there will be a mass meeting for the same cause in the negro Odd Fellows hall, which will be attended by both white and colored.
The white people are asked to visit the institution at 22 Leonard street.

There are sixty children there, some of whom have been rescued from evil surroundings and others made homeless by the death of their parents.

The Holiday Season Finds Rountree Splendid, Ready

The Christmas Spirit is beginning to catch fervor—the very air vibrates with the festive feel. It lays easy siege upon your heart—and your purse. Tumult and awakening everywhere. Evidence of the holiday hurrah is universal. Society dames are serving delicious turkey dinners in the sweet name of Charity. Plans that appeal to a gentler humanity are as broad as the boundaries of civilization. Christmas and New Year will come apace almost before you know it, and then all of us will settle back to prosaic business that absorbs our respective interests.
The customs of the period make it a glad, joyous time for the merchant. Hence the chorus that arises from them. True to precedent, we are among the many who hope to hold your attention at this vital hour, while we set forth our claims for your patronage.
The advertising of the day is so flushed and dreary, so tame and turgid and tautologous with colorless, GENERAL statements, that fortunate, indeed, is he who has definite, distinctive, clear and specific things to say—and can say them. OUR Store is our theme. Every phase of the subject—as we handle it—is inspirational. The economic side, the practical side, the artistic side, the commercial side of our enterprise—each deserves a highlight. But we have no taste for treatises and discourses; so right down to the pith at once.
We are manufacturers of Trunks, Bags, and related Leather Goods. That's important to you, because it enables us to cut out the middlemen's profits. Our policy blazes a straight path that leads direct from maker to you—the retail buyer. Come to us, and see what a glorious feast of gifts we have garnered together for YOU!

Contribute their cuticle to make the collection complete. There is a positive fascination about these exquisite leather novelties that makes them peculiarly popular for Christmas gifts. Their rich, soft, silky finish, their delicacy and sensitiveness to the touch; the crushed mellow odor; their distinct usefulness and durability, are not lost upon any man or woman. Our display of them attracts the eye, charms the senses, tempts the purse. It isn't at all surprising that thousands finally settle upon something in leather for the present to give. LITTLE EMMA BUNTING IS COMING BACK TO ATLANTA

Popular Actress Will Reopen Lyric Monday, Dec. 7, With
"What Happened to Mary"

Special arrangements have been made for the reopening of the Lyric Monday, December 7, and the attraction will be Little Emma Bunting and her own company direct from the Emma Bunting theater in New Orleans.

Miss Bunting comes for a short stay—just two weeks—and her manager, E. A. Schiller, has decided to present "What Happened to Mary" during the first week and "Case of the Storm Country" for the second week. There will be the regular schedule of performances, evening at 8:15 o'clock and matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 2:30 o'clock.

The negotiations for obtaining Miss Bunting have been going on for several days. There is an arrangement between Manager Schiller and Jake Wells which provides for Miss Bunting to appear each season in the Wells theaters in the southern circuit.

Mr. Schiller has successfully managed Miss Bunting for several seasons, and her success in New Orleans was so great that he renamed the Greenwall theater in that city the Emma Bunting theater.

"What Happened to Mary" is a splendid entertainment, and in the stage version of the famous screen success that has crowded the movie theaters for weeks at a time. Miss Bunting broke all records in her New Orleans theater with this play.

"Case of the Storm Country," written for Miss Bunting by Rupert Hughes, had its very first presentation on the Atlanta Lyric stage. It has been a pronounced success wherever she has played it.

Miss Bunting is one of the most popular actresses who ever appeared in Atlanta. During her previous engagements here she was a great favorite, and her thousands of friends and admirers will be glad to learn that she is to come back.

BIG DAY AHEAD FOR METHODISTS AT DAWSON

Services Morning, Afternoon and Evening—News of the Conference

BY REV. LOT WARWICK.

DAWSON, Ga., Nov. 28.—Sunday will be a great day in Dawson. The chief place of attraction will be the Methodist church where the conference sessions are held. At 11 a. m. Bishop Candler will preach. At the close of his sermon he will ordain a class of young men to the office and work of a deacon in the Methodist church. At 9 a. m. a love feast will be conducted in which the whole conference will participate. At 3 o'clock there will be a memorial service of the conference. At 7 p. m. Rev. W. N. Almar, D. D., will preach. After the sermon, Bishop Candler will ordain the fourth-year class who are eligible to elder's orders. All the churches in Dawson will be filled by the visiting preachers. Rev. J. M. Calkins, D. D., will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist church. Rev. T. M. Calaway is the pastor and assistant host to the Methodist conference.

SUPERANNUATE LIST.

Five men who have been in active service for many years were yesterday put on the superannuated list. These were Rev. H. C. Fentress, Rev. J. S. Jordan, Rev. G. W. Thomas, Rev. J. T. Lowe. Rev. J. T. Budd was placed on the superannuated list.

ELDERS' REPORT.

The twentieth question was taken up today and Bishop Candler called the names of the ten presiding elders who made reports of their districts. J. M. Outler of the Thomasville district, reported 1,350 new members and a fine financial report. J. P. Wardlaw of the Cordele district made fine showings of their work. W. H. Budd reported over two thousand additions to the church. I. P. Tyson reported for the Waycross district some notable revivals and good reports on finance. In the Dublin district Dr. Bascom Anthony reported six new parsonages in two years and other cheering notes. At least three new presiding elders will be made this year, it is thought. Rev. J. P. McFerrin, of the Macon district, Rev. J. M. Outler, of the Thomasville, and Rev. L. A. Hill, of the McKeas district, have served for four years in the presiding eldership and will receive new appointments. They have done good work during the quadrennium and are in great favor with the people they have served.

Mulberry street church in Macon reports $4,000 raised for foreign missions and $9,000 for all benevolences, not including current expenses. Wesley Memorial church in Savannah paid over $4,000 for missions. Rev. F. W. Ellis is the pastor. They have done good work during the quadrennium and are in great favor with the people they have served. The Thomasville church, Rev. G. F. Cook, pastor, reports about $4,000 for home and foreign missions.

AUXILIARY OF K. OF P. PLANS ENTERTAINMENT

The Ladies' auxiliary of Atlanta lodge, No. 26, Knights of Pythias, will entertain the members of that lodge and their lady friends Monday evening, November 30. Elaborate plans have been made for an extensive entertainment, the program including refreshments, music and addresses by prominent Knights of Pythias. The Association of Past Chancellors, recently organized in this city, under the leadership of Walter P. Andrews, are to be special guests of this occasion. Grand Chancellor H. M. Stanley and Grand Inner Guard Joseph Smith, of Barnesville, will also be present.

Will Meet Monday

The Parsonage Aid society of the Martha Brown Memorial church will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. L. V. Kennedy, Ormeau Park. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

ATLANTA MEATS FOR GEORGIA PEOPLE!

A Word of Good Cheer from the Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir—Better and Cheaper Meats for the South.

The new Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir cost $100,000 and is the most modern and sanitary institution of its kind in the United States. It contains two full acres of floor space, and 300 head of cattle and 1,200 hogs and sheep can be handled easily every day. It is conducted on a strictly co-operative basis, every member butcher sharing in the profits arising from the efficient conservation of by-products. Every butcher in this section of the country ought to take advantage of this opportunity to produce more profit and better service for himself and his customer.

The Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir removes the last obstacle to Southern meat production. The Southern farmer now has the finest possible facilities for slaughtering and distributing his meat. It is up to the farmer to help himself and the South by raising Southern meats.

The Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir means better and cheaper meat for the consumer. The remarkable SANITARY FEATURES, including well drained cement floors, track system to obviate handling of dressed meats, septic tanks, and separate lockers and showers for employees, insure complete asepticism. This together with the splendid refrigerating system and rigid inspection produce cleaner, fresher, tastier meat. The saving of long freight payments and the conservation of by-products lower the price of meats.

The Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir meats are on a par in quality with those produced in any part of the country. Every piece of meat that goes out of the Abattoir is a step forward in Southern meat production. The cleanliness of these meats is assured; the prices are more reasonable than others. The Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir is a distinct aid to Georgia. The people of Georgia should reciprocate by insisting on meats bearing the Atlanta Butchers' Abattoir stamp.

ROME

ROME, Ga.—The women's club house was the attraction of the week. Large crowds attended and there were some interesting games for each afternoon and evening. On Tuesday a baby show was held and Wednesday evening a number of young ladies took part in a "dance of the Nations." The house closed Wednesday evening.

The club of the winning met Tuesday afternoon with Miss Nellie Adams. Mrs. Benish Adams, Mrs. Charles Pitzer and Mrs. Edna Miller were guests in interesting program. The house served a dairy course of oysters and coffee.

Mrs. Mary Brown, a prominent W. C. T. U. worker, is the guest of Mrs. W. L. Walker. Mrs. J. T. Davidson entertained Wednesday afternoon for her guest, Miss Hattie Scott, of Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Benish Adams, Mrs. J. W. Macky and Mrs. Miss Williams were just home from an afternoon tea last week for Mrs. Albert Sharp, a recent bride.

ATTENDED FOOTBALL GAME

These charming young girls, who are members of the student body at Cox College, were among the bright members of the college set who attended the Tech-Clemson football game on Thanksgiving. Reading from top to bottom, Miss Talley Walters, Miss Lois Arnold, Miss Ruth Lyon, Miss Opal Hengert and Miss Pearl McCoy.

NORCROSS
NORCROSS—A party of young people, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKinney, enjoyed an open-air hunt on the Hamilton farm Wednesday evening.

Mrs. H. O. McKinney entertained exclusively at dinner on Wednesday in honor of the teachers. Her guests were Misses Ella Park, Mary Russell, Marie Williams, Bertha Mayfield and Anita Mitchell.

Mrs. E. J. Reynolds, president of the woman's club, entertained the members Thursday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street. The room was graciously loaned for the occasion in colors suggestive of the season. Interesting games were enjoyed, after which a salad course was served by Misses Mary and Carrie Reynolds. Miss Rose Russell poured coffee.

Miss Marie Cartridge, of Monticello, was the weekend guest of Misses Mary and Carrie Reynolds. Miss Rose Russell poured coffee.

A skin you love to touch

Why it is so rare

A skin you love to touch is rarely found because so few people understand the skin and its needs.

Begin now to take your skin seriously.

You can make it what you would love to have by using the following treatment regularly.

Make this treatment a daily habit

Just before retiring, work up a warm water lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the skin gently until the skin is pink, the pores opened and the face feels fresh and clean. Rub in cooler water, then apply cold water—the colder the better—several minutes. Whenever possible, rub your face for a few minutes with a piece of ice. Always dry the skin thoroughly.

Use this treatment persistently for ten days or two weeks and your skin will show a marked improvement. Use Woodbury's regularly thereafter, and before long your skin will take on that finer texture, that greater freshness and cleanness of "a skin you love to touch."

Woodbury's Facial Soap is the work of a skin specialist. It costs 25¢ a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake.

Do this today—Now! Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's. Tear out the cake now. Take it to your druggist or toilet counter today. Begin tonight to get the benefit of this facial soap. For sale by dealers everywhere.

- But just 22 short shopping days—how the time will fly from now to Christmas!

All charge purchases tomorrow go on the December statement; payable in January

An Amazing Suit Sale at

A windfall for 78 women!—Sensational values fresh from New York!—Smart styles that sell readily at $19.75 to $23.50!—Their price Monday is $10. Come early!

NEARLY a fourth of these suits are shown tomorrow for the first time—our Mr. Lester J. Rich picked them up in New York and hurried them here for this special sale.

- The other suits are from regular stock. Earlier they sold readily at $19.75 and $23.50; lately we re-grouped them at $15.
- But tomorrow—Monday—you choose any of these suits as well as the newcomers, at $10.
- The suits are all in good models—no freaks nor rack-weary stragglers—but the same smart styles that won a place in our own good stocks.
- There are serges, chevilles, falles and granites—and yes, one or two broadcloth suits.
- There are long coats—and some short coats—braid and velvet trimmed coats—coats with the new Military and Cossack motifs—and every coat NEW.
- Colors are black, navy, brown, green and plum. All sizes in the lot. Choice $10

Mrs. Chas. C. Willis, No. 41 Colquitt Avenue

Receives New FREE Sewing Machine Without One Cent Cost

Read how the Insurance Policy that goes with each FREE Machine protects the purchaser for all time.

Here is Mrs. Willis' letter:

Nov. 27, 1914.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that about four years ago I purchased a FREE SEWING MACHINE. I found it to be all the FREE COMPANY claimed for it, same being perfectly satisfactory to me in every way. Some time ago my machine was placed in storage. Through some accident while stored it was broken up so that it could not be used. I had forgotten all about the FREE INSURANCE POLICY, which I found in the drawer of my machine when about to exchange it with another agent. Instead of closing a trade in which I was to get $15.00 for my machine, I called up the FREE SEWING MACHINE department of M. RICH & BROS. CO. and must say, to my surprise, the FREE COMPANY has given me a brand-new machine without one cent of cost to me. I can recommend the FREE to anyone who wants the best, also extend my thanks to the FREE COMPANY for the new machine.

(Signed)

Mrs. Chas. C. Willis
41 Colquitt Ave.
Atlanta, Ga.

The Insurance Policy, however, is the smallest feature about the FREE Sewing Machine.

The FREE has all the improvements found in all other makes of machines, plus 32 exclusive improvements found in no machine but the FREE.

The FREE sews faster and runs lighter. Easier to operate and will last longer. INSURED FOR 5 YEARS. Guaranteed for life. Not high priced; sold on easy payments. (Third Floor.)

The Advantages of BYCK'S

As a High-Class Shoe Store

For 30 years we have been catering to the footwear needs of the best Southern trade and we believe that we have well earned the good reputation we enjoy.

It is hardly necessary for us to tell you like many shoe stores or departments do, that our styles are just the same as you see on 5th Avenue etc., etc.

You don't care anything about that--it wouldn't influence your purchases and we know it.

What you do really want to know "IS:"

Have we stylish shoes?
Are our shoes well made?
Can you be properly fitted?
Have we the assortment?

To all these questions we answer absolutely

YES!

We know the ideas as well as the feet of the Southern people. We know what style is--and where to get it. We know what factories are to be relied on. We know first-class workmanship--and we know hundreds of people more this fall than ever before, who have told us--that after going to every store in town, have "COME BACK," and said ours were not only the "BEST LOOKING," but the "MOST STYLISH," as well as the most reasonably priced.

We are today--as we have been--buying from the most representative and highest-grade "SHOE MAKERS" in America; the footwear they make equal any sold anywhere in the world.

That's what we're asking you to buy--only, we do not ask you to pay us quite as much profit as the high-class retailers in New York or Chicago must demand.

Carnival Ball Coronation Plans

Mrs. William Lawson Peel, who has consented to act as chaperon at the carnival ball in the auditorium next Thursday evening, announced today the coronation plans for the official crowning of the king and queen and the reception of the court of honor.

The coronation march will be led by the grand chamberlain and the queen dowager. Next will come the king and queen. Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins will be king and the queen is yet to be selected by popular vote. The royal personnel will be followed by a distinguished company of maids of honor and "gentlemen-in-waiting," all in glittering attire, which will represent some of the most gorgeous costumes ever seen in Atlanta. The royal party will proceed to the auditorium stage where the official coronation will take place. When the king and queen have been crowned, there will be an exhibition of clever dances by Miss Blackbar and Captain Palmer of Macon, Ga. Mr. Ball and Miss Moulton, of the Georgian Terrace, and Mrs. Hoover and Mr. Cook, of the Piedmont hotel.

The ball will then be opened by the king and queen and the general public will be invited to take part in the dancing. The candidates for queen include Miss Alline Fielder, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Wycliffe Wynn, Miss Marion L. Patterson, Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick, Miss Mal Horne, Miss Lawson Hilar, Miss Adrienne Batten and Miss Mary Rice.

They have selected the following maids of honor: Miss Marybelle Hixon of Americus; Miss Nina Carpenter, of Greenville, S. C.; Miss Marie Gage of Birmingham, Ala.; Miss Emma Lowry Freeman, Miss Constance Berry; Miss Amelia Smith, Miss Hallie Morton, of Tennessee; Miss Helen Johnson, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Miss Mary Cook of New Orleans, La., and Miss Isoline Campbell.

The following young men have been named as gentlemen-in-waiting to the queen and her court: Mr. Eugene Haines, Mr. Henry Lyon, Mr. Hal Hart, Dr. Charles P. Hodge, Mr. Henry Clay Furr, Mr. Elbert Johnson, Mr. John Hart, Mr. Harold Rogers, Mr. Ralph Ragan, Mr. Sanders Hickey, Mr. Edgar Tompkins, Mr. Turner Carter, Mr. E. W. Tomlinson, Mr. Carl Hamsper, Mr. James Crumley, Mr. James Harrison, Mr. Bruce Worthing, Mr. Robert Holt of Chicago, and Mr. Robert Forrester.

The matrons who have consented to assist Mrs. Peel are Mrs. James R. Gies, Mrs. John E. Murphy, Mrs. T. H. Howell, Mrs. Frank R. Ellis, Mrs. Ernest Woodruff, Mrs. W. H. H. Dwyer, Mrs. John W. Grant, Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, Mrs. Frank Inman and Mrs. Walter P. Allen.

Sale of Hand-Woven Rugs

A sale of hand-woven rugs will be held December 7, 8 and 9 under the auspices of the yard committee of the House for Insane, which place to be announced later.

A collection of mountain baskets, sandwich trays and other practical shapes will be shown, as well as the to Hostville half teaspoon for measuring medicines accurately, feeding babies, etc.

The committee is composed of Mrs. R. H. Taylor, Miss Mary Bell Taylor, Mrs. Harold Armstrong, Misses Isabel and Ethel Wilson and Mrs. Charles P. Wilson.

INTERESTING WEDDINGS

Puckett-Waldon

The wedding of Miss Susie Waldon and Mr. Hollis L. Puckett, was solemnized Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Waldon, at Forest Park. The bride, who was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of white roses, was escorted by her father. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword.

The bride made a charming picture in her going away gown of brown broadcloth, trimmed with fur. The coat opened over a blouse of rare lace and her hat was of brown velvet ornamented with white feathers. She carried a bouquet of white roses showered with petals of the valley.

Miss Mary Waldon, maid of honor, wore a lovely gown of crepe de chine with overdrapery of tulle and carried pink roses. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Hill and was witnessed by relatives and close friends.

Following the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by the bride and groom. The wedding was sung by Miss Sarah McWilliams.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a trip through Florida. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Miss Vesta Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barre and Children, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Puckett, of Atlanta; Mr. Aubrey, of Macon; Miss Sarah McWilliams and Mrs. Ruth Clark, of Stockbridge; Mr. J. W. A large number of these suits were made by a well-known New York firm who do not make suits to sell for less than $50.

Plush Coats Specially Priced $19.75

This stunning coat of seal plush possesses both style and quality to a degree remarkable at the price. It is cut with the pronounced fashionable flare, and has a deep, full, fur collar of skunk opossum. Some are trimmed with broad bands of broadtail cloth. The material is a beautiful, lustrous quality, and it is lined throughout with brocade and interlined.

This Coat was a special order. It came to us in many models--a hundred in the lot--which was just a fifteenth of the full order of fifteen hundred coats--the big New York purchase.

"Plush is scarce; the demand exceeds the production." Those are the words of our New York letter, hence the timeliness of our order. Judge the value by the coats.

Soldier Eleven Defeats Navy in Annual Clash

Captain Prichard and Merilat Repeat Success of 1913 Game in Handling Forward Passes—Play Scored One Touchdown and Made Another Possible

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The United States Military academy defeated the Naval academy 20 to 0 in their annual football game today. The superiority of the cadets was as marked as the score indicated. Once the powerful army machine started its march for the final touchdown the ultimate outcome never was in doubt. The midshipmen were outplayed and outlasted in every department and but for their splendid fighting spirit in the face of certain defeat the score would have been even larger.

Although the game lacked the closeness of 1913, it did have features which distinguished it from all other games of the year.

The University of Pennsylvania athletic administrator was through with 21st operations. Every available foot of space in both permanent and temporary stands was occupied. The colors of the competing students were everywhere as supporters of both the army and navy followed every cue. The cheering squads of sailors and soldiers, the long oval-shaped stands, the field was constantly a-buzz with the hues of either West Point or Annapolis.

The touch of militarism given by the uniforms and marching ways of Uncle Sam and after the game, set the scene for a rowdy affair.

The ball was kicked from the middle of the field and the smashing attack of the navy's forward line in the first half was a result of the fact that there was no continuity in the play of either eleven. As a result the navy's forward line and the ball were kicked from the line. The navy's forward line, which was supposed to be a result of the fact that there was no continuity in the play of either eleven. As a result the navy's forward line and the ball were kicked from the line.

The second touchdown was made on a repetition of these plays. The Navy kicked and Army booted the ball back. Hodgson again fumbled, and again an alert Cadet player fell on the ball on the Middle's thirty-six-yard mark. Line plunges failing to gain, Prichard shot the ball overhead to Merilat, who was downed on the Navy's one-yard line. Hodgson plunged over for a touchdown. Swan failed to kick goal.

In the final quarter a punting duel quickly developed, working the ball with striking distance of the middle's goal. The soldiers uncovered an old-fashioned attack which proved irresistible. By short line plunges and end runs the ball was carried a few yards at a time. Then Quarterback Prichard switched and sent a forward pass to Merilat, who carried the ball over two yards. From here Benedict carried the leather over two yards. Again the Army failed at goal.

As a result of today's victory the Army-Navy series which began in 1890, stands a tie. Each academy has won six games of the 13 played. The 1908 contest ended with the score 6 to 4.

The result today also rounded out a triumphant season for the Army, which now takes its place as one of the very few eastern institutions to complete the 1914 campaign without being either defeated or tied.

Much of the Army's superiority was due to its heavy and veteran squad of players. Football experts who followed the play were almost unanimous in declaring the Army team one of the best teams which has carried the Black, Gold and Gray to victory. The Soldiers outshone the Sailors in every department except in fighting spirit. Here the honors were even, for the Navy fought desperately and to the extreme limit of ability. This spirit resulted in several penalties and a number of minor bruises. The Navy officers said, however, that their center, Perry, was guilty of the rough play for which he was ordered out of the game and the Middle's penalized half the distance to the goal line in the second period.

The Navy's offense accorded the Army runner was quickly formed and deadly in its effectiveness. Prichard's gunship at quarter was excellent and his forward passing short and sharp with Merilat. Navy's rule on the living end. In putting the various Army backs worked well in conjunction with their ends. It was the fast covering of these kicks that made the Soldiers tumble at critical times.

The Navy's passing was ragged. When the Middle's tried forward passes they appeared to be little co-operation

Feds Abandon Hope of Peace

Outlaws Believe That Another Season of Warfare Is Necessary, and Plan Accordingly

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Hope of peace with organized baseball until another season of warfare has passed appears to have been abandoned by Federal league owners, who held their annual meeting here today. Preparations for the 1915 season were undertaken enthusiastically.

A committee that will draft a schedule of 144 games was ordered to report at a meeting in Buffalo, probably in February.

Twenty-one representatives of the league were present, and both Chicago and Cincinnati sent agents to plead for Federal league teams in those cities.

If any action was taken on the Chicago petition it was not announced. Despite the assertion of a representative of the Kansas City club that that city had pledged greater support next season, it was generally admitted there was a possibility of the Kansas City franchise being transferred.

It was said that fifteen additional players in the National and American leagues had signed Federal league contracts, but that to make public their names now would be inadvisable.

Morrison Will Lead Jackets

Team's Quarterback Chosen for Captain of 1915 Eleven at Banquet Held Saturday Night

Douglas ("Progy") Morrison, quarterback, was chosen captain of the Tech football eleven for the 1915 season at the banquet given the team at the Druid Hills club last night.

While this was Morrison's first year on the Tech team he is by no means without college football experience. He is a native of Chattanooga which city has furnished its share of Tech athletes in days past and present, and formerly played with the strong Texas A. & M. team of College Station, Texas.

Morrison ran the team at quarter during the season just closed, and his generalship in picking out weak spots in the opposition, and choosing plays was very successful and highly enjoyable to those who watched him.

The banquet tendered to the jackets by local friends and supporters was a very successful and highly enjoyable affair. Friends were laid for more than a hundred, and the banquet board was filled with the best of the season. An elegant dinner was served, and was followed by numerous post prandial oratorical efforts. Some of these were given over to mirth and comedy, while others were of a more serious nature. The record of the team for the season just closed was reviewed, and a pep at the prospects for next season was taken through a statement of just what the outlook shows viewed from this angle.

Twenty-two players were voter later for their services to the team during the past season. They were Captain Fielder, Morrison, Patton, Johnson, Brown, Churchill, Hayes, Montrose, Clark, Francis, McLeod, Bredel, Lutz, Carpenter, Mauch, Senter, Gorse, Cushman, Montague, Alexander and Beard.

Forest Adair, Jr., and Chip Roberts engineered the banquet, and they were voted excellent hosts by the large gathering that partook of the dinner as well as of the merriment of the evening.

Tennessee Eleven Is Given Three Places in the Pick of All-Southern

Auburn Gets Two—Georgia, Tech, Vanderbilt, Alabama, Sewanee and Miss A. & M. One Each

By Innis Brown

In announcing the above selection of an All-Star team picked from S. I. A. A. colleges, we wish to state that we have seen neither Tennessee, Miss. A. & M., Alabama nor Clemson play. In order, therefore, to get the best line possible on these teams, opinions have been obtained from critics whose judgment can be relied on, and who have watched them in more games than one. Furthermore, selections have been made on what players have done during the season just closing, and not with any reference to their past records. It has also been decided to select players from the positions which they have played, rather than to shift them from one position to another.

To begin with the centers, two men appear to be better than the rest. These are Pitts, of Auburn, and Henderson, of Georgia. Both of these players are veterans in college circles, and both have strong points to commend them for the place. Pitts is finishing his fourth year, while Henderson has one more year to play. Henderson has more weight, but it is a matter for debate whether the additional weight which he carries over Pitts is an advantage or a disadvantage. Pitts is heavy enough to take care of himself against most any man in the country, yet with it is shifty on his feet. He is rather more active than Henderson, and carries the same good points that the Georgia man does in passing the ball, and helping his side make to open up on offense. His work this year has been a little short of that of 1913, but he still looks a little better than any other man for the job.

There are several good guards in the game this season, including Hicks, of Auburn, Kerr, of Tennessee; Putnam, of Vanderbilt; Lang, of Tech, and Conner, of Georgia. Last season Tulgren was easily the star at the position in the south. However, this year injuries have all but ruined his work. A had knees has sapped a large percentage of his effectiveness, and it is doubtful whether he could hold his own with either of the two men mentioned. The present condition of Tulgren would have proven a star had he been worked at the position throughout the season. However, he was used at end and half during several games and did not have an opportunity of showing his full worth. Lang showed improvement over last season but lacks something in aggressiveness. Conner came in rather late, but showed up in the big game that wound up the Georgia season.

Of the two men, Hicks and Kerr, it

Player	Position	Team
Pitts,	Center	Auburn
Kerr,	Guard	University of Tenn.
Hicks,	Guard	University of Ala.
Kelly,	Tackle	University of Tenn.
Dobbins,	Tackle	Sewanee
Senter,	End	Tech
Kearley,	End	Auburn
Paddock,	Quarter	University of Ga.
Sikes,	Half	Vanderbilt
Kimball,	Half	Mississippi A. and M.
Lindsay,	Fullback	University of Tenn.

may be said that both have played great ball throughout the year. Hicks has the sanction of Coach "Tubby" Graves, of Auburn, who regards him as one of the best that he has seen at the position during his four years' work in the south. Kerr is playing his fourth year at Tennessee. He weighs 195 pounds, and was one of the most aggressive men on the Knoxville team. During his career on the Tennessee team he has never had to ask for time. Coach Patton, of that eleven, who formerly played at Michigan, pays him the high compliment of saying that he considers him as good a man as he ever played against, and this includes some of the best men in the country for the past four years.

For the tackles, Kelly and Dobbins have been selected from a field of good ones. Among these are Louisville, of Auburn; Carroll of Tennessee; and Coburn, of Georgia. Kelly is a heavy man, and is as hard as a mountain goat. Like his fellow player, he has had time taken out for him only some three or four times since he has been playing on the team. Quick to diagnose a play aimed at him, he has learned the knack of slamming his opponent back into the arms of the latter's back, and clogging things up so that it is impossible for them to get through. In no game that the Vols played this year did Kelly find a man who could take his measure.

Dobbins is another veteran, having finished his three years with the Purple. In Tech's game at Atlanta it was the tackling of this boy backing up the line that saved the Tigers from a much worse defeat than they suffered. He is one of the best defensive players in Dixie, and his offense is about all that could be asked. A big, rugged chap, with plenty of weight, he is still shifty on his feet, and with a fine knowledge of how to play his position, he leaves little to be desired in the way of a tackle.

Cody and Carpenter both lack variety in their play. Both give promise of development. Both give promise of development.

The selection of ends has been one of the difficult problems. There are no less than five who certainly look good enough for any team that could be rounded up in Dixie. These are Senter of Tech, Kearley and Robinson of Auburn, Carroll of Tennessee, and Coburn of Vanderbilt.

Senter has been chosen for the reason that he has an ideal build for an end of the new type of game. Long and wiry, he can grab forward passes with the best of them, and at the same time he is one of the hardest men in the game to pull in close for a proposed end run. He is a deadly tackler, and the team will hardly suffer any in substituting him here for any man playing the position in the south.

Kearley has shown up as one of the best ends the game here has ever seen this year. Big, strong and agile, he has managed to get down the field on Louisiana's high punt almost without fail, and when he tackles them they fall. Furthermore, he is one of the best men playing in the south in years at following the ball. He recovered fumbles in every game this year, and particularly did he help his team when it pounced on a punt that Hayes dropped in the Tech game. This has been a practice with the "Bull" ever since he has been on the team. Many fans will recall that he scooped up a fumble in a game with Louisiana State two or three years ago and ran for a touchdown, thus

Man Who Will Pilot Cubs Next Season Tried Out With Team as a Youngster, and Was Fired After Playing One Game - Should Make Team a Good Manager

DETROIT, Nov. 25.—The day of one of the most romantic scenes baseball was reached when Bill Brennan was appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs. The story of Brennan's career is particularly interesting in that it reveals the many ups and downs of the wheel of fortune which has been a complete revolution, for Brennan once gave Bradenhan about the wildest kick in the history of the game.

When Brennan was only sixteen years old he had started to play baseball

The investigation resulted in the purchase by the company of a full dozen of Overland delivery wagons. After a few more cars for more than a month, the company received approval of the service given by a repeat order for nine more cars of the same make, as well as an order for a Willys utility truck.

This large Overland heavy-duty truck forms the backbone of the extensive delivery system of the company, which covers the entire city and a wide territory in the surrounding country. It also plays a prominent part in feeding the 22,000 Canadian troops encamped in Salisbury plains, a number of miles from London. The cars make daily trips, with loads of provisions between the city and the big camp.

Willys Boosts For Federal Aid

The action of the recent good roads congress in seeking federal aid for highway construction is declared by John N. Willys to be a big step toward putting the country population on America on a firmer reconstructive basis. As president of the Willys-Overland company and a vice president of the Lincoln Highway association, Mr. Willys takes an active interest in furnishing road improvement.

Of the 2,225,000 miles of highways within the United States, less than one tenth are improved.

"This condition will never be remedied until Uncle Sam dips down into the national pocketbook and appropriates

Funds for permanent roads where they are most needed. Long ago this was done in England, France and Germany and it has been proved that countries that have roads that put the majority of America's best highways to shame. The United States total approximately $40, 951,000,000 or two and a half times as much as the money invested in manufacturing which amounts to $16,000,000,000. There is invested in railroads and equipment in this country $18,400,000,000. The United States total is $32,938,000,000. In other words agriculture exceeds all other goods countries from the standpoint of investment.

It came out that the car had been tested at 31,950 feet, if it had been possible to have had a road of that height on a 27 per cent grade that it would have been a record. The car had been used in the modern flying machine had traveled.

TAYLOR ON INDIAN RODE FINE RACE AT SAVANNAH

When Lee Taylor, riding an Indian motorcycle, flashed over the finish on the grand prize course at Savannah, Thanksgiving day, he won the most thrilling race that has ever been known to the motorcycle world. For three hundred miles, his machine had pounded away at an average speed of sixty miles an hour, slowing up for the dangerous curves and leaping ahead to sixty miles an hour on the straightaways. The strain was inconceivable upon both rider and machine, but each responded to every demand until the black and white flag showed the finish.

The Savannah road race for 1914 will go down in history as being the most closely contested that the game has witnessed. Before the races started, several men were bet on the highest pitch and those who were directly interested prophesied that the time would be the fastest that has ever been made over the course. As a result, thousands of people witnessed the event, lining the course for a mile at the home stretch at 1000 yards in dense masses at the finish. The day was ideal, the conditions of the early morning gave way quickly to a bright sun, and every condition was ideal for the great test.

That the event was national in character was proven by the fact that all the large manufacturers had entered teams of their most reliable riders. The machines furnished were the fastest and most perfect that the various factories could build. Every precaution was taken, every weakness anticipated, and it was conceded from the beginning that the winner would represent the very best that could be achieved in the motorcycle world. The rivalry of the different camps was keen and in deadly earnest, but the best of sportsmanship prevailed on all sides.

From the very beginning, the excitement was tremendous. The pace set by the leading riders was by far the fastest that has been seen on the course, and it was early in the race when the first troubles developed. One by one the riders dropped in to the pits for repairs and the rest of the lead grew fewer and fewer. By the time the one hundred and fifty-mile mark was past, the leader had gained a lap on the men in sixth place. Numbers had already been forced from the course completely, leaving the very pick of the starters to fight out the last and hardest half of the race.

Taylor, who was leading at this point, never faltered. He was not riding a spectacular race nor trying for speed records; but from the tenth lap, when he moved up gradually from the rear and passed into first place, until the finish, he held a fast, hard pace. Near the finish, he pulled on one of the dangerous curves of the course, but was up again and in the saddle ready to defend his imperious position. When the flag finally dropped for him, he brought his machine into the pits and staggered into his quarters thoroughly exhausted, but a thoroughly happy winner, having broken the course record by three seconds to the mile.

While Taylor is an old veteran in the racing game and has ridden consistently in a number of the national road events, this is the first time he has been mounted on an Indian, and incidentally it is also his first time to be returned the winner. He very modestly placed the greatest part of the credit for victory upon his mount which, he stated, never faltered during the entire contest, but responded to each turn of the throttle with renewed power.

Of especial interest to Southern motorcycle fans is the fact that the victorious Indian was equipped with the new Dixie magneto, made in Sumter, S. C. This is the first time that this new southern product has been given a supreme test in the long distance game, and it is usually gratifying to those interested in made-in-the-south products that it should have come forth from its initial baptism of fire at the head of the field. This will be furnished on all the 1915 models of the Indian line.

This is the second annual road race of the Savannah Motorcycle club over the grand prize course. It is very probable that it will be continued next year under the patronage of the Motorcycle Manufacturers' association. The cup which Taylor carried away with him will doubtless be offered again in 1915 and if this is the case, this year's victor will be on hand to defend his title to its further possession.

MANY TENNIS STARS NOW ENGAGED IN EUROPEAN WAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The blow which the European war has dealt amateur sport in England and on the continent is just becoming known in this country.

Perhaps the greatest sufferer of all is lawn tennis, as practically every layer of prominence outside of the United States has entered service for one or the other of the warring nations. Every player who competed in the Davis cup matches last summer, except the United States team, either is actively engaged in the war or is preparing to go. Throughout Europe all tennis events have been called off since August and large funds have been raised by the tennis players to assist their nations in the war. A. W. Gore, former champion of England, is serving the unique idea of setting the tennis players of England to turn in their tennis rackets to be used in the Prince of Wales fund.

In the Davis cup matches last summer seven nations competed—Australia, British Isles, France, Germany, Belgium, Canada and the United States. Six of these countries are involved in the war.

WIDING NOW LEUTENANT.
These dispatches already have informed you that William F. Widing, the New Zealand star, has been advanced to lieutenant in the British army, because of distinguished gallantry at the front.

Widing returned to England immediately after his team had won the Davis cup from the United States and received a commission in Winston Churchill's special corps of Royal couriers. He was placed in charge of one of England's armored motor cars and probably gained his promotion by active fighting with the Belgian defenders at the fall of Antwerp.

Norman E. Brooke, Widing's teammate and tennis champion of England, is reported in France, where he will operate a motor ambulance.

Stanley N. Doubt, another member of the Australian team, is at work in the Argyl Motor factory in England, where he is receiving preparation for active service with the army transport corps. A. T. Dunlop plans to join one of the Australian regiments.

Of the British Isles team, J. C. Farne, the great Irish player, is a lieutenant with the Leinster regiment, and probably has been on the firing line before this. His teammate, Theodore Michel Mavrogordato, has joined the public school corps and is in training for active service. Arthur Lowe, who fought Widing so closely in their great match at Boston, also enlisted in the British army.

A. R. F. Kingscote, the fourth member of England's Davis cup team, has long been a lieutenant in the regular British Indian army, and at last reports was instructing Kitchener's new army at Gosport.

Aside from the Davis cup team, practically every tennis player of any consequence in England is at the front, and many have been in the thick of the fighting in France.

G. W. Hillyard, for instance, is a trooper in the Third County of London yeomanry. Hope Crisp, Kenneth Powell and C. J. Tindell-Green are with the "H. A. C." N. S. B. Kingston is with the Yorkshire Light Infantry. Dr. William V. Eaves is in active service at Woolwich, and R. J. McNair is captain in the East Surrey regiment.

Probably the men who have seen the toughest service, granting that they are still alive, are the great French players. Andre H. Gobert, for instance, who has long been the leading player of France, was just completing his three years' term in the French army when the war broke out; consequently he was one of the first sent to the front.

Gobert is a "maréchal du logis" in the French artillery service, and is in charge of one of the batteries of heavy guns. When the war broke out he was located at Toulon, France, and is believed to have joined the army of Paris in its great fight along the Marne.

The other leading French players, Max Geron and Max Decugis, the team that played the British Isles in the recent Davis cup matches, also received commissions in the French army, and at last reports were in active service.

Badgers May Get New Coach

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 28.—Athletic Director George W. Ehler and Manager of Athletics W. D. Richardson have let it be known that they know nothing of the rumor that Charley Doreas, former Notre Dame star, was to succeed Bill Johnston as head coach of football at the Badger institution.

The report gained widespread circulation among the campus. Although athletic heads declared the source of the rumor could not be traced with any degree of accuracy, students are inclined to believe that Wisconsin alumni and supporters from the northern part of the state have taken some steps toward paving the way for Doreas' entrance at Wisconsin, and that the current rumor is but a warning of what is to come.

No information was available at the athletic department concerning how soon the athletic council would recommend action on the coaching problem for next year.

MOVIES SHOW TRAP.
FOURCROWD WAS LEGAL.

• When A. B. Stagg, the athletic director at the University of Chicago, and in the western conference, has been thrown into a state of great confusion by several. Stagg gave vent to a profane whoop of protest when Illinois made the touchdown that robbed the Maroons of the conference title, claiming that Clark of Illinois was down when he turned loose the forward pass that shot over the goal line to Foster.

• Moving pictures were taken of the game, and when exhibited at Chicago several days thereafter, showed Clark still on his feet as he hurled the ball. A few instances like this and a battery of moving picture machines will be included in the attacking arguments at once, since to settle the wrangles between coaches and referees. • Movies are playing a big part in the many branches of sport. • Football coaches, baseball managers and track trainers are all using the film to show underlings the errors of their ways, but with the exception of the ring, motion pictures have as yet seldom been called upon to settle post mortems after the contests.

ON THE FIRING LINE WITH THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS

Best Box, of Montag Brothers, is now working the trade in Virginia and is reporting good sales on all his company's lines, particularly the holiday line.

R. E. Mewborn, who is now covering the north Georgia points for the Brower candy company which were formerly covered by E. M. McCallum, is having the success in his new territory. He was cordially received by all of the mill and the volume of orders which he is accumulating to his home indicates that success will be his good fortune in that section.

One of the recent accomplishments of the sales of the J. K. Orr shoe company was the selling of fifteen customers in three days. These were all that were secured during that time and he sold every one of them in order. The total amount of their bills ran to a very satisfactory sum.

W. S. Gaston, of Fain & Stamps, together with his family, spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Villa Rica, Ga.

W. L. Roberts and J. R. Eshelard, traveling for the D. L. Adams company, spent Thanksgiving in Atlanta.

The "fun" at Fain & Stamps Saturday was Chief Edwards, the head clerk, W. A. Bailey, R. E. Hutchinson and J. C. Owens, of the road force, Bill Quarles, W. S. Gaston, Ben Moser, and T. N. Chast, city salesman. They were present for the semi-monthly sales conference.

W. P. Sewell, of the A. M. Robinson company, together with Mrs. Sewell, spent Thanksgiving day in Atlanta.

The following travelers of Hagan-Malone company's force were in Atlanta for Thanksgiving day: W. M. Johnson, Monte Croft, Sam Hines, and Zach Hamel.

R. L. Smith, of the A. M. Robinson company, was among the Thanksgiving visitors in Atlanta.

Cliff Johnson, who covers the Columbus district for J. K. Orr shoe company, and who has been in it a long time in Atlanta for some time is steadily improving. During his illness his customers have remembered him with a number of nice mail orders.

L. P. Lewis, of McIntire Ten-Cent company, made the broad Berlin Christmas morning that he could not make a Thanksgiving dinner unless he was carrying a bill for the next day. The opening bill was on Friday, Mr. Hill, of the company, to be closed at 6 o'clock, Ga., next Thursday.

HEAD OF GRAIN FIRM HAS HAD INTERESTING CAREER

Began as $30-a-Month Clerk. Firm Now Has Commanding Position

A. P. Morgan, head of the A. P. Morgan Grain company, which in September moved to its big handsome new building at 240 Murphy avenue, has had an interesting business career. He moved to Atlanta from Coweta county in 1874. He entered the employment of a retail grocer, iron and worked for $30 a month, which was later advanced to $40. Six years after Mr. Morgan's arrival in Atlanta he together with J. D. Frazier formed the wholesale grain firm of Frazier & Morgan. That firm continued in existence for five years, when it was dissolved. J. D. Frazier succeeded in the end firm. In September of that year Mr. Morgan with J. H. Matthews formed the firm of Morgan & Matthews at 27 East Alabama street. This firm continued for two years, when it was dissolved by mutual consent and the A. P. Morgan Grain company was then organized, the firm moving its location to 26-28 East Alabama street, where it remained for twenty-eight years until it was recently removed to Murphy avenue.

The A. P. Morgan Grain company as first constituted continued until 1900, when Mr. Morgan's two sons, Almond and Frazier M. Morgan, were admitted to the firm. During the existence of the firm under its many organizations, it acquired a large clientele of loyal patrons. With its new building, which contains 20,000 square feet, with all modern facilities necessary to the quick handling of grain, this company is now prepared to give better and more service to all of its customers than ever before.

F. W. KING ADDS NEW MAN TO SALES FORCE

F. W. King & Co. have added another star salesman, Bill Cooley to their already efficient sales force. Mr. Cooley is popular with the trade and the boys in general and everybody predicts his success for him in his new connection. Mr. Cooley has been connected with the candy trade in Atlanta for several years. His connection with F. W. King & Co. will be effective December 1. This company has a bunch of live wires on the firing line and they are reporting fine holiday business now throughout their territory. The company grows in popularity. It handles a complete line of candies, soda fount supplies and fireworks. F. W. King is the manager and he is one of the original hustling boys.

This Has Been Quoted Many a Time

It's good reading just the same.

The fellow who wrote it or said it first must have read Henry Grady, wit and wisdom on the line of Home Goods for Home Folks.

Grady's famous speech on that line has been oftener quoted than almost anything else he said.

An Alabama brother is the author of the following—supposedly an answer to a Westerner who was wondering why Alabama farmers are so poor.

"Alabama farmers get up early at the alarm of a Connecticut Clock, button their Chicago suspenders to foreign overalls, put on a pair of boots made in Ohio, wash in a Pittsburgh basin, use Cincinnati soap, wipe on a towel made in New Hampshire, sit down, eat hot biscuits made with Minneapolis flour, Kansas City bacon, and Indianapolis grits, fried in Omaha lard; buy Irish potatoes grown in Michigan, canned fruits put up on the Pacific coast and seasoned with Rhode Island spices; the meal crew, they slap on an old hat made in Philadelphia, harness a Missouri mule, fed on Iowa corn and plough mortgage-covered farms with an Indiana plough; at night they crawl under New Jersey blankets and are kept awake by Alabama dogs—the only home products on the place. No wonder they are poor."

Well, maybe so. But things are getting better!

If the farmer will just stay awake long enough, will get his mind to working, and his native intelligence in action, it won't be long until our friend sees a GREAT BIG CHANGE.

Right along with the farmer, in this change, must come the Merchant.

It is to the MERCHANT that the farmer must look for his implements, his clothing, his vehicles, his stoves, his shoes, and such articles of food as cannot be raised in our latitude or made in the home kitchen.

You DEALERS have the key in your hand.

No one else outside the Farmer himself—and perhaps, in a sense, not even the Farmer—can so materially help in the movement to develop HOME INDUSTRIES as can the MERCHANTS.

The DEALER is the distributor. WHAT he distributes makes all the difference.

At your very doors, Dealers, you've got factories that are turning out everything the Farmer needs to buy for himself and his family.

From the shirt on his back to the coffin that he's to be buried in—from the coffee for his breakfast to the plough with which he lifts the mortgage—from the stove his meals are cooked on to the candy for his children's Christmas stocking—from the shoes on his feet to the wagon he drives—EVERY THING HE NEEDS CAN BE SUPPLIED THROUGH YOU, HIS DEALER.

But, Dealers—

Your customers are not only Farmers. Your field is the whole population.

The people who live in the cities and towns eat and dress and keep house. They need things just as much as the farmers.

They're catching the HOME PRODUCTS idea, too, just as well as the folks on the farm.

Are you helping to get it over?

The entire state is being flooded with the propaganda of HOME PRODUCE FOR HOME PEOPLE. All that the thinking citizen—man or woman—needs, is a well-directed opportunity to express his loyalty to this idea.

THE DEALER IS THE MAN TO SEE THAT THE OPPORTUNITY IS PRESENTED.

We are working on our end of the proposition. We ask the co-operation of every wise and alert merchant in Georgia and in Atlanta.

You're not asked to co-operate just for the sake of patriotism, either.

It's money in your pocket. Our appeal would be pointless and foolish otherwise.

From every point of view—from the freight-savings to the business you cinch because you can get quick fill-in orders the very day you need 'em—there's not a feature of close-to-the-home buying that won't pay you.

OUR GOODS ARE THE GOODS FOR YOU! The sentiment is growing every minute. It is seeping in, slowly, steadily, surely!

You watch. Meantime get in touch with us. We'll help.

People Here Who Believe The Millennium Has Come

Bible Class of 100 Think the Battle of Armageddon Soon Is to Be Fought, and That Peace Will Follow

TWO years ago, "Uncle" Bob Irwin, who's been insurance clerk in the state comptroller's office ever since there was such an office, began to say the signs pointed to war in 1914, and calculated that Europe would be in turmoil by August of this year.

By the coming of August, war was a month old, but, except for this detail, his prediction was right to the letter.

Now, he says, the war will lead to Armageddon, and after the strife will follow years of peace and plenty.

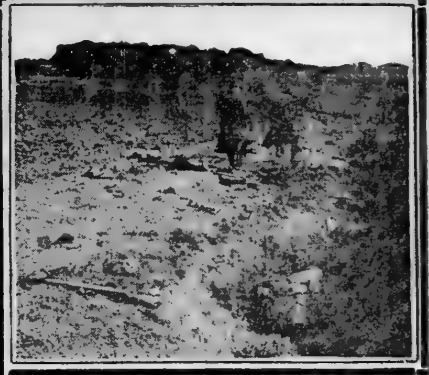

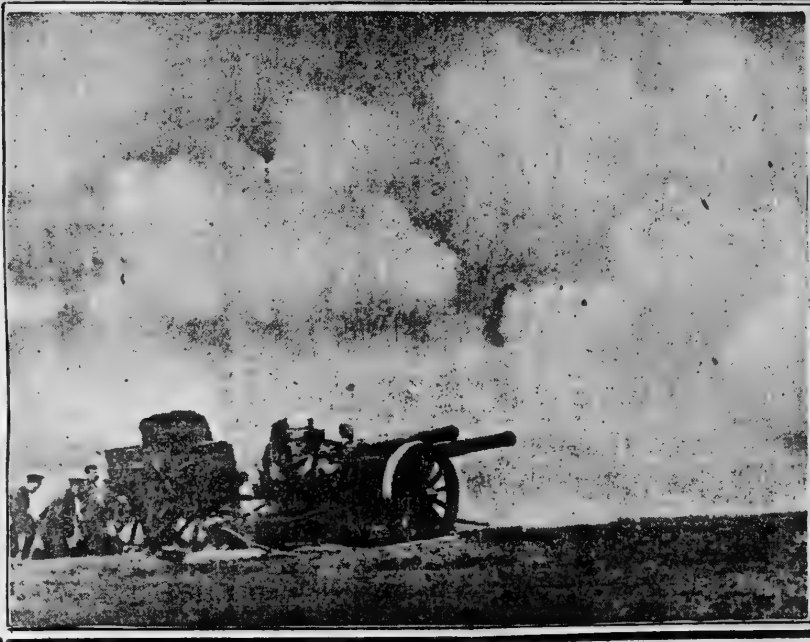

He said this first in his droll way, but he kept saying it till now his theory has spread throughout the capital, and today, one clerk is studying Hebrew references; while another (in the governor's office) is searching Revelations and the intricacies of a chronological table.

Millennium Began On Last October

But more important still, a number of other Atlanta people, independent of "Uncle Bob," began to make predictions; and, finally, they arranged for weekly meetings, and, from facts in the Old Testament, built up the theory that the millennium began this October. Such meetings are held now every Sunday, and the belief of members is gaining wonderfully in strength.

Their conviction has a detail and a startling quality that suggests H. G. Wells' theories applied to religion. Although nearly all of it is prompted by Pastor Russell, the preacher and lecturer, of New York City, still, the 100 believers are not docile followers. In a good many particulars their theories are original.

"Uncle" Bob himself has had nothing to do with the meeting of the Bible class, for his predictions simply came into his mind from reading the fascinating chronological tables compiled by Pastor Russell; so, when it comes to answering serious questions about the religious aspect of the scare-up in Europe, he shakes his head.

"You see Miss Mary Stevens," he said last week, "she can tell you all about this."

He was toasting his feet in the room between the insurance office and Captain Tip Harrison's sanctum where the tax returns are kept.

"I might get you that chronological table," he suggested. "But Connor over in the governor's office has it."

So, from an interview with Miss

Stevens came the story of the millennium, as they are called. In her quiet way, which commands serious attention, she told of their belief.

On the walls of the little apartment on Georgia avenue at Garden street, were crocheted quotations from the Bible, and, in one corner, a lithograph of Pastor Russell. The neat, quiet dignity of the place was the right setting for her. She suggests something of the manner of the Quakers, their modesty, their simplicity, their quiet tone. She is past middle age, but her eyes are youthful, and she doesn't frown when you smile over theories that seem incongruous to you. She is convinced that the belief which has sprung up here and centers about the present war is the only sound, sane one; and she can tolerate incredulity.

"I know all this will seem queer," she broke off, from an Old Testament quotation that left its meaning hidden. "But we know it's true."

Then, she turned back to the beginning to tell all there is to tell about the people here who believe the millennium has come.

World to Endure Always They Think

"I can't estimate exactly the number who believe this way," she hesitated, "because we haven't any church or any creed, just a Bible class that meets Sunday morning and Sunday night at the Railway Conductors' hall, on West Alabama street. But there are about a hundred of us, I should say."

To begin with, we don't believe the world ever will be destroyed. We believe it will exist always. The Bible says the earth shall endure forever. But we believe we are entering now into a new era.

"From predictions found largely in the Old Testament, we believe that marriages in Berlin due to the war is not far below 4,500. Some of them had been planned for the autumn and winter seasons and it is expected that for this reason the average for these months will fall below normal. This has already been demonstrated by the records for September, in which month 1,670 marriages took place as against 1,832 in September, 1918. For 1914, up to and including September, the number of marriages is 78,436 as against 14,761 for the same period in 1913.

On one of the huts I found two fires going, and over each fire was a wife who cooked for her own brood of children. The floor of the hut was Mother Earth, and it was littered with farming utensils and clothing, and saddles and harnesses. From the upper beams came, of every

I was interested in the cooking. Their fires were in holes in the ground inside the huts and the smoke was so thick

"Granny" Elliott

Posed for the Sketch Club

Local Artists Meet Every Week Now and Draw From Real Live Models. But "Granny" Says It's All Foolishness

"GRANNY" Elliott used to cook for Cap'n Jackson's family; then she nursed for the Dr. Brockett and the Dr. Brattons; then, week before last, she took to posing.

With a basket in her lap she sat in a rocking chair, while the sketch club made the drawings you see here. When they were done the drawings were set up in a row, and "Granny" Elliott looked them over. She stood with her hands on her hips and looked at them on one side, and scrutinized them in a troubled way.

"Umph!" she says. "I'd a sight better been doing a week's washin'." Every Saturday now, the fifteen to twenty members of the sketch club meet in Mrs. R. L. Blackman's studio on the fifth floor of the Grand building, and draw from models. It sounds almost daring to pose of artists' models—almost Parisian.

But "Granny" Elliott says it's just foolishness.

First, Her Dress Was Looped Up.

To begin with, when she arrived, she was dressed up in her best, as anybody else would who was going to have his likeness made. And, right off, they started to make her picturesque.

To her horror they looped up her skirt. Then, they took off the little knitted collar that had been the pride of her heart. Then, at last, they tied a white crash towel round her head.

"That was almost too much," "Look a-here, Miss Blackman," she said. "I'm all tryin' to sweat me to death!" And she went on, "I don't like no slit skirts, neither; and I ain't particular about my picture bein' made, anyway."

In fact, if they hadn't hustled "Granny" Elliott right into the studio, the posing would have stopped then and there. Wilbur Kurts, who is doing in a pictorial way for the old southern negro what Uncle Remus did in writing, made most of the suggestions, but everybody else had at least a word to say.

"Granny" Elliott first was tried in the straight chair, then in a rocking chair, then in the middle of the room, then in the window—

"To God," she said, "ain't you all ever gots 'em movin' me?"

Finally, she was settled in the straight chair, and, with the sketch club grouped about, the drawing began.

Best Artists Are Members of Club

"Granny" Elliott's head sank to one side, her old wrinkled face relaxed, and she began to snore softly. But she hadn't had two seconds' nap before someone woke her up, and she was being tried in a new position, and so it went on for two whole hours.

Next Saturday the sketch club will have another model, and the next Saturday another. They get the quietest characters to be found, and in warm weather they sketch things out of doors. The club is the most artistic thing we have, and the members are our best artists.

A real need was felt for the club, and, since its organization in 1913, it has increased in membership and has drawn to it the leaders in our small art colony. Its membership isn't restricted. Even beginners are accepted, but the work of the sketching classes is excellent.

Among the members are: H. H. Osgood, Wilbur G. Kurts, Miss Virginia Woolley, Miss A. Everhart, Miss Marie Haines, Grant Allen, Frank Stanton, Jr., Marion Ott, Miss Anna Kleinwachter, Miss Verola Ball, Mrs. A. L. Blackman and Arnold T. Witterson.

Going to War Against the Whole World

By Bishop Warren A. Candler

ALL nations are now so intimately related that when any nation goes to war with another it amounts to going to war against the world. Mankind suffers when any member of the family of nations suffers.

The warring factions in Mexico have cost the people of the United States much money. The cost of keeping troops at Vera Cruz so long and of keeping naval vessels in the Mexican Gulf has been very great. But far beyond this large expense has been the damage to our commerce, and the commerce of other nations, and the commerce of the world.

The war of the Balkan States, in the southeast corner of Europe, some time ago also cost us much, as it inflicted a measure of loss on all other nations.

World Calamity

The war of the nations now going on in Europe has been nothing less than a calamity to all the world. It is an appalling shadow on all the face of the earth—an awful eclipse of civilization.

By it the neutral power of Belgium has been assassinated; and multiplied thousands of French, English, German, Russian, Austrian, Serbian and Japanese men have been slain in battle. Other thousands have been maimed for life; and for every sufferer on the field women and children at home have been impoverished and bereaved. In our own country the effect of the war has been felt. Young men, who when the war burst were just starting life in the commercial world, have seen their plans defeated and their hopes blasted; they and their families have suffered keenly.

It is clear that any war at the present time in the world's history is a war against all mankind. The tenant farmer of the south suffers with the Belgian peasant while the dreadful conflict now prevailing continues its work of destruction in Europe.

Men in any land can no longer be indifferent to what the men of other lands are doing in Europe and doing. When the German professors, Treitschke and Nietzsche, by their spoken and written teachings were infecting the German nation with the horrible doctrine of militarism, the world's founders knew nothing about it. But now they know. Let them lay their hands on the shoulders of the German youth, and tell them that the final result will be disastrous to them, he would have been regarded as a foolish, impracticable theorist. But now the cotton growers of the South are paying the bill. The farmers in Georgia will lose several millions of dollars this year because these men taught a generation of German youth that they should be heart to heart. It is now too late to escape the burden which has been laid upon them by the German professors. They must bear it as patiently as possible.

Impending Disaster

But another disaster is not far off, if nothing is done to avert it. Thousands of Japanese and Chinese students are turning to American universities since they can no longer attend German universities. Most of them are going into institutions in our land in which decidedly un-Christian influences prevail. The colleges and universities of the Churches have not been made as strong as the institutions controlled by the secularists. The churches have had much to do besides their educational work, and the secularists have concentrated their efforts on colleges and universities. The moral and religious influences prevailing in many of the greatest universities in America are no better than the conditions which have existed in the German universities for the last hundred years; and into these secularized institutions thousands of students from Japan, China and India are pouring. These will speedily acquire knowledge of the arts and sciences of the Western world without acquiring the Christian principles which only can make such knowledge safe in their possession. When they return to their own lands they will have intellectual power to make war, to direct financial knowledge, and to do whatever else more secular knowledge can qualify them for; but they will not have the religious life without which such power must be perverted to mankind. They will have lost even the restraints of their pagan religions which they will renounce under the light of modern science. They will return to the Orient an utterly sceptical and religionless force.

These nations of the Orient will then apprehend and resent the humiliations which have been so long laid upon them by the so-called Christian nations, and they will make war of revenge. That is what Japan is now doing with Germany. Japanese students in German universities have been educated to a degree that they know modern warfare on both sides and seas; and they know also how Germany snatched from Japan the fruits of victory after the war with China. Hence the readiness with which Japan has entered the present conflict, which, exaggerated, or not, has not been exclusively, or mostly, because Japan has a treaty with England, Japan bears Germany a grudge, and avails herself of the present war to avenge the wrong which she conceives Germany did her.

Giant of Nations

But when China has acquired the arts and sciences of the Western world, as has Japan, she will be the giant of nations. What can any nation do with a people numbering four hundred millions, armed with modern guns and trained for modern warfare? That Oriental giant will scourge the world when he has fully aroused from the slumber of centuries, if he is not Christianized. He can declare war on the whole world and carry it to a successful issue.

Whether China is Christian or infidel is a matter which is now being settled to a very great extent in American colleges and universities; and it behooves every man in America to bear his part in making the education of nations of the Christian Churches of our country as strong as the strongest institutions in the world. To put the matter on the lowest plane of mere selfishness, let it be said it will cost less to do this than not to do it. An educated, but unchristian China, will be able to set the world afire. Let thoughtful men of all classes mark these words, and lay them to heart. This is the question which concerns farmer and merchant, broker and lawyer, physician and teacher, manufacturer and preacher, mechanic and educator. It involves the peace and welfare of the world.

Lady of the Chinese Courtyard

THE woman of the past, the woman of the future, the woman of medieval survival, of Oriental subservience to man, the educated, awakened woman of today, the equal of man—this is the contrast offered in two new books by a woman about women. "My Lady of the Chinese Courtyard," by Elizabeth Cooper, published by the Frederick A. Stokes Company, gives a vivid picture of the upper class Chinese woman of the upper classes both under the old regime and in the conflict of new and old, Orient and Occident now taking place in republican China.

The letters purport to be genuine. Certainly they reveal a genuine personality, kindly and lovable, with a keen sense of humor, a large heart, a love of beauty and a mind which, while clinging to traditions, is still not too hard to adjust itself to changes. The early letters, written twenty-five years ago to her husband, give an intimate picture of the life of a high-class Chinese woman, lived absolutely within the walls of her husband's home and under the rule of his mother. There were no interests beyond the petty affairs of the compound, and a great deal of strife there must be with so many women shut in together.

Knowing nothing else, she did not rebel, even against the decrees of the August One, her mother-in-law, but listened respectfully (at least outwardly) to her endless talking. She does indeed, surreptitiously assist the little sister to see her betrothed before the marriage, a fearful immorality, even to gaze, without his knowledge, from a covered chair.

The little slave girl brought in, the waiting of the little girl who are having their feet bound and must sit still all day when they would play, the little frictions among the many servants, often amusing, these little things fill up her life.

"My letters are filled with the little life that passes within the women's courtyard. It is all the life I know. My word is bounded by these walls and I ask no more."

"Such a lot of pretty gossip I pour into these ears! Yet thou wouldst know the happenings of thy household or the world outside thy brother writes that. My world is here within these walls." Education for women was almost unknown. Occasionally a broad-minded man allowed his daughter to learn to read with his sons, but in the face of disapproval. "Many tales have been brought up," she writes, "of thy brother's betrothed bride and we hear much of her education. Thine august mother is much disturbed over the latter, as she says, and justly too, that overlearning is not good for women. It is not meet to give them books in which to keep their embroidery silks." Her joy in the birth of a son, which alone justifies a woman's existence in old China, is as great as in her despair over his death. That she found consolation in more children later years from the second series of letters written to her august but really loved mother-in-law from Shanghai, where her husband is the newly appointed governor under the republican regime.
