MAY SHIPS RUSH TO SCENE TO GIVE AID IN WORK OF RESCUE

(By Associated Press.)

QUEENSTOWN, May 7.—The Cunard line steamer Lusitania, has been torpedoed by a submarine and sunk.

The giant liner was off the Old Head of Kinsale, Ireland, when the torpedo struck her. She went down at 2:33 o'clock this afternoon, eight miles south by west from Old Head.

No definite news as to the fate of the passengers had been received by Cunard line early this afternoon.

The Cunard line announced that it would make public as fast as received all dispatches on the sinking of the Lusitania, including those relating to the fate of the passengers.

She had aboard 1,253 passengers. She sailed from New York last Saturday, May 1, and carried, in addition to her own passenger list, 163 passengers transferred to her from the Anchor Line Cameronia. In all there were 1,900 persons, including the crew, aboard.

Besides the Lusitania German submarines sunk two other British steamers of considerable size in the same vicinity. The Centurion, 639 feet long, and the Candidate, 398 feet long, were sunk yesterday in Irish waters.

A. G. VANDERBILT AMONG PASSENGERS ON LUSITANIA; WARNING ISSUED ON SAILING.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 7.—The New York office of the Cunard line announced this afternoon that the Lusitania had been sunk.

Confirmation of the report was received in a dispatch dated Queenstown, 4:59 p. m., today and reading as follows: "Old Head, Kinsale, about twenty boats all sorts, belonging to Lusitania, are in vicinity where sunk. About fifteen boats are making for the spot to rescue."

The Lusitania sailed last Saturday from New York and was due in Liverpool today.

A dispatch from London printed on the Dow-Jones News bureau ticker says the Lusitania has been sunk off Kinsale, Ireland. When the Lusitania sailed she had aboard 1,900 persons. Some nervousness had been caused because of an advertisement warning travelers that a state of war existed between Germany and Great Britain and her allies; that the war zone includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles; that in accordance with notice given by the German government vessels flying the flag of Great Britain are liable to destruction in those waters; and that travelers sailing in the war zone on ships of Great Britain or her allies do so at their own risk. The advertisement was signed "Imperial German Embassy."

Among the Lusitania's passengers were Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Elbert Hubbard, D. A. Thomas, the wealthy Welsh coal operator, and his daughter, Lady Mackworth, the English affragator, and Charles T. Bowring, head of the firm of Bowring Brothers and president of the St. George society.

The Dow-Jones company ticker service in a report from London declares the Lusitania was reached and passengers and crew, according to Lloyd's, were saved.

DISTRESS CALLS SENT OUT BY WIRELESS STATION.

The cablegram announcing the sinking was preceded by the following message: "LIVERPOOL, May 7.—Lands End wireless reports distress calls made by Lusitania as follows: 'Come at once. Big list. Position ten miles west Kinsale.' A third cable dispatch read as follows: 'QUEENSTOWN, May 7.—All available craft in harbor dispatched to assist.'"

The first cabin passengers included Julien de Ayala, Cuban consul general at Liverpool. "Lombard, Dublin, U. S. Broderick-Cloete, San Antonio, Tex.; Dr. Howard Fisher, New York; John W. McCann, Memphis, Tenn.; Lady Mackworth, Cardiff, Wales; C. Harwood Knight, Baltimore; Miss H. Knight, Baltimore; Sir Hugh Lane, England; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard, East Aurora, N. Y."

The news of her sinking was announced by the local office of the Cunard line and was based on cable advice received from the home office of the company in Liverpool. Three dispatches received in the other named, were made public by the line and read as follows: "The Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk within 30 minutes. No news of passengers yet."

Violation of usury laws is charged. These indictments charging a misdemeanor in violation of the usury laws of Georgia in charging interest over 8 per cent a month were returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury against Paul F. Jackson, a bank broker, 215 Central avenue.

The three prosecutors, whose railroad employees, W. R. Flynn, 47 Donegan street, R. C. Smith, 424 Sunset avenue, and N. L. Campbell, 1208 Marietta street, said that Jackson was charging 20 per cent a month on loans.

Deputy sheriff Florida Minor served Jackson with the indictments, and Jackson made bond of $500.

The third cablegram was dated Liverpool and read: "Following received by admiralty."

JITNEYS CUT RECEIPTS OF CAR CO. ABOUT $400 A DAY

Average Daily Receipts of Jitney Buses Are Figured at $360

Figures contained in the April report of the Georgia Railway and Power company of the city of Atlanta, Ga., railroad commission, taken into consideration with figures of other months and periods, indicates that the jitney buses are getting into the receipts of the street car company to the extent of between $350 and $400 a day, and that they are eating about 4 per cent of the company's gross passenger business. Average daily receipts of the jitneys, arrived at from the figures in the street car company's report covering the decrease in April under March of this year, and the decrease of April this year under those of April a year ago, only those lines with which the jitneys compete being considered, are $360. Should the jitneys make no further inroads on the street car company's receipts for the 365 days in the year, cut down the annual income of the street car company in the sum of $136,000.

NEWS OF TORPEDOING VESSEL STRIKES U. S. OFFICIALS LIKE BOMB

Incident Is Regarded as Most Serious Washington Has Faced Since the War Began, It Is Said

WASHINGTON, May 7.—News of the torpedoing of the Lusitania struck official Washington like a bomb. While disposed to await full details, all administration officials realized that the incident was probably the most serious Washington has faced since the war began.

President Wilson showed keen anxiety to learn whether American lives were lost. He made no comment.

Officials believed there would be no complications, unless American lives were lost.

Should any Americans lose their lives, the case would be covered, officials thought, by the warning to Germany that she would be held in that event by the United States to a strict accountability.

Ambassador Paie at London cabled "Lusitania torpedoed and sunk within 30 minutes. No news of passengers yet."

Violation of usury laws is charged. These indictments charging a misdemeanor in violation of the usury laws of Georgia in charging interest over 8 per cent a month were returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury against Paul F. Jackson, a bank broker, 215 Central avenue.

OTTOMAN CAPITAL REPORTED DAMAGED BY CZAR'S AIRMEN

Russian Fleet From Black Sea Bombards Bosphorus Forts and Throws Shells Within 10 Miles of Constantinople

PARIS, May 7.—The first attack of the war on Constantinople is reported in an official dispatch from Athens. It is said three Russian aviators flew over the city, dropping several bombs which are believed to have caused extensive damage.

The message says also the Russian Black sea fleet bombarded the Turkish forts on the left bank of the Bosphorus Wednesday. Several Russian shells fell within about ten miles of Constantinople.

Unfavorable News to Allies From Several Quarters

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Constantinople announcements officially that severe losses have been inflicted on the French and British troops landed on Gallipoli peninsula. It is said one entire battalion was annihilated.

Reports direct from the Dardanelles, while containing no new details of the fighting, say the sea bombardment of the Turkish forts is proceeding successfully. Some of the forts at Chanak and Kilit Bahr and probably others on both sides of the straits up to the narrows, are said to have been silenced.

The exact status in the great battle in western Galicia remains in doubt. German and Austrian reports of a spectacular victory are interestingly optimistic. They state that the Russian resistance has broken down steadily, and that the whole Russian Carpathian army has been placed in a precarious situation.

Foreign advice, however, while conceding a measure of success to the Russian allies, say these claims are greatly exaggerated. The Russian war office announces a victory near Strv, in the Carpathians, east of the scene of the present main battle.

Shells From Allies' Fleet Mailed Set on Fire by BARCELONA, Thursday May 6.—(By London, May 7.)—The artillery exploded before his comrades could get him, and he was nearly an hour before they could recover the body.

The old sewer was twelve feet in diameter. When it burst, when it burst, water and wreckage were blown out for 150 feet, and to repair it will cost the city several thousand dollars. Another sewer near the stockade was blown out. This was a smaller one, spouting water for about 100 feet.

DROUGHT OF MONTHS BROKEN BY TERRIFIC DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

New Record Set for May With 1.77 Inches Between 7 and 8 o'Clock and 2.80 Inches by 9 o'Clock Friday

One man was drowned, sewers and drains were flooded, street cars stalled and town and country utterly drenched, when Atlanta's heaviest rain since February swept down between 7 and 8 o'clock Friday morning.

At the same time, the downpour was so widespread that it means thousands and thousands of dollars saved to the farmers of the state, and with a forecast of fair for Saturday, the city faces a clearer, fresher prospect than it has in many weeks.

At the height of the storm, sewers and drains were flooded, street cars stalled and town and country utterly drenched, when Atlanta's heaviest rain since February swept down between 7 and 8 o'clock Friday morning.

ATTITUDE OF JAPAN'S ALLIES TOWARD CHINA IS SOUNDED BY U. S.

Great Britain, France, and Russia Consulted as to Views on Present Status of Two Powers' Negotiations

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The United States, through its ambassadors, has during the last twenty-four hours, consulted Great Britain, France and Russia, as the allies of Japan, to learn their attitude toward the present status of the Japanese-Chinese negotiations.

After a conference with President Wilson early today, Secretary Bryan said the president had resolved word that the ultimatum from Japan to China was "under discussion," but that "no notice had been received that the ultimatum had actually been received in Peking."

Mr. Bryan refused to say whether the news came from Tokyo or from Peking. After Secretary Bryan had been at the White House, Ambassador China called at the state department, and the two men had another conference. At the close the ambassador reiterated that he could not discuss the subject, but added that "a full statement" would be made at the embassy soon. He could not say whether it would be issued today or whether it would be a statement by the embassy or by the Japanese government.

Reports that Japan had altered some of the articles in group five of the so-called general set of demands relating to China as a whole, renewed hope that the negotiations would be concluded peacefully. It is known that the efforts of the United States as well as the other powers interested in China, have been directed toward the modification of group five, which, from the Peking viewpoint, has seemed to threaten the political and administrative independence of China.

Practically all the other Japanese demands, relating to commercial rights and special privileges in specific localities, practically have been accepted by China.

VISITORS THROUGH MACON FOR EDUCATIONAL MEET

Georgia Educational Association Is Having Great Annual Convocation

(Special Dispatch to The Journal) MACON, Ga., May 7.—One thousand visitors, including school teachers, members of college faculties, college presidents and municipal and state school officials, are in Macon today attending the fifteenth annual convention of the Georgia Educational Association.

The program Friday morning consisted, first, of the appointment of committee, and after this a series of addresses on generally topics of interest to the convention.

Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture at Athens, spoke on the subject, "Sending a College to the People," in which he gave a very interesting summary of the great educational work the state college is doing by means of farm demonstration agents, agricultural extension bureaus, farm demonstration trails, etc.

Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau of the United States department of labor, delivered an address on the work of the bureau.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, professor of the department of economics in Georgia Polytechnic College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., spoke on "The Church in Education."

Friday afternoon a series of departmental meetings will be held at Mercer university at 3 o'clock, while in the city auditorium, where the main convocation is being held, there will be more addresses.

BRITAIN'S ADDRESS. The principal feature of the opening session Thursday night was the address by M. L. Brittain, statesman and educator, giving a general survey of educational needs and conditions over the world.

Mr. Brittain declared one of the real dangers confronting educational work in this and other states, is the fact that the sword of business is so much more tempting as to tempt the strongest men away from the educational profession. Despite this, however, there are men of the true missionary spirit, who withstand these temptations and remain true to the cause of education out of pure love of the work.

Here Mr. Brittain scored the "campaign of abuse against Georgia educators," saying: "The stupid ignorance and almost criminal malvolence among the state would-be political leaders in our state, have displaced recently in their efforts to destroy the influence and character of the best among our teachers, in order to secure political ends, a condition of its influence. In other states it has been deemed a matter of pride to have a teacher competent to write a book, and Georgia has been notable in this regard; but one would think that these gentlemen are almost criminals for the campaign of abuse which has arisen among us during the past two years from certain quarters."

STATE SCHOOL BOOKS. Referring to the proposed state publication of school books, Mr. Brittain declared the children of Georgia have little enough chance now, when only three states expending as little as Georgia, for education, without being forced to take home-made text books. "The best is none too good for our children," said Mr. Brittain.

In reference to the payment of teachers, Mr. Brittain said the educational interests of the state have suffered greatly by delay in these payments. He urged boards of education to borrow money to pay teachers, pending the disbursement of state funds, and to add on the interest charges as a necessary part of the expense of maintaining their schools.

In reference to negro schools, Mr. Brittain said the state's policy should be to bring about better relations between the races and more efficient citizenship among the colored race.

He expressed the appreciation of the state for the munificence of the general education board in defraying the expenses of a school survey.

In reference to compulsory education, Mr. Brittain strongly urged the enactment of a law putting this policy in effect. He said the arguments on the subject are so overwhelmingly in favor of compulsory education that he felt it almost an insult to the teachers to reiterate the need for a law.

Claims False Arrest. Walter Colman, a minor, suing by R. V. Colman as next friend, filed a petition in the city court Friday for $10,000 damages against Mrs. C. K. Smith, alleging she maliciously and for the purpose of extorting money from him had him arrested by a hallif sworn out by her charging trespass. Colman states that the warrant was dismissed April 7 when the case was heard before A. Shelverson, a justice of the peace of DeKalb county.

JITNEYS CUT DOWN CAR CO. RECEIPTS ABOUT $400 A DAY

There was a total increase in receipts for April, 1915, over March, 1915, of $2,445, as compared to a total increase in April, 1914, over March, of that year, of $8,430; the loss for April this year being $4,185.

An illustration of the effect of the jitneys upon the receipts of the street car company is shown by the decrease in receipts on some of the lines with which the buses compete.

On route No. 2, known as the Marietta-Decatur street line, there was a decrease of cash fares in April, 1915, over April, 1914, of $2,355, and a decrease in April over the preceding month of March of $489, notwithstanding the fact that March has thirty-one days and April but thirty, and despite the further fact that in April, with the opening of the baseball season, the travel to the park, and many other attractions incident to the spring, usually shows a substantial increase in receipts.

On route No. 4, known as the Inman-Park-Georgia avenue line, there was a decrease in April over April of last year of $2,059, and a decrease in April over March of $415.

ON WEST PEACHTREE. On route No. 5, known as the South Pryor-West Peachtree street line, the decrease in April under April of last year was $1,450, and in April over March of $275.

On route No. 6, known as the Forrest avenue-Capitol avenue line, the decrease under April of last year was $1,243, and in April under March $620.

On route No. 8, known as the Pine Street-Woodward avenue line, the decrease in April over April of last year was $1,074, and in April under March $384.

On route No. 10, known as the Peachtree-Whitehall street line, the decrease in April over April of last year was $2,785, and in April under March $1,382.

On route No. 12, known as the Pine Street-Woodward avenue line, the decrease in April over April of last year was $2,894, and in April under March $384.

SAYS HE WAS DRUGGED BY MAN AND WOMAN

Luther Hazelrigs, Near Death in Hospital, Accuses Pair With Whom He Took Drink

Lying on an operating board at the Grady hospital, while inches worked frantically to save his life, Luther Hazelrigs, of East Point, a young man about 22 years old, told newspaper reporters how he was drugged by a man and a blonde who are held under suspicion charges. In Hazelrigs' pocket was found a bottle of tablets like the one Hazelrigs had.

When he was flung away out of the door and started on a dead run for the home of his mother, 365 East Fair street. He cried out as he reached the gate and fell in a faint. His mother found him and telephoned for the ambulance.

In Hazelrigs' pocket was found the "white tablet." It was bichloride of mercury, a medicine more potent than strychnine and has a considerable sum of money on him, and it is the belief of the police, who are investigating, that it was the intention of the strange pair to drug Hazelrigs and rob him. Hazelrigs' condition is serious, but he has a fighting chance for recovery.

While held in a hospital for a few days, three arrests were made by Chief Officer Matthews. Eric Owens, seventeen years old, of the Georgia hotel; Leon Hahon, twenty-three years old, of 18 1/2 West street; and E. C. Mauldin, twenty-one years old, of 288 1/2 Decatur street, were taken into custody and are held under suspicion charges. In Mauldin's pocket was found a bottle of tablets like the one Hazelrigs had.

It is believed that he suffered from bichloride of mercury poison. As the doctors toiled over him, he groaned and twisted his body about, giving in his rattle his story.

At noon Friday, he said, he was in a delicatessen shop on Decatur street, near Moore street, when a stranger accompanied by a well-dressed blonde, asked him to have some beer with them. The man handed him a tablet, said Hazelrigs, and told him if the beer made him sick to swallow the tablet, that if it didn't cure him, he took a long drink and immediately his throat began to burn.

When he jumped up clutching at his neck, the blonde grasped him by the coat in an effort to detain him.

LUSITANIA SUNK BY SUBMARINE OFF COAST OF IRELAND

(Continued From Page 1.) Galleyhead, 4,250 m.—Several boats, apparently survivors, southeast nine miles. Green steamer proceeding to assistance. Other dispatches from London, Liverpool and Queenstown confirmed the news. One of the messages said it was believed all the big liner's passengers had been saved.

Board the Lost Ship

Leonidas Blinn, manager of the Lusitania, reported to the Atlantic is not listed in the telephone books or directories. John T. North, Atlanta booking agent for the Cunard line, states that he recalls to not show that any Atlantic Coast Georgians or southerners, were among the passengers of the big liner.

Sinking of Lusitania Caused Big Drop in War Specialties

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—News of the sinking of the Lusitania caused great excitement in the cotton market and within an hour prices dropped 25 points.

Cunard Company Admits Loss of Giant Vessel

LIVERPOOL, May 7.—The Evening Express was officially informed this morning that the Lusitania of the Cunard Steamship company that the Lusitania had been torpedoed and that she had sunk this afternoon.

The Life Story of Great Liner of the Atlantic

The magnificence of the Lusitania, the most famous leviathan of the deep ever constructed, with the probable exception of the ill-fated Titanic, was only rivaled by her sister ship, the Mauretania. In 1907 the gigantic transatlantic liner made her maiden trip to New York and she soon established the record for the run across the ocean, doing it practically in five days, quite a startling achievement at the time. The sister ship, Mauretania, now holds the record from Queenstown to New York of 10 days, 10 hours and 41 minutes. Her turbine engines, during but a short experiment of the Cunard line, produced 70,000 horsepower and drove the 45,000-ton ship 25 knots, or approximately 30 statute miles, per hour. The boat is 787 feet long, a few feet shorter than the later Mauretania, and 107 feet in beam. When carrying a full load she drew 31-1/2 feet of water. She burned 1,000 tons of coal a day. The Lusitania was constructed at the yards of John Brown & Co., Ltd., of Clydebank, England. On her nine decks she could carry 3,000 persons, passengers and crew, and when afloat was a small city in itself. With travelers the Lusitania was the most popular of the transatlantic steamers, and a glance into her history thoroughly explained why. No hotel, no palace, surpassed this superb gray-hulled appointments. The 550 transatlantic passengers were provided for in most sumptuous fashion; two elevators ran from deck E, on which was the main entrance to deck A, where were the lounge, music, writing rooms, smoking room and cafe, versus other ways to the stern of the boat, which was an ideal spot in any weather. For the more wealthy regular suiters were provided. These were practically flat-apartments. They were made up of two bedrooms, dining and dressing rooms, so that perfect seclusion could be enjoyed. The Lusitania established a new mark in stability and even when going at top shouted Chief Beavers, and with those words ended the "old boss" sale at police station Thursday. Several hundred dollars were received from the disposal of the articles sold, and the goods which were recovered by the police and never claimed by the owners. The money will be used toward buying an automobile for the chief officers.

Mr. Ittner is deputy grand monarch of North America for the order and is active member of Alabama Grotto of St. Louis. He was invited to come to Atlanta by Ararat Grotto to fully explain the history and work of the Masonic Order. Valedictory of the Emancipated Realm. His address Saturday night will be delivered in the auditorium on the second floor of the temple and is open to all Masons in the city.

ALABAMA MAY PAY CONVICTS' FAMILIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 7.—J. W. Green, of Dallas, member of the legislature and the Merritt investigating committee, was in the state convicts department yesterday gathering data which he will use in framing a bill providing for the payment of a certain percentage of the earnings of convicts to their families if they need such support. Mr. Green believes the state should make some provision for the care of needy families of convicts, and does not think several persons should be made to suffer because of one person's crime. Another return advocated by Mr. Green is the creation of a state prison commission and the enactment of an indeterminate sentence law. His would have the prison commission recommend paroles and pardons after personal investigation. This would relieve the secretary of state, state auditor and attorney general, who now compose the state board of pardons.

PAN-AMERICAN ENVOYS TO BE RAISED IN RANK

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Although the general belief here is that the visit of Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister for foreign affairs to Uruguay, Argentina and Chile is chiefly social in character, and tangible results are expected by South American diplomats here to result from it. It is confidently believed, for example, that the proposal made in 1910 for the elevation of the legations of Argentina, Brazil and Chile at each other's capitals to embassies will be revived and probably put into effect. It is also understood that peace treaties similar to those which Secretary Bryan negotiated with practically all the countries of the world may be drafted. The principle of investigation embodied in the various Bryan peace treaties was recently proposed for the code international law being discussed by the commission of the Pan-American governing board at work on neutrality questions. The original proposal for the elevation of the legations to embassies was made by Baron Rio Branco of Brazil five years ago, to be adopted by the United States, Mexico, Brazil, Argentina and Chile. Since then, the United States has raised the legations of Mexico, Brazil, San Domingo and Argentina and Chile have promoted their ministers in Washington to the rank of ambassadors. It is an account of internal troubles has been unable to follow the outlined program, but Argentina, Brazil and Chile are now prepared, it is understood, as a tribute of respect to the minister to give higher diplomatic rank to their representatives.

JEFFRIES RECEIVES ORDINARY COMMISSION

Thomas H. Jeffries, newly-elected ordinary of Fulton county, is now Judge Jeffries in every sense of the word. His commission from Governor Slaton arrived at the courthouse Friday, and Judge Jeffries was sworn into his new office by Judge John T. Pendleton of the superior court. Judge Jeffries was elected for the unexpired term of the late Judge John R. Wilkinson, which expires December 31, 1915.

Hints on Embroidery By Kathryn Miltner (OF THE EMBROIDERY DEPT., PICTORIAL REVIEW) Baby's Double Bib with Straight Edge. When announcement is received of a new arrival in the family of a friend, the first question that one asks is, "What shall I send the baby?" This problem may be quickly solved by making one of the new bibs, which are made and worked daintily with a pattern of simple embroidery. A design that will appeal to the woman who likes to see her work develop quickly in the center and is large enough to almost cover the upper front of the dress. A smaller bib falls over this and it is slashed at the front so that the work on the foundation bib may be seen to advantage. On either side of the floral motif and at the shoulders there are the centers of tiny bowknots and the centers of the flowers are in which never fail to develop attractively, especially when worked in solid satin stitch. The edges of the bib are finished with buttonhole embroidery and an absence of scallops makes them distinctive among the many new designs of the season. In fact, plain edges have been so little on babies' bibs and yet look so well, that one wonders why they were not thought of before. But Dame Fashion says that scallops are to be dropped from many of the best novelties for babies and tiny tots, or if used at all, only the simplest possible effects will be permissible. There are five bowknots on the smaller bib, two on either side and one in the center, at the base of the inverted V, which is formed by cutting out the front of the smaller bib. A single flower with short stem, and just a suggestion of a leaf appears in each corner of the front. The inexperienced needleworker would hesitate for a moment to attempt this design, because it is so simple. The embroidery pattern illustrated and described herein, together with 400 others covering all possible uses, are included in the "Innovation Embroidery Pattern Outfit" now being presented by this newspaper, as explained elsewhere in these columns. There is a very easy method of working leaves and petals. It is to begin them at the apex, and after making a line of stitches down the center, work to the right until that half is filled in, then fill the left half, go over back to the apex again to begin. The petals of the tiny flowers are worked in solid satin stitches, but there is only a light padding, because the work is to be as light as possible when finished. The tips are outlined,

ATTITUDE OF JAPAN'S ALLIES TOWARD CHINA IS SOUNDED BY U. S.

(Continued from First Page.) Generally was realized here, the disposition in official as well as Japanese quarters was to believe that the pending question was still capable of being settled without abandoning diplomatic means.

Ultimatum Is Presented to Chinese Government

PEKING, May 7.—Japan's ultimatum to China, insisting that China accept the demands presented by the Tokyo government, was presented to the Chinese foreign office here today by the Japanese minister to China.

The secretary of the legation previously had visited the foreign office and informed Vice Minister Tsao that Japan's ultimatum contained certain modifications of the twenty-four demands presented by Tokyo.

There is good reason to believe that China is prepared to concede everything demanded by Japan, realizing that the situation is hopeless.

Baron Kato Says Japan Has Modified Demands

TOKIO, May 7.—A dispatch to the Nishinichi from Peking correspondent says China, last night, informed Japanese Minister Hiko that it corresponded to arrange a settlement of the demands in such a way as to avoid a rupture.

Baron Kato, Japanese foreign minister is understood to have informed the ambassadors of other powers that the ultimatum to China, which expires at 6 p. m. Sunday, was accompanied by additional modifications of Japan's demands, notably the questions relating to the press and advisors which interested the United States.

It is the general opinion in diplomatic circles tonight that China will submit. Meanwhile Japan is making extensive preparations for a possible rupture. Warships and transports are being readied for instant departure.

More than forty warships, including the battleship Hizen and the battle cruiser Kongo, are preparing at Sasebo for possible operations against China.

DROUTH OF MONTHS BROKEN BY TERRIFIC DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

(Continued from Page 1.) East Lake the storm was severe Thursday night. The barn of Charles O. Smith, on the road between Decatur and McDonough was blown down and many fine shade trees uprooted.

The rainstorm, which set a record for May precipitation locally, hit Atlanta shortly before 7 o'clock, starting the season and saving the crops in the Mississippi valley.

What was not likely to forego this occasion of impressing upon China once for all that she is a great power. This is a matter on which Japanese feeling is sensitive and in the past China sometimes has shown a foolish and arrogant disregard for her sensibilities.

"Whatever may have been Japan's original demands, she has shown a certain readiness to modify them in the later course of the negotiations, owing to more mature consideration and possibly to the accession of strength which the recent elections brought to the Okuma cabinet.

"We believe Japan would be hardly less ill-advised than China were she to permit matters even now to proceed to extremities. Dental by Washington that anything has been initiated toward actual mediation has a significance in the present state of American feeling, which can scarcely be missed in Tokio.

The high reputation of the sagacity and moderation which Japanese statesmen have acquired all over the world, would undoubtedly be impaired were she short-sighted enough now to take the course likely to arouse the jealousy and death struggle in Europe, she seized that occasion to put her private interests to work.

"We expect, even now at the eleventh hour, that she will use her high abilities to avert a catastrophe and to justify once again British confidence in Japan, that while they were involved in a life and death struggle in Europe, she seized that occasion to put her private interests to work.

Great Battle in Flanders Not Reached Zenith Yet

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, May 7.—The battle to decide the mastery of Hill No. 60 and the desolated country around Ypres, Belgium, has not yet reached its final stage, nor have the Russians shown signs of accepting the German claim that a crushing defeat has been inflicted upon them in western Galicia.

That the Russians have been pushed back many miles, first across the Dnieper and now across the Wislucha river, which roughly parallels the Dnieper, fifteen miles to the east, all the dispatches from German and Austrian sources insist, but the English newspapers still refuse to concede a great victory to the Austro-Germans, although they admit that a great tentative success has been achieved.

There is great faith in England in the recuperative power of Russian arms and the disposition now seems to be to suspend judgment on the question of whether the Russians, if driven from Dniep, will be forced to abandon their advance against Hungary, and indeed their positions in western Galicia.

At any rate, British observers argue that the Russians should have no trouble in holding their line on the River San in eastern Galicia, especially as their flank would be covered by French.

Coincident with the Austro-German claims of victory in Galicia, there has been a marked increase in the rumors of Italian intervention. The London

Turks Claim New Victories Over Allies at Straits

(By Associated Press.) CONSTANTINOPLE, May 7.—(Via Wireless to Berlin and London, May 7.)—The following statement regarding the operations in the Dardanelles was issued last night by the Turkish war office.

"An enemy battalion was annihilated Wednesday as the result of an attack by our troops against his left wing.

"At Arburan part of the enemy's strongly built entrenchments were captured.

"At Seddul Bahr we inflicted heavy losses on the English and captured great quantities of ammunition. We have taken ten enemy machine guns.

"South of Kalkis, part of Anzaco and west of Erzurum, part of the attacks were repulsed by our victorious troops. In these battles the Russians lost altogether 520 prisoners.

"In the southeastern theater 170 battles on the right bank of the lower Dnieper ended in complete success for the allied troops. The Austro-Germans in the quickest possible retreat toward the east. Only a small division of the enemy on the Vistula still holds out.

"Further south we advanced to the right bank of the Wislucha river and across the Nalanda. Many times parts of the right wing of the army under General von Mackensen came in touch with the Russian columns on the Carpathian front, west of Luptov.

"The Russians are hastily retreating before the close following Austro-German troops. With every step forward our booty increases."

FRANCE TO SEIZE ALL WHEAT AND FIX PRICE

PARIS, May 6.—Announcement was made today by the budget committee of the chamber of deputies by Premier

Viviani and Minister of Commerce Thomson that the government intended to regulate all existing stock of wheat, which will be resold throughout France at a fixed price.

The minister explained that the wheat supply was more than adequate to meet the requirements of the civil population but that requisition was deemed expedient to prevent speculation and the artificial inflation of bread prices. The measure proposed by the government is expected to have the effect of maintaining the existing low price and making it uniform throughout the country.

WANTS FULL TAXATION ON BENEVOLENT ORDERS

Thomson to Insist on Regular Valuations for All Organizations

The announcement by Alderman Albert Thomson that he will call for a resolution for a complete revision of the tax assessments of social and benevolent orders and organizations, featured a meeting of the aldermanic board Thursday afternoon.

Statements by Mr. Thomson and other members of the board developed the fact that practically all of the social and benevolent organizations are paying taxes on from 15 to 40 per cent of their actual holdings, instead of 60 per cent, as in the general rules. The assessments against these institutions have been made nominal through a custom of many years. The assessments and consequently the tax received by the city will be practically doubled if the institutions are forced to return the property at the regular 60 per cent valuation.

The statement by Alderman Thomson followed the action of the aldermanic board in refusing to concur in a resolution adopted by council to allow the order of Red Men to pay taxes on only 15 per cent of their property.

The argument was advanced that the social and benevolent organizations are assessed to the city and should be assessed by nominal assessments. Replying to this Alderman Thomson declared the city has several millionaires who are distinct assets and are valuable to the city, and that it would be just to logical to reduce their assessments.

The board of aldermen Thursday afternoon concurred in a council resolution calling for a wood block pavement on Grant street. The work will be done on the assessment plan, and it is likely that before the work on the new pavement begins a resolution requesting the Georgia Railway and Power company to change their tracks to conform to the permanent pavement will be introduced in council.

WHERE SHALL COLUMBUS PUT WAR MONUMENT?

Former Mayor Wants It in Middle of Chattahoochee River

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 7.—Former Mayor L. H. Chappell, who is head of the recently organized Columbus Historical society, insists that the place for the erection of a suitable monument to mark the site of the last battle of the civil war is in the middle of the Chattahoochee river directly between Columbus and Phenix City, Ala., where a small island has been formed as the result of freshets from time to time.

The former mayor issued a statement today, in which he insists that the middle of the river is the place for the monument and urges that this site be adopted. He declares the island is undoubtedly owned either by the city or the common commission, which is true since the city, and states that the importance of clearing off and improving the place cannot be overestimated.

Meanwhile there are many citizens who declare a monument on the island will be in danger of destruction by floods which at times of the year overflow the place many feet. Much interest centers in the movement and the final decision on the site will be awaited with eagerness by those who are contributing to the slab.

THIS WAR ONLY FIRST OF SERIES OF MANY

Prof Ridgeway Says Racial Evolution Brought It On. More to Come

LONDON, May 7.—Dr. William Ridgeway, professor of archaeology at Cambridge University, in an address last night before the Eugenics society, declared the present war resulted from evolutionary racial struggles.

"Hard facts seen from a scientific standpoint," said Dr. Ridgeway, "indicate that the present war is only the first of a long series and that such new struggles will be more serious. The earth's waste places are getting filled up and these wars are part of evolutionary racial struggles for existence and not the result of mere kingly ambitions."

WOMAN WANTS JOB AS A DEPUTY SHERIFF

Mrs. Nettie Yow Stands Examination for Position in Los Angeles County

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8.—For the first time in the history of Los Angeles county a woman has taken the civil service examination for deputy sheriff. If she passes the examination, Mrs. Nettie J. Yow, a sister-in-law of Ellen Beach Yaw, famous California soldier, will be the first regular woman deputy sheriff drawing a salary.

Mrs. Yow was the first and only woman to take the examination. Four hundred and seventy-nine men took the test.

"I am firmly convinced that there is as much need for a woman deputy sheriff as there is for a woman police officer," said Mrs. Yow, "and I am confident that I will be successful."

The examination was for seven deputies to be paid a salary of $99 a month for the first six months and $100 after two years.

A Book That Proves the CASE CAR

1. First Price Lowest 2. Upkeep Most Economical

You really owe it to yourself—as soon as you finish reading this advertisement—to ask at once for a copy of our book entitled, "From Quess Who Know What You Want to Know." It tells the experiences with CASE Cars of men from every state in the Union. It is a remarkable volume of interest to motorists.

This book proves beyond dispute that the CASE Car costs less in the long run than cars priced much higher. At $1350—5 per cent discount if cash—and considering the regular equipment of an extra tire and tube on rim with tire cover, Wood wheels, five doors and 8-day clock—the CASE Car costs first cost only. Then divide this price by years of service—the only fair way to judge any car—and you have a car without comparison. First cost only can never be a true standard. This tells the CASE story. (300)

ORDINANCE ON TEACHERS' CREDITS UP TO MAYOR

Alderman Armistead's Measure Is Concurred in by Aldermanic Board

The ordinance by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead to authorize the board of education to give credits to teachers in the public school system for work done in other cities was concurred in by the aldermanic board Thursday following its adoption by council last Monday. It now needs only the signature of the mayor to become a law.

Assistant City Attorney W. D. Ellis was present at the meeting and expressed the opinion that the ordinance is perfectly legal, but that it does not carry the right for the board to pay back money doctored from the pay of some teachers under the ruling that the board had been allowing the credits without proper authority.

Neither does the ordinance carry a provision as to when the credit system shall become effective, which will probably be at the next school term instead of next month, as was expected.

Only one member of the board, Alderman E. N. Ragudale, objected to the passage of the measure. He asked how the board determined what teachers should have credits. Alderman Armistead said the board generally fixed the credits on recommendation of the superintendent of schools.

Then Mr. Ragudale declared he would have to oppose the measure because, in his opinion, it might mean politics would be injected into the school system, and some teachers receive credits which were not deserved, and other teachers, who really deserved them, but had no political influence, might fail to get credits.

SPECIAL RATES MADE TO QUITMAN'S SHOW

Hereford Cattle Show and Street Pageant to Be Held May 26

The railroads in a radius of about 600 miles have agreed to put on a special rate of one fare for the round trip to Quitman and the animal industry convention, which will be held there on May 26.

The parade and pageant, the Hereford cattle show, and "Georgia Georgia" automobile tours will be among the principal features of the convention.

There will be floats for the merchants of Quitman, farm floats and a fine exhibit of south Georgia cattle.

LAWYERS ADDRESS SUFFRAGE SCHOOL

With a delegation of suffragists from Rome, Ga., headed by Mrs. Janette de Jarnett, present the suffrage school of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, presided over by Mrs. Amelia W. Woodall, met Thursday evening at the Ansley hotel. Mrs. Mary L. McLondon, president of the Georgia Equal Suffrage association, conducted the question hour; Blair Foster and L. J. Grossman, lawyers, addressed the meeting; Mr. Foster spoke on contracts from a neutral angle; Mr. Grossman spoke on suffrage as a southern issue, started in this country by Confederate settlers of Wyoming after the war, who gave the vote to women 42 years ago.

PEACOCK IS ELECTED TO COUNCIL PLACE

Augustus T. Peacock, a member of the faculty of the Georgia School of Technology, was elected a member of council from the Tenth ward Thursday to succeed Claude C. Mason, resigned.

An exclusively predicted in the Journal of Wednesday, the name of George P. Dickson, whose resignation was a short campaign in his interest, was not presented to council, and Mr. Peacock was elected without opposition.

Following his election Mr. Peacock took the oath of office and was given his seat in council. He had a chance to vote on one measure at the session which elected him.

J. C. LOGAN TO ATTEND CHARITIES CONFERENCE

To attend the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, which meets in Baltimore May 12 to 26, Joseph C. Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities of Atlanta, left Thursday evening. He is scheduled to address the convention on the subject of domestic troubles dealt with by the charities.

Mr. Logan will be in the city a few days in Virginia to visit relatives before proceeding to Baltimore. During his absence Miss Lettie Hanspach will be in charge of the local charities.

R. H. PRESLY NTERS RACE FOR FIRE CHIEF

R. H. Presly, for five years an assistant chief of the city fire department, has announced he will be a candidate against Chief W. B. Cummings at the July election by council.

Captain W. P. Cody has been an active candidate for some months for the position of chief, so the announcement of Presly means a three-cornered fight for the place, as Chief Cummings is in the race and says he is confident of reelection.

NO MAN OF THE WORLD TO HEAR BISHOP CANDLER

"Master Theologian" Invited to Discuss "Christianity and Commerce"

An "The master theologian of America," Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, has been selected to deliver an address on "Christianity and Commerce" before the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at Chicago in June.

One of the features of the convention representing the three great departments of life which bear on advertising, to-wit: Law, Religion and Finance. It was the idea of the program committee to secure addresses by the leaders of these subjects in America.

The Atlanta club is planning to send a strong delegation to Chicago and will invite the associated clubs to hold their annual convention here in 1916.

SUIT IS FILED AGAINST JITNEY BUS FOR DAMAGES

John H. Smith, Insurance Man, Asks $5,000 for Alleged Injuries

The first Fulton county damage suit against a jitney bus was filed late Thursday afternoon in the city court by John H. Smith, 37 years old, an insurance man, 174 Central avenue, against M. J. Smith, J. A. Washington and G. W. Morris for $5,000.

Smith alleges his suit that he was about to cross Marietta street, between Forsyth and Marietta streets, when a jitney bus, driven by G. W. Morris, was speeding between 30 and 35 miles an hour, loaded with 10 or 12 passengers.

Smith states he waited within a few feet of the curb when the jitney swerved to the right, and despite a backward leap on his part, hit his left leg, hurled him unceremoniously upon the pavement.

Smith states he is an insurance man and was earning $12 a week; that his earning capacity was cut in half by the injuries received. Attorney Howell C. Erwin represents Smith.

GET YOUR HAND READY, MR. OLD-TIMER

OLD-TIMERS WILL WELCOME ALL NEWCOMERS TO ATLANTA TUESDAY

You Are Either One or the Other, and Are Commanded to Be at Auditorium On Time

Are you a Newcomer or an Oldtimer? You must be one of the two if you live in Atlanta, and therefore you and all the folks are invited, urged, and commanded to appear at the auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

It's Newcomers' Night, inspired by the spirit of fellowship which is Atlanta's greatest asset, planned by the Rotary club, backed by all other organizations in town, a night for everybody from granddaddy to the baby, with each Atlantian that is an oldtimer as host, every Atlantian that has come here since January 1, 1914, the newcomer guest.

There will be stunts—starting stunts, big hundred balloons will be cut loose and they may be redeemed.

And there will be speeches—please don't jump—short speeches, Governor Slaton, Governor Elect Hiram, Mr. Williamson, Mayor Woodward, Congressman Howard and one or two others will talk by way of welcome.

Each newcomer will get up and tell why he came to Atlanta. But they will be limited to two minutes. The Rotary gives guarantee this, and just so there won't be any mistake about the time they have arranged for a battery of Claxton horns to be in the auditorium.

The Tech Glee club is going to be there, too. There will be a nineteen-piece brass band, not an orchestra, but a regular, home-folks brass band that plays "Turkey in the Straw," never heard of Mozart and thinks Verdi is a kind of picnic. Also, refreshments.

FOR EVERYBODY. The great thing about this newcomers' night is that it's for everybody, for everybody and for everybody. By way of preparation the churches named this Sunday Newcomers' Sunday. All the newcomers in the city are especially invited to church that morning, and the minister will talk about Newcomers' night and its significance.

It will also be Dean John R. Atkinson's subject at the Forum Sunday night. The chamber of commerce is sending out letters to the members telling them about the night, the Ad Men are boasting it, the retail merchants are strong for it, the real estate men and all the others. "By your night, whoever you are."

It's time somebody thought of Newcomers' night because there are just slaves of the n. o.'s in Atlanta. Bert Adams got 200 letters to his door last week, and he says folks that have recently moved here, and there are thousands more.

If you know of any yourself, drop a line to the Rotary secretary, 216 Third National building. He'll see that the newcomer gets there. But whether you drop a line or get a line, whether old or new, be sure and drop yourself in that big building at the corner of Gilmer and Courtland streets at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

PUBLIC SALE OF LOTS IN PEACHTREE HEIGHTS

Sale in Attractive Home Section
Will Begin at 3 o'Clock Saturday

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a public sale of the home building lots in the Peachtree Heights subdivision on Peachtree road, in a section where many attractive homes have already been built and others are projected.

Many of the lots in this section have already been sold. Some of the purchasers have built permanent homes on them and others are planning to do so. This entire section has all the essential city conveniences, including city water, sewer, electricity, telephones, street arc lights, city delivery service, police protection and rapid transit cars running ten minutes apart on the Buckhead line, reaching the city within twenty-four minutes.

President E. Rivers, of the E. Rivers Realty company, who announces this sale, gives assurance that it will be a genuine opportunity for those who desire either high-class building lots for homes, or who wish to make an investment.

"This will be an opportunity for those who attend this sale to get this splendid home property at their own prices," Mr. Rivers said. "We realize that this is not the time to put home property of this high class on the market at public sale, and there is just one reason why we are doing it. There are some conditions which we are called upon to meet, and we prefer to meet them rather than ask for extensions."

"It is for that reason we are offering the people of Atlanta this opportunity to buy what we consider the best home property the city offers, at their own price. We don't propose to sell all of it, but enough to meet our requirements, and there we will stop."

"As everyone knows, business and financial conditions are rapidly improving and we are on the threshold of the biggest era of prosperity the south has ever known. This is going to mean good profit for the purchaser in every foot of this property which we sell tomorrow."

Those desiring to attend the sale in Peachtree Heights, should take the Buckhead cars tomorrow and get off at Peachtree way.

YOUNG LAWYERS WILL

Mr. E. Rivers,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:-

"We regard the Peachtree Heights Park section as one of the finest residence sections in or around Atlanta. It is well located, within easy access of the city, has the advantage of city conveniences and is very attractive residence property."

"We expect to see this section where many handsome homes have already been built, develop rapidly, and have no question that it will soon be built up in beautiful homes. We do not think any man who wants a well located and comfortable home with pleasant surroundings, can make any mistake in building here."

C. E. CURRIER,
Pres. Atlanta National Bank.

Very truly yours,
Chas. E. Currier

Business Is Better

"With the coming of spring, with a better feeling in the real estate field, with good planting weather and with the reasonably good collections we have had, I do not see any reason why we are not entering upon an era of prosperity."

C. E. CURRIER,
Pres. Atlanta National Bank.

Atlanta, Ga., April 26th, 1915

These letters tell the story---show you what leading business men think of this section. We have many others. Here is what a few of them say:

"I have for a long time believed that the future permanent residence section of Atlanta will be on Peachtree Road and its vicinity."
JAMES. R. GRAY.

"It is the property that appeals to me most for residential purposes."
GEORGE W. FORRESTER

"We regard Peachtree Heights Park section as one of the finest residence sections in and around Atlanta."
J. R. SMITH & J. H. EWING

"Atlanta is growing more rapidly northward than in any other direction, and this property lies in the immediate line of development."
EDWIN P. ANSLEY

But we don't want you to take anybody's word for it. We prefer that you go and see for yourself.

We are going to give you an opportunity, in the very teeth of the greatest prosperity the south has ever known, to buy these lots AT YOUR OWN PRICE---and it's the last one you will have.

As you know, it has all the city conveniences, is rapidly building in fine homes, and ---but go and see it, that's the best way.

Go and look at it before the sale. Look everywhere else. Make any comparison you wish. You can't find any more like it, because there is no more.

Take the Buckhead car, or drive out Saturday. You'll regret it if you are not there.

Routing Your Telephone Call

THIS picture shows how the traffic engineers of the Bell system have mapped out the route for long distance telephone calls between New York and Kansas City.

There may be forty different routes by which a telephone call could be routed; the Bell engineers pick out the one which will give the best service to the public. Constant study is necessary to meet changing conditions due to plant extensions and improved equipment.

There are 12,000,000 long distant routes in the Bell system, which must be prepared and kept up to date and in addition a great number of toll lines of the Associated Companies, which are determined and maintained with similar care.

When you use the Long Distance telephone, your call is routed in such a way that you will get the best possible transmission. It is supervised by operators all along the line who take a personal pride in rendering perfect service.

It will soon be time to kick against too much rain. China may have her fireworks in advance of the usual Fourth of July season.

The Frye Case.

The United States emphatically rejects Germany's proposal that the Frye case be submitted to a prize court. In its latest note on the issue our Government contends that the destruction of this neutral merchant ship by a German cruiser was unquestionably "a violation of the obligations imposed upon the Imperial German Government under existing treaty stipulations between the United States and Prussia."

The population is also interested in the fate of the watermelon and blackberry crops.

The Germans seem to have the supreme knack of bringing up their reinforcements in time to gain a victory.

Imagination Counts.

In a speech recently delivered on his eighty-first birthday, Chauncey M. Depew recalled that in 1877 he had an option on a sixth interest in the Bell telephone for ten thousand dollars. Telegraphic experts, however, advised him against the purchase.

The cold-blooded fact gatherer plays an important part in the world's affairs. We depend upon him as we depend on encyclopaedias or railway guides.

Newton and Darwin were pre-eminently imaginative, as were Cicli Rhodes and J. Pierpont Morgan.

Meanwhile Asquith comforts the British with assurances that the Turks are suffering around the Dardanelles.

The Republican Nomination.

When Justice Charles E. Hughes was being urged to consider the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1912, he said: "I hope that, as Justice of the Supreme Court, I am rendering public service and may continue to do so for some years; but the Supreme Court must not be dragged into politics, and no man is so essential to his country's well-being as is the unstained integrity of its courts."

To that exalted ideal of his duty, Justice Hughes will adhere. Frequently within recent months his name has been linked with the next Republican nomination, but he has let it be known through an authorized statement that he has no desire to enter politics and "that as a member of the Supreme Court he is not available."

The Republican brethren are evidently in a quandary to find a suitable candidate for 1916. There are trusty members of the old guard whom they would like to nominate but whom they dare not place before the people.

For the present at least, the Republicans will without a leader.

The Cloud in the Far East.

Students of the ominous situation in the Far East stress the fact that Japan has chosen a particularly opportune moment for urging her demands upon China. Of all the Powers whose interests are involved, the United States alone is unnumbered.

The precise purpose and extent of the Japanese demands are not known, but from the Chinese version it appears that they are of far-reaching import and, if granted, would prove a catastrophe to western nations as well as a severe blow to China itself.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger observes in this connection that since her war with Russia, Japan has gained what is equivalent to a joint possession with Russia of "special powers" within the Chinese empire.

Tokyo, while reticent as regards details, insists that its demands are entirely reasonable and even altruistic in purpose.

"If Germany had not existed, the negotiations between Peking and Tokyo would very likely have been concluded long ago in favor of Japan, who, by securing a settlement of all complicated and important questions pending between the two countries, is solicitous of promoting relations with China and maintaining peace in the East."

The Chinese press, on the contrary, protests that Japan is striking at the integrity of the empire and at the rights of other Powers; witness the following excerpts from representative journals in Peking:

"With Japan, friendship, faith, and justice count for nothing; but that which matters to her is self-aggrandizement. Her short-sightedness will be the cause of turmoil in the Far East, after the European War is over. But the worst is yet to come. Woe be to the Far-East when the European War is over. Therefore, this is high time for Chinese to be up and doing."

"This state of things should be prevented, and the nation will be destroyed, even though the Japanese do not come to rob us."

"The public has been alarmed at the unreasonable demands presented by the Japanese Minister, and as the contents of the demands have been kept secret, their has been full of speculation. But irrespective of the truth or otherwise of the rumors, the ultimate success of the Japanese diplomatic officials remain firm or weakened at the very outset. The Japanese Minister may employ all kinds of threats, but he can not force us to give in."

Especially interesting and significant is the attitude of the British newspapers in China. They support the position of the native press and hotly reject the idea that China will ever be made subject to Japan.

The supposition is that months ago Great Britain gave rather a sharp diplomatic warning to Japan concerning the integrity of China, but dispatches indicate that Japan has gone none the less firmly forward, and for that very reason seems the more threatening.

It was American diplomacy that established the "open door" policy in China and at a crucial hour of Chinese affairs saved the empire from being torn into strips of booty.

There is really no need of China and Japan making war unanimous. It is already so.

As our forecast, subject to such barometric changes as may occur from time to time, is for rain.

If that $50,000 demanded in the Barnes-Roosevelt libel suit ever comes into sight, it will probably be on paper.

Editorial Echoes

No tribute, it is safe to say, could have been more keenly appreciated by Ivin Cobb than that which was paid to him largely by members of his own profession, at the dinner in New York. The remarkable work which Mr. Cobb has done since the breaking out of the war honors him and them alike.

Worry Is the Disease of the Age.

BY H. ADDINGTON BRUCE. (Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Psychology and Parenthood," etc.)

In a vague, general way nearly everybody is aware that worry is one of the most harmful things in the world. But comparatively few know specifically why the scientific physicians condemn worry as an unmitigated scourge of the human race.

Here, in a few words, are some of the reasons for universal adoption of the maxim, "Don't worry." Worry makes sleep impossible, and without sleep health is impossible.

Worry, being a depressing emotion, acts unfavorably on the physical processes. It lowers the circulation, affects the action of the heart, kidneys, liver, and, above all, upsets the digestive organs.

Competent physicians are agreed that most of the dyspepsia so prevalent today is due to NOTHING BUT WORRY.

Worry is the great cause of functional nervous and mental troubles. They may have their exciting causes, but a sudden shock, or other strain of circumstances, but worry is the UNDERLYING CAUSE giving these their potency as disease producers.

Worry is the root of all cowardly passions. Jealousy, fear, the belittling of self, and all the introspective forms of depression are the children of worry.

And, paralyzing the power of reasoning, worry paralyzes the intellect. The man who worries is so worried that he is not merely "stowing up" in his work, but doing his work badly.

Unless he can throw off his worrying habit, he is doomed to an ever increasing inefficiency.

Worry, finally, by its denigrating effect on the body and the mind, is a powerful incentive to vice and crime.

Many a case of suicide is due to worry, and to nothing but worry; and were it not for worry THE NATIONAL BILL FOR DRINK AND DRUGS WOULD BE CUT AT LEAST ONE-HALF.

Decidedly, then, it is not surprising that an eminent physician, Dr. C. W. Saleeby, has described worry as "the great great evil of the age, and as being only a disease in itself, but the precursor or predisposing cause of many bodily diseases, as also of many mental disorders."

If you are a worrier, my friend, escape from this dire bondage as quickly as you can.

Literature by the Mile

A woman writer on the New York Evening Sun has discovered a new pastime for subway and other commuters. This is to note the reading matter of the traveling public, to discover how many of their own favorites, how much trash, and how many of the "classics" are being read.

In Boston, for example, Brookline and other neighboring towns are noted for their appearance of traveling libraries, so many are the passengers who pass the milestones between the covers of books.

GIVING THE PRISONER A NEW START

BY FRANK GRANT. (The annual convention of Charles and Corcoran, to be held in Baltimore from May 3 to 7, considerable attention will be given to the betterment of the conditions affecting convicts, both during their stay in prison and after their release.)

THE annual convention of Charles and Corcoran, to be held in Baltimore from May 3 to 7, considerable attention will be given to the betterment of the conditions affecting convicts, both during their stay in prison and after their release.

Slowly, but surely, a tremendous change is being brought about in the attitude of the public regarding the man in prison. Instead of sending a man to prison for revenge for a wrong committed, society now sends a man to prison that he may have an opportunity to reform.

One of the grievances the prisoner cherishes against the state which confines him is due to his only nominal wages, during the time he is confined. This grievance may be intensified if he is a man with a family, which is enduring poverty during his incarceration.

With the idea of reforming instead of punishing the convict comes entirely new modes of discipline. The lash, the black hole and other old methods of punishment have been absolutely abolished. In their place comes a system of rewards for good behavior.

The great impetus toward prison reform was given by the publication of the report of the commission appointed by ex-President Roosevelt to investigate the conditions of the penal institutions of the District of Columbia. This report, which was printed as a public document, is held by sociologists to have been at least half a century in advance of its time.

The parole provision was the great forward step in the new mode of running the great reformatory. It has passed providing parole for prisoners in the District of Columbia, it became an injustice to prisoners from other states who were not entitled to parole because the states made no provision for it.

Since the parole has become well established, the indeterminate sentence has come into prominence. The indeterminate sentence is one ranging from a short confinement to a long one at the discretion of the prison authorities. It is still opposed by some judges, because it limits their power, but it is believed that it is the only means of securing absolute justice for the prisoner.

Prisoners are now being advised in most cases to take their own name, and employers are being constantly urged to give the ex-convict a chance. One of the largest automobile manufacturers in this country has adopted this policy. He does not want to openly acknowledge themselves as such, and he has given an order forbidding discrimination against them on the ground of "former" and "workman."

Thus the new attitude of trust and fair dealing toward the criminal, which is being fostered in the best modern prisons, has spread even to the industrial world.

HOW TO WRITE TO THE EDITOR

THE EDITOR of a newspaper likes to get letters. You are not boring him, nor imposing upon his time, if you observe the following rules:

Have your letter typewritten. If you have no typewriting machine, it will only cost you a dime to hire a public stenographer. All handwriting is trying; most of it is crucifying.

Do not sign your name, but type it, so it can be read by all the people who are more illegible in their signatures than anywhere else.

Give your address, your street, number, city, and state. Also the date.

Never roll up a manuscript. Fold it flat.

Do not indulge in personalities. Neither the editor nor the public are to be abused.

Do not use adjectives, especially two or three adjectives. Nouns are bullets and verbs are powder; adjectives are smoke.

QUIPS AND QUIDDITIES

Admiral Montagu was rather fond of telling the story of a young Japanese, with the national love of cleanliness, who came to London to study.

"I never saw such a superstitious fellow as Bizzy," "What was his latest?"

"Why, he's been trying all the morning to prove that 1915 is an unlucky year. He manipulated with the figures 1-9-1-5 with addition, subtraction, multiplication, division and the rule of three."

"Nothing, except that when he added 1-9-1-5 together and subtracted the total, 19, from 1915 it left 1918."

"And that was the year he married."

"I really believe Jack has a soft spot in his heart for the man in prison. He has manipulated with the figures 1-9-1-5 with addition, subtraction, multiplication, division and the rule of three."

"Nothing, except that when he added 1-9-1-5 together and subtracted the total, 19, from 1915 it left 1918."

ELKS PLANT HIGH OLD TIME AT WAYCROSS

Walter P. Andrews Says Atlanta Will Get Next National Meet

"Every Elk in Georgia who is able to set about is going to be at Waycross next Wednesday and Thursday," said Walter P. Andrews today.

"We are going after the great national Elks' convention for 1916 and expect to get it," continued Colonel Andrews.

The grand lodge of Elks is perhaps the greatest convention held in the United States. In Portland, Ore. in 1912 there were 54,000 Elks registered, and it was estimated on the day of the parade that 250,000 visitors were in that city.

Georgia Elks will have a big time at Waycross. The greatest ceremonial convention for 1916 is expected to be held in that city, according to local Elks.

CHARITIES WILL URGE POLICE SYSTEM CHANGE Committee to Ask Appointment of Three Inspectors at Station

The meeting of the committee from the board of police commissioners, which is investigating the efficiency of the police department, will be featured Friday night by the appearance of a committee from the Associated Charities, which will, it is said, demand certain reforms in police procedure.

The Associated Charities committee, headed by Victor H. Kriesgaber, will ask for the appointment of three police inspectors, whose duty it shall be to investigate charges against all prisoners sent to headquarters with a view that in cases where it is practicable the prisoner may be released on a copy of his charges or be completed without waiting in the jail for a police court hearing.

W. D. Ellis Thursday night gave his certificate to the bill of exceptions taken by J. S. Hasleton and the hundred other juries men to the Judge's recent adverse decision to their petition for a permanent injunction against the city of Atlanta to prevent the enforcement of the recent jinyax law ordinance. This will take the case to the supreme court of Georgia.

The party will include the wedding members of the young married set.

To Mrs. Flaudrau The dinner date at which Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brandon entertained Thursday afternoon at their home on the Peachtree road, was a pretty compliment to Mrs. Blair Flaudrau, of Mexico City, who has received charming attention as the guest of Mrs. Don A. Fardes. An effective color scheme in rainbow was carried out in the central decoration of the large round table at which the guests were seated. A flourish of tulle in pink, blue, lavender and orange filled a basket filled with pink roses and peonies, which rested in the center and the candlesticks were painted to match. The dinner dancing was enjoyed.

AMERICAN FASHIONS

One line of a well-known nursery rhyme might be thus revised to apply to a phase of the fashion situation—"she shall have ruffles wherever she goes." The reason is obvious, for seldom have we seen such an abundance of ruffles trimmings made an appearance on frocks for all occasions. They are narrow and wide, corded, hemmed, collared, and frayed—in fact, every known variation in the way of finishing and applying is resorted to with most interesting results.

Particular attention is accorded the design of skirts and tunics, and these invariably show little fluted ruffles as a finish. The frock here shown depicts a pretty disposition of narrow ruffles on a long tunic-sleeve. First there is a knee-length drop, to which a gathered sounce is added, and this in turn is edged with a narrow ruffle. The knee-length drop, is trimmed with festooned ruffles applied at the hip line and a few inches above the edge. The entire tunic is of white net, worn over an underskirt of the same, whose lower edge hangs two or three inches below.

There is a long-sleeved guimpe of white net, trimmed with rows of cut satin buttons and finished at the wrists with self ruffles. The skirt is a boldly cut bolero of straw-colored tulle is worn over the guimpe. The sketch will show how the tulle overlaps beneath the arms, with a broad giraffe of the same tulle run through slashes in the back of the bolero, which is lighter at the fronts. The square embroidered medallions are worked in emerald green.

Kipling Reading at Terrace Rev. W. W. Hemminger will give a Kipling reading Wednesday afternoon, May 13, at 4 o'clock at the Georgian Terrace under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of All Saints' church. All interested are most cordially invited to attend.

D. A. R. Garden Party A feature of interest at the garden party given at the home of Mrs. P. H. Peck Thursday afternoon at Woodlawn, in honor of the members of the Joseph Haberman chapter of the D. A. R. was the reading of the paper on the "Judges of the Supreme Court," which was the paper recently offered by the chapter. Speeches were also made and many interesting reports were given. Prizes were served on the lawn by a group of the younger members. The decorations were in the colors of the D. A. R. In the evening a bunch of peonies were sent to Mrs. Arlyn with appropriate inscription from the chapter. A grand sum was realized from the entertainment.

To Visitor A pleasant occasion of Wednesday evening was the visit of Mrs. Geo. L. Hanscom, which Mrs. Will Sander was hostess in honor of Miss Kestle Booth, of Athens, the guest of Miss Ruth Buchanan. Quantities of wood fern and dogwood were used in decoration. Those invited were Miss Booth, Miss Buchanan, Miss Myrtle Hodges, Miss Mabel Harwood, Miss Ethel Neal, Miss Frances Alexander, Miss Agnes Annus, Miss Josie Vaughn, Miss Thelma Robinson, Mrs. M. W. Alexander, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Faust, Mr. Connally, Mr. Thrasher, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Wade, Mr. McCrary, Mr. Beach, Mr. Holton Taylor and Mr. McDonald.

Do You Know The Real Food Value of Spaghetti? When you talk about buying ten cents or one dollar's worth of any foodstuff, what do you mean by worth? The only measure of genuine worth in the purchase of staples must be scientific. But you judge of worth in mind when you buy the family provisions? Let us see.

Most is probably your biggest item. Yet you do not see an authority that has analyzed the dietitian, says that meat is a dear food. Why? Because you pay far too much for the amount of nutrition that we secure. Meat contains 10 per cent water, but when it is cooked up it is shrank up to 30c a lb.—three-quarters water! Now, take Fast Spaghetti, made from Durum wheat, a fine nutritious cereal. Of spaghetti and its allied products, the same authority says that they contain only 10 per cent water, and these foods are absorbed almost in their entirety. One can make spaghetti and meat. Fast Spaghetti costs 10c a large package—ready all day.

Little Stories For Bedtime

BY THORNTON W. BURDESS

Reddy Fox trotted down the Crooked Little Path. Reddy was feeling very good indeed. He had had a good breakfast. He had nothing to worry him, and he was feeling as good natured as it is possible for him to feel.

Over on the Green Meadows he saw Peter Rabbit. Peter was far from the dear Old Brier Patch. In fact, he was so far from that Reddy felt it his bounden duty to be sure to try to catch Peter.

But somehow, for the first time in his life, he didn't want to catch Peter. Perhaps that was because he had already had a good breakfast. You know a full stomach is one of the very best allies in the world to make good nature.

Reddy sat down and watched Peter, who was hunting for sweet clover. Presently Reddy saw a black speck in the distance. It grew larger and larger. The first Reddy thought it was O' Mistah Buzzard, but as it drew nearer, he saw that it was Reddell the Hawk. It always had seemed to Reddy that it must be a wonderful thing to be able to fly, and many a time when he had had Reddell and Whittell and O' Mistah Buzzard, as they sailed back and forth high in the sky. Some such thoughts were passing through Reddy's mind now as he sat watching Reddell swinging round in great circles.

"I wonder if he has had his breakfast," thought Reddy, "any with nuts that he remembered Peter Rabbit? He looked over at Peter again. Peter was very busy, he was filling that stomach of his with sweet clover, and if there is anything in the world that Peter loves it is sweet clover. Every minute or two Peter would sit up and look around, but he didn't look up to the sky. It was very clear that he had not yet seen Reddell the Hawk.

Reddy grinned. "I reckon I'll see some fun pretty soon if I sit still," thought he. "If Reddell gets much nearer to Peter, Peter will have to show what his legs are good for if he wants to save his skin."

Round and round and round in great circles sailed Reddell and each circle brought him nearer to the ground. Peter Rabbit was having such a good time, if Peter had not seen him it was usually true that he had not seen Peter, but he would in a minute or two. You know that Reddell had wonderful eyes.

"What's the matter with Peter?" muttered Reddy. "If I were out there hunting him, he would have me long ago. If he doesn't watch out, old Reddell will have him before he even knows that Reddell is anywhere near."

Just then Reddell paused and seemed to hang perfectly still in the air. Reddy knew what that meant. He knew that Reddell saw Peter and that he was getting ready to drop like a shot out of the sky. Then Reddy did something that surprised himself. He did not exactly what Sammy Jay had done when he warned Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse. He acted on impulse and there was a good impulse. He opened his mouth and barked.

Now Peter knew what that bark meant. Peter knows Reddy's bark quite as well as he knows the bark of Bowser the Hound. He sat up quickly and looked in Reddy's direction. Once more Reddy barked, and this time Peter looked up in the sky, for he saw that Reddy was looking up in the sky. Instantly Peter jumped and started for the dear Old Brier Patch as fast as his long legs could take him. Lippity-popped, down from the sky shot Reddell the Hawk. Peter dodged this way, Peter dodged that way. And all the time he was looking at his right. Two or three times Reddell almost got him, but not quite, and at last Peter was safe in the dear Old Brier Patch.

That night Reddy just happened to pass the dear Old Brier Patch. Peter called to him. He thanked Reddy for saving him that day, and then when you think he did? Why, he invited Reddy to join the Quaddles. You see he had found some good in Reddy Fox, and that is how it happened that Reddy Fox became a Quaddy.

Anna Pavlova's Daily Lesson In Dancing New Social Steps

Dance posture in forward and back walk in the one-step, posed by Anna Pavlova and her partner.

(This article begins an illustrated series on Anna Pavlova's new social dances and how to perform them, which are to appear daily and exclusively in "The Journal." Some articles have been written by Miss Pavlova, who as premiere ballerina assoluta of the Petropavlovsk opera, is everywhere recognized as the greatest living dancer, and the greatest living authority on the art of the dance. The photographs were posed for by Miss Pavlova and her partner, Ivan Chushe, regarded as Europe's foremost masculine social dancer.—Editor's note.)

BY ANNA PAVLOVA. ARTICLE NO. 1.

I am taking up, as the first of the dances to be included in my "standardization," the one-step, even though this dance has many undesirable features. My reason is that the one-step has qualities, entirely American, and that certain changes make it in some respects a very desirable social dance.

In the play "one-step," as it evolved from the vulgar "lurch-trot," the dancers swayed the bodies from side to side as they moved and sagged at the knees, violating practically every principle of good dancing. The one-step I advocate will be different from the one-step of even last season save in two respects.

Before beginning it the partners must remember a few things which will be of great help. The first is not to swing the body or shoulders from side to side. Avoid anything like a swag.

Stand erect, stiffen and assume the "closed" position. The cavalier will take in his left hand his lady's right and carry their arms at shoulder height, in a manner that keeps their hands near their bodies and guarding against collisions.

The one-step I advocate is divided into six divisions. In the first division I start the dancer with the lady moving forward on the first count of the music, carry her back as is customary. The accompanying photograph, for which I posed with my partner, is the salute which comes on the fourth beat of the music just before the "one-step."

The lady, who must move forward on her right foot as the cavalier starts

NORFOLK MAN TALKS OF GERMAN WARSHIPS

Geo. B. McGrath Tells of Interment of Prince Etel and Kronprinz Wilhelm

George B. McGrath, a prominent figure in the business as well as social life of Norfolk, Va., where the two German battleships, Prince Etel and Kronprinz Wilhelm are interned, was in Atlanta Friday en route to Florida.

Mr. McGrath has entertained the officers of the Prince Etel and the Kronprinz Wilhelm in his home, and when seen at the Ansley spoke most interestingly of the interment of these two German vessels which had been on the high seas since last July with disastrous results for stray ships of the allies.

"The two vessels were originally patrol passenger steamers," said Mr. McGrath, "but when they came into the Norfolk harbor their dull gray hulls were battle scarred, their beautiful interiors covered with coal dust and stink. The about passenger cabins had been filled with coal and were connected by chutes, chipped in the hardwood floors with the engines below so that when the command of 'full steam ahead' should come, the furnaces could be supplied with fuel while all hands could remain at the guns."

"It was at Williams, near the Portsmouth navy yards last Saturday," he added, "when Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, called on the official internment waters for the ships. The Germans had decorated the vessels from stern to prow with bunting and flags and had removed most of the barnacles and clinging sea-life that had become attached to the hulls during nine months of sea patrolling."

"About the officers and crew, I was impressed with the high type of sailor and citizen aboard, and so was every one else who has seen them. Norfolk has received the sailors cordially during their internment and they have the privileges of a resident."

either four or eight steps, according to the pleasure of her cavalier. Her first step will be about eight or nine inches and as the ball of the foot slides along the floor the dancer should permit both her knees to dip slightly, barely enough to give a graceful drooping of the body. If the steps be eight consecutive ones the one directing the lady will dip the fifth count precisely as she has on the first.

The first four backward steps of the cavalier, and the forward steps of the lady should proceed in the straight line of direction. But if the cavalier desires to continue, with the next four steps in the same direction, he will during those four steps, turn himself and his lady to his left. On the eighth count the couple is then in a position (a queen's turn having been made) to progress into the side slide.

Deaths and Funerals

MR. CLAUDE MCGINNIS. Mr. Claude McGinnis, twenty-five years old of the United States navy, died at Pukeat Sound, Wash., Thursday, according to a dispatch received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain unperfumed coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unperfumed coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—(Adv't.)

RICHARD OLNEY MEMBER OF PEACE COMMISSION

Cleveland's Secretary of State Accepts Position Proffered by President

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Richard Olney, secretary of state under President

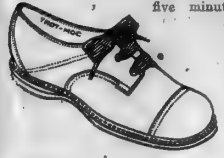

Cleveland, has accepted President Wilson's invitation to become American member of the commission provided for in the recent peace commission treaty with France. Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, has accepted a similar place under the treaty with Russia. In announcing the appointments today Secretary Bryan said several other commissions under similar treaties would be named soon.

Our Adaptations of Useful Embroidery Patterns

Today's illustrations are embroidery designs for the decoration of children's frocks and bibs. They may be copied from this paper thus: If your material is sheer the simplest method is to lay the material over the design opposite, and with a sharply pointed pencil draw over each line. If the material is heavy, secure from any stationery store a piece of carbon impression paper. Lay it face down on the opposite design, then draw over each line of the paper design with a hard pencil or the point of a steel knitting needle.

The above free designs for children's frocks and bibs—together with over four hundred other embroidery and initial patterns for every conceivable purpose—may also be had at the office of this newspaper in the form of the Innovation Set of beautiful embroidery transfer patterns, each one of the 400 new designs capable of being transferred six to fifteen times—no hot iron required—for 60c. or 75c. by mail. These individual designs, if purchased separately, would exceed $10 in cost.

With this package of over 400 transfer patterns we also present to you entirely free one set (valued at 40 cents) of everything required for successful embroidery, consisting of two six-inch embroidery hoops, one package of ten assorted embroidery needles, one stiletto, one bodkin, and an Embroidery Instructor containing illustrations and directions for all the newest as well as the standard stitches. Money back instantly if not satisfied. Address this newspaper.

Here and There

Under the ruling of the United States supreme court nurses in California are only allowed to work eight hours a day. The war has been the cause of the postponement of several royal marriages abroad.

Among the Berber tribes in Morocco, women are yoked to the plow with an ox and mule.

The Delaware senate has passed the mothers' pension bill framed after the Wisconsin law.

Co-eds at Haddrell college are now compelled to use the shower baths as a part of their course.

About one-half of the women workers in the stores of Indiana receive on an average less than $1 a week. Sudden death among women is in the proportion of one to every eight men.

Chatham County Failing to Act, City Government Gets Busy

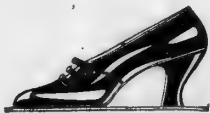

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 7.—The city of Savannah is still after the man who has not paid his 1915 automobile tax. The recorder had some more offenders before him this morning and dismissed them provided they would get the badges for their cars.

The state has to thank the city of Savannah for much of the money it gets from here. The city uses the state badges for the purpose of identifying car owners. The city ordinances require that there shall be a registration of all badge numbers by car owners at the city hall. To get these numbers the city decided to docket every car owner, who didn't have a 1915 badge. The result has been a great haul for the state. The county commissioners, who were delegated to collect the tax, declined to do so.

Between the jitney buses and the private cars the recorder has had a busy time this week. There are as many jitney buses running as ever. All the owners who were recently fined, have given bond, appealed their cases and gone to running their cars again as merrily as ever.

RED CROSS HEAD SAYS GARMAN SEIZED FUNDS

Gen. Von Bissing Charged With Dispossessing Relief Society in Belgium

LONDON, May 7.—A dispatch from Havre to the Daily Telegraph says that Prince de Ligne, president of the Belgian Red Cross, reports that General Von Bissing, the German governor of Belgium, has dispossessed the Red Cross from its powers and seized funds amounting to 200,000 francs ($40,000).

The dispatch states that Prince de Ligne has filed protests with Brand Whitlock, United States minister to Belgium, and the international headquarters of the Red Cross at Geneva.

SUPERIOR TURKISH FORCE IS ROUTED BY RUSSIANS

Ottoman Army at Dilman Numbered 18,000. It is Officially Announced

(By Associated Press.)

TRIFLIG, May 7.—(Via Petrograd and London, May 7.)—It has been officially established that the Turkish force who, under Thali Bey, recently occupied Dilman, numbered 18,000 men. This shows that their numerical strength was greater than that of the Russians who eventually drove them back. The trophies taken by the Russians were a complete hospital outfit and enormous quantities of stores. It is not known how many prisoners were taken. The Turkish commander and his staff narrowly escaped capture.

Reports received by Armenians here tell of the murder of a member of the Turkish parliament from Van, an Armenian named Wraman. A celebrated Van political worker named Iskan, and four companions also lost their lives with Wraman. The six men were killed while on their way to Shattuk to lead in the defense of that place against the Kurds.

Shattuk was bombarded by 200 Turkish regular troops. Armenians numbering 200 assembled at Saragun to oppose the murderous bands of Kurds threatening that place, but the Kurds were aided by Turkish regulars and after a long struggle the Armenians all were wiped out except eight men, who ultimately found shelter in the monastery of St. Tativan.

An agent of the Armenian aid committee, after a horseback trip from Alashkirt to Dayaz, has reported that region is fully occupied by Russians and that 4,000 out of 25,000 refugees have returned to their homes.

Deeds Go to Record Conveying Properties Given by Asa G. Candler in Part Payment for Department Store Corner—Improvements to Follow Approval of Bond Issue at East Lake—Peachtree Heights Auction Saturday

Deeds went to record Friday conveying from Asa G. Candler to the McClure Realty and Investment company his Inman Park home and the Ivy street corner which were given in part payment for the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose corner, the sale of which was announced some time ago.

No consideration was given in the warranty deed conveying the Inman Park corner. The lot is 117x230. The consideration for the Ivy street corner was $27,000, and it was conveyed in the form of an administrator's deed from the estate of Mrs. Emma K. Amours, from which Mr. Candler bought it. The lot has a frontage of 44 feet on Ivy street and a depth on Baker street of 92 feet. The conveyance was in two parcels.

EAST LAKE BONDS. Now that the bond issue at East Lake has been approved by such an overwhelming vote of the taxpayers there, several improvements will be set on foot at once.

The most conspicuous improvement will be the erection of a school building, thus enabling the people to live at East Lake all the year and educate their children there.

The local of the school hasn't been announced as yet, but it is understood that the building will be a model as regards space and school facilities.

Other improvements which will be a complete waterworks system for the town and its own sewer system. These improvements should be well under way by summer.

AUCTION SALE SATURDAY. The E. Rivers Realty company will hold an important auction sale Saturday afternoon, when they will offer several lots in Peachtree Heights.

Peachtree Heights is on the east side of Peachtree road about five miles out, and is across that road from Peachtree Heights Park, which is controlled by the same company.

Peachtree Heights was developed before Peachtree Heights park. It has water, sewer and paved thoroughfares both on and east of the road. Several houses have been built in this subdivision since it was first developed. The weather man promises fair weather Saturday, and a large attendance is expected at the sale.

FIGHT IS EXPECTED ON THE JUNE FINANCE SHEET

Mayor Says Tax Payments This Year Will Barely Equal Those of 1914

The first rumblings of an almost certain fight between the mayor and the majority of council over the June finance sheet were heard Friday, when Mayor Woodward after conference with tax assessors declared that the tax payments this year can be expected to barely equal those of 1914, despite the fact that nearly $110,000 in increased revenue was anticipated in the January appropriation sheet.

Should the definite figures of tax and other city returns, which are being compiled for the use of the finance committee in making the June sheet, bear out the statement of the mayor, then it will be up to council to stop much of the work, which has been planned for the year.

Alderman Albert Thomson declared that very likely the mayor's estimate will prove correct, and he urges a municipal bond issue in order that the city's development not be retarded in the summer and employes thrown out of work instead of stopping work if the revenue is short of the amount anticipated.

Mayor Woodward in discussing the city financial condition Friday indicated that when the finance committee meets to make out the June budget he will renew his efforts to have salaries in several departments, which he considers too large, cut, and some positions abolished.
