BOND ELECTION WILL BE ASKED OF CITY COUNCIL

Special Committee Will Recommend That $3,150,000 Issue Be Voted On

The recommendation that council call an election to issue municipal bonds in the sum of $3,150,000 will be made that body next Monday in the report of the special bond committee of which Alderman Albert Thomson is chairman.

The report issued as agreed upon by the bond committee carries $1,000,000 for the erection of new buildings in the public school system including new high schools.

It also carries $1,000,000 for the completion of the city's trunk sewer system. Estimates obtained by Chairman Thomson show that it will take more than $1,300,000 to fully complete the sewerage system, but if the county commission does part of the work $1,000,000 will suffice.

The recommendation of the bond committee carries an item of $750,000 for the purchase of a new motor and steam equipment for the water works department.

The issue of $300,000 bonds for a new annex and a nurses' dormitory at the Grady hospital is recommended.

One hundred thousand is recommended for the erection of a fireproof cyclorama building at Grant park. The committee decided not to recommend bonds for the improvement of the existing parks or for a chain of small parks in the central part of the city recommended by R. R. Otis.

The committee included an item of $150,000 to motorize the fire department. It decided not to ask the people to vote on bonds for two police subdivisions.

The report of the bond committee, with the recommendation by Councilman O. Smith that a bond commission of fifteen citizens to supervise the expenditure of the bond money be created will be submitted to council at a special session Monday. A majority of council members seem to favor the bond and it is generally believed a bond election will be called.

Governor Station, Henry D'Arcy, the Belgian consul, Dr. F. E. May, the French consul, and Consul Brookfield, Zurich consul at Savannah, will attend. The entertainment is open to British-born citizens of Atlanta, their descendants, and the tickets, which may be obtained from George Hays or R. J. MacDonald, are $1.50 each.

RAILROAD WORKERS TO SPEND DAY IN ATLANTA

Section Men of Georgia and A. & W. P. to Be Given Outing Saturday

Section hands and other laborers of the Georgia railroad and the Atlanta and West Point railroad will arrive in Atlanta Saturday morning by the hundreds with their children and women folk to enjoy a day in Atlanta as the guests of their roads.

Joe Billups, general passenger agent in Atlanta for both of the roads, has arranged for the day's amusement, which will be many.

A trolley ride to Grant park for all of the bunch—probably 600—a big barbecue on the railroad property near the park, a music by a band specially engaged for the affair will be some of the features of the occasion. But perhaps the biggest treat to the hands will be Atlanta itself; many of them, it is said, have never seen its bigger than county village.

LIQUOR QUESTION STIRS PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

Protest Against Indorsing National Prohibition Arouses Intense Interest

NEWPORT NEWS Va., May 21.—A fervent protest against the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the south in favor of national prohibition was entered at the morning session of the assembly here today by the Transylvania Presbyterian of Kentucky. The protest came unexpectedly and aroused intense interest. Heated discussion on the floor of the assembly is anticipated when the committee on bills and overtures, to which it was referred, makes its report.

The general assembly, at its last annual session in Kansas City, adopted a resolution advocating national prohibition and at that time a large number of the commissioners signed a formal protest against such action on the ground that it was a violation of the constitution in its prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

It is held that the general assembly prohibited the constitution from dealing in politics further than to advise or petition and that it has no right to advocate political issues. The Transylvania's protest called the attention of the assembly to the fact that the 151 convention, when a resolution recommending that a stand be taken in favor of national prohibition was presented by the Transylvania Presbyterian that was thrown out by the constitution of the church.

The committee on bills and overtures may uphold the protest in its report or may recommend that it be treated as information and no action taken thereon. In either case, it is said, there will be prolonged discussion. Commissioners from other Presbyteries are understood also to oppose the resolution prohibiting by the general assembly.

Today's program for the general assembly included devotional services beginning at 10 o'clock, a business session immediately following, a trip to the Hampton Normal and Agricultural school at 12 o'clock, and an evangelistic meeting tonight at 8 o'clock.

The feature of this morning's business session will be the reading of the report of Rev. M. F. McPherson, D. D., superintendent of evangelism.

This report will be heard with even greater interest because of the following facts of encouragement in evangelistic work. During the year just closed 29,154 members have been added to the churches of the assembly on profession of faith, against 19,147 the previous year—an increase of 4,907. The total membership of the church is now 322,259, giving a net increase of 21,737 for the year.

Overtures from the presbyteries and synods will be submitted immediately upon the opening of the business session, followed by the appointment of committees to which the overtures will be referred.

This afternoon the commissioners will hear special cars for the trip to Hampton, where they will be shown over the big colored institution and be entertained at lunch.

Rev. F. F. McPherson, D. D., of Richmond, Va., will preside over the session tonight. Addresses will be delivered as follows:

"The Simultaneous Denominational City Campaign," Rev. William Crow, D. D., of Memphis, Tenn.
"The Evangelistic Program for the Presbytery," Rev. D. P. McGeachy, of Leathburg, Va.
"The Factor as Volunteer Evangelist," Rev. J. A. Bryan, Birmingham, Ala.
"Personal Evangelism," Rev. L. D. Lumbard, D. D., Atlanta, Ga.

MORE MINISTERS WANTED.
The report of the executive committee of Christian education and ministerial relief urges the churches to send more ministers. During the year it says sixty-four young men will be graduated from theological seminaries, but more than thirty ministers have been removed by death during the year and eleven have been retired on account of sickness or age. During the year, the report says, the committee added 399 candidates for the ministry who are in school.

During the year, the report says, aid has been given, through the channel of ministerial relief, to sixty-two ministers, one hundred and forty-six widows and twenty-three orphans. These beneficiaries represent 231 homes. The total amount granted to beneficiaries the past year was $43,416.09, or $4,713.23 more than last year.

The average assistance rendered the twenty-four ministers on the honorably retired roll is $27.68 per year; the average paid to the thirty-two other ministers who are beneficiaries $248.40; the average to the one hundred and forty-six widows $12.30; and the average to the twenty-three orphans $42.74.

The executive committee on publications and Sabbath school work reports a gain of $10,000 in the sales of the book and periodical department during the year and that the committee published a greater number of tracts and booklets than in any previous year in its history.

The report says that plans have been perfected for publication of a series of pamphlets for the Transylvania Presbyterian department graded Sabbath school periodicals in conjunction with five other Presbyterian and reformed churches in the United States and Canada, adding eight new publications to the committee's present list of fourteen.

Under the committee's direction, the report adds, two new buildings have been erected—one in Richmond as the home of the committee east of the Mississippi; and one at Texarkana as its home in the west.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP.
The home missions committee reports that additions to the membership of the church through efforts of the committee have shown an increase of 50 per cent during the year.

These additions numbered about 4,500 in the year just closed. Receipts for home missions were $187,566.42, or $1,044.43 less than last year. Contributions of churches and societies increased.

The report recommends that the church contribute sufficient money to place an efficient Presbyterian pastor in charge of all weak and vacant churches in each presbytery and that he give them his personal attention until they pass through their critical periods. The work of the committee, on the frontier, in the mountain missions in the mountain mission schools and among the foreign speaking people of the south is meeting with pronounced success, says the report. Mountain mission schools supported in whole or in part by the assembly's home missions fund for the Christian education of mountain youth.

Work among foreigners include support of 14 missionaries who minister to 84 churches, with a total membership of 3,313, and with church property and equipment valued at $28,100.

During the year membership of negro churches increased 8 per cent. The total membership of the 12 negro churches now is 2,369.

This morning's session of the assembly was featured by the report on evangelism submitted by the superintendent of this branch of the church, Rev. H. F. Milay D. D.

Mr. Milay's report showed that great progress had been made during the year just closed and the work of evangelism was being pushed with entire satisfaction. His report was received with interest and the superintendent lauded for his successful efforts.

Reports From Boards Considered by Assembly

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—Reports from the boards of missions and church extension, education, publication and ministerial relief were considered today by the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, in session here.

Breaking away from the precedent of all previous sessions, the commissioners late yesterday elected William Clark, an elder, of Jefferson, Tex., as moderator. He succeeded Rev. F. A. Brown, of Oklahoma. Heretofore only clerical delegates have been selected to preside over the deliberations of the assembly in session today.

The women's missionary convention, an auxiliary to the general assembly, also was in session today.

$49,000 DEFICIT FACED BY FINANCE COMMITTEE

Money Must Be Found or Appropriations for Improvements Must Be Cut

Statistics made up by Chairman A. W. Farlinger, of the council finance committee, and B. G. West, of the city comptroller's office, show that a deficit of $49,000 must be faced by the finance committee when it meets Monday to begin work on the June appropriation sheet. This does not mean that the city will not earn the revenue anticipated when the January or tentative budget was filed, for the figures show that it will certainly come within a few thousand dollars of reaching the estimate, but many of the departments declare they must have additional appropriations. Several of the departments, which have horses for instance, show that in January a sufficient amount of money for forage was not appropriated, and items like this must be considered. As a result the figures of Chairman Farlinger and Mr. West, which were submitted to the mayor Friday, show the $49,000 deficit. The total revenue estimated in January with expenditures to balance it, was $4,875,250. The estimate made up Friday increases the disbursement side by $450,000, leaving up to the finance committee to find that much more money, or cut appropriations for improvements.

SAFE TO BE SEARCHED FOR MR. HIGHT'S WILL
$86,000 Worth of Bonds Turned Over Friday to Mrs. Hight's Lawyer

In their search for the will of Mr. Emmett Hight, the Atlanta real estate man who died this week, attorneys who represented him before his death and attorneys for Mrs. Carrie Deaton Hight, the widow, found $86,000 worth of bonds in Mr. Hight's office in the Empire building Thursday. Reuben R. Arnold, Mrs. Hight's attorney, and James A. Branch, of Moore & Branch, and Paul Bartlett, who were Mr. Hight's lawyers, searched the office thoroughly with the exception of the safe. While the will was not found, a small filing cabinet contained the bonds, $46,000 of which were city of Atlanta bonds, $21,000 local bank bonds and the remainder national bonds. They were turned over to attorney Arnold. It is believed now that if Mr. Hight left a will, it is in the safe and attorneys have arranged to have this opened by a locksmith Saturday.

EGG CASE IS NOW IN THE HANDS OF JURY
Does Storage of Meat Near Eggs Injure Them, Question at Issue

After a hearing lasting three weeks a jury in Judge George L. Belts' division of the superior court began to deliberate at 10 o'clock Friday on the question as to whether, or not $24,125 eggs stored in an ice plant, for several months deteriorated in value because of their proximity to cases of fruits and vegetables and meats. The Swift Packing company, owners of the eggs, claimed in the court that the eggs had deteriorated in value to the extent of $5,500 because, after their long stay in the cold storage plant they tasted like the meats and vegetables near which they are alleged to have been stored. The suit started when the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation filed a claim against the Swift company for $600, an alleged unpaid balance on the storage fee. The packing company brought the counter suit claiming the eggs should not have been stored near the vegetables.

When he received his parole from the convict department he claimed it and declared that he already had obtained a position as carpenter in Montgomery at $3 a day. Jones; the Swift company by H. C. Cleeves.

Safety First In Buying a Piano

Here Is a Piano Store That Offers the Genuine Advantages of Fractional Payments

A friend informed us that his wife had bought a piano for four hundred dollars. Later she examined a piano here that she could have bought for three hundred twenty-five dollars, that she liked better. His remark was: "You see, my wife not only bought a piano, she bought credit as well, and paid a rather good price for them."

The fractional payment plan that this Piano Store works on does not involve the payment of one penny of tribute.

Our prices are the same for extended payments as for cash—and you may fix the period or periods of payment to suit your personal convenience.

And since this system of payment—giving us a fraction of the purchase price until the indebtedness has been wiped out—is in force, on pianos of such quality as we offer there is little reason for one to make the mistake of the above woman.

The Starr $375 to $525, The Richmond $325, The Trayser $290 to $325, The Remington $265.

WALTER ANDREWS SAYS SPEECH WAS MISQUOTED

Remarks on Legislature and Prohibition Only Incidental, He Says

Editor The Journal: I had the honor and pleasure yesterday of addressing the Ad. Men. club, at its invitation, and the subject I chose as the basis of my remarks was "The Necessity of Constructive Legislation in the Next General Session of Georgia." Practically every member of this awake business men of Atlanta congratulated me most warmly upon my remarks upon that occasion, but the choice of my subject has astonished me beyond any description.

As a mere incidental remark, introductory to my speech, I expressed the hope that the next general session would not fritter away its time as some of them had been doing for the past eight years on such questions as beer and locker clubs. I then remarked that we had a sweeping, wide-spread, visible law, which is as well, if not better, executed in Georgia than our laws against larceny, robbery, burglary and murder. I then expressed the opinion that there should be a somewhat greater degree of liberality in matters of that kind in such large municipal centers as Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta and Macon, than in rural counties with small centers of population of 1,000 or 2,000.

One or two suggestions had been made to me, prior to the speech, that I discuss Atlanta affairs, but I replied that I desired to discuss issues from the standpoint of a legislator, rather than that of a city councilman, and I expressly declined to refer to matters of that sort. I then stated that Georgia had been going through a period of long depression, thousands of her best citizens, and that I greatly hoped the next general session of the Georgia legislature would be a constructive one. I named as the most important pressing for solution the releasing of the railroads from the control of the state, and the proper handling of its valuable terminal properties in Chattanooga; and in that connection, I named as another matter of great importance the construction of Atlanta's big pipeline.

I then took up a proposition, which is of very great interest to me and of very great interest to all of the people of the broad proposition of improving and developing country life in the state and in the improvement of our school system. I discussed a state-wide improvement of our school system and said that every child in Georgia ought to be made so good that no neighbor of the school should feel compelled to move to town for the education of his children. I elaborated a little upon that proposition by saying that every school in Georgia, whether for whites or blacks, should make a special point of teaching the cardinal virtues of life, such as every good citizen must know and ought to practice, including truth telling, honorable dealing, virtue, respect for elders, etc. and I also said that every one should be taught to teach the elementary principles of domestic science and to teach the domestic and economics of everyday life.

One of the main points of my speech was that the next legislature ought to establish a state highway commission and to lend every influence of the state toward scientific road-making in this state. I also discussed that proposition at some length and said that there are nine times in the union that have not such commissions, seven of those nine being southern states and Georgia being one of these states. The last point I made was that I believed that the legislature would enact laws upon such a broad and fair and honest basis that Georgia in a safe and inviting field for investment, which would start the wheels of business to going in our state, would give employment to all of our people and re-establish property in our midst.

That, Mr. Editor, was the substance and purpose of my speech, but every word and line of it of this constructive matter was omitted from the great notice and the few incidental preteritory remarks above named were enlarged and developed into what appeared to be a sensational statement. I never even expressed an opinion on the liquor question in Georgia or the prohibition question, but said that I stood ready to vote as my constituents desired me to do upon that question as well as upon all others. I said that my conception of a true representative is that of a man who is sent to do the will of those whom he represents, and that I considered it a great honor and privilege to be one of three to represent the 216,000 people of Fulton county, and that it would be the earnest purpose of my official career to properly and accurately represent them.

Respectfully,
 WALTER P. ANDREWS.

POULAN SCHOOL CLOSES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 POULAN, Ga., May 21.—The most successful term of Poulan High school will close Wednesday night. The commencement sermon will be preached Sunday by Rev. R. K. Davis of Greenville, Ga. Congressman Frank Park will deliver the literary address Monday morning at 11 o'clock. The graduating class numbers eight.

Catch Saves Game But Player Almost Kills Self Making It

With his right eye almost scratched out, his face lacerated and his arm broken, Henry Digby, a youth of East Point, lay on the operating table at the Grady hospital Friday morning, suffering great pain but proud of the heroic stab which won a ball game for the Oleaners.

Young Digby was playing in the outfield Monday morning for the Oleaners in a match game against the Hapeville Sluggers. Three men were on the sacks, two out and the Oleaners were leading by one run. O. C. of course, it was the ninth inning!

Suddenly there was the well known sweat of stick and sphere. The batter had sliced one on the nose and it was soaring toward Digby with mustard on it.

East Point outfielders were not made of candy. When Digby closed his eyes with his gloved hand in the air, he lapped the ball and it was in the glove's hand. After the tumult and the shouting had perished, the ambulance had been called and Digby dug out of the batted wire, he found his right arm still stuck on his right shoulder, his glove still stuck on his right hand and in the glove the ball. Digby's catch won the game.

THE WINDOW BLOCK

Grant Street

It's so easy to be misunderstood. And misunderstanding leads so carelessly to misrepresentation.

Take, for instance, this matter of wood-block paving on Grant street. We are misrepresented now as attempting, without good cause, to "block" that enterprise.

As plainly as English can express, it is stated in our letter to the Chief of Construction that we object to covering $112,000 of a new track that isn't needed on Grant street; that the present track, just four years old, would have to be junked; that the present rails are quite suitable for wood-block; and that by contract made in 1912 the city bond itself may require us necessarily to change our type of track on any street.

That's our position. Quite fair, isn't it?

The bill for repaving Grant street with wood-block would be $18,000, divided thus: City of Atlanta, $5,000; property owners, one side, $2,000; property owners, other side, $5,000; Georgia Railway and Power Co., $6,000.

But add $11,000. That would be the cost of changing our track—an unnecessary change, we say, even for wood-block paving. Add that, and our share's $20,000—more than three times what anybody else pays.

We can't afford any more than you, to waste money; and that would be pure waste.

Moreover, the city's good faith is expressed in the 1912 contract.

All we ask is a little fairness.

CROWDS IN COURT AT RIGGS BANK HEARING

Spectators Are Drawn by Clash of Senator Bailey and Justice McCoy

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, May 21.—A big crowd of spectators, drawn as a result of yesterday's clash between former Senator Bailey and Justice McCoy, filled the district supreme court room today at the resumption of arguments on the government's motion for the dismissal of the temporary injunction obtained by the Riggs National bank against treasury officials.

Senator Bailey, of counsel for the bank, resumed his concluding argument in opposition to the motion. He replied in detail to Samuel Undermyer, who made the closing argument for the government.

'WAR BRIDES' COMING TO FORSYTH NEXT WEEK

Vaudette's greatest play, "War Brides," a feature that has excited more interest than anything that has been offered on the New York stage this season, has been secured to headline the bill at the Forsyth for the week starting with next Monday's matinee. "War Brides" has been read several times to the Atlanta Drama League and there is remarkable interest among the eight hundred members of the organization, and an advance reservation of a famous actress.

The play has had attention for four months at one of the principal New York vaudeville theaters with a famous actress in the leading role and because of the tremendous success of the act the Keith circuit organized another company to play several important cities before the end of the season, and in the list Atlanta was included. The story is a powerful appeal for universal peace. It is neutral. It would be of interest if there were no trouble between nations—it is just a wonderful offering.

"War Brides" heads a bill that will measure up to the best standard of the Forsyth.

"A Blessing on Your Head" in more ways than one.

ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine

First, it is a real hair beautifier—not a common formula—not a dye—not a cure for hair diseases—but a refined, fragrant beautifier, used by women of culture everywhere.

It also cleanses the scalp in a hygienic way—it does more than a shampoo can do. It prevents dandruff and stops itching of the scalp, which annoys at times, even when the hair is washed frequently.

It also strengthens the hair and helps maintain a healthy scalp condition so that the hair ceases to fall out. It imparts a beautiful lustre to the hair and makes it easy to arrange.

It prevents any unpleasant odor of the scalp or hair and lends a delicate perfume of its own.

In many ways ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine is the most valuable preparation on the cultured woman's dressing table and one bottle faithfully used will prove it. Ask for a 50c or $1.00 bottle at any drug or department store. Test it for yourself and watch the results.

The table had a pretty centerpiece formed of garden flowers arranged in a white and gold vase with two smaller vases at each end. Covers were laid for fourteen.

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil.

The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—(Advt.)

THE NATIONAL STRENGTH DISH

THIS nation is slowly but surely awakening to the remarkable food value of Macaroni. When we consider the splendid physique of Southern Europeans, who make Macaroni their main staple, we can well afford to give this economical food a large space in our daily menu.

FAUST MACARONI

is made from Durum wheat, a cereal extremely rich in gluten. Gluten is the food element that goes to build up firm tissue and rich blood. You can make no end of reliable dishes with Faust Macaroni. It is easy to digest, too. Write for free recipe book.
