WASHINGTON, June 10.—A German official statement today, it is said, has announced that the Russian forces in the Baltic have retreated before the German fleet. The statement says that the German fleet has sunk 100 British torpedoes, two torpedo boats, six trawlers, and one steamer. It also mentions that German forces are still advancing in Galicia.

WILSON ASKS QUICK ANSWER TO SECOND DEMAND ON KAISER

Note Sets Forth Clearly American's Desire That Berlin Signify Immediately Adherence to International Principles

BELIEVED THAT NOTE HAS REACHED GERMANY

Cabinet Officials Refuse to Discuss Details of Note Which Will Not Be Made Public Until Friday

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The American note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania which precipitated the crisis in President Wilson's cabinet and as a climax to which William J. Bryan resigned as secretary of state, was believed here to have reached Ambassador Gerard in Berlin early today. It is expected that the ambassador would present the communication immediately to the German foreign office. It will be given out for publication tomorrow. In the meantime, President Wilson has asked that detailed forecasts of the note be not published. It is understood here that the German government will not make answer to the American note until after August 15. The note is believed to have been sent to London by the secretary of state, and the German ambassador in London is expected to arrive and explain the situation. It is estimated, will take at least a week or ten days.

BRITAIN'S PREPARING SECOND STATEMENT ABOUT RESIGNATION

Will Make It Public Simultaneous With Publication Tomorrow of Wilson's Note to Germany

OFFICIALS ARE AMAZED BY ACTION OF SECRETARY

Pronounced Expression of Opinion at This Critical Stage Is Considered as Most Unfortunate

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Former Secretary Bryan is preparing another statement of his attitude on the situation between the United States and Germany which he intends to leave for publication with the appearance of the text of the American note tomorrow morning newspaper. Mr. Bryan's resignation as secretary of state and the circumstances leading up to it still hold the center of interest in Washington today, overshadowing even the dispatch of another note to Germany, via the British ambassador in London, and also its political consequences abroad wide speculation. Chief attention is concentrated on the effect of Secretary Bryan's personal statement giving the reasons for his resignation. That statement, Mr. Bryan announced his resignation as a protest against the American policy toward Germany. He expressed his view of what the American policy toward Germany should be. The propositions which Mr. Bryan expects to urge upon the people are that an effort should be made to Germany to submit the questions in dispute to an international commission for investigation during a year's time and that meanwhile American citizens should by protesting to their congress and to their newspapers carry on a campaign of protest against the American government. These propositions, Mr. Bryan submitted to the president, who had not yet justified in adopting them. Mr. Bryan hopes to create a public sentiment in favor of his proposals, that will cause war with Germany impossible.

SUPT. BRITAIN TENDERED POST OF SUPERINTENDENT

Committee Gives Him Until July 31 to Decide on Change

A committee representing the Atlanta board of education called upon State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Brittain Thursday afternoon and formally tendered him the position of superintendent of the Atlanta schools to succeed William M. Slaton, who was defeated for re-election at the meeting of the board on last Saturday. The committee which called upon Brittain was named at the board meeting on Saturday, and consisted of the following members: James L. Key, chairman; Dr. J. M. Morgan, Harvey Harter, Dan Green and R. J. Gulian, president of the board of education, who was an ex-officio member of the notification committee. Mr. Brittain's statement was received with undisguised attention in official quarters here, and some high officials indicated that they believed it most unfortunate that he should have accepted the position of superintendent of the Atlanta schools. The resignation of Mr. Brittain was announced in a general meeting, and some had expressed their surprise at the resignation. SHOW GIRLS MAKE CHARGE AGAINST THEATER CENSOR

Policeman Ed Arthur Too Familiar, Girl Tells Recorder, Show Goes On

Charges of undue familiarity toward the show girls as the Old Mill, now the Folly theater, on W. Peachtree street, was made against Policeman Ed Arthur, police censor of theatrical performances, when a case made by him against the manager of the Folly was heard before Recorder Johnson Thursday morning. The charges were brought by Miss Helen Monroe, one of the actresses in the Folly, who with half a dozen other girls, appeared in the case. Arthur had heard she had a cent in her pocket. The girl declared that on one occasion Policeman Arthur had attempted to put his arms around her and that his general demeanor toward the girls in the show was too familiar. She said he had forced Alma Smith, another girl, to stand on a table in her costume and be subjected to a close scrutiny under a light brought out by him. "This Arthur denied, declaring that some body else and not himself had made the examination. Miss Monroe also testified that recently Arthur had attempted to put his arms around her and that his general demeanor toward the girls in the show was too familiar. She said he had forced Alma Smith, another girl, to stand on a table in her costume and be subjected to a close scrutiny under a light brought out by him. SLATON INDICATES HE'LL ACT IN THE FRANK CASE

Commutation Hearing Will Begin Before the Governor Saturday Morning

After conferring in his office Thursday morning with attorneys representing Leo M. Frank and Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey, Governor John M. Slaton forced Saturday morning at 9 o'clock as the day and hour to begin his hearing of the arguments for and against Frank's application for a commutation of death sentence to life imprisonment. In the course of the conference with the attorneys Slaton made a remark which was generally construed by those present to mean that his purpose is not to pass Frank's application over to his successor, Governor Dawson, but to decide it himself. "Another feature of the conference was a statement by Solicitor Dorsey that certain gentlemen out of the city had asked to be allowed to appear with him in opposition to the granting of Frank's application. He did not call any names, but it was understood that the gentlemen were Judge R. B. Sikes, Attorney Harry A. Alexander, of Atlanta, Leonard Mann, of Atlanta, and W. C. Williams, of Dawson, Ga., with Mr. Howard, it was Mr. Williams' first appearance in the case. The state was represented in the conference by Solicitor Dorsey. The attorneys filed into the governor's private office at 10 o'clock, and were followed by the press. Solicitor Howard made the usual formal application for a hearing and when he was asked to appear, he declined to do so. He wanted the hearing to begin at once. The governor asked Solicitor Dorsey when he would be ready to appear. He replied that his argument would depend largely on the argument made by attorneys for Frank. It was here that Solicitor Dorsey mentioned the "out-of-town gentlemen who had asked to appear. He said he was engaged Thursday in the trial of another case and would like to postpone the hearing before he could appear. In substance he said he would appear at least one day. How long the scope of the showing which Frank's attorneys intend to make in substance he said he would be practically the same as the showing made before the prison commission. In view of the report of the commission in the case, the letter from Judge Rouse expressing a doubt as to Frank's guilt, the hearing before the governor will be practically the same as the showing made before the prison commission. KAISER TURNS DOWN IN CASE OF THE FIVE

Insists That Prize Court Shall Fix Amount of Compensation Due for Sinking of American Steamer

ADMITS LIABILITY AND IS WILLING TO SETTLE

Kaiser Cannot Admit Destruction of Vessel Constitutes Violation of U. S. Treaty With Prussia

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Germany's latest note to the United States regarding the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the Prussian torpedo boat, was received today, raising the far-reaching claim of a right to destroy any American vessel carrying contraband, while agreeing to pay damages for the act.

Two points made by the United States are rejected by Germany. One was the statement of the American government in its note of April 28 that contraband articles were not to be carried on board any vessel, although through diplomatic channels. The other was that the destruction of the Frye constituted a violation of the obligations imposed upon the Imperial government under existing treaty stipulations between the United States and Prussia.

Under the Prussian-American treaty of 1858, the boundary between which was admitted by Germany in its note of April 28, the right of citizens of either country to ship arms and ammunition as well as all other kinds of contraband is guaranteed. The note also stated in time of war, but such party had the right to detain such contraband on board any vessel, although through diplomatic channels.

The note from Germany also stated that while the United States had specifically permitted the destruction of a vessel carrying contraband, it had not been stopped in any other way, it could, in the extreme case, be effected by the military force of a contraband and of the ship carrying it.

The text of the German reply follows: "The undersigned has the honor to inform you that the German government cannot admit that the destruction of the sailing vessel mentioned in your note of April 28 constitutes a violation of the treaty concluded between Prussia and the United States at an earlier date and that the German government does not have the intention of stopping the supply of contraband to life enemy when he recognized the supply of such as detrimental to his military interests.

On the contrary, article 10 of the Prussian-American treaty of July 11, 1858, expressly reserves to the party at war the right to stop the supply of contraband and to detain the contraband. It follows, then, that if it cannot be accomplished by other means, the stopping of the supply may in the extreme case be effected by the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband. As a matter of course, the obligation of the party at war to pay compensation for the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband remains on the neutral contracting party remains on the party whose vessel was destroyed.

According to general principles of international law, the party at war is not bound to pay compensation for the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband. It follows, then, that if it cannot be accomplished by other means, the stopping of the supply may in the extreme case be effected by the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband. As a matter of course, the obligation of the party at war to pay compensation for the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband remains on the neutral contracting party remains on the party whose vessel was destroyed.

The beginning of the present war, Germany's liability to these principles established by law prize jurisdiction for the capture of vessels carrying contraband. The case of the William P. Frye is likewise subject to the German prize jurisdiction for the capture of vessels carrying contraband. The case of the William P. Frye is likewise subject to the German prize jurisdiction for the capture of vessels carrying contraband.

The German government's position is that the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband is a violation of the treaty. The German government's position is that the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband is a violation of the treaty. The German government's position is that the destruction of the vessel carrying the contraband is a violation of the treaty.

BRYAN IS PREPARING SECOND STATEMENT ABOUT RESIGNATION

For us to understand that a minister, at a time when his country was discussing with Germany an agreement which would be the use of submarines against merchant ships, could part company with his chief executive and openly declare that he is in complete disagreement with him as to the methods to be employed.

"We should say this minister had not the right to diminish the prestige of his government before the world, but Mr. Bryan has a double excuse. First of all, ministerial discipline must have seemed rather loose to a man who so many times has aimed at the presidency. Then, his departure does not in any way lessen the prestige of his government for that prestige rests on the ardent patriotism of the American people, on the deep sense of justice, honor, high character and popularity of President Wilson, and last but not least, on the powerful fleet which President Wilson received last night."

English Papers Believe

War is Not Inevitable

LONDON, June 10.—Remarks that while it was in the German press that Mr. Bryan was a bitter enemy and a strong partisan of the allies, he has resigned rather than sign a document he fears may lead to war with Germany, the Daily News says:

"The truth is, of course, he never was anti-German or pro-British, but always a good American and a confirmed pacifist. That the American press should assail Bryan so mercilessly suggests that the order in America which avoided European entanglements is yielding. No continent can isolate itself and live out its political life without need to what is passing elsewhere.

"The war between two European powers brings the shadow of war upon the horizon of the United States. We should go very far wrong if we assume that war or a diplomatic rupture is in any certain or highly probable outcome of the struggle. President Wilson will spare no effort to preserve peace and the rulers of Germany can be under no illusion as to the magnitude of the disaster a conflict with the United States would mean."

GERMANY'S ILLUSIONS.

"The United States has the greatest manufacturing plants in the world—the largest population of factories, recruits the material, the most inventive brain—it is in fact a formidable enemy. Germany relied with the United States because it had two illusions. One was that under no circumstances could America fight and the other was that the German-American element would prevent the United States from government from taking strong action by the menace of civil war. There is no longer a room for either of these illusions and under circumstances it is reasonable to conclude the most serious efforts will be made to avert a rupture. Settlements are hardly practicable, however, unless tactics of procrastination are abandoned by Germany and American ships and American lives made secure.

"Bryan is a particularly obligator. He can safely leave it to President Wilson and the American people who need no advice from without. This duty of reticence whose judgment hardly the impartial and whose counsel might confer rather than illuminate."

The Standard says the retirement of Mr. Bryan seems unlikely to produce any serious effect upon American opinion. "The paper which, indeed, will be stronger without the presence of this subordinate who in any case must have his heart in the prevention of war."

"The same cause," the paper continues, "is close to the hearts of millions of other Americans, including the president, who is in sympathy with militarism than Mr. Bryan himself. But President Wilson knows that what is even more important than the prevention of war is the prevention of brutal outrage upon humanity and the violation of all the rules which divide civilized men from savages."

"It would be premature to assume," says the Express, "that there will be any formal breach between Germany and the United States. Nobody here will attempt to instruct the United States how to mind its own business. We know America must always be on the side of liberty and progress and that her power to defend her dignity and rights is great as her love of peace. It would be easy to exaggerate the importance and significance of Mr. Bryan's resignation."

The Post criticizes Mr. Bryan for being unwilling to sacrifice his personal ideals to the honor and interest of his country, which should be the cause to retreat the heart of a statesman.

WILLIAMS TELLS WHY LOUISIANA BANK FAILED

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Comptroller Williams today issued a statement on the closing of the Union National bank of Monroe, La., with a capital of $200,000 and $40,000 surplus. The bank was closed yesterday by its directors.

"It troubles," said the comptroller's statement, "appear to have been caused by improvident management, excessive loans to certain officers and directors, disregard of the provisions of the national bank laws, and failure of the directors to give proper attention to the bank's affairs."

Resignation of Bryan Big News in Germany

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, June 10.—(Via London.)—The resignation of Secretary of State Bryan was the big news of the day here yesterday, overshadowing in interest even the reports of military operations. The newspapers showed divergent views on the resignation, but all advised caution in forming opinions before an authentic explanation is received from Washington.

The Lokal Anzeiger was the only paper to print what purports to have been Mr. Bryan's letter to President Wilson explaining his resignation.

The newspaper questions the authenticity of this letter.

The Vosische Zeitung assumes President Wilson favored a sharper note to Germany than Mr. Bryan, but also that he does not desire war.

"Probably America's foreign policy," the paper says, "will be less English hereafter, although of course it will not be German or German-American, but we hope American. This would be more important than the wording of the note."

Discussing the resignation of Mr. Bryan as secretary of state, the Tagblatt, while not imputing to him pro-German sympathies and declaring that at times he even has seemed less friendly than President Wilson, assumed that his political experience "rescued" him from sharp action.

Germany's Catholic organ, thinks Mr. Bryan's retirement means an important change in the American policy which probably will be favorable to German interests.

"The Vorwaerts and the Tages Zeitung are the only morning newspapers in Berlin which comment on the resignation."

PLAYGROUNDS OF ATLANTA OPEN MONDAY MORNING

Children Will Be Taught Many New Games and Big Attendance Is Expected

An American flag will be raised at a week-long Monday morning on each of the thirteen public playgrounds of Atlanta and then the season looked forward to by so many thousands of children will be on.

Mrs. Florence M. Tibbets, supervisor, announces that the playgrounds will be opened Monday morning, not to be closed again until August 31.

Two new playgrounds, one on the Ivy street school lot and the other adjacent to the school grounds, will be opened up this year. There are two playgrounds for children, one at the Ivy street school and the other at Starr's school.

A director and an assistant will be in charge at each playground from 10:00 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Since early in March the candidates for positions as directors and assistants have been attending a normal class conducted at Piedmont park by Mrs. Tibbets and during this week they are conducted field examinations.

A number of young ladies, who took the normal course without promise of positions in the local system, have been employed as playground directors in other cities.

The children this year will be taught a larger number of new games and attendances at each playground will probably be broken.

The playground season will end with a great field day, and a number of silver cups have already been donated in honor of this field day event.

The following is a list of the playgrounds and the directors, who will be in charge of them.

Five Hill, Miss Martha Winborough, director; Miss Nell Miller, assistant; Miss Park, Miss Lora Pinnell, director; Miss Katherine Colley, director; Miss Annie Lee Moore, assistant; English avenue, Miss Nell Pitzer, director; Miss Helen Marshall, assistant; Adams park, Miss Ruth Weagand, director; Ponce de Leon, Miss Helen Holland, director; Myrtle street, Miss Dargan Park, Miss Laura Cooper, director; Miss Lucy May, assistant; Spruells park, Miss Della Worward, director; Ivy street school, Miss Lucy Manning, director; Miss Emily Hargrove, assistant; Ivy street school, Miss Annie Wilby, director; Miss Katherine Hurlst, assistant; Frank park, Miss Mary Whitely, director; Miss Emma Hill, assistant; Colored-Starr's school, Miss Cary, director; Gray street school, Willie Kelly, director.

Kitty Gordon continues to draw packed audiences at the Forsyth. She is Broadway's most widely worshipped star of the drama and musical comedy. Her offering at the Forsyth is a happy blend of dramatic comedy and vocal charm, and she is supported by a strong cast. Gaiety monkeys is one of the best trained animal acts in vaudeville; they do a lot of acrobatics, gymnastics and songbirds that please immensely, and the remainder of the bill is composed of Frank Markole, the phenomenal banjoist, and the Swain Ostram Trio of gymnastic marvels.

Francis X. Bushman, the most idolized actor on the screens today, is the star of the Grand theater's offering for today, "The Slim Princess," the noted comedy written by George Ade and produced with years of success all over America on Broadway. The picture is an Broadway production, the last in which Bushman appeared for that concern, and excels in photography, scenic grandeur and histrionic beauty. Few theatergoers, perhaps, are unacquainted with the story of "The Slim Princess," but added charm will be found in the photographic version which has been produced by George Ade himself, to be the "funniest, most rollicking comedy he has ever seen in moving pictures." It will be shown at the Grand today and tonight for the last time.

"Her Own Way," Clyde Fitch's great romantic comedy which is the feature film at the Strand theater Thursday, there is perhaps the most thrilling story of love and adventure during the Spanish-American war. The heroine is a beautiful girl whose sweetheart enlists in a regiment bound for the Philippines. She believes him killed and is about to marry another to save her family from financial ruin when her soldier, who was only imprudently, escapes and arrives back home just in time to prevent the marriage.

The picture was produced by the Metro picture corporation and is marked by the clear photography and attention to detail which characterizes this company's every film.

SOLDIERS WRITE ABOUT HORRORS OF THE WAR

Dr. May, of Relief Committee, Gives Out Extracts From Letters

"I am writing this in the ward with ten delirious men around me, some coughing constantly and some muttering, while others think I had better stop. Each detail, as I think of it, seems worse than the last; it is gruesome and all so frightfully insidious."

In addition to this advertisement, we have almost a page in the Georgian of totally different items.

All will be on sale Friday and the half day Saturday.

ASHEVILLE and LAKE TOXAWAY SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED IN SCHOOL OF COUNTRY LIFE

H. G. Hastings Offers Prize to Georgian Noted for Work in Agriculture

H. G. Hastings, the Atlanta seedman, has offered a scholarship in the Seaman A. Knapp School of Country Life to the Georgian boy who has distinguished himself in practical agriculture, or to some county teacher, farm demonstration agent, canning club organizer, county school superintendent, rural school supervisor, or other rural worker who has achieved success as a community organizer.

Notice that Mr. Hastings had offered such a scholarship has been received by State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Britton, from the Georgia Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tenn. The scholarship is valued at $100 per year and becomes available at the opening of the fall term in October. It is to be awarded on nomination of the state school superintendent and State Director of Boys' Corn Clubs Bill Campbell. They are now ready to receive applications for this scholarship and will make their nominations July 20.

NARROWING ROADS ARE URGED BY MR. MILLS

Commissioner, Home From Inspection Tour, Talks of Improved Methods

Contracting the 1914 cost of $2,000 for the maintenance of 800 miles of concrete roadway in Wayne county, Michigan, was compared with $40,000 for the maintenance of seventy miles of Fulton county roads in 1914.

Mr. Mills said that most of the fine roads in the north and east were six to eight feet wide, as compared with the average forty-foot road of Fulton. He spoke of a solid concrete road in Canada which had been hard service for nine years and which did not cost a dollar to keep up.

MACON ELECTRIC PLANTS ASK TO INCREASE RATES

Companies Review Their Petitions Before the State Railroad Commission

The two electric lighting companies of Macon—Macon Railway and Light company and Georgia Public Service corporation—have renewed their petition with the state railroad commission for authority to materially increase their rates for electric lights and power.

These companies first applied to the commission more than a year ago and after hearings the commission promulgated a schedule of rates for them to charge for a year, and advising them that if at the end of that time their schedule of rates had not proven fair and just and brought the companies a fair and reasonable return on their investment they could renew their application, which they have now done.

HIVE OF HONEY BEES IS CAPTURED ON ROOF IN HEART OF ATLANTA

HOW THE BEES SWARMED OVER DOWNTOWN ATLANTA THURSDAY. The picture was taken looking from the north windows of The Journal office. The towers of the city hall are in the background, and the air is thick with bees.

Skyscrapers Thronged With Spectators as Insurance Man Scoops Up Swarm by Handfuls

With both hands brimming with honey bees, Ernest F. Deacon, an insurance man of 75, Mansfield avenue, stood on a roof in the heart of Atlanta Thursday morning and savaged a whole hive which suddenly appeared swarming among the skyscrapers. From the windows of nearby office buildings hundreds of people craned their necks to watch the amateur bee catcher at his work, and for nearly three hours the spectacle was the most unique Atlanta has seen since Halley's comet. Where the bees came from, nobody knows. Pedestrians on Forsyth street first noticed them about 10 o'clock when the brown cloud suddenly swept over the roof of the Austin building, and looked like the flight of the locusts of old. The air was thick with bees swarming without a sound over downtown roofs, drifting into office windows and out again, clustering around chimneys, cornices and eaves. They were ousted above the roof of the Central club, 9 North Forsyth street, and it was there they finally settled, piled inches deep about a ventilator in the hot sunshine. Then Mr. Deacon appeared on the scene. He carried a pair of packing boxes. With those and his two hands he gathered in the bees, assisted by the presence of six office boys and the advice of several score experts in the windows, who recommended everything from whisky straight to a wash broom. "Tell them a Ford joke and put them to sleep," suggested a man from a roof on the right. "Those are Italian bees," yelled another from a window on the left. "Put a German pancake in the box and they will attack it." "I never saw a bee before," replied Mr. Deacon, "but I am going after these." And with that, he placed the open box next the swarm, grabbed a handful tenderly, put them inside and then stood off and watched while bee after bee followed the leader. In forty-five minutes there was not a bee in sight. They were all in the box. This Mr. Deacon wrapped in canvas, tucked under one arm and carried away. He had captured bees worth about $5 in the center of Atlanta without getting stung once.

The dove of peace has flown from office.

With $50,000,000 bushels of wheat in prospect, and some of it in the south, there is no danger of a food shortage in the United States, war or no war.

The War's Most Stirring Feat.

The war has witnessed few exploits so stirring as that of the young British aviator, Lieutenant Warford, who with his agile aeroplane attacked and destroyed a giant Zeppelin six thousand feet in the air. The incident occurred in Belgium, between Ghent and Brussels, in the faint glimmer of a June dawn.

The Zeppelin, which was flying comparatively low, the dispatches relate, "began to mount at once, but the British was speedier and climbed into the air in long spirals to reach a position over the German's vast bulk."

Germany having muzzled the press, it begins to look as if the American attitude was beginning to be taken seriously over there.

More Packing Houses.

The movement to provide market facilities for home-grown foodstuffs goes steadily forward. Among the more recent evidences to this effect is the announcement that a company is being organized to build at Phenix City, Alabama, just opposite Columbus, Georgia, a sixty thousand dollar plant, including an abattoir, a packing house, a cannery and refrigerating service.

Capital is evidently awakening to the need and the opportunity in this field of investment. From many points of the South come reports of newly established or definitely planned grain mills, canning factories and packing houses. These undertakings, whether large or small, are significant.

The merchants and bankers and railroads of Georgia, in co-operation with the farmers, have rendered important service in developing market facilities for food crops.

Immigration After the War.

There is a wide diversity of opinion as to whether the war will be followed by a vast tide of immigration to the United States. Some observers predict that poverty and suffering and fear of crushing taxation will drive millions of Europeans to America.

The latter view appears the more logical. European wars heretofore have led to large migrations to America. That was notably the case in the aftermath of the Franco-Prussian war and also following Russia's war with Japan.

Mr. Bryan's View.

It is deeply to be regretted that in resigning from the Cabinet Mr. Bryan has seen fit to exploit views which though undoubtedly sincere are at sharp variance with his country's interests and honor as well as with the mass of its thoughtful and patriotic opinion.

For his stanchness to personal convictions, there can be nothing but profound respect. If he believes that concord is to be desired even above justice and that rather than risk Germany's hostility the United States should shrink its duty and another's conscience, no one will deny him the freedom of his faith.

Mr. Bryan insists that the Lusitania issue, which involves the integrity of international law, the rights of neutrals throughout the world and the barbarous sacrifice of more than one hundred American lives, be left interminably in the masses of diplomatic parley without demanding in the meantime guarantees against the repetition of such an outrage.

The President stands for peace, but he stands also and primarily for justice and humanity. If there is one American above all others who can be trusted to preserve honorable peace, he is Woodrow Wilson.

It is his note which the Government demanded that Germany draw the wrongs complained of, that it make reparation, "so far as reparation is possible for injuries without measure," and that it take "immediate steps" to prevent the recurrence of anything so obviously subversive of the principles of international law.

The President is proceeding carefully but firmly upon principles of national and international right, he is acting for the interests of the nation through yours to come as well as its interests today, he is acting in behalf of the things which this republic holds sacred, and in behalf of humanity.

The Italian official statements are again on the offensive.

Mexico's bread line is the inevitable sequel to the red line.

Petrograd doesn't intend to give Galicia without any aggressive war bulletin.

Editorial Echoes

There's one thing to be said for Huerta. He's not giving any advice these days to President Wilson.

A commission in New York has decided that 17.78 inches of seating space is plenty for the average person in a street car or elsewhere, but, of course, some folks are far wider and some considerably narrower.

There's one thing to be said for Huerta. He's not giving any advice these days to President Wilson.

Take Time to Breathe.

To be truly efficient—to be able to think readily and clearly, to secure thorough control of eye and hand, to approach your work in the confident spirit of itself goes far toward assuring success.

Most persons do not breathe deeply enough, and most persons breathe far more rapidly than they should. They breathe as they live—in a hurry.

"How did you do it?" I asked him. "By learning how to breathe," was his reply. "Somebody told me I could improve my health by pausing every now and then in the open air to take deep breaths."

As an aid in training one's self to breathe properly, and at the same time as a useful exercise to overcome the common tendency to hurry, I recommend trying full length, four, six and eight second periods of holding and exhaling the air at a slow, even rate.

"A Dust Whom England Bore."

A few weeks before the death of Rupert Brooke in a hospital ship off the Danish coast he wrote a sonnet sequence on the war, in which he faced with quiet exultation the thought of dying for his country.

PEACE.

Now, God be thanked who has matched us with His hour, And caught our youth, and wakened us from sleeping.

SAFETY.

Dear! of all happy in the hour, most blest That none of these long and poor if old, Assured in the dark tides of the world that rest,

THE DEAD.

Blow out, you bugles, over the rich dead! Let none of these long and poor if old, But, dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.

GLOVE.

These hearts were woven human joys and cares, Washed variously with sorrow, swift to mirth, The years had given them kindness, Dawn was theirs, And sunset, and the colors of the earth.

THE SOLDIER.

If I should die, think only this of me: That I have built a tower of ivory on the field That is forever England. There shall be In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;

COUNTRY CLUBS

The country club is an organized expression of the great outdoor recreation movement which has taken so powerful a hold upon the present generation.

The most elaborate country clubs are those in the vicinity of New York, although several located in southern California and other winter resorts rival them.

Mr. Elliott Shepherd began buying land for this estate in 1911, with the intention of creating a great country club similar to the old English estates. He obtained over 600 acres.

The club proper is the Shepherd residence. It still contains most of the treasures which made it notable a few years ago among the magnificent private homes of this country.

In addition to the golf links and tennis courts, which are the best of their kind, arrangements have been made for fishing some of the tennis courts are reserved for winter skating.

Securely less luxurious, except in the furnishing of the club house itself, is the Rock County club, which is also largely composed of New York millionaires.

The Atlanta Athletic club, and the Audubon Country Club, are the two oldest of the southern cities. The Atlanta Athletic club is an outgrowth of the Y. M. C. A.

All life is a voyage. Our ancestors and our circumstances to some extent determine for us the baggage we shall take.

Outward Bound.

All life is a voyage. Our ancestors and our circumstances to some extent determine for us the baggage we shall take, but for most of the rejections and selections we are responsible.

The more a man is possessed by his possessions, the less he is inclined to heed the call to any trail beckoning to him by the dollars and cents of the post.

Do not be so many kinds of travel that have nothing to do with physical migration. "I climb when I lie down," cried Henry Vaughan, the mystic, and what he meant by that was that a man who dwells too long in the house of his senses is not fit for the journey.

The splendid climate of the southwest has been especially conducive to the development of the country club, and few cities exceeding 5,000 population in that chief course of such an organization.

Most of these small establishments do not represent more than $10,000 of original outlay, and some of them are not half that. The funds are usually secured either by the formation of a stock company in which each member takes a share, or by arranging for a mortgage upon the grounds and buildings, to be paid from the club dues.

A club organized three years ago in southern California is regarded as a model by its members and others familiar with it. Two hundred shares of stock were sold for $10,000.

Contrary to general opinion, the country club is not a luxury within reach of none but the wealthy. Many of the largest clubs have dues low enough to make them available to the average citizen.

Summer residents at resort hotels frequently establish country clubs at desirable locations. The famous Blue Hill, at Manchester, N. H., was established by summer residents, who subscribed enough to build the house and lay out the golf course, which is one of the finest in the United States.

The country club of Pierre, S. D., had its origin in the Lodge of Pierre, an organization financed by fifty Frenchmen to the extent of $100,000.

A good sized country club in Ohio was made possible by the county going dry. A brewery had erected a hotel and amusement park on the shore of a small lake near the town.

Travelette.

THE ISLAND OF TIERRA DEL FUEGO. This group of islands just south of South America and touched by the chill of the southern polar regions contains some of the most sombre and impressive scenery in the world.

This desolate and forbidding aspect of Tierra del Fuego led almost all travelers to describe it as a useless and uninhabitable sort of land.

In spite of its dampness, the climate of Tierra del Fuego is found to be by no means unhealthy. The winters are in reality mild with the exception of occasional spells of very severe weather.

The natives of Tierra del Fuego are a unique and interesting people who are of the same stock as the Onas, who are the principal tribe of the main island.

HOKE SMITH SUGGESTED AS SUCCESSOR TO BRYAN

Special Dispatch to The Journal

ROME, Ga., June 10.—The Rome Tribune-Herald, commenting upon the resignation of Secretary William Jennings Bryan, today suggested Senator Hoke Smith as his successor. The Tribune-Herald says: "Georgia, in its senior United States senator, has a man who would, we believe, measure up to the requirements of what is now perhaps the most difficult office in America. Hoke Smith's name has already become the synonym for ability, tact and fitness where statesmanship is recognized or determination is considered the quality of a statesman. He is exceptionally well qualified for the position in the cabinet of Cleveland. He should be George's choice."

GEORGIA BAR'S ATTITUDE ON PEACE COMMENDED

"Its Good Georgia Talk" Says New York Herald of Resolution Recently Adopted

Under the caption "In a Nutshell," the New York Herald of Wednesday prints the following editorial regarding the resolutions adopted by the Georgia Bar association at Brunswick last week: "Whimperers crying for peace, regardless of consequences, as they are denominated by Mr. Frank H. Harris, who writes to The Herald from Brunswick, Ga., will derive very little comfort from a resolution adopted unanimously by the Georgia Bar association at its meeting last week. 'We stand for peace, but not for peace at the sacrifice of one iota of national honor; for peace, but not at the risk of unlawful injury or destruction to American lives or property; for peace, but not for peace purchased by a tame submission to the violation of those principles of justice, humanity and the laws of nations that are and should be observed by all the civilized nations of the earth.' This, Mr. Harris explains, was not idle talk but an opinion on the subject of peace and national duty in which able lawyers join. He adds that these Georgians meant just what they said and 'not one bit who would irresponsibly surrender a market in defense of the rights of the nation.' It is good 'Georgia talk' and good Americanism. It states the whole case."

REPORT OF FINDING BODY OF VANDERBILT NOT TRUE

London Agent of Family Receives Definite Information From Queenstown

LONDON, June 10.—The London representative of the Vanderbilt family received word from Queenstown this afternoon that the body recovered on the coast of County Clare last night was not that of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

By Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or disease are given in similar nature.

"A friend" writes: "What will I do? I feel I must have something wrong with my kidneys, have pains in my back, my feet swell, in fact, my whole body feels puffy, especially at night."

"Mr. W. T." writes: "I never feel like a strong, healthy man any more. I seem to have lost all vitality. My nervous system seems all shot to pieces and my physical strength is on the wane. I am greatly distressed and have headache and pains in my back. I'm terribly forgetful, worried and ill at ease."

"Somerset" writes: "This summer when I go to the beach I want to have a full rounded figure. I am back to thin now to appear well in a bathing suit. Could I, in three months, increase my weight ten or fifteen pounds?"

"Answer: In three months you should be able to increase your weight the desired number of pounds. Three grain hypodermic tablets have added more than ten pounds to one's weight in one month. Start taking them regularly at once, and you will gain to you can no longer discontinue their use."

"Answer: Have you noticed any headache, dizziness or fever? These are also symptoms of kidney trouble. I suggest the immediate use of balmwert tablets to relieve the condition. They will promptly stimulate and restore the kidneys to proper action and health. I do not know of anything better I could prescribe."

"Answer: Your symptoms indicate that your blood is impure and your nervousness is the result of impurely nourished tissues and nerve cells. A good laxative and blood purifier is found in the use of three grain sulphur tablets (not saltpeter). Start taking them at once."

"Answer: Unless I get something better soon to relieve me of my condition, I will be a bald man. I have always had a thick growth of hair, but it is now falling out. My scalp itches and dandruff shows in my hair and also sticks to my head."

"Answer: Use plain yellow liniment on your scalp regularly for a few weeks and you should see the hair begin to grow again. You should be relieved of dandruff and itching head and scalp. It will also stimulate the hair and will help you to have a thorough cleaner and healthier scalp. It is harmless and contains no alcohol."

"Answer: I have a very acute person. I cannot sleep at night and I'm always discontented. My complexion is getting darker all the time and I'm losing weight. My eyes are yellow and I have headache continually. What would you prescribe?"

"Answer: Your symptoms indicate that your blood is impure and your nervousness is the result of impurely nourished tissues and nerve cells. A good laxative and blood purifier is found in the use of three grain sulphur tablets (not saltpeter). Start taking them at once."

Women and Society

Fresco Dancing Party

Event of Thursday Evening
The dancing party to be given by Mr. Charles I. Ryan will be an event of importance at the Piedmont club and will be a charming compliment to Miss Helen Wright of Richmond, who has been delightfully entertained during the past two weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen.

The broad terrace of the attractive club will present a cool and inviting appearance, decked with handsome palms and Australian tree ferns, while festoons of softly colored lights will illumine the pretty scene and throw a soft glow over the beautiful and airy atmosphere. Refreshments will be served at tables scattered about the terrace, the guests to be seated at small tables seated in the open air. The central decorations will be of the most beautiful and the tables will be sweet peas in a variety of pastel shades, and the floral arrangement will be composed in every detail of the menu. Individual cakes will be embossed with the name of the June flower, while the napkins will be tiny sweet peas.

Mr. Ryan will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert Alston, Miss Nellie Dobbie, Miss Lucile Kubert, in addition to Miss Helen Wright and a number of the other guests.

David Hills Golf Club
The regular Thursday evening dancing party will not be held this evening at the Hills Golf club, as the members are out on the course until Thursday evening, June 10, on account of some changes being made in the terrace. The tea dance at the club on Saturday afternoon will be a new occasion, for which many important parties are being arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Alston's Guests

At the tea dance at the Piedmont club on Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Helen Wright, wife of Richmond, Va., and for Miss Isabel Robinson.

The long table placed across one end of the terrace was adorned with a large basket of blue corn flowers, pink carnations and at each end were two smaller baskets of the same pretty blossoms.

Miss Wiser was crowned in a new and original artistic design. Miss Robinson wore blue and white striped and Mrs. Alston wore a pretty afternoon gown of white chiffon accented with black.

Miss and Mrs. Alston's guests included: Miss Wiser, Miss Robinson, Miss Marynet Taylor, Miss Louise Broyles, Miss Harriet McDaniel, Miss Margaret Clark, Miss Nan Dubignon, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Boby Robinson, Mr. Remsen King, Mr. Edward Barnett, Mr. Lynn Warner, Mr. John Martin, Mr. Harry Newman, Mr. Reed and Mr. John Hartley.

Pan-Hellenic Dance

College promenade in every hue and fragrance of yellow and white transformed the ball room at the Druid Hills club into a bright scene Wednesday evening, when the Pan-Hellenic dance assembled many students of the Georgia School of Technology and their friends for the first entertainment of the series which marked the brilliant commencement week.

Music was furnished by a stringed orchestra, and during an intermission at 12 o'clock a hot supper was served. Among the young stars present were Miss Mary Dole Bigger, of Sherman, Miss Edith Beckley, of Milledgeville, Miss Virginia Fielder, of Cedar-wood, Miss Susie Hatcher, of Columbus, Miss Marie Rouse, of Texas, Miss Annie Waddington, of Oklahoma City, Miss Paula, of Macon, Miss Marion Lee, of Albany, Miss Annie Blinn, of Birmingham.

Miss Nellie Dobbie, Miss Annie Patten, Miss Dolly Blalock, Miss Alice Hill, Miss Mary Stewart, Miss Helen Taylor, Miss Jane Cowley, Miss Dorcas, Miss Jantie Cooper, Miss Edna, Miss Edna Harper, Miss V. Ross, Miss Rudine Becht, Miss Margaret Olson, Miss Louisa Jones, Miss Pearl Hamilton, Miss Janet, Miss Elizabeth Reed, Miss Elizabeth, Miss Marie Bellinger, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Marie Dink, Miss Evelyn Green, Miss Nell Walker, Miss Reba Wilkins, Miss Nell Walker, Miss Hal Crawford, Miss Mas Hopkins, Miss Mae Gilmore, Miss Myra Scott, Miss Marion Stear, Miss Louise Dobbie, Miss Grace Woodworth, Miss Grace Symmes, Miss Edna, Miss Mae Corrie Blythe, Miss Edna, Miss Jessie Thompson, Miss Mary Thompson, Miss Josephine, Miss Bettie Block, Miss Elizabeth, Miss Gladys Grant, Miss Winnie, Miss Blanche Perkins, Miss Kathie Perkins, Miss Gladys Byrd and Miss Laura Dickert.

The chaperons were Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stearns, Colonel and Mrs. George M. Home, Mrs. Edward Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Wren Holiday and Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

Garden Party

A garden party will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hudkins, 16 1/2 North Jackson street, on Tuesday, June 15, in behalf of the First Christian church. The hours are from 4 till 10 and the public is most cordially invited. The children will be entertained during the afternoon by Mrs. Charles Good. Refreshments of cream and cookies will be served as well as other refreshments.

Guests at Dinner Party

Miss Emily West will be hostess at a dancing party this evening in honor of Miss Marjorie Sweet, of Chicago, and Miss Louie Woodworth of Forsyth. Breakfast Party

Following the ball, the dance Wednesday evening at the Druid Hills Golf club Miss Nell Walker entertained Thursday morning at breakfast at her home in Druid Hills.

Daisies and Marcellini roses formed the attractive decorations of the pretty home and yellow corymbus lent a touch of bright color.

Miss Walker's guests included Miss Grace Woodworth, Miss Govey Johnson, of Macon, and Miss Anne Willingham, of Macon; Miss Ruth Rosser, Mr. R. H. Marshall, Mr. Edward Hoffman, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Ralph Price and Mr. Jim Price.

Buffet Supper

The buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. George Westmarland entertained Wednesday evening was a pretty compliment to Miss Marcella Steedman and Mr. E. W. Smith and their wedding attendants.

Flowers and white roses decorated the attractive home and in the dining room the table was bright with pink and white blossoms resting in a gold basket, the handle caught with airy pink tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Westmarland were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Julian Prade, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, of High Point, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wier, of Athens.

Bridge Luncheon

Miss Ellen Wolf was hostess at a bridge luncheon Wednesday at her home on Peachtree place in a pretty complimentary to Miss Marcella Steedman and Mr. E. W. Smith and their wedding attendants.

The honor guests were presented with silver smelling salts because the prizes for top score and consolation were silk hose and a book.

Miss McEnratty was crowned in white voile and lace, Miss Wolf wore a dainty frock of white crepe de chine and Mrs. Brown was attractive in pale green taffeta and chiffon.

The June Undermuslin Sale is in progress now. Third Floor

The Store Closes at 1 o'clock Saturday

For Your Information

Friday and Saturday Will Be Two Really Wonderful Days in this Store

We started to say "Two Real Bargain Days." But the word "Bargain" is one we rarely ever use. We find other words synonymous--words that ring true here, or they do not ring at all. In an economic way, our claims must represent a higher standard of value than could ever be reached by price alone. Back of them must be genuine worth--sterling, real and sincere.

Choose early--if you would share these good specials--for in the very nature of things the merchandise will be disposed of quickly.

The trend of the savings is indicated by the Sterling Values quoted below--read them for proof positive that the purchasing power of a hundred cents will be almost doubled in this extraordinary two-days' sale.

Remnant Sale of Wash Goods at Half Price

Such a sale as this comes only once yearly. Nearly every kind of colored Wash Fabric you can think of is included.

The short lengths remaining from a busy season of selling. There are scores of lengths sufficient for dresses--many for blouses, kimonos, skirts, children's suits and dresses. Included are--
Piques Crepes Printed Crepes
Poplins Rice Cloths Silk-Striped Shirtings
Beps Seco-Silk Mulls Various Others
Ratines Printed Voiles

Note: No White Goods Among Them

A Sale you do not want to miss. Not enough to make a full day's selling--so choose early Friday if you would share. Second Floor.

Extra Special!

Women's $1.50 and $1.75 SILK STOCKINGS at $1.00 Pr. Good, heavy quality pure silk stockings--black, embroidered in dainty colors.

Women's lace-boot, lisle thread Stockings, black only. The 35c kind, at 15c pair. The 50c kind at 25c pair. Women's Italian Silk Vests, pink and white; priced here regularly at $3 and $3.50--special for this sale at $1.50 each.

$3.50 LONG WHITE SILK EMBROIDERED GLOVES AT $1.95--a little special collection! only 26 pairs all told. Kayser's 16-button length, embroidered silk Gloves--black and white; priced regularly at $1.75--special for this sale at $1.25 pair.

Short white chamoisette Gloves--sizes 5 1/2 to 6 only; the same in natural color, all sizes, priced regularly at 25c--special at 19c pair.

Boys' summer Shirts and Drawers; athletic style; short-sleeve shirts, knee-length drawers; 6 to 15 year sizes--priced here regularly at 25c. You may buy them Friday and Saturday at 19c garment.

Infants' 15c Vests at 10c each. A little special lot of cool, summer Vests--some have short sleeves, some no sleeves at all.

MEN'S $1.50 PAJAMAS AT $1.19--initialed suits of beautiful quality, made of good, soft madras; blue, tan and white. A few letters are missing--but it's worth while looking for the initial wanted.

Men's $1.25 Night Shirts at 79c--made of good, soft cambric--initialed; a few letters missing. First Floor.

Friday, Skirt Day

Our customers have learned that Friday is Skirt Day, and hundreds of them have profited by the special features we have planned for that day.

Tomorrow--

Beautiful Pre-Shrunk White Skirts at $2.50

They are made by the Wooltex tailors, and in the very latest models.

Two materials: very fine cord pique, and granite poplin. They have 5-inch hems. Particularly well tailored; and remember they are pre-shrunk--even to the inside beltting.

Also for Friday

New White Golfina Skirts at $5. Fourth Floor.

$3 and $3.50 Silk Kimonos at $2.39

When you go to pack the bag or suitcase for a week-end visit, or for an extended trip--you will want a cool, pretty silk Kimono to slip in.

Buy them Friday and Saturday at a saving. There are flowered effects and conventional designs in a variety of pretty color tones. Priced here regularly at $3 and $3.50--for this sale at $2.39. (Downstairs Section.)

Wash Skirts, 29c

Tomorrow and Saturday morning will about end the story of these good Wash Skirts at this absurdly low price.

We had about 1,200--splendidly made garments of good materials--skirts that were priced at $1.00 formerly--we priced them for special selling at 30c--you may still share the sale of them, if you come early--and pay only 29c. There are white piques, tan and brown linens, and black-and-white checks, or all black. Downstairs Section.

Our Wonderful Sale of Genuine Diamond, Real Coral and Solid Gold Jewelry

Also Leather Goods that we are selling at one-half to one-fourth the regular prices, continues without the slightest let-up.

The remarkable values bought by our many friends has brought them back for more, and with their friends, who were amazed.

We hear exclaimed by our customers that they have attended jewelry sales before, but never have they shared in a Solid Gold, Diamond and Real Coral Jewelry Sale such as this. All we can say is come and see for yourself what wonderful values we offer. First Floor.

Do Not Miss These

Corsets Up to $5 at 98c

A good quick sale of desirable Corsets at a price made absurdly small because the Corsets are display sold. There are various good models to select from. A very unusual offer for Corsets of such values.

One Group at $2.49

One Group at $5.00

This is a truly wonderful offer by reason of the splendid choosing among Hats priced here regularly up to $10.00.

Girls going away for the summer need new Hats. You may pick them up in this sale Friday and Saturday at very, very little cost. For girls of all ages--up to 20. Third Floor.

The Popular Puritan Collars

A shipment has come just in time for the week-end demand. These pretty Puritan Collars are quite "the rage" now, and small wonder, they are so dainty and becoming, and afford the feminine touch that women all like to possess.

They are of sheer organdie, hemstitched, some have scalloped edges, some bands of net, some lace trimmed. Choose from full, fresh stock, Friday and Saturday, at 25c and 50c. First Floor.

Silver Service

In the single pieces and sets, so necessary to the elegance of serving any meal or refreshment, we feature variety, beauty, and quality.

And the prices are right.

Light the Dark Corners

By E. K. WOOLLEY.

TIME was when many girls who could recite "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight"...

Time was—and is—when every girl who could seal up to G thought of herself as a grand opera possibility...

It's odd how many people have the same ambitions, isn't it? It's odd how few are ambitious to fill their own little niches to the best of their ability...

So many want to be shining lights before the public eye, and so few care to be the light in a dark corner—where it's needed.

The world needs actors and singers and "movie" stars who have attained deserved eminence after years of hard work and sacrifice...

Old Granny Fox Tries Again BY THORNTON W. BURGESS (Copyright, 1915, by J. G. Lewis)

AS SOON as her first fit of temper was over Old Granny Fox realized that if she really hoped to catch those three young possums she must let them see her in such a rage as to make them believe she must make some excuse for having lost her temper as it was.

Granny pretended not to hear. "Of course such clever and smart little possums as you are far too wise to be misled by such a meddlesome meddler as Sammy Jay. You have left home to see the wonderful things of the Great World, but you will never find them by yourselves. It is too bad that our pleasant trip was spoiled before it had started, and I am more disappointed than you are."

"WING" stripes are the latest. Many of the new wash fabrics and the summer silks come in broad stripes of blue and white, green and white, or gray and white and the wide skirt made of the WIDE stripes are not unlike the corner grocery.
