Wilson's Reply Will Warn Germany of Future Transgressions of Our Rights

TALK OF PRINCIPLES VIRTUALLY IS ENDED Term "Unfriendly Act" Carries With It Implication of Finality, Leading Often to Severance of Friendly Relations

(By Associated Press.)—The United States has been asked to interpret the United States' position on the German submarine warfare as a violation of the principles of international law, will be regarded as an "unfriendly act." The discussion of principles is virtually ended. The American government now will warn Germany of the interpretation it will place on future transgressions of American rights.

In the new note the United States assumes that Germany already has admitted the principle that passengers cannot be removed from a ship without a search.

Officially Germany's acquiescence in the treatment of the Lusitania as a military transport is a request for reparation will be refused and that this issue would be kept usually before the two governments as a subject of prime importance in their future relations.

PROPOSALS REJECTED. The note will reject Germany's proposals that American vessels be given complete immunity when not carrying contraband, and for the transfer to the United States of all passengers and crew of transatlantic traffic, provided they did not carry contraband.

Terms and Price of the Lease of Western and Atlantic Railway Are Discussed in the Fifth Article by Noted Railroad Authority—Lease Should Run for Long Period, He Says.

BY HON. W. A. WHELAN. The article will discuss the assumption that the Western & Atlantic will be disposed of by lease for a term of years. It, of course, shall not undertake to define the terms and conditions which the lease should contain. What these shall be can only be determined by a matter of policy, expediency and good judgment.

GOOD LONG PERIOD. The lease should run for a sufficient length of time to encourage and justify the lease in making a substantial and essential improvement as the most efficient handling of the traffic will require and the good of the state demand. The early recurrence of the problem of a general disposition of the road is to be avoided. On the other hand a lease for a term as long as 99 years is the practical equivalent of a sale. To justify so long a lease the terms and price should be so attractive as to make it reasonably certain that the state will not be forced to purchase the road.

THE LEASE SHOULD BE DOUBLE TRACKED. The lease should be required to do this and in doing so to reduce the grades and curves so that they will be suitable for the operation of double track.

PROVIDE AMPLE TERMINAL FACILITIES, including yards, tracks and station buildings, to be constructed in so far as may be practicable. Upon the expiration of the next lease the state should not be left as it is at present with a road which is a burden and a liability.

THE STATE SHOULD BE GIVEN THE POWER OF Eminent Domain. The state should be given the power of eminent domain over the road and the right to purchase the road at a price to be determined by a commission.

THE STATE SHOULD BE GIVEN THE RIGHT TO TAKE OVER THE ROAD. The state should be given the right to take over the road at any time and to operate it as a public utility.

COMPLAINT IS MADE IN BEHALF OF SOME OF THE CREDITORS THROUGH WHICH THE ROAD IS BEING SOLD. The complaint is made in behalf of some of the creditors through which the road is being sold.

THE ROAD WAS BOUGHT BY ROBERT GOULD, who bid for the joint reorganization committee. The road was bought by Robert Gould, who bid for the joint reorganization committee.

Fill British Navy's Bunkers, He Says to Men After They End Strike and Announce Ready to Resume Work

VALUABLE TIME LOST BY WEEKS' IDLENESS. Life of England and Freedom of World Depends on Concerted and Tireless Effort, Says Minister of Munitions

(By Associated Press.)—LONDON, July 21.—The South Wales coal miners have accepted the terms agreed on yesterday.

Work will be resumed at once. Both sides have promised every effort to make up for the week of idleness. David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, to whose efforts the settlement largely is credited, appeared in the conference hall in Cardiff after the agreement had been reached and received an enthusiastic welcome.

"A week of enormous value has been lost to this country," he said. "It is only gradually dawning on us how tremendous is the struggle in which we are engaged. Even now I am not sure we fully realize what will be its effect on the whole course of human history."

"Peace at home is essential. I am glad at least that the British navy, for the sake of the British navy, fill its bunkers with coal. It is our duty to assist her in the struggle for the freedom of the world."

Fall of Polish Capital Now Seems Only a Question of Hours as Teutons Are Pressing It on Three Sides. RUSSIANS MAY CUT CITY TO SAVE ARMY. Italians Claim More Gains Against Austrians on Isonzo Front—Little Activity in the West

(By Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung estimates that using official headquarters reports as a basis since the beginning of the new offensive in 175,000 and 44,000 men. Official reports indicated no halt in the Teutonic drive at Warsaw, which apparently has as a larger motive the infliction of crushing blows on the Russian armies. PROTECTION OF THE STATE RAILROAD IS URGED BY WIMBISH

(Continued from Page One.) the rental for a short series of years. Since, however, the expenditures required will add directly to the value of the property, as an operating machine, the benefit of which will accrue to the lessee, should be borne by the lessee without contribution from the state. Whatever percentage of this cost the state should assume can be paid by a deduction in the amount of the normal annual rental spread over a period of from five to ten years. In arriving at the valuation upon which the state should receive a fair return by way of rental, there are to be considered (a) the value of the property, (b) the prospective value that will likely accrue during the currency of the lease. If the lease is for a long period the interest not included together fair to either part, while a progressive increase in the amount annually arrived at might be lacking in the same quality. Possibly the situation may be accommodated in another manner. The state could determine what might be considered the normal annual rental value of the property based not alone upon the present value, but also upon the added value that will accrue from double tracking and increased earnings for the first period of say 10 years. From this normal rental there might be deducted during the first five or ten years the percentage of the cost to be allowed by the state for double tracking. After ten or twenty years there might be added to the normal annual rental a tax upon the gross or net earnings of the road, and such readjustment might take place at successive periods thereafter.

Chalmers Six-48 $1550 This Chalmers Owner Did Not Know That He Was Writing This Advertisement

He paid $1650 for the 5-passenger car, about which he is so enthusiastic. This same car with 7-passenger body now sells for $1550. The letter published below was received in the ordinary course of business on May 22, 1915. We are publishing it without a change.

New York, May 21, 1915. It purrs. As for the self-starter, I never saw a better one. It doesn't go off with a loud grating noise. It does not whirr and buzz, but just slips into action with scarcely a sound. As I am careful to give the car all the gasoline, oil, water and grease that it needs, it "keeps going" every minute. It is far from being a greedy consumer of gasoline and it demands a most moderate allowance of oil. Rides the "Bumps" Will it ride the "bumps"? It certainly will and does. There is a joy in riding in a car that travels over cobblestones, over rough, rocky roads, over bumpy places, without making the riders bounce up and down like jumping jacks. And finally, what about the Chalmers service? Well, I know of no way to improve it. I have not been in need of repairs—but the few little things I have needed have been given such courteous and prompt attention that I can appreciate why other owners give so much praise to the way their requests and complaints are attended to. During the past month I have made two tours in New England. One covered the cities of Connecticut, the other took in a dozen or more of the Massachusetts towns. I averaged over one hundred miles a day. I drove the car myself.

A Buyer's Questions Here are a few things that the buyer of a new car is sure to ask himself: Could I have purchased a better car for the same or a less amount? Will it make a hit when I "show it off" to my friends? Is there anything about it that looks cheap? Is it comfortable to ride in? Is the engine noisy? Will the self-starter always start? Is it easy to keep going? Will it "ride the bumps"? How will the local office handle any "kicks"? These are not the questions of the technical man nor of the expert automobilist. They are the things that a business man who drives his own car, will ask.

An Owner's Answers Here are my answers: I consider the Chalmers Car at $1,650, the cheapest buy on the market. In appearance, equipment, make-up, construction, power, flexibility, and comfort, it is, to my way of thinking, superior to cars selling at several hundred dollars more. I have had owners of higher priced cars ride with me and every man has expressed his amazement at the ability of the Chalmers Company to put out such a remarkable car at such a very low price. I never have to show off my car to my friends. They do the talking for me. They say, "Isn't it a beautiful car?"—what fine lines. One of my associates in business said, "It represents a combination of beauty and evident strength such as I never have seen in any other auto at anywhere near the price. There is nothing cheap about one little item."

Comfort for the Wife Regarding the matter of comfort in riding, my wife could best answer that question. She selected the left hand side of the tonneau seat as her "place" in the car and from the first ride of a few miles, to one of 625 miles that we have just finished, she has been thoroughly comfortable and declares that even a long ride does not tire her. The quietness of the engine is a constant surprise.

And Always Economical A car that is economical to operate and which has an established reputation for the way it keeps out of the repair shop. And the business man gets all of this for less than $1700. Am I to be blamed for being so enthusiastic about my Chalmers? It is a great car and I am glad that I own one. Yours sincerely, E. D. GIBBS, 219 West 81st St.

NEWS FOR BECKER WAIT GOVERNOR'S ACTION

Plea for Life Is Made in 15,000 Word Statement Denying Guilt

NEW YORK, July 21.—Counsel for Charles Becker awaited today the ruling of Governor Whitman to forbid his execution on July 28, the first murder of Herman Rosenthal at Becker's plea, sent to the governor at Albany last night, included a long statement of his version of the facts leading up to the murder. In this statement Becker denied completely the murder and said State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan, now dead, and told Becker he had $15,000 invested in Rosenthal's gambling house and that when Rosenthal began to make public statements about the raids on his place, Sullivan exacted a promise from Becker to keep Sullivan's name out of it. Becker said he had kept his promise up to the time of making his plea for executive clemency. Governor Whitman today said he would make no statement until he had time to examine the document.

Becker's statement made no disclosure of police graft, but gave an account of his movements on the night of the murder. Martin T. Manton, of Becker's counsel, has announced proceedings will be started in a day or two in application for a new trial for Becker on the grounds of newly discovered evidence. The nature of this evidence was not disclosed. It was reported that friends of Sullivan have offered to make affidavits substantiating in part the story Becker told.

Becker's statement in part follows: "Although it gives the unprecedented proceeding of asking his excellency, Charles S. Whitman, district attorney of New York county, in prosecuting an indictment for murder against me, Mr. Justice of the Supreme Court, respectfully on the records submitted to Mr. Justice of the Supreme Court, the substantial sentence pronounced on me."

"I ask your excellency further, in the light of certain facts, now disclosed for the first time, to forbid my conviction on the ground that my guilt of this murder is not established so clearly as to justify the taking of a human life. I am, sir, let me say that I do not carry indignation at your hands. If I have actually committed the crime of which I have been found guilty, no criminal ever atoned to me more thoroughly deserving of the punishment inflicted on him."

Becker explains his associations with Jack Rose by saying that his "only interest was in maintaining Rose's usefulness as a stool pigeon in obtaining evidence against gambling houses. It is of the partnership between Rose and Rosenthal in a gambling house until after the murder, however, it was with this gambling house that Becker connects the name of Sullivan. Becker says Sullivan had loaned Rosenthal money with which to equip the house.

Becker says that Sullivan had been closed, the gambler charged that Becker was the real owner of a chattel mortgage on the gambler's furniture. Becker declares that Sullivan, fearing Rosenthal's campaign, called Becker into a conference which Rose attended, and said Rosenthal must be induced to leave.

Becker declared this could not be done, as it was necessary to his position in the police department that Rosenthal's statements be faced. To this he said Sullivan replied: "There is a fire of this kind is started there is no knowing where it will reach Rosenthal has already been very close to me politically and personally. Any secret investigations of elections by grand juries have always been sources of great trouble."

Becker replied that so far as he was concerned, Rosenthal's disappearance would be fatal if it would be suspected that Becker had conspired at it. He said Sullivan expressed warm appreciation of his attitude, and added: "I would give $5,000—yes, $5,000—to have prevented this thing or stop it now if I could."

Becker says he did not pay much attention to the remark, but that on the way home Rose said: "I wonder if the big fellow really has that much money at hand if he needs to use it?" Rose added something to the effect that he (Rose) could easily raise any money needed to get Rosenthal away, whereupon Becker declared that this must not be done.

As to the actual killing of Rosenthal, Becker declares: "I know nothing whatever—I did never know anything about that dreadful crime." The former lieutenant says that his counsel had been diligently searching for proof that Rose was entrusted with a sum of money to get Rosenthal away, but he is difficult to obtain this evidence, he asserts, as the information only could come from the gamblers who contributed the money.

Becker says that just before his arrest he was told that "Big Tim" had nearly insane about Rosenthal's murder; that he was afraid Becker would be arrested because of the newspaper talk and wanted to be assured that if Becker were taken into custody Becker would say nothing about Sullivan's sending for him in regard to Rosenthal opening his gambling house. Timothy Sullivan became mentally incompetent in 1912. Several months later he disappeared. Afterwards his body was picked up on a railway track near Pelham Parkway.

MASON IS BOUND OVER FOR CONFESED THEFTS

Bond for "King of Yegg" Fixed at $3,000 in Each of Eight Cases

Harry Mason, self-styled King of the Yeggs, was bound over by Recorder Johnson for eight cases of confessed burglary Wednesday morning. His bond was placed at $3,000 in each case. Among the cases were that of Irving Wood, the Porterdale youth arrested with him, was also bound over on the same charges, and his bond was placed equally high. Detectives offered as evidence in court a signed confession by Mason in which he recites his career from the age of thirteen, when he cracked a safe at 125 E. Bay, Fla. to his latest haul on Decatur street, a period covering about ten years and including robberies in many cities amounting to over $25,000.

Mason admitted the name he signed to the confession is not his own. To the recorder he presented the same delinquent front and readiness to talk that characterized him ever since his arrest last Saturday. "Where are you from?" asked Judge Johnson. "Missouri," replied Mason, and "Well, I'll have to send you to the lower for dinner today," continued the judge.

"I hope it's better grub than they give in the barracks," said the youthful yegg. "And this bond," remarked the judge. "You can make it can't you?" "Sure, if you'll give me thirty-six years' freedom in Atlanta," said Mason. "They ought to give you ten years if the judge told him."

"I've got something coming to me," Mason answered confidently, "but I won't spend 'em in jail." Mason gave an impromptu little lecture to the court in the art of safe-cracking, explaining just how he used the "touch system" and, when it failed, how he knocked off the knob of a safe, bored a hole, poured in the nitroglycerine, and exploded it.

The eight cases for which he is held are: Rosenthal's Pharmacy, 28 Gordon street, West End, which he robbed of $210; T. W. McCoy's, 106 Decatur street, where he got supper one night; J. D. Simpkins, 188 Decatur street, where he passed for a S. A.; a fast one in morning; Samuel Wilkins on Peters street, looted of a watch and valuable rings; Joe Jones, 414 Edgewood avenue, robbed of $75 in cash and $50 worth of old bones; G. O. ROTARY CLUB INDORSSES BOND ISSUE FOR GRADY

Dr. Phinizy Calhoun Describes Hospital's Needs at Meeting Tuesday Afternoon

The Rotary club of Atlanta, went on record Tuesday afternoon, as favoring the proposed bond issue for the improvement of Grady hospital. This action followed a speech by Dr. Phinizy Calhoun at the Piedmont hotel to the club members, in which he described the needs of the hospital. Dr. Calhoun said, in part: "Built some twenty years ago by popular subscription and given to the city of Atlanta, the Grady hospital has never received a single dollar from the city treasury other than what was required for its upkeep and the $150,000 bond money of the 1910 issue.

The capacity of Grady hospital is 154 beds, yet last night 210 patients were crowded into its buildings and hallways, in club stretchers and beds. Every day the charity of the city turned away for lack of accommodation. "The institution is efficiently and contentiously governed by a splendid board of trustees not concerned or handicapped with politics, and Dr. Sumner, its superintendent, is one of the best who should be retained at all costs."

Beautiful Al Fresco Wedding of Miss Candler and Mr. Goodman

Numbered among the beautiful Al fresco weddings of the season was that of Miss Rebecca Candler and Mr. John M. Goodman, which was solemnized Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, in Decatur.

A half circle of palms and ferns marked the natural slope in front of the residence where the ceremony took place and a grassy hedge of dark green foliage made an effective background. An aisle of white pillars entwined with graceful vines formed the approach to the improvised altar and garlands of rose colored lights joined the posts and hung in graceful festoons from the branches of the trees making the softly illuminated scene one of picturesque beauty.

Rev. Lewis T. Wilds, of Fayetteville, N. C., the bride's brother-in-law, performed the ceremony and the wedding attendants were Mrs. Lewis T. Wilds, matron of honor, and Mrs. Caroli Welby, of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Harry Auscher, of Chicago, Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. Henry Eastman.

Mr. Scott Candler was best man; Little Misses Lucia Pope and Rebecca Hartman, ribbon bearers, and Caroline McKinney, flower girl.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was lovely in her wedding robe of soft white satin veiled in (chantilly lace). The tulle veil was adjusted with a circle of orange blossoms and she carried a flower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

The guests' orchestra rendered the wedding march and gave a bright musical program during the reception which followed. The bride's mother received wearing a handsome gown of gray chiffon.

"Goodness gracious! What ever is the matter with you, Peter?" she demanded. "Nothing," replied Peter.

"Why do you look so white?" she asked. "I'm not," he stammered. Then abruptly he asked a question himself. "Say, fuzzy wings, do you do for Farmer Brown's boy?"

"Because he has done so much for us," replied Peter. "I'd like to know what he's done for us?" declared Mrs. Peter.

"Why lots of things," replied Peter. "Don't you remember the nice cabbage leaves he left for us when our food was so scarce?"

"Yes," replied Peter. "I guess it wasn't for the birds there wouldn't be any green things at all and without any green things we couldn't live."

"What has he done for us?" declared Mrs. Peter. "Why, I ain't got no time to stand here and talk to you."

Allen and Thompson or Day to Oppose Kroh and Kissinger or Frost on Firing Line—Hot Battles Promised

By Innis Brown

After having the weather man slip into a hole of rest on Tuesday, the Crakers and Vols find it necessary today to go in and do double time to make up for the time lost on account of Tuesday's downpour of rain. The two forces will clash at 2:15 o'clock in the first game, and the second will follow in prompt order after the finish of the first.

Manager Schwartz stated last night that he would probably use Floyd Kroh and Kissinger. However, if Jack Frost is in condition to work he will start the assignment of the job to him.

Allen and Thompson or Day to Oppose Kroh and Kissinger or Frost on Firing Line—Hot Battles Promised

Among the assembly engaging in a bit of faning was President O. H. Waters of the Louisville club. Mr. Waters left last night for Birmingham, where he will take a peek at the Barons before they travel to the city.

These two games at Ponce de Leon will be the most rousing battles pulled off in the history of the Crakers.

Here is the probable line-up: ATLANTA. NASHVILLE. ...

LONDON, July 21.—When Sir William Byles, Liberal, asked Premier Asquith in the house of commons today to restate more definitely the essential objects for which Great Britain is fighting, in the hope that peaceful influences might result in those objects being attained by other means than warfare, the premier replied: "I stated these objects with as much definiteness as I am capable of at the beginning of the war and at the Guild hall, and I am unable to add anything to those statements." Pressed to take under consideration the peace movement of the German Socialists, Premier Asquith retorted:
