

LIND MAKES PROGRESS IN HIS NEGOTIATIONS WITH GENERAL HUERTA

Presentment Delivered Is Preliminary, However, and Will Be Followed by Others Going More Into Details

STATE DEPT. EXPECTS NEXT STEP ON MONDAY

Contents of Further Proposals Will Be Made Public From Washington When Lind Submits Them to Huerta

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Substantial progress has been achieved, in the judgment of administration officials here, by John Lind, in the discharge of his delicate mission to Mexico. They feel the American embassy's adviser at least has made a breach in the wall, which theoretically had been erected by the Mexican government to obstruct his negotiations. The presentment he already has made is understood to be only of a preliminary character and will be followed by others setting out more in detail the object which the American administration had in mind in dispatching him to Mexico City.

The delivery of these supplementary communications, either orally or in writing, will depend entirely upon the reception which the Mexican government accords the first communication. This is now under careful consideration, a fact regarded as of the utmost importance for the ultimate success of the negotiations. It is understood that while there is nothing in these views in the nature of a demand for the withdrawal of General Huerta from the presidency, or for the arbitrary fixing of the date for a general election, there is nevertheless a distinct intimation of the administration's belief that some concession should be made by the Huerta government to terminate the present insurrection and to insure the ascendancy of a truly popular government.

If the fundamentals are accepted, the way will be open for conferences to decide the means by which the desired results could be brought about.

NEXT STEP MONDAY

It is expected at the state department that the next step in the negotiations will not be taken before Monday. The request of the Mexican government for time to consider Mr. Lind's presentation practically conveyed that idea. Meanwhile it is deemed essential that the principals to the negotiations shall surround them with the utmost secrecy at this interesting phase.

Not the slightest intimation of Mr. Lind's communications has reached any of the representatives of foreign powers. It is expected, however, that as soon as the Mexican government reaches a decision as to whether further overtures are to be received at all, steps will be taken to acquaint the representatives in Mexico of the foreign powers with the nature of Lind's mission.

The same information probably will be conveyed to the representatives of the same powers accredited to the United States.

LODGE BACKS WILSON

Senator Lodge had a long talk with Secretary Bryan today about the Mexican situation. In view of his formal declaration in the senate of his purpose to stand squarely behind the president, providing the Mexican difficulty could be kept out of the field of politics, this is believed to foreshadow a letter of advice to the president from the senate members of the foreign relations committee that existed yesterday.

Henry Lane Wilson, retired ambassador to Mexico, remains in Washington, still undecided as to his future movements. Mr. Wilson today also was reflecting upon the communication which Secretary Bryan dispatched to Ambassador Page in London regarding his comment upon the statement attributed to the British foreign office.

MEXICAN BORDER PROBE

Democratic members of the senate foreign relations committee have determined that if the investigation of Mexican border conditions and American financial support to revolutionists is to be continued by the special subcommittee that worked during the latter part of last year, that committee will be reorganized so that its control will rest with Democratic senators.

The investigation conducted last year was under direction of Senator Smith of Michigan and Senator Fall, both Republicans, who now are preparing reports. Prior to the end of the last Congress, Senator Smith obtained permission to continue the investigation into the present Congress.

The foreign relations committee will determine next week as to whether the investigation is to be carried on. If the committee is authorized to continue, it will be reorganized so that three Democratic members will control it, and its chairman will become a Democrat.

FRIENDS OF SULZER RALLY TO SUPPORT

Impeached Governor Writes Another Letter to Glynn, Exploring Strife Over Office

(By Associated Press.)
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 16.—An armed truce over Sunday is the present situation in fight for the governorship of New York state. Both Governor Sulzer and Lieutenant Governor Glynn, as acting governor, signed official papers during the day. Apart from this the only skirmish was the issuing by Governor Sulzer of a reply to Mr. Glynn's declaration of the suggestion that their differences be taken at once to court.

Governor Sulzer deprecates this declaration, pointing out that will probably lead to "trouble and litigation." The purpose of the suggestion, he stated, was to avoid the spectacle of two persons claiming to act as governor of this great state at the same time.

Mr. Glynn left his official fort on the third floor of the capitol early in the afternoon, but Governor Sulzer stood by his guns on the floor below throughout the day.

Governor Sulzer's letter which arrived after Mr. Glynn had left, emphatically denied that his communication suggesting that the controversy be taken into court contained any "suggestion that you should barter away any of the functions attaching to the office of lieutenant governor, but simply that we seek a termination of what you and my rights and duties are at the present juncture. The letter continued:

STATEMENT INACCURATE

"Your statement that the matter is now in the highest course of the state—the court of impeachment, I suggest to you is very inaccurate. The court of impeachment will not convene until the 8th of September. The court is not to determine who is to discharge the duties of governor pending trial of the charges presented to it, and of course, could not, in any event, determine that question before it convenes.

"Whatever the result of the charges against me may be, it is certain that future trouble and litigation will arise, growing out of your acts and mine, and it was to prevent, as far as possible, such future trouble, and to avoid the spectacle of two persons claiming to act as governor of this great state at the same time, that I made the suggestion that counsel for you and for myself endeavor to agree upon some method of presenting the question, as to who should act as governor until the decision and determination of the charges against me, to the courts at the earliest possible moment, and that we abide by the law as it should be determined by the courts, not by counsel, and I regret that my efforts in that behalf are not to have your cooperation."

Mrs. Sulzer, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown, spent a quiet afternoon and was reported as resting more comfortably tonight. Her temperature was given as 102.1-2 and her pulse at 120.

Lynn J. Arnold, publisher of the Albany Knickerbocker Press and one of the governor's closest counselors, announced tonight that he will undertake to form a national law and order committee to defend Governor Sulzer, "drive out of our public life and to punish the political bosses to the fullest possible extent under the law."

SUMMARY OF FRANK EVIDENCE AT END OF THE THIRD WEEK

Defense Has Attacked the State's Case at Every Point, Considering No Detail Too Small to Raise a Reasonable Doubt Against It.

WHEN the third long week of the trial of Leo M. Frank ended Saturday afternoon 293 witnesses had taken the oath and told the jury what they knew of the circumstances surrounding Atlanta's greatest tragedy, the murder of Mary Phagan in the National Pencil factory on Memorial day, April 26. Of these witnesses thirty-four had testified for the state and 159 for the defense and among them all only one directly connects the factory superintendent with the crime. Jim Conley, the negro factory sweeper, is Frank's accuser. He not only accuses the superintendent of murder, but adds the charge of perversion and it is through this charge that the state hopes to show a motive for the crime.

Center of Attack

Much of the most determined work done by the defense during the third week, just finished, has been concentrated upon the testimony given by H. F. Harris, secretary of the state board of health, and upon the testimony of C. B. Dalton, both of whom were introduced by the prosecution.

In attacking Dr. Harris' testimony, the defense introduced several physicians who characterized Dr. Harris' conclusion as guesses and said that they attached no importance to them and believed them to be without scientific foundation. It will be remembered that Dr. Harris' testimony fixed the time of Mary Phagan's death, in the opinion of the witness, at not more than 15 minutes after she ate her last meal of cabbage and bread at home and started for town to meet her death. This was based upon the stage of digestion attained by the contents of her stomach and arrested by death.

Dr. Harris testified further regarding other details which had convinced him that violence of some nature was inflicted upon the girl, and that she was rendered unconscious from the blow upon the back of her head, being choked to death later by the cord around her neck. The defense assailed each of the conclusions, combating most vigorously the one that Mary Phagan was killed within a specified number of minutes after her last meal.

Witnesses from Walton county were introduced one after another to swear that they know C. B.

A MILLION WORDS OF TESTIMONY

THE trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, is believed to have broken at least three records in criminal prosecution in the south.

More witnesses have been called than in any other case on record, more actual time has been taken up in hearing testimony, and the transcript of evidence is the most voluminous, so far as known, ever taken in a criminal court south of the Mason and Dixon line.

When court adjourned Saturday afternoon thirty-four witnesses had been called by the state and 159 by the defense, a total of 293; for three weeks the jury had listened to testimony, having spent approximately 115 1-2 hours in court; and the evidence transcribed by the stenographers exceeded 875,000 words.

It is considered likely that before the end of the trial nearly 300 witnesses will have been called and the transcript will total considerably more than a million words.

One of the most remarkable features of the trial is the way in which the court stenographers have taken down the testimony. The defense, anticipating the need of having a copy of the official record in their possession as quickly as possible after a witness' testimony has been taken down, engaged two extra stenographers to work with the two regular court reporters of the county. The four work in relays. One will "take" for an hour. He will then be relieved, and while another is writing down the questions of the attorneys and the answers of the witnesses he is either typing from his notes or reading from them into a dictaphone. In the latter event an assistant takes the testimony as it is dictated by this device.

In this way the defense is able at any time to refer immediately to any part of the testimony which has already been given in the trial.

Dalton and that they would not believe him on oath. Dalton's own experiences with the criminal law were revealed, the defense lawyers securing his admissions of them. Dalton's testimony was menacing to the defense because it purported to corroborate in incidental particulars the general story told by Jim Conley—whose evidence is the center of the whole attack by the defense.

Points at Issue

The state has sought to prove that Mary Phagan met her death in the metal room on the second floor of the pencil factory before 1 o'clock on April 26.

The defense has sought to refute this with testimony that it is impossible to determine the hour in which the girl died, and that there are chances that she met her death in another part of the building.

The state clings to the theory that the girl was struck on the head, rendered unconscious by falling against a piece of machinery, then was strangled to death by a cord.

The defense has put its witnesses up to testify that the wound on the back of the dead girl's head may not have caused unconsciousness and that the manner in which she met death is a question which possibly no physician can answer correctly.

The state has sought to prove that Frank was the last person to see the girl alive. So far

GENERAL RESUME OF WHAT LEGISLATURE DID AND DIDN'T DO

Tax Equalization, Medical Practice, Mothers' Rights, Inheritance Tax, Occupation Tax, Blue Sky Bills Passed

MANY GENERAL BILLS KILLED OR SIDETRACKED

Some of Those Failing to Pass Were McCrory Schoolbook, Hixon-Searcy and Compulsory Education Bills

One week ago the casual observer of the deliberations of the general assembly of Georgia would have told you that the law-making branch of the state government had done nothing and was destined to do nothing save kill valuable time until adjournment sine die. And so it appeared until the beginning of the week with exactly four days to go.

Up to that time many bills of vital importance to the welfare of the state had been introduced but few had passed and the remainder seemed doomed to lie over until next summer. Such was the opinion of the younger members and those on the outside who had carefully watched the progress of the house and senate from day to day. But the older heads knew better. They had been there before and seen the legislature sluggishly plod along until the passage of important measures seemed to be a matter of impossibility. They knew that real results came during the closing hours and therefore harbored none of the evident uneasiness of the uninitiated.

And so it was during the last week of the present assembly. Things began to hum on Friday a week ago and with the advent of the final week, when house and senate started out on the home stretch, the prevalent idea of nothing being accomplished was completely dispelled.

As has been said a few bills of a general nature were put on the calendar during the earlier stages of the session but those of the greatest state-wide interest did not come up for passage until

FRANK SHOULD KNOW FATE BEFORE THE WEEK PASSES IS OPINION OF ATTORNEYS

While Defense Has About Forty Character Witnesses, It Is Not Believed That Their Testimony Will Take More Than One Day, and Frank Himself Will Probably Tell His Story to the Jury Some Time Tuesday.

REBUTTAL EVIDENCE WILL TAKE TWO DAYS AND THE ARGUMENTS OF ATTORNEYS TWO MORE

This Will Put the Case in the Hands of the Jury at the End of the Week—All Interest Is Now Centered in the Witnesses That the Solicitor Will Put on the Stand in an Effort to Break Down Fine Character Showing Made by Frank

The present week will see the end of the trial of Leo M. Frank charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, all attorneys connected with the case believe.

Counsel expect to conclude the young factory superintendent's defense certainly before the end of Tuesday morning's session and probably during the day Monday.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey says that he expects to be no longer than two days in introducing testimony in rebuttal. With two days for the arguments this will mean that the fate of Frank will be in the hands of twelve jurors by Saturday. The length of the Frank trial, which has passed through its third week, long ago broke all records for criminal cases in Georgia. While many civil cases have run over a much longer period of time, few if any equal the Frank trial in the matter of straight testimony delivered on the stand. The official court reporter, Judge H. L. Parry, states that his record shows 875,000 words. Judge Parry is working court reporters in relay and typing the evidence as rapidly as possible. The record now shows over 3,000 typewritten legal cap pages.

Interest in the trial centers largely in the rebuttal testimony, which will be offered by the state. Approximately fifty witnesses have been summoned by the solicitor general to give rebuttal testimony at the trial, and according to rumors some of the testimony will be sensational. The solicitor has indicated by questions to witnesses that he has under subpoena a girl, who will testify that two weeks prior to the tragedy Frank made advances to Mary Phagan, and that she was forced to beg him to leave her alone. Much mystery surrounds the probable testimony of Dewey Howell, who was brought here from the Home of the Good Shepherd in Cincinnati to be a witness.

The greater number of the rebuttal witnesses have been called as character witnesses, and they can only say that they consider Frank's general character good or bad, unless they are asked about specific acts by the defense.

The statement of Leo M. Frank will be one of the big features of the trial next week. Despite the fact that there is little which can be added to the detailed statement of his movements on the day of the tragedy made at the coroner's inquest, there is much interest manifested in the account which the young factory superintendent will give of his life.

NO WRITTEN STATEMENT.
While he will have a number of notes to which he will refer, it is said that Frank will not have a written statement, but will tell his story largely from memory.

Little is said to be left in the defense's case except Frank's statement. According to well established reports W. H. Mincey, who claims that Conley made a confession to him, will not be put upon the stand.

While the defense will probably place about forty more witnesses on the stand practically all of them, it is said, will be factory employees, who will testify to the good character of the defendant, and to the bad character of his chief accuser, the negro Conley.

The putting of Frank's character in issue, which has greatly increased the length of the trial, is the result of Frank's own request, according to a well authenticated rumor.

Frank knew that his character could only be put in issue by his own lawyers, and they, it is said, put the matter up to him, and he requested that they let down the bars, declaring that the state could prove nothing against him.

DEFENSE NOT DISTURBED.
Despite the statement of Solicitor General Dorsey that he had several "high-class ladies" who attack Frank's character, it is said that attorneys for the defendant are satisfied that no credible testimony will be offered against Frank's character.

Frank has stood the three weeks of the trial well, and is ready and anxious, it is said, for a chance to tell his own story.

REPUBLICAN FIGHT ON TARIFF ITEMS FUTILE

Senate Almost Completes Agricultural Schedule While Debating on Fish and Bananas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The senate today almost completed consideration of the agricultural schedule of the tariff bill, disposing of a number of important rates protested against by the Republicans.

No amendments were adopted, though Republican leaders sought to increase the rates on straw, fish, apples and other fruits, to abolish the proposed duties on canary, caraway and anise seeds, and vigorously protested against any duty on bananas.

The sugar schedule, upon which the greatest fight of the tariff controversy will be waged, will be reached next, and majority leaders are planning to hold night sessions beginning tonight to complete the work.

The principal debate today on the agricultural schedule centered about fish and bananas. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, declared the great reductions proposed on fish products, with fresh fish on the free list, would give Canadian fishermen control of the great New England markets. No change, however, was made in the rates.

BANANA ARGUMENT.

Senators Burton, Weeks and Sherman argued against the proposed duty of 1-10 of a cent a pound on bananas. Defending the proposed rate as a revenue tax not levied against a basic food product, Senator Williams, of Mississippi, facetiously remarked that it would tax "the down-trodden workingman" at the rate of "1-10 of a cent per banana."

Senator Sherman, of Illinois, referring to the fact that most of the bananas imported come from Central American countries, said this country should "cultivate friendly relations with the principal product of those countries sent to a friendly port," for, he continued, "we either have got to vitalize the Monroe Doctrine or ignominiously abandon it."

Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, said the consumer estimated the duty of approximately $2,225,000 a year on bananas.

The vote sustaining the proposed banana tax was close, 31 to 23. Senators Thornton and Russell, of Louisiana, voting with the Republicans.

Senator Smoot discovered there was a conflict in the bill relating to dead birds dressed poultry and prepared meats, whereby both might be made dutiable at 30 per cent under one paragraph and free of duty under another. Senator Williams said it was an oversight and consented that the bill be recommitted to the committee for redrafting. Senator Gronna sought to increase the proposed rate on live poultry from 1 to 2 cents a pound, but the amendment was rejected.

Senator Smoot moved to increase the proposed rate on powdered cocoa from 2 to 3 cents per pound.

COFFEE TRUST.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, protested against the proposed duty of 3 cents per pound on dandelion root and other substitutes for coffee, maintaining that they should go on the free list. He argued that a tariff was a direct protection to the coffee trust.

Senator Williams, upon consultation with other Democrats, consented that the paragraph go back to the committee with the proposed rate of 3 cents.

Senator Gronna, discussing generally the agricultural schedule, declared the free list articles will be a burden to the farmers, and will cause a revenue deficit in the treasury of $12,000,000.

Early in the day Senator McLean, of Connecticut, addressed the senate in opposition to the finance committee amendment permitting importation of feathers of wild birds, which Senator Reed, of Missouri, declared it was a waste of time to talk about herons and humming birds, while the business of the country was halted pending action on the tariff.

CRANE CO. TEAM CLAIMS RAILROAD LEAGUE FLAG

Manager J. C. Hall Asserts Forfeited Game Gives His Nine Pennant

Because they forfeited a postponed game to the Woodward Lehigh company team, the Standard Oil team lost the pennant in the Railroad league, according to the contention of Manager J. C. Hall, of the Crane company team, who Saturday night laid claim to the honors.

Manager Hall declares that his team won twelve games and lost three, while the Standards, the nearest competitors, won eleven and lost three.

A series of forfeited games and victories during the past few weeks threw the champions for the pennant to the top of the league standing. Three weeks ago the Woodward team forfeited to the Crane aggregation; West Point forfeited to the same team last Saturday. Yesterday the Crane team forfeited to the Standards. The Crane team also conceded a scheduled game yesterday when they left the city to play an out of town team.

This is the season's line-up of the Cranes: Gillett, catcher; Corrie, pitcher; Hall, first base; Long, second base; Collins, shortstop; Pritchard, third base; Park-hall, right field; Urxkin, center field; and Yarbrough, right field.

Governor Hooper had offered a reward for his capture. He was arrested by Mitchell county moonshiners when his identity became known.

Resume of What Legislature Did and Didn't Do

Monday. It was then that the real law-making machinery began to make laws and make them quickly. Measures galloped from house to senate and from senate to house in rapid fire order and thence to the executive offices for the governor's signature. It was the beginning of the end and few meritorious bills were denied a chance for a hearing.

Committee reports were for the most part sustained, and accordingly little time was taken up in bills unfavorably returned. The real work was done there and house and senate usually accepted the verdict.

TAX REFORM BILL.

Looming high above all legislation accomplished is undoubtedly the enactment of the tax reform measure known as the Lipscomb-Anderson-Miller bill. The eyes of the entire state were turned to it and before its passage the general assembly had engaged in the most spectacular battle of fiscal policy since the war.

The length and bitterness of the fight for and against this bill can best be appreciated when it is pointed out that it was known as house bill No. 6, one of the very first to be introduced, and yet one of the very last to become a law. Its history begins within a week after the legislature convened and continues through the committee on the subject, until passed by the senate and back again, until passed by the house and finally accepted by the house when with the vote a tie, the speaker voting "aye," prepared for the governor's signature.

The bill as passed combines the features of a substitute introduced by Representative Barry Wright, of Floyd, some of the features of the original Lipscomb bill and some contained in the amendments offered by the subcommittee of the ways and means committee. The final draft was made by Senators Anderson and Miller and Representative H. H. Swift, of Muscogee.

MEDICAL PRACTICE BILL.

Possibly next in importance among the bills passed was that of Senators Longino and Richardson, known as the medical practice bill, which does away with quackery in Georgia. It went through both houses by safe margins and, though slightly amended by the house, lost none of its vital features.

To attempt to classify as to importance the bills passed is to attempt only the signature of the governor to make them laws, would be a hard matter, as opinion is obliged to differ on the open question of merit.

There is one thing certain: no more popular bill has ever received the signature of a Georgia governor than that of Representative Samuel L. Olive, of Richmond; John Y. Smith, of Fulton, and Senator E. L. Smith, of the Ninth, giving mothers equal rights with the father where the question of the custody of minor children is involved. The majority in the house was there were but two dissenting votes, 36 being cast in favor of the measure.

Under this new law the prima facie right in the custody of the child is taken away from him and the mother, while not being prima facie, has equal rights with the father, when the issue of a child's custody is raised.

The work of the Fulton delegation cannot be passed unnoticed by Atlantians. Through them three bills of more than passing interest have been successfully passed in the senate. Atlanta circuit of the superior court an additional judge, the other is the new charter for the city, and the last abolishes justice courts in Fulton county, creating in lieu thereof a central municipal court.

WRIGHT'S IMPORTANT MEASURES.

Representative Wright, of Floyd, has the credit of getting through two very important measures. The one in which Georgians are mostly interested is the resolution to create a commission to investigate into the terms of a lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Representative Wright, of Floyd, has the credit of getting through two very important measures. The one in which Georgians are mostly interested is the resolution to create a commission to investigate into the terms of a lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Aside from this, the commission may recommend, along with specific terms of a re-lease, the suggestion of extending the state's road to the sea.

For the expenses of the commission an appropriation of $5,000 is carried.

A second measure, fathered by Representative Wright, provides for permanent registration in the state of voter registers, he has only to send in his tax returns thereafter and his name is automatically retained on the books of the registrar.

The resolution of Representative C. R. McCrory, of Schley, providing for a committee to investigate into the price paid for school books in Georgia, passed in the house and is now in the senate.

The resolution carries with it the right for the abrogation of the present book contract for five years, should it be determined that the books can be purchased more cheaply elsewhere.

The resolution is especially designed to provide for an investigation of the feasibility of the state printing its own school books.

"Get-Rich-Quick" Wallingfords and "wild-cat" schemes will be effectively blocked in the state through the passage of the "blue sky" law introduced in the house by Representatives Sponce, of Carroll, and Wohlwend, of Muscogee. They must satisfy the secretary of state as to their standing before a STRENGTHENERS INSURANCE LAWS.

The insurance laws of the state will be strengthened by the passage of a bill of Representatives Cook and Wohlwend, which specifies the conditions under which foreign insurance companies may be secured.

nies may withdraw from the state. If any company desires to suspend business in Georgia, it must first make a report of its financial condition to the comptroller general, show its assets and liabilities and re-insure every policy to the satisfaction of the comptroller before being allowed to withdraw. General William A. Wright, commenting on the bill when it was introduced, expressed the wish that it would pass, as he considered it a most important piece of legislation.

After a rather long fight in the committee room, the Mills-Jones bill, providing for the Georgia Training School for Girls (known as the home for wayward girls), finally passed the calendar and was passed in the house. In the senate, however, the appropriation of $30,000 was cut to $20,000 owing to the depleted condition of the state's finances. The house at once concurred in the amendment.

As a companion to this bill, both of which were supported by prison reformers, the measure of Senator Tarver giving a judge the right to put a prisoner on probation was also passed. The provisions of the bill specify that the trial judge shall at his discretion allow one convicted of a misdemeanor to serve the sentence imposed outside of a jail, prison or other house of detention and in the event a fine is imposed, to pay it in installments.

OTHER SENATE BILLS.

Other senate bills passed in the house were those by Mr. Smith, of the ninth district, to allow superior court judges to grant charters to individuals or corporations while on their vacation; by Messrs. Pope, Hixon and Tarver, to exempt certain farm products from taxation; by Mr. Huie, providing for the election of United States senators by the people and by Mr. McNeill, to allow through freight trains carrying perishables, to run on Sundays.

The first general tax act to pass was that of Representatives Swift, of Muscogee; Cole, of Bartow, and Slater, of Bryan. This is the inheritance tax which will levy on all inheritances over and above $5,000 at the time the transfer is made. The income from it is entirely problematical, but a good revenue is expected in the future.

The occupation tax bill of Messrs. Slade and Akin, doubling the tax on foreign and domestic corporations so that the amount is now on a sliding scale of from $10 to $200 on the capital stock, is declared by leaders in the house to be a most important piece of legislation.

Two other tax bills by Mr. Akin were passed, one increasing the tax on automatic bottling plants and the other making the automobile license $5 per year instead of $2 for the life of the car.

MANY BILLS KILLED.

Such is a short resume of successful legislation. On the other hand, there were many bills killed, some good and others bad, while more were dropped or tabled and will lie over until next year to be taken up in their order.

One of the most pernicious measures introduced this year and which, though it passed the house unopposed in the letter day rush, was tabled in the senate, was the bill of Representatives Cooper and Crawley, of Ware, providing for an early primary election to be held not later than June 15 of the year before the general October election. Its flying trip for passage was nipped in the bud by Senators McNeill, Allen, Elkins and Harrell, the latter being a filibuster in the senate to keep it from a second reading after it had been killed in the committee and subsequently reconsidered by the senate when it was apparently dead. The warning note was sounded by Representative Barry Wright on the day of its passage in the house and a further warning given in The Journal the following day.

It is generally hoped that the bill will never again be revived and threaten the election laws of 1908 with annihilation.

The pure shoe bill of Senator Peyton was killed outright and a like measure in the house failed to survive general debate.

The new famous Hixon-Searcy Webb bill, that created a sensation in the house when Representative Kidd, of Baker, charged the temperance committee with usurpation of power for erudition committee No. 2, to which it was referred.

MCGRORY SCHOOL BOOK BILL.

An all-important measure that is sure to come up next year is the school book bill of Representative C. R. McCrory, of Schley, which is in effect a companion bill to his resolution passed at his resolution passed at the session just ended. The bill was read a second time in the house and carried a favorable report from the committee on education.

The measure as drawn by Mr. McCrory provides that the state school superintendent be empowered to ask competitive bids on certain of the books now used in the public schools of the state and let the contract to the lowest bidder. It is further specified that these books shall be sold to the school children of Georgia at cost.

INVESTMENT BILL DEFEATED.

The bill of Senator McNeill, which specified the nature and amount of investments that could be made by state insurance companies, thus taking that power from the hands of the insurance commissioner, was killed in the house by a large vote. A move to reconsider was lost by an even larger majority.

The important vital statistics bill of Senator Elkins, is held over until the next session. It never came up for a third reading and accordingly failed to pass. Sentiment in the house is both houses is favorable to the measure and even at this time there is every indication that it will become a law next year.

Senator Anderson's child labor bill was tabled, giving it a new lease on life that it may again be put to a vote. Like measures in the house failed to come up for passage, but the final session of this general assembly may see it to enact one of them into a law.

The uncertain fate of whether or not free kindergartens should become a part of the public school-system of the state was settled after many stormy sessions of the house committee on education. The bill favorably reported in the senate the house kills it and vice versa.

LEUTENANT GOVERNOR BILL.

Representative Crawford Wheatley's lieutenant governor bill will lay over until next session. It was reported back to the house with the recommendation "do pass" by the committee on amendments to the constitution but never found a place on the calendar. This bill is getting to be a landmark in the legislative halls of Georgia.

When it is looked upon with favor by the senate the house kills it and vice versa. The ultimate ending of the present measure is therefore looked forward to with no small amount of speculation.

Other bills that have a chance of coming up again next June are that of Representative Jones, of Coweta, to provide seats for women in factories and workshops; Representative Davidson, of Putnam, to allow primers to testify under oath if they so elect; and the white slave act of Representative Kimbrough, of Harris.

All efforts to change the state militia law at the session just ended came to naught when the bills of Senator McGregor towards that end were tabled in the house. The principal feature of the measure and one that is understood, meets with the approval of the adjutant general's office, is to have the official calling for help from the state to first make an affidavit to the ordinary that his force is unable to cope with the situation before troops will be ordered out.

Four more senate bills stopped in the house and may or may not be again brought up. They are a bill by Senator Elkins, to provide for the ventilation of factories, etc.; a bill by Senators Bush, Foster and Searcy, for a white slave law in Georgia; a bill by Senator Elkins, providing for compulsory education; and a bill by Senator Huie, making punishable the crime of passing worthless checks.

Prominent Lumbermen Fight Pistol Duel to Death in Public Square

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 16.—W. C. Stamper shot and killed G. R. Keen in a pistol duel on the public square of Albany this afternoon at two-thirty in a dispute over the divisions of a process of a debt owed both by a common debtor.

Both are well known timber men of Albany. This afternoon at 2:30 in a pistol duel on the public square of Albany the two men met and fought except a slight wound over the left eye. Keen had five bullet holes in his body. He leaves a wife and several children.

not reporting on the measure one way or the other, is in the hands of a subcommittee appointed to investigate to the United States supreme court decision on the constitutionality of the Webb law and report to the main committee next year.

It is probable that one of the first acts of the next session will be to reconsider the two administration bills of Speaker Burwell, providing that out of the ad-valorem tax of five mills, two and a half mills be set aside for the general school fund and one and a half mills for pensions.

Both failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote of the house and the notice for reconsideration given by Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, was carried.

Such is a brief history of what the general assembly of 1913 did and did not do.

We beg to call your attention to the fact that the J. T. Gault Chemical Company has now purchased the entire office, practice, equipment, instruments, and good will of the Dr. Hathaway & Company office in this city and in the future the practice will be looked after by Dr. J. T. Gault, who is physician in charge and president of this company.

Dr. Gault was formerly with Dr. Hathaway & Company about eight years ago and is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the business and since his leaving this company he has gained quite a reputation in Atlanta and the surrounding territory. The doctor has made a specialty of treating and curing diseases of men and women, and has been successful in every case. He is thoroughly equipped and posted in every detail of this work and has certainly the very best of treatment and cure of men and women. We believe that the office of Dr. Hathaway & Company has been conducted in a straightforward manner for the past twenty-five years, yet we have made a great many changes and additions in the methods of treatment and have added many new pieces of equipment which will facilitate our handling all patients.

We doubt if there is any other office in the south that has enjoyed as up-to-date methods, for that matter, as many patients as Dr. Hathaway & Company's office has, and yet we find it is true that a great many patients have been disappointed or dissatisfied with the treatment when they came to the office with the fact that Dr. Hathaway personally and we feel that this has been one of the great failures of the office, for it is true that Dr. Hathaway did not give but very little of his personal attention to the office, but depended largely upon his associates and assistant to conduct the actual practice and correspondence, but to those who come to this office in the future they can rest assured of being seen and examined by Dr. J. T. Gault personally and all correspondence will be conducted personally by Dr. Gault. We will use our utmost endeavor in every way to give our patients entire satisfaction.

ATLANTA IS TO HAVE NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE

Local Physicians to Open
Branch of Southwestern University on Luckie Street

That a new medical college for Atlanta will be opened this fall was definitely determined at a meeting of prominent local physicians held in the assembly hall of the Ansley hotel yesterday afternoon.

This new institution will become a branch of the Southwestern university system, and will open for the beginning of the fall term on September 25.

The building on Luckie street formerly occupied by the Baptist Tabernacle has been secured as a temporary location and is being remodeled and will be fully equipped for the conduct of a high-grade medical college. This building, it is stated, has an abundance of floor space, and will furnish ample room for lecture rooms, laboratories, dissecting room, amphitheater and hospital attachment.

It is understood that the management of the Southwestern university has contemplated for several years organizing a medical department which would prove a credit to the university, to Atlanta and the south.

Neither the faculty nor the board of trustees has been completed, but among the physicians who will occupy positions on the faculty are Dr. Charles Gould, Dr. Baxter Moore, Dr. W. E. Quillian, Dr. C. A. Rhodes, Dr. Hugh M. Loke, Dr. George Mizell, Dr. J. O. Kinard, Dr. James N. Brawner, Dr. G. E. Spearman, Dr. Garrett W. Quillian, Dr. Walpole Brewer, Dr. W. T. Jones, Dr. George Murray, Dr. O. H. Matthews, Dr. Cosby Swanson, Mr. Martin, of the Crosby Pharmacy school, and others.

The board of trustees is composed of Judge Beverly D. Evans, Hon. Thomas W. Hardwick, Hon. James L. Mason, Hon. H. A. Etheridge, Judge R. B. Bissel, Mr. W. P. Anderson, Rev. J. A. Beltz and others to be elected.

The faculty committee, in a statement to the public concerning the purpose of the institution, says: "It is the plan of this institution to qualify within a short time for class A, according to the standards fixed by the council on medical education of the American Medical association, so that students entering the first year class this fall will at the expiration of their four-year course receive a diploma from a class A school and be entitled to practice medicine anywhere in the world."

The case in the recorder's court against Mrs. B. E. Carroll, who operates a boarding house at 15 Houston and 104 Ivy street, was dismissed by Recorder Pro Tem W. H. Preston Saturday afternoon after a lively trial.

Mrs. Carroll, who was charged with operating a boarding house without a license, was defended by Attorney William A. Smith, who charged that Recorder Preston did not pay attention to the case, which he was to decide. Judge Preston was talking to license Inspector Hayes while Sergeant Barfield was being cross-examined by the attorney.

E. G. WHITEHEAD CHARGED WITH MISTREATING FAMILY

Former Athens Councilman Arrested on Neighbors' Complaint

E. G. Whitehead, of 263 Crew street, said to be a former city councilman of Athens, Ga., was arrested by the police Saturday night on a charge of disorderly conduct. Abusing his wife and two sons, aged five and eight years, is the specific offense of which he is accused.

According to Assistant Chief Jett, several neighbors called upon him Saturday afternoon and declared that Whitehead had mistreated his family. They said that Mrs. Whitehead had taken the abuse on several occasions without reporting it to the police. Finally several decided to place the matter before the police in a body and when they consulted with the assistant police head he advised them to notify him if another disturbance occurred. Saturday night the neighbors called him over the telephone and told him that Whitehead was again creating a disturbance. Officers were sent to arrest him.

At the police station Whitehead said that Saturday was his thirty-sixth birthday and that this was the first time he had been arrested.

A Correction

Mrs. L. P. Ellison, who gives her address as 11 Hull street, declared Saturday night that Miss Mary Brown, who contradicted a published story about Mrs. L. P. Gray, of 12 Hull street, does not live at 11 Hull street, as stated in Saturday's Journal. Mrs. Ellison asserts that she does not know of a Miss Mary Brown and that she certainly does not live at the address she gave.

OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY NEARS ITS REFOUNDING

$300,000 Already Subscribed to Million-Dollar College to Be Located Here

The people of Georgia and Presbyterians throughout the south generally will be interested in the progress that has been and is being made toward refounding Oglethorpe university in this city. It will be recalled that this institution which was practically destroyed by the civil war, was the first denominational college south of the Virginia line. Among its long list of alumni it numbered Sidney Lanier, the greatest of southern born poets.

Toward refounding this institution there is being formed a board of founders or directors who will control the institution directly and through the committees which they will appoint consisting of some two hundred men, each of whom represents a gift of $1,000 or more to the institution. Seventy of these men are from the city of Atlanta alone, each one of whom is giving $1,000 or more to the enterprise. Out of some forty-five churches, all over the south, not one has failed to add a man to the board. On the basis of a million dollar institution, which it is planned to found, the directors have now in sight approximately $300,000.

In addition to this the members of the board in the city of Atlanta have authorized the secretary to announce publicly that sometime during the coming fall a canvass will be undertaken in this city to restore the former subscription of a quarter million dollars made some years ago to a similar enterprise. When this has been done, Presbyterians all over the south will be called upon to raise the amount needed to complete the fund.

Among the records made during the past months in amounts given, are Columbus, Ga., First church, $6,000; Augusta, Ga., $6,000; Houston, Tex., $6,000; Nashville, Tenn., $5,000.

Deliberate Selection In Loose Diamonds

Our diamond rooms are especially arranged for the secluded and comfortable privacy of our customers, and to afford quiet and careful selection.

It is our desire to have our patrons know all that any expert can tell about a diamond, and we, therefore, display diamonds loose (unmounted), the only way in which any diamond expert would consider a purchase.

Diamonds come from the "cutters" in "papers" containing many carats of stones of wide variety of color, degree of perfectness and class. Every diamond we handle we buy direct from the cutters in papers aggregating many thousand dollars.

Our President assort and classes these papers into grades and values, and they are gone over and over with unusual care until every value is absolutely correct.

This is not possible with the jeweler, both because it requires years of experience and an expert, and also a large amount of capital in our one specialty.

After selection, we mount our diamonds in any variety of elegant design that our customers could desire, using care that only the most perfect work is delivered.

The certainty of knowing what grade and value you are getting in any purchase has all to do with contented possession, and our price, grade and weight are always marked in plain figures.

Our one, plain figure price, from which we never vary, necessitates that we be sure that our prices are as low as the same diamonds can be bought for anywhere in the world.

"Our Diamond Book," Set No. 5, explains how our diamonds have a guaranteed cash return value, also exchanged at full price, and purchased on partial payments, by good notes running over as much as ten months.

WHEN PARENTS CLOSED DOOR TO HER SWEETHEART, ATLANTA MISS ELOPED

A vintage black and white photograph of a man and a woman standing together. The man is on the left, wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, a dark tie, and a straw boater hat. He is holding a large, dark suitcase in his right hand. The woman is on the right, wearing a light-colored suit with a jacket and a long skirt, and a decorative hat with a veil and floral accents. She has a small flower pinned to her jacket. The photograph is framed by an ornate, decorative border with scrollwork and floral motifs.

The question of a right-of-way for the big sewer which the Atlanta Steel company has demanded that the city lay near its plant and which brought on a special city board, was taken up before the sewer committee Saturday morning. As the conditions on which the Steel company agreed to give the city the right-of-way were not acceptable to the committee, it was agreed to appoint an agent, W. A. Hansell, Jr., to negotiate other terms.

The Steel company agreed to give the right-of-way, but it was not allowed the privilege of connecting up with the sewer, that the city rebuild the company's pond, when the work of laying the pipe was completed, and the company be allowed to deflect the city's water through valves at an intersection in the pipes.

The city clause was the one to which the committee objected. Mayor Woodward, who met with the committee, said that the agreement was a one-sided affair all in favor of the company; that such a deal would cost the city $1,200 or $1,500 a year on water, and that he was not in favor of them getting a drop unless they paid for it.

"The city would be paid for it," said J. J. Greer, "and I am not in favor of their holding us up. We may want to cistern that water later, clarify it, and return to the reservoir."

It was that the company would agree to an amendment whereby the city reserves to itself the right of stopping the water at any time it sees fit, that the committee objected to.

If the steel company will not agree to the amendment, the right-of-way will be secured by condemning the property, said Mayor Woodward.

"What I am in favor of is making it a right-of-way," said Mr. Greer, "and it will be cheaper in the end."

Visual evidence of the great damage done to cotton in Newton county by a hail storm about two weeks ago was brought to The Journal office Saturday afternoon by A. B. Coogler, of Riverdale, Ga., passing through Atlanta on his way home from a visit in the ravaged section.

Mr. Coogler exhibited three stalks from which the leafage was stripped almost completely and on which one boll appeared. Two of the stalks were bare of any boll at all.

"Some 2,000 acres in one section of the district that show cotton damaged just like these stalks," said Mr. Coogler. "The sight is almost pitiful. The farmers that were hit hardest by the storm were named to me as Messrs. Coogler, Hitchcock, Crawley and Walker."

The colored people of the city will celebrate Labor day with races at the Speedway. The events of the day will be under the auspices of Big Bethel church, and plans are being made for motorcycle, automobile, bicycle and foot races.

Special provision will be made for white people who may care to attend, and ample police protection will insure good conduct on the grounds.

The proceeds will go to the completion of the Big Bethel church.

That the apartment house owners and others may fail to co-operate with the smoke board through lack of understanding of the board's attitude to the problem is the feeling of Chairman R. M. Harwell.

"We are experiencing some difficulty with apartment owners about the regulation of their furnaces," he says, "but well Saturday. We let the matter go by last winter, but this year we must see that smoky furnaces receive attention. We will be glad to attend to every opportunity to remedy conditions and all possible assistance, and we hope the owners will co-operate with us. We are also going to have a public gas commission is to carry on a campaign of education backed up by strong enforcement of the law. We believe this campaign of education and enforcement between the department and plant owners is the most practicable way for the ultimate solution of the problem presented by the smoke nuisance."

The state department of education announces the appointment of Prof. George D. Goddard, for eight years, superintendent of the public schools of Moultrie, Ga., to be supervisor of rural elementary schools in Georgia.

While this additional supervisor will aid Miss Parrish, Mr. Duggan and Mr. Leach, the latter being the supervisor whenever possible the funds are provided by the general education board to encourage the industrial side of education in the negro schools of the state.

It is believed that the old form of education among the negroes has not been as effective as it should have been, that it has been too theoretical and that the real need of the colored race, and that emphasis upon the industrial teaching will result in a more sane, common sense and reasonable training for the practical work of the

Caused Disfigurement. Cuticura
Soap and Ointment Entirely Cured.

214 Broadway St., Tampa, Fla. "Some three years ago I commenced to suffer from a rash on my face and back. Before the pimples came on my face there were a lot of blackheads. It looked as if the blackheads turned into pimples because after a little while all of them were gone and my face was covered with pimples. They were small at first but gradually grew and right at the end of each pimple it was all white. I carelessly picked them with my finger nails, which made them spread, and I soon discovered them on my back. My back was covered with pimples and my face looked very ugly. At night I could hardly sleep on account of the burning and itching sensation they caused. I felt like a lot of small-sized crabs biting at my back. I did not like to go out because the pimples caused disfigurement.

"Seeing the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in one of the magazines I sent for a sample. Right I would put the Cuticura Ointment on my face and back and I was pleased with the result. I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I am glad to be able to say that I am entirely cured of pimples." (Signed) Jno. O. Darlington, Jan. 25, 1913.

Cotton Market Active and Higher In Covering and Bull Support

Active Months Reached the Highest Levels Touched Since the Rally Following the Publication of Government Report

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The cotton market was active today and prices advanced further on a renewal of yesterday's buying movement with active months reaching the highest levels touched since the rally following the publication of the last government report. Realizing for over the week-end on private reports of more rain in Oklahoma than suggested by official weather men, buyers reacted after an early advance, but offerings were well enough taken to give the market a steady undertone, and last prices were 3 to 4 points net higher.

Higher Liverpool cables, encouraging views of the domestic dry goods situation and the more bullish sentiment created by yesterday's advance resulted in an opening improvement of from 2 to 4 points. There were a lot of overnight buying orders around the ring, and prices soon sold 1 to 11 points net higher, on bull support combined with a continued active demand from shorts. Offerings became heavier around 11:25 for October, or about 32 points up from the recent low level, and the market later eased off several points from the peak, with sellers encouraged by the idea that the short interest had been considerably reduced, and lower temperatures might be allowed by improved crop reports from Oklahoma. The western belt forecast was generally fair weather tonight and tomorrow and this view of the situation was in line with predictions of local map readers, who saw no promise of any immediate change in southwestern conditions.

Private cables from Liverpool reported a moderate recovery in the cotton market, with the trade calling moderately, and with professional operators short of the market. Wall street, and houses with southern connections were heavy sellers on the advance, and it seemed to be the general feeling that the bulk of the demand represented covering by shorts, who are supposed to have been rendered uneasy by continued dry weather in the southwest, fears of an overvalued market, and the fact that southern hedge selling has not yet shown itself on any important scale.

NEW YORK COTTON. The following were the ruling prices in the exchange today: Tons, steady; middling 12c, quiet.

Heavy Profit Taking by Bulls Checked the Advance in Corn

Which of the Selling Was Influenced by Forecast of Lower Temperatures and Possible Showers Before Monday

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Heavy profit-taking on the part of leading holders of a check in the corn market. Closing prices were steady at a range extending from 1-4 to 3-8 off to a gain of 1-8. The market was quiet, with prices unchanged to a sixteenth up. Provisions increased in cost 5/8 to 1-2.

Considerable activity with which leaders turned corn options into real money, the market held up remarkably well. Much of the selling was influenced by a forecast of lower temperatures and possible showers over different parts of the corn belt before Monday. There were rains in Oklahoma and Kansas, but the effect on prices appeared small, the moisture in both states being regarded as too late to do the corn crop.

New high prices, records for the season, now almost a daily feature, retained another slight upward revision, ending at 75-cent level, and December almost grazed 70c. As against the unloading by prominent speculators here, it was alleged that the southwest and the country districts in general and possible showers over different parts of the corn belt before Monday, there were rains in Oklahoma and Kansas, but the effect on prices appeared small, the moisture in both states being regarded as too late to do the corn crop.

Delay in plowing for the winter crop had a bullish influence on the wheat market. There also were Canadian advances of a probable late harvest and considerable storm damage. In addition, unfavorable weather was reported as prevailing in Europe. Bears took profits in the grain market through prospects of a large increase in the wheat supply. Primary receipts were 1,208,000 bushels; a year ago 1,409,000 bushels. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour amounted to 126,000 bushels.

Longer unloading on an advance wiped out most of an early rise in oats. Sales from the interior were comparatively small.

Provisions ascended on account of purchasing believed to be for European account. The foreign buying was chiefly in lard.

GEORGIA TOPS ALL STATES IN PRODUCTION OF FERTILIZERS

Bulletin Issued by Director of Census Shows Georgia Leads Country in Producing Fertilizers

(By RALPH SMITH.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—"Georgia is by far the most important state in the production of commercial fertilizers, the value of its product in 1909 representing nearly one-sixth of the total for the country," says a bulletin just issued by William J. Harris, director of the census. The bulletin deals with the manufacture and consumption of fertilizer, and will appeal particularly to the farmers of Georgia and the south.

The bulletin is based upon statistics of the fertilizer industry for 1909. It covers establishments making artificial fertilizers, the products being ordinarily ready for use without being subjected to further treatment. The raw materials used by fertilizer factories include animal, vegetable, and mineral products, while sulphuric and other acids are used extensively in the treatment of basic materials.

A TREMENDOUS INDUSTRY. The total number of establishments reported as engaged primarily in the manufacture of fertilizers in 1909 was 556, with a capital of $121,537,451. The number of persons engaged in the industry was 21,950, of whom 18,110 were wage earners. The total value of all products of the 556 establishments amounted to $102,946,213, of which $92,549,531 was the value of fertilizers proper, the amount of which was 5,401,615 tons. The sum of $11,882,815 was paid out for services, of which $7,477,179 was for wages.

In 1909, 47 establishments were reported as making fertilizers, with 303 wage earners and products valued at $891,344. The growth of the industry from census to census has been continuous and for the most part rapid, the value of products reported for 1909 being nearly 18 times as great as that for 1869. Between 1869 and 1909 the value of products increased 122.8 per cent, the number of wage earners 58.1 per cent, and the amount paid in wages 78.7 per cent. The growth of the industry was greater during this decade than any other decade except that from 1869 to 1879.

GEORGIA LEADS ALL STATES. Although reported from 21 states, the industry is largely concentrated in the southern states, the states of the South Atlantic division alone reporting more than half of the total value of products in 1909. In this connection it may be noted that, according to the census of agriculture, much the larger part of the expenditure of farmers for fertilizer is in the south. In 1909 the farmers of the United States reported an expenditure of $114,882,500 for fertilizers, of which $75,752,296, or 65.9 per cent, was spent by the farmers of the south. The farmers of the South Atlantic division alone spent $59,625,130, or more than half of the total. Most of the expenditure for fertilizers outside of the south was reported from the three northeastern divisions of the country—the New England, Middle Atlantic, and East North Central divisions.

Georgia is by far the most important state in the production of fertilizers, the value of its product in 1909 representing nearly one-sixth of the total for the country. Maryland ranks second among the states in value of products of the fertilizer industry. Florida, one of the important states in this industry, showed the greatest rate of increase in value of products between 1899 and 1909, 67.6 per cent. In Georgia the increase was 39.9 per cent, and in Virginia, Alabama, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee, Mississippi and Connecticut the rate of increase exceeded 100 per cent. Although the percentage of increase during the decade was less conspicuous for South Carolina, this state advanced from sixth place in value of products in 1904 to third place in 1909.

CHARACTER OF OWNERSHIP. In 1909, of the total number of establishments reported for the industry 47.1 per cent were owned by corporations, as compared with 57 per cent in 1904. In 1909 the value of products of these establishments represented 94.3 per cent of the total, and in 1904 90.8 per cent.

The reports show that 1.8 per cent of the establishments manufactured products valued at $1,000,000 or over in 1909, as against 1.5 per cent in 1904. These establishments reported 16.6 per cent of the value of products in 1909 and 15.6 per cent in 1904. By far the greater part of the value of products of the industry, 73.8 per cent, in 1909, and 70.5 per cent, in 1904, was reported by establishments having a value of $100,000 or more, but less than $1,000,000 each. The average number of wage earners per establishment decreased from thirty-six in 1904 to thirty-three in 1909, but the average value of products per establishment increased from $141,700 to $139,019, and the average value added by manufacture from $43,241 to $52,615.

CLASS OF MATERIALS USED. As judged by the amount expended for them, ammoniates, animal and vegetable, were the most important materials, followed by phosphate rock, potash salts, superphosphates, nitrate of soda, ammonium sulphates, sulphuric acid, fish, pyrites and kaim in the order named. The cost of materials aggregated $51,360,425 in 1909, $28,975,713 in 1904 and $23,451,126 in 1899. Of these respective totals the cost of ammoniates formed 42.4 per cent in 1909, as compared with 41.2 per cent in 1904 and 39 per cent in 1909. The cost of phosphate rock shows only slight proportionate changes; it constituted 15.2 per cent of the total of the specific materials in 1899, 14.8 per cent in 1904 and 15.5 per cent in 1909. The cost of potash salts represented 12.2 per cent, 12.4 per cent and 13.2 per cent of the totals for the respective years, and the aggregate cost of sulphuric acid and pyrites and sulphur constituted 13.2 per cent of the total in 1899, 11 per cent in 1904 and 11.2 per cent in 1909.

All fertilizer establishments manufacturing sulphuric acid employed the chamber process, sixteen using the Hoff-

Eugene Wyatt at Auditorium Free Concert Sunday

EUGENE WYATT.

Eugene Wyatt, the celebrated English organist, will be the soloist at the free concert at the Auditorium-Armory this afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Everybody in Atlanta is invited to hear him. He is the man who played to 12,000 people in Royal Albert Hall, London. He is expected to play to over 6,000 here in Atlanta. Mr. Wyatt's program will be as follows:

Grand Fugue in G Minor.—Bach. (a) "The Question." (b) "The Answer."—Hoffman. (c) "Scherzo in F." Op. 70, No. 3.—Hoffman. (d) "March in C Sharp Minor."—Rachmaninoff. (e) Polonaise in A (o. 40, No. 1).—Chopin.

(a) Improvisation; (b) Creole Serenade; (c) Scherzo Joyeux; (d) "The Heart of the Matter."—Lemare. (e) Andante Pastorale (o. 22, No. 1). Dedicated to E. W.—Halsey. (a) Allegro Cantabile, from Organ Symphony No. 5.—Widor. (b) Grand March from "La Reine de Saba."—Gounod.

Mr. Wyatt has been in Atlanta since Friday, and has already thoroughly acquainted himself with the mechanism of the great organ.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

MONTGOMERY. Music lovers in Atlanta will be delighted with the announcement by the management of the Montgomery, that the talented grand opera soloist, who appeared at that theater some time ago, will return to this city for a limited engagement.

Miss Von Hoffmann won a warm place in the hearts of the patrons of the popular motion picture theater with her selections from grand and light operas, and it has been at great expense and effort that Mr. Clark, the manager of the Montgomery, has succeeded in booking her for another engagement. This gifted singer will appear in the latest light opera successes and many heavy grand opera numbers. During the afternoon Miss Von Hoffmann will confine herself to the lighter class of music, and in the evenings rendering the more difficult numbers.

SAVOY. Bruno Lessing and Myra Kelly have given the magazine public an intimate insight into the Jewish domestic character, but until now there has been none who has done a like service for the motion picture patrons. The immense possibilities of this field of expression has at last been realized in a two-reel feature, "The Heart of the Jewess," to be released at the Savoy Wednesday of this week.

For this production a company that comprised some of the best Jewish actors obtainable in America have been assembled and the scenes depicting the life of the people of New York's east side are the acme of realism. Especially effective are the scenes of a Jewish wedding, a glimpse of the emigrants on Ellis Island, the comedy of a scheming "Schadeh" and the selling of a suit of clothes to a greenhorn on Baxter street.

The action is spirited throughout and runs the gamut of the emotions involving tears and laughter, heart throbs and tragedy. Wednesday is the day the Vaudeville offers week of features, starting Monday with a two-reel feature, "The Fire Bug," a Keystone and some comedy all the way through, and a Thanhouser drama, "The Spirit of Envy." During the week "The Heritage of Eve," a two-reel Broncho, "Orphans of War," a two-reel K-B, and "Success," a two-reel Reliance, will be shown.

Lamey and Coombs will continue as usual to furnish the best in character and harmony singing. One of the delights of this theater is the organ recital, expertly executed with the professional touch of a master, and this in itself is worth many times the price of admission.

"The Three Pecks," at the Alcazar, have made a decided hit during the past week and owing to popular demand have been retained for another week.

The man intensifier system, eleven the Pratt, nine the Gilchrist, three the Meyer tangent system, and one the Luney. The manufacture, for consumption in their own works, of 1,826,358 tons of acid phosphate was reported by establishments engaged primarily in the fertilizer industry, and 12,507 tons were made and consumed by establishments manufacturing fertilizers as subsidiary products.

LOBBY PROBERS HEAR CONGRESSIONAL CHANGES

Congressman McDermott Accused of Having Accepted $7,500 to Defeat Legislation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The house lobby investigators centered their attention today on the statement of I. H. McMichael, one time chief page of the house, that Representative James T. McDermott, of Chicago, had received about $7,500 for efforts to defeat a bill affecting local pawnbrokers and "loan sharks." After more than five hours of hard work the committee was unable to make a definite conclusion about the $7,500 that it was when McMichael made his first statement.

The former chief of the house pages reiterated today his testimony that McDermott told him he got about $7,500 in the "loan shark" matter, and stuck to his story under severe cross-examination of James S. Easby-Smith, attorney for McDermott. The former Washington pawnbroker who quit business when this bill became law, gave the committee no definite information to connect McDermott with any such matter, or to disclose that the pawnbroker ever raised any such amount for any purpose.

Abraham Bernstein, one of the brokers, said he contributed to a fund to be used in advancing the arguments of himself and his fellows. He showed a lack of memory about many details concerning the raising of the money, and was subjected to long and sharp fire of direct examination in which every member of the committee who was present took part. Planned down time after time, Bernstein denied that the brokers ever raised more than $2,500 and swore it was used to pay attorneys to represent them before officials here and in publicity work.

He was asked to tell the story by George D. Horning, another local pawnbroker, who, according to McMichael, made the arrangement with McDermott to work against the bill. He said he had no check on the money amounting to about $700. He took no receipt, did not know how the money was used, but presumed it went to attorneys.

FORGETTING GOOD. McDermott, he said, had known about a year. He, Horning and "Ike" Heidenheimer, another broker, interested in the bill's defeat, had been in McDermott's office on Capitol Hill once, but he did not know the year, and he wasn't sure whether McDermott was in at the time or who was there. He was sure at first, however, that McDermott swore the deal was made, but after continued questioning agreed he wasn't entirely certain about the matter.

Bernstein's failure to remember details finally became so frequent that every question of the inquisitor got a laugh from his colleagues but no information from the witness.

Bernstein denied that $3,500 was raised to "defeat legislation." "Thirty-five hundred dollars never defeated legislation," he said. "You must defeat it with $40,000 or $50,000."

Bernstein denied he ever talked with McDermott about legislation except in a casual way.

Miss Von Hoffmann won a warm place in the hearts of the patrons of the popular motion picture theater with her selections from grand and light operas, and it has been at great expense and effort that Mr. Clark, the manager of the Montgomery, has succeeded in booking her for another engagement. This gifted singer will appear in the latest light opera successes and many heavy grand opera numbers. During the afternoon Miss Von Hoffmann will confine herself to the lighter class of music, and in the evenings rendering the more difficult numbers.

SAVOY. Bruno Lessing and Myra Kelly have given the magazine public an intimate insight into the Jewish domestic character, but until now there has been none who has done a like service for the motion picture patrons. The immense possibilities of this field of expression has at last been realized in a two-reel feature, "The Heart of the Jewess," to be released at the Savoy Wednesday of this week.

For this production a company that comprised some of the best Jewish actors obtainable in America have been assembled and the scenes depicting the life of the people of New York's east side are the acme of realism. Especially effective are the scenes of a Jewish wedding, a glimpse of the emigrants on Ellis Island, the comedy of a scheming "Schadeh" and the selling of a suit of clothes to a greenhorn on Baxter street.

The action is spirited throughout and runs the gamut of the emotions involving tears and laughter, heart throbs and tragedy. Wednesday is the day the Vaudeville offers week of features, starting Monday with a two-reel feature, "The Fire Bug," a Keystone and some comedy all the way through, and a Thanhouser drama, "The Spirit of Envy." During the week "The Heritage of Eve," a two-reel Broncho, "Orphans of War," a two-reel K-B, and "Success," a two-reel Reliance, will be shown.

Lamey and Coombs will continue as usual to furnish the best in character and harmony singing. One of the delights of this theater is the organ recital, expertly executed with the professional touch of a master, and this in itself is worth many times the price of admission.

"The Three Pecks," at the Alcazar, have made a decided hit during the past week and owing to popular demand have been retained for another week.

The man intensifier system, eleven the Pratt, nine the Gilchrist, three the Meyer tangent system, and one the Luney. The manufacture, for consumption in their own works, of 1,826,358 tons of acid phosphate was reported by establishments engaged primarily in the fertilizer industry, and 12,507 tons were made and consumed by establishments manufacturing fertilizers as subsidiary products.

Railroads Demand Increase In Pay for Handling Mail On Account of Parcel Post

Seventeen Western Lines Unite in Petition to Postmaster General Burleson, Not Satisfied With 5 Per Cent Increase Already Granted

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—Officials of seventeen western railroads, including the Santa Fe, Burlington, Rock Island and other trunk lines, signed a telegram that was sent today to Postmaster General Burleson urging the government to increase the compensation of the roads for handling the mails. The increase is asked on the ground that the volume of mail has greatly increased as a result of the establishment of the parcel post and will further increase after August 20.

The telegram was sent as the result of investigations conducted by a committee appointed by the railroads. The telegram says in part: "The undersigned are prompted respectfully to ask you to consider whether the United States government is really dealing fairly with the railroads of the country as to the matter of pay in connection with the introduction and extension of parcel post service."

"The testimony of the postoffice department before the senate committee July 25 showed that the first three months' business of the department after the installation of the parcel post had a gross increase in postal revenue of 14.5 per cent, of which at least 9.16 per cent was attributed to the new parcel post business."

"On the basis of this statement the government must have collected not less than $11,266,800 in revenue from the parcel post for the first six months beginning January 1."

ONE INCREASE ALREADY. "To remunerate the transportation companies for the additional parcel post business transported, congress provided, beginning July 1, a 5 per cent gross increase in their mail pay based on rates, zones and weight limit in the original act, although the additional business transported amounted to at least 9.16 per cent, according to the testimony of the postoffice department. The extension of the parcel post inaugurated August 15, when the weight limit was raised from 11 to 20 pounds and mileage increased, is certain to result in vast enlargement of business."

"The government will collect postage on this business but no provision has been made to pay the railroads for transporting it. Not only will they receive no compensation for this increased business but will suffer the actual loss of earnings previously derived from the same traffic when carried as express and freight."

"Congress is in session and can immediately remedy this condition in accordance with suggestions made by the committee on railway mail pay in letter to you July 30, which we endorse."

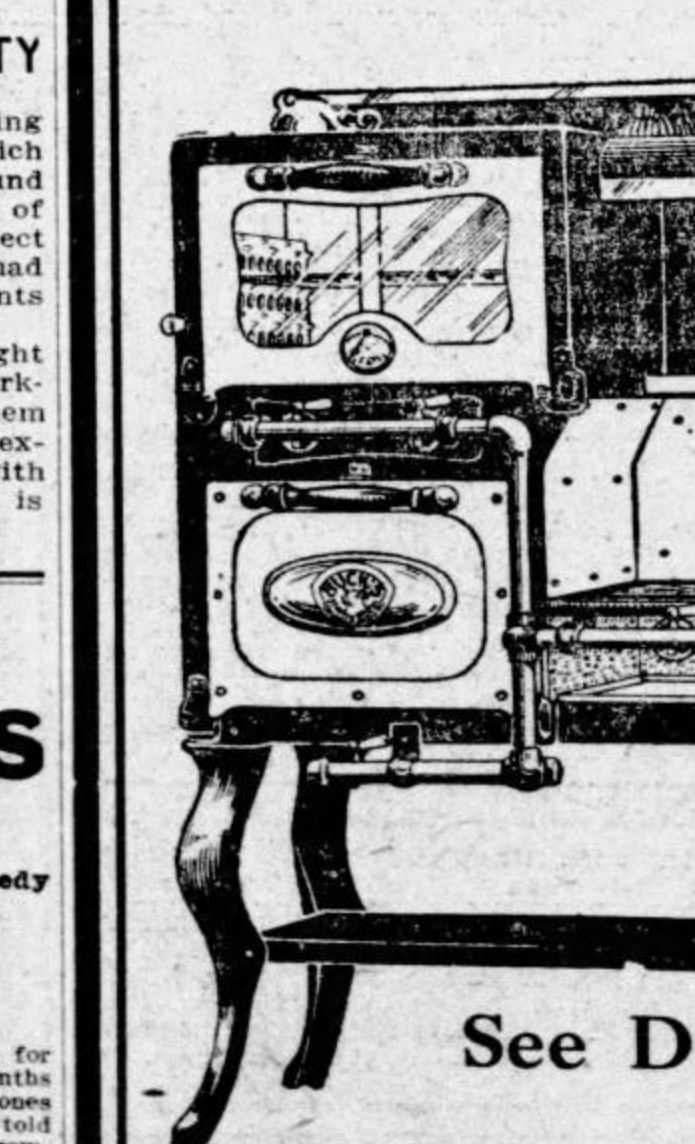

Officials of the following railroads were included among the signers of the telegram: Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain; Missouri, Kansas and Texas; St. Louis and Northwestern; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Illinois Central; St. Louis and San Francisco; Denver and Rio Grande; Texas and Pacific; Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

HIDDEN IN WELL, HOLDER ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

DALTON, Ga., Aug. 16.—Badly hurt and bleeding, a man was found hidden in a well in Dalton, Ga., today. He was arrested by John Holder, charged with burglary. They found him in the bottom of a well in East Dalton. Holder was averse to letting the well be known, but the bailiffs threatened to drop a few large rocks at his "bean," he was brought to his senses, and getting in the bucket, perished them to haul him up. There being little evidence, the charge against Holder was dismissed.

GEORGIA AND HER POLITICS

Automobile Registry Law Will Doubtless Prove Unsatisfactory

Outside of the knowledge that the legislature passed a law requiring the payment of an annual $5 registry fee on each and every automobile in Georgia, regardless of its value or carrying capacity, few persons in the state are informed of the other important provisions of this bill.

The original bill, when it left the ways and means committee of the house simply increased the automobile registration fee from $2 to $5 and substituted an annual registration and payment of fee instead of the permanent registration heretofore existing. This bill passed the house in that form, but in the senate on the last day of the session, during the press of business, an amendment was tacked onto it requiring the state treasurer to apportion all moneys received from automobile registrations among the various counties of the state. This apportionment must be according to the rural route mileage in each county as set out in the federal government reports.

In the main the amendment will be that the city counties will pay the greater portion of the fund from the fees, but will be the smallest beneficiaries.

There are more than 22,000 automobiles operated in Georgia. The owners of these machines will pay more than $110,000 a year into the state treasury. Quite the larger proportion of the automobiles are in the city counties, but the rural mileage are in the country counties where there are the fewest automobiles.

Fulton county may be taken as an example. There are between four and five thousand machines operated in that county. They will pay about $25,000 a year in registration fees, or more than one-fourth of the aggregate sum paid by all the counties of the state.

The exact figures are not available just now, but it is estimated that on account of the very few and very short rural routes in Fulton county's part of the $110,000 would be considerably less than $10,000. And even should the apportionment between the 148 counties be on an equal share basis Fulton would get less than $700. And what is true of Fulton is also true, to a greater or lesser degree, of all city counties.

What is considered another rather serious defect in the bill is that outside of a clause designating the funds collected from automobile registration fees as the "state road fund," it fails to prescribe just how and for what purposes the counties shall use their shares of the money.

There can be no doubt that the authors of the amendment intended that the money should be applied by the various counties to the public roads, but failing to so specify leaves the expenditure to the will and wishes of the county authorities.

Under the old law all money derived from automobile registration fees went into the common fund and was used to pay school teachers' pensions, and other expenses of the state.

Senator Converse's Strong Plan for Georgia Mothers.

When the bill giving mothers an equal right with fathers for the custody of their minor children was up for passage in the senate last Thursday Senator W. L. Converse, of the Sixth district, was one of the senate leaders who made a strong speech in behalf of the measure. He followed Senators W. D. McNeill, of the Twenty-second, and Judge John T. Allen, of the Twentieth.

Senators McNeill and Allen are both able lawyers, and they pitched their arguments on the urgent need for such legislation and its legal effect. Senator Converse turned aside from legal arguments and delivered an eloquent plea in behalf of Georgia mothers, declaring that the pending law would result in but simple justice. "I cannot and will not cast my vote for anything that is adverse to the interests of the mothers," Prison Reform Probation Bill Is Signed by Governor Slaton.

Governor Slaton Saturday afternoon affixed his signature to the bill introduced by Senator M. C. Tarver, of the Forty-third district, which empowers trial judges to put misdemeanor convicts on probation, and in the event a fine is imposed to allow such convicts to pay their fines in installments.

This bill, which was advocated by the Prison Reform Association of Georgia, was one of the most important humanitarian measures passed by the recent legislature.

Governor Slaton spent the greater part of Saturday afternoon at his office in the Capitol reading and signing bills. About 200 bills have already been sent to him for his signature. The majority of these bills are of a local nature, applying to certain towns, cities and counties.

GEORGIA INVESTORS HELPED BY NEW LAW

Wilmer L. Moore Says "Blue Sky" Act Will Guard Against Fakirs of All Kinds

That Georgia's investors now will be saved millions of dollars a year by having their securities guarded against fakes is the assertion of Wilmer Moore, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce.

"The effect of the new law passed by the legislature will be far-reaching," said he Saturday. "It will open up broader fields of investment for Georgians by stamping as honest those who offer solid stocks and bonds and general securities of real value, and by branding as dishonest those who hitherto have been almost unchecked in their distribution of fraudulent and otherwise worthless securities. The fakirs have been finding their best customers among people of moderate means, high intelligence and deficient worldly wisdom. It is those people, and through them the state, that the new law will protect, substituting its own machinery for the experience which they lack."

Mr. Moore paid high tribute to the chamber of commerce committee, of which H. M. Willett was chairman. "The blue sky committee," as it was called, worked diligently and effectively to encourage the passage of the measure, which was introduced by Representative J. R. Spencer, of Carroll, and Ed Wilsender, of Muscogee.

The new law provides that no stocks, bonds, debentures, certificates of participation, or other securities, shall be sold or offered for sale in Georgia until the person offering them shall have filed with the secretary of state a statement of all the necessary information required to insure legitimacy of the security.

And I would rather have my tongue paralyzed than utter one word against them," said Senator Converse.

The senator from the Sixth has proven himself to be a conscientious and conservative legislator. His experience in the house of representatives as one of the members of the Lowndes county stood him in good stead in the senate. Senator Converse is seriously thinking of entering the race for congress in the Eleventh district next year.

One Young Woman Who Can Keep a Political Secret.

Miss Ida Henderson, the popular and efficient stenographer of the state prison board, who is said to know more Georgia politicians than any other young woman in the state, is spending her vacation in Mountain city, Rabun county.

Although Miss Henderson has a wide personal acquaintance among the politicians and takes a keen interest in politics she is neither a suffragette nor a suffragist (whatever the distinction may be). She has never been known to "tell."

A Room, a Home, a Boarding Place, for You on This Page

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

DEAR HOME LOVER:

Does your home give you all the comfort and satisfaction you would like?

As we all know, nothing goes farther toward making the home cozier and more comfortable than the right kind of furnishings. Not certain styles or makes, but the right kind in regard to service and appearance.

We have spent many years in furnishing homes in and around Atlanta. We have studied the needs of the different homes and rooms; we have tested the different articles that go into the home, and have brought together an assortment of home furnishings that we are proud of. We believe in them and we want you to. That is why we guarantee satisfaction.

Our stock is well arranged; easy to see. You will always receive courteous treatment, whether on an inspection or buying trip; and with our store service we are sure you will be satisfied.

Linden Street Lot, Between Peachtrees, Brings $25,500, or $300 a Foot—Sales and Building at Altoloma—St. Charles Avenue Sale—Loan Agent S ys Money Is Growing Plentiful, Canada a Better Advertiser Than Atlanta

The sale of a large lot on Linden street, between the Peachtrees, was featured in real estate announcements made yesterday afternoon.

This sale was made by the Daniel Brothers' company to John W. Zuber, and the consideration was $25,000, or $200 a front foot.

The property is opposite the Davis-Fisher sanitarium, and is on the north side of Linden street, about half way between the Peachtrees. It has a frontage of 55 feet, and a depth of 240 feet along a twenty-foot side alley that extends through to North avenue, being the northwest corner of Linden street and the alley.

Mr. Zuber bought mainly as an investment, but he may possibly build next spring, although his plans are not definite in that direction.

This was the third sale ranging from $15,000 to $30,000 announced yesterday. All three sales were of vacant property, two being on the north side, including the corner of Peachtree road and Piedmont avenue, and the third in the Inman Park section on La France street.

MONEY GROWING EASIER.

The most encouraging feature of the market just now is the increased supply and the lower interest rate of money. A notable feature also is that money, contrary to the rule in force since anyone can remember, is becoming easier as the crop moving season is beginning.

The manager of the loan department of one of the oldest real estate agencies in Atlanta said yesterday that conditions had improved remarkably.

"Up to thirty days ago, there was no money to be loaned," he said, "but now it is becoming more plentiful and the rate is being reduced. One reason of this is that eastern capitalists are taking their money out of stocks and bonds and are putting it in real estate first mortgages, which are just as safe, or safer, and bring a better return."

"I have had a great many offers of amounts from $1,000 to $5,000 from northern and eastern people, and one man telegraphed me that he had $10,000 to put in mortgages and asked me to place it."

"Our loans are mostly small ones, ranging from $500 to $2,500. Loans of $1,000 and under we get 8 per cent on the rest are 7 per cent."

"There is no doubt of the fact that the government offer of money for crop moving purposes has had the effect of forcing hoarded funds back into business channels. The government offer doesn't help the banks as much as it

"Another result of easier money is the encouragement to small builders. One builder, who has been holding out, has started erection of four two-story houses. Others are preparing to get back into the building business."

A prominent Atlanta merchant, who also operates in real estate, said yesterday that he had been visited by a man who said he had casted money in sums of $50,000 and over, part of which he offered him for building work.

REALTY ORGANIZATION.

The first day meeting of the Atlanta Real Estate board last Friday was a great success, the organization, judging by the attendance and spirit, is growing stronger all the time.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation, through M. F. Ramsey, of a watch chain to Charles P. Glover, the former president of the board.

Harris G. White, president of the board, and Mr. Glover, told of what they saw at Winnipeg during the convention. Mr. Glover, speaking of his impressions of Canada, thought more than ever that our own values were conservative. He considered that we looked upon Canada as a land of exploitation. He thought we could learn something from Canada on the art of advertising a section.

A humorous effort was made for the impeachment of S. E. Turner, a delegate, who was charged with rank desertion. A very short, but strikingly humorous talk—it didn't have anything to do with the convention—was made by Col. J. H. Tribble.

Charles D. McKinney, the lawyer, addressed the board on the work of organizing the state chamber of commerce, and asked the co-operation of Atlanta real estate agents. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Van B. Smith, the new secretary.

Atlantic Fleet Starts on Tour of Mediterranean on October 25

(By Associated Press.) NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16.—October 25, 1913, has been set as the date for the Atlantic fleet to start on its Mediterranean tour. Plans for the trip were discussed today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Read Admiral Badger aboard the flagship Wyoming.

The fleet will return December 20, so that the sailors may spend the Christmas holidays at home. The ports at which it will call will be tentatively decided upon by Admiral Badger and submitted to the navy department. Secretary Daniels also announced that the battleship Oregon, made famous by her run around Cape Horn from the Pacific to the Atlantic during the Spanish war, will come through the Panama canal next spring to lead the Atlantic fleet through to the Pacific. She is now at the Bremerton navy yards.

An invitation to all the navies of the world to meet at Hampton Roads in January, 1915, and to discuss the Panama canal to the Panama exposition at San Francisco, accompanied by fleet from the United States navy, shortly will be issued by President Wilson. Secretary Daniels made this announcement tonight. The invitation will be in the form of a proclamation.

DESERTER FROM ARMY GIVES HIMSELF UP

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16.—Claiming that for four years he had been haunted by an accusing conscience, William Cox, one time quartermaster of the United States army, at Fort Belvoir, Washington, he stated today surrendered to local federal officials and expects to be taken to be court-martialed for desertion. Cox stated that although he has been in many parts of the world since quitting the service so abruptly, he has never been identified and has never feared detection. It was his conscience, he said, that impelled him to give himself up. Washington authorities have been notified of Cox's arrest.

Sea Island Bale

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 16.—The first bale of sea island cotton arrived here yesterday from Arthur Wisenbaker's place. It weighed over 500 pounds and was extra good quality, selling for 20 cents. As a general proposition, the farmers are complaining about too much moisture for cotton. The rains have been very heavy and injurious. Other crops, however, are doing splendidly and the prediction is made that south Georgia is going to make the greatest crop of sugar cane, sweet potatoes, corn, pumpkins, etc., that have ever been seen here.
