GOOD CHARACTER IS MATERIAL, HE DECLARES, BUT DOES NOT SUFFICE IF GUILT HAS BEEN PROVEN

BY RALPH SMITH. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The judiciary committee of the house, after reading more of the charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer, today directed Chairman Henry D. Clayton to present a resolution to the house, authorizing the committee to proceed with a full and complete inquiry of the accusations against the jurist.

Mr. Jones had been emphatically a progressive Democrat in state politics, and had been a member of the National Bankers' association, the Merchants' Manufacturers' association and the Atlanta Freight Bureau, in which latter organization he was chairman of the board of directors last year.

Five Instances of These Demonstrations Which, Mr. Arnold Asserted, Must Have Been Heard by Jury, Were Cited; Judge Immediately Overruled Motion-Dorsey's Final Summing-Up Speech—Mrs. Frank Almost Faints

Immediately after overruling the motion for a new trial made by Attorney Arnold, Judge Roan began his charge to the jury. He concluded at 12:47.

Judge Clayton will introduce this resolution at tomorrow's session of the house, and he will ask its immediate consideration. It is anticipated that the resolution will be passed without serious opposition, and that the committee will arrange for a special inquiry into the case of Judge Speer.

Mr. Jones has been especially active in the work of the chamber of commerce, and has been noted for his work in the city. He has been a member of the board of directors of the Atlanta Freight Bureau, in which latter organization he was chairman of the board of directors last year.

The case of the state versus Leo M. Frank went to the jury at 12:47 o'clock Monday afternoon. Court was then adjourned and the jury taken to lunch. After the jurymen finished eating, the court returned to the fourth floor of the court house where they will deliberate until they reach a verdict or until they satisfy the court that it is impossible for them to agree.

He then defined murder, expressed malice, and malice. He said it was for the jury to say whether the credibility of the witnesses. He outlined the legal meaning of "direct evidence" and "circumstantial evidence," but evident of good character on the part of the defendant was relevant and material, but that if good character were proven it would not suffice if guilt were shown.

There are about two hundred pages of the report of Special Examiner Otto, which were referred to by the committee today. The Georgia committee has a perfect record as far as the committee is concerned.

He has been quoted as refusing to tender his resignation unless asked for on political grounds. He claims that he is in his official capacity, and has no other business to do. He has been a member of the board of directors of the Atlanta Freight Bureau, in which latter organization he was chairman of the board of directors last year.

Just as Solicitor Dorsey concluded his speech Mrs. Frank, wife of the defendant, manifested signs of faintness. Friends handed her a glass of water and fanned her. While Judge Roan was reading his charge Mrs. Frank leaned her head against that of her husband, and the latter had his arm about his wife's waist.

He then defined for the benefit of the jury the meaning of the word "character." He said that the jury should not be taken as evidence if they had heard of misconduct that was not taken as evidence of such misconduct if they failed to answer.

When you write a Journal Want Ad, make it direct, businesslike and forceful. Don't expect a half-hearted, small-spaced Want Ad that does not contain sufficient facts to get you big results. You are judged by the kind of a Want Ad you write. Consider this as a Want that gives information for a prospective employer: WANTED—Position wanted as a stenographer. I am a young man, 26 years of age, graduate of the University of Georgia, with a record during a positive efficiency rating in the manufacturing concern. GEORGIA RIFLE TEAM ENJOYS 'CUE IN CAMP'

The Boys Are Doing Some Shooting, as Well as Turkey-Trotting and Eating

By Lieut. J. C. Adolphus. CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 25.—The Georgia rifle team spent a quiet Sunday in camp and enjoyed very much a real old Georgia barbecue with plenty of Brunswick stew, cooked by a real old Georgia negro.

General and Mrs. R. K. Evans and Lieutenant Colonel Thomas were guests of the Georgia team at dinner today. General Evans said that he could not predict how the team would finish in the class, but if it finished as well as airplanes indicate it will well up in the class.

All are on edge to get into the national individual match which will be held Monday. This match is one of the greatest honors a man can win in the shooting game. It is expected that several Georgia men will be among the prize winners in this match. The weather conditions have been very good during the past few days. The nights are very clear and the mornings are very bright. The boys are to keep warm and have a big fire in the camp stove.

GAME WARDEN MERCER SENDS HUNTERS' LICENSES

State Game Warden Mercer has mailed out 25,000 duck hunting licenses to all parts of the state; and if the record of last year is maintained, the licenses sent out will be sold.

There are more birds in the state than we have ever had before, said the warden. The birds are in the state and are being protected, and from all parts of the state I hear that birds are plentiful.

The warden has also issued licenses for open season on 20, but many licenses are being held for squirrel shooting and fox hunting.

FRANK ROSSER'S DEFENSE DENIED BY JUDGE

Judge Tells Jury They Are the Judges

...the defendant continued reading the affidavit of the petitioner. The defendant's counsel requested the transfer of the respondent to the jail, it was impossible for the judge to know what was occurring in the courtroom. The judge was advised that the respondent had been admitted to see him against his wishes, but that he had not seen him for some time. The judge was advised that the respondent had been admitted to see him against his wishes, but that he had not seen him for some time. The judge was advised that the respondent had been admitted to see him against his wishes, but that he had not seen him for some time.

Various facts sustaining, by their consistency, the hypothesis claimed. To warrant a conviction on circumstantial evidence, the proven facts must not only be consistent with the hypothesis of guilt, but must exclude every other reasonable and plausible hypothesis save that of the guilt of the accused. The defendant has introduced testimony as to his good character. On this subject, I charge you that evidence of good character when offered by the defendant in a criminal case is always relevant and material, and should be considered by the jury, along with all the other evidence introduced, as a part of the whole. It should be considered by the jury, not merely, because the balance of the testimony in the case makes it doubtful whether the defendant is guilty or not, but also because such evidence of good character may of itself generate a doubt as to the defendant's guilt. Good character is a substantial fact, like any other fact tending to establish the defendant's innocence, and ought to be so regarded by the jury. Like all other facts proved in the case, it should be weighed and estimated by the jury. It may render that doubtful the charge of the defendant, and if a consideration of the proof of his good character, and so considered along with the evidence, creates a reasonable doubt in the minds of the jury as to the defendant's guilt, then it would be the duty of the jury to acquit. The benefit of the doubt thus raised goes to the defendant, and to acquit him.

Surprising How Many Women Are Selecting Their Fall Suits These Days. Time was when it would have been considered "rushing the season" to select a fall suit in August.

But customs change with time and what was impracticable a few years ago is a very sensible thing to do now--and so smart women who concern themselves with the new styles while they are still new are turning to the well-filled crystal cases of our suit department...

That choosing with such satisfaction might not be possible in every store at this season we will not argue, but that it IS possible here is a matter you may prove by a few minutes' visit to the Suit Department.

The style tendencies for fall are well developed now, there is nothing to wait for in that respect--and they are novel and interesting and varied.

Novel and interesting from many viewpoints. There are draped cutaway coats, there are cutaway coats that button close up to the neck, there are cutaway coats with "dug out" collars and others that have the semblance of a blouse--all different from styles we have known.

And coats are to be longer this fall; any measure 38 to 42 inches, but--and to the pleasure of the woman of light stature--often the cutaway effect robs them of the appearance of being long.

Never were styles more generally becoming! Many of the skirts are slashed, many are draped in one way and another.

Materials show the new scheme of things. Soft finished fabrics are prominent, velour cloth self-striped, crepons, ratene-striped fabrics and bayadere poplins, trimmings often take a contrasting shade and again the use of embroidered velvet is pronounced on collars, cuffs and skirts.

What are the colors? See with your own eyes! Naming the mahogany, cinnamon, prune, amethyst, Copenhagen and navy shades is but poor apology for their richness and beauty.

This is a worthy display of the new suit fashions, one that a woman may approach with the confidence that the suit she selects will be an authentic style.

Dinner Dances

Close Past Week
The past week closed with the two delightful dances, that at East Lake following the interesting water polo and the dinner dance at the Piedmont club.

NORTH CAROLINA WOMEN WEAVERS FOR MRS. WILSON

The bedroom of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in the White House at Washington will be adorned with rugs designed by the living at Elizabeth N. C. Miss Caroline Harcus, who is seventy-four years old and her sister, Mrs. Martha Walker, seventy-six years old. The sisters are expert dyers and weavers and they use the old time process of dyeing with bark and herbs and weave on an old-fashioned hand loom, preparing the thread with card and spinning wheel. In the loom room of the two women the atmosphere of the past still lingers. There may be found everything pertaining to the manufacture of home-run materials, wheels, spurs, starlock reels, quilting wheels, awl, bales of thread and yarn. There also may be found piles of new and old colorful geometric designs such as formed the favorite floor and bed coverings of our ancestors and are still in use in the homes of many country folk today. The machines employed by these two women are none of your new fangled factory made devices. Their shuttles and spools are made by hand, both years and made in the home. Mrs. Harcus do their work in the juice of the old time herbs, and no new juice colored yarn can equal either in color or durability the herbed yarn. The old-fashioned hand loom is today more or less of a curiosity, and there are many of its younger generation who have never seen one. Much skill and the patience of a weaver is required to operate one of these looms, and even the most expert weaver of the profession is slow. The affectionate regard which the Harcus women have at all times found among all southern spinners and weavers. Their machines are heirlooms that have been handed down from generation to generation, and they are treasured by the two elderly sisters like relics. Indeed they will readily assume an interested visitor that they have a feeling of affection for their looms that is akin to the love for a human companion. There are three distinct motions in hand weaving. First is the forming of the shed, that is separating the threads of the warp as the threads which run throughout the length of the finished fabric are called. These are drawn down the warp beam and placed in the loom in two or more series. Between them the shed is formed, either by hand or mechanical means. The third is the beating up of this thread against the one which preceded it. The process is a simple a continued repetition of these three motions. A description of the operation is given in Ovid's "Metamorphosis." The piece prepared And order every slender thread with care. The web wraps the beam, the tread divides it. While through the widening space the shuttle flies. Which their swift hands strike, then the swinging weight strikes close the inserted thread. And as these women work, Sitch in, stitch out, warp and wool, the pattern grows.—New York Sun.

Socialist Wife of Gotham Millionaire Stranded penniless

(By Associated Press.) LIMA, Ohio, Aug. 25.—Refusing to report the theft of her purse to the police and to accept money from friends, Rose Pastor Stokes, of New York, socialist speaker and settlement worker, is "stranded" tonight in a hotel here with only 25 cents and her baggage in her possession. She is awaiting a reply to her message sent to her husband, J. Phelps Stokes, a New York millionaire. This afternoon Mrs. Stokes left her hotel to confer with Socialists. When she returned, $98 which she had left in her room, was missing. She said she knew who took the money, but added that she would not prosecute the thief. "What is money to me compared to the sustenance of my husband?" she said. "I will not prosecute. It would only tend to make him a confirmed thief."

WOULD STRETCH LAW ON DISPATCHING MILITIA

Conference of War Department Officials and Militia Leaders to Be Held (By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—More liberal interpretation of the constitutional provision which in the past has been accepted as prohibiting the dispatch of militia to foreign soil will be sought in the coming conference between the staff officers of the militia of the various states. Denial was made that there was any significance in raising the question at this time. A desire to make the regular army and the militia a more effective combination, it was declared, prompted the department's action. Military lawyers are said to be convinced that authority is given by the constitution for the employment of militia in foreign countries to execute the laws of the nation. They are not all agreed in this debate of the fundamental law, and a definition is expected.

PHIL LIES FAI DOWN; CLEVELAND LOSES OUT

Giants and Mackmen Got Busy During Week Just Closed and Ended the Hot Fight for Flag—Rivals in 1912 Series Now Sure to Again Clash

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Whatever chance remained for the most recent of the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans would now face each other as their series opponents faded almost to the vanishing point in the gloom of Saturday eve.

Twelve full games now separate New York and Philadelphia in the national league with the Quakers wobbling and the Giants again in the full stride of their best 1913 year. In the American league the Athletics, although somewhat plucky with injuries, have increased their lead over the Red Sox.

The break in Philadelphia's spirit which virtually put season's men out of the running in the National league race began with the appearance of Chicago on the Quaker field. Four straight was the Cubs' record in that series up to the time when the Phillies rallied against Evers' team and won their first victory of the season.

St. Louis, fresh from a triumph over New York in three games at the Polo grounds, resumed Philadelphia's humiliation, losing the second game of a series that ended yesterday. Philadelphia then tied the Pirates Friday.

Meanwhile Chicago, moving on to New York, fell victim to the renewed vim of the Giants and dropped the entire series, resulting in a doubleheader to strengthen their lead almost to the point of impregnability. Their victory at Pittsburgh was largely chargeable to the game set up both in the field and by Hugh Wagner.

PHILADELPHIA OFF. Pittsburgh with its twirling staff in shape again in displaying a new brand of ball as any team in the league and will be a constant for second place if it can keep it up.

St. Louis is also doing good work. The second division of the league is high time of it among themselves. Cincinnati, gaining confidence, has seen Louis falling off perceptibly and Brooklyn and Boston about holding their own. The Cardinals seem anchored at the foot of the ladder and are not likely to change regarding players, management and ownership.

Champion Is Three-to-One Shot Against the Field in the Finals

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 25.—The choice of a new champion for the title by Maurice E. McLaughlin, of San Francisco, against the field of tournament for the national lawn tennis championship was a matter of much discussion and not a few wagers among the visitors. The odds on McLaughlin were 3 to 1 against the field, consisting of New York's Willie K. Moore, Jr., Norris Williams II, and Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia.

In the semi-finals Niles will play Williams and Johnson will meet McLaughlin. It seemed the general opinion that the finals Tuesday would be between Williams and McLaughlin. That the national contests this year have set a higher standard in lawn tennis was admitted by all the experts to be a fact. It was pointed out that the future of the game had been improved within two games of the championship of the sport declared that the game had advanced 20 per cent in proficiency and 100 per cent in interest within the last ten years.

Three of the semi-finalists—McLaughlin, Johnson and Williams—were members of the Davis cup team, and it is interesting to note also that they are rated at 1, 2 and 3 or at the top of the list of association players. McLaughlin defeated Williams last year in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 5-3, while his scores against Johnson were 6-2, 6-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Giants and Mackmen Appear to Have Flags Tucked Away

IF YOU TAKE HIM OUT BELIEVE SODA IS CHARGED. ASK HANK.

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE SUMMER VARIETY, ESPECIALLY.
Some think of Heaven as a dream
Above all things that life holds dear;
Of song and love and stars aplomb,
Of spring eternal through the year;
A pitcher's lip—beyond all price
Of dreams that be of tales untold—
I picture Heaven as a place
WHERE NO ONE EVER HAS A COLD.

Some think of Heaven, from knocks,
As golden paved, without a flat;
Where only Cobbs and Bakers bat;
And only Cobb and Baker bat;
For me, bleared in day's despair,
Beyond its glitter and its gold,
It's quite enough to know up there
THAT NO ONE EVER HAS A COLD.

Mr. Herrmann states that he doesn't care to discuss the affairs of the club in the newspapers.

If we owned the Reds we'd never attempt to discuss their affairs in the newspapers, either, as long as the United States mail regulations were so severe on profanity and invective.

There's only one sane method of discussing the Reds and that merely involves the absence of three letters as said discussing begins.

THE PITH OF IT.
Johnson, according to Griff, has been working with a sore arm of late. Griff should take him out and treat his shoulder blade or cube in his elbow. Then he might win a game or two.

"The only pitcher my club can't beat," remarked Connie Mack five or six years ago, "is one with a sore arm."

Also the pitcher who hasn't anything but a glove and a prayer—according to the athlete who has just whiffed for the third time.

It all depends upon where you start from. Two years ago Chance considered anything short of the world series a highly successful year. Six place today would be a miracle and seventh place a "banter campaign."

POT HUNTING THE LEADER.
Leadership is a big factor in a ball club. But it isn't the entire programme. We know of about five managers this waning campaign who would be justified into the straberrery if there were any others in sight to take their places. But there are not.

This is true of minor leagues as well as minors. There are not three managers in the minors who know how to train and develop young talent so that it can move along when it reaches the big show.

For a game that has attained such proportions it is not astounding when one considers the amount of ineffectiveness shown. Less than 10 per cent of ball players ever make the game the best they have or the study that it needs.

ONE EXAMPLE.
Here's one example. The art of sliding is one of the big features of base running and one of the most important as a bar against injury. Yet in the big league run of sixteen camps there are less than four clubs that have sliding pits and that spend any great amount of time developing this phase of the pastime. And then those managers raise a row against the lack of the game when they have several severely injured sliding to second—injured because they failed to slide.

"The general inefficiency of the world," wrote Arnold Bennett recently, "makes me weep." He must have been thinking of baseball, for despite all the wonderful advances it has made in certain directions, it is still an unutilized field save in a few scattering cases where brains have been planted with knowledge and energy.

There is no great profession extant which has seen or known such meagre development in comparison to what might be harvested if there were a few more with the ambition of Cobb, Evers, etc.

Burford Wins 13- inning Contest

Burford drafted Lawrenceville in one of the prettiest games of ball ever played in Burford, in a 13-inning game. Reason of the locals striking out 13. His opponents and allowing only 3 runs. Feature of the game was home run of Brogdon tying the score in the eighth and Brogdon's three-base hit in the tenth scoring Martin. McConnell struck a real good one.

JUST NOTES

The following are the dates of the British rugby union's international trial matches for the forthcoming season: December 6, England vs. the south; December 20, England vs. the north; January 2, 1914, England vs. Wales; February 14, 1914, England vs. Ireland; March 31, 1914, England vs. Scotland.

Now that the American Football Association has affiliated with the United States of America Soccer League the outlook is bright for some real progress in the development of the English style of football in which the feet play the all-important part.

Bob Armstrong has been engaged to Charley Miller, the promising San Francisco pugilist, to act in shape for coming contest with Arthur Pelley.

The Ski club of Great Britain announces that it has decided to institute a championship open all British ski runners. The competition will be held during the coming winter.

When Jack Donaldson beat Harry Hutchins' record of 30 seconds for 300 yards in Waverly, Massachusetts, England, recently, covering the distance in 22 1/4 seconds, he ran on a grass track, which is one of the fastest in England.

Wants Game
The Whittier Mill team would like to take a game with some strong team or around the city for Saturday to be managed by Ed. J. Allen, of the Empire club, call W. Simmons, Main 2500.

Lake Returned To the Minors

McDermott Wins
SHEWAN-ON-DELL, WADE, Pa., Aug. 25.—After breaking the record of the course with a fine seventy, John McDermott, of Atlantic City, national open golf champion, won the Shawnee Country club's open golf tournament today with a total score of 293. Alec Smith, of Wyazgoy, was second with a score of 301.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Another major league veteran of many years has been sent to the minors. President Navin, of the Detroit (American League Baseball) club, announced that Pitcher Joe Lake had been released to Minneapolis, and that Catcher Rondeau, a recruit, would accompany him there. The two players go to Minneapolis in part payment for Pitcher Constock, purchased last week. Lake's last major league appearance occurred Saturday, when New York knocked him from the mound in two innings. Late Sunday night President Navin, of the Detroit club, announced that the Detroit club, at the request of Manager Jennings, would retain Lake for a few days before turning him over to Minneapolis. Mr. Navin stated that Jennings felt that the Detroit pitching staff was weak at present, and Lake might be needed until one or two of the pitchers who have been interposed rounded into shape.

Cross-Dundee Bout Is to Be Delayed

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 25.—The Leach Cross-Johnny Dundee bout scheduled for September 1 at the Vernon arena, was postponed indefinitely tonight in deference to the death of John Williams. The action was taken on the suggestion of Cross himself on the ground that it would be best to "wait a while."

Further investigation of the cause of Young's death as a result of injuries received in the Vernon arena with Jess Williams probably will await the verdict of the coroner's jury. Agitation continued for legal action prevent certain fights at Vernon as well as elsewhere in the state.

NOTHING BUT ATHLETICS NEXT SEASON, SAYS MACK

Connie Tells Cleveland Supporters That Naps Had Better Win This Year If They Want a Flag

"If Cleveland is going to win a pennant, it better do it this year, for it is my honest opinion that it will have no chance next year, for I believe that I will then have the best team I ever had," which is the remark made by Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics. Connie has little to say about the race this year. He is not given to boasting and has not put in a claim for the championship of 1913, but he is taking time by the forelock and putting in his bid for the 1914 honoree.

Connie likes the material he has at hand. He is nursing it carefully and by virtue of that caution may succeed in winning the title this year. But win or lose this year, he cannot see anything but success ahead next season.

His reasons are many. While Ira Thomas has slowed up and Jack Lapp is not hitting as well as he should and he should improve next year over the great form displayed this season, Connie probably will pick off a youngster this fall to help the former Buffalonian and Lapp.

Take his pitchers. Bender and Plank have done grand work this year. They may not be as good next season, but that is what the experts have been saying for years. Jack Coombs must be reckoned as an uncertainty, but looks in better physical condition than he has for several campaigns.

But Connie is not counting on his three veterans. He has already quietly announced his plans, which are to use Bush, Shawkey, Brown and Hoack regularly in the box in 1914 and give his three veterans a fair amount of rest and only call upon them for relief work and emergencies.

He asserts, most emphatically, that Bush, Shawkey, Hoack and Brown form the best quartet of youngsters in the country, and he counts on them being better in 1914 than this year, when they have shown ability to go alone and keep the Athletics in the race.

Then there is no telling just what price Mack will pick up in the draft and may again fall into his basket. Of course, Connie has no inland worth mentioning—has no one except Mack, Collins, Barry and Baker, only three of whom can hit 25 or better and only four of whom can field with consistent brilliancy. Pretty tough outfit—that $100,000 indeed.

They say the weak spot in the Athletics is the outfield. So it is compared with the remainder of the team, but lined up against the outer garden representatives of other clubs, it shows superiority over St. Louis, Washington, Chicago and New York.

Campbell Winner

YACONOVER, Aug. 25.—Hay Campbell, of Seattle, won the decton over Ed. H. H. of Alton, Pa., at the end of the scheduled ten-round bout at Eric House arena this afternoon. The fight was an elimination contest for the honor of fighting Champy Willie Ritchie on Labor day at the same arena. May could not do much with his heavier and stronger opponent.

Star Golfers At Practice

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Amateur golfers began to gather today for a week of whetting up their strokes over the links in the Garden City Golf Club, of Long Island, where the national amateur tournament commences next Monday. Entries for the championship close tonight. It is known, however, that the field will be one of the finest the amateur national has known, including crack players of the east and west, as well as a few from abroad. There will be Jack Travis, holder of the title; his ancient foe, J. W. Travis, the brilliant young Chicago player; and Norman Hunter, a Scottish international. The absence of Warren Wood, the western champion, who was runner-up in the national tournament two years ago, will somewhat weaken the western contingent, but with Evans, Paul Hunter and Macon Phelps, Chicago will have some promising contenders.

Travis' friends assert that their favorite is playing better golf this year than ever before, and that if he strikes his best form there is little chance of his title being wrested from him. Fredrick Horroff, twice a finalist in the national tournament; W. C. Fawcett, Jr., and others also figure prominently among the prospective entrants.

Marshallville Good

MARSHALLVILLE, Ga., Aug. 25.—Marshallville defeated Plains two games and tied third. In the first game Marshallville scored 10 runs and tied. The score was 6 and 6.

Grant Park Wins!

The Grant Park team of the Bureau league won its game from McDonon by forfeit. McDonon failed to appear in appearance.
