TECH TRUMPS OVER GEORGIA IN HOT BATTLE

Yellow Jackets Pounding Out Two Runs in First Inning; Eubanks and Corley Twirl.

SCORE BY INNINGS. R. H. E. Tech. 2 0 2 000-4 0 1 Georgia. 100 000 2-3 7 9

ATHENS, Ga., May 9.—Ipselman's Yellow Jackets triumphed over Georgia this afternoon by a score of 4 to 1. The result was a complete surprise, as the fans here expected the Red and Black to roll up a big score against Tech.

On the major of innings, Tech. The visitors played a cashing game, leading and battling like champions. The infield and outfield work of the visitors was the best seen here in years.

On the other hand, Corley was hit timely by Tech. They bunched his off in the first and fourth innings, which gave them an early lead to work on.

The Yellow Jackets took the lead in the first inning by pounding out two runs. The Red and Black managed to push one run over the plate in the first.

Robbins and Corley lightened up in the second and third innings and neither team scored. The fourth inning was sharp and snappy.

Tech came strong in the fifth, pushing two runs over the plate to tie the game. Eubanks' single to center and Corley's double to left scored.

Neither team called in the sixth, but Tech scored two runs on the seventh. Eubanks' single to center and Corley's double to left scored.

On the eighth inning, Tech scored two runs on the ninth. Eubanks' single to center and Corley's double to left scored.

COUNTY TO FURNISH UNLIMITED EVIDENCE TO SOLVE PHAGAN CASE

Solicitor Dorsey Says He Has Secured Powerful Aid in Search for Slayer of Girl—Woman Says She Heard Screams in Pencil Factory.

Shelley Smith, chairman of the Fulton commission, declared Friday afternoon that the board would back Solicitor Dorsey in any and all expense he might incur in the state's exhaustive investigation into the Phagan murder mystery. Smith said:

"We have instructed Dorsey to obtain the best possible detective skill for his probe and he would be backed by the county commission to the last dollar in the money he spent.

"The fact he has hired a good detective Friday is news to me, but he has the sanction and backing of the board in the matter."

HIRES BEST DETECTIVE, HE SAYS. Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said Friday afternoon that he had the best detective in America working on the mystery of the Mary Phagan strangling.

Important developments had ensued already, he declared, and he was confident that an early solution of the case would be reached by the new expert of national reputation who had been placed at work on the case.

The solicitor is understood to have the affidavit of a woman who swears that she heard a girl's screams as she was passing the factory at 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of the tragedy. The cries were shrill and piercing, she says, and died away as she stopped an instant to listen.

The woman was sure she came from inside the factory, but she gave little attention to her startling experience until she read of the strangling of Mary Phagan. Then it occurred to her that she very likely had heard the dying cries of the little girl and she reported the matter to the authorities.

Solicitor Dorsey, as his first action after the holding of Leo M. Frank and New Lee to the Grand Jury in the murder of Mary Phagan, put out the warrant for witness.

A batch of subpoenas were issued for the witnesses to appear in his office to give testimony in the case of "The State vs. John Doe."

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator Bois Penrose, Republican, began the senate fight on the Underwood tariff bill as soon as it was introduced today in the senate. Senator Sigmund chairman of the senate finance committee moved that the bill be referred to his committee for consideration.

Penrose immediately offered a motion to amend Senator Simmons' motion to provide for public hearings on the bill before the finance committee.

Senator Smith of Michigan, objected that the bill would bring about the same conditions that existed 30 years ago and asserted that the efforts of a "political doctrinaire" referring to Secretary of Commerce Hadfield, could not prevent factories from cutting wages or closing their doors.

In the Finance Committee the schedule was assigned to sub-committee No. 1, composed of Senators Thomas, James and Simmons. The remaining schedule was divided equally between sub-committees 2, 3 and 4.

It was also in the Finance Committee that the bill had been held closed doors, the Democrats having decided that public hearings would consume too much time. It is expected that three weeks will be used by the committee in considering the measure, and six weeks more in debate on the floor.

It also is considered certain that a number of changes will be made in the measure, necessitating its reference to the conference of the House and Senate members.

On the final test, in the House last night the vote was 211 to 133. The Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it. Four progressives supported the bill and fourteen opposed it, while one independent progressive joined with the majority.

"It will be possible, with the rush and hurry of the Corcoran's jury, that we are going to continue right on with the investigation and try to dig down to the bottom of the mystery. We have a strongly supported theory as to who committed the crime, but we are ready at any time to change our opinion as soon as the evidence points in another direction."

PHAGAN CASE TO BE RUSHED TO GRAND JURY BY DORSEY

passed for my men to work with their deliberation and care and to sit with a greater thoroughness every bit of evidence that comes into their possession. Even if nothing new should develop, we have enough to keep half a dozen detectives busy for a week.

Detectives Dorsey, Campbell, Black and Starnes and Starnes are with work with the chief on the case and probably will continue until the mystery is cleared.

Lemmie Quinn, former in the typing department at the National Pen factory, was the first of the witnesses to be examined by the Solicitor General. He was in Mr. Dorsey's office a considerable part of the forenoon and underwent a rigorous examination.

New Witnesses Sought. Detectives Starnes and Campbell also were with the Solicitor and two of the Solicitor's assistants, Newton Garner and Dan Goodwin, were detached the first thing in the morning to hunt up new witnesses of whom Mr. Dorsey had information.

Foreman Quinn was called to the office to clear up the discrepancy in his testimony and the statement he had made in the morning to the detectives and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the coroner's jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:30 and 12:50 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan. He said he talked with Frank for ten minutes in the superintendent's office.

Detectives declared that Quinn had told them and other persons that he did not visit the factory at all Sunday and that he was not there from the time he left Friday until the following Monday.

Frank Expected To Be Held. "That's about what I expected at this time," was the comment with which Leo M. Frank with a little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the coroner's jury Thursday night.

Deputy Sheriff Plennie Minor was the officer who informed both Frank and Leo that the jury had recommended that they be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County grand jury.

The night watchman received the news indifferently and had nothing to say. Frank and Leo are held under charges of murder for further investigation by the coroner's jury.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913. We, the coroner's jury, impaneled and sworn by Paul Duffin, coroner of Fulton County, to inquire into the cause of death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body was found before us, after having heard the evidence of sworn witnesses and the statements of Dr. J. W. Hurt, County Physician, and the deceased's mother, we recommend that Leo M. Frank and Edward J. Bremer be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County grand jury.

HOMER C. ASHFORD, Foreman. DR. J. W. HURT, County Physician. Solicitor Dorsey said Friday he would give the Phagan case all of his attention and present his evidence to the grand jury as quickly as possible.

The solicitor has shown an anxiety to avoid delays of any nature in bringing down the slayer of the Phagan girl, and now that the coroner's jury has turned the case over to the solicitor and the grand jury it may be taken for granted that the investigation will be hurried along with all possible speed.

Case in State's Hands. The case now is fully in the hands of the state," said the Solicitor Friday morning. "It will be presented to the grand jury Friday, but I shall endeavor to present it at the earliest possible moment. The instant that I have a complete case I shall bring it to the attention of the grand jury. It is my desire to bring the slayer of Mary Phagan to justice with the greatest dispatch. A great crime has been done and I am not eager to see the guilt determined than the general public."

It required the coroner's jury about twenty minutes to frame its formal indictment Thursday night. The jury received a brief charge from the coroner, Duffin, and filed from the Commissioners' room in the police station at 10 o'clock.

At 4:25 they were back with their verdict. Coroner Duffin admonished the jurors to be ready to hold a person who they thought might be withholding information of the crime as to a person they regarded as the possible culprit. A person possessing knowledge of the crime and withholding it, he said, was an accessory after the fact.

An immediate rush fell on the packed room when the jurors returned. There was a dead silence except for the voice of Homer C. Ashford, foreman of the jury, when the verdict was read.

Quinn Testify Against Frank. The more dramatic testimony against Frank in regard to his treatment of Quinn at his factory was saved until the last hours of the hearing. Quinn, who had been called to the stand to testify that they had been engaged in a conversation that had occasion to go there, and that Frank had attempted to force Quinn to work for him.

Nellie Peckin, of a sister street, advised that Frank had made improper advances to her. She was asked if she had been employed at the factory. "Yes," she answered.

Q. Do you know Leo Frank?—A. I do. I know where he lived Sunday morning. Q. When and where did you see him?—A. I saw him at the factory whenever I went to draw my sister-in-law's pay.

Q. What did you say to you that might have been improper on any of these visits?—A. He didn't say anything. I went to work about four weeks ago and when I went into the office of Mr. Frank I looked for her. He told me I couldn't see her unless I saw him first.

Says He Winked at Her. "I told him I didn't want to see him," she said. "He winked at me and he had a lot of money in it. He looked at me when he winked and he looked at me. When he looked at me he winked." "How about it?" "I instantly told him I was a nice girl. Here the witness stopped her narrative. Coroner Duffin asked her to say anything else.

"I didn't say anything else," she said. "I did. I told him to go to the office of Mr. Frank. He said that he would see me there. I went there and he said that he would see me there. I went there and he said that he would see me there."

Tells of Frank's Conduct. Q. How long have you known him?—A. About six weeks. Q. Did you ever observe his conduct toward female employees of the factory?—A. Yes. I have seen him picking on different girls, but I can't exactly recollect names.

What was the conduct you noticed, particularly?—A. The witness answered to the effect that she had seen him pick on the women of the factory. Q. See it often?—A. A half dozen times, more or less. Q. Do you know any other girls?—A. Yes. I know one named Nellie Peckin. Q. Did you see her with Leo Frank?—A. Yes. I saw her with him at the factory. Q. Before or after the murder?—A. After the murder.

Q. How long have you known her?—A. About six weeks. Q. Did you see her with Leo Frank?—A. Yes. I saw her with him at the factory. Q. Before or after the murder?—A. After the murder.

Grand Jury That Gets Phagan Case

The members of the grand jury to consider the case of Leo M. Frank and Edward J. Bremer in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan, are: F. B. Baker, Louis Newell, F. P. H. Akers, Frank Hawkins, R. Q. How many?—A. One on each floor. Q. Are they tall or short?—A. Short. Q. Where was the elevator at 12 o'clock Saturday?—A. I did not go with them. Q. Were the doors open or closed?—A. Open. Q. What protection would a person have from going down the stairs?—A. The doors were left open. A bar which projects across the opening, where did the elevator stand?—A. I don't know where it stood Sunday morning. It then was on the second floor.

Didn't Fit Time Table. Q. What time did you get to the factory?—A. I got there at 12 o'clock. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank.

Q. Can you name the guest?—A. I don't know. Q. When the police came to bring Leo Frank to the factory on Sunday morning, what was said to bring Leo Frank to the factory?—A. I don't know. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank.

Q. What did you see?—A. I saw Leo Frank. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank. Q. Did you see any one else?—A. Yes. I saw Leo Frank.

Atlanta Ready for Presbyterians

5,000 Visitors for Assemblies Noted Speakers on the Programs

REV. THOMAS STONE GLOYE, moderator of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, 1912, who will be one of the prominent visitors in Atlanta next week. Dr. Gloye is president of Austin College at Sherman, Texas.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Effects of the Friedmann cure thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by well-meant publicity.

This is the crux of an official statement of the committee of examiners of the Friedmann cure thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by well-meant publicity.

Not Ready to Give Opinion. With respect to the patients under examination in New York, he said many have developed no considerable induration at all and have not suffered from tuberculous complications. This would indicate that they must be under a very favorable influence of the cure, as Dr. Friedmann stated that the cure was usually known as "the cold cure."

Large Amount of Serum Refused. In our opinion, harm may have been done by this publicity because it has lessened the confidence of tuberculous patients in well-tried methods of treatment, and interrupted their use.

Consolidation of Four Branches To Be Considered in Gathering Here Next Week.

Preparations are virtually completed today for the great Presbyterian convention to be held in Atlanta beginning May 15. For the first time in the history of Presbyterianism in America representatives from the four branches will gather in joint assembly.

From May 15 to May 22 more than 5,000 visiting Presbyterians will meet in the city's streets. Of this number 1,500 will be regularly appointed commissioners, constituting the largest religious assemblage ever held in the South. More than 700 representatives of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. C. or Northern Division, 500 from the Presbyterian Church, U. S. S. or Southern Division, 250 from the United Presbyterian and 25 special representatives from the Associate Reformed Churches will comprise the assemblies.

Atlanta has thrown open her homes to the visitors, all denominations uniting in entertaining the church representatives who come from every State in the Union, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Panama. A number of prominent churchmen from Canada also are expected. The commissioners are chosen one-half from the clergy and the other half from the laity.

They constitute the governing body of the church and are selected largely by because of their prominence and their activity in church work. Church Union Considered. Southern Presbyterians will be especially interested in the discussion looking to a union between the United and the Southern divisions. Two committees were appointed last year, one from each of the branches, to confer on a possible basis of union. Their reports will be submitted. It is said the committees have reached an agreement and it is generally believed that the assemblies will act favorably on their reports. Details of the agreement have not been published, but it is believed that they will prove acceptable to both bodies.

While the Associate Reformed branches of the church will not hold a regular conference here, prominent representatives will be in attendance as special commissioners. Their meeting is set in December, but it is probable that an adjourned session will be held.

Feature of the meeting here, probably the most interesting, will be a possible effort to unite the Northern and Southern branches of the church. United Christian social service meeting Saturday night at the Auditorium. The subject of Mr. Jackson's

The Flypaper of Debt

If You Are in Debt, You Are a Fly Glued to the Flypaper.

The More You Struggle, the Tighter You Stick. Soon Your Courage Is Gone and You Are a Dead Fly.

The picture at the top of this page is a picture for more than half of all the people in this country.

More than half the people are in debt—that is to say, they are living beyond their means, or they are spending every cent. And the man who is spending every cent he gets is actually in debt and running in debt, for he is running in debt TO HIS OLD AGE, when he won't be able to make, and won't be able to spend, and when the spending of to-day means debt later.

Those that are in debt know what debt is. There is no need to tell them about it.

First you owe $50 if you are a little man, or $50,000 if you are a big man.

And then you owe $100—or $100,000 if you are big.

For a while you struggle and plan. You are going to pay it off soon. It is a good thing to use "O P M," that is to say, other people's money, in the effort to get ahead.

You tell yourself that all the big men have used their credit and borrowed and gone ahead rapidly.

It all sounds very nice and plausible. But remember that YOU KEEP GETTING IN DEEPER.

The fly lights on the fly paper, perhaps with only one leg at first. He says this is nothing, and puts down the other leg to push himself off.

AND THEN HE IS STUCK FAST.

And then he says to himself: "I will fly away from this fly paper," so he begins flapping his wings. And both of his wings stick to the paper.

There he is with his feet stuck and his wings stuck and only his head free.

That fly feels about as independent and hearty as you do if you are in debt. And he says: "I can get off of this paper easily enough when I get ready. I'll just put my head down and push myself off."

He buzzes for a while. THEN HE PUTS HIS HEAD DOWN ON THE FLY PAPER, TO PUSH HIMSELF OFF.

Then his head sticks tight; he begins to choke.

By and by he rolls over on his side, he sinks into the sticky surface—AND THERE IS ANOTHER DEAD FLY.

So it is with men in debt. So it will be with you if you stay in debt.

The only hope for the fly, the moment he feels one foot on the fly paper, is to use those wings and fly away, not putting in the other foot; flying off as quickly as he can.

And a million times wiser and better is the occasional rare fly, who sees the other flies sticking to the fly paper and says: "I don't like the look of those flies; I'll stay away from them."

Look at the people in debt. See their worry. See the anxiety of the mother, reflected in the children.

See the lack of standing, the extravagance and the poverty mixed together.

You can't mistake the human fly stuck on the fly paper of debt.

Since you cannot mistake him, why not keep away from that fly paper?

Debt makes everything worthless.

If you owe a thousand dollars, it seems rather foolish to save ten or twenty.

You feel that you might as well spend it; it won't make any difference.

And so it goes, if you owe two thousand. And then it isn't worth while to save twenty or forty.

And you become a failure. You put down your feet, and then your wings, AND THEN YOUR HEAD, WHICH IS AMBITION, and by and by you roll over and you are a dead fly.

Keep out of debt.

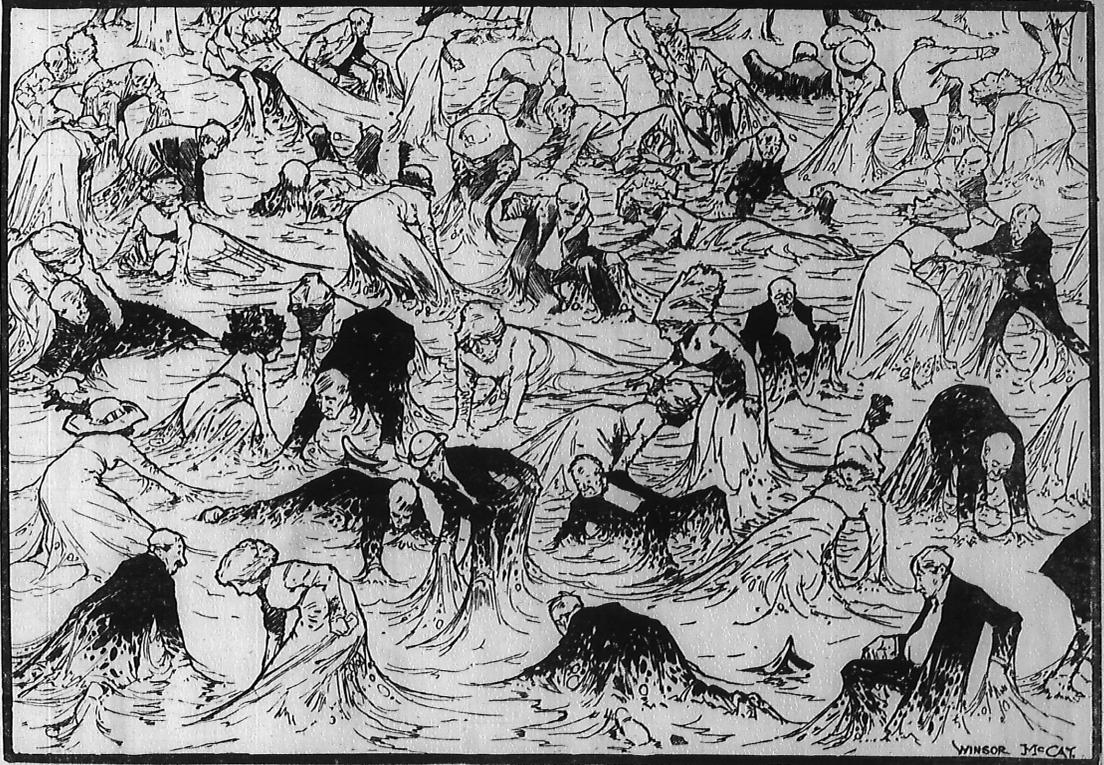

Congratulations We Do Not Want

Lord Welby, speaking in London at the annual dinner of the Cobden Club on the prospects of free trade, said that the members might congratulate themselves on President Wilson's new tariff bill. There is the bare truth about what is thought of the bill by the out-and-out free traders of England.

Richard Cobden died in 1865. The population of Great Britain has almost doubled since. Railroads were in their infancy, and it took weeks to cross the Atlantic. Telegraphy had just begun and ocean-spanning cables did not exist. Cobden could never have even dreamed of the cheap and vast transportation systems, by land and sea, of today. He could never even have dreamed of the year when the United States would practically consume all the wheat it would grow. He could never even have dreamed of the development of machinery, changing, as it has, the whole face of world-trade.

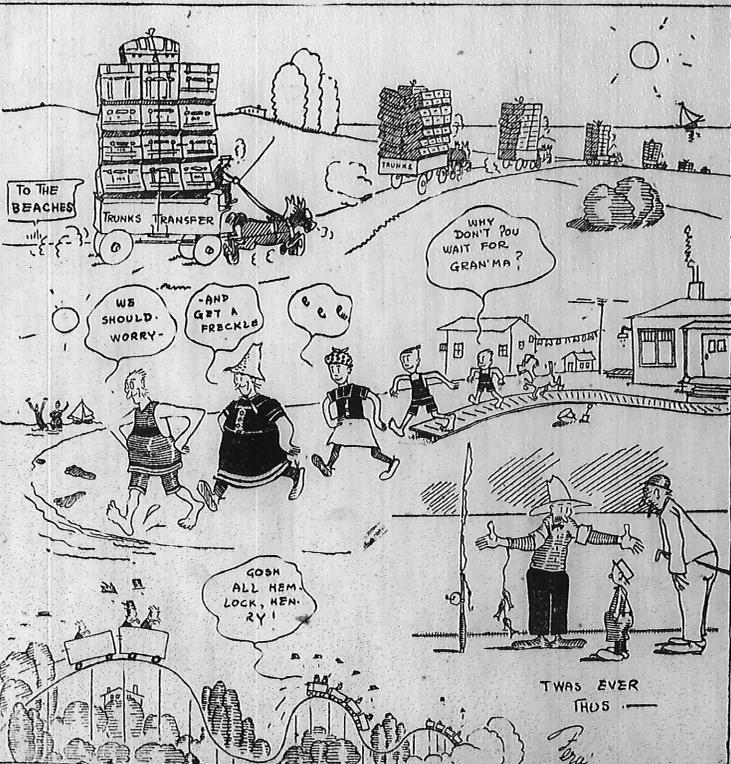

Yet they did dream in those days. Cobden's associates dreamed and prophesied, too. They prophesied, and loudly, that within fifty years every civilized nation would have adopted free trade, and they were exactly wrong.

It would take many volumes to tell the whole difference between the conditions of the world's business in 1865 and 1913. There are some congratulations that may be paid for too dearly.

Are you stuck on this flypaper? Are your hands and feet glued with debts? Fight. You will find no happiness while debt holds you prisoner (SEE EDITORIAL.)

Cheer Up---Summer's a-Coming

Rivalry in Religion

Written for The Georgian by REV. JOHN E. WHITE, Pastor Second Baptist Church

THE disappearance of sectarian bitterness is one of the most observable facts of to-day. Whatever may be thought of it, no man can regard it possible to check the movement which is breaking down the old denominational antipathies. It is interpreted by many as the best modern evidence that a Heavenly Power is at work in the world. They believe that the Spirit of its Divine Founder is prevailing in Christianity over the human passions of men, and that the gospel of love is at last conquering completely the hearts of those who preach it.

The large front of this movement appears in religious conventions and in the current religious literature. In reiterated proposals of church federation and missionary co-operation not a few religious leaders openly believe that the amalgamation of denominations in one great inclusive church is not only desirable but inevitable.

Protesting the Movement. But this rosy view has its checkmate and counter-blast. There are very many—probably at this time the majority of church communicants, who do not view the loss of the sectarian spirit with sympathy. Large numbers of leaders are fung in violent reaction against it. Within each denomination there are organs, and therefore an organization, of protest. A keen eye observes that the internal antagonisms in the different denominations on the subject is really helping on the movement of fraternity as between the denominations themselves by transferring the emphasis of the old conflict between them as sects to mere family disputes.

The question of denominationalism will not be settled wisely in this fashion. There are profound reasons for the existence and maintenance of divergent groups in Christianity. There are many of the best men in each denomination who observe the tendency of the times, feel its power, and are drawn into it, who still, acutely by question, if it is not liable to cost the cause of Truth and the energies of religion more than all its compensating amenities can amount to. The man in the street does not see very far into the problem of denominationalism. It appears to him a plague of wicked envy and a useless waste of power.

The Real Values. Why is it, then, that those inside the churches, as leaders and laymen, who are manifestly consecrated men of the finest good sense, are strong in their support of separate denominations, especially their own? It is because they know the real value of denominationalism. It is not a narrow sectarian manhood on their part. They lend no encouragement to theological strife and religious bad feeling. They lament the wounds which persecution and bigotry have made and would make again. But they know that after all there are convictions of religious truth worth fighting for, and that the great loyalties of conscience have been the levers of salvation for the human race. As students of church history, they know that the heroic mold of character and the magnificent manhood which have fallen out of that history, are not to be lightly set aside or interred apart from the great competitions of religion in which they were generated.

New Denominationalism. So the rapidly evaporating sectarianism of our time, if full of promise, is full of peril also. It is our task to provide a relation of religious groups to each other and toward their common cause which will conserve consecration and aggressiveness, while at the same time it encourages their basal fellowship.

I believe it can be done and that it will be done.

As Christianity stands to-day, the demand for an arrangement of its groups toward each other, but with the supreme objective clear enough to curb the wilds of sectarianism. The suggestion offered therefore as a substitute for "New Denominationalism" is "denominationalism." It is that the theological quest should be subordinated to the logical content of religion itself, and that the rivalry of creeds giving way to the rivalry of deeds will be infinitely better than the mere subsistence of all rivalry which is threatened.

passed for my men to work with more deliberation and care and to sift with a greater thoroughness every bit of evidence that comes into their possession. Even if nothing new should develop, we have enough leads to keep half a dozen detectives busy for a week."

Detectives Rosser, Campbell, Black, Starnes and Buland are still working with the case and will probably continue until the mystery is cleared.

Leanne Quinn, foreman in the tipping department at the National Penicillin factory, was the first of the witnesses to be examined by the grand jury. He was in Mr. Dorsey's office a considerable part of the forenoon and underwent a rigorous examination.

New Witnesses Sought. Detectives Starnes and Campbell also were with the grand jury and the solicitor's assistants, Newton Garner and Dan Goodlin, were dispatched the first thing in the morning to hunt up new witnesses who were Mr. Dorsey had information.

Foreman Quinn was called. It was understood to clear up the discrepancies in his testimony and the state manager he said, to have made to several of these witnesses and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the grand jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:10 and 12:30 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan. He said he talked with Frank for two minutes in the superintendent's office.

Detectives declared that Quinn had told them and other persons that he did not visit the factory at all Saturday morning, but that he was there from the time he left Friday until the following Monday.

Frank Expected To Be Held. "That's about what I expected at this time," was the comment with which Leo M. Frank, with little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the coroner's jury Thursday night.

Deputy Sheriff Plennie Minor was the officer who informed both Frank and Leo Lee that the jury had recommended that they be held in lieu of bonds for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

The night watchman received the news indifferently and had nothing to say. Frank and Leo are held under charges of murder, as the following shows:

Atlanta, Ga., May 9, 1913. We, the coroner's jury, impeached and sworn by Paul Dorsey, Coroner of Fulton County, Georgia, in and to the cause of the body of Mary Phagan, whose dead body was found before us, do hereby find and hear the evidence of sworn witnesses, and the statement of Dr. Anderson, and the coroner's physician, and we do hereby find that the deceased came to her death from strangulation. We recommend that Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee be held in lieu of bonds for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

GOMER C. ASHFORD, Foreman. J. W. HURT, County Physician. Solicitor Dorsey said today he would give the Phagan case all of his attention and present his evidence to the grand jury as quickly as possible.

The solicitor has shown an anxiety to avoid delays of any nature in handling down the slayer of the Phagan girl, and now that the coroner's jury has turned the case over to the solicitor and the grand jury it may be taken for granted that the investigation will be hurried along with all possible speed.

Case in State's Hands. The case now is fully in the hands of the state. Said the solicitor Friday morning. "It will not be presented to the grand jury Friday, but I shall endeavor to present it at the earliest possible moment. The instant that I have a complete case I shall bring it to the attention of the grand jury. It is my desire to bring the greatest dispatch to a great crime which has been done and I am no less eager to see the guilt determined than the general public."

It required the coroner's jury about twenty minutes to frame its formal verdict Thursday night. The jurors received a brief charge from Coroner Henshaw and filed from the commissioner's room in the police station.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Efforts of the Presbyterian camp thus far observed do justify the confidence in the remedy which has been in vogue from the board of examiners of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John P. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington to-day.

Dr. Anderson said that he has been treated by the board of examiners of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John P. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington to-day.

With respect to the patients under examination in New York, he said that he has developed no considerable infiltrate at all and has not suffered from distress formations. This would indicate that they must be under treatment by a long time to effect a cure, as Dr. Friedman stated that he has seen absent formations in the majority of his patients.

Noted by Well-meaning Publicity. This is the crux of an official statement from the board of examiners of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John P. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington to-day.

At the present time we are not in position to express an opinion upon the present cases under observation. The disease for which the remedy is used is prolonged and is marked by periods of improvement and retrogression.

We must not lose sight of the possible therapeutic value of the preparation, but it is necessary to guard against a long time to effect a cure, as Dr. Friedman stated that he has seen absent formations in the majority of his patients.

Consolidation of Four Branches To Be Considered in Gathering Here Next Week.

Preparations are virtually completed for the great Presbyterian convention to be held in Atlanta beginning May 15. For the first time in the history of Presbyterianism in America representatives from its four branches will gather in joint sessions.

From May 15 to May 22 more than 3,000 visiting Presbyterians will be the city's guests. Of this number 1,000 will be regular and commissioned missionaries, constituting the largest religious assemblage ever held in the South. More than 700 representatives of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., or Northern Division, 500 from the Presbyterian Church, U. S., or Southern Division, 300 from the United Presbyterian and 25 special representatives from the Associate Reformed Churches will comprise the assemblies.

Atlanta has thrown open her homes to the visitors, all denominations uniting in entertaining the church representatives who come from every State in the Union, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Panama. A number of prominent churchmen from Canada also are expected. The commissioners are chosen, one-half from the clergy and the other half from the laity.

They constitute the governing body of the church and are a possible large because of their prominence and their activity in church work.

Church Union Considered. Southern Presbyterians will be especially interested in the discussions looking to a union between the United and the Southern divisions. Two committees were appointed last year, one from each of the branches, to confer on a possible basis of union. Their reports will be submitted. It is added that the committees have reached an agreement and it is generally believed that the assemblies will act favorably on their reports. Details of the agreement have not been published, but it is believed that they will prove acceptable to both bodies.

While the Associate Reformed branch of the church will not hold a regular conference here, prominent representatives will be in attendance as special commissioners. Their reports will be in attendance as special commissioners. Their reports will be in attendance as special commissioners.

Canadian Program. The principal address of the evening will be made by Mr. James McClelland, of Toronto, Canada, who will be delivered by J. K. Orr, an elder of the North Avenue Church, after which fraternal greetings will be extended from the moderators of the four assemblies, Rev. T. C. Cyles of Texas, for the Southern Division; Rev. H. H. Bell, of California, for the United Assembly; Rev. A. M. Hinton, of Washington, D. C., for the Northern Division, and Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Hinrichs, of Danville, Ky.

Among the denials arrangements already made are a number of conferences at the various churches of the city. The main sessions will be held at the Baptist Tabernacle and the Auditorium.

Joint fellowship gathering will be held at the Auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. R. O. Finn, of the North Avenue Church, of Atlanta, will preside. A welcome address will be delivered by J. K. Orr, an elder of the North Avenue Church, after which fraternal greetings will be extended from the moderators of the four assemblies, Rev. T. C. PHAGAN CASE TO BE RISHED TO GRAND JURY BY DORSEY

passed for my men to work with more deliberation and care and to sift with a greater thoroughness every bit of evidence that comes into their possession.

Detectives Hoover, Campbell, Black and Bullard are still working with the chief on the case and probably will continue until the mystery is cleared.

Lammie Quinn, foreman in the tiping department of the National Pencil factory, was the first of the witnesses to be examined by the Solicitor.

New Witnesses Examined. Detectives Starnes and Campbell also were with the Solicitor and two of the Solicitor's assistants, Newton Garner and Dan Goodlin, were dispatched the first thing in the morning to hunt up new witnesses of whom Mr. Dorsey has information.

Foreman Quinn was called. It is understood to clear up the discrepancies in his testimony and the statements he is said to have made to the detective and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the Coroner's jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:10 and 12:20 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan.

He said he talked with Frank for two minutes in the superintendent's office. Detectives declared that Quinn had told them and other persons that he did not visit the factory all Saturday and that he was not there from the time he left Friday until the following Monday.

Frank expected to be held. "That's about what I expected at this time," was the comment of the man who Leo M. Frank, with little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the Coroner's jury Thursday night.

Detective Sheriff Blennie Minor was with the officer who informed both Frank and New Lee that the jury had recommended that they be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

The night watchman received the verdict with indifference and had nothing to say. Frank and Lee are held under charges of murder, as the following verdict of the Coroner's jury will show.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913. We the Coroner, after having viewed and sworn by Paul Donohoo, Coroner of Fulton County, Georgia, who quite into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, and after having heard the evidence of the witnesses, and the statement of Dr. J. M. Hurl, County Physician, and that the deceased came to her death from strangulation.

We recommend that the bodies of Frank and Lee be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

HONORABLE C. ASHFORD, Foreman. DR. J. M. HURT, County Physician. Solicitor Dorsey said Friday he would give the Phagan case his attention and present his evidence to the Grand Jury as quickly as possible.

The solicitor has shown an anxiety to avoid delay of any nature in bringing down the slayer of the Phagan girl, and now that the Coroner's jury has turned the case over to the Solicitor and the Grand Jury it may be taken for granted that the investigation will be hurried along with all possible speed.

Case in State's Hands. The case now is fully in the hands of the State, said the Solicitor Friday morning. It will not be presented to the Grand Jury Friday. I shall endeavor to present it at the earliest possible moment. The grand jury that I have a complete case I shall bring in to the attention of the Grand Jury. It is my desire to bring the slayer of Mary Phagan to justice with the greatest dispatch. A great crime has been done and I am no less eager to see the guilt determined than the general public.

He recalled the Coroner's jury about twenty minutes to frame its formal verdict Thursday night. The jury received a brief charge from Coroner Donohoo and filed from the commissioners' room in the police station at 10 o'clock.

U. S. EXPERTS DOUBT 'TIRES' BY FRIEDMANN

Results of Savant's Treatment Do Not Justify Confidence, Health Board Reports.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Efforts of the Friedman cure thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by well-meant publicity.

This is the crux of an official statement from the board of examiners of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John F. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington today.

Dr. Anderson said here may have been victims in well-recognized methods of treatment.

With respect to the patients under examination in New York, he said many have developed no considerable benefit at all and have not suffered from adverse formations. This would indicate that they must be under treatment a long time to effect a cure.

Dr. Friedman stated that he had indicated and adverse formations in treated more or less rapid progress toward cure.

"Not Ready to Give Opinion." The report which was also submitted by Dr. Anderson and Dr. A. M. Rimmon, another public health surgeon, said in part:

"At the present time we are not in position to express an opinion upon the present case under observation. The disease for which the remedy is used is prolonged and is marked by periods of improvement and retrogression.

"We must not lose sight of the possible therapeutic value of this preparation, but it is necessary to guard against too great an optimism in the light of the facts that we are in a position to state that the facts thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy that has been inspired by widespread publicity.

"In our opinion, harm may have been done by this undue publicity because it has lessened the confidence of tuberculous patients in well-recognized methods of treatment, or interrupted the progress of the disease.

"In our series of patients, Dr. Friedman has made no considerable improvement in the most exclusive use of the intramuscular method and has made no considerable improvement in the most exclusive use of the intramuscular method.

An acid-fast organism, having properties quite different from those of tuberculous bacilli with which it has been associated. It appears to be identical with an organism isolated from a few localities of the material used for injection which Dr. Friedman permitted us to place on culture media in his presence.

"We requested Dr. Friedman to furnish us with a large quantity of this material for examination, but this he refused to do.

"We can state that living acid-fast bacteria are being injected by the mucous and intravenous method, although we are ignorant of what medium they are suspended in or what additional substance or substances may be contained in the final mixture.

STATE URGED TO STERILIZE INSANE AND AID YOUNG

Board Reports Conditions at the Asylum at Milledgeville Call for Many Reforms—Governor Is Asked to Move for Changes.

Provision for Care of Children of Feeble Mind Badly Needed, Say Directors—Protest Against the Housing of "Lunatic-Convicts."

Striking new methods of handling patients in the Georgia State Sanitarium at Milledgeville are urged in the annual report of the board of directors submitted to Governor Brown Friday. The most important recommendations are:

The enactment of a sterilization law, applying to certain classes of criminals and defectives, modeled after recently enacted laws of New Jersey and Indiana.

A ban on the commitment of epileptics (foot marks), feeble-minded children, harmless seniles and paralytics and persons requiring trial by plea of insanity. This is a hospital and not a prison.

The report declares that poor results have been obtained at the institution in the cure of insanity on account of the crowded conditions and the lack of facilities for segregating and treating the curable cases apart from the criminal and hopeless inmates. A provision for a separate hospital is urged.

A provision for children. "No provision is made in our state educational system for the care and treatment of feeble-minded children," says the report. "Most of them are committed to the State Sanitarium, while the great majority are allowed to grow up without care."

Further commitment with the insane should be stopped and more adequate provision made by the state for the care of them.

The report criticizes the present system of confining epileptics not in the sanitarium, pointing out that association with crazy persons tends to hopelessly depress them and has a bad effect on the insane person. A hospital for epileptics is recommended, and it is suggested that it should be named for T. O. Powell because of the great service he has rendered the State along such lines.

Negro Quarters Insanitary. Alarming insanitary and overcrowded conditions in the negro building are reported and the need of $100,000 for an annex to this building is said to be imperative. To separate the acute insane from the hopelessly insane an appropriation of $15,000 is urged. For a negro home $50,000 is asked.

There are 3,423 patients in the institution, 1,146 having been admitted this year. The daily average during 1912 was 2,821, an increase of 41 over 1911. The annual average increase during the last five years has been 33. Of eleven criminals committed, three were found to be sane.

The average cost per patient last year was $121.96. The total income of the sanitarium was $384,000. There is an exceedingly high death rate among the negro patients. Most of the deaths in the institution are from tuberculosis and agria, recent increases in pellagra deaths being reported as startling.

The report was submitted by John T. Brantly, president of the board. Other recommendations for changes in the laws governing the institution are:

$35,000,000 For U. S. Railroads in Alaska

Congress Committee to Recommend Government Loans—Private Roads Charged With Extortion.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A bill providing for the construction of government railroads in Alaska, to cost $35,000,000 or more, will be reported by the Committee on Territories as soon as official reports from the several departments can be collected for inclusion in the evidence which the committee will defend its bill.

It is said that even Jack Johnson's knockout punch did not pain Jeff as much as Smith's offer of a sparring partner's job.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Changes in styles which rendered worthless thousands of dollars' worth of stock in women's clothes was one of the factors that fostered the arson trust, according to Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnson.

SENATE DEBATES CONSIDERATION OF TARIFF BILL

Received From House and Referred—Hearings Are Suggested—Expect Vote in Nine Weeks.

ANTICIPATE MANY CHANGES

Democrats Rejoice as Representatives Pass Underwood Measure by Vote of 281 to 139.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Shortly after the Senate convened to-day the Underwood tariff bill was brought over from the House, read and referred to the Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee the schedule was assigned to sub-committee No. 1, composed of Senators Stone, Thomas, James and Simmons, and the wool schedule, to No. 2—Senators Williams, Shively, Gore and Simmons. The remaining schedules were divided equally between sub-committees 1, 2 and 3.

Hearings on the bill will be held in closed doors, the Democrats having decided that public hearings would consume too much time. It is expected that three weeks will be used by the committee in considering the measure, and six weeks more in debate on the floor.

It also is considered certain that a number of changes will be made in the measure, necessitating its reference to the conference of the House and Senate members.

On the final test in the House last night the vote was 281 to 139, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it. Four Progressives supported the bill and fourteen opposed it, while one Independent Progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction, exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed Democratic donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber, a ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of Congress.

With the bill on its way to the Senate, there was a rush of Representatives for their homes. In the House adjournment will be taken three days at a time beginning next week until the 15th.

'Children Sold Like Animals in Illinois'

Conditions at 'Baby Farms' Scored by Head of Legislative Investigating Committee.

PEORIA, Ill., May 9.—Acting chairman S. E. Lloyd of the Illinois House committee investigating "baby farms" to-day bitterly denounced conditions when the committee has found.

"They think more of hay and horses in Illinois than they do of children," he said. "We found that babies have been bartered and sold like animals; that they have been sent out of the State without any chance that their parents, if they are known, ever will find them again."

Japanese Take Definite Stand

Bryan, After a Conference With Ambassador Chinda, Presents Views at Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador, had a conference with Secretary of State Bryan to-day, which lasted 27 minutes, and at which the Japanese diplomat presented Japan's views on the California anti-alien land law.

At the close of the conference Ambassador Chinda said: "I can say nothing about the results of the conference."

Secretary Bryan declared he could give no intimation of the result of the conference, and left immediately for the White House to attend the cabinet meeting, where the Japanese situation was discussed at length.

BEST DETECTIVE IN AMERICA ON PHAGAN CASE, SAYS DORSEY

Miss Nellie Pettis, at top, who testified against Frank at the inquest. At the bottom, Mrs. Little Pettis, her sister-in-law, former employee at the pencil factory.

Solicitor Dorsey Says He Has Secured Powerful Aid in Search for Slayer of Girl--Woman Says She Heard Screams in Pencil Factory.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said Friday afternoon that he had the best detective in America working on the mystery of the Mary Phagan strangling.

Important developments had ensued already, he declared, and he was confident that an early solution of the case would be reached by the new expert of national reputation who had been placed at work on the clues.

The solicitor is understood to have the affidavit of a woman who swears that she heard a girl's screams as she was passing the factory at 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of the tragedy. The cries were shrill and piercing, she says, and died away as she stopped an instant to listen.

The woman was sure they came from inside the factory, but she gave little attention to her startling experience until she read the strangling of Mary Phagan. Then it occurred to her that she very likely had heard the dying cries of the little girl, and she reported the matter to the authorities.

Solicitor Dorsey, as his first action after the holding of Leo M. Frank and New Lee to the Grand Jury for the murder of Mary Phagan, put out the dragnet for witnesses.

A batch of subpoenas were issued for the witnesses to appear in his office to give testimony in the case of "The State vs. John Doe."

After a long conference with Detective Starnes and Campbell, Solicitor Dorsey asserted that action on the part of the Grand Jury might be expected any time after Friday. He plainly intimated that a special session of the Jury might be convened Saturday to consider the Phagan murder.

"I have had only to look at the little darning to know who his father is," she said, as she cuddled the infant. "Harry is my husband and the father of my child. I love my baby and am going to see that it is justly treated by relatives of my husband."

Mrs. Thaw said she was going to return to the stage at once. She has signed contracts, she said, to appear in music halls in London at $1,000 a week, and later will be seen in vaudeville in the United States.

"I must live and I think that I will be able to make a success," she explained.

'CURE' DOUBTED BY U. S. EXPERTS

Results of Friedmann Treatment Do Not Justify Confidence, Health Board Reports.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—"Effects of the Friedmann cure thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by well-meant publicity."

This is the crux of an official statement from the board of examiners of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John E. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington to-day.

Dr. Anderson said that many have been done by undue publicity in lessening the confidence of tubercular victims in well-recognized methods of treatment.

With respect to the patients under examination in New York, he said that they must be under treatment a long time to effect cure, as Dr. Friedmann stated that infiltrate and abscess formations be indicated more or less rapid progress toward cure.

EVENING EDITION

STATE URGED TO STERILIZE INSANE AND AID YOUNG

Striking new methods of handling patients in the Georgia State Sanitarium at Milledgeville are urged in the annual report of the board of directors submitted to Governor Hartsfield Friday. The most important recommendations are:

The enactment of a sterilization law, applying to certain classes of criminal and defective, modeled after recently enacted laws of New Jersey and Indiana.

A ban on the commitment of epileptics (not insane), feeble-minded children, harmless senile and paralytics and persons escaping trial by plea of insanity. This is a hospital and not a prison.

The report declares that four results have been obtained at the institution in the cure of insanity on account of the crowded conditions and the lack of facilities for segregating and treating the curable cases apart from the criminal and hopelessly insane. A psychiatric hospital is urged.

No provision for children.

No provision is made in our state educational system for the care and treatment of feeble minded children. It states the report: "Most of them are capable of training that will aid in their happiness and fit them for some usefulness. Only the greater types are committed to the State Sanitarium, while the great majority are allowed to grow up without care."

Further commitment with the insane should be stopped, and some separate provision made by the State for these children.

The report criticizes the present system of confining epileptics not in hospitals but in asylums, and it is recommended, and it is suggested that a hospital for epileptics be built because of the great benefit it has rendered the State along such lines.

detectives and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the coroner's jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:15 and 12:30 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan. He said he talked with Frank for two minutes in the superintendent's office.

Frank Expected To Be Held. "That's about what I expected at this time," was the comment with which Leo M. Frank, with little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the coroner's jury Thursday night.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913. We, the coroner's jury, impeached and sworn by Paul Donohoe, coroner of Fulton County, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body was found in the Fulton County Grand Jury.

At the coroner's inquest, which was held at the Fulton County Grand Jury, on May 7, 1913, the following witnesses were called: Frank Phagan, who testified that he was in the factory at the time of the killing of Mary Phagan.

'YOUNG HOT BLOOD' BAND OF MILITANTS BURN MANSION, ATTACK PREMIER AS QUITH

Churchill in Party Saved From 'Wild Women' by Guards—'Arsonettes' Blamed for $50,000 Blaze, and Dynamiters Swear to Brave Death.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, May 8.—Fresh outrage gets outrage stirred England today. Members of the "Young Hot Blood" service of the Women's Social and Political Union, burning Oxford mansion, at Barrow, caused a $50,000 loss.

Other members of the union attempted to attack Premier and Mrs. Asquith and First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill and Mrs. Churchill as they were on their way to the Victoria Railway station today.

Mrs. Asquith and Mr. and Mrs. Churchill were leaving on a journey to Venice, where they will embark upon the Adriatic yacht Excelsior for a cruise through the Mediterranean for inspection of British fortresses and navy depots.

Saved by Their Guards.
Only the fact that they had a heavy bodyguard of policemen, soldiers and private detectives saved them from injury at the hands of militant suffragettes.

Mrs. Flora Drummond, or "General" Drummond, as she is known because of her Amazonian qualities, who collapsed in Bow Street Court yesterday during the trial of the women arrested in the raid on headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union, was in a serious condition today. She had refused to eat for a week to spite the government and has become so badly drained as a result that an operation may be necessary. She was taken to a nursing home this morning.

Love Wins New Ally.
Interesting news of the organization of militants are being brought out at the trial of the militant leaders. Leaders noted by the police include a number of passionate burning love letters from a former Socialist member of Parliament. The letters show that he is infatuated with one of the leaders of the "wild women" and that he allied himself with the "causes" at her command.

Other documents show that the most dangerous branch of the union is called the "service of Young Hot Bloods." No one but young unmarried women of high courage are admitted. These are some of the questions put to them before they are admitted into this branch of the union:

Furnish the Arsonettes.
Are you willing to die a violent death to-day?
Are you afraid of dynamite or any other high explosive?
Will you swear to hunger strike if sent to jail?
Will you renounce the softer characteristics of womanhood in favor of a hard principle?
Are you healthy and strong and able to hold your own against a single policeman?
The arsonettes and the members of the dynamite squad are recruited from the "Y. H. B." service.

FRANK AND LEE HELD; GRAND JURY LIKELY TO TAKE UP CASE MONDAY

"Phagan Mystery Now Is in State's Hands and Every Effort Will Be Made for a Speedy Solution," Declares Solicitor General Dorsey.

Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil Factory, and Newt Lee, the night watchman, are held under charges of murder, as the following verdict of the Coroner's jury will show:

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913.

We, the Coroner's jury, impeaned and sworn by Paul Donohoe, Coroner of Fulton County, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body now lies before us, after having heard the evidence of sworn witnesses, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hurt, County Physician, find that the deceased came to her death from strangulation. We recommend that Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

(Signed) HOMER C. AUSTFORD, Foreman.
DORIS J. W. HURT, County Physician.

Frank and Lee are awaiting the consideration of their cases by the Grand Jury, which met Friday morning.

As Solicitor Dorsey has followed the investigation closely since it began and part of the time has had detectives of his own working on the case, it is regarded as probable that he would have it ready for presentation to the grand jury some time on Monday.

In this event a decision as to whether indictments shall be returned may be reached by Monday night.

Solicitor Dorsey said Friday he would give the Phagan case all of his attention and present his evidence to the grand jury as quickly as possible.

TARIFF BILL IS UP TO SENATE; HOT FIGHT DUE

Democrats Rejoice as the House Passes the Measure by the Vote of 281 to 139.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, with the lowest import duties ever imposed by an American measure, is now up to the Senate Finance Committee.

The bill's passage through the Senate will be fought at every step by a Republican organization apparently entirely in accord with the Democrats and entirely willing to spend unlimited time and energy in an effort to defeat it.

Leaders of the Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee, which will handle the bill, express the belief that it will go through in practically the same form as it passed the House and stand firm to the last.

Few Changes Likely.

Subcommittee of the Finance Committee which has been investigating the schedules of the bill for the last few weeks plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but two Republicans voting for it. Four Progressives supported the bill and fourteen opposed it, while one Independent Progressive joined with the majority.

Majority to Mark Time Now.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction exuberant Democrats hosted a stuffed dinner at the Hotel in the rear of the chamber, a ripple of applause followed and the exultation of the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of Congress.

When the bill on its way to the Senate, there was a rush of Representatives to the House of Representatives to take their seats at a time beginning next week until June 1. In the meantime, the Senate Finance Committee will study the bill while the House Ways and Means Committee will organize committees preparatory to the transaction of business next month.

MILLTOWN WILL FISH, REGARDLESS

Mayor Pafford Declares Georgia Laws Give Residents Right to Angle in Banks Pond.

Citizens of Milltown, Ga., deny that the town is in a state of excitement and that it will be necessary to call out troops to preserve order. Mayor William Pafford has issued a statement declaring Game Warden Bostwick became unduly alarmed.

The Governor Brown has not considered sending troops to Berlin County. It hardly likely he will.

Until the legislature changes the law, Milltown sportsmen will continue to angle for the elusive trout in Bankers pond so long as they have permission from owners of the land on which the body of water is located, according to Mayor Pafford.

SHRINERS OFF FOR DALLAS TO CAPTURE MEET

I want to again express my appreciation for the assistance of Mr. Hearst and his newspapers throughout the country, if Atlanta gets the 1914 meeting Mr. Hearst and his papers will be largely responsible.—POTENTATE FORREST ADAIR.

The Imperial Council will meet in Atlanta in 1914. Personally I have no doubts of it. We have hotel accommodations; Memphis has not, and we have made a remarkable record in raising a fund of $15,000 in one day that every Shriner in America knows about.

And we have to-night for Dallas better equipped to extend an invitation of this kind than any city or Temple that has extended a like invitation in a great number of years.

With this statement Forrest Adair, potentate of Yearab Temple, announced Friday morning that every detail of the pilgrimage to the convention of the Imperial Council of Shriners at Dallas, Tex., was complete and Atlanta's delegation, nearly 100 strong, would leave in a special train over the Southern Railway at 10 o'clock Friday night.

Early Sunday morning the Atlanta pilgrims will have crossed the hot sands and entered the Oasis of Dallas. They will go into the city with their coats on their arms, prepared to drop out any discordant notes, from Memphis, or anywhere for that matter, with the now familiar slogan: "Atlanta, 1914!"

LEO FRANK'S AGAIN QUIZZED BY CORONER

New Lee Called to Stand for Further Examination--Coroner Will Put Case in Hands of Jury by 7 o'Clock, It is Predicted.

The Coroner's Jury found that Mary Phagan had come to her death by strangulation and ordered Lee and Frank held for the Grand Jury.

Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Penitentiary, and New Lee, night watchman, both of whom are being held in connection with inquiry into the death of Mary Phagan, were recalled to the witness stand late Thursday afternoon at the inquest.

Frank, however, answered the questions readily and Coroner Doneho was not able to help him.

Following this testimony, the coroner excluded all persons in the room, including the newspaper men and the attorneys for Frank, while Dr. Hurt, county physician made his statement.

Quinn steadfastly refused to admit that he had made a statement of the sort. He supported Frank's testimony of last Monday by insisting that he visited the factory for a few minutes after the murder.

Frank Answers Questions Quickly When Recalled

Frank was slightly nervous when he was answering the questions. He was asked: "What protection would there be from a person from falling into the shaft if the door was open? There is a bar across the shaft."

Quinn was asked: "Where was the elevator Friday night and Saturday?—I didn't notice it."

Testimony at Early Session of Phagan Inquest Rogers Tells What Police Found at the Factory

Frank's Stenographer and Girl Employee of Pencil Company Also on Stand.

Following is the testimony of the court witnesses at the Phagan inquest today:

W. W. Rogers was the first witness. He lives at 104 McDonough Road, and operates an automobile for himself. He said he took a party of officers to the National Pencil plant at five minutes past 3 o'clock Sunday morning, April 27.

You just when the stenographer and office boy left at 12 o'clock and she came in here, I saw it. I can tell you the exact time—it was 10 minutes past 12. I said her 11:30. Frank looked nervous and asked if anyone had found the envelope; that it must be around "there somewhere." Q. Did you see Frank into the basement?—A. Yes, we went down.

Q. Did he say anything about the envelope running the elevator?—A. Yes, he was asked if the negro ever ran it. Q. Did you notice the elevator?—A. No, except when we first went into the basement. Q. Where was it?—A. Above us.

The corroborative statements of officers receiving the finding of Miss Phagan's body, and the notes beside it, and of the body being face downwards in a strait jacket.

Q. Who telephoned Frank of the murder?—A. Starnes called him and asked him to come to the factory. Q. How long was he there?—A. I don't know. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him.

Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him.

"Boots" Rogers, former county policeman who drove the police to the Pencil Factory when the first news of the Phagan slaying reached headquarters.

Q. What date did he put on the slip?—A. I think it was April 26. I'm not sure. Rogers said he looked at the slip and the first patch was at 6:30 and the last at 7:30. There were no misses, he said.

Q. Where was the slip taken?—A. Frank took it into the office and put it on the floor. Q. Did Chief Lanford take it away?—A. Not then; he may have got it later. Q. Are you sure there were no misses on the slip?—A. I would have noticed if there were.

Q. Did Lanford and Frank have any conversation while on the way to the station house after that?—A. Nothing. Q. Did he have anything to do with the car and Frank was seated in Darley's lap.

Q. Was Frank still nervous?—A. Yes, he still wanted a cup of coffee. He had been anxious all morning to get a cup of coffee. Several times he had asked Chief Lanford if he could get him a cup of coffee.

DO NOT SEE OR HEAR CATURDAY, HE WANTS

J. L. Watkins, who testified that he saw Mary Phagan Saturday afternoon, April 26, between 4 and 5 o'clock, was called to the witness stand.

He was accompanied to the inquest by a girl, "Daisy" Brown, who he said was the girl he mistook for Mary Phagan.

He said he became convinced of his mistake when detectives came out to his place and had Daisy Brown to identify her as the girl having never left the factory. I told him, "Why do you say that?" He said, "I saw her Saturday afternoon, April 26, between 4 and 5 o'clock, and she was wearing a blue dress and a white apron."

Q. Did you see her?—A. Yes, I saw her. Q. Did you hear her?—A. Yes, I heard her. Q. Did you see her?—A. Yes, I saw her. Q. Did you hear her?—A. Yes, I heard her. Q. Did you see her?—A. Yes, I saw her. Q. Did you hear her?—A. Yes, I heard her.

Italy and Austria Map Albanian Rule

Charter is Drafted Creating Departments of Government—King Not Yet Chosen.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. VIENNA, May 8.—Austria and Italy have taken upon themselves the task of constructing a government for Albania, which soon is to become autonomous.

A charter has been drafted, embodying the creation of necessary branches of government. Among them are the constitution of a national legislature, the creation of a fiscal system, an agreement as to the size of the first national loan, the institution of judicial systems and a scheme for the building of harbors and public highways.

As yet no king has been chosen. The Duc De Montenegro has been chosen an offer to rule the country. PONTIEN, May 8.—International troops, representing Austria, Italy, France and Germany, today took possession of Scutari, according to a telegram received from Cairo. The Montenegrins puts an end to the incident which for over a fortnight threatened to plunge Europe into war.

Questioned Talk With Girl. Q. Were you alone with Frank when you talked with him there?—A. The witness was questioned closely regarding any conversation he might have had with direct juries, one by one. Q. Did you tell him you were there on Saturday?—A. Yes, I was down there three or four hours a day for several days.

Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him. Q. Did you see him?—A. Yes, I saw him. Q. Did you hear him?—A. Yes, I heard him.

Whitehall Street Grading Assured

Committee of Property Owners Declare Opposition to Plan is Fast Vanishing.

Opposition to regrading Whitehall Street is fast vanishing, and the success of the big undertaking is now assured, according to a report from the committee of property owners.

Robert R. Oils, chairman, who with others has made an investigation and worked out the details of the scheme, said Thursday: "We now have everything in a good shape and the improvement of Whitehall street is a matter of time. The opposition to the big improvement of the plan was not thorough because the plan was not thoroughly explained."
