Wagon and still others in his right side. In spite of his many wounds, it was thought that he might live. Some of them alone would have been fatal. Watson has been wanted for some time as Fayetteville for escaping from the chain gang, and Warden Harris has been in Atlanta several times trying to locate the negro. Finally, he detailed a negro to stay in the city in an effort to find him. It was known that Watson lived in the rear of 69 Orange Street, but he was arrested enough not to go near his home.

An appeal set of lawyers during the stage of Watson, who was in the station under the name of Paul West. At the sight of the negro the anger of the officers which had collected was the strongest feeling. He hurriedly moved forward and would have been killed by the shooting party, but he was surrounded him and carried him to the waiting automobile.

His eyes glazed and staring, the negro appeared utterly unconscious. He was placed in the car, and the station as he lay in the car. Questions as to his identity were hurled at him as he was borne to the station house and later to the hospital, but he seemed not to hear them.

Warden Stands Guard. Mrs. Hattie Barnett, Atlanta's woman detective, lives at 1110 West Peachtree Avenue, just back of the yard on Windsor Street, where the bloody tracks had been found. She and her husband, who were in the car when the negro was shot, were the only ones who saw the deed. She was the only one who saw the negro running up the street. She was the only one who saw the negro looking back over his shoulder at the officers who were following him. She was the only one who saw the negro being carried to the hospital.

Family Left in Want. One of the many pathetic features of the tragedy is the poverty of the family that Yancey leaves. They have had a hard struggle for existence, and their little home at Lakewood Heights on the Longwood road, where the children are in the family, now is an additional burden upon Yancey.

Only Yancey was made a beneficiary of the state. He was paid a salary of $10 a month. Yancey was a man of good character and a good worker. He was a man of good character and a good worker. He was a man of good character and a good worker.

COOPER HAS WAY TO GET FOOD SHORTAGE

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Urges Enlistment of 100,000 Boys in Corn Club.

Secretary Walter G. Cooper, of the Chamber of Commerce, Monday proposed a way to meet the $11,000,000 deficit in the food supply of Georgia. He urged organization of 100,000 boys in the corn clubs and thereby increasing the work which already has added 25,000,000 bushels of corn to the annual crop.

Mr. Cooper urges an immediate and active interest in the Georgia Corn Show as the most important step. He says: "Leading authorities on the food supply of Georgia agree in the estimate that the people must out of this State last year $11,000,000 for corn."

Average Yield Increasing. "We have more corn than in agriculture. Statistics show the average yield of corn went up from 10 1/2 bushels in five years. Georgia, though, still lacks a great deal of raising her corn crop."

NO PRICE RISES IN FIVE YEARS, SAYS CHIEF

In less than five years every recognized house of vice in the United States will be closed.

This was the statement made today by James L. Beavers, chief of police of Atlanta, who returned last night from Washington and the convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

More time was allotted to discussion of the social evil than in any previous convention of the police chiefs. Beavers said. Last Wednesday the whole afternoon session was devoted to the topic. Chief Beavers made an address and it was this address and the chief's record in Atlanta which stimulated the discussion.

Some of the chiefs in attendance were in favor of closing these houses. Chief Beavers said today that he had been in Washington and the convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

PROSPERITY SOUTH HERE TO STAY

Two Great Railroads Show Increase in Earnings Last Year.

Striking confirmation of the truth of the reports about the solidity of the financial situation of the South is furnished to-day in the following dispatch to The Georgian:

LOUISVILLE, June 17.—That the South is enjoying a period of great prosperity is indicated by the earnings of the railroad systems. The report of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad shows that the gross earnings for the fiscal year, which ends July 1, will show an increase of more than $10,000,000 over the same period of last year.

The statement of the Southern Railway, whose fiscal year ends July 1, shows that the gross earnings for the first week in June have been $1,491,404, an increase of the same period last year of $48,377.

This makes it certain that, for the current fiscal year, these two great railroad systems of the South will show increase in earnings over last year that will exceed $15,000,000.

Also, James J. Hill, the empire builder, declares in an interview to The Georgian to-day that the pessimism of Wall Street is not well founded, and he points out that the United States will derive $10,000,000,000 of new wealth out of the ground this year by a sum to exceed the world's gold production for ten years.

The Georgian during the past week published interviews with many business men of Atlanta, and on Sunday the Sunday American published an elaborate interview with Am. Chamberlain, in which they all declared that the financial situation in the South is strong, and they warned against the pessimistic writers of Wall Street.

Hill Says All is Well.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 17.—James J. Hill, who is attending the convention of the New York State Bankers' Association here, has taken much interest in recent Wall Street developments. Speaking of the general financial situation, he said to a correspondent:

"What is the matter with Wall Street, anyway? Are they getting crazy there? Every one is as blue as indigo, and half the people do not know what they are blue about. All that people have to do in times like this is keep a clear head and avoid getting rattled; then everything will come out all right.

Money Hard to Get.

"For I know money is hard to get, I calculated some time ago to the difficulty the railroads were experiencing in obtaining loans as time went on, the money rates were apparently easy. Selling short-term notes is apt to occasion inconvenience when the rates happen to mature in a disagreeable money market. But the railroads have probably done the best they could do in a situation which has been difficult to sell bonds, even in cases where the borrowing road had had the security offered.

"The money market is a good deal of a problem, but it will work out all right.

"Why, those nervous fellows in Wall Street, who get worked up because money rates are going up or because the stock market is going down, ought to realize the United States will derive ten billion dollars new wealth out of the ground this year, or a sum which exceeds the world's gold production for ten years.

"I want to say, too, that the Washington situation is all right. To see some people talk, you would suppose that the Administration was bent up on upsetting things. That is perfect nonsense."

SENSATIONS IN PHAGAN CASE AT HAND

Out-of-Town Trips Believed To Be of Great Importance—Defense Has Strong Evidence.

Frank A. Hooper, associate counsel with Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey in the prosecution of the Phagan murder mystery, left Atlanta Monday for a trip to Indianapolis. Attorney Hooper was the third man closely connected with the Phagan case to leave town within a space of three days.

Colonel Thomas B. Feider, who took an active part in the hunt for the slayer of Mary Phagan until the dramatic denouement, left Sunday, saying that he was going to Cincinnati. He said that it was a business trip and that it was related to his quarrel with Chief of Detectives Lanford or directly with the Phagan case.

Solicitor Dorsey left the previous afternoon. He gave out that the prosecution entirely had completed its preparation of the Phagan case and that he was going away for a week's rest at Atlantic City and New York.

At the Hooper home Tuesday it was admitted that Mr. Hooper's trip was on business, but denial was made that it was in connection with the Phagan case or that there was any significance in his departure, particularly at the same time as that of Solicitor Dorsey and Colonel Feider.

Humors are circulating here, too, that material witnesses in the case have been uncovered and that their testimony may have a most important bearing in determining the person who attacked Mary Phagan. It is said that the sudden trip of Attorney Hooper may be connected with the new developments.

The prosecution has been aware for some time that the attorneys for the defense have been weaving a strong net of damaging evidence around the negro avenger, Jim Conroy.

But Attorney Lester Z. Hooper, following his custom of silence, has let neither the public nor the prosecution in on the secret of the source of this important evidence. He has scores of affidavits. That much is known by the prosecution, but by whom they are signed will probably remain a deep mystery until the Frank trial begins.

Report New Evidence.

Recent reports that new and startling evidence against the negro has been turned up by investigators for the defense are held responsible in some quarters for the sudden out-of-town trips of the Solicitor and his associate. It is explained that they are looking into some of the circumstantial evidence upon the shoulders of the negro. These statements are said to have been overlooked or refused by the detectives working on the case. The Conroy meanwhile sticks to the story told in his latest affidavit. He insists that the only part he had in the crime was assisting Frank to dispose of the body.

Chief Lanford and Harry Scott, of the Pinkerton, continue to express their belief in the above truth of the latest story of the negro, although he admittedly uttered a series of lies and misstatements and perjured himself in two other affidavits. He signed the one which the authorities insist he had been sworn to.

ANNISTON, ALA., June 17.—The youth killed at the Union passenger station here on Friday has been identified as Roy Madison. He had been identified as Roy Madison at Atlanta and had carried the body to this city for interment.

"Atlanta's Success Due to Its People's Progressiveness"

Robert S. Sharp, who until March 4 was chief postoffice inspector of the United States, paid a high compliment to Atlanta before leaving for an Eastern tour Tuesday afternoon.

"Every one who knows anything at all knows Atlanta is always on the job," Mr. Sharp said. "The city is wide awake and has it as a commercial center and home location. It is one of the best cities in the country, and its success is due to the progressiveness of its people."

Mr. Sharp was an appointee of President Taft. After the last national election he tendered his resignation to take effect March 4, the date of President Wilson's inauguration.

SCORES DEAD FROM HEAT IN WAVE IN NORTH

Weather Forecasters Predict Continued Hot Spell Throughout Country—Atlanta 90.

Hot and dry weather is the forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday. The thermometer reached 97 Tuesday and is due to repeat Wednesday. It was 92 Monday and day before.

"But even at that Atlanta has no right to complain," said Forecaster Von Herrmann Tuesday. "Chicago had 84 degrees of heat yesterday. Baltimore had 88. Louisville, St. Louis and Washington suffered 95 degrees of heat. Atlanta is lucky with only 92 Monday and two degrees less Tuesday."

The mercury mark never was as high as 98 in Atlanta in June except on three occasions—June 30, 1899; June 2, 1894; and June 4, 1911.

Although Monday was the hottest day of the summer, the night brought alleviating temperature when the thermometer dropped to 85.

"The outlook is for fair weather and continued warm," Mr. Von Herrmann said.

No storms are reported anywhere; hence there will be no rain.

MILITANTS' GRIEF NEXT SUFFRAGE MARTYR

Mrs. Pankhurst in Desperate Condition After Second Release Following Hunger Strikes.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, June 17.—A verdict of guilty was returned this afternoon against the six militant suffragette leaders and one male adherent.

LONDON, June 17.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, president of the union, who was released from Holloway jail yesterday for the second time since being sentenced to three years for conspiracy, because of illness, brought on by a hunger strike, was reported to-day to be in a serious condition.

So ill Mrs. Pankhurst said to be on self-starvation that defendants in Old Bailey Court predicted she would be the second "martyr" of the cause.

A society event was made out of the final day of the trial of the militant suffragette leaders and male adherent, all charged with malicious destruction of property, in Old Bailey Court.

A great throng of fashionably dressed women struggled with militants and non-militants for seats. Among those present were Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the Premier, and Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the First Lord of the Admiralty.

Defendants were allowed to address the court in their own behalf, and Miss Annie Kenney, one of the "bus and agents" of the Women's Social and Political Union, made an impassioned and dramatic appeal.

"I have made up my mind above my head and should: "If I am going to die to die right now."

Striking confirmation of the truth of the reports about the solitary of the financial situation of the South is furnished to-day in the following dispatch to The Georgian.

LOUISVILLE, June 17.—That the South is enjoying a period of great prosperity is indicated by the earnings of the Louisville, Nashville and Nashville Railroad shows that the gross earnings for the fiscal year, which ends July 1, will show an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the same period last year.

The statement of the Southern Railway, whose fiscal year ends July 1, shows that the gross earnings for the first week in June have been $244,000, an increase of the same period last year of $4,537.75.

This makes it certain that for the current fiscal year, these two great railroad systems of the South will show increases in earnings over last year that will exceed $7,500,000.

Also, James J. Hill, the empire builder, declares in an interview in The Georgian to-day that the pessimism of Wall Street does not well founded; and he points out that the United States will derive $10,000,000,000 of new wealth out of the ground this year, a sum to exceed the world's gold production for ten years.

The Georgian during the past week published interviews with many business men of Atlanta, and on Sunday The Sunday American published an elaborate interview with Asa Carter, in which they all declared that the financial situation in the South is strong, and they warned against the pessimistic writers of Wall Street.

HILL Says All Is Well.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 17.—James J. Hill, who is attending the convention of the New York State Bankers' Association here, has taken keen interest in recent Wall Street developments. Speaking of the general financial situation, he said to a correspondent:

"What is the matter with Wall Street anyway? Are they going crazy there? Every one is as blue as indigo, and half the people do not know what they are blue about. All that people have to do in times like these is keep a clear head and get things rattled; then everything will come out all right."

Needs More Detectives to Cope With Situation, He Thinks. Wants Women Sleuths.

Chief of Detectives Lanford, declaring a wave of crime is sweeping Atlanta, Tuesday announced his intention to appeal for six more detectives that his department may better cope with the situation. He said he expected to take up the matter at once with Chief of Police Beavers.

Chief Lanford will ask for at least two women detectives. Like Chief Beavers, he believes women sleuths would be able to do effective work in tracing of certain criminals.

"The wave of crime in Atlanta recently has swamped the detective department in much better shape than we need at once."

As to the proposed women detectives, the Chief said:

"There are certain cases in which the young girl better work than a man. Of course, we would have to be careful and pick the right kind of women. I intend to discuss this proposition thoroughly with Chief Beavers."

SHIPPING THE-UP TREATED BY COTTON MEN

Conference Over New Rules for Foreign Bills of Lading Expected to Develop Fight.

Cotton buyers, compress owners, bankers, railroad men, and the representatives of the ocean steamship lines meet in Birmingham Wednesday for a conference which will attempt to solve one of the most knotty questions which ever has arisen regarding the movement of the cotton crop in the South.

The steamship lines have announced that they will put into effect within a month, strict regulations governing the baling and marking of cotton. They intend to make notations on the bills of lading describing the condition of the cotton—whether wet or not, properly covered, for instance.

Mr. Cole's view president of the Central Bank and Trust Corporation, probably will be the determining factor in the decision of the inland cotton growers' committee which he believes covers the case as a whole.

DELIGHTS OF GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

At a dinner Joseph M. Brown drew near the end of his term his mail grows heavier and heavier with letters of congratulation and commendation.

Senator Bacon will be introduced as the first roll call of counties for the introduction of the bill. This will call for the first election of a Senator by the people to be held under the Federal amendment.

There is a distinct impression abroad, however, that the Governor by no means intends disappearing from public view.
