Q. Weren't you there?—A. No, I wasn't there. I was in the house.
Q. Weren't you standing by your sister and she said the last time Mary Phagan was seen by her was Thursday before the murder and you stood there and said nothing?—A. No, I didn't hear that. I was in the house but I didn't hear all he said to her.
"Come down," said Arnold.
Lad Liddy's friend.
Mr. Dorsey interrupted.
Q. George, has there been anything to get you to come to court?—A. No, sir. I was talking with you when you sent for me yesterday and didn't get the message.
Mr. Arnold objected to the question and reply and Mr. Dorsey said: "Your honor, Mr. Arnold made the impression on this court yesterday that this boy was testing from the court. The deputy said he couldn't find him. We just went to the object that he was always willing to come." Judge Roan overruled the objection. Q. George, you were always willing to come, weren't you?—A. Yes, sir. I got tired hanging around the court, and asked you if I could go. You told me you would send for me when you needed me. I came when I got your message.

The motorman and conductor of the car on which Mary Phagan came to town testified she could not have reached the factory at 12:05 o'clock.

Dalton's Testimony False, Girl Named on Stand Says

The Georgian today received from Miss Laura Atkinson, of No. 30 Ella street, one of the young women mentioned in G. B. Dalton's testimony, a letter denying absolutely that she had ever walked home with Dalton from the restaurant near the pencil factory, as he swears. Here is Miss Atkinson's letter in full: Editor The Georgian: Will you please allow me space to correct a statement made by G. B. Dalton in his testimony at the Frank trial and published in the paper yesterday. I will answer a question from Mr. Rosenberger's question, which was answered to the pencil factory with any other excuse. Miss Dalry's name was not given to me by Dalton on either one of those days. I had never seen her before. I had never been there, and have no idea who she is. Will you please state these facts, and do not even say any false impression that may have been made on people's minds concerning it, and the girl I met who was walking home with Dalton on either one of those days. I will appreciate it and thank you very much for what has been published in your paper. Sincerely, LAURA ATKINSON. No. 30 Ella Street.

Q. What time did you usually go to the factory?—A. I went there every Saturday from June 1, 1912, to January 1, 1913. Q. How long have you been making those sheets?—A. Since Frank went to jail.

Q. How long did it usually take you to make up the sheet?—A. About three hours. Q. How many are in a gross?—A. One hundred and forty-four.

Whisky Is a Good Driver.

It Drives Away Friends, Happiness, and From the Mind Drive Confidence and Courage.

Send the picture on this page to some man who needs it. Many men need it, unfortunately. As you see this man at the table and the two spirits that leave him, you realize that man is not single, but made up of many elements.

Have you seen a buzzard, a vulture or a crow picking the skeleton of a horse? Whisky does its work as vilely and as thoroughly as the meanest buzzard.

Is it even then too late, and is the case hopeless? No, fortunately, it is never too late, and no man's case is hopeless.

HE CAN, IF HE WILL, RISE UP AND FOLLOW OUT OF THAT DOOR THE SPIRIT THAT HAS LEFT HIM AND OVERHAKE IT AND MAKE IT HIS OWN. Some of the world's best work has been done and is done now by those that were once robbed by alcohol of all save the one spark that brings man back to his place WHEN HE WILL.

HERE'S THE TIME CLOCK PUZZLE IN FRANK TRIAL; CAN YOU FIGURE IT OUT?

THE RIDDLE OF THE CLOCK IN THE PHAGAN MYSTERY

Jim Conley swears Mary Phagan went up the stairs of the National Pencil factory and was murdered before Monteen Stover arrived. He says he saw Miss Stover go up and leave. Monteen Stover, State's witness, swears she arrived at 12:05.

Tick-tock! Tick-tock! The puzzle of the clock in the Phagan trial is the riddle of the clock in the Phagan mystery. This is a tale of an office clock and a motorist's watch.

Jim Conley swears that a few minutes before Miss Monteen Stover entered the factory, Mary Phagan went up the stairs and into Leo Frank's office.

But after Miss Stover entered, and before Miss Stover came in, the murder still according to Conley, had been effected.

Absence of Alienists and The Hypothetical Question Distinguishes Frank Trial

By O. B. KEELER. There are two things about the Frank trial that entitle it to distinguished consideration. In the first place, the absence of alienists and the hypothetical question distinguish the trial.

The hypothetical question is one rather more frequently than the alienist, because it is less extensive and embarrassing, while offering no more than an even break to the other side and confining the jury fully as much as the most complicated alienist.

SAY GULZER FIRST EXTRA USED FUNDS SESSION IN WALL ST.

Chairman of Investigation Committee Hints at Impachment Proceedings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Governor William Sulzer, of New York, was nearly $50,000 in debt as the result of stock market speculations at the time of his nomination, and used contributions to his campaign fund to make additional purchases of stocks while this debt was hanging over him, according to testimony presented to the Finway committee of the Legislature.

The evidence is sufficient to warrant proceedings to impeach the Governor for violation of the corrupt practices act, Chairman Frankley declared. A decision as to the committee's recommendation is expected by Monday.

The Governor, according to the evidence, had dealings with three different stock exchange firms and was saved from being sold out by a loan from J. N. Josephthal, a Wall street banker, and a member of the Governor's staff as naval reserve aide Josephthal. It was brought out, paid in debit balance of $24,750 still standing against the account on July 15 last. This was after the Governor had received repeated calls for more margin.

Used Campaign Funds. The Governor's transactions with the other firms were for cash, and it was in connection with one of these that Governor Sulzer, according to the evidence, used campaign contributions.

Arranged chronologically, the testimony appeared to show that on January 1, 1912, there stood on the books of the stock exchange firm of Harris & Fuller an indebtedness of $18,250 against the purchase by Governor Sulzer of 500 shares of "Big Four," 200 shares American Smelting and Refining Company and 100 shares of Southern Pacific. This testimony was given by Melville B. Fuller, a member of the firm who on Wednesday had refused to answer the questions of the committee. Before testifying his counsel announced that the Governor had agreed that "Mr. Fuller's lips should be unsealed."

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 1, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making 600 in all. On December 11 the firm, according to a letter produced by the witness, made its first call upon the Governor for more margin. The books showed that on November 18 previous the Governor had paid in $10,000 against the account, and that on December 14, apparently in response to the call for margin, he paid in $8,000 more.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Local showers Saturday and Sunday.

Hammering away to show alleged glaring discrepancies in time in the story told by Jim Conley, the defense of Leo Frank Saturday morning recalled George Epps, the newsboy who testified to riding into town with Mary Phagan on the fatal day, in an attempt to show that the boy on the Sunday after the crime made no mention whatever of having seen Mary the day before in a talk with a newspaperman. Epps was called to the stand after C. B. Dalton had failed to respond to a call from the defense. Reuben Arnold questioned the boy.

Q. Do you recollect the Sunday the body was found?—A. Yes, Q. Do you remember a gentleman, a Mr. Minar, coming to your house and talking to you and your sister?—A. Yes. Q. Didn't he ask you when was the last time either of you had seen Mary Phagan?—A. Yes, he asked my sister, he didn't ask me. Q. Weren't you there?—A. No, I wasn't there. I was in the house. Q. Weren't you standing by your sister and she said the last time Mary Phagan was seen by her was Thursday before the murder, and you stood there and said nothing?—A. No, I didn't hear that. I was in the house, but I didn't hear all he said to her. "Come down," said Mr. Arnold.

Shows Lad Didn't Flee From Court. Mr. Dorsey interrupted. "Q. George, has there been any trouble to get you to come to court?"—A. No, sir, I was playing ball when they sent for me yesterday and didn't get the message." Mr. Arnold objected to the question and reply and Mr. Dorsey said: "Your honor, Mr. Arnold made the impression on this court yesterday that this boy was fleeing from the court. The deputy said he couldn't find him. We just want to show that he was always willing to come."

Judge Roan overruled the objection. Q. George you were always willing to come, weren't you?—A. Yes, sir. I got tired hanging around the court, and asked you if I could go. You told me you would send for me when you needed me. I came when I got your message. "Holloway, Lost in Maze. What promises to be a very favorable day for the defense in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, was partly spoiled at its close Friday by the withdrawal of E. F. Holloway, day watchman at the pencil factory, in a mass of conflicting statements.

Holloway's confusion under the fire of the Solicitor General was more than offset by the importance of the testimony which had gone before. Besides giving the testimony which was intended to establish that Mary Phagan did not enter the National Pencil Factory on the day of her death until after Monteen Slover had come and gone.

Besides giving the direct to Jim Conley's tale, this testimony, if it stands as the truth in the minds of the jurors against the State's theory that Monteen Slover visited the office of Leo Frank while the superintendent was in the metal room with the Phagan girl.

Five Called to Break Down Negroes' Stories

GEN. HUERTA NO SET PLAN FOR ARMS JINGOES

Delegates at Jacksonville Meet Unable to Agree on Way to Better Prices.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The administration today decided to ignore entirely the note sent by President Huerta to the American government and to direct Special Envoy Lind to proceed to Mexico City without delay on his arrival at Vera Cruz to-night, unless he is held back by armed force.

"The President declines to be bluff," stated a prominent government official today.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 8.—With the approval of Provisional President Huerta, arms were issued today to the students of the National Military Academy, who yesterday drafted a resolution protesting against the Mexican Government.

A number of residents in the American colony, who have fortune invested in Mexico, are planning to make a demonstration Sunday when protests will be lodged against the action of President Wilson in sending a personal representative to Mexico City and urging that the Mexican Government be upheld.

Foreign Minister Adams and other members of the Cabinet are doing all in their power to avert the introduction and enthusiasm of the people.

Meetings of young hot-bloods, who are standing up for President Huerta in his defense, are being encouraged.

Mexican secret agents have been detailed to watch every movement that Mr. Lind makes here and the envoy will not be under constant surveillance.

The newspapers today carried flaming stories of "Yankee interference" and warned the State Department to recall Mr. Lind from Vera Cruz and not allow him to come to Mexico City.

Direct consequences are promised if President Wilson and Secretary Bryan continue their present course of trying to settle the internal affairs of Mexico while withholding official recognition of the Huerta administration.

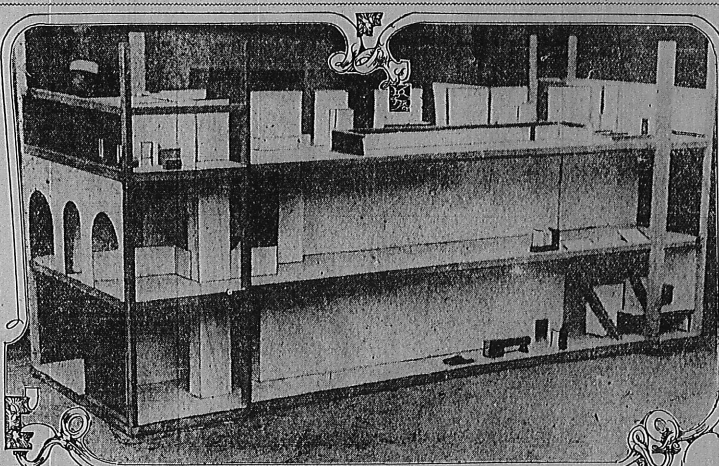

All the papers carry warm words of praise for Huerta and promise that he will stand like a rock in behalf of his policy of "Mexicans for Mexicans."

United States warships in the harbor at Vera Cruz were in wireless communication with the New Hampshire, upon which Mr. Lind is coming, and it is expected that the New Hampshire will reach Vera Cruz about 9 o'clock tonight.

Some Would Ignore Lind.

There was a gathering of Cabinet Ministers and Huerta's adherents in Congress at the National Palace today at which the existing American Mexican situation was thoroughly discussed. Some are for completely ignoring Mr. Lind, while the majority insist that he should be expelled.

PAPER MODEL OF PENCIL FACTORY PUT BEFORE JURY BY THE DEFENSE

Model shows basement where body was found; ground floor, where Jim Conley sat, and second floor—Frank's office in front, and in rear machine room, where State says Mary Phagan was killed.

DORSEY GOES AFTER HOLLOWAY, CALLED TO STAND FOR FRANK

Portions of E. F. Holloway's testimony were badly shaken Solicitor Dorsey finished a grilling cross-examination of the National Pencil Factory timekeeper and watchman late Friday.

Holloway appeared a very willing witness for the defense and Dorsey went after him viciously as soon as Reuben Arnold was through the direction questioning.

The Solicitor, by his line of questioning, first impugned that Holloway had sought to get Kendrick, a former night watchman to swear that Frank had been in the habit of calling him up at night as he called New Lee. Holloway denied this indignantly.

Dorsey next asked Holloway if he had not told L. P. Whitfield, a Pinkerton operative, to come around the next day and he was sure the detective would find something. The next day the bloody club was found. Holloway also denied this.

Holloway testified that N. V. Darley left the factory at about 9:20 o'clock. Dorsey showed him his own affidavit saying that Darley left with Frank about 10:45.

Holloway gave Jim Conley the lie when he was recalled to the stand. Under the guidance of Reuben Arnold, he took up Conley's charges of grave misconduct against Frank and denied each one of them.

The day watchman declared that he always had been in the factory at the time Conley testified he had watched at the door for Frank and that he was positive such things never had taken place.

Holloway asserted that Frank never had brought women to his office and that women never in his office, except members of his family.

Conley when he made his sensational charges of misconduct against Frank, cited Thanksgiving as one of the days that Frank had women in the factory. Holloway said Conley was not in the factory that day.

Reuben Arnold brought out the striking fact that it was snowing on Thanksgiving Day as a point against Conley's statement that a woman visited the factory that day and that she wore white shoes and white stockings.

Failure of George Epps, the 14-year-old newsboy, to appear in response to the call of the defense led Attorney Arnold to ask Judge Ross if he could not get an attachment for the lad. It was explained that the court deputies merely had been unable to locate the missing witness and that he would be brought into court the first thing in the morning.

That the door leading from the entryway on the first floor, of the National Pencil Factory, which had been nailed up since the first of January, was found broken open shortly after the murder of Mary Phagan was the startling testimony of N. V. Darley at the trial of Leo Frank Friday afternoon.

No testimony of this nature had been presented before and no indication of such a discovery had been made during the investigation of the murder mystery. Its production, if the statements remain uncontroverted, opens up the possibility that the murderer of Mary Phagan attacked her on the first floor, broke open the door into the rear of the building and threw the body down one of two trap doors, one of which opens onto a chute and the other onto a steep stairway.

The defense did not appear to be abandoning its theory that Conley might have attacked Mary Phagan and thrown her down the elevator shaft only a few feet distant from the scuttle hole right by the elevator. On the contrary, Reuben Arnold in questioning Darley and other witnesses emphasized the ease with which such a deed might have been accomplished. It seemed to be the effort of the defense at this time not to center upon any one theory, but to show the jurors that the negro might have perpetrated the crime and disposed of the body in any one of four or five ways.

Darley, in advancing the striking possibility that the body had been carried through the door on the first floor into the rear of the building, said that the door had been nailed up again a few days after the crime as mysteriously as it had been broken open.

Darley said that he had kept watch of employees after the murder and that his suspicion immediately had fastened upon Conley because of the negro's peculiar actions. He said he had detailed the day watchman to maintain an espionage over Conley.

C. B. Dalton's story received a severe blow at the hands of Darley. Darley said that no negro night watchman had been employed at the factory before April, 1913. Dalton told of night visits at the factory prior to this time and said he was met by a negro night watchman.

Solicitor Dorsey, cross examining Darley, made the witness admit that detectives had been in the factory after the crime and might themselves have broken open the door.

The solicitor has brought out that if the body had been thrown

The independent producers in the West are making more and more to quit shipping. This spoiled the plan to suspend operations all over the country. It was suggested, that the factors be asked to give to customers any more expense money than they had not sold anything this year, and the present price would not net them anything for the year's work.

Another plan was to dump all of the independent producers in the West, thereby cutting the prices to such a point as to force the Westerners to suspend operations. Several operators objected to this plan, because they had not sold anything this year, and the present price would not net them anything for the year's work.

ELECTRIC CO. BLAMED FOR LINEMAN'S DEATH

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 8.—An inquest over the body of J. R. Peterson, lineman for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, killed Thursday when he came in contact with a live wire of the electric light company, was held here yesterday.

James A. R. Elinore, as Coroner, rendered a verdict that the Gainesville Gas and Electric Light Company, by "gross and culpable negligence" was to blame. This is the second case in which the electric light company has been held liable for the death of a lineman for the Western Union.

The hearing on the blame of the electric company are devoid of insulation in place. The company was ordered to pay damages at the last term of court for the injury to a child by a broken live wire in the street.

Peterson's body accompanied by the widow and two daughters, was sent to Jacksonville this morning for burial.

The second warrant was issued under the hooded law. Mr. Shock is general foreman of the company.

Mahler was sentenced to a fine of $50 or serve 90 days in jail by Judge Theodore Robinson today Friday. Sales of an appeal were given on and bond fixed at $100.

William Agnew, the man who is alleged to have been arrested, was not in court. Mahler had no witnesses. He did not testify.

Habeas Corpus to Free Lee Sought in Superior Court

ANNISTON, Aug. 8.—Much interest is expressed here in the appointment by Governor Emmet O'Stal of a successor to Probate Judge W. H. Cooper, whose death at Birmingham Thursday created a vacancy.

This will be the second time within about a year that Governor O'Stal will have had the opportunity of making an appointment to this office. When the death of Judge E. C. Cook necessitated his giving up the office, Representative J. J. Arnold was named to fill the unexpired term. He was reelected by Judge Cooper in the primary last year and has himself been re-elected a year ago.

R. J. Whitt (today) eliminated himself from the race leaving W. M. McCortney, Mr. Cook and Mr. Arnold in the field.

Alabama Judgeship Is Sought by Three

ANNISTON, Aug. 8.—The what of E. C. Drew, the Fort Payne promoter charged with using the United States mails to distribute mail, will begin here in Federal Court next Monday.

There is a mass of testimony and the trial will be lengthy and probably sensational. It is said that the three alleged victims are to be found in several States. The Grand Jury here took two days making the investigation.

Whitt said Drew wrongfully used the mails to induce persons to subscribe to stock in an oil company he was promoting at Fort Payne.

Striker Fined $50 in Mobile Assault Case

MOBILE, Aug. 8.—Two warrants were sworn out in the Interior Circuit Court Friday against Joseph Mahler, one by Philip Shock charging threats to do him bodily harm, and the other by William Kelly, strikingly Mahler's attorney, charging that Mahler is interfering with persons engaged in lawful work.

The second warrant was issued under the hooded law. Mr. Shock is general foreman of the company.

Mahler was sentenced to a fine of $50 or serve 90 days in jail by Judge Theodore Robinson today Friday. Sales of an appeal were given on and bond fixed at $100.

William Agnew, the man who is alleged to have been arrested, was not in court. Mahler had no witnesses. He did not testify.

Engineer Prevents Wreck by Wild Dash

REDFORD, Aug. 8.—The morning train from Atlanta and Macon was almost wrecked on a trestle two miles from Redford, which a few years ago was the scene of an accident in which several people were killed and numerous others injured.

A trestle bridge was crossing the track and a young reckless man, Howard Dink, who appeared yesterday, was electrocuted on a pole by 6000 volts passing through it wire at Redford Station, six miles from Anniston. The wire telephoned for help. She is reported to have died.

Mr. Dink was a son of Politician Joe Hill of Anniston.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—In addressing the International Medical Congress today Sir Thomas Barlow, M. D., principal physician to King George and president of the congress, declared that England is rapidly becoming the most temperate nation in the world. He declared that the use of alcohol in the army and navy is diminishing at a fast rate.

Dr. Barlow, of Texas, one of the American delegates, in speaking of pellagra, said it cost 2,000 lives in America in 1912, and that there were fully 55,000 persons afflicted with the disease.

Pastor Under the Congress had the use of radium as a cure for cancer has proven successful, and probably will come into general use.

3 Negro Detectives Are Nearly Lynched

BENSAFOGA, Aug. 8.—According to a dispatch from Mountaintop, Calhoun County, three negro "detectives" barely escaped lynching yesterday when it became known that they had "uncovered" authorities of that county. However, the sheriff took them into custody and protected them.

Two weeks ago, it appears, the negroes were hired by the prosecuting attorney of Calhoun County to get evidence of the sale of liquor and gambling. They were provided with a small amount of money.

The names of about 50 negroes charged with gambling and with selling liquor have been furnished to the Sheriff and many arrests were made during the last two weeks. So many of the employees of a Mountaintop Manufacturing Company were taken into custody that the mill had to suspend until the cases were disposed of.

When some of the cases went to trial yesterday, it developed that the negro detectives had no evidence, but the accused had ample evidence to prove their innocence, many of them establishing alibi.

DAISY HOPKINS DENIES VISITING PENCIL FACTORY WITH DALTON Girl Mentioned by Conley Swears That Leo Frank Never Spoke to Her

down the aisle in the rear of the factory, it would have been dropped behind a pile of boxes where it would have been more effectively hidden than where it was discovered by New Lee. The solicitor claimed that the trap door over the rear stairway into the basement was nailed.

The attorneys for Frank vigorously assailed Friday the stories of two of the State's two of the State's negro witness, Jim Conley, the accused of Frank, and Albert McKnight, who said he saw Frank at the Solig home Saturday afternoon, April 26.

The motorman and conductor of the street car on which Mary Phagan is believed to have come to town the day of her death both testified that they knew the girl and that she was on their car which arrived at Broad and Hunter Streets not before 12:07 o'clock. She stayed on the car, they said, until the car reached Broad and Hunter Streets, which was about 12:10 o'clock. Consequently, it would have been impossible for her to reach the factory before 12:11 or 12:12 o'clock.

If the testimony of the two street car employees is accurate, it completely upsets Jim Conley's story that he saw Mary Phagan enter the factory before she was arrested. By the Brown girl's own testimony she entered the factory at 12:05 o'clock and left at 12:10 o'clock. Thus, she had gone by the time the Phagan girl arrived.

It also serves to destroy the significance of the Stover girl's testimony that Frank was absent from his office when she arrived there. As Mary Phagan had not yet arrived, according to the testimony of the street car men, it could hardly be regarded as a suspicious circumstance that Frank was not in his office, if it develops that he really was not. The defense also contends that Miss Stover, who admits she did not enter the inner office, could have looked through the doorway without seeing Frank.

Soon after court reconvened several of the State's witnesses. He exhibited a diagram of the factory to show that Frank could not have been in his office and not been aware of anything taking place beyond the time clock, for example, anyone coming in or going down the stairs.

Photographs and blue prints of the pencil factory also were put in evidence and in the afternoon a large steel model of the pencil factory, constructed on a scale of three-eighths of an inch to the foot, was brought into the courtroom. It was made by T. H. Whitley, a patternmaker, of No. 100 Highland avenue, and John Cox, an attaché of Reuben Arnold's office.

The model and blue prints were submitted in an effort to demonstrate that the State's theory of the crime is unreasonable and preposterous, and to illustrate the theory that the defense holds.

Attorney Arnold, who was conducting the examination during the forenoon, sought also to throw a deep shadow of suspicion upon the story of young George Epps, who testified that he rode up with Mary Phagan the day she was killed.

He said that another girl who was seated with Mary the latter part of the ride to town. He did not recall that Epps was on the car at all. The motorman said that he had never heard of Epps at Broad and Marietta streets and that he saw Mary and her companion all the way to Hunter street. He said the two alighted at Hunter street and proceeded toward Forsyth, on which the factory is located.

This is in direct contradiction to the story of Epps, who testified that he and Mary left the car at Forsyth and Marietta streets and that he walked with her toward the factory as far as the viduet.

As far as the viduet was concerned, she did not remember seeing Epps on the car. He said Mary was alone when she collected her fare at the car get on the car. She left the car at Forsyth and Marietta streets and did not see Mary at all, he said.

Albert Kaufman, an architect, was

DARLEY EVIDENCE ASTOUNDING IN ITS NATURE.

Factory Foreman Says From Door Was Found Broken on Day of Murder.

that Mr. Darley left at 10:45?—A. I did not.

Q. Look at this. Did you sign it? Then was it read to you?—A. Yes.

Q. Then is your memory better to-day than it was a month ago?—A. It is as good.

Q. Didn't you tell somebody that you were working for this reward for Conley?—A. I did not.

Q. You are sure of that?—A. Yes, I tell the detective black that if he asks you are you sure of that?—A. Yes, my negro was convicted, he was my negro, I mean that.

Q. Didn't you tell me that some Saturday you remembered that the factory as late as 3 o'clock?—A. No.

Q. You are sure of that?—A. Well, if I said 3 o'clock, I meant 4 o'clock.

Q. Well, what did you do when you were told Mr. Arnold you left at 4:30?—A. I meant that.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Arnold that negro did or not work at the factory on Saturday afternoon?—A. I said they worked there on Saturday afternoon as well as extra pay for the extra day for 15 cents. Yes, but he got extra pay. He got paid by the factory.

Q. What was Dan Conley's name?—A. I don't remember.

Q. Didn't you say it was the 712-A?—A. Yes.

Q. Then why did you say you didn't know? Take those slips and see if you can tell me.—A. I don't know my class, and I can't read without them.

Q. You tell this jury you notice that door leading into the factory was back Monday?—A. I did.

Q. Don't you know that door was open Monday to make a search?—A. I don't know when it was opened. The door was shut up when I left Saturday afternoon.

Q. Well, you are sure that the door was shut up Saturday when you left?—A. Yes.

Q. You know those doors were nailed up back there?—A. One of them was.

Q. Do you know about the other?—A. No.

Q. That one you saw nailed was the one where the stairs are?—A. Yes.

Q. Sheriff Model Exhibits a Card.

Solicitor Dorsey cried: "Bring in that model."

Q. New you said that door was the one that opened on the steps (indicating the model)?—A. No. It was this one.

Q. Do you undertake to qualify as an expert on women's wear?—A. I never pay attention to it.

Q. Do you know whether fancy women wear white or pink dresses to match white?—A. I don't know.

Q. That's the question at issue, isn't it?—A. Yes.

Q. Four Honor Mr. Arnold.

Arnold supplied the answer for a Thanksgiving Day and had this man give an opinion as to the kind of shoes women wear.

Arnold: "But your Honor, he is talking about fancy women."

Dorsey: "That's just the kind we want to show them. I will not press the question."

Negro Confess Barred.

Q. Did you ever find any beer bottles in the factory around the clock?—A. Never.

Q. Is it a fact that negroes used to take the beer bottles out of there and get beer in exchange for them?—A. No.

Q. Were you pretty sure that negroes being in there when they did not have business there?—A. I never allowed negroes like that in there.

Q. If Mr. Frank had told Jim Conley to watch and you or Mr. Warden

Anti-American Feeling Stirred by Huerta as United States Envoy Nears Capital.

der section 33 of the Mexican Constitution unless he traces out his mission to be favorable to Huerta's aims.

Section 33 provides that persons of suspicious intentions shall be driven from the country and not be allowed to return except on special permission from the government.

It was decided that no official greeting shall be extended to Mr. Lind. This was a tradition which is as immemorial as diplomacy itself.

After the conference Senor Aldape said: "The government has decided upon a definite course of action to be followed in the present situation, and we believe that it will be approved by all persons of justice. President Huerta is striving to re-establish order in Mexico, and he believes that outside interference, unless invited would do more harm than good."

President Huerta has the good of Mexico at heart, and I know that he would make great sacrifices in behalf of his country."

Mexico's Defy Ignored Until Lind Delivers Note.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Pending the arrival in Mexico of John Lind, special and personal representative of President Wilson, this government will take no action with respect to the defection issue of the United States, which has been led by the former Governor Lind as an ambassador.

Official confirmation of the issuance of the threat has been received from the United States, but Secretary Bryan and other Government officials say that they believe that the threat will be respected. It is seen, however, that the Mexican government intends to carry out its threat.

Government Lind is due to reach Vera Cruz to-night. He is expected to remain in that city until he can get to Mexico City in time for a conference with President Huerta tomorrow afternoon. It is believed here that the president will be glad to confer with President Wilson's special representative in Mexico. The nature of the communication it has received from the former Governor of Illinois is being determined.

Should President Huerta deem best to elect Mr. Lind, the United States may be forced to take drastic measures that it is hoped will be a detriment that this undesirable character will be avoided by a change of front on the part of the Mexican government, which has been urged by message from President Wilson.

After a conference with the President, the state department will issue a statement with respect to the statement sent to the American Embassy at Mexico City by the Mexican foreign office.
