

MAGAZINE TO BE RECALLED

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

South Georgia
AFTERNOON EDITION

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

Order It Now
Both Phones Main 100

VOL. XII. NO. 14

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1913.

Copyright 1913
By The Georgian Co.
2 CENTS, 1/23.70

WAR MOVE DORSETT IS DENIED

U. S. Charge at Mexico City Says
He Has Not Been Given Passports--Situation Acute.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charles D'Ambrose O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passports by the Mexican government or the ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

Huerta Rejects Peace Proposals.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18.—By reflecting President Wilson's Mexican peace proposals, Secretary of State Bryan today said that the ultimatum demanding the immediate recognition of the Mexican regime, President Huerta has brought the Mexican situation to a crisis.

Bulgar Plot to Att Turks Slayed

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN, CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 18.—Evidence of a conspiracy of Bulgarians to rise up in Adrianople and massacre all the Turks has been discovered, it was declared in a telegram received here today by the Grand Vizier.

He Feared His 'Girl' More Than Gallies

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Robert Cade, 18, who surrendered to the police because he feared the scorn of his sweetheart more than he did the possibility of the gallows, was released today. He was suspected of the murders pointed strongly to his guilt. He was being sought over the country.

Anniston White Way Called Best in Dixie

ANNISTON, Aug. 18.—Anniston, which has become widely known as the "Electric City," has again forged ahead of all Southern communities in the installation of the ornamental boulevard lighting system, using the same style lamp and posts as were recently installed in Washington by the Union Foundry Company of this city.

Lunatic Says He Is Pat Crowe, Kidnaper

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A man who says he is Pat Crowe, kidnaper of Eddie Conroy, Jr., son of the wealthy Omaha packer, is held in the Washington Insane Asylum for observation.

Augusta-Columbus Railroad Proposed

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18.—A movement which has its origin in Madison with a strong support by the Columbus Board of Trade, has come to light which proposes a direct railroad line between Columbus and Augusta, passing through Macon and the county seat of every county which it would touch.

Laborer En Route for Fortune Dies at Sea

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—While en route to Australia to get $100,000, which was left to him by his father-in-law, William Lunstall, a laborer died at sea, according to a wireless telegram received here today.

PATHFINDER GETS GREAT WELCOME

By HUGH GRANT
TALLAPOOSA, Aug. 18.—E. L. Ferguson, official "pathfinder" for the All-Southern Transcontinental High-

Envoys Called An Enemy to Labor

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Walter H. Pate, Ambassador to Great Britain, was denounced as unfit to represent the United States in England at a meeting of the Central Federated Union, because of his alleged animosity to trade unions and as a result of the strike in the plant of the Doubleday Page Publishing Company.

WOMEN RELATIVES OF ACCUSED AT THE TRIAL

MRS. REA FRANK.

MRS. LEO M. FRANK. MRS. EMIL SELIG.

THAW UNCAUGHT; BORDER WATCHED

COLEBROOK, N. H., Aug. 19.—A persistent rumor in circulation here that Harry K. Thaw, who escaped from Mattawan Sunday morning, was arrested and taken from a train at Coaticook Quebec. The report says that a deputy sheriff, who also was a passenger on the train, recognized Thaw.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—While a wide search was being made of New England, New York and Pennsylvania today, Harry Kendall Thaw, who escaped Sunday morning from the Mattawan Asylum, was believed either to be hiding in or near New York city or else in his way to Canada in an automobile.

Although more than 50 hours have elapsed since Thaw made his dramatic exit from the gates at Mattawan, while Keeper H. M. Barnum was getting in the morning milk supply, yet he has disappeared as completely as though the earth had swallowed him up. The slayer of Stanford White had hid his plans so carefully that his pursuers were baffled from the minute the search began.

Dr. Hilton L. Swann, after a call upon Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the fugitive, at the Gotham Hotel, intimated that Mrs. Thaw believes her son is not far away, resting after the labor of his escape.

On the other hand, from the avowed picked up at Lenox, Mass., and other northern points, the theory was founded that Thaw may have planned to go to Canada by automobile and skirt the northern end of the coast.

DORSEY ADVISOR MADE ERASURE ON FACTORY TIME SLIP

With the State determined to make a desperate fight to break down the impressive story told by Leo M. Frank in his own behalf, the trial of the man accused of Mary Phagan's murder was resumed Tuesday morning.

The defense added a few finishing touches to its case calling Mrs. Emil Selig, the prisoner's mother-in-law to identify a mit of brown clothes worn by Frank on Memorial day.

ATTORNEYS HIRED BY MRS. GOBBEE

Statement Issued for Woman Who Slew Divorced Husband and Wounded Second Wife.

MILLEN, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Edna Gobbee, divorced wife of Judge W. S. Gobbee, who shot and killed her former husband and seriously wounded his second wife, has employed Attorneys G. C. Daley and J. A. Dixon to defend her in the case.

"We have no apprehension as to the outcome of this case. We do not propose to try it on the streets or in the newspapers, but in the courtroom. There we expect the truth as regards this case to convince the jury and the country at large of the innocence of Mrs. Gobbee. There has been already an effort on the part of some people to distort the facts in this case, and we ask in simple justice that the public withhold their judgment until they shall have taken a calm and dispassionate survey of the evidence in the case, after which we do not fear their verdict."

Mrs. Gobbee, who was so seriously wounded by her divorced wife in a serious condition, had recovered striking much hope of her recovery. Mrs. Edna Gobbee is in the Jenkins county jail awaiting the preliminary trial, which will be held as soon as the condition of the wounded woman is such as to insure recovery or until death has claimed the victim.

Duchess Who Rules Luxembourg to Wed

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN, LUXEMBOURG, Aug. 18.—The betrothal of Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, aged 19, ruler of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, to Prince Henry of Bavaria, was announced today.

Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, 19, who has been ruling Luxembourg since the death of her father, Grand Duke William IV, in 1909, is one of the most beautiful girls in Europe. She is a man and a half, with a heavy white veil, a heavy white and a fur cap with the lace turned down over the ears, was seen wandering about the streets, seemingly clueless.

Aged Fat Man in Furs With Mercury in 100

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—While the street thermometer registered 10 here, a man aged and fat, wearing a heavy winter suit, a heavy white and a fur cap with the lace turned down over the ears, was seen wandering about the streets, seemingly clueless.

Newport Will See Relative of Czar

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Grand Duke Alexander Mikhailevich, brother-in-law of the Czar, who has been with the guests of Barclay Warburton, and later will go to Newport. He may take a trip West to shoot big game.

FRANK PROVES HIS BEST WITNESS, SAY LAWYERS

Continued from Page 1.

ing minute explanations of the intricate work involved in the financial details of his work, the impression that he gave was that of a fluent classroom lecturer. Thoroughly at home with his subject, he was not disturbed by interruptions. He spoke easily and with unconvincing fervor.

He spoke more than two hours on the complexity of the work he was called to do Saturday forenoon and afternoon the day that Mary Phagan came to her death. He accounted for every moment of his time on the day of the murder.

He referred only briefly to the testimony of J. Dalton, who said on the stand that he had seen in Frank's office and had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He admitted readily that he had been nervous when he was routed from bed and taken without his breakfast to the mortuary to view the body of the murdered girl.

He was extremely nervous, it was admitted. But what man could have been under the circum-

LIE DIRECTS GIVEN TO CONLEY'S STORY

Gentlemen, I know nothing whatever of the death of little Mary Phagan. I had no part in causing her death, nor do I know who was to her death after she took her money and left my office.

Frank's Story in Complete Form as Told to the Jury

Leo M. Frank, in his remarkable statement to the jury, had little to say of the charges made against him until the latter part of his address, on this account being the most interesting and most impressive portion of his talk.

He explained why he did not talk to Conley. He asserted that it was he who gave the information that Conley could write, in spite of the assertions that he had withheld this information. He made complete denial of seeing Conley on the day of the crime or of having any personal knowledge of how Mary Phagan came to all he desired.

He said that such a vicious attack had been made to rub out his name from the red lines on the time slip which had been introduced toward the beginning of his address.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

to the general manager's office that morning.

He then turned to the invoice covering shipments which were made in the pencil factory on Thursday, April 24, and which were made up by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

3 WOUNDED WHEN MOB STORMS JAIL

Spartanburg Sheriff and Deputy Rout Would-Be Lynchers of Negro Assailant.

SPARTANBURG, Aug. 18.—Sheriff White said one deputy fought off a mob of several hundred who attempted to enter Spartanburg jail and lynched a negro.

The mob attempted to blow up the jail with dynamite, but failing, tried to batter down the doors. It was then the three men were wounded and the mob was forced to recognize the courage and determination of Sheriff White and his deputy.

A call was made to Governor Blease to send a company of the 8th Cavalry to Hils, but he declined. It appears today that the Sheriff is able to cope with the situation.

Find Missing Banker Led Gay Lobster Lure

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 18.—In tracing the career of Raymond K. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Roosevelt Trust Company, who is being sought to clear up mystery surrounding a shortage of over $100,000 in the bank's safe, the searchers found evidence of lobster applier, jay rode and gay parties.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

TODAY'S MARKET OPENING

NEW YORK COTTON. Table with columns for Opening, High, Low, and Prev. prices for various cotton grades.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Table with columns for Opening, High, Low, and Prev. prices for New Orleans cotton grades.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Table with columns for Opening, High, Low, and Prev. prices for Liverpool cotton grades.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Table with columns for Stock, High, Low, and Prev. prices for various stocks including Amal. Copper, American Ice, and others.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

He said that he had been under the impression that he had been introduced to Frank by Miss Dalrymple.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, likely a page number or other marginal note.

THE GEORGIAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

The Saddest Word and the Gladdest Word—"Good-bye" and "Hello"

By NELL BRINKLEY

Had the Advantage.
Second Man—Beg pardon, but you have the advantage of me.
Delaying the Torture.
Harry—Do you believe in long engagements?
Tom—Of course. The longer a man is engaged the less time he has to do married.

ODOR-O-NO

Makes Dress Shields Absolutely Unnecessary

For the dainty woman—for the woman whose clothes have been faded and spoiled—for all women who suffer from excessive perspiration

ODOR-O-NO
THE ANTI-DRESS SHIELD TOILET WATER

Keeps the armpits fresh, dry and natural. Eliminates excessive perspiration, and its odor from any part of the body. Harmless and guaranteed. Applied externally. 25c and 50c sizes.

Get a bottle today at any "five" dealer in toilet articles. If your particular dealer hasn't it—order direct, giving his name to the ODOR-O-NO CO., Cincinnati, O.

Sole by: Inman Park Pharmacy, Palmer's Drug Store, Lamar & Hanson, Distributors, Chamberlain-Johnson, Dallas. And other "five" dealers in Toilet Articles

INSIST ON ODOR-O-NO—THERE'S NOTHING JUST AS GOOD

I KNOW lots of folks who won't say it—that saddest word—"good-bye." "Adieu," they say, and "addio," "farewell" and "so-long," "auf Wiedersehen" and "aloha," "until the next time" and "be good"—but not "good-bye."

Under the word "good-bye" the sun seems dim. Birds droop and do not sing. The heart beats slow and heavy and the temples ache and tighten. The blue sky turns gray. Every face that turns our way and passes on seems to hide tragedy. Everybody else in the world, seems like, is saying good-bye, too.

And we watch them with tender eyes since we are bidding some one farewell. After good-bye there is nothing to do, no place to go, no one to see. The world seems bigger and suddenly wiped bare of beauty. We are afraid!

Nell Brinkley Says

But EVERYBODY will say "HELLO!" They don't go hunting round for another word, any other word, so they can sort of slide by the plain, potent English. Under the short, keen, gladdest word, the sun and the sky are gold and blue. If it rains, why then we suddenly like rain. Under our tight jackets the heart beats high and fast and bursting big. Every face that turns our way seems like it had good news and blinks us.

If, maybe, a sad one lifts out of the glad ones, we forget it soon. Because we are saying "Hello." And if there's a bird singing anywhere we hear it. There is so much to do, so much to see, so many folks to like. The world seems suddenly like a rose and "full," as sweet-tempered R. L. B. says, "of a number of things."

And we are not afraid.

Do You Know—

The Crooked Bull—An inn which still stands upon Tower Hill, as it has stood for generations past—seats itself as the oldest wine and spirit house in London. There is every reason to believe that the inn dated from the time of Henry VIII. Certainly no London inn is more romantic in the matter of adding names and concealed doors, secret rooms, and underground passages—one of these reputedly leads to the Tower—and thick walls richly carved. There is a tradition that Oliver Cromwell once lived (or lodged) at the Crooked Bull. Clocks without hands or faces are now common in Switzerland. The time-piece stands in the hall and when a button is pressed by means of photographic arrangements it calls out "Half-past five," or "five minutes to nine," as the case may be.

The greatest number of runners ever contesting in a single race ran through the streets of New York recently in a twelve and three-eighths-mile marathon. The runners taking part were 100 in number, and there were 500 prizes.

Advice to the Lovelorn
By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

PERHAPS HE IS SHY.
Dear Miss Fairfax:
I am working in a place of business with a man whom I think a great deal. Any time I write him to call to see me he always looks to the quite delighted and calls, but never makes any effort to call unless I ask him. Don't you think he should ask me if he can call?

Such a request from him would show an interest in you which he now seems to lack. You say he always accepts and is delighted. That encourages me in the belief that he thinks in great deal of you, but is bashful.

Don't ask him for a time. I have an idea he will speedily ask you, "all the best may be."

LET IT BE NO.
Dear Miss Fairfax:
I am a young lady of sixteen and passed on to a young man of sixteen for one year. This young man has asked me to marry him, but I would like for him to change his position

He Wants't Shy.

Old Lady, (to cabinman)—Does your horse ever shy at motorists?
Cabinman—Does you, no, lady, I didn't say any when railway trains cut one in.

HOW ARE YOU FEEDING YOUR COLLEGE?
Are you giving them nourishing food—food that will develop their muscles, bones and flesh—food that is easily digested and cheap?
I've thought about Spaghetti—Faust Spaghetti? Do you know that a 10c package of Faust Spaghetti contains as much nutrition as 4 lbs. of beef? Your doctor will tell you it does. And Faust Spaghetti costs one-tenth the price of meat. Doesn't that solve a big item in the high cost of living?

You probably haven't served Faust Spaghetti as often as you should be. You don't know how many different ways it can be cooked—write for free recipe book today. You'll be surprised at the big variety of dishes you can make from this nutritious food. In 50 and 100 packages.

MAULE BROS.,
St. Louis, Mo.

Like Champagne.
At a meeting presided over by a burly country squire the chief speaker was a budding orator with a seat in the upper house.
Said the chairman, grasping the nervous speaker by the arm on the conclusion of his lordship's address:
"Your speech was like a glass of good champagne"—here the noble lord smiled pleasantly—"lots of froth and very dry."
Then the smile came off.

His Guide Book.
An English bishop who was an extremely busy man, and had to travel a good deal, was addressing the children of a school. He said:
"My dear children, I have been all this week traveling aither and thither through my diocese, and what book do you think has guided me? Come, now, it's a book beginning with 'T', and ending with 'e', and containing a lot of good things."
"The Bible, sir," cried a chorus of youthful voices.
"Ah, he," said the bishop, with a twinkle in his eye. "It's 'The Bible'."

WANTED, IDEAS

An Opportunity To Make Money

Intention, energy of ideas and inventive ability, should win for you the best of business success, and profit shared by leading manufacturers.

Patent secured on our (see enclosed), "Why Some Inventions Fail," "How to Get Your Patent and Your Money," and other valuable booklets sent free in any address.

RANDOLPH & CO.
618 "F" Street, N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

4 PEACHTREE

CITY TICKET OFFICE
EITHER PHONE

THE ATTRACTIVE WAY NORTH & WEST

ATTACK ON FRANK'S TIME ALL DAY

ALWAYS FIRST THE SUNDAY AMERICAN Order it NOW Best Phones Main 100

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN EXTRA Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results VOL. XII, NO. 18. ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1918. Copyright, 1908, by The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAT. NO. 150696

WITNESS SAYS HE SAW MARY PHAGAN ABOUT NOON OF TRAGIC DAY

Here are the important developments Tuesday in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Judge Rosen rules out all testimony bearing on particular acts of immorality which the State has been endeavoring to prove against the defendant.

Will Turner, former pencil factory employee, testifies he entered the metal room shortly before noon one day near the middle of March and saw Frank seeking to engage Mary Phagan in conversation.

Solicitor Dorsey devotes large part of forenoon in an endeavor to bolster the character of O. B. Dalton, a State's witness, and tear down that of Miss Daisy Hopkins, who was called by the defense.

George Gordon, called by the Solicitor, swears that the sensational affidavit of Minnie McKnight, negro cook at the Selig house, was signed in his absence and that Solicitor Dorsey refused to order her release, saying he "would get in bad with the detectives" if he did.

Roy Craven and E. H. Flakets, hardware store employees, testified Minnie McKnight, cook in the Selig home, made the affidavit revealing incriminating remarks and actions of Frank without reserve.

Miss Nellie Wood says she does not know Frank's general character after the Judge has barred sensational questions which the Solicitor proposed to put. The Solicitor says the witness "entrapped" him.

M. E. McCoy, a painter, created a stir in the courtroom Tuesday afternoon by testifying that he saw Mary Phagan on Forsyth street at about three or four minutes after 10 o'clock on the Saturday she was killed.

Attorney Rosser made McCoy admit that he had not told of this circumstance about a week and a half ago, although the time element had been a vital factor for several months and the city had been scoured for persons who saw the girl on the fatal day.

Leo Frank's mother and his wife left the courtroom Tuesday afternoon as Solicitor Dorsey was outlining to the court what he proposed to prove by Miss Nellie Wood, the witness on the stand.

The Solicitor made a determined effort to get into the record and before the jury testimony against Frank's character, but, as was the case at the morning session, he was overruled.

"We wish to show by the witness, your honor," said Dorsey, "the general character of this defendant, as well as to get before the jury a specific instance in which this young woman, who worked two days on the fourth floor of the National Pencil Factory, figured."

When Judge Rosen overruled this line of questioning, the Solicitor declared he had another witness to testify to an occasion when he saw Frank with a woman in the factory. The judge said the law plainly barred the questions.

Miss Wood was asked if she knew Frank's general character. She replied that she did not. Dorsey claimed he had been trapped, as his talk with the witness was exactly to the contrary. Charges Sideboard Was Moved.

Attorney Frank A. Hopper made the charge Tuesday afternoon that the mirror in the dining room at the Selig home had been moved for the express purpose of discrediting the testimony of Albert McKnight, who swore that he was in the Selig home the afternoon of April 26 and saw Frank hurriedly enter the dining room and go to the sideboard and then leave the house without stopping to eat.

McKnight was on the stand at the time, having been recalled to testify as to the place he was sitting when he saw Frank through the mirror. He designated the place and then corroborated Hopper's charge by his declaration that the mirror had been moved around several feet.

Roy Craven, one of the Beck & Gregg Hardware employees who assisted the police in obtaining the sensational affidavit from Minnie McKnight, negro cook at the Selig home, declared on the stand in the Frank trial Tuesday afternoon that the McKnight woman made her statements against Frank of her own accord and without reserve, once she had been persuaded it was best to tell what the State says is the whole truth.

Craven said the McKnight woman told him that she had heard conversations at the Selig home Sunday morning following the murder of Mary Phagan, indicating that Frank had rested poorly and had come home intoxicated, making his wife sleep on the floor. He had asked his wife for a revolver to shoot himself, the McKnight woman said, according to Craven. Frank also was

Continued on P. 2, Column 1.

FINAL RACING RESULTS

LATEST NEWS BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 19--The wife of Congressman D. V. Thomas, of the Third Kentucky District, today at Bowling Green, Ky., was alleged to have committed suicide and of waiting that she would die the same way as her two children.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19--The Senate today, by a vote of 86 to 50, defeated the Dristow amendment to the sugar schedule of duties, allowing duty of 1 cent a pound on a duty of 1 cent a pound. Senators Randall and Thomas of Louisiana voted with the Republicans in favor of the amendment.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 18--Ed Walsh, the big twister of the White Sox, will be able to pitch again in a week and will be looking for Bonafant's feat.

Sulzer Holds Fort, Ignoring Ruling of Attorney General ALBANY, Aug. 18--Inducted by the opinion of Attorney General Caspary, who held that Martin Glynn really is Governor of New York, William Sulzer occupied his office in the executive chamber this morning as usual. He came to the Capitol at the usual time and took up the morning mail.

Find Missing Banker Led Gay Lobster Life NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 18--In tracing the career of Raymond R. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Roseville Trust Company, who is being sought to clear up money embezzlement charge of over $150,000 in the bank, the searchers found evidence of lobster supper, joy rides and gay parties.

Blackjack Wielder Held for Grand Jury W. K. Dunn, arrested for drawing a blackjack on a newboy, was held in $500 bond Tuesday for Grand Jury action by Acting Recorder Preston. Dunn was held for assault and battery and assault with intent to murder.

LOCALS WIN WITH DENT ON SLAB

Wallie Smith Helps Crackers Take Second Game With a Homer in Seventh.

Atlanta by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12. Atlanta 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1. Crackers 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0.

AT WINSTON-SALEM. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

AT WASHINGTON. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

AT WASHINGTON. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

AT WASHINGTON. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

AT WASHINGTON. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

AT WASHINGTON. First game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Second game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10. Third game, Cracker 10, Blue Sox 10.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT CHATTANOOGA--NASHVILLE 000 002 1 - 3 9 1. CHATTANOOGA 000 004 X - 4 5 0. Second game: NASHVILLE 000 110 000 - 2 8 2. CHATTANOOGA 000 101 000 - 2 7 1.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CHICAGO--BOSTON 000 000 100 - 1 6 0. CHICAGO 200 001 20X - 5 11 3. PHILADELPHIA 010 003 000 - 4 6 1. DETROIT 003 000 000 - 3 7 2.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT CINCINNATI--CINCINNATI 000 011 011 - 4 8 4. BOSTON 100 001 000 - 2 5 1. CINCINNATI 000 100 100 - 2 7 0. BOSTON 000 000 000 - 0 1 0.

EMPIRE LEAGUE

AT ALBANY--VALDOSTA 021 007 100 - 11 5 2. AMERUS 000 410 000 - 7 11 1. WAYCROSS 002 402 000 - 8 12 1. WYACROSS 004 000 41X - 9 12 3.

REPORT OF MEXICAN WAR MOVE

American Charge Wires State Department That He Has Not Been Given Passports. WASHINGTON, Aug. 18--The White House today received a dispatch from Charles d'Almeida O'Donoghue, an Irishman, who had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

He found these reports unfounded and spread the news among the members of the American colony in Mexico City. The population seemed to take it for granted that Huerta was about to make the desperate play which he long had threatened.

Secretary Bryan today denied that the State Department had received any ultimatum from Mexico concerning the extradition of the Huerta men named by any state news, or that Charles d'Almeida O'Donoghue had been given his passport and told to leave Mexico.

It is believed here that the outlook for a peaceful settlement of the troubles between the two nations is more promising at the present time than it has been in the past fortnight. Wild Rumor Laid to Cabinet. Charge d'Almeida O'Donoghue, in his telegram to the State Department today, reported that President Huerta and Envoy Lind were conferring concerning the final settlement of the difficulties between the two countries. While he did not comment on the situation beyond expressing his belief that a peaceful settlement was being worked out, he stated that he had been inspired by the Huerta Cabinet.

Kentuckians Fight Duel, One Is Dead

HENDERSON, KY., Aug. 18--Governor Dyer today was believed to be rising from two bullet wounds, a slight bruise on the chest and a hurt as the result of a revolver duel. The two men quarreled and arranged to fight a duel to settle their difficulties. As soon as they met each man drew his revolver and began to fire.

LEO FRANK SKETCHED AS HE TOLD HIS OWN STORY TO JURY

During the greater part of his story Frank was calm and statistical as an accountant discussing an audit.

In telling of his dealings with the police and Chief Detective Lanford, Frank waxed sarcastic in a quiet yet bitter way. But he never lost his emotion or lost his poise.

Wiley Roberts was called by the prosecution. He testified that he saw the woman who had been seen by the jury to have been in the factory at the time of the murder.

At times Frank would lose his air of complete repression and his face for a moment would take on an aspect of deep feeling. He would, however, quickly resume his normal expression of stolidity.

NEGRO W/KNIGHT SAYS SIDEBOARD WAS MOVED

Continued from Page 1.

By far the most damaging testimony brought out against Frank was that of Will Turner, who testified that he had entered the metal room and come upon Frank seeking to press his attention upon the Phagan girl only a few weeks before the crime.

When Turner was put under the rackings fire of Lusher Ross's cross-examination the weight of his testimony suffered considerably. The money admitted he had worked at the factory only a brief time, was unable to describe Mary Phagan and was unable to tell the names of any other girl in the entire factory.

When Turner was put under the rackings fire of Lusher Ross's cross-examination the weight of his testimony suffered considerably. The money admitted he had worked at the factory only a brief time, was unable to describe Mary Phagan and was unable to tell the names of any other girl in the entire factory.

When Turner was put under the rackings fire of Lusher Ross's cross-examination the weight of his testimony suffered considerably. The money admitted he had worked at the factory only a brief time, was unable to describe Mary Phagan and was unable to tell the names of any other girl in the entire factory.

had taken up the rebuttal, any evidence not directly and at first hand bearing upon the specific acts charged against the factory superintendent. The ruling was a sweeping victory for the defense. It gave Frank's case, which had been almost materially laid to rest by the defendant's own statement, an added strength and heightened the prospects in Frank's favor.

The witness was called again that she had made visits to the factory for improper purposes or that she had been in the room at the time of the murder. The witness, who was called to testify against the moral character of Frank, had an excellent opportunity to have been in the room at the time of the murder. The witness, who was called to testify against the moral character of Frank, had an excellent opportunity to have been in the room at the time of the murder.

to show by Merck that this woman did make an engagement with him that afternoon.

"I understand," replied Dorsey, "that when an argument of this kind is to be made by the jury to the effect that it would be better to have the ladies retire also," said Dorsey, "I don't want to embarrass them."

The jury retired, and after a hurried conference, Frank's wife and mother also left the courtroom at the request of Attorney Arnold.

"This is their witness," said Dorsey. "I want to show that this man Merck had her Saturday afternoon, and she said she was going to the National Pencil Factory, it was cold weather. We want to show that he saw her that night and what she told him."

The witness interrupted: "I was summer lunch," she said. "She has denied," said Dorsey, "in the impeachment of Dalton that she ever went to the pencil factory for any improper purpose."

"I object," said Dorsey, "to the introduction of the evidence that she had been in the room at the time of the murder."

The witness interrupted: "I was summer lunch," she said. "She has denied," said Dorsey, "in the impeachment of Dalton that she ever went to the pencil factory for any improper purpose."

Q. Did you ever hear her say anything about a not in the basement of the pencil factory?—A. Yes.

Q. How long after the accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

Q. How long after the accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

Q. How long after the accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

Q. How long after the accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

CLEVELAND
THE SCENIC WAY WITH DINING CARS L&N

FRANK'S STATEMENT IS BEST PLEA PRESENTED IN HIS DEFENSE SO FAR

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

So far, unquestionably, to my way of thinking Leo Frank himself has made the best and most appealing plea in behalf of Leo Frank.

His statement in the recital thereof was as clear cut as a diamond, as dispassionate and as convincing as any statement I ever heard from the witness stand, and I have heard hundreds.

Regardless of its merits—or at least, aside from that—the defendant acquitted himself with credit and that much may be said of him ungrudgingly and in the frankest terms to all parties concerned.

Of course, had Frank been nervous, hesitating, "niggly," or seemingly in any way disconcerted, there would be those, perhaps, who would have seen in that great evidence of his guilt—made by his own statement, there will be those who will see in that evidence of a monstrous coldness and unfeeling design.

The vast majority of those who heard that remarkable statement, however, must have been impressed by, at least, the apparent sincerity of it and the accuracy of the facts the defendant to hold back nothing.

In his recital of the statement of Leo Frank was wonderful—the man's personality, it still is a human document of intense and abiding interest.

It impressed me, too, as being a many way characteristic of Frank as I have come to know him in the past—and I never spoke one word to him in all my life.

I have come to know him as the prisoner sitting over there between the two women in a courtroom—the slight, speckled party, a seat or two beyond Luther Hooper and Hansen Arnold.

I have come to know him, in my way of knowing persons, as a man of grave crimes, not by way of personal touch so much as by constant observation of him under fire.

Repression makes the story. All that was dramatic in Frank's statement was repressed—the dramatic touch was there, but it was repressed, and the usual accompanying stage tricks were not.

Frank should understand, I would tell me a gross of pencils, I should expect him to tell me the truth about the matter and nothing but the truth—but I should expect him nevertheless to tell me the pencil at a profit.

His statement of Monday afternoon to me a recital much after the fashion I should expect from him in the pencil transaction.

To me, it seemed that Frank was undertaking to tell the truth and nothing but the truth—the truth, and to tell it at a profit to himself.

That is the best and the worst that I can say of Leo Frank's statement as it appeared to me.

True, in a transaction involving a gross of pencils, there would be lacking all the great elements that entered into the statement.

Frank looked the jury squarely in the eye when he was making his statement—and he looked at me with his hesitate or falter in stating his plea.

Contrast the statement of the defendant with the statement of the negro—the star witness summoned against him.

Frank's day in Court. Now, Monday was Frank's day in Court, and it is square and right that Frank's showing should be criticized freely and frankly—it is right that the statement should be probed, just as it seemed to deserve, just as it seemed to merit that melancholy fate.

MOTHER OF LEO FRANK

Mrs. Rebecca Frank.

Wife at Last Breaks Down, Overcome by Frank's Story

After having braved every trying courtroom ordeal and faced every horrible charge hurled at her husband with a stoicism almost as unflinching and imperturbable as any, Mrs. Leo Frank gave away completely to her emotions and sobbed unstrangely as Frank said the last words of his wonderful and most impressive address to the jury Monday.

The recital that had been cast over the room by the quiet but earnest words of the slight young factory superintendent was broken by the sobs of the deputies, who shouted the moment Frank rose to leave the stand.

Very few in the courtroom had much to say until they had managed to subside that troublesome lump that gathered in their throats.

"Keep your seats, gentlemen, while the jury passes out."

In the confusion that followed some did not notice that Frank rushed right to the side of his wife, who had thrown her head in her arms and was shaking with pitiful sobs as she mourned his name again and again.

The woman who had acted herself against the accusations and innuendoes of the Solicitor General during the three long weeks of the trial collapsed when her husband himself took the stand to declare his innocence.

For one thing, Conley made four sworn statements, all contradictory, before he got one finally landed, and Conley admitted freely from the stand that he had lied time and again.

On the other hand, Frank's statement is the first and only unaided and sequenced utterance as to the details of his story yet falling from his lips.

It must stand in its entirety or fall in its entirety.

Whatever may be the effect of that statement in the end, it will go down in the criminal history of Georgia as one of the most remarkably clear and apparently convincing statements ever falling from a defendant's lips.

DIGGS, OWENS AND BAILIFF SHOT AS MEMBERS OF TRIP WITH GIRL

Declares that Marsha Warrington Would Not Let Him Leave City Without Her.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Marry I. Diggs, defendant in the white slaver action brought by the Government, took the stand in his own defense shortly after court was reconvened today.

Diggs looked straight ahead as he answered questions put by Attorney Robert Delvin for the defense. He spoke his answers in a loud, firm voice.

Diggs was attired in a fashionable blue serge suit, and wore a black tie. As he answered questions slowly, he glanced down at his clothes, and sometimes let his eyes rest for a few seconds on his recently-maliciously cut nails.

He told of meeting the Warrington girl and informing her that he was compelled to leave Sacramento on business and that he intended going to "Los Angeles," he said, "that I wanted to get away before she saw a scandal and things got embarrassing for me. I thought it would be best for me to go away. She said she didn't want me to go. I told her that I had my business, and my future to think of and also my family."

"Says Girl Wast." "She cried a little bit and said that I thought we had better break off our relations. I let her that she was right and she went by me. She thought I was going away for two weeks, but she saw me in the city and she was surprised she found that I was still in town. I told her that I had stayed to arrange things in my office."

Mrs. Warrington had testified last week that she did not let Diggs see her until he got to Sacramento.

Diggs said that a Sacramento theatrical manager had warned him that she was a prostitute and that she had attracted the attention of juvenile court officers. He said the theatrical manager warned him that if he continued his present habits that he would be compelled to move out of the building which he controlled, the theatrical man controlling.

Questions about an automobile ride before the trip to Reno, Diggs said: "Marsha and I were riding in the front seat of the machine and I was driving. She was in the back seat. We saw the car behind us. It kept right on our trail and I discovered that it was following us purposefully. After we got out of the city a way I turned to one side of the road and put out the light. The car passed without its occupant seeing us."

"They Are After Me." "I'm going to get out of town for a few days. I've got my family to think of."

Connelly asked what we were going to do about Lola and Marsha said: "She'll go to jail and if she doesn't want to go to jail I'll make her go."

During a conversation with his uncle, Diggs said he told his relative that he was going to "cut her hair" and "get out of Sacramento for a few days until the trouble with her association with Lola Marsha Warrington blew over."

Maria, he said, was present at that conversation and she agreed with him that she should leave. At the same time his uncle told him that Mrs. Diggs knew of his relations with Mrs. Warrington.

AMERICA'S CHAMPION HUSBAND,

NAT GOODWIN

has come to the rescue of downtrodden men who dare not speak their minds, and reveals all the joys and heartaches of matrimony in

"WHAT I THINK OF MY FIVE WIVES"

This daring actor in his new role explains how he found wife No. 1 "Like a Mother," No. 2 "An Obligation," Maxine Elliott "A Roman Senator," Edna Goodrich "An Error," and No. 5 his "Life Preserver." This will all appear in with the countless other features which have made The American the leading newspaper of the South, as well as a positive joy to the readers of Dixie. Lady Duff Gordon, who, as Lucille of London, is equally famous, will entertain her followers with a description of

NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

MARRIAGE MARKET GOWNS

with which far-seeing mothers enhance the charms of their debutante daughters. And coming down to the doings of fashionable Atlanta you will find that was among those present at all the functions of the inner circle, and will tell about them in her usual sprightly style. Moreover, baseball fans, as well as those who never see a game, will find a fascinating story in by Hugh S. Fullerton, which begins in this issue. So, why worry about your Sunday reading when you know that in addition to these great features and a dozen others, you can have all the news of the whole universe—sports, financial, foreign, political and local—delivered at your front door for 5 cents? Better climb the bargain at once, and order from your dealer or by phoning Main 100.

POLLY PEACHTREE

THE PLOT FOR THE PENNANT

JAMES L. DICKEY, JR., & CO.

INSURANCE

317 Equitable Building Atlanta, Ga.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY

OF JERSEY CITY, ORGANIZED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY, MADE TO THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA, AND TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA.

Principal Office—115 Exchange Place, Jersey City, N. J.

Whole amount of capital stock paid up in cash $10,000,000
Amount paid up in cash 400,000.00
Total assets of the company, actual cash market value 1,973,013.46

Total liabilities 1,973,013.46
IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.
Total amount received during the first six months of the year 1913 $24,653,778
Total expenditures during the first six months of the year 1913 $20,575,124
Greatest amount insured in any one risk $1,000,000
Total amount of insurance in force June 30, 1913 $15,832,510.00

A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is on file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner, STATE OF GEORGIA—County of Fulton.
Personally appeared and subscribed before me this 15th day of August, 1913, James L. Dickey, Jr., being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the agent of the Columbia Insurance Company and that the foregoing is a correct and true statement of the condition of the company as at the date hereinbefore stated.
Notary Public in and for the State of Georgia.
Name of Agent at Atlanta—JAMES L. DICKEY, JR., & CO., and COKE

Suffragettes Want Baby Booth at Fairs

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Among the things that the suffragettes headed by Harriet Stanton Blatch, want is a booth in their skirts and a place at fairs where women can check their babies.

Mrs. Blatch visited a number of fairs throughout the State and found that the women who check their babies while they ramble around the grounds are the most respectable.

Bulgar Plot to Slay All Turks Reported

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 15.—Evidence of a conspiracy of Bulgarian agents to assassinate the American minister at Sofia has been disclosed, it was declared in a telegram received here today by the State Department.

The contents of the message were turned over to the foreign office by a Turkish official, who was made to support Turkey's contention that an army is necessary at Adrianople to protect the Turkish civilians from the Bulgarians.

Moonshiner Slays Man in Pistol Duel

LEXINGTON, Aug. 15.—In a pistol duel that the murderer headed by John Carter, a moonshiner, and John G. Carter, a moonshiner, were killed and wounded by Carter. The slayer fired a ferryman in row him down the river. The ferryman was killed by an army. It is necessary at Adrianople to protect the Turkish civilians from the Bulgarians.

PATHFINDER GIVEN BIG WELCOME AT ROUTE TO BIRMINGHAM

By HUGH GRANT.
(Sunday) American Representative With Pathfinder.

TALLAPOOSA, Aug. 19.—E. L. Ferguson, official pathfinder for the All-Southern Transcontinental Highway, and party ended a triumphant tour through Georgia here Monday night. The party, consisting of Mr. Ferguson, Mrs. Ferguson and the Ferguson children, arrived on schedule time at 8:45 o'clock. The tourists left early Tuesday morning for Atlanta. They will be joined en route by President John Craft, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and State Highway Engineer Keller, who will accompany them through Alabama.

That Tallapoosa is keenly awake to the importance of the monster project to have a trail from Atlanta to San Francisco was clearly indicated Monday night when a score of Tallapoosa citizens held a conference with Mr. Ferguson at the Tallapoosa Hotel in regard to the formulation of plans for the development of a better route in this vicinity.

The Tallapoosa good roads boosters were very enthusiastic over the Sunday afternoon inauguration by the American, and pledged their hearty support.

All Towns Give Welcome.

Tallapoosa's warm reception, however, was only one of many given here and Atlanta. All along the 80-mile route the good roads boosters turned out to give the transcontinental a rousing send-off.

At Austell Mayor L. C. Upham and Editor Dale, of the Douglasville News, heading a delegation of Douglasville boosters, met the tourists and escorted them to Douglasville. Here good roads and highway boosters, headed by Mayor Upham and Editor Dale, acted as hosts.

Other Douglasville citizens who acted as official escorts were R. E. Edwards, J. M. Long, superintendent of the cotton mill; J. M. Banks, and Douglas County Commissioners T. F. Yon and A. C. Fresham.

According to Mr. Ferguson, the Douglas County authorities are preparing to spend several thousand dollars on the development of the old Tallapoosa road. The largest work will be the construction of a new steel bridge over Sweetwater Creek costing approximately $1,000.

The improvement in Douglas County, of the Tallapoosa highway which was traversed by the Ferguson party and which has been selected as the official route will make this one of the best roads in the entire State.

Pathfinder Ferguson declared Monday night that the route between Atlanta and Douglasville was excellent, and that the remaining sections were good and could be put in fine shape by the expenditure of moderate sums in each county.

Leaving Douglasville Monday afternoon, Mr. Ferguson and party made a long drive to Villa Rica, arriving there on schedule at 8:40. Temple, Ga., was reached shortly after 11 o'clock. At Villa Rica, Mr. Ferguson and Tallapoosa at 8:45. Members of the party reported a most delightful trip, each a single mile to make the journey.

A wire from Heflin, Ala., Tuesday morning told of a favorable reception there for the reception of Mr. Ferguson and party. From Heflin the tourists will proceed to Dan County, where the remaining good roads section will be held a greeting which will be held at Birmingham Thursday afternoon.

Q. How much is the most you ever know in a Georgian around time car to come in ahead of time—A. Three or four minutes.

Q. When was that?—A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't know whether Macintosh was in the car?—A. No.

Q. What time was that?—A. About 11 o'clock.

Q. Is it feasible for the White City car to be blocked by the English car?—A. Yes, because the English car is ahead of time.

Q. Was the witness excited?—A. Yes, Mr. McCoy, a jailer and farmer of Holton, Ga., was called. Dorey questioned him.

Q. Did you know Mary Phagan?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you see her on April 27?—A. Yes, I saw her in front of No. 1127.

Q. What time was it?—A. About 10 o'clock.

Q. How near 12 o'clock?—A. Well, I don't know.

Q. How long afterward was that?—A. I don't know.

Q. How long afterward was that?—A. I don't know.

Q. When was the first time you ever told this?—A. I think it was a week.

Q. Was that the first time you ever told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

St. Clair Boosters Guide Pathfinders.
MONTGOMERY, Aug. 19.—A party from St. Clair County, including John W. H. Johnson and J. H. Johnson and J. H. Johnson and J. H. Johnson, arrived today to join the Ferguson train. They will plot the route to St. Clair, where they go to Birmingham.

Blind Tiger Taken From Water Wagon.
FIFTON, Aug. 19.—When the man on the water wagon sets along the town that is the case of a blind tiger. Henry Wade, negro driver of the city sprinkling car, has been arrested for using the city sprinkling car as a blind tiger.

Blind Tiger Taken From Water Wagon.
FIFTON, Aug. 19.—When the man on the water wagon sets along the town that is the case of a blind tiger. Henry Wade, negro driver of the city sprinkling car, has been arrested for using the city sprinkling car as a blind tiger.

'I'm a Blacksmith,' Says Harding Davis
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A young newspaper reporter, paper and pencil in hand, started briskly among the crowd at Healy's Restaurant during the process of election of the dinner. He saw a man continually in the shadow of District Attorney Whitman. "Will you give me your name, please?" asked the young news gatherer.

"Davis" replied the other.

"May I have your first name?" questioned the youth.

"Richard Harding—Richard Harding Davis."

"What is your occupation?"

"Oh, I'm a blacksmith."

Two Killed at Camp Meeting Dice Games.
LEXINGTON, Aug. 19.—Two men were killed and several badly wounded in a general fight during camp games at Wichita camp meeting in Mason County, Kentucky. Benjamin Timberlake and Henry Queen are dead.

William Queen, William and Thomas Timberlake and Daniel Sanders are alleged to have taken part in the battle.

No action was taken on the "Purcellville" ordinance which was introduced last week for consideration. The ordinance looked for the ordinance by the Ordinance Committee, according to Acting Chairman Wood. The ordinance would prohibit the sale of dice in an "indirect or indirect" manner. The original ordinance prohibited the sale of dice in any place.

Laborer En Route for Fortune Dies at Sea.
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—While en route to Australia to get $1,000,000 which was left to him by his father, William Lunsford, a laborer, died at sea. According to a wireless telegram received here to-day, the father of Lunsford's wife died in Australia leaving a vast fortune, and Lunsford inherited the bulk of it. He was a penniless laborer and had difficulty in getting passage money to buy a ticket.

Blind Tiger Taken From Water Wagon.
FIFTON, Aug. 19.—When the man on the water wagon sets along the town that is the case of a blind tiger. Henry Wade, negro driver of the city sprinkling car, has been arrested for using the city sprinkling car as a blind tiger.

Lunatic Says He Is Pat Crowe, Kidnaped
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A man who says he is Pat Crowe, kidnaped by Charles C. Crowe, Jr., son of the wealthy Omaha packer, is held in the Washington Insane Asylum for the insane.

The patient told the police and physicians that he had come to Washington to forward his claim on a patent for an invention preventing the spreading of rats.

He said Secretary of State Bryan was his personal friend, and that through the Secretary he hoped to secure his papers from the patent office.

STARTANBURG, Aug. 19.—Sheriff White and one deputy fought off a mob of several hundred who attempted to enter Sparta County jail and lynch a negro, Frank Popper, J. C. Owensby and John Turner were wounded by the Sheriff and his deputy before they drove the mob from the jail.

The mob attempted to blow up the jail with dynamite, but failing, tried to batter down the door. It was then that the three men were wounded and the mob was forced to recognize the courage and determination of Sheriff White and his deputy.

Threats were made by the mob that they would secure photographs and destroy the entire building, but they did not return.

The negro had attacked a young white woman earlier in the day. He was later captured and handed in jail. The mob formed after nightfall and attacked the jail.

Surgeon General Studies Pellagra.
SAVANNAH, Aug. 19.—Dr. Robert Blue, Surgeon General of the Public Health Service of the United States, is in Savannah to inspect pellagra cases in the Marine Hospital and the Quarantine Station at the mouth of the Savannah River. The visit is a part of the tour of inspection throughout the South.

Dr. Blue is especially interested in pellagra and pellagra conditions in the South, and will stop on his way back to Washington at the book-worm camp of the Rockefeller Commission at Wilmington, N. C.

Fresh Appeal for Exhibit To Be Made.
Three hundred Atlanta manufacturers will gather at Hotel Ansony for a luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday for the purpose of making a fresh appeal for the Chamber of Commerce's exhibition which has been endeavoring to establish in its building.

While many manufacturers have signed for space in the exhibit, there still is a large amount which has not been taken. Unless this is arranged for immediately, the proposition is likely to fall through.

Enthusiasm has been displayed, however, and around the Chamber of Commerce's belief is that the exhibition is assured.

Fresh Appeal for Exhibit To Be Made.
Three hundred Atlanta manufacturers will gather at Hotel Ansony for a luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday for the purpose of making a fresh appeal for the Chamber of Commerce's exhibition which has been endeavoring to establish in its building.

While many manufacturers have signed for space in the exhibit, there still is a large amount which has not been taken. Unless this is arranged for immediately, the proposition is likely to fall through.

Enthusiasm has been displayed, however, and around the Chamber of Commerce's belief is that the exhibition is assured.

WITNESSES GIVE DALTON GOOD REPUTATION

Continued From Page 4.

that a girl saw Frank with another woman in the dark.

Judge Roan: "No."

Dorey: "Can I show his conduct—slapping girls as he passed through the factory?"

Judge Roan: "You can show a bad character by the woman or any other; but you can't show a specific act."

The jury was recalled.

Dorey Says Witness Misled Him.

Dorey questioned the witness.

Q. Do you know the character of Leo M. Frank?—A. No, I only know him two days.

Q. I mean what people said about him?—A. Yes.

Roose: "Who answered the question? That should be in."

Judge Roan: "Do I know his character, answer yes or no?"—A. No.

Dorey addressed the court.

"Your honor, I have been misled by the witness."

Roose: "I don't care anything about that."

Judge Roan: "She hasn't said anything to hurt you, and you can't be annoyed at though you were annoyed."

Dorey: "Miss Wood, do you remember a conversation with me—(Roose interrupted)."

Roose: "Now that is absolutely inadmissible."

Judge Roan: "I sustain you."

Dorey: "I sustain you."

J. H. Kendrick, a street car motorman, followed Miss Wood on the stand.

Q. How much is the most you ever know in a Georgian around time car to come in ahead of time—A. Three or four minutes.

Q. When was that?—A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't know whether Macintosh was in the car?—A. No.

Q. What time was that?—A. About 11 o'clock.

Q. Is it feasible for the White City car to be blocked by the English car?—A. Yes, because the English car is ahead of time.

Q. Was the witness excited?—A. Yes, Mr. McCoy, a jailer and farmer of Holton, Ga., was called. Dorey questioned him.

Q. Did you know Mary Phagan?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you see her on April 27?—A. Yes, I saw her in front of No. 1127.

Q. What time was it?—A. About 10 o'clock.

Q. How near 12 o'clock?—A. Well, I don't know.

Q. How long afterward was that?—A. I don't know.

Q. How long afterward was that?—A. I don't know.

Q. When was the first time you ever told this?—A. I think it was a week.

Q. Was that the first time you ever told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you know everything you told this?—A. Yes.

St. Clair Boosters Guide Pathfinders.
MONTGOMERY, Aug. 19.—A party from St. Clair County, including John W. H. Johnson and J. H. Johnson and J. H. Johnson, arrived today to join the Ferguson train. They will plot the route to St. Clair, where they go to Birmingham.

Blind Tiger Taken From Water Wagon.
FIFTON, Aug. 19.—When the man on the water wagon sets along the town that is the case of a blind tiger. Henry Wade, negro driver of the city sprinkling car, has been arrested for using the city sprinkling car as a blind tiger.

Chamberlin - Johnson - DuBose Company

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

A Great Waist Sale Starts Here At 8:30 in the Morning

A doubly fine Waist Sale because it is made up of waists from our own stocks and others that our buyer just captured in New York—in one instance we are clearing out stock in true Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. fashion, in the other we are passing on a fortunate purchase, this, also, in true Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose fashion.

Many kinds of waists are included, batistes, voiles, crepes, linens, crepe de chinos and wash silks, and in every instance the savings are more than half.

We doubt if the woman who "never has enough waists" ever had a better opportunity to supply herself—and the waist will be those she will choose for their charm and chic and—savings.

But here—

49c For $1.00 and $1.50 Waists	79c For $1.50 and $2.45 Waists	$1.19 For $2.50 to $4.00 Waists
---	---	---

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tucked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—in the regular way $1.00 and $1.50 never bought prettier—low neck, short sleeves, high neck, long sleeves.

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, rib embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be, others are those $1.50 and $2.45 values from our own stocks that are a bit mussed. All white, low neck, short sleeves, high neck, long sleeves.

One particularly attractive and new style is of white voile with a low round collar edged with net frilling, short sleeves, embroidered front, others of batiste and voiles with rochet buttons, a few show Dresden colorings—one hundred to choose from.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the

AMERICAN HOME FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY OF GREENVILLE, S. C.

Organized under the laws of the State of South Carolina, under the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance of the laws of said State. Principal Office: Wainwright Building, Greenville, S. C.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.
Whole amount of capital stock paid in cash	$200,000.00
II. ASSETS.
Total assets of the company, actual cash market value	$342,824.31
III. LIABILITIES.
Total liabilities (except capital stock)	$118,070.43
Surplus beyond all liabilities	$224,753.88
IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.
Total income actually received during the first six months	$8,783.21
V. EXPENDITURES DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1913.
Total expenditures during the first six months of the year	$8,305.18
In cash	$8,305.18
A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is of file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA—County of Greenville.

I, GEORGE H. HARRIS, County Clerk, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the semi-annual statement of the American Home Fire Insurance Company for the first six months of the year 1913, as sworn to and subscribed before me this 19th day of August 1913.

WILLIAM A. WALLACE, Notary Public.

Name of State Agent—L. W. DODD.

Name of Agents at Atlanta—WALLACE & REDDING.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
For the six months ending June 30, 1913, of the condition of the Industrial Life & Health Insurance Co.

Organized under the laws of the State of Georgia, made by the Governor of the State of Georgia, pursuant to the laws of said State. Principal Office—502-511 North Peach Street, Atlanta, Ga.

I. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1913.
Total income	$1,512,419.00
II. DISBURSEMENTS DURING FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1913.
Total disbursements	$351,590.00
III. INVESTED ASSETS.
Total net assets	$1,160,829.00
IV. LIABILITIES.
Total liabilities	$68,770.00
A copy of the act of incorporation, duly certified, is attached to this annual statement in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF GEORGIA—County of DeKalb.

I, J. N. McEachern, County Clerk, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the semi-annual statement of the Industrial Life and Health Insurance Company for the first six months of the year 1913, as sworn to and subscribed before me this 15th day of August 1913.

WILLIS DOBBS, Notary Public, Fulton County, Georgia.

$1.69 For $4.00 and $4.50 Waists

$2.45 For $5.00 to $8.75 Waists

$1.19 For $1.50 to $3.75 House Dresses

One hundred in all, made in many pretty ways. Voiles, batistes and French crepes, with low flat collars and lace collars, linen laces trim a number of these and crystal buttons and embroidery that looks much like hand work.

Fine choice here—sixty-five waists of white and striped crepe de chine, of China silk and wash silks, Irish lace collars are prominent, and little vest effects worked out in sheer laces and heavy platted double ruffles. They will go quickly.

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

SENSATIONAL BATTLE

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

VOL. XII. NO. 13.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY AUG. 14, 1913.

Copyright, 1913, by The Atlanta Georgian Co. 2 CENTS. PAT. NO. 1,600,000

NEGRESS' DENIAL OF AFFIDAVIT, DAMAGING TO THE ACCUSED, HIT

Here are the important developments Tuesday in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan:

Judge Roan rules out all testimony bearing on particular acts of immorality which the State has been endeavoring to prove against the defendant.

Will Turner, former pencil factory employe, testifies he entered the metal room shortly before noon one day near the middle of March and saw Frank seeking to engage Mary Phagan in conversation. He says he cannot recall any other person he (Turner) knew in the factory.

Solicitor Dorsey devotes large part of forenoon in an endeavor to bolster the character of G. B. Dalton, a State's witness, and tear down that of Miss Daisy Hopkins, who was called by the defense.

George Gordon, called by the Solicitor, swears that the sensational affidavit of Minola McKnight, negro cook at the Selig house, was signed in his absence and that Solicitor Dorsey refused to order her release, saying he 'would get in bed with the detectives' if he did.

Roy Craven and E. H. Pickett, hardware store employes, testified Minola McKnight, cook in the Selig home, made the affidavit revealing incriminating remarks and actions of Frank without reserve.

Miss Nellie Wood says she does not know Frank's general character after the Selig home has barred sensational questions which the Solicitor proposed to put. The Solicitor says the witness 'entrapped' him.

Leo Frank's mother and his wife left the courtroom Tuesday afternoon as Solicitor Dorsey was outlining to the court what he proposed to prove by Miss Nellie Wood, the witness on the stand.

The Solicitor made a determined effort to get into the record and before his jury testimony against Frank's character, but, as was the case at the morning session, he was overruled.

'We wish to show by the witness, your honor,' said Dorsey, 'the general character of this defendant, as well as to get before the jury a specific instance in which this young woman, who worked two days on the fourth floor of the National Pencil Factory figured.'

When Judge Roan overruled this line of questioning, the Solicitor declared he wanted to testify to an occasion when he saw Frank with a woman in the factory. The judge said the law plainly barred the questions.

Miss Wood was asked if she knew Frank's general character. She replied that she did not. Dorsey claimed he had been trapped, as his talk with the witness was exactly to the contrary. Charges Sideboard Was Moved.

Attorney Frank A. Hooper made the charge Tuesday afternoon that the mirror in the dining room at the Selig home had been moved for the express purpose of discrediting the testimony of Albert McKnight, who swore that he was in the Selig home the afternoon of April 20 and saw Frank hurriedly enter the dining room, go to the sideboard and then leave the house without stopping to eat.

McKnight was on the stand at the time, having been recalled to testify as to the place he was sitting when he saw Frank through the mirror. He designated the place and then corroborated Hooper's charge by his declaration that the mirror had been moved around several feet.

Roy Craven, one of the Beck & Gregg Hardware employes, who assisted the police in obtaining the sensational affidavit of Minola McKnight, negro cook at the Selig home, declared on the stand in the Frank trial Tuesday afternoon that the McKnight woman made her statements against Frank of her own accord and without reserve, once she had been persuaded it was best to tell what the State says is the whole truth.

Craven said the McKnight woman told him that she had heard conversations at the Selig home Sunday morning following the murder of Mary Phagan, indicating that Frank had rested poorly and had come home interested, making his wife sleep on the floor. He had asked his wife for a revolver to shoot himself, the McKnight woman said, according to Craven. Frank also was reported to have remarked that he 'didn't know why he would murder.'

Health Board President Testifies.

E. H. Pickett, a fellow employe of Craven's, corroborated the latter's story and added that the McKnight woman had admitted getting more money after the murder than she had before. Both Pickett and Craven were sharply questioned by Attorney

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

FINAL

LATEST NEWS

BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 10.—The wife of Congressman D. V. Brown, Mrs. D. V. Brown, died here today at 10 o'clock. She was 60 years of age. She was born in Kentucky and was the widow of the late D. V. Brown, who was a member of the Georgia House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Senate today by a vote of 54 yeas to 41 nays passed the bill providing for the amendment to the sugar schedule of the tariff bill proposed a duty of 1 cent a pound. Senators Ransdell, Aldrich, McPherson, and McMillan voted with the Republicans in favor of the amendment.

YOUNGWOOD, OHIO, Aug. 10.—Ed Walsh, the big lawyer of the White Sox, was in Youngwood today in a week and will be in good form for next season, according to baseball experts.

RACING RESULTS

AT WINSTON.
FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Panama (L. H. Edwards), 5.9; out. West (G. H. Vandenberg), 6.8; even. Second, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out. Third, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out. Fourth, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out.

SECOND RACE—Five and a half furlongs. Panama (L. H. Edwards), 6.4; out. West (G. H. Vandenberg), 6.8; even. Second, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out. Third, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out. Fourth, Time 1:14. Great Britain (J. L. King), 7.1; out.

FINANCIAL

The Fulton County tax digest, just completed by County Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead, was made public Tuesday, and it shows the tremendous increase in taxables of $1,033,940.40. The total returns for the fiscal year amounted to $1,033,940.40, as compared with $111,376,035 for 1912.

The largest increase in any one item was that of city real estate, which showed an increase of $1,033,940.40 over $1,033,940.40. The returns from city real estate this year amounted to $1,033,940.40, as compared with $1,033,940.40 in 1912. The returns from bank shares were not so noticeable and in many instances a decided decrease was noted.

Police tax returns amounted to $11,376,035, as compared with $11,376,035 for last year. The returns from bank shares were $1,033,940.40, as compared with $1,033,940.40 in 1912. The returns from bank shares were $1,033,940.40, as compared with $1,033,940.40 in 1912.

AT JACKSONVILLE.
CHARLESTON
 000 000 110 - 2 3 1
JACKSONVILLE
 020 000 01X - 3 9 3

THE WEATHER.
 Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

DEFERRED PASSPORTS OF MEXICAN AMERICAN WAR HERO

American Charge Wires State Department that He Has Not Been Given Passports.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passports by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points, and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the Lind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Olmhek.

CRACKERS WIN AGAIN

BIRMINGHAM	1 0 0 1 0 0 0 - 4
ATLANTA	0 0 0 1 0 0 4 - 7
CRACKERS	0 0 0 1 0 0 4 - 7
Agler, 1b	1 3 1 0 0 0
Lang, lf	1 0 0 0 0
Welch, cf	1 0 0 0 0
Smith, 2b	1 1 1 0 0
Biland, ss	1 0 0 0 0
Holland, 3b	1 1 0 0 0
Calve, r	0 0 0 0 0
Chapman, c	1 3 1 0 0
Totals	7 11 27 11 4

SUMMARY.
 Home Run—Smith. Bases on Balls—Off Dent 4, off Foxen 3. Struck Out—Foxen. Stolen Base—Messenger.

EIGHT INNINGS—Kinsley singled to right, McBride fled to Long. Mayor hit into a double, Smith to Biland to Agler. One hit. NO RUNS.
 Cracker fanned. Chapman singled to center. Dent popped to Marcan. Agler fanned. ONE HIT. NO RUNS.
NINTH INNINGS—McGivray hit to Smith. Elam fled to base. Foxen fanned. Marcan singled to center. Messenger popped to Brand. TWO HITS. NO RUNS.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

AT CHATTANOOGA	000 002 1 - 3-9 1
CHATTANOOGA	000 004 X - 4-5 0
NASHVILLE	000 11 -
CHATTANOOGA	000 01 -

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AT CHICAGO	000 000 100 - 1-6 0
BOSTON	200 001 20X - 5-11 3
PHILADELPHIA	111 003 0 -
DETROIT	003 000 0 -
AT CLEVELAND	000 010 000 -
CLEVELAND	100 000 000 -

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AT BOSTON	000 011 011 - 4-8 4
GIOINNATI	100 001 000 - 2-5 1
BOSTON	000 100 100 - 2-7 0
GIOINNATI	000 000 000 - 0-1 0
AT PITTSBURGH	330 110 000 - 8-14 2
NEW YORK	000 210 000 - 3-9 3
AT BROOKLYN	010 103 000 - 5-9 2
ST. LOUIS	000 000 020 - 2-7 1
BROOKLYN	000 000 000 - 0-0 0
AT PHILADELPHIA	000 210 000 - 3-7 0
PHILADELPHIA	101 000 001 - 2-8 3

Customs Man Noses Out Big Cheese Plot

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Nicola Romaldi, American, went to the Custom House to explain why he tried to smuggle two trunks filled with Italian cheese into this country. His mission failed and the cheese was sent to public sale.

When the smuggler arrived from Europe he declared he had nothing to do with the cheese. However, Romaldi has an acute sense of smell and suggested opening the trunks.

Kentuckians Fight Dual; One Is Dead

HENDERSON, KY., Aug. 13.—Coleman Day today was believed to be dying from a bullet wound in the chest. The wound was inflicted by William Steinbach, who was shot in the chest as the result of a revolver duel. The two men quarreled and arranged a peaceful meeting to settle their difficulties. As soon as the first man drew the revolver and began firing

Continued on page 2, column 3.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.
 First game, scores: 100 000 000 - 1-0 0 0
 Second game, scores: 100 000 000 - 1-0 0 0
 Third game, scores: 100 000 000 - 1-0 0 0
 Fourth game, scores: 100 000 000 - 1-0 0 0
 Fifth game, scores: 100 000 000 - 1-0 0 0

LEO FRANK SKETCHED AS HE TOLD HIS OWN STORY TO JURY

During the greater part of his story Frank was as calm and statistical as an accountant discussing an audit.

In telling of his dealings with the police and Chief Detectives Lanford, Frank waxed sarcastic in a quiet yet bitter way. But he never let loose his emotion or lost his poise.

At times Frank would lose his air of complete repression and his face for a moment would take on an aspect of deep feeling. He would, however, quickly resume his normal expression of stoicism.

NEGRO M'KNIGHT SAYS SIDEBORD IN HOME OF SELIGS HAS BEEN MOVED

Continued from Page 1.

may Rosser, who sought to show that Minola signed the statement to obtain her freedom from jail.

Dr. B. C. Benedict, president of the State Board of Health, was called at the opening of the afternoon to show that charges of scientific dishonesty against Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary of the board, never were found to be well founded. Dr. W. E. Westmoreland asserted on the stand that Dr. Harris had been found guilty of the charges.

By far the most damaging testimony brought out against Frank was that of Will Turner, who testified that he had entered the metal room and come upon Frank seeking to press his attention upon the Phagan girl only a few weeks before the crime.

When Turner was put under the questioning of Luther Rosser's cross-examination, the weight of his testimony suffered considerably. Turner admitted he had worked only a brief time, was unable to describe the Mary Phagan and was unable to tell the name of another girl in the effort room.

Turner was allowed to tell his story. That Rosser refused to make any step toward the liberation of Minola McKnight, look at the Selig home, who was imprisoned until she made her sensational affidavit against Frank on the ground that he had raped her.

He said that he had told Rosser Dorsey that the negro woman was being held illegally, but that the Selig had replied that it was necessary sometimes to do things of this sort in order to get the information which was held of going to the police station and finding Minola crying and hysterical in her cell.

Rosser admitted he did not know whether there were other girls in the effort room at the time or not. He did not know the names of the two girls he said, who entered the room while Frank was trying to talk to Mary Phagan. The client of his description of Mary Phagan was that she had light hair and blue eyes.

had taken up the rebuttal, any evidence not directly and at first hand bearing upon the specific case charged against the factory superintendent.

The ruling was a sweeping victory for the defense. It gave Frank's case, which had been aided materially the day before by the defendant's own statement, an added strength and heightened the prospects in Frank's favor.

Sollitor Dorsey tried first to cross-examine the witness, as to conversations she was supposed to have had in regard to incidents at the pencil plant in which she and a man undesignated except as her "informant" were mentioned in the indictment. The conversation was about a "Toronto the Hopkins woman denied that she ever had made visits to the factory for improper purposes, that she had had the conversations referred to by the Sollitor.

She was asked to describe the wall when he tried to draw testimony against the moral character of Frank from his own witness. From W. B. Merck and J. F. Floyd the Sollitor had expected to obtain a recital of the stories of happenings which they had heard from him.

Merck, however, had yesterday disappeared from the courtroom when his name was called, and Floyd was not permitted to go into the details of the testimony the Sollitor had hoped to bring out.

The Sollitor therefore continued his efforts to bolster up the character of U. L. Dalton, the State's witness, and attacking that of Daisy Hopkins. He called a number of witnesses, one of them a cousin of the Hopkins, who swore that he had character for truth and veracity, was not and that he would believe her on oath.

Character Is Good. Other witnesses testified that Dalton's character was good. They were asked by Attorney Rosser if they were acquainted with his court and chain-gang records. They replied, for the most part, that they were not.

The known, well known by Frank from the past, had been said for the testimony. Daisy Hopkins then was called and questioned, after which the State rested its case.

While waiting for a witness for Rosser to cross-examine, the jury was taken from the clock in the factory. Frank had made her that he had written words as an identification of the girl who had been taken from the factory. The Sollitor declared that he thought the identification had made the identification.

to show by Merck that this woman did not make an engagement with him that afternoon.

"I understand," replied Rosser, "that when an argument of this kind is to be made by the jury to be true."

The jury retired, and after a hurried conference, Frank's wife and another also left the courtroom at the request of Attorney Arnold.

The witness interrupted. "It was summer time," she said. "She has denied," said Dorsey, "in the indictment of Dalton that she went to the pencil factory for any improper purpose."

Merck in an affidavit, said Dorsey said for the jury to believe that the woman had her independent or that she named any names. I mean to let the jury draw its own conclusions.

I knew when your honor refused to rule out the charges of Conley and Dalton," said Arnold, taking up the argument. "They were open and clear for new issues that would be found to get into the case."

Do you know Dr. R. S. Pound of Redan? Do you know Mr. Smith, superintendent of the Richmond Mill Co. factory? Do you know Mr. Mitchell street?

Do you know Mr. Peaschtre Street? Do you know Mr. Smith, superintendent of the Richmond Mill Co. factory? Do you know Mr. Mitchell street?

Do you know Mr. Peaschtre Street? Do you know Mr. Smith, superintendent of the Richmond Mill Co. factory? Do you know Mr. Mitchell street?

Do you know Mr. Peaschtre Street? Do you know Mr. Smith, superintendent of the Richmond Mill Co. factory? Do you know Mr. Mitchell street?

eighteen or twenty years ago Dalton's character was bad, but that now it was better and that he had heard nothing bad about him recently.

Q. Do you remember a machinist named Chaskey Lee? A. Yes, he was working at the National Pencil Factory about October, 1912. A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember a machinist named Chaskey Lee? A. Yes, he was working there. Q. Where was he working? A. On a metal machine. I hurt the forefinger of my left hand.

Q. How were you hurt? A. This fellow Lee had put the metal on the machine. I dropped it. I picked it up and in putting it back I smashed my finger.

Q. What did you do then? A. There was some cotton waste there. I put around my hand. Q. Did any blood drop on the floor? A. A few drops.

Q. Did any blood drop near the ladies' dressing room? A. None. Q. How long after the accident did you work? A. I quit then.

Q. What does the fellow Lee do besides working at his trade? A. I don't know. Q. What did you do then? A. I went to the office to get it dressed, then went to the Atlanta Hospital.

Q. How long were the witness on cross-examination? A. I don't know. Q. How long were you hurt? A. Not very bad.

Q. You did not notice whether any blood was on the floor or not? A. Yes, none of it dropped except at the machine where I was working.

Q. Was your finger outside of the cotton yarn until you got to the office? A. No. Q. Was the witness Dorsey, followed by the witness Merck, was called, and the witness Rosser was called, but failed to ask any questions. The witness Phagan, the 15-year-old son of E. M. Dalton, was called.

CLEVELAND

THE SCENIC WAY WITH DINING CARS

ION

INSTEAD OF LEMONADE
Bills Hester said Pasadena is a better place than any other from Sumner west. Interviewing and reporting.

Funeral Directors and Flowers
FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Atlanta Divis Company
455 EAST FAIR STREET.

FRANK'S STATEMENTS BEST PLEA PRESENTED IN HIS DEFENSE SO FAR

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

So far, unquestionably, to my way of thinking, Leo Frank himself has made the best and most appealing plea in behalf of Leo Frank.

His statement in the recital thereof was as clear open as daylight, as dispassionate and as convincing as any statement I ever heard from the witness stand, and I have heard hundreds.

Deciders of the merits—or, at least, sides from that—the defendant acquitted himself with credit, and that credit may be said to have sprung and grown in the frankest fairness to all parties concerned.

Of course, had Frank been nervous, hesitating, "flustered" or seeming in any wise disconcerted, there would be those, perhaps, who would have seen in that great evidence of his guilt—and by the same token, in that he was calm, poised, self-possessed, even smiling at intervals, there will be those who see in that evidence of a monstrous coldness and unfeeling design.

The vast majority of those who heard that remarkable statement, however, must have been impressed by, at least, the apparent sincerity of it and the seeming inclination in the defendant to hold his peace.

In his recital the statement of Leo Frank was wonderful—in its writeness, in its freedom from the least personal, in its simple and convincing statement of his life.

It impressed me, too, as being a man who had known me for years, as I have known me in my life.

I have come to know him as the prisoner sitting over there between the two women in the courtroom, the slight, speckled party, a seat or two beyond Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold.

I have come to know him, in my way of knowing persons charged with grave crimes, not by the knowledge of the facts, but by the constant observation of him under fire.

Repression Makes the Story. All that was dramatic in Frank's statement was repressed—the dramatic touch was there, to be sure, but the drama and the use of the accompanying stage tricks were not.

Frank should undertake to sell me a gross of pencils, I should expect him to tell me the truth about the pencils, and nothing but the truth—but I should expect him never to sell me the pencils at a profit.

His statement of Monday seemed to me a real knock at the door of the jury, and I felt that Frank was undertaking to tell the truth and nothing but the truth of the Mary Phagan murder.

That, to the best and the worst that I can say of Leo Frank's statement, as it appeared to me, was, in a strange way, involving a man's gross of pencils, he would be lacking all the great elements that entered into the statement of Monday—and yet, at that, neither suited matter in its final analysis, anything more or less than something about which the simple truth should be told.

Frank looked the jury fairly and squarely in the eye when he was making his statement—and not once did he hesitate or falter in stating his plea.

Contract the statement of the defendant with the statement of the negro—the star witness summoned against him.

Now, Monday was Frank's day in court, and it is square and right that Frank's showing should be criticized freely and frankly—it is right that his statement should be praised, if it seemed to deserve praise, just as it should be condemned, if it seemed to merit that melancholy fate.

It remains to be seen if it was most impressively delivered, and carried with it every emphasis of apparent truth and straightforwardness.

It is my opinion now that the State has in Frank's statement the hardest nut to get away from it that has been tendered to it.

It contradicts the State at points that the defense has been able to verify abundantly with facts.

It makes more necessary than ever before the complete success of the State's effort to break down Frank's good name.

For this I think it safe to predict that unless the State DOES demoralize Frank utterly, the wonderful statement made on Monday more than likely will serve in connection with the other things set up to cast him of the charge of murdering Mary Phagan.

It matters not, so far as this article is concerned, however, whether the statement ought to clear him or not, unless the State can batter it down and collapse it entirely.

The defendant touched upon every phase of the case against him—the happiness of his home, his movements on the morning of the crime, and the day before, and the day after, his family financial resources, his disinclination to talk to Conley, although he did try to do so, the happiness of his home, his movements on the morning of the crime, and the day before, and the day after, his family financial resources, his disinclination to talk to Conley, although he did try to do so.

There was not a point he failed to touch upon now and then with the force of the accent.

In there a gap that Frank might not have invited investigation of.

It is rather hard to locate any such gaps of points, if they are there, and yet they may be there. That is for the State yet to demonstrate.

The State had the full right of rebuttal, as applied to Frank's statement, that it enjoys in respect of other evidence. There may be weak points in his story—just as there were weak points in Conley's.

For one thing, Conley made, for sworn statements, all contradictory before he got once finally landed, and he stood on the stand that had led him there and again.

On the other hand, Frank's statement is the most remarkably clear and sequenced utterance as to the details of his story yet falling from the lips of a defendant in this country.

It must stand in its entirety or fall in its entirety.

When the State gets through with it, the statement may be shot to pieces and rendered utterly ineffective.

In the matter of his character, Frank said little. He entered simple essentials to some few things which said against him.

MOTHER OF LEO FRANK

Mrs. Rea Frank.

She told of meeting the Warrington girl and informing her that she was compelled to leave Sacramento on business and that he intended going to Los Angeles.

Wife at Last Breaks Down, Overcome by Frank's Story

After having bravely every trying courtroom ordeal and faced every horrible charge hurled at her husband with a stoicism almost as unflinching and imperturbable as Mrs. Leo Frank gave away completely to her emotions and sobbed uncontrollably as Frank said the last words of his wonderful and most impressive address to the jury Monday.

It was the final dramatic touch to a situation that had led a courtroom full of spectators in an incredible thrall through four long hours of the afternoon.

The spell that had been cast over the room by the quiet but earnest words of the slight young figure, superintendent, was broken by the tones of the deputies, who shouted the moment Frank rose to leave the witness chair.

"Keep your seats, gentlemen, while the jury passes," called out to Frank Reuben to wife.

In the confusion that followed some did not notice that Frank rushed right to the side of his wife, who had thrown her head in her arms and was shaking with piteous sobs as she moaned his name again and again.

The woman who had stood herself against the accusations and unimpaired of the Solicitor General during the three long weeks of the trial, collapsed when her husband himself took the stand to declare his innocence.

For many minutes after the packed courtroom had fallen before a little group of persons remained in front of the judge's bench. Mrs. Frank, her mother, were weeping joyfully, overpowered by the appeal that Frank had made.

For many minutes after the packed courtroom had fallen before a little group of persons remained in front of the judge's bench. Mrs. Frank, her mother, were weeping joyfully, overpowered by the appeal that Frank had made.

For many minutes after the packed courtroom had fallen before a little group of persons remained in front of the judge's bench. Mrs. Frank, her mother, were weeping joyfully, overpowered by the appeal that Frank had made.

DOGS ON STAND, TENDS TO TRIP WITH GIRL

Declares That Marsha Warrington Would Not Let Him Leave City Without Her.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Mauri Diggs, defendant in the white slavery case, declared today that he and Marsha Warrington, his wife, had been married for several months.

Diggs was attired in a fashionable blue serge suit and wore a black tie. As he answered questions slowly, he glanced down at his clothes, and sometimes let his eyes rest for a few seconds on his recently-manufactured nails.

He told of meeting the Warrington girl and informing her that she was compelled to leave Sacramento on business and that he intended going to Los Angeles.

"I told her, too," he said, "that I wanted to get away before there was a scandal and things got embarrassing for me. I thought it would be best for me to go away. She said she didn't want me to go, but she said she would go with me if I would take care of her future to think of and also my family."

She cried a little bit and said she must not go. I said to her, 'What if I thought we had better break off our relations. I left her that evening, and she went home. She thought I was going away for two weeks, and she was surprised the next day when she rang up and found that I was in Los Angeles. I told her that I had stayed to arrange things in my office.'"

Miss Warrington had testified last week that she did not let Diggs see her when he was in Sacramento.

"He said that he had been in Sacramento and had warned him that his escapades had attracted the attention of the grand jury," she said.

"He said the theatrical man warned him that if he continued his present habit he would be compelled to move out of the city, and that he would be theatrical man controlled."

Questioned about an automobile which he had bought, she said she had bought it for him, and that she had paid for it out of her own money.

Asked about the fact that she had seen Diggs in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat, she said she had seen him in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat.

Asked about the fact that she had seen Diggs in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat, she said she had seen him in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat.

Asked about the fact that she had seen Diggs in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat, she said she had seen him in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat.

Asked about the fact that she had seen Diggs in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat, she said she had seen him in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat.

Asked about the fact that she had seen Diggs in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat, she said she had seen him in the front seat of the machine and in the back seat.

AMERICA'S CHAMPION HUSBAND, NAT GOODWIN

has come to the rescue of downtrodden men who dare not speak their minds, and reveals all the joys and heartaches of matrimony in "WHAT I THINK OF MY FIVE WIVES"

NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN with the countless other features which have made The American the leading newspaper of the South, as well as a positive joy to the readers of Dixie, Lady Duff Gordon, who, as Lucille of London, is equally famous, will entertain her followers with a description of MARRIAGE MARKET GOWNS with which fat-seeing mothers enhance the charms of their debutante daughters. And coming down to the doings of fashionable Atlanta you will find that

POLLY PEACHTREE was among those present at all the functions of the inner circle, and will tell about them in her usual sprightly style. Moreover, baseball fans, as well as those who never see a game, will find a fascinating story in

THE PLOT FOR THE PENNANT by Hugh S. Fullerton, which begins in this issue. So, why worry about your Sunday reading when you know that in addition to these great features and a dozen others, you can have all the news of the whole universe—sports, financial, foreign, political and local—delivered at your front door for 5 cents? Better clinch the bargain at once, and order from your dealer or by phoning Main 100.

JAMES L. DICKEY, Jr., & CO. INSURANCE

317 Equitable Building, Atlanta, Ga. Organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, made by the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance of the laws of said State. Principal Office—122 Broadway, N. Y. CAPITAL STOCK $1,000,000.00 Total assets of the company, including cash and market value of securities $2,500,000.00

Organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, made by the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance of the laws of said State. Principal Office—122 Broadway, N. Y. CAPITAL STOCK $1,000,000.00 Total assets of the company, including cash and market value of securities $2,500,000.00

Suffragettes Want Baby Booth at Fairs

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Among the things that the suffragettes, headed by Harriet Stanton Blotch, want in a park in New York is a baby booth.

Blotch, who is a member of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, said that she had a plan for a baby booth at the park.

Moonshiner Slays Man in Pistol Duel

LEXINGTON, Aug. 13.—In a pistol duel at Dunwoody, Ky., between John Carter, a moonshiner, and John G. Carter, a moonshiner, the latter was killed.

Gives Up Bad Checks, Admitting Forgery

MOBILE, Aug. 13.—When arrested on the charge of passing forged checks last night in a Royal street restaurant and before Chief of Police F. W. Crenshaw, A. B. Bell, a bookkeeper, admitted forgery.

Bulgar Plot to Slay All Turks Reported

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 13.—Evidence of a conspiracy of Bulgarians to rise up in Adrianople and massacre all the Turks has been discovered.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 13.—Evidence of a conspiracy of Bulgarians to rise up in Adrianople and massacre all the Turks has been discovered.

PATFINDER GIVEN BIG WELCOME ALL ALONG ROUTE TO BIRMINGHAM

By HUGH GRANT

(Sunday Atlanta Georgian) TALIAPOOSA, Aug. 19.—L. Ferguson, official "patfinder" for the All-Southern Transcontinental Highway, and party ended a triumphant tour through Georgia here Monday night.

The party, consisting of Mr. Ferguson, Mrs. Ferguson and the Ferguson children, arrived on schedule time at 11:45 o'clock. The tour left early Tuesday morning for Aniston. They will be joined en route by President John Craft of the Alabama Good Roads Association, and State Highway Engineer Keller, who will accompany them through Alabama.

That Tallapoosa is keenly aware to the importance of the motorist passport to these trails from Atlanta to San Francisco was clearly indicated Monday night when a score of Tallapoosans, including Mayor C. E. Pearce, L. E. Chandler, editor of the Tallapoosa Journal, and other prominent citizens held a conference with Mr. Ferguson at the Tallapoosa Hotel in regard to the formulation of plans for the development of better roads in this vicinity.

The Tallapoosa good roads boosters were very enthusiastic over the campaign inaugurated by the Georgia American, and pledged their hearty support. All Towns Giv. Welcome. Tallapoosa's warm reception, however, was only one of many between here and Atlanta. All along the route the good roads boosters turned out to give the transcontinental a rousing send-off.

At Austell Mayor L. C. Upshaw and Editor Duke of the Douglassville Star, heading a delegation of Douglassville boosters, met the tourists and escorted them to Douglassville. Here good roads and highway boosters held a banquet and a typical oldtime Georgian dinner was served at the Douglassville Hotel, with Mayor Upshaw and Mr. Duke acting as hosts.

Other Tallapoosans who act-

Duchess Who Rules Luxembourg to Wed

special cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LUXEMBOURG, Aug. 19.—The betrothal of Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, aged 19, ruler of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, to Prince Henry of Savoy, was announced today. Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide deposed the throne on her eighteenth birthday, from which time German and French philia have been directed at her, for both her neighbors have long looked at the little Grand Duchess with covetous eyes.

Prelate Against Sex Equality Idea

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18.—I do not believe the Creator intended the position of woman in the world should be the same as that of man," Archbishop Sebastian D. Messner of the Milwaukee diocese, told the Catholic Press Association, in speaking against sex equality. "However," he added, "I would not care to come out with a positive statement that legislation for women's suffrage is against the rules of the church. The church has not taken any definite stand, and until it does each individual has a right to think and act as he sees fit."

He Feared His 'Girl' More Than Gallows

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Robert Cade, who surrendered to the police because he feared the scorn of his sweetheart more than the possibility of the gallows was released today. He was suspected of the murder of Dennis Hollis, a young man whose sisters pointed to his skull as evidence of the crime. He was being sought over the country.

My girl would have nothing to do with me when I learned that I was under suspicion. I thought I was in a bad way, but she risked my life for my respect."

Auto Searchlights Hit X-Ray Gowns

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—If an automobile in spartan mood feels inclined to shoot its searchlight through the X-ray skirts worn by passing women, he may do so with impunity anywhere in Judge Gregory's Yorkville district. "It is the skirts and not the lights," declares the judge, "that need reforming."

Envoy Page Called An Enemy to Labor

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Walter H. Page, Ambassador to Great Britain, was denounced as an enemy to the United States in England at a meeting of the Central Federation of Trades Unions and the British League of Labor, because of his alleged emphy in the London union and the British League of Labor, because of his alleged emphy in the London union and the British League of Labor, because of his alleged emphy in the London union and the British League of Labor.

Blind Tiger Taken From Water Wagon

TITTON, Aug. 19.—When the man on the water wagon sees the water wagon up against it to keep in line with prohibition.

Henry Wade, negro driver of the City sprinkling cart, has been arrested by Chief of Police "Thrasher" for carrying off a young girl as a blind tiger.

Table with financial data for American Home Fire Insurance Company of Greenville, S.C. Includes columns for Semi-Annual Statement and Income during the first six months of 1913.

JUDGE GOODBE'S SLAYER PLANS COURT FIGHT

Attorneys for Woman Make Statement—Slain Man Buried at Waynesboro, Ga.

MILLEN, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Edna Goodbe, divorced wife of Judge W. S. Goodbe, who shot and killed her former husband and seriously wounded his second wife, has employed Attorney C. D. Dakle and J. A. Thum to defend her. The following statement has been issued by her:

My husband was so seriously wounded by the divorced wife, in a serious condition, physicians not giving much hope of her recovery.

Judge Goodbe Is Buried at Waynesboro

WAYNESBORO, Aug. 19.—Funeral services over the remains of Judge Walter S. Goodbe, who was shot to death by his divorced wife in Milen yesterday morning, were held here today at 11 o'clock, with Masonic ceremonies.

SUMMER PLEASURES SUGGEST CUTICURA SOAP

And Cuticura Ointment. These gentle emollients do much to soothe tender skins and dispel summer rashes, eczemas, prickly heat, itching, chafing, sunburn, bites and stings. For everyday use in promoting and maintaining skin and hair health among infants and children, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are most valuable.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

'I'm a Blacksmith,' Says Harding Davis

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A young newspaper reporter, eager and keen in hand, darted briskly among the crowd at Healy's Restaurant during the process of selecting the dinner. He saw a man continually in the shadow of District Attorney Whitman.

Two Killed at Camp Meeting Disc Games

LEXINGTON, Aug. 18.—Two men were killed and several badly wounded in a general fight during camp games at Wholia camp meeting in Mason County, Kentucky, Benjamin Timberlake and Henry Green are dead.

Laborer En Route for Fortune Dies at Sea

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—While en route to Australia to get $200,000 which was left to him by his father, a laborer, William Linnell, died at sea.

Newport Will See Relative of Czar

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch, brother-in-law of the Czar, who is here, will be the guest of Barclay Warrenton and later will go to Newport.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company A Great Waist Sale Starts Here At 8:30 in the Morning

A doubly fine Waist Sale because it is made up of waists from our own stocks and other that our buyer just captured in New York—in one instance we are clearing out stock in true Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. fashion; in the other we are passing on a fortunate purchase, this, also, in true Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose fashion.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

KELLY'S PUT ON ALDERMANIC BODY

Second Ward Commissioner Gets McClelland's Place. Pure Vaudeville Law Pends.

C. H. Kelly, water commissioner from the Second Ward, has been chosen to fill the vacancy on the Aldermanic Board from the Second Ward, occasioned by the resignation of Alderman J. E. McClelland.

Fresh Appeal for Exhibit to Be Made

Three hundred Atlanta manufacturers will gather at Hotel Ansley for a luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday. They will discuss the manufacturer's exposition which the Chamber of Commerce had been endeavoring to establish in its building.

3 WOUNDED WHEN MOB STORMS JAIL

Spartanburg Sheriff and Deputy Rout Would-Be Lynchers of Negro Assailant.

The mob attempted to blow up the jail with dynamite, but failing, tried to batter down the doors. It was then the three men were wounded and the mob was forced to recognize the courage and determination of Sheriff White and his deputy.

Surgeon General Studies Pellagra

SAVANNAH, Aug. 19.—Dr. Robert H. Hare, Surgeon General of the Public Health Service of the United States, is in Savannah to inspect pellagra cases in the Marine Hospital and Quarantine Station at the mouth of the Savannah River.

While many manufacturers have pledged for space in the exhibit, there still is a large amount which has not been taken. Unless this is arranged immediately, the proposition is likely to fall through.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

3 WOUNDED WHEN MOB STORMS JAIL

Spartanburg Sheriff and Deputy Rout Would-Be Lynchers of Negro Assailant.

The mob attempted to blow up the jail with dynamite, but failing, tried to batter down the doors. It was then the three men were wounded and the mob was forced to recognize the courage and determination of Sheriff White and his deputy.

Surgeon General Studies Pellagra

SAVANNAH, Aug. 19.—Dr. Robert H. Hare, Surgeon General of the Public Health Service of the United States, is in Savannah to inspect pellagra cases in the Marine Hospital and Quarantine Station at the mouth of the Savannah River.

Fresh Appeal for Exhibit to Be Made

Three hundred Atlanta manufacturers will gather at Hotel Ansley for a luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday. They will discuss the manufacturer's exposition which the Chamber of Commerce had been endeavoring to establish in its building.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

White linen waists in plain tailored styles, tuoked and plaited; also lingerie waists trimmed with neatly patterned embroideries and with laces—$1.69

Some of these are just out of their boxes and the laces, the embroideries, batistes, voiles and styles are as fresh as can be. Others are those $1.50 and $2.45 waists from our own stocks that are a hit.

SPALDING'S ATHLETIC STORE SPALDING'S OFFICIAL FOOT BALL GUIDE

WITNESSES GIVE DALTON GOOD REPUTATION

Continued From Page 4. That a girl saw Frank with another woman in the dark. Judge Roan: "No." Dorsey: "Can I show his conduct-stamping girls as he passed through the factory?" Judge Roan: "You can show a bad character by this woman, but not the other; but you can't show a specific act. The jury was recalled. Dorsey Says Witness Misled Him. Dorsey questioned the witness. Q. Do you know the character of Leo M. Frank-A. No, I only know him two days. Q. I mean what people said about him; say yes or no. Rosser: She has answered the question that should end it. Judge Roan: Do you know his character; answer yes or no-A. No. Dorsey addressed the court with reference to the witness. Rosser: I don't care anything about that. Judge Roan: She hasn't said anything to hurt you, and you can't proceed as though you were entrapped. Dorsey: Miss Wood, do you remember a conversation with me (Rosser interrupted). Rosser: Now that is absolutely in-

Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

USE LAWYERS AT DEFENSE Hitt's Cook's Denial of Affidavit Against Frank

IN CANADA; TO FIGHT

Admits His Identity and Asks 'Now, What Are You Going to Do About It?'

SHERBROOK, Que., Aug. 18.—Harry Thaw, the ex-convict from Mattawan asylum Sunday and was arrested in Cookcook to-day, was transferred to the Sherbrooke jail this afternoon.

Thaw has retained W. L. Shurtleff, one of the best known lawyers in Eastern Canada and one of the most sensational international legal fighters in Canadian history is expected.

The United States government will be represented by Hever Verret, Jr. C. Thaw may be deported as a maniac upon request of the New York authorities, according to the opinion of Canadian officials.

No sooner was Thaw brought here than he began to realize the seriousness of his predicament, and he began to bombard various sections of the United States with messages. His first family at Sherbrooke, he is understood that Mrs. Mary Thaw, the aged mother of the fugitive, will come here.

Thaw will not discuss his movements since he got away from the New York institution Sunday morning, except to say that he boarded a train east of Boston. He said he was thinking for the coast and planned to sail for Europe.

Thaw was accompanied here by two men heavily built and the other slight and both smooth shaven. Recognized on Train. Deputy Sheriff Burdette, Secretary of Colchester, recognized Thaw on a train bound for Canada. Kelsey got off at Colchester, got in an automobile and after a chase of almost 20 miles overtook Thaw with two companions in Cookcook. They had left the train at Beecher Falls and driven across the border into Canada.

Kelsey notified the Cookcook police and on their trail. Thaw, who arrived, made no resistance and was held in the jail at Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Kelsey was on his way home to Colchester after a trip South and was reading a paper when a stranger came from a few seats down the aisle in the smoking car and asked for a match. The Deputy Sheriff was reading the story of Thaw's escape in the paper and a picture of Thaw started up from the paper. He looked at the stranger and saw that the likeness at once recognized the stranger.

LATEST NEWS

BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 18.—The wife of Congressman D. V. Brown, today at Bowling Green, Ky., for a second time, was killed by a train.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Senate today by a vote of 38 to 20, defeated the Brister amendment to the sugar schedule of the tariff bill proposing a duty of 2 cents a pound on sugar.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 18.—The big winner of the 100,000 dollar race, the 100,000 dollar race, will be in good form for next season, according to Bonestrate's Race.

RACING RESULTS

AT SARATOGA. FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Honeysuckle, 10; McCreary, 10; 2nd, 10; 3rd, 10; 4th, 10; 5th, 10; 6th, 10.

AT WINDSOR. FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Panama, 10; 2nd, 10; 3rd, 10; 4th, 10; 5th, 10; 6th, 10.

ALBANY, Aug. 19.—Unaffected by the opinion of Attorney General Cummings, who held that Martin Glynn legally is Governor of New York.

Blackjack Weider Held for Grand Jury. W. K. Dunn, arrested for drawing a blackjack on a newboy, was held in a cell Tuesday for Grand Jury action by Acting Recorder Preston.

Kentuckians Fight Duely, One Is Dead. COLEMAN, Ky., Aug. 19.—Solomon Davis, 47, was believed to be dying from two bullet wounds.

LOCALS IN SECOND WAR MOVE

Barons Find Dent for One Run in Opening Session; Long Back in Line-up.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT BOSTON—CINCINNATI 000 001 011 - 4 8 4 BOSTON 100 001 000 - 2 5 1

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

AT WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The White House today received a dispatch from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican Government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE. AT CHATTANOOGA—FIRST GAME. NASHVILLE 000 002 1 - 3 9 1 CHATTANOOGA 000 004 X - 4 5 0

AMERICAN LEAGUE. AT CHICAGO—BOSTON 000 00 0 CHICAGO 200 00 0

NATIONAL LEAGUE. AT BOSTON—CINCINNATI 000 011 011 - 4 8 4 BOSTON 100 001 000 - 2 5 1

AT PITTSBURGH—PITTSBURGH 330 110 000 - 8 14 2 NEW YORK 000 210 000 - 3 9 3

AT BROOKLYN—BROOKLYN 010 103 000 - 5 9 2 PHILADELPHIA 000 000 020 - 2 7 1

AT PHILADELPHIA—CHICAGO 000 210 000 PHILADELPHIA 101 000 000

AT WAYCROSS—CORDELE 0 WAYCROSS 0

AT THOMASVILLE—BRUNSWICK 1 THOMASVILLE 1

AT JACKSONVILLE—CHARLESTON 000 JACKSONVILLE 020

AT ALBANY—MACON 000 ALBANY 20

2 WITNESSES SWEAR NEGRESS' STATEMENT WAS MADE WILLIGLY

Here are the important developments Tuesday in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Judge Ross rules out all testimony bearing on particular acts of immorality which the State has been endeavoring to prove against the defendant.

Will Turner, former pencil factory employe, testifies he entered the metal room shortly before noon one day near the middle of March and saw Frank seeking to engage Mary Phagan in conversation. He says he cannot recall any other person he (Turner) knew in the factory.

Solicitor Dorsay deposes large part of forenoon in an endeavor to bolster the character of G. B. Dalton, a State's witness, and tear down that of Miss Daisy Hopkins, who was called by the defense.

George Gordon, called by the Solicitor, swears that the sensational affidavit of Minola McKnight, negro cook at the Selig home, was signed in his absence and that Solicitor Dorsay refused to order her release, saying he "would get in bad with the detectives" if he did.

Boy Craven and E. H. Pickett, hardware store employes, testified Minola McKnight, cook in the Selig home, made the affidavit revealing incriminating remarks and actions of Frank without reserve.

Boy Craven, one of the Beck & Greg Hardware employes, who assisted the police in obtaining the sensational affidavit from Minola McKnight, negro cook at the Selig home, declared on the stand in the Frank trial Tuesday afternoon that the McKnight woman made her statements against Frank of her own accord and without reserve, once she had been persuaded it was best to tell what the State says is the whole truth.

Craven said the McKnight woman told him that she had heard conversations at the Selig home Sunday morning following the murder of Mary Phagan, indicating that Frank had rested poorly and had come home intoxicated, making his wife sleep on the floor. He had asked his wife for a revolver to shoot himself, the McKnight woman said, according to Craven. Frank also was reported to have remarked that he "didn't know why he would murder."

E. H. Pickett, a fellow employe of Craven's, corroborated the latter's story and added that the McKnight woman had admitted getting more money after the murder than she had before. Both Pickett and Craven were sharply questioned by Attorney Rosser, who sought to show that Minola signed the statement to obtain her freedom from jail.

Dr. S. O. Benedict, president of the State Board of Health, was called at the opening of the afternoon to show that charges of scientific dishonesty against Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary of the board, never were found to be well founded. Dr. W. F. Westmorland asserted on the stand that Dr. Harris had been found guilty of the charges.

By far the most damaging testimony brought out against Frank was that of Will Turner, who testified that he had entered the metal room and come upon a few weeks before the crime. When Turner was put under the examining eye of Luther Rosser's cross-examination, the weight of his testimony, which he admitted he had worked with, was utterly considered by the jury. He said he had a brief time, was unable to describe Mary Phagan and was unable to call the name of the girl in the entire factory.

"I went into the rear room on the second floor one day with some parts of the pencil factory. It was about the middle of March. Frank was walking from his office toward the rear of the factory. Mary Phagan was coming toward her machine. He told her to wait a minute that he wanted to talk to her. She said she had to go to work. "I said: 'I'm superintendent of the pencil factory. I want to talk to you. She repeated that she had to go to work and he followed her as she walked away from him. A couple of girls came into the room and I

GOVERNOR WILL SIGN BILL FOR GIRLS' HOME TAXABLES

The Fulton County tax digest, just completed by County Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead, was made public Tuesday, and it shows the tremendous increase in taxables of $10,823,000.

A rumor that Governor Blanton intended to veto the bill, but because it meant an additional drain upon the meager revenues of the State, had been in circulation since the last night of the General Assembly.

Advocates Were Awakened. The report gained strength the last few days and aroused those eager for the establishment of the home. No less than 75 telegrams came to Governor Blanton's office Tuesday morning from individuals and organizations all over the State asking him to affix his signature and make the measure a law.

Originally the bill establishing the home carried an appropriation of $10,000, and in that shape it passed the House. The Senate, however, cut $10,000 from the amount, and in the final night session the House cut $10,000 from the appropriation.

An increase in the tax returns of $4,000,000 would be necessary to pay the bill. This increase, it appears, is to be forthcoming. That was announced as the basis of the report that Governor Blanton would veto the bill.

LEO FRANK SKETCHED AS HE TOLD HIS OWN STORY TO JURY

During the greater part of his story Frank was as calm and statistical as an accountant discussing an audit.

In telling of his dealings with the police and Chief of Detectives Lanford, Frank waxed sarcastic in a quiet yet bitter way. But he never let loose his emotion or lost his poise.

At times Frank would lose his air of complete repression and his face for a moment would take on an aspect of deep feeling. He would, however, quickly resume his normal expression of stoicism.

WITNESSES GIVE DALTON GOOD REPUTATION

Continued from Page 1.

place, and that she was backing away and protesting that she had to go back to work. We contend that it was the beginning of the transaction which ended in the little girl's death. It should be in as uncontrived Frank's statement that he did not know her."

question Daisy Hopkins, one of the defense's witnesses, as to conversation she was supposed to have had in regard to incidents at the pencil factory in which she and a man designated except as her "foreman" were involved. Frank's name was not mentioned in the indicated charge. The conversation was about a "foreman" who had been related to them.

Merck, however, had in yesterday's testimony disappeared from the courthouse when his name was called, and Floyd was not permitted to go into the details of the testimony the solicitor had hoped to bring out.

The witness was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Merck was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Merck was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Merck was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Merck was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Merck was excused and Dorothy made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution: Dr. O. C. Misset, P. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Finkbe, B. E. Benedict of Athens, and J. C. Cramer of Macon, the latter two president and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Solicitor Dorsey tried first to cross-examine...

CLEVELAND THE SCENIC WAY WITH DINING CARS I&N

Funeral Designs and Flowers FOR ALL OCCASIONS Atlanta Floral Company 485 EAST FAIR STREET.

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

INSTEAD OF LEMBADE

W. M. Wright of Atlanta, general manager of the Independent Transfer Company, testified in behalf of Dalton's good character and declared that he would believe him on oath.

W. C. Hale, of No. 48 Kirkwood avenue, Atlanta, formerly of Walton County, testified to Dalton's good character and said he would believe him under oath.

L. I. Boyce, a city policeman, formerly of Walton County, testified that Dalton's character was bad, but that now it was better and that he had heard nothing bad about him recently.

M. Gordon Caldwell, of Atlanta, J. W. Hunt, of No. 11 Trinitas avenue, and W. P. Patrick, of Atlanta, a member of the police force, testified to Dalton's good character and said they would believe him under oath.

J. E. Dudley, a former employee of the pencil company, was called to the stand. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Were you working at the National Pencil Factory about October 1917? A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember a machinist named Charley Lee? A. Yes, he was working there.

Q. Where was he? A. On the second floor, the office floor.

Q. Just where were you hurt? A. On a metal machine. I hurt the first finger of my left hand.

Q. What did you do then? A. There was some cotton waste there, which I put around my hand.

Q. Did any blood drop on the floor? A. A few drops.

Q. Did any blood drop near the back dressing room? A. None.

Q. How long after the accident did you work? A. I quit then.

Q. What does the fellow Lee do besides working at his trade? A. I don't know.

Q. What did you do then? A. I went to the office to get it dressed, then went to the Atlanta Hospital.

Rosser took the witness on cross-examination.

Q. How badly were you hurt? A. Not very bad.

Q. You had pretty pretty? A. Yes, but I had my hand in the cotton waste.

Q. You didn't notice whether any blood was on the floor or not? A. Yes, none of it dropped except in the machine where I was working.

Dorsey took the witness.

Q. Were you working at the National Pencil Factory about October 1917? A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything about the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory? A. No.

FRANK'S STATEMENT IS BEST PLEA PRESENTED IN HIS DEFENSE SO FAR

By JAMES B. NEVIN. So far, unquestionably, to my way of thinking Leo Frank himself has made the best and most appealing plea in behalf of Leo Frank. His statement in the record thereof was as clear-cut as a diamond, as passionate and as convincing as any statement I ever heard from the witness stand, and I have heard hund-

MOTHER OF LEO FRANK

Mrs. Rena Frank.

Wife at Last Breaks Down, Overcome by Frank's Story

After having braved every trying courtroom ordeal and faced every horrible charge hurled at her husband with a stoicism almost as unflinching and imperturbable as his, Mrs. Leo Frank gave away completely to her emotions and sobbed uncontrollably at the hearing of the jury Monday afternoon. It was the final dramatic touch in a situation that had held a courtroom full of spectators in an irrationally thrill through four long hours of the afternoon.

The spell that had been cast over the room by the quiet but earnest words of the eight young factory superintendent was broken by the tones of the devoted, who about the moment Frank rose to leave the witness chair.

Frank rushes to wife. In the confusion that followed some did not notice that Frank rushed to the side of his wife, who had thrown her head in her arms and was slinking with pitiful sobs as she mowed his name again and again.

Sufragettes Want Baby Booth at Fairs. NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Among the things that the suffragettes, headed by Harriet Stanton, are at present in a pocket in their skirts and a place at fairs where women can display their babies, many women are voting in favor of the State and federal legislation that would create a baby booth at fairs.

Moonshiner Slays Man in Pistol Duel. LEXINGTON, Aug. 19.—In a pistol duel at Bermuda, Ky., between John J. Moore and John W. Moore, John J. Moore was killed and John W. Moore was wounded. The duel was held at 10 o'clock and the winner was John W. Moore.

DIGGS, JEFFERSON, DAILEY SHOT AS TENS OF TRIP. WITH GIRL, WIFE IS SERVED ON MERCHANT

Declares That Marsha Warrington Would Not Let Him Leave City Without Her. Officer's Wounds Are Serious Following Attempt to Close Store in East Point.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Maurie J. Diggs, defendant in the white slavery case, today for the first time spoke the stand in his own defense shortly after court was reconvened today.

Diggs looked straight ahead as he answered questions put by Attorney Robert Dalton for the defense. He spoke his answers in a loud, firm voice.

He told of meeting the Warrington girl and informing her that he was compelled to leave Sacramento on business and that he intended going to Los Angeles.

He said he had intended to go to Los Angeles, but he was stopped by a man named Warrington who told him that he would not let him leave the city without her.

Miss Warrington had testified last week that she did not tell Diggs she wanted him to stay in Sacramento.

He said he had intended to go to Los Angeles, but he was stopped by a man named Warrington who told him that he would not let him leave the city without her.

During a conversation with his wife and daughter, he told the jury that he was going to Los Angeles, but he was stopped by a man named Warrington who told him that he would not let him leave the city without her.

James L. Dickey, Jr., & Co. Insurance. 317 Equitable Building. Atlanta, Ga.

Gives Up Bad Checks, Admitting Forgery. MOBILE, Aug. 19.—When arrested on the charge of passing forged checks last night in a Royal restaurant and taken before Chief of Police P. W. Greenhouse, J. A. Bell, a bookkeeper claiming "Laura" alias "Lola" as his wife, refused to give his name, claiming her name as his wife.

Bulgar Plot to Slay All Turks Reported. Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 19.—Evidence of a conspiracy of Bulgarians to rise up and massacre all the Turks has been discovered. It was declared in a telegram received here today by the British consul.

AMERICA'S CHAMPION HUSBAND.

NAT GOODWIN. has come to the rescue of downtrodden men who dare not speak their minds, and reveals all the joys and heartaches of matrimony in

WHAT I THINK OF MY FIVE WIVES

This daring actor in his new role explains how he found wife No. 1 "Like a Mother," No. 2 "An Obligation," Maxine Elliott "A Roman Senator," Edna Goodrich "An Error," and No. 5 his "Life Preserver." This will all appear in with the countless other features which have made The American the leading newspaper of the South, as well as a positive joy to the readers of Dixie. Lady Duff Gordon, who, as Lucille of London, is equally famous, will entertain her followers with a description of

SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

MARRIAGE MARKET GOWNS

with which far-seeing mothers enhance the charms of their debutante daughters. And coming down to the doings of fashionable Atlanta you will find that was among those present at all the functions of the inner circle, and will tell about them in her usual sprightly style. Moreover, baseball fans, as well as those who never see a game, will find a fascinating story in

POLLY PEACHTREE

THE PLOT FOR THE PENNANT

by Hugh S. Fullerton, which begins in this issue. So, why worry about your Sunday reading when you know that in addition to these great features and a dozen others, you can have all the news of the whole universe—sports, financial, foreign, political and local—delivered at your front door for 5 cents? Better clinch the bargain at once, and order from your dealer or by phoning Main 100.

Table with 4 columns: Description of insurance policy, Amount, and other details. Includes sections for Capital Stock, Assets, and Liabilities.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, which begins in this issue. So, why worry about your Sunday reading when you know that in addition to these great features and a dozen others, you can have all the news of the whole universe—sports, financial, foreign, political and local—delivered at your front door for 5 cents? Better clinch the bargain at once, and order from your dealer or by phoning Main 100.

Order it NOW
Both Phones Main 100

VOL. XII, NO. 14

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1913.

Copyright 1913
By The Atlanta Georgian Co.

2 CENTS

NEW WITNESSES CALLED AGAINST FRANK

Former Employee Testifies Accused Knew Mary Phagan

THAW HELD TO BE SENT BACK BY CANADA

Admits His Identity and Asks 'Now, What Are You Going to Do About It?'

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 19.—The Canadian immigration authorities announced this afternoon that Harry K. Thaw will be deported from Canada. Officials of the justice department here do not believe Thaw can be detained. This would mean that Thaw would be sent back over the border to New Hampshire.

COATCOOK, QUEBEC, Aug. 19.—Harry K. Thaw is under arrest here, according to the police authorities, and he will be held until the Dominion government decides what can be done in his case.

The police are positive that their prisoner is Thaw. They said he admitted his identity.

Thaw said the authorities had no right to hold him and that there was nothing for which he could be extradited and sent back to New York State.

Thaw will not discuss his movements since he got away from the New York institution Sunday morning, except to say that he boarded a train east of Boston. He said he was making for the coast and planned to sail for Europe.

Thaw was accompanied here by two men, one heavily built and the other slight and both dressed in civilian clothes.

Recognized on Train. Deputy Sheriff Burleigh Kelsey, of Coakleek, recognized Thaw on a train bound for Canada. Kelsey got on at Coakleek, got an automobile and after a chase of almost 40 miles overtook Thaw with two companions in Coakleek. They had left the train at Brecher Falls and driven across the border into Canada.

Kelsey notified the Coakleek police and kept on their trail. Thaw, when arrested, made no resistance and today will be lodged in the jail at Coakleek, Quebec.

Kelsey was on his way home to Coakleek after a trip South and was reading a paper when a stranger came from a few seats down the aisle in the smoking car and asked for a match. The Deputy Sheriff was reading the story of the Thaw escape in the paper and a picture of Thaw started up from the paper. He looked at the stranger and noted that the likeness at once resembled Thaw.

"The stranger at once noticed the stars and said: 'What's the matter? Do you think you know who I am? You could make a pretty good guess," said Kelsey.

"Well, who am I then?" the stranger demanded.

"I think you are Harry K. Thaw," Kelsey said. The stranger laughed unashamedly and then said: "Well, you are right. I am Thaw. But you mean to say that you could do anything to me if you wanted to. You have scolded me for murder and you can't extradite me."

"What are you bound for?" Kelsey asked.

"Canada," the man answered.

"Pursue Him in Auto. Kelsey picked up a paper and said the man was Thaw and he had declared he would not be sent back to New York. Deputy Sheriff Kelsey got out of the train and drove back to Coakleek and there he was met by Sheriff Brew and they decided to chase the man.

They got an automobile and made a quick run to Brecher Falls, where they saw Thaw. Kelsey saw the man and found that three men who had been described as the Thaw party had

PRETTY FACTORY WORKERS TELL JURY OF FRANK'S GOOD CHARACTER

Miss Lena McMurtrey, Monday on stand for Frank.

Miss Magnolia Kennedy, below.

Mrs. W. R. Johnson, bride, who testified for Frank.

$10,823,080 IS GAIN IN FULTON TAXABLES

The Fulton County tax digest just completed by County Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead, was made public Tuesday, and it shows the tremendous increase in taxable property. The total returns for the fiscal year amounted to $122,183,115, as compared with $111,376,035 for 1912. The largest increase in any one item was that of city real estate, which showed an increase over last year of $2,014,235. The return from city real estate this year amounted to $31,232,450. Increases in other items were not so noticeable, and in many instances a decided decrease was noted.

Real estate returns amounted to $12,449,469, compared with $11,771,770 last year. The returns from bank shares amounted to $4,811,076, compared with $4,866,564 for 1912. Stocks and bonds returns showed an increase of $53,335. Money, notes and accounts returns were $19,284,716, as compared with $19,232,610 in 1912.

Merchandise returns were $5,015,469, compared with $4,771,770 last year. The automobile returns, as expected, showed a gain, going up to $22,142, compared with $10,000.

County real estate returns amounted to $1,112,112, compared with $1,112,112 last year. The returns from future lotteries were $1,112,112, compared with $1,112,112 last year. The returns from professional fees were $1,112,112, compared with $1,112,112 last year. The returns from interest were $1,112,112, compared with $1,112,112 last year. The returns from other sources were $1,112,112, compared with $1,112,112 for 1912.

Girl's 'Soul Mate' Love Quenched by Week in Stockade

Two weeks in the city stockade has cured 19-year-old Beatrice Renfro of certain ideas about "soul mate love."

Miss Renfro is the young triplet for whom A. M. Tripp, a salesman, deserted his wife and three young children. Tripp and the young woman are serving a term of 60 days in the stockade to which they were sentenced by Recorder Proton Freeman.

The young woman has written a letter to Probation Officer Cogger, in which she declares she is forever done with Tripp, and pleads that she be removed from the stockade and placed on probation, that she may have a chance to resume her work as a stenographer and redeem herself.

She places all blame on Tripp, asserting that he burned her to Marion after she had fled from the Martha House, to which "she" also had been sent when she and Tripp were held before the court the first time.

Kentuckians Fight Duel; One Is Dead

HENDERSON, KY., Aug. 19.—Columbus Davis to-day was believed to be dying from two bullet wounds, and William Stutwacht was slightly hurt as the result of a revolver duel. The two men quarreled and arranged a peaceful meeting to settle their differences. As soon as they met each man drew his revolver and began firing.

Sulzer Holds Fort, Ignoring Ruling of Attorney General

ALBANY, Aug. 19.—Unaffected by the opinion of Attorney General Gregory, who held that Martin Glynne legally is governor of New York, William Sulzer occupied his office in the executive chamber this morning as usual. He came to the capitol in the usual time and took up the morning session.

Chief Clerk Platt, his private secretary, announced that Mr. Sulzer still regarded himself as the legal governor.

"We knew what the opinion of the Attorney General would be before it came out," he said.

Senator Glynne, Governor Glynne prepared to take his flight into the halls of the Legislature today.

Blackjack Wielder Held for Grand Jury

W. K. Dunn, arrested for drawing a blackjack on a new baby, was held in $500 bond Tuesday for Grand Jury action by Acting Recorder Proton Freeman. He was held for assault and battery and assault with intent to murder.

Dunn got into a fight with little Edward Kuber, 15 years old, and Bill Keel, another new baby, who went to his small partner's aid. "Kid" Young, who has appeared in the local press, tried to act as peacemaker after Dunn had pulled a blackjack, and all four were served with charges.

WAR MOVE ON U.S. BY HUERTA DENIED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The White House to-day received a dispatch from Charles d'Amfres O'Shaughnessy absolutely denying press dispatches to the effect that he had been given his passport by the Mexican government or that an ultimatum of any kind had been given to him by Huerta.

The telegram from O'Shaughnessy is explicit on both of these points and indicates that the situation has not been changed in any way except that a formal and diplomatic reply to the kind proposals was transmitted to O'Shaughnessy yesterday by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Frederic Gamboa. The terms of the reply probably will be made public in the White House later in the day.

In his telegram to Secretary Bryan, Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy relates the circumstances leading up to the transmission of the ultimatum and to the mediation proposals, which Lind carried from President Wilson to Mexico, and declares that nothing had indicated that they were in any way offensive to the Mexican government.

Found Reports Were False. He made a trip to the Mexican Foreign Office late last night to ascertain the truth of rumors that he was about to be given his passport, and that Huerta had demanded recognition from the American government.

He found these reports unfounded and spread the news among the members of the American colony in Mexico City. The population seemed to take it for granted that Huerta was about to make the desperate play which he long had threatened.

Secretary Bryan today denied that the State Department had received any ultimatum from Mexico concerning recognition of the Huerta government by any stated time, or that Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy had been given his passport and told to leave Mexico.

The State Department was informed today by Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy that Senator Gamboa, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has denied the statement made by Senator Urquiza, Minister of the Interior, concerning the reported ultimatum, and it is believed here that the outlook for a peaceful settlement of the trouble between the two nations is more promising at the present time than it has been in the past fortnight.

Wild Rumor Laid to Cabinet. Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy in his telegram to the State Department today reported that President Huerta and Envoys Lind were conferring concerning the final settlement of the difficulties between the two countries. While he did not comment on the situation beyond giving a bare report of the fact, Mr. O'Shaughnessy strongly indicated that he hoped for a peaceful settlement and that the next 48 hours probably would bring developments leading to a compact between the United States and Mexico.

It is believed at the State Department that the sensational reports emanating from Mexico City last night were inspired by the Huerta "Agents" for defense. He declared that the affidavits made by the cook who was signed in his absence, although the last paragraph stated that

INDIRECT TESTIMONY AGAINST PRISONER IS FORBIDDEN BY JUDGE

Here are the important developments Tuesday in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan:

Judge Roan rules out all testimony bearing on particular acts of immorality which the State has been endeavoring to prove against the defendant.

Will Turner, former pencil factory employee, testifies he entered the metal room shortly before noon one day near the middle of March and saw Frank seeking to engage Mary Phagan in conversation. He says he cannot recall any other person he (Turner) knew in the factory.

Solicitor Dorsey devotes large part of forenoon in an endeavor to bolster the character of G. B. Dalton, a State's witness, and tear down that of Miss Daisy Hopkins, who was called by the defense.

George Gordon, called by the Solicitor, swears that the sensational affidavit of Minola McKnight, negro cook at the Selig home, was signed in his absence and that Solicitor Dorsey refused to order her release, saying he "would get it bad with the detectives" if he did.

Leo Frank found himself again the target for the attacks of Solicitor General Dorsey when the State took up its rebuttal Tuesday in the trial of the National Pencil Factory superintendent, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan.

But the most damaging testimony brought out against Frank was that of Will Turner, who testified that he had entered the metal room and come upon Frank seeking to press his attentions upon the Phagan girl only a few weeks before the crime.

When Turner was put under the raking fire of Luther Rosser's cross-examination, the weight of his testimony suffered considerably. The youth, who admitted he had worked at the factory only a brief time, was unable to describe Mary Phagan and was unable to tell the name of any other girl in the entire factory.

Tells of Frank Speaking to Girl. "I went into the rear room on the second floor one day with some pencils," said Turner. "It was about the middle of March. Frank was walking from his office toward the rear of the factory. Mary Phagan was coming toward her machine. He told her to wait a minute, that he wanted to talk to her. She said she had to go to work."

"He said: 'I'm superintendent of the pencil factory and I want to talk to you.' She repeated that she had to go to work and he followed her as she backed away from him. A couple of girls came into the room and I asked them where to put the pencils and they left. I didn't see any more."

On cross-examination youth Turner admitted he did not know whether there were other girls around at the time or not. He did not know the names of the two girls, he said, who entered the room while Frank was trying to talk to Mary Phagan. The extent of his description of Mary Phagan was that she had light hair. The question of the admissibility of this evidence caused a long quarrel between the attorneys.

Rosser and Arnold objected on the ground that it was not at all material, proving absolutely nothing. They denied Dorsey's contention that it established that Frank had known Mary Phagan, in spite of his declarations that he did not know her. The lawyers said that it did not show that he knew her by name or that he was conversing with her on any other subject than her work.

Charges It Was First Step to Murder. "We contend that Mary Phagan was killed right on that second floor," retorted the Solicitor. "We contend that Mary Phagan and Frank were the only persons in the metal department at the time that this incident took place, and that she was backing away and protesting that she had to go back to work. We contend that it was the beginning of the transaction which ended in the little girl's death. It should go in as contradicting Frank's statement that he did not know her."

Turner was allowed to tell his story. That Solicitor Dorsey refused to take any step toward the liberation of Minola McKnight, cook at the Selig home, who was imprisoned until she made her sensational affidavit against Frank on the ground that it would "get him in bad with the detectives," was the unexpected and highly interesting statement made by Attorney George Gordon late in the forenoon session.

Gordon was called by the State, but proved as good a witness for the defense. He declared that the affidavits made by the cook who was signed in his absence, although the last paragraph stated that

THE WEATHER.
Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

Continued on Page 9, Column 3.

LEO FRANK SKETCHED AS HE TOLD HIS OWN STORY TO JURY

During the greater part of his story Frank was as calm and statistical as an accountant discussing an audit.

In telling of his dealings with the police and Chief of Detectives Lanford, Frank waxed sarcastic in a quiet yet bitter way. But he never let loose his emotion or lost his poise.

At times Frank would lose his air of complete repression and his face for a moment would take on an aspect of deep feeling. He would, however, quickly resume his normal expression of stolidity.

WITNESSES GIVE DALTON GOOD REPUTATION

Once Bad Man, but He Has Reformed, Old Acquaintances Testify for State.

Continued from Page 1.

It was signed in his presence. He said that he had told Solicitor Dorsey that the negro woman was being held illegally, but that the Solicitor had replied that it was necessary sometimes to do things of this sort in order to get the information wanted. He told of going to the police station and finding Minola crying and hysterical in her cell. The attorney for the colored woman said that he had not been permitted to enter the room where she cell was being interrogated by the detective and Ray Pickett and Arthur Brown, the latter two men being employees of the Mack & Clegg Hardware Company. He was present, he said, when part of the notes were being read by G. C. February, but was not there when the affidavit was signed.

The McKnight affidavit told of alleged conversations at the Hotel Georgia of a nature very incriminating to Frank. The McKnight woman denied all of the statements in the affidavit to a Georgian reporter the night that she was liberated.

Indirect Evidence Against Frank Is Ruled Out.

A crushing blow was dealt the state by the refusal of Judge Hunt to admit, either while the defense was completing its case or after the State had taken up the rebuttal, any evidence bearing upon the specific act charged against the factory superintendent.

The ruling was a sweeping victory for the defense. It gave Frank's case, which had been aided materially by the day before by the defendant's own statement, an added strength and heightened the prospects in Frank's favor.

The conversation was about a "foreman." The Hopkins woman denied again that she ever had made visits to the factory for improper purposes or that she had had the conversations referred to by the Solicitor.

Dorsey encountered the same woman when he tried to draw testimony against her the moral character of Frank from his own witnesses. From W. M. Merck and J. D. Floyd the Solicitor had expected to obtain a recital of the story of the happenings which she said had been related to them.

Merck, however, had mysteriously disappeared from the courtroom when his name was called, and Floyd was not permitted to go into the details of the testimony the Solicitor had hoped to bring out.

Swear Dalton's Character Is Good.

Other witnesses testified that Dalton's character was good. They were asked by Attorney Rosser if they were acquainted with his court and chain-gang record. They replied, for the most part, that they were not.

The brown suit worn by Frank April 25 was identified by Mrs. Emil Selig, his mother-in-law, at the opening of court in the forenoon and the suit was placed in evidence.

The defense prepared to show by Willy Roberts, inside after at the Tower, that Jim Conley had been feeding since his incarceration there, but the Solicitor objected on the ground that no basis had been laid for the testimony.

Daisy Hopkins then was called and questioned, after which the State began its rebuttal, the defense having closed its case.

While waiting for a witness Solicitor Dorsey arose and made the expected announcement that he himself had drawn the identification "taken out at 3:15" on the time slip filed from the clock in the factory. Frank had made the charge he had written words as an identification of the slip and that they had been viewed. The Solicitor declared that he thought the detectives had made the identification.

that he had ever introduced Dalton to the factory superintendent. Willy Roberts was asked: Q. Has Jim Conley been in your custody during this trial?—A. Yes.

Q. Has he ever asked for new papers?—A. Yes.

Dorsey interrupted. "Your honor," he said, "I think the witness, Jim Conley, ought to have the privilege of denying or affirming that before he can be impeached."

"Conley said that he could only read certain words," said Arnold, "but probably Mr. Dorsey is right. I will have to call Jim Conley back again, and Mr. Rosser will be back in a minute, and we will close."

Daisy Hopkins Is Recalled by Dorsey.

The witness was excused and Dorsey made the announcement that four doctors of the following five would be called by the prosecution:

Dr. G. C. Miral, F. L. Eskridge, Clarence Johnson, John Funk, R. B. Benedict, of Athens, and J. C. Crum, mayor of Mason, the latter two present and vice president of the State Board of Health.

Solicitor Dorsey asked that Daisy Hopkins be returned to the stand so that he might continue his cross-examination of her.

The witness took the stand. Q. You say you knew nothing of the cot in the basement of the National Pencil Factory?—A. No.

Q. Do you know anything at all of the basement?—A. No.

Q. Are you acquainted with A. R. Floyd of Redan, Ga.?—A. Yes.

Q. Have you known him for a long time?—A. Yes.

Q. Have you had a conversation with Floyd since the murder?—A. No.

ter P. Merck one Saturday afternoon on Whitehall street?—A. I met him on Paschtree.

Q. Didn't you tell him that afternoon that you were going to the National Pencil Factory?—A. No; I told him I had just left the factory.

Q. Didn't he make an engagement with you to go to the factory?—A. No.

"Your honor," said Dorsey, "I want to know by Merck that this woman did make an engagement with him that afternoon."

"I understand," replied Rosser, "that when an argument of this kind is made by the jury it is to retire."

"It would be better to have the ladies retire also," said Dorsey, "I don't want to embarrass them."

Jury and Women Retire From Room.

The jury retired, and after a hurried conference, Frank's wife and mother also left the courtroom at the request of Attorney Arnold.

"This is their witness," said Dorsey. "We want to show that this man Merck had her Saturday afternoon, and she said she was going to the National Pencil Factory. It was to the night?—A. No.

Q. Didn't you tell him that you had been to the factory that afternoon?—A. No.

Men Say Woman's Character Is Bad.

Merck Hopkins was excused, and J. R. Floyd of Redan, Ga., was called. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Do you know Daisy Hopkins?—A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how many husbands she has had?—A. Three.

testimony," said Judge Roan. "You can not bring any new criminal charge against this defendant. If it is against someone else, it is irrelevant."

"Your honor," said Dorsey, "I want to ask a question to let the jury hear that you rule it out."

"No," we object," said Rosser. "That's just why the jury was sent out."

"I'll tell you assume that you ask it," said the court to Dorsey.

"Why, your honor," replied Dorsey, "it puts us in the position of not even trying to prove what we have intended to show."

"I can not permit the question," said Judge Roan.

"Very well," said Dorsey, adding, in an undertone, "That shuts me off; that shuts me off."

Dorsey continued the examination: Q. Didn't you meet Merck during the afternoon after working hours and tell him you were going to the pencil factory?—A. No.

Q. Didn't he come to see you that night?—A. No.

Q. Didn't you tell him that you had been to the factory that afternoon?—A. No.

Men Say Woman's Character Is Bad.

Merck Hopkins was excused, and J. R. Floyd of Redan, Ga., was called. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Do you know Daisy Hopkins?—A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how many husbands she has had?—A. Three.

ected rightly. An indictment is nothing against one's character."

Dorsey: "Dalton denied any knowledge of an indictment. This is a good forfeiture."

Judge Roan: "I rule it out."

Dalton's Recent Past Good, Says J. T. Hearn.

Glen Smith, superintendent of the Nunnally-McRae Company, testified that Daisy Hopkins' character was bad and that he would not believe her on oath.

J. T. Hearn, of Walton County, said he had known C. B. Dalton since 1880. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Is his character good or bad?—A. The first part of his life was good. The last part has been good.

Q. Would you believe him on oath?—A. Yes.

Rosser took the witness on cross-examination.

Q. When was the last time you knew Dalton?—A. 1903 or 1904.

Q. Did you hear about him being indicted for selling whisky in 1907?—A. Yes, but he had joined the church about 1904 and I understood was leading a good life.

Dorsey took the witness.

Q. Do you know the instance of his being indicted for selling wine early?—A. Yes.

Rosser: "We object. He can't go into that."

ton came to Decatur about five years ago and worked for him as a carpenter. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Are you acquainted with Dalton's general character?—A. I don't know as I am.

Q. That means what people say about him?—A. Yes.

Q. How was your character good or bad?—A. Good.

Rosser took the witness.

Q. You said you didn't know because you didn't know yourself?—A. Yes.

The witness was excused, and A. B. Houston, of Decatur, a farmer, who has lived there 41 years, was called.

The witness said that he had known Dalton for eight years and that his character was good and that he would believe him under oath.

J. T. Hearn, who formerly lived at Inglefield, in DeKalb County, and who now operates a cigar and soda fountain at Decatur, said he knew Dalton and would believe him on oath.

W. M. Wright, of Atlanta, general manager of the Independent Transfer Company, testified in behalf of Dalton's good character and declared that he would believe him on oath.

W. C. Hale, of No. 33 Kirkwood avenue, Atlanta, formerly of Walton County, testified to Dalton's good character and said he would believe him under oath.

L. L. Boyce, a city policeman formerly of Walton County, testified that eighteen or twenty years ago Dalton's character was bad, but that now it was better and that he had heard nothing bad about him recently.

M. Gordon Caldwell, of Atlanta; J. W. Hunt, of No. 11 Trinity avenue, and W. F. Patrick, of Tazewell, a member of the police force, testified to Dalton's good character and said that they would believe him under oath.

J. B. Dudley, a former employee of the pencil company, was called to the stand. Dorsey questioned him. Q. Were you working at the Nalional Pencil Factory about October, 1917?—A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember a machinist named Charles Lee?—A. Yes, he was working there. I hurt the forefinger of my left hand.

Q. Where?—A. On the second floor, the office floor.

Q. Just where were you hurt?—A. On a metal machine. I hurt the forefinger of my left hand.

Q. How long after this accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

Q. How were you hurt?—A. This fellow Lee had put the metal on the machine. It dropped off. I picked it up and in putting it back I mashed my finger.

Q. What did you do then?—A. There was some cotton waste there, which I put around my hand.

Q. Did any blood drop on the floor?—A. A few drops.

Q. Did any blood drop near the ladies' dressing room?—A. None.

Q. How long after this accident did you work?—A. I quit then.

Q. What does this fellow Lee do besides working at his trade?—A. I don't know.

Q. What did you do then?—A. I went to the office to get it dressed, then went to the Atlanta Hospital. Rosser took the witness on cross-examination.

Q. How badly were you hurt?—A. Not very bad.

Q. You had pretty freely?—A. Yes, but I had my hand in the cotton waste.

A. You didn't notice whether any blood was on the floor or not?—A. Yes; none of it dropped except at the machine where I was working.

Dorsey took the witness. Q. Was your finger outside of the coat waste until you got to the office?—A. No.

The witness was excused, and the witness Rosser was called, but failed to answer. Willie Turner, of Sandy Springs, the 15-year-old son of F. M. M. continued on Page 5, Column 1.

INSTEAD OF LEONARD

Dist. Herbert's Adm. Phosphate is the best fertilizer for all crops, from summer hay, winter wheat, and corn.

Funeral Designs and Flowers FOR ALL OCCASIONS. Atlanta Floral Company 455 EAST FAIR STREET.

CLEVELAND

THE SCENIC WAY WITH DINING CARS

FRANK'S STATEMENT IS BEST PLEA PRESENTED IN HIS DEFENSE SO FAR

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

So far, unquestionably, to my way of thinking Leo Frank himself has made the best and most appealing plea in behalf of Leo Frank.

His statement in the recital thereof was as clear cut, as dignified, as passionate and as convincing as any statement I ever heard from the witness stand, and I have heard hundreds.

Regardless of its merits—or, at least, aside from that—the defendant acquitted himself with freedom and that much may be said of him ungrudgingly and in the frankest fairness to all parties concerned.

Of course, had Frank been nervous, hesitating, "fidgety" or seemingly in any wise disconcerted, there could be those, perhaps, who would have seen in that great evidence of his self-control and the same token, in that he was calm, poised, self-possessed, even smiling at intervals, there will be those who see in that evidence of a monstrous coldness and inflexible defiance.

The vast majority of those who heard that remarkable statement, however, must have been impressed by, at least, the apparent sincerity of it and the seeming inclination of the defendant to hold back nothing.

In its recital the statement of Leo Frank was wonderful in its brevity, stripped of the man's personality, it still is a human document of intense and absorbing interest.

It impressed me, too, as being a many ways characteristic of Frank in that I have come to know him of late and I never spoke one word to him in all my life.

I have come to know him as the prisoner sitting over there in the courtroom—the slight, litherly, neat, a seat or two beyond Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold.

I have come to know him, in my way of knowing persons charged with grave crimes, not by way of personal touch so much as by constant observation of him under fire.

Repetition Makes the Story.

All that was dramatic in Frank's statement was represented—the dramatic touch was there, as in the accompanying stage tricks were not.

Frank should understand to will me a gross of pencils, I should expect him to tell me the truth about the pencil, and nothing but the truth—but I should expect him to be ever-ready to tell me the pencil at a profit.

His statement of Monday seemed to me a recital much after the fashion I should expect from him in the courtroom.

That is the best and the worst that I can say of Leo Frank's statement, as it appeared to me.

There is a transaction involving a mere gross of pencils, there would be lacking all the great elements that entered into the statement of Frank made on Monday—and yet, at that, neither subject matter, in its plain analysis, anything more than a gross of pencils, or anything about the truth should be told.

Frank looked the jury fairly and squarely in the eye when he was making his statement—and not once did he hesitate or falter in stating his plea.

Contrast the statement of the defendant with the statement of the negro—the star witness summoned against him.

Frank's Day in Court.

Now, Monday was Frank's day in court, and it is square and right that Frank's story should be criticized.

Contrast it, therefore, with the statement of Conley.

Argue the matter with yourself. Certainly, Frank has a long record of long period of decent life, good reputation, business integrity, and home happiness—and Conley has none.

Take the two stories—and, using these two stories the verdict in the Frank case must be a foregone conclusion.

What will be the jury's answer? The kind of speculation has opened is most engaging, and it will, if one undertakes to enter it seriously and with open mind, be well worth the entering.

In the matter of his character, Frank had it all. He entered simple and plain in his statement. He himself insisted that his general character be put in issue. He turned the heat with the first information I ever had that Conley could write.

MOTHER OF LEO FRANK

Mrs. Rosa Frank.

Wife at Last Breaks Down, Overcome by Frank's Story

After having braved every trying courtroom ordeal and faced every horrible charge hurled at her husband with a stoicism almost as unflinchingly and importunately as his, Mrs. Leo Frank gave away completely to her emotions and sobbed unrestrainedly as Frank said the last words of his wonderful and most impressive address to the jury Monday.

It was the final dramatic touch to a situation that had held a courtroom full of spectators in an irritable thrall through four long hours of the afternoon.

The spell that had been cast over the room by the quiet but earnest words of the slight young factory superintendent was broken by the tones of the daughter, who shouted the moment Frank rose to leave the witness chair.

Frank rushed to his wife. In the confusion that followed some did not notice that Frank rushed right to the side of his wife, who had thrown her head in her arms and moaned his name again and again.

The woman who had stood heretofore against the accusations and innuendoes of the Solicitor General during the three long weeks of the trial collapsed when her husband himself took the stand to declare his innocence.

Many who had pushed into the courtroom to give their congratulations to Frank paused as they observed the piteous face.

The jurors, already deeply impressed by the talk of Frank, were further touched by this exhibition of emotion. They had arisen to file over to the Kimball House, Judge Johnson for several minutes with tears running down his cheeks, oblivious of the fact that he was blocking the path of the jurors and that three deputes were waiting to take them on their way.

Deputy Sheriff Pennie Meier leaned against the railing of the courtroom, there was a suspicious moisture in his eyes, which have grown accustomed to many tragic and affecting spectacles.

Troublesome Lump Rises.

Very few in the courtroom had much to say until they had managed to subdue that troublesome lump that persisted in rising in their throats.

"Rube, but you fit it all over you and me," muttered massive Luther Foster, heavily, to Reuben Arnold, his partner in the case.

For many minutes after the packed courtroom had emptied itself a little group of persons remained in front of the judge's bench. Mrs. Frank, the wife of the man accused of the revolting murder, and the elder Mrs. Frank, his mother, were weeping. Mrs. Frank, overcome by the appeal that had been made, related sorrowfully to them for several minutes, and then, when she was in a measure calmed, she signaled Sheriff Stanton and returned to her cell in the tower.

Suffragettes Want Baby Booth at Fairs

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Among the things that the suffragettes, headed by Harriet Stanton Blotch, want is a booth in their skirts and a place at fairs where women can check their babies. Blotch, vice president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, declares it is a crying shame that all mothers are not permitted to have a place where mothers could leave their babies while they ramble around the park.

Moonshiner Slays Man in Pistol Duel

LEXINGTON, Aug. 19.—In a pistol duel at Burnside, Ky., between John Fitzgerald and Town Marshall John Cooter, Fitzgerald was killed and Cooter wounded by Carter, the slayer of a woman who had been accused of a crime. Fitzgerald was shot in the back, a river when pursued by a posse. Cooter wounded him as he escaped to the mountains. A posse is in pursuit.

DIGGS ON STAND AS BAILIFF SHOT AS TO WHY HE GAVE UP AS SLAYER

Accused Will Attempt to Put Part of the Blame at the Door of Another Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—When his trial was resumed before Federal Judge Van Fleet today Maury Diggs was the first witness called to deny that he was guilty of slaying the white slavery law in slaying to Reno with Martha Warrington, Drew Cannetti and Lela Norris.

It was contended by counsel for the defense that Diggs and Cannetti did not make the two girls to Reno for immoral purposes, but to escape arrest and prosecution by their wives. That Diggs will attempt to make a confession by persons in his confidence.

Whether Judge Van Fleet will allow testimony of this character, however, was problematical.

Diggs will be followed on the stand by his wife and Mrs. Cannetti. Cannetti will also be a witness.

The appearance of the wives of the young men at the trial promised to invest it with renewed interest today. Mrs. Diggs, a handsome brunette, was in court with her young daughter, Evelyn, several days last week.

Both Mrs. Diggs and Mrs. Cannetti testified that they had threatened their husbands and their girl relatives with prosecution by the juvenile court of Sacramento and that these threats primarily were responsible for their flight to Reno.

Marshall Woodworth, one of the storekeepers associated in the defense, said that the outcome of the Diggs trial would have no effect on the plans for the trial of Cannetti.

According to Woodworth, Cannetti intends to adhere to the plan of the defense and stand trial whether Diggs is convicted or freed.

New Insurance Firm Open for Business

Announcement of the establishment of the French & Lochridge Insurance Agency was made Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the new office in the new agency takes its place among the business enterprises of Atlanta with every prospect of success.

Mrs. French and Mr. Lochridge were with The Atlanta Constitution for several days last week to make an extensive study of all forms of insurance.

They have obtained the local agency for two of the leading companies in the United States, a German company. Associated with them is John R. Schaefer, a well-known insurance man, the manager of the agency are in the Chandler Building.

Anniston Has World's Biggest Casting Pots

ANNISTON, Aug. 19.—Anniston's latest world-beater comes in the form of the largest casting pots in existence. It is said, at the new plant of the Lynchburg Foundry Company which is nearing completion.

The plant, which will make pressure stoves, though there are labor-saving devices on every hand at the new plant, it is said, will employ 200 men when it is put into blast, and when the other two pits are completed this number will be doubled.

Alabama Militia Camp

ALABAMA MILITIA CAMP. ANNISTON, Aug. 19.—The military encampment and drill of the 10th Regiment of the Alabama National Guards will be held here September 19 to 21, according to an announcement of Adjutant General J. B. Scully.

JAMES L. DICKEY, Jr., & CO. INSURANCE

317 Equitable Building Atlanta, Ga. SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT For the six months ending June 30, 1915, of the condition of the COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY OF JERSEY CITY.

Organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance of the laws of said State. Principal Office—16 Exchange Street, New York City.

Amount of capital stock $10,000,000.00. Amount paid up in cash $4,000,000.00. Total assets of the company $17,018,140.00.

Total liabilities of the company $17,018,140.00. Total assets of the company $17,018,140.00.

Total income during the first six months of the year 1915 $24,838,778.00. Total expenses during the first six months of the year $23,812,140.00.

Net profit $1,026,638.00. Total amount of insurance outstanding $1,026,638.00.

Notary Public for the State of Georgia. JAMES L. DICKEY, Jr. & CO. Notary Public for the State of Georgia.

AMERICA'S CHAMPION HUSBAND

NAT GOODWIN

has come to the rescue of downtrodden men who dare not speak their minds, and reveals all the joys and heartaches of matrimony in "WHAT I THINK OF MY FIVE WIVES"

This daring actor in his new role explains how he found wife No. 1 "Like a Mother," No. 2 "An Obligation," Maxine Elliott a "Roman Senator," Edna Goodrich "An Error," and No. 5 his "Life Preserver." This will all appear in with the countless other features which have made The American the leading newspaper of the South, as well as a positive joy to the readers of Dixie. Lady Duff Gordon, who, as Lucille of London, is equally famous, will entertain her followers with a description of

NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

MARRIAGE MARKET GOWNS

with which far-seeing mothers enhance the charms of their debutante daughters. And coming down to the doings of fashionable Atlanta you will find that was among those present at all the functions of the inner circle, and will tell about them in her usual sprightly style. Moreover, baseball fans, as well as those who never see a game, will find a fascinating story in

POLLY PEACHTREE

THE PLOT FOR THE PENNANT

by Hugh S. Fullerton, which begins in this issue. So, why worry about your Sunday reading when you know that in addition to these great features and a dozen others, you can have all the news of the whole universe—sports, financial, foreign, political and local—delivered at your front door for 5 cents! Better clasp the bargain at once, and order from your dealer or by phoning Main 100.

COUNSEL CONSIDER THAT FRANK IS HIS OWN BEST WITNESS Accused Looks Squarely at Jury as He Tells of Every Act on Day of Crime of course, I was spent for of course, I was shown up at the trial. I explained each of those items, including drayage, parcel post, etc.

DIAGRAM ILLUSTRATING FRANK'S ALIBI

DECLARES HE DOES NOT KNOW ANYTHING OF HOW MARY PHAGAN MET DEATH

Continued from Page 4.

I found at the end of a shortage of food coming in in parcels within the last three months. I took some food to take a drink of water and go to bed for 20 or 30 minutes. I then took some more food and went to bed. I was up at 10 o'clock and found the door open. I went to see what was going on and found the door open. I went to see what was going on and found the door open. I went to see what was going on and found the door open.

Newt Lee is in the custody of the officers. They told me they wanted to go down into the basement. I told them I would go with them. I found I could not go and I told Mr. Darley to see if he could get me down.

Admits Nervousness and Defends Himself.

"He started the car, and when we got further down I saw the body was found where the shoe was found. I went to see what was going on and found the door open. I went to see what was going on and found the door open. I went to see what was going on and found the door open.

Wife and I went up to bed. Next morning before I had finished dressing, the door bell rang. It was Detective Black and I went to see what was going on. I found I could not go and I told Mr. Darley to see if he could get me down.

Kept in Ignorance of Charge Against Him.

"I went on the way. I asked them what was the trouble. They said Chief Lanford would tell me. I arrived at the police station and saw Chief Lanford. He told me that I was charged with the murder of Mary Phagan. I was very nervous and I told them I would go to the police station with them.

been pink and not the white that it was. I returned after making this examination from which I concluded two or three of four chips had been knocked up, the boys told me, by the police this morning. I returned to my office and gathered up what papers I had to take over to Messrs. Brothers and I took over the financial records which I had made out the Saturday afternoon previous, and I talked it over with Mr. Big Montag.

I had a good long conversation with Mr. Montag with reference to the occurrence that morning, and I decided that once the papers had stated that I was being detained for a night, I would be best to tell my uncle, who was ill and was an elderly man, being over 70 years of age and who was on the point of taking a trip to Europe, and whom I didn't want unnecessarily alarmed by seeing in the papers that I was detained.

I wrote a telegram to Mr. Adolph Montag informing him that I was no longer in custody. That was all right and that he could communicate that to my uncle. That was that and my uncle and I left and we arrived home about 10:30. I should judge that we were about 10:30 when we arrived.

showed him the same sample. He looked at it and immediately recognized it. He said he had a pink like that, but he didn't remember having seen it for two years. I remember correctly that it was what I said. Detective Scott and Black then opened the packages they had and disclosed the full content of that material. I had all the appearance of being freshly stained with blood and had a very distinct odor. Newt Lee was taken back to the call.

After a time Chief Lanford brought up Newt Lee and I went to see if he could find any more of that material. I went to see if he could find any more of that material. I went to see if he could find any more of that material. I went to see if he could find any more of that material.

all he knows. Tell him that you are here and that he has there, and that he better open up and tell all the things about happenings at the Pinkerton factory that Saturday night, or you will both go to jail. Those were the detective's exact words.

Tells of Questioning Newt Lee Alone.

"I told Mr. Black I caught his meaning, and in a few minutes afterward Detective Black brought up Newt Lee and I went to see if he could find any more of that material. I went to see if he could find any more of that material. I went to see if he could find any more of that material.

since could be placed in either the city detector or in one of the Pinkerton detector, and I had a good idea of the reason. It was for this reason, gentlemen, that I have kept my mouth shut. I have kept my mouth shut. I have kept my mouth shut. I have kept my mouth shut.

Tells of Showing Conley to Mr. Wright.

"I took him to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11.

did not know girl.

"At this juncture the jury retired for five minutes. Frank conferred with his attorneys and they were out upon their return he resumed.

"I believe I have taken in every word Saturday night. I retired Saturday night. Sunday morning about 7 o'clock I was awakened by the telephone ringing and a man's voice which I afterwards found out to be Detective Starnes, said, 'I want you to come down to the factory.' What is the trouble, I asked. 'Has there been a murder?' he said. 'I don't know what has happened. All right, I will go. I will go. I will go. I will go.

got in an automobile and set out on Mr. Darley's knee. I was trembling. Later Sunday morning I went to the home of Mr. Big Montag and told him what had happened. I got home about 11 o'clock. My wife and I went over to my apartment on Mrs. Urzabach's and with a number of friends we discussed the tragedy.

"We went back home to dinner and mentioned there the terrible crime. I left dinner at about a short time and about 10 minutes later I went to my apartment. I was very nervous. I was very nervous. I was very nervous. I was very nervous.

Employed Pinkertons To Aid the Police.

"That afternoon I telephoned Mr. Scott to get Mr. Montag's permission to employ the Pinkertons to aid the police. I told him I would be down about 3 o'clock.

"I went down to Mr. Waller's and got into the automobile. I saw Mr. Darley and a number of others, including Mr. Quinn. Mr. Quinn wanted to take me back to the metal room where I had been working. I had been discovered and where the blood had been discovered by Mr. Barrett.

Seeing a Negro.

"I told him that I expected that he had seen what had happened at the pencil factory by reading the newspapers and knew all the details. He said he didn't read the newspapers and knew all the details. He said he didn't read the newspapers and knew all the details. He said he didn't read the newspapers and knew all the details.

Photograph of Note is Shown.

"I took a photograph of something that was written in pencil, as near as one can judge, the photographic reproduction of the note that I wrote. Detective Starnes then took me down to the dark camera where I was searched and entered my name on the book under a charge of suspicion.

How Men to Silence.

"On May 3 Detectives Black and Lee came to my cell in the Tower and wanted to see me alone without any of my friends around. I said I had nothing to say. I said I had nothing to say. I said I had nothing to say. I said I had nothing to say.

Nothing of Crime.

"Gentlemen, I know nothing whatever of the death of little Mary Phagan. I know nothing of the death of little Mary Phagan. I know nothing of the death of little Mary Phagan. I know nothing of the death of little Mary Phagan.

Continued from Page 5.

"I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11.

"I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11.

"I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11. I was taken to the factory on May 11.

FACORY BOY SWEARS HE SAW FRANK ACCUSE MARY PHAGAN Dorsey Feared He'd 'Get in Bad' With Detectives, State Witness Says

DIRECT TESTIMONY AGAINST PRISONER IS FORBIDDEN BY JUDGE

Continued from Page 2. Dorsey questioned him. 'You questioned him, you said you wanted to see him. How do you work?'...

would not release her without a habeas corpus. 'Why did you not wait until she signed that paper?'... 'You did you hear her say anything about the statement?'

He said in a room upstairs at the corner of Walker and Peters streets. 'I did see her there. I saw her go out of the door with Frank and go to the car.'

Q. Did you see her go into the car? A. Yes. I saw her go into the car with Frank and go to the car. I saw her get into the car with Frank and go to the car.

Q. Did you see her go into the car? A. Yes. I saw her go into the car with Frank and go to the car. I saw her get into the car with Frank and go to the car.

Q. Did you see her go into the car? A. Yes. I saw her go into the car with Frank and go to the car. I saw her get into the car with Frank and go to the car.

Q. How was he acting? A. She looked out from him and she walked toward her. Q. How far did she walk? A. Three or four feet. That was all. Mr. Frank turned away.

Q. How was he acting? A. She looked out from him and she walked toward her. Q. How far did she walk? A. Three or four feet. That was all.

FRANK HIS OWN BEST WITNESS, SAYS COUNSEL

State Fights Hard to Overcome Impression Accused Made by Calm Statement. Continued from Page 5. My life to know him until this crisis.

'I am not going into the matter further than to disprove Dr. Westmoreland's statement,' said Mr. Dorsey. 'The State board found Dr. Harris guilty of scienter dishonesty.'

Q. How was he acting? A. She looked out from him and she walked toward her. Q. How far did she walk? A. Three or four feet. That was all.

Q. How was he acting? A. She looked out from him and she walked toward her. Q. How far did she walk? A. Three or four feet. That was all.

GOVERNOR WILL SIGN BILL FOR GIRLS' HOME

Rumor That He Would Veto the Measure on Plea of Lack of Funds Proves Groundless. Governor John M. Slaton said Tuesday afternoon that he will sign the bill providing for a home for wayward girls...

Find Missing Banker Led Gay Lobster Life

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 18.—In tracing the career of Raymond E. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Rosellie Trust Company, who is being sought to clear up mysteries surrounding a shortage of over $500,000 in the bank, the searcher found evidence of lobster suppers, joy rides and gay parties.

Seek Atlanta Woman Who Gave Away Baby

CHATTANOOGA, Aug. 18.—The local police have been unable to discover any clues that will lead to the identity of the parents of the child, Mrs. Alice Maynard said, a woman known woman as Mrs. Maynard was boarding a train in Atlanta for Chattanooga. The infant, a girl apparently not more than two months old, is now at Erlanger Hospital.

New Molasses Rate of M. & O. Causes Kick

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 18.—The molasses men of New Orleans and Louisiana are disturbed over the new rate on blackstrap molasses made by the Mobile and Ohio Railroad out of this city of 13 cents per 100 pounds. The Louisiana dealers will probably ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to abolish the proposed rate as discriminatory.

Conscience-Stricken Bigamist Surrenders

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18.—Asserting that he was a bigamist and his conscience hurt him because he had married a second wife, Walter H. Fenner walked into police headquarters and gave himself up. Fenner, 28, had a first wife and baby in Pascagoula, Miss., and was not sure that he was divorced from his first wife.

Customs Men Noses Out Big Cheese Plot

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Nicola Romelli, a shoemaker, went to the Customs House to catch a thief who tried to smuggle two trunks filled with Parmesan cheese into this country. His bid wife was Miss Jean Beckham of Pascagoula. They married in June, 1911.

Mr. Merchant—ARE YOU READY FOR THE FALL TRADE?

There's no business-getter like an Atlanta telephone. Our subscribers believe in "shopping by telephone." They are encouraged to do so by the uniform efficiency and courtesy of our service. They are aided by our supplementary classified business directory.

Bolds Are a Bad Indication. The appearance of boils leads many people to conclude that they are the result of some internal disease. It is not so. Boils are caused by bacteria entering the body through a small wound or scratch.

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle-Creek, Mich. Enclosed find 2c stamp for postage on trial tin of Instant Postum. Name, Address, Grocery's Name.

If You Are a Coffee Drinker and suffer as many coffee drinkers do from indigestion, heart flutter, nervousness or sleeplessness, fill out the above and enclose with 2c stamp (for postage) and we will promptly mail you free a 3-cup tin of Instant Postum. Thousands of former coffee drinkers now use this new food-drink and have back their old-time pleasure and comfort. Instant Postum tastes much like high-grade Java, but is warranted pure and absolutely free from caffeine. Regular size tins, 30 cents and 50 cents, at Grocers everywhere. Send now for sample. Trial tins.

ENAMELED WARE. Special Prices on all Screen Doors and Windows. Prices are not going, going—but have already gone down to cost and below on a great many items in our enameled ware stock. All of these goods are from our regular stock, and all are first quality enameled ware. None of them are factory seconds or factory job lots. They are all priced at, and many below, actual cost. Rules of the sale, cash only. None delivered unless purchase amounts to $1.00 or more.

KING HARDWARE CO. 53 Peachtree Street. $3.75 All Oak Porch Swings $1.98. 10 Per Cent Discount on all Electric Fans.